FLOOD CONTROL ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED

H. N. F's.
Mainly About People

Flood Control—
Kemp Starts It—
Neff Adopts It—
Wichita Leads Way—

FLOOD CONTROL AND THE conservation of flood waters is one of the greatest problems before the people of Texas. All the people of the state are interested. It is a problem that is not sectional. It should appeal to those who live in the arid or semi-arid sections as well as those who live in the valleys or lowlands of this imperial commonwealth.

GOD ALMIGHTY DID A VAST deal for those who inhabit this earth. He made Texas a mighty empire capable of sustaining fifty million people. He did not finish the job. He left something for man to do and man has been a laggard concerning conservation of flood waters for irrigation purposes, the building of dykes for the protection of overflow lands and vast drainage systems for the reclamation of the millions of acres of swamp lands of the state.

MORE THAN A QUARTER OF a century ago Joseph A. Kemp, a native of Bosque county became the pioneer advocate for legislation which was necessary to bring about the conservation of flood waters and the reclamation of millions of acres of tillable land from the scorching drouth, the devastating overflow and the draining of marshes in the lowlands which would make possible the cultivation of vast tracts as rich as the valley of the Nile. Joseph A. Kemp lived in a section where drouths had ruined thousands of the early settlers and had become a handicap to the peopling and the development of a territory twice as large as the state of New York.

HE WAS A VERY YOUNG MAN when he launched the movement for remedial legislation and he was sixty before success crowned his efforts. There were no irrigation laws on the statute books when he began his campaign of education. There were no drainage laws. Year in and year out the flood waters had been permitted to flow into the rivers of Texas from the great watersfieds and the rivers poured their torrents into the Gulf of Mexico.

MR. KEMP WELDED HIMSELF to an idea. He never deserted the idea. He fought on and on for more than a quarter of a century. Constitutional amendments were necessary. Two of these amendments were submitted to the people by the lawmakers and they were defeated by the people who walked in their own light and voted against their own best interests. A third amendments was submitted in 1917 and Pioneer Kemp and those whom he had enlisted in the great cause had the satisfaction of seeing this amendment become a part of the organic law of the commonwealth. Then statute laws were necessary to make this amendment effective and the lawmakers of the state worked on this legislation for four years and finally the empire builders who had fought so long for the conservation and control of flood waters felt that they were in sight of the promised land, after a long and tiresome journey over the hot sands of the desert and the jagged rocks of the mountain passes.

AND YET THIS IS ONLY THE beginning. Governor Neff, who was born in the valley of the Brazos, is one of the foremost champions of conservation and control of flood waters for the reclamation of the millions of acres of soil which could be made more productive than any to be found under the skies of the commonwealth. It is a work for the expert engineers of the state, and the great gathering held in the city of Austin a few days since was the first practical step taken by any Texas executive to evolve a program of lasting benefits to all concerned. Governor Neff called the foremost engineers of the southwest into conference and a compact organization was made by the men who must solve these problems for the people.

IT ISN'T AN INDIVIDUAL UNdertaking. It isn't an undertaking that can be carried by a combination of individuals. It is an undertaking of such magnitude that the state must get in behind it and the lawmakers of the commonwealth must make whatever appropriations are necessary to insure the success of a most gigantic task. There should be a thorough and scientific control of the rivers and water resources, and the Waco state-wide reclamation-conservation-irrigation conference announced by the state board of water engineers is primarily for the purpose of unifying and co-ordinating efforts of all interested in this constructive movement. There are millions of acres of arid lands awaiting reclamation. ADD MAP ..... There are millions of acres of semi-arid land. This calls for the control and conservation of flood waters. Joseph A. Kemp and the people of Wichita and adjoining counties are demonstrating what can be done along scientific lines in the great project they have undertaken in their section of the state.

THERE ARE MILLIONS OF acres of swamp lands to be reclaimed. This can be done by drainage and the building of dykes or levees. There are millions of

KLAN ATTACKED BY FERGUSON'S SPEAKERS HERE

M'Donald and T. H. M'Gregor Score Mayfield

Earle Mayfield, Billie Mayfield, Rev. Hugh Knickerbocker, lounge lizards, jelly beans and the ku klux klan came in for unmerciful scathing on Moore and Richolt's lot Wednesday night before a crowd of fully 1,200 persons, when C. C. McDonald of this city and Senator T. H. McGregor of Austin spoke in behalf of the candidacy of James E. Ferguson for the United States senate.

While the main subjects of the speeches were political, Senator McGregor took occasion near the close of the his speech to pay his respects to Rev. Mr. Knickerbocker of this city.

He referred to a sermon preached by the minister in Dallas recently with the statement that: "That man may have religion but if he has, thank God I am a sinner," said the senator.

He said that Knickerbocker's sermon was filled with hate and the very things that Jesus Christ taught against.

Guy Holcomb ,as master of ceremonies, introduced the first speaker of the evening, Little Miss Agnes Ireland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ireland of this city. The little girl, just seven years old, recited a poem in which she besought the voters to support James E. Ferguson. Mr. Holcomb introduced John Davenport who made a brief talk and told why he is supporting Ferguson.

He also took occasion to say that the imperial wizard of the ku klux klan has no right to tell the people of Texas who they shall elect as senator.

C. C. McDonald minced no words in flaying Earle B. Mayfield and his career.

"Are we going to send a jelly bean to the United States senate?" he asked. He said Mayfield uses a lip stick and paints his cheeks. He charged that everywhere Earle Mayfield speaks he has flowers sent to him on the rostrum in the name of the women when in reality the flowers are furnished by some of his men supporters, he said.

"Thank God that this still is a land of liberty and that we do not have to let somebody there in Atlanta, Georgia, tell us who to elect to the senate," declared the speaker. He said it is a struggle between the masses and the plutocrats and that Ferguson impeachment and said that always has. He gave a history of the Ferguson impeachmeent and said that it was accomplished by crooked politicians and special interests.

"What about this Colonel May-

By H. N. F.

Leonard Tillotson of Sealy has never been christened the father of irrigation in Texas but he has been as close to the father of irrigation and as tireless a worker for conservation and reclamation as Joseph A. Kemp or any other man ever identified with the movement. Mr. Tillotson is a successful lawyer and business man and conservation and reclamation has been more than a hobby with him for a quarter of a century.

He has given largely in a financial way to the success of all movements of a conservation nature. He has been an organizer and director of campaigns for the education of the people and the winning of favorable legislation at the hands of the lawmakers; he has served term after term in the lower house of the legislature as a champion of legislation which would bring about control of the water resources of the state and he will be in the run-off August 26 with Dr. I. A. Clark of Shulenburg as a candidate for senatorial honors.

The truth is the history of the battle for conservation and reclamation in Texas could not be written with the name of the Hon. Leonard Tillotson omitted.

ORDERS MIXED; TRAINS CRASH

One Dead in Missouri Smash-up

By Associated Press

HORINE, Mo., Aug. 16. — E. E. Jones, of Chaffee, Mo., fireman of Number 806, was killed and George Weston, of St. Louis, engineer of Number 801, was seriously injured here today when the two St. Louis-San Francisco trains collided. A number of passengers were shaken up but none were injured. Misconstruction of orders was said to have been the cause of the accident.

Number 801 was southbound and Number 806 northbound, both running between Memphis, Tenneesee and St. Louis. T. A. Hamilton, vice president, in charge of operations, who was on the northbound train, stated Number 801 had orders to meet the northbound train here, but that the engineer apparently became confused believing the southbound train, which was several hours late, already had arrived in St. Louis, 35 miles north of here.

Birthday Candles Wait, But Tots Didn't Come Back

By Associated Press

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 16. — Toys, candles and other birthday gifts were scattered about the home of Russell Bouresseau today but the lad was not there to enjoy them. He lost his life while wading in Detroit river yesterday and his brother, George, aged nine, also perished in a heroic effort to rescue him.

The boys were taken for an outing in celebration of Russell's seventh anniversary. On George's promise to take care of Russell, they were permitted to go wading. Russell got beyond his depth. Without hesitation, witnesses say, George rushed to the spot where he saw bubbles rising to the surfare and ducked under the water. They came to the surface, one clasping the other about the neck, but sank before other bathers could reach them.

KANSAS MINES READY TO OPEN

Contract Made By Operators

By Associated Press

PITTSBURG, Kan., Aug. 16. — Contracts have been reached with two companies operating coal mines in the Kansas district on the basis of the Cleveland agreement, George L. Peck, president of district 14, announced this afternoon. The mines employ 200 men and will resume work tomorrow morning. They are not members of the southwestern association.

Peck said today that he would make agreements at once with any independent operators of the Kansas district for the resumption of work at the mines. The agreements, he said, would have to be in conformity with the Cleveland agreement.

Practically all of the big mines in the Kansas field are operated by members of the association. But there is a large tonnage from the "Dinky" mines of the field and with these operators the Kansas union officials expect to make agreements immediately.

Man Saws Way Out of City Jail; Lived at Burk; Decides to Go Home

Sawing his way through two small iron bars which guarded the air vent in a cell of the city jail last night, a young man arrested Tuesday night and held for investigation, made his escape.

Night Chief McDonald stated that he had talked to the man about 9:30 o'clock and later when members of the force returned to the station from a call, they found the twisted bars and an empty cell.

The man who made his escape was one of a pair arrested Tuesday night on evidence of intended burglary. After the men were taken to the station, one of them confessed their intention of breaking into a filling station here. A Ford car in which they were riding was searched and bars, screw drivers and other necessary tools for the job were discovered.

The men gave their home as Burkburnett and this was partially verified Wednesday afternoon when a call from that town by a man claiming the Ford, stated that the car had been rented to the men for that night. When they failed to return, his investigation found the pair behind the doors of the city jail.

Chief McDonald stated that numerous calls for officers had kept the entire force away from the office and he had been left there alone. At one time, he requested a man not a member of the force to watch the place while he made a short call himself.

Whether or not the man had the saws on his person when arrested is not known, but that is the belief of the members of the force.

HARDING LEAVES PEACE MOVES UP TO RAIL CHIEFS

Awaits Outcome of the Conference Thursday

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Agreement between railroad executives and the railroad labor organization leaders to hold another conference tomorrow in New York to seek a settlement of the shopmen's strike, it was said today, had resulted in President Harding's questioning the desirability of making his expected report to congress and the country on the strike situation within the next few hours. Plans made for the reception of his communication tomorrow at a joint session of the house and senate consequently were understood to be on the verge of a revision tonight as the president was represented as bing desirous of withholding his statement of the case if the union chiefs and the railroad executives could hold out any prospect of mutually satisfactory settlement.

Rail Heads Meet.

Heads of the seven railroad labor organizations on strike met today with the officials of unions not involved in the controversy and after some delay reached a decision to take almost of the entire group to New York for the discussions with the executives.

L. E. Shepard, president of the order of conductors, said the demand on the strikers for full seniority status in case of their return to work could not be modified, and the views of the strike leaders appeared to coincide entirely with this position.

Southern to Expand.

President Harrison of the Southern railway, who announced early this week after attempting unsuccessfully to deal separately with the striking unions on the basis of granting them the seniority demand, that the Southern would proceed to employ outside men, issued a statement today declaring that 'people all over the south now demand that this strike be fought out." Public opinion could restore normal transportation, he said, but if it supports the determination of the striking shopmen to disregard the tribunal set up by congress to do them justice, and agrees that they may write their own pay checks, then there may be a resumption of work on that basis, but freight rates must again be increased."

President Harding, advisors said, would not request legislation to deal with the rail strike although it was regarded as possible he would assure congress that such a request would be made if the situation necessitated.

Ship Line Held Bankrupt by Referee

By Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 16.—The Atlantic Gulf and Pacific steamship corporation, four of whose ships have been libeled by the United States shipping board, for failure to pay for them, was adjudicated bankrupt last night by Willis E. Myers, referee in bankruptcy, in friendly proceedings instituted by creditors. W. Bernard Duke, president of the company and L. Vernon Miller, an attorney were named receivers.

President Duke said that as a going concern, the outlook of the company was bright, but as a concern with its ships tied up it was considered to the best interests of every one concerned that "the company should be adjudicated bankrupt and receivers appointed in order to protect the rights and interests of every one."

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 16.—The conference of representatives of the St. Louis Southern (Cotton Belt) railroad and a committee representing the shop crafts adjourned this afternoon, after the committee declined to make a separate agreement with the road officials allowing all striking employes to return to work at their former status and with seniority rights unimpaired. The Cotton Belt has never replaced any of the strikers.

VARDAMAN AND STEPHENS TIED

Second Primary Is Necessary

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 16.—Statements issued tonight from the campaign headquarters of former United States Senator Jas. K. Vardaman and Hubert D. Stephens, leading contestants in yesterday's statewide primary for the democratic senatorial nomination, conceded tonight that a second primary will be necessary to determine the party nominee to succeed Senator John Sharp Williams, who will retire when his term expires next March 4.

This was regarded as certain tonight on the face of unofficial returns from yesterday's statewide democratic primary which, with three counties unreportetd and scattered precincts in a number of others missing gives Vardaman a plurality of approximately 1500 but falling short by more than 14,000 of gaining a majority in a three cornered race in which Miss Belle Kearney was the other contestant.

By Associated Press

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Aug. 16.—Train crews of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad at Cypress Junction, south of the coal fields in this vicinity, have refused to haul coal dug by non-union miners of Kentucky and Alabama through the southern Illinois coal belt, and as a result, the road's service will be crippled and probably suspended in this section of the road cannot get coal for its own use, officials of the road announced tonight, following a conference here today.

Lewis Ratifies More Contracts

By Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 16. — Before leaving for Philadelphia tonight to take part in the anthracite negotiations there tomorrow, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America announced that additional agreements amounting to approximately 10,000,000 tons annual soft coal production were executed here today in the settlement, in part, of the bituminous coal strike.

"Acceptance of the approximately sixty million tons annual production represented in the conference of miners and operators yesterday and the expectation of additional agreements today involving something more than ten million tons production gives the settlement impetus that will be irresistible," Mr. Lewis said in a statement today. He predicted that a general acceptance of agreement by practically all operating units in the organized sections of the bituminous industry would be in effect within a short time.

Home-Building Program Can Solve Wichita Falls Rent and House Issue

Dwellings Put Up In Next 12 Months Will Meet Demand With Completion of Big Impounding Project

By THE INVESTIGATOR (No. 2)

(In this, the last of a series of articles on rent, a home-building movement is advocated. Wichita Falls, like other towns, being afflicted with a shortage of houses.)

What is the answer to Wichita Falls' high rent problem?

For almost a week, you have been reading of high rents here, you have seen the fiugures. You can judge for yourselves. You have seen local rents compared with those elsewhere.

What is the answer? How can they be reduced?

These are the natural questions of every public spirited citizen? These are problems that must be solved to insure our city that steady, prosperous growth to which its natural advantages and high type of citizenry entitle it.

Wichita Falls is the gateway to northwest Texas. It has proven its progressiveness in other ways. It is building a great irrigation system that will heap wealth in the laps of every citizen of this section. It is building good street, excellent schools, a junior college, beautiful cvhurches and handsome business blocks. In short, the people of people of Wichita Falls are building a city.

But cities are built on many things, and one of Uthe most important blocks in the foundation of any city is its homes. Wichita Falls must have comfortable homes, that people can afford to live in.

In the consideration of rents, there is one outstanding fact which I brought out in my first article, but which I wil emphasize again, here, because in it I see the major reason behind high rents.

That is the shortage of houses here.

It was shown that there are 3,117 houses in Wichita Falls, 1600 of which the owners live in. This leaves 1517 houses for rent. Of course, this survey does not include hotels, apartment houses, the negro section, nor one and two room houses along the river bank, and for this reason, a percentage has been subtracted from the population to allow for these residents.

But after due aloance has been

CLAIMS BLACKS VOTED FOR JIM

Mayfield Charges at Mineral Wells

Special to The Record News.

MINERAL WELLS, Texas, Aug. 16. — Charge that 3,500 negroes voted in the Bexar county democratic primary election of July 22, for former Governor James E. Ferguson, his second-primary opponent, was made by Railroad Commissioner Earle B. Mayfield here tonight.

Mr. Mayfield charged Ferguson with a change of front on the liquor issue. In the first campaign, he declared the former Texas governor used the light wines and beer plank in order to get into the second primary, but is now running away from the proposition by declaring he is opposed to the open saloon.

"I am expecting him in a short time to declare outright for prohibition," Mayfield said, amid laughter of his audience, "and it may not be long until he is found up in East Texas making prohibition speeches under the direction of the Anti-Saloon league."

FLOOD—

lem and if Texas does not solve it, no one else will. If conservation ever comes on a broad scale in the arid west the state will have to take the lead and not wait on Washington or some modern Santa Claus.

"Three big problems of conservation confront the state, namely, the reclamation of the rich dry land in the arid west by getting it wet; the reclamation of the overflowed and swampy land of East Texas by getting it dry; and the flood control which is the mudsill of reclamation in both the east and the west. The time has come to quit playing politics and get down to brass tacks.

"It is a big problem and it will take years to complete it; but before another year rolls around, surveying parties should be in the mountain gorges between Austin and Del Rio, in the Davis mountains and in many other localities making the necessary topographic maps to foreshadow future Medina and Wichita Falls projects.

"At present the storm and torrential waters are unused and levy their remorseless toll of death and damage on the riparian dwellers; and all this wealth rushes on to the sea unused and uncontrolled. The land and water are twin factors in agricultural wealth. The lands of the west are abundant and rich and storm waters are present in the canyons, and these two factors can be brought together with the sure result that corn, cotton, alfalfa and the school house will replace the mesquite, the drouth, the coyote and the desert. The howl of the coyote will be replaced by the laughter of happy Texas children.

"Our two efficient state departments of conservation must be sent into the promised land of the arid west and the overflowed east to make a survey and report. We need accurate information upon which to base our calculations. All we ask the state to do is to grub-stake the field parties, and in the lifetime of some of us, the floods will no longer be the dictator of our rivers, but will be servants of our people."

18 While Walter M. Priddy sat in the Olympic theater Tuesday night, unknown persons carried off Mr. Priddy's Ford roadster, escaping with machine unidentified. The car, according to a report made to the local police soon after the theft was noticed, bore an Oklahoma license.

The car theft makes the 18th automobile to have been stolen by auto bandits since the first of August—17 days ago.

Woman Relied Upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Emporia, Kansas.—"I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines years ago when I was a girl. Announcement was made that Governor Morrison, before acting upon the request, would go to Spencer for a personal investigation tomorrow on his way to the capital from Blowing Rock, where he has been for a few days.

It was not indicated here whether the adjutant general's office was making preparations to use troops but it was learned at Charlotte that the company of the national guard stationed in that city had received orders to be in readiness for quick mobilization.

SOUTHERN SHOPS QUIET AFTER FIGHTS.

By Associated Press.

SPENCER, N. C., Aug. 16.—The Southern railway shops here tonight were comparatively quiet after disturbances last night and early today when railroad strike sympathizers prevented a number of men from working at the shops. The situation however, was regarded as tense. About 1700 men are on picket duty about the shops, many of them armed, it is said, while 150 men are working in the shops also armed, according to some reports.

By Associated Press.

Boyd, of Greensboro and Judge E. Yates Webb, of Shelby.

The temporary restraining injunction was declared by attorneys to cover action of all the crafts out on strike at all points on the Southern railway, with specific restraint on individuals at Salisbury and Spencer.

acres of valley lands as rich as those of the Nile which are subject to overflow and all this may be prevented by the control of Texas rivers and streams. Whoever said it told the truth, "The control of our rivers is the greatest problem before the people of our state today."

TEXAS IS KNOWN AS A BILLION dollar agricultural state. Scientific engineers, with the proper backing of the people and the government could make Texas a three billion dollar agricultural state before the coming of 1930. Scientific engineers and engineering must have the backing of the people. The government, the lawmakers, the land owners and those who hope to be land owners some day.

THERE SHOULD BE A POWerful state reclamation association to promote favorable legislation and to create a state-wide sentiment, in favor of all the legislation necessary, either general or state. There must be elaborate surveys. There must be technical information gathered and disseminated. There must be hearty co-operation on the part of all citizens who wish to double the population of the state in the very near future as well as to add millions of food producers and wealth makers to the citizenry of the commonwealth. Waco on the Brazos should start the ball rolling. This spring the valleys of the Brazos and other Texas rivers were subject to overflows, and the loss inflicted to the planter and the farmer mounted into the millions.

THIS SUMMER DROUTHS threaten the live stock and farming interests of the upper country and today in many West Texas counties cotton farmers are threatened with heavy financial losses because there is no moisture in the soil to sustain plant life. And yet scientific engineers say that the annual rainfall in Texas, if the flood waters were caught and controlled, is sufficient to thoroughly irrigate and make highly productive every acre of arid land in all the vast territory which was known to the map makers in the long ago as the desert wastes of Texas.

SCIENTIFIC ENGINEERING will make drouths impossible; Scientific engineering will make the control and conservation of the precious fluid of the mighty water sheds of the southwest; scientific engineering wil lreclaim the swamp lands of Texas; scientific engineering will add millions of tillers of the soil to the army of wealth makers and tax payers of the commonwealth; scientific engineering will begin where God left off and do for Texas what Lord Cromer did for modern Egypt an dwhat scientific engineers have done for the Imperial valley of California and whatever scientific engineering will reclaim the swamp and what scientific engineers have green and productive oases of places that God forgot. Scientific engineers have never failed in their attempts to turn desolate places into earthly paradises and all this by the conservation and control, of the resources of nature. This Waco conference should be productive of results highly gratifying to all the people who would place Texas first as the leader of American commonwealths.

field?" said the speaker, "he is a Hobby colonel. He is a tin colonel. I'll give $100 to anybody who can find me a Hobby colonel who ever got wounded in battle." Mr. McDonald kept the crowd in constant good humor and was applauded wildly. He charged that Earle Mayfield drinks bottled liquor and said that he will give $100 if Earle Mayfield will make an affidavit and put the same amount in the bank saying that he has not been drinking bootleg liquor since the first of January.

"Where was Mayfield's campaign here started?" demanded the speaker and he answered his own question, "Out in the palatial home of G. Clint Wood. Every man there that night went home and slept in silk pajamas and they are trying to get the working man's vote for their candidate."

He said that Mayfield had stated that he would get seven-eights of the vote in the McDonald home. He said no gentleman would mention a lady's name in a political speech but that if Mayfield got any vote out of his home he would give a standard Mayfield party and that he had everything ready but the women and the whiskey."

Mr. McDonald referred to Mayfield as one of the biggest hypocrits of all times. He told of instances in which Mayfield had been involved and pleaded with his hearers to "strip the mask of hypocracy" from him.

McGregor's Speech

Senator McGregor, when he got up to speak said that he appreciated the honor of being here but that he hated tto follow only a few nights Earle Mayfield whom he said "is the greatest ragtime orator of all time."

He went into detail on Ferguson's career and told how from a poor boy he had risen to wealth anrd secured an education all by hard and honest work. He told of his ambition to become governor and what he promised to do if elected. He said that when elected Ferguson lived up to his promises; that he built the insane asylums needed; that he built a new blind institution; that he put the rural schools on a good basis; that he put the penitentiary on a paying basis for the first time in it's history, taking it from $400,000 in the hole and leaving it with a cash fund of $1,600,000 in the bank.

He told how Ferguson has always stood for the working man. He said that Ferguson stands for rights of the individual and charged that though he stands for liquor, he never drinks it. He charged on the other hand, that Earle Mayfield for political reasons stands against liquor, but drinks it. He said that on the night of July 21, which was the night before the primaries, that Earle Mayfield addressed a crowd in Wootridge park in Austin, making his usual prohibition speech, and that he then went less than three blocks away, when the words had scarcely died from his lips, and helped drink a quart of bootleg liquor. He challenged Mayfield to deny it. He said Mayfield was not afraid of what he was going to tell on him, but he was afraid of the things he would not tell because if he told all he knew on Mayfield, that he not only would not run for the senate, but would be run out of Austin.

After making his plea for Mr. Ferguson, a plea which at times was touching and was sparkling with eloquence, Senator McGregor took up the ku klux klan. He first made an attack on Billie Mayfield and cited certain records in court naming the page where Billie Mayfield figured in an event years passed. He said that there was a conspiracy to rob a train and that Billie Mayfield was held by the court to have been an accomplice. Speaking of the klan, Senator McGregor said he had no fight with the members of the klan. He said good men got into it but they ought to get out. He went back into history and told of the magna charter and then of the amendments to the constitution of the United States guaranteeing a public trial by jury to every citizen. He said this is written into the constitution of every state in the union and that yet the klan members, professing to represent law and order are taking men out and trying them secretly, and punishing them secretly, which, he declared is a violation of the constitution and all the just laws of history. He said the klan is teaching a doctrine of hate and yet professing righteousness. He compared the doctrine of the klan with the doctrine of Jesus Christ who died on Calvairy because of his love for mankind. He said the doctrine of Christ was one of love and not of hate.

In concluding, the speaker said that Dr. Hugh Knickerbocker of this city had recently preached a sermon in Dallas in which he said that drinking a little liquor is not bad and playing a little poker is not bad. He said that he did not claim it was bad either, but that Earle Mayfield is claiming it is bad but not practicing it. He said Rev. Mr. Knickerbocker's sermon was one of hate and prejudice and that if that is religion then he thanked God he himself is a sinner. When the speaker ceased scores of people went up and shook hands with him. At no time did the speakers lose the attention of the hearers and applause was frequent.

made, we find that there are 24,014 people in Wichita Falls to rent houses, and 1,517 houses to rent. At the government rate of five people to the family, this leaves 4,803 families, ora l ittle more than three families for every house. Every effort has been made to make these figures moer than fair.

What is the result?

In many places, several families are livnig in the same houses. Many other families are living in apartments, and in one or two rooms, that would ordinarily be living in homes of they could find them.

Naturally, this results in high rents. Prices are always controlled by supply and demand, and where there are several families always willing to rent any desirable, vacant houses, the landlord is sometimes offered a higher rent than he had asked.

This is one reason for high rents.

Then too, when his neighbors hear what he is getting for rent, they place a corerspouding valuation on their property. Then the fun begins.

It is only natural for property owners, or any other class of people, to make as much as they possibly can, and when they see their neighbors baking more money, they feel justified in doing the same thing.

It is easy to see that there are two sides to the question.

But let us look at the matter from an entirely different angle. Let us look at it from the standpoint of Wichita Falls as a bigger and better city. And when we do this, we are looking at it from our own standpoint, in reality, because anything that benefits Wichita Falls, benefits each and every one of us.

In the first place, Wichita Falls should have a home building campaign. Every property owner who possibly can, should build houses.

In doing this, he would not only be making money for himself, but he would be benefitting the city. He would be making this a more attractive city for newcomers to live in. He would be relieving the housing shortage, and would at the same time, be making a permanent investment that would yield him a fair return.

Most important of all, he would be attracting more citizens here, and as the city grows, all will prosper.

This is a permanent solution. It is what must be done eventually, and the sooner it is done, the greater benefit will be derived by the city, and by each of its citizens.

The temporary solution is more difficult, and can, at best, be only what the name implies, temporary.

That is rent reduction.

To the property owner, it seems ridiculous to suggest that he cut his rents, when he thinks he might make more.

And yet it will mean money for him to do so, in the long run.

For in cutting rents now, property owners will be making the city more attractive to the newscomer, NOW, TODAY.

They will be relieving a situation that is inimical tothe best interests of the city, immediately, until the more permanent solution can be put into effect, and they will be making the city atractive to new citizens by doing so.

Wichita Falls is a good city to tie to. It is the city that faith built, and our continued faith will make it still a bigger, better city. Our present industries are doing that today. They, with the new industries and interests that are being attracted and developed here, will be doing that tomorrow. It is a city worth planning, and working for. Our faith in it is justified.

Let's all put our shoulders to the wheel. Those of us who can build our own homes, should do so. They would be benefitting themselves, and Wichita Falls.

Those of us who can afford to build houses to rent, should do so. They would be benefitting themselves as well as the city.

Landlords who have not already done so, should reduce rents to a favorable comparative basis with other cities, in order to attract newcomers to Wichita Falls, and in order to give present Wichitans a better opportunity. They would be building a city and their returns, measured in years, rather than in months, would be greater.

Type 61 Achieves Greatest Success in Cadillac History

IT was almost inevitable that Type 61 should bear out its reputation as the greatest Cadillac by establishing a remarkable sales record.

That much was apparent immediately following its introduction, when Type 61 enjoyed a reception such as is seldom accorded an automobile.

But in the last few months this initial enthusiasm for the new Cadillac quickened to a demand that was little short of phenomenal.

Seemingly the entire public had become intensely aware of Type 61 superiority, and sales attained a volume which promised to surpass all previous Cadillac records.

As month followed month, and the unprecedented demand for Type 61 increased, that promise became a fact and a certainty.

Now with the figures compiled, it is possible to announce that Cadillac in 1922 has achieved the greatest success in all its history.

We believe that this unparalleled advance in Cadillac business, and the continuing vogue of Type 61 among buyers of high grade cars, can mean but one thing:

It signifies that the public considers Type 61 the greatest motor car value in the world.

Hockaday and Shaw Well Comes in Flowing 200 Barrels

NEW PRODUCER IN 1,600 SAND

Location Also Made For No. 2

Drilled about a foot into the pay, the No. 1 Waggoner of Hockaday and Shaw, in section 34, was reported Wednesday evening as flowing at the rate of more than 200 barrels daily, from the sand at 1629 feet. The new well is 700 feet east of the McCallister, Grisham and Brown, the discovery well for the 1000-foot sand in this new southwest extension pool.

The Hockaday and Shaw well is the second producer in the 1600-foot sand, the other tests to the south and west of the first well failing to get the sand at this depth.

Location has been made for the No. 2 on this lease, and the Texhoma has also made an offset location.

Owners of the new well are B. J. Shaw, R. W. Hockaday, C. H. Evans, Orville Bullington and the Rathke Drilling company.

STEPHENS CO. TO HAVE BIG FAIR

Exhibits Surpasses Former Years

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Aug. 16.—The free county fair to be held in Stephens county this year promises to surpass anything of its kind ever held in this county. The fair dates are September 13, to 16, and will be in charge of the county fair association of which Ben Harrison, county demonstration agent, is secretary.

The four days will be devoted to education, entertainment and recreation, among the amusements will be airplane stunts, acrobatics, league baseball each day, two or three bands, and races of different character.

The exhibits listed for this year will exceed those of other years. More interest is being shown in purebred livestock and poultry and there will be many exhibits in these classes. The domestic science department, under the direction of Miss Esther Martin, will be enlarged considerably and a great deal of interest is shown in that line of work. The public schools have applied for a great amount of space for exhibits showing the progress of the schools in the past year. The several district and township fairs throughout the county are showing the same interest and following these fairs their exhibits will be brought to the county fair. In turn, the best of the exhibits at the county fair will be taken to the state fair at Oklahoma City.

New Furniture for Howell Store Here

The Howell store here will be one of the most modern department stores in the city when the several thousand dollars worth of fixtures which have arrived have been installed. Work of installation has already been begun.

The clothing department is being moved toward the Eighth street entrance and many new cases are being installed. All the new furniture is of quarter-sawed gum to match the original fixtures.

A piece goods department has also been added under the new arrangement, and considerabe floor space will be devoted to this department, which will carry a full line of stock. The entire store will now be in one unit.

Buyers will leave for eastern markets immediately, in order that complete new lines may be on hand by the time remodeling is completed.

SUN GETTING MILD

Wednesday the sun was reasonably mild. It made life easy for the mercury and drove it only as high as the 99 degree line. This maximum temperature came at 3:15 o'clock and remained for a short spell when the temperature lowered again. The minimum temperature was 77 degrees at 1:30 o'clock in the morning.

Texas Company Drills in Oil Sand In Midst of Its Own Wide Acreage

The Texas Company's No. 220 Waggoner, a short distance across the Wilbarger county line, and close to the Waggoner ranch house, has drilled an oil sand at 1850 feet, and is standing with about 1,500 feet of oil in the hole, while the pump is being rigged up.

The new well is some distance from production at this depth and may be considered a discovery well. However, it will be of little benefit to anyone except the Texas Company, since it is surrounded by Texas Company acreage.

Red Cross Helps Family Once Wealthy Oil Operators Here

Fortune had smiled on him, and he was a game gambler, so he sank his all in oil.

That's the old, old story of the world, but it's also the true story of a destitute family which the Red Cross found here during the first part of this week, and which that organization has been kind enough to help.

From a castle to a tent. That was the step that this Wichitan took, and it was in a tent that the Red Cross found he and his wife. From the most popular street—the street where wealthy men claim their homes—to a section of the city where unfortunates dwell the best way they can and make the most of life. That was where the Red Cross emissary found the man who once counted his money in dollars and had kept it in a prominent bank, but whose bank now is a ragged stocking, and whose roll of funds could be counted in nickles and dimes.

He was the true type of unfortunate, but proud—too proud to ask for help, and almost too proud to accept it when the Red Cross proffered aid.

The man, his wife and their two infant children were there in the tent, he too crippled now to ork, and she in such a condition that she could not continue to take in the washing that has been for the past months the means of their sustenance.

It is reported by the Red Cross that baskets of food, clothing and other things which can be of assistance to this family have been sent them, and it is said that the old smile which no doubt played on this particular man's face when he pushed his dollars forward and gambled on the oil field shone on his face again yesterday.

KEELING APPROVES I. AND G. N. CHARTER

AUSTIN, Aug. 16.—Amendments to the charter of the re-organized International and Great Northern railway changing the name of the company to International-Great Northern and making all preferred stock in the company common stock, were approved by Attorney General Keeling today. All of the $11,500,000 stock in the organization is now common.

PANHANDLE OIL WELL FLOWING

Activity in Field Starts Gulf Well

Special to the Record News.

PANHANDLE, Aug. 16.—Interest in oil development have been revived considerably in Panhandle this week, when reports reached the city that Gulf Production company, Burnett No. 2 was flowing. This well reached the pay in the spring of 1920 and two thousand barrels of storage was filled after which the well was closed, and classed as a pumper with an estimated production of 300 to 500 barrels.

Investigation Monday proved that less than 100 barrels of oil flowed into the storage tanks during the flow Sunday, and that the flow had ceased. Considerable gas is now coming through the oil and a renewal of its peculiar action is expected at any moment.

The Silk well on the Burnett lease, one mile south of the Gulf well, reached the pay at the same depth and in what is said to be the same strata. This well has been swabbed for three days and it is thought that the swabbing of the Silk, agitated the oil and gas causing the Gulf to flow. As swabbing continues in the Silk, the production is increasing daily. There is now no question of it being a commercial well.

It is not known how long the flow lasted in the Gulf well as no one remains at the well and its action was accidentally noted by a workman passing.

Sometimes you can estimate what is in a man when he is out of a job.

Duncan May Have New Field Soon

Special to the Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Aug. 16.—The new gas well brought in by J. W. Sorrels in section 27, township 3, north, range 5 west, northeast of Duncan is making one million cubic feet at a depth of 530 feet. The rig will be skidded and a new location drilled to a depth of 2,500 feet, using the gas of the first well to fire the boiler. Geologists have made good reports on this territory and a good field may be proven.

OIL LANDS TO BE AUCTIONED OFF

Red River Dispute Compromised

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Disposal of the oil lands figuring in the Red river boundry dispute between Texas, Oklahoma and the federal government will be made in the future at public auction unless rival claimants effect a compromise and settle the question, Secretary of the Interior Fall announced today.

This report, together with Fall's contention that existing legislation empowers him to take such action, reached members of congress and resulted in their immediate decision to urge their constituents to consummate some settlement in the near future so that investments in the contested territory might be saved.

COLLINS, THE IRISH HOPE

ARTHUR GRIFFITH, greatest of Irish statesmen, is a memory. Michael Collins is the commander-in-chief of the Free State army and the acting head of the Free State government. Collins is a soldier and not a statesman. As provisional head of the Free State government and as commander-in-chief of the Free State army he should make short work of the red radicals who are in the field. There must be law and order and the only way to maintain law and order is to put away those who haven't the slightest conception of constitutional government and are ever a menace to life and property.

Arthur Griffith was the Lloyd George of the Irish people. He was of Welsh origin and he was the man who directed the warfare on Great Britain, which resulted in the establishment of the Irish Free State.

Michael Collins is the hope of the Irish people now. He is a military genius, Griffith trained him and he should make short work of those who rely upon the torch and the bomb and the bullet to carry out a program which must have been arranged by mad men.

BLANTON AGAIN

CONGRESSMAN THOMAS L. BLANTON of Texas, who is campaigning in his own district, sent out telegrams to numerous congressional leaders and personal friends throughout the country asserting that President Harding had summoned congress to take over the railroads. He said this would mean national bankruptcy and a surrender to autocratic unions. Why shouldn't Congressman Blanton hurry on to Washington and do his best to avert the great national calamity?

He advertised himself as a patriot, ever willing to immolate himself for the good of God and home and country and now is the time for him to make an actual demonstration or exhibition of his self-sacrificing spirit. 'Tis true that the Hon. Oscar Calloway is on his trail but Blanton says that Calloway is a political runt. If so, a politicial runt would not be able to break down the fence of a political Hercules while the Hercules is away at the seat of government saving the nation from financial ruin and the constitution of the fathers from incineration.

IS KIRBY GOING TO RUN?

COLONEL JOHN HENRY KIRBY has resigned as a member of the Brazilian centennial commission and has requested President Harding to accept his resignation without delay, as his work as president of the Southern Tariff association will keep him busy during the fall and winter. Is the colonel coming to Texas to make the race as an independent candidate for the United States senate? Is Dr. E. P. Wilmot of Austin, the republican nominee, going to step aside to give the colonel a clear field?

WILL CONGRESS ACT?

MARK SULLIVAN says it is not believed congress will authorize the President to seize the railroads or the mines and he predicts that any such bills offered will not get very far. He gives a reason for it. Congress, he says, is not eager to stick its fingers into the strike as the election is less than three months off and congress has what politicians call the election pulse. "Political cowardice" is the real name.

ED HALL RESIGNS

COMMISSIONER OF INSURANCE AND BANKING EDWARD HALL has resigned, effective September 1. He will become active vice-president and director of the Dallas County State bank at Dallas. All the commissioners of insurance and banking after a short term of service resign and go to Dallas. They either need good bankers there or else the pickings are good.

Federal investigators are to be sent to Kentucky by the government to fix the price of coal from those fields. And they damned Woodrow Wilson for "governmental interference with private business." Woodrow Wilson faced many emergencies during his official life. He never dodged. He did what he thought was the best for the greatest number of people. Herbert Hoover was a product of the Wilson age. He is one of the strong men of the Harding administration.

DR. CRANE EDITORIAL

THE ROOT OF DEBAUCHERY

THERE is a great sentence of Nietzsche: "The mother of debauchery is not joy, but joylessness."

One whose mind is at all matured cannot enter a jazz palace without a painful sense of pity.

To see all these people, most of them young and full of the adventurous force of life, seeking to satisfy the great soul of a human being with the racket and confusion of inanity, affects one very much as the sight of an insane person picking at his fingers and laughing at the bare wall.

The reason the jazz palace offends is not that it is joyful and irritates the Puritan soul, but that it is joyless and dismays the human soul.

There is so much in the world that is beautiful. This earth is so crowded with inspiration, and the very sky above us is so spread with majesty, that every life should exult in existence.

And to see human beings in a world where the fountains of enthusiasm are ever flowing crowd themselves into a heated room and madly endeavor to find satisfaction in orgies not far removed from the jungle, is pathetic.

The great delusion is that these people do not know what a good time is. It is natural and normal to want to have fun, but when fun is conceived of in forms that are unnatural and abnormal it is tragic.

All up and down society, from the rout at a Fifth avenue palace to the crush at a firemen's ball, there is the same mania for having "a good time," and the same terrible mistake as to the meaning of the word.

"The vice of our public streets," says a recent writer, "has undergone a remarkable change. There is a new race of immoral women. They come from offices and shops. They are young and the glamour of the summit has bewitched them. They desire the life of fashion, the life of indelicate clothes, gilded restaurants, the theater, and the night club. They are not vicious. They have none of the criminal instincts of those women who complain of their competition. Ask them what they want, and they will tell you, "A good time."

That is all. They want to see life. They have looked up to our highest, and in their own small way would copy them.

Where there is no vision the people perish. With no persuasive voice to make them see what life means in all its richness and power, they turn to debauchery for very joylessness.

For they are hungry and "would fain fill their belly with the husks that the swine do eat."

A good phrase that might be written upon the walls of the jazz palace would be that of Alfred Noyes:

The cymbals clash,
And the dancers walk;
With long silk stockings
And arms of chalk,
Butterfly skirts
And white breasts bare;
And shadows of dead men
Watching 'em there.

Is the republican party the party of protection? Republican congressional leaders retained oil importations on the free list. They have retained hides on the free list. Oklahoma cast its electoral votes for Harding and Coolidge. Kansas did likewise. Oklahoma and Kansas are petroleum producing states. Why free crude from Mexico? Why free hides from Argentina. Ask the titans of the petroleum industry. Ask the packers.

Joseph Weldon Bailey said in a recent speech that he would not arrest a man at Mexia for shaving another man on Sunday and at the same time let Col. A. E. Humphreys continue his oil drilling on Sunday for millions. A shave only means lather and whiskers. Millions means money and money talks louder than soap or hair.

Now the claim is made that the heavy trucks are destroyers of the concrete roads of Texas. There is going to be legislation next winter. All the taxpayers put their money into these magnificent roads. All the taxpayers are interested in their preservation. If drastic legislation is necessary, the people should speak out and demand it.

Rippling Rhymes

AH, WHERE?

Ah, where is the author of ten years since, whose works we hailed with a loud hurroo? Reviewers said, "Now another prince of dazzling genius comes into view." For a little while, in its gaudy tints, his halo rattled us humble dubs; we saw his name in the public prints, and he was strong as the Woman's Clubs. He talked of Art as his fame arose, and looked like Booth on a one-night stand, was photographed in a queenly pose, his chin at rest on a lily hand. Ah, where, oh, where is that author now, and where the books that he deigned to write? And where is the wreath on the bulging brow, and the Hall Caine beard and the ringlets bright? I've sprung this query on every chump, and harsh and changeless the answer rings: "Go ask the keeper who guards the dump, the seneschal of forgotten things." New genius comes with the glowing dawn, and night beholds it a shattered wreck; but old Nick Carter goes marching on, and Laura Libbey is still on deck. And evermore as I go my way I see men blowing their chickenfeed for helpful volumes by Bertha Clay and soulful stories by Myrtle Reed. Oh, now and then let a dirge be sung for the golden genius that failed to thrive; we cannot say why the good die young, we cannot tell why the freaks survive.

KEEPING UP WITH THE JONSES —By Pop Momand

The Once Over

BACK TO THE FLOWING TRESSES!

OFF with the Short Hair, on with the Long!

The hair dressers have decreed it. New style charts are out showing that bobbed hair must go the way of bobbed skirts and bobbed stockings. Thousands of Sweet Alices who allowed themselves to be docked at the ears during the last few months are now ranting through the flat in indignant distress beseeching Allah to wither the hand of the hairdresser.

o o o

They are tearing their hair—or trying to tear it, which is quite impossible owing to the difficulties of getting a grip. They are as shorn lambs bleating in the blizzard. A movement for the Relief of Devastated Scalps is in order.

o o o

Meanwhile there seems nothing for the Bobbed Hair ladies to do but go over and sit with the Japanese dolls, fresh country eggs, and billiard balls until somebody figures a way out.

o o o

From all over the land there arises the pathetic, heart-stirring cry, "Gimme hair! Gimme hair!"

o o o

Very recently two young women killed themselves in despair over the change in styles. They should have killed the hairdresser. No man or woman has a right to make a girl look like an O'Cedar Mop and live!

o o o

Of course the hair dressers have a defense. They claim they started the hairbobbing business to settle a bet that women really had ears.

o o o

Anyhow, it reflected the struggle and determination of women to enjoy the same rights and privileges accorded men, with special reference to the right to have a barber say, "Pardon me, but its' getting a little thin on top" "Do you wisn bay rum or witch hazel?" and "Shall I comb it wet or dry?"

o o o

Whatever the cause, it was a terrible thing to start. Through the ages it had been the pride of beautiful women that they could undo their hair and let it fall to their waists. For the past few years a woman has been lucky if she could undo her hair and have it fall to her collar bone.

o o o

Hair bobbing has made very girl look like her father. Or worse!

o o o

And it has killed romance of the Romeo and Juliet order. Juliet lived on the third floor of a walk-up apartment. Romeo called one night without a key. Juliet let down her hair from the window and Romeo climbed up. There were no hairbobbers in those days. But were Romeo to come back today and expect to get into Juliet's apartment by her hair she'd have to live in a basement. 'Sawful how times have changed!

o o o

But we appear to be getting back to normalcy. Everything is getting longer—even the time between drinks.

o o o

All of which is a great blow to Reformers, Girl Welfare Workers, and Preachers.

"What's the Matter With the Woman of Today?" has been a standard topic for three or four years now. The answer has been: "Bobbed hair and short skirts." Now they'll have to get a new one.

o o o

The Hair Ribbon & Curling Iron manufacturers are delighted with the hairdressing edict. They look for the first business boom in their line since 1918.

o o o

And the problem of what to do with old newspapers is to be solved again. The girls can start doing their hair up in the crime news once more.

o o o

One thing is certain with the passing of bobbed-haired maidens: There will be fewer runaway horses. Drivers no longer need heed the Kipling warning:

"If your horse is easily frightened hide his head within a pail:
For the Female of the Species is more close-clipped than the male!"

Lesson No. 33
RECTIFICATION BY THE CRYSTAL DETECTOR.

The crystal detector in the circuit of theradic receiver performs the important function of converting the energy of the radio-frequent oscillations, intercepted by the antenna, into uni-directional pulsating currents which may be rendered audible by the receiving telephones.

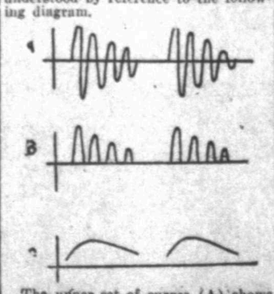

Short wavelengths involve high frequency of oscillation. For example, the oscillation frequency, of a wavelength of 200 meters, is 1,500,000 cycles per second, a wavelength of 600 meters has a frequency of 500,000 cycles per second, these frequencies being far in excess of vibrations to which the delicate mechanism of the human ear will respond.

The limiting frequency of vibration to which the ear will respond is approximately 16,000 cycles per second, and under normal conditions a frequency in the vicinity of 10,000 cycles per second marks the boundary line between audibility and inaudibility.

The range of frequencies in which the sensitive diaphragm of the telephone vibrates is much lower, between 500 and 1,000 cycles per second.

The crystal detector, therefore, through its property of rectification, transforms the high frequency into direct current pulses, which are rendered audible in the receiving telephones.

The manner in which the incoming oscillations are modified may be best understood by reference to the following diagram.

The upper set of curves (A) shows a series of damped radio-frequent oscillations intercepted by the antenna and impressed upon the detector. The set of positive or negative currents to pass through the crystal with the result that half of each cycle is wiped out and the incoming oscillations are rectified into a series of uni-directional pulsations. These pulsations are a radio-frequency and, therefore, far in excess of the telephone can the diapragm of the telephone can respond, but the resultant effect is shown in curves (C) which shows the average effect of each rectified group in impulsing the diaphragm of the receiving telephones.

In the case of a spark discharger, therefore, for every group of radio-frequent oscillations radiated by the transmitter, a similar group is developed in the receiver and rectified by the detector and for each group the diaphragm of the receiving telephones receives an impulse.

Harding Voting Power Crumbles In His Own State According to Weak Support of Thompson

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16. —While the administration clackers are boasting of the endorsement Ohio republicans gave the Harding administration by the nomination of Carmi Thompson, the president's personal choice for governor, by something like 100,000 plurality, in a field of nine candidates, they are leaving more unsaid than they are proclaiming. Thompson ran far ahead of his eight competitors. He had the full force of the administration back of him, and every vote which could be brought out by the administration forces was cast for Thompson.

But, with all that, Thompsoon polled a total of approximately 175,000 votes out of the 1,182,002 votes cast in Ohio for President Harding in 1920. In the primary elections of last Tuesday, a vote for Thompson was a vote for Harding. It would therefore appear that the Harding vote fell off from 1,182,002 in 1920 to about 175,000 in 1922, or more than a million votes. And if the administration supporters can get any comfort out of that they are optimists.

The total vote brought out by the entire field of nine candidates last Tuesday was only about 38 per cent of the Harding vote of two years ago, and considerably less than half of these were cast for the Harding candidate.

Nine candidates, each with a following, used every effort to bring out a big vote. Federal employes, postmasters and other friends of the administration were eager to have the administration endorsed. A campaign almost equal in intensity to a presidential campaign was waged, and the vote for endorsement of the administration was less than 15 per cent of the vote for Harding two years ago.

Fess Showing Poorer

And when it came to Dr. Fess, now serving in congress, who was the administration candidate for senator from Ohio, the showing was not nearly so good as in the case of Thompson, the new nominee for governor.

Dr. Fess had but three opponents to divide the vote with, and he ran about the same as Mr. Thompson, although only about 350,000 votes were cast for the senatorial candidates. About 100,000 voters who voted for a candidate for governor, failed to take part in the selection of a candidate for senator.

But the vote for Fess and Thompson was practically the same. This would indicate that their vote of approximately 175,000 each was about all the administration could muster in the state to support its candidates and be counted on as endorsing the administration. This is certainly a sorry showing when compared with the 1, 182,002 votes cast in Ohio for Harding for the presidency in 1920. But the administration supporters are only calling attention to the pluralities of Thompson and Fess, and trusting that no one will notice the big slump in the aggregate vote.

The showing in West Virginia was almost as bad. Senator Howard Sutherland, a staunch supporters of the Harding administration, whose only anti-administration vote was against the seating of Newberry as senator from Michigan, was renominate, it is true, but he polled a vote which as an endorsement of the administration was very much of a frost.

Again, the 10,000 plurality of Senator Sutherland is pointed to by boosters for the administration as one of which to be proud, under the circumstances.

But the fact is that Senator Sutherland's total vote in the West Virginia primary was only about 55.000, whereas Harding received 282,007 votes in that state in 1920.

Again, in West Virginia, as in Ohio, little interest was taken by republican voters in endorsing the administration or anything else. While the republican vote of the state in 1920 was 282,007, the total vote in the present primary was about 150,000. And of this, only about 35,000 were cast for Senator Sutherland, recognized friend of the Harding administration. This is about one-fifth of the vote cast for Harding two years ago and makes little better showing than the result in Ohio.

From other states where primary elections have been held this year similar reports have been received here as to the diminishing vote of the republicans in their primaries. In Missouri, where the Reed-Long contest overshadowed others, it is claimed by republicans that their vote in the primary was small because thousands of republicans voted the democratic ticket in the primary to help nominate Reed. But the fellow who voted for Reed in the primary is very apt to vote for him in the election, and thus the republican vote, which might have been counted on to endorse the federal administration, will again be reduced.

In Oklahoma, first carried by the republicans two years ago, where the democrats are engaged in a bitter political quarrel, and where republicans might be expected to be particularly anxious to get out a full vote as an endorsement of the national administration and an incentive to work at the November election, the republican vote in the primary is reported unusually small. With every encouragement to party activity, and with every opportunity apparently offered them, the republican primary vote there was so small as to indicate a state of almost complete apathy on the part of republicans. And the endorsement of the administration can hardly be said to have been overwhelming in Oklahoma.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 13. — The proposed separation of the state banking department from the insurance bureau, to which it is now attached as a coordinate bureau, which will be the subject of discussion by the executive committee of the Texas Bankers association here Monday, in conference with Commissioner Ed Hall, was the subject of a bill introduced by Comptroller Lon A. FASHIONS

Simplicity is the Keynote of this Little Frock.

No matter what any season's style high lights are, simplicity is always a safe rule to follow in designing clothes for the young girl. The little dinner or dance dress shown in the sketch is an excellent example. It was developed in a pale yellow crepe de chine, with rows of small self-fabric rosettes centered with tiny buttons covered with black silk forming the short sleeves and belt, each of the flying panels being bordered with rows of the silk covered buttons. The dress is not only dainty but practical as well, and it might be developed in net or georgette if a more sheer fabric is desired, or a metal cloth could be used for the frock proper, with lace panels and sleeves and a flower girdle.

One of the interesting features of fall and winter styles as so far developed is the tendency to fashion clothes for mature women as well as the very young instead of adhering to the belief, apparently, that youth alone must be served.

A few seasons ago it ws practically impossible for a woman of mature years and figure to buy ready-to-wear a smart frock, suit, etc., that suited her figure and general station, as all styles appeared to have been designed for the "flapper." So the woman who wanted to wean clothes having more dignity was almost compelled to employ the services of a private dressmaker or tailor. That this condition is being remedied is a long step in the direction of a better dressed womankind as a whole.

In the use of draperies, a more or less exploited style trend for fall, it is particularly important that a woman's age and figure should be considered. As a matter of fact, few women except those who are rather tall wear draped frocks of any kind well, and in buying a draped gown or having one made a woman should take her age and figure into careful consideration. Style designers have brought out models designed to meet every requirement if the individual shopper will exercise proper judgment in the matter of selection.

GRANNY FOX GETS EVEN WITH OLD MAN COYOTE

Never think you must get even;
'isn't nice.
If a wrong you have forgiven,
Do it twice.

Getting even never makes less trouble, and often makes more. Yet it is the most natural thing in the world to want to get even—to pay back wrongs that have been done. Granny Fox is one of the kind who never forgets an injury. If any one ever wrongs her or one of her family, Granny right then and there makes up her mind that she will get even some day, and having made up her mind she never forgets. You see, that is the way the Fox family always has been brought up. Granny's granny felt just the same way, and so did Granny's granny's granny.

So, now when Granny Fox was sure in her own mind that Old Man Coyote was stealing chickens from Farmer Brown's and was trying to make Farmer Brown's Boy think that it was Reddy Fox who was the thief she made up her mind that she would get even with him, and if possible show Farmer Brown's Boy just who the real thief was. She studied and studied how to get even. The more she studied the angrier she grew at Old Man Coyote. She quite forgot the time that she tried to put Bowser the Hound on Old Man Coyote's track in the hope that he would be driven away from the Green Meadows. That is a way that some people have—forgetting the mean things they have done themselves and remembering only the mean things others have done.

Granny didn't have to wait long for a chance. It was only a few days later that Old Man Coyote stole another chicken. As before, Farmer Brown's Boy started out with Bowser the Hound to hunt for the thief. Old Man Coyote's track was soon found by Bowser, just as Old Man Coyote had expected it would be. Just as before he led Bowser straight to the private sunning bank of Reddy Fox. This time Reddy wasn't asleep, but he lay still, as Granny Fox had told him to, until Bowser was almost to him. Then up he jumped and ran for his life. Of course Bowser saw him and started after him, forgetting all about those tracks of Old Man Coyote he had been following. After a little Granny Fox slipped in behind Reddy and the scent of her tracks being a little the freshest, Bowser began to follow her without knowing it. Reddy slipped away to a place where he could see all that happened on the Green Meadows. He saw Granny run around the Smiling Pool, across the Green Meadows, and finally straight over to the far corner where Old Man Coyote had made his home. Reddy chuckled. He could guess just what Old Man Coyote was saying to himself.

Now, when Granny Fox reached the home of Old Man Coyote she played a very sharp trick. She ran round and round and back and forth and this way and that way, until her tracks were so mixed up that she knew it would take Bowser a long time to work them out with that wonderful nose of his, if he even tried it. She hoped he wouldn't try to. You see she ran right over Old Man Coyote's doorsteps two or three times, and she hoped that when he reached that point Bowser would realize that he had found somebody's house and make such noise that Farmer Brown's Boy would come out to see what it was all about.

When she had mixed her trail up enough to suit her Granny made a long jump to one side to break the trail. Then she trotted off a little way and lay down in the grass to watch what would happen. Up came Bowser making a tremendous noise with his great voice. Then he began to have trouble in following Granny's trail, and he would bay only once in a while, as if to let Farmer Brown's Boy know that he was hard at work, but hadn't got it yet. Finally he reached the doorstep of one of the doors of Old Man Coyote's house. Such a racket as there was then! You see Old Man Coyote had been too lazy to run when he heard Bowser following Granny toward his house. He didn't think that Granny would dare to come right up to his door, so he just slipped inside.

When Bowser reached the doorstep he could smell Old Man Coyote inside, and how he did bark to let Farmer Brown's Boy know! Farmer Brown's Boy came over to see what it meant, and then Granny Fox felt that at last she was even with—Old Man Coyote.

ORGANDIE AND CREPE MAKE SMART FROCKS

By ELOISE

Simplicity should be the keynote of the wardrobe of every well-dressed woman and this applies particularly to little girls' toilettes. Of course, an exception can be made now and then for a party or "best" dress but even then it is the simple frock which is the most effective. Organdy is one of the few materials which needs perky bows, rufflings and ribbons to make it what it should be.

Here are three little frocks for little girls which feature various shades of rose from deep red to pale pink. The frock at the left is made of rose colored organdy trimmed with wheels of white organdy ruffling. A black velvet girdle with a bunch of shiny grapes is a finishing touch. Note the quaint collar and sleeves.

Another organdy frock made in a much simpler style is shown at the right. It is red and white checked organdy trimmed with bands of solid red. A touch of hand embroidery trims the neck and sleeves. It makes a pretty afternoon dress.

A "best" dress is shown in the center. It is made of pale flesh colored crepe de chine and trimmed with matching bows of ribbon. Pleats from neck to hem and a low belt are a French touch. The sleeves are mere bands set in a wide armhole are also a French idea.

SOME PRICE, BUT ALSO—

(By Central Press.)

CLEVELAND, Aug. 14. — Mlle. Mistinguette, idol of Paris and possessor of nether extremities variously appraised at from $100,000 to $1,000,000, is perturbed, in fact madamoiselle is decidedly peeved.

The French dancer came to this country recently. The reputation of her "million dollar legs" preceded her. Now it was only natural that she should pose for numerous pictures. And more natural that those pictures should show considerable expanse of perfectly filled silken hosiery as well as her face which hasn't near so much to do with her success.

She did the natural thing, of course.

And then along came the Ohio board of movie censors, three women. And eventually along came Mlle Mistinguette in a news reel with a considerable portion of her legs visible to the naked eye.

The dear ladies shuddered. A chorus of "Ugh-h-h, isn't it horrid," and straightaway the scissors got in its deadly work.

Who knows what went on in the privacy of the censors' sanctum. Perhaps the decision was hurried along by covert comparisons of the legs of Mistinguette, with—well, anyway the film was deleted.

So far Mistinguette, due probably to the proverbial politeness of the French, has refrained from making any remarks about green-eyed monsters or jealous kittens.

But she's peeved just the same, peeved because so many have been denied the opportunity to gaze on her latest exhibit of French hosiery and what it contained.

KLAN NOT AFTER TEXAS VOTES

Wizard Denies Part In Election

Special to The Record News.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 16.—"The ku klux klan is not seeking to control Texas politics, will never indorse any political party in Texas, and is not, as its enemies claim, a political machine," said Edward Young Clarke, acting imperial wizard of the klan in an interview on the Mayfield-Ferguson senatorial campaign here tonight.

"The klan took no part in the election until its enemies made it an issue," Mr. Clarke continued. "Klansmen were branded as outlaws and subjected to every sort of abuse. Our very existence was threatened. It was only human and natural that klansmen of Texas became incensed and decided to fight the matter out at the polls. Were the life of any fraternal organization jeopardized, its members would certainly rally to its support, politically or otherwise.

..We will never be an independent party," the imperial wizard went on. "We are not interested in party lines or platforms. We are, however, vitally interested in the candidates themselves. The klan as an organization, has its principles and ideals, and klansmen will naturally give their support to those men who promise to embrace thos principles."

..Mr. Clarke stated emphatically that the klan would never dictate to its members how to vote.

Bears Blank Spudders When Johnson Holds'em Off

SPUDS LOSE FULL GAME IN STANDING WHEN HITTERS STAND HELPLESS AT PLATE

Keene Starts Strong But Two Homers Put Him in Difficult Hole; Meyers Pokes Long One Over Left Field Wall; Beck Gets Half Spudder Hits; Fans Wait for Rally in Ninth

Special to Record News

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, August 16.—Johnson held the Spudders to four scattered hits today and blanked them for their third scoreless loss of the season when the Bears hit Keene for four runs, enough to win the second game of the series, 4 to 0.

Home runs by Dempsey and Meyers accounted for three of the Bear runs while a triple by McKee drove in the fourth. Dempsey's drive cleared Summa's head in center and rolled to the deep centerfield fence. Meyers drove one of the longest hits of the season when his wallop cleared the left field fence "a mile."

Keene started strong and fanned three of the first four hitters to face him, but with the count three and two, Dempsey put the Bears out in front with his homer.

Johnson held the Spudders at his mercy throughout and only one runner reached third base, that after two hitters had been retired. Hitter after hitter took his allotted number of strikes with runners on first or second.

Fred Beck seemed the only visitor to solve Johnson's delivery and he registered two of the four hits allowed, both singles into short right field. Jake Miller drove a single to center and Adams beat out an infield hit toward third after two runners were out in the fifth inning.

The game was fast throughout and required but an hour and twenty-five minutes. Fast fielding by both clubs marked the play and time after time sensational stops or throws thrilled the small crowd which journeyed out to witness the second encounter.

The loss today cost the Spudders a full game in their lead over the Panthers as Beaumont went down before a 12-4 count in Fort Worth.

Although the Bears held a four-run lead in the first of the ninth inning, the fans did not begin to drift out of the park following the record-breaking rallies of the Spudders in their last two games when they overcame leads for a win in their last chance at the plate.

Their attempt today was feeble however, as Tanner lined out to short, Adams was out third to first and Summa flied out to center.

The teams meet in their final game of the season tomorrow when the Spudders bid adieu for the year.

"IRON MAN" M'GINNITY STILL GOING STRONG

Way down south in the land of cotton in the spring of '93 "Iron Man" Joe McGinnity began a pitching career which has been followed by three generations of ball fans for the very same man of iron is today pitching ball for Danville in the Three I league.

Joe has upset a great many pots of dope prepared by the oracles of sportdom which is perfectly natural when you figure that he was twirling when father rode a bicycle to see his intended bride and picked daisies for her where the First National bank now stands.

The birds twitter merrily as in days of yore and the sun kisses the ball lot in the same old way—what is time in the life of this perennial pitcher

He was given his fire trial by the famous John J. McGinnity, who at that time was manager of the Montgomery club in the Southern association and is best remembered by his of victories and his ability to pitch winning double headers.

In the year 1900, the "Iron Man" led the National league pitchers, hurling 41 games for Brooklyn and finishing with an average of .769—in 1914 he led the inimitable Christy Mathewson with a percentage of .814.

Arise ball that was delivered in true submarine form hoodwinked the batters and he was invariable as cool as the sole of a polar bear's foot—"Iron Man" Joe was sleeping sickness to sluggers all the way round.

Born in the coal mining district of Illinois and starting life as a miner, this prenomenon has watched the arrival of forty-nine summers, not so bad, is it?

Here's luck to the "Iron Man"—long may he continue the onslaught.

PADUCAH AFTER NEW RAILROAD

Two Representatives Attend Meeting

Special to The Record News.

PADUCAH, Aug. 16.—H. H. Wilkins and D. E. Jordan were representatives sent from Paducah, to the meeting of the proposed Tex-Panhandle and Gulf railway, that met at Tulia Saturday.

This railway is a proposed route running from Seymour, Texas to Tucumcari, New Mexico. The engineers are now at work determining the best course for survey.

Heading this project is C. H. Powell of Chicago, Illinois, who says that this proposed road traverses one of the most fetile sections of the country in Texas without a railroad.

PADUCAH MAN BUYS HAIL COUNTY PROPERTY.

Special to The Record News.

PADUCAH, Aug. 16.—The H. H. Wilkins Realty company reports a land exchange deal, of a combined consideration, consisting of $64,000. Mr. O. T. Briton of Paducah, traded 324 acres in Cottle county together with a hundred acres in another county for 640 acres near Plainview in Hail county.

The property dealt for was owned by Mrs. Aneta Berry.

CHAUTAUQUA AND REVIVAL AT PADUCAH.

Special to The Record News.

PADUCAH, Aug. 16.—The people of Paducah are experiencing one of the most spiritual and educational weeks that has ever been known in this city.

Dr. Dan Kelly, the Mississippi evangelist, is conducting a revival that will live long in the hearts and minds of the people. He delivers his sermons at 10 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. daily.

The White and Meyers Chautauqua who previously had contracted to perform in Paducah at the same time, brought about a conflict. In order to promote a benefit to all concerned and to give the people the advantage of both revival and chautauqua, the latter is to render its programs at 3:30 in the afternoon.

Spiking 'Em

By "SPIKE" COOPER

Ain't it funny the way some fans can turn?

Not many seasons ago, Walter Salm was the greatest first sacker in the league and all Fort Worth swore by him and the hefty flail he swung so vociferously while in a Panther uniform.

Now, that he's out of their fold, he's the biggest bum, crook and everything else vile that sport writers of the Heiferville metropolis can command.

And why? Well, nobody seems to know exactly. The "creosote" rumor was forwarded to Cowtown by some sport scribes who followed the million dollar ball club to the clearing house and saw them changed into petty cash.

True enough a couple of Dallas papers have gone hog wild over the alleged episode, but "the sport page" of Dallas has retained an untainted sheet.

But Fort Worth has raised more stink and cast more insinuations during the past three days, than they'll be able to "eat" in many months.

Is it all because they're so derned feared of the Spudders?

Or is it because they are naturally more addicted to a "mud ball" game than a "baseball game?"

And now they're trying to mix Fred Beck's name with the imagined scandal.

Fred Beck has the cleanest record of any ball player in the Texas league and perhaps either of the majors.

Fred has never been ejected from a single contest during his long term of seasons on the diamond. He has never been "plastered" by a riled umpire.

And now Fort Worth rises to mention his name with "their" slander.

Wonder what howl the Dallas Giants are going to offer for the Monday game?

The Spudders must have "doctored" the balls that day. To say the least, they showed the Giants something about their own baseballs that they didn't know themselves.

And Snipe Conley was called in from his "recuperation" at an awfully early date. He must have had an awfully good nurse, as Sunday reports from Dallas stated he was under the care of one.

Yes, he got back in the game in time to lose it. It's tough on the "Duke" to drop two to the Spudders in three days.

'Nother thing about that "creosote episode."

The Spudders doped the balls, so they say, so they could beat Conley. But they couldn't do it that way.

Maybe Umpire Wier saw further than some figure he did. Dallas scribes paid him high tribute in their accounts of the series and loudly commented that "no wonder they (Weir and Daly) have worked in Wichita Falls all year, and no wonder the Spudders won all their home games."

Anyway, Wier sent after new balls, and the Spudders promptly waded in on them for their win. Nary a run had been scored off the "doped" 'uns, but when the new ones went in—well, you all know the rest.

This winning ball games in the ninth is getting pretty regular with Salm's Spudders. One at Dallas on Monday, then repeater at Santone Tuesday.

Fans like to have 'em won all right, but they don't like to wait that long. The strain gets too difficult and intricate.

The Palace had a "full house" Monday and many left before the ninth inning storm, but Tuesday it was different. Not a human budged, and when that rally started over the board—well, just guess for yourself if you weren't there.

Shorty Adams is certainly "sure death" to the Bears.

His single in the ninth inning Tuesday drove Tanner across with the winning run, and it was just the third time in the last five games against the Bears that Shorty has done just that same little thing.

Glory to you, Shorty. It's the hittin' 'em in the pinches that counts.

Heirs of War Hero Start Search For Wealth Under Gotham Sky Line

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 16. — With the death recently of the last victim of the "grudge" will of Major John Hooper Lyon, hero of the war of 1812, distant heirs of the major have begun a search for the hidden wealth he is believed to have left on Manhattan Island.

For more than 100 years, according to the story, relatives of Major Lyon looked forward to the time when some of them could claim the 600 acres on Manhattan Island and the $80,000 with accumulated interest, said to have been granted to the major by congress for valor in the war of 1912.

Major Lyon, according to attorneys for Chicago claimants of his estate, was ostracised by his brothers and sisters when he returned to his home at Rome, N. Y., after the war with an Indian tribe. Angered at their attitude, Major Lyon is said to have cast off his family, and in his will decreed that his estate should be kept intact until after the death of all his brothers and sisters and their children. The last of the major's spurned relatives, a nephew, is said to have died four months ago.

Claimants for the major's estate said they believed the residue of the $80,000 cash is in some New York vault and that the 600 acres on Manhattan Island lies beneath a section of New York's famous skyline.

WHEAT MAKES WEAK RALLY

Industrial Outlook Better

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Wheat rallied somewhat today from yesterday's depression, the majority of traders assuming the industrial outlook was better. Prices closed steady 1-8c to 5-8c net higher, with September 1.00 7-8 to 1.01 and December 1.02 1-8 to 1.02 1-4. Corn gained 1-4@3-8 to 3-4c, oats finished unchanged to a shade lower, and provisions at 2c decline to 7c advance.

With coal mines re-opening in many sections and with strength in the stock market taken here as indicating more likelihood of a settlement of the rail strike, buyers of wheat developed a little confidence, and there was absence of any great pressure to sell. Considerable purchasing was said to be for seaboard account and against export business.

Crop damage reports, especially from parts of Kansas and Nebraska, had a bullish effect on the corn market, although partly offset by word of rain in Illinois. Oats were easier owing to enelarged receipts here. Export sales of 250,000 pounds of lard helped to lift provision values.

Now That's Rather Odd

DES MOINES, Iowa.—"Grossly false and fanatic" was the statement of Wallingford Rieger, widely known cellist and instructor in music at Drake university, today concerning his arrest and arraignment late yesterday afternoon on a charge of making improper advances to women. He flatly denied the charges made as the basis for his arrest. Chief of Police Hammond declares that he will press the case against the musician.

HOUSTON.—Fourteen Mexican convicts escaped from Clemons state farm in Brazoria county last night, according to reports received today by officials.

NEW YORK.—Although Lena Stein, now 55 years old, has been deaf and dumb ever since girlhood, today she talks and can hear as well as the average person. This remarkably recovery of speech and hearing followed an attack of pneumonia complicated by influenza, according to physicians who have observed the case in an effort to trace the possible effects of the illness upon the ear drums and vocal chords.

NEW YORK BONDS

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Cheaper money rates caused a more comprehensive buying of bonds on the New York stock exchange today, material advances being scored by a number of issues.

Speculative rails gave the best demonstration as a group, but several new favorites came into the market, especially among the utilities. Atchison transcontinental shortlines fours were the outstanding features rising 3½ points. Great Northern 4 1-2s moved up 2 points and gains of 1 to 1 1-2 points were made. St. Paul refunding 4s, Denver and Rio Grande improvement 5s, Oregon railway and navigation 4s, Norfolk and Western convertibles 6s, Erie general 4s, Pennsylvania general 4 1-2s and Kansas City Southern 5s.

Philadelphia company refunding 6s crossed par from the first time in sympathy with the advance in that concerns stock and considerable improvement also took place in Detroit Edison 6s.

Illinois steel 4 1-2s and Union Bag & Paper 6s, which were up a point or more, featured the industrial list. Liberty prices were irregular.

Fruit Movements Continue Steady

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Notwithstanding the railroad strike the carlot movement of the fourteen leading fruit and vegetables shows a big increase, according to a statement issued here today by the United States bureau of agriculture economics. The increase amounted to nearly 3,000 carloads, during the week ending August 12. Potatoes and peaches showed heaviest gains, canteloupes, watermelons and mixed vegetables decreased in volume.

Potatoes shipments have been 61 per cent heavier than for the preceding week. Of the 4,341 cars of potatoes shipped, nearly 2,300 or 53 per cent were from New Jersey, about double the shipments for the previous week and about 500 more than for the same week a year ago. Cobblers from that state have appeared in markets as far west as Chicago and St. Louis.

Shipments of peaches increased 58 per cent over the preceding week, 3,454 cars moved compared with 1,244 for the same week a year ago. More than half the movement was from California which shipped 1,954 cars.

Wall Street Perks Up When Strike Muddle Clears

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Wall street found fresh encouragement today in the coal and rail strike situations, indulging in an early buying demonstration that caused an appreciables dvance in prices on the stock market. This gave way to dullness later which was varied by especial demonstrations in individual issues several of which reached new highs for the year. Trading continued to be largely of a professional character, but the day's sales, 675,000 shares, were among the highest in recent weeks.

Most of the standard rails advanced 1 to 3 points in the early trading on buying orders based on the belief that heavy traffic will follow the termination of pending labor troubles, but most of the gains were reduced to fractions by the selling pressure in the late dealings. Outstanding shares, which registered a gain of a point or more, were Canadian Pacific, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Chicago and Northwestern preferred, Delaware and Hudson, Lehigh Valley, New Orleans, Texas and Mexico, and western Maryland. Union Pacific broke through for a new high but closed at a net gain of only a small fraction.

Special buoyancy was shown by shares of public utility companies, notably by Columbia gas, Philadelphia company and North American, each of which established new peak prices. Public service of New Jersey also showed up well.

Strength of Phillips petroleum and the Standard oil shares was construed as an indication of substantial improvement in the statistical position of the industry, which recently has suffered from overproduction. Mexican petroleum moved within narrow limits again today, but closed at a slight gain. The Mexican seaboard issues relaxed a bit.

Trading in United States steel, which has not been very active in recent weeks, was more extensive today, presumably because of the beneficial effect that the settlement of the coal strike is likely to have on its production figures. The common advanced nearly a point. Independent steels were irregular, Lackawanna, Vanadium, Replogle and Gulf States advancing moderately, while Bethlehem and Crucible were slight.

Vienna Shys at American Relief

By Associated Press.

VIENNA, Aug. 16.—A long defense of the decision of the Vienna municipality, in rejecting further American aid in feeding the city's children was published today by the Arbiter eitung. It says this relief was invaluable during the dark days immediately following the armistice, but the position of always being aided is degrading to the city. If Vienna ca nsupport such notorious luxury, it says, it should be able to care for its children.

A Popular-Priced Cord Tire Without a Rival

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tire is built with genuine high-grade long-staple cotton as a foundation.

It is liberally oversize—the 4½-inch tire, for example, measuring nearly 5 inches.

The deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern of its tread affords excellent traction even in snow and mud, engaging the road like a cogwheel.

The scientific distribution of rubber in this tread—the wide center rib and the semi-flat contour—gives a thick, broad surface that is exceedingly slow to wear.

This new tire is a genuine Goodyear through and through—in design, in material, in construction.

It costs less to buy than the net price you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown reputation and value.

Why be satisfied with less than this efficient tire can give—why take a chance on an unknown make?

Compare these prices with NET prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires

30x3½ Clincher	$12.50	32x4 Straight Side	$24.50	33x4½ Straight Side	$32.15
30x3½ Straight Side	13.50	33x4 Straight Side	25.25	34x4½ Straight Side	32.95
32x3½ Straight Side	19.25	34x4 Straight Side	25.90	33x5 Straight Side	39.10
31x4 Straight Side	22.20	32x4½ Straight Side	31.45	35x5 Straight Side	41.05

These prices include manufacturer's excise tax

Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tires are also made in 6, 7 and 8 inch sizes for trucks

Fitts Probes Arrest of Blacks

A warning to persons impersonating city policemen, and collecting fines from arrests they make was issued late yesterday afternoon by Police Commissioner J. B. Fitts, with the threat that any person found representing himself anywhere in Wichita Falls as a city patrolman or member of the city police force, who is not authorized to do so, will be dealt with in the courts.

The warning, Mr. Fitts explained, is the outgrowth of persistent rumors reaching the police station to the effect that some person or persons have been making arrests in Floral Heights, and making the persons arrested pay fines to them.

"Our officers do not accept fines," Mr. Fitts declared, "and it is against the regulations of this city and this department for them to either accept fines or bonds from persons they place under arrest in the name of the law.

"Each officer of our department is thoroughly drilled in the practice of bringing prisoners to the station, where they either make bond at the desk sergeant's desk, or are placed in prison until they can be brought into court.

"No prisoner's fine is accepted by any person other than the desk sergeant, and he is not authorized to accept fines unless so informed by the magistrate of corporate court."

The police commissioner intimated that a silent investigation is being conducted by the department to ascertain who has been arresting a number of negroes in Floral Heights, and accepting fines from them soon after.

CAR FOR AGENT

That plaintiffs have placed said note in the hands of Kay, Akin & Kenley, attorneys of Wichita Falls, for collection, and have contracted to pay them the ten per cent stipulated therein. OLD SETTLERS PICNIC DRAWS 900 TO PARTY AT IOWA PARK

Speeches, Ball Games, Music and Tales of Olden Days Feature

Old settlers of Wichita county and their families and friends held their annual picnic Wednesday at Fries Grove two miles east of Iowa Park, with a crowd gathered to hear the old time speakers and to enjoy the old time picnic dinner roughly estimated at least 900. The pioneers began to gather early in the morning and at 10 o'clock the program was opened with speeches by the chairman and several of the old settlers.

In the opening address, Dr. J. F. Reed, the chairman, spoke of the early history of the county when the population numbered only a few scattered farmers and the largest town was Wichita Falls with only a general store and a saloon. His speech was short but interesting to every hearer who was introduced to the early life of the men who came to Wichita county years ago and who laid the foundation which has put it in the front rank of Texas counties. Dr. Reed came to this county 40 years ago and was one of the first settlers to make a permanent residence here.

Banty Family Oldest.

Tom Corridan, cashier of the First National bank of Iowa Park, the first white child to be born in Iowa Park, made a short address and introduced the Banty family which, he said, is the oldest family in the county. They moved to Texas in 1877 from Ohio.

Emmett Bledsoe introduced the four oldest men of the county who are still living here. They are "Uncle Tom" Corridon, R. N. Ferguson, George Akers, and Judge Barwise. They are all over 80 years of age and have resided in the county more than 40 years. R. N. Ferguson is the father of W. R. Ferguson of the Wichita State bank and came to Iowa Park in 1888. Tom Corridon came in 1887 and was the first section foreman in Wichita county working on the Denver road.

Judge Scurry Speaks.

Other talks were by J. W. Morgan, and Judge Edgar Scurry. They recalled incidents in the forming of the county and told of the part each individual pioneer took in building up the country. Judge Scurry told of the processes the official machinery was forced to endure before it reached the efficiency it enjoys today and spoke of several men who were prominent in early law enforcement. He spoke of the late J. S. Akers, father of George Akers, who he said "did more to uphold law and order in the early days than any man I know."

Music was furnished throughout the program by the Iowa Park brass band. Special selections were played at the request of the old settlers who wished to hear the songs that were familiar to them 40 year ago. "My Old Kentucky Home" and "Dixie" were the most popular and were played time and again.

At noon picnic dinner was served on the grounds and every one found that the old settlers still know how to arrange a splendid meal. Fried chicken, sandwiches, cake and a dozen kinds of pie with an abundance of other edibles was spread out in profusion.

During the meal, the Iowa Park chamber of commerce male chorus sang the songs of the eighties. Again 'Dixie" came in for prolonged applause and was rendered several times.

Settlers Swap Stories.

During the afternoon, a get-together meeting of the settlers was held when they swapped stories and different members spoke on subjects of interest to those who helped make Wichita county. Among those who spoke were E. M. McClesky, the first mayor of Iowa Park; G. Heyserman, who has lived in Wichita county since 1887; E. E. Gotze and W. P. Cagle, who came from Clarendon to attend the reunion of pioneers. All these men have lived a greater part of their lives in this county and have been the leaders in the development of the country and the "city that faith built."

A baseball game between the Boy Scouts of Iowa Park and the Knot Hole gang of Wichita was played at 2 o'clock on the grounds and the band furnished music throughout the afternoon.

At 5 o"clock the settlers were the guests of the Iowa Park baseball team at a game played with Seymour, in Iowa Park.

The reunion will be held every year at the grove and arrangements are being made to preserve the records of the county and the part every settler played in its development with possibly some sort of a monument to the memory of those who were prominent in working for the public good.

LEGION IS THANKED

W. L. Smith, father of T. L. Smith, tailor of the Kemp hotel who lost his life as the result of injuries received in an automobile wreck which occurred last Sunday night, expressed his thanks to the American Legion yesterday prior to his departure for Missouri with his son's body for the attention and honor rendered to Mr. Smith by the legion.

The American Legion took charge of Smith's body soon after his death at a local hospital, and acted in the absence of his relatives, pending the arrival here of his father.

FISHERMEN RETURN

Ray Hanks, Carl Yeager and others who returned yesterday from an extensive fishing trip on the mountain streams of Colorado, reported yesterday that they had encountered Guy Rogers, judge of the Wichita county court at law, Judge R. V. Guinn, justice of the peace, precinct 1, and Wayne Sommerville, assistant Wichita couney attorney, in that vicinity, enjoying the climate and the fishing.

Although the party of fishermen returning to the city from their vacation jaunt reported they had also encountered much rainy weather, they narrate some interesting tales about the big fish of the Colorado mountain streams.

FACTORY REGISTER HERE

The 1922-23 edition of Thomas' Register of American manufacturers has been received by the chamber of commerce. It contains a complete list of manufacturers of every kind in the United States. The book is so indexed as to make it easy to find the various factories of any article.

Speeder, Here's Why You Weren't Caught

An unknown speeder who was operating a powerful automobile on the Burkburnett highway late Tuesday nearly cost C. L. McDonald, county motor cycle officer, his life, it became known yesterday morning.

McDonald gave chase to the speeder as he ran toward Burkburnett, the officer stating yesterday that it became necessary to run his motorcycle up to "around 70 miles" per hour. While his motorcycle was running at this rate of speed, the valve in the front tire blew out, throwing the casing from the wheel, and sending McDonald sprawling on the pavement.

McDonald says he slid 254 feet, by actual count, before he stopped, as a result of the fall, the impact of the blow almost demolishing his machine, and giving the officer severe injuries on his hands and knees.

The speeder, according to McDonald, escaped.

WORK TO START ON CAR TRACKS

Steel Expected Here Saturday

Work will starton the street car track across the river next Monday morning.

This announcement was made Wednesday by L. L. Allbritton, general manager of the traction company on his return from Kansas City.

"I loaded out five car loads of steel in Kansas City and they should be here Friday or Saturday at the latest," Mr. Allbritton said, "so that the work can be started right away. When I returned I found a carload of poles already had arrived so that by Monday I expect to have enough mtaerial on hand to start the work."

It will take only a few weeks under normal conditions to complete the track across the river, Mr. Allbritton said, and Wichita Falls will then have another line to a very important part of the city. There are hundreds of people to be served by the line across the river and a schedule will be maintained to give ample accommodation it is said.

SEARCH FOR FORD

Local police yesterday were searching this city for a Ford automobile stolen from Vernon Tuesday night at a late hour, and which officials of that community believed had been brought here.

The car, a 1921 model, five-passenger, Ford, had a set of practically new casings on it, the police were notified by Jim Key, police chief of Vernon, who informed local officers that there is no reward offered for the recovery of the stolen property.

SHORT POLICE COURT.

One of the shortest sessions on record was conducted in city police court yesterday morning, Judge J. P. Marrs disposing of four cases in short order, and court being adjourned in less than 30 minutes after it had begun.

A man charged with speeding an automobile pleaded guilty, and was fined $10, while the case one vagrant was passed over until future date for hearing.

Two other cases were turned over to county authorities.

CLARA PAVING JOB TO START

Last Strip On Burk Road Completed

With the completion of the last strip of the Burkburnett paving project, the Potts & Prentice construction company has begun removing its plant to a location on the Clara road, where there is a strip of five miles to be concreted.

The last strip, 1,500 feet of paving, to be finished by the company on the Burkburnett road, was completed late Monday, according to announcements made yesterday at the headquarters of Potts & Prentice, and extended the Wichita Falls-Burkburnett paved highway from Burkburnett on to Red river.

Only a small portion of the paved highway route is yet closed, this being blocked off to give the road a thorough opportunity to dry. It is understood that the portion of the road which is now closed will be opened within a short while, this giving travelers a straight run from Wichita Falls to Red river on pavement.

Strike Over So Far As It Hits Santa Fe So Says Allbritton

"I was in Topeka, Kansas, where the main shops of the Santa Fe railroad are located just a few days ago" said L. L. Allbritton, general manager of the Wichita Falls Traction company when he returned from Kansas City and other points Wednesday, "and I found that so far as the Santa Fe is concerned the strike is over. I found also that the strike is not causing inconvenience in that section of the country and might be regarded as practically over.

"They told me at the Santa Fe shops in Topeka that the normal force is 3,000 men and that they now have 2,500 at work, being just 500 short. The last batch of 300 that went to work came from other railroads having gone on strike but are going back to work for in a different locality. I was told that all over the country shopmen who have been on strike have changed locations and gone back to work for other railroads."

Mr. Allbritton said he understood there were many shopmen still holding out but that he understood the railroads are fast filling their shops with workmen.

SMITH'S BODY IS SENT TO MISSOURI

The body of T. L. Smith, victim of an automobile accident Sunday night when two other persons were injured, was shipped Wednesday night by the Hines undertaking parlors to Eldorado Springs, Mo.

N. L. Smith, father of the dead man, accompanied the body. Members of the American legion gathered at the undertaking parlors at 6:00 o'clock and formed an escort of honor to the station.

This Man Objects to Chock Beer Even In His Drinking Water Cooler

A section foreman employed by the Katy railroad has found that there is a new use to which water coolers may be put.

A brand new water cooler was stolen from the section foreman Tuesday, it became known yesterday morning, and was later discovered by the foreman near Holliday creek, where it had been carried by the thieves.

Well, the cooler was still cool, but it didn't have water in it. In fact it had something in it that sent forth a tasty aroma, and which for the moment astounded the section foreman, who rushed to the city and notified the officers that he had found his cooler but couldn't learn what it contained, and was sure that it needed investigating.

Chief McCormick sent Tom Shook, plainclothes officer, to the spot, and Tom later returned to the station with a broad smile on his countenance.

"What did that drinking cooler have in it, Tom?" he was asked.

"Just a little 'chock' beer," Tom replied.

But the section foreman objected to anything other than the purest of pure drinking water placed in his receptacle, because he's a prohibitionist.

Splinters

Short Stuff With a Dash of Pepper

At last that Burk road is finished. But—it's not all open yet.

Sidney King, traveling freight agent of the Wabash, was here yesterday from Dallas.

Song to learn next Sunday: "Old McDonald Had a Farm."

To be led by R. E. Shepherd.

George Thornburn, city clerk, returned yesterday from a short vacation in Medicine Park.

H. N. Roberts, traffic manager of the W. F. and S., departed yesterday for Fort Worth and Dallas on a business mission.

Collier & Landon's display of bird dogs hasn't got a thing on Tinton's. Several Boston terrier pups were attracting considerable attention there yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff McDonald swears that auto he gave chase to was going over 70 miles an hour.

Some car, "Mc." But we don't care to ride in it.

Lee Morrissey, angered at "Country Boy" for claiming a foul, pulled that old, old stunt of challenging anybody in the crowd to finish the program.

Old stuff, Lee, but it still satisfies.

Ray Hanks has a good fish story to tell us now, boys. Gather 'round closely and we'll hear all about how he caught one just a little bigger than that one captured by Carl Yeager.

It's rumored that around 100 Wichita Falls families will return to their homes here in September from their summer vacations and eject about that many families who are now tenants.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. White are visiting their dauhter, Mrs. Julian Bobo, winding up an extensive journey throuh the plains of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. White are from Killeen, Texas.

Mrs. Julian Bobo, Orville and Edna Bobo, son and dauhter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobo 1212 Polk street, returned yesterday morning from an extended sojourn in Austin, Texas, where she visited relatives.

J. H. Becker, traveling freight agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, who was here yesterday on business, can tell you just exactly how we took that last game from Dallas. He lives there.

Miss Katherine Henricle, representative of the Texas Children's Home and Aid society of Fort Worth, is back on duty in Wichita Falls.

Miss Henricle has just recovered from a severe attack of illness.

A drunk man fell prostrate in the gutter last night.

"Are you out, old man?" a passerby asked.

"Naw," he managed to drawl. "A man may be down, but 'es never out, you know."

Judge Scurry held a ringside seat at the Morrissey-Lance fight Tuesday night, and took occasion to remark, when asked to, that the fighting game is an interesting one, and more enticing when kept clean.

Stay in there, Judge.

J. B. Fitts, commissioner of police, returned with his family yesterday at noon, following a journey through southern Oklahoma.

Mr. Fitts was the victim of an attack of illness while on his trip, necessitating his return to Wichita Falls.

Returning from Burk the other night "Spike" saw a possum cross the road. "Spike" insisted on getting out and capturing the animal, but on returning empty handed and being asked where it went, he replied:

"Aw, I found out it wasn't a possum."

There's a drive on by a certain well know organization that has certain amount of civic pride, to bring the dreams of a local tourist's camping site here to a realization.

Tourists yesterday were asking information about one, and there'll be more tourists when the Texas-Oklahoma fair opens.

It was suggested at the Kiwanis luncheon recently that a good advertisement for speeders and reckless drivers to read on the country by automobile at each "death curve," or at intervals on the road, stating just how many were killed and injured at that spot.

It's a good idea—but if the checker game is on, it's still your move, Mr Kiwanian.

A little boy of Jewish ancestry stood at the second window in the City National Bank of Commerce yesterday afternoon.

"Give me a dollar bill with Mr. Shepherd's name on it, please sir," he insisted repeatedly.

"Why must Mr. Shepherd's name be on it?" the man in the cage queried.

"Because we're the best of friends and I want his kind of money," the sordid reply of the youth came back.

Page Mr. Shepherd, please.

25 NEGROES TAKEN

Twenty-five negroes were taken in in a dragnet formed by the city police department late Wednesday afternoon, only two of the large party, however, being placed behind the bars.

The negroes, according to Detective Chief Jack Miller, who headed the squadron of officers on the raid, were arrested in the "flats" the larger number of them being arrested in a negro domino hall in that section, which is being operated by a white man.

Charges of vagrancy were placed against the two negroes who were put in jail, the docket shows, the officers stating that the purpose of the raid was to rid the "flats" of negro vagrants, who, it was asserted by the officers, have been conducting games of chance.

Fords, Fordsons and Lincolns
A very large percentage of the motor troubles that come under our observation can be traced to improper and insufficient lubrication.
We have found that all lubrication troubles are eliminated when Ford motors and Fordson tractors are operated on 100% Pure Pennsylvania
AMALIE OIL
For this reason we now carry an appropriate weight of AMALIE Oil in stock for every type of motor we sell and are prepared to furnish it at an attractive price so that it may be available to all our customers.
We urge that the crank cases of the motors be drained at frequent intervals and refilled with this 100 per cent Pure Pennsylvania Oil.
