FDR Demanding Swift Relief Action

United Front Against Aggression Urged For Americans

Latin America Asked To Back United States

New Monroe Doctrine Offered By President And Outsiders Will Not Prove Menace

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 14—A new Monroe Doctrine—under which nations of Pan America would present a united front against any aggression from other continents — appeared tonight to be a major goal of Roosevelt foreign policy.

Observers noted that, in a Pan America day speech at the Pan American Union, the president had this to say of peace in the western hemisphere:

Permit No Menace

"We will not permit it to be endangered from aggression coming from outside of our hemisphere."

These words stood out in an address devoted to a restatement of United States' ideals concerning the rule of justice and law, and to a picture of concord in the Americas, as contrasted with "tragedies" elsewhere.

Historically, the Monroe Doctrine has been a unilateral policy. The United States undertook to prevent nations in the old world from interfering with American countries, or from making further territorial gains in the western hemisphere.

Count On Their Help

The president's words today seemed to suggest that the nations of Latin America join in the Monroe Doctrine of 1823. Then the United States, if attacked, could count on their assistance just as they could on ours.

Thus, informed officials said, the president's words seemed to presage a Pan American doctrine. If carried through to their logical conclusion, by treaty, they would mean an historic development.

Observers said it was not unlikely that Mr. Roosevelt might present a proposal to this effect to the Latin-American nations, perhaps at the next Pan-American conference at Lima, Peru in November.

Reversal Of Policy

President Roosevelt's statement today, if taken at full value, means a reversal of the policy his distant cousin, President Theodore Roosevelt, stated in 1902:

"We do not guarantee any state against punishment if it misconducts itself provided the punishment does not take the form of

Sudan Host For Rotary Session

(Special To The Avalanche)

SUDAN, April 14. — Clinton P. Anderson of Albuquerque, N. M., past president of Rotary International, will speak at an inter-city banquet here at 8 o'clock Friday night for Rotarians and Rotary-Anns.

The banquet session will be held in the Sudan High School auditorium. Accommodations are for an expected 250 Rotarians and their guests.

Headed Body In 1932-33

Anderson was president of Rotary International the club year of 1932-33, said Arnold Purtell, president of the club here.

Delegations are expected from Portales, N. M., Ralls, Lubbock, Brownfield, Seagraves, and Levelland. Approximately 50 persons are expected from Lubbock.

The past president is expected to arrive about midafternoon Friday and remain here until after the program that night.

Billy Biggers, superintendent of Sudan public schools and a member of the club, will be master of ceremonies. No program has been planned other than the address by the honor guest.

Thief Has Change Of Heart But Victim Still Is Loser

STERLING, Colo., April 14. (AP)—A thief took 91 pennies from H. B. Hartley's gasoline station.

Then he had a change of heart and mailed back the loot.

But Hartley still is 24 cents loser. The parcel came with that much postage due.

Huge Lazy S Ranch To Be Broken Up

Speaker At Sudan

CLINTON P. ANDERSON
See Story In Col. 1

ANOTHER LINK with the Old West, its vast ranges and far reaches of land untouched by plow, will be destroyed with the sale to Bohemian and German farmers of the 25,000-acre Lazy S ranch in Martin county which once was a part of the 250,000-acre ranch owned by Col. C. C. Slaughter.

Plans for colonization of the Lazy S were related in Lubbock Thursday afternoon by C. C. Slaughter, son of the founder of the ranch which once extended into four counties, Martin, Howard, Dawson and Borden.

Contract Is Signed

Slaughter has signed a contract with F. Z. Bishop of McAllen, who was the leading figure in settling a big section of the Rio Grande valley, and after whom the town of Bishop in the valley was named. Bishop plans to sell the land to approximately 125 Bohemian and German families from South Texas and Minnesota and Nebraska, by specification by Slaughter.

With sale of the Lazy S, only one 25,000-acre ranch of the former unbroken Slaughter ranch will remain. His is the ninth of the ten ranches, each amounting to one-tenth of the former ranch, to be broken up into farms. Mrs. Carrie Dean of Dallas is owner of the Indian Canyon ranch, the only one that will remain. Colonel Slaughter, who came to the area from Palo Pinto in 1879 and founded the ranch, died in 1919.

Have No Connection

The Lazy S ranch has no connection with the U Lazy S ranch owned by J. B. Slaughter estates of Post. The Lazy S headquarters are located 20 miles south of Lamesa and the Indian Canyon ranch 20 miles east of the town.

Bishop announced in Lamesa that he hoped to have the land settled within the year.

The entire Lazy S is virgin land, said Slaughter. He said he has approximately 2,500 cattle on the ranch. By his agreement with Bishop, he will dispose of his cattle as land is sold. After sale of the first 11 1-2 sections, he will begin sale of cattle. After sale of the next plot of 14 sections, he will sell more cattle.

To Retain 640 Acres

He will retain 640 acres on which the ranch home is located and many improvements have been made.

Soil on the ranch is much like that in Lubbock immediate vicinity, but at present is heavily covered with mesquite, said Slaughter. He said cotton and feed likely would be raised principally.

He referred to Bohemian and German farmers as "very successful and hard workers," capable of breaking raw land and making a successful living. An area at Sparen-

Hot Clues Are Unearthed In Frome Probe

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, April 14.—The Frome murder investigation was spread-eagled tonight from the gulf area of Texas to Massachusetts.

At both ends of the far flung probe, interest was centered on the identity of a man and woman thought to have been with Mrs. Weston G. Frome of Berkeley, Calif., and her daughter Nancy, 23, when they were slain in the West Texas desert two weeks ago.

In Hot Pursuit

In South Texas, along the Rio Grande near Rio Grande City, Texas rangers and peace officers were in hot pursuit of a will-o-the-wisp blonde and her male traveling companion, hunted eastward through Texas for a week.

Sheriff Gus Guerra of Starr county was outdistanced by the mysterious couple after flushing them from a brushy spot in the South Texas plains west of Rio Grande City. A tip from a Laredo motorist led him to their roadside hide-out.

Two To Be Questioned

Sheriff Chris Fox of El Paso, director of the investigation, meanwhile dispatched a deputy to Newburyport, Mass., to question Mrs. Hester Worcester and her son, Chauncey.

Mrs. Worcester reported to authorities she had seen an automobile following the Frome sedan east of Van Horn, Texas, and described a "short, chunky man with a round face" who joined the Frome women on the desert roadside beside their parked cars.

"It gives us our first eye-witness description of the slayer suspects,"

Special Good Friday Services Planned At Churches Today

Special services today and tonight at Catholic and Episcopal churches will commemorate Good Friday.

Services comparable to the imprisonment of Christ are to be held at 8 o'clock this morning by Rev. Fr. Gabriel Diamante at St. Joseph's church, 100 Avenue O. "The Way of the Cross" and "The Seven Last Words" will be read at 8 o'clock tonight at St. Elizabeth's church, 2301 Main street.

"The Joy of the Cross" will be the topic of Rev. J. Hodge Alves at 11 o'clock this morning at St. Paul's Episcopal church, 1609 Avenue Q. A children's service will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Subject will be "Our Lord Jesus Christ."

Communion service was held at St. Paul's church Thursday night.

Vice President Garner Now Is Owner Of Big Ranch

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP)—Vice President Garner has bought a big Texas cattle ranch.

The ranch, 23,436 acres, is situated in the northern part of Webb County, Texas, about 100 miles southeast of Uvalde, Garner's home.

The ranch was bought at an unstated price from J. P. Sinclair. The transaction was completed yesterday.

Drastic Change In Wage-Hour Bill Proposed

Minimum Wage Starting At 25 Cents And Increasing To 45 Cents Is Being Provided

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 14 — The house labor committee recommended a drastically revised wage-hour bill tonight to provide for a graduated minimum wage starting at 25 cents an hour and increasing to 40 cents in three years.

The committee approved the legislation by a 14 to 4 vote at an overtime session which ended weeks of wrangling.

White House Insistence

Reports were current the action was taken in response to White House insistence that a bill be reported before President Roosevelt began his "fireside chat" to the nation.

Chairman Norton (D-NJ) denied these reports but said she personally had been desirous of such a result. Immediately after the vote, she called the White House to inform the president and later told reporters the chief executive was "delighted."

Shorter Work-Week

Stripped of all wage differentials, the bill would provide for a gradual shortening of the work-week from 44 to 40 hours over a two-year period.

It also would prohibit the shipment in interstate commerce of products of child labor.

Boost In Fares Denied Roads

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 14—Eastern railroads failed today to win permission from the Interstate Commerce commission to increase their basic passenger coach fares from 2 to 2.5 cents a mile.

A bare majority of the commission denied the carriers' request, expressing belief increased coach fares probably would produce revenue results less favorable to the roads than present charges.

Permit Increased Fares

The same six-member majority indicated, however, that it would permit increased fares for de luxe coach service if the railroad proposed them.

Commissioner Frank McManamy, one of the five commission members who dissented, said of the majority opinion:

"It is my opinion that in its utter disregard for the weight of the evidence, the established principles of law, the needs of the industry, and the welfare of this country, this decision stands alone."

Paying Own Way

While the 2-cent fare has been in effect, the majority said, passenger coach service has about reached the point of paying its own way and returning a profit. The majority opinion added:

"That basis should not be disturbed, especially during a period of business recession, except on a persuasive showing that a basis different from the present would result in a substantial increase in net revenue."

Shortly after the decision was

Political Spanking Is Given To New Mexico Senator

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP) — Legislation under which a federal employe would lose his job if he took part in a political convention went down to defeat in the senate today.

The administration forces, led by Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky) brought about the rejection of the bill, 38 to 19. Thus they administered a polite spanking to Senator Hatch (D-NM), one of their number, who proposed it.

Plea Of Self-Defense Offered By Man In Trial For Life

JASPER, April 14. (AP)—A plea of self-defense was made today by H. Y. P. Broussard, who admitted he killed two trappers in the marshlands of Orange county Feb. 5, 1937.

Broussard, on the witness stand four hours, said he slew Etienne Richard and Albert Theriot because they had threatened his life and he knew them to be men who would carry out a threat.

He'll Fulfill The "Dream Of A Lifetime"

FORMER MAYOR ROSS EDWARDS waves goodbye to his friends in Lubbock as he stands beside his fishing and hunting trailer. He takes off early today for California, where he will fish several days with a friend aboard a yacht, then will go to Seattle and thence northward well beyond the Arctic circle for a year's hunting and trapping, an "urge I have had all my life."

Ex-Mayor Takes Off Early Today For Year's Jaunt Into Wilds Of Alaska

THE covered wagon—with zippers on it.

That's the modern twist for even the most aspiring of those who seek the remote.

Former Mayor Ross Edwards will tow such a contraption when he leaves this morning for a year's sojourn in the solitude of Alaskan wilds, well within the Arctic circle.

Leaving Early Today

Hesitantly, in his 1219 Fourteenth street room, the sportsman-musician talked. On walls overhead were heads of trophies of numerous chases or casts. In the hall outside—the same.

"I will leave early Friday morning for Beverly Hills. After a few day's fishing there with a friend I will go northward—where I don't know yet. Seattle, probably. After that—"

He shrugged.

Will Purchase Boat

Borne out in subsequent talk, the ex-mayor plans to go to Seattle. There he will purchase a 25- or 30-foot boat that will allow of his surviving the 40-foot waves of Cook inlet after he has run the torturous hundreds of miles from Seattle along the inside passage.

In the trailer, with the zipper-controlled rear canvas shield, will be 1,000 pounds of steel traps, cooking utensils, equipment for deep sea and rapids fishing, guns—all sorts—and camera and a supply of color film and ammunition and the rest of the duffle required for a year away from habitation.

Dream Of His Life

He will satisfy an urge nurtured "all my life." His acting as head of the Lubbock city government and as director of an orchestra did not detract from his forays into the Texas gulf or the Gulf of California or Don Martin lake for fishing—or into deep Mexico or nearby Slaughter ranch property for trapping and hunting. But his success last winter in trapping almost 100 coyotes was only a bracer against

Grant Elected To Head Club

Homer D. Grant, of Lubbock, was elected 1938-39 president of the South Plains Scottish Rite club, a Masonic order, at a banquet held here last night following annual observance of Maundy Thursday ceremonies. Grant succeeds Carl Lars Svensen, Lubbock.

Approximately 30 Scottish Rite Masons were present at the gathering, held at Hotel Lubbock. They represented consistories from Juneau, Alaska, to Miami, Florida, and from Columbus O., to Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Other Officers Elected

Other officers elected included Tom May, of Brownfield, vice-president, and Ed Parker, Lubbock, who was re-elected as secretary.

Rev. J. Hodge Alves rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, delivered the banquet address, which dealt entirely with organization matters.

Invocation was offered by Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of First Presbyterian church.

The group sent a telegram of felicitations to Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech, who has been an active member during his residence in Lubbock and who is now in San Antonio, recuperating from an illness. A similar telegram from Doctor Knapp to the club was received, the two messages having "crossed" between here and the Alamo City.

Man Goes To Aid Others In Auto And Is Electrocuted

FORT WAYNE, Ind., April 14. (AP)—After William Decker's automobile struck a car driven by Mrs. Esther Bennett last night, he went to assist occupants of the Bennett machine, which had broken a utility pole and plunged into a ditch.

Decker placed one hand on the Bennett car—and was electrocuted. It had become charged with 2,300 volts of electricity from a power line snapped by the crash. Mrs. Bennett and two companions stepped safely from the car.

Fine Of $5 Is Assessed Against Lubbock Man In His "Strike" On Parking Meters

C. O. HARVEY, Lubbock barber, Thursday afternoon was convicted in corporation court of violating a traffic ordinance in a so-called "parking meter sit-down strike," and was fined $5.

Appeal from the decision was announced, which was not unexpected. Harvey, L. D. Thomas, merchant of 1011 Main street who will be tried at 2 o'clock this afternoon on a similar charge, and others had indicated their refusal to abide by meter ordinance was predicated on a desire to test the law in the highest court.

The session got off to an incautious start. A person who had not been called on the jury panel was sworn with the other 11 and the oath had to be administered a second time, after the error had been discovered.

Refusal to deposit a nickel in parking meter 99 after he had parked his car there Wednesday morning was crux of the complaint, which specifically charged infraction of section

Claims Nation Is Able To Finance Great Program

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 14—President Roosevelt recommended his new anti-depression spending and lending program to the nation tonight with a statement that government action had become imperative, that "government cannot afford to wait until it has lost the power to act."

From unemployment, insecurity, "government weakness" and "government confusion" grew the dictatorships of other lands, he said in a radio "fireside chat." The administration has waited for business itself to end the current recession, he asserted, and can wait no longer.

His address followed the dispatch of a special message to congress proposing a "pump-priming" program involving a turnover of more than $6,500,000,000.

Can Afford To Pay

Such a program will "cost something" he said, but "we are a rich nation and can afford to pay for security and prosperity without having to sacrifice our liberties into the bargain." He described the government program as a "trigger to set off private activity."

Calling again for enactment of legislation to place limits on wages and hours, he restated the objectives of the New Deal— employment, security, reasonable profits and safety for savings. To abandon this goal would be "to miss the tide and perhaps miss the port," he said, adding:

"I propose to sail ahead."

Thinking Of Liberties

"In recommending this program," he said, "I am thinking not only of the immediate economic needs of the people of the nation, but also of their personal liberties—the most precious possession of all Americans. I am thinking of our democracy and of the recent trend in other parts of the world away from the democratic ideal.

"Democracy has disappeared in several other great nations—not because the people of those nations disliked democracy, but because they had grown tired of unemployment and insecurity, of seeing their children hungry while they sat helpless in the face of government confusion, government weakness through lack of leadership in government.

Sacrifice Liberty For Food

"Finally, in desperation, they chose to sacrifice liberty in the hope of getting something to eat. We in America know that our own democratic institutions can be preserved and made to work. But in order to preserve them we need to act together to meet the problems of the nation, boldly, and to prove that the practical operation of democratic government is equal to the task of protecting the security of the people.

"Not only our future economic soundness but the very soundness of our democratic institutions depends on the determination of our government to give employment to idle men. The people of America are in agreement in defending their liberties at any cost, and the first line of defense lies in protecting economic security. Your government, seeking to protect democracy, must prove that government is stronger than the forces of business depression.

"History proves that dictatorships

Billions Sought In New Drive For Recovery

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 14.—President Roosevelt asked congress to fling wide the flood gates of federal spending again today in a planned, concerted effort by government, business, labor and the people to end the depression.

He proposed that the treasury spend or lend $4,500,000,000 for relief, for public works, flood control, housing, highways, pump-priming in general, and as capital for business enterprises.

To Expand Bank Credit

To expand the nation's bank credit he announced that $1,400,000,000 was being added to the treasury's cash resources by taking that much "sterilized gold" from the vaults and converting it into spendable funds; and that $750,000,000 of bank credit,

HOW HE WOULD SPEND IT

Specifically, the president proposed the following expenditures:

$1,250,000,000 for the Works Progress administration.
$25,000,000 for the Farm Security administration.
$15,000,000 for the National Youth administration.
$50,000,000 for the Civilian Conservation corps.
$450,000,000 for the Public Works administration.
$100,000,000 for highway construction.
$37,000,000 for flood control.
$25,000,000 for the construction of federal buildings.

He proposed in addition, the following loans for "creating new work:"

$100,000,000 through the Farm Security administration.
$550,000,000 through the Public Works administration.
$200,000,000 through the United States housing authority.

now held off the money market by federal reserve board regulations, would be liberated for use as private loans. The desterilization operation formally was carried out by the treasury a few hours later, and it was announced that treasury and federal reserve officials would meet next Wednesday to arrange urther means of financing the new spending.

The chief executive's program found many friends in congress, but encountered the opposition of a coalition of Republicans and conservative Democrats.

Fight Is Promised

Declaring that the opposite course—a balanced budget accomplished by reduced expenditures, was the proper approach to the business problem—they promised a fight to defeat the proposals, and, if that failed, an attempt to reduce the amounts and specify the exact purpose to which

Thirty-Three Persons Are On Ko Shari Club Easter Trip To Santa Fe

OUR EASTER CUSTOMS

WITH THE winds whistling across the prairies and the laden skies copper in color it's hard to realize Easter brings greenery to many parts of Texas, embroidering the ground with flowers. No matter what the weather we can observe the true meaning of Easter, the casting off of worn-out things and renewal of spiritual happiness.

Just why we celebrate Easter has been disputed by some historians. The Christian world generally accepts it to be in commemoration of the resurrection of Christ but some authorities tell us it is an old Saxon custom celebrating the festival of the goddess, Eastre, who was honored each spring.

When we think of the Easter season we think of the lily, that waxen, fragrant flower that stands for purity and which was blest long ago by one who said "Consider the lilies of the field." Literally thousands of these plants will be sent as gifts this week-end.

The custom of Easter eggs may be traced back to the Persians who celebrated the beginning of the new year in the springtime and presented each other with an egg, believing that within the egg was the secret of life.

IT'S NOT TOO LATE

BY THE way, it's not too late to contribute candy or dyed hen eggs to the Easter egg hunt the church women of Lubbock are sponsoring for under privileged children this afternoon. They'll send for the eggs if you'll telephone them. You may call Mrs. H. E. Blocker, Mrs. W. T. Milam, Mrs. R. M. Hocker, Mrs. R. E. Thompson or Mrs. E. L. Pitts. The hunt will be conducted from the community service house on the fair grounds.

THE EASTER PARADE

THE EASTER parade is one of the best clinical studies of crowd behaviorism and exhibitionism you'll ever encounter in the United States. At least that was the conclusion of a psychologist a few seasons ago.

From the crowded stores and folk of every age and description bearing arms loaded with boxes of apparel it looks as if Sunday will be florid day for Lubbock. Even with most of the collegians away the church pews are likely to resemble gay flower displays.

WITH Good Friday's advent we think of an invocation written six years ago by Dwight J. Bradley of Newton Center, Mass. In an age of confusion, of changing values one can not blame the youth or his elders perhaps for asking "What then is steady, what will be eternal?" Perhaps that's what the writer had in mind when he penned:

Eternal Light, throughout all ages shining,
Shine once again upon this heart of mine;
Thy flaming glory knoweth no declining—
Rekindle now my waning light by thine.

Program On Texas Presented At Meeting Of Hurlwood Club

The Hurlwood Home Demonstration club met in the home of Mrs. J. F. Martin Tuesday afternoon for a program on "Interesting Facts Concerning Texas," directed by the hostess. A miniature map swung to various positions on a large state map was used in illustrating the following program:

"Famous Trees," Mrs. L. R. Arnold; "Official Emblems of Texas," Mrs. R. C. Wright; "State and National Parks," a Mrs. Williamson; "Austin, Our Capital," Mrs. G. K. Horton, and general discussion of historical spots, official emblems and other facts concerning the state. The program was concluded with a poem, "The Little Towns of Texas," read by the hostess. Refreshments were served.

The business discussion pertained to dairy show exhibits.

Others attending were Mesdames A. G. Payne, G. C. Burke, Alma Campbell, M. L. Caviness, A. M. Lane, E. Marquis, W. W. Mansell, T. A. McClure and W. A. Martin.

The club will meet April 26 with Mrs. Burke.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorder may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, ankles and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills. Used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Traditional Pledge Service Planned

By DORIS JOBE

Thirty-three members, pledges, sponsors and patronesses of Ko Shari, girls' social organization at Texas Technological college, left Thursday morning in two chartered buses for Santa Fe, N. M. Sixth annual initiation ceremonies will be held Sunday night in ancient Arrowhead kiva, near Glorieta Pass.

The club, which is based on an age-old organization within Southwestern Indian tribes, will spend the Easter holidays visiting Indian pueblos, museums, markets and shopping for curios and souvenirs. They will stay at La Fonda hotel.

Today the group will go to El Rito de los Frijoles, "Little Valley of the Beans," canyon home of the cliff-dwellers. The Rito is a national park, made famous through archaeological excavations and restorations. It is the setting of Adolf Bandelier's book "Delightmakers."

Day Is Filled

Saturday's itinerary includes historic governor's palace, the art museum, the laborator yof anthropology, a drive out Artist Row, and shopping excursions. The girls will meet with patronesses for tea in the patio of the hotel Saturday afternoon. They will be entertained at dinner in the New Mexican dining room Saturday night.

Ko Sharis will go to High Mass in Lamy Cathedral Sunday, after which they will attend the club's traditional Easter breakfast. The table will be cross-shaped and centered with Easter lilies. Jonquil corsages will be favors for patronesses and sponsors.

Tesuque and San Ildefonso, adjacent pueblos will be visited Sunday. Rain dances probably will be in progress at both places.

Initiation Scheduled

Following a supper at Arrowhead camp, will be initiation of pledges in secret services in a ceremonial kiva which dates back to the 14th century. The lodge is part of a pueblo under excavation by Dr. W. C. Holden, dean of historical and sociological research, and a group of archaeology students at Tech college.

The group plans to return to Lubbock Monday.

Misses Dorothy Rylander and Lorene Childers, sponsors; Misses Sannie Callan and Agnes True and Mrs. R. C. Harvey, patronesses, chaperone the group.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McMillan and Mesdames Frank Winn, Walter Posey, and Clark Mullican will join the party in Santa Fe.

Check On Pistol Will Be Made

DALLAS, April 14. (AP)—Police Inspector Will Fritz said today a ballistics check would be made on a pistol found concealed in the automobile of two robbery suspects held here in the widening search for clues in the West Texas Frome murder case.

Fritz revealed today a 32-calibre double-action revolver had been found in the automobile of Jack O. Barnes and Jack M. Flippen, "crime tourists" identified in nine robberies and charged in several.

In West Texas

It had been determined previously that Barnes and Flippen were in West Texas about the time Mrs. Weston G. Frome and her daughter Nancy were tortured, slain and left semi-nude in the desert area near Van Horn.

Their bodies were found March 30.

Examination at Austin of bullets taken from the victims' bodies revealed, Fritz said, that Mrs. Frome had been shot with a 32-calibre, double action revolver. He said bullets would be fired from the gun found in the desperadoes' auto here and checked with findings made in the ballistics test at Austin.

Woman And Today's World Is Subject Of Club Program

The vice-president, Mrs. A. B. Brown, presided for a meeting of the Lubbock Woman's club Thursday afternoon at the Hilton hotel. Mrs. W. B. Sides was leader for a program on "Woman and the Modern World." Roll call was answered with "Famous Women of Today that I Admire" and discussions included:

"Modern Woman and Her Problems," Mrs. W. J. Lasater; "Woman and Leisure," Mrs. W. T. Raybon, and "Women in Politics," Mrs. George S. Berry.

Mesdames G. P. Kuykendall and H. A. Welmaker, the committee to arrange a club exhibit at the annual achievement tea to be given by the City Federation of Women's clubs this month, asked that members who have articles for the exhibit call them as soon as possible.

It was announced that achievements of the past year or antiques or hobbies of members may be displayed. There is no age limit on the antiques and hobbies.

Oklahoman Gets Life Sentence

CORDELL, Okla., April 14. (AP)—Marion Larner, Dill City churchman, today was under life sentence for the hammer slaying of his wife, an expectant mother, on their 15th wedding anniversary.

Tears welling in his reddened eyes, the produce dealer appeared deeply moved when District Judge W. P. Keen sentenced him last night on his plea of guilty to a charge of murder.

Thanks Expressed

"Thank you," he said, "thank you very much."

Mrs. Larner died March 31 of injuries that first appeared to have been suffered when the Larner car crashed into a ditch near here. Larner confessed after questioning.

Incessant bickering led to the act, he said in a statement to the county attorney.

OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 14. (AP)—A. C. Rankin of Montgomery, Ala., was elected president of the Southern Hardware Jobbers association today at the final executive session of the association's four-day convention.

Other officers elected included: executive committeeman, C. S. Roberts, Sherman, Texas.

Former Track Star Killed In Crash

SAN ANTONIO, April 14. (AP)—A former West Point track star, Second Lieut. Robert Bronson Hubbard, was killed today when his basic training plane from Randolph field crashed near there.

Eye witnesses said the ship spun in from an altitude of about 500 feet. Blazing oil fired it and it was slowly burning when Hubbard was pulled from the wreckage by Capt. B. A. Bridget and First Lieut. T. J. Dubose, flight commander.

The 26-year-old student officer specialized in the one and two mile runs at the military academy, representing the institution two years at the Penn relays. He was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1933.

Payment Of Federal Funds To Cotton Farmers Is Asked

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP)—J. Roy Jones, South Dakota commissioner of agriculture, asked today that the federal government pay cotton growers several million dollars he claimed they lost by underclassing of government loan cotton.

Jones made this request at the senate agriculture committee hearing of charges that the American Cotton Cooperative association underrated quality of the loan cotton.

He said the cooperative, acting as agent for the government loan agency in classing cotton, had caused a loss of "better than $3 a bale" to farmers in his state.

"Love at First Sight... Oil Hugs Metal"—that's how a newspaper editor might headline the story of what happens when you fill the crankcase with Phillips 66 Motor Oil.
It forms a film that is more than tough, a film that becomes practically a part of the metal. The high heat of high speed, even in summer, doesn't tear down this high-degree oiliness given by Phillips 100% paraffin base crude.
So there is extra thrift in the extra stand-up-ability of this longer-lasting oil. Less carbon, too. Less wear and noise. More protection against overheating and motor damage.
Next time, drain and refill with Phillips 66 Motor Oil, the economy champion. It's concentrated!... This year's big value in car lubrication. Look for the Orange and Black 66 Shield.
A GRAND LITTLE COIN BANK for the CHILDREN—FREE!
Now at all Phillips 66 service stations ... while they last ... you can get a miniature replica, in colors, of the Phillips 66 Motor Oil can. It is 3 inches high, with a coin slot in the top. A useful toy which will teach and please the children. Put a coin in the bank every time you buy Phillips 66 Motor Oil, to represent what you save. Drivers everywhere say that "It's money in the bank" to use this scientific lubricant. But don't wait or delay. Get your coin bank before the supply is exhausted.

Daladier Drafts Plans To Block Strikes In France; Many Return To Jobs

Barriers Will All Be Down

PARIS, April 14. (AP)—The powerful inner council of Premier Edouard Daladier's "national defense" cabinet tonight drafted decrees to free France's strikebound industries and strengthen the nation's economy.

Daladier was concerned chiefly with getting about 150,000 strikers back to work. Sources close to him said the premier would not permit long, three-sided bickering among employers, workers and government arbiters which has prolonged previous strikes.

He Has The Power

"Daladier has the power," one of his aides said. "When he finds out exactly who or what is blocking settlements, that barrier will be removed."

Hundreds of workers in the nationalized aviation factories, their strikes already settled, returned to work this morning. Pickets outside privately-owned metallurgical plants, however, continued to pace their beats pending arbitration by Pierre Jacomet, Daladier's trusted lieutenant and permanent understudy of the defense ministry.

Decree To End Strikes

The council's decisions were not announced but it was known to have discussed a decree designed to end "political strikes."

Armed with decree powers voted him by parliament yesterday, the premier plans to put strike votes under government supervision to halt what government investigators said were politically-inspired strikes.

Except for self-imposed promises not to establish exchange control, impose a special tax on capital or revalue gold stocks, Daladier had a free hand until July 31, given him yesterday by overwhelming parliamentary majorities.

Over $100,000 Savings Bonds Are Sold At Lubbock Office

Lubbock postoffice has sold over $100,000 Savings bonds within the last year, Amos H. Howard, postmaster, said. Savings bonds can be purchased at any time at the postoffice.

The majority of the registered owners are small investors who are buying the bonds out of income. Purchases by individuals represent eighty-five per cent of the amount of bonds sold. Of the remaining fifteen per cent, 9 per cent was purchased by banks and trust companies, 3 per cent by corporations, and approximately 3 per cent by associations.

Examination would indicate that most purchases are made to provide funds for education of children, for retirement funds, or to set up a reserve for emergencies.

The $100 bond unit is the most popular denomination and has accounted for 30.38 per cent of the number sold. The $25 unit ranks next, then the $50 bond.

The church at Downe, England, birthplace of Charles Darwin, is still lighted by candles. The village scorns such modern conveniences as electricity, gas, movies, railway stations, or sewage systems, although it is situated just 20 miles from London.

Spry Wins In Lubbock

Local women flock to new shortening—3 million users all over the country!

Just read what
Mrs. N. H. Munn, 2108 Ave. O, says

"MY FRIENDS are all talking about Spry. It does make baked and fried foods twice as delicious. And it's so nice to use. Spry is whiter and purer-looking, blends ever so smoothly. My cakes made with Spry are downy-light and have a perfectly wonderful flavor. And I've never had such luck with pie crust. (I call it Spry-crust now.) It always turns out the same—always delicious!"

MRS. N. H. MUNN
2108 Ave. O,
Lubbock, Texas

FREE PROOF! Spry gives doubly delicious cakes, pies, biscuits, fried foods—or

WE COULDN'T make an offer like this if Spry were "just another shortening." But Spry is utterly different. You'll see it is the moment you open the can.

Spry is whiter, smooth as satin. It's ALL-vegetable, contains not an atom of animal fat. You don't need to keep it in the ice-box. Spry stays fresh right on the pantry shelf, soft and ready to cream in a jiffy. Fries without smoke or unpleasant odor. And fried foods are as easy to digest as if baked or boiled.

Do all your baking and frying with Spry and see the difference. Cakes and biscuits will be lighter, finer. Pastry will be flakier, fried foods crisper. Try Spry today at our risk!

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK

Buy a can of Spry from your grocer. Give Spry every test in pies, cakes, biscuits, fried foods. If you don't find Spry the best shortening you ever used, write to Lever Brothers Company, Cambridge, Mass., stating briefly your reasons for not preferring Spry. Send your name and address and the strip of tin that the key takes off when you open the can. You will promptly receive back twice what you paid for Spry. This offer is limited to one can to a family.

TRY SPRY NOW—offer expires April 30

FDR Appeals To Labor And Employers For Peace

Federal Handling Of Problems Will Be Improved With Time

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP) — President Roosevelt appealed to labor today for fewer strikes, to labor and employers alike for sincere efforts to improve their relations.

He acknowledged in his message to congress on recovery and relief that the government's handling of labor relations could be improved through the evolution of time.

Little Encouragement Given

But he gave little encouragement to business spokesmen who contend the Wagner labor relations act is "one-sided" and want it revised at this session of congress. The principles of that law, he said, were among the "great reforms" which should not be weakened nor destroyed.

"Let every business man set out to use his strength of mind and heart and his confidence in his fellow man and his country," he said.

Proceed Continuously

"Let every labor leader find not how work can be stopped but how it can be made to proceed smoothly, continuously and fairly."

Agreement, in general, with the president's remarks concerning labor was expressed by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers, a CIO affiliate. But they did not comment specifically upon the president's advice about strikes. And the CIO chieftain John L. Lewis, who has been critical of the government's "inactivity" in the recession, refrained from any immediate comment.

RALLS EDITOR ILL

RALLS—J. W. Hyatt, editor of the Ralls Banner, has been ill for several days, but he is now reported improved.

Car Service Regulations Will Be Talked At Meeting Here

Car service regulations of American railroads will be discussed tonight to railroad agents of this section by J. F. Duesenberry, Chicago, manager of the American Association of Railroads at a meeting in the district courtroom. The meeting will start at 7:45 o'clock.

J. R. Skillen, Slaton, division superintendent of the Santa Fe, will preside. Agents of the division have been invited and all those who have a competing line have been asked to bring their competitor.

Traffic department officials of the Fort Worth and Denver and the Santa Fe will be on hand, said R. H. Forbes, division freight agent of the company. Duesenberry is on a tour of the Southwest, explaining regulations governing car service, to railroad employes, Forbes explained.

House Group Approves $4,320,000 Project For The Sabine-Neches Waterway

Second Project Being Studied

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP) — The house rivers and harbors committee approved today a $4,320,000 improvement project for the Sabine-Neches waterway of Texas for inclusion in the rivers and harbors bill to be presented at this session.

The committee also adopted a resolution authorizing army engineers to review an unfavorable report on a $3,000,000 project at Port Arthur, Tex., in connection with the channel improvement.

Claimed Not Necessary

A Port Arthur delegation asked the committee to include that project in the omnibus bill, even though it had not been indorsed by army engineers. The war department maintained the revetment work was not necessary in the interest of navigation.

The delegation expressed hope the engineers would reconsider and approve the project.

An army engineer told the house rivers and harbors committee today expected oil production in the Texas coastal area would more than justify expenditure of $4,320,000 on improvements to the Sabine-Neches waterway.

Widen Existing Channel

The war department recommended the improvements to congress April 5 for inclusion in the next omnibus rivers and harbors bill. They would include widening the existing channel.

Colonel Raymond Wheeler, resident member of the army board, declared:

"We believe the improvement justifiable in view of the expected future production of oil in that area.

"The best indication of the reserves there is the fact major oil companies are spending large sums of money for new equipment."

Resources Are Great

George D. Anderson, member of the Beaumont navigation district, testified oil resources there were "practically inexhaustible."

Mayor Neal Rader of Port Arthur headed a delegation from that city appealing for approval of a $3,000,000 revetment project to prevent dredging material from filling Sabine lake, on which the city fronts.

Army engineers disapproved the project as unnecessary in the interest of navigation.

B. T. McWhorter, attorney representing the Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce, said bulkheads should be constructed on the lake side of the channel to prevent the silt from filling the lake. He said the work was needed to eliminate mosquito breeding areas and to prevent destruction of recreational facilities.

Cities Would Benefit

He told the committee he favored the channel improvement even though it would aid his city but little. Beaumont and other cities farther up the waterway and Port Arthur would benefit most from the channel improvements.

Other Texans before the committee included J. J. Wheat, engineer of the Beaumont navigation district; James E. Day, Port Arthur publisher; H. Q. Mills, Jefferson county commissioner; M. D. Gates, engineer of Port Arthur; Carl Whimt and F. J. Imhoff, representing the Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce.

The project would widen the channel from 250 to 350 and 400 feet at various sections along the 50-mile route from Beaumont to the gulf, and increase the depth of the Beaumont turning basin from 32 to 34 feet.

As Thompson Opened His Campaign For Governor In Waco

The political clans gathered from far and near at Waco Tuesday night to hear Ernest Thompson, state railroad commissioner, fire the opening blast of his campaign for governor.

At top is a view of part of the crowd which came from all sections of the state for the year's first big political rally.

Below, at left, two ladies listen with unusual interest to the candidate's remarks. They are his mother, Mrs. L. O. Thompson of Amarillo, and his wife, May Peterson Thompson.

Below, at right, the red-headed Thompson becomes emphatic as he tells the crowd that utilities rates should be slashed and that Texas doesn't need any new taxes.

AGED WOMAN DIES

BAIRD, April 14. (AP)—Mrs. Joe Henderson Crutchfield, 83, who came to this section with her husband long before railroads spanned West Texas, died in a Houston hospital today, friends here were advised. She had been a resident of Callahan county 64 years. Burial will be at Belle-Plains, 8 miles south of here, tomorrow.

TO RUN CONCRETE

ABERNATHY.—Frame work for a new turbine and boiler for the Tuco plant of Texas-New Mexico Utilities Co., near here, is about finished and concrete will be run within a few days. Several carloads of equipment have been received. The turbine is to be shipped from the east in May and other equipment later.

Several American collar companies have attempted to enter the British market, but only one has attained any success.

Animal Control Funds Sought

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP) — The house appropriations committee, disregarding pleas for an increase, recommended today that congress provide $612,000 for control and eradication of predatory animals during the 1938-39 fiscal year.

The amount, approved by the budget bureau, was included in the annual agriculture department supply bill, which the committee introduced.

Increase Is Urged

Representative South (D-Tex.) and others had urged the committee to increase the budget estimate to an authorized $1,000,000.

"Federal money in the amount of $34,350 was made available in Texas last year for coyotes, wolves, bobcats and other predatory animals, and $19,040 was expended in the fight on prairie dogs, rats and other smaller animals," South said.

"The Texas legislature supplemented this amount by appropriating approximately $145,000, and our Texas counties and ranchmen raised about $90,000, making available for this work in Texas a grand total of $290,410 . . ."

Be More Satisfactory

"Our ranchmen feel that if the federal government could match their contributions dollar for dollar, the situation would be much more satisfactory."

His arguments were supported by Representatives Kleberg (D-Tex.), Thomason (D-Tex.), and Johnson (D-Okla.), and Roscoe Runge, attorney for the Texas Predatory Animal Control association.

Rail Commission's Power Is Upheld

NEW ORLEANS, April 14. (AP)—The United States fifth circuit court of appeals here Tuesday upheld the right of the Texas railroad commission to preserve its highways and protect the public by limiting motor freight traffic.

The opinion dismissed a Northern Texas district court injunction obtained by A. E. McDonald prohibiting the commission from interfering with his freight hauling between Texas cities and points in Oklahoma.

McDonald contended he had obtained the necessary authorization for operation from the Interstate Commerce commission and that none was needed from the Texas commission.

The court here said:

"The (Texas) legislature . . . has the authority to preserve its highways and protect the safety of the traveling public so long as its acts are not in direct conflict with an act of congress."

The circuit court said the Texas action in denying McDonald the use of the highways did not conflict with the federal statute.

Employers Claim Security Tax Slashes Profits

Eighty-Four Business Firms In Texas Cities Aid In Survey

Seventy-five of 77 employers in several Texas cities said the Social Security tax had reduced their profits in answers to a questionnaire sent by T. C. Root, professor of economics and business administration at Texas Technological college. Two answered in the negative.

Eighty-four employers of 115,297 persons in Wichita Falls, Amarillo, El Paso, Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio answered the questionnaire, although all did not answer every question.

Lowering Of Profits

"The immediate effect of the tax is the lowering of business profits. Ultimately, the tax will be shifted to the consumer, hence to labor, for business men will not stay in business unless their business is profitable." Root will tell the business administration section of the Southwestern Social Science association in Oklahoma City this morning. He prepared a paper including results of the Texas survey.

"The recent recession has prevented shifting of the tax to consumers because of resistance to increased prices, and labor has felt it in loss of jobs. Many marginal business men may be forced out of business by the tax and the depression," he wrote in his paper.

Deals With Three Taxes

The paper deals with the act's three taxes: Income tax on labor's wages and excise tax on employer's payroll for the Old Age benefits, and an excise tax on employer's payroll for the Unemployment insurance.

Although the tax has reduced profits, 44 employers answered they had not raised selling prices. Twenty-eight said they had raised selling prices. Fifty answered dividends to stockholders had been reduced and 17 that they had not.

Forty-eight of 82 employers answering the question wrote they did not think pension payments would stabilize business later.

Employes Dismissed

Although the majority had not reduced their labor force, they have nevertheless dismissed many employes either directly or indirectly as result of the tax.

Thirteen answered they had reduced their force and 61 that they had not. However, 26 answered they had installed labor-saving machinery as result. Eighteen firms spent from $150 to $100,000, an average of $13,240 per firm, on machinery. Nine firms reported a total of 258 men displaced, from 1 to 100 each firm or an average of 28.67 men per firm, by machinery.

Twenty answered in the affirmative, 57 in the negative to the question, "Has the tax kept you from adding men to your payroll?"

One Reduces Wages

Only one of 73 answering the question said he had reduced wages because of the tax, but 25 of the 84 said they had been prevented from raising wages by expenses of the tax.

Seventy-one answered the tax had added to their accounting expenses, while 10 answered in the negative. Forty-five firms gave figures showing $88,700, average of $1,971 per firm, had been added to accounting expenses. Eleven firms reported from 2 to 20 per cent in accounting expense.

Fifteen formerly had a private pension plan, and eight have abandoned the plans.

Thirty-two answered in the affirmative and 44 in the negative to the question, "Has the tax caused you to abandon or postpone expansion of your business?"

Opinions Are Divided

Fourteen said the tax had affected morale of workers favorably; 17, unfavorably; 36, that morale was not affected. Thirty-one said employes seem to resent payment of the plan and 43 that they did not.

The tax did not help cause the present recession, said 31, while 30 said it did.

In answering a question in main weakness of the plan, 24 said in effect "expensive, unwieldy, and cumbersome administration"; 16, "contributes to unemployment, lower wages, and lowered purchasing power"; 15, "failure to segregate or earmark funds"; 13, "demoralizing to workers"; 11, "chance for government control and political manipulation" 9, "tax too heavy on top of already large load"; 8, "the reserve"; 3, "should not be compulsory for workers"; 2, "incomplete coverage."

"What has been the most important effect on your business?" drew the following answers, in effect: Eighteen, "increased operating costs"; 15, "reduced profits"; 12, "uncertainty and distrust of future governmental action"; 6, "trouble and expense involved in making reports"; 6, "unable to pass on extra cost involved"; 6, "little, if any, effect"; 5, "stopped expansion"; 3, "decreased sales"; 2, "employees given certain feeling of security"; 1, "disaffection and lowered morale"; 1, "overshadowed by other conditions."

The questions were composed in a conference of several members of the staff of the department of economics and business administration.

Governor Allred Will Toss Out First Ball Of Game

AUSTIN, April 14. (AP)—Governor James V. Allred will fly to Beaumont tomorrow to toss out the first ball in the opening game of the Texas league season there. The Exporters play Shreveport.

It will be the fifth year that Governor Allred has attended the opening at Beaumont.

"The first year was when I was running for governor," he said. "I figured that if they were willing to take a chance with me then I would stay with them thereafter."

April Building Figure Shows Steady Climb In Lubbock

Despite a slackening of the building pace of former months of this year, the April figure steadily is climbing, having reached nearly $85,000 with more than half the month remaining.

Jim Reid, city building inspector, issued seven permits Thursday, one of which was for $6,000, boosting the aggregates by $8,414.

The week's figure climbed to $23,789; the month's to $83,984; and the year's to $627,950.22.

In addition to the $6,000 permit which went to J. B. Cardwell, owner, and R. E. McCurdy, contractor, for a frame residence and garage at 2902 Twenty-first street, Mrs. Rae Roth obtained permission to repair and alter a residence at 1112 Eighth street at a cost of $1,000. A. T. Keeter was named contractor.

Student Asking Aid To Father

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP)—A young student asked the state department today to intercede in behalf of his father, William N. Fink, an American businessman arrested at Chihuahua, Mexico, on charges of participating in the assassination of the mayor of Juarez.

The son, William N. Fink, jr., was told Secretary Hull already had ordered Ambassador Daniels to request the Mexican foreign office to investigate the case. If the investigation discloses that the arrest was unjustified, Daniels is to demand Fink's release.

Young Fink was accompanied by Representative Thomason (D-Tex) when he called at the department.

BOND IS DENIED

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Mex., April 14. (AP)—Penal Court Judge Oaxaca denied bond today for William N. Fink, American vice president of the Maguarichic Mining company, held in the state penitentiary here on an indictment charging implication in the bomb assassination of Mayor Jose Borunda of Juarez.

The judge said:

"I want more time to consider this case."

Jones Funeral Services Are Held In City On Thursday

Funeral services for Emmitt Kelley Jones, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Jones of 508 Avenue B were conducted at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Congregational Methodist church with Rev. Henry Mills, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Memorial Park cemetery under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

The child died early Thursday morning at the family home.

In addition to its parents, Emmitt Kelley is survived by a brother, Kenneth Eugene.

Spanish Rebels Drive Forward

HENDAYE, France (At The Spanish Frontier), April 14. (AP)—Spanish insurgents tonight whipped the ends of their 160-mile eastern Spanish front toward the Mediterranean on the south and Andorra on the north.

General Miguel Aranda's troops drove from San Mateo into the little Castellon village of La Jana, only nine miles by air from the sea and 14 miles by highway from coastal Vinaroz.

Take Over Village

Far in the north, amid snow-covered mountain slopes, insurgents took control of the village of Tor, three miles from where Andorra's western frontier with Spain strikes the French border.

Nearly midway between these points, east of Balaluer, the government fought desperately in an effort to break the insurgent advance into the interior of Lerida province.

Government dispatches reported that after heavy fighting yesterday Catalan militiamen gained a foothold in the village of Vallfogona, two and one-half miles southeast of Balaguer.

Attacks Are Repulsed

Insurgents acknowledged there had been fierce attacks on their positions along the Segre river but said they were repulsed.

The government established a definite line of defense between Vallfogona and Camarasa, seven miles northeast of Balaguer and cut both the road southeast from Balaguer to Villagrasa and the highway running northeast from Balaguer to Seo De Urgel.

Government reports said the entry of Catalan troops into Vallfogona was preceded by a heavy artillery barrage.

Then a wave of "Dinamiteros" forced their way into the narrow streets, launching their homemade dynamite bombs into the retiring insurgent ranks.

House to house combats followed, the reports said, with heavy casualties on both sides.

Insurgent advices from Zaragoza said the battle still was raging today.

Style Not For The Sheriff: Ten-Gallon Hats Are Out

AMARILLO, April 14. (AP) — The well-dressed sheriff in these parts no longer will wear cowboy boots, 10-gallon hat and conspicious six shooters.

Bill Adams, sheriff in a county in the heart of the Texas plains cow country, says peace officers don't need those accessories any longer.

His men will dress in ordinary business suits with their six shooters well out of sight.

Frauds In Relief Rolls Now Given A Thorough Check

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14. (AP)—The post office got an idea when the mailmen brought back a number of unemployment census envelopes with the notation "unknown at this address."

Ficticious names at such addresses— mostly cheap lodging houses along this city's "Skid Row"—will be checked up against the state relief rolls with a view to exposing frauds.

Some 50,000 beauty shops in the United States do a business of more than $100,000,000 yearly and production of American cosmetics is $200,000,000 each year.

Flyweight Car Wins K. O. Over Train

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., April 14. (AP)—A light coupe smashed into a freight train at the Oklahoma state line near here. Four passengers suffered minor injuries. Damages to their car didn't exceed $300.

Here's the railroad's bill:

Nine thousand ties were damaged when a tank car's trucks were derailed and ran on the ties for three miles to the yards here.

A $750 signal was destroyed.

Six other tank cars were derailed and the contents of two had to be transferred.

Several sections of track were torn up.

A wrecker crew worked for several hours to clear the right-of-way.

Railroad officials estimated the cost at nearly $10,000.

Desert Land Is Being Rescued

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP) — The Soil Conservation service told today of turning land "rapidly approaching a desert status" into a valley of abundant corn crops.

Dr. H. H. Bennett, chief of the service, said the land was on the vast Navajo Indian reservation in the Southwest.

Depletion Is Explained

The depletion of land value, he added, was due "to the enormous increase in population, with a corresponding increase in the flocks of sheep and goats and number of horses, with no increase to amount to anything in their land area."

"Consequently," he said in hearings on the agricultural department appropriations bill published today, "there is and has been an enormous demand for more and more forage, resulting in severe overgrazing and removal of vegetative cover."

He declared that the reservation was approaching desert status before the service began work, then, explaining results, said:

Dam Is Constructed

"One item of work there was the building of an inexpensive earthen dam across an arroyo or gully, which was cutting out some rich valley land. It was extending and was not only taking off the soil, but was carrying this material directly into the boulder dam reservoir. After the construction of this earthen dam, water was diverted and spread over some 500 acres, resulting in a splendid growth of grass.

"The result was that in this area, where there was no grass and where the land was pretty close to a desert condition, the Indians have grown a wonderful crop of corn on 300 of the 500 acres.

"This was the direct result of using water which had been going to waste.

"Similar successful experiments have been scattered throughout the region."

Similar land conditions existed in large areas of New Mexico and Arizona, and parts of western Texas, Dr. Bennett said.

Terra-cotta and bronze jars believed to date from 300 B. C. have been found in Patna, India.

Cotton Stockings To Be More Attractive

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP) — Cotton stockings with the appearance and durability of silk may be developed from research underway in department of agriculture laboratories.

Ruth O'Brien, chief of the division of textiles and clothing, made the prediction in hearings on department appropriations published today by a house committee.

Asked for suggestions as to federal aid in developing better cotton hosiery, she replied:

"We need to study methods of spinning and knitting which will give the necessary elasticity, improve the appearance of the hosiery, make it more attractive, and, at the same time, as durable as the silk hosiery on the market.

"I am certain that it has practical possibilities."

Bands Asked To Parade In City

Feature of the parade here May 6 in connection with the second annual Boy Scout circus for South Plains council will be the high school bands of the Plains region participation in marching contests. Invitations were mailed to 26 schools Thursday morning, according to announcement at school headquarters Thursday.

Capt. Frank A. Pettit, professor of military science and tactics at Texas Technological college, is chairman of the band arrangements committee.

Trophies To Be Given

Two handsome trophies will be awarded, one based on appearance and the other on playing. Bandsmen also will be guests of honor at the circus, which will be presented at Tech stadium.

Announcement also was made that pupils of Central Ward and Junior High schools have been invited to participate in a poster contest to publicize the circus. W. E. Lavender is chairman of the poster committee. He said that several prizes will be awarded and that complimentary tickets will be presented to all of those who enter posters which will be displayed in downtown show windows. A preliminary survey indicates approximately 200 pupils will compete.

Deadline for submitting entries will be April 28.

United States Soon May Be Nation Of Grass-Eaters

MUNICE, Ind., April 14. (AP)—The United States may soon become a nation of grass-eaters, Dr. George I. Christie, president of Ontario Agricultural college, predicted at a farmer's meeting here.

"Dried grass, specially treated and prepared, may be one of the important farm crops of tomorrow," Dr. Christie asserted.

Grass-eating by man, he said, would be a change no more startling than the development of the automobile from a "hen-scaring godevil to the smoothly-functioning vehicle of today."

"There is even a man on our staff," he said, "who suffered from ulcers of the stomach. He has been taking two spoonsfuls of this dried grass daily and has made a remarkable comeback."

This Town Gets Along Okay Without Police Or Jail

ROCKLIN, Calif., April 14. (AP)—Although this is an important city with a population of 742, it gets along without a city attorney, police chief, police judge or jail. For years the council has declined to build a jail or appoint a police chief, arrests when necessary being made by a county deputy sheriff.

CLAIMED BY DEATH

DALLAS, April 14. (AP)—Mrs. Eliza Very Charlton, 80, dormitory matron at Baylor university at Waco before moving here 25 years ago, died today. Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

Children Thrive on Amazing New Tonic

ARE you tired, nervous—your appetite poor? Do you find it hard to do your daily tasks without becoming completely exhausted? Thousands of people who felt just as poorly are praising the wonderful results Pursang has given them.

This scientific preparation acts quickly to relieve this simple nutritional anemia which so often results in a rundown condition. For Pursang contains proved ingredients, such as organic iron, which aid nature in building rich, red corpuscles these three ways.

First, the organic iron in Pursang assists in supplying nature the substance which makes red blood—and which is often deficient in the diet. Second, Pursang helps to step up the appetite. Third, it helps stimulate digestion and assimilation of food. In these three important ways it helps nature build rich, red blood. When the blood is enriched, energy and strength usually increase. Nervousness disappears. You look and feel like a new person.

If you never feel quite your best; if you are missing out on a lot of the fun of life—give Pursang a chance to help nature build up your strength and energy as it has for so many people. Get Pursang from your druggist today. Take it regularly to assist in regaining your strength and energy.

Pursang Laxative Pills are acknowledged the modern treatment for constipation. Purely vegetable, they give thorough bowel cleansing without griping.

Fireside Chat Held By FDR

do not grow out of strong and successful governments but out of weak and helpless ones. If by democratic methods people get a government strong enough to protect them from fear and starvation, their democracy succeeds, but if they do not, they grow impatient. Therefore the only sure bulwark of continuing liberty is a government strong enough to protect the interests of the people, and a people strong enough and well enough informed to maintain its sovereign control over its government."

The president's speech quoted extensively from his message to congress in analyzing what he called the causes of the present recession — overproduction, a production so great that purchasing power could not keep pace with it, the whole complicated by unreasonably high prices, fear of war abroad, of nation-wide strikes at home and of inflation. None of these fears, he said, has been borne out.

Faced Serious Problem

"Five years ago," he said, "we faced a very serious problem of economic and social recovery. For four and a half years that recovery proceeded apace. It is only in the past seven months that it has received a visible setback.

"And it is only within the past two months, as we have waited patiently to see whether the forces of business itself would counteract it, that it has become apparent that government itself can no longer safely fail to take aggressive government steps to meet it.

"This recession has not returned us to the disasters and suffering of the beginning of 1933. Your money in the bank is safe; farmers are no longer in deep distress and have greater purchasing power; dangers of security speculation have been minimized; national income is almost 50 per cent higher than in 1932; and government has an established and accepted responsibility for relief.

Many Have Lost Jobs

"But I know that many of you have lost your jobs or have seen your friends lose their jobs, and I do not propose that the government shall pretend not to see these things. I know that the effect of our present difficulties has been uneven; that they have affected some groups and some localities seriously but that they have been scarcely felt in others.

"But I conceive the first duty of government is to protect the economic welfare of all the people in all sections and in all groups. I said in my message opening the last session of congress that if private enterprise did not provide jobs this spring, government would take up the slack—that I would not let the people down. We have all learned the lesson that government cannot afford to wait until it has lost the power to act."

A Philosophical Passage

Washington's political sharpsters wondered if there was any reminiscence of Mr. Roosevelt's losing fight for the government reorganization bill in a philosophical passage toward the end of the speech.

"I can hear your unspoken wonder as to where we are headed in this troubled world," he said. "I cannot expect all of the people to understand all of the people's problems, but it is my job to understand those problems.

"I always try to remember that reconciling differences cannot satisfy everyone completely. Because I do not expect too much, I am not disappointed. But I know that I must never give up—that I must never let the greater interest of all the people down, merely because that might be for the moment the easiest personal way out."

Objectives Are Told

He re-outlined the objectives of his administration in terms of "what really counts at the bottom of it all"—

". . . That the men and women willing to work can have a decent job to take care of themselves and their homes and their children adequately; that the farmer, the factory worker, the storekeeper, the gas station man, the manufacturer, the merchant—big and small—the banker who takes pride in the help he gives to the building of his community—that all these can be sure of a reasonable profit and safety for the savings they earn—not today nor tomorrow alone, but as far ahead as they can see."

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—The stock market rallied today though none too briskly, as the president's recovery program involving about $7,000,000,000 was handed to congress.

The relatively apathetic upturn in response to what Wall street generally viewed as highly inflationary spending plans of the administration was attributed by brokerage quarters to a variety of factors.

Among these were: there was no particular element of surprise in the White House anti-recession figures, most traders desired to find out the attitude of the legislators toward the program, in addition to waiting for what the chief executive had to say in his evening fireside chat broadcast to the nation.

The fact that the exchange would be closed tomorrow for the Good Friday holiday was also seen as an influence toward restricting commitments.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues was up .7 of a point at 39.7. Transfers totaled 1,009,480 shares compared with 641,220 yesterday.

Favored in the rise were Anaconda at 28⅞, American Smelting 38½, U S Rubber preferred 63½, Sears Roebuck 58, McIntyre Porcupine 34½, Douglas Aircraft 41¼, J I Case 75, American Can 88½, Eastman Kodak 147, Du Pont 105 and Johns-Manville 69½.

[illegible] Fe [illegible] suffered further severe declines but the preferred and common stocks of this line were resistant. The preferred was unchanged at 42½ and the latter was ⅛ down at 25.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 14 (AP)—Cotton price advanced [illegible] today in response to buying attracted by the president's recovery program and at the top showed net gains of 28 to 31 points. Recent buyers took profits in late trading however and the market closed very steady at net advances of 25 to 26 points.

Considerable covering was done by shorts who found contracts scarce and were forced to bid the price up rapidly in order to [illegible] commitments.

Maximum advances were shaded in late dealings by realizing by recent purchasers. May contracts closed at 9.14, July at 9.08@9.09, Oct at 9.17, Dec at 9.19@9.20, Jan at 9.21 and March at 9.27.

Spots advanced 26 points with middling closing at 9.14. Sales totaled 589 bales.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—A wave of buying carried cotton prices up about $1.50 a bale today following inflationary interpretations of the president's recovery message to congress. July advanced from 8.75@9.02 and closed at 8.96 with final prices 25 to 27 points net higher.

The market opened 4 to 7 points higher in sympathy with steadiness abroad. Some realizing appeared but it was easily absorbed.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, April 14 (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 8.95 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 8.72 cents a pound.

they should be put.

Mr. Roosevelt's proposals were presented in a special message to congress in which he analyzed the zig-zag graph of American business over the last decade. He declared that the cause, in part, of the present depression was production in excess of purchasing power, complicated, or encouraged, by unreasonably high prices, "fear of war abroad, fear of inflation, fear of nationwide strikes." None of these fears, he added, had been borne out.

Reversals Disregarded

These reversals, however, Mr. Roosevelt disregarded today, except for a passing notation that he had proposed "only four measures of major importance to the business of the country" since January, 1937.

Obviously implying that there was nothing in these bills to frighten business, he listed the four as the crop control bill, now enacted, the bill to plug income tax "loopholes," now enacted, the wage-hour bill, beaten in the house, and the bill "to remove inequities from the undistributed profits tax," now pending.

Analysis Is Given

The president's analysis of the cause of the present depression ended on the following statement:

"The simple fact is that the laying off of workers came upon us last autumn and has been continuing at such a pace ever since that all of us, government and banking and business and workers, and those faced with destitution, recognize the need for action."

And this statement:

"Our situation is vastly different from that which we faced five years ago. Let us use the tools already forged and laid out on the bench. At this immediate time we suffer from a failure of consumer demand. The hoped for re-employment of this spring is not proceeding fast enough to create an economic upturn. Therefore the problem calls for action both by the government and by the people."

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 14. (AP)—Wheat shot up 2½ cents a bushel in violent buying outbursts today that accompanied President Roosevelt's announcement of a $7,000,000,000 recovery program.

Topmost prices reached were current just before the day's dealings ended. After the gist of the president's message became public, the market pointed higher, but at 2 cents up was halted temporarily by rushes to grab profits.

Then a renewal of purchases ensued and was little if any checked when gongs cleared the pits. For the time being, talk of inflation possibilities thrust all other factors into the background.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 1⅞ to 2⅜ cents above yesterday's finish, May 84¾@84⅞, July 82¼, corn ¼ to ¾ up, May 60½@60⅝, July 61½@61⅝, oats ⅜ to ⅞ advanced, rye showing ¾ to 1 cent bulge, and provisions unchanged to a jump of 25 cents.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, April 14. (AP)—Demand for grain was steady here. Estimated receipts were: wheat 16 cars, corn 2, oats 1, and sorghums 2.

Wheat No. 1 hard 99¼@1.00¾.

Field Now Has 25,000 Wells

KILGORE, April 14. (AP)—The East Texas oil field, largest in the world, today had an even 25,000 wells.

Into records of the Texas railroad commission today went a notation on the M. W. McVey No. 3 Roy Laird, Kilgore townsite on the Mary Van Winkle survey of Gregg county. It flowed 20 barrels in 30 minutes of an initial test.

The great flush field, which, since Sept. 8, 1930, has produced 1,223,008,303 barrels of legal oil, had a potential daily producing total of 15,031,597 barrels and an allowable of 503,600 barrels.

Many Productive Acres

On the world's largest known petroleum reserve were 138,230 productive acres, including a small gas area. The field is 42.8 miles long by airline and 9.7 miles wide. Density is one well to every five and a half acres.

Geologists estimate the field's total ultimate recovery at 4,213,125,000 (billions) barrels. At the present rate of withdrawal it is estimated that 19 years will be required to deplete the field.

Oilmen were unable to estimate when drilling will be completed. New producers continue to be brought in at an average of about five per day.

Well No. 25,000 was drilled on land owned by Roy H. Laird, Kilgore's mayor and a native of the town. McVey, the lease holder, is credited with the most notable extension to the fields of the east side. His wildcat in 1936 extended the field line a mile and a half and resulted in the drilling of more than 150 wells.

Edwards' Trip

the ambition he had to "really get away from what I've known all my life."

As a matter of fact, "the only thing I'm afraid of is that that country (somewhere in the almost uncharted wilds of Alaska) may have been settled up."

Friend Will Be Host

A friend, L. J. Montgomery, will be host of the mayor off the California coast—at fishing in his 140-foot Diesel-powered yacht. Montgomery is known to Lubbock, Post and other South Plains towns as the husband of Mrs. C. W. Post, heir of the cereal millions. He visited Edwards last summer here.

He will fish 30 days off Seattle, buy his boat—and disappear.

He believes, he said, he will enter Alaskan wilds in time to trap for the gray wolf that annually destroys millions of dollars worth of Alaskan wild game. Twenty dollars a pelt (and you keep the skin) is offered for bounty.

To Carry Several Guns

He will carry, mixed somewhere in the trailer a .30 calibre, 1906 issue Springfield rifle, using 220-grain bullets for bear and 180-grain for moose and other game. He will have a .250 calibre rifle with a 3,000-foot muzzle velocity for deer. In addition, there will be a .22 rifle and a six-shooter (simply for protection from game at close quarters.) The Springfield, manufactured to kill man in army combat, is accurate at somewhere close to 1,000 yards.

Edwards, apparently jittery to get going (although he said, "It's just another trip, in one way") came to Lubbock in 1908 from Crowell, his birth pace. He had a tailor shop a year; went to Spur when the lot sale resulted in establishment of that town; subsequently to Post, and came back to Lubbock in 1922 and entered business. He became mayor in 1934 and served two terms.

But he admissably is "long gone now, unless I don't like it."

Newspaper Guild And Leaders Of Press Are In Deadlock

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14. (AP)—The San Francisco-Oakland Newspaper Publishers' association broke off 1938 contract negotiations with the Northern California Newspaper Guild with a statement expressing the belief "no further results would come from another meeting."

"You have our final stand on the questions of the 'guild shop,' preferential hiring and wages for the afternoon editorial department," E. F. Bitler, publishers' representative, told guild negotiators at a session last night.

The session was terminated abruptly. The guild negotiating committee, which was voted discretionary power two weeks ago to call a strike, said the entire matter would be presented to the guild's 700 members at a special meeting within the next few days.

Legislation To Remedy Basic Economic Ills Is Urged

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP) — Representative Maverick (D-Tex), leader of the self-styled house liberal bloc, declared today congress should accompany resumption of recovery spending with legislation to remedy the nation's basic economic ills.

"We came back here last November," he said, "with a definite program to put through, but no legislation—not even the farm bill, which was at best a makeshift thing—has been passed in line with that program."

He said these four propositions ought to be written into law:

Regional planning; wage and hour standards; adequate housing programs and greater farm tenancy aid.

Conditions For Lamb Crops Said Good

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP)—The bureau of agricultural economics reported today that exceptionally favorable weather conditions during the January-March period had been generally beneficial to the winter and spring lamb crop now being fattened for market.

The bureau said heavy rainfall in Northern California in March tended to keep the grass rank and to delay somewhat the finishing of early lambs. In other Pacific states and in Idaho too many wet, cloudy days were said to have handicapped the growth of lambs, but promised early range feed.

However, in all other lamb producing states, including Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, both weather and feed conditions were quite favorable, the bureau said.

Total shipments of early lambs and shorn yearlings from Texas in April and May were expected by the bureau to be considerably smaller than record shipments in those months last year.

Davey Groomed For President

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 14. (AP)—Ohio's tree-surgeon governor, Martin Luther Davey, is being groomed as a presidential candidate in 1940.

The mild-mannered, sharp-tongued political super-salesman is too busy to talk about the boom himself. But his career should provide a lot of campaign material.

Davey, who is 53, has been in politics since he was 28, when he became mayor of Kent, Ohio, his home town. He has served four terms in congress and is starting his fourth year as governor. His term will expire next January 9th.

Startles The Assembly

He is pretty constantly in Ohio's headlines and often in the nation's. He's a dapper man and he startled the Ohio general assembly the first time he addressed it by appearing on the rostrum in formal attire.

Davey is a democrat but he doesn't have the whole party behind him. Ohio democracy, in fact, is split between democrats and Daveycrats. The governor has been pretty acid in attacks on the New Deal.

One of his first moves was to file a criminal libel charge against Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, who had charged "political shakedowns" of persons doing business with the Ohio relief administration. Davey later withdrew his charge. He said his purpose had been served when Hopkins took over care of the state's needy.

Rival Asks For New Deal

Anti-Davey democrats have flung charges of graft and corruption at the governor time and again but he has shrugged them off with counter charges that it's all part of a "smear" movement engineered by disgruntled favor-seekers.

Charles Sawyer, of Cincinnati, New Deal democrat whom Davey defeated in 1934, will be a candidate in the August gubernatorial primaries. He is demanding a new deal for Ohio democratic politics.

Davey's latest appearance in the national spotlight was last summer when he sent troops to the Mahoning valley to protect the workers' "right to work," thus ending the little steel strike in Ohio. This action won him the praise of business leaders and the condemnation of John L. Lewis's CIO.

Logical Successor?

As a youth, Martin Davey kept in shape by taking 10-mile runs. Now the governor gets his exercise on a rowing machine in the executive mansion.

One of his most ardent backers is Mrs. Margaret Allman, state director of welfare and the only woman to hold a cabinet position in Ohio.

"Governor Davey," asserts Mrs. Allman, "is the logical successor to President Roosevelt."

Wichita Falls Speakers Cop Honors In Norman Contest

NORMAN, Okla., April 14. (AP)—Ed Edmondson, Muskogee, Okla., and J. B. Hubbard, Wichita Falls, Tex., today shared first place honors in the men's oratorical contest sponsored by Phi Rho Pi, national junior college speech fraternity, at the University of Oklahoma.

In the women's oratorical events, Betty Lea Evans, Bristol, Va., and Mary Love Appleby, Wichita Falls, Tex., tied for first.

Six students, including Hubbard, survived the semi-final round of elimination in the men's extemporaneous speaking and were to compete in the finals later in the day.

Women's debate teams entered in the finals included Wichita Falls.

Youth Pleads Guilty In Court To Charges Of Extortion

DETROIT, April 14. (AP)—Wesley Earl Gray, 22, pleaded guilty in federal court today to a charge of sending an extortion note to Henry and Edsel Ford last Nov. 8, demanding $10,000.

Judge Edward J. Moinet referred his case, without bond, to Richard F. Doyle, federal probation officer, for complete investigation.

Gray said that after his extortion attempt failed he went to Cincinnati and finally hitch-hiked to Texas, where he surrendered on March 28 to the sheriff in San Angelo.

He explained that about 10 years ago in St. Louis he was injured while working for a construction company and settled for $3,000 damages. "Too much money ruined me, I guess," he said.

Southwest Aviation Session Is Opened At Montgomery

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 14. (AP)—Liners of the air lanes winged their way into Montgomery today bearing high army and government officials for the opening of the southeastern aviation conference.

Held primarily to popularize aviation, the three-day program calls for study covering every phase of aeronautics, with such notables as Eddie Rickenbacker, Jimmie Doolittle and C. P. Graddick, superintendent of air mail, listed as visitors.

Main discussions will begin tomorrow morning in sessions presided over by Theodore Swann, chairman of the Alabama aviation commission. Air route markings, technical operations and field construction are important topics up for consideration.

MILK IS NATURE'S SEDATIVE

Quitening Nervous Irritation and Irritability.

Before

When the baby looks like this every wise mother knows just what to do—she heats the milk . . . and, does the baby like it! It must be pasteurized.

After

. . . after the baby has had his warm pasteurized milk, his ragged nerves are again quite and sleep is a pleasure.

IF YOU CAN'T SLEEP---

. . . it is not necessary for you to cry which is a form of exercise, but we do suggest that you have one minute of exercise before drinking your hot milk and then retiring to bed.

. . . milk is nature's sedative and it quickly relaxes the ragged nerves and you too, will find that sleep is a pleasure, and counting of sheep is not necessary.

. . . the most ideal exercise is the bicycle exercise.

Democrats Applaud President's Program While Republicans Launch Attacks

Varied Opinions Are Expressed

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP) — Democrats in congress said generally today President Roosevelt's relief program would break the backbone of the depression; Republicans assailed further efforts at pump priming.

House Democratic Leader Rayburn (D-Tex) called the message a "masterful portrayal" of conditions confronting the country. If its proposals are carried out, he said, "it will greatly facilitate recovery by creating work, enhancing opportunities for business and creating confidence."

Resources Running Dry

House Republican Leader Snell remarked he did not "see much use in priming the pump unless you are sure there is some water in the well —the resources of the country are almost running dry."

Chairman O'Connor (D-NY) of the house rules committee, who led the fight that killed the administration's reorganization bill, likewise said pump priming would do no good without water in the well.

Senator Byrnes (D-SC) predicted the program outlined would "start business on the up-grade."

Sound And Desirable

"The increase in appropriations over the budget estimate will amount to not more than $1,000,000," Byrnes said. He added that the desterilization of gold is "sound and desirable" and that "the severest critic of the president will approve of the conciliatory tone of the message."

From Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) came the comment:

"I applaud the president's recognition of the new depression and his purpose finally to attack it. But when I take his advice 'to avoid the pitfalls of the past', I must reject his renewal of a profligate spending program, with its deficits and debts, because that is the route, in part, which has brought us where we unhappily are."

Receptive Ears In Germany Hear Wilson's Address

BERLIN, April 14. (AP)—United States Ambassador Hugh Wilson's intimation of expanded trade relations among nations found many receptive ears among German circles today.

The ambassador, in a speech to German and American business men last night, set forth as American goals peace—although he said there was no way of being certain the United States would remain aloof from any major conflict—and a flourishing exchange of goods with all nations.

The speech generally was regarded in foreign office circles as a "well and sound introduction." It was Mr. Wilson's first public appearance since his appointment to Berlin.

Man Wanted Here On Charge Of Swindling With Worthless Check Held At Edinburg

Grady Harrist, deputy sheriff, and Don Reeder, chief of police, Thursday left for Edinburg where officers recently took into custody W. H. Ballard, wanted here on charges of swindling with worthless checks aggregating several hundred dollars. The charges were filed by Lubbock grain men.

Complaint charging he acquired hegira valued at $85 by swindling with worthless check was filed in justice court of Walter Davies March 17. H. W. Stanton swore to the complaint. Ballard is under grand jury indictment in 99th district court on a charge of swindling with worthless check for $306. S. E. Cone, Lubbock grain man, swore to that complaint April 14, 1937. Ballard was no-billed on another complaint.

To Post Bond

George R. Smith, charged by complaint filed Thursday in county court with aggrivated assault, was expected to post bond of $500, according to Jas. P. Posey, chief deputy sheriff. Mrs. Lorretta Smith swore to the complaint which had been prepared by the county attorney's office.

Officers said a Lubbock man arrested early Thursday on North Avenue H by Carl Francis and Ham Odom of the police department would be transferred to county officials pending filing of a charge of driving when intoxicated.

Chickens Are Found

Several live chickens tied in a sack were found under a culvert near Monroe Thursday by a Lubbock highway department official who reported the find to the sheriff's office. Cap Moore, deputy sheriff, said several sacks of chickens were found in a field about six weeks ago and belonged to a Littlefield man.

According to a report at police headquarters, a wrist watch with a black band was stolen from Good Eats bakery. Officers Thursday night had not been able to find the missing property.

Woman Meets Her 60-Year-Old Half-Brother For The First Time As He Visits Lubbock

Meeting a stranger is common, but meeting a half-brother one has never seen is different.

Take the word of Mrs. Fred C. Wendt of 1911 Twenty-seventh street.

Mrs. Wendt's half-brother, Jesse O. Pate, and Mrs. Pate of Herman, Minn. came here on a visit April 5. They left home in November and since have spent only one night away from relatives—either his or Mrs. Pate's —on the journey here.

"Although I had never seen him, he seemed like his two brothers whom I know. He did not seem like a stranger at all," Mrs. Wendt said.

Besides the fraternal kinship, Mrs. Wendt and Pace are third cousins. Their mothers were first cousins, their fathers the same. Pace is 60 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Pace left Wednesday for Phoenix where they will visit his brother, Elmer Pace, who is ill.

Boy Scout Easter Egg Hunt Will Be Held On Saturday

The third annual Boy Scout Easter hunt will begin at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Earl M. McClure, scout executive, said Thursday morning. From the dyeing process, 1,680 eggs have been taken in preparation for the event.

From 400 to 500 boys of Lubbock, Slaton, Post and Tahoka will dodge in and out of the north end of Mackenzie state park in search of eggs, including the 26 marked for prizes.

Cub scouts will be invited to participate.

J. C. Reynolds is chairman of the hunt committee. Ed D. Allen and Eagle Scouts will hide the eggs.

The three other districts of the South Plains Area council will stage similar hunts Sunday afternoon.

Magallanes, Chile, is the southernmost city in the world on a regular air route.

Haney Funeral Services Are Held At Afton On Thursday

Last rites for Dr. James Newton Haney, 73, were conducted Thursday afternoon at the First Baptist church of Afton.

Dr. Haney died in a sanitarium at Lubbock Wednesday afternoon after an illness of several weeks.

Burial will be in the Afton cemetery, with W. H. Lindsey Funeral home directing.

Dr. Haney had been a resident of Afton approximately 35 years.

He is survived by five sons, Dr. E. L. Haney of Ralls, J. W. Haney of Matador, B. S. and T. B. Haney of Afton, and B. R. Haney of Hot Springs, N.M.; two daughters, Mrs. Ora Thacker of Mount Pleasant and Mrs. Raymond Brown, also of Mount Pleasant; and 10 grand children.

More than 5,000,000 head of livestock was shipped from Texas in 1937.

Man Says That He Is Glad To Pay His Debt To Society

PORT ARTHUR, April 14. (AP)—R. H. Kelly, alias K. C. Craig, today waived extradition to Florida, where he escaped the Miami jail with 12 others in August, 1925, and said "I am glad to return and pay my debt to society."

Kelly was arrested here yesterday. Officers said he had been serving a term for highway robbery.

Scholastic Athletes Of District Scheduled To Compete In Meet Here Today

Meet The Real Champions Of Major Loop Baseball

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 14. (AP)—Presenting the real defending champions of the major baseball leagues with observations on their chances of repeating:

HAPPIEST . . . Pepper Martin has held the title since 1931. Ol' Pepper, assisted by his finest gashouse swing bands, is whooping it up more than ever this spring. He's a cinch to repeat.

SADDEST . . . The long face champeenship was won by Long Tom Winsett of Brooklyn last year and he rates to hold it. No one can wear that hang-dog look like Long Tom. He makes you sorry for him even when he hits a home run.

LOUDEST TALKER ON THE FIELD . . . Look no more. Frank (Donald Duck) Crosetti can outquack-quack any ball player alive.

CHAMPION POP-OFF GUY . . . Dizzy Dean held the title since '32 but he's due to get some great competition for the St. Looey city series championship this year because Buck Newsom is back in town.

QUIETEST . . . It'll be harder to beat Tony Lazzeri than it will to trim the Yankees. Tony is so quiet he pretends he can't hear. He'll be a treat for the wisecracking Chicago Cubs.

GREATEST STORY TELLER . . . In a class by himself and a sure bet to repeat is Moe Berg, coach of the Boston Red Sox. Every time the Red Sox show up late for practice, Moe is blamed on the theory he held them with one of his yarns.

HOT FOOT CHAMPION . . . Ducky Medwick deals out more hot foots than base hits. Ducky, instead of Bill Terry, also holds the pipe smoking championship. He should repeat in both departments.

SLICKEST DRESSER . . . Lefty Gomez is baseball's walking tailor ad but he's being challenged by Joe DiMaggio. Joe may not catch Lefty this year because he'll be late getting on that payroll.

UGLY DUCKLING . . . John Dickshot of the Pirates came up to win the homeliest man title last year but he'll have to go without shaving to beat out young Jim Bagby, pitching rookie with the Red Sox. Bagby already has claimed the title. For the best looking ball player, we present Wesley Perrell, age for age and whisker for whisker.

COCKIEST BALL PLAYER . . . If anybody can eclipse Dick Bartell of the Giants, we'd hate to hear about it.

BIGGEST SMOKER OF BUM CIGARS . . . Manager Jimmy Dykes of the White Sox has purchased a new supply of ropes that already has his rivals choking for air.

UMPIRE BAITERS . . . It looks like another close battle between Burleigh Grimes and Frank Frisch. Grimes won by one ejection over his rival last season by getting booted out of the last game of the year.

BIGGEST NOSES . . . Now that Goose Goslin is back in baseball with Washington, it looks like a terrific race between the Goose, Ernie Lombardi of Cincinnati and Harry the Horse Danning of the Giants.

BIGGEST EARS . . . "Mickey Mouse" Melton by inches.

SLOWEST FOOTMEN . . . Since Lombardi and Catcher Virgil Davis of the Reds joined the back to the base movement, no one can approach them. Together they have been in the big leagues 17 years and together they've stolen 10 bases, five each.

FUNNIEST MANAGER . . . Casey Stengel has changed since he got to Boston but he'll revert to type and pull some classic gags by May 10.

GOOD TIME CHARLIES . . . No players have more fun than Paul Waner of Pittsburgh and Rollicking Rollie Hemsley of Cleveland.

GREATEST FANS . . . As sure as rain, those tried and blue fans of Flatbush will retain the title for Brooklyn.

DICK BARTELL
. . . cockiest ball player . . .

GOOSE GOSLIN
. . . biggest baseball nose . . .

. . . happiest ball player . . .

FRANK CROSETTI
. . . loudest on field . . .

Fish To Be Shocked If This Plan Of Angling Is Passed

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP) — The bureau of fisheries got a shock today—officials heard of a new plan of fishing with electricity

Franz Hager, its advocate, claims the method is more humane than hooks, seines or nets. A three horsepower dynamo furnishes the current to two long poles that have electrodes on them.

The fisherman, pole in hand, walks up and down the stream electrocuting the fish. Hager says it takes a two volt jolt to get an 18-inch trout.

Netters, Track And Field Men Enter Prelims

"If visibility is 100 yards, if the wind velocity is less than 87 miles per hour, and if any athletes show up there'll be a track meet at Texas Tech Friday and Saturday—if it doesn't rain."

Berl Huffman, Texas Tech assistant coach and District 3 interscholastic league athletic director, was referring to the once postponed District meet, originally scheduled for last weekend but moved back because of unfavorable weather conditions.

Preliminaries in all track and field events except the 880 and one-mile run, javelin and the mile relay, the rural pentathlon en toto, and preliminary rounds in tennis are scheduled for today.

Finals On Saturday

Finals in track and field and tennis are booked for tomorrow.

Despite windstorms this week, Texas Tech officials and athletes have put the track in shape, kept the tennis courts intact, and managed to hold down the grandstand, where cash customers are expected to watch Saturday's finals.

Huffman said last night the meet would go on "if humanly possible," and that the same schedule would be followed that was announced for last week.

That schedule, for today's events, calls for:

10 a. m.—Drawings for tennis, with play to begin immediately.

2 p. m.—120-yard high hurdles, pole vault, pentathlon.

2:20—100-yard dash, broad jump and discus throw.

2:40—220-yard low hurdles, high jump and shot put.

3:50—440-yard dash.

3:20—220-yard dash.

Saturday's schedule:

1:30 p. m.—120-yard high hurdles, pole vault and shot put.

1:45—100-yard dash.

2:00—440-yard run, discus throw.

2:15—220-yard low hurdles, high jump.

2:30—880-yard run, javelin throw.

2:45—220-yard dash.

3:00—mile run, broad jump.

3:15—Mile relay.

Lowrey Is Starter

Huffman reiterated that no one would be allowed on the field except officials and competitors, and asked cooperation of coaches and fans in this respect.

E. J. Lowrey, veteran track official and starter, will be the man behind the gun in all track event starts.

Various schools over the 14 schools comprising District 3 are expected to send worthy contestants here, although from the team standpoint, the Lubbock Westerners are favored to retain the championship won last year.

No records were broken last spring, and none is expected to fall today, under ordinary circumstances, although certain schools boast outstanding performers in some events.

Tech Doubles Team Advances In Net Joust At Austin

AUSTIN, April 14 (Special) — Texas Tech's doubles team of Harry Jordan and Sidney Moore advanced to the semi-final round in the Southwestern tennis tournament here today by defeating the Stephen F. Austin team, 4-6, 6-0, 6-3, but other Red Raider netters faded from the championship race.

Wilson Chapman and Aubrey McCarty, the other doubles team from Tech, were eliminated in the quarter-finals by Kamrath and Christner of Texas, 6-0, 6-1.

In quarter finals of the singles division, Jordan lost to McGinnis of Texas, 6-3, 6-0, and Moore, who won this morning from Parks of North Texas Teachers lost to Hilley of Texas, 6-4, 6-3.

BITSY GRANT RECOVERS

HOUSTON, April 14. (AP)—Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta, America's fourth ranking tennis player, left the hospital today after undergoing an appendectomy two weeks ago that forced him out of the semifinals of the River Oaks tournament.

Grant said he hoped to fly to his Georgia home Saturday or Sunday.

Fans Won't Know The Old Place

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK, April 14.—Mr. Gus H. Fan hardly will know some of the old places when he steps through the turnstiles into his favorite big league ball park for opening day next week.

From the $1,000,000 rebuilding program in the Detroit Tigers' Briggs Stadium, to the Yankees' tumble from the anti-ladies' day society, there's pretty much of a new deal for the bleacherites and the grandstanders.

The Tigers have increased the seating capacity of Briggs Stadium from 38,000 to 58,000, making it second only to Yankee Stadium. The Cubs, also completing a $1,000,000 reconstruction program in Wrigley Field, went artistic and planted flowers and vines along the center field bleacher wall. They also remodeled the left field stands to give the shirt-sleeve squadron a more direct view of the field.

Yanks Welcome Ladies

Perhaps the most drastic change was Col. Jake Ruppert's concession to New York's feminine fandom. The Giants and Dodgers have had ladies' day for years, but always the mighty Yanks refused to stoop to such tactics. However, this year they're making every Friday free to the girls.

In Cincinnati, the Reds are finally getting around to giving the fans some homers. They've moved Crosley Field's home plate 20 feet nearer the fences and turned the diamond slightly to the right, in what has been the toughest park in the majors to clout a ball out of the lot. There'll also be 12 instead of 11 ladies' days this year, numerous "knothole days" for the youngsters, and an up-to-date loud speaker system.

The Cardinals and Browns chipped in $35,000 and put up the classiest scoreboard in the majors in Sportsman's Park. It shows just about everything but the color of the players' underwear.

Flag To Tell Tale

Brooklyn's Dodgers re-arranged Ebbets Field's seats to add 1,500 chairs, and promise for 1938 a staff of ushers as polite as at a church wedding; Pittsburgh touched up Forbes Field here and there with paint; the Reds also painted 28,000 seats—which makes them more comfortable, of course; the Indians will play 14 instead of 12 games at Cleveland Stadium rather than in the smaller league park, relying chiefly on Bob Feller's drawing power for the Sunday-holiday engagements; the Tigers have put up two auxiliary scoreboards, and the Cubs, in addition to the flowers, have erected a flagpole over the bleachers, which will show the homeward-bound traveler each evening whether Cholly Grim and his boys won or lost that day.

Experts Pick Giants To Win In National

NEW YORK, April 14. (AP) — The Giants to nose out Chicago for the pennant, and the Cincinnati Reds to climb from the cellar to fifth place —that's the way major league baseball writers figure the 1938 National League race.

The Giants, favored to retain the flag for the third straight year, drew 31 first-place votes from 60 writers who cast ballots in the annual Associated Press poll. The Cubs polled 22 votes for first and 29 for second. The other seven first-place ballots were split, four for the St. Louis Cardinals and three for the Pittsburgh Pirates, who were rated in that order to round out the first division. The Cards were the pennant choice a year ago.

LONDOS VS. NAGURSKI

NEW YORK, April 14. (AP)—Lou Daro, Los Angeles promoter, said today he had offered Jim Londos, former world wrestling champion, $25,000 for a match this June at Wrigley Field, Los Angeles, against Bronko Nagurski, ex-Minnesota football star and title claimant. Nagurski, Daro said, already has accepted terms.

Weather Cancels Ball Game; Hubbers Drill For Amherst Game On Sunday

Enough is enough, and too much is the limit, so there was no ball game at the local baseball park yesterday.

The professional Hubbers, who made a pleasing debut, under unfavorable weather circumstances, Wednesday with a 7-3 victory over the National Baseball School All-Stars from Los Angeles, went back out shortly after noon yesterday, indulged in a session of batting and fielding practice with the All-Stars, but both sides declared it "too rough to play" the second game of the series.

The All-Stars went on to Big Spring, where several of the graduates from the California school are to remain with the Big Spring entry in the West Texas-New Mexico league.

No game is scheduled today, but the Hubbers will hold their regular "skull practice" and field workout, the latter starting around 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Next game is scheduled for Sunday, when the Amherst Reds, handled this season by John Bradley, invade the local park for a swat at their Hubber foes. Lubbock-Amherst rivalry has increased during the past two seasons of semi-pro ball, and it'll be the same old thing with Lubbock's professional team.

The Hubbers go to Sweetwater next Wednesday, playing the Sweetwater semi-pros, and return here to play Littlefield on Friday, April 22. They battle the powerful Huber Carbons of Borger here on Sunday, April 24, before opening the league season at Clovis on April 27.

"Evil Eye" Artist To Work On Admiral In Match Horse Race

By SID FEDER
(Pinch-Hitting For Eddie Brietz)

NEW YORK, April 14. (AP)—Tip: Evil Eye Ben Finkel is getting ready an extra-special "hex" to toss at War Admiral in his race with Seabiscuit . . . It'll be the All-America hoo-doo's first start against the hosses . . . So he's gone into a trance down in Washington to get the spirit's freebox special on how to work on the Admiral . . . while his manager is locking around for a chef who can cook oats, in case the job needs a special diet . . . The "Eye" claims his "whammy" has worked on 200 fighters. . . .

Old Men Of Baseball

For a couple of old guys giving Pop Time the willies, take a look at Tony Lazzeri and Luke Sewell . . . Old Poosh 'Em Opp is hitting a mere .519 for the Cubs this spring, and Luke shows a .478 mark for the White Sox . . . The Indians have tagged that famous Giants' pitching for only ten homers in eight games . . . Larry MacPhail says Van Mungo'll be the National League's top flinger this year . . . Movie Actress Helen Vinson joins Hubby Fred Perry in the mid-west next week, on his tennis tour with Ellsworth Vines.

Add life's little jokes: Tulsa gave Ed Selway his unconditional release about mid-season last year because of a sore arm . . . Fort Worth picked him up later and he pitched 'em into the Texas League pennant . . . Now Mickey Cochrane thinks he's aces and figures on keeping him with Detroit all year . . . Will old Honus Wagner break into the movies after the 1938 season? . . . In a baseball picture, of course . . . Johnny Fischer, the ex-amateur champ, used his U. of Cincinnati spring vacation to head for Miami and a little golf . . . Some of it with Franics Ouimet . . . Col. E. R. Bradley'll be back in the Kentucky Derby in '39 . . . His stables are packed with 23 juveniles . . . The Puerto Rican legislature re-named the island's ball park "Sixto Escobar Athletic park" in honor of the bantamweight champ.

Texas Aggies Defeat Horned Frogs 12-1

COLLEGE STATION, April 14. (AP) The Texas Aggies hit, walked and stole their way to a 12 to 1 victory over Texas Christian university today. It was the Farmers' fourth straight victory and their fourth in six conference games.

The victors shoved home six runs in the second inning off three hits, three walks and an error, and sprinkled substitutes into the lineup in the late innings.

Harry Cohn, Aggie portsider, blanked the Frogs for eight innings, allowing only four hits and fanning nine men. The Frogs made their lone run in the ninth with three hits off Johnny Steen.

Durwar Horner, on the other hand, had tough sledding on the mound for T. C. U., being nicked for ten hits, walking ten and committing two balks.

The Aggies stole nine bases.

Jack Cooper, Aggie second sacker, hit a homer in the second with one man aboard.

The teams play again tomorrow.

Transfer Of Olympic Games Discussed By U. S. Agent

NEW YORK, April 14. (AP)—Although Japan is confident now there will be no serious obstacles to staging the 1940 Olympics, international Olympic authorities already have discussed the possibility of holding the games elsewhere, on a modified basis, if Tokyo, for any reason, decides to give them up.

This was disclosed today by Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the American Olympic committee, upon his return from sessions of the International Olympic committee at Cairo, where the United States delegation led a losing fight against shifting the start of the 1940 games from Aug. 24 to Sept. 21.

"Japan is going ahead with all preparations and the United States expects to compete, to the best of its ability, but it is the I.O.C. feeling now that the games should not be allowed to lapse, even if the situation in the far east becomes such as to force Tokyo out of the picture."

Brundage suggested that either London or Helsingfors, Finland, which bid unsuccessfully against Tokyo for the 1940 games, might be willing to take over an Olympic program on short notice.

National Open Just Not Intended For Golf's Money Man

By EARL KILLIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, April 14. — Golf's greatest money winner, Harry Cooper, would like to win his first National Open championship—but don't expect him to feel too badly if he fails again this summer.

The Open and the Professional Golfers association tourneys are the two major titles which Harry never has been able to win.

He's given up trying to figure out the reason, but he has decided that "money in the bank" from consistent fairway victories has taken a big edge off what once was an annual double dose of disappointment—seeing the Open and the P. G. A. championships pass him up.

"I've come so close to winning the Open that I've about decided that it's just one of those things about the game that can't be explained," said the wiry little star. "But I've come to the conclusion that as long as I win other tournaments consistently, there's no use worrying about the two I can't take down."

The P. G. A. records give stout backing to Harry's use of the word "consistently." In 1937 he won $14,-138, topping in earnings the fastest field of stars in the game. He averaged 71.62 per round for the year and scored high enough in 28 tournaments to win the Vardon trophy, coveted P. G. A. award to the year's best golfer.

His winnings of $1,448 thus far this season tops the pros.

Harry's on vacation now from a golf program which keeps him swinging clubs 240 days out of every 365. But he's making almost as many "shots" as when he's winning tournaments. Instead of clubs, however, he's using a camera and his apartment looks like a photographers shop.

Longhorns Win Fourth Straight Over SMU

AUSTIN, April 14. (AP)—The University of Texas nine chalked up its fourth consecutive Southwest conference victory today at the expense of Southern Methodist university. The score was 5 to 2.

John "Lefty" Garnett, ace Texas hurler, went the route, allowing but six hits. Despite the Longhorn infield's seven errors he was in trouble only in the first inning. He picked three Mustang runners off first in the course of the tilt.

Billy Dewell, S. M. U.'s best moundsman, permitted 11 hits and the Ponies committed but one error.

In the first, the Methodists scored their two markers on two hits and three Steer errors. Doc O'Neill, centerfielder, and Jack Coppedge, catcher, got doubles.

Beaumont, Fort Worth Win 2nd League Games

(By The Associated Press)

SHREVEPORT, La., April 14. — Duplicating their opening day performance by staging two big innings, the Beaumont Exporters made a clean sweep of the two-game series here by defeating the Shreveport Sports, 10 to 9 here today. All of the visitors run-making was confined to the fifth and sixth stanzas when they bunched seven of their nine hits. Shreveport used four hurlers, with Manager Claude Jonnard making his appearance on the hill in the ninth stanza.

Reservations Coming For Coach School At Texas Tech

Ninety-one reservations were received Thursday at the chamber of commerce for the sixth annual high school coaching school to be conducted August 1-7 at Texas Tech.

Thursday was first day reservations had been received and early response was cited by officials here as evidence a large number of Texas high school coaches would attend. The school is sponsored by the Texas High School Football Coaches association.

L. C. Wood of Cameron is president of the organization. Weldon B. Chapman, head coach at Lubbock High school, is secretary, Bryan Schley of Teague, is secretary-treasurer.

Letters and folders giving rates, schedule of events, and general announcements will be sent from the chamber of commerce today.

Big Time Instructors

Well-known football coaches who will serve on faculty of the school are Lynn Waldorf, head football coach at Northwestern university; Harry Stuhldreher, athletic director and football coach at Wisconsin university; and John "Ox" Da Grosa, former coach of the Philadelphia Eagles, members of the National Professional Football league.

Climax of the school will be a regulation game between all-star players chosen from north and south portions of the state. Waldorf will direct the Southern group, Stuhldreher the Northerners.

A golf tournament will be staged for the visiting coaches.

STEWART MEETS MOORE

DALLAS, April 14. (AP)—Earl Stewart, jr., of Sunset High school, Dallas, the defending champion, and Joe Moore of San Antonio's Texas Military institute will meet here tomorrow in the finals of the state high school golf tournament.

Stewart defeated a teammate, Turner Baxter, 6 and 4, to enter the 36-hole finals. Moore trimmed James Moon of Gilmer in a hot match, one up.

Lubbock Housewives Lodge Vigorous Complaints Against Cowlots In City

Speedy Action On Problem Is Being Promised By City Dads

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

Vigorous complaints by a delegation of housewives against condition in which many Lubbock cowlots are kept resulted in assurance by members of the city commission at their semi-monthly meeting at the city hall Thursday afternoon that immediate steps are planned to correct that and kindred problems.

New Mayor Carl E. Slaton informed them that a special meeting of the commission is planned early next week, probably Monday night, to consider a revised building code which probably will include strict zoning regulations. An ordinance now being prepared by City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley will be submitted at the meeting, and will form the starting point from which the commission will work, he explained.

To Adopt Ordinance

Mayor Slaton and other members of the commission expressed the frank opinion that the ordinance will be adopted on first reading when the special meeting is held.

Joining with the mayor in declaring that something will be done without delay were Commissioners J. A. Fortenberry, W. B. Price and Hub Jones. Commissioner W. B. McMillan was out of the city. For Slaton and Jones, the commission meeting was their first regular session since their election April 5. For Price, it marked the official start of his second term.

Also present were City Manager W. H. Rodgers, City Secretary Lavenia Williams; City Engineer M. R. Smith, jr., and Walter D. Wilson, acting as city attorney in the absence of Bradley, his law partner.

Two Major Phases

The new ordinance, as sketchily outlined as to fundamentals, probably will include two major phases.

One of them, officials said, will be an attempt to give the builder of a home some assurance as to the type of structure which may be erected on the adjoining lot or upon the property in front of his place.

The other will be either to outlaw the keeping of milk cows and other livestock within the city limits, or, which is more probable, to divide the city into zones. If the zoning alternative is chosen, it was explained, the residents of each zone will determine by their majority whether or not cows and other livestock may be kept within that particular zone.

Protect Other Sections

The zoning plan, as outlined to the commission, might legalize the keeping of cows in sparsely settled edges of the city, but would protect other sections of dense habitation.

It likewise would protect neighborhoods against types of buildings to which the residents object and which would be unsightly. Two incidents were related emphasizing the need of regulations of that kind.

Commissioner Price told of having received a telephone call Wednesday night from a housewife whose pride is an attractive, though modest, home. Sobbing so that she could hardly talk, Price said, she reported that a lumber shed was to be erected directly across the street from her home.

City Is Powerless

"She asked if there wasn't something we could do," Price continued. "It humiliated me to tell her that the city of Lubbock was powerless to assist her under existing ordinances, despite the fact that she and other home-owners should be protected. This is a situation which must be corrected."

The second incident related to a group of citizens who dug into their pockets to forestall the establishment of a tuberculosis clinic in their block.

Those in the delegation who, as numerous other delegations previously have done, urged that something be done about cows in the city limits included Mrs. M. C. Overton, 1808 Broadway; Mrs. Eugene Gunn, 1919 Sixteenth street; Mrs. E. Murray Jones, 1915 Sixteenth street; Mrs. I. M. Robinson, 1916 Seventeenth street; Mrs. Earle Thompson, 1911 Sixteenth; and Mrs. C. C. Jobson, 1918 Seventeenth.

Other Business Routine

Other business transacted at the commission session was routine, but some of it was of major importance. Among others were several actions to protect the city against water shortage, authorization for two important extensions of sanitary sewage lines, and action upon two ordinances to clear the way for paving approximately four miles of residential streets in areas where they will reduce loads on thoroughfares now congested.

Actions dealing with the water problem included the purchase of two pumps and 3,860 feet of 10-inch cast iron pipe which will tie production of newly completed wells into the city system.

Successful bidder for the pumps was Peerless Pump company. The city will pay $1,552 for one pump of 750 gallons per minute capacity and $1,116.50 for another of 300 gallons capacity. Peerless was low bidder among five for the larger pump and among four for the smaller.

Total Bid Is Given

The pipe was purchased from U. S. Pipe and Foundry company on a total bid of $6,389.60. The commission decided against a proposal to buy cheaper fabricated pipe until its premanency has been more thoroughly demonstrated.

One of the sewer extensions authorized was in the alley between Paris avenue and Avenue Q from Fourth street to Second street, a distance of 1,272 feet, costing $901; and in the alley between East Avenues C and D from Twenty-second to Twenty-first, thence west to the alley between East Avenues B and C, and thence north to Twentieth street, to cost $883.

In authorizing the improvements, city commissioners explained that no money is available immediately, but that the work will be done as soon as possible.

Ordinance Is Passed

Of the two paving ordinances, one passed on third and final reading provides for the surfacing of the following streets: S from Twenty-third to Twenty-ninth; Twenty-second from S to V; Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth, from S to T; and Twenty-sixth, from S to X. Sixteen blocks are involved.

The other ordinance, passed on first reading, provides for paving the following: X from Nineteenth to Twenty-seventh; Twenty-third from Q to S; Q from Nineteenth to Twenty-third; Twenty-seventh from Q to X; and College from Twenty-second to Twenty-sixth, an aggregate of 25 blocks.

All were included among 175 blocks of paving for which WPA allocations were authorized several weeks ago. All will be completed before winter, the commission was informed.

Other Routine Actions

Other routine actions at the commission session were:

Acceptance of newly completed paving on Twentieth street from Adams to Van Buren avenues.

Instructions to the city manager to investigate a proposal by Post Refining company of Rotan, Texas, to supply fuel oil at a rate which might mean an annual saving to the city of more than $6,000; the company has offered, Rodgers said, to supply oil at $1.31 and $1.64 per barrel, depending on gravity, which compares with $1.69 and $1.793 now paid for the same grades.

Appointment of J. L. Combs, a journeyman plumber, as a member of the city plumbing board, other members of which are D. P. Fox, City Engineer Smith, City Plumbing Inspector H. B. Hamilton and Dr J. W. Rollo, city health officer. Combs succeeds Roche Newton, who resigned because of press of private business.

Appropriation Is Made

Appropriation of $1,000 to match a $2,000 county appropriation for current operation expenses of the County-City Welfare association.

Instructions to the city manager to ask bids for the annual independent audit of city financial records.

Routine approval of errors in city assessment rolls, of which there were only 21 among many thousand items.

Approval of bonds of office of Mayor Slaton, Commissioner Jones and City Recorder Walter Whorton.

Approval of the following license bonds: C. M. Anderson and H & H Electric company, as electricians; and Terry and Childress and Sherrod Bros., as gas line mechanics.

Sale Of Mexican Silver In This Country Not Barred

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP) — Secretary Morgenthau said today that the treasury had not barred Mexico silver from sale in this country.

Clarifying for the first time his announcement of a few weeks ago that the treasury was suspending its arrangements for purchase of 5,000,000 ounces of silver monthly from Mexico, Morgenthau said Mexico can still offer its silver for sale to the United States treasury on the New York silver market.

Man Thanks Lubbock Citizens For Help During Trouble

"I'm not very good at making speeches, but I'd like to thank everyone that helped us in our trouble," said W. A. Hansord whose family was left homeless and with no personal property except the clothes they were wearing when flames destroyed their home here Saturday.

Approximately $20 in cash, numerous bundles of clothing and bed clothing, and dishes and other household goods were given to the man's family which includes his invalid wife, a daughter, Hattie Sue, and a son, Charlie.

Fight Against Dentist Bill Will Be Carried Higher

SAN ANTONIO, April 14. (AP)—A group of San Antonio dentists plan to carry their fight against a recently enacted state law prohibiting advertising to the supreme court if necessary, Leonard Brown, one of their attorneys, said today.

The fourth court of civil appeals ruled the act constitutional here yesterday.

Slaton Seeking Traffic Lights

SLATON, April 14. (Special) — Slaton Board of City Development and City commission are cooperating in attempt to secure traffic lights at three intersections in Slaton.

Capt. W. W. Legge of the Texas Highway patrol district headquarters in Lubbock discussed traffic lights and recommended the number and type for the intersections at a meeting, also attended by Lewis Kittrell, of the police department of Lubbock. The meeting was attended by directors of the B.C.D. and chamber of commerce.

Webber Williams, who had been appointed chairman of the public utilities committee of the B.C.D. by Fred H. Schmidt, president, invited city commissioners and the mayor besides Lubbock visitors.

Claud F. Anderson was elected Slaton's West Texas Chamber of Commerce director for the ensuing year.

First Aid Demonstration Is Given At Kiwanis Club

Six Lubbock Boy Scouts gave a demonstration of first aid at the Kiwanis club Thursday noon, showing the more than 100 present how to give emergency treatment for victim of an accident. It took the boys seven minutes and ten seconds to prepare the injured man and get him on a temporary stretcher.

Drs. Allen T. Stewart and D. D. Cross were judges, O. J. Sexton was timekeeper. The boys made a diagnosis of the injuries and then proceeded to show what to do. Maurice Good was captain of the team, from troop 5. Others were: John Watkins, the "injured" man; Francis Bearden, Ernest Thaxton, Dick Corenelio and James Stevenson.

President O. W. English announced four new members, Lee Hubby, C. J. Hollingsworth, C. B. Lawrence and Chas. A. Still. They will be formally received next week. Charles A. Whitacre reminded the club of the annual Panhandle-South Plains Dairy show in Plainview next week. J. C. Reynolds announced the Scout Easter Egg hunt Saturday afternoon.

John Halsey and Dr. R. T. Canon were program chairmen, the former presiding. He introduced Kiwanian Earl McClure who briefly explained the purpose of the demonstration. Howard Green played an accordion number. John Shewmake told of the coming Scout circus.

President English announced the beef served the Kiwanians was from the grand champion animal of the eighth annual South Plains Fat Stock show last week.

LOW BIDDER GIVEN

AUSTIN, April 14. (AP)—The Highway Marking Machine company of San Antonio was low bidder at $20,009 today for painting center stripes on 1097 miles of state highways.

The bid was referred to the highway commission.

She Violated All The Rules Of The Road And Now She Is In A Heifer's Heaven

She had no driver's license; she was on the wrong side of the road; she was not skidding; she gave no signal relative to her next move; she was otherwise violating Texas highway laws; and now she is dead.

As the result of a collision late Wednesday night three miles south of Dickens of an automobile driven by Mrs. E. D. York with a yearling heifer, the heifer was killed and the light sedan was damaged approximately $50.

J. H. Jackson, officer of the Texas Highway patrol, investigated the accident.

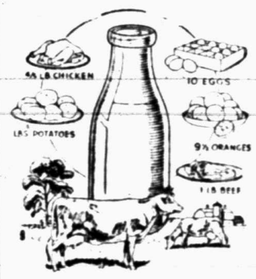

Films Showing Lubbock Man At Unusual Task To Be Seen

Films showing Dr. W. A. Maddox, Lubbock man whose hobby is hand tooled leather manufacture, at work on some of his projects, will be released through Paramount about April 15, Dr. Maddox was advised yesterday by Jerry Fairbanks, president of Scientific Films. The company issues a release through Paramount called "Unusual Occupations."

The films were taken here last November and showed Dr. Maddox at work on several pieces. Other views were of completed pieces. The reel is known as release L-75.

Lindsey Theaters expect the pictures to be in Lubbock about May 1. They will be shown at the Palace theater.

Yaqui Indians Are Engaged In Old Easter Ceremonies

PASCUA VILLAGE, Ariz., April 14. (AP)—Old and young among the Yaqui Indians of this little settlement near Tucson joined today in climactic phases of holy week dances portraying the passion of Christ, his betrayal, crucifixion and resurrection.

As the moon rose over the desert last night the dances, performed intermittently since the beginning of Lent, rose to a new intensity with the march of the Pariseos. Today the rites depict the arrest of Christ by the Pilatos, soldiers of Pilate, and the Fariseos. Tomorrow the story of Calvary will be reenacted. Saturday will see the destruction of Judas Iscariot portrayed, and Sunday will be a day of joyous commemoration of the resurrection.

Essay Contest To Be Staged

An essay contest to be conducted in observance of national "air mail week" is open for participation by high school pupils of Lubbock and the South Plains, Amos Howard, postmaster, and chamber of commerce officials announced Thursday.

Feature of the week will be repetitions of air mail pickup tests of last year, when Lubbock made the outstanding record of more than 50 cities in the United States which participated.

City May Be In Test

While no assurance has yet been received that Lubbock will be included in the test this year, general belief was that it will be. Tentative plans already are in the making which will seek to insure an even better record than last year.

Despite the fact that Lubbock was included on last year's itinerary less than 48 hours in advance of the test, the mail plane from here carried more than 4,000 covers weighing more than 90 pounds. No other city produced half that volume.

Chief Rules Given

Chief rules of the essay contest are: limit of 250 words; must be postmarked not later than May 1; should be addressed in care of Howard or the local postmaster to the state chairman, national air mail week essay contest; and must be certified by the school principal as to the eligibility of the contestant.

First prize for each state winner will be an air trip from his nearest airport to Washington and return. Second state prize will be a trophy.

First prize in the national contest will be an air trip to Miami, Fla., or Hollywood, Calif. and return. Second prize will be a trophy and third prize a plaque.

In Washington the state winners will be honor guests at a banquet the night of May 15 which will signal the beginning of the national observance.

CEMETERY WELL COMPLETED

Two Bicycles Being Sent To Eskimos

Mrs. Mae Post, widow of the late Wiley Post, world famous flier, shipped two bicycles from here Thursday morning on a 10,000-mile journey that will end at Point Barrow, Alaska, 300 miles within the Arctic circle. They are for the two Eskimos who discovered the bodies of her husband and Will Rogers, late the afternoon of August 16, 1935 when they were killed in an airplane crash.

First leg of the journey is Seattle, Wash. The crates are consigned to Stanley R. Morgan, Seattle, and will be reconsigned to him at Port Barrow. He is an army sergeant and was one of those who aided in preparing the bodies for return to America. At Seattle the machines will be placed on board the schooner C. S. Holmes, of which Captain John Buckland is master. He sails for Point Barrow, May 1.

The schooner, in order to reach Point Barrow, on the northern shores of Alaska, must travel many thousands of miles to the east, past the Aleutian islands, through Bering sea and the straits between Alaska and Asia and thence back across the Arctic circle into the Arctic ocean.

Traffic On Giant Bridge Is Said Steadier And Safer

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14. (AP)—After the lapse of a year and passage of 8,000,000 machines, traffic on the giant San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge is steadier and safer. So report Harold Atkins and J. A. Fowler, who have patrolled the structure since the day it opened.

Early day faults of travelers across the eight-mile span were listed by the officers as stopping or slowing down to look at the scenery, attempting to cross on foot and running out of gas.

Sterilization Of The Unfit Is Being Urged In Barbados

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados, April 14. (AP)—Sterilization of the unfit "as in Germany" was recommended by Dr. W. Hawkins of Bridgetown during a discussion of birth control in the house of assembly here.

"I am of the opinion birth control is putting the cart before the horse," Dr. Hawkins declared, "there are people in Barbados who are not fit to propagate their kind. Barbados should follow the lead of Germany and sterlize the unfit."

Trinidad's governor has issued a proclamation prohibiting the importation of tear gas.

This Year's Cleanup Drive

AMONG those whom The Morning Avalanche admires, but does not envy, are members of Lubbock's Cleanup, Paint-up committee who today are scheduled to launch the 1938 campaign here.

A more difficult task than theirs would be hard to imagine. Upon them falls the leadership in an endeavor to keep Lubbock in the position it has held for eight consecutive years as being the cleanest city in Texas. If they should succeed in their efforts, their task will be more or less thankless because Lubbock has become accustomed to the honor. If they should fail, it will, of course, be nothing to their discredit.

As the years have passed, it has become increasingly difficult for Lubbock to retain the trophy. The competition has become keener, and each year has seen additions to the list of competitors. Not only must Lubbock overcome more cities this year, but it must excel cities which are better organized for the campaign. Many of them, to Lubbock's credit, have profited from our experiences in mapping their drives. On the whole, it creates an outlook of such difficulties as to require real courage on the part of those serving on the committee.

Because of those difficulties, every citizen should bear in mind that committee members cannot do the work alone. They must and should have whole-hearted cooperation if Lubbock is to have any chance of retaining the honor it has held so long. Even with the fullest cooperation, there is no certainty that we will win the 1938 trophy for the simple reason that there is far more room for improvement in most of the competing cities than in Lubbock, which mirrors the results of campaigns of previous years.

But being the "champion" city of Texas in regard to cleanups, we cannot "quit." Civic pride should spur every citizen to his utmost in cooperation. If that should be done and we then should fail to win the 1938 trophy, there will be no taint of shame to our loss.

Spurious Money Is Plentiful

IT is disturbing to The Morning Avalanche, as well as to the average citizen, to learn that last year the banks of the United States picked up about $500,000 worth of counterfeit money. There has been less of it lately and the $21,773 withdrawn from circulation in February was the lowest monthly amount since January, 1932.

Efforts of the Secret service to break up counterfeiting are to be intensified. First in New York City and eventually all over the country there are to be "schools" for merchants and others who handle much currency, at which experts will teach the differences between good money and bad. More important, perhaps, will be instruction in what to do when a bad bill is discovered. Every piece of counterfeit that is promptly reported to the proper authorities is a clue to its source.

Unfortunately, the reprehensible impulse of a person tricked by a bad $5 bill is to get rid of it as quickly and quietly as possible. In that fashion, bad money may stay a long time in circulation, until at last it reaches the bar of judgment at a bank.

But the counterfeiter is a menace to the public welfare, as is proved by the fact that counterfeiting has sometimes gravely depreciated the value of a whole nation's currency. It is good citizenship and good sense to give the authorities all possible aid in keeping American money in good repute and jailing those who counterfeit it.

President Roosevelt's Story Of The New Deal

Article No. 18: A Continued Explanation Of The NRA

Editor's Note

(In yesterday's installment, the purposes, basic principles and rapid organization of the National Recovery administration were described. In the following, taken from President Roosevelt's notes and comments to his volumes of public papers, the creation of the Blue Eagle, and the early development of difficulties in enforcement, are told in the President's own words, nevr before published.)

ALTHOUGH there was quick and widespread response on the part of industry in submitting proposed codes, I thought that a strong impetus should be given to the reemployment program in order to get as many unemployed back to work as quickly as possible.

The President's Reemployment agreement (P.R.A.) was devised to be signed by individual employers of labor. The agreement dealt only with wages and hours and not with trade practices. Prices were rising and I believed that workers were entitled to a more just percentage of them in the way of wages.

The reemployment agreement was also necessary in order to bring all labor under the same rulings, in order to protect interstate commerce from the competition of intra-state manufacturers, and to arouse a more widespread public opinion in support of the plan.

Blue Eagle Made Symbol

In connection with this agreement the Blue Eagle was devised as an official symbol to be used only by those who were operating under approved codes or who had signed the President's Reemployment agreement. Patriotic citizens were expected to patronize only those concerns which displayed the Blue Eagle. The withdrawal of the right to display the Blue Eagle thus became an important method to enforce compliance.

Over 2,300,000 of those individual agreements were signed with the President, covering approximately 16,300,000 employees. The agreements also had the effect of causing the submission of a deluge of codes, increasing markedly the administrative difficulties of the N.R.A.

Major Problems

BY the end of the first year of N.R.A., code administration had developed several major problems, particularly in the matter of enforcing compliance with the codes.

In many instances, code authorities were able to maintain a high degree of voluntary compliance. In others, code authorities frequently exceeded their proper function in efforts to enforce compliance.

It was realized at the outset that code requirements, particularly as to wages and hours, would result in price increases, although every effort was made to provide against any rises in prices not made necessary to meet code requirements or justified by actual costs.

Particularly in the President's Reemployment agreement an effort was made to avoid price increases by a specific agreement to limit such increases to those made necessary by increased cost. It was inevitable, however, that prices would rise as industrial recovery took place, since one certain effect of the depression had been to drag down below profitable levels.

Hearings Held On Complaints

To meet a rising volume of consumer complaints, public hearings were held in January, 1934. These hearings uncovered some legitimate complaints of efforts at price control under the codes; but in the main they showed that price changes had generally followed naturally upon an improved market and upon rising labor costs, and that there had not been any substantial amount of profiteering under the aegis of the N.R.A.

These price hearings developed discussions of major price problems which persisted through the N.R.A. Foremost among these was the effort to control unwarranted price cutting by requiring in codes that products should not be sold below cost. But a definition of what was "cost" proved elusive throughout N.R.A.

In the case of the retail trades a strong effort was made to eliminate the so-called loss leader, a method of enticing custom by advertising standard artjcles at practically a cost, or even a below-cost, price. The elimination of the loss leader proved very helpful in some lines of business, particularly where small independent retailers were suffering from big-store or chain-store competition.

The Darrow Board

IN order to have an independent study made of complaints which were coming in about monopolistic practices resulting from codes under N.I.R.A., I set up the National Recovery Review board by executive order. The Board, by reason of the name of its chairman, Clarence Darrow, became known as the Darrow board.

Unfortunately, the board, in its investigation, proceeded rather as a prosecuting agency to prove a case against big business, than as an impartial investigating body.

Little evidence was produced of increased monopolistic power. On the other hand, it was established that the N.R.A. on the whole had not interfered with the existence of legitimate competition.

Most of the monopolistic conditions uncovered by the board were found to be based either on control of certain natural resources or patents, or in the inevitable power inherent in vast industrial organizations to dominate in the price and marketing policies of an industry.

Doubts Aid To Monopoly

I do not think it can be proved that the relaxation of the anti-trust laws during the N.R.A., to permit cooperation between business men, did in fact develop any additional monopolistic controls, over trade industry.

On the contrary, it was a demonstrated fact that innumerable small and independent business men were greatly helped in their struggle to survive by the establishment of fair competition and the elimination of such monopolistic practices as destructive price cutting.

It is true that many smaller business men, who had been able to survive through sweat-shop practices of long hours and low wages, were handicappel by the labor provisions of their codes. Many of the complaints of monopoly came from some business men who were thus compelled to pay decent wages for decent hours of labor, and who sought by such complaints to cover up the reasons for their resultant distress.

Consumers Protected

OF course the real victims of monopolies are always the consumers, who are forced to pay excessive prices unless the government itself protects them.

The rebuilding of the purchasing power of all classes of our population was the cornerstone of our program of recovery from the very beginning. This required first the raising of income. But the creation of conditions by which a larger portion of the population could obtain larger incomes would not be effective if the increase in the cost of necessities of life proceeded at a faster pace.

The farm and industrial programs of the administration which were building up the incomes of producers and workers could result in a general increased capacity to consume only if they were used in such a way as not to inflate prices unduly.

Consumer Protection Attempted

As a protection against this frustration of the recovery program, the administration at an early period created several new offices charged with the specific duty of safeguarding the interests of consumers, not only in the matter of prices but of policies affecting the quantity and quality of goods.

The creation and operation of these consumer agencies represented a new principle in government. It was the recognition of the right of consumers to have their interests represented in the formulation of government policy and administration of laws affecting the prdouction and distribution of goods.

I think it can be safely stated that never before had the particular problems of consumers been so thoroughly and unequivocally accepted as the direct responsibility of government. The willingness to fulfill that responsibility was, in essence, an extension and amplification of the meaning and content of democratic government.

Code Evils Pointed Out

AS has been pointed out, the initiative in code-making, and the administration of approved codes remained in the hands of organized producers and sellers. The natural result was that codes were directed to remedying the evils most observed by such groups rather than the evils suffered by consumers. While the protection of purchasers was one of the functions of the N.R.A., little could be done affirmatively.

The board did maintain constant vigilence for consumers' interests in the formulation and administration of codes. Proposed provisions which would lead to price fixing or price maintenance were closely examined. Only when facts and circumstances showed a clear necessity for price maintenance clauses and only where a maximum amount of consumer protection was provided would the consumer adviser approve the code.

N.I.R.A., in seeking to improve business conditions and wages and hours as a whole, had made no distinction, as to codification, between interstate and intrastate commerce. The law did provide that, when codes were violated, penalties should be attached only to transactions in and affecting interstate commerce.

Confusion was inevitable because all businesses of all types were subject to voluntary codification, and particularly because the President's Reemployment agreement could be voluntarily signed by business which were purely local—the local cleaner and dyer, the barber, the laundryman, the restaurant proprietor, the garageman, etc.

Although these so-called service trades are ordinarily thought of as insignificant in comparison with such industries as steel, oil or automobiles, the number of persons employed therein is actually as large and in many cases larger. Moreover, some of the worst labor conditions existed in these trades, which were

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE growth and spread of the undercover movement to dethrone President Roosevelt as party leader and restore the organization to "old-fashioned Democrats" in 1940 is the most startling fact in American politics today. It shocks loyal New Dealers politically old enough to put two and two together.

It involves party topnotchers personally close and friendly to Mr. Roosevelt, but more devoted to the party than they are to him. It also embraces men selfishly ambitious to occupy high office, but who realize that they are on F.D.R.'s black books. It includes Congressional leaders in both chambers who have convinced themselves at least that his economic theories will not work in the United States. Every day they become more vocal, more brazen, though professing deep admiration for Mr. Roosevelt's "human" qualities.

So far these various individuals and groups have not crystallized—coalesced—into a single, substantial faction. Recommitment of the reorganization bill was illustrative. The leaders' personal and political aims clash, and they can't afford a rupture in their loosely formed ranks now. But their underlying aim is the same—sidetrack Mr. Roosevelt and his New Deal friends.

RESERVES: Great Britain has quietly informed our State department that she cannot adopt our "good neighbor" policy with respect to Mexican seizure of valuable oil lands. The sharp protest from London had been fully expected, even though our British cousins are reluctant to part from Secretary Hull in the international game.

But oil—Mexican oil—is a bread-and-butter necessity to Britain's national defense, especially in view of today's troubled conditions. Although the Chamberlain government is negotiating a treaty with Mussolini, it appears that the fingers are crossed on both sides. England realizes that in the event of a major war involving her navy, Il Duce might easily bottle up the Mediterranean, and shut off the supply of Persian oil for His Majesty's fleet.

London figures it can always command the Atlantic ocean against prospective enemies, eliminating the United States, and that she will always have sure access to Mexican fuel. Therefore her concern over the expropriation, and reports that her western reserves may be sold to—of all nations—Italy, Germany and Japan!

THREAT: The Norris proposal for speedier ratification of constitutional amendments has been whittled down in subcommittee so sharply that the senatorial author hardly recognizes it.

Whereas the original scheme provided for popular ratification exclusive of other methods, the Austin amendment permits approval by state legislatures, by conventions or by popular vote. The Vermont Senator also got Mr. Norris to agree to acceptance of a provision under which the states themselves can initiate constitutional changes. Latest controversy centers over the question of whether a proposed amendment can hang fire indefinitely pending approval by enough states, or whether it dies automatically after five or seven years. Mr. Norris seems inclined to accept a time limitation.

Opponents are using the argument that a popular President could jam a constitutional amendment through Congress, and stampede the people into accepting it. It ties in so closely with the charge of "dictatorship" that earlier Congressional supporters are shying away.

SMART: President Roosevelt confirmed Whirligig's forecast that his new public works program is designed to stir the heavy industries at his recent conference with Mayor LaGuardia of New York.

Asking $150,000,000 for the metropolis alone, the Mayor startled F.D.R. "But look what I have in mind, Mister President," responded LaGuardia, and then he told of blueprints for a vehicular tunnel, for housing projects, for street changes, for remaking the face of the city. Every project insured large orders for steel, cement, machinery, lumber, bricks, etc.

The President's face broke into a smile, and he said: "That's the stuff I want, Fiorello."

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

NEW Yorkers are watching Indiana senatorial developments for indications of possible anti-New Deal trends. Senator Frederick Van Nuys, hopelessly in wrong with both the Roosevelt administration and the efficient McNutt-McHale Democratic state machine, has announced that he may run for reelection as an independent.

To the casual observer, this looks like a futile gesture. However, much depends on what the Republicans do. The veteran Jim Watson is trying hard to land the G. O. P. nomination. He wouldn't stand a ghost of a chance if Indiana had direct primaries. But candidates in that state are chosen by party conventions at which anything is possible—especially with a wily old politico like Watson pulling hidden strings. If Watson is nominated, thousands of Republican voters would undoubtedly prefer Van Nuys, who would also get most of the conservative Democratic vote. In that event he might be able to make quite a race of it.

Van Nuys has nothing to lose. He is headed for private law practice if he isn't reelected. It won't hurt him with prospective clients to go down fighting—and it might if he quit cold because he can't be renominated. Some influential anti-Roosevelt ians inside and outside Indiana are urging him to run in order to widen the Democratic split.

STACKED: A month ago it looked as if "Happy" Chandler were a cinch to lick Alben Barkley in the Kentucky Democratic senatorial primary and hand Roosevelt prestige a big black eye. Today Chandler's backers are privately not so sure as they were.

"Happy" still has an edge, but it's narrowing despite the skilful management of J. Dan Talbot, Kentucky Commissioner of Finance. Barkley is cannily laying back and letting his opponent do the talking in the early stages. The election doesn't come off until August, which gives the Senator plenty of time to get hot when it counts. Also federal cash is campagning for him—and how!; $140,000 was recently paid to tobacco growers in just one Kentucky county. As for W.P.A., it's no trouble to give jobs to whole families faithful to Barkley—and often more than one job apiece.

Another angle is that Vice-President John N. Garner and other conservative Democratic leaders might choose to save the President's face in order to preserve party harmony and prestige. They might decide to do all they can to reelect Barkley on that basis. If so, James A. Farley will probably play along with them, despite subrosa indications that he has been quietly backing Chandler up to now. Farley wants no split between himself and Garner. "Happy" could find the last-minute cards stacked against him.

HOURS: Insiders report that there was only one argument of consequence between Chrysler Corporation officials and representatives of the United Automobile Workers prior to the recent renewal of their contract. The union wanted the management to agree, as and when business improves sufficiently to warrant increased production, to establish a 32-hour work week and hire more men. The company held out for stepping up the hours of those now employed to 40 before taking on additional workers.

Those who are still on the job would much prefer the latter arrangement, which would mean fatter pay envelopes. But their views carry no weight with union officers, who are anxious to get more people on the company's payroll in order to rebuild their dues-paying membership.

Finally it was agreed to let this question go over until it has some realistic significance. The current outlook for the motor industry indicates that it is likely to remain academic for some months at least.

(Copyright McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

A serious case of erosion has come to the notice of the CCC. It appears that a bookkeeper has been wearing away $84,000 of the government's money.

SOME of the boys profess to be worried over Jim Farley's farewell to Karl Crowley, who is leaving the Postoffice department to run for governor of Texas. They think because Mr. Farley wished Mr. Crowley luck in the future, that the statement means Mr. Farley will back Mr. Crowley in his campaign.

Whether Mr. Crowley's candidacy bears the Farley approval, or not, will make little difference so our advice to the boys who profess to be worrying is to go on back to their posthole digging.

The truth of the matter is, Mr. Crowley doesn't know enough people in Texas to get to first base in his gubernatorial campaign. Not 25 per cent of the people we know even pronounce his name as he pronounces it.

Even if he were the best man in the state for the job, he couldn't get there"—and as far as we have been able to learn, Mr. Crowley's success in securing the purely political appointment in the Postoffice department is about his outstanding accomplishment.

This column has nothing against Mr. Crowley, personally.

We're merely talking practical politics.

Mr. Crowley moved to Texas a few years ago from Tennessee and shortly thereafter went to Washington with Mr. Farley and has been there ever since. Therefore we say Mr. Crowley hasn't the acquaintanceship on or the Texas background to be elected governor.

And aside from Mr. Crowley, himself, we haven't seen anyone who thinks he can be elected.

What do you think?

AS for Mr. Farley's power and prestige in purely Texas politics, what does it amount to?

Knowing Texans from the Valley to the Panhandle and from Texarkana to El Paso, The Plainsman would say that any attempt upon the part of Mr. Farley to elect any man governor would hurt the candidate, rather than help him. Texans simply don't like to be dictated to by outsiders.

And that's nothing against Mr. Farley, either.

The Plainsman has had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Farley, and of having some contact with him as a working reporter in the last two Democratic National conventions.

Jim Farley is a first class gentleman and a wonderful politician.

And because he is a good politician, he has 'way yonder too much sense to rush in where the ice is thin.

That Man on Avenue Q says an American is a person who likes to argue about the constitution even though he hasn't read it since he was in the seventh grade.

MOST of us realize that the average American has a dislike and a horror of war.

With very few exceptions, Americans want no part of a war now, or any time. Individually and collectively, we prefer to follow the even tenor of our ways and are willing to go the limit, as far as honor will permit, to avoid armed conflict.

All this is well known.

But how do the average citizens of other lands feel about war in this era of great preparation for another conflict?

The Associated Press, calling upon its army of men scattered all over the globe, has been doing a great deal of checking on this question and has brought out a report which is interesting to us over here.

After a great deal of interviewing, the Associated Press presents the views of average citizens in four of the great powers across the seas and The Plainsman is passing those findings along.

He believes Americans want to know how foreigners feel on the subject.

IN Tokyo, the Associated Press discovers that it is the average "white collar" worker who is rattling the sword the loudest.

Compared to the middle class worker, the Japanese soldier runs a very poor second as far as the militaristic spirit is concerned. The small business man is more bellicose than the most war-minded general and the salary earner believes, up to the neck, in Japan's "divine mission" to take command of the Orient and run the white man bowlegged.

The average Japanese is in favor of a big army, a big navy, a great show of force. And he believes a World war is in the making unless the other powers bow to Japan and give that nation everything it demands.

And if war comes, he will welcome it.

In London, the Associated Press ran into a different situation.

The average Britisher of the middle class—that backbone of the Empire—is enthusiastically for rearmament, a big army, navy and air corps—in spite of the fact that it's very costly and the average Britain pays several times as much taxes as the average American.

But he is for preparedness not as an aid to war, but as insurance against war.

"Britain," he says, "will never be in another war. If the weight of our armaments does not prevent a war, it will at least keep us out of it. We will be so well prepared that another country will not want to fight us. We'll be too strong."

* * *

IN France the question is not "will there be another war?", but, instead, "when is it coming?" The overwhelming majority of Frenchmen accept the fact that war is "just around the corner" and don't seem to worry much about it.

"We will fight when it becomes necessary," he says.

"We know another war is coming," says our average Frenchman. When it comes we want to be ready. We argue and riot over politics during peace times, but when war comes, all France will fight together."

The view is fatalistic., perhaps, yet probably sensible.

In Berlin, the Average German remembers well the hell of the last war, yet strange to say feels that the "next one" is inevitable. He agrees that "the next war will set us back again," win, loge or draw. But when war strikes he is prepared to blame it upon France and England.

"They will force us into it," he says simply.

SO there we have a brief picture of world opinion, as concerns four of the great powers.

With the exception of the Japanese, who takes a more aggressive attitude toward other nationalities, the average European feels a lot like the average American, although not so strongly. The average European doesn't want war, but sees no possibility of escaping it. The average American doesn't want war and is prepared to oppose it to the last ditch. If his country enters a war, it will not be until all efforts to avoid conflict have failed.

There we see, in the final analysis, the results of environment:

The free born, resourceful American, used to doing his own thinking and not accustomed to being either led or pushed, accepts the threat of war as a problem to be solved by each individual.

The European, accustomed to being badgered and driven and to having his mind made up for him, accepts the inevitable without crying.

There's a great opportunity to study human nature from the results of this summary.

Feet And Ankles So Swollen She Could Hardly Walk

Gly-Cas Makes Complete Change In Her System In But A Short Time; Feels Like A Different Person

"I did not believe it was possible for any one medicine to bring such a complete change in one's condition as did this new Gly-Cas in mine," said Mrs. Leadford, 318 West Ave. C, San Angelo, Texas. "For years my kidneys had been badly disordered and my feet and ankles became so swollen I could hardly walk. Because of too frequent action a good night's sleep was impossible. My entire system was run-down by an attack of flu seven years ago. I felt tired and listless continually and lacked the pep and energy to get around as I should. Then Gly-Cas was brought to my attention and soon showed me where I had been wasting my time and money on other medicines.

"It is almost unbelievable what this new Gly-Cas has accomplished in my case," she continued. "My entire system has been toned into the best condition ever. My kidneys have been regulated, feet and ankles no longer swell and I get around with ease. I sleep well and never disturbed by night risings. I feel full of pep and energy, that tired, listless feeling has left me entirely and I really cannot say too much in praising this new remedy, Gly-Cas."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

TARZAN THE MAGNIFICENT No. 76 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Just at the psychological moment, when Gonfala was wavering in her decision to aid the fugitives and escape with them from the land of the Kaji, Stanley Wood rushed to her and folded her in his arms. In the ecstasy of love, hesitation vanished quickly from her eyes.

"I'll go—anywhere—with you!" she whispered. But terror gripped her once more as her gaze fell again upon Mafka. "Him! What are you going to do with him? No matter where we go, he'll drag us back and kill us, as he kills all who try to escape."

Spike and Troll spat venomously. "We ought to kill him, that's what. It's his life or ours." Tarzan shook his head. "To the Kaji women, he is a sort of deity. If we kill him, they might take a terrible vengeance upon us. He would be more valuable to us as a hostage."

Wood and van Eyk nodded assent. Troll was on the point of offering more objections when the discussion was interrupted by a great commotion in the hall. A band of Amazon warriors pounded furiously on the door. "Mafka! Mafka!" they cried; "we must see Mafka!"

Monument To Bravest Of All Engineers, Casey Jones, Planned By Home Town

Memorial Fund Is Launched At Banquet; Famous Story Retold

Mrs. Casey Jones, widow of the famous engineer, gazes on a photo of her heroic mate.

This diagram shows where and how brave Casey "took his farewell trip into the promised land."

By JOHN SHEA
NEA Staff Correspondent

CAYCE, Ky., April 14—The world's most famous railroad engineer is to have something more permanent than a song as a monument to his courageous life.

The banquet and celebration that this Kentucky crossroads town threw the other night started the ball rolling for a memorial to Casey Jones, the brave man who died trying to get through on time just 38 years ago come this April 29.

To Set Up Monument

Cayce's citizenry plans to set up a monument on the highway near town to remind tourists that this was the place of Casey's birth. The monument fund got a good start at the banquet, with more than $400 being raised.

Cayce is mighty proud of being the brave engineer's hometown, and prouder still that it gave Casey his nickname. The real name was John Luther Jones—but his pals changed it when they found out he hailed from this hamlet.

Present at the banquet the other night was Casey Jones' widow. Also there was Sid Law, now engineer and safety director for the Illinois Central railroad, who was the fireman on Casey's regular run. On hand, too, was a slim old Negro who walked with a limp. He is Sim Webb, who fired for Casey the night of the wreck and who heeded Casey's wise advice to jump.

Recall Famous Wreck

Many of the people at the banquet here remembered the famous wreck and Casey the man. They recalled that this Casey was no ordinary engineer. He was handsome. He was big—6 feet 4 and hitting 200 pounds. And when he got in that cab, a train would perform some very extraordinary feats indeed.

Just about everyone on the Illinois Central run from Jackson, Tenn., to Water Valley, Miss., knew Casey—or at least they knew his whistle.

Mrs. Casey told at the banquet how the first thing Casey did when he got his engineer's job in 1890 was to develop his own very special whistle. A long, low, mournful whistle it was, and when people heard it they'd say, "There goes Casey." Furthermore, "All the switchmen knew by the engine's moans that the man at the throttle was Casey Jones."

Casey got a lot out of his engine, and the record runs he didn't make weren't worth going after. But if there was one thing riled Casey it was to be late on a run. That was what finished him.

For A Friend

Along in April of 1900, just 10 years that he'd been engineering, Casey made an extra run. An engineer friend of his got sick, and Casey said he'd take the trip, although, as Sid Law recalled, he had had no rest.

Casey pulled "Old 638" out of Memphis at 11 o'clock that night—fully an hour and a half late, Sim Webb said at the banquet — and headed for Canton, Miss. Fog and rain, but leaning out the window and jamming the throttle Casey gunned her for all she was worth.

Then 50 miles out of Memphis—worse luck—Casey got held up a half hour by a slow freight. When he got "Old 638" rolling again Casey was pretty sore and he wasn't thinking about anything but getting into Canton on time.

Past Vaughan, Miss., a couple of freights were supposed to pull off on a siding for Casey's speeding pullman train, but when Casey came charging along, only 11 miles from Canton and not holding her back a bit, the second freight was just idling through the switch.

"Boy, You'd Better Jump"

Now Casey Jones wasn't the guy to lose a couple of minutes on account of a thing like that, but when he got right on top of the freight, he had to jam on the air brakes. But too late. He "turned to the fireman, said 'Boy, you'd better jump, 'cause there's two locomotives that are going to bump.'"

Sim jumped all right and it was the smartest thing he ever did. But there was poor brave Casey keeping his hand on that air brake right through three cars and a caboose. When "Old 638" finally stopped not a passenger was dead, but gallant Casey had taken his farewell trip into the promised land.

How Song Started

There are a lot of stories of how the song about Casey Jones originated, but it is fairly certain that some southern darkies who had known of Casey and his heroics just sort of started humming and filling in the words as darkies will do, and that later a couple of vaudeville troupers jazzed up the tune and made it a nation-wide hit along about 1909.

likewise beset in many instances by various kinds of racketeering. In consequence, labor groups and the trades themselves clamored for codes of fair competition.

Typical Case Seen

The code which, became, in a sense, the typical case was the code for the cleaning and dyeing trade, approved on November 8, 1933. The code contained provisions for minimum wages, maximum hours, collective bargaining, and the fixing of minimum prices.

When the problem of enforcement came, however, the statute required that the line must be drawn between interstate and intrastate transactions. This was a difficult matter to explain and a difficult policy to maintain.
