Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

This is our annual "Good-bye Grads" issue. As you may have noticed last week and this week too, most of Ozona's businesses have sent congratulations to this year's crop of graduates. By this time next week, they will be going their separate ways and instead of members of a class, they will be individuals traveling in different directions. Really just on the threshold of life.

This is one of the high points in your life, grads, and you should have the satisfaction that comes with achievement as well as mixed emotions about what is probably the most abrupt turning point in one's life.

You will be leaving the security of home and parents. You will no longer enjoy the carefree days of childhood. You have a terrific adjustment to make, and chances are you will be able to make it well. Since first grade or kindergarten, you have been pointed to this moment in your lives, and now, more than ever in the future, you must be masters of your own destiny.

You will be making decisions without parental guidance, and you will no doubt be surprised at how dependent you have become on your parents. You will be choosing your careers and professions without the aid of teachers whom you have known and gone to for assistance most of your lives. It is a frightening time, but also an exciting time in your lives. It is a great challenge, grads, and a wonderful time to begin making dreams come true.

Graduation from high school does not mean that you are now educated. You are just prepared to get educated. Whether you go away to school or to a job, your biggest education is ahead of you.

While we wish you just the very best of everything, we know there will be dark valleys as well as sunlit hills and peaks in your future. These few little "things to remember" might come in handy as you travel on.

First, stick it out. When you have decided on a course of action, see it through to the end. There is no reward so great as the satisfaction of attainment when the going has been rough.

Choose your new friends carefully. You will be known by the company you keep. Don't be influenced by the radicals in life. Look around you. Has one social ill been cured or the course of events changed in any way by the burning rhetoric of the campus radical, or the assassination of a political figure?

Profit by your mistakes. Don't think you won't make any. For if you do, you have already made a big one. Every mistake you make will be worthwhile if you learn from it.

Above all, whatever you decide to do, do it well. Aim to be the best, and put every talent you have into reaching that goal. Work at it, and when you look up you won't be far from the top.

Now, off you go, with our sincere best wishes.

We deplore the attempted assassination of Governor Geo. Wallace in Maryland Monday, as we deplore murder for any purpose.

However, we can't help but wonder why officials begin yelling "gun control" everytime something like this happens. Would it not be better if we made the punishment fit the crime?

Some of those who have come out strongest for gun control have been instrumental in turning our prisons into country clubs, and giving murderers such light sentences that they only amount to a pat on the back for the most part.

We kill mad dogs, but we attempt to rehabilitate mad killers, and usually turn them out on society to repeat their act. Curious isn't it?

DEATH VEHICLE - Clint Strother, 49, was killed instantly in the above vehicle last Friday morning when he crashed into a truck van in the heavy fog 15 miles north of Ozona on Highway 137. Another Ozona man, Felix Flores, was killed shortly afterward when a truck in which he was riding swerved to avoid the accident and overturned. A third truck was also wrecked in an attempt to avoid the accident. Nine persons were involved in the three accidents.

Crashes On Fog Shrouded Hiway Claim Lives Of Two Ozona Men

Two local men were killed and several injured in three accidents 16 miles north of Ozona on fog-shrouded Hwy. 137 early Friday morning.

The three accidents occurred at the same scene and within 15 minutes of each other, according to investigating officers.

Killed were Clint Strother, an employe of Blue Construction Co., and Felix Flores, employed by Lilly Welding and Construction Co.

The first wreck occurred at 7:30 when Strother, driving north in a pickup attempted to pass a county pickup driven Raul De La Rosa. He collided with a truck and van headed south and driven by Ray West of Abilene. West swerved in an attempt to avoid the collision and the pickup plowed into the van, owned by Kimble Grocery. Strother apparently died instantly. He was pinned in the pickup but officers said he had apparently been dead since the initial collision. The truck overturned and the driver suffered minor cuts and bruises.

A Lilly Welding truck, driven by John Franklin Sessom, headed north came upon the accident in the dense fog. He swerved and hit the brakes and the truck skidded and overturned on the wet highway. Felix Flores, a passenger in the truck was killed instantly, and another passenger, Jesus Martinez, was admitted to the hospital in Big Lake. The driver suffered only minor bruises and another passenger, James Nelson was not hurt.

Another Lilly truck came upon the wreckage only minutes after the first truck overturned. The driver, Eleno Moran, swerved and braked the vehicle and it also overturned. Moran was not injured, but a passenger, Andy Mendoza, was hospitalized in Big Lake and Armando Sanchez, also a passenger in the truck, was treated and released at the Big Lake facility.

Funeral services for both men were held Sunday. Services for Mr. Strother, 49, were held at 5 p.m. from the Ozona First Baptist Church with burial in Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of James Funeral Home.

He was born in Ashland, La. (Continued on last page)

20th Annual Quarter Horse Show Saturday

The Twentieth Annual Ozona Quarter Horse Show will be held at the rodeo arena May 20, Saturday.

The show is sponsored by the Ozona Roping Club, and is approved by the American Quarter Horse Association and the Quarter Horse Association of West Texas, plus the Alamo Quarter Horse Association. The show is approved by the Alamo Quarter Horse Association for the first time this year, and according to Bill Watson, secretary of the Roping Club, this should push the show into a Class B show, a higher rating than previous shows have attained.

Champion of the show saddles will be awarded in both the youth and adult divisions. The trophy saddles will be presented to the All-Around Horse in the Youth Division and the All-Around Horse in the Adult division.

To be eligible for the trophy saddles, an individual must show at halter in at least two performance classes. Basis for awarding trophies is: first place, 6 points; second, 5, etc. Grand Champion, 5 points; Reserve Champion, 2 points.

L. D. Kirby is show chairman; Watson, secretary and Tony Allen is ring steward this year.

Burglars Enter Three Business Firms Same Night

No suspects had been arrested at press time in connection with the break-in robberies of three Ozona businesses late Sunday night or early Monday morning.

Brown Furniture Co., Pioneer Natural Gas Co., and the United Department Store were broken into and only money was taken in each instance. As nearly as owners and managers could figure, around $50 was taken from the cash drawer at Brown's, approximately $18 in change from the United Store, and $120 from Pioneer Natural Gas.

Sheriff's officers investigated the incidents and cash drawers and safes were dusted for fingerprints.

Scattered Rains Benefit Much Of Area Rangelands

Scattered rains fell in the county during the past week, bringing the total rainfall for May to 4.01 inches.

Crockett County missed the heavy rainfall measured in the rest of the state but rangelands in the south part of the county have benefited a great deal from the showers.

Rainfall has been much lighter north of Ozona, but long range forecasts predict more showers during the month for this area.

Total rainfall the past week for Ozona amounted to 1.39 inches, bring the yearly total to 5.16 inches.

Grosse Mohlers Suffer Loss In Flood at Seguin

Word was received here this week that the Grosse Mohler family, former Ozonans, lost their belongings in a flash flood at Seguin. When the flood waters receded they found their home badly damaged but intact.

The Mohlers have four children with a fifth due in a few weeks. Friends who wish to help them may contribute to the Grosse Mohler Fund at the Ozona National Bank, and those who wish to donate clothing may contact Mrs. E. H. Chandler. Clothing sizes are: Girls 12 dress, 12 jeans, 14 blouse, and junior size 11. (Continued on last page)

Reina Suit Seeks To Bar Marley From Ballot In Run-Off Primary

A long-standing tradition in Crockett County, that ranch families who maintain homes both on their ranches and in town, be they in different precincts, may designate the one of their choice as their home-stead and precinct of their residence and voting place, was attacked this week with the filing of a petition in 112th District Court by Armando Reina, second-running candidate for Precinct 1 Commissioner, to bar the name of first-place runner and incumbent Jess Marley from the runoff ballot in the June 3 election.

The petition for injunction was drawn and filed by Richard C. Abalos, an attorney from the Odessa law firm of Warren Burnett, Associated. The suit is styled Armando Reina, petitioner, vs. Jesse Marley and Bud Coates, chairman, Crockett County Democratic Executive Committee, respondents.

The suit is based on an interpretation of the election laws covering residency. The petitioner's contention that Marley is not a resident of the precinct for which he asks election as commissioner is summed up in the following paragraphs:

"Petitioner alleges that Jess Marley is actually bona fide resident of Precinct No. 3, living there with his wife and children. Petitioner herein alleges that since Jess Marley is a resident of Precinct No. 3, Jess Marley's candidacy for County Commissioner in Precinct No. 1 is in violation of Article 1, 05 of the Election Code of the State of Texas as amended, wherein said article requires as follows:

"No person shall be eligible to be a candidate for, or to be elected or appointed to, any public office in this state unless he is a citizen of the United States eligible to hold office under the Constitution and laws of this state and is under none of the disabilities for voting which are stated in Article VI, Section 1, of the Constitution of the state of Texas on the date of his appointment or of the election at which he is elected, and unless he will have resided in this state for a period of twelve months next preceding the applicable date specified below, and for any public office which is less than statewide, shall have resided for six months next preceding such date in the district, county, precinct, municipality or other political subdivision for which the office is to be filled."

The succeeding two paragraphs of the petition quotes the election law provisions forbidding the inclusion of names of ineligible candidates on the ballot of any election. The petition further alleges that "because of said ineligibility of Jess Marley, no certificate of election or appointment can issue to Jess Marley" and declaring that such ineligibility being a bar is set forth in Article 1, 06 of the Election Code which is quoted as follows:

"Neither the Secretary of State nor any county judge of this state, nor any other authority authorized to issue certificates, shall issue any certificate of election or appointment to any person elected or appointed to any office in this state, who is ineligible to hold such office under the Constitution of this state or under Section 5 of this code or any other applicable statute." TOP DEFENSE EXPERTS SPEAK OUT

Two of America's foremost defense experts spoke out last week: Dr. Edward Teller, father of the H-bomb, and Admiral Arthur Radford, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Admiral Radford pointed out that our military security today is "totally at a low ebb." For the last ten years, he said, "our military strength has steadily declined."

Contrary to the propaganda, he insisted, the United States did not force the Soviet Union into an arms race. In 1945, he pointed out, we rushed to disarm: "By 1946 our military was cut 85 percent. In the next four years we kept disarming. Yet Russia never disarmed." And what did we get for our disarmament? "We got the Korean war."

Dr. Teller picked up when the noted Admiral left off: "MacNamara was wrong when he said: 'We have a nuclear deterrent, and it will deter Russia for all time.' He was just as wrong," insisted Teller, "as Chamberlain was about Czechoslovakia in 1939."

Dr. Teller continued: "We used to have nuclear superiority. It is gone. We used to have parity. It is gone. Now we say: 'We have sufficiency.' But the way we are going now," he warned, "sufficiency will be gone in a very few years."

He added, emphatically: "I am not arguing for superiority. I am not arguing for parity. But we must struggle very hard to keep sufficiency . . . We must tell our people what the score is!"

Dr. Teller insisted that America is at stake. "If we do not strengthen our defenses, if we do not find ways to cooperate with the other nations of the free world, the United States will not survive the '70's."

Can we afford to ignore the warning of these top men?

Washington News Letter

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

The death of J. Edgar Hoover leaves quite a void which can never be adequately filled. He presided over the creation and development of the FBI -- considered the greatest law enforcement and detection agency in the world. For a half century, he inspired American youth by precept and example and became the ideal of millions. In his personal and official life, he was incorruptible. Thousands who have served as FBI agents and were subjected to Hoover's discipline and leadership, pay homage to his character, his integrity and his patriotic fervor. In the most wholesome and constructive respect, J. Edgar Hoover during his half century of public service touched and influenced more people than has any other one man in this century.

War Protests have taken on a new and changed dimension in this country. Formerly protests were registered against the draft, against being forced to serve in Vietnam, and against the war itself. But current protests are not primarily against the war itself because practically all of our ground troops are already withdrawn, and the remaining ones are due home soon. The main thrust of the protests now is against the U. S. using bombers and naval units to interfere with the enemy's supply lines to support the Communist invasion of South Vietnam.

Although that invasion seriously threatens the safety of the Americans remaining in Vietnam, protesters bitterly oppose any military action by the U. S. which is designed to interfere with the Communist invasion and which would be designed to protect American lives.

Everyone wants us to get out of Vietnam, but it takes time to move masses of men and equipment. In the meantime, those remaining are entitled to maximum protection. And the fate of the POWs must be taken into account in critical decisions now being made by our leadership, particularly with respect to the presence of our Air Force and Naval units.

A watered-down minimum wage increase bill was approved in the House last week. It ups the minimum from $1.60 to $2 per hour -- graduated over a two-year period.

While making the increases graduated would be helpful to small business, the over-all hike amounts to a substantial violation of the current inflation-control 5 1/2 per cent wage raise guideline contemplated by the wage control in Phase II.

Based upon experience following the 1966 raise to $1.60, it must be assumed the current legislation, if enacted, will cause many thousands of younger people, the handicapped, the unskilled, and other low production workers to be legislated out of jobs. And many small enterprises insist they will be forced to close down, reduce the number of employees, and when feasible turn to more automation.

Because of depriving worthy people of needed employment, and the impact on many small businesses, along with the inflation effect, I voted against the bill.

The President's decisive move to cut off or greatly reduce the supply of munitions and other equipment needed to support the Communist invasion, the outlook for the South Vietnamese to contain the invaders and eventually throw them back has been vastly improved.

Already the enemy has suffered an estimated 50,000 casualties, including some 20,000 killed. The invaders have succeeded in killing or wounding 20,000 civilians with their indiscriminate bombardments. About 300 of their tanks have been destroyed or disabled.

It is believed, however, the enemy still has on hand enough food and equipment to launch mass attacks on three fronts, if and when these fail, a full plus some retreats can be expected. The monsoon season, a major factor in enemy planning, will come in September.

Allie Ammentrott suffered a heart attack in San Angelo while there with Mrs. Ammentrott who was a patient in the hospital.

IDEAS FOR AN IMPORTANT PART OF YOUR HOME

Here are some tips for you on decorating one part of your home that's often neglected - the entrance area.

This is an important area because it is here that a visitor gets the first impression of your home.

One of the most important jobs for the entrance area is to say "welcome." Therefore, it should be inviting and cheerful.

If you have an attractive entrance area it increases the atmosphere of hospitality in your home. Bright, cheery, warm colors are usually best.

There are practical considerations for this area too. There usually should be someplace to put mail, keys, gloves, etc. If the area is not big enough for a table, you can consider wall shelves that require no floor space.

It's usually a good idea to have a mirror in this area. For one thing, a mirror will add depth and make your entrance way seem larger. For another, a mirror is practical for folks who want to take a last check at themselves before going out.

This area should be well-lighted, and if you do use furniture, remember to place it so it will not interfere with free and easy movement.

And here's one last tip for this area. Try some wall planters or floral arrangements. This will add one more bright, lively touch for you and your friends on entering your house.

No artificial bait is superior to the real thing.

Often, however, an artificial lure can be manipulated in such a way as to appear more lifelike than the real McCoy.

But let's talk about live bait.

Trouble with live bait is that too many fishermen simply put these natural baits on their hooks any old way. Then they cast them out, and expect the fish to grab them eagerly.

An important thing to remember about bait fishing is to use baits that are indigenous to the water in which you're angling. A frog might not produce a bite if fished in a spot where there are no frogs. But drop one in a pond where frogs are abundant and more than likely you'll find a taker.

For example, let's consider the clear-running Llano River which snakes down through the granite and limestone country of central Texas. Two of the best baits to use in this stream, for both catfish and bass, are hellgrammites and crawfish. Both are plentiful here. You can find them around shallow riffles and by overturning large rocks. Both baits really pay off.

So, fish natural baits where they appear natural.

A friend from Brady was telling me about an incident on Brady Creek, a small stream near this central Texas community. He'd been fishing for catfish without success. Then one of his acquaintances came up the bank with a heavy stringer of channel cats. He said he'd caught them on jumbo yellow grasshoppers... which were profuse along the grassy shoreline.

My friend put a "hopper" on his hook and tossed it out. He had plenty of weight to carry it to the bottom. For about 30 minutes he fished reel in, removed the weight and captured another lively grasshopper. He hooked it through the collar, behind the neck, and pitched it into the current. Old "hop" gave a few frantic kicks on the surface then vanished in a swirl. From that one spot my friend picked up nine nice cats.

Answer of course was to fish the bait without any hindering weight so that it would appear alive.

Often you can take channel cats simply by bailing earthworms on a hook and putting the bait right on bottom. Channel cat root along the bottom and feed both by smell and sight.

Black bass, on the other hand, feed visually. A black prefers something moving and alive.

To catch bass take a large worm and affix it to the hook so its ends are free, where it can wiggle. Use no weight. Simply let the worm float with the current and brace yourself for action.

I've taken numerous bass by "free fishing" a minnow; that is, using it without any weight.

I prefer a thin-wire hook, about a 3/0. In this case the minnow should be large, about three inches long or longer. Hook it through the lips just behind the dorsal fin. Toss it beside a submerged stump or alongside a weed bed and let it struggle as it sinks. If there is a bass lurking there, very likely it will pounce upon this helpless creature.

Free-fishing with earthworms also pays off well on streams just after a rain, especially when the river is rising and is murky. Hook the worm as you would for bass and simply let it tumble naturally along with the current.

Rising water washes many worms and insects from the banks and cats will gobble anything which appears helpless in the current.

With a bottom rig, one of the most popular methods is to tie a heavy sinker to the end of your line, then add a dropper line with a hook about 18 inches above the sinker.

This way, when the sinker is on bottom and the main line is drawn tight, the dropper is suspended just off bottom and it fans back and forth in the current... thus giving the bait a lifelike motion.

HOBBY CLUB MEETS

The Hobby Club met Tuesday at the community center in Langtry. Lunch was served at noon by the hostesses, Mrs. C. E. Roland and Mrs. Horace Schakelford.

Mrs. E. L. Babb installed the officers for the coming year as follows: Mrs. Newman Billings, president; Mrs. Andy White, vice-president; Mrs. Ed Lillie Jr., secretary; Mrs. Guy Skiles, treasurer; Mrs. B. C. Babb, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Andy White, reporter.

As some changes were made in the by-laws, the new officers will assume their duties in June, and the June meeting will be the first of the new club year.

A gift was presented to Mrs. E. L. Babb and also to Mrs. W. M. McBee, outgoing president. Door prizes went to Mrs. Newman Billings and Mrs. H. E. Cain and secret sisters exchanged gifts.

Also present were W. M. McBee, Nancy Roland and Mrs. Sam Hollmig.

Last To Die

Husband and wife both perish in an automobile accident. Seemingly, they die at the same time. Yet, if one has outlived the other even for an instant, that may make an enormous difference to their heirs. It may decide whether the husband's relatives or the wife's relatives inherit the estate.

Accordingly, in this "common disaster" situation, strenuous efforts are often made to figure out which of the two victims was the last to die.

In a recent case, double deaths occurred when a speeding truck rammed into the passenger side of a car. Both husband and wife died instantly.

But since the wife—sitting on the passenger side—had been struck first, a court concluded that the husband must have lived a fraction of a second longer. By this split second, the wife's relatives lost out on their claim to a share of the estate.

With common disasters becoming more frequent, many kinds of evidence have been found useful in deciding who died last. Anything from the position of the bodies to their physical condition may provide the telltale clue.

On the other hand, there may be no evidence at all, good enough to be trusted in the courtroom.

In another case, a mother and daughter were found dead of asphyxiation. The only "evidence" as to which one died last was that the daughter probably held out longer because she was younger.

But a court said this was plain guesswork, and turned down a claim put forth by relatives of the daughter.

Suppose the victims really did die simultaneously (or, at least, no one can prove otherwise). To cover this situation, most states have passed a Simultaneous Death Act. This Act lays down specific rules to settle the various conflicting claims that may arise.

A better solution in many cases is to have a "simultaneous death clause," tailored to your individual wishes, included in your will. In these days of high-speed transportation, such a contingency is well worth taking into account.

Men With Number 35 Or Below Face Draft Induction

Austin-Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, the State Director of Selective Service for Texas, is instructing Texas Draft Boards to issue Induction Orders to all 1972 First Priority Selection Group men with Lottery numbers of 35 or below.

Under the Uniform National Call procedure, the "Induction Cut-Off Number" was announced by Acting Director of Selective Service Byron V. Pepitone. Induction Orders will be issued to all fully acceptable registrants in the United States with Lottery Numbers of 35 or below who are members of the 1972 First Priority Group. This Priority Group is made up basically of men born in Calendar Year 1962.

The Defense Department

asked Selective Service to induct 15,000 men in April, May and June. The National Director previously established a Lottery Cut-Off Number of 15 for April and May, and has raised the Lottery Number to 35 for the June Induction Call.

Each registrant to be inducted is given at least 30 days notice before his Induction Reporting Date. All Induction Orders for June will be issued by May 31, 1972.

Glantz said there is no quota of men for Texas, but he expects the June call to result in approximately 650 inductions in Texas.

Glantz also said men in the 1972 First Priority Selection Group with Lottery Numbers of 75 and below could expect orders for a Pre-Induction Physical Examination in June or July.

G. W. Stewart, Chairman of Local Board No. 110, said six Induction Orders will be issued in Sutton, Schleicher, Crockett, Edwards and Kimble Counties. There are also 4 men who will be issued orders for Pre-Induction Physicals soon.

Dr. Samuel P. Ellison Jr., dean of the college of natural science at the university in Austin, is chairman of the symposium.

Mr. Hardy said that West Texas Utilities Company is vitally interested in the foundation's nuclear fusion research program at the university as an important potential source of energy for electric power generation. "Also, through our association with the university in this program," he said, "we are helping provide a field of research for some 80 graduate and undergraduate students from all over the state, and it gives us the opportunity to sponsor these annual high school science symposiums."

Nancy Appel To Attend Nuclear Science Classes

Nancy Appel, an Ozona High School student and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Appel, has been selected to attend the 12th Texas Nuclear Science Symposium for High Schools at the University of Texas at Austin June 5-8.

Frank Reavis, science teacher at Ozona High School, will accompany her to the symposium.

West Texas Utilities Company, a member of the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation which is joining with the university in putting on the symposium, will sponsor them.

Some 500 outstanding science students and their teachers from throughout the state are selected by their schools to attend the four-day meeting. Scientists and engineers for industry and education will discuss nuclear physics, engineering and related topics.

Two afternoons will be spent touring the science laboratories at the university, including those where experiments sponsored by the Texas Energy Research Foundation are being carried on in the thermonuclear (fusion) research.

"We are pleased that we can make this opportunity available to these young people," Roff W. Hardy, President of West Texas Utilities Company said. "Attending the symposium should provide them with an excellent opportunity for learning more about the latest achievements in nuclear science."

Speaking at the opening session will be Dr. John I. McKetta, the E. P. Schoch Professor of Chemical Engineering at the university and chairman of the National Energy Committee appointed by President Nixon.

Other noted speakers will include Dr. Stephen J. Gage of the White House Office of Science and Technology in Washington, D. C.; Dr. Leonard A. Sagan, associate director of the center for plasma physics and controlled thermonuclear research at the University of Texas; Dr. Harvey L. Cromroy, professor of entomology

Tips for Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club
By Mrs. Bailey Post

Since the week of May 7-14 is Soil Stewardship week, there is a long-range challenge for creative conservation. This nation has been blessed with abundant resources, but in this day of expanding population and growing industry, only the wise use of these resources will assure us of continuing growth and prosperity. The following poem, which was enclosed in our church bulletin, may help us all to assume the responsibility to attain a national goal.

It's the will and the skill of responsible man
To protect and use wisely the treasures of land--
The waters, the wildlife, the forests and fields,
Plus the bounty of beauty God's country side yields.

It's the fight against ignorance, waste, and greed.
To save the resources that all men need.
It's the foe of erosion, forest fire and flood --
Three agents of ruin, pollution, and mud.

It's the vision and work to add something good
To the home, to the farm, to the whole neighborhood.
It's new lawns and new gardens; a lake built to please;
It's roadsides with grass and hillslops with trees.

There's a lot to be done for the state of our living
But each gain requires your share of self-giving.

If you have planted calciums and they haven't shown growth, this may be from the recent cool weather. They need warm "cotton-growing" days and nights.
Plant a few dahlias at a time to get successive blooms until frost. Also, gladiolus bulbs may be planted successively until July, to get good cut flowers through fall.

It may be necessary to correct iron deficiency in some of your plants, such as peach trees, azaleas, hibiscus, wisteria, and others. When chlorophyll, the green coloring matter in plant leaves, is not available in adequate amounts, the plants young leaves will appear yellow between the veins. One of the best forms of iron is iron chelate. It does not get locked up with other soil chemicals, but remains available to plants. It can be sprayed on the leaves to be absorbed and to show a lush green in 48 hours. Chelates may also be mixed with water and poured over the soil to be taken up through the root system and green color should return within a week. Be sure and use amount called for on the label.

Since the great rain we have had, the trees, plants and flowers are bursting forth with new growth and blooms.

Yes, Faith is a gift. It comes only through our seeking, and the quest is not an easy one. Strangely enough, you might not find Faith in church. But there you will discover where to begin to look for it.

As applicable to residency of Jess Marley, the petition alleges that Article 5, 08 of the election code governs and quotes the article as follows:

(a) As used in this code, the word 'residence' means domicile; i.e., one's home and fixed place of habitation to which he intends to return after any temporary absence.

(c) A person shall not be considered to have lost his residence by leaving him (sic) home to go to another place for temporary purposes only.

(d) A person shall not be considered to have gained a residence in any place to which he has come for temporary purposes only, without the intention of making such place his home.

The petitioner pleads "that upon hearing hereof on the merits of the case, Petitioner have judgment that respondent, Jess Marley, forfeit his right to have his name placed on the ballot of the pending run-off election; or if necessary, in the alternative, forfeit his right to have his name placed upon the ballot of the general election to be held in Ozona, Crockett County, Texas, in the year 1972 for the office of county Commissioner of Precinct No. 1; that Respondent Bud Coates, Democratic County Chairman of Crockett County, Texas, be enjoined from certifying Jess Marley as a run-off candidate or as a candidate in the general election or issuing a certificate of election or appointment to this ineligible candidate, Jess Marley; for such other and further orders as the Court may deem necessary and proper, and for general relief."

Marley, seeking his second term as Commissioner from Precinct 1 owns ranch land and maintains a ranch home within the area embraced by Precinct 1 boundaries.
