Perryton High Grad of '40 Dies in Action

The following story concerning the death of Melvin Skinner is from the Clarendon Leader. Melvin Skinner graduated from the Perryton High School with the class of 1940. At that time he was an enrollee in the Perryton Soil Conservation CCC. Camp Headlee of the SCS says that Melvin was one of the best boys in the camp, a good worker, dependable and trustworthy.

"Miss Louise Skinner of Amarillo was notified January 18th by the War Department that her brother, S/Sgt. Melvin Skinner was killed in action over France June 6th.

Sgt. Skinner, who was 24 years of age, grew up in the Windy Valley community, attending school there and at Lelia Lake. He was graduated from the Perryton High School in 1940 and was employed there until 1941 when he accepted a civil service position at San Antonio.

"He entered the Armed forces in April, 1942 and was assigned to the 507th Parachute Infantry. He received his boots and wings in October, 1942, at Ft. Benning, Ga., and went overseas in December, 1943. He was located in England and Ireland until a short time before D day at which time he went into France with an Airborne division.

"He is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Inez Skinner of Clarendon, Louise Skinner and Mrs. Ethel Heppe of Amarillo, Mrs. Laura Dunlap of Grand Prairie, Texas; Mrs. Virgie Carver of Pasadena, Calif., T/Sgt. Roy Skinner of Camp Maxey, Texas, Leslie Skinner of Pampa and Cpl. Clyde Skinner who is somewhere in the Pacific.

Legion Drive For Cigarette Funds Stopped

The American Legion Post drive for funds for the purchase of cigarettes and tobacco for servicemen overseas has been discontinued, Cesar Truax announced this week. A check for $50.00 which would be purchased 4,000 packs of cigarettes for men overseas was returned this week by the Wm. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., because of an insufficient stock of Camels and Prince Albert to fill any orders of this kind.

Mr. Truax has removed the jars which had been placed in many business establishments so that all might contribute to this cause, and money that was in the jars at that time was placed in the containers for the March of Dimes campaign.

There is approximately $90.00 in the cigarette fund that must be disposed of; but nothing will be done pending the action taken by the Legion at a future meeting.

Snow and Sleet Moisture of .17 In.

The Perryton area has been getting a touch of winter the past week. Snow, sleet and rain brought .17 in. of moisture Saturday. Veterans Eligible For Business Loans Under G. I. Act

The necessary machinery for processing applications by veterans of World War, II for business loans under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944 (G. I. Bill of Rights) has been set up in the Dallas Loan Agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, L. B. Glidden, manager of the local agency, announced today.

Glidden's statement followed an announcement from Washington, D. C., that the Veterans Administration had designated the Reconstruction Finance Corporation as an agency to review applications to banks by veterans for the guaranty of business loans. Under the program, RFC will recommend to the appropriate office of the Administrator of Veteran's Affairs whether that office should approve or disapprove such applications.

Loans applied for may be used in purchasing any business, supplies, equipment, machinery or tools to be used by the veterans in pursuing a gainful occupation. The Government may guarantee repayment of such loans to the extent of 50%, but not in an amount exceeding $2,000 as its maximum guaranty. Thus, the veteran who qualifies for a business loan may obtain a guaranty for 50% of any loan up to $4,000. He may, of course, obtain from his banker a loan of greater amount, for instance, $6,000; but the guaranty is limited to $2,000. In loans of less than $4,000, the Government guarantees half; thus, in a $3,000 loan the guaranty amounts to $1,500, not more.

Glidden outlined the following essential steps for veterans desiring

New Full Gospel Church is Dedicated at First Service With No Outstanding Indebtedness

Last September, just five months ago, the Full Gospel congregation of Perryton launched a building program. At that time, Rev. Ralph A. Durham proposed a plan for acquisition of a site and the building of a new church home.

First the purchase of a site on the corner of Southwest 5th St. and Southwest 4th Ave. large enough to erect both a church and parsonage.

Permission to build and required rating for the purchase of materials was secured from federal authorities. Evang. Ruben D. Busch, Rockdale, Texas, was obtained to direct the construction.

Building was slowed many times on account of delivery of materials but the church was completed and on Sunday, Jan. 21, the new $7,000 church home was dedicated at a service announcing that not one single cent of indebtedness was outstanding.

When the building program was started in September the congregation had no building fund, not a single dollar,but the church is now paid for and it is the proud boast of the pastor and board members that this remarkable record was made without the solicitation of a single person.

Dedication day was observed with an all day home-coming program. Many from distant points were unable to attend on account of weather conditions.

Members of the church Board of Elders are: T. R. Murray, chairman; Mitchell Modrick, secretary; Alvin Diehl, J. A. Depew and Joe Lilly. Other officers are: Travis Flowers, sunday school superintendent; Mrs. Lenore Peck, pianist; and Miss Opal Pearl Murray, choir director.

The greater part of the labor in the building of the church was donated by members and friends. Rev. Durham, the officials and the members are profuse in their thanks to everyone who in any way contributed. They especially thank the various city departments who rendered assistance and business firms who gave liberal discounts on purchases of materials.

With the planting of the lawn and grounds and the erection of a beautiful neon sign on the steeple, which lifts its graceful finger toward the heavens, the new church home will be complete.

Local Tire Firm Scores Highest Sales Record

The Perryton Rubber Works, under the management of R. L. "Bob" Logan, led the field over all Goodyear tire dealers in the north part of the Texas Panhandle and western Oklahoma in tire sales last year, according to R. W. Teegarden, field representative for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company.

This record was based on total sales for the entire year, which adds to the fine showing made by the local firm, since it was in business only nine months of last year.

The tire firm has enjoyed splendid success since its establishment here in March of last year. The plant is acknowledged to maintain one of the finest equipped tire repairing and recapping departments in this section of the country.

Church Builder

Rev. Ralph A. Durham, pastor of the Full Gospel congregation, was the leader in a building program, launched last September without a dollar, that resulted in the building and dedication of a beautiful new church building, debt-free, on Jan. 21. Durham is also editor and publisher of the Gospel Voice, a 24-page magazine, that goes out monthly from Perryton to every part of the world.

Escapes from Bataan Death March; Rejoins American Forces on Luzon

Editor's Note: Sgt. Raymond Hunt Jr. is a nephew of J. F. Herndon of the meat department at Bryans Food Store. His mother, Mrs. Raymond Champ Hunt, St. Louis, is a sister of Mr. Herndon. She visited in Perryton in 1940. The following story was written by Homer Bigart, special correspondent of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. It was filed from Luzon under a Jan. 24 date line.

Camp O'Donnell, terminus of the "death march" from Bataan on April, 1942, and thereafter the detention center for thousands of American prisoners of war, was captured yesterday morning by reconnaissance troops of the American 40th Division.

No Americans were reported found in the camp, the Japanese apparently having long ago evacuated the prisoners. Natives said a small enemy force, numbering fewer than 1000, fled south on Monday night.

Camp O'Donnell, a cluster of wooden barracks in the Zambales Mountains, 10 miles west of the main road to Manila, was formerly a training camp for Philippine scouts. Its small airstrip was overgrown with tall grass when the Americans re-entered it yesterday.

Immediately after the fall of Bataan, the Japanese sent thousands of Americans, many of them ill with malaria, on a 10-day forced march to O'Donnell. The prisoners were brutally treated and were given no food on seven of the 10 days, and very little water. Some who collapsed enroute were bayoneted on the spot.

Story of Sgt. Hunt

Staff Sgt. Ray C. Hunt Jr. of St. Louis, Mo., who escaped from the "death march' and hid in the mountains until two days ago, when he met troops from the Fortieth Division, told of the agonizing thirst that gripped the fever-ridden prisoners during the ordeal.

Hunt, attached to the air force, arrived at Nichols Field in Nov. 1941, 19 days before the outbreak of the Pacific war. With air corps personnel, he fled to Bataan, serving as a rifleman until the final surrender.

"The Japs were getting ready for a crack at Corregidor and wanted all the prisoners off Bataan," he said. "I had come down with malaria and dengue fever and had been out of the hospital five days when the march began. The second day out I got feverish again. A Jap

News Regarding Sgt. Bill Stark Is Received

Encouraging though unofficial news was received this week by the family of Staff Sergeant William F. Stark, who has been missing in action over France since August 12, 1944. Sergeant Stark's wife, who is living at Downsville, Louisiana, received a letter from Mrs. Forsdike, a civilian friend in England, which contained the following paragraph:

"I had heard very good news a few days before receiving your letter. A man came into the Red Cross here in London, and we learned from him that Bill is safe and well. But he wouldn't tell anything else about him. Trust in this for I know he will return. We were wondering if he were on his way home again".

Information regarding Sergeant Stark received by his mother, Mrs. Buelah Stark, prior to this time was a letter from the Army Air Force Headquarters on September 29, 1944.

Bill, a member of a B-26 Marauder bomber crew, was on a combat mission near Fiers, France, on August 12 when the planes were subjected to enemy anti-aircraft fire and the bomber sustained damage. Members of accompanying planes on the mission could furnish no other details, the message stated.

JUST HERE and THERE

Congratulations to Glenn L. Wilson, former Perryton boy who has been named as one of two outstanding young men of Gary, Ind. for 1944. And Gary is no small town, it's a thriving, teeming steel city of over 200,000 people.

Glenn, we folks back here in Perryton are mighty pleased with this honor. And we're laying our chips on the line that you probably did just a little more than the average fellow would to win this honor. For all of your red hair you're just too modest to "toot your own horn" too much. We're just betting that your contribution to Gary was so great that it spoke for itself without a sales talk from Glenn Wilson.

There's a man back here in Perryton that is all swelled up about this signal honor that has come to you. In case you can't guess who we're talking about, it's none other than Dick Wilson. And Glenn, Dick didn't give us the story about his boy's success. It came from another old Perryton boy, Jesse B. Morris, who graduated with you from Perryton High back in 1931. Jesse has lived in Gary for five years.

"Dear God, give us strength to accept with serenity the things that cannot be changed. Give us courage to change the things that can and should be changed. And give us wisdom to distinguish one from another." The above quote is from "The Plane Shooter" from the Armed Guard School, Shelton, Va. It was sent to us by Lester R. Barnes, and by the way, Lester is the "Just a Sailor' who forgot to sign a letter to us a few weeks ago. Lester, we just kinda figured that letter was from you.

Herald Increases Charge for Personal Cards of Thanks

For many years, the Herald has made a flat charge of fifty cents for personal "Cards of Thanks." With the increased costs of newspaper production and labor shortage, we find that in most instances the fifty cents charge does not cover actual labor cost. Effective this date, all cards of thanks will be charged at the regular reader rate of fifteen cents per line with all blackface heads counted as two lines.

Farm Machinery Manufacturers to Produce Nearly as Much Equipment in '45 as Last Year

During the 1945 crop year it is expected that American farmers will obtain approximately the same amount of new farm machinery and attachments as they did in the previous year and nearly $20,000,000 more in repair parts, the Office of War Information said today in a report on farm machinery production and distribution. The supply will not meet greatly expanded demands.

Data for the comprehensive report were supplied by the War Food Administration, War Production Board, Bureau of Agricultural Economics and the Foreign Economics Administration.

Highlights of the report follow:

1. Approximately 90 per cent of the new farm machines (except tractors) rolling off assembly lines in the United States during the 1945 production year (July 1, 1944, to June 30, 1945) will be available for American farmers.

2. Approximately 10 per cent will go abroad—approximately 7 per cent in commercial exports, and 3 per cent through Lend-Lease, according to the Foreign Economic Administration.

3. For the 1945 production year, farm machinery companies have scheduled slightly more production in dollar value—a total of $697,000,000—of new machines, repair parts and attachments for domestic and foreign use than they had in 1944, WPB reported.

The 1945 production program is divided as follows: $455,000,000 for new machines; $204,000,000 for repair parts and $38,000,000 for attachments. This compares with scheduled manufacture in the previous production year (1944) when the total was $682,000,000. The 1944 total included: $465,000,000 for new machines; $185,000,000 for repair parts and $32,000,000 for attachments.

3. As long as the war continues, farmers will not be able to buy as much new farm machinery as they will need in order to maintain their facilities at greatest efficiency, the War Food Administration reported.

WFA said that in 1945 supplies of new farm machinery, even if manufacturing schedules are met, will not meet essential demands. No more new tractors, side delivery rakes, cambines or other haying and harvesting machinery will be available during the 1945 crop year than were available during the 1944 crop year.

Because emphasis is on military production, no action has been taken on the supplementary farm machinery production program as submitted by WFA to meet farm machinery needs that had developed among American farmers after the present production schedules were set, WFA reported. Current problems of farm machinery manufacturers are indicated by the fact that for the first quarter of the 1945 production year (July, August and September, 1944) production of new farm machinery, exclusive of wheel tractors, repair parts and attachments, was approximately 25 per cent behind schedule, according to the War Production Board.

This lag in production was caused by manpower shortages and the difficulty in obtaining components, chiefly malleable and gray iron castings. In the middle west, where the bulk of the American farm machines are made, the labor supply is very inadequate and is likely to remain so while urgent war production continues, WPB said.

Production of new farm machinery units is now at an annual volume that approximates that of 1941, the largest pre-war production year. During the 1943-44 census year (November 1, 1943, to October 31, 1944), however, American manufactures of farm machinery nearly doubled the dollar value of total production as compared with the 1942-43 census year.

American farmers are making greater use of individual farm machines during the war. The exchange and cooperative use of some machines, such as tractors and combines, has increased markedly.

The custom use (operation for hire) of other farm machinery, es-

ITALY: PIN-POINTING A SUPPLY DEPOT

Accuracy of our precision bombing is illustrated here in pictures taken during an attack by B-25 Mitchell mediums on a German supply depot at Tortona, Italy. First, the depot before the attack; second, billowing smoke after the first bomber wave; third, the smoke clears, showing buildings 60 per cent destroyed; fourth, the second wave launches destruction on remaining buildings. Note that no explosions can be seen in area other than the buildings, even during the second bomb run when the target was much smaller. (USAAF photos.)

S-Sgt. Glenn C. Wagoner Completes His 50th Flying Fortress Mission

FIFTEENTH AAF IN ITALY—If Staff Sergeant Glenn C. Waggoner, 20 were writing home to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Waggoner, Perryton Texas, about his combat experiences as waist gunner of an Italy based 15th AAF B-17 Flying Fortress, the letter might read something like this:

"After sweating it out for so long I firnally made it, on December 26 I flew my 50th mission over the oil refineries at Blechhammer, Germany. I couldn't have been assigned a tougher target to fly my 50th over.

"We ran out of oxygen before gone over the target and had to drop below the formation and go in on the bomb run alone. Before we got down to 18,000 feet we were using walk around oxygen bottles to breathe and twice I nearly passed out. Flak was very heavy. Our plane was hit several times but no damage was done.

"Blechhammer has been my jinx. On August 27 when I was flying to the oil refineries there we had a close call and never made the bomb run. Before reaching the target an engine went out and the oxygen system stopped working. We ditched everything including the ball turret but the plane wouldn't gain altitude and we had to turn around and go back without bombing the target.

"Then on October 13 I flew my roughest mission. Again it was to Blechhammer. Flak was heavy and attacking fighters shot down several planes in the group behind us. Flak knocked out one engine on our plane, the hydraulic system and chin turret. After going over the target we were able to stay with the others only a short while. Then the pilot had to drop behind over the Adriatic and we came home alone on three engines. When we landed the pilot couldn't keep her on the runway because the brakes had been shot out and we rode off the end.

"My first mission was on August 17 over an airdrome at Nis, Yugoslavia. Flak was heavy and accurate and our Fortress was badly shot up. One engine was knocked out, the controls damaged, and about 40 holes put in the waist near my position. Before going over the target the plane on our right in formation was hit in a wing tank and caught fire. The crew bailed out before the plane exploded and later they all got back.

"Six times our plane has returned with an engine shot out. I have seen German fighters but our plane never has been attacked, usually they attack a poorly flown formation and ours always were good. I like to fly over the Alps when they are snow covered and on my first mission into Germany I discovered the Blue Danube isn't blue—but yellow.

"Well, there's not much to write tonight. Tomorrow's a busy day so I'd better close now, Glenn."

Sergeant Waggoner was graduated from Perryton High in 1943 and employed by W. W. Virtue of Perryton when inducted into the Air Corps, June 29, 1943.

He attended armament school at Lowry Field, Denver, Colo., and received his aerial gunnery wings, Feb. 14, 1944, at Las Vegas, Nevada gunnery school. The Texas aerial gunner has been awarded the Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters for "meritorious achievement in sustained flight against the enemy."

3. Remember—1944 income tax return forms do not provide for payment of the unforgiven portion of your 1942 tax due March 15. Separate statements are being mailed.
4. Write your serviceman cheerful, re-assuring and frequent letters. Use V-Mail when you write overseas.
5. Beware of complacency. When the war news is good, redouble your efforts on the home front. Set an example your boy can be proud of.

Civilian Supplies Low

Supplies of meat, butter, sugar, canned and packaged foods, clothing and many durable goods will be smaller in 1945, OPA advises. Record buying and increased military demands in 1944 greatly reduced reserves, which have so far helped meet demands. The present scarcity of metal household equipment and appliances will remain acute until peacetime production can be resumed. At the same time more people will be eager to replace equipment and household furnishings that are now more nearly worn out. Shortages always generate an urge to pay higher prices to get more. This increases the dangers of inflation. In 1945, OPA states, supplies will be large enough to meet essential civilian needs but much smaller than the amount people could buy with the money they will have to spend. The OPA program to meet this situation asks rigid compliance with rationing regulations and price ceilings, plus restraint in buying and a high level of savings, including war bond purchases.

Ration Free Shoes

Limited quantities of men's and women's shoes may be sold to consumers ration-free at specified price reductions during the two weeks period of February 19 thru March 3, OPA announces. Two-fold purpose of the temporary ration holiday OPA states, is to give consumers the benefit of extra shoe mileage that otherwise might remain unused on dealers' shelves, and to help dealers clear their stocks of the normal accumulation of odds and ends and broken sizes. Before rationing, such shoes were customarily disposed of in seasonal clearance sales. OPA estimates that about 4,500,000 pairs of shoes will be sold in this special ration-free "sale."

Cut Automobile Ration

A cut of one-third will be made in the number of new passenger cars available for rationing in February when the quantity will amount to 2,000 cars on a national basis, or 1000 less than in preceding months, OPA reports. The action will leave about 12,000 new cars in the nation's stockpile.

Bonds Keep Debts Safe

"Encourage farmers to maintain a proper balance between making payments on mortgages and investing in war bonds," says the American Bankers Association in a bulletin addressed to the rural bankers of America.

Banks are advised to "encourage farmers to maintain a proper balance between making payments on mortgages and investing in war bonds. If a person pays a mortgage all up now, and then has to get another one after the war he may not be able to get terms as favorable as those he now has."

The bankers also call attention to the fact that "wear and tear on farm machinery and buildings must be paid for eventually, whether or not the mortgage is all paid off. A farmer will probably be in a safer position to end up the war with a moderate sized mortgage at a low interest rate and a good nest egg in war bonds than no mortgage, no bonds, and badly run-down buildings and equipment."

This is a part of the program of the American Bankers Association aimed at getting farmers to build up large enough war bond reserves to give them the financial protection in the post-war world.

Fred Wilson at Hot Springs for Reassignment

T/3 Fred L. Wilson, of Gray, veteran of 35 months overseas service in the European war theatre, returned to the United States in Dec. After spending a 22 day furlough at home he reported at the Army Ground and Service Forces Redistribution Station in Hot Springs, Ark.

The Redistribution Station is one of the installations recently set up by the Army Service Forces' 8th Service Command to reassign service men and women who come back to the United States from the fighting fronts under the rotation program.

These returnees will stay at the station for a period of less than two weeks, during which time they will be given a thorough physical examination and their records and back pay will be brought up to date. The veterans will then be given interviews so as to reassign them to the jobs where the Army will reap the fullest benefits from their experiences and qualifications.

Quartered in four of Hot Springs' major hotels, all recently acquired by the Army, returnees enjoy a broad program of athletics, recreation and entertainment, as a respite from the arduous tasks of war. In such surroundings where the hotel's services and furnishings have been maintained, their short stay will offer every opportunity for rest, relaxation and diversion. Their military duties are arranged to occupy no more than a few hours of the day and provisions have been made that their wives can share the hotel rooms at small expense.

Your Electric Refrigerator Needs Year Around Good Care to Make It Last

Don't neglect the care of your electric refrigerator just because it's wintertime. Remember, it's always summer in your kitchen. Follow these tips on the care of your refrigerator for longer life and more economical service:

- Defrost whenever frost reaches thickness of one-quarter inch. Frost acts as an insulator—increases operating expense.
- Wash inside of refrigerator, including freezer—with weak baking soda solution each time you defrost.
- Wash grease from door gasket periodically with mild soap and warm water. Make sure gasket seals tightly.
- Protect outside finish with coating of thin wax to protect against scratches and acids.
- Remove dust from condenser coils occasionally with soft bottle brush or hose of vacuum cleaner. Keep entire unit compartment clean.
- Do not store hot foods. Let them cool first.
- Cover all liquids. Moisture drawn to freezing unit speeds formation of frost.
- Keep cold control at lowest setting necessary to assure safe temperature.
- Oil open unit models per manufacturer's instructions. Sealed unit models need no oiling.

At least once each year, have a qualified serviceman check your refrigerator to see that it is in good operating condition mechanically. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

"Was I Worth It?"

By Roe Fulkerson in Kiwanis Magazine

Jimmy Smith was a typical American boy. He had never given his father and mother a moment's anxiety since the day he was born. He went through grade school with better than average marks; in high school he made both the football and baseball team. He was president of his class and was voted the most popular boy in school.

When he graduated, he went to college to studuy law so that he could go into his father's office. He was a happy, laughing, normal boy—a joy to his family and beloved by every one in his little town, particularly the pretty blonde who lived across the street and had gone to school with him ever since kindergarten.

Then came war. In common with most healthy, husky boys of his age, Jimmy looked at it as the big adventure. He enlisted at once, made officer's training and came out a lieutenant.

In due course he was shipped overseas, went into France with the invasion and stopped a German bullet. His promising young life was snuffed out instantly.

Jimmy Smith died for that intangible thing we call the North American way of life. He died for liberty. He died that you and I might continue to have the things we have always had and don't appreciate. In brief, Jimmy Smith died for me.

I WONDER IF I WAS WORTH IT.

Jimmy Smith died for me, a person who doesn't think very much about all the blessings he died to let me retain, and who doesn't appreciate him and his supreme sacrifice.

Let's think about it. The very fundamental of this North American way of life for which Jimmy died is the right and the duty to vote. We blessed people can and do select those who rule over us. Have I always exercised this right? Have I always gone to the polls on election day and cast my vote for the best man? Or have I stayed away, or have I merely voted for the man selected by the politicians to represent by particular party?

How about the bonds to buy the guns and the ammunition that Jimmy and ten million other Jimmies need? Have I really bought as many as I could afford? Have I made the least bit of sacrifice to lend my government the money to prosecute this war, or have I bought only as many as I considered a good investment for me, and held out an equal amount to buy the luxuries and the unnecessary things of life?

Jimmy, the more I think about it, the less certain I am that I was worth it.

How about my income taxes? Have I paid to the last dollar without secret evasion? Have I thought of this war in terms of dollars and cents instead of in terms of happy young lives blotted out?

Have I grouched about how my government is wasting tax money and how it is grinding the taxpayer down unnecessarily? Have I thought more of my pocketbook than I have thought about the brave young men who are fighting to preserve my opportunity to keep that pocketbook filled?

God forgive me if I have committed these sins!

It takes a mighty good man to be worth the loss of a fine young life like yours. The saddest thing about this war and every other war is that it takes away our youngest, our strongest, our bravest—and leaves behind the fellows like me.

Jimmy, I give you my promise right now, from this time forth, that I am going to so live in, and for, this blessed land of ours, that that splendid young life of yours shall not have been sacrificed in vain.

Christian Science

"Love" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 4.

The Golden Text is: "How excellent is thy lovingkindness, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings" (Psalms 36:7).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord is good to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works" (Psalms 145:9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Love is impartial and universal in its adaptation and bestowals. It is the open fount which cries, 'Ho, everyone that thirsteth, come ye to the waters' " (page 13).

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

How Jesus Healed The Sick and Was Made Unwelcome

The International Sunday School Lesson for Feb. 4
Text: Matthew, Chapters 8 and 9

THE Sermon on the Mount, which occupies three chapters of Matthew's Gospel, was evidently preached, or spoken, to the inner circle of disciples who gathered around Jesus as He sat down. But when Jesus came down from the mountain the people who had thronged about Him gathered again, and as the opening verse of Matthew 8 says, "great multitudes followed Him."

The chapters that follow are taken up with the stories of how Jesus brought healing. First the leper, whom He cleansed and told to go and show himself to the priest. Next was the healing of the Roman Centurion's servant, with the strong commendation of the Centurion's faith, and the declaration: "I say unto you that many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven."

Hard-pressed by the multitude Jesus went into a ship, and made that famous passage across the Sea of Galilee, in which He bade the waves be still, "and there was a great calm."

As Jesus came from the ship there met Him two men "possessed with devils," or as we should say, insane men. They asked that their "devils" should be cast into a nearby herd of swine, and these "ran down a steep place into the sea."

The passage is obscure, but the people of the nearby city when they heard what Jesus had done, and came out demanding that he should "depart out of their coasts." It meant nothing to them that two fellowmen had been healed from their terrible malady. They set a higher value upon their hogs.

There are men, and even communities today that are like that; but thank God! Jesus also was the Son of Man, and the multitudes who have lived in His spirit quicken our faith.

If you want your progress to stop, just be totally satisfied.

Methodist Raising $25,000,000 Fund Crusade for Christ

Of the $25,000,000 for relief and reconstruction when the war is over, which is now being raised by members of The Methodist Church in the Crusade for Christ, more than half will be spent in war devastated areas for food, clothing, medical supplies, and spiritual ministry, according to Bishop J. Ralph Magee of Chicago director of the four-year program.

Millions of dollars will be spent in China alone under the direction of the Foreign Missions Division of the church, with large amounts also going to war-torn European countries, the Philippines, Burma, Malaysia, Korea and Japan. Emergency missionary work also will be provided in India, Africa and Latin America. Another appropriation will give scholarships to leading nationals of several countries for attending American colleges.

Because specific needs are not now known in most war devastated and occupied countries, exact appropriations in each case will be determined by surveys to be made after the war, Bishop Magee explained. If destruction has not been as great as expected in one country and greater in another, funds will be shifted to meet the greatest need.

On the home front, Methodism's Crusade fund will provide millions for educational work, home missions and church extension. Additional church workers and religious buildings in war industrial cities, in needy rural areas, and among Negroes, Mexicans and other special groups will be made possible from the home missions and church extension allotment. Appropriations will provide aid to many Methodist schools and colleges, scholarships for students in theological seminaries, and programs for building Sunday School attendance.

Work among the more than 1,500 chaplains of the denomination will be helped from a Crusade appropriation. The American Bible Society, the World Council of Churches and a Methodist Bureau of Research also will be given support.

All Crusade for Christ money will be used for emergency, war-caused needs at home and abroad, Bishop Magee said. None will be spent for the regular program of the church, nor for recurring expenses in new programs.

guaranteed business loans: 1. The veteran should first contact his local banker. 2. If the veteran is unable to obtain a loan from his local banker, he should then apply to his nearest RFC Loan Agency for a loan. The address of the appropriate agency for this region is 301 Cotton Exchange Building, Dallas 1, Texas.

"Banks desiring to assist veterans in this program may obtain the necessary regulations and loan application blanks from the local regional office of the Veterans Administration", Mr. Glidden said.

"The requirements of the law are that the veteran must be found qualified by training or experience to engage in the type of business for which he seeks a loan, the property sought to be acquired is reasonable in price and suited to its intended purpose, and that the venture is likely to succeed.

"Since the Act does not provide for loans to run businesses, the lender will want to know whether the veteran has sufficient funds for this purpose, as well as ability, dependability, business experience, and business character, to assume a reasonable likelihood that the veteran's contemplated operations will be successful. The lender will also want to know whether the veteran has been in such business before entering the service and the nature of his service experience and training.

"Veterans are well advised to be on guard against fraudulent or absurd propositions and careful of exploiters. With the aid of the banker, who is schooled in such matters, veterans should investigate very carefully all propositions presented to them. There are many pitfalls, difficulties and hard work in operating one's own business."

35-year-old manager of the State and Grand theatres in Gary.

The following story concerning the presentation is from a Gary newspaper sent to the Herald by Jesse B. Morris, a former resident of the Perryton community.

"Wilson, 32-year-old artist employed in the Gary works engineering department, has created pictures and other portrayals which have stimulated campaigns of the war bond committee, the Red Cross and the United War and Community Chest, Jaycees and their bosses were told by Clarence W. Goris, chairman of the awards committee.

"Ruberti and Wilson, said Goris, "have used their diversified talents without stint in the interest of the community and have devoted long and even tiring hours, without thought of self, to do those things which they believed they should do.

"Artistic creations by Wilson, said Goris, "have been seen by most of Gary's citizens and have been a stimulus in sending Gary over the top in the war bond drives, the Red Cross and the United War and Community Chest campaigns.

"Mr. Wilson has also contributed untiringly in supporting the Gary Civic Symphony, the Music Festival and many other civic organizations. Most of his evening hours are spent serving his community in this manner.

"The background he designed for the Dr. E. Stanley Jones meetings last spring in Memorial auditorium was an inspiration to thousands who attended. At Gary works he has created many paintings that have been an inspiration to all employees, urging their best efforts in support of our armed forces by increasing production, buying bonds regularly, avoiding absenteeism and working safely.

"Wilson also has been active in the Good Fellow club and its youth camp."

Mrs. R. T. Correll and Mrs. M. H. Boehning, president and secretary of the Ochiltree County Infantile Paralysis Chapter, were in the office Wednesday afternoon, making the final collection of "March of Dimes' funds. They said that they would not be able to furnish the total amount of Ochiltree county's donations during the campaign which closed last night, but it looked like it would be at least one thousand dollars. That's mighty fine.

About the only thing that can stay in some people's heads longer than twelve hours is a cold.

A reformer is the kind of guy who would try to make you believe that he gave Eve back her apple.

Better to attempt remedying a situation than to sit quietly, sigh and think how good it would be if the situation could be remedied. —Theodore Roosevelt.

DO IT TODAY! The trouble about waiting to do big things is that the years pile up and nothing is ever done. The day is not far away when one's powers of accomplishment will not be equal to one's ambitions. Each dream will then remain—a dream. To sit by the dead embers of unrealized dreams is poor comfort for old age. The secret of getting big things done is simple. DO IT TODAY! Do the little things that must be done. . . . Now. Success is merely the accumulation of little things faithfully done. Today is a momentous day in your history. It will never come back. Tomorrow brings its own work. Give it a chance. DO IT TODAY!

Had a note from Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Zenor. They are now settled on an Arkansas farm near Prairie Grove. Mrs. Zenor says that they can look out any morning and see the squirrels playing in the tree tops but that Ross hasn't tried out his ability as a marksman.

guard had grabbed my canteen, and I had no water. I almost went mad with thirst. Another Jap gave me a canteen.

There were artesian wells all along the way, but we weren't allowed to stop. Those who fell out of line were clubbed and bayoneted. I saw a general officer with a bandaged head and passed several bodies the Japs had left uncovered.

Jumped Into Ditch

"I saw two sick men bayoneted because they couldn't keep up with the column. At long intervals we'd be given rest periods. The Japs would herd us into small enclosures where there wasn't even room enough to lie down. Then after a few minutes, the march would start again.

"I had plenty of chances to escape, but during the first 10 days I was too sick to try it. But on the tenth day I realized that I was near the end of my strength. To collapse meant death by clubbing. So I jumped into a ditch and lay still, hoping the guards hadn't seen me.

"There were about a hundred prisoners in the line, with guards at the front and rear of the column. I held my breath while the rear guards passed, and then crawled deeper into the brush."

Hunt headed north, aided by natives, and lived in the hills until Sunday when he encountered the Americans near Tarlac.

He enlisted Feb. 9, 1939. His mother said she was informed Oct. 9, 1942 that he was missing in action and on Nov. 21, 1944 she was notified by the War Department that her son was safe.

pecially combines, corn pickers and windrow pick-up balers, also has increased. Many farmers who bought new equipment while machinery was rationed during 1943 and the first nine months of 1944, agreed to share use of the machines with others as a condition of obtaining purchase certificates.

More intensive use of existing farm machinery is one factor that has helped to increase wartime food production in the United States. The food output reached an all-time high in 1944. More than one-third more food was produced during 1944 than in the pre-war period of 1935-39, although farmers were handicapped by shortages of farm machinery and labor, the War Food Administration reported.

The mechanization of American farms has increased since 1941 despite the curtailed production of farm machines. The number of certain key machines on farms has increased. Among them however, are machines that have passed their normal period of usefulness and would have been disposed of by farmers except for wartime conditions. Approximately 7 percent of the tractors and a comparable number of other machines on American farms on January 1, 1945, would have been replaced had new machines been available, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported.

In 1941, farmers replaced approximately 100,000 tractors. During the war the rate of replacement has been as low as 60,000 a year, the Bureau said.

There were approximately 12 per cent more tractors on Farms on January 1, 1945, than there were on the same date of 1942. Percentage increases in the number of tractor cultivators and tractor row crop planters were greater than for farm tractors. But the production of most machines for preparing and seeding of land increased less rapidly than the output of tractors, the Bureau of Agricultural Economcis estimated.

Farmers must rely chiefly on their existing farm machinery in 1945 even though rationing and distribution controls over new units have been removed, WFA emphaisized. The shortage of raw materials that early in the war limited the amount of farm machinery that could be made has been followed by the present inadequateness of manpower and components. Military production has priority call on both, the War Production Board said.

To keep existing farm machines in operation, manufacture of repair parts and attachments has been considerably increased. The scheduled production of repair parts and attachments in 1944 amounted to approximately 28.3 per cent of total farm machinery manufacture, as compared to 14 per cent in 1940, WPB said.

Production of new farm machinery units has been planned on the basis of farmers requirements. Production of certain harvesting and tilling machines has been increased to as high as 150 per cent over 1939 and 1941 levels. To aid farmers in making crop shifts necessitated by war, more harvesting machines of certain types, such as peanut pickers, have been made. Manufacturers plan production of 360 items of farm machinery for domestic distribution on a percentage basis of the shipping weight of the machines they made during 1940 or 1941, whichever year was higher. During 1940 and 1941 more farm machinery was made in the United States than ever before.

Farm transportation is likely to be one of the farmer's serious problems in 1945, the War Food Administration said. Both motor truck and automobile replacements have been extremely small since 1941. To keep farmers motor vehicles in operation during 1945, a better-than-average supply of repair parts, tires and services will be needed. The trickle of surplus army trucks that will be available to farmers will not materially improve the farm transportation situation, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

It's great to be here...Have a Coca-Cola

...or helping a soldier feel at home

When he's back on furlough, it's the little things a soldier left behind that he looks for. In three words, Have a Coke, much of his old life comes to mind. For Coca-Cola was part of his days after school or after work, with the gang and with his girl. A happy remembrance of carefree times. Ice-cold Coca-Cola holds a warm and friendly place in American life. And it should have a special place in your icebox at home. Wherever Americans go, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become a symbol of our friendly way of life.

You naturally hear Coca-Cola called by its friendly abbreviation "Coke". Both mean the quality product of The Coca-Cola Company.

NOW! A New Method of Weighting and Inflating Tractor Tires!

GOODYEAR "SOLUTION 100"

The New Sensational Method of Filling Tractor Tires Completely With Liquid Solution!

Water weighting—introduced by Goodyear several years ago—is merely a simplified way of adding more weight for less slip—greater traction.

"Solution 100" is something more—and the method of using it is brand new. It adds even greater weight for still less slip and still greater traction. But it gives you many other advantages besides—advantages not possible by any other method of weighting or inflation.

What is this new "SOLUTION 100" method? It's filling tractor tires completely wwith liquid solution (water or calcium chloride solution as needed) instead of part solution and part air—with an ingenious new pump and control device developed by Goodyear engineers.

By eliminating all air and replacing it with liquid solution, this traction efficiency skyrockets to new heights—you save substantially on fuel costs and tire wear—you accomplish more work each day—do away with most of the bother of tractor tire maintenance.

And here's the beauty of it. The cost is negligible. And you can enjoy all the advantages of "Solution 100" in your present tires—regardless of make—as well as in new tires.

With This New Equipment We Can Remove The Calcium Chloride From Your Tractor Tires and Replace Without Loss!

"SOLUTION 100" GIVES THESE 8 ADVANTAGES

- Maximum Traction — Minimum Slippage
- More Work — Less Expense
- Constant Inflation — No Pressure Loss
- Increased Load Builds Up Pressure
- Increased Drawbar Pull
- Less Bounce — Less Tiring
- Longer Tire Life
- Less Care and Attention

ATTENTION . . . MR. FARMER!

Don't wait until harvest time to have your Truck and Pick up Tires repaired and recapped and Tractor Tires brought up in shape!

Let Us Do the Work Now to Avoid Delay

For Maximum Tractor Efficiency and Economies — Use

GOODYEAR SURE-GRIPS PLUS "SOLUTION 100"

Goodyear Sure-Grip Tractor Tires — with the famous Open-Center Tread — cut 6 day's work to 5! This is proved by tests conducted by independent investigators, with no axe to grind, and interested only in proving once and for all time the relative merits of the open-center tread over connected bar tread types of tractor tires.

Imagine then — the really great advantages in efficiency, in savings of fuel, time and tires you can enjoy wwith Goodyear Sure-Grips plus "Solution 100." With an already greatly increased traction of Sure-Grips, plus an even greater increase in traction from "Solution 100", it's easy to see the savings in fuel—and of tires as well, because with more slip there's more wear!

Come in today, let us prove to you the many advantages claimed for Goodyear Sure-Grips and "Solution 100"!

El Juego

It seems that the Rangers have finally hit their stride. They won four out of five of the games played this week.

The first game was with the Booker Kiowas in the Ranger gym Wednesday, Jan. 24. The Kiowas led the Rangers until the last quarter, then the Rangers showed what they had. The game ended with a 39-26 win for the Rangers.

The other four games were played at the Canadian Tournament, in which the Rangers went to the semi-finals.

The first game played in the tournament by the Rangers was with Shamrock at the city hall at 11:30 Friday. The Rangers came through to the tune of 48-24.

The next game was played with Darrouzett at the Canadian High School, 4:30 Friday. The determination of the Rangers finally brought them another win to the score of 36-24.

This win took them on to the Quarter-finals of the tournament. This game was played with the Phillips Blackhawks 11:30 Saturday morning. Both teams played good hard ball, but again the Rangers came through with a 21-20 victory.

The Rangers again hit the court at 3:30 that afternoon to battle the Borger Bulldogs. Although they were still battling when the last whistle blew, they were defeated by a score of 29-45.

Cecil Bartel, Ranger center, was voted for the first team of the all-star players of the tournament.

"BLITZKRIEG ON YOUTH"

Seventeen years ago I opened my eyes to the world blessed with two sturdy legs.

I have been lucky, the sturdiness of my legs has not been challenged.

Many smiling faces and twinkling eyes have been dimmed and saddened with the cruel, sudden effects of infantile paralysis. Children whose lives have been full and complete, whose happiness has been undisturbed because of health, are now invalids, victims of youth's deadly disease.

Infantile paralysis spares no one, shows no favor. The doors of the rich, as well as the poor, cannot be barred from this deadly menace.

What could be more wicked than a disease that preys on defenseless young, a disease that has no mercy on the beauties of youth? Why must our children be denied the joys of childhood? Why must our children's freedom be interned in steel braces? Science, cannot, as yet, answer these questions that crowd the mind of every American, but men are dedicating their lives to this, the greatest problem of Science today.

This is the beginning of the second week of the "March of Dimes," the war against infantile paralysis. Let's give a Texan's share, 100%, to combat the "Blitzkrieg On Youth."

Cheer Leaders Get Awards

A concert, of much the same nature as the grade school program, was presented to the students and faculty of Perryton High School, Friday, Jan. 26, in the high school auditorium, the proceeds will go to th "March of Dimes."

Miss Jimmie Roach is a substitute teacher for Mrs. Spencer Whippo, a second grade teacher, who is in Kansas City with her husband who is ill.

Four new teachers who reported for duty Monday, Jan. 29 were Misses Charline Witzel, Eunice Massey, Jean Ann Essex, and Norma Joe Hensley.

FEBRUARY

February is the second month of the modern calendar. In ordinary years it contains twenty-eight days; but in bissextile or leap year, it consists of twenty-nine days. This month was not in the Romulian Calendar. In the reign of Numa, two months were added to the year, namely, January at the beginning and February at the end in 452 B. C. Later other months were added and at the present, 12 months go to make up our modern calendar.

February has often been referred to as "the birthday month" because several important people's birthdays are celebrated annually at this time. On February 22, the birthday of George Washington, first president of the United States and who is popularly called "the father of our country" is observed.

On the 12th of February, 1809, another great son of America entered into a troubled world and later when he became the sixteenth president, Abraham Lincoln made history with the great deeds of the so-called impossible which he administered.

On February 2nd one of America's favorite and most superstitious days rolls around. According to the legend, the ground hog or woodchuck then emerges from his winter sleep to observe the approach of spring. If the ground hog sees his shadow, he retires to his burrow for six weeks more of winter, but if the day is cloudy, he remains above ground, confident of continuing mild weather.

"Cupid's Day" comes on February 14 because of a series of known festivals that occured on this day long ago. Valentine or Valentines is a name of a considerable number of Saints, the most celebrated of whom are two martyrs, who gave these festivals.

One of the more modern celebrated dates comes on February 8th which the Boy Scouts of America have proclaimed as their day and one which was observed rather lavishly before the war.

Other important dates in the second month of the year is Septuagesima Sunday on February 20th; Ash Wednesday on February 23; and the Feast of Matthias on February 24.

Local events are also in the spotlight this month. Around P. H. S., several students are looking forward with anticipation to various days of this month. It seems a number of birthdays are to be celebrated. Among which are the birthdays of Earl Mounts, Pat Arnold, Gwen Phage, Paul Noe, Gene Mounts, Dwendle Atchison, Cecil Bartel, Jerry Carmichael, Shannon Daniel, Marvin Fleming, Imogene Harrison, Laura Taylor, Billy Tregallis, and Virginia Willams.

February is a very important month, you see, so to everyone; "A Happy February."

Our Defenders Speak!

The Herald asks that men and women from this community serving in the armed forces write letters to this department for publication. Letters to relatives that would be of interest to the public will be published under this heading.

January 19, 1945

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Stewart:

Your Christmas greeting arrived the other day. Was very pleased to hear from you. The paper has not come for several weeks but am expecting it any day.

I hope it isn't as hot in Perryton as here; it's almost imperative you keep on the move to avoid being "well done."

Due to military censorship my tongue is tied so I'll add my 30 and shove.

Good luck to all of you,
Bob

Dear Mr. Stewart:

Have been getting your paper several weeks now. I thank you and your staff and the USO. Got the paper today and have been reading it.

Had a hard days work today; I was in the kitchen all day and kept eating till I was finally miserable. I am making a pretty good KP. I beat one of the cooks down this morning.

Will close as I expect they have something for me to do tomorrow besides eat.

Thanks again,
Pvt. Keith Stephenson

Editor's Note: The following letter was received some time ago from "a sailor". Seeking the writer, a paragraph of "Just Here and There" in the January 11 issue of the Herald brought results. Lester R. Barnes, now stationed at Norfolk, Va., was the sailor who just didn't sign his name.

December 30, 1944
Philadelphia

Dear Van:

I am going to drop you a few lines to let you know that I got four papers here and six in Panama 14 days ago. I refused liberty tonight so I could read them; I go for that paper in a big way.

Nine days ago in Venezuela it was around 100 degrees Farenheit, and now it is a little above zero. I mean to say that I am cold; I had a good sun tan, but I guess that I will lose it in a day or so.

I had a good liberty in Venezuela and Panama. It is very interesting to go through the canal, especially the docks. I am still puzzled about the Atlantic being 12 feet higher than the Pacific. It looks to me like they would be the same. There is all the difference in the world in the Suez and the Panama Canal. The Suez is nothing but a trench full of water which runs through the desert.

We passed a Jap Island north of New Guinea; we were so close that we could see the Japs on the shore. We could have killed a few of them with our big guns but they were nice and peaceful, so we let them alone before they used their big guns on us. The lieutenant said we were to protect the ship and not to start trouble.

Well, I must close and "hit the sack".

A sailor
Norfolk, Va.
January 23, 1945

Dear Van:

I am receiving the paper now. Boy, I sure do enjoy reading it. I noticed in the January 11 issue that you had received a letter from a sailor, well, I wrote that, but I sure thought that it was signed. I went on liberty that night in New York and let me warn you that is a place to stay away from on a day like New Year's eve. People were packed solid in Times Square.

After February 5, I will be moved, I think, back to the Armed Guard Center in Brooklyn.

I am enclosing our paper, great thing for this base.

So long,
Lester R. Barnes.

Barbecue Pit Plans Are Available

COLLEGE STATION—A new bulletin on the construction of out-door barbecue ovens and utility furnaces has been released by the A. and M. College Extension Service, and copies are available from county home demonstration agents.

Miss Sadie Hatfield, Extension specialist in landscape gardening is author of the new publication which is entitled "Barbecue and Utility Furnaces." Several kinds, including those suitable for both urban and rural homes are pictured in the bulletin. Some can be used as trash incinerators and others for heating water on wash days.

Various materials, such as native sandstone, river rocks and bricks are discussed, and pointers given on locating the furnaces and on suitable landscaping for their protection. Blueprints on constructing home- and commercial-size barbecue pits are also available from the Extension Service.

• Booker Club

The Booker Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Orso Hibbs recently. The meeting was calld to order by the president. Roll call was answered by "My Victory Goals for 1945."

It was voted to have our valentine party at the home of Mrs. Merlin Howard, February 16, at eight p. m. A committee was appointed to make plans for the party.

A letter was read from our council chairman thanking each member for her Christmas gift. Also a letter was read from Mrs. Bechthold asking to be released as Secretary-treasurer. This was granted and Mrs. H. A. Goode was appointed in her place.

The Booker Home Demonstration club raised our dues from 85 cents to one dollar. The 85 cents is used to meet expenses on year books. 10 cents is spent for educational funds and expenses of council meeting. Also expenses are paid to our delegate to attend the state council meeting.

A good number was present and a demonstration was given on the prevention of common diseases thru good eating habits.

The following foods are necessary for a balanced diet; one quart milk a day, one green leafy or yellow vegetable, potato, a citrus fruit or tomato, or mixed fruit, one serving of meat, butter, whole grain cereal, or enriched product and an egg a day.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Wesley Hibbs, February 2.

We had two light but very wet snows last week. The roads have been terrible.

Jay Pierce, Johnnie Reimann and Ed Claybrook helped C. F. Gates butcher last Tuesday.

Raymond Claybrook and Chester Ricker of Holtville, California have been visiting their parents and relatives; they left for home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cowan and children were in Perryton Saturday.

We are all sorry to hear of the illness of Wayne Jones and hope he may soon be better.

Bob Henline and John Claybrook started to Beaver Saturday but found the roads and weather too much so finally got back home.

Fred French ventured out in the mud Wednesday. Said he went to town horseback Tuesday, rode his horse to Gray and caught a ride into Perryton.

"The Very Thought of You" Plays Sunday-Monday at the Ellis

Dennis Morgan apparently believes in the old tradition of carrying the bride over the threshold in the above scene from "The Very Thought of You," playing Sunday and Monday at the Ellis. Eleanor Parker is the lovely bride. The plot is a simple one—and familiar. A boy and a girl meet, fall in love, and marry on furlough time—against family opposition. A baby son is born while his father fights overseas. Strangely enough the tiny boy unites his mother's family, long separated in spirit by petty jealousy and pride. And his father, wounded in battle, returns to a happiness insured by the love of his wife, and to a marriage that he was told would "never last."

New Ice Musical Plays at Ellis Thursday-Friday

Happy combination of story, music and gorgeous ice rink sequences brings delightful entertainment to the Ellis Theatre, where "Lake Placid Serenade," starring Vera Hruba Ralston, plays this Thursday and Friday.

This is definitely the tops in ice-musicals, judged by every standard. Miss Ralston, hereself, is not only an Olympic figure skater of rare beauty and talent, but in this story she becomes a romantic actress of exceptional quality.

The supporting cast, with handsome Robert Livingston in the lead, includes such notable players as Eugene Pallette, Walter Catlett, William Frawley, Vera Vague, Ruth Terry and Lloyd Corrigan.

Harry Owens and Ray Noble, the famous band men, appear with brilliant musical accompaniment and in the course of the action there are several notable specialty acts. Among them are McGowan and Mack the figure and speed skaters, Felix Sadovsky, of the pre-war Warsaw Opera and his partner, Janina Frostova, ballet dancers, Twinkle Watts, the juvenile marvel of the rinks, Roy Rogers, "King of the Cowboys," and beautiful Janet Martin, the singer.

Here is good news for Texas relatives of men in Japanese prison camps:

The Japanese government has at last announced that a full shipload of U .S. relief supplies has been delivered to prisoner-of-war camps where American soldiers are held. If the announcement is true, it means that for the first time in many months, our men in the hands of the Japanese are receiving recreational supplies, books, study courses, sports equipment and other material designed to ease their prison boredom, as well as food and cigarettes.

The ship carried a large shipment of supplies sent by War Prisoners Aid, the National War Fund agency which looks after the welfare of our boys in enemy prison camps. The supplies were purchased with contributions of millions of home-front patriots who gave to their County War Chests during the annual National War Fund campaign.

For months, the Japs have held up shipment of the relief goods. Persistent negotiations by War Fund and War Prisoners Aid representatives, however, finally forced delivery of the shipment. The War Fund agency is represented abroad by Swiss and Swedish neutrals, who have done a good job in supervising delivery of relief to Americans in both Germany and Japan.

If the delivery reported this week indicates a new Japanese policy, National War Fund agencies will continue to send relief supplies to our men on a regular schedule.

A Marine officer recently dropped a tip as to why that famed corps has been able to set such a fine fighting record: a large proportion of the corps is made up of Texans!

At one time, 27 per cent of all Marine volunteers came from the Lone Star state. Even now, Texas contributes far more than its per capita share to the ranks of the fighting leathernecks!

Two residents of West Texas, have recently been wounded in fighting abroad, but both are expected to recover. They are Pfc. Ernest Hutys, 22, who was hit while fighting inside Germany, and Pfc. Leo Klimitchek, 20, who was wounded in Luxembourg.

And from a Nippinese prison camp comes word from Jerry Hines, whose Mansfield, Texas, parents had not heard from him in more than a year. Jerry wrote that he was in "fair" health, but that his spirits were undimmed.

Good news came this week, too, for Charles A. Musselman, United War Chest of Texas field representative. The UWCT official's son, an army doctor, was captured on Bataan, and for many months his parents had received no word from him. But this week Mr. Musselman received two short notes, in which Dr. Jim Musselman reported his health good and asked for news from home.

Cpl. Harry Morgan of Abbott is now serving as a radio-gunner with the famed "Lone Rangers" heavy bomber unit in the South Pacific . . . Corp. Bill Thomas of Mansfield has won the Silver Star medal for gallantry . . . Capt. Edwin Weldon, former Henderson attorney and veteran of six Pacific island invasions, has been promoted to major . . . Lt. John Byrom of Gatesville, pilot of a B-17 bomber, now wears the Air Medal, won in European skies . . . and Lt. Alvin Franek of West has been given the coveted Distinguished Flying Cross in addition to a presidential citation for his work as a fighter pilot in Europe.

The "Texas Air Force" and the "Lone Star Army" are still in there fighting!

Doughboys' Pet Dog Is Buried in France

WITH THE SEVENTH ARMY IN FRANCE—Smokey, the pet dog of C Battery, 155th Field Artillery Battalion of the 36th Division, will eat pun powder and shaving cream no longer, according to his owner, S/Sgt. William W. Etzel of Houston.

"Smokey just fell asleep under one of the ammo trucks and the driver, failing to notice him, drove over him," said S/Sgt. Etzel.

The news of Smokey's death spread quickly and quietly. His masters buried him on the slope of a hill overlooking the Rhine Valley, and his dogtags were nailed to his little cross.

Red Cross Room Notes

Bedside bags are being made at the Red Cross rooms now. These are made of muslin, and are hung on the sides of the beds of the sick in the Veterans hospitals.

Last Thursday, members of the Baptist Missionary circles sewed on hospital pajamas and robes when they met in various homes. The Methodist women met at the Red Cross rooms and finished the last hospital robes.

The rooms are open every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon for anyone who will sew. Also some yarn is on hand to be let out to knitters, to make sweaters.

Gas Conservation

Throughout the north and east people have been urged during past weeks to make whatever provision they could for fuel. Because of tremendous war demands all fuels are being rationed, including gas. A lot of homes will not be too comfortable during the winter months ahead.

Here there has been no rationing of gas by the government but consumers should not take advantage of that fact. Gas has been playing a major role in the war effort and because of that contribution it isn't too plentiful. Barring unforseen accidents there should be sufficient gas for consumers' needs during the coming winter but they are urged to practice conservation as much as possible.

It can always be done better with gas, but now is the time to save as much of that important fuel as you can.

rnie Pyle's Slant on the War:

igging Ditches Becomes Welcomed Job to G.I.s

Foxholes Offered Protection Against Nazis' Continued Attack

By Ernie Pyle

(Editor's Note): This dispatch was written and first published when Pyle with the G.I.s at the African front. He is now on his way to cover the in the Pacific war zones.

WITH TROOPS IN AFRICA:—When our Sahara salvage pedition found wrecked airplanes far out on the endless ert, the mechanics went to work taking off usable parts; d four others of us appointed ourselves the official ditch-gers of the day.

e were all afraid of being strafed e Germans came over and saw men working around the planes and we wanted a nice ditch handy for diving into. The way to have a nice ditch is to dig one. We wasted no time.

rnie Pyle

Would that all slit trenches could be dug in soil like that. The sand was soft and t; just the kind children like lay in. The four of us dug a ding ditch 40 feet long and 3 feet in about an hour and a half.

e day got hot and we took off shirts. One sweating soldier : "Five years ago you couldn't ot me to dig a ditch for $5 an r. Now look at me.

You can't stop me digging ditches. on't even want pay for it; I just for love. And I sure do hope digging today is all wasted ef-t. I never wanted to do useless rk so bad in my life.

Any time I get 50 feet from my e ditch you'll find me digging a ditch, and brother I ain't jok-I love to dig ditches."

Digging out here in the soft des-sand was paradise compared to clay-like digging back at our e. The ditch went forward like a irie fire. We measured it with eyes to see if it would hold ev-body.

"Throw up some more right re," one of the boys said, indi-ting a low spot in the bank on her side. "Do you think we've it deep enough?"

"It don't have to be so deep," an-er one said. "A bullet won't go ough more than three inches of nd. Sand is the best thing there for stopping bullets."

A growth of sagebrush hung over ditch on one side. "Let's leave right there," one of the boys said. 's good for the imagination. kes you think you're covered up n when you ain't."

That's the new outlook, the new e of conversation, among thou-ds of American boys today. It's rd for you to realize, but there certain moments when a plain ditch can be dearer to you than y possession on earth. For all mbs, no matter where they may d eventually, do all their falling raight at your head. Only those you who know about that can r know all about ditches.

A Soldier's Letter.

While we were digging, one of the ys brought up for the thousandth e the question of that letter in e Magazine. What letter, you ? Why, it's a letter you prob-y don't remember, but it had be-e famous around these parts. t was in the November 23 issue, ich eventually found its way over e. Somebody read it, spoke to a friends, and pretty soon thou-ds of men were commenting on letter in terms which the fire artment won't permit me to set paper.

o get to the point, it was written a soldier, and it said: "The atest Christmas present that can given to us this year is not smok-jackets, ties, pipes or games. If ple will only take the money and war bonds . . . they will be ping themselves and helping us be home next Christmas. Being e next Christmas is something ch would be appreciated by all us boys in service!"

he letter was all right with the diers over here until they got n to the address of the writer and covered he was still in camp in States. For a soldier back home pen his trap about anything con-ming the war is like waving a red at the troops over here. They they can do whatever talking is essary.

"Them poor dogfaces back ome," said one of the ditch-iggers with fine soldier sar-asm, "they've really got it rug-ged. Nothing to eat but them old greasy pork chops and them three-inch steaks all the time. I wouldn't be surprised if they don't have to eat eggs several times a week."

"And they're so lonely," said an-other. "No entertainment except to rassle them old dames around the dance floor. The USO closes at 10 o'clock and the night clubs at 3. It's mighty tough on them. No won-der they want to get home."

"And they probably don't get no sleep," said another, "sleeping on them old cots with springs and ev-erything, and scalding themselves in hot baths all the time."

"And nothing to drink but that nasty old ten-cent beer and that awful whisky," chimed in another philosopher with a shovel.

"And when they put a nickel in the box nothing comes out but Glenn Miller and Artie Shaw and such trash as that. My heart just bleeds for them poor guys."

"And did you see where he was?" asked another. "At the Albuquer-que Air Base. And he wants to be home by next Christmas. Hell, if I could just see the Albuquerque Air Base again I'd think I was in Heaven."

That's the way it goes. The boys feel a soldier isn't qualified to com-ment unless he is on the wrong side of the ocean. They're gay and full of their own wit when they get start-ed that way, but just the same they mean it. It's a new form of the age-old soldier pastime of grousing. It helps take your mind off things.

Into Northern Tunisia.

We moved one afternoon to a new position just a few miles behind the invisible line of armor that sep-arates us from the Germans in Northern Tunisia. Nothing happened that first night that was spectacular, yet somehow the whole night be-came obsessed with a spookiness that leaves it standing like a land-mark in my memory.

We had been at the new camp about an hour and were still setting up our tents when German planes appeared overhead. We stopped work to watch them. It was the usual display of darting planes, with the conglomerate sounds of ack-ack on the ground and in the sky.

Suddenly we realized that one plane was diving straight at us, and we made a mad scramble for fox-holes. Two officer friends of mine had dug a three-foot hole and set their tent over it. So they made for their tent, and I was tramping on their heels. The tent flap wouldn't open, and we wound up in a silly heap. Finally it did open, and we all dived through the narrow open-ing all at once.

We lay there in the hole, face down, as the plane came smack overhead with a terrible roar. We were all drawn up inside, waiting for the blow. Explosions around us were shatteringly loud, and yet when it was all over we couldn't find any bomb holes or anybody hurt.

But you could find a lot of nerv-ous people.

Dusk came on, and with dusk be-gan the steady boom of big guns in the mountains ahead of us. They weren't near enough for the sound to be crashing. Rather it was like the lonely roll of an approaching thunderstorm—a sound which since childhood has always made me sad with a kind of portent of inevitable doom.

We went to bed in our tents. A nearby farmyard was full of dogs and they began a howling that last-ed all night. The roll of artillery was constant. It never stopped once in 24 hours. Once in a while there were nearer shots which might have been German patrols or might not.

We lay uneasily in our cots. Sleep wouldn't come. We turned and turned. I snapped on a flashlight.

"What time is it?" asked Chris Cunningham from the next cot.

"Quarter to one," I answered. "Haven't you been asleep?"

He hadn't.

• Dombey, Okla.

This community was made sad last Monday in the passing of Beav-er County's early pioneer, E. M. Sherrill. Mr. Sherrill served on the school board when there was no school in this community. Later, when our school house was a 16x24 foot half dug-out we were very proud. The writer was one of the scholars in this first school; they called it "Deep Water". There was no high school then like there is now, so Mr. Sherrill sent his chil-dren to Goodwell as they grew up and were ready for high school. He had been ill for several years, but was always very cheerful and glad to see his friends. This community extends sympathy to the bereaved family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kulow have both been on the sick list the past week.

Mrs. Chester Bartel and two chil-dren visited Tuesday with Mrs. Bartel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kulow.

Mrs. R. L. Newell of Liberal is staying a few days with her mother, Mrs. Agnes Duersan. Homer Robert-son is to be commended on the good two miles of road west of Frank Hightower's. Homer took up $7.50 in donations and the county gave $7.50 to gravel it. That is the only road we can get over out of the Dombey community; all residents south and west of Dombey go by this road to get to the highway.

Mrs. Lloyd Mitchell and little daughter, Linda Lee, returned this week from spending a week at the R. B. Mitchell home west of Liberal.

The McMillen Home Demonstration Club met Thursday, January 25, in the home of Mrs. J. L. Flow-ers.

Mrs. Harvey Urban gave a very interesting talk on "Growing Flowers and Shrubs from cuttings," stating that in starting them it was best to have more than one branch as so often one would not root success-fully.

After the business meeting, a love-ly refreshment plate was served to Mrs. James Hardy, Mrs. Fred Tar-box, Mrs. H. B. Urban, Mrs. Hollis Gossett, and the hostess, Mrs. J. L. Flowers.

All Purpose Starting Mash

The efficiency of a pullet, regardless of breeding may be destroyed during the first few weeks of its life by improper feeding. A runt seldom develops into a profitable layer. Feeding, of course, is not everything in raising chicks, but it certainly plays one of the most important parts.

You cannot afford to take a chance on losing chicks. Feed Equity Brand All-Purpose Starting Mash, the feed that contains all the necessary elements to build all parts of their bodies. Especially designed for baby chicks, to get them off to a flying start, during the first six weeks, which is the most delicate period of their lives.

don herold says:

Imagine yourself atop a building, says Robert Updegraff, saying:

"I'm going to direct the speed and steering and starting of all those cars, trucks, busses and trolley cars down there."

If you had power to do this with some magnetic device, you'd soon have a heck of a mess on your hands!

Traffic moves at all, says Mr. Updegraff, only because each car is driven by a person who can see the few feet ahead of and behind him, and the few inches on either side of him, and who has only one car to control.

Traffic cops and traffic lights help, but this is regulation or policing—not "managing," as in a rigidly planned economy.

New Sallman Painting Depicts Theme of Crusade for Christ

CHICAGO — Warner Sallman, whose portrait of Christ has sold 4,500,000 copies, depicts here the support of millions of Christians to the determinaiton of their Leader that there be no more war. Methodists are among those who are working for liberty and justice for all men, through their four-year, five-fold Crusade for Christ.

Posters of the Sallman painting, now appearing in more than 41,000 Methodist churches across the nation, appeal for sacrificial contributions to the $25,000,000 Crusade relief and reconstruction fund, more than half of which will go for food, clothing and other aid for peoples of war devastated and occupied countries. Other phases of the Crusade for Christ call for support of cooperation among nations in the postwar world, renewed evangelism efforts, education for Christian stewardship and improvement of Sunday School attendance.
