NATO Nations See United Front For Summit Parley

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — NATO Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak said today the 15-nation North Atlantic Alliance would present a solidly united front if an East-West summit conference materializes. But conviction grew here that there would be no top-level parley before next year.

Spaak opened the three-day foreign minister's meeting in Copenhagen's Christianborg Palace with a warning against Soviet political, economic and psychological moves designed to weaken Western unity.

Similar cautions were issued by Luxembourg's Joseph Bech, chairman of the NATO Council, and Danish Prime Minister H. C. Hansen, host to the conference.

Hansen said NATO would fail in its responsibilities if it did not explore all the possibilities of bringing about a relaxation of present international tension.

Delegates could see only a lengthening road to a meeting of government heads as they talked over the Soviet veto in the U.N. Security Council of the U.S. arctic aerial inspection plan and the Kremlin's insistence that it hold preparatory summit talks individually with the Big Three.

The atmosphere contrasted sharply with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's own top-level meeting in Paris last December, when European delegates urged an approach to the Soviet Union for a summit conference on the major problems menacing world peace.

While the desire for settlement remains alive, the sense of urgency appeared to have been replaced by one of caution.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd told newsmen Britain wants a properly prepared, useful meeting with the Soviet Union and not a social get-together.

This settlement was reflected by other delegates, who stressed that the world requires peaceful deeds as well as words from Moscow to make a summit conference achieve anything.

Lloyd and Secretary of State Dulles met for almost two hours last night in a survey of current issues. They reportedly agreed that this NATO meeting does not need to coordinate Allied positions to be taken at a summit session. They apparently felt there was time enough for that at the next NATO ministers' meeting, in December.

A major item of business for the Council is the approval of the latest plan accepted by the NATO defense ministers in paris last month for meeting the Soviet armed threat in Europe. Gen Lauris Norstad, NATO military commander in Europe, wants to double the 15 or 16 divisions he now has equipped for action, and also to begin training his forces with nuclear capable, dual-purpose weapons, looking to the day when U.S. atomic warheads will be stock piled in Europe.

NATO Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak told newsmen the foreign ministers will also exchange views on East-West relations in the Middle East and the Kremlin's probably aims in light of its current tactics.

Ingrid Not Planning To Marry Schmidt

LONDON (AP) — Actress Ingrid Bergman expects to work in films in Britain most of the summer and has no plans to marry Lars Schmidt, an official at her studio said today.

He was commenting on a London Evening News report that Miss Bergman, estranged wife of Italian producer Roberto Rossellini, would marry in France as soon as her Mexican divorce comes through.

Soviets Deliver New Note On Summit Talks

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MOSCOW (AP) — Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko delivered to ambassadors of the three Western powers today a new communication which diplomatic sources said left the formal opening of pre-summit talks still to be negotiated.

He summoned the French, American and British ambassadors and handed them the Kremlin's reply to the West's note of Saturday. This rejected participation of Czechoslovakia and Poland in discussions on a diplomatic level and agreed that Western envoys would meet individually with Gromyko.

The Western envoys said Gromyko's latest note would be published by the Soviet Union tonight and presumably released at the time in London, Paris and Washington.

U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, who followed France's Ambassador Maurice DeJean to the Foreign Ministry, spent exactly 30 minutes inside. He said as he emerged that the situation was not changed and that he would leave as planned Tuesday for a Paris Conference of American envoys in Western Europe.

Diplomatic sources speculated that the new Soviet note acknowledged Western agreement on individual meetings as opposed to a round table session. They also speculated that the note again presented the Kremlin's preference that the envoys discuss the time and place of a foreign ministers' pre-summit meeting only rather consider an agenda for such a meeting.

The Western envoys will meet together later to compare notes and map strategy for future meetings.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States' rejection of Poland's Rapacki plan decisively cut out of any summit negotiations today one of the proposals the Soviet Union has been pushing.

A note to the Communist government at Warsaw, released by the State Department, made formal and final Washington's opposition to creation of a central European zone from which nuclear weapons would be banned.

Such a step would block the arming of West Germany with such weapons, and bar them also from Western defense forces stationed there.

At the same time, the United States renewed its proposal for "open skies" inspection of a much larger zone including much of Europe.

The limited zone, proposed by Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki, would embrace West Germany and Communist East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The note which Ambassador Jacob D. Beam handed to Deputy Foreign Minister Winiewicz in Warsaw Saturday made U. S. policy absolute and final: Western forces in Germany must be armed with nuclear weapons in order to stand opposite "the numerically greater mass of Soviet troops stationed within easy distance of Western Europe which are being equipped with the most modern and destructive weapons, including missiles of all kinds."

The United States with special politeness expressed appreciation for Poland's initiative in seeking a solution to the problems of tension and military power in Europe.

The note sought to encourage better Polis-American understanding on European military as well as other problems.

Union Head Enters Dallas GOP Primary

DALLAS (AP)—Grover Cantrell, president of the Dallas local of the Communications Workers of America, announced today as a candidate for Congress in the Republican primary against Rep. Bruce Alger.

Cantrell said he was running as a "Stevenson Republican."

"Our goal is to beat Bruce Alger," he said, "and if this is the way in which it can be done, the effort will have been justified."

The action brought a quick rejoinder from GOP County Chairman Maurice Carlson who said he was "amazed" and added:

"I personally regard it as an act of presumption. But this is a free country and a free primary. We welcome his daring contest."

Cantrell polled more than 30,000 votes in an unsuccessful bid for the Legislature in the 1956 Democratic primary.

Entering a candidate against Alger in his own primary had long been considered by Democrats as a means of keeping Republicans in their own primary on the theory that the GOP would have to prevent the congressman's defeat there.

C-C Board To Meet

The Chamber of Commerce board of directors will hold its monthly meeting at 7 o'clock tonight at the chamber office.

Committee reports will be heard at the meeting.

RS&P Units In Mishaps

In quick succession Saturday night, two vehicles owned by the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway, one a train, and one a pickup truck were involved in accidents here.

At about 8:32 o'clock Saturday night an RS&P train was involved in a collision with a 1950 Ford driven by Grover Madison Brown, 1007 Twenty-fourth Street, at the Twenty fourth Street crossing of the RS&P tracks.

Then, eight minutes later at 8:40 o'clock Saturday night, a 1957 Ford pickup truck owned by the RS&P was involved in a two-car collision at Seventeenth Street and Avenue R.

Driver of the pickup was Roland James Burns who lives at Avenue V and Huffman Street.

The other vehicle involved was a 1952 Nash car driven and owned by Alice Sandoval Watson, 1703 Avenue R.

Police who investigated said there were no injuries.

Strike Ban In Contacts Is Ruled Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today ruled an employer in collective bargaining may not insist on a contract banning strikes unless voted in secret ballots of union and nonunion workers.

The tribunal also decided an employer may not demand that a union local be designated the primary party to a working agreement if the National Labor Relations Board has certified the parent international union as the exclusive bargaining representative.

Justice Burton delivered the majority decision.

All nine justices agreed that an employer may not insist on a contract clause to recognize the local union only. They divided 5-4 in holding that the ballot-clause insisted upon by the employer in today's case constituted an unfair labor practice.

Specifically affected was the Wooster, Ohio, division of Borg-Warner Corp. The firm insisted on the ballot clause and on a provision to prohibit any change in the working agreement without approval by a majority of all employes.

Borg-Warner also wished to recognize as exclusive bargaining agent Local No. 1239, of the United Automobile Workers. The union insisted the international union, United Automobile Workers, should be the primary party.

The labor board said both ballot and recognition clauses were outside the statutory bargaining area and called Borg-Warner's insistence on them an unlawful refusal to bargain.

School Bid Opening Set

Bids will be opened by the Snyder school board tomorrow night on the new South Elementary School, which will be built west of Avenue U and south of Forty-third Street.

There are a number of bidders on the project. Deadline for turning in bids is 7 p.m. tomorrow, and the bids will be opened at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

The school's estimated cost, including building, site work, cost of site, engineering, and equipment, is $722,823.

The building must be completed no later than June 1, 1959, and school will start there in September, 1959.

The new school will have 18 classrooms plus special rooms, gymnasium, cafetorium, and offices. It will have a pitched roof.

Knowland Rejects Controversy Limit On New Labor Bill

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif) today rejected a suggestion that an omnibus 1958 labor bill be limited to noncontroversial provisions.

Knowland was the opening witness as the Senate Labor subcommittee began its promised three weeks of hearing.

Before he could explain his proposals, however, Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-NY) said he believes only a moderate measure could clear Congress this session.

When Ives explained that by moderate he meant only a bill containing provisions that were virtually noncontroversial, Knowland disagreed.

Knowland said the abuses and wrongdoing uncovered by the Senate Rackets Committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) demand more than that.

Ives, the senior Republican on the subcommittee, insisted that a bill loaded with controversial items would have little or no chance for House action in the remaining months of the 1958 session, even if it cleared the Senate.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), the subcommittee chairman, began the hearings by declaring he recognized a mandate to bring legislation to the Senate floor.

Knowland declared that failure to live up to responsibilities after McClellan's committee provided uncontested evidence of widespread corruption, arrogance and abuses in the operations of internal union affairs will stand as a permanent indictment of the record of the 85th Congress.

McClellan, scheduled as the day's other witness, said in a statement that his committee had found ordinary betrayal, thievery, flagrant abuses of power and willful trespass upon the rights of others in its labor-management investigations.

McClellan has introduced a bill which would require all unions to register with the secretary of labor in order to keep legal privileges they now enjoy such as tax exemption.

In order to register, unions would have to meet a wide variety of requirements such as filing of financial statements, elections by secret ballot and other union democracy provisions, and fixing of officers' salaries and expense accounts by vote.

The three weeks of intensive hearings were pledged by Kennedy, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) and other Democrats during a hot floor debate 10 days ago on a pension and welfare fund control bill.

Court Okays Witness Fees

The county commissioners court this morning voted to provide fund for expenses of witnesses in the district court trial of J.E. McKinzie for theft by false pretext swindling.

All the witnesses for whom expenses are to be paid will come here from Colorado. The trial is expected to be called this month.

McKinzie, of Lubbock, was indicted on three counts. The indictments were in connection with alleged oil swindles.

In other action this morning, the court voted to provide bleacher seats for a baseball field to be built at Hermleigh.

Discovery Of New Element Claimed

GALINBURG, Tenn. (AP)—A top-level Berkeley, Calif., nuclear scientist today announced the "definite discovery" of the heaviest element on record and at the same time challenged the findings of an international group which last year said it did approximately the same thing.

The element is nobelium, No. 102 in the roster of chemical elemets. It is the 10th element heavier than uranium to be made by man. Uranium, No. 92 on the list, is the heaviest of the elements found in nature.

A tense 24-hour stretch of work with a new type of atom smasher at the University of California April 18 yielded the new results. They were reported in a paper before the Conference on Reactions Between Complex Nuclei by Dr. Albert Ghiorso.

Dr. Ghiorso spoke for a team of Berkeley scientists, including Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, Nobel Prize winner; Torbjorn Sikkeland, Norwegian nuclear researcher; and John R. Walton, Berkeley research chemist. These four comprised the Berkeley discovery team.

The Berkeley group used curium 246, one of the various forms of element 96, as the basic material for producing the new substance. They bombarded this with the nuclei of carbon atoms, using both ordinary carbon 12 and carbon 13, which is a heavy variety.

Out of this, they said, they got a variety of element 102, or curium 254. This new material, they added, is so radioactive that it decays into fermium or element 100 in a few minutes. The rate of decay or half life is three seconds.

Because the decay rate is too fast to permit direct chemical identification, Dr. Ghiorso said, the team used an indirect method. It measured the amount of fermium, the decay product, and from this deduced the presence of nobelium 254.

Last July an international team of researchers said they observed nobelium 252, a twin of nobelium 254, after bombarding curium 244 with carbon 13 in a cyclotron at the Nobel Institute of Physics at Stockholm. Scientsts of the British Atomic Research Establishment at Harwell, England, and the Argonne National Laboratory at Chicago participated.

Dr. Ghiorso said the Berkeley group tried to duplicate the Stockholm experiment, using the same kind of curium and with a much more intense bombardment with carbon but were unsuccessful.

Dr. Paul Field, Argonne staff physicist who participated in the Stockholm experiment, said in Chicago that, although he has not seen data on the Berkeley process, "our own data looks good."

Guard Gets Possession Of Armory

The Snyder National Guard unit got possession during the weekend of its new armory building in Towle Memorial Park.

The $104,000 building has been completed for several weeks, but the local unit was not given possession of the armory for some time because of minor repairs to be made.

The state armory board still has not fully accepted the building, since there is some minor work to be done on the entrance of the building.

Capt. John T. Lynch, Jr., commander of the unit, said the local company, Co. D, 112th Armored Cavalry Regiment, will be moving into the building all this week. New shelving is building built for the building now. The unit will probably complete its move by the weekend.

Members of the unit will do some of the moving during their weekly drill Thursday night, which will be at 7:45 p.m. at the new building.

The new armory has a total of 20,000 square feet of floor space. It has a drill room of 6,800 square feet, larger than the entire building now occupied by the unit at Deep Creek on Twenty-seventh Street. That building is owned by the city and will be used by the city when the National Guard moves out.

The new armory also has three classrooms, a supply room, kitchen, four offices, and two restroom-shower combinations.

Germans Accuse Reds Of Building Bases

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — West German Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss accused the Soviet Union today of threatening the free world by building missile bases in Czechoslovakia and Hungary.

Strauss made his charge at a news conference after participating in ceremonies at which the U. S. Air Force turned over a local air base to West German control. The base, at Neubiberg, was the last American base in Bavaria. American airmen stationed there and at other U.S. bases in Bavaria have been sent home or transferred.

Gen. Bradley Backs Ike's Defense Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Omar N. Bradley told Congress today the present military organization has made it possible for one service to block the flow of information or requests between the Defense Department and field commanders.

Bradley testified before the House Armed Services Committee in support of President Eisenhower's defense reorganization proposals. These include changes which Eisenhower said are necessary to let orders go from the defense secretary and Joint Chiefs of Staff direct to the commanders of unified forces in the field without passing through the hands of the secretary of the Army, Navy or Air Force. Such secretaries have acted as executive agents of the Defense Department in the chain of command.

Bradley, a five-star general who commanded the 12th Army Corps in World War II and later served as Army chief of staff and first chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told the committee:

"I understand that in the past there have been occasions where information or suggestions from a unified commander were retained by the executive agent without the joint chiefs of staff being aware of the request or the information sent in by the unified commander.

"There have also been occasions where orders were transmitted to unified commanders from above without the executive agent being informed. This also leads to confusion."

Bradley spoke strongly for more authority for the secretary of defense.

When asked how any law could give the secretary more power than the "direction, authority and control" specified in the present statute, Bradley said he thinks Congress should repeal the existing provision that the Army, Navy and Air Force must be separately administered.

Bradley told the committee he sees no danger, with Congress watching the operations of the Defense Department, that any one of the services could be eliminated or that an all-powerful general staff could grow up.

Lorenzo Man Enters Race

Two more local candidates and one state candidate had filed with the county Democratic executive committee by noon today to get on the ballot for the July 16 primary.

The local candidate was Bill Riley, who is running for commissioner of precenct 2. The state candidate was Cliff Payne of Lorenzo, candidate for state representative.

By noon today all candidates who had announced intentions to run for office had filed. There were no new local candidates.

The filing deadline is midnight tonight.

SAYS TWO SLAIN BY GIRL

Youth Admits Nine Killings

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Sawed-off Charles R. Starkweather, after his capture three months ago, inscribed a note on a jail cell wall in which he took the blame for nine killings but attributed two to his 14-year-old girl friend, Caril Ann Fugate, his attorneys disclosed today.

Starkweather, a 5-foot-5 redhead who once acknowledged he always wanted to be a criminal, went on trial in Lancaster District Court today for murder in one of a of late-January killings.

Selection of a jury was expected to take three days or more.

Court-appointed defense attorneys said Starkweather's note was scrawled on the wall of the cell at the Scottsbluff County Jail in Goring, Neb. Starkweather was lodged there during an overnight stop while being returned to Lincoln after he and Caril had been captured near Douglas, Wyo., Jan. 29.

According to the attorneys, the note read:

"Caril is the ont who said to go to Washington state. By the time anybody will read this I will be dead for all the killings, then they cannot give Caril the chair to (sic).

"From Lincoln Neb. they got us Jan. 29, 1958.

"1958, killed 11 persons.

"Charles kill (sic) 9, all men. Caril kill 2, all girls.

"The have so many cops and people watching us leave I can't add all of them up."

The reference to Jan. 19 was not clear, and the count of nine "men" and two "girl" victims was faulty. Of 11 victims in whose slayings Starkweather has admitted involvement, 6 were male and 5 were female.

Conviction would bring a sentence of life imprisonment or death in the electric chair. The jury sets the penalty under Nebraska law.

Insanity apparently will be the defense plea, although court-appointed defense attorneys have run into reluctance not only from the 19-year-old defendant but from family members as well on this score.

Starkweather's 14-year-old girl friend, Caril Ann Fugate, charged with murder as companion to Starkweather on his January killing spree, has been listed as a prosecution witness, although she may not necessarily be called.

Both Starkweather and Caril are charged specifically in the death of Robert Jensen, 17, of Bennet, a village 19 miles south east of Lincoln.

Lleras Elected By Colombia's Voters

By LARRY ALLEN

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Long split into bitter factions, most of Colombia's voters united to elect Alberto Lleras Camargo president pointed up his most pressing problem.

Thirty-three persons, mostly peasants on their way to the polls, were killed by roving terrorist bands. They killed 25 in an attack on two truckloads of voters near Tolima, in central Colombia, and shot down others at Huila and Caucha, in the west.

Troops and police kept order in the rest of the nation. Most city dwellers heeded government appeals to forget about staging victory celebrations that might flare into riots.

Tolima has long been the scene of bandit raids resulting from the bitter civil war that split the Liberals and the Conservatives for years.

The two parties finally united in 1957 to throw out dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla and then agreed on Lleras as a unity candidate under a political truce. The 52-year-old Liberal party leader had served as president in 1945-46. He is to be followed in the presidency by a Conservative in 1962.

Jorge Leyva, a Bogota lawyer, challenged the truce and ran against Lleras with the backing of extreme Conservatives. But he admitted his candidacy was only a token stand against former President Laureano Gomez, the Conservative leader who threw most of his party behind Lleras.

The first substantial returns showed Lleras leading by margins running from 30-1 to 50-1. In Bogota, a 50 per cent count gave Lleras 280,000 votes to 18,000 for Leyva.

Lleras is due to take over from the five-man military junta Aug. 7. In a victory message he told radio listeners that the vote reflected the nation's overwhelming desire for an end to violence.

He had promised his first job would be ending violence by stamping out the terrorist gangs and the last-ditch Rojas partisans who might try to overthrow the national front government.

Lleras said improving economic conditions through U.S. aid would be his other major task.

An estimated four million voted.

Ike In Visit To Home Of General Lee

STRATFORD, Va. (AP) — President Eisenhower drove here Sunday to visit the boyhood home of Gen. Robert E. Lee, and used the contrast to plug for more foreign trade.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower motored 82 miles through the Virginia countryside to Stratford, the birthplace of the Confederate general.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower were guests of the Robert E. Lee Foundation, which holds its annual meeting the first Sunday in May.

In a brief backyard talk before 500 persons, Eisenhower noted that Stratford was almost a self-supporting economic unit.

But the difference between the nation then and now, he said, is "the difference between ox carts and jet airplanes."

Eisenhower, in an obvious boost for the reciprocal trade program, said 4½ million Americans are engaged in building items that are sold abroad.

"There is not a person in the United States," he said, "that is not affected every single day by what happens in Africa, in far Asia, in Europe and all of South America. We are no longer independent economic units."

Eisenhower has recommended a five-year extension of the reciprocal trade program, which otherwise will expire June 30. He has also asked authority to cut tariffs as much as 25 per cent over the five-year span. The proposed legislation is now before the House Ways and Means Committee.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks, who also spoke, said "the best is yet to be" for America and forecast a growth in goods and services from last year's total of 434 billion dollars to a 1967 total of 580 billions.

Weeks predicted a 10-year rise in personal income to 460 billions from the present 343 billion.

The presidential party returned to Washington yesterday afternoon.

Firm's Offer Is Rejected

FORT WORTH (AP)—Officials of two unions which yesterday rejected Convair's offer of a 16-cent-an-hour general wage hike said their representative may meet with the aircraft firm's negotiators today.

In separate meetings, the Office Employes International and District Lodge 776 of the International Assn. of Machinists turned down the Convair offer. The two unions have a membership of 11,600 Convair workers.

Neither union set strike dates, officials said.

Floyd Garrett, president of the Machinists local said his union gave its negotiating committee "authority to call a strike when and if it is deemed necessary."

Canal Tax Into Effect

BRUNSWICK, Germany (AP) — Canal traffic to Soviet-surrounded West Berlin came to a virtual standstill today as an East German waterways tax went into effect.

The Communist tax applies to all West German and foreign barges which use East German canals, including those linking isolated West Berlin with West Germany. About a third of West Berlin's supplies from West Germany travel via barge.

The Communists say the new waterways tax is retaliation for West Germany's decision to build a dam on the Elbe River. The Communists claim the dam might cause floods on East German territory.

Meridith Decides Not To Enter Race

TERRELL (AP)—Fred Meridith, former state representative, said today he had decided against making the race for state land commissioner.

"One should enter a race expecting to win," Meridith said. Several weeks ago Meridith was quoted as saying he was considering the commissioner's race.

Land Commissioner Bill Allcorn who was appointed to the post several months ago, is seeking his first elective term. L. J. Dimmitt, Dallas insurance man, is the only other announced candidate.

Jay's Former Home To Become Shrine

BEDFORD VILLAGE, N. Y. (AP) —Bedford House, for 30 years the home of John Jay, first chief justice of the United States, is to become a public shrine.

Edwin G. Michaelian, Westchester County executive, helps save the 30-acre site from house-wreckers today as he asks the Westchester Board of Supervisors to take the first fiscal step toward buying the property for $136,000.

The county then will give the property to New York state for operation as a public shrine.

Theft Of Wheel, Tire Reported

Theft of a wheel and tire from a 1957 Plymouth car was reported to police yesterday morning.

W. H. Pope, 2409 Twenty-sixth Street, reported the items stolen from his car during the previous night.

Electrical Workers Accept New Contract

DALLAS (AP) — The Electrical Workers Union at Collins Radio Co. voted yesterday to accept a new contract agreed on earlier by union officials and company representatives.

The pact calls for an average wage increase of 3.6 per cent and other benefits, retroactive to May 1. The wage increase range from 5 cents to 10 cents per hour.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was narrowly mixed in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Gains and losses of key stocks were kept generally within a point.

Aircrafts were slightly ahead but most other industrial groups were either irregular or slightly changed. Rails drifted to the downside.

U.S. Steel was off a small fraction as its annual meeting got under way. Chemicals were generally lower. Motors did little.

The market as a whole was slightly higher at the start and the ticker tape was late briefly as an accumulation of opening blocks was sold. Turnover slackened and prices milled inconclusively in the area of the latest 1958 high reached by the average Friday.

United Aircraft was ahead around a point before slicing the gain to a fraction.

Lukens Steel added more than a point. Youngstown Sheet and Republic Steel gained fractions. Bethlehem was firm.

Lorillard continued strong, rising more than a point.

Small losses were taken by Goodrich, International Harvester, American Cyanamid, Dow Chemical, Union Carbide, General Electric, Chesapeake & Ohio and Texas Co.

U. S. Government bonds were narrowly mixed.

No War Seen By Historian

ST. LOUIS (AP)—British historian Arnold J. Toynbee predicts there will be no war between the Soviet Union and the West.

Toybee said, "Instead, there will be fierce competition to win over the underdeveloped and uncommitted nations of the world by missionary-like programs of aid."

Toybee, director of the Royal Institute of International Affairs in London, was interviewed during a visit here.

Toynbee said the Soviet Union has taken an early lead in the contest for world leadership with the West, but he said the West probably would win over the long run.

"Russia is taking a kind of short cut to power at the price of individual freedoms," he said. "But over the long run human beings don't like to be driven like mules or sheep and they will find some way of freeing themselves."

If there is a war, it will eliminate the contesting nations, he predicted.

"But I don't believe we're going to fight that war," he said.

Three out of every four of the 1,151 notaries public in Atlantic City are women.

Negroes Told To Register, Cast Votes

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The Negroes' answer to bomb violence and threats here emerged as: Register and vote.

It was formulated Sunday at a mass meeting of more than 400 at St. Paul AME Church.

They asserted it in one of seven resolutions passed by a standing vote. They decided to back their answer with a united action organization that can speak for the 94,000 Negroes among the 400,000 population in the Jacksonville area.

Representatives of Negro civic, social, fraternal, political and religious organizations were invited to meet Wednesday to form the central group.

The group at Sunday's meeting, like Southern mayors and police officials who conferred here a day earlier, asked the U.S. Justice Department to intervene in the investigation of dynamite blasts a week ago at a Negro school and Jewish synagogue here plus 45 other dynamite incidents in 20 cities.

Glenn B. Washington, president of the Jacksonville branch of the NAACP, said a door-to-door campaign is planned to get Negroes registered.

Police officials who met here Saturday and formed a clearing house for coordinating information on 47 reported bomb incidents in 21 cities—plus any future ones—said bombings here, in Birmingham, Miami, Fla., and Nashville, Tenn., were linked by specific clues.

Spokesmen for the officials said they have information indicating a single organization is responsible for all the crimes.

Snyderite Student Teacher At Wayland

Shirley Rosser of Snyder is one of 20 student teachers under Wayland Baptist College's teacher certification program, according to Billie Glynn McAdams, instructor in education.

Following graduation, these students will be among 220 Wayland graduates since 1949 who have entered the teaching profession. The education program this semester has 136 students preparing for teaching careers, and 29 will graduate in June and August.

Miss Rosser is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Rosser of Snyder. She teaches third grade at Hillcrest Elementary in Plainview.

Most Women Can Follow Instructions

Those stories about women being unable or unwilling to follow instructions just don't hold water — when it comes to getting water out of textiles.

Manufacturers of clothes dryers point out that countless housewives now have widened their home laundry activities considerably, doing many things that were not possible a few years ago, simply because they can and do follow directions. These directions, from both the appliance and textile manufacturers, aren't complicated, but they do recognize a growing number of different drying needs, and dryer features to meet each need.

Snythetic fabrics and blends of synthetic and natural fibers are one example. Knowing the right dryer setting and using it is important — and most women do.

What's more, they're using their dryers for special tasks such as drying wool blankets, curtains, feather or down pillows, rugs, quilted pads and garments, slipcovers and even some stuffed toys.

Requirements vary — sometimes in timer or temperature settings, sometimes in preparations before drying, sometimes in the size of load that is advisable. But give the modern homemaker the directions and she'll get the hang of it — and find it's a lot better than lugging and hanging heavy baskets of clothes.

Barbecue Booster

That new barbecue will be a lot more fun if it doesn't have to share the yard with garbage cans and a makeshift trash burner. A new smokeless-odorless household incinerator, installed indoors, can mean more fun outdoors. The appliance consumes almost all combustibles, even heavy meat bones. Garbage and trash can be disposed of without any unsightly accumulation.

Church Group Meets Thursday

The Rebecca Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church held their monthly class meeting Thursday at 4 p.m. in the home of Mrs. J. L. McIntosh, Knapp.

A short business meeting was conducted and the devotional was by Mrs. Ben Dennis, on Mother's Day.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. R. H. Melton, Mrs. J. M. Long, Mrs. Lida Rhoades, Mrs. A. E. Duff, Mrs. Sarah White, and the hostess.

Mrs. Rhoades, teacher of the group was presented a corsage by Mrs. Dennis.

Sauteed Sandwiches

Turn a cold sandwich into a hot one by buttering the outside of the bread instead of the inside. Then saute it over a medium flame. If you have an automatic top burner heat control on your range, turn the dial to 300 degrees. When sauteed at the right temperature, day-old bread tastes oven fresh. Filling suggestions for sauteed sandwiches: Cheese and ham, corned beef and tomatoes, scrambled eggs combined with dried beef, sausage, mushrooms or green pepper and ground meat fillings.

Fisherman's Wife Solves Problem With Poaching

"Yes, he's a wonderful fisherman. But sometimes I wish he weren't so good at it."

Many a wife may sigh those words — even if she likes fish and recognizes the superlative quality of the just-caught ones her husband provides.

For the sea, lakes and streams often seem either to hold back their bounty entirely, or to yield it in such abundance that it's a problem. You can't eat the same fish dish forever; the neighbors can adsorb only so much; and the freezer may have other chores.

Solution? Try poaching, suggests Miss Margaret Spader, home service editor. In one cooking project — and an especially easy one if your range has a simmer burner or automatic top burner heat control — you'll have top-flavor fare for the hot meal, and the makings of subsequent delicious servings of cold fish.

Poaching makes the most of the unmatched flavor of the freshly-caught fish. And because it involves water-cooking rather than fats or oils, there's a advantage for those who have to count calories. It's important to keep a watchful eye on the sauces served with poached fish, for you can easily defeat the calorie control by serving a rich sauce.

For white fish, Miss Spader advises the use of milk or equal quantities of milk and water as the poaching liquid. A sprig of fresh dill, a slice of onion or leaves of celery may be added for flavor.

Bring the milk to a boil over a high gas flame, then turn the flame to simmer and let it cook 5 to 10 minutes so the flavor of the ingredients permeates the milk. Then add the fish, and simmer about 7 minutes to the pound.

Boiling and bubbling of the liquid will break up the fish, so adjust the burner so there is no movement on the surface of the liquid. It is a good idea to cook a whole fish, rather than cut it in pieces, as the skin helps to keep the tender meat intact.

When the fish is cooked, remove it immediately from the liquid and turn up the flame to concentrate the bouillon for the sauce. When it has cooked down to 1 cup of liquid, strain it and make the sauce.

Basic Sauce for Poached Fish

2 tablespoons butter
1½ tablespoons flour
1 cup fish stock
Salt and pepper

Cook flour and butter together until they bubble.

Add fish stock slowly, stirring until it thickens (about 5 to 7 minutes).

Season with salt, pepper, worcestershire, cayenne or other seasoning.

Amount, about 1 cup.

Variations: Add 2 egg yolks and ½ cup finely chopped cooked shrimp, lobster, or crab meat.

Add ¼ cup grated Gruyere cheese and a few grains of cayenne.

Winter Overshoes

Fleece-lined rubber, nylon and plastic boots take to a spring clean-up as easily as they weather snow drifts and mud puddles. Immerse them in a sudsy tub or machine, then dry thoroughly in a clothes dryer set at "low" or "warm." Store the cleaned boots in a cool, dry place.

Cleaning-Up

If your forced warm air furnace is one of the many thousands equipped for year-round air conditioning, be sure you start the season with a clean air filter. Remember, the old one doubtless contains some of that dust you stirred up in spring cleaning. The trivial effort or expense of cleaning or changing a filter is nothing compared with the time it saves in housecleaning and the money it saves in laundry and cleaning bills.

Embarrassing Proposal

The railroads of our country, are experiencing difficulties these days, and they must be chagrined, if not downright disappointed by the Federal Administration's proposal to "help" them in their time of need.

The Administration proposes to guarantee loans to the railroads for $700 million, which would, of course, strengthen and expand control by the government.

That is in direct conflict with the principles long championed by the railroads themselves. Moreover it is in direct conflict with the principles which the present administration purported to champion when it was first swept into office nearly six years ago.

The railroad people themselves, if we are to judge by their own statements would welcome a different course by the government. They maintain, and with apparent full justification, that they are already plagued by too much government "help," in the form of regulations, restrictions and red tape which was designed for an era long vacated by other segments of industry.

Railroad executives are noted for plugging for the free enterprise system, yet they find themselves victims of a part of it — competition. However, they maintain that competition is good; provided there is equal opportunity, the suggestion being that the outmoded regulations which apply to them do not permit them to compete.

We suspect that a method can be found to eliminate the necessity for government-guaranteed loans and still save the railroads, or let them save themselves, if someone will only take the time to search for it.

Anniversary Of Trial Celebrated

By EDWARD S. KITCH

BEARDSTOWN, Ill. (AP)—A hundred years ago this week Abraham Lincoln confronted a witness in the Cass County Circuit Court with an almanac. With that and a convincing summation, he won an acquittal for a family friend accused of murder.

Since then the case has become famous as the "Almanac Trial." Lincoln, running for the Republican nomination for the U. S. Senate, took time off from his campaign to defend William (Duff) Armstrong May 5 and 6, 1858. He was nominated but lost the election.

Armstrong, son of Lincoln's long-time friend of the New Salem days, Jack Armstrong, was charged with the murder of James P. Metzker, a farmer who lived near Petersburg.

Metzker and Armstrong had been drinking Aug. 29, 1857, when they engaged in a scuffle during a camp meeting. Afterward, Metzker and another youth, James H. Norris, were involved in a fight.

Later that night, Metzker was set upon by unknown assailants as he rode home on horseback after the camp meeting. He died three days later.

Norris and Armstrong were arrested and charged with Metzker's murder. Norris, who was tried in Mason County Court, was found guilty and sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary.

It was then that Hannah Armstrong, Duff's widowed mother, turned to Lincoln. He wrote he would help "to requite in a small degree the favors I received at your hand."

Lincoln filed for a change of venue for Armstrong on grounds that people in Mason County were so prejudiced against Armstrong he would be unable to get a fair trial, and the case was transferred to Cass County.

The trial was held in Beardstown in the courthouse which still stands. Townspeople are celebrating the centennial of the trial with re-enactments today and tomorrow.

In the trial, a witness named Allen claimed he saw Armstrong strike Metzker on the head with a sling shot—a piece of metal attached to a leather thong.

When Lincoln cross-examined him, Allen said it was about 11 o'clock at night when the attack occurred, but admitted he was about 150 feet from the combatants.

"The moon was very bright, almost like day," he said. "And the full moon was at a point in the sky where the sun is at 10 o'clock in the morning."

As Allen finished his statement, Lincoln drew from his pocket an almanac for the year 1857. He pointed to Aug. 29, the night of the attack, and asked Allen to repeat to the jury what phase the moon was in and when it set.

Lincoln told the jury the moon was barely past first quarter, and had practically disappeared at 11 o'clock.

Lincoln then called upon Dr. Parker, who said the bruises causing Metzker's death could very well have been caused by a fall from his horse.

In presenting his closing argument, Lincoln dwelt upon the personal elements of the case, drawing a touching picture of the cabin which once sheltered him.

His masterful plea for the "life of the son of his old friend" won the jury. As Lincoln sat down, many jurors were in tears.

They acquitted young Armstrong.

Broad Labor Law Chances Are Dim

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any talk of a new, broad labor law this year looks like plain windjamming. There can be no law unless both houses of Congress act. The Senate may. It's doubtful the House will.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats, pressured by Republicans to get the ball rolling, promised Senate action. He wouldn't predict the same for the House. There's no sign the House intends to do anything at all.

Nevertheless, the talk begins today and will last for weeks. The Senate Labor subcommittee begins hearings on a whole hodgepodge of proposals for curbing unions, in some cases curbing employers, and amending the Taft-Hartley Act.

This subcommittee won't have time for a thorough examination of all the proposals thrown at it, because it's supposed to finish its hearings and present a bill to the full Senate for action sometime by mid-June.

The result: probably a mild bill. Once it's called up for debate, amendments can be offered from the floor. So the debate should last for weeks. Then by July 1 or later the Senate probably will approve some kind of measure.

Then it's up to the House to act. But time is an important element here. And time is running out. The members of Congress are anxious to get home by mid-August to campaign for the November elections.

The House can't act until its Labor Committee holds hearings to consider labor legislation. If it really wanted to do a job, it should be starting on its hearings no later than now.

To start them after the Senate finishes—perhaps some time in July—would leave such little time before adjournment that the committee couldn't possibly do a serious or thorough job.

That's why Secretary of Labor Mitchell suggested Sunday House hearings should be getting under way now.

There wasn't any indication the Senate intended to act, either, until recently when Johnson called up a Democratic bill to protect employes' pension and welfare funds.

Then Sen. William F. Knowland of California, Republican Senate leader, tried to tack on a whole mob of amendments that had nothing to do with pension-welfare funds. So did the Eisenhower administration.

Johnson and other Democratic Senate leaders faced the prospect of having no pension-welfare bill at all or having it massacred under a load of amendments that actually covered the whole broad field of labor legislation.

There had been hearings on the pension-welfare bill but none on the proposed amendments. Johnson promised action on a broad labor bill—with hearings—if the pension-welfare measure was spared. It passed intact and the amendments were killed.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

SATURDAY'S STATE TRACK and field meet at Austin certainly must have been the finest state meet in the history of the big schoolboy show.

In almost every event, class B through AA, the times and distances were phenomonal.

What brought on the outstanding times and distances, to be sure, was the keen competition.

Every event was loaded down with top flight talent. Austin was no place Saturday for any boy who is inclined to "wilt" under pressure.

There were occasions in the state meet where pressure overtook some outstanding athletes.

The Tiger duo, of course, did their share in making the state meet the great show it was Saturday.

Bud Morgan and Rex Wilson saved their best race for the last. Both wound up their schoolboy careers Saturday in a blaze of glory.

The two Tiger stars were loudly applauded by the 6,000 fans present when they were awarded their medals at the winner's stand for their tremendous times in the hurdles.

As you know, Morgan clicked of an 18.8 in the low hurdles and Wilson a 14.1 in the highs.

'Sentimental' Favorite

Wilson was the "sentimental" favorite among the fans who have followed schoolboy track closely. Rex picked a year where the state had several other excellent high hurdlers and although he has been turning in fine performances himself all along, he several times was nipped at the tape by such fellows as Bobby Bernard of Graham and Bob Swafford of Abilene.

As far back as the West Texas Relays at Odessa when Wilson first met Swafford this season, it was the general opinion that the Tiger star would never beat Swafford Wilson finished second to Swafford in the Odessa meet that day.

But Rex isn't one to concede anything to a rival and he just kept right on plugging with an eye on beating Swafford before the year is out.

Swafford made it two straight over Wilson when he defeated Rex for first place in the regional meet.

But Rex finished much closer to Swafford than he did at Odessa.

The week following the regional, Wilson finally bested Swafford but once again he finished only second. This time this fellow Bernard won the blue ribbon.

So, going into the state meet, Wilson had run against Bernard four times with the Graham star getting the best each time. Against Swafford, Rex owned one victory in seven races.

Determination Did It

We'll have to admit that we did not believe Wilson would beat both Bernard and Swafford Saturday although we did feel that he would beat out one of 'em in that state final race.

Rex simply was just determined to win that last one and that he did in one of the outstanding races of the state meet.

Morgan picked a good time to prove that his 18.8 performance in the low hurdles early in the season was no "fluke" when he came with his second such showing in the state finals Saturday.

Bud's first 18.8 has been carried as "wind aided" which is the term used when the wind is 10 miles per hour or more. There was about 10-12 mile per hour wind the day of the Canyon Reef Relays when Bud turned in his first 18.8.

However, there was just about a three-mile per hour wind Saturday so you can see why Bud astounded the fans present for such a fine race.

So, the two Tiger hurdlers finished the season with the state's best time of the year in their specialities.

COMFORTABLE LEAD—Bud Morgan, Tiger hurdle star, is shown well out front as he starts his drive for the tape after clearing the final hurdle in the state 180-yard low hurdle finals at Austin Saturday. Tommy Minter of Gladewater, who finished second, is shown coming over the final hurdle. Morgan proceeded to win by a full stride in 18.8. Minter was clocked in 19.0. (News photograph)

Graves Radiator City Keg Champs

Graves Radiator Shop won the team trophy in the 2nd annual City Bowling Tournament completed last weekend at Town and Country Bowl.

The Graves team eked out Eads Service Station for the title by 12 pins, 2,812 to 2,805.

Members of the Graves team were Ray Graves, Victor Deike, Ralph Howser, Roy Weber and Lee Carson.

Other winners were Joe Bunch in the Singles Event, Bobby Zetzman in All-Events, and W. Walton and G. Blacklock in the Doubles Event.

Prize money totaling $286 was awarded to the winners and placers yesterday at Town and Country. Also ABC City Association Tournament Champion Arm Chevrons were awarded to the first place winners in each division.

Summer leagues are now forming at Town and Country. There is a need of sponsors at the moment. The cost of sponsoring a team runs as little as $1 per team per week. For further information call Art Dibble, secretary of the league, or the Town and Country Bowl.

Following are the money winners in the City Tournament:

City Loop Opens 1958 Slate Tonight

The City League will open tonight at Towle Park with the Blue Sox slated to go against the Tigers.

Game time will be at 8 p.m.

The other two teams in the league, Hermleigh and Sun Oil, will clash tomorrow night.

Four games will be played each week until Pony League starts on May 19. After that games will be played only twice a week, on Tuesday and Saturday nights.

Sun Oil is the defending champion. The Oilers won both halves last season.

Sun, Hermleigh and the Blue Sox are holdover members of the league.

The Tigers are replacing Snyder Furniture as the fourth team.

Rounding out this week's schedule will be the Tigers against Hermleigh Thursday and Sun against the Blue Sox Friday.

Winston Gregg is the league president.

TO HOST LEVELLAND FRIDAY

District Opener Nears For Tigers

Only one more game is on tap for the Tigers before they swing into ditsrict play against the Levelland Lobos.

The Tigers take on the Abilene Eagles tomorrow at Towle Park in their final pre-district game.

The championship series of District 1 with Levelland opens Friday at Towle Park. The second game of the district playoff series will be played at Levelland, Tuesday, May 14, and the third, if necessary, will be played in Lubbock either May 16 or 17.

Coach Speedy Moffett's Bengals will have a busy week this week. In addition to the Abilene and Levelland games, the Bengals will meet Big Spring in a doubleheader here Saturday.

And, in addition to these games, next year's Tiger returnees will open play in the City League tonight and play again Thursday night.

The Tigers will carry an 11-11 season record into this week's slate. The Bengals upended Midland aturday, 8-7, for their 11th win of the campaign.

Tomorrow's game with Abilene here will begin at 4:15 p.m.

The defending state champion Eagles currently are sporting a 14-4 season record. The Eagles presently are leading the District 2-AAAA race by one-half game over Midland.

Abilene has a 5-1 district record to Midland's 4-1. The Eagles and Midland will clash once more with the winner of the game to emerge as the favorite.

Tomorrow's tilt will be the fourth meeting between the Tigers and Eagles. Abilene has won two of the first three by 5-4 and 6-4. The Tigers captured the middle game of the three games by 5-4.

LITTLE OLYMICS IN FOURTH TRY HERE TODAY

The thrice-postponed Snyder Little Olympics will try once again today.

Prospects were good this morning that the weather would hold up to get the Little Olympics in today.

Inclement weather has caused the meet to be called off three times.

Activities will get underway at 5:15 at Tiger Stadium with the field events and at 5:30 for the running events.

All local elementary schools are entering teams. The meet, open to both boys and girls, has two divisions, 10-11 year olds in one group and 12-13 in the other.

Ribbons will be awarded the first, second, and third place finishers in each event.

Little Olympic "T" shirts, furnished by the Snyder Quarterback Club, will be worn by the contestants.

No team points will be kept in the meet.

There is no admission price for the Olympic show and the public is cordially invited to attend.

LA Fans Now Claiming Bums After Doubleheader Victory

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

Los Angeles baseball fans who only a week ago were chasing the Dodgers back to Brooklyn were embracing their heroes today like native sons.

The repatriated Bums reached ew heights in popularity Suday when they swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia 8-7 and 15-2 to climb a notch into sixth place in the National League pennant race.

The home folks saw second baseman Charlie Neal bash two home runs, a triple and single for four runs batted in. They saw the Dodgers whip Robin Roberts in the first game and then watched them assault six pitchers for 18 hits in the second game, tops for a single game in the league this season.

They saw the Dodgers give their pitchers spectacular support with seven double plays, which boosted their total to 35 twin killings in 19 games.

They saw the Dodger hitters crack eight consecutive hits for seven runs in one inning as lefthander Danny McDevitt coasted to his first victory of the season in the nightcap.

In San Francisco, a crowd of 22,721 saw the Giants rebound with a 4-3 10-inning victory after Pittsburgh had won the opener of their doubleheader 6-2. Despite the split, the Giants dropped into fourth place behind Milwaukee, which defeated St. Louis 7-2. The Chicago Cubs retained their half game first place lead by dividing a doubleheader with Cincinnati. The Cubs won the opener 5-4 with the Redlegs taking the second game 3-2 in 14 innings.

Baltimore swept a pair from Detroit 4-3 and 4-0 while Cleveland and Boston divided a pair. The Indians won the opener 2-1 and the Red Sox won the second game by the same score in 12 innings.

Unwanted Oriole Hurler Sparkling

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

Four months ago, nobody wanted Jack Harshman. Now nobody can beat him.

The left-handed pitcher, traded by the Chicago White Sox to Baltimore last December, has been a lifesaver for the Orioles. He hurled a five-hit shutout yesterday as Baltimore swept a double-header from Detroit 4-3 and 4-0.

Harshman, still unbeaten this season, has won half his team's eight victories. Yet, last January, the Orioles wanted to return him to Chicago when they learned he was suffering from a slipped disc. The baseball commissioner ruled that Baltimore must keep Harshman but should be compensated with an additional player.

The surprising Washington Senators climbed to within a game of the front-running New York Yankees, defeating Kansas City 7-2. The second game was halted by rain after nine innings with the score deadlocked at 2-2.

Cleveland and Boston split, the Indians winning the first game 2-1 and the Red Sox taking the second by the same score in 12 innings.

In the National League, Warren Spahn pitched Milwaukee to a 7-2 triumph over St. Louis. The Chicago Cubs split a double-header with Cincinnati, winning 5-4 and losing 3-2 in 14 innings.

Pittsburgh beat San Francisco 6-2 behind Roman Mejias' three home runs but lost the second game 4-3 in 10 innings. The Los Angeles Dodgers swept a double-header from Philadelphia 8-7 and 15-2.

Another preseason trade paid off for Baltimore Manager Paul Richards when outfielder Gene Woodling hit a two-run homer in the first inning of the opener. Eighteen-year-old Milt Pappas won his first game of the season. The young bonus right-hander gave up one run and five hits before retiring with a pulled tendon in his elbow in the seventh. Paul Foytack was the loser.

Tommy Bolt Wins Colonial

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A nervous but even-tempered Tommy Bolt—the "new" Bolt—was steady down the stretch even in his first head-to-head battle with the grim, calculating Ben Hogan yesterday.

Thus he won the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation tournament.

Bolt snapped back from a staggering first nine and pocketed $5,000 for his 2-over-par 282 for 72 holes.

Hogan faltered in the stretch this time. He took a double-bogey 6 on the final hole and ended in a tie for fourth with a 73-285.

A 30-foot putt that Bolt sank on the 13th hole was the real telling point. Ken Venturi, San Francisco, had shot a 1-under-par 69 and finished with 283, putting the pressure on Bolt and Hogan. Hogan was just a stroke back of Bolt and had made two straight birdies. So Bolt rammed down that putt and grinned because he figured this was the payoff. He bogeyed No. 16 when he was in a trap but pulled himself back up for pars on the last two holes.

Tommy, once noted for his club throwing but now a changed man indeed, played what he called "conservative golf" over the 7,021-yard Colonial Country Club course.

It costs $1,100 to run a 3-year-old horse in the Florida Derby.

Girl, 16, Faces Charge Of Aiding In Kidnap Of Five

GOLD BEACH, Ore. (AP)—A pretty 16-year-old girl—sad but also relieved that police had shot down her gunman boy friend—was in jail here today accused of helping him kidnap five men.

Dorothy Louise Decker, of Reno, Nev., was captured by police at the nearby southern Oregon town of Carpenterville Saturday night, after police had killed her cousin-companion Henry Thomas Hill, 36, in a gun battle.

The shooting at Carpenterville ended a 24-hour crime spree in which a police officer was kidnaped and robbed and four other men were kidnaped, apparently to be held as hostages in a desperate attempt to break through roadblocks.

The girl said she ran away with Hill last month and he had planned a series of robberies. She told reporters that only one was pulled off—a $40 holdup of a service station near Sacramento.

From there they made their way up to Brookings, Ore., and on Friday night, she said, Hill planned to steal a car.

But their intended victim became suspicious and called Brookings Patrolman Pat Sims. Sims picked up the pair and was taking them in his car to the Brookings jail when Hill threatened him with a gun and forced him to drive them out of town.

Sims said the girl held a gun at the back of his head and threatened to kill him.

Two miles north of town, Hill ordered Sims to stop. Hill took Sims' gun, his money and a little food that was in the car and then he and the girl made off into the brush.

They hid out in a little cabin they found in the woods and there captured at gunpoint four young men who had come to the cabin for a weekend outing, police said.

Hill forced one of the four to drive the car in an attempt to get through the roadblocks.

When police stopped the car at Carpenterville, Hill came out shooting. Police returned the fire, wounding him fatally.

When brought to the jail here, Dorothy said that Hill had threatened to kill her if she tried to leave him. "But I wasn't really afraid of him. I cared quite a lot for him."

Then she added, "I wish I had never left home."

Asked how she felt when Hill was killed, Dorothy replied: "I was a little sorry and I was kind of relieved. A little of both, I guess."

She was being held without formal charge. Authorities were to decide today whether the case would be handled in the adult or juvenile court.

Valley Crops Are Moving To Markets

MCALLEN (AP)—After a month's delay because of light freezes, too much rain and not enough sunshine, spring vegetables from the Lower Rio Grande Valley are rolling to Northern markets.

The season's first carlot shipments of tomatoes, cucumbers and corn were dispatched the past week.

Cantaloupes were missing. In previous years the first Valley cantaloupes were loaded late in April, but it will be the week of May 19 before the first harvest of melons is expected.

Tomatoes picked last week for local deliveries were of large size and good quality, shippers said. Ideal weather since mid-March and abundant water supplies promise the biggest yield per acre in years.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has estimated the Valley spring tomato crop at 32,000 acres. Last year's estimate was 22,000 acres.

Florida's heavy shipment of both cucumbers and corn starting last week dimmed prospects for Valley profits.

Early in the week Valley shippers were quoting up to $4.50 a bushel for cucumbers but the latest price had dropped to $3. With yellow sweet corn slated to move in heavy volume this week, Valley f.o.b. prices were expected to be mostly $3 for a half-bushel bag, compared to $4 a few days ago.

After a successful season with growers receiving the highest prices in years, the winter cabbage crop is about harvested. Valley carrots will be moving for another two weeks and late last week the f.o.b. price for a 50-pound sack of jumbos was steady at mostly $1.25.

Violence In State Claims 24 Lives

By The Associated Press

Violence took the lives of at least 24 persons in Texas during the weekend.

An Associated Press survey listed eight deaths in traffic accidents and eight others from gunshot wounds. Four persons drowned, three died in a plane crash and one was stabbed.

The deaths occurred between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

These victims were killed Sunday:

Joseph Gause, 65, a junk yard operator, was found shot to death Sunday at his home south of Grand Prairie. A man and woman were held for questioning.

Mrs. Mollie Hilderbrand, 62, Fredericksburg, was killed when her car overturned 4 miles north of Fredericksburg on Farm Road 689.

Patrick Foster, 12, Wichita Falls, was struck by a car while riding a bicycle on a farm road south of Wichita Falls after nightfall.

James Harvey was shot while sitting on his front porch of his home at Loeb, near Beaumont. Murder charges were filed against Bryant Bowles, 38, his brother-in-law.

Ebbie Malone, 43, was shot to death at Houston. Murder charges were filed against Laura Petterson, 44.

Deaths Saturday included:

Three men died as their light plane crashed in a pasture south of Hico. They were John Knoor Jr., 41, Artesia, N.M. Lemuel Martin, 35, Odessa, and C. G. Tyson, Rodesse, La.

Billy Robertson, 31, Abilene, was shot to death at his home. A boy, 12, was held.

Alan Hitchcock, 29, Beaumont, was killed in a car collision at Beaumont. Three others were injured.

Franklin Perkins, 28, sentenced to die for murder, was shot to death after escaping from a Waco jail.

Lone Male In Canada Race

TORONTO (AP)—A lone male is pitted against three women in an election here next Monday.

Allan F. Lawrence says he's fascinated — but not frightened. The 32-year-old lawyer avers: "I know that suffragette days are over and that it is policies and personalities that count."

Lawrence's wife Moira is working for him, along with the Conservative party women's organization.

Two candidates representing minor parties are Miss Iona Samis and Miss Dorothy Cureatz. The candidate of Canada's No. 2 party, the Liberals, is Mrs. Jean McKenzie Brown. Her husband is her campaign chairman.

They are running for the Ontario Legislature seat of Dana Porter, a Conservative who has become chief justice of Ontario.

Stassen Coming Up Fast In Pennsylvania Governor Race

By LEONARD A. UNGER

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Harold E. Stassen, who three months ago ventured into Pennsylvania's political arena a seemingly hopeless underdog, is coming up fast in his bid for the Republican nomination for governor.

Campaigning as an independent who at first wasn't even taken seriously by many of the party old-timers, Stassen has built up strength surprising even to his adherents.

All the same, there is a question whether his upward climb will have enough zing to outstrip the organization's man, Arthur T. McGonigle, in the short while before the May 20 primary. McGonigle, making his first run for office, is a Reading pretzel manufacturer.

At the moment, sentiment samplers expect the voting to be light, a circumstance that nearly always favors the organization.

The Republican organization is beating out a steady drumfire of criticism against Stassen, its main theme being that he is a carpetbagger, an epithet of political resentment on the part of native sons toward the 51-year-old former Minnesota governor who resigned as President Eisenhower's disarmament aide to try his luck in Pennsylvania.

And the organization leaders keep talking — without naming names — about Stassen's getting out-of-state money help in his campaign, all aimed at blocking Vice President Nixon's presumed presidential aspirations in 1960.

The man in the governor's chair traditionally has led the Keystone State's big delegation to national conventions.

Stassen replied to the "carpetbagger" attack that he qualified as a Pennsylvania voter 10 years ago and asked, with a touch of asperity, whether all non-native Pennsylvanians should be returned to their original homes.

As for 1960, Stassen said, he would, if elected governor, anticipate that he would serve out his term but if a Republican president should be elected in 1960 he might be called upon to serve in Washington, maybe as secretary of state.

Stassen is using the same technique that won him the governorship of Minnesota 20 years ago against what seemed big odds.

He is operating what seems to be well-financed campaign headquarters in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg. Frequent television appearances and a county-by-county stumping tour are serving as a forum on his plans to oust the Democratic administration of young Gov. George M. Leader.

William S. Livengood Jr., a former organization stalwart, is also in the three-cornered GOP gubernatorial race.

Boston Bans Rock 'N Roll

BOSTON (AP) — Boston today banned rock 'n' roll jam sessions from public auditoriums after 15 persons were injured following one at the Boston Arena.

Mayor John B. Hynes told a reporter those so-called rock 'n' roll musical programs are a disgrace and must be stopped. No licenses will be issued for them in the future, the mayor said.

Numerous flare-ups kept police busy Saturday night and early Sunday after a jam session at the Boston arena.

Manager Paul Brown of the state-operated arena said, "The next rock 'n' roll show at the arena will be presented over my dead body."

Police reported that gangs of teen-agers left the arena after the jam session and attacked, robbed and molested passers-by.

Albert Raggiani, 19, a Navy man from Stoughton, suffered several deep stab wounds on the chest as he left the arena with two girls.

Brown said unrest developed when police ordered the dimmed house lights turned on at the arena after fans began dancing in the darkened aisles.

Rudolf Friml, who composed the light operas, "The Firefly" and "Rose Marie," is equally well known as a concert pianist.

Major Flood Expected On Red River

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—A major flood is expected along the Red River from Shreveport to Alexandria during the next 10 days.

Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar Sundays.

Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar Sunday called on the National Guard, civil defense and all state agencies to prepare for an emergency.

Frazar, acting governor while Gov. Earl Long was out of the state, said, "This may be a bad one."

Already there were scattered reports of floodwaters lapping at the tops of levees. Scores of roads and some farmland was under water from heavy rainfall, and levee breaks would endanger residents and livestock.

For a week the 2,000-mile Red River has been gorging on heavy rains in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. The drainage basin is about the area of the state of Utah.

The menace now is a 90-mile stretch from Shreveport in northwest Louisiana to Alexandria, in the heart of the state. Over this stretch the river describes a crazy zig-zag course several hundred miles long, and in some places levee breaks would result in inundation of lowlands 20 miles wide.

The same area battled floodwaters last year during May and

Dennis Crosby Is Wed To Showgirl

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Bing Crosby's son Dennis, 23, married showgirl-divorcee Pat Sheehan, 26 in a Protestant ceremony between her show performances last night.

The rites were performed at the Gretna Green Wedding Chapel by the Rev. James A. Herndon, pastor of the Las Vegas Church of the Nazarene.

Dennis is the first of Bing's four sons to marry. All were reared Roman Catholics.

Miss Sheehan, a shapely blonde, was Miss San Francisco of 1950. She has a 6-year-old son by her previous marriage.

She and the crooner's son were having dinner at a Mexican restaurant next door to the chapel when they decided to marry immediately, Miss Sheehan said later.

She said they wanted a quiet, simple ceremony rather than a more elaborate one that had been discussed.

After the marriage she made another dancing appearance in her supporting role in the show at the Tropicana Hotel.

Best man at the ceremony was Don Williams, chose singing group appears in the show. Miss Sheehan was attended by Dotty Harmony and the witnesses were Mary and Marcia Darcy — all showgirls in the act.

Miss Sheehan said she and young Crosby had no honeymoon plans and that she might continue appearing at the night club another two months.

Dennis and Miss Sheehan have been keeping company for several months. Last Feb. 3, spokesmen at their homes said they planned to be married in the same Las Vegas Catholic church where widower Bing, 53, married actress Kathryn Grant, 23, last Oct. 24.

Two days later the Rt. Rev. John J. Ryan, pastor of the church, St. Anne's, issued this statement: "I wish to make it clear that no such marriage can be approved by the Catholic Church unless, after thorough investigation, it is found that the former marriage of Miss Sheehan was not a valid Christian marriage contract."

Miss Sheehan, a non-Catholic, told a newsman that in 1950 she and George Douglas, then 30 and a representative of the American Guild of Variety Artists, were married at Carson City, Nev., by a justice of the peace. She said they later were divorced—in 1956, she thought.

Interviewed in a hotel corridor while his bride did her late show, Dennis said he hadn't had time to tell Bing of the wedding.

Cotton Man Dies Sunday

DALLAS (AP)—Elmer Watson, 66, Plainview cotton merchant, died at a hospital here yesterday.

He had been in failing health three years.

Watson, a Bell County native, attended Temple schools and later was a student at the University of Texas and Texas A&M.

After 10 years as a dairy owner at Temple, he moved to Groesbeck in 1930 and opened his first cotton office. Others were established at Corpus Christi, in the Rio Grande Valley and in Central and North Texas.

Watson had been a Plainview resident since 1948, when he and a son, John R. Watson of Dallas, moved their headquarters there.

He also leaves his widow and another son, James L. Watson, Trinity, Tex.

The funeral service was set for 2 p.m. today at the First Baptist Church in Groesbeck.

HST Claims Defense Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry Truman says President Eisenhower's plan to reorganize the Defense Department is a "duplicate" of one that Truman proposed when he was in the White House.

Truman says the current proposal before Congress is a duplicate of "a message I sent down for the reorganization of the Defense Department. It was sent from the White House."

Truman did not specify when this occurred, nor did he elaborate otherwise.

He made the statement in the course of an interview on a variety of subjects on the Youth Wants to Know program televised Sunday by NBC. The program was filmed a week previous.

Ohio Primary Races Reach Vote Tuesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two Republican and seven Democratic cadidates for governor line up for the big primary hurdle race tomorrow. All but two—at least for public consumption—are oozing confidence.

The two exceptions are Charles P. Taft, self-styled "standby" candidate for the Republican nomination, and Mrs. Vivienne Suarez, mother of five, who is bidding for the Democratic nomination. Says Mrs. Suarez: "I haven't found a soul who will bet a cup of coffee on the Democratic race."

Taft, the 1952 GOP gubernatorial nominee, insists he has been in the Republican race all along only on the off-chance that the health of GOP first-term Gov. C. William O'Neill might force him to abandon the race for renomination.

Taft failed to make an 11th-hour forecast of his own nomination.

But the half-dozen male candidates for the Democratic nomination issued confident last-minute statements.

The six are: Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze of Cleveland; former Mayor Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo; former Supreme Court Judge Robert N. Gorman; Youngstown political writer Clingan Jackson; Cuyahoga County engineer Albert S. Porter; and Columbus Mayor Maynard E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner.

The two gubernatorial races are stealing almost all the primary election thunder. There are also several congressional nomination races.

Neither John W. Bricker, Republican, nor Stephen M. Young, Democrat, has primary opposition for the U.S. Senate nominations.

Post Office Will Be Air Conditioned

WASHINGTON (AP)—Award of a design contract to William Hall and Co. of Dallas for air conditioning for the post office in Longview, Tex., was announced today by General Services Administration.

The firm expects to finish drawings by July 23. The entire air conditioning work will cost about $60,000. The amount of the design contract was not announced.

Junior Editors Quiz on SCIENCE

QUESTION: Why is the South Pole colder than the North?

• • •

ANSWER: American scientists and explorers, working to unlock the Antarctic's secrets in "Operation Deep Freeze", have recorded the lowest temperatures known to man in the vicinity of the South Pole. In May, according to Dr. Paul Siple, it dips to 100 degrees below zero and even colder. By contrast, here are some North Pole figures: January, average estimated temperature, 42 degrees below zero; July, 30 above zero! Actually, it may rain at the North Pole during July and August, something which never happens at the South Pole.

The Arctic is a frozen sea surrounded by land; the Antarctic, a frozen land surrounded by sea. Water retains the sun's heat better than land does, and that makes the North Pole climate comparatively mild.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Read a book about Arctic exploration and try to find out why the Arctic is sometimes called "friendly" — which is not true of the Antarctic.

Youth's Fate Rests With Juvenile Court

ST. LOUIS (AP)— The fate of a youth who left little Kathy Hampton tied and naked in a vacant house without food or water for three days rested today with Juvenile Court.

Robert Martin Reich Jr., 15, told police step by step how he gave the pretty blonde tot a ride on his bicycle to the ramshackle house 30 blocks from her home, then tore her dress off and tied her up.

She wriggled free and was found scratched and dirty but otherwise unharmed. She had not been sexually molested.

The polite, slightly built boy told officers he was scared to go back to the house and intended never to tell where Kathy was.

"I had no reason. I just did it," he said.

Reich is only a shade over 5 feet tall and weighs just 90 pounds. Police said he suffered from rheumatic heart disease and missed a lot of school. He attends special classes for mentally retarded children.

The boy has lived most of his life with his widowed grandmother Mrs. Bessie Dillman, who said: "I can't believe he did it, but if he did, he needs psychiatric attention."

Robert's father, an epileptic, is in a mental institution. His mother has remarried.

The boy's teacher said he had never been a behavior problem at school. His grandmother said he was a gentle youth and good to children.

Robert went to police the day after Kathy's disappearance with a story that he had given her a bike ride and left her at her home, where he had last seen her talking to a man. He admitted the abduction three hours after the 6-year-old girl was found.

Kathy was back home with her parents aand five brothers and sisters a few hours after she was examined at City Hospital.

Mrs. Hampton said, "Now I want the people to know there's another mother who needs their prayers . . . and a boy who needs their prayers too."

Industrialist Raps Probers

NEW YORK (AP)—Snooping agencies are putting freedom in the United States in jeopardy, says Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland industrialist.

Adolf Hitler, at the height of his power, "never had such spy organizations as we have in this country today," Eaton said last night.

The Canadian-born financier said there are no Communists in the United States "to speak of, except in the mind of those on the payroll of the FBI."

He said the FBI's importance is enormously exaggerated.

"They make no contribution to the upbuilding of this country and its respect abroad," he said. The FBI, he said, is just one of scores of agencies in the United States investigating citizens.

Eaton, sponsor of an annual international scientific meeting in Pugwash, N.S., was interviewed on an ABC-TV program.

He said he thought the United States has less confidence in its own people "maybe than any nation that I know of on earth."

Death Penalty Is Reinstated

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — British Gov. Sir Hugh Foot made the death penalty mandatory again last night for carrying or discharging firearms. His action followed renewal of anti-British violence.

A gunman, presumably from the EOKA underground, shot and killed two British servicemen in Famagusta's Greek sector yesterday. EOKA had threatened to tear up the truce it proclaimed 13 months ago unless the British stopped alleged mistreatment of political prisoners.

The gunman escaped. British troops and police rushed to the area and rounded up hundreds of Greek youths for questioning but released most of them later.

The mandatory death penalty for possession or use of arms had been proclaimed after EOKA launched its violence campaign to force the British out of Cyprus and unite the island with Greece. It was one of the first emergency regulations relaxed after the EOKA truce began.

SNYDER BUSINESS NEWS

VACATION TIRE SPECIAL—Doug McGlaun, manager of the tire department of Mixon Tire & Supply, is shown above with a rack of Firestone tires in the popular 6.70—15 size which are being sold in sets of four for only $50 per set plus your old recappable tires. The price includes the tax, too. (Lee Watson photographs)

RCA TRANSISTOR PORTABLE—Jim Mixon, owner of Mixon Tire & Supply on the north side of the Snyder square, is shown above holding two new RCA Victor portable transistor radios which operate on their own batteries. The larger one operates on three flashlight batteries, and the smaller, pocket radio, operates on a single small battery.

Mixon Features Portable Radios

"Once a portable radio was considered an extreme luxury, but it has now almost become a necessity of life," Jim Mixon, owner of Mixon Tire & Supply on the north side of the square, said.

"Of course, a portable radio still gives as much pleasure as it ever did — and then some, but it also gives information which can be gained through no other source that might save your life," he said.

Mixon was talking of the new RCA Victor transistor portable radios which operate on regular flashlight batteries or smaller batteries and which offer a constant contact with weather information during stormy periods such as severe weather alerts or during tornado warning periods for the area.

"Commercial power failures are a common occurrence during storms, and if the power goes off your television sets and ordinary electric radios go off you are without any means of learning what to expect in the way of weather," he said.

The new RCA portable radios at Mixon Tire & Supply Co. come in a variety of sizes from the pocket size full transistor radio which operates on a single small battery which lasts for 250 operating hours, to the beautiful leather bound models which operate off three regular flashlight batteries.

All are full-transistor radios which eliminates the possibility of tube failure.

Prices range from $29.95 to $65 — a small investment for the security of always being able to know what the weather is about to do.

Mixon points out that the radios are an ideal companion for your vacation, too.

Another item of high interest to prospective vacationers are the special vacation tire prices now being offered by Mixon Tire & Supply on Firestone tires. Right now the firm offers the special price of $50 per set of four 6.70 — 15 tires with your trade in of four recappable tires. That is only $12.50 per tire, and the price also includes the tax on the tires.

Firestone tires in all other sizes are comparably priced during the vacation special at Mixon's.

Another of the vacation and summer living items at Mixon Tire & Supply is the portable barbecue pit which has a hood, and automatic rotisserie in the outdoor department at the store. Also in the outdoor — department is the wide selection of power lawn mowers — which are no longer a luxury — but a necessity with the fast growth of grass and weeds in yards this spring. The main line of mowers at Mixons are the Sunbeam mowers in either electric or gasoline powered models.

Increasing in popularity here are the RCA Victor color television sets sold by Mixon's.

"Anyone who has a television antenna which works good with black and white television sets has sufficient antenna for good operation with a color set, and we offer a free demonstration of the new RCA color set in your home at any time you wish," he said.

Several programs are broadcast each day from the television stations in Lubbock, Abilene, Midland and Odessa and many programs are now broadcast in color from Sweetwater and Big Spring stations he said.

Queen Matilda of Flanders, the wife of William the Conqueror, spent most of her time weaving tapestry. One of her celebrated tapestries is now displayed in the Cathedral of Bayeaux.

Snyder Oil Co. Distributor For Onyx Products In Area

Snyder Oil Co., which has been distributor for the past three years of Premier oil and gas products, has now converted its operations to become distributor for Onyx Petroleum Products, a division of Cosden Petroleum Corp.

A. K. (Smitty) Smith, owner of the Snyder firm, said the change became effective Saturday.

With the change, 10 stations in the Snyder area became Onyx dealers. They were Page's Service on east U. S. Highway 180 at the traffic pattern, Walker's on the East Highway, Cox's at Avenue R and Twenty-fourth Street, Franks' on the Lubbock highway, Ferrell's on west U. S. Highway 180, Weaver's on the Big Spring highway, Douglas' at Ira, S&L Grocery and Service at Lake J. R. Thomas, Augustine's on the Clairemont highway, and Buford's at Colorado City.

Smith said regular courtesy card customers of the 10 stations here will receive Onyx courtesy cards this week. Any who do not receive them have been asked to contact Snyder Oil Co. Onyx stations here will honor all Onyx, Cosden, and Col-Tex cards, and Onyx cards are good at any of those stations.

Onyx is an all-Texas company, and it uses local crude in refining its gasolines, Smith said. "The Onyx trademark decal carries the Texas 'map.'"

All Onyx stations will carry a good line of Goodyear and Mansfield tires and tubes, and it will adjust as well as sell the tires. They will have AC oil filters and all types of accessories. All will have Onyx regular and premium gasolines and all major brands of oil.

"We will be just as competitive as anyone in town on our tires," Smith said.

He invited residents to try the Onyx gasoline and to apply for a courtesy card if they do not have one.

PUTTING UP new decals at the Snyder Oil Co. office on the East Highway is A. K. (Smitty) Smith, new Onyx distributor here. The 10 Onyx stations will have all major brands of oils and Goodyear and Mansfield tires and tubes. (Lee Watson photography)
