Through Travels Of Stick Horse --

Operation Friendship Gains Momentum

by Chris Moss

Ten-year-old Roger Reynolds of Putnam, Tex., and his dad, R. W. Reynolds, accompanied by Senor Amigo, world-traveled stick horse, stopped briefly in Farwell Monday afternoon to spread their message of good will and friendship and to allow this news editor to examine some of the decorations and log books, signed by many persons in many lands, as they were enroute to the family farm at Estancia, N.M.

Senor Amigo is one of several such animals belonging to the Reynolds brothers, Roddy and Roger, who has done much traveling throughout the world since the project was first begun in 1960 when Roddy left the first of the horses, "Gold Dust", alongside highway 60 in New Mexico.

Little did Roddy Reynolds, then 12 years of age, dream that the project which he started as a commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the Pony Express, would grow to such proportions.

While on vacation with his family in 1960, Roddy left Gold Dust at a roadside stop beside Highway 60 in New Mexico with a notice fastened to him which read, "My name is Gold Dust-on this 100th anniversary of the Pony Express I am out to commemorate same - you travelers ride me as far as you can go and pass me on to another who will do likewise."

It worked so well that Gold Dust rode to hundreds of places on five continents and back home. His master heard from many people from all walks of life commending him on the idea. These letters were an inspiration for some sons of Gold Dust riding on missions of good will, spreading Americanism throughout the world. All these ponies made fine impressions everywhere they traveled -- even in Moscow. In many places they have been featured on television, by the press, and have visited schools and orphanages, and attended meetings of various kinds where they were "honored."

"It would be difficult to single out just which of the various horses has done the most to create good will and spread friendship", as the 80-year-old mayor of Maryborough, Queensland, said when Gold Dust rode into his town. But Senor Amigo, who has recently completed his second "run" and returned to the home corral in Putnam, is a good example of the work that is being done by these stick horses.

Senor Amigo was created at the request of a Putnamite, Hall Green, who works for an oil exploration company and travels to different places throughout the world. Hall was working in Alaska when Gold Dust III rode into Fairbanks and was so impressed at the impact of the pony's presence in a strange place, that months later, having returned to Putnam, he asked for a mount to take with him to Bogota, Colombia. Thus Senor Amigo was born.

Designed originally to ride throughout the Americas, "To keep alive the principles supported by great men such as Simon Bolivar and Abraham Lincoln; "Freedom, Equality and Friendship," he rode all over the world-even to Antarctica, the only continent not visited by one of the other ponies.

After coming home just before Christmas (1966), he hit the trail on Jan. 3rd for Alaska where he had been invited to help celebrate the Centennial year. There he was treated like visiting royalty. At Anchorage a parade was held in his honor. Today, a sign bearing this notice: "SENOR AMIGO SLEPT HERE" stands in the yard of one Anchorage family.

Before Senor Amigo went to Alaska he changed masters. Roddy had gone off to college and had turned the "reins" of the project over to his little brother, Roger.

Senor Amigo completed his mission in Alaska and returned home all loaded down with decorations which were fastened to his body. Two logbooks were chock full of autographs and messages of friendship. His feedbag was full of letters and pictures he had gathered from the places where he had visited.

Already there were invitations for Senor Amigo to visit places far and wide. Since he was so loaded with souvenirs and mementoes Roger decided in favor of a brand new pony named "DON AMISTAD" (Sir Friendship) to ride in his place.

Senor Amigo, the stick horse held by Roger Reynolds, has traveled over the world, twice, to spread his message of good will, friendship and Americanism. He is now in the home corral at Putnam, Tex., but visited briefly in Farwell on Monday and "he" and his master hope to visit here during the Border Town Days celebration later this week. His "feed bag" is filled with log books signed by persons from all walks of life on five continents. He is only one of such animals owned by the Reynolds brothers, Roddy, a college student, and Roger, ten years of age. The animals make appearances in schools, in civic groups, and on various other occasions to spread their message of Equality, Freedom and Friendship. Note the various decorations he has received in his travels.

Dear Turnrow Tunkel . . .

DID YOU know that China has more irrigated land than any other country?

Maybe that explains why the Red Chinese are so hard to get along with. I know from my own experience that people become a little cranky when they have to get up at all hours of the night to change water.

I UNDERSTAND that Algeria is still holding Israeli hostages from the hijacked airliner. If they aren't released soon, don't you think Israel will retaliate?

Yes, and I'm surprised that it hasn't already happened. Last summer the Israelis retaliated against Nasser, not because of what he had done, but because of what he was thinking of doing.

ACCORDING TO a magazine article I read concerning "soul food", chitlins should be cooked 24 hours. What are chitlins? If I told you, you'd understand why they need so much cooking. You sure wouldn't want 'em served medium-rare.

DID YOU read that the Army has stopped experimenting with nerve gas, after 6500 sheep died on nearby ranches?

I wonder how long those experiments have been going on. I tried raising sheep a few years ago, and mine started dying from some mysterious reason. I can't say it was caused by nerve gas, but by the time I finally got out of the business my nerves were shot, and even my banker was acting a little strange.

WHAT DID you think of Gov. Connally's statement that if Hubert Humphrey is nominated by the Democrats, his running mate should be a conservative in order to balance the ticket?

That's going to take some doing. The only Democrats I can think of that are conservative enough to offset Hubert have already joined Geo. Wallace's party.

DID YOU know that a riding lawn mower is on the market which can be converted quickly into a golf cart?

I might consider buying one, but the way my luck runs I'd probably want to play golf the very same day my wife needed to mow the lawn.

Border Town Days Plans Complete

Final plans for the big Border Town Days celebration were completed at the noon meeting of Farwell Chamber of Commerce on Monday.

The celebration will be kicked-off with a gigantic parade at 4 p.m. today (Thursday). Parade participants are to assemble in the area west of the Burger Barn in Texico, adjacent to the highway. The parade will move eastward through Texico and Farwell and on to the Rodeo Arena.

Most of the local business firms, churches, and various other organizations are planning to have floats in the parade. In addition, all of the Border Town Days queen contestants will ride on a float in the parade. Several riding clubs will participate as will the Clovis Drum and Bugle Corps, bands from the area, an antique car club from Portales, and various other clubs and organizations from the area. Parade marshal is Fred Chandler.

Kiddie rides and carnival with concession stands will be in operation at the city park, under direction of Mr. Horn of Clovis. The rides will operate throughout the three-day celebration, but will not be in operation during rodeo performances. Rodeo performances of the AJRA approved rodeo will be held each evening, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at 8 p.m.

Admission prices are 50¢ for children and $1.00 for adults.

Each evening prior to the grand entry at the rodeo, the queen contestants will be introduced. The queen and her runners-up will be named prior to the final performance of the rodeo, but following the grand entry on Saturday evening.

Saturday, a golf tournament for both men and ladies will be held at the Farwell Country Club, beginning at 8:30 a.m. At 10 a.m. and 1 p.m., the Lions Club is sponsoring trap shoots at the trap range, north of Texico on the Stateline road. Also beginning at 1 p.m. at the city park in Farwell, several contests will begin, including Minnie Pearl hat contest, hog and cow calling, whittlers, country crooners, and others. Western music will be provided by Ed Hardage and a western band during the park performances.

As an added attraction Joe Robertson of Clovis, Horseshoe pitching international champion, will present an exhibition and will also challenge anyone to a contest at the city park on Saturday afternoon.

On hand for the festivities will be Senator Jack Hightower, Representative Bill Clayton, and other dignitaries. (Continued on Page 2)

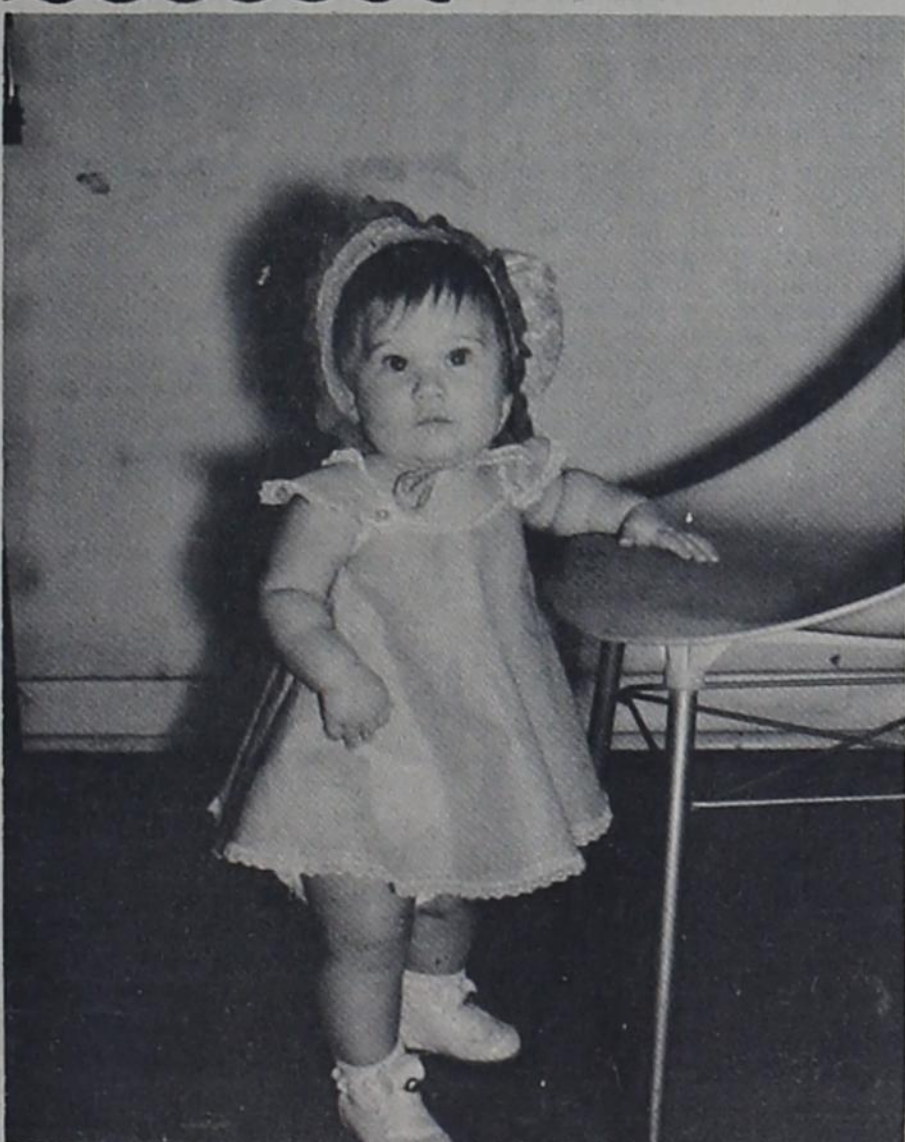

Pep Club Sets Meeting

Karen Verett, president of Farwell Pep Club, announces a meeting of that organization for 3 p.m., Monday, August 19, at the Farwell gym. She urges all members and all girls who wish to become members, especially freshmen, to be in attendance at the meeting.

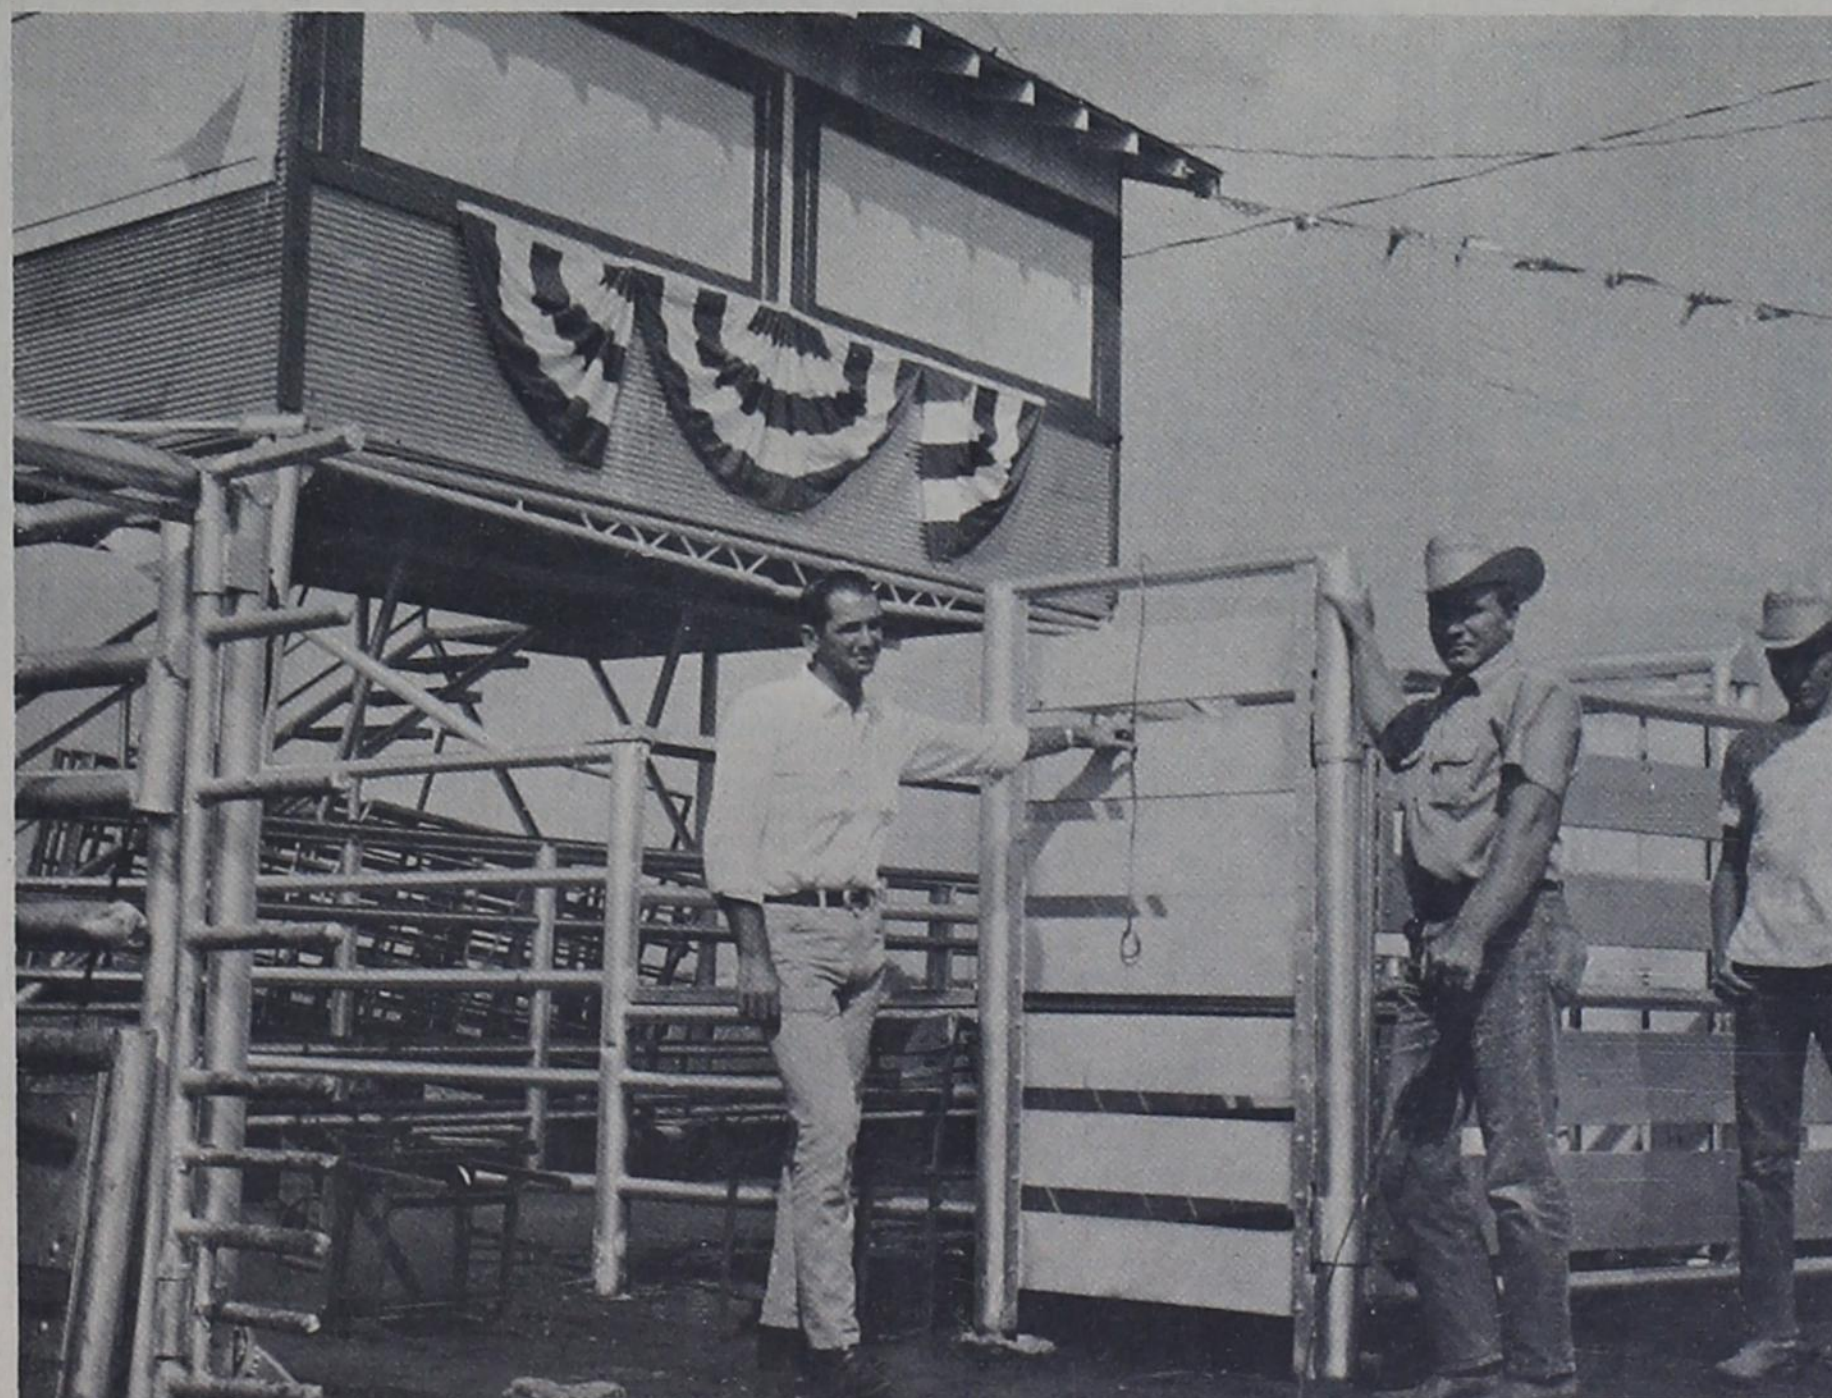

Uniforms for the coming year will be discussed and new yells learned by the cheerleaders during the past few weeks will be presented for approval of the group.

Cheerleaders recently returned from Texas Tech cheerleading school where they received several awards, including the "spirit stick", highest award given at the camp.

YOUNGEST CONTESTANT -- Jerilyn Claire Irby, seven-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Irby of Abilene, will "no doubt" be the youngest contestant in the Minnie Pearl hat contest on Saturday. She will be modeling the hat (bonnet) she is wearing which was made for Mrs. Irby, by her late great-grandmother, Mrs. D. B. Langford, who settled in Farwell in 1905. Grandparents of the young contestant are Mr. and Mrs. Bunk Phillips of Farwell, and Rev. and Mrs. V. B. Irby of Raton, N.M. Great-grandparents include Mrs. Kate Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cox, all of Farwell.

CHECKING to see if everything is in readiness at the Rodeo Arena for the first performance of the AJRA Rodeo on Thursday evening are Doyle Ford, John McFarland and Lonnie McFarland, members of the Roping Arena Association, who is responsible for bringing the rodeo to Texico-Farwell. Three performances are scheduled, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 p.m.

him off on the first leg of a run that took him to many points over the United States and back to the stable in Putnam where he stayed while Roger was making up his mind just where he would go next. He hit the trail late in April to keep appointments at places like Montevideo, The Hague, Djakarta, Belgrade, Tunis, Tripoli and Kabul. In August he is to be a part of the American exhibit in a fair in Kabul, Afghanistan.

Meanwhile Roger sits at home looking anxiously for every mail run expecting letters from new-found friends that have been touched by the magic of Don Amistad. Occasionally he will take the much decorated Senior Amigo or Gold Dust with him on trips he makes with the family inviting people of stature to sign in the log book.

The story of "Operation Friendship" has been told all over the world and Roger is not surprised when he gets a clipping from a paper or magazine halfway around the world. Or, a request from some organization for a pony to "ride" on some special mission.

As his name implies, Don Amistad likes to make friends. He would like to ride to your part of the world wherever it is. You may contact him by writing his master: Roger Reynolds, Box 1058, Putnam, Texas 76469 U.S.A.

Robin Roberts, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Roberts and a member of the Piggly Wiggly Pee Wee baseball team, steps up for a "hot dog" being dished out by Rotarian Bobby Joe Crume, at the feed for dads and baseball team members Saturday night.

WHAT'S BETTER THAN a "hot dog" and a cooling bottle of pop when a guy has been playing baseball? David Harding, local Little League team member, and his cousin, Bob Harding, pause briefly to pose for the photographer during their meal at Farwell City Park Saturday evening. All Little League, Pee Wee League and Pony League team members and their dads look forward to the annual picnic sponsored by local Rotary Club members.

John West, right, was recipient of a color TV at the Rock Show held at the Clovis Armory Sunday afternoon. With West are Ralph Essex, president of the Clovis Gem and Mineral Society, and C. E. Barnes, also of Clovis.

Mrs. Bunk Phillips was scheduled to undergo surgery at Clovis Memorial Hospital Wednesday morning. No report on her condition was available at press time.

Mrs. Elwanda Wagner, who has surgery two weeks ago, has returned home and is in satisfactory condition. Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Hamm and other relatives over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hamm and family of Roswell.

Beautiful Plants Can Be Deadly

by Jerry Isbell
SCS Representative

"The summertime beauty of our state's lush vegetation in yards, fields, pastures, and woodlands also holds dangers that the public should heed," H. N. Smith, State Conservationist for the USDA Soil Conservation Service in Temple, warned this week.

Smith said that throughout the U. S. and Canada, more than 700 species of plants are known to cause death, illness or extreme discomfort to people.

"Chewing, swallowing or otherwise contacting the toxic parts of certain plants, trees and shrubs takes a heavy toll," Smith said. "Each year health services report that about 12,000 children are poisoned or injured by these sources."

Parents should be concerned, the SCS official stated, because many of the plants are quite common in flower and vegetable gardens, and in ornamental landscaping, as well as in wild places. Bulbs, roots, seeds, leaves, beans, stems or berries many contain poison, depending on the species of plant.

The beautiful oleander bush, for example, grown all over the country, contains a deadly heart stimulant similar to the drug digitalis. The toxin is so strong that a single leaf can kill a child. People have died merely from eating steaks speared on oleander twigs and roasted over a fire.

The popular Christmas flower poinsettia is full of an acid, burning juice, so lethal that a child who consumed one leaf might die. Mistletoe berries can also be deadly.

Peach tree leaves containhydrocyanic acid, one of the most dangerous poisons known. Potato and tomato plants, close kin to the deadly nightshade, have foliage that contains alkaloid poisons which can cause severe digestive upset and nervous disorder if eaten.

Jimson weed, sometimes called thorn apple and stinkweed, grows almost everywhere and causes more poisoning than any other plant. It grows from 2 to 5 feet tall, has large leaves and white funnel-shaped flowers resembling morning glories. All parts are poisonous, especially seeds and leaves.

Duffenbachia, or dumb cane, is a beautiful house plant grown in millions of homes, but merely biting its stalk can cause swelling of the mouth and tongue that can be deadly. It is called dumb cane because of its power to strike its victims speechless. The stalk contains needle-like crystals of calcium oxalate that become imbedded in the tissue of the mouth and tongue causing severe swelling and pain.

Castor bean seeds are especially dangerous because they are so deadly and so readily available. They are sold in garden stores for about 25 cents a packet and are popular because they produce large, lush plants in one season. Yet each seed contains enough ricin, a powerful blood poison, to kill a child.

Mescalbean, or mountain laurel, is also dangerous. It has a poison bean with a hard coat. If it is swallowed whole there may be no ill effects, but if chewed or crushed it can be lethal.

Other common plants in Texas that have poisonous parts include elephant ear, larkspur, azaleas, lantana canana, yew, oaks, water hemlock, poison hemlock, poisoning, poison oak and poison sumac.

"More detailed information on these and other plants can be secured from health and plant authorities," Smith said. "However, we have requested SCS offices in our state's 184 soil and water conservation districts to cooperate fully with the National Safety Council in keeping the public alerted to plants that cause these problems."
