GOP Claimed Left Out In Sudden Acds

Plans For Labor Revealed By Both Top Candidates

(By The Associated Press)

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today accused the Truman administration of "clumsiness, weakness and wobbling" in foreign affairs.

"Time and again, America has been made to appear before the world as a tumbling giant, serving up diplomatic victories which only whetted the appetites of men whose appetites are world-wide," the Republican presidential candidate said.

Actions Uncoordinated

Dewey spoke at Louisville in the politically-strategic border state of Kentucky on his way to Illinois. President Truman also was headed for Illinois with his plan for an expanded new deal and "a better way of life."

Dewey charged the administration with failure to consult Republicans on sudden, vital moves in dealing with other nations although he said the GOP had taken a major role in creating the bipartisan foreign policy.

Such actions, Dewey said, have always got the country "deeper into trouble" and have been partly to blame for denying the American people the postwar gains they "had a right to hope for."

Key Races At Stake

Even so, Dewey credited the bipartisan policy with "great accomplishments" and said it had operated whenever the administration "permitted it." He pledged, if elected, to carry out "a vigorous, competent and effective" drive for a "bipartisan peace policy."

Key senatorial races are at stake in both Illinois and Kentucky. The Kentucky race pits Senator John Sherman Cooper against Rep. Virgil Chapman, Democrat. Illinois, Democrat Paul H. Douglas is waging a hard battle to unseat GOP Senator C. Wayland Brooks.

GOP Holds Margin

With the Republicans now holding Senate control by a six-vote margin, both parties are making all-out efforts to swing the balance of power their way in the November 2 election.

However Mr. Truman and Dewey concentrated on their own campaigns last night in major addresses touching on the same topics — the Taft-Hartley act, mini-

Champions Get Big Reception

CLEVELAND, Oct. 12 (AP) — Baseball happy Cleveland staged the biggest and loudest demonstration in the city's history today as the world champion Indians were welcomed back from Boston.

The entire city let go with a bombardment of music, flowers, cheers and applause as the Indians were driven up historic Euclid avenue from the terminal in Public Square to University circle, a 10-mile route.

Avenue Strewn

The avenue was strewn with roses and confetti, early morning traffic was tied in a happy, howling knot of humanity.

Traffic Commissioner John R. Sammon said it was the biggest celebration he could remember. He estimated the crowd that jammed into public square at 100,000 and said at least another 50,000 lined the street as the motorcade moved out the avenue.

UMW Seeks New Pay Hike

BURNED IN FIGHT — Mrs. Ann Iacona, 22, showed a long, painful burn on her face and burns on her wrists in a St. Louis, Mo., police court. She said her husband, Ross Iacona, a laborer, held an electric iron against her as they fought over custody of two children. The husband testified it was an accident, but Judge George J. Greliner replied "You don't get burned that way by an accident," and fined him $300.

Lewis Backed On Plans For Talks In 1949

Reduction In Work Week And Longer Vacation Sought

(By The Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 12—The United Mine Workers 40th convention today adopted a "fourth round" wage policy calling for a general pay boost, shorter work week, increased royalty fund, and other improvements.

The convention's wage scale committe did not spell out the detailed demand, but it referred to miners' President John L. Lewis and a national policy committee resolutions which would reduce the work week to 30 hours, increase the royalty payment to the welfare fund from 20 to 40 cents per ton, boost annual vacation pay from $100 to $200, lengthen the vacation from one to two weeks, extend the paid lunch period from 30 minutes to one hour, and require coal operators to pay for all supplies, equipment and much of the mining work not now compensated.

Lewis Given Leeway

The committee recommended that the convention void spelling out the demand in detail in order to give Lewis the widest possible latitude in the 1949 coal wage negotiations.

The convention reaffirmed his demand for a national bituminous contract which has been in effect since 1945.

The union, which along with the rest of organized labor has received three general increases since the end of the war, is the first big organization to frame its fourth round demands for 1949.

Unified Movement Urged

Lewis opened today's final session of the convention by offering to make a new try to unify the divided American labor movement.

He told the United Mine Workers that the union "will be glad to urge and joint and become a part of a unified labor movement" despite the failure of previous attempts because of "the lack of wisdom and unbending attitudes of some leaders." He named none.

"Tomorrow is before us and the problem is still unsolved," he said. The convention voted him authority to try again.

New Move Is Made In Race

AUSTIN, Oct. 12 (U.P.) — Two San Antonio men were reported today to be heading a movement which hopes to petition the U. S. Senate to investigate the recent primary election of the Democratic U. S. senatorial nominee.

R. Neil Campbell, an attorney, and W. D. Bacon, a contractor, announced they hoped to gain 1,000,000 signatures on the petition which would ask, in addition to an investigation, that the Senate decline to seat Lyndon Johnson, the Democratic nominee, until the inquiry is completed.

Inactive In Campaign

The petition asks an "inquiry of the actions and policies of the candidates for senator."

"We don't care who is elected," Campbell said, "but we feel as citizens our rights have been infringed."

Both men said that neither of them took an active part in the campaign for either Johnson or his opponent, Coke Stevenson.

Armed Bandits Take $3,000 In Louisiana

LAFAYETTE, La., Oct. 12. (AP)—Two armed bandits who held up the Forest club near Abbeville shortly before midnight last night made off with $3,000, according to state police reports here today.

Most of the loot was in currency of $10 and $20 bills, police reported, and was marked with either the name "Violent Tony Linda" or "Carlean."

State police located the original getaway car, abandoned about two miles from the club.

French Government Set To Seize Paris

PARIS, Oct. 12 (U.P.)—The French government has organized a detailed plan to seize Paris within one hour in case of armed revolt, forestalling any rebel effort to take the capital, confidential reports said today.

A force of 100,000 loyal troops and police have been especially briefed and trained for this emergency by Jules Moch, hardboiled Socialist minister of the interior who has an equal dislike for Communists and DeGaullists.

Comet In Southern Sky Is Discovered

MT. HAMILTON, Calif., Oct. 12. (AP)—Discovery of a faint comet in the constellation Aquarius was announced today by Lick observatory.

It was found Oct. 7 by Dr. C. A. Wirtanen, Lick astronomer, rather high up in the southern sky at 10 p. m. It has a magnitude of 14.5, which means it is too faint to be seen with anything smaller than a 10-inch telescope. It is the eleventh comet discovered so far this year.

Judge Puts Finishing Touches On Singer

Pre-Dawn Serenading Can Be Unamusing And Even Abusing

CUMBERLAND, Md., Oct. 12 (U.P.)—Henry Hill had a pretty good idea today that serenading a lady can be both painful and costly especially if you pick the wrong time and the wrong lady.

Henry made that double mistake when he hauled out his guitar at 4 a. m. and began strumming a tune beneath the window of Josephine Pullen.

Miss Pullen was not amused. She tossed the small ironing board out of the window and hit Henry on the head. Then she called police.

Before Magistrate Frank Perdew, Miss Pullen said she had to hit the serenader because "just talking to him didn't seem to quiet him down." The judge fined Henry $10 and then told him:

"You deserved to be hit with a large ironing board."

PROTESTING FARMERS ABSENT

Labor Problems Of Area Are Studied

Seeking to cooperate in every way with farmers of the area who need cotton harvest labor, representatives of the Texas Employment commission and the Chamber of Commerce met in the office of T. L. Barnes, deputy commissioner of the Texas Labor department here this morning, but farmers who had filed protests on out-of-state recruiting did not appear.

Concerning labor recruiting, Barnes explained the law under which his department operates. This sets up certain qualifications for recruiters, then recites that "if commissioner finds that the application complies with the law and that the applicant is entitled to a license, then he shall issue a license to the applicant for each county for which application is made."

Surplus Labor Report Rented

The law provides for payment of a license fee of $150 for each county in which recruiter intends to operate.

Barnes denied that he had issued a statement showing a surplus of labor. He attributed the report to misunderstanding of press accounts of reports from the state office at Austin, which sought to show the labor picture on a statewide basis.

The deputy commissioned said several illegal recruiters had been apprehended, but that his office cannot halt recruiting, or refuse to issue a license if terms of the law are met.

James E. Marshall, manager of the Texas Employment commission office here, said every possible cooperation is being given by his agency in the situation, and that no labor is being sent out of here from the agency. Rather, he said, the agency, in cooperation with other offices throughout the state, is seeking to route cotton labor to this area.

Area Shortages Less

He feared that farmers had misunderstood a report showing shortages of labor at various places over the area, and had accepted them not as shortages in the areas involved, but as the num-

Health Fuss Is On In Houston

HOUSTON, Oct. 12 (U.P.)—Houston ignored its growing pains today to take stock of sanitary conditions, which, according to one observer, have encouraged the spread of polio and jeopardized the entire city.

Dr. Maryland B. Byrne, linking inadequate sewage disposal with the dread disease, told an audience here last night that Buffalo Bayou is serving as a "raw sewer" where five and one-half tons of sludge are dumped daily.

Polio Survey Concluded

Dr. Byrne has concluded an eight-week survey on the spread of polio here in behalf of the American Association of Sanitary Engineering.

She reiterated her claim that Houston ice cream is, in many cases, germ-laden, and that Houston lacks an ordinance governing the purity of milk products.

"No wonder you have so much polio here," she told a joint meeting of the League of Women Voters and the Business and Professional Women's League.

Charges Stoutly Denied

City Health Officer Dr. Fred K. Laurentz has stoutly denied Dr. Byrne's charges, and claimed that bacteria records on ice cream sold in Houston fail to back up her attack. Dr. Laurentz explained that the city requires milk from which ice cream is made to be pasteurized, and that the same ordinance requires that all milk be pasteur-

One-Way Jaunt To Moon Is Possible

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12 (U.P.)—You can take a rocket flight to the moon, but it will have to be a one-way trip.

Hall L. Hibbard, Lockheed Aircraft corporation chief engineer, told the American Society of Tool Engineers yesterday that science has solved the problems of building a rocket that can travel into outer space.

"The trouble is that we can't figure out how anyone in the rocket would get back to earth," he said.

Seven Suffer Burns In Explosion, Fire

ALTUS, Okla., Oct. 12 (AP) — Seven persons, all members of the same family, suffered burns today when an explosion and fire razed a converted barracks building at Altus airfield.

Four of the seven were burned seriously. They are John A. Beaty, 38, and his three sons, Wayne, 17, Jakie, 15, and Charles, 12.

Beaty's three other children, Ronald, 10, Sharon, 7, and Stanley, 5, also suffered burns but were not believed in serious condition.

Boy, Man Who Tried To Save Him Drown

DALLAS, Oct. 12. (AP)—A two-year-old boy and the man who tried to save him drowned in a cattle pond near Mesquite yesterday.

Dead were Lewis Dean Haynes, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Haynes of Mesquite, and Thurmond Reeves, 38, of Mesquite.

F. P. Lucas, owner of the Lucas dairy farm, said the child fell into a deep water reserve pond on his farm and Reeves dived in to save him.

Battle With Give-Away Shows Sparked

ABC Denies Fred Allen Quip On 'Stop-The-Music Frameup'

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The running battle between radio comedian Fred Allen and radio give-aways flared anew today.

The American Broadcasting Co. and the producer of its super-give-away, "Stop The Music," fired counter blasts to Fred Allen's statement that people who are called during give-away shows are notified in advance so they'll be sure to be by the telephone. They said it just isn't done on that program or the network's other prize shows.

Allen made his comment Sunday night in his second consecutive broadside against give-aways. Portland Hoffa remarked that every person who is called on a give-away program "is always at home sitting by the telephone—waiting."

"I know," commented Allen, "I read in some paper the other day that people on lots of those give-away shows are called an hour or so before the program goes on the air to make sure they'll be home. So if you're not called before

The selections were made by the international artists committee, a group of 40 illustrators. The reason for the survey of American men was given by Reno Biondi, committee director, thus:

Russia Warns Every Weapon Has A Reply

Vishinsky Screams As Austin Unveils Plan To Halt Reds

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 12 — The United States warned the Soviet union today that the American rearmament program is being speeded to "stay the heavy hand of Russia's constant drive for world power."

U. S. Delegate Warren Austin made this statement in a speech before the United Nations political committee, which was considering a Russian proposal for immediate one-third disarmament by the big five powers.

Russian Reply Bitter

Russian Delegate Andrei Vishinsky replied in a shouting, screaming speech of one hour and 57 minutes in which he made some of the bitterest charges ever heard in a United Nations meeting.

Austin had taken a leaf from Vishinsky's book. Instead of defending American policy, he took the offensive. He denounced Russia for blocking a lasting peace, creating a threat to peace, refusing to cooperate in the UN, and frustrating a settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Admitting that the United States disarmed "too far and too fast" after World War II, Austin said this mistake was going to be remedied by a stepped-up rearmament program designed to protect against Russian aims of world domination.

Came Back Fighting

Vishinsky came back fighting. Red-faced, waving his arms, pointing his finger accusingly at western delegates, frequently raising his voice to a shriek, the prosecutor of the famous Moscow purge trials:

1. Asserted that Russia will give no information about her armed forces to the world until and unless the U. S. discloses the size of her stockpile of atomic bombs.

2. Accused the western powers of "making believe" that they wanted to prohibit the atomic bomb, while actually depending upon "this illegitimate queen."

Reply For Every Weapon

3. Warned that "there is a reply for every weapon, gentlemen — don't forget that—there is a reply for every weapon."

4. Accused the western powers of plotting with Nazi Germany to attack Russia in 1939.

5. Attacked John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign policy adviser who frequently has been mentioned as a probable choice for U. S.

Freight Rate Boost Sought

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (U.P.) — Railroads today asked the Interstate Commerce commission for a freight-rate increase of 13 per cent instead of eight per cent requested Oct. 1.

They filed formal petition with the ICC amending the Oct. 1 request. If the 13 per cent is granted, it would add $1,092,000,000 a year to shippers' costs on the basis of estimates by the railroads of their next year's business. And it would bring to $4,100,000,000 the total annual increase in rail freight-passenger revenue since the war.

Immediate Hike Asked

The carriers asked for an immediate eight per cent hike while the ICC is considering their request for another five per cent boost.

The railroads said the total increase requested would bring their net operating income in 1949 to an estimated $1,352,000,000.

They said, however, that if the proposed increases were not authorized, net operating income next year would be only $701,000,000.

Two Waco Men Die In Highway Crash

HOUSTON, Oct. 12. (U.P.)—Two Waco men died instantly today in a highway crash near Cypress, Tex., when their car smashed into the rear end of a transport truck loaded with iron piping.

Early reports said the dead men were decapitated. They were tentatively identified as W. J. Higginbotham and E. B. Caldwell.

Hospitalized here with serious injuries were Mrs. Higginbotham, Mrs. Caldwell and Mrs. W. W. Smith, all of Waco. Mrs. Smith sustained head, chest and internal injuries, Mrs. Higginbotham internal injuries and Mrs. Caldwell suffered a fractured arm and shock, attendants said.

Beating Is Fatal To Illinois TB Patient

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 12. (INS)—A 33-year-old tubercular patient at Peoria state hospital was beaten to death today by a fellow patient wielding a floor polisher.

The victim, James Spahr, of Canton, Ill., had been sharing a room in the tubercular section with his slayer, Jesse Bonham, 25, of Pekin, Ill. Both had been mental patients.

Assistant hospital superintendent H. B. Knowles quoted Bonham as saying Spahr attacked him suddenly.

Dr. Knowles said both men were admitted to the hospital about three years ago as separate mental cases. He said they were transferred to the tubercular section when they developed mild cases of the disease.

Peoria County Coroner Chauncey Wood said an inquest into Spahr's death would be held tomorrow. Wood said he would recommend that Bonham be examined by state alienists and transferred to a "secure" hospital.

Ideal Fall Weather Reported In Texas

(By The United Press)

Ideal fall weather held over most of Texas today for the second consecutive day.

Since thunderstorms cleared over the coastal region early Monday, the state has basked under clear skies and moderate temperatures, the U. S. weather bureau reported.

A light touch of summer reached Brownsville yesterday when the temperature climbed to 93 degrees, but the rest of Texas was cooler and at Guadalupe Pass the mercury never got past the 59-degree mark.

Overnight, the low was 45 degrees in West Texas at Clarendon and Amarillo.

Campaign Jinx Working Again For President

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 — The way President Truman's regular campaign year jinx is working again you would think the Republicans had bought up all the rabbits' feet and vote-fix powders.

Mr. Truman's best White House years have been when there wasn't any elections. When election chips are down his troubles seem to begin. He was just one of the boys up on Capitol Hill in 1945 when he came to the White House on Franklin D. Roosevelt's death. Everybody loved him and the whole country went on the presidential honeymoon. Germany folded and Japan collapsed. Mr. Truman was on the crest of the wave—non-electoral.

Went Pretty Well

Things went pretty well for the President until that day a couple of years ago when he missed the red danger flag on a speech Henry A. Wallace was about to deliver in Madison Square Garden. That was shortly before the 1946 congressional election. Mr. Truman carelessly endorsed Wallace's prepared attack on administration foreign policy.

Before that one cleared up, an embarrassed President had persuaded his secretary of state, James F. Byrnes, to remain in the cabinet only by firing Wallace out of it.

A few days later Mr. Truman got into trouble on meat. He boldly placed meat back on the ration list after a brief spree of free sale. Mr. Truman suggested when he did so that if he had made a mistake on Wallace the other day he wasn't making one on meat now. But the campaign heat proved to be too great for the President and he had to take another embarrassed bow in public in freeing meat from control once more.

Rated As Liability

Mr. Truman was rated so much of a liability to the Democrats in the congressional campaign two years ago that he was benched throughout and made no campaign appearances.

But the next year, 1947, when there was no election, the President's stock boomed again. He outsmarted congressional Republic-

THE CROSSLEY POLL

Dewey Standing Remains At 51 Percent In Poll Results

By ARCHIBALD M. CROSSLEY
Director The Crossley Poll

The first of October standing of the nominees shows no change from the first of September for Governor Dewey, a one point increase for President Truman and a one point decline for Wallace.

Following are the comparative results, with an 11% undecided vote prorated:

| Choice of Likely Voters | % First of Oct. | % First of Sept. |
| Dewey | 51 | 51 |
| Truman | 43 | 42 |
| Wallace | 4 | 5 |
| Thurmond | 2 | 2 |

So small a shift may be due to the normal limitations of samples of the population. However, the Wallace decline and Truman rise occur in enough states to indicate a trend of minor proportions. In individual states where the Truman and Dewey figures have been close together, any vote movement from Wallace to Truman might mean a possible shift of electoral votes.

Slight To Indecision

The slight trend shown above deals with the way voters now expect to express themselves at the voting booths. Among all persons of voting age, however, including both likely voters and non-voters, one per cent have shifted favor of Truman to indecision:

| All Voting Age Choice | % First of Oct. | % First of Sept. |
| Dewey | 39 | 39 |
| Truman | 38 | 39 |
| Others | 7 | 7 |
| Undecided | 1 | 15 |

These two tables would indicate Truman has not improved general opinion in his favor, but has apparently strengthened his relative position among voters.

On September first his best possible showing, if all potential voters voted, would have been only a tie. Now it is slightly less than a tie. Therefore, merely getting out the vote is not enough. His only possible opportunity to win seems to lie in whatever Republican apathy there may be, in a shift of favor from the other candidates in the closing weeks, and in the capture of a large part of those presently undecided.

Wallace Vote Declines

The Wallace vote appears to be declining and some of it apparently will go to the President. Recent decisions in several southern states will make possible some shift from Thurmond to Truman. Previous articles have shown that very little shift from Dewey to Truman is likely. And experience in other presidential elections indicates that no candidate gains many votes from the undecided group in the last few weeks. For these reasons, Truman may gain a little, but not a great deal through shifting opinion during the month of October.

The latest poll shows that in such voter shift as is now going on, Truman is gaining slightly more than the others. Of the former Roosevelt voters voting this November, he is now likely to get 67% instead of 65% as indicated a month ago, the two points coming principally from Wallace. And of the 1944 non-voters voting this year, he is now likely to get 42% instead of 40% as shown a month ago, again the two points coming principally from Wallace.

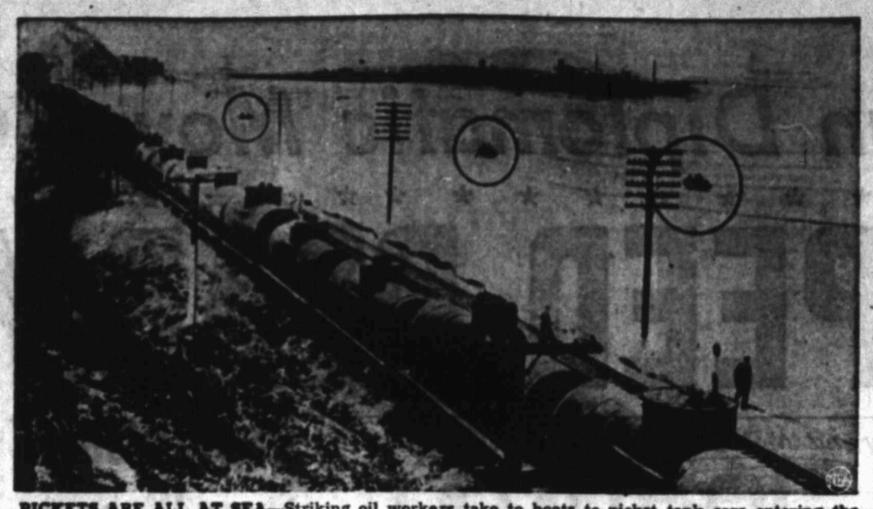

It is believed that this trend does not have enough momentum to reelect Truman. The likely extent of Republican apathy will be covered in a forthcoming article.

A head-start for the children...

When Walter and Gussie Melott married, they were determined about one thing: They wanted to give their youngsters a far happier childhood, a better start in life than they themselves had ever had.

But how should they go about it? Where would the children be able to lead the healthiest life, learn how to take responsibility, to understand the value of money . . . have a lot of fun, too? Maybe life on a farm would be the best thing?

The Melotts decided to try it and see . . .

Walter Melott's regular income from a farm machinery job made it possible to rent a 30-acre farm and to start a herd of Jerseys. His $3900 a year also provides for family running expenses, savings for children's college, family vacation trips.

Son Doug soon saw the fun and profit in dairying. With father's help he now has $1000 worth of prize-winning Jerseys and show equipment. The prize money will help Doug go to agricultural college . . . his biggest ambition in life!

Young Gary, too, is learning to be a dairyman. Like all the Melotts, he helps with chores, is active in Grange, 4-H projects.

With farm products and smart home management, Mrs. Melott feeds 5 for $800 a year! Rent is $780; clothing, $250.

Yes, the Melotts' goal is being reached! Daughter Jackie's smile speaks for the happiness all the youngsters are finding. Prize-winning homemaking projects prove that she, like her brothers, has good reason to be confident of getting along in the world.

"The children are getting the head-start we wanted for them," says Mr. Melott, "and I'm going to protect it with life insurance. I have some of this protection already, and I plan to get more from time to time."

Gary makes money raising Angora rabbits. He wants a lot of them. His family dreams of having a profitable herd of pure-bred Jerseys, their own farm.

THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND THEIR AGENTS

BRING YOU THIS STORY BECAUSE... families like the Melotts show us one way that happiness is earned! You, yourself, probably know a family, right in your own town, that is getting ahead in the same typically American way. Such families prove to all of us that we can solve our own problems by our own efforts. . . . Their example shows too why it is so important for us to hold to our rights to think for ourselves, to work at what we like, to live as we choose. For what this country amounts to depends upon what happens to its homes!

Worry-Of-The-Month Club Guarantees To Supply Impressive Problems For Members

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 — Have you had a fresh worry lately? Or are you one of those impossible people who go through life, day after day, worrying about the same old stale worries?

Don't you realize that in the fresh bright world of today you can't go around wrinkling your brow over the problems that befuddled your ancestors?

It isn't enough anymore just to worry about food, clothing and shelter, and keeping your children out of jail.

Rid your mind of those old, tiresome motheaten worries. Surprise your acquaintances by springing a sensational new worry on them. Watch their eyes widen in respect.

How can you do this? You just join the Boyle worry-of-the-month club.

Possibilities Good

The average man is too preoccupied with the problems of daily living to think up impressive new worries. He is in a worry rut. But every man has within him tremendous possibilities for worry—he can become a worry giant.

This is what the Boyle worry-of-the-month club undertakes to do. Every four weeks our board of experts looks over the world situation and picks out a tantalizing worry most people never thought of. We will send you this worry on a trial basis—without obligation. If you like it, you keep it and fret about it for a month.

The following month we will send you another worry. If you take four of our worries in a row, we will send you a free bonus worry—as long as the supply lasts.

Guarantee Given

One of the best features of the Boyle worry-of-the-month club is that we guarantee to send you a worry that you as an individual positively can do nothing about. We believe that is the only kind of a worry that brings enduring satisfaction.

One of our most popular worries last year was this:

"Do you know that at any moment the globe may tip its axis a few degrees, and everybody in the world be frozen like an ice cream cone?"

Now there is a good simple honest worry for a hostess to spring on her guests at a cocktail party. The more they drink the more they will think about this worry. It will take their minds off any personal worries they have been frittering away their time with.

Our current worry-of-the-month is lifted bodily from an ad in the book section of the New York Times:

What About Weed?

"Shall weeds inherit the earth?—a question to ponder without delay."

Well, there you are. Never thought of that did you? But, year after year, weeds have been growing up all around you in a green and devilish plot to destroy mankind. You thought you could take chlorophyl or leave it alone, did you? Forget it. Start worrying today about weeds. Tomorrow may be too late.

And join up now with the Boyle worry-of-the-month club. Our goal: To supply a care for the fellow who says he doesn't have a care in the world. It's the worrier who wins.

Johnson Visits His Washington Office

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP) — Rep. Lyndon Johnson, Democratic senatorial nominee from Texas, visited his office here yesterday for the first time since he won the torrid primary election.

Homer Thornberry, who won the Democratic nomination for the House seat which Johnson voluntarily gave up to seek a place in the Senate, accompanied him here.

Johnson said he would be here for only a day or two to attend to affairs of his office "and to get a suit or two out of the mothballs."

He and Thornberry visited the Interior department yesterday to discuss financial matters involving the Lower Colorado River Authority of Texas.

Thornberry said he wanted to see if he could locate a house in which to live here.

TELEVISION ON THE MOVE—Robert Wright tunes in his television receiver, newly-installed in his car, as he cruises around Milwaukee, Wis. He reported excellent reception, but city safety officers frowned on the experiment. They declared television in a moving car is dangerous.

Sides Reversed In Detroit Court Case

DETROIT, Oct. 12 (AP)—A defendant emerged from court yesterday as a complainant — and complainant became defendant.

Sam J. Morrone, 27, accused of disturbing the peace in a bar, told Judge John J. Maher he was "roughed up" by the bouncer. He said he called the police but when they came he—not the bouncer—was locked up.

"Well run places don't need bouncers," commented Judge Maher as he dismissed the charge.

Then he ordered Morrone to the prosecutor's office for an assault and battery warrant against the bouncer and assigned the case to another judge with the comment: "Someone might think I am prejudiced."

Christmas Package Deadlines Scheduled

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (INS)—The post office department announced tonight that overseas Christmas packages for the armed forces must be mailed between Oct. 15 and Nov. 15.

All parcels for the Navy addressed to remote places should be in the mails not later than Oct. 15.

Daughter Of Senator Declares Husband Beat Her Unconscious

WAXAHACHIE, Oct. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Molly O'Daniel White, daughter of U. S. Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, was expected to resume testimony today in her district court fight for a divorce from Henry Ford White, and custody of their child.

The smartly-dressed woman nervously testified in yesterday's hearing that her husband had beaten her into unconsciousness on two different occasions. One time, she said, was shortly before their son, Henry Ford White, jr., was born.

White, testifying later, denied that he had ever struck his wife. Mrs. White was on the witness stand for two hours and 37 minutes.

Mrs. White charged cruelty in her petition and asked restoration of her name by her first marriage, Molly O'Daniel Wrather, in addition to custody of the child.

Breaks Down Once

The daughter of Texas' junior U. S. senator broke down once during yesterday's session and cried. Court was recessed 10 minutes and then resumed. White denied allegations made by his wife and said he still was willing to effect a reconciliation.

She testified that her husband had telephoned her several times at her Dallas apartment, asking her to see him regarding a reconcilliation. She said that last Friday night she went to a Dallas hotel, accompanied by a private investigator, and went to White's room while the investigator stayed downstairs. She said she knocked on the door and when he opened the door, she could see a woman in the room, lying on the bed. She said the woman was wearing a skirt and blouse. She testified her husband had lipstick on his face.

Woman Handed Telephone

She said that just after she came into the hotel room that the telephone rang and that White handed the phone to the woman.

Then, she testified, her husband pinned her on the bed and threatened her life. However, the private investigator and several policemen entered the room about that time and she and the investigator left the hotel hurriedly, she said.

Part of the testimony in court concerned financial matters.

Mrs. White testified she gave James White, Henry's brother, $16,000 for the down payment on the couple's home at Midlothian. Total cost of the home was $30,000, she said, and she was making payments of $200 a month on it.

AUSTRALIANS RETURN

Postoffice Installs New Stamp Machine

The problem of where to find a stamp on Sundays and holidays has been solved for good in Lubbock with the installation of a stamp-vending machine in the lobby of the postoffice.

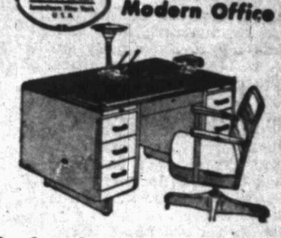

The machine is unusual in two respects: It is owned and operated by the Postoffice department, and there is no penalty or extra cost for purchasing stamps by machine.

The patron has three choices of stamps. He can buy two five-cent airmail stamps for a dime, five one-cent stamps for a nickel, or five three-cent stamps for a nickel and a dime.

Postmaster Amos Howard said the machines are being installed in larger postoffices over the country as a public service.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Using Martyred Patience In Dealing With One With Ungovernable Temper Called Futile

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Your evaluation of the problem discussed September 16 was astoundingly accurate, as I know from experience.

In our first years of marriage my husband posed the same paradox: a presumably ungovernable temper coupled with an otherwise fine character. For six years I reacted in much the same manner as the wife in this case. I kept hoping my patience and love for him would equalize his disposition.

There was nobody in either family to give intelligent aid, if confided in, and I couldn't bring myself to discuss the situation with outsiders. Everyone thought our marriage ideal and believed we were completely happy together.

Four years after marriage our first child was born and I hoped this would steady Burke. Had I known then what you so cleverly expound, I would have foreseen that a baby in the home would make matters worse, as indeed it did.

Burke's outbursts, previously directed at pieces of furniture or some specially cherished belonging of mine, now were focused on me; although (as in the case of the lady who asked your advice) he would always be instantly remorseful and expect my forgiveness.

VIOLENT SCENE TURNED TABLES

AFTER a year of such intensified tantrums, the climax arrived when, out of a clear sky, he tried to choke me. I was terrified and became so hysterical that the services of a doctor were required to calm me. The doctor, who had known my husband's family for years asked me to confide in him the cause of my anguish, when I felt I could.

For several days I wouldn't permit Burke to enter my room, and in that period I reached a decision to leave him. Dearly as I loved him, I now felt he could never change and I feared for my very life.

I visited the doctor and belatedly poured out my story. His diagnosis was essentially yours. He said, "if you had acted from the first with the firmness you are showing now, you could have helped your husband. Make no mistake, he can control himself. You blamed his outbursts on nervous fatigue, on working too hard, on a drink too many, but never on himself. No sane man has an 'ungovernable' temper. If he wants to, he can control himself.

WIFE'S COLD RAGE BROKE MAN'S SPIRIT

I WENT away for some weeks, and as I reviewed my years with Burke, I saw the justice of the doctor's verdict, which exposed weakness in both of us. Burke begged me to return. I told him my love had died completely and that if I did return it would be with the understanding that we did not live as man and wife.

He was broken in spirit as I had never been him and he promised that time would prove he had learned his lesson. That was 12 years ago and he has never had a tantrum since. Our marriage is as ideal as our friends thought at first; but it took me four years to overcome an involuntary aversion to his touch, and even now tragic memories of his earlier rages rise to the surface of consciousness occasionally.

Yet how simple it would have been, indeed how easy it was to halt the whole senseless proceeding; and how needless was our suffering! Therefore I say with you: Stop it now, without delay.

(Signed) A. L.

WIFE MUST LEARN TO TRULY FORGIVE

DEAR A. L.: As I get the picture, you conquered Burke by stealing his thunder. Given the choking episode to hang over his head, you threw a tantrum that lasted for weeks, indeed for years, in lingering overtones. He has been the underdog and you the tyrant in the situation ever since.

Now that he is behaving so nicely, chastened to the bone, perennially striving to atone for his guilt, may I suggest that it seems only fair for you to work redemptively on your own subtle sin of essentially unforgiving self righteousness, which is keeping alive those resurgent "tragic memories" that still cause pain.

M. H.

French Train Travel Delayed; Communist-Led Strikes Spread

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 12—France's Communist-led strike offensive tightened its coils about the nation's railway system today.

The rail walkout, still far from general, gained ground. It was delaying some international trains—such as the Calais-Basle express—as much as four hours. Other cross-border trains were delayed by rerouting in eastern France, where the strike has been most effective.

No Sign Of Break

A paralyzing coal strike meanwhile went into its ninth day with no sign of a break. Already more than 1,000,000 tons of coal have been lost to European recovery.

The Communist-led dock workers were ordered out today for 24 hours.

A 48-hour work stoppage was ordered yesterday in the steel mills of the Metz area. Neighboring districts are already strike-bound.

French Interior Minister Jules Moch is reported to have charged the strike campaign was ordered by the Moscow-led Cominform for the purpose of wrecking the European recovery program.

Demands Are Refused

Transport Minister Christian Pineau announced last night the government had refused Communist demands for wage increases in the nationalized railroads and he threatened to fire any strikers who keep others off the job.

Pineau warned leaders of the General Confederation of Labor he would punish offenses by railwaymen against the "right to work."

The transport minister said he could not approve raises which would mean another 30 per cent increase in rail fares. However, he announced concessions on other points, including vacations and upgrading of job classifications.

Some of the rail workers have been demanding a minimum monthly wage of 25,000 francs ($75)—twice the present minimum, plus a month's vacation with pay and a 40-hour week.

Explosion Damages Stone Building Here

A freakish explosion blew a door off the boiler room of Pumice Building Materials company at 2217 North Second about 7:55 a. m., and set another door and door frame afire.

Firemen theorized that oxygen was sufficiently depleted in the closed room to shut off main burners in the boiler and that escaping gas was ignited later from the pilot light after oxygen had seeped in around the door.

Only a slight crack was caused in one wall of the building, since it is constructed of pumice stone—said by firemen to withstand pressure of 1,100 pounds to the square inch.

Dallas Pair Happy As Stinker Leaves

FORT WORTH, Oct. 12 (U.P.)—"The little stinker" took a powder and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Jennings were relieved no end today.

"The little stinker" was a skunk who invaded the bedroom closet of the Jennings house. They found him there Sunday.

How he got in the bedroom closet no one knew. How he left was a moot question.

"He's gone — that's what matters," said the Jennings. "That bedroom just wasn't big enough for the three of us."

The district attorney said numerous criminal actions will be called Monday by Judge G. V. Pardue of the 99th district court of Lubbock county for announcement of counsel.

Lions Stage Parade For Minstrel Show

Sparked by a downtown parade participated in by club members who attended the luncheon today at the Hilton hotel and a group of enthusiasts from Texas Tech college, indications were that the Lions club Jubilee Minstrels of 1948, third annual presentation of the minstrels here, would have a sell-out crowd tonight, club officials said.

Today's luncheon program centered around the minstrel, which gave its first performance last night in the high school auditorium primarily for college and public school students.

Dr. Clyde C. Craig, director of the show, spoke briefly, then introduced Jimmie Allard of Dallas, veteran minstrel producer, who is assisting with the show this year. Allard rendered "She's Funny That Way."

The parade, leading from the Hilton around the square to Hotel Lubbock was led by Joe Meador, head of the college chamber of commerce, and a group of students.

The show is to be presented tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock at the high school auditorium, as benefit performances on behalf of Girl Scouts and the Lubbock Boys club here.

Club President Wayne (Mickey) Henly presided, with invocation by Elmer East.

Author Of New Book Based On Early West Texas Visits Here

Charming Opal Leigh Berryman, whose new book, "Pioneer Preacher," is now on the stands, is a visitor in Lubbock today and while here autographed copies of the book at the Little Book shop in Hemphill-Wells and the Book & Stationery Center.

In private life, the author is Mrs. Opal L. Paap of Los Angeles. This is her first book, although she has published both poetry and short stories, the latter under the pen name of Leigh Berry.

Background Given

"Pioneer Preacher" is a biographical narrative about her father's experiences as a Baptist missionary in West Texas. George Carroll Berryman brought his wife and young daughter, Opal, to Texas in the early 1900's. They first settled in Old Chicago, in Dawson county and then, when the county seat was moved, moved with it to Lamesa (then spelt La Mesa, the spelling used throughout the book). For the book, Mrs. Paap has drawn from the incidents of eight years spent in various of her father's West Texas pastorates.

For clarity, however, she has telescoped the action into two years, and has made all the incidents occur in or around Lamesa. The cowboys, the Ku Klux Klan and cattle rustlers, familiar to "western" fiction readers are present in her story, but more important is her portrayal of the "good men" of the raw new land who helped make it into the thriving, civilized community it is today.

To Visit Lamesa

"Pioneer Preacher" has already been selected for January by the Family Reading Club and is recommended in Revielle, publication of the Sunday School board of the Southern Baptist convention.

The author will pay her first visit to Lamesa, locale of the book, Wednesday for the first time since 1907 and she is looking forward to observing the changes time has wrought in the little frontier town she knew as a girl.

She is traveling with a sister, Miss Marjorie Berryman, with whom she resides in Los Angeles.

Prices For Record Farm Crops To Stay High During War Talk

BY OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12—With a record crop volume practically assured for this year, farmers already are turning their attention to planting for another big output in 1949.

The Agricuture department reported this in a harvest-time statement yesterday estimating this year's total crop production will exceed the 1946 record by 8 per cent.

Favorable weather in September virtually nailed down earlier forecasts that 1948 production will top all others.

Fall plowing, field preparation and seeding of such fall-sown grains as winter wheat, rye and oats is progressiong seasonally, the department said.

Grain Seeding Delayed

In some areas, however, lack of soil moisture has held up grain seeding. This was the case in parts of the southern Great Plains, where dry weather a year ago also hindered operations.

This year's record corn crop will turn out to be larger than the department had previously predicted if its latest estimate is borne out. Yesterday's report put the crop at 3,567,955,000 bushels—a boost of about 39,000,000 bushels from the September forecast.

Surpassing the 1946 record by 10 per cent, the new corn crop opens the way for a big boost in production of meats, dairy and poultry products. Consumers should feel the benefits in the form of lower prices by late 1949, officials said.

War Outlook Factor

With farm prices in general now down about five per cent from the January peak, an Agriculture department economist said today a further drop of 15 per cent may come by the end of 1949—if peace prospects brighten.

O. C. Stine, assistant chief of the bureau of agricultural economics, told a conference of several hundred state agricultural college economists prices will hold so long as "the possibility of active warfare hangs in the balance."

But assuming peace, Stine said, the turn of the tide for agriculture has passed.

"The peak in real income for farmers was reached in 1946, in net dollar volume in 1947, in prices received in January, 1948," he said.

Other Crops Set Records

The department estimated yesterday that 3,220,000,000 bushels of corn will be harvested as grain, the balance going into silage and other feed materials. This would be 50 per cent more than was harvested last year, when the crop was extremely short due to dry weather.

Aiding corn in establishing a production record this season were record outturns of soybeans, peanuts, pecans and cranberries; near-record crops of wheat, oats, flaxseed, rice, sorghum grain, dry beans, and citrus fruits, and above average crops of cotton, barley, all hay, potatoes, tobacco, sugarcane, sugar beets, hops, peaches, cherries, and apricots.

The combined crop of food grains—wheat, rye, rice, and buckwheat—was said to be the largest on record.

Kin Ask Return Of World War Victims

DETROIT, Oct. 12 (AP) — The Army gets requests for return of war dead from two thirds of families who write in for information.

The other third ask for final burial overseas.

This was reported today by Carl T. Noll, chief of the army's war dead repatriation program, who spoke at the National Funeral Directors association convention.

Noll said as of Sept. 1, 1948, 63,311 bodies had been returned to next-of-kin. Latest army reports indicate that 275,637 remains have been recovered throughout the world, of which 20,000 are unidentified, he said.

There are an estimated 34,000 unlocated remains and 44,000 bodies that never will be recovered because of circumstances surrounding the death, such as burial at sea, he added.

'Tis Better To Be Poor And Have Fun Than Be Rich And Bored, Hal Boyle Believes

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 12 —A newspaper publisher—one of the men who say whether I do or don't get into print—suggested that after five years of this business I should explain who and what I am.

So here is me:

I am a medium-sized, middle-aged balding man with an ineffectual smile of good will. I haven't the hypocrisy to believe that anybody ought to buy a cheap crystal ball and be a pundit on what lies ahead. Nor do I feel that I have emphasized enough what I see in my own crystal ball—that if courage and loyalty don't lie ahead, then neither does America.

Mother Biggest Influence

I was born Feb. 21, 1911, of an immigrant mother who has been the biggest influence in my offkey career. She was an Irish girl who took the Statue of Liberty seriously. She had only a third-grade education. She had five children and educated herself by reading the Kansas City Star, but she thought I should know more than they print in a family newspaper. So she backed me through the University of Missouri.

I have been lucky enough to come through a major World war unscathed—but I think that is completely unimportant. Some things you can't trade on all the way, even in this world.

Can't Forgive This

The one thing I can't forgive is the failure of people born to this country to appreciate the freedom and opportunity it offers, and which my mother came here to find—and found motherhood instead a strange and limited freedom in every land.

As for the rest, in war or peace, I still live on the consolation I was reared by—that it is better to be poor and have fun than it is to be rich and bored, I was taught that getting it was more fun than having it. And I was taught right.

Biggest bargain in town today!

The biggest bargain in town today is the happiness, health and future of our youngsters that your pledge to our Community Chest buys!

Fourteen years old. And smart. And full of the dickens. And ready to go anywhere.

And THAT'S just the trouble! Because "anywhere" might mean on with the school. On to a good job. And on to a place as a good citizen.

OR it might mean ON INTO TROUBLE.

What's it worth to bring loving care to children when homes are broken?

What's it worth to strike a blow at juvenile delinquency?

What's it worth to have Scouting, the Y's, the recreation services that help every boy and girl get a square chance to grow up sound and sturdy?

What's it worth to help keep families together so that kids can have the solid security of a happy home life in these days when there's one divorce for every four marriages?

American Jazz Returning Home After Brisk Business Overseas

BY JERRY KORN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12—American jazz is returning to America.

For years, Europeans have been so much more interested than Americans in this peculiarly American music that there still are many jazz records which can be found only overseas.

Since the war, the number of jazz collectors in this country has increased by thousands. But there still are so few that unless you are a collector, or know one, you may not know what jazz—"hot" Jazz—is.

Music Not Written

Paul Whiteman, once known as "the king of jazz," gets scarcely a tumble from the true jazz collector. Whiteman's large orchestra played arranged music. Jazz is not arranged.

Irving Berlin, often called a jazz composer, fares no better with the collector. Jazz isn't written. It's played.

What's more, it's played most often by small groups of musicians who pride themselves on their ability to play with restraint.

They use no written music. Instead, they memorize melodies—frequently popular melodies — then use them as a starting point for creations of their own. Until a few seconds before each note is played, no one, including the musician, knows what it's going to be.

A jazz band usually—not always—is made up of just seven or eight instruments: a trumpet (sometimes two), a trombone, clarinet, piano, guitar or banjo, bull fiddle or tuba, and drums. Sometimes a saxophone is added. Sometimes one of the others is omitted.

Started In New Orleans

Hot jazz generally is played this way: the trumpet plays the melody through, just as it was written, while the others make up a suitable background. Then most of the instruments fade out and let a single member improvise a solo. Finally, all seven or eight improvise at once, the trumpet leading the way.

For years jazz was played by negro musicians in New Orleans—and no place else. Then traveling jazz bands — negro and white — began drifting into Chicago, where they first made records on a fairly large scale.

It was these records which caught the ear of European musicians and music lovers. But strangely, no one paid much attention to them in this country until years later.

European Market Good

Meanwhile American record companies took the metal plates (called matrixes) from which jazz records could be stamped and shipped them to France and England where the jazz market was brisk.

Sometimes the companies did that without ever printing the records in this country.

The surge in American collecting started — slowly — around 1936, when a French book — Hughes Panassie's "Le Jazz Hot" —was translated into English and published here.

(For years, the most important reference work on American jazz has been Frenchman Charles Delaunay's "Discography," which also had to be translated for its American editions.

Hot Jazz Revived

(This work lists musicians, dates and other information about thousands of jazz records — information Delaunay gathered years after the records had been made, by painstaking correspondence with American musicians, collectors and record companies).

Many records, long ago dropped from the market, have become valuable. An American collector recently offered $200 for one record made during the 20s by the now-famous King Oliver band. (Oliver died in the 30s, almost penniless).

Meanwhile, the growth of collecting in this country has encouraged record companies to reissue many of the important old jazz records. And scores of small new companies have sprung up, recording jazz alone.

One result has been a booming trade among collectors on both sides of the Atlantic — and in Australia and South America, where jazz collecting also is on the upswing.

The American collectors buy and ship to foreign collectors those records which can be obtained here; in return they get records which are available abroad but not in the United States — where they were made.

Franco Claims Statesmen Are Responsible For World Crisis

SEVILLA, Spain, Oct. 12 (AP) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco said last night responsible statesmen were to blame for the present world crisis.

The Spanish chief of state, addressing high military officers of the Sevilla garrison, said that because of the "weakness of statesmen and the peculia characteristics of inefficacy of their regimes" new dangers face the world.

Franco Makes Pledge

Franco pledged that the Spanish would fight any enemy which attacked neighboring countries, even if the countries attacked differed ideologically with Spain.

Franco said the power of resistance of a people can overcome all weapons, even the atomic ones.

"When a people refuses to submit, when a people possesses the spirit of rebellion and resistance, a spiritual patriotic vigor such as is possessed by Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Hungary and so many other peoples of suffering Europe, it makes it impossible for the Russian knee to hold them down permanently," Franco said.

Unbeaten North Carolina Tagged As No. 1 Grid Eleven

Fighting Irish Are Dropped To Second

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—Unbeaten North Carolina moved to the head of the class today as the country's No. 1 college football team.

The Tar Heels displaced Notre Dame at the top of the list in the weekly poll of sports writers from coast to coast, conducted by the Associated Press.

Second to Notre Dame by only 10 points in last week's initial balloting, North Carolina jumped to the front as the Irish slipped back to second place, just 20 points behind.

Northwestern Third

Northwestern clung to the No. 3 spot and Michigan, which meets the Wildcats in an important Big Nine struggle this week, jumped from seventh to fourth.

Less than 100 points separated the first four teams in the tabulation, with a first place voting counting 10 points, second place nine and so on.

By an odd coincidence, 153 experts participated in the voting—the same number as last week—and North Carolina wound up with 1,200 points, the exact total which put Notre Dame on top a week ago.

The Tar Heels, who followed up their victories over Texas and Georgia with a 28-6 conquest of Wake Forest, received 52 first place votes, three less than last week, and were named at some position on every ballot except one.

Keeps Record Clean

Notre Dame, undefeated since 1945, kept its record clean with a 26-7 triumph over Michigan State but collected only 34 first place votes, 16 less than last week, and a total of 1,180 points.

Northwestern, which nosed Minnesota, 19-16, Saturday, received 25 votes for first place and tallied 1,172 points. Michigan, 40-conqueror of Purdue, drew 24 first place votes and 1,103 points.

Army held its No. 5 position with five first place votes and 733 points after downing Illinois, 26-21, for its third straight victory. The three touchdowns the Cadets yielded to the Illini apparently accounted for their failure to gain additional support.

California moved up from ninth to sixth on the strength of its 40-14 trouncing of Wisconsin. The Pacific coast favorite polled 10 first place votes but fell 13 points short of Army's point total.

SMU Drops Out

Georgia Tech dropped from sixth to seventh, despite a 27-0 shutout of Washington and Lee. Pennsylvania jumped from 12th to eighth, Penn State from 10th to ninth and Mississippi, tied for 14th a week ago, grabbed the No. 10 spot this week.

Southern Methodist, the No. 4 team last week, dropped out of the top ten as a result of its 20-14 upset by Missouri. Minnesota's loss also cost it a place in the select circle, but the Gophers dropped only from eighth to 11th.

All told, 41 teams were mentioned in the balloting, a reduction of eight from last week. First place votes were spread among nine teams. In addition to the first six in the standings, Pennsylvania, Penn State and Missouri were placed at the top on one ballot each.

The total vote with points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parentheses):

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| 1. | North Carolina (52) | 1,200 |
| 2. | Notre Dame (34) | 1,180 |
| 3. | Northwestern (25) | 1,172 |
| 4. | Michigan (24) | 1,103 |
| 5. | Army (5) | 733 |
| 6. | California (10) | 729 |
| 7. | Georgia Tech | 589 |
| 8. | Pennsylvania (1) | 388 |
| 9. | Penn State (1) | 342 |
| 10. | Mississippi | 136 |

The second ten—11, Minnesota, 121; 12, Missouri (1) 117; 13, Cornell, 97; 14, Southern Methodist, 74; 15, Clemson, 64; 16, Georgia, 58; 17, Nevada, 44; 18, Duke, 42; 19, Baylor, 41; 20, Oklahoma, 32.

Tech Underdog For Tussle With Bears

Baylor's powerful Bears, conquerors of Arkansas last Saturday, will play host to a Red Raider eleven from Texas Tech Saturday night at Waco and the Tech coaching staff its going to work early in preparation for the game.

From the early view of the game, it would look as though Tech would enter the fray once more on the short end of the betting odds. The Bears have shown nothing but power so far this fall, trouncing Tulsa 42-19, tying Mississippi State 7-7 and rolling all over highly-favored Arkansas 23-7 this past week end.

But the Raiders were buoyed by their victory over Tulsa and much of the former spirit and hustle returned to their practice session Monday. If they can keep their fighting hearts keyed up, they can play a whale of a game against Baylor.

The Raider squad, generally, came through the game in good shape, with two minor injuries. Dan Pursel re-injured an ankle, while Doug McCurry has a groin injury. Both guards are expected to be ready to go by Saturday night, so that the main worry lies with action this week. Fullback Bud Conley, who has missed the last two games, may be ready to start, but Guard Milburn Haydon definitely will not see action.

Zac Henderson suffered a slight head cut when he was knocked unconscious in the Tulsa game, but came back with the team and appears ready to go again. He was watched carefully Sunday, when there was danger of complications, but when nothing developed, he was pronounced fit.

While the Tulsa game was a vicious battle, the Tech squad came through it in good shape and it helped the morale tremendously. Last week's co-captains, Cal Steveson and Luke Thompson, helped to bolster the team just before the Tulsa game and that victory restored the squad's faith in itself.

Yesterday's sessions was quiet, with emphasis spread on correction of mistakes made against the Golden Hurricane and on polishing of offensive plays for use Saturday. Linemen also were sent through a session on defense, more with an idea of correcting mistakes than anything else.

A scrimmage session was held Saturday at Tech, with the freshmen playing varsity squadmen that were left behind. The fish won the game, 14-13, so that scrimmage today may not be heavy. But a contact session probably will be held if for no other reason than to see if the players can polish their offensive plays.

The line turned in a good job against Tulsa, especially in regards to opening holes when needed, as well as blocking well downfield. At the same time, considerable work needs to be done on line blocking and this will get attention this week.

Coaches Talk As Fans Meet

The Quarterback club, holding its regular weekly meeting last night in the main ballroom of the Hilton hotel, was host to members of the Texas Tech Double T club, heard local coaches and saw pictures of the SMU-Tech football game.

D. M. McElroy, executive secretary of the Alumni Association, presided over the meeting, introduced the Double T men, High School Coach Pat Pattison, Tech Coach Dell Morgan and Rabe Curfman, former head coach at New Mexico A. and M.

Coach Pattison, who spoke first on the program, asked the club members not to criticize his boys for mistakes they made against Childress, but to criticize him. He admitted that the spread formation the Childress eleven used was a complete surprise to him and that they had to map a defense against it during the game.

The Westerner mentor went on to say that T. Jones, the outstanding Childress passer had turned in an impressive performance but that he thought Lubbock schoolboys had done a fine job of stopping him, considering 'the fact they had not been drilled against the formation Childress used. And he declared that if his kids had not been ready to play a game of football, they might not have been able to stop Childress.

Morgan Was Gloomy

Coach Morgan turned gloomy last night, saying that he wanted no part of Baylor Saturday night, but "they're on the schedule, so I guess we'll go down there."

The Red Raider coach was more cheerful in discussing the Tulsa game, showing why they had been able to beat the Golden Hurricane and what mistakes both teams had made. He paid tribute to the fighting ability of his players, few of whom were up to normal size for university players. He reiterated that Baylor was big, rough and tough and that it would be a bruising game Saturday.

Curfman, associated with a sporting goods company in Abilene and formerly a local resident, spoke on the problems of a coach. He urged the Quarterback club to support the Double T club in its drive to get good football players for Tech. He pointed out his troubles at New Mexico Aggies and told how Tech could be helped.

The club bought a new movie screen by raising $48.50 at the meeting and the first pictures to be shown on it were the Tech-SMU game films.

Members of the Double T club present last night included Hurley Carpenter, Curly Wilkinson, Ameral Payne, George Langford, Bert Williams, J. R. Callahan, Pete Blanda, Benny McWilliams, G. E. Wimberley, Ed Smith, Whizzer White, Leroy Crews, Bulldog Hale, Babe Hallmark, Elmer Tarbox, Pete Owens, G. B. Morris, Curfman and McElroy.

New Record Is Set In Game At Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 12 (AP) — The Texas-Oklahoma football game here Saturday drew gross receipts of $208,614.62, the auditing department of the Texas State Fair announced today.

After taxes the net receipts were $167,967.00 and after the state fair received its 15 per cent rental for the Cotton Bowl, each school was paid $75,799.00.

This is the largest take in the 49-year history of the intersectional football game. The reason is that the Cotton Bowl is almost 22,000 seats larger than ever before.

Rites Planned For Auto Racing Champ

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 12 (AP) — The body of Ted Horn, national auto racing champion, is en route here today for burial.

Funeral services for the 38-year-old driver, who died in a raceway crackup in Illinois Sunday are scheduled for 2 p. m. Friday.

Rickert Will Share In Player Receipts

BOSTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Marvin Rickert, the Boston Brave who played so brilliantly in left field during the world series without any financial arrangements, today was certain to share in the player receipts.

Baseball Commissioner Albert B. Chandler said that "justice should be done" in Rickert's case.

Rickert, a swivel-hipped six-footer obtained from the Braves' Milwaukee farm team, replaced Jeff Heath after that husky slugger broke his left ankle sliding in Brooklyn five days before the end of the season. The Braves had already split up their series shares when Rickert joined the National League champions two days before the end of the campaign.

STUDENTS INVITED

ABILENE, Oct. 12 (AP)—Twelve thousand high school students of 30 Central West Texas counties have been invited to be guests of Abilene Christian college here Saturday night at the football game between the ACC Wildcats and Western State college of Gunnison, Colo.

Bearden Hero In Cleveland's Victory

Series Records Are Shattered

BOSTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Gene Bearden, a carefree rookie with ice water in his veins, is the undisputed hero of Cleveland's first World Series title since 1920.

"We owe it all to Bearden," said Manager Lou Boudreau after yesterday's tingling 4-3 victory over the Boston Braves for the championship. "Give him all the credit. That goes back to the playoff game, too."

What else could the boss say?

Saved The Finale

The handsome southpaw, conqueror of the Boston Red Sox in the pennant playoff game, had just sauntered in from the bull pen to save the series finale.

Starter Bob Lemon was rocking and reeling from the fury of the attack of the Boston hitters, hungry for the winners' slice of the money from record crowds. The Braves had the bases full with one away in the last of the eighth, trailing 4 to 1. Then came Bearden.

Pinch hitter Clint Conatser, the first man he faced, sent Thurman Tucker to deep center with a fly ball. Tommy Holmes tagged up and raced home, to make it 4-2.

Manager Billy Southworth brought in Phil Masi to hit for Bill Salkeld and Masi hit the boards high on the left field wall for a double that scored Torgeson. Now it was 4-3.

He Went To Work

Coolly surveying the situation, Bearden went to work on Mike McCormick, one of the Braves' more dependable hitters in the series. He came in with his knuckler on the first pitch and McCormick bounced it right back to the box for the vital third out.

The eighth was over but the Braves were aroused. Reliefer Warren Spahn blazed the ball past three Indian batters, striking out the side, and the Boston club hustled in for another crack at that big winners' pool of $230,249 or some $76,000 more than the losers.

Eddie Stanky, the best base-on-balls wrangler in the majors, led off the ninth. Bearden got him down to 3-2 and then lost him. The tying run was on first and the heat was on.

Southworth sent Sibby Sisti up to bunt and replaced the hobbled Stanky with fleet Connie Ryan. With the top of the order coming up next. The idea was to get the runner to second.

Double Play Bunt

Sisti bunted one foul. Then he took a ball. The next pitch he bunted again and the ball popped into the air about 10 feet high in front of the plate. Catcher Jim Hegan made the catch and fired to first base for an easy double play. Holmes ended the game and series by flying out.

Joe Gordon, held to three hits in the first five games, helped the Tribe to its early lead with a home run blast off starter Bill Voiselle that broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth. They scored twice in that inning and again in the eighth but Lemon could not hold it.

Larry Doby, fleet negro outfielder, led the new champs at bat with a .318 average. He had to yield series honors to the Braves' Earl Torgeson with his .389 mark. The only other regulars to make the .300 class were Bob Elliott of the Braves, .333 and Eddie Robinson of the Indians .300.

New Series Records

In years to come, probably the most important things that this series will be remembered for are the money and huge attendance. Sunday's Cleveland game attracted 86,288, the largest throng ever to see a ball game. The day before they had 81,897. A final check of the cash box showed an accumulation of $1,633,685.56, a new series record.

Each Cleveland share is worth about $6,772.05 and each full Boston share is $4,651.51. The Indians split theirs 34 ways to 33 by the Braves.

Port Arthur, Amarillo, Waco, Baytown Are State's Leaders

DALLAS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Port Arthur, Amarillo, Waco and Baytown are the big four of Texas schoolboy football in the opinion of sports writers over the state.

Port Arthur received 234 points as the No. 1 team in the Dallas News' weekly poll. Amarillo had 216 points.

Others in the top ten are Baytown, Brackenridge (San Antonio), Arlington Heights (Fort Worth), Sweetwater, Marshall, Wichita Falls, and John Reagan (Houston).

First Conference Game Slated Against Borger In City Friday

Lubbock High's Westerners opened preparations for their initial District 1-AA encounter, against the Borger Bulldigs here Friday night at Jones stadium, with a rugged contact drill stressing play assignments and timing Monday afternoon at the Chapman field gridiron.

The Westerners, who closed out their non-conference slate last weekend with a 21-14 triumph over the pass-happy Childress Bobcats, romped through the workout at high speed and indications are that the Hub city schoolboys will be at near-top strength for the crucial title clash. Only "casualties" in the Monday drill were Tackle Billy Brazell, who missed last week's game because of a stiff knee, and Guard Lloyd Willis. Both boys will probably be back in uniform this afternoon, however.

More scrimmage work is scheduled for the practice gridiron this afternoon, with the defense slated to get a tough drill, but officials emphasized that all sessions this week will be closed to all observers. No one will be permitted on the field or in the stands.

The Westerners will face a veteran, powerful grid eleven in the Borger crew. The Bulldogs have a squad built around 11 lettermen, including backfield stalwarts R. C. Dalton and Jerry Glass. Heading the five linemen who were 1947 letter-winners are Bill Loveless, a standout last year, and Jack Howard.

Coach Tricky Ward, who has directed the Bulldogs to three consecutive triumphs over the Westerners, is back at the Borger helm this fall. He is assisted by Jim Lucas, former backfield ace at Texas Christian university.

Borger opened the season at Oklahoma City against strong Capitol Hill, absorbing a four-touchdown drubbing, but the Bulldogs bounced back to pound Albuquerque the following weekend. Borger took an easy 18-6 triumph over the Childress Bobcats, then lost to highly-rated Austin of El Paso last weekend at El Paso.

The Bulldogs hold a "paper advantage" of two touchdowns, on the basis of comparative scores, but the Westerners' home field advantage is slated to even up the odds. Too, the Westerners have played a tougher slate than Borger, with the exception of the Oklahoma City and El Paso tilts.

A crowd of more than 10,000 persons is expected to be on hand at Jones stadium at kickoff time to see the Westerners open the '48 title chase. The Bulldogs will be well-supported, since approximately 1,500 to 2,000 Borger fans have requested tickets for the game. The Borger High band will probably be here for the tussle, officials reported.

Tickets for the game will be on sale all this week at the Senior High school athletic office, E. J. Lowrey, business manager, has announced.

Tripp, Lofton Burnette, Fenner Tubbs, A. H. Howard, Charles Townes, Dr. W. A. Schaal, Kay Bradshaw, Roy Howard, Melvin Best, J. B. McCauley, jr., Olan Stewart and J. A. Raley, jr.

Texas Longhorns All Set To Launch "New Season"

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

Yesterday's explosive finish to the 1948 World Series left a good taste in everyone's mouth. That the Cleveland Indians won the bunting wasn't too surprisin, considering the comparative abilities of the two teams, but the fact that they won it primarily because of pitching stunned many fans. And they certainly got a good job out of every hurler they sent to the mound, except in that wild fifth game, when the American League's home run power was overshadowed by the National loop.

• • •

But when you come right down to it, we believe that the biggest factor for Cleveland was the double play, which time and again erased Boston runners. At no time was that more apparent than in yesterday's finale, when Eddie Stanky was clipped to take Gene Bearden out of what might have been defeat, instead of victory. Of course it was a fluke double play, as many are saying, but it also was heads up work on the part of Jim Hegan and Eddie Robinson. Stanky led off with a walk. There weren't any outs, with Cleveland only one run ahead. It was the place for a sacrifice.

• • •

The attempt was made and in a crucial, tight game, especially the World Series, players are expected to follow their orders. The base runner had to go, or risk being thrown out at second. It was up to the batter. But he failed in the clutch and the alert Indian defense jumped into the breach, quickly turning the pop fly into a twin killing. After that there wasn't much question but that the Indians had their first pennant since 1920 sewed up tight.

• • •

Cleveland also got some good clutch hitting in the series, although hitting wasn't exactly of the fence-busting variety most of the time. It was a strange spectacle, that of seeing the lowly single wreak so much damage, when it usually is the home run. Strangely enough, when Boston scored 11 runs in the fifth game of the series, they scored as many runs as both teams combined had scored in the four games previous. No, it wasn't a hitter's series and the emphasis was on defense, pitching being the main line. The Indians got the pitching, they also got the defensive work.

• • •

Yesterday, being an official scorer this past season and often taken to task for our decisions, we were somewhat shocked to hear verdicts rendered. For instance, Ken Keltner's throw to Robinson was dropped by the first baseman, who would have had an out if he had held the ball. But no error, a hit for the batter. Again, Tommy Holmes made a running catch on Lou Boudreau's hit, only drop it. Error? No, double for the Cleveland manager. Once more, on a double play by the Braves on Hegan's infield hit, the throw to first was high and a runner scored, the first baseman dropping the ball. Instead of an error, fielder's choice and run batted in. Those are a few of the decisions which raised our eyebrows.

• • •

The Cleveland nine made this writer look awfully good by winning yesterday and splitting the first two games in Boston. But not all his prophesies went straight. We thought for sure that Johnny Sain would chalk up two victories and we counted on Bobby Feller winning one. That's .333, good as a batting average, but bad in the prediction department. Lubbock fans, generally, were glad to see the Indians come through. They had proven extremely cooperative on their visit here last spring and they will be returning next spring. In addition, there was a lot of interest in Thurman Tucker, whose sister is married to Bob Dennis. Tucker visited here last fall and yesterday played an important part in the Indian victory.

• • •

All in all, it was generally colorless and will be remembered as long as others. Probably the disputed play at second base will provide pleasant cannon fodder for winter stove arguments and Feller's loss in the second game also will be fought over again. There wasn't much to get excited over throughout most of the series, but the home runs Sunday gave the crowd a thrill and the tenseness in the final game helped to make up for much of the other less colorful play. Yes, it was a good series and the American League came through again, as it usually does.

Little Gloom In SWC Loop

(By The Associated Press)

A "new season" for Texas and surprisingly little gloom elsewhere was the report on Southwest conference teams today.

Coach Blair Cherry said yesterday that his Longhorns were not mentally prepared for either North Carolina or Oklahoma.

"And we paid for it," he said in starting the Longhorns on what he termed a "band new season."

Best Physical Condition

"I think our season depends on the desire of the seniors who fill most of our lineup," Cherry said, adding that the Longhorns should be in their best physical condition this year for the Arkansas game this week.

Center Dick Harris, tackle Ed Elley and fullback Tom Landry are all off the casualty list. On t is Ben Procter, pass catching end who received a dislocated shoulder in the Oklahoma game.

Southern Methodist, which had an unbeaten streak of fifteen games snapped by Missouri, took only a light drill yesterday. Some of the reserves engaged in a short scrimmage with freshmen. Heavy work starts today.

Texas Christian, only Southwest club able to win in intersectional play last week, was in the worst physical shape it has been this season.

Injured On Sidelines

Probably unable to play against Texas A. and M. this week is Milton Farmer, starting defensive guard. He has a badly swollen elbow. Billy Willingham, offensive left guard, is nursing a bad knee and blocking back Orien Browning has a sprained ankle and a cold. Roger McAuley, defensive right tackle, missed yesterday's practice session, but should be able to play Saturday.

Frog Coach Dutch Meyer warned against the improving Texas A. and M. team and A. and M. scout Marty Karow warned the Aggies of T. C. U.'s potent scoring punch.

The Aggies start secret practice sessions today. The Frog game will be their first at home this year.

Baylor's first string gridders, who upset Arkansas last week, got off with a light workout yesterday. Baylor Coach Bob Woodruff expressed pleasure over defensive line play in the game at Fayetteville, Ark. The Bears take on non-conference foe Texas Tech this week.

Owls Are Improving

S. J. Roberts broke his nose in Rice's 7-0 loss to Southern California last week, but is expected to be able to play against Southern Methodist university this week. Three other ailing Owls, Huey Keeney, Van Ballard, and Nick Lanza are also expected to play.

Coach Jess Neely said his team looked better in the second half against the Trojans than they have all season.

Arkansas Boss John Barnhill figures Texas will throw lots of passes against his Razorbacks this week.

Barnhill wasn't too downhearted over the loss to Baylor. Clyde Scott and Leon Campbell, his two best backs, are ready to go, he said. Both were slightly injured in the Baylor tilt.

PREFERS DIRT TO WATER

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Charles Cavanaugh, 18 months old, doesn't care much for baths. Police found him sitting naked on the curb at a busy intersection, happily dumping fistfulls of dirt over his head. His mother explained that Charles had ducked out of the house when she left the room to get some soap for his bath.

SMU's Ace Is Showing That He Can Do About Everything

Doak Is A Versatile Fellow

DALLAS, Oct. 12 (AP) — Doak Walker, Southern Methodist's All-America, is a versatile little man.

Last Southwest conference football season he was tops in ballcarrying. This season he's showing he can do everything else, too. He has taken over the lead in passreceiving, is second in punting and second in punt returns.

Statistics on the conference race to date issued by James H. Stewart, executive secretary, show Walker to have caught six passes for 186 yards—an average of 31 yards per reception.

He has punted nine times for an average of 37.2 yards and has run four punts back 106 yards.

The leader in pass-receiving as regards number is Morris Bailey of Texas Christian who has taken 14 throws for 167 yards. Next is Ben Procter of Texas, who has caught 10 for 141. Procter has been injured and didn't play at all last week.

Bog Goode of Texas A. and M. is the leading punter with an average of 38.8 on 30 boots and Gordon Wyatt of Rice is third with 36.6 on five kicks.

In punt returns George Sims of Baylor sets the pace, averaging 31.5 yards on eight carries. Third is Ross Pritchard of Arkansas with 24.4 on five returns.

Clyde Scott of Arkansas continues to lead the circuit in ballcarrying with 453 yards on 54 carries, with Lindy Berry of Texas Christian second with 313 on 81 runs and Leon Campbell of Arkansas third with 264 yards on 49 carries.

Gil Johnson, Southern Methodist's rifle man, is the leading passer with 444 yards on 26 connections in 34 attempts. Paul Campbell of Texas is second with 346 yards on 21 completions in 57 throws and Berry is third with 278 yards on 25 completions in 53 tries.

Berry is slowly pulling away from Scott in the battle for total offense honors. Berry in 134 plays has gained 591 yards with 315 on the ground and 278 in the air. Scott in 65 plays has rolled up 556 yards.

Arkansas leads in team offensive, rushing and passing for 1,396 yards in four games. Texas is second with 1,293. Arkansas is the defensive leader, giving up 565 yards. Rice is second, allowing 481 in three games.

Boudreau Now Sits On Top Of World But Only Month Ago His Posiflon Was Shaky

BOSTON, Oct. 12 (AP) — Now it can be told.

Lou Boudreau is sitting on top of the world today, manager of Cleveland's first world championship team in 28 years.

Only one month ago, however, the popular playing pilot's position as Tribe boss was very shaky. He was ticketed for other pastures.

Bill Veeck, sports-shirted president of the Tribe, had lost faith in Boudreau and his ball club.

Never a great admirer of Boudreau's managerial talents, Veeck had tried to trade the game's greatest shortstop to the Browns last winter. Cleveland fans, however, came to Lou's rescue, and forced Veeck to retain him. Boudreau was even able to wrangle a two-year contract at $55,000 out of Veeck.

TWO-TONE JOB APPEALS

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Willim Spangehl, 37, told police he stole a patrol car while on a binge because he "likes the two-tone color job."

Montreal Royals Win Little Series Title

MONTREAL, Oct. 12 (AP) — For the second time in three years the Montreal Royals are Little World series champions.

The International league pennant winners clinched the crown yesterday with a 7-2 victory over St. Paul of the American association.

It was their fourth triumph in five games of the best-of-seven series.

It was also the second little series success for Montreal Manager Clay Hopper, who guided the Royals when they defeated the Louisville Colonels in 1946.

Both Montreal and St. Paul are Brooklyn farm clubs.

Joseph Missar, a regular guard for three seasons on Villanova football teams under Clipper Smith, is coaching the Camp Lejeune, N. C., Marine Base team.

WORLD SERIES CHAMPS TAKE THEIR BOWS

Indians' Dressing Room Almost Complete Riot Except For Feller's Small Corner

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

BOSTON, Oct. 12—It was wild, and it was a little sad, as the Cleveland Indians ran riot after their winning of the world championship of baseball.

It was exhultation at its peak, that dressing room. All, that is, except one tiny corner.

He Took No Bows

Bob Feller knew that he had done all too little to get them there.

And this proud, always self-sufficient young man wasn't stepping in on any bows he knew the others rated.

He kept to himself, that smile etched on his broad face, and exchanged affection only with those who approached him of their own volition.

There weren't many of them who could spare a moment to walk over to that tiny oasis of silence in the midst of bedlam. There were far too many other men with reaching hands of congratulation and hugs of joy to enter that little niche of sanctuary.

Sticks Out His Hand

One was lithe Larry Doby, the negro outfielder who was one of the Cleveland stars in this first major moment that has come to the Indians in 28 years.

He walked over there with that piano key smile and stuck out his big, brown hand.

There were a lot of things—apology, brief happiness and earnest congratulation—in Feller's eyes at that moment.

He in turn reached out with an eager hand which once fired the fastest pitch in baseball and lighted that somber corner with his smile.

Nobody else could spare the time. And Feller, with that grin still fastened to the very corners of his mouth, continued to strip off the uniform which he had helped make famous.

Only he could tell with exactness the thoughts which were racing through his mind at that moment. But from nearby you could almost see him thinking of the day he failed to clinch the pennant for his club and left the job to another; of how he lost a heartbreaking two-hitter in the series as he tossed one of the most memorable games in the history of the classic, and how he failed so miserably in his second chance to realize a life-long dream.

The noise continued a long time in the Indian dressing room last night but, while Rapid Robert was happy for the boys he played with, you knew he wasn't happy inside.

There were a lot of fellows hurt deeply when the Indians finally took the championship away from the Braves. It just seemed odd to find one of them in the midst of the victors.

Gum Is Dangerous On Football Field

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP) —John Sanches, Washington Redskin tackle, has sworn off chewing gum.

He was chomping away on a plug of it Sunday in a game with the Pittsburgh Steelers. John was hit; the gum started to take flight. He tried to pull it back with his tongue—and was hit again.

Gen. Eisenhower Installed As President Of Columbia Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (U.P.)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was installed as 13th president of Columbia university today before an audience that included presidents and representatives of more than 300 of America's leading universities and colleges.

The former allied supreme commander in Europe formally took over as head of one of the nation's largest universities in a colorful ceremony in low memorial library as his wife, son and four brothers looked on.

In his inaugural address, Eisenhower pledged Columbia to present the "ful truth" in its primary role of teaching the values of human freedom and warned that education must not become overly engrossed in highly specialized knowledge.

No Suppression

"There will be no administrative suppresion or distortion of any subject that merits a place in this university's curricula," he said. "The facts of Communism, for instance, shall be taught here—its ideological development, its political methods, its economic effects, its probable course in the future.

"The truth about Communism is, today, an indispensable requirement if the true values of our democratic system are to be properly assessed."

Garbed in long black robe and mortarboard cap, Eisenhower marched acros the campus along with hundreds of other similarly dressed college presidents, including Harold Stassen of Pennsylvania university, Dr. James Bryant Conant of Harvard and Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, superintendent of the U. S. Military academy at West Point from which Eisenhower was graduated.

Brothers In Procession

Two of his brothers, President Milton Eisenhower of Kansas State college, and Edgar N. Eisenhower of Tacoma, Wash., a lawyer representing the college of Puget Sound, also marched in the procession. Also in the audience were representatives of 36 foreign educational institutions, including the British ambassador to the United States, Sir Oliver Franks, who represented Oxford university.

Eisenhower, who turned down appeals to seek both the Republican and Democratic presidential nominations, had served as Columbia's president since his appointment by the board of trustees last spring to succeed the late Nicholas Murray Butler.

Rearmament

Secretary of State if Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York is elected president next month. He said Dulles' New York law firm of Sullivan and Cromwell played a major part in building the war potential of Hitler's Germany.

6. Denounced the delegates of the U. S., Britain and France for "transgressing all permissible limits" in their "unbridled attacks" on Soviet Russia.

Allied Plan Approved

Even while Vishinsky was speaking, a sub-committee of the political committee was overwhelmingly approving the western power plan for international control of atomic energy, and rejecting the latest Soviet proposals on this question.

By a vote of 8 to 2, with India abstaining, an 11-nation subcommittee favored a Canadian resolution which would suspend the work of the UN Atomic Energy commission until the big five and Canada could find that "there exists a basis for agreement on international control of atomic energy."

The western proposal calls for establishment of an international atomic control agency with power to inspect and supervise any and all atomic enterprises. There would be no big power veto in this agency.

Russia's Next Move

Thus, in effect, the sub-committee backed the stand of the western powers that they have done all possible to reach agreement with Russia on the problem of control of the atomic bomb and possible other atomic weapons, and that any further advances must come from the Soviet union.

Vishinsky replied to challenges to Russia to lift the iron curtain from its military forces by demanding that the West accept the Russian disarmament proposal first, and make public information about its stocks of atomic bombs and all other weapons.

"We will give this information, when it will have practical significance," he said. "You adopt our proposal, gentlemen, and then we will put our cards on the table, every single one of them. Put yours right next to ours. Then we can check which ones are wrong, and whether there is any falsification. I can assure you the Soviet union's cards will be true and genuine."

Says U. S. Made Millions

The United States Vishinsky charged, made millions of dollars out of rearming Hitler.

He said the western powers were not rejecting Russia's disarmament proposals because they were unworkable, "but because they are throwing a monkey-wrench into the plans of warmongers and militarists." He said Austin apparently "would welcome an appeal for war against the Soviet union."

Then he caused a stir by saying that he was ready to answer the challenge of the West as to the size of Russia's armed forces.

mum wages, social security, housing and the cost of living.

The President told an Akron, Ohio, audience his Republican rival "wants to go to Washington to destroy" the New Deal expansion the Democrats propose.

Programs Outlined

Mr. Truman outlined his program as calling for: repeal of the Taft-Hartley act; boosting the wage minimum from 40 to 75 cents an hour; increasing social security benefits 50 per cent and broadening coverage; expanding the nation's health facilities; federal aid to states for education, slum clearance and low rent housing; and acting "at once" against high prices.

The New York governor at almost the same time was detailing for a Pittsburgh rally the program he proposes to launch if elected. Labeling the Truman administration as "incompetent" and "miserable, Dewey added:

"No administration ever made so many fundamental blunders, even from base political motives."

Of the Taft-Hartley act, he said "it is not perfect" but "whenever it needs change, it will be changed."

Dewey called for a boost in the minimum wage level, without citing a specific figure; overhauling and expanding the social security program; establishment of a Labor department "equal in actual cabinet status" to the Commerce and Agriculture departments; breaking the "log-jam in housing," and steps to insure that "soaring prices do not steal food and clothing and other necessities from American families."

The GOP standard bearer also promised a civil rights program that will "press forward in solving the problems of race relations and discrimination."

Dewey made an indirect reference to Mr. Truman's abandoned plan to send Chief Justice Vinson on a peace mission to Moscow.

"We are electing a Republican administration," he said, "that will unfailingly back up the work of its own representatives in the United Nations for peace."

Other Candidates Speak

More outspoken criticism of the peace mission idea came from Senator Robert A. Taft. The Ohio Republican told a Nashville, Tenn., rally that the proposal discredited "both Secretary Marshall and the United Nations itself" and "weakened our case against Russia."

In Chicago Henry Wallace said Mr. Truman "will live in history as the worst defeated Democratic candidate who ever sought the presidency." The Progressive party nominee added that Dewey is "neither better nor worse."

Houston Health

ized.

"Your bayou is a raw sewer," Dr. Byrne claimed, adding that "every day five and one-half tons of raw sludge is dumped into Buffalo Bayou from your north side plant. And I have seen raw sewage bubbling out of Houston manholes."

MAIL OVERSEAS YULE GIFTS EARLY—The Army and Air Force urge persons sending Christmas packages abroad to mail them between Oct. 15 and Nov. 15, to be sure packages arrive during the holiday season. Newschart above shows points to remember. Gifts should be packed in boxes of wood, metal, or very strong boards. ## "Farm Program In Jeopardy," Wide Meet Attendance Urged

Asserting that "the farm program is in jeopardy, and demands immediate attention," J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau federation, wired today from Waco urging wide attendance at the district meeting of the Farm Bureau here tomorrow.

The announcement came from G. T. Hackney, county chairman of the farm bureau, who joined Hammond in an appeal for attendance by both farmers and business men at the session, which starts at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at Hotel Lubbock.

Program In Jeopardy

Hammond, who is attending a district meeting today at Brownwood, wired Hackney that "it is urgent large delegation of best farm and ranch leaders attend district meeting, along with county agent, PMA secretary, and veterans' coordinator," and set out that "it is important we mobilize our strength," because "the farm program is in jeopardy and the situation demands immediate attention."

Neither Hammond nor Hackney set out any particular danger points in the farm program, but proposed legislation has been mentioned in the past as needing attention.

The district meeting here is to be in charge of W. R. Tilson of Meadow, district director. Townspeople and any one else interested in the farm program were invited by Hackney to attend the session.

Farm Workers

ber of workers sent from here to those points.

Marshall said his agency also operates under state law, and is doing its best to route labor to areas of shortages. He believes that the situation is beginning to brighten, because reports of shortages in this area are beginning to diminish. A report last week showed a need for 9,000 to 10,000 cotton pullers in eight counties in this vicinity. These aggregate shortages are slightly lower this week, he added.

A group of farmers was to meet with the agency heads this morning, but possibly due to a busy farm schedule, none of them appeared. They included Fred Goforth, M. D. (Billy) Myers, C. W. Myers, and Percy Finley, all of Lubbock county.

Complaint Is Investigated

The first move of the farmers was made Monday morning when they approached a Lubbock chamber of commerce official and reported organized recruiting of farm workers here. The C-of-C official agreed to go with the farmers and conduct an "on the spot" investigation.

The chamber official and the farmers located one recruiter who was signing up farm hands for the cotton fields in Arkansas and Mississippi. The recruiting agent, T. L. Gillespie, employed by the California Employment agency whose headquarters are at San Antonio, pointed out that he was an agent licensed by the Texas Labor department to recruit farm workers in this area and was not operating illegally.

Others Said In Area

Barnes said Monday night that four other agencies besides the California Employment agency were hiring workers in the South Plains area. He said two others besides the agency represented by Gillespie was recruiting cotton pickers for other states, and two were seeking workers for Colorado and Minnesota suger beet fields.

Barnes listed the agencies as Henry J. Rogers agency, Faye Arnem, Consolidated Labor agency, and American Crystal Sugar company, all with headquarters in San Antonio. He said all were licensed to hire labor to work in other states.

Workers Reported Needed

On Thursday of last week the local office of the Texas Employment commission reported in a bulletin that definite calls had been received from Lubbock and seven other nearby counties for 9,200 cotton pullers. The bulletin listed Lamb county as needing 2,400 pullers, Hockley, 2,000, Terry, 1,200 and the others as requiring 1,000 or less pullers each.

The bulletin pointed out that hundreds of pullers had come to the South Plains from other cotton areas where the harvest had passed its peak but many of those who arrived had stayed only a short time and had moved on. It was pointed out that area farmers were paying $1.75 for dry land cotton pulling, and $2 on irrigated cotton delivered at the gin.

The farmers group meeting with Barnes is expected to offer evidence that while state agencies have reported a "surplus" of farm labor on the South Plains, that actually there is an acute shortage and that all the labor now here is needed to complete the harvest.

Good Crop Reported

Gillespie contacted in regard to recruiting here, said that Arkansas and Mississippi farmers, with one of the finest cotton crops in history ready to harvest, are paying from $3.75 to $4.25 per hundred pounds of picked cotton delivered at the gin. He pointed out that this bumper cotton crop has placed a heavy demand for labor, and that since Texas has the only available supply of "surplus" workers Arkansas and Mississippi farmers have placed heavy orders for help from the Lone Star State.

The employment agent said that while those two states last year needed 16,000 migratory workers to handle their cotton crops, this year they probably will need twice that number.

He pointed out that the expected supply of Mexican nationals had not been available, that New Mexico, Arizona, California and many northern states had entered into the bidding for Texas workers, and the pressure from this bidding was now being felt in this area.

GOP Confident Of Double Win

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Republicans say both openly and privately they are as confident of keeping control of the House in the November election as they are of carrying the presidency.

Democrats, speaking for the record, claim they can carry the House with a few breaks. But those close to the campaign, talking on the understanding they won't be named, confine themselves to a prediction that the Democrats will show a gain, without re-capturing control.

Palestine Stand Hurt

They say the administration's handling of the Palestine problem has hurt them in many congressional districts, particularly in New York. Incidentally they say this is part of the reason for the registration drop in New York City's Democratic stronghold.

The Democrats start off over the nation with 49 House candidates free of opposition and another seven going before the voters with both major party nominations.

Partially offseting this, five Republicans have no Democratic opposition and another nine—all in California—have both major party nominations under the cross-filing system.

GOP Gained In 1946

In addition, the Republicans regard many of their candidates in North and Midwest just as good as elected even though they have Democratic rivals. They are running in districts which have gone Republican almost as regularly as southern districts have gone Dmocratic.

The Republicans gained 54 House seats in the election two years ago. They now have 246 members (218 is a majority), the Democrats 187, and American Labor two. The Republican figure includes three vacancies, the Democratic two.

To win control of the House the Democrats would have to show a net gain of 31 for a clear majority ,or 30 to organize the House with a working plurality of one over the Republicans.

Since their low strength of 89 members after the 1936 election (lowest since 1893), the Republicans jumped to 169 in 1938, dropped to 162 in 1940, went up to 212 in 1942, fell back to 190 in 1944, and up again to 245 after the 1946 election.

Campaign Jinx

ans by calling an autumn special session and tossing responsibility for high prices right in their quivering laps. Polls and the private comment of Republicans themselves, were evidence enough last winter that Mr. Truman was riding pretty high with the people.

But on Feb. 2 of this campaign year he shot up to Congress a civil rights message which has caused more real ruckus in the Democratic party than the whole of FDR's New Deal. This summer the President tried the special session maneuver again, but the Republicans countered with a splurge of Red espionage investigations which did not do the administration any good.

Palestine Plan Okayed

Next came the murder of Count Folke Bernadotte and administration endorsement of his plan for the division of Palestine between the Jews and Arabs. That endorsement is expected to cost Mr. Truman tens of thousands of Jewish votes. Last week Mr. Truman thought up but abandoned a plan to send Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson to seek better understanding with Josef V. Stalin. That rocked the United Nations and hurt Mr. Truman here.

Even Secretary of State George C. Marshall sadly acknowledged that confusion caused by Mr. Truman's idea had "harmful influence."

Big Reception

Manager Lou Boudreau and his wife, Della, and Club President Bill Veek were seated in the first open car and drew the loudest cheers.

Hang Out Windows

People literally hung out the windows of office buildings and thousands of balloons floated down from many of the taller structures.

One woman ran out and presented Mrs. Boudreau with a bouquet of a dozen American beauty roses and other spectators showered packages of gifts on the Boudreaus and Veek as they rode out the avenue.

Business was at a standstill and school children forgot their studies and classrooms.

TO LIFT BLOCKADE

BERLIN, Oct. 12. (U.P.)—The Berlin blockade will be lifted momentarily Friday to allow the entry of a trainload of German prisoners of war being repatriated by the British, authorities announced today.

THE 'ICEMAN' PERSPIRETH—This Puerto Rican, working under the blazing Caribbean sun, seems to have a nice cool job chopping ice. But the "ice" is salt. At Cabo Rojo, tons of sea water are allowed to flow into foot-deep pools. The hot sun evaporates the water in a month and the remaining salt is harvested. The Spaniards set up the industry over 100 years ago and the operations haven't changed much since then.

Arab-Jewish Strife Has Given Boost To Legal Gun Running Trade In Italian City

GENOA, Italy, Oct. 12 (U.P.)—The strife in Palestine has given a boost to the gun running trade in Genoa, from where mortars, machine guns and ammunition is loaded for both the Arabs and the Jews.

The Arabs have a colonel of the Lebanese army here who manages the traffic. He is constantly shuttling between this harbor and the Brescia munitions plants.

The Jews match all Lebanese shipments with their own. A Swiss Jew directs their gun-running operations. Some of the shipments go by sea, others by airplane.

Stevedores say openly that they can spot gun shipments for either side. Officially they refuse to handle them. Unofficially the cargoes get neatly stacked away in the holds of the ships. The purchase of arms is legal, and shipments come to the docks under police escort.

Agents for both sides are meticulous in keeping their papers in order. The cases arrive from Baretta and Breda arms factories at Brescia escorted by Carabinieri and under lead seals. Customs officials check them. They are loaded into ships whose manifests read Beirut and Haifa.

Agents for both sides are cautious about divulging details of their work. The Arab colonel often changes shipping agents. He discharged one after using him for some months because, he said, "his organization has too many branch offices. Too many people are learning about our business. There are too many spies."

The Jewish agent had a large shipment of munitions, two truckloads of automatic rifles and loaded magazines parked in Sampdarent Square when Communists almost took over Genoa after the July 14 attempted assassination of their leader, Palmiro Togliatti.

But the rioters apparently did not know what was in the trucks and police soon recovered them, driving them to a guarded motor pool. A few days later the trucks were sent to an airfield near Rome.

It was reported that there they were loaded into chartered airplanes.

Wives Given Hints On Smart Shopping

CHICAGO, Oct. 12 (U.P.)—Housewives who don't want to pay five cents and up an ounce for paper, string or plain air might study these hints from City Sealer Irvine M. Levy.

Levy, whose job it is to inspect the city's grocery store and butcher shop scales, says a smart shopper will learn to read a scale quickly and acurately and should make sure the indicator is at zero before the weighing begins.

Some other hints:

See that weight allowance is deducted for containers when buying such things as cottage cheese, ground meat, etc.

When buying fish, shrimp or other iced products make sure all the ice is shaken off before weighing.

Don't ask for "25 cents worth of bananas" but rather buy them by the pound or half pound so a check can be made of the price and amount delivered.

Rites Set For Crash Victim

MORTON, Oct. 12 (Special) — Funeral services will be read this afternoon from the Morton First Baptist church for Raymond Gene McDaniel, 19, of Morton, who was injured fatally in a car-truck collision about 4:30 a. m. Sunday approximately six miles north of Denver City.

The service will be read by Rev. W. C. Wright, pastor, and burial will be in Morton cemetery, under direction of Singleton Funeral home.

Passenger In Car

Dep. Sheriff Wallace Anderson of Denver City, who with state highway patrolmen and other officials investigated the crash, said McDaniel was a passenger in a car occupied by three other men. "Topping a rise in thick fog," the car driver failed to see a truck at the intersection of highway 214 and farm-to-market road 396, in time to avoid a crash.

McDaniel died about 9:25 a. m. Sunday in Gaines County clinic at Seminole, officials said. Bob Scott, of Morton, another occupant of the car had been taken to a hospital in Levelland for treatment of injuries, but his condition was not known here this afternoon.

Others Not Injured

J. C. Houghton, of Morton, the driver of the car, and a Whiteface musician who had played the night before for a dance in Lovington, N. M., were not injured seriously, it was learned.

The driver of the truck, a man named Cole, was not injured.

No charges are likely to grow out of the collision, Dep. Sheriff Anderson said he believed.

The Funeral home said the list of survivors had not been furnished to it, but explained that the parents, and four brothers, of Morton, survive.

Most of Allen's fire has been directed at "Stop The Music" which is on ABC Sunday night while he is on NBC. Charles C. Barry, ABC vice president in charge of programs, declared Allen's statement on advance-notice calls was emphatically not true so far as "Stop The Music" was concerned—nor any of the network's other shows.

"We start telephoning at about five minutes to eight to have the first call ready when the program goes on the air—and every call is made after eight except the first one," he asserted.

Allen recently announced he had bonded his listerners against loss—up to $5,000—if they were called by a give-away while tuned to his program.

Scurry County Permit Asked

Robert W. McKissick, of Abilene, has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas, requesting a permit to start drilling immediately at his No. 4 R. W. Eubank, as a 3,300-foot, cable tool wildcat in southwest Scurry county.

It will be 330 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of the lease in section 120, block 97, H&TC survey.

This exploration is in an area where there is production in the Sharon Ridge field from the Permian pay around 1,700 feet, but there is no production from the interval at 3,300 feet.

Wildcat Slated

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Brown, slated 8,000-foot wildcat in northwest Scurry county, nine miles northwest of Snyder, and 1,880 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 440, block 97, H&TC survey, was making hole under 5,493 feet in shale.

A drillstem test was taken at 5,357-97 feet. The tool was open for one and one-half hours. Recovery was 540 feet of drilling mud and salt water.

There were no shows of oil or gas.

Ray M. Pair, et al, No. 1 Orson, southeast Andrews county wildcat, six and one-half miles southeast of the town of Andrews, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 28, block 3, psl survey, cored at 5,385-95 feet.

Recovery was ten feet of dry, hard Permian lime. The project is drilling ahead below 5,395 feet, and will continue to its contract depth of 5,500 feet- — unless it finds commercial petroleum production before reaching that level.

Trainmen Blamed In Korea Train Crash

SEOUL, Oct. 12 (AP)—A train crash that killed 36 American soldiers Sept. 14 resulted from failure of trainmen to comply with three operating regulations, an American board of investigators reported today.

Home Minister T. Y. Yoon recently attributed the rear-end collision 75 miles south of here to a Korean Communist plot, intended to discredit the new government in American-occupied south Korea. Twenty Koreans were arrested for questioning.

Maj. Gen. John B. Coulter, U. S. army commander here, in a statement announcing the board's findings, said: "A motive, if any, for failure to comply with rules of operation was beyond the scope of the board and is a matter pertaining to the Korean government."

The rules infractions: passing a passenger train into an occupied block without clearance, failure to place torpedo warnings behind a stalled train and failure to stop and investigate conflicting light signals.

Jury Foreman Warned On Salt Lake Raids

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 12 (INS)—Foreman Harry G. Calton of the Salt Lake county grand jury said today that he has received a telephone call warning him to "cut out those silly raids you're pulling . ."

He said it was the second such call he has received. The call was made late yesterday.

Calton said the mysterious caller warned that unless the raids are stopped, "we're going to get you."

Saturday authorities raided several establishments in downtown Salt Lake City and confiscated racing forms and other gambling equipment.

Ex-Waitress Gets $125,000 Damages

CHICAGO, Oct. 12 (AP) — A 20-year-old former waitress who is studying to become an opera singer today got $125,000 to further her career — and buy two artificial limbs.

Miss Marvel Lund, of Rockford, Ill., settled for $125,000 a $400,000 personal injury suit resulting from a traffic collision.

Congressman Delays Wedding After Four Ceremony Mixups

TULSA, Oct. 12 (AP)—After four broken wedding dates in 48 hours, the congressman and his bride-elect are going to back off and try to get married again—later.

Rep. Richard Fielding Harless of Arizona and Meredith Howard, a one-time follies girl, postponed their wedding "indefinitely" yesterday.

Home Wedding Wanted

Their action came after a sequence of romantic mix-ups that only screen-writers deliberately plan.

Four times Richard and Meredith did their best to say "I do," but each time the malicious god of love tossed a monkey wrench into the proceedings.

1. Wedding set in Knoxville, Tenn., for Saturday — but father wants Meredith home for ceremony here.

2. Wedding re-set for Saturday night in Tulsa—but no wedding guests.

Bridegroom Feels Strain

3. Re-re-set for Sunday afternoon—but airplane flies off with matron of honor's super-duper wedding hat.

4. Re-re-re-set for Monday afternoon—but Meredith's identical twin Virginia, ill in Mexico City, asks to attend ceremony.

At this point the parties of the first part, feeling the strain, called the whole thing off for "a short while."

Meredith, now 39, appeared with Virginia in the Atlantic City beauty contest of 1927. Later she joined the Ziegfeld follies, was married twice, and recently has been a socially prominent hostess in Washington, where Harless met her. She is the daughter of Samuel J. Howard, a Tulsa oil man. Harless, whose wife died in 1939, is 43.

Some May flies have an adult life of only six hours.

Merit Pay Boosts Held To Be Part Of Collective Bargaining

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Employers who grant merit pay raises without the consent of the union representing their workers may run afoul of the labor laws.

That is the effect of the Supreme Court's refusal to change a lower court ruling that merit pay is part of the compulsory collective bargaining process. The high court declined yesterday to hear an employer's appeal.

So the decision of the sixth circuit court of appeals at Cincinnati stands. Under its broad terms any employer violating the principle—that a bargaining union must have a voice in merit raises—runs the chance of being held guilty of committing an unfair labor practice.

Small Plants Affected

Labor experts said today the principle is unlikely to have any great effect in mass production industries because they largely have abandoned merit raises.

Thus the greatest possible effect was seen in small plants and business firms, where merit increases are generally used to reward outstanding workers.

Under the lower court decision handed down earlier this year merit raises still may be given to workers represented by a union—but only after the union has been told about them and has given its okay.

The theory behind that decision is that the employer's obligation under the national labor relations act to bargain collectively wiith representatives of its employes includes the duty of bargaining on individual wage increases as well.

Supreme Court Quoted

"The labeling of a wage increase as a gratuity," the circuit court said, "does not obviate the fact that a gratuitous increase on the basis of merit does, in actuality, effectuate changes in rates of pay and wages, which are by the act made the subject of collective bargaining."

Replying to an argument that this may penalize the worker capable of winning better job terms than those obtainable by a group, the circuit court quoted an earlier Supreme Court ruling that:

"The workman is free, if he values his own bargaining position more than that of a group, to vote against (union) representation; but the majority rules, and if it collectivizes the employment bargain, individual advantages or favors will generally in practice go in as a contribution to the collective result."

Other Cases Cited

The decision was handed down in a case involving the J. H. Allison and company, Chattanooga, Tenn., meat packers, and an AFL meat cutters union. The company took the position that merit raises are management's sole right, and not a proper subject for collective bargaining.

NLRB attorneys said the case began under the Wagner act, but that amendments made in that law by the Taft-Hartley act do no change the basis for the decision.

The NLRB attorneys said the Allison case is the first of several headed for Supreme Court tests of how far compulsory bargaining must go under the labor laws.

In one case, involving the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance company of Chicago, a circuit court has given a union the right to bargain over promotions to supervisory jobs. In another, involving the Inland Steel corp., a circuit court has held that pension and retirement plans must be bargained.

Two Cases Of Child To Be Consolidated

Judge G. V. Pardue Monday afternoon ordered that two cases affecting the custody of an 11-year-old girl be consolidated, and that litigants be restrained from removing the child from jurisdiction of the court pending a Nov. 2 hearing on the merits of the case.

One case was styled Joe Bennett and wife Dovie Beanett against Nellie Joe Bates, and asked the 99th court to issue a writ of Habeas Corpus whereby the child could be taken from the defendant and given to the plaintiffs.

The other, styled Nellie Joe Bates, joined as a matter of form by her husband, James Bates, against Joe Bennett and Dovie Bennett, asked the court to set aside an adoption judgement affecting the child.

The Bennetts pleaded that Mrs. Bates, mother of the child, took the child Oct. 8 under promise of returning her within 30 minutes, but had failed to do so. They informed the court in their petition drawn by Roy Carpenter, Lubbock attorney, that they had been awarded an adoption judgment July 30, 1947, giving them custody of the child.

The Bates petition, filed by C. L. Harris, Lubbock attorney, declared custody had been given to Mrs. Bates when her former husband, Dane D. Bennett, divorced her Aug. 3, 1944. She recited that the Bennetts were granted an adoption judgment July 30, 1947, but that she did not know it, nor had she given her permission.

The court ordered that the child be returned to Mr. and Mrs. Bennett pending final hearings, but allowed "reasonable visitation" by the mother and child.

New Well Completed In Andrews County

Cities Service Oil Company No. 1-Y University, on the north side of the Shafter Lake, multi-pay field in north-central Andrews county, and outside the area heretofore proven for production in that pool, has been officially finished as a producer from both the Wolfcamp of the lower Permian, and from the Devonian.

Located about 12 miles northwest of the town of Andrews, one and three-quarter miles north of the discovery for Devonian production in the Shafter Lake district.

Potential Given

From the Wolfcamp pay, topped at 8,519 feet, it made a 24-hour flowing potential of 2,115 barrels of 42.8 gravity oil, flowing through a three-quarter inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 724-1. The pay zone had been treated with 1,500 gallons of acid.

The oil produced from that zone during the completion test was cut with four-tenths of one per cent drilling water. The production from that formation was through casing perforations.

Treated With Acid

The Devonian section, between the bottom of the 5½-inch casing, cemented at 9,863 feet, and the total depth of 9,930 feet, was treated with 1,500 gallons of acid.

The flow on the potential test was 1,833 barrels of 38.3 gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 394-1. The test was taken through a three-quarter inch tubing choke.

The oil from the Devonian had a shakeout of five-tenths of one per cent drilling water. The new well has been put on production.

Cotton Session Set Thursday

Hundreds To Attend Event

Final plans for the second annual Beltwide Cotton Mechanization conference, opening here Thursday, were completed last night at a dinner session of the Lubbock arrangements committee at the Lubbock Hotel.

Members of the local committee met with representatives of the National Cotton council's Memphis staff and perfected plans for housing and transporting the 400 officials of the farm equipment industry, USDA and land grant college leaders, and members of the cotton industry who will converge on Lubbock from almost 30 states.

Program Is Studied

Headed by J. H. Plemons, Smyer cotton gin operator, the committee reviewed details of the mechanization demonstration at the Lubbock experiment substation, the ginning demonstration at the W. O. Fortenberry Gin at Monroe, hospitality plans, and other arrangements set up at previous sessions.

The committee also discussed plans for the official conference banquet which will be given Thursday night by a group of West Texas cotton oil mills in honor of the more than 400 official delegates to the mechanization meet.

Included among the host oil mills are Sweetwater Cotton Oil company, Sweetwater; Rule-Jayton Cotton Oil company, Stamford; Quanah Cotton Oil company, Quanah; Plains Cooperative Oil Mill, Lubbock; Lamesa Cotton Oil company, Lamesa; West Texas Cotton Oil company, Littlefield; West Texas Cotton Oil company, Plainview; West Texas Cotton Oil company, Slaton; West Texas Cotton Oil company, Brownfield; and Lubbock Cotton Oil company, Lubbock.

Work Is Commended

Jack Criswell, Memphis, educational specialist in the National Cotton council's production and marketing division, commended Lubbock cotton and civic leaders on their efforts to lend to the success of the conference;

"It would be impossible to commend too highly the Lubbock arrangements committee for the work they have already done on this conference," Mr. Criswell said. "The entire cotton industry owes this committee a real debt of gratitude."

Early arrivals for the conference already are in Lubbock, Criswell said, but the main group will begin to converge on the city tomorrow. Registrations are to begin at the Lubbock hotel and the Hilton hotel Wednesday afternoon.

$500 Per Month Sought In Court Action

Veronica Lake's Mother Sues Actress For Support Payments

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12 (AP) — Veronica Lake's mother claims she put her life savings into the film star's career, only to be left destitute.

Mrs. Constance Veronica Keane, asking $500 monthly support in a suit against the actress yesterday, alleged that she had spent nearly $10,000 to further her daughter's theatrical climb. She charged the actress had broken off a 1943 support agreement.

Veronica Lake

In that agreement, the complaint said, Miss Lake promised to pay $200 a week "in consideration of filial love and affection" to her mother and the latter's husband, the late Hugh A. Keane, former New York newspaperman. It said Miss Lake paid $115 a week for a time, later $75, then $37.50 but nothing since last May.

Describing herself as indigent, Mrs. Keane alleged that Miss Lake earns $4,500 a week. The complaint also named the actress' husband, Director Andre De Toth as a defendant. It asked for $560 a month plus $17,416 in back payments.

Miss Lake declined to comment on the suit, adding that she is expecting the birth of her third child shortly.

Parks Need Courting Nooks, Author Says

NEW YORK, Oct. 12. (AP)—Secluded nooks for courting should figure in mapping parks and parkways, the American Society of Planning Officials was told yesterday.

Concerning himself with the practical aspects of courtship, Lewis Mumford, author and lecturer, asked the officials: "How many hiding places have you given for lovers in your planning?"

Deploring broad, open sweeps of parkways which obliterate the nooks and crannies, he spoke with approval of "the ramble," a haven in the heart of New York's central park.

Minstrel Tech Night Is Held

The Lions club Jubilee Minstrels, in impressive, new costumes sent approximately 1,200 Texas Tech students home punch-drunk from punch lines and highly conscious of the happy go lucky atmosphere of the deep South Monday night in the first of a three-night stand at Lubbock Senior High school.

Tech night proved a huge success as the cast sang ancient and well-remembered negro songs as if the words ebbed from their very hearts, and the audience, try as they did, could hardly cheer with the spirit that the cast performed. Not a single performer went without at least one encore under the pressure of a heavily impressed and wildly applauding audience.

Chorus Starts Show

The talented performance of tiny, eight year old Sandra Pritchard in singing "Mammy" in a voice and manner amazingly similar to the man who made the song famous, Al Jolson, proverbially "brought the house down" and her place in the hearts of the audience lost no warmth when she evidently became tired of her wig and exposed her long blonde hair.

In the gag department Dallas Whaley extracted from the audience every known form of applause with his "Briefing For World War I", giving with jokes as new and amusing as the show itself. The audience warmed to the spirit of the show almost with the rising of the curtain when the chorus rocked the auditorium with the all-time favorite "Ol Man River," ably led, in the role of soloist, by George Dale who sang the classic as if the labor of plantation life were actually weighing upon his shoulders and the song were the only path to relief.

Many Numbers Given

To ring down the curtain on the superb production, the entire company sang a medley after Jimmy Allard, of Dallas, took what seemed as if it must be the last giggle from the generous audience's tickle-box by portraying beyond criticism the heart-broken colored man who had just lost his fourth wife, and singing "Loving Gal."

Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, the in-

Opinion Poll Analyst Will Speak At Tech

William A. Lydgate, question-formulator, analyst and editor of the Gallup poll, will present a lecture at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the Recreation Hall at Texas Technological college as one of 20 lectures, dances and fun nights included in the Recreational hall program for the year according to James G. Allen, dean of men.

Lydgate keeps a sensitive finger on the pulse of the American people through the poll, and there are few men in America who have a better understanding of the public mind and how it works. He is the man who decides what to ask the people. These questions are put to a vote in various nationwide Gallup surveys and the findings are interpreted for over a hundred leading newspapers throughout the country.

Widely Known Writer

Before joining the Gallup poll, Lydgate was a writer on "Time" and "Fortune," and has written many feature articles for other leading magazines. His book, "What America Thinks," analyzes and interprets the main currents of public opinion as revealed in more tnan 2000 polls taken in recent years.

Lydgate, who is in his thirties, stands six feet four inches in stocking feet. At Yale, where he graduated in 1931, he avoided sports and ran the "Yale Daily News," instead. The son of a minister, Lydgate was born and educated at private schools in Hawaii before he enrolled at Yale.

Makes Own Stories

The Gallup editor professes great faith in the common people, and likes to quote the eighteenth century writer, Samuel Johnson, who said: "About things on which the public thinks long, it commonly attains to think right." He believes that public opinion is vital to democracy but is quick to admit that polls of public opinion are far from perfect. He says that answers to poll questions may be hasty, long-winded, glib, profound, cockeyed or otherwise, but added up, they'll make sense.

Although the editor of the Gallup poll and right-hand man to Dr. George Gallup of the American Institute of Public opinion, Lydgate takes to the hinterlands himself at least every two years to interview scores of Americans on the leading problems of the day, thus keeping in close touch with the public. On these interrogative jaunts through the country he has acquired a score of experiences about which he loves to tell. Among these is the story of an interviewer who approached a woman voter and asked, "Madam,

Eccentric Owner Of "Goat Castle" Dies

NATCHEZ, Miss., Oct. 12 (AP)—Richard C. Dana, 77, eccentric master of the "goat castle," and a figure in the Jennie Merrill murder case of 1932, died last night of pneumonia and other complications.

Two Indicted For Murder

A legal siege for possession of the weird old house followed the equally drawn-out case of the slaying of a neighbor—Miss Jennie Merrill, aged and wealthy daughter of the late Ayres Merrill, minister to Belgium. Miss Jennie, it was said, often took pot shots at straying goats.

Dana and Miss Dockery were indicted for the slaying but neighborhood sympathy was with them and it was impossible to obtain a jury to try them. Ballistics evidence was later produced showing that a negro named Pearls was the actual slayer. He was killed in Pine Bluff, Ark., by officers attempting to arrest him.

VALUATIONS OVER $71 MILLION

School Tax Roll Here Shows Gain Of 12 Percent Over '47

An increase of $7,338,440, or nearly 12 per cent, in assessed property valuations in Lubbock independent school district was shown in the 1948 tax roll approved at a luncheon meeting of members of the board of trustees in the Hilton Hotel Monday.

Based on a tax rate of $1.30 on the $100 of assessed valuations, they may produce a maximum revenue of $930,710.04, according to A. C. Jackson, school district business manager. The comparable figure from the same tax rate last year was $832,710.32, of which about 96 per cent has been collected, Jackson said.

Real property, as usual, accounted for more than three-fourths of the valuations, $55,515,030. Personal property valuations were $16,078,050. The comparable figures last year were $51,161,100 for real and $12,893,540 for personal property.

The basis of establishing taxable value, the business manager said, was the same as last year. This formula assesses property at two-thirds the market value as computed after a re-valuing survey four years ago. The school district and the city use the same system in setting taxable valuations. The county has not adopted the plan to its valuations.

Board members attending the meeting Monday were Clyde Tatum, G. C. Dowell, Glenn Woody, W. H. Evans and C. H. Hamilton. E. J. Parsons and Dr. M. M. Ewing were absent.

Only One Woman Among Truck Drivers At Fall Convention

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12—Since the war, the ladies—most of 'em, bless their hearts—have gone back to dressing chickens and babies.

You don't find the gals driving taxis, running riveters or mixing cement any more. And certainly not driving trucks.

The American Trucking Association, Inc., held an annual convention here. There was only one woman trucker among them. And Mrs. Helen Slocum of Detroit never drove a truck in her life. She owns a fleet, but lets the boys do the driving.

"You can say what you want," she said, "it's one of the few jobs a lady can't handle. Too much lifting, for one thing. Some states have a law against women who work for a living lifting more than 25 pounds. And you know, the tail gate on a light truck often weighs more than that."

While they were here, the truckers held their annual "roadeo—" for men only, of course, since none of the 29 state finalists happened to be women. The "roadeo" is a driving contest over the toughest obstacle course imaginable. The purpose is to make for safer truck driving on the highways.

It was very interesting to a guy like me, who can't park an ordinary car sideways against the curb if there's any competition in the block—on either side.

Straight Parking Easiest

The drivers started out by weaving their trucks in and out around a couple of closely-spaced barrels. Next was a snakey drive through two sets of fences with only inches to spare on either side. Third was what you call "parallel" parking. Forwarding and backing the truck and whatever is tacked on behind next to another big one. Then came the "alley dock," or backing into a space so tight you'd scrape the paint off the sides if you were an inch off.

Easiest was the straight line test—something even a dub could do. The windup was to wheel around and pull through a couple of flags to the finish line.

Small Trucker Tough Too

The winner in tractor and semi-trailer class (a long trailer with a tractor-like front to pull it) was Grayson C. Thomas, of Burlington, N. C., who has driven 600,000 miles without a nicked fender!

Thomas, a handsome six-footer who weighs 180 pounds said parallel parking is the toughest for him with all that load and all that length—20 tons and 35 feet of trailer truck.

Thomas, though, was by no means the biggest contestant. There was Bill Ryan, 33, of Birmingham, Ala., who's six feet and weighs 274. He says his size has kept him out of a lot of "tight corners"—truck driver lingo for an argument with the cops or another driver.

Smallest was Ray Murphy, 28, of Providence. He weighs 130 and is only five feet, two.

Wife Claims Husband Took His Gifts Back

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12 (AP) — Cruelty was the charge made by Mrs. Solomon W. Laykin and she got the divorce from her husband, wealthy Beverly Hills jeweler.

"As soon as our guests were gone," replied Mrs. Laykin, "my husband would take the jewelry back and destroy the checks."

Pop Enters School After Kids Finish

TEANECK, N. J., Oct. 12 (AP) "You're never too old to learn."

Contradictory?

Sure, but take it from Louis Rich of South Orange, you never are too old to learn—and he's out to prove it.

He started classes today as a freshman at Bergen Junior college at the age of 85. He put his six children through college, and is now retired.

Divorces In Texas Show 1947 Decrease

AUSTIN, Oct. 12 (AP) — Divorces in 1947 decreased almost 14,000 below the 1946 total in Texas, Texas civil judicial council statistics showed today.

District courts disposed of 26,315 other civil cases in 1947 compared with 24,792 in 1946. They tried 1,518 criminal cases by jury and 11,644 without. Comparative figures for 1946 were 1,255 and 11,847, respectively.

More than 98,662 civil cases had been on dockets more than a year on Jan. 1, 1948, compared with 141,377 a year earlier.

Court costs in contested civil cases rose from $29.70 in 1946 to $31.29 in 1947. The increase was greater in non-contested cases, advancing from $9.82 to $14.20.

Attorney Questions Right Of U. S. Court To Try Tokyo Rose

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12 (INS) — A defense attorney for Mrs. Iva Toguri (Tokyo Rose) D'Aquino atacked the right today of a San Francisco federal court to try her for treason.

Attorney Wayne Collins, at the Los Angeles-born nisei's arraignment before federal Judge Louis Goodman, insisted that she was a Portuguese citizen.

He based his argument on the fact that Mrs. D'Aquino married a Portuguese proof-reader in Tokyo in 1944.

Bond Argument Opposed

Judge Goodman granted a two weeks' continuance to Oct. 25 to allow Collins to prepare his arguments for dismissal of the United States treason charge against Mrs. D'Aquino.

She is accused on eight counts of making wartime broadcasts from radio Tokyo designed to weaken the morale of American fighting men.

U. S. attorney Frank J. Hennessy attacked this move and asserted "Tokyo Rose" might leave the country. He said:

"Treason . . . is not an extraditable crime. If Mrs. D'Aquino were to flee this country, she could not be forced to return."

As pre-trial moves indicated the possibility of more delay special prosecutor Tom Dewolfe said eight witnesses brought to San Francisco were "disgruntled" at being away from home. He said the Justice department plans to fly them back Oct. 24 and return them later.

Observers said the trial might not begin for two months.

Hospital Patients Have "In-Law-Itis"

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP) — Kings college hospital's annual report said today one in every 100 of its out-patients is suffering from "in-law-itis."

The victims live with their in-laws and quarrel with them so much that they make themselves sick.

"Doctors send them to the hospital for treatment although organically there is nothing wrong with them," the report said, communiting that there'll be no real remedy until the housing shortage is eased.

"Fishing Trip" Ends, Carpenters At Work

FORT WORTH, Oct. 12 (AP) — Some 1,200 union carpenters called off an 11-day "fishing trip" and took up their jobs again today — with a 12½ cent hourly pay raise awaiting them.

The increase brings their hourly pay scale to $2. They "went fishing" Oct. 1 when Associated General contractors turned down their demands for a 25 cent hourly increase.

Oratory, Parades, Excitement Mark Presidential Campaigns

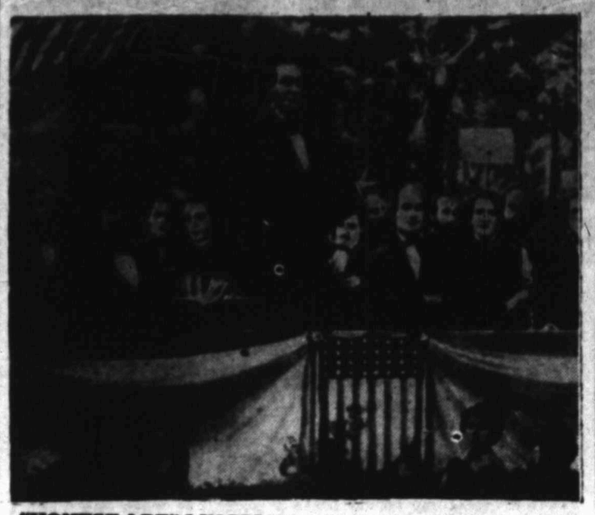

AP Newsfeatures

TORCHLIGHT parades helped New Yorkers let off steam in campaigns 100 years ago. The idea spread and Indiana held one lasting five hours for Fremont in 1856.

STAGECOACH campaigning was Andrew Jackson's meat. Here's an old drawing of him arousing a village crowd in 1828. "Old Hickory" defeated aristocratic John Adams and was reelected four years later. His victory was tagged by his enemies as a "triumph of the mob,' and the east was horrified by the advent of the common man into the White House. Farmers drove 20 miles in wagons to hear him.

"HONEST ABE" LINCOLN left his Springfield, Ill., home only once during his 1860 campaign. Marching men, called Lincoln "Wide Awakes" did his campaigning for him. Historians say the election was already decided by the time the convention was over. Lincoln won the north and the west. Douglas carried Missouri and New Jersey. Breckinridge held the south where the tide of secession was rising.

THE GREAT COMMONER, William Jennings Bryan, Democratic candidate for President in 1896, was a champion campaigner. He made 159 speeches in three months, 24 of them in 24 hours. "You shall not crucify mankind upon a cross of gold!" was the theme of his plea on a free silver platform.

ROUGH RIDER "Teddy" Roosevelt, McKinley's running mate in 1900, was another colorful campaigner. He made 673 speeches in that campaign. His walrus mustache and toothy smile warmed the hearts of voters as he waved his famous campaign hat and championed the "full dinner pail."

O. U. To Admit Negro Student

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 12 (AP) For the first time in the history of the state, the doors of the all-white University of Oklahoma will be ready to open for a negro student tomorrow.

He is G. W. McLaurin, a 54-year-old retired professor who wants to study for a doctor's degree in education in the university's graduate school.

Yesterday the state—represented by the university regents — bowed to a federal court ruling of Sept. 29 and decided to admit McLaurin.

Segregation Provided

The regents told the university president, Dr. George L. Cross, to admit McLaurin "on a segregation basis." This will probably be similar to the partial segregation used at the University of Arkansas, which enrolled its own first negro student last spring.

Whether McLaurin will accept such enrollment is not yet certain. His lawsuit was one of several sponsored in Oklahoma by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in an effort to remove educational bars for negroes.

Court Backed Contention

"We have made up our minds what to do tomorrow," he said this morning "but I would rather not say right now."

Oklahoma has a university for negroes at Langston, but Langston has no regular graduate school system.

When state segregation laws stopped McLaurin's admittance to the white university, he sued in federal court. He claimed Oklahoma violated his constitutional right of "equal protection of the laws" guaranteed in the 14th amendment.

A three-judge federal court agreed with McLaurin, and said the university must admit him as there is no other graduate course for him in Oklahoma.

Many other admirable presentations included "Rythmic Taps" by Leete Jackson, Jr., "Sweet and Low" by Beverly Cumbie, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," by Robert Dennis, "A Good Man Is Hard To Find," by Bob Rose, "Who Threw The Whiskey In The Well," done in incomparble style by Dr. Clyde C. Craig. Many others went to make this the crowning triumph of Lubbock minstrel shows.

The next performance of the show will be at 8:15 o'clock tonight in the High school auditorium as was last night's presentation. Last performances will be Wednesday night.

West Texans Told They Have Vital Stake In Redistricting

ODESSA, Oct. 12. (U.P.)—West Texans were advised today that they have a vital stake in redistricting the state because of the phenominal growth of their cities since the last redistricting in Texas in 1921.

The statement was made yesterday by John Ben Sheppard when he met with Odessa Jaycees. Sheppard is immediate past president of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Salesmanship Urged

Sheppard cited Ector county, which has had a population increase of 413.4 per cent since 1921, as an example of West Texas urban population increases.

The past Jaycee chief, discussing the international situation, said that Americans must become better citizens and salesmen of Democracy. He said Russia could be stopped politically by Europeans realizing the benefits of democracy.

Later, at Hobbs, N. M., Sheppard said the Marshall plan is "America's acceptance of world citizenship" for everyone who will be called upon to bear the cost of carrying it out.

Man, 76, "Chutes" From 10,000 Feet

FOSSTON, Minn., Oct. 12 (AP)—The hero of the ice cream soda set in this tiny Minnesota town today was Walter Morgan, 76, who may be the oldest man ever to make a parachute jump.

Morgan achieved what he described as a lifetime ambition when he jumped yesterday from 10,000 feet. His wife and children were in the crowd of 2,000—800 more than the town's entire population—that left the shops and offices of Fosston to watch him jump.

Himself the father of six, Morgan said he wanted to "show the kids I could do it." Afterward he said warningly "they'll have a hard time keeping me on the ground now."

His pilot, Don Kruse, Minneapolis, praised the ex-farmer's cool-headedness. "When he landed," said the pilot, "he still had the ripcord. Lots of professional jumpers drop it —and the thing is worth $6."

Brownfield Jaycees Hear State Officer

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 12.—L. D. Whitely of Lubbock, regional vice president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, was the principal speaker Monday at a regular weekly luncheon of the Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Whitely told of recent personnel changes in the state Jaycee office and of administrational procedures. He urged attendance at all regional and state meetings, calling attention to the next regional meeting, which will be Nov. 6 and 7 at Abilene.

The speaker was introduced by Asher Thompson, also of Lubbock.

Jester To Address Water Conference

AUSTIN, Oct. 12 (U.P.) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester was scheduled today to address the opening session of the coastal water conference to be held in Houston Oct. 20, the fourth in a series of water conferences.

Other public officials scheduled to appear before the conference include Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray, jr.; Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer; Col. Henry Hutchings, jr., southwestern division engineer; Trigg Mitchell; William L. Broadhurst, representing the U. S. geological survey; Howard L. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster commission; E. V. Spence, chairman of the state board of water engineers; and Judge Guy C. Jackson, jr., president of the Texas Water Conservation association.

Talks on industrial waste disposal also are scheduled by C. M. Shigley, director of research for the Texas division of the Dow Chemfcal company, and Lyman Cox, consultant on water supply and waste disposal for the E. I. Du Pont De Nemours and company.

Bob McDonnell, former Villanova football College pitcher who served as batting practice pitcher for the Phillies, will return to his alma mater as coach of the freshman basketball squad.

Prices Too High, Texan Back Behind Bars At Own Request

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 12 (U.P.) — John Charles Stephens, 28, was behind the security of big iron bars again today, safe from the "big outside" and its constant nibbling at his pay-check.

Prison officials "used influence" to get him back in jail when Stephens, granted a conditional pardon on August 28, pleaded that he wanted to come back and finish his five-year sentence for burglary.

No Money Left

"I pay my bills on Friday night, and there's no money left for me," Stephens complained. "Let me come back and finish my sentence. No more of this serving my time out of custody for me."

But there were complications. Unless there was a violation of parole regulations, Stephens technically had to stay out of prison.

Next day, though, they contacted him. "We cleared it with the governor's office," Assistant Warden Rufus Seay proudly announced.

Grid Mishap Victim Remains Unconscious

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 12. (AP) — Norman Priest, 16-year-old Edison high school of San Antonio football player, who suffered a brain injury in practice yesterday, remained in an unconscious condition at a hospital today.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Priest.

The lad, a second-string fullback, was carrying the ball in scrimmage when the accident occussed. He was equipped with a helmet.

As he circled end and was jackled by a player, he head hit the ground as he fell, Coach Roy White said.

Ickes Rejoins Demo Ranks To Give His Support To Truman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12. (AP) — Harold L. Ickes is backing President Truman in next month's election.

The 74-year-old new dealer who broke with Mr. Truman in February, 1946, after 13 years' service as secretary of the interior, rejoined the Democratic ranks yesterday.

Although he said he "would welcome an opportunity to vote for someone else," Ickes gave conservation of the nation's natural resources as the deciding factor in his choice of presidential candidates.

"As between Thomas Elusive Dewey, the candidate in sneakers," Ickes said in a statemtnt, "I prefer to support Mr. Truman, who is straightforward and sincere, if at times more unpredictable than I would wish."

Wallace Impossible

Ickes, once a leading member of the old Progressive party, said the new Progressive party candidate, Henry Wallace "in his Communist stew, is impossible."

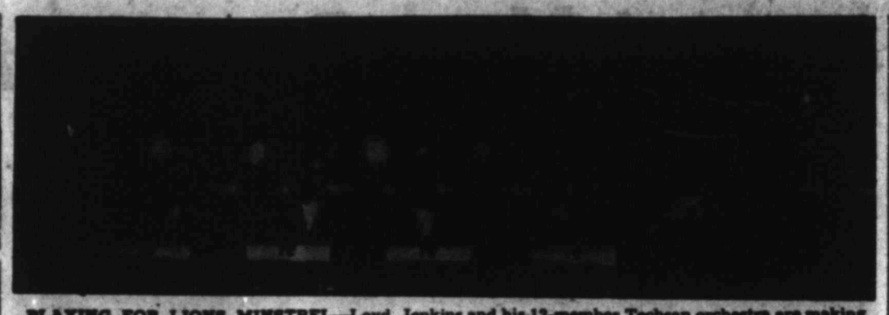

As for supporting Norman Thomas, the Socialist standard bearer, Ickes said that "would be wasting a vote."

The former cabinet member registered last year as a "non-partisan" at his home in nearby Olney, Md. His statement yesterday followed by a week his first White House visit in two and one-half years.

"I have said harsh and critical things about President Truman," it said. "I shall probably do so in the future."

But Ickes added that Mr. Truman has "acted straight and talked straight" on the matter of conserving the nation's natural resources. On the other hand, he said, Republican candidate Dewey "has been elusive" on these and other major issues.

"And so he is for 'unity' and Alice in Wonderland and Grimm's fairy tales and virture," Ickes said, "to say nothing of mother and the home."

Esther Williams Adds Her Own Postscript To Kinsey Report

BY BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 12—Esther Williams adds a postscript to the Kinsey report—if you want to stay married, stay sexy.

The curvy bathing beauty isn't muscling in on Beatrice Fairfax and Dorothy Dix. Confidentially, she shrinks from posing as an oracle on anything but swimming (unlike some stars who expound on everything from reforestation to free silver.)

Esther is approaching her third wedding anniversary and that makes her an expert in these parts, even if it is her second try. So, between dance rehearsals for "Neptune's Daughter," I queried her on how to stay married.

Treat Him Like Date

Just because the chase is over, she continued, don't neglect your allure.

"I don't mean you have to get a lot of black lace underthings. I think crisp, white clothes are as attractive as anything.

"In fact, you don't have to put out a lot of money for expensive clothes to look your best. The important thing is to look neat. Some inexpensive but attractive house coats will help a lot."

"Most women buy bathing suits without even trying them on," she declared. "That's silly. Because if a girl is unmarried, her boy friend gets to see what her figure is really like when she wears a bathing suit.

Look Best On Vacation

"And a married woman should look her best when she goes on vacation. Because that's the one time of the year when her husband has time to look at her and say to himself, 'is this what I married?' "

Cooking ranks high on the list of esentials, Esther added. (Yes, she can cook, too.)

"Anybody who can read can cook," she said. "I suspect that some wives slough off their cooking, hoping that their husbands will hire a cook and relieve them of the work."

As a final tip—"Look good in the morning."

"That should be one of your most intimate times—when you have your coffee together in the morning," she said.

Silo Fire Stopped By Using Dry Ice

STANLEY, Kas., Oct. 12 (AP)—It took a little time, but Robert E. Lester discovered how to put out the fire in his silo.

He used dry ice.

Yesterday Don Shippy, a tenant on Lester's farm, saw smoke coming from a silo holding 60 tons of silage. He telephoned Lester in Kansas City 30 miles away.

Lester in turn sought advice from a county agent, the Kansas City fire department and the Kansas state college on how to snuff out the slow-burning fire without spoiling the silage. All professed inexperience in fighting fires in silos.

Lester finally called a chemical company. The company loaded 40 cakes of dry ice, each deighing 50 pounds, and rushed them to the silo. The ice was dropped in from the top. The fire went out.

The chemical firm said there would be no charge for the ice. Glad to know it would do the job, a company official said.

Child Is Born To Del Rio Woman In Drug Store Here

Crestna Ruby Flores, less than 24 hours old, has one major distinction over the other babies born in Lubbock last night, in that circumstances beyond her control fixed her place of birth in a downtown drug store.

Preciliano Flores, 33, and his wife, Carolina Flores, 31, cotton pickers on a farm about 12 miles northeast of Lubbock, were walking in the vicinity of Doc's Drugstore at 609 Broadway last night about 8 o'clock when the usual symptoms informed Mrs. Flores that her child was about to be born.

The Del Rio couple, knowing little English and almost nothing about Lubbock, enlisted the aid of T. R. (Doc) Carpenter, owner of the store, who called Dr. A. P. Portela, Latin - American physician, who is setting up his practice here.

While waiting the doctor's arrival, Carpenter showed the couple to a small room in the back of the store, where a divan would accommodate the prospective mother.

About one-half hour after entering the store, the 8½ pound baby arrived, a normal birth with little assistance from the physician. The infant, dressed in clothing taken from the store's supplies, was ready for company and busily sucking its finger when an Avalanche - Journal reporter and photographer reached the scene.

Infant Is Named

Dr. Portelia said that the couple had given the baby its second name of Ruby in honor of Ruby Spears, counter waitress in the store, who placed the tiny infant in its first wearing apparel.

Carpenter said that the mother and baby would remain in the back room of the drug store overnight, and would be moved sometime this morning.

Russia Again Short In Returning Japs

TOKYO, Oct. 12 (AP)—Nobody here was surprised when Russia fell short of its September quota in repatriating Japanese still held in its sphere.

It was the 16th consecutive month in which Russia failed to live up to its agreement with allied headquarters for returning Japanese prisoners of war.

Headquarters reported today the Russians sent home only 37,214 Japanese in September. This was 12,786 short of the agreed 50,000. The Soviet monthly average from Jan. 1, 1947 through Sept. 30, 1948 has been 39,103.

Japanese repatriated from Soviet-controlled areas to date total 839,595. There are still 484,092 to be released from Russian zones.

BOUGHT AND PAID FOR

EPPING, N. H. (AP)—When Roland Parenteau returned to his parked automobile, he found a 25-cent piece and this message on his windshield: "Operator—here is 25 cents for two quarts of gas which I took the liberty of stealing, saving my life. Thanx."

NEW AUTOMOBILE AMAZES DRINKING RUSSIANS

U. S. Army Sergeant Gets Through Berlin Blockade By Using Soft Soap On Guards

By JOSEPH FLEMING
United Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Oct. 12—A U. S. Army sergeant, using soft soap and phony props on Russian troops, temporarily lifted the Soviet blockade of Berlin last week, it was disclosed today.

S/Sgt. Ralph Felling, 26-year-old combat veteran of McCook, Neb., drove his automobile over the main highway from Frankfurt to the former German capital.

"I just wanted my automobile up here in Berlin," he explained. "It wasn't doing me any good down in Frankfurt."

Felling appeared unimpressed by the fact he had done what western diplomats had been unable to do.

Trip Permit Refused

Twenty-five feasting Russians permitted Felling to cash in on a 1000-to-1 chance when he showed them his "special credentials" — automobile insurance papers and a four-language U. S. Army pass authorizing him to be absent from his billet.

He "softened up" the Russians at the Soviet-British zone border Thursday night when he visited them to exchange "small talk" and display pictures of his wife, Mary Elizabeth Felling of San Antonio, Texas.

Felling said he found the Russians in a receptive mood and the check point guardhouse like a "scene out of a Hollywood movie."

Hauled In Deer

A girl in a Soviet uniform sat on the lap of the soldier in charge throughout his stay, Felling said. Empty vodka and German cognac bottles littered the floor.

"I really wished I had a camera when they hauled in a freshly-killed deer covered with blood," the sergeant said. "They butchered it right there and began to cook and eat it."

The Russians examined Felling's credentials and informed him he could not proceed until the following morning because the Elbe river ferry had been closed for the night.

As he chatted with Russian non-commissioned officers in English and halting German, other Russians examined with great interest the radio, heater, cigarette lighter and dashboard of his new automobile.

Returned Next Morning

"They seemed astonished that an ordinary G. I. could own an automobile like that," Felling said.

The sergeant said that when he returned to the Soviet barrier the next morning he was waved on to Berlin "by my old friends of the night before."

Felling said he encountered no difficulty until he reached a Soviet checkpoint just outside of Berlin.

There he showed two armed Russians the same "credentials" he had produced earlier. But they looked dubious.

"The barrier was up and I knew if they ever put it down it would stay down," Felling said. "So I just waved to them. Told them I would see them in Berlin and drove on. They did not shoot."

Felling said that a week earlier he had been turned back three times by Russian sentries when he attempted to run the blockade via side roads. He was accompanied by Pvt. Norbert Szopinski, son of D. S. Magoffin of Chicago.

"I decided if I could not make it using back roads I would try the main road no matter how impossible it appeared," he said.

That Girl on Broadway says it seems almost a sacrilege for our lovely October weather to be all loused up by a political campaign.

* * *

Today's Health Hint: If you take good care of your heart, the chances are you will live long enough to die of cancer.

* * *

SINCE most judges have a lively streak of showmanship and a natural human weakness for making decorous orations, it was not unusual that Judge G. V. Pardue the other day waxed warm in instructing his 99th District court grand jury.

And since most grand juries usually return the compliment by issuing stern reports warning law violators to either mend their ways or suffer the consequences, it was not unusual that the 99th's recent grand jury did just that at the completion of its first session of work.

But a little unusual was the grand jury's frank handling of courthouse conditions in its report to Judge Pardue. Calling a spade a spade, the investigatory body said, in so many words, that there are some very lousy situations in the local Temple of Justice.

* * *

Everyone who has been around the Lubbock county courthouse in recent years has discovered — some to their very great personal distaste— that there are not proper facilities for juries held overnight; that the old building is poorly kept up as to repairs and cleanliness; that public sanitary facilities are sadly lacking and too often disgustingly dirty.

But now it has all been made official by the grand jury's straight-from-the-shoulder report and it will be interesting to see whether or not the proper corrective measures are taken.

* * *

IT is nothing less than disgraceful the way overnight juries are cared for—or, better, not cared for—in the Lubbock county courthouse.

If the County Commissioners court, charged with the responsibility of keeping up the courthouse, doesn't get busy and straighten the mess out, succeeding grand juries, backed by public censure from the bench by both Judges Pardue and Dan Blair, should put and keep the county governing officials on a hot spot until they do.

The old alibi that "we need a new courthouse and can't do anything with this old one" is only partially substantial. It is true that overnight juries can't be properly cared for in the building now. But it also is true that the county can—and should — put them up in first class hotel quarters until such time as a new courthouse is built and proper facilities are furnished.

* * *

It is true that under certain conditions, a citizen can be forced to serve on a jury—or else suffer the penalty of the law if he refuses. But it is not true that a citizen can be forced to live in squalor, even to do his duty by serving on a jury.

If 12 "good men and true" were to buck up sometime and get tough about the lack of facilities for overnight jurors, they'd get action in a hurry. No judge could do anything but fall in with them.

Therefore, we hope that the next overnight jury here will be made up of men of sufficient intestinal fortitude to refuse to remain in the cramped, stuffy uncomfortable quarters furnished them and demand that they be given, at the very least, a modicum of comfort and cleanliness in their facilities.

* * *

HERE are some current predictions by an assortment of scientists: The earth is on the verge of shifting its axis and drowning most of us. . . . A new ice age is just around the corner and will starve most of us . . . Mankind will soon starve itself to death because of depletion of natural resources. . . . A new type of atomic energy, if exploded, will set off a chain of explosions of the elements and bring on the end of the world.

But, cheer up! You may die tomorrow!)

* * *

WE got to thinking the other day, when the doctors' convention was in town, that the medicos ought to change the name of their organization to fit the facts.

The name of the doctors' organization in this general area is the "Panhandle District Medical Society." Probably it got its name many, many years ago, when there were many more doctors and many more people in the Panhandle than there were on the South Plains.

But now it's the other way around.

Lubbock is the big medical center of Northwest Texas. The South Plains has a much larger population than the Panhandle. Thus the South Plains makes possible to a greater extent than the Panhandle the regional medical society of today.

* * *

Why not then change the name of the "Panhandle District Medical society" to the "Panhandle - South Plains District Medical society?"

The South Plains is that section centering around Lubbock.

They are separate and distinct areas of Texas—just as separate and distinct as the areas around Texarkana and El Paso.

* * *

WE believe it's fine to co-operate with the Panhandle in all matters of mutual interest. We believe the South Plains similarly should co-operate with Eastern New Mexico and Central West Texas, below us, in matters where there is a community of interest.

But why allow our South Plains identity to be swallowed up—even —submerged—by the Panhandle, or any other geographical area?

Maybe there are other organizations taking in the South Plains, but dubbed "Panhandle." The South Plains press, here-to-fore split between the Panhandle Press association to the North and the West Texas Press association to the South, just recently established its own identity and it would be healthy if all organizations did the same.

How about it, Lubbock doctors? Why not make it the "Panhandle-South Plains District Medical society," and thus make the cloth fit the pattern?

BY DREW PEARSON: SENATOR FERGUSON LOSES REPUTATION AS GREAT PROSECUTOR

Tight-Fisted Banks May Lose Loans To Veterans

WASHINGTON. — When Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan first come to Washington, he was widely acclaimed as the great prosecutor. This reputation now is sadly tarnished.

For though Homer heads one of the most important investigating sub-committees of the Senate, it begins to look as if he runs in the opposite direction when either he or his friends get their toes slightly stepped on.

PEARSON

After Senator Thomas of Oklahoma wrote Ferguson a letter threating to expose certain extracurricular activities, Ferguson promptly dropped the Thomas probe. Ferguson, of course, denies this, says he still is investigating. And here is something else he will doubtless deny, too:

In the spring of 1947, the senator from Michigan had a young army of sleuths digging into the Preston Tucker automobile scandal. Word from the Ferguson committee was that sensational developments were just around the corner. A big story would develop.

But it never did. Ferguson dropped the whole thing. His sleuths closed up the Tucker books and went on to other things. It was quite mysterious.

* * *

Big G.O.P. Politician

No adequate explanation ever was given, but here are some interesting facts which took place in May and June 1947 just as Ferguson dropped the Tucker probe.

At about this time, Mrs. Dudley C. Hay, popular efficient ex-Republican national committeewoman from Michigan, and her husband were paid $17,850 by the auto man being probed by Ferguson—namely Preston Tucker.

Mrs. May has been a friend of Ferguson's. She was at that time not only G.O.P. committeewoman, but secretary of the Republican national committee, and had long been influential in Michigan politics.

There was nothing illegal about Mrs. Hay and her husband receiving this money, since they are not government officials—though it is highly interesting.

The first money they received was $7,000 in cash, Tucker's paymaster, explaining the payment, said that Tucker had come to him late one evening for some cash which he said he needed to pay some politicians to stop the senate investigation of the Tucker plant.

Mrs. Hay made five trips to Washington during May and June 1947, Just at the time Senator Ferguson seemed about to begin public hearings of the Tucker corporation.

Records of the Statler hotel show that she registered there from May 9 to 11, and on May 10 called Ferguson's secret phone number, Ordway 3085. Not many people had this private number.

Mrs. Hay came back to Washington, May 15-16, and again the hotel record shows she called the capitol several times. She returned on May 31, remaining until June 5, and on June 1 called Ferguson's secret number twice.

On June 11, Mrs. Hay came back again, remaining until June 13 during which time the hotel records show that twice she called Ferguson's private number. Tucker was in Washington at the same identical time.

Several Tucker employees state that at about this time he told them he had employed a political figure in Michigan to call off the Ferguson committee and that "it was the best money he ever spent."

Whether or not Mr. and Mrs. Hay were employed by Tucker to do this job, the fact is that the Ferguson probe of Tucker suddenly stopped.

At that time the Securities and Exchange commission and the Justice department also were investigating Tucker and they reported that Ferguson's agents were so busy at the Tucker plant it looked as if the senate probe would get started long before the government could finish its work.

That was one year and a half ago. Meanwhile the Ferguson probe never has come off. The Justice department is shortly calling a grand jury in Chicago to get to the bottom of Mr. Tucker's unusual activities—but, for reasons best known to the senator from Michigan, he changed his mind about this scandal which already has cost the investing public around $20,000,000.

* * *

UNLESS banks start loosening up on home loans to veterans, Congress may take these loans away from private enterprise and put the government in the direct loan business.

This was threatened the other day in a blunt, but unofficial, warning to the financial trade by Wisconsin's GOP Senator Joe McCarthy, vice chairman of the joint congressional housing committee.

But even as McCarthy took his stand, the federal reserve system was sending out notices to member banks to cut down on home loans as a deflationary measure. This will virtually put an end to G.I. loans. Since banks have been turning down most veterans anyway in favor of loans with higher interest rates.

In many cases, this has been a deliberate squeeze play to force up the interest rates on G.I. loans. An increase from 4 to 4½ per cent is permitted by law, provided it is approved by the secretary of the treasury and the Veterans administration or Federal Housing administration—whichever agency guarantees the loans. This new provision in the law was inserted this year by Congress to encourage banks to make G.I. loans. It has had the opposite effect.

A spot survey right in the nation's capital revealed that 23 out of 25 Washington banks refused ever to consider an application for a G.I. loan. The situation is growing steadily worse.

Note—One thing Senator McCarthy overlooks is that the 80th Congress deliberately knocked out the provision passed by the Democrats whereby the RFC guarantees G.I. bank loans 100 per cent. Immediately after this guarantee was removed, banks started vetoing veterans' loans.

* * *

Merry-Go-Round

The army caste system is so strict at Camp Kilmer that privates can't receive incoming long-distance calls. Col. Harold R. Duffie, the commanding officer, flatly denied this to the Army, but forgot to tip off his telephone operators. They still give the same stock answer to anyone calling privates—which is to write a letter, send a telegram or, in case of an emergency, get in touch with the Red Cross —anything but talk to him. . . . Democratic publicity Director Jack Redding is asking for a $5,000-a-year raise, but the White House won't grant it. Real truth is the White House would like to get rid of Redding . . . The labor committee for Truman and Barkley has offered $2,000 in prizes to unions that bring out the most voters to the polls November 2.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

WHEN you hear the story from the daughter-in-law's friends it goes like this: "Poor Mary, it must be hard on her, having Jim's mother living with them.

MILLETT

"Jim and Mary never have any real privacy. They don't entertain nearly as much as they used to—because if Mrs. R is around the crowd the crowd all act like they're under a strain. And if she goes off to her room or to a movie Jim looks miserable, as though he had deliberately pushed her out.

"And though she does try to be helpful, I guess she drives Mary wild, always being underfoot. Mary's so fast—and Mrs. R is so deliberate. And she rambles on so . . ."

* * *

OTHER SIDE OF STORY

BUT when Mrs. R's friends talk about the situation they say, "Poor Clara—having to live with her daughter-in-law. I guess Mary's a nice enough girl, but she's so often sharp and impatient with Clara.

"And she expects so much of her, too. She is always leaving the kids with her while she runs around with her friends.

"But she never takes Clara anywhere. And she doesn't seem to want Clara around when she is entertaining at home."

It hardly sounds like the same story. And yet both the friends of the daughter-in-law and the friends of the mother-in-law are telling the truth . . . as they see it.

The only difference is that one group is looking at the picture with young eyes, the other with old.

IF you think you've heard everything, consult Janet Miller's "Camel Bells in Bagdad" and discover that in the course of World War I, British soldiers, stationed near the Caspian sea, protested bitterly to the War office that they were being fed far too much caviar.

They referred to this delicacy (now retailing for something like eighteen dollars a pound in our better shops) as "this 'ere fish-jam."

Reasons Indicate Communists Dominate Progressive Party

WASHINGTON—While the evidence increases from day to day to show that Henry Wallace's third party is losing strength, there remains a core of Wallace followers who will vote the third ticket. The great majority of these faithful followers are neither Communists nor fellow-travelers.

Many of them are church people and convince pacifists, who believe that the last and only hope for a peaceful settlement with the Soviet Union is through Wallace. Still others, with faith almost as blind, see Wallace as the true inheritor of the Roosevelt new deal.

CHILDS

A number of letters from these true believers have come to me in recent weeks. Some of them are angry letters, some of them express hurt surprise that anyone of liberal beliefs should say that the Wallace party is Communist-dominated.

This is an effort to answer those letters. It is an attempt to set out as clearly as possible the reasons why it is difficult or impossible, without willfully shutting one's eyes to the facts, to escape the conclusion that the third party is dominated and manipulated by Communists and slavish fellow-travelers.

* * *

Definitions Vary

First, what is a Communist? There are various long and complicated definitions having to do with ideologies. For the purpose of the present controversy it seems to me that an immediate and practical definition is the following:

A Communist is one who consistently held that Russia is right in everything Russia does and the United States is wrong in everything the United States does.

The best test under this definition is the attitude of the individual between August of 1940 and June 22, 1941. Beginning with the Soviet-Nazi pact, the official Soviet line was that the war was merely a struggle between rival imperialisms. After the German attack on June 21, 1941, it became a battle for freedom and democracy. Any American who echoed that line is in my book a Communist or a fellow-traveler who happens to be cheating the party out of its dues by not carrying a card.

THIS definition, incidentially, is more or less clearly spelled out in the latest Communist doctrine from top authority in Moscow. In essence, Tito's crime is that he put his own country, Yugoslavia, just a little ahead of the Soviet Union. With this as a definition, here are the reasons why it seems to me an inescapable conclusion that the third party is Communist-dominated.

1. Most of the men and women in key positions around Wallace have consistently echoed the Soviet line, sometimes both publicly and privately, for the past decade or longer. They switched when Russia's interests switched.

2. In his own speeches Wallace has consistently attacked the U. S. and defended Russia. His justification is that he feels the need to correct the balance since so many loud and angry attacks are being aimed at the Russians. He has, however, gone far beyond that and especially in his west coast tour.

3. The Communist party in this country and all its branches and stooge organizations have gone all out for the third party. This would hot be possible without direction from Moscow.

4. The platforms of the Communist party and the third party bear striking similarities. They both oppose the Marshall plan and other foreign aid measures intended for the reconstruction of western Europe.

* * *

Associates Oppose Him

The active opposition to Wallace by most of his former new deal associates and by labor leaders such as Philip Murray. These men have come to recognize the real objective of Russian Communist intrigue and they regard Wallace as a tragic prisoner.

This list could be considerably extended. But it seems to me that anyone who looks at these facts, and they are indisputable facts, cannot help but see Wallace in the grim light of reality. This realization is certainly one of the reasons for his declining popularity.

Trying to argue that Russia is invariably right is a difficult business in view of each day's new headlines from Paris. But is does not follow that the United States is always right, either. One of the great and precious privileges enjoyed by American citizens is the right to criticize and argue. It is a privilege that existed only sporadically under Russia's czars and has been ruthlessly abolished under Russia's commissars. The

GOOD FOR BALTIMORE!

Only the Communists and their sympathizers will criticise the Baltimore School board for its unanimous approval of the discharge of a kindergarten teacher who is an acknowledged member of that party.

Probably the chief among endless objections to the employment of Communists as school teachers is their refusal, in the great majority of cases, to leave their politics outside the classroom. They aren't satisfied to teach the subject for which they are employed. Zealots all, they seem to feel they must stress the teaching of Communism. As a matter of fact, they are not good Communists and they violate party pledges and instructions if they fail to utilize to the fullest every opportunity to seek converts to their political beliefs.

The Baltimore school board is to be commended by all good Americans for its action. The Baltimore course is one to be commended to all schools in this nation as an example to be followed to the letter.

Ginners Open Session Here

Preliminary to, and in cooperation with the Beltwide Cotton Mechanization conference that opens here Thursday, a two-day discussion of problems of the ginning industry as they relate to mechanized harvesting of cotton, started today at the Hilton hotel by ginning specialists throughout the cotton belt, from the Carolinas to California.

The meeting, to be headed by Alfred Pendleton, Dallas, southwestern regional cotton ginning specialist of the USDA, and Charles Oglesby, Atlanta, Ga., southeastern regional specialist, will be beltwide in its aspects. Charles A. Bennett, engineer in charge of the U. S. Cotton Ginning laboratory at Stoneville, Miss., will be one of the featured speakers of the conference.

To Study Problems

High on the agenda of the extension ginning specialists is a consideration of how the nation's cotton ginners can best meet the challenges presented by mechanical harvesting.

Cotton industry leaders here point out that despite the fact that improvements have been made in recent years in mechanical pickers and strippers, lint which is gathered by machines still contains a higher percentage of leaf and stem matter and other trash than that harvested by hand.

The best mechanical pickers were said to harvest cotton a grade lower than that gathered by field hands. It is anticipated by researchers in the ginning field that any further improvements in grade of mechanically harvested cotton will have to come through better cleaning equipment at the gin.

Motley Courthouse Contracts Awarded

MATADOR, Oct. 12. (Special)—Contracts for construction of the $250,000 Motley county courthouse were awarded here in a meeting of the county commissioners' court Monday afternoon.

Wells Plumbing company of Quanah received the plumbing and heating contract on a bid of $48,597. Lacy Appliance and Supply company of Vernon received the electrical contract on a bid of $11,871.96.

PATENTED MUG

Accident Is Fatal To Tom Hargrave

Tom Hargrave, Lubbock man who was injured in an automobile accident near Springerville, Ariz., last Wednesday night, died in a Springerville hospital at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, relatives here have been advised.

Hargrave, in that area on special assignment by his employing company, was reported returning from eastern Arizona to Albuquerque, his temporary headquarters, when a light truck in which he and three others were said to be riding went out of control and plunged down an embankment.

He suffered a crushed right side, multiple breaks in his ribs, and a punctured lung, and had been unconscious under an oxygen tent most of the time since admittance to the hospital.

The body was to be returned here, but funeral plans had not been learned at noon today. Several of his family, including his wife, mother, and a daughter, had been at his bedside.

Survivors besides the widow include one daughter, Mrs. Johnny McCrummen of Lubbock and Midland; two sons, Carl and Bob Hargrave of Lubbock; his father and mother, of Lubbock; three sisters, Mrs. J. L. Lake of Lubbock, and Mrs. L. L. Clark and Mrs. Frank Lake of Jal, N. M.; and two brothers, John Hargrave of Abilene, and James A. Hargrave of Texarkana, Ark.

Court Finds No Law Violation In Novel

BOSTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Kathleen Winsor's novel "Forever Amber" is not obscene, indecent or impure, according to a majority but divided opinion of the Massachusetts supreme court.

In upholding a ruling of Superior Court Judge Frank J. Donahue, the supreme court found the book did not violate state laws.

Judge Donahue, 67, reported he fell asleep while reading about Amber's love affairs. He called the book "soporific" and reported "sexual episodes abound to the point of tedium."

Red-Inspired French Strikes Threaten Defense Of Europe

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Ulyssean Marshall plan no sooner gets free of one danger than it is beset by another, a fresh threat being the Communist-led French strikes which Premier Henri Queuille warns are assuming the character of a rebellion.

Those are grave words to come from the leader of a major government.

Acting under cover of the smoke-screen provided by the Red blockade of western Berlin, the Bolshevists have organized and got under way this new offensive which is further disrupting the already chaotic French economy. Minister of the Interior Jules Moch charges that the strikes are engineered by the Cominform.

Comintern Abolished

The Cominform is the successor to the Comintern, the general staff for world revolution which Moscow "abolished" in 1943 because of fierce objection to it by the democracies. The Cominform apparently began organizing the present upheaval last July, and French fifth columnists have laid the ground-work for the sabotage methodically.

French industry is being dealt a body blow by the coal strike that already has cost the recovery program 1,000,000 tons of fuel which is worth its weight in pearls. A railway strike is beginning to get a grip on the throat of national transportation.

Thus two vital elements of the French life-stream—fuel and transportation—are endangered. Without them the country would be helpless.

Obviously this new assault is aimed at the European Recovery program. However, that is far from being the whole story, for dependent on that program is the military defense of western Europe against further Communist aggression.

France Is Key

France is the key continental nation in the new Western European alliance comprising Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. With France hamstrung, the alliance would be weakened to the point of near impotence. If the powerful Communist party of Italy should at the same time make good its boast of being able to take over control of that strategic country, the Russians would be in a powerful position, both politically and militarily.

The French picture fits in perfectly with the battle of Berlin. The "neutral" countries in the United Nations security council have been running themselves ragged in an effort to mediate between the Muscovities and the western democracies. Thus far the sphinx of Moscow has kept the mediators fishing for an indication on how Russia regards the western offer to let the Berlin case go back to the Foreign Ministers' council—provided the Communists first lift the starvation blockade of the German capital.

Moscow Stalling

This being the case, it's a fair guess that Moscow has been deliberately stalling to see how the French strikes progress. Should things worsen in France, we may be sure the Russians will capitalize the situation and become more exacting in their demands. So for the time being France is a barometer by which to tell how the storm goes.

Apropos of this thought, Britain yesterday issued a white paper blaming the breakdown in the Berlin crisis on a Russian desire to undermine the recovery of western Europe. This paper declared:

Oil Well Completions Top Record Of 1947

AUSTIN, Oct. 12 (AP)—Oil well completions in Texas continued last week to forge ahead of 1948's completions.

The Railroad commission reported 5,762 completions through Oct. 9, compared with 4,415 during the same period last year. Of these, 50 were wildcats. In 1947, 63 wildcats were completed during the same period.

The commission also reported an increase of 10,078 barrels in the average calendar day allowable as of Oct. 9 compared with Oct. 2. The total for Oct. 9 was 2,697,921 barrels daily.

tragedy of Henry Wallace is that he tied himself to the Russian Communist line and that line leads to surrender of integrity, to disaster and oblivion.

Burial Honors Set For Air Force Hero

MADISON, Fla., Oct. 12. (AP)—Burial with full military honors will be accorded tomorrow to the body of Capt. Colin Kelly, the first acclaimed hero of the war with Japan.

The body, scheduled to arrive home by train at 2 p. m. (EST) today, will be escorted by veteran organizations to the Medison county courthouse where it will lie in state with a guard of honor until Wednesday afternoon.

Kelly was killed when his plane crashed on the return from a bombing mission against the Japanese battleship Haruna off Manila three days after the attack on Pearl Harbor.

The best results are always sure for CRUSTENE'S so white-so light so pure!
