

Bang-Up Fourth Of July Celebration Set Here

underway early that morning. Half of the proceeds from the activities, and all of the profits from the Knights of Columbus sponsored barbecue will go to Mercy Hospital. Although the annual July 4th celebration was canceled last year due to lack of interest, a similar day two years ago netted $4,000 for the hospital.

The day-long festivities will kick off the city's Bicentennial activities for the coming year. An old fashioned theme is being used in the celebration, with many events borrowed from the past.

Brush Arbor

An old time brush arbor will be set up in the park, and church groups and other singers will provide gospel music underneath its shade. Another event which has long been popular at community gatherings is a water fight between the local fire department and any other group brave enough to try it. Slaton's volunteer firemen will be taking on the Lions Club early Friday afternoon.

The Lions also will sponsor a dunking board. A dart game will be set up by Boy Scout Troop 123. The Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce will have a Rock-A-Thon beginning at 6 a.m. Friday morning and ending when the last contestant can rock no more. Self Furniture is donating the rocking chairs for the competition.

An all-day Bingo game will be in the American Legion Hall.

Food will be a major part of the day Friday with several civic clubs sponsoring food booths. The Tops Club will have a booth of lemonade and homemade brownies, cakes, pies, cookies, etc. Homemade ice cream and cake will be available at booths set up by the Athenian Study Club, Evangelical Methodist Church and Catholic Daughters.

Tacos, snow cones and cokes will also be available at booths sponsored by a group of local citizens and by the Greater Slaton Area Jaycees.

The barbecue will be served beginning at 11:30 a.m. Spokesmen for the Knights of Columbus said approximately 1,000 pounds of beef will be barbecued for the feast.

There will be craft demonstrations in the Clubhouse throughout the day. The Jolly Quilters quilting club will have a quilting frame set up and will be demonstrating quilting. Wayne Green will exhibit sculpting and other arts and crafts works will be shown by The Art Alley.

Another highlight of the day will be the auction of the first 10 sets of the city's commemorative coin. According to Ernie Davis, president of the Chamber of Commerce, the sets will go to the highest bidder. Coy Biggs will be auctioneer and Davis said the bidding will probably begin at a little above $100.

The coin sets contain a gold, silver, bronze and antique silver coin and are encased in plastic with an engraved serial number. The coins feature a likeness of O.L. Slaton on one side and engine 1809 on the other with the inscription "The town Santa Fe built."

Other activities will be carried on throughout the day and all local and area persons are invited to the celebration. Turn back a page in time, come to the city park Friday for a day of old fashioned fun.

One Dead As Truck Smashes Into Train

The 21-year-old driver of an empty cattle truck rig died as his big truck collided with a Santa Fe train at a crossing three miles southeast of Slaton shortly before noon Monday.

cab of the truck. In critical condition at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock were Homer Burton, 51, of Post, and his wife, Hazel, 46.

Witnesses said the cab of the cattle truck was crushed and carried 150 feet. Its trailer was wrapped around the eighth rail car in a 24-car freight train. Two railcars were derailed and overturned.

Investigating highway patrolmen indicated that the pickup, apparently stopped at the crossing for the flashing red lights, was knocked into the side of the 10th car in the convoy. The 11th car apparently hit the truck rig and destroyed it.

Considerable damage resulted to the train, according to Santa Fe officials, who quoted the engineers as saying 10 cars had cleared the crossing before the impact.

"When it hit, it sounded like a bomb going off," said Mrs. Billy Reed, who lives near the crash site.

Santa Fe officials said the train goes through the crossing twice a day.

DEATH VEHICLE — A 21-year-old Troup man who was driving this empty cattle truck-trailer rig died in the cab of the vehicle after it smashed into a Santa Fe train at a crossing three miles southeast of Slaton Monday. Critically injured were a Post resident and his wife who were in a pickup waiting for the train to cross U.S. 84. The photo below shows the pickup which Homer V. Burton was driving, accompanied by his wife, Hazel. (SLATONITE PHOTOS by David Leake)

Two Post residents who were waiting in a pickup for the train to clear the crossing on U.S. 84 were critically injured as their vehicle was struck by the cattle truck prior to the truck's collision with the train.

Killed was Gay Don Obar of Troup, who was dead on arrival at St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock after being removed from the mangled

Two Mishaps Investigated

The pace of thefts and burglaries dropped off sharply in Slaton during the last week, but police did investigate one more accident at U.S. 84 (Industrial Drive) and FM 400. In that wreck Friday, Fred Paul Stolle of 905 W. Jean was slightly hurt as his 1967 pickup was in collision with a 1970 auto driven by Clarence Albert Baker of Rt. 1, Stolle, 45, was treated at Mercy Hospital.

Only other accident investigated in the city was a minor one involving a 1967 car driven by Annie Ehler Schuette, 240 N. 11th, and a 1972 car driven by LaWanda Head Blakeley of Slaton, on Piggly Wiggly parking lot last Thursday.

Police Monday investigated a burglary of a trailer house in the 500-block of Industrial Drive, and Thursday recovered a car stolen in Lubbock, found on E. Division.

Nestor Kitten, Rt. 2, reported theft of a tool box and tools from a tractor last Wednesday. The stolen articles were valued at $95.

NEILL KEEPS POST

Larry Williams Named Slaton Police Chief

A partial City Commission consisting of Mayor John Landreth and Commissioners H. R. Donaldson and Hesikize Thomas hired a new Chief of Police Wednesday morning during the second special called meeting of the week. The first meeting was to affirm the successful bid of Commissioner Otis Neill to beat a recall election.

Larry J. Williams, currently a detective with the Grand Prairie Police Department, will assume Police Chief duties Monday.

Williams, 31, is a native of Brownwood. He graduated from Post High School and received his associate degree in law enforcement from Tarrant County Junior College. The new chief has experience with the Department of Public Safety and as a patrolman and detective. He has both his basic and intermediate certificates and is a qualified instructor in some areas.

Williams and his wife Barbara have two sons, ages 7 and 11.

Nine Applicants

Nine applicants interviewed for the position.

Some of the applicants apparently did not agree with the salary and number of patrolmen which the Commission has set for the remainder of the fiscal year, and therefore would not accept the job.

Salary of the Police Chief is $800 a month, and he must work with a six man department. Slaton's sixth patrolman, Joe Hester, will also begin work Monday. The city has hired four new patrolmen in the last month, bringing the force up to full strength.

In other action Wednesday, the Commission accepted a $66,972.66 bid from Cocanougher Construction Corp. of Lubbock for the building of a maintenance barn and a public restroom

Cotton Blooming

The first cotton blooms for this year were reported to The Slatonite Monday. The cotton is believed to be the oldest field of cotton in this area and is located on the G. A. Taylor farm six miles southeast of Slaton.

NOTICED THAT a fellow named Spanian who will appear in a "Jesus of Music" in Lubbock July 10 (in with the upcoming Billy Graham is described as the "world's fastest banjo player." He can play faster than anybody (except a couple of sinners), but for some reason he has a part. I reminded us of some of the musical with which we have had a part. I played saxophone and banjo before many times, and there have been a few times when I might have qualified as the fastest banjoists or saxophonists in the area. I could leap from the stage and race before more than half the audience from their seats, meaning that when I sometimes do, you have to hurry to avoid being injured.

I played before some well-known people, Ronald Reagan, Gov. Briscoe) but most of them weren't musicians. I once for Jimmy Dean, but only as a member of the band.

I agree with Kenton that country is mostly a lot of whining and crying, and some country songs I like, some I like better than Kenton's jazz, which always seemed to me to be far out.

For sure, if Kenton ever goes to the city, he'd better take Sam McCloud, and Jethro Pugh along as

Country Entertainer To Sing Here Friday

GUEST PERFORMANCE — Danny Winn will be guest performer at the Rock-A-Thon sponsored by the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce Friday afternoon in the city park in conjunction with the July 4th Bicentennial Celebration. A country and western entertainer, Winn recently returned from an engagement in Waco. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

Country and western music is no longer a sound that can be pigeon-holed and classified. Audiences today are enjoying country rock, country folk, the Austin sound and country soul. Winn doesn't limit his type of music by giving it a name or category.

"I sing the music I know," said Winn. "In my show, I have songs made famous by just about every country singer. I like rock and other music, but I sing what I know."

Winn's favorite song is "With Pen In Hand", and he said Merle Haggard is his favorite performer. "I listen to Jimmy Rogers and Hank Williams and others, but Merle Haggard has been my main man all along," said Winn.

Winn is also a songwriter and has recorded an album entitled "I Can't Cry The Same Tears Twice," which is a selection he penned. He also released a single featuring the title song of the album.

"Sometimes I come to a crossroad and I really don't know which way to go. So, I flip a quarter, and if it lands heads I go left and if it's tails, I go right. Then I just see a place that seems to have a few people in it, and I start picking and grinning."

Winn said he often goes into a place and tells everyone for a cup of coffee and two or three dollars he'll give them a good show. "It's really like an audition," said Winn. "I go in and sing some songs and joke with the audience, and then maybe the manager will ask me to play a few nights there. But either way, I still get a good cup of coffee."

Hometown Show

Winn said he is excited about playing for his hometown audience. "I always come back to Slaton with that good 'back home feeling.' I think I'll know a lot of the people who will be in the park Friday, and I hope they'll all come up and shake my hand and say hi."

Danny Winn won't be hard to find. Just look for a tall, slender, smiling entertainer with a Fender guitar and a hatful of country music. But if you can't see Danny, just head for the crowd of people who are tapping their feet and having a good time. He'll be in the middle of them somewhere.

More recording sessions are in Winn's future plans. "I plan to be a recording artist one of these days," he said with conviction. "These days you have to have something on the ball. Being just a singer or entertainer doesn't make it. I believe I have that extra something on the ball."

Maybe that something is an out and out love of singing, playing and people. Winn never seems to hesitate when there is an audience down the road.

Rx For Garden Ailments

When it comes to prescribing for the ailing, the home gardener is very lucky. He needs to use only one effective broad spectrum insecticide to rid his garden or lawn of the bugs that are attacking it.

If you notice irregular dying or dead areas in your vegetable garden, with roots half eaten away, the cause may be wireworms, which gnaw away at roots. Wireworms are slender, shiny, hard-shelled worms often found in the root zone of a garden. They are usually rust-colored and 1/2 inch to 1 inch long. These larvae can spend up to six years in the soil.

Cutworms are another destructive insect which might be causing damage to your vegetables. Cutworms come out at night to chew off plant stems and newly set seedlings at ground level, especially on vegetables and flowers. They are smooth, fat, dull-gray, brown or black caterpillars. During the day they stay curled up in the soil, or hide under trash. The adults are somber-colored moths and are readily attracted to lights at night.

If you have wireworms or cutworms, it's smart to destroy them with an effective, all-purpose insecticide like Ciba-Geigy's Spectracide® either in a liquid application or the Garden Insect Dust. Read the label for specific instructions. Identify your insects and apply the proper cure.

Time To Spare

Here's the plight of a woman in California: "My husband recently retired. He has always earned a high salary, with commissions, and we have always lived well. Our home is paid for, we have an adequate joint checking account, and I am still working part-time, because we have no children and I like to be doing something. I am concerned, however, because, after several months, my husband has not changed his living or his spending habits. He spends as much as he did when he had a regular income. There is no drain on our joint account, which means that he is spending money that he has in a personal account. I cannot help but wonder how much he has, how long it will last and if he will sometime soon be spending our joint money. He earned it and I don't want to complain, but I do not want to live with the idea that one of us, or both of us may not have enough to provide during our later years or in the event of some unforeseen emergency. But, how do I approach him on the subject?"

The best approach is a direct one. With retirement a reality, each partner should know the family financial status and provisions that have been made for the future. If a wife does not know how much money her husband has in a personal account, there are other things of which she may not be aware. He may have money set aside for her that he just hasn't gotten around to talking about. He may have investments that will continue to provide an income for her in the event of his death. Everything may be clearly spelled out in his will, to the extent that his widow may live comfortably for many, long years. But, she would feel better about the situation if she really knew. In most instances, all the wife needs to do is to ask the husband to sit down and talk things over.

The wife who has worked and, in this instance, is still working, often has assets of her own. Is her husband fully aware of her financial condition? Sometimes not. Thus, the wife needs to propose a family financial meeting, with the idea that she, too, may not always have an income of her own. She should present her facts and figures to her husband and ask him to evaluate the present and future financial situation... "not because we're old or getting old, but just as a matter of good business." Most husbands are willing to accept this challenge. As to the spending problem; most men adjust their spending habits to their retirement income and holdings. Some take longer, but most of them do it successfully.

SPORTS SHORTS

No matter what kind of sports-person you are, whether you're hooked on fishing, or tennis is your racket, whether you have a ball at golf or your real arena is spectator sports, there's no point of letting yourself be bugged by insects, everytime you try to enjoy yourself.

Now, you can improve your sporting life three different ways, with three forms of tough new insect repellent designed with the outdoors person in mind, to put those pests in a flap!

No mere fly-by-night insect repellent, it has been tested in the bad bug country in Maine and New Jersey, and proved especially effective against the black flies and mosquitoes that can drive you bugs during the warmer months. It contains an unusually high percentage of active ingredients that can make the little monsters flee fast, and comes in a compact five ounce spray, a 1 1/2 ounce liquid and a new two ounce cream with an unbreakable container that goes into a tackle box, back-pack or pocket as smooth as butter. This wing-ding pestbester is called "Sportsmate II" and is made by Union Carbide Corporation.

Mothers' Game Benefits

Monday night was the last regular season game for the Slaton Little Leaguers.

The evening started with a benefit game for Robert Houston, a young player who had a recent accident with a dog.

The mothers played and had a fun time while raising money. There were mothers of all ages, shapes and sizes. There were bribes and more bribes until at the game's end, a total of $88 was raised. It was fun at the time, said one mother, but Tuesday and Wednesday when the aches and pains start the fun may end.

Following the benefit, there was a regular game between the VFW and Hackberry Co-op teams with the VFW winning, which means both the teams are co-champions of the Slaton Little League for 1975 season.

Following the game, the officers were honored: Larry Smith, president; Wayne Moses, Charlie Henzler, Wayne Odon, vice presidents; Janice King, score keeper; Pat Moses, player agent; and Liz Bourn, secretary-treasurer. Lawrence King, Sandra Voigt and others have worked hard to keep the Little League going.

WINNING DESIGN — Mike Tumlinson is shown working on his Bicentennial emblem which was chosen as the official Slaton emblem for all the city's Bicentennial material. Tumlinson's work was chosen as the best from a field of 86 entries.

Winning Emblem Tumlinson Designs

Railroad crossies, a bale of cotton, the Lone Star State and three dimensional block letters spelling Slaton were the winning ingredients of Mike Tumlinson's Bicentennial emblem, which was chosen the best of 86 entries.

Tumlinson, a 16 year old Slaton High student, designed the emblem which will appear on the cover of the Bicentennial Calendar and will be used on all Slaton's Bicentennial material.

Judging the entries were four staff members of the Lubbock City-County Library. Criteria for the judging was symbolism, creativity, neatness and clarity of the written description which accompanied the entry. Second place in the competition went to Keith Fox. Mike Gordon won third place, Topsy Alford won fourth and Sylvia Maldonado placed fifth.

Tumlinson's emblem was designed with an outline of Texas enclosed in a circle. Three dimensional block letters spelling Slaton rest on a railroad track. A bale

TEXAS TALK

By FRED MYERS

Officials are predicting a decrease of no more than 20 percent in domestic purchase of feed grains during the current marketing year. Others are saying that an improved livestock market will cut the decrease to even less. USDA projections are for the production of about 220 million short tons of feed grains with about 165 million tons sold in the United States and another 42 million tons exported to foreign countries. According to the figures released by the Department of Agriculture, total carryover of feed grains by the end of the marketing year should not exceed 30 million tons. Although that's a lot of grain, records show it to be only about 60 percent as much as the carryover at the end of 1971. Officials citing these figures are predicting relatively stable prices for grain sorghum. Major factors which could produce a change in the situation include the extent of recovery of the cattle market and, as always, the most variable of all, the weather.

Safe Boating Week Includes July 4

The fact that National and Texas Safe Boating Week falls on the week of the Independence Holiday is not coincidence. Boating and water related accidents crowd highway mishaps for top spot in the annual Fourth of July casualty count, so Texas Safety Association reminds boating enthusiasts as well as motorists that there can never be a holiday for safety.

This year July 4 falls on Friday, creating a three-day weekend, and prospects for pleasure on Texas' plentiful lakes and rivers.

Safe boating begins in your driveway if you tow a boat trailer. Remember that your trailer must be in just as top shape as the car or truck which tows it. Keep the proper pressure in the tires, don't trust worn out tires, and make sure brake lights and turn signals are functioning properly.

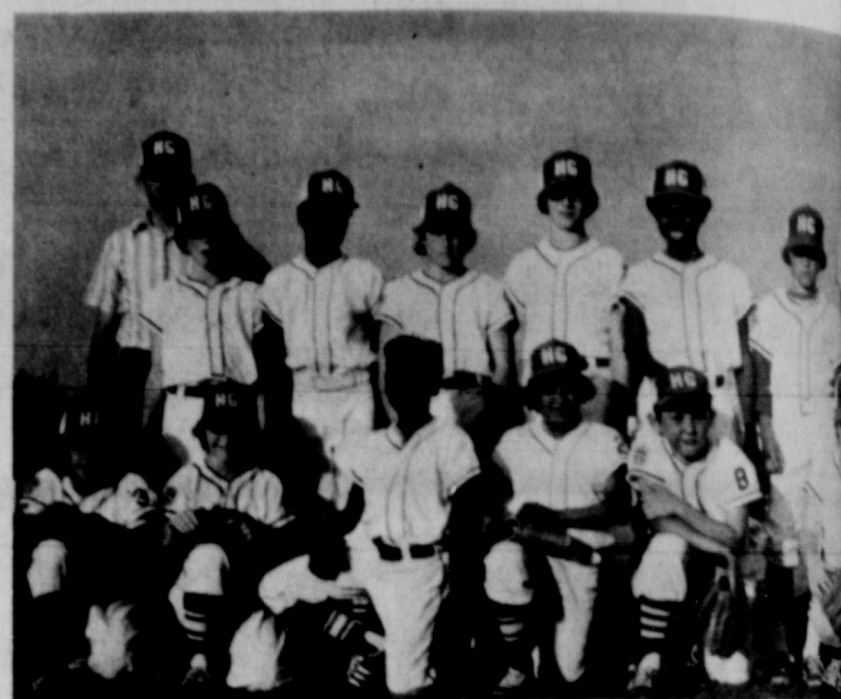

Allow for the fact your vehicle has now increased in length by 20 feet or more, and drive accordingly. Take extra care in passing on turns and curves, and observe the proper speed limits for vehicles towing trailers.

When you get your boat in the water, remember that many rules for safe driving also apply for safe boating. Don't hot rod your boat — there are others who would like to enjoy the lake as well. Drinking and boating can be as dangerous as drinking and driving — so don't make the river a hazard for others because your judgement and coordination are impaired.

Use care in refueling. Keep all smoking materials away, let a hot engine cool before refueling, and always have an approved fire extinguisher on board. Remember: there is no place to run from a fire at sea!

Don't operate your boat in areas designated for swimming or in places where scuba divers are present.

Texas Safety Association joins with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and the US Coast Guard

Auxiliary in asking Texans to observe Safe Boating Week, June 29 — July 5, and to continue the spirit of safe boating the whole year through.

BICENTENNIAL BITS

By NEUMA CARNES

Would you be interested in sponsoring, conducting, or taking part in strictly-for-fun contests held on a day just before school starts — a Funny Final Fling, so to speak? Some suggestions for contests include belching, tricycle riding, spitting (both with and against the wind), cigarette rolling, body painting, top spinning, horseshoe pitching, and egg carrying. Further suggestions and expressions of interest should be made to Liz Bourn, N. Carnes, or the Chamber of Commerce office.

Clippings about the Bicentennial collected from the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal since last September total over 100 stories. Seemingly, every major magazine carries Bicentennial stories and advertising. Radio and TV are similarly filled with Bicentennial-related programs and commercials. Perhaps this is what prompted the remark, "The Bicentennial isn't even here and already I'm tired of it."

Seriously though, isn't it rather inspiring to be part of such widespread interest in the celebration of the idea called the Declaration of Independence? And isn't it exhilarating to know that Slaton is one of the 236 Bicentennial Commissions in Texas? And that there are Bicentennial Commissions in every U.S. state and territory as well as in 9 foreign countries? Aren't these unifying facts?

Recent stories in the A-J have cited Bicentennial activities in area towns such as Lorenzo, Shallowater, Olton, Crosbyton, Brownfield, Roaring Springs, Tahoka, etc. The State of Texas had 5,000 Bicentennial events listed on the official calendar several months ago, and hundreds have been added since then.

Home Decorating News

By CLARK SELF, JR.

GETTING STARTED in the right way is probably the hardest thing for any young couple to do in home furnishing. Usually there's a tight budget to work with, a small home or apartment, and tastes which are not yet completely formed. What you like today might not seem nearly as happy a choice next year.

Our advice is to adopt the currently faddish or popular all you want with accessories, paint and wallpaper, art objects and the like. With these you can create rooms that delight you now, at modest expense, and you can change them any time you want without worrying about costly mistakes.

The second side of this coin is to select the few major and basic pieces very carefully. Make the most effective use of that modest budget by putting most of it into a few really good pieces, of enduring quality and beauty of design.

A really good sofa, for instance, is a must, and it's something that will be a decorative foundation for many years to come. A quality piece will be worth re-upholstering or remodeling in later years if your tastes change.

Our experienced home counselors can help you select the key pieces that will give you the right start, for your first home or at any stage. Come in and browse through our displays.

We're a good place to know.

REBUILD THE HOUSE OF THE LORD — Members of the All Saints Church of Christ are now soliciting donations from businessmen and local citizens to remodel church. The mayor of Slaton has given the congregation permission to solicit funds, are asking Slaton citizens to help in their project because the Lord asked in the verses of Hagga, "Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your cieled houses, and this lie waste?" A fund for the remodeling expenses has been established at Slaton and Loan. (SLATONITE PH)

There are so many things which we take for granted: the life and health we possess, the food we have on our tables each day, the air which we breathe and the 24 hours we use (or misuse) every day (Acts 17:25). Perhaps we sometimes even take the love of God for granted.

Of course God's love will always be extended to man in this life, but there is coming the day when it will be for only those who have been obediently faithful to the New Testament (Rom. 2:5-10). The love and blessings of God which we have taken for granted will be forever snatched away — just as a bread disease might at any moment immobilize our bodies — as famine might sweep the food from our tables — as the life-giving air about us might become a death-bearing radioactive devastation — just as time might run out for us.

Let's avoid this sort of thing by being watchfully obedient to Christ's will every day he permits us to live.

A sincere welcome is yours at every service of the church of Christ:

Flood Insurance Available Here

The US Department of Housing and Urban Development announced last week that Slaton has been accepted into the National Flood Insurance Program.

This means, said Acting Federal Insurance Administrator, J. Robert Hunter, that individual property owners here are now eligible to buy flood insurance protection at affordable federally-subsidized rates, offering more extensive coverage under the expanded program authorized by the 1973 Flood Disaster Protection Act.

"We think the new, expanded National Flood Insurance Program offers the best way of protecting property owners from the ravages of floods, while easing the burden on the general public," he said.

"Since flood insurance is now available," he added, "the law requires that it must be purchased by owners of property in areas identified as flood prone by HUD, in order to be eligible for virtually all forms of federal or federally-related financial assistance for building purposes in those areas."

"This would include FHA or VA mortgages, loans from the Small Business Administration, or loans from any federally-regulated or supervised banks and savings and loan institutions."

While flood insurance is available to all residents of the community, Hunter emphasized that the Federal economic sanctions against building assistance will not apply to property outside danger zones.

Under the expanded program, broader coverage can be obtained for all buildings and their contents. The limit of insurance for single-family homes is now $35,000, and $100,000 for other residential and nonresidential buildings, at the subsidized rate of 25 cents per $100 of coverage. The rate goes to 40 cents per $100 for nonresidential buildings.

The contents of all residential buildings can be insured up to $10,000 per unit at 35 cents per $100 of coverage, and the rate goes to 75 cents per $100 for the contents of all nonresidential structures up to a maximum of $100,000 in coverage per unit.

Policies are effective immediately during the first 30 days the insurance becomes available. After the first 30 days, there is a 15-day waiting period.

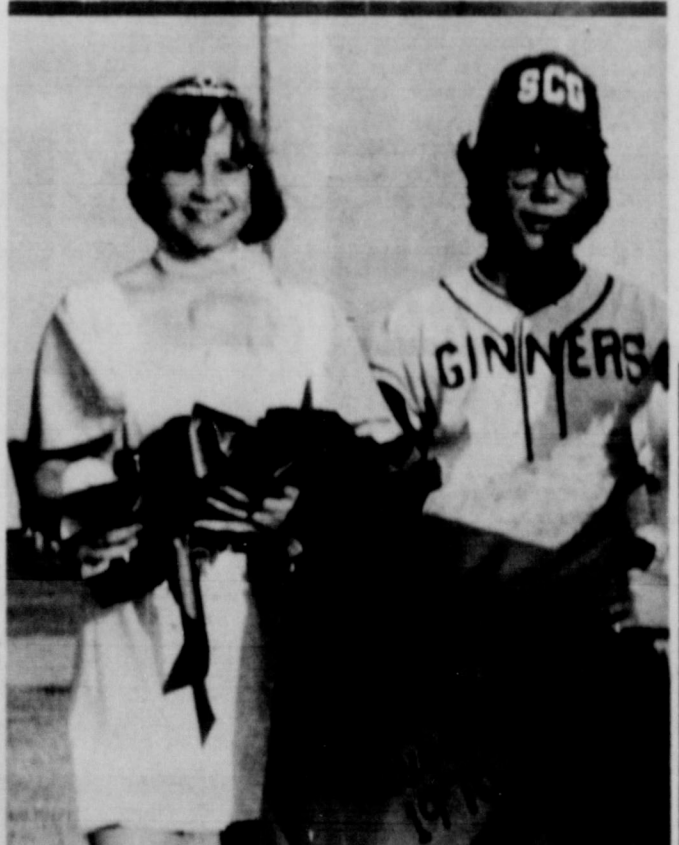

The policies can be purchased from any licensed local property insurance agent or broker. The Home Insurance Co., 2100 Travis St., Houston, Tx. 77002 has been designated as the flood insurance servicing company for this area. Agents and brokers may obtain policy forms, rates, flood insurance manuals, and any other necessary information from this company.

The FIA, Hunter explained, is in the process of publishing maps showing the special flood hazard areas in approximately 20,000 communities across the country. He congratulated the City Commission here for taking action before the July 1 deadline imposed under the Act for enrolling in the program.

The program is designed to stimulate individual participation in it as protection against natural disasters and to help promote sound flood plain management on the part of local governing authorities.

In becoming eligible under the program, a community must submit an application in which it certifies that it has adopted certain minimum flood plain management measures for the flood-prone areas of that community which conform with Federal requirements. These measures vary according to the characteristics of the community and the nature of specific flood threats. But they are generally designed to regulate the future development of flood hazard areas, and ultimately require minimum elevation and construction standards for floors and foundations of any new construction in these areas.

Put-Together Look

This year's look in Women's fashions is called the "put-together" look. The new silhouette being shown for fall has a full, loose top with a slimmer base — fewer pleats and more A-line and straight-skirt styles.

The suit and the two-piece dress are being shown. Cardigans are doubling as suit jackets and even as sweater dresses, while quilted jackets and toppers also add to the "put-together" look.

Dresses have folds and soft draping lines from the use of soft fabrics, especially matte jersey. Designers are showing wrap coats in plaids and solids. Lots of fur trim is being used, but only in one place — the collar or cuffs — instead of both.

Fall fabrics bring hints of homespun and heather. Softness is the key to color. Not the baby pastels, but soft heather-blue, maroon and natural oatmeal will be the pacesetters. Tweed is popular for its muted effect. Classic woven fabrics are coming back this fall in prints and solids that are neat, orderly and crisp. Seersucker is back again with a wintery look in heavier fabrics.

INSUR-MATION

By Bob Kern
Pember Insurance
828-6251

Is there a policy which will cover me for damages if I am injured as a result of the actions of a driver not owning liability insurance?

Luckily there is such a policy and one that many people are not aware of. Personal Injury Protection "no-fault" insurance is designed to insure you if you are injured by someone who does not have liability insurance... paying for the injuries you sustained in the accident. You may carry this policy for the amount you desire depending upon the premium you wish to pay. These policies will pay up to 80% of your present salary during the time you are totally disabled. This is one of the ways you may protect yourself against those who do not carry the required liability insurance.

REMEMBER

BY THE OLD TIMER

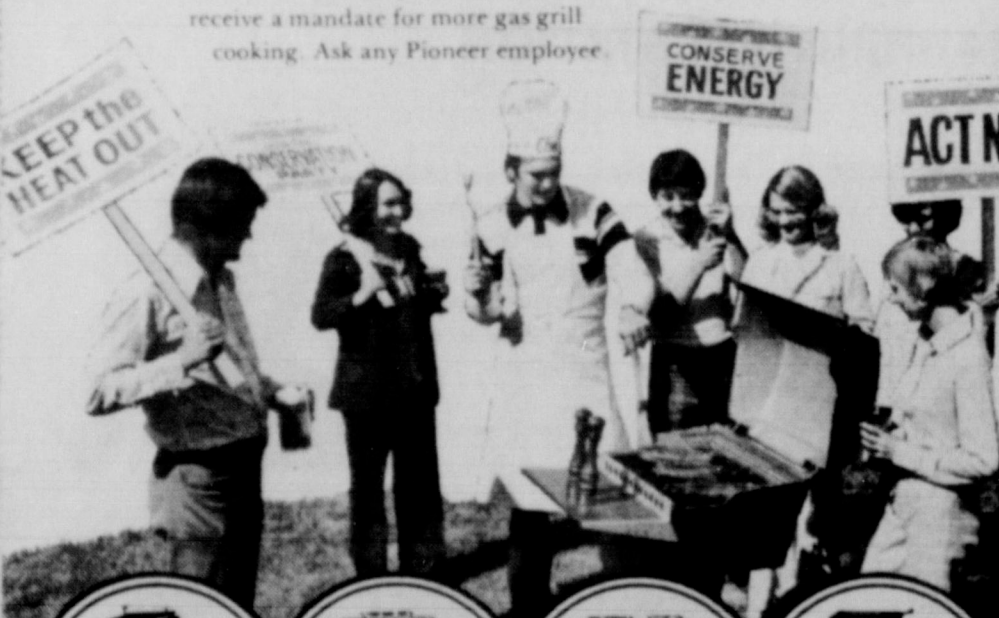

From Mrs. Louise Baxter, Whitney, TX: My husband and I were lucky enough to retire young. We could not wait to leave the big city and move back to the country where life is simple and unhurried.

We grew up, left the small towns and moved to the big city. Now, after 30 to 40 years of working — here we are — back in the country — doing exactly what our mothers did 50 years before us and our grandmothers before that — and loving every minute of it! We enjoy making plum jelly, peach preserves, and home-made ice cream.

The basic, down-to-earth, common sense things in this changing world have not changed — where lilacs still smell sweet and people have time to do for others. Thank Goodness!

TIPS ON HAIR DRYING

Men and women who want their hair to have that professionally styled look need not necessarily go to a beauty salon or barber shop to achieve it. Styling dryers can often give you a fashionable look with little effort or expense. Here are some tips on using them.

1. Let your hair dry for about 15 minutes before using the styling dryer. The process will take less time.
2. There's no need to sit under a dryer with new styling dryers. Simply sit down, direct the nozzle towards your hair, and turn it on.

3. Don't worry about energy consumption. According to tests performed by Norelco on its Quick Dry 1000 professional type hair dryer, a user would spend only 73 cents a year if he dried his hair every day.

4. Combine the drying process with the brushing and combing process. This way, your hair will wave or fluff
just the way you direct it.

Tips For Summer Parties

Summer is the season when it's "in" to do your party-giving "out." Today, whatever the occasion, modern ingenuity has devised conveniences that pave the way to fuss-free outdoor entertaining.

The home freezer, for instance, lets you tailor steaks or hamburgers to portion-size far ahead of backyard barbecue time to avoid last-minute scullery work and serving-line stack-ups.
