Selection Of Five Governors For Various Districts Over State Confirmed; Dallas Man Is Re-Elected

Convention Becomes Embroiled Over Proposal To Endorse Roosevelt Program; Measure Defeated In Vote

TEXAS Lions by a four-vote majority at their closing session here yesterday afternoon named Mineral Wells 1934 host city. Temple received 99 votes; the winner 103.

The convention confirmed district selection of five district governors and re-elected S. A. (Sandy) Stewart of Dallas secretary-treasurer. The governors who will take office July 1 are Del W. Harrington, 2-T, of El Paso; Dr. W. J. Danforth, 2-E, of Fort Worth; George R. Jordan, 2-X, of Forney; Arthur E. Biard, 2-A, San Antonio, and H. C. Copenhaver, 2-S, of Wharton.

Danger Is Cited

Pointing out that "there is a real danger" that persons receiving federal aid "may have their self-reliance and independence so impaired that they will continue to be a charge upon the government or the community," the Lions voted to devote one-hour programs to a discussion of this problem and to fostering an improvement of morale.

It was recommended in the resolution that a rehabilitation committee be appointed in each club to "make a careful study of the mental and spiritual attitude of these citizens to whose support the government is making contributions."

Have Joint Meeting

The Lions also voted that the annual meeting of the district in which the state conclave is held be conducted in connection with the state organization.

The visiting clubmen also voted "to express our sincere appreciation to the Lubbock Lions club, the city officials, and the entire citizenship of this beautiful city for their many unselfish acts of kindness and hospitality during this convention." Appreciation also was expressed to Dr. Bradford Knapp of Texas Technological college and to hotel staffs here.

In considering the resolution, the convention became embroiled over a proposal to endorse President Franklin D. Roosevelt's program. The resolution was voted down, after the Rev. W. H. Andrews of Bryan and the Rev. Bill Wallace of Lamesa led the opposition to the proposal "because of the president's attitude on the 18th amendment and 3.2 beer." A motion by the Rev. J. Former Amarillo Banker Sentenced AMARILLO, May 23. (AP) — Bert Rarey, former assistant cashier of the First National bank, Amarillo, was sentenced to six years and a day in Leavenworth penitentiary today on plea of guilty of obtaining $82,500 through embezzlement and false entries.

Rarey, who said he had been a banker all his life, received five years for embezzlement, a year and a day for one false entry count, and five years suspended for five years on the second count charging false entry. He came to Amarillo from Montana in 1926. He refused to account for $65,000 of the misapplied funds.

A federal jury found William D. Dodson, Hale county war veteran and ward of the government not guilty of passing counterfeit bills representing $35. Defense claimed he was temporarily insane at the time of the alleged offense.

Eleven persons, most of them from Amarillo, received sentences and fines on pleas of guilty to violation of prohibition laws.

Additional Revenue Sought By Ma Ferguson In Message

AUSTIN, May 23. (AP)—Additional revenue with which to balance the budget was asked of the Texas legislature by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today.

She suggested that an intangible assets tax be levied on all corporations not now paying a gross receipts tax.

The message broaching the subject was brief—thirty-eight words.

"Such a tax may go a long way towards balancing our budget," Governor Ferguson said.

Demo Campaign Workers To Be Asked By Farley To Push Pro Law Repeal

Every Party Leader Who Took Part In Big Roosevelt Drive Will Be Asked To Help

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 23. — In a move which wuold bring the whole weight of the administration behind the repeal movement, Postmaster General Farley announced tonight that he would send a letter to all campaign workers urging them to work for removal of the 18th amendment from the constitution.

The postmaster general is chairman of the Democratic national committee and in that capacity directed the campaign to place President Roosevelt in the White House.

Because of his nearness to the president and his position as head of the party, such a letter from him would place the matter squarely before the campaign workers as an administration proposal.

The party pledged itself to repeal the 18th amendment in the platform adopted by the convention at Chicago that nominated President Roosevelt. Pending repeal, it promised modification of the Volstead law to permit the sale of beer. The latter part of the campaign pledge already has been carried out by the Roosevelt administration.

The postmaster general looked forward confidently tonight to a vote by his home state of New York for repeal when the ballots are counted that were cast today.

In his letter, Farley is expected to point to the vote of the various

New York In Repeal Ranks

Nearly 20 To 1 Vote Is Given For Wets As Home State Of President Ballots; Strongholds Of Drys Topple

(By The Associated Press)

ALBANY, N. Y., May 24—(Wednesday)—With reports in from 2266 districts out of 8837, the vote in New York state's special election early today was 577,542 for repeal of the 18th amendment and 29,485 against repeal.

Although nearly 80 per cent of the vote tabulated so far was in New York City, returns from upstate counties, hitherto known as dry strongholds, were piling up a huge majority for repeal in the early returns.

Added To Wet List

The vote nearly 20 to 1, New York state was definitely added to the list of five other states which have already voted for repeal. The other states are Michigan, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

The vote in New York indicated a much wetter sentiment than even the wet leaders had hoped. In 1927 the state voted for modification of the 18th amendment by a vote of 3 to 1, which led the wets to predict a 6 to 1 victory in yesterday's election.

House Passes Proposal For Legal Boxing

Bill To Regulate The Sport In Texas Given Approval In House Tuesday; Senate Must Act Speedily

Morals Debated

Dark Page In Texas History Cited If Bill Is Finally Passed; Preacher's Son Is Chief Sponsor

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 23.—Legalized boxing in Texas, barred from the state since 1895, when Governor Charles A. Culberson called a special session of the legislature to enact a law to prevent a championship bout at Dallas, was approved today by the Texas house of representatives.

The house passed, 73 to 55 a bill to regulate the sport.

Senate action on the bill was needed to send it to the governor. It will be necessary to obtain speed disposition in the upper house, since that branch has set May 30 as the date to end the session. The house, however, has not concurred in the adjournment date.

Racing Bill Approved

A bill legalizing the placing of bets on horse races has been passed by both houses and is awaiting the governor's disposition. It has been unlawful to bet on the horses in Texas since 1909.

Opponents of the boxing bill contended it was a moral issue.

Its chief sponsor was Representative George Butler of Bryan, whose late father was a minister. Butler warned the house not to confuse legalized boxing with morals.

Statements Disproved

"The first fight I ever attended in my life was with my father while he was pastor of a church here," Butler said. "And that was when boxing in Texas was illegal. That disproves the statements that every preacher in Texas thinks boxing is immoral and ought to be

Bank Reform Bill Passed By House

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—A thunderous chorus of "ayes" today put through the house the encompassing Glass-Steagall bank reform, designed to safeguard the deposits of money earners and give assurance that federal reserve member banking will be strictly separated from speculative operations.

There was not even the formality of a roll call when the reform bill was passed and sent to the senate, where its companion measure is unfinished business. Just as test of strength, however, there was a last rising vote—showing only 19 members against the measure and 262 for it.

Broad in its terms, the bill as yet faces an uncertain future. Despite the strong support of Senator Glass (D-Va.) in the senate it has not yet been made a part of the Roosevelt program for the emergency session. Advocates of the measure contend, nevertheless, that th administration would not oppose its enactment.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Enthusiastically singing, "Blest Be The Tie That Binds," Northern and Southern Baptists today joined in a general handshaking to symbolize the bridging of the slavery split of 1845.

"Now forget the North and South, you Rebels and Yanks, and shake hands with your neighbors," said Dr. M. E. Dodd, president of the Southern Baptist convention.

And the massed conventions of the two churches filled a huge auditorium with song and with hand-clasps of good fellowship.

Germany Says France No Longer Accepts Plan Of British

(By The Associated Press)

GENEVA, May 23.—Farnce put a poser to the disarmament conference today when Foreign Minister Paul-Boncour opposed the destruction of heavy war material and advocated its preservation for use by the League of Nations against an aggressor.

Destruction of heavy war material is provided by the British plan which is supported by the United States, Italy and Germany, as well as by its authors.

Old Scheme Revived

Thus did the foreign minister of France revive and give new emphasis to the old Tardieu scheme for the internationalization of heavy mobile guns, tanks and other offensive weapons.

A German spokesman, commenting afterward, said Paul-Boncour's announcement meant France no longer accepts the British project, for which she has signified acceptance.

M. Paul-Boncour explained to the conference that the powers which are committed to give financial help to the country which is victim of an aggression would avoid waste by turning over war materials to the League instead of having them manufactured anew by or for the state attacked.

Definite System Demanded

The French minister flatly announced France would not reduce her arms unless a definite system of mutual assistance is created, supplemented by genuine supervision of armaments.

The supervision, he said, must especially cover armaments which are manufactured in private factories.

"France firmly hopes, particularly after the declarations by Ambassa-

Public Works Bill Delayed

Uprising Occurs In Committee On Plan To Cut Amendments; Little Difficulty Expected In Getting Approval

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The well-set plan of Democratic leaders for immediate house action on the public works—industrial control taxation increase bill were upset today by an uprising in the house rules committee, thereby delaying floor consideration until Thursday at least.

Representative Cox, a Georgia Democrat, objected so strenuously to the proposed rules committee plan to forbid amendments to the measure on the floor that Chairman Pou (D-NC.) postponed a vote on the opponent-styled "gag" rule until tomorrow.

Meanwhile predictions came from Democratic leaders that little difficulty would be had in gaining house approval either of the projected move to continue until 1935 the levies under the billion dollar tax bill or the plan to increase income taxes, boost the gasoline levy and subject stock dividends to income tax rates.

Secretary Swanson Seeking Support In Building Plans

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP)—Secretary Swanson tonight sought the support of the nation for a 32 ship naval construction program, declaring the American navy is drifting into a "state of obsolescence" and that unless it is made first class "it is useless expense."

Feminine Angle To Reforestation Is Being Advocated By Mrs. Roosevelt

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 23. — Jobless girls, as well as unemployed men, may take up camp life through federal reforestation funds if a plan advanced today by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt finds favor.

She said she saw no reason why women could not work "perfectly well" in nurseries, if not in the woods, thus qualifying for the reforestation work.

Mrs. Roosevelt spoke in her press conference of her increasing interest in the possibility of a "feminine angle to reforestation."

Taking the subject up with President Roosevelt, she asked if any reforestation funds could go to women if there were a demand for it.

President Roosevelt replied he saw no reason why not, if an investigation showed enough women were interested.

The first lady has thought a plan of putting women into horticultural gardens and nurseries might work.

Senate Backs Veto Of Bank Plan Tuesday

First Attempt In Legislature To Override Ferguson Veto Defeated; Partisanship Is Charge Of Sponsor

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 23.—The first attempt in the 43rd Texas legislature to override a veto of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson was defeated today.

The Texas senate sustained Mrs. Ferguson's veto of a bill designed to permit state banks to liquidate their assets without closing their doors.

Requires Two-Thirds

The vote on passage of the bill notwithstanding the governor's disapproval was 17 ayes and 12 nays. A two-thirds' vote would have been required to send the proposal to the house.

Senator W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales, author of the bill, said it was designed to give state banks the same privileges as now are extended to national banks under the conservator principle. He stated that federal authorities could appoint conservators to keep national banks open while they were being liquidated.

Charging that Mrs. Ferguson's veto was based solely on "partisanship," Hopkins said the bill would prevent the possible forced closing of "scores of state banks."

He asserted it would furnish an orderly means of liquidation and would be beneficial alike to the bankers and depositors.

Anti-Trust Law Proposal Is Receiving Setback In Texas

AUSTIN, May 23 (AP)—Permission to introduce a bill to suspend the state's strict anti-trust laws during the period of industrial reconstruction was refused in the Texas house today, 65 to 44.

Liberalization had been suggested to the governor by United States Senator Morris Sheppard and had been approved in resolutions adopted by the South, East, and West Texas Chambers of Commerce.

Banker Tells Senate Group Of Big Losses

Secrets Of House Of Morgan Are Aired As Capitalist Is On Stand; Inquiry Marked By Sharp Exchanges

Startling Testimony Brings A Gasp From Spectators; All Operating Agreements To Be Bared By Committee

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 23. — A senate investigating committee was told today that none of the 20 members of J. P. Morgan and company paid any income tax for the years 1931 or 1932 because of losses reported by their firm.

J. P. Morgan, senior partner of the firm, and Leonard Keyes, office manager, testified at the opening of the investigation by the banking committee that the total income taxes paid by the partners in 1930 was about $48,000 and none had been paid since.

Losses Are Described

They said that in reorganizing the firm January 2, 1931, a loss of $21,000,000 was established but had not been used to get out of paying income taxes because it was not needed, and now by virtue of a change in the law can't be used in 1933.

The income tax testimony furnished the thrills that a huge crowd had waited for through long hours of questioning the senior Morgan partner and his office manager, questioning that had opened to view hitherto closely guarded secrets of Morgan operations.

The long succession of disclosures fell with electricying clarity upon the hushed committee room. Committee members and spectators leaned forward intently as the financier, speaking in matter-of-fact phrases, described operations running into the hundreds of millions. Even more technical explanations defending the legality of the income tax deductions were heard in rapt attention.

Testimony Brings Gasp

The bald disclosure that none of the twenty members of Morgan's firm, including among them some of the men reputed to be the country's wealthiest bankers, had paid income taxes in the last two years, brought a gasp from the spectators.

The inquiry was marked throughout the day by sharp interruptions from committee members over the course of the questioning.

Twice the committee went into executive session to iron out in private the advisability of demanding information which the firm questioned the propriety of making public.

Ask For Agreement

As a result of these private sessions, the committee decided to ask for the partnership agreement under which the firm operates, names of individuals who have deposits of more than $100,000 with the firm; a list of bankers to whom loans have been made and a list of "favored customers" who are offered securities below the market price.

The first two items, both of which John W. Davis, counsel for the

HERE are some tips on temperatures, in which you may be interested: Crisp cookies should be baked in a hot oven. Molasses cookies, which burn easily, require a cool oven of not more than 350 degrees Baking powder biscuits should be put into a moderate oven and the heat should not be increased until they are almost done. Sixteen good rules but how many of us follow them?

Most of us know the things we should do in order to keep well and perhaps live longer. We know something of what we should eat and do, or refrain from eating and doing, in order to stay healthy, but there are few of us who do these things.

For, after all, while it may be a good thing to seek an outdoor occupation there are plenty of reasons why many people work indoors year after year. We may be supposed to take a certain amount of outdoor exercise and yet there are many who never find it convenient to do so until the doctor makes a request—and some can't even do it then because of the work they must do.

There are many rules of health that almost anyone can follow if he makes any effort at all. There are others that many find it hard to follow for one reason or another. But, even if all of them were possible for us all, there are many who would choose to disregard them. Human nature being such as it is, we may all know the things we should do, but there are few of us who do these things—even if we know that health and happiness depend upon them. Following the rules of health, even, has an unpleasant significance in a land where we take so much pride in our freedom.

PATENTED* EQUALIZER

A RADICAL innovation! . . . Not a mere improvement in sanitary protection . . . but something new, different.

Kotex, with the New Patented Equalizer, gives 20 to 30% greater protection. The center equalizer not only increases protection but makes it more adequate, more comfortable—because edges stay dry, removing all danger of irritation through chafing.

Ends must be "phantomized"

Mere rounded ends are not enough. They must be flattened, embossed. Kotex—and Kotex only—offers this special shaping. Remember, too, that it can be worn on either side with equal protection.

Escape From Death At Hands Of Mexican Bandits Told By Two Ranchers

Texans Return After Capture

Arthur Hannold And John Rollins Are Safe After Their Thrilling Experience In The Wilds Of Mexico

ALPINE, May 23 (AP)—Bandit terrorism and the contrasting hospitality of Mexican officials was revealed today as Arthur Hannold, 36, and John Rollins, 33, stockman, returned to the international border under guard after two weeks in the wilds of northern Mexico.

Soon after they arrived at Boquillas, Coahuila, Mexico, 130 miles southwest of Alpine, they told how they faced death from the muzzles of rifles of Candelario Baeza, Mexican outlaw, and his gang and then later rode 75 miles over a desert. They reached the Rio Grande after a 200-mile journey from Ocampo, Mexico, on horseback, under a protective guard of officers from that town.

Released May 16

Hannold and Rollins were released May 16, eight days after six horses had been stolen from the Hannold ranch near San Vicente. Their capture by Baeza was believed to have been the result of a trap set by the bandits.

The Texans crossed into Mexico on a permit from Mexican officials at Boquillas. Taken prisoner near Olan, Baeza's headquarters, they were threatened with death despite their pleas that their action was approved by Francisco Lisardi, chief of the Boquillas guard.

"We managed to talk him out of killing us on the spot," Hannold said.

Treated Courteously

Baeza then went to Piedritas, 20 miles from Olan, with his prisoners. There Tiburico Torres, a judge, prepared an order to the court at Ocampo. As at Olan, Hannold said he and Rollins were treated courteously by the judge.

En route to Ocampo, at Sanguillermo, they were turned over to Earl Johnson, American rancher and mine owner, who provided two men as an escort, and wrote letters to Adam Sanchez, mayor, and two business men at Ocampo. The Americans reached that town May 12.

Asks To Hear Story

"The next day," Hannold said, "the mayor and his secretary called us in and asked to hear our story. They then released us without bond and told us to get ready to start home the next morning.

"We left Ocampo but when 30 miles away, we were overtaken by a car containing the mayor's secretary, a policeman and a prisoner in the jail. They told us we would have to go back as they had received a telegram from Villa Acuna, Mexico, immigration authorities which said we didn't know what it was all about."

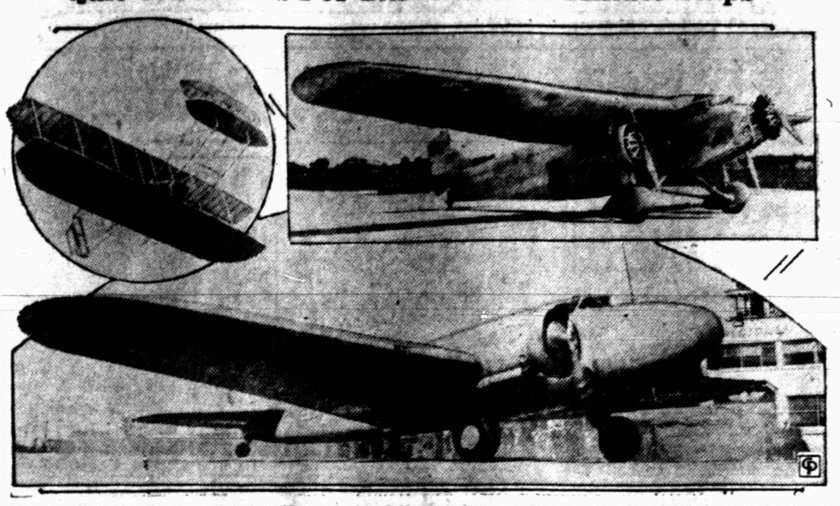
Escort Is Provided

After an exchange of messages, the prisoners were released and an escort provided to the border. The second day out they reached Lamora, the third Minerva and the last night out they spent at San Jose De Los Piedras, 35 miles from Boquillas.

Both Hannold and Rollins emphasized the courteous treatment by Mexican officials in contrast to rough handling by Baeza.

"We weren't afraid," they said of Baeza, "but we didn't know what was going to happen next. We expected to be lined up in front of an adobe wall and shot any time."

Quit Old Planes For Three-Mile-A-Minute Ships



Speed, speed and still more speed is the cry of aviation leaders as plans for handling summer air traffic are being formulated. Ships which made 90 miles an hour are passe as new, beautiful metal monoplanes, capable of flying you from coast to coast in 18 hours, at the rate of at least 150 miles an hour, and, in some cases, three miles a minute, supersede them. Contrast the frail craft, upper left, which the Wright brothers flew at Kitty Hawk, N. C., in 1903, capable of attaining the astounding speed of 38 miles an hour with the latest development in airplanes, below. The latter ship, with a top speed of 182 miles an hour, is the type which will replace planes similar to the one at upper right, which can fly but a mere 120 miles an hour.

Two women, both unemployed, who are being cared for at the Salvation Army, Texas avenue at Fourteenth, are in need of work, and are anxious to get something to do, Mrs. W. T. Wilson, wife of the commandant, said last night.

"One of the women is middle-aged and unencumbered and the other one is young, with a seven months old child," Mrs. Wilson said. "They need work very much and are willing to go any place and for a small wage, too."

The women applied to Mrs. Wilson for help in securing work. Persons interested are asked to call Mrs. Wilson, telephone 1372, she said.

Pioneer Of Crosby County Gets Into Harness Again

CROSBYTON, May 23 (Special)—John A. Dillard, pioneer of Crosby county and at present tax collector, had a recent experience that reminded him of early days here.

Going down to the McNeil ranch for a visit, he found branding in full swing. John doffed his store clothes, donned an old pair of overalls and went to work. He kept with the job until 150 calves had been branded.

Aside from a few sore muscles, the collector said he had felt no ill effects.

What! Me pay more money for other tires?

Don't make me laugh!

I USED to judge a tire by what it cost. What a mistake that was. Last year I discovered that Riverside tires are made of the finest materials by skilled workmen—in one of America's largest tire factories. THE factory that makes millions of tires for America's leading cars. The only important difference between Riversides and other famous tires is price. Ward's prices are 10% lower. What's more, Riversides are guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction.

When I heard that, I put them on my Lincoln and I've been using them ever since. That saving of 10% will buy a lot of things I need. No tire salesman will ever get me to pay extra for other tires again. I'm married to Riversides.

Marberry Wins For Tigers At Senator Field

Four Home Runs Net Eight Tallies And 8-6 Win For Yanks Over Indians; Simmons Hits Hard To Help Sox Win

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 23.—A blast of Yankee home runs gave New York its second straight victory over the Cleveland Indians today, 8 to 6, and handed Oral Hildebrand his first set-back after six successive pitching triumphs.

Every one of the Yankees runs resulted from a circuit drive. Babe Ruth hit his sixth of the year with empty bases in the first inning. Then Earl Combs clouted one with two aboard in the third and after Hildebrand had passed two men Lou Gehrig duplicated the feat for his eighth homer. Ben Chapman got the last four bagger off Willis Hudlin in the eighth.

Johnny Allen was wild and was replaced by Don Brennan after walking the first three men in the ninth.

MARBERRY IS POISON

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—Big Fred Marberry came back home today in an allen uniform and limited his former teammates to exactly three hits while pitching the Detroit Tigers to a 7-1 victory over the Washington Senators.

Once a mainstay of the Senators and leading relief hurler of the American League a few years back, Marberry mowed down his one time colleagues with monotonous regularity. He fanned three and allowed but one walk.

The Tigers, meanwhile, collected ten safeties off three Washington hurlers, Stewart, Russell and Burke.

The Senators' lone run came from a single by Buddy Myer, who was pushed along by Manush and brought across by Manager Joe Cronin's single.

BOSTON, May 23. (AP)—With the Boston Red Sox hitting into double plays almost every time they had a runner on base, Milt Gaston had little trouble hurling the Chicago White Sox to a 7-0 victory today to even the series.

Al Simmons, slugging Chicago outfielder, had a great day at bat, getting a homer, triple and a single. He has now hit safely in 15 straight games.

The Chicago infield put over five double plays.

Grove, twirling two-hit ball for his three-inning stay on the mound after Hank MacDonald left at the end of the sixth, was credited with his third straight victory.

Mahaffey was knocked out of the box by the Browns four-run uprising in the fourth.

The A's duplicated the performance immediately. The A's jumped into their 8 to 6 margin in the sixth. Johnson's single scoring Cramer and pinch-hitter Lou Finney.

KEEP EYE ON BALL AND HEAD STILL

FEW golfers distinguish between keeping the eye on the ball and keeping the head down or still. It is possible to keep the head down and not look at the ball. It is also possible to keep the eye on the ball when the head neither is down nor still.

No marksman would think of shooting at a target without looking at it. Neither should a golfer attempt a shot without always keeping his eyes on the ball until it is hit.

It is not necessary to look up quickly in order to see where the ball is going. After the ball is well on its way is plenty of time to see the outcome of your shot.

Swetonic not only outpitched Ownie Carroll in a nifty pitching duel that gave the Brooklyn hurler his first defeat in his last six starts, but he won his own game with a triple in the fifth inning.

Carroll pitched almost as well as his rival, allowing only five hits before he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth, while Swetonic granted only four blows.

On the SIDELINES

By Edward J. Neil

ALL that marvelous vitality that John Dempsey stored up in his dozen active years in the ring is coming in mighty handy these days.

It's doubtful in my mind that the old man-killer ever went through a more strenuous siege than he is observing in his role as promoter of the approaching Max Baer - Max Schmeling shindig. His endurance is something at which to marvel.

Up at mid-morning, Jack sets a killing pace until long after midnight. There are a thousand and one details in preparing for a big fight, and Jack goes after every one of them at the same rip-tearing clip that used to make scared heavy-weights want to jump over the top rope.

Nervous as a big cat, he doesn't know what it is to relax. He doesn't get a chance, in fact. In those rare moments when he isn't actually attending to some phase of the forthcoming scrap, there are the autograph hunters—millions of 'em.

They swarm about for 16-18 hours of every day. Jack must sign his name in his sleep. He must know nightmares in which he is confronted with mountains of old envelopes and menus, all to be signed, and him without a pencil.

The elevator boys stop their car abruptly between floors to shake his brawny hand. Matrons from the midwest approach him timidly with: "I wonder if you would shake hands with me, Mr. Dempsey."

Off comes Jack's fedora with a courtly gesture, his face lights in a happy smile and he bows to the waist: "It's a pleasure. I'm so glad to see you."

Fifty a hundred times a day it happens, and the warmth of the Dempsey handshake never varies. There must be times when it palls even on Jack, but you could never tell it.

A special car-full of boxing writers were rolling down to Atlantic City the other morning as Dempsey's guests to have a look at the bigger and better Maxey Baer. All the boys got settled, doing something, except Jack.

He Ought To Sit Down

For three hours he trod that car, talking a little to every one, not long to any one. He slipped into a seat at the gaming table and went through a stack of chips almost as quickly as it takes to set this down. Then he was up, gone on to see if there was anyone aboard he hadn't given a little personal attention. There wasn't, but that didn't keep Jack from looking.

Out at Baer's training camp he put in an hour before the talkie and still cameras, refereed a couple of fast rounds in the sun, signed his name 46 times, did everything but sit down. He complained because Baer wasn't stepping around fast enough while the cameras were grinding.

No Relief In Sight

Shortly before midnight the special was pulling back into Pennsylvania station, a weary band aboard. The most cheering thought was the prospect of a cold shower and cooling sheets.

In came Dempsey, so fresh and enthusiastic it almost hurt to look at him. He had been struck squarely with an inspiration.

"It's all arranged, boys. Soon as we get in you're going to be my guests up at a night club. We've got a table and everything's fixed."

Jack passed on to tell the others. Behind him, above the click of the wheels, there was a concerted groan.

AUSTIN, May 23. (AP)—Clyde McDowell, of Paris, was elected captain of the 1934 University of Texas baseball team here today, at a meeting of Longhorn baseball letter men.

Americans Win Three, Lose 2 At French Net

Shields And German Partner Defeated In Mixed Doubles Match; Helen Jacobs Helps Win Two Matches

AUTEUIL, France, May 23. (AP)—Americans won only three of the five matches in which they participated today in the French hard court tennis championships, one of the defeats taking the favored American-German pair of Frank Shields and Cilli Aussem out of the mixed doubles competition.

Shields, former United States Davis Cup player and the little German frauleln, were one of the favored pairs in the mixed competition but fell victim to their own temperaments and the skill of Suzanne Barrier and Christian Boussus, of France, 3-6, 11-9, 7-5.

They seemed to have the situation well in hand as they won the first set and led 6-5 in the second but a set-back at set point seemed to unsettle their game and they never again got gack in stride.

Mrs. Burke Loses

Mrs. Dorothy Andrus Burke was the other American victim, losing in women's doubles with her English partner, Muriel Thomas, to Fraulein Aussem and Hilda Krahwinkel, the strong German team, 8-6, 6-2. Mrs. Burke, however, won her mixed doubles match with Bela Von Kehrling, the Hungarian internationalist. They defeated Jacqueline Goldschmidt and Paul Feret of France, 6-0, 6-4.

Victories also were scored by Helen Jacobs, the United States woman's champion, and Elizabeth Ryan in women's doubles, paired with Ida Adamoff, of France, Miss Jacobs defeated Mme. Wolerom and Mme. Chanove, of France, 6-0, 6-3. Miss Ryan and her French partner, Mme. Rene Mathieu, won from Edith Wilson and Mrs. MacReady, of England, 6-2, 9-7.

Helen vs. Suzanne?

The play on the courts vied for interest with speculation in the stands as to the possibility of a meeting for charity between Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Suzanne Lenglen, a proposal being enthusiastically pushed by French fans.

The French tennis federation is said to be favorable but there was considerable doubt sanction would be granted by the United States Lawn Tennis association for Mrs. Moody to play. Mlle. Lenglen deserted the amateur ranks in 1926 to make a tour of the United States and has never been reinstated.

Small But Select Field Due To Tee Off This Morning In Qualifying Round; Moreland Is Defending Champ

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON, May 23.—When qualifying play starts tomorrow in the 27th annual Texas Golf association tournament, the field will be small but studded with fairway aces.

Practically all the state's prominent shot makers reported at the Houston Country club today but players who usually compose the lower flights remained away.

West Texas Champ In

The 18-hole medal play round, won last year by Gus Moreland of Dallas, promises to prove the championship flight will sparkle with brilliance because Tommy Cochran of Dallas, George Rotan, Houston; Ossie Carlton, Houston; W. R. Long, Austin; Reynolds Smith, Dallas; Neil Smith, Dallas; Jack Dold, Houston; James Phillips, Ranger, and Neil Smith of Dallas, are some of the crack shot makers after the medal prize.

Moreland is the defending champion. He glanced over the entry list tonight whistled and said: "Another tough job faces the old man. A lot of fine golfers are on that list.

Moreland indicated today he is ready. He played a practice round, scoring a 35-36—71, even par.

Waco offers four strong contenders in Leland Hamman, Dees McDermott, Al Barbee and Russell Cox. Hamman, in several practice rounds, has not scored higher than 73.

W. R. "Shorty" Long, finalist at Texarkana last year, played his final practice round today and scored a 73. In six such rounds, he consistently scored 73s.

McFadden Charges Former Federal Reserve Officials With High Crimes

Theft Charges Also Included

Meyer, Young, Mellon, Curtis, Mills, Black And Woodin Are Cited; Resolution Goes To Judiciary Committee

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP)—The house today referred to the judiciary committee a resolution by Representative McFadden (R-Pa) calling for an investigation of the official conduct of various incumbent and former federal reserve officials.

McFadden, in presenting the resolution on the house floor, charged a number of federal reserve officials, including Secretary Woodin of the treasury, had committed "high crimes and misdemeanors" including "theft."

Violated Constitution

McFadden said in his resolution they had "violated the constitution and the laws of the United States," and "have taken funds out of the United States treasury not appropriated by congress."

Among those named were Eugene Meyer, Roy Young, Eugene R. Black, Ogden L. Mills, Andrew W. Mellon and F. H. Curtis.

Representative Mapes (R.Mich.) attempted to stop the reading of the resolution on the ground it applied to some officials who were not now holding office, but Speaker Rainey said that was a question for the house to decide.

McFadden's resolution charged that these men, and a number of other federal reserve agents, had put "federal reserve notes in circulation" without "obeying the law."

Statement Is Simple

When he took the floor, McFadden said simply:

"Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of constitutional privilege. Upon my own responsibility and as a member of the house of representatives.

Then he read the long list of names.

Several times the many members, who were present for a final vote on the Glass-Steagall bank reform bill grew restless, and each time McFadden stopped his reading to demand order.

After he had made his statement, Speaker Rainey ordered that the resolution be read.

White House Is Up For Auction

NEWKIRK, Okla., May 23 (AP)—The palatial "White House," 101 ranch headquarters, and 2,083 acres of the 110,000-acre Miller brothers ranch, was on the auction block today.

Sheriff Ed Shinn offered the holdings to satisfy a $120,792 judgment held by the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance company of Boston.

Col. Zack Miller, sole survivor of the family of the ranch founder, has claimed the ranch headquarters as a homestead, on one occasion backing up his claim with a shotgun and routing attorneys for the ranch receiver.

The receivership recently was dissolved and the colonel placed in charge of the properties under a trust agreement which required that the ranch be placed on a profitable basis within two years.

I suppose that I may claim to be the first Ford Dealer. I not only made cars, but sold them and frequently delivered them myself.

The "drive away" is not new; often I have driven cars from Detroit to towns in Ohio or Indiana or Michigan to make delivery.

There were no good roads in those days, and the people where I drove had never seen a motor car before.

My first really enthusiastic customers were Country Doctors. They were the first to realize the value of dependable transportation to a widely scattered practice.

Even today I occasionally hear from some of those first Ford users.

We had to teach local mechanics how to care for the cars. That is how Ford Service began, which is now found everywhere in the world.

We believed from the beginning that a sale does not complete our transaction with our customer — it creates upon us an obligation to see that our customer's car gives him service. Ford Dealers know their duty to the public in this respect.

I can say of Ford Dealers generally that they have been and are men of character and standing in their communities. Most of them have been with us many years, which indicates that we agree on basic business principles. The Company provides that the methods used to sell the Ford car are consistent with the self-respect of the Dealers who handle it.

The present Ford V-8 is the peak of our 30 years experience.

We have never made a better car. Its eight-cylinder engine is powerful and smooth running. The car is admittedly very good looking and has comfortable riding qualities. It is economical in operation because of advanced engine design and low car weight. It is the fastest, roomiest and most powerful car we have ever built.

The Need Of Our Territory

ONE of the chief stumbling blocks in the path of South Plains progress has been the fact that inhabitants of other sections of the country have little or no knowledge concerning this area.

Boys and girls of a generation ago and from Maine to California read in their big-backed geographies of "Llano Estacado", or the "Great American Desert". Millions of them have never learned any different. Without seeing this section they are prone to believe that it is still just a great, waste area.

Centuries ago an Old World custom required that young boys be sent forth in groups to roam their country before settling in their life pursuits, never again to roam except in time of war. Germany more than any other country observed that custom, her educators and parents thinking a young man was better off for knowing his country from end to end, its people and their interests, and for acquiring a sense of its unity.

It would be a useful thing if some means were found by which those who govern us were obliged to live for a time in each section of the United States, to acquire at least an understanding of those varied interests which come together in Washington to be reconciled.

Suspicion is largely born of ignorance, whether in international affairs or in state and national law-making and administration. How can a Congressman be expected to vote or debate intelligently on a measure necessary to a part of the country entirely foreign to him? And how can national legislators agree when the people and regions they represent have little in common?

Probably there is no practicable way of bringing about any more travel than the individual citizens of the country want to do. Pleas to "See America First" are now old and are bringing but little added results as time goes on. More people, of course, are traveling all the time but the movement is slow—much too slow to serve our needs along the line of educating the populace through actual observation.

If some way can be hit upon to educate the people to the South Plains and to West Texas it will be of untold worth to us all.

Until such a method is devised we must await the turn of time—which is too slow to suit most of us here.

FIGHTING RACKETEERING

Racketeers of all kinds soon may find it good business to have the federal government on their side instead of against them in their illegal operations. This they can accomplish by turning over at required specified periods a portion of their "earnings" to Uncle Sam.

The situation that has resulted in the government's prosecution of gangsters under the income tax laws is not a creditable one to law enforcement generally. Yet this move by the federal government has proved the most effective means of getting racketeers behind the bars. It sent Al Capone and some of his henchmen there, and now, according to reports, it is to be applied against poultry racketeers in New York City.

Leaders in the latter are said to have realized large incomes from the criminal operations. If they had paid the required income tax they would not now be liable to federal prosecution. But, having failed to do this, according to the belief of the authorities, the government prepares to punish them by sending them to jail. It is not for the crime of holding up poultry dealers that it hopes to punish them but for their failure to give the government its share of the profits from ths crime.

It is said that Attorney General Cummings is studying the racketeering situation with the hope of having Congress enact legislation which will make possible a direct drive against this form of crime instead of mere indirect attacks such as now can be made.

It seems that if racketeering is to be abolished the federal government will have to do it. The states have proved incompetent in handling conditions. The duty is one that properly rests upon the states. If they will not discharge it, the federal government may have to do it. In the latter event, there ought to be available to the government a better method than attacking the gangsters through the income tax laws. Racketeers soon may get wise and close this avenue by paying their taxes when due, thus making the government a partner in their crimes.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.—Psalms 126:6.

Washington Is Electrified

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 23.—A war ultimatum out of a clear sky from one major premier to another could have knocked diplomatic Washington hardly more completely into a heap than President Roosevelt's sudden clarion call for international harmony.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

The horror diplomats would have felt at a war alarm was missing, indeed, but if anything, they were even more amazed—not so much at the purpose of the presidential trumpet blast as at the fashion in which it was sounded.

Washington's pacificatory squeaks hitherto have been doubtful and apologetic. Moreover, conciliators like Secretaries Hughes, Kellogg and Stimson have been careful to take no initiative without a feeling out process to determine how it would be received by overseas governments. The Rooseveltian thunderclap rattled chancellory chandeliers with a violence foreign representatives had not imagined possible.

Congress Taken Back

Congress is growing accustomed to the unprecedented from the present administration. Still even the lawmakers were unprepared for the latest White House broadcast.

From Capitol Hill's standpoint the situation reverses all past experience.

It always has been recognized that, while theoretically congress has the last word in deciding questions of peace and war, the president is in a position to adopt policies that leave the legislators little choice but to approve whatever steps he has taken. As, for example, President Wilson's seizure of Vera Cruz, which naturally would have precipitated a conflict with Mexico if the southern Republic had not realized the hopelessness of it.

Heretofore, however, this executive power never has been regarded otherwise than as a war risk. That it might be so employed as a force a peace policy upon the legislative branch against its will appears to be entirely a new idea.

Yet it is foreseen that in the present case if the presidential plan proves successful at the Geneva and London conferences, it will be difficult even for the most ardent isolationist to balk at it.

Too Early To Judge

The best judges of international affairs say it is too soon to predict intelligently how telling the White House appeal will prove, actually tested. Nevertheless they agree that it has exceptionally the look of practicibility.

The president is highly complimented by a majority of them upon his acceptance of the fact that Russia must be consulted. Germany is not expected to welcome abandonment of its nationalistic concepts, but authorities generally declare they cannot see how Hitlerism, if sane, can escape acquiescence with the rest of Europe and America—if they agree on a program. Latin America concurrence in a pact amounting to a guarantee against Yankee aggression is deemed a foregone conclusion. Japan is the great problem. No one believes the Mikado will abandon his Asiatic mainland ambitions.

Nevertheless, the consequence that a bargain—for whatever it may mean—is among the possibilities.

If so, there are no dissenters from the verdict that the proposal marks a cross-road in history.

UNCLE SAM'S COURTS

Uncle Sam's courts have come in for a deal of harsh criticism lately in the house of representatives, where impeachment cases involving U. S. officials originate.

Indeed, impeachment proceedings against one federal judge actually have been in progress in the senate, and four others are threatened with them.

"Which is a pretty high percentage," opines Congressman Stephen M. Young, of Ohio, "out of a list of less than 200.

"The truth is," added the Buckeye lawmaker, "life tenure for a judge is a monarchic anachronism in our governmental system, which ought, long ago, to have been abolished. Judicial posts probably should be made elective. In any event, terms should not exceed six or eight or ten years, at the utmost. A federal judge's authority cannot safely be trusted to any man, practically with no accountability whatever."

FARMING IN 1940

J. Adam Bebe, a Minnesota congressman in the early 1900's, was in Washington the day the president signed the farm bill, soft-pedaling agriculture. EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

ENTEBBE, LAKE VICTORIA-NYANZA, AFRICA

The deeper into Africa I go the more interesting it becomes. It is the most unbelievable continent of all. Instead of being the "Dark Continent" the word "Africa" (of Arabian origin) really means "The Dazzling White Continent". As soon as I arrived in Entebbe, Uganda (this makes the 137th country visited), I immediately got busy drawing yesterday's cartoon.

THE TSETSE FLY

This dreadful scourge of Equatorial Africa, is responsible for the prevalence of "Sleeping Sickness" in humans, as well as for the spread of "nagana", a fatal disease in cattle. The tsetse is the chief curse of the continent. It claims a horrible toll of human life and severest economic loss. Where the tsetse appears, life comes to a standstill. At one time the German government announced that it had discovered a chemical remedy against sleeping sickness, and offered to donate it to humanity, in exchange for a restoration of the colonies it lost as a result of the World War. The German secret was promptly solved by a French chemical firm.

THE SENTINELS OF THIRST

The two tombstones situated in the Sahara, near Atar in French West Africa, mark the scene of a gripping desert tragedy. The last survivors of a luckless caravan, the Egyptian merchant Ab Ishay and his camel-driver Arik died here with thirst in 1883, only about 1000 paces from the well that would have saved their lives. Minutes before he expired, Ab Ishay persuaded the driver to part with a last mouthful of water, paying his 10,000 ducats for the precious drops. The money and deed certified in the handwriting of the merchant, were found on the dead driver. A protracted litigation between the heirs of the two men, resulted in a decision favoring the next of kin of the camel driver.

Sixty-Eight Years Have Passed By Since Appamattox And Time Exacts A Heavy Toll In Ranks Of Veterans

ATLANTA, May 23. (AP) — Sixty-eight years have passed since Appamattox and time has taken a heavy toll of Lee's and Jackson's men, but the South still spends more than $8,000,000 annually in pensions to Confederate veterans, their widows and, in some states, servants.

Figures from eight of ten states, from Virginia to Texas, show fewer than 7,000 who wore the grey uniform of the South on the pension rolls. Widows receiving the pay number almost 20,000.

Historians have figured the youngest veteran of the war between the states now is about 85 years old. Five years, many historians believe, will find only a handful of the Confederate pensioners left.

Georgia provides the largest sum of any state for the care of her wards which number 878 veterans and 2,957 widows. They are allotted approximately $1,600,000 annually. Alabama closely follows with 597 veterans and 3,338 widows who receive $1,120,820.

Arkansas has the smallest number of veterans of any of the states and the appropriation for their care is likewise the smallest, 1,110 veterans receiving about $300,000 annually. State officials say veterans are dying at the rate of about 100 annually.

England is drinking less than half the beer consumed in pre-war days.

No Engagement Being Made By First Lady On Air Trip

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—No engagements whatever are being made by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt for her air trip to the west coast next month and she is trying to restrict it entirely to the "purely personal."

She made this known today in revealing that she will leave Washington on June 4 and will be accompanied by Miss Nancy Cook of New York, a frequent traveling companion.

Mrs. Roosevelt expected to fly from Washington to Camden, N. J., thence to Kansas City, spending the night there.

Her son, Elliott Roosevelt, an airways official, will fly part way east to pick his mother up in his plane, probably at Santa Fe.

The automotive industry of the United States in 1932 used about 85 per cent of all the rubber and gasoline consumed in the country, and 57 per cent of all the lubricating oil.

Tucumcari Man Is Selected As U. S. 66 Leader At Close Of Annual Convention Of Group Held In Amarillo

AMARILLO, May 23 (AP)—Roy H. Smith, Tucumcari, N. M., was elected president of the National U. S. 66 Highway association at the close of the annual two-day convention here today. He succeeded Charles Tompkins, El Reno, Okla.

Gallup, New Mexico, was awarded the next convention.

Walter Blackburn, Elk City, Okla. was elected national vice-president of the highway body.

State vice-presidents were: Charles Tompkins, El Reno, Okla.; Charles Wells, Baxter Springs, Kan.; Senator McCauley, Carthage, Missouri; Julius Dorenfield, Amarillo; J. D. Hannah, Santa Rosa, New Mexico; George Shaffer, Holbrook, Arizona.

The association endorsed the plan of President Roosevelt to designate $400,000,000 of the proposed $3,300,000,000 public works fund for highway construction, and resolved that delegates in each state should call on their representatives in Washington to support the measure, in the hope that it would provide for the completion of the highway west from Amarillo.

Wellston, Okla., was commended by resolution for its cooperation in completing the paving of the widely known "Wellston Gap."

State committee reports showed 64 miles of the route unpaved in Texas, 21 in Oklahoma, 190 in New Mexico, and about half the distance across Arizona. New Mexico has 75 miles unconditioned and Arizona 94 miles.

Names Of Four Seniors Are Engraved On Cup At School

The names of Lorena Owens, Ruth Lewis, Ruth Wagner, and Ralph Brock have been engraved on a large loving cup donated to the English department by W. L. Ellwood. These students are seniors and were chosen because of excellent work in the English department.

Each year four seniors are chosen to share this honor. Last year the names of Lois Pitts, Winifred Aycock, Billy Wiley, and M. K. Foster, were put on the cup.

The engraving of these names was made possible through the efforts of the senior class of 1933.

Tom Mooney Pleads Not Guilty As New Trial For Bombing Is Launched

Selection Of Jury Is Hard

Prosecution Will Present No Evidence In Trial; Defense Questions Jurors Closely; Second Panel Called

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23 (AP)—Tom Mooney's "new deal," a long-hoped for trial on an old indictment in connection with the bombing of the 1916 preparedness day parade, got under way today, with the first session devoted to an unsuccessful attempt to get a jury from the initial panel of 46 veniremen.

As strange a trial as ever a jury heard, with the prosecution willing to accepting jurors as drawn and intending to present no evidence, the proceedings moved briskly along in the court of Superior Judge Louis H. Ward.

Wife and Mother Present

There was Mooney, florid and quiet, with his attorneys, headed by the veteran Frank P. Walsh. Among the spectators was the aged mother, Mary Mooney, and Mooney's wife, Rena.

Mooney had been brought to the county jail here a few days ago from San Quentin, where he has been serving a life sentence for conviction at his first trial for bombing the 1916 parade, which resulted in loss of ten lives.

When adjournment was taken for the day 35 of the 46 talesmen in the panel had been excused either for cause or by peremptory challenge. Of the eleven remaining in the jury box, seven were women. A new panel was ordered for tomorrow.

Objection Swept Aside

The trial opened after a last minute legal objection had been swept aside yesterday by the state supreme court, which rejected an application of John O'Gara, law professor and tax payer, for a writ of mandate to compel Judge Ward to dismiss the indictment.

At the outset Judge Ward said he would not allow the trial to become an instrument for Mooney to use in an attempt to free himself from his life sentence. Mooney supporters believe that an acquittal in the present case would aid them in getting a pardon on the first conviction.

The prosecution, in charge of William Murphy, assistant district attorney, whose chief, Matthew A. Brady, has opposed the trial and for years has favored a pardon for Mooney, tentatively selected the first twelve in the box. Questioning by Edward A. Gallagher, defense attorney, exhausted the panel after a court session lasting three and a half hours.

Pleads Not Guilty

At the beginning of the trial Mooney stepped to the bar and pleaded not guilty to the 17-year-old indictment. This came after the prosecutor had again voiced his determination to present no evidence and after Judge Ward had warned counsel a verdict of acquittal under such circumstances would be useful only in a plea at the bar in the event of future proceedings.

Asking the defense if it wished to proceed under that circumstance, Mooney arose to answer.

"We do," he said.

"In that case," said Judge Ward, "it is the constitutional right of the defendant to have the trial. Call the jury."

MARKET REPORTS

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 23. (AP)—Security and commodity markets found it easy to step back into the advance today and prices on most exchanges rallied.

Stocks, supported by early covering, gained more momentum on a later rally, retracting much of the ground they had lost since reaching new average highs for the year on May 11. Rails managed to squeeze through the old top. Grains and cotton lifted with spirit, while bonds were firm. The record of minor staples was generally favorable.

Traders who had sold stocks short on the theory that a technical shakeout was overdue had undoubtedly been frightened by the market's dullness during recent reactions and they appeared eager to cover at the opening, especially when wet issue began to bubble up strongly. Other groups eventually fell into line and trading became much more active than of late. Net gains of 1 to 3 points were numerous; several specialties exceeded that range substantially. Sales totaled 3,160,660 shares.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 23. (AP)—Cotton advanced rather sharply in active trading today due to good cables, strength of stocks and commodities. Lack of desired rains in the west and active trade and speculative buying. The close was 33 to 34 points net higher.

The opening was firm as Liverpool cables came in much better than due.

The market improved during the rest of the session with only minor reactions on realizing and prices made the highs for the day right at the end with July at 8.60, October at 8.85 and December at 9.00, or 33 to 38 points above the previous close. The close was at the top except for December which closed at 8.99. July gained 33 points net and October and December 34 points net.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans, tomorrow 7 to 8 penny points up.

Port receipts 12,280, for week 61,648, for season 9,182,835, last season, 9,736,648. Exports 22,342, for week 45,727, for season 8,918,648, last season 7,687,614. Port stock 3,966,886, last year 3,907,823. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans Galveston and Houston 26,097, last year 21,379. Spot sales at southern markets 9,346, last year 3,123.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 23. (AP)—Cotton advanced about $1.50 a bale today on covering and renewal of the recent buying movement promoted by a bullish interpretation of Washington news, strength in stocks and grain and the steadiness of Liverpool.

July contracts advanced to 8.65 or 34 points above yesterday's closing quotation. They closed at 8.64, with the general market closing firm at net advances of 23 to 35 points.

Opening prices were 11 to 13 points higher in response to the better Liverpool cables, and foreign and commission house buying.

Offerings were readily absorbed and except for slight setbacks, prices worked steadily higher, reaching the best levels in the late trading.

There was considerable covering or rebuying by recent sellers, as well as a renewal of commission house demand and trade buying on the advance which carried October up to 8.80 and December to 9.05. Closing quotations were within a point or two of the best for the day.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 23. (AP)—A sudden upward sweep of 2 to 3 cents a bushel in the value of the leading grains today accompanied renewal of lively speculative demand.

Buying was based chiefly on Washington reports pointing to probable quick governmental action to lift commodity prices under the farm emergency law. The reports indicated that the new farm administration would attempt to apply processing taxes promptly in spite of tariff truce agreements, it being contended that the duties necessary to make the processing taxes effective had been authorized before a truce was established.

Wheat closed strong, 1 7-8 to 2 5-8 above yesterday's finish, corn 1 1-4 to 1 5-8 up, oats 3-4 to 1 3-8 advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 37 cents.

Corn and oats followed wheat, and were also strengthened by a wet weather forecast.

Provisions rose with grains, despite downs of hog values.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, July 69 5-8, 72 1-4@3-8. Sept. 61 1-8@1-4, 73 5-8@7-8; Dec. 73 1-8@1-4, 76. Corn, July 44 7-8@45, 47@47 1-8; Sept. 46 7-8@47, 49.

of Fort Worth that the convention "stay out of politics" was adopted.

Braswell Is Honored

The closing session was conducted in Hotel Hilton ballroom, following a luncheon. Oscar B. Jones of Greenville, a former district governor, paid tribute to Sam M. Braswell, a director of Lions International. Braswell responded to the tribute. Quartets of Austin and Stephenville sang. C. H. (Herb) Walker, retiring 2-T district governor, of Pampa, received a traveling bag as a gift from the members in the district. Members of Sonora Lions club were introduced, and it was explained that the club had 80 members in a town of 1,942 persons. Carl Nesbitt, Texas American Legion commander, of Mineola, spoke briefly.

The program also included songs by Mrs. R. R. Holmes who was introduced by Linn George Deck of Wink as "the sweetheart of the Wink Lions club."

Santone Man Speaks

Discussing "The New Leaders," Arthur E. Baird of San Antonio was principal speaker at the closing session after the luncheon.

Attributes of the future leader, "all old-time principles," were listed as cooperation, loyalty, sincerity, initiativeness, self-control, perseverance, dependability, tactfulness, originality, imagination and forcefulness.

"We need leaders with old fashioned ideas and with the character and courage of their convictions," Biard said. "The time has come for bold and daring action, for leaders to take charge who are not thinking what they can get out of a new deal.

Need Positive Leadership

"We need a type of leaders who are not free-riders, men who are not afraid to put their shoulders to the wheel and push hard. We need a positive leadership. The new leader will not jump at conclusions; he will wait for all the evidence to come in."

Temple's nomination was placed on the floor by Walter Humphrey of that city, and the nomination was seconded by Oscar Jones of Greenville and the Rev. Bill Wallace of Lamesa. George Barber proposed Mineral Wells. He found support in seconds from Edgar Bowden of Weatherford and H. V. Stokes of Sonora. Each club was entitled to one vote for each ten members or major fraction of ten members. Lubbock Lions did not vote, being host club.

Adjournment of the convention which began Sunday came at 3:20 p. m.

Austin Wins Contest

At the morning session, at First Methodist church, Lion Braswell, the principal speaker, urged Lions "not to bind themselves to the material."

The Austin Lions club's quartet was victorious in the state quartet contest. Perryton and Stephenville were other contestants. The winners, J. Campbell Wray, Jack McWilliams, Tom Gullette and Kenyon Douglass, and Weldon Scheel, accompanist, will receive free trips to the international convention in St. Louis.

At the presidents breakfast yesterday morning, District Governor F. L. Kuykendall of Albany presided. Governor Bob Lyles of Austin was in charge of the secretaries breakfast.

Banker Tells Of Big Losses

bankers, questioned the right of the committee to demand, will be received in executive session. The others probably will be placed in the public record tomorrow.

A warm discussion over the list of bank officers and directors to whom loans have been extended interrupted the afternoon session of the hearing, when Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel started to read it into the record.

Matter Of Privacy

Davis interposed immediately that the lists were "a matter of rights of privacy of an individual citizen."

"Whether it is to be made public is the committee's responsibility," he added. "I am not going to put my clients in a position as bankers of submitting this list. But we are not objecting."

Pecora asked if any of the loans were overdue and unpaid.

"Yes," Morgan replied. He gave the same answer when asked if some of the loans were "under-collateralized."

Makes Urgent Appeal

Pecora made an urgent appeal to the committee to accept the lists.

"This committee has heard allegations of the power of this firm through its directorships and other connections with banks, industries and other private business," he said. "This information may reveal whether these charges are true.

"I think we should get all the information available while this hearing is underway. It may disclose things which will be of assistance in shaping congressional action."

Davis announced that the partnership agreement under which profits and liabilities of the Morgan firm are divided would be furnished to the committee with the understanding that decision over its publication would be made after the committee studied it.

Enjoys Proceedings

Throughout the long day of cross examination, and while members of the committee argued, the 65-year-old banker who was making his first appearance before a congressional investigating committee seemed to enjoyed the proceeding.

Conservatively dressed in blue, he sat comfortably in the witness chair and disclosed details of his firm's operations never before told publicly.

He submitted a balance sheet showing the firm's total assets at the end of 1932 were $424,708,095 and that it had deposits of $340,000,000. The balance sheet included Drexel and company, of Philadelphia, which Morgan said was a part of the institution.

List Placed In Record

Pecora placed in the record a list of more than 50 corporations doing interstate business that have had average deposits of more than $1,000,000 each, with the Morgan firm.

The gray-headed, bald, rather heavy set banker frequently told the committee he could not remember details about the income tax statements.

He remembered that he had paid no income tax for 1931 or 1932, but said he could not recall about 1930.

As he developed the income tax testimony, Pecora asked Morgan:

"I am justified in assuming that you have a substantial participation in the income and profits of those firms?"

Also Share Losses

"I have sir," Morgan replied, adding later that "I might remind you, Mr. Pecora, that if I have a substantial interest in the profits of the concern, I also have a substantial interest in the losses."

The thrill for which the sensation-seeking crowd had been waiting came late in the day during Keyes' testimony. As office manager of the firm, he said he made up the income tax return for the firm and the individual partners.

The firm pays no tax, but it is paid by the partners, he explained.

"In 1930, wasn't the return you made about $48,000?" Pecora asked.

"Yes, I think so," Keyes replied quickly.

"And do not the income tax returns show that the partners paid nothing in 1931?"

"Yes."

"And isn't the same thing true of 1932?"

"Yes."

Lash Hubby, Wife

Two days of spicy testimony in a Cleveland courtroom, where police reserves were summoned to handle a large crowd of curious spectators, came to an abrupt halt when Common Pleas Judge Virgil Terrell acquitted George Bronson, former ukulele magnate, of an assault to kill charge brought against him by his wife of four months, Mrs. Edythe Bronson. Both husband and wife, shown above, were bitterly scored by Judge Terrell. Mrs. Bronson had alleged her husband beat her and hired a friend to compromise her. Bronson alleged his wife forced him to marry her under threats.

banned forever. We should not mix morals and boxing. The sport has improved 100 per cent in the past few years, to such an extent that boxing and morals cannot be considered in the same light."

Representative Gordon Burns of Huntsville, said it would "be a dark page in Texas history when this legislature repeals the Culberson anti-boxing law." Burns said it would result in Jack Dempsey and "Chicago racketeers" coming to Texas and taking thousands of dollars away.

Butler said he hoped Dempsey would come to Texas and promote a bout, promising to be in the front row if he did.

Culberson convened the legislature in special session to pass a law to prohibit a fight between James J. Corbett and Bob Fitzsimmons and threatened to call out the state militia if an effort was made to hold the bout in defiance of the law. Numerous efforts to repeal the law have failed.

A destructive wind, accompanied by rain and hail, spread damage to crops, buildings and transmission lines in Minnesota, and a 60-mile an hour gale whipped across the western Nebraska prairies.

The gale followed winds which last night caused the death of nine Nebraskans, injured thirty others, and battered down many buildings at North Platte, Tryon, Dix and Valentine.

Farm Buildings Wrecked

At least seven farm buildings were destroyed in northeastern South Dakota, one man was killed when his car became entangled in a high tension wire, and a mother and child were severely injured in the collapse of their home at Bison.

A dozen persons were injured at Bainville, Mont., where a tornado wrecked 10 buildings. An 8-year old girl was severely injured in Denver, where the wind was reported to have reached a velocity of 75 miles an hour.

State Moratorium Is Held Invalid By District Judge

BELTON, May 23. (AP) — District Judge Few Brewster today held unconstitutional the state mortorium act providing for injunction against trustee sales and for continuance of cases in court to foreclose liens on land.

He held, in several cases to foreclose deed of trust liens, that the state and federal constitutions provided that no law impairing the obligation of contracts should be made.

Bandit Search Is Intensified

Hunt Turns To Fort Sam Houston Where Occupants Of Car Engaged In Gun Fight With Military Police

SAN ANTONIO, May 23. (AP) — Search for four bank robbers who took $7,040 from the First National bank at San Marcos, at the point of a machine gun, turned today toward a large sedan which hurtled through Fort Sam Houston while its occupants engaged in a running gun battle with military policemen.

The car which dashed through the post at a speed better than sixty miles an hour last night was described as a heavy gray sedan, but it was thought that witnesses might have mistaken the color of the machine in the darkness. A blue sedan figured in the San Marcos robbery.

Privates S. R. Oray and O. Bennett, motorcycle military policemen, gave chase and were made the targets for three shots from the sedan as they passed military police headquarters. The police returned the fire but the car escaped.

Highspots From The Statements Of J. P. Morgan

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP)—Here are a few major excerpts from the statement of J. P. Morgan:

I state without hesitation that I consider the private banker a national asset and not a national danger.

As to the theory that he may become too powerful, it must be remembered that any power which he has comes, not from the possession of large means, but from the confidence of people in his character and credit x x x

The private banker is a member of a profession which has been practiced since the middle ages.

We (the Morgan firm) have never been satisfied with simply keeping within the law, but have constantly sought so to act that we might fully observe the professional code, and so maintain the credit and reputation which has been handed down to us from our predecessors in the firm.

Since we have no more power of knowing the future than any other men, we have made many mistakes (who has not during the past five years?), but our mistakes have been errors of judgment and not of principle.

Another most important duty of the private banker is to take special care that his banking position in regard to his deposits is at all times sufficiently strong x x x

He must be ready and willing at all times to give disinterested advice to his clients to the best of his ability.

Subject to the paramount need of keeping their banking position toward their depositors liquid, they can in a very prompt and effective way assist in the development of industries and productions of this largely industrialized world.

Another very important use of the private banker is to serve as a channel whereby industry may be provided with capital to meet its needs for expansion and development.

As to the charge that is frequently and, as I believe, carelessly made that bankers force their way into boards of directors, I can only say that, in my experience of over 40 years, I can not remember any partner of the house taking a directorship except at the earnest request of the boards of directors of the company in question.

Though at the present time there is no demand for capital for industry, this condition will pass, and we should not by any means force the organization for distribution of securities out of business, lest, when there is again a legitimate demand for capital, it be found that the machinery for distribution has disappeared.

Four Orphans In City Seek Homes

Four orphan boys last night still were homeless for the summer. Having completed their year's schooling, the youngsters—two 8 years old, one 10 and the other 12—are seeking farm homes during the vacation months.

Mrs. W. T. Milam, Lubbock welfare worker, has seen that the boys have had their schooling and now hopes to place them on farms during the vacation period. She'll be glad to see them go on the same farm or on separate farms, if anyone will come to their aid.

Any persons interested in keeping any or all of these bright little fellows are urged to get in touch with Mrs. Milam at her home, 1109 19th street, or phone her there at Number 739. The older boy can earn his way by milking and doing odd chores, Mrs. Milam says.

Destruction Is Opposed

"Destruction of offensive weapons would imply abdication by the League of Nations, which should be placed in a position where it is able to use them against states guilty of aggression."

Before the conference met today, the big five in secret session with President Arthur Henderson decided to pursue simultaneously the conference discussions of disarmament and security.

This decision came as a compromise since Mr. Davis had desired that the arms reduction provisions of the British plan should take up the full time of the conference, while the French delegation was equally insistent that the security question should come first.

states that already have recorded themselves for repeal and to call upon the workers to endeavor to secure similar action by the other states.

This will be the first forthright step taken by the administration for the prohibition repeal movement which was started by congress last February.

Farley, who is in intimate touch with the host of Democratic workers throughout the country, left no doubt of his intent to press the drive throughout the land.

"The Democratic party and President Roosevelt favor repeal," Farley said tonight. "This is the time to do it. Without doubt repeal of prohibition will bring in enough revenue to offset the new taxes which congress is going to enact now to give new jobs.

Sino-Japanese Truce Reached

Peiping Assured Of Freedom From Jap Occupation With Signing Of Pact; Chinese Troops To Evacuate

TOKYO, May 23. (AP)—An agreement for a Sino-Japanese truce which leaves Peiping free from Japanese occupation was signed at Peiping today, according to news dispatches to the capital.

Before receipt of these reports, official Japanese quarters forecast the conclusion of a North China armistice.

Chinese To Evacuate

This truce, whose conclusion was reported by the Rengo (Japanese) news agency, provides that Chinese troops shall evacuate Peiping and remain behind a line running from the great wall to the north of the ancient capital in a southeasterly direction to the sea.

Meanwhile, the news report said, negotiations for terms of a permanent peace settlement will be opened soon in Peiping.

Japanese army leaders were reported to have given assurance that their troops would not enter the old imperial city of the Manchus, since the Chinese have peacefully retired therefrom.

Terms Are Offered

Tokyo officials who forecast the signing of a Sino-Japanese armistice said that certain high Chinese authorities had offered terms of peace which the Japanese were willing to meet halfway.

Regular Chinese troops, a Rengo dispatch asserted, had retreated from Peiping to Changsintien, about seven miles southwest of the city. After a panicky evacuation of Chinese soldiers which continued all night, morning found only gendarmes inside the walls of Peiping, the news report said.

Unless further "provocation" comes from the Chinese side, the Japanese troops under Field Marshal Nobuyoshi Muto will be halted outside Peiping and not permitted to enter, the Tokyo war office and foreign office declared today.

Overrun Limits

Certain zealous units, authorities said, have overrun the limits laid down for the army's advance positions and had to be recalled.

The Japanese legation guard in Peiping was reinforced today by a battalion from the Tientsin garrison. Coming by rail, the Tientsin force entered Peiping without hindrance and was welcomed by the Japanese population there.

The deadline laid down by the Japanese beyond which Chinese forces may not move to the north and east—towards the Manchukuo frontier—is approximately marked out by the cities and towns of Yenking, Changping, Shunyi, Paoti and Lutai.

The line runs within twenty-five or thirty miles of Peiping, at Shunyi.

Railway Sale Is Negotiated

Chinese Eastern Railway Will Go To Japan Or Manchukuo; Three Steps Are Suggested For Procedure

TOKYO, May 23 (AP)—The cabinet today approved procedure proposed for the purchase from Soviet Russia of the Chinese Eastern railway in Manchuria.

Three steps were suggested.

1. The state of Manchukuo is to negotiate the purchase under Japan's guidance, fixing the amount and the terms of payment.

2. Because of doubts concerning Russia's clear title to ownership, Manchukuo is to buy merely a transfer of the undoubted control of the railway by the Soviet.

3. Manchukuo is to purchase various mining and timber concessions held by Russia in connection with the Chinese Eastern, thus eliminating Soviet influence in North Manchuria.

The sale negotiations are authoritatively expected to open shortly in Tokyo.

Earlier this month it was revealed that Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet foreign commissar, had offered to negotiate the sale of the road either to Japan or Manchukuo.
