Naturalist studies poppy mallow

"I'm like my mentor Benny Simpson, who drove anywhere in the state to look at a tree or flower or plant," said naturalist Zoe Kirkpatrick.

Kirkpatrick, whose first name rhymes with "Joe," made a special trip to Colorado City recently to photograph the poppy mallows.

A photographer and naturalist Kirkpatrick has been photographing wildflowers for more than 25 years. Her book Wildflowers of the Western Plains is in its third printing through the University of Nebraska.

"I thought it would be nice to make a collection of flowers that grew within the borders of our ranch," the Post native said. "Soon I was over the fence and into the neighbor's ranch, then the next county, then the next state."

Making and publishing a book didn't cross her mind until the idea kept cropping up at her public slideshows.

"In the 1960's there was only one book on wildflowers and half the flowers I had photos of weren't in her book," Kirkpatrick said.

Kirkpatrick's efforts to catalogue the wildflowers of the western plains took her through the Texas panhandle, Oklahoma, Kansas, and eastern New Mexico.

"Plants know no boundaries. They like the soils," she said. "I never dreamed there'd be so many. There are lots that are not in my book."

In spite of her vast travels, Kirkpatrick had never seen a poppy mallow, although she heard about them through Bobby Lemons at one of the many environmental conferences.

The stories brought her to Mitchell County to see the flowers being re-introduced at the wildflower conservatory at the Sports Complex.

Accompanied by Gay Houston and Bobby Lemons, Kirkpatrick also travelled to the two farms on 16 Mile Road where small wild populations of poppy mallows were first noticed.

"Some people don't want endangered species on their land

KCCB to sponsor ceremonial bonfire

Keep Colorado City Beautiful will celebrate the Strawberry Moon with a ceremonial bonfire Saturday, June 26.

KCCB's bonfires were temporarily placed on hiatus after an investigation by Texas Commission on Environmental Quality.

"We have made a new sign that says 'limbs and untreated wood only,'" said Mayor Carol Sue Dakan. "This means no cross ties, no painted wood and no demolition."

Dakan has been in contact with TCEQ regional director Wynona Henry, who approved the bonfire.

"KCCB will be policing the area and pulling out unwanted material," said Dakan. The unacceptable wood/items will be laid aside in another pile to be taken to the landfill.

"This is done for the good of the community and to help our landfill," Dakan said. "Anyone illegally dumping will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law."

KCCB encourages residents to bring tree limbs to the bonfire, which will be held at the traditional location on Business 20 east of town.

"This will be a ceremonial bonfire," Dakan affirmed.

Universal to the Algonquin Indians, the Strawberry Moon was so named for the relatively short season for harvesting strawberries. The distinctive name for the moon applies to the entire month of the moon's phasing.

In Europe the Strawberry Moon is also known as the Rose Moon. However, in Europe they

Rain gardens stem storm runoff

Storm runoff is more of a problem in West Texas towns than their larger big city counterparts, mainly because of lack of drainage systems.

One way to help alleviate the problem and ensure the runoff goes into the groundwater system is through the use of rain gardens.

A rain garden is a created depression on a downslope designed to catch and slow runoff and stores it for a brief period until the water can filter into the groundwater system. Rain gardens are not ponds. The 4-6 inch depression, filled with native plants and local stone, holds rain runoff for no more than four hours following a storm. Most gardens hold the rain water for a period of 1-2 hours.

Billy Kniffen with Texas A & M spoke on creating rain gardens during a rain water harvesting seminar offered by AgriLife Extension Service in May. Kniffen is the Texas AgriLife Extension Water Resource Specialist and returned for a second course in rain water harvesting at the invitation of John Senter, Mitchell County Extension Agent.

"Rain gardens allow water that comes off houses to stay on site instead of running off into the bar ditch or street," Kniffen said.

Rain gardens come in all shapes and sizes, from metal tubs located under downspouts, to curbside planters that take advantage of street and parking lot runoff. Rain gardens can be found at ground level or in raised containers. Ground level gardens have flat bottoms and can utilize plastic liners if desired.

"For a 1000 square foot roof, you should have a 300 square foot rain garden," Kniffen said.

The gardens should be constructed on a down slope at least 10 feet from the house. Kniffen also recommends using a drip system from a rain barrel to keep plants green and healthy throughout the year.

Dry stream beds or natural flow contour of land make excellent locations for rain gardens.

Cities can take advantage of low lying areas which are prone to flooding to construct rain gardens. Such areas may be adjacent to parking lots, along streets or intersections.

Rain gardens also form natural habitats for birds and butterflies. The gardens should be level, adding topsoil to fill in the deeper end of the garden. Gardeners can use stakes at either end of the garden connected with string to ensure a proper level.

Individual plant species should be clumped together in groups of 3-7 plants for bolder color and a diverse mixture of sedges, rushes, grasses with flowering species (forbs) should be included. The garden may be enhanced with local stone, ornamental fences, benches or wildflowers. For best effects, fewer and smaller, rather than larger plants, should be used at first.

OPINION & COMMENTARY

TUMBLEWEED SMITH Movie stunt man Dean Smith

"I've had a wonderful career of playing cowboy in the movies. I like to rob stagecoaches and hold up banks and save the damsel from distress."

Those words are from Dean Smith who lives just north of Breckenridge, not far from where he was born. He attended high school in Graham, where he played football and ran track. He was the state high school champion in the 100 and 220-meter races. He ran in the 1952 Olympics.

"I was the lead off man on the 400 meter relay team that beat the Russians. And I got fourth in the closest finish of Olympic history in the 100-meter dash. There were six of us in the finals and I had the same time as the first place guy. Now here we are, all four of us, right there together. We all had the same time within about four or five inches."

Dean played football with the LA Rams in the fifties. At the time, he was known as the fastest man in the NFL. "I signed with the Rams because I wanted to get in western movies. I thought if I brought attention to myself that maybe something would happen, you know."

Sure enough it did. He became one of the best stunt men in the business. He doubled Roy Rogers. "I did anything I could do to make a living," says Dean, "but mostly my stunt career overshadowed any acting ability because they always had me doubling those leading men. They wanted me to make them look good. I think I did about ten movies with John Wayne. I've done saddle falls, horse falls, I've jumped off of balconies, and I've jumped from stagecoach to horse to horse."

Once when he made a spectacular jump over a horse, movie director John Ford came up to him and offered him a job. "I jumped over the horse like I was jumping over hurdles. John Ford thought it was great because I didn't have to use a trampoline. So I worked the next year on TWO RODE TOGETHER, then I did HOW THE WEST WAS WON, then CHEYENNE SOCIAL CLUB and got into that John Ford stock company. That was pretty exciting." After western movie making slowed down, he turned to television. He's been on Walker Texas Ranger and other shows. "I did about every western series that you can imagine doing," says Dean. "About the time I got to be forty and could do a pretty good job acting, that's when the westerns started going down."

He says westerns were full of American values. "One of the things that would save this country is if they would go back to making westerns and teaching these kids what's good and what's bad. I think that'd be one of the best things that could ever happen to us."

Dean Smith stopped doing stunts in 1992 but now makes speeches about westerns. He raced in senior games and never lost a race. He is 78 years old now and lives with his wife and 11-year-old son. His living room north of Breckenridge is full of photos of movie stars. A book about his life is due out this year.

Forgive and be forgiven is ongoing

By Larry Fitzgerald

Although whole books have been written about "The Lord's Prayer" from Matthew 6, I find it interesting (and very challenging) that Jesus had only one comment on this. It is found in Matthew 6:14-15: "For if you forgive men when they sin against you, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. But if you do not forgive men their sins, your Father will not forgive your sins." This reminds me of another verse from the mouth of our Lord: "And when you stand praying, if you hold anything against anyone, forgive him, so that your Father in heaven may forgive you your sins" (Mark 11:25).

Wow! The Lord Jesus Christ commands us to forgive people. And he punctuates it with this statement: "so that your Father in heaven may forgive you." In other words, if you forgive, God forgives you. If you don't forgive, God will not forgive you.

Forgiveness should bubble up from the heart of a Christian. Jesus told a parable about a king who forgave a servant who owed a very large sum of money. However, this same servant refused to forgive another a very small amount. In the story, when the king heard about the actions of this unmerciful servant, he was "white hot" with anger and punished the servant severely. Jesus concludes that story with these words: "This is how my heavenly Father will treat each of you unless you forgive your brother from your heart" (Matthew 18:35).

So there it is ... forgiveness from the heart.

Forgiveness involves an attitude -- abandoning negative attitudes like ill-will and hatred. To use the Bible's language, we "get rid of all bitterness, rage and anger, brawling and slander, along with every form of malice" (Eph. 4:31). This passage makes it clear that it is up to us to make this effort. Of course, if we ask

God, he will help us in this task. "This is the confidence we have in approaching God: that if we ask anything according to his will, he hears us" (1 John 5:14).

One of the more challenging things about forgiveness is that it's not a once in a while kind of thing. We are to continuously forgive each other. To emphasize this point, Matthew records a conversation between Jesus and the Apostle Peter.

Peter asked: "Then Peter came to Jesus and asked, 'Lord, how many times shall I forgive my brother when he sins against me? Up to seven times?' Jesus answered, 'I tell you, not seven times, but seventy-seven times'" (Matthew 18:21-22).

By the way, Jesus does more than just command us to forgive. He gave us the ultimate example. When he was dying for crimes he did not commit, Jesus looked down at his tormentors and said: "Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing" (Luke 23:34a).

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor:

This is to thank you for touching my life in so many ways. The 30 years in Colorado City was a very special time for me. The friendships made, trials faced, victories won and things accomplished are memories to be cherished. The retirement reception was very special.

Things are changing and change is good. Change with respect is even better. Colorado City is a wonderful place to raise a family. Several young families have already chosen to return to their roots and have become contributors to the community. As new businesses come in and the town moves forward more people will come.

Change is also harder for some than it is for others. I encourage you to work together and make things happen for the betterment of Colorado City. I would be one of those who agreed with change if it was done in a respectful and cooperative manner. Retirement came at the right time for me because I firmly believe I would not have been able to stay. The Chamber of Commerce, directors and members of that organization are very dear to me.

Remember, God's timing is always perfect. He set me down in a place I am supposed to be, doing what I am supposed to be doing. My happiness is complete with the addition of a new great-granddaughter. I look forward to news about the good things happening as you work together to accomplish your goals. My home is always open to you.

My address is: 1200 Phillips Drive, Ennis, TX 75119. My phone numbers are: 972-875-6503, 214-886-6031.

Sincerely,

Sue Lawrence

LOCAL NEWS

IRS notice could mean good news

DALLAS - Every year, the Internal Revenue Service mails millions of letters and notices to taxpayers. Many taxpayers will receive this correspondence during summer and fall.

"Just in case one of these notices shows up in your mailbox at one time or another--don't panic," said Clay Sanford, an IRS spokesman in Dallas. "Most of these letters can be dealt with simply and painlessly."

The notice may request payment of taxes, notify you of a change to your account or request additional information. The notice you receive normally covers a very specific issue about your account or tax return and offers instructions on what you are asked to do to satisfy the inquiry.

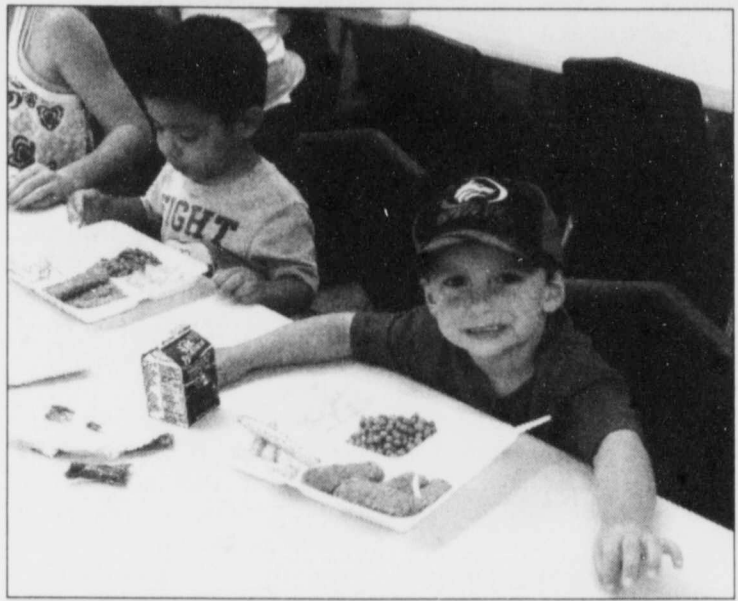

"For instance, we issue Notice CP 12 when we correct one or more mistakes on your tax return and you have an overpayment when you thought you either owed money or had an even balance," Sanford explained. "That could mean you'll be getting an unexpected refund."

If you receive a correction notice, you should review the correspondence and compare it with the information on your tax return. If you agree with the correction to your account, usually no reply is necessary unless a payment is due. If you do not agree with the correction the IRS made, it is important that you respond as requested. Write to explain why you disagree and include any documents and information you wish the IRS to consider, along with the bottom tear-off portion of the notice. Mail the information to the IRS address shown and allow at least 30 days for a response.

For more information about IRS notices, see IRS Publication 594 or IRS Publication 17, both available electronically at IRS.gov, or call 1-800-TAX-FORM to have a copy mailed to you.

DAYS OF GRACE, hosted by First United Methodist Church, provides a free lunch during the month of June for Mitchell County children. The government program encourages all Mitchell County children to take part Monday - Thursday or each week. Above Aidan Casares and Kazdyn Womack (from left) enjoy Tuesday's meal as about 45 turned out. Below Church volunteers, such as Jessica Crawford, supervisor; Sammie Richburg and Leslie Jones (from left) cook and serve the daily lunches. Attendance is expected to improve next week. The weekly meals are listed on the School News page 8.

Mitchell County Sheriff's Office assisted DPS Trooper Rick Molina with a one vehicle rollover near Loraine Saturday evening.

A pickup, pulling a trailer loaded with a water tank, rolled over on FM 644 at approximately 10:30 p.m. The driver, Carl Preston, was uninjured.

GARBAGE

A: Absolutely, we want to reasonably accommodate any special situations such as lack of an alley, etc.

Q: What special measures are being taken to help disabled or elderly persons?

A: Anyone who has special needs can request assistance. We can make arrangements for a roll-out container to be picked up at location accessible to them such as a carport.

Q: Will the dumpsters/containers be cleaned on a regular basis?

A: Republic will rotate out dumpsters/containers as needed for cleaning. Also, if a dumpster is has a problem with hygiene, a request can be made to have it changed out.

Q: When will my pick-up be? Can I arrange to have my trash picked up more than once a week?

A: Actual schedules are still being arranged; initially they may change as Republic gets on the ground. We are working on a once a week pickup. If a location makes more trash we can arrange for a larger number of dumpsters on site. Again, we can make accommodations for certain unique situations.

Q: When will the dumpsters actually be in place and operational?

A: Republic is shooting for a July 1, 2010 startup date.

Q: Why was it necessary to begin once a week pickup before Republic takes over?

A: The decision to change services, as well as an unforeseen injury has resulted in a personnel shortage in the existing sanitation department. Accordingly, until July 1, we only have enough manpower to run one trash-truck. We know this is an inconvenience considering the small trash cans currently being used. To try to help we have placed a trash-truck behind city hall which is available for overflow.

Q: What kind of trash can be taken to the dump now?

A: The dump will only accept Type 4 construction materials. No household trash will be accepted from within the City.

Q: If I'm she ring a dumpster with another house why don't I only have to pay half the bill?

A: We have agreed to a city wide contract with Republic. Your bill is based on the total cost of operation, not on a two houses equals one dumpster formula.

Q: I live just outside City limits are Republic's services available to me?

A: The City currently has trash customers who live within the one-half mile extraterritorial jurisdiction of the City. They will continue to have pick-up at the same rate as other City residents. Republic does offer pickup in areas outside the City limits, however, these rates may vary.

came normal pool cleaning, maintenance and repairs.

Plans are underway to provide welcome shade to the kiddie pool through purchase of a shade canopy.

The $10,000 upgrade also covers the cost of installing a new roof on the pool house.

The last time the pool received extensive work was when the playground equipment was installed 20 years ago, according to Kampfer.

The pool, located at 1205 E. 8th, is open Tuesday through Sunday from noon to 5 p.m. Admission is $1.50 for all ages.

The pool will not be open on Mondays for scheduled maintenance.

Swim parties may be booked by calling Kristy Salazar, pool manager or Briana Ortiz, as-

The sheriff's office has also handled three local cases involving a Craigslist. Scammers offer more than what the item is listed at, then have the seller pay a driver for the pick up/delivery charges. The seller is out both cash and the item, since the scammer has no intention of paying for the item. A secondary scam involved out of country e-mails offering to pay more than the listed price if the seller will accept a check or money order, which later turns out to be fraudulent.

A: We encourage everyone to avoid putting either grass clipping, leaves or materials that can be recycled in the dumpsters. Republic has agreed to install a recycling facility at a downtown location across from the cotton gin and potentially a second site later. The City is going to be developing a composting area for grass clippings and leaves at that location as well. We will use this compost to fertilize various parks and green spaces. After years of trying (to no avail) we're finally taking a step towards going green!

Q: Does Republic Disposal serve other communities? How can I learn more about them?

A: Republic Disposal operates 375 collection companies in 40 states and Puerto Rico and provides quality services to commercial, industrial, municipal and residential customers. Republic serves millions of residential customers under contracts with more than 2,800 municipalities for waste collection and residential services. To learn more go to their website www.republicservices.com.

Q: How can I get additional questions answered?

A: You can get a question about this subject or any other subject answered by sending an email to citymanager@cityof-coloradocity.org or via www.coloradocitytexas.org or by calling City Hall at (325) 728-5331.

Along with drought and the plant's aversion to any soil except trivoli or brownfield sand, cattle and deer contribute to the plant's endangered status.

To insure the poppy mallow's continued existence, 1000 seeds are stored in liquid nitrogen in the Lady Bird Johnson Wildflower Center in Austin, according to Lemons.

"This is an amazing plot of ground. I'm so glad I got to walk on it," Kirkpatrick said.

Psalm 30 - Joy Comes in the Morning

The Psalmist, David, faced many obstacles on his way to becoming King of Israel. Even so, David knew that he was victorious through God's will. He praised God for lifting him up and not letting his enemies to be victorious over him. God was able to protect David from harm and bring him to the throne.

David encourages his reader to sing praises to the Lord and give thanks at His holy name. Our motivation for praising God is that God takes care of His people.

- His anger is but for a moment, but His favor is for life.
- Weeping may endure for a night, but joy comes in the morning.
- Mourning was turned into celebration.
- Sackcloth was removed and he was clothed with gladness to the end that he wanted to praise God and give thanks to God forever.

What a comfort it is to rest in the arms of God! There are times in life when it is difficult to get out of bed in the morning or when it is hard to go to sleep at night because of the weariness in our hearts. Physical pain, the agony of the loss of a loved one, the stress of the work set before us, the burden of debt, or hurt in a relationship may leave us overwhelmed. Let us never forget that "joy comes in the morning." Cast your cares on the Lord for He cares for you (1 Peter 5:7). Put your trust completely in God and you have nothing to worry about. Ultimately, if we live for God today, trusting in His will, we will live with God in the Great Getting Up Morning!

Friends and neighbors, joy comes in the morning. Unless you know God and submit to His ways, judgment will not be so joyous. We beg of you to study the Bible and obey the word of God. If we can help you in coming to knowledge of the truth, let us know.

Smiths enjoy graduation

Dan and Dot Smith traveled to Montana this past week to witness the graduation of their granddaughter Brittany Smith, as she received her Bachelor's degree from the University of Montana. Smith graduated with honors, receiving a Bachelor of Elementary Education degree with a minor in general science, after attending the university in Missoula, Montana, the past two years.

After graduating high school in 2006 at Darby High School in Darby, Montana, Smith moved to Colorado City and attended Western Texas College in Snyder for 1 1/2 semesters, then back to Montana to finish her degree.

Smith is the daughter of Mike and Johnnie Browning of Darby, Montana and granddaughter of Dan and Dot Smith of Colorado City. She will be fulfilling her student teaching requirement this fall at Hutchinson Elementary, assisting in 5th grade. She has been assisting in the public schools of Missoula while attending college there. Smith hopes to continue her teaching career in the Colorado City area after completing her training requirements.

Smith is also an avid runner and has participated in several marathons this past year while attending college and working full time for Albertson's in Missoula. Running 16 miles, then attending classes and work is a normal daily schedule for her. She plans to continue running in Texas and is looking into several marathons in the state.

CHS Class of 2010 takes part in annual city trash pickup

The senior class of 2010 met at Colorado High School the morning of May 27th for final graduation information the annual senior trash pickup in conjunction with Keep Colorado City Beautiful.

After receiving instructions from KCCB members Mayor Carol Sue Dakan and a brief safety meeting held by Julie Erwin, the seniors headed out with trash bags in hand. One group started at the intersection of I-20 and Hwy. 208, northeast of town and the other group started out at the intersection of I-20 and Hickory. The two groups worked their way toward the intersection of 10th and Hickory where they met.

The challenge presented to the seniors was to beat last year's seniors who picked up a total of 47 bags of trash. The 2010 seniors won the challenge with a final total of 49 bags and two discarded tires. One lucky senior found that volunteering of your time does have its payoff in that he found a $100 bill during the cleanup.

Assisting the groups with bag pickup, cold water, and traffic control were Patrick Partin, Carol Sue Dakan, Julie Erwin and Robin Chomout.

THE SENIOR CLASS of 2010 picked up enough trash to fill 49 bags during the annual trash pickup on Thursday, May 27. This year's class beat last year's class record by 2 bags, collecting 49 bags of trash to help Keep Colorado City Beautiful! Photo courtesy of Julie Erwin.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR 2011 ENERGY EFFICIENCY COST RECOVERY FACTOR FILED WITH THE PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION OF TEXAS

Oncor Electric Delivery Company LLC ("Oncor"), a regulated electric transmission and distribution company, wishes to inform you that on April 30, 2010 Oncor filed an Application for the 2011 Energy Efficiency Cost Recovery Factor with the Public Utility Commission of Texas, a copy of which Application is kept at Oncor's office at 1601 Bryan St., 23rd floor, Dallas, TX 75201.

If approved, the recovery factor will go into effect on December 30, 2010, coinciding with Oncor's first billing cycle of the January 2011 billing month. Oncor is requesting a nonbypassable charge that, if approved, will be billed to retail electric providers serving residential, non-residential, and industrial customers. If approved, the recovery factor will be $0.91 per month per residential Retail Customer and will vary for non-residential Retail Customers as reflected in the proposed tariff rider, Attachment A to Oncor's Application. The proposed tariff rider is summarized in the following table.

Rate Class	EECRF Charge	Billing Unit
Residential Service	$0.91	Per Retail Customer Per Month
Secondary Service Less Than or Equal to 10 kW	$0.01	Per Retail Customer Per Month
Secondary Service Greater Than 10 kW	$8.14	Per Retail Customer Per Month
Primary Service Less Than or Equal to 10 kW	$4.79	Per Retail Customer Per Month
Primary Service Greater Than 10 kW
Distribution Line	$75.91	Per Retail Customer Per Month
Substation	$185.59	Per Retail Customer Per Month
Transmission Service	($71.62)	Per Retail Customer Per Month
Lighting Service	$0.00	Per Retail Customer Per Month

The recovery factor will allow Oncor, in a timely manner, to recover reasonable and necessary costs incurred in administering its energy efficiency programs.

Persons who wish to intervene in or comment upon these proceedings should notify the Public Utility Commission of Texas as soon as possible, as an intervention deadline has been imposed. A request to intervene or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, P.O. Box 13326, Austin, Texas 78711-3326. Newby takes first at NCAA Division 2 Championships

Paige Newby

By Carl Graham
CHARLOTTE, NC — Paige Newby and the United States

Air Force share a common goal, "Aim high!"

Newby, a junior at Abilene Christian University (ACU), went into last weekend's NCAA Division 2 Outdoor Track and Field Championships ranked 3rd in the nation in the discus throw. She knew in order to win the event she would have to have one of her best throws of the season. So she did.

A three-time state champion in the discus at Colorado High School, setting high goals has never been a problem for her.

"I have always been one to set my goals high. I always give 100% in every meet I compete in," Newby said. She struck gold with a lofty toss of 162 feet, defeating her closest competitor by two feet. "I knew I had a good chance to do well going into Saturday's final. The weather was great and I was getting some good throws during my warm-ups," she said.

The 162-foot throw was her second best effort of her career.

"Next year is my final year, so I would like to have my best-ever season. I think I can still do a lot better, and if I want to compete in the Olympics, I need to get better," Newby said.

If I was a betting man, I wouldn't bet against her.

Six Lady Wolves make all-district

The District 7-AA All-District softball selections have been made and several of Colorado City's players were included in the selections.

Senior Lisa Salazar was named Offensive MVP for the district. She was also included on the First Team All-District list. Junior Emily Hicks made the First Team Infield and Sophomore Miranda Reyna was listed as First Team Outfield.

Junior Jaci Wulfjen, sophomore Lexi Espinoza and sophomore Sydney Upshaw made the Second Team All-District Infield List.

Softball camp begins Monday

The Lady Wolves Softball Camp will be held June 7-9 at the Sports Complex under the direction of Erin White.

The softball training camp for kindergarten through 9th grade helps develop skills in fielding, throwing, hitting and base running. "Individual techniques and drills for all positions will be included," White said.

Each athlete will be responsible for bringing their own glove and any equipment needed to play their position; however, catcher's gear will be provided.

"We encourage players to bring their own bat, sliding shorts, knee pads and cleats," White said.

The camp will cost $30 and includes the camp t-shirt. Registration will begin at June 7 from 8 a.m. until 8:30 a.m.

The training schedule is as follows:

Kindergarten-2nd: 8:30-10 a.m.

3rd - 6th: 10:30 a.m. - 12:00 noon

7th-9th: 1:00 p.m. - 2:30 p.m.

All checks should be made payable to Erin White. Forms may be picked up from Coach Clay White (CMS), Coach Erin White (Hutchinson), and Mrs. Lemons (Kelley). Pitching lessons will be available in 30 minute sessions for $15. For more information call 432-268-3559 or 432-664-8465.
