GIRL SHOULDERS WHOLE BLAME IN FIRE PLOT

Supreme Court To Rule On Ouster Of Bolters From County Committee

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

"Hitch hiker" students of Oklahoma university at Norman, Okla., are reported to have been "taken for rides" when they "jerked their thumbs" on the highway out from Oklahoma City recently. It appears that the "hitch hikers" had become so numerous along the highway as to constitute a nuisance to travelers, and some of them were picked up and carried to remote spots and dumped out to walk back or get back the best way they could.

That was pretty rough treatment and not to be approved, but anybody who rides past dozens of these "thumb jerkers" cannot feel like condemning the Oklahomans who gave these students—and they may not have been students after all—a "ride."

Aside from danger to the driver of being held up by someone he picks up on the highway there is a question of whether he is not encouraging a habit of "sponging" of those picked up for a ride. A good many young men find it unnecessary to pay bus fare or buy a railroad ticket in getting from place to place over the country. If they will stand at the side of the highway and jerk their thumbs long enough they are pretty sure to find somebody who will pick them up and carry them toward their destination. It's a habit once gotten into that will likely be hard to break. And its likely to extend to other things besides "sponging" a free ride. Pretty soon the young man who indulges in the practice will be expecting a lot of things without paying for them.

"Believe It or Not" this office has been flooded with telephone calls to learn what has become of Ripley's cartoon. Through some miscarriage this week's supply of these cartoons failed to arrive. A telegram was sent to Ripley in New York when it was discovered and another package was forwarded by "special delivery" and ought to be here today. In the meantime a lot of folks have missed the feature from the Record News and want to know why. We have explained why and do believe everybody will understand we don't want it to happen again.

Ripley's "Believe It or Not" is probably the most popular cartoon feature of the day. It is said that Ripley gets as many as 15,000 letters a day about his cartoons and offering suggestions for new ones. A large staff of clerks and stenographers are kept busy in opening and answering Mr. Ripley's daily mail. More letters come to The Record News office addressed to Mr. Ripley than to any other individual.

The popularity of Mr. Ripley's feature indicates that the unusual and extraordinary still hold the interest of readers. Mr. Ripley searches the far corners of the earth to find his facts. And he has a big lot of helpers in the form of millions of readers.

The civic improvement committee is extending a general invitation to all persons interested in home improvement to attend its meeting at the Kemp hotel at 4 o'clock this afternoon. If all will come who are interested the meeting ought to be held at the municipal auditorium to accommodate the crowd.

The Junior chamber of commerce is sponsoring a home beautification movement; that is, landscaping, the planting of flowers, and improvement of lawns. That is something that doesn't cost much but adds greatly to the appearance of homes and of cities. Talker has seen the humble homes of Mexicans and negroes with a beauty from flowers and vines that is missing from the mansions of some millionaires.

HEARING ON WICHITA SUIT SET APRIL 9

Texas Highest Court Gives Notice of Plans to Review Case

LOVE APPEAL LISTED

Two Suits Involving Party Control to Be Heard On Same Day

The question of the authority of the county Democratic executive committees of Texas to oust members of their body for failure to proclaim allegiance to the party or to support every nominee on the ticket raised before the 1928 elections, will come before the state supreme court on April 9 on a suit originating in Wichita county when the committee here declared vacant the posts of 13 Hoovercrats included in their number.

Notice of Action

Notice of the setting was received here Wednesday afternoon in an Associated Press dispatch from Austin which said that the supreme court has withdrawn the case from the consideration of the commission of appeals at Austin and will act on the question itself after the April 9 hearing.

The test case was originated here by J. W. Nicholson, elected committeeman from precinct 17 and one of the ousted group. It has been appealed through the court of civil appeals at Fort Worth, taken to the supreme court on a writ of error, and argued before the commission of appeals. The withdrawal announced Wednesday means that the supreme court is not satisfied with the opinion prepared by the commission after those arguments and will assume jurisdiction itself, local attorneys explained.

The question was first raised here in 1928 when F. W. Fischer, member of the executive committee, proposed that each committeeman not only take the party pledge but openly proclaim his complete allegiance to every party nominee. Thirteen members of the group among them Mr. Nicholson declined to take the pledge, avowing their support of Herbert Hoover, Republican nominee.

Mr. Fischer then moved the ousting of the recalcitrant members and the posts were declared vacant. Mr. Nicholson appealed to the courts to halt the appointment of his successor.

Injunction Dissolved

Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court granted the injunction in the original trial, holding that the committee lacked authority to oust members elected in precinct Democratic conventions.

In an appeal to the court of civil appeals in Fort Worth the decision was reversed and the injunction dissolved on an opinion from Chief Justice Connor.

Nicholson took the question to the supreme court, which a few months ago granted a writ of error, interpreted as signifying dissatisfaction with appellate court opinion without deciding the issue.

Arguments before the commission of appeals in Austin followed. Wednesday the question was taken out of the hands of the commission.

Mr. Fischer, who is attorney for Judge Scurry and the committee, announced that he would go to Austin for the hearing on April 9. W. J. Townsend, former local attorney now of Kaufman, represents Nicholson. The hearing is set for the date already scheduled for the hearing on Thomas B. Love's appeal from the action of the state executive committee barring Hoovercrats as candidates in the coming state election.

Texas Builders Seek Five-Day Week Pact

FORT WORTH, March 26. (UP)—Associated general contractors of Texas late today voted to appoint a committee to determine whether it is plausable to place the five-day week in effect for all building crafts.

Under the plan, the wage scale would be hiked to provide 5½ days pay on the present rates. The committee also will determine whether it is possible to adopt a uniform scale of wages for crafts in Texas. Virtually all contractors at the convention favored the five-day week.

Grain Fields And Ranges Receive Soaking While Spring Snow Melts Fast

Grain fields and ranges of Oklahoma and Northwest Texas Wednesday night drank in light misting rains which began falling early in the day and promised to continue through the night, bringing widespread good to early crops and prepared ground.

Over most of the territory, comparatively low temperatures turned the rain into snow which melted as it fell. Throughout the section, the mercury hovered a few points above freezing Wednesday night, but fear of injury was largely limited to points in northern Oklahoma.

Snowfall Heavy

Scattered snowflakes observed in Wichita Falls at intervals Wednesday were much more in evidence to the north and northeast, but everywhere disappeared as they approached the ground. The precipitation here, very light during the day, grew heavier and promised a steady fall through the night as the temperature stayed around 39 degrees, a 5 point drop from the maximum for the day.

The lowest temperatures were reported at Altus, Waurika and Frederick, Okla., where fears for fruit and garden truck were expressed. Cloudiness was general and the light rains almost universal throughout the district.

Individual Reports

Weather reports over the district are quoted below:

CLARENDON: Heavy snow falling here since morning Wednesday has melted as it struck the ground. The temperature rose slightly through the day. The moisture will greatly benefit wheat and early crops.

CHILDRESS: Snow of much benefit to wheat crops and ranges continued falling without interruption all day Wednesday. The snow melted as it fell.

CROWELL: Snow and rain amounting to a quarter of an inch of rain fell here Wednesday and continued falling through the evening.

WELLINGTON: Moderately cold weather, unaccompanied by

MIDWEST SUFFERS

CHICAGO, March 26. (US)—The great storm that swept over the country leaving Chicago buried under 19 inches of snow was fading in the East tonight.

Here in Chicago life's routine was abandoned. Humanity struggled to get along, caring little how it did it.

Warning of a milk famine was issued tonight.

Coal deliveries were held up.

Food stocks in neighborhoods were running low. Community stores were unable to replenish supplies.

It will be a week before the city can get back to normal.

Mother Dies in Snow In Search for Sons

CHARLESTON, Ill., March 26. (UP)—Mrs. O'Hare Flotz, 35, a resident of Oakland, was found frozen to death today in a snowdrift near Independence school.

Mrs. Foltz started out for the school yesterday when her two sons failed to arrive home on time. She apparently became lost in the blinding storm and fell exhausted, only a short distance from the school. The two boys had stopped at a neighbor's house overnight.

Victim Charges Pair With Attempted Murder

SANTA ANA, Calif., March 26. (UP)—Two men were held here tonight charged with the attempted murder of Angelo Fremi, 28, who claimed he was beaten and buried alive in a shallow grave near Huntington Beach.

The men under arrest were Harry Moran, 44, whom Fremi said was a "Chicago gangster in California for his health" and John L. (Tex) Wallace, alias C. M. Curry, 28, whom Fremi asserted was wanted in Texas.

Lawton War Veteran Dies After Operation

LAWTON, Okla., March 26.—Clyde Lee, 38, a veteran of the world war and a member of Lowery post American Legion of this city, died early this morning in University hospital at Oklahoma City where he had undergone an operation for appendicitis. The body was brought to Lawton today and funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Full military honors will be accorded with firing squad and buglers participating.

Earthquake Renders Islanders Homeless

MESSINA, Italy, March 26. (UP)—A violent earthquake struck the Lipari islands, off the north coast of Sicily today, and rendered all houses there uninhabitable, the prefecture of the province of Messina announced tonight. The people, of whom there are more than 20,000 on the islands, were said to be living in the open. The village of Filicud on the same island was reported destroyed.

Woman Shoots Herself In Apartment Bathroom

NEW YORK, March 26. (UP)—Della Silvera, 53, said to be an artist, committed suicide by shooting herself tonight in the apartment of Ralph Modjeski, noted consulting engineer of New York and Chicago.

Miss Silvera killed herself in the bathroom of the apartment, which is located in the same building where Modjeski has his offices, police said.

Airport Manager

Margaret Perry, who has taken over the management of a Culver City, Calif., airport, has qualified herself as one of the first woman airport managers in the United States.

OIL CHIEFS LAY BATTLE PLANS

Fight Over Pipe Line Law To Be Waged

FORT WORTH, March 26. (AP)—Preliminary steps toward completion of organization toward a suit for lowering of pipe line tariffs, and for legal representation at the expected hearing when rules necessitated by the new pipe line law are held, were taken by directors of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas Wednesday.

Tom E. Cranfill of Dallas, president, was authorized to retain counsel to represent the association in the rate fight. He also was empowered to appoint a committee of seven to direct completion of organization and a membership campaign, and to appoint a legal committee to consider effect of possible rules under the new pipe line law.

Cranfill, Joe Danciger and others emphasized their expectation that the fight was just starting for the independents if they expected to get the relief aimed at in the new law. He said that they could expect capable and determined opposition at every turn in the arguments before the railroad commission both on the new pipe line rules and the rate fight.

Russell Brown of Ardmore, representative of Wirt Franklin, conferred with the directors with respect to the national meeting of the Independent Petroleum Association of America scheduled for April 18 and 19. An arrangement committee is to be announced by the association.

Youth's Murder Trial Postponed at Beaumont

BEAUMONT, Texas, March 26. (UP)—The trial of Martin Trahan, 17, one of two brothers charged with murdering their stepfather, George Weigle, 54, in Port Arthur a year ago, today was postponed until the next term of district court. His older brother, Gilbert, 28, was acquitted Tuesday through one of the most peculiar defenses ever offered in Texas.

Witnesses testified that Gilbert stood over the body of his stepfather and shot him several times after he already had been killed by Martin. They said Martin fired the fatal shots.

Bond Allowed Couple In Officer's Death

ORANGE, Texas, March 26. (UP)—N. E. Perkins was held without bond and his wife, Fannie, was allowed $5,000 bond today after a preliminary hearing on charges of murdering Will C. White, Orange night chief of police.

MODERN HOMES MASS MEETING CALLED TODAY

Improvement Program for Total of $300,000 Sought Here

EMPLOYMENT NEEDED

Leaders Stress Opportunity For Modernization Of Residences

Definite organization and methods of financing will be sought for a city-wide campaign of beautification and modernization of property at a massmeeting to be held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the ballroom of the Kemp hotel under the auspices of the civic improvements committee of the chamber of commerce.

Objectives Given

Detailed announcement of the purposes for which this campaign has been planned was given by Walter S. Curlee, chairman, and other members of the committee Wednesday afternoon. A threefold objective to be gained by a general and systematic program of improvement was outlined. The first and most important result, it was pointed out, will be the provision of employment, at least for several weeks, for hundreds of tradesmen now unemployed in this city. The appearance of the city, for the increased pleasure not only of visitors but of the local citizenship, will be materially enhanced by the changes sought. In the third place, it was said, property owners will be providing their own investments greater stability and more ready commercial value by completing modern equipment and renovating houses both inside and out.

It was estimated that at least 1,000 houses in the city are in need of additional equipment to class as

Leslie Wins Hidalgo Judgeship Contest

AUSTIN, March 26. (AP)—Holding the Travis county district court "assumed powers which it did not possess," in entering judgment granting relief to Gordon Griffin, contesting the election of Judge J. E. Leslie in 1928 to the 93rd district court judgeship, the supreme court today reversed and dismissed the case.

Leslie, candidate on the Democratic ticket supported by a faction headed by Sheriff A. Y. Baker, will hold his office under the decision.

The Travis district court had been upheld by the third court of civil appeals and Judge Leslie applied to the supreme court for a writ of error.

G. O. P. Tangle Eased By Late Withdrawal

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 26. (UP)—The tangled Republican political situation in Pennsylvania was cleared to a certain degree late today when Samuel S. Lewis of York, deputy auditor general and former state auditor general and state treasurer, withdrew as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

Lewis' withdrawal leaves former Gvoernor Gifford Pinchot, former Attorney-General of Pennsylvania Francis Shunk Brown of Philadelphia, and former Congressman Philips in the race.

Prisoners Whip Former Guard at Huntsville

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, March 26. (AP)—Prison and city officials today investigated an alleged beating administered Jess Randell, former prison guard, in the state prison here last night. Randell claimed he was attacked by four convicts shortly after he was arrested and placed in the prison. He exhibited lacerations which he said were inflicted with a leather strap.

PLANTING GAINS

WASHINGTON, March 26. (US)—Compared with last year's acreage grown for harvest, 1930 planting in practically every line of agriculture for which the department of agriculture gathers statistics will be increased, preliminary reports issued today disclose.

'Beef Stew Mutiny' In Missouri Prison Ends As Warden Makes Talk

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 26. (UP)—Beef stew served 750 prisoners in Missouri state penitentiary here today noon caused a mess room mutiny which for a time threatened to throw inmates of the century-old prison into open rebellion.

It was halted by the quick action of prison authorities who called upon extra guards, Jefferson City police and upon the Missouri national guard.

Walls Manned

The militiamen and police mounted the wall, armed with machine guns and riot squad guns. The extra guards were sent into factories where the remaining convicts were employed and stood guard over them until the mutineers were cowed.

The rioting started after prisoners had been served the noon day meal at 11:45 o'clock. When the meal was over the men refused to leave the hall, the leaders seated in front row chairs intimidating those in the rear of the room and threatening them when they attempted to leave the room.

Demand Fried Meat

"We want fried meat," was the cry set up by convicts who had been fed a prison fare of beef stew. At the first sign of mutiny the guards were withdrawn from the room and the heavy barred doors locked.

The men inside the room remained orderly and did not arise from their seats.

They beat their tin plates and cups on the table keeping time to the screaming.

Work Goes On

Other prisoners, employed in factories near to the mess hall, heard the shouting but did not stop their work. The guards who had been kept in the mess hall were rushed to the other parts of the prison and the big prison siren was started.

The electric whistle brought out the police squad. It also notified Warden Leslie Rudolph and Gov. Henry S. Caulfield, who were meeting with state prison board members, that rioting had started. All rushed to the penitentiary.

No Parleys Held

Militiamen reached the prison shortly after 1 o'clock and mounted the guard tower.

When Warden Rudolph arrived he ordered the guards to circle the mess hall. No parleys were held with the screaming men inside and no guards or officials attempted to quiet them.

Shortly after 2 p. m. Warden Rudolph, accompanied by a company of prison guards, entered the mess room. His entrance was a sign for the shouting men to become hushed.

Warden Rudolph was the only man to speak to the prisoners. He told them if they did not return to their cells in an orderly fashion he would keep them in the room and have the guards throw tear bombs at them.

The mess hall is ventilated by windows in the ceiling and at the ends of the rooms. When rioting first began these windows were closed by the automatic trigger. It would have been impossible for prisoners to break them.

Rudolph's ultimatum was followed by the customary orders of "convicts arise. Right face, company forward march." The order was obeyed by the group without demonstration.

Twelve Miners Die In West Virginia Blast

ARNETTSVILLE, W. Va., March 26. (AP)—Twelve miners perished today in the dark recesses of the Yukon mine of the Old Crown Coal company here in an explosion of gas. Nineteen men were in the mine at the time and seven were uninjured.

The blast occurred 4,000 feet from the slope entrance. Those who escaped in another part of the shaft were unaware of the explosion until they reached the outside.

The bodies all had been removed from the workings tonight. Some were badly scorched. Only a small part of the mine was damaged.

McKenzie Attorneys Come to Fist Blows

SAN ANTONIO, March 26. (UP)—With John M. (Pete) McKenzie committed to the county jail following the dismissal of a jury that failed to agree on his sanity, opposing counsel in the case came to blows today. Resenting remarks Bernard Layden, assistant district attorney, made before the jury, E. B. Simmons, defense counsel, darted Layden to fight. They were separated by Sheriff Alphone Newton.

Faces Firing Squad

Delbert Green, 21, convicted slayer of his wife and two others, was offered choice of death by shooting or hanging under Utah state laws. He chose the firing squad.

DRUG VICTIM TELLS STORY

Shattered Leg in War Led To Dope, Atwell Told

A sharply outlined picture of an opium addict's views on his own life was given Wednesday afternoon in federal district court here when Judge William H. Atwell passed sentence on George Bloxom, who pleaded guilty Tuesday to a narcotic charge and who was brought up with several others for sentencing late Wednesday.

Judge Atwell sentenced Bloxom to a year and a day in Leavenworth penitentiary. The defendant had been twice before sent to prison by Judge Atwell.

"I've been an addict since the Spanish-American war," Bloxom told the judge. "I was in a regiment in the Philippines. I've been in the pen twice, sentenced by your court, but it doesn't seem to tear me away from the habit."

"Where were you stationed in the Philippines?" the judge asked.

"At Luzon, your honor."

"Luzon? Why, I was there just the other day." Judge Atwell smiled.

Can't Break Habit

"I guess it's changed a lot since I was there, but it was a great place once. I stayed in the hospital a long time there," Bloxom said.

"Yes, it is a beautiful place. There are gardens and beautiful flowers and trees everywhere there now. Perhaps you can go back some day to see it," the judge said. "But tell me, did you get away from the habit while in prison those other times?"

"I'd rather not answer that question, judge. It would not be . . ."

"That's all right. Do you still want it now?"

"Well, I guess so. You know how it is. You seem to miss something all the time, as though you were always forgetting something. I've been at it since they started me when I had a shattered leg there in the hospital years ago. It's terrible. You could not want me to get away from it any more than I want to. I am ostracized from society and I'm ashamed even to let my people know where I am."

Judge Atwell told Bloxom he must write while in the penitentiary and said he would send books and money for tobacco if Bloxom needed it.

"I think I have enough money for that, judge," the prisoner said.

Government Control Called 'Complete Flop'

WASHINGTON, March 26. (AP)—Government control of liquor sales in Canada was described as an "absolute failure" by E. C. Drury, former premier of Ontario province, who predicted at prohibition hearings before the house judiciary committee today that the dominion eventually would return to complete prohibition.

"Whatever the solution of the drink problem may be," the Canadian asserted, "it is not government control."

Woman and Man Billed For Murdering Baby

SAN ANTONIO, March 26. (UP)—The grand jury today indicted Grace Frederick and Buddy Hoard in conection with the murder of a new-born baby here whose body was found in an ash can last week. Miss Ethel Shumaker 18, alleged to have been the mother of the child, was no-billed.

Miss Frederick was alleged to have acted the midwife while the state claimed Hoard, a cab driver, hid the child's body.

MAID ADMITS GAGGING SELF IN HOTEL ROOM

Wilma Jones Exonerates Two Men Held for 'Death Plot'

INVESTIGATION ENDS

Rangers Sent to Fairfield Return Home After Confession

FAIRFIELD, Texas, March 26. (UP)—After having accused two men of trying to burn her alive, 23-year-old Wilma Jones today admitted she tied her own hands and feet, gagged herself and then set fire to her bed in the attempt to free herself of forgery charges.

W. V. Geppart, county attorney, announced tonight that the forgery charges will not be dropped but probably will be continued until the next term of court. Miss Jones admitted she signed the name of G. S. Moore, business man, to a check for $250.

After this admission, she was rescued from the flaming bed at the Cook hotel. She named Moore as her attacker and later exonerated him by accusing Tom Dodd, 30, also facing forgery charges as her accomplice. Dodd, held in jail at Mexia, will be released, Geppart said.

The girl was freed on bond today. The county attorney said he was undecided whether he would file further charges. Tommy Dodd and his mother, Sarah Jane Dodd, were released on bond on the charges of forgery.

Hah, Hah, Hah, Hah, Ho Ho—Imagine It

WEST ALEXANDRIA, Ohio, March 26. (AP)—Two banking men sat in the First National bank here today chatting about the money that used to be there. Two other men with criminal intentions, walked in and roughly ordered "hands up!"

The bankers, Charles Draper, receiver for the bank, and a neighbor cashier, just sat and stared incredulously. They looked at each other and shook their heads.

"Can't you see you're being held up?" explained one of the robbers.

"That's too bad," said Draper. "This bank has been broke since a year ago. The cashier who was here then killed himself. There's not a penny in the vaults."

Just the same the robbers wanted to see for themselves. They searched—and found what the receiver had promised — precisely nothing but dust and a musty odor.

The robbers backed out the door staring somewhat incredulously themselves. They took their guns with them and drove away.

Rhode Island Cleric New Episcopal Bishop

CHICAGO, March 26. (UP)—The Rt. Rev. James de Wolf Perry, bishop of Rhode Island, was elected presiding bishop of the Episcopal church in the United States at an executive session of 100 Episcopal bishops tonight.

The Rt. Rev. Perry succeeds the late Charles Palmerton Anderson, who died last December.

Tonight's election came on the seventh ballot after heated discussion most of the day.

Hindu Sage Influenced Suicides, Police Believe

VIENNA, March 26. (US)—That Dr. Ernest Watzl, former Cleveland chemist, and Mrs. Mary McGranahan were influenced in forming a suicide pact by the teachings of a Hindu philosopher, whom the hunted couple had encountered in India, was the theory advanced tonight by Vienna police.

Meanwhile, the bodies of the Austrian war veteran and the woman with whom he fled across three continents were released by police today, and will be cremated on Friday.

Ghosts of Texas' Early Heroes and Villains Before Bar

Temple Houston's Relatives Defend Name and Honor of Pioneer

FORT WORTH, March 26. (UP)—The days when Texas was populated by cattlemen, Indians and desperadoes were depicted today as relatives of Temple Houston, colorful hero of Texas and Oklahoma pioneer history, launched their $600,000 libel suit against the Liberty Magazine.

Mrs. Temple Houston, 64-year-old widow of Sam Houston's son, testified that her husband was "a tender and considerate father" not the gun-toting desperado pictured by Don C. Seitz, whose article resulted in five separate suits against the weekly publication. Mrs. Houston has sued for $200,000 and Temple Houston's four living children for $100,000 apiece.

"Temple Houston's mother was Margaret Moffett Lea of Louisiana, an American girl, part Irish," the woman said in refuting Seitz' statement that he was the son of Sam Houston, Texas' first governor, and a Cherokee Indian squaw.

She testified that Houston was the first child born in the governor's mansion of Texas. She said the article, published in June, 1928, prior to the opening of the Democratic national convention at Houston, was brought to her attention by a friend at Weatherford, Okla., where she has lived since her husband's death in 1905.

"I tried to read it," Mrs. Houston told the court between sobs, "but I was so overcome by emotion that I had to wait until later."

In the Liberty article, Temple Houston was described as a "dangerous citizen of Oklahoma."

"He was a kind and considerate father," Mrs. Houston said.

The jury was selected with dispatch after Judge James C. Wilson of district federal court had denied a demurrer of Liberty's attorneys on the ground that libel per se could not be proved because the Liberty article said Sam Houston's wife and Temple Houston's mother was a Cherokee squaw.

Sidney Samuels, chief defense counsel, argued there was nothing maligning in saying Houston was of Indian blood. He pointed out that many of the country's leading citizens were of Indian descent.

Taking of testimony is expected to be completed within three days. Seitz, author of the article, will testify.

DAGGER PRUITT APPEAL DENIED

Only Governor Can Save Dallas Slayer

AUSTIN, March 26. (INS)—The court of criminal appeals today denied a motion for rehearing in the death case of William "Dagger" Pruitt Jr., sentenced from Dallas county for killing William Mann on Jan. 6, 1929.

Only a pardon will now save Pruitt from death in the electric chair. He is alleged to have slain Mann when the latter attempted to prevent him from attacking Mann's girl companion.

Officers elected were Virginia Sears Matthews, president; Vera Pearl Moreland, vice president; Donna Wilmeth, secretary-treasurer. Other charter members of the sorority are Misses Eula McCain, Hazel Wilmeth, Minnie Moreland, Alice Fahr, Nell Whitside, Mattie Queen Price, Walter Padgett.

Guards Watch Over Patriotic Gathering

NEW YORK, March 26. (UP)—Nearly 100 policemen surrounded the Metropolitan Opera house in the heart of Manhattan tonight, as the Calvert associates met to celebrate the 296th anniversary of the founding of Maryland.

Several threatening letters received by officials of the Calvert organization, were turned over to police with the result the special guard detail was ordered.

The general theme of the speeches at the meeting was a denunciation of Soviet religious persecutions.

Air Mail Pilots Come Through Fog Battle

WASHINGTON, March 26. (US)—Two planeloads of mail and two dauntless pilots were safe after a thrilling battle with fog which forced one to leap with parachute and the other to make an emergency landing.

Verce E. Treat had to take his 'chute over the historic battlefield of Antietam, Md., and his plane crashed nearby. Henry T. Merrill brought his plane down on a little patch of ground near Appomattox Courthouse, Va., where the civil war ended.

Armed Bandits Loot Bank in Missouri

SARCOXIE, Mo., March 26. (UP)—Armed bandits early today blew open the safe of the First National bank here, obtained $5,000 cash and escaped in a motor car after an exchange of shots which wounded a Sarcoxie man.

The bandits blew off the door of the safe with nitroglycerin. The blast did extensive damage to the bank.

A man named Page, the first to arrive after hearing the explosion, opened fire and in return was shot in the leg.

Texas Contractor Greatly Benefited By Argotane

Had Suffered With Bad Case of Stomach Trouble for Many Years

"I had suffered for many years with a bad case of stomach trouble," stated Mr. Don Crabtree of 909 North Cleveland, Sherman, Texas, a well known contractor, recently in a conversation with an Argotane (Orgotone) representative, "and it had gotten to the point where my heart was bothering me something awful and I did not know what to do for it.

"Of course I was very nervous from such a condition and suffered with dizziness, sleeplessness and that generally worn-out and run-down feeling and had scarcely any appetite at all. Many times I had had spells with my heart, sometimes lasting as long as 72 hours at a time, and it would act like it might stop beating entirely at any moment.

"I began reading about how Argotane (Orgatone) was helping so many people, and although I had tried many different things and was, of course, skeptical about Argotane (Orgatone), but I started using it. After using one bottle I sure can tell a decided change for the better in my condition. My heart no longer bothers me, I have a wonderful appetite and can eat anything I want without fear of it hurting my stomach. Why I can now eat foods of which I have not eaten for many years. I sleep good and awaken greatly refreshed, and your Argotane (Orgatone) has been the cause of my relief and I naturally think it about the finest medicine I ever saw."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Wichita Falls at Allison's Drug store, 716 Indiana Ave.—Adv.

Committee Announces Program for District P.-T. A. Meet in Electra

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, March 26.—Mrs. E. J. Torvie, general chairman of the arrangements committe, states that plans have been completed for the 13th district Parent-Teacher association convention which will be held here April 21-23. The chairmen of the dfferent committees met with Mrs. Torvie at the library this week and definite plans were completed. Mrs. Frank Creighton, Wichita Falls, president of the 13th district P.-T. A.; Mrs. J. M. Fox, Wichita Falls, chairman of publicity; Robert P. Hall, manager of the Electra Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. O. J. Norwood, Wichita Falls, president of the Wichita County Council Parent-Teacher association; B. M. Dinsmore, superintendent of the Electra public schools; Mrs. St. Andrew Myers, Henrietta; and Miss Florence McKinney, Wichita county Red Cross nurse, were also present.

Mrs. S. M. Fox discussed the publicity breakfast which will be held Tuesday, April 22, at the First Christian church. The Christian ladies will serve the breakfast, and every one is invited to attend. The breakfast fill be served at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Fox stated that information regarding publicity will be given and the speakers for the occasion will be Mrs. T. H. Clement of Wichita Falls who will discuss the newspaper part of publicity and Robert P. Hall who will discuss publicity in general.

Mrs. St. Andrew Myers of Henrietta discussed the health breakfast which will be held Wednesday at the same time and place with members of the Christian church also serving. Miss Florence McKinney will speak at this time. Mrs. Myers also announced that a $5 prize would be awarded to the child in this district that has the best poster on display on the relation of nutrition to health. The poster will be judged according to the subject matter and the artistic qualities.

Robert P. Hall stated that the chamber of commerce would give a banquet Tuesday evening for the delegates. B. M. Dinsmore announced that the schools would do everything they could to make the convention a success and that the girls of the home economics department would serve a banquet Monday evening for the state and the district officers. The members of the American Legion auxiliary have announced their intention of giving a tea Monday afternoon and the delegates will be extended invitations to this tea. The Electra Federated Missionary union, of which Mrs. Grace Jennings is president, will give the luncheon Wednesday at noon, and Mrs. O. J. Norwood, in behalf of the Wichita County council, stated that the council would give the luncheon Tuesday at noon.

Speakers who are expected to make addresses during the convention are Dr. L. H. Hubbard, Denton, president of C. I. A.; Dr. J. D. Russell, instructor at A. & M. college; True Strong, Nocona. Miss Ethel Morgan of Vernon will speak on "P.-T. A. in Rural Schools;" Mrs. C. A. Spragins of Wichita Falls, "Character Building;" and Mrs. Emmanual Toomin of Fort Worth on "Humane Education." The names of other speakers and their subjects have not been announced. The public especially the mothers and fathers, are cordially invited to attend these meetings which will really be worthwhile as these speakers are each prominent in their field of work.

Others who attended the meeting were Mesdames R. E. Weller, Jack Ligon, A. Fisher, Joe Youree, Homer Jones, C. M. Harvey, E. W. Barr, I. K. Williams, J. H. Harris, Jack Gwinn, B. M. Phillips, W. A. Gault, B. R. Hutchins, Dave Aikin, Misses Eura Wilkinson and Ida Lee Falls.

Graham Organizes for Boys Week Celebration

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, March 26.—Plans have been outlined by the city boys' work committee for observance of national boys' week April 30 to May 7, the outstanding feature of which will be the annual father and son banquet. A plan is also under way to organize a Ranger Scout troop for the younger boys of the city, 9 to 12 years of age inclusive. The committee voted to equip a game room in the Memorial auditorium for the boys of the city. The boys' work director, Houston Crump, was authorized to secure equipment for the room immediately, and will have tables installed for checkers, dominoes and chess, and facilities for other games of interest to boys.

Program Complete for Graham Clerks Meet

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, March 26.—Arrangements are almost complete for entertaining the district and county clerks who will assemble in Graham for a convention on April 3 and 4. A chamber of commerce committee composed of Mayor A. B. Eddleman, H. L. Thornton and C. H. Atkinson has been appointed to arrange for entertainment features for the visitors. The committee has planned a chamber of commerce banquet, along with other entertainment.

PACKER'S BODY FOUND BY CAR

Officials Work on Theory Of Murder

TOPEKA, Kan., March 26. (INS)—Mystery surrounds the finding early today of the body of Roy Kramer of Ozawakie, 42, vice president of the Kaw Packing company of Topeka, on the North road in Jefferson county between Topeka and Lawrence.

The body was discovered lying on the road in front of Kramer's automobile, by a passing truck driver. Kramer's skull was fractured in two places.

Authorities are working on the theory that Kramer was murdered.

INCOME TAXES DROP SLIGHTLY

Collections Up to March 24 Total $532,648,000

WASHINGTON, March 26. (INS)—Income tax collections up to March 24 totaled $532,648,000, a decrease of only $34,000,000 from the same period last year, the treasury announced today. Treasury officials consider the figures reassuring in that the losses from the stock market collapse in the fall of last year are not running as heavily as feared.

Collections for the fiscal year to date total $1,785,000,000, an increase of $134,000,000 over last year.

Glory of Bible Compared to Milky Way

Comparing the milky way of the heavens, the beauty of which can be seen only through powerful telescopes, with the third chapter of the book of John, whose glory can be realized only by a redeemed man, Dr. Robert E. Goodrich, pastor of the Shreveport, La., First Methodist church, Wednesday night addressed a large crowd at the First Methodist church here on the subject, "The Milky Way of the Scriptures."

"The 16th verse of John: 'For God so loved the world that He gave His only bogotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have eternal life,' has been called the 'whole Bible in miniature.' " Dr. Goodrich said. "Martin Luther used to call it his 'Little Bible.'

"God sent not His Son into the world to condemn it but that the world might be saved. God has done everything that infinite power can do to save the world. He has given us the right of free choice. If He were to take that choice away from us, we should be no higher than beasts. He has given us every influence that infinite power can throw around us to help us. He has given Christ Himself. God has put within your being the reason that bids you do right. Those arms that were stretched out on the cross were stretched out spiritually to encircle the whole world.

"I might bring up the subject of prohibition and thereby draw a line through my audience, for some would take one side and some the other, and possibly there would be a few who would be neutral. The great line of moral cleavage runs right through this congregation, through this town, through the centuries, belief or unbelief in Jesus Christ. There isn't any neutral ground there. 'He that is not for Me, is against Me.' God has made provision for all the world. God willeth not that any man should perish. God's hungering heart reaches out to all the world. The reason that men are lost is told in this verse: 'Light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil'."

Baylor College Glee Club Pleases With Vivacious Concert Numbers

By MARGARET FLEMING

The Baylor College Glee club, in its concert at the Junior college Wednesday evening, carried out the finest tradition of collegiate glee club work and by the finesse of their performance complimented both their school and Arthur Faguy-Cote, the director.

Mr. Faguy-Cote's vibrant baritone was heard to good effect in an interesting arrangement of "I'll Sing Thee Songs of Araby," in which he took the solo lead.

Most beautiful in shading was the fragile "Hindu Slumber Song" in which the ensemble work approached perfection and the tonal quality beautiful throughout.

The club was fortunate in its soloists, Miss Marrs displayed a fire of virtuosity and an admirable strength of bowing and intensity of tone.

"Invitation to the Dance," was given a more than adequate voicing by the able accompanist, Miss Frances Murrey, who maintained an exceptional balance between melodic movements in the treble and bass, and achieved a depth of tone as well as limpid passages for contrast.

Miss Pearl Ann Ivy proved highly entertaining in her readings, "Man's Place Is in the Home," and "Never Cry on a Man."

Miss Kennedy in a clear lyric voice interpreted "The Lass With the Delicate Air," and answered an encore with "Happy Sally."

"Gypsy Suite," by Lugigi Denza, the climax of the entire program, was a colorful study in voice and scenery. Soloists for this number were: Misses Eleanor Noble, Emily Essie Kennedy, Louise Estes, Virginia James, Kate Hester and Louise Southall.

Two Electra Youths Held for Fowl Thefts

Three youths, two of 13 and one of 14, were arrested late Wednesday evening in Electra by James A. McDonald, county juvenile officer, when they offered for sale a dozen chickens and 20 pigeons they were said to have stolen. Mr. McDonald was called to Electra when the boys were suspected of having stolen the fowls they were trying to sell.

WISCONSIN MEN VISIT MOODY

Governor Proposes Party Tour Valley

AUSTIN, March 26. (AP)—Governor Kohler of Wisconsin and business men whose word would have "weight," have been invited by Governor Moody to come to Texas and inspect the worthiness of lands offered homseekers, especially holdings in the Rio Grande valley.

He said if the Wisconsin party accepted his invitation he would accompany it personally on the tour.

He made his announcement after a conference with George F. Kull, secretary of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association, who came to investigate the situation resulting from action of the Wisconsin state realty board in denying permits to certain Texas concerns to sell land in that state.

Kull said he was pleased to find Governor Moody opposed to a boycott threatened by some against Wisconsin-made articles and products as a reprisal for the board's attitude toward Texas. The state senate had pasead a resolution suggesing that Texans refrain from buying Wisconsin goods in retaliation for the land edict.

Kull left for a trip through the Rio Grande valley and said if he found conditions as represented to him he would recommend that the Wisconsin board's order barring sale of the lands be revoked.

KOHLER "DOUBTFUL" ABOUT VISIT

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 26. (AP)—Gov. Walter J. Kohler, of Wisconsin, said today that whether he would visit Texas, in response to an invitation of Gov. Dan Moody, "is doubtful."

Chamber to Send Vinson to Brooklyn

At a meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce Wednesday night, it was decided to send Jerry Vinson, president of the Junior chamber of commerce, to the national convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce to be held at Brooklyn, N. Y., June 11 to 14.

May 13 was set as a tentative date for the next good will trip that the chamber of commerce will make to Quanah and all intermediate towns. The directors voted, also, to furnish transportation to visitors of the Retail Merchants Credit association April 7, in a sight-seeing trip over Wichita Falls. Visitors from various surrounding towns are expected to be here at that time.

It was voted that the chamber should assist the Little Theater in presenting a program April 16 by urging a large attendance. The proceeds of the program are to be put into the community chest.

Plight of American Missionaries Unknown

SHANGHAI, March 26. (AP)—French missionaries were reported safe tonight in Kanchow, Kiangsi province, besieged for three weeks by Communist and bandit armies, but the fate of 10 men and six women of the American Catholic mission in Kanchow remained undetermined.

The banditry, a national government news agency dispatch reported, was scattered by a sortie of the provincial garrison.

War Flier Snatches Another Speed Record

METROPOLITAN AIRPORT, Los Angeles, March 26. (US)—Pat Fleming, war aviator, snatched another record out of the sky today, when he hurled a tri-motor Bach plane, carrying 2,000 kilograms dead weight, over a 100-kilometer course in 26 minutes and eight seconds—an average speed of 142.66 miles per hour. The previous record, set by two German pilots in 1927, was 138.904 miles per hour.

CAPTAIN HAWKS TESTS GLIDER

Transcontinental Ship to Be Here Wednesday

SANDIEGO, Calif., March 26. (UP)—Capt. Frank M. Hawks, prominent transcontinental flier made a successful test flight today in the glider in which he hopes to be towed from San Francisco to New York.

The first test today was made with an automobile to furnish the motive power. That accomplished, the glider was hitched to a plane and Hawks was taken to an altitude of 5,000 feet, where he cut loose and made a good landing. Another test will be made tomorrow.

Hawks, holder of the Los Angeles to New York nonstop plane flight record, plans to leave here Sunday on the coast to coast glider trip.

Wichita Falls has been designated as a stopping point on Captain Hawk's proposed transcontinental glider flight. The first "air train" is expected here April 2.

Negro Slayer Dies In Arkansas County Jail

TEXARKANA, Ark., March 26. (AP)—Rufus Thompson, 34, negro, who today shot and killed Lucien Adams, 28, Miller county deputy sheriff, died late today in the La-Fayette county jail at Lewisville, Ark., where he had been taken for safety, Sheriff Fleet Magee announced. Thompson was wounded when Dick Card, 28, companion of Adams, began firing after Adams was shot down.

Hoover Places Name On Appropriation Bill

WASHINGTON, March 26. (US)—President Hoover today signed the deficiency appropriation bill which makes available $169,447,689 for immediate expenditure in public works and improvements.

The sum goes for the construction of federal buildings and improvements in a number of cities and communities.

MONTREAL.—Who wants to buy a nice slice of Newfoundland? Peter Cashin, finance and customs minister of the island colony, recently discussed the question of the sale of Labrador by Newfoundland. He intimated that Newfoundland would be willing to sell Labrador for about $300,000,000.

Relief from Gas Stomach Pains Dizziness

The doctors tell us that 90 per cent of all sickness is due to stomach and bowel troubles. You can't be well if your digestion is bad; you are likely to get sick unless you relish food and digest it properly.

Tanlac has a wonderful record as a relief from digestive troubles, even those of years' standing.

Local people, many of whom you know, are highly endorsing Tanlac. For example, Mrs. Ellen White says: "For years I suffered from indigestion. I got no relief from anything until I took Tanlac. After my fourth bottle, I feel like a new person and have a fine appetite."

If you suffer from gas, pains in the stomach or bowels, dizziness, nausea, constipation, or torpid liver; if you have no appetite, can't sleep and are nervous and all run down, you need Tanlac. It is good, pure medicine, made of roots, herbs and barks. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you. Accept no substitute.

passed up Wichita Falls because the town was not then on any air route. Today if Lindbergh were making a similar tour he would hardly pass up Wichita Falls because our town is now written pretty largely on the air maps. Wichita Falls is on the route of Frank Hawks coast-to-coast glider flight, which will probably attract more attention than any flight that has been made in recent months.

It is worth remembering that Wichita Falls would still not have been on the aviation map, would have had no air routes and would be passed up by such men as Hawks had not public spirited citizens joined together and raised funds and established an air port that is now operated by the city. It ought also to be kept in mind that in order to maintain its position as an air travel center Wichita Falls must keep its airport up to date. Improvements at the airports are a problem that Wichita Falls will soon be called on to solve.

E. G. Senter of Dallas has announced that if Lynch Davidson of Houston will become a candidate for governor that he, Senter, will withdraw from the race and will support Davidson. We can believe that Mr. Senter's offer is prompted by a sincere desire to see Mr. Davidson become a candidate but we are doubtful whether the Houston man will enter the race. Mr. Davidson is a successful business man with some sensible ideas about public affairs. He has twice been an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor. There will be many who will join with Mr. Senter in urging him to enter the contest again this year, but by this time Mr. Davidson must feel that whatever his qualifications and the confidence of thousands of citizens of the state in his abilities the chances of his nomination are not favorable enough for another effort.

DEATHS

MRS. EDNA HANCOCK LINDSEY

Funeral services for Mrs. Edna Hancock Lindsey, 21, wife of E. N. Lindsey, who died in a local hospital at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning, were held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Bailey in Indian heights at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning with Dr. C. M. Simpson, pastor of the Floral Heights Methodist church, officiating. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Lindsey is survived by her husband; two children, Dorothy Jack, 4, and E. N. Jr., 2; her mother, Mrs. A. G. Hancock of Wichita Falls; three sisters, Miss Louise Hancock of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Joe D. Weeks and Miss Vesta Hancock of Shreveport, La., and one brother, Summer Hancock, also of Shreveport.

Pallbearers were J. B. Bentley, Tom Wynne, Charles Hull, Bill Henson, P. B. Cox, and Mr. Steinberger.

wind, brought a fall of snow here all day Wednesday, promising help to crops throughout the section.

SILVERTON: The ground in Briscoe county was beginning to whiten Wednesday night after nine hours of snow that melted as it fell. The soil moisture is now ample for excellent wheat prospects.

ALTUS, Okla.: The mercury hung close to the freezing point here Wednesday as snow continued falling throughout the day. Fruit and early garden crops are thought to be endangered by the cold.

FREDERICK, Okla.: A very light snow that melted before striking the earth fell at Frederick Wednesday. Farmers believe the fruit crop has already been damaged by earlier frosts. The mercury stayed well above freezing most of the day.

MANGUM, Okla.: The government thermometer stood at three points above freezing as winter paid another call in Mangum Wednesday. A light snow flurry fell for more than an hour early in the day.

WAURIKA, Okla.: The minimum temperature here Wednesday was 36 degrees. A very light mist has been falling and heavy clouds promise more rain.

WALTERS, Okla.: The weather was cloudy and cold here Wednesday, with forecasts of rain.

IT JUST DOESN'T SEEM RIGHT . . .

(and it's really unnecessary)—that after clothes are clean you should have to rinse and rinse and rinse to get out part of the stuff that was in the soap. It is annoying. But the answer is that when you bought your soap, you got more than soap. You got "filler"—useless matter added to bring up the weight. So you have to rinse away the filler.

There's no such problem when you use White King. It's all pure soap, condensed, scientifically made from high-grade vegetable oils—no filler added. When you see how richly it lathers, how thoroughly it cleans, and how quickly it rinses away, you'll appreciate what that means.

You can use White King Granulated Soap for everything—from lingerie to blankets, dishes to shampoos. And a little goes a long, long way. Try it today. Sold by your grocer.

Boy Accidentally Hangs Self Playing in Barn

REPUBLICAN CITY, Neb., March 26. (UP)—Willard Artz, 14-year-old Huntley High school freshman, believed to have accidentally hanged himself, was buried here today.

Young Artz was accustomed to swing back and forth in his grandfather's barn on a rope over some baled hay. It was believed that he pulled the rope down over his shoulders to swing with it around his body, as he often did, but that he fell. The rope tightened about his neck.

Sulphur Levy Gets Signature of Moody

AUSTIN, March 26. (UP)—Gov. Dan Moody today approved the sulphur tax levy of 55 cents a ton passed by the fifth special session of the legislature. The bill carried an emergency clause which made it effective immediately. On the basis of last year's sulphur production in the state, Texas will derive $1,430,000 from the tax in 1930.

Grove's Laxative BROMO QUININE Tablets

Successful Since 1889

Keep Free from FAT in excess; it's easy now

Modern science has found that excess fat is largely due to an under-active gland. Starve as you will, exercise as you will, you are bound to fail unless you correct the cause.

That gland largely controls nutrition. When it is weak, too much food goes to fat, too little to fuel and energy. So modern physicians, in treating obesity, supply the gland substance which is scant.

That is the method employed in Marmola prescription tablets, prepared by a famous medical laboratory. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. Anybody in any circle, can see what a change has come. Excess fat is disappearing fast. New youth and beauty, new health and vitality, are conspicuous everywhere.

If you are abnormal in your weight, a certain gland is abnormal. Try Marmola. Feed the factor lacking. Watch the pounds go, the new vitality return. You will be amazed and delighted. But the formula in each box of Marmola will tell you the reason. To people who know, there is no excuse today for obesity. Start to remedy that ill condition now.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will gladly order for you.

LAY A BET ON JOHNNY

Daily Editorial

WHEN YOU were a boy, round steak was 10 cents a pound and the butcher threw in a soup bone and hunk of liver for lagniappe.

When you were a boy, a nice home could be had for $15 a month and an all wool suit purchased for five.

When you were a boy anthracite was four dollars a ton, working shoes one dollar a pair, and "dress" shirts retailed at fifty cents.

When you were a boy, businesses were small; the boss knew all his help by name, constantly contacted with them, personally delivered praise and censure, and was "guide, philosopher and friend" of the whole organization.

But Johnny lives in an era of short rations, high rents and cotton mixed clothes. He's a ward of scientific management with a bundle of charts and graphs where its "soft spot" ought to be. He doesn't exist as a human being; he's just a minor cog on one of the many wheels of a great trade machine.

He knows nothing about the business except his own restricted and intensive task. He's cubby-holed in an isolated department and shut off from the rest of the works. As he aspires to advance, his promotion will be challenged by more qualified folk, better nourished, constitutionally stronger, sounder trained youths, who start in with a fuller education than he'll end with. He's handicapped from the very scratch; neither his body nor his brain has a chance to feed upon the right food like a prematurely ridden foal.

He'll be broken down before he's broken in—dull minded and overstrained before his faculties are fairly tempered.

Meanwhile, you'll continue to pay him the market—least for which his services may be obtained.

IN ACCORDANCE with prevailing practice, you'll grind him down to the last penny of wage. And when his utility and vitality are exhausted, he'll be effaced and replaced without a balance sheet qualm. Aside from the fact that it is your enlightened duty to contribute as far as possible to the efficiency of tomorrow, by improving the quality of future citizens—waiving all consideration of generosity and sentiment, and eliminating every question of emotion, tenderness or charity—it's an even break that you're cheating your own interests in overlooking his.

Johnny may not be the only one now being robbed of opportunity. You're just as likely hurting yourself when you don't help him. Johnny is still at an age where character, habits and ideals are plastic and impressionable. He's a colt ready for an expert trainer's hands. Young enough to grow out of or into anything. But, his rut's too narrow to develop a winning gait.

The stride of a thoroughbred may be lurking in his unexercised and thwarted capacities. Coach him on right and some day, when your fortunes are at stake, who knows but what he'll save your colors?

Don't base his worth on present performance.

Lay a slight bet on possibility at dark horse odds; give him a real living wage and charge the trifling difference to the suspense account or deferred profit.

Recall how often concerns have been re-blooded, by partners who began as cash boys, bundle wrappers and messengers, and realize that a wise employer is never so hard-headed as when he is soft-hearted.

20 Years of Loneliness

SOMETIMES, in a newspaper story, the facts that you can read in between the lines are more impressive than the ones that are printed.

A short time ago the papers printed a very brief dispatch from a little town in Pennsylvania.

It told how a man and a woman, 60 years old, remarried one another after having been divorced for 20 years. They had had, a generation ago, a fairly long married life; then something happened and they broke up their home. But now, 20 years after their separation, they came together again, were remarried, and went to the husband's farm to live out the remainder of their lives.

That was all there was to the dispatch. But there is material between the lines to set one thinking for a long time.

How we should like to know more about this couple! What drove them apart? How did they get along during their 20 years of separation? And what force or forces, acting on their hearts in the same way, finally pulled them together again so that they drifted back to face old age hand in hand?

All we can do is speculate. But it seems obvious that underneath every other motive there must have been the all-compelling, universal feeling of loneliness—that loneliness that no human being can ever quite escape.

Generally it takes one a long time to realize what a force this loneliness is. We are born with an illogical desire in our hearts for independence. We want to go our own way, paddle our own canoe, be self-sufficient; and often we think that we are getting away with it very well.

But the world, sooner or later, proves that we are mistaken. It is a pretty lonely place. It doesn't contain any excess amount of friendliness, or compassion, or kindliness, or love, or faith. And those are things that we cannot get along without. To be deprived of them is to know how terrible loneliness can really be.

So it is that we reach out our hands and grope to one another. If we are fortunate, we find someone with whom we can be in tune, someone with whom we can share our hurts and disappointments; and then the loneliness ends, as far as it ever can end on this earth. But some are not so fortunate, and they have to go on groping; or they think that their search is ended, only to discover later that the union and comradeship they sought is not where they supposed it was.

They have to resume their search, and we may imagine that that is how it was, 20 years ago, with this Pennsylvania couple. And it doesn't take much imagination to trace the pathetic little story from there to the end. Loneliness grew until it was too much for them; and they discovered, at last, that each, after all, was the comrade the other needed.

A Man of Millions

ANDREW W. MELLON has passed his 75th milepost. He has been secretary of the treasury nine years. He has been the target of the ultra-dry and the most pestiferous wets. He has received more scorchings from the pulpit and the press and the politicians of America than any man who has held the treasury portfolio since the days of Alexander Hamilton. He never loses his temper. Criticism never disturbs him. He never rushes into print. He dislikes fulsome flattery. He is on the job most of the time. He will live in history as a great secretary of the treasury.

He speaks for a billion dollars, family money, invested in many gigantic industries. He was the strong right arm of Harding. He was the strong right arm of Coolidge. He is the strong right arm of Hoover. He speaks for big business because in Mellon big business is personified; but as a servant of the American people, his ambition is to lop off a slice of the government debt every year and to direct the financial affairs of the richest of republics after his own fashion, and to make good the boast of his closest friends and most enthusiastic admirers, that he is the "second Alexander Hamilton in the 150 years of American history."

Criticism falls as lightly on the back of the man who speaks for a billion dollars as water on the back of a domestic duck navigating the surface of an inland lake when the storm is on.

Houston Floats a Huge Bond Issue

FOR SEVEN YEARS stocks had the call of Wall street and bonds were relegated to the rear. Then came the speculative crash in the street and now bonds have the call again. Houston is a progressive city. Citizens of Houston and Harris county, by a vote of seven to one, floated a bond issue of $13,270,000 for an addition to the Houston water system, for paving in city and county, for a new city-county hospital, for a $3,000,000 expenditure for the navigation district, and for the construction of another huge grain elevator on the channel.

Houston is a tide water city. Deep sea vessels line its docks. It is one of the fast growing cities because it has water as well as rail rates. Upward turns in bond issues and prices are gladly welcomed by the business interests of the country. According to Julius Barnes, chairman of the Hoover business survey, January and February bond issues were 33 per cent larger than the same period last year. Bond prices formerly tending downward have turned upward in these last few weeks and "the general outlook in the investment field is favorable although bankers continue warnings against artificial stimulation."

Houston will be in the market with its huge bond issue, and those familiar with financial conditions say that the bonds will be taken like hot cakes at a country fair.

A Transcontinental Railroad

IF THE VAN SWERINGENS succeed in tying up a collection of separate railroads into one great transcontinental system a very old dream of railroad builders will be consummated.

Present indications are that this is just what these energetic brothers have in mind. One newspaper sketches their proposed grouping as follows:

The Lackawanna, from New York to Buffalo; the Nickel Plate, from Buffalo to St. Louis; the Missouri Pacific thence to Pueblo, Colo.; the Denver, Rio Grande & Western from Pueblo to Salt Lake City, and the Western Pacific thence to San Francisco.

Of course, there is no telling what the Interstate Commerce commission may say to all of this. But the project is fascinating, just the same. Many men have tried to weld together one great railroad system reaching from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast. It will be interesting to see if the Van Sweringens are to be the ones who will make the dream a reality.

The Girl With The Red Hair — by Rob Eden

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Pretty Gay Terris agrees to marry her wealthy employer, Frank Patterson, whom she does not love, in return for a loan of $5,000 to send her sick mother to Arizona. Through Paul Ladishaw, she meets Fania Crandall, prominent society woman, whom Gay resembles. She asks Gay to represent her at a ball, and in return will give her $200. After due consideration Gay accepts. Andy Grant, a friend of Gay, tells her he will be at the ball as press representative. At the masquerade she dances with Mark Loring, whom she casually met on another occasion and was attracted to, but is unable to reveal her identity because of her promise to keep silent. When she returns to Mrs. Crandall's, her suspicion is aroused when she discovers another costume in Fania's bedroom, which she remembers seeing at the ball. A valuable necklace is reported stolen at the ball, and Andy Grant interviews all the prominent guests, including Fania Crandall, for his paper. Mrs. Crandall learns from Gay that Mark Loring's name was omitted from the printed newspapers list. Gay learns to her surprise that Loring is Patterson's nephew. Patterson arranges a dinner party and there he tells Loring that he and Gay are to be married. Loring is astonished.

CHAPTER XIX

Gay kept her tears back until she stumbled blindly into her room. Then, giving way to her grief, she flung herself on the bed and sobbed. Her slight body was shaking pitifully, as she buried her face in the cheap coverlet.

Was love like this? Agonising, horrible. The terrible, terrible want for someone?

The kiss Mark had given her. Never, never would she forget it. She had lost him. That was all that mattered. He hated her, hated her for planning to marry Mr. Patterson. The contempt in his voice when he had told her she was mercenary, wanted Frank Patterson's money. He didn't understand, of course, and he never would. There would only be this awful memory of him, hating her, calling her a flirt.

In time, she supposed, she would forget him. No she wouldn't but she must try.

This ache, was this love? She knew it was.

After she had quieted a little and wiped some of the tears from her face she looked around the small bare room. The oak dresser, so homely, so scratched. The straight backed chair, so uncomfortable, that when she was in her room, she had to lie on the bed. The light bulb shaded with a hideous dusty shield.

Her eyes saw a letter lying on the floor near the door, and she got up aimlessly to look at it. Special delivery from her mother. Well, she wouldn't open it now—but she did. A few lines scrawled from Mrs. Terris' bed. A cheerful letter. At least mother was happy. That was something. Feeling better. Good.

Slowly the girl undressed. Her head ached from weeping. It was close in the room, even with the skylight open.

Sleep was impossible. There was Mark. She lay in the darkened room thinking about him.

That dance with him tonight. The third time she had danced with him. First at Coney Island, a few steps. Then at the mask ball, when he didn't know her. Tonight.

His eager, boyish eyes looking down into hers. A weary hand brushed back the hair that had blown across her face.

If only she had told him last night, when he had asked her about the ring. She could have made it seem kinder. But the way Mr. Patterson had said it—Mark would never forgive her.

The despair after Mark had left the car at his hotel tonight. Her mind blank, except for his kiss, the hard look in his eyes. And Patterson talking on. She couldn't marry him. She had told herself that a hundred times, a thousand times in the ride that had followed. Couldn't, couldn't. You couldn't marry without love. And she didn't love Frank Patterson. She didn't even like him, respect him. Tonight, she had loathed him.

Yet he had talked on, and after a while, she found herself listening to him, because now and then he had expected to be answered.

What was it he had said?

"Mark seemed surprised tonight when I told him about us, didn't he? He seems to fancy you, Gay, that's why I told him,—a warning."

Well, the warning had come too late. . . .

"I'm going to be very jealous, Gay. And I'm going to take good care of you. You won't mind my being jealous?" His hand was on hers, but she didn't mind. She didn't even think of it. Her thoughts were on Mark—and his kiss.

It was as if he was talking on and on, now when he had left her, and she was alone.

"I think we'd better not wait three months, Gay. What do you say?" It was quite a time before she understood what he meant. Then it came. He didn't want to wait three months to marry her. He wanted to marry her soon!

She had said nothing, but she had felt her pulse beating furiously against her temples, almost bursting them.

"You know I don't like sudden decisions. I always like plenty of time for people to get used to things. Like this marriage for instance. I hate to be talked about. I've always been conservative. Mother is the same way. She admired you very much the other evening. I asked her. What do you say to being married next month? The end of July. That'll be just a month off."

No use saying anything. Gay decided. He had made up his mind. That was enough. He took her silence for consent.

So instead of having three months freedom, she only had one. One little month. Even that wouldn't be entirely free, for she had to see Patterson occasionally.

He had suggested that she stop work and go out to the farm and spend the month with his mother. Mrs. Patterson would help her do her shopping and chaperone her.

But Gay had rebelled at this. The farm would be prison to her now. She would have enough of that later, when she married Patterson.

Patterson set the date for the wedding himself, July 28.

Gay climbed out of bed, and turned on the light. She had a calendar some place. In the drawer of the dresser. With a stubby black pencil she marked a ring around July 28. Her wedding date. Then she counted the days—32 left.

Impossible to sleep after that, so she sat hunched up on the bed, her hands folded under her knees; the calendar was beside her. Patterson's ring lay on the dresser, the flowers he had given her tonight, violets again—how she hated them—still pinned to her dress.

No way out. She had to go through with it. Mrs. Frank Patterson. In 32 days she would be just that. And with the engagement ring, she would be wearing a platinum circle on the third finger of her left hand.

In time she would get used to being his wife. Time they said, made a difference.

If she hadn't met Mark, hadn't known him, she might feel better about marrying Mr. Patterson. No memories, then. Mark . . .

A sudden thought flashed across her mind. She could run away from it, from Patterson. Hope seized her for a moment, but it faded almost as soon as it came. She couldn't do that. It wouldn't be fair. Her suggestion in the beginning—the money for her mother's trip. She would have to live up to her bargain.

Old enough to be her father, Mark had said. Yes, Mr. Patterson was old enough to be her father . . .

It was dawn before she finally went to sleep. She had watched it come, through the skylight. A reddish, nasty dawn that glowered at her, and flung fingers of fiery light into the little room.

Even her slee was not restful. There were those dreams—she shuddered when she thought of them in the morning when she was dressing to go to work, more weary than she had been the night before. Horrible dreams, as real as if she had lived them.

"Listen, Redhead, you'll lost your beauty if you don't take care."

At the office, she felt dull, lifeless, and her fingers would hardly move on her typewriter. Nita breezed in several minutes late, and threw a dazzling smile at Gay, as she passed.

"Lo," she sang out. Her effort to be friendly did not succeed as well as she thought it would. Gay evidently had not seen her.

"Listen, Redhead, you'll lose your beauty if you don't take care. You know don't you, or did you worry all last night about Mark Loring?"

"Know what?"

Gay was all attention. Nita couldn't know, there was no way of her knowing, unless she had spied—

"Haven't you been worrying about him?"

"I don't know what you mean."

"Andy was telling me last night—oh, yes—I still see Andy occasionally—that Mark Loring was arrested last night."

"Mark arrested! Why?"

"Why, Andy said the police suspect he's the robber they're looking for. The one that glombed onto the half-million-dollar necklace at the masquerade ball. Andy gave 'em the tip."

"You mean Mark was arrested for stealing?"

"That's what Andy said. Arrested on suspicion. He was with the detectives when they went to his room last night. Say! What's the matter? You're not going to faint, are you?" Nita looked alarmed.

No, she wasn't going to faint. No . . . but Gay leaned back dizzy. The room was whirling, round and round. . . .

Mark, arrested. . . .

Then she got hold of herself, and jumped to her feet. "Nita, tell Mr. Galway I'm ill and have to go home!" In a flash she was out of the room.

At least she could have a show down with Fania Crandall and Paul Ladishaw about this. She had to find out just how Fania was involved in this affair. That way, she might help Mark. He wouldn't steal. She knew it. No more than she, herself, would steal. . . .

Tomorrow—Gay accuses Fania Crandall.

Answers to Questions

Q.—Is El Brendel, the movie actor, a Swede?—M. H.

A.—He is an American. He was born in Philadelphia, Pa., March 25, 1891. He has made a specialty of Swedish characters since 1917. He made his vaudeville debut in 1911. He fought during the late war and returned to his Swedish roles. Strangely enough, Brendel is neither German nor Swedish, but is of Pennsylvania Dutch ancestry.

Q.—What part of the total does it cost to collect the income tax?—E. J. D.

A.—In 1929 it was estimated that it cost $1.17 to collect each $100 in income taxes.

Q.—Was illinium named for its discoverer?—F. M. S.

A.—It was discovered by Dr. Hopkins and his associates at the University of Illinois and named in honor of the university.

Q.—Is the negro population of Chicago as large as that of New York?—D. T. T.

A.—New York's is somewhat larger, but a larger percentage of Chicago's population is negro. In 1920, Chicago's negro population was 112,636, while New York's was 160,985.

Q.—Are any commemorative coins being struck this year?—J. S.

A.—The department of the treasury says that so far none has been authorized.

Q.—How long ago was the song Sweet Adeline written?—L. S.

A.—It was published in 1902 by Harry Armstrong and Dick Gerard.

Q.—What is the second largest port in the Hawaiian Islands?—B. E. H.

A.—Hilo is second in size, Honolulu ranking first.

Q.—Why do railroad companies burn up their old ties instead of selling them?—T. A. H.

A.—They sell them whenever possible to people living near the railroad. The moving and handling is too expensive to make it worth while to sell them otherwise. Few of them are good for anything except firewood.

Q.—In whose cabinet was Robert Todd Lincoln a secretary?—M. Z.

A.—He was secretary of war in Garfield's cabinet and continued to hold the post in the cabinet of President Arthur.

Q.—What is the United States doing to improve its waterways?—M. S.

A.—At Louisville, Ky., Oct. 23, 1929, President Hoover outlined his waterways program entailing the expenditure of about $20 000 000 a year. He said the Mississippi system comprises over 9 000 miles of navigable streams. About 2,200 miles have been modernized to a depth of nine feet and 1,400 to a depth of six feet. Some 3,000 miles yet remain. The entire Mississippi system should be completed within the next five years, forming a north and south trunk waterway. At the present time we have completed 746 miles of intracoastal canals; approximately 1,000 miles more should be built. The improvement of the channels of the Great Lakes should be continued and the obstacles of the St. Lawrence river should be removed so that ocean-going vessels can travel inward to the Great Lakes. Flood control on the lower Mississippi should be expedited. An unceasing development of harbors and littoral waterways should be continued. At present approximately $85 000 000 a year is being spent on new construction and maintenance of these works.

Q.—What is the highest peak in Arizona?—A. V. M.

A.—The San Francisco peak is the highest peak in Arizona. It is 5,000 feet above the Colorado plateau and is over 12 000 feet above sea level. It was thought by the Indians to be the third mountain created and was called by them the High Place of Snow. In 1539 it was named by Marcos de Nova, a Franciscan friar, as the Kingdom of San Francisco. The peak is also shown on some maps as Humphreys peak.

Q.—In what sort of packages was the food supply taken on the Byrd expedition put up?—T. R. P.

A.—The Canning Trade says that after a thorough survey of many types and designs of packing containers, the leaders of the expedition decided to pack the foodstuffs and other perishables, to the largest possible extent, in boxes of uniform size and type, so that they could be used as building units. This necessitated a container that would open on the side, making its contents accessible while the box fulfilled its dual purpose as a "brick" in the wall and as a container. The boxes were made of yellow pine a quarter inch thick, braced with cleats which framed the ends. The cleats were joined in grooves at the corners, but not nailed, thus permitting the side of the box to be opened and reclosed. Previous experience in polar exploration pointed to the need for a one-man package, as loads too heavy or bulky for one man to carry are left behind in an emergency.

Study Clubs Supplant Parties On Wednesday

Wednesday is club day in Wichita Falls. More study clubs meet on that day than on any other and women of all ages, from the slender little debutantes to their matronly mothers, do real study. All but one of the Wednesday clubs meet in the afternoon—the Readers club being always a morning affair.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

We know—you know—everyone knows that old saying about "Eat, drink and be merry," etc. We refuse to quote the remainder, but we feel we must make merry, or at least refuse to let any dolorous mood come over us, for tomorrow we visit a dentist.

◇ ◇ ◇

We have never in all our life blamed the person who was cross when he had a toothache or after a dentists's buzz saw had whirled in the sensitive hollows of a tooth. Such a sufferer has a legitimate grouch.

◇ ◇ ◇

But we forgot our anticipation early in the joyful story told us by a book page editor who has been carrying on a desultory correspondence with a literary lady in New York City.

◇ ◇ ◇

This New York person, realizing that New York is the center of the universe and only knowing Texas as a far country inhabited by cowboys and cacti, wrote our friend, asking her to send her some cacti.

◇ ◇ ◇

As another move toward friendship, the New Yorker said that she knew a girl in Houston and wondered if they were mutual acquaintances.

◇ ◇ ◇

That New York person doesn't know the alert young mind she was addressing as we do.

◇ ◇ ◇

The answer went forward promptly—though the cacti has not as yet. Though Houston, she told the friendly correspondent, is only about 500 miles from Wichita Falls, she didn't get over often. That, she said, didn't amount to much in a state where it is 900 miles from Texline to Brownsville and 600 from El Paso to Texarkana. But, she added in a paragraph, "I'm not president of the chamber of commerce."

◇ ◇ ◇

Speaking of cacti, makes us remember the wall paper in a cafe we know. It is the nightmare of some designer. Cactus blooms on it in pink cabbage roses; in big blue violets; in tall red spikes and in a sickly yellow flower. Beside the cacti, there are palm trees and bamboo trees and Japanese pagodas and Grecian temples and land and water.

◇ ◇ ◇

The most perfect rhythm we have seen of late was that of two mothers and two small girls who entered a beauty shop chewing gum in perfect time. One could not only see, but hear it.

Members of the Junior Travel club met at the forum in a study of Canada. "Facts on Canada," answered the roll call.

In the program, led by Mrs. G. H. Watson, Mrs. O. T. Ailes took the members in a cleverly told trip "Up the St. Lawrence to Montreal." Mrs. Wayne Somerville, in "Canada the Spellbinder," described the territory from Montreal west to Winnipeg, covering the full territory of Ontario. In finishing her talk, Mrs. Somerville presented members of the club with pen and ink sketches of Canadian scenes made by her brother, Ed Barlow, a graduate of the University of Texas. Mrs. Watson carried the tour west from Winnipeg, over the Canadian Pacific railway and presented the members with souvenir blotters, compliments of the department of the interior.

Members present were Mesdames O. T. Ailes, W. H. Caldwell, F. T. Datson, E. A. Deaton, E. T. Duff, J. D. Fennessy, Grover C. Johnson, W. J. Morgareidge, C. C. Myers, I. R. Sheldon, W. R. Smith, Wayne Somerville, G. H. Watson, G. H. Wilson, Norman Downing, D. O. Johnson and two guests, Miss Esther Williams and Mrs. Barlow, the mother of Mrs. Wayne Somerville.

The Modern Study Club

Miss Marjorie Bright was hostess to members of the Modern Study club at her home on the Speedway. A book review of "The Three Musketeers," was given in splendid reports by three of the members.

Mrs. Ralph Frame told of the life of the author while Mrs. John Willis discussed the plot and characterization of the book. The valuation and comparison were given by Miss Ruth Moore.

After a pleasant social half hour, refreshments were served to Mesdames George Arms, Dick Carpenter, Gertrude Hines Davidson, Ralph Frame, Robert Mathis, H. N. Seevers, Gose Waggoner, John Willis, Frank Wood, Ernest Robertson and R. P. Chancellor and Misses Adele Jerrell, E. E. Miller, Lucille Smith, Margaret Smith, Retta Barnard, Marjorie Bright, Mary Tancred, and Ruth Moore.

Unity Junior Club

The French theater was the subject studied by members of the Unity Junior, who met at the home of Mrs. W. U. McCutchen on Speedway.

Mrs. G. W. Gutzman discussed the "Present Revival of the French Stage," and Mrs. F. J. Elbert gave an interesting outline of Moliere's "Tartuffe," the heavy comedy of which was a splendid background for "The Escape," one of the light plays of Brieux, selected by Miss Florence Sammons and reviewed by her in a delightful manner.

A pleasant social hour was spent before refreshments were served to Mesdames C. L. Anderson, J. E. Barnard, J. M. Bonner, J. H. S. Bonner, C. W. Cahoon, J. P. Coleman, F. J. Elbert, G. W. Gutzman, J. L. Jackson Jr., W. U. McCutchen, A. D. Montgomery, R. M. Myers, S. S. Staley, L. R. Stringer, J. H. White, Miss Florence Sammons and one guest, Mrs. Ralph Dunkelberg.

The Century Club

Mrs. Almond Gates was charming hostess to members of the Century club in a splendid program on "Artistic England." In the absence of Mrs. Anderson Kemp, Mrs. Cecil Putty was leader in the afternoon program.

Mrs. Warner Zimmer gave a paper on "Fabrics of England" and Miss Mary Jo Kell gave a particularly interesting talk on "Types and Periods of English Furniture."

After a social half hour, refreshments were served to Mesdames Warner Zimmer, Jimmie Allred, John Barnard, H. B. Dudley, Almond Gates, Darrold Kahn, Van Lesley, Cecil Putty, King Smith, J. C. Strauss Jr., and Sam Man and Misses Marguerite McDonald, Mary Jo Kell and Gene Nelson.

Grant Street Cradle Roll Is Entertained

Mrs. Raymond Wood entertained the cradle roll of the Grant Street Methodist church with their mothers at the church Wednesday afternoon. Easter decorations were used to make a pretty setting.

After a short program, contests were held for the children and mothers. Wayne Wood received the children's prize and Mrs. John Singleton that of the mothers.

In the refreshment plate served, the Easter motif was stressed and fuzzy yellow chicks were given as favors.

Those present were Mesdames C. G. Stokes, J. O. Burnett, J. W. Hickey, J. G. Monkress, John Singleton, Raymond Wood, Burton and Charles Stokes, Wayne Burnett, Jimmy Dean Hickey, Romola Joe Monkress, John Robert Singleton, Raymond Howe Jr., and Wayne, Billy and Earl Wood.

Henrietta P.-T. A. Will Sponsor Old Fiddlers' Contest

Members of the P.-T. A. of Henrietta are as usual alert to create public interest, and their latest announced entertainment is the old Fiddlers' contest, which they have arranged for the evening of Friday, April 11, in the high school auditorium. The contest, in which cash prizes are offered, is open to all contestants and no entrance fee will be required. Prizes are announced as follows: First prize, $5; second prize, $3, and third prize, $2.

The public is invited to attend the contest and hear the music given by the old fiddlers. Only 25 cents will be charged in admission and the entire proceeds go to the Parent-Teacher association of Henrietta.

Mrs. J. W. Douthitt, Henrietta; telephone 127, or Mrs. W. S. Culwell, phone 304, members of the committee in charge, will give any information in regard to the contest.

With the talent known to be extant by "Old Fiddlers" in this section of the state, a splendid program is expected, it was said.

Red Cross Expert To Open Nutrition Course

Miss Pearl Rorabaugh, Red Cross nutritionist, will begin a series of lectures especially designed for mothers interested in nutrition Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the Memorial auditorium.

The lectures will be given through the courtesy of the nutrition committee of the Red Cross board which has invited every mother interested in this subject to attend. For those who do not have transportation, special arrangements will be made if the person will call Mrs. T. H. Lawson, 2883, Mrs. Leon Deaton, 6492, or Mrs. William Huff at 6312.

A nursery will be maintained for children or babies who can not be left at home.

The lecture subjects for the next few weeks have been outlined as follows:

April 3—Classes of Foods and Factors Influencing Food Requirements.

April 10—The Growth and Health Promoting Foods, including a study of the vitamins and food fads.

April 17—Energy, Tissue-Building and Mineral Foods.

April 24—Value of Specified Foods Such as Milk, Meats, Fish and Eggs.

May 1—Fruits and Vegetables as "Protective Foods."

May 8—Food Combinations—The Adequate Diet for the Adult.

May 15—Food Selection for Children.

May 22—Results of an Inadequate Diet.

Mrs. Putty Hostess To Readers Club

Mrs. Cecil Putty was hostess Tuesday morning at her home on Talunar lane when members of the Readers club heard an unusually entertaining program.

Ella Merle Mathis Bristol gave three poems, "The City Is a Lady" and "Silver Poplars," by Grace Noll Crowell, and "The Stowaway," by Roselle Montgomery.

Mrs. J. T. Harrell gave a cutting from Dickins' "David Copperfield," and Miss Marguerite Fisher completed the program with a monologue, "The Patroness," by Alice Gerstensberg.

The classic beauty of the first number, poems like etchings against a moonlight sky; the feeling of Dickens and the mirth of the last number, made a particularly well balanced morning's entertainment.

Members present were Mesdames J. S. Crumpler, A. D. Duck, J. T. Harrell, Cecil Putty, Charles Reid, John Rhea, Claude Ruffner, John Thomas, J. G. Oakley, Ben Bell; Misses Katherine Sue Ralston, Dorothy Nolen, Marguerite Fisher, Mary Hamilton, Ella Merle Mathis Bristol and one guest, Miss Jeanette Moore.

Two Guests Honored At Bridge-Dance

Mrs. J. W. Dorsey and Mrs. M. K. Price were joint hostesses in a pretty bridge and dancing party Tuesday night at Mrs. Dorsey's home, honoring Mrs. Harry Straw sister of Mrs. Price, on her birthday, and Roy Miller, the son and house guest of Mrs. Dorsey, on a visit here from New York City. The living suite was beautifull decorated with an abundance of spring flowers.

Bridge was played during the evening at tables where the Easter motif was observed in the place cards and tallies. Both Mrs. Straw and Mr. Miller were given handsome gifts and in the games, H. W. Tatum was winner of the high score and Mrs. Milliron fortunate in the cut, each receiving a pretty prize.

A refreshment plate carrying out the Easter suggestions and with pretty Easter favors was served to Messrs. and Mesdames J. W. Dorsey, M. K. Price, Charles J. Milliron, Harry Straw, Charles A. Morgan, J. R. Greer; Misses Clara Krajka, Anna Belle McCord, Clydia Hale, Louise Banner, Wanda Faye Heck and Messrs. Roy Miller, Jack Lacey and H. W. Tatum.

Dancing was enjoyed by the younger crowd until a late hour.

"Don't ask me why!"

Excuses a man seems never to understand; explanations that are embarrassing. Women who have learned of Midol avoid these unpleasant experiences!

Midol is not a narcotic, but it does banish the suffering which too often attends the menstrual period. It acts quite harmlessly, but effectively, on the organs affected. Safe, but swift; complete comfort comes in five to seven minutes. You will get this relief regardless of how hard a time you've always had. These wonderful tablets do nothing to hinder the normal, natural process of menstruation, so it's only common sense to use them.

If you would spare yourself all suffering at this time, get Midol in a trim little case of aluminum for purse or pocket. Fifty cents at any drug store.—Adv.

SCHOOLS SEEK FLOWER PRIZES

Junior C.-C. Plans Work for 'City Beautiful'

Pupils of the ward schools of Wichita Falls will enter into competition for several prizes to be awarded for best results in a "City Beautiful" campaign which is being sponsored by the Junior chamber of commerce civic improvements committee, according to plans adopted at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon.

Working in cooperation with the "beautification and modernization" program of the civic improvements committee of the senior chamber of commerce, the junior body will encourage not only the maintenance of attractive school grounds, but cleaning and cultivation of flowers on home properties.

Prizes will be offered to the school showing the greatest improvement in school grounds' appearance; the child under 10 years raising the best zinnias; the child over 10 years raising the best zinnias; and to the Boy Scout troop showing the greatest improvement in the appearance of a vacant lot.

Members of the committee will visit the various ward schools to explain the purposes of the contest, and will distribute pledge cards which pupils will be asked to sign indicating their willingness to cooperate in a "City Beautiful" effort. Such cards will be returned to the Junior chamber of commerce. Instructions for preparation of ground, planting and cultivation of flowers, etc., will be furnished all school children in circular form, it was said, and about the middle of June a flower show will be held in the downtown district for exhibition and judging of the flowers raised by the contestants. Seeds are to be sold in all the city ward schools, at five cents per package, it was announced. Mrs. R. P. Willis, Miss Maude Thomas, E. A. Bebb, and Guy P'Pool were named as a committee to make arrangements for the flower show.

Slides and motion picture reels obtained from Texas university by Mrs. Wenonah R. Ware, member of the committee, will be used in the ward schools to familiarize pupils with plant growth and methods of flower culture.

The "City Beautiful" campaign will be discussed by radio from station KGKO next Saturday night during the Junior chamber of commerce hour, 7:30 to 8:00, it was announced.

Those present at Wednesday's meeting were Dr. Bailey R. Collins, chairman; Mrs. R. P. Willis, Mrs. Wenonah R. Ware, E. A. Bebb, Eli Morgan, Dr. C. R. Lanpere, S. B. Anderson, Fred Reaser, Dr. Easley, Guy P'Pool and Miss Maude Thomas.

Letter on Rice Grain

LONDON.—A letter of greetings was recently received by F. O. Roberts, minister of pensions, written on a single grain of rice. It came in a glass tube, accompanied by a magnifying glass, from Delhi, India. On it was inscribed: "May God bless a long, happy, and prosperous life."

This Man Ends Stomach Trouble In A New Way

"There were few things I could eat without gas forming very badly," says H. K. White, of 2519 Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill., then he continues, "A dose of Acidine, which was given to me when I had one of these spells, was the beginning of a different story. I have been taking Acidine night and morning since then, and I don't know what it is to have a sour stomach now, no matter what I eat."

Pain after eating, indigestion caused by too much acid, gassy belching are signs of an acid stomach. Sweeten it the new way with Acidine. Acidine is sold at all drug stores or Health Laboratories, Inc., Pittsburgh, Pa.

How to Darken Gray Hair

By BERYL WEST

I repeat what I have often said — there's no excuse today for a woman submitting to gray hair and looking older than she feels. Gray, faded or streaked hair may be so perfectly restored to color that it need be only your own boudoir secret. Nothing more or less than a mixture of sage tea and sulphur is the magic.

One may either prepare the mixture at home, or as most people prefer to do, buy it already prepared and ready to use. Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur is the name of the ready-to-use preparation and since all druggists sell it at 75c a bottle, there is really no need of going to the trouble of making it yourself.

You simply moisten a comb or soft brush with it, and draw it through the hair, one strand at the time. One application banishes the gray and one or two more completely restores your gray, faded or streaked hair to its original color. There is no artificial, dyed look. The whole effect is one of perfect naturalness. My readers would be surprised if they knew of the thousands of men and women who use this preparation.—Adv.

In a brief address which followed the election Wednesday, Doctor Simpson said: "There is an undefinable something, an influence here in Wichita Falls which is the most magnetic I have ever found in any city."

Plans of the publicity committee of the chamber of commerce for "re-selling Wichita Falls citizens on their own community" were outlined by Jacob B. Price. Solon R. Featherston also made a short talk. Guests were introduced by Marvin Smith, president.

Entertainment at Wednesday's luncheon consisted of musical numbers by Frank Bird, Guy Wilkins and Miss Lorene Tucker. A club singsong was led by R. D. Ford.

"OUGHT TO TRY CARDUI AGAIN"

Mother's Advice to Daughter Was Followed, and She Soon Got Better

North Little Rock, Ark.—"Shortly after my marriage, my health wasn't very good," writes Mrs. W. E. Burgin, 315 West Second street, this city. "I had severe cramping spells, and at times I would have to go to bed. This would be very weakening.

"I took about five bottles of Cardui at this time and my strength came back. I did not have any more trouble for some time."

Several years later, Mrs. Burgin found herself debilitated by heavy home responsibilities, and she explains: "I seemed very slow in getting my strength back. I was too weak to do anything but just lie around. I would get very nervous over my condition.

"My mother told me I ought to try Cardui again. I did, and soon was getting better. When I had taken about four bottles of Cardui, I was able to do my work again, and haven't had to take it any more."

Thousands of women have written to tell how they had been benefited by taking Cardui.

SYNOVITIS AND BURSITIS

The nerves which supply the synovial joint are peculiar in that they can be squeezed, cut and touched with but very little pain, yet they cause much distress whenever the joint is injured by a sprain (which dislocates it from its usual position) or, whenever the ligaments are stretched beyond their normal give. These nerves act like jealous watchdogs which raise an uproar whenever the joint is in danger of being dislocated, lying quietly at other times.

Synovitis causes an acute pain because the swelling may push the sac out until it looks something like a tumor, and the blood also becomes congested, causing a greater swelling so that these nerves and ligaments in this area are greatly stretched.

Since bursitis and synovitis greatly resemble each other they both respond to the same treatments. When there is a chronic inflammation of these tissues, you will generally find that the condition has been built up from a chronic poisoning due to retention of toxic wastes.

The quickest way to cleanse the blood stream of these toxic substances is to start on a fruit fast which should be continued from eight to 15 days, and then a careful diet used for a month, and then another short fast of about five days. It is important to take an enema in the morning so that the bowels are kept free from toxins. No walking or exercising of the affected joint should be used as long as the inflammation is present, although other parts of the body may be exercised.

A very good electrical treatment over the affected joint is with the use of diathermy, since this form of treatment creates an internal heat and brings a greater supply of blood to the part to aid in absorption of poisons and toxins present. If diathermy is not available, hot applications or a deep therapy lamp may be used around the joint, although in either of these cases the heat is not as penetrating as with diathermy. Even after chronic synovitis is entirely cured, it is necessary that a careful diet be used for quite some time.

In acute synovitis the correct treatment is to rest the part, and instead of hot applications, it is usually better to use cold applications. A wet towel wrapped around the knee, for example, and covered with two or three thicknesses of dry woolen material makes an excellent cold compress. The fast should be used the same as for chronic synovitis.

As the soreness leaves, gentle rubbing or massage may be used to good effect but this should never be used over a tender area. It is better to use the massage around the circumference of the tender area, on the parts where there is no pain. Acute synovitis being usually due to injury or strain, usually recovers quickly if the part is rested and this treatment followed.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Numb Arms

Question: K. L. J. asks—"What causes my arms to get numb up to the elbow every night. Also, what would overcome this?"

Answer—The trouble you write of is either due to some heart derangement or to a pressure of the arm nerves as they issue from the upper spine. Have an examination by a doctor who understands how to examine the spine for nerve impingement. He should also examine you for any heart disorder, and should be able to tell you exactly the cause of your trouble.

Chayotes

Question: J. L. writes—"Where can I get chayotes?"

Answer—Chayotes are members of the non-starchy squash family and are a very delicious addition to the everyday diet. They are procurable only in the Southwest, where they can be purchased in the market during the early fall season, and are often called "Mexican squash," as they are found growing naturally throughout Mexico.

Red Patch Around Scratch

Question: V. B. writes—"I was scratched on the leg with a rusty wire, and now there is a red patch around it, with a continual burning pain. I have taken treatments from several doctors, but nothing seems to be doing it any good. What treatment would you advise? I am 48 years old."

Answer—The scratch may have been deep enough to have injured a nerve which has not yet healed. This will no doubt heal in time and the pain disappear. Certain electrical treatments might be given, such as with the galvanic current. These treatments can often be given to harden the nerve tissues in certain local spots so that these nerves are not so sensitive.

Polish Political Situation Upset

WARSAW, March 21. (INS)—Poland's chaotic governmental situation suffered another setback today when it was indicated Professor Szymanski, marshal of the senate, had failed in his efforts to form a new cabinet. M. Szymanski was asked to undertake the task upon the resignation of Premier Casimir Bartel, March 11.

Szymanski was reported to have brought recalcitrant members of the seim into line with his policies and was ready to announce personnel of his cabinet, but his efforts were nullified by the actions of Marshal Pilsudski, who continues his bitter fight against parliament.

Marshal Pilsudski was to have had the war portfolio in the Szymanski government, but he laid down conditions cutting the powers of the seim which were unacceptable to that body. This renewal of political warfare between Pilsudski and parliament made Szymanski's task hopeless.

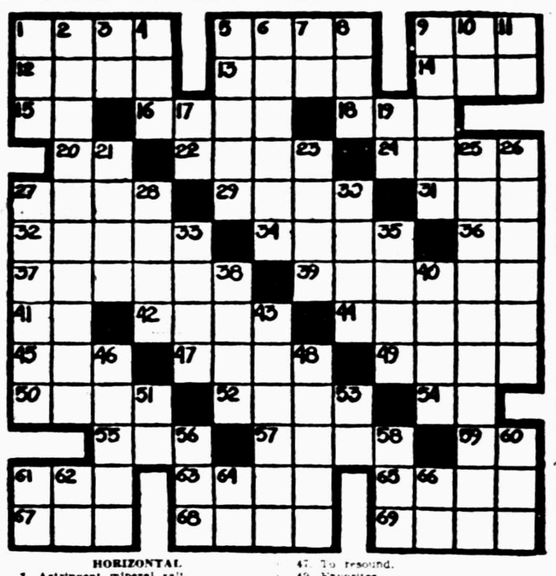

Oklahoma City Police Honor Slain Officer

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 26. (UP)—Police Chief Becker and Night Chief Clarence Hurt, accompanied by 16 patrolmen, left Oklahoma City today for Fort Cobb, as an escort for the body of Patrolman J. D. Gates, 27.

Gates, fatally wounded Saturday night in a gun battle with two bandits, was to be buried late today. The Rev. C. H. Evans, Leonard, Texas, returned to Fort Cobb to conduct the services.

TEXAS MEET ATTRACTS NATIONS' TRACK AND FIELD STARS

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED D. THOMPSON

Harry Kane, dean of the Texas league umpires, is officiating on the the Spudder lot this week for the first time this season. He will be with us for some time, and we are glad. Because if there ever was an umpire proficient at growling, it is Uncle Harry.

We do not mean that Uncle Harry is grouchy. By that word growling we meant to describe the manner in which he calls the balls and plays. When he calls a strike it is like the roaring of ten thousand virile and well fed lions. It starts way down in his throat—a vague mumble like a warning of an approaching volcano. Gradually the roar takes on form and you begin to have an inkling of what he is going to say. And at last it comes: "Stuh-rr-IKE!" When it's a ball, the roar is shorter, but just as effective. There is no warning that the roar is coming. He simply booms forth: "BAWL!" It's a deep, throaty sound, like a cowboy's curse when his hoss won't stand still. It's great!

Umps are usually quite gracious fellows off of the diamond, but they have to put on a rough veneer on the lot, and they have to put up with all sorts of rows. Uncle Harry is no exception. He umped his first game of the season here Tuesday, and in that first game there was the foredestined argument, albeit the players were merely kidding and wanting to have a good time. It was when Jimmy Parker smote the ball, said ball hitting Umpire Cromer, who was behind the pitcher. Uncle Harry was stationed behind the catcher. The latter, following the rules, held Jimmy safe at first, whereupon there was a great hue and cry and the infielders came in red of face and shouting at Uncle Harry; but Uncle Harry shouted right back at 'em, and the game went on.

Uncle Harry has had something to do with baseball for lo these many years. In other days, back in the early 1900's, he was a big league pitcher, having toed the rubber for the now world's champion Philadelphia Athletics. He is sparse of figure, and you'll be surprised to hear such a great roar as we described above emanating from such a tiny-looking man. If you haven't heard him roar you've missed something.

League President J. Alvin Gardner and Guy Airey, Spudder secretary, have gone to San Antonio on business, so they ain't no news, as we say on the farm, up at the baseball offices. Except that Arthur Huff, our road secretary, is expecting a crop of grey hairs from working so hard doing his work and Guy's too. Incidentally, there is much detail work going on in both the Spudder and the Texas league offices. Secretary Huff is up to his neck in box office sales and other details pertaining to the opening of the season; and the Texas league office, in charge of Milton Price, J. Alvin's secretary, is busy corresponding with other Texas league clubs in the state, and putting them right on how to conduct the baseball business during the onrushing season. The season, incidentally, is splendidly onrushing. Not long to wait now. And Milton is having to mail all the clubs their attendance rosters, in which the total attendance, etc., at each game must be noted.

People who think that baseball is just a jumped-up affair between a couple of ball clubs would certainly be surprised to learn how efficient these baseball officials must be.

The Gleaners

This department admits with candor that it does not keep well posted on the latest gastronomical fads known as diets, and hence we were not informed until today that among our women folk there has arisen a great passion for eating alfalfa, known otherwise as hay; and that the wimmin are somehow digesting it by the bales. It is alleged, according to our informant, that the eaters thereof are rewarded through seeing their hair regain its natural color, by a sudden change for the better in their complexion, and by a general feeling of wim, wigor and witality theretofore absent. The alfalfa, otherwise hay, it is said, is being cooked in the manner that spinach is prepared, inserted in breakfast foods, boiled in the morning coffee, or, among the more pastoral, eaten outright as is.

We accepted this information not, as some reporters would have, with great amazement, but as confirmation of an idea that we have long entertained, but not expressed awaiting sufficient evidence to sustain it.

The idea, in brief, that the wimmin of the plains are slipping to the level of the plainsmen, who as the discoverers of the sweet taste of hay were the first hayseeds, and that slowly but surely they are becoming the same.

COMPETITION STARTS FRIDAY

1,000 Athletes Entered From Schools and Colleges.

AUSTIN, March 26. (AP)—Premiere track and field stars of the colleges and universities of the nation will meet in Austin Friday. The entries total 1,000 athletes.

It was announced today by officials that Simpson of Ohio State, holder of the world record for the 100-yard dash with the time of 9.4 seconds, would not participate in the meet as no entry had been received from Ohio State university. Last year at the relays, Simpson was nosed out by Clyde Bracey, of Rice, present holder of the relay title for this event.

17 States Represented

The entry list contains the names of 48 universities and colleges and 44 high schools. Seventeen states have entered teams in the meet.

Thirty-one men have been entered in the 100-yard dash, including Bracey and Cy Leland of Texas Christian university who recently defeated Bracey in a match at Fort Worth. Bracey's record for the distance is 9.5 seconds but Leland beat him in the special match with a mark of 9.6 seconds.

One of the greatest personal duels will be staged when Tom Warne of Northwestern and Canby of Iowa meet in the pole vault. The two are co-holders of the record with a vault of 13 feet 3½ inches. Canby also holds the Western conference record with a mark of 13 feet 7½ inches but was defeated by Warne this spring at the indoor meet of the University of Illinois by a few inches.

One of the features of the meet will be the shuttle hurdle race which is run on the same style as the relay events with four men from each school entered. The distance will be over the 440-yard course. This event was added at the request of Henry Schulte, coach of the University of Nebraska squad and referee of the relays. While Nebraska is admittedly the best entry in this event, the Cornhuskers will be given serious opposition by teams from Iowa, Illinois, Iowa State and Wisconsin.

Exhibition Match

A special exhibition match has been arranged between Nelson Greer, Southern A. A. U., champion in the 440-meter run; Clyde Blanchard, Los Angeles Athletic club and former captain of the University of Arizona track team and Robert Greenwade, coach of the San Antonio Junior college, representing the San Francisco Athletic club. Greenwade holds the Swedish record in the 300-yard run with a time of 30.1 seconds. This feature race will be over the 660-yard course.

Bert Nelson of Butler university, Indianapolis, holder of the world record in the indoor high jump, has been entered while the University of Indiana has entered a squad led by Todd, 1929 all-round champion of the Texas relays and one of the best athletes ever developed in the North, and Shapman, ace of the Hoosier cross country trotters. Todd will be entered in the pole vault, shot putt and discus throwing events while Shapman is expected to prove the leading contender for honors in the 3,000-meter run.

In McDermont, the University of Illinois has a potential champion in the pole vault class. McDermont recently crossed the bar at 15 feet 4 inches which should be high enough to afford serious difficulty to the best of the pole vaulters. Illinois also has entered Sentman in the 75-yard high hurdles. He holds the world indoor championship in this event.

Champ Squad Enters

Texas A. and M., Southwest conference track champions, have entered a full squad led by Farmer, holder of the conference record in the broad jump with a leap of 23 feet 10¼ inches; Slocomb, hurdler and Floyd, ace of the conference javelin throwers. Floyd flings the javelin with exceptional ability, his mark being 204 feet 4½ inches.

Only a doctor knows what a laxative should be

YOU don't want to use a laxative every day. Nor once a week. This should not be necessary. And it never would be required if all of us would learn the danger that lies in a careless selection of laxatives.

By taking the first thing that comes to mind when bad breath, headaches, dizziness, nausea, biliousness, gas on stomach and bowels, poor appetite, or lack of energy warns us that our bowels are sluggish, we risk forming the laxative habit.

Rely on a doctor's judgment in choosing your laxative. Here's one made from the prescription of a specialist in bowel and stomach trouble. Its originator tried it in many thousands of cases. He found it safe for women, children and old folks; thoroughly effective for the most robust man. There were so many calls for this prescription and its fame spread so rapidly that druggists began to fill it in quantities; kept it ready for calls. Now Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is prepared from the freshest herbs and other pure ingredients under ideal conditions. You can get the generous bottles of it from drug stores in any part of the world.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a real corrective of constipation. Millions have proved this. That's why it is today the world's most popular laxative!

Slogan Contest Interests Many Fans

Spudder fans all over Northwest Texas and Southwestern Oklahoma are joining in the Spudder opening day slogan contest, until the mails are daily flooded with entries.

And there are still nine more days in which to submit slogans, the athletic committee of the chamber of commerce, which is sponsoring the contest, having announced Wednesday that the contest will close at midnight, April 4.

The committee fostered the contest in an effort to win one of the $250 cash prizes offered by the Texas league for the largest attendance at the oepning game April 9. The Texas league cities have been divided into two groups. Winning cities in the two groups will be be given the cash prize for use in their respective community chests.

You are invited to send in any number of slogan. The coupon is printed herewith for your convenience. Mail your slogan to The Record News-Times. The winner of the contest will be awarded six box seats to the opening game here with the Shreveport Sports.

Among the slogans submitted Wednesday were the following:

R. T. Craig Jr., 2004 Taft: (1) "Spudders don't turn a hair, we'll all be there." (2) "Spudders, you win it, we'll do our bit."

O. V. Rhoads, 1920 Tenth: (1) "Hip hip, hooray! April the ninth is the opening day." (2) "Spud in with the Spudders at Spudderville's opening day." (3) "The Spudders are a walking, talking, breathing advertisement for Wichita Falls." (4) "The whole affair will be complete with every fan in his seat."

Send In Your Slogan And Boost Campaign!

The chamber of commerce athletic committee that is working for Wichita Falls to win the Texas league's opening day attendance prize, needs your help. They need a battle cry to carry on their campaign to bring out a record crowd of fans for opening day at Athletic park, April 9. For that slogan they will give six box seats to the opening day game.

Think of something appropriate — something short and snappy, and send it to the Times and Record News. Help the Spudders. Help yourself. Send as many suggestions as you like. Fill in the blank and mail or bring it in.

I suggest the following slogan for the Spudders' opening day attendance campaign:

Spudder Squad Crowds in Brief Workout Despite Cold and Rain

It was a great workout for the Spudders Wednesday afternoon, while it lasted. The bitter cold which kept the squad indoors all morning had subsided somewhat early in the afternoon, and it was just chilly enough to put the boys in great form. The pitchers hurled with ginger in the batting practice, and the fielders didn't mind running because it kept them warm.

Cold Stops Play

But as the afternoon wore on the cold increased until some of the players swore they saw flakes of snow filtering from the heavens. Then light showers commenced, and the two-hour workout ended.

There was more bunting than usual in the batting practice, Skipper Williams having stuck to his announced determination to give the pitchers a rehearsal in recovering the pushes. Eddie Lennon and Ed Ellis occupied the mound for the majority of the session. The infield was a conglomeration composed of the regulars, Burns, Storti, Levey and Euller, with others taking the positions as the mood moved them. Skipper Carl capered for a while at third, and did a little batting.

Hal Wiltse kept the surplus infielders busy while the batting practice was going on, and also supplied the outfielders with some high ones. The remainder of the squad formed fungo hitting jousts or tossed or ran around.

Game Today

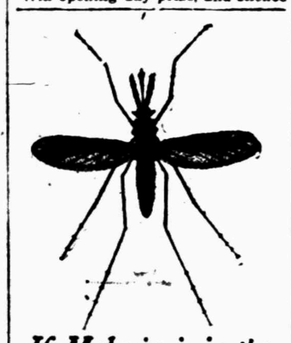

A nine-inning practice game is scheduled for Thursday, weather permitting. Another likely will be played Friday as final preparation for two contests here Saturday and Sunday with the St. Paul Saints of the American association.

The two clashes with the Saints, in turn, will serve as excellent preparation for a joust with the New York Yankees here the following Thursday.

Carroll Burrows, rookie first baseman, was still warming the bench Wednesday as the result of injuries sustained in a collision Monday. Burrows was knocked unconscious when he and Larry Bettencourt came together in the outfield while maneuvering to catch a fly. His left eye was injured, and a spike found its way into his left foot. A minor operation likely will have to be performed on the foot, he said, obviating the possibility of him getting back into uniform for at least several days.

S. M. U. Mustangs Beat Dallas Steers, 6 to 4

DALLAS, March 26. (AP)—The Southern Methodist university Mustangs humbled the Dallas Steers, 6 to 4, today in a six-inning practice tilt. Diffey, Mustang right-hander, limited the Steers to five singles. The game marked the Ponies' first victory over the Steers in six starts. The game being played under grey skies and in the face of a biting wind.

POLO RIDERS BATTLE TO TIE

Kelly Field Squad to Play Here Sunday

The Whites and the Blues rode to a 4 to 4 tie score in a polo practice game Wednesday afternoon. Jerall Gose, playing at No. 3 for the Blues scored three goals and Cecil Wilfong, No. 1, scored one to match two scores each for Hubert Stringer, No. 1 for the Whites, and Charles Featherston No. 4.

Rain threatened to stop the game before the last chukker was played, but did not wet the field enough to make it dangerous for the riders. Other players for the Blues were Horrace Robbins, No. 2, Dr. J. H. Fletcher, No. 4 and V. C. Wardell, substitute. Others in the lineup for the Whites were John Fastnow, No. 2, Ernest Fain and Gerald Coffey, alternating at No. 3.

The Kelly field quartet from San Antonio will arrive here Saturday or Sunday for a matched game Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The San Antonians are rated as one of the best teams in the Southwest, carrying a total handicap of 11 goals. They will come in a fleet of three airplanes. The visitors are to be mounted with ponies belonging to the Wichita polo club members.

BANQUET GIVEN FOR BOWLERS

City League Game Played After Meeting

Plans for the city-wide bowling tournament at the Spudder alleys March 31, April 1 and 2 were discussed Wednesday night at a banquet for bowlers of the city held at the Elks' club. Enthusiasm over the prospect of the championship matches was apparent at the meeting, which was attended by approximately 50 Wichitans interested in the sport.

In the absence of Jules Constantine, president of the Wichita Falls Bowling association, Vice President E. F. Fruechte acted as toastmaster at the banquet.

The bowling tournament is to be held under the sponsorship of the Record News-Times, and its chief purpose is to raise funds for sending Wichita Falls bowling teams to the state tournament at Beaumont early next month.

After the banquet Wednesday evening the bowlers retired to the Spudder alleys, where the scheduled City league matches were held. In this competition the Elks club team held its position as league leader by winnig three games from the Buick team. The Huff Insurance company team made a serious threat by defeating the Morgan florists a like number of games. The Ferguson Ice Cream company five took three games from Spectralite, Inc.

Women Golfers Fail in Efforts To Better Miss Orcutt's Record

SOUTHERN PINE, N. C., March 26. (AP)—Lounging comfortably around the club house today, Miss Maureen Orcutt of Haworth, N. J., saw her brilliant 154 for the first 36 holes of the Women's hid-South golf tournament here withstand the assaults of a half dozen entries, including the American champion, Miss Glenna Collett, and retain for her the leadership at the end of the second round play.

The tall blonde shotmaker from New Jersey shot a great 76 yesterday before the gale-like wind and rain descended and caused tournament officials to offer optional replay today to players caught on the fairways by the elements. The 76, coupled with her low 78 Monday, enabled Miss Orcutt to top the field.

Miss Collett faced weather conditions today almost as bad as yesterday, a cold, driving windstorm swept the links as she made her round in 84, three strokes less than she took yesterday. The 84 with her 80 Monday placed her in fifth position with 164, 10 strokes behind the leader.

Three other scores made in spite of the elements yesterday placed the owners in the forefront and within striking distance of the leader. Four strokes behind Miss Orcutt is Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, with 160, while Miss Marian Bennett, young star from New England, is third with 161. Mrs. John Arends of Chicago is next with 163, while Miss Collett, dropping from second place at the end of the first round, is fifth at the completeion of the 36 holes play.

Among others at the top are Miss Louise Fordyce of Youngstown, Ohio, with 166 and Miss Edith Quier of Reading, Pa., with 169. Playing her worst tournament golf in many months, Miss Helen Hicks, Hewlitt, L. I., star, was 16 strokes behind the leader with 170.

Exporters Work Out Despite Chilling Winds

ORANGE, Texas, March 26. (AP)—Two good workouts were held by the Exporters today despite chilling winds. Tomorrow the club opens a four-game series with the Kansas City Blues, the first game to be played in Lake Charles, the next here Friday, and the third and fourth in Beaumont Saturday and Sunday. Southpaw Joe Blackwell was released under option today to Lake Charles while Pitchers Nelson and Miller Rookies, were released outright.

Cubs Open Exhibition Series With Chisox

WACO, Texas, March 26 (AP)—Cold weather today made baseball practice almost impossible but the boys were out just the same.

Manager Pratt declares he will have no more announcements to make regarding disposal of players until after the series of exhibition games the Cubs are now about to engage in. They play the Chicago White Sox Friday and take on the Baltimore Orioles Saturday and Sunday. The Cubs play the New York Yankees next Wednesday, and a benefit game has been arranged with Baylor Bears April 4.

Ham-Handed Carnera Floors Trafton For Kayo in First Round of Battle

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 26. (UP)—Primo Carnera, the ham-handed mountain man from Italy, scored his twelfth victory of his American ring tour here tonight when he knocked out George Trafton, Chicago heavyweight boxer, after 54 seconds of fighting in the first round had elapsed.

Trafton failed to land a punch.

Carnera met his Chicago opponent with a weak left which floored Trafton. He recovered after the referee had counted twice over him and staggered to his feet.

George cut loose with a round-house right which missed and he clinched to drop to the canvas for a count of 10 after Carnera had pushed him about the ring with rights and lefts.

Carnera had a 42-pound weight advantage of his shorter opponent, the Italian scaling 271 pounds and Trafton 229 pounds.

More than 8,000 fight fans paid $15,000 to see the fight. The fistic display did not meet with their hearty approval and they cheered the victor mildly as he was helped from the ring.

Trafton was white and shaking when he entered the ring, and never recovered his composure, seizing the first opportunity to do a kellerman.

He entered the ring ahead of Carnera and was greeted by cat calls and boos. Carnera followed, accompanied by Trainer Eudetine. They made their exit under similar conditions.

It wasn't a test for the Italian as no damage was inflicted on either side. Trafton was unmarked and was fresh and loquacious as ever 15 minutes after the dive.

Carnera now has been boxing for 16 months, having won all but two of his fights. He has not fought an aggregate of 75 rounds, all of his American appearances, save one, ending before the third round. The Carnera party received 55 per cent of the gate.

Meyer Grace, Chicago middleweight, scored a technical knockout of Ivan Laffinever, France, in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-round semi-windup. Laffinever claimed a foul, but the claim was disallowed by the referee after an examination. Grace was the aggressor throughout, flooring his French opponent seven times before the knockout.

Yanks Break Camp For Exhibition Tour

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 26. (AP)—The Yankees broke camp here today to start the long exhibition tour that winds up their spring training period, but not before the axe had fallen.

Ivy Paul Andrews, young right-hander from Alabama, who pitched for the Mobile, Alabama, and Albany, N. Y., teams last year, was sent to Oakland in the Pacific Coast league on option, his release brought the squad to 31 members, of whom 15 are pitchers.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 26. (AP)—The relative firmness of old crop months on continued covering by May and July shorts was the feature in cotton today. May sold up to 15.93, or 33 points net higher and 190 points above the recent low level, but offerings increased and the demand tapered. May closed at 15.80 or 13 points from the best with the general market closing easy at net advances of 13 to 20 points on the old crop but 1 to 6 points net lower on the new months.

The opening was steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 6 points with active months showing net losses of about 3 to 6 points during the early trading in response to relatively easy cables.

Early offerings were absorbed and the market turned upward on covering of trade and speculative shorts in the old crop positions. July sold up to 15.95 making a net advance of 30 points while the new October contract selling at 15.23 showed a net gain of only 8 points.

Offerings increased as prices approached the 16-cent level for the old crop positions and the market eased under realizing while there was some selling here for New Orleans account.

At the close May contract sold 71 points over the new October compared with a difference of 45 points at the close of the previous day and May here was 34 points over New Orleans. At one time during the early trading May was about 40 points over that position in the New Orleans market.

Port receipts 7.268.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 26. (AP)—Trading was fairly active in cotton today. The feature was the active demand for old crop months, particularly May, by spot interests buying in their short tenders. This also included foreign buying and transferring to Liverpool. After advancing most of the session, the market reacted. May sold up to 15.59, and closed at 15.46, or 20 points net higher. The general market closed steady, 20 points net higher to 8 lower.

Liverpool cables were easy and first trades here showed losses of 5 to 9 points in sympathy. The market rallied. In final trading recent buyers took profits and values receded rapidly losing 11 to 13 points of the gain. July closed at 15.46, or 15 points up while October closed at 15.12, or 5 points net down for the day.

Utility Interests Grow Aggressive In the Year's Most Active Trading

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, March 26. (US)—Utility stocks today featured the most active stock market of the year to date. Cross currents were evidenced in other parts of the list but offerings were well taken under the influence of further easing in the call money rate to 3½ per cent. While the rate was held at that figure throughout there were concessions made in loans outstide of regular channels. Steel finished fractionally higher while Electric Power and Light gained 9, Consolidated Gas 4⅛, United Corporation 3, American Can 1⅛, Standard Oil of New Jersey 1⅞, American Telephone 3, Vanadium 3⅝, American Foreign Power 2¼, American Radiator 2⅛, American Smelting 1⅛, Westinghouse 3, Atchison 1¾, Commercial Solvents 2 and New York Central 1. Turnover increased to 5,029,240 shares, the largest of the year to date and the first 5,000,000 share session since Dec. 20. The tape was more than a half hour late for most of the session. The increased volume was experienced in the face of less wire business from the West due to storms.

It appears that Anaconda Copper Mining company directors will declare the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 a share at meeting tomorrow. Those who claim to know say that some directors think the regular payment should be maintained and feel sure they can put evidence before the rest of the board that will result in such action. The group that want the dividend unchanged feel that prospects for improvement in demand are such that the 18-cent a pound quoted price for Copper can be held even though strong arm methods have to be resorted to a little while longer. The one hope of the Copper bulls is that further action will be taken to revive building and municipal construction activity. The real test of the industry will be experienced next month for if fairly substantial increase in demand for Copper metal is not experienced then there will be several changes in dividends next quarter.

Important selling is reported to have taken place in Westinghouse Electric. It seems that some directors were not satisfied with the Radio deal. Westinghouse made fairly substantial amount of earnings from manufacture of Radio sets. Under the new arrangement the manufacturing is done by Radio-Victor and Westinghouse simply handles the retail end of the Westinghouse radio business. Largest offerings, it is claimed, have come from Pittsburgh so that there is some belief that Mellon interests may have unloaded. The Iron Age told of more confidence in the Steel industry and this influenced stronger belief that the corporation would take special dividend action next month. Further reports were in circulation of improving income of Newton Steel.

American Tobacco absorption is influenced by expectation that the stock will be split up before long as a result of further improvement in earning power. The increase in car loadings, the first in several weeks, influenced somewhat better interest in Central, Chesapeake & Ohio and other rails. Price goal of the most active buyers in Standard Oil of New Jersey has been revised upward due to the continued favorable reports from the industry. Those who have been bullish on Continental Baking changed because of reports of decline in sales in recent weeks. Foster Wheeler was said to have closed another important order that would add further to income.

Electric Bond and other important Utility interests are reported taking a more agressive stand marketwise with congress as well as state legislatures adjourning soon, there is less fear of "investigations" etc., and more hope of special developments in the way of mergers, etc. Buying of National Power and Light reflects expectation that it will play a prominent part in the next step in the plans of Electric bond interests to concentrate operations of their properties. American Gas and Electric and General Gas and Electric were mentioned in connection with rumors of "special developments" being planned, also.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, March 26. (AP)—Cotton goods was steady with a firm tone in finished goods. Worsteds yarns 1½ cent lower. Business operating principally in linen wears and the fall lines. Burlaps quiet. Silk goods selling more freely.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, March 26. (AP)—There was little change in prices of cash grain here today. Wheat continued dull with mills bidding around $1.09½@1.10½ for No. 1 ordinary hard milling delivered Texas common points.

Fair demand continued for corn, oats, sorghums and cane seed.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered freight paid to Texas common points:

Corn—No. 2 mixed 93@94c; No. 2 white or yellow 97½@98½c.

Oats—No. 2 red oats 55@56c; No. 3 white delivered Texas group one points 54½@55c.

Barley—No. 2 barley 62@63c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per hundred pounds $1.70@1.73; No. 2 kaffir $1.48@1.50.

Cane Seed—Country run red top per hundred pounds according to origin type, and clean out, $4@4.55.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 26. (AP)—Unaware that the government report issued after the close would make a relatively bearish exhibition as to intended plantings, wheat traders advanced prices today.

The government report put the expected total of 20,197,000 acres, against 60,979,000 acres last year. Today's upturns in wheat values were ascribed largely to buying on the part of farm board allies and to urgent need of rain in southwest.

Wheat closed firm at the same as yesterday's finish to ⅛ higher. Corn closed unchanged to ¼c off, oats ⅛@⅜c up, and provisions varying from 2c decline to a rise of 2c.

Upturns in wheat values came about after early setbacks that resulted from weakness of Liverpool quotations.

Export demand for North American wheat was disappointing, total purchases being 200,000 bushels, exclusively Canadian. Another 16,000,000 bushels of wheat available yet this season for export.

Corn and oats derived firmness from the fact that weather conditions were extremely unfavorable for corn movement as field work.

Provisions tended upward, influenced by the trend of hog values.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, March 26. (US)—Sentiment in the local trade continued bearish toward wheat. Locals sold on the early break and again on the bulge to above the previous close. Commission houses continue to advocate a trading attitude, particularly with the lack of moisture still reported in the Southwest.

Broomhall says that reports of winter wheat condition in most countries are mostly favorable and early indications point to active seeding of spring wheat especially in Europe where import duties are high.

Traders maintain a fairly bullish attitude toward the corn market and most of the commission houses favor a policy of purchasing on breaks. However, the uncertain action of the wheat market has been leading to a general disposition to accept profits on even moderate bulges.

Advices from Australia, via New York today said that the Australian government will urge wheat growers to grow more wheat in the event that American farmers cut their acreage this year. The federal minister of markets and transport is reported to be behind the plan and insists that the government is on the right track in urging bigger wheat production. He is quoted as saying the advice of the U. S. farm board must be to raise prices and this would benefit Australia.

Grain Corporation Plans No European Exports

CHICAGO, March 26. (UP)—The grain stabilization corporation subsidiary of the federal farm board, announced here today it does not contemplate sending any of its unsold wheat to European markets.

Although Alexander Legge, president of the farm board, previously had made a similar statement, the positive announcement was taken as an assurance to wheat traders of the corporation's efforts to eliminate recent chaos from the grain market.

Phone Your Classified Ads to

Our courteous ad taker will receive your Classified Ad and help you to word it, then our collector will call the next day. These accounts are "accommodation accounts" for the convenience of our patrons in transacting business over the telephone.

Classified Ad patrons desiring to have ads charged must have a telephone listed in their own name. No book record is made by the publishers on account of the great number of transactions, hence the necessity of collecting promptly.

Correction of errors in Classified Ads must be made before the second insertion. No allowance will be made for more than one incorrect insertion.

Cancellations and adjustments regarding errors should be telephoned to the Classified Ad department between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Ads accepted for afternoon paper up until 11 a. m. same day.

Morning paper up to 6 p. m. for the following morning.

Sunday paper up to 7 o'clock Saturday night.

Same copy in both papers.

THE CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT IS OPEN ON SUNDAYS from 4 to 6 p. m. and telephone orders for classified ads to be inserted or to be discontinued will be accepted.

Exceptions: Want ads will be accepted over the telephone for all excepting the following classifications: Situations Wanted and Wanted to Rent. Ads for these classifications are cash with the order and will not be accepted over the telephone.

The Times reserves the right to classify all Classified Ads under the appropriate headlines and to revise or to withhold from publication any ads deemed objectionable.

EMPIRE PLANS LINE TO COAST

Dockside Outlet for O. C. Field to Result

Special to The Record News

TULSA, Okla., March 26.—The Empire Pipe Line company is about ready to announce plans for the construction of a 500 mile 12-inch pipe line from the Oklahoma City oil field to a point south of Houston, on the Texas gulf coast.

In connection with plans for the new pipe line, it is understood that Cities Service Oil and Refining company proposes to construct a refinery near Houston. The pipe line would also connect the Empire's refinery at Gainesville, in North Texas, on the way to the gulf.

The Empire's line would serve as a new outlet for the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company, discoverers of the Oklahoma City field and a subsidiary of Cities (H. L. Doherty) Service company.

Pecos Well Is Record Gasser

Special to The Record News

TULSA, Okla., March 26.—Shut in after blowing tools from depth of 1520 feet in lime and wrecking the machine, Transcontinental Oil company and Arkansas Fuel Oil company's No. 1-A M. A. Smith, one mile west of the famous Yates field in Pecos county, today awaited official testing Thursday morning.

No equipment strong enough was available to gauge an estimated 80 to 100 million cubic feet of dry gas, which stamped the well as one of West Texas' biggest gassers.

Gas was struck at 1465 feet, top of lime, and increased steady with deepening. The location is 2310 feet from north line and 1290 feet from east line of section 11, block 194, G. C. and S. F. Ry. Co. survey.

Sunset News

Miss Catherine Yager of Dallas was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yager, here last week.

Sid Bailey of Vernon was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Russell and children recently.

There was a good attendance at a service held at the Sunset Baptist church by Rev. Roy Kemp of Littlefield Thursday night.

George Powell of Fort Worth was in Sunset Friday. Before moving to Fort Worth several years ago Mr. Powell engaged in the mercantile business in Sunset.

Mr. and Mrs. Hesle Mayhugh of Dodsonville were here last week as guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Caswell.

Quite a number of Sunset people attended a singing convention at Bowie last Sunday.

Mrs. Jim Anderson, living west of Sunset, has been seriously ill for several weeks.

Mrs. T. A. Wilson spent last week as a guest of her sons in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Durham and children of Wellington were visitors in Sunset last week.

Jim Adams and children of Chico were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Green recently.

A norther struck here Sunday evening. Monday was very cool and blustery, but the sky was clear most of the day.

Illness prevented Mrs. Lois Hall from filling her place as teacher in Smyrna school the first of this week.

Farmers in this section of the country are getting along fine with their farm work this spring. Light showers of rain have fallen often enough to keep good moisture in the ground most of the time. Rains here this week have not been heavy enough to run much water in the tanks for livestock, and some tanks are totally dry. Some farmers have already planted corn and many others will plant some this week.

Dan Baker, who underwent a minor operation at a Bowie sanitarium a few days ago, is improving.

Wils Anderson, who has been visiting in Wise county, spent part of last week in Sunset. Mr. Anderson will be 81 years old the last day of next June.

Jewel Caswell of Arlington was here as a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Caswell last week-end.

COURT HEARS ADDICT'S PLEA

Drug Victim Tells Troubles To Atwell

"And as to the books, we've got one of the finest libraries at Leavenworth you ever saw. I won't need books sent to me."

Criminal Docket Cleared

The criminal docket of the court was cleared late Wednesday when Judge Atwell called six indictments returned in the final report of the federal grand jury for trial and passed sentence on these and all other convictions previously deferred for senencing.

Charles E. Bowman, youthful clerk in the postoffice at Paducah who pleaded guilty Tuesday to a charge of embezzling funds ranging from $6.43 to $27.97, was sentenced to a year and a day in Leavenworth penitentiary.

In its final report late Wednesday, the federal grand jury returned six additional indictments, bringing the total to 21. J. E. Holton was sentenced to 15 months at Leavenworth after he entered a plea of guilty to a narcotic charge. C. B. Brown, negro, pleaded not guilty to a narcotic charge, but was sentenced to a year and a day at Leavenworth.

Collis McCutcheon, who pleaded guilty Tuesday to each of three charges of forging government obligations, was indicted again in the final report of the grand jury Wednesday for forgery of a veteran's note and pleaded guilty a second time. He was sentenced to 13 months in Leavenworth on the three consolidated charges and to a year and a day on the last charge, Judge Atwell ordering the sentences to run concurrently.

The remaining three indictments returned in the final report were for men not under arrest and will be returnable at the Dallas and San Angelo sessions of the federal district court. Civil cases will be heard beginning Thursday.

Modern Homes Meeting Today

modern properties, and of new paint or paper, or both. Such places, it was said, preserve their value only by conversion to business property, or by being maintained as modern and attractive homes. Only a small portion of the locations in the city's residence districts can be used for business purposes. For that reason, members of the committee emphasized, renovation of houses and continued maintenance of attractive grounds constitutes the greatest insurance against depreciation in value. It was estimated that such a program of reconstruction would involve the expenditure of an average of $300 on these properties. Should 1,000 houses be included in such a campaign, there would be placed in circulation $300,000, most of which would represent payment for labor done by residents of this city.

Open Meeting

Efforts will be made Thursday afternoon to determine the best plans for financing such improvements for all owners who might choose to participate in the program of reconstruction. Representatives of building and loan associations, lumber companies, mortgage companies, paint and paper dealers, etc., will be present.

Importance of property improvement was stressed Wednesday by those who are sponsoring the coming city-wide campaign. One untidy lot, or ramshackle house, in a block constitutes a material sales or rent hazard for all other properties in the block, it was said. A prospective purchaser of a house here Tuesday afternoon declined to consider its acquisition because of the neglected condition of an adjoining residence, according to information obtained Wednesday. On the other hand, the policy of "repair and repaint" is involuntarily adopted as by contagion when once started, according to recent experiences among local householders.

A committee headed by A. L. Huey has waged an attendance campaign during the past three days in behalf of Thursday afternoon's meeting at the Kemp hotel. The meeting will be informal, and in the nature of an open forum for the formation of such plans as will best promote the good of the community, according to Mr. Curlee.

Jury Given $27,250 Suit Against Railroad

The $27,250 suit brought against the Fort Worth and Denver railway by representatives of J. D. Greathouse, whose mother was killed in a crossing accident at Iowa Park in November, 1928, was placed in the hands of a jury in the 78th district court Wednesday afternoon but no verdict had been returned at 5 o'clock when the jurors were excused for the night. The damage suit was filed by H. L. Hunter, guardian for the youth.

AIR OFFICIAL TO SPEAK HERE

Junior C.-C. Luncheon to Stress Aviation

Aviation will be the theme of a special meeting of the Junior chamber of commerce to be held in connection with the regular bi-weekly membership luncheon on Friday, April 4, with the aviation committee in charge, it was announced Wednesday.

According to S. M. Gose, chairman of the aviation committee, all persons in the Wichita Falls community who are interested in aerial activities, either commercial or private, will be invited to the meeting. Philip Shumway, traffic manager of the S. A. F. E. airlines of Tulsa will be the principal speaker on a program which is now being arranged, it was said.

Members of the flying club organized several months ago under the auspices of the Junior chamber of commerce will be active in staging the "aviation rally" as planned by the committee. In connection with the affair, plans are being made for giving away several passes for free air trips.

The ballroom of the Kemp hotel, where the luncheon will be held, will be decorated for the occasion with various bits of aeronautic equipment, etc., it was announced.

Aside from Mr. Gose, the aviation committee consists of Paul Hines, Eugene Clark, Cecil Putty, J. H. Hicks, J. E. Handy, J. W. Pyland, C. W. Stice, Burton Walker, and Jerry Vinson, president of the Junior chamber of commerce.

Junior C.-C. Collects Hay, Harness and Farm Implements for Barn Dance

Plans of the social meetings committee of the Junior chamber of commerce for the barn dance to be held Saturday night at the Wichita club are calculated to provide an atmosphere thoroughly in keeping with the rustic costumes stipulated as proper attire for the evening.

Holding that polished floors and conventionally ornate interior walls do not perfectly connote the idea of an old-fashioned hay loft, Frank Wolf, a member of the Junior chamber of commerce, has furnished a carload of hay with which to produce the desired atmosphere. Not only will it be scattered generously over the room, but shocks will be left in one corner so that the more playful may regale themselves with hay-sliding.

In addition to the aromatic and rustling presence of much hay, there will be numerous farm implements, including the favored godevil cultivators, etc., to carry out the farm-yard effect. Even the smell of leather may be detected, for several sets of harness will be "in the barn."

Guests from Vernon, Electra, Seymour, Dallas and Archer City will be present for the dance Saturday night, it was said. Musical specialties are to be furnished by a string band which originated this week within the personnel of the Texas Electric Service company. Frank Bird and his Bluebirds, staff orchestra of radio station KGKO, will be official dispensers of dance music throughout the evening.

Absentee Voting in City Election to End Friday

Voters who plan to be out of the city Tuesday when the city election will be held will be allowed to cast absentee ballots up to 5 o'clock Friday afternoon in the office of W. E. McBroom, city clerk, in the Memorial auditorium, according to the announcement made by Mr. McBroom, Wednesday. Persons voting in this manner must bring their poll tax receipts, Mr. McBroom said, as it is necessary that the receipt be included in the sealed envelope containing the ballot.

School And College Notes

By MARGARET FLEMING
The Record News Staff

Miss Pearle Smyth led the members of the Junior college senate in a discussion of the Wickersham plan for prohibition at the regular meeting of the club Tuesday evening at the Junior college. The students also discussed the "Grundy" tariff bill.

Latin Club

William Donnell entertained the members of the high school Latin club with a violin solo at the regular meeting of the club Wednesday morning. He was accompanied by Mrs. J. V. C. Christensen.

Nan Campbell gave a reading and Maurine Adams played a piano solo. Marvin Pierce talked to the group on "Caesar." Little Miss Marcelene Wyatt gave a dance, accompanied by Jane Smyth at the piano.

Choral Club

Members of the Baylor College Choral club presented a short musical program for the students of the high school and college at a special general assembly Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Girl Reserves

Officers of the Girl Reserves are to have charge of the regular weekly program Friday morning at the activity period in the main auditorium, according to Jane Adams, president. This is the only time during the year that this group will have the program, and a unique entertainment is promised.

Iowa Park Lions Give Luncheon Program Here

Members of the Lions club of Iowa Park presented the program given in connection with the weekly luncheon of the local Lions club at the Kemp hotel Wednesday noon, with C. C. Hudson as chairman.

Entertainment given by the visiting guests included readings by Rev. Paul Martin, pastor of the Methodist church at Iowa Park, a medley of popular songs sung by Misses Jewell Thompson and Katherine Sue Ralston, guitar numbers by Pedro Lopez, and readings by Miss Louise Scott, formerly of this city.

Cooperation of Lions club members with the campaign now being conducted by the publicity committee of the chamber of commerce for greater faith in the present and future Wichita Falls was urged by James King, president.

RITES TODAY FOR PIONEER

Thomas M. Smyre Dies Here at Age of 71

Funeral services for Thomas M. Smyre, 71, who died at his home, 1502 Bluff, at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning, will be held from the home Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Dr. O. L. Powers, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating.

Active pallbearers will include J. R. Parker, W. L. Ponder, C. Woodward, H. C. Adams, L. L. Boardman, W. S. Cowling, L. L. Deaton and E. D. Trevathan. Honorary pallbearers will be W. L. Robertson, I. A. Farris, W. A. Freear, W. H. Davis, L. P. Webb, A. C. Cook, F. M. Hull, Dr. R. C. Smith and Dr. F. R. Collard.

Mr. Smyre came to Wichita Falls from Tyler, Texas, and had been a resident here for the past 23 years. During this time he has been engaged in the grocery business and connected with his wife in operating Smyre's Home Cooked Food exchange at 1104 Grace street. He was a member of the First Baptist church. Mr. Smyre is survived by his wife.

ROBERT RUNYAN

Funeral services for Robert Runyan, 27, of Iowa Park, who died at his home there at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, will be held at the Riverside cemetery Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Ensign A. Schultz of the Salvation Army will conduct the services. The body is being held at Alberts Funeral home.

Mr. Runyan is survived by his wife, a 2-year-old daughter, his mother and two sisters. He had lived at Iowa Park for the past three years where he was a farmer.

CAMP FIRE MEETING

Members of the Camp Fire girls will have their regular monthly adventure party at the Wichita Floral company at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, it was announced Wednesday by Miss Mary McIlheran, executive.

The group will be given an opportunity to win one nature lore honor bead and will be instructed on how to win several others. All local Camp Fire members were urged to attend and wear uniforms if possible, Miss McIlheran said.

This trend to EIGHTS is a trend to
HUDSON

The wide, new interest in 8-cylinder cars is another tribute to Hudson leadership. For it sweeps aside the barrier of high premium on eight-cylinder quality. It establishes in this field a new scale of low ownership costs—in price, in operation and in maintenance. It is ruggedly built for long-lasting reliability.

That is why you find thousands of former "Six" owners enjoying its distinction and brilliant performance with better economy than they ever knew. It is why long-time eight-cylinder buyers are turning in great number to the advantages of Hudson's exclusive new type.

It is why this trend, which you see, toward "Eights", is really the public acclaim of Hudson's Great-8.

This car stands at the pinnacle of Hudson's record of value-giving. Any comparison you choose to make must emphasize that impression. Its advantages of fine appearance, quality and distinction were never so apparent.

Beautiful, luxurious and powerful—no car is faster in get-away—none so smooth and vibrationless in every performance—none more lastingly fine in satisfactory, reliable operation.

Come see, and ride in the most modern and advanced of Eights. From whatever viewpoint you regard car ownership—whether rich appearance, distinguished performance or pride of possession—it questions the wisdom of ever paying more for any car.
