

Sharing, Caring To Help Pampa Senior Citizens

By TEX DEWESE
Help has arrived and more is on the way for Pampa senior citizens in need of assistance to cope with the problems of aging and maintaining independence, according to Mrs. Wanda Talley recently appointed director of the local senior center movement.

Mrs. Talley said the system of access to services available in Pampa to elderly persons is being instituted by state and local agencies through the Information and Referral Service provided under Title III of the federal Older Americans Act.

The service, known locally as Pampa Senior Opportunities Service, currently is available through what Mrs. Talley described as telephone "call in" assistance.

Mrs. Talley stated senior citizens in need of assistance may call 669-7414 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday for Senior Opportunities Services.

The service needed will be given by volunteers already enrolled, and Mrs. Mildred Sweet, the only paid worker, will handle the telephone calls and assist, along with Mrs. Talley and the volunteers, in identifying the kind of help needed and locating sources where it can be received.

Records will be kept, according to Mrs. Talley, on all available opportunities and services offered by public agencies and private organizations which would be of benefit to older persons.

The referral service offered by the information center is designed to connect persons in need of the services with agencies which provide them.

Mrs. Talley said in order to assure that those in need of assistance actually receive it, the referral service will include follow-up a procedure for checking whether needed services were actually provided and whether they met the need for which they were offered.

Among other services provided by the Pampa Senior Opportunities Service will be what Mrs. Talley called "outreach" — an active effort to find elderly persons in need of assistance. Without this effort, Mrs. Talley said, many persons eligible for services provided by existing agencies and organizations would fail to receive help, simply because they do not know it is available.

Senior Opportunities Service, she stated, is a special service by dedicated volunteers alert to the needs of senior citizens and with a desire to help in any way.

"If there is need for transportation, general information, referral service, telephone reassurance, or other needs, we want to help," Mrs. Talley added.

The senior center director explained Senior Opportunities Services is a program designed for needs and problems of all senior citizens. All requests are confidential and there is no charge for any service.

In summing up Pampa's new service for senior citizens, Mrs. Talley said:

"The number one priority is to promote the well-being of our senior citizens at all times. If you have a need or problem, or know of someone who needs assistance, call our representative and tell her about it. We're ready to serve. Our motto is: It isn't enough to care — we want to share."

The telephone number of Senior Opportunities Service is 669-7414. Calls for assistance should be made between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Voters Okay Amendments

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — House Speaker Bill Clayton said today he never had any doubts about the outcome of Tuesday's amendments elections in which voters approved legislative pay increases and increases in teacher's retirement funds.

"It went as I expected," Clayton said. "We knew a lot of people were interested in the amendments, particularly state employees, teachers and retired teachers. It looked like a natural from the very beginning."

The legislative pay raise proposal is the first one approved by Texans since 1960. The legislators failed six times between 1960 and 1975 to get an increase in salaries.

Under the amendment passed Tuesday, legislators will now receive $7,200 a year. Their old salary was $4,800 a year.

They also receive an increase from $12 to $30 a day in expense allowances during legislative session and a raise in their travel allowance from 10 cents to 16 cents per mile.

"I felt optimistic about the legislative pay raise from the beginning simply because we were asking a moderate increase and not too large a step at one time," Clayton said.

Voters will get the opportunity in November to approve a new constitution for the state which would place the authority to raising legislative salaries in the hands of a state commission.

Thus, Tuesday's election could be the final one in which Texans voted directly on the issue.

This is the first raise since 1960, Clayton said. "I see this as possibly a trend toward more frequent increases. I believe we're building the confidence of the people in the state legislature more than in past years."

"I think people feel like we're working diligently for the people of Texas and this is just an expression of telling us so."

The legislative pay raise was the closer of the two amendment proposals. It passed 314,650 to 225,340 according to the latest returns from the Texas Election Bureau in Dallas. The teachers and state employees retirement proposal won more handsily receiving 403,559 votes for to 141,489 against.

"I think the story is pretty well told now," a TEB spokesman said.

Rep. Forrest Green (D-Houston) said the vote in favor of the two proposals from voters in rural areas, a change from established patterns, signaled the victories.

Pay raise proposals historically fare much better in the cities," Green said. "Those farmers out in the rural areas have beat us every time."

Election officials predicted less than 10 per cent of the state's 5.5 million voters would participate in the election but their forecasts may have been optimistic.

No organized opposition to either amendment was mounted, nor was there any overt campaign to pass the proposals except for teachers groups who backed the legislative pay raise proposal hoping the one to raise their retirement benefits would also pass.

The teachers' amendment increased the amount of money the state is allowed to contribute to teacher and public employee retirement funds. The legislature authorized $120 million in appropriations to the funds to finance pension increases initiated in February on a contingency basis. Tuesday's vote was required to make the increases permanent.

The last time legislators asked voters for a salary increase was in 1973. In that election, the legislators sought an increase to $15,000 a year, but also agreed to meet annually if the amendment passed.

The proposed constitution to be voted on in November established a pay commission to set ceilings on legislative pay and also requires annual legislative sessions.

Voter in Gray County followed the state trend and passed both of the amendments.

Oil Accident Injures Nunley

Floyd Nunley of Nunley Drilling Service was reported in fair condition today at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo where he is undergoing treatment for a fractured vertebrae in the neck region.

Ford Says Defense Cuts Would Endanger Security

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — President Ford said today more congressional cuts in defense spending will endanger national security.

However, good intentions, those who claim that America is overarmed and over-spending on defense are dead wrong, he said in a speech written for the 73rd annual Navy League convention.

Ford said the Russians are challenging the U.S. Navy in waters where America once ruled the waves.

Soviet naval units now freely roam the world's seas, circumnavigating the state of Hawaii in the Pacific and operating in the Gulf of Mexico.

"We cannot afford to cut any further without endangering our national security," he said, adding that East-West detente and national defense are closely tied together.

"In fact, the foundation of detente is the military balance that exists today," said the President, who — like predecessors John F. Kennedy, Lyndon Johnson and Richard Nixon — served as a Navy officer in World War II.

American prosperity — perhaps even American survival — still depends on keeping the sea lanes open. And only a strong American Navy can guarantee this, Ford told the convention of active and former naval officers and shipbuilders.

Trial Underway For ABC's Davis

A trial was underway today in District Court at Wheeler County Courthouse in Wheeler where Elvis E. Davis, an officer with the Texas Alcohol Beverage Commission is being tried in connection with an incident that occurred Aug. 23, 1974 at the Catalina Club, 600 S. Cuyler when two Pampa men were injured.

Ronald Jack Melton, 27, reportedly suffered a gunshot wound in the chest and Wiley (Butch) Reynolds Jr., 37, reportedly was struck in the head by a handgun in the incident.

Davis was indicted Oct. 11, 1974 by a Gray County Grand Jury for aggravated assault by use of a deadly weapon in connection with the Melton shooting.

A motion for a change of venue was granted on April 4.

A jury for the trial was selected Tuesday.

Five officers from the Pampa Police Department reportedly were in Wheeler today in connection with the trial.

Denies Dismissal Of Murder Charge

WASHINGTON, N.C. (UPI) — A Superior Court judge today denied a motion for dismissal of a murder indictment in the slaying of a white jailer by a black woman who claims she was defending herself against a sexual attack.

Judge Henry A. McKinnon rejected the contention of lawyers for Joan Little that the process of selecting the jury that indicted her had discriminated against blacks, women and the young.

McKinnon, who spent much of Tuesday reviewing sample jury lists and legal precedents, announced at the outset of today's court session that viewing the total process, no intentional discrimination was found.

Miss Little, accused of the icepick stabbing of a 62-year-old Beaufort County jailer, was not in the courtroom. Both attorneys and prosecutors accepted the decision without emotion.

McKinnon conceded that there could be "some improvements in the procedure" and said he intended to make recommendations for improvements to the county jury commission.

But the shortcomings, he said, "did not materially affect the issue with which we are concerned."

The defense team, which prepared nearly 20 motions prior to last week's start of the hearing, then announced that it had subpoenaed members of the grand jury that indicted Miss Little in preparation for a motion on evidence it said was withheld from the grand jury.

Miss Little, a construction worker, is charged with killing Clarence Allgood, a father of six who was the night jailer at the Beaufort County jail.

Allgood's body, nude from the waist down except for socks, was found last August in the cell where Miss Little was being held while appealing a breaking and entering conviction.

She fled, but surrendered eight days later, claiming that she was defending herself against a sexual attack when Allgood was killed.

Compromise School Bill Called 'Blatantly Unjust'

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — A compromise school finance bill being drafted by a House subcommittee is insensitive to the plights of teachers, children and taxpayers, Marc Campos, lobbyist for the Tejano Political Action Committee said today.

School finance reform was once a high priority issue for many legislators earlier this year, Campos said. Once again the taxpayers, students and teachers are being asked to wait this time until 1977 for reform.

The school finance bill being considered would put more money into school districts through a revision of present funding formulas and would test Gov. Dolph Briscoe's proposed new finance system in a series of pilot projects.

Rep. Herman Adams, D-Silsbee, chairman of the subcommittee, said it is a transition program until another reform bill can be passed in 1977.

Passage of such legislation would be a major letdown to the taxpayers of San Antonio's Edgewood School District, Campos said.

The present system is blatantly unjust. This is clearly exemplified by the fact that the state's 50 richest districts spend an average of $1,200 per year or each child's education, while the poorer districts receive only $45 per student.

Campos said school reform should not be limited to a $400 million estimated budget surplus, and said revision of the property tax system would bring in sufficient revenue for meaningful school finance reform legislation.

The chairman of a House subcommittee considering school finance says the panel has tentatively agreed on a bill to provide an interim approach to school funding reform.

Rep. Herman Adams, D-

Silsbee, said Tuesday the bill will cost slightly more than the $480 million estimated available for the program. His subcommittee will meet again tonight to work on the proposal.

Adams said his approach is an interim program to give additional state funds to school districts, while legislators prepare a more comprehensive bill to resolve inequities between rich and poor school districts.

Adams said half the cost of the bill will go to a teacher pay raise. Teachers want a $10,000 a year starting salary and Gov. Dolph Briscoe recommended starting teacher salaries be raised from $6,000 to $7,430 a year.

The subcommittee bill could set the salaries considerably lower than the level recommended by Briscoe if the total cost of the bill is in the $300 million range as Adams indicated.

Two Vehicles Catch Fire This Morning

Shortly before 11 a.m. today the Pampa Fire Department dispatched units to two unrelated vehicle fires.

A 1968 Volkswagen Squareback was heavily damaged when it caught fire at Pampa Foreign Car Service, 812 Kingsmill. The car belongs to Grover Fleming, 1111 S. Hobart.

At the same time a 1961 Ford pickup was damaged lightly by a carburetor fire. It was located in the 200 block of Russell when the fire occurred.

A spokesman at Pampa Foreign Car Service commended the department for their rapid response to his call.

British Close Embassy, Jet Warplanes Threaten

SAIGON (UPI) — Britain announced today it was closing its embassy in Saigon in face of the growing Communist threat to the city and ordered Ambassador John Bushell and his staff to fly to Singapore. Americans have been fleeing Saigon by the thousands.

The U.S. Embassy was reducing its staff to a skeleton force of a few hundred but has announced no plans to close. The Australian and Canadian embassies already have gone and the Dutch and Thai are leaving at any minute. Malaysia was awaiting developments.

French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing, who has offered his good services to mediate a cease-fire between the Saigon government and the Communists, has indicated that he does not wish French nationals to leave South Vietnam despite the deteriorating military situation. Many were in fallen Da Nang and were not molested.

A bomb exploded in a crowded downtown Saigon market at dusk tonight, killing at least two women, wounding five others and creating some panic in the city ringed by Communist troops.

The North Vietnamese army was so close to the city that South Vietnamese commanders moved the government's last warplanes out of Bien Hoa today in advance of an expected Communist assault against the base only 14 miles north of Saigon.

Police said at least two persons were killed and five wounded in the explosion in the Ham Nghi market, a teeming sidewalk market three blocks off Tu Do Street, a well known thoroughfare frequented by Americans and other foreigners.

The explosion occurred one hour before Saigon's daily curfew began at 8 p.m. Immediately after the explosion, police fired their rifles into the air to keep back crowds of curious Vietnamese. Some shots were also fired into the air on nearby Tu Do street.

Witnesses said the victims included one woman and one girl. UPI correspondent Leon Daniel said huge puddles of blood covered the sidewalk, the street and covering scattered vegetables and canned goods.

There was no indication if the explosion was caused by a bomb or a hand grenade.

The new government of President Tran Van Huong offered to negotiate a power-sharing coalition with the Viet Cong in an attempt to head off a full-scale Communist attack against Saigon.

U.S. Air Force planes evacuated thousands of Americans and endangered South Vietnamese from Saigon in stepped up flights to U.S. bases in the Philippines and Guam.

Military sources said the beleaguered South Vietnamese command moved its last warplanes from shell-battered Bien Hoa to Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Air Base.

The sources said North Vietnamese gunners firing 130mm field pieces bombarded Bien Hoa again this morning. A huge column of smoke from the vicinity of the base was visible in Saigon.

Government helicopter pilots reported sighting a large convoy of Communist troops traveling near Bien Hoa in a column of Soviet-built Molotov trucks.

Government warplanes including old propeller-driven Al Skyraiders taken out of mothballs, flew heavy air strikes against Communist targets around Bien Hoa.

The pullback from Bien Hoa 14 miles from the capital, came as the two-day-old government called for immediate unconditional peace talks based on the 1973 Paris peace agreement.

A Foreign Ministry communique offered to enter negotiations on all issues within the framework of the Paris agreement including the establishment of a National Council for Reconciliation and Concord.

The council as envisaged in the Paris accord, would represent the Saigon government, the Viet Cong and independent "third force" politicians.

The Viet Cong played down the resignation of President Nguyen Van Thieu Monday and called instead on the United States to "cease all its military interference" in South Vietnam.

The Viet Cong mission in Paris said Huong resembles his predecessor "like a brother" and demanded the overthrow of "the whole Thieu clique."

China accused the United States of masterminding Thieu's resignation "to save the puppet Saigon administration from collapse."

Rock Island Cuts 200 Jobs

CHICAGO (UPI) — The financially troubled Rock Island Railroad Tuesday said it would eliminate 200 jobs to save $3 million annually.

The railroad said the job cuts included middle management and executive positions and were made in every classification and region in the system.

The cost-cutting measure came less than a day after Rock Island President John W. Ingram told the Western Railway Club that the railroad's outlook is brightening. There is optimism stirring in our employes.

In announcing the 200 layoffs Tuesday, Ingram said the economy move would keep the railroad alive and simplify its organizational structure. The railroad has set up an employment service to place the employes, who filled jobs described as unessential by one spokesman.

Ingram, speaking to the Western Railway Club Monday, criticized other railroad officials who met recently to break the Rock Island into several branch lines, a plan to be submitted if the railroad is eventually found bankrupt.

It appears to me that railroads are all at different places along the same route."

Veto Predicted for Farm Support Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford will probably veto the farm support bill that passed the House Tuesday, but he may move to limit the political damage that could result.

The bill would raise 1975 price supports for feed grains, wheat, cotton, soybeans and milk. Farm congressmen say it will encourage heavy food production by protecting farmers against a possible price collapse this fall.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz said Ford told him the bill will be rejected because it violates his ban against further increases in the big federal deficit.

Butz predicted the veto will be upheld, and House passage of the bill by a 248-166 margin, 28 less than the two-thirds necessary to override a veto, strengthened his forecast.

The bill, which earlier cleared the Senate by voice vote, now goes to the White House for the expected veto.

Butz said Ford will soften the blow to farmers by authorizing administrative approval of compromise increases in price support loan rates for grains, lifting them to between current levels and the higher rates proposed by Congress.

Rep. W. Henson Moore, R-La., said Butz promised farm belt Republicans Ford's veto message will include a promise to oppose any future government controls on farm product exports. Many farm spokesmen blamed controls imposed temporarily last fall and winter for declines in grain prices and have been clamoring for a flat "no control" promise.

"I think politically it would be a real mistake to veto the bill," said Moore, who said he planned a last-ditch attempt to change Ford's mind during a scheduled flight to Louisiana today.

"We're going to drive what few (Republican) farmers we have into the Democratic column," Moore told a Newspaper Farm Editors of America meeting Tuesday.

Butz, who said Ford regards the bill as a "budget-buster," estimated the measure will raise federal farm support spending to $1.9 billion, $1.2 billion more than will be spent if current laws are left unchanged.

Congressional farm leaders claimed the true cost will be only $210 million, but Butz asserted even that will be too much and maintained the higher supports will lead eventually toward higher consumer food prices and a pileup of farm surpluses.

Farm bloc leaders in both parties, however, said most of the proposed new supports are below current market prices and said the bill will protect farmers without any sizeable increases in consumer food costs.

The bill would raise support "target prices," which trigger government deficiency payments to farmers if markets fall below the targets, from the present $2.05 a bushel for wheat to $3.10, from $1.38 a bushel for corn to $2.25, and from 38 cents a pound for cotton to 45 cents.

Crop support loan rates, which undergird open market prices because farmers can pledge their crops to the government as security for loans at the posted rates, would be boosted from the present $1.37 a bushel to $2.50 for wheat, from $1.10 to $1.87 for corn, and from 34 cents to 38 cents a pound for cotton. The soybean support loan would be set at $3.94 a bushel and milk supports would be raised to 80 per cent of the "fair earning power" parity level.

The proposed milk change would lift supports from the present $7.24 a hundredweight to $7.31 and would permit quarterly adjustments to keep pace with changing costs.

Administration officials, who earlier claimed increases would follow, now estimate supports will rise to $7.37 by July but then will fall back to $7.31 by next January.

Administration officials speculated if Butz acts to raise grain loans under existing discretionary power, the corn loan might be set in the $1.40 to $1.60 range.

Democratic farm strategists said they will soon begin canvassing their city colleagues to see if any critics of the bill can be persuaded to switch or abstain on a veto-override vote.

Murder Suspect Nabbed

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. (UPI) — Police Tuesday night captured a 16-year-old murder suspect hiding under a van in a parking lot. Witnesses said he could have removed his jacket, mingled with the crowd and escaped detection.

About 50 persons were in the area at the time officers arrested the teen-ager whose name was withheld because of his age. He was identified as being from Midlothian, Tex.

Police sought him for the slaying of Jimmy Feemster, 17, of Dallas, who was shot and killed while fishing with his girlfriend on a bridge near Grand Prairie, Sandy A. Whalen, 15, Fort Worth, Tex., also was shot and hospitalized from the attack.

Police found a gun they said was used in the shooting hidden in the undercarriage of the van. Police were searching the interior of the vehicle when a boy told them someone was under the van.

Police said Feemster and Miss Whalen had been fishing when the suspect approached them and demanded Feemster's car keys at gunpoint.

former chief Herman Short have denied any knowledge of wiretaps.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Senators voted 27-3 Tuesday to authorize special permits for retired police officers to carry handguns for five years.

Sen. Frank Lombardino, D-San Antonio, said the bill is needed to provide protection for retired officers who are threatened by criminals.

"Under present statutes a policeman or sheriff's deputy loses his permit to carry a handgun when he retires.

The bill now goes to the House.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Rep. Jim Mattox, D-Dallas, says location of polling places for Dallas elections often discourages handicapped and elderly persons from voting.

Mattox, in a letter to county commissioners, asked for a review of polling places in regard to their accessibility.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The Senate voted unanimously Tuesday to give the Texas Railroad Commission regulatory authority over exploration and development of geothermal energy resources.

Sen. Mike McKinnon, D-Corpus Christi, said the legislation is needed to provide for orderly development and use of extremely hot steam trapped far below the earth's surface.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The Senate urged Congress Tuesday to block efforts by the federal Consumer Products Safety Commission to ban the sale of handgun ammunition as hazards to health.

Texans cherish their right to own firearms and strongly oppose any move to subvert this right," the resolution said.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Lo-Vaca Gathering Co. filed suit in 53rd District Court Tuesday seeking authorization to discontinue gas service to Crystal City.

Lo-Vaca contends it was notified by the city council of Crystal City on March 12 the city would no longer pay for gas at the interim rate set by the Railroad Commission.

The gas company contends it has an expired contract with Crystal City which can be canceled on 30-day notice, and asks permission to terminate gas deliveries to the South Texas city effective immediately.

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — The Tarleton State University agriculture department presented three appreciation awards Tuesday night at its ninth annual recognition banquet.

Recipients were H.H. Hassler Jr., Stephenville Junior High School principal; G.K. Lewallen, Stephenville western store operator and farmer; and Albert Maberry, McCaulley pork producer.

Proposed Utilities Commission

Bill Called 'Monopoly's Dream'

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Critics today angrily charged a state utilities commission proposed by Sen. William T. Moore, D-Bryan, would be dominated by utility monopolies and lead to unbelievable increases in telephone, electricity and natural gas rates for Texas consumers.

Abel said the proposal provides no representation for consumers, lacks adequate safeguards against conflict of interest, and requires rates to be set on a basis that will lead to profits utility monopolies have only dreamed about until now.

While Texans pay some of the highest utility rates in the country and while the utility profits in Texas are higher than anywhere in the nation, this bill would unbelievably increase rates for consumers and provide for even higher profits for the utility monopolies," Abel said.

Abel said consumer groups would rather see the Senate kill any prospects for utility regulation this year than pass Moore's bill today.

But the sponsor of a tougher utility regulation law says he's prepared to compromise and accept Moore's bill to get a statewide commission established.

"It's not the best bill in the world," Sen. Ron Clower, D-Garland, said. "But even if it's not amended, it's a workable bill. It's better than what we have now."

City Leaders To Attend Amarillo, Austin Meets

Two Pampa city commissioners will be in Austin Monday to host Rep. Phil Cates and State Sen. Max Sherman at a Texas Municipal League Breakfast in the Commodore Perry Bldg. at Austin next Monday.

City Commissioners Leo Braswell and Ray Thompson will meet with Sherman and Cates to discuss with the Pampa City Commissions views on legislation now pending before the Texas Legislature.

Among things the local councilmen expect to discuss with Cates and Sherman will be House Bill 1463 which would establish a unified property appraisal system in every county in Texas.

The measure is opposed by the City Commission and City Tax Collector Aubrey L. Jones on grounds it would remove local control of appraisals and place too much power in the state.

City Manager Mack Wofford and Milton Saltzman, administrative assistant, will attend a meeting of the Panhandle City Management Association Friday in Amarillo.

Dr. Walter L. Shelly of West Texas University, Canyon, will speak at the luncheon scheduled for 11:30 a.m. in Sutphen's Restaurant.

Dr. Shelly will discuss the seminar at WTSU May 8, 9 and 10 for newly-elected city officials from over the Panhandle.

City Manager Wofford said since Pampa has no newly-elected officials, the city is not expected to send anyone to the seminar.

James Blagg, city manager of Levelland, is president of the PCMA.

Police Dispatchers Receive Awards

Four dispatchers from the Pampa Police Department recently attended a meeting in Amarillo of the Panhandle Police Communications Association (PPCA).

At the meeting, held in the Travel Lodge West, Leota Pollard and Frances Lambright received certificates for excellent service.

Also attending were Pampa dispatchers Lois Conner and Linda Ham.

Dispatchers from five states gathered to hear talks and view films.

Jack Martine, head of teletype communications for Texas Department of Public Safety in Austin, presented a portion of the program.

Lt. Dale Beatey of Clinton, Okla. showed a film on the prison riot at McAlester, Okla. He is the riot squad commander from Western Oklahoma.

Capt. Dudley O'Dell of the New Mexico Department of Public Safety, Santa Fe, spoke on interstate traffic from New Mexico.

The program also included a film and instructions on the new high-band radios now in use in departments throughout the Panhandle. The National Weather Service presented a program dealing with recognition of possible tornado-bearing clouds.

Ms. Pollard currently serves as treasurer of the organization. The next PPCA meeting will be in October in Amarillo.

Court Dismisses Suit Against Nixon Donors

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A federal appeals court has dismissed a civil suit by Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., against eight corporate contributors to the 1972 Nixon reelection campaign.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said Friday a jurisdictional defect in McGovern's suit forced dismissal.

McGovern, the Democratic nominee, lost the 1972 election to Nixon and accused the eight corporations of illegally contributing to Nixon's campaign.

The eight companies were American Airlines Inc.; Ashland Oil Co. Inc.; Braniff Airways Inc.; Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.; Gulf Oil Corp.; Gulf Resources and Chemical Corp.; Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing; and Phillips Petroleum Corp.

McGovern asked the federal courts to order each firm to pay him double what it had given to Nixon. The amounts contributed were not revealed in the court opinion.

The South Dakota senator filed his suit in U.S. district court at Houston and said all the companies were incorporated and headquartered outside of his home state.

U.S. District Judge Allen B. Hannay of Houston and the 5th Circuit both cited the home state issue in their reasons for dismissal.

"There is nothing in plaintiff's complaint to negate the conclusion, for example, that these companies are also incorporated in South Dakota, incorporation in more than one state being a viable possibility," the circuit court said.

"Having found a jurisdictional defect, the court did not abuse its discretion in dismissing without prejudice."

"Indeed, McGovern did not even offer to change his jurisdictional pleadings in his motion to vacate (the dismissal order), convinced they were correct despite the trial court's specific reference to jurisdictional defects in its original dismissal order."

The 5th Circuit also said Hannay felt the federal election law which McGovern accused the firms of violating may not have allowed private individuals to sue for damages.

PANHANDLE PLAY — Ann B. Davis, known for her roles at Schultzy on "The Bob Commung Show" and as Alice on "The Brady Bunch," has slated 12 performances in "The Nearlyweds" at Amarillo Little Theatre. The play will be presented May 9 and 10, May 15 to 17 and May 21 to 24 at 8:15 p.m. at the theater auditorium, 2019 Civic Circle in Wolflin Village. A 2:30 p.m. matinee will be given on May 18. Tickets are available at $5 for adults and $2 for students. The play, a new comedy written especially for Miss Davis, is about the mother of a 23-year-old daughter she wishes desperately to see married.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (UPI) — Former White House Chief of Staff H. R. Haldeman tried to enlist author William Manchester to write his memoirs but was turned down cold.

"I don't do that sort of thing, but if I did Haldeman is the second to last person I would do it for," Manchester said Wednesday. The last person, he said, would be former President Richard Nixon.

Novelist Calls Cops on Dinner Guest

NEW YORK (UPI) — French narcotics agent Jacques Arnal was chatting with some friends in their Paris apartment about the drug traffic in Africa.

"I told them where hashish was being sold openly," Arnal said. "I mentioned the price, the quality and how much was available."

The maid overheard snatches of the conversation and apparently decided she was serving dinner to a drug pusher. She called the cops.

"They got there as we were finishing dessert," Arnal recalled. "It was the only time I was nearly arrested by my own inspectors."

That was years ago. Now Arnal, once head of both the youth and the antidrug sections of the Paris Prefecture of Police, has retired from active duty — but not from the antidrug fight. He spends much of his time warning young audiences in France to stay away from pot and heroin and everything in between.

"I don't care what you say, hard drug users inevitably get started on marijuana," said Arnal, who's now on a speaking tour of the United States.

"Stiffer sentences are certainly part of the answer. In some cases, the death penalty might be appropriate."

Despite his somber warnings about drugs, Arnal jokes freely about some of the zanier incidents of his police days.

"We knew one drug dealer was allergic to a certain substance used in producing heroin," he recounted. "We had him under surveillance and when we saw he had broken out in hives, we moved in."

Fellow cops committed their share of goofs. Arnal remembers the officer who hustled an apparent prostitute from a saloon into a police van. Later he discovered she was the wife of a prominent politician.

Another policeman, under orders to storm the apartment of a major criminal, went to the wrong floor and broke down the door of a high government official.

Arnal wrote about such misadventures in a book, "La Brigade des Rigolos" (The Jokers' Brigade). He's had two other books published, both based on events from his police force days. One won a French prize as best mystery novel of the year.

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — A Salt Lake gas station is selling marijuana, and the police say it's legal.

The station has a big sign that says "Legal Marijuana for Sale."

But, there's a catch. The leaves are encased in plastic medallions worn on chains.

At Wits End

By ERMA BOMBECK

When Mike was three he wanted a sandbox and his father said, "There goes the yard. We'll have kids over here day and night and they'll throw sand into the flower beds and cats will make a mess in it and it'll kill the grass for sure."

And Mike's mother said, "It'll come back."

When Mike was five, he wanted a jungle gym set with swings that would take his breath away and bars to take him to the summit and his father said, "Good grief, I've seen those things in backyards and do you know what they look like? Mud holes in a pasture. Kids digging their gym shoes in the ground. It'll kill the grass."

And Mike's mother said, "It'll come back."

Between breaths when Daddy was blowing up the plastic swimming pool, he warned, "You know what they're going to do to this place? They're going to condemn it and use it for a missile site. I hope you know what you're doing. They'll track water everywhere and you'll have a million waterfights and you won't be able to take out the garbage without stepping in mud up to your neck and when we take this down we'll have the only brown lawn on the block.

"It'll come back," smiled Mike's mother.

When Mike was 12, he volunteered his yard for a camp-out. As they hoisted the tents and drove in the spikes, his father stood at the window and observed, "Why don't I just put the grass seed out in cereal bowls for the birds and save myself the trouble of spreading it around. You know for a fact that those tents and all those big feet are going to trample down every single blade of grass, don't you? Don't bother to answer," he said. "I know what you're going to say — it'll come back."

The basketball hoop on the side of the garage attracted more crowds than the Winter Olympics. And a small patch of lawn that started out with a barren spot the size of a garbage can lid soon grew to encompass the entire side yard. Just when it looked like the new seed might take root, the winter came and the sled runners beat it into ridges and Mike's father shook his head and said, "I never asked for much in this life — only a patch of grass."

And his wife smiled and said, "It'll come back."

The lawn this fall was beautiful. It was green and alive and rolled out like a sponge carpet along the drive where gym shoes had trod, along the garage where bicycles used to fall and around the flower beds where little boys used to dig with iced tea spoons.

But Mike's father never saw it. He anxiously looked beyond the yard and asked with a catch in his voice, "He will come back, won't he?"

MEAL TIME

Parents help children enjoy the social aspect of meal time by showing and teaching acceptable table manners. Mrs. Hene Miller, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, reminds.

Sunday Panhellenic Party Will Fete College-Bound Girls

All graduating senior girls who plan to attend college are invited to attend the annual Pampa Panhellenic Party to be held at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, April 27, at the home of Mrs. J.G. Morrison, 2101 Christine.

Purpose of the tea is to inform the girls about college sororities, the benefits of sorority membership, the costs and the purpose of "rush."

"The program is planned to be informative as well as entertaining, and there will be an opportunity for a question-answer period," stated Mrs. Robert L. Finney, president of Panhellenic.

A master file is compiled by the Pampa Panhellenic Council to assist college sororities during rush. If a girl is interested in participating, she should be prepared to complete a file card at the tea. Mrs. Finney said. Information required includes the SAT and ACT scores, four-year grade average, rank in class, if they are available, and a list of honors and activities. Each girl should bring one billfold picture to be included in the master file.

Hostesses for the tea will be Panhellenic representatives and members of Delta Gamma and Alpha Delta Pi. Mrs. Robert Williams and Mrs. Frank Kelly will be in charge of the master file. Mrs. Robert LaFon is in charge of name tags and Mrs. E.L. Henderson and Mrs. Jim Chase, invitations. Publicity chairmen are Mrs. Wallace Birkes and Mrs. David McDaniel. Program chairman is Mrs. Finney.

Girls planning to attend college should avail themselves of this opportunity to learn about all aspects of sorority life. Mrs. Finney said.

PANHELLENIC PARTY — Sorority benefits, activities, and rush will be explained at an informal coffee party hosted by the Pampa Panhellenic Sunday, 2:30 p.m., at 2101 Christine. Reviewing sorority magazines in preparation for the event are (1) Mrs. E.L. Henderson, invitations chairman; (2) Mrs. Robert Finney, Panhellenic President; (3) Mrs. Frank Kelly, file chairman. The informative party is being held for graduating high school senior girls in the area who plan to attend college. (Photo By Jim Williams)

ALLERGO CLUB

The Hutterites was the program topic at the recent meeting of Twentieth Century Allegro Club hosted by Mrs. Dick Maxey.

The speaker told the Hutterite region began in Monrovia then migrated to Canada and the United States. They lived in colonies not exceeding 130 citizens. If a colony grows beyond this number, they divide and began a new colony.

The Hutterites raise most of their food and make most of their clothes, the speaker continued. The men wear black suits and hats. The women wear long dark dresses with white aprons. No make-up is permitted.

The men use modern farm implements and drive cars but are not allowed to own television sets. Musical instruments, dancing and smoking are forbidden and they are not allowed to be photographed.

Everyone has to attend school until he is 16 years of age. They boys are taught a trade and all learn to read and write German.

Their main problem, stated Mrs. Reeves, is hereditary factors due to intermarriage. They may marry first cousins once removed.

If a Hutterite leaves the colony, he usually returns in less than two years. They do not like the outside world. They live simple and uncomplicated in the colonies.

The families in the colonies live in separate homes, but everyone eats together. In the evenings, they gather together to sing, pray and talk.

Members present were Mmes. Dick Maxey, John Reeve, Allen

Wise, R. E. Reid, W. R. Whitsett, Kenneth Lemons, Rex Bradford, Glenn Turbeville, and Gary Folmsbee.

GOODWILL CLUB

Election of officers was held at the recent meeting of Goodwill Home Demonstration club Mrs. Ray Frazier hosted the group.

Mrs. LaVerne Coombes was elected to serve a second term as president and will be assisted by the previous slate of officers.

Mrs. Nina Spoonmore, guest speaker, lead a discussion of the Medicaid program and other services that can be provided by Department of Public Welfare. She explained the Federal Subsidized Housing program which is strictly for ambulatory people. She also included information on day care help, nursing home and social security supplement income.

An 11 a.m. luncheon followed by a Diet Seminar for all Home Demonstration Clubs will be held April 28 at Court House Annex. The council will meet at 9:30 a.m.

On May 8 at 9:30 a.m. members will tour Marie Foundations.

Those attending were Mmes. Lettie Smith, Boots Barnett, Sidney Jackson, Helene Hogan, Laura Kilgore, LaVerne Coombes, Eva Sue Frazier and Mary Johnson. Eva Metcalf of Las Vegas, N.M., was a guest.

KARPIN ON BRIDGE

By FRED KARPIN

Amongst the rank-and-file, there is frequently a divergence of opinion as to what a hand is worth. More specially, the question often arises as to whether some particular minimum hand constitutes an opening bid of one in a suit.

But even amongst the experts, there is often a difference of opinion as to whether a given hand should be opened or passed. This point can be observed in today's deal, which came up during the 1975 World Championships, in the match between France and the United States.

Both sides vulnerable. South deals.

The above was the bidding sequence when the United States held the North-South cards. Robert Wolfe, South, felt that the South hand was worth an opening bid of one spade.

West's two-club overcall was the Michaels Convention. It announced a hand containing five hearts plus an unspiced minor suit of five- or six-card length. North's four-spade bid was normal, as was East's double of this latter contract.

The deal could have resulted in a gain for the French team, but West chose to lead a low heart at to hay, and there's a lot of that around because of all the animals."

Tiger Trick

This year's circus has some of the most exciting animal acts ever, headlined by Gunther Gebel-Williams, (not a relative of Peggy) a brilliant young animal trainer, who puts tigers, horses and elephants through their paces in the same ring, and who rides standing on an elephant in the opening parade, a tiger on a leash seated at his feet. Audiences hold their breath for this number. And what of the performers who are in the ring as Gebel-Williams circles it with his ferocious friend?

"I'm paralyzed," admitted Miss Williams. "I stand there saying over and over to the tiger 'Don't jump! Don't jump.' But Gebel-Williams is extraordinary. The tigers are his friends. He's raised them all from cubs and he never lets anyone else feed them. He does it himself. So I don't really worry—only a little bit."

It's a Great Life

"This is Miss Williams' fifth year with the circus and she's hooked. "I look at people in coffee shops having a quick breakfast before they go to work," she said, "and they look so bored and unhappy that I can't help thinking how lucky I am. It's a steal of a job!"

Not that clowning around is all laughs. It has its occupational hazards.

"Sore muscles and bruises are par-for-the-course when you're a clown," she said. "I don't have to sign up for an exercise course—I get quite a workout in the ring, but it keeps me in shape."

Majoring in Laughs

Miss Williams, who majored in speech pathology at the University of Wisconsin, learned pantomime to communicate with deaf children. She was hoping to go to France to study with Marcel Marceau when she heard about the Ringling Bros. and Barnum &

Bailey Circus Clown College. She applied, was accepted and went through the rigorous program, becoming the College's first female graduate. Now, in the role of distinguished alumna, she returns to Clown College each year to give lectures.

"The new breed of clowns doesn't come from circus families," she said. "All of us could have gone into other fields. But we chose clowning as a profession instead. For myself, I think it's the only job I could have taken that permits me complete freedom to express myself. I make up my own characters and my own costumes."

Peggy, who has 12 costume changes for each performance, also created her own makeup. She's a white-faced clown with a wide mouth and nose that exaggerate her own features. Rhinestone teardrops add a feminine touch. It takes 45 minutes to paint on her funny face.

It's All Illusion

Every clown has a specialty, whether it's juggling, working with animals or slapstick.

Peggy Williams

Peggy's skill is illusions—making people and objects vanish. For one of her routines, she's a dilapidated ballerina in men's long underwear, rubber boots and bedraggled tutu. For another, she's a stumbling, purse-dropping grandmother. She does an inflated version of Mae West in a padded costume that adds instant overweight and outlandish curves when it's zipped up.

It's not only the laughs and applause that make her job appealing, it's the circus itself.

"It's a family," she said. "It's a whole life. There's a camaraderie among circus people that you don't find anywhere else."

Pampa's Economy Prospers

PROOF — Ted Rodgers, an employee of Celanese Chemical Co., can prove his recent fish story with this picture. He caught the string of bass Saturday at a Western Oklahoma lake. The catch ranged from about 14 inches up to 21 inches, but Rodgers didn't weigh them. They hit a white, double spinner, bomber Bushwacker retrieved at a slow, steady speed, bumping bottom, according to fisherman. He said they were feeding and sunning in the shallow water. In addition to the string pictured, Rodgers said he caught several smaller bass. They hit all day, he said, and the morning was calm and fair turning to strong winds in the afternoon. Rodgers fishes with a Zebo 1 containing 15 pound test line.

Junior High Golfers Take Liberal Tourney

Pampa Junior High team scored 333 to win the Liberal Junior High Invitational Tuesday in Liberal. Other team scores were Guymon, 349; Liberal, 356; Stamford, 364 and Hooker, 369.

Players, Owners Begin Bargaining

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new round of bargaining talks between the pro football players union and the owners is apparently off on the right foot.

It was a very good meeting, a top federal mediator said of a seven-hour session between the two sides Tuesday, marking the first formal get-together since last August when a six-week player strike ended without a contract settlement.

After the daylong meeting between subcommittees from the NFL Players Association and the owners Management Council, James Scarece of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said: "Both sides identified the issues involved and there was in-depth discussion of the problems of player work rules with which they are dealing."

Scarece, deputy director of the federal agency, said the two groups would reconvene in the near future to renew talks and reported that similar subcommittees representing the union and the owners would probably begin meeting next week on the player pension system.

Other bargaining terms are expected to take up such issues as grievance procedures and general contract terms, including minimum pay.

At the outset of the new talks, Scarece met briefly and separately with the players contingent and the owners group and then left the two four-man second at only one shot behind. Keith Kilgore, Hooker, shot 83; Scott Barrett, Pampa and Todd Houser, Guymon, each shot 85 but Houser won the playoff on the first extra hole. Toby Wisdom, Stratford, shot 86; Guymon's Mike Kimball, with a tying score with Dale Kimsey, Guymon, 87.

Players, Owners Begin Bargaining

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A subcommittee alone for most of the day. That they continued their bargaining until late afternoon was viewed as encouraging.

John Thompson, outgoing executive director of the owners' council, and his designated successor, Sargent Karch; New York Giant owner Wellington Mara and Chicago Bears General Manager Jim Finks represented the management team. Dick Bertleson, chief assistant to NFLPA Executive Director Ed Garvey, and union vice president Kermit Alexander were the chief bargainers for the players.

The union, following a meeting of representatives from the 26 NFL teams, abandoned a number of player working condition demands, including those involving disciplinary fines for curfew violations and training camp regulations.

The mood of both sides was subdued and slightly more conciliatory than it was during the strike situation last August but the prospect was for hard bargaining ahead.

Still a major obstacle is controversy over the so-called grzele Rule on compensating a team which obtains a player who has played out his option.

NM Sets Coach Criteria

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (UPI) — New Mexico State University has seven guidelines for selecting a new head basketball coach, including an ability to recruit and sell the program.

The Aggies have been looking for a new coach since Lou Henson resigned last month to go to Illinois. The athletic council has offered the job to one man, Middle Tennessee Coach Jimmy Earle, but he rejected the offer.

Colson said the eight-member council would name a new coach, "as soon as possible," but said there was no deadline. He released the seven guidelines for choosing a new coach because of the "intense interest in the selection."

Pampa Good, Caprock Better

Pampa's baseball team exhibited a good defensive performance Tuesday, but still dropped the first game of the second round of District 3-AAAA competition to Amarillo's Caprock High School.

The Longhorns scored twice and put down a seventh inning threat to get the win. "Mike Fraser pitched a tremendous ball game," said Ronnie White, Pampa baseball coach. "That's two games in a row we've had good pitching performances. If we can just start hitting the ball better, maybe we'll win."

David Shelton pitched good for Caprock, too, but needed help from Mark Leonard in the seventh inning. Shelton didn't walk a Harvester, struck out 11 and gave up a single to pinch hitter Tommy Washington and a triple to Ron Willett.

When Leonard took the mound, there were no outs and Pampa's tying run was on third. He struck out pinch hitter Roy Morris. Mike Knutsen made a couple of attempts to bunt Willett in from third and finally bounced to short. Jessie Brown caught Willett at the plate. The third out was three strikes on pinch hitter Mark Adair.

Fraser allowed only four hits.

Both of Caprock's scores were unearned. The Pampa pitcher struck out 11, and walked two.

Pampa's next game is at 4 p.m. Friday in Opturist Park against Tascosa.

"They beat us pretty bad (11 to 4) the first time we played them," Coach White said. But he added that the Harvesters have strengthened their defense considerably since that first encounter.

The coach commented that he would like to see more supporters at the games. "Win or lose it's really pretty good entertainment for no more than you have to pay," he said. "And I've always felt that a good crowd can make a difference in the results in any sport."

Following district games Tuesday, Caprock and Amarillo High School remain in a tie for first place with 5-1 district records. Tascosa follows with a 4-2, then Borger and Palo Duro both with 2-4, and Pampa with 0-6.

Muhammed Ali Rejects 'Paltry' $3 Million

NEW YORK (UPI) — Muhammad Ali may yet fight Joe Frazier for a third time—but it certainly won't be at New York's Madison Square Garden for a "paltry" $3 million.

That was the amount offered the heavyweight champion to meet Frazier Sept. 16, according to an announcement by the Garden Tuesday but, in the words of Ali's manager Herbert Muhammad, "it's a little ridiculous, don't you think?"

In explaining his ridicule of the offer, Muhammad pointed out that Ali received $2.5 million for his first bout against Frazier in 1971 at the Garden when his fighter wasn't even champion and, as challenger, he received $5 million when he regained the crown by knocking out George Foreman in eight rounds last October in Zaire.

"I received a letter from the Garden last week notifying me of the offer," said Muhammad in a telephone interview from his home in Chicago. "But I didn't even dignify it with an answer. I don't know why they revealed their offer today without even waiting for an answer from me."

"Ali definitely won't get in the ring with Frazier at the Garden for $3 million."

Muhammad went on to reveal he has an offer of "35 million-plus" for Ali to defend his crown against either Foreman or Frazier in Cairo, Egypt, in late September or early October. Also on record, according to Muhammad, are three separate offers of $3.5 million each for Ali to meet European champion Joe Bugner in either Europe, the Dominican Republic or Malaysia plus an offer for the champion to face Frazier in New Orleans.

"I'll decide which offer to accept after Ali gets past Ron Lyle in Las Vegas next month," added Muhammad, referring to Ali's next title defense on May 16 which will be shown on home television. "This is the most money ever offered by the Garden for a boxing match," said Garden president Mike Burke after revealing his offer of $3 million to Ali and $1.5 to Frazier to meet in the Garden for a third time.

After being notified of the Garden's offer, Frazier, who manages heavyweight Duane Gobbick, said from Minneapolis. "The offer sounds good to me. I hope Clay takes it. Right now I'm busy with Bobick and the Silver Gloves tournament I'm promoting in Philadelphia which ends April 30."

We Hold These Truths...
A Chronicle of America

April, 1775:

Throughout the colonies, reaction to the news of Lexington is predictable and swift. On the 20th, Israel Putnam covers the 100 miles from his Connecticut farm to Concord in 18 hours. Militiamen quickly depart for Cambridge — from New Hampshire on the 21st, from Rhode Island on the 22nd. On the 23rd, the Massachusetts Provincial Congress mobilizes into an "army" the 13,600 militiamen laying siege to Boston, and names General Artemas Ward commander-in-chief. Benedict Arnold arrives with a company from New Haven on the 29th. Colonists in Charleston, South Carolina, having opened — on the 19th — official mail disclosing British intentions to use force, seize gunpowder and muskets in the royal magazines on the 21st. Similar seizures occur as the news of Lexington travels south — in New York City on the 23rd, in Baltimore on the 25th, in Savannah on May 11th.

Seminar To Focus on Arthritis

AMARILLO — An expected 1,500 persons will converge on Amarillo's Hilton Inn Wednesday, April 30, for a one-day seminar on arthritis.

The event, featuring six noted physicians from Amarillo and Lubbock plus several persons who have suffered arthritis, is an educational thrust by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Panhandle Economic Program and the West Texas Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation, co-sponsors.

Speakers will include Charles Seward M.D., Kenneth Johnston

M.D., Bob L. Stafford M.D., Gilbert Gimbel LPT (Licensed Physical Therapist) and Maurice Dyer M.D., of Amarillo. Also, Bruce Bartholomew M.D., Lubbock; Mrs. Mary K. Sweeten, Extension foods and nutrition specialist from College Station; Mrs. Charlotte Bauder and Mrs. Barbara Serres of the West Texas Chapter, Arthritis Foundation, Amarillo; Linda Carr and Laura Bauder, both of Amarillo; H.L. Hershey of Hereford; and Thelma Mayes of Borger.

The seminar, according to Extension agent Elaine Houston, is to provide information on care and treatment of arthritis and to inform those who may not be affected with arthritis of what they can do to help those who are.

Some 13,000 to 15,000 persons in Amarillo have some form of arthritis, according to the Arthritis Foundation. One in four U.S. families are affected with the disease, which strikes in nearly 100 different forms. The most common are osteoarthritis, which affects older persons; rheumatoid arthritis, which is the most serious and disabling form; juvenile arthritis, which strikes children; gout; and arthritis of the spine.

The morning session gets underway with registration and coffee at 9:00, and welcome at 9:30. The film, "One in Sixteen Million," follows the invocation.

A panel of three physicians will discuss medical and surgical treatment of arthritis at 10 a.m.

A noon luncheon is available for guests and participants at the Hilton Inn. Cost is $4.50. Pre-registration blanks are available at the County Extension Agent's office and at the office of the West Texas Chapter, Arthritis Foundation.

The afternoon session starts out with a review of research of arthritis by Bruce Bartholomew

M.D., Texas Tech University School of Medicine.

A panel follows, with four individuals who have suffered the disease discussing how they learned to cope with it. Quackery, the term used to describe fraudulent practice of medicine by persons not qualified to treat the disease, will be another topic on the panel's agenda.

At 2:00 p.m. a presentation on the effects of diet on arthritis will be given. Then licensed therapist will discuss how arthritis responds to therapy.

A pediatrician finishes up the day's activities with ideas on care and treatment of arthritis in children.

Briscoe Wants Details About Explosions

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe says the federal government should either provide Gulf Coast states with more information about a proposal to use underground nuclear explosions to produce electricity or stop the project.

The proposal involves the daily explosion of two thermonuclear devices three times the size of the atomic bomb the United States dropped on Japan, the governor said.

Briscoe urged other governors of the states involved to demand a part in the program. "I feel very strongly that we cannot let the federal government proceed with this project unless we are thoroughly informed and involved in the decision-making process," Briscoe said in letters to the governors of Gulf Coast states.

"We have too much at stake not to have a role in both the research and the decision-making process," Briscoe said. He is concerned over the project under consideration by the federal Energy Research and Development Administration.

"I feel that it is imperative that those of us involved in this project by virtue of possession of salt dome resources, be briefed and involved in the 'Pacer Plan' from the beginning," Briscoe said.

Briscoe asked the other governors to designate representatives to meet with federal officials and congressional delegations from their states as soon as possible.

Briscoe said his director of state-federal relations in Washington, Alan R. Erwin, told him the federal government has spent $1 million with the University of California on initial studies without even contacting officials of the other states involved.

No final decision has been made yet on whether to proceed with feasibility studies on the project, Erwin said.

Travel is favored. Begin early, have a checklist so nothing is skipped. Bring friends along when feasible. Better health care information is now available.

U.S. nuclear power plants saved 183 million barrels of oil or 42 million tons of coal in 1974, according to estimates of the Atomic Industrial Forum.

Tentative Bill Utilizes Current School Formula

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — A House subcommittee on school finance has tentatively agreed to a new school finance bill that does little to change the method in which the state distributes funds to public schools.

"We have agreed to the principles," said Rep. Herman Adams, D-Silsbee, chairman of the subcommittee. "We're basically going to use the current funding formula, using the weighted pupil approach as a pilot program in a few districts."

Gov. Dolph Briscoe had proposed the so-called weighted pupil approach as a new means of putting more state funds into districts where education costs are highest, and less state money into districts where costs are lower.

Many House members opposed Briscoe's plan because they said it would increase the portion of school operating costs paid by local districts.

Adams said the new finance bill he proposes will increase state aid to local districts for maintenance, operation and transportation, and will include a pay raise for teachers.

The subcommittee has not yet agreed on a teacher pay level, he said.

Your Horoscope

By Jeanne Dixon

THURSDAY, APRIL 24

Your birthday today:

Your finest strategy in the year ahead will be to cut down on the amount of energy wasted in superficial activities and distracting habits. Refrain from upsetting any arrangement that continues to bring in good results. Relationships lag, require definite encouragement at all times. Today's natives work from patterns, need to learn more about improvisation.

Cries [March 21-April 19]: Get critical issues settled so you can proceed with full understanding and support from all concerned. Make a fair deal, but keep details free of publicity if you can.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Travel is favored. Begin early, have a checklist so nothing is skipped. Bring friends along when feasible. Better health care information is now available.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: There's quite a lot to learn about the latest in local events. Where you have any transactions with a large institution, it's time to settle accounts.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Brief jaunts go well; long-range contacts are better handled by letter (or perhaps a tape recording). Let bygones be just that; swing into improved harmony.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: You have more leverage now; be discreet in using your position to pry loose special considerations. Property deals are ripe for final decisions. Keep your written word brief!

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: As is often the case, you're making a finer distinction than most people do, need to educate them your way to get cooperation. It's worth a try.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Excellent results arise from early diligence, steady pace. Demonstrations of skill are in order. Wherever there's a chance for you to do your stuff, do so!

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Family unity, public acceptance are both much closer — exert yourself to bring them into working reality. Respond positively to correspondence from far places.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Be willing to move from a previously fixed opinion. Short journeys, negotiations for adjustments are favored. Think about a physical fitness program.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: You've got good influences going for you in all departments of your life. Firming up emotional ties is the most sensitive area now. Tell it as it is; hope for the best.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Because your ventures seem prosperous doesn't mean you cash in on achievements thus far. News from distant people gives food for thought.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Let your savings draw interest and other resources rest safely. Work with what is handy — with anyone agreeable. Focus on strengthening personal ties.

Visitors to Russia get Lenin's revenge

U.S. visitors to Russia, as many as one in five if they visit Leningrad, are developing diarrhea, a long-lasting form of diarrhea, according to Modern Medicine Publication.

The illness lasts an average of six weeks - sometimes as long as 30 weeks - and tap water is suspected as the source of infection. - CNS

MicroZoo with No Animals

Shows Eels, Amoebas on Screen

ABILENE, Kan. (UPI) — Children entering Scott Zsach's zoo don't ogle at lions and tigers and bears. Instead of barred cages, they see softly lit screens displaying live animals that could give an experienced hunter the creeps.

Last year more than 24,000 persons, many of them school children, paid up to $1.25 to gawk at the special screens showing amoebas, vinegar eels and other creatures familiar in name but alien in appearance.

The zoo, a half-million dollar investment by Zsach and a few friends, is a two-year-old, two-story white structure vying for tourist attention next to the Eisenhower Museum and Old Abilene Town.

10 States To Intervene In Railroad Bankruptcy

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — Nine states have agreed to join the state of Iowa in an attempt to intervene in bankruptcy proceedings of the Rock Island Lines, according to Iowa Commerce Commission Chairman Maurice Van Nostrand.

He said Iowa received written commitments to join the intervention proceeding from Nebraska and Missouri and verbal commitments from Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Kansas, Colorado, Illinois and Minnesota.

There was a need for it, the 29-year-old zookeeper said. "People need to see more of the world around them, so we devised a unique projection method (similar to an overhead projector) to show people another part of their environment."

Ford May Place John Connally

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford said Monday night that former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally Jr., freed of all charges, might play a role in the Republican party in the next election and perhaps in the Ford administration.

He said four states — Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas and Texas — along with Iowa, have 80 per cent of the Rock Island track.

Manpowered craft have made it into the air before, but none has maintained flight over any great distance. The rig under construction in Ernst's garage, the product of 14 years of tinkering, is a tubular metal frame on four bicycle wheels with two propellers up front.

John Connally has been acquitted, all charges have been dismissed, Ford said in his CBS interview. "He has a clean slate and he's got the record and the courts to prove it."

ST. JOHNS, MICH. (UPI) — Edward Ernst, a grandfatherly gentleman with four bicycle wheels, two propellers and a dream, hopes to pedal his way into aviation history this summer.

Save--Send Dopers To Rehabilitation

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Sen. Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena, says the state can save $250,000 a year by sending drug offenders to rehabilitation programs instead of jail.

If the petition for intervention is accepted, the states will be able to examine evidence, call witnesses and generally participate in the bankruptcy proceedings.

Ernst, a retired automotive wood and plastic model maker, is nearing completion of a manpowered airplane.

The Senate Committee on Human Resources unanimously approved Brooks' bill Monday despite Legislative Budget Board predictions the program will cost $1.38 million in 1976, $2.2 million in 1977 and soar to $9.8 million a year by 1980.

Van Nostrand said he is very optimistic McGarr will allow the intervention petition.

Who did the Wright brothers take lessons from? he asked with a grin.

Teetotallers Die Before "Moderates"

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Two University of California researchers say their survey shows that "moderate" drinkers live longer than teetotallers.

UT Regents Want To Keep Authority on Construction

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The University of Texas Board of Regents does not want to relinquish its authority over construction at its 12 college campuses but representatives of other schools say the state has already spent too much money on college construction.

Not trusting his aging legs, Ernst will leave the flying of the two-man craft to younger men with more pedal power.

Sen. Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena, told senators the law change is needed to correct errors made in the 1973 law and allow the state to continue financial support of orphans and neglected children who become wards of the state after their 18th birthday.

It takes more buildings just to house these students, Shivers said.

Competition to build a manpowered flying machine has been keen since 1959, when British businessman Henry Kremer offered a cash prize for a workable craft.

Although so-called moderate drinkers apparently did not die in as large numbers as teetotallers under age 60, the people considered "heavy" drinkers had a death rate three times higher.

But Baylor University President Abner McCall, a member of Gov. John Connally's Committee of 25 which in the early 1960s recommended the creation of the Coordinating Board.

The prize was boosted to $120,000 when failure followed.

The researchers defined a "moderate" drinker as one who imbibed a few times a week. Heavy drinkers were people who drank more often.

Also testifying for the measure were Harry Provence of Waco, chairman of the Coordinating Board, and John Gray, a past chairman and now president of Lamar University in Beaumont.

Sen. Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena, told senators the law change is needed to correct errors made in the 1973 law and allow the state to continue financial support of orphans and neglected children who become wards of the state after their 18th birthday.

Senators voted unanimously Monday to allow the proposal by revising a 1973 statute giving full legal right to 18-year olds.

Senate Revises Teens Rights

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The Texas Senate has voted to allow the Texas Youth Council to retain custody of juvenile delinquents until they are 21.

Urges Merger Of PanAM-UT

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — University of Texas Regents Chairman Allan Shivers said Monday the advantages of merging PAN American University into the UT system outweigh the disadvantages and urged the legislature to pass legislation permitting the union.

If the legislature in its wisdom does this, I can assure all concerned that the University Board of Regents and administration will work closely with the Pan American Board and administration to insure a thoughtful and orderly transition for Pan American University into the University System, Shivers said.

Shivers said he hopes the legislature will give this matter serious consideration and pass the legislation.

SEEDY IDEA WASHINGTON (UPI) — Only a few pounds of grass seed are needed for an ordinary sized lawn, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture Consumer Food News. But the type you buy can make the difference between an attractive or coarse, ugly lawn.

Kennedy Jewelry Store

RUSSELL KENNEDY

Russell Kennedy has watched the steady progress of Pampa since it began to grow in the oil days of the twenties. He began work in a jewelry store as a service and repairman for oil meter clocks. Kennedy found the jewelry business "fascinating" and went into business for himself in 1933.

Kennedy Jewelry Store was originally located across the street from its present location, 121 North Cuyler. The store moved in 1967.

The employees of the store include Kennedy, his wife, his sister and his daughter, Ann Eyerhart. Mrs. Eyerhart does much of the sales work. "I have been working for the store ever since I was big enough to look over the counter," said Mrs. Eyerhart. Kennedy occupies most of his time with watch repairs and jewelry repair.

Kennedy has taken several courses in watch repair, diamond engraving and other arts necessary to provide all the services possible for his customers. "We can't keep up with the watch repairs," said Kennedy. "Most of business comes from people wanting stones reset."

Kennedy added, "Diamonds are always increasing in value, so people do not replace the stone but the setting instead."

He also added that their biggest problem was locating the "proper merchandise". He explained that the big diamond companies are buying up the extra mountings and the small stores need to do a lot of shopping around to find what their people will want.

"We have been doing an outlandish business," he commented. "I wouldn't be any place else. Pampa has been good to us, and I can't complain."
