Plane Crashes At Gail

Students and teachers of the Borden County School at Gail and other residents of the county seat town had an anxious moment about 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when a jet training plane whistled low over the school and crashed into a pasture about one mile east of Gail.

Some students said they saw the T33 trainer headed toward the school in a long glide and feared that it would hit the building.

However, the plane with its burner out and its two officers already bailed out in parachutes, crashed harmlessly into the pasture.

The Air Force officers in the training plane were 1st. Lt. James P. Lamb, 25, instructor pilot of the 2636 North Street, Beaumont, Tex. and 2nd Lt. George Dalition of San Francisco.

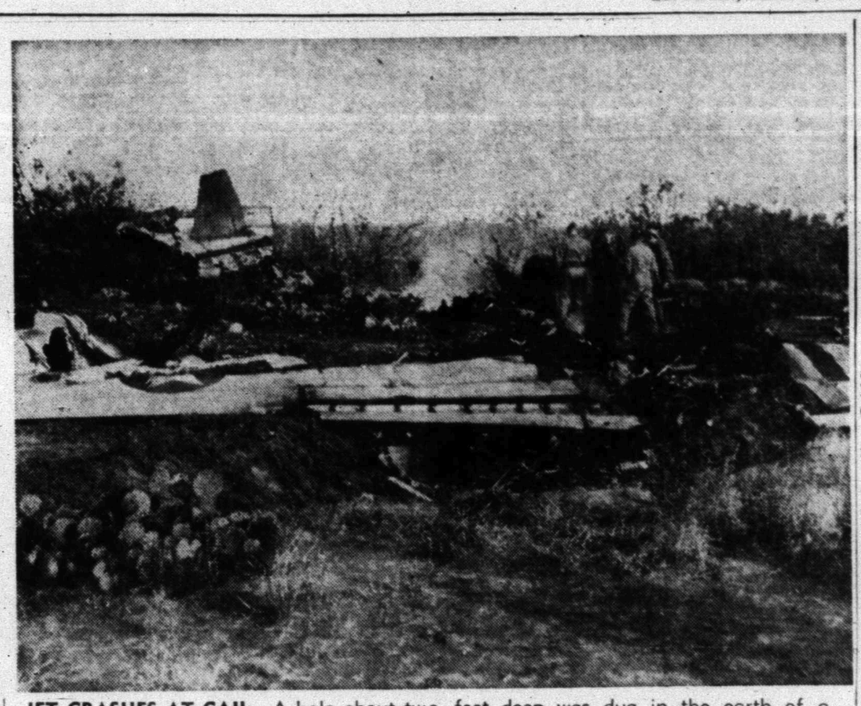

A long hole shaped somewhat like a head-on view of the plane was dug in the pasture and a number of mesquite trees were burned by the explosion and fire which accompanied crash of the plane.

Sid Reeder, Borden County sheriff, said that he heard the plane go over Gail, and heard the loud explosion of the crash but did not see the actual crash.

"I got a telephone call from the school between the time the plane passed over the school and the time it crashed in the pasture telling me it had almost hit the school," he said.

Fire fighting equipment was sent from Webb Air Force Base to the scene, but the fire from the plane burned out after covering only about an acre of trees and grass around the crash scene.

An investigating officer from the air base said the plane had a large quantity of fuel which caused the fire at the crash.

JET CRASHES AT GAIL—A hole about two feet deep was dug in the earth of a pasture about one mile east of Gail when a T33 jet training plane from Webb Air Force Base, Big Spring, crashed, leaving the strewn wreckage above. The two air force officers in the plane had parachuted to safety about six miles west of Gail and were not injured. (Lee Watson photograph)

SCHOOL ABSENTEES were not as plentiful today as yesterday, indicating the flu epidemic here may have passed its climax. This morning, total absences in the schools numbered 1,102, or about 280 less then yesterday's 1,383. Yesterday was the first day of school after it had been out for three days because of flu.

EACH OF THE SCHOOLS had less absentees today then yesterday, but the flu still had quite a grip on the students. There were still more absentees today than there were when school was turned out last week. It is believed, however, that the number will drop to a great extent by Monday.

ABSENTEES BY SCHOOLS included 147 at North Elementary, 143 at the high school, 113 at the junior high, 138 at East Elementary, 191 at West Elementary, 168 at Central Elementary, 127 at Northeast Elementary, and 75 at the Lincoln School.

SNYDER AREA RESIDENTS are going to be reminded about Veterans Day in convincing fashion [illegible] formerly Armistice Day] is next Monday, and the Sunday issue of the Daily News will include a section on the two major veterans organizations, the Veterans Of Foreign Wars and the American Legion.

UF Campaign Nearing Goal

United Fund campaign workers were still looking for about $1,500 as the campaign's total grew again slightly today after one day of almost no contributions.

The industrial employes division, almost complete, turned in about $400 late this morning to boost the United Fund total of about $37,500.

Goal of the United Fund here is $38,934, and campaign officials are making plans to close out the drive within the next few days and reach the goal.

Workers in all divisions were being urged to turn in reports, if they had not done so. The campaign is nearing the end of its sixth week here.

The United Fund's executive board and all division chairmen were to hold a meeting this afternoon to make plans toward boosting contributions to the budget goal.

The United Fund here serves nine agencies.

School Bonds Up For Vote Here Saturday

Taxpaying voters of the Snyder school district will go to the polls tomorrow to decide whether to approve a $2,325,000 bond proposal for additions and improvements to school facilities.

The polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. There will be three polling places, and voters, no matter where they live in the district, can take their choice of places to vote. The polling places will be at the school tax office on Twenty-sixth Street, the Northeast Elementary School, and the West Elementary School.

Proposed in the election are a second junior high school, a new elementary school, additions to the school maintenance warehouse and administration building, and a sprinkler system at the high school.

The school board proposed the election after making extensive studies on enrollment gains in the schools. Proposed along with the idea of having a second junior high is the moving of the freshmen class back to the junior high level, as is the program in most schools. This would not only leave room for growth in the high school but would provide the more ideal program for students of those grades. The present junior high is also crowded and has no room for growth.

The second junior high would be located on a site the school board has acquired west of El Paso Street, just north of the West Elementary School. It would have sufficient classroom and instructional space for 600 students, or about the same capacity as the present junior high.

Additions and improvements at the present junior high would include renovation of the old gymnasium, construction of a girls gym and a field house for the boys athletic program, and sodding an area on the west side of the campus for a football practice field. Improvements would be made in science, library, and some classrooms areas in the building.

The present junior high practice field, which was at one time the high school playing field, would become a playing field for both junior highs. Three-grade junior highs would have three football teams each, which would mean six teams would use that field.

The proposed elementary school would be constructed to measure up to standards of the present elementary schools here and have similar facilities. It would be designed for a maximum of 500 students. It would be located south of Forty-third Street and between Avenues U and V on a site acquired by the school board almost two years ago.

The maintenance warehouse and administration building, built five years ago, would have additions which would bring them up to present space needs, including a carpentry-repair area and more storage area at the warehouse and more business office, instructional, and work area in the administration building. The sprinkler system at the high school was proposed because of rising maintenance costs involving use of personnel.

Needs for the new junior high and elementary school have been especially stressed here because of increasing enrollments throughout the school. Alternatives, should the proposal fail, would be drastically increased class sizes, heavy use of temporary frame buildings for classes, and possibly half-day sessions in some schools, as has occurred here in the past.

A COMMUNITY DECISION

(AN EDITORIAL)

Taxpaying voters of the Snyder Independent School District will decide Saturday whether they want to keep their home public educational system on a standard comparable to that maintained during the past five years.

The proposal to construct a new elementary school building and establish a second junior high school, along with lesser improvements, was advanced after careful study.

The ultimate decision, of course, must come from the tax-paying voters. We sincerely hope that each qualified voter thoroughly understands the issue, and that all voters will go to the polls and help reach the decision.

Considerable information has been distributed on "what will happen" if the bonds are approved. We think voters are entitled to this information and that it should command thorough consideration.

At the same time, we think something should be said about "what will happen" if the bonds are voted down. Such a circumstance likely would result in "double-day" sessions in some of our schools within three years, plus classroom loads up to 40 pupils.

That is the picture in a nutshell.

The problem most certainly is one of community-wide interest, and it most certainly is not imaginary. By the most conservative caluculations it will be virtually on top of us by the time the proposed buildings can be constructed.

We believe the school children of the Snyder Independent School District deserve a favorable vote on the bonds.

Losses On Farm Supports Higher

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government losses on farm price support programs are running slightly above record levels of a year ago.

An Agriculture Department report showed today that losses for the July-September quarter totaled $334,007,000 compared with $320,653,900 last year.

Losses are incurred when the department sells its surplus stocks for less than it paid for them in price support loan and purchase operations.

Government investment in farm surpluses was down slightly more than a billion dollars from a year ago. It totaled $6,854,250,000 Sept. 30.

Small Projects Cited

Three small projects have been included with three larger ones in the $2,325,000 school bond election set here tomorrow.

Although the school board has not emphasized the need for the three smaller projects as much as it has for the others, it has pointed out that these proposals are needed badly.

The three are an addition to the school maintenance warehouse, addition to the school administration building, and an irrigation system at the high school. The larger projects involved are a second junior high, additions and improvements at the present junior high, and another elementary school.

The school maintenance warehouse is located at the corner of Avenur M and Thirtieth Street. It is the center of maintenance, transportation, and supply distribution for the schools.

Many school maintance supplies are stored there, as is usable equipment which is not in use at the time. School buses are kept in the yard there, and the maintenance garage is located there to keep up school vehicles.

The school also has in the building a carpentry area, but the maintenance building has not only outgrown its storage space but has crowded the carpentry shop, where repairs are made on some school equipment. Also, there is no way to keep sawdust and filings from the carpentry shop from things which are stored in the building.

The proposed addition would provide for a carpentry shop, and the present carpentry area could be used for storage, and more storage space would also be available in the addition.

The warehouse area, now too small to handle incoming merchandise for all departments in the school could then handle that task. The school cafeteria system, maintenance, instruction, and continued expansion of the school program involves the handling of many thousands of dollars worth of equipment and supplies through the small warehouse building.

The present school administration building does not include a curriculum and instruction area. It was not planned to house cafeteria personnel, an accountant, and instructional supervisory services which the school has added during the past five years.

With educational planning which is going on constantly, there are not enough places to work. There is no ample space at present for files, records, and other storage needs.

For example, the blueprints and records of the school plant are

Both Houses Okay Crime Study Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—The House and Senate agreed today on Gov. Price Daniel's demands for a state crime study commission.

The 117-3 House vote to concur in Senate changes to the measure was the first final action on any of the governor's four reasons for calling the 30-day session. Today was the 26th day.

By mid-morning Daniel still had not indicated whether he would introduce a specially prepared segregation bill this morning or wait until a second special session next Wednesday.

The House passed 121-5 and sent to the Senate a bill setting up $1,750,000 for constructing a building to house the Board of Insurance—another item of Daniel's call for the session.

A Senate bill requiring registration of all who represent others before state boards was on top of the Senate calendar. Debate was delayed by an executive session to consider confirmation of several appointments made by Daniel.

The governor told a press conference yesterday that by noon today he would make up his mind whether segregation legislation could be squeezed into this session or a new one.

A new session starting next Wednesday seemed a certainty.

In making the announcement yesterday, Daniel said only that he would "submit a bill to prohibit the use of military forces in connection with the public schools."

When asked if a new session would take up any undone business from the present session ending Tuesday at midnight, Daniel refused to comment, then added that reporters could do their own speculation.

This session has not yet satisfied one of the four prime demands made by Daniel—lobby control, influence peddling curbs, statewide water planning, and long-range crime prevention studies.

All four issues were much-publicized campaign promises of the Daniel administration.

Although the House went ahead and passed two of its pending program bills after Daniel's announcement yesterday, some legislative leaders predicted a slowdown movement the rest of the session.

"It blows the lobby and water bills out of the window for this session," said influential Senate leader William S. Fly of Victoria.

Rep. Max Smith of San Marcos, a prominent House leader, said he believed another session was in prospect.

"Everybody will say 'Let's come back Wednesday,'" said Sen. Henry B. Gonzales of San Antonio, who has threatened to filibuster any segregation legislation.

Daniel's announcement yesterday came after two days of conferences with the East Texas legislators pushing for quick consideration of anti-integration bills and with leaders of each house attempting to push through the four-point program.

The governor made it clear that he was determined to see that the troops-school bill is passed. He made several references to the Little Rock anti-integration mobs.

"I don't want to see the same thing happen here that did at Little Rock," he said.

The proposed bill, drafted in Daniel's office, would close schools under threat of occupation by either state or federal troops and would authorize the attorney general to use state money in defending school boards caught in federal court integration suits.

Daniel said he believed Texas could handle any school color line disturbances with its own local officers, aided if necessary by Texas Rangers and state highway patrolmen.

"Education can not be properly carried out under the heels or bayonets of state or federal troops," he said. "For that reason I do not believe that in this state it will be necessary or proper to use National Guard or any troops and I certainly do not want schools of this state occupied by federal troops."

The Senate approved an administration-backed bill calling for a crime study commission. The measure must return to the House for approval of Senate changes.

The House approved 134-1 a House bill requiring registration of persons who represent others before various state agencies. A similar Senate bill is pending.

Cotton Production Estimates Decline

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas cotton production was estimated today at 3,900,000 bales, down 200,000 bales from the prediction issued last month.

Such a production would be well ahead of the 1956 harvest of 3,615,000 bales and the 1946-1955 average of 3,742,000 bales.

The Agriculture Department estimated the whole U.S. crop at 11,788,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

This is 613,000 bales less than the 12,401,000 forecast of a month ago. It compares also with 13,310,000 bales produced last year and with 13,669,000 for the ten-year (1946-55) average.

The department estimated the yield of cotton would average 413 pounds on a harvested acre basis compared with 409 last year and 300 for the ten-year average.

This year's crop was grown under acreage planting restrictions and rigid marketing quotas designed to prevent overproduction. The department has proposed that next year's crop be grown under like limitations.

The Texas crop was estimated at 3,900,000 bales at an average per acre yield of 316 pounds. Texas ginnings to Nov. 1 were 1,482,513 bales compared to 2,580,963 last year.

This year's crop will be supplemented by a reserve and surplus of 11,400,000 bales accumulated from past big crops. Much of this is stored under government price support programs.

The department has predicted domestic and export markets would require about 14 million bales from this year's supply. With production falling below this figure, such a demand would require use of some of the surplus supplies.

The Census Bureau said 5,594,454 running bales of cotton from this year's crop were ginned prior to Nov. 1 compared with 9,718,448 last year.

The indicated average harvested acre yield and production by states included: Georgia 324 and 390,000; Tennessee 455 and 450,000; Alabama 347 and 535,000; Mississippi 459 and 1,290,000; Arkansas 491 and 1,160,000; Louisiana 417 and 395,000; Oklahoma 242 and 290,000; New Mexico 663 and 250,000; Arizona 1,097 and 800,000; and California 1,006 and 1,500,00.

The production of American-Egyptian type cotton was estimated at 86,500 bales compared with 50,300 last year and 36,800 for the ten-year average.

Ginnings by states this year and last included:

Alabama 461,694 and 670,871; Arizona 184,491 and 319,015; Arkansas 532,973 and 1,177,108; California 667,481 and 925,454; Georgia 339,685 and 530,099; Louisiana 231,614 and 525,565; Mississippi 670,628 and 1,428,731; New Mexico 84,904 and 177,629; Oklahoma 37,300 and 176,576; and Tennessee 257,270 and 464,301.

12 Persons Die In Tornadoes

ORANGE (AP) — Explosive-like tornadoes ripped into Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi as people prepared to retire last night, killing at least 12 persons and injuring up to 200.

The death toll read this way by cities: Orange, Tex., 1; Groves, Tex., 2; Alexandria, La., 3; Carencro, La., 2; near Crowley, La., 2; and near Greenwood, Miss., 2.

Jefferson County Civil Defense Director George Gary said 160 homes were destroyed or suffered major destruction in Groves. He said the total damage, including that to homes, power lines and other installations, would be 5 million dollars in Jefferson County.

Police Chief Raymond Sanders, a former mayor, estimated damage at Orange in Orange County at a million dollars.

O. G. Powledge, manager of the Riverside Housing Development in Orange, said 25 duplex apartments (50 home units) were demolished and 300 damaged. He said 100 families were without homes.

The damage area in Groves is approximately 30 blocks long and 2 blocks wide.

Orange Police Chief Raymond Sanders described the tornado's brief, devastating strike this way:

"There was just a single explosion—whoomp—just like that and then it was all over, just in a matter of seconds."

"The lights went out and then came this explosion," said Sanders. "I went outside and it was rough. I don't know whether you would call it panic or not but it was pretty bad with from 4,000 to 5,000 people all trying to get out of their houses at the same time."

Today, workmen probed through the devastation seeking possible other victims.

Here was the latest death list:

Orange: Mrs. Annebell Peck, about 45, Negro expectant mother, pinned beneath the wreckage of her two-story frame dwelling.

Groves: Clay Zeringue, 82, and R. T. Smith, 70, both trapped as their homes fell apart.

Alexandria: Mrs. Sam Giacinto, about 65; a Negro named Silton Borsay; and Dolores Harrison, 2, a Negro.

Carencro: Mr. and Mrs. Ovey Melancon.

Cruger community south of Greenwood: Mr. and Mrs. John W. Parker.

The bodies of the Parkers were found clasped together some distance from their homes. Searchers said it appeared Parker was trying to protect his wife with his own body when the tornado smashed their house.

Faint Object Seen Ahead Of Sputnik II

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A Smithsonian scientist reported sighting a faint object about 10 to 15 seconds ahead of Sputnik II this morning.

Dr. John S. Rinehart, assistant director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, said he saw an object resembling a faint star moving in advance of the much-more brilliant satellite-rocket.

Dr. Rinehart said he saw both objects low in the western sky disappearing to the north.

Sputnik II was sighted by a Moonwatch team on the roof of the Harvard Observatory as well as by other viewers in the east. It appeared low in the west.

No speculation was immediately available on the question—whether a mechanism set to return a chamber carrying the dog, Laika, back to earth might have gone wrong.

Such a mechanism might have been designed to eject the dog's chamber in a direction opposite to satellite's flight and thus slow it down for a return to earth. On the other hand, if tumbling motion of the rocket caused such a portion of the rocket to be thrust forward, it would become a satellite itself—traveling even faster than Sputnik II.

It was estimated here that the faint object sighted ahead of Sputnik II this morning might be 50 to 75 miles ahead of the rocket satellite.

Yesterday, speculation included the possibility the rocket might be breaking up, but scientists described this probably was not so.

Ike Appoints Expediter To Speed Space Weapons Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says Russia quite likely leads America in some areas of missile development. He has appointed a scientist expediter to the job of pushing this country ahead in this age of outer space weapons.

The President told the nation last night he is giving that big job to Dr. James R. Killian, 53, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. At the same time he said the Defense Department is strengthening the hand of its own missiles coordinator, William M. Holaday.

In a coast to coast television and radio address, Eisenhower said the Soviets not only are quite likely ahead in some missile and special weapons areas, but "are obviously ahead of us in satellite development."

"We frankly recognize," he added, "that the Soviets are building up types of power that could, if we were attacked, damage us seriously. This is because no defensive system today can possibly be air-tight in preventing all breakthroughs of planes and weapons."

But on the reassuring side the President said this: "As of today the over-all military strength of the free world is distinctly greater than that of the Communist countries."

He went on to recount a nuclear superiority in which "we intend to stay ahead"; a family of 38 different kinds of missiles in operation or development; and such other U. S. strong points as atomic submarines, powerful air fleets, aircraft carriers and atomic depth bombs.

Eisenhower announced his appointment of Killian in the first of a series of "chins up" speeches designed to bolster the confidence of Americans in the nation's scientific development programs and defense generally.

The President spoke out after a round of criticism by some members of Congress and others that the administration has been too complacent about Russia's satellite and ballistic missile progress. A Senate subcommittee is planning an investigation.

Eisenhower told his TV-radio audience he was laying out the facts "the rough with the smooth." He said he was empowering Killian, who has a record of government service, to prevent needless delays, to crack down against any interservice rivalry, and to give high priority to hush-hush programs which the President merely hinted at.

City P-TA Council Supporting Bonds

The city council of the Parent-Teacher Associations in the Snyder schools yesterday afternoon endorsed the proposals included in the school bond election to be voted upon tomorrow here.

"Additional cost to our already-small local school taxes would be very little, while failure to approve the bond issue would result in one of these alternatives within the near future: half-day school sessions, more use of temporary buildings for classrooms, and increase in class size to 30 or 40 students," the council said in announcing its endorsement of the program.

"We are not in favor of any of these alternatives for our children, and we urge all interested citizens to support the bond issue."

Mrs. Frank LeFeuvre, president of the council, and Mrs. Harold Brown, District 18 vice-president for the Texas Council of Parents and Teachers, said.

The council yesterday met with members of the school board and discussed the building proposals.

Some members of the council, after making the endorsement, pointed out that the schools here are attempting to maintain class sizes of about 25 in the elementary schools and that teachers with classes much larger than that can not efficiently teach the students and cannot give any individual attention to students.

The group also reminded citizens that a few temporary buildings are now in use in the schools because of crowded situations and that at various occasions numerous temporary frame buildings have been used to house classes here. Schools here have also had much experience with half-day sessions when enrollments exceeded facilities, as they are now threatening to do.

The P-TA city council is working with local P-TA units to set up telephone committees to urge citizens to vote Saturday. Transporation and babysitting service will also be furnished to voters through the P-TA units. Those who need those services and are called and reminded to vote can secure the services through the persons who call or through any local P-TA unit of home room at school.

The city council's full resolution:

"Whereas the first object of parents and teachers is to promote the welfare of children;

Believing that investment in education is investment in the future, and

Recognizing the urgent need for added facilities in the Snyder schools;

Be it resolved that this organization go on record as supporting the board of education in the forthcoming bond issue and urging all citizens to vote for the issue."

very important, but the space allotted for them is inadequate. The work room is inadequate in size.

What is proposed is the provision of facilities for instructional materials, instructional offices, and areas for planning conferences for teachers and others needed to maintain an effective program of instruction.

Also, an area is planned to provide storage and filing area for the necessary records, as well as adding to the present work area for duplicating, mailing, and other work.

Studies undertaken by the school maintenance department have indicated that large areas of grass on the campus which need maintenance throughout the year can be handled more effectively with an underground sprinkler than by an over-ground system handled by personnel.

The high school campus area south of the high school building is a good example. Other West Texas schools have found an underground sprinkler system successful and economical. The proposal to install an underground sprinkler system for the high school campus is an attempt to get away from the gradually-increasing cost of maintenance personnel. While the cost of installing such a system seems high in the begging it is not high when figured over a period of years as opposed to a salary of a maintenance worker who would be required to handle the same task.

Reports Predict A Third Sputnik

LONDON (AP)—Reports reaching London today from usually reliable sources said the Soviet Union soon will send up a third Sputnik —twice as big as Sputnik II and with another live dog aboard.

The reports said Sputnik III will weigh a ton and will be sent even higher into space than the second Soviet moon. The latter went up just over 1,000 miles.

The next launching was described as part of a long-range program in which Soviet scientists will probe farther and farther into space.

Belgian Linen, One Of First, Noted For Quality, Beauty

Filling the linen closet with sheets, napkins, towels and the like is easy. Making the linen material for these items, however, is another matter.

To the Belgians, linen manufacturing is a true art that requires exacting skill and infinite patience.

Belgian quality linen isn't "just made" from flax. Rather, a complicated series of processes are necessary before this beautiful and versatile material is ready to be transformed into any number of practical everyday products.

Only flax with a "pedigree" is used in the manufacture of Belgian linens. Most of the flax seed planted is guaranteed by certificate of origin. Despite its "good" background, the task of growing flax is a delicate one, dependent upon soil, climate and skillful timing.

Once the flax is harvested, there follows the business of drying the plant, "retting" it to remove sticky substances, combing, stretching, winding, packing and, finally, weaving.

Linen — and particularly Belgian linen — has always been associated with quality. The Roman phrase, "purple and fine linen", signified the ultimate in gracious material.

Linen dates back about 5000 years. It has been recovered from Egyptian tombs. Phoenician traders marketed the cloth in Mediterranean ports. Greek, Hebrew and Egyptian priests wore linen garments as a symbol of purity.

Since the days of the Romans, when Caesar's legions swept northward and the settlers that followed introduced flax to the low-lands, Belgium has been the flax center of the world.

Flax is grown mainly near the city of Courtrai — in the Flemish part of Belgium. Located on the River Lys, not far from the world-famous city of Ghent, Courtrai flax growers long ago discovered that the river water has a natural quality essential to the proper preparation of the linen yarn.

Today you find linen everywhere about your house — in the kitchen, dining room, bedroom, wardrobe. Nor is it confined to the home. Bandages, communion cloths and surplices, tents, work clothes, umbrellas, awnings, book covers and many more items are also made from linen.

One of linen's greatest virtues, of course, is its durability. Many of you probably have fine linen tablecloths and matching napkins that were passed down to you by your mother or your grandmother, from one generation to the next.

Another feature is the fact that linen grows more beautiful with the years. Proper care in use and laundering means linen that will serve you well — at least for your lifetime!

Poppy Day To Be Held Sat. By American Legion Auxiliary

Tomorrow will be Poppy Day in Snyder. The American Legion Auxiliary will be on the streets tomorrow to offer you the opportunity of helping a very needy cause. Every poppy that will be sold here was made by a hospitalized Texas veteran.

Some of the verterans have been hospitalized as long as 10 to 12 years. The poppy is their only means of making spending money, as well as contributing some means to their neddy families.

All of the proceeds of the poppy sale goes directly to the veterans hospitals in Texas, of which there are 16. Thirty-three and one-third percent of this money will go to furnish such items as razor blades, shaving cream, tooth paste, stamps, envelopes and writing materials. These items are not furnished in the hospitals. The remainder of the money will go for such items as cigarettes, and emergency assistance to the veteran families, Christmas presents to both the veterans and their families without charges of any kind are also part of the services rendered.

There men in our hospitals are men returned, broken in mind and body, from fields of France from World War I. Some are diseased ridden from the swamps of the South Pacific and from Africa, these are those who served in World War II, some of which will never regain their health.

Then too we have the Korean veteran with multiple amputations. He is a young man, but he too needs help. These are our men, they sacrificed for us.

These are just a few of the bear facts of the needs of our veterans in hospitals today, so when you purchase your poppy Saturday from the American Legion Auxiliary or one of their represntives, open up your hearts and give generously.

Be sure to prick a pie shell thoroughly before baking to prevent shrinking.

New Ironing Aids Reduce Work Load

Ironing is a lot easier now then it was in grandmother's day, but with proper planning and equipment it can be even easier.

Home economists have found that the best way to lighten the ironing work load is to establish a definite system or "flow-chart" for the task.

For most homemakers, the best "flow" is from left to right. Clothing ready for ironing should be kept in a clothes basket at the left of the ironing table. After it is ironed, it should be hung or placed on a work surface to the right. The clothes basket, ironing table, and work surface should be at the same level to reduce bending and lifting.

Recent equipment innovations also help reduce the work load. Two of these include ideas of putting the ironing table on wheels so it never has to be lifted or carried and changing the shape of the top of the board so the housewife can iron with a natural swinging motion instead of in a cramped, elbow-over-iron position.

How valuable these ideas are is shown by the fact that engineers have found that putting wheels on the table eliminates two tons of lifting a year.

Wise homemakers simplify their shopping problem by buying a supply of Honey, because Honey can be used in so many ways — in baking, cooking, canning, preserving, on cereals, and in beverages.

Whipped heavy cream can be turned into small aluminum foil cups and put into the home freezer.

Junior Editors Quiz on ESKIMOS

QUESTION: How can an Eskimo stay warm in a snow igloo?

ANSWER: Even today, Eskimos often live in snow houses in the winter time because in their cold country they find snow houses more comfortable than the rock and driftwood and animal hide huts they construct as summer dwellings.

That doesn't mean such homes would be comfortable for you, because they have to be cold enough to keep the snow from melting. But within an igloo, where an oil lamp burns brightly, and the frigid winter winds are blocked out, the Eskimo is happy. He is used to very cold weather and he eats lots of fatty food to provide the energy necessary in that climate. Happy by nature anyway, he may even strip to the waist inside his igloo, playing games and singing songs while the long winter night passes.

FOR YOU TO DO: If you get a chance this winter in a region where it snows, roll up some big snow balls, and form them in a ring. Set a second layer of snowballs on top of the first. If you and your playmates are strong and industrious, you can make a snow fort, or even a snow house, for yourself.

Tigers Oppose Chiefs In 2nd District Start

SAN ANGELO — The winless but tough Lake View Chiefs will still be seeking their first win of the season tonight when the host the Snyder Tigers.

This will be the third district 3-AAA contest for the Chiefs the second for the Tigers.

The Tigers, after the blow of the 21-7 loss last week to the Sweetwater Mustangs in the district opener, still have some hopes of title contention. Their main chance lies in another game being played tonight, Sweetwater vs. Colorado City at Sweetwater. Should Colorado City upset the powerful Mustangs, then the Tigers would be back in championship running.

While the Chiefs have not won a game all season, the Tigers have not been taking them too lightly, especially after the scrap the Lake View eleven gave Lamesa last week. Lamesa won 19-7, but Lake View was in the game until late in the third quarter. Lake View lost to Sweetwater 34-20 in its other district contest.

Throughout the season, the Chiefs have scored 58 points to opponents' 212 in eight games. The Tigers, in seven games, have won five and lost two, scoring 153 points to the opposition's 89. The Tigers' other season loss was to Borger 12-7.

Scouting reports show the Chiefs are no cinch and have given many of their opponents good scraps. They are led on offense by Rex Wilson, 195 pounder who plays in any of the backfield positions and may start tonight in the quarterback position.

During the week the regular Lake View signal-caller, Gene Wood, suffered a broken collar bone. That will put either Shorty McCall, a junior who has started one game at quarterback, or Wilson in the starting slot there. Either Wilson or Charley Preas will start at left half, and at right half will be either 124-pound Martin Mosley or Lawrence Mixson, 151 pounds. Fullback will be Gary Warren, 164 pounds.

Along the line, Lake View is expected to have Jerald Martin, 170, and William Keel, 173, at ends; Richard Burke, 153, and Burt Terrill, 174, at tackles; Jerry Simpson, 160, and Burl Terrill, 174, at guards; and Roland Perry, 184, at center.

The Tigers are slightly heavier than the Chiefs. Overall weight of probable starters averages 170 for the Tigers and 164 for the Chiefs. On the line, the Tigers average 176, the Chiefs 169. In the backfield, the Tigers have a 159-154 advantage.

The Chiefs, even though they are lighter, can jar an opposing team. This was evidenced by their performance last Friday night when the line shook Lamesa for nine fumbles and recovered eight of them.

John Conley, Tiger coach, plans to start John Ward and Dwayne Merritt at ends, Larry Mullins and Bill Phillips at tackles, Bill Jennings and Bill Crowell at guards, Maxey Ware at center. In the backfield, starters may be Dickie Martin at quarterback, James Vincent and Dick Hayes at halfbacks, and Mickey McGrew at fullback.

On defense, starters are likely to be Ronnie Gile and Larry Page at guards, Phillips and Jennings at tackles, Bill Dubose and Ward at ends, Kenneth Drake or Crowell as middle linebacker, Martin and Hayes as outside linebackers, and Vincent and Jimmy Allen as safety men.

Two players will not suit out. One, Bud Morgan, is still suffering from injuries suffered in last week's game. Rex Wilson is in the hospital with flu.

Others have been suffering with flu and are not up to par, but the rest of the team will be suited out.

Captains for the game will be Merritt and Allen.

Frosh Down Big Springers For No. 7

The Snyder Tiger freshman grid team remained undefeated last night, downing the Big Spring frosh 18-0 in Big Spring.

The frosh defense was shining in the game, walling out the only Big Spring threat in a four-down stand. Big Spring got a first down on the Snyder four midway in the third quarter, and the team had to give up the ball at the same place after four downs.

J. P. Ward, coach of the team, highly praised the defensive line.

Also in good working order was the offense, which scored a touchdown in each of three quarters.

John Weaver opened scoring for the Snyder team with a 45-yard touchdown run in the first period.

In the second, Larry Patterson cut loose with a pass to Jesse Crawford which resulted in a total of 55 yards and another score.

It was Weaver again in the third quarter, going about 20 yards this time for the final score.

The offense moved well both on the ground and in the air. There were quite a few passes completed, many thrown by Patterson, some by Weaver.

The frosh now have a record of seven wins and one tie.

Next Thursday night, the team will journey to Sweetwater to try to down the only team which tied the local squad this season. The two teams battled to a scoreless tie in the first game of the season. This will be the season's last game for the frosh.

Aggies Seek 13th In Row Against SMU

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Texas A&M goes after its 13th straight victory tomorrow night in a fight to stay on top of both the nation and the Southwest Conference against just-caught-fire Southern Methodist.

The nation's No. 1 team is wary of upsurging Southern Methodist, with its passing-running sophomore, Don Meredith, presenting probably the greatest offensive threat to the Aggies' peace of mind this season.

SMU has a most mediocre record—two victories, two losses and a tie—but the Mustangs apparently didn't start playing football until last Saturday when they beat Texas 19-12 and knocked the Longhorns out of co-leadership in the Conference race.

Pee Wee Gridders Set For Big Game

Scurry County Boys Club Pee Wee footballers are poised to take on a strong out-of-town aggregation in Tiger Stadium tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

A squad of 35 all stars has been selected by the local Boys Club to tangle with the Panther Boys Club team from Fort Worth.

The 10-12 year old youngsters have been coached for the big game by Guy Sullivan and Bill McLaughlin, physical education instructors at West and Central Elementary schools, respectively.

Special pre-game ceremonies will feature the presentation of individual awards earned during the regular Pee Wee football season.

Awards will go to the outstanding lineman, the outstanding back and to the winner of the sportsmanship award.

Tickets for the game have been on sale here for several days. The tickets are selling for $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

All proceeds from the game will be used to purchases atheletic equipment for the Scurry County Boys Club.

Halftime activities will feature the Snyder Junior High School band, and a trampoline team from the Panther Boys Club.

Local Junior High Teams Rap Lamesa

Snyder's 7th and 8th grade football teams swept a twinbill from Lamesa Junior High aggregations Thursday night in Tiger Stadium.

The Snyder 7th graders whacked the Lamesans 26-7 in the opener, while the 8th grade Blue Devils took a 14-7 decision in the second game. The Snyder 8th graders thus avenged one of their two losses. Lamesa's 8th grade had triumphed, 13-6 in an earlier contest played in Lamesa.

Fleet-footed Stuart Long paced the Snyder 7th grade's offense. He scored the first touchdown early in the first quarter, going over from the two yard line after setting up the score with runs of 35 and 22 yards. Dalton Walton ran over for the point.

Jimmy Taylor streaked over from 22 yards out and Pat LaFountain plunged over for the point to give the Snyder lads a 14-0 advantage at the end of the first quarter.

A 25-yard pass play from Walton to Mike Murphy produced another TD in the second quarter, and Snyder 7th graders led 20-0 at the half.

Lamesa put on a drive in the third quarter that led to a touchdown early in the fourth, and then Long got another six points for Snyder to wind up the scoring. The final TD play covered nine yards.

The Snyder 8th grade lashed to a touchdown in the third quarter for its winning margin.

Lamesa took the opening kickoff and drove to a touchdown, using up most of the first quarter in the process. That gave the visitors a 7-0 lead at the end of the first period.

However, the Snyder 8th grade bounced right back to put on a 55-yard touchdown drive, with David Gan covering the last five yards. Steve Free ran over the extra point to leave the score tied at 7-7 at halftime.

Joshua John climaxed another Snyder drive in the third quarter when he skirted right end on a reverse for a four-yard touchdown gallop. Gan ran over for the point.

B Squad To Meet Lamesa On Saturday

The Snyder Tiger B team will be seeking its third win of the season tomorrow night as it takes a flu-crippled squad to Lamesa.

This game and one other are all remaining on the B team's slate for the season.

The team, coached by Jim Stehley and V. V. Shearburn, holds a record of two wins, one tie, and four losses.

One of the losses was to Lamesa in a previous game, 13-0.

Fourteen boys showed up for B team workouts Wednesday, and starters for tomorrow's 7:30 p.m. game in Lamesa will come from the squad, and they will play. There were 24 in Thursday workouts, but many are weak after having the flu.

Stehley said today there are two regular ends, two backs, and two tackles who will not start. Fullback Eddie Watson, injured last week, will not suit out.

One District Championship Is Determined

By The Associated Press

The first district champion of Class AAAA was virtually determined Thursday night as a weekend of Texas schoolboy football, destined to decide a third of the 93 district winners, gut under way.

El Paso Austin sewed up representation of Dist. 1 in the state AAAA playoffs by beating El Paso Jefferson 46-14. Austin still can be tied for the district title but would get into the playoffs anyway.

Featuring the bulky Friday night schedule will be the clash of undefeated, untied teams in Class AAA—Nederland at Port Neches. From this game should come the finalist of the lower bracket, although it won't definitely decide the Dist. 11 championship.

Abilene puts its long winning streak—44 straight games—on the line in an important Dist. 2 encounter in Class AAAA. The Eagles meet Odessa, generally regarded as the only threat in Abilene's path back to the state playoffs.

Dallas Highland Park can sew up Dist. 5 representation if it beats Dallas Samuell Friday night. Texarkana can win Dist. 8 outright by defeating Lufkin. Galena Park could become the Dist. 12 representative with a victory over Pasadena.

Another top game in Class AAA sends Graham to Breckenridge in the fight for the lead in Dist. 4 between two teams that are rated with the best. Brenham can clinch the Dist. 10 crown by defeating Huntsville and San Benito can do the same in Dist. 16 with a decision over Mission.

District championships are up for grabs all along the line in classes AA and A with Stamford, the AA defending state champion, able to win its district title if it downs unbeaten, untied Seymour.

Jewel's Reward, 2-year-old colt, won his fourth stakes race of 1957 when he won the Champagne Stakes at Belmont Park. Mrs. Elizabeth Graham bought the colt for $3,500. By winning the Champagne he ran his earnings to $213,295.

Baseball Men End Hush-Hush Session

NEW YORK (AP)—Commissioner Ford Frick and other baseball officials had a go at figuring out a realignment for the indisposed Pacific Coast League yesterday. But if they hit on a plan, they hung it in a closet to see if it rattles before making it public.

All that was announced after the meeting was a statement saying (1) the meeting had been held, (2) who attended, and (3) they will meet here again Tuesday.

The session was so hush-hush Frick's office even refused to name the hotel on the northwest corner of Lexington and 42nd St. where the meeting was held.

While Frick did go so far as to say "a number of possibilities were considered which representatives at the meeting will take back to their leagues and clubs for their views," the only note that perked up the day was the fact Texas League and American Assn. representatives sat in on the conference.

That bears out predictions that any realignment of the PCL could set off a chain reaction throughout most of the minor league structure.

Underdogs, Favorites Both On Spot In Week's Top Tilts

By ED WILKS

This college football season, one of the best ever, now comes up with a weekend that plunks the underdogs on the spot along with the favorites. It's put up or shut up for most everybody.

The big games tomorrow are Texas A&M-SMU, Oklahoma-Missouri, Auburn-Mississippi State, Iowa-Minnesota, Ohio State-Purdue, Navy-Duke, Tennessee-Georgia Tech, Michigan State-Notre Dame and Oregon-Washington. Just about all of them have a double angle.

Texas A&M, No. 1 again in The Associated Press poll, probably has had its scare for the year (last week's 7-6 decision at Arkansas) and is a two-TD favorite. Southern Methodist, putting in a late bid for the Southwest Conference title and a bowl berth must knock off the Aggies to make the bid bud.

Oklahoma's sub-par Sooners, finding summer soldiers among the supporters who have beaten the drums through 46 consecutive victories, must win big against Missouri to retain their national prestige. Mizzou, grown ambitions after winning four in a row, must knock off the Sooners to swipe the Orange Bowl spot.

Auburn, giving Oklahoma a battle for second place in the poll, is at least a touchdown pick in its big bid for a perfect season and the Southeastern Conference title. But Mississippi State must look good in this one for any chance at a bowl shot.

Iowa, knocked out of the Big Ten lead by last week's tie with Michigan, is a touchdown favorite as the Hawkeyes eye a repeat crown although barred from a Rose Bowl repeat. Minnesota, twice beaten but still hopeful of the Rose Bowl bid since the Gophers play one more game than Ohio State and Michigan State, must win this one to stay alive.

Tennessee, a touchdown favorite, has lost only to Auburn but can't lose another and retain a crack at one of those bowl berths. Georgia Tech, poking its nose in with last week's upset of Duke, must win the rest of the way for a seventh consecutive bowl appearance.

Michigan State, favored by two TDs, is working on a comeback up the top 10 list after that upset by Purdue three weeks ago. Notre Dame, knocked off by Navy last week and facing Oklahoma next week, must win this one in its comeback try from last season's poor showing.

Ohio State can't afford to breathe easy against Purdue if the Buckeyes are to retain the Big Ten lead and an edge in the race to the Rose Bowl. Navy, with an eye on another bowl bid, proved it had the stuff against Notre Dame, now must prove it knows what to do with it against Duke's Blue Devils, who have the Atlantic Coast Conference bid to the Orange Bowl in the bag.

Oregon, having whipped the other eligibles, could clinch the Pacific Coast Conference's approval for the Rose Bowl by defeating Washington.

Since 1920 only two pitchers have started and won three World Series games in the same year. They are Stan Coveleskie of Cleveland who beat Brooklyn three times in 1920 and Lew Burdette of Milwaukee who beat the Yankees three times in the 1957 classic.

Steady Dates, Petting Are Ruled Out

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Directives forbidding steady dating, petting, necking and kissing have been issued for Catholic teenagers in the Archdiocese of Santa Fe.

The directives from the Very Rev. O. A. Coggiola, archdiocesan chancellor, went to priests and principals of Catholic schools.

"Our Catholic schools have not had serious problems concerning 'going steady' and related matters," Coggiola said. "The archdiocese, however, wishes to prevent a problem from developing. The directives here set forth, therefore, may be styled 'preventive medicine.'"

Excerpts from the directives:

"Going steady" is a normal proximate preparation for engagement and eventual marriage. One in the teens and still in school is not usually prepared to enter the holy marriage state within a reasonably short time...Steady dating normally interferes seriously with a young person's success as a student...'Going steady' constitutes a definite moral danger. Hours regularly spent alone in the company of the same person can be and frequently are an occasion of sin for immature young people.

"Students must refrain from necking and petting, and even at times kissing, since doing so is sinful and usurps the prerogatives reserved for the state of holy matrimony which they are not yet prepared to enter.

"Dances held under school auspices for elementary school children are forbidden.

"Dances shall not last beyond midnight, excepting proms...Proper dress, in keeping with christian modesty, shall be required of all who attend dances.

"Students disobeying these directives will not be allowed to hold positions of leadership or be members of honor societies. Those continually offending will be asked to withdraw from the school."

Glen Pace New Minister At 25th CC

Arriving here this week was Glen Pace, new minister at the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Chirst, and his family.

The Pace family moved here from Benton, Ark., where he had been minister at the Northside Church of Christ four years.

Here, he succeeds Ted Norton, who left here several weeks ago to become minister of a church at Manhattan, Kan.

. . .Here this week

The Pace family lives at 2701 Avenue F. Mr. and Mrs. Pace have two sons, David, 10, and Joey, 8. The Paces are natives of Newport, Ark., where their parents still live.

Pace, 34, entered the ministry in 1946 after serving three years in the U. S. Marine Corps. He entered Freed-Hardeman College in 1946 and graduated in 1948. In 1950 he graduated from Arkansas College with a BSE degree.

He served three years as minister of a church at Malvern, Ark., before going to Benton.

Mrs. Pace is the former Lucretia Terrell. They were married June 30, 1946.

"We are happy to be in Snyder," the new minister said. "The people are friendly, the community seems very progressive, and the weather, upon arrival, reminds us of Arkansas. We want to be a real asset to the church here, the community, and take an active part in any constructive work. Snyder has rolled out the carpet to us, and we want to extend like hospitality. Come to see us."

Cole Is Named VP By Texas Baptists

FORT WORTH (AP)—Messengers to the Baptist General Convention of Texas wound up their annual session yesterday urging a course of mediation and moderation, time and patience in overcoming racial and labor problems.

The resolution adopted by the convention recalled the Scripture, "Blessed are the peacemakers for they shall be called the children of God."

It also asked Baptists to "prayfully and humble seek the wisdom of God." The action by the messengers is not binding on member churches since the organization is not an ecclesiastical body.

The convention also resolved to express sympathy to oppressed peoples of the world and to express gratitude to God for blessings enjoyed by this nation.

In an address closing the afternoon session Rep. Brooks Hays, Little Rock, Ark., president of the Southern Baptist Convention, said of the school integration crisis in his city:

"Where there is controversy, let us ask no man to dilute his convictions."

He added: "We Christians should speak the truth in love, for it is the contribution of love to the healing wounds that we must magnify in our Baptist family."

Hays listed three principles to be observed concerning racial problems:

1. "Do not seal the lips of your pastor.

2. "We will seek a non-violent solution to the problem.

3. "We will try to do justice in particular situations.

Dr. E. Hermond Westmoreland, pastor of the South Main Baptist Church in Houston, was re-elected president. Dr. Charles P. McLaughlin, superintendent of missions for the Tarrant Baptist Assn., was named first vice president and the Rev. G. Mack Cole, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Snyder, second vice president.

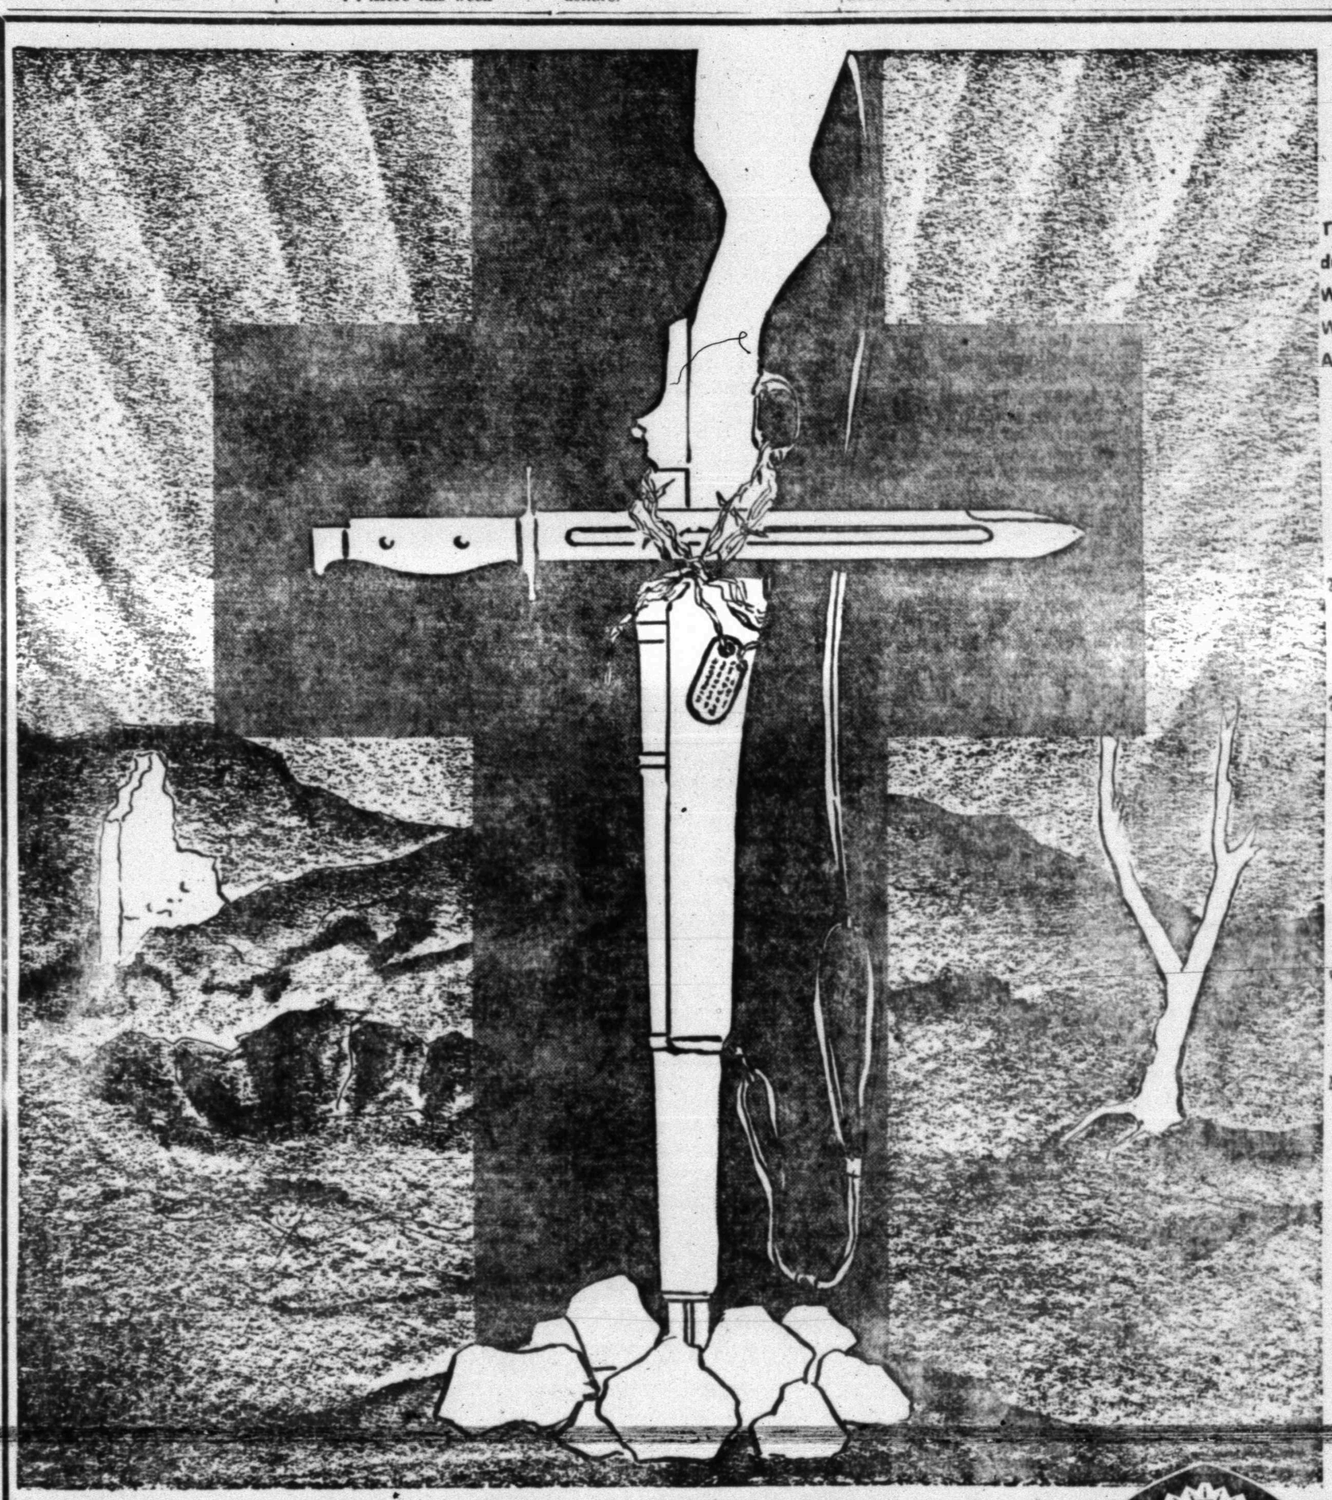

Messengers named more than 300 persons to serve on institutional boards and agencies.

Howard E. Butt Jr., Corpus Christi grocery organization executive, told the closing session last night that evangelization is "Christian witnessing in walking shoes."

Butt spoke in place of evangelist Billy Graham, who was not able to attend as scheduled.

The convention presented Ellie Hopkins of Longview, executive editor of Carl Estes publications, its 1957 press award, given annually for outstanding Christian service in the field of journalism.

New Fuel Project Speeded

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A scientist revealed today that the United States soon will attain substantial production of boron-hydrogen high energy fuels, compounds which some sources suspect were the new type rocket power Soviet Russia says it used to fire Sputnik II into space.

"Project Zip" was the code name assigned to the research by the Navy in 1952. It has been classified as secret until very recently.

Pilot plant production of boron-hydrogen compounds has been under way for some time at the plant of Callery Chemical Co. in Butler County 25 miles north of Pittsburgh, Dr. George F. Huff, the company's director of research, told a reporter. The output has been devoted to research.

A new four-million-dollar plant going into production next spring at Lawrenceburg, Kas., will produce "practical quantities," he said. Larger production will come from a 38-million-dollar plant scheduled to open at Muskogee, Okla., in January 1959.

Callery is a subsidiary of Mine Safety Appliance Co. Gulf Oil Corp. recently purchased 25 per cent of Callery stock and is assisting some of the research work. A number of other companies are engaged in similar work.

Power of a fuel is measured by the number of British Thermal Units of heat generated when it burns. Rockets covert this heat energy into motion energy.

For comparison purposes, the gasoline which powers your car yields about 18,500 BTU's per pound. The liquid burned by jet aircraft yields about 18,000 BTU's.

A pound of boron-hydrogen compound is more than 50 per cent more powerful. Decaborane, a solid, yields 28,500 BTU's per pound; pentaborane a liquid, steps up to 29,000 BTU's and diborane, a gas, goes to 32,000.

Hydrogen alone yields 52,000 BTU's. But it is a tricky gas which can be solidified only at hundreds of degrees below zero and Dr. Huff says chemists have been unable to find any practical fuel above the 32,000 BTU level.

Boron-hydrogen compounds appear to be "the approximate ceiling for chemical energy," he says. The next step is nuclear fission or fusion as a propellant force.

Office Staff Skips Lunch, Coffee Break

NEW PORT, R.I. (AP) — The 11-member staff of the Newport Welfare Department not only foregoes coffee breaks, but even remains in the office during lunch hours.

Director Helen C. McLeish reported yesterday: "The staff prefers remaining in the office during lunch hours as many of the clients contact the staff at that time."

Ingrid Plans To Leave For London

ROME (AP) — Ingrid Bergman packed today to leave this ancient city where she once found happiness.

With her 7½-year marriage to Roberto Rossellini broken up, the beautiful Swedish actress planned to leave Sunday for London with her three children by the Italian film director.

Rossellini was already gone, reported en route by car to Paris.

Friends professed not to know whether Miss Bergman would return to Rome to live, or whether the legal separation the couple obtained yesterday would be followed by a divorce.

A divorce would have to be obtained in another country, since Italian law's only provision for dissolving a marriage is an annulment granted by the Roman Catholic Church. Miss Bergman, now 42, and Rossellini, 51, were married by proxy in Mexico on May 24, 1950, after she received a Mexican divorce from her first husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom.

Ercole Graziadei, the Rome attorney who arranged for the separation, said he had received no instructions to initiate divorce proceedings.

Graziadei was called to Paris to make arrangements for the separation soon after the couple was reunited in the French capital. Miss Bergman was playing there in the stage play "Tea and Sympathy." Rossellini had been absent in India for almost a year making documentary films for the Indian government. During that period his name was linked with a pretty Indian script writer, Sonali Das Gupta, who preceded Rossellini to Europe and was last reported in Paris.

Miss Bergman said her children by Rossellini—Robertino, 7, who was born a week before his mother got her divorce from Lindstrom and the 5-year-old twin girls, Isabella and Isotta Ingrid—would accompany her to London where she will work on a new motion picture.

Miss Bergman is scheduled to go to Hollywood in February to work in another movie for 20th Century Fox.

Miss Bergman has an 18-year-old daughter, Jenny Ann, by her first husband. She is a student at the University of Colorado.

Station Asks Inquiry Into Competition

WASHINGTON (AP)—Western Television Co. asked the Federal Communications Commission yesterday to inquire into "the issue of how far existing stations may go toward suppressing competition."

The company is owned by David P. Pinkston and Leroy Elmore, operators of Radio KDAV at Lubbock, Tex., and it seeks a permit for a Channel 5 television station there.

An FCC examiner recommended in September that Texas Tech at Lubbock be granted a Channel 5 license for a non-commercial station.

The commission reserved its decision to study Tech plans to finance the project, stating it wanted more information about offers by stations KCBD-TV and KDUB-TV in Lubbock to give $30,000 each toward building and operating the Tech station.

Western Television, after its reference to suppressing competition, said in a petition filed with FCC yesterday:

"It must always be kept in mind that the prime function of the commission is to serve the public interest. If the commission grants the Tech application without reopening the record, it will have allowed its processes to have been used by the two existing stations in Lubbock to safeguard themselves against the rigors of additional competition."

The petition requested a further hearing with Western as a competing applicant for the channel. It noted that a competing commercial application by C. L. Trigg for Channel 5 was withdrawn in April, and said Tech paid Trigg $25,000 from an unknown source as partial reimbursement for his expense.

Western also said Channel 26 had been reserved for educational use at Lubbock but never applied for, and said it questioned the right of Tech to Channel 5 under the circumstances.

Signe Hasso Files Suit In Accident

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A $150,200 damage suit has been filed by actress Signe Hasso over the traffic death of her son, Henry, 22, who was killed last January.

The suit, filed yesterday, named Louis Keith Wills, the driver, and Thomas Brascia, owner of the car in which the actress' son was riding. The car slammed into a power pole in suburban Sun Valley.

Young Hasso, an actor, had just returned from a film role in Germany, where his father, Harre Hasso, is a movie director.

Briton Is Confused By Slot Machines

change teacher shocked the Campbell County Chamber of Commerce yesterday by saying she has seen slot machines in wide use here.

Campbell County has been pointed out as a gambling spot many times, but has had no recent raids.

Tension eased, however, when Miss Sylvia Harrison, Brighouse, Yorkshire, England, said she confused the American term "slot machine."

In England, she explained, a slot machine is a coin operated machine from which soft drinks, cigarettes, candy bars, etc., are obtained.

Hargrove Resigns His Post On Board

Dr. Robert H. Hargrove, a director of the Snyder Savings & Loan Association since its founding almost a year ago, has resigned from the board.

The term of Hargrove, a dentist, was to expire in January.

Max West, president of the association, said the board has appointed J. T. Hughes, operator of Radio Staion KSNY, to fill out Hargrove's unexpired term.

Other directors are West, Gene Best, vice-president, Lee Smyth, secretary-treasurer, Harold Bennett, C. O. Holder, and Fred E. Auforth.

Commission Will Tackle Thorny Task

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's selection of the members of the new Civil Rights Commission opened the way today for an early start on its thorny task of seeking to prevent racial discrimination.

The difficulties confronting the six-member commission, provided for by the Civil Rights Act passed by Congress last August, have since been underscored by the inflamed feeling aroused by the school integration controversy in Little Rock.

Eisenhower, who only recently said he was having trouble finding men of the caliber and stature he wanted, announced the appointments late yesterday.

Retired Supreme Court Justice Stanley Reed was named chairman.

The appointments are subject to confirmation when Congress reconvenes. Meantime the members armed with power to subpoena witnesses, can swing into action as soon as they get organized.

Still to be named by Eisenhower, also subject to Senate confirmation, is a full-time staff director at $22,500 a year.

Reed, returning to Washington last night said he had no immediate plans for starting the commission's operations. As a justice, he joined in the Supreme Court's unanimous ruling in 1954 that racial segregation of public schools was unconstitutional.

Named as vice chairman was John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University and a former assistant secretary of defense.

Other members are John S. Battle former governor of Virginia; J. Ernest Wilkins, a Negro and an assistant secretary of Labor; the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind.; and Robert G. Storey, dean of the law school at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Tex.

The White House listed Reed, Battle and Storey as Democrats, Hannah and Wilkins as Republicans and Hesburgh as a political independent. The law requires that not more than three be from any one political party.

In East Lansing, Mich., Hannah said he has "no magic solution" to the civil rights problem, but "I have agreed to do my best to help meet it in any way I can."

In Charlottesville, Va., Battle said he was told Eisenhower wanted a member "with the strong Southern viewpoint which I have." He accepted, he said, hoping to "contribute to a better understanding of a problem which is disrupting our country in these perilous times."

Commission members not already on the government payroll will receive $50 a day plus expenses for the time they work.

NEW PONTIACS READY—The 1958 Pontiac automobiles will be officially shown here tomorrow by Chieftain Pontiac, Twenty-fifth Street and Avenue I. Bill Emerson, left, sales manager, and Chuck Blount, manager, are shown looking over one of the completely restyled and newly engineered cars. Free coffee and doughnuts will be served to all visitors who visit the showing of the new cars. (Lee Watson photograph)

No New Moons Fired

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution passed without any sign that the Russians had attempted any special new scientific feats to mark the occasion.

However, reports circulated in Moscow last night that the Russians may try to parachute back to earth the little dog, Laika, which since Sunday has been spinning around the earth in the second Soviet satellite.

Other reports reaching London today from usually reliable sources said Russia soon will fire aloft a third satellite twice as big as the half-ton Sputnik II and with another live dog aboard. These reports said the third satellite will be aimed at penetrating farther into space than the two Sputniks now hurtling around the earth.

Western scientists have been on the alert for what some of them believed might be a new Russian space venture to dramatize the anniversary yesterday of the Bolshevik Revolution.

There had been some speculation the Russians might try to send a rocket to the moon.

In Cambridge, Mass., officials of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said last night they had received no word from any observers indicating any unusual activity on the moon yesterday. Dr. J. Allen Hynek, associate director, said there have been "rumors only" that the Russians would try to fire a rocket to the moon.

Moscow sources said the launching of a moon rocket was envisaged by the Soviets, but not in the immediate future. One informant said "we have the technical capability for launching such a rocket, but it is not part of our immediate program."

In London, Britain's chief atomic expert said last night it would give a push to Western collaboration if the Russians reach the moon on their next space expedition.

Sir John Cockcroft, director of the Harwell Atomic Research establishment, said "the shock of Sputnik has brought, particularly in the United States, a feeling for more collaboration in the Western world . . . I think what is now required is for the Russians to hit the moon with Sputnik III and this will help us very considerably."

Meanwhile, Smithsonian Observatory officials backed away last night from an earlier comment that the 1,120-pound Sputnik II may have come apart. That earlier statement was made on the basis of unconfirmed reports from various sources.

Oilmen Flay Importers

ABILENE (AP)—The West Central Texas Oil and Gas Assn. was told yesterday that importers are taking advantage of laws and setting oil allowables in Texas.

Elton Hyder Jr., Fort Worth attorney, told the group that "our regulatory agencies tie the hands of domestic producers while importers drink their fill of American market demands."

A. E. Herrmann, past president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Assn., also criticized imports.

"The idea that America must depend on foreign oil for an ever-increasing percentage of its requirements is absurd," Herrmann, of Amarillo, said.

Delegates named James Lauderdale of Abilene president. New vice presidents include W. W. Wilson Jr., and James Russell of Abilene and William Arnot of Breckenridge.

R. J. Tiffany of Abilene resigned as secretary-treasurer.

More Objects Are Sighted Over Texas

By The Associated Press

From one tip of Texas to the other Friday came reports of sightings of a bright light on the western horizon Thursday night.

Some said it was only a bright, white light. Others said it was red, blue and green at times.

Such a light the night before was said by the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., to have been planet Venus.

The light was spotted in Texas Thursday night in areas generally to the west of Brownsville, San Antonio, Waco, Brownwood, Amarillo and Paris.

Sheriff Jack Cartwright at Dimmitt, on the upper South Plains, said the light was too large to be a star and appeared round. Stanley Vinson, police dispatcher at Hereford, described it as a bright object with blue lights on the bottom.

At Levelland, where a bright unidentified object was seen early Sunday, policeman A. J. Fowler said he followed the bright light by car Thursday night for about half an hour.

Fowler said it appeared to be two bright lights, one on top of the other, tinted red and blue.

Mary Martin Bows To Flu

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Flu-stricken Mary Martin got out of her sick bed to return to the lead role in "Annie Get Your Gun" last night, but had to leave the stage several minutes after she came on.

She walked to the footlights in Philharmonic Auditorium and told the audience: "I just can't do it."

She explained to the crowded house: "Sometimes the voice is down here and sometimes it's up there. I probably could finish this out, but you'd have a very dull evening I'm afraid. So I'm going to ask my pretty understudy, Renee Guerin, to take over for me."

Renee drew tremendous applause for her fourth substitution.

Reed Looking For 'Plenty Of Trouble'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Supreme Court Justice Stanley F. Reed looks for "plenty of trouble" ahead for the new Civil Rights Commission he has been named to head.

He was one of nine justices who by unanimous decision in 1954 declared racial segregation in the public schools unconstitutional.

Now, the results of that controversial ruling have brought Reed back from retirement to try to ease some of the tensions that resulted, as well as to look into other phases of civil rights.

The Kentucky-born Democrat, who will be 73 next month, has been named by President Eisenhower to head the six-member commission in a two-year study of civil rights problems.

Last Feb. 25, Reed stepped down from the Supreme Court where he had served for 19 years, because he said it no longer seemed wise to continue "the strain of unremitting exertion" required by his court duties.

Last night, Reed, smiling and looking fit, stepped from a plane at Washington's National Airport to learn that the President had announced his return to a new government post.

Reed was just coming back from a rules committee meeting of the American Bar Assn. at Louisville, Ky. He was still working on judicial matters.

Asked if he foresaw difficulties ahead in his new job, he replied "I'm sure we'll have plenty of trouble." But he seemed quite content to face whatever it might be.

Though officially retired at $35,000 a year, Reed has kept his hand in judicial matters. Federal retirement law permits him to sit on lower courts when requested to do so. Only last June, he broke precedent by serving on a U.S. court of claims case here.

He was appointed to the Supreme Court in 1938 by President Roosevelt after a career in government work that included service as solicitor general—the government's chief lawyer before the Supreme Court.

At the time of his appointment to the court, Reed was considered a New Dealer, but later he came to be regarded as one of the court's conservatives.

Eisenhower, in accepting Reed's resignation, said Reed had participated in many important decisions that would "influence our nation's development for a long time to come."

In a recent speech to the California State bar, Reed noted the controversy stirred up by the court's civil rights decision and commented that "fortunately wrong decisions are not irremediable."

Only chaos can result from misuse of power in opposing court judgments, he said, but those who dislike a decision can seek amendment of the Constitution or a court reversal of the decision.

Bing, Kathy Visit Texas

WEST COLUMBIA, Tex. (AP) — Crooner Bing Crosby and his bride, actress Kathy Grant, were back for a weekend visit in her old home town today.

They arrived late yesterday and Crosby promptly became an adopted Texan as he stepped off a plane at Houston, 71 miles northeast of here. Notice that he now is an honorary citizen of the state was delivered by a representative of Gov. Price Daniel.

Kathy, 23, referred questions about her film career to her 53-year-old husband.

"Oh yes, she'll continue making pictures," Crosby said.

Another questioner wanted to know if she planned a large family, and Kathy replied: "We're Catholics, you know."

Broken Mains Flood Busy Manhattan

NEW YORK (AP)—Bustling Manhattan, one of the busiest places on earth, was thrown into a snarl of confusion last night and today by a flood—from broken water mains.

The huge conduits snapped at five different places. Subways were closed. Midtown basements were flooded. Water supplies were disrupted.

Water gushed down streets, ripping up pavement and cascading into subway tunnels.

The Metropolitan Opera House was marooned by streets full of water. Scenery trucks were used to transport patrons, artists, orchestra members and others to dry land.

At nearby Times Square, theater crowds gathered on the fringes of the flood. Police had to divert much manpower to the task of keeping the crowds clear of danger and from blocking access of emergency vehicles.

Police had to push stalled cars out of the torrent.

The water main breaks occurred over a wide area, but the troubles apparently were unconnected.

Jennie Ann Mum On Ingrid's Affair

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—"I don't want to become involved in this in any way," says Jennie Ann Lindstrom of the separation granted in Italy yesterday to her mother, Ingrid Bergman, and Roberto Rossellini.

Miss Lindstrom, 19, is a sophomore at the University of Colorado.

She spent several weeks in Europe earlier this year with her actress-mother. It was the first time the two had met since Miss Bergman left the United States and Jennie's father, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, seven years ago.

Robber Makes Haul In Hollywood Morgue

LOS ANGELES (AP)—After a bereaved family left a Hollywood mortuary, a well-dressed man mistaken for a mourner remained behind.

Police said the man then pulled a gun, tied mortuary manager Ralph Statts and two employes, and escaped with $75 yesterday.

Statts told officers the gunman also took several watches and rings from the belongings of deceased persons.

Second Mayor For Town In 48 Years

BEREA, Ky. (AP)—C. C. Hensley, 48, will become Berea's second mayor Jan. 1, when 92-year-old John L. Gay steps down after 48 years.

Gay declined to seek re-election, saying he had held the office "about lone enough."

Hensley lost to Gay in the mayor's race four years ago but yesterday beat Marshall E. Vaughn, 482 votes to 237. He served as a member of the City Council six years.
