Livestock Show Opens Today

The annual Hereford Young Farmers Junior Livestock Show will kickoff today with top animals from four counties competing for top awards.

To run through Saturday at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barns, the show will feature judging of calves, lambs and barrows from Deaf Smith, Oldham, Parmer and Castro counties. Deaf Smith County will have its own show and then winners will compete in the Four County Show.

The show will begin with judging of the barrows at 2 p. m. today. The lambs will be judged at 10 a. m. Friday, and the steers judged at 2 p. m. Friday.

At 9 a. m. Saturday, the Future Farmers of America and 4-H members from the four counties will compete in the Livestock Judging Contest.

The annual Show Sale will begin at 1 p. m. Saturday. To be sold are the Champion lamb of each class, Grand and Reserve Champion barrow, 30 top steers in the Four County Show, 40 top lambs in the Four County Show, and 48 barrows in the Four County Show.

CALF DIVISION

Calves will be divided into classes, including (1) light and heavy class of Herefords (2) light and heavy Angus and other breeds, and (3) crosses will show in the class represented by the sire.

The first and second place winner in each class of calves will compete for the Breed Champion and Reserve Breed Champion calf.

Steers entered in the show must weigh 650 pounds and over to be eligible. No steers will be allowed in the show that does not carry all his milk teeth. All calves must be in place by 10 a. m. today at the Bull Barn.

LAMB DIVISION

There will be four classes of lambs, including (1) finewool, (2) finewool-crossbreed, (3) medium wool, and (4) Southdown, Shropshire, Montadale or Cheviot grade or Crossbreed. Decision as to how the sheep will be classified will be left to the department superintendent.

Lambs must weigh 70 pounds and not over 120 pounds to be eligible. All lambs must be carrying their milk teeth, and ewe lambs cannot be shown.

There will be no Grand Champion of the show, as only Class Champions will be named. All lambs were to have been in place by 10 p.m. Wednesday.

BARROW DIVISION

Barrows will be divided into six classes, with each class having a light and heavy rank. The classes include Berkshires, Chesters, Durocs, Hampshires, Poland Chinas, and all other breeds and crosses. Gilts cannot be shown.

The first and second place barrows in each class will compete for the Champion and Reserve Champion of the breed. Champion and Reserve Champion of each breed will compete for the Champion and Reserve Champion of the show.

Barrows must weigh 180 pounds and not over 240 pounds to be eligible to show. All barrows were to have been in place by 10 p.m. Wednesday.

All livestock entered in the show must have been owned by the exhibitor and under the supervised feeding of the County Agent or Vocational Agriculture Teacher.

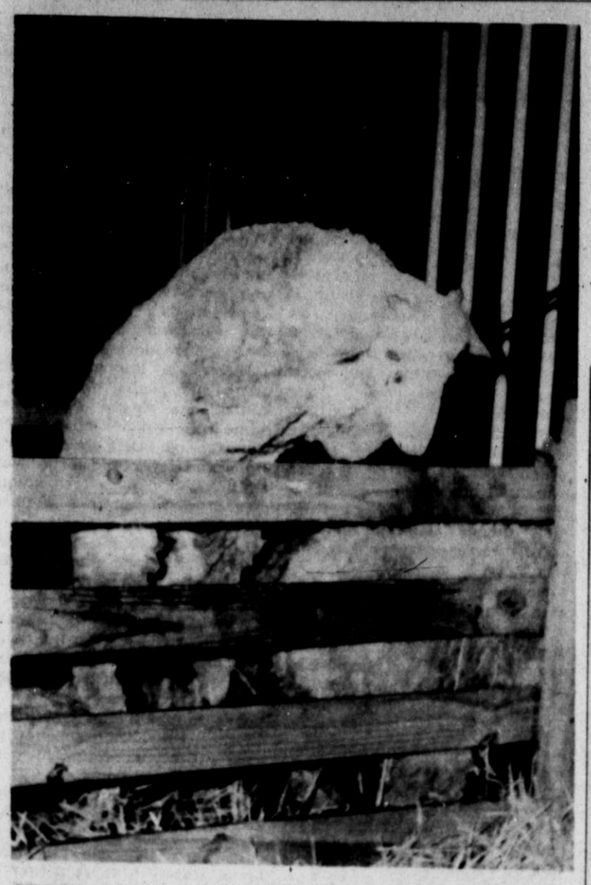

Only two calves, two lambs and two pigs may be shown by one exhibitor in the county show and the Four County Show. The Hereford Young Farmers shall reserve the right to disqualify any exhibitor or animal for any reason that is deemed necessary.

General superintendents for the show are Larry Dobbs and Larry Kaul. Division superintendents are Bob Hicks and Jerry Glover, steers; Lewis Block and L. Dee Taylor, barrows, and John Hammett and James Dobbs, lambs

SHOW SALE

Floor price will be set on all animals before the sale Saturday. Animals to be sold at the floor price which are not eligible to be auctioned will be moved from the barn to pens provided on the outside before the auction sale begins.

All entrants must notify the superintendent of deposition of their animal one hour after judging has been completed for each division, or will be barred from future shows.

STOCK SHOW PROBLEM — One of the problems many exhibitors in the Hereford Young Farmers Junior Livestock Show have found is that their livestock often doesn't want to stay in the pens. The annual show begins today with some 320 entries and runs through Saturday. Judges for the show will be Dr. Lelland Tribble of Texas Tech, barrows; Jerry Stockton of Wolforth, lambs, and Dr. Dale Zinn of Texas Tech, steers. See story for details.

Commissioners Up Fee For Road Here

W. F. Ponder appeared at the regular meeting of County Commissioners Court Monday, represented by his attorney, to protest the figure set for his property by a jury of review appointed by the commissioners last month in lieu of a road project in Precinct 3.

Jury of review figure had been $8,992 damages while Ponder's assessment totalled $19,799. Site of the Ponder property is north of Easley Feed Yards off Farm Road 1058.

Commissioners agreed to pay Ponder in the amount of $9,500 for the right of way. Precinct 3 Commissioner Bruce Coleman told the Brand that the Court "thought the extra amount (above the price suggested by the review jury) might possibly be justified for the water provision.

Other property owners in this section of Deaf Smith County also appeared with suggestions toward the location of the road project, other than the plan approved by the Court.

In other business, the commissioners raised the salary of Chief Deputy Sheriff Bill Rowland to $525. Previously he had received $500 — ten dollars above the salary of the deputy sheriffs — but the Court felt that the raise was justified through the chief deputy's extra responsibilities.

Family Life Conference To Be Held Here

A one-day family life conference will be conducted in First Baptist Church Sunday with Dr. Bill Pinson, professor of Christian ethics at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, as the leader.

The Rev. Gerald Mann, pastor, announces that the public is invited to all the lectures and conferences. He describes Dr. Pinson as "one of the most widely acclaimed young Baptists in America."

Beginning at 9:45 a. m., Dr. Pinson will conduct a high school conference and then a junior high conference, each for a half-hour.

He will deliver sermons on phases of the subject, The Christian Home, at 8:30 and 11 a.m. services, and 7:30 p. m. Scheduled at noon is a luncheon and conference with young married couples.

A conference for parents of small children, those age 12 and under, will be held at 6 p. m. and a conference for parents of teenagers at 8 p. m.

At the age of 34, Dr. Pinson has earned three college degrees, written three books and numerous articles, lectured in Scotland, Spain, England and Denmark as well as the United States, and addressed college groups from California to Florida.

He was selected as one of the Outstanding Young Men in America by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1965. Graduated from North Texas State University in 1955 with a BA degree, he studied at the University of Edinburg, Scotland, then earned master of theology and doctor of theology degrees from Southwestern Seminary, where he has been a professor since 1963.

Wildlife Tours To End Sunday At Bufffalo Lake

Sunday is the last day for area residents to participate in the annual Winter Waterfowl Tour at Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge, officials announced.

Special tours for groups may be arranged by contacting the refuge office at 499-2601 or by writing to Box 228, Umbarger, Texas.

Brown Takes SCS Hereford Office

J. C. Brown has been transferred from the Plainview Soil Conservation Office and placed in charge of the Hereford office effective Monday.

Brown replaced Wilton Green, who moved to Hugoton, Kansas, in late December to begin work with Gifford-Hill Western there.

Brown admitted that his replacing Green here is "a very colorful story," but that it is not the first "colorful story" in his life. He said that prior to his marriage his wife's name was Gray!

J. C. Brown

Both he and his wife, Mary Lou, consider their home as Florence, which is located near Georgetown in central Texas. They graduated from Florence High School in 1958.

Afterward, Brown attended John Tarlton College at Stephenville and graduated from Texas A&M University in 1962. He majored in Agriculture Economics there and received his BS degree. He also received his commission at Texas A&M and was in the U. S. Army on active duty for two years, stationed in Virginia and Louisiana.

He started work with SCS in 1965 in Anson, Texas. Afterward he was transferred to Seymour and from there to Plainview.

Brown and his wife have two children, Dan 3½ and Jennifer 2.

The Browns are Methodists. They now live at 127 Sunset here and plan to build a home later.

Two Hereford Men Receive Six Years In Rape Case

Two Hereford men, charged separately with raping a 14-year-old girl here last October, received sentences of six years in the state penitentiary Tuesday and Wednesday in 69th District Court.

Paul Grinie, 23, was found guilty of the charge following testimony Monday and Tuesday before a 10-man, 2-woman jury, which then assessed the prison term. He was represented in the trial by Hereford attorney Edward Line.

Nieves H. Griego, 21, entered a plea of guilty Wednesday morning before 69th District Court Judge Archie McDonald and also received a six-year prison sentence. Griego was represented by local attorney Bruce Miller.

Disrict Attorney Jerry Tucker prosecuted the case, which began with selection of the jury Monday morning. The two men had been charged separately and therefore, Griego's name was never mentioned during Grinie's trial.

First witness called in the state's case against Grinie was the alleged victim, who kept her head lowered throughout the testimony she gave on the stand. She broke into tears several times, and was unable to answer questions. She was in the courtroom throughout the trial.

The girl, under questioning by Tucker, told the jury that she was 14 on her birthday last September, and had recently moved from Hereford to Kansas.

After pointing out the defendant in the courtroom, the girl testified that she had seen him the day before the alleged incident on Oct. 31 near a car wash on Park Avenue, but did not know who he was. She said the man had a beard, mustache and long hair.

She saw the defendant again the next day — Oct. 31 — at the car wash, but did not talk to him. When she and some friends started back to school, Grinie and another man passed in a car, turned around and came back to where the young people were.

Continuing, the girl said her girlfriend dared her to get in the car with the two men, so she did. The questioning revealed that the men first went to a drive-in and the three sat and talked before they went to a laundromat. There, the girl was told that the men had to return the car to its owner, but they would be back shortly to get the girl.

The girl testified that she went to the restroom at the laundromat and was leaving to call a girlfriend to come and get her when the defendant and another man returned and told her to get in the car.

After first going to Jaycees Park, just off South Main, the men took the girl to a spot in the country at the end of Austin Road east of the city, testimony revealed. The alleged attack then took place.

During testimony concerning the actual rape, the girl often could not be heard when answering and had to be prompted to such an extent by Tucker that Line objected, stating that he knew the difficulties the girl was having but felt the district attorney was leading the witness and it was his (Line's) duty to protect the rights of the defendant.

New School Program Begins To Aid Migrant Children

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Hereford schools have initiated another pilot program. This program is aimed toward parents. These parents are migratory workers who have school-aged children whose education has been interrupted each year due to work problems.

Joe Soto, who was appointed in mid-December as Coordinator of the Parental School Community Improvement Program by Hereford Independent School Superintendent Johnny Clark Jr., said, "There is a need in a lot of Texas localities, especially in South Texas and Hereford, for parental involvement in the schools. It involves parents in school and community activities. Our goal is to get as many parents as we can involved in the community in general. This will benefit all the children in the schools now. If you work with parents, you can't help but benefit. It will encourage the children to go on with their education."

But Soto explained that "we are not trying to stop migration-it would be impossible to stop it. Instead, we are trying to help solve migrant programs that will be advantageous to the school and the child."

School administrators and trustees here believed that Soto was the logical choice as coordinator. He has lived in Hereford 12 years, and he is now Tailtwister for the Paisano Lions Club and on the board of directors of Big Brothers of America. He is also enrolled at West Texas State University majoring in Sociology.

Soto previously lived in the Labor Camp when he first came to Hereford, for little more than a year. They felt through personal experience and exceptional ability, he would not only understand the problem of the migrant but was equipped to help further the Texas Education Agency program in the schools here.

"Actually, it is not a job to me," Soto stated. "It is something I want to do. I want to help the people. I love this kind of work, and I enjoy working in the educational field. I feel it's the greatest thing that has happened to me — and it offers me the opportunity to get an education for myself."

He attends WT in the mornings. His main activities as coordinator is centered in the afternoons and evenings. At this time, he goes to the parents in person — "to get them involved."

And he has an office located at Hereford High School.

Soto is a young married man with three children.

NOT ALONE ON JOB

The program consists of three people. At this time, however, there is only Soto and Eunice Vasquez. "We hope to get another person very soon," Soto said.

Miss Vasquez, the daughter of a Methodist minister, is not unknown to the people of Hereford. While Casa de Amigos was

The girl testified that she had cried during the attack, but did not say anything to the defendant, only trying to push him away.

Following the atacks, the two men brought the girl back to a laundromat, and she went to a nearby business and telephoned the school to see if her brother had come there to get her. When she was told he had not, the girl asked if someone could come and get her.

A school secretary and counselor picked up the girl and took her to a local clinic, where she was examined by a doctor.

When questioned by defense attorney Line, the girl repeated her story concerning her entering the car. Line pointed out to her that in her statement to officers following the incident, she swore that she had waved at the two men as they drove past the young people. The girl admitted doing so.

Continuing, Line brought out that the three had a conversation while at the drive inn, during which the defendant told the girl where he worked and that he was not married. She stated, in answer to questions by Line, that she did not say anything to the defendant during the actual attack; did not reply when he asked "Shall we go on?" and did not resist him other than to try and push him away. On the way back to town, Line brought out, the girl borrowed the defendant's comb to fix her hair.

Line also had the girl admit that she stated in her first deposition to officers about the incident that the two men had told her that her brother had been run over by a car and killed, and they would help if she would go with them. She admitted, when asked by Line, that the story was false.

"In other words," said Line, "some of the statements you have made in the case have been true and some false. Isn't that true?" The girl answered "Yes."

The school secretary corroborated the girl's testimony that she had called the school and shortly after was picked up and taken to the clinic for examination. The woman said the girl was "shaking, crying, almost hysterical" at the time.

MEN ARRESTED

Authorities were informed of the incident, testimony revealed, and Bill Rowland, chief deputy of the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department, took descriptions of the two men from the girl at the clinic and the investigation began. Rowland, under questioning by Tucker, stated that he had much difficulty getting information from the young girl because she was crying, shaking and "seemed confused."

The men fitting the description given by the girl were arrested, and the girl picked the defendant out of a lineup of four men "without hesitation," Rowland testified.

Line, in questioning Rowland, brought out that none of the three in the lineup with Grinie had long hair, a mustache or sideburns.

Next witness was Dr. J. H. McCrary, who testified that the girl was "distraught, crying, somewhat disheveled" and could not be examined until she was given a sedative to calm her nerves. In detailed testimony, the physician verified that the girl had been raped.

DEFENSE BEGINS

First witness for the defense was Sammy Bradford, a custom harvester for whom Grinie was working at the time of the incident. Bradford testified that Grinie had been washing cars and other equipment on the two days he was alleged to have seen the young girl at the car wash.

Bradford said on Oct. 31, Grinie and the other man had brought his car home and said they were going to dinner. He testified that Grinie had a good reputation.

Mrs. Bradford corroboated her husband's testimony about the cars, and stated that she had seen the two men when they returned following dinner ad they appeared to be normal.

Frank Garcia, a contractor for one of the vegetable sheds, testified that he had known Grinie about seven years and Grinie "has a very good reputation."

After the defense completed its list of witnesses, Tucker called the mother of the victim to tell the location of the attack, and then recalled Rowland to verify that the location was in Deaf Smith County.

Line had made a motion for an instructed verdict of not-guilty since the state had failed to prove the incident had occurred in Deaf Smith County. He entered an objection to all the testimony of the victim's mother and Rowland after they were called by Tucker.

Line also called for a mistrial on grounds that the defendant was not in the courtroom when the jury was empaneled and sworn in, but had been visiting with his family in another room. He called Grinie, and the defendant's wife and sister to the stand to testify that they were with him and the jury was in the box when they returned to the courtroom.

Tucker brought out that the wife and sister could not have known when the jury was empaneled and sworn in if they had been outside the courtroom. He also said he felt the women weren't familiar enough with the court proceedings to testify about it.

STATEMENTS MADE

In his closing statements, Tucker told the jury that the state had proven Grinie was the person charged with the crime since he was identified by the victim and the officer; the age of the victim had been proven and she was ". . .just barely 14"; the fact that the attack had taken place had been proven by testimony of the victim and doctor, so "the basic elements had been proven in the case.

Tucker asked ". . .where is there any doubt; not just a reasonable doubt, but any doubt?" He charged them to throw out any evidence which held any doubt.

Line reminded the jury that one of the questions he had asked them when selecting jury members was whether they could judge the defendant as if he were their own son. He pointed out that there was no Latin American on the jury, and charged the jury to be fair and impartial in their thinking since Grinie was a Latin American.

Line also told the jury to study closely the evidence submitted by the district attorney, and "if proof is not present, have the courage to return a verdict of not guilty. Judge the case only on the evidence presented."

"Ask yourself if the evidence is credible," Line told the jury. "Throw out all the evidence not credible."

Line pointed out that because the defendant had a beard and long hair at the time of his arrest should not be a reflection on his character since the young people of today often take on the fads of the time. He also reminded the jury of testimony of witnesses about Grinie's reputation.

Line also reviewed testimony of the victim, which he said was conflicting at times, and asked the jury "Is her testimony worthy of belief?" He stated that the girl had gotten into the car ". . .freely and quite voluntarily," and had no objections to the defendant's getting into the back seat with her and had acted ". . .apparently with her consent."

The question arises, said Line, whether her testimony is credible or not. "Which part do we believe and which part do we reject"? He stated the jury could, in reviewing the testimony, believe one part which was false and reject a part which was true. He pointed out that it was the right of the jury to reject her testimony.

If the victim's testimony were rejected, Line continued, "what else is left of the testimony by the state?" He said the doctor had testified the girl was "overwrought," but her testimony had led him to believe she wasn't overwrought on the way back to town as she had combed her hair.

Line told the jury it was his feeling that the girl had become quite emotional "when realization of what she had done hit her."

Referring to Rowland's testimony concerning the lineup involving Grinie, Line said it reminded him of someone claiming assault by a giant and the officers putting him in a lineup with several midgets. Line stated that it was obvious to him that "the lineup was designed to select the defendant."

If testimony of the victim is rejected because it is not credible, the case falls, said Line.

ASKS FOR PROBATION

After the jury had returned the guilty verdict against Grinie, both sides discussed what penalty should be levied by the jury.

Line called Grinie to the stand to testify that he had been convicted of no previous felonies, and felt he could live up to terms of probation. He stated that he had been married nearly four years, had three children who ranged in age from two years to two months, and his wife was 17.

Tucker told the jury that the defendant was, in effect, "asking you to make this a matter of record, but to let him go," in making application for probation. He prompted the jury to pay particular attention to the damage done to the victim in assessing their punishment for Grinie.

There is too much disregard for the law today, continued Tucker. He asked for no leniency for the defendent because "he asked for no leniency when he committed the crime. He must face the consequences."

Line pointed out that the decision by the jury will affect the defendant's life. "How many of us would care to bejudged on a few fleeting moments of our lives? What about the balance of life?"

Purpose of the law, stressed Line, is rehabilitation, "to take a person after the offense is committed and try to salvage his life."

Stating that the defendant had created a "lifetime nightmare for this young lady," Tucker said he could not see any punishment in letting Grinie go on probation.

Tucker had waived the death penalty early in the trial. Therefore, the maximum sentence could have been life imprisonment, and the minimum prison sentence five years. Grinie could have been granted probation.

OAKLAND LED AL HITTING

BOSTON — The Oakland Athletics, regarded as something less than sensational as hitters when they were known as the Kansas City Athletics, led American League teams in batting last season with a .240 mark. They beat the Minnesota Twins by three points.

In 1967 the Athletics batted .233 which ranked them seventh in league hitting.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Readers Are Asking . . .

WHAT is meant by bronchiectasis (bronchi-ecta-sis) of the lungs?

Bronchiectasis is one of a group of lung conditions that is taking its toll of the health and vitality of people all over the country. In this group is included chronic bronchitis and emphysema.

Dr. Coleman

The combination of chronic infection, air pollution and lung pollution with cigarettes is a deadly one. Thousands of people are now unserviceable and sick because of these chronic lung ailments.

Bronchiectasis is a widening of the bronchi, or the tubes, which lead from the trachea into the lungs. The result is that a large quantity of stagnant mucus and pus collects and interferes with normal breathing.

Occasionally a child is born with congenital bronchiectasis of the lungs. More often it is due to pneumonia, tuberculosis, whooping cough or chronic irritation of the lining of the bronchi.

Almost always the symptoms are some form of chronic cough with expectoration of large quantities of infected material. Sometimes there is some associated asthma, both as a cause and as an aftermath of this disorder.

The diagnosis is made by X-ray examinations of the lung, using a special opaque dye to outline the smaller bronchial tubes. A bronchoscope is sometimes inserted directly into the lungs to definitely establish the diagnosis.

The treatment is based on clearing up infections with modern antibiotics and the removal of irritants like tobacco smoke and air pollution. There are now many types of exercise and postural drainage of the lungs which make breathing less difficult.

The use of oxygen and special drugs can help reduce the excessive secretions. Surgery for the removal of severely diseased portions of the lung is very effective in carefully chosen cases. The objective of modern medicine is the prevention of these respiratory diseases because the cure is so difficult when once the disease sets in.

* * *

Is there such a medical condition called the plague or is it a biblical term?

The plague is most definitely a medical disease of grave importance. Its biblical significance undoubtedly stems from the fact that its causes, prevention and treatment were unknown many centuries ago and the resultant epidemic and deaths were devastating.

Plague is known by other names like pestis, black plague and bubonic plague. Under any name this is a severe, progressive disease that starts with chills and fever and is immediately followed by a tremendous feeling of weakness and prostration.

Later the lymph nodes become swollen and form buboes. The germ which causes this is called the Pasteurella pestis.

Almost always humans contract the disease from animals, especially rodents. Sometimes fleas and ticks can transmit the disease to humans.

One human being can infect another. Prevention depends almost entirely on scrupulous control of rodents and fleas.

Modern hygienic control has reduced the frequency of this severe disease so that it is only seen in underprivileged areas. Rarely is there a case of bubonic plague in civilized, health controlled areas.

Today the mortality rate has been reduced from 90% to about 5% by the use of vaccines and active treatment with antibiotics and sulfa drugs.

Farmers Must File Tax Reports

Friday is the deadline for farmers to file reports on the Social Security taxes withheld from their employee wages, Internal Revenue officials have announced.

Ellis Campbell Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, said the reports should be filed on Form 943, Employer's Annual Tax Return for Agricultural Employees.

Any farmer who pays an employee cash wages of $150 or more a year must withhold Social Security taxes. Taxes must also be withheld on wages under $150 for any person hired 20 days or more a year.

A farm employer, for tax purposes, includes anyone who furnishes and pays workers to perform agricultural labor on his behalf or for someone else. Campbell said a "crew leader" is an employer under this definition.

According to Campbell, the 1968 tax rate is 8.8 percent of the first $7,800 of taxable wages paid a farm employee. Half the tax is paid by the farmer and the other half by the employee.

Also, farmers should remember to give a W-2 wage and tax statement to every worker they pay $600 or more a year. Employees paid less than $600 should receive a statement covering their Social Security taxes, Campbell said.

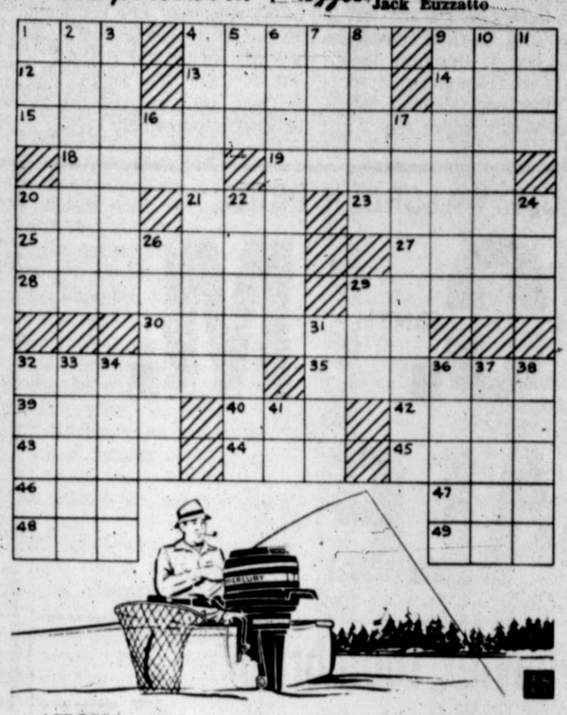

IRS Publication 51, "Agricultural Employer's Social Security Tax Guide," offers more detailed information. Send a post card to Supply, Internal Revenue Service, P. O. Box 1738, Dallas, Texas 75221, for a free copy.

Demons Nail Whitefaces In 70-52 Conference Battle

The Whiteface roundballers knocked heads with disastor again in district warfare Tuesday night, and came out on the losing end of the battle, falling to the Dumas Demons, 70-52.

Making their shots count, both teams squared off in the first period by swapping tallies. Hereford managed to stay up with the demanding Demons during the initial period, as the locals connected for 11 points and the Dumas quint held to a small lead by snagging 14.

During the second quarter, it was the Whitefaces turn to take the initiative as they outscored the host Demons by two points to cut the deficit to a 26-25 halftime score. Dusty Duncan was the major lead-cutter as he connected for six points with Marsh Pitman hitting his first three of the night and Santry Rush and Percy Mays both getting two each.

Dumas strengthened their lead in the third period by busting loose for 18 points and holding the Herd to only 11. From that point on out, the game was spelled out with Demons all the way as the host team exploded in the final quarter for 26 points and a needle and thread to sew the game up.

Hereford was held to only 16 points in the final stanza as they absorbed their fifth district loss of the season compared to one win.

High pointer for the locals was Duncan with 17 while Pitman so hit in the double figures with 14.

In Longhorn and Shorthorn action for Tuesday night, the Longhorns also met defeat and the Shorthorns came up with the only win for the Whitefaces in Dumas.

A slow start was the only thing that stood in the way of the Longhorns in their quest for a win over arch rival Dumas, as they managed only six points in the first quarter while the Demons chalked up 10. The second quarter was much the same as the Junior Varsity could get only eight and Dumas again hit for 10 and a 20-14 halftime lead.

During the course of the entire game, the Longhorns could not break the ten point margin in any one quarter as they got only five in the third and eight in the final. Dumas, on the other hand, managed 10 or more in every period with the exception of the fourth when they played ball control and hit for three points, finalizing the game with a Demon win, 36-27.

High pointer for the Longhorns was Gary Lemons with 13 while Mike Wartes hit for nine. John Sparks hit for the remaining five for the Longhorns.

The Shorthorns played a game of a different tune Tuesday when they met the B-teamers from Dumas and tied them to the whipping post for a 48-32 win.

Hereford trailed 10-8 at the end of the first quarter but came back in the second period to hold the host team to three points while they collected six of their own for a 14-13 lead at halftime.

The locals hit for 34 points in the second half for their margin of victory while the Demons hit or only 19 and the final 48-32 score.

High pointer for the Shorthorns was Harold Schmacker with 18 while Dana Rush managed 17.

Next games for the Whiteface cagers will be Friday when they play host to the Tulia Hornets. Gametime is set for 6:15 for the Shorthorn game and the Junior Varsity and varsity tilts will follow.

Wildcats Clipped By Bovina Teams

Walcott cagers couldn't quite get their games together Monday night when the boys were cropped by the Bovina team, 46-42 and the girls were felled, 23-16.

The losses brought the Walcott records to 6-2 for the girls and 3-5 for the boys.

Starting off Monday night's game was a "Pee Wee" game which featured the Walcott fifth and sixth graders against the Bovina fifth and sixth graders. The Walcott team won that game, 33-13.

In action last Thursday, the Walcott teams faced the Bushland teams in non-conference battle, with the girls meeting defeat, 27-21 and the boys winning, 40-38.

The next games for the Walcott Wildcats will be next Monday when they play host to the Vega teams. Gametime is set for 5 p.m. Boys Ranch and Stanton travels to Plainview to meet the Coronado Red Pups.

Bowlers Of Week Named In League

Carl Hoffman and Luella Dool were named "Bowlers of the Week" in pin play for the Kings and Queens Bowling League for last week.

Hoffman received his honors by hitting for a 635 handicap and also collecting the "High Game" with a 229 and the "High Series" with a 581. Mrs. Dool had a 439 for her honors.

"High Game" honors in the women's division went to Anne Radney who had a 189. She also collected the "High Series" with a 520.

Sunset Lanes walked away with the "High Team Series" with a 2168 as well as getting the "High Team Game" with a 739 score.

In action last week, One Hour Martinizing won 1 and lost 3; Missouri Beef Packers won 0 and lost 4; Sunset Lanes won 3 and lost 1; Quarterhorse Club won 2 and lost 2; Farmers Elevator won 3 and lost 1; Sunset Food Center won 2 and lost 2; Vance Hall Sporting Goods won 0 and lost 4; Hereford Janitor Supply won 4 and lost 0; Cougar Club won 4 andlost 0; Powell's Mobil Service won 1 and lost 3.

Standings include Sunset Lanes; 11-1; Sunset Food Center, 9-3 Quarterhorse Club, 8-4; Vance Hall Sporting Goods, 7-5; Hereford Janitor Supply, 7-5; Cougar Club, 6½-5½; Farmers Elevator, 4½-6½; Powell's Mobil Service, 3-9; One Hour Matinizing, 2-10; and Missouri Beef Packers, 1-11.

Water District Office Moved To Courthouse

The County Clerk's office in the Deaf Smith County Courthouse will become headquarters for local offices of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District on Saturday.

Tom McFarland, district manager, explained that the move is a necessity for economic reasons at this time, but district officials have hopes of reopening the office within two years with a fulltime field man here.

The work of Mrs. Tom (Mattie K) Robinson, who has handled the office here several years was praised by McFarland.

B. F. Cain, Deaf Smith County Clerk, will supervise the water district office here.

Stanton, LaPlata Split Wins, Losses

Wins and losses were split down the middle in junior high cage action for this week with three teams winning and the remaining three falling in defeat.

Stanton suffered two losses Monday night when the eighth and seventh grades were defeated by the Tulia teams, 40-37 and 36-13, respectively. The Stanton ninth grade salvaged a win for themselves in their game by downing the Tulia quintet, 49-33.

La Plata cage teams had the winningest night as the eighth grade was the only to meet defeat, with that being a 38-44 loss to the Dimmitt eighth. Walter Olson was the leading scorer for the eighth graders as he collected 15 points and he was closely followed by Barry McNutt who poured in 14. Others connecting were Larry McNutt with seven and Terry Champ with two.

A close contest all the way, the La Plata eighth graders stayed right with the Dimmitt five as the score at the end of the first period read 10-10 and at the half it was Dimmitt by one point, 22-21.

Dimmitt managed to go ahead by two additional points during the third stanza with a 35-32 fourth quarter starter. La Plata and Dimmitt cagers then traded points for the rest of the game with Dimmitt getting its only win of the night over the local cagers, 44-38.

In seventh grade action, the Mavericks started off stumbling and stammering through the first period, then settled down to aggressive ball playing to take over the contest, 32-17.

At the end of the first quarter, the score was knotted 4-4 and then La Plata's seventh graders took over from there for a 10-4 halftime lead than a 17-9 third quarter margin, and then the final 32-17 score.

In the ninth grade game, Dimmitt was the agressor in the first half, as they led at the end of both quarters before falling to the Mavericks, 52-51.

Danny Charest and Billy Bob Taylor led the scoring attack for the Maverick ninth graders as they both collected 18 points. Ralph Waits added a much-needed 12 while Cliff Herring and Charles Ross each contributed two.

Trailing 11-8 at the end of the first period, the Mavs fought back in the second quarter, but could not overcome the Dimmitt lead which had lengthened to 27-22 at the half.

La Plata then tied the game up in the third period at 36-36 and went on to take the win, 52-5.

La Plata's records now stand with the ninth grade having won 11 and lost three, the eighth having won eight and lost three, and the seventh grade having won nine and lost three.

Both Stanton and La Plata will be idle the remainder of this week, but all six teams will open up warfare again on Feb. 3. when La Plata journeys to

It seems to be the vogue these days. Want to take a trip to Cuba? Just hijack a jet and you're on your way.

—HB—

A lot of people are becoming concerned over the hijacking situation and all feel that something must be done to stop the nonsense. But how, is another proposition. The airline pilots must think of the lives of all the people on board, and you just don't go around trying to overpower a man with a gun in a pressurized cabin many thousands of feet above the ground. Apparently the airlines have taken the attitude that the proper thing to do is just follow orders, fly to Havana, pay the price of ransom for the plane and get the people back to their homes safely.

Eastern Airlines, with regularly scheduled flights from New York to Miami has taken the brunt of the hijacking but certainly other airlines are not immune. Even a few foreign airliners have been forced to fly to Cuba.

Incidentally, that's one side trip that few people care to take.

—HB—

Mrs. F. A. Marnell brought in the following clipping taken from THE CROSS SECTION, titled "What Is A Farmer." We thought it worth reproducing in this column.

"A farmer is a paradox — he is an overall executive with his home his office; a scientist using fertilizer attachments; a personnel director with grease under his fingernails; a dietitian with a passion for alfalfa, amino and antibiotics; a production expert with a surplus, and a manager battling a price-cost squeeze.

"He manages more capital than most of the businessmen in town. He likes sunshine, good food, State Fairs, dinner at noon, auctions, his neighbors, his shirt collar unbuttoned and above all, a good soaking rain in August.

"He is not much for drouths, ditches, throughways, experts, weeds, the eight-hour day, grasshoppers or helping with housework.

"Farmers are found in fields — plowing up, seeding down, rotating from planting to, fertilizing with, spraying for and harvesting. Wives help them, little boys follow them, the Agriculture Department confuses them, city relatives visit them, salesmen detain them and wait for them, weather on delay them, but only Heaven can stop them.

"A farmer is both Faith and Fatalist — he must have faith to continually meet the challenges of his capacities amid an ever-present possibility that an Act of God (a late spring, an early frost, tornado, flood, drouth) can bring his business to a standstill. You can reduce his acreage but can't restrain his ambition.

"Might as well put up with him — he is your friend, your competitor, your customer, your source of food, fiber and self-reliant young citizen to help replenish your cities. He is your countryman — a denim-dressed, business-wise, fast growing statesman in stature. And when he comes in at noon, having spent the energy of his hopes and dreams, he can be recharged anew with the magic words: 'The market's up!' "

—HB—

By the way, we were interested in the remarks of Ed Daniels, an executive with Holly Sugar Company known to many people in this area.

Daniels tells us that everyone with the company is quite impressed with the caliber of the farmer in this particular area. He feels that farmers here are the best in the world, and he doesn't mind telling about it.

We certainly agree with Mr. Daniels. Of course, any farmer that expects to make it now, has to have something on the ball, but we feel, as Daniel does, that the ones in this area are the best. His image has changed considerably over the past thirty years.

Good Records Help Support Exemptions

(Dallas, Texas) — If you claim as a dependent someone not living with you, you must keep good records of the support you provide, advises Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue of Northern Texas.

Failure to keep these records caused some taxpayers to lose a dependency exemption they otherwise would have been entitled to last year. For others it meant the problem of assembling the needed records months after the expense was paid.

Mr. Campbell said that there are five tests that have to be met to satisfy the legal requirements for claiming another person as a dependent. The one that gives taxpayers the most trouble is the support test, he added. Substantiation of support is the most common problem arising on returns filed each year.

To satisfy the support test, the taxpayer must show what it cost to support the dependent for the year and how much of this he provided. To gather such records for a child who does not live at home or a parent in another city is naturally more difficult than it is for a dependent who lives with the taxpayer.

Mr. Campbell said the four other dependency tests are the gross income test member of household or relationship test, citizenship test and joint return test. All are explained in the Form 1040 instructions.

Mexican Cookery Lesson Planned

Preparation of Mexican food will be demonstrated for Young Homemakers of Texas at a meeting of the Hereford Chapter at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Hereford High School homemaking rooms. Mrs. Conny Rountree will give recipes and prepare some of the popular dishes.

Also planned for this month in the YHT Chapter is a Valentine party for members' husbands, an old-fashioned box supper at the Little Bull Barn.

FRIENDS VISIT

Visiting Sunday with Mrs. William McGehee, 504 N. Miles, were Mrs. Theo Griffith and Mrs. Watt Griffith of Lockney, friends of the Hereford woman who formerly lived in Lockney. Also, Jane and Robert Messick of El Paso visited Mrs. McGehee and other friends here. They are children of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Messick, former Hereford residents.

Migrant . . .

in operation at the Labor Camp, she acted as program coordinator there for more than three years . Afterward, she was a teacher's aide at Bluebonnet Elementary School.

And there is another Vasquez connected to the program — not related to Miss Vasquez here. Gerard Vasquez, a parental-community involvement specialist from Austin, will be in Hereford once a month.

It was explained that Texas Education Agency contracts the Southwest Educational Labratory in Austin on these programs, hence Vasquez' connections here

Vasquez explained that the middle-class parents will buy books including encyclopedias for their children while they are in school, "but others have the central problem of using their money to buy food. They cannot afford to buy books. Our basic premise is, if we involve parents to see what the school is doing for his child, the child will stay in school — and there is the motivation for the child to do better in school."

But he pointed out that "involvement" scares a lot of people in this day and age. "But this is different. We are really talking about the parent becoming concerned. We feel that maybe this involvement will even compliment the home. To make every effort for this opportunity is at least one step forward."

Another disturbing point was brought up — which concerned the use of the word "migrant" as a description of the worker who must change locales as a means of livelihood. "But it is possible this situation can be erased too."

But Vasquez said, "Times have changed in education. We have to be able to compete in this highly technological world we live in. Now we are trying to find out and develop this program — which is most of all for the children.

"The reason we have this program in Hereford — a pilot test — if it works here, we will know why it works. Then it can be expanded."

There are now two such programs in San Antonio and one at McAllen, other than the program in Hereford.

"Traditionally, the schools have had PTO," Vasquez stipulated. "But such organizations have not worked well with the disadvantaged groups. This program is to reach parents — go where the parents are, explain reasons, solicit involvement. In this, we hope the home will be more coordinated with the schools."

SOTO'S INVOLVEMENT

Soto emphasized that the problems and needs for the migratory child are different than the problems and needs of other children. "It is also an added stress on the schools, administrators and teachers. And this involvement (with the parents as the root of the solution) is just one of many programs that we are going to have implemented for the child."

He reported that the Texas Education Agency began in 1962 trying to develop a migrant program. The need for such a program in the Hereford schools became obvious through the enrollment trend. Each year the peak enrollment is reached during September and October. From that point, the enrollment declines due to the fact that the agriculture season ends here and the families move their children to other parts of the country.

Figures also show that many of these children will not re-enter school until the following year. TEA and Hereford schools believe something should correct this situation.

Soto said, "We have the greatest educational system in the Hereford schools. If it were not for that, I would not have this chance to help these children."

Washington Report

From Congressman

BOB PRICE 19TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1323 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. • 225-3706

As the 91st Congress went through its organizational processes, I was honored by the Republican Committee on Committees with an additional assignment — The Science and Astronautics Committee. I will retain my seat on the House Agriculture Committee and move up three notches in seniority.

My membership on the Agriculture Committee is still my most important assignment and will undoubtedly mean much more to the Panhandle under a Republican Administration and Secretary of Agriculture. However, the Space Committee is also of major importance in view of the unlimited scope of the space program.

Last year I toured the Manned Space Flight Ceter in Houston where I visited with some of my Air Force friends now in the program with whom I had flown in Korea.

The magnitude of the U. S. space program and its accomplishments are difficult to visualize or realize. "The Independent Observer," a newsletter report on the significance of events at the United Nations, had this to say in a recent edition:

"During the United Nations General Assembly of 1957 the first earth satellite was orbited by the Soviet Union and 'Sputnik' began to circle the globe once every 97 minutes. Toward the end of the UN Assembly in 1968 three United States astronauts set off on a voyage which took them 10 times around the moon."

In the decade between these extra-terrestrial evens, the U.S. and USSR have remained the only States with the competence and resources to explore Outer Space. Despite the nuclear weapons capabilities of Britain, China and France, the lead held by the United States and Russia is so great that those two nations can still preempt that military field. The same two Powers bid fair to have an equally exclusive advantage in the exploitation of the Sea-bed and Ocean floor.

Their superior technological positions in these three areas of human endeavor gives them superiority not only in war, but in the very numerous 'spin-off' benefits of space exploration, and potential control of the vast new resources to be derived from beneath the deep oceans which cover a major portion of the earth's surface."

So these so-called "spin-off" benefits will undoubtedly have significant effects on Texas where industry has made giant strides in research, 'development, and production of the hardware and technology necessary for the space program.

An example is the James Connally Technical Institute at Waco which occupies the former Air Force Base there and is operated by Texas A&M University. Because of the Institute's industrially-oriented training curriculum, space-associated industries have located there to avail themselves of the skilled employees necessary to their highly technical operations.

Amarillo now has the opportunity of a similar institute at Amarillo Air Force Base. A Technical Institute under the same Texas A&M plan has been in the making for more than two years and is now nearing the crucial stage of approval by the Texas Legislature and approval in Washington for acquirement by Texas A&M of the necessary facilities at the base.

The Institute could be of vast importance to a wise area of the Panhandle and adjucent states. While agriculture and agriculture-associated industry is still number one in the Panhandle, we need other industry to supplement our economy, especially some of our smaller communities. The Technical Institute supplemented by the vocational programs of our excellent junior colleges in Amarillo, Borger, and Clarendon, can furnish the technicians and skilled manpower necessary to attract aero-space industry to our area and help reverse the migration from rural communities to the overcrowded cities. The space program could become of great importance to our area.

Because Jupiter apparently radiates its own energy, some astronomers believe it may be a small star rather than a very large planet.

Conkwright Is Elected V-P Of Association

Jim Conkwright, who ranches with his father north of Hereford, was elected vice president of the Texas Hereford Breeders Association at its annual membership and business meeting this week in Fort Worth.

Conkwright has been serving as a director in the association. He is also a director of the Panhandle Hereford Breeders Association and was elected recently to serve as superintendent of the annual Tri-State Hereford show and the Amarillo Livestock Show.

DICE ROLLER — Carol Beene, Hereford High School entrant in the Annual Hereford Science Fair, is shown with the chart she has made in connection with her exhibit. Her experiment is called "The Probability Of a Dice Roll" in which she charts the number of times a seven or eleven will turn up through a series of rolls. —Staff Photo

New DSP Speed Computer Expected To Curb Speeders

VASCAR, a new scientific speed measuring device to serve as a deterrent to speeders, is being put into operation over the State of Texas, announced Major Luther Moore, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety for this Region.

VASCAR, known as the Visual Average Speed Computer and Recorder, enables the highway patrolman to determine the speed of vehicles both in front and behind him, traffic approaching from the opposite direction, and crossing his path. In other words this device can measure or determine the speeds of vehicles in any direction regardless of their position. It may be used at night or day, in clear or inclement weather.

The VASCAR device is a special electronic digital computer, designed to record the distance traveled by a vehicle and the time to travel that distance and to compute the average speed of the vehicle over the recorded distance. This method of timing results in an average speed calculation. The average speed is never higher than the peak or highest speed the vehicle reaches during the measurement.

The patrolman places distance into the computer by closing an electrical switch when the patrol car reaches a predetermined point on the highway, and opens that same switch when the patrol car reaches another point farther down the road. Time is placed into the computer closing another electrical switch when the suspected speeder's vehicle reaches one of the same points, and the switch is opened when it reaches the second point. Time may be placed into the VASCAR unit either before, during, or after the distance measurement is made. The following example illustrates one of VASCAR's many methods.

When the suspected speeder's vehicle reaches a certain location or reference point on the highway, the time switch is closed; this activates the time circuitry in the computer. When the patrolman's vehicle with the VASCAR unit reaches the same location point, the patrolman closes the distance switch. This activates the distance circuitry to record the distance being measured by the patrolman's vehicle through the odometer module connected to the speedometer cable.

As the suspected speeder's vehicle reaches a second location point, the time switch is opened. The time that it has taken the suspected speeder's vehicle to travel between two points has been measured and put into the computer. This completes the speed measuring procedure, and the speed is electronically computed and instantly displayed on the read-out module in miles per hour.

Major Moore stated because of the advantages and versatility of the VASCAR unit, the efficiency of the patrolman is increased, thus becoming a more effective speed deterrent.

The Chapel of the Presidents, a part of the new National Presbyterian Church and Center now under construction in Washington, D. C., will house memorabilia of past U. S. Presidents.

Boynton Rites Will Be Friday

Funeral services for J. T. Boynton, 51, grocery store owner, will be conducted at 2 p.m. Friday in Rose Chapel of Gililland Funeral Home.

Mr. Boynton, of 128 Hickory, died Tuesday afternoon at a local hospital. He had been a resident of Deaf Smith County since he moved here in 1956 from Van Nuys, Calif.

Born June 12, 1917 at Quanah, he married Juanita McCarley in Los Angeles Feb. 12, 1939. He was a member of the Assembly of God Church.

Survivors are his wife; a daughter, Carolyn Sue, and a son, Jay Wayne, both of Dallas; two brothers, Charles Boynton of Vernon and W. D. Boynton of Santa Fe, and two grandchildren.

No state has a higher low point than Colorado or a lower high point than Florida. Colorado's lowest spot, along the Arkansas River, towers 3,350 feet above sea level. Florida's loftiest altitude — 345 feet — lies in Walton County.

Citation Issued In Wreck Here

An accident near the intersection of Whittier and U. S. 60 Saturday morning, resulted in an estimated $800 damages to the two vehicles involved.

A 1960 Chevrolet driven by Joe B. Martinez sustained $50 damages while a 1964 Ford driven by Carmen DeLeon received an estimated $750 damages.

The accident occurred when the driver of one of the vehicles approached East First St. and came upon a stalled car at the stop sign. Upon pulling around the stalled vehicle and into the traffic on Highway 60, the car was struck from behind by another vehicle traveling east on U. S. 60.

Investigating officers issued a citation for following to closely.

Deadline Near For Voter Registration

Only today and Friday remain for Deaf Smith County residents to apply for voter registration certificates so they may vote in this year's elections.

By early Wednesday afternoon, a total of 3,365 persons had registered at the Deaf Smith County Tax Assessor-Collector's office.

Voting eligibility requires that a person be 21 years of age or older and a citizen of the United States; residence must have been established in Texas at least one year prior to the election, and the registrant must have registered the year of the election.

To vote in city and county elections, the person must have lived in the county for six months prior to the election.

Residents are reminded that two commissioners and the mayor are to be elected this year, three school board members and several state officials.

Entries Are Due On Science Fair

Entries in the Hereford Science Fair are due Friday, with exhibits from the Deaf Smith County schools to be displayed Feb. 20-22 at the Bull Barn.

Approximately 500 entries are expected in this year's show, which will have entrants competing in seven categories for top honors. There will be three divisions — Intermediate, Junior and Senior.

The seven areas of competition will be botany, medicine and health, zoology, chemistry and biochemistry, earth and space sciences, physics and mathematics.

Hereford Science Fair winners will be eligible to compete in the Panhandle Science Fair, which is scheduled for April 4, 5 and 6 at the Tri-State Fair grounds.

Students from Walcott School will be participating in the Hereford Science Fair for the first time this year.

Entry forms for the Hereford Fair must be of the Official Entry Blank type and these may be obtained from the science departments from each of the schools.

Young Mothers Host Guest Day

Dr. D. E. McBrayer was the speaker to Young Mothers Study Club at a guest day program Tuesday evening in First National Community Room. He discussed the subject, Sex Education For Our Children, and answered questions after his talk.

In the business session, members voted to buy a tricycle for use of the Satellite Day Care Center for handicapped children. Plans for a Valentine party at the next meeting were completed.

Guests were Mmes. Wayne Pierce, Bill Bolinger, Robert Gerk, Tommy Sparkman, Joe Henry and Buddy Peeler.

The hostesses, Mrs. Ray Simpson and Mrs. Travis McPherson, served refreshments to guests and the members, Mmes. Homer Rudd, Bud Thomas, Howard Hunter, Lynn Pittard, Don Chapman, Larry Dobbs, Raymond Gerk, Jim Arney, Charles Brown, David Brumley and Don Brush.

The highest iceberg reliably recorded loomed 550 feet above the water, yet seven-eights of it was below the surface.

Funeral For Early Resident Of City Slated

The funeral of Mrs. Helen Pipkin, 86, of 206 Ave. B, will be conducted at 10 a. m. today in St. Thomas Episcopal Church The Rev. Fred Howard, pastor, will officiate. Burial in West Park Cemetery will be directed by Gililland Funeral Home.

Mrs. Pipkin, a longtime resident of Hereford, died in an Amarillo hospital Monday night. She was a native of Louisiana, born Sept. 16, 1882.

She came to Hereford with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Jones, in 1903 when her father became the agent for the Santa Fe Railroad here. She studied millinery in St. Louis and Cincinnati, the worked in the millinery department of Canyon Mercantile and married her employer, Robert S. Pipkin, in 1909.

Mrs. Pipkin came back to Hereford from Canyon about 30 years ago to care for her parents until their deaths.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mary Luce of Northridge, Calif., and a sister-in-law, Mrs. J. H. Jones of Amarillo.

Local Woman's Brother Buried

Funeral services for William Bell, 79, of Amarillo, brother of Miss Madeline Bell of Hereford, were conducted Tuesday afternoon in an Amarillo funeral chapel. Burial was in Llano Cemetery.

Mr. Bell, an Amarillo resident for 23 years and a retired butcher, is survived by his wife and a daughter, Mrs. Donald C. Taylor of Amarillo, also a brother living in Missouri, and the sister here.

Meeting Here May Set Trend

Local leaders of three major farm organizations are hopeful that their actions last Friday will be repeated all across the nation in the very near future.

In unprecedented action, members and officers of the Farm Bureau, NFO (National Farmers Organization) and Farmers Union met informally Friday night to discuss the problems of agriculture. Unanimous agreement was reached in every area discussed, one officer said.

Continuing, the man told the Brand, "It was the feeling of the group that farmers must work together to strengthen agriculture and rural life, and that cooperation at the grass roots level is the best way to accomplish this."

Results of the meeting will be related to members of each of the three organizations, and then another combined meeting will be held.

Present at the meeting Friday were Bill Walden and Bill Kahlich of the Farm Bureau, Leo Witkowski and Alfred Smith of the Farmers Union, and Gerald McCathern and Jerome Friemel of the NFO.

Local Men Will Attend Meeting

Several officers and directors of the Hereford Grain Corporation will be attending the 17th joint annual Cooperative Meeting of the Texas Federation of Cooperatives, Texas Cooperative Ginners Association and Houston Bank for Cooperatives in Dallas Monday through Wednesday.

Representing the local grain corporation will be Austin C. Rose, president, and directors Donald Meyer, Carl Strafuss, W. J. Albracht, Gary Mason, Tony Hoffman and F. L. Eicke. Rose also is a director of Producers Grain Corporation in Amarillo.

Some 1,500 farmers from throughout the state are expected to attend the Dallas meeting. Speakers will be Sister Thomas More, OSF, chairman of the Department of History, Holy Family College, Manitowoc, Wis., and Dr. Karl F. Kraenzel, Department of Sociology, University of Texas at El Paso.

Highlights of the convention will be the naming of Cooperator of the Year, and the recipients of three Distinguished Service Awards. Officers and directors of the three organizations will also be elected.

Donna Woody Is Given Party

Donna Woody, a resident of Girlstown, celebrated her eighth birthday in the home of Mrs. Viola Williams Saturday afternoon.

Donna, who was eight years old Sunday, came to Hereford over the weekend for the party given to her by the North Hereford Home Demonstration Club. Members of the club present were Mmes. Roger Williams, Paul Hoff, C. L. Whitehead, Fred Mulkey and W. J. Lueb. Mrs. Hoff made the birthday cake.

Girls invited to the party were Judy Lewis, Renee Russell, Deann Miller, Lisa Williams and Karen Kitchens, also another girl from Girlstown, Daffney Higgins.

Surprise Party Marks Birthday

A surprise birthday party for R. L. Ethridge was given at his home, 400 Western, Tuesday evening by a group of friends who brought dishes for a salad supper as well as a decorated cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ethridge had just returned from a visit with her sister in Levelland when the callers arrived to wish him a happy birthday and spend the evening in informal visiting.

In the group were Messrs. and Mmes. F. A. Tucker, Frank Ball and H. L. Hershey, and Mrs. Cleta Passmore.

Anniversary Reception Is Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Lindley, who reside south of Hereford, will be honorees on their Golden Wedding anniversary Sunday with a reception in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Christine Shirley, 1203 West Sixth, Friona.

Friends and relatives of the couple are invited to the open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Hosts with Mrs. Shirley will be Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lindley of Friona. Sam Lindley is the son of the honorees.

TENNIS IN COMFORT

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Ready to assemble buildings that can span four tennis courts now are financially within reach of small sports promoters. The prefabricated steel structures with regulation courts of cork or rubber cost about $100,000.

One such building here is 120 feet wide and 206 feet long. Fluorescent lights supply illumination and gas-fueled infrared heaters in the eaves supply even temperatures in the winter, reports the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association.

Community Calendar

MOORE TO LEAD ARMY

WEST POINT, N. Y. — Lynn Moore, Army halfback from Ponca City, Okla. will captain the Cadet football team next season.

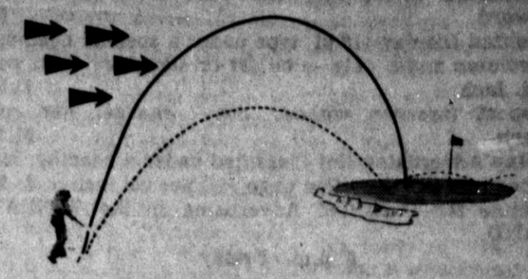

Moore, who has played every Army game since the start of the 1967 season, was a versatile performer last season. He rushed for 348 yards, caught 18 passes for 188 yards, returned eight punts, returned 17 kickoffs and was third in team scoring with nine touchdowns for 54 points. One of his punt returns resulted in a 79-yard touchdown run.

The glamor of Imperial Rome around the year 100 lured thousands and thousands of outlanders into the overcrowded capital.

HOW TO SOLVE
GOLF PROBLEMS©

JIMMY DEMARET...
NARRATOR "SWWG" *

WITH THE WIND AT YOUR BACK

On a par-3, 150-yard hole, the average golfer would probably use about a 6-iron. However, when a brisk wind is at the golfer's back, the better choice might be a 7 or 8-iron.

Tail wind has a tendency to knock the ball down and reduce its backspin. If you start too low, you may not carry any hazards guarding the green and will probably get too much run on the ball (dotted line).

By playing the shot high in the air (solid line) you will benefit from the carrying power of the tail wind and, at the same time, compensate for lost height.

The ball should carry just onto the front edge of the green. Lacking much backspin, it will run far enough to reach the pin.

INTERLEAGUE ACTION

NEW YORK (AP) — During the spring training season the New York Yankees will play a total of 12 exhibition games with six National League teams.

The American Leaguers will play three games with the Atlanta Braves, two each with the Los Angeles Dodgers, Cincinnati Reds and New York Mets and one with the Pittsburgh Pirates in Florida. Their exhibitions end with April 5-6 games against the San Francisco Giants in Yankee Stadium here.

A TWO-SPORT STAR

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — When the football season ended tight end Gary Steele went back on the Army track team as a hurdler and high jumper. The 215-pounder from Levittown, Pa. will be graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1970. However, he has already put in his three varsity years in football.

Listening Hour Spent By Club

Gathering to listen to a television broadcast, one of a series of lessons on family money management, members of Young Homemakers Home Demonstration Club were entertained Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Huey Lowrie. Mrs. Freddy Cooper and Mrs. Dean Bryant were co-hostesses.

A surprise layette shower was given before the broadcast hour honoring Mrs. Jim Hill. Gift packages were presented and opened.

The hostesses served coffee to Mmes. Marian Knox, Roy Parten, H. S. Fuller, Argen Draper and Hill.

Bulky and squat, the ponderous brown pelican waddles awkwardly, enormous beak down. Once in the sky, however, powerful, sweeping wingbeats transform the pelican into a picture of grace and dignity.

PINOCCHIO ACTORS — Coming to Hereford for a Saturday matinee performance in the high school auditorium, drama students of West Texas State University will present the fairy-tale comedy, Pinocchio, at 2 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door, priced at 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults. The performance, being sponsored by Hereford Community Players, was first scheduled for the Christmas holidays but postponed because a flu epidemic caused an early dismissal of WTSU students. The drama fraternity at the Canyon school is giving the play as a benefit for its scholarship fund.

Scout Pack 51 Has Meeting

Cub Scout Pack 51 presented awards to their members at their meeting in St. Anthony's School auditorium here Monday night. Webelos Den, under the direction of Walter Kreig, their den master, presented the colors.

Nolan Grady, Scout Executive of the Llano Estacado Council, and George Oachs, District Scout Executive, were also present.

Awards were presented by Martin Reid Moore, cubmaster.

Awarded the Bobcat were Richard Fuentes, Robert Griego, Martin Pesina, Alfred Reyna and Ricky Santos.

Wolf awards went to Bud Warren, Gary Gallagher and Joe Ray.

Bear awards were received by Tommy Clarke, Terry Paul Dedyne, Douglas Reinart and Greg Haeker.

For Arrow points under the Wolf rank Joe Ray received one gold and one silver, and Douglas Reinart received two silver. For Arrow points under the Bear rank Greg Hacker received one gold and Douglas Reinart received one gold and two silver.

Denner bars went to David Sledge and Bobby Bridges. Assistant Denner bars were received by John Oldfield and Ed Frye.

Walter Kreig presented these awards to the Webelos:

New Webelos: Tom Ray and Sammy Morgan were given scarfs signifying their acceptance into the Webelos Den. Athlete: Ronnie Nance, Artist; Dirk Vander Zee and David Kreig. Craftsman: David Kreig.

David Kreig received a certificate and the Webelos badge upon completing three years with the Cub Scouts Pack 51. He is now eligible to be Tenderfoot Scout and will go into Troop 50 after passing the required tests.

Martin Reid Moore introduced the new Cubmaster, Sam Morgan.

It was announced that Mrs. John Warren will succeed Mrs. Jim Clarke as den mother of Den 2. Morris Hacker will assist Kreig in the Webelos Den. Bobby Griego will serve on the committee at the Roundtable Discussion meetings.

Roundtable Discussion meeting will be held in the Hereford Community Center tonight at 8 p.m. in the Boy Scout Room.

Plans will be completed for the Pack 51 Blue and Gold Banquet which will be held on Feb. 21 at 7 p.m. in St. Anthony's Auditorium.

In Southeast Asia only four remnants of the colonial past survive — Hong Kong and Brunei, both administered by Great Britain, and Portuguese Timor and Macao. Thailand is the only country to have escaped colonial rule. Thai means free.

CHILD'S FUNERAL HELD

Funeral services for Doralie May, daughter of Navy Fireman and Mrs. David C. May, were conducted Monday at Yorktown, Virginia. Doralie was five weeks old.

Fireman May, who is on duty now near DaNang, Vietnam, was returned to Virginia through services of the American Red Cross. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trowbridge of 841 Irving, Hereford.

Other survivors are step-great grandmother Mrs. Maudie Trotter of Hereford and great-grandmother Mrs. Olive Rector of Friona.

It's handy to "flour" cubes of meat in a brown paper bag. Just put the meat and the seasoned flour in the bag, twist the opening tight and shake the bag vigorously.

Jewel Smith Is Guest Speaker

Mrs. Elmer Reinart presided over the recent monthly meeting of St. Anthony's Guild at St. Anthony's auditorium.

Six members of the organization volunteered to take residents of King's Manor shopping during the month of March.

A $10 donation was given to the Satellite Day Care program to be applied to purchase of a tape recorder.

Mrs. Bill Gilleland introduced the film on sex education which will be presented at the next PTO meeting at St. Anthony's.

The program topic was Alcohol and the Christian Home given by Mrs. Jewel Smith, supervisor of the County Welfare Office.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Cornelius Drerup and refreshments were served to 22 members and the Rev. Simeon Heine.

Hostesses were Mmes. S. T. Loerwald, Ed Schillings, Henry Wilhelm and Ewald Berend.

When you melt butter it does not change in volume. So when a recipe calls for two tablespoons of melted butter, make a quarter-pound stick of butter into eight pats and melt two of the pats. No need to measure the butter after melting.

Top Wrestling Card Is Ready Here Saturday

Wrestling fans will be treated to a double main event featuring eight grappling stars Saturday night at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

In one of the main events, Gorgeous George Jr. will go up against Main Mountain Mike, a 640-pound giant.

A six-man tag team match will also be featured. The Infernos and their manager, J. C. Dykes, will take on Ricky Romero, Dory Funk Jr. and Jerry Kozak.

Bouts begin at 8:30 p.m., and admission is $1.50 for adults and $1 for children. Matches are sponsored by the Hereford Lions Club, with proceeds going toward civic work in Hereford.

Brother Of Local Woman Is Killed

The brother of a Hereford woman was killed on the streets of St. Louis, Mo. and a younger brother wounded Tuesday afternoon when the two were shot from a passing car.

Killed was John Manis, 18, and wounded was Sammy Manis, 16, both brothers of Mrs. Bobby Kendrick of Hereford. Both of the young men had visited Hereford during the summer months.

Details about the shooting were sketchy here, but it was thought the brothers might have been shot down by a gang because they would not join. The shooting occured Tuesday afternoon, and Mrs. Kendrick left for St. Louis shortly after midnight with her husband.

Adams, Hendon Attend Seminar

Dr. E. H. Hendon and Dr. Milton Adams, local optometrists, were among the group which attended the education seminar on Practice Management in Amarillo this week.

The seminar featured Mr. Robert Levoy, one of the leading authorities on Practice Management in the healing arts professions, and also Dr. Robert Simmons, a practicing optometrist from Cointon, Iowa.

W-2 Forms Due Friday

DALLAS — Employers must give employes their 1968 W-2 forms by Friday, Ellis Campbell Jr., District Director of the Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, announced.

The W-2 forms must show the amount of earnings, income tax withheld, and social security information.

Employes must file the W-2 forms with their income tax returns, and should make sure they have received all of their W-2 forms if they had more than one job last year.

FOUR GOOD PINTS

ALBUQUERQUE — Before New Mexico kicked off its basketball season, Coach Bob King told a group of boosters, "There's a fine line between good and outstanding."

The Lobos were ninth ranked in The Associated Press pre season poll.

King said, "We can be reall an outstanding team, or we ca be just another ball club depend ing on mental toughness.

"I think that our guys wan to be an outstanding team. W have the physical ability, bu you need four things to be suc cessful in basketball — ability desire, effort and judgment.

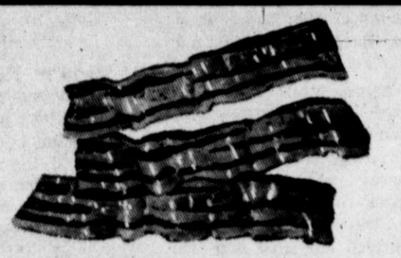

"You must have all four."

A FELLOWSHIP OF BELIEVERS — Two unusual church services were conducted in Hereford Sunday night, concluding the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity. At upper left is Gene Fooks, minister at Central Church of Christ, with Gerald Mann, pastor of First Baptist Church, in what is described as a fruitful discussion of individual dominations. At upper right, Gene Brink at First Christian Church sits beside Fred Howard, pastor of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, prior to Howard's delivering the sermon at the Christian Church. At lower left is Father Simeon Heine of St. Anthony's Catholic Church seated with Clifford Trotter, pastor of First Methodist Church, who also were participants in the Christian Church services. Lower right is an indication of the attendance at the churches. Hereford Ministerial Association reported a successful week of unity here, unlike the strife that occured in other countries. —Staff Photo

Shooting The Bull At HHS

By CONNIE HOOVER

Excitement exploded through Hereford High School last Friday beginning with a spirited basketball pep rally in which the juniors earned the Spirit Stick and ending with a bomb scare. After a "dead" week of studying, social and acedemic events are picking up again for sixteen more weeks.

HHS

Mr. Michael compliments the members of the Forensic Club in their competition January 11. Also, compliments are extended to the cast and producers of "Oklahoma!" for their contributions made to the school. He states that such a fine production reflects on themselves and magnifies the reflection of pride of HHS. The student body is encouraged to attend the basketball games and support our team.

HHS

Model of the Month was voted by Gaston's Teen Board members last Saturday afternoon. Judith Morrison and Denise Daniels were chosen for December. Janice Newsom was selected for January.

HHS

New FTA officers will be elected at the next meeting Monday night February 3 at the La Hacienda. Plans will be made for those attending the State Convention at Austin in February.

—HHS—

Hysterical Society will perform at the Community Center after the ball game for the Valentine Dance — February 7.

—HHS—

New members were voted into Key Club along with the discussion of the upcoming broom sale last Monday during homeroom.

—HHS—

Tri-Hi-Y will meet tonight at La Hacienda at 6:30. Sharon Watson will present the program. Joette Hanna reminds the members to bring their candle-sale money with them.

—HHS—

Varsity football players met at Caison House for dinner. They received the statistics of '68. Coach Wartes talked to the boys, telling the seniors good-bye and good luck and encouraging the juniors into a better year in '69.

—HHS—

There will be a stock show at the Bull Barn January 30 and 31. Sheep, calves, and swine will be shown. A sale will follow Saturday, February 1. Almost every boy in FFA will participate. Good Luck!! On February 6, boys who don't sell animals at Hereford will leave for the San Antonio Show, which will be held through the 9th. Boys still possessing animals for the show will go to the International Livestock Show in Houston February 20-28.

—HHS—

At the last FHA meeting, Sharon Watson and Theo ten Have gave the program. They discussed and compared the foods, living costs, schools, manners, and morals of their home countries. Also, a topic of discussion was the upcoming FHA-FFA Sweetheart Banquet which will be at the Catholic Church Auditorium February 22.

—HHS—

Science Fair entry blanks must be in by tomorrow. Many students are going on a wild, rushed, science spree to complete their projects by February 20, the date of Hereford's Fifth Annual Science Fair.

—HHS—

Volleyball participants are rapidly preparing for their upcoming games. The team consists of: Seniors — Kay Williams, Gail Rusher, Linda Merrill, Sharon Cash, and Vicki Brownlow; juniors — Karen Bain, Deborah Clark, Melody Ott, Becky Edelman, Cynthia Short, Betty Reddell, Nell Rodriguez, and Cathy Crist; sophomores — Kathy Jaegels, Suzie Sebastian, Connie Bainum, Yvonne Merrill, Verna Warren, Tina Florres, and Sarah Bell. The 1969 Volleyball schedule is as follows:

Feb. 6, Littlefield, there at 6:30; Feb. 28, Phillips, There at 6:30; March 6, Phillips, Here at 6:30; March 11, Muleshoe, There at 6:30; March 4, Tulia, Here at 6:30; March 17, Littlefield, Here at 6:30; March 21, Tulia, There at 6:30 and March 28, Muleshoe, Here at 6:30.

Woman Of Year Named In West Hereford Club

Nominee from West Hereford Home Demonstration Club for the 1969 Woman of the Year title is Mrs. Carl Schroeder. She was chosen by members at a meeting Tuesday afternoon in Mrs. Ulys Pierce's home.

The Woman of the Year from this county will be selected by a committee from club nominees, and honored at the annual appreciation luncheon Feb. 24.

Choice of service projects for this year was made after a program concerning possible projects. The club will assist the Satellite Day Care Center here and also Kings Manor retirement home. A contribution will be made to the Texas H. D. Association scholarship fund which gives three $500 scholarships each year to girls from 4-H Clubs.

Committee recommendations from the County H. D. Council were discussed and approved in a business session with Miss Mary Bradly residing.

Others present were Miss Evelyn Bell, Mmes. W. H Awtrey Sr., Robert Boyd, Roy Boyd, John Jacobsen Sr., Blanche Hardin, D. R. Grimes, N. B. Hood, E. M. Cox and Schroeder.

At the next meeting, Feb. 11, with Mrs. Roy Boyd as hostess, a program on Color For You will be given by Argen Draper County H. D. Agent.

Hereford's Beef Cattle Industry has grown from infancy to a major industry in the short period of 12 years, in fact from 280 head in 1957 to an estimated 410,000 head at the present time. This is an outstanding growth and we think it's wonderful to see so many young people interested in this phase of agriculture.

"This is getting to be sort of fun now, with some competition to make it interesting; it isn't like sitting at home alone and trying to stay on a strict diet!"

THAT REMARK by Mrs. Frank Short explains the success of a dieting regime which made her the 1968 queen of Sugar Blues TOPS Club here and put her in competition for the state queen's title.

The sentiment was echoed by Mrs. Richard Sims, who was area queen for the last quarter of 1968.

Titles are earned in TOPS Club just one way, by losing weight. The organization, national in scope, has members persons who want to lose weight or at least maintain present weight levels. The club name derives from the slogan, Take Off Pounds Sensibly.

ITS CHIEF aim is to keep its members on the diets recommended by their doctors, but to make dieting more pleasant by association with others in the same boat.

LaVerne Short lost more than 100 pounds during 1968; she and the club recorder won't say just how much more, because she is an entry in the state contest this spring. She is still not satisfied, and is staying on her diet with the goal of wearing dresses size 14.

When she joined the local TOPS Club she needed a size 52, and tipped the scales at more than 300 pounds. Now she is down to a trim size 18, but she wants to reached the weight level considered normal for her height and age.

HER STORY is one told by many overweight persons; she was always inclined to excess weight, and over the years she has tried various diets, used medication prescribed by doctors, lost weight and then gained it back.

As a teenager she would lose pounds in summer but "by Christmas they were all back again." Mrs. Short is especially interested in the problems of the three teenagers in the Hereford Club.

"At that age they are hard to work with, because they don't want anyone to know their weight," she says. "But the club can help them, just as it can all the other members whose ages range up to more than 70."

For several years Mrs. Short had the problem of meals to fit her weight-loss diet and at the same time suit her husband, who was underweight.

"WE JOKED for a long time, while he kept saying he would stop smoking if I'd stay on a diet, and I would answer that I'd diet if he stopped smoking. Well, we did, and he gained weight until now he is beginning to share some of my diet food!"

Exercise is a part of Mrs. Short's program and she especially likes bicycling, a family sport. Mr. and Mrs. Short and Frank Jr., seven, all ride, and Gary, nearly three years old, rides with his mother in a special seat on her bike.

The Shorts have lived in Hereford five years, after moving from Lubbock, where she had finished high school work. She was born at Hale Center and started school there. Mrs. Short is active in women's work of the Presbyterian Church, and is a group leader for Camp Fire Girls here.

One of her favorite low-calorie recipes is for a savory cottage cheese salad that appeals to men who usually ignore cottage cheese.

SPECIAL SALAD

1 pound cottage cheese
½ green pepper
1 tomato
1 small onion
¼ tsp. each celery seed and garlic salt
Salt and pepper to taste.

Chop pepper, tomato and onion, mix all ingredients thoroughly and serve on a lettuce leaf.

RUTH SIMS lost 34 pounds in the last three months of 1968 — including the holiday season — and in all is 43 pounds lighter than when she joined TOPS. She also wants to lose more weight.

Her extra weight has all been gained in the past decade; she had no problem as a teenager. Like Mrs. Short, she is dieting under her doctor's direction and she has found the club very helpful.

"Just knowing that you are going to be weighed every week, and the weight recorded, is enough to make me pass up a dessert that I want badly," she laughingly explains.

THE SIMS have two children, nine-year-old Richard Jr. and seven-year-old Donna Ruth; and have lived here since 1953. Mrs. Sims was born at Littlefield and lived in Colorado for a time while she was growing up.

Her favorite hobby is cake decoration, and she is a member of a new club here which practices that skill. She also holds membership in Mon Amis Study Club and in summerfield Baptist Church.

Since she likes desserts, a recipe she uses often is one she got from another TOPS Club member. It uses dietary foods which Mrs. sims finds very practical for a person on a diet.

FRUIT CUP

1 can diet pineapple
1 can diet fruit cocktail
1 envelope diet whip

Drain fruit thoroughly and mix with the whipped-cream substitute. Serve chilled.

SHE PREFERS tea to coffee, and a favorite drink is also made by a recipe from a TOPS Club member.

LOW-CALORIE SPICED TEA

1 c. instant tea, low-calorie lemon flavored
1 or 2 pkgs. artifically sweetened orange drink
1 tsp. cloves
1½ tsp. cinnamon

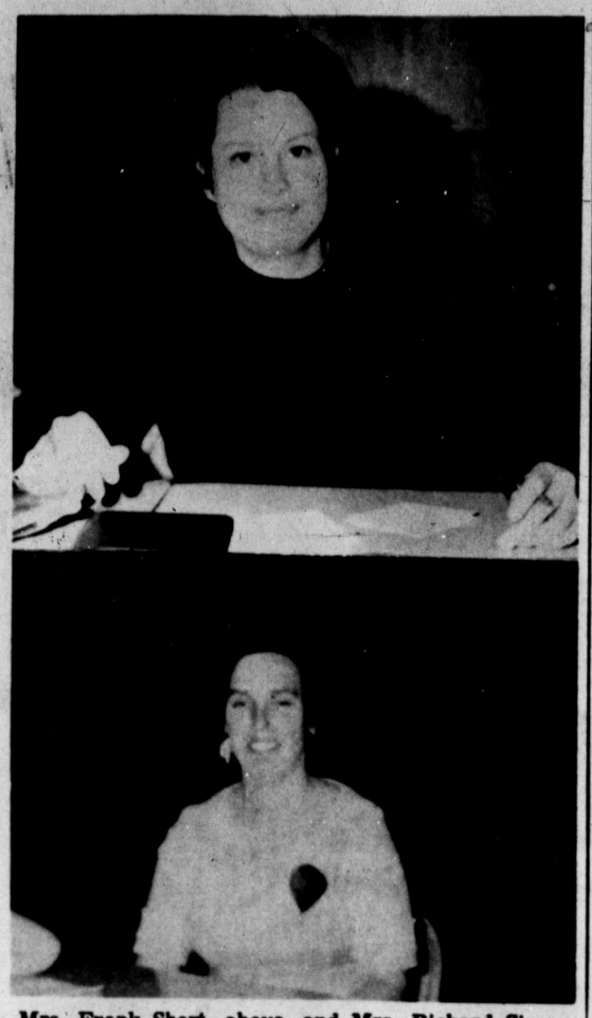

Mix thoroughly, and use about ½ tsp. for each cup hot water.

One package of the orange drink will make 2 quarts of drink.

Shower Is Given For Judy Martin

Preceding her marriage, which is to take place on Feb. 8, Miss Judy Martin was complimented with a shower Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. E. Owens. Miss Martin is the bride-elect of Charles Brownlow.

Royal blue and a pastel shade of the same color were combined in decor for the shower, as they will be for the wedding. White blossoms in a canelabra arrangement with pale blue tapers centered the tea table, with royal blue ribbon streamers printed with the couple's names extending across the white cloth.

Miss Martin and her mother, Mrs. James G. Martin, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Gene Brownlow, received callers. Hostesses served in turn at the guest register and the table.

They were Mmes. Boyd Collins, Merlin Kaul, Phil Phipps, Olin Baird, G. C. Merritt Jr., Bob Williams, Otis Lee, M. E. Dean, Henry Solomon, J. R. Oglesby, Bill Stengel and Owens.

Bride Is Complimented With Evening Shower

A courtesy for Mrs. Paul Hagar, the former Miss Carol Brashear, was a bridal shower Monday evening in the Falme Room at Pioneer Gas Co.

Hostesses were Mmes. Loyd N. Smith, Bill Wall, Bill Blackwell, James W. Vines, Tommy Blasingame, Lloyd Brooks, Johnny Reed and Tommy Weems.

Miss Kaye Lynn Hagar registered guests, who were served cake and punch by Miss Sannon Watson and Mrs. Rondal Long. The table was decorated with flowers in yellow and green, and the white-iced cake was ornamented with yellow sugar roses.

The honoree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Brashear, and Hagar, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hagar, were married recently in Avenue Baptist Church.

Gladys' Garden

By Gladys Howton Manjeot

NATURE

Chrysanthemums, one of nature's beauties?

Most of us are familiar with the old quote, which is "ain't nature GRAND?" Yes it is. For instance Wednesday when I brought Art home from the hospital the wind was really blowing, and the dust was real bad. All day long each time I looked outside I was distraught because the sand and trash was accumulating real fast on the patio. I kept thinking, well when the wind ceaces I will take the broom and go out and sweep and clean it up. The wind continued to blow, the sand became worse. . . I was so busy being nurse, cook, secretary, housekeeper, and maid that I just didn't get the sweeping done. One of my last thoughts when I went to bed, while I was planning the work for the next day, I listed high on the list the sweeping of the patio floor (we all sit and look out the picture widow, at the birds, the weather antics, and the Okinawa Dogs, all of these we see along with what is on the patio) When friends drop in they come into the den and first thing they say I want to see your garden. . . well to see it one has to look at the patio first. So the dirt had to go.

The next morning when I was fixing breakfast, one of the first things I did was to look outside and lo and behold!! the patio was CLEAN. Not a bit of sand or a vestiage of trash in sight. Gee! That was a relief. . . one less chore to do. How did it happen, no not a fairy, just the wind changed directions and blew it all away. Yes nature is good! Its Grand!

There is beauty in nature, her creations are lovely (in most instances) for examle the pretty potted chrysanthemum plants which came to the hospital I admired and enjoyed so very much Looking at the beautiful flowers, there fashed throug.. my mind , wouldn't it be nice if they could be used for other things. In turned and picked up The Amarillo Daily and in the paper there was an article (AP) Tokyo, entitled "Chrysanthemums Make a Blooming Good Meal." It was very interesting. Some of the facts given in the article were: Japanese are lovers of flowers and work. They nurse chrysanthemums for months to take to the flower shows, both locally and nationally. They are entered for competition, ribbons won. Hearts made happy and proud. They they are taken home for food after they are judged and shown.

"A Kiku chrysanthemum scalded in boiling water, then dipped in vinegar is a gourmet's delight," so said a 74 year old chrysanthemum cultivator and grower. He probably has won more honors with entries than any other Japanese, and his honors are often international. Another delicacy he recommends is chrysanthemum tempura — this is made by dipping the chrysanthemum head in a batter, then deep-fried, and just before serving, sprinkle lightly with sake rice wine, or if you don't want to deep fry, then soak the blossom in the wine and eat.

An ancient belief in Japan, is that longevity of life comes from eating chrysanthemums. They can be boiled, fried or sauted in oil or wine. Another belief to the users of the chrysanthemums is that beauty may be attained, by the women if they arise early and use the morning dew to wash their faces they will become beautiful.

The article further states that the fall blooming chrysanthemums are the best for the above mentioned uses. It takes four months to produce an ordinary chrysanthemum, and approximately 15 months to produce a flower worthy of competition in the shows.

The growers also encourage the people, especially the tired business men, to have their pillows (sleeping) stuffed with chrysanthemum petals. The fragrance sooths and tends to relax and produce restfulness for the sleeper. Kiku, the noted grower says," that the fragrance of the chrysanthemum is so relaxing and soothing, that each time he turns over and smells its wonderful fragrance he dreams he'll live to be a 100 years old."

HARD WATER?

Often we Herefordites complain about the water being so hard. Makes laundry a problem, also is not recommended for the hair or skin, accumulates sediments in the tea kettles, makes dishwashing more difficult. Well let's quit complaining. According to Dr. H. Mitchell Perry Jr., associate professor of medicine at Washington University has come up with the following fact which he stated to a group of people recently in Dallas, "people, especially men living in hard-water areas are less likely to die with hardening of the arteries, heart disease or strokes, than those whose wives have nice soft water flowing from their spigots." He further stated, "that by comparison the mortality from cardiovascular disease dropped by 50 percent when hard water statistics were compared with soft water statistics." Let's be thankful for the hard-water.

NATURE AIDS THE GOURMET COOK.

Can you feature a noted American Army General and a President making a tasty soup from Nasturtiums? The receipe is in the recent book written by Mary, MacNico, entitled FLOWER COOKERY. It deals largely with the Art of Cooking With Flowers in a ery delightful manner. In the book General Eisenhower's famous recipe for Nasturtium Vegetable Soup is included. The General suggests that we gardeners should grow some nasturtiums (plant them so that one can have a continuous bloom) then when they have grown large enough to be producing blossoms he further suggests that the tender stems, (green and spicy) should be cut into small pieces, boiled, and a tablespoon of the cooked stems be added to the vegetable soup. This a final gourmett touch. To really make it festive, float one of the colorful blossoms on the soup. I know this adds a real final touch because I have used it, I have also taken the tender stems and cuo them fine and added to a tossed vegetable sala,d decorating the container with the leaves. For fruit salad, use the cut blossoms and serve individually on a bed of the leaves (if you prefer, use lettuce) then garnish the salad with the florets. (Ruth Kerr I will be over for some soup in the summer)

Geraniums are other flowers which are used extensively for cooking. While attending a Symposium in Fort Worth, I ate Geranium spice Cake, lemon geranium jell. All were very tasty.

Roses, especially the petals are used by the gourmet cooks. Rose tea, rose petal mints, melon balls rolled in rose petals are pretty and good to the taste. While attending the Annual State G. C. Board meeting last fall in Tyler I attended a lovely ROSE tea and many of the dainties featured roses. Hip rose tea is delicious and good for us.

Marigolds are also used in cookery. They give a pinquant flavor to custards, cookies, and puddings. They grow wonderfully well here, and this would be a good business venture. . . I noticed in a recent publication that there are approximately twenty-four new varieties of marigolds, and their range of color, height, and formation is most interesting. The names are also fascinating.

BIRDS

Are you putting out food for the birds? Do you have watering stations?

There are many birds in our area, and each year we have some new-comers. We have especially enjoyed our feathered friends this winter. The new ones I do not recognize, I just call my friend Ed Warren and he tells me about them. One of the lovely ones is the flicker, with the pretty red breast. The busy Junckos are interesting. Don't throw away the burned toast, or left over breads, break into small pieces and place where the birds can find them and they will have a picnic.

THANKS! Art and I wish to extend sincerest thanks for every courtesy shown him while in the hospital. ALL was deeply appreciated, and am sure has aided his recovery which is not entirely complete. Is good to know others are interested.

Nature is GRAND. . . Saw my first crocus blooms today . . . bright yellow in the lovely morning sun. . . Really made me GLAD.

New Year Begins In H. D. Council

Plans for the annual appreciation luncheon of county Home Demonstration Clubs, to be held Feb. 24 in the Bull Barn, were completed at the first 1969 meeting of Deaf Smith H. D. Council in the county courtroom Monday afternoon. Mrs. J. G. Gandy presided as the new president.

Election of Mrs. N. A. Brown as county chairman of the Texas H. D. Association, and hearing of project reports from various clubs, were other important pieces of business. Mrs. Brown was chosen to fill a vacancy occurring when Mrs. E.C. Hammett resigned the THDA chairman's post.

An H. D. Club woman of the year will be honored at the appreciation luncheon, but she will be chosen this year by a committee rather than by vote at the luncheon, as has been the custom. Clubs must make their nominations for this honor by Feb. 13, Mrs. Paul Corbett said as she reported on plans.

All H. D. Club members and their families are invited to the covered dish luncheon, and a number of guests are invited each year.

Delegates were present from each of the 11 H. D. Clubs in the county, and each reported on service projects chosen for 1969. Many will aid the Satellite Day Care Center in Hereford; several have chosen to assist Girlstown U. S. A.; one club makes cookies to send to U. S. servicemen in Viet Nam, anothermakes sock dolls and stuffed toys for children in special education groups and Bippus Club is painting the community house as its project.

To help members become acquainted at the first meeting of a new year, Mrs. J. E. Sorrells gave a name tag to each person. Those present included Mmes. Jimmie Bradley, C.F. Homfeld and Wayne Sifford of Bippus; Mmes. M. W. Sumner, Corbett and Gandy, Cultural; Mmes. H. D. Fowler, Leroy Johnson and Richard Golden, Dawn.

Also Mmes. Raymond Smith and Tex McKnight, Ford; Mmes H. D. Buse, G. L. Bumpass, S. N. Thweatt, Bill Page and Sorrells, Messenger; Mmes. Roger Williams and Paul Hoff, North Hereford; Mmes. H. L. Hershey and J. D. Gilbert Jr., Progressive.

Also Miss Mary Bradly and Mrs. Carl Schroeder, West Hereford; Mrs. J. C. Morrison, Westway; Mmes. Leroy Bodkin and E. C. Hewitt Jr., Wyche; Mmes. Freddy L. Cooper and Dean Bryant, Young Homemakers; Mrs. Thurman Atchley, representing the County 4-H Council; Mrs. H. E. Houck, a visitor, and Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent.

Before opening a coconut, always use an ice pick to pierce the three depressions at one end of the nut. Drain out the milk. Put the nut in a moderate oven for about half an hour and cool; this way it will be easiest to open — though you'll have to use a hammer.

Use a swivel-blade vegetable peeler to pare off the brown covering from fresh coconut meat.

Use bananas that are slightly underripe for baking. Serve with pork chops, ham, chicken or duck.

Miss Burrus Honored At Pre-Wedding Party

Miss Cecelia Burrus, whose marriage to Jimmy Brorman is planned for Feb. 7, was complimented with a bridal shower recently in the home of Mrs. G. S. Solomon on Harrison Highway.

With her mother, Mrs. Herschel Burrus; her fiance's mother, Mrs. Henry Brorman, and her sister, Miss Mary Alice Burrus, the honoree received guests whom Mrs. Solomon greeted at the door. Mrs. James Burrus was at the registry.

Mrs. Alphonse Brorman presided at the refreshment table, which was decorated all in white with a net and satin cloth and milk glass service. White stock and daisies made the centerpiece and other fresh flowers were placed in the rooms.

Hostesses with Mrs. Solomon were Mmes. Ed Loerwald, H.J. Kuper, Marvin Batenhorst, Ike Marnell, Arnold Betzen, Walter Kuper, Ray Wilhelm, Norbert Skypala, George Hund, Frank Bezner.

Also Mmes. Osker Schwertner, Roy Pruit, Charlie Burk, Jack Weaver, John Hill, Phillip Miller, W. B. Nunley, F. A. Marnell, Buren Sowell and John Betzen.

TCU CHOIR — This 50 member choir from Texas Christian University will present a program at the Hereford High School Auditorium next Tuesday night, beginning at 8 p.m. There will be no admission to the program and no offerings will be asked.

"The Army Green"

By Sfc BERT PINALES
U. S. Army Recruiter

Just heard a mousey little story from Vietnam that is certain to make our female readers squeak.

A long range patrol on a mission west of Oasis was searching for a cache of Viet Cong rice but wasn't having too much luck locating it. That was until one of the patrol members noticed mice scampering into a bamboo thicket. The ever alert patrol member followed the mice and uncovered two tons of rice, fresh polished and neatly packed in baskets.

And how does that nursery rhyme go?

A FIRST MEETING

While we are talking about Vietnam, here's an interesting item from behind the cashier's window in Cu Chi:

Sergeant Richard E. Hinson of Lone Dell, Mo., an Army cashier, was meeting a payroll when a young man handed him his pay slip. Sergeant Hinson noted the name, Specialist Steven D. Huff, did a double take and introduced himself to his long-lost cousin from Daleville, Inc. The two had never met before in their lives.

ROTC SCHOLARSHIPS

Last week we discussed Army Nurse scholarships. This week we would like to pass along information about 800 four-year, full-tuition scholarships available to make high school students who plan to enter college for the first time in the fall of 1969. Each one of these Army ROTC scholarships covers the student's tuition, textbooks and laboratory fees, plus $50 per month subsistence allowance. winners may attend any one of the 250 colleges and universities offering the four-year Army ROTC program.

Your can get information by writing to Commanding General, 4th U S Army, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

PICTURES FOR THE WALL

If you would like a collection of colorful prints of American soldiers in the uniforms they have worn down through the years, you can now purchase them from the Government Printing Office. To order, send one dollar per set to Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington D. C. 20402. Indicate whether you want "The American Soldier D101.35, Set No. 1 or the American Soldier D101-35, Set No. 2."

Each set contains ten prints. They would look real nice on the wall of an office, store or home.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

If I serve three years in the Army, will I be required to participate actively in the Ready Reserve when I get out of the service?

The answer is no. After three years of active duty you will be transferred to the Standby Reserve, with no active participation required.

FACTS ABOUT THE ARMY

Did you know

— That 67 per cent of today's Army officers have college degrees? As recently as the Korean conflict, only 45 percent of the officer corps had college degrees.

— That the American Legion has given the U. S. Army $50,000 to launch a fund-raising drive to provide permanent lighting for the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetary?

— That Pikes Peak is named after Captain Zebulon Pike of the U. S. Army who, in 1807, explored the area that is now known as Colorado, for the Army?

NEW ENLISTEES

Local man who will be doing a little exploring during the coming months as he leaves Hereford to begin Army service is Jimmie Kassahn at 516 Ave I. He will enlist for training in the Administrative Field and later try for Officer Candidate School.

That's all for today. See you next week in The Army Green.

SOURCE of VALUES

We can get them from The Old Book— values a-plenty to make the New Year really new. Of course the months, the weeks, the hours are much like the old ones. We should carry all the good things of yesteryears over into the New Year, and then add more.

Just how will your New Year be New?

We and others, like ourselves, will make the difference. Be more kind and patient in the home circle — then it will be a new house this year. Exhibit a better spirit as you do the old task — and the office, or shop, or kitchen will be a new place for the New Year. Worship God more sincerely and work more in His program of service – then you will have a new church for the New Year. Only a new Person will make it a New Year.

Allison On Board Of Girlstown, USA

In a recent meeting of the Board of Directors at Girlstown, U. S. A., new directors and officers were named to direct the operations of the home for the coming year.

Burnett B. Roberts, Levelland was re-elected as Board Chairman. Roberts has been a member of the Board for several years, serving as Chairman for the past two years.

Mrs. Gus Wortham, President, from Houston, was re-elected as was Sam Bell, Amarillo, Vice-President, and F. T. Bolen, Lubbock, Treasurer. Mrs. Martha Nugent, Kermit, is the newly-elected secretary.

New Directors named are J. R. Allison, Hereford; John Henry, Lubbock; F. C. Spence, Borger; Gary Stacy, Levelland, and Dr. Frankie Williams, Big Spring.

In other actions of the Board, Marshall W. Cooper was re-appointed as Executive Director. Open House to celebrate Girlstown's 20th Anniversary was set for July 13, 1969, and a report by Cooper was heard.

Cooper reported the capital assets of Girlstown had increased by some $300,000 in the past five years. Requests, donations and contributions of money, articles of clothing, furniture and labor had made this amount of growth possible.

During 1968, one hundred and nine girls were served by Girlstown. Eight hundred and eighteen applications for admission were received with the home accepting only 38 of these. Seven hundred eighty girls were denied the opportunity the home offers due to lack of facilities and funds.

USDA Considers Milk Order End

U. S. Department of Agriculture is considering termination of the base and excess plans for payment to producers supplying the Lubbock-Plainview and Texas Panhandle federal milk marketing orders, and has invited comments.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service officials said under the plans, each dairy farmer establishes a base reflecting his average daily deliveries of milk to the market in some fall and winter months. Later on in the spring and summer, when more milk is produced, the farmer is paid a base price for milk delivered up to his base amount, and a lower price for any excess milk.

Dropping of the plans from the two orders was requested by Milk Producers, Inc., representing 99 percent of the dairy farmers associated with the two orders. The cooperative said the plan conflicts with its own Class I base plan for paying its producer members.

Notice of the proposed termination will appear in the Federal Register Jan. 29, and comments may be filed up to Feb. 5. Four copies should be sent to the Hearing Clerk, Room 112-A, Administration Building, U. S. Department of Agriculture Washington, D. C. 20250, where they will be available for inspection.

TCU Choir Will Present Program

Texas Christian University's A Cappella Choir and Chamber Orchestra is scheduled to appear at the Hereford High School Auditorium, Feb. 8 at 8 p. m. for a program.

Under the leadership of B. R. Henson, conductor, the A Cappella Choir of TCU consists of 50 singers selected from the University at large. The group was organized six years ago by Henson and has since gained national recognition. They have appeared in oratorio performances with the TCU Orchestra, the Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin and San Antonio Symphony orchestras, plus many others.

The program will include songs such as "Sing Ye To The Lord," "Crucifixus," "Elegy," "Credo," "Kyrie" and numerous others.

Mrs. Gary W. Kendrick
. . . nee Barbara Sue Haynes

Couple To Make Home In Denver

The Rev. and Mrs. Gary W. Kendrick are at home in Denver after a trip which took them to Pueblo and Colorado Springs after their wedding Friday in Fargo United Methodist Church north of Vernon. The bride was Miss Barbara Sue Haynes of that community before her marriage.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Haynes of Route 5, Vernon, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Cummins of Hereford.

Dr. S. Duane Bruce of Lubbock and the Rev. Marvin James, pastor of First United Methodist Church of Chillicothe, officiated as vows were repeated by the couple before a green arch flanked with baskets of gladiolas and spiral candelabra. Other candles were set over the arch.

Miss Kay Short of Vernon was the maid of honor, Miss Charlotte Duvall of Lockney and Miss Sholan White of Vernon other attendants to the bride, who was given in marriage by her father.

Jim Hershley acted as best man and groomsmen were Ruben Wilbur of Denver and the bridegroom's brother, Jerry Kendrick of Arlington. Joe Smith and John White of Vernon were ushers.

Wedding music was by Mrs. Leonard Woodard, organist, and Miss Sue Coffee, who sang, Twelfth Of Never.

The bride's dress of candlelight peau de soie was cut princess style with a demure ruffle of lace around the high neckline, extending down the front closing to floor length, and around the bottom of the gored skirt. Tiny buttons fastened it at center front. Sleeves were long and lace-edged.

Her mantilla, bordered with wide lace, swept down over the circular peau de soie train. Her bouquet was of white camellias.

Princess style dresses worn by the bridesmaids were of Nassau blue velveteen with antique lace trim.

After the wedding, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall. Mrs. Millie Haynes, the bride's sister-in-law, was at the guest book; Misses Janet Calico, Jeanne Campbell and Betty Riley served punch and the three-tiered wedding cake which was decorated with the Chi Rho cross on top.

For travel Mrs. Kendrick chose a blue velvet suit with lace-trimmed white blouse.

She has been a freshman student at Texas Tech after graduation from Northside High School near Vernon. The bridegroom attends Iliff School of Theology in Denver; he was graduated from West Texas State University in 1967.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

If you are in business for yourself, or you are fortunate enough to earn sufficient income so as to require an estimated income tax return each year, you will be getting an additional tax form package from Internal Revenue within the next few days. The Internal Revenue Service Centers have gone through all the taxpayer accounts on the computer tape and are sending out a set of controlled vouchers to all the individual income taxpayers who must file an estimate. You will use these numbered vouchers to file your estimate and make your quarterly payments.

In the past, you waited for your bill from Internal Revenue and sometimes the taxpayer and the computer crossed in the mail or just plain got crossed — anyway the good tax folks hope that this will help you send your estimated tax payments through on time without any mix-ups.

Parties Honor Engaged Couple

Parties preceding the weekend wedding of Miss Keith Ann Howard of Dimmitt and Tim Gearn are enlivening the social picture this week, with a luncheon and linen shower Tuesday and a dinner Wednesday, both at Hereford Country Club.

The couple is to be married Sunday afternoon in First United Methodist Church of Dimmitt. Both have been students in the University of Texas at Austin, where Gearn received his degree as a winter graduate this month.

Mr. and Mrs. James Witherspoon honored Gearn and his pretty fiancee at the dinner Wednesday.

Miss Howard was honoree at the shower-luncheon, receiving guests with her mother, Mrs. Keith Howard of Dimmitt, and grandother, Mrs. C. P. Seipp; her fiance's mother, Mrs. Kenny Gearn, and grandmothers, Mrs. W. A. Gearn.

Mrs. Geary Gearn, here from California, registered approximately 50 guests. Lunch was served from tables laid with deep pink cloths and centered with pink poppy topiary trees.

In the hostess party were Mme. Hugh McCrary, Earnest Langley, Gerald Hale, D. C. McWhorter, Pete Caviness, Gerald Payne, Palmer Norton, H. A. Cavness, Richard Jaegels, G. A. Bogle and Joe Reinauer.

Always wash that lemon or orange before grating the rind from it.

Guest Presents El Llano Talk

A guest presented the program for El Llano Study Club Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Gerald Mann, and members planned their annual Easter project of giving food and other necessities to a needy local family.

Mrs. Raymond White was hostess with Mrs. Mann, and Mrs. Jack Brown was program director. She introduced Mrs. Maurice Tannahill to speak on the subject, Fashions For Milady.

Illustrating with pictures of styles for spring of 1969, Mrs. Tannahill emphasized the wide variety in the current mode of women's dress, and said it offers an unusual opportunity for the fashionable woman to choose the style which fits her best.

The speaker also told of new fabrics and gave suggestions for their care.

Members at the meeting included Mmes. Bob Word, Richard Winget, Elmer Kimbell, John Jacobsen Jr., O. G. Hill Jr., Boyd Foster, Tom Doyle, Clyde Coleman, Pete Caviness, D.K. Brook, Jim Bookout, Ivan Block and Labry Ballard.

German Music Heard By Club

Silent prayer for the new President of the United States and his administration preceded the reading of the club collect in Music Study Club at its meeting Monday afternoon. Mrs. Joe Hacker and Mrs. Wes Fisher were hostesses in the former's home.

An invitation was read to club members for a program which the Texas Christian University A Cappella Choir will present in Hereford High School auditorium at 8 p. m. Tuesday. It will be sponsored by First Christian Church of Hereford, with the public invited at no admission charge.

Miss Frances Dameron was leader of the club program on German music. One of a series of programs on Nationalism in Music, it revealed German music as international rather than nationalistic in spirit. Miss Dameron traced the development of music against the background of Germany's growth as a nation.

Work of German composers was presented as Mrs. Hacker played the Rhapsody in B Minor of Brahms; Mrs. A. J. Schroeter and Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwait a piano-organ music March from Beethoven's Fifth Symphony; and a two-piano group, Mmes. Clifford Trotter, Bill Devers, Tom Burdett and Paul Lyons, a march by Hollaender.

Mrs. D. W. Palmer directed the club chorus in a Mendelssohn composition, How Lovely Are the Messengers.

A visitor was Mrs. E. K. Brink Sr. of Jackson, Mich., house guest of Mrs. Eugene Brink. Twenty-five members were present.

—Small Talk—

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Current hairstyles for women present more problems than the possibility of losing a wiglet in a high wind.

FOR INSTANCE, if you sit behind a woman with one of the high-piled coiffures your view of the stage is pretty well blocked, and if there happen to be two high hairdos in front of you it's impossible to see what's going on.

It's about as bad as it used to be when women wore those huge hats which remained in style for years, no matter how men poked fun at them. Seeing over or around one of them was hopeless, so Emily Post had a ruling to cover the problem.

It was quite allright, she said, to politely ask the woman in front of you to remove her hat. That was fine, but what about hairdos? You could hardly (and I don't think Emily would advise it) tap the woman on the shoulder and say courteously, "Madam, will you please remove your wiglet?"

Somebody ought to ask Amy Vanderbilt, or maybe Dear Abby, if there is any recourse within the limits of etiquette.

THE FRED MULKEYS enjoyed a young visitor from Girlstown so much at Christmastime, that they asked another up for last weekend. She was Daphne Higgins, and she came up with Viola Williams and another small Girlstown resident, Donna Woody, who was Viola's weekend guest.

Viola drives to Girlstown pretty often and brings back a girl for a visit in her home — a good idea that some other people might copy to give the Girlstown residents a taste of family life occasionally.

Jan McCullough, a student in Eastern New Mexico University who is also a Girlstown resident, came over from Portales Sunday to visit Viola.

JIM AND JANICE CONKwright and daughter, Robin, are to return today from Fort Worth, where he has been attending a Texas Hereford Association meeting — and getting himself elected state vice president.

The Conkwrights also visited Janice's parents, the George Berrys, at Rosstown, near Fort Worth, and Robin stayed with her grandparents while her parents were going to the convention — where she probably would have been awfully bored.

Austrian coffee houses have been blamed for the small circulations of Austrian newspapers and magazines. Nobody ever bought a periodical if it could be borrowed and read at a coffee house.

NEW DEPUTY — Gerry French, 22, began work for the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department Saturday. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Don French of 722 Thunderbird, French had been on the El Paso Police force for 2½ years before returning to Hereford. He completed his senior year at high school here after the family moved to Hereford and attended Texas Tech in Lubbock for two years before going to El Paso. He and his wife, Deanna, have an eight-month-old son, Jim.

Smith Favors Water Plan, Lowering Voting Age To 18

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex. — Immediate implementation of the Texas Water Development Board's $10-billion Water Plan (to take water to every part of Texas), lowering the voting age to 18, lifting the constitutional ceiling on state public welfare contributions, and a gradual revision of the State Constitution were some of the surprises Gov. Preston Smith offered the Legislature.

All 181 Legislators had been pacing themselves for the first two weeks of the session, waiting to see what their new governor wanted from them, and now they know his aims. But he has yet to reveal his budget and tax recommendations, which will have tremendous bearing on whether his programs are enacted.

Governor Smith lauded the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System's plan to provide upper-level senior colleges in Midland-Odessa, Corpus Christi, Houston and Dallas and a four-year college in San Antonio, but he did not adopt it specifically. However, he did embrace the board's recommendation for new state medical schools in Houston and Lubbock, a new dental school in San Antonio, and state participation in Baylor University's dental and medical schools.

He called for a state police certification program for prison parolees, an "implied consent" D. W. I. test to cut down on traffic accidents involving alcohol, "enlarging" the Parks & Wildlife Commission to obtain better geographical distribution, and raising workmen's compensation benefits from $35 to $45 a week.

Governor Smith endorsed the 1968 State Democratic platform (which had his approval), but he added: "I have read the Texas Republican Platform. I think you will find the two quite similar."

Smith's message to the Legislature left unanswered the question of spending and taxing. He called for economy, but conceded that new taxes may be needed. His recommendations as to what should be spent and where it should come from will follow in another message.

His legislative program was very extensive. Rural legislators who have been getting objection to the proposals for school consolidation made by Gov. John Connally's Committee on Public School Education were glad to hear Smith call that plan impossible to pass. He did agree with the Committee that there should be some school consolidations, but he felt they should be voluntary.

Attracting much interest was the fact that the new governor did not mention in his list of proposed constitutional amendments the one to allow local option liquor-by-the-drink. Instead, he merely gave legislators a copy of the Democratic platform which called for a statewide vote on the question.

His message came after a colorful program which brought thousands to Austin. A 'victory dinner" attracted 6,000. As many as 40,000 may have attended the six inaugural balls. More than 100 units took part in the inaugural parade.

When Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes took office, they gave the Capitol the first West Texas team since 1947. West Texans were prominent among those in Austin to cheer for the men from Lubbock and DeLeon.

TUITION HIKE PROPOSED

Finance Committee of Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System found tuitions of students must be doubled to help pay the expected $404.2-million biennial operating cost of higher education facilities by 1975-76.

Committee also proposed $165 a year student building use fee to float bonds for a $401-million college construction program. Fee would apply only on six new campuses recommended during the next decade.

Tuition suggested by the committee would be $7 per semester credit hour for Texas residents and $20 per credit hour for nonresidents. This would raise an additional $22-million a year. Present tuition rate, unchanged since 1957, is $50 a semester. It is one of the lowest in the nation.

Committee strongly recommended a uniform building system and standardized construction components for new campuses, as well as new procedures to cut down operating costs.

Report will be acted on at the February 10 Coordinating Board meeting, together with a request to merge South Texas College of Law at Houston with Texas A&M University.

DIES SECRETARY OF STATE

Governor Smith's first official appointment was his secretary of state. He selected former Lufkin Sen. Martin Dies Jr., and Dies was immediately confirmed by the Senate.

Smith described Dies, who did not seek reelection in 1966 after eight years in office, as one of the most popular senators in recent history. His main work has been in the areas of retardation in children and parks development.

"I have turned to one of the most able and dedicated men in public life during this era of government," Smith said. "I am sure Senator Dies is destined to become one of the great secretaries of state in Texas History."

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Freshman Rep. Lynn Nabers of Brownwood plans to introduce a proposed constitutional amendment to allow the state to give aid to private colleges and universities.

In the proposal, a committee would determine what it costs to educate the average student at state-supported schools. State then would deduct from that the tuition students pay at state institutions — now $100 per year — and send the rest to the private schools as credit toward the educational costs.

System would be complicated at those private schools which teach religion courses. Some state aid would have to be deducted for that, because of the constitutional provision separation of church and state.

ETHICS CODE

Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville is making another run with a bill he has carried some 10 years. It is designed to improve and strengthen the Code of Ethics for state officials. Every session, Nugent's ethics bill has passed by the House, but failed in the Senate. He is optimistic this time, since so many senators — and Lieutenant Governor Barnes —are former House members who have voted for the proposal in past sessions.

COURTS SPEAK

A San Antonio Negro got a new trial for robbery because the prosecutor asked a witness if the defendant was a Black Muslim. Court of Criminal Appeals said a mis-trial should have been granted.

State Supreme Court turned down a suit for damages by a man who claimed he developed cancer from handling radioactive material at the nuclear weapons assembly point at the Medina Base.

High court threw out the state's appeal from an Amarillo court finding that the guilt of juvenile offenders must be proved beyond "reasonable doubt" as is the case with adults.

AG OPINIONS

Texas Technological College may create a medical school on the Lubbock campus without passage of implementing legislation, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said in an opinion requested by Governor Smith.

Martin warned, however, that the legislature, through its control over appropriations of funds has the power to "accept or reject this method" of creating medical facilities.

In another opinion he also ruled that a school board has the authority to expel a student for violation of a published policy against drug use, after fair hearing. But he said an indictment alone is not grounds for expelling.

REGISTER CARS PROPERLY

Auto registration regulations will be enforced tighter due to computerization, Highway Commission and Department of Public Safety warns.

Highway Department says, that many motorists have cars registered illegally in counties where they do not reside. Others who live in cities show only a post office box number instead of the required residence address.

Computerization also will aid in law enforcement, and reduce the waiting-in-line time to obtain a license. Motorist will get forms to fill out in advance, saving typing time at busy license distributing points.

SDEC EXPANDS ACTIVITIES

State Democratic Committee, which took in a tidy sum from its inauguration-eve victory dinner, has approved plans to expand work in three fields and to publish a monthly political magazine.

New committees were authorized on youth activities, woman organization and communications. Latter department will supervise the magazine.

SHORT SNORTS

Rep. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi and Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston will handle the legislative program for the Governor's Committee on Public School Education.

Texas Farm Bureau unveiled a legislative program which includes opposition to minimum wage and compulsory collective bargaining for farm workers.

A fire insurance rate hearing is scheduled for February 10 by the State Board of Insurance.

December's activity in Texas unemployment-insurance claim increased over the previous month by 7,684 due mainly to unfavorable weather conditions, says the Texas Employment Commission.

Thirty Texas colleges will share a $818,531 federal grant for laboratory and special equipment, including closed-circuit tv gear.

House Water Study Committee headed by Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake has recommended that Texans support a $3.5-billion bond issue to help finance the $10-billion Texas Water Plan.

Texas Liquor Control Board announced that 1968 saw an all-time high in the number of juveniles arrested for possessing or buying alcoholic beverages — some 14,186 above the 1967 arrest figures.

Rep. John Hannah of Lufkin plans to introduce a bill to set up presidential primary elections for Texas whereby delegates to national party conventions would be elected and instructed as to which candidate they like.

Rep. Charles Finnell of Holliday has introduced a resolution inviting former President Lyndon Johnson to speak to a joint session of the Legislature and House Speaker Gus Mutscher says the former chief executive is "interested."

Pottery custard cups are now widely available. They're excellent for baking popovers because they yield a shiny glazed crust.
