Diplomats Are Worried Over Developments

France And Italy Preparing For Maneuvers; Britain Is Hoping To Bring Peace

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, May 20—European powers warily shuttled warships and troops in imposing numbers in the vital Mediterranean area tonight while diplomats bickered over the Spanish war.

France and Italy, unable to come to terms in moves for a friendship pact because each backs a different side in Spain, prepared for almost simultaneous maneuvers in their bordering African colonies of Tunisia and Libya.

Diplomats Are Worried

Diplomats were frankly worried over the rapidly developing, tense situation but refused to express open alarm.

Great Britain hoped all difficulty would be ironed out at a meeting of a subcommittee of the international "hands-off Spain" group called for next Thursday.

Significant developments of the day included:

1. King Vittorio Emanuele of Italy left Sicily for Italian Libya to watch army maneuvers near the border of French Tunisia.

French Hold Maneuvers

2. Seven French cruisers and eighteen destroyers anchored off Bizerta, naval base of the French protectorate of Tunisia, for combined maneuvers with the air forces.

3. Four German warships — the pocket battleship Admiral Scheer and the torpedo boats Iltis, Wolf and Tiger—will stop at Gibraltar tomorrow on what officials labelled a routine call.

4. Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Berlin, called at the German foreign office because of reports of large German troop movements toward the frontiers.

Only Part Of Routine

It was reported Sir Neville was assured the movements were only a part of routine training.

This development came at a time when Germany's designs toward Czechoslovakia rank with the Spanish problem among Europe's great worries.

The French and Italian maneuvers in their neighboring colonial possessions coincide with tension over suspension of Italo-French conversation for a friendship accord to parallel the Anglo-Italian Easter pact.

Overtures Are Ignored

Meanwhile, with Premier Benito Mussolini apparently ignoring French and British overtures, a fascist "day of solidarity with nationalist (insurgent) Spain" was ordered for May 29 throughout Italy and her empire.

Lord Plymouth, chairman of the 27-national non-intervention committee, nevertheless called his nine-nation subcommittee for a session next Thursday in an effort to get the 22-month-old civil war ended on a purely Spanish basis.

Stage Set For Hitler Action

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, May 21. (Saturday) — Deutsches Nachrichtenbuero (official German news agency) today made public a report from Komotau, Czechoslovakia, that approximately 100 Sudeten Germans were injured, more or less seriously, as a result of an attack by Czech soldiers.

Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's newspaper National Zeitung of Essen, commenting on reported anti-Sudeten attacks in Czechoslovakia, declared:

Planned In Praha

"These incidents indicated they were planned and promoted by responsible Praha circles for certain reasons. Incidents in towns and villages inhabited by Sudeten Germans in Praha and other places can not be blamed upon Sudetens."

(The commander of the Komotau gendarmerie emphatically denied the reports. His answer to telephoned inquiries was that they were "pure invention."

(There were some clashes, but no one was injured, the commander said).

Man Seriously Hurt In Tractor Mishap

Virgil Cowart, 40, of route 6, Lubbock, suffered severe injuries when run over by a tractor Friday afternoon near his home eight miles south of Lubbock.

The accident happened about 2:30 o'clock that afternoon when a brother, Albert, released the clutch of the machine when he thought it was out of gear. The tractor lurched when Albert Cowart started to get off the machine. It knocked Virgil Cowart down.

With Cowart lying face downward, the rear lugged-wheel of the machine rolled on his left foot, up the left side of his body and off the left shoulder. In protecting his face, the right arm of Cowart was caught under the wheel and broken.

He was admitted to West Texas hospital and authorities Friday night termed his condition serious.

Cowart said he was making preparations to put gasoline in the tractor when the accident happened.

But this time he was caught and brought back in custody on the ship's return from Savannah, Ga.

Hess Leads On Oregon Ballot

(By The Associated Press)

PORTLAND, Ore., May 20.—Henry L. Hess of La Grande, who claimed administration backing, forged ahead of Gov. Charles H. Martin, 74-year-old executive again seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, as returns mounted tonight from Oregon's primary election.

Gov. Martin, frequent critic of some New Deal figures, took an initial two-to-one lead over Hess but quickly lost the advantage, and in return from 265 of the state's 1,681 precincts Hess led 6,525 to 5,833.

Incumbents Are In Lead

Congressman James Mott, seeking Republican renomination from the first district, led Walter Norblad of Astoria, 2,640 to 776 in early returns, and in the second district Congressman Walter M. Pierce had a lead of 846 to 533 over Wade Crawford of Klamath county.

Oregon's first woman representative, Nan Wood Honeman of Portland, held a three to one lead over her nearest opponent for the Democratic nomination in the third district. In 242 precincts of 438 in the district she polled 6,999 votes to 2,177 for William J. Predergast, jr., of Portland.

Mahoney Tops Donaugh

Willis E. Mahoney of Klamath Falls led Carl Donaugh of Portland 9,270 to 5,330 in returns from 310 precincts for the Democratic nomination for United States senator.

In the same number of precincts, Rufus Holman, state treasurer, led Robert N. Stanfield, former senator, 12,393 to 4,827 in the Republican race.

Cut In Salaries Is Caused By Texas Oil Shutdowns

AUSTIN, May 20. (AP)—The two-day statewide shutdown of Texas oil fields has necessitated a temporary five per cent salary cut for all employes of the oil and gas division of the state railroad commission.

Commissioners pointed out today the division was supported by a production tax on crude and revenues were decreased by the Saturday and Sunday closings. They said they could not reduce the force because conservation work was increasing.

Germ-Proof Hospital Where All Patients Are Isolated Is Described By Physician

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH
Associated Press Science Writer

PHILADELPHIA, May 20 — A germ-proof hospital in which every patient is isolated from infection in an air-conditioned private penthouse was described today as a new step in the conquest of disease by Dr. Louis Martin, director of the Pasteur institute, Paris, France.

Speaking on the scientific symposium being held in connection with the dedication of the Benjamin Franklin memorial, Dr. Martin urged an increase in the number of such hospitals, the first of which was the Pasteur hospital in Paris.

In such a hospital patients with diphtheria, smallpox, and other communicable diseases are isloated in their penthouse cubicles, which include an outside balcony, instead of being grouped together in wards.

No one except nurses and physicians, thoroughly disinfected, enter these rooms, he said, and after a patient is dismissed

Rebel Chieftain Of Mexico Is In The Field

Uprising Already Is Believed To Have Started; Cedillo Missing From His Estate

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, May 20—General Saturnino Cedillo, dictator of San Luis Potosi state and long heralded as the likeliest leader of rightist rebellion against President Lazaro Cardenas, apparently was "in the field" tonight.

Reports came from Cedillo's mountainous strategic home state of the appearance of isolated rebel bands at two points, and of Cedillo slipping quietly away from his broad estate.

Cause Of Action Unknown

However, it remained to be determined whether Cedillo actively was heading the uprising against the government or whether, believing his life was imperiled by Cardenas' elaborate military preparations of recent weeks, was fleeing for safety.

Word reached the United States border that Cedillo, leader of Mexico's last private army, was flying to Brownsville, Texas, in one of his private planes. This could not be determined here.

Cedillo's aircraft, should he choose to get away, would have no difficulty in outdistancing pursuit by slower government planes.

Telephone Is Out

Telephone communication to Los Palomas, Cedillo's estate near the state capital city of San Luis Potosi, went out late this afternoon, operators reporting the instrument "out of order."

Advices received in San Luis City were that the estate had been abandoned by Cedillo and all his men, food supplies and horses taken away, and the powerful radio station Cedillo built dismantled.

That would seem to indicate that the "bull of San Luis Potosi," veteran of civil warfare before he was out of his teens, was up in arms again.

Seek To Avert Bloodshed

Reports came earlier in the day that intermediaries were seeking to bring Cardenas and Cedillo together and avert bloodshed, but later

Changes Voted In Relief Bill

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 20—A senate appropriations subcommittee amended the administration's relief bill today to limit the use of PWA funds for utilities plant construction.

Heeding a plea by Chairman Philip H. Gadsden of the committee of utility executives, the group wrote into the bill a proviso that the Public Works administration could not use any of its proposed billion-dollar fund to build public plants which would compete with privately-owned plants when the latter were subject to public regulation.

Ready To Cooperate

Gadsden, testifying before the subcommittee earlier this week, asserted private utilities were ready to cooperate with the government in expanding plants and restoring jobs if they could be assured the government would aid in restoring confidence to utility investors.

Along with its restriction of PWA utility construction, the subcommittee voted to reduce from $100,000,000 to $25,000,000 an authorization the house voted for the Rural Electrification administration.

The subcommittee decided to increase by $175,100,000 the house-approved $1,250,000,000 appropiration for work relief.

Admitted Killer Is Scheduled To Die In Chair On Sunday

HUNTSVILLE, May 20. (AP)—Selanes Canedo, 26-year-old admitted killer of a railroad machine shop worker, will die early Sunday in the state's electric chair unless Gov. James V. Allred intervenes.

Canedo was given the death penalty for slaying Joseph W. Daly Nov. 25, 1936.

Although he took the blame for the killing at his trial, Canedo later claimed he committed the crime at the instigation of a San Antonio woman who wanted to collect insurance on Daly's life.

He said the woman gave him $18 to kill Daly.

Labor Leader Says Federal Spending For Relief Can Not Just Go On Forever

(By The Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, May 20—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor declared tonight: "we cannot go on fighting emergency conditions with government spending forever."

"We must find a solution for our unemployment problem," he continued in an address prepared for the A. F. of L.'s first annual trade and union label exposition here.

Seek Natural Way

"Government spending is an artificial means of increasing purchasing power. What is the natural way?

"Higher wages, shorter hours and an end to sweatshop conditions will put money into the pockets of the greater masses of our people, money they will be eager to spend for the products of American industry.

Must Provide Work

"The natural way to reduce unemployment," Green asserted, "is to provide work for the unemployed in private industry. The natural way to increase purchasing power is to raise American standards of working and living conditions."

The A. F. of L.'s chieftain said the organization "is going into the merchandising business" and proposes to "deliver the union market to worthy American business men who employ members of unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor."

Congress Asked To Vote Funds

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 20—President Roosevelt asked congress today to appropriate $23,875,000 to begin construction of a dozen new naval vessels, a dirigible, a "mosquito" fleet, nine naval planes and for improvements at three navy yards.

The President made the request in a letter to Speaker Bankhead.

Division Of Funds

Of the total, $16,500,000 would be for ships, $3,375,000 for airplanes, $500,000 for the airships and $3,500,000 for the navy yards.

The nine new airplanes are to be of the four-engine patrol type and will give the navy a full operating squadron on these aircraft for thorough service tests.

The naval vessels covered by the president's request are authorized in the new naval expansion act. They include an aircraft carrier, two light cruisers, a destroyer tender, one large and two small seaplane tender two oil tankers, a mine layer, a mine sweeper, two fleet tugs, and an unannounced number of small experimental vessels for the mosquito fleet.

City Officials To Appear In County Court On June 2

CHAMPIONS of the anti-parking meter faction struck another blow Friday afternoon.

W. D. Girand, jr., attorney for persons accused and convicted in corporation court for violation of the parking meter ordinance, filed an application in county court asking that Judge J. J. Dillard hold several city officials in contempt of his court in view of the continued prosecution in the face of his ruling it invalid.

Officials Are Named

Respondents in the petition were Durwood Bradley, city attorney; Eugene A. Blair, assistant city attorney; Don Reeder, chief of police; W. G. McMillan, police commissioner; and Walter Wharton, city recorder.

Judge Dillard issued an order for the five officials to appear in his court at 9 o'clock on the morning of June 2 to show cause "why they should not be punished as for contempt for their conduct as alleged in the petition."

Enforcement To Continue

Bradley, in a statement, said enforcement of the ordinance in corporation court would continue. Reeder, McMillan, and Blair said they had no statement to make immediately. Efforts to communicate with Wharton were unavailing.

The petition was filed at the office of Ed D. Allen, county clerk, soon after Judge Dillard had ordered release of Lt. D. Thomas in a habeas corpus proceeding held in county court. The habeas corpus was filed in Thomas' behalf after he had been arrested by Lewis Kittrell, police traffic sergeant, on warrants for infractions of the meter ordinance.

Release Is Ordered

Thomas awaited at police headquarters for Girand, his lawyer, before making a plea to the charge. Girand appeared with John Lemond, deputy constable, who had an order demanding that city officials appear before Judge Dillard with Thomas for the hearing. After brief sworn testimony by Thomas and Wharton, Judge Dillard ordered Thomas released.

It was reported officially that the five city officers would be notified officially of the contempt proceedings today.

In the petition, contempt was al-

Heart Of China Next Objective

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, May 21—(Saturday) —Japanese, having announced complete occupation of Suchow, fusing their conquest in coastal China, intend to turn their armies inland through the nation's heart.

An Associated Press correspondent learned directly from Japanese officers on the Central China front that a new campaign destined to carry Japan's armies inland south of the Yellow river was under way.

First To Reach Zone

The correspondent was the first American newspaperman to reach the war zone behind the Japanese lines since the fall of Nanking last Dec. 13. He was flown there in a Japanese warplane and talked with the general—who insisted that his name not be disclosed — in command of Japanese forces that advanced on Suchow.

The general declared the city was completely occupied and 40 Chinese divisions, surrounded in the Suchow area, faced surrender or annihilation.

Other Japanese sources said 7,000 already had been killed. The Chin-

West Texas Cotton Sits On Throne Friday Night At Annual Carnival Held In City

KING and Queen Cotton and their court and 58 young women models did their part to keep West Texas cotton at home when the sixth annual Cotton carnival was conducted Friday night in Senior High school auditorium before approximately 750 persons.

A piece of silk would have struck a discordant note. Dean A. H. Leidigh of the agricultural division at Texas Technological college explained that at least 90 per cent of West Texas cotton is exported and models in the carnival proceeded to demonstrate how cotton may not only be used at home but may enhance beauty.

Texas Technological college Kappa chapter of Phi Psi, national textile fraternity, sponsored the carnival, and M. E. Heard, head of the textile engineering department served as master of ceremonies during the program that included music by C. A. ### Enforcement To Be Continued, Says Bradley

CITY Attorney Durwood Bradley, when asked if the city would continue to enforce the ordinance, replied: "Yes, the city will enforce the parking meter ordinance until it is restrained from doing so by a court of competent jurisdiction.

"It has always been the attitude of city officials that they wanted a final decision on the matter in the state's highest court. But the city can not carry the case to that court. If those who are fighting the statute will carry it to the court of criminal appeals then a final ruling will be had, which should be satisfactory to all concerned. It seems to me that all fair-minded citizens should want to take this course. The city has no desire to enforce an illegal law, and if the higher court rules that it is invalid, then certainly the city will wipe it off the books.

"I feel that the law is valid and that action which has been taken against it was done so only through a desire to annoy and molest the city officials."

FROM OUR CLIPPINGS

THIS little article, called "My Debt to a Child" is anonymous. You perhaps know fathers who feel the way this one did even if they don't put it into words.

"Last night you were cuddled up sleeping with your head cushioned on your two chubby little hands and your soft yellow hair a towseled mass above a rosy little cheek.

"Your mouth was smiling. I don't know why. For the first thing after breakfast, your big blue eyes snapping with fun and your four year old enthusiasm, you came running up to me with "Daddy, let's go and play bat and ball. Come on, Daddy. Come on, just for a little while."

"And I impatiently told you to run along and play by yourself.

"Your little face fell. Your eyes dulled. But you said "Alright, Daddy," and walked aimlessly out of the house.

"And then when a little later you came running in again and begged me to play marbles with you and I ignored the eager pleadings of your eyes and gruffly told you not to bother me any more, you were again a good little soldier when you tried to hide your disappointment in. "Alright, Daddy, but won't you please call me pretty soon when you can play with me?"

"That was yesterday.

"Today you are lying still and quiet on the couch. Listlessness has dulled the spark in those snapping eyes of yours. Pallor has faded the roses on your cheeks. Your chubby hands seem thin as your little fingers grope for mine.

"And as I roughly stroke the tangle of hair back from your forehead, you give me the faintest smile and say "I'm Alright, Daddy, just hold my hand for a while."

"And then all the rude blows I have dealt that happy spirit of yours bear themselves into my memory—and your pathetic little schemes to share a little of your time with me.

"And now, all I can do is just to hope that it isn't too late for you to forgive me and let me share all of my time with you."

Contempt Charged

Ruling Given Publicity

The ruling of Judge Dillard, declaring the ordinance unconstitutional, was given much publicity, among other ways in the Lubbock Evening Journal and the Lubbock Morning Avalanche. Bradley was charged as having made this statement through the paper: "The City will continue to enforce the ordinance by filing charges and prosecuting violators in corporation court until restrained by a court of competent jurisdiction."

Girand set out he, himself twice has been arrested on charges of violation of the ordinance, and that he was "deprived of his liberty and required to make bond for his appearance in the recorder's court."

Foresee No Change

In another interview in the paper, it was set out, Bradley said, "He could foresee no change in procedure in enforcing the parking meter ordinance."

By these statements, the petitioner said, Bradley meant the city "would ignore the valid and binding orders of this (county) court."

It was alleged Wharton continued to issue warrants for arrest of "alleged violators," among them being the petitioner, Girand.

It was set out Reeder should be held in contempt "for permitting, authorizing and directing policemen under his care" to arrest citizens on illegal warrants issued by Wharton.

McMillan Is Named

Girand asserted McMillan was in contempt for "permitting, authorizing and directing the police department" to continue making arrests.

The petitioner said Blair was in contempt of court for continuing to prepare complaints against alleged violators and causing them to be arrested.

Finally, Girand alleged:

"Acts of said respondents . . . are such as to bring this court in bad repute and discredit this court, and publicly flaunt to the people of the county and over the state, that they do not intend to abide by, recognize, or obey the valid orders of this court.

"They (respondents) have notoriously, openly and flagrantly thrown in the face of this court a challenge that they will not obey or abide by a judgment of this court."

Enforcement Is Voted

The city commission on May 12 voted to continue enforcement of the ordinance and it was published in the Avalanche and Journal thus heralded to the world the commission would disregard orders of the court, the petition said.

Since the parking meter ordinance repealed all former parking ordinances, it was alleged, the city now is without any kind of a parking ordinance on which to base a complaint.

"And the court being of the opinion that the affidavit states grounds therefor," said Judge Dillard in his order, "it is ordered that respondents show cause before this court . . . why they should not be punished as for contempt for their conduct as alleged in the accompanying affidavit."

Retail Grocers Association Is Formed At Meeting Here

A temporary organization of the Lubbock Retail Grocers association was formed at a meeting Friday night in the Lubbock hotel.

G. G. Gaines of 1716 Avenue H was elected temporary chairman; a Slaton grocer, temporary vice-chairman; and L. G. Haynes of 1002 Avenue T, temporary secretary.

A membership campaign will be launched, and a permanent organization will be set up after June 1.

Half-Dozen Building Permits Are Issued In City Friday

The total for the week climbed to $55,687.60, for the month to $169,004.85, and for the year to $930,260.57.

The two largest permits were for: D. R. Parker, owner, and E. V. Rippstein, contractor, to construct a one-story frame and siding residence at 1918 Twenty-third, $3,659.60; and T. T. Brooks to construct a one-story frame and siding duplex at 603-5 Fourteenth street, $1,000.

Hubbers Narrow Wink's Advantage By Defeating Spudders Friday Night, 7-4

Blanchard Holds Leaders To Six Hits, Fans 16

(Special To The Avalanche)

WINK, May 20—Lefty Blanchard had his fast ball zipping tonight to strike out 16 Wink batsmen, hold the Spudders scoreless for seven innings, and won his third straight game, 7 to 4.

The game moved the Hubbers a half game behind the league leading Spudders and a half game ahead of the idle Hobbs Boosters.

Manager Hack Miller clouted a home run in the third inning with a mate aboard. The ball traveled over the deepest part of the center field wall. Malcolm Stevens led off the first frame with a homer, his ninth of the season.

Hubbers Take Lead

The Hubbers got off to a lead in the first inning, added a run in the second, two more in each of the third and fourth, and ended their scoring in the first. Blanchard coasted along with that margin, although he was liberal with his bases on balls. In all he passed 11.

Ossie Bates doubled in the eighth to drive in Wink's first counter and scored on Johnny Quick's single. Paul Reeves and Bates singled across runners in the ninth. The Spuds had only six hits off Blanchard.

Red Hay started on the mound for Wink but had to rely on Ferguson for relief.

The teams play the deciding game of the series here tomorrow.

Big Spring Defeats Clovis In Slugfest Friday, 15-13

CLOVIS, May 20. (Special)—Though they banged out 23 safeties to Clovis' 13, the Big Spring Barons had to stage a four-run rally in the ninth inning to beat the Pioneers, 15 to 13, here today.

The Pioneers had thrice wrested the lead from the Barons and led 13 to 11 going into the ninth inning. Douglas Harkey batted in the winning run with a single. Johnny Soden was the winning hurler.

Big Spring used two pitchers and Clovis three and none had any luck. The Barons hit five triples, four of them coming in the sixth inning.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 20. (AP)—Two trim Texans advanced to the finals today in the Marguerite Gaut invitation golf tournament, marked by the semi-final upset defeat of Miss Marion Miley, Lexington, Ky., medalist, defending champion and the Southern Women's champion.

Shooting slightly over par, Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas conquered Miss Miley in 16 holes over the tricky Memphis Country club course.

Cobb's team proved worthy runners-up, losing but two games during the campaign, both to the Sullivent team. The score in the semi-final game Thursday favored the Sullivents, 3 to 1.

Barons Come To Lubbock Sunday

Skipper Charles Barnabe and his Big Spring Barons move in at the local ball park tomorrow for a double header with the Hubbers, thus completing the West Texas-New Mexico league picture for local fans.

It will be Big Spring's first visit for league play, and the Barons will have something to play for, remembering the series defeat handed them by the Hubbers in Big Spring early in the season.

All other clubs of the circuit have paddled through Lubbock, and have felt the sting of Hubber bats.

Boxes Remain For Sale

First game of tomorrow's twin bill is slated to start at 2 o'clock sharp, and fans desiring accommodations are urged to remember the time.

General Manager Harry Faulkner announces that several boxes remain unsold, or uncalled for, and these will be available for purchase at the box office. The boxes sell for the season, at $25 each, and will accommodate four persons each, bringing the cost per person to something like a dime a game for a reserved seat during the season. A parking space for the bok-holder's automobile will be provided, and guarded, free of charge with each box sold, Faulkner has announced.

Hand Picked Players

The Big Spring Barons are composed of husky, hard-hitting, well-dressed youngsters who know their way around the diamond. They took the first game they played against Lubbock, beating out Lefty Jerry Blanchard, but the Hubbers came back to take the next two and win the series. Since the season started, the Barons have been right up in the race, battling for first place. They led the Hubbers in league standing for nearly two weeks after the season opened.

Charles Barnabe, veteran of many Texas League wars, has helped Owner Jack Hutcheson gather a strong crew of diamondeers, some of them graduates of the National Baseball school of California, others handpicked from Texas sandlots and semi-pro clubs. The club plays hustling, colorful ball of the fan-pleasing variety.

Series Ends Monday

Big Spring concludes the series Monday with a single game, after which the Clovis club returns for a two day visit.

The Hubbers and Barons may arrive here about the same time, the Lubbock club from Hobs where it concludes a three-game series tonight, and Big Spring from Clovis.

Bears Turn Back Owls With Three-Run Rally

HOUSTON, May 20. (AP)—Baylor university chased over three unearned runs in the ninth inning to nose out the Rice Owls, 4-3, today in the opener of the final series of the season for both teams.

Displaying good control on his slow curve ball, Mike Seale of Rice gave up five singles. He entered the ninth with only three blows against him and holding a 3-1 lead. Then the Rice defense which had been tight, opened up with both mental and physical lapses, and Coach Morley Jennings' Bears turned the tide.

GLEN LEE WINS

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—Glen Lee, the Nebraska clouter whose middleweight title aspirations were jolted in two recent New York engagements, brought them back to near-normal again tonight by upsetting the highly-rated Brooklyn belter, Solly Krieger, in ten rounds at Madison Square garden. Lee weighed 156 1-2; and Krieger 160.

Tidbits From Diamond Are In Volume

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 20.—After collecting Juicy Tidbits about the game for some 45 years, Mr. A. H. Tarvin, an old timer in the newspaper business from Kentucky, has made an intriguing addition to baseball lore by writing a 128-page book entitled "A Century of Baseball." the bock is crammed with odd and daffy happenings.

Some of the morsels:

The lively ball made its appearance in the first game played. In 1838, a year before Abner Doubleday started things, a game was held on the Boston commons. One team won, 22-19, in two innings.

An All-Day Affair

Pete Browning, Louisville, not only had the first custom-made bat but also the largest. It weighed 48 ounces and was 37 inches long. It was made in 1884.

It took 55 minutes to play the first inning of the Utica-Binghamton game, June 1, 1917, the teams scoring 19 runs. The longest game in history also was the worst. Two teams played at Eagle Pass, Tex., from 10 a. m. until darkness intervened at 7 p. m. the scrre of the game, which lasted only six innings, was 129-119.

Tinfoil, gathered by her father, Sid, and other ball players, paid for the musical education of the immortal Geraldine Farrar. After hearing Miss Farrar sing, the players of other clubs helped her father gather tons of tinfoil to pay for her singing lessons.

Wait, Here, Jack

Until 1873, players caught many line drives and flies with their baseball caps. Then it was outlawed.

Most absent-minded ball player in history was Jack Kerens, star catcher for Louisville in the eighties. Jack, given an afternoon off, sat in the clubhouse reading one of Nick Carter's thrillers. A man who loved comfort, he sat there in his underwear. Suddenly, he was called into the game. As people gasped and shouted, he strode to the diamond just as he was—under wear and all.

Ty Cobb once was given a base on balls with a mate on third. As he neared first, he broke into a gallop and ran all the way to second as the runner on third scored.

Fifteen Clubs Are Entered In Joust

Fifteen member clubs of the West Texas Golf association have paid dues qualifying their representatives to compete in the annual association tournament here June 2-5, and at least ten more are expected to get in under the wire, the Lubbock Country club board of directors was informed at a meeting last night.

Charles Akey, general manager-pro at the Country club, predicted a registration of about 200 players, and said that qualifying rounds would be conducted on Sunday, May 29, and Thursday, June 2, with the course thrown open for practice on the intervening days. Only those qualifying on Thursday, however, will be eligible for medal honors.

Reports from the various committees on prizes, entertainment and finance were heard at the board meeting, presided over by President Cliff Dean. Board members attending were Stony Wall, secretary; George Benson, H. L. Allen, Sam Rosenthal, Ted Tipps, Arno Dalby and Lee Hubby. Guests were Hugh Anderson and Cliff Widener.

Teams Ready For Westerner Tourney Today

With fair weather prewailing, golf as it is played by the interscholastics will no doubt throw a scare into Old Man Par at the Meadowbrook course today.

Scheduled to start teeing off at ten o'clock this morning is a field of divot diggers from high schools of West Texas, here to compete in the Westerner invitation tournament, an event initiated this season by Lubbock High school to which all high school golfers of West Texas are invited.

While the entry list, as reported by Tournament Director E. M. Barnett last night fails to show an exceptionally large field, it includes some of the better youngsters of the section.

Included in the list of entries were those of the Pampa team, composed of Capt. Kenneth Brown, Zade Watkins, Bill Miskimilis, Roy Ray, and Warner Phillips. B. R. Nuckles is the Pampa coach.

Amarillo entries are Capt., J. D. Cantrell, Curtis Brown, Clyde Clark, and James Perry. R. F. Williams is coach. Abilene will send James Gilliland, Jack Simpson, Billy Johnson, and George Willis.

Entered from Colorado are Grover Williams, Howard Lewis, Robert Lacey, Curtis Wood, Hardison Allmond, and James Pritchett. Sweetwater entries are Johnnie Bradshaw, Johnnie Bibb, Douglas Boyd, and Colman.

Jack Vaughn and Allen Barnard, jr., will represent Lamesa. Vaughn won third place in the district meet at Meadowbrook last month.

Lubbock's team is composed of George Tipton, Carol Claiborne, Melvin Best, and Billie Hoyt Martin. A. B. Sansom, Charles Hvass, and George Weiss also will play for Lubbock High school.

Valuable prizes have been donated by Lubbock business houses for team and individual awards. The Westerner trophy, to go to the low four-man team, was given by Hemphill-Wells and Sherrod brothers. A team must win the tournament three years in succession for permanent possesion of the trophy.

Cocanougher's cafeteria will furnish dinner for the runner-up team. A golf bag, donated by Hub clothiers, will be awarded low individual.

Other individual prizes include: slacks, Hanna-Pope; shoes, J. C. Penney company; sport sweater, McDavis clothiers; sport shirt, Patton's; sport shirt, Levine's; golf balls, Terry and Childress and Mallory's.

SPEEDSTERS ARE READY

INDIANAPOLIS, May 20. (AP)—New track records for one lap and for the full 25-mile qualifying jaunt were predicted on all sides today as a score of drivers tuned their streamlined speedsters in preparation for qualifying trials tomorrow for the Indianapolis Memorial Day 500-mile speedway race.

MENOW IS FAVORED

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—Headed by Hal Price Headley's Menow, early pace setter in the Kentucky derby and Preakness, nine three-year olds which possess more speed than stamina will run tomorrow in the 63rd Withers mile at Belmont park.

KNEE TO BE EXAMINED

CHICAGO, May 20. (AP)—Johnny Whitehead, who pitched the Chicago White Sox to a shutout win yesterday over Boston, was scheduled to have x-ray pictures taken of his left knee, twisted while pitching in practice recently.

The Railroad Controversy

THE nation has cause to view with genuine alarm the impending crisis between workers and operators of American railroads. Unless those workers and operators succeed in adjusting their differences between themselves, the controversy threatens the United States with an economic collapse in comparison with which the depression of a few years ago would be paled into insignificance.

Issues in the controversy are simple. Operators of railroads have announced their intent to reduce wages of workers. Union workers have announced that if wages ARE cut, they will strike. Operators say that if payrolls ARE NOT reduced, the railroad industry will collapse.

The Morning Avalanche is not sufficiently well informed to take sides, even if it desired. But it is convinced that either a strike of workers or a collapse of railroads is of such vital concern to the American people as a whole that it transcends the personal interests of the relatively few railroad workers and operators who comprise the nation's population.

In the past, the citizenship as a whole has been tolerant of the minorities which have attempted to make "we the people" the goats of quarrels. As has been the case in other controversies not confined alone to railroads, we need not be surprised if in the present crisis both the worker and the operator will attempt to bend threatened suffering among the general population to their own selfish interests.

Perhaps their strategy will succeed, and perhaps fear may sway public opinion to one side or the other before the crisis has reached a head. Perhaps the general citizenship — the farmers, the stockmen, the merchants, the manufacturers, the professions, the housewife in her home and the laborer at his task—will continue to submit tamely and suffer tamely because two minority groups cannot agree. But some day, these people comprising the overwhelming bulk of the population and the economic interests of the country are going to get a stomach full—to use a polite term—of such things. Then watch out.

There is more than a probability that this anatomical capacity may be reached in the growing railroad controversy. If the time should come when too many people are without jobs, when hungry men and women roam the country, when business men are haunted by the fear of bankruptcy—IF that time should come and IF the sufferers should decide that the blame belonged to small quarreling groups in an essential industry, the people might get mad. And if they should, the positions of both the railroad workers and operator might become a most unhappy one indeed.

Those concerned with railroads will be wise to test well the temper of public opinion before they let the quarrel within their own ranks get out of hand. They will display good judgment if they settle the controversy in their own house without transgressing further on the patience, peace and property of others. Otherwise, they are likely to discover that public opinion, instead of swinging to one side or the other, is aligned against them both. If that unhappy time ever should come, the operators may find themselves without railroads, and the recalcitrant workers without jobs.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

JACKIE DUNN — heroine; she wanted to fly.

EVELYN LA FARGE — Jackie's mother; she wanted a son-in-law.

• • •

Yesterday: Grimly awaiting some news of Roger, Jackie finally calls the airport. The news is that searchers have found Roger's wrecked ship but not Roger!

CHAPTER XV

As long as she lived Jackie would never forget that night and the following day. For during those hours the girl who had been Jacqueline Dunn died and a woman was born, a woman who learned the real meaning of life, who faced not only life, but death as well, and the dark despair of what a living death could be.

Roger's ship had been found, the beautiful silver plane, it's motor smashed against a lonely mountain side, its left wing crumpled like a discarded piece of paper. But aside from his helmet and parachute—and a splash of blood here and there—no single trace of Roger could be discovered.

It was believed that the pilot, though undoubtedly seriously injured, had managed to climb out and get free of the ship, fully realizing the danger of explosion and fire.

The papers played Roger up as the hero who rode his ship down, instead of bailing out. Until the very end he had tried to save the $25,000 plane. By so doing he had, in fact, saved his trial flight from ending a total failure, for the barograph, containing the vital records of the speed and altitude, had remained intact. It revealed that Roger had broken all records for altitude and speed and had added another page to the glory and future of aviation.

"As though that mattered," Jackie said to Mac. As soon as she could get there, she had driven out to the field again. "As though anything mattered except that they must find Roger."

At least he was alive since his body had not been found, trapped in the cockpit. So that now hope shone like a silver star once more.

It had been almost nightfall when the ship had been discovered. The searchers had diligently increased their forces and zeal, hoping to find Roger before night settled down. In the thick underbrush of the high range it would not be easy, at any time, to find a man—or his body. But after darkness had descended the task would be doubly difficult.

"They'll find him," Mac assured Jackie. "Maybe not until daylight now—it was midnight in the little tower and as yet no word had been received—but they're bound to find him, Jackie. He could not have gone very far, you know, and even after night, they'll send up flares and Roger will see them, or hear them calling."

"If he can answer," Jackie said. Roger had been alive when the ship had cracked up, but that did not mean he was alive now. That last message from him had come through around nine o'clock in the morning; 15 hours had elapsed since then. If those blood stains meant he had been badly cut, he might have bled to death by now. Or he might have been internally injured. Although it was late May, the nights were damp and cold in the densely wooded Alleghenies, so that the long exposure, without food or medicine, might prove fatal, too.

But she would not give up hope. Not even after that long night had finally come to an end, and a dawn broke that was filled with despair, the silver star of hope almost vanished.

"He can't be dead . . . . he can't be . . ." Jackie repeated over and over to herself all through the following day. She must hold on to that thought so grimly, so faithfully that it would be answered, like a prayer.

Jackie could think of Beryl now in pity and sympathy, all her resentment against this other women, all her anger and jealousy swept aside. For Beryl had loved Roger, though Jackie alone had known that. Jackie, who knew now—too late—that she, too, had loved him.

• • •

For this was the awakening, the growing into womanhood that came to Jackie during those agonized waiting hours. She knew that she had loved Roger from the first. She had tried to put up a defense, not only against love itself, but against him. She had thought that love need not hold any place in her life. And now she saw, with this sudden, terrible clarity, that without it—without Roger, life could hold no meaning, nothing except emptiness.

Oh, she was glad now that Mac or two, and that almost the last words Rogers had heard had been —"Jackie sends luck—and love." Perhaps Roger had known, with sudden clarity, too, that that had not been pretense—that he had her love with him.

Though it had not brought him much luck—or the fact that she had worn his pin. Jackie knew now she should not have accepted it. Not in the way she had in anger, in pretense, her heart steeled against him.

Oh, if only Roger could be found in time, so that in some way she could make all this up to him, prove to him how big, how fine her love could be for him.

Prayers sometimes are answered. Jackie's was. Though she was not to know, even then, in her rejoicing, in her thanksgiving and great relief, that her prayer—with all its promises—was to be put to still another test.

• • •

Roger was found that day about four o'clock. He had managed at last, through a long and painful process, to reach the side of a road and to attract the attention of a passing motorist. He had lain unconscious during most of the night, weakened from loss of blood from a severe head wound; chilled and thirsty and hungry. He had managed to half crawl, half drag himself through the heavy underbrush, only a few feet at a time. He had seen the planes searching for him, circling high over head, heard the shots and some distant shouts from the ground, but he had been unable to shout back in response.

His condition was critical, the reports said, but there was hope for his recovery. He had been rushed to the hospital at Phillipsburg.

It was only when she read this last that Jackie burst into tears, a wild fit of weeping that was beyond control. She had held back those tears so long. She had tried so hard to be brave, to hold on to that faintly shining star of hope.

Now, at last, she could let go, find relief in the balm of tears, healing for her spirit—such joy, such gratitude, as she had never known could exist within one human heart.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE really important story behind the Hughes-Wallace debate is the New Dealers' stunned realization that the Supreme court has robbed the administration's earlier judicial triumphs of much meaning. Otherwise, the cornfield lawyers would not have squawked so violently—or erroneously.

Almost every measure creating New Deal commissions, especially N.L.R.B., was framed so as to enthrone Roosevelt administrators and hamstring defendants. They deliberately made it difficult for litigants to appeal from government agencies to the courts with any chance of reversal. In ruling that the commissars must hold fair rather than phoney hearings, the Chief Justice has deprived the star chambermen of their ex parte advantage. He has taught lower courts how to upset findings and conclusions they didn't dare to tamper with before.

The brain trusters had hoped to make administrative law almost as powerful and final as statutory, thus sidestepping unfriendly courts. Prime apostles of such a judicial revolution were Treasury Counsel Oliphant and Solicitor General Jackson. Now, with only Mr. Black dissenting, the court has clipped the wings of the baby Blue Eagles it approved when they were only in the incubation stage. They have feathers but they can't fly high!

• • •

RECALLED: Housing Administrator Straus has made more blunders than buildings in his headlong—and headline—six-months' career at the capital. The White House is aware of his shortcomings, but for the moment seems willing to grin and bear the build-up man.

Mr. Straus refuses to consult experts he hired on his arrival here. Thus he delivered a maiden speech to New York architects which revealed a complete ignorance of the housing law. Subsequent releases had to be rewritten by his army of press agents to conceal his shortcomings. Whenever he signs allocations (paper work), he arranges for sound-and-movie effects that shame Clark Gable. Congratulatory letters from the White House on such occasions emphasize Straus rather than slums. He writes them himself.

But the prize boner was his imminent release of an official statement assailing the Leche machine in Louisiana—now F.D.R.'s friends—for their alleged political sabotage of a local building project. Eight bulging bags of mail, weighing half a ton, had to be recalled from "Jim" Farley's trucks and surreptitiously destroyed. The national chairman regards that act as the most constructive Mr. Straus has yet performed. It's nice to tear down slums but you mustn't tear down the Farley machine.

• • •

FIFTY-TWO: A comparatively obscure provision in the Recovery act has aroused prying senatorial eyes.

It was slipped in after the planners discovered that numerous cities (including populous Democratic centers) had already exhausted their borrowing capacity. Therefore they could not take advantage of the new offer of federal money for P.W.A. projects—schools, public buildings, sanitary systems, etc. Under the revolutionary proposal, however Uncle Sam will construct local projects with federal money, leasing them to the local communities at low interest rates. Uncle Sam will recover 55 per cent of his cash in 25 years provided the prodigal children don't go broke in the meantime and default on the lease. Nobody has figured out what will happen then.

It's the same system employed in the use of federal funds. Some Senators insist that Uncle Sam is, theoretically, in bankruptcy now. They argue that maximum legal public debt is 45 billion, with almost 38 billion outstanding. The latter figure will hit about 42 billion in June, 1938. But in addition there are 5 billion dollars worth of government-guaranteed securities on the books, and 5 billion more authorized. The early, prospective total under this now-you-see-it-now-you-don't scheme is 52 billion—equal to 1938's estimated national income.

SUNSET: The Garner-Farley holdup of the West appointment to the controllership is a sly dig at White House untouchables whom even those graybeards never challenged before—F.D.R.'s brain trusters, personal pets, political errand boys. It marks a new high in the subtle movement to break the presidential grip on the party machine.

The Vice-President bases his protest on the flimsy patronage claim of a fellow-Texan—F.D.I.C.-er Marshall Diggs—who was promised the post long ago. Mr. Farley argues that Mr. West's unpopularity on Capitol Hill would force an investigation, stir up personal and party strife, harm the administration and the Democratic party. Undercover reason is that the Controller, through his influence in banking circles, can mobilize powerful influences for or against somebody between now and 1940. They don't want a man so obedient to Mr. Roosevelt in that key position.

Mr. Roosevelt, naturally, feels a deep responsibility to the boy scoutish Ohioan. The latter sacrificed a sure House seat to run for the Senate as a White House stooge, only to fall down in the Interior undersecretaryship that was especially created for him. But the gang thinks, it's time to send Mr. West home. As Harold Ickes says, "I don't care how far west Mr. West goes!

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

MOST of the current widespread reports about the prospects for peace between government and utilities have been inspired in Washington. Power leaders have made certain gestures of cooperation, but these were not exactly spontaneous. The industry has its fingers crossed and is not indulging in prophecies.

'Nevertheless the outlook for an understanding is better than it has been since the New Deal began. The very fact that administration sources are stirring up so much talk on the subject is a hopeful sign. The buildup would hardly be so extensive unless the government were in earnest. Moreover, the stepping up of the T.V.A.-Knoxville offer for the Electric Bond & Share properties in that city to $7,500,000 indicates a spirit of reasonable compromise.

Settlement of the utility controversy would have a tremendous moral effect on business in general. Justifiably or not, the utility situation more than any other typifies to the investor and industrialist all that they dread in the way of government aggression and intolerance. Therefore peace in this sector would be taken as tangible evidence of a new spirit of live-and-let-live.

PAYS: Railroad executives contend that their labor cost burden would be greatly eased if they could only get rid of the "featherbed" provisions in their contracts with the operating brotherhoods.

These provisions, adopted when train schedules were much slower, give operating employes the option of collecting a day's pay for eight hours work or for a run of 150 miles. Naturally, under modern conditions, they choose the latter. This means that engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on fast expresses often get a full day's wages for a trip that lasts only 3 hours. Further, they can change time-and-a-half for overtime beyond the specified mileage. Other trick "featherbird" angles bring even more curious results. For instance, cases have been known where an engineer or trainman has claimed—and received—a day's pay for fifteen minutes work in a switching yard. Unions of non-operating railroad workers (such as clerks and maintenance men) have no such break.

Rail experts estimate that revision to a straight eight-hour system would save the carrers more than $150,000,000 a year. But the managements have no hope whatever of that. The brotherhoods would fight such a proposal to the last ditch—and would almost certainly win. They can hardly be blamed for clinging tenaciously to such an advantageous arrangement. It is significant that leaders on the management side have never even officially broached the subject.

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says women are divided mainly into two types: the womanly woman and the one who looks smart in shorts.

* * *

IT is with no great joy that The Plainsman starts this column off again after a lapse of a week or so—and here's why:

He came bustling back from a trip to El Paso and other foreign seaports and breezed into the circulation department.

"Don't worry any more," he told Mr. Woody, the circulation manager. "Everything will be all right. My column will start off again on today."

"Huh?" said Mr. Woody, in some surprise. "What do you mean, 'everything will be all right'?"

"You mean circulation hasn't gone down since my column's been missing?"

"Nope," returned Mr. Woody, putting his feet back on the desk and resuming his perusal of the Wall Street Journal. "Fact is, it's up a couple of hundred."

So that's what a guy gets for leaving the job and going gallivanting around the desert country. He learns that he isn't as important as his inflated ego has prompted him to believe and he's lucky if his boss doesn't find out about it!

* * *

But enough of trials and tribulations.

It so happened that while he was in the far places, The Plainsman happened to meet a lot of fellows from a lot of places. Some as far away as Albuquerque, Dallas, Santa Fe, Houston and Gulfport, Miss.

And almost without exception, men who found out The Plainsman hailed from Lubbock began asking questions and in some cases talking about what a wonderful town with a wonderful future that we have here.

No foolin', while The Plainsman has made similar statements a lot within the last year, it is striking to learn just how widespread is the name and fame of the South Plains metropolis.

* * *

THERE'S one point all Lubbock citizens should remember, however, and should bring out clearly whenever they are telling interested "furriners" about this city.

That is, the town doesn't make itself. It never has and it never will.

It is the country around it—and the fact that it is the wholesale center for the progressive, wide-awake business men of outlying communities.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says we are suspicious and unfriendly to those who are not members of our particular class, yet we wonder why different races can't love one another in Europe.

Byron Dickinson contributed this dialogue:

"What drops faster than wood?"

"Rocks."

"What drops faster than rocks?"

"Iron."

"What drops faster than iron?"

"Easy! Stocks!

* * *

THERE is a lot of criticism here and elsewhere about how taximen drive and doubtless much of it is earned.

The Plainsman has seen occasions when he has gone into a tail-spin over the didoes of a cab driver, yet as a matter of fact, the boys probably do considerably better than most of the rest of us.

The other evening we had occasion to go home from the office in a cab, the Little Woman having our family buggy tied up in front of some social function. And without giving any sign to the driver, we watched his every move closely.

Our route led from the Avalanche-Journal to Broadway, thence west to College, thence south past the 19th and College bottle-neck and then on southwesterly to the home shanty. The trip was made between 5:30 and 6 p. m. when the traffic was at its worst.

We noted that the driver signalled at every turn; that he did not cut in and out of line and that his top speed was 24 miles per hour —which is considerably under what the average citizen drives.

Nobody could criticize his operation in the least.

These remarks will be a surprise to the driver, who doesn't know until yet we were watching him.

We didn't ask him his name, but the name posted in the cab was Lee Roy.

Therefore to Lee Roy—or to whomever was driving that car which made the run from the Avalanche-Journal to 2610 20th street—a carload of orchids.

Your operation will make friends for yourself, your company and all the lines in Lubbock.

* * *

THERE has been a great deal of glee here and over the country generally because the CIO forces took a shellacking in the recent Pennsylvania Democratic primaries.

Johnny Lewis and Joe Guffey got thumped handily, but The Plainsman, who has no more use for the CIO than has any other average, liberty-loving American, can't toss any hats in the air over the guys who beat the Lewis lads.

This fellow George H. Earle, now Pennsylvania's governor who beat the CIO Guffey for the senatorial nomination in Tuesday's primaries, is a long way from a lily-white.

* * *

A rich playboy who has gone into politics because he hasn't anything else to do—and we don't criticize him for that—Earle is fully as radical as Lewis ever was or could be.

Incidentally, he has made absolute social equality of the races the law in Pennsylvania which, thinkers white and black agree, is about the worst thing that possibly could be done.

* * *

THANKS and thanks again to James Harley Dallas (he's now better known as 'James Farley' Dallas) the postmaster at Brownfield, and to Editor John A. Price of Littlefield's County-Wide News, for the first airmail letters The Plainsman has ever received from South Plains points.

And what they say in their letters reflects the spirit of the South Plains—the spirit that is helping the whole country to get ahead and stay there.

Says Editor Price: (in part)

"Here's hoping this fine activity on the part of your city, in sending planes to all of the surrounding towns and communities, in effort to secure designation of your city as a transcontinental airmail point bears fruit—that Lubbock gets the designation.

"What helps the Plains helps Lubbock and what helps Lubbock helps the Plains.

"Continued co-operation by all of us cannot but help all of us."

And says Postmaster Dallas: (in part)

"Brownfield hopes that Lubbock gets that airmail stop and we will help all we possibly can."

The Plainsman knows from the co-operation given by all the neighboring towns that their citizens feel much as do Editor Price and Postmaster Dallas.

That's the kind of thing that makes the South Plains.

HERE AND THERE

Dear Editor: What has become of the Plainsman? We miss his smiling face in its accustomed place. He could give the blues a chase and always win in the race. Last heard from him he had departed from his views on current events and had refused into a correspondence course in correct English and word placement.

He majors in English and grammatical phrases. He must be good. I don't know.

We have had some nice rain and it has eased some awful pain, but on the main we continue to complain. Have planted some cotton and it is becoming rotten.

The seed has begun to swell and I have to scratch it like hell to let it up.

Now the sun is shining bright and it is nice and cool at night; but all of this is tommy-rot for I know it will get too hot.

TARZAN UNDER FIRE No. 12 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Captain d'Albert jumped to the conclusion that his little daughter Yvonne had been kidnaped by the white savage, the mystery man of the forest. With nervous swiftness he set in motion the official machinery of the whole district to capture the strange suspect.

To outlying army posts he spread the alarm. He dispatched the swiftest runners to all the native chieftains, asking them to comb the jungle with every available warrior. Soon the forest was alive with scores of searchers, spurred by the promise of reward.

Tarzan a kidnaper! The ape-man would have been amused at so ridiculous a charge, but his amusement would have been short-lived had he known of Captain d'Albert's order: "Save the child at any cost. If the white savage makes one false move, shoot him down!"

These events played easily into the hands of Abdul Keb, now Tarzan's bitter enemy. The Arab trader busied himself creating a chain of false evidence to smash the jungle giant, if he should be taken alive. In any case, Abdul Keb would have his awful revenge!

CHOICE dairy heifers $8.00. Registered bulls. Shawnee Dairy Cattle Co., San Antonio, Texas.

SELL or trade milk cows, work mule and feeder pigs. S. H. Robinson, 3½ S. W. Shallowater.

Closing of this week found us with numerous order buyers, but not enough good butcher cattle were included in this week's offerings to supply their needs.

The trade interests are generally agreeable on the one point that values are 25 to 50c higher for the week.

With prices advancing sharply, as they are now doing, we are expecting you to bring us in good butcher cattle so that we can fill our buyers' orders.

With our sales—both Tuesday and Friday—beginning at 10:00 a. m. it enables you to get your stock sold and collected for at much earlier hour than was the case in the past when the sales started at 1:00 p. m.

We have the buyers—you bring us the cattle, and we feel sure you will be pleased with the returns your cattle will bring you.

LIST CLOSES IRREGULAR

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—While traders generally leaned to the selling side in today's stock market, most kept offerings to small amounts and there were sufficient supporting orders to enable the list to close no more than moderately irregular.

Quiet strength of aircrafts and utilities helped bolster the list.

In addition, those who had expected the coppers to topple following yesterday's cut in the domestic price were agreeably surprised when this group put up a show of resistance.

The result was that the Associated Press average of 60 issues ended with a net loss of .2 of a point at 39.4. Transfers totalled only 439,290 shares compared with 490,960 yesterday.

Revival in the aviation department apparently was touched off by reports further contracts for war planes were on the way from abroad.

Rails, clouded still by waning hopes for federal aid at this session of congress, failed to respond to any marked extent to the official figures on last week's freight loadings disclosing a more than seasonal increase.

Foreign securities markets were irregularly lower. The principal European currencies, though, moved up in terms of the dollar.

Shares on the losing end for fractions to a point or so at the finish were General Motors at 29⅝, Sears Roebuck 55⅝, International Harvester 52½, American Telephone 129⅛, Santa Fe 26, Johns-Manville 70, Westinghouse 76¾, General Electric 44⅞, Anaconda 25½, and Phelps Dodge 21⅝.

Advances were registered for Douglas Aircraft at 45⅝, Glenn L. Martin 24, Consolidated Edison 24⅜, North American 20, Du Pont 100¾, U. S. Steel 44¼, Bethlehem 46⅝, N. C. Central 12¼ and Chrysler 42⅝.

Cotton . .

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 20. (AP) — Cotton continued to fluctuate within an extremely narrow range today and trading was confined to professional evening-up. The close was steady at net declines of 3 to 4 points.

Foreign sources were persistent sellers during the day and tired longs continued to liquidate but contracts were well taken by the trade on the scale-down by covering.

July contracts closed at 8.67, Oct. at 8.73, Dec. at 8.76, Jan. at 8.77, March at 8.83 and May at 8.87-bid. Spots were quiet with sales totalling only 317 bales. Middling closed 4 points lower at 8.70.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—Cotton was generally lower today under foreign selling and July liquidation. October sold off from 8.64 to 8.58 and closed at 8.60, with final prices 5 to 7 points net lower.

The market opened 4 to 6 points lower in response to declines at Liverpool and Bombay. Prices encountered resistance as July approached 8½ cents, when local and New Orleans interests bought. Recoveries were only partial under renewed selling from abroad. Toward the close cooperative interests were credited with buying to cause slight upturns from the lowest.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, May 20. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 8.58 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 8.78 cents a pound.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 20. (AP)—Jolted by expected huge production in Kansas, Chicago wheat values fell a cent a bushel today, almost eclipsing again the market's 4-year low record.

The Robinson Elevator company, a recognized trade authority, issued a forecast that Kansas would harvest 207,500,000 bushels this season, as against the latest official estimate of 193,000,000 bushels.

Contributing to bearish sentiment was word from Sherman, Texas, that some small fields of wheat near there have already been cut and shocked, the first in the United States this season. It was added that if weather conditions permitted, additional fields would be cut by Monday.

Scarcity of offerings had only a transient uplifting effect. May wheat was relatively firm in contrast with new crop months, July and September, but purchase volume was disappointing.

Partly accounting for the action of May wheat here in closing at prices virtually unchanged from yesterday's finish, 74¼ to 74⅜ cents, was notice that a couple of loads of red winter grades were sold out of Chicago today for export.

Her onetime sweetheart is now serving a life term in Alcatraz for the kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul brewer.

"Don't kid yourself—it didn't take me but a few weeks to find out who my boy friend really was," Mrs. Grayson told reporters.

"Al was mighty considerate of me during the months we lived together. Was I married to him? Well, I thought so—Maybe I was wrong. Sometimes I got a little out of line and he socked me. But that was all right—he was one swell guy and he spent plenty of dough on me. I'll probably never see him again."

Day Of The Canned Sales Talk Said To Be Thing Of Past

DALLAS, May 20. (AP)—The day of the canned sales talk is out, national sales executives in convention here were told today, and a salesman "who sounds like a phonograph record is a fizzle from the start."

F. B. Heitkamp of Elizabeth, N. J., advised delegates to the national federation of sales' executives session that it takes more than "courage, a grin, an expense account and an order book" to sell today.

The second day of the convention heard other speakers continue to plug the session's slogan, "distribution at a profit" as a cure for recession.

Faulty Judgment Of Pilot Is Blamed In Crash Of Plane

LOS ANGELES, Calif., May 20. (AP)—A coroner's jury decided today that a transport airplane crash in the Saugus hills in which nine persons were killed Monday was "accidental and due to faulty judgment on the part of both the pilot and co-pilot."

The jury, which heard testimony that the plane was flying low over the hills, made recommendations to prevent recurrence of such crashes.

"We recommend," the verdict said, "that all pilots flying planes carrying passengers be instructed by proper authorities and required to fly at 1000 feet elevation above the highest mountain points on the route being flown when leaving or entering all airports in this area."

Schuschnigg In Grave Position

VIENNA, May 20. (AP)—The blonde, 34-year-old Countess Vera Fugger von Babenhausen remains the only friend of former Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg who is permitted to see him daily.

No one in nazi officialdom of Austrian Germany seems to know what is in store for him, but a responsible government spokesman said his situation had become more serious.

Documents Found

Documents had been found, the spokesman said, linking him with responsibility for execution of a number of national socialists (nazis) in 1934.

Under guard in his Belvedere castle, Schuschnigg is reported seen now and then walking in the gardens.

The countess' talent for classical music was said to have been the main attraction which brought Schuschnigg to her home after his wife was killed in an automobile accident in 1935.

Later the countess, who is separated from her husband and is the mother of four children, was said to have taken the mother's place in caring for Schuschnigg's son, who now is studying at Kalksburg seminary near Vienna.

Friends said her loyalty to the ex-chancellor was so great that they became engaged immediately after his forced abdication when German troops marched into Austria March 11.

Church law, however, is said to be a barrier to their marriage.

Schuschnigg's fate eventually will be decided by Fuehrer Hitler, a government informant said, after "a careful investigation has been closed."

Many new documents yet are to be studied.

"How could we let Schuschnigg go free now?" the spokesman asked. "He probably would not be able to walk the streets for a minute without being attacked by a furious crowd. The world then would say that nazis killed him."

Rebel Chieftain

developments indicated the efforts were unsuccessful.

At San Luis, government military headquarters received information that a small group under Pedro Izaquirre, former army major, had risen in arms somewhere between San Luis and Valles, 120 miles to the east.

A flying squadron of 200 cavalrymen was rushed to Rio Verde, 60 miles southeast of San Luis, after an armed band raided it last night.

None could say for certain, either here or in San Luis, whether the Raiders belonged to Cedillo's armed agrarians.

Observers agreed that Cedillo, if he took the field, could not last long unless other right wing leaders rose with him.

Eyes were trained toward distant Sonora, in the northwest, whose governor, General Roman Yocupicio, has not sympathized altogether with Cardenas leftist policies.

Huge Losses In Agricultural Loan Operations Are Cited

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP) — Congress learned today that the federal government had lost $83,987,495 in agricultural commodity loan operations of the Commodity Credit corporation since the agency's creation in 1933.

The loss was made known in a communication President Roosevelt sent to the lawmakers, asking that $94,285,404 be appropriated to "provide for the restoration of the capital impairment" of the corporation.

A budget bureau statement accompanying the communication showed that the bulk of the losses grew out of shrinkage in the market value of cotton, corn, tobacco, turpentine and other commodities put up as collateral for price-bolstering loans.

Pickup Test Is Help For City

Airmail pickup tests Thursday, say those best qualified here for authoritative opinion, definitely strengthened prospects for an airmail and passenger line through Lubbock.

Those expressing their beliefs were Postmaster Amos Howard, chairman of the chamber of commerce airmail pickup committee, and C. E. Maedgen, chairman of the chamber's aviation group.

To Be Stressed In Brief

They added that the fact that 10,000 pieces of mail weighing 168 pounds was picked up from Lubbock Municipal airport will be one of the points stressed in a brief which seeks designation of the route from Amarillo to San Antonio via Canyon, Lubbock, Bib Spring and San Angelo as an airline.

At least 28 towns of the South Plains and Easten New Mexico contributed to the poundage concentrated here through efforts of the committees of which Howard and Maedgen are heads. The weights were reported by John R. Green, superintendent of mails here, under whose supervision every piece of Lubbock mail was hand stamped with a special South Plains cachet.

The brief seeking designation of the airline will be one of extensive nature in which all towns on the proposed route are to join in preparing. While members of the committee here explained frankly that they do not expect that poundage of mail on the very special occasion of the pickup will considerable weight in determining the designation of the line, they added that an unsatisfactory record likely would have been injurious.

The record, Howard emphasized, was "highly satisfactory and well in excess of expectations."

One Unfortunate Occurrence

The only unfortunate occurrence, he explained, was the failure of a Lubbock feeder plane to pickup mail at Lamesa as had been planned. That failure, he added, was due to the fact that the pilot was not aware of the location of the new airport there. The plane from Lubbock, he said, was flown over and around Lamesa for 15 minutes before the pilot continued his journey. He did not know the new port was five miles from the city nor that a committee of several score citizens was awaiting the Lubbock ship there.

Bishop Holt Visits Lubbock Friday

Johnston of the Perryton district; Rev. E. E. White of the Plainview district; Rev. E. B. Bowen of the Stamford district; Rev. Sam H. Young of the Sweetwater district, and Rev. Cal C. Wright of the Vernon district.

Others In Attendance

Others who attended were Rev. J. B. McReynolds of Borger, Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum of Slaton, Rev. Orion W. Carter of Memphis, Rev. W. B. Vaughn of Perryton, Rev. J. E. Kirby of Ralls, Rev. Luncheon was served the group at the Lubbock hotel and an afternoon session was in progress soon afterward.

Originally he was in the theological school faculty of SMU. He took the place of Bishop H. A. Boaz, who retired, and was the first of seven recently named bishops to be elected. He conducted a bishop's cabinet Thursday in Fort Worth for the central Texas conference.

Sues For Divorce

SIGRID GURIE

LOS ANGELES, May 20. (AP)—Too much sister-in-law is blamed by Sigrid Gurie, Brooklyn-born Norwegian film actress, for the collapse of her marriage to Thomas W. Stewart.

Miss Gurie sued Stewart for divorce and he filed a cross-complaint demanding one-half of her screen earnings, contending he is largely responsible for her success.

In a deposition yesterday, Miss Gurie testified that her husband's sister, Miss Olive Stewart, was always with them.

"I always had to go places with and be with Olive," she said. "I would have given anything to go out with Mr. Stewart, my own husband, just for ourselves for once. Many times I told him it was very dangerous for us not to go out alone, and to be alone, but he always said he didn't want to leave his sister."

Paintings Of San Francisco Artists To Be Shown Here

A shipment of 28 watercolor paintings by San Francisco artists was received Friday and will be hung in the West Texas museum on Texas Technological college campus today.

They will be ready for exhibition Sunday and will remain in the museum two weeks, said F. A. Kleinschmidt, director of the Art institute, sponsor of the exhibit.

A "great variety of technique" is represented in the group, he said.

Texas Attorney Death Victim

DALLAS, May 20. (AP)—Elijah B. Perkins, 87, widely known Texas lawyer and political figure and for many years general attorney for the St. Louis Southwestern railroad, died today.

He had been an invalid for about the last nine years. He retired in July, 1929, as general attorney for the Cotton Belt.

Son Of Minister

Born Oct. 21, 1850, in Ebenezer, Missouri, he was the son of Rev. Elijah Perkins, pioneer Methodist minister, and Elizabeth Winton Perkins.

In 1859, the family moved to Benton county, Arkansas.

The law firm of Perkins, Gilbert and Perkins was established at Greenville, Tex., and in his early practice, Judge Perkins devoted himself to all branches of the profession, gaining a wide reputation as a trial lawyer in criminal cases. In 1887, he became connected with the legal department of the St. Louis Southwestern. After serving this road as a trial lawyer in the district courts for many years, he was appointed its general attorney in 1901 and continued in that post until his retirement in 1929.

Married At Cooper

He was married at Cooper, Tex., to Miss Sarah A. Vaughan in the early seventies. They had three children, Edgard G. Perkins, Mrs. Edgar Padkitt, both of Dallas; and Mrs. J. Willis Slaughter of Houston, who survive. Also surviving is a granddaughter, Mrs. Hal Kemp of New York; and two-great-grandchildren.

Bishop C. Martin will officiate at private funeral services at 10 a. m. Saturday. Burial will be in Dallas.
