Wrangle Locks FCC Probe

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP)— Dissension within a House subcommittee left in doubt today the future course of its hearings on allegations of improper conduct against five members of the Federal Communications Commission.

Several of the FCC commissioners, denying any misconduct or impropriety, asked for more specific charges.

The investigation involves allegations by the subcommittee staff that five of the FCC's seven members improperly accepted favors from the broadcasting industry they are charged with regulating.

Several subcommittee members supported the protesting commissioners in a hearing marked by wrangling over procedure. One member, Rep. Moss (D-Calif), described the argument as almost a "filibuster."

Focus of the wrangling was the manner in which subcommittee counsel Bernard Schwartz questioned FCC Chairman John C. Doerfer.

At the end of the day, Rep. Moulder (D-Mo), subcommittee chairman, told reporters the subcommittee would meet for three days next week, beginning Monday, with the FCC still under inquiry.

Before that, however, the subcommittee will hold a closed-door session Friday. Moulder said he assumed it would go into the question of specific charges.

In letters made public by the investigating group, all the commissioners acknowledged receiving promotional gadgets, food gifts and expenses to industry gatherings. But each denied misconduct or receipt of improper favors from the broadcasting industry.

Allegations of misconduct have been aimed at Doerfer, and Commissioners Rosel Hyde, Robert T. Bartley, Robert E. Lee and Richard A. Mack.

The other commissioners are T. A. M. Craven and Frederick W. Ford. Moulder has said there are no allegations of misconduct against them.

Hyde and Bartley were appointed to the FCC by former President Truman. The other five were appointed by President Eisenhower.

Hyde rose in the subcommittee room twice to ask for more specific charges "so we can answer them."

"I don't want to be asked to convict myself," he said.

Bartley said he already had furnished the subcommittee a list of trips he had made involving any government cost. If there are any other trips counsel Schwartz wanted to know about, Bartley said, he wanted to know what they were. "I don't want it sprung on me," he added.

Cold Front Pushes Over State Today

By The Associated Press

A cold front moved swiftly through Texas Thursday morning promising freezing temperatures for half of the state by Friday.

Skies were cloudy back of the front and along the Gulf Coast where scattered showers were expected during the day. Across the middle of the state, from south of Dallas almost to the coast, skies were clear to partly cloudy.

Temperatures dropped slowly behind the front.

The front followed thunderstorms in North Texas late Wednesday. The storms brought hail in the Gainesville area and along the southeast Texas-Louisiana line.

Dust blew in West Texas Wednesday while scattered showers hit other sections, the first rain in nearly a week.

Forecasts promised temperatures down to 22 degrees Friday morning in West Texas and around 30 in North Central Texas. Moderate rainfall in scattered showers was expected Friday and Saturday.

Overnight low temperatures ranged from 25 degrees at Dalhart to 64 at Corpus Christi.

Rainfall reported during the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a.m. included Beaumont .34 of an inch, Lufkin .26, Houston .07 with lesser amounts at Galveston, College Station, Mineral Wells, Dallas, Victoria, Wichita Falls and Del Rio.

Other overnight low temperatures included: Amarillo 26 degrees, Lubbock 30, Wichita Falls 38, Abilene 39, El Paso 43, Dallas 47, San Antonio 50, Laredo 54, Texarkana 55, Lufkin 57 and Houston 62.

Klan May Go Underground

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—A Ku Klux Klan leader has announced that his group may have to go underground in North Carolina in the face of opposition from Gov. Luther Hodges.

Trev. James Cole of Marion, who heads the state KKK, said the Klan would go underground "unless the governor and other officials gave us the consideration which is our due as American citizens."

Told of Cole's statement today, Gov. Hodges said: "If Mr. Cole would go far enough underground, that would suit the state."

Man Slays Ex-Marine In Wife's Motel Room

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A young wife of a middle-aged lawyer argued with him, left home, picked up a friend at a bar and shortly thereafter saw her husband pump five shots into the man friend in a plush motel room early this morning.

The slaying victim was David LaPoint Black, 23, a 200-pound unemployed ex-Marine.

Walter C. Wiebusch, 42, former assistant district attorney, talked freely with reporters and officers about his slaying of Black.

The wife, a pretty brunette, sobbed at police station and declared emotionally: "I'll stick with him through this, if he'll have me."

Police found the body of Black fully clothed, beside a bed in a swank motel. He had been shot five times.

Mrs. Wiebusch, an oil company bookkeeper, met both Black and her future husband, although the men were not together, at a bar.

That's where she picked up Black last night about 11:30 o'clock.

As the principals told the story today, they argued and she left home about 11:15 p.m.

"I was leaving him for good. We couldn't get along," she told reporters, not explaining further.

She then registered at the motel and headed for the bar. Black was there.

The pair returned to her motel room, taking beer and whisky with them.

Then Wiebusch takes up the story: "I felt like something like this was going on," he told detective Neal Todd. "I drove around looking for her until I saw her car parked at the motel."

He knocked on her door and demanded admittance. He talked to her through the door for 15 minutes.

"I went down to my car. She followed me. I got my pistol and went upstairs and found this guy." He gestured toward the body of Black. He also had taken a pistol from his wife's purse.

Mrs. Wiebusch followed her husband back into the room and witnessed the shooting.

Wiebusch telephoned police and said, "I just had to shoot a man over my wife. I'll wait here." The couple was in the motel room when officers arrived.

He told reporters later, "Yes, I shot him—just like any man would who is a man."

Wiebusch was charged, then released without bond. Under Texas written law, juries are reluctant to convict a man who kills to preserve his marriage.

At Least 15 Dead In British Plane Crash

MUNCIH, Germany (AP)—A British European Airways plane with Britain's championship soccer team aboard crashed on takeoff today. German police said at least 15 of the 44 persons aboard were killed.

The two-engined airliner crashed into houses in the village of Kirchdruding and burst into flames.

A BEA spokesman in London said the survivors included some members of the team, the famous Manchester United. He said among the other survivors were four of the crew of six.

Police believed at least two members of a German family were killed when the plane struck their home.

Manchester United played the Red star team of Belgrade in the European cup match yesterday, which ended in a 3-3 draw, but sent the European club into the semifinals. The club, with 17 players and three officials, was returning to England.

A plane crash in May 1949 also involved a European soccer club. The Torino team, members of Turin, Italy, were all killed when their plane crashed into a Turin church.

Another sports catastrophe occurred in March 1950 when 80 fans perished in a plane crash in Wales. They were returning home from an Ireland-Wales rugby international match.

The BEA plane was a twin-engine medium range airliner built by Airspeed Ltd., one of the British de Havilland group.

Airport officials said the plane failed to make the takeoff from the runway.

It crashed into houses of the village of Kirchdruding and went up in flames.

A BEA spokesman said rescue operations are still going on and that "10 to 12 to 15" persons have been pulled out of the wrecked airliner alive.

Fire brigades were rushed to the scene to quench flames that spread to two buildings in the vicinity.

Police threw a tight cordon around the accident scene.

Seven Youths On Trial For Murder

NEW YORK (AP)—Seven teen-age boys were brought to trial today on first-degree murder charges in the death of a polio-crippled 15-year-old youngster, who was beaten, knifed and kicked to death in a park last summer.

Twenty-seven attorneys were appointed by General Sessions Court at a fee of $500 each to defend the boys on trial. Several are prominent criminal attorneys who draw as much as $25,000 a case.

In all, 18 boys had been arrested in the killing but lesser charges were placed against 11 of them. Of these on trial, two are white, two are Negro, two are Puerto Rican and one came from the Dominican Republic. Their ages range from 15 to 18.

The victim of the slaying was young Michael Farmer, son of a city fireman who had to use crutches because an attack of infantile paralysis had left him crippled.

At 10:30 p.m. last July 30 he and a friend, Roger McShane, 16, were talking over the possibility of going for a swim in a park pool when they were set upon by a group identified as members of a boy gang frequenting the neighborhood.

The gang was said to have been at odds with another group over territorial rights to the swimming pool. Authorities said neither Michael nor his buddy was a member of any gang.

In his opening address to an all-male jury, Asst. Dist. Atty. Robert B. Reynolds did not say specifically why he thought the two boys were attacked.

Of young Farmer, he said: "This boy was unable to run. He was hit with fists and feet, dog chains, garrison belts, clubs, metal pipes, knives and machetes."

The boy was finally left, fatally injured. His companion was injured but managed to escape.

Houston Pair Found Slain

HOUSTON (AP)—A woman and her former husband were found shot to death last night at her home.

Police said Mrs. Alma Moses, 34, had been shot four times and that Mack Moses, 49, had been shot once in the chest.

Police said Mrs. Moses twice had called police last night saying a man was trying to break into her house. Patrolmen answered the first call but said Mrs. Moses told them the man had gone. They returned an hour later after receiving the call and found Mrs. Moses' body on the living room floor and Moses' body on the dining room floor.

The patrolmen said the couple's three young children were in the house. Friends said the couple had been divorced about a year.

Leopold Asks For Release

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—The Illinois Pardon Board has taken under consideration Nathan Leopold's plea for release from Stateville prison where he has served 33 years for his part in the thrill slaying of a teen-age Chicago boy.

The balding convict, 53, appeared before the board yesterday and asked for a parole. It was his fourth attempt to gain freedom.

Leopold told the board he was led into the 1924 murder of Bobby Franks, 14, by his teen-age idol, Richard Loeb. Loeb, who was killed in a prison brawl in 1936, plotted the crime, Leopold said.

Rex Fields Seeks Council Place No. 6

Rex Fields, 40-year-old service station operator, announced today as a candidate for place No. 6 on the city council in the city general election April 1.

Fields is a native of Snyder who lived here until 1938, moved away, and came back to Snyder again in 1950. When he returned to Snyder he opened the Goodyear Service Store here and managed that store for two years.

Six years ago he became operator of the Fields Phillips 66 Service Station at Aveune U and Twenty-fifth Street, which he has operated since.

He is married to the former Miss Sibyl Willis, a native of Italy, Tex.

During World War II he served in the U. S. Navy.

He is a member of the Methodist Church and Masonic Lodge.

Place No. 6 on the city council is now held by Worth Sayner, who was appointed to the council following the resignation of J. W. Phillips last year.

Four places on the city council are to be filled in the April 1 election this year. They are offices of mayor, and councilmen for places Nos. 2, 4 and 6.

The present mayor, Harold Bennett, has announced as a candidate for reelection, as has Steve Birdwell, councilman in place No. 2. Stanley Noah has announced as a candidate for place No. 4 on the council now held by Dr. Robert H. Hargrove, who has announced he will not be a candidate for re-election.

Deadline for filing as a candidate in the election is March 1, and absentee voting begins March 10, and ends March 27.

Johnson Likely To Head Space Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas appears likely to head a special committee's search for a national policy on efforts to control outer space.

Johnson was ready to push through the Senate speedily a resolution to set up a 13-member committee. It would be charged with producing by June 1 or shortly thereafter a comprehensive plan to supervise U.S. civilian and military attempts to reach the stars.

Johnson's proposal had the backing of Sen. Knowland (Calif), the Senate Republican leader.

Although Johnson has made no public commitments, he was represented as favoring a civilian-controlled agency patterned after the Atomic Energy Commission but with even greater latitude in developing rocket weapons.

Senate aides reported that lobbying pressure already is building up to give control of the program to the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, to the AEC, to the Defense Department and to the Air Force.

The proposed special committee seems likely to be composed of veteran senators. Its seven Democratic and six Republican members would be drawn from six regular Senate committees.

Besides Johnson, Democrats mentioned for appointment included Senators Hayden of Arizona, Russell of Georgia, Fulbright of Arkansas, McClellan of Arkansas, Magnuson of Washington and Anderson of New Mexico.

Republicans may include Senators Bridges of New Hampshire, Saltonstall of Massachusetts, Wiley of Wisconsin, Mundt of South Dakota, Bricker of Ohio and Hickenlooper of Iowa.

President Eisenhower told his news conference Secretary of Defense McElroy will boss the military space programs while a group of scientists working under Dr. James M. Killian Jr. drafts a program for non-military space exploration.

United Fund Plans Supper

A covered dish supper has been scheduled by the Scurry County United Fund for its annual membership meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

The meeting will be held in the high school cafeteria, and members have been urged to attend, with each couple taking a covered dish with meat, vegetables, salad or dessert, with the dish being enough to feed five to six persons. Bread and drink will be furnished.

The United Fund is preparing for about 300 persons.

At the meeting, a number of persons will be honored with awards for work done in the 1957 campaign, which exceeded its goal.

A member of the United Fund is any person who contributed to the fund in the 1957 campaign.

Ten directors will be elected at the meeting. That is one-third of the board of directors. A list of nominees will be presented by a nominating committee.

A board meeting will be held following that meeting, and officers for 1958 will be elected.

Youth Finds Money Tree

BROOKLYN, Wis. (AP) — A 16-year-old farm boy walking home from school spent a pleasant hour picking money off trees.

And the Brooklyn State Bank is grateful.

Seems that a mail pouch bearing $13,500 consigned to the bank was tossed from a nonstop Chicago & North Western train, but instead of landing on the station platform was sucked under the speeding wheels.

The mishap went unnoticed in this community of about 500 until Warren Fleisman started walking home along the tracks. He saw some green paper on underbrush along the right of way. Money. He picked up a bundle—$20 bills.

Presently Warren walked back to the village and talked it over with the village marshal. They both went back and walked along the tracks.

The two between them found $13,485 of the missing $13,500.

Publishers Demand Action To Protect 'Right To Know'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Newspaper Publishers Assn. today called for congressional action "to preserve for the people their right to know what their public servants are doing."

The ANPA endorsed proposed legislation that would prevent government officials from using the language of a 1789 law dealing with the handling of records to give them the blanket right to withhold information to which the public is entitled.

The ANPA views were contained in a statement by Col. J. Hale Steinman for presentation to the House Government Information subcommittee headed by Rep. Moss (D-Calif.) Steinman is publisher of the Lancaster (Pa.) Intelligencer-Journal and New Era, and chairman of the ANPA Federal Laws Committee.

Similar views were expressed in prepared testimony by James S. Pope of Louisville, Ky., representing the Southern Newspaper Publishers Assn., and by Clark Mollenhoff of Washington, speaking for the professional journalistic fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi.

Pope, executive editor of the Courier Journal and Louisville Times, said people in a democracy must have access to information so they can govern themselves properly. He said there should be more "top public," and less top secret, government information.

Mollenhoff, Washington correspondent for Cowles publications, said Congress should "stop being a third-rate division of government and insist on the right to write the laws and have them properly administered."

Steinman said government heads have distorted the intent of a law passed in the administration of George Washington and designed as a "housekeeping" law concerning the keeping of records and establishment of a filing system.

He said officials use the law in absence of specific statutes as authority for their decisions on what they will make available to the public.

"Such interpretations as to the meaning of the statute have changed the law from authority to keep records and set up filing systems into a claim of authority to keep the filing cabinets locked and the records hidden from the public," Steinman said.

"The ANPA believes favorable action by the Congress on this proposed legislation is the only solution to preserve for the people their right to know what their public servants are doing," he added.

The legislation being considered by the committee would add a line to the law specifically barring its use as authority for withholding information.

New Outbreak Of Violence Flares In New York Schools

NEW YORK (AP) — Violence flared anew in the city school system yesterday, with one schoolboy monitor being beaten and another stabbed. The assaults occurred in Manhattan and the Bronx.

The outbreaks followed by a day a plan by Mayor Robert F. Wagner and the City Board of Education to curb crime in the city's nearly 900 public schools. In recent weeks a rash of rapes, hoodlumism, assaults and knifings has led to posting of policemen at 41 public schools. Both Negroes and whites have been involved.

Although only a small percentage of the city's million pupils have been involved, the wave of lawlessness has touched off a continuing dispute between the Board of Education and the special Brooklyn grand jury probing crime in the schools.

As part of the plan to curb school crime, Dr. William Jansen, superintendent of schools, and Charles H. Silver, president of Board of Education, go to the state capitol at Albany today to seek more state aid for education here.

In major incidents, 16-year-old Frank Sloan, who is white, was beaten by three other students, all Negroes, in the lunchroom of the George Washington High School in Manhattan. Sloan, a student monitor, assertedly was attacked after directing three classmates to pick up paper they had thrown on the floor, and also barring them from the girls' section of the cafeteria.

Sloan was taken to a hospital suffering from a brain concussion.

Two of his alleged assailants, both 15, were booked on juvenile delinquency charges. The third, George Addison, 16, was held on a charge of felonious assault.

In Brooklyn, Domestic Relations Court Justice Justine Wise Polier accused the grand jury of seeking "to impose their opinions upon and usurp the authority" of the board. Justice Polier told an American Jewish Congress meeting that the jurors "have convinced themselves that a policeman in every school is the one and only answer to our critical situation, and that anyone who dares to differ is either a knave or a fool."

A 19-year-old girl student at Brooklyn College was robbed of $2 by a young man who followed her into a rest room on the ground floor of one of the college buildings. The victim, Rosalie Waltzer, and the robber are white.

Part Of Vanguard Wreckage Found

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Some wreckage from the destruction of a Vanguard rocket Wednesday has been recovered near the launching site, it was learned today.

The nature of the material was not disclosed. Parts of the big missile were found on the sand flats not far from the Vanguard launch stand.

There also were reports that some debris had been recovered from shallow waters just off Cape Canaveral.

Navy Vanguard experts were going over the material closely, seeking clues to the cause of the spectacular blowup.

A ton of hot metal rained down from about 20,000 feet when the 72-foot rocket, with a small satellite, broke apart a minute after its launching.

Two more Vanguard test vehicles are on hand here, ready for assembly when the Navy decides to conduct another launching.

The Navy said, however, there would be no new launching date until data gathered from the latest ill-fated flight has been analyzed in part.

The Army also has another four-stage Jupiter-C rocket available at the missile test center for another attempt to launch another satellite.

There are indications that the next attempt by the Army, probably weeks away, may include a satellite larger and more fully instrumented than Explorer I, launched into its orbit Jan. 31.

The Naval Research Laboratory at Washington blamed the failure of its second Vanguard rocket on a faulty control system governing the first-stage engine.

This failure, the Navy said, caused the engine to deflect sharply to the right and "the resultant abnormally high forces caused the rocket to break in the middle."

Youth Gets Gyroscope For Rocket

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—A lad with a persuasive pen and an eye to the space future got his wish today. For 15-year-old Richard Harkness, it was a big step toward the world of tomorrow.

Last August, the Springer Junior High School student decided to build a rocket guidance system, but he lacked money — a matter of about $1,000 for a gyroscope, the basic control element of a rocket.

Richard sat down and wrote a letter to Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co., manufacturers of automatic flight control systems.

Honeywell found a gyroscope of the kind the company made until 1952 for bombers.

Today, the gyroscope, in perfect working order, was turned over to Richard by Robert L. Luban, Philadelphia area service engineer for Honeywell's Aeronautical Division.

Electronics — particularly as it applies to missiles and rockets — has been Richard's hobby since he was 10. He's already designed a selective parachute ejection system and a telemetering system centered around a radiosonde, a weather transmitting system.

Recently, he attempted to launch a two-foot solid fuel rocket, but the missile became stuck in the launching device. With his new gyroscope he hopes to have better luck with a new five-foot rocket.

So far the rocket, a maze of intricate parts when assembled, has cost him only $15. Still in the drawing board stage is a six-foot job. Richard plans to launch it with solid fuel, and if all goes well, the nose cone, equipped with a 69-cent camera rigged to take pictures, will split off and parachute back to earth.

Indonesians Think Government Strong

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesian officials expressed increasing confidence today that an opposition government will not be proclaimed in Sumatra before President Sukarno returns from Japan.

"There are indications the sumatra forces are not as strong as we anticipated," a foreign office spokesman said.

A dissident group of military commanders centered at Padang, on the big west Indonesian island of Sumatra, has defied the Central government in Jakarta for more than a year.

Snyder Soldier Completes Course

Pvt. Ronald R. Hollister of Snyder has recently completed an eight-week finance procedures course at the Army's Finance School at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

Hollister is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Hollister, 2408 Twenty-seventh Street.

More Study Planned On Lottery Law

AUSTIN (AP)—New questions popped up today concerning Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's ruling on give-away tickets for drawings.

Wilson said he did not want to comment on what others said about the recent ruling. He said he planned to study the ruling. Tarrant County Dist. Atty. Howard Fender said the ruling was "hypersensitive and picayunish."

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade of Dallas said the ruling would cause no quick change in his official attitude.

Asked whether newspapers, radio and television might be considered as participating in so-called lotteries because of advertisements about the business boosting plans, Wilson said he did not know.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Cecil Rotsch, who wrote the opinion, said his study did not enter into the advertising of such lotteries. The opinion said:

"It is lottery and a violation of the law when a merchant issues tickets to customers—or gives them free to everyone—and later holds a drawing to give away prizes of value to the winner or winners."

CITIZENSHIP SPEAKERS—First elimination in the Junior High School citizenship speech contest sponsored by the junior high school student council and speech department was held yesterday morning. The 10 girls above and one other girl who became ill before the picture was made are to vie with each in semi-final eliminations next Monday and three winners will be selected Feb. 14. Pictured seated from left are: Jeanette Buswell, Rita Margaret Hanback, Judy Rogers and Chere Phillips. Standing from left are Connie Koonce, Becky Lewallen, Donna Shearer, Mary Peebles, Dawnel Wells and Donna Lenoir. The other winner yesterday was Frances Martin. The trophies on the table will be awarded to the winners of the first three places in the contest. (Lee Watson photograph)

Elimination Contest Held Wednesday At Junior High

The annual citizenship speech contest in the Snyder Junior High School sponsored by the school's speech department and student council is being held this week and next week.

Jimmy Linch and Colleen Soles, speech teachers, are in charge of the contest.

A total of 21 students participated in the first elimination contest held yesterday morning at the school.

Eleven of the students advanced to the semi-final contest which will be held next Monday, at which time five finalists will be selected. The finals in the contest will be held Feb. 14.

Subject of all three to five minute long speeches is citizenship, and each student must write his own speech. General material for the speech must be original, but quotations may be used, and only note cards may be used for prompting on stage. To participate each student had to have a "B" average or better in classwork.

The speeches are judged on originality, content, organization, delivery, stage presence and general effectiveness.

Miss Soles said that civic clubs are urged to request some of the students to present their speeches as portions of the civic club luncheon programs here next week. Any civic club or other organization desiring some of the students for program presentation may contact members of the junior high school speech department, or the administrative office of the school.

Vegetable Flavors

A sprinkle of sugar added to vegetables during cooking helps to restore the natural flavor balance, says Margaret Spader, home service editor. Many vegetables are rich in sugar when they are freshly picked. Between picking and processing some of the sweet taste is lost. Miss Spaker suggests the use of only ¼ teaspoon of sugar for one package of frozen vegetables such as peas, spinach or green beans will make a big difference. Cooking the vegetables fast over a high flame, in a small amount of water or salad oil helps to preserve the original color and texture.

Don't Overcook Fish

The burner is perfect for cooking delicate fish dishes. The instant you turn the flame off, cooking stops and there isn't a chance of overcooking. You can tell when fish is cooked — it flakes easily when tested with a fork. If cooked beyond that point, the flesh becomes tough, dry and chewy.

4-H Club Members Competing For Expense Paid Trips

Scurry County 4-H Club members, 14 years of age and over have been invited to compete with club members from all over Texas for 148 expense-paid trips to state and national 4-H Club events in the Texas 4-H Club Junior Leadership program, it was announced by Floyd Lynch, State 4-H Club leader.

There are at least 35 girls competing here, of which the best record will be selected for district competition.

The Junior leadership activity is being sponsored for the ninth consecutive year by United Gas in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Similar programs are sponsored by the company in Louisiana and Mississippi.

A folder outlining details of the program is now being distributed to 4-H Club members throughout Texas by Agricultural and home demonstration agents, Mr. Lynch said.

Two boys and two girls, selected as outstanding junior leaders, will be awarded trips to Washington, D. C., as Texas delegates to the National 4-H Club Conference in June.

In August, three boys and three girls will be selected from each of the 12 Agricultural Extension Districts, as delegates to the Texas 4-H Club Junior Leadership Training Laboratory to be held at Bastrop State Park. Trips will be awarded to 12 Junior Leaders from other counties on a basis of outstanding leadership as demonstrated in 4-H Club work.

One boy and one girl will be selected for trips to the American Youth Foundation Leadership Training Camps at Shelby, Mich., in August. Twenty-nine delegates to the Texas 4-H Council will have their expenses paid for an annual meeting and other special activities during the year. Travel and other expenses of the delegates selected to participate in these activities are paid by United Gas.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

NOT BEING TOO close to the scene, we're not in a position to offer any pros and cons on Mike McClellan turning up at Oklahoma University.

That's a lot of "bunk" though in the report that Mike won't play football at OU. McLellan will most assuredly prove that he wasn't "induced" to transfer from Baylor to OU by the Sooner coaches, students or alumni.

If he can prove this then there wouldn't be much for Baylor Coach Sam Boyd to do but give the Stamford speedster his release.

In speculating over this case, we can see why McClellan would want to transfer to OU. He saw a very good Baylor team finish in the cellar in the Southwest Conference last season. The Bears did not win a single conference game although they did gain one tie.

We imagine Mike thought if a team that good couldn't win a game in conference play, then the SWC isn't for me.

His thoughts then probably turned to OU where their schedule is not near so tough and where he could gain some recognition in spite of the weak schedule of the Sooners.

Coaches Probably Not Guilty

We don't believe that Coach Bud Wilkinson of the Sooners or any member of his staff tampered with McClellan while Mike was enrolled at Baylor but we do believe the alumni and or students might have done some "recruiting" in this case.

Oklahoma has said she won't play Mike if Baylor doesn't release him but we doubt this very much. Under any circumstances, McClellan will have to lay out next fall because of the transfer rule.

The District 1-AAA basketball race is in pretty much of a mess at the moment.

Hereford took over the league leadership Tuesday night with a 68-61 win over defending champion Phillips. This gave Hereford a 4-1 conference record and dropped Phillips into a second place tie with Dumas at 3-2.

You can see that this race is far from settled.

Hereford and Phillips didn't follow the form chart in this home court business. Tuesday's game was played in Phillips. Earlier in the season, Phillips had defeated Hereford at Hereford.

Hereford boasts one of the tallest teams in the state. Three of the five Whiteface starters are 6-4 or above. And, to make matters worse (for the opposition) is that all three were starters last season, meaning, of course, that all are well experienced.

Tornadoes Are "Primed"

Word out of Lamesa has it that the Tornadoes are "laying" for the Tigers Friday night.

In Wednesday's Lamesa Reporter, it said:

"Playing the role of giant-killer is a favorite sport of the Tornadoes who now hold the key to the eventual winner of District 3-AAA."

The Tornadoes, a dangerous outfit despite their record, will have everything to gain and nothing to lose in tomorrow's game.

It all boils down that the Tigers will have to be at their best to emerge victorious tomorrow night.

Several members of the Optimist-Boys Club boxing team will compete in the Regional Golden Gloves Tournament in Brownwood this weekend. The tournament starts tonight.

Brownwood's regional director extended a cordial invitation to the Snyder team during last week's Golden Gloves tournament at Abilene.

There are some promising mittmen on the local team. The Snyder lads were hindered somewhat in last week's tourney at Abilene because they were all bunched in the same weights.

In the middleweight division, four of the six boys entered were from Snyder. It was almost imperative then that Snyder boys would be fighting each other in some of the fights. And in one case when two Snyderites were pitted to fight each other, they refused because they were "close buddies."

Some local matches are in the planning stage at the moment.

Williams Signs For 125 Grand

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams today signed a one-year contract for a reported $125,000 to continue his role as baseball's highest paid player.

The 39-year-old outfielder agreed to terms for his 17th season with the Red Sox in a friendly meeting with General Manager Joe Corinin.

As usual, neither Williams nor Cronin would disclose the amount Ted will be paid for the season. However, best guesses were that he received a $25,000 boost over last year.

Queen's Win Streak Now Stands At 120

PLAINVIEW (AP)—Wayland College's Flying Queens have run their winning streak to 120 straight games and are confident they'll capture 13 more this season to make their all-time National AAU record even more awesome.

Four times champions of the AAU and going through their fifth season without defeat, the Queens face probably their strongest opposition of the current campaign Friday and Saturday nights when they clash with Iowa Wesleyan College here. The Queens beat Iowa Wesleyan by only three points in the AAU finals last year.

But unlike most coaches, Harley Redin of the Flying Queens expresses little worry. In fact, he says he thinks his girls will win the games all right and he can see little reason to think they won't finish out the season undefeated.

"I have a better team than I had last year," he says flatly. And last year's team it was what set the all-time AAU record when the girls ran their streak to 104. That was two more than Hanes Hosiery of Winston-Salem, N.C., won in 1951-52-53.

The 1957 team lost two All Americans but it didn't weaken the Flying Queens. "The others got more experience and that made up for it," he explained.

The team this year hasn't come close to losing. Iowa Wesleyan held the Queens to a 9-point margin and Midland Jewelers of Kansas City to 8 for the narrowest victories.

After Iowa Wesleyan the strongest team left on the schedule will be Nashville Business College but, Redin figures they'll be no tougher than Iowa Wesleyan, if as as tough. Iowa Wesleyan beat Nashville Business College twice.

There are nine games left on the regular schedule and the Queens will play four in the National AAU at St. Joseph, Mo., in tough. Iowa Wesleyan beat Nashville Business College twice.

There are nine games left on the regular schedule and the Queens will play four in the National AAU at St. Joseph, Mo., in March.

They're called the Flying Queens because they make their trips in planes furnished by Claude Hutcherson, who operates a flying service here.

Wartes To Succeed Wood At Stamford

STAMFORD (AP)—Larry Wartes was named yesterday to succeed Gordon Wood as head football coach at Stamford High School.

Wood is leaving Monday to take a similar job at Victoria, Tex. Wartes, 28, has been his assistant and basketball coach here since 1955.

Change Seen In Schoolboy Track Setup

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

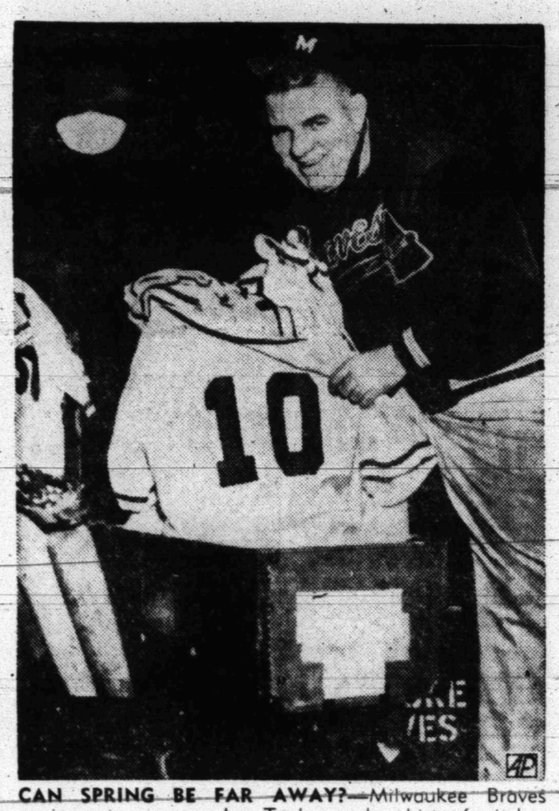

Track is one of the nonpaying sports but it never loses its popularity. In Texas it appears to be gaining with each year. Most football coaches like for their boys to go out for track, considering it a great developer.

In the smaller schools you'll find the starting backfield many times to be the sprint relay team. The speed, stamina and determination produced by this individual sport makes for good football.

Indicating the increase in interest is the referendum that will be conducted by the Interscholastic League in April. The league members will be asked if they want five state meets instead of three. If it passes, the new plan would not be inaugurated until 1959.

There are now state meets in Classes AA, A and B. The AAAA and AAA classes are thrown together under AA, the AA class becomes A and the A and B classes become B. Under the plan to be voted upon in April there will be state meets in AAAA, AAA, AA, A and B. Thus track will be given the same status as football and basketball, with races in each class.

The purpose is to equalize better—to allow a school to compete in its own class. Most of the objection to the present setup has come from the AAA schools. They claim they have little chance against AAAA schools.

CAN SPRING BE FAR AWAY?—Milwaukee Braves equipment manager Joe Taylor packs shirt of pitcher Bob Buhl in a trunk for shipment to the world champion's training camp at Bradenton, Fla. Haney Confident Braves Will Repeat

Fourth of a series of articles written by major league managers evaluating their pennant chances for 1958.

By FRED HANEY

LOS ANGELES (AP)—I think the Milwaukee Braves can win again.

I believe the 1958 club will be stronger than the one which won the National League pennant and beat the New York Yankees in the 1957 World Series.

First of all, we don't figure to have the number of injuries we had last season. Secondly, our pitching staff should be just as strong, if not stronger. Thirdly, any team that goes through a season, as we did last year with young players, has added experience to help it.

I am quite satisfied with the team as it finished last year but we may need a little stronger hitting bench. Much, of course, depends upon the condition of Bill Bruton, who underwent a knee operation during the winter. The doctors say he will be all right.

The winter's rest should bring Joe Adcock back to normal again. As you know, he broke his leg during mid-season and he was back in the lineup in September, he wasn't himself.

I believe the acquisition of Bob Rush and Don Kaiser from Chicago will help our pitching staff. I've also heard fine reports on Carleton Willey and Joe Jay, both of whom had outstanding seasons with our Wichita farm team. And you've probably noticed how Juan Pizarro has been burning up the Puerto Rican League this winter.

Rush has been around for some time but he's still only 32, and can still fire the ball. A change in scenery could make him outstanding. Kaiser's potential is still questionable but he's young and can throw hard.

Of course, we still have Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette, Gene Conley, Bob Buhl and Bob Trowbridge as starters, along with Ernie Johnson, Don McMahon and Phil Paine heading the bullpen corps.

Yes, I think we'll do all right for pitchers, and I am well satisfied with our catching. Del Crandall did a fine job handling the pitchers last season, and Del Rice is an excellent man behind the plate. Carl Sawatski gives us additional punch there.

I don't expect any infield worries either. At first base we should be able to start with a sound Adcock and a greatly improved Frank Torre. The rest of the infield is set with Red Schoendienst at second, Johnny Logan at short and Eddie Mathews at third. Felix Mantilla and Casey Wise, obtained from Chicago will give us adequate protection in case of injuries.

If Bruton is fit, the outfield will consist of Hank Aaron in right, Wes Covington in left and Bruton in center. Then there's reliable Andy Pofko, Bob Hazle, who had a wonderful rookie year, and rookie Ray Shearer, who batted .316, hit 29 home runs and drove in 110 runs with Wichita last year.

New Aggie Coach To Be Introduced

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Jim Myers, new head coach and athletic director at Texas A&M, will be introduced formally Feb. 15 at the annual winter sports dinner.

Also due to be presented at the event honoring Aggie football and cross-country squad members is Earl Rudder, who recently became A&M vice president.

Iba Wins 500th At Okla. State

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Hank Iba, the Iron Duke who teaches his kids tough, close-to-the-vest basketball, has his 500th victory at Oklahoma State packed away as the Cowboys continue their run for an NCAA Tournament "at-large" berth.

Oklahoma State whipped the Tulsa Hurricane 64-46 last night.

Western Kentucky's Ed Diddle and Kentucky's Adolph Rupp are the only other active coaches who have won 500 at one school.

Diddle has a 673-231 record for 36 years at Western Kentucky while Rupp has won 575, lost 101 in 28 years at Kentucky.

Iba ranks No. 2, behind Diddle, in games won with a 612-176 record for his 29 years with Maryville (Mo.), Colorado and Oklahoma State. He has lost 154 in his 24 years with the Cowboys.

Oklahoma State, ranked sixth in this week's Associated Press poll, pushed its season record to 14-2, behind the 28-point work of Arlen Clark.

Temple (15-2) was the only other member of the top 10 in action. The Owls extended their winning streak to 14, longest among the majors, with a 72-48 breeze past Duquesne. Guy Rodgers had one of his best game for the 10th ranked Owls, scoring 25 points.

Bradley, rated No. 11, gained a 13-3 record with a 71-58 decision over Arizona.

Dayton, the winningest club among the nation's top 20, picked up a 17-2 record with a 64-62 overtime squeeker against Miami of Ohio. Don Lane broke a 62-62 regulation tie in the first minute of the overtime, and when Miami missed a return shot, the 14th ranked Flyers turned to control ball for the rest of the session.

It wasn't the only close one last night. Larry Rauppius' one-hander gave Richmond a 67-65 overtime decision at Georgetown (DC). Two free throws by George Carter with 36 seconds left capped a second half comeback for a 67-66 Iona victory over Loyola of Chicago. John Andareise and John Brady combined for five points in overtime as Fordham defeated Providence 54-52. Little Wagner, using a zone that held Boo Ellis to nine points, beat Niagara 50-48 on Harry Orlando's last-second jump shot. And Penn State beat Penn 71-70 on Wally Colender's shot with five seconds left.

Jon Cincebox scored 31 points as Syracuse junked Army's winning string at four, 75-68. Navy's Jim Bower scored 32 and triggered a late push that rapped Columbia 91-69.

Austin C. Is Winningest Team In Texas

SHERMAN (AP)—The winningest senior college basketball team in Texas is a school that doesn't have athletic scholarships and is a key member of the Church College Amateur Athletic Assn.

Austin College has a record of 13 victories against only 3 losses and has hopes of representing Texas in the NAIA Tournament at Kansas City.

The only teams Austin College has lost to are Texas Christian, Sam Houston State and East Texas State and the Kangaroos evened the count against the latter two.

Austin College beat Midwestern three times, Mississippi College twice, Abilene Christian twice and East Texas, Sam Houston, Pemex Oilers of Mexico City, Henderson State, Texas Wesleyan and Carthage, Ill., College once each.

Coach Floyd Gass—who played his basketball at Oklahoma State—doesn't have much height on his team but the Kangaroos make up for that with hustle, fight and skill.

Ray Smith and Bob Landolt, the guards, are only 5-feet-9 and 5-10 respectively. Loyal Cardwell, the center, is the "giant" of the team—he's 6-6. The forwards are Chester Story, 6-4, and Gerald Blankenship, 6-2.

It's the best team Austin College ever had, boasting a better record than the Kangaroo outfit that won the Texas Conference title years ago.

Friday and Saturday the Kangaroos play Corpus Christi at Corpus Christi and Monday they tangle with Texas Lutheran. By winning those games they'll qualify for the playoff with the winner of the Western section in Texas to determine a representative in the NAIA at Kansas City.

McClellan Turns Up At OU But He 'Won't' Play Football

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Mike McClellan, the freshman football and track star Coach Sam Boyd of Baylor charges was grabbed away from him through questionable tactics, has enrolled at Oklahoma. But he won't compete in athletics there if Oklahoma coaches do what Boyd says they told him they would do.

The controversy over the 177-pound halfback in football and sprinter in track still seethed today, especially at Baylor where Boyd refused to certify that McClellan wasn't filched. And the coach also questioned the ethics of Oklahoma in not notifying him the boy wanted to go there in the first place.

McClellan enrolled at Oklahoma yesterday—two days after he got his release from Baylor. And Gomar Jones, line coach at Oklahoma, added fuel to the rhubarb when he telephoned Boyd asking for a letter stating McClellan was released from his athletic scholarship, had left Baylor of his own free will and hadn't been actively recruited.

Boyd said he refused to write such a letter and that at the same time questioned the ethics involved. Boyd declared that Jones told him "people at Oklahoma had known for weeks that McClellan intended to seek to enroll for the second semester."

Boyd said Oklahoma should have notified him but that head coach Bud Wilkinson hadn't done so although he had seen the coach at the NCAA convention in Philadelphia several times. "What else could I think but that he didn't want to mention it?" Boyd said he asked Jones.

Wilkinson, who is on the West Coast, hasn't been heard from directly but Boyd said Jones quoted Wilkinson as saying that unless Baylor came through with the statement that McClellan wasn't stolen, the boy wouldn't be taken into athletics at Oklahoma.

Meanwhile, Gordon Wood, McClellan's high school coach at Stamford, Tex., said he had talked to Wilkinson and that this had paved the way for the admission of the boy to Oklahoma.

Wood declared he made the call to Wilkinson in California Saturday at the request of McClellan and that it was done "only after it appeared Mike had definitely made up his mind to leave Baylor."

Wood added that he twice had tried to talk McClellan out of leaving Baylor, the first time last Christmas. Then Friday he talked to the boy at the request of McClellan's mother. "I hadn't talked to him 30 seconds when I realized there was no way he would stay," Wood said.

HOT POTATO SALAD IS VARIATION OF GERMAN RECIPE

It's A Chilly Day? Surprise Family With A Hot Salad

With Texas' usual balmy temperatures, salads are usually considered as cold and crisp. But the downright chilly weather of these winter months calls for a different approach to salads.

Hot salads add a warming accent to the dinner menu and yet can be crisp and colorful. Here are some unusual combinations, ready to fit into winter menus.

Some are casseroles, masquerading under another name, but they can be enjoyed as tart maindish ideas with a different look.

SARDINES, MACARONI SHELLS MAKE SALAD

4 ounces small macaroni shells
2 teaspoons salt
1¼ cups drained sardine pieces (2¾ ounce cans)
2 hard cooked eggs, chopped
⅓ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons minced pimiento
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon garlic salt
Dash of pepper
½ cup mayonnaise
Bread crumbs
Paprika

Add macaroni and two teaspoons salt to 3 cups boiling water. Boil rapidly, stirring constantly for 2 minutes. Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 10 minutes.

Combine sardines, eggs celery, pimiento, lemon juice, salt, garlic salt and pepper. Rinse macaroni with warm water and drain well. Add to sardine mixture.

Add mayonnaise and toss lightly. Turn into lightly greased 1½-quart casserole. Sprinkle with bread crumbs and paprika. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 20 to 25 minutes. Serve warm.

Or if desired, salad may be served cold. Omit bread crumbs and chill for at least 1 hour before serving. Makes 4 servings.

1 tablespoon chopped parsley
½ to 1 teaspoon curry powder
Salt and pepper to taste
½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
6 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs
6 thin slices lemon
Paprika

Mix all ingredients except crumbs, lemon slices and paprika. (Use a light touch so that salmon will stay in coarse flakes.) Spoon into 6 greased baking shells or ramekins.

Sprinkle with crumbs. Top each portion with a lemon slice. Dust with paprika. Bake at 400 degrees F. for 20 to 35 minutes or until bubbly and browned. Makes 6 servings.

Trim edges. Fill pans with chick- circles with a three-inch cookie cutter. Scallop by hand, if desired.

Place pastry rings on pies; press edges together with floured fork. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 25 minutes, or until pastry is golden salad mixture. Roll out remaining pastry ⅛ inch thick.

OUR VIEW

There's Plenty Of Room

The Explorers and the Sputniks present exciting news these days, but they cannot completely erase some competitors for the public's attention.

Putting an earth satellite into outer space is a startling scientific achievement. Yet there are signs on every hand that mankind has not learned to use the earth properly.

Kidnapings, murders, fires and explosions, representing violence of types well-known for many years continue to take a heavy toll in lives and property.

There is rejoicing, tempered somewhat by knowledge that it should have been much better when we discover that the traffic death toll in the United States was three per cent lower in 1957 than in 1956.

We take pride in our miracle drugs. Yet, when we are told that the best single inoculation against the common cold is effective against only 30 per cent of the known viruses which cause colds.

There's still room for scientific achievement in a variety of fields.

More Optimism Is Needed

If you believe in economic cycles, it is unlikely that you are unduly alarmed over current talk about a "recession."

Sam Dawson, the Associated Press business writer, recalled the other day that 1958 is starting off business-wise much as 1948 did.

Ten years ago businessmen were complaining about shrinking profit margins, rising labor costs and other factors which affect business generally, ranging from turmoil overseas to ridiculous styles for women's clothing.

Virtually the same news stories which appeared in 1948, with a few changes in facts and figures, are appearing today, Dawson noted.

The economy bounced back, of course, and soared to new heights. A wave of optimism ensued. It can happen again, and perhaps the bounce would come sooner if the optimism started early.

Art Patrons Get A Break On Taxes

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — One nice way to save a whopping chunk on your income tax is to have (A) a lot of income to start with and (B) some object of art, like an expensive painting.

The rest is simple. For example, take Mortimer Mistletoe, a fat cat with an income of a million dollars a year.

Like everyone else he's allowed to deduct up to 20 per cent of his taxable income for charitable contributions, provided he actually gave that much to charity. For Mortimer that 20 per cent deduction on a million-dollar income would be $200,000.

But Mortimer's trouble was that he never gave $200,000 a year to charity. In fact, he never managed to hand out more than 10 per cent—or $100,000—of his one million that way.

He'd still like to find some way to deduct the maximum $200,000 allowed him. Then he hits on an idea which the Internal Revenue Service has approved. It's an idea which already may be at work in some art museum you visit.

This is what Mortimer does. He has some paintings worth a million dollars. He decides to let some public art gallery have the use of them for part of the year.

But for deeding the pictures to the gallery for a tenth of a year he can knock a tenth of their worth off his income tax for that year. Since they're worth a million dollars, that would be $100,000.

What happens next year? He can repeat the dose, giving the gallery an added tenth ownership of his pictures, and so on year after year until he has taken off as tax deduction the one million dollars the pictures were worth originally.

The Internal Revenue Service doesn't give out information on how many rich people—with expensive paintings—are doing just this. But a number have done and are doing it.

Parking Is Big Problem

By WILLIAM FERRIS
Associated Press Writer

Where can I find a place to park?

That plaintive question comes daily from millions who drive into the city as America's transportation revolution gathers speed.

The private automobile's skyrocketing popularity has nowhere produced more problems than in metropolitan areas. Related to it is the sick situation of public transportation, both in the big city and its suburbs.

There are fewer and fewer people like Toledo's Al Smith, an office worker, who says: "If I drove to work, I'd have to pay for parking. The bus gets me to work in 25 minutes. I came here from New York and, believe me, 25 minutes seems like nothing."

Some cities encourage private industry to build parking lots. Others, such as Chicago, build municipal lots. Chicago has 48 city garages and parking lots.

Washington, St. Louis, Miami, Columbus and Chicago are among cities with "park and ride" plans. Parking lots are established near mass transportation lines and motorists are expected to drive to the lot, park all day and use mass transportation to get downtown.

Boston is seeking a subterranean garage under Boston Common in the heart of the city. Cleveland is attempting to induce private capital to build a garage under its public mall.

Los Angeles has a new law that no new building can be constructed in the downtown area without providing for parking by its occupants.

Other cities are going off in a different direction: keep the private automobile out of the downtown areas.

New Orleans is working on a plan to exclude traffic from a large part of its business district, allowing only pedestrians. Indianapolis is considering eliminating traffic on four diagonal avenues in the center of town. One objective of a New Haven three-year plan is the exclusion of parking in a mile-square central section of the city.

Muses O. W. Campbell, county manager of Dade County, Miami, Fla., says: "Someday the automobile may well be as outmoded downtown as the horse and buggy."

It often happens that the new highways cities are building create still newer problems.

In Philadelphia, for example, the Schuylkill Expressway, which will be finished in about a year, and the Delaware River Expressway, which has not yet been started, will each be able to carry traffic toward downtown at the rate of 4,500 cars an hour. But there is no center street downtown capable of handling more than 1,200 cars an hour.

A few cities — New Orleans is one — are toying with the idea of monorail. This scheme would transport people in 60 passenger coaches above streets.

To combat the growing stagnation of the downtown area, Rochester, N.Y., has a plan of loop highways. Robert Aex, city manager, says, "The shortest distance between two points is still a straight line but the fastest way to get from one point to another in a central city is via a circle."

One highway — the inner loop—circles around the heart of downtown Rochester. It will be completed by 1960. An outer loop, under construction, will surround the city at its fringe. Highways called "connectors" will link the inner and outer loops.

The bus as a mode of mass transportation is not popular. Numerous bus lines, particularly in suburban areas, have folded in recent years. Recent abandonments include lines in Maywood, Ill.; Port Chester, N.Y.; Coatesville, Pa.; Gainesville, Tex.; Lawrence, Kan.; and Hannibal, Mo. There have been lots more.

In Los Angeles the Los Angeles Transit Lines is carrying 230 million fewer passengers a year than in its peak year of 1947. Detroit Street Railways has suffered a 66 per cent decline in passengers in 10 years.

George Anderson, executive vice president of the American Transit Assn., doesn't think the situation of motor vehicle mass transportation is quite as bleak as it appears. He notes an increase in the use of such transportation in Cleveland.

Tomorrow: Significance of the jet age in air travel and the vast public highway building program.

Accidents Of All Types Kill 95,000

CHICAGO (AP)—Accidents in the United States last year killed 95,000 persons and injured 9½ million others and resulted in an economic loss of nearly 12 billion dollars.

The National Safety Council, which announced the figures, said the all-accident death rate of 55.8 per 100,000 population was the lowest on record. The previous low was 55.9 in 1954.

The number killed in accidents last year compared with 94,780 in 1956 when the death rate was 56.7. The council said that one out of every 18 persons in the country suffered a disabling injury last year.

Motor vehicle accidents, which accounted for 38,500 deaths last year, retained their traditional role as No. 1 killer. The 1956 toll was 39,628, or 3 per cent higher.

Deaths in home and work accidents declined from the 1956 level. Home accidental deaths dropped 2 per cent of 27,500 and work accident deaths 1 per cent to 14,200.

Public deaths — resulting from catastrophes, fires and railroad and airplane accidents — totaled 18,000, a 13 per cent increase over the 1956 toll.

Last year's over-all accident death rate, 23 per cent under the 1941 rate, was the fourth in the history of accident records to dip below 60.

The estimated economic loss of $11,800,000,000 included wages lost, medical expense, overhead cost of insurance for all accidents, production delays, damage to equipment in work accidents and damage from traffic accidents and fires.

Some 20,700 persons died in falls last year, a 2 per cent increase over 1956. There were 6,700 deaths from burns, 6,700 from drowning and 2,250 from firearm accidents.

Youth Takes Advice Of Father, Robs Bank

PATERSON, N.J. (AP)—A 16-year old boy whose father told him to "go rob a bank" did just that, police said.

The boy and a companion, also 16, were arrested here yesterday. Police said they admitted stealing $36 in cash, a revolver, an electric razor and some foreign coins worth 84 cents from the Prospect Park National Bank earlier in the day.

The father of one of the youths made the unusual admonition, apparently in jest, when his son asked him for some money, police said.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANIMALS

QUESTION: Is a black sheep really bad?

• • •

ANSWER: We often hear the expression "he's the black sheep of the family," meaning the person in question did not turn out as well as his brothers and sisters. They may apply to people, but it certainly doesn't apply to sheep. Among sheep raisers, black sheep are just as highly regarded and sell as well as other sheep. In fact, some farmers regard black sheep as lucky and keep them long after the rest of the herd has been shipped to market. Also, wool from a black sheep is as valuable as from any other kind of sheep.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is a little farm boy trying to catch up with his happily gamboling black lamb. Like many black sheep, this one has become a family pet and rates a pretty ribbon around his fleecy neck. Color this happy scene with your crayons and paste it with others in this series in your scrapbook.

You've heard the old saying that half a loaf is better than none. But when it comes to written contracts, that isn't exactly true.

Oral contracts with some exceptions are perfectly enforceable in court. You make many such contracts in your daily living. When you drive into a filling station and say "Fill'er up!" you've made an oral contract obliging you to pay for the gasoline the attendants put in your tank. Every auction results in many oral contracts of sale. Millions of people are employed on oral contracts.

The trouble with an oral contract is the difficulty of proving its terms if a dispute arises. The court will listen to your version of the contract and to the other fellow's version and then try to reach a decision.

It is best then to put a contract in writing. But here is the danger — be sure you put it all in writing. If the written contract does not contain all of the elements you believe to be in the agreement, the court will not even listen to your version of the agreement. Thus, half a written contract may be worse than none.

For instance, you buy a stove which the saleman says you may return if you don't like it. You sign a conditional sales agreement that does not mention your right to return it. In fact, the fine print on the form says that you agree that on representations have been made about the stove except those written in the contract. If it turns out you don't like the stove, you will have no right to return it, and you can be sued if you fail to pay for it.

For your own protection, read your contracts before you sign and insist on writing in any promises the seller makes to you but does not put in the contract.

Girl, 18, To Seek Custody Of Family

KELLOGG, Idaho (AP) —Teen-aged Leona Moore buried her parents yesterday, then took hold as mother to her seven orphaned brothers and sisters.

A hearing is due here Monday on the 18-year-old Mrs. Moore's request to have legal custody of the children granted her. Their ages range from 2 to 15.

Probate Judge Peter Dufresne indicated he would appoint her as guardian since she is the closest relative.

The teen-ager, married 14 months to Edward Moore, a 28-year-old Lewiston, Idaho, paper worker, is determined to keep the family together. The Moores have no children of their own and plan to get a house for their new family.

Mrs. Moore's parents, Clarence and Donna Larsen, aged 41 and 36, died last Thursday when their car crashed into a telephone pole.

Many residents here have come forward with money, clothing and other gifts.

Two Local Youths Receive Training

Two local youths now in the Army are receiving eight weeks of basic combat training with the Ninth Infantry Division at Fort Carson, Colo.

They are William R. Clanton, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Clanton, 3011 Avenue Y, and Wilborn H. Brumit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland A. Brumit, Route 2, Hermleigh.

Clanton, 18, is a former Snyder High School student. Brumit, 17, is a 1955 graduate of Hobbs High School and was employeed by Hargrove Bros. at Stamford before entering the Army.

Frightened Canines Lured Into Cistern

BELTON, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. D. H. Wilkinson told police that under her house was the "awfullest yapping, whining and howling you ever heard!"

Sonny Blankenship, member of a city crew sent to investigate, found the cause.

Using a rope, Blankenship sent up from the dry 12-foot deep cistern under the home six scared dogs, including the canine temptress that lured them under the house in the first place.

The St. Petersburg, Fla., Independent gives away free copies of its newspaper on any day in which the sun does not shine by 2 p.m. That happens only about four or five times a year.

CASING PULLING RECORD SET—A new record for pulling and recovering casing from abandoned oil wells was set this week by the C. E. Knight & Co. unit above. The record string of 11,672 feet of five and one-half inch casing was pulled from a well near Andrews. Weight of the string of casing was 199,000 pounds. Usually about a week is required to pull casing from a deep well, but the Knight unit completed its job in 20 hours pulling time. Pictured from left above are Mrs. C. E. Knight, owner; R. W. Kay, relief operator; and E. W. Burleson, operator of the unit used. The hydraulic mobile pulling unit is pictured in the background. (Lee Watson photograph)

Representatives from 29 West Texas DE clubs will be on hand at San Angelo to compete in sales demonstration, business speaking, job interview, window display, credit letterwriting and essay contests.

Those from Snyder who will compete in the contests are winners of local contests. They are Shirley Watson, employe of Bennett Office Supply, and J. C. Scott, Jr., employe of J. C. Penney Co., both in sales demonstration; Lee Edelman, employe of Bell's Flower Shop, business speaking; Wayne Marrs, Snyder National Bank, job application and job interview; and Patricia Gage, Dupree Motors, credit letter writing.

Included among contest entries at San Angelo will be a Snyder team of students in a window display judging event.

In addition to trophies, students entering competition will have chances to win awards of $5, $10, and $15.

DE students at San Angelo College will serve as hosts during the activity day program. Seven San Angelo business firms assisted in planning the program and providing a free luncheon for the students attending.

The DE students will attend a "Miss Charm" dance Friday at 8 p.m. The San Angelo College home economics department assisted in planning the social activity for the day.

Students attending other than those entering individaul contests include Lucy Blackshier, Jo Ann Borum, Bobby Melton, Bobby Rodgers, Johnny Starnes, Frank Watts, Totsy Drinkard, Judy Duncan, Virginia Palmer, Jane Shaw, Kenneth Armstrong, Opal Boyd, Jo Hawthorne, Betty Norman, Shirley Payne, Brenda Pittman, Wilma Kirby, Garland Fambro, Jo Savage, Nelda Walker and Gilbert Garcia. Harold Nolte, DE coordinator, will accompany the students.

Cold Curtails Ike Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's cold caused cancellation of one of his engagements today. But two other appointments remained on his schedule.

They are a meeting of the National Security Council and a meeting with a delegation from the American College of Surgeons.

The President, who has been bothered by a sore throat and hoarseness, cancelled plans to attend a breakfast prayer meeting sponsored by the International Council for Christian Leadership. He had agreed to join a group of senators and House members at the early morning session, as he has in other years.

French Admit Halting Ship

PARIS (AP)—France today admitted her warships halted a Polish merchant ship in the Atlantic and searched her for arms bound for the Algerian rebels. However, the ship carried no arms.

A government spokesman declared that France is exercising a "right of legitimate defense" in hailing any ship suspected of carrying arms to the rebels.

This in effect rejected a protest made by Poland over the halting of the 10,000-ton freighter Wisla three days ago as she sailed between Gibraltar and Casablanca. Stanislaw Gajewski, Polish ambassador in Paris, called at the Foreign Ministry and claimed that the French had "violated the freedom of the seas."

After inspecting the Wisla, the French naval units let her continue.

The Polish merchantman was the second Communist ship the French are known to have stopped in less than a month. On Jan. 18, navy units stopped the Casablanca bound 5,800-ton Yugoslav freighter Sovenika off the Algerian coast. She was forced into the port of Oran, where 150 tons of arms and ammunition were confiscated.

Snyder Woman's Firm Sets Record In Oil Field Work

In the traditionally man's world of oil field servicing work, a firm owned and actively managed by a Snyder woman is setting world's records in its type of oil field work.

It is the C. E. Knight & Co., hydraulic casing pulling company, located on the Big Spring highway in south Snyder.

This week the firm broke the known world's record in pulling casing from abandoned oil wells when it pulled a 11,627-foot string of five and one-half inch casing from an abandoned oil well near Andrews. The well was the University BE No. 1, and the work was done for the Humble Oil & Refining Co.

About three years ago C. E. Knight & Co., established a record of over 10,000 feet of recovered casing from a single well. That record was later broken by a Hobbs, N.M., firm however. Again taking the record about one year ago, C. E. Knight & Co. recovered 11,000 feet of casing from an oil well in New Mexico.

Mrs. Knight explains that there is no other known record of more casing having been pulled from an oil well.

Actually the pulling job was something of a record in two respects, the length of the range of casing, and the little time required to do the complete job.

Usually about a week is required to pull that much casing from an oil well, but the Knight unit completed the job of actually pulling and "laying down" the casing in only 20 hours pulling time.

The 11,627 feet of casing weighing 17 pounds per foot, weighed a total of 199,000 pounds.

Typically the casing was cemented at the bottom of the hole, and had to be "shot" to loosen it.

The short time required for the pulling job was necessary because Humble urgently needed the casing for use in another oil well.

"The hydraulic casing pulling is actually a relatively new business," Mrs. Knight says.

She learned the business from her husband, who was killed in a boating accident about two years ago in Lake J. B. Thomas near here.

The firm was established in 1952 by Knight, and has continued to be operated by Mrs. Knight since her husband's death.

The firm provides a complete casing pulling and plugging service operating three truck-mounted rigs which handle work down to 16,000 feet.

Slayer Dies In Electric Chair Today

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—Charlie White, 44, slayer of an elderly rancher, died early today in the electric chair.

White entered the death chamber at 12:01 a.m. and was dead five minutes later.

White answered a soft "No sir" when Warden H. E. Fore asked if he had a last statement. White appeared calm and expressionless as he was strapped into the chair.

Only once did he shake his head and he made no comment.

White maintained all day yesterday he was innocent and never changed his story. He insisted his brother, Calvin, forced him at gunpoint to help bury Felix Heidel, 78, after Calvin strangled the old man with a wire noose.

White was convicted Oct. 19, 1956, of slaying Heidel in August, 1956, near Austin.

Mrs. White won a divorce and custody of their four children, from 6 to 9 years old, last Nov. 29. The judgment ordered White to pay child support until all are 18.

White and his brother, Calvin, were convicted of strangling Heidel with a piece of wire and hiding the body in a shallow grave. Calvin, like Charlie, a two-time ex-convict, died of a heart attack in his jail cell early in 1957.

William Henry Harrison, a Whig, served as President of the United States for only one month before he died in 1841.

Cold Cuts Down Florida Tourists

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Plush vacations in Florida dropped within range of the average tourist this winter as resort hotel operators scraped for business made scarce by bad weather.

Three freezes, wind storms and torrential rains added up to the worst season for tourists within recollection of the Miami Weather Bureau. Business was off 20 per cent.

The bottom was reached yesterday when the mercury plunged to 28.

Swank hotels which formerly charged $50 a day per room and turned away takers have offered rates of $11 to $15 per person, sometimes including breakfast and dinner.

Hotels placed ads in Northern newspapers offering the rare low prices, with extras. One promised that the hotel would pay for the wife's round trip by airplane if a couple would make a reservation for 10 days longer.

The weather, which brings Florida a billion dollar a year tourist business, is blamed almost exclusively for the slowdown. Few think the national business slump has very much to do with it. Some, however, think the opening of swank gambling clubs in Havana, Cuba, only 200 miles south of here, are partly responsible.

The most recent blow from the weather came early this week when temperatures dropped below freezing virtually throughout the Florida resort areas.

But by yesterday afternoon the sun was burning away the cold and wary sunbathers were trickling back to the water.

There are already indications that the bargain vacation rates won't last much longer.

The state hotel commissioner, Richard Edgerton, said hotels are booked solid for the remainder of February and March.

"Unless the bad weather continues, there will be terrific crowds through March and nobody believes the bad weather will continue," Edgerton said.

Aly Khan Is U. N. Delegate

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Pakistan today appointed Prince Aly Khan its permanent representative to the United Nations.

An official announcement said the prince—ex-husband of British society woman Joan Yarde-Buller and actress Rita Hayworth—would have the rank of ambassador. He is currently visiting Prime Minister Malik Firoz Khan Noon in Karachi.

The appointment is in the nature of a consolation prize for the 56-year-old eldest son of the late Aga Khan III. The Aga in his will passed over Aly and named Aly's son Prince Karim to succeed him as head of the Ismaili Moslem sect. The manager of the late Aga's racing stables said the old man wanted his son to carry on his vast turf interests.

Princess Gets Back Clothes, No Money

LONDON (AP)—Princess Alexandra got her stolen clothes back but the thieves kept $4,000 worth of jewelry.

Alexandra, 21-year-old daughter of the Duchess of Kent and cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, stopped for a midnight cup of coffee Sunday after a weekend in the country and somebody swiped her two suitcases from the car.

The luggage turned up yesterday in a railway station.

Kathy, Bing Are Expecting In August

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The new Mrs. Bing Crosby has acknowledged happily that the report is true.

"We are expecting a baby," she said through a studio spokesman yesterday, "and both Bing and I hope that everyone will be as pleased as we are."

The baby is expected to arrive about Aug. 15, the studio said.

The mother-to-be, actress Kathy Grant, 23, and the singer were married last Oct. 24.

Crosby, 53, had four sons by his previous wife, actress Dixie Lee. She died five years ago.
