Bloodhounds Lead Posse To Child's Grave

WEAVERVILLE, Calif. (AP) — Bloodhounds led sheriff's deputies last night to the shallow grave of a 14-year-old girl near Dead Man's Cabin in the wilds of Trinity County.

Sheriff Harold Wilson tentatively identified it as that of Stephanie Bryan, missing since April 28 in Berkeley, where police held a University of California accounting student for investigation of murder.

He is Burton Abbott, a frail 29 year old still under treatment for tuberculosis. He uses the cabin for weekends and has maintained consistently that he was there on a fishing trip the day the girl disappeared.

Last week, in his basement in Alameda, his wife found a red leather purse which was identified as belonging to Stephanie. Police subsequently unearthed other personal effects of the girl in the unpaved basement.

The remote cabin near Hayfork on the Trinity River, 50 miles west of Red Bluff on U.S. Highway 101, was just one of the many leads which Abbott's entry into the case opened up for police. Numerous excavations were made around the cabin last week by police and FBI men.

Last night Deputy Sheriff Harold Jackson led a party of searchers and the two bloodhounds from the cabin, which has a grisly history because of a murder committed here in 1948.

The party first scoured the area where the previous murder had taken place, then turned to the side of the creek where the cabin stands.

The two bloodhounds led the party to a shallow grave about a foot deep in a clump of manzanita bushes on a ridge back of the cabin.

The clothing on the body apparently had been torn by animals. The clothes looked like those Stephanie was wearing the day she vanished on the way home from school—a blue-green skirt, brown and white saddle shoes and a maroon upper garment.

In Berkeley, Abbott's arrest at his home was the first time he actually had been taken into custody in the case.

He had appeared voluntarily for questioning and taken two lie detector tests.

Very slight variations in the detector record set off a fresh hunt at the cabin yesterday evening.

Stephanie, daughter of a well-known Berkeley radiologist, had vanished without trace. Last week her purse, textbooks, notebooks, a pair of eyeglasses and a brassiere were found in Abbott's basement.

Abbott has shown a cooperative attitude throughout, according to police, and told newspapermen he was as anxious as anyone to "get this thing cleared up so I can go back to normal living."

The lonely northern California cabin in 1948 was the scene of a grisly slaying. Lloyd Snyder was convicted of shooting Ray H. Latham and dismembering the body. He is serving a life term in San Quentin.

Before he was sentenced, Snyder transferred title of the cabin to Robert Schorch, of Alturas, Calif., Abbot's brother-in-law.

Public Health Releases More Polio Shots

WASHINGTON (AP)—The public Health Service today released approximately 970,000 shots of polio vaccine produced by the Eli Lilly Co.

Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele said this brings to approximately 3,968,000 shots the amount of polio vaccine approved since revised testing requirements were adopted May 26.

About 1,690,000 shots—cubic centimeters—of this total was produced by the Eli Lilly Co., an Indianapolis firm.

The vaccine will be turned over to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for distribution.

The service reported meanwhile that 565 new polio cases occurred in the country for the week ended July 16. It said this represents a 40 per cent increase over the previous week, but noted the increase is not "greatly different" from those in comparative weeks over the last five years.

The total of 565 cases for the week ended July 16 included 204 paralytic cases. This compared with a total of 1,053 cases for the comparable week in 1954, including 419 paralytic cases.

The cumulative total for the calendar year this year is 4,682 cases, including 1,857 paralytic; 1,613 nonparalytic; and 1,212 unspecified.

The cumulative total for the comparable period in 1954 was 6,517 cases, including 2,518 paralytic; 1,876 nonparalytic; and 2,123 unspecified.

For the week ended July 16, the report said, all geographic divisions of the nation, except the Mountain Division, reported increases over the previous week.

Individual states which showed "relatively large increases" as compared with the previous week were:

Massachusetts, which had 52 cases for the current report week compared with 24 for the previous week; New York, 43 against 25; Illinois, 29 against five; Michigan, 31 against 18; Wisconsin, 14 against six; North Carolina, 20 against 9; Kentucky, 10 against 5; and Arkansas, 11 against 5.

Rains Add 3½ Feet Of Water To Lake

Rains since the weekend had added a total of three and one-half feet of water to Lake Thomas by 9 a.m. today, and some water was still running into the lake.

The level this morning was 2,237.10, up nearly half a foot from the level yesterday morning. The water was expected to stop flowing today.

Lake Thomas still lacks almost 11 feet being full.

HIGH HURDLE—Anatoli Sirothin, a member of the Russian delegation of farmers touring this country, appears to be flying as he loses his balance momentarily while crossing a barbed wire fence while visiting a farm near Keota, Iowa. Sirotin made the leap successfully and joined his colleagues on the inspection tour.

Desperadoes Rob Underground Train

NEW YORK (AP)—Two masked desperadoes held up an outbound mail-express train last night as it stopped briefly in an open cut below the Manhattan street level near the Hudson River shore.

As in a Wild West movie scenario, they bound and gagged a mail clerk and dumped eight mail sacks on the tracks. Then they disappeared into the night with the bags.

Police said today the bags contained worthless canceled checks, each bag insured at $50.

The bandits apparently jumped on the 11-car New York Central train when it stopped for inspection of its air brakes.

An interstate alarm was flashed for two men described as in their 20s and wearing dark suits and hats. Both were armed. The FBI joined in the hunt.

"They were brazen and clever," said Deputy Police Commissioner James Kennedy. "They knew exactly what they were doing."

Police said, however, that the bandits discarded a mail pouch containing $2,700 in small bills and silver.

The train was heading for Albany, Utica, Rochester, Troy and Syracuse, all in upstate New York. Six of the cars carried mail.

Mail clerk Thomas Mason, 60, Buffalo, N.Y., was on duty in the next-to-the last car when he saw two men loom in front of him. Their faces were hidden behind handkerchiefs and both held guns, he said.

Later, he gave police this account:

"This is a stickup," one of the men told him. "Where is the money? Don't yell or we'll kill you."

When he refused to tell them, they pulled his arms behind and bound his wrists with a pair of handcuffs they brought with them. They rolled him over and one of the bandits put his foot in the small of his back.

"I wasn't frightened until I got a good look at the guns," Mason recalled. "At first I thought they were fooling—I thought they were a couple of kids, wise kids, until they said: 'If you open your mouth we'll kill you.' Then I saw the handcuffs, and I knew they weren't fooling. I was happy when they got off the train."

He said he told the gunmen the money was in the bags. They discarded some of them —among them the one containing $2,700—and dumped eight outside. The sacks were reportedly en route to the First Trust Bank and Deposit Co. of Syracuse from the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

The robbers tied Mason's ankles with a cord, stuffed his railroad cap in to his mouth and fled.

It was not immediately determined whether the train had started to move when the two jumped off.

Mason said the train was moving when he managed to free his legs and spit out the cap. Then he screamed for help.

A tower signalman heard his plea. The train was stopped at the next signal. Mason was taken to a hospital with severe bruises and a possible rib fracture.

Senate-House Must Agree On Wage Raise

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Only Senate-House agreement on an effective date stood in the way today of final congressional approval of a $1-an-hour federal minimum wage.

The House yesterday overrode 188-145, President Eisenhower's request for a limit of 90 cents an hour and by a top-heavy 362-54 vote approved the higher wage floor for most workers in interstate commerce. The present minimum is 75 cents.

The Senate, which previously had approved the same $1 figure, had voted to make it effective next Jan. 1. The House voted for March 1.

The House sent its bill immediately to conference with the Senate for a compromise on the date.

Yesterday's House action climaxed two days of debate in which supporters of the administration's 90-cent top limit predicted a new inflationary spiral would be touched off if a higher pay figure was enacted.

Rep. Halleck (R-Ind), leader of the GOP forces, told the House the President would be "gravely concerned over the consequences to the economy of a figure greater than 90 cents." Republican spokesmen, however, gave no indication that the President would veto the higher level.

Democratic House Leader McCormack of Massachusetts derided Republicans' appeals as "the same old argument we have been hearing for years."

About 24 million workers in interstate commerce, with certain exceptions and exemptions, now come under the law's provisions. The approved increase would mean a pay hike for an estimated 2,100,000 of them.

Hoffheinz, Houston, Square Off Again

HOUSTON (AP)—Mayor Roy Hofheinz and the city council square off in court again today.

Set for hearing before Dist. Judge Ben F. Moorehead is Hofheinz" request for a permanent injunction against council interference. Specifically, Hofheinz wants the council enjoined against suspending him from office.

Last Friday the eight councilmen voted unanimously to suspend the millionaire mayor 30 days pending an Aug. 4 trial on impeachment charges they have brought against him.

Even before today's court hearing the council was making up its mind what to do next.

It was reported they had decided either to adopt another suspension ordinance should the court rule against the previous suspension ordinance, or try to do the same thing by resolution, which wouldn't require the three council meetings required to push through an ordinance.

Hofheinz, 42, and the council met yesterday and disposed of routine business. But the councilmen opened the session by reading a statement saying their presence in no way indicated they believed Hofheinz was legally presiding.

Powers Agree On Plans To Continue Discussions

Foreign Ministers Shape Up Program

By MAX HARRELSON

GENEVA (AP) — Russia and the Western powers reached substantial agreement today on plans for continuing discussions of German unification and European security after the summit conference.

The foreign ministers met this morning for almost two hours and reportedly put the program in shape. Then they arranged a special meeting of their heads of government to submit it for approval.

There was no immediate information as to details of the plan, but Western sources disclosed they hoped for a meeting of the four foreign ministers in Geneva in October to take up the two key problems.

This would allow three months for the experts of the four countries to study all the proposals made at the summit meeting. The Western powers also would have a chance to observe the outcome of the visit of West German Chancellor Adenauer to Moscow.

The heads of governments — President Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Bulganin, British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Faure — planned to take up the disarmament question after disposing of the arrangements on Germany and security.

The only official announcement on the foreign minister's discussions was a brief communique.

British informants said the foreign ministers agreed to recommend that they themselves meet again in October to resume consideration of the problems of German unity and European security on the basis of the directive now under study. They added complete accord eluded the ministers, however.

Molotov was said still to have insisted that the question of European security should precede that of German unity. The West continued to maintain the two problems remain linked. The ministers agreed to refer the point to the heads of government for final decision. They also agreed on the rest of the terms of the directive.

The communique said:

"The four ministers at their meeting this morning, under the chairmanship of Mr. (V.M.) Molotov, discussed the directive given to them by the heads of government.

"They agreed to recommend that the heads of government meet at 1430 (GMT) this afternoon to receive the report and so be in a position to start a discussion of item three on their agenda at 1500 (GMT)."

President Eisenhower, in preparation for the disarmament talks, had his chief of staff, Adm. Arthur Radford, and his disarmament adviser, Harold E. Stassen, as luncheon guests.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and other top members of the U. S. delegation dined with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov.

The main objective of this morning's meeting of the foreign ministers was to work out a guide for discussions at a later foreign minister's session in the fall. The Western powers were understood to favor a meeting in October in Geneva, but the Russian view was not known.

Navy Launches Second Atomic Submarine

By ELTON C. FAY

GROTOT, Conn. (AP)—The Navy, racing to keep supremacy over Russia in the means of undersea warfare, launches its second nuclear submarine, the Seawolf, today and lays the keel for a third.

Eight atomic-powered subs have been authorized.

The first A-submarine, the Nautilus, was built here at the yards of the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp., where the Seawolf and the third boat are building. The Nautilus was commissioned six months ago and now has thousands of miles of operation, hundreds of dives and a long cruise to the Caribbean on her log.

Externally, the Seawolf will look much like the Nautilus, but with a somewhat sleeker hull. Oficial statistics on the Seawolf show her to be about 3,000 tons displacement 330 feet long, with a 27-foot beam.

Her underwater speed is stated in the same general manner as that for the Nautilus—"over 20 knots." Actual speed may range between 20 and 30 knots.

The Seawolf will carry a crew of about 100, including officers.

The official cost estimate of the Seawolf's hull, minus the atomic power plant, is $32,700,000. The Nautilus is estimated unoficially to have cost about $57,000,000, including the atomic engine which accounted for about half the cost.

Primary difference between the Nautilus and the Seawolf is in the type of atomic reactor. The Nautilus power plant transfers the heat produced by fission into steam by using ordinary water under pressure. The Seawolf will use a form of liquid metal for the heat transfer.

The Nautilus reactor is called the thermal or slow-neutron type. The Seawolf will use an "intermediate" reactor where the speed of the neutrons is faster. This, in theory, means that absorption of the faster neutrons by the metal structure of the reactor is reduced, perhaps making for a more efficient, more easily maintained atomic furnace.

Decision Expected On Natural Gas Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hearing Tuesday may decide whether Congress acts during this session on a bill to exempt natural gas producers from federal controls.

The House Rules Committee yesterday set the hearing on whether to let the House vote on the bill. Because of the likelihood of lengthy debate there has been some doubt the measure could be acted on before Aug. 7, planned adjournment date. Senate leaders have indicated they will not call the bill up this session unless the House passes it and perhaps not then.

Chairman Priest (D-Tenn) of the Commerce Committee, which approved the measure 16-15, has asked the rules group to clear it for House action.

Corpus Newspaperman Pays $100 Libel Fine

LAREDO, Tex., (AP)—Publisher Santos De la Paz of the Corpus Christi weekly newspaper La Verdad pleaded guilty yesterday to criminal libel and was fined $100 and court costs.

De la Paz was not in court. The plea was entered through his attorney and the amount of the fine recommended by Dist. Atty. James Kazen.

The charges grew out of a news story about activities of M. J. Raymond, Laredo attorney and South Texas political leader. The July 8 edition of La Verdad carried an apology for the remarks complained of.

Clay Death Resulted From Natural Causes

A report received here by officials this morning from the state coroner in Austin revealed that Will Clay, 50, well-known Snyder Negro, died from natural causes.

He was found dead in bed here the morning of June 28 and Justice of Peace W. C. Davidson had ordered an autopsy.

Dr. Thomas Hartley, who examined the body, revealed that he had found a cardiac condition, Davidson said.

GABLE AND WIFE AT INTERVIEW — Hollywood's most prominent newlyweds, Clark Gable and Kay William Spreckles, face newsmen for the first time since they surprised friends and fans by eloping to Miden, Nevada. They said they planned to make their home at Gable's ranch at Encino, Calif., where they are now living and also maintain a residence at Palm Springs.

Miss Vermont Gets Miss U.S.A. Title

By JAMES BACON

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Miss Vermont, the prettiest Republican you ever saw, today is Miss U.S.A.

Carlene King Johnson, of Rutland, won the crown last night over 14 other pretty finalists. The runners-up were the Misses Arkansas, Nebraska, California and Georgia.

Miss Johnson, a 22-year-old blue-eyed blonde who looked 16, is also the prettiest business woman you ever saw. She runs her own jewelry business in Rutland.

"The business is resting," she said, "because I am designer, creator, distributor and salesman."

Two years ago she was Miss Vermont in the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City but only placed 13th. Tonight she enters the Miss Universe semifinals.

Asked if she were a traditional Vermont Republican, she replied: "Is there any other kind?"

Doll-like, she stands 5 feet 8 in her high heels with the perfect Miss Universe measurements — bust and hips the same at 35 inches and the waist 11 inches smaller at 24.

When reporters questioned her after the contest Miss Johnson answered all questions freely except those pertaining to the boy friend back home. She said:

"I prefer not to comment on that."

Her father Dr. Norman Johnson is a dentist in Rutland, which she said had 18,000 population at the last census, adding proudly:

"It's the second largest city in Vermont."

Asked what her family thought about her entering beauty contests, she replied:

"Well, as you all know, the East is very funny about beauty contests. We're a very conservative people but my family goes along with me, as does the town, as long as I don't get a lump on my head."

Her big prize is a six-month contract with Universal-International Studios.

"I've thought of the movies only as something on top of my dream world but I'm ready to take a crack at it. As long as my business is a one-woman enterprise, I think I'll just move my stock out to California."

Miss Vermont got rough competition from Miss Arkansas, the first runner-up. Margaret Anne Haywood, of Jonesboro, a neat little blonde package, was a popular favorite with the audience.

Miss Nebraska, Donna Streever, of Grand Island, placed next. She is a sixth-grade schoolteacher and must have a hard job keeping the boys in her classroom paying attention to books.

Another Donna — Donna Schurr, of Garden Grove, Calif.—had only 12 miles to go to enter the contest. She placed fourth.

The fifth in line was Carolann Connor, of Atlanta, Ga., a real southern belle.

Asked by a reporter what she thought about "a damnyankee" winning the title this year, Miss Georgia replied:

"I don't mind one bit. This one is pretty enough to be a Georgia peach."

Mamie Goes Yachting On Lake Geneva

GENEVA (AP) — Mamie Eisenhower went yachting on Lake Geneva today — together with a whole fleet of small boats crammed with photographers.

The first lady of the United States was hostess to wives of members of the British and French delegations to the Big Four conference. In the party were: Mrs. Max Petitpierre, wife of the President of Switzerland; Lady Eden, wife of the British Prime Minister; Mrs. Edgar Faure, wife of the French Premier; Mrs. John Foster Dulles, wife of the American Secretary of State; Mrs. Franklin C. Gowen, wife of the American consul general in Geneva; and Mrs. Livingston Merchant, wife of the U. S. assistant secretary of state.

Wives of the Soviet delegation would have been included if any had been here.

The party planned a 2½ hour cruise taking in such sights as the cottage on the Swiss-French border where Leon Trotsky and V. I. Lenin plotted the Russian Revolution during World War I.

The ladies cruised aboard the 52-foot yacht L'Elma, which is named for the wife of Pierre Cartier, owner of the craft. Flashing a big smile, Mrs. Eisenhower brought the other ladies in the party to her side for pictures.

"Hi, Jack, I saw you downtown the other day."

The call was to Jack Conolly of the U. S. Information Agency, an old friend who lived with the Eisenhowers in Paris after World War I when Eisenhower was a member of the American Battle Monuments Commission.

The ladies planned to lunch during the cruise. On the menu were melon, cold salmon, roast chicken, string beans, salad and cheese, champagne and a light pink wine.

Sheppard Becomes A Number--98,860

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The dark gray walls of Ohio Penitentiary held a new prisoner today.

He wasn't anybody special as far as prison authorities were concerned, just another number—98,860—with gray prison pants, blue and white striped shirt and a cap.

But there was something about this prisoner—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard—something that attracted a horde of newsmen and a score of other persons when he arrived at the penitentiary yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Sam, as newspapers had headlined his name across the country, was convicted last Dec. 21 of the murder of his pregnant wife Marilyn, 31. Her battered body was found early July 4, 1954, in the bedroom of their Bay Village home, a Cleveland suburb.

The 31-year-old osteopath denied his guilt throughout the long trial. He said his wife was killed by a "bushy-haired" intruder who also had attacked him and knocked him unconscious. Tuesday an appellate court in Cleveland had turned down his second appeal for a new trial.

Now comes the waiting—at least 10 years—before Sheppard will be eligible for parole on his second-degree murder conviction. He will spend the first 10 days at the penitentiary in a quarantine ward where he will be given tests to determine what work he is best suited for.

There is speculation that because of his medical background he might be placed in the prison doctor's office. He wouldn't be able to practice medicine, of course, but he could help out as an assistant.

Meanwhile, his attorneys are preparing to take his case to the Ohio Supreme Court. Sheppard already owes $4,562.43 in criminal and appellate court costs for the trial and subsequent appeals, a court clerk noted. And his attorney bill must be paid "within a reasonable time," the clerk added, or a lien will be taken against his real or personal property.

Sheppard spent almost a year in Cuyahoga County Jail awaiting the outcome of his case, a year that will not count toward his prison term.

Sheppard was taken here by car, handcuffed to another prisoner, Michael Jacko, 47, a Cleveland robber. With them were two Cuyahoga County deputy sheriffs, Mike Uccello and Dave Yettra.

Uccello stepped out of the police cruiser first, followed by Sheppard and Jacko. Flashbulbs popped as Sheppard, clasping a book of poetry and a large picture of his son Chip, walked about 20 yards to the prison entrance.

A newsman asked Sheppard if he had anything to say. Sheppard did not answer.

"He seemed to enjoy the ride after being cooped up in the county jail so long," said Uccello. "He was a good prisoner."

Russians Do Most Of Smiling But Ike's Personality Shines

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

GENEVA (AP)—The Russians are doing most of the smiling, but President Eisenhower so far seems to be the dominant personality at the summit conference.

Premier Bulganin and Moscow's other delegates have attracted much attention. Tough-minded customers around the conference table, they are displaying an outward air of affability that stops crowds everywhere they go.

Defense Minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov outdoes them all. He never seems to look tired and is rarely seen without a face-splitting grin.

But Eisenhower seems to be the top man of the conference. Even in the smiles department, he is a close runner-up to the Russians. His famous grin disappears only when he is really tired.

The President came to the parley a dramatic figure—World War II conqueror of the Nazis, now pledged to try to bring world peace.

His wartime friendship with Zhukov was another enhacing factor. The President's direct appeal to his former fighting associate and his two-hour private luncheon with him yesterday seem to have captured the imagination of the people, boosting hopes that the summit meetings will help solve some of the world's problems.

The President also touched a universal note of understanding by taking time out from his conference activities to buy toys for his grandchildren.

The British and French also come in for their share of attention, but the Americans and Russians hold most of the limelight.

British Prime Minister Eden, generally considered the most photogenic of the Big Four, frequently looks careworn. French Premier Faure smiles least of all. He seems too preoccupied with his own thoughts to put on a special face for the public.

Faure is also the least security-minded. He brushed aside Swiss offers of a motorcycle escort. His security guards are so unobtrusive as to be almost unnoticeable.

Eden abandoned his motorcycle escort after the first day but is closely guarded.

The Russians are surrounded on their outings by a full escort, plus dozens of Swiss and Russian security men. Only occasionally do they leave the guards behind, as Zhukov did when he lunched with Eisenhower.

American security guards surround the President at all times and survey every move he makes.

The American delegates are by far the best dressed of the four. Only they brought light summer suits, and Geneva has been having 90-degree weather.

The British and Ffench are immaculate in their traditional dark suits, but they must be sweltering. The Russians remain at the bottom of the style list with their penchant for bell-bottomed trousers. But nowadays their suits fit well and the trousers are creased.

The British have the smartest automobiles, ranging from Eden's superb black Rolls-Royce down to other handsome new British models for lesser delegates.

Eisenhower travels in the least impressive car of all, a battered 1940 Cadillac he used when a military commander in Europe and had brought here for sentimental reasons. His Secret Service guards have a swank Lincoln convertible.

The Russians drive big Soviet cars resembling Cadillacs only slightly younger than Eisenhower's.

FB Urges Reduction In Cotton Reserve

WACO, Tex. (AP)—About a 50 per cent reduction in the state's cotton acreage reserve was urged by the board of directors of the Texas Farm Bureau yesterday.

The bureau wants the state reserve cut from 10 to 5 per cent and the county reserve reduced from 15 to between 5 and 10 per cent.

The bureau said farmers in older producing areas claim the state Agricultural Stablization and Conservation Committee was unfair in allocating most of the reserve on a trend basis.

Reserve acreage is cotton acreage set aside from the state's allotment to be allocated on the basis of trends and abnormal weather conditions, small farms, new growers, and to correct inequities and prevent hardships.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

New Ellenburger Well Is Producing

Ellenburger production has been extended three-eighths of a mile southwest in the Fluvanna multi-pay field of northwest Scurry County with the completion of Superior Oil Co. and Intex Oil Co. No. 1-536 F. Lanham.

The well was completed for a daily flowing potential of 184 barrels of 42-gravity oil with no water. Gas-oil ratio was 73-1. Production was through a 10-64th-inch choke and perforations from 8,350-355 feet. Seven-inch casing is cemented at 8,386 feet, total depth. Top of the pay was at 8,350 feet. Completion was natural. Tubing pressure was 180 pounds.

The No. 1-536 Lanham is in 536-97-H&TC.

BORDEN EXTENDER

Blanco Oil Co. and Associates No. 1-38 C. C. Canon and others, an assured three-eighth-mile extension to the Jo Mill-Spraberry field of Borden County, was flowing oil on a preliminary production test at last report.

The well flowed an average of 224 barrels of oil per day with no water from perforations at 7,241-263 feet. Five and a half-inch casing is set at 7,375 feet, total depth. Tubing pressure was 200 pounds.

The No. 1-38 Canon is 15 miles southwest of Gail and in 38-33-t5n-T&P.

PROJECTS QUIT

A wildcat failure in southeast Nolan County and a stepout from production in northwest Howard County have been abandoned and plugged as failures.

The Nolan prospector was Continental Oil Co. No. 1 Mary Dean Earwood. Drilled four miles northwest of Hylton, it was quit at 6,902 feet in lime.

The location was one and a half miles east of the North Blackwell-Ellenburger field and 1,150 feet from south and 380 feet from west lines of 29-D-T&P.

Cosden Petroleum Corp. and Texas Crude Oil Co. No. 2 Modesta Good Simpson, five-eighths of a mile southwest of the Modesta-Canyon reef field in Howard County, failed to find any production in drilling to 8,757 feet. It was three miles northwest of Vealmoor and 1,972.2 feet from south and 2,128 feet from west lines of 22-33-t3n-T&P.

COKE WILDCAT

Associated Oil & Gas Co. of Houston has filed application to drill an 8,500-foot Ellenburger wildcat half a mile west of production in the Mitchell area of the Jameson-Strawn field 11 miles northeast of Sterling City.

It will be the No. 1-H Nora Gee, located 659.9 feet from north and 668.5 feet from west lines of 143-2-H&TC on a 720-acre lease. Several projects have tested the Ellenburger in the Jameson area, but none had been completed from that formation. Operator is to test both the Strawn and Ellenburger at the No. 1-H Gee.

Two End Jail Terms; Both Are Released

Two men were released from the county jail this morning after serving their sentences and making bond.

Ambrosia G. Guagardo, 26-year-old Latin-American Air Force man who was involved in a street fight here Sunday night, finished serving his five days in jail and paid the $25 and costs fine for the charge of aggravated assault. He was allowed to go free after making $1,000 bond assigned when he was charged with assault with intent to murder. Both charges arose from the fight which injured three men and hospitalized one.

Harold D. Hawkins, 24, of Waco, completed serving his 30 days in the jail on a charge of swindling with a worthless check.

Roswell Takes Win Off League-Leaders

By The Associated Press

Roswell squeezed out a 2-1 Longhorn League victory from the circuit leading San Angelo Colts last night.

Julio Ramos took the victory, helped by a homer by Joe Bauman, his 30th of the season. The winning run was in the eighth when Charliee Pruitt scored on a fly which bounced off the glove of Danny Eisasser.

In other games, Midland split with Hobbs in a doubleheader, winning the first 11-5 and losing the second 6-1, Artesia and Odessa split another twin bill, Odessa taking the opener 5-4, and Artesia the nightcap 3-1, and Carlsbad divided another double-header with Big Spring, winning the first 7-5 and losing the second 3-2.

The league stages its annual all-star game tonight at Midland.

Mosaics, statues and bas reliefs from the ancient world, dug up in the construction of the subway in Rome have been used to decorate some of the subway stations.

Suspect Back In Snyder For Court Trial

Billy Jack Bennett, 27, who in 1951 gave his home as Olton, was returned here yesterday by officers from Huntsville where he has just completed a three-year sentence.

He is wanted here for burglary and in Lamesa for theft over $50, sheriff Homer Whisnand said.

Sheriff's records show that Bennett served a three-year, six-months term in a federal penitentiary for breaking into and entering a St. Paul, Minn. post office. At the time of this violation, he was breaking a parole from the Texas state penitentiary.

The records also show that he and a companion broke out of the county jail in Lamesa, Oct. 8, 1951.

He will be tried first either here or in Lamesa, depending on which court convenes first, then transferred to the other for trial there, Whisnand said.

Texas City Getting Behind In Big State

By The Associated Press

Texas City finally managed to play a game after three nights of idleness and proceeded to drop farther behind in the Big State League race.

Corpus Christi bounced Austin 8-4 Wednesday night while Texas City was taking a 6-0 trimming from Port Arthur and now Corpus Christi leads by 2½ games.

Corpus Christi's Rene Vega won his twenty-second pitching victory of the season to remain tied with John (Red) Murff of Texas League, Dallas, for the most hurling triumphs in organized baseball.

Vega was hammered for 14 hits but managed to go the distance. Bill Stephens and Kenny Jones doubled across four runs in the eighth to prevent an Austin shutout.

Waco at Harlingen was postponed because of rain.

Lawton Puts Shawnee Back Down To Second

By The Associated Press

The shared ownership of the Sooner State League lead was dissolved last night when Lawton smacked Shawnee back into second place with a 13-1 victory.

Paris moved into fifth by taking both games of a doubleheader from Ardmore, 7-5 and 5-4.

Ponca City showed some life in moving from the cellar to seventh place in splitting with Muskogee. The Cubs took the first game 6-5 but Muskogee came back to win the second 2-1 although Ernie Proud set a league strikeout record with 22. McAlester mastered Seminole 8-2 in the other game.

In smashing ambutious Shawnee, every man but one on the Lawton lineup batted in a run as the Braves lambasted three Shawnee pitchers for 13 hits and 10 walks.

Barfoot Children Enjoy Practicing Music Lesson

Getting the children to practice between music lessons is no problem at the Alton Barfoot home in Hermleigh. Both the Barfoot children, Sharon, 5 years old today, and Larry, 9, play the piano and a recently installed organ at home with no prompting. their mother says, and await their next lessons eagerly.

Sue Ann Mayo, a spring graduate of Hermleigh High School, is their teacher. She uses a new method originated by Mrs. Elaine Cartwright of Sweetwater. This method enables the students to learn to play music familiar to them in a short period of time. Miss Mayo has more than a dozen young students now.

Mr. and Mrs. Barfoot purchased their piano about two years ago, and Larry has taken music lessons most of the time since then. Sharon began playing the piano in March. Both the children have played in public, at Parent-Teacher Association meetings and in the Hermleigh Methodist Church. They are now learning to play duets together, Mrs. Barfoot said. Sharon can play 38 songs and Larry 50, Mrs. Barfoot added, and they often pick up new melodies from the radio, at church or other sources to be added to their song collections. They pick out the tunes and whatever harmony they can, and Miss Mayo helps arrangement.

Being small presents a special problem for Sharon. She has difficulty reaching the foot pedals which are normally required for playing the electric organ or the piano. Her tiny hands have a limited reach too, of course. Larry finds the matter of reaching easier, but more height will help him as well.

Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Barfoot plays the piano or organ. Mrs. Barfoot has begun to study music now, and she can help the children learn by singing melodies for them or correcting obvious departures from familiar melodies. She still pursues her own hobby of baking and decorating cakes, too.

They Get An Eye Full

When a round dozen Russian "farmers" got off the plane at Des Moines, Ia., Sunday several thousand townspeople and country folks gave them a warm welcome expressed in handclasps. A large sign said "Welcome" in Russian.

The visitors were agricultural leaders rather than dirt farmers, in contrast to the little group of U. S. farmers now touring the Soviet Union. They will spend 30 days in this country, visiting in turn Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota, Illinois, California and finally Washington, D. C. Their interest is corn.

Their eyes must have bugged out when they visited the 160-acre farm of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Alleman of Slater, Ia., near Des Moines. The Allemans, aged 25 and 23, with two small children, have 75 acres in corn, 40 in oats and 40 in rotated hay and pasture. Their livestock consists of 121 spring pigs, 12 sows for September farrowing, 48 Hereford heifers and 200 pullets—just about average, we imagine, for the tall corn country, but a real eye-opener for the visiting foreigners. In Russia the average farmer produces enough for his own family and one or two other persons; in this country, twenty other persons.

Like their hosts, the Russians are a hospitable people, and barring an untoward incident here and there—quite possibly stirred up by Communist agitators to make a bad impression on Russians back home—we have no doubt their visit will be both pleasant and profitable.

Russian agriculture is at its lowest ebb primarily for two reasons. The first is collectivization, which leaves no incentive to produce beyond personal needs; the second is an all-out concentration of war production to the neglect of production of agricultural machinery.

When they have completed their rounds the visitors can go home and report what to them will be a phenomenon: a U. S. that can arm and munition most of the free world as well as itself, and at the same time bring its agriculture to the highest point of production and mechanization the world has ever seen. That should give the Kremlin something to think about.

Toward Specialization

It is an age of specialization, and in its slow and careful way, the United States Army has finally got round to creating a class of non-commissioned officers designated as specialists. The old way of calling them corporals and sergeants got outmoded by the relentless march of progress.

It is a more complete break with tradition than any of the various changes wrought by time. Many a kid of 12 or 13 fought the War between the States as drummer boys, and at one time fifers were plentiful as well as drummers. Then there were horseshoers before cavalry disappeared, and before World War I, when we served a six-year double hitch in the Texas National Guard, we were offered the post of artificer but declined in favor of the two stripes of a corporal. We don't suppose the rating of artificer has survived the decades between then and now, but in our time he was suposed to repair rifles that got out of whack; but since he was furnished no tools and didn't know a screwdriver from a posthole augur the job was pretty much a sinecure anyhow.

We saw a picture recently of a young soldier modeling the new style in chevrons, and his left arm looked like a totem pole, so many were his emblems of office and duties. The old chevrons with their rockers were hard enough for the average civilian to keep track of, but nothing to compare with the mysteries of the new system.

If the trend toward specialization and complication continues, there may come a time when the Army will need an entire new specialists to keep the specialists unraveled—an ISS, or interpreter of signs and symbols, perhaps. His emblem would be a wise old owl, rampant on a field of utter confusion.

Nature Garden

AMHERST, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. Ceville Pray's garden is made up of wild plants from seeds she gathered during 22 years within a radius of 20 miles of her home. As a true nature lover, she didn't dig up wild flowers.

She has 34 varieties of native plants from seeds collected from meadows, woods and bogs including trillium, bellwort, squirrel corn, foam flower, bishop's cap, columbine, and Jack-in-the-pulpit among many others.

Sowing seed on winter snow, she would get adult plants two years later. She has 14 kinds of ferns including one which produces fuzz used by humming birds in their nests and another which produces delicious, edible "fern bread."

Bulganin Makes It Clear That Russians Still Cling To Three Basic Objectives

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The West and Russia still are miles apart at the Big Four conference in Geneva, in spite of all the pleasant talk there.

For years the Russians have had three main goals and, as Prime Minister Bulganin made clear this week, they haven't changed:

1. To break up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, of which the United States is the most powerful member.

2. To prevent the rearming of West Germany and keep it out of NATO. The NATO allies agreed to let it join this year.

3. To get American troops out of Europe and force the United States to give up its overseas bases.

What Bulganin proposed at Geneva is almost exactly the same thing that Russia's Foreign Minister Molotov suggested in February 1954 when he met at Berlin with the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France.

At that time the West wanted Russia to let West Germany be united with Communist East Germany.

In the 10 years since the war Russia has blocked every plea for German unification. At Berlin Molotov proposed that NATO be killed. In its place he advocated a new, 50-year mutual security organization of 32 European nations, but not the United States, which would have to get its forces out of Europe. Molotov said East and West Germany could join the new security organization until such time as they were united. Molotov didn't say when that would be.

The Western ministers said this was a scheme to bring all Europe under Russian domination. They turned Molotov down.

Now at Geneva Bulganin has dusted off the Molotov proposal and presented it again, with perhaps minor changes.

Bulganin offered exactly what Molotov had suggested in 1954—a security system for all European countries—with one variation: he would let the United States be a member. That sounded a little better, but then he said when this new organization was created all foreign troops would have to be withdrawn from the "territories" of European states.

That would force the United States to withdraw its forces not only from Europe but from European territories, such as France's North Africa, where this country has air bases.

So while Bulganin in one breath said he was willing to let the United States be a member of the new European security system he proposed, in the next breath he would forbid any U. S. forces in Europe on European territories.

In short, the United States for all practical purposes would be only an onlooker.

And what about NATO? It would be abolished and replaced by the new organization urged by Bulganin and Molotov. And when could Germany be reunited? Bulganin said not while West Germany is a member of NATO and not until Bulganin's new security organization was set up.

That would take years.

A Young Mother Of Two, Mrs. Levin Is An Artist

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Yehuda Harry Levin, wife of the counselor of the Israel Embassy is a talented artist who has studied in Prague, Jerusalem and London.

Since coming to Washington in 1951 from Australia, where her young husband was serving as consul general in his first diplomatic post, the attractive young mother of two has had a one-man exhibit in Boston and several exhibits in local shows here. She's also illustrated nine children's books for New York publishing houses.

Mrs. Levin's art career suffered a long and heart-breaking interruption when she returned to her home from her studies in London at the outbreak of the war for Israel independence in 1948. After a rather dramatic wedding, and a brief and fear-shrouded honeymoon, she and her journalist husband returned to their apartment in besieged Jerusalem. Both plunged into work for the Hagana, or Defense Army, he as an underground broadcaster and she in the Army's map drawing department.

"Our apartment had a hole in the roof, we had no water, no food, but it was very exciting," the small, very attractive young woman told me. "It was too dangerous to stay in our apartment on the second floor in a building facing the front line. We moved into one room with a young American student couple on the ground floor and did our cooking on a makeshift stove in the back garden."

She laughs now when she recalls one cooking calamity.

"I had just put the usual bean soup into a pressure cooker and set it over the wood fire I'd built," she said. "I didn't understand about heat and timing. Suddenly there was an intense whistle, a blast of steam. I didn't care about the cooker. All I could think of was salvaging the soup, the only thing we had to eat."

Born of Zionist parents in Prague, Mrs. Levin went to Jerusalem in 1935 to join her brother who was a teacher. When Hitler's forces invaded Prague their mother and stepfather joined them. The mother gave up her comfortable life as a well-do-do person to live with her husband on a three-acre farm.

"She is one of Israel's pioneering women," Mrs. Levin explained. "She has taken a neglected piece of land and cultivated it intensively. She lives in a shack. She works hard. But I get wonderful letters, happy letters from her. She is a wonderful kind of woman, the kind that will make our country great."

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

KNIGHT ERRANT, by Brian Connell; Doubleday.

When movie studios send out pictures of their stars to admiring fans, they make sure of several things. The photographer has shot his subject from the most favorable angle. The pictures are retouched to eliminate such distractions as lines, wrinkles and double chins. And they're printed on glossy paper, to assure a surface shine.

Most movie biographies are like that. Here's one that is refreshingly different. Even if you start it with the idea that Douglas Fairbanks Jr. is something of a stuffed shirt, you're apt to wind up feeling that even if he is, there's good reason for it.

This is a tribute to the deftness of a British writer, Brian Connell, who has handled Fairbanks with kindness and sympathy and at the same time has avoided whitewashing him.

Young Douglas grew up in the shadow of a famous father, but much of the time they were barely on speaking terms. Connell tells how Junior tried to make a life of his own in a field in which his father was without equal; the reluctance with which he approached the profession of acting; the fondness he developed for top society on both sides of the Atlantic.

There have been critics of the latter both here and abroad, for the best was none too good for Fairbanks—royalty and its set in Britain, Presidents and other high dignitaries in the United States. Connell candidly paints a picture of an intimate of the influential who at times carried on his own high level diplomatic maneuvering.

It is a task that had to be done well, and Connell has brought it off neatly.

New Mexico Professor Thoroughly 'Sold' On World Calendar, Is Expert On Subject

By JULIUS GOLDEN
AP Newsfeatures

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. — Our present calendar is an abomination, says Dr. Martin Fleck, University of New Mexico biology professor. He has made himself an expert on the subject. Now he has turned salesman for the World Calendar which has been approved by the United Nations and more than 30 countries including Great Britain and Russia.

"I blow my top when someone declares that our present-day calendar is a divine document and infallible," he says. "It has been changed many times. I counted 63 different changes ranging from 7,000 B.C. to 1934 A.D. and I'm sure I didn't get them all."

Fleck has been making speeches on the calendar for almost 15 years.

He says Sen. Mundt (R-SD has introduced a bill in Congress to have the World Calendar approved by the United States.

Fleck bases his talks on the calendar's "impact on civilization." He uses believe-it-or-not illustrations to prove his point. For instance, a calendar initiated the first deck of cards and started the Gypsy occupation of fortune telling.

The present calendar is not stable, he says.

We know our birthdate but not our birthday. Some months have four Saturdays and Sundays and some have five making the number of working days in two months vary as much as 12½ per cent at times."

The World Calendar never changes, Fleck says. Jan. 1 would always be a Sunday. January would have 31 days, February 30, March 30, April 31, and so on in a 31-30-30 line.

Every quarter would have 91 days, he said, instead of the present 90 in the first quarter, 91 the second and 92 each the third and fourth.

"Every month would have 26 working days and every day of the year would have the same date every year," he said.

"Of course, this only adds up to 364 days so the 365th day would be an international holiday dedicated to peace and good will. It would not be on the calendar."

Fleck says we have been living under the Gregorian Calendar in ths country since 1752.

"Pope Gregory the XIII started this calendar when the old Julian Calendar was out of time with the sun in 1582, but the Protestant countries didn't start using it until 1752."

The change in calendars forced a drop of 11 days to bring the new calendar in time with the sun.

Fleck's prize yarn concerns an old Egyptian calendar.

"This calendar had 52 cards—one for each week," he said. "There was a two-way design for day and night and four symbols for the season, called air, earth, fire and water."

Fleck says our present card decks come from this. A club on a card is just a corruption of an old five-pointed star.

"Take a look at one of the jacks," he says. "He has a staff in his hand with lines on it. It seems that one of the sons of the Pharaoh had to measure the depth of the Nile. Also, add up all the numbers, counting the jack as 11 and queen as 12 and king as 13. The 52 cards equal 364.

"For the 365th day, the Egyptians had a special holiday card considered lucky. I'm told if you get a joker to an inside straight, it's still a lucky card."

"Some Egyptian priests had a good racket by telling fortunes from the cards. They traveled to new fields and became know as Gypsies," he says.

New Change Device Will Boost Vending Machines

By INEZ ROBB

The other day I met a gentleman who is working on a vending device to change a dollar bill when the customer sticks it in a slot.

(No, no Erminetrude. It will not change the dollar bill into $10! The age of miracles is not yet. It will just change the bill into a dollar's worth of nickels, dimes and quarters.)

And why is it necessary to invent a vending machine to turn a dollar bill into silver change? The answer, said E. F. Pierson of Kansas City, is quite simple.

Such a vending machine to break down the dollar (and I thought inflation had done that!) is absolutely necessary in order to feed other vending machines, which are a hungry lot and increasing by leaps, bounds and in most astronomic progression.

Nobody knows better than Mr. Pierson, chairman of the world's largest manufacturer of automatic merchandising equipment, the Vendo Company of Kansas City, just how voracious they are.

For instance, in 1954, the public stuck $1,650,000,000 in nickels, dimes and quarters into automatic merchandising machines that in turn supplied the public with a variety of goods ranging from hair tonic and hangover remedies to safety pins and the complete works of William Shakespeare.

Back in 1946, we, the people, had patronized vending machines to the tune of $600,000,000, which is a load of silver in any bank. But in eight years, the take increased by more than billion bucks, or enough to cry aloud for a vending machine that is a quick-change artist.

The dollar-in-dimes machine is not yet perfected, and Mr. Pierson is the first to say so. But his company is at work on it. And when it is prefected, the machine will have a more cold, beady and accurate (photoelectric) eye for counterfeit bills than a small-town banker with built-in dyspepsia.

The vending machine is invading all sorts of fields and all kinds of places. If there should ever be another depression — perish forbid! — the man who decides to sell apples on the street corner probably will discovery that a vending machine, with the same idea, has beaten him to the draw and the corner.

It has been my not-too-happy observation at many airports for instance, that in-transit passengers can readily scrounge up a five course meal from the vending machines that line the airport like a palace guard. They dispense everything from soup to nuts, not excluding the aroma of fried fish.

The public shoves in its coins and out pours hair tonic, nylons, perfume, hand lotion, razor blades, hot coffee, cold tea, lipsticks, hot pastrami on rye, cold beer on pumpernickel, charcoal for the backyard barbecue, a record of YOUR voice, a rented typewriter, a massage for your shoes or a massage for yourself.

In short, vending machines are big biz, and will be even bigger when they acquire the automatic cashier or dollar changer. Doll this machine up with cherries, lemons and assorted fruit, and it might even give the one-armed bandits a run for the money.

Wife Of Tomorrow Likely To Change Her Technique

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Items from the mailbag:

Everyone knows what the American wife of today is like. But what about the wife of tomorrow?

Well, the chances are she'll be better groomed than her mother, and know more about the technique of understanding a husband than the technique of running a stove.

A test of some 180,000 senior high school girls by General Mills disclosed that—83 per cent were well informed on the art of keeping themselves looking neat and pretty, 71 per cent had studied up on how to keep a husband happy, 64 per cent had a good knowledge of the mechanics of housekeeping, but only 52 per cent had acquired real cooking skills.

One surprising result of the survey: only 45 per cent could answer correctly questions on child care. This seems odd in view of the trend toward earlier marriage.

It seems like everything a person does now—from sneezing to buying a greeting card—relects his deep, hidden personality.

For example, do you always send your mother-in-law an expensive, highly sentimental greeting card on her birthday; do you hesitate to send her one in a humorous vein? Well, it might be because you secretly are nursing a grudge against the old girl.

Anyway, this is one of the conclusions reached by a Chicago greeting card firm after a survey of several hundred thousand customers.

Children and young women prefer red cards. Most women avoid buying yellow cards as they associate it with a sallow complexion. The favorite color of men—and executives in general—is blue. Those who choose green cards often are stingy and have a suspicious nature.

Those who like to send perfumed cards are generally extroverts with a tendency to show off—the "life of the party" type.

Do you ever pick a greeting card featuring a sea scene or a lake view? It may be a sign that privately you wish the water would wash away the person whom you send the card to.

Personally I'd like to send a card like that to the psychiatrist. Just how complicated do we want to make life?

'Easier' Mortgage Payment Means Higher Priced Home

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The easier the mortgage payments are on your current budget the more money you'll have to put out before you finally get full title to your home.

Lending agencies are starting to stress that paying for a home "just like rent" costs more in interest payments over the years.

On a $10,000 loan a veteran can save himself more than $3,000 by taking out a 20-year mortgage instead of a 30-year one, the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. of Minneapolis notes today.

Or, put another way, on each $1,000 of down payment you can manage to put up, you can save over $800 in interest payments on a 30-year program, or more than $500 in interest payments on a 20-year schedule.

Many families who'd like a home of their own, or a larger house for a growing brood, are discussing today how best to finance it. The problem: they can save interest payments in the long run by taking the 20-year payment plan instead of the 30-year one—but their monthly payments in the meantime will be about $12.50 higher. And they may want to use that $12.50 toward payments on the refrigerator or stove.

Committing themselves to buying a house "just like rent" may be the only way they can afford one on their present income. So they decide to run the risk of their income dropping in the future and thus making payments a burden, or of their moving to another city and leaving behind a house in which their equity may be tiny.

The insurance company notes that under a 20-year payment plan on a $10,000 deal, all borrowed, they would in 10 years have paid off about $3,900 in principal. It says that under a 30-year schedule, their payments on principal in the first 10 years would be about $2,000

The easy payment plans grow in popularity, however. The Veterans Administration reports that 43 per cent of the GI plan loans now being made are the no-down-payment type.

The total of mortgage debt outstanding mounts as the housing boom continues most places unchecked. Since the end of the war the amount has increased four fold and crossed the 75 billion dollar mark as 1955 started.

Public Patience

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The driver of a bus is in a sense a public servant "in that he must be more patient and careful than the average driver and must hold his temper" District Judge D.A. Macpherson ruled.

He dismissed a $5,000 damage suit brought by a bus driver against a motorist following a fight between the two.

Crushing Debt

TITUSVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Sheriff H. T. Williams has a sheriff's sale coming up but he says he refuses to touch one item on the list.

It's a nine-foot python which kills its food by crushing rather than by bite.

A Melbourne man obtained a deficiency decree against a man who lives in Malabar on an unpaid debt for $1,000. One of the items on which the attachment could be paid was the snake.

Joke Still Same

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — The guest speakers at the weekly Rotary club meetings changed but the joke, about the motorist and the insane asylum, remained the same—for five consecutive weeks.

The members began to complain.

H. T. Dunck, the program chairman, tried to forestall a repetition of the joke by telling it himself in introducing speaker No. 6. He was shouted down.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Child's-eye view of Disneyland:

Now that the adults have turned in their reports on Walt Disney's splendiferous playground, it might be well to hear the kids' reaction to the place. After all, the joint was built for them.

The guinea pigs are Nancy Thomas, 7 this week, with curly, taffy-colored hair and a lively interest in bugs, books and boys, in that order; and Janet Thomas, also blonde, sturdily-built and as resolute a three-and-a-half-year-old as you'll find.

The two subjects were immersed in the lore of Disneyland via the mass media of TV, Newspapers, comic books, etc. Due to the Wednesday night TV show, Walt Disney has become virtually another father to them, and one they consider much more attractive, at that.

Nancy and Janet stood wide-eyed in the town square of Main Street U.S.A. and took in the fabulous sights. All around them were the oldtime stores and buildings in ⅝ths scale, which made the place seem more like the girls' kind of world. They were asked if Disneyland looked the way they expected.

"No," Nancy replied. "I didn't expect all these people."

It was true. All the pre-opening propaganda showed the Disneyland streets empty. There was no reason for her to anticipate the crowd which poured into the place.

Janet spotted the ancient horse-drawn fire wagon pulling out of the firehouse. "I wanna ride the horsey," she said.

On to Adventureland, and now the girls' eyes began to grow bigger. They hopped aboard a river boat called the Ganges Gal and peered at the sights that went by.

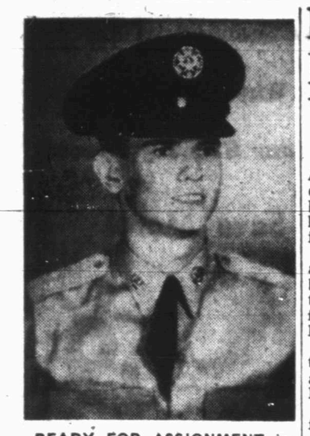

"Look out!" shouted Nancy as a ⅝ths-size (plastic) hippo swam menacingly toward the boat. She was fascinated by the munching giraffe, yawning crocodiles and chattering monkeys and feared we would all be dunked in the waterfall (the boat swerved at the final moment).

In Frontierland, the girls saw someone they recognized — Davy Crockett. "And his pal, Charlie Russell," Janet added.

Next came Fantasyland and the girls agreed with Walt that this was the best of all. They wanted to try all the rides, but settled for the Peter Pan fly-thru.

"Close your eyes until you round the corner," said the man as the girls settled into the tiny galleon. They clamped their hands over their eyes. When they looked again, they were sailing out the window of the Darling House. They zoomed over London, narrowly missing Big Ben, and headed for the second star to the right. Soon they were over Neverland, peering down on skull rock and almost being snared by Captain Hook.

The girls were tireless; not so their parents. Tomorrowland would have to wait until tomorrow.

Shot Fired At Berber Chief

PARIS (AP)—A shot was fired in French Morocco today at the powerful old pro-French Pasha of Marrakech, Thami el Glaoui. The French Press Agency said the bullet missed and only the intervention of French police prevented the Berber chieftain—in his 80s—from shooting back.

The assassination attempt occurred during general excitement occasioned by the first visit to Marrakech of France's new resident general in French Morocco, Gilbert Grandval.

Elsewhere in the city of 200,000, Moroccan police killed two nationalist demonstrators in a crowd which set fire to a tobacco shop.

The French Press Agency gave this account of the shooting attempt on the pasha:

El Glaoui had just left Grandval at one of the Pasha's palaces and was being driven away alone in a big black sedan. Suddenly demonstrators blocked the street and one shot rang out.

The fiery old man grabbed a repeating carbine he had with him, climbed out of the car and raised the gun to shoot. French police stopped him from firing and Moroccan police then fired on the demonstrators, injuring several.

El Glaoui is the leader of the warlike Berber tribesmen who live in Morocco's Atlas Mountains, behind Marrakech. A staunch supporter of French rule, he is hated by the ardent Arab nationalists who congregate mostly in the protectorate's cities.

Gangs Raid, Wreck Midtown Night Clubs

MONTREAL (AP) — Unidentified gangs raided and wrecked two midtown night clubs early today in what some police officials believe is a war to gain control of Montreal's bustling cabaret circuit.

Gunfire punctuated the attacks on the All-American Bar and Grill and the Montmartre Cafe. There were no reports of anyone injured, however.

Gangs carried out similar raids early yesterday on two other clubs, the El Morocco and the Downbeat.

Baptists Okay Fight Against World's Evils

LONDON (AP)—The Baptist World Alliance unanimously approved today a five-point program to combat the menace to "freedom, basic human values, even Christianity itself."

The resolution was submitted and approved at the Alliance's jubilee meeting in Albert Hall attended by some 8,000 delegates from all over the world. The weeklong congress ends tomorrow.

Before considering the resolution the delegates heard a sermon by a Russian Baptist minister, the Rev. Alexander Karev of Moscow.

The declaration contained these five principles:

1. "That the right to be free is a gift from God to all men of whatever race. A person is not physically born into a religious faith but must of his own free will enter upon his inheritance as a child of God."

2. "That a man's right to choose or change his faith must be preserved, as well as his liberty to dissent or to make objection because of conscience's sake."

3. "That toleration is not enough: That freedom to worship is not enough. As Baptists we seek not to be tolerated but to be accepted everywhere as equals in Christ with all the privileges and responsibility of loyal citizens. What we desire for ourselves we would secure for others, both for Christian believers and non-believers."

4. "That real religious liberty guarantees not only freedom to worship privately and publicly, but to teach, preach, publish and advocate, openly and without hindrance, the gospel of Christ, or other religious convictions."

5. "That our churches must be free from the interference of the state, that all our churches should, so far as their principles permit, abide by the laws of the state and loyally co-operate with the civil authorities in helping to create a community in which freedom of the press, speech and assembly and social righteousness, will be assured."

Many Colombians Die During Revolutions

CALI, Colombia (AP)—President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla says 644 Colombians were killed in one province alone during the past three months of his government's efforts to stamp out rebellious elements.

In a speech last night marking Colombia's Independence Day, Rojas Pinilla gave this breakdown of the dead: Liberals 87; Conservatives 492; armed forces 65.

The President charged the insurgents are inspired by Communist elements and aided by dissident politicians and criminals.

Things Happen When Outboard Overturns

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—A 12-foot outboard motor boat overturned in Los Angeles harbor yesterday, and then things really happened.

An unidentified spectator evidently turned in all sorts of alarms because, presently, two fire boats appeared, along with a police boat, three Coast Guard boats, a Coast Guard land rescue truck, a fire chief and assorted police cars.

Amid the marine hubbub, an unidentified water taxi operator nosed in among the official flotilla and calmly fished Harlan Silfies and Ed Burcham out of the drink.

They got back in their righted boat and went cruising about the harbor again, while the firemen, Coast Guards and policemen looked for a quiet, restful place to anchor.

Michigan May Drop Slogan From License

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Secretary of State James M. Hare said today Michigan likely will drop the "Water Wonderland" slogan from auto license plates in 1957.

"The trend is away from license plate advertising and slogans," Hare said.

The question arose when the Kalamazoo County Circuit Court yesterday overruled the conviction of a motorist who had covered the slogan on his license plate. The court held that the motorist was not required to advertise the state.

Convicted Burglar Rips Bible To Shreds

HOUSTON (AP)—Carl Jackson, 23, charged with burglary, carried a big Bible as he was escorted into Judge Langston G. King's court.

"I've found religion," Jackson announced.

The jury gave Jackson 12 years in the penitentiary and he was taken to the court's confinement room. There, courtroom attendants said, he tore the Bible to shreds.

Soldier Leaves Cash In Service Station

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Sgt. Andrew Nels Hegdhal, of Little Fork, Minn., stopped at a service station on Route 611 near this Pocono Mountain resort town three days ago.

He told the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gordon, he was hitchhiking to Ft. Carson, Colorado Springs, Colo., and asked permission to change into civilian clothes. They agreed and even gave him a meal.

But yesterday they asked the state police to be on the watch for him.

After Hegdhal left the station, they found his wallet with $60 in travelers checks and $10 in cash plus the soldier's identification.

"He probably didn't have another penny with him," Mrs. Gordon said. "We don't know how he's managing to eat. If he'd just contact us we'd be glad to send his billfold wherever he is."

U.S. farmers use more than 65 per cent of the tractors in the world.

Innocents Learn Tea In Jamaica Is Dope In U.S.A.

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—Norris McPherson and Gustavus Miller have learned that what's tea in their native Jamaica is dope in Salisbury.

Their innocence saved them from a two-year jail sentence yesterday on a charge of growing marijuana in their gardens.

Circuit Judge Rex A. Taylor suspended the sentence after their lawyers told him McPherson and Miller didn't know there was a law against cultivating the dope weed.

The two farm workers brought seeds of marijuana with them when they came from Jamaica 10 years ago. There, said McPherson's lawyer, it is brewed like tea and used for "all sorts of aches and ailments."

The two have been using marijuana since they were 20. McPherson now is 35 and Miller 37.

"They're not addicted," said their lawyer.

Hamilton P. Fox, state's attorney, also in an extenuating word for the defendants. He said he had no evidence they gave or sold the dope to anybody else.

Judge Taylor gave McPherson and Miller a tip before letting them go. "If you need some stuff to boil there are plenty of American wild roots," he advised.

Brilliant Pitching Displayed By Susce In One-Hit Game

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Every now and then this season the smoke sent up by the sluggers, zeroing in on the major league home run records with 1,400 to date, clears away and some brilliant pitching shows through. Yesterday was one of those days.

Boston's George Susce Jr. was the leader, giving Kansas City just one hit in a 6-0 victory. It was the fifth one-hit job in the American League this year and eighth in the majors.

The 24-year-old right-hander, son of the A's bullpen coach, gave up a leadoff single to Vic Power in the first and that was all.

Big Don Newcombe came close to his second one-hitter of the season, but Chicago wound up with two singles off the Brooklyn right-hander as he won his 16th in the first game of a twi-nighter 10-1. The Cubs snapped a nine-game losing streak in the nightcap 5-3.

It was relief pitching that won a fifth straight for Washington, with Pedro Ramos hurling 5 2-3 innings of hitless ball to beat Cleveland 6-4. Ray Narleski, Don Mossi and Mike Garcia, incidentally, tossed no-hit stuff in 6 1-3 innings of relief for the Tribe.

Saul Rogovin allowed just five hits as Philadelphia beat Cincinnati 6-0 and Curt Simmons followed it up with a four-hitter as the Phils won their ninth straight in the second game of the twi-nighter 4-2.

Clutch pitching paid off for the Chicago White Sox, who barely made an 8-0 lead hold up in an 8-6 victory over New York that cut the Yankees' AL lead to two games again. Billy Pierce, third Sox pitcher, ended it with runners on second and first by getting Mickey Mantle to hit into a force-out.

In the other AL game, Baltimore snapped Detroit's four-game streak 6-3. And in the National, Milwaukee fell 13½ games behind Brooklyn with a 4-3 loss at Pittsburgh while St. Louis whipped New York 9-2.

Susce, now 5-3, fanned five and walked three while toppling the A's to their ninth straight defeat. Four runs in the second inning on three singles and Billy Goodman's double wrapped it up for the Red Sox.

Newcombe struck out eight and after Clyde McCullough's single in the second inning, didn't allow a runner until Dee Fondy singled to open the eighth. The Brooks smacked five home runs in his support, two each by Don Zimmer and Duke Snider, who now has 33.

The Cubs rallied for three runs in the seventh to salvage the nightcap with Frank Baumholtz's pinch hit eluding Jim Gilliam's shoestring try in the left for a two-run triple.

The White Sox rapped loser Bob Turley for four runs in the first and tapped Johnny Kucks for four in the third—then Kucks and Bob Wiesler held them hitless the rest of the way. Dick Donovan won his 13th, although chased in a five-run Yank seventh.

Cleveland, now still four games behind, tumbled in the third when the Nats scored four times. Loser Early Wynn set off the inning with an error and Jose Valdivielso capped it with a two-run triple.

Rogovin, released recently by Baltimore, batted home two runs with a double, and Andy Seminick swatted a three-run homer in the Phils' first-game victory. Willie Jones gave Simmons a 3-0 lead with his leadoff homer in the fourth of the nightcap.

The Braves lost their second straight to the Bucs despite Ed Mathews' 24th homer that fashioned an early 2-0 lead. Preston Ward hit a pinch homer with two on to tie it 3-3 in the seventh and Jack Shepard lined a pinch, bases-loaded single in the ninth to win it.

Tom Poholsky, who never had beaten the Giants since entering the majors in 1951, gave 10 hits, but had three of the Cards' 15 safeties. Stan Musial leveled his 21st homer with one on.

Ray Moore held Detroit hitless for 6 2-3 innings, then gave way to a 3-2 Tiger lead on homers by Ray Boone and Frank House. Hal Smith hit a pair of two-run doubles as the Orioles pulled it out.

No One Can Match Snead In PGA Meet

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—It may be true that golf's "old guard"—the Hogans, Sneads and Mangrums—is being eased into the rocking chair, but there's one old codger who still has plenty of fight left in him.

He's a balding businessman-golfer who goes by the name of Samuel Jackson Snead—and don't call him "Grandpa."

It is sad but true that old Sammy now 43, can't hit a lick in the U.S. Open. He's been trying for almost 20 years but still no cigar. When it comes to the PGA tournament, however, there are few who can measure up to his record.

The books show that he has won this testing, all-professional tournament three times, and was runner-up twice. He also was PGA medalist twice, and now he is favored to take medal honors for the third time in the 1955 event at the Meadowbrook Country Club.

Using a brand new putter, he shot a 6-under-par 66 yesterday to seize the lead in the first of two qualifying rounds at the 6,701-yard, par-71 layout.

Seventeen players in the field of 135 broke par but nobody could match Snead and his new putter, which he bought the other day in Chick Harbert's pro shop on the Meadowbrook course.

He took a one-stroke lead over Jackie Burke Jr., and Doug Ford, golfing buddies from Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Skee Riegel, 1947 national amateur champion from Ithan, Pa.

Nine Snyder Youths Prepare For Regional Junior Olympics

Nine Snyder youths will leave here Sunday to compete in the three-state Junior Olympic Track and Field meet in Houston which begins Monday morning. They will run for a West Texas team made up of all the first-place winners of the area meet held July 8-9 in Abilene.

The individual winners of the Houston meet will move on to Chicago for the national finals.

The Snyder team placed eight boys on the West Texas team by winning first places in the area meet. Two others who ran second in their events were also asked to make the trip. Richard Mahan ran second in the 50-yard dash for 12-13-year-olds and was asked to go to Houston, but will not make the trip because of the Pony League playoffs which will be held here next week. He pitches and plays shortstop on the All-Star team.

Benny Minor ran a close second behind Snyder's Bobby Brown in the 11-and-under group and will make the trip to run on the 220-yard shuttle relay. Brown ran the distance in 6.6 seconds, one-tenth of a second off the meet record and tying the state record. Minor is only nine years old, and has two more years to run in this same class, team coach J. C. Morgan said.

The group will be accompanied by meet officials from Abilene and by Morgan, father of Bud Morgan who will enter the 120-yard low hurdles, and coach of the Snyder team. Morgan organized the first Junior Olympic team from Snyder last year, and coached it again this year with the assistance of Guy Sullivan, director of the Scurry County Boys Club, and others.

Most of the team will go in the big air-conditioned bus furnished by the Abilene Recreation Department, Morgan said, but some of the boys will ride with Morgan in his car. He is taking his car he said in order to take more boys to the meet. Organization rules permit each team to have only one bus, he said.

Preliminary and qualifying times will be recorded Monday, and the finals will be run Tuesday, Morgan said. The boys will return home Wednesday.

The meet is to be held on the University of Houston track and all the contestants will stay in the university's dormitories.

Snyder's team took second place in the area meet with 122 1-5 points behind Abilene's 146 14-15 points. A busload of girls who won in the area meet will go to the Houston tourney. Snyder did not enter a girl's team.

The eight Snyder representatives on the 53-boy squad are Jack Spikes, who ran first in the 16-17-year-old 100-yard dash with a time of 10.3; Bud Morgan, who won the 120-yard low hurdles in 14.0 seconds, a new meet record, only .3 seconds off the state record for the 14-15-year-old class; Billy Mark Phillips, who took the 70-yard high hurdles of the 14-15 age group with a time of 10.3; Bobby Brown, winner of the 11-and-under 50-yard dash; Charles Gladson, who threw the baseball 163 feet, six inches to win that event in the 11-and-under class; and a 440-yard relay team made up of Spikes, Tommy Prichard, Powell Berry and Bobby Pollard, which won with a time of 46.6 seconds.

Pollard will also enter the 100-yard dash, an event in which he placed second at Abilene. Berry will enter the 120-yard high hurdles, in which he placed second in the area meet.

This will be Berry's second trip to the regional meet. He won the area high hurdles last year, but failed to place in the big meet. Dean Staton won the 880-yard run last year to go to the Houston meet, but placed second in that event this year. Berry will be running in a different age group this year.

Morgan said the boys will work out every afternoon this week at 5:30 until Saturday.

Bisplinghoff Leads In Western Amateur

ROCKFORD, Ill., (AP) — Eleven players, led by husky 20-year-old Don Bisplinghoff of Orlando, Fla., today opened a stampede for seven qualifying berths in the Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

Bisplinghoff, drawling blond blaster who won the North-South title at Pinehurst this season, rolled up a 67 Wednesday for a 54-hole tally of 206—seven under par for the exacting Rockford Country Club course.

The University of Florida junior, who has been playing golf since he was four and won his first tourney at nine, never has been a medalist. But he appeared headed for those honors today in the final round of a 72-hole qualifying marathon.

Seven survivors will join defending champion Bruce Cudd of Portland, Ore., in 36-hole match play for the title starting tomorrow and continuing through Sunday.

Bisplinghoff, a hot Walker Cup prospect who has a monopoly on the Florida State Amateur crown, featured his third round with an eagle three on the 460-yard 10th hole. He needed only a No. 6 iron on his second shot and planted the ball a foot from the cup.

Trailing him by four strokes at 210 were two more youngsters — Bob Brue of Milwaukee, 20, a steady bespectacled darkhorse just coming around in major tourney competition, and Edward Merrins of Meridian, Miss., 22, recent winner of the Colonial Invitational at Memphis.

Grouped at 211 were Jim Tom Blair of Jefferson City, Mo., long-hitting son of Missouri's lieutenant governor and a Western Amateur finalist in 1951; Alex Welsh of the host club, six-time Rockford City champion who skidded to 73 after holding the halfway lead, and Rex Baxter, 19, of Amarillo, Tex., runnerup the last two years in the Trans-Mississippi and 1954 Mexican Amateur winner.

Rounding out the top 11 at 213 were Harold Brink, 43, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Jim Jackson, Glendale, Mo., Trans-Miss champion the last two years; Walker Cupper Dale Morey of Indianapolis and Don Cherry of Wichita Falls, Tex., and Hillman Robbins of Memphis, State 1954 Intercollegiate King.

Cudd, who qualifies automatically, faded to a 76 for 216.

Red Cross Lifesaving Course Set

A free lifesaving and water safety course will be started at the Snyder Swimming Pool next week, according to an announcement made by Jack Dillon, pool operator, and Grant Teaff, county water safety chairman.

About 40 persons can be enrolled in the class, which is planned to teach those taking the course how to conduct themselves in water and how to save others from drowning. Examinations will be given at the end of the course for both junior and senior Red Cross lifesaving certificates.

The course will begin at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

Instructors in the Red Cross course will be Teaff, Norma McArthur, and Joy Lloyd. Teaff said about 12 days will be required to complete the work. He added that the Red Cross requires 18 hours of classwork for the certificates. Those enrolled will not spend more than 45 minutes in the water during any class period, Teaff said. About half the time will be spent in lectures.

Those interested in the course must know how to swim. The various strokes used in lifesaving, as well as various methods of preventing drownings, will be taught in the classes. A person must be 14 years old or older to enroll, Teaff said.

All who wish to enroll in the class have been asked to call 3-9263 before Monday. Those who cannot notify the pool before the class begins may enroll by being at the pool at the time the first session starts Monday.

Last year, when the first such course was held here, 27 persons graduated, most of them receiving senior certificates.

WT-NM May Outlaw Non-Playing Coaches

PLAINVIEW, Tex., (AP)—Officials of the Class B West Texas-New Mexico League are considering a motion that use of non-playing coaches be prohibited.

That was the principal matter brought before them at a meeting here yesterday. The ruling was suggested by President Hal Sayles on the basis of a letter from George Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

Sayles explained the matter was a direct result of Abilene's recent protest of a game with Amarillo during which Buck Fausett appeared with manager Taft Wright as non-playing coaches.

Loop Studies Problem At Beaumont

BEAUMONT (AP) — The Texas League opens its mid-season meeting today seeking a solution to the problem posed by the Beaumont franchise.

Floundering financially because of low attendance, Beaumont may have to move its franchise next season although owner Allen Russell has prospects of a tieup with Milwaukee of the National League that would furnish him players.

Best indications were that Beaumont would finish this season all right and Russell says he hasn't given up on the idea of keeping the franchise here next year.

George Trautman, president of the minor leagues, will meet with the league directors and offer his suggestions. Ford Frick, commissioner of baseball also is here and will exchange views on baseball in general with the league directors in a preliminary meeting this afternoon.

Frick will attend an old-timers game tonight and depart but Trautman is due to be here tomorrow when the league directors hold their official meeting.

A crowd of 6,000 is expected tonight when Dizzy Dean and Carl Hubbell, members of Baseball's Hall of Fame, manage the old-timers teams in a game preceding the regular Dallas-Beaumont Texas League game.

All will lead up to the fifteenth annual All-Star game tomorrow night when John (Red) Davis of Dallas will manage the North, victorious in the past two games, against the South, piloted by Don Heffner of San Antonio, the losing manager last year.

As the All-Stars prepared to move into Beaumont there was one substitution. George Anderson of Fort Worth replaced Alex Cosmidis of Dallas at second base for the North. Cosmidis has an injured hand and can't play.

North Takes South As WT-NM All-Stars Take Extra Innings

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP) — The North splurged with six runs in the 10th inning last night to take the 10th West Texas-New Mexico League all-star game 13-8 from the South.

It was the first extra-inning tilt in the history of the annual affair.

The North opened scoring in the second with one run, but in the bottom of that frame, its vaunted pitching took a blow when Jim Mangan of El Paso, I. B. Palmer of Plainview and Gerry Mackay of El Paso homered.

Bright light of North moundsmen was Ted Shandor, who hurled four innings of relief for the victory. He gave up two hits however, and one was a homer by Bobby Fernandez of Lubbock in the Bottom of the 10th.

Plainview's Bob Upton and El Paso's Ken Yoke looked good on the mound for the South, Upton giving up one hit and one run in three innings, and Yoke pitching three scoreless innings until the North's 10th inning splurge.

Sun, Tri-Service Hold Makeup Game

The City Baseball League has scheduled a makeup ball game for 8 p.m. tonight at the baseball diamond in Towle Park.

Matched in the game will be Sun and Tri-Service. The two were scheduled to meet Tuesday night, but the game was rained out.

The only other league game scheduled this week is Hermleigh vs. Tigers on Saturday night. Tonight's game will open the second half of the league schedule.

Police Didn't Knock; Case Is Dismissed

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Police officers had the right to use a sledge hammer in pounding open the door of Mrs. Ina J. Williams' home, but because they failed to knock and announce they wanted her on a bookmaking warrant, the case was dismissed yesterday.

Superior Judge Paul Nourse cited a statute which said officers are permitted to break in a door only after demanding admittance and stating the purpose of their visit.

Mrs. Williams, who lives in Wilmington, was arrested April 13 and charged with five counts of bookmaking.

Skewer Meals Are Good

'Little Stick' Eating Policy

The "little stick" policy is now a diplomatic way to a delicious meal.

Cooking on skewers never fails to intrigue guests, particularly when they can construct and grill their own "kebob."

Although skewer cooking has gained its popularity just lately with the general movement to out-of-doors and informal living, it is much older than any barbecue pit. The idea originated centuries ago in the Near East when Armenian shepherds impaled their food on sticks and cooked it over open fires.

The dish Armenians made famous, shish kebob, consists of chunks of marinated lamb alternated on a skewer with pieces of green pepper and onion and broiled until well done and crispy brown. For flaming versions, it is served on long swords, tipped with cotton which can be ignited for an impressive parade to the dinner table.

Skewer cooking is not just for company, however. Fruit on skewers in the morning is an excellent way to stir children's interest in downing a really big breakfast. Even an ice cream sundae gains appetizing appeal when a skewer of fruits, and nuts, too, is stuck on top.

Skewered meats can include, aside from lamb, beef, ham and ground beef, pork and ham. Ready to serve luncheon meat, cut into cubes, is another good one. Try pineapple, prunes, apricots, peaches, figs, cherries and apples for fruit layers. In the line of vegetables are tomato wedges, onion slices, peppers, cooked sweet potatoes and tiny pre-cooked potatoes.

In broiling, place the skewers on the broiler rack adjusted to 3 inches from the heat. This allows the meat to heat slowly. Turn the skewers on each side to heat thoroughly.

SHISH KEBOB FOR FOUR

2 pounds lamb shoulder or boned leg of lamb
⅓ cup sliced onion
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon black pepper
½ teaspoon crushed rosemary
3 tablespoons salad or olive oil
3 tablespoons vinegar
6 green peppers
12 small onions

Cut lamb into 1½-inch chunks, removing bones and most of fat. Place lamb in bowl and cover with onion, salt, pepper, rosemary, salad oil and vinegar. Mix well. Cover and let stand in refrigerator at least 1 hour or overnight. Wash green peppers and cut into 1½-inch pieces. Peel onions and cut into halves. Alternate marinated lamb chunks, green pepper pieces and halved onions on 4 metal skewers. Brush vegetables with butter or olive oil. Broil 15 minutes or until well done and crispy brown. Use 2 shoulder lamb chops from shish kebob for two; a 5 to 7 pound leg of lamb should be sufficient for 8 to 10 servings.

SHISH KEBOB FOR A CROWD

1 leg of lamb (5 to 7 pounds), boned
1 peeled, minced clove garlic
1-3 cup salad or olive oil
1-3 cup vinegar
½ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
1 teaspoon crushed oregano
½ teaspoon crushed thyme
1 teaspoon salt
8 to 10 green peppers
16 to 20 small white onions

Have your meat man remove bone from leg of lamb. Cut boned lamb into 1½-inch cubes. Remove gristle and most of fat. Place in a large bowl. Cover with garlic, olive oil, vinegar, black pepper, oregano, thyme and salt. Mix well. Cover and let stand in the refrigerator at least 1 hour or overnight. Cut washed green peppers into 1½-inch pieces. Peel onions and cut into halves. When ready to cook, alternate marinated lamb, chunks, green peppers and halved onions on 8 to 10 metal skewers. Brush vegetables with butter or olive oil. Broil 3 inches from heat source or over coals until tender, about 20 minutes, turning skewers to brown food evenly. To serve, push off onto individual plates. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

If you like tomatoes with shish kebob, be sure to broil them separately since they cook more quickly than the lamb, green pepper and onion. Allow at least one tomato for each serving and select ripe but firm tomatoes. Cut each into 4 to 6 wedges, depending upon their size, then thread the tomato pieces on a skewer and broil only until heated and lightly browned.

GROUND LAMB KEBOB

1 pound ground lamb
½ cup finely rolled cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons French dressing
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon garlic salt
½ teaspoon oregano
½ teaspoon basil
Few grains pepper
16 mushrooms
16 onion wedges
16 tomato wedges
Salad oil

Thoroughly blend together lamb, cracker crumbs, French dressing, salt, garlic salt, oregano, basil and pepper. Shape into 16 balls. On skewers, alternate the mushrooms, onion wedges and lamb balls. Put tomato wedges on separate skewers and cook less time than the lamb. Brush all with oil and broil 3 inches from the heat sources until done. Serves 4.

BEEF KEBOB

1 pound sirloin steak, about 1 inch thick
¼ cup wine vinegar
¼ cup salad oil
¼ teaspoon thyme
½ teaspoon salt
Dash tabasco sauce
12 small onions
1 tablespoon liquid spices

Cut meat into 1-inch squares. Mix vinegar, oil thyme, salt and tabasco together and toss with steak cubes. Marinate for several hours, turning meat a few times. When ready to broil meat, peel onions and par boil for 3 minutes. Drain meat well and string alternately with onions on 4 large skewers. Brush meat with liquid spices. Place in broiling pan. Broil quickly to desired doneness. Makes 4 servings.

BREAKFAST SKEWERS

1 cup canned apple slices
1 7-ounce can cocktail sausages
¼ pound chicken livers, halved
¼ pound bacon strips, halved
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Alternate canned apples slices chicken livers and bacon (folded in thirds). Brush food with melted butter or margarine. Broil, turning to brown all sides. Yields 4 servings.

ORANGE AND MEAT BALL KEBOBS

1 pound ground beef or hamburger
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup finely chopped onions
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
Dash of allspice
½ cup breadcrumbs
½ cup brown sugar
6 oranges, peeled and cut into slices or bite size pieces

Add brown sugar to oranges and allow to set while preparing meat balls. Mix together remaining ingredients until well blended. Form into 24 little balls. When ready to barbecue, thread beef balls on metal skewers, alternately with orange pieces. Brush well with lemon caper sauce and broil. Brush frequently with sauce during barbecuing process.

LEMON CAPER SAUCE

½ cup lemon juice
½ cup salad oil
½ teaspoon celery salt
1 tablespoon chopped capers
1 tablespoon brown sugar
½ teaspoon marjoram
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon salt

Mix all ingredients together and stir until sugar is dissolved. Let set for several hours or overnight to allow flavors to blend.

APPLE HAMBURGER KEBOBS

1 pound ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 egg
½ cup bread crumbs
4 red apples
6 small boiling onions

Combine ground beef with seasonings, egg and bread crumbs. Peel one of the apples and grate or chop finely and blend into meat mixture. Form into 12 small balls. Cut remaining 3 unpeeled apples into quarters and remove cores. Slip a hamburger ball onto a skewer, follow with an apple wedge, then another hamburger ball and then an onion. Repeat until skewers are filled. Broil until brown on all sides and apple wedges are tender. Serves 4.

HAM KEBOBS

18 1-inch ham cubes
24 pineapple chunks
12 pitted ripe olives
12 1-inch crosswise slices of cooked yams
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
¼ cup brown sugar

On six 7-inch skewers, place a cube of ham, pineapple chunk, olive, pineapple chunk; repeat, ending with a cube of ham. Arrange kebobs in center of broiler rack in broiler pan. Place yam slices on both sides of kebobs, with half the butter. Place broiler pan under broiler (or broil over fire). Broil 8 minutes. Turn. Brush with remaining butter. Sprinkle brown sugar over top of yams. Broil 5 minutes longer. Makes 6 servings.

HAM AND YAM SKEWERS

1 No. 2 can syrup-packed sweet potatoes
1 16-ounce can pineapple chunks
1 1½-pound can ham
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
½ teaspoon dry mustard

String sweet potatoes, pineapple and ham, cut in chunks, on skewers. Melt butter and stir in sugar and mustard. Brush sauce on skewered foods. Cook in broiler or on an outdoor grill until lightly browned. Turn occasionally while cooking. Makes 4 servings.

CHERRY KEBOB SUNDAES

1 No. 2 can dark sweet cherries with juice
1 4-ounce bottle maraschino cherries
1 quart vanilla ice cream
Juice from No. 2 can cherries (about 1 cup)
1½ tablespoons cornstarch
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
3 tablespoons sugar

Pit cherries from No. 2 can. For sundaes, set aside 16 cherries. Chop remaining cherries to put in sauce. For sauce, take juice from No. 2 can. Add it to cornstarch and sugar which have been well blended. Add lemon juice and cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Add chopper cherries and heat through. Chill thoroughly. Place scoop of ice cream in serving dishes. Pour over it the sauce containing chopped cherries. On each of 8 long wooden skewers, arrange 2 pitted canned sweet dark cherries with a maraschino cherry in between. Serve with extra dish of cherry sauce and spritz cookies.

Expensive Fish

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky. (AP) — Dr. M. J. Noel found a new way to catch fish but it was expensive.

He parked his 1955 model car near a river and the machine rolled down a steep shore into the water. When a wrecker retrieved the car, two fish were found inside.

Stevens Intends To Leave With Chin Up

By C. YATES MCDANIEL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert T. Stevens, stepping out after 2½ years as secretary of the Army, said Wednesday, "I feel I can leave with my chin up."

"And that gives a fellow a good feeling," he added in an interview in advance of a farewell salute from the Army and an unusual tribute from the Navy.

The former textile industry executive has stayed in office far longer than his critics and many of his supporters had anticipated, particularly after his bitter row last year with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) over the senator's accusation that the Army was "coddling" Communists.'

Stevens said that sine his resignation was announced, he has received "many letters" of best wishes from congressman, "both Democrats and Republicans."

Stevens spoke with pride also of the distinguished public service award which he receives today from Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas. The Navy said the presentation to an Army secretary was "unprecedented."

From the Air Force too there was a tribute. Stevens displayed a certificate and a pair of star-tipped silver wings of an honorary command pilot of the Air Force.

The Army itself arranged a farewell parade and review.

"I didn't know about the parade until I read about it in the papers," he said, adding: "These are the things that make a man feel wonderful."

The shy-mannered Stevens, listing Army achievements that gave him the most satisfaction, made no mention of the blast he let loose on a winter Sunday early last year accusing McCarthy of abusing a general and forbidding any of his officers from appearing before the Senate Investigations subcommittee until he was assured they would be treated as officers and gentlemen.

Just last week the subcommittee, no longer headed by McCarthy, criticized Stevens, among others, for the handling of the case of former Maj. Irving Peress, who was promoted and honorably discharged after refusing to answer questions about communism.

Stevens has said previously hit by his defiance of McCarthy he "struck a blow for the prestige and honor of all the armed services."

Stevens will turn over his post tomorrow to Wilber Brucker, who has been general counsel of the Defense Department. Both Stevens and Brucker are Republicans.

Busy Teacher

DECATUR, Mich. (AP) — The Rev. Henry Houseman is supply minister of the Methodist Harmony Chapel, but that isn't all.

Farmer Houseman raises truck crops as a part-time occupation on his small farm.

Teacher Houseman goes over readin', writin', and 'rithmetic as principal of Decatur High School —a post he's held for 28 years.

Meanwhile, in his spare time, 58-year-old Houseman continues his studies as a candidate for full ordination as a Methodist minister.

Sen. Wiley Expects Ike To Make Full Report On Conference

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) said today he "fully expects" President Eisenhower to make a report to the people when he returns from the Geneva Big Four conference.

Wiley, senior Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, added that as far as he knows no arrangements yet have been made for the President to report by television and radio on his meeting with the Prime Ministers of Britain, France and Russia.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), meanwhile, termed "very discouraging" the Big Four decision to shunt the problems of German unification and European security to future lower-level conferences.

"The unification of Germany is the heart and core of the problem of European security," Humphrey said in a separate interview. "There can be no effective work at the second level unless there is agreement at the top on the desirability of having a united Germany."

Wiley, however, said he saw "nothing discouraging" in the decision to have the foreign ministers work out arrangements for future conferences on the issues, and he added:

"I have felt all along that the Big Four meetings could be only exploratory, that they would be only the beginning of future consultations on these problems."

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) told the Senate yesterday there had been a "dismal failure" on the part of the American delegation at Geneva to focus the world's attention "on the real cause of international tension—namely Communist tyranny and Communist imperialism."

McCarthy said that in this way "we implicitly conceded that the subversive activities of international communism and conditions in the satellite nations are not an important cause of world tensions."

Corpus Christi To Cut Out Segregation

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — This south Texas city of more than 150,000 will no longer bar a student from any public school because of race.

The 100 per cent compliance with the U. S. Supreme Court ban on segregation in schools was announced last night by the board of the Corpus Christi Independent School District.

Dr. H. Boyd Hall, Texas Conference president of the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People, called it "the most perfect decision that has been issued in any of the 48 states."

West Still Hopes For Action On German Reunification

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP)—Western leaders have decided to keep the door open and hope alive for some important Soviet concession on German reunification right up to the last minute of the summit conference.

Privately, experts see no evidence in the positions so far taken by Soviet Premier Bulganin that the Kremlin intends to yield on any important point.

But in postwar negotiations over the last 10 years, Soviet delegates have occasionally sprung last-minute surprises. There may be a chance this practice will be repeated this time.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are reported fully aware of this possibility, along with other Western authorities here.

The evidence is, however, that Bulganin and his associates have been trying—in one of their own words—to "normalize" relations with the West.

They seem to conceive of this not so much in terms of giving up important interests of their own, as accepting the inevitability of what they cannot change in the West.

Fresh indication that this is the Soviet policy line came last night when French, British and American experts analyzed the proposal Bulganin introduced yesterday for creation of a new European security system.

They decided this proposal tacitly recognized West Germany's right to rearm as a member of the North Atlantic Alliance and Western European Union.

One provision of the Soviet plan specifically recognized obligations of countries under such existing treaties as the North Atlantic Pact. That presumably would include West Germany's promise under the Paris agreements to raise a 500,000-man force for NATO.

This was a surprising turn in Soviet policy. Six months ago Moscow was fighting West German rearmament at every turn.

It is not so surprising, however, when viewed as part of a policy of "normalizing" what they can't change.

Bulganin already has told the Big Four conference he knows it would be unrealistic to expect the Atlantic Alliance and West Germany's links with it to be dissolved very soon.

All he has said in this respect appears to be of a piece with his invitation several weeks ago to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to visit Moscow and establish regular diplomatic and trade contacts.

The issue of German unity, however, raises a different set of interests for the Russians.

Under present conditions they cannot agree to it without giving up their position in East Germany. That in turn might shake their influence over East European satellite states. It would mean pulling back Soviet power from its present forward position in northern Europe.

Bulganin and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov also argue that a united Germany linked to the West would be a future menace.

Petting In Cemetery

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — Mayor John Harvey yesterday deputized superintendents of three city-owned cemeteries in what the mayor said was an effort to break up vandalism, drinking, card play and "petting" in the burial grounds.

Two Gunmen Foiled In Attempt To Take Payroll Of $5,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Two gunmen invaded a Bronx workshop for the partially disabled yesterday in a vain bid for a $5,000 payroll. They fled empty-handed after a blazing gun battle with a guard.

One of the gunmen, shot in the left shoulder, was nabbed minutes later by an off-duty policeman.

Also wounded in the shooting were the guard, Gerald Elliot, 40, and a woman clerical employe, Lottie Friedlander, 40. All were reported in good condition.

Some 150 sewing workers, almost all suffering from tuberculosis or heart ailments, hit the floor as gunfire echoed in the halls of Altro Workshops, Inc., run by the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies.

Thirteen shots were exchanged between the guard and the two stickup men.

About 20 minutes after the payroll was brought in Asst. Manager Harold Rogot was supervising two women employes making up pay envelopes.

Elliot noticed the two gunmen as they approached, and yelled out:

"Drop your guns."

The gunmen began to fire.

Elliot returned the fire until the thugs whirled around and fled the building.

Patrolman James Rozakis, seven times cited for bravery on the police force at the age of 24, saw the two as they were fleeing.

He drew his revolver and chased them, first in his car then on foot, until he cornered one.

Police identified him as Dominick De Gennaro, 40, Schenectady, N.Y., recently released from Clinton State Prison at Dannemora, where he served time for robbery.

Back Yard Circus Gets $5.75 For Polio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A group of youngsters this week staged a back yard circus performance and raised $5.75 for the fight against polio.

Mark Paglione, 5, enacted the part of Bozo the clown. At one point in the show, he disdained the advances of one of the dancing girls.

"That's just like him," said his mother Mrs. Ermo J. Paglione. "Sometimes he pushes me away when I'm going to kiss him. He says, 'Don't kiss me. I'm not the type.'"

About half the best one-fourth of high school graduates do not go to college, says the U.S. Office of Education.

The "No" Man Smiles A Lot These Days

By EDDY GILMORE

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov—mellow as a cello these days—confided to a member of the American delegation at the summit conference that he's out to make character with the masses.

The Soviet Sphinx is turning into a veritable publicity hound.

Discussing his recent visit to the United States, the once stern and severe Molotov turned the conversation to that day last month in Wyoming when he posed in a 10-gallon hat.

"Did you see the photograph of me in an American cowboy hat?" asked the man who used to be known in Communist party ranks as "Old Stone Bottom."

The American (who asked that his name not be used) said he could not have escaped the picture of Molotov in the 10-gallon headgear—it was printed in so many papers.

"What did you think of it as publicity?" asked Molotov.

"How do you mean?" inquired the American.

"I mean was it good publicity, or was it bad publicity?"

"Do you mean publicity for the Soviet Union, or for yourself?" the American inquired.

"Publicity for myself," Molotov explained. "You see, I'm getting old now and I'd like the people—including the American people—to think of me as something more than a man who says 'No.'"

The American said he replied: "You could say 'Yes' more often, Mr. Molotov."

The foreign minister grinned and said neither yes nor no.

The American said he asked Molotov if his cowboy hat was the right size.

"No," the Russian replied, "but it's more important to have good publicity than to have a hat that fits."

Molotov left the cowboy hat in Moscow and didn't bring it to the Big Four conference, but he's up to other tricks in his mission of winning friends.

When he got out of his automobile Monday at the Palace of Nations—where the conference is being held — he greeted Charles Baechtold, a retired Swiss policeman who is chief doorkeeper for the conference.

"How are you?" asked Molotov. "I remember you from the Geneva conference last year."

And he's always smiling these days.

The foreign minister was the late Joseph Stalin's chief "no" man. With the old dictator gone, this could have something to do with Molotov's mellow mood.

Income Tax Man Makes His Mark On U.S. Red Tape

By GENE GRAHAM
Nashville Tennessean Reporter

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—William A. Shull Jr., an income tax man by trade, has made his mark on the red tape of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service—through channels of course.

He made a suggestion to his bosses in the Nashville office on May 7, 1954, for a change in one of the forms.

The Internal Revenue Manaul requires that the service send Form 21 to delinquent taxpayers.

Everytime the forms went out Shull said, back came piles of acid complaints from taxpayers. The trouble lay in one little sentence in the form:

"We have no record of response to previous notice demanding payment of account shown above."

Now, in many cases this was just not true, Shull said. Often, the government did have a "record of response." Sometimes, the response contained part payment of the tax due and sometimes it simply said, "I ain't got the money right now."

Nevertheless, under the manual's iron-clad rule, the forms had to continue going out until the last dollar was in.

Shull suggested the objectionable phrase be replaced with this one:

"We have no record of your paying the above account in response to a previous notice forwarded to you."

This suggestion went to the local incentive awards committee, thence to the Atlanta office, and thence to Washington.

Monday, Shull reaped his reward. The language will be changed in the new Form 21. Shull was presented a certificate of award.

Senators Urge NATO Not Be Abandoned

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several senators said today the free world cannot abandon the North Atlantic Treaty Organization for any forseeable agreement with Russia on German unification.

President Eisenhower appealed to the Soviets at Geneva Tuesday to accept NATO as a solely defensive military apparatus. Russian Premier Bulganin conditionally rejected the appeal. The Russians have maintained NATO must go as part of the price for joining East and West Germany.

Sen. Barkley (D-Ky) said the West "can't even consider abandoning NATO until there has been an air-tight world security agreement." The former vice president said the atmosphere at Geneva seems "propitious for some progress toward composing the world's difficulties" but that he does not look for any iron-clad agreements to come from it.

"I think the Russians are using their demand for the dissolution of NATO as a card in their diplomatic moves," Barkley said. "They know, even if they won't admit it publicly, that NATO is only a defensive organization and no offensive threat to them."

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee agreed generally with this thesis. He added in a separate interview he doesn't believe the Russians "will insist finally on the dissolution of NATO" as the price for further discussion of the German question.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said he regards maintenance of NATO as "essential until the whole military and economic situation of the world is much more reliable than it is now."

Sen. Wiley of Wisconsin, top Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, applauded Eisenhower's direct appeal to Marshal Zhukov, a World War II comrade-in-arms, to recognize NATO as a defensive organization.

"This appeal of one old soldier to another is the kind that touches the heart of the world," Wiley said. "It could have some far-reaching effects."

Many people believe it is bad luck to kill a stork.
