Our Town...

By JOE BELL

Concern for Colorado City's air transportation isn't limited to just a few municipal or Chamber of Commerce officials.

Latest to look toward the construction of adequate airport facilities here is the head of our town's largest industry.

Tollett, H. L., Tollett, board chairman of Col-Tex Refining Company and its parent firm, Cosden Petroleum Corporation, has volunteered assistance in the job of obtaining a municipal airport.

Tollett's concern for a municipal airport here was expressed recently in a letter to Jeff Taylor, Chamber of Commerce president.

And it affirms what some persons have been saying for longer than necessary—that facilities are needed here for air transportation, not only to assure Colorado City's growth in the future, but to help keep now what it has in the way of business and industry.

"Our plans over an extended period of time," Tollett wrote, "are to operate Col-Tex Refining Company as our wholly owned subsidiary."

"We will probably increase, rather than decrease, the number of Col-Tex employees in Colorado City; and we will very likely be making plant improvements for greater diversification in product yields."

"We want Col-Tex Refining Company to be a good citizen, and we would like to have it support progress in the community."

"If Colorado City had a municipal airport," Tollett continued, "it would be a convenience for us and others similarly situated."

"Furthermore, the airport would be a long step in the direction of progress. I think the benefits of the airport would be recognizable and greater in economic value than the cost."

"Please let us know if we can give you any help in getting a municipal airport for Colorado City," Tollett concluded.

The Col-Tex and Cosden officials' comment should be an incentive to the chamber's airport committee, chairman by Dr. Elton Berkman, and to the community as a whole.

Not only for the fact that Col-Tex and Cosden are concerned about airport facilities here, but in the spirit of cooperation the letter was written.

It is another indication that Col-Tex, under the ownership of Cosden, intends not only to be the city's biggest industry, but also a leader in good citizenship.

Good citizenship is one finer characteristic exhibited by the new Col-Tex owners since the refinery was purchased a few months ago.

Civic clubs have noticed it as Cosden's Dan Krause, Marvin Miller and other officials visited their luncheon programs, explained their refinery deal here and pledged cooperation in civic and community affairs.

City councilmen noticed it, too, when Bill Gibson appeared before council in January and obtained approval for Col-Tex to purchase 10 million gallons of Lake Colorado City water per month—a negotiation that had been a thorny spot in previous years between the city and Col-Tex.

And the good citizenship quality was emphasized, too, a few weeks ago when chamber officials called on Tollett in Cosden's offices in Big Spring.

Bill Frank, the ex-Big Spring baseball club owner who is now Cosden's advertising manager, here Tuesday revealed another good citizen move by the new owners of Col-Tex.

The latest will end, once and for all, the problem of Colorado River pollution by the refinery. Pollution of the river has long been a "sore spot" between Col-Tex management, landowners along the river and fishermen.

State game warden and County Attorney Frank Ginzel, in the past, have added legal pressure too.

Complaints about river pollution have come in the past from the emptying of refinery waste into the stream.

But Col-Tex now is completing facilities for the piping of waste water up onto the hill south of

To TESCO, Colorado City

Colorado River Municipal Water District directors offered to waive district rights to Champion Creek waters, in favor of the City of Colorado City and Texas Electric Service Company.

Decision was made during a meeting Wednesday morning. District rights will be waived. It was said, in event Colorado City and TESCO ask the State Board of Water Engineers for a permit to explore possibilities for construction of a dam on Champion Creek.

Rights under a permit issued for study of the feasibility of constructing a new reservoir in southeast Mitchell County are now held by CRMWD.

TESCO and Colorado City have discussed possibilities of building a dam on the creek southeast of Colorado City with water impounded to be pumped into the Morgan Creek lake to bolster supplies.

The CRMWD board considered a proposed contract with TESCO, under which the power company would take an option on Lake J. B. Thomas water for possible future power development.

If granted, the option would provide for annual payments from the company over a base period of 10 years.

"Action by the CRMWD puts the biggest roadblock out of the way," said Rollin Sneath, city manager.

Charges Filed Against Man In Auto Death

Charges of murder without malice have been filed against Thaddeus Pershin Aaron, 39, of Big Spring.

District Attorney Eldon Mahon said bond for Aaron has been set at $5000.

Charges were filed in connection with an accident Saturday that killed Mrs. Epal Willingham, 47, of Abilene.

The complaint charges Aaron with killing Mrs. Willingham by colliding with the car in which she was riding.

The wreck happened about 5 p. m. Saturday 4 1/2 miles west of Colorado City on U. S. highway 80. Mrs. Willingham was riding in a 1952 Pontiac when the collision occurred.

Officers who investigated the wreck said Aaron failed to make a curve, knocked over two guard posts and veered to the left. His car struck the right side of the vehicle in which Mrs. Willingham was riding.

Mahon said that the charges brought against Aaron would be investigated by the Grand Jury in April.

Sheriff Dick Gregory said Aaron has not posted bond and is in Mitchell County Jail.

The two new cars, which were put into operation Wednesday night, are 1957 Plymouths with police decals mounted on the doors and turtle. Chief Leon Yeager said that most boys were getting away from black patrol cars.

Yeager said the eight-cylinder autos had heavy duty springs, shock absorbers and transmissions.

Charles Eddie, Negro of Big Spring, is being held under $1000 bond charged with aggravated assault in the March 1 stabbing of R. H. Morton.

Eddie allegedly stabbed Morton on an east-bound T&P train and jumped from the train before it was stopped at Colorado City.

It was learned later, however, that Eddie mingled with about 22 other Negroes on the train and was not identified.

He took off his hat, got in a seat next to another Negro and pretended to be asleep and was missed when the train was searched here, it was said.

He changed part of his clothing and was missed again when railroad special agents searched the train at Fort Worth.

Officers of Colorado City and Big Spring had an all-night bloodhound search for Eddie after witnesses said that he had jumped from the train near Col-Tex Refinery.

Man Charged With Aggravated Assault

Witnesses told the same story when the train was stopped and searched at Fort Worth.

They said the suspect had an argument with a porter on the train and Morton saw Eddie with a knife at the porter's back and cutting him.

Morton went to aid the porter and in an ensuing scuffle was knifed.

A. C. Mitchell, special agent for T&P Railroad, brought Eddie here Monday afternoon to be charged.

"Eddie had been working with a railroad crew west of Big Spring and was arrested when he reported to work Monday with an extra gang 15 miles west of Big Spring.

Home of Mrs. Sam L. Majors Sr. Friday afternoon was setting for the 36th anniversary party for members of the 1921 Study Club.

Hostesses for the annual fete were Mrs. Majors, Mrs. M. J. Dawson, Mrs. A. O. Hickman, Mrs. R. P. Price and Mrs. W. R. Martin.

Devotion was presented by Mrs. Ed S. Jones. The group sang "Blest Be The Tie". They were accompanied by Mrs. Martin, pianist.

Mrs. Hickman, club president, spoke briefly about anniversaries.

She explained that to those who think lightly, anniversaries are humorous affairs, but to those who think seriously, they are a blessing of gladness and sadness.

"An anniversary has an added value," the group heard. "If we have lived the year well, we have another happy year to recall with pleasure. They who can recount the past with pleasure live twice while living one."

She quoted inscriptions found on two old sundials. They were "It is later than you think" and "I mark only the hours that shine."

"It may be a little later than we think," Mrs. Hickman said, "but there is time enough left for some very important things."

"There is time enough to form some more enduring friendships," she continued, and the best way to gain a friend to be one.

"We have time enough left to train our love into practical, working sympathy."

He defined sympathy as being two souls pulling at the same load.

"Sympathy is love, plus imagination, which enables us to put ourselves in the other fellow's place."

"This ability come with the reaping of the years," the speaker continued, "and is one of the gold lodes we discover as our anniversaries multiply."

Arrangements of yellow daisies and white stephanotis on the piano and dining table carried out the club colors of gold and white.

Quartet tables were marked by bouquets of violets.

Winners of the afternoon games were Mrs. U. G. Hardison, who received luncheon place mats; Mrs. W. L. Doss, who received two decorative wall plates, and Mrs. J. T. Pritchett, who received a bowl.

Salad plates were served to Mrs. E. L. Dorn, Mrs. Doss, Mrs. Hardison, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Lee Lavender, Mrs. P. K. Mackey, Mrs. Pritchett, Mrs. O. E. Rhode, Mrs. W. W. Rhode, Mrs. C. L. Root Sr., Mrs. V. R. Trulock, Mrs. Dawson, Mrs. Hickman, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Price and Mrs. Majors.

It seems as if local women, like other American females, are developing a real weakness for attractive heels.

And the very latest heels are being made of a petroleum-derived plastic called methyl methacrylate.

Every woman likes to put her best foot forward and the new material used by shoe manufacturers is really setting the old-fashioned shoe back on its heels.

According to manufacturers, the plastic heels are much more resistant to cracking and splitting than the wooden type. It is also said that the new heels will be more economical than the wooden type.

While plastic heels show their practical side in daytime shoes, they also have a fabulously glamorous side which shows up in evening slippers.

And there are other variations — clear heels with designs cut into them, clear and colored heels with set-in rhinestones or colored stone and many others.

Several variations are being displayed here by local merchants.

Talking of local merchants, the Colorado Tire and Supply next Wednesday will have Miss Muriel Bridge, Philco's home economics director, at their store from 10 a. m. until 2:30 p. m.

Miss Bridge, who will present an automatic washer, demonstration has made frequent appearances on live television in New York for the Philco Company.

All home demonstration clubs in the county have been invited to attend the demonstration.

Rev. and Mrs. Maple Avery and children of Big Spring Thursday moved to Levelland where Rev. Avery will be pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Rev. and Mrs. Avery are former residents here. Rev. Avery was pastor of Plainview Baptist Church for some time and has preached in several revival meetings at First Baptist Church here.

Sorry to hear that Mr. and Mrs. John Dorsett and family are moving from their home at Morgan Creek Village.

They are being transferred to Monahan by Texas Electric Service Company.

Mrs. Keith Directs 'Texas Day' Program

Mrs. L. A. Keith directed the Texas Day program for Self Culture Club Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Roy Davis Cole.

Mrs. Keith spoke of immortal Texans, discussing briefly the lives of Stephen F. Austin, James Bowie, David Crockett, Sam Houston and Deaf Smith, who was head of the Texas Rangers in early history of the state.

She also listed various other important figures in the early history of Texas.

Mrs. J. L. Jones presented the autobiography of Dr. Horace Wilson Morelock, an educator, who was second president of Sul Ross College in Alpine, an early teacher in Kerrville and headed the English department at West Texas State College in Canyon.

Topic for the afternoon program was "Mountains of the Mind".

Meeting was opened with the prayer and pledge, led by Mrs. Charles Wakefield. Mrs. C. P. Gary reported that she had taken several magazines and a book of etiquette to the Wallace School since the last club meeting.

Mrs. Tom Glover was welcomed as a new member.

Dessert plates were served to

SATURDAY AT SNYDER

Wolves Enter Canyon Relays

At least 20 Colorado City trackmen will make their bid for glory Saturday in the fourth annual Canyon Reef Relays in Snyder.

Twenty-four teams had entered the cinder carnival by Tuesday and last-minute entries were expected to push the total to 30.

Missing from the field will be the defending champion Amarillo Sandies.

Odessa, thus far, has taken over the favorites role. The Bronchos will enter a squad of 30 boys.

Other schools entered are Lubbock Monterey, Hobbs, Littlefield, Anton, Stanton, Plainview, Hermleigh, Lamesa, Levelland, Post, Dumas, Sweetwater, Slaton, Snyder, Floydada, Lockney, Roby, Hale Center, Pampa, Abernathy, O'Donnell and Coahoma.

Preliminaries will be held Saturday morning with the finals that afternoon.

All schools will compete in one division as in the past.

One defending champion, at least, is expected to return to defend his title. That is Powell Berry of Snyder, who tied the meet record last year in the 120-yard high hurdles with a time of 15.3.

Colorado High's top bet for finishing "in the money" is Jim Windham, giant 220-pounder, who shoves the shot a country mile. His best toss this year is 51 feet 11 inches, but he's expected to reach around 55 feet before the season is over.

His running mate in the field events—Dru Vowell—could also ke into the winners' circle. He throws around 48 feet and sailed the discus 136 feet last week at Big Spring.

Bancker Cade may score a few points in the 220-yard dash, an event in which he ran in 22.1 seconds last week.

Cade joins Don Black, Lucky Merket and Paul Free in the sprint relay. They recorded a time of 46.9 seconds last week at Big Spring with several bad handoffs.

Wolves' mile relay team is consistently improving with a time of 3:45.6 last week. Don Powell, Barton Smith, Delbert Lewis and Cade form that foursome.

Black is the Wolves' top quarter miler with a time of 55 flat recorded thus far. Don Powell and Barton Smith are two other possible entries Saturday at Snyder.

Lewis, also improving every week, chalked up a time of 2:09.2

in the half-mile race last week and should be up among the top Saturday at Snyder.

Black will probably enter the century. Gerald Adams in the 880, Buzz Cade and Thomas Dowdy in the mile.

Other entries are Jerry Lady, Mike Schoolcraft and Truman Stinson in the low hurdles, with Stinson and Schoolcraft doubling up to enter the pole vault.

Jimmy Richardson in the high jump, Cade and Merket in the broad jump complete the field event entries.

Girl Scouting - A Family Affair

Most parents are concerned about what and how much their children learn in school. If Jane or Johnny can't read as well as the youngsters next door, mother and dad want to know the reason.

And they worry, too, about what their children do after school—what their friends are like, how they use their free time.

The Girl Scout organization, this week observing its 45th anniversary, offers reassurance and tangible help to worried parents. In scouting, more than two million girls from 7 to 17 years of age are learning in their free time to take care of a home, to be healthy, to get along with people, to be good sports, and most important, to be good citizens.

Lumped together, Girl Scout activities add up to character building. It's character building in terms that Tom Sawyer would have understood and enjoyed—fun and adventure.

Girl Scouting exists here in Colorado City and Mitchell County and in other communities because many parents are concerned about what their children do after school hours. Women volunteer—Mrs. J. A. Martin—to serve as troop leaders. Men—like J. S. (Jay) Craddock Jr. and Joe Bynum—give a few hours to committee meetings or act as consultants. These are the people who translate character building and citizenship into the excitement and adventure children love.

They are making good citizenship as well as Girl Scouting a family affair.

The publishers are not responsible for any copy omissions, typographical errors, or any unintentional errors that may occur other than to make proper corrections after being brought to their attention. Advertising is accepted on this basis only.

RATES—Subscription rate $5.00 per year in Mitchell and surrounding counties, $6.00 elsewhere in the United States. Advertising rates on request.

But more are needed. In fact, the Girl Scouts during this 45th birthday observance have issued a call for more workers—especially men.

Fathers, brothers, uncles, cousins of Girl Scouts, in fact, any man who is interested in helping young people become good citizens can help.

Today, more than 2,000,000 girls in the United States are learning to be good citizens through Girl Scouting. The people teaching them are men and women in their own communities, some 670,000 public-spirited adults across the country.

Men can do many jobs in Girl Scouting. Some are council presidents. Some are on boards of directors. Many—business men, carpenters, engineers—offer to be consultants and pitch in when their special experience and training are needed.

When they do, it is a good thing—a good thing for good citizenship.

Challenge In Schools

The need for the public school never changes, but times and conditions may change or require to be changed methods and practices of public education. This is inherent with anything that grows, for growth is the result of change.

Our Texas public schools were created 103 years ago. In 1854 the first law passed establishing the public school.

It is a healthy thing in our democratic way of life to have intelligent understanding of the important functions of our basic institutions. This is especially true of the schools. The initiative and resourcefulness and the wisdom and leadership that our schools are inculcating in the youth of today are the answer of the problems of citizenship in the years ahead.

Yes, "bring me men to match my mountains." That is the need of our times and must come from the public schools—schools that are strong in virtues required for building strong men and women.

We can assist ourselves in understanding and helping public schools to fulfill their great obligation by accepting the hospitality of the schools' open house this Public Schools Week, and its programs throughout the year, joining the Parent-Teacher Associations, studying its assets and problems.

But it all must be honest and objective appraisal, not with reckless sniping.

Insurance Investigations Yield to Bribery Charges

By VERN SANFORD, Texas Press Association. Bribery charges and counter-charges have driven the insurance investigations out of Austin headlines.

It's at least temporary relief for the insurance companies, who have been hurt by loose accounting methods within their industry.

Grabbing the spotlight from the insurance firms was a naturopathic doctor and a lone member of the Texas House of Representatives.

Dr. Howard Harmon of San Antonio hurled charges of "offering to accept a bribe" against Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe.

Cox countered with a "offer-to-bribe" charge against Harmon. Dr. Harmon produced a tape recording of an alleged conversation he had had with Cox.

A Travis County grand jury investigation resulted in indictments against Cox, charging him with "consenting to accept a bribe."

Cox's attorney announced a slander suit would be filed against Dr. Harmon.

Meanwhile, a House investigation committee checked into all phases of the matter.

All in all, it was the fastest action seen around the Capitol in many years.

Bills Reorganize Two bills to reorganize the Insurance Commission have been introduced in the Legislature.

One, by Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria, proposes a part-time policy-making board. Members would meet 24 days a year. Executive director would run the department.

A second, prepared at Gov. Price Daniel's behest, was introduced by Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio. It would provide a full-time board limited to quasi-judicial functions and, like the Fly bill, a department director.

Senate Race With filing deadline passed for

State Capital NEWS

The special U. S. Senate race, little has changed since the last such election in 1941.

Field is overflowing; rules in tact.

Pool bill, which would require a run-off if the top man lacked a majority, was lying in state in the Senate. Even supporters said it looked dead.

In 1941, W. Lee O'Daniel was top man in a field of 21. This year the field is laden with almost the same number of contenders. One Republican and almost every conceivable type of Democrat are included.

Water Bill Passed First water conservation bill to gain final passage would allow the Water Board to cancel unused water permits to cities.

Sen. Charles Herring of Austin protested the plan could take away water supplies cities need for growth. He attempted to amend the bill to limit cancellation to permits for which cities could not show prospective need.

Brady Land Dealer T. J. McLarty apparently is to be the second man to go to the penitentiary for fraud in connection with the veterans land program.

McLarty's conviction was upheld in Court of Criminal Appeals. He was sentenced to four years for "falsely interpreting a written instrument" in selling a tract in a Zavala County block deal.

Revenue Seen Possibility of new taxes this session faded with advance reports of the comptroller's report of expected income.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert's estimate of revenue for the next two years is expected to show $99,000,000 more than was available this biennium.

This is $49,000,000 more than the last official estimate in December. It is also well above the figure Governor Daniel set as necessary for present spending requirements.

A constitutional amendment to reapportion Texas congressional districts after the 1960 census has been approved by the House.

Present districts are based on the 1930 census. Urban areas, like Houston and Dallas, have multiplied several-fold since.

New plan would turn the job over to a five-member board of state officials if the Legislature failed to act in 1961.

Precinct Changes Realignment of precincts within counties due to population changes also is a warm issue.

House constitutional amendments committee sent such a measure to subcommittee for more study.

Proponents contend that growth of cities has given Texas $1 counties with 50 per cent or more of their population in one precinct. According to majority rule principal, cities should get more precincts, they argue.

Opponents, including the Farm Bureau, say it would turn county government over to the cities. Rural evaluations would be raised and the money spent in the cities, they claim.

Road Financing Cities and counties having difficulty paying for right-of-way for state highways may get help through a 50-50 plan.

Governor Daniel said he has asked Atty. Gen. Will Wilson to draw up a bill to let the state pay half the cost of land for intermediate roads. Highway Commission also has recommended the plan.

Governor Sets March as Red Cross Month

During the past year in Texas, 430 families and 1,276 persons received aid from the Red Cross, announced Jack Walker, Mitchell County Red Cross Chapter chairman.

Other services by the Red Cross in 1956 included collection of 14,305 units of life-giving blood for defense and civilian needs.

Red Cross trained 38,081 Texans in first aid, 7610 in home care of the sick, 4460 in mother and baby care and 68,967 in water safety.

It also helped a monthly average of 15,343 persons or families in service to the armed forces veterans and families by giving $1,106,780 in financial assistance.

Red Cross supervised a monthly average of 19,440 volunteers who gave thousands of hours of service to their fellowmen.

Texasans enrolled 1,197,471 strong as members of the Red Cross.

Price Daniel, in view of the work done by the Red Cross in 1956, has designated March as Red Cross month, said Walker.

PLOWING IN THE PARKING LOT—This striking contrast between the ultramodern apartment house and the old plowman behind his horses presents itself in West Berlin, Germany. The "city farmer" is actually a gardener who took advantage of the warm weather to turn up the soil for spring planting in the apartment house yard.

THE RAILROADS OF TEXAS

$25,000,000 Contribution ...to Farmers and Ranchers

Within the past four years the railroads have contributed to the farmers, ranchers and dairymen, through a 50% reduction in rates on hay and other feedstuffs, 25 million dollars.

Both the Congress of the United States and the Legislature of Texas, by resolution, have expressed their thanks to the railroads for this substantial contribution.

Through the years the railroads have always extended a helping hand to their neighbors in times of disaster.

To us this is a basic responsibility of good Americans.

Prayer Day To Be Noted In Loraine

LORAIN—Annual World Day of Prayer Service will be observed at the Loraine Methodist Church on Friday at 4 p. m.

Its Purpose is to unite all Christian women in a bond of prayer; to give individuals an opportunity to share in a fellowship of prayer with others around the world, and to witness to their belief that prayer has a power to bring the hearts of men into conformity with God's will in these times tension and unrest throughout the world.

This year is the first observance of a day of prayer for missions. It began in 1887, first as a day set apart in U. S. to pray for Home Missions. Two years later a day was set as a day of prayer for foreign missions. Finally it began to be observed by Christians of other lands, and today it has grown to worldwide proportions.

In 1956, services were held in 29,000 communities in U. S. and in 142 other countries around the world.

On Friday, the first service will be held at sunrise on Tonga Island near International Date line, when Queen Safita leads her devout subjects in prayer. Services continue around the world throughout the day, closing on St. Lawrence Island, Alaska at sundown.

In 1947 United Church Women accepted responsibility for planning and promoting the service. A freewill offering to missions will be given to be used for projects at home and abroad.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend this service, by the Womens Society of Christian Service, who are sponsoring the program.
