Local Officials, FBI To Stage Shootout

Here we go again--more training is in store for a group of officers in Muleshoe during this week. About 20 local and area law enforcement officers will be involved in the three day school, which will be conducted by FBI agents.

And, a part of the training may startle a general public who may be uninformed about what is going on and why guns will be fired inside a building on Main Street in Muleshoe.

Sometime during the day on Wednesday, May 13, under guidance of the FBI agents, the 20 officers will 'storm' the old Muleshoe Hotel at the corner of Main Street and Avenue B. During the seige, officers will be firing blanks from their guns, and Muleshoe's Acting Police Chief Jerry Hicks, said the public would need to know and be aware of the upcoming training exercise.

No definite time has been scheduled for the invasion of the old hotel, explained Chief Hicks. He added that the training will be a part of the continuing training for all Muleshoe officers, and officers from the surrounding area.

BE KIND TO ANIMALS WEEK..... Paul and Pam Williams pose with their dog, Benji, who was adopted from the Muleshoe Animal Shelter.

'Benji' Finds Love

She is named after a famous pup, but Benji's future could have been a sad one. She was adopted from the pound about three months ago and now lives with the James Williams family at 204 W. 19th.

A brown, black, white, yellow, and rusty brown mut, Benji and her family are highlighted during "Be Kind To Animals Week".

"My wife (Gayle) told me to get the ugliest dog I could get (at the pound) and that's how we got Benji," said James. The Williams have three children; Pam, a sixth grader, Paul, a third grader, and Misty, who is two. Benji is taken with all of them, but especially Paul.

Getting Benji from the pound was easy and likes her new home, for according to Paul, "She ran away once but she cam back!"

About two weeks ago, Benji got out of the fenced backyard and was hit by a with family in McKinney. "She really didn't know what to do for she thought the dog was gone, explains James.

So she called Connie Bynum, Muleshoe Animal Warden, and with the help of a local veterinarian, Benji is back at home. "Her back hip was bruised but she is all fixed up," said James.

Benji is a happy dog and taken care of - even though bath time is pretty rough.

Other dogs aren't as lucky. Mrs. Bynum picked-up two dogs in the last few days. "I have a miniature collie and a white terrior/cross. The collie is a two-year old female and the terrior is a male puppy about six months old.

"If people want to be kinder to animals," said Bynum, "they should bring them in to me instead of letting them out in

Babe Ruth May Still Have A Chance

There still may be hope for the Junior Babe Ruth.

There seems to be more interested people who want to see that baseball continues here in Muleshoe said David Cox.

Another meeting has been scheduled for Monday, May 11 at 7:30 p.m. at the Jr. Babe Ruth Ball park.

All parents, coaches and prospective members as well as other interested parties are encouraged to attend. All 13 year olds and any 14 and 15 year olds that are not currently on a team are asked to be there as well.

Mom, you're super, but when you're not there...

Mom, you're super, but when you're not there... I'm stuck on my substitute mom.

The number of women who work outside the home is continually increasing. It is estimated that of every 100 mothers with children in the first through sixth grades, about 65 work. The number increases by including younger children.

So if father works and mother works, the children have to be somewhere. But where? With whom?

Although the choice of not staying home with the children is the first major decision; the second, and possibly the one that causes the most fear and guilt, is who will keep them.

"I never worked when my children wer little because I wasn't sure someone would be good with them," said Diane Allison, who since her own are older, keeps young children in her home. Mrs. Allison and her husband, Winston, have three children: Melissa, 18, Eric, 17 and Ben who is 13 years of age.

"I try to reassure them (the children's mothers) that I treat the kids as if they were my own. I do discipline them when needed but I love them like my own and miss them when they go off to kindergarten," she adds.

While correcting two little boys, directing coloring activities, feeding an infant a bottle and keeping the little ones away from the reporter's camera, Diane explains that being a second mother is a talent.

"Not everyone can be with children all day. I really enjoy the kids and I think it's a God-given talent....patient is the thing. You have to have patience, listen to them....and be on your guard all the time."

Along with providing a home environment with lots of peer interaction, Diane feels the necessity to help the mothers. "There just aren't enough people to take care of the little ones and someone has to do it. I think it is important to the working mothers to have someone they can depend on and I try to never be gone."

The First United Methodist Church has been providing a second mother service on a larger scale for about five years. "Some of the little ones call me mama....the other day when Robbie smashed his finger, I cried with him." This statement comes from one of the most popular

Examples of these characteristics were related in each of the vignettes of the twelve educators. These dedicated women were truly "Givers of the Lamp of Beauty" to all the thousands of women educators who have joined Delta Kappa Gamma since May 1929.

For years Steel belted radials have been the established standard of the industry . . . now

Aramid — the space-age tire cord material has been developed by Dupont laboratories to replace steel as a belt material in radial tires.

Aramid is the ideal material for tires because it combines the toughness and durability of steel at one fifth of the weight with the comfort and smooth ride of a fabric belted radial.

MILEAGE
Stronger than steel Aramid gives equal performance with less weight. Lighter weight reduces internal friction and heat build-up.

SMOOTH RIDE
The flexible lightweight Aramid belts plus super tough Polyester cord radial body plies deliver a smooth, comfortable ride

SKID RESISTANCE
Sovereign's computerized tread pattern effectively drains on water and improves traction in wet or dry weather. Radial construction keeps the tread flat on the road with a surefooted grip. Flexible sidewalls absorb lateral force, so curves and corners the tread remains in contact with the road.

ALL WEATHER TRACTION
Special tread rubber compounding stays flexible in cold weather to deliver improved traction on any kind of road condition. New computer-designed tread improves traction by channeling water away on wet roads

IMPACT PROTECTION
Aramid is the strongest tire cord ever developed. Pound for pound it's five times stronger than steel. Two Aramid belts over strong polyester cord radial body plies provide flexible strength for great durability

109.95

The Most Advanced Gasoline-Powered String Trimmer Ever Made

The ST-100 is an unqualified hit. Within the year since we introduced it, the ST-100 has made Homelite the undisputed "King of the Jungle"!

And because it is gasoline - powered, its range and maneuverability are virtually unlimited. The ST-100 trims farther out than an electric trimmer can reach...closer in than a lawnmower can go.

No other trimmer, gas or electric, can pack all these innovative features into such a rugged, powerful package - and bring it all in at a shade over 7 lbs.

ONLY 7-¼ LBS. COMPLETE.

The ST-100 comes fully assembled and ready to go to work. Its light weight and superb balance make it one of the few yard tools a lady can love.

EXCLUSIVE IDLE-LINE - THE WORLD'S MOST ADVANCED STRING ADVANCING SYSTEM.

A major breakthrough in automatic string advancing systems, Homelite's Idle-Line is also the easiest to use. It's the only one that eliminates the need for the thumping, bumping, pushing or prying that puts such a strain on other trimmers...and their operators.

When you need more string, simply squeeze and release the trigger slowly a few times...and you've got it!

20" CUTTING PATH.

The ST-100 cuts the widest swath of any trimmer you can buy. Its heavy-duty .095" cutting string, supplied on a convenient easy-replacement spool, easily makes short work of tall weeds and grass.

POWERFUL 26.2 CC 2-CYCLE ENGINE.

Homelite pioneered the versatile 2-cycle gasoline engine back in 1921. Today, the same rugged dependability that powers our chain saws is yours in the ST-100.

DIRECT DRIVE FOR MAXIMUM USEABLE POWER.

With the engine mounted directly on top of the cutting head, every ounce of the ST-100's power is put to work cutting or trimming.

EVEN MORE FEATURES THAT NO OTHER TRIMMER IN ITS CLASS CAN OFFER!

Solid State Ignition provides dependable starting and longer spark plug life.
Fully adjustable hand grip lets you set the ST-100's balance to suit yourself.
Combination fuel tank-handle not only saves weight, it gives the ST-100 even better balance, as well.
Free-standing design is also unique to the ST-100. Makes refueling easier.
Handle hook for easy storage.
Throttle lock for easier starting.
3-chambered Softone muffler, another Homelite innovation, directs engine noise down into the ground for quieter operation.

"IT'S A BIG JOB...

Slowing down the rising costs of anything these days. Even your electricity.

You've got someone working on it for you in the Southwest. Southwestern Public Service is using Wyoming coal to make electricity in its new power plants. Because some of the old plants run on fuel that just plain costs too much.

Electricity could cost a lot more than it does. But thank goodness it doesn't — because of coal."

Social Security Office Issues Warnings

Recently married area residents have reported getting offers in the mail to have their name changed on Social Security records for a fee of $10.00.

The Social Security office in Lubbock advises that companies making these offers are in business for profit and have no connection with the Social Security Administration which handles name changes because of marriage or divorce.

Anyone who needs his name changed officially, can get this service free for the asking by contacting the Lubbock Social Security Office.

In every case, the Social Security Administration needs proof of identity, proof of marriage, proof of divorce or other proofs before the Social Security records can be changed.

Since it is official...go direct to the Social Security Administration to get your business taken care of.

second mothers at the day care center, Bonnie Carpenter.

"I have been babysitting for quite a few years and some of them (the mothers) call me early and I already have some kids," Ms. Carpenter rocks two small ones in her lap and explains she has to correct them..."they know what you mean."

Bonnie's sister, Eva Dell is more adventurous with thirteen two and three year olds. "We sing and have finger plays and we try to teach them to get along," she said. "You have to love and understand them."

Understanding plays a large part in the coping process. "You have to understand that they are all different, just like your own kids. Some are shy and some are rowdy," said Belinda Lopez, the four and five year old teacher.

The substitute mothers have the good qualities mom doe -- patience, love, and understanding, but Mom is never forgotten. Belinda has to answer first-time students who ask several times "When is my Mommy coming?"

Mrs. Allison and Mrs. Lopez agree on an answer: "Mommy will be back and she won't forget you."

The substitute mother is still important in kindergarten. "You have to love them and have patience. The children have to know they are still loved; not just by telling them, but by showing them," said kindergarten teacher, Norma Jo Prather. She has been teaching for twenty three years.

The pre-schoolers need to feel very secure, she said, adding, "what they get out of kindergarten could affect how they feel about school later."

Mrs. Prather, along with her husband, Donald, have two children, Joe Don, 21 and Kay Lynn, 16.

Mrs. Prather takes seriously her part in what she calls "the growing time of child." They learn routine, location, how to work with a group and academic skills which will help them later."

SURROUNDED WITH LOVE.....Norma Prather is surrounded by her students she tries to treat as her own.

This growing doesn't occur in a strange atmosphere. "I try to treat them like they were mine. I get very close to them....when they get older and come back to visit, that's when it is all worth while."

By Bill Wooley

Though not as much an indicator of health as in people, temperature (soil temperature at planting time) does definitely influence how healthy the corn harvest will be. Corn germination, nutrient absorption and growth are all affected by the temperature of the soil. Seed germinates better in warmer soils; therefore, early-planted corn is usually planted in a shallow depth where the soil is warmer. Among the factors farmers must consider to determine soil temperature are: soil moisture and vegetation cover (wet or covered ground warms slower and stays cooler); soil color (dark absorbs heat faster) and texture (light, sandy soil heats faster than heavy soils); and, air temperature. All these elements combine to warm or cool the soil - affecting root growth and direction, time of germination and even absorption of fertilizers and herbicides . . . just one more thing for farmers to be experts on - while feeding and clothing the world.

Home Ec - Who Needs It?

The following article is a contiuation of a series of articles by Doris Coleman, a homemaking teacher in Brownfield High School. These are reprinted courtesy of Mrs. Jan Powell, MHS homemaking teacher, who has permission of Mrs. Coleman.

Home Economics is a subject relevant to all areas of life and as the name indicates, economics is of importance to the home. Economics involves the efficient use of money and just as important, the use of time and skills. The resources of time and skills can often be used in the place of money or to save money so that the savings can be used eleswhere in the family budget. Some of the skills learned in Home Ec. can be the source of much pleasure in the form of hobbies that enrich personal lives as well as stretch the family dollar. The beginning cook may practice and look forward to the day he can produce gourmet meals for the fabrics and furnishings to create a pleasing environment for the family. The skills learned in the Home Nursing may make it possible for the young person to help out in emergencies, as well as to prevent many home accidents. All of these skills enhance our daily living and build self esteem in young people.

CLOTHING CONSTRUCTION

The main objective of the elementary clothing construction class is to learn the proper operation of the complex sewing machine and to read and understand a pattern guide. Without these skills the enthusiasm of the would-be-seâmstress is doomed. The studen is also taught about fabrics, proper placement of pattern on fabric and correct technique in preparation for use of the sewing machine. Choice of color and patterns to complement the individual are studied.

Clothing construction can become a hobby of much pleasure in that the student can create clothing that is unique for his own use and can use the skill in making gifts that are one-of-a-kind for others, to say nothing of the efficient use of those skills to save money in this day of inflated prices for goods of this sort. The use of these skills increases self worth.

GROOMING

Nothing enhances the self confidente of the teenager or adult more than being able to present themselves to others in the best possible way. Posture, personal cleanliness, exercise, and beauty care are topics studied in this area.

The heads of Washington,

NEWS OF SAFETY

Do motorcycle helmets really restrict a rider's vision? Some people claim so but it's not true. In fact, most helmets provide greater peripheral (side) vision (120 degrees) than people are capable of using.

Even more important to remember, according to the Motorcycle Safety Foundation, is that more than three-quarters of the potential accidents and trouble spots confronting a motorcyclist come from the front. If you picture a clock, most hazards are between ten and two o'clock on the dial, not from the back or side. Most hazards are clearly within a helmeted rider's field of vision.

To ride safely a motorcyclist must be ever on the alert. A rider must constantly be searching the road ahead and around him for possible problems. A good

"What Is Our Future?"

Rural telephone subscribers, like most Americans, want to do out share in meeting the serious economic problems facing out nation. We want to support President Reagan's program for economic recovery.

You may not be aware of how the program will affect us directly.

Despite the President's best efforts to spread the necessary sacrifices among all Americans, his proposals to eliminate the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) insured telephone loan program next year asks rural telephone subscribers to shoulder an unfair burden in the battle to whip inflation.

Some of us remember the history of how small telephone companies and cooperatives were established. After World War II, there was a great need for rural telephone service. Large companies had all they could do to provide service in towns and cities due to the post war boom. Very few companies would, or could afford to construct facilities to rural America. Through the Department of Agriculture, the Rural Electrification Administration was formed to provide electric and telephone facilities to the rural areas. Many of you were instrumental in organizing our cooperative as were many other rural families across the nation. Due to the cost of establishing telelphone facilities the REA made it possible to borrow funds at a low rate of interest. The interest rates available to different cooperatives were set on the amount of revenue they generated withing the year. Telephony has changed drastically in the past 35 years. We began with magneto (crank type) phones with 20 people to the line, common battery (operator says number please) phones with 4 and 8 people to the line, dial phones with up to 8 to the line, and now we have buried lines with one party dial and push button phones. Communications are very important in our life style today. It's true that we still have phone trouble and our bills are too high, but so is the dependability and cost of a tractor, house or vehicle. We began 35 years ago with a $.50 telephone service to the present day $18.00 telephone service. The same increase can be found in almost anything one wants to see. Our cooperative has progressed through the years by being able to borrow funds which are really the interest and loans paid back to REA by hundreds of telephone companies and cooperatives throughout America since the program began. I believe that we as members, employees, officers, directors, and managers have done quite well in tying our homes and businesses in with the international network of communications. We hope to continue to prosper with the new electronic field of telephony and upgrade our facilities as needed.

It's hard to believe that our government finances telecommunications to foreign countries with the latest equipment through the so call Foreign Aid Program, and at the same time wants to discontinue a program that is not a burden to our taxpayers and ask for very little, if any, appropriations from our government. The elimination of the REA insured telephone loan program, whose 2 and 5 percent insured loans have provided rural American with facilities for 35 years, comes when hundreds of thousands of people (8 percent of the country) have no telephone service at all.

Twenty three percent of the REA telephone subscribers remain on inadequate multi-party lines. The national average cost to the Cooperative per new subscriber is now $2,389. At a time when the rural areas are growing at a rate of 15.7 percent faster than urban centers, it will be difficult to provide the service needed at an affordable rate.

We would like you all to know that we will operate Five Area Telephone Cooperative, Inc. at a rate affordable to us all as long as possible. A few things to remember are that President Reagan's budget cut or elimination of the REA program, WILL NOT CUT FEDERAL SPENDING because loans are made from a separate fund that consists of repayments on existing loans and government borrowings. Members of Congress are under terrific pressure from the Reagan administration to go along with his economic program without any objections, without a chance to make any changes in the proposals. The administration has told Congress that the people fully support its economic program.

We realize that we have some members that feel that our cooperative could do a better job. We also have some members that are very encouraging to us all. We would, at this time, like to call on you to act now and let the members of Congress know if you disagree with the Reagan administration plan to eliminate the REA insured telephone loan program. WE NEED YOUR HELP.

A Crown for Mother

You, as a Mother, are honored by your children on a special day — Mother's Day. How the little things they make for you with their own small hands please you and warm your heart.

It warms and quickens the heart of God when you honor Him on His special day. "Remember the Sabbath Day, to keep it holy." Exodus 20:8. Worship God on this next Sunday in the church of your choice. We should honor our loving Heavenly Father even as we expect our children to honor us.

Attend church on Mother's Day.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Public Notice

On April 16, 1981, Bailey County Electric Cooperative Association filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas an application for tariff changes as follows:

In the Collection Policy the disconnect date for non-payment is changed to read twenty-two (22) days from the date of bill is issued, and to give seven (7) days' notice prior to stated date of disconnection. In this same policy, we have requested that the mileage charge for collection trips be removed. This revision is applicable to all classes of service.

In our Outdoor Lighting Service Tariff we have requested the addition of the wording, "This monthly minimum shall not include any billing adjustment charges." This revision is applicable only to the Outdoor Lighting Service Tariff.

Applicant serves in all or portions of Bailey, Castro, Cochran, Lamb and Parmer counties. Protests to or motions to intervene may be filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas. On April 27, 1981, the Public Utility Commission of Texas ordered the Cooperative to suspend these changes for 120 days, and further ordered that the substance of the Cooperative's application be published as required by PURA, Section 43 (a).
