President Fears Nation Will Have Deficit

Truman Insists Tax Boost Is Necessary

By FELIX COTTON
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 12—President Truman insisted again today Congress should pass a bill increasing taxes $4,000,000,000 annually to take the government out of the red.

The President told his news conference the present outlook is for a deficit of $600 to $700,000,000 for the current fiscal year ending June 30.

Instead of incurring a deficit, he declared, the government should reduce its $252,000,000,000 public debt at the rate of $2 to $5,000,000,000 a year.

Rep. Taber (R-NY) ranking minority member of the House Appropriations committee, declared the government is faced with a prospective $4 to $5,000,000,000 deficit for the next fiscal year.

Taber declared Congress will have to increase taxes next year if his deficit forecast proves correct.

The tax question came up at the news conference because of a meeting yesterday between the President and Rep. Doughton (D-NC), chairman of the House Ways and Means committee. This committee originates all tax legislation.

Federal Spending Hit

Leaving the White House, Doughton said he favored curtailment of government expenditures in order to avoid a tax increase bill. He said he talked about taxes in a general way with the President, and intimated he had told him there was little likelihood that Congress would pass a bill boosting taxes at this session.

The President had a different version, he said he did not discuss taxes with Doughton, but social security legislation. He added that he and Doughton are in agreement on this question.

The ways and means committee has been working for the last few months on the President's proposal to expand the social security program.

It agreed early in the session to postpone consideration of the President's January request for a $4,000,000,000 tax increase bill until it disposed of social security.

The President declared he agreed

New Law Delays Zone Changes

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

Members of the City Planning commission, meeting in regular monthly session last night in City hall, recommended approval of five plats and attended to a number of other business items, but tabled wholesale nine zone change requests.

The commission seldom, if ever, shelves zoning requests en masse as it did last night.

The reason for the action stems from a bill which was unanimously passed by the State Senate and House of Representatives, and which went into effect the first of this month. By the provisions of the bill, it is necessary to give written notice at least 10 days in advance of a public hearing to all property owners whose holdings are within 200 feet of property on which a zone change has been proposed and recommended.

New Setup Needed

Understandably, such provision makes necessary the appointment of some city agency or personnel to be responsible for obtaining lists of property owners so affected by a proposed zone change, notification of these persons, and the like.

Thus far, no action has been taken by the City commission in appointing a person or persons in whom the responsibility for such notifications would be vested, nor has it been determined whether the city would assume costs entailed in notifying these property owners or whether cost would be borne by the person or persons seeking the zone change.

Law Is Explained

By way of explanation, the City Planning commission makes recommendations for or against zone changes, but final authority rests with the City commission. Thus, if the Planning commission rec-

Gem Salesman's Car, $20,000 In Jewels Stolen In Marshall

MARSHALL, May 12. (AP)—Police Chief C. M. Ezell said a jewelry salesman's car containing $20,000 in samples was stolen from a downtown street here last night.

The car and gems belonged to Karl H. Kahn of Dallas. Kahn said he parked the car early in the evening, registered at a local hotel, and discovered at 10 p. m. the car had been stolen. He said the jewelry was insured.

Solons Told Every Soviet Envoy Is Spy

By EARLE MARCKRES
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 12—A former Soviet commercial attache in Mexico City said today that every Russian diplomat in the United States must engage in espionage.

Kirill Alexeev, who quit the Soviet foreign service Nov. 26, 1946, told a Senate Judiciary subcommittee that the Russian embassy in Washington directs 95 percent of Moscow's spy work in the U. S.

Alexeev appeared before the subcommittee after a mysterious "Mr. X" gave the group highly secret espionage testimony which Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) described as "very helpful."

Alexeev was reported to have told the committee that information of the atomic bomb and atomic processes has "priority No. 1" in all Soviet spy operations in America.

Ring Widespread

The witness, whose identity was withheld for "protective reasons," testified in closed session on legislation to bar subversive aliens from entering the U. S.

Alexeev, now an engineer in New York, said the Soviet spy network includes at least half of the Russians who come here without diplomatic passports, plus Red-front organizations and the Communist party, which account for about five percent of espionage data collected.

He said the ring also includes Tass, the official Soviet news agency, Amtorg, the Soviet trading organization, and Russian satellite embassies, extending down to chauffeurs and other employes.

Spies Are Recruited

Everyone, he declared, takes direct orders from the first secretary in the Soviet embassy who in turn gets instructions from the secret police in Moscow.

The 40-year-old ex-attache, who will testify in secret tomorrow, said that the "most desirable informers" are those with government contacts.

Spies, he continued, are recruited from among journalists, businessmen and affiliates of the Communist party. He said the Soviet embassy press attache is "subordinate to Tass."

Alexeev explained that some iron curtain embassies and legations do not have their own secret

Three Face U. S. Liquor Charges

Bond of $500 each was posted Thursday by Bill Davis, 32, Mrs. Bill Davis, 27, and J. D. Green, 39, all of Levelland, on federal charges that each had carried on the business of a retail liquor dealer without having paid the prescribed special tax. Green is a negro.

Each waived hearing before Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. commissioner, just as three other defendants did a day earlier. One other person is charged with a like offense. One other warrant is to be executed, it was said.

Six automobiles owned by the seven persons have been confiscated for government use, federal and state authorities said.

Protests Are Made

Already, it was announced, "phones are ringing" as persons who stand to lose lien investment in the cars are beginning to protest. Under federal procedure third party claims are not recognized. Finance companies who have mortgage loans on cars forfeited by the government will lose their entire investment, officials warned.

C. A. Luce, deputy U. S. marshal, made the arrests. Complaints were sworn to by William A. Deen, Alcohol Tax unit agent. Case reports on the forfeiture action

Texas Solon Urges Cut In U. S. Spending

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Rep. Albert Thomas, Houston, member of the House Appropriations committee, said today that the nation could be saved from deficit financing if President Truman would pass the word along to the Senate to cut some of the appropriations bills they are now considering.

"We could easily save the nation from three to four billion dollars by effecting economies, and not even miss it," said Thomas.

Thomas, chairman of the Independent Offices sub-committee of the House Appropriations group, said: "I cut $750,000,000 from the independent offices expenditures and could easily have whacked away another $75,000,000 without hurting anything.

"Mr. Truman is not going to get any tax raise out of Congress this year. He should know that."

Air Force Asks 'Consideration' In State Rent Decontrol Proposal

(By The Associated Press)

SHREVEPORT, La., May 12. — Major Gen. Robert W. Burns, deputy commanding general of the Air Force Training command, renewed today his plea that Air Force men get "full consideration" in the Texas legislature's rent decontrol proposal.

The general is deputy commander of an Air Force organization that operates six large training bases in Texas and is reactivating another one. He wrote Gov. Beauford H. Jester of Texas on May 6 urging that a plan be considered whereby municipal or district decontrol could be authorized so "each area might be considered on its merits and our people could state their case to those most directly concerned in each action."

Urges Area Decontrol Plan

"I most earnestly and respectfully reiterate my request that such a plan be considered by the people of Texas instead of a sweeping, statewide decontrol," the general said.

"As I told Governor Jester, the removal of rent controls throughout Texas would have a most adverse effect upon our efforts to protect the interests of our people . . . circumstances differ in each

Heavy Thundershowers Sweep Several Sections Of Plains

SCATTERED thunderstorms dumped heavy rains upon several sections of the South Plains Thursday afternoon and night with Abernathy reporting the greatest measured amount with 1.49 inches in the gauge.

However an estimated two to three inches fell between Muleshoe and Sudan, and an estimated two to four inches was reported between Alley and Monroe. While the rains were of short duration, observers said the rain fell in torrents while the cloud was passing overhead.

Cotton Center reported 2.50 inches of rain fell there, apparently from the same thunderstorm that had drenched the Muleshoe area and later moved into the Monroe section.

Merle Walker, superintendent of schools at Idalou said that approximately .50 fell there yesterday afternoon, and that an inch or more fell in a narrow section about three miles north of the town. Some school buses were unable to run off paved roads.

Reports swept Lubbock Thursday afternoon that a four inch "flood" had swept the Idalou-Lorenzo section. Lorenzo had light showers, residents there said. Ralls and Crosbyton received no precipitation.

Other reports were Morton, .25; Muleshoe, 1.50; Hale Center, .50; Littlefield, .30; Spade,

PLANS ASKED FOR STORM SEWERS

Drainage, Lighting Problems Studied By City Commission

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

IMPROVED drainage as a safeguard against floods like those of last weekend and better street lighting loomed as strongly probable results of the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission Thursday afternoon.

The commission asked R. L. Oldham, director of public works, to prepare plans for additional storm sewers to serve all portions of the city needing them, and particularly for the worst flooded areas last week. Oldham said he would try to have them ready within three weeks.

The commission also directed City Manager Steve Matthews and Electric Superintendent Truman Green to prepare cost estimates of installing blue-tinged mercury vapor lights along major highways and thoroughfares through the city.

During the discussion, Green advised the commission that the installation of 300 lights on residential streets has been started. Two to four of the lights are being installed daily in the areas where "they are most needed and are likely to do the most good," he said.

Joining in urging prompt attention to the drainage problem were members of a committee from Tech Terrace addition in Southwest Lubbock, the hardest hit of the flood districts last week.

"We are urging a comprehensive program to protect the entire city and not our particular area alone," said DeWitt Landis, spokesman for the group. Other members of the committee were Clarence Young, J. C. Kerr, R. W. Tucker, Kenneth Cox, C. L. Cobb and Clem B. Boverie.

They are aware, members of the committee said, that the storm sewers needed would require a bond issue. If a bond election should be called, they added, they will do what they can to secure its approval.

Oldham would not speculate, pending his studies, on where new storm sewers should be constructed nor upon their cost, except to say the outlay probably would run "between one and two million dollars."

Members of the commission were unanimous in agreeing that any such projects proposed will include provision for Northwest, South, Southwest and all other sections of the city which now are exposed to flooding.

The commission also said that, if a bond election is called, provision will be proposed for many other urgent needs, including sanitary sewer, water, paving and other expansions.

On the street lighting plan, Green said the city can save a substantial sum by assembling its

Friday 13th Holds No Worries For Denver Resident

(By International News Service)

DENVER, May 12. —The only Friday the Thirteenth of 1949 may carry foreboding for some people, but for A. B. Hirschfeld of Denver it's a day for his happiest smile.

Hirschfeld dedicates his huge, new printing and lithographing plant tomorrow with elaborate ceremonies, but that is just the climax to his belief in the figure thirteen as a lucky omen.

The man who built one of the largest printing businesses in the entire west from a hand press in a confectioners basement, came to Denver with his parents from Cincinnati on Nov. 13, 1903.

His only child, a son, Edward, was born on the 13th just four years later.

A lot of other thirteens figure in his lucky breaks, down to the present time. Hirschfeld, a state senator four terms, broke ground for his new printing plant on the thirteenth and now is dedicating it on that supposedly most unlucky day of them all.

Fourth Ford-Union Meeting Fruitless

DETROIT, May 12. (INS)—Ford and CIO-United Auto Workers negotiators met again for two hours today but reported no luck in their efforts to settle the Rouge and Lincoln-Mercury strike which has idled 140,000 throughout the nation.

A fifth meeting was scheduled for 9 a. m. (CST) tomorrow when UAW President Walter P. Reuther will return to the conference table.

The labor leader was in Pittsburgh today talking to CIO President Philip Murray. Reuther said the meeting was arranged some time ago and has nothing to do with the strike of 62,000 Ford employes over a "speed-up" issue.

It was expected, however, that Reuther would discuss the strike with Murray.

Because of Reuther's absence, Ford also refrained from bringing in its vice president in charge of manufacturing, Del S. Harder. John S. Bugas, Ford labor relations director, said he would call on Harder tomorrow to amplify the company's position on "production standards."

METHODISTS TO MEET

CHILDRESS, May 12. (AP) — Bishop W. C. Martin and Methodist leaders of the Dallas-Fort Worth district meet tomorrow. They will plan the annual northwest Texas conference at Amarillo May 25-29. About 50 conference leaders are expected here. Bishop Martin and nine district superintendents will hold a preconference cabinet meeting through Saturday morning.

Ratification Of Atlantic Pact Is Seen

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 12 — Evidence mounted today that the Senate will ratify the North Atlantic treaty. Indications were equally strong that Spain will not be invited to join the security pact.

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, regarded as the No. 1 Republican spokesman on international affairs, said flatly today:

"I am not in favor of Spain's entry into the North Atlantic pact."

(In London tonight, the House of Commons ratified the North Atlantic treaty, 336 to 6.

(Foreign Secretary Bevin and Winston Churchill joined in urging approval of the pact.

(Canada was the first of 12 members to ratify the treaty. Belgium completed ratification on the pact today.)

Taft Sees Passage

Only yesterday, Secretary of State Acheson had called Francisco Franco's regime a "Fascist" dictatorship which denied basic civil rights. In conjunction with Acheson's remarks, it appeared that Vandenberg's announced opposition would seal off any possibility of Spain being invited to join the 12 pact nations at any time in the immediate future.

Vandenberg had his say in the Senate Foreign Relations committee, which is driving to close its hearings on the treaty.

Another influential Republican, Senator Taft of Ohio, told a reporter he can see no "great opposition to ratification of the treaty by the Senate."

Foreign Relations Chairman Connally (D-Tex) has been predicting all along that the Senate will give the required two-thirds approval.

Under the pact, the signing nations would be pledged to aid each other in case of aggression.

Suspect Caught In Theft Here

A 21-year-old Snyder negro was held in city jail Thursday night pending filing of a charge of theft over $50—a ladies wrist watch valued at $59.50 from Mrs. J. C. McKinley of 2702 Maple.

The suspect, who later admitted to C. D. Dickey and J. M. Clark, police patrolmen, that he had taken the watch, was helping another man load an article of furniture at the McKinley residence. The watch was recovered at the home of the negro's sister, to whom he had given the watch, police said.

Battery Is Taken

A brief case, listed on sheriff's department reports as stolen Thursday morning from Joe E. Self of 3105 North Fifth, was found abandoned on the east side of the post office building about 11 a.m. by a city policeman who was off duty at the time.

The brief case, which contained shirt samples and an order book, was taken from the courthouse park where the owner left it momentarily, reports showed.

P. F. Lee, who lives 1½ miles north of Becton, told the sheriff's department that a new battery had been stolen from his irrigation well sometime since the heavy rains last week.

Stowaway On Polish Vessel Identified As Gerhardt Eisler

WASHINGTON, May 12. (AP)—A stowaway aboard a Polish ship en route to England was "positively identified" today as the missing Gerhardt Eisler, 53, alleged number one Communist in the United States.

U. S. Immigration Commissioner Watson Miller told newsmen there was no question about the identification.

Miller said Scotland Yard detectives are waiting for Eisler's ship, the Gdynia-American liner Batory, to dock at Southampton, England. It is due there Saturday.

Eisler—if it is indeed he—skipped the country under two jail sentences — a one-year term for contempt of Congress and a one-to-three year sentence for concealing his Communist connections in applying for a permit to leave the United States. He had been free on $23,500 bail pending his appeal from both convictions.

Housing Plan Passes Test

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 12.—President Truman's huge housing program — including slum clearance, 1,050,000 low-rent dwellings and farm home aids—sailed through the House Banking committee today on a 14 to 7 party line vote.

Chairman Spence (D-Ky) noting that the Senate has approved somewhat similar legislation, 57 to 13, predicted a smashing Truman victory when the issue comes to a showdown in the House next week.

The House committee approved the full program of 1,050,000 federally financed low-rent housing units over the next seven years, exactly as requested by Mr. Truman. The Senate, however, trimmed the figure to 810,000 units in six years. After the house acts, the measure will go to a Senate-House conference committee for ironing out the differences.

A Senate squabble about race segregation in public housing was side-stepped completely by the committee. And House leaders were working quietly to keep the issue from entering next week's debate.

Major provisions of the House committee's bill are:

1. Federal contribution of up to $400,000,000 annually over a 40 year span to help finance construction of 1,050,000 public low-rent housing units in the next seven years. The Senate bill provides a maximum of $308,000,000 in federal contributions annually.

2. A five-year slum clearance program, one-third of the cost to be met by the federal government and the balance by local communities. The bill authorizes $1,000,000,000 federal loans and $500,000 in grants for slum clearance.

3. The three-part farm program calls for a federal outlay of $262,500,000. The Senate bill calls for $275,000,000.

The bill stipulated that for five years veterans should have preference in occupancy of low-rent housing and it proposed to repeal present law that calls for disposal of farm labor camps. Local housing authorities would be given an opportunity to take over such camps.

Farm Grain Storage Plan Is Announced

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—The government acted today to keep surplus 1948-crop grain on farms so that it won't interfere with marketing of this year's prospective big crops.

The Agriculture department offered farmers from 8 to 11.5 cents a bushel to keep in farm storage about 275,000,000 bushels of small grains soon due to be turned over to the government under its 1948 price support program.

A similar offer covering more than 400,000,000 bushels of corn is expected to be announced soon.

The effort to hold surplus grains on farms is made at a time when officials fear there is not enough storage space—particularly commercial facilities—to handle the prospective big supplies.

A shortage of space would weaken the price support program for new crops, officials said, and possibly cause greatly depressed prices after harvest. Only grain in acceptable storage is eligible for price support.

House Labor Group Demos Seek Solution To Injunction Issue

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 12—House Labor committee Democrats put off a labor law decision for two weeks today as they strove for a compromise on the injunction issue despite an unyielding stand by President Truman.

Mr. Truman told his news conference he still wants full repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor act and that his position is well known. For months that position has been for passage of an administration substitute introduced in both houses.

But a bill considerably less pleasing to labor leaders threatens to emerge when Congress finally acts. Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich) of the House Labor committee hinted the Democrats are having difficulty writing a provision to deal with national emergency labor disputes.

"We are trying now to work out some language that will satisfy everybody," the chairman said. "Then there were some suggestions that we wait and see what the Senate does."

Some committee Democrats want injunctions against labor unions, some want injunctions plus possible seizure of strike-threatened plants and mines, and

Soviet Traffic Move To Be Tested Today

By THOMAS A. REEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Friday, May 13 — A major difference between the Western Allies and Russians over Berlin's exports appeared today to have been solved.

The Russians yesterday had refused to allow trucks to leave Western Berlin for the western occupation zones unless they had a permit either from the Russians or the Russian-backed German Economic commission.

But early today the West Berlin police quoted the officer in charge of the Russian highway checkpoint outside Berlin as saying only an order from the West Berlin government was required for passage of the trucks through the Russian zone.

Test Due Today

Western Berlin is separated from the rest of western occupied Germany by 100 miles of Soviet controlled territory.

Whether the Russians actually have dropped their demand for a Russian license will not be known before daylight today when trucks again try to get through the Russian checkpoint.

Western Berliners Attend Rallies

If Soviet authorities enforce their claim to authority over Western Berlin's exports they could keep 2,000,000 residents of the American, British and French sectors of the city on a basis of "virtual charity," said Brig. Gen. Frank L. Howley, American commandant here. He declared Western Berlin "must export to the West to live" and added:

"The American and British airlift can meet any emergency now—it can keep some exports moving out—but the airlift isn't intended to go on forever."

Despite this seeming hitch, 250,000 Berliners poured out of their homes and attended two giant rallies celebrating the end of the blockade.

The very size and existence of the two rallies and the tone of the speeches delivered at each one gave evidence of the bitter division existing between Communists and anti-Communists.

Berlin still was a split city with two separate municipal administrations. However, all police controls on freedom of movement inside the city had disappeared

West Germany's Pact Is Okayed

By RICHARD O'REGAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

FRANKFURT, Germany, May 12.—The three Western Allies approved tonight with several reservations the draft constitution for a new West German federal republic.

At the same time the Americans, British and French announced they had put into force an "occupation statute," or interim peace treaty, for 45,000,000 Germans in the western occupation zones.

Thus were swept away on the Allied side all objections to formation of a German government, which will be open to the Soviet zone if free elections are held in the Soviet area.

Action Announced

The western powers may propose at the Foreign Ministers' council in Paris opening May 23 that the draft constitution be used as a basis for an all-German government—provided free elections are held in eastern Germany.

The constitution was signed by the military governors of the United States, Britain and France. Their action was announced in a letter from them to Dr. Konrad Adenauer, president of the German Constituent Assembly. The Assembly approved the constitution last Sunday in Bonn after eight months' deliberation.

The charter may become law before the end of May if it is approved quickly by two-thirds of the 11 state parliaments in western Germany.

Modified Taft-Hartley Law Is Given Backing In Latest Survey

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institution of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., May 12.—What does the general public want Congress to do about labor legislation?

For many months the prevailing sentiment as tested by national polls has been on the side of some change in the Taft-Hartley Law. There has been no majority in favor of either keeping the Law as it is or repealing it entirely.

So the forces of compromise in the House of Representatives who seek a modified Taft-Hartley Law are closely in line with the sentiment found prevailing among voters questioned by the Institute.

The outstanding exception is the view taken by members of labor unions.

The prevailing view there is for repeal.

Among voters who want the Act revised there is a slight margin in favor of amending it in favor of labor—that is, softening it.

A fact which should be of interest to leaders of both sides of the controversy is that despite the continuous publicity given to the Act, only about half the voters of the nation say they have followed discussion on the Taft-Hartley Law.

The issue seems to be one which stirs intense interest in certain segments of the population but which arouses little attention in others.

The latest test of opinion was confined to those who said they had followed the current discussion. The first question was:

"Have you followed any of the discussion about the Taft-Hartley Law?

Yes	53%
No	47

Earlier surveys have shown that a much larger proportion—approximately nine in every ten—have heard or read about the Law.

Those who have followed the discussion were asked:

"What action do you, yourself, think Congress should take about the Taft-Hartley Law?

The vote:

Change it, amend it	18%
Leave it as is	15
Repeal it	12
No opinion	8
Haven't followed discussion	47
	100%

Although President Truman campaigned actively last year for outright repeal, among Democratic voters questioned in today's survey sentiment for keeping a modified act is slightly greater than sentiment for repeal.

The party vote follows:

	1948 Truman Voters	1948 Dewey Voters
Change it	20%	22%
Leave it	8	28
Repeal it	19	5
No opinion	8	8
	55%	63%
Haven't followed discussion	45	37

The division of sentiment according to occupation and union membership is shown below:

	Change it	Leave it	Repeal it
Prof. & Bus.	29%	24%	11%
W. Coll.	25	18	14
Farmers	10	12	5
Manual Workers	13	9	15
Union Members	20	7	26

The undecided vote in the above groups ranged from 6 to 9 per cent, and the proportion who had not followed discussion concerning the Law ranged from a low of 28 per cent among business and professional people to 64 per cent among farmers.

Change It — How?

A third question in the survey was asked of the 18 per cent who favor changing or amending the Taft-Hartley measure. It was:

"Do you think the changes should be in the direction which business leaders want—or do you think the changes should be in the direction which labor leaders want?

The vote:

Business	4%
Labor	7
To satisfy both	4
No opinion	3

Snow Makes Sounds Harder To Analyze, Blind Singer Says

DENVER, May 12 (AP)—Chuck Collins doesn't have much use for snow. But not for the same reason you or I might dislike the chilly stuff. Collins, a radio singer and pianist, is blind. Most of the time he makes his way around town nicely without the help of seeing-eye dog or the white cane of the unseeing.

His ears are his guides. Simply by snapping his fingers, listening to the changing echoes of sound in the street or bending an ear to the clicking of his leather heels, Collins says he can sense the presence of obstacles nearby.

But snow deadens sounds or makes them trickier to analyze. Collins, completely sightless for 33 of his 38 years, says he knows if an automobile is parked at the curb; when he is approaching a telephone pole or a wall or another pedestrian.

Collins helped earn his way to a political science degree at Idaho University by tuning pianos. For 11 years he sang in Seattle and Hollywood, with dance bands and then over the air.

Collins now has a five-a-week show—"Chuck Collings Calling"—of songs and patter over station KOA and KMYR.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Top U. S. Physicist Seeks To Increase Knowledge Of Atom

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—Dr. Robert F. Bacher left today on a journey which he hopes ultimately will take him deep into the still little known heart of the atom.

Bacher at 43 is one of the country's foremost nuclear physicists. He resigned this week as a pioneer member of the Atomic Energy commission. He quit to return to his first passion, basic research into the fundamental particles of nature and the origin of nuclear forces.

New Facts Needed

By summer's end he will be installed at California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, as chairman of the division of physics, mathematics and astronomy. He also will be chief of Cal Tech's Norman Bridge laboratory of physics, a post long held by Nobel prize winner Robert A. Millikan.

The country's great need now, as Bacher sees it, is intensified search for new facts of nature. He won't predict what science will find as it probes ever deeper into the atomic nucleus or whether what it finds will be of any practical use.

Scientific Knowledge Gains

During the last war, he said, science knew just enough about the nucleus to proceed with the atomic bomb project. It has learned a little more since the war, but we are still a long way from complete understanding, he said.

Bacher leaves the Atomic Energy commission at a time, he said, when weapons improvements, reactor development and expansion of atomic fuel production are all going propositions.

Development of materials which will withstand the high temperatures and intense radiation of atomic engines and furnaces is proceeding by leaps and bounds, Bacher said. He predicted that problems which looked insurmountable a year or two ago will be solved.

Dismissal Of Federal Charges Against Rockwall Officials Asked

DALLAS, May 12. (AP)—Federal judge T. W. Davidson has been asked to dismiss a charge two men deprived negro farm hand R. D. Andrew of his civil rights.

The request was filed yesterday by attorneys for former Rockwall county Sheriff Jack Pullen and Luther Hunter, a jailer. Pullen, Hunter and three other men were tried in 1946 on a four-count indictment charging they reduced Andrew to a state of peonage to make him work off a $15 debt to Pullen.

One man was acquitted. Four others, including Pullen and Hunter, were convicted on one count of depriving Andrew of eight basic civil rights guaranteed by the constitution. Pullen and Hunter appealed successfully and the Justice department prepared the new charge now pending against Pullen and Hunter.

Brazil's Congress has a bill before it to appropriate $750,000 to help finance Amazonian rubber production.

Range Prospects Reported Good

AUSTIN, May 12. (AP)—The U.S. Department of Agriculture reported today that summer range and pasture feed prospects on May 1 were uniformly better than a year ago.

"General to excessive April rain over the entire state added further to the already good moisture reserves," the USDA said.

"All range feed was reported at 89 per cent on May 1. This was the highest condition reported for the season since 1941."

The USDA reported that cattle and calves were gaining flesh rapidly on the improved pasturage. Ewes showed "remarkable improvement" and spring lambs made "excellent development."

The report also showed that the commercial meat production in Texas during March — 63,092,000 pounds—was nine per cent above the previous month but more than five percent less than March, 1948.

A cordage company in Cuba has saved nearly 2,000,000 pounds of fibre damaged in the September hurricane.

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

PAGE FOUR, LUBBOCK, TEX., FRIDAY, MAY 13, 1949

The Woman's Angle By Ellen Miller

JUDGING from advice to the lovelorn columns, romantic stories and letters-to-the-editor in certain publications, every woman wants a husband who will come home from work at the close of the day and entertain her with little gossip about his daily doings.

But hubby never comes across, according to these sources, so in order to prevent a deathly silence, the little woman has to chatter like a sparrow all evening, even though she has nothing more to say than that the floors seem harder to mop every day.

But when the men have their say, they complain that their wives are never interested in anything outside the house, or, at most their interests don't extend further than the neighbors, indicating that women are poor companions.

Someone has said that it is a rare couple who, after 10 years of marriage, could sit alone together in a room and find enough to say about topics of mutual interest to keep a conversation going for half an hour.

So, maybe it would be a good idea to teach the art of conversation in a study course on marriage and family relations, along with sex and how to balance the budget.

CULTURE A LA CARTE

ONE of the most ambitious cultural undertakings ever attempted in this country is the Goethe Bicentennial convocation and music festival, to be held in Aspen, Colo., a picturesque mountain village, from June 27 through July 16, in observance of the 200th anniversary of the birth of Johann Wolfgang von Goethe.

The convocation will cost an estimated $300,000 and will feature concerts and lectures by some of the world's most outstanding scholars and musicians.

Activities will be divided into two 10-day series: June 27 to July 7, and from July 7 through July 16. Lectures will be held in the morning and early afternoon. All concerts will start at 4:30 p. m. and continue until twilight. During each of these sessions there will be two "open days" giving each visitor the opportunity to enjoy special planned events or to participate in sports activities of his choice.

The convocation is sponsored by a group of 36 prominent persons, including Karl Hoblitzelle and Everette L. De Golyer and Dudley K. Woodward, jr., of Dallas, Mrs. Edgar Tobin of San Antonio, William L. Clayton of Houston, as well as Herbert Hoover, Marshall Field, Robert M. Hutchins and other art patrons.

EVENTS in observance of the Goethe bicentennial have been scheduled at Texas Tech this summer.

Dr. Robert T. Clark, will speak at 8 p. m. June 20, behind the band building. The summer school orchestra will play the prelude and the fifth act of the opera "Faust" (Gounód). A marionette play performance of "Das Punenspiel vom Doktor Faust" will be given by language students during the second summer term under direction of Mrs. A. L. Strout, internationally known puppeteer. A play, "Die Wette," will be presented during the second summer term in the German language by a group of students. Theodor W. Alexander of Tech is arranging the programs.

Lower Assessment On Property Under Rent Controls Proposed

WICHITA Kans. May 12 (U.P.) — A Kansas county tax assessor came up today with a plan for giving landlords a break despite national rent controls.

Howard Schroeder said he would instruct his assessors to lower taxes on rent-controlled properties.

He is convinced that such property is less valuable from a tax assessment standpoint than uncontrolled units, Schroeder said. He got the idea while attending a rent control meeting headed by federal housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods in Wichita

Schroeder said he asked permission to outline the plan before the rent control meeting but was denied. So today he sent the following question by telegram to Tighe's headquarters in Washington:

"Should the assessed valuation be lowered on rent controlled properties as against properties of like kind that are not under controls?"

He said Wichita realtors agreed that an investor, given a choice of two identical properties, never would invest in the rent-controlled property.

"Since for taxation purposes, assessment must consider the income factor," he said, "the controlled low rent property should be marked down on the tax rolls."

Centering the table was a Maypole set on a reflector edged with a blue satin ruffle. Multicolored ribbons reached from the top of the Maypole to six handmade dolls, dressed in pastel satin, standing amid tiny bouquets of sweet peas. The table was covered with a white satin cloth, appliqued with tiny pink handmade satin rosebuds, and a ruffled white net overskirt. Top edge of the overskirt was banded with blue twisted satin ribbons and was caught with large blue satin bows at each corner of the table.

Eleven-Year-Old Girl Dies Of Leukemia In San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, May 12 (AP)—In February they gave 11-year-old Juanita Barina three to six months to live. Time ran out, and she died today, victim of leukemia.

Since last November her widowed mother, Mrs. Amelia Barina of Rowena, had kept a vigil at Juanita's bedside.

Juanita's was no spectacular case. There were no delicacies flown in, no gifts or cards from sympathetic persons—just a quiet, uncomplaining little girl who didn't know she was too sick to live.

Leukemia is a cancer of the blood cells. There is no known cure for it.

They'll hold Juanita's funeral service Saturday. Mrs. Barina has three other children, Howard, Janelle, and Doris.

Brooklyn Recluse Decides Not To Go Back To His Hole In Wall

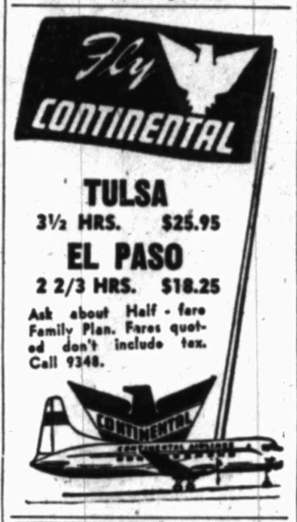

NEW YORK, May 12. (AP)—Paul Makushak, Brooklyn recluse who for 10 years sealed himself away from the world, will not go back to his hole in the wall.

Instead, the 33-year-old Makushak told his father he wants to go to college just as soon as he leaves the psychopathic ward of Kings county hospital.

"I'm going to help you in the daytime and at night go to college," Makushak confided to his father, 62-year-old Peter Makushak. The elder Makushak is a tailor.

Young Makushak holed himself up for a grimy decade of solitude in a filthy five-by-three windowless cell, walled away from the rest of the house. The mother and the elder Makushak are separated.

The son's seclusion was discovered by police only after Mrs. Makushak was hospitalized.

own fixtures for the illumination of heavily traveled thoroughfares, including Nineteenth street, College avenue, Fourth street, Avenue A and probably others.

Even so, he continued, the fixtures will cost about $160 per light installed, with approximately 600 lights needed to complete the entire program. The total cost, on this basis, would approximate $96,000.

Most of the other business transacted by the commission was routine.

An ordinance was passed on second and final reading to require parallel parking on Seventeenth between Avenue H and Texas avenue.

Concessions Awarded

Contract to operate concessions at the city swimming pool in Mackenzie State park was awarded to Luther Faulkner, a Texas Tech student, on a bid of $761.50, subject to the approval of the city recreation council. The bid was the largest of four submitted. The pool will be ready for use about May 20, the commission was advised.

The municipal airport board was asked to continue its investigations of the desirability of leasing a portion of land at the airport near the terminal building now under construction as a site for a tourist court. Ed Colby, airport manager, said the Bishop and Milam Construction co., of Brownwood, has proposed to invest $150,000 to $200,000 in such a project.

Repair Contract Let

A contract to repair a catch basin at the sewage disposal plant was awarded to Kerr & Middleton, of Lubbock, on a bid of $6,400, the lowest of three submitted.

Action was deferred until the next regular meeting, on May 26, on a request to extend the city limits to Pierce avenue between Nineteenth and twenty-sixth streets. Residents of the area were advised that it will be necessary to make alleys and streets conform with those in the city before it can be annexed.

All members of the commission attended the meeting. They are Mayor W H. Rodgers and Commissioners W. B Price, John Spikes, E. K. Hufstedler, jr., and Clarence Whiteside.

German Constitution

ernment, police powers of the federal government, the proposed reorganization of state boundaries, administrative powers of the federal government and inclusion of western Berlin in the new German state.

They were regarded by the Western Allies as safeguards for the time after the draft constitution becomes law.

The reservations made certain that no matter how tricky the wording of the constitution the Western Allies would not at this time allow the Germans to do these things:

1. Violate the "occupation statute." This statute, made public earlier this year, limits or bans the activity by the government to be in such affairs as disarmament, the Ruhr, foreign relations and trade.

Border Changes Forbidden

2. Form a strong central police force under any pretext of an emergency without assent of occupation authorities.

3. Give western Berlin's representatives at this time voting rights in a future government.

4. Change borders of the states "until the peace treaty."

5. Use wording of certain articles in the constitution to bring about "excessive concentration of authority."

In effect these reservations augumented the restrictions of the "occupation statute."

The letter to Dr. Adenauer was released after a meeting of West German political leaders with the military governors. The leaders apparently expected the reservations. They did not express any dismay over them in statements to newsmen here.

Agreement Claimed Possible

The Western Allies feel that approval of the constitution gives them an ace card in the talks with Russia at the four-power meeting in Paris.

Gen Lucius D. Clay, the retiring U. S. military governor, told newsmen he thought it might be possible to get an East-West agreement on Germany in Paris provided "all the talk of freedoms and desire for democracy are translated from speeches to realities on both sides."

Clay signed the draft constitution with Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, the British military governor, and Lt. Gen. Pierre Koenig of France. Clay said it was his last official act as military governor. He leaves Germany on Sunday for retirement.

Texas Drivers Rank Fourth In U.S. In Total Gasoline Used

WASHINGTON, May 12 (U.P.)—Automobile drivers burned 30,646,468,000 gallons of gasoline in 1948 and paid taxes of $1,802,675,690 for the privilege.

States collected $1,342,937,000 in gasoline taxes; the federal government $459,702,690.

California led all states in amount of taxable fuel used—2,646,781,000 gallons, an increase of 106,875,000 gallons over 1947. New York was second with 2,081,316,000 gallons, an increase of 137,907,000 over the 1947 consumption. Pennsylvania was third with 1,961,011,000 gallons, and Texas fourth with 1,862,907,000.

NEWS BRIEFS

Mrs. J. H. Hamilton, 55, of Carlisle, was rushed to Lubbock Memorial hospital about 6:30 p. m. Thursday by Rix ambulance after suffering a heart attack at her home. Hospital attendants shortly before midnight last night reported she was "resting well."

"The Future of Jerusalem, the Arab Refugees, the Jewish Homeless, and Peace" will be the sermon subject of Rabbi Julius Kerman at the regular Sabbath Eve service at 8 o'clock tonight at Congregation Shaareth Israel, Twenty-third and Ave. Q. "Tomorrow Is A Wonderful Day," a motion picture dealing with retraining for useful life of children who have been in concentration camps, was shown Thursday night at the church.

Mrs. L. N. Smyer, of 2802 Thirty-eighth, Wednesday was released from West Texas hospital, where for three days she had been treated for ptomaine poisoning.

The city fire department answered two alarms late Thursday afternoon, neither of which involved heavy damage. The first was at 4:29 p. m. to Eighth and Ave. H, where sacks of ground cork insulation and a sign board had caught fire. The other, at 6:12 p. m., was to 403 Ave. H where a motor scooter was on fire, reports showed.

House For Economy, But Approves Bill Boosting Expenses

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 12—House members clapped hands today for government economy, then shouted their approval of a bill which would add about $1,500,000 a year to government costs.

By this voice vote they adopted a measure to provide each of the 435 House members and delegates with $3,000 extra for clerical hire, plus a $500 allowance for telephone and telegraph charges on official business.

Only about 100 lowmakers were on the floor when the vote was taken. A single objection could have blocked passage, but none was raised.

Just prior to this they had given a round of applause to Reps. Keefe (R-Wis) and Rich (R-Pa) who called for congressional action to slash federal expenditures.

House members now get around $12,000 a year for clerical help plus a $12,500 salary and an extra $2,500 in tax-free expense money.

Pact Approval Seen

ate Foreign Relations committee, disagreed. He said:

"I am not in favor of Spain's entry into the North Atlantic pact. But I cannot see where sending an ambassador to Spain would in any sense be an approval of the Spanish government.

"Ambassadors are in foreign countries for our benefit, not that of foreign nations."

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the foreign relations committee, agreed with Vandenberg. Connally declared:

"We send ambassadors to many countries whose governments we do not approve. Ambassadors serve the United States, not other countries."

The Spanish controversy has evoked bitter criticism of the administration by many senators and representatives.

Leading Senate critics are GOP policy leader Taft, Ohio, Republican floor leader Wherry, Neb., and Sen. McCarran (D-Nev).

Potential Friends In Spain

Taft has charged that the State department is following a "Communist-front philosophy" by refusing to send an envoy to Madrid.

Across the capitol, Rep. Javits (R-NY) said that an American move now would be interpreted in Europe "as our willingness to make the Franco dictatorship our ally."

others do not want either. The administration bill contains no injunction provision.

Lesinski said after the three-hour closed meeting that "we are a lot nearer to an understanding than we ever were before." He said the meeting was "very harmonious."

A subcommittee is scheduled to start Tuesday on bills to provide federal aid to education. The Senate has passed a bill making payments to the states to help poorer areas raise their educational standards.

Mr. Truman showed he is basing his hopes on the Thomas-Lesinski bill, approved by both Senate and House Labor committees. He said he had not talked with labor leaders about changes. It would replace the Taft-Hartley act with a modified Wagner act which gave labor more advantages.

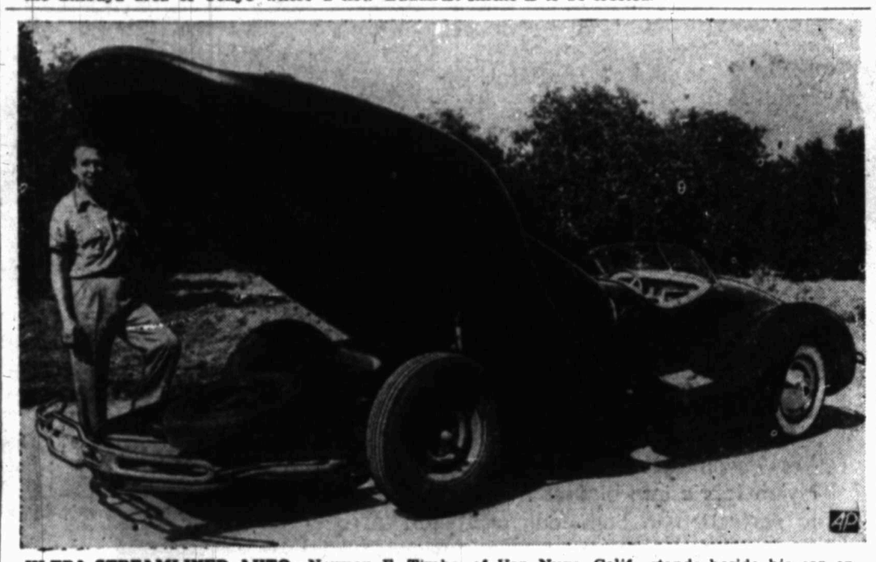

This attitude was confirmed a short time later by a presidential

A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. Whitney said that Mr. Truman is standing "100 percent against concessions" on the administration bill as reported by the two labor committees.

"We are in agreement," Whitney told reporters, "that the American voters indicated on Nov. 2 where they stood on the Taft-Hartley slave labor act."

locality of concern to us."

Saying municipal or district—rather than statewide decontrol—would permit Air Force personnel to "state their case," Burns asserted "such a program would be both fair and equitable."

"Above all," he said, "I wish to reiterate that we of the Air Force are not attempting to tell the people of Texas how to run their business . . ."

Fears Loss Of Men

Burns said Texas is a very important state in the training of air personnel and always had been. He said he admired the hospitality of Texans and Texas' splendid flying weather.

The general said the Air Force depended in a large way on air personnel to be able to obtain living quarters reasonably due to their medium pay, so they might be with their families.

"Our experience has shown conclusively that such individuals as are placed in this position (separation from families) have no alternative but to sever their enlistments in the Air Force on the grounds of hardship or to await the expiration of their current terms of enlistment and retire from Air Force service.

"I need not stress that our losses in this regard have been severe. As air security depends now, as never before, upon experienced personnel, we are most gravely concerned with this problem."

Woods Denies Charges

Meanwhile, in a brief stop at Dallas, Tighe Woods, federal housing expediter, said in an interview that any attempt to link him with an Air Force general's request to Gov. Jester asking Texas to go slow on rent control was "absolutely false." Woods had conferred earlier with area rent directors from Texas, Louisiana, and New Mexico at San Antonio.

"I know the military was worried on its own as far back as the hearings (on rent control) in March," Woods said.

"They testified in Congress they had a terrific problem of recruiting because of housing conditions. "Certainly I feel it would be a shame if the military people became so desperate they might have to consider moving installations to other (rent controlled) states."

Woods said he did not know Texas Rep. Carlton Moore of Houston who charged yesterday in Austin that the rent chief was "back of" the request to Governor Jester.

"That statement," said Woods, "is absolutely false."

Moore is author of a bill in the state legislature which would decontrol Texas rents.

Gen. Burns also denied Moore's charges.

Woods earlier had stated at San Antonio that rent decontrol would work a severe hardship on the state and particularly San Antonio.

Atomic Energy Board Gives Scholarship To Avowed Red

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—An acknowledged Communist turned up today with an Atomic Energy commission scholarship, given him to study relativity at government expense.

Members of Congress protested the award to Hans Freistadt, a graduate student and part-time physics teacher at the University of North Carolina.

The Atomic Energy commission said the awards are made without a security checkup when no atomic secrets are involved. Otherwise, it said, "freedom of inquiry and education" would be menaced.

Freistadt told reporters the application for the scholarship did not mention "political affiliation."

He is from Austria. He said he joined the Communist party after becoming naturalized several years ago. Dr. Paul Sherin, head of the University of North Carolina's physics department said Freistadt's scholarship calls for work in relativity and does not involve secrets. Freistadt, a University of Chicago graduate, said the scholarship is effective next July 1.

Similarly, he added, fellow traveler groups "do not take one step without orders of the Soviet embassy."

Alexeev said he was unable in "present circumstances" to comply with McCarran's request for specific names and events but that he would give the subcommittee "all possible assistance."

Earlier, McCarran flatly refused to divulge the name of "Mr. X" or the nature of his testimony. He said that public disclosure of what he said might result in preventing the subcommittee from obtaining "other evidence that we should have."

Reporters standing outside the hearing room saw an unidentified man emerge shortly before the session ended.

The man wore a rumpled grey suit, dark glasses and a turned-down black hat. He told newsmen in a foreign accent that he did not testify but merely accompanied a friend who was still inside.

Reporters, howeevr, saw no other person unknown to them come out of the room.

McCarran hinted that "Mr. X" may be an international agent of many aliases. He said:

"If you were to shoot me this minute, I couldn't tell you his name and I am not kidding. He has changed his name so many times I don't know it."

Tennessee Boy Held In Shooting Of Playmate Paroled To Mother

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 12 (AP)—A nine-year-old boy, accused of lining three playmates against a wall and taking a shot at them, was paroled to his mother today.

Sheriff's deputy said John Newman, holding a rifle, drilled two holes in the left ear of Jimmie Lee Patto, 8. The other two boys, Jimmie's brother, Hiner, 5, and Carroll Dolegite, 4, were uninjured.

Truman Says He Has No Plans For Purge

WASHINGTON, May 12. (AP) — President Truman disavowed any intention today of seeking to purge Democratic legislators who oppose parts of his program. He said the people will take care of that.

The President made the comment at a news conference when asked about a statement attributed to him last Monday that there are "too many Byrds in Congress." This was a reference to Senator Byrd (D-Va) who has repeatedly attacked the administration's spending policies.

Gilbert Harrison, national commander of the American Veterans committee, told newsmen that was what the President said during a conference Monday. Hearing of the reported remark, Byrd said that if the President tried to purge him, "I'll be on hand when the purging starts."

Mr. Truman did not deny today that he made the statement. But he said the conversation with the veterans' group was confidential.

U. S. Carrier Commander Is Found Shot To Death In Cabin

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12. (AP) —Com. E. O. Rigsbee, jr., skipper of the big carrier USS Antietam, was found shot to death in his cabin today, unofficial Navy sources said "there appeared to be no foul play." The death weapon was reported found near the body.

Official Navy spokesmen turned aside all queries pending a report of a board of investigation, expected tomorrow. Vice Adm. George D. Murray, commander of the western sea frontier, called the board to the ship immediately after the shooting. The carrier is in Hunter's Point shipyard, in the process of joining the mothball (reserve) fleet.

Rigsbee was a native of Fort Stockton, Texas. His parents lived in San Angelo. He attended Texas A&M before going to the Naval academy. He was public information officer at Corpus Christi two years before leaving Corpus Christi last June to become executive officer of the Antietam.

Damage To Giant Hughes Flying Boat Is Revealed

LOS ANGELES, May 12 (INS)—Howard Hughes declared today that an inspection of the elevators and ailerons of the Hughes flying boat—the world's largest airplane—disclosed damages which might have wrecked the plane.

The plane builder said the parts have been replaced and pointed out that the damage did not exist when the plane finished its initial water taxi tests last year.

He refused to comment on sabotage rumors.

Hughes said a new metal hangar and a special drydock cradle will be constructed over and under the giant eight-engined aircraft he is building for the government.

The giant, $28 million craft is in drydock at Terminal island awaiting delivery of propellers.

William James Eastwood, 22, paid a fine of $2,000 in Cookstown, Northern Ireland, for converting a building into a movie theatre without a license from the Government — and would have gone to jail, the magistrate, William Miller, said, except for his youth and the fact it was a first offense.

Red Units Inch Nearer Shanghai

By FRED HAMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, May 12. — The Communists inched closer around Shanghai today, being reported only 18 miles away at one point.

The Reds also were reported attacking the outer defenses of Hankow less than 13 miles north of that great Central-China city, and probing deeper south in the vicinity of Nanchang.

Although the threat to Shanghai appeared no greater than for the past week, Nationalist garrison troops began erecting sandbagged guard posts at public buildings and police stations.

All central government departments still in Shanghai were ordered to leave within two weeks.

Defenses Reported Holding

The garrison reported its defenses holding firm at Shihhutang, a village 25 miles southwest of Shanghai. It also said there was bitter fighting (though apparently on a small scale) 20 to 25 miles northwest of Shanghai in the neighborhood of Taichang.

An American flier who landed at Shanghai said he saw a village burning 20 miles to the northwest.

Military observers also regarded with interest a report that Reds were active around Tsingpu, 18 miles west-southwest of Shanghai.

This might indicate that the Communists were flanking Sungkiang, last remaining large suburban town 16 miles southwest of Shanghai. Tsingpu is 11 miles northwest of Sungkiang.

Invasion Attempted

The government's Central News agency said that fighting of "unprecedented fury" was "raging" in the Hankow area, 600 miles up the Yangtze. The numbers involved, however, indicated it was on a comparatively small scale.

(A dispatch from Canton, provisional Nationalist capital, said the government had sent several warships to Hainan island, from which 10,000 Communists guerrillas were attempting to invade the south China coast. Infiltration to the mainland about 250 miles southwest of Canton was reported already underway.

(The Communist radio in Peiping meanwhile announced creation of a Red naval headquarters for east China, with Chang Ta-Ping as commander and political commissar.

(The broadcast, heard in San Francisco by the Associated Press, said 48 government vessels had deserted to the Reds in the Yangtze river near Nanking.)

Sheriff Ted Andrews of Hale county informed the sheriff's department that 50 laying hens — some white with black spots, others red—had been stolen there.

Aliens Deported

The sheriff's office here said 12 "wetback" Mexican nationals had been removed from jail and started on the long trip back to their homeland. They were attempting to remain in this country illegally, it was charged. Immigration border patrolmen of the Lubbock office said the aliens would enter Mexico at Presidio.

Sheriff Bert Stephens of Ventura, Calif., arrived here to accept custody of Santos Romo, 53, a Ventura Mexican who had been arrested by Lubbock police April 26 for California officials on a grand theft charge. A fugitive complaint had been filed against him in the court of D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, alleging the California charge.

Youth Released

Police detectives said they had released a 19-year-old youth of 1900-block Thirteenth after parents of a girl, about 11, had declined to sign an aggravated assault complaint against him.

Police reports said the youth had been accused of having taken indecent liberties with the girl on a bus. They said the child told her parents she left the bus when she unsuccessfully sought to have the youth desist.

The mother said the youth also left the bus and followed the child, on the opposite side of the street. She said she and the girl got in a car and passed the suspect, who began running when he saw he was followed. The girl, police were told by the mother, identified him, then was sent running back to her house for her father.

The father stopped the youth in an alley in 1300-block Twenty-sixth. The suspect gave a fictitious name and address, police said. Eventually, under questioning at the station, he admitted his identity and his address, and said he had sat by the girl on a bus, police reports further said.

Parents of the girl, at first asking police assistance, later declined to press a charge at the entreaty of the youth's parents, detectives said.

Mrs. Jim Cummings, of 2623 Ruby, reported theft of a $30 bike from her residence—the second time within a week the vehicle has been stolen. It was recovered after the first theft was reported to police Friday.

C. L. Wright, about 40, was fined $5 and county court costs Thursday after pleading guilty of violation of state check law, the county attorney's department said.

Attempt To Shatter Flight Record Fails

YUMA, Ariz., May 12 (INS) — Endurance fliers Woody Joneward and Bob Woodhouse ended their third attempt to set a new flight record at the 155-hour mark today when their light plane developed engine trouble.

The two former Navy pilots said that the motor failure which caused the landing was due to a clogged oil line. They said that they will try again to crack the recent endurance flight record of 1008 hours set by Fullerton, Calif., fliers Dick Riedel and Bill Barris.

New Law On Zoning

ommended a particular zone change, after investigation by its members, a public hearing would be held by the City commission before the zone change finally became effective.

At least 10 days prior to this public hearing, affected property owners would have to be determined (probably from city tax lists) and in turn notified. Notice also would be required to be carried a local newspaper at least 10 days prior to the hearing.

Thus, City Planning commission members last night felt it feasible to postpone any action on their part regarding the zone change requests until machinery to handle the necessary steps in following the newly-enacted state law has been set up by the City commission. The Planning commission probably will act on the zone change requests at its June meeting.

Requests Are Okayed

Platting requests which were recommended for approval last night were:

Request from Mrs. C. M. Dickinson regarding "Dickinson's Valley View Addition," located on the Amarillo highway just south of the Lubbock Country club.

Request from J. C. Anderson regarding "Rock Haven" addition, located between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets from Taylor to Fillmore Ave.

Request from Lewis Stump on a plat of "City View" addition, located 1½ miles north of the city limits on extension of Ave. P.

Request from S. E. McMillan regarding "McMillan Heights, Installment No. 2," located between Second and Maple from Van Buren to Tyler Ave.

Several Persons Appear

Request from Gust Kallas regarding "Johnny and Jack" addition. The property lies between Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth streets, Tyler to Polk Ave.

At last night's meeting, a number of persons appeared before the commission, on behalf of zone change requests and platting requests. Those who appeared included Gust Kallas and Mrs. Dickinson, both on behalf of requests for approval of their individual plats; and William M. Davis, Mrs. Earl C. Scott, A. C. Kirk, Kallas, and Ignacio Huerta, all on behalf of requested zone changes.

No action was taken last night on a number of requests which have come in from various groups and individuals for permission to erect benches at city bus stops.

City Manager Steve Matthews made a report on the public hearing held in City hall Tuesday afternoon regarding the proposed street name changes within the city, as well as on the outskirts. No action was taken on the matter. The possibility of appointing a citizen's committee to study further the street naming problem was discussed briefly but no definite action was taken. Matthews and R. L. Oldham, director of public works, also reported on action taken by the City commission on the recommendation made by the Planning commission to limit the size of servants' quarters to a maximum of 288 square feet.

Members attending last night's session included Homer D. Grant, chairman pro tem in the absence of K. N. Clapp; W. L. Bradshaw, J. D. Hassell, Matthews, J. H. Murdough, C. J. Griggs, J. T. Krueger, and Oldham. Also present was Vaughn Wilson, city attorney.

Atlee Guarded Against Possible Harm By Irish Republican Group

LONDON, May 12. (INS)—Extra police precautions were taken tonight to protect Prime Minister Atlee from a possible threat against his life over the old controversy of a divided Ireland.

The usually unarmed police detail outside Attlee's official residence was issued revolvers, armed guards were increased throughout the Commons and Whitehall area and Liverpool police were alerted for the arrival of known Irish firebrands.

In addition, a special check will be made on parcels arriving for prominent government officials, and a special watch is being kept in Ulster, where an Irish Republican army faction is understood to have an arms cache.

New Dispute In Berlin 'Settled'

overnight. Berliners could travel anywhere in the city without risk of police search. Western and Soviet-licensed newspapers once again were sold freely in the rival sectors.

The Soviet blockade of Western Berlin and the Western Allies' counter-blockade of the Russian zone of Germany were lifted on schedule all along the 1,000-mile German cold war front.

For the American and British airlift crews it was another day. They kept flying supplies into Berlin at the rate of nearly 500 tons an hour and expected to keep on doing so for another 30 days.

Intentions Are Studied

The Western Powers seek both replenishment of the depleted stocks of Western Berlin and time to measure Russia's intentions. Those intentions are expected to become clearer when the Four-Power foreign ministers' conference on Germany opens in Paris May 23.

Two dates are involved in the question of who has a right to control Western Berlin's exports. The blockades were lifted as a result of a Big Four agreement reached earlier this month in New York.

That agreement ordered the removal of all transportation restrictions imposed by the four powers in Germany since March 1, 1948. However, the Russians as early as January, 1948, issued an order claiming the right to supervise what was shipped from Berlin to Western Germany.

Reds Bitterly Assailed

The Western Powers refused to recognize the Soviet claim and held that anything shipped from their sectors of the city required only their approval. From this beginning, the East-West dispute over transportation grew until the Russians imposed their blockade halting all surface traffic.

Howley said the Soviet regulation of January, 1948, cut Western Berlin's export trade more than 80 percent even before the blockade was imposed last June. The American commandant said:

"It's too early to say just how far they (the Russians) intend to go. But this January regulation, if it continues, means keeping 2,000,000 Western Berliners on virtual charity."

Howley said the West was stung in the deal with the Russians. He declared in the interview:

"We are investigating now to see if the Russians will enforce this. Of course they are technically in the right. I'm not mad at them for this. I am mad at them for killing our airlift boys. But this is plain business. And we must have cool, hard-headed businessmen of the old Yankee tradition to deal with the situation.

Rails Are Repaired

Fifty-five Americans and Britons have lost their lives in airlift crashes since the giant operation has been in prograss.

Rail traffic continued to move into Berlin. Four freight trains had reached Berlin by 7 p.m. and others were on the way.

The first post-blockade train from Berlin to arrive in Helmstedt, at the British-Soviet sector border, was greeted by cheering Germans and a brass band.

German rail officials said traffic on one line in Brunswick province will not be resumed until tomorrow because of the need for last minute repairs. They explained the Russians tore up sections of the track during the blockade.

Word of Soviet border crossing requirements on individuals came from U.S. zone border police in Herleshausen. They reported Soviet zone police of Thuringia said the German traveler will have to show an interzonal pass and verification by the German district government of the place he plans to visit. A businessman traveling east must show an interzonal pass and a certificate from his company

Explaining Howley's estimate of the potential cost of possible restriction of truck traffic from West Berlin, American officials said:

Restriction of exports would, in effect, be a reimposition of a business blockade. Export trade, which has a chance to revive briskly, would be stifled. The Western Allies would be forced to support city industries as in blockade days. They estimate this would cost about $20,000,000 a month.

Reports indicated the showers failed to move into the area southwest, south and southeast of Lubbock, or failed to fall where reports could be made.

Lubbock Weather station reported thundershowers would continue today, tonight and Saturday over the South Plains with the possibility of hail in some of the "larger" thunderstorms. While the city received no rain yesterday, the weatherman said it is "likely" one or more showers will strike Lubbock within the forecast period. No stormy weather is foreseen.

with Doughton on the necessity for rigid economy. He said the $41,900,000,000 budget which he submitted to Congress in January for the coming fiscal year was based on the concept of rigid economy.

Mr. Truman insisted that, despite his efforts at economy, prospects point to deficit financing unless taxes are increased.

He said bluntly that, in view of the existing prosperity, the government should not run in the red.

Beekeeper's Picnic Held Without Honey

FORT WORTH, May 12. (INS)—You'd think there'd be plenty of honey at a beekeeper's picnic, but there wasn't—not a drop.

You'd think somebody would get stung, and they did—but just once.

At a recent picnic for the Dallas County Beekeepers association, Mrs. George McKool was the only victim of a bee sting.

She admitted she had no business picking up bees, anyway.

The beekeepers and their wives had heard a lecture on how to handle bees by F. M. Harpold, who has been handling bees for 30 years.

The lecture must have given Mrs. McKool courage. She entered a bee-caging contest, where the trick was to pickup bees and stuff them in a cage. The person who picked up the most bees in one minute, wins the contest.

Mrs. McKool had lived around bees all her life, but she had never dared get very close to them. She was doing well in the contest and had four or five neatly tucked into a cage.

Then she caught one of the creatures that apparently was in a nasty mood. It stung her on the thumb.

After the contest, the picnic lunch was spread. There was fried chicken, aplenty, and plenty of potato salad—but nobody had thought to bring any honey.

Dewey Warns 'Be Wary Of Bear Traps' As Blockade Is Lifted

LONDON, May 12. (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey greeted the end of the Berlin blockade with a warning last night:

"Be wary of bear traps, the twice-defeated Republican presidential candidate told a news conference in London where he is vacationing. "Problems of Russian motivation, as serious as those we are now solving, may be raised. Many difficulties remain."

The New York governor addressed the Royal Institute of International affairs last night. His speech was off the record.

Today he will visit Oxford university and Stratford-on-Avon, birthplace of William Shakespeare.

GENERAL SAYS SHIPMENTS BURDEN ON U.S.

U. S. Declares Japanese Economy Has Reached Rock-Bottom, Halts Shipments Of Reparations

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The United States today ordered a cessation of World War II reparations shipments from Japan because Japanese economy has reached rock-bottom.

The decision was given to the Far Eastern commission by Gen. Frank McCoy, U. S. member.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the Allied supreme commander in Tokyo, was advised of the move immediately.

Reasons Outlined

McCoy explained that the U. S. decided that Japan must quit paying reparations for two basic reasons. These were:

1. Japanese economy would be shattered by additional dismantling of its industrial potential.

2. Continuing reparations shipments would prolong or even boost "the staggering costs born by the American taxpayer" in underwriting the occupation of Japan.

McCoy read a long statement to the commission in justification of the U. S. decision.

He pointed out that since April, 1946, the U. S. proposed a progressive series of solutions to the Pacific reparations program.

McCoy went into a discussion of "the deficit Japanese economy" which he said "shows little prospect of being balanced in the near future." The general asserted:

"It is inescapable that if the basic purposes of the occupation are to be achieved, the Japanese people must be enabled to support themselves at a tolerable standard of living.

"No one could reasonably suggest that Japan should be abandoned to economic despair. So to abandon Japan would be to undo the costly victory in the Pacific."

Claimed Burden On U. S.

McCoy advised the commission that the U. S. plans shortly to submit proposals designed to bring that body's policy into line with the American decision.

He said that under present circumstances in Japan, "cost of dismantling, packing and transporting reparations facilities would conflict with the program of Japan's economic stabilization and would constitute an additional burden upon the U. S. government." The general added:

"I do not wish to emphasize this point unduly, but the U. S. would be lacking in candor if it did not point out that the resources at its disposal to meet demands from all parts of the world are limited."

The Far Eastern commission in three years has been unable to agreeo n a pro rata share of war indemnities from Japan, despite American prodding.

An interim agreement was reached to effect 30 percent deliveries to the United Kingdom, China, the Netherlands and the Philippines. As a result, 20,000 machine tools were distributed among these four countries.

McCoy pointed out that Japan already has been stripped of all its overseas territorial possessions and divested of substantial quantities of real property in Korea, Formosa, Manchuria and China. The U. S. government holds this to represent not less than three billion dollars.

Levelland Firm Wins Decision In $257,000 Damages Action

A damage suit seeking $257,000 for injuries alleged to have happened in an oil field accident ended Wednesday in Federal court. The plaintiff was awarded nothing.

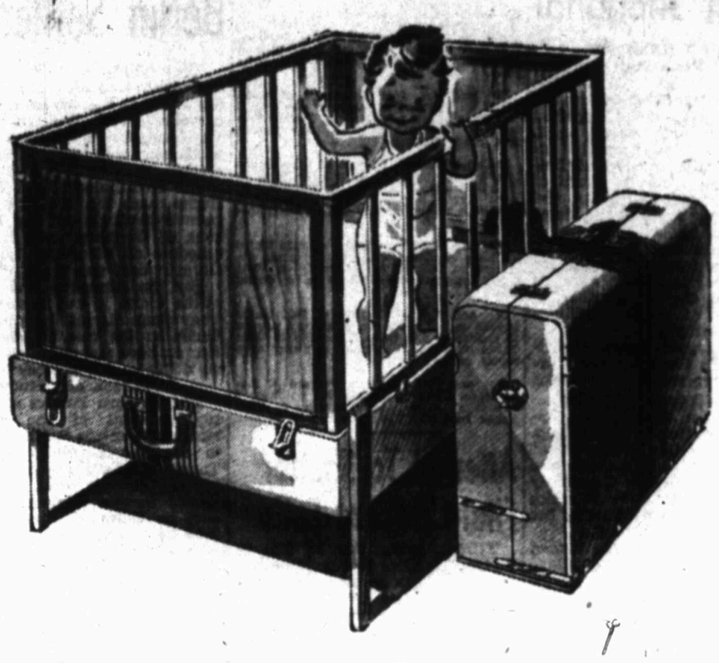

W. A. Garland, Graford, Texas, sued the Lane-Wells company, Levelland, for the sum claiming that on March 13, 1947 he had been permanently disabled by an explosion of a perforating gun. At the time of the accident Garland was employed by the Oil Well Drilling company and was standing on a rig floor where the gun was being used to "shoot a well." The rig was located about three miles from Levelland.

When the gun was fired into the well it exploded and Garland claimed that his eyes, ears and central nervous system were permanently affected. He alleged that his disability was complete, and that he was unable to work and provide himself with a living.

Garland's former wife, Mrs. Virgie Uycic, testified in behalf of the defendants. Mrs. Uycic stated that many of the symptoms and complaints alleged in Garland's suit had been previously incurred. She said that Garland had always complained of headaches, eye and ear trouble.

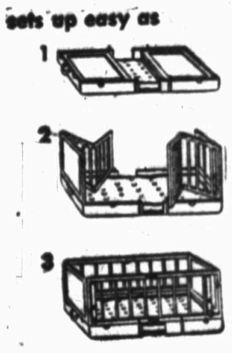

Judge Joseph B. Dooley presided and the counsel for the Lane-Wells company were Marion Key, James Milam and George Dupree.

Newcastle disease killed an estimated 6,100,000 Spanish chickens last year.

SWABBING IS PLANNED ON WILDCAT NEAR SNYDER

Production Opens In New Scurry Area As Well Completed; Test On Gaines Deep Wildcat Fails

Strawn - Pennsylvanian production has been opened in the area immediately east of the North Snyder field in north-central Scurry county by the official completion of J. L. Collins No. 1 G. E. Parks, wildcat eight miles north of Snyder.

Flowing 24 hours through a one-half-inch choke, the well made a potential test gauge of 512 barrels of 41.6-gravity oil, natural with no water. Gas-oil ration was estimated as 640-1.

Total depth was 7,322 feet, with packer at 7,313 feet. Production was from open hole. Tubing pressure was 175 pounds and casing pressure, 575 pounds.

Tests Fail

This strike is 330 feet from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 442, block 97, H&TC survey.

This strike is 330 feet from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 442, block 97, H&TC survey.

Attempts to drillstem test in the northwest Gaines county Devonian have failed at Pacific Western Oil corporation No. 1 Oil Development, deep wildcat between the Seminole and Russell fields.

Bottomed on 11,535 feet, the venture tried to secure several tests but was unable to get the test tool on bottom. It is due to drill ahead before atempting another test.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 315, block G. CCSD & RGNG survey.

Hiawatha Oil & Gas company No. 1 Wilson, possible discovery from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian in an undeveloped region of southwest Scurry county, between the Diamond M and the Sharon Ridge-Canyon fields, has set a string of 5½-inch casing at 6,745 feet, with 500 sacks of cement. Total depth is 6,761 feet.

Drilling In Few Days

Operator will drill the plug in a few days and try to complete a commercial oil well from the open hole section. That zone developed 180 feet of oil and gas cut mud and 6,200 feet of pipe line oil in a one hour drillstem test before the pipe was run.

The prospect is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 183, block 97, H&TC survey, and about 12 miles southwest of Snyder.

Magnolia No. 1 Eicke, central Scurry county wildcast, four miles west of Snyder, and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 209, block 97, H&TC survey, kicked off without swabbing from perforated section between 6,715 feet and the total depth at 6,778 feet, in Canyon lime.

It flowed out 30 barrels of load oil and then flowed 11 barrels of new oil in four hours, and died. Operator was to swab to try to kick the well off to flowing again. The development is expected to be completed shortly as a producer and an extender for the Canyon lime pay.

Survey Taken

Magnolia No. 18-B Cowden, wildcat two miles east and a little south of the Dollarhide field in southwest Andrews county, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 12, block A-55, psl survey, is bottomed at 11,244 feet in lime.

The development, which has shown for the discovery of commercial production from both the Devonian and from the Fuselman section of the Silurian, has taken a Schlumberger survey and is to now run and cement 7-inch casing to complete.

Operator has not revealed which pay will be produced, or whether or not dual-completion is planned for the new field opener.

A deep lime formation thought to be upper Ellenburger has made water at Stanolind No. 15 American Warehouse, wildcat in the Cedar Lake area of Northeast Gaines County.

Drillstem Test Run

A two-hour drillstem test was run at 12,988-13,053 feet, using a 1,800-foot water blanket. Recovery was 9,429 feet of sulphur water, with no signs of oil or gas.

The venture was drilling ahead under 13,120 feet in lime. It is due to make another 100 feet of hole, then operator probably will plug back for testing of the Devonian. That horizon indicated a discovery when penetrated.

Location is 1,650 feet from south an deast lines of section 5, block H, D&W survey.

Rheumatic Heart Disease May Be Curbed, Noted Doctor Says

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12 (U.P.) —One of the nation's foremost authorities on rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease placed on the scales for public examination both a frightening measure of their extent and an optimistic counterbalance which he declared immediately available to all communities.

Dr. Leo M. Taran of New York, medical director of the St. Francis sanatarium on Long Island, told a group here that:

1. Of 2,500,000 persons suffering from rheumatic heart disease in the United States today, 880,000 are children, and 40,000 of them will die this year.

2. There is no longer any reason why seven of nine children afflicted, given proper treatment, cannot recover completely and live normal life cycles.

Taran defined proper treatment as sapitarial care in a special institution adapted to the physical, emotional and intellectual needs of rheumatic heart patients. He said years of research had convinced him earlier neither hospital nor home care could do the job..

Attorney Finds 'Culprit' Is Own Public Speaking Teacher

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12 (U.P.) —In a court session, attractive Deputy District Attorney Doris Schnacke prosecuted a San Franciscan named Harold Betts. Annoyed by some dogs in his neighborhood, Betts had created a scene and was brought into court to be fined $50.

The same afternoon Miss Schnacke attended her public-speaking class to find a new instructor. It was the same Harold Betts. To make matters worse, the subject she had picked for her three-minute talk was: "Guide Dogs for the Blind."

At an Edinburg, Scotland, auction, 41 volumes of Sir Walter Scott's Waverly Novels were sold for 20 cents.

New Mexico Oil And Gas Association Is Featured In May Edition Of Independent Petroleum Monthly

New Mexico Oil and Gas Association will be described in a feature article to appear in this month's issue of The Independent Monthly, official publication of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

The article, by Executive Secretary Art McQuiddy of the New Mexico association headquarters at Roswell will tell of the formation of N.M.O.G.A. and its program of service to operators of the state, and to other industry. The article points out that not only does the state association benefit those directly engaged in petroleum development, but by its activities is of assistance to each oil producing community and contributes materially to the economic growth of the entire state.

Petroleum development in New Mexico, the article points out, followed by about 60 years the birth of the industry in Pennsylvania. It was not until commercial development at Artesia, in 1924, that the state industry actually became important although indications of oil were recognized as early as 1882.

Organized In 1929

The state's oil association came into existence in 1929. It so happens that it was also in 1929 that the National Association, Independent Petroleum Association of America, with which N.M.O.G.A. cooperates but is unaffiliated, was formed in Colorado Springs. Also, in that year, the nationally famous Hobbs field was discovered.

W. A. Nicholas was elected temporary chairman at the first meeting of the fledging organization. Under his direction the founders developed a constitution expressing the purpose of the Association as being for the protection of interests of leases, royalty holders, permitees, operators and producers so far as it would affect the oil and gas industry within the State of New Mexico. The present day constitution has been revised only slightly but now stresses that the association devote itself principally and primarily to the orderly development of the oil industry in the state.

Early Names Listed

Many names famous in the petroleum history of New Mexico, and included in early rosters of the association, are also famous in other avenues of state development. To name a few there are H. B. Wright, Bob Atha, Ross L. Malone, W. A. Moore, Van S. Welch, V. D. Bodie, Senator T. E. Julian and many others.

One of the first efforts of the state association was to achieve a basic oil and gas conservation act. The Association was eventually successful in obtaining this necessity to orderly development in 1935 when the state legislature set up an Oil Conservation Commission. New Mexico, through its intrests in petroleum development, became one of the first states to join Interstate Oil Company commission.

Directing the association at present is Emery Carper, Artesia, as president and Van S. Welch, also of Artesia, as president. Treasurer is Harry Leonard, Roswell. The author of the article referred to is Art McQuiddy, secretary, also of Roswell. Members of the executive committee of the association are D. D. Bodie, Jim Dunlaney, Ralph Hendrickson, Jack Danglade, Bill Macey and John Kelly.

Traffic Education Credited With Saving Lives In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12 (U.P.)—Only ten traffic deaths here in the first three months of 1949 compares with the 28 during a similar period last year, Iver C. Larson, manager of the San Francisco chapter of the National Safeay council, reported.

"An extensive education program stressing safe-driving practices, police enforcement of the violation of right-of-way traffic law and safer driving on the part of the public, is the cause of the drop in traffic deaths," he said.

State Fair Prepares Record Premium List

DALLAS, May 12. (INS)—A total premium of $65,235 will be carried home from the State Fair of Texas this fall by participating farmers and ranchers.

According to the 1949 state fair premium list, the total will be the largest in the history of the fair.

The list was published a month earlier than usual to allow farmers and ranchmen more time to prepare the exhibits which will be seen by some 2,000,000 visitors when the fair starts its 16-day stand October 8 in Dallas.

Premiums for the various divisions:

Beef cattle (Aberdeen-Angus), Brahman, Hereford, shorthorn), $25,200; dairy cattle (Guernsey, Holstein-Friesian, Jersey and milking shorthorn), $12,900; swine, $8,250; sheep, $3,213; angora goats, $732; palomino and quarter horses, $4,750; special herdsmen awards, $350; and junior livestock show, $9,840.

Opening day feature will be the national Aberdeen-Angus show. Dates for the junior livestock show have been extended from four days to a week.

Last year 400 exhibitors from 154 counties took part in the 1,051-animal show, but interest has been increasing even more this year. Four-H girls with livestock projects will be allowed to exhibit in all divisions of the junior show.

The foreword of the premium list contains an invitation from Gov. Beauford H. Jester to residents in every state to visit the fair and "enjoy a panoramic view of the inexhaustible resources of the state." He urges them to come and view the achievements of the entire southwest in agriculture, livestock, arts, science, and industry.

Pet Rooster's Crowing Uncovers Chicken Thief Ring Near Terrell

TERRELL, May 12 (INS)—The tell-tale "cock-a-doodle-doo" of a pet bantam rooster has uncovered a burglary ring of eight negroes in Terrell.

A farmer living near Terrell recently reported that his poultry house had been raided. His pet bantam rooster was stolen.

A few days later he was passing a nearby farm and heard a crow that sounded like his missing bantam's. He called the police.

When a negro was arrested in the case, he confessed a number of other thefts which he said had been committed in conjunction with seven other negroes.

The list of confessed offenses included:

Stealing cattle;

Stealing several truckloads of merchandise;

And dismantling two steel highway bridges, valued at more than $20,000, to seel them to a Dallas junk man for $500.

Police Have Plenty Of Trouble With Curious Owl At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, May 12 (INS)—Whoooo is a known police character in San Antonio.

Whooo again came into conflict with the policemen when he attempted to enter a home through a window.

When Mrs. Ida Waiff told police something or somebody was peeping at her from behind a flower pot in her window, Police Officer J. D. Carver knew with whooo-m he was dealing.

The bird had caused him trouble before.

Carver returned the bird to its owner, and warned the owl again to stay in its own back yard.

GROUP PLANS SIXTH EXPEDITION

Unlucky Treasure Hunters Plan New Search For 'Loot Of Lima'

LONG BEACH, Calif., May 12. (INS)—Plans were made today for a sixth attempt to seek the $60,000,000 "Loot of Lima" treasure after James A. Forbes' fifth expedition in quest of the pirate gold returned empty-handed.

Members of the treasure hunting group said that operations to retrieve the century-old buried loot had to be abandoned when rainy weather closed in on lonely Cocos island, off the Costa Rican coast.

Cave Discovered

Verner E. Britton, 54-year-old marine engineer who was aboard the expedition's treasure hunting vessel Bolivar when it docked at Long Beach harbor, revealed that the party had broken into the opening of the cave where the pirate gold is believed hidden.

Said Britton:

"We broke into the opening of the cave where our instruments told us the treasure is hidden. But the rainy season came on, our equipment got worn and we just had to start back home."

He said that the rainy season on Cocos island will end in six months. He declared that Forbes, who was not aboard the Bolivar when it docked, planned a sixth expedition probably in December or January.

The party left much of their digging equipment with the Costa Rican government in anticipation of their return next winter.

The expedition left Long Beach harbor last February for the Cocos island treasure that has defied the efforts of countless adventurers and engineers to retrieve it.

The treasure is believed to be the gold, jewelry and priceless art objects placed aboard an English merchantman for safekeeping when the South American liberator, Simon Bolivar, marched on Lima. The crew mutinied, killed the Peruvians guarding the treasure and buried their loot on Cocos island.

Scientist Says Diet Deficiencies May Cause Alcoholism

AUSTIN, May 12 (INS)—The tippler who explains it "must be something I ate" may be entirely right according to scientist at the university of Texas.

Dr. Roger J. Williams, director of the university's biochemical institute, reports that certain conditions, including alcoholism, are the result of poor diet and genetic factors.

Tests Are Made

Dr. Williams and his associates evolved this theory of "genetotrophic" from a long series of controlled "cocktail parties" for rats and mice.

The report stated that genetotrophic diseases arise from the probable fact that if a large group of people eat identical diets, some few, because of inherited peculiarities, may suffer from nutritional deficiency.

Among such possible diseases are allergies, mental illness, diseases of the heart and blood vessels, arthritis, multiple sclerosis, and even cancer.

Little is known about how special appetites and cravings develop,, but Dr. Williams said that they arise from the internal physiological environment in a number of cases.

According to this theory, alcoholic craving which develops in compulsive drinkers constitutes a perverted appetite caused by one or more dietary deficiencies.

Conisborough Castle, near Doncaster, England, which appears in Scott's Ivanhoe and was built in the 13th century. is being restored.

Milk Truck Becomes Nuisance To Salt Lake City Car Owner

SALT LAKE CITY, May 12 (U.P.) Clarence Kemp is fed up with milk trucks.

His 1949 model car was smashed up by a huge milk truck that rammed into it while it was parked. Kemp pocketed $300 damages given him by the dairy, later smoothed out the ruffled fenders and grew to tolerate milk trucks for several weeks.

Then he was walking back to his car again. And he saw a driverless milk truck speeding down a hill toward his car. He sprinted to the truck, leaped aboard and stopped the vehicle just inches short of his car. A stern lecture by Kemp drew this reply from the milk truck driver:

"You know, that's the first time the brakes on this think have failed since we hit you last fall on First Avenue."

Horses Give Way To Modern Equipment At Kentucky Dairy

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 12 (U.P.)—It seems that horses are about to disappear from this city, except for Derby day.

The Donaldson Baking Company, last local firm to use horse-drawn vehicles on a large scale, has announced its horses and wagons for sale. The company said traffic has been so speeded up on city streets that horse-drawn vehicles have become a hazard.

So the company is selling its last 26 horses. They are being replaced as fast as new trucks can be bought.

New York Policeman With Ph.D. Aids Oklahoma Oil Researchers

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., May 12 —Detective William Fox of the 34th Precinct, New York City Police department, is here to help solve a mystery.

He expects to work for one year on the case. But, at the end, he will take no prisoner back. Instead, he hopes to turn over to the U. S. Department of Interior's Bureau of Mines the solution of a problem that is of tremendous importance to the nation in its production of crude oil.

Detective William Fox is also Dr. William Fox, the only Doctor of Philosophy among New York's 18,000 police. He earned the Ph.D. degree in Surface Chemistry from Columbia university in 1944.

Aids In Oil Research

Now, at the request of the Bureau of Mines, Detective (or Dr.) Fox has been granted a year's leave of absence to conduct research which, it is hoped, will result in production of from 25 to 50 per cent more of the crude oil now in the earth.

A science teacher in a New Haven, Conn., high school first stirred Fox's interest in chemistry. After his family moved to New York, he entered City college. To help pay expenses through City college he worked nights in a bakery.

Science continued to be his chief interest. At 21, he was graduated from City college with a bachelor of science degree, in 1935. Then he went to work as a chemist and began graduate work in chemistry at Columbia.

Seeks Master's Degree

There he came to the attention of Prof. Arthur W. Thomas, head of the chemistry department. Thomas saw in him a potential scientist of importance. At his suggestion, Fox set his sights on a master's degree in chemistry.

But expenses had to be paid. In 1939, Bill Fox earned a place in the spectacular swimming cast of Billy Rose's Aquacade at the New York World's Fair.

After the fair closed, he taught applied science in two New York City high schools. Then, in 1940, Fox joined the police force as a patrolman.

He covered a beat from midnight to 8 a.m. During the day he went to Columbia for his graduate courses in chemistry. In 1942, he received his A.M. degree and, in 1944, his Ph.D.

Promoted To Detective

He was promoted to detective in 1945 and assigned to the police chemical research laboratory. Later, because he wanted a more rounded experience in police work, he was transferred to the 34th Precinct in New York's busy Washington Heights.

He continued his close association with Prof Thomas at Columbia, and with his studies in surface chemistry which have made him one of the authorities in that field. His doctoral dissertation was entitled: "Equilibrium Relationships Between Fluid Interfaces; the System of Methylene Iodide-Water-Air." He has taken an occasional day off to deliver reports before scientific societies in various eastern cities.

He came here at the request of the Petroleum Experiment station. They are trying to learn more about the forces operative in petroleum reservoirs that prevent from 25 to 50 per cent of the crude oil in the earth from being produced, even by the most modern engineering methods. Along with other chemists, Fox hopes to come up with the solution.

But he's still one of New York's finest, and he expects to be back.

"Because," he explains, "the work of being a policeman today is a great job, too. Today's policeman recognizes the social implications of his work and the fact that he has a social responsibility to the community. He is there to help and to protect, not just to punish.

"He studies people and he learns a great deal about them. It is true, perhaps, that I'm something of a curiosity on the force, with my Ph.D. in chemistry. But I believe that every policeman of five years' experience has learned enough about people, their habits, their thinking, the working of their minds, to qualify for a Ph.D. in psychology."

WILLIAM FOX: "I'm something of a curiosity on the force."

Delegates From 17 Nations Are Expected At Song, Dance Meet

MADRID, May 12. (AP)—Seventeen countries are expected to be represented at the first International Contest of Popular Songs and dances to be held in Spain in May. It is organized by the Syndical Rest and Recreation Organization. Prizes totalling more than $30,000 are to be given.

To date, competitors from France, England, Holland, Denmark, Ireland, Belgium, Poland, Portugal, Italy, Switzerland, Argentina and Brazil, have agreed to participate, while others are expected from Austria, the United States, Chile, Norway and Sweden.

All participants must be amateurs and from the working class. Those who have appered little in public are preferred.

Each participating group is to pay its own expenses during the stay in Spain although some concerts will be organized to produce pocket money for them.

'Lover's Quarrel' Healed By Marriage After 50 Year Lapse

POMONA, Cal., May 12 (U.P.)—A 72-year-old retired copper smelter worker is looking forward to the first wedding anniversary with his fiancee of almost 50 years ago.

The couple, Mrs. Amanda K. Bean, 71, of Pomona, and Robert Lee Hart, of Redlands, Calif., were married April 7, ending a lover's spat it took Cupid half a century to repair.

The bride said she became engaged to Hart in 1900 in Lordsburgh, N. M. They quarreled and went different ways.

She married Ancil C. Bean, a young merchant, and reared seven children before Bean's death. The widow's sister, Mrs. Sarah Clark of Pomona, located Hart in Redlands where he was living alone after his wife's death four years after his first marriage.

Mrs. Clark got them together and the couple were reunited after a six-months courtship.

Some 1,300 displaced persons from Austrian camps, are sailing for Australia where they will make their new homes, becoming citizens after five years.

Opening Of Gasoline Plant Near Sundown Set

Program To Be Held Saturday

(Special To The Avalanche)

SUNDOWN, May 12—The Slaughter gasoline plant—a major gas conservation project on the South Plains—will be formally opened Saturday.

More than 1,500 invited guests, including employes and executives of oil companies operating in the Slaughter field, state officials and civic leaders from the area will gather at the gigantic plant, 4½ miles west of this little oil field town to attend dedication ceremonies and a barbecue at the plant site.

William J. Murray, jr., chairman of the Texas Railroad commission, is to be principal speaker at the brief opening ceremonies. Also expected to attend will be Ernest O. Thompson and Olin Culberson, members of the commission.

Eight Firms Own Plant

H. D. Herndon, president of the Saltmount Oil company, one of the owners of the vast plant, will be master of ceremonies.

Owned jointly by eight participating companies, the Slaughter plant will be operated by Stanolind Oil and Gas company. Other owners include the Texas company, Honolulu Oil corporation, Magnolia Petroleum company, the Devonion company, the Atlantic Refining company, Saltmount Oil company and Mid-Continent Petroleum company.

Designed and built at a cost estimated from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 to help conserve the resources of Texas, the plant will process casinghead gas from the Slaughter oil field of the North Permian basin. Formerly this gas was flared because there was no use for it in West Texas.

Over 100 Men Employed

The plant will extract butane, propane and natural gasoline from the gas products and the "dry" gas will then be sold for commercial use.

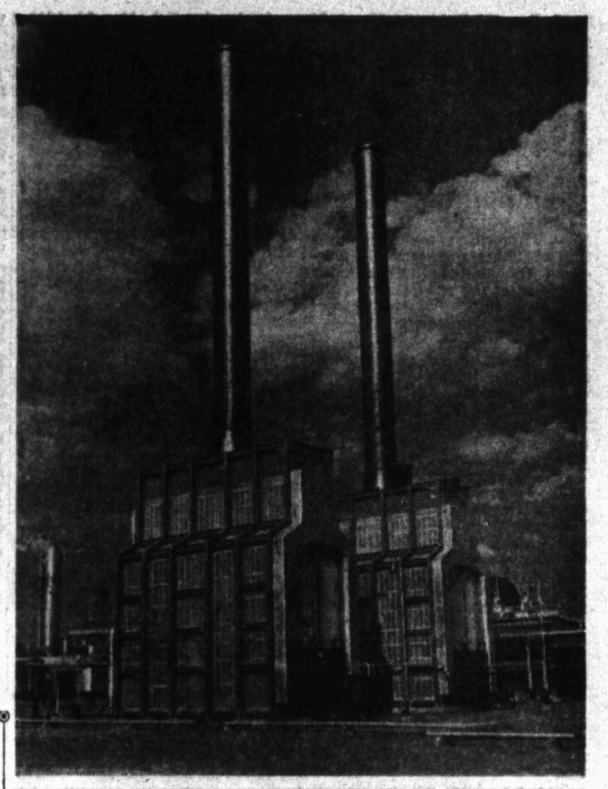

The plant employs more than 100 men whose annual payroll is well over $350,000.

Saturday's ceremonies will start at 10:30 a. m. A barbecue will be served at noon by members of for inspection and guides will

Littlefield Show Will Be Changed

LITTLEFIELD May 12 (Special) — The Littlefield Chamber of Commerce has decided to change its annual 4-H and FFA Fat Stock show to a commercial type show next year, Pat N. Mann, manager, announced today following a meeting of the board of directors.

The show, now in its tenth year of operation, is sponsored by the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce.

According to plans revealed by Mann, approximately the same amount of money will be spent on the show as in the past year, but it is anticipated that the boys participating in the show will receive more benefit from the show on a commercial basis.

The boys having a steer in the blue or red ribbon class and the boys having a barrow in the blue ribbon class will be given a free trip to Fort Worth to see their steers or barrows sold on the open market and make a tour of the packing house.

After the tour is completed prizes in merchandise will be given to boys with the highest

Funds For Cotton Research At Tech Eliminated

College Money Bill Is Approved

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 12.—Economy forces weakened today, and the House finally passed a two-year appropriation bill giving state-supported colleges some $60 million, nearly $2 million more than originally called for in the measure.

The vote was 108-17. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The last legislature appropriated approximately $45 million for colleges, $15 million less than the present House bill would provide.

A last minute desperation attempt of several members to hold down spending by cutting five per cent from salary and maintenance of all the colleges was soundly defeated, 78-38.

Two items were cut, a $348,000 appropriation for the Cotton Research Committee of Texas being eliminated completely. The House trimmed $44,322 off the salary and maintenance budget of the Texas A. and M. college rodent control service for the biennium.

Rep. Preston Smith of Lubbock, chairman of the subcommittee which wrote the bill, gave his support to members advocating abolition of the cotton research committee, located at Texas Tech in Lubbock.

He said something might be worked out in conference committee later.

A $1,000,000 boost in the appropriation for the University of Texas school of dentistry and an extra $1,350,000 allocation for the M. D. Anderson hospital for cancer research, both at Houston, accounted for all the increase.

This boosted the college spending bill from the $58,000,000 figure recommended by the appropriations committee to more than $60,000,000 for the biennium.

Buildings Planned

The increases were for construction of a dentistry building and an atomic energy laboratory and radiological institute, the latter for use in fighting cancer.

The "save-the-state-some-money" members earlier had beat down attempts to enlarge the spending bill.

As reported from the appropriations committee, the measure represented an approximate 15 per cent increase over the amount granted by the last legislature.

Texas A. and M. college was the first school considered. The House slapped down an amendment to give the Texas Forest service a branch of A. and M., $10,000 a year for research on new uses of mesquite.

Extension Hike Killed

Then came an effort to increase the school's extension service budget $246,000 for the next two years. The House split evenly, 62-62, killing the amendment.

Reps. James K. Presnal of College Station and Arthur E. Gromatzky of Priddy urged the House to grant the raise, which would have upped the total for salaries $100,000 per year.

"We have lost a number of

RAILROAD WINS ROUND IN BATTLE

Electra's Plans To Halt Fast Train Banned By Court Order

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, May 12.—The Fort Worth and Denver won a round today in its "whistle stop" battle with Electra.

The little North Texas town said, however, it isn't giving up and Chillicothe, another of the eight towns the railroad wants to designate as conditional stops for its fast zephyr train, went ahead with plans to halt the streamliner.

Federal District Judge W. H. Atwell granted the railroad a temporary restraining order today against a "four-barreled" ordinance Electra adopted Monday night. A hearing on a temporary injunction will be held at Dallas at 2:30 p. m. Saturday.

Station Party Planned

Chillicothe passed a similar ordinance. And Mayor R. T. Ferguson declared today: "Unless I get an order from a competent court we're going to stop that train tomorrow night at 6:30."

Electra's big party tomorrow to greet the Zephyr is "still on," says 260-pound Mayor T. Leo Moore of that town. Moore in fact will ride into Electra on the Zephyr. Because the mayor is a passenger for Electra the train will stop.

The Electra ordinance—adopted when the Railroad commission granted the railroad permission to make Electra and seven other towns "conditional stops" for the Zephyrs—would have:

Forced trains to slow down to 15 miles an hour within city limits.

Provided for inspection by city health officers of trains with sanitary facilities.

Flagmen Required

Required the railroad to put flagmen at every crossing in Electra.

The Chillicothe ordinance is the same on speed limit and sanitary inspection. It requires the road to put up "adequate" warning signals at all crossings.

Chillicothe is about 40 miles northwest up the line from Electra. "We're not going to put on any show, but the Zephyr will definitely stop in Chillicothe," Mayor Ferguson said.

He said the health officer at

Flag Of Israel Formally Raised As Nation Becomes UN Member

By PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 12 — The white and sky-blue flag of Israel was formally raised at the United Nations today symbolizing the acceptance of the new state as the 59th member of the world organization.

Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett led 500 bare-headed spectators in singing "Hatikvah"—the Israel national anthem—as the Star of David floated free on a sunny breeze in the international flagpole circle outside the UN headquarters building

Joins Political Group

The alphabetical arrangement of the flagpole put the Star of David between the flags of Iraq and Lebanon. Sharett reminded the spectators that this was "the flag of martyrdom" under Hitler's Nazi reich. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was one of the spectators.

The Israel foreign minister, accompanied by his UN delegate, Aubrey S. Eban, then took his seat at the 59-nation political committee where the problem of the former Italian colonies is under discussion. The plenary assembly session in Flushing Meadows was adjourned after a midnight sitting.

The six Arab representatives, who walked out of the assembly last night in angry demonstration against admission of Israel, sat silent as Sharett took his seat in the political committee.

In the social committee, a few doors away, Saudi Arabia's delegate, Jamil M. Baroody complained that his car had been plastered with eggs as its driver was taking it to the Waldorf-Astoria in mid-Manhattan to pick him up this morning.

Meanwhile, the Saturday adjournment date of the General Assembly became a doubtful target as the political committee bogged down on the issue of the former Italian colonies.

A Polish motion, supported by Russia called on the committee to grant new hearings to representatives of political parties in the African territories won out and ended hopes for a speedy decision.

Subsequently spokesmen for political groups in Libya and Eritrea took the floor and fiercely attacked the recent Bevin-Sforza accord on the former Italian colonies. This accord offers Libya independence in ten years but puts Tripolitania under Italian administration in 1951.

Youth Film Featured At Kiwanis Luncheon

A moving picture, "No Place To Go," was featured on the Kiwanis club program Thursday. It was presented by John Wilson and Arnold Maeker, American Business Club members, as part of a plea for attendance at the Boys' Club Rodeo, June 8-10.

"Our project for a permanent and worth-while club house for the boys in this community will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000," Maeker told the Kiwanians. "We do not receive aid in this project from the Community Chest. Because of this fact we have undertaken to raise the money by such events as the coming rodeo."

The film was a documentary story of youths in American cities who were left to themselves without recreational guidance. It brought out the fact that many of the misdeamenors and crimes committed by youngsters in this country stem from lack of wholesome enterprises and places for them to go.

Fred Sparks presided over the meeting and five new members were inducted into the club by Sam Aldridge. They were, Dr. R. M. Mayer, Kenneth H. Wood, William R. Sewell, Charles Chambers and Roy Heath.

Visiting Kiwanians and guests included; Leroy Alsak, Lamesa; Henry Bufkin, Dallas; George Blair, Dallas; George Harris, Gordon Thompson, Newell Baldwin and Pete Pearson.

More Than 2,000 Magicians Expected At Denver Meeting

DENVER, May 12 (INS)—Legerdemain will be the order of the night on May 16 when the National Society of American Magicians holds its black magic costume ball in the grand ballroom of Denver's Shirley-Savoy hotel.

More than 2,000 magicians from all over the world, including several hundred from England and the continent, have already registered for the event.

Chester Letts, director of the Denver convention and visitors' bureau, said the mass arrival represents the largest number of magicians ever gathered in one city.

Delegates will attend the ball dressed in costumes representing Cagliostro, the nortorious 18th century sorcerer.

The grand prize of a trip to Italy will be awarded the magician who attends in a costume most closely representative of Cagliostro. The winner and his wife will be taken to Italy, escorted throughout Rome, and to the grave of Cagliostro atop San Marino mountain.

Jap Centarians Attribute Long Life To Light Eating Habits

TOKYO, May 12 (U.P.)—Eight Japanese centarians, the eldest 109, gave their reasons for longevity to a Tokyo newspaper. They all contained one piece of advice guaranteed to gladden food-short Japanese: "Don't eat too much."

The senior, 109-year-old Seizaburo Kitaoka, a fisherman from Takamatsu, Shikoku, was 13 years old when Commodore Perry came to Japan, but doesn't recall the event. In fact, Kitaoka told the Mainichi, he didn't know how old he was until a check with the town records showed that he was born in 1840.

Yoshizo Nakashiro, 101, gets up at six in the morning and retires at eight at night. His formula for long life: "To keep the stomach no more than 80 per cent full, to pat the skin around the navel 50 or 60 times when in bed at night and not to lead a disorderly life."

Mrs. Kamo Kurusu also has lived 101 years, all of them in Hiroshima. She claims she never spent a sick day abed — not even when the atom bomb fell. She gives "temple visiting and smoking" as her two long-life-giving hobbies, and says she expects to live "20 or 30 years more."

Mrs. Toki Hashimoto, a comparatives youngster just turned 100, says she takes a teaspoonful of sugar whenever she can get it and sleeps naked, two reasons, according to her family, that she has lived so long.

The rest merely caution against over-eating, easy advice to follow these days in Japan.

A commission in Transjordan to do relief work among Arab refugees and operate a hospital at Es Salt, has been allocated $180,000 by the British Red Cross.

CHURCHILL PRAISES ACTION

Atlantic Pact Approval Recorded By British House Of Commons

By THOMAS C. WATSON
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 12 — The British House of Commons tonight approved the Atlantic pact by a 333 to 6 vote after Foreign Secretary Bevin said the treaty checked "symptoms of aggressive intentions" by Russia.

Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill agreed with Bevin's assertion that the Berlin blockade removal was not a time for western self-delusion and said amid House of Commons cheers:

Atomic Influence Cited

"There can be no assurance of permanent peace in Europe while Asia is on the Elbe or while so many ancient cities in Eastern Europe are held in the grip of the 13 men who form the oligarchy in the Kremlin."

Churchill declared that the world situation was "unprecedented and incalculable" and added:

"Over the whole scene reigns atomic power, ever-growing in the hands of the United States. It is this alone which gives us time to take measures for self-protection and to develop unities which make these measures (like the Atlantic pact) possible."

Bevin reviewed post-war Russian policy and said that "symptoms of aggressive intentions" which would have led ultimately and inevitably to war "are now on the wane" owing to the firm steps taken by the West.

The foreign secretary said he was convinced that the Atlantic pact caused the Russians to have "second thoughts" about their tactics in Germany, particularly in Berlin.

Power Costs Ruled Out In Textile Shifts Into South

BOSTON, May 12 (AP)—The New England council has concluded that power costs are not a "significant" factor in any textile mill shifts from the North to the South.

The council's committee on economic development reported last night that a survey showed that the differential in the cost of power "cannot be the decisive factor in a decision to move, particularly in view of prevailing costs of new construction."

A private research firm made the survey for the council, a regional development organization.

The council added that it knew of no mills that had chosen to locate in the area served by the Tennessee Valley authority despite the fact that power costs there are "definitely lower."

Retail Training Study Opens At Littlefield

LITTLEFIELD, May 12 (Special)—The Retail Merchants committee of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the distributive education program of Texas is conducting a retail training institute in Littlefield for persons in a retail or wholesale business, Pat N. Mann, manager of the chamber, said today.

Miss Lucille Dunn, the instructor of the institute, who is on the staff of the University of Texas, will be in Littlefield approximately one month.

Three courses with a total enrollment of approximately 100 persons are in session now. The courses are variety store selling, department and clothing store selling, and hardware, furniture and auto accessory store selling.

Other courses will be conducted if there are as many as 20 persons who desire the same course. Elmer McKinney, distributive education teacher in the Littlefield public schools, has assisted the committee in securing the institute for Littlefield, and members of the committee have expressed appreciation for his help.

TO FILE CHARGES

BRECKENRIDGE, May 12 (AP)—Sheriff Tom Offield said today he will file murder charges against Joe De Soto, 45-year-old local Latin-American. Offield said Felipe Moreno of Breckenridge died last night of wounds suffered in a Tuesday night knife fight on a street here.

Senate Approves 85 Uncontested Bills

Technicality Derails Secret Ballot Plan

By MAC ROY RABOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May. 12—A technicality tonight derailed the legislature approved secret ballot bill from going to the governor.

Earlier in the day the House accepted Senate amendments on the bill by Rep. Doyle Willis of Fort Worth—leaving the bill only in need of the governor's signature to become law.

But then Rep. W. O. Reed of Dallas discovered that one Senate amendment was made to the wrong section. The amendment, by Waldron Lane of Center requires a voter to place his own ballot in the ballot box before it can be officially counted.

Reed was granted unanimous House consent to hold the bill up. He said it might be possible to fix the error without a conference committee.

Ballots To Be Numbered

Under the bill, every ballot will be numbered. The same number will appear on a detachable stub on one corner of the ballot. When the voter is ready to deposit his ballot, he will detach the stub, write his name across the back of it and drop it into a sealed stub box separate from the box into which he drops his ballot.

Responsibility for sealing the box before the election and protecting it after the election will rest with the district court through its district clerk. Should the seal ever be broken except on court order in an election contest, the offender would be subject to contempt of court proceedings.

Sixty days after the election, the clerk would be required to destroy the stub box by fire if no contest had developed.

Women's Group Backs Plan

Final passage of the secret ballot measure climaxed several years effort by the Texas League of Women Voters and others.

They had complained to both House and Senate committees that the present method of registering a voter's name with the number of his ballot provides an easy behind-the-scenes check as to how a person votes and has been used as a basis for firing employes in political offices.

The Senate adjourned until Monday, deferring floor action on the big appropriation bills pending before it, after finally passing 85 local and uncontested measures.

The House okayed the $60 million measure appropriating funds for state-supported colleges during the next two years. The bill represents an increase of 15 per cent over the amount voted by the last legislature.

Ballot Plan Approved

House concurrence in Senate amendments sent to Gov. Beauford H. Jester's desk a bill designed to make the ballot in Texas more secret.

Jester, in a message to the legislature, asked for enactment of a voter registration law in view of the "strong possibility" that it will submit a proposed constitutional amendment abolishing the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting.

Other legislation finally approved and sent to Jester for signature included bills to:

Correst clerical errors made in the basic science bill.

Permit the legislature to decide the order of gubernatorial succession should both the governor and lieutenant governor die between the date of election and inauguration.

Require that all wells and cisterns be covered.

Require political candidates to sign loyalty affidavits in all elections.

License Bill Held Up

The House refused to accept Senate amendments in a bill providing for a general fresh-water fishing license, asking that a conference committee be named to work out differences.

Jester today signed into law a bill establishing a real estate commission to administer state real estate laws.

The Senate quickly confirmed Jester's appointment of former state Senator T. C. Chadwick of Quitman as judge of the newly-created 115th district court in Upshur and Wood counties.

Another bill that went to the governor for signature was a measure cutting the number of years state employes must work to become eligible for retirement, from 20 to 15.

Motive Sought In Schoolgirl's Death

ROANOKE, Va., May 12 (INS)—Authorities said today 16-year-old Lee Scott has admitted he was in Roanoke's Christ church and "saw someone" Sunday night at about the hour Dana Marie Weaver was murdered.

Commonwealth Attorney C. E. Cuddy quoted the handsome choir boy as saying he was in the church during the time in which the coroner's office estimates the schoolgirl beauty was garroted in the parish house kitchen.

No Motive Learned

Cuddy told newsmen Scott would say only he saw "somebody" in the building and intimated the youth persists in his contention he has no memory of what happened there. The prosecutor added: "We have a good case against the Scott boy but we have been unable to establish a motive. Jealousy seems to have been ruled out, since there is no indication that Scott and Dana Marie were anything more than school acquaintances."

The boy has been formally charged with Dana Marie's murder but Cuddy said that further developments in the case will await results of tests to determine whether Scott's clothing is stained with the girl's blood.

Detective Chief Frank H. Webb was sent to the state laboratory at Richmond with stained clothing found in a closet at the Scott home.

Graduate Of Detective School Accused Of Extortion Attempt

SEATTLE, Wash., May 12 (INS)—A 19-year-old graduate of a detective school faced federal charges tonight of attempting to extort $10,000 from the owner of a Seattle sporting goods store.

The accused man, Walter Franklin Butler, was held in the King county jail in lieu of $1500 bond after a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner J. R. Burns.

Special agent Jack B. Wilsox, in charge of the Seattle office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said Butler is accused of writing threatening letters to B. W. Oseran, manager-owner of the Sportsman's Supply center.

Hubbers Snap Losing Streak With 6-5 Win Over Loboes

Mills Scores Al Duarte For Win

BY JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

Royce "Rooster" Mills slapped a pitch off the slants of Eulis Rosson, former Hubber hurler, deep into left centerfield with two out in the tenth inning to score Al Duarte with the run that beat the Lamesa Loboes 6 to 5 last night at Rosenthal Field.

Mills, carrying a .142 average up to the plate, took a couple of balls, fouled off three and then lashed an arching fly into left center that Stan Grzywacz watched sail over his head.

Duarte, who had drilled his second double of the night to almost the same spot after Mike Dooley had gone out, scored easily and the first extra-inning game of the year here was in the books.

Snaps Losing Streak

The victory snapped a losing streak that had reached four games and which threatened, a couple of times, to reach five. But Don Hensiek and Cotton Russell, the latter getting credit for the victory, averted another loss.

Both the Hubbers and the Loboes tried unsuccessfully to give the game away a couple of times. Lamesa took a 2-0 lead in the fifth, only to see the Hubbers get three runs, the last of which came on Glenn Coats' error. In the sixth, Duarte was on second after doubling and two were out. Charles Willis lofted to Glenn Selbo, who obligingly dropped the ball allowing Duarte to score.

And in the eighth, the Loboes picked up a run without a hit on two Lubbock errors. Dan Pinto skied out, Selbo walked and Manager Jackie Sullivan dropped Nelson Davis' throw on Eddie Mellilo's grounder that should have been a double play. Frank Calo promptly bounced a good double play grounder to Davis and he booted it, Selbo scoring all the way from second.

Break Came In 10th

But the big break of the game for the Hubbers came in the 10th. Pinto led off with a walk and Selbo sacrificed him to second. Eddie Mellilo also walked to set the stage for a queer play. Calo bounced a ball between first and second and Mellilo, evidently thinking it was going to be a double killing, deliberately stepped on the ball. Both runners had to hold their bases, Calo getting an automatic single on the play. Stan Grzywacz fanned to end the rally.

Grzywacz made his appearance in the ninth, when Shortstop Walt Buckel was thumbed from the game by Umpire Don Fisher. Sullivan's fly had been dropped by Pinto, who recovered to throw to Buckel covering second. Buckel apparently thought he had Sullivan and when Fisher ruled him safe, Buckel exploded. The arbiter lost no time in ejecting him.

Albuquerque Edges Amarillo, 9 To 8

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 12 (AP) — Albuquerque manager Hershel Martin rapped out a single in the last of the 12th tonight to give Albuquerque a 9 to 8 decision over Amarillo and an undisputed lead in the West Texas-New Mexico league.

Martin's timely hit scored rightfielder Cliff McClain who had gone on base on a bunt in the longest game in the current WT-NM season.

It was Martin's third hit of the evening.

Albuquerque piled up eight hits and five runs in the first three innings, leaving Amarillo hitless until the fifth.

In Amarillo's big frame, a triple and three doubles brought in four runs to tie the score. The Gold Sox went ahead in the eighth on a triple and a double and scored two more in the ninth on a hit batsman, a double and two singles.

Duke bats were unlimbered in the ninth. The first three men to face Pitcher Bob German singled, for one run. Darwin Dobbs came to the mound for Amarillo with the bases loaded. A Texas league single by second baseman Babe Fuhrmann tied the score. Glass relieved Dobbs with the bases loaded and retired the side.

In the 10th, Albuquerque sent the Amarillo club back to the dugout with the bases loaded and again in the 11 the side was retired with the sacks full.

McClain bunted in the bottom half of the 12th. Glass walked Allen Maul. A single to center field from Martin brought in the run that did the trick.

Amarillo, despite the loss, had heavy hitting power. Seven of 11 were for extra bases.

Pampa's Oilers Halt Sox, 2-1

PAMPA, May 12. (AP)—A five-day look Pampa pitcher put a halt to the Abilene Blue Sox winning streak that was reaching for its thirteenth straight win here tonight, 2-1. Paul Cooke, who bought his release from the Lamesa Lobos two days ago, hurled seven-hit ball against the Blue Sox tonight missing a shutout only because of a first inning home run by Sox manager Stubby Greer.

Rene Vega was the victim tonight, though he pitched fine ball, allowing only seven hits and one earned run. But a base on balls followed by two solid bingles in the fifth inning spelled defeat.

Cooke was in trouble frequently, the first man to bat getting on base four times. But he alwayc had the stuff to get out of the jam, fanning eight men and leaving ten to die on the bases.

Torn Rib Will Cause Bob Lemon To Be Out Of Action For 10 Days

CLEVELAND, May 12. (INS)—A torn rib has cost the Cleveland Indians the services of ace righthander Bob Lemon for probably ten days at least.

Dr. Edward B. Castle, club physician, made the diagnosis today after Lemon had injured his 12th, or "floating," rib while warming up to pitch last night's game against the New York Yankees in Cleveland.

Legion Posts Hold Meeting

Representatives of 12 American Legion posts in this area were present at a baseball meeting last night at Allen Bros. Post to discuss registration and certification of teams for the Junior Legion Baseball program.

In addition to information given by Richard M. (Bill) Cummins, director of youth activities from Austin, pictures on Legion ball were shown by Zack Brown, district representative of Ford Motors, who help sponsor the summer baseball program.

American Legion baseball has made great strides in the past few years, and in Texas alone last season 160 teams were certified. At least this many midget teams were also organized. Austin, Travis Post 76, won the championship last year, defeating Adamson Leopards of Dallas.

The age limit of Junior Legion teams is 17 or younger, provided the boys did not reach the age of 17 before January 1, 1949. Only amateur players are eligible.

Only 16 players can be carried on a team, and all players must have been enrolled on the team and certified to the state office by June 10.

Posts represented at the meeting were Levelland, Slaton, O'Donnell, Plainview, Ralls, Spur, Idalow, Lamesa, Muleshoe, Brownfield, El Paso, and Lubbock. All but Lamesa and El Paso are in this district.

Three New Players Check In With Clovis Pioneer Nine

CLOVIS, N.M., May 12. (AP) — Three new players have checked in with the Clovis Pioneers, a pitcher, catcher and a third baseman.

Rookie Don Smith, a pitcher, was obtained by outright purchase from the Seminole club of the Class D Sooner State League on a conditional basis. Steve Parque, a catcher, was optioned to Clovis by the Cubs. He hit .301 with two Class C clubs last year.

The third baseman is Harold Sollars, sent here on option from Gainesville of the Big State League. He was with Burlington, Ia., of the Class C Central Association last year.

To make room for the added trio, the Pioneers released Eugene Novotney, shortstop, and returned Pitcher Harrison Thomas and Catcher Les Earl to the Chicago Cubs, from whom they had been obtained.

School Board To Consider Move

Morris Resigns As Westerner Coach

Roy Morris, basketball coach of the champion District 1-AA Westerner team the past season, submitted a request Thursday to be relieved of coaching duties to R. W. Matthews, superintendent of schools.

Mr. Matthews issued a statement later which follows:

"Mr. Roy Morris submitted his request to be relieved of his coaching duties this afternoon. I will recommend to the board that his request be granted. I want to compliment Mr. Morris for the fine work he has done with the athletic department. I am requesting Mr. Morris to remain with us as a full time teacher."

Meeting Set Monday

G. C. Dowell, chairman of the athletic council of the Lubbock Board of Trustees, said Thursday night that he understood the resignation would be brought before a full meeting of the board Monday night.

Rumors to the effect that Morris was stepping out of his post as head cage coach at the high school have been heard for two or three days. However, no one in an official capacity would confirm them until Thursday.

It was understood from authoritative sources that Morris' "resignation" was the result of a disagreement over policies of athletics at Lubbock High school.

Disagreement Reported

Morris, it was understood, favored a plan whereby more emphasis would be placed upon basketball preparation in advance of the cage season, to the point that regular cagers would spend more time practicing basketball during the football season. Coach Pat Pattison, head mentor and athletic director at Lubbock High, was understood to have opposed this proposal on the grounds that several high school cagers also were needed and could participate full time in football and other sports without hurting their chances on the cage team.

Neither Morris nor Pattison would confirm or deny the above information. Morris said he pledged 100 percent co-operation with school officials.

Team Record Impressive

As head cage coach, Morris saw the Westerners win the District 1-AA and Bi-District honors and then enter the state tournament at Austin. The team took third place in the Class AA race.

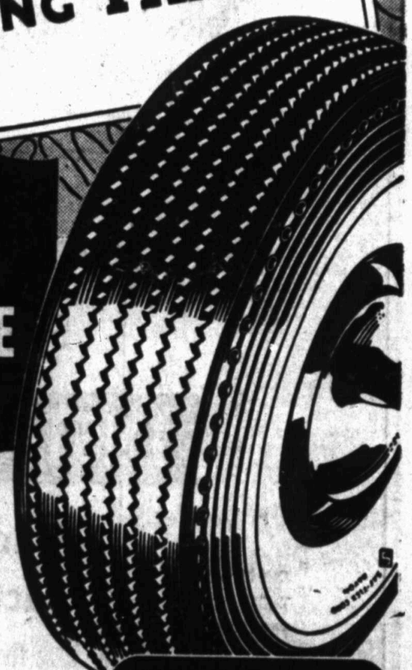

While accomplishing this, several records were compiled. Amarillo was beaten in Amarillo; the team was the second in the history of the school to go to the state meet and the first to win a game at that tourney; and a Lubbock High school athlete was an all-state basketball choice for the first time in the history of the school (Charles Galey, forward, and Jim Wilson, center, both were chosen for the first team). Galey and Wilson were also all-district candidates.

Over the full season, including tournament play, the Westerners won 31 games and lost only seven for an exceptional record.

Belgium is playing host to 60 gardeners from Yorkshire, England, who came there to study Belgian methods.

District 1-AA Playoff Set Today

Sandstorm Nine Meets Lubbock

The first game of the District 1-AA baseball playoff will be held at 3:30 today at Chapman field between Lubbock's Westerners and the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm.

Lubbock won the bottom half of the district race with a perfect record of six wins and no losses, defeating Plainview and Brownfield three times each. Plainview finished the season with three wins and three defeats and Brownfield lost six games.

The Sandies suffered one defeat at the hands of Borger, completing their schedule with a 5-1 record. Borger and Pampa, the other two teams in the top bracket, each won two games while losing four each.

Arrangements for the playoff games was made over the telephone Thursday morning between representatives of the two schools. It was agreed to have a playoff of three games if necessary, and the team winning two would be declared the district winner.

At Amarillo Saturday

A flip of the coin decided the place of the first game as Lubbock. The second game is to be played at 2 p. m. Saturday at Amarillo, and if a third game is necessary it will be played immediately following the Saturday tilt.

The winner of the district title will play bi-district games with the winner of District 2-AA. The bi-district champion will advance to the state finals in the same manner as winners of basketball championships, and a state baseball meet will decide the Texas schoolboy champion.

Present at the Lubbock end of the telephone conference Thursday were Athletic Director C. R. Pattison, Principal Floyd Honey, and Ishmael Hill, assistant-superintendent of schools. Hill flipped the coin and Amarillo called the flip correctly, electing to play the first tilt in Lubbock.

Lubbock High school has won 15 games of 17 played over the full season, the two losses being to Altus, Okla., in three games played at Altus.

The Westerners will be near full strength today with the return of shortstop Bob Brown to the lineup. Brown has been on the bench the past few games with an injured ankle. Catcher Morris Turner was a bit under the weather Wednesday but is expected to be near top form.

Choice of a pitcher for the contest today had not been decided Thursday by Coach Fred Taylor, but Lefty Bennie Day, Jimmy Richards, or Jimmy Hamilton will be ready to go should either of them get the nod.

Other probable starters will be Jessie Fullerton, first base; Charles Galey, second base; Powell Hinson, third base; James Burgess, left field; Garnet Reeves, center field; and Jimmy Sexton, right field.

Excellent batting records have been made by several of the boys in district games this year to date. Topping the list is Galey with a .643 average; Hinson is batting a solid .500; Turner has .412; Sexton is hitting at a .364 clip; Reeves has raised his average to .318; and Brown has .286 in the games in which he has played.

Walton Roberson will probably open on the mound for the Sandies. Bob Braden will hold down second base, E. G. Sanders at shortstop, Warren Spalding at third base, James Le Neveu in centerfield, Max Winberg behind the plate, Darrell La Rue on first, Joe Knight in right field and Fred Hansard will start in left field.

Admission for the game today will be 30 cents for students and 60 cents for adults. The game will be played at Chapman field diamond, Twenty-third and Ave. W.

Petersburg Defeats Springlake, 15 To 9

PETERSBURG, May 12. (Special)—The first of three games toward the District 3-B baseball title was won by Petersburg here today with a 15-9 victory over Springlake.

The victory was the twelvth consecutive win for the Petersburg nine against no setbacks, and Pitcher Willis Carroll went the route, striking out 10 batters. Jackson of Springlake was the loser. A doubleheader is scheduled for Friday to settle the district, and the winner will play Vega for the bi-district title.

Leading the 14-hit parade for the winners were Paul Main and Kenneth Meadows. Main had four hit in six trips, including three doubles, and Meadows had a triple, a double, and a single in six times at bat.

Betsy Rawls Upsets Polly Riley In Meet

FORT WORTH, May 12 (AP) — Continuing her sensational play, Austin's fast-rising star, Betsy Rawls, upset favored Polly Riley, one up Thursday at River Crest for the first major upheaval of the Texas Women's Golf Association state tourney.

Miss Rawls was joined in the semifinals by Mrs. L. M. Heating, Houston; Betty Mackinnon, Mount Pleasant; and Betty Dodd, San Antonio, in a day of close and tense battling.

Miss Mackinnon eased by Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite, one up, Mrs. Heating, the only former champion now in the running, bested Mrs. Jedd Roe, San Antonio 3-2, and Miss Dodd was forced to go 20 holes for her one up victory over Mrs. Harold Weilbacher, also of San Antonio.

Branca Hurls Dodgers To 11-6 Triumph Over Pittsburgh Nine

Redlegs Shutout New York, 3 To 0

NEW YORK, May 12 (INS)—Brooklyn's Ralph Branca beat Pittsburgh, 11 to 6, today and became the leading pitcher of the major leagues with five straight victories.

Each team collected 13 hits but the Dodgers got far greater mileage out of their base wallops. They scored at least one run in each of the first six innings.

The Brooks took the lead in the second inning on a triple by Carl Furillo and a homer by Roy Campanella, and never were headed thereafter.

Hal Gregg, a former Dodger, was the losing pitcher.

The third-place Dodgers advanced to within a game of first place in the National league.

Washington And Lee University Honors Texas U. Professor

AUSTIN, May 12 (INS)—Washington and Lee university conferred an honorary doctor of laws degree on a University of Texas professor in a recent bi-centennial academic celebration.

Dr. Erich W. Zimmerman, distinguished professor of economics and resources, who received the degree, has been consultant for several U. S. government departments and is author of numerous works on world resources and trade.

A native of Mainz, Germany, Dr. Zimmermann came to the United States in 1911 to write on the economic impact of the Great Lakes.

He became an American citizen and taught at New York University, James Millikin university, and the University of North Carolina before joining the University of Texas staff in 1942.

WISARL FOSTER MEET

NEW YORK, May 12 (INS)—An old-fashioned brawl is in prospect when Charley Fusari and Vince Foster stage their long-awaited 10-round battle in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Rich limestone deposits said to yield 94 per cent cement have been found on A. G. Louw's farm near Assen, South Africa, and he has applied for a railway line to the farm.

Frustration Aids Nats Win Streak

WASHINGTON, May 12. (AP)—Are you wondering why the Washington Senators are playing baseball like champions? It's simply a "reaction to frustration."

That's the explanation given by one the nation's top psychiatrists, Dr. Winfred Overholser, superintendent at St. Elizabeth's mental hospital here.

The Senators were just frustrated, said the doctor, when they lost seven games straight at the beginning of the season. Their reaction is what's handed Chicago two lickings, St. Louis three, Cleveland three and Detroit one.

Asked if this reaction is only temporary, Overholser replied:

"No, not necessarily. It could go on indefinitely."

The doctor said he is not a sports fan himself, but understands the amazing resurgence of Clark Griffith's stalwarts.

"When an individual suffers beating after beating, there are two courses open," he said. "He can either lie down and admit defeat or get up and fight back."

The Senators' complete reversal of form is a "very good example of what a person can do when he becomes sufficiently annoyed," said the doctor.

Big City Conference Track Meet Slated

SAN ANTONIO, May 12 (AP)—The Big City schools — those from San Antonio, Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth — try for titles in track, tennis and golf tomorrow.

Houston and San Antonio are figured to wage a merry battle for the track and field championship, with individual honors doped for Darrow Hooper of Northside (Fort Worth).

Finals in all athletic events will be completed tomorrow afternoon or night. Most preliminaries start tomorrow morning.

Hooper, national scholastic shot put champion, recently bettered the U. S. standard for schoolboys in the discus. He's a big favorite in these two events and a good bet in the high jump.

Entries from Houston had the best times in five events in regional meets and shared the best effort in another.

Bill Stalter of Sunset (Dallas) rates as the best sprinter among competing schools.

Place points will probably decide the successor to Brackenridge (San Antonio) in the second City Conference track meet.

Southwest Conference Track Teams Leave For Fayetteville

DALLAS, May 12 (AP) — All Texas track teams of the Southwest Conference will leave by special train at 9:30 tonight for Fayetteville, Ark., for the annual meet at the University of Arkansas Friday and Saturday. The special will arrive in Fayetteville at 7:30 a.m. Friday.

The two-day meet ... Friday afternoon with preliminaries.

Abilene To Meet San Angelo Today

LAMESA, May 12 (Special) — Abilene's High school baseball team won a 5-3 victory over the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes in Abilene Wednesday afternoon and the Eagles now have a chance to tie Lamesa for first place in District 3-AA by beating San Angela at Abilene Friday afternoon.

It was announced earlier that the Tornadoes had clinched the district crown by beating San Angelo Tuesday, but a re-check of the standings showed Abilene with an identical record.

Lamesa now has won eight games and lost four and a victory for Abilene Friday would tie the two nines. San Angelo, the defending champion, is out of the race already, along with all other teams.

The play-off game, which will be held if Abilene wins its final game, will be held in Abilene Saturday. The site was selected by coin flip. But if San Angelo wins Friday, Lamesa automatically wins the title.

Billy Lingle Hurls Junior Optimists To Win Over Eagles

Billy Lingle hurled the Junior Optimist nine to an 8 to 6 victory over the 9th Street Eagles in a sandlot baseball game on the Optimist Club diamond today.

Lingle had 16 strikeouts. Billy Ray Smith was the losing pitcher.

Leading hitters for the winners were, Ernest Eller, Wayne Hilliard and Dale Wooley. James Solly, Ray Weed and Billy Ray Smith led the losers' hit parade.

Meet At Jumbo Webster Field

Sunbeamers To Play Crane's Gulf Team

SAN ANGELO, May 12 (Special) — Lubbock's Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers and Crane's Gulfers, Western Division leaders, meet for the first time this season Saturday night at Lubbock's Jumbo Webster field in the Texas Softball league feature of the week.

The Bluebonnets, defending TSL champs, hold twin victories over San Angelo Maurice Shop and Fort Stockton while Crane won doubleheaders from the same two teams.

Fort Stockton travels to San Angelo in the other Western Division game.

Stamford and Howard Payne of Brownwood divided a twin bill last week in the East Division. This Saturday night Abilene Christian College goes to Stamford for two games.

Out of the first 10 league games, six were shutouts. Red Denham of Crane and Warren (Stringbean) Pope of Lubbock set the hurling pace with a no-hitter each. Pope's was a perfect game. Pope had 29 strikeouts for two games and Denham 24.

Fowler In Lead

Of the men at bat seven times or more in the first two weeks, Wally Fowler of Lubbock leads with five hits in 11 trips for .455. Pitcher Boyd Reece of San Angelo and Willis James of Lubbock have .428 on three hits in seven trips. Roy Butler of Lubbock has four for ten for .400, James Abbott of Lubbock three for eight for .375 and David Williams and Joe Goodwin, both of Crane, with four for 11 for .364. John Reynolds of Crane fills out the .300 hitters with three for 10.

David Williams of Crane leads in home runs with two. Three men are tied in triples with two each: Curly Hays of Stamford, Roy Butler and Wally Fowler of Lubbock.

POPE AND WARDEN AGAIN ON MOUND FOR SUNBEAMERS

It will be Warren "Stringbean" Pope and G. W. Warden on the mound again Saturday night for the Bluebonnet-Sunbeamer softball team when Crane visits Lubbock.

Manager Blacky Hilliard, happy over the return of Willis James, the slugging, wily catcher, is eager to make it six straight with a pair of victories over Crane. A double victory would give the Sunbeamers undisputed possession of first place and would go a long wa ytoward deciding the title.

But the Oilers have one of the outstanding pitchers in softball in Red Denham. Denham last year piled up 229 strikeouts in 18 games and, when he is right, he's almost untouchable. Last year he hurled the longest game in the 1948 record books—23 innings—and won his own game in the last half of that 23rd frame with a home run.

GOP'S AND DEMOS CLASH ON PLAN

Government Action To Provide Grain Storage Seems Assured

WASHINGTON, May 12. (AP)—Grain farmers seemed assured today of government action to provide storage bins for an expected bumper crop.

After re-fighting a 1948 election issue, the House late yesterday approved 326 to 52 a bill authorizing the government to provide storage facilities for crops on which it makes loans under its farm price support program.

The lawmakers added a special amendment intended to encourage farmer-owned, on-farm storage for grain.

Conference Set

The Senate has passed a slightly different bill. The legislation now goes to a Senate-House conference committee.

In the House debate Democrats and Republicans — just as in last fall's campaign—blamed each other for failing to see to it that there were enough 1948 storage facilities for grain.

Democrats charged that the Republican-controlled 80th Congress stripped the Commodity Credit corporation of its authority to provide storage, forcing many farmers to sell below price support levels because they could find no place to store their crops.

GOP's Make Charges

Republicans retorted that the administration had powers to deal with the problem, but misused them. They said President Truman was "misinformed" when, in the campaign, he blamed Republicans for the storage shortage.

In the midst of the heated debate, Rep. E. P. Wolcott (R-Mich) charged that the new legislation would give the Secretary of Agriculture power to "socialize the warehousing and storage industry" by putting the government into the business.

By a 144 to 139 vote, the House wrote into the bill an amendment by Rep. Phillips (R-Calif) requiring the government to help grain farmers build their own bins.

Under the amendment, the Commodity Credit corporation would advance 17.5 cents a bushel to grain growers who wanted to build bins on their farms. The CCC would get its money back later by deducting from amounts due to farmers under the grain price support program.

Skeleton Found In Washington May Clear Old Murder Case

SEATTLE, Wash., May 12 (INS)—A headless skeleton found near Fall City, Wash., may be that of James Eugene Bassett, missing 20 years in one of the West Coast's most sensational murder mysteries.

That was the word today from Dr. Frederick S. Hulse, assistant professor of anthropology at the University of Washington. He said the skeleton showed physical characteristics of the missing man "in every detail."

Bassett went to Seattle in September, 1928, and advertised his car for sale before leaving for the Philippine islands. He disappeared. Mrs. Mary Eleanor Smith and her son, Decasto Early Meyer, were arrested with the missing man's car a week later in Oakland, Calif.

Mrs. Smith, now 84 years old, is serving a life term in the Washington State penitentiary at Walla Walla after changing her plea from not guilty to guilty when her son committed suicide in his jail cell after re-opening of the case in 1938.

Mrs. Smith confessed that she and Mayer cut off Bassett's head after killing him in a fight in a North Seattle houseboat. She said they disposed of the body in "a patch of woods" some distance away.

'Bungling' Charged In Slaying Investigation

LAS CRUCES, N. M., May 12 (INS) — Citizens of this death-distracted town may demand a grand jury investigation into alleged "official bungling" of the Cricket Coogler slaying investigation.

First petitions calling for the grand jury investigation were signed last night at a mass meeting of New Mexico A & M college students and professors. About 300 attended the meeting, at which a clue-by-clue account of the slaying of the pretty, 18-year-old waitress was presented.

The many confusing aspects of the case persisted today. District Attorney T. K. Campbell said recently uncovered evidence indicated Cricket Coogler had a prearranged date with a man in the early hours of March 31, the night she disappeared.

It wasn't until 17 days later that her broken body was found in a sand-hill grave 12 miles from Las Cruces.

Results of a second autopsy performed when the girl's body was exhumed last Saturday are still being held secret by Dona Ana county authorities.

Formal Opening Set

the Lubbock and Sundown Lions club.

The plant will then be opened show visitors around the 80-acre plant site and explain the workings of the huge plant. Guests will also be given an illustrated souvenir booklet.

The plant is located in the center of the Slaughter field, in the southwest corner of Hockley county. The field also extends into Cochran and Terry counties. Nearly 2,000 wells—covering an area of 180 square miles—are connected to the plant.

The Salughter plant can process 90 million cubic feet of casinghead gas daily, although the field gathering system is designed for an ultimate volume of 120 million cubic feet per day. Capacity of the plant could readily be boosted to 120 million cubic feet by the installation of additional processing equipment.

When operating at the 90 million rate, Slaughter can produce every day 100,000 gallons of natural gasoline, 92,000 gallons of butane and 50,000 gallons of propane. All of the propane and about half the butane will be sold in West Texas for use as fuels, to provide heat and power for local homes, industries and irrigation projects.

Natural gasoline will be shipped to refineries to be blended into motor fuels. The remaining "dry" gas is being sold to a gas pipeline.

The plant's compressor system has a total horsepower of 25,600—or slightly more than the power of four modern diesel freight locomotives. This is one of the world's largest compressor installations devoted to the processing of casinghead gas. Slaughter's generators can produce power equivalent to that used by the combined populations of nearby Levelland, Sundown and Brownfield, and its four water wells supply enough water every day for a city of 20,000 persons.

E. R. Wagner is plant superintendent and N. S. Whitmore is assistant superintendent.

Woman Killed During Gun Fight

TRINIDAD, Colo., May 12 (INS) — Las Animas county officers today sought clues to the whereabouts of a man described as a "practitioner of witchcraft," a suspect in the slaying early yesterday of a farm woman in her home three miles east of Trinidad.

The woman, Mrs. Lucy J. Maucione, 48, was shot fatally by a would-be arsonist as she knelt at a window to watch a running gun battle between her husband and son and the prowler.

Sheriff Felix Garcia said today that the husband, Domenic, and the son, Mike, told him that the man is a retired miner and alleged witch doctor.

The sheriff said the suspect had disappeared from his home, but that a thorough check was being made to establish his whereabouts.

District Attorney John N. Mabry said there was definite evidence that the prowler had intended to set the house on fire. Sacks that had been dipped in kerosene were found along the foundation of the house, and the walls had been sprayed with a mixture of gasoline and kerosene.

Mabry added that the suspect has been investigated several times in connection with his occult practices, and was forced several times to return money he had taken from "patients" for treatment.

The Maucione's said that yesterday's arson attempt was the second in recent weeks.

When they heard someone prowling, they went after him with a shotgun and pistol. The man returned fire with a revolver. One of the bullets struck Mrs. Maucione above the right ear.

Texas Shrine Official Returns From Inspection In Hawaii

LOS ANGELES, May 12 (AP)—Galloway Calhoun, imperial potentate of the Shrine of North America, has arrived here from Honolulu after a two weeks inspection of Shrine facilities in Hawaii.

The Tyler lawyer said he has traveled some 70,000 miles in the United States, Canada and Mexico since taking office last June. He has been making a tour of Shrine temples and hospitals to stress the Masonic organization's Americanism program. He arrived here last night.

"American Masons are committed to faith in God and the United States' way of life," he told a newsman. "No loyal Mason can be a Communist. Masons stand as a mighty phalanx against Communism or other ideologies foreign to the principles on which the United States was founded."

Calhoun, accompanied by his wife and a daughter, Mrs. R. L. Bobbitt, jr., of Tyler, said he expects to arrive in Tyler next Monday.

Electra Set Back

Chillicothe, Dr. R. E. Sittra, or one of his deputies would be on hand to make a sanitary inspection of the train.

Moore, a former circus man who stands six feet one inch tall in his cowboy boots, seemed a bit discouraged by the restraining order in Dallas today.

Campaign To Continue

"But it's just temporary," he told newsmen. "We'll be on hand for Saturday's hearing on a permanent injunction. We haven't given up."

"And it won't stop our big party tomorrow. Actually, that's a Chamber of Commerce affair, you know. I don't have anything to do with it. But it will be a big affair."

At Electra, the Chamber announced all stores will be asked to close at 5 p.m. tomorrow so that everyone can greet the Zephyr. On hand, the Chamber said, will be two bands, the local firemen, VFW and Legion members in uniform, and a chuckwagon gang. Doughnuts, coffee and flowers will be passed out to all Zephyr passengers.

A citizens committee at Electra said a whistle stop celebration will be held as planned, but no effort will be made to inspect sanitary facilities on the Zephyr or to otherwise interfere with the train pending settlement of the injunction suit.

"We'll abide by the restraining order, of course," said the big man in a cowboy hat. "I'm not trying to do anything nasty."

Moore said the city is appealing to the Railroad commission for a rehearing of its order permitting the "conditional stops." The "conditional stop" order means the Zephyr will halt only when it has a passenger to pick up or let off.

Among those specifically restrained by today's order is Electra Mayor T. Leo Moore, who has sparked the "whistle stop" campaign.

Others named in the order are Councilmen John Lee, Ted Price, Ray Dickey and J. F. McSpadden, Police Chief Ted Miller, City Attorney John McKelvey, and the city health officers.

NAVARRO PIONEER KILLED

The inspection took place at 3 p.m. followed by a demonstration of precision marching by the Sam Houston Rifles, an outstanding drill group selected from the entire unit. At 4 p.m. the formal review of the troops took place on the drill field at the college.

Col. Horner and his party will remain at the college today to inspect the classrooms and other facilities that are available to ROTC students. The inspections are held each year to determine the quality of the units all over the state. Results of the inspection at Texas Tech will not be announced until later in the spring.

'CHILDISH' BEHAVIOR CHARGED

Judge Blasts Defense Lawyer's Tactics In Coplon Espionage Trial

By CHARLES B. SEIB
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves gave Judith Coplon's lawyer a severe tongue-lashing today and told him his tactics were against the ex-government girl's "own interests" in the spy trial.

In the severest warning issued since the trial began two and one-half weeks ago, the judge told wise-cracking Archibald Palmer that his performance was "childish" and would not be allowed to continue. He said:

"I'll have to insist on you obeying my rulings."

When the portly Palmer said the interests of Miss Coplon, charged with stealing U.S. secrets for transmission to Russia, required him to do what he has been doing, the judge shot back:

"Her own interests forbid some of the things you've been doing here."

Palmer said he should ask for a mistrial on the basis of the judge's statement, made in the hearing of the jury, but would not.

The 75-year-old judge answered that he was entirely within his rights in making the statement and added ominously:

"When the jury goes out this evening I want to see counsel on both sides."

Later, when the courtroom atmosphere had calmed, he told the opposing counsel that he had another engagement and "I've changed my mind about the conference."

The judge's crackdown climaxed a day of wrangling between Palmer and federal prosecutor John M. Kelley such as is seldom seen in a court.

The opposing attorneys, repeatedly exchanged verbal blows, and were time and again admonished by the judge.

A lively exchange occurred when Kelley suggested that Palmer summon Valentin Gubitchev as a witness. "Judith is charged with stealing secrets with the intention of delivering them to Gubitchev, a Russian engineer and Soviet employe at the United Nations.

BUILDING WRECK

New White House Again Considered

WASHINGTON, May 12 (U.P.) — The White House hasn't been in such a fix since the British burned it in 1814.

It came back from that ordeal, although the comeback took three years.

But there's a chance it may not survive its present trouble. Congress may decide to wreck it and build a new and different executive mansion.

Anyway, a Senate-House conference committee has been deadlocked more than a month on the issue of whether to repair the old building, retaining its present walls, roof and architectural character, or to erect a brand new structure.

The repair job might cost a little more than a new building. But it would leave the White House with its outward appearance unchanged and would preserve traditional aspects a lot of people would hate to see scrapped. But a new building might last longer.

18 New Polio Cases Reported In State

AUSTIN, May 12. (U.P.)—Eighteen new cases of polio were reported during the past week, boosting the year's total to 178, the State Health department reported today.

The year's figure thus shot 43 above the total over the same period in 1948, a record in incidence of the dread disease, and brought an immediate call for a state-wide cleanup campaign from State Health Officer George W. Cox.

Polio's spread, Dr. Cox said, "signifies the absolute necessity for extensive cleanup campaigns in all sections of the state, if we expect to avoid a repetition of last year's figure of 1,765 cases.

Records Show Increase

The 18 cases registered this week, the department said, was 14 above the 7-year median for the week.

However, while not minimizing the danger of the polio incidence, the health department pointed out that the 1949 total cases reflects a sustained week-by-week recording of new cases.

Every week so far this year, the department reported, has been a new polio case.

While 18 cases were listed this past week, there were 55 for the same week in 1948. That week, a year ago, reflected a jump from 25 to 55 from the previous week.

Counties reporting new cases this past week:

Bexar, 7; Guadalupe, 3; Cameron, 2; Ector, Ellis, Grimes, McClennan, Nueces and Zavala, 1 each.

High production costs have practically killed the Philippines' once-important export trade in cigars, Manila reports.

Effect Of Oil Waste On Fish Is Studied

SAN ANTONIO, May 12 (INS)—Experiments in San Antonio have apparently proved that oil well wastes that drain into rivers and lakes may be fatal to some fish while others can become immune to the wastes.

Science students at Our Lady of the Lake college, majors in biology, are studying the poisonous effects of such wastes on aquatic life. At the conclusion of the tests, they will have observed 24 chemicals found in oil waste.

Varying Doses Given

The fish are placed in large glass jars which are filled with mechanically circulated water. Varying doses of the poisons are injected into the water.

Some of the fish build up a partial immunity to gradually strengthened poisons which kill other fish suddenly subjected to them.

Co-sponsiring the experiments are the Texas Marine laboratory at Rockport and the University of Texas science department.

The fish are seined from the San Antonio river by Fred Stark, director of the San Antonio zoo.

Foreign technicians will be employed by Pakistan's first company to repair aircraft.

President Says U. S. Continues To Support UN Despite Setbacks

WASHINGTON, May 12 (INS)—President Truman told Congress today that the United Nations "has disappointed us" but that the United States supports it "in all respects."

The President made his statement in approving a report inferentially blaming Russia's efforts to "expand its power" for much of the "political instability and division" in the UN last year.

Mr. Truman declared that the U. S. "can be proud of what we have done in world leadership."

The chief executive transmitted the report to the Senate and the House with an accompanying letter by Secretary of State Acheson.

In a letter of transmittal, the President pointed out that Acheson said the UN has been a disappointment. Mr. Truman asserted:

"If the United Nations as a security organization has disappointed us . . . And if we have had to take supplemental measures to meet actual of potential threats to our security, it is not because the United States has not put forth real efforts to develop the United Nations to full stature."

Mr. Truman said that "the nature of our participation and the many different ways it is manifested may come as a surprise to many members of Congress." He declared:

"But it will not be an unpleasant surprise.

"We have taken the leadership in many fields of international relations. We can be proud of what we have done."

Mr. Truman said that "the world today is not the world we hoped for when the San Francisco conference adjourned less than four years ago."

Acheson said that "there was disappointment" in the work of the UN last year "because of the failure of certain states to observe their obligations under the charter on matters which seriously affect maintenance of peace."

He said, however, that "hope grew out of the continuing feeling that the principles and purposes of the UN charter offer the best basis of a peaceful world with international justice and respect for individual human rights. . ."

Acheson added that "most members of the organization are working loyally in that direction." Acheson added:

". . . In 1948 the conclusion became clearer than ever that as a security organization the UN has not thus far been able to grow to its full stature."

Neither the President nor Acheson identified Russia by name in their letters as responsible for the "disappointment"

Missing Airliner Believed To Have Fallen In Philippine Sea

MANILA, May 12 (INS)—A Philippine air lines plane missing since Saturday was believed today to have plunged into the Philippine sea about 20 miles northwest of Basiad. All 13 persons aboard apparently drowned.

Constabulary authorities on Alaban island reported the finding of a pilot's license and an aerial map from the plane washed up to the shore there, leading them to believe that the craft had gone down in the Philippine sea.

The latest discovery discredited an earlier report that the plane had exploded in midair during the flight from Daet to Manila.

Chemical Substance Causing Hay Fever Aids Science In Efforts To Cure Mental Disease

By PAUL Y. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 12 — The villain in hay fever and other allergic ailments may turn out to be a hero in the battle against mental disease, a report from three physicians disclosed today.

The villain in the case of allergies is histamine, a chemical substance released in the human body. The so-called anti-hay fever drugs have anti-histaminic properties.

But histamine, which has been made in synthetic form, is doing heroic work in some mental cases, according to three brother physicians, Drs. Arthur, Mortimer and Raymond R. Sackler, of the staff of Creedmore State hospital on Long Island.

Injection Method Used

At a staff meeting of the hospital doctors, the Sacklers told of using histamine to help mental patients since 1945. In all, about 100 persons have been administered the synthetic drug.

The first group to receive the treatment was composed of 38 women, suffering schizophrenia (split personality) or from tension and anxiety forms of mental illness. The drug was administered by injection.

Ten patients showed rapid improvement and half of the ten continued to improve, reaching the stage of convalescent.

The physicians said the most significant results were obtained in the use of histamine along with electric shock treatment. It was found that persons responded much better to shock treatment after they had been through a course of histamine treatment. Also, it was found that the number of shock treatments, either by electrical or insulin technique, could be reduced following administration of histamine.

The physicians said they believed that the number of shock-treated patients leaving mental hospitals could be doubled if histamine were given. In New York state last year, about 9,000 patients were able to leave hospitals after shock treatment alone.

In the United States, it has been estimated that perhaps as many as 50,000 persons are released each year after shock treatment. On a basis, the Sacklers' study, the number might be increased to 100,000. Mental hospitals in the United States have on the average of about 660,000 daily population of patients.

The Sacklers said that a more detailed report on their studies would be published in the journal of nervous and mental disease. They said that histamine also may enable some patients to receive treatment without going to a mental institution.

Britain Shows New Bluntness In Answer To Soviet Attack On Pact

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 12 — The Soviet Union has wagged a slightly menacing finger under the pink nose of Britain for signing the Atlantic pact. Moscow says that by doing so, the traditional pact-observing British have ruptured the Anglo-Soviet treaty signed in 1942.

The British are making an answer along these lines:

The Anglo-Soviet treaty had two main purposes—(1) joint action in the war against Germany and the prevention of further aggression by Germany and (2) "intention to collaborate closely with one another as well as with the other United Nations at the peace settlement and during the ensuing period of reconstruction." Period, finish, etc.

Treaty Violation Charged

The Russians, who are, of course, great respectors of treaties, said that article 5 of the Atlantic pact taints the Anglo-Soviet treaty. Article 5, in case you haven't memorized it (and it packs some of the most momentous language to which any nation ever subscribed) reads:

"The parties agree that an armed attack against one or more of them in Europe or North America shall be considered an attack against them all; and consequently they agree that, if such an armed attack occurs, each of them, in exercise of the right of individual or collective self-defense . . . will assist the party or parties so attacked by taking forthwith, individually or in concert with the other parties, such action as it deems necessary, including the use of armed force, to restore and maintain the security of the North Atlantic area."

'Conflict' Alleged

The Russians say this conflicts more or less criminally with article 7 of the Anglo-Soviet pact. Article 7 goes like this:

"Each high contracting party undertakes not to conclude any alliance and not to take part in any coalition directed against the other high contracting party."

The British are getting very good at replying to such premises. In terms that suggest little of the delicate tea-sipping form of diplomacy and a gush of the rugged independence of the average Briton, this reply has been made:

"The North Atlantic treaty is directed solely against any future aggressor; only if the Russians interpret this as meaning themselves would there be any conflict with the Anglo-Soviet treaty, but this would be a clear case of whom the cap fits—'

New 'Bluntness' Appears

"If Russia committed an act of aggression a new situation would of course arise, not contemplated in the Anglo-Soviet treaty, which in its military aspect is a defensive pact directed against Hitlerite Germany.

"If this act of aggression were of the kind specified in article 5 of the North Atlantic treaty, then the provisions of that treaty would come into force and would be applied against Russia. There is, in fact, nothing in the Anglo-Soviet alliance which need prevent or would prevent the United Kingdom fulfilling its obligations under the North Atlantic treaty."

Using that as a basis for what appears to be a new bluntness in the elegant, comma-ridden language nations like to use in their intercourse, the British add:

Red Violators Cited

"It has been suggested that from the political point of view the North Atlantic treaty is hardly in accordance with the spirit of the Anglo-Soviet alliance. The short answer to this political argument is that the Soviet Union itself is flagrantly breaking the Anglo-Soviet alliance, particularly" . . . the high contracting parties agree to work together in close and friendly collaboration after the security and economic prosperity in Europe. They will take into account the interests of the United Nations in these objects, and they will act in accordance with the two principles of not seeking territorial aggrandisement for themselves and non-interference in the internal affairs of other states.' "

Soviet Stand Challenged

The British went on to tell Moscow that the United Kingdom will never be able to understand how the Soviet government reconciled its Anglo-Soviet obligations "with the reiteration in the Cominform declaration of October 1947 and elsewhere, that the world is divided into two opposing blocs, or with the constant propaganda attacks made on them at the United Nations by the Soviet government." The British added:

"In the Soviet zone of Germany, the Soviet authorities have violated every relevant clause of the Potsdam agreement."

The British then brought up the question of "territorial aggrandisement" and the "open attempts to wreck the European Recovery program on which the restoration of the standard of living of the peoples of Western Europe depends."

That's tellin' 'em, fat man!

Under an ancient bequest, 40 "honest persons" in West Wickham, England, have just received 20 cents each.

Man Assaulted By Baboon In Tavern

DEFIANCE, O., May 12. (AP)—Louis Fronk drives a beer truck and he meets lots of strange characters on his stops.

But today he met one which left a deep impression—physically. Fronk says he can prove it by the police that a baboon in a local tavern hit his leg so badly it needed medical treatment.

Fronk said he was walking out with a case of empty bottles on each shoulder when the half grown baboon took a sudden dislike to him.

The animal was with its owner, Carl Fogt, a customer, and there was no report it had been drinking. Fronk, however, is doubtful.

MIDLAND, May 12. (Special)—"Cowboys, Cowgirls — Come a ridin' " soon will echo throughout West Texas as the 15th Annual World Championship Midland rodeo is staged here. The big event, one of the nation's best-known rodeos, is scheduled June 1-5, with night performances only to be presented.

"Top talent, the roughest livestock, the best novelty acts, and widespread interest should combine to make the 1949 Midland rodeo the best and most colorful ever staged here." Leonard Proctor, chairman of the Rodeo committee of the Midland fair, Inc., said.

"Midland and area citizens demand the best and we are making every effort to give them the best in rodeo entertainment," Proctor stated.

British Health Plan Assailed By Editor

SAN ANTONIO, May 12 (INS)—Britain's new national health service has been far from successful in the opinion of W. A. Richardson, editor of Medical Economics.

Richardson said the British nationalized health service will cost one and a half billion dollars this year, or more than 10 per cent of the country's national budget.

Richardson, who has just directed a month-long study of the British medical plan, says the National Health Service patient is attended six times a year.

The average doctor, said Richardson, has a list of 4,000 patients and may find himself saddled with 24,000 visits yearly or 80 calls each working day.

"In such cases," he asserted, "Each patient who goes to the doctor's office gets only four minutes of the doctor's time. It is not surprising then, that few patients get proper examinations."

Richardson made his remarks to a recent meeting of the state medical association.

He concluded that the thinking public in Britain is gradually beginning to realize the country has neither the facilities nor the money to deliver the all-inclusive service it promised.

Lack Of Time Hampers Solons' Efforts To Understand Bills

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 12. — A good question to ask a congressman just before he votes on something is: "How much do you really know about it?"

Congress is like a bunch of buffalo hunters. They send out a couple of scouts to shoot a steak and then they all eat it.

In Congress there are 96 senators, 435 House members, and swarms of committees. And almost every member of Congress is on at least one committee.

Committees Specialize

Each committee specializes in a certain kind of bill, like labor or banking, or farming.

It holds hearings, brings in witnesses, studies the subject, and then issues, for all the other congressmen to read, a bill to be voted on by all.

In addition, it sometimes issues a report explaining the bill or a word-for-word copy of the hearings, if there have been hearings.

The other congressmen, not members of that committee, can read the bill and get a fill-in by reading the report or the hearings. But—

While the Labor committee is holding hearings on a labor bill, the Farm committee is holding hearings on a farm bill.

Individual Study Unlikely

So neither gets much chance, if any, to sit in on the other committee's doings.

It has to trust pretty much to the judgment of that other committee that the bill it finally turns out is all right.

But then at voting time, say on a farm bill, both the committee experts on farming and those who have never seen the bill before, or didn't have time to study it well, sit down to vote.

By this time a lot of the non-experts may have their minds already made up on how they'll vote, either because of personal feelings about a bill or because of letters from the folks back home.

But, by and large, you can see that congressmen and senators have to depend pretty much on the judgment, intentions and inclinations of a committee to help them.

And the committees are pretty jealous of their rights. Not just any other member of the House or Senate can walk in, sit down with the committee, and start questioning witnesses or take part in the doings.

When a non-member of a committee wants a hand in what's doing, he has to ask permission to take part. The most recent example of that happened with the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

This committee is probably the most distinguished in Congress, and is very proud of itself. Senator Tom Connally, Texas Democrat, is chairman. And at his right hand sits Senator Arthur Vandenberg, Michigan Republican.

Daily Hearings Held

This committee has been holding hearings every day on the Atlantic pact. Two Republican senators —Donnell of Missouri and Watkins of Utah—who are not members of the committee, asked permission to sit in and question witnesses.

Both senators are critical of the pact. But before they had a chance to ask a question, Connally accused them of wishing to oppose and filibuster against the pact.

Finally, when it came time to ask witnesses questions—after all the committee members had finished asking—Connally informed the witnesses that the two senators were not committee members and were being allowed to ask questions only by courtesy of the committee.

Senator Walks Out

Watkins walked out Monday, feeling that he had been "lectured and humiliated long enough" by Connally. Connally said Watkins and Donnell had been using up two-thirds of the committee's time with their questions.

Taking note of all this, the Washington Post suggests that the professional staffs which work with the various committees hold seminars, or study periods, for congressmen who are not on a certain committee but would like a fill-in before voting time.

This might help. But most congressmen probably would say they had too much other business to find time for seminars. Congress is likely to go on as usual.

Used Car Dealer Finds It Hard To Give Away $2 Bills

ZANESVILLE, O., May 12. (AP)—Jim Belch stood on a busy street corner today and passed out 100 two-dollar bills. A woman threw away her bill. She thought it was counterfeit. A man absolutely refused to accept one of the bills.

Belch did the stunt to celebrate his second anniversary as a used car dealer.

U. S. To Sell 300 Saddle Horses At Public Auction

WASHINGTON, May 12. (AP)—Nearly 300 saddle horses, including animals captured in Europe and brought over by the Army in 1946, are going to be sold at public auction.

The Agriculture department announced today that about 155 horses, including the European imports, would be sold at its Fort Reno, Okla., remount station on May 25.

Another 118 registered thoroughbreds, with many mares having young foals at their sides, will be sold at Fort Robinson, Neb., June 3.

Simple Burns Blamed For A-Bomb Deaths

SAN ANTONIO, May 12 (INS)—An atomic energy expert said in San Antonio recently he has proof that 85 per cent of the casualties in the atomic bombings of Japan were caused by simple heat and flame burns.

Radiation was minimized as a cause for the death by Col. James P. Cooney, chief of the radiological section of the medical aspects division, Atomic Energy commission.

"I have factual proof that 85 per cent of the casualties in the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki were caused, not by radiation, but by simple heat and flame burns and the resultant infection from ordinary bacteria," he said.

Cooney warned that the medical profession would have a Herculean task should there be an atomic bombing in this country. He said that Boston's medical facilities were inadequate when hundreds burned in the Cocoanut Grove night club fire several years ago.

Cooney spoke to Texas doctors in San Antonio for the Texas Air Medics association and the State Medical association conventions.

NEW ASSAULT ON U.S. EXPECTED

Anti-American World Trade Group To Meet Soon In Rome

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 12—The Anti-American World Federation of Trade Unions, for which the late Sidney Hillman stood sponsor here, is organizing today another assault upon just about everything this country holds dear.

This Moscow-managed performance will take place publicly in Rome on June 29. On that date the world federation (WFTU) will hold its second world congress under the presidency of Guiseppe di Vittorio, boss of the Italian General Federation of Labor. Watching over the Italian's shoulder to see that all goes well will be WFTU's general secretary, Louis Saillant, a Frenchman who rarely is out of step with the Communist party line.

WFTU Is Moscow Device

The WFTU is a Moscow device designed to obtain Communist control over the world labor movement and, ultimately, to establish its authority to the extent that it could pull world-wide strikes in any industry for political purposes.

It is a vital part of the Communist world revolution machinery. Pending the revolution and the time when it can girdle the world with a strike call, the WFTU has busied itself obstructing the foreign policy of the western powers and supporting the policies of Soviet Russia.

With a gullibility which did not distinguish his operations in the field of our own domestic politics, Hillman led the CIO into the WFTU in October in 1945 with loud cheers and expressions of confidence. The American Federation of Labor tabbed the WFTU from the start as a Communist front, and poorly disguised at that. So did some of the American press. But Hillman had his fling at trying to cooperate with the Commies and he died too soon to know that he had made a serious blunder.

CIO Quits Organization

Last January under the leadership of James B. Carey, the CIO pulled out of the WFTU, claiming numerous fouls, foot faults and other violations against the outfit. Out with Carey and the CIO also went the British and Dutch trade unions.

In the United States the WFTU retains a finger grip, only, but that grip is in a delicate area. When Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union met on the west coast last month, it repudiated the CIO's withdrawal from the WFTU. Bridges' union voted to support the organization, which puts the Pacific coast dockers in line for a strike call from Paris one day when the business agents of the Kremlin's world-wide union decide the time has come when they can get away with it. Permanent headquarters of the WFTU is in Paris.

DEATH RULED SUICIDE

DALLAS, May 12 (AP) — Justice of Peace Pierce McBride today ruled the death of John Milton Clark, 55, veteran Magnolia petroleum company employe who fell 22 floors to his death from the Magnolia building here yesterday, was suicide.

Texas Group Opposes Opening Bird Sanctuaries To Hunters

SAN ANTONIO, May 12 (AP) — Texas Garden club members are dead against opening bird sanctuaries to hunting.

Delegates at the annual convention yesterday made this clear.

A proposed federal bill would open the sanctuaries to hunting at the discretion of the Department of Interior.

The convention passed a strongly-worded resolution against the proposal.

The meeting was to end today.

U. S. Officials Approve Documentary Film Of Greatest Mail Robbery In Nation's History

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 12.—When my old friend, Bob Kane, decided to do a semi-documentary based on the biggest mail robbery in the history of the United States, he didn't foo laround with such small fry as the James brothers.

Compared to the seven men who held up a mail train in 1924 and got away with $2,500,000 in negotiable bonds and cash, the James boys were just pickpockets.

Yes, both the Treasury department and the post office authorities have given Bob the green light on this spectacular story. It took a bit of doing because the leader of the gang was a former trusted postal inspector who turned crook.

The actor Kane wants for the master-mind inspector is Richard Basehart, who was good being bad in Bob's "He Walked By Night."

Danny Kaye Gets Offer

If Danny Kaye wants to do a movie in London, and if Warners studio is willing to lend him, he has had the offer. One of the big companies has asked him to star in the "Life Of Harry Lauder." Danny has had this idea up his sleeve for a long time.

That is one picture that would be sure to go in England! They like Danny.

'Hamlet' Money Split

Laurence Olivier has received all the money he is supposed to have received from J. Arthur Rank for his cut on "Hamlet," according to word from a Rank executive.

A cable from Larry also clears up any idea that he tiffed with his former producer and is planning to make his next picture for Sir Alexander Korda. The truth is he will be working until June 14 with his "Old Vic" troupe and will not even read film scripts until after that time.

New 'Chiller' Scheduled

Louis Hayward plays a gentleman rat that is a rat in "House By The River" and Jane Wyatt has just been signed for the part of the wife he be-devils almost out of her mind.

Jane Wyman's arrival in London should have warmed her heart. Janie wasn't too happy about leaving Hollywood, but she was a thrilled girl when police had to clear out the lobby of the Dorchester hotel it was so jammed with English fans who wanted to greet Jane.

CRASH VICTIMS IDENTIFIED

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 12 (AP) —Las Vegas Air Force base today identified two air force men killed yesterday when their F-82 fighter plane crashed in the Indian Springs rocket firing area. They are Lt. Ralph H. Tibbetts, 27, attached to Bergstrom Air base, Austin, and Staff Sgt. Kenneth Austin, Lockbourne Air base, Columbus, Ohio. Their home towns were not known.

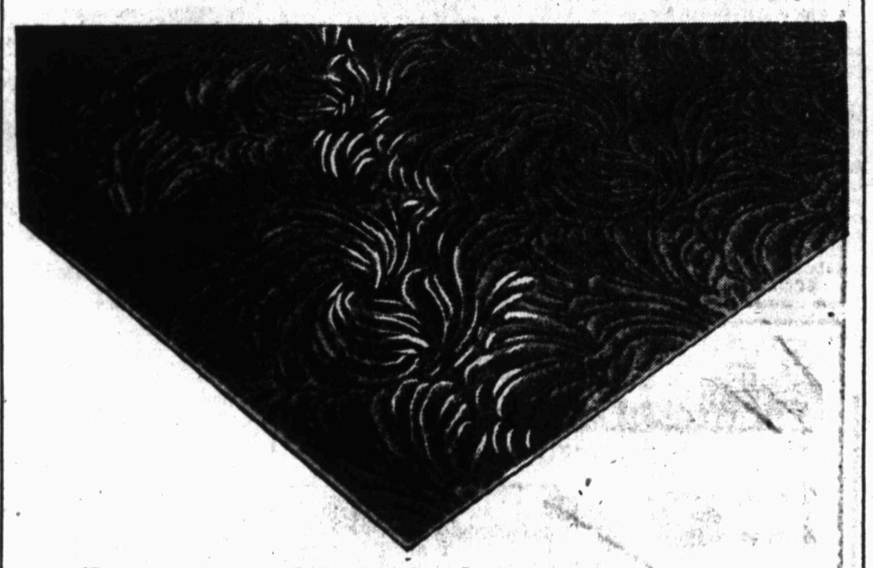

Higher meat prices have increased living costs in Switzerland to nearly two-thirds above prewar.

U. S. Doubts Report Of Proposal To Give Soviets Voice In Ruhr

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

A diplomatic report in London that France has proposed to give Russia voice in control of the Ruhr has been received in the United States with skepticism.

All sorts of possibilities are being mulled over in connection with the forthcoming negotiations looking toward a four-power settlement of the German problem.

But none of the western Allies would be expected to make such a proposal pending receipt of Russia's demands.

Ruhr Is Major Objective

Although there are political gains to be sought by Russia in a communized Germany, Moscow's real objective has always been the Ruhr. It is one of the world's five great industrial bases which is capable of supplying the sinews for wars of any size. The others are Russia herself, Japan, the United States and Britain. India may soon be another.

Possession of the Ruhr emboldened Germany to defy the world twice. By adding it to her own resources through a Communist-controlled Germany, Russia would be in a position in western Europe similar to the one given her by her army in eastern Europe after the war.

The Allies have no slightest intention of seeing her do it.

If there were to be any four-power settlement, which seems very doubtful, Russia would have some sort of voice, of course. But not, as in the four-power council which fell apart two years ago, a voice capable of derailing the Allied program for western Germany.

Whether she would accept membership in the Ruhr control without the veto on which she always insists, knowing that she would be in a 6 to 1 minority, is highly problematical.

Animal Experts Agree That Elephant Most Intelligent

BANGKOK, May 9 (AP) — The four sat around a table, sipping lime squashes and rating animals according to intelligence.

They had 100 years or more of work with animals behind them. Here is the order, as presented by George Emerson, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer wild animal trainer who came to Bankok to take home a boatload of animals:

1. The elephant.
2. The great ape family (gorilla, chimpanzee, orang-utang and gibbon).
3. The dog.
4. The horse.

With Emerson were David L. Mobley, who would rather talk about his birds at California's Catalina Island; Noel Rosefelt, Far East collector for the Catalina Wild Life Expedition; and Mahout Sawart, a Siamese elephant boy and the only real youngster in the group.

The quartet are collecting elephants, birds and varied animals for return to the United States. There they will be sent to Louis Goebel's animal farm for use in films and also to circuses, to Catalina Island and to other animal spots in the U. S.

Judge Postpones Sentencing Flier For Exporting Bomber

BROWNSVILLE, May 12 (AP)—Sentencing of James G. Hurst on charges of illegally exporting a bomber to help Nicaraguan rebels was deferred "for a day or two" by federal Judge Allen B. Hannay today.

"If I sentenced you now," the judge told the 27-year-old former U. S. Air Force pilot, "I would probably give you the limit."

Two years in the penitentiary or $10,000 fine—or both—is the maximum penalty.

Judge Hannay convicted Hurst yesterday. Hurst testified he took an A-20 attack bomber from Los Angeles to Guatemala to help the revolutionary forces of Gen. Emiliano Chamorro who was then organizing a revolution against dictator-general Anastasio (Tacho) Somosa of Nicaragua.

French War Bride Contacts Husband Suffering From TB

NEW ORLEANS, May 12. (INS)— A young New Orleans French war bride received word today from her husband who left home after leaving a note in which he said he had only a year to live and was afraid of infecting his wife with tuberculosis.

The bride, Mrs. Jeanine Higgins, prepared to join her husband, George, at Savannah, Ga. after she received his telegram, and talked to him by long distance telephone.

Had Made Plea

Mrs. Higgins had pleaded that her husband get in touch with here "wherever he is," because "I want to be at his side." Police said Higgins' physician informed them he did not tell the 39-year-old man he had but a year to live.

Higgins, a former Marine radio operator, disappeared sometime between last Thursday and last Saturday while his wife was visiting another French war bride in Galveston.

She said:

"I'm so thrilled George knows I want to help him."

She said her husband told her he was in Philadelphia when he heard of he rappeal and that he started back to New Orleans.

They will meet in Savanah tomorrow.

"Then," she said, "we can plan how to get him well."

He is suffering from tuberculosis.

Carlotta Monti Takes Stand To Refute Attack On Fields

LOS ANGELES, May 12 (INS)—The fight for the late W. C. Fields' $800,000 estate erupted into fireworks today when Carlotta Monti, the comedian's "close friend" for 13 years, gave sizzling testimony that left the courtroom stunned and breathless.

Miss Monti took the witness stand at her own request after one of the lawyers for the eight litigants battling for sizeable shares in the estate denounced Fields in these words:

"W. C. Fields lived a notoriously dissolute life in Hollywood.

"He's an example of the case where charcoal makes a white mark!"

The testimony of Miss Monti crackled across the courtroom so rapidly that court stenographers had difficulty recording it. She declared:

"I knew W. C. Fields well. We lived together 13 years. When he became ill, I took care of him day and night.

"I cooked for him, I swept floors for him, I took care of him and everything he had.

"When his widow (Mrs. Harriet Fields) was on the stand here, she lied. She said she didn't know about his earnings. She did; she knew all about them. She accepted his $60 a week, though . . . I asked Fields why he didn't divorce her, and he told me, 'I never married her.'

An artist in Sydney, Australia, is offering the thief who stole his favorite picture another in exchange.

Chicago Man Bites Off End Of Tongue To Prevent 'Denying God'

CHICAGO, May 12 (INS) — A 52-year-old Chicago commercial artist bit off part of his tongue today because he did not want to "deny God."

The artist, Edward G. Carter, was found bleeding from the mouth in his loop workroom.

Police said Carter showed them a note which read:

"My last temptation is to deny God. In order to prevent the above, I took part of my tongue off."

Taken before Municipal Judge Victor A. Kula, Carter wrote on a pad:

"There's too much wrong in the world. I have no mental control of my tongue. I will not speak evil."

Hearings Asked On Rail Service Change

ABILENE, May 12. (AP)—Towns along the upper reaches of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad's Waco-to-Stamford line may ask a railroad commission hearing on the Katy's move to change service.

The railroad wants to substitute mixed trains for the passenger trains that now make twice-daily trips.

Lee Walker, Stamford chamber of commerce manager, said the railroad may be able to make the change without a hearing on grounds it would be a substitution of service. He said Stamford will not fight the change but joins in the request for a hearing.

The campaign for a hearing was started by De Leon's Community club, which wrote mayors up and down the line.

Due to recent heavy rains in Lubbock private well owners are urged to Test Water for Contamination!
RAW WATER IS DANGEROUS!
Chlorinate With SURECLOR
RAW WATER is water from any source—surface, streams, lakes, tanks, shallow or deep wells. Any water that has not been tested for purity at least every 30 days, or treated by Health Department approved methods, is not safe for human or farm animal consumption. Many human and animal diseases such as typhoid, dysentary, cholera, hook worm, summer complaint, tuberculosis, anthrax, glanders, and stomach intestinal worms are often caused by contaminated water. Don't take chances—RAW WATER IS DANGEROUS.
INEXPENSIVE: SURECLOR, the automatic water operated hypo-feeder, is especially designed to sterilize contaminated or questionable domestic pressure water supplies, and small community water systems. Lowest Cost. Easy to Install. Simple to Operate.
LOW MAINTENANCE: Fabricated of transparent plastics. Complete operation visible through unit. Resists corrosive action of chlorine and water.
With exception of ball check valves, no moving parts to wear out. Chlorinating agent—household bleach (Sodium Hypochlorite 5.25% available chlorine). Available at most any grocery store. Cost less than 1½c per 1000 gallons water sterilized. The amount of chlorine usually required is between a trace and 1 part per million, to make water safe for human or animal consumption without boiling or other treatment.
DEPENDABLE: Operates by water pressure. Fully automatic and on the job 24 hours a day. Positive check on correct chlorine content is quickly and easily determined by a color density test. Built-in test set with each SURECLOR. Many municipal water works install SURECLOR as emergency standby unit for gaseous chlorinators.

CHILDRESS, May 12 (U.P.)—The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Thomas of Childress fell from the family car today and was crushed to death.

Mrs. Thomas was backing the car out of the driveway when the accident occurred. The baby, Linda Yvett Thomas, 17 months old, lived but 20 minutes after the accident.

The Uruguayan government has purchased British-owned railways in Uruguay.

DECENCY WINS

Hague Is Unhorsed

THE DEFEAT of the "Boss" Hague political machine which has held Jersey City, N. J., in its corrupt grip for more than 30 years represented much more than a victory for governmental decency in that city. It was a victory for honest government throughout the U. S.

The election was national in significance because Hague's influence has been national in scope. Throughout the Franklin Roosevelt regime, Hague was one of the party's inner council which shaped national and international policies. It was notorious in Washington that he came and went at the White House just about as he pleased.

The Truman administration is due no credit for the overthrow of the Hague machine, although it probably contributed to the defeat of the Jersey City boss. But, if this happened, it was revenge for Hague's having bolted the Truman ticket last fall.

Administration bigwigs could not forgive him for rebelling. Considerations of decency in government did not enter into their feeling. They sought and accepted the help the rotten Hague machine would give as long as they could get it. They finally hurned upon Hague, not because he personifies just about everything that is bad in government, but because he refused to use his power for their purposes.

However, the fact of his defeat is far more important than the manner of its accomplishment. It removes one of the rottenest of all apples from the governmental barrel. It reduces by one the steadily declining number of American municipalities ruled by machines with enough influence to help mold the policies which affected every American.

Deserved Honor

AMONG the 45 men who have served as Speakers of the U. S. House of Representatives, Texans are justified in pride that two of the most distinguished are products of this state, in the persons of John N. Garner, former Vice President, and Sam Rayburn, the present Speaker.

The distinction is not a small one. The statesmanlike quality of Speakers has been high. The influence of Speakers over national affairs long has been said to be second only to that of the President. The House usually has been jealously careful to choose men worthy of that honor and trust.

Perspective as yet does not allow an accurate evaluation of Mr. Rayburn's true stature among the Speakers. This will be something for historians of the future to judge. But his contemporaries agree that he possesses one quality never surpassed, if equalled, by any predecessor. Never has any Speaker been held in higher esteem or greater confidence by the members over whom he presides than Mr. Rayburn. Seldom, if ever, has any one member had more personal influence among his colleagues than this "Gentleman from Texas"—Bonham, Texas, to be specific.

Texans everywhere, therefore, will share his pride at having been chosen by Collier's magazine as the House member who rendered the most outstanding services to the nation last year.

The honor is a high one, indeed, without considering the $10,000 which goes with it. But Texans will be pardoned for their bias if they feel the award is no more than deserved recognition of one of their own.

Now, We've Seen Everything

Island Of Escape

By HUGH LAWRENCE NELSON
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Four lonely women, chosen through a matrimonial club, are candidates to be bride of Henry Gough Harding, creator of a "New Eden" to renounce the rest of the world on Spears Island. But already there are many cross currents stirring on the island. Harding does not seem to notice these, nor that Bea Cosgrove is not really the spinster school teacher she pretends to be. Instead, Harding gives her the history of the island to read. This tells of a hoard of gold in the "Cave of Gasps," from which sounds emerge due to the action of wind and water on rock. That night a storm hits the island. And a face is seen at the door.)

IX

THEN they were all in the main room and all could see. Harding unbarred the door and a gust of wind pushed a staggering girl inside.

"She's hurt!" Bea snapped.

Lilly Warren reached the girl first, put her arms around her.

"The others—outside," the girl gasped. "Please help them." The halter and shorts she wore were shredded, her blond hair was matted, sand filled.

Harding and Mabel Jones went out into the windy dark. Bea Cosgrove saw Lilly Warren give the newcomer a drink, saw the change of expression on her face when she looked up at her benefactress.

Lilly Warren said sharply, "Be quiet, you're all right now. Just be quiet."

The others, accompanied by Harding and Mabel Jones, entered. The two men were George Bascombe and Fred Sillwell, and the girl carried between them was Mollie Stark. Nona McGuire, the girl who first came to the house, gave their names.

Fred's principal clothing was a bulging money belt, while George's once white pants were stained and in rags, showing the source of the blood-stained bandage around Mollie's thigh.

Harding relieved them of their burden, carried the whimpering and nearly unconscious girl to the long table.

Sillwell flexed his muscles, looked around. "Whiskey!" he said. He snatched a bottle and drank deeply.

George Bascombe had lost his glasses. He blinked painfully in the light.

Harding said, "This girl is hurt. I think it would be better if the rest of you went to the kitchen. Mrs. Warren will get you what you need. Miss Cosgrove can help me. We'll have to see to that leg."

HENRY GOUGH HARDING made a neat job of the bandage. He pressed down the adhesive, snipped an end, and put the scissors in the tray Bea Cosgrove held: "That should do it. I hope there won't be too much of a scar. Nothing else wrong I can find."

Mollie Stark lay on the table. The white cover beneath her body was bloodstained, and her tan was undermined by fatigue and loss of blood.

From behind the closed door to the kitchen came a faint clatter of stove lids, the scrape of metal pot bottoms, and the low murmur of voices.

Bea took a clean sheet from a chair and spread it over the girl.

Henry Harding looked up. "We'll put her in my room. I can use the next story and be handy if she needs anything. She will sleep soon from the morphine."

"You did a good job," Bea said.

"It was necessary for my plan to know something of medicine and surgery," Harding said shortly. He picked up the girl.

She opened her eyes. "Mollie feels better. All warm and dreamy. You're a nice man to make me feel better. I like you."

"That's a good girl," Harding said. He put her down on his cot Bea had made ready.

The girl straightened out, sighed deeply. Her eyes closed. "Kiss me good night," she murmured.

"I guess she means you," he told Bea.

Miss Cosgrove knew better, but she stepped forward dutifully.

Miss Stark's eyes opened. For just a few seconds Bea looked into them. She recoiled involuntarily. "Not you," Mollie said. Her eyes half closed again. "The nice man."

Harding bent down. He tried to kiss her forehead, but she moved and he found her lips instead. Mollie's arms tightened for an instant behind his neck, then relaxed and dropped to the bed. "Sleep now," she announced. "Safe."

Harding stood up. He watched Bea pull up the covers, tuck them loosely around the patient. He put a finger to his lips, moved toward the door on tiptoe.

In the main room, Miss Cosgrove cleared away the instruments, and folded up the blood-stained table coverings. Harding stood staring at nothing.

"She's sweet, isn't she," he said at last.

BATHS, a green gown for Nona McGuire, and overlarge Harding shirts and pants for the men, improved their appearance. Fred and George tossed blame for the accident back and forth.

"Yackety yack, yackety, yack," Nona said impatiently. "For the last week on the Gullwing, I had to listen to you two argue. Can't you let up here?"

"Sorry we bore you," Fred Sillwell said.

"I still say we should have taken on more fuel," George insisted. He kept blinking, trying to see without his glasses.

"If you'd started the auxiliary when I told you," Fred said.

"If I'd gone down to start it, I'd have gone on down," George pointed out. "No, we should have had more fuel."

"More fuel?" Nona snorted. "We should have had a sailor along."

"We hit the island right on the nose didn't we?" Sillwell demanded.

"You've got something there," Nona admitted. "But did you have to hit it so hard?"

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

VIVIEN KELLAMS, doughty Connecticut manufacturer of cable grips, has another gripe.

As you probably know, "our Vivian," as she is called locally, has been fighting the Government for several years.

BRANDEIS

Uncle Sam has no right, she claims, to demand that she, an employer, withhold old-age taxes from her workers' wages.

If she is to act as a government agent she wants to be paid for it. So she refuses to withhold the taxes and writes fiery letters to the Secretary of the Treasury. She dares him to put her in jail.

Instead, he just attaches her bank account occasionally and fines her, and Vivien swears she will win out in the end.

The whole thing smacks a bit of the comic and some day, I suppose, somebody is going to set the whole thing to music and get Howard Cullman or Mike Todd to produce it on Broadway.

However, Vivien's latest gripe is something else.

She went before the Connecticut State Legislature and demanded that females shouldn't be called females any longer but women. She says "females" is undignified and places women in the same category with minors.

Women are not minors, says Vivien, but they are just as goshdarn good as men.

"It is highly derogatory and an insult to women" are her exact words.

I have the highest respect for Vivien Kellems. She is a fine business woman and certainly knows how to get herself a lot of publicity.

But there is one trouble with Vivien.

She isn't married.

Let any married woman tell her who is the boss in the average household.

Let any married man say to Vivien that he is the boss, and I say that man is either a liar, average household.

There is one exception.

In my house, I am the boss.

I give the orders, and my wife does as she pleases.

I tell my wife what to do and she tells me to mind my own business.

And, would you believe it? I like it.

WE MEN have to make so many decisions on our own and most of us have to fight pretty hard to get ahead.

So it is nice to have a "female" around the house—a weak, depending, soft, clinging-vine sort of female who keeps us out of so much mischief and makes us believe that our snively little cold is as important as a deadly case of pneumonia.

And most of these "females" who, in Miss Kellems' opinion are "derogated" and "insulted" by being called females, forget all about their equality and strength when there is a June moon, or a birthday or anniversary of theirs to be remembered.

As far as I am concerned females are every bit as good as males. But God forbid that their tear ducts ever run dry.

DEMO LEADERS CLAIM

Key States Ignored

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The political bosses of two of the nation's electorally influential states have vouchsafed mild complaints to the White House that they have been utterly neglected in the distribution of such key posts as Cabinet, diplomatic and federal agency assignments since Harry S. Truman succeeded Franklin D. Roosevelt.

They have warned him in a friendly manner that this neglect may eventually break down the strength of their state and local organizations, and turn their territory over to the Republicans in next year's critical Congressional contests, and possibly in the 1952 presidential election.

TUCKER

The two great states which have been exiled from high place and preferment under the Missouri regime, strange as it may seem, are New York and Pennsylvania. As of the moment they have no member of the Cabinet and hardly anybody in a position of comparable significance.

CABINETTEERS: Under F.D.R., New York had four at one time—Stimson, Farley, Perkins and Morgenthau. Pennsylvania usually had one or two Cabinetteers, including such representatives as the late William H. Woodin in Treasury, Francis J. Biddle in Justice and Frank Walker in the Post Office.

Their industrial and economic rank, according to current complaints, entitle them to greater recognition. For this reason certain Pennsylvanians are pushing Federal Judge James F. McGranery for Attorney General when Tom Clark of Texas quits.

The Empire State's spokesmen, who include business men and industrialists as well as politicians, have filed a claim for either Labor or Commerce, or possibly both. They have heard that Secretary Tobin of Massachusetts may leave Labor, and that Secretary Sawyer of Ohio may give up Commerce to return to the practice of law.

DISCRIMINATION: Until the politicos and their U.S. Chamber of Commerce friends awoke to the changing pattern at Washington, they had not realized what a vast shift in the center of political gravity had occurred since the man from Missouri succeeded the Squire of Hyde Park.

The Cabinet now consists of only two men from the East—Acheson of Connecticut (his home is really Maryland) and Tobin of the Bay State. There are five from the Middle West—Snyder of Missouri, Sawyer of Ohio, Johnson of West Virginia, Donaldson of Illinois and Krug of Wisconsin. Texas supplies another member—Attorney General Clark.

The Far West, like the New Yorkers and Pennsylvanians, feels that it suffers from similar discrimination. Californians want a man from their section when, as expected, J. A. Krug resigns from interior. They do not believe that the incumbent from Wisconsin has a good grasp of their problems.

SERIOUS: It is true that a Cabinet post does not mean much in the way of bread-and-butter political jobs to local and state leaders. But it does weaken their prestige and lose them caste when they are unable to boast that they helped to appoint a "big name" to the presidential family.

To business men and industrialists from such sections as New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Michigan and Illinois, however, the selection of men for key assignments is of serious concern.

In fact, the complaints about the "maldistribution" of Truman appointees came to a crescendo during the annual convention here last week of the members of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

DETRIMENTAL: Aggravating this feeling of neglect of their communities and interests is the fact that, under Democratic control of Congress, most of the juicy chairmanships fall to Southern Democrats with a different and sometimes hostile viewpoint.

Speaker Rayburn of Texas now runs the House, whereas Joseph W. Martin, jr., had that influential post under the G.O.P. Alben W. Barkley, a plantation Democrat from Kentucky, has taken over the Senate gavel from Senator Vandenberg of Michigan.

Whereas New York, Michigan, New Jersey and New England held the most important chairmanships in the last session, the majority of committee chairmen now come from below the Mason and Dixon Line.

Rightly or wrongly, the group with these grievances feels that President Truman's alleged anti-business and anti-industry complex derives from the fact that he has so few men from industrial areas among his advisers.

Otherwise, they believe that he would not emphasize labor, taxes, business, farm and costly welfare experiments which they regard as detrimental to their interests.

CONFEDERATE: Three of the most conservative Republicans on Capitol Hill — former House Majority Leader Charles A. Halleck and Senators Homer E. Capehart and William E. Jenner—plan to attend the annual dinner of the Indianapolis Press club Thursday evening. It is regarded as an extremely important political event in the Hoosier State.

In preparing for introducing them, the master of ceremonies wrote to Dan Kidney, a waggish Washington correspondent from Indiana. The toastmaster wanted to know "how I shall present them?"

Thinking of the trio's role in the anti-Truman coalition of Southern Democrats and Republicans, Dan wired:

"Present them with a Confederate flag!"

"Ninety out of 100 men have troublesome wives," says a judge. The other ten, we take it, are unmarried.

"A teacher in a British college is learning how to talk with monkeys."—Press report. His professional experience will no doubt be of great help to him in this endeavor.

The other day an exasperated weatherman threw his maps, charts and figures for the day into the wastebasket and predicted, "Probable change."

"It costs more to live in the United States than in any country in the world," says a columnist. Even if so, brother, it's worth it.

If it is true, as alleged, that Washington couldn't tell a lie, how did he manage to get so far in politics?

"The world is 11 billion years old," says a geologist. What! No older than that? How could it have got in such a fix in a mere billion years?

A man can be considerate of his wife. An example: A Pennsylvania woman told authorities, "My husband told me he wanted me to have anything I desired, so I poisoned him in order to collect his insurance."

The love of money may be the root of all evil, but it is also the root of much good. If we didn't love it, we wouldn't work for it, and if we didn't work for it, most of us would starve to death.

Believe It Or Not -- By Robert Ripley

PLANS LAID FOR ELECTIONS

Labor Marks Foes In Congress

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Significant shifts of strategy have resulted from the rough shakedown cruise of President Truman and organized labor in the House last week.

President Truman, himself, formally recognized the long and hard fight ahead to get the sort of labor law he wants when he told a press conference that he still has four years to achieve his objective. This likewise was recognized by labor leaders upon whom the stalemate in the House had two effects:

1. To spur them to start now, well ahead of schedule, their campaign to get a more sympathetic Congress in next year's congressional elections, which is the immediate target. They are aiming first at the primary elections which begin next spring, less than a year off.

STOKES

2. In preparing for their 1950 campaigns, they now have come to accept what they call "the Dixiecrat-reactionary Republican coalition" in Congress as a party in itself. Their object, then, is to reduce the strength of this second major party—which the CIO calls "Dixie-GOPs"—both north and south of the Mason-Dixon line, and irrespective of party label.

This approach was well put by Jack Kroll, head of CIO's Political Action committee, in emphasizing the importance of next year's congressional elections, when he said:

"I am confident that, as a nation, we are making additional progress toward the clear alignment of liberal and conservative forces and toward the further development of an electorate that will decide between candidates on the basis of issues and not on the basis of party labels."

Both Democratic party and labor strategists are aware of the hard fight ahead in the 1950 congressional elections. The strength of a party in power is nearly always reduced in off-year congressional elections, and in this case the party in power, the Democrats, has the bulk of members sympathetic with labor aims. Off-year weakness of a party in power is attributable partly to the fact that a president, himself, if not a candidate, and is unable to translate his influence and the weight of his office to the degree that he is when he, himself, is running and campaigning personally on broad national issues.

Labor has learned a lot in recent years about the necessity of vigilant, down-to-the-precinct organization in off-year congressional elections. In 1942 its vote was reduced considerably by the necessary migration of millions of workers from their homes to war plants elsewhere, with the result that many were not registered, some because they could not meet residence qualifications, others because of lack of interest. A direct result of labor setbacks in that wartime election was the organization by the late Sidney Hillman of CIO's Political Action committee.

The PAC was highly effective in the 1944 presidential election when labor provided the margin of victory for Franklin D. Roosevelt. In 1946 labor got another setback, in which a number of factors played a part, including another reshuffling of population after the war, similar to that in 1942, and divisions within labor, itself.

These reverses have had their effect. Labor now has become very Congress-conscious from a very simple lesson, which was that it was thwarted in Congress constantly even though there was a friendly president in the White House. Its major emphasis in the 1948 elections, it may be recalled, was on election of a friendly Congress, which was due in part to its new Congress-consciousness and in part to a lukewarm attitude of some labor leaders toward Harry Truman.

Its Congress-consciousness is illustrated in a manner of technique. CIO national headquarters here sends out to its members every week a very thorough and detailed digest of the legislative status of measures in which labor is interested and how members voted on issues that week. It puts the finger constantly on its "enemies." By the time of the 1950 congressional elections labor voters will be completely briefed on their congressman and senator from the record and can't be fooled by glib campaign talk.

They were thus informed about the vote last week on the Wood bill, that carbon copy of the Taft-Hartley act, which labor fought and which ultimately was sent back to committee. Labor's position in the House is somewhat better than is generally appreciated, for of the 168 members it supported in November—157 Democrats and 11 Republicans—only five voted for the Wood bill. Of the 112 members of this House who were not members of the House in the last Congress, 94 voted against the Wood bill. Also, the vote for the Wood bill was 217, as compared with 331 for the Taft-Hartley act two years ago.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 12 (AP)—Cotton futures reacted sharply today under liquidating and hedging pressure. This more than offset short covering in nearby May and buying against export business.

Sentiment that the expiration of the nearby May contracts Friday will bring new crop developments into the market as a more dominant influence caused some selling.

Futures closed 35 cents to $1.00 a bale lower than the previous close.

PHILADELPHIA, May 12 (AP)—A tack was removed today from seven-year-old Bobby Sanders' lung.

The Crowell, Tex., youngster swallowed the upholstering tack Sunday. Wichita Falls equipment could not reach the tack and he was brought by private plane to Temple university's bronchoscopic clinic here.

Hospital officials said the operation was successful. The boy is in good condition and will be permitted to leave for home Sunday or Monday.

Near Penang, two Chinese fishermen landed a rare 14-foot sawfish weighing 971 pounds, after a three-hour struggle.

Ed Wynn Goes To Hollywood For Mad Hatter Role In Walt Disney's 'Alice In Wonderland'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 12. — If you looked the world over you wouldn't find a better mad hatter than Ed Wynn, who has been a mad hatter on the stage for years. Well, Ed is going to play the mad hatter in Walt Disney's "Alice In Wonderland," and when I talked with Walt today he was delighted.

Ed, who now says he is Keenan Wynn's father, needn't be so modest. I knew him when! I mean—when he ate corn on the cob with a machine, had a trick typewriter, and 50 funny hats—stage tricks, of course.

He has wanted to do something in the movies for a long time, but always hesitated until he got the right part. Well, this is it, Ed. Congratulations to you, Walt and to "Alice."

Actress Resumes Work

Ann Blyth, who has been on suspension for refusing to play the lead in "Abandoned," will be back to work soon. She goes to Samuel Goldwyn for "Commencement," a story by F. Hugh Herbert.

It isn't a lendout, however. Ann is still in Dutch with her Universal-International bosses. But I don't think they will stay cross at her long, because she's a wonderful girl, and this is the first time she has ever kicked up her heels.

Seems that Sam lent Dana Andrews to William Goetz and in return, he gets Ann Blyth. Lucky Sam—she's a swell little actress.

Singers Take Stage

The Henry Ginsbergs hosted a small dinner at the Mocambo after the opera last week. Bing Crosby and Dorothy Kirsten, who were among the guests, started singing duets, which were out of this world, but naturally, with those two.

Dorothy's triumph in Hollywood has brought great happiness to her friends. She was wonderful in "La Moheme," and even better in "La Traviata" Saturday night. When you can get cheers out of a cold Los Angeles audience, that's really something.

Romance Reported

Rod Cameron and Marie Windsor are soaring with the thermometer.

Guess who is in town? Clara Bow and Rex Bell, looking sun tanned and sassy from their Nevada ranch, getting plenty of glances at the Vine street Derby.

Janet Gaynor and Adrian will be home Sunday from their African trek, which means the Jeffrey Lynns, who have been renting their home, will be house hunting.

Turhan Bey cancelled his trip to Europe, including Mama's and Grandma's, because his astrologer said the signs were "agin" it. So he's accepted a singing role in a road musical titled "Off The Show."

Roy Roland, the MGM director, is crowding Ronald Colman for his honors as top caller for square dances.

Wedding Date Set

The wedding date for Mickey Rooney and Martha Vickers is May 23—or it is at this writing.

Susan Peters should be wonderful playing Elizabeth Barrett in "Barretts Of Wimpole Street" in summer stock in New England. She tours for three months and then goes into "The Glass Menagerie."

Actress, Husband Team Up

Just heard that Gloria Haley is heading for Chicago to go into "Inside USA" with her old man, Jack Haley.

Louis Hayward's wife, Peggy, is coming home with an all-Italian designed wardrobe that, it is said, will knock your eye out. Same stylist who whipped up Linda Christian Power's trousseau.

Night club "biz" should certainly pick up when Joe E. Lewis checks into Ciro's next month.

The veil Ottolie Kruger wears for her June 2 wedding in New York is cut from the same bolt of lace from which Princess Elizabeth had her veil made.

Romance is certainly in the air. Olympic swimming star, Ann Curtiss, marries Gordon Cunio on May 28, in San Francisco. He is the former USC basketball star.

Ray Driscoll, former designer who used to go in for lists of "ten best—and worst dressed men," is turning actor. He's been in Mexico for four months.
