Second Texan Is Claimed By Heat

AMERICAN TOLL HIKED TO 766 IN CURRENT TORRID SPREE

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, July 1.—Hot weather claimed its second Texas victim yesterday as the death toll from heat in the United States reached the 750 mark.

Jack Moyer, refinery employee at Greenville, died after being overcome by the heat. Ed Storey, 63, dropped dead while working in a cotton field Monday near Tyler.

(By The Associated Press)

July came today with a record heat wave still prevailing in many sections of the country.

Temperature relief, which came to North Dakota and Minnesota yesterday, was on its way to the other central states today—but would hardly arrive before tonight or tomorrow, weather forecasters said.

And as the cooler weather came, it apparently pushed the heat wave farther into the east and south where yesterday heat records were broken in Virginia, Pennsylvania, the Carolinas and Georgia.

Promise of relief in the middle-west seemed short lived. Comparing his records, the weather man said they showed that hot Junes are followed, two out of three times, by torrid Julys.

Total deaths attributable to the heat during the last 24 hours, including drownings and one youth killed in an electrical storm at St. Louis, were estimated at approximately 230. Total deaths for the current heat wave were set at about 766.

ON HONEYMOON

William Powell (below) noted film actor, and his bride, the former Carole Lombard (top), also of the movies, have sailed for a honeymoon in Honolulu. Their wedding was quiet and free from all publicity, only immediate relatives of the bride and groom attending the nuptials. Powell is 38 and his wife 22.

County Commission Meets Here Today

County Commissioners court met at the courthouse at about 10 o'clock this morning. The called session continued until early afternoon.

Upkeep of the courthouse lawn on the west side of the square and procurement of right-of-way on state highway No. 137 were to be considered by the court. Definite action was expected on the city's proposal to furnish water for the lawn without cost if a water-line not less than two inches in diameter were installed, and care of the pipe were placed under supervision of the city park department head.

A plumber's estimate of cost of replacing the present inch-and-a-quarter line was to be studied.

Commissioner Claude Burrus was to report progress in obtaining added right-of-way for No. 137.

BETTER TIMES PREDICTED

SURVEY STATES BASIS BEING LAID FOR A RECOVERY PERIOD

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 1.—In a mid-year economic survey published today by Standard Statistics Co., states "it is our opinion that the basis is being laid for an extended period of recovery."

The United States government's declaration of policy relative to foreign debts, the survey continues, appeared at a time when we had "reached a point where deflation in values, efficiency in operation, and overdeferred demand have made the entire business fabric unusually sensitive to any manifestly constructive or inflationary development."

Standard Statistics sees the main significance of the government's declaration "in the definite reassurance it has created that a latent buying power of tremendous proportions existed just beneath the exterior of drab pessimism of the past few months."

While the statistical organization acknowledges that recovery is likely to be protracted and subject to interruptions, it explains, "the important thing, as we see it, however, is that the instigating causes of the downward trend in prices and activity has been largely removed, for the time being, at least."

Hawks Lauds Feat Of Gatty And Post

QUEBEC, July 1. (AP)—Captain Frank M. Hawks, American speed flyer who was here today after coming from Europe on the liner Empress of France, praised the feat of Post and Gatty.

"There are two men who are demonstrating the value of speed in air travel," he said. "Have you heard their remarks about weather conditions? Of course not. They can fly [illegible] the weather, that's Every [illegible] Noon [illegible] p.

Wheat Farmers Offered Farm Boost

GRAIN READY TO LIMIT SALES OF WHEAT

TO MANAGE PROGRAM NOT TO DEPRESS MOVEMENTS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Wheat growers and traders who have been appealing to President Hoover for protection in the domestic market today had a promise of assistance from the farm board that the grain stabilization corporation would limit the sales from July 1, 1931, until today to a cumulative total of 5,000,000 bushels.

Exceptions Foreign Sales

Sales to foreign governments or their agencies now being considered were excepted by the board, as were sales for the purpose of clearing trade channels for other efficient merchandising purposes. These, it was assured, would be promptly replaced by purchase of an equal quantity of wheat.

Furthermore, the board promised the sales program would be so managed as not to depress price movements.

Immediate sale "even of those limited amounts" were not contemplated, the board said, at the present range of prices.

At the same time, however, the farmer was warned that ultimate profitable wheat production rests with him. Citing an increase in the surplus, the board urged as the only final solution of the wheat growers' difficulty a sharp reduction in the forthcoming wheat plantings.

"Without such reduction there is little hope of any long term continued profitable wheat production in the United States in competition with new wheat countries abroad," the board asserted. "With such action there would be an immediate reflection in increased prices of this year's crop."

The relief promise rejected pleas to have the stabilization corporation announce definite prices below which it would not sell its holdings. Vice President Curtis recently urged that wheat be held until the price reached 85 cents or $1.

MORE DAMAGES ARE SOUGHT IN SUIT

$80,000 IS ASKED IN AMENDED PETITION OF MRS. EUBANKS

Damages totaling $80,000 are asked in an amended petition by Mrs. Claude Eubanks of Lubbock against H. L. Schwalbe, highway contractor, and the Panhandle & Santa Fe Railway Company, whom she accuses of negligence in the death of her husband, Fletcher S. Eubanks, former county auditor.

The petition was filed in Ninety-ninth district court yesterday afternoon. Eubanks was injured fatally early A[illegible] 9 when his light coupe [illegible] a 20-foot embankment at an underpass under construction [illegible] state highway No. 9 [illegible] south of Monroe. His skull was crushed and his body bruised terribly. A verdict of accidental death was returned by a peace [illegible]

Suit Amended

Amended to a suit filed by Mrs. Eubanks April 20, Wednesday's petition asks $50,000 damages for the widow; $25,000 for her 9-year-old daughter, Betty Jane Eubanks; and $2,500 each for J. N. Eubanks, parent of the dead man. The $50,000 asked by the widow was the sum sought in the first petition. Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Eubanks live near Ralls in Crosby county.

The amended petition states that Schwalbe, doing business as the Interstate Contracting company, had contracted with the state to pave highway No. 9 from Lubbock to the Hale county line, and that his contract required that he "place proper signs at all places of danger for the protection of the public and exercise other precautions to protect persons using the road from hazards created by construction work."

The petition charges that Schwalbe and the Panhandle & Santa Fe railway were negligent in their alleged failure to provide barriers and signs where the excavation for the underpass crossed the old roadway.

Eubanks was using the old roadway when he went over the embankment, the petition states.

FREIGHT RATE CUT OKEHED

ICC ORDER FOR LOWER RATES ON GRAIN IS UPHELD BY COURT

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 1.—An interstate commerce commission order for lower freight rates on grain in western trunk line territory today had the approval of the United States district court.

The court yesterday dissolved a temporary injunction obtained by western carriers restraining the commission from putting its order into effect.

Attorneys for the railroads said the case probably would be appealed to the United States supreme court. Meanwhile, they added, the decision would not put the new rates into effect immediately, as a further order of the commission, giving the carriers fifteen days time would be required.

The interstate commerce commission's order, raising freight rates on many coarse grains out reducing rates on wheat throughout the western district, was announced last July 2 and was to have gone into effect last October 1. Its enforcement was postponed several times at the request of the railroads.

NO AGREEMENT IS MADE ON DEBT PLAN

MELLON, EDGE, LAVAL CONFER ON HOOVER DEBT PROPOSAL

By The Associated Press

PARIS, July 1.—The Franco-American negotiators concluded their meeting this afternoon without arriving at an agreement on the Hoover war debt plan. They will meet again tomorrow.

At the close of this afternoon's session, at which Secretary Mellon and Ambassador Edge represented the American government, and Premier Laval spoke for France, an official communique was issued.

Text Communicated

"Messrs. Mellon and Edge communicated the text of a document designed to make clear the position of the American government in the present negotiations," the communique said.

"This document reveals, moreover, simultaneously the will of the American government to continue the negotiations and the divergences of the views still appreciable between the two governments.

"This document will be published in Washington by the American government. It will be studied by the French ministers and examined tomorrow at a meeting of the cabinet.

"The next meeting of the negotiators has been arranged for 9:30 p. m. tomorrow (7:30 p. m. C. S. T.)

Insecticide Held Cause For Death

FORT WORTH, July 1. (AP)—An insecticide used by a neighbor to spray fruit trees was blamed today for the death of Betty Jean Rogers, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Rogers, here yesterday.

Mrs. Rogers and her daughter, Vida 16, were ill today, and three other children, Marie, 7, Floyd, 9, and Charles Otis, 11, were recovering from the effects of the poisoning.

Justice Prichard returned a verdict of death from accidental poisoning when the neighbor revealed that she had sprayed her trees with the insecticide and presumed that the children ate some of the fruit.

Village Declines To Welcome Fliers

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, July 1.—(AP)—The municipality of Aarhus, capital of the native country of Holger Hotrils, has refused to give Heirils and Otto Hillig, his companion in the trans-Atlantic flight of the airplane Liberty, an official welcome, according to reports published today.

The newspaper Politiken quotes Burgomaster Jacob Jensen as saying the flight was haphazard luck, the aviators nearly missing Europe and hitting Spain when they were aiming at Denmark.

After visiting several cities in Jutland the fliers intended to demount their plane and return to New York from a French port.

American Consulate Is Stoned By Reds

BERLIN, July 1. (AP)—The building housing the American consulate was stoned by a band of young communists last night as part of a series of outbreaks in various sections of the city. Four were arrested.

Consul General George S. Messersmith said he was not entirely unprepared for the incident.

"For days we have been receiving threatening letters about the execution of negroes from young fellows whose messages clearly showed they didn't know what it was all about," he said. "According to advices from police headquarters the four arrested denied being communists or having had anything to do with the stone hurling."

MAJOR DOOLITTLE, 34, WILL QUIT RACING DUE TO "ADVANCED YEARS"

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 1.—Major James H. (Jimmie) Doolittle, one of the world's greatest speed fliers, has decided to quit racing, because of "my advanced years." He is 34.

But it may not be strictly accurate to say he has decided on this course, not all by himself.

"Mrs. Doolittle," he said today, "has made up our mind that the time has come to give up racing."

Doolittle, who was a major in the army before he resigned to enter commercial aviation, recalled that some time ago he gave up exhibition flying because his wife disapproved.

"It isn't that she disapproves of racing," he said, "but she feels that I've done my share and it isn't just the thing for one of my advanced years."

Doolittle had expected to participate in the National Air races at Cleveland this year, but last week he flew his entry to pieces in the air at St. Louis. It began breaking up as he was flying 100 feet above the ground at about 200 miles an hour, but he zoomed it to 300 and stepped out, landing safely in his parachute.

He still has hopes of obtaining a plane worthy of entering in the Cleveland races. If he does he will have one last fling at speed. If not, he is done now.

Girl Testifies Today In Breach Of Promise Suit

ROBBINS, JONES OFF FOR SEATTLE

BOISE, Idaho, July 1. (AP)—Reg L. Robbins and H. S. Jones took off for Seattle at 10 a. m. (C. S. T.) today in their glistening white monoplane on the second leg of a proposed flight from Fort Worth, Tex., to Tokyo for the $25,000 prize offered by the Japanese newspaper Tokyo Asahi.

The fliers arrived here last night having covered the 1,400 miles in about 14 hours without any stops.

The two are eager to begin the flight this week because of the advantage of moonlight. From Seattle the plane, Fort Worth, will hop to Fairbanks, Alaska, for the first refueling and will take on its final load at Nome. The refueling plane was enroute today to Edmonton, Alberta, and from there will fly to Fairbanks.

Testimony Studied In Proration Case

AUSTIN, July 1.—(AP)—The railroad commission today was studying testimony taken in a hearing finished yesterday in an effort to establish a new oil proration policy for East Texas.

Advocates of the Cranfill or East Texas plan asked the commission for an order embodying the principle of that plan, but they consented to a reduction of the field allowable from the 300,000 barrels daily. They originally wanted, to 250,000 barrels daily.

Opponents insisted the 250,000 barrel figure was too high and asked the commission to fix allowables in proportion to potentials rather than on a flat well basis.

Three Acquitted Of Game Law Violation

AUSTIN, July 1 (AP)—William J. Tucker, executive secretary of the state game, fish and oyster department and three other employes of that department, were acquitted in justice court here yesterday on a charge of violating the game laws.

The four were alleged to have kept venison in cold storage beyond the legal limit for serving at a dinner given the legislature January 16.

Officers acquitted of the misdemeanor charge were:

Neal Foster, assistant executive secretary; Clyde Rudasill, and Jim Pendleton, warden. The jury was out four minutes.

Texas Man Killed In Auto Accident

FAIRFIELD, July 1. (AP)—H. B. Riley, 28, of Frankston, was instantly killed and Virgil Stritchfield, 26, seriously injured, when the automobile in which they were riding collided with a truck loaded with pipe on the highway 15 miles east of Fairfield early today. The truck was parked on the highway. Virgil Meek, 17, third occupant of the car, was not injured.

WORLD FLIERS HOPE TO END HOP TODAY

NEW YORK TONIGHT'S GOAL OF FLIGHT AROUND GLOBE

By The Associated Press

IRONWOOD, Mich., July 1.—A large white airplane, flying too high to distinguish the markings flew over Little Girl's point, a county park in Lake Superior, about 11:30 this morning, Residents there reported to Ironwood, that all they could make out on the plane was a large letter "R."

McTAVISH, Man., July 1.(AP)—The Winnie Mae, round-the-world plane, passed over here at 9:22 a. m. (C. S. T.) today, flying very high, McTavish is 30 miles west of Winnipeg.

They had covered the distance of 700 miles from Edmonton, Alberta, in just under five hours, keeping up the fast pace they have maintained since the start of the world girdling flight.

Rain which had fallen here for the past 24 hours, ceased just before the takeoff, but it had left blanketing fields, where the plane landed yesterday, a quagmire from which a take off with the plane's heavy load of fuel would have been well nigh impossible.

Post ran the plane along the street for a quarter of a mile before it lifted into the air in the face of a northwest breeze. After gain-

Arrest Is Caused By License Plate

NEW ORLEANS, July 1 (AP)—Roy J. Hopkins, Galveston architect, reported to police today that when he left a night club this morning he accepted an invitation from a stranger for a ride to his hotel and was attacked and robbed of $60 after they had driven only a few blocks.

Forced from the car, Hopkins snatched the rear license plate loose and on this evidence police arrested Warden Levy, 23, shortly afterwards and charged him with assault and robbery.

HOPE HELD FOR RECOVERY OF THREE VICTIMS OF EMBALMING FLUID SPREE

By The Associated Press

HUNTSVILLE, July 1.—Hope was held today for recovery of three convicts after an embalming fluid "spree" inside the walls of state prison here Sunday that took the life of one.

Ernest Hamilton, 23, of Mingus, serving a five year term for liquor law violation in Palo Pinto county, died Monday from the effects of the embalming mixture.

Aubrey Charles, 26 of Nocona, serving two years for forgery from Hale county, William Duncan, 30, of McKinney, serving four years for theft in Erath county and Robert Stewart, 22, of Monroe, La., serving two years for theft from Harris county, are believed recovering.

Charles and Duncan were blinded temporarily by the mixture of wood alcohol and formaldehyde, but were able to see a bit this morning.

Duncan still was in a serious condition, Warden W. W. Waid said. Charles was not so violently ill and Stewart was recovering.

Warden Waid said an eight-

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

DR. MYERS

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

DO PARENTS HAVE RIGHTS?

AGAIN and again I have plead earnestly in these columns for understanding, sympathy and consideration by parents of their children. But to my readers these questions often must occur: "Don't parents have some rights also? Has not the child something to gain in likableness through a reasonable degree of deference to those responsible for his upbringing?" In my next book, "Building Personality in the Child at Home," I attempt to answer these questions as follows:

To be sure. Nor will it always follow that all children whose personality is meticulously respected by their parents will reciprocate. A good many conscientious parents who have gone not only the second mile with their children but the second hundredth; who have not only given up their coat and cloak but have worn a garment several years of age that their son or daughter might have the latest cut and model; who not only have given to their children when they asked, but have kept on giving as their children kept on asking more—such parents have themselves reached old age indigent, with no income of love and filial loyalty from those to whom they had given even themselves, leaving their children finally with pampered personalities.

O'Shea, in his "Newer Ways With Children," after lauding the child-parent camaraderie in our country in contrast with a different relationship in Europe, wonders whether many of our children are as deferential to their elders as they ought to be.

O'Shea is right. Children very early ought to learn their proper place. Comradeship with parents, to be healthy, always needs to carry with it a wholesome deference by the child toward the parent. Such an attitude comes not from demanding it, but from myriad instances of day by day living. Whereas we need to be courteous to our children, not interrupting them, not talking back to them nor contradicting them, we also need not cultivate these bad habits in them. Mother is telephoning. Kathleen of two coerces her attention; yells, tugs at her, strikes her until she asks the friend to "wait a minute." Kathleen gets what she wants. Both the mother and her friend had been imposed upon. Kathleen may acquire the habit of so interrupting her mother every time she talks on the telephone, or face to face, with her adult neighbor. This child needs correction. A sentence to the chair to sit for 15 minutes by the clock for every such offense should bring results.

Arlee of three tells her mother to "shut up," or calls her dad "a dirty bum." Her first offense is probably approved by smiles. It may be a mere imitation of a playmate. Sympathetic parents are disposed to ignore such reactions. They well might do so, even profanity, if the expression is the utterance of emotional emphasis. Not the word, but the attitude, is significant. When Arlee, however, calls her parents or any other adult names in an anti-social manner she should at once meet not with satisfaction but discomfort. On the other hand, there may be times when your older child or mine in good fun might properly and accurately call you or me a "dumb-bell."

We want our children also very early to exercise a deferential attitude toward our adult friends, particularly those who live near by, and to exercise due restraint and consideration for their property.

HOUR-GLASS IS SYMBOL OF MODERN ROASTING METHOD

Accuracy Is Assured in Controlled Roasting — Hills Bros.' Patented Process for Roasting Coffee

Better than anything else, an hour-glass symbolizes the exactness of Hills Bros.' patented, Controlled Roasting process. For as the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . . a little at a time . . . so the wonderful, unvarying flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by this patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time.

This is very different from ordinary, bulk-roasting methods. The results are very different too. You can judge them yourself, if you compare Hills Bros. with other coffees.

Hills Bros. has a finer, uniform flavor. Roasting it a little at a time makes this possible. For every berry receives the right amount of heat. None is underdone, none is overdone. The same delightful flavor is assured in every pound. Bulk-roasted coffee can't guarantee these things. No wonder Hills Bros. Coffee has and holds so many friends!

Hills Bros. Coffee comes in vacuum cans that keep it fresh. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed and kept out of these cans. Even ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

RIO DE JANEIRO — Heavy overcoats are being worn generally. The first cold snap of winter is on.

Big Snow Falls

WENATCHEE, Wash. — There has been snow in the Wenatchee mountains. A storm lasted an hour and a half. The fall on Brick creek ridge was two feet deep.

Summer Oysters

WASHINGTON— Oysters can be perfectly good in summer, J. d. Lemon, expert of the fisheries bureau, says the ban against them in months that lack an "r" developed before the general use of refrigeration. Frozen in April, oysters are available for consumption in June, July and August.

Nobody Stung

ALBANY, N. Y. — Antonio Martino parked his car next to that of a bee expert. It was just as well that he did, for when he returned a swarm of honey makers was very excess baggage on his luggage rack. The expert coaxed the bees into a box smeared with molasses. Nobody got stung.

Healthy Tribe

CAMBRIDGE, Md. — In 56 years there have been no deaths in the family of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Matthews. Seven sons are Knights Templar and three daughters are teachers. Four generations were represented at a recent family reunion.

ACTRESSES GET $35 A NIGHT

Main actors of Budapest, Hungary, are disgruntled over the wage scale just announced by the Theatre Managers association of the city. # Religious Difficulty May Force Papal Removal

Intimations that the Vatican may be transferred to Posen, Poland, if present differences between the church and the Italian state are not settled, recalls the fact that once, in the fourteenth century, the papacy was removed from Rome to Avignon, France, where the princes of the church dwelt in the Palace of the Popes, upper left, for 60 years. # NONE INJURED IN TWO CAR CRASHES

Although four automobiles figured in two collisions here last night, occupants of the cars escaped injuries, police were notified.

One collision occurred at Seventeenth street and Avenue T. The two automobiles were driven by W. E. Humphries, 1607 Eighteenth street, and Mrs. W. L. Burleson of Tahoka.

The other collision was at Thirteenth street and Avenue N. One of the machines was driven by L. B. Green, 1909 Eighth street, and the other was driven by Fred Breedlove, police said.

Compromise Made In Suit For Damages

STAUTON, Va., July 1 —(AP)—A compromise under which S. M. Swenson, of Orange, N. J., and his secretary, Miss Helen M. Bonner, will receive $11,500 was reached after the plaintiffs had partly completed testimony in a suit for $30,000 as the result of an automobile accident.

Swenson, a prominent real estate and cattle man, with large holdings in Texas and offices in New York City, and Miss Bonner entered suits for $20,000 and $10,000 respectively, after they were injured by a truck of the Standard Oil company in a collision on the Lee highway.

They were en route to White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., to join Mrs. Swenson when the accident occurred, May 27.

BUSINESS NOW ON UPGRADE

REVIEW OF FEDERAL RESERVE PICTURES SLOW BETTERMENT

DALLAS, July 1 (AP)—Business was reflected as slowly but steadily climbing toward its once lofty pinnacle of plenty in the Federal Reserve district, according to the regular monthly review of the Dallas branch compiled June 15 and just released.

The report said construction activity, as evidenced by the valuation of building permits issued in principal cities in the district, showed a further gain of 8 per cent over the previous month, but was 16 per cent less than in May a year ago.

Mixed Trends Seen

"Although mixed trends were visible, the volume of merchandise distribution at wholesale during May was fairly well sustained," the review stated. "Sales of groceries, hardware and drugs were smaller than in the previous month, but those of dry goods and farm implements increased. The further gain in dry goods sales may be attributed in part to the fact that merchants bought sparingly early in the season and have found it necessary to make frequent reorders to supply consumer demand. In the case of farm implements, the unusually large grain crops created a heavy demand for harvesting machinery."

The review said collections in two reporting lines were larger than in the previous month, while they were smaller in three lines.

Growth Rapid

"While the weather was almost too cool during the greater part of May to permit the proper development of row crops, growth since June 1 has been rapid and the condition of these crops at the present time may be considered generally satisfactory," the review said. "Planting operations are practically completed in all sections of the district and farmers have made rapid progress with the cultivation of crops. Fields generally are clean and in a good state of cultivation.

"Ranges and livestock throughout the district continued in good condition during the past month. While weeds had sapped the surface moisture over a considerable area, general rains during the latter part of May furnished the needed surface moisture and this, together with the abundance of sub-soil moisture, gave summer grass a good start in practically all areas. According to the Department of Agriculture, range conditions in most areas are ideal and all classes of livestock are fat. In Texas there is a large crop of lambs and the young animals have made unusually good growth. While the calf crop in Texas is smaller than in 1930, calves generally have made good growth.

Demands Expands

The review noted that the past 30 days witnessed a steady expansion in the demand for Federal Reserve Bank funds.

"This demand came almost entirely from country banks and reflected the need for funds for use in the cultivation of crops, for harvesting the large grain crops, and to off-set the decline in deposits," it stated. "Some liquidation was obtained from the marketing of sheep, wool and mohair, but it was insufficient to off-set the demands for agricultural and other purposes."

One hundred and ten nations of the world plan road construction for 1931 involving an outlay of $3,000,000,000. Of this amount the United States will spend the largest proportion on its highways, about two-thirds.

SOUND AND ITS ECHO, MADE VISIBLE BY HIGH-SPEED CAMERA, EXHIBITED

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP).—A sound and even its echo made visible by a camera taking 40,000 pictures a second were exhibited on a movie screen last night to army and navy ballistics and aviation experts.

The picture was part of an exhibition of air movements, ordinarily invisible, at the New York Museum of Science and Industry.

Moving Shadow

On the screen the sound was a moving shadow, behaving much like the waves that come from dropping a pebble into water. This sound was produced by an electric spark in a transparent, oily liquid. Before the sound, nothing was to be seen on the screen except a dark spot, which was the spark apparatus, and the outline of the glass vessel holding the liquid.

The effect of the spark was to compress the invisible particles in contact with it. This momentary change in their compression altered the angle of the light rays shining through them. Such an alteration ordinarily is invisible, being too rapid for the eye. But at 40,000 pictures a second, the light changes showed plainly as shadows ranging from a smoky looking line to occasional blackness. This shadow at the start always has ring-shaped, widening rapidly.

Echo Visible

All the sound were made in glass containers, so that when the widening ring reached the glass walls, it rebounded. This rebound also could be seen plainly. Actually it was the picture of an echo.

In some of these pictures the original sound bounded to and fro as many as 70 times, in the form of reverberations, before the shadow faded from view. Queer patterns these echoing sounds made. Some were a fretwork of moving angles and squares; others circular or eggshaped.

A cat belonging to F. L. Bradley of Weston, Texas, mothered two of her own kittens, three squirrels and a rabbit.

FAMILY AFFLICTED BY RARE DISEASE

TEXARKANA, July 1 (AP)—A family of five was under quarantine tonight after physicians reported that they were stricken with glanders, a rare disease.

Dr. K. M. Kelly, Miller county health officer, announced that E. A. Mulford, 40, Clara Mulford, 14, and Billy Mulford, 9, had positive cases. Other members of the family are Mrs. Mulford, 43, and Ernest, 12.

Health authorities declared that while glanders is common among horses and mules, it is rare among humans. Authorities said that only seven cases had been reported at Bellevue hospital, New York City in the past 30 years.

Mulford came here from Hugo, Okla., about six weeks ago to trade horses. He told officials he understood one of the horses had glanders.

The light makes a complete revolution every twelve hours, illuminating the sundial and causing it to show correct time by the shadows it casts.

LIONS CHOOSE COMMITTEES

REPORTS ARE MADE BY CHAIRMEN AT CLUB LUNCH TUESDAY

Personnel of major committees for the ensuing year was named at a luncheon of the Lions club Tuesday at the Hilton hotel following reports of committee chairmen for the club-year ending June 30. County Judge E. L. Pitts, president, presided.

Paul Sherrod, major activities chairman, reported 500 trees had been set in Lions park and two dams built there to assure a water-supply for trees and shrubs. Trees which died were replaced by donated trees, he said.

Park Is Project

Sherrod's report was supplemented by that of Robert Bean, chairman of park-care. Establishment and development of the park, was the major project undertaken by the Lions club here in 1930-31. Sherrod forecast additional development of the park and perfection of part of it in the next year.

The Lions club in the last year has furnished glasses for seven children, who were unable to attend school because of poor sight, and whose parents could not afford them glasses or treatment. Broken glasses and frames were replaced for those aided by the club. That was reported by Arthur L. Brown, chairman of child-care. A boy has been receiving treatment for cross-eyes at the expense of the club daily the last six months, and condition of his eyes has been improved to a marked extent, Brown reported. All children aided were less than 14 years old.

Vaughn E. Wilson, extension chairman, made a report.

Major standing committees named Tuesday were:

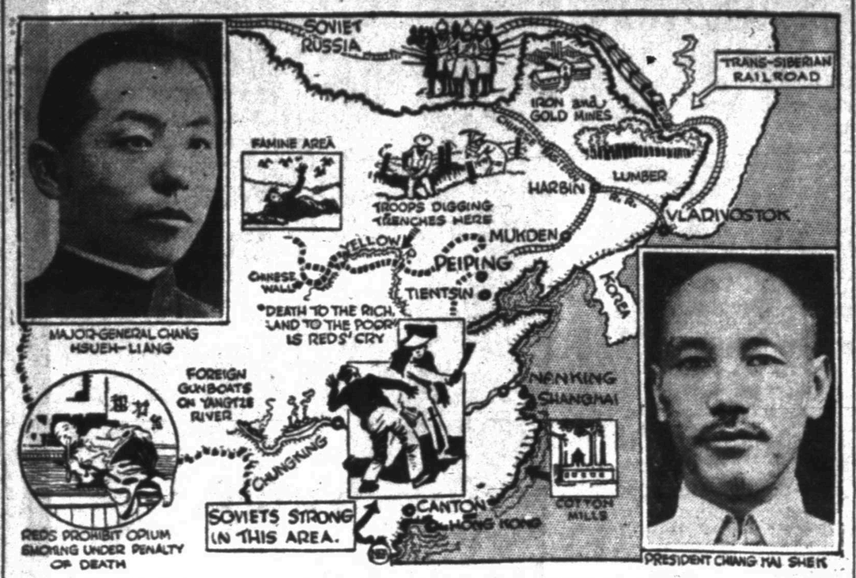

Membership — Chairman John Denman, Fred Litton, and Hurley Carpenter; major activities—Chairman Dr. S. S. McKay, Calvin Henson, Robert Bean, Paul Sherrod, and W. D. Girand; finance—Chairman Victor H. Lindsey, John Mitchell, and Clay Anderson; constitution and by-laws — Chairman Vaughn E. Wilson, Jess Levens and A. M. Hill.

Lion's education—Chairman Ben Condray, Rev. R. C. Campbell, and Joe Haymes publicity—Chairman Arthur L. Brown, William H. Evans, and Hugh Norman; extension—Chairman Rufus Scarbrough, Ben Kucera, F. C. Harbaugh, and Roy Riddle; reception—Chairman Bob Campbell, O. B. Conley, and Vernice Pond; attendance—Chairman Joe Bowman, Clayton A. Gammill, and E. H. McKinney.

Program committees — July: Chairman Stoney Wall, W. H. Carpenter, and T. H. Spindle; August: Chairman Ben Kucera, John Mitchell, and Ben Condray; September: Chairman Vaughn E. Wilson, Robert Bean, and Jess Levens.

October: Chairman J. O. Kuykendall, S. J. Boller, and John Edmisson; November: Chairman J. B. Morriset, C. G. Lindsey and J. H. Stiles.

China Faces 20th Summer Of Civil War

(By NEA Service)

Revolution-torn China, harried by bandits who murder, kidnap, burn and loot, and confronted by graver dangers in the increasing strength of native Communist forces in the south, is starting its 20th consecutive summer of civil warfare.

Oddly enough, the once loyal southern provinces from which President Chiang Kai-Shek launched his march to power in 1926 are now the strongholds of Chinese Communists who demand his overthrow.

Down-trodden workmen, poverty-stricken farmers who lease their lands from rich landlords and underpaid soldiers prove ready listeners to Communist agitators. As soon as they capture a district, they occupy all government offices and destroy all government records, especially land titles, declaring the property belongs to the people. This finds widespread popularity among poverty-stricken classes.

Communist troops are reported well organized. Opium smoking, and in some cases even tobacco, is prohibited under penalty of death.

The government is well aware of the graveness of the uprising in the Yangtze valley provinces, where there is a genuine rebel army with 300,000 soldiers, according to reports.

President Chiang Kai-Shek's situation is very difficult. There are a dozen independent armies of rival war loards to be contended with in addition to the Red troops. And in the north, there is the age-old sore spot where China rubs shoulders with Russia.

In central China, in the region of the Yellow River, troops are reported preparing airplane bases, and digging trenches.

The Nanking government must look for much of its aid from Marshal Hsueh-Liang, the young and powerful northern war loard, who has joined Chiang Kai-Shek.

Sterling Invited To July 4th Party

LAREDO, July 1 (AP)—Governor Ross Sterling has been invited to attend the celebration at Cotulla, July 4 and pull the ribbon barrier that will be stretched from each side of the arch across the LaSalle county paved highway and open it officially to traffic. This feature will follow a street parade. There will be a barbecue at noon.

Among those invited to attend the highway dedication ceremonies are the governors of Texas, Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon and Coahuila, the military officials of Fort Sam Houston, General Juan Andreau Almazan, secretary of communications of Mexico, and general Eugio Ortiz, commander of the northern military zone of Mexico.

At least 10,000 visitors and bands of music from Monterrey and Fort Sam Houston are expected. On the afternoon of July 4 a rodeo will be held at Cotulla, followed by a street dance on the highway that night beginning at 9 o'clock. On Sunday the visitors will see a bullfight in Nuevo Laredo.

TALLEST MANNEQUIN A BIT

Miss Joan Sasselle, the world's tallest mannequin, recently appeared in a London style parade, and created a sensation. She is six feet, one inch tall and weighs only 127 pounds so that her demonstration of the slim, willowy figure was the envy of the short and the stout. She buys abnormally long coats and wears them as three-quarter length garments. All other clothes must be made to order. Miss Sasselle is 20, and does not enjoy being so tall, especially when boys on the street call her "Carrera," she says.

X-RAY NEEDED TO FIND THE FISH

NORTHBROOK, Ill., July 1.—(AP)—Charles Sutherland took his troubles to the police yesterday and although it was too late for relief he had the satisfaction of knowing what happened.

"I haven't an enemy in the world," Sutherland said when he called police to help him solve the mystery of his five missing goldfish. "In addition my cat is sick."

"That's a clue," said the investigating officer. "Let's have the cat and some pepper." Both were furnished.

When the pepper was sprinkled on the cat's nose the feline sneezed. Then there was a cough and a goldfish's tail became visible.

"An X-ray," said the officer, would reveal the rest of your fish."

EASY MONEY

PITTSBURGH — Raffael Gonzales and Josephine Mendez were held in jail here for 93 days, but they didn't mind. Each received $465 from court as fees for being held as material witnesses. They were paid $5 a day for each day they were held.

The Sea Gains New Appeal

The ocean, as everyone knows, is very appealing, but if such fair creatures as these according their captain a snappy salute were to roam the seven seas the water would call many more souls to brave its dangers for the smiles pictured above. Captain J. W. McKenzie, of the S. S. Algonquin, is shown taking the salute from four beauties from across the pond. The captain (lucky dog) took the girls from New York to the international pageant of pulchritude in Galveston, Tex. The beauties are, left to right, Miss Germany, Miss Denmark, Miss Austria and Miss Norway.

LOCAL MEN GO TO ABILENE

CITY, COUNTY CHIEFS RETURN MONDAY FROM TAYLOR CAPITAL

Representatives of City commission and County Commissioners court returned here Monday night after a stay of a day in Abilene. County Judge E. L. Pitts, Mayor J. J. Clements, City Commissioner John Roach and County Commissioner Claude Burrus made the trip.

While members of the party went to Taylor county for personal business reasons, they also conferred with County Judge T. K. Eplen and other city and county officials there, Judge Pitts said.

"I always enjoy discussing county problems with Judge Eplen of Abilene," the Lubbock county judge said. "Taylor and Lubbock counties have almost the same problems in matters of government. Lubbock county exceeds Taylor county slightly in property valuations, but their populations and countywide requirements are about the same."

The Lubbock officials did not go to Abilene to study any particular item of county or city government, the county judge said.

TOUGH SLEDDING FOR MAJOR LOOP LEADERS

Collier Parris

We extend the glad hand to Pat Patterson, the new pro at the Meadowbrook Golf club. Beginning today Patterson will wield the professional wand over the course which has done without the services of one for nearly a year.

Patterson, coming here from Amarillo, is a former athlete at the University of Oklahoma and Oklahoma City university, graduating from the latter in 1922 and continuing his collegiate experiences at the university for two years. He is quite a man, athletic, strong, husky. He played football and golf at college and has been an assistant pro to Bobby Cruickshank at the Lakeside Country club in Oklahoma City. Twice he has been runner up in the Okla. City tournament.

Pat's a good looking chap, rather young, but you lady golfers may as well be informed now that he's a devoted husband.

Pete Cawthon, Tech coach, promoter of the first Texas Tech coaching school, receives a letter from E. R. (Russ) Cohen, head mentor at Louisiana State, in which Russ laments the fact that he cannot attend the school here August 3 to 15 but expresses his belief that the Wallace Wade-Jimmy Phelan courses will comprise one of the greatest schools of the country this year. "... I feel sure that you are going to have one of the most successful schools in the country," says Cohen. "Wallace Wade is one of the most interesting talkers, and his course is one of the best that has ever been put out in the south."

Letters from outstanding coaches come to Cawthon's desk almost daily and if these are any indication, there will be a host of coaches here for the school. It is a great thing for Lubbock, Tech, Texas and the southwest, for it is the only school being promoted this season in the southwest.

We had hoped to get by one column without having to refer to the rantings of Jerry Malin, that Amarillo whonie, but it seems unlikely. He is still gripping about that world's welterweight championship wrestling match of last month, (this is July, we believe) for it seems that we rankled him by innocently suggesting that his favorite, and ours, Cal Farley, lost the match. Jere retorts that it was not Farley's loss, because he had nothing to lose. We insist that he lost twice—the match and a chance for the title.

And if Jerry will show us one morning daily carrying a story on the match that was circulated in this section on the day after the match, we'll buy him a ringside ticket to the next world's heavyweight boxing bout held in Texas, and furnish him with the biggest nickel cigar for sale in this office. That is exclusive of the Amarillo paper, of course. Jerry held his sheet open past the usual hour, but the AP wires were closed before a hint of who won the match had arrived at his sanctum sanctorium.

But this department is willing to bury the wrestling hatchet and invite Jerry up to the Amarillo-Lubbock baseball games Friday and Saturday nights, also Saturday afternoon, and we'll do our best to show him this is NOT a nine o'clock town, as he alleges, but rather a modern little city where night baseball is to be the vogue. Living way off up there in the Panhandle he never gets to see night baseball games. To make it more interesting, we hereby challenge him to a foot race from home plate to the center field wall and back, loser to [illegible] after the paper is put to bed.

We've a bit of heartening news to break right here: Raymond "Zoo" Marshall, crack outfielder, and clean up man for the Hubbers, shipped himself away from Lubbock yesterday morning to take a position with a grain company at Hereford. His services are thereby lost to the Hubbers. 'Tis a good job he's taking, we understand, and we do not blame him for departing, though he could be used to great advantage here this summer.

Marshall is a nice outfielder, a hitter when he's on his game and asset to the club to which [illegible] He would have gone [illegible] the Panhandle [illegible] through. He [illegible] Houston last spring [illegible] the schedule got [illegible] to find an outfielder [illegible] his place [illegible] Hembright [illegible] one [illegible]

WINNER TO BE DECIDED ON SCHEDULE

NO PLAY-OFF WILL BE STAGED TO PICK CHAMPIONS

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

New Texas league baseball history was made Tuesday—history that saw the Beaumont Exporters, managed by Del Baker, and the Houston Buffaloes, pilloted by Joe Schultz, tie for the first half pennant with 50 wins and 30 defeats each for respective percentages of .625. After 18 years of trying, the Beaumont Exporters have finished at the pinnacle, even though it is a tie, for the first time.

Just when the first half pennant winner will be determined is yet unknown, but there will be no playoff. In 1925, Texas league officials adopted the following resolution:

"If a tie exist between two or more teams on the closing day of the first half, certain games regularly scheduled between these clubs in the second half shall be designated to determine the first half winner. The number of games shall be determined by agreement between the clubs concerned."

If the second half race should terminate in a deadlock, a post-season series will be necessary. Beaumont and Houston meet in a double-header July 4, and there is a possibility that these two games may decide the first half winner, although July 4 is a good drawing card without the addition of such a championship attraction. July 26, 26 and 27 are other possible dates.

One game in front previously to Tuesday's combat, the Exporters failed to hold their championship margin by bowing to the Wichita Falls Spudders 8 to 2. With the championship in their grasp, the Exporters faltered before the six hit pitching of Ash Hillin who won his ninth game of the season. Marrow and Hamlin tried to save the Exporters from a first half tie, but between them, they were touched for 12 timely hits, although Wichita Falls did not score until they uncorked a four run rally in the fourth. In this inning, consecutive home runs from the bats of Ted Gullie and Art Bradbury sent the curtain ringing down on Beaumont's hope for victory. The two circuit crashes paved the way for Wichita Falls' four run rally which drove Marrow from the mound. Luke Hamlin relieved him, but his fine relief pitching was wasted

Overtake Lead

Realizing they had to beat Fort Worth or lose the first half pennant to Beaumont, the Houston Buffaloes proved their courage by overtaking Fort Worth's 8 to 5 lead at the end of the sixth inning to eventually win 10 to 9 in ten innings.

From out of this bitterly fought game, came Jerome "Dizzy" Dean to save the Buffaloes for a first half tie—the same Dean who Sunday pitched and won a doubleheader from Fort Worth to keep Houston in the race. Dean's superb relief pitching, his hitting and the breaks he made, proved an impossible combination to defeat.

Tex Carleton, who has won 8 and lost 7 for Houston this year, started but was shelled from the mound in the first inning when the Cats rampaged for five runs. Dean went to the rescue after Carleton had pitched one third of an inning, and up to the tenth, he fought off the good job of it. Hawk-Eye Hardwick, former Tech star, likely will be found in right field for the remainder of the season. Ray Waller is a candidate for an outfield berth and also a neat catcher. Dutch Leuenberger says he is going to try out for the team.

Stribling Will Box Again Tonight; Defies Handlers

CHALLENGER TAKES A PLANE RIDE OVER SCHMELING CAMP

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND, July 1.—(AP)—Safely back on the ground after a daring airplane ride over his opponent's training camp, Young Stribling hurled new defiance at his handlers today by suddenly announcing that he would box again tonight in preparation for his quest of the world's heavyweight championship.

Stribling intended finishing his training last night, in accordance with previous plans. All preparations had been made for him to come to Cleveland today and to go into seclusion until time for him to go into the ring to battle Max Schmeling, the title holder, Friday night. But Stribling, full of eagerness to get going, evidently decided to defy his manager, Pa Stribling, just as he did in borrowing an airplane yesterday and flying over Schmeling's training camp at Conneaut Lake Park, Pa.

While the German was in the ring, boxing the second round, with George Panka of Pittsburgh, Stribling daringly zoomed his plane directly over Schmeling's camp while the spectators gasped in excitement.

"It seems that Stribling had broken away from the apron strings," said Nate Lewis, an attache of the Stribling camp. "He probably will do the same thing when he gets in the ring with Schmeling Friday night. They may tell him to do one thing and Stribling may decide to do another. If he elects to fight as he pleases, Schmeling will be in for a tough evening."

After tonight's workout, Stribling intends coming into Cleveland to hide out in a private home in an exclusive residential district.

"We don't want the boy bothered by his friends," explained Pa Stribling. "We want him to rest in quiet so he will be ready to go in that ring for the battle of his life."

When he finishes his boxing this afternoon he will have boxed an even 100 rounds at his training camp. Schmeling's workout yesterday was impressive. In the three rounds he faced Panka, Schmeling unleashed a two-fisted body attack, weaving in and out to escape Panka's leads.

The champion in the one round he boxed Tony Marullo of New Orleans practiced one-two punches, straight rights to the head, left hook and right uppercuts. After the workout, Schmeling weighed 190 pounds, a pound over the notch he expects to scale when he faces Stribling.

WIMBLEDON STADIUM, England, July 1 (AP).—Sidney B. Wood, jr., 20-year old American Davis Cup player today won his way to the finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships in a four set victory over Fred Perry, 21-year-old English player. The scores were 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

UTILITIES LEAD CITY LEAGUERS

The Texas Utilities team went into undisputed leadership in the City league standings yesterday by virtue of a 1 to 0 victory over the Legions-Lions club. Demp Webster hurled the shut out game for the winners to send the Legion-Lions to third place, giving second place to the Avalanche-Journal club.

In the only game scheduled for today, the Avalanche-Journal team meets the Rainbows at Merrill Park. The game will start at 6 o'clock.

Hornbrook informed the police department of the incident, and the police informed him that he had been victimized.

BATTALINO TO MEET BRADY

FEATHERWEIGHT TITLE AT STAKE TONIGHT AT JERSEY CITY

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 1 (AP)—Christopher (Bat) Battalino of Hartford, Conn., will defend his featherweight championship against Irish Bobby Brady, Jersey City puncher, in a ten round bout at the International League ball park here tonight.

Battalino, who rules a favorite over Brady, has been beaten often in non-title fights since he lifted the featherweight crown from Andre Routis in 1929, but always has been at his best when the championship was at stake.

Brady began his professional career in 1929, and was knocked out twice in that year, by Harry Blitman of Philadelphia in 9 rounds and Young Zazzarino of Jersey City in four, but beat the latter in a return bout in 1930.

Both fighters have experienced considerable difficulty in getting down to the title poundage of 126 pounds but prospects were that both would make the grade when weighed in. Battalino scaled 127 pounds after his final workout yesterday and Brady was at the same figure.

HASH A LA PEARLS

SEATTLE.—Mrs. E. J. Wing's sister came to visit her and when the two were leaving the house they put a string of pearls and a wrist watch in a casserole for safe keeping. While they were gone Mrs. Wing's mother made a dish of hash in the casserole. The family had hash that night, but it wasn't until the next day, on warming over the dish, that Mrs. Wing got down to the pearls and wrist watch. After her second bite she chewed on something hard. It was her pearls. The third bite produced the wrist watch which, she says, was still running.

BROWNS OFFER ONLY REAL "MENACE"

PITCHING ACES FOR ATHLETICS FALTER AT CLEVELAND

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The leaders of the American league pennant race, who threatened to leave the other teams so far behind that they would be practically out of sight, have found some tough sledding in the past two weeks. They are not yet in serious danger, for the only real "menace" that has arisen during their western tour has come from the St. Louis Browns who were in last place when the trouble started.

After rushing far ahead of all the teams except Washington, the champion Philadelphia Athletics have scored just eight victories to six defeats with Cleveland, highest ranking western team, still to be faced twice more. And to make things [illegible] a bit tougher for the A's, the three aces of their pitching staff, wabbling badly at times, have accounted for all but one of these victories.

Win In Opener

George Earnshaw turned in his second win of the tour yesterday as the Athletics' slugging brought an 11 to 7 victory over Cleveland in the series opener.

Washington was dropped to an even break for the 14 games in the west as the Browns handed them one of their worst beatings of the season by a 7 to 0 count. It was the first time all season the Senators had been shut out and George Blaeholder did a great job of it, giving one hit in the first inning and another in the ninth. It was the Browns' 13th victory in 14 games at home against eastern clubs.

Boston, weakest of the eastern clubs, pulled its average up a little by stepping out behind the six hit pitching of Danny MacFayden to beat the Chicago White Sox 7 to 1. Detroit scored three runs in the eleventh inning after the New York Yankees had tallied twice and won by an 8 to 7 count. Lou Gehrig prolonged the game by hitting his 19th homer of the season to tie the score in the ninth.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who seem to have the "Indian sign" on their nearest rivals, the New York Giants increased their lead in the National league race to 3½ games by beating the Giants 11 to 10 for their second victory in the important series. The game was a slugfest which produced 18 hits for the Giants, 14 for the Cards and five homers.

The Brooklyn Robins, who were threatening third place, dropped back again as the Cincinnati Reds won a close game 4 to 3.

Manager Rogers Hornsby accounted for seven runs with a pair of homers as the Cubs whipped the Phillies 14 to 3. Fred Frankhouse pitched the Braves to a 5 to 1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

GOLFING BRIGADE, WITH CRACK SHOTS OF GREAT BRITAIN AND AMERICA, ARE READY FOR NATIONAL OPEN JULY 2

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

TOLEDO, O., July 1 (AP).—The golfing brigade, its ranks filled with the crack shots of Great Britain and America, has jumped out of the frying pan into the fire.

This superheated situation may apply to the competition as well as the weather for the open championship of the United States, starting tomorrow, over the narrow fairways and pleasant deceiving hillocks of the Inverness club. Yesterday ran a temperature of 94 and the prediction was "warmer" for today.

Bobby To Look On

Bobby Jones, who began his open competition here in 1920 and figured conspicuously in two of the hottest tournaments of them all, at Worcester in 1925 and at Interlichen last year, will select a comfortable, inconspicuous spot tomorrow from which to witness the battle for the third of the four crowns he wore in 1930.

It will be the first time Bobby has ever been on the side lines for an American open.

Tommy Armour already has taken possession of one of the titles held last year by Jones—the British open. The black Scot from Detroit tops the list of favorites here but he is no better than an 8 to 1 choice in a field comprising the best professional talent of this country and Europe.

The concensus of opinion among the experts and players today was that the winner, despite the wide open character of the championship chase, could be picked from one of these ten:

Tommy Armour, the P. G. A. and British open champion; Gene Sarazen, the 1922 American open winner; Percy Allies, the British pro from Berlin; Billie Burke, the Connecticut clouter; MacDonald Smith, the veteran Scot from Long Island who was runner-up to Jones in both the British and American open last year; Denamore Shute, the Ohio favorite; Walter Hagen, who won his last American open in 1919; Harry Cooper of Chicago, runner-up in 1927; Wiffy Cox, the Brooklyn sharpshooter who has moved up fast this season; and Ed Dudley, the new western open champion.

The field of about 180 players who will play 18 holes tomorrow, another round Friday and then be cut to about sixty for the final 36 holes July 4, includes a dozen British contenders in addition to Allies, who represents Germany, and Aubrey Boomer, from France.

The captain of the British Ryder cup team, Charles Whitcombe, suffered a recurrence of a knee ailment in Detroit Monday and will not compete.

Accuracy will be at a premium through the narrow Inverness fairways. This and the well trapped character of the layout makes up for its lack of back breaking distances.

It measures 6,529 yards. Par is 71 and the boys have been treating it a bit roughly. Leonard Schmutte of Lima, Ohio, shot a 66 in practice yesterday for the lowest figure so far but Cooper, Allies and others including Harold Sampson, the Californian, have turned in scores with-are only two par-5 holes, the 482-in a stroke or two of this. There yard ninth and 516-yard 12th.

PATTERSON NAMED GOLF PRO HERE

W. G. McMillan, owner and manager of the Meadowbrook Golf club, announced yesterday the selection of I. V. (Pat) Patterson of Amarillo as professional at the club. Patterson's duties begin today.

Patterson, a graduate of Oklahoma City university and a former student at the University of Oklahoma where he played golf, football, basketball and went out for track, brings a good record as a golfer. He has served for two and a half years as assistant to Bobby Cruickshank, internationally famous professional, at the Lakeside Country club in Oklahoma City, and has twice been runner up in the Oklahoma City open championship tournament.

The Meadowbrook has been without the services of a pro since Grady Higginbotham left about a year ago. Patterson, who comes highly recommended, will have charge of all courses of instruction at the club. He and his wife moved here this week from Amarillo, where he has been in business for the last several months.

Forty-five American aircraft were imported into Peru last year.

NEVER BEFORE

WAS CANNING SO EASY TO DO

An economy in more than money! That's what the installation of a Modern Gas Range will mean to you, right now, with the canning season coming on. It brings you: Oven Insulation to prevent heat from escaping into the kitchen; a Control Dial that insures accurate heat regulation and a Canning Chart that gives the correct time and temperature allowances for preserves of all kinds.

Why endure the nuisance of an old-fashioned heat-leaking oven another summer? Why suffer the wilting temperature of a baking hot kitchen? A Modern Gas Range will inspire you to make this your biggest and most successful year of canning. And it will be far and away the easiest year's canning.

Your Assurance Of Safety

SUPPOSE you accidentally put double the recommended load of air into a tire. You would probably shrink back, fearing an explosion . . .

But here is what happens to the Silvertown—in that grim annex of the Torture Chamber, the Hydrostatic Cell:

A small room inside a great room. Like a prison "tank." Reinforced walls. On one side, a little window of thick glass molded over wire.

Two men stand outside the window peering through. Watching the tire. A heavy metal pipe leads into it. The stubborn rubber quivers — moves like a thing alive—strains at the iron bands which clamp it down.

"190 pounds . . . 200 . . ." One of the watchers is reading a dial. "210 . . . 220 . . . 230 pounds . . . O. K.!"

Every day new Silvertowns are put into the Hydrostatic Cell in the Goodrich Laboratory. There they endure the Water Torture test—to make sure that the blood brothers of these test tires will stand a pressure of 230 pounds to the square inch.

Thought For Today

But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect, and entire, wanting nothing.—James 1.4.

Motoring Behavior

IF anyone is ever able to discover some device which will make human beings act in their automobiles just as they act when they are walking, it is probable that the alarming toll of fatalities taken by automobile traffic each year will shrink to comparatively small proportions.

Anyone who doubts that statement is invited to consider the strange change that comes over the average American as soon as he gets behind the wheel of his car.

On foot, the American is usually a genial, good-natured, a more or less leisurely sort of chap. He would like to walk on a sidewalk that isn't crowded, but that isn't always possible and he makes the best of it. When he has to walk through a crowd he takes his time at it and makes due allowances for the feelings of others. Unless he has some especial reason for being in a great hurry, he doesn't jostle and push and strain every nerve to get ahead of everybody else.

Set him to driving an auto, however, and a great transformation seizes him.

Instead of taking his time he gets in a life-and-death hurry. He will cheerfully risk his neck to gain a ten-second advantage. When another car passes him he sees red. His consideration for others vanishes. He wants with all his soul to be at the head of the procession and to stay there. If that isn't possible he does the best he can.

In consequence, the traffic stream on an American highway often resembles a procession of irritated lunatics. The driver who cheerfully gives way to another is the rare exception. The driver who goes along leisurely gets cursed from every side.

All of this not only takes a lot of the fun out of driving; it makes traffic the dangerous thing that it is.

We can pass all the traffic ordinances we have in mind to, we can conduct safety campaigns week in and week out, we can write columns about the tragedy of our 30,000 yearly traffic deaths, but until we find some way of inducing ourselves to act with ordinary human courtesy and common sense while we are driving our autos, it won't do a great deal of good.

Safety in driving, after all, is largely a matter of courtesy and common sense. In most fields Americans exhibit these two qualities in quite satisfactory quantities. Why is it that we tend to shed one or both of them when we go driving?

Savings Deposits

One of the most encouraging signs in the rather discouraging economic situation today is the fact that savings bank deposits are rising again.

A bulletin from the Alexander Hamilton Institute points out that the years of prosperity did not do these deposits as much good as might have been expected. From 1920 to 1925 the deposits made an average gain of 9 per cent a year. During the three following years the gain dropped to 4 per cent and in 1929, with prosperity at its peak, there was actually a loss.

Commenting on the prevalence of the advice from all quarters to spend money more freely, the institute's bulletin remarks:

"As a matter of fact, one of the contributing factors to the current depression is that in the years preceding it people spent too much and saved too little. Part of the slow process of recuperation must be a building up of savings."

Then there's the romantic young thing who took up golf because she heard some golfers try a spoon.

If a moratorium delays debt payments, it's a pity Congress can't have anything like an irrigation.

An opportunist is the fellow who sells the bag instead of holding it.

A DAY or two ago this column reprinted a letter from a lady who decried the fact that unemployment in Lubbock had not been greatly alleviated. Agreeing with the writer of the letter, The Plainsman further admitted that he didn't have a solution to the unemployment problem and hazarded the opinion that no one in Lubbock could satisfactorily solve it until times became better of their own accord.

Commenting on the condition, The Plainsman mentioned the fact that anyone who had a suggestion for the elimination of unemployment should voice the suggestion. Yesterday a phone call from Tech college announced the fact that at least one possible solution would be submitted.

THE suggested solution, due to reach this column late today, has been compiled by Dr. J. C. Granbery, head of the department of history, at the college here. As yet The Plainsman has no idea of the basis of Doctor Granbery's suggestion but it should contain at least some angles of merit. One of the most highly educated men in Texas, holder of several doctor's degrees, Doctor Granbery is an interested student of sociology. His suggestion will be given full publicity in this column as soon as it is received.

HAS anyone a nice dog they'd like to place in a good home? The Plainsman can assure the present owner that the dog will be well treated and well taken care of generally, if it is presented to this would-be owner.

A couple of evenings ago a motor car struck down and killed the pet of a six-year-old boy. Naturally, the youngster is heartbroken and wants another dog to take the place of the one sent mercilessly to the happy hunting ground. Anyone wishing to part company with a good natured dog is invited to get in touch with The Plainsman.

Potash deposits in Lynn county are believed great enough to be worked commercially. . . . But that kind of development costs a lot of money. . . . Where thousands once lived in Hobbs, New Mexico, there are only hundreds now. . . . But Hobbs came out of the boom with a cracker jack hotel, as well as with other improvements a town of its size rarely has. . . . Post was the first town in West Texas to have a golf course. . . . It was instituted shortly after C. W. Post started construction of the town with George Samson, a Scotchman who had learned the game in Scotland, as its chief proponent. . . . Two of the officials of the Texas Cowboy Reunion are not in the cow business. . . . San Angelo has more unique homes than any city in West Texas.

CLAUDE JEFFRIES, of Matador, has been with the Matador ranch for more years than Lubbock is old. . . . Once a great horse wrangler he is now one of the last of the old time wagon bosses. . . . This month's American magazine has a cowboy picture by Frank Tennev Johnson. . . . Idea for the picture was formed when Artist Johnson was vacationing in Spur. . . . The Three Mussolini's of the State Highway department have called off paving of the Old Spanish Trail across Harris county. . . . The people wanted the paving to follow the trail and declined to have the concrete go elsewhere. . . . Francis Moore, who is teaching piano here this summer, is a Texas boy who made good in the city. . . . Reared in Grayson county, he went to New York to become outstanding as a piano teacher. . . . And he doesn't look like a musician. . . . O. O. McIntyre, the famous columnist, is a rotten business man. . . . But his wife is a good one and successfully handles her husband's earnings, which approximate an eighth of a million dollars every year. . . . # Writers Organized To Fight Censorship; Reed Smoot May Find Opposition In The Supression Of "Obscene" Books

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The future has begun to cloud slightly for the Hon. Reed Smoot, senator from Utah, the leading apostle of censorship in Congress.

DUTCHER

A lot of authors have ganged together to fight censorship, federal, state and local, and the likelihood is that in the future, when Senator Smoot goes dashing down the corridors of the Senate office building to reed to his colleagues what he considers obscene passages of books he will be followed by a committee bent on pointing out that what Senator Smoot considers obscene is not obscene at all, but only good literature fit for you and me and the rest of the reading public.

The new National Council on Freedom From Censorship, however, is not only directing its attention to books, but also to plays, movies, radio and periodicals.

Seek To Repeal Laws

In the federal field it announces a legislative campaign to repeal the laws under which a solicitor of the Post Office Department may declare a publication unmailable and to support an amendment to the radio act which would set up machinery to prevent censorship at individual stations or discrimination by the commission in issuance of licenses.

The chairman of the anti-censorship group is Hatcher Hughes, author of the play with that naughty-worded title, "Hell Bent for Heaven." And its members include such erstwhile victims of censorship as Mary Ware Dennett, whose pamphlet about sex was okayed by the courts after the Post Office Department had tried to imprison her for it; James Branch Cabell, whose hero Jurgen got tangled up with John S. Sumner; H. L. Mencken, editor of the American Mercury; Rupert Hughes, whose biography of George Washington has made patriotic societies mad; Eugene O'Neill, some of whose plays aren't allowed in some places, and Elmer Rice, whose play called "Street Scene" has been subjected to amateur censorship attempts by organized charity workers. There are also Fannie Hurst, Marc Connelly, Inez Haynes Irwin, Lewis Mumford, George Jean Nathan, Claire and Paul Sifton, Stewart Edward White, Harry Leon Wilson (one of President Hoover's favorites,) and various other writing persons.

Muddled Situation

The council says it proposes to focus all forces opposed to censorship, by which it means any power to suppress the expression of thought. The law doesn't define censorship and censors don't agree. Books freely allowed are forbidden dramatization. Plays that run for months and operas popular for centuries may not be used in movies. Many things commonly heard in talkie dialogue can't go on the air. The Post Office Department and Customs Service are at odds about books deemed fit for circulation. As for movie censorship by state boards, the council cites this confusion:

"Maryland bars a kiss on the neck but winks at a drinking scene. Kansas censors can't stand the sight of a whisky bottle, but kisses on the neck are entertaining. In Virginia all passion must be blessed by a marriage ceremony. Ohio doesn't like pictures dealing with jail breaks and considers an actress in her underwear as indecent — though lingerie advertisements in the newspapers are not. New York, of all places, bars scenes showing a policeman or an official accepting graft. Pennsylvania, the strictest state board of all, is likely to bar anything."

Dictating Tastes

A single lawyer in the post office dictates what the nation's readers may get through the mail, it is pointed out, for it's the solicitor who decides what is "obscene" or "seditious." Decisions by customs inspectors on foreign courts and juries, thanks to Senator Cutting's victory over Senator Smoot in the censorship phase of the Hawley-Smoot tariff fight, but the process is expensive and there is practically no recourse when a single book is grabbed from a traveler's trunk. In radio censorship, the council says, a program to make the air free must eliminate selective censorship at individual stations which avoid controversial subjects political interests, must prevent domination of the industry by two or three large groups and must "protect public interests in free speech against discrimination in issuing licenses."

Aside from its federal program the anti-censorship group will seek to repeal all laws providing for censorship in advance of showing or distribution, test cases in the courts and conduct a bureau of information which will distribute educational propaganda.

GOLF

If tennis is the game par excellence for the young, golf is the best game for the middle-aged and elderly. Its pace is suited to the shady side of life. Its problems need not be decided suddenly and they are just sufficiently complicated to possess the mind without fatiguing it. It allows for pleasant companionship and mild rivalry which lends itself to a few jokes.

Dr. Clendening

Golf puts no unusual strain upon the heart, but in the course of a round of 18 holes there is as much energy expended as in playing two sets of tennis. But it is accomplished so gradually that no unusual fatigue is felt.

It is true that we frequently hear of men dying on the golf links. And they are often warped off from playing on account of a rise in blood pressure or some such other reason. This, of course, is an individual matter for every person to decide, but most men I know would rather chance dying while playing golf than condemn themselves to a life of inactivity and listless waiting for death. As one such man said to me once, "I have always had certain things and enjoyed them. I suppose that if I gave up tobacco and golf and meat and salt I might live 5, or even 10, years longer. But it would not be a life worth living."

For those over 55 in a foursome is the best way to play golf. That makes it even more leisurely. You get a chance to sit down and rest on the tee while the others are driving, and the progress along the fairway is kept from being too rapid by waiting for the others to play.

Of course, in all this talk about old age, I realize that young people play the game better than the middleaged or elderly. But that is because it is easier for them to train their eyes and muscle co-ordination. "Catch them young" applies to any sport, because the cerebellar pathways can be trained so that the rhythm necessary for swinging and hitting can be developed. One of the interesting things about the nervous system is that once laid down those pathways of impulses remain forever. If you learned to ride a bicycle when you were young you can stay off for 30 years and then casually mount one and ride off.

Psychologically, golf is a good game for the young because it inculcates restraint and self-control. And perhaps that is why the elderly take naturally to it; most of them have had to develop those qualities.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

Mrs. R. M. A.: "I am 5 feet 3 inches tall, 26 years old, and weigh 144 pounds. I would like to reduce to my proper weight. For that reason, I would like to ask you the following questions:

"1. How many calories are in saltine crackers?

"2. Would using saccharine instead of sugar in tea or coffee help to reduce?

"3. Someone told me if I would smoke a pack of cigarettes a day, regularly, I would reduce. What do you think?

"4. Which has the most caloric value—toast or plain bread?

"5. How many crackers would equal a slice of bread?"

Answer: Your normal weight is about 125 pounds.

1. One soda cracker has about 25 calories.

2. Yes.

3. No.

4. A slice of bread has the same caloric value after it is toasted. Weight for weight, it has more caloric value than bread.

5. A slice of bread 3x4 1-2 inches has about 100 calories. Four soda crackers have about 100 calories.

SWAN

In New York With Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, July 1—New York politicians, it would seem, have almost forgotten the dear old mother-and-child appeal in building up what used to be called a "constituency."

Until a relatively short time ago, district leaders would hold annual summer picnics in Central Park for "the kiddies." The mothers, of course, went along and thus the whole family was "made solid" for some district boss.

For one reason or another—perhaps the war should be blamed—this neighborhood custom went out of existence. Just the other day, I noticed that Sheriff Farley threatened to revive it, with plenty of free ice cream and cake, peanuts, popcorn and rides on the merry-go-round.

The appeal was directly to the future voter and to the heads of families; a far less complex and involved method than is used in modern gang and racket politics.

And I find myself sighing also for the passing of the old-fashioned "swan boats" on the Central Park lakes. It may be that the family name had something to do with my fondness for this float-like device.

The "swan boat" was a brightly-painted raft, equipped with benches upon which the youngsters could sit and headed, on either side, by carved and ornamented wooden swans. These would be taken out by a gondolier and, for five cents, a ride about the lagoons of the park could be made.

Now I see the old rafts lying either at anchor or at the rude docks, slowing disintegrating. The paint is vanishing from the swans and the rafts show no sign of recent use.

Some tell me that such a simple pastoral excursion is entirely too tame for a modern generation.

Well, I can remember when the kick of a lifetime could have been secured out of a penny ride on a pony's back.

Having spoken of politicians a few paragraphs back, causes me to recall the position of "expediter"—a job which is native to New York insofar as I know.

There are towns, I believe, where the word "fixer" is used. And an "expediter" is somewhere between a lawyer and a fixer.

Recently a witness came before the Seabury committee, now investigating irregularities in New York public office. When asked what his business was, the witness said he was "an expediter."

As a matter of fact, almost every Tammany club has its quota of expediters. They are go-between gents who expedite matters when friends and loyal members get into trouble.

For instance, if a certain individual is called for jury duty and finds business matters taking up his time, the district "expediter" will act as an "expediter" and fix everything up. They appear in traffic courts as "friends of the defendants" and take on all sorts of friendly jobs, provided that the offense is not too serious.

Recently residents of a certain neighborhood complained that a certain corner was unsafe for the passing of children on their way to school. The usual run of complaints brought no action. Then someone thought of a friend who was an expediter. Within a couple of days, a kindly cop appeared at the crossing and the children had instant protection.

All of which cements political friendships, to be sure—but Tammany is a smart organization!

You can't blame the man who married the girl he met at the beach for calling the place a sand trap.

A man who writes things on his cuff, observes the office sage, usually has something more up his sleeve.

A man is being sued for divorce because he put pepper in his wife's powder. And did she get red!

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The great Manila Wall was high, a monument against the sky. 'Twas made of great big blocks of stone and had small towers on top. 'Twas built in fifteen-twenty-one. Wee Scouty cried, "This is great fun to climb the stones. Beware, though, or we may slip and drop.

"I'll bet in less than half an hour that I can reach that little tower. Let's see, now, who can get there first." Then Clowny cried, "Oh, no! You started first. That isn't fair and, anyway, I've had a scare. I nearly slipped and fell, so I am going rather slow."

It wasn't long until they all had scaled the slanting ancient wall. They rested for a little while, then carefully climbed down. "Ha, ha, we conquered it," cried one. "To me that was a lot of fun! There's nothing else to see here now, so let's walk into town."

"I think I have a better plan," said kindly Mister Travel Man. "A very pretty stream's nearby. Let's walk along its shore. Just follow me. I'll take you there. A slow hike in the nice fresh air will do us good. We've walked a lot, but we can walk some more."

They reached the river bank and saw a sight that filled them all with awe. A long flat boat was skimming very slowly on its way. 'Twas loaded down with jugs. "I think some folks will shortly have a drink," explained the Travel Man. "That boat goes to the spring each day.

"How would you like to ride on it? Among the jugs you all would fit". "Oh, that would be a heap of fun," the Tinymites replied. The Travel Man then shouted. "Hey! Please stear your boat around this way." The boatmen did and soon the bunch were off on quite a ride.

(The Tinymites have a bonfire meal in the next story.)

"B-C" Stops Headaches and Quiets Nerves

When one of those sick, nervous headaches come and you want three-minute relief, go to any drug store or soda fount and ask for a package or dose of "B-C" (10c and 25c) the wonderful new preparation of two North Carolina druggists that is guaranteed safe and speedy, without depression or bad after effects.

"B-C" relieves any kind of a headache, sciatic, neuralgic or female pain, because it contains several ingredients that function together for the relief of pain, regardless of its origin. The "B-C" formula is one of the most important medical discoveries of recent years, accomplishing in a few minutes what no one drug formula can do under 1 to 3 hours. (Adv.)

Human Bird In Full Flight

A rare action picture of anyone is this snappy shot of C. I. Mahon, Australian broad jump champion, sailing through midair in recent competition at Sydney. This leap was measured as 20 feet 6 1-2 inches.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP).—After a heavy opening which was extended to general losses of 1 to 2 points, stocks rallied sluggishly today under the leadership of the merchandising group and the declines were either reduced or erased. The market was still on both the downward and the upward moves.

U. S. Steel, after dropping 1 3-8 recovered its loss. Woolworth came forward with a 3 point gain and there was narrower improvement in Associated Apparel, W. T. Grant, Kay Department, Macy, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward and Kresge. There were fractional advances in Consolidated Gas, Electric Power & Light, United Corp., American Telephone and American Foreign Power, some of which had shown early heaviness. Persistent soft spots included National Biscuit, Rock Island, Du Pont, Eastman, Liggett & Myers "B", Air Reduction and American Tobacco "B."

Call money renewed at 1 1-2 per cent.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 1 (AP)—Much lower prices for grains early today followed farm board announcement that government financed old crop wheat holdings would not be withheld from the market, although sales would be limited to 5,000,000 bushels a month. General selling found support lacking.

Opening 1-8 to 1 1-2 cents lower, wheat afterward dropped further, and in some cases went down more than 2 cents. Corn started 1-2-1 1-4 lower and continued downward.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP).—Cotton opened steady today, 2 to 6 points lower in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables and rather a favorable interpretation of the private weekly crop reviews.

July sold off to 9.70 and December to 10.30, under liquidation which seemed to be combined with some local and commission house selling, but the offerings were not aggressive, the market was quiet at the end of the first half hour with prices showing slight rallies from the lowest.

Liverpool cables said that local and continental liquidation had been absorbed by covering and trade calling in that market and said that home trading in cotton cloths was improving and that a fair business was doing in yarns.

Prices worked back to about or a shade above yesterday's closing figures later in the morning. The weekly report of the weather bureau was quite generally regarded as better than expected, but brought in no selling of consequence and the market held generally steady. Trading was quiet and the disposition to even up commitments was probably promoted by uncertainty as to the results of the debt conferences in Paris and the approach of the holiday. October sold up from 10.04 to 10.15 and January from 10.42 to 10.48, or 1 to 2 points net higher and the market was within 2 or 3 points of these prices at midday.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 1.—(AP)—Cotton opened quiet and somewhat easier today as Liverpool cables were worse than due. First trades here showed losses of two to four points and the market continued to ease off gradually after the start on favorable weather in the belt and less gradually after the start on favorable weather in the belt and less satisfactory news from France on the international debt proposal.

October eased off to 10.06 and December to 10.30, or 7 to 9 points down from yesterday's close.

At the end of the first hour the market was a shade steadier and had recovered two points from the lows on a little short covering.

The market after ruling quiet most of the morning had a sharp rally near mid-session on improvement in stocks and a report from a private bureau that the international debt moratorium question might be settled by night.

October advanced to 10.31 and December to 10.55, or 25 points up from the lows and 16 to 18 points above yesterday's close.

A little later the market eased off 8 points on realizing and at mid-session was steady with trading only moderate.

NEGROES HELD FOR THEFT

PAIR RETURNED FROM NEW MEXICO; FACE CHARGES HERE

Facing charges of automobile theft, Tom Washington and Joe Anderson, negroes, were returned here late Tuesday from Santa Rosa, N. M., by Sheriff Wade Hardy and Deputy Sheriff Will Earnest of Lubbock county.

The two were charged in a complaint filed in Justice of the Peace H. K. Porter's court with stealing an automobile belonging to Judge O. Smith, a farmer of near Posey. Anderson also was charged with theft exceeding $50 from Charles Holmes, Lubbock negro.

Anderson is a former convict, having returned recently from the state penitentiary, to which he was sentenced for six months for chicken theft in Bell county and sentenced to a hundred days in jail, a deputy sheriff here said.

A suitcase containing a pistol and wearing apparel owned by Holmes was stolen. Both the automobile and the suitcase and its contents were recovered with the arrest of the suspects in New Mexico, Friday, following a report from the sheriff's department here. The automobile was damaged considerably when the negroes tried to escape peace officers.

An automobile theft charge was filed in Peace Justice Porter's court against Woodrow Prizell, who was arrested late Tuesday seven miles southeast of here near state highway No. 7 by a policeman. Prizell was alleged to have taken an automobile belonging to W. B. Cozart and to have stripped it.

WORLD FLIERS

Neither the pilot nor Gatty, the navigator, would say before they took off just what course they would follow, but said they would bear well to the south to get away from the storm area in the vicinity of Edmonton.

Waste No Time

There was little delay in the take off. The fliers, refreshed by several hours sleep, arrived at the field shortly before 3 a. m. Mechanics were warming up the plane when they arrived at the hangar. After obtaining the Canadian weather reports, they climbed into the plane and took off.

Post delayed his start until police had cleared the street of spectators of whom several hundred were on hand despite the early hour.

They expect to land on Long Island, New York, tonight to complete their 16,000-mile flight around the world in nine days, one day less than they set for themselves when they started June 22.

The fliers set their plane down in a neat three-point landing on the soggy turf at Blachford field here yesterday at 4:35 p. m. Mountain time (5:35 Central Standard time) at the end of a ten-hour flight from Fairbanks, Alaska.

Despite their fatigue Post and Gatty declined an automobile to take them across the field and remained out in the rain to superintend the towing of their plane to a hangar by a tractor.

In Good Condition

The fliers said they were tired but in good condition. They expressed their pleasure at being back on the American continent after their trip across Siberia where they said they had to talk in sign language and ate black bread and tea.

The start from Fairbanks was at 3:24 a. m. Alaska time (7:24 a. m. Central Standard time) yesterday morning. The plane averaged 150 miles an hour for the flight of 1,450 miles to Edmonton.

Sleepiness is just routine now for Post and Gatty.

"We have been sleepy for about six days," smiled weary Wiley when one of the welcomers asked if he was tired.

Post Exhausted

Thick-set and short, tanned and hardy, Post appeared the more exhausted of the pair as they stepped from the cock-pit of their plane, landed perfectly in the muddy field. His blonde-moustached features were impassive as he scanned the sheaf of telegrams and mail awaiting him. Gatty, slight and shivering in the rain, wrapped his suit coat about him until someone brought him an overcoat.

A stiffness in Gatty's left arm was noticeable.

"Did you suffer serious injuries when the propeller hit you at Solomon?" he was asked.

"Nothing to speak of, although my arm is quite stiff," he replied.

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP)—Assuming Wiley Post and Harold Gatty will complete their record breaking flight around the northern hemisphere tonight, municipal and aviation officials today made ready to give them a welcome befitting the feat which has captured the imagination of the world.

At Roosevelt field, Long Island, where the fliers took off June 23 on their 16,000-mile dash, and where they expect to finish between 6 and 10 p. m. tonight, careful preparations were made to handle a crowd.

Welcome Set Tomorrow

The official welcome of the city will be reserved for tomorrow after the fliers, if they hold to their schedule, will have had a night's rest.

A parade up Broadway behind an escort of soldiers and sailors between lanes of cheering throngs and a reception by Mayor Walker at City hall are part of the program. The mayor will present medals.

In addition to the public welcome the fliers will be greeted by Mrs. Wiley Post and F. C. Hall, of Oklahoma City, sponsor of the flight. Mrs. Gatty was on her way by air like her husband, and hoped to arrive in time to see the plane land. She is due at the Newark, N. J., airport from Los Angeles at 8:54 p. m.

VETERAN POSTAL WORKERS CELEBRATE TODAY; OFFERED CONGRATULATIONS

Claude Peek and George L. DeShazo are celebrating today.

Nineteen years ago, July 1, 1913, they became employes of Uncle Sam and today they're still working for the same man.

Their celebrating isn't in the usual "whoopee" styles of celebrations. They are merely receiving congratulations from fellow employes at the postoffice for having been in the postal service nearly two score years in Lubbock.

Both men entered the service on the same day that Shelby Robbins, now of Coulter, Calif., became postmaster. S. P. Stubbs was the retiring postmaster.

Did Everything

Mr. Peek, now stationed at the money order window, entered as a member of the office force. His job consisted of doing nearly everything from sweeping out to dispatching the mail on trains. He has been at the money order window for more than ten years.

Mr. DeShazo, postal attaches said today, was the first rural carrier out of Lubbock. He has since been transferred to Route Two.

When these men became civil service employees, Lubbock was still in the "one-horse" town class. Furnishing Lubbock and vicinity with mail service required the time and energy of five people. No deliveries were made in the city and Mr. DeShazo's route was the only rural delivery made.

The postoffice was situated in the old Merrill hotel building, in the location now occupied by the Hilton hotel coffee shop. It was later moved to the 1300 block on Texas Avenue and then to its present location.

Records of both men in the service are excellent, officials said. They hold seniority over all employes in the local office from the point of service.

BARBERS ARE TO HOLD BANQUET

Required examination of beauty parlor operators and beauty shops, similar to that of barbers and barber shops, will be advocated at a meeting of Lubbock and South Plains barbers and beauticians at 8:30 o'clock tonight at the Lubbock hotel.

J. B. Robinson and Roy W. Johnson, members of the state board of barber examiners here to give examinations today, are scheduled to speak. Other speakers are expected to include G. E. Lockhart, state representative, and Dr. W. L. Baugh, Lubbock county health officer, P. R. Massey, chairman, said.

Attendance of 150 to 200 barbers and beauticians is expected, Massey said.

the lot and house. Neither the boy's brother nor other members of the family, who were in the house, heard him make an outcry. There was about three feet of water in the reservoir.

Lost His Balance

It is thought that the small boy climbed upon the wall of the tank to reach a pipe extending over the reservoir to get a drink when he lost his balance and fell into the pool.

When the child failed to arrive at the house with his brother, who he had accompanied to the field yesterday morning, a search was instituted. The body was discovered in the pool by Henry's 13-year-old sister, who went into the tank when her brother could not be located about the house or barn.

Yourdy Condition Is Held Unchanged

The condition of L. O. Yourdy, 39-year-old farmer injured critically when run over by a tractor late yesterday morning, appeared unchanged at noon today, attaches of Lubbock sanitarium reported.

The accident occurred on Yourdy's farm, nine miles northeast of Abernathy. e suffered severed leg muscles, crushed bones in the right ankle, and severe lacerations, cuts and bruises on the legs and body.

Dirt of the field gathered in the wounds, and attending physicians feared infection. About two hours was required for an operation performed on Yourdy, who was received at the sanitarium shortly after noon.

The elder Lemacks had lived here six years. Retired from farming, he had not been active recently. He died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. W. S. Mood, at 2324 Main street following an illness of about four months. Bynum-Morgan Funeral home will send the body to Tyler tonight.

Survivors are four daughters, Mrs. Mood, Mrs. T. A. Bates, and Mrs. A. W. Bates, all of Lubbock, and Mrs. Henry Akins of San Bernardino, Cal., and four other sons, A. L. and W. F. Lemacks, both of Palestine, G. A. Lemacks of Abilene, and J. H. Lemacks of San Bernardino.

MRS. JOHN DEAN TAKEN BY DEATH

Mrs. John Dean, 72, died this morning at 8:30 o'clock in her home at 1924 26th street after a lingering illness. Funeral services probably will be conducted at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the residence, it was announced this morning.

Mrs. Dean had been confined to her bed for the last six months and her health had been failing for several years. She is survived by a son, J. C. Dean, 1608 Seventh street, and a brother, L. O. Floyd, of McLean. Her husband died here last October.

The deceased was born in 1859 near Tyler and came to Lubbock 30 years ago from Henrietta. At that time, she joined the First Methodist church here. Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of First Methodist church, and Rev. G. P. McCollom, pastor of Asbury Methodist church, will conduct the funeral service. Rix undertakers are in charge.

who declined to make any comment on it and refused to answer questions.

In addition to Mr. Mellon, Mr. Edge and M. Laval, those present at the meeting were J. Theodore Marriner and Robert Pell, of the staff of the United States embassy, and Foreign Minister Briand, Finance Minister Flandin, Budget Minister Pietri and Andrew Francois-Poncet, under-secretary of state for national economy.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN

PARIS, July 1. (AP)—Complete instructions from Washington about how to handle France's counter-proposals to the Hoover plan for the relief of Germany were received today by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and United States Ambassador Edge.

Mr. Mellon and Mr. Edge spent the forenoon in the private office of the Ambassador studying these instructions in preparation for their conference later in the day with Premier Laval.

Policies Indorsed

Premier Laval was buttressed for that conference by an indorsement of his policies voted by the senate last night after extended and heated debate. The premier was upheld by a vote of 197 to 5, with about 100 senators abstaining from the balloting.

Not the slightest hint as to the nature of the instructions received by the American officials was allowed to leak out previous to the Mellon-Laval conversation. The American embassy merely confirmed that communications had arrived from Washington. The impression prevailed that the conference would not be easy and that compromises must be made by both the French and the Americans if agreement were to be reached.

It was believed that if the Americans found themselves unable to accept all the French counter suggestions they would be ready to show a spirit of conciliation on some points.

RALLS SCOUTS TO ATTEND

TROOP IS TO GO TO MOUNTAIN CAMP IN NEW MEXICO

Reversing an earlier report, officials of Ralls Boy Scouts have notified D. T. Jennings, area executive here, that members of the Ralls troop expect to attend a camp in the Sacramento mountains with Lubbock scouts. Efforts were being made late yesterday to obtain transportation for the Ralls boys. J. M. Rankin is scoutmaster at Ralls.

Applications Filed

Plans for the Lubbock scouts' trip to the camp are being completed, Mr. Jennings said. A total of 50 applications, coming from 44 scouts and six adult leaders, have been filed. The encampment will be from July 5 to 15.

The scout executive yesterday received a letter from Minor Huffman, director of the New Mexico camp, stating that scouts from Slaton and Lamesa, who entered the camp June 23, were having an enjoyable outing. More than 140 boys, including the scouts of the South Plains area and others of eastern New Mexico, are in camp at the present time, Huffman said.

Scouts of Troop No. 24, of Levelland, are preparing to leave Sunday for Ruidoso, N. M., where they will hold a private encampment of eight days. About 20 of the 24 members of the troop plan to make the trip, J. Russell Mitchell, scoutmaster, said. The camp will have its own cook and instructors. F. A. Bimbow of Levelland will be camp director. John Marr of Lamesa will be special instructor.

TWO NEGROES ARE HELD FOR MURDER

DALLAS, July 1 (AP).—Two negroes were in the city jail today for questioning in connection with the double murder of Miss Pauline Corman, 17, and Abe Schreiber, 35, but officials said they had discovered no clues yet which would appear to lead to the solution of the crime.

Arrests were made after information had been given officials by a pawn shop employe that a pistol found on the Overton road early Sunday near the bodies of the two youths had been sold to two negroes. Later investigation had proved this belief to be erroneous, officers asserted.

The couple went for a ride Saturday evening. Their bodies were found early Sunday morning. Both had been shot to death.

PADEREWSKI'S VISIT IN POLAND STIRS TALK ABOUT MUSICIAN'S POSSIBLE RETURN TO POLITICAL ARENA

By CHARLES STEPHENSON SMITH
(Chief of Foreign Service of The Associated Press)

Ignace Paderewski's visit to Poznan July 4 to attend the unveiling of the statue of Woodrow Wilson which he has presented to Poland will be watched by European and American statesmen with much interest.

Recently there have been many indications of change in the attitude of official Poland toward the pianist statesman who was forced to resign the premiership of the new republic in 1919.

Pilsudski Changes

Even Marshal Joseph Pilsudski apparently has abandoned his opposition to Paderewski. The great musician recently has been paid special attention by Polish diplomatists in the United States and European countries.

On his forthcoming visit to Warsaw he is to be entertained by President Moscicki in the presidential palace, the highest honor which his country can accord him.

Another house guest at that time will be Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the war president. She sailed from New York June 16 accompanied by her niece, Mrs. John E. Moeing of Chicago.

May Be Official

So marked has been the court paid to Paderewski by Polish officialdom that rumors have arisen he may be asked to re-enter Polish politics after 10 years of retirement and accept the portfolio of minister of finance or even become a candidate for the presidency. The present minister of finance is John Pilsudski, brother of the marshal.

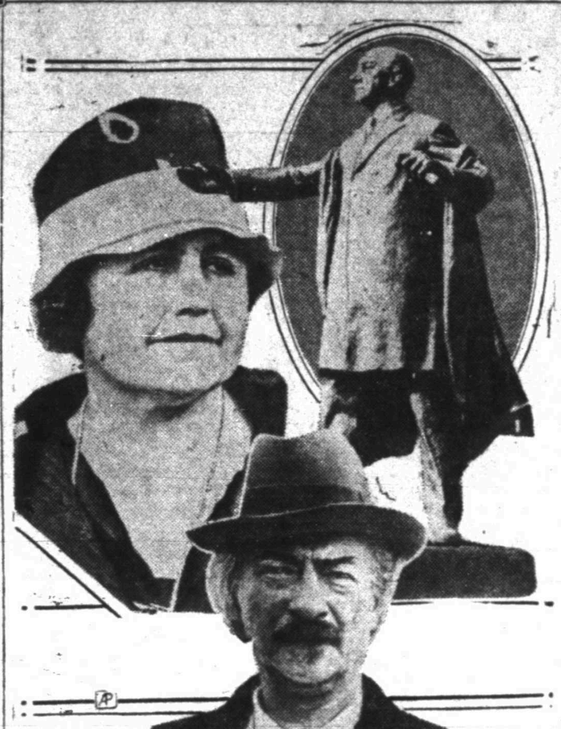

Paderewski is now 70, but he is in rugged health and recently completed a concert tour of the United States which would have taxed the strength of an artist half his age.

President Moscicki's term still has two years to run. The presidential term in Poland is for seven years, hence Paderewski will be 72 when the next election occurs.

Von Hindenburg of Germany, Masaryk of Czechoslovakia, and other executives of advanced years have demonstrated, however, that new European republics thrive under old presidents.

To many Americans Paderewski and Poland are synonymous and in the United States it has never been understood how Paderewski's reborn fatherland came to force him into retirement.

It was Paderewski who won President Wilson's support of an independent Poland in 1917, after the great pianist had battled almost single-handed for years to create pro-Polish sentiment in this country.

The heroic statue of Woodrow Wilson (upper right) which Ignace Paderewski (below), statesman and musician, has presented to Poland, will be unveiled at Poznan July 4 with the donor and Mrs. Wilson (left) as guests of honor.

Many jurists and psychologists of the country believe that sports, with their training in self-discipline, hold the solution to the criminal problem in America today.

The use of spectacles dates back to antiquity. Some claim that they were invented by the Chinese and others give credit to the Romans. It is known, however, that eye glasses were in fairly common use by the fifteenth century.
