NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 21.—An announcement was made here today that papers in a suit for alleged breach of promise of marriage with $500,000 claim of damages, brought by Mrs. Katharine King Fogarty, 30, of New York City, against James J. (Gene) Tunney, retired heavyweight boxing champion, had been sent to Bridgeport to be entered in the superior civil court of Fairfield county.

The papers were sent by a deputy of sheriff for filing this morning, and a member of the law firm of Field, Duffell and Livers, went to court to arrange for other details of entry of the suit.

The papers had not been filed at noon. It was stated at the office of Colonel Lewis L. Field, who signed the writ as commissioner of the superior court, that the delay was due to details of establishing all banks in Stamford and Greenwich in which there was a possibility Tunney had an account. It was stated that Tunney's estate, brought about a year ago in Stamford for a country home in which is assessed for $14,000.

Whereabouts Secret
Mrs. Fogarty formerly lived in Fort Worth, Texas. Colonel Field said she was not now in Connecticut but declined to say where she was staying. He said that at present there would be no further information about the case other than that contained in the papers which would be on file in the superior court at Bridgeport.

FORT WORTH, May 21.—(P)—Mrs. Katharine King Fogarty, who has brought a $500,000 breach of promise suit against James J. Tunney, formerly resident in Fort Worth and was reared here.

Her maiden name was Kate Gaddis. She first married Red King, killed in an automobile accident several years ago. Her next marriage was to John S. Fogarty, plumbing contractor, from whom she obtained a divorce in 1925.

Recently at Fort Worth
During the last few years, Mrs. Fogarty has been living in New York secretly married in or near Fort Worth in recent weeks with her mother, Mrs. J. Y. Rankin.

It was reported here before Tunney's marriage that he and Mrs. Fogarty were engaged. They were said to have been sweethearts for years, dating from about the time Tunney was in the Marine Corps until after he had won the heavyweight title.

Miss Kathleen Beatty, teacher in the Lamar school, left yesterday to spend the vacation at her home in Amarillo.

—AND A SMILE

NEW YORK, (P)—Bandits should beware of one red-headed Irishman, a lover of Byron's poetry. William Curtin was held up in the hallway of a tenement by two men after he had collected $200 in bills. He grabbed the gun of one and routed both, shooting one of them. William drives a milk wagon much of the time when not reading Byron.

Al Capone Couldn't Bluff Him

"Philadelphia is not afraid of you, Al Capone, and I'm not afraid of you", thundered Magistrate Edward Carney, right, when the nationally notorious Chicago gang leader, left, was brought before him in Philadelphia on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Carney held Capone under $35,000 bail and, after pleading guilty to an indictment, the racketeer went to jail for the first time in his long career.

PANHANDLE NOT YET INCLUDED IN GENERAL MARKET HIKES FOR OIL, BUT RAISE EXPECTED SOON

Gray county, recipient of special favors in previous crude oil price schedule making, has not yet been included in the new market hikes. Local oil men, however, believe this area will be affected soon, especially in the higher gravities.

DALLAS, May 21 (P)—The Magnolia Petroleum company today announced an increase of from 10 to 41 cents per barrel in the price to be paid for crude oil in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, except in the Panhandle, where previous prices will prevail.

Under the new schedule, oil of less than 28 gravity will bring 70 cents; that 28 to 28.9 will bring 75 cents; 27 to 27.9 80 cents; with a 5-cent per grade differential through 32.9 at 95 cents; 30, $1.05 with a 10-cent per grade differential through 32.9 at $1.25; 33, $1.30 with a 5-cent per grade increase to 44 and above at $1.35, or 41 cents above the former price.

TULSA, Okla., May 21. (P)—Despite lifting of proration restrictions in the Greater Seminole areas and on the eve of a 25 cents per barrel increase in price declared by the Prairie Oil and Gas company Monday, the estimated daily average production of light and heavy gravity oil in the United States continued a moderate downward trend during the week ending May 18 to total but 2,632,103 barrels, a decrease of 4,705 barrels in comparison with the estimate for the week ending May 11.

The decrease was due solely to heavy oil production, according to the Oil & Gas Journal, which makes the current report, light oil having shown a total increase of approximately 5,073 barrels while heavy oil decreased approximately 9,778 barrels.

The major portion of the heavy oil decrease was reported from the Gulf area with a drop of approximately 6,967 barrels. California reported a heavy oil drop of approximately 4,000 barrels. Southwest Texas heavy oil reported an increase of 3,014 barrels. West Texas light oil fields remained virtually constant. Greater Seminole area in Oklahoma reported but a slight increase in production despite lifting of proration and the state totaled approximately 1,000 barrels increase.

Kansas production for the week ending May 18 was 115,210 as compared with 113,945 for the previous week.

Earl Stuckey, of the Stuckey construction company, left for Austin yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Alexander of Borger spent the week-end here.

HAMILTON IN FIRST ATTEMPT FOR FREEDOM

AMARILLO, May 21. (P)—The first attempt to obtain bond for R. H. Hamilton, charged with slaying of his son-in-law, Tom Walton Jr., 21, on May 4, was made here today when defense attorneys filed an application for habeas corpus hearing.

The application asked for a hearing this afternoon, but District Attorney E. W. Thomerson announced the state would not be ready and that he would ask a postponement to give him time to summon witnesses.

MARLAND WELL STILL PRODUCING AT GREAT RATE

The Marland Production company's No. 2 Finley-Brown in the southeast corner of section 32, block B-2, which came in Sunday afternoon for 50 barrels an hour continued to increase its production until it flowed 60 barrels an hour last night. At noon an unconfirmed report received here said the flow had increased to 100 barrels an hour.

Pay is coming from 2,905 feet in granite wash formation. The well made 11 barrels an hour from 2,860 feet and when deepened picked up 20,000,000 feet of gas and increased production.

The Texas company's No. 2 Cook-Faulkner in section 29, block B-2, an east offset to Marland's new producer, is drilling ahead at 2,822 feet after killing 35,000,000 feet of gas.

The same company's No. 1 Cook-Faulkner in the northwest corner of the same section may be drilled deeper. It made 524 barrels yesterday.

WITNESSES IN JOHNSON CASE SOUGHT TODAY

Writs of attachment have been sent to Wheeler, Brownsville and Mineral Wells today in attempts to secure the presence of three absent material witnesses in the trial of T. C. Johnson of Wheeler county, charged with criminal assault.

If the witnesses are brought here or are on their way by tomorrow, the trial will probably begin. Judge W. R. Ewing re-set the case yesterday for Wednesday at 10 a.m. after the defense has asked for a continuance.

Body Is Found Today on Floor of Laboratory

STAMFORD, May 21. (P)—Paul Glen, 17, high school student, was shot and killed in the basement of the Stamford sanitarium here last night. Officers today were seeking a 23-year-old man who had accompanied the youth to a show earlier in the evening.

Only one shot was fired, a pistol bullet striking Glen between the eyes. The man officers were seeking came to Stamford recently from Michigan, and was employed at the sanitarium. Glen and the suspect visited the quarters of the assistant last night, nurses reported. Nothing further was heard of them until a nurse found Glen's body on the floor of the laboratory, where the suspect was an assistant.

Another hospital attendant said the suspected man awoke a patient in a nearby room, asking the patient for $2.

Officers and relatives of the slain youth were unable to offer a possible motive. Young Glen and the suspect had been rather close friends, they said.

Funeral services are to be held here tomorrow.

QUERS, France, May 21.—(P)—The French naval authorities here today supplied German dirigible, Graf Zeppelin, with 3,000 cubic meters of hydrogen lifting gas necessary to enable it to make its return trip to Friedrichshafen later this week.

It was explained the big ship's lifting gas supply had been carefully apportioned to the load to be lifted, and while sufficient for the trip to America was not sufficient for the three additional parties who intended to fly back to Friedrichshafen.

Extortion Plot Against Morrows Revealed When Detectives Seek Writer of Note Demanding That Ambassador Pay $50,000—Constance Threatened

BOSTON, May 21.—(P)—The Boston Post in a copyrighted story today says Dwight W. Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, and father of Anne Morrow, fiancée of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, has been made subject of a $50,000 extortion plot.

The money, the Post asserts, was demanded under penalty of torture and death of his youngest daughter, 15-year-old Constance Morrow, student at Milton academy.

The newspaper says it has learned the receipt by the girl of two threatening letters was responsible for last Saturday's secret flight by Lindbergh and members of the Morrow family from the Morrow home at Englewood, N. J., to their summer place at North Haven, Me.

It was also responsible for the detective guard which has since stood

ROBBERY MAY HAVE LED TO FATAL WOUND

Piece of Watch Chain
Clutched in His Left Hand

FATHER IS JUDGE
AT LLANO, TEXAS
Jealousy Over Girl Is Possible Motive
of Crime

DALLAS, May 20. (P)—His right hand clutching a piece of watch chain, William B. McLean was found shot to death on a sidewalk in East Fifth street here today. McLean apparently had waged an unsuccessful fight with a robber.

Identification was established by laundry marks on the clothing and by McLean's landlady. Reports that he was a student at Southern Methodist university were found to be untrue. He was employed in a radio shop here and was a son of Judge J. H. McLean of Llano.

One pistol bullet entered McLean's chest, causing an internal hemorrhage. Officers still were undecided between two theories. The first, robbery, they held most tenable since McLean was clutching his watch chain. The second was that he was slain in South Dallas, the body taken to East Fifth street and thrown there. It was known, officers said, that McLean nightly had visited a girl in South Dallas, and that he had left his residence last night to go to see her. Jealousy over the girl might have been a motive, police declared.

LLANO, May 21. (P)—Judge J. H. McLean, father of William B. McLean, 23, found shot to death today, left immediately to claim his son's body upon receipt of news of the tragedy.

Young McLean had been employed in Dallas two or three years. He is survived by his parents and one sister, Mrs. Minnie Belle Ligon, of Llano.

Valuable Fossil Given to Society

CANYON, May 21.—(Special)—What is said to be one of the four fossils of a certain reptile of the Triassic period rests in the museum of The Panhandle Plains Historical society here. This fossil was found near Catfish creek, in Crosby county and came to the museum thru George A. Doughty of Post, who has been much interested in collecting fossil specimens over a long period of years.

The triassic age was the earliest part of the mesozoic period of the world's history. It was characterized by sandstone rocks, aridity and scant vegetation. It was during this time that reptiles rapidly evolved.

The Panhandle Plains historical society museum also contains a vertebra and tooth of the Giant Phytosaur, a crocodile-like reptile not unlike the better known dinosaur.

Other specimens secured for the museum from Mr. Doughty include 47 teeth of small, triassic reptiles, glazed pottery from cliff dwellings near Santa Fe, samples of lava and ores from all parts of the earth and arms representative of the past fifty years.

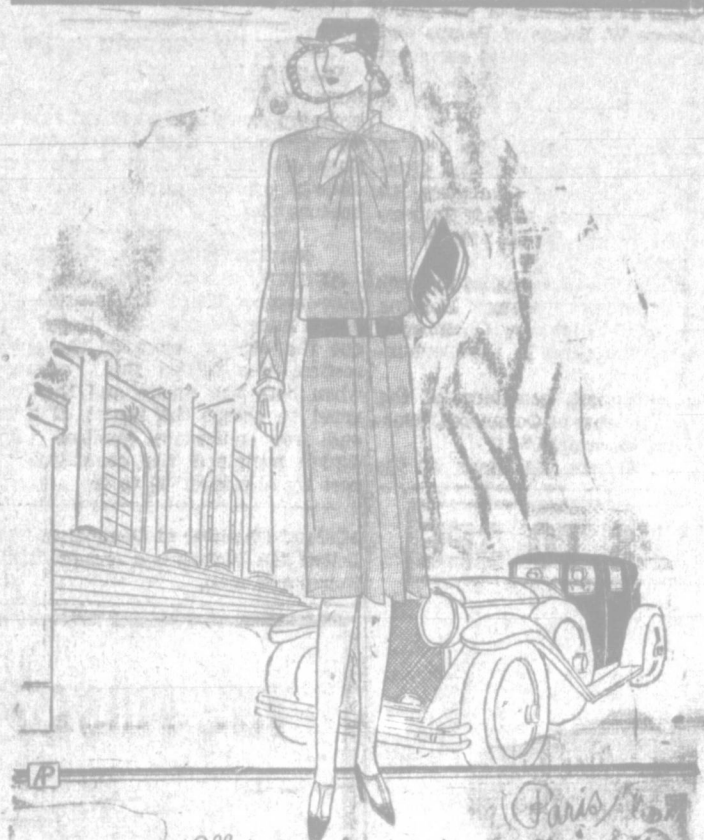

George A. Doughty is a recognized authority on fossil specimens and is frequently consulted from all parts of the United States.

T. D. Hobart is transacting business in Dallas.

Miss Irene Crawford of Canyon is the guest of Miss Wilma Behrends.

R. E. Underwood of Amarillo is among the attorneys here for district court.

Tells of Start Of Clinic Fire

Butley Rogers, a steamfitter, was at work in the basement store room of Cleveland clinic when the fire started, thus caused several explosions and caused the death of 123 persons. Rogers, above, had been sent into the basement to fix a leaking steam pipe. He found the pipe too hot to work on and went to ask the engineer to shut off the steam. When he returned the basement was "full of yellow smoke and steam gas," he said. During all this time, he said, the fire door to the store room containing X-ray films and chemicals was open.

Business on New Line Is Increasing

Business over the new Clinton and Oklahoma Western line from Pampa to Clinton, Okla., has increased since the opening of the line last Wednesday to where it may be necessary to put on a larger engine to pull the train.

W. H. Rochester, engineer in charge of line construction, said this morning. Yesterday morning the mixed train pulled out of the Santa Fe depot here with a passenger coach and twenty cars of merchandise. Five of the cars were for Mobette and the remainder for points along the line.

Westbound traffic also has increased, Mr. Rochester says. The big engine will be taken as far as Cheyenne only because of the light rails from that point to Clinton. The new line is in perfect condition and rides like an old line, Mr. Rochester declares.

The engineering department will leave here next week, Mr. Rochester says. He will take his camp to San Angelo, where a line is under construction. The Santa Fe camps have been here for more than a year.

McLean Works for Another Railroad

McLEAN, May 21.—(Special)—M. D. Bentley, dot Montgomery, and O. G. Stuckey, who represented the McLean Chamber of Commerce in a petition that proposed north and south railroads pass through McLean, reported to the Chamber of Commerce at its meeting last week on their recent trip to Memphis, Fort Worth, and Dallas, and told the members that McLean would be given consideration in the routing of the new line.

In the same session, the Chamber of Commerce considered applications for the secretaryship and discussed a number of possible locations for the office "soon" to be established.

A five-room brick veneer manse is being erected by the Presbyterian church of McLean, on the lots just north of the church building where the old manse formerly stood. The church welcomed its new pastor the Rev. W. A. Ervin, and his family last week in an informal reception at the church.

A school bond election held in McLean May 15, was defeated by a ballot of 103 votes against 78 for.

Frank Murry, Pampa lawyer, is here for district court.

Chickens Are Paying Grocery Bills in West Texas Cities

STAMFORD, May 21. (Special)—"Chickens are paying the grocery bill" in some places in West Texas according to B. M. Whiteaker, agricultural manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, upon returning from a short trip into the Lower Panhandle district of the territory served by the regional organization.

He reports that cotton is being planted in a number of places, and the prospects at this time are that a crop equalling the one of 1934 will be realized. The indications are that with 40 more days in which cotton may be planted a great acreage will be given over to the fleecy staple before June 15.

Iowa Park is in good financial condition on account of the growing tendency of local farmers to concentrate on dairying and poultry raising for ready money, according to Tom Cortado, Whiteaker said.

Electra has done a wonderful lot of work along agricultural and live stock lines, and in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce, of which Robert P. Hall is secretary, a bull circle, the first in the county has been organized. Quapah is booming since the building of the new railroad, the Quapah, Aema, and Pacific, and many permanent and substantial business houses and residences are being built. The whole town of Silverton is watching with interest the activities of the vocational agriculture class of which Mr. Gursley is instructor. The boys of the class recently entertained their fathers at a banquet at which more than a hundred guests were present," was Whiteaker report.

Mundy, Seymour, Vernon, Chillicothe, Matador, and Rosaring Springs were towns visited which reported the intention of sending a delegation of citizens to the Lower Panhandle district convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held in Seymour May 16.

Clarendon, Memphis, Quitague, Jayton, Spur, Girard, Swenson and Aspermont were reported as being more interested in diversified farming than has been the case in any previous year.

Doctors to Open Session Today

BROWNSVILLE, May 21.—(P)—Better enforcement of the medical practice act and possible changes in requirement for licenses to practice medicine in Texas were expected to come up for discussion at the 63rd annual convention of the State Medical Association of Texas opening here today.

Doctors of all portions of the state upward of 1500, were on hand to hear the address of Dr. Felix P. Miller of El Paso, president. A report on legislation also was to be presented by the legislative committee.

Four organizations allied with the state association yesterday decided on campaigns for radical changes in the system of trying insanity cases, for establishment of four psychopathic hospitals in the state, and for statewide immunization to prevent epidemics. The organizations were the Texas Radiological Society, Texas Railway Surgeons' association, Texas Neurological society, and Texas Dermatological society.

Endurance Plane Again Is Refueled

FORT WORTH, May 21. (P)—The monoplane Fort Worth attempting to break the 150 hour refueling endurance record of the army monoplane, Question Mark, was refueled today for the third time since it took off at 11:33 a. m. Sunday. In two contacts at an altitude of 2,500 feet, 110 gallons of gasoline was transferred from the auxiliary ship.

The ship, piloted by Reg. L. Robbins and James Kelly, completed its forty-fourth hour aloft at 7:33 a. m.

The plane took off at 11:33 a. m. Sunday and to break the record must remain aloft an hour longer than the Question Mark or until 7:13:15 p. m. Saturday.

The plane circled Mescham field, its base, throughout the night at an altitude of about 2,000 feet.

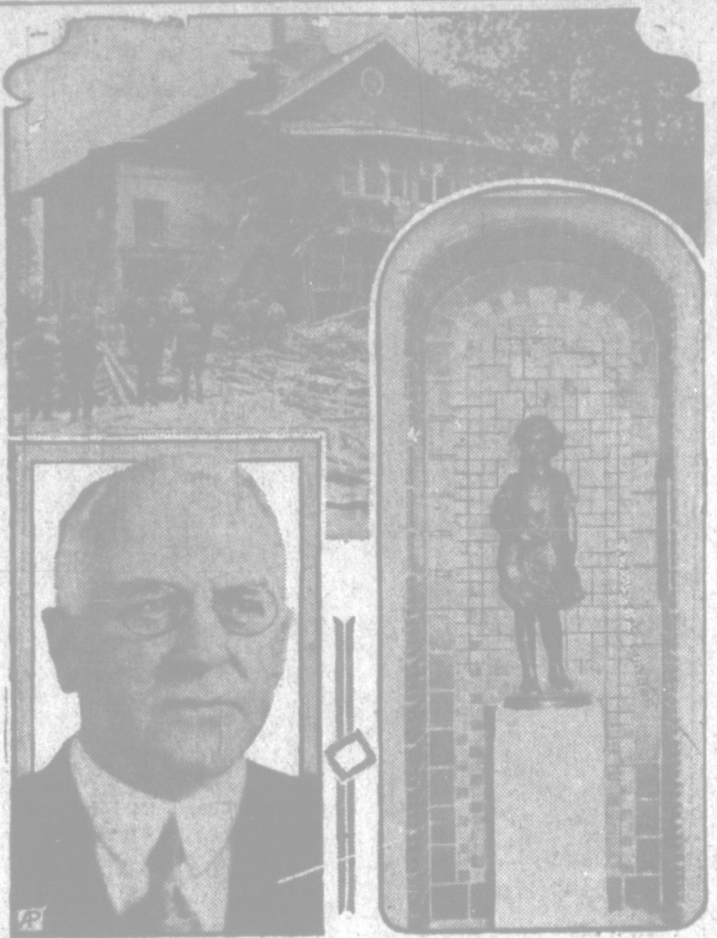

The third refueling was planned for 5:30 o'clock this morning.

Most Danger in Flood Zone Averted

(By the Associated Press.)

Rising streams and rivers threatening many sections of the Mississippi valley sent emergency crews scurrying to scenes of impending danger today, but disaster appeared to have been averted save in one instance.

Yesterday's only break occurred at a point where danger was least expected. While engineers were directing forces at three places near Kennett, Mo., the St. Francis bounded through another weakened levee and overflowed some 50,000 acres. Today the overflow had forked and was advancing through the countryside in two slow streams.

At Mounds Landing, Miss., where a break in 1927 sent the flood of that spring across some of the delta's richest lands and towns, levy board and government engineers were supervising forces which grew hourly in numbers. Sloths in the Mississippi river levees there had been checked sufficiently to give engineers hope a break would be averted. A request that President Hoover rescind the regulation forbidding state convicts to work on government projects—the levees are federal-built—had brought no reply save the information that the request must come to Washington thru the district engineer.

RACKETEER SLAIN

CHICAGO, May 21.—(P)—A man partially identified as John Hand, racketeer with a long record, was found shot to death in an automobile in Cicero, a suburb, today. Hand was questioned after the slaying of "Big Tom" Murphy, notorious labor leader and racketeer, last year. He was liberated on bond pending an appeal from his recent conviction in the federal court for violating the Sherman anti-trust law.

John Rogers Is Well Known Here

John "Big Booger Red" Rogers, charged with murder in connection with the slaying near Memphis Sunday night of Bert Deshaiver of Wichita Falls, is well known in Pampa and Gray county. He was a cowboy in this county for many years and was one of the outstanding rodeo stars of this section.

He was last connected with the Hay Hook ranch north of here. He was a visitor in Pampa two months ago, spending several days with friends here and at McLean, where he was well known.

His brother, "Little Red," was a greater rodeo star and was nationally known.

Eastern Clubs in Background—With West the Stronger

By HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

It has been a long time since National league fans have had an opportunity of watching the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers battle it out for last place at this more or less date in the season while the Boston Braves and Philadelphia take up the burden of making some kind of a show against the undeniable stronger western clubs. But that is what they are watching now.

In recent years when the center of national league strength has rested east of the Alleghenies, the Giants and to a lesser degree, the Robins, have been able to muster the strongest defense for repelling the western invasion.

There may be some hope for the East in the present outburst competition in the west where Cubs, Pirates, Cardinals and Reds are indulging in a dog-fight that is getting none of them anywhere.

The Cubs maintain their old hold on the lead by downing the Pirates, 5 to 1 behind Bush's five-hit pitching yesterday. The Cubs made their eighth hit off sure batting count. Haines finished the 1925 season with nine consecutive triumphs and has added five straight this year.

At Brooklyn, the Robins trounced the Giants, 4 to 1. William Watson Clark, young left-hander, giving the men of McGraw only two hits.

Old weather postponement of the Braves-Pirates battle.

Only two American league games were scheduled, the Athletics strengthening their hold on first place by downing the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 1, while the St. Louis Browns were beating Chicago, 6 to 3.

The Yankees engaged in an exhibition game at New Haven losing 3 to 2, to the Eastern league club of that city.

Cardinals May Have to Bolster Houston Buffs

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer.

If the paternal instinct is not entirely dormant in the business office of the St. Louis Cardinals, reinforcements may be expected shortly in the city by the bayou. The Houston Buffs are being maltreated up in the north country.

Yesterday the Astros and managed to win only one contest out of seven since they left friendly surroundings, which is not calculated to protect the Red Birds' investment in the Texas league. The Dixie champions today are nestled in fourth place and appear to be getting no where in a hurry.

Manager Frank Snyder is said to be extremely peeved about the treatment being accorded him by the main office. Since Pablos bucked over the traces last winter and came within an inch of refusing to sign his contract for the current season, Cardinal officials might be justified in viewing his present discomfort with alarm. The big Buff is not fond of pitching a loser.

The changes dropped their fifth straight when the Spudgers trounced them, 14 to 9, yesterday at Wichita Falls. Paul Wachtel and Sobelberg were shelled miserably by Jim Galloway's shogers, who chased over his runs in the seventh frame to seal up the decision.

Waco, again on the upgrade after suffering its long awaited slump, took a 3 to 1 decision to win its series with the dangerous Shreveport, contenders. Harris, Dallas cast-off, held the Sports to five hits while the Cubs were battering Williamson and Estrada where it hurt.

Mill Stock's Dallas Steers broke the jinx which San Antonio had held over them in four previous starts by taking a 6 to 4 verdict over the Redskins, equaring their series at Steer stadium and giving the mavericks their seventh victory in eight games. Today the herd was stationed in third place, just a half game behind Shreveport and looking more potent every minute.

Dick Whitworth turned in a masterful performance as the Fort Worth Cats took their second straight from Beaumont, 3 to 1. Only two hits were recorded off the former Houston twirler, while Hanson gave up six. Whitworth aided his own cause with a double and single.

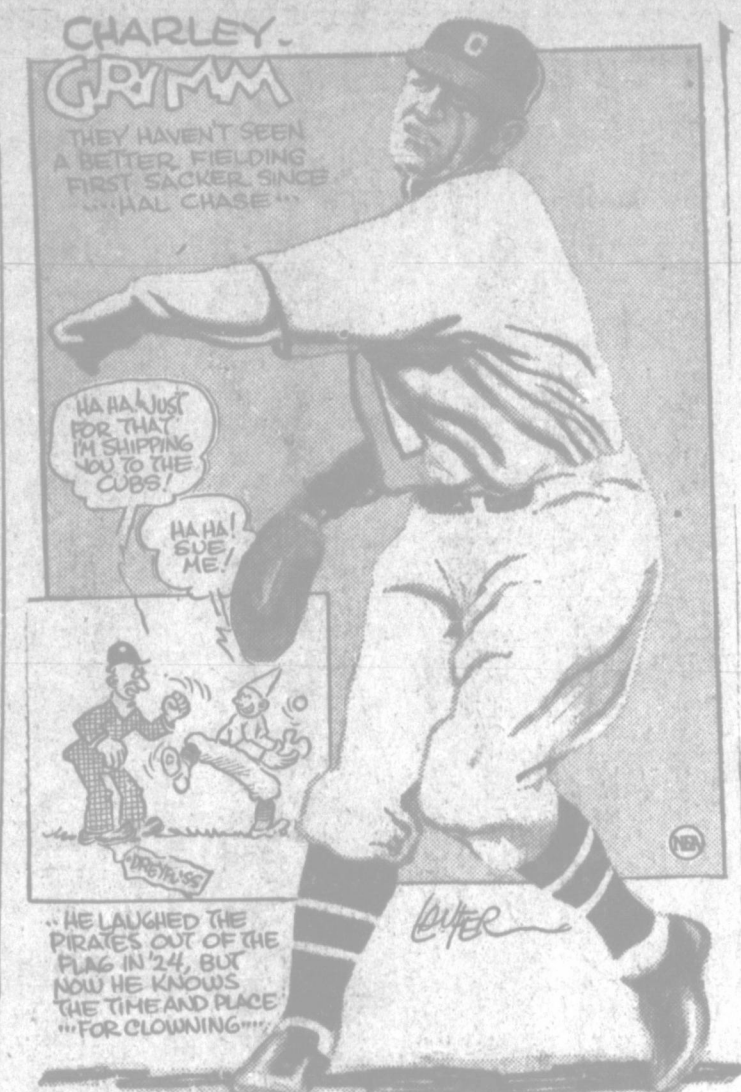

Longhorns to Win Title If Aggies Are Beaten Today

COLLEGE STATION, May 21.—(AP)—Another in that perennial list of southwest conference baseball championship was in sight for Texas university here today as the Longhorns prepared to tackle Texas A. & M. again.

The Aggies went down, 3 to 1, to the Steers yesterday, thus clinching for the varsity at least a tie with Baylor for the title. An O'Connell victory today would give the Longhorns to Texas.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS

By Laufer

One of the men upon whom Joe McCarthy is placing a hope that his Chicago Cubs will win the pennant is Charley Grimm, who is regarded by the ball players as the best fielding first baseman since the days of Hal Chase.

Grimm always has been a fine fielder. In fact, it was his skill on the defensive that kept him with the Pittsburgh Pirates when his hitting wasn't the size of his hat. But in recent years he has become a hitter. He hasn't led the league or anything like that, but he is respected by all the opposing pitchers as a dangerous batter in a pinch.

Early in his career Grimm was light-hearted and gay. He was a clown and he didn't take his baseball seriously. It has been said that he and Rabbit Maranville laughed the Pittsburgh Pirates out of the National League pennant in 1924, and Barney Dreyfuss, the Pirate chief, sent him on to the Cubs.

Grimm is still somewhat of a clown on the ball field, but he has learned when to do his clowning. Off the field he is the life of the Cub family. He has a $40 banjo and can play it. He also plays the harmonica, the trombone, the mandolin, the guitar, the piano and the xylophone. He is a swell tenor singer in a quartet and an amateur magician of ability. He carries a magician's outfit around with him and can pull rabbits out of a hat or eggs from under the lapel of your coat. He talks German fluently and knows all the German folk songs and dances. And he can tear off a wicked soft shoe tap dance. And during the winter he makes toys in his home for the kids.

BY VERNE WICKHAM

If you took a shovel or a hoe down into a trap and used it to smooth the sand so you could have a shot at the ball, you couldn't hurt a real golfer's sensibilities any more than grounding your club in the trap and smoothing out the sand back of the ball.

You'll see lots of golfers smoothing the sand with their clubs while addressing the ball. They will drop the club just back of the ball and scrape a nice trough up to the ball and then "smack" out she comes onto the green followed by the golfers with a big grin on his face as if he had made a fine shot. Using a wooden tee in the trap couldn't be much worse.

The rule is very plain on this breach and the penalty is loss of the hole in match play. Here's the rule: "When a ball lies in or touches a hazard, nothing shall be done which can in any way improve its lie; the club shall not touch the ground, nor shall anything be touched or moved before the player strikes at the ball."

The golfer who improves his lie in the trap usually alibis himself by insisting that he should not be penalized because some dub left a heel print in the trap. Remember one shouldn't be in the traps. They are put there to penalize bad shots. Don't beat the game by improving your lie in the hazards. When you leave the trap, smooth your own heel marks out evenly.

Don't ground your club in the traps!

Sam Richman Is Trying to Make Third Position

ODESSA, May 21.—(AP)—A new threat has appeared in C. C. Pyle's bunion brigade.

While Johnny Salo, Passaic, N. J., policeman, has been content to pace Pete Gavuzzi, bewhiskered rival, of England, into the daily control point and retain his all miled of 21 minutes, 30 seconds, Sam Richman, New York boy, continues to burn up the roads with his sensational running.

Richman in the past week pulled up from fifth to fourth place, put two hours behind himself and his old position and set out to cut the margin between third and fourth. He is still more than 13 hours behind Gusto Umek, of Italy, third place man, but yesterday he battled the Italian for the lead and beat him into the control point by three minutes.

Salo and Gavuzzi also duelled for honors but neither could gain in yesterday's short run and tied for fourth place for the day.

The bunions left Odessa at 7 o'clock for Monahan, Texas a run of 35 miles.

CHURCHES

There was no "Blue Monday" yesterday at the Church of Christ. The house was nearly full last evening. We appreciate very much the interest being taken in our way of conducting this meeting. We do not gather our singers together for the song worship. They are all through the audience and we invite every one to join in the singing. And that is being done and the people show that they appreciate this opportunity and consideration.

The evening hour is changed from 8 to 8:15. The day services will be at noon with one song, prayer and short sermon—thirty minutes in all. Come at 12:15. We close at 12:45. This will give you time to get your lunch and get back to work at one.

Evangelist Rice will speak this evening on "Christ the Great Servant and Saviour. Jesus was with the Father in the beginning and rendered perfect service in the creation of all material things. (John 1:1-4; Heb. 1:15-17).

We behold the perfect service of Jesus in the many schools of fish herds of cattle and horses; flocks of sheep, goats and fowls of the air. It is seen in the beautiful vegetable kingdom, in the mineral kingdom; the gold, silver and copper mines and all that go to make up this great kingdom.

The service of Jesus is seen and appreciated much when we behold the family with the father, mother and babe with its beautiful smiles and curls. But we have appreciation beyond expression of Jesus as a great servant and our saviour when we think of his services rendered in giving to us the great plan of salvation thru his sinless life and shameful death on the cross. Read Matt. 20:28; Jno. 6:38; Phil. 2:5-11; Heb. 5:8-9.

Clyde Stuckey returned this morning from a business trip to Wichita Falls.

J. V. NEW RETURNS TO RESUME BUSINESS HERE

Arrangements have been completed whereby J. V. New, formerly owner of the American Cleaners when it was known as Vogue Cleaners, again becomes owner and manager of the plant. Mr. New took charge of the business today.

Since leaving Pampa late last summer Mr. New has been in Fort Worth, where he recently sold a cleaning business. "I think I am here to stay now for Pampa is the best business town I have seen since I left," said Mr. New in discussing his return to Pampa.

FORMER ASSESSOR HERE

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Boney and daughter Cora, left yesterday for their home in Ideal. Mr. and Mrs. Boney have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Shackleton, during the graduation of their daughter, who attended school here during the last year. Mr. Boney was the first tax assessor in Gray county after the county was organized. He has not been here in the last 23 years. He was surprised at the growth of Pampa and the activities in the county.

Mrs. Jim Rogers underwent an operation at the McKean & Connor hospital this morning.

Dan Covington, son of Mrs. Esther Covington entered the McKean & Connor hospital this morning for treatment.

A Milestone

Lucky Strike represents a milestone in the progress of cigarette manufacture. The toasting process makes Lucky Strike the brand of distinction, and, in the opinion of 20,679* physicians, is the reason Luckies are less irritating. No other cigarette enjoys this secret heat treatment which removes impurities and irritants, produces a flavor beyond comparison and assures the smoker the maximum of delightful smoking pleasure and comfort.

"It's Like This..."

BUILDING PERMITS should be taken out before building is started, instead of when they are near completion, as often is the case. Contractors know the ruling, and should attend to its provisions.

If a permit is worth anything in regulating general construction, it must refer to the right to begin work. It is not just a custom to be ignored.

Building permits are of value in compiling records of construction. There is no other sure way of knowing how much is being spent. Every week the leading cities are asked to furnish their official building permit totals. Despite the laxity in observing the permit ordinance, Pampa has made some good showings in this regard. There are many residences, however, which are not shown in the available totals, and Pampa's buildings reputation suffers to the extent that permits are not obtained.

HELP FOR THE FARMER is in the making, whether it amounts to anything or not. Direct and more orderly marketing is involved, with the stipulation that the government will probably furnish working capital for holding or moving the crops.

The elaborate system of grain buying middle agencies is apparently being overlooked. The charge that the middle men have been making big profits has often been heard, but under government aid for wheat farmers, for instance, the middle men are more apt to be doing the protesting.

In other words, by the time the farmer is being helped enough to notice it the middle men will be needing aid. That is, unless corrective steps are taken probably by using the grain dealers in the general farm relief scheme.

The Theater in the Home

From the Christian Science Monitor.
Anticipating the development of television, it is already common belief that the typical well-to-do home in the United States will presently have a private theater, as it now has a radio receiving set. But what will the private theater be like? Many, no doubt, remember the magic lantern; in those quaint, old-fashioned days the father of the family stood on a chair and fastened a sheet to the wall; the younger members of the family operated the lantern, their mother smilingly watchful lest they let the lamp smoke. It is not unnatural to think that the theater in the home may be a good deal like that, the family sitting at one end of the room, the actors and actresses, in convincing though counterfeit presentment, performing at the other. But on consideration this idea presents difficulties. The television receiving set will not be as simple as the magic lantern; it appears more than doubtful that he stage can be provided by hanging up a sheet. Although it would be pleasant to have a theater in the home, the thought seems less attractive of having the home in a theater.

An inventor, Dr. Lee De Forest, looking ten years ahead, has recently suggested what the theater in the home will probably look like. "The television screen," says he "in order to be at all satisfactory for use by the household, must be at least a foot square and preferably eighteen inches by twenty-two inches. This can be in the shape of a ground-glass plate, recessed slightly in the cabinet, where it is in shadow and at the same time visible to a good-sized group of people gathered about the instrument." This is neat, attractive, and economical of domestic space. But it modifies a widespread idea of the theater in the home, and may well bring comfort to those who are apprehensive that the domestic playhouse will ruin the commercial theater. Granting, as one may, that the players in the home theater will have human complexions, move humanlike in colorful scenes, and, apparently, speak their lines trippingly on the tongue, they will nevertheless be a Lilliputian race; nay, more, they will be Lilliputians speaking like Brobdingnagians.

The prophetic inventor says that with talking-motion pictures it "will be essential, in the interests of illusion, to have the sound emanating directly from the screen itself." But even in the interest of illusion it will hardly do to have the size of the voice diminished to match the size of the actor. The motion picture theater has accustomed its audience to Brobdingnagians; the theater in the home will no doubt accustom audiences to Lilliputians. Probably, too, as in the movies, actors and actresses will wax and wane in stature; hero or heroine may be an inch and a half tall in one scene and twenty inches tall in another. Always their voices, to be audible, must be bigger than they are. The security of the public playhouse would seem to be that something "just as good" is always something different.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
WASHINGTON — The Hon. Smith-Wildman Brookhart, senator from Iowa, is never mentioned nowadays without without use of his middle name.

Brookhart is not the brainiest man in the Senate, but he has a way of going after firmly entrenched personages, institutions and selfish interest, which is no more remarkable for the reckless spirit which Brookhart displays than for his high percentage of effectiveness. Quite a few persons have learned that it isn't safe to monkey with Brookhart, who never takes anything lying down.

Senator Daniel F. Steck, Brookhart's Democratic colleague, who was elected by an anti-Brookhart political combination, found that out a couple of years ago when he charged that Brookhart was a paid lobbyist in connection with a presidential appointment. By the time Brookhart finished with him, Steck had lost most of his tail feathers and had withdrawn the charge.

Attacked Fess, Too

Of course Brookhart made Senator Simeon Fess of Ohio look rather silly the other day after the ill-considered Fess letter in which Brookhart was called a "pseudo-Republican" and a marplot. But that happens to Fess almost automatically whenever anyone in the Senate undertakes to chastise him for cause.

Brookhart shines when on the offensive and that's almost all the time. With equal fervor he assails the bankers, the Republican party, the president and the movie industry. The conservatives say he's uncouth, but that doesn't lessen the force of his wallop. It's true that he was born in a log cabin some 60 years ago and never went to college, but he is ordinarily a quite pleasant and amiable person, with a war record covering the Spanish-American struggle, Mexican border service and the World War. He is rugged and strong, short and chunky and his smile resembles that of a man who is about to commit a long-anticipated murder of vengeance.

Brookhart was on the administration side during the last campaign, but it didn't last long. Before the conventions he was advocating the nomination of Senator George W. Norris. Now, in farm relief debate, he has become one of President Hoover's bitterest critics, charging that he was misled into making those many speeches to Hoover for the farmers last year. His bolt from the Hoover farm program was even more spectacular and vehement than his campaign for the party candidate.

All along he has kept on digging up dirt in the Republican party's major standing scandal, the southern patronage system, showing how G. O. P. politicians in that area have profited handsomely by distribution of federal offices and for nothing more than their services at national conventions. President Hoover is understood to oppose heartily the work of Brookhart's patronage committee, but it's popularity among other Republican politicians is not so much.

Another example of Brookhart's propensities for hell-raising is his determination for reforming the movie trust. He is pushing a bill to prohibit blind booking and block booking of movie films, arbitrary distribution of films to theaters in which producers are interested and other methods now in use. His announced purpose is to preserve "the remaining vestige of competition" in the industry and create possible new competition.

TWINKLES

We note that the Kentucky derby, too, was all wet.

We don't have hitching posts, but Old Dobbin never stood longer at one post than do many Pampa cars without parking limitations.

Dedicated to new parents: A Missouri man says a baby brightens a home up wonderfully—he has to keep the light on most of the time.

An agitator on labor conditions complaining: "Women wage earners receive on the average about 55 per cent of the weekly earnings of men wage earners." Well, that's enough, but some of them also go into husbands' pockets at night.

The world's largest magnet weighs 12 tons. It should have plenty of "it".

The rain we railed at stopped. (?) It always does so in West Texas.

"Women's rights" extend to traveling across the Atlantic Ocean in an airport so far as Mrs. Mary Pierce, Park Avenue society woman of New York, is concerned. For though Secretary of State Stimson himself interceded to restrain her in accordance with the anxious protests of her wealthy broken husband and relatives, she boarded the Graf Zeppelin at Friedrichshafen, Germany, just before the dirigible started its trans-Atlantic journey. She was the only woman passenger aboard and is the third woman ever to travel overseas by dirigible.

Blanchette Now
Feels 30 Years
Younger, He Says

There is no question in my mind that any medicine that takes hold of a case of years standing with a man of my years—I am 78—and builds up his strength and energy to a point of ten pounds is a remarkable medicine.

Mr. O. BLANCHETTE

"Before I started the Sargon treatment, I was so weak and run down, that I could hardly get around. I had suffered with chronic constipation and stomach trouble for years. My Digestion was poor, my appetite failed me, and severe constipation brought on biliousness.

"I tried medicines that gave me temporary relief, but that was all, and I was never more surprised, soon after beginning the Sargon treatment, than to find my appetite had returned, and to find myself eating and enjoying my food, and feeling better in every way.

Then, as my strength and energy came back, and I commenced to feel alert, to take a new interest in things around me, and really enjoy life, I was convinced I had at last found the right medicine.

"I feel thirty years younger than when I started the treatment.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills ended my constipation and my biliousness is gone. They don't shock the system like other laxatives I have used, but are mild and act surely and naturally. I am certainly grateful to this wonderful treatment for all it has done for me."

The above statement was made recently by O. Blanchette, of 1513 Victoria St., Beaumont, a pioneer citizen of that place.

Sargon may be obtained in Pampa from Fatherson Drug Co., and in McLean from Erwin Drug Co.—Adv.

RICH GIRL POOR GIRL
24 RUTH DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED

MILDRED LAWRENCE falls in love with STEPHEN ARMISTEAD, who is lured away from her by PAMELA JUDSON when she tells him that Mildred is trying to marry her brother, HAROLD.

Harold had once confessed his fear of death to Mildred and told her that he was afraid to die. Then she tells Stephen her suspicions about him, and he is shocked to hear of his death—apparently accidental.

Now go on with the story. CHAPTER XXXVII.

A FEW seconds before the shot that was meant to kill Mildred was fired, an incoming train disgorged its passengers for that station and the first of the stream, hurrying toward the street, saw her pluck forward in a headlong fall down the stairs.

One of them, a young man with a cauliflower ear and a quick eye, sprang forward to catch her. He succeeded in breaking the fall but they both went down together.

Others came to his assistance, but in attempting to get Mildred on her feet they saw that she was unconscious.

By this time a crowd had appeared upon the scene. He took instant and efficient command of the situation. The passengers, all but a few of the more curious, went on their way, not one of them suspecting that the girl had been shot.

New York listens to her noises with but half an ear. A pistol shot, muffled as it was, would be unheard except by those who happened to be close range.

And Mildred would be assassinated, although his nerves were unsteady and his shoulders reared spasmodically in a queer twisting motion, had still enough command of his judgment to choose an instant that would give him all the advantage when he pulled the trigger.

His right hand was on his side to the building. To anyone approaching from the rear he was hidden from view by the piled-up boxes. He would scarcely be noticed by anyone coming toward him as he faced the subway entrance, which would prevent him from being in the direct line of vision of all but those coming up to the street.

THAT was the chance he had to take, but shooting a young girl on a busy New York street could not be without its hazards. The thing was to get her in a spot where there was no one to see.

Mildred was no more to him than a wooden target would have been.

His mind was filled with the promise of immediate transport to his private heaven when the job was finished. He needed no other incentive to have it done as soon as possible.

His half-satisfied craving for drugs was sufficient to prime him for the murder he had undertaken, although the "what" he wanted to know was not the "how" but the "when" of the act that the girl had been shot.

It was a risk the man was compelled to take. He hadn't anyone at hand to fend off on such a cold-blooded task except this lost creature.

This was not a gang war—he could get help from Duke and his men only up to a certain point. When it came to murdering a girl, he had to do his own thing, he was told.

So he went for Shifty. Even Shifty didn't know his name. One glance at him and Shifty saw that Shifty would promise anything he asked. But he couldn't send him out as he was; he'd funk it sure.

It was necessary for Shifty's purpose to satisfy Shifty's craving just enough to bolster his nerve up to the point where murder was no more to him than the price of a few hours of happy oblivion to torture, and yet stop short of giving him enough of his drug to make him forget what he was sent out to do.

Shifty had picked up the trail shortly before Mildred fell. He had seen her and saw her fall. He turned and walked away with no thought in his mind but to get back to Shifty and collect his pay.

From across the street came a man who had seen Mildred go toppling forward, but even he had no suspicion that she'd been shot. He did not notice Shifty, who was crouching enough to run the risk.

When the man saw that Mildred was receiving aid he went back to his fruit stand. His sympathy in going to her assistance was rewarded by the loss of an apple apiece to a couple of street urchins who made off in haste when they saw him returning.

His interest in Mildred died right then, and although he was an observant man he failed to see Shifty hasten toward a parked taxicab as his nerve began to fail him.

WHEN it was discovered that Mildred had been shot she was carried into a nearby drug store, where she revived before the ambulance which had been hastily summoned arrived.

The ambulance surgeon decided to take her to the hospital, though he told her the wound was superficial. "Just a skin scratch on the abdomen. You'll be able to go home tonight."

As it was her shoulder that had been shot, Mildred assumed that it was her "accident."

Before she was helped out to the ambulance she answered a number of questions put to her by a policeman. She said she did not know who had shot her, mindful that to

AUTO TRADE SCHOOL PIONEER ENMESHED IN LEGAL TROUBLES

Emory J. Sweeney (inset) erected the $1,000,000 building shown above when his school for automobile, tractor and aviation mechanics was prospering. Now he is battling difficulties. Even his radio station, WHB, has been shut down pending a hearing.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The chauffeur-mechanic who rode to fortune on the wheels of an odd idea is enmeshed in a legal fight to retain an equity in the $1,000,000 building his profits made possible.

A year ago Emory J. Sweeney sold, subject to a mortgage the structure housing what once was called the "world's largest automobile trade school." Now foreclosure proceedings have been instituted against the building.

The monument to Sweeney's wartime success likewise is the subject of a civic attack on the ground that it obstructs between the union station, the city's new postoffice and world war memorial.

Sweeney's radio station, WHB, has been shut off by order of the federal radio commission, pending a hearing in Washington, May 23 for the renewal of its license.

A real estate project, begun by Sweeney as an airport site 10 years ago, is in a receivership. Sweeney's $600,000 home, a show place of Kansas City in its day, has been sold.

It was Sweeney's plan of teaching automotive mechanics that expanded a small shop with an initial investment of less than $100 to a school with an annual enrollment of 8,000.

During the war he housed, boarded and taught 6,000 soldiers for $147 a day—and spent thousands caring for them and other students during two post-war influenza epidemics.

Attendance then showed a marked decrease. Sweeney was forced to borrow until his mortgages approximated $450,000.

The trade teacher who estimates that 85,000 students have attended his automobile, aviation and tractor schools, now asks immediate condemnation of his building, or an assurance that it will not be condemned.

Sweeney was asked about his "dwindling resources."

"Dwindling tommyrot!" countered the 45-year-old executive. "My real resources always have been my health and my energy. I've got 'em all today and I'm fighting my way out."

"HELL ON THE BORDER" CALLED REAL THRILLER

The thrilling historical drama "El Bandido" based on the life and incidents of Mexico's T-actors Le Nit and rebel leader, Pancho Villa, is shown at the Crescent theatre today and tomorrow gives William Russell a part true to his own heart as chief of the Texas Rangers.

The picture is new in its scope and atmosphere with thrills of wild riding, raids, war and mortal combat, directed by Henry King, one of America's foremost directors. It is generally thought that cowboys, Indians, gambling dens and wild life constituted western pictures with the usual streak of love that held it together. William Russell holds more than this in this picture—he has strong romance, charm and the true spirit of the life of the Texas Rangers.

An unusual educational exhibit is on display in the theatre lobby, consisting of a wax figure of the noted bandit and his famous horse attired in a beautiful Mexican hand carved and special trimmed saddle. The picture is having a popular run throughout the state and comes highly recommended by leading exhibitors as an out of the ordinary road show attraction that is well worth seeing.

ton D. Baker, of Cleveland, war secretary in the Wilson administration, sitting at this right as ranking member of the commission.

The others will be three federal judges, William S. Kenyon, of Iowa, William I. Grubb, of Alabama, and Paul J. McCormick, of California, four eminent attorneys, Roscoe Pound of the Harvard law school, Henry W. Anderson, of Richmond, Virginia, Monte M. Lemmon, of New Orleans, president of the Louisiana Bar association; and Frank J. Loesch, vice-president of the Chicago Crime Commission; a former jurist, Kenneth R. MacKintosh, of Washington state, and one educator, Miss Ada L. Comstock, president of Radcliffe college, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

The commission is expected to get a its work within a short time and concededly has before it the most stupendous undertaking of any similar body in the history of the country. Guesses as to the length of time it will require for completion of the job vary, but even the most optimistic agree a final report is not to be expected within a year and a half or two years.

While the official White House announcement of the personnel designated the body as the national law enforcement commission, its chief function appears to be associated in the popular mind with prohibition enforcement. This trend of thought is clearly reflected in comments on the selection made by leading members of congress.

Generally speaking these comments were favorable, with some of the drys as well as the wets rather enthusiastic and decidedly hopeful of some concrete results so far as the whole prohibition question is concerned.

Both drys and wets scanned the names of the eleven commissioners in the hope of finding the answer to the question of their views on the prohibition subject, but they had only varying success. The White House announcement made no reference to the subject and the public careers of the commissioners have identified them with neither side.

ALL-STEEL

BUILT

like a SAFE

BUT two months ago General Electric announced the first ALL-STEEL refrigerator ever built. Now this outstanding scientific development of the times has been made available in six popular models.

The all-steel refrigerator cannot warp. It is strong—built to last. The doors, fitted by hand at the factory, retain their close fit.

The General Electric mechanism is permanently self-oiling, hermetically sealed in a steel casing and mounted up on top, trouble-free and safe from dust and difficulties. Quietly, economically, it constantly maintains the temperature in the refrigerator at several safe degrees below the danger line of 50. It freezes ice cubes rapidly.

These six new models are offered at very low prices on conveniently spaced payments. The small family model, at the factory, is priced at $215.

New all-steel models in six different sizes at our display rooms invite your critical inspection.

Listen in on the General Electric Hour every Saturday, 5 to 9 P.M., Eastern Standard Time, over the N.B.C. network of 42 stations.
