THIEVING EVERYWHERE.

Saucy Attack by S. S. Cox on the Tariff.

The laughableness rather than the logic of the following speech, delivered by the Hon. S. S. Cox, in the course of the Congressional debate on the tariff, last week, will commend it to our readers.

I do not propose so much to antagonize the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. Butler) in regard to making salt partly free. I should like to see it entirely free. I speak on this side of the House (standing near Mr. Dawes) because my side of the House is somewhat demoralized on the tariff, judging from some of the votes given on coal there yesterday. Some curious arguments were made yesterday. They go far to disturb some of my principles, if not control my vote. A gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. Griffith) appealed to my friend from Indiana (Mr. Kerr) not to oppose the coal tax, because he was born above a coal formation in Pennsylvania, and his playmates were honorable men. I feel the force of that ad hominem. I was born near the salt wells at the beautiful Muskingum, in Ohio. Before that stream had slack water, before it was considered hardly worth a dam, its banks spouted salt water like a Massachusetts member of Congress. It was evaporated by bituminous coal—I mean nothing personal to the gallant member from Massachusetts (Mr. Bank)—I mean the salt water, not the banks. Around the wells and kettles of my native river cluster those sweet saline associations which have preserved me ever young! They are hard to resist. Another argument has still more force. The gentleman from Maryland (Mr. Ritchie) begged us not to throttle the infantile coal interest of his beloved Cumberland. Although that unhappy baby has been fostered by a "paternal government" on "pap" or any milk for so many years, its power of suction is at least forty thousand horse power. These are statistics. Yet, with rare economic genius, followed by the eloquent fiscal member from the Kanawha salt works, he appeals to us to let him steal, so long as other sections stole from him. Was there ever such an illustration as that just made on the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. Butler)? The gentleman from Missouri (Mr. Finkelnburg) wanted to be so honest as to help the people to keep pork by cheap salt. The gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. Butler) wanted to cheat the treasury by free salt for codfish. This was all larceny. What could be more reasonable or ethical? Let us be to each other instruments of reciprocal rapine. Michigan steals on copper; Maine on lumber; Pennsylvania on iron; North Carolina on pea nuts; Massachusetts on cotton goods; Connecticut on hairpins; New Jersey on spool thread; Louisiana on sugar, and so on. Why not let the gentleman from Maryland steal on coal from them? True, but a comparative few get the benefit, and it comes out of the body of the people; true, it tends to high prices, but does not stealing encourage industry? Let us as moralists, if not as politicians, rewrite the eighth commandment: "Thou shalt steal; because stealing is right when common." As I am a representative of New York, and Onondaga, with the aid of the [illegible] solar artisan, evaporates salt, should I not also to steal to help Onondaga? Stealing by tariff, Mr. Chairman, is as De Quincey proved of murder, a fine art. If everybody stole from everybody, is there any reproach to anybody? If everybody is a burglar, is there any need for anybody to lock up houses? The mining companies out West send their ores to Wales to be so refined as to get more wealth. It ought to be stopped. Let them steal capital out of government! Why not pilfer something out of somebody else's earnings, and build works in Colorado and Nevada like those in Wales? How happy we should all be when the reproach of Goat Island is removed from the Pacific, and from the gentleman from California (Mr. Sargent) by a grander steal for wool and blankets! How happy we should be when we can look each other in the face here, clasp hands, as now I look into the face of the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. Dawes) and say, "God bless you, my brother; you have stolen from me, and I from you; let us love one another." Then the little unprotected pigs, quietly eating out of the trough, will squeal no more to be let in, for on this idea all shall be fed by swallowing each other's food; and when all are fed no one loses, and we shall be happy. This principle commends itself to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. Banks) who has made the speech on this subject that delights my heart. It has so much moderation and wisdom. It has no nonsense, no doctrine in it. It is based on a principle pure and undefiled. It is petit larceny. He would not steal as much as others, but to steal into good company—he would steal less. There is, then, not so much motive for detection and punishment. Other gentlemen are overdoing it. He would steal sixty per cent less than others, say on coal. But whether petit or grand larceny, the results are such that when every "cove" has an equal chance at the swag, William Sykes becomes as honorable as the Artful Dodger, whom the papers liken to my friend from Massachusetts (Mr. Banks.) And even Oliver Twist, like myself, could "ask for more" without affecting the innocence of his simple nature!

A few more "statistics," and I subside. How beautifully this thought is illustrated by the well laid breakfast-table of my colleague (Mr. Brooks). The happy family gathers around it; grace is said; God is asked to "protect us" in our joint and several efforts to steal! One guest pockets the knives and forks; another the salt and saltcellar; another the cream jug, plates and sugar-bowl; another the cloth, and another the bread, another the potatoes, another the plated ware, another the mutton chop; a brawny Robert Macaire, from down East, lifts out the table; while a sly Jean Jacques, to encourage domestic cookery, slips into the kitchen, puts out the fire, and carries off the stove and coals. The guests look at each other innocently and say, "We have done all this to increase the general comfort and to make free with the breakfast table. Are not our selfish appetites assuaged? Though we have not each a general glut of nourishment, are we not happy? Is there not coffee left unground and unburned, and tea undistilled, sweetened by the memories of sugar upon an absent cloth and covering and invisible table?" I was about to produce some more statistics. They are so powerful here. I will ask leave to print 1000 copies of this speech at the expense of the Industrial League of Philadelphia, to which I hear no objection.

Port Wine Making.

Attractions of the Genuine Article.

As very little of the port wine sold in this country has ever seen the Alto Douro District of Portugal, the average consumer may take comfort that the following record of a tourist, which we quote from Chambers Journal, has nothing to do with the beverage he consumes. Connoisseurs, on the other hand, will find matter for reflection if not for disgust. The writer says:

Here and there we saw parties of men and women scattered along the terraces gathering the grapes; and we met strings of men ragged, filthy, stained all over with the grape, laboring in single file up the steep paths and awkward steps that led from terrace to terrace; each man carrying on his head a large deep basket filled with grapes in a crushed, unsavory looking mass, oozing out in every direction.

Alas! for our visions of lovely, picturesquely dressed peasant girls such as one has seen in pictures, tripping gayly along with little white baskets poised airily on their heads and containing half a dozen bunches of different colors elegantly arranged, and sometimes a few flowers or a peach on the top to complete the picture! How hideous is the reality! A coal heaver grimmed with coal dust is not pleasant or picturesque object to look at, but he is positively beautiful as compared to a laborer in a vineyard smeared from head to foot with dark red grape juice. When we reached an adega, or wine press, we were even more disenchanted. As we drew near the evil smelling place, we became aware of a low, monotonous sound, which we were told was the music to enliven the gang who were treading the grapes. On entering the building, as we became accustomed to the darkness, we found the interior to be almost entirely filled by three large stone cisterns, each capable of holding twenty pipes of wine. They were about three feet deep and filled with black mass of stalks, skins and juice, which had been grapes, and in time would be wine. On this mass were slowly moving about, to the melancholy music aforesaid, consisting of a drum, fife and guitar, a dozen men dragged in ragged shirts, and their bare legs stained to a hideous red color, by much soaking in grape juice. Everything reeked of new wine, which was splashed about in every direction. The men moving slowly through the grape juice and immersed in it to above the knees, lifted their feet high at each step so as to bruise and stir thoroughly the mass. The amount of treading necessarily varies considerably, but usually lasts from 30 to 40 hours, the gang, of course, being relieved at intervals. In this "adega" the men had already been for a considerable time, one was yet being filled with grapes, basket after basket being brought from the vineyard and thrown in while we were there. On expressing a wish to taste the "must," the man in charge of the adega produced a white plate, and called to one of the gang in the "lagar" to approach the side; he did so, and then to my horror, lifting his leg in the air, he allowed the juice which streamed from it to run off over his heel on the plate, which was held to catch it. I found afterward that this extremely disgusting proceeding was in truth unavoidable, because the "must" sinks to the bottom of the "lagar," and could not otherwise be got at through the thick crust of skins and stalks which rises to the surface, while in this way the juice alone drains off into the plate. Mr. —— and the "commissary" smelled and tasted the "must" with much care; and, after consulting together, they came to the conclusion that more treading was unnecessary, and the men were ordered to leave the "lagar." The next operation would be to run off the wine into a vat, and add enough brandy to it to stop its further fermentation. In this vat it would remain until the beginning of the following year, when it would be drawn off into smaller casks (pipes,) and sent down to Oporto to be got ready for shipment to England.

New York World on Greeley.

It would be contrary to all precedence for the Democratic party to adopt Mr. Greeley as its candidate in unreflecting haste, without due inquiry into his strength or fitness. If we endorse him, it must be intelligently, not blindly. The only reason for nominating Greeley is the Republican reinforcement he is expected to bring to the Democratic party. He could not get a single vote in our convention if it were understood that he would join us alone without a strong body of Republican followers. It is a match whose only recommendation is the expected marriage portion. If it should appear on examination that it is in fact a mere seductive fiction, the proposed nuptials would certainly be broken off for no Democrat even affects to regard it otherwise than as a marriage of interest and not of inclination. Greeley is the fairy odethesis of a Democrat. He has strenuously fought the Democratic party of his life. There is no question, either of principle or policy, on which he agrees with us, except the transient question of amnesty. By nominating him we should stultify ourselves as Free traders—stultify ourselves as opponents of the paternal theory of government—stultify ourselves as the champions of State rights—stultify ourselves as antagonists of the Ku-Klux law, the odious bayonet election law, martial law in the Southern States, and the whole series of subjugating measures, which Mr. Greeley has championed and the Democratic party has unanimously opposed within the last two or three years.

We do not believe that he can control or even divide the negro vote of the South. Within the last few days we have had opportunities for conversing with intelligent Southern men and Northern menwho have recently returned from the South, and they all concur in the opinion that the blacks will go solid for Grant. This is intrinsically probable enough, and is confirmed by the fact that Fred Douglass and all the captivating colored orators are committed to Grant and ready to stump the South in his favor Most of the blacks are organized into political leagues or associations, which have long been under the control of Grant's friends. We do not believe that Mr. Greeley can make any impression on the negro vote. A good Democratic candidate would probably receive more White Southern votes than Mr. Greeley.

In the next place, Mr. Greeley has no strong running qualities as a Republican candidate in the North.—He is popular, but it is not the kind of popularity that controls votes.—We may be mistaken, but at any rate this seems to be the estimate which has always been put upon him by his Republican associates.—Mr. Greeley has never shown any disinclination to be a candidate for elective offices, but the Republican party seldom had sufficient trust in his popular strength to make him a candidate.

"THE Life of Horace Greeley to the Present Time," by Parton, is announced. He might as well make it fuller by including a few months of the future Time, which could be briefly disposed of somewhat after this fashion: "Horace, the protectionist, was nominated by a convention of free traders at Cincinnati, May 1, for the Presidency; accepted the nomination in a letter in which he described the great popularity of his nomination. Horace, the Abolitionist and Republican, was nominated for the Presidency, July 9, by the pro-slavery and Republican-hating Democrats at Baltimore. One of the most spirited and exciting political campaigns ever known in the United States ensued, terminating November 5, when, to the great surprise and mortification of his supporters, the returns from the several States proved that Horace had received the electoral votes of only two States—New York and Kentucky. His opponent, General Grant, the nominee of the regular Republican party, was declared elected President, having received the electoral votes of all the other States."

We submit this suggestion to Parton for a taller "life" of Greeley than he is now at work upon. It is very easy to anticipate—as easy as to look through a spy-glass.

THE tellurium is at hand—the San Antonio Herald now supports Greeley, and the following in regard to United States officers will shadow Augur, in refreshing. After reading that "who can be a believer in total depravity—after such a regeneration of such an incorrigible case, we congratulate the public that our friend has at last gotten on the right track.

"A more retiring, contentment of gentlemen, or gentlemen who have been able are more assiduously attentive to the duties of their respective offices, without disparagement to their gentlemanly, we certainly have not had, either before or since the war. In the person of the commander, he is everything that the people of Texas and the frontier needs."

RESPECT FOR THEIR DEAD.

Nowhere is Japanese civilization more pleasing than in their cemeteries. Picturesque sites are chosen and planted in suppressed trees, mostly evergreens, in varieties of which Japan abounds. The tombs of the dead have, it is true, no great architectural beauty, or indeed even large dimensions and bad designs, as is so common with us. In their cemeteries, though many centuries old, no grave is neglected; some kindly hand places, from time to time, a flower offering in a receiver at every grave. The Japanese come with their families, and, provided with lunch baskets sit under the magnificent trees looking upon the resting places of their departed friends and relatives, and at the same time upon the beautiful landscape that lies spread beneath their feet. The aged, no doubt, recall to mind on these occasions how kindly they were taken by the hand and led to the same spot when children by those who now rest beneath the sod by the side of their kin.

As the foreigner passes along through these burial places he will see smiling faces, and if he bestows a recognition upon them will be greeted kindly and invited to partake of what may be spread out before those who have come to spend an hour of recreation by the side of the tombs of those whom they loved when living, and who have passed away to that far-off land reached only through the graves which contain all that is left of them on earth and which are not neglected by those living

HORTICULTURE AND MECHANICAL SKILL.

In horticulture they are excelled only by the Chinese, and Europeans as a whole are by no means their equal. In many of the arts they are wonderfully advanced, as in the fabrication of porcelain, bronzes and wooden lacquer ware, the latter of which cannot be equaled elsewhere.

They have great mechanical ingenuity, and their history within the past few years shows that they are less prejudiced than any people known.

MORAL CHARACTER.

From whatever cause or causes no foreigner has ever been known to be attacked or murdered in Japan for a mercenary motive, and when murders have been committed arising from drunkenness, supposed or real insults to them by foreigners, have not been despoiled of clothing or of valuables which were upon the persons of their victims. This is in marked contrast with the Chinese, who until recently were so identified, with the Japanese in the mind of ordinary well-read persons with us and in Europe.

As a result of our naval expeditions at various times the Japanese have abandoned their idea of excluding themselves from a free intercourse with the nations of the world. Consequently we owe towards them an exercise of good faith and of kindly relations which will prove beneficial to both parties. Whilst they appreciate fully what they can learn from us, our people do not comprehend yet that we have much to learn from them, especially in the care and the attention they give to their children and the respect shown by them to the aged who depend upon the younger as they approach—what we must all soon or or later enter—the grave.

THE JAPANESE IN WASHINGTON.

Iwakura and his associates are still in Washington, and will be for some time to come. They are constantly investigating our system of finance, banking, customs, international revenue, coinage, currency, agriculture, &c. They regularly record all their observations, having an office fitted up at the "Arlington" hotel, and a number of their party employed as clerks. The treaty between Japan and the United States is also in course of preparation and will be completed before they take their departure.

A TIMELY REBUKE.

"There's a chiel among us taking notes,
An' faith he'll print them."

"The Japanese in America," is the title of a miscellaneous volume, edited by Chas. Lanman, consisting of an account from official sources, of the Japanese Embassy to the United States, and giving a curious illustration of their mental habits and literary style. It also contains a statistical and historical essay on "American Life and Resources," compiled under the direction of the Japanese Charge d'Affaires, and intended for translation into the Chinese language and circulation in their own country.

Some of the young Japanese students now pursuing their studies in the United States who have been closely noting American character and society, have not received perfectly rose-colored impressions, judging from frank opinions like the following.

"The money-loving Americans are doing just the opposite of this. So-called business men, who constitute a large portion of 'the life and the blood' of American society, seemingly have no souls, for they are exposed for sale, if not already exchanged, for hard cash. When their souls are disposed of, they receive the millions of money they desire; but WHAT is to be done with it? Without sympathy, without frankness and generosity of feeling, despising human nature, they have no more use for their riches than' the Peruvians had for theirs before the Spaniards came to rob them. Some men find delight in the fine arts, in philosophy, in science, in the exercise of the benevolent and social affections; but they have no relish for these. They can no more detect beauties in them than a savage can appreciate all the intricate combinations of harmony in music. As to religion, they consent to pay their pew-tax, and to be bored by occasional sermon on Sunday, for appearance sake; but their real churches are their counting-houses, their real Bible their ledger, and 'last of all their real god is not Almighty God, but 'the almighty dollar.'"

CHRISTIANITY IN JAPAN.

Very late dispatches from Japan, via Europe, announce the fact that the Mikado has granted full toleration to Christian Missionaries in that country. It was also announced at the Anniversary meeting of the American Baptist churches held in New York, a few days ago, that the Mikado himself had renounced his pagan worship and declared his faith in the Christian religion. That he has abandoned idol worship, there is no doubt, and whether he has become a convert or not, the nation has been thrown open by his proclamation to Christian Missionary enterprise.

O. S. T.

Sothoristeans is a recent new heading.

The Treasury.

The status quo at the Treasury still continues. Yesterday the Governor addressed a communication to Mr. Honey requiring him to have the safe and vault opened, and the public funds counted in his presence and that of the Commissioners. Mr. Honey ignored this demand and in his reply claimed, as the Treasurer of the State, that the guards over the Treasury should be removed and he placed in command as of yore. The reply of the Executive was to the effect that he had vacated his office, and the demand for an inspection of the money of the State, was repeated in emphatic terms.

If we were the legal or confidential advisers of Mr. Honey, and were confident of his correctness of management, so far from denying or avoiding this investigation, we should, above all things, urge and demand it, knowing that in the perfect balance between the accounts and the moneies on hand would lie his complete and crowning vindication before the people of Texas. But if on the other hand we were conscious of official irregularities which an examination would bring to light, we would naturally resist such an enquiry by any and every means. Thrice is he armed who hath his quarrel just.—Austin Journal, June 6th.

An Indian Raid.

HEADQUARTERS FORT SILL,
Indian Territory,
May 20th, 1872.

Captain W. W. Webb, of Fourth Cavalry, or other officers at or near Whaley's or Henrietta, Texas:

SIR:—I have the honor to inform you that the following information has been received through Mr. Tatum, Kiowa, agent:

Many chiefs of the Kiowas, with their young men, as well as some of the young men of the Comanches, and Greybeard and his men, of the Cheyennes, have all gone to Texas on a big raid, intending to obtain the release of Santata and Big Tree. Mr. Tatum's informer, one of his employed interpreters, who is just in from the Kiowa camps, thinks they started about the 10th or twelfth inst., but that they may manoeuver around some time before they make a demonstration.

I place very little reliance in the correctness of the report, but having no means of ascertaining the truth, I think it best to give you its substance, and to ask that it be transmitted to Colonel McKenzie without delay.

Very respectfully,
your obedient servant,
GEO. SCHOFIELD,
Major of 10th Cavalry, Commanding Post.

Trouble on the Central Railroad.

AUSTIN, June 6th, 1872.

Yesterday no trains arrived from below, and there were rumors of serious troubles of a mysterious character at Brenham.

General Davidson ordered down a strong police force, which were placed for transportation on a construction train. The engineer learning in some way the cause of the disturbance, refused to run the train. It seems that the railway company had issued to all of the employees on the road contracts for signature, the employees to bind themselves not to hold the company responsible for any damage they might sustain by reason of any accident, &c. It will be remembered that the charter of this company contains some unusual and stringent features in the matter of their liabilities to employees so injured. The employees refused to sign the contracts, and the company secured other men to take their places; the former assembled in large numbers and prevented the trains from moving.

Up to the time of the leaving of the coach, the difficulty had not been adjusted, and Austin is without eastward communication.

It is a puzzling fact that while English women have positively bad taste in combining colors for dress, they seldom make mistakes in furnishing their houses. American women are far before them in matters of dress, but just as far behind them in everything that pertains to grace and color in house equipments.

Twenty-five or thirty years ago Rev. Charles G. Finney, now president of Oberlin College, was carrying on a series of revival meetings in some Eastern city—Boston, we think. One day a gentleman called to see him on business. Mr. Finney's daughter, perhaps five years old, answered his ring. "Is your father in?" asked the stranger. "No," replied the demure maiden. "But walk in, poor dying sinner! Mother can pray for you."

In his last "lecture room talk" Beecher says:

"A man who would hurt a neighbor; a man who would do harm to a soul for whom Christ died; a man who cannot restrain the bitterness of the gall that is in him—do not tell me about his songs, or his prayers, or his visions! Prayers do not save men; hymns do not save men; visions do not save men. It is the spirit of the Lord Jesus Christ in man that makes them salvable, and nothing else does."

The editor of the London Times once said, "I can find any number of men to write for me, but very seldom one man of common sense." To write for a paper is one thing, to edit it another. Historians, poets, novelists, essayists write well, but papers need men who can select, alter, combine and fashion matter to suit an audience of varied elements.

For the benefit of fanists and lovers of small game, we publish below a communication sent to our well known and esteemed fellow citizen, Dr. W. G. Kingsbury.

Parties wishing to assist in the following request, will please leave specimens at Dr. Kalteyer's drug store, or Dr. Kingsbury's office.

DESOTO, Jackson Co., Ill.,
May 31, 1872.

MR. W. G. KINGSBURY,

Dear Sir:—I am preparing a work on the Grasshoppers of the United States, and am desirous of procuring as many Southern species this summer as possible. Will it be convenient for you to procure some specimens and forward them to the Agricultural Department at Washington, D. C.? They can be dropped in alcohol, and if the bottles are well corked and carefully packed in small boxes, they can be sent by mail free of charge to the Agricultural Department. If some could be dropped in alcohol until dead or otherwise killed and carefully wrapped in paper and packed in small tin boxes, the colors would be preserved. If tin boxes are not used, some boxes not easily crushed should be used.

All such favors will be acknowledged in the annual report of the Agricultural Department, and in my work. If you should send any specimens, please enclose a note stating they are sent at my request. By assisting in this matter you will aid in the advancement of science and in increasing our knowledge of our fauna.

Yours very respectfully,
CYRUS THOMAS.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—A Proclamation. Whereas the act of Congress, approved May 22nd, 1872 removes all political disabilities imposed by the third section of 14th amendment to the constitution of the United States from all persons, except Senators and Representatives of the 36th and 37th Congress, and officers in the judicial, military and naval service of the United States, heads of departments and foreign ministers of the United States; and whereas it is represented to me that there are now pending in the several district and circuit courts of the U. S. proceedings by pro warrants under the 14th section of the act of Congress, approved May 31, 1870, to remove from certain persons who are alleged to have held said offices in violation of the provisions of said act of the 14th Amendment of the constitution of the United States; also penal servitude against such persons under the 15th section of the act of Congress aforesaid.

BLANCO, June 1st 1872.

The Indians have made another raid last week on the people of Blanco, They stole more than 50 head of the best horses in our county without any renumeration to the owners of them. They killed one horse from me and crippled two others. One man, by the name of Moor was killed by the Indians on the head water of Barbona Creek, 15 miles from Austin. This same party of Indians came back up the Pedernales and went out with the Indians which stole on Blanco. This is a crying shame for the United States of America, to let her citizens be plundered and murdered after their paying taxes for protection.

DeWitt County.

We have been shown a circular by Messrs. Runge & Co., issued at Yorktown, by the members of the Progress Society, amongst whom we find some of the most prominent German citizens of that place, such as Robt. Kleberg, Robt. Eckhard, F B Gehmert, Louis Lenz and others. The circular sets forth the advantages of immigration to Texas and particularly speaks of the fertility and productive resources of DeWitt County, the amount of population, schools, churches, places of amusement, merchants, the steam power in full operation together with other useful industries. It gives a synopsis of the geography of the country, climate, products streams, timber and variety of trees. Also the price of land, of stocks and work cattle, horses and mules. In fact all necessary information that is useful to emigrants, even to the material and clothing needed.

The publication of this circular and its circulation in Germany will certainly be of great benefit, and if a similar course was pursued by the different counties of Western Texas, it would prove of vast benefit to the country. Circulars of this kind should be sent by citizens of Texas to their friends and relatives in old fatherland, which would do away with the unjust and unmerited opinions that prevail abroad of our Lone Star State. Let the people of Germany and other points of Europe who wish to come to our State be convinced of the truth, and many a one that are now groaning under distress and misfortune would be made happy and prosperous from the great inducements that the fertile lands of Texas offer to the emigrant.—Indianola Bulletin.

An English paper says: "The Marquis Camden, who died a fortnight ago, was grandson of the first Marquis, who may be fairly regarded as one of the most remarkable men in our own country. That nobleman held the patent place of the teller of exchequer, an absolute sinecure with some $60,000 a year. When he had held it some years, he came to the conclusion that the existence of such a place was an absolute fraud upon the nation, and he resigned it. his act was the more creditable in that he was by no means a rich man. A parallel case was that of the late Lord Tenterden, long known as Mr. Labouchere. At the outset of the railway enterprise his father was fiercely prejudiced against those dreadful innovators which were to demoralise the whole world. He stoutly opposed the passage of the Great Eastern Railway bill, but finding that the company was too strong for him, and that the line must pass through his estate, he made the most outrageous terms, with which the company were forced to comply. When his son succeeded, he sent the company a check for a large sum, saying he could not afford to profit by his fathers prejudices, and therefore retained what he thought was the real value of the land sold. In this corrupt, and self-seeking world, such deeds as these 'shine like lights before men,' and deserve to be recorded."

Early on last Sunday morning, Mr. Peter Keiffer, a citizen of Brazos county, was shot and killed while sitting at the front door of his store at Long Bridge on the Navasota, about twenty miles from this place. A negro woman named Malinda, who formerly lived in Bryan, was killed about the same time and place. It is supposed from the wound being in the top of his head, that the person who shot Mr. K. was on the front steps, or in the door above him. When found he was still leaning back in his chair with a newspaper in his lap. The negro woman was evidently shot first, at the front door, he blood was traced from there to the back door, through which she fled, and also out into the back yard where she was pursued by the murderer.—Bryan Appeal.

The Austin Journal adds: "A six year old child of the black woman says that the killing was done by a black man. It is possible he was revenging a fit or jealousy."

A New Orleans editor says he "counted 173 alligators in a sail of six miles along a bayou." "A strong allegation," says an incredulous brother.

Fire at Fort D. A. Russel.

ADMIRABLE SERVICE OF THE BABCOCK EXTINGUISHER.

From the Wyoming (Cheyenne, W. T.) Daily News, February 7, 1871:

A fire broke out about four o'clock yesterday morning in the quarters of Company B, 4th Infantry, at Fort D. A. Russel. Before it could be extinguished, the quarters and two kitchens were consumed. The prompt use of the Babcock Fire Extinguisher, which had lately been introduced, prevented the spread of the flames, and probably saved the entire garrison from destruction. Such is the opinion of Major Hagus and other gentlemen who witnessed the affair. The fire is believed to have been the work of an incendiary. All the guns and papers of the company were lost.

TRUTH.—The powers of Mrs. Whitcomb a Syrup for children are as positive as the sunlight from heaven, and gentle and soothing as an angel's whisper.

A Dead Delusion.

The theory that human beings whose strength has been exhausted by pain and sickness can be restored by depleting medicines and water gruel, is not absolutely a dead delusion, is in the last agonies of dissolution. At length it is understood that strength cannot be purged into a debilitated frame, though life may easily be purged out of it, and that it is about as wise to withhold a healthful stimulant from the weak, in the expectation that they will rally without one, as it would be to deprive a lamp of oil and expect it to burn the brighter for it.

The immense and uniform success which has attended the use of that wonderful combination of a pure stimulant with the finest medicinal herbs, known as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, has largely assisted in dispelling the absurd chimera. Frantic attempts are made to revive it, but in vain. When the sick feel that their strength is departing, and that food is invigorated they must utterly break down, it is in vain to tender them feculent slops in the place of genuine restoratives. They may be imposed upon in this way once, but the imposition cannot be repeated. They desire to be refreshed, comforted, braced up, and decline to be griped a second time.

Under the operation of the Bitters, on the other hand, all the processes necessary to physical restoration go on simultaneously. The system is stimulated and toned, the bowels regulated, the appetite cultivated, the nerves composed and the condition of the blood improved at one and the same time by a single medicine. Common sense tells us that such a preparation must be invaluable.

THE "American Newspaper Directory," published by Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Advertising Agents, No. 41 Park Row, New York, contains a full and complete statement of all facts about newspapers which an advertiser desires to know. The subscription price is five dollars.

On Everybody's Tongue.—Eulogium of the great Regenerator of Health, PLANTATION BITTERS, are on everybody's tongue. This gratuitous rise over advertising is better than all the paid-for puffing to which the owners of bogus bitters are obliged to resort. It has a spontaneous heartiness about it which carries conviction to the mind of the auditor. But it is a well-known fact that the proprietors of the PLANTATION BITTERS have never relied upon newspaper bolstering to establish the success of a preparation which owes its astonishing popularity mainly to the oral testimony of the thousands who have either experienced or been the eye witness of the immense physical good it has wrought throughout the length and breadth of the land.

The Cause of Temperance finds some of its most insidious and dangerous foes in the many so-called "tonics" and "appetizers," made of cheap whisky and refuse liquors, finished up to suit depraved appetites, under the name of medicines. DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS are none of these. They are not a beverage, but a genuine medicine, purely vegetable, prepared by California herbs by a regular physician. For all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder, skin and blood, they are an infallible and unrivalled remedy.

How to Have the Good of One Eating.

A healthy condition of body, and a well-nourished condition of body, may be considered as the same. The vast importance of sufficient nourishment becomes thus apparent. Now, for sufficient nourishment, there are two things essential; food: and those various conditions which go to render the digestion and the assimilation of food possible; such as pure air, sufficient exercise, sufficient sleep, tranquility of mind and so forth. It is infinitely easier to secure an abundance of wholesome food, than it is to secure the conditions under which the due amount of nourishment is to be obtained out of it. But there is a compensatory provision which balances this. While for food, on the one hand, there is no substitute; on the other hand, for the complex conditions, without which food is of little or no value, there is a substitute: —that unrivalled tonic-stimulant, the fruit of long years of arduous research and study —Dr. Gottlieb Fisch's Bitters!

Dr. Wells' Extract of Jurubeba

Is strengthening and nourishing; like nutritious food, taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the Bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the Secretive Organs, and by its powerful TONIC and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action of the whole system.

By an act of Congress "relating to contracts for the transportation of the mails, &c.," approved April 27th, 1872, it is made penal offence for a person whose bid has been accepted to wrongfully refuse to enter into contract and perform service, subjecting the offender, on conviction, to a fine (of $5,000) and imprisonment (of twelve months).

It also requires that each bid shall have affixed to it the oath of the bidder that he has pecuniary ability to fulfil his obligations, that he bids in good faith, and with intention to enter into contract and perform service; and that the signatures of his guarantors are genuine, and that he believes them pecuniarily responsible and able to make good all damages in case of failure of the bidder.

The law also requires that bids for service in operation at the time the bid is made, shall be accompanied by a certified check, or draft, on some solvent National Bank, equal to 5 per cent on the present annual pay; or if it be new service, the check or draft shall not be less than 5 per cent of one years pay proposed in such bid, if the bid be five thousand dollars and upwards, (see present annual pay above).

Policy of the Administration.

In conclusion, I would sum up the policy of the Administration to be a thorough enforcement of every law, a faithful collection of every tax provided for, economy in the disbursement of the same, a prompt payment of every debt of the nation, a reduction of the taxes as rapidly as the requirements of the country will admit, the reduction of taxation and tariff to be so arranged as to afford the greatest relief to the greatest number, honest and fair dealing with all other people, to the end that war, with all its blighting consequences, may be avoided, but without SURRENDERING any right or obligation due to us, a reform in the treatment of Indians and in the whole civil service of the country, and finally in securing a pure, untrammeled ballot, where EVERY man entitled to cast a vote may do so just once at each election, without FEAR of molestation or PROSCRIPTION on account of his political faith, nativity or color.

U. S. GRANT.

Washington, Dec. 5, 1870.

Newspaper Laws.

We would call the special attention of Postmasters and subscribers to the following synopsis of the newspaper laws:

1. A Postmaster is required to give notice by letter (returning a paper does not answer the law) when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office, and state the reasons for its not being taken; and a neglect to do so makes the Postmaster responsible to the publishers for the payment.

2. Any person who takes a paper from the Postoffice, whether directed to his name or another, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the pay.

3. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrearages or the publisher may continue to send it until the payment is made.

4. If the subscriber orders his paper to be stopped at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it if he takes it from the Postoffice. The law proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Postoffice, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

General and Special Laws of the 2th Legislature of the State of Texas, First Session 1871, at the "Express" Office.

THE

New York Tribune,

FOR 1872.

THE consolidation of Italy, so long fragmentary and impotent, into one powerful State, with Rome as its capital; the humiliation of France through a series of crushing defeats, ending with the siege and capitulation of her proud and gay metropolis; the expulsion of the Bourbons from the Spanish throne, and the substitution for them of a scion of the most liberal among royal houses; the virtual absorption of the kingdoms of Saxony, Wurtemberg, Bavaria, with Baden, Hesse, the Hanse Towns, &c., under the headship of Prussia, into the triumphant and powerful empire of Germany; and the arming of Russia to reassert her preponderance in the councils of Europe, or to prosecute her often postponed but never relinquished designs on the great city founded by Constantine and the vast but decaying and anarchical dominion of the Sultan, all combine to invest with profound interest the ever-changing phases of our tidings from the Old World. THE TRIBUNE, through trusted correspondents stationed at all points in Europe where great movements are in progress or imminent, aims to present a complete and instructive panorama of events on that continent, and to mirror the prolonged struggle between middle-age Feudalism and Ecclesiasticism on the one hand and Nineteenth-Century skepticism and secularism on the other. Recognizing a Divine Providence in all that proceeds and is, it looks hopefully on the great conflict as destined (like our own recent convulsion) to evolve from strife, disaster, and seeming chaos, a fairer and happier future for the toiling masses of mankind.

In our own country, a war upon corruption and rascality in office has been inaugurated in our City, whereby the government of our State has been revolutionized through an initial triumph of Reform which surpasses the most sanguine anticipations. It is morally certain that the movement thus inaugurated cannot, in its gress, be circumscribed to any locality or any party, but that its purifying influence is destined to be felt in every part of the Union, rebuking venality, exposing robbery, wresting power from politicians by trade, and confiding it to those worthiest and fittest to wield it. To this beneficent and vitally needed Reform, THE TRIBUNE will devote its best energies, regardless of personal interests or party predilections, esteeming the choice of honest and faithful men to office as of all New Departures the most essential and auspicious.

The virtual surrender by the Democratic party of its hostility to Equal Rights regardless of Color has divested our current politics of half their bygone intensity. However parties may henceforth rise or fall, it is clear that the fundamental principles which have hitherto honorably distinguished the Republicans are henceforth to be regarded as practically accepted by the whole country. The right of every man to his own limbs and sinews—the equality of all citizens before the law—the inability of a State to enslave any portion of its people—the duty of the Union to guarantee to every citizen the full enjoyment of his liberty until he forfeits it by crime—such are the broad and firm foundations of our National edifice; and palsied be the hand which shall seek to displace them! Though not yet twenty years old, the Republican party has completed the noble fabric of Emancipation, and may fairly invoke thereon the sternest judgment of Man and the benignant smile of God.

Henceforth, the mission of our Republic is one of Peaceful Progress. To protect the weak and the humble from violence and oppression—to extend the boundaries and diffuse the blessings of Civilization—to stimulate Ingenuity to the production of new inventions for economizing Labor and thus enlarging Production—to draw nearer to each other the producers of Food and of Fabrics, of Grains and of Metals, and thus enhance the gain of Industry by reducing the cost of transportation and exchanges between farmers and artisans—such is the inspiring task to which this Nation now addresses itself, and by which it would fain contribute to the progress, enlightenment, and happiness of our race. To this great and good work, THE TRIBUNE contributes its zealous, persistent efforts.

Agriculture will continue to be more especially elucidated in its Weekly and Semi-Weekly editions, to which some of the ablest and most successful tillers of the soil will steadily contribute. No farmer who sells $200 worth of produce per annum can afford to do without our Market Reports, or others equally lucid and comprehensive. If he should read nothing else but what relates to his own calling and its rewards, we believe that no farmer who can read at all can afford to do without such a journal as THE TRIBUNE. And we aspire to make it equally valuable to those engaged in other departments of Productive Labor. We spend more and more money on our columns each year, as our countrymen's generous patronage enables us to do; and we are resolved that our issues of former years shall be exceeded in varied excellence and interest by those of 1872. Friends in every State! help us to make our journal better and better and better, by sending in your subscriptions and increasing your Clubs for the year just before us!

The great field trials at Sedalia, Mo., and at Xenia, Ohio, in the Summer of 1869—where "The Clipper" met some 40 competitors including all the leading machines built, and was awarded the First Premium and Gold Meda, —proves that the proprietors have been able to sustain in the field, the claims of superiority for The Clipper Machine over all others. Its extraordinary lightness, draft takes one-third of the labor off the team. The adjustability of the finger bar, to cut high or low without stopping the team, is worth $25 on any machine. It is the only mower that has the true center draft in accordance with correct mechanical principles. In short, it is the lightest, the most durable, the least complicated, the most perfectly constructed, the most symmetrical in design, of any implement of its class. Farmers THE CLIPPER is the Horses' Friend, and you cannot afford to ignore their welfare. Send for a pamphlet—investigate. Free or write to any one who has used the machine, or see the Machine yourself before you buy any other.

It will contain only such accounts as are vouched for by reliable witnesses, and will correct the erroneous and fabricated statements of sensational writers.

CHICAGO AND THE NEWS.

It will, for a time, be devoted especially to the past, present and future of Chicago; besides being the most complete weekly newspaper in the world.

FIRESIDE COMPANION AND NEWSPAPER.

Its columns are devoted to News, Commerce, Science, Literature, Art, Drama, Music, Humor, Pastime, Poetry, Fashion, Society news, and enough of Romance to make it a most desirable fireside companion, as well as the most reliable and complete newspaper for the businessman in the counting room.

BEAUTIFUL ILLUSTRATIONS.

It will be illustrated with engravings taken from Photographs of the Chicago Ruins, instead of sketches "By Our Special Artist" who was not "on the spot;" and thus give a series of PERFECT VIEWS, not obtainable elsewhere, and the first number will contain the only correct map of the burned city.

HAPPY HOURS.

That beautiful literary journal, "HAPPY HOURS," whose publisher was the first to issue a paper to meet the public demand, after the awful fire, has been merged into, the literary department of the PHENIX, which will embrace the contributions of more than sixty of the most popular writers of the day.

A SPECIAL FEATURE.

The PHENIX will contain, as an especial feature, a more complete record of incidents and results of the late terrible fire, than can be found in any book, paper or other publication in the country. So numerous and inaccurate have been the accounts sent forth, that something reliable and readable is a ... sought at this time and The PHENIX will fill the bill.

A PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE.

THE PHENIX is the cheapest paper in America, being an eight page, forty column weekly, at only two dollars a year; in fact it shall be the paper for the people and the times.

THE FIRST NUMBER.

The first number will be issued on Saturday, Nov. 11th, and will be the paper wanted by everybody, as a record worth preserving or to send away, and for its accurate illustrations.

ITS BASIS.

It is a consolidation of other journals, and therefore on a solid foundation, containing their former circulation.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

To any person who gets us three new subscribers, we will send The Phenix for one year free, or one of our beautiful prize, steel plate engravings worth $2.50.

PREMIUMS.

For the purpose of rapidly increasing our subscription list before the close of the present year, we will give to every person who subscribes for the Phenix during the month of November, a beautiful steel plate engravin, worth $2.50, half a dollar more than the price of subscription. No such opportunity was ever before given, and probably never will be again. Avail yourself of it. Dr. GOTTLIEB FISCH'S BITTERS.

This preparation of the great Scientist, Dr. Gottlieb Fisch, of Germany, is based on the fact that, as all materials of the body are derived from Food, so all Vital Force, or Health, is derived from the Forces stored up in Food. Dr. Fisch's Bitters enables the system to liberate and appropriate these Forces, creates Appetite, cures Dyspepsia, with its resulting Debility and lack of Nervous Energy; it so tones the Stomach and Liver as to make Constipation and Biliousness impossible; it so inforces the system as it can tide over bad results of changing climate, water, &c., and better endure the demands often unexpectedly made on its Force and Energy. Ladies in delicate health, aged persons, and all emaciated and weak after sickness, will rapidly strengthen by using this great preparation.

Whoever uses this remedy, has for his physician a gifted scientist of Germany.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

They are not a vile Fancy Drink, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing, also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. [illegible]

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. [illegible]
