Conservationists now report that the whooping crane, North America's largest bird, is on the way back.

Although it is tempered in rather cautious terms, this is the first time in many years that conservation and wildlife enthusiasts have expressed real optimism about the large white cranes that alternate between Canada and the Texas Coast in summer and winter, respectively.

Just a few years ago nobody could find more than 14 whooping cranes. That alarmed a lot of people and efforts were launched to protect and promote reproduction of the whooping cranes. It has been a tedious process, but with widespread cooperation the whooping crane flock now numbers around 60 known birds.

While nobody knows exactly how many whooping cranes there were originally, it is known that at one time they ranged over much of the continent, from the Arctic to Central Mexico and from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic.

Postal Service personnel here got an unexpected pat on the back the other day. Someone had dropped a note in a mail collection box.

It read: "We really like your work. Bringing mail is hard work, but you do a very good job of it. You're a really groovy postman!" It was signed "A Thankful American."

The note was not addressed to any particular postman, but it was picked up from the collection box by Lester T. Hanback, who shared it with his fellow workers.

The teams with the most glittering records do not always perform better than others in athletic contests. That probably is what the Cotton Bowl people are counting on come Jan. 1 when Texas and Penn State meet in the annual New Year's Day game at Dallas. It is quite likely that Darrell Royal would have preferred that Penn State defeat Tennessee last Saturday, but the Lions from Pennsylvania undoubtedly had been riding for a fall for some time.

And great was the fall thereof. It means that the two teams matched in the Liberty Bowl (Arkansas and Tennessee) defeated the teams matched in the Cotton Bowl during regular season play. Still, the Cotton Bowl tussle could turn out to be better than the Orange Bowl where unbeaten Nebraska and Alabama are booked.

AILEEN GETS KEYS — E. W. Schrader, second from right, hands the keys to the Katherine Ryan School building to Bill Lillard of Woodstock, Va., maintenance and construction engineer for Aileen, Inc., this morning. Schrader heads the Scurry County Industrial Foundation which has leased the building from St. Elizabeth Catholic Church for temporary use by the clothing manufacturing firm. At left is Delmon Wilson, maintenance foreman for Aileen's Abilene plant, and at right is Mel Gilbert, president of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce. Work began this morning preparing the building for installation of Aileen's equipment.

Zone Change Clears Way For Plant Here

A temporary zoning change for property owned by St. Elizabeth Catholic Church last night cleared the way for Aileen, Inc., to begin installing equipment for a sewing plant here.

The firm plans to use the Katherine Ryan School building temporarily while a permanent plant building is constructed at another location. It was reported at the city council meeting Tuesday night that the Scurry County Industrial Foundation already has taken an option on a site for a permanent plant, and that Aileen, Inc., officials indicated that construction on a building likely would begin around March 1.

Meanwhile, the foundation, following negotiations with church officials, had offered the clothing manufacturing firm the use of the Katherine Ryan School building during the interim period. Mickey Nunley, Chamber of Commerce manager and the industrial foundation's secretary, said that the company had indicated that the Katherine Ryan School building, which has not been used for school purposes for several years, would provide sufficient space for about 128 Aileen employes. The company is anxious to get the sewing operation here underway.

When the firm moves into its own permanent facilities, its employment roll probably would range from 300 to as many as 500 if enough labor is available here. Aileen officials informed the foundation that availability of labor would be a major factor in determining the ultimate size of their permanent plant here.

The zoning change was approved by the city council, following a hearing by the planning and zoning commission.

At the hearing, Lester Victor and G. Edward Bolger, who live in the area, both told the commission that they had no objections to the temporary zoning change, provided that adequate parking facilities were made available. They were assured that off-street parking would be provided for personnel of the plant. A letter from Mr. and Mrs. C.E. McCormick Sr., who also live near the temporary plant site, stated that they had no objections, provided off-street parking was provided. George Lee inquired about the work schedule and was told that the plant would operate during daylight hours.

The planning and zoning commission recommended that the temporary zoning change be approved, and the council voted unanimously to grant the change. The ordinance making the change provides that the property shall revert to its orginal zone after a two-year period and that in the event Aileen should vacate the property prior to expiration of the two-year period, no other type of business or industry could move into the building.

Work in the building preparing for installation of Aileen equipment was due to begin this morning.

Another zoning change also got a favorable recommendation from the planning and zoning commission and unanimous approval of the council. It changes Lot 1, Block 3, Huffman Addition, from R-2 to an R-2-MH zone, making it possible for a mobile home to be located there. The change was requested by Billy Z. Evans and nobody appeared at the hearing to protest his request.

J.L. Wadleigh Construction Co. was the successful bidder on a city project to expand its maintenance building. Wadleigh's bid of $16,195 was the lowest of three proposals received.

Passed on a second and final reading were two other ordinances. One establishes speed zones on West Thirty-seventh Street as requested by the Texas Highway Dept. The other provides for upgrading of the city's retirement system for employes, effective Jan. 1.

The council also authorized installation of some traffic control devises at the intersection of College Avenue and Cogdell Blvd., in conjunction with a plan prepared by the Texas Highway Dept.

City Manager George Patterson was authorized to advertise for bids on 100 three-cubic-yard sanitation containers. Patterson said that all containers available were now in service and that a waiting list is building up for the next order.

The council asked the city manager to discuss further with Midwest Electric Cooperative a charge of $401.10 for relocating some lines at the intersection of Forty-fourth Street and Houston Avenue.

14 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

ON CHILD CARE BILL

Nixon Faced With Choice

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon faced a choice today that he had tried to avoid: whether to sign or veto a bill that would establish a $2-billion child-development program.

The House passed the bill, 210 to 186, Tuesday and sent it to the White House despite an intensive lobbying effort by the administration to defeat it.

Conservative Republicans are adamantly opposed to the bill, which would provide comprehensive day-care services to children of working mothers, and have publicly demanded Nixon veto it.

Women's organizations, labor, civil-rights and church groups are equally vocal in praising the bill.

Adding to Nixon's difficulties is the fact the bill also includes a two year extension of the Economic Opportunity Act, which authorizes a wide variety of federal programs for the poor. It would be killed by a veto, too.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford, hoping to build a solid party front against the bill so it would never reach Nixon's desk, told a Republican caucus just before Tuesday's vote that a veto was certain if the House passed it. White House aides carried the same message.

Nevertheless, 31 Republicans joined 179 Democrats in passing the bill, a compromise between separate Senate and House versions. Voting against it were 134 Republicans and 52 Democrats.

When the Senate passed the bill, 63 to 17, last week, 24 Republicans including GOP National Chairman Robert Dole, Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott and GOP Whip Robert P. Griffin all supported it.

UN Calls For End To Fighting

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly called Tuesday night for a speedy end to the fighting between India and Pakistan and a political settlement in East Pakistan. It seemed unlikely to get either.

The assembly adopted a resolution calling on both countries for an immediate cease-fire and withdrawal of their armed forces behind their own borders. The resolution also said "an early political solution would be necessary" to get the East Pakistani refugees back home.

The resolution was sponsored by 33 of the United Nations' 131 members and got an overwhelming vote of 104-11, with 10 nations abstaining, one not participating and five absent.

Indian and Pakistani representatives said their countries would not abide by the resolution.

The assembly adopted the cease-fire resolution after the Soviet Union, supporting India, vetoed two similar resolutions in the Security Council, and the council rejected a Soviet resolution calling for a political settlement in East Pakistan.

The assembly resolution was a slight revision of the second one the Soviet Union had vetoed in the council.

Court Nixes Bargaining For Retired

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled 6 to 1 today that unions cannot force management to bargain on benefits for retired employes.

In another labor case stemming from a Nebraska case involving meat cutters, the court ruled 5 to 2 that federal agencies have the right to ask a federal court to halt state court proceedings.

The National Labor Relations Board had ruled in 1969 that unions could insist, as a matter of law, that management negotiate benefits for retired workers.

The case directly affects only 190 retired employes in Ohio but labor lawyers said earlier a Supreme Court ruling overturning the NLRB decision could affect millions of workingmen and perhaps lead to disappearance of countless other subjects from labor-management bargaining tables.

The high court's ruling affirmed a decision last June 10 by the U.S. Circuit Court in Cincinnati. The only dissenting vote was cast by Justice William O. Douglas. No reason was given for his dissent.

The case dates back to 1965 when federal Medicare was enacted and Local 1 of the Allied Chemical Workers of America, AFL-CIO, asked the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. to renegotiate medical benefits for its 190 retired employes.

Pittsburgh Plate at that time was under a 1964 agreement and was contributing $2 a month to the medical insurance premium of the retired workers.

Rather than bargain with the union, the company offered to pick up $3 monthly Medicare supplemental subscription costs for retired workers who would drop out of the company medical insurance plans. Fifteen accepted the offer.

The union complained the company was guilty of unlawful refusal to bargain and the NLRB agreed. The appeals court then reversed the Labor Board's decision, barred enforcement of the board's order that the company take back unilateral benefit changes and held that retired workers are not employes as defined by the National Labor Relations Act.

Panhandle Roads Glazed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Freezing drizzle mixed with snow put a slick glaze on Panhandle roads today, making driving extremely hazardous.

The Texas Highway Department warned of dangerous driving conditions in the Amarillo, Lubbock and Childress areas.

At midmorning ice coated roads north of a line from Wellington to Hereford in the western Panhandle.

Ice and snow pellets fell in the Borger area.

The National Weather Service urged cattle ranchers in Northwest Texas to take precautions against the freezing conditions, which were spreading southward.

The bitter cold air dropped early morning temperatures into the 20s and 30s across the Panhandle. Temperatures in front of the cold air mass stayed up in the 50s and 60s. The Brownsville area even had readings in the low 70s.

The National Weather Service in Amarillo posted travelers warnings for today and in the Panhandle and Northwest Texas Thursday as freezing drizzle accompanied the front.

The freezing rain is likely to collect on high line wires posing the threat of power failures.

Except for the Panhandle and Northwest Texas, skies will be partly cloudy and the weather mild.

Phone Rate Hike Asked

Southwestern Bell filed an application last night with the Snyder City Council for an increase in basic telephone rates.

Bill Gilliland, Southwestern Bell manager, who presented the application, said it was the first such request here in more than 14 years.

He assured the council that in the event the request is approved, the rate schedule would conform with any restraints imposed under Phase II of the wage-price freeze.

The company is asking an increase from $11 per month to $13.50 for one-party business service; from $5.10 to $6.25 for one-party residence; from $4.35 to $4.90 for two-party residence; from $4 to $4.25 for rural eight-party residence, and from $8.50 to $9.60 for rural eight-party business.

No action was taken on the application, but the council indicated that it would be discussed in depth, either at a special meeting or at a future regular meeting.

However, some questions were raised in the brief discussion Tuesday night. Councilman Joe Sentell said he had some misgivings about granting an increase greater than the federal wage-price board would approve. Percentage-wise, the proposed increases are somewhat higher than the so-called guidelines for Phase II of the wage-price freeze, it was pointed out.

For example, the one-party business phone proposal represents an increase of 22.7 per cent, the one-party residence represents an increase of 22.5 per cent, and the two-party residence rate represents an increase of 12.6 per cent.

"Continued inadequate earnings on our operations, in the face of today's high cost of doing business, leaves us no choice but to asked for this increase in local rates," Gilliland said.

"The present rates established in 1957 are based on statistics gathered in 1955 and are simply too low to meet the company's cost of doing business today, said the telephone manager. "In the past 14 years, wages, taxes and the company's investment in Snyder have grown to the extent that we must seek this increase."

Gilliland said the company had been "able to hold the line on basic rates over the last 14 years by continued and increased sales activities and use of numerous technological advances in equipment and facilities."

These factors, he pointed out, allowed the company to meet some of the increased costs of doing business without asking an increase.

"The company has done all it can to keep expenses here as low as possible," Gilliland continued. "But the only solution is to request a reasonable increase in rates in line with today's higher costs. We hope the request will receive prompt and favorable action."

The council indicated that it probably would delve deeper into the application at a special meeting. "We may need a meeting where we don't have anything else on the agenda to give this proper study," said Councilman Bill Seale.

W.A. Vestal, mayor pro tem, presided at the council meeting in the absence of Mayor Bobby McCormick.

Goodfellows Open Office

The Goodfellows will open their headquarters Thursday in the building across the street west of the Snyder City Hall at 2401 Avenue T.

Contributions to the Goodfellows will be accepted there, and applications from those to be remembered by the Goodfellows at Christmas will be processed there.

Heavy load calls for help, not harassment

By Abigail Van Buren

[c 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.]

DEAR ABBY: We've been married 14 years and have four sweet kids. Over the years my husband has done some pretty mean things. Here is an example:

Yesterday my youngest cried when I told her I couldn't attend the first PTA meeting as that was my night to do the weekly grocery shopping. When I realized how much it meant to her to have me meet her teacher and view her work, I knew I had to go, so when my husband came home from work, I told him his dinner was on the table, and I was rushing out to do the marketing early, so I could attend the PTA meeting.

Well, Abby, he flew into a rage like a madman when he saw there was no full-course dinner waiting for him—but something I had quickly put together instead. He shouted that he would not put up with meals like this, as though I fed him that way every night! He also said it wasn't necessary for me to go to the PTA meeting, and I was only using it as an excuse to get out of the house. [And all of this in front of the children?]

I did the marketing with a lump in my throat and when I returned, he refused to help me carry in the nine bags of groceries!

Abby, what do you think of a 41-year-old man with a master's degree and an executive position who treats his family this way?

HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: Maturity and consideration do not come in degrees. And by the way, your husband is as much a parent as you, and as such he should have gone to the PTA meeting with you. [P. S. I hope your husband grows up before his kids do.]

DEAR ABBY: You jokingly said, "Now, if Ma Bell would only come up with a gadget that would signal those nonstop talkers to say goodby!"

Well, we of Standard Telephone in northeast Georgia have used a feature for some 20 years. Our apparatus signals a short warning at the end of five minutes. Sixty seconds later another warning signal is heard, after which the connection is automatically broken.

This does not, of course, prevent the parties from redialing each other. It does, however, free the line for others who may be trying to get either of the long-winded parties.

Yours very truly,

H. M. STEWART

DEAR MR. STEWART: The feature is great if one of the parties is eager to terminate the conversation. But can you imagine the resentment an automatic disconnect would create if both parties were enjoying a "long-winded" conversation about love? Or money?

DEAR ABBY: After years of accepting congratulations and gifts on my birthday just for having been born, it suddenly occurred to me who really deserved the gifts.

After that, on my birthday, I sent my mother one rose for every year of my life. I enclosed a note, "With loving thanks." She knew who had sent them.

Now that she is no longer living, I send a contribution on my birthday to my mother's favorite charity in her name. The card still says, "With loving thanks."

J.

DEAR J.: Thank you for sharing a beautiful idea.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "KEEP ME ANONYMOUS IN SAN ANTONIO": The person who is always first to notice a bit of "dirt" on the other fellow may need to have his glasses cleaned.

UT Accepts Collection

AUSTIN (AP) — The University of Texas System has accepted a gift of the personal papers, memorabilia, photographic collection and the office furniture of the late Jesse H. Jones.

The collection, given to the university by Houston Endowment Inc., will be housed in a special room to be known as the Jesse H. Jones Room, in the Barker History Center section of Sid Richardson Hall on the campus.

A dedication ceremony of the room and its contents is planned for a later date, officials said.

The flat-top desk at which Jones worked and the massive old roll-top desk always placed behind him, along with the large chair in which he sat are included in the collection. However, there will be no attempt to duplicate his office exactly.

Several thousand pictures are included in the photographic collection from the time he went to Europe in 1917 with Herbert Hoover as director general of the Department of Military Relief of the American Red Cross until his death in 1956. Jones was associated with most of the historic figures of his time, and the photographic collection records many of those associations.

The personal papers, filed just as they were in his office, document the major roles he played in business, publishing, public services and philanthropy.

The Houston financier's fortune was built on real estate and the construction and operation of office buildings, hotels and apartments, but his interests included ownership of the Houston Chronicle from 1926 to the time of his death, as well as the establishment in 1947 of an insurance company.

The presentation of the Jesse H. Jones Collection is the latest of many gifts of Houston Endowment, Inc., to the University of Texas System and its components, officials said.

In order to make a tablespoonful of honey, a bee must visit about 2,000 flowers.

Debate Set On War Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has set the stage for another far-ranging foreign-policy debate with a bill to limit the president's authority to commit U.S. forces to war without congressional approval.

The bill, approved by a 13-0 vote Tuesday, limits such authority to 30 days and to cases of an enemy attack on the United States or its armed forces, "to forestall the direct and imminent threat of such an attack" and to protect evacuating U.S. citizens who are under attack.

The measure is opposed by the Nixon administration. One senior committee member says it could produce a debate to rival that in the mid-1950s when the Senate barely defeated an effort to curb treaty powers through the Bricker amendment.

"I am pessimistic about its becoming law," Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., told reporters. The debate will come next year.

Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, said he was disturbed by language about forestalling "the direct and imminent threat of an attack," contending this could give a president new power to launch a first strike against a potential enemy.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., a principal sponsor of the bill, defended the provision, telling reporters: "You don't have to wait until the bombs fall and there are casualties on the ground to act."

The language was not in Javits' original bill but is similar to measures sponsored by Sens. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., and Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo. The three and Sen. William B. Spong Jr., D-Va., joined in the compromise version, and some sources said the language objected to by Fulbright was strongly urged by Stennis.

Under the legislation, Congress would have to act within 30 days to approve the president's action in commiting troops, or his authority would expire. The bill provides safeguards to insure prompt congressional consideration of any measure to approve a presidential action.

Pair Charged In Burglary

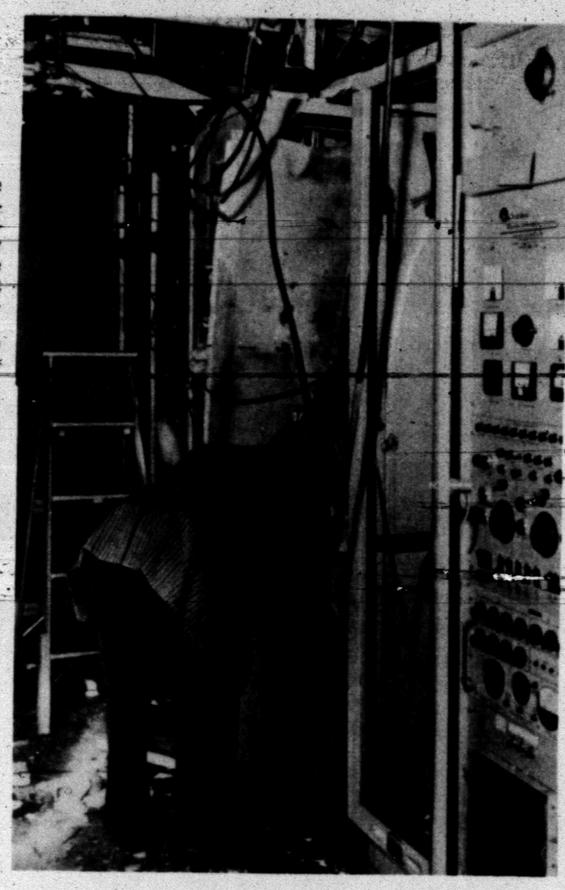

Charges of burglary were filed this morning against Marion Benjamin Floyd, Jr. and Vernon Woodard. Yesterday, Woodard was charged with theft by bailee. Bond was set at $3,000 on each charge and the two were remanded to county jail in lieu of bond.

City Police said Floyd and Woodard and a 16-year-old boy are suspected of burglarizing the Bollinger Refrigeration Service, 1700 Avenue R. The burglary occurred Monday night.

Officers said Woodard borrowed a 1969 Model Chevrolet pickup from Bollinger and didn't return it. The three were apprehended in Odessa Monday night and the pickup was recovered.

Girls Caught Shoplifting

Two runaway girls from Kilgore, 14 and 15, were apprehended by City Police in Gibson's Discount Center yesterday afternoon for shoplifting. They were released to their parents.

SMASHED ATOM SMASHER — Delicate electronic equipment worth $100,000 at the Stanford Linear Accelerator (SLAC) was destroyed by two bomb blasts after 7:30 a.m. Tuesday. No one was hurt. The main accelerator machine was not damaged. An unidentified SLAC employe checks the damage. The accelerator took 5 years to build, was operational in 1966, and cost $114 million. (AP Wirephoto)

Italy Added To List

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has added Italy to the list of nations whose government chiefs he plans to meet before his visits to Peking and Moscow next year.

Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Tuesday Nixon had wanted to meet with Prime Minister Emilio Colombo of Italy this month, but the meeting was put off until after Thursday's presidential election in Italy.

Nixon met for nearly 90 minutes Tuesday with President Emilio Medici of Brazil to brief the South American leader on the coming trips to the Communist capitals and to discuss relations between the United States and Brazil, the hemisphere's two most populous countries.

Nixon met Monday with Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau of Canada.

Texaco Named In Civil Suit

HOUSTON (AP) — Texaco, Inc., was charged in a civil suit filed here Tuesday by the Department of Labor for paying women employes less than men at their Port Arthur case and packaging division.

The suit asked U.S. District Court Judge Carl O. Bue to find that Texaco has, since 1968, consistently violated fair labor laws and that the firm be forced to award back pay, plus six per cent interest, to the women employes.

Formerly Rube Silver Mines, Inc., of Butte, Mont., the firm will be headquartered here and in Dallas.

Ruby has recently bought interests in two oil, gas and mineral leases in the Corpus Christi Bay area. It also is negotiating a joint venture on its upper level properties in Montana for commercial high grade gold and silver ore.

Ruby also has an agreement with Azul interest in petroleum leases in Starr County in South Texas, and in Cameron Parish, La.

Other officers of the new firm include M. C. Godby III, vice president and director; J. C. Deberry Jr. of Dallas, secretary-treasurer and director; and John Mullany of Butte, James W. Mays of Dallas and Charles R. Scoggins of Dallas, directors.

Godby is head of East Utah Mining Co. and director of several other firms. Scoggins, recently of Corpus Christi, holds several posts, including president and majority stockholder of Azul Petroleum. He also is head of Scoggins Petroleum.

George Kissell, Barney Schultz, Ken Boyer and Vern Benson have been retained as St. Louis Cardinal baseball coaches for 1972.

Data Shows Moon Once Was Hot

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A scientist says seismic data recorded during Apollo moon missions have supplied the first evidence that the lunar interior once was hot and molten like the earth.

Dr. Nafi Toksoz, professor of earth and planetary science at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, presented his findings Tuesday to 1,000 delegates at an American Geophysical Union meeting here.

Toksoz studied the data with scientists from Columbia University and the University of Hawaii. He said it revealed the moon has an outer crust of the kind that usually results when hot materials cool, and that just below the crust lies a more rigid mantle.

The discovery could help scientists determine how old the moon is and how it was formed, an AGU spokesman said. He also said evidence the moon was hot and molten gives added weight to theories it once was part of the earth and contains valuable heavy metal resources far below its surface.

Toksoz said the data, which he called "among the most significant scientific findings" thus far from manned moon exploration, was gathered during the missions of Apollo 12, 14 and 15.

Israel Included In Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Appropriations Committee Chairman George H. Mahon says that to help get a foreign-aid bill through Congress, he will insist any assistance to Israel be attached only to that measure.

Thus, supporters of Israeli aid, a politically popular issue, would be forced to vote for all overseas aid, or go without money for Israel.

The Texas Democrat confirmed that stand as the House headed for action today on a $2.84-billion foreign-aid appropriation bill with at least $300 million for Israel.

Leaders including Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford predicted approval despite strong House sentiment against foreign aid.

"I think there are enough things in there that people want," Ford said.

There was a $100-million slice off America's United Nations contribution, a move backed by members angered by Nationalist China's U.N. expulsion. And $967 million was cut from President Nixon's requests to meet demands from the House economy bloc.

The bill would suspend all but humanitarian and refugee aid for India and Pakistan until they halt their war.

House leaders put the foreign-aid money to a vote despite the fact House-Senate conferees still are deadlocked over the Senate's six-month Indochia-war deadline in a separate bill to reauthorize foreign aid.

While Mahon confirmed he will insist on keeping Israeli assistance under the foreign-aid program to make it more attractive, he did not confirm a report that he was trying to pressure Senate conferees to drop their war deadline to get the money for Israel.

"I hope this will make it more attractive to both sides," was his only comment.

The Senate has tacked $500 million for Israel onto the $71-billion defense money bill. Mahon will insist Israeli aid be handled only as part of the foreign-aid program.

Slacks Suit Survives In Women's Fashions

By ANN HENCKEN
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hot pants may be dead and knickers passe but the slicked-up slacks suit has survived.

It is becoming more important, especially in such lush fabrics as cashmere, designer Halston said after his spring showing Tuesday.

"All the chic ladies wear slacks," he said, and he's tried hard to please his long list of chic clients.

For awhile many designers got bored with the original slacks suit. When it reached everyone from stewardesses to nurses, they figured it was time for something new. They've shown pants in every possible length and just about every material.

Halston, known for his simple, elegant styles, sticks to one length in slacks—long. He gives them high waists or flared cuffs and concentrates on some dramatic tops.

The loose top to his Chinese slacks suit is fastened only at its mandarin collar. Halston shows a lot of skin with halters or deep V-necks, sometimes covered with loose jackets. Or he reveals the outlines of the body through a layer of chiffon caftan.

"Anything to show the skin. They love the skin game," says Halston. He describes his look as "nudity without being nude."

For day, he likes cashmere sweater sets over pants or long, full, lush skirts. There are suede suits and easy belted jackets.

In general, his clothes are looser this year, from drooping dolman sleeves to full-backed coats.

"Something that doesn't grab the body, that's a trend," he says, and he brings back many chiffon ponchos and caftans to prove it.

However, he includes a series of black evening dresses that do hug the figure. They promise a wow-wow evening: front slit skirts, cut-out midriffs and all.

Women are beginning to want a more dressed up look in clothes, says Halston - from slacks suits to evening wear.

Some Tips Cooking Game

Game meat adds variety to meals and is high in nutritive value, report Extension home economics specialists. The meat is an excellent source of high-quality proteins, fats, minerals, iron, copper, phosphorous and B vitamins.

Fresh and properly handled game meat can be made tender and palatable when cooked by dry or moist heat. But the success of cooked game is determined before the animal is brought home. If a hunter properly cares for the game after it is killed, the homemaker can prepare a savory and nutritious meal.

Consumer's Views Of Facts Vex Economists

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the more vexing problems for those who must interpret or manage the economy is that the facts sometimes are less important than the public's interpretation of them.

Talk to an economist and, puzzled and angry, he might show you a list of statistics that he thinks should quite logically lead to a certain conclusion. But the conclusion is wrong, mainly because of the human factor.

At the moment, dozens of government officials, businessmen and others are perplexed by the public's attitude concerning the present state of the economy.

The facts: The recession is over, incomes are rising, buying power is strong, retail sales are up, housing is in a boom, corporate profits are higher than a year ago.

The interpretation: Bad times, the dollar's in trouble, inflation continues, controls may not work, unemployment is still high. All these are reasons for concern, but why aren't they offset by the positive evidence.

Says Lionel D. Edie & Co., the big economic consulting firm, "What has been unusual about this recovery is the climate of negative psychology surrounding it, an attitude that almost refuses to recognize that progress has been made, that the recession is over."

Can you detect in the following a sense of distress over the the disparity between improving business conditions and the stock market's interpretation of them. It comes from Loeb, Rhoades & Co.:

"That economic prospects and market sentiment part company for a time is not an uncommon occurrence. But such a divergence cannot last forever; a gap as wide as at present must close; and as events unravel, either economic forecasts or investment psychology must prove wrong.

"Which is it going to be this time? Are the economists who almost unanimously predict a strong 1972 and a sturdy recovery of corporate profits hiding behind roseate blinkers, or does the market take too jaundiced a view of what lies ahead?

Interestingly, the tendency to take the bleak view is very widely held. It is shared by many consumers, businessmen and investors. The savings rate is high, indicating that bigger incomes aren't being completely translated into bigger purchases. Businessmen are reluctant to commit themselves to big spending programs. Investors appear to be waiting for others to make the first move.

The one common factor that influences attitudes of all groups is uncertainty, and it doesn't take a great deal of surveying to realize that uncertainty is pervasive. A number of doubts simply cannot be resolved at the moment.

Is high unemployment a chronic condition or a temporary maladjustment? Will the world's monetary crisis be resolved—or will recession spread through the world's industrial economies? Will controls work? Will the nation be able to contend with environmental problems?

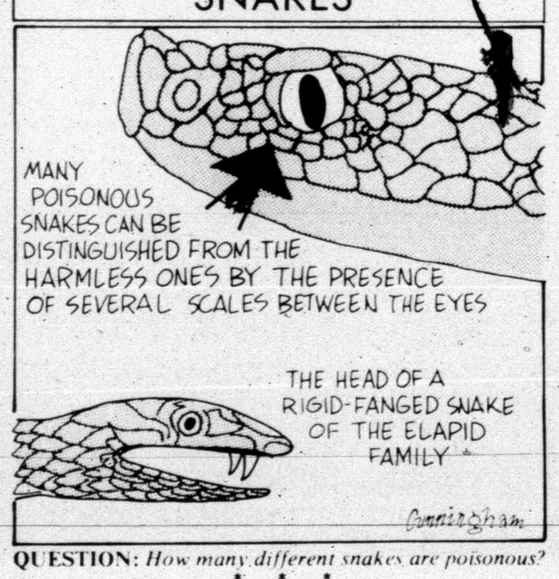

In fact, will uncertainty descend into pessimism and then to unreasoned fear? Or will the gap between the evidence and the response become narrower as reason asserts itself?

A ray of hope seems to be developing in consumer markets. That, at least, is a very widespread interpretation. Prudential Insurance, for example, states in its 1972 preview:

"The consumer occupies a pivotal position in the 1972 economic forecast. His long-standing "wait and see" attitude in major spending decisions appears to be at a turning point..."

If that is true, the happy thought that forecasters will have to measure is how far in the opposite direction will the consumer lead the thinking of businessmen and investors?

Junior Editors Quiz on SNAKES

QUESTION: How many different snakes are poisonous?

ANSWER: The snake is a legless reptile which crawls along the ground. It is related to the lizard, alligator and crocodiles, also the turtle and tortoise. Snakes range in size from 30 feet long to 5 inches in length.

Most snakes live in tropical regions. They are cold-blooded animals and have trouble controlling their body temperature, so they do not thrive in severe winter weather. They do not live in the Arctic region. In the temperate zones, they survive the winter by hibernating deep in the ground. There are no snakes in New Zealand, the Azores or Ireland, and there are few on the most remote islands in the ocean.

Most snakes hatch from eggs, but others are born alive like mammals. A snake can live for long periods without food. Their life span is from 20 to 30 years.

Of about 2,500 kinds of snakes known to man, less than 20 per cent are harmful. Many areas are entirely free of poisonous snakes. In the United States, the snakes for humans to avoid are the rattle snakes, water moccasins, copperheads and the coral snakes of the cobra family.

The snake plays an important role in nature's scheme. It is helpful to the farmer, since it kills rats, mice and other destructive rodents.

"Cortes' Route Retraced

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The idea seemed simple enough. Get a bunch of grub, a few pots and some other gear together and walk over the route Hernan Cortes followed when he set out from Veracruz for Mexico City on his epic trek of conquest.

But a lesson has been learned. A man born and raised on the streets of Brooklyn should have his head examined first.

Cortes started his preparations more than 400 years ago in Cuba, looking around for junk like ships, guns, food, sails, carpenters and other odds and ends.

But me, a son of the streets who suddenly decided to be a great adventurer, I prepared in a different way. I needed butane gas for my fancy cigarette lighter. I needed hiking boots, waterproof boots, street shoes, sneakers, sandals and bedroom slippers. Somone suggested I carry a three-foot machete. A guy can get hurt with a thing like that.

I had to worry about things Cortes never thought of. Like dress shirts, jackets, sweaters, raincoat, gloves and a nice tie in case someone invited me in for dinner during the 300-mile walk from Veracruz to Mexico City.

Then there was a gas stove with a tank that weighed 25 pounds that I had to buy and a five-cell flashlight in case the under water light I brought didn't work. I also packed four kinds of rope and line including a piece of hawser that Cortes could have used to tie up his whole fleet. I had about a qarter-mile hunk of this, difficult to pack in a small bag.

My 13-year-old son, John, who has lived in Montana, showed much more sense and had all his necessities in a small back pack that weighed only about 20 pounds.

When all my stuff was loaded in duffle bags, canvas sacks, cardboard boxes and sprawled loose on the sidewalk waiting for the taxi to take us to the train station, the over-all weight was almost enough to sink any of the three ships Cortes began with.

"Sure you don't want to take the portable television," quipped my son with a mischievious grin.

"No, son, I'm gonna rough it like Cortes," I replied ignoring his sarcasm.

Boarding the train to Veracruz I know now I must have resembled a one-man hippie safari tripping to never-never land. Porters, instead of offering to help, stared in amazement and whispered to each other.

"Who is the crazy gringo in knickers who looks like Cortes?" a railroad employe asked a station policeman.

After arriving at Veracruz, a fleet of taxis transported me to the bus depot. Half the passengers on the bus had to be put off because it took 21 first-class tickets to accommodate me and my gear.

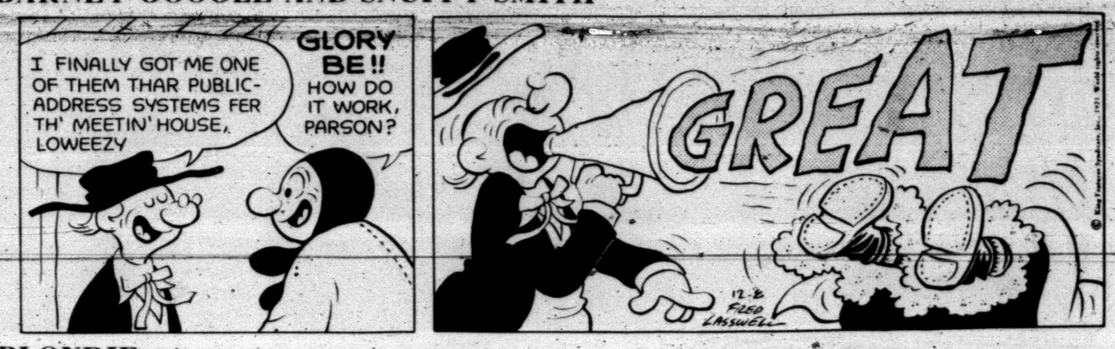

I made it to Antigua, the starting point, and spent the night spread out in three rooms of a local hotel.

The next morning, a Sunday, I was able to locate a herd of mules that had the day off, and began the new conquest of Mexico full of vigor and excitement.

The following day my son and I made it back to Mexico City, but my baggage had lost some of its earlier orderliness.

As I walked up to my house with a loose pillow in one hand and dragging a shopping bag spilling knives, forks and spoons along the way, I heard my wife say from the open window, "I wonder who the crazy gringo in knickers is—the one who looks like Cortes?"

JUMP SHOT—Snyder High School's Jerry Brooks (24) jumps high to take a shot at the basket during the basketball tilt with Andrews here last night. Defending for the Mustangs are Roceaux (45) and Matthews (13). The Tigers won 79-51.

Quick-Hitting Tigers Whip Andrews, 79-51

Snyder's Tigers started out like gangbusters here last night and went on to whip Andrews' Mustangs 79-51 in a non-district basketball tilt. The Bengals won the junior varsity game 69-59.

Six different Tigers got in the scoring act in the first quarter as Snyder built a commanding 22-4 lead. Dubby Preston netted nine points, Kent Horsley meshed six, Fred Liner, Tommy Washington and Kevin Jones each put in two points while Jerry Brooks dunked in one in the first period.

They ran their patterns with perfect execution. Meanwhile, the defense put forth perhaps its best effort of the season to hold the Mustangs to only one field goal in the opening stanza.

A 20-point performance in the second period gave Snyder a 42-18 lead at halftime. Snyder also tallied 20 points in the third period with Washington getting half of them. At the same time, Andrews was held to 13 points and fell behind 62-31 going into the final quarter.

Coach Bob Moore turned the action over to the Tiger reserves in the fourth period and they tallied 17 points. Andrews was able to gain only three points against the reserves and never really was in the ball game.

Three Tigers hit in double figures. Dub Preston had 22 points, Tommy Washington posted 18, and Kent Horsley collected 11. For Andrews, Pearson meshed 16 points and Gray tipped in 13.

Snyder hit 27 of 70 floor shots for 38.5 per cent and 25 of 34 free throws for 73.5 per cent. The Tigers also pulled down 49 rebounds. Jerry Brooks led in this department with 12. Preston grabbed 11.

"I thought our defense looked real good," said a pleased Coach Moore after the game.

Andrews tried a full-court press in the second half, but the Tigers were more effective with a half-court press.

In the B team game, the Bengals took a 19-10 lead in the first quarter and extended it to 38-27 at halftime and 55-40 in the third period. Richard Gorman netted 25 points, getting 12 of them in the second quarter. Darrell Morgan pitched in 14 points, and Moel Blaylock netted 10. For the Ponies, Jones was the only boy in double figures. He got 11 points.

The Tigers will host the Canyon Reef Tournament Friday and Saturday while the Bengals will be in a tournament at Kermit.

Barry, Marshall Return To Work

ATLANTA (AP) — Atlanta Falcons quarterback Bob Berry and defensive end Randy Marshall were back in practice Tuesday and apparently will not be suspended following their arrests in a police raid Monday night.

Both players suited up and worked out during the short practice session after being released on bond early Tuesday morning.

Cobb County police acting on a tip, raided Marshall's apartment Monday night. "A reliable confidential source" had said that a "pot party" was in progress at the apartment, police said.

Berry was charged with obstructing officers and Marshall with running a disorderly house. A hearing was set for Dec. 23 in state court in Marietta.

Injury Costly To Westerners

When the Western Texas College Westerners journey to Odessa tomorrow night to tangle with Odessa Junior College they will be without the services of Walter Hanibal, 6-4 freshman from Fort Worth Kirkpatrick.

"He sustained a fractured ankle in the game against Schreiner and will be out at least until after the holidays," declared Sid Simpson, WTC coach.

Hanibal will be missed. He's the leading scorer and rebounder for the Westerners. In fact, he's second in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference in rebounding with a 16.4 average and fifth in scoring with a 25 point average.

Hanibal was injured in the first half against Schreiner and went to the sidelines. However, he returned to the affray later in the game and finished as the leading scorer with 30 points.

"His absence will hurt the team," said Simpson, adding, "We'll have to look at a couple of other boys in practice today and see if they can fit into our plans.

"Ralph Jackson (6-5 freshman from Brownfield Union) will probably be added to the starting lineup on the basis of his performance in the past couple of games."

Otherwise, Simpson was undecided who would start against Odessa. He said he would have to wait until after the practice today to determine the starting alignment.

"We plan to play a lot of boys against Odessa," Simpson said.

The Wranglers have six sophomore lettermen, but they don't appear to have much more height than the Westerners.

Short Dolphins Are Upset 90-83

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jacksonville losing a college basketball game because it did not have enough height? What a difference a year makes.

Last season the Dolphins had height to spare, with a starting lineup that included 7-foot-2 Artis Gilmore and 7-footer Pembrooke Burrows.

But this year, with Gilmore and Burrows gone and 7-footer Dave Brent sidelined by a broken leg, the eighth-ranked Dolphins were hurt by a lack of height and were upset Tuesday night by Florida State 90-83 in the finals of the Civitan Tournament at Jacksonville.

Three other members of the Top Ten managed to win Tuesday night, but it wasn't easy.

No. 2 Marquette needed a desperation, last-second, 30-foot heave from reserve guard George Frazier to eke out a 74-73 victory at Memphis State.

Ninth-ranked Michigan led by as many as 12 points with five minutes to go, but needed a foul shot by sophomore Terry Tyler with six seconds left to clinch an 89-88 victory over local rival Eastern Michigan.

And 10th-ranked Penn edged Duke 50-49 at Durham, N.C., thanks to a 10-foot jumper by 6-8 senior Bobby Morse with 38 seconds left in overtime.

None of the other teams in the Top Ten were scheduled.

Florida State's 6-11 Lawrence McCray and 6-10 Reggie Royals dominated the backboards down the stretch, as Jacksonville's biggest man was 6-8 Bob Nylin. Ron King's 28 points topped the winners, while Harold Fox had 29 for Jacksonville.

Marquette trailed by five points in the closing moments, but won on Frazier's last-second bucket. Larry Finch scored 23 to lead Memphis State. Jim Chones topped Marquette with 18.

Henry Wilmore scored 29, Wayne Grabiec had 22 and John Lockhard added 19 to pace Michigan. George Gervin's 26 points and Lindell Reason's 21 sparked Eastern Michigan to its near-upset.

Penn led 46-41 with 6:17 to go in regulation play, but Duke scored the next five points to tie. The teams were deadlocked 47-47 after regulation play, but Morse's basket in overtime gave Penn its 47th consecutive regular season victory.

No. 14 St. John's traveled to Washington and defeated Georgetown 107-67, with team captain Greg Cluess scoring 31 points and grabbing 24 rebounds. Both were career highs for the 6-8 Cluess.

None of the other teams in the top 20 saw action Tuesday night.

In other major results, St. Bonaventure overpowered Thomas More 83-51, Illinois pounded South Dakota 96-56, Purdue whipped Northern Illinois 112-85, TCU got past Lamar U. 95-76, Iowa State edged Drake 83-80, Army topped Cal-Irvine 79-71, Penn State tripped Columbia 73-50, Cornell edged Colgate 95-93 and Texas-El Paso defeated Iowa 65-57.

Trevino Named Golfer Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Lee Trevino is golf's Player of the Year but his own personal vote, he admits, goes to Jack Nicklaus.

"That man is out of this world—he is almost inhuman," the garrulous, wisecracking Mexican-American from El Paso, Tex., said after being named Tuesday as pro golf's Player of the Year.

"I've heard all these tales about Walter Hagen, Bob Jones and Ben Hogan—I've even played with Ben Hogan—and I know they were great.

"I don't want to appear disrespectful. I am proud of these men for what they did to keep the game alive. But I don't think any golfer who ever lived in as good as Jack Nicklaus."

Trevino was the overwhelming choice of his fellow pros for the annual award presented by Golf Magazine. He flew into New York to be toasted and grilled by the press.

Both Nicklaus and Trevino closed out their 1971 golf campaign Monday in the Disney World at Orlando, Nicklaus winning the event to capture the year's money-winning honors with a record $244,490.50. Trevino, who led most of the year, was second with 231,202.97.

"Jack played in only 18 tournaments, I played in 31," Trevino said, refusing to point out that his 31 included the British, U.S. and Canadian Open titles in the space of four weeks.

"Nicklaus should be the favorite every time he tees up the ball—he's that good. He's powerful, we all know that. But he's also a shotmaker. He has tremendous touch.

"Take any tournament. Do you know of any five men you'd take against Nicklaus? No, sir, he's the best. I hear some other pros say he can't drive well or he's weak on this iron or that iron. He's not weak anywhere."

Trevino said he would have played in at least five more tournaments but he caught the flu at the start of the year, then his mother died, and in August he was stricken with appendicitis.

"I came back too quick after the operation," he said. "The doctor said I ought to take it easy for two weeks. But one day a guy at the club at El Paso cussed me, so I bet I could beat him playing with one arm. He was a six-handicapper. I shot a 70 and skinned him alive. The best $5 I ever won."

Congress Is Set To Endorse Anticancer Bill

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress appears ready to swiftly endorse a compromise $1.6 billion anticancer bill to send scientists on a sweeping search-and-destroy mission against America's most feared and elusive killer disease.

Senate-House conference committee members broke their organizational deadlock and then rapidly resolved their differences Tuesday after President Nixon urged prompt congressional action "so that I can sign cancer legislation into law in the very near future."

In a "Dear Ted" letter to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., chief Senate manager of the legislation, Nixon wrote:

"Both the Senate and House bills clearly recognize the complexities and difficulties we face in the cancer field and both provide the avenue for hope which the American people deserve and desire.

"The fact that we are now so close to final legislation reflects great credit on the members of the Senate and House who have given so much time and thought and energy to this subject—which is so critically important to so many millions of Americans."

With this in hand, congressional conferees settled for a compromise containing most of the features of the version that originally passed the House 350 to 5. The conferees accepted portions of the bill that had been approved by the Senate 79 to 1 an had the backing of the American Cancer Society.

The most controversial point was won by the House as the conferees accepted the idea of retaining the cancer program within the National Institutes of Health. The American Cancer Society had argued on behalf of the Senate's approach, designed to create an independent "conquest-of-cancer agency" within NIH but to give the agency budgetary freedom and direct access to the President.

Asked if he expects the Cancer Society to go along with the compromise version, Rep. Paul G. Rogers, D-Fla., chief House architect of the legislation, told a reporter: "I think everybody will embrace this bill, including the President."

Kennedy told a newsman following the closed conference session that the bill "will insure action by providing government and science with the tools to do the job."

The compromise authorization bill, covering three years, is aimed at helping science find the cause and develop a cure for cancer—America's second greatest killer, behind heart disease. Surveys in the past two years indicate cancer is the disease most feared by Americans.

The legislation would retain a provision for establishing 15 new cancer clinics for research under a block-grant program containing provisions to speed the process of application approval.

Publishing Rights Are Denied

NEW YORK (AP) — McGraw-Hill Book Co. says it has acquired world publishing rights to a 230,000-word autobiography of multimillionaire recluse Howard Hughes and is satisfied that the book is authentic.

McGraw-Hill's announcement Tuesday drew an immediate denial from a spokesman for Hughes Tool Co., which controls the Hughes interests, that such an autobiography existed.

"We just can't say anything further, just that it is not true," the Hughes Tool Co. spokesman said in Las Vegas.

"In my opinion, those who have participated in this thing either are perpetrators or victims of a gigantic hoax," said a spokesman for a public relations firm that handles accounts for the company in Los Angeles.

A McGraw-Hill spokesman responded: "We have taken all prudent and necessary steps to verify the authenticity of the book we are going to publish ... we are satisfied it is legitimate."

The book is due for publication next March 27. Prior to that, Life magazine will serialize the book in three 10,000-word installments.

A spokesman for Life, Donald M. Wilson, vice president for corporate and public affairs, commented: "We never dealt with the Hughes Tool Co. It doesn't surprise us that they know nothing of this since Mr. Hughes was totally secretive about the project. We are absolutely certain of the authenticity of the autobiography and would not put McGraw-Hill's or Life's names behind it if we weren't."

Paperback rights have been sold to Dell Publishing Co. for a 1973 edition.

Pay Board Considering Tightening Regulations

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pay Board is considering tightening its regulations to require advance approval for any wage agreement providing more than 5.5 per cent a year in pay raises, no matter how few employes are affected.

Presently there is no requirement that new pay agreements affecting fewer than 1,000 persons even be reported to the Pay Board. These small agreements, numbering roughly 10 million and affecting 83 per cent of working Americans, are now subject only to spot checks by agents of the Internal Revenue Service.

This arrangement was handed to the Pay Board by the Cost of Living Council before the end of the wage freeze.

A Pay Board source said that the board Tuesday received three different proposals from its staff. The toughest of the three would require that the Pay Board approve in advance any agreement exceeding the board's guideline that raises shouldn't be more than 5.5 per cent a year. Another staff suggestion would require that such above-guideline wage increases be reported to the board, the source said. The third would spell out detailed circumstances that would justify increases higher than 5.5 per cent, but require no report or advance approval.

Pay Board spokesman Herbert Wurth said the board was agreed "in principle" on the approach it wants to take, and would resume consideration today. A labor source said the public and management members of the tripartite board appeared to be leaning toward one of the tougher alternatives, requiring advance approval or at least notification of higher-than-guideline pay boosts.

Presently agreements affecting 5,000 or more workers require advance approval and those affecting from 1,000 to 5,000 must be filed with the board, subject to review.

In other actions Tuesday the Price Commission approved a 3.6 per cent across-the-board price increase for all steel mill products of U.S. Steel Corp., which originally had sought an 8.6 per cent increase on only some of its products.

The 3.6 per cent increase, which is an average that will allow the firm to raise some prices by more or less than that figure, will prevail until next Aug. 1, when the next round of steelworker pay increases are due.

A Price Commission source said the panel had acted in the way it did because it feels it cannot realistically control the price of every product without risking the possibility of dropping some products off the market if prices are set too low.

The Pay Board scheduled for next Tuesday a review of the United Auto Workers three-year contract with North American Rockwell Corp., ratified last Sunday.

The pact, which includes pay increases plus fringe and cost-of-living benefits that reportedly bring the total to 30 per cent, covers only 11,000 workers at plants in three states. However, it is considered a pattern-setter for the entire aerospace industry.

The Price Commission announced approval of coal price increases for 20 firms, ranging from less than 3 per cent to nearly 5 per cent. The commission said last week it would not allow coal companies to pass along to consumers the full amount of a 15 per cent pay increase won by the United Mine Workers and approved by the Pay Board.

The Pay Board also Tuesday recommended to the Cost of Living Council that Puerto Rico be exempted from wage controls, along with Guam, the Virgin Islands and American Samoa, sources said.

Puerto Rico was covered by the wage-price freeze but the others were not.

The Cost of Living Council today said it would allow price increases that amount to a return to normal prices to be made without prenotification of the Price Commission. The action, the council said, is designed to clear up the problem faced by merchants who were carrying on special sales promotions when the freeze was decreed Aug. 15.

The council also said firms required to prenotify the commission need not do so in the case of "sharply shifting raw material costs."

Such increases without telling the commission, however, only are allowed when the product has customarily been subject to immediate and frequent fluctuations in the cost of a raw material. The increases may only reflect the increase in cost of the raw material, the council said.

Each Briton spends $64 a year on household lighting, heating and cooking, according to government statistics.

Woman Charged In Murder

HOUSTON (AP) — Mrs. Mary Rau, 54, charged in the death of her mother, the grandmother of defeated mayorial candidate Fred Hofheinz, was listed in fair condition today at a Houston hospital with multiple bullet wounds.

Mrs. Rau, who is Hofheinz' aunt, was charged with shooting to death her mother, Mrs. Ethel M. Foster 80, as she lay sleeping in a Houston nursing home Monday night.

Police said they found the murder weapon about eight inches from her hand and she was suffering from gun shot wounds in the chest and abdomen. They also found a note which said in part, "I don't want to live and I don't want her to live without me."

Mrs. Foster was the mother of the deceased first wife of Roy Hofheinz, owner of the Houston Astros and Fred's father. Mrs. Rau was the first Mrs. Hofheinz' sister.

Fred Hofheinz lost the runoff election in balloting Tuesday to incumbent Mayor Louie Welch.

Action Seen On Auto Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is expected to complete action this week on repeal of the automobile excise tax, part of the big tax package which now has been cleared by a Senate-House conference committee.

The basic idea of repealing the tax was not in conflict between the House and Senate, but there were marginal differences for the conference to reconcile.

The House has tentatively scheduled action on the agreed version Thursday, and the Senate is expected to act soon thereafter.

The agreement provides for repeal of the 7 per cent tax on domestic and imported passenger automobiles, retroactive to midnight Aug. 15, 1971; repeal of the 10 per cent tax on light trucks, trailers for use with them and buses for urban mass transportation retroactive to Sept. 22.

U.S. Air War Drops Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. air-war operations in South Vietnam dropped dramatically last month when American pilots flew fewer than 10 per cent of the attack sorties there.

New Pentagon figures show that only 218 U.S. Air Force and Navy attack sorties were flown in South Vietnam in November while the growing South Vietnamese Air Force accounted for 2,745 such flights against enemy targets.

During the previous month, American planes were credited with 871 sorties, about four times as many as in November. The South Vietnamese Air Force registered 2,688 sorties in October, slightly fewer than the following month.

U.S. air strength in South Vietnam was reduced by two F4 Phantom fighter-bomber squadrons in October and November. But there still are three such units, plus a squadron of U.S.-manned A37 light bombers, in the country. The United States maintains nine squadrons of Air Force F4 and F105 fighter-bombers, plus about 45 B52 bombers and some gunships.

Indications are that American air power remaining in South Vietnam is being used chiefly to help destroy supplies moving along the Ho Chi Minh trail network in neighboring Laos and to support hard-pressed Cambodian forces.

Also joining in the effort to interdict supplies from North Vietnam are war planes from Navy carriers off shore.

According to the new figures, the level of U.S. air operations against the Laotian supply trails and Communist forces in Cambodia is rising again now that the dry season has returned. But it is not quite as high as last spring before the heavy rains closed in.

There were 6,300 American attack sorties into Laos in November, compared to 3,700 in October. The South Vietnamese Air Force does not operate to any extent over Laos.

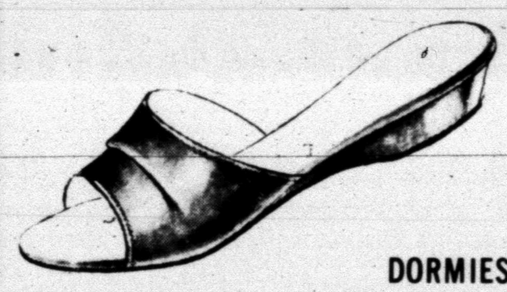

Back in May, as the enemy's previous dry-season supply push was ending, U.S. planes struck with 9,500 sorties along the Laotian supply trail.

In Cambodia, there were more than 1,250 U.S. air strikes last month, complemented by 850 sorties flown by South Vietnamese pilots.

Subject to change, plans call for retaining nine squadrons of fighter-bombers and at least 28 B52s in Southeast Asia well into next year. There is no firm indication how much longer American bombers and fighters will be kept there.

TWISTING THE LION'S TAIL — Thor, a four-month old lion cub owned by University of Nebraska-Lincoln student Jim Kerley, didn't seem to mind all the attention he received when he visited a kindergarten class at Lincoln's Clinton School. Bob Hope Planning Museum In Burbank

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Former American presidents have them, so why not a museum for the man who had made presidents laugh?

Comedian Bob Hope said Tuesday he's planning just such a museum in Burbank and will stock it with mementoes of a lifetime in show buisness.

Included in the exhibit, Hope said, will be items he's picked up in 30 years of tours for the USO entertaining servicemen abroad. He leaves on his latest trip next Wednesday.

"Everywhere I go, the guys outdo themselves to give me some kind of gift that is unique," he remarked. "I've received elephant chairs, elephant tusks, everything you can think of. I've got vaults filled with beautiful things. Pretty soon I'll have a place to put all this stuff."

Hope once contemplated converting his huge North Hollywood mansion into a museum, but decided against it. Instead, he has purchased a large piece of property opposite NBC's Burbank studios. He has had a plan drawn up for the museum building.

"I probably won't get the place under way for a couple of years," he said. "I want to take some time to go around the country and visit various kinds of museums to see how they present things."

Hope's next overseas trip takes him to Hawaii, Okinawa, Thailand, South Vietnam, Tehran, a missile base near Venice, Terrejon Air Force base near Madrid, and Guantanamo base in Cuba. The troupe includes Jim OP? S, Vida Blue, Charlie Pride, Sunday's Child and the usual Hope package of Christmas beauties.

On the night before departure Hope will appear at a rare event: a dinner for Bob Hope.

After years of entertaining at banquets honoring other figures, Hope is the subject of a "Thanks for the Memories" salute to his USO tours.

"The Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce suggested giving me a dinner," Hope explained. "I said thanks, but I didn't need a dinner. Then they came up with the idea of selling tickets at $500 apiece to raise money for a new USO building in Hollywood.

"That was something I could go for. I guess I've been with the USO since it started, and I've seen what great work it has done. Our show gets the publicity, but there are dozens of other USO shows touring all the time and doing a fine job."

The comedian reminisced a bit about his 30 years on the road for USO—or he might have been rehearsing his monologue:

"When I was a kid, I used to dream about traveling as far as Gary, Ind. Now I'm using Bangkok for a laundry drop. You haven't lived until you've had a elephant give you room service."

Wives Can Help In Job Crisis

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain Kennedy

"My wife always reads your column and I do not want to worry her with this type of letter," was the concern of an unemployed reader who asked me to disguise the particulars in a recent column. That request bothered me – joblessness is a crisis when husband and wife should pull together.

ELI DJEDDAH, a prominent employment counselor who has guided thousands of job-changing executives, has made pertinent observations about the role of the wife of the jobless man. Djeddah is careful to point out that no anti-female bias is intended – it's simply that the vast majority of his clientele are men.

From his informative new book, "Moving Up: How To Get High-Salaried Jobs" (Lippincott, $5.95):

"When you are unemployed you not only have to explain that fact to yourself but also to other people. For a married man, this can create an immediate problem because, generally speaking, his wife is a nest builder and nest preserver. Obviously the woman he married was a brilliant woman who picked him above all others and saw in him the best of all possible twig collectors and insect providers. Now all of a sudden he stops jumping out of the nest to gather bugs for the next meal.

"INSTEAD HE SITS AT HOME chomping on the bugs the brood is supposed to eat. This adds insult to injury. Instead of producing, he is consuming. . . At this point the wife turns around on herself and says, 'What's wrong with me? All the other girls have bug providers and twig collectors. They all chose winners. Is something the matter with me?' Under such circumstances, we all tend to become confused. . ."

The confusion may lead a wife to make a hostile attack as Djeddah illustrates: " 'Well, Harry, a wife may say, unable to cope with her feelings rationally, 'I always told you you should have moved out before this. You remember that. Don't you remember when my father was here how he told you he thought you ought to make a change?' . . . and so forth."

WHY THE STATIC? Djeddah speculates that such unhelpful behavior on a wife's part may be partially due to a secret doubt that it is her fault somehow that hubby is out of a job. "Was I too selfish? Did I put obstacles in his way? Did the children and I make so many demands on him that he couldn't devote enough of himself to his job?"

CONSTRUCTIVE SUGGESTIONS. The employment counselor lists positive actions a wife can take during her husband's career trouble.

* She can understand that losing a job is not something that happens only to her husband and herself. Losing a job is an event that happens to all men – it is commonplace.

* She can help him to focus on his real goals; after all, who knows a man better than the woman he lives with?

* She can realize that the way for her husband to find a new job lies in his attitude of self-confidence, the confidence to take the necessary steps which will lead to employment. She must understand that a man who feels guilt and is unsure of his support at home will not project the constructive, positive figure that people welcome into their firms. People are not hired out of pity. . . A man is hired because a prospective employer sees the sparkle in his eyes, the keenness of his approach, and expects to hear a more rapid clicking of coins into the cash register if he is hired.

* She can help in tangible ways too: keep his clothes in order and advising on new ones, encourage him to improve his physical condition by diet and exercise, provide some of the aids he requires now that he has no secretarial help, keep track of newspaper ads for him, suggest names for personal contact that he may not have thought of, treat him with real courtesy so that he will be encouraged to respond in kind – thereby limbering up that most important reflex in himself.

* Above all, she can listen to him, share with him, be his biggest booster and ally and friend.

Orange Crop Data Locked Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Orange juice is a hot item on commodity exchanges so sweet oranges have been designed as a speculative commodity for some months and the Agriculture Department has been "locking up" crop forecasts during the growing season.

The department reports that each month during October-July a half dozen agricultural specialists meet here under strict security conditions to tabulate the data gathered from citrus producers and objective yield surveys.

Two members of this group, known as the Sweet Orange Board, are from citrus producing states.

Joe Mullin, the statistician in charge of the Florida Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, is a permanent member of the six-man board because his state produces about 75 per cent of the nation's oranges.

The department's Crop Reporting Board has made production estimates for oranges and other citrus crops since 1910. However, it's only in recent years that trading in frozen concentrate orange juice futures has become intense, heightening the need for crop information.

The department reports that to prevent advance information from becoming available to anyone, it put data on oranges under wraps at the request of the Florida Citrus Mutual and the Florida Canners Association.

All other major citrus states California, Texas and Arizona concurred in the arrangement, though only Florida and California estimates are set in lock-up.

The department uses the "lock up" method with commodities designated speculative, including corn, wheat, soybeans, oats and cotton.

Hayward To Drop Charges

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — Prosecutor John Hayward says he plans to drop charges against 20 persons still facing trial in connection with disturbances which claimed four lives at at Kent State University in May 1970.

He blamed a lack of evidence.

Hayward's announcement Tuesday came shortly after Mary Helen Nicholas, the fifth of the 25 persons ordered to trial, was acquitted of a charge of interfering with a fireman during the burning of a campus ROTC building on May 2, 1970.

Two of those indicted had pleaded guilty in Portage County Common Pleas Court to charges of first-degree riot, a third was found guilty by a jury of interfering with firemen, and charges against another were dropped for lack of evidence.

Hayward said that 10 days ago the special prosecutors had received the transcript of evidence presented to the special state grand jury that indicted 25 persons in the Kent State disturbances in which four students were killed during a confrontation with National Guardsmen.

He said that after reviewing the transcript and considering the outcome of the trials so far, "it is the conclusion of the office of the attorney general of Ohio that the following cases be dismissed for lack of evidence."

Acquittal of Miss Nicholas, a 21-year-old Kent State sophomore, was ordered by Judge Edwin Jones for lack of evidence.

Behind The War

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE CRISIS—The Bengalis of East Pakistan long have complained of discrimination and neglect by the central government in West Pakistan, 1,000 miles away across Indian territory. The smaller but more populous East accounts for most of Pakistan's foreign exchange with its jute industry, but the proceeds along with other developments were used mostly to benefit the Punjabis in the West.

The ethnic and economic dissatisfaction came to a head after Pakistan's first general elections in 23 years, held last December. East Pakistan's Awami League, demanding autonomy, won 167 of the 313 National Assembly seats.

When the Awamis refused to moderate their demands, President Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan ordered his army from West Pakistan to crush the league. East Pakistan's political leader, Sheik Mujibur Rahman, was arrested and taken to West Pakistan. The Pakistani army butchered and burned hundreds of thousands of East Pakistanis, and more than nine million refugees fled into India, imposing a tremendous burden on India's always desperate economy. Meanwhile, East Pakistani in the Pakistani army deserted and formed the nucleus of a guerrilla army called the Makhti Bahini which went to war against Yahya Khan's forces.

Pakistan charged India with training and arming the rebels, a charge which India never bothered to deny. The two nations mobilized forces along their borders, and firing across the frontiers began. Last Friday, skirmishes escalated into war, and Indian forces invaded East Pakistan in force. India formally recognized the rebels, Bangla Desh government on Monday, and Pakistan retaliated by breaking diplomatic relations with India.

THE ISSUES—The East Pakistanis are fighting for independence. India is fighting for the establishment of a government in East Pakistan that the refugees will be willing to return to and that also will be friendly to India. Pakistan is fighting to prevent the secession of more than half of its people who operate its biggest export industry and incidentally to take more of Kashmir if it can get it.

THE HISTORY — When the Indian subcontinent won independence from Britain in 1947, Moslem leader Mohammed Ali Jinnah forced Britain to partition the vast territory into Moslem Pakistan and Hindu Indiam Pakistan became a two-part nation separated by India.

Millions died in fighting between Moslems and Hindus after the partition, and India and Pakistan have gone to war twice since—in 1948 and 1965—over the disputed Himalayan state of Kashmir.

FOREIGN INTERESTS—The United States officially is neutral in the conflict, but the Nixon administration blames India for escalating the war and has been openly complimentary of the Pakistani's government's action. U.S. arms shipments to both countries have been halted, and American economic aid to India has been suspended. The Soviet Union backs India, and Communist China supports Pakistan.

THE ARMIES—India has more than a million troops and 100,000 militiamen; Pakistan has just under 400,000 troops and 280,000 militamen, according to the London Institute of Strategic Studies. India has about 60 navy vessels and 625 combat planes, while Pakistan has 26 navy vessels and 250 warplanes. The population of India is 557 million and that of Pakistan 126.3 million, including 75 milion East Pakistanis.

Houston Mayor Wins 5th Term

By JIM BARLOW
Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Mayor Louie Welch easily won an unprecedented fifth consecutive term in runoff voting Tuesday and the liberal Citizens for Good Schools completed their sweep of all seven positions on the Houston school board.

Some 45,000 more voters turned out for the runoff election than had voted in the Nov. 20 first election and Welch said the larger turnout gave him the victory.

Welch, 53, defeated Lawyer Fred Hofheinz, 33, the son of Roy Hofheinz, the owner of the Houston Astros and himself a one time mayor of Houston who beat Welch in two mayorial elections.

Welch took 53.2 per cent of the Tuesday vote, unofficial returns reveal, with the mayor receiving 139,156 of the 261,179 votes cast. Hofheinz got 122,023.

Mrs. Karl Kamrath received 116,737 votes or 69.3 per cent while her opponent, Mrs. Irene Lewis, got 76,781 in the school board runoff.

Mrs. Lewis was backed by the conservative Committee for Sound American Education which dominated school board politics here for decades. But the CGS elected four candidates in 1969, put two more on the board in the Nov. 20 election, and with Mrs. Kamrath's victory, now have all the positions on the board.

The victories by the CGS this year assures the re-hiring of Dr. George Garver, the Houston school superintendent fired last year when one of the CGS members defected to vote with three conservative members to fire Garver, head of the district for a year. The CGS members did not seek re-election.

In Tuesday's election, as in the Nov. 20 voting, Hofheinz received massive support from Negro boxes in the city. But an equally large turnout in more numerous conservative and affluent sections of the city re-elected Welch, who was backed by many of the city's business leaders.

Welch ran on his record, the city's tremendous growth, low tax rate and freedom from major racials outbreaks, which he credited to tough law enforcement under Police Chief Herman Short.

Welch said Hofheinz would fire Short if elected. Hofheinz refused to say what he would do about the chief but did campaign for better police human relations. Both liberal and conservative Negro leaders here have charged police are brutal in handling blacks.

Fire Hits LA Area

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Six homes and a business were damaged early today as more than 30 wind-whipped fires burned wildly in the Los Angeles area.

Fire officials said no injuries were reported.

All 110 city fire units and 400 firemen were called out to battle the widely scattered blazes, all of which were controlled after several hours.

Firemen blamed the blazes on power lines snapped by winds gusting to 50 miles per hour.

Three homes in the $50,000 to $80,000 range were heavily damaged along a brushy canyon in northeast Los Angeles, and three other houses and an upholstery store lost their roofs in another section of the city, firemen said.

"The wind was so strong the next thing we knew the whole roof was on fire, but we got out all right," said Mrs. Horace A. Kingsley, whose home in Vermont Canyon had an estimated $60,000 damage.

Another fire in suburban South Pasadena forced temporary evacuation of residents on one block before firemen contained the blaze.

Most of the fires in brushy areas, however, burned no more than a few acres before being controlled.

Fire Destroys Three Businesses

MOUNT PLEASANT, Tex. (AP) — Investigators said today a fire that destroyed three businesses on the city square caused an estimated $250,000 damage.

The fire Tuesday night gutted Marshall's department store, a discount shoe store owned by Marshall's and a finance company.

Several other buildings on the west side of the square were damaged by fire.

Firemen from Daingerfield, Pittsburg, Naples, and Talco battled the flames.

There were no injuries although several firmen were treated at the scene for smoke inhalation.

The fire broke out about 7:30 p.m. and was brought under control about midnight.

A fire department spokesman said the fire apparently started in a small transformer in front of the department store.

Mary Requests More Alimony

LOS ANGELES C(AP) — Mary Cummings says she owes $26,269 and needs more alimony and child support from her ex-husband, actor Robert Cummings.

An attorney representing Mrs. Cummings, 53, told a Superior Court judge Tuesday the U.S. Internal Revenue Service has seized all of the estimated $500,000 in community property the couple shared when they were divorced last year.

Mrs. Cummings also said her 60-year-old former husband has not paid $1,100 in monthly support and alimony as ordered at their divorce and estimated current needs at $3,887 a month. Cummings and his wife have five children.

IOCC Adds 34th State

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Federal regulation has contributed to the natural gas shortage by causing restraint of developing new supplies, the Interstate Oil Compact Commission said in a resolution adopted Tuesday.

The resolution, adopted at the final session of the annual meeting of the 33-state group, also asked for strengthening of the mandatory oil imports control program by elimination of incentives to build foreign refineries that ship petroleum products to the United States.

The IOCC pledged support for President Nixon's Phase 2 program to lower inflationary pressures but asked that it not be administered in such a way as to discourage exploration for new reserves of natural gas.

Gov. David Hall of Oklahoma criticized the Federal Power Commission which controls the wellhead prices of gas sold in interstate commerce, saying it had refused to meet with him to discuss problems involving prices in his state. Hall said the FPC's action reflected arrogance toward a sovereign state.

"The prevailing scarcity of clean fuel supplies must be charged to this commission," Hall said. "Short-sighted pricing arrangements have discouraged explorations for new resources. The decisions by the FPC are often based on out-of-date information and are not reliable."

Gov. John Bell Williams of Mississippi said the 1954 Supreme Court decision that the FPC should control wellhead prices was a flagrant disregard of constitutional government and an invasion of property rights.

"It has reaped a whirlwind that has created crisis as to natural gas reserves," he said.

Gov. Stanley K. Hathaway of Wyoming said the environmental revolution had caused the nation to take action against drilling for oil and gas.

"There are real danger signs ahead," he said. "Too many in Congress are riding high in the tide of environmentalist trend at a time this nation cannot afford to lock in its natural resources."

Hathaway was elected 1972 chairman of the commission, succeeding Gov. Preston Smith of Texas. Dale E. Saffels of Topeka, Kan., was named first vice president, and D. Reynolds of Camden, Ark., was elected second vice chairman.

The commission, which serves as a forum on oil and gas conservation matters, voted unanimously to admit North Carolina as the 34th state.

Humphrey: Youth Vote Will Decide Elections

By RICHARD BEENE
Associated Press Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The youth vote will play a decisive role in the 1972 elections, says Sen. Hubert Humphrey. To him, the mere thought of it conjures up sweet music.

Noting there are more than 25 million newly enfranchised Americans eligible to vote in 1972 if they register, Humphrey said this group represents "the margin of victory or defeat for one side or the other."

Surveys indicate most young people will vote for the Democratic party, the Minnesota Democrat told a news conference here Tuesday.

"But I want my party to go out and work for it," he said. "I don't think we can win by talking about Roosevelt and Truman and Stevenson and Kennedy and Johnson ... I think young people want to know where we're going, and not where we've been."

Beaming and gesturing as if he were dropping votes into a ballot box, Humphrey added: "They're going to vote. I can hardly wait to hear those ballots. Oh, that soft music...."

Here to address the Texas Farmers Union, Humphrey told newsmen he has no plans to run for vice president but is taking soundings on whether to seek the presidency and will probably decide in the next month.

If he does seek the Democratic presidential nomination, Humphrey said, he will do so only if he feels that he can win the nomination and has "a 50-50 chance" of winning the general election.

"Would you like a weather report so far? It's favorable," he said.

Humphrey didn't confine his comments on young people to the youth vote. In his speech to the farm group, he called for national medical assistance programs for children from infancy to at least 12 years of age. "If we can have medicare for grandparents, we can have 'kiddie care' for their grandchildren," he said.

He also called for broader school lunch programs.

Humphrey fired away steadily at the Nixon administration's economic policies and farm programs.

"We're going to beat this man (Nixon). Make no mistake about it, he told newsmen, citing such issues as U.S. economic problems and a national deficit of more than $30 billion for fiscal 1972.

"There is going to be no economic recovery in America under phase one or two, or on through five, until we farm population shares in the prosperity of the country," he asserted.

He also predicted that the close vote on confirmation of Earl Butz as agriculture secretary will result in the release of possibly $1 billion to farmers by such means as grain purchases.

The Nixon administration will make Butz "look good" by funneling money to farmers, regardless of the cost, between now and the 1972 elections, Humphrey asserted.

ON THE JOB SHE WANTS TO BE ONE OF THE BOYS — Joan Grigsby, 23, after a challenge, has decided she wants to be an apprentice lather. Her brother-in-law, a lathing contractor, once challenged her to try the job of putting up the tar paper and chicken wire which holds the stucco to walls of buildings. She tried the work and decided she likes it. Now she's listed with the lathers' union trying for a spot in its apprenticeship program. Here she totes a roll of wire on her shoulders, left, and tacks it to a wall while standing on a scaffold at a building project. (AP Wirephoto)

Environmental Coalition Formed

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor and antipoverty forces are joining environmentalists in a broad-based coalition that will present a strong front to what they call a threat from major industries.

The Associated Press has learned 16 organizations already are banded together in search of solutions to environmental problems affecting workers and inner-city dwellers.

The coalition, known as the Urban Environmental Conference, includes such groups as the Sierra Club, Wilderness Society, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the United Auto Workers union.

The triple alliance has been developing since Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., began inviting representatives of various groups to meet in his office several months ago.

Announcement of the conference's formation was not planned until early next year.

So far, no coordinator has been selected for the coalition, but subcommittees are being formulated and strategy sessions have been set up to discuss three main topics of concern.

These are:

—Alleged "economic blackmail" by some industries that claim antipollution requirements may force layoffs of workers or closing or movement of plants.

—The social, environmental and economic impact of highway construction.

—And, housing, particularly in the inner cities.

At least a part of the coalition's concern is to present a solid front against what many environmentalists view as industry efforts to drive wedges between them and forces of labor and the poor.

They say such wedges are threatened by the often-heard arguments that environmental protection might harm employment or consume resources needed elsewhere to fight poverty.

Briscoe Says Change Needed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Dolph Briscoe says the people of Texas are tired of "political magicians who waste the state's time and money trying to hide the states problems instead of solving them."

The South Texas rancher and banker, who is making his second bid for the Democratic nomination for governor, spoke to several hundred persons at a fish fry in downtown Austin Tuesday night.

"Texas can no longer depend upon accidental government," he said. "This time we must be sure. We must change for the better and that means we must have completely new leadership at the top."

Briscoe said that modern state government is "too quantity oriented instead of being quality oriented ... We have created a giant without eyes, without ears and without a heart. It no longer hears the needs and the wishes of the people it was designed to serve, it only hears the creaking and croaning of political machines."

He said that he believes when "the overall aspects that one aspect of the controversy which is absolutely clear is the fact that when those in positions of leadership on state government do not exercise a vigilant scrutiny over the measures to which they lend their support, there is no limit to the extent to which the legislative process can be manipulated by unscrupulous men."

Briscoe told the crowd, which included a large number of highway contractors from over the state and State Highway Department employes that he, as governor, would oppose any move to put political controls over the Texas Highway Department. He said proposals to create a new department of transportation under the governor's office would be "an overwhelming disservice to the people of Texas."

Eleven Overcome By Fumes

HOUSTON (AP) — Carbon monoxide fumes from a faulty water heater overcame eleven persons at a beauty college Tuesday.

Firemen said the leak occurred as the result of the faulty heater in the Garden Oaks Beauty College and fumes were spread through the building by heating ducts.

All of those affected by the gas were treated and released at a nearby hospital.

"We still didn't really know anything was wrong until one of the girls suddenly fainted as she was giving a woman a shampoo," said Shelia Manning, a student at the college.

Firemen tracked down the leak and then used fans to draw the gas out of the building.

Leases Sold Tuesday

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Oil and gas companies bid a total of $1,783,878 Tuesday to win leases on state-owned school lands. They agreed to keep the pollution-conscious General Land Office informed of all their drilling operations in coastal waters.

New anti-pollution rules for offshore operations will affect the oil and gas leases signed Tuesday, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong said.

For the first time, Armstrong said, operators must notify the Land Office in writing of all off-shore operations on state leases.

He said the new rules also require that all oil spills or other pollution on state lands under lease must be reported to the land commissioner within 24 hours of discovery.

One rule states that "all wells shall be drilled, reworked, cleaned, tested and produced in a manner to prevent pollution and in the event of pollution, lessee shall use all reasonable means to recapture all hydrocarbons or other pollutants which have escaped and shall be responsible for all damage to public and private property."

Armstrong said the School Land Board accepted 76 high bids on 39,843 acres of state land at an average price of $44.77 per acre.

The highest bid, however, was $206,145 from Inexco Oil for 270 acres in Buffalo Bayou in Harris County — an average price of $763.40 per acre.

If oil and gas is produced on the tracts, the permanent school fund will receive a 1-6 royalty in addition to the lease price.

Lobsters, once thought to do little ocean traveling, drift hundreds of miles as tiny spider-like lobsterlings before settling down to the sea bottom.

New Charges Filed On Horton

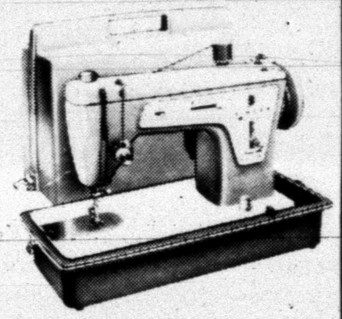

DALLAS (AP) — Attorney Leon C. Horton, facing a 10-year prison term at Canyon, Tex., was under new charges today in connection with the estate of missing Dallas investor Robert L. Roberts.

The four charges filed Tuesday against Horton accused him of using the forged power of attorney of Roberts to gain control of Roberts' estate. Roberts vanished in August last year.

Horton is presently in jail at Canyon where last week he was convicted of and sentenced to prison for theft by conversion in connection with Roberts' affairs.
