Restrictions To Eire Are First Step In Policy

Quarantine Would Seal Off Potential Spy-Post Of Enemy

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 14 — Prime Minister Churchill told Commons today that Britain and the United States plan "to isolate southern Ireland from the outer world"—a virtual quarantine by methods yet to be disclosed which would seal off that potential spy-post during the 11th hour to the opening of the western front.

Churchill's words clearly implied an extension of resrictions to the border between northern Ireland and Eire, and perhaps even a semi-blockade of Eire, President de Valera has refused to close German and Japanese offices.

Isolate Southern Ireland

Restrictions on travel to Eire, Churchill said, are "the first step in a policy designed to isolate Great Britain from southern Ireland, and also to isolate southern Ireland from the outer world luring the critical period now approaching."

"If a catastrophe were to occur to the Allied armies which could be traced to the retention of German and Japanese representatives in Dublin, a gulf would be opened between Great Britain on one hand and southern Ireland on the other which even generations would not bridge," he told Commons.

Churchill declared that the British government had been consulted throughout by the United States on the Washington request that Eire close German and Japanese consulates—and "gave the American approach full support."

SAFETY OF U. S. FIGHTING MEN MAIN OBJECTIVE

WASHINGTON, March 14 (U.P.)—The all-important aim of saving the lives of U. S. fighting men stood out as the primary objective today in a series of pressing diplomacy.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull and other high ranking officials have made it clear that problems involving the United States and the Vatican, Eire, Spain and Argentina will be approached by this government with the attitude that the security and safety of the American armed forces must in no way be jeopardized.

This attitude is uppermost in BANK VICE PRESIDENT—Miss Ruth E. Ford, above, employe of Citizens National bank since 1923, and an assistant cashier since 1927, was elected a vice president this morning, according to an announcement by the board of directors. The position is a new one in the bank organization, officials said. Miss Ford is vice president of the southwestern division of the American association of Bank Women, and is a member of Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club and of Nancy Anderson chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

One Thousand Japs Are Slain

American ground forces have repulsed a suicidal Japanese counter-attack on Bougainville in the Solomons, killing nearly one-third of the enemy force, while other U. S. troops strengthened their hold in the Admiralty islands by seizing two more islands off Los Negros, it was disclosed today.

The American troops on Bougainville killed an estimated 1,000 Japanese soldiers who charged into heavy machinegun fire in a futile attempt to break through the U. S. perimeter at Torokina on Empress Augusta Bay.

The enemy force, which attempted three attacks Saturday, was estimated between 3,000 and 4,000 men, some of whom thrust to within 10 feet of the muzzles of U. S. machineguns. In one sector, 500 Japanese were killed in a fanatical drive against the American lines.

Two Islands Occupied

In the Admiralty islands, 650 miles to the west, U. S. troops occupied, with only slight opposition, the islands of Hauwei and Butjo Lio in Seeadler harbor off Los Negros and several miles from Lorengau on the main island of Manus.

Allied airmen were active over the entire Pacific front, ranging from Wake in the Central Pacific, to Nauru in the south and New Guinea in the southwest.

Army and Navy Liberators dropped about 50 tons of bombs on Wake Saturday in the seventh raid this year on the island, which the Japanese seized shortly after Pearl Harbor, while other planes from the Pacific fleet and the Seventh Air force hit three enemy bases in the eastern Marshalls and Nauru in the Gilberts.

Italian Front Is Mudbound

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 14. (AP)—The weather has improved in Italy but the ground remains extremely soft, holding both the Allied and German armies mudbound except for patrol operations which yesterday included sharp clashes near Minturno and Cassino on the main Fifth army front, headquarters announced today.

Allied raiders probed the German lines around Cisterna and Littoria in the beachhead area below Rome and American troops seized 13 prisoners and dispersed the remainder of a German patrol. The British smashed a machinegun position and repelled a German attempt to cross the Moletta river.

Nazis Launch Attack

The Germans launched a fairly strong attack from three directions against Indian positions on the Eighth army front last Sunray, it was announced today, and fighting lasted until the Germans withdrew. Artillery, mortars and small arms broke up other attacks during the night.

It was estimated that it will take

Gas Ration Cut To 2 Gallons

WASHINGTON, March 14. (AP)—The basic family car gasoline ration was cut to two gallons a week for the whole nation today when the Office of Price administration reduced the "A" card allowance from three gallons to two in the Midwest and far West areas, effective March 22.

At the same time, the "B" supplementary ration ceiling on the Pacific coast will be trimmed from 460 to 400 miles a month.

No change is scheduled for any of the present rations in the 17 East coast states and the District of Columbia, already on an "A" card allotment of two gallons a week.

"We make these reductions reluctantly," OPA Administrator Chester Bowles said of the West and Midwest cuts, "but we are entering a period in which critical demands will be made on our limited supplies of gasoline, and we are entering it with supplies that are sharply limited as the result of war demands."

Preliminary figures show, OPA said, that gasoline allocations for the country as a whole will be about nine per cent less for the second quarter beginning April 1 than for the first quarter. The ration reductions are expected to save about 18,000 to 20,000 barrels of gasoline a day.

Senate Approves Service Ballot

WASHINGTON, March 14. (AP)—A states' rights service vote bill, permitting the use of a curtailed federal ballot only with the states' permission, won final approval of the Senate today after embittered debate.

The Senate voted 47 to 31 to approve the final version of the measure, worked out by a joint conference committee of House and Senate members after weeks of wrangling.

The measure now goes to the House, where Chairman Worley (D-Tex) of the elections committee predicted its prompt acceptance.

Senators Green (D-RI) and Lucas (D-Ill), authors of the original federal ballot bill, disowned it after the House ripped away most of their handiwork and replaced it with machinery giving the states first say about the form of the ballots and full right to determine the qualifications of absent voters.

Striking back at Democratic criticism of the compromise service vote bill, Senator Bridges (R-NH) asserted that if President Roosevelt vetoes the measure "he alone must assume full responsibility for the disfranchisement of millions of our soldiers, sailors, marines and coast guardsmen."

If approved as expected by the House, the bill will move to President Roosevelt, who denounced a previous states-rights ballot bill as "a fraud on the soldiers and sailors and marines . . . a fraud upon the American people."

Solons Are Invited To Britain

LONDON, March 14 (AP) — The House of Commons, by formal motion, today invited the U. S. Congress to send a delegation to visit parliament.

Members hailed the action as without precedent in parliament's history.

Maj. Albert N. Braithwaite, who initiated the motion, said "hitherto there seems to have been an indefinite something which kept the two legislatures at arm's length."

Braithwaite, recently returned from the United States and said the proposed visit had been discussed with Speaker Sam Raburn.

Preliminary plans call for inclusion of congressmen from both major parties, plus representatives of the independent parties. Some women members will be included, it was indicated here.

A similar resolution later was adopted in Lords.

CONGRESSMEN WELCOME INVITATION BY PARLIAMENT

Democratic congressional leaders in Washington indicated over the weekend they would welcome the invitation which the British Parliament extended formally today. There was, however, some Republican coolness to the plan, and as an overall consideration, several lawmakers pointed out that many important issues were awaiting action in House and Senate—plus the fact that this is a general election year—which might introduce complications in getting a visiting delegation together.

Both Senate Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky) and House Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass) viewed the proposal as an opportunity to promote a better understanding between the United States and Great Britain. House Minority Leader Martin (R-Mass) was among those who mentioned the press of congressional business, expressing doubt that the lawmakers "could take time out from our work to send a delegation abroad."

Halifax Warns Of Compromise Peace

BOSTON, March 14. (AP)—Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, today warned the United Nations against an intense German political offensive aimed at the disaster of a compromise peace.

He said that should the military leaders of Germany "accept the unpleasant fact of military failure . . . they will go to the defensive because they can do nothing else, but they will strive to make every Allied advance as expensive as possible."

In an address prepared for delivery at a Boston Chamber of Commerce luncheon, the British ambassador declared that Germany "will try to make us pay in blood and tears for every mile of ground we gain.

"And with this fierce resistance will go an intense political offensive.

"They will admit they have lost the war," Lord Halifax said, "but will point to the casualties that it is still in the German power to inflict, if we insist on fighting it through to the bloody end. And they will ask our peoples what they can expect to gain by that."

SHEPPARD FIELD CHANGED

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—The War department said today Sheppard field, Tex., is being converted into an Army Air force training center and also for training glider and liaison pilots.

County Is Near War Fund Goal

Lubbock county appeared on the verge this morning of going over its $78,500 quota in the Red Cross War Fund drive.

Actually in the bank in Lubbock and Slaton was $72,406.19—still $6,093.81 short of the quota. Of this sum, $70,081.19 has been banked in Lubbock and $2,325 in Slaton, where the intensive drive begun Monday still is in progress today.

But not included in the official totals was approximately $4,300 in newly reported subscriptions at South Plains Army Air field and several hundred additional dollars reported in Slaton after bank closing time Monday afternoon. Briggs Robertson, chairman of the Slaton Red Cross chapter, estimated this morning that workers there have obtained "well over $3,000."

$1,000 To $1,500 Needed

On the basis of these reports, it appeared that $1,000 to $1,500 more would put the county above its quota.

Still out this morning were final reports from Lubbock Army Air field, the city of Lubbock and Idalou, Cooper and Shallowater rural school districts. No reports at all have come in from three other rural school districts, although a rally is set for 8:30

Light Vote Expected In New Hampshire

CONCORD, N. H., March 14 (U.P.)—A comparatively light vote was expected in the New Hampshire presidential primary today to elect delegates to the Republican and Democratic national conventions.

Among the GOP candidates, five are pledged to Wendell L. Willkie, 1940 Republican presidential candidate; five are pledged to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, and one is pledged to Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Republicans also have entered a slate of unpledged candidates.

The Democratic state committee has entered a slate of candidates pledged to a fourth term for President Roosevelt.

Beer Ration Stopped; Prisoners Quit Work

LONDON, March 14 (AP)—Italian prisoners of war went on strike today at a camp in southern England because their beer ration of half a pint daily was stopped.

The prisoners refused to go to work in the fields, cut wood or do any other camp chores until the ration is restored.

Waste Paper Drive Planned

Detailed plans for an intensive waste paper drive in Lubbock county were worked out at a meeting of a special committee in the chamber of commerce this morning.

The drive in the city was set for Friday, March 31. City schools will declare a holiday so that students can help. Paper is to be bundled and left on front porches. Boy Scouts will take the bundles to the nearest corner to be picked up in Army trucks.

In the rural school districts, according to the plans, students are to take bundled waste paper to their school buildings during the several days before March 30. Plans are to use the school buses for this purpose. On March 30, Army trucks will be used to collect the collected paper from the schools.

Salvage Appeal Issued

Members of the committee joined in an appeal to everyone to save all their waste paper for the drive. Bundle newspapers and magazines separately. Sort the magazines according to approximate size. Guard against making bundles too heavy — about 20 pounds will be best. Small boys will have to carry them.

All the collected paper will be taken to one of the air bases for final sorting, baling and shipping. Proceeds will go to the Army.

Members of the paper salvage committee present at the meeting were B. Sherrod, Carden Green, Lt. Col. F. W. Franke, Mrs. H. F. Godeke, Raymond King, Roy Boyd and R. W. Matthews. Other members are G. M. Unger, DeWitt Landis and Parker F. Prouty, all of whom are out of the city, and William Lowrimore, sr., the chairman, who was engaged in another urgent war task.

Wednesday Deadline For Tax Returns

Midnight Wednesday is the deadline for filing 1943 income tax returns and there are still many people who have not filed these returns in Lubbock, according to L. B. Barkley, field division chief of the Lubbock Office of Internal Revenue.

Barkley said his force is having no difficulty in handling the many people who are coming to the office in the Lubbock National Bank building here and no great rush is anticipated throughout the rest of today and Wednesday.

The office will remain open until midnight Wednesday for the benefit of those who have put off until the last minute to file their returns. The office will close at 8 o'clock tonight.

Navy To Get 12 Ships A Day

Half Million Men Will Be Needed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 14 — Nearly a dozen new ships a day are expected to go into service with the United States fleet in 1944, Secretary of Navy Knox said today.

He made the report at a news conference attended by Vice Admiral Randall Jacobs, chief of the bureau of Navy personnel, who said that nearly half a million officers and men will be needed to man the new craft in the rapidly expanding fleet.

Jacobs added that the dozen ships a day figure is based wholly on sea-going vessels and does not include small auxiliaries although the total covered "some of the larger landing craft."

3,700,000 By 1945

The personnel chief estimated that the Navy's total strength by the end of 1944 will be 3,006,000 officers and men, while the total for all naval services, including Marines and Coast Guard, is expected to be approximately 3,700,000.

Jacobs added that the maxium strength of the Navy will not be reached until some time in 1945, but said that he believed a "leveling off" in inductions for the Navy could be started by the end of this year when the three million mark will be passed.

In disclosing the rate of ship additions, Knox said that the number of ships in the fleet has increased from 913 on January 1, 1942 to 4,167 on January 1, 1944.

Require Competent Personnel

All these ships, Knox continued, require competent trained personnel and the Navy, to meet its needs for enlisted personnel, gradually has been increasing selective service quotas and recruiting young sea - going officers particularly needed for amphibious operations, cargo transports and destroyer escorts. "This is a continuing need," he said of the officer program, adding that it is "exemplified in the scheduled construction of 80,000 landing craft by the end of 1944."

Shore establishments have been

House Group Plans Inquiry On WASP

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—The House civil service investigating committee, it was learned today, is considering an inquiry to determine whether the WASP (Women's Air Force Service Pilots) program should be continued while thousands of experienced men pilots are looking for jobs.

Mutterings about the WASP in male flying circles increased sharply after the Army and Navy gave notice of intention to abandon the war training service program under the Civil Aeronautics administration.

In addition to men released under the training program, there are around 25,000 pilots in Civil Air patrol, and probably 10,000 of those could qualify for the work being done by the WASP.

Criticism of WASP training has been based on the cost of the program and the alleged lack of need for more pilots, rather than on the ability of the girl fliers to do the job.

All WASPS are trained at Sweetwater, Tex., by Aviation Enterprises, Ltd.

Vast "Dunkirk" Seen For Enemy In South Russia

Rumanian Ships Rushed Toward Odessa; Evacuation Indicated; Fighting Front Soon May Be Pulled Back Into Rumania

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 14. — Every available ship in Rumania's Black sea ports has been rushed northward, apparently to Odessa, an Istanbul dispatch said today. This appeared to foreshadow complete collapse of the Germans' broken southern flank in Russia in a vast scale 1944 Dunkirk which would pull the battle line back into obviously frightened Rumania.

The Istanbul dispatch, based on information from Sofia, suggested the Germans were preparing to evacuate Odessa by sea.

Following up Premier Stalin's announcement last night of the capture of Kherson, 90 miles east of Odessa, the German high com-

REDS CROSS BUG RIVER

LONDON, March 14 (AP) — Russian troops have crossed the middle Bug river in the western Ukraine and formed several bridgeheads southwest of Uman, the German radio said tonight.

mand's communique said today that base had been evacuated "in the course of planned disengagement movements after the destruction of all military installations." The communique also said that both sides had thrown new reserves into the bitter struggle on the south.

Moscow announced 75,000 Nazis had been slain or captured in the lower Dnieper offensive of Gen. Rodion K. Malinovsky's Third Ukraine army, made up of Stalingrad veterans, after crossing the lower reaches of the Dnieper.

If it were true that the Nazis had given up all hope of other than a seaborne retreat from their last stand in the Ukraine, this would explain their terrific resistance in the outskirts of Tarnopol in prewar Poland, where a see-saw fight raged into the sixth day. There the Nazis were making a grim attempt to hold an inland anchor of the front shattered by the combined Red army offensives.

45 Miles From Dniester River

The Russians were pounding within 45 miles of the Dniester river from the northeast. They already had cut the Odessa-Lwow trunk line and left the whole German south flank army with only a cross-border threadwork of single-track spur lines west into Rumania.

These lines would be neither adequate for the supply of 200,000 fighting men—nor for their retreat.

The peril to Odessa—last hope of seaborne escape—already was two-edged with Col. Feodor Tolbukin driving upon Nikolaev from

RAF Hits Rail City In France

Bombers Cross Channel Today

(By The United Press)

LONDON, March 14 — Hundreds of RAF heavy bombers disrupted Nazi anti-invasion preparations last night with a thunderbolt attack on railway targets at Le Mans, 110 miles southwest of Paris, while Mosquito raiders struck Frankfurt and other objectives in western Germany.

East coast observers saw formations of bombers flying toward the continent around noon, and

ROME REPORTS RAID

LONDON, March 14 (U.P.) — The Rome radio reported today that fear-mastered Allied bombers attacked Rome shortly before noon today. "At 11 o'clock this morning strong formations of American four-engined bombers raided Rome," the Nazi-controlled broadcast said. "Bombs were dropped."

soon thereafter the Paris and Luxembourg radio stations went off the air.

Explosive and incendiary bombs tore up railway tracks, set fire to cars and warehouses and wrecked other installations at Le Mans, one of the main junctions through which pass troops, ammunition and other supplies for German forces manning defenses on the Brittany and Bay of Biscay coasts.

One Of Heaviest Raids

The assault was made by a force comprised entirely of four-engined Halifaxes and was one of the heaviest yet directed against communications in France, which presumably must be paralyzed in advance of the opening of a western front in Europe.

It was the fifth raid by the RAF's heavyweights in eight nights on France, including an attack a week ago on Le Mans.

Other British planes rounded out the night's offensive with mine-laying sorties over enemy waters and intruder patrols over Europe. Three planes, including two from the bomber command, were lost in all operations.

Daylight RAF Raids Seen

(The Daily Express said the RAF may switch from night raiding to daylight precision attacks once the German air fighters are knocked out, with the possibility of U. S. fliers composing part of the crews in the first RAF daylight raids).

Several formations of American planes, paced by Flying Fortresses, bombed the French invasion coast in daylight yesterday.

Fast, low-flying German planes bombed open land in a southern England district early this morning. One outer London area had a brief alarm, but no bombs were dropped.

Body Of C. E. Sooter Recovered From Lake

Firemen recovered the body of C. E. Sooter of Posey, who drowned about 7:30 o'clock Monday night when fishing in Buffalo lake, southeast of the city, about 12:30 o'clock this afternoon after several hours of dragging the bottom of the lake. Rix Funeral home has the body, but no funeral arrangements had been made early this afternoon, it was reported.

Robert Stolle, about 40, who was in a row boat with Sooter, was rescued from the lake by Fred Holmes and his son, Tommy Lee, 15, who live in a house near the lake.

Stolle was reported to have said that Sooter was pulling on a trot line, lost his balance and fell into the water. Sooter, it was related, then grabbed the edge of the boat in an attempt to pull himself up, upsetting the craft and throwing Stolle into the water.

Stolle Towed To Shore

Holmes and his son, unable to get Stolle into their boat pulled him to the shore, one of them rowing, the other holding to the fisherman. Sooter had disappeared when they reached the point of the tragedy, said to have been approximately 50 yards west of the entrance to the resort area.

Stolle was unconscious when brought to shore but managed to "walk around" before he was taken to West Texas hospital in a Sanders ambulance. He received first aid and was released.

Hard-Boiled Policy On Draft Indicated

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt is expected today to ask local boards to adopt a hard-boiled policy on the drafting of fathers, in order to protect vital war industries from a growing military drain on their skilled help.

Mr. Roosevelt, it was predicted, will "clarify" his memorandum of Feb. 26, which called for a review of all occupational deferments and which—some officials assert—has prompted many draft boards to turn to industrially-deferred nonfathers to fill their quotas.

The memorandum thus has had the effect, some government sources said, of giving the local boards another way of postponing the draft of fathers, even though Mr. Roosevelt did not intend any special consideration for them.

Informed sources within the War Production board and WMC offered these predictions:

1. That Mr. Roosevelt would emphasize that pre-Pearl Harbor fathers should get the same treatment as non-fathers.

2. That he would call for some new machinery to insure that highly essential plants get a measure of protection from the drafting of engineers, technicians and other key workers.

Extension Of Good Neighbor Policy Is Facing Rocky Road

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—Rep. Wadsworth (R-NY), high-ranking minority spokesman in the House, hinted plainly today that the administration's plan to extend the "good neighbor" policy around the world is facing a rocky road in Congress.

Under Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius has submitted legislation to establish "cultural and cooperative" programs with other nations, such as now exist with Latin America. Wadsworth took an arched eyebrow position on the plan.

May Take "Long Time"

To say the least, he asserted, it will be in the foreign affairs committee "a long time."

Chairman Sol Bloom (D-NY) disagreed, arguing that all the proposal contemplates is for the United States and other friendly nations to effect a "swap."

"They have something we want; we have something they want; that's all it amounts to," Bloom said.

He added hearings would be scheduled by the committee in possibly two weeks, as soon after the lend-lease and UNRRA programs are out of the way.

Wadsworth indicated that opposition would rise when funds for extension of the good neighbor idea to other nations are sought.

Colder Weather In Prospect For Texas

(By The United Press)

Texas was due more cold weather today as a "norther" brought strong winds, snow, sleet and rain to a large section of the state.

The weather bureau issued livestock warnings for the Panhandle and South Plains, said there would be rain changing to snow, and fresh to strong winds.

In the Dallas-Fort Worth area, the norther was expected to arrive during the morning, bringing with it drizzling rain. The weather bureau said it would be much colder tonight.

Practically all of East Texas was expected to feel the effects of the wintry blast before nightfall, with livestock precautions being urged for the northwest section.

Sergeant Gets 13-Month Furlough When Army Loses Track Of Him, But He's Broke And Bored

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 14. (AP) — Staff Sergeant John B. Zealor says he "sat tight and waited" and caught up on his fishing and hunting when Army bookkeeping lost track of him and he got a 13-month furlough, but his aunt up in Connecticut reports he was "bored and broke" long before it ended.

The 22-year-old decorated overseas tail gunner from Roxbury, Conn., now is here at the Army Air forces redistribution station No. 1 awaiting a new assignment.

All wasn't rosy during his vacation in Connecticut's fields and streams, because he says he hasn't yet received any pay for the 13 months. Army officers here are unable to say now what will be done about that.

Zealor's aunt, Miss Alice McGovern, said last night two other gunners in his overseas bomber crew had similar experiences with Army bookkeeping, and wrote to him frequently from their homes in New York City and Pennsylvania, swapping stories about their furloughs.

"Insist" On Active Duty

Early this year his buddies informed Zealor they planned to "insist" upon being returned to active duty, the aunt said.

Last August, she related, he spent ten days in a Torrington, Conn., hospital and his illness was reported to Army authorities at that time.

But Army life didn't catch up with Zealor, he says, until early last month when his mother, Mrs. Katherine Zealor, of Bridgewater, Conn., received a communication from the War department saying her son's whereabouts were not known. She telegraphed the department that he was home. He

Badoglio May Be Recognized

NAPLES, March 14 (AP)—Italian sources said today the United States and Britain probably will follow Russia in recognizing Premier Pietro Badoglio's royal government.

An official Italian communique announcing that the Soviets had agreed to exchange diplomatic representatives with Italy came only a day after a mass meeting of Communists and two other leftist parties here demanded abdication of King Victor Emmanuel and a new democratic government on the ground that the Badoglio regime did not represent the Italian people.

Russia was the first of the Allied powers to recognize Italy, which has had diplomatic relations only with neutral nations since it surrendered. The announcement made it clear that the Italian government had taken the initiative in asking for establishment of relations.

Requests To U. S., Britain

(The British Broadcasting corporation said a Naples dispatch reported that similar requests had been addressed to the United States and Britain. There was no confirmation that such a request had been received in London).

(Diplomatic sources in London understood that Russia's decision to recognize the Badoglio government was made without previous consultation with the other Allied governments although the latter were informed unofficially that the Soviet action was coming).

The Italian communique left some doubt whether the Italo-Soviet relations will be on the basis normal between two independent countries or more in the nature of Russia's relations with the French Committee of National liberation, but a statement that the two nations will "exchange representatives enjoying the usual diplomatic status" indicated that full relations will exist, de facto if not de jure.

James Green Tatum Buried In Mississippi

Burial services were conducted in Dearbrook cemetery near Macon, Miss., this afternoon for James Green Tatum, former Lubbock resident, who died in Amarillo Sunday after an illness of three months. Funeral services were held in Amarillo Monday before the body was shipped to Mississippi.

He is survived by a son, John Tatum of California, and three daughters, Mrs. Martha Jane Sawyer and Miss Miriam Tatum of Lubbock, and Miss Patricia Ann Tatum of California; and two grandchildren, Jim and Tom Sawyer of Lubbock.

soon was ordered to report here.

Awarded Three Medals

Zealor, who says he stayed home and took it easy because "I didn't know what to do," related yesterday that he went into the air forces in January, 1942, and was sent overseas six months later. After 26 combat missions in the African theater of war, he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, Silver Star and Air Medal.

He returned to this country Jan. 10, 1943, and reported at Morrison field, West Palm Beach, Fla. There he was given a furlough and told to await orders.

He did.

Three enemy planes were destroyed for a loss of six Allied craft.

Nazis Raid Beachhead

The Germans raided the beachhead four times Sunday and once Sunday night, dropping anti-personnel bombs. No damage was reported.

Fighter-bombers blasted road and rail traffic south of Rome and gun positions and supply dumps in the beachhead area as well as shipping off the Dalmatian coast. Coastal aircraft pounded docks at Santo Stefano and rail targets at Marina di Pisa and Montalto di Castro. Forty-five enemy planes were active in the battle area yesterday.

Returning fliers said two bridges on the west coast line west of Sarzana had been cut in the attack. Hits were scored on the station, warehouses and tracks and three trains were left burning at Viareggio

The big Japanese base at Wewak in New Guinea was hit again with 112 tons being dropped by American planes in a new attack following heavy raids over the weekend.

A Japanees communique, broadcast by Tokyo radio, claimed the Japanese shot down 52 of 320 Allied planes which raided the area around Wewak Saturday and Sunday. An Allied communique yesterday said the American airmen shot down 26 Japanese planes and probably six others at a loss of two planes.

The Japanese also said an American B-25 bomber raided Ponape island in the Marshalls yesterday but was intercepted and "heavily damaged.")

Registration On Rents Is Set

Registrations for rent control have been set tentatively to start Monday at 1415 Avenue Q, according to Earl W. Heath, OPA rent director here.

Owners of rental property are required to register this property as provided for in the Emergency Price Control act of 1942. The city of Lubbock has been divided into six zones. Landlords with property in Zone No 1 will register this property on Monday and Tuesday, March 20 and 21, in No. 2 the next two days, etc.

Zones Are Announced

Heath pointed out that a landlord who has property in more than one zone will register all of his property at one time.

The zoning of the city and the dates for registration is as follows:

Zone No. 1. (Monday and Tuesday, March 20 and 21) Avenue Q to College; Fourth street to Nineteenth street.

Zone No 2 (Wednesday and Thursday, March 22 and 23.) Avenue Q to College; Nineteenth street to Thirty-fourth street.

Zone No. 3 (Friday and Saturday, March 24 and 25.) College to Tyler Avenue; Nineteenth street to Thirty-fourth street.

Schedule Is Tentative

Zone No. 4. (Monday and Tuesday, March 27 and 28.) Avenue Q east to the limits; Nineteenth street south to the city limits.

Zone No. 5. (Wednesday and Thursday, March 29 and 30.) Bounded by Nineteenth street on the south, Avenue Q to Fourth street on the west, where it makes a jog to Avenue P on Fourth street, and takes in all the area north and east of those boundaries.

Zone No. 6. (Friday and Saturday, March 31 and April 1.) Avenue P west to the city limits; Fourth street north to the city limits.

The above schedule of dates for registration is tentative and subject to change, Heath said. The public is asked to watch the newspapers for any change in dates.

Slaton Registration Provided

The office will be open from 9 a. m., to 5 p. m., each day, he added.

He said that a place has been provided in Slaton for registrants in that community, but all property owners in other communities will register in the Lubbock office, and may register on any day. These landlords are advised, however, to register during the first days for registration.

Memorial To Irvin S. Cobb Planned

PADUCAH, Ky., March 14 — Friends of Irvin S. Cobb met here today and made tentative plans for solicitation of funds for a memorial to the late humorist.

The memorial probably will be a Cobb museum, housing furnishing from the Cobb homestead here, manuscripts of his stories and letters, and other mementoes of the Paducah writer.

Tests Set Wednesday For Youth Training

Approximately 150 students are expected to take qualifying tests for the Army specialized and Navy V-12 programs in Senior High school and Texas Technological college Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, according to Dr. H. L. Kent, Tech administrative assistant.

Dr. Lewis B. Cooper and Dr. Agnes True will supervise the tests at Tech and Miss Grace Padley at the high school.

Students between the ages of 17 to 19 inclusive, who are high school graduates or who will graduate on July 1, 1944, are eligible for the Navy test. Students between the ages of 17 and 21 inclusive are eligible for the Army test, Dr. Kent said. A leaflet of information which contains an admission identification form may be obtained at either of the schools.

The same examination will be taken by both Army and Navy candidates. It is designed to test aptitude and general knowledge. Candidates will be required to indicate on the day of the test their preference for the Army program or that of the Navy.

Texas-New Mexico And Oklahoma Coaches ARE WEAPONS OF VICTORY

Buses are doing their share of the job of winning this war . . . they are helping to keep all of America behind the war by maintaining efficient, time-saving transportation to and from every populated place in the nation.

Every Texas-New Mexico and Oklahoma Bus is a weapon of Victory and our only regret is that there aren't more to join the ranks . . . to carry all the additional thousands now turning to us for fast, economical travel.

Remember: Our buses can serve you better if you plan your trip on week days instead of over week ends.

You can help us do a better war job by carrying only one piece of luggage . . . extra pieces may take up seating space needed by men and women in uniform and other essential travelers. May we have your cooperation!

Dr. Mina Lamb, associate professor of foods and nutrition in the division of home economics at Texas Technological college, and Mrs. Neva Bavousett, instructor in foods and nutrition at Tech, will attend a food conservation conference at College Station Thursday and will participate on the general program. Mrs. Bavousett will speak on "Problems in the 1943 Food Preservation Program," and Dr. Lamb will talk on "Nutrition and Health Aspects of Food Preservation."

Six candidates will present themselves at 7:30 o'clock tonight for the Mark Master degree when Lubbock chapter 248 meets in the Masonic hall. At 6:30 o'clock Wednesday night, and again on Thursday night, Yellowhouse lodge 841, AF&AM, will meet and confer the Fellowcraft degree on six candidates. Lubbock council 183 will meet at 7:30 o'clock Friday night. There will be six candidates.

The war department announced Monday that Pvt. Sam T. King, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. King of Ralls, had been wounded in action in Italy. He was pilot of an armored tank, and had been overseas a year, when he was in action in the Sicilian and Italian mainland invasions.

The OPA made this announcement Monday: All stamps marked "8" in the ration book will be used first throughout the alphabet under the new system of token rationing, with all red and blue stamps worth 10 points each. The stamps will be torn out across the ration book, along the top of the page, rather than up and down, which was the system before token rationing began.

Two West Texans are missing in action, the War department announced Monday: Second Lt. Victor A. Brokman, son of Frank J. Brokman of Nazareth, and T/Sgt. Hubert H. Waldrop, son of Mrs. Fleda C. Waldrop of Canyon. They were in the Mediterranean and European areas, respectively.

Rev. K. C. Edmonds of Levelland, pastor of a community church near there, will preach Wednesday night in Parkview Baptist church, near Sanders school.

Police said this morning four tires, tubes and wheels were stolen Monday night from C. O. Pendley of Pendley Body and Fender shop, at 1103 Nineteenth street. A tire and wheel were reported stolen from Lt. Frances E. Burnett of 2223 Ninth street. House shoes and a house coat, valued at $35, were stolen from Mrs. Wanona Moen, officials said.

Two men, 44 and 48, were fined $50 and $100, respectively, this morning for drunkenness after they had been taken to city jail for investigation into theft of $3.90 worth of groceries from the truck of Olen Pinson of 216 Avenue F. The groceries and four ration books were recovered.

Sheriff Joe Price and his chief deputy, Monroe Telford, both of Brownfield, this morning removed W. C. Brown from Lubbock county jail and took him in custody to Terry county for arraignment on two indictment charges of murder. Brown recently admitted the hammer slaying Feb. 2 of two women at Brownfield.

Lt. Henry "Jack" Luccock, who is stationed at Camp Claiborne, La., is here on a ten-day furlough visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luccock of 1923 Main, and a sister, Mrs. George P. Livermore, 1713 Thirty-first street.

"Loaded for War," a technicolor sound film was shown at the weekly luncheon of the Lubbock Lions club today noon in the ballroom of the Hilton hotel. The film was furnished through the courtesy of the Santa Fe railroad. J. D. Jones, B. F. Slaughter and G. G. Speers, Santa Fe representatives, were present at the luncheon. R. H. Bean presided in the absence of Lion President Dr. Ewell Hunt.

Students and teachers in George R. Bean school bought $318.75 worth of bonds and $34.15 worth of stamps from members of the Bean Parent-Teacher association this morning, boosting totals since last September to $9,343.75 in bonds and $1,691.90 in stamps. Mrs. E. E. Sullivent, Mrs. Roy Wheeler and Mrs. Acie Cope conducted the sale.

Leo Parramore, young Lubbock man who has been in and out of jail numerous times for theft, this morning remained in Lubbock county jail in lieu of $1,000 bond set on a charge of theft of $9 worth of eggs from Ralph V. Robinson grocery. He was run down in a footrace Monday afternoon by Pete Alexander, constable of the Slide community.

A revival meeting, which started Sunday, at the Mid Way Baptist church, 20 miles east of Lubbock and ten miles north of Slaton, will continue for two weeks, Rev. Clarence West, pastor, has announced. M. M. Grigg is preaching in services at 10:30 a. m. and 8:30 p. m.

"The Bride of Christ Versus the Bride of Anti-Christ" will be the subject of a sermon by Rev. Ben D. Johnson at the Tabernacle Baptist church, Fifteenth street and Avenue N, Wednesday night.

"G.I." Education Bill Introduced

WASHINGTON, March 14 (U.P.)—Sen. Bennett C. Clark, D., Mo., today introduced for himself and 76 other senators the American Legion's omnibus "G.I. Joe Bill" to provide educational opportunities and post-war loans for honorably discharged servicemen and women.

Clark told the Senate that the bill was "a fundamental bill of rights for America's servicemen and women' and was "the least we can do at this time." It has the full endorsement of the Veterans of Foreign Wars as well as the Legion.

The bill is expected to win early passage in view of the overwhelming number of senators whose names are already on it.

Former NAA Employe To Prepare Brief

PARIS, March 14. (AP)—George A. Graham, serving a six-months federal sentence on a plea of guilty in a North American Aviation, Inc., Dallas, time-card case, has been granted five days in which to prepare and file a brief for a writ of habeas corpus.

The time extension was allowed yesterday by Judge R. L. Williams, Durant, Okla., of the U.S. circuit court of appeals and Graham was returned to the custody of a parole officer from the Texarkana correctional institution.

The defendant and nine other former NAA employes recently were sentenced by Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson at Dallas after they had pleaded guilty to charges of conspiracy to defraud the government through falsification of time cards.

Graham's habeas corpus application was based on the ground that if the conspiracy were committed, it was against NAA as a private corporation and not the government and that the case should have been tried in state court.

Two Persons Named In Four Indictments

LEVELLAND, March 14 (Special)—Four bills of indictment were returned Monday afternoon by a Hockley county grand jury that included for the first time a negro member, 72nd district court officials said. Two defendants were named.

Two indictments each were returned against W. E. Owens, of Tahoka, and J. L. O'Neal, of Seymour, alleging theft of grain from Hockley county farmers.

The jury adjourned to be recalled June 5, according to District Attorney Burton S. Burks. T. J. Woolam of Smyer is foreman.

Cases against Owens and O'Neal were set for trial March 27.

Owens is alleged to have taken grain from Hoyt Hammill, who lives northwest of Levelland, and G. C. Campbell, who at the time of the theft lived southwest of Levelland. O'Neal is charged with having taken grain from a Mr. Carruthers and Oliver Jones.

GAINES ELECTION SET

SEMINOLE, March 14 (Special)—Another election seeking to prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages in Gaines county has been called by the county commissioners court for April 8 in obedience to a petition signed by more than the required number of persons, according to County Judge Judson Roach. Beer and wine now are sold in the county.

Funeral Held Today For Southland Man

Funeral services were scheduled at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the South Side Church of Christ for J. S. Boyd, 77, a resident of Southland 27 years, who died Monday night in Lubbock General hospital. Ministers Guy N. Woods and Otis Gatewood of the Broadway Church of Christ, will officiate.

Mr. Boyd, who came to Lubbock five months ago and lived at 1517 Twenty-fifth street, was the father of S. O. Boyd, night chief of police. He was a retired farmer.

He is survived by his wife; three sons, S. O., H. D. of Fort Worth, A. D. of Lubbock; four daughters, Mrs. Tom Farrow, of Fort Worth, Mrs. Bill Dabbs, of Hobbs, N. M., Mrs. J. W. Calvert, of Lubbock, Mrs. H. W. Stotts, of Lubbock; one brother and three sisters.

Arrangements are in charge of Sanders Funeral home.

Thirty-Two Raiders Open Grid Practice

Tech Launches Spring Training

The Texas Tech Red Raiders opened the spring football camp Monday afternoon with 32 grid hopefuls answering the initial call from Coach Dell Morgan. The opening workout was light, but Coach Morgan promised more action before the week is over.

A week of track work for the gridmen closed Saturday afternoon and left the boys in good shape for the start of football, and should eliminate the usual crop of sore muscles that usually hit spring football camps in the early stages.

The Red Raiders are well loaded with talent for every position on the team but centers. Just what will be done about filling this important post in the line remains to be seen.

Monday afternoon, Coach Morgan had three lads working at center posts with indications that they may be shifted into the pivot positions. One of these was Calvo Boydsun, a guard with the Red Raiders last season. Boydstun is from Sanger.

A tackle and an end were also taking turns at working at center with a strong possibility that Floyd Lawhorn, big tackle from Temple, will make a strong bid for the center position. Ed Turner, an end from Plains, also looms as a likely candidate for the shift to center.

Indications were Monday afternoon that Coach Morgan might have a real find in a youngster from Cooper High school for one of the backfield posts. Don Johnson,son of Jess Johnson, former high school coach at Burkburnett, ad vocatioal agriculture teacher at Cooper last year, was showing lots of pep and fire in the first workout Monday.

Coach Morgan had the youngster running at fullback and he was looking like a good prospect.

Fourteen veterans from the 1943 Red Raider squad were out Monday, and ready to battle for positions.

Coach Morgan indicated Monday that he expected "about 14 or 15 more" boys to report to the Red Raiders in the fall, and how many of the present squad will be available then remains a question.

Several of the boys will become "draft age" before fall, but most of the new comers on the squad are 16 and 17 year olds and very likely will be available when football season opens.

Lt. Berl Huffman Is Named Track Coach At Keesler Field

Word was received in Lubbock Monday of the appointment of First Lt Berl Huffman as track coach at Keesler Field at Biloxi, Miss., where the former Texas Tech coach is stationed.

Huffman held a simillar position at Texas Tech as well as serving as basketball coach and backfield coach on the football squad. He is director of physical training at Keesler Field. He coached the 1943 Keesler Commando football team which lost only to the strong Arkansas A. & M. eleven.

Others named at the head of athletic teams were First Lt. Herman Rohrig, Lincoln, Neb., former University of Nebraska football and baseball star, as head baseball coach, and named First Lt. Carl Sears of Tulsa, Okla., as head coach of softball.

Sears has long been associated with sports in the Big Six, Southwest and Missouri Valley conferences.

Huffman started his coaching career at White Deer in 1930 after graduating from Trinity University. He came to Lubbock High School in 1931 where he remained until taking the job at Texas Tech in 1935. He played high school athletics at Grapevine, Texas.

Interest Mounts In Volleyball League

Much interest has developed in the torrid campaigns of the city schools' volley ball leagues, and interest this week will center on the meeting of the undefeated girls teams from the Hunt and Dupre schools. The date and site for the game have not been named, but the contest is carded for later this week.

Only the Central Ward boys have remained unbeaten in the boys division, but are closely pressed by the George R. Bean boys who have lost only one setback and staying close on the heels of the two leaders.

The Roscoe Wilson and K. Carter teams tangle Thursday afternoon at the Lubbock High school gym in the only game of the week in which the date and site has been set.

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

Another Attack On Mile Record Planned

HANOVER, N. H., March 14. (AP)—Harry Hillman, veteran track coach, was plotting another attack on the American mile record today after being assured by his Dartmouth college superiors that its famous over-sized board running track would be relaid.

Hillman plans to have Gil Dodds, the Boston divinity student who lowered the indoor mile record a tenth-second to 4:07.3 in New York last Saturday, go after Glenn Cunningham's unrecognized 4:04.4 indoor mark, made on Dartmouth's lightning-fast boards four years ago, here shortly after April 1.

LAAF League Nearing Final

498th And 84th Tied For Lead

The Lubbock Army Air Field Squadron League basketball race moved up to the final games with the 498th Squadron and 84th Squadron still in a deadheat for the top position and scheduled to play each other Thursday night in the final games.

The two teams hurdled their last obstacle Monday night by winning free scoring battles with strong opponents.

The 498th Squadron outscored the Finance Department cagers, 50 to 45, in the first game in a battle that proved to be a real thriller, and in doubt until the final minutes. In the second game, the 84th Squadron also came through with a close, high scoring victory over the 495th Squadron, 47 to 43.

In both games, it was the losers that provided the scoring leaders of the night.

Losers Pace Scoring

In the opener, McNelly and Reese of the Finance club accounted for 35 of their teams 45 points as McNelly poured 18 points through the hoop and Reese accounting for the other 17.

Norman Volz set the pace in the attack of the winners, getting 12 points while Taylor, his team mate, helped him along with 11 more.

The two teams thundered up to the halfway mark with the score knotted at 26 to 26, and the battle was close through the second half, but the winners put on a last minute spurt that put over the victory.

In the second game, Elrod set the scoring pace for the losers with 16 points while Grieser followed with 14 points while honors for the 84th cagers found Long and Riddel tied for first place with 12 points each.

The 84th Squadron bounded away to an early lead, and at the half was out in front by a 27 to 21 margin, but late in the game, the 495th lads began to close the gap, and with two minutes to play the winner's lead was cut to 44 to 43. But in this time, Long sank a field goal and Riddel added a free pitch to ice away the game.

The Squadron League race will close Thursday with the two winners of Monday's games playing each other. They are tied for the top, each with one loss, this coming in a split of the two games played with each other. The 84th Squadron won the first half, and a win Thursday would mean the clear claim to the title. A victory for the 498th Squadron would give it the last half, and send the two teams into a playoff for the championship.

BUDDY SCOTT WINS

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 14. (AP)—A Tampa, Fla., boxer, Buddy Scott, 188, last night won a ten-round referee's decision from J. D. Turner, 215, of Dallas. Both are claimants to the southern heavyweight title.

Walker Cooper, V. DiMaggio And Gee Walker Are Holdouts

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP) — Star Catcher Walker Cooper, of the St. Louis Cardinals; Vince DiMaggio, slugging outfielder of the Pittsburgh Pirates; and Gee Walker, outfielder of the Cincinnati Reds, are the latest additions to the 1944 ranks of baseball holdouts.

Generally front office men dislike the word holdout, but players unsigned at the start of spring training are regarded by the fans in that category. Warren Giles, general manager of the Reds, expressed the front office view it asserting "there are no holdouts (among the Reds). Some are just late in reporting."

Cooper, in company with First Sacker Johnny Hopp, discussed terms with President Sam Breadon of the Cards yesterday, but the two did not sign contracts. Breadon asserted afterwards "I don't expect any trouble. We didn't discuss terms seriously."

No Comment On DiMaggio

No comment was forthcoming from the Pirates on DiMaggio except that the hardhitting outfielder was unsigned. Walker, however, announced in Orlando, Fla. he wants more money from the Reds.

That puts Walker in the company of such other stars as Shortstop Billy Jurges, of the New York Giants; Ron Northey, outfielder of the Philadelphia Phillies; Outfielder Luis Olmo, of the Brooklyn Dodgers; and Pitcher Luke Hamlin, of the Philadelphia Athletics, all of whom have asserted they want a salary hike.

Then there's Pitcher Bobo Newsom, traded to the A's by Washington, who has announced he is satisfied with Connie Mack's terms, but for some unexplained reason has not yet put his "John Hancock" on a contract.

Other diamond developments yesterday included:

Atlantic City — Yanks bought Catcher Joe Glenn from Kansas City, but learned Pitcher Marvin Breuer has decided to remain in his war plant job.

Bloomington, Ind. — Eleven players missing as Reds worked out.

rates informed Pitcher Jim Hooper rates informed Pitcher Jim opper was inducted into Army at Charlotte, N. C. Pitcher Wally Hebert and Catcher Hank Camelli detained by winter jobs and will arrive at camp late.

French Lick, Ind. — Manager Jimmy Wilson, of Cubs, delighted that playing field in excellent condition.

Oldster To Try Out

Evansville, Ind. — Detroit Tigers announced Elon "Chief" Hogsett, who pitched for them decade ago, will try out for pitching berth. The chief, a southpaw, was with Minneapolis recently. Pitcher Roy Henshaw sent word he intends to remain at his Chicago war job.

Lafayette, Ind. — Outfielder Roy Cullenbine signed Cleveland contract, the 21st Indian to sign.

Chicago — Infielder Grey Clarke, up from Milwaukee, and Bob Mistele, pitcher from St. Paul, signed White Sox contracts and will report at French Lick camp Thursday. Outfielder Myril Hoag also signed bringing total satisfied players up to 29.

Lakewood, N. J. — Manager Mel Ott announced he has been reclassified 1-A. Thirteen players still unsigned, including Jurges.

College Park, Md. — Washington Senators took it easy in first workout. Pitcher Alex Carrasquel reported from Venezuela and brought along a countryman, Pitcher Juan Hernandez.

Boston — Veteran Pitcher Jim Tobin signed with Braves and will report to Wallingford, Conn., camp soon.

Sewell Plans New Pitch

Companion To "Blooper" Due

PITTSBURGH, March 14 (U.P.)—National league batters, barely recovered from the harrowing experience of trying to hit Truett (Rip) Sewell's famous "blooper pitch," were given the sad news today that they can expect no improvement in their lot this season.

In fact, to coin a phrase, the situation probably will get worse before it gets better, for the Ol' Ripper is working on a companion pitch to the blooper, a sky-high slow ball known also as the "nothing ball," the "butter ball" and, to opposing batters, as something akin to a nightmare.

Highly Secretive

Sewell has attached the tentative label, "Strawberry Picker," to his new creation, and is highly secretive about it. The only thing the Pittsburgh Pirate right-hander would say was that he got the idea while picking strawberries on his Plant City, Fla., farm.

It's still in the experimental stage, Sewell said, but he hopes to use it as a change of pace from the blooper, which helped him to win 21 while losing only nine games last year. His record won him the Dapper Dan club award as the outstanding Pittsburgh athlete of 1943.

"Sorry I can't go into detail on this strawberry picker pitch," Sewell said in his soft drawl. "I'm working on it, though, and if everything goes along okay, it might develop into a good thing. If it works out all right, I might try to find a more suitable name for it."

Golf Greats Ignore North-South Tourney

PINEHURST, N. C., March 14 (AP)—The historic North and South Open, a golf fixture since 1903, will get under way here for its 42nd renewal today, but indications were that many of the nation's top-flight performers would give it the go by.

Among the members of the winter caravan who have said they did not plan to play in the tourney, which this year was not given the official sanction of the Professional Golfers association, are Harold (Jug) McSpaden, leading money winner of the circuit, and Byron Nelson.

Don Budge To Play John Kramer Tonight

NEW YORK, March 14. (AP) — Lt. Don Budge and Coast Guard Cadet John Kramer meet tonight in the feature match of a tennis program at Madison Square Garden with all proceeds going to the Red Cross. Francisco Segura and Sidney Wood clash in another singles match.

The Japs made our fighting men see red at Pearl Harbor. Now our fighting men are making the Japs see Red, White and Blue all over the Pacific!

SEVERAL times in the past, The Plainsman has commented upon letters received from soldiers stationed here — letters which set out reasons why some of the uniformed gentry do not like Lubbock.

Now it is our happy privilege to turn the tables and report from five young men — all formerly at LAAF — who wish to thunder they were back here.

K. L. Riggs tells us that the five young men gathered around a table at a Dodge City, Kans., officers club not long ago and agreed that Lubbock is a darn good place to soldier. All of them served at other posts after leaving here and before being brought together again at the Kansas station. They are Capts. Duerson H. Barnes, Arthur W. Patton, William P. Sullivan, Cooper F. Hawthorne and Victor H. Woodrick. Since the Dodge City roundtable discussion Patton and Hawthorne have gone overseas. All are flying officers except Captain Patton, who is a chaplain. He is now in England.

The boys agreed that the only serious criticism they had to make of soldiering in Lubbock was that they had trouble getting anything decent to drink at prices under the size of the national debt. But they also agreed that they'd rather be dry in Lubbock than serve at any other station they've heard of within the continental limits of the U. S. A.

The honeymoon is over when he starts correcting her age by five years!

FORTY years, or so, ago, when the first professional baseball catcher appeared in mask, breast and shin protectors he was almost hooted out of the ball park. He was called a "sissy"—and worse.

Yet despite the derision of the throng, the guy had something and other catchers copied him. Today, not a catcher with an ounce of brain would think of getting behind the bat without protection. Not even a Bill Dickey in his prime would argue against mask, breast and chin protectors because wearing them is smart.

A catcher can play longer and more often due to the protection he now has. Perhaps he plays better, too, realizing that he is not so likely to be hurt as he would be if he were unprotected.

Many a pilot reading these lines will hoot at the suggestion that the men who fly our combat planes might well take a tip from the catcher who first adopted protection. Yet, there is good reason for believing that a mask would save warplane pilots much pain if worn under certain conditions.

Recently, in Collier's magazine, an Army dental surgeon wrote a letter urging just such an innovation. No theorist, this surgeon has been doing a lot of work lately on men injured in air crashes and he says 85 per cent of the crash cases he's seen have entailed injuries from the neck up. Furthermore, he thinks many of such injuries, and resultant facial disfigurement could and should be prevented.

"I maintain," he writes, "that these things are avoidable. There are ways of preventing them. A light facial mask would serve quite well. A very light protection could be designed which would pull a man through a crash with little more than a couple of black eyes, instead of with no face. It would not be necessary for pilots to wear the masks all the time they're in the air. Most crashes are preceded by some warning, giving ample time in which to put on some kind of protective headgear."

The Plainsman doesn't know anything about flying an airplane, mending damage to people's faces, or manufacturing light masks, such as suggested by the Army dental surgeon.

But to him the idea, on the surface at least, has definite merit.

Army regulations being what they are, probably nothing can or will be done in the way of experimentation until someone "topside" wakes up to the possibilities involved.

But if and when masks for pilots are tried out, we, for one, expect them to be used. It costs a lot of time, money and effort to train an airplane pilot. Why unnecessarily risk bunging him up simply because "it's never been done before?"

The week's best simile:

As democratic as a crap game.

IN recent days, three readers of Avalanche-Journal papers have written to the editor on the subject of the Sabbath, or Lord's day. One reader wondered why the Bible's edict, setting forth the seventh day of the week as the Lord's Day, has not been followed. Two others wrote offering an answer.

It occurs to us that it isn't particularly important whether the Lord's Day is observed on the last day of the week, the first day — or any certain day.

The main thing is for people to join together in observing one day as the Lord's Day — and observing it well.

Not being a stickler for religious form; for denominational theory or custom, The Plainsman can't imagine Divine Providence being particularly wedded to any particular day of the week — first, last, or middle.

Can you?

OCCASIONALLY to every man there comes an experience which warms his heart and increases his sometimes waning belief in the goodness and the decency of human-kind. Such an experience came the other day to Briggs Robertson, sr., secretary of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce.

A few weeks ago Mr. Robertson received word that his son, Briggs, jr., was missing in action in the South Pacific. The younger Robertson, a lieutenant piloting a Navy fighter plane, had failed to return from a mission. He still is unheard from, although he has not definitely been listed as killed in action.

Just the other day — more than a month after the 21-year-old Lieutenant Robertson disappeared — his father received a post-office money order in the sum of $90. With it, from the South Pacific fighting front, came this letter from an officer who had been stationed with the missing lieutenant:

"I borrowed this money from Robby and this is the first time I have had this much in one lump since I borrowed it.

"It has been on my conscience ever since, so I am rushing it off to you at the first opportunity.

"Please accept my sympathy for your great loss. We all loved your son and I assure you you can be proud of him and the way he went. Knowing him as well as you must have, I'm sure you'll agree that if he had to go he would rather have gone the way he did than any other way.

"We all miss him and while it is hard to assess any one individual's efforts in any big undertaking, he definitely did more than his share in helping to bring this whole mess to a quicker end.

"Sincerely,

"David S. Gamble, jr."

Briggs Robertson, sr., had no idea young Gamble, also a Navy flier, owed his son money. He'd never heard of Gamble; knows nothing about him, where he is from, or who his parents are.

But the Slaton chamber of commerce man is writing the Navy department to find out all about the young man and is writing Gamble a letter of thanks.

Meanwhile, he has taken the $90, added to it and purchased two $100 War bonds.

DEATH STRIKES AGAIN

When Adrianne came upstairs again I could see that she'd been crying, but passing the door, she looked in and I thought she seemed relieved. She beckoned to Mary Ann and they went into the apartment together.

I tried to take a nap. The short rations and lack of sleep hadn't improved my looks. I don't stand up very well under excitement. There were dark shadows under my eyes and I looked pretty drawn around the mouth. With Mr. Whitefield and Louise Lathrop both in the hospital and Norton guarding the house, I felt as though there was nothing to fear —at least, for the present.

I was mistaken.

For about half an hour I dozed and then sat up quickly, wakened by a noise. It seemed to come from Richard's apartment overhead. There were footsteps somewhere upstairs and then a heavy thud as thought something or someone had fallen. My breath was coming in quick, short gasps.

I slipped into my frock and opened the door to the hall. The house was quiet except for the murmur of voices from the front apartment. Evidently they'd heard nothing. So perhaps I'd imagined the sounds. Nevertheless I decided to go upstairs and investigate.

All of the doors were closed on the third floor and the hall was dark and shadowy. I tried the door to Richard's apartment, but it was locked, and I pressed my ear to the keyhole, but couldn't hear anyone inside.

The artist's apartment was unlocked, but after a hasty search I could see nothing out of the way except that his water colors were the toy store variety for children, and his heavy blue overcoat was there, thrown over a chair.

That left only Mrs. Evans' apartment up in the attic. I went up the short flight of stairs and knocked at the door lightly, thinking she might be in, but there was no answer. Then I thought I heard James whine. I tried the door. It was unlocked. I pushed it open a couple of inches and peered cautiously in the room. The blinds were drawn and the light was so dim it was difficult to see.

Evidently Mrs. Evans was out working, so I thought it would be all right to investigate a little further. I tried to push the door open, but it stuck. I pushed a little harder, then forced myself into the room to see what kept it from opening.

James was lying in the middle of the room. He whined when I came in and tried to get to his feet, but sank back on the floor with a whimper.

And then I looked behind the door. On the floor I saw a figure, a body with arms thrown out, sprawled there lifelessly.

It was Mrs. Evans.

Screams

I must have screamed. Yet the sounds that I heard seemed to come from far off, from another person. I clutched at the door, I know, and tried to get out of the room.

And then I must have screamed again, because I heard footsteps, then Dirck telling me that it was all right, and, taking me by the arm, he led me into the hall.

Going down the stairway I was dimly conscious that Adrianne and Mary Ann were standing in the hall. Then Norton rushed up the stairway with Mr. Kimball and Ishi. But their faces made no definite impression. It seemed like a dream.

I stumbled into my room and Dirck made me lie down while he ran down to the shop for Mr. Kimball's brandy. And after I drank it, he called Mary Ann to sit with me while he went upstairs.

We didn't even talk while he was gone, and by the time he got back I was sitting up and feeling more like myself. But Dirck was very much upset. He closed the door and stood there, leaning against it.

"Mrs. Evans wasn't murdered," he said. "They think it was a heart attack."

I swallowed. "She's dead, though?"

He nodded. "Chris," he said, his voice quiet, yet terribly convincing, "I know who caused it, but I can't pin it on the person without proof. She wasn't murdered, but someone hit James. He must have been knocked unconscious. If only . . ." He jerked his head up. Then without another word he rushed out of the room and down the stairs, leaving Mary Ann and me gasping at each other.

"Adrianne's clear of this," she said unexpectedly.

"Why, what happened?"

And then she told me about Whitefield. He was still in the hospital and he was under arrest and so far they couldn't pin the murders on him. But he was a fence for stolen pictures.

"What did Adrianne have to do with it?" I asked.

"He was paying her to stay in his apartment evenings to answer his telephone and pretend that he was there or had just stepped out or something like that. The night Joan was murdered he was out and Adrianne was up there alone. He gave her money to keep quiet about it so the police wouldn't get on to this picture business. He carried on all of it over at the other apartment."

Then Dirck rushed in very much excited. "It wasn't suicide," he said. He sat down on the stool by the fireplace.

"Which wasn't?" I asked, a little tried.

"Richard."

Mary Ann stood up slowly. "How do you know that?"

"The autopsy. There's a contusion on the side of his head that didn't come from falling out of the window. It came from a blow, a blunt instrument."

Then he leaped off the stool. "Sit tight," he called. "I'll be back."

I had no intention of ever getting up again. The last shock seemed to have left my legs permanently weakened.

We could hear him run upstairs, and this time he went to Richard's apartment. The Sergeant, I thought, must have given him keys to all of the apartments.

Dirck didn't come back for almost an hour. We waited. It was pretty awful. Mary Ann and I gave up any pretense at conversation. We just sat there and smoked one cigarette after another. And I tried to figure out just what connection she'd had with Joan and Richard.

Then finally Dirck came back in again. "I believe I've found that blunt instrument," he said as he sank into a chair. "Richard had a pair of heavy brass candlesticks. One is marked with his own and Sarah's fingerprints, but the other has been wiped clean. The Sergeant let Norton help me. I think it's pretty important."

'Dangerous Game'

Mary Ann's face was white. "Is that what killed him?" she whispered.

Dirck nodded. "They are pretty sure it did. The rest of it was just a cover."

I bit my lip. "Then he was—he was thrown out of the window?"

"Yes," Dirck said quietly, his blue eyes on mine reassuringly. "And the same person who did

THE FIGURES OFFER HOPE

Although the report cannot bring solace to many thousands of people for reasons that all understand, it still may be re-assuring to many others to consider that American casualties in this war have been far smaller than in the 1917-18 conflict.

During the approximately 19½ months of World War 1, 51,381 Americans either were killed in action or died of wounds. The wounded numbered 182,674. The grand total of casualties was 234,055.

According to official reports issued the other day, all American casualties during the first 27 months of this war totaled 162,282. Of these, 31,636 are prisoners of war and 35,565 have been reported "missing in action." Many, and probably most, of these will come back to us some day.

The dead during the 27 months numbered 37,853 and the wounded 57,128, a total of 94,981—a terrifying figure to contemplate. But it is far less terrifying than the figure on World War 1 casualties.

Unhappily, these figures can't mean that multitudes of people will be spared a grief for which there are no words.

But to many people they offer the reassuring thought that the chances for the fighting man in this war to escape unscathed, or to recover if he is wounded, seem much better than were those of the men who came under fire in the 1917-18 struggle.

By ERNIE PYLE
Journal War Correspondent

IN ITALY, March 14. (By Wireless)—A junior and miniature edition of W. C. Fields is what Sgt. Gilford Muncy is. You should hear his story of the night he fell into the abandoned gun pit and couldn't get out because he couldn't think where he was.

ERNIE PYLE

Muncy can't be much over 5 feet, and he is sort of pudgy and has very narrow shoulders, and his face has a wise, devilish, old look like one of the Seven Dwarfs.

Muncy is 29. He comes from Hyden, Ky., up in the hills, and he wouldn't mind at all if you called him a hillbilly. In fact, he sort of trades on it. He talks just like the mountaineers in the cartoons. I think it sort of hurts his pride that he can't claim to have been a moonshiner.

Everybody laughs at Muncy and with him, and everybody thinks he's great. He likes people, and is uncommonly generous and kind. It's a poor day when he doesn't survive at least one escapade that is slightly out of this world.

Tent Is Museum Piece

The gunners' tent which Muncy dominates is a sight to behold. It is often the scene of rioting and devilry. It is probably the most tired-out tent in Italy.

The top is full of holes. That's caused by their gasoline stove blowing up frequently. One wall has big adhesive patches on it. That's where a happy guest tried to carve his initials in the canvas. The back wall bears the marks of a nervous visitor who went right through it one night during an air raid.

The two outstanding features of Muncy's tent are the late evening meals cooked there and the fabulous stove, which has been known to blow up seven times in one day. Once it exploded just as a guest entered, and blew him clear out into the grapevines.

THE other boys had told me all about Muncy's stove, so one morning just as he was starting on a mission (he's an aerial gunner) I introduced myself, and said I'd like to drop past that evening and see his stove blow up. Muncy said:

"We'd sure like to have you, but the stove's liable to get contrary and not blow up tonight. Lots of times when we have company it don't blow up at all."

So I went over that night. The tent has a dirt floor which is swept out whenever they figure inspection is about due.

Muncy once had a fastidious streak in him, and decided to levy a 50-cent fine on anybody who threw anything on the floor, such as cigaret butts, apple cores, walnut shells, etc. Before the first evening was over he had fined himself $11.50.

Special: Soap Soup!

They have great feasts in the Muncy tent. Fried chicken is their special dish. They buy chickens from the village at $5 per chicken. "I represent $300 worth of chickens cooked on that old stove there," Muncy said.

One night Sgt. Jack Bohn of Scranton, Pa., made chicken soup while Muncy did the rest. All the guests, who weren't tasting very well anyhow, thought the soup was wonderful. But Jack couldn't quite get it down. Eventually he discovered the reason—he had put half a cake of GI soap in it, thinking it was butter!

NOW and then they have steak. One night Muncy was in bed when one of his soldier friends came in from town feeling fine. He had with him three or four big steaks.

"Where's your sledgehammer?" the friend asked.

"Over there in that pile of stuff, I reckon," Muncy said, and went back to sleep.

Pretty soon he was awakened and here was this guy with all the steaks lying on the dirt floor, and just beating hell out of them with an eight-pound sledge. Then he threw them in the skillet, and Muncy had to get up and help share the feast.

"I've still got rocks and mud in my teeth," Muncy says.

Italians Are "Gooks"

To Muncy and his tentmates all Italians are "gooks." They don't remember how they started that. It's not a term of contempt at all, for Muncy loves them and they love him.

"I don't care where I go to, people like me," Muncy says. "Why, when we moved from our last place all them gooks around there cried when I left."

He dressed up and played Santa for them at Christmas, and he is always giving them stuff.

WE sat and talked and laughed until almost lights-out, and finally I said, "Well, if the stove isn't going to blow up, I guess I have to go."

So Muncy jumped up and said, "Wait a minute." He turned off the gasoline, let the fire in the tin-bellied stove die out and cool, then turned the gas on again. They let it sit that way a little while, and all the rest got behind boxes and things, and Sergeant Bohn got off as far as he could and threw a lighted match at the stove door.

But as Muncy had feared, the stove was contrary and wouldn't blow up that night. They were all very humiliated.

Feed
PIG RATION

Today, more than ever before, it is extremely important to speed up growth and keep mortality down in young pigs. Feed is too precious to waste on the laggards and pork is too valuable to lose before it goes to market. Stanion's 20% pig ration provides extra protection against both. In hundreds of hog lots, it has consistently improved pig health, speeded up growth and reduced mortality because it gives little pigs the same kind of boost that chick starter gives to baby chicks. It is being fed widely to sows before farrowing and—preferably in "creeps" as illustrated—to pigs from 2-3 weeks of age on up.

ManAmar

In Stanton's 20% Pig Ration supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials—fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex," supplied by patented "B-O Plus."

ManAmar and B-O Plus have been developed and are produced in the laboratories of Philip R. Park, famed livestock nutrition authority. These laboratories have approved the formula for Stanton's 20% Pig Ration. Let the records of users tell the rest of the story. Get all the facts today.

Nazi 'Dunkirk' Seen In Russia

captured Kherson and Malinovsky flanking Nikolaev in his onslaught from the northeast.

Both these forces likely were within 75 miles of Odessa today —and unchecked.

Nearing Rumanian Border

To the north, the Red army was perched within 50 miles of the Rumanian border at three points following advances which, a Soviet communique said, swept up 320 more towns in 24 hours.

On the basis of Moscow announcements, 350,000 Germans have been killed and 40,000 captured since the inception of the Red army winter offensives.

Pushing the Germans toward the Black sea coast, Soviet forces under Malinovsky were officially credited yesterday with taking Galganovka on the Ingulets river, 35 miles east of the important Black sea port of Nikolaev, which is 35 miles northwest of Kherson.

Additional Red army units were last reported only 28 miles north of Nikolaev.

Moscow said the Germans fled "in panic" into Kherson, and that when the Red army broke into the city it slaughtered those Nazis who tried to make a stand. Malinovsky's troops alone were said to have killed 20,000 and captured 2,500 Nazis in a week.

The Russians were menacing the entrances into Rumania at newly-taken Skalat, 20 miles southeast of Tarnopol in old Poland; south of the rail junction of Proskurov, in the West Ukraine; and, about 125 miles further south, at Caivoron on the banks of the Bug river.

Moscow failed to mention the course of the street fighting in Tarnopol, where the Germans have maintained a bitter fight for five days.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

CUSTOMERS CASH PROFITS
NEW YORK, March 14 (AP) — Customers today cashed some of their profits on the recent stock market bulge and, while there were scattered spots of resistance, leaders retreated fractions to a point or more.

Prices began to slip after a relatively steady opening. Dealings, fast in the morning, turned sluggish at intervals in the final three hours although transfers for the full proceedings ran to around 1,000,000 shares. While near-closing declines were widespread, a handful of new 1944 highs was in evidence.

Behind most of the time were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, Goodrich, International Harvester, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Westinghouse, Dupont, Schenley, Hiram Walker, Allied Chemical and United Aircraft. Peaks for 1944 were recorded for Philco Radio and North American among others. Ahead now and then were Texas Co., Consolidated Edison, Woolworth and Anaconda.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT
NEW ORLEANS, March 14 (AP) — Cotton futures declined here today under long realizing and new selling based on peace talk. Closing prices were steady 25 to 75 cents a bale lower.

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, March 14 (AP) — Cotton reacted as much as 85 cents a bale today on hedge selling and liquidation induced by favorable war developments and technical consideration following an almost uninterrupted rise of more than $3.00 a bale since the beginning of the month. Selling was absorbed principally through scaledown mill price fixing against textile contracts.

Futures closed 10 to 65 cents a bale lower.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, March 14 (AP) — Grain futures prices drifted lower today in quiet trade as operators tended to ignore all news of bullish character. Scattered sales helped to weaken the market but the chief factor appeared to be lack of interest on the part of traders.

Closing at or near the day's low points, wheat finished ⅜ to ⅝ lower than the previous close. May $1.71⅛, July $1.68¾-⅞, rye showed losses of ⅛ to 1 cent, May $1.35⅝-⅞, oats were off ⅜ to ⅝, May 81¼, and barley was ½ to 1 cent lower, May $1.25½.

FORT WORTH REPORT
FORT WORTH, March 14 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard 1.71½-77.
Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo or No. 2 white kafir per 100 lbs. 2.40-47.
Oats, corn and barley at northern shipping point ceilings price plus freight.

Produce Market

KANSAS CITY REPORT
KANSAS CITY, March 14 (AP) — Produce: eggs specials 34-5; extras 32.5-33; standards 32; current receipts 31; quoted 1.1 to 3.7 under ceiling on graded and 2.1 under on current receipts. All other prices unchanged.

Expanding Fleet

"combed," the secretary said, for sea-going officers, capacities of naval reserve midshipmen's school has been opened and the November 1 graduating date of naval reserve corps classes in 27 colleges has been advanced.

To Continue Training Program

He added that the Navy plans to continue without change its program of training men in colleges under a program which he said has performed "a vital task" in producing prospective deck officers and specialists for the Navy.

"The Navy's need for officers, men and WAVES is more than a replacement need," he declared. "It is a continuing one that will be met only when the expansion of the fleet has been accomplished."

Skeleton Discovered; Foul Play Suspected

HOUSTON, March 14 (AP)—The skeleton of Eldredge Lonnie Hearn, 59, Goose Creek construction worker, was found in a clump of pine trees near here yesterday.

Sheriff's deputies are investigating the cause of his death. They said they had received no report of his disappearance.

Three boys found the remains near a bank of Goose Creek stream.

Sheriff's deputies George Scott and W. B. Milner established identification from a social security card and from a work card of the E. D. Badger & Sons, Baytown contractors. The Badger concern reported Hearn was dropped from the payroll Oct. 22 for continued absence.

The deputies and Justice R. R. Zierlein are investigating the cause of his death.

Justice Zierlein expressed the opinion that Hearn was the victim of foul play.

L. P. Luttrell, 80, father-in-law of the dead man, said Hearn had been missing since September.

Gas Ration Cut

ments concerning gasoline rationing, the term "Midwest" was used to include the midsouth states, where midwest regulations apply. This includes Texas.

OPA also announced new plans to crack down on the leakage of gasoline to the black market, which officials described as "now the biggest racket in the United States."

"In January," Bowles said, "when we should have been saving gasoline to cushion us against the accelerated demand to come, we used practically all that was allotted to us. In February and so far in March we have been using up even more than the quotas set by the Petroleum Administrator for War. In the next three months, spring planting and other seasonal needs will raise consumption sharply, probably as much as 18 or 20 per cent, judging from last year experience."

No Present Alternative

Bowles said "the situation must be faced quickly and honestly," adding: "There is no present alternative but to cut rations sufficiently to bring consumption within civilian quotas."

The "A" ration revision means that when "A-11" coupons become valid March 22 for all sections of the country except the Atlantic seaboard (now in a different series), they will have to last three months instead of two, the equivalent to two gallons a week for unrestricted family driving.

Along with the reduction, OPA will terminate the requirement that 60 miles a month of occupational mileage be taken out of the "A" ration before the motorist becomes eligible for a supplemental "B" or "C" ration.

May Ask "B" Coupons

Motorists in the middle-of-the-country states holding a "B" ration and meeting requirements on car pooling may apply to local rationing boards for coupons to make up gasoline lost through the cut in the "A" ration; they will be issued "B" coupons allowing up to 475 miles a month of driving, an adjustment in the "B" ceiling from 460 miles a month. This was necessary, OPA said, since "B" rations are issued each three months in coupons worth five gallons each and representing 75 miles of driving.

In holding East coast rations at present levels, Bowles said:

"The 'A' rations in the East have already been reduced to what seems a bare minimum for family needs, and 'B' and 'C' rations have been closely tailored by local boards."

County Nears Quota

o'clock tonight in Roosevelt High school. Chaplain Randall T. Miller of LAAF will speak and motion pictures will be shown.

Another rally is planned Friday night in Shallowater High school gymnasium, featuring a basketball game between the Shallowater women Independents and LAAF WACs. Mrs. D. R. Weber, Shallowater chairman, already has turned in $1,444.63 raised in that district, and announced that the drive committee is aiming for a total of $2,100.

SPAAF Exceeds Goal

Another report late Monday was that SPAAF has exceeded its $6,000 goal, with subscriptions totaling $6,167.78. Of this sum, $1,865 already had been reported.

From the beginning, officials in the drive have said that they did not expect the county to go over its quota by a large margin. They emphasized this morning, however, that no one should use the fact that the quota almost has been reached as an excuse for not doing a proportionate part in behalf of the war fund.

Texas Employers Luncheon Is Held

Policyholders of the Texas Employers Insurance association in the Lubbock district were guests at a luncheon given by the company today at the Hilton hotel. W. A. Black, manager of this district, was official host.

A. F. Allen of Dallas, president and general manager, presented the annual report to policyholders, which revealed the best year in the history of the association with earned premiums reaching an all-time high of $6,523,936, an increase of $602,098 over 1942. Assets were reported at $8,851,196, an increase of $1094,424. Surplus show at the end of the year amounted to $2,564,736, which combined with the contingent fund of $500,000 makes a surplus to policyholders of more than $3,000,000. During 1943, the association returned $1,649,558 to its policyholders in the form of dividends. Allen also revealed 42,800 accidents were reported to the association, an increase of 4.3 per cent over 1942.

Other officials attending the meeting were: E. E. Watts, vice president and treasurer; L. A. Guthrie, vice president and claims manager; and C. G. Weakley, vice president and sales manager, all of Dallas.

Claims and safety engineering services of the association are maintained on a state-wide basis through 19 district offices. The Lubbock district offices are in the Lubbock National Bank building.

the minds of American diplomats as they consider these problems:

1. The plea of Pope Pius XII that Rome be spared the destruction of military operations.

2. Demands by the United States that the Irish government expel Axis diplomats and agents accused of spying on Allied western front preparations now underway in North Ireland and elsewhere in the British Isles.

3. American requests that Spain cease giving aid to the Nazis by halting exports of strategic materials and by eliminating German spies from Tangiers, Spanish North African territory opposite Gibraltar.

4. Elimination from Argentina of pro-Axis elements, and restraints on Axis diplomats who still move through the country at will despite the fact that Argentina has broken diplomatic relations with Germany and Japan.

Maneuvers Underway In Middle East Area

JERUSALEM, March 14 (AP) — British forces in the Middle East are engaged in the largest maneuvers staged in the area since the war began.

Training in mountain warfare is being stressed in the maneuvers in the Jordan valley near the Palestine-Transjordan frontier.

In addition to British troops, thousands of Indian, Greek, Yugoslav and Arab troops are participating.

(The announcement follows official hints that action impends in the Balkan area. Prime Minister Churchill on Feb. 22 said it was Britain's intention to "back Marshal Tito of Yugoslav with all the strength we have.")

Burma Situation Is Reviewed By Writer

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst

"Suggest analysis of recent developments in Burma," wires a southern newspaper publisher who breathes the adventurous spirit of a Marco Polo.

This really is a continuation of our column's previous story of a road, or rather two roads — the Ledo and the Burma road, which was China's lifeline to the outside world before the Japanese overran Burma. When the invaders cut the latter road they left the Chinese end of it up in the air, so to speak.

As the result of that catastrophe American transport planes under our Lt. Gen. "Uncle Joe" Stilwell took over the job of supplying the hard-hit Chinese. Meanwhile American engineers drove a new highway northeastward through the Indian territory west of Burma to the town of Ledo which is just across the narrow northern tip of Burma from the severed end of the Burma road in Chinese territory.

Problem To Join Roads

Completion of the Ledo road was achieved some time ago and the problem then became how to join it to the Burma highway.

Six months ago Uncle Joe set his fighting jaw and made himself a new strategy for ousting the enemy from northern Burma. We are seeing the results of this plan now. Working from Ledo, Stilwell sent specially trained Chinese troops into the Hukwang valley and they pushed southward towards the Japanese base of Maingwan.

Simultaneously youthful Major General Frank Merrill, with seasoned jungle fighters fresh from the Pacific warfare, drove across mountains and through the terrible jungles, and came at the enemy in the Maingkwan region from the south. This created the trap which killed 2,000 Japanese and surrounded maybe 2,000.

Continue Smash Southward

American and Chinese forces are continuing to smash southward in the Hukwang valley. That word "smash" is a euphemism, by the way, for an Associated Press dispatch yesterday said they "advanced two miles in 24 hours." That's how hard the going is in this fever-ridden, snake-infested jungle country.

The objectives of these epic operations really are threefold. They are (1) To permit of the joining of the Ledo and Burma roads; (2) To create new Allied air bases, and (3) To keep the Japanese from crossing into the Chinese province of Yunnan and attacking Chiang from the rear.

Stilwell's campaign is a gallant effort, but we shouldn't expect miracles. Also we should remember that this is only spade-work for the final big drive.

that frightened Mrs. Evans to death."

Sometime during that night while we were sleeping the body of that boy had gone hurtling past my window. It seemed more than I could bear. There was no use being melodramatic about the things that had happened. I'd tried to avoid that, but now it seemed a little too much for me. With a shiver I buried my face in my hands, trying to get that horrible picture out of my mind. Somehow Richard's death seemed worse than Joan's. I suppose it was because we'd become fairly well acquainted with him.

Then Mary Ann gasped. "I'm so glad."

I looked up and Dirck was eyeing her strangely. "It was worrying you?"

She nodded. I hadn't the slightest idea what either of them were driving at.

Then Mary Ann got up and walked to the window. "I thought it was my fault. I thought he'd committeed suicide on account of me."

"Skip it," Dirck said in a hard voice. "You played a pretty dangerous game, but you have the Sergeant buffaloed and no one else knows about it. I'd keep out of his apartment, though. He hasn't anything valuable up there." He got up again. "I must see Mr. Kimball now."

Mary Ann followed him out of the room, leaving me, as usual, without the remotest idea of what was going on. I was very glad to be alone for awhile. I took a hot shower and dressed slowly, wondering all the while what would happen next. I had just finished dressing when a knock sounded at the door and Dirck rushed in again, still very much excited.

"In a few minutes everyone will come in here," he said.

I was annoyed. "Why doesn't the Sergeant rent a hall?"

"Steady there, Chris," he said. "This is important. You don't mind, really, do you? This room is the largest. I've asked all of the people in the house to meet here."

"I'm delighted," I snapped

But he paid no attention to me and left again, turning up about five minutes later followed by the entire household, or what remained of it. They came in like sheep, herding together uneasily. These inquisitions were getting tiresome. I didn't think I could stand up under another one. Dirck was the only one who seemed to have any energy left. He walked around, drawing up chairs, his eyes darting about the room.

Mary Ann and Adrianne seated themselves on the couch with James who had followed them in. He was whimpering dismally. When Sarah came in, she held him on her lap.

"Who's going to look after him now?" she asked in a loud whisper.

Everyone shivered and no one answered her.

Mr. Kimball took the large chair by the window, but he jumped up immediately when Tim Lathrop came in. He was looking a little better, though his head was still bandaged. It seemed too bad to drag the poor man in on Mrs. Evans' death. He took the chair by the window reluctantly and Mr. Kimball sat down on the stool by the fireplace.

Navy Recruits Have Tricks To Learn After Getting On Ship

WITH THE ATLANTIC FLEET, March 14 (AP) — On entering the Navy there are many tricks for a landlubber to learn if he wants to make life more comfortable and less dangerous.

Take the darkness when the ship is blacked out. Not a light outside and most of the inside is dark with the exception of a few dim red or blue lights that help very little.

Men going off watches and those relieving them move like cats. They have to climb ladders, walk around guns and stanchions, creep through narrow spaces. When it is rough the ship rolls and pitches. One slip and you might go over the side or fall several decks.

The Navy requires its recruits to get thoroughly acquainted with their new home. They learn to go over each part of the vessel blindfolded. The whereabouts of all escape scuttles (round, watertight exits) must be known in case the ship is torpedoed.

When climbing the metal ladders the men stamp their feet loudly to warn others of their approach. They are told not to get careless while wearing a helmet because it absorbs a bump. Some get used to this, then get bad bumps when unprotected.

Another trick when making your way in the dark is to keep your hands down. If you don't you might run into a shipmate and poke your fingers into his eyes or mouth.

OPA To Recommend Oil Subsidy Plan

WASHINGTON, March 14 (U.P.)—The Office of Price administration this week will recommend a $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 a year subsidy program to encourage continued production from "stripper" oil wells unable to operate under present ceiling prices, it was learned today.

Sumner Pike, OPA fuel price director, said the program, under study for two months, would be formally presented to Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson within a few days.

Under the program, present ceiling prices for oil would not be changed but operators of low-yield stripper wells would have their higher operating costs covered by receiving government premiums based on percentages of the present ceilings. Similar subsidies already are being paid producers of copper and other vital war materials.
