NYA SHOP TO OPERATE FOR 30 MORE DAYS

Special Defense Project Rating for Local War Work Center Gains Extension

Cheering news for City of Snyder and County of Scurry officials was contained Tuesday in an announcement that Snyder's National Youth Administration war work center, located just south of the city waterworks on 26th Street, would remain open another month.

The 30-day extension of operation for the town's NYA war work center followed on the heels of an announcement last week from state NYA headquarters to close the plant Tuesday. The extension provided welcome news to the 30 NYA enrollees employed at the center, and to John E. Spelce, foreman.

Four huge army trucks from Camp Barkeley, Abilene, arrived Tuesday and carried loads of furniture to the Barkeley Medical Replacement Center. Furniture included in the shipment is listed as follows: 15 desks, eight tables 3x6, 60 tables 18x28, 100 tables 16x24, a typewriter supply cabinet, 10 chart racks, five blackboards and stands, two mimeograph form filing cases 12 feet long, and other equipment.

Spelce states Snyder's NYA shop will be carried along through July as a special defense project, with hands employed on a full-time basis as previously. Further announcement concerning the town's war work headquarters is expected to be made by state NYA officials within the next two weeks.

Summer Revival Announced for Church of Christ

Call to worship for the people of Snyder and surrounding communities will be issued Sunday morning when the summer revival of the Snyder Church of Christ gets underway at 10:45 o'clock.

Bro. Raymond C. Kelcy, minister, announces Bro. Glenn L. Wallace, evangelist of Los Angeles, California, will conduct preaching services for the 10-day revival.

Bro. Wallace has just concluded a revival at Cleburne, in which over 30 additions were made to the church, and is noted as a forceful Bible scholar.

Bro. Cecil Wheeler, outstanding Church of Christ singer of Wichita Falls, will direct congregational singing for the revival. Wheeler is song director for one of the Wichita Falls congregations.

Elaborate plans are being made for the summer Church of Christ revival, according to Raymond C. Kelcy, minister, and great results are anticipated. Evening services will be held each evening in the open air—just east of the church on the spacious lawn.

Bro. Wallace states morning services will be held at 10:00 o'clock, and evening services at 9:00 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

The Los Angeles evangelist announces the following as some of the sermon subjects to be used during the meeting:

"America's First Line of Defense," "Get a Birth Certificate," "Strange Fires," "Stop, Look and Listen," "Conversion," "Why Men Are Not Baptized," "If Today Were the End of the World," and "Signs of the Times."

Bible School Closing Set Friday Evening

Two-week vacation Bible school underway at Snyder's First Presbyterian Church is scheduled to be concluded Friday evening, 8:30 o'clock, with a special program at the Presbyterian Church.

Concluding program will be offered by Presbyterian workers and those enrolled in the course of instruction. Attendance this week at the Bible school has been excellent, Rev. Hubert C. Travis, pastor, states.

The public is cordially invited to attend Friday evening's program.

Rodeo Officials Express Thanks For Cooperation

Officials and directors of the Scurry County Rodeo Association wish to express thanks this week through The Times, for the assistance given by various firms and individuals in making Scurry County's sixth annual rodeo Friday and Saturday outstanding in the annals of county rodeo history.

"We wish, especially," Scurry County Rodeo Association officers state, to give thanks to the following:

"Snyder's volunteer fire department for putting up and taking down flags and bunting for the rodeo, for furnishing assistance in various ways during the rodeo and for putting their new fire truck in the street parades Friday and Saturday.

"Snyder High School and the Will Layne American Legion Post for assistance; Frank Reeves Sr., Chuck Wagon, columnist for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and the Scurry County Times for excellent news coverage;

"Snyder business firms and merchants for closing Friday afternoon, 1:00 through 5:00 o'clock, for merchandise prizes and other help; neighboring towns like Post, Colorado City, Sweetwater, Big Spring and others for sending large goodwill delegations;

"The Scurry County Chamber of Commerce for invaluable help given during the rodeo; Snyder Boy Scouts, the Scurry County Red Cross, Odom Funeral Home for furnishing an ambulance at the rodeo grounds;

"The Manhattan Hotel, bookkeepers like Wayne Boren, Tony Holcomb, Merton Noel, Haskell Beard; and gatekeepers like N. W. Autry, Jim Cloud, O. D. McGlaun, Wince Pollard, Ed Stahl, Dwight Monroe, Vernie Merritt, Alfred Roggenstien, Tom Lee, A. C. Preuitt and Haskell Beard.

"We wish, also, to express thanks to Dwight Monroe and Marcel Josephson for the way they handled the street dance last Thursday evening and the public dance, Friday evening. Pick & Pay Store and Frazier Milling Company, of Hereford, millers of Sonny Boy flour, for furnishing sound equipment. F. L. Carter, Frazier's representative out of Hereford, assisted in a good performance.

"Naturally, rodeo association officials conclude, our thanks would be incomplete if we failed to mention the chute men, judges and timekeepers; cowboy and cowgirl contestants and all others who in any way helped the country's sixth annual rodeo over."

Eastern Section Of County Gets Rain Instalment

Although the county's rainfall total was not hoisted by the precipitation, the Midway, Camp Springs, Hermleigh and other east and southeast county communities received a two and one-half inch rain and local showers Tuesday afternoon.

The rain, which fell in sheet form, washed fields considerably, it is reported, but more than offset damage to late crops of cotton and feed. The Midway and Camp Springs sectors are reported in excellent condition as a result of this week's precipitation. The fall was not so heavy in and around Hermleigh.

Reports coming to The Times indicate that the Canyon community also received a good rain Tuesday afternoon, a rain that did much to revive growing crops and give cotton a new lease on life.

Record for Scouts In Distributing War News Wednesday

Snyder's trio of Boy Scout troops, Troops No. 35, 36 and 38, were mobilized Wednesday morning, 8:00 o'clock, at Snyder Insurance Agency office on the square's south side to distribute the first batch of government bulletins to Snyder residents—bulletins from the Office of Price Administration on wartime price control.

Delegations of Boy Scouts from the town's three troops were given 1,000 of the circulars, and under direction of Wayne Boren distributed the bulletins to all Snyder residences. According to Snyder district officials, the Boy Scouts set something of a record in handing out the bulletins, and may be called upon in the future to distribute other government releases.

Farm Reporters at Work

Attaches of the county AAA office reported Wednesday that farm compliance work in the county is progressing satisfactorily, and that 15 performance reporters are now at work. Some farms, due to unusually dry weather, will be checked later for 1942 farm compliance.

Buffalo Trail Council officials present at the court of honor included S. P. Gaskin of Sweetwater, executive; and Ben W. Newhouse of Big Spring, field executive for Snyder and adjacent districts.

H. L. Wren, chairman of the Snyder district, presided over court of honor proceedings, and announces advancement awards made to the following:

S. P. Gaskin, Buffalo Trail Council executive of Sweetwater, announced E. J. Bradbury's Troop No. 38 as winner of the 100 per cent boy's life banner, and after appropriate award to Troop No. 38 presented Troop No. 36 and 38 with Roundup awards.

Officials of Snyder's Boy Scout District described Monday evening's court of honor as outstanding, and report that troop activities in the district are progressing satisfactorily.

Nazarenes Plan Revival at City Tabernacle Here

Announcement made Tuesday by Snyder community leaders, reveals that Rev. Leo L. Lawrence, Nazarene minister of the Lamesa zone, will begin a three-week revival Sunday morning at the city tabernacle, located one block north of the square.

The Snyder revival will be sponsored by the Church of the Nazarene, Lamesa Zone, and is expected to attract a number of visitors from this trade area.

Assisting Rev. Lawrenc in conducting the triple week revival will be a number of special workers, including Rev. and Mrs. Doyle Wilson, Rev. Alvin Maule and others of the Lamesa zone.

Evening services have been announced to begin at 9:00 o'clock through the week days, and other announcement of services will be carried in The Times.

The revival is scheduled to continue through Sunday, July26, and invitation is extended to the general public to attend all services possible. "The straight gospel will be brought to people of this area, and all can profit by worshipping with us," Rev. Lawrence states.

Mt. Zion Residents Seek to Organize New Sunday School

Leaders of the Mt. Zion community announced Tuesday that the Mt. Zion church, located just south of Highway 15 east of Snyder, has been repaired and a union Sunday school will be organized Sunday.

Residents of the Mt. Zion and nearby communities are urged to attend organization ceremonies Sunday morning, and urged to be present for Sunday school at 11:00 o'clock.

"We believe the Mt. Zion community has definite need of a Sunday hour each Sabbath," a spokesman said Tuesday afternoon, "and that our entire community life can be enriched by regular weekly Sunday school periods. We urge the general public to participate with us in establishing this form of worship, and will welcome visitors any time."

Mt. Zion is included in the charge of Rev. S. A. Sifford, Hermleigh Methodist pastor, and is located 10 miles east of Snyder.

INDICTMENTS BY JURY SETS COURT GOING

Jenkins Case to County Court; Truett Simmons Trial Date To Be Announced

Opening this week of the June term of district court was climaxed by the grand jury returning one dismeanor indictment and two indictments Tuesday noon, according to Truett Barber, 32nd District attorney.

The case of Richard Jenkins, charged with assault on F. L. Thomas on a highway job east of Snyder April 28, resulted in an indictment for aggravated assault, and was ordered transferred to the county court — the court having jurisdiction to try such a case.

Windell Lee Hendrix, an 18-year-old youth indicted for chicken theft, plead gulty to the court immediately following the return of an indictment by the grand jury. Upon testimony of the complaining witness, Raymond Smith, that full restitution of the loss had been made, and that he recommended leniency for the youth, Hendrix was assesed a sentence of a year in the state penitentiary, suspended during good behavior.

A Mexican was indicted for the Eiland, but no arrest in the case had been made through Tuesday.

Case of the State of Texas vs. Truett Simmons, heretofore set for the first day of court June 29, was set back pending the appearance of a material witness of the state who is in the U. S. Army.

Furlough of the material witness heretofore granted for his appearance as a witness on the date set, was suddenly cancelled by the War Department due to the movement of his division to a new location. Court officials state they have been advised that the furlough will be re-granted when the division is on new location, and it is expected the case will be reset during the latter part of the term or at least at a special summer session.

Members of the grand jury, who were impanelled Monday for the July term of court, follow:

George J. Brumley, foreman; D. M. Pogue, J. E. Murphy, O. S. Wills, W. P. Sims, D. D. Smith, Eugene Kruse, Houston Cotton, Derwood Watson, Roy Coston, J. W. Stavely and Floyd Merket.

The grand jury was recessed Tuesday afternoon, and will reconvene Monday morning, July 13.

More Than 200 in Latest Registration

Scurry County's fifth draft registration was completed Tuesday afternoon at the city hall, and marked the signing up of Snyder and Scurry County youths 18 to 19 years of age, and those who have become 20 years of age since December 31, 1941.

Elmer Taylor was chief registrar for the Tuesday sign-up and was assisted by several workers in conducting the draftee registration.

While no count had been made through Wednesday, it was estimated approximately 210 county youths 18 to 19 and 20 years of age were registered.

Four Go to Abilene Sunday for Induction

Quartet of Scurry County registrants left Sunday afternoon, 2:55 o'clock, for Abilene for induction into the U. S. Army.

The draftees who left Sunday afternoon were:

Gerald C. Warton, order No. 10205; Oliver Henkell, 10192; George Conealious Cov, V10015; and Barney Rogers, order No. 10207.

It was understood this week Sunday's call constituted the last that will be made of Scurry County registrants until well into July.

Lead Revival

Bro. Glenn L. Wallace, evangelist of Los Angeles, California, will conduct preaching services for the two-week revival meeting at the Snyder Church of Christ. He has just concluded a revival at Cleburne in which over 30 additions were made to the church.

Cecil Wheeler, an outstanding song director in the Church of Christ, Wichita Falls, will be in charge of song services for the Church of Christ revival which starts here Sunday morning, 10:45 o'clock. Bro. Wheeler specialipes in congregational singing and has assisted with a number of revivals.

Congregation leaders extend the public a cordial invitation to hear the visiting minister, who is noted as a profound Bible scholar. Rev. Hubert C. Travis, host pastor, states ample seating arrangements have been provided for visitors.

135,000 Pounds of Rubber Collected

Scurry County's scrap rubber committee reported Wednesday that collection in the county through Tuesday totaled approximately 135,000 pounds, or 67 1-2 tons.

Success of the county-wide collection was virtually assured this week with extension of 10 days time from President Roosevelt in which to conclude the drive.

"I'm happy for the showing Scurry County is making in the nation-wide drive," Governor Coke R. Stevenson of Texas wires, "and hope Scurry County people will help during the next seven days to put the drive over the top."

SNYDER SETS JULY 4 STAGE WITH CLOSING

Friday Shoppers Urged to Purchase Needs for Week-end; Two-Day Closing Pledged

Snyder will lock shop Saturday and observe July 4, in the traditional American Independence way of life, a survey by the Scurry Chamber of Commerce disclosed Tuesday.

Snyder and Scurry County people are urged to remember Saturday's closing date and arrange their week-end shopping hours prior to Friday evening's closing.

"With the world at war," a spokesman for Snyder business men stated, "we feel July 4 deserves special observance this year, and ask that people do their week-end buying early so our Saturday closing will be 100 per cent effective."

"We the undersigned grocerymen of Snyder," a resolution given The Times reads; "agree to close our business houses on July 4 and 5 in celebration of Independence Day. Signed:

"Blackard Grocery Company, Beadel's Food Store, Rainbow Market Place, Browning Food Market, Piggly Wiggly, J. M. Newton Grocery, Dean Cochran Grocery, Pick and Pay Store, Hande Dande, and H. P. Brown and Son."

The city-wide closing of business firms Saturday will be in line with policies being adopted by a number of neighboring West Texas towns, and will allow store employees time for week-end picnics and visits with relatives.

Questionnaires To Farmers Due Says War Board

Scurry County farmers who have not yet filled out the questionnaires sent them sometime back by the county's U. S. Department of Agriculture War Board were urged Wednesday to complete the questionnaires at the earliest possible date.

The county war board has asked that a field man of the U. S. Employment Service be stationed in Scurry County this fall for the purpose of handling migratory labor, Edward S. Hyman, county agent and secretary of the board, states.

Information obtained from the questionnaires will carry considerable weight in determining the number of migratory laborers routed to Scurry County during the fall months for crop harvest work, Hyman states, and naturally complete data on the questionnaires will be of vital importance.

Due to war-time economy pinches, labor shortages will be felt this fall, it is predicted, in various sections of the country, and Scurry County farmers are asked to cooperate whole heartedly in order that this county may get a full quota of harvest hands.

Manhatton Hotel Is Given Remodeling

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Deakins, operators of the Manhattan Hotel, completed front-end improvements at the town's main hotel this week which add considerably to the appearance of the entire structure.

Building cornice of the hotel, located on the square's south side, was removed and will make room for plastering operations and placing of a new sign across the upper part of the building proper.

The old, wooden porch in front of the hostelry was removed several days ago and a panel type front completed. Improvement work gives the hotel interior considerably more light during daylight hours.

Air Corps Member Visits Turner Folks

Roy Ayres, member of the U. S. Air Corps at San Francisco, California, visited over the week-end in the Turner community with his uncle, J. M. Glass, and Mrs. Glass.

Ayres has been in the U. S. Air Corps the past 18 months and will go to Mather Field, near San Francisco, California, this week-end to take training as an aviation cadet. He holds a mechanic's specialist rating.

Two Hermleigh Men At 90th Division Fete

Victor Longbotham and W. H. Kimzey of Hermleigh returned Saturday night from Abilene, where they attended a reunion of the fighting 90th Division of World War 1 fame.

Lions and Ladies Eat Chicken, See Officers Seated

Approximately 45 Snyder Lions Club members and their ladies were attracted to Snyder School park Tuesday evening for a chicken fry and formal induction of club officers for the new club year. H. L. Wren, J. E. Blakey and Marcel Josephson prepared the delicious chicken supper, replete with trimmings and dessert.

Rev. Hubert C. Travis, First Presbyterian Church pastor, pronounced invocation for the occasion and H. L. Wren presided over formal installation of new Lions Club officials. These officers were installed: Lyle Deffebach, president; Wayne Boren, first vice president; R. C. Miller Jr., second vice president, was not inducted because of illness; J. E. Blakey, third vice president; Leighton Griffin, secretary; Roy Porter, treasurer; and Allen Beadel, tail twister. Willard Jones, Lion tamer, will be inducted later due to his being ill.

Vernon F. Shaw, E. L. Farr and L. A. Chapman were announced as the three new club directors and A. C. Bishop Jr. announced as holdover director. Rev. I. A. Smith, Methodist pastor, gave the benediction for the gathering.

$5 Auto Stamps Sale Falls Short In Post Offices

Sale of the new federal $5 motor vehicle car stamps stood at approximately the 2,000 mark at the Snyder post office late Tuesday—indicating sales under 400 from the first stamp sale campaign.

Attaches of the Snyder post office remind automobile and vehicle owners that the federal car stamps must be placed on vehicles in operation. Since sales fell about 400 under prior sales in February, indications are that about 200 cars have been put in storage and in excess of 100 sold.

Reports were not available from other county post offices, but it is believed total car tax stamp sales in the county fell under the 2,200 mark.

Chicken Fry Event Is Set for Firemen

N. W. Autry, fire chief, announced Wednesday that final plans are being made for the annual Snyder volunteer fire department chicken fry and get-together, which will be staged Tuesday evening, July 7, on the fire station lawn.

Fried chicken, pickles, coffee and all the trimmings which go with such a social gathering will be prepared by experts, Chief Autry declares.

The annual chicken fry, held only for members of the fire department, their families and City of Snyder officials, will be extended this year to include all members of the auxillary fire department.

Rev. Hubert C. Travis, chaplain and chairman of the program committee, states an interesting program is being arranged.

Boy Scouts Making Final Camp Plans

At least a duet of Snyder Boy Scout troops, Nos. 36 and 38, will send good-sized delegations of Scouts Tuesday, July 14, to the summer camp, Philmont, near Cimarron New Mexico.

E. L. Farr, chairman of camping activities for the Snyder district, H. L. Wren, chairman of the Snyder district, and Vance Clift of Hermleigh, Scoutmaster of Troop No. 37, will accompany the Scouts from the Snyder district to the Philmont camp.

The Boy Scouts of the Snyder district are scheduled to return from the camp July 22. The camp is on a 200-acre ranch donated to the Boy Scouts of America by Waite Phillips, Tulsa, Oklahoma, oil man.

Enjoy July 4!

Why not make this July 4 one of the safest celebrations you have ever enjoyed, Mr. and Mrs. Scurry Countians?

Simon Best, city marshal, and other officers urge that you exercise extreme dilligence in driving at moderate speeds, if you're going somewhere in a car, and that you make doubly sure all stoves are out and electrical appliances shut off before leaving your home.

Scurry County has rung up a remarkable record the past five years on observing, namely, July 4, and both city and county officers urge this the same record be diliged this week-end.

ROYAL AIR FORCE INVADES SNYDER FOR RODEO

Headed by Wing Comomander Frederick William Moxham, Squadron Leader Ralph Elwards and Flight Lieutenant J. A. Lewis, a group of 70 Royal Air Force students of Avenger Field, Sweetwater, "invaded" Snyder Friday evening to witness part of Scurry County's sixth annual rodeo.

The group of RAF fliers, who proved a major drawing card for Friday evening's rodeo performance, were accompanied by a delegation of Sweetwater business people, directed by Milo K. Roth and Al Jordan.

Here's the way the Sweetwater Reporter described the British flier's visit to Snyder:

"The British descended on Snyder Friday evening, took the town in their stride and came back to Sweetwater somewhat saddle weary but highly pleased with their first rodeo.

"It could happen here, even with the nation at war, but booted West Texans met their khaki clad English allies on common grounds for the first time during the war when flying cadets of Avenger Field were honor guests of the Scurry County Rodeo Association.

"It was a new experience for both groups.

"None of the cadets had seen a rodeo before, most of them had never ridden horses, and it was the first time Scurry County people young men who have come here as representatives of the British Empire to earn their wings.

"The flying cadets were met in East Snyder at 'Wimpy's Cafe by a huge delegation.

"Approximately 35 horses were brought up and, under encouragement and necessary instructions from the on lookers, the cadets boarded the horses, circled the square several times and went on to the rodeo grounds.

"One youth lost his sddle when his horse became skittish, and another's horse slipped down on the paving. Neither was injured badly, although the first cadet came home with a patch of adhesive tape across his nose.

"The crowd at the rodeo, surpassing even the most optimistic forecasts, was estimoted at between 3,000 and 4,000 persons.

"As a prelude to the rodeo proper a flag ceremony was staged at dusk representing each of the United Nations fighting Axis aggression. The flag bearers circled the rodeo arena for several minutes, showing their guests the type of showmanship which has become commonplace with rodeo devotees."

A brief, but happily concluded period of excitement ensued when one of the RAF boys, Duke Martin of Cickamauga, Georgia, lost his wallet with valuable papers and identification cards. Within five minutes after R. G. Dillard, rodeo announcer, called rodeo fan's attention to the loss, Mortin had his wallet and papers back—even to the picture of his best girl.

Members of the RAF delegation at Avenger Field came over here from such typical British towns as London, bombed Coventry, Manchester, Lancaster, province of Sussex and other English points.

The RAF boys expressed keen pleasure for the courtesies extended them by the Scurry County Rodeo Association and Scurry County people, but in the words of Duke Martin will "keep 'em flying until we get enough instructions on riding a horse . . . Until we do, we better stay up in aircraft where it's safe.

The West's Best Rodeo

Scurry County's annual rodeo season—one of the grandest occasions of the entire year—is at hand, and will be opened this (Thursday) evening with a gigantic street dance on the square's south side. Street parades will be staged both Friday and Saturday, and every effort will be made to make Scurry County's sixth annual boots and saddle roundup the "fastest and best in the West."

The Scurry County Rodeo Association has had the fight of its life on hand to make this year's rodeo possible, and you owe it to Snyder and Scurry County, as an appropriate gesture, to bring your friends and neighbors to the four rodeo performances to insure the rodeo continuing through the years ahead. We'll see you at the afternoon and night rodeo performances Friday and Saturday, and bank on you to bring a friend! The rodeo needs your presence and you need to see a good rodeo to relax those jangled nerves.

Clothes Rationing Next

Office of Price Administration officials indicated this week in Washington that a "point" system for rationing clothes is in the hopper for consideration, and probably will become a reality within the next six months. Exact time of the rationing, however, will be kept a secret in order that a rush of consumer buying will not be brought about.

We're for rationing of clothes, if it actually becomes necessary to winning the war, and believe the American people will be glad to make needed sacrifices. Goyrnment position on the matter is that American people, by turning the fashion cloth back a few notches, can make their present supply of clothing do several more months. If we didn't win the war, it wouldn't matter what kind of clothes we had—if any—anyway.

Vital War Transportation

In case you have tires in pretty good shape, and get out on the open road with the family bus and are suddenly halted by traffic cops to let vehicles transporting war materials by, thank the cop for his courtesy, rather than pout and declare the country's getting in a worse and worse shape. The country's highway network, its railroads and bus lines are being taxed to capacity to care for increasing business, so naturally many delays in time will be wrought by such "peak" volumes of business. Transportation is becoming one of the most vital problems we have in our war effort, so don't feel hurt if the government asks you to curb, later, unnecessary travel and let war and defense workers and materials have more tires and vehicles to "keep 'em rolling off the production line."

Editorial of the Week

FORWARD 167 YEARS

We have traveled 167 years since the Battle of Bunker Hill and its famed order, "don't shoot until you see the whites of their eyes."

Yesterday a House committee passed a bill to double the size of the United States fleet and pointedly left out battleships in favor of airplane carriers.

The eyes of the army and navy not only are airplanes, but they have become the first line offensive and defensive weapons of modern warfare. The battles of the Coral Sea, of Midway, of the Aleutians and now of the Mediterranean have been determined by the preponderance of airplanes.

There is no longer a chance to wait until you see the whites of the enemy's eyes. Warfare has changed and instead of the ghosts of the soldiers of the Revolutionary War carrying a message to Congress, it is the ghost of the late Billy Mitchell, whose recommendations belatedly are being adopted. Today we are determining definitely that the preponderance of air power will be the determining factor in this war and we are making more certain than ever that the United States is going to furnish that. Had we heeded Mitchell's recommendations, the current combat may have been determined already in quick victory for our side. —San Angelo Evening Standard.

It is difficult to weigh the probable effect of the new tire shoe a major rubber company plans to announce within the next few days made from non-strategic materials, and having a carpet-like texture. . . . State highway department engineers in the 48 states of the Union are watching announcemnets of this nature with considerable interest, since the nation's roadways could easily be damage by substitutes for rubber tires and "block shoes." . . . If you recall, announcement several weeks ago of wooden tire shoes for passenger cars had engineers up in the air until it was ascertained such innovation—if practical—would be too expensive to adopt on a major scale.

Farm machinery cropped up this week as a vitally important subject, in view of the fact the War Production Board is planning to concentrate machinery production in a few plants. . . . Farmers and ranchers will be urged, in the next few weeks, to refrain from buying new tractors, reapers and plows this year unless old equipment is completely past utilization.

The highest mean annual temperature recorded at any Texas station is 74 degrees Farenheit at Rio Grande City in Starr County. The minimum is approximately 54 degrees, as recorded at Dalhart in the upper Panhandle.

Current Comment

By LEON GUINN

Editor's Note—Expressions or opinions contained in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policies of The Times. Current Comment is merely carried as a feature column.

While considerable consolation and encouragement may be found in the United States-Russian agreements, we should remember that factually the United States and Great Britain have not yet definitely said they'd open a second front in Europe this year. . . . The United States may announce this week, as a result of the Winston-Churchill-Franklin Roosevelt conferences a date for opening a second front in Europe against the Germans, but a great deal still depends on these factors:

First, we must have a sufficient number of ships to transport troops and supplies, and we must work out some type of master plans for aerial raids to soften up Germany for a full-fledged invasion. . . . Opening of Europe's second front will be governed, to a large extent, by how long Russians can hold out against the Germans and last, but not least, when Britain and the U. S. could open aa second European front without having to divert fighting forces elsewhere on account of Axis successes. . . . We dare not, as a nation defending the American way of life, attempt a major invasion on foreign soil until we have sufficient guns, ammunition and equipment. . . . This lesson was learned with bitter reality during the defense of Bataan and Corregidor.

Say what one may, the Coral Sea-Midway victories for the United States have resulted in bitter recriminations between the U. S. Army and U. S. Navy. . . . Rivalry of long standing between the two has gotten to this kind of level: When the navy evidently overlooked giving the air corps due credit for its part in the engagement, army men began to talk of "the greatest naval victory in American history, with the navy taking after the Jap fleet in land based army planes." . . . General Arnold caused the major explosion of the whole verbal battle when he declared the army accounted for more Jap ships than the navy. . . . Going back over the record, truth of the matter is that navy opposition kept the army from establishing air bases at more than one key point.

Despite Congressional opposition, the Roosevelt administration is readying a fight to preserve the Civilian Conservation Corps. . . . During its lifetime, the CCC boys have done much work the U. S. Forest Service couldn't get around to, and snuffing out of the youth organization would greatly dislocate conservation work in heavily forested areas and shift heavy duties in fire fighting on an already overworked forest service staff. . . . Senate members conceded Friday that the bill to conserve the CCC had a better than even chance to pass.

Although British reverses in the Libyan desert and developments on the Russian Front are in the forefront this week, India is emerging, with its teeming millions, as a major headache among the United Nations. . . . The Cripps mission to India seems to have resulted in embittering India residents to the point they want both British and American troops ousted from their homeland. . . . Gandhi, who has always been erratic and unstable in leading India through economic channels, is egging his people on to clamor for removal of American and British troops—a move that would bring grave complications to the United States. . . . Uneasy, indeed, rests the fate of the unprepared Gandhi followers, who may find that guns and ammunition will write the peace to this war, and not personal desires for an abortive type of freedom.

According to the best information available from Washington this week, the country's draft situation will not be altered drastically, in the next few weeks, by plans for a second front in Europe. . . . Goal now seems to be for at least 4,500,000 American men in uniform by the end of 1942, and a probable army of 10,000,000 men in 1943. . . . Quite a bit of talk is going the rounds about the class of 18-19 registrants June 30, but from all indications this class will not be rushed into immediate service—until at least after the general election in November.

To show people of Scurry and adjacent counties just how near the success or failure of Russia will be to American draftees one can say, without fear of contradiction, that Russia will hold the key to the future of the American draft. . . . If the Soviets can hold their front lines, it may be unnecessary to draft very many family men in the United States before the early days of 1943. . . . If the Russians fail to hold the Nazis in check, all plans may be sharply reversed and family men in America drafted for immediate service.

Sly boasts of American war production figures are beginning to annoy Roosevelt administration attaches, since the United States has not yet gotten into stride on producing the needed tools of war to help defeat the Axis powers. . . . Our nation, as a whole, still is a long way from reaching an all-out production program, and will have to be prodded, War Production Board men say, to much greater efforts before we can say to the world we're doing all we can for victory. . . . The government, for example, is going to have to reach out this summer for critical and strategic minerals on a larger scale than the most optimistic predict, and until we get a sufficient volume of raw materials flowing to smelters and war plants we cannot have the all-out kind of production we want.

NYA SHOP TO OPERATE FOR 30 MORE DAYS

Special Defense Project Rating for Local War Work Center Gains Extension

Cheering news for City of Snyder and County of Scurry officials was contained Tuesday in an announcement that Snyder's National Youth Administration war work center, located just south of the city waterworks on 26th Street, would remain open another month.

The 30-day extension of operation for the town's NYA war work center followed on the heels of an announcement last week from state NYA headquarters to close the plant Tuesday. The extension provided welcome news to the 30 NYA enrollees employed at the center, and to John E. Spelce, foreman.

Four huge army trucks from Camp Barkeley, Abilene, arrived Tuesday and carried loads of furniture to the Barkeley Medical Replacement Center. Furniture included in the shipment is listed as follows: 15 desks, eight tables 3x6, 60 tables 18x28, 100 tables 16x24, a typewriter supply cabinet, 10 chart racks, five blackboards and stands, two mimeograph form filing cases 12 feet long, and other equipment.

Spelce states Snyder's NYA shop will be carried along through July as a special defense project, with hands employed on a full-time basis as previously. Further announcement concerning the town's war work headquarters is expected to be made by state NYA officials within the next two weeks.

Summer Revival Announced for Church of Christ

Call to worship for the people of Snyder and surrounding communities will be issued Sunday morning when the summer revival of the Snyder Church of Christ gets underway at 10:45 o'clock.

Bro. Raymond C. Kelcy, minister, announces Bro. Glenn L. Wallace, evangelist of Los Angeles, California, will conduct preaching services for the 10-day revival.

Bro. Wallace has just concluded a revival at Cleburne, in which over 30 additions were made to the church, and is noted as a forceful Bible scholar.

Bro. Cecil Wheeler, outstanding Church of Christ singer of Wichita Falls, will direct congregational singing for the revival. Wheeler is song director for one of the Wichita Falls congregations.

Elaborate plans are being made for the summer Church of Christ revival, according to Raymond C. Kelcy, minister, and great results are anticipated. Evening services will be held each evening in the open air—just east of the church on the spacious lawn.

Bro. Wallace states morning services will be held at 10:00 o'clock, and evening services at 9:00 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

The Los Angeles evangelist announces the following as some of the sermon subjects to be used during the meeting:

"America's First Line of Defense," "Get a Birth Certificate," "Strange Fires," "Stop, Look and Listen," "Conversion," "Why Men Are Not Baptized," "If Today Were the End of the World," and "Signs of the Times."

Bible School Closing Set Friday Evening

Two-week vacation Bible school underway at Snyder's First Presbyterian Church is scheduled to be concluded Friday evening, 8:30 o'clock, with a special program at the Presbyterian Church.

Concluding program will be offered by Presbyterian workers and those enrolled in the course of instruction. Attendance this week at the Bible school has been excellent, Rev. Hubert C. Travis, pastor, states.

The public is cordially invited to attend Friday evening's program.

Rodeo Officials Express Thanks For Cooperation

Officials and directors of the Scurry County Rodeo Association wish to express thanks this week through The Times, for the assistance given by various firms and individuals in making Scurry County's sixth annual rodeo Friday and Saturday outstanding in the annals of county rodeo history.

"We wish, especially," Scurry County Rodeo Association officers state, to give thanks to the following:

"Snyder's volunteer fire department for putting up and taking down flags and bunting for the rodeo, for furnishing assistance in various ways during the rodeo and for putting their new fire truck in the street parades Friday and Saturday.

"Snyder High School and the Will Layne American Legion Post for assistance; Frank Reeves Sr., Chuck Wagon columnist for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and the Scurry County Times for excellent news coverage;

"Snyder business firms and merchants for closing Friday afternoon, 1:00 through 5:00 o'clock, for merchandise prizes and other help; neighboring towns like Post, Colorado City, Sweetwater, Big Spring and others for sending large goodwill delegations;

"The Scurry County Chamber of Commerce for invaluable help given during the rodeo; Snyder Boy Scouts, the Scurry County Red Cross, Odom Funeral Home for furnishing an ambulance at the rodeo grounds;

"The Manhattan Hotel, bookkeepers like Wayne Boren, Tony Holcomb, Merton Noel, Haskell Beard; and gatekeepers like N. W. Autry, Jim Cloud, O. D. McGlaun, Wilce Pollard, Ed Stahl, Dwight Monroe, Vernie Merritt, Alfred Roggenstien, Tom Lee, A. C. Preuitt and Haskell Beard.

"We wish, also, to express thanks to Dwight Monroe and Marcel Josephson for the way they handled the street dance last Thursday evening and the public dance, Friday evening, Pick & Pay Store and Frazier Milling Company of Hereford, millers of Sonny Boy flour, for furnishing sound equipment. F. L. Carter, Frazier's representative out of Hereford, turned in a good performance.

"Naturally, rodeo association officials conclude, our thanks would be incomplete if we failed to mention the chute men, judges and timekeepers; cowboy and cowgirl contestants and all others who in any way helped the country's sixth annual rodeo over."

Eastern Section Of County Gets Rain Instalment

Although the county's rainfall total was not hoisted by the precipitation, the Midway, Camp Springs, Hermleigh and other east and southeast county communities received a two and one-half inch rain and local showers Tuesday afternoon.

The rain, which fell in sheet form, washed fields considerably, it is reported, but more than offset damage to late crops of cotton and feed. The Midway and Camp Springs sectors are reported in excellent condition as a result of this week's precipitation. The fall was not so heavy in and around Hermleigh.

Reports coming to The Times indicate that the Canyon community also received a good rain Tuesday afternoon, a rain that did much to revive growing crops and give cotton a new lease on life.

Record for Scouts In Distributing War News Wednesday

Snyder's trio of Boy Scout troops, Troops No. 35, 36 and 38, were mobilized Wednesday morning, 8:00 o'clock, at Snyder Insurance Agency office on the square's south side to distribute the first batch of government bulletins to Snyder residents—bulletins from the Office of Price Administration on wartime price control.

Delegations of Boy Scouts from the town's three troops were given 1,000 of the circulars, and under direction of Wayne Boren distributed the bulletins to all Snyder residences. According to Snyder district officials, the Boy Scouts set something of a record in handing out the bulletins, and may be called upon in the future to distribute other government releases.

Farm Reporters at Work

Attaches of the county AAA office reported Wednesday that farm compliance work in the county is progressing satisfactorily, and that 15 performance reporters are now at work. Some farms, due to unusually dry weather, will be checked later for 1942 farm compliance.

Buffalo Trail Council officials present at the court of honor included S. P. Gaskin of Sweetwater, executive; and Ben W. Newhouse of Big Spring, field executive for Snyder and adjacent districts.

Ben Newhouse presented a star scout award to Billy Bob Bayless of Troop No. 32, and a staf Scout award to Jack Beavers of Troop No 35.

S. P. Gaskin, Buffalo Trail Council executive of Sweetwater, announced E. J. Bradbury's Troop No. 36 as winner of the 100 per cent boy's life banner, and after appropriate award to Troop No. 38 presented Troop No. 36 and 38 with Roundup awards.

Officials of Snyder's Boy Scout District described Monday evening's court of honor as outstanding, and report that troop activities in the district are progressing satisfactorily.

Nazarenes Plan Revival at City Tabernacle Here

Announcement made Tuesday by Snyder community leaders, reveals that Rev. Leo L. Lawrence, Nazarene minister of the Lamesa zone, will begin a three-week revival Sunday morning at the city tabernacle, located one block north of the square.

The Snyder revival will be sponsored by the Church of the Nazarene, Lamesa Zone, and is expected to attract a number of visitors from this trade area.

Assisting Rev. Lawrenc in conducting the triple week revival will be a number of special workers, including Rev. and Mrs. Doyle Wilson, Rev. Alvin Maule and others of the Lamesa zone.

Evening services have been announced to begin at 9:00 o'clock through the week days, and other announcement of services will be carried in The Times.

The revival is scheduled to continue through Sunday, July26, and invitation is extended to the general public to attend all services possible. "The straight gospel will be brought to people of this area, and all can profit by worshipping with us," Rev. Lawrence states.

Mt. Zion Residents Seek to Organize New Sunday School

Leaders of the Mt. Zion community announced Tuesday that the Mt. Zion church, located just south of Highway 15 east of Snyder, has been repaired and a union Sunday school will be organized Sunday.

Residents of the Mt. Zion and nearby communities are urged to attend organization ceremonies Sunday morning, and urged to be present for Sunday school at 11:00 o'clock.

"We believe the Mt. Zion community has definite need of a Sunday hour each Sabbath," a spokesman said Tuesday afternoon, "and that our entire community life can be enriched by regular weekly Sunday school periods. We urge the general public to participate with us in establishing this form of worship, and will welcome visitors any time."

Mt. Zion is included in the charge of Rev. S. A. Sifford, Hermleigh Methodist pastor, and is located 10 miles east of Snyder.

INDICTMENTS BY JURY SETS COURT GOING

Jenkins Case to County Court; Truett Simmons Trial Date To Be Announced

Opening this week of the June term of district court was climaxed by the grand jury returning one dismeanor indictment and two indictments Tuesday noon, according to Truett Barber, 32nd District attorney.

The case of Richard Jenkins, charged with assault on F. L. Thomas on a highway job east of Snyder April 28, resulted in an indictment for aggravated assault, and was ordered transferred to the county court — the court having jurisdiction to try such a case.

Windell Lee Hendrix, an 18-year-old youth indicted for chicken theft, plead guilty to the court immediately following the return of an indictment by the grand jury. Upon testimony of the complaining witness, Raymond Smith, that full restitution of the loss had been made, and that he recommended leniency for the youth, Hendrix was assesed a sentence of a year in the state penitentiary, suspended during good behavior.

A Mexican was indicted for the Elland, but no arrest in the case had been made through Tuesday.

Case of the State of Texas vs. Truett Simmons, heretofore set for the first day of court June 29, was set back pending the appearance of a material witness of the state who is in the U. S. Army.

Furlough of the material witness heretofore granted for his appearance as a witness on the date set, was suddenly cancelled by the War Department due to the movement of his division to a new location. Court officials state they have been advised that the furlough will be re-granted when the division is on new location, and it is expected the case will be reset during the latter part of the term or at least at a special summer session.

Members of the grand jury, who were impanelled Monday for the July term of court, follow:

George J. Brumley, foreman; D. M. Pogue, J. E. Murphy, O. S. Wills, W. P. Sims, D. D. Smith, Eugene Kruse, Houston Cotton, Derwood Watson, Roy Coston, J. W. Stavely and Floyd Merket.

The grand jury was recessed Tuesday afternoon, and will reconvene Monday morning, July 13.

More Than 200 in Latest Registration

Scurry County's fifth draft registration was completed Tuesday afternoon at the city hall, and marked the signing up of Snyder and Scurry County youths 18 to 19 years of age, and those who have become 20 years of age since December 31, 1941.

Elmer Taylor was chief registrar for the Tuesday sign-up and was assisted by several workers in conducting the draftee registration.

While no count had been made through Wednesday, it was estimated approximately 210 county youths 18 to 19 and 20 years of age were registered.

Four Go to Abilene Sunday for Induction

Quartet of Scurry County registrants left Sunday afternoon, 2:55 o'clock, for Abilene for induction into the U. S. Army.

Th draftees who left Sunday afternoon were:

Gerald C. Walton, order No. 10205; Oliver Henkell, 10192; George Conealious Cov, V10015; and Barney Rogers, order No. 10207.

It was understood this week Sunday's call constituted the last that will be made of Scurry County registrants until well into July.

135,000 Pounds of Rubber Collected

Scurry County's scrap rubber committee reported Wednesday that collection in the county through Tuesday totaled approximately 135,000 pounds, or 67 1-2 tons.

Success of the county-wide collection was virtually assured this week with extension of 10 days time from President Roosevelt in which to conclude the drive.

"I'm happy for the showing Scurry County is making in the nationwide drive," Governor Coke R. Stevenson of Texas wires, "and hope Scurry County people will help during the next seven days to put the drive over the top."

SNYDER SETS JULY 4 STAGE WITH CLOSING

Friday Shoppers Urged to Purchase Needs for Week-end; Two-Day Closing Pledged

Snyder will lock shop Saturday and observe July 4 in the traditional American Independence way of life, a survey by the Scurry Chamber of Commerce disclosed Tuesday.

Snyder and Scurry County people are urged to remember Saturday's closing date and arrange their week-end shopping hours prior to Friday evening's closing.

"With the world at war," a spokesman for Snyder business men stated, "we feel July 4 deserves special observance this year, and ask that people do their week-end buying early so our Saturday closing will be 100 per cent effective."

"We the undersigned grocerymen of Snyder," a resolution given The Times reads, "agree to close our business houses on July 4 and 5 in celebration of Independence Day. Signed:

"Blackard Grocery Company, Beadel's Food Store, Rainbow Market Place, Browning Food Market, Piggly Wiggly, J. M. Newton Grocery, Dean Cochran Grocery, Pick and Pay Store, Hande Dande, and H. P. Brown and Son."

The city-wide closing of business firms Saturday will be in line with policies being adopted by a number of neighboring West Texas towns, and will allow store employees time for week-end picnics and visits with relatives.

Questionnaires To Farmers Due Says War Board

Scurry County farmers who have not yet filled out the questionnaires sent them sometime back by the county's U. S. Department of Agriculture War Board were urged Wednesday to complete the questionnaires at the earliest possible date.

The county war board has asked that a field man of the U. S. Employment Service be stationed in Scurry County this fall for the purpose of handling migratory labor. Edward S. Hyman, county agent and secretary of the board, states.

Information obtained from the questionnaires will carry considerable weight in determining the number of migratory laborers routed to Scurry County during the fall months for crop harvest work, Hyman states, and naturally complete data on the questionnaires will be of vital importance.

Due to war-time economy pinches, labor shortages will be felt this fall, it is predicted, in various sections of the country, and Scurry County farmers are asked to cooperate whole heartedly in order that this county may get a full quota of harvest hands.

Manhatton Hotel Is Given Remodeling

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Deakins, operators of the Manhattan Hotel, completed front-end improvements at the town's main hotel this week which add considerably to the appearance of the entire structure.

Building cornice of the hotel, located on the square's south side, was removed and will make room for plastering operations and placing of a new sign across the upper part of the building proper.

The old, wooden porch in front of the hostelry was removed several days ago and a panel type front completed. Improvement work gives the hotel interior considerably more light during daylight hours.

Air Corps Member Visits Turner Folks

Roy Ayres, member of the U. S. Air Corps at San Francisco, California, visited over the week-end in the Turner community with his uncle, J. M. Glass, and Mrs. Glass.

Ayres has been in the U. S. Air Corps the past 18 months and will go to Mather Field, near San Francisco, California, this week-end to take training as an aviation cadet. He holds a mechanic's specialist rating.

Victor Longbotham and W. H. Kimzey of Hermleigh returned Saturday night from Abilene, where they attended a reunion of the fighting 90th Division of World War 1 fame.

The duet of World War 1 service men reported a good time at the Abilene gathering, and state around 300 veterans from the old 90th Division gathered at Camp Barkeley for the all-day festivities.

Lions and Ladies Eat Chicken, See Officers Seated

Approximately 40 Snyder Lions Club members and their ladies were attracted to Snyder School park Tuesday evening for a chicken fry and formal induction of club officers for the new club year. H. L. Wren, J. E. Blakey and Marcel Josephson prepared the delicious chicken supper, replete with trimmings and dessert.

Rev. Hubert C. Travis, First Presbyterian Church pastor, pronounced invocation for the occasion and H. L. Wren presided over formal installation of new Lions Club officials. These officers were installed: Lyle Deffebach, president; Wayne Boren, first vice president; R. C. Miller Jr., second vice president, was not inducted because of illness; J. E. Blakey, third vice president; Leighton Griffin, secretary; Roy Porter, treasurer; and Allen Beadel, tail twister. Willard Jones, Lion tamer, will be inducted later due to his being ill.

Vernon P. Shaw, E. L. Parr and L. A. Chapman were announced as the three new club directors and A. C. Bishop Jr. announced as holdover director. Rev. I. A. Smith, Methodist pastor, gave the benediction for the gathering.

$5 Auto Stamps Sale Falls Short In Post Offices

Sale of the new federal $5 motor vehicle car stamps stood at approximately the 2,000 mark at the Snyder post office late Tuesday—indicating sales under 400 from the first stamp sale campaign.

Attaches of the Snyder post office remind automobile and vehicle owners that the federal car stamps must be placed on vehicles in operation. Since sales fell about 400 under prior sales in February, indications are that about 200 cars have been put in storage and in excess of 100 sold.

Reports were not available from other county post offices, but it is believed total car tax stamp sales in the county fell under the 2,200 mark.

Chicken Fry Event Is Set for Firemen

N. W. Autry, fire chief, announced Wednesday that final plans are being made for the annual Snyder volunteer fire department chicken fry and get-together, which will be staged Tuesday evening, July 7, on the fire station lawn.

Fried chicken, pickles, coffee and all the trimmings which go with such a social gathering will be prepared by experts, Chief Autry declares.

The annual chicken fry, held only for members of the fire department, their families and City of Snyder officials, will be extended this year to include all members of the auxiliary fire department.

Rev. Hubert C. Travis, chaplain and chairman of the program committee, states an interesting program is being arranged.

Boy Scouts Making Final Camp Plans

At least a duet of Snyder Boy Scout troops, Nos. 36 and 38, will send good-sized delegations of Scouts Tuesday, July 14, to the Summer camp, Philmont, near Cimarron, New Mexico.

E. L. Parr, chairman of camping activities for the Snyder district, H. L. Wren, chairman of the Snyder district, and Vance Clift of Hermleigh, Scoutmaster of Troop No. 32, will accompany the Scouts from the Snyder district to the Philmont camp.

The Boy Scouts of the Snyder district are scheduled to return from the camp July 22. The camp is on a 200-acre ranch donated to the Boy Scouts of America by Waite Phillips, Tulsa, Oklahoma, oil man.

ROYAL AIR FORCE INVADES SNYDER FOR RODEO

Headed by Wing Comomander Frederick William Moxham, Squadron Leader Ralph Edwards and Flight Lieutenant J. A. Lewis, a group of 70 Royal Air Force students of Avenger Field, Sweetwater, "invaded" Snyder Friday evening to witness part of Scurry County's sixth annual rodeo.

The group of RAF fliers, who proved a major drawing card for Friday evening's rodeo performance, were accompanied by a delegation of Sweetwater business people, directed by Milo K. Roth and Al Jordan.

Here's the way the Sweetwater Reporter described the British flier's visit to Snyder:

"The British descended on Snyder Friday evening, took the town in their stride and came back to Sweetwater somewhat saddle weary but highly pleased with their first rodeo.

"It could happen here, even with the nation at war, but booted West Texans met their khaki clad English allies on common grounds for the first time during the war when flying cadets of Avenger Field were honor guests of the Scurry County Rodeo Association.

"It was a new experience for both groups.

"None of the cadets had seen a rodeo before, most of them had never ridden horses, and it was the first time Scurry County people young men who have come here as representatives of the British Empire to earn their wings.

"The flying cadets were met in East Snyder at Wimpy's Cafe by a huge delegation.

"Approximately 35 horses were brought up and, under encouragement and necessary instructions from the on lookers, the cadets boarded the horses, circled the square several times and went on to the rodeo grounds.

"One youth lost his sddle when his horse became skittish, and another's horse slipped down on the paving. Neither was injured badly, although the first cadet came home with a patch of adhesive tape across his nose.

"The crowd at the rodeo, surpassing even the most optimistic forecasts, was estimoted at between 3,000 and 4,000 persons.

"As a prelude to the rodeo proper a flag ceremony was staged at dusk representing each of the United Nations fighting Axis aggression. The flag bearers circled the rodeo arena for several minutes, showing their guests the type of showmanship which has become commonplace with rodeo devotees."

A brief, but happily concluded period of excitement ensued when one of the RAF boys, Duke Martin of Cickamauga, Georgia, lost his wallet with valuable papers and identification cards. Within five minutes after R. G. Dillard, rodeo announcer, called rodeo fan's attention to the loss, Mortin had his wallet and papers back—even to the picture of his best girl.

Members of the RAF delegation at Avenger Field came over here from such typical British towns as London, bombed Coventry, Manchester, Lancaster, province of Sussex and other English points.

The RAF boys expressed keen pleasure for the courtesies extended them by the Scurry County Rodeo Association and Scurry County people, but in the words of Duke Martin will "keep 'em flying until we get enough instructions on riding a horse . . . Until we do, we better stay up in aircraft where it's safe.

Enjoy July 4!

Why not make this July 4 one of the safest celebrations you have ever enjoyed, Mr. and Mrs. Scurry Countians?

Simon Best, city marshal, and other officers urge that you exercise extreme dilligence in driving at moderate speeds, if you're going someywhere in a car, and that you make doubly sure all stoves are out and electrical appliances shut off before leaving your home.

Scurry County has rung up a remarkable record the past few years on observing, sanely, July 4, and both city and county officers urge that the same record be diplosd this week-end.

Garden Setting for Marriage of Kay King and Sgt. Jimmy Sharp

Kay King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. King, became the bride of Sergeant Jimmie Sharp Saturday night in the garden setting at the home of her parents. Rev. I. A. Smith of the Methodist Church read the ring service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white pique street-length frock and white assessories and carried a bouquet of gardenias and pastel gladioluses. She carried an old pointlace handkerchief and wore a silver and turquoise pin that belongs to her grandmother, Mrs. N. B. Moote.

Sis Cornelious of Abilene and LaVohn Roberts were the bride's only attendants. Miss Cornelious wore yellow pique and Miss Roberts wore blue pique and both carried white gladioluses.

Only out-of-town guests were Mmes. Keeling of Oklahoma City, grandmother of the groom, Oran G. Wilson of Dumas and Leslie Stewart of San Antonio.

Sergeant Jack Stewart of Goodfellow Field and J. P. Sharp were the groom's attendants. Nell Verna LeMond played the wedding music.

Mrs. Sharp is a graduate of Snyder High School and has studied the past two years in McMurry College, Abilene. She is a member of TIP and Wah Wahaysee drum corps.

Sergeant Sharp, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sharp of Hermleigh, is stationed at Roswell, New Mexico Flying School. He was formerly an engineering student in Texas Technological College, Lubbock. He volunteered for the air corps service in 1941 at Randolph field, and he is now with the 546th school squadron at Roswell, where the couple will live.

The reception was also held in the garden, the bride cutting her tiered cake and Oleta Ikard poured punch from an ice bowl in which were frozen pastel gladioluses to match the bride's bouquet.

Hermleigh Girl Weds Stanley E. White

Naida Pearl Gleastine, daughter of Mrs. H. T. Gleastine of Hermleigh, became the bride of Stanley E. White, son of R. C. White, June 25. The ceremony was read by Rev. G. W. Parks, Baptist minister, in the home of Rev. Parks at Roscoe.

The bride chose for her wedding costume navy crepe with white accessories and a shoulder corsage of pink roses. For "something old," she wore a pearl necklace belonging to Mrs. John Bowlin, sister of the groom. For "something borrowed," she carried white Irish crochet gloves belonging to Mrs. Warren C. Fargason.

Those attending the wedding were Faye Deene Gleastine, sister of the bride, Mrs. E. E. Thompson, sister of the groom, Mrs. Fargason, and the minister's wife and daughter.

Mrs. White is a 1931 graduate of Hermleigh High School and was salutatorian of her senior class. She has recently finished a post graduate course in Houston and passed a civil service examination.

White is manager of the Hardin Cafe on the Sweetwater highway in East Snyder. The couple will be at home on Avenue O.

Examines New Type Cotton Cloth

Carol Lloyd of Memphis inspects a pattern of the new cotton cloth called fabric-masslin. The new fabric has been developed by Johnson and Johnson, makers of surgical dressings. So cheap is the process of manufacturing that after a garment made of it has been soiled, it will be thrown away with no attempt to launder it. Commercial production is not expected to begin until after the war, when mills meeting war orders are released.

A Line from Home

When cannon balls and leaden death
Are searching for a soldier's heart,
Any any second his last breath
May come and he from life would part.
He thinks of home and not of war,
And wonders why they don't write.
Just a line from home afar
Might help him sleep sound tonight.
"Dear Son, We're thinking of you now,
And hope you haven't got a cold.
We can't help thinking somehow
That something's happened you haven't told.
Perhaps you have a headache, dear,
With all that noise of guns and things;
You know how it ached when you were here,
When you came back from Whiskey Springs."
Just a line from home to him
Is a comfort and an inspiration.
So let's cater to his every whim,
Because he is defending our nation.

—Keegan Townsend.

Rep Smith and daughter, Betty, from Abilene were here for the Scurry County rodeo, and visiting with relatives, the D. P. Strayhorn family.

It Can't Happen Here

if . .

Our Duty:

To Fit Them To Fight . . . .

Our boys—your sons, your husbands, your brothers, your grandsons—are going to the front to do your fighting for you. You want them fitted to fight, don't you? We cannot do for them what they will do for us. To them we will owe our liberty and all of the fine things that go with living in free America.

The least that we can do is to make certain that they are fully armed, well fed and adequately clothed. It is our duty to bend our efforts and our resources to help supply them in such quantity that they will not want for a single thing. Let's get busy—work harder, buy all of the War Bonds and Stamps that we possibly can buy.

Remember that it is patriotic to carry on as normally as possible, considering that we aree at war. Remember that those who serve you—your retail merchants, your service institutions and your professional men—are doing all that they can. If, in some instances, they are unable to help you with the same completeness and thoroughness as before the war, bear with them with cheerful understanding, knowing that they are doing their level best. Keep in mind that It Can't Happen Here if we all do our part.

France, once a great world power, was brought to her knees with lightning quickness by a Nazi war machine that was years in the making. France's lack of preparedness as well as Germny's readiness caused her downfall.

France, re-assured by what she thought was a bulwark of defense . . . (the Maginot Line) . . . was lulled into complacency, thinking that It Cannot Happen Here.

France, once proud, today is humbled. Her people are suffering untold misery because she was whipped by a ruthless dictator. The people of France were asleep!

They did not do their part to preserve their nation.

France's sad plight should awaken every American to the dangers that now threaten our nation. No one believes that the Axis powers can whip us . . . that IT CAN HAPPEN HERE, and rightly so, if we all do our part.

You, have a clear-cut duty as an American citizen. Uncle Sam needs everything to mass huge stocks of supplies of every kind for use in the fight against those whose aim it to destroy our nation and to enslave us.

How can you help? The answer to that is clear-cut! . . . by working harder at your job, whatever it is, to produce more . . .to increase the collective total of national production. It is also your duty to buy Victory Bonds and Stamps, all that you can as soon as you can.

of this message, carrying out the wishes of Uncle Sam, pledge their patrons the most efficient and the most complete servicce possible to provide, considering that our nation is at war:

SPONSORS AT RODEO FETED IN CONTESTS

Mrs. Pearson of Levelland Is Top Winner, Carolyn Ann Riley, Nelda Bell York Win

Color and sparkle to Scurry County's sixth annual rodeo Friday and Saturday was provided by the three divisions of the cowgirl sponsors' contest—a rodeo event which attracted much attention from spectators and visiting RAF fliers of Avenger Field, Sweetwater.

Julia Mae McDonnell, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McDonnell of the ZT Ranch, announced the cowgirl sponsor events, and turned in a grand performance. Billie Lou Thompson, Snyder's official sponsor and hostess to out-of-county sponsors, turned in a good performance, and Mrs. Whit Thompson, chaperon to sponsors at their invitational dance Friday evening, was highly commended by rodeo officials.

First prize of a $75 war bond in the regular cowgirl sponsors' contest went to Mrs. Sid Pearson of Levelland, whose time in the five events was 107 3-5 seconds.

Mrs. Add Jones of Post received a $25 war bond for second place, and trailed Mrs. Pearson by the exceptionally close time of 107 4-5 seconds in the five events.

Other place winners in the cowgirl sponsors' event follow:

Opal Etheredge of Hermleigh, third prize of $10 in defense stamps; Cora Nell Browning of Fluvanna, fourth prize of $2.50 in defense stamps from Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber company; Louise Ann Bennett of Big Spring, fifth prize of $2.50 in defense stamps from Piggly Wiggly; Dorothea Hunter of Colorado City, sixth prize of $2.50 in merchandise from Irwin Drug Store; and Sallie McCremmen of Lubbock, seventh prize of $2.50 from O. L. Wilkinson Lumber Company.

In the senior community cowgirl sponsors' contest, Carolyn Ann Riley of Martin received first place prize and Lowell Cox of Bison received second place award.

In the junior community sponsors' events, Nelda Bell York of the York Ranch was awarded first prize, Barbara Ann Nichols of the R. N. Miller Ranch second prize and Billy Faye Everetts and Pete Miller tied for third prize with a time of 12 2-5 seconds. Ida Jo Hart and Wanda Pearson tied for fourth place honors with time of 13 seconds; Mary Nelle Wilson won fifth place and Billy Jo Burney and Alva Wilson tied with time of 14 1-5 seconds.

Henry Rosenberg, who had charge of all cowgirl sponsor contests, did a commendable job, rodeo officials state, and is due a major share of credit for putting this event "across" with both contestants and rodeo fans.

The population of Texas increased 94.5 per cent between 1870 and 1880.

New Insurance Reduction Goes For Wheat Crop

E. R. Duke, state wheat crop insurance supervisor, advised Scurry County wheat growers Tuesday that some wheat farmers will pay less for wheat insurance on their 1943 crop.

Under a new reduction plan, announced by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, individuals' premiums will be cut as much as 50 per cent provided premiums paid during unbroken series of crop years, less indemnities, equal or exceed insured production for 1943, Duke states.

Only wheat farmers in Scurry and other counties who have insured wheat crops for an unbroken series of crop years up to the present, with few or no losses, can qualify for lower premiums.

Maximum reduction in premium rates, which is 50 per cent, will be given farmers only in those years when no losses occur.

Purpose of the reduced plan is to distribute cost of insurance more equitably by reconizing smaller risk on farms where few or no uosses have occured, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation official concluded.

Canning Sugar Rules Listed by Officials

Scurry County's Ration Board is anxious to see that county residents get their full quota of canning sugar, but remind Snyder and Scurry County people that there is no rush on obtaining the sweetening ingredient.

Applications for canning sugar are received at the ration board headquarters, located in the Chamber of Commerce office, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Consumers will be allowed one pound of sugar for each four quarts of finished fruit, and should bring a list of all fruit canned last year when they apply for canning sugar. They also need to bring their war ration books when applying.

Hugh Boren Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Boren Sr., who is attached to the headquarters department, Goodfellow Field, San Angelo, spent Saturday afternoon's perf spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents and other relatives and witnessed Saturday afternoon's performance of the Scurry County rodeo.

"Brud," as he is widely known in the county, had some good news awaiting for him when he arrived back at Goodfellow Field. He was promoted to the rank of corporal, and received the advancement just in time to avoid KP duty. Young Boren says he's liking the army fine.

A member of the human race learns in six days to open his mouth and put his foot in it—a performance it takes him upwards of 60 years to unlearn.

Members of Scurry County's U. S. Department of Agriculture War Board issued an appeal Wednesday to the county's 1,500 farmers to comply with the spirit of the Office of Defense Transportation order restricting transportation by making the best possible use of their trucks.

The county war board urges farmers and ranchers to pool all facilities possible, and take the best care of equipment they can—including tires and elimination of unnecessary driving.

"We want Scurry County folks to get used to the idea that there isn't any need of several people in one vicinity making separate trips to town when all could arrange to go together," George J. Brumley, chairman of the county war board, declares.

"Farmers of the county have pledged increased production of milk, eggs, peanuts, pork, beef and other food products," Brumley says, "and we want them to take precautionary measures to insure these products being delivered to market during the fall."

Rain Gauges in Soil Conservation District to Keep Accurate Records

Officials of the Scurry-Borden County Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District reported Tuesday that four official rain gauges have been installed in the extensive soil conservation district.

Rain gauges are located on the Frank Andrews farm in the Pyron community, the Roy Hargrove farm in the Ennis Creek community, H. C. Flournoy farm in the Fluvanna community and on the Bert Adams farm in the Treadway community of Borden County.

Rainfall recorded by the four gauges will be helpful, it is pointed out, to farmers and ranchers in both Scurry and Borden Counties—as well as personnel of the soil conservation district in designing terrace systems and other conservation measures.

A. L. Wren and M. K. Lemons, who reside in the soil conservation district priority areas, in the Martin School community north of Snyder, have recently built 6,500 feet of diversion terraces, using county equipment. As with these and many other farms and ranches in the district, diversion terraces and diversion ditches are the first steps in establishment of a successful terrace system.

Such accomplishments can be attained, however, only by careful and thoughtful planning. The lines for the ditches and terraces were laid out by soil conservation district personnel last winter. They were marked by Wren and Lemons and left undisturbed until time and equipment were available for construction.

P. J. Collins, operator of the I. O. Shaw farm in the Martin community priority area, recently set back the west fence boundary of the farm to allow for back sloping and enlargement of the road ditch. The enlarged ditch will serve as a drainage way for the water that cannot be held on the farm by terraces constructed this past winter.

Webb Jones, vocational agriculture teacher at Fluvanna, assisted the soil conservation district personnel in holding a preliminary planning meeting in the Fluvanna priority area. The meeting was attended by 23 farmers and ranchers, representing 13,000 acres of cultivated and range land. Those attending were J. R. Smith, Lee Lavender, J. T. Sturdivant, W. J. Beaver, J. E. Smith, J. R. Jones, W. H. Jones, C. D. Cribbs, Berry Cribbs, R. L. Lightfoot, C. D. Jones, Jess Bley, Leo Beaver, F. W. Lavender, Tom Farquhar, Bob Browning, W. F. Mathis, G. W. Noel, R. V. Daugherty, Webb Jones, H. O. Beard and Doyle Hammack, representing the soil conservation district.

Gasoline Storage Dangers Cited by State Fire Official

Since indications point to a probable nation-wide rationing of gasoline, Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner, warns Times readers this week against storage of gasoline at home.

"The storage of any quantity of gasoline at home," he said, "promotes extreme fire hazards. Gasoline, when stored and handled through the regular facilities of the oil industry, and kept in steel tanks, is relatively safe as a result of safeguards incorporated in the design of equipment and the training of personnel over a long period of years."

Hall explained that gasoline vapor, produced when the fluid is exposed to air, is highly explosive and can be set off by electric sparks or careless smokers. The vapor, heavier than air, may flow along the ground under buildings or into basements, to be ignited and flash back from a considerable distance.

"Fire insurance can be voided under the Texas standard fire policies," Hall asserted, "if gasoline is stored on the premises without a permit of consent from the insurance company. Thus, if stored gasoline contributes to a fire destroying the property insured, policies could not be collected if the insurance company had not granted permission for storage of the gasoline."

The land area of Texas includes 167,934,720 arces.

SPONSORS AT RODEO FETED IN CONTESTS

Mrs. Pearson of Levelland Is Top Winner, Carolyn Ann Riley, Nelda Bell York Win

Color and sparkle to Scurry County's sixth annual rodeo Friday and Saturday was provided by the three divisions of the cowgirl sponsors' contest—a rodeo event which attracted much attention from spectators and visiting RAF fliers of Avenger Field, Sweetwater.

Julia Mae McDonnell, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McDonnell of the ZT Ranch, announced the cowgirl sponsor events, and turned in a grand performance. Billie Lou Thompson, Snyder's official sponsor and hostess to out-of-county sponsors, turned in a good performance, and Mrs. Whit Thompson, chaperon to sponsors at their invitational dance Friday evening, was highly commended by rodeo officials.

First prize of a $75 war bond in the regular cowgirl sponsors' contest went to Mrs. Sid Pearson of Levelland, whose time in the five events was 107 3-5 seconds.

Mrs. Add Jones of Post received a $25 war bond for second place, and trailed Mrs. Pearson by the exceptionally close time of 107 4-5 seconds in the five events.

Other place winners in the cowgirl sponsors' event follow:

Opal Etheredge of Hermleigh, third prize of $10 in defense stamps; Cora Nell Browning of Fluvanna, fourth prize of $2.50 in defense stamps from Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber company; Louise Ann Bennett of Big Spring, fifth prize of $2.50 in defense stamps from Piggly Wiggly; Dorothea Hunter of Colorado City, sixth prize of $2.50 in merchandise from Irwin Drug Store; and Sallie McCremmen of Lubbock, seventh prize of $2.50 from O. L. Wilkinson Lumber Company.

In the senior community cowgirl sponsors' contest, Carolyn Ann Riley of Martin received first place prize and Lowell Cox of Bison received second place award.

In the junior community sponsors' events, Nelda Bell York of the York Ranch was awarded first prize, Barbara Ann Nichols of the R. N. Miller Ranch second prize and Billy Faye Everetts and Pete Miller tied for third prize with a time of 12 2-5 seconds. Ida Jo Hart and Wanda Pearson tied for fourth place honors with time of 13 seconds; Mary Nelle Wilson won fifth place and Billy Jo Burney and Alva Wilson tied with time of 14 1-5 seconds.

Henry Rosenberg, who had charge of all cowgirl sponsor contests, did a commendable job, rodeo officials state, and is due a major share of credit for putting this event "across" with both contestants and rodeo fans.

New Insurance Reduction Goes For Wheat Crop

E. R. Duke, state wheat crop insurance supervisor, advised Scurry County wheat growers Tuesday that some wheat farmers will pay less for wheat insurance on their 1943 crop.

Under a new reduction plan, announced by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, individuals' premiums will be cut as much as 50 per cent provided premiums paid during unbroken series of crop years, less indemnities, equal or exceed insured production for 1943, Duke states.

Only wheat farmers in Scurry and other counties who have insured wheat crops for an unbroken series of crop years up to the present, with few or no losses, can qualify for lower premiums.

Maximum reduction in premium rates, which is 50 per cent, will be given farmers only in those years when no losses occur.

Purpose of the reduced plan is to distribute cost of insurance more equitably by reconizing smaller risk on farms where few or no uosses have occured, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation official concluded.

Canning Sugar Rules Listed by Officials

Scurry County's Ration Board is anxious to see that county residents get their full quota of canning sugar, but remind Snyder and Scurry County people that there is no rush on obtaining the sweetening ingredient.

Applications for canning sugar are received at the ration board headquarters, located in the Chamber of Commerce office, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Consumers will be allowed one pound of sugar for each four quarts of finished fruit, and should bring a list of all fruit canned last year when they apply for canning sugar. They also need to bring their war ration books when applying.

Street Dance Draws Big Crowd Thursday

Hundreds of people from this trade area were attracted last Thursday evening to the pre-rodeo street dance staged on the square's south side under the direction of Dwight Monroe and Marcel Josephson.

Hop Halsey and his Drug Store Cowboys of Lubbock furnished music Friday evening for the public dance staged at the roller rink. Monroe and Josephson, who directed this rodeo festivity, did an excellent job of keeping order and running the dance above board, Scurry County Rodeo Association officials report.

Pooling of Rides Urged by Board To Save Trucks

Members of Scurry County's U. S. Department of Agriculture War Board issued an appeal Wednesday to the county's 1,500 farmers to comply with the spirit of the Office of Defense Transportation order restricting transportation by making the best possible use of their trucks.

The county war board urges farmers and ranchers to pool all facilities possible, and take the best care of equipment they can—including tires and elimination of unnecessary driving.

"We want Scurry County folks to get used to the idea that there isn't any need of several people in one vicinity making separate trips to town when all could arrange to go together," George J. Brumley, chairman of the county war board, declares.

"Farmers of the county have pledged increased production of milk, eggs, peanuts, pork, beef and other food products," Brumley says, "and we want them to take precautionary measures to insure these products being delivered to market during the fall."

Rain Gauges in Soil Conservation District to Keep Accurate Records

Officials of the Scurry-Borden County Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District reported Tuesday that four official rain gauges have been installed in the extensive soil conservation district.

Rain gauges are located on the Frank Andrews farm in the Pyron community, the Roy Hargrove farm in the Ennis Creek community, H. C. Flournoy farm in the Fluvanna community and on the Bert Adams farm in the Treadway community of Borden County.

Rainfall recorded by the four gauges will be helpful, it is pointed out, to farmers and ranchers in both Scurry and Borden Counties—as well as personnel of the soil conservation district in designing terrace systems and other conservation measures.

A. L. Wren and M. K. Lemons, who reside in the soil conservation district priority areas, in the Martin School community north of Snyder, have recently built 6,500 feet of diversion terraces, using county equipment. As with these and many other farms and ranches in the district, diversion terraces and diversion ditches are the first steps in establishment of a successful terrace system.

Such accomplishments can be attained, however, only by careful and thoughtful planning. The lines for the ditches and terraces were laid out by soil conservation district personnel last winter. They were marked by Wren and Lemons and left undisturbed until time and equipment were available for construction.

P. J. Collins, operator of the I. O. Shaw farm in the Martin community priority area, recently set back the west fence boundary of the farm to allow for back sloping and enlargement of the road ditch. The enlarged ditch will serve as a drainage way for the water that cannot be held on the farm by terraaces constructed this past winter.

Webb Jones, vocational agriculture teacher at Fluvanna, assisted the soil conservation district personnel in holding a preliminary planning meeting in the Fluvanna priority area. The meeting was attended by 23 farmers and ranchers, representing 13,000 acres of cultivated and range land. Those attending were J. R. Smith, Lee Lavender, J. T. Sturdivant, W. J. Beaver, J. E. Smith, J. R. Jones, W. H. Jones, C. D. Cribbs, Berry Cribbs, R. L. Lightfoot, C. D. Jones, Jess Bley, Leo Beaver, F. W. Lavender, Tom Farquhar, Bob Browning, W. F. Mathis, G. W. Noel, R. V. Daugherty, Webb Jones, H. O. Beard and Doyle Hammack, representing the soil conservation district.

Gasoline Storage Dangers Cited by State Fire Official

Since indications point to a probable nation-wide rationing of gasoline, Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner, warns Times readers this week against storage of gasoline at home.

"The storage of any quantity of gasoline at home," he said, "promotes extreme fire hazards. Gasoline, when stored and handled through the regular facilities of the oil industry and kept in standard tanks, is relatively safe as a result of safeguards incorporated in the design of equipment and the training of personnel over a long period of years."

Hall explained that gasoline vapor, produced when the fluid is exposed to air, is highly explosive and can be set off by electric sparks or careless smokers. The vapor, heavier than air, may flow along the ground under buildings or into basements, to be ignited and flash back from a considerable distance.

"Fire insurance can be voided under the Texas standard fire policies," Hall asserted, "if gasoline is stored on the premises without a permit of consent from the insurance company. Thus, if stored gasoline contributes to a fire destroying the property insured, policies could not be collected if the insurance company had not granted permission for storage of the gasoline."

The land area of Texas includes 167,934,720 arces.

A Real July 4

From indications here and elsewhere, the American people are really going to make Saturday a red letter event in the way o fenjoying American Independence Day celebrations, and are arranging for a real July 4—the kind where accidents are few and folks slow down enough to neighbor each with the other. Tire rationing, plus other war-time pinches, may result in this July 4 being one of the safest celebrations Americans have participated in in many years.

In order to have a real July 4, we need to get away from the idea we must have a ghastly number of traffic fatalities, a number of injured boys and girls because of minor mishaps and a celebration, in general, that bespeaks of anything but observing independence. If tire rationing and pinch of other war-time measures can keep us from having so many accidents this July 4 we will then be observing the kind of day our founders of the nation planned for us—their heirs to a rich heritage.

The Rodeo Lives On

Thousands of people from all parts of West Texas who gathered here Friday and Saturday joined officials of the Scurry County Rodeo Association in describing the county's sixth annual boots and saddle roundup as "the greatest ever staged in Snyder." The rodeo, from the point of attendance, closeness of the contests and enthusiasm of both spectators and entries, was truly the outstanding rodeo of county association history.

Officials of the Scurry County Rodeo Association, bookkeeppers, timekeepers, pick-up men, chute men, the arena director, the chairman of the cowgirl sponsors' contest and all others who helped make the June 26 and 27 rodeo a success are due plenty of praise for putting this year's rodeo over. When a group of officials can move a rodeo up from a scheduled August date to June; make it click and give folks of this area a real show for ttheir money they are worthy of congratulations all around. The Scurry County Chamber of Commerce had a major part in putting the rodeo over, for which these officials are due warm thanks. The rodeo, we're happy to say, lives on!

Editorial of the Week

RUSSIA'S YEAR

In world history 1941 belongs to Russia. The year saw large events elsewhere—Nazi sweeps in Libya, Greece, Yugoslavia, Crete, and the launching of Japan's drive in the Pacific which brought America in and spread open conflict round the world. For Russia the year marked the loss of 40,000,000 people and 500,000 square miles of territory. Yet 1941 is Russia's year. On the world stage June 22 looms larger even than December 7.

For on that day Hitler repeated Napoleon's mistake of attacking Russia, surprising the world, took the full brunt of the Nazi war machine at its peak and shattered its claim of invincibility. Before the year was out Russia had decimated and turned back the greatest army Europe has ever seen. In two months she drained more power from the Nazis than all other opponents had in twenty-two months. Nothing Hitler has gained since June 22, 1941, has made up for what he has lost in Russia.

Russia in the year has gained much that is hard to measure. First is a stronger sense of nationhood. Her peasants and factory workers, rising magnificently to defend their homes, have been fused by the fires of war into a unity a quarter century of Communist hammering had never wrought. They have proved themselves to themselves. A new national spirit is already legendary, flowering in drama and song. Napoleon's retreat from Moscow has its "1812 Overture" and Hitler's its "Suite 1941" by Prokofieff.

The War Production Board is finding plenty of causes for worry in the high test gasoline business, especially since the U. S. Army and War Department want to keep big supplies of high octane gasoline spotted at strategic spots over the nation . . . The War Production Board is inclined to believe such storage would not only tie up too much lead, but provide virtual "powder kegs" for enemy agents and saboteurs in this country . . . Straws in the wind indicate America will need billions of gallons of high test aviation gasoline and motor fuel during the next 12 months, so one may expect behind-the-scenes battling to become severe, with some dead cats to be thrown out before the skirmishes cease.

We had trouble, of course, with the [illegible] problem before we entered the war against Axis aggression, but now that materials shortages are looming "around the next corner," the War Production Board is finding housing a major headache . . . In many critical areas employers are finding it hard to hold on to hands because houses are difficult, and often impossible, to locate for all war workers.

Texas of 250,000,000 years ago was inhabited solely by insects, a large percentage of which were mammoth cockroaches, according to geologists.

According to paleontologists, horses one foot high, camels the size of jack rabbits and rhinoceroses the size of dogs inhabited Texas 50,000,000 years ago.

Current Comment

By LEON GUINN

Editor's Note—Expressions or opinions contained in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policies of The Times. Current Comment is merely carried as a feature column.

Priyately, and off the record, high ranking U, S. military men are more worried than they will admit about Japanese activities in the Aleutian Islands, activities that have been shrouded in a vague secrecy since the Nipponse first gained a toehold near Alaska . . . Key men in Washington predict, without elaboration, that an attack will be made soon upon Siberia by the Axis Powers . . . . Due to the necessity of keeping well informed on current trends, government officals in Washington are keeping information coming to them that sometimes gets ahead of information dished out to Allied Nations in Europe—a situation the Axis Powers are becoming increasingly bitter about.

☆

Since Mexico has formally declared war against the Axis Powers, the United States is being put on the spot by urgent requests for more patrol boats to accomodate our sister republic south of the border . . . . The U. S. is doing everything in its power to assist Mexico in developing its raw materials—a thing that should eventually make the land of "the Mexican Eagle" less dependent on colleagues in this battle of production.

☆

Mexico, at present, plans to triple agricultural output and clamp the screws down upon migration of Mexican labor to the cotton fields and truck gardens of the Southwest—a move unexpected at the moment but a move that will insure Old Mexico of workers to develop a country rich in soil, climate and blessed with enough rainfall to really produce the goods . . . Texas, especially, is against keeping Mexican labor at home, but frankly the Mexicans who make our fields for harvest each year take out thousands of American families "in circulation" and add to the Aberican families "in circulation" and add to the American standard of self support and living.

☆

The nation's fishing industry is emerging as another war casualty since so many fshing vessels have been requisitioned by the navy . . . Acute shortage of fishing boats places fishermen in a grave position—a position the federal government is getting alarmed over . . . Those few hundred fishermen fortunate enough to have boats are doing a boom business, but those who have had craft taken over by the U. S. Navy find priorities stand in the way of making replacements at any and all ship yards . . . Incidentally, salmon are due to become a scarce article of food on store shelves since the government has frozen stocks now in canneries and in key wholesale plants.

☆

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Abilene, of which the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce, Abilene, of which the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce is a unit, is doing a remarkable piece of work in urging Central West Texas towns to cancel livestock shows and fairs set for the summer or fall months. . . . The federal government is asking that county fairs and shows be canceled for the "duration," and officials of fairs are finding this suggestion timely in view of transportation problems and difficulty of securing metals and ribbons . . . Just in case war reverses go too heavily against the Allied Nations, county fairs and shows will be of no import, anyway . . . America, during peace times, is traditionally a nation of fairs and shows but can forego such festivities to aid our war progarm and conserving tires and tubes for the crucial months ahead.

☆

Attaches of the State Highway Department are devoting many hours these momentous days to the problem of conserving vital war transportation, according to Harry S. Phillips, executive secretary of the state highway traffic advisory committee . . . Need of constructing military roads to army cantonments over Texas and need of getting motorists to cut down on their driving speed occupies the main attention of highway department officials at the moment . . . Decisions of vital importance to every car and pickup owner in the state are expected to be reached shortly by the State Highway Department in regard to finishing highways here and elsewhere under construction . . . Since asphalt and reinforcing steel may be impossible to obtain in many instances it may be necessary to mark out "hot topping" provisions on several road contracts, information available this week indicates.

☆

One obstacle the past few years toward fulfillment of a good neighbor policy with South America has been woven around the delicate situation which has resulted where Latin America nations have defaulted on their government bonds . . . Under plans now in the mill, Latin America may soon be able to buy back defaulted bonds at market prices—prices which run from five to 20 cents on each $1 . . . The U. S. Treasury is leaning toward such a move, with the idea of loaning Sounth American countries funds to redeem their unpaid bonds . . . Signifance, of course, would be to allow these countries to pay up their old debts and begin to accumulate dollar balances fror sales of raw materials to the United States . . . If and when the war is concluded, Latin American countries would then have reserves to buy U. S. planes, cutting tools, dies, automobiles, trucks and other needed supplies.

Vacation Safety Pointers Given By Health Head

Some timely advice to vacationists concerning the proper precautions to be used in water sports was released from the State Health Department this week by Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

It was pointed out that, in view of wartime restrictions, vacation pleasures are apt to be limited to excursions and picnics at nearby lakes, rivers and ponds of unfamiliar depths and currents, and without the usual lifeguard supervision associated with bathing beaches and commercial swimming pools.

"Swimming and water sports are beneficial to good health provided one's physical condition justifies this type of exercise," Dr. Cox asserted; "nevertheless, they possess dangerous possibilities if the rules of safety, through carelessness or thoughtlessness, are disregarded."

The state health officer outlined the following simple rules for bathing and swimming in safety:

1.—At least one hour should elapse after a meal before entering the water.

2.—Upon the first indication of fatigue, come ashore and call it a day. Don't re-enter the water.

3.—If becoming chilled, leave the water immediately.

4.—Do not enter the water when overheated.

5.—Learn to float. This is most important.

6.—Never attempt to rock a boat in a spirit of fun.

7.—Never swim in water that may be polluted. Swimming close to or even a few miles below sewage outlets is inviting the possibility of acquiring disease.

"Excursions, picnics and swimming parties contribute much to a healthy, happy, normal life, which is especially desirable at this particular time when the whole nation is tense and under a strain," Dr. Cox said. "It is by no means advisable to eliminate these excursions from our summer programs, but it is important that they prove beneficial and not disastrous."

Combines Needed On Northern Plains

According to word received Wednesday by Edward S. Hyman, county agricultural agent, combines are urgently needed on the North Plains for grain harvest, and county combine owners who can make the harvest are asked to contact the county agent's office for further information.

County owners are also asked to contact Tom E. Huddleston, manager of the U. S. Employment Service office at Sweetwater. The U. S. Empleyment Service has issued a call for combines from this trade zone, and assistance in furnishing machinery will be warmly appreciated.

Singing School for Hermleigh Region

Excellent attendance at daily sessions marks the 15-day singing school started Monday afternoon at Hermleigh's First Baptist Church by Walter Holmes, well known county music instructor.

Holmes states rudiments of music, choir directing and sight reading will be featured during the school, which is expected to attract visiting delegations of singers from virtually all county communities.

The three-week singing school is scheduled to be concluded Friday evening, July 17. Announcements concerning a closing concert and other festivities will be carried in The Times.

Depth Charge Precision Checked

Passed by Censor

Power and precision with which the roller bends a steel plate into a perfect circle to make a depth charge reflects the spirit of Canada's expanding war program. It will be closed at both ends, waterproofed and filled with high explosives—and will be utilized in ridding Atlantic waters of Nazi submarines. Under new war-time regulations, Canada will have 100,000 men and women available by 1943 for war industries.

Wells Yard Buying Borden's Scrap Iron

Frank W. Medley, county agent of Borden County, reports Wells Brothers Wrecking Yard of East Snyder was high bidder last week on Borden County's accumulation of scrap iron—36,000 pounds.

Wells Brothers bid $9 per ton on the scrap iron, and take delivery at Gail. The Wells boys are getting the scrap en route to smelters of the nation, who are running low on this vitally needed maaterial for making steel.

Pair of Signal Corps Men Converge Here

Coincidental arrival in Snyder at the same hour last Thursday proved a pleasant reunion for Private Everett Duke, Signal Corps, U. S. Air Corps at Duncan Field, San Antonia, and Corporal Sam Floyd of the Signal Cops, U. S. Army, Camp Crowder, Missouri.

Duke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Duke and Floyd is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Floyd.

Both soldier boys, who were given 10-day furloughs, arrived in time to attend Scurry County's sixth annual rodeo Friday and Saturday, and expressed the opinion this visit might be their last with home folks for some time. Both young men are scheduled to leave for their respective posts of duty today (Thursday).

Summer Camp for Girls Is Announced

Invitation to Snyder and Scurry County girls, especially girls who reside in the county's rural communities, to attend the Camp Fire girl summer camp, Ca-Bi-La, which opens at Lake Sweetwater Monday, was extended Tuesday by Mrs. Lucille Oglesby of Dallas.

Mrs. Oglesby will direct the summer camp for Camp Fire girls, and states the best way in the world to work up interest in Camp Fire girl groups is to let a delegation of girls attend summer camp. The camp will be held for girls of Scurry, Fisher, Mitchell and Nolan Counties.

One of the heights of disappointment is reached when a friend of long duration drops back into the limbo of mere acquaintances.

Cotton Advances in Week Past to 18.95 Cents, Says Report

In its weekly cotton market review, the agricultural marketing administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports cotton prices gained 55 cents a bale during the past week.

"The 10-market price of 18.95 cents per pound for middling on Friday was 11 points higher than a week ago and compared with 14.62 cents a year ago. Cotton futures also strengthened during the week," the bulletin continues.

"Scattered inquiries for new crop cotton were received in Texas and Oklahoma points, but demand for low grades is very slack. Weather conditions for the week were generally favorable and prospects are brighter in South Texas thaan they have been in several years."

The bulletin concludes by reporting sales of 32,900 bales of cotton last week, compared with 22,000 bales the preceeding week.

Fire Destroys Smith Home at Plainview

Fire of undetermined origin Friday night, around 9:45 o'clock, destroyed the five-room I. F. Smith frame home in the Plainview community. The structure, built several years ago, was located on Highway 15, five miles west of Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Berryhill, who resided in the Smith house, were at the Scurry County rodeo at the time the fire started, as were virtually all their close neighbors.

People of the Plainview community state contributions of any type—food, money or furnishings—will be greatly appreciated by the couple that sustained the "burn out".
