The SDN Column

The Permian Basin Museum newsletter tells the story about the Yankees who had a tough time selling barometers in West Texas. Every time he told a farmer or rancher what the barometer would do, the prospective customer turned away, expressing disinterest.

Finally, he asked an old rancher why nobody in West Texas felt that he needed a barometer.

The old rancher pointed to a two-foot rock hanging by a wire from a post. "When it's standin' straight out in the wind, I know it's time to be a-movin'," he said.

"Crime, like most other problems, has far more causes than solutions," says J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the FBI. "We have today a rising wave of disrespect for the law—not only overt disrespect, but open reluctance and refusal to do the things necessary to make the law effective. Some citizens tend to withdraw and have nothing to do with issues that do not affect them personally. Civic responsibility and public duty are ignored. Most persons, if questioned, would quickly endorse effective law inforcement, but far too many stand by while police are verbally and physically abused."

It brings to mind the type who wants police or the sheriff to do something immediately when the hubcaps are stolen from his car during the night, but is certain that they are "picking on my child" when one of his offspring gets a speeding ticket the next day.

Copies of the new "Texas Hunting Guide, 1971-72" are being distributed now by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. It has summaries of the game laws, as well as five Texas maps which show county-by-county the seasons and bag limits for various types of game.

The department reports that apparently many hunters misinterpreted the new regulation on shotgun plugging. Guns must be plugged to the three-shot capacity for doves. Unplugged guns may be used for hunting non-migratory birds only, and in Texas this includes only quail and turkey. So, if you are going to hunt doves, or any species of ducks, keep your gun plugged to the three-shell limit.

PRESIDENTIAL FROWN — President Richard M. Nixon wears a frown as he talks with Herbert R. Rainwater, center, Commander-in-Chief, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Cooper T. Holt, right, Executive Director, Washington Office, VFW, on his arrival at Memorial Auditorium, Dallas, Tex., Thursday. The President addressed the 72nd annual national convention of the VFW in the last stop on a coast-to-coast tour which the President turned into a hard-sell pitch for support of his economic program. Nixon Concedes Plan Poses Problems But . . .

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon concedes his far-reaching new economic program poses "some problems," but expresses confidence most Americans favor his approach—"and that's what counts."

Nixon made the remarks to newsmen at the Western White House after arriving Thursday night for a two-week stay that follows a cross-country presidential speech-making trip on behalf of his temporary wage-price freeze and other moves.

Faced with rebellion against the freeze by such prominent persons as AFL-CIO President George Meany and Democratic Gov. Preston Smith of Texas, Nixon said some dissension is inevitable but, in his view, his program has "been going very well."

"We have some problems," he said, "but the public reaction is what is important. I think an overwhelming majority of the people throughout the country favor what we're doing, and that's what counts."

Looking a bit weary after a three-day journey that took him to New York, Illinois, Idaho, Wyoming and Texas, Nixon was ready to press ahead with official business today.

The President scheduled a morning conference with California Gov. Ronald Reagan, a fellow Republican, which was expected to focus on the national administration's welfare reform efforts.

Then Nixon and Reagan were going by helicopter to Loma Linda, near San Bernardino, to formally announce plans for construction of a 630-bed Veterans Administration hospital that will be associated with the medical center of Loma Linda University.

The facility will replace a VA hospital in the San Fernando Valley near Los Angeles that was destroyed by the Feb. 9 earthquake.

Nixon, addressing the Dallas convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Thursday—and appearing in a half-empty auditorium that normally seats 10,000—asked for support of his economic policies.

Public Hearings Halted In Probe

AUSTIN (AP) — House investigators looking into the stock fraud scandal called a halt in their public hearings while they consider claims that some of them think originated from ambitious Republicans in Washington.

The five-member House General Investigating Committee recessed indefinitely Thursday after former State Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr told them that he thought "this whole thing is nothing but a calloused, colossal, political hatchet job directed by the Republican administration in Washington.

"I'm writing a letter right away asking assistant U.S. Atty. Gen. Will Wilson when it will be convenient for him to appear before us within the next rhree weeks," said Rep. Menton Murray, Harlingen, chairman of the committee.

Wilson was state attorney general as a Democrat, then was appointed an assistant U.S. attorney general by President Nixon after switching to the Republican Party.

Wilson also was a former attorney for Houston millionnaire real estate man and banker Frank W. Sharp.

Elementary Pupils Register Monday

Elementary school children (grade one through six) in the Snyder Independent School District will register for the fall term Monday afternoon at the school they will attend. Eligible kindergarten children will register at Central Elementary School at the same time.

Registration is set from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday at the elementary schools.

To comply with state regulations, the following is required for registration: 1. A parent or guardian must register each child. Children are not permitted to register or sign registration forms. Therefore, children need not be present for the registration. 2. A birth certificate is required for all children entering the first grade or kindergarten. 3. A health record is required for all children entering kindergarten, first grade, and other students entering the Snyder Public Schools for the first time.

Lunch tickets and fees may be paid during the registration. To defray the cost of workbooks and other supplies, a $2 activity fee is assessed each student. Lunch tickets sell for $8 a month, or $2 a week. Parents are encouraged to pay for tickets at registration. Tickets will be made out and left with the homeroom teacher for opening day of school on Aug. 30.

School policy requires that children attend school in the district in which they live. Definite districts have been set by the school board, and questions pertaining to the district boundaries should be directed to an elementary school principal.

Pallbearers will be Bill Early, Danny Crowder, Quincy Earle, Jack Greene, Dean Floyd and Randy Hayes.

AFTER MINH'S WITHDRAWAL

S-Viets Facing Cut In US Aid

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam faced the threat today of a cut in U.S. aid because of the withdrawal of President Nguyen Van Thieu's only opponent in the presidential race.

The threat was underscored by Sen. Robert J. Dole, chairman of the Republican National Committee. He told reporters he had indicated to Thieu that there will be a critical reaction from Congress, which controls the purse strings.

The Kansan visited Thieu along with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker a few hours after retired Gen. Duong Van Minh announced his withdrawal from the presidential race, leaving the president the only candidate.

Minh charged that Thieu was rigging the election, set for Oct. 3. He said the campaign was being turned into a "dirty farce that can only make the people disbelieve in a democratic regime."

The U.S. Embassy expressed regret that Minh had withdrawan, adding, "Beyond that, we have no further comment." But unimpeachable sources said Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker had returned from Washington Thursday with a warning from President Nixon that it would be difficult to get Congress to approve more aid to the Saigon government if only one candidate is in the race.

The sources said Bunker conveyed this information to Thieu Thursday night and also to Minh in a futile, 11th-hour attempt to persuade the general to stay in the race.

Sources said the Nixon administration might elect to withhold or reduce portions of the aid program to forestall such a move by Congress.

3rd Annual Ranch Day Sept. 11

The third annual presentation of Ranch Day has been scheduled for 2 p.m. to 7 p.m., Sept. 11, at the Scurry County Coliseum according to spokesmen for the Snyder Unit Ranch Headquarters Association.

Festivities for the occassion will begin at 2 p.m. with the Fiddlers contest. Other activities scheduled during the day involve the Art Show, the Country Store, the Boutique, the Magazine, the Historical Survey Display and the Museum Display.

Members of the Snyder Unit engaged in putting the program together are the following: Program — Mrs. J. M. Kayser and Mrs. Jess Everett; Art — Jay Huckabee; Fiddlers — Mrs. Elizabeth Connell; Magazine — T. D. Cramer and Mrs. G. A. Parks, Jr.; Country Store — Misses Myrtle and Fay Harrell; Boutique — Mrs. Malvin Donelson; and Hobby Collections — Mrs. G. A. Parks, Jr.

Persons with hobbies, collections of artifacts or art work related to the development of ranching in the area are invited to contact Mrs. G. A. Parks, Jr., secretary of the organization, for a place on the program.

RAISE ORDER STANDS

Smith Responds To Criticism

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith responded to criticism from the White House today by saying he's been fighting inflation longer than President Nixon, whom he accused of dragging his feet.

The governor said he personally asked Nixon to invoke wage and price controls a year ago.

Smith issued a new statement concerning his order, signed Thursday, that state employes and school teachers must receive scheduled pay raises in defiance of Nixon's wage-price freeze.

He instructed state agency heads to put the salary increases into effect Sept. 1 in open defiance of the freeze, as interpreted by Nixon's Cost of Living Council.

"Personally, I have felt all along that the Nixon administration has really dragged his (sic) feet on inflation. They should have taken this action (the wage-price freeze) long ago, years ago as a matter of fact, if they were really doing their jobs. I personally called on the president to invoke wage and price controls a full year ago," Smith said in a "special memo to newsmen."

Smith asserted he "acted long before Washington did to help Texas cure inflation."

"In January my office began putting on the pressure to cut our budgets and our state expenditures. We held the line. Later, I vetoed many bills, including a two-cent gasoline tax (increase), which would have cost all our citizens more from their family budgets. I also vetoed all the second-year appropriations bill (for the fiscal year starting Sept. 1, 1972) so that our legislature could take another look at it and reduce it to realistic proportions," he said.

Actually, Smith did not veto the gasoline tax, but merely threatened to. The legislature recalled the tax bill from his desk and removed the gasoline item.

Presidential press secretary Ronald Ziegler issued the administration's comment on Smith's defiance shortly after Nixon landed in Dallas Thursday to address the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"It appears that the governor of Texas, for motivations of which only he is aware, is seeking to single out a group of Texans for preferential treatment. We don't think any Texan wants that, particularly at a time when all the nation is banding together to defeat inflation and at a time when many Americans are being requested to make temporary sacrifices for the good of all," the White House statement said.

Smith said Nixon would "understand my motives if he should read the oath of office the governor of Texas takes on inauguration day. The oath is clear. The governor must uphold the laws and the Constitution of the State of Texas."

The state employes and teachers' pay raises are required by state laws.

IN RODEO'S SECOND ROUND

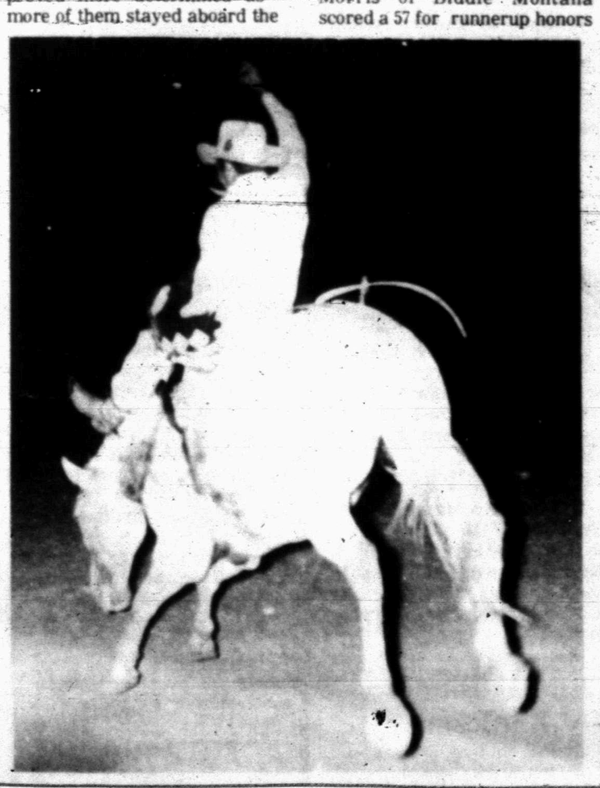

Determined Cowboys Find Animals Ornery

The animals proved ornery again last night during the second performance of the Thirty-fifth annual Scurry County Rodeo, but the cowpokes proved more determined as more of them stayed aboard the bucking broncs.

J. D. Greathouse of Houston took the lead in bareback riding by scoring 68 aboard a spirited animal named Rattler. Johnny Morris of Biddle Montana scored a 57 for runnerup honors of the night. Other bareback tallies included Rae Moore of Houston, 55; and, Connie Robertson of Midland, 43. Four of the contestants failed to stay aboard in this event.

Mark McCloy of Morse and Greathouse shared top honors in the saddle bronc riding event with identical 55 scores. McCoy came out of the chute on Gunsmoke, and Greathouse scored on Hotshot. Dan Corr of Chamberlain, was just a couple of points of the pace with a 53. Wes Hertzog of Dodge City, Kan., tallied 44 points. Four TOUGH RIDE — Contestants in the Thirty-fifth Annual Scurry County Rodeo found Sloan Williams' stock hard to handle again during the second performance of the Rodeo last night. Nobody was able to stay aboard the bulls and only four cowboys rode the bareback broncs until the horn sounded. There were five successful rides on saddle broncs. More of the same action is on tap tonight and Saturday night.

Calley Sentence Reduced

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — Lt. William L. Calley Jr., life sentence for murdering 22 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai was reduced to 20 years today by the 3rd Army commanding general.

Lt. Gen. Albert O. Connor, the first officer to review the case, said the reduction "was appropriate for the offenses." The case now goes up a chain of review ending with President Nixon and further reduction is possible.

Calley, 28, has been confined to his quarters at Ft. Benning, Ga., since his conviction nearly five months ago. He could be eligible for parole after serving nearly seven years of the sentence.

In Salt Lake City, Calley's attorney, George Latimer said: "Obviously I'm pleased. And I'm sure Lt. Calley is thankful to Gen. Connor. Ultimately, of course, we hope to get the situation, upon appeal, so that Lt. Calley will not be the scapegoat of May Lai. The action of Connor's is very favorable."

Stand up and be counted at the polls

DEAR ABBY: I recently turned 18, so last night when I was out with my boy friend and another couple, I mentioned that I was going to register so I could vote.

The other couple [both of them are old enough to vote] said they had no intentions of registering because politics are so rotten these days there is no point in voting. And my boy friend agreed with them!

I just bit my tongue and said nothing because I was outnumbered. I read your column every day, Abby, and I've never run into a problem like this.

Maybe if you say something it will change the minds of people like my friends? CONCERNED AT 18

DEAR CONCERNED: No one said it more brilliantly than Edmund Burke: "The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing."

In a democracy, the place to improve the quality of leadership is in the voting booth. You should have spoken up.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has recently started a catering business and we have a question we would like to have you answer. When we serve weddings, the orchestra expects to be fed just like the guests. We think they are paid to come and do their job, not to eat. Right?

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: The caterer takes his orders about whom to feed from the person who foots the bill. But it seems only fair to feed musicians who work over a period of time which includes a meal. [Or would you have them bring hot dogs in their clarinet cases?]

DEAR ABBY: Two months ago I quit a job I really liked and took another one which paid twice as much money. Outcome: I hated my work and by the time you get this I will have quit.

My problem is that I am 21 years old and will be getting married in two weeks, and everyone including my fiancee will be disappointed in me for not keeping the job that paid so well.

Abby, how can I explain to people that the only true luxury in life is peace of mind, and without it, all the extras which can be purchased with money are useless?

I know we would be much better off financially if I stayed with my old job, but if I have to practically beat myself with a whip to go to work, I don't think I could be much of a husband.

Is it too much to ask that other people understand why I am changing jobs to make less money and be happier?

SAN ANTONIO ED

DEAR ED: I understand and respect your values, but then I am not your wife. Your problem is worrying too much about what "other people" will think.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Labor Leaders Attack Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Declaring there are too many exemptions in President Nixon's wage-price-rent freeze, organized labor has revolted and asked Congress to impose more equitable controls. AFL-CIO President George Meany, in a scorching attack on Nixon that was backed by most other labor leaders — the teamsters were a notable exception — said the freeze will halt all workers' wage hikes but won't halt inflation because not all prices are frozen.

"Eggs, fruits and vegetables — which every housewife must buy for her family—are exempt from the freeze. The 10-per-cent border tax on imports will be passed on to the consumer," Meany said.

Interest rates, that affect living costs, and business profits are also exempt from the freeze, he complained.

The 77-year-old, cigar-chomping ex-plumber accused Nixon of deliberately misleading Americans about the gravity of economic problems, and called on Congress to kill Nixon's requested business tax credit, arguing it would enrich corporations without creating new jobs for the nation's 5.3 million unemployed.

Meany, backed by the full executive council of the 13.6-million-member labor federation, also said Congress should enact controls on profits and interest rates, expenses accounts, stocks and bonds and all other forms of income if the freeze remains on wages and prices.

Teamsters Union President Frank Fitzsimmons, representing 2 million workers in the nation's largest union, said teamsters will follow the President's requests.

Fitzsimmons also criticized the lack of controls on profits, dividends and interests but he praised the general action as "a bold measure to preserve the economy of this nation."

Meany said he doesn't believe Nixon plans to end the freeze at the end of 90 days in mid-November.

He urged unions to cancel any labor contracts under which scheduled wage hikes are frozen by Nixon's order, and to strike if necessary to win more wage increases to go into effect when the freeze is lifted.

Meany suggested unions might consider their contracts nullified by Nixon if "contractual provisions are impaired and members suffer losses."

Dinner Honors WTC Faculty

With most of them still "trying to put names and faces together," Western Texas College faculty members and their wives and-or husbands, were guests of the board of trustees at a dinner last night at the Snyder Country Club.

It was the second time the faculty had been together, the first being Thursday morning at their first orientation session. For council wives and husbands it was the first time they had an opportunity to meet other faculty members and their spouses.

Dr. Robert L. Clinton, president of the college, presided during the informal program, which included brief remarks by Dr. Robert Hargrove, vice president of the board of trustees, Mel Gilbert, President of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, and Snyder Mayor Bobby McCormick. The Rev. Jesse Dea, president of the Scurry County Ministerial Alliance, greeted the faculty families on behalf of area churches.

Both McCormick and Gilbert urged the college faculty members and their families to consider themselves a welcome addition to the community and encouraged them to participate in all activities available here. Dr. Hargrove said that he had never worked with a finer group than the trustees of the college and that he was confident that the faculty and staff were composed of the same type of people who are dedicated to building a first class college. Pointing to a variety of community assets, Dr. Hargrove said, "I am not bragging, but I'm just proud of these things."

Board members and their wives were introduced, along with guests, and each faculty and staff member introduced himself, or herself, and wife or husband.

Dr. Clinton concluded the program by telling the faculty that they were about to begin teaching in "an atmosphere of freedom you won't believe," but he cautioned that they would be held accountable by the community for their product.

"You will be responsible to this community and above all you will be responsible to the students for the job you do," Dr. Clinton concluded.

Determined

cowboys failed to score; however, Steve Crowder of Sopris, Colo., will get a re-ride.

The bulls were especially mean. None of the six contestants was able to stay on until the horn sounded.

There also is a new leader in the girls' barrel race with JoAnn Whitehead of Morton leading. She rounded the three barrels in 17.3 seconds, best time of the rodeo. There were several other good times as Vicki Johnson of Snyder posted a 17.5 and Cindy Beavers of Fluvanna socred a 17.8 Marie Voss of Snyder also had a 17.3, but she was penalized five seconds for knocking a barrel over and ended up with a 22.3. Other scores: Sharon Cobb of Midland, 18.2; Judy Deatherage of Anson, 18.4; Tanna Springer of Snyder, 18.8; Vickie Blankenship of Snyder, 19.5; Marla Thomas of Lamesa, 19.8; Becky Harrell of Snyder, 21.3; and, Kathy Harrell of Snyder, 23.1.

George Maule of Hermleigh grabbed the lead in stockholders steer roping with a 14 second performance, and Gail Pettitt of Odessa turned in the best time in stockholder's calf roping with a 20.4. Scores of other steer ropers: Mickey Burleson of Snyder, 26.2; Joe Beaver of Fluvanna, 36.4; and, Rex Cox of Gail, 48.5. Other scores in calf roping: Mike Seago of Clairemont, 21.3; Jerry Springer of Snyder, 25.6; and, Bo Robinson of Snyder, 31.6.

Floyd Ledman won the wild mare race. Robert Bantey was first in junior goat sacking, and Bobby Adams was second.

Joe Hall of Eunice, N. M. was timed in 13.6 in the tiedown calf roping for the best time of the night. Kenny Hart of Snyder was runnerup with a 15.1. Other scores: Mark Mills of Abilene, 16.3; Bo Robinson of Snyder, 18.5; and, Rex Cox of Gail, 41.6. Four of the contestants failed to post times.

Hoyle Nix and his West Texas Playboys again provided western music for the contestants and fans following the rodeo. His band will perform again for dances following the events tonight and Saturday night.

Sniper Kills Policeman

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — A rookie policeman died today from a sniper's bullet in the head—the second South Texas officer to be wounded Thursday.

The Corpus Christi victim was Juan W. Surtain, 22, who was shot as he walked out of the police station around 10:45 p.m. to begin his night patrol. He died at mid-morning today.

Earlier Thursday, Leo Ward, a Mission policeman, was wounded by one or both of two men he had stopped for a routine traffic investigation. One of the men surrendered to officers later.

Corpus Christi officers combed a wide area behind the police station in a search for the sniper who hit Surtain but found no trace of the assailant.

Apollo 15 Crew To Visit Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayor Richard J. Daley's office has announced that the Apollo 15 astronauts have accepted an invitation to visit Chicago Sept. 15.

A spokesman predicted a "typical Chicago welcome" for David R. Scott, James B. Irwin and Alfred M. Worden, who returned from their mission Aug. 7.

About two million persons turned out to greet the Apollo 11 astronauts when they came here in August 1969.

WTC Music Scholarships Are Available

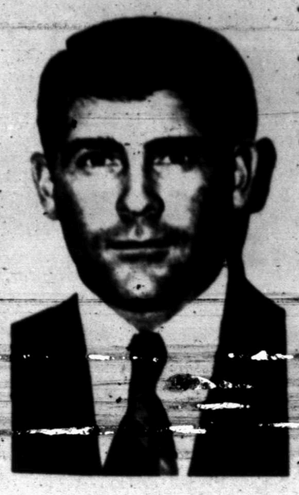

Music scholarships for certain areas of talent are still available at Western Texas College, according to Dr. Marvin Genuchi, chairman of the music department.

Dr. Genuchi is putting together a stage band and states that "In the instrumental field, we are in need of some good personnel for the stage band.

"We need, an experienced lead alto sax man, a good drummer, and an experienced jazz guitarist. In the choral field, we need an alto soloist and a bass-baritone soloist."

Dr. Genuchi indicated that another field still open is the piano area. The department needs accompanists for the choral group, for the voice and for instrumental majors.

He encouraged all interested to apply in writing to the college offices at 3610 Avenue S, or to come by and see him at the offices prior to final enrollment.

ROBERT R. HARDIN

Robert Hardin On Sul Ross College Staff

ALPINE — Receiving his M.A. Degree from Sul Ross University, Robert R. Hardin has accepted a guest instructorship in health and physical education beginning this fall at Sul Ross.

A graduate of Stamford High School in 1958, Hardin attended San Angelo Junior College on a football scholarship from 1958-1960. He then did a tour of duty with the U.S. Army and served with the First Calvary Division in Koreo before entering Sul Ross in 1965. He completed his Bachelor of Science Degree at Sul Ross and began graduate studies here in 1969.

Hardin taught in the Alpine Head Start Program in 1969 and was the director of the Alpine Recreation Program in 1970. He was a graduate assistant at Sul Ross from 1969-1971. During this same period, he served as Intromural Director and was elected as Most Outstanding Man Health and Physical Education Major of 1968-1969.

Hardin, 32, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hardin of 3111 Avenue X in Snyder.

Plane Crash Kills Three

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — A Downeast Airlines plane carrying eight persons crashed Thursday night in dense fog on an approach to Augusta State Airport. The Federal Aviation Administration said the pilot and two of his seven passengers were killed.

Police earlier had said that six persons died in the crash on a wooded peak some four miles from the Augusta airfield.

The twin-engine Piper Navajo had been on a flight from Boston to Rockland, Maine, but was diverted to Augusta because of heavy fog, the FAA said.

A spokesman for the Maine State Police identified the pilot as Dwight R. French Jr., 40, of Enterprise, Ala.

Also killed in the crash were Walter N. Kernan, 53, of Milton, Mass., and Michael Mewes, 8, of Brussels, Belgium.

At Augusta General Hospital were Klaus Newes, 47, of Brussels, the father of the dead boy; his wife, Virginia, 42; and two daughters, Christian, 12, and Gabriella, 6; and Jeanne Mahon, 34, of South Bristol.

Cause of the crash was not determined.

A state trooper said the plane "chopped off some trees and ripped wide open."

The plane was last heard from at 9:40 p.m. State and local police began a search about an hour later and the plane was found about 2 a.m.

Living Costs Rise Slightly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rise in Americans' living costs slowed markedly in July to an increase of two-tenths of one per cent—the smallest hike in six months, the government reported today.

The report, covering a period before President Nixon froze all wages and most prices on Aug. 14, said a decline in prices of clothing and transportation partially offset continuing increases for food, housing, medical care and recreation.

The report was issued amid a revolt by organized labor which complained the freeze covers all wages but not all living costs.

The July increase, only one-third the size of June's six-tenths boost, brought the government's consumer price index up to 121.8 of its 1967 base, meaning it cost $12.18 last month for every $10.00 worth of typical family purchases four years ago.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics also said average weekly earnings of some 45 million rank-and-file workers fell 35 cents to $127.22. This was still $5.77 per week above a year earlier, but after deductions for the year's rise in living costs was only worth 38 cents more.

However, the bureau said that, when the effects of both inflation and federal taxes were deducted, the average weekly take home pay was 49 cents less than a year ago.

AFL-CIO President George Meany and other top labor leaders have complained that workers suffered most from inflation and that the wage-price freeze would hurt them even more.

Living costs, the bureau's report said, were 4.4 per cent above a year ago, compared with a 5.5 per cent rise for calendar 1970 and 6.1 per cent the year before.

The bureau said grocery prices rose six-tenths of one per cent because of increases for pork, beef, fruit, vegetables, and sharp hikes for eggs, bakery and some dairy products.

Eggs and fresh fruits and vegetables are among items Nixon exempted from the price freeze both at the farm and supermarket levels.

Housing costs rose four-tenths of one per cent, including a two-tenths rise for rent and increases for mortgage interest, property taxes and insurance.

Rents now are frozen by Nixon's 90-day freeze, but interest rates and state and local taxes are exempted. The administration asked for a voluntary curbing by banks of interest rates during the freeze.

Arabs Form New Union

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The leaders of Egypt, Syria and Libya put their signatures today on a constitution that will bind their countries in a federal union.

The constitution will be submitted to a referendum in the three countries Sept. 1 and is certain to be overwhelmingly endorsed.

The new union, to be known as the Federation of Arab Republics, will have a population of more than 43 million.

The three countries will try to work out a common military strategy against Israel and a common foreign policy.

Each will be responsible for its own internal affairs.

Presidents Anwar Sadat of Egypt, Hafez al Assad of Syria and Libyan leader Col. Muammar Kadafi signed the federal constitution document in the state guest palace, winding up a three-day conference in the Syrian capital.

Fire Put Out

Mother Convicted Of Starving Tot

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Irene P. Martinez was convicted Thursday night of starving to death her 9-months-old daughter and a jury today was to determine the woman's fate.

Mrs. Martinez, 19, could receive anything from a two-year jail term to death.

The woman had testified the little girl, Yolanda, was the product of a rape which she said occurred before her marriage to a serviceman now serving in Vietnam.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Q. I have to paint a picket fence soon. It's a long fence and it was a tough job the last time doing it with a regular paint brush. Can I use a sprayer this time or would that be a big waste of paint?

A. — No doubt about it. Spraying a picket fence will waste some paint, since some of it will be lost in the air. But you'll find it a lot easier than brushing or even rolling. Do it on a non-windy day. Hold the spray gun about 10 inches from the fence and at right angles to it whenever possible. Use steady, even strokes, avoiding circular or arcing movements.

Q.—A couple of months ago you advised a reader to remove efflorescence from a brick wall before painting it. I believe you suggested one part of muriatic acid to 10 parts of water. My neighbor says this is not necessary and has backed up his opinion by painting his driveway brick wall even though much of it was covered by a white, powdery substance. That was two weeks ago and everything seems fine. Can you explain?

A.—It won't be very long—perhaps a few weeks—before the paint on your neighbor's wall begins to blister and peel.

Q.—We bought a house three months ago. The concrete floor of the garage has a dusty surface. We have tried sweeping it many times. It looks fine for a while, then the dust comes back. It seems to be coming right from the concrete. What causes this and how can we fix it?

A.—There are half a dozen reasons why concrete keeps throwing off dust as autos and people move across it. The most common is that there was too much sand or too little cement (which is the same thing) in the original mixture. Another cause is excessive troweling. The easiest way to eliminate the dust is to give it two coats of one of the sealer paints.

Q.—Before the summer began, the man who delivered our fuel oil told us to keep the tank in our basement filled to the top. We followed his advice. Now we have been told that the fuel dealer merely wanted to sell us some extra oil and that we actually created a fire hazard by keeping the tank full. Which of these opinions is correct?

A.—If you use the same fuel oil company regularly, as most home owners do, there would be no advantage to the company in filling your tank at the start of summer. No, that wasn't the reason for his advice. He wanted to protect your tank from condensation, which can form on the inside and eventually cause rust. When the tank is full, very little of the inside walls are exposed to moisture. For the same reason, automobile authorities suggest that the tank in your car be kept as nearly filled as possible. When you wait until the tank is nearly empty before purchasing gasoline, the inside walls are much more susceptible to condensation.

Anecdotes About Opera Composers

MY FAVORITE INTERMISSIONS. By Victor Borge and Robert Sherman. Doubleday. $4.95.

In this frivolous little book the authors—Borge the musician and entertainer, Sherman a music critic—have collected some of the zany happenings from the private and public lives of the composers of operas and operettas.

Strewing puns, wisecracks and irreverent footnotes in all directions, they have recounted scores of anecdotes—not the least of which are concerned with the horrors created by temperamental singers.

Here are a few of the oddities they have turned up:

Mozart proposed to Marie Antoinette the first time he met her (they both were seven years old at the time). Beethoven, whose one opera had two titles, three productions and four overtures, munched on zweiback dipped in wine while writing one of the overtures. Handel filched rias from the works of other composers, and even stole from some of his own earlier works. Rossini, "the laziest man in town," usually composed in bed.

Bizet's "Carmen" was a complete flop until after his death. Verdi became rich and famous, but always wanted to "stay down on the farm and grow beets." Borodin was a Russian general and a famous chemist. Wagner "wore pink underwear, climbed trees and liked to stand on his head."

It's all very amusing.

Miss Grove Attends Regional Conference

The Southwest Regional Conference of The Delta Kappa Gamma Society was held in the Broadview Hotel, Wichita, Kansas, July 26-29. More than 550 members from the 11 states in the region attended. Mrs. Arletta Williams, Reading and Language Consultant for the Davis County School District of Utah and Director of the Southwest Region, was in charge of the Conference.

The Delta Kappa Gamma Society, the largest organization of women educators in the world, has more than 116,000 members in 2288 chapters in the 50 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, six provinces of Canada, and Norway.

The Program Theme and Focus for 1971-1972 was presented by Mrs. Loretta Halek, International Program Coordinator. The Educational Foundation, the Scholarship Program, World Fellowship, Seminars, Long Range Planning, Legislation, Membership, and Insurance were other topics presented and discussed in the five general sessions and smaller work sessions.

Miss Catherine Rathman, International Executive Secretary, was the keynote speaker. Miss Wanda May Vinson, First Vice President of Kansas (Phi) State and Director of the Kansas Association FOR Youth for the Kansas State High School Activities Association, spoke at the Birthday Luncheon on "Rise and Build." The climax of the conference was the Founders and Presidents Banquet at which Dr. Mary Frances White, International President, spoke.

Miss Virginia Grove, member of Zeta Lambda Chapter of Snyder, attended the conference and was Texas (Alpha) leader of one of the section meetings on legislation.

CHOCOLATE CREAM CAKE

We found this rich dessert, contributed by a transplanted New Yorker, in a Vermont regional cookbook.

5 large eggs, separated
1 cup sugar
1 can (1 pound) chocolate syrup
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup unsifted flour
1 container (½ pint) heavy cream

Beat egg yolks until thickened; gradually beat in sugar until ivory color; beat in half (¾ cup) of the chocolate syrup. Fold in salt, vanilla and flour. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold in. Bake in ungreased 9-inch springform pan in a preheated 325-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—1 hour. Invert on rack and cool. Remove from pan; cut in half horizontally. Beat cream until almost stiff; gradually beat in remaining chocolate syrup (¾ cup) until very stiff. Spread a little less than half the cream between cake layers and frost top and sides with rest. Refrigerate.

Girls Will Run To Beautician When Their First Wrinkles Show

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Young girls may scorn professional beauty advice as being old-hat. But just wait until the wrinkles show—about age 30 will do it—says George Masters of Hollywood, one of the most high-priced beauticians in the world. On a tour of beauty salons he recently was in New York at a fee of $150 dollars for 45 minutes of his beauty time.

"A girl may feel she is too groovy to care about her looks, but when she looks into the mirror one day, and sees the first signs of aging—under the eyes and at the corners of the mouth—she'll run to a beautician for help."

Masters doesn't want to beautify young girls anyway—"not unless they have laryngitis and can't talk," he says. They are too opinionated, "and they all want to look alike."

Some of the most beautiful women in the world have sat for Masters' ministrations—Marilyn Monroe, Audrey Hepburn, Sophia Loren, Doris Day. He says he beautified Princess Radziwell for the opening night of her first play, and a few years ago he made over Lynda Bird Johnson for her appearance at the Academy Awards with George Hamilton.

He prefers to help women "over 30, the insecure age." They are then willing to follow his advice and it makes his job easier. But he scorns the "Mainliner tribe," who never change their image, and their daughters are the same, he says.

"These fairly rich women, one encounters in certain areas, dress in a uniform, much as the groovy kids do. They are the worst dressed of all women and are obnoxious with their nasty polo coats worn from year to year, plaid walking shorts, red lipstick and in their short hair, barettes. Ugh...."

He doesn't mean to imply these women should wear the latest fashions. Women should wear what looks well on them. But it is as bad to wear a uniform of your set as it is to wear a fashion rad, he says.

"Some women do not dress well because they worry about their neighbors. 'If I wear false eyelashes, my friends will think I'm unnatural ... or they will tell me that their husband might have said, 'why bother....'

"When your husband says, why bother, watch out," Masters tells them. "If you don't bother another woman will."

Another beauty mistake women make is concentrating on one thing ... jewelry ... hair or whatever.

"If someone says your hair looks great, brush it out. It has become too important. You don't want someone staring at your hair all evening. It is sort of like wearing those jangle bracelets that call attention to you.

"Think of yourself as an image. Look well in everything, but nothing should be too outstanding. Hair styles are dumdum anyway. Wear your hair in the most becoming fashion. You live only once. Make the most of it."

Along those lines, Masters would have his face lifted as tight as possible if he needed it, he says. More women should do it.

Women clamor for his outspoken advice and services no matter what the fee. In New York he was booked solidly for two weeks at the $150 figure. In Philadelphia it was $100. In Las Vegas, three years ago, he charged $5,000 each to five women a day during a convention. He painted some of them from head to toe, he said.

But he must do some good with his talent too, he explains. He puts on beauty shows at prisons and cuts the hair of [illegible] pitals because he must feel he "is doing something for the good of humanity."

He says he has been invited to be beauty consultant to the United States Army and he is considering donating his services to that cause. To spur lady enlistments, of course.

Wall Street Slow To Offer Advice On Plan

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street has been slow to offer its advice on the meaning of the new economic game plan, a plan which inevitably will have an enormous impact on stock and bond prices.

The first reaction by the market, sharply higher prices, was to have been expected, because professionals and amateurs alike had been awaiting any news that could be interpreted optimistically.

Now that enough time has passed for appraisals of the President's startling announcements to be made, few of any depth have been produced, despite the fact that no more important news to the market has been announced in decades.

One widely distributed market letter announced a "Special Report" which it said was an extended analysis of the President's "dramatic economic and international monetary proposals in an investment context."

Amidst hundreds of words, one can find this bit of wisdom: "American industry and American stocks look better; foreign industry and foreign stocks look less attractive than before."

Poised always to offer instant opinions on events of the most miniscule importance, the research departments of some Wall Street houses are almost without firm, specific advice on a change that means nothing less than a brand new economic world.

Meanwhile, a brand new mutual fund gives a preview of some new considerations which will further burden analysts in years to come.

The Pax World Fund, just announced, hopes to make a contribution tc world peace as well as to investor's pocketbooks.

"The diversified, no-load fund was created to provide investors with security, regular income and possible long-term growth," its announcement states.

Formed by two ministers of the United Methodist Church's Board of Social Concerns, and by private money managers, it will seek investments in companies "that are not to any degree engaged in manufacturing defense or weapon-related products."

Liquor, tobacco and gambling industries are out. And given preference for investment are companies with fair employment practices. The requirements mean that a large number of blue chip companies cannot even be considered.

Sammy Davis Jr. Replacing Ali

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. is replacing former heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali as grand marshal of the Watts Summer Festival parade.

A prior boxing exhibition commitment forced Ali, grand marshal in 1967, to withdraw, officials said Wednesday.

The 400 persons who attended the festival's opening ceremonies at Will Rogers Park in the predominantly black area received the news of Davis' selection with enthusiasm, officials said.

The festival and parade Sunday commemorate the 1965 Watts riots.

Junior Editors Quiz on SILK

QUESTION: Where does silk come from and how is it made?

• • •

ANSWER: Silk is the thread or cloth made from the fine web of the silkworm, a certain type of caterpillar. The web is a cocoon that the worm spins during the stage of its development from larva to moth. Each cocoon produces 2,000 to 3,000 feet of silk. This larva or caterpillar feeds on leaves of the mulberry tree.

The secret of making silk thread and cloth was known to the Chinese about 4,000 years ago. There is a legend that a young Chinese empress discovered that shining threads could be unwound from the cocoon of the silk worm. It is thought that she experimented with the raising of silk worms and the use of silk threads for weaving. For hundreds of years the Chinese guarded the secret of raising the silk worm and making silk. The Persians were the great traders of the ancient world. They brought silk from China to Greece and Rome. In the 3rd century A.D., Japan became interested in the silk industry. The silk culture came to Europe in the 6th century. Italy engaged in a flourishing silk business and the Italian silk merchants became famous for their brocades, damasks and velvets made of Italian-grown silk. For years, the United States purchased raw silk from China, Japan and Italy. The silk trade was interrupted by World War II. The war placed the burden of supplying America's needs upon the artificial silk manufacturers. Synthetic fibers were made by the chemists; rayon and nylon emerged as a good imitation of silk.

Remarks Bartenders Tire Of

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a bartender gets tired of hearing:

"The trouble with me is—"

"Doesn't the house ever break down and buy a round?"

"I can whip any man in the place, and if he's an Englishman I can whip him twice."

"Murphy, you've had your hand in the till so long you ought to be able to afford to open up two joints of your own.

"What do you mean I've had my fill? They've never made enough of the stuff to give me my fill."

"Murphy, is that the third cockroach I've seen on the back bar since I came in, or is it the same one going around in circles?"

"Just line up 12 martinis in a row on the bar. I'm going to drown my sorrows or get awfully wet trying."

"Where'd you get the idea it was my turn? I bought the last round."

"Why don't you put a couch in the back room, Murphy, and moonlight as a psychiatrist?"

"What if I did drink three-fourths of the highball before I saw the lipstick on the rim? The way I see it you either pour me a free drink or I make a telephone call to the Health Department."

"I don't want to start any trouble, Murphy, but that little lady sitting at the corner table looks pretty lonely. Is it all right if I go over and try to cheer her up? What's that? Well, you don't have to lose your temper. How did I know she's your wife?"

"Well, I guess I've had all I need for the road. Show me which one of those cars out there is mine and I'll drive home."

"Murphy, did you hear the one about the convicted Irish rebel who tripped as he was being led up an English scaffold. He stopped, kicked the offending step and swore, 'These bloody Protestants will be the death of me yet!' Not bad, eh?"

New Grass Is Released

RENNER, Tex. (AP) — Texas Research Foundation near Dallas has released a new, pasture grass to livestock producers for seeding in the spring of 1972.

The variety, named Renner lovegrass, is a more palatable lovegrass strain, foundation spokesmen say.

In grazing trials, Renner lovegrass has been readily accepted by beef cattle. The variety has been specifically selected for its high palatability and beef yields. The new grass originated in Basutoland, South Africa.

"With its wide leaf and upright growth, Renner lovegrass is easily identified as a separate species from weeping lovegrass, including Ermelo lovegrass," said Dr. C. L. Lundell, director of the foundation, in announcing the release to producers.

"First off-station seedings are being made at Renner's pasture and rangeland demonstration sites across Texas," Dr. Lundell added.

Like Ermelo lovegrass, also introduced by the foundation in 1954 and planted on 200,000 acres in Texas, Renner lovegrass is expected to thrive in a wide range of soil types in the northern half of the state when properly managed. Its seed supply is limited and will bring a fancy price. Due to shattering at harvest time, seed yield is low compared with Ermelo.

School Tax Hike Needed By Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — A six-cent tax hike is needed by the Dallas School District to implement the court-ordered desegregation plan, Supt. Nolen Estes told the school board plan.

The increase from $1.39 to $1.45 per $100 valuation at 54 cent market value, would raise $2.3 million, Estes said.

The $2.3 million supplemental budget will raise the district's total 1971-72 school budget for maintenance and operation to $108.3 million or some $10 million above last year's budget.

The board's original $106 million budget presented at a July public hearing would not have required a tax increase because of an $8 million surplus in the present budget.

Spurs Move Up Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Arkansas Travelers have done it again.

Already notorious for their extra inning exploits, the Travs split a doubleheader with Birmingham Thursday night, with both games going into extra frames. It was the 22nd and 23rd times this year the Travs have needed more than the regulation number of innings to decide a baseball game.

Thursday night, Arkansas lost the scheduled seven inning opener in nine innings 2-1, and then came back to edge Birmingham 1-0 in twelve innings of a scheduled seven-inning nightcap.

In other action in the Dixie Association, Dallas-Fort Worth ripped Albuquerque 9-3 to move within two games of Amarillo in the West division. Amarillo was rained out at their game in San Antonio. Meanwhile, Shreveport beat Memphis 3-1, Montgomery ripped Jacksonville 13-0 and the East division stayed tight as first place Asheville won the second game of a doubleheader with Charlotte 4-1 after Charlotte had moved into a virtual tie for first with a 4-2 win in the first game. Savannah and Columbus were not scheduled.

Contributions Helped Flames

Several local business firms and individuals made contributions to the Snyder Flames this year so that they could host a softball tournament.

Businesses and individuals who made contributions are Snyder National Bank, West Texas State Bank, Don Adams, Clark Lumber Company, Jack Craft, Deffebach Agency, Dryden's Shoe Store, Pete Davis, Erwin's Jewelry, Faye Eubanks, Hamblen Music Co., Dr. John Hamblen, Hinshaw's House of Flowers, House of Fabrics, Hugh Boren & Son, Lota Burger, McCormick & Sons, Tommy McMann, Lynn Palmer, Penny's, Roe's Furniture, Bill Schiebel, Scurry County Abstract Co., E. E. Spears, Stephen's Office Supply, Marlin Terrell, Texas Electric, Thompson's Shoe Store, White's Auto, Whitfield's Fabric Shop, Williams' Jewelry and Ballard's Cafe.

Mike Hill Takes Lead At Philley

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mike Hill's biggest problem on the golf tour is to get people to stop calling him Dave.

"It's not easy. Mike looks a lot like Dave, and if you close your eyes you'd swear it was Dave talking.

The easiest way to tell the two apart, however, is on the golf course, where younger brother Mike is as different from Dave as a hole-in-one is from a double bogey.

You could see the difference Thursday after Mike fired a seven under par 35-30—65 to take the first round lead in the $150,000 Industrial Valley Bank Philadelphia Golf Classic.

He leads by a stroke over Jack Nicklaus, who shot 32-24—66 at the Whitemarsh Valley County Club course. Bracketed at 67 as the field of 147 started and the second round Friday were Bob Rosburg, Bob Murphy and Tom Weiskopf.

The handsome, dark-haired Hill, from Jackson, Mich., isn't as intense as brother Dave who is suing the PGA for a million dollars over a fine leveled against him. Mike is the first to admit he's not as outspoken as Dave.

"No sir, I don't even attempt it," he snapped, when asked if he spoke his piece in the Dave Hill tradition.

Dave is a bug on the technical angle of the game. Mike has a natural swing and is concerned mostly about keeping it in the groove. He also believes that a large percentage of successful golf game is mental.

Mike was having his problems two months ago, so he decided to take a rest. He sat out the Canadian and Milwaukee Opens before rejoining the tour for the Western Open. He came back in a better frame of mind and hasn't finished worse than sixth since then, earning in excess of $18,000. He moved from 95th to 55th on the money winning list, and has now earned $28,242.

He had 30 putts for his Thursday round with seven one-putt greens and only one three-putt bogey hole. He missed only one green and saved par there with a pitch from the fringe to within about six inches of the cup.

He's seeking his first victory on the tour since the 1969 Doral Open.

Nicklaus, who made a special point to play in the Philadelphia Classic because he withdrew last year after one round, was pleased with his six under par round. He also had an eagle on the fifth, hitting a three iron 11 feet from the pin and holing it. He had six birdies and a pair of three-putt bogeys.

FULFILLING A DREAM — Jackie Jackson, who pitches and plays first base in a men's unlimited softball league, wants to become the first woman to play professional baseball. Miss Jackson, a 23-year-old cost analyst, has been granted a tryout Saturday with the Pittsfield Senators, Washington's Eastern League franchise in Massachusettes. "This is a lifelong dream," she said. "I grew up with a bat in my hand." (AP Wirephoto)

Frogs Will Have Strong Defense

By PAT TRULY
Fort Worth Star-Telegram
Written for Associated Press

FORT WORTH (AP) — Not all football players enjoy spring training; it is a lot of work, after all. But Ronnie Peoples had a ball last April at TCU.

"It felt good," he says. "That was the first time I'd been able to go through spring training since I was a sophomore in high school."

That would have been the spring of 1966. The next year, when Peoples was a junior at Odessa High, he had a shoulder operation. As a senior he didn't have to work in the spring. As a TCU freshman (he roomed with Steve Judy, the Frogs' record-setting quarterback) Peoples sat out the spring with a knee operation, and further knee trouble sidelined him until last fall, when, as a redshirt sophomore, he started a couple of games.

This spring, he was a sensation.

"I've got a lot of respect for that old boy," says coach Jim Pittman. "He'll catch the ball and he'll hit you. He likes to hit."

Another TCU player says of Peoples, "If he has a choice of dodging one man or running over 12, he'll run over 12."

And that explains how Peoples, 6-3 and 220 pounds of frustrated football player, became TCU's No. 1 tight end and a co-captain. He's admired by coaches and players alike.

"He's had so many heartbreaks," says Judy. "Ronnie's been waiting for this year so long."

The Frogs, and their fans, have been waiting a long time for a resurgence, for a winner. They think maybe they've found the answer in Pittman, who begins his first season at the TCU rudder after pulling Tulane from the doldrums to a bowl game.

Pittman figures the first assignment for himself and his staff is to get the maximum from the talent on hand.

Some of it is top talent—Judy, Peoples, defensive tackle Ken Steel—but one of Pittman's major worries is that there isn't enough of it.

The pleasant surprises of the spring (Peoples, sophomore quarterback Kent Marshall, linemen Craig Fife, Sidney Bond and Charlie Davis, linebackers Gary Whitman and Dale Ladner and halfback Steve Patterson) were not numerous enough to allay concern about depth.

The Frogs go into the fall with a tough defense and an uncertain offense. Pittman certifies the defense as enthusiastic and full of second effort, adding that the ends, tackles and secondary positions are reasonably solid.

His major problems are depth and linebacker, where Tookie Berry is a gem and others have farther to go yet.

Judy, of course, is the offensive spark. Assistant coach Russell Coffee compares him to Duke Carlisle, former Texas star, but adds that Judy is a better passer. It is his running ability which will make the Frogs go if they stick with the wishbone offense they used in the spring.

Other capable runners are available in fullback Bobby Davis, halfbacks Larry Harris and Billy Sadler, and Marshall, but the ground game remains questionable.

The offensive line is also a question mark. "From tackle to tackle," says Pittman, "we have to improve."

He promised no miracles. Just a lot of hard work. For guys like Ronnie Peoples, that's fine. They've been waiting.

Dallas Takes On Browns Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — When the starting offense of the Cleveland Browns is announced to Dallas Cowboy fans in the Cotton Bowl tonight, there is apt to be a few cheers—or sighs, anyway—when Mike Phipps is announced as starting quarterback.

That will mean the Browns' veteran signal caller, weak-kneed Bill Nelsen, is not at the helm.

Nelsen, should any Cowboy fan have forgotten, guided the Browns past the Cowboys 31-20 in the 1968 NFL Eastern title game and humiliated them the following year, 42-10, in the game for the same marbles.

Nelsen may see some action, his first of the season.

But before Cowboy enthusiasts get too excited, they had perhaps take a second look at Phipps.

The second-year veteran from Purdue took the Browns on three touchdown drives, all over 70 yards, in the San Francisco game which they lost 38-24.

The Cowboys will be hoping to keep their winning streak going after easily beating Los Angeles and New Orleans.

The road-weary Browns—this is their third pre-seasoner away from home—have also lost to the Rams.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry says he will go with quarterback Craig Morton, since Roger Staubach has a few bruised ribs.

Dallas will be without tight end Mike Ditka and linebacker Lee Roy Jordan, while the Browns will be missing offensive tackle Dick Schafrath and defensive end Jack Gregory.

Quite a few veterans switched teams via the waiver route Thursday, including Jerry Rhome, Jack Clancy and Eugene Moore.

Rhome, who spent five years with Dallas and one with Houston, was picked up by the Los Angeles Rams on waivers from the Oilers. Rhome will battle Karl Sweetan and John Walton for the job as Roman Gabriel's back-up man.

Clancy, a former starter with the Miami Dolphins and Green Bay Packers, moved from Green Bay to Atlanta on Waivers. Clancy caught 67 passes in 1967 with Miami, an AFL record for rookies.

Moore, a running back in his third season, was picked up by New Orleans from Baltimore. The Saints also picked up guard Jack Stambaugh on waivers from Cincinnati, and dealt rookie center Wimpy Winther to Green Bay for an undisclosed draft choice.

The New York Giants moved to bolster their receiving corps by acquiring Phil Odle from Detroit on waivers.

Business Transaction Controversial?

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The National Football League and the Kansas City Crime Commission were reported at odds Thursday night over a business transaction involving all-pro safety Johnny Robinson.

The commission has questioned whether the NFL should have allowed Robinson to enter into a transaction that resulted in his corporation owing $275,000 to a Kansas City man with a police record.

The transaction involves the purchase of the Mirror Lake Town Club, now Johnny Robinson's Swim and Tennis Club.

This was done with a $75,000 down payment and a promisory note signed by Robinson for $275,000, payable to Edward P. "Eddie Spitz" Osadchey and his wife.

The NFL told The Associated Press Thursday it had already investigated the matter, regarded the transaction as a "simple purchase of property," and criticized the crime commission for having raised the issue.

In New York, the N.J.L. office said:

"This office has been fully aware of the details of Johnny Robinson's property purchase since last Dec. 3 At that time he voluntarily requested our assistance in obtaining information relevant to the then proposed transaction. At no time have we determined that the transaction is anything more than a simple purchase of property and our investigation established no sufficient cause for taking the drastic action of directing Robinson to divest himself of the property. It is unfortunate that a volunteer organization should see fit to issue self-serving statements which tend to confuse rather than to clarify the situation."

The crime commission had written the NFL earlier this week about the transaction, saying "it was not in the best interests of professional football or the Kansas City Chiefs."

Osadchey's police record shows a conviction in 1964 of conspiring with four others to defraud the government of taxes on alcohol while operating the Mirror Lake Golf and Country Club.

Contacted following the team's night practice at William Jewell College in Liberty, Mo., Robinson said: "On the advice of Coach Stram, I have no comment to make."

Robinson, at first declined to comment "on the advice of Coach Stram," But later he said his purchase of the Mirror Lake Town Club was completed only after he received approval of the league office to go ahead with the transaction.

Brown Wins Diving Crown

HOUSTON (AP) — Mike Brown owes his first National AAU diving championship to a daring maneuver he learned this summer in a calculated scheme to unseat one-meter king Jim Henry, a man he had never shipped before.

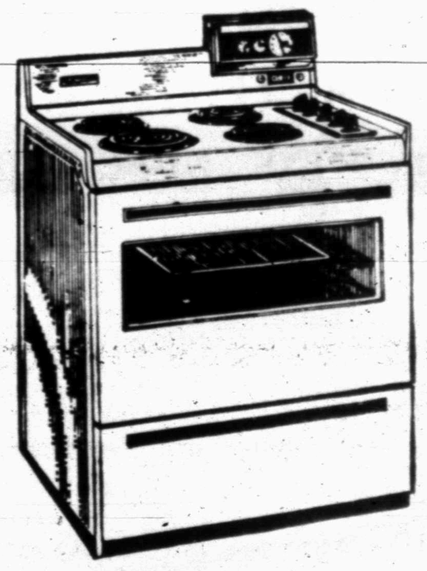

The 22-year-old Brown, a native of Denver, Colo., and a graduate student at the University of Indiana, pulled off a daring final dive Thursday that brought him smiling to the surface.

Nixon's Stay In Dallas Brief

DALLAS (AP) — President Nixon was in and out of Dallas so quickly Thursday that about the only persons who saw him were those in the veterans' audience. The man on the street hardly knew the chief executive was in town.

From the time his Spirit of '76 jet touched down at the old Greater Southwest Airport in Fort Worth until the wheels were airborne again, the President was on the ground 82 minutes, not counting helicopter rides.

At the airport, which is little more than a pilot training center, the President was met by about two dozen members of the press who were tightly cordoned off 50 feet from where the jet taxied to a stop.

Five hundred yards further back, around 50 spectators squinted across for a look at the president from an old terminal waiting room.

Standing by were uncounted numbers of Secret Service men, military police, DPS, civilian police from Fort Worth and the suburbs—Hurst, Irving, Grand Prairie and Arlington.

The only excitement came when an airline employe had difficulty getting the exit ramp up to the door of the jet. But with that accomplished, a smiling President appeared, waving for the cameras as he walked down the steps.

A few quick strides and he was in his helicopter, off for Dallas and the convention center.

The security was even tighter there, and the helicopter landed after the 17-mile trip within a tight ring of armed men.

Pickets demonstrating in favor of Alabama Gov. George Wallace, for the peace coalition and against the busing of school children never got a glimpse of the President, who was whisked into the circular auditorium from the other side of the building.

He walked barely a dozen strides across a strip of red carpet and was inside the building.

An observer in the auditorium estimated between 5,000 and 6,000 persons were in the hall, which holds 10,000 persons. A convention official said approximately 10,000 registered delegates plus their wives were entitled to tickets for Nixon's speech. It could not be explained by convention officials why some delegates stayed away.

During the speech itself, you could almost sense the security people around you. Officers spoke into walkie-talkies, took pictures of the audience and watched through binoculars. Outside, men with telescopic rifles patrolled nearby roofs.

In addition to city police, county sheriff's deputies and Secret Service, the VFW contributed its own security force of 300 men, composed of delegates who are law enforcement officers in their home states.

Within 30 minutes of his arrival in Dallas, Nixon was airborne by helicopter again for the short hop to the Spirit of '76.

As the chopper, soared upwards, a man in the crowd raised a sign saying: "Repent." Another sign read "Bus Nixon in '72."

Back at the airport, stern Secret Service men herded waiting reporters back into their roped-off area as the moment neared for the helicopter's return.

When the 'copter came to a halt at the spot from where it took off, one Secret service man stood between the press and the President. But unlike everyone else, he was watching the reporters.

Meanwhile, the President boarded his jet, and disappeared behind the door. No hitch this time from the ramp driver.

One quick taxi later, and the plane was in the air, off to the Western White House and a rendezvous with Mrs. Nixon.

Pearson's Diary

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York publishing firm of Holt, Rinehart & Winston plans to publish the 1.7 million word personal diary of the late Washington columnist, Drew Pearson.

Tyler Abell, Pearson's stepson, disclosed on Thursday acquisition of the diary by Holt, but he declined to discuss financial details.

An official of Holt said, however, that the contract provided for "a solid six-figure advance" and publishing sources estimated that the three-volume work can be expected to draw more than $1 million in royalties.

Aaron Asher, vice president and editorial director of Holt, said of the Pearson papers: "In many instances we found that what he put in his diary at night was what he couldn't put in his column by day."

FHA Cuts Down Payments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Home Loan Bank Board has moved to reduce the down payment required under conventional home loans.

The board announced Friday it will allow savings and loan associations to accept conventional home loans with down payments of only five per cent.

"This board anticipates that these new conventional loans will be particularly useful to persons of moderate and low income who are seeking home ownership for the first time," said Chairman Preston Martin.

The loans will be limited to $30,000 and are for single-family dwelling units only, the board said.

In addition, the loans must be guaranteed or insured by mortgage insurance companies approved by the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp. or which have established a specified fund reserves.

Savings and loan associations have been permitted to make conventional loans with as little as 10 per cent down, but most loans have been placed with down payments of about 30 per cent.

The board's action is designed to supplement, not compete with, Federal Housing Administration and Veterans Administration guaranteed loans, the board said.

FHA and VA guaranteed loans allow buyers to make smaller down payments than normally required under conventional loans.

Martin noted that George Romney, secretary of housing and urban development, announced a plan last week to provide funds for FHA-VA loans up to $22,000.

He said the board's plan is geared toward purchasers of homes in the $22,000 to $30,000 range.

"I believe that the 95-per-cent conventional loan is an idea whose time has arrived," Martin said.

Armstrong's Widow To Donate Home

NEW YORK (AP) — The widow of jazz great Louis Armstrong says she probably will donate to the City of New York the home she and Armstrong shared for 28 years.

Mrs. Armstrong also told a news conference Thursday that since her husband's death July 6 she has received more than 39,000 letters of sympathy, including almost 9,000 from foreign nations.

"It has so many beautiful memories; 28 years of happiness," Mrs. Armstrong said.

Mexico Prisoners Escape In 'Copter

MEXICO CITY (AP) — One of the two prisoners who escaped from a Mexico City penitentiary in a helicopter flew to Sausalito, Calif., and the other is believed to have gone to Guatemala, the district attorney's office said today.

Joel David Kaplan, a 45-year-old U. S. citizen, and Carlos Antonio Contreras, a Venezuelan, escaped from the Santa Marta Acatitla Prison Wednesday at dusk in a helicopter rented from Natrola Service Inc. of Casper, Wyo., flown by Roger Guy Herschanner, 29, of Glendora, Calif., according to an announcement by the district attorney's office.

After arriving in La Pesca, about 150 miles south of Brownsville, Tex., where the helicopter was found today, the pair took separate Cessna planes that had been rented in Phoenix, Ariz., to complete their escape from the country.

The district attorney's office said the helicopter left the McAllen, Tex., airport Tuesday, piloted by Herschnner who was issued a tourist card in Reynosa, Mexico.

At the Reynosa airport, Herschnner said he would like to visit Mexico City, but filed a flight plan to La Pesca, Tamaulipas.

Wednesday, according to the district attorney's reconstruction of the escape, Herschnner flew from Tamuin, San Luis Potosi, 70 miles west of Tampico, where he took on 300 liters of fuel, then to Pachuca, where he again refueled and from there to Actopan, Hidalgo, 100 miles north of the capital.

The helicopter landed in a Patio about dusk behind the dormitory where Contreras and Kaplan lived. They quickly boarded it and the aircraft returned to Actopan, the report said.

Kaplan, a New Yorker, was sentenced to 30 years in 1963 for the murder of Louis Melchior Vidal, also of New York. Contreras, who was his cellmate, was serving a sentence for fraud and robbery.

In Actopan the pair boarded a plane for the flight to La Pesca. The Cessna 210, piloted by Victor E. Stadler, left La Pesca for Brownsville and Sausalito with a passenger, apparently Kaplan, according to the report.

A similar plane, whose pilot was not identified, took off at about the same time and was believed to be headed for Guatemala with Contreras, the report continued.

The district attorney's office said Kaplan's conduct at the prison was good and that there had been no indication that he planned to escape.

The chief of security at the prison, Major Juan Tovia Martinez, his assistant, Andres Duenas Sosa, and five of his subordinantes, including three guards who were on duty at the time of the escape, are under arrest for investigation of the incident, the district attorney's office said. The report added that those found responsible because of negligence or any other reason would receive "the strongest punishment."

CHURCH NEWS

CHURCH NOTES

Ave. D. Baptist

The Avenue D Baptist Youth Choir and sponsors are on a weekend trip to Fort Worth. They will visit Six Flags and sing for the Sunday morning worship service at the Alta Mere Baptist Church in Fort Worth. Rev. J. C. Appleby, Avenue D Baptist, will preach at the Alta Mere Church.

Delbert Smith will be the guest preacher in both services Sunday at Avenue D.

On Sunday, Aug. 29, there will be a dedication service for the new Conn organ and sound system at Avenue D Baptist Church. Rev. Malcolm Brown, area missionary, will preach at the morning worship service and be here for the dedication. Mrs. Finch of the Conn Studio in Abilene will present an organ recital. There will be other guests and special music on the program. The Cross Roads Quartet from the Cross Roads Baptist Church near Rotan, will present two selections. The public is invited.

Calvary Baptist

Sunday services begin at 10 a.m. with the Sunday School at Calvary Baptist. The pastor, Rev. George Shoff, will bring the morning message at 11 a.m. Training service begins at 6:15 p.m. and the adults will meet for prayer. The evening service follows at 7.

"And he doeth according to his will." Daniel 5:35.

God blesses the man who strives with a will,
Though ambition's a driver with pace that can kill.
Still persistence must come if victory's won,
For a race with vigor must ever be run.
And though a man be brilliant in word and in deed,
Through only persistence will he ever succeed.

There will be an all-church fellowship following the evening service.

Teachers Endorse Smith

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas' largest teacher organization endorsed Thursday Gov. Preston Smith's plan to give them pay raises in defiance of a wage-price freeze proposed by President Nixon.

The endorsement was signed by Archie Roberts, president of the Texas State Teachers Association, and L. P. Sturgeon, the group's executive secretary.

The announcement said in part: "The TSTA has been working continually since the President's television address August 15th to obtain relief for Texas teachers. We are extremely pleased with Gov. Smith's action and we think Texas teachers should tell him that they, too, are pleased.

"We shall continue to work with all officials to support teachers as this story unfolds. If necessary, the TSTA will pursue every source of relief."

The group said it had notified by telegram Smith, Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin, U. S. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., U. S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., Nixon and Treasury Sec. John Connally.

"We are lobbying strongly to obtain equity relief for teachers through contacts with state and national officials," the announcement stated.

German Cars Are Economical

DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP) — West Germans spend an average of $58.47 on their cars monthly, the German Automobile Association reports.

This includes price of the car, repairs, parts, gasoline, insurance and garage.

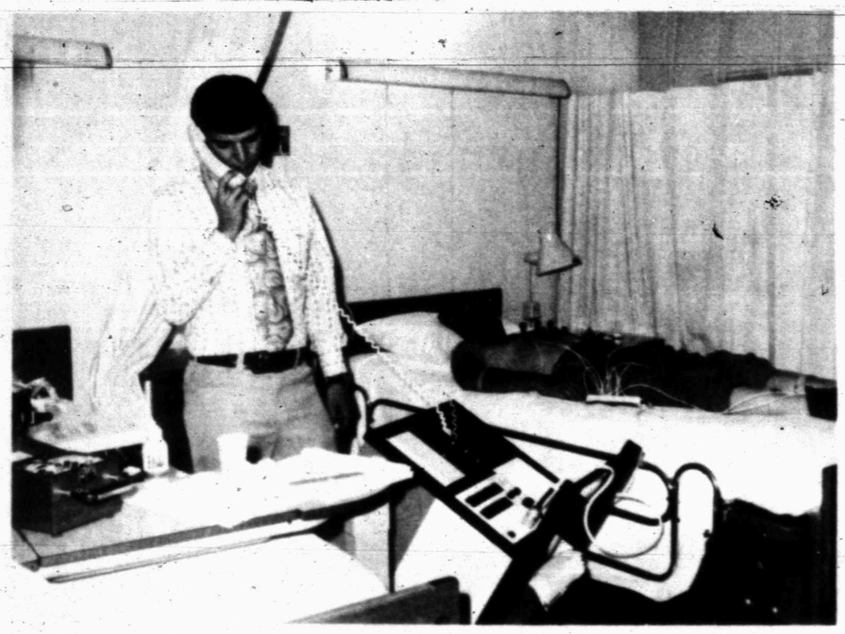

That's not to much considering some New Yorkers pay $50 a month garage rent.

AWAIT READING — Cy Miller, administrator at Cogdell Memorial Hospital, and Ethel Wadleigh, R.N., await an analysis on an electrocardiogram made by a computer in Chicago. The computer will send the information over the machine between the two local persons.

CALLS CHICAGO — John Hare, an engineer for the Tele-Med Company of Chicago, calls a computer center in Chicago to announce that an electrocardiogram taken at Cogdell Memorial Hospital is ready to be analyzed by a computer. John's telephone line is connected with an automatic electriocardiogram machine. The "patient" is Bill Erwin, an anesthetist at the hospital.

Chicago Computer Can Check Snyder Heartbeats

A computer in Chicago can analyze an electrocardiogram at Cogdell Memorial Hospital in 25 seconds. Then, from two to 10 minutes later, the results of the analysis can be sent back to the local hospital.

The new method for "reading" cardiograms has been developed by the Tele-Med Corporation of Chicago. John Hare, an engineer for the firm from Chicago, and Jim Miller, consultant for Tele-Med from Fort Worth, were here yesterday briefing local physicians and nurses on the operation of the new system.

Cogdell Memorial Hospital has purchased an automatic cardiogram machine, which runs standard cardiograms on heart patients. A telephone attached to the machine is used to notify a computer in Chicago when a cardiogram is ready for an analysis.

The computer analyzes the cardiogram in 25 seconds. Then, within two to 10 minutes, depending on how complicated the cardiogram is, the computer sends back its analysis to Cogdell Memorial Hospital. The hospital has a receiving machine for these analyses. It looks somewhat like a teletype machine used by newspapers and police stations.

"This is a standard EKG machine (for taking the electrocardiograms)," said Hare, "and the tracing goes through to Chicago where we have two big Zerox computers." These computers "read" the tracing, then analyze the cardiogram and send back the results.

The computers have been programmed for 26,000 different types of cardiograms, which covers virtually every variation of cardiogram there is. It is not necessary for hospitals using the machine to have a physician read the cardiogram. The computers do it.

Levelland Methodists Consolidate

LEVELLAND, Tex. (AP) — A white congregation and a Negro Congregation of the Northwest Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church have voted to establish a church to serve both groups.

The new church will be known as the Christ United Methodist Church, combined from the Wesley United Methodist Church and the St. Luke's United Methodist church.

The five reasons listed on the resolution which passed both congregations by an overwhelming vote were: An appreciation for the efforts in the past that made the present responsible, a belief that division by race is a contradiction to the gospel of Christ, a conviction that true unity is not to be found in absorption but in the birth of what is new, a belief that "the spirit of God has brought us to the brotherhood of God" and a confidence that the "future belongs only to those who in faith decided to act in love."

Bucket Cost Man His Life

AUSTIN (AP) — A man paid for a $5 minnow bucket with his life and was one of 118 persons who drowned in Texas during June, say Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

The minnow bucket drifted away, and the man swam after it and drowned.

Stassi Sr. Files Motion

HOUSTON (AP) — Joseph Stassi Sr., alleged leader of a multi-million dollar dope smuggling ring, has asked that his 18-year prison sentence be set aside.

His attorneys filed a motion Thursday allegedly that the man who testified against Stassi traded Stassi's conviction for a light sentence for himself.

Stassi's lawyers introduced a notarized statement from another prisoner in the Harris County Jail at the same time with Milton Abramson.

In the statement notarized by his parole officer in Dekolb County, Ga., Allen Eli Wright said that Abramson testified against Stassi through fear of getting a "60 to 200 year sentence" himself. Abramson is serving a 14 year prison sentence.

Stassi was convicted in 1967 in the court of U. S. Dist. Judge Ben Connally of conspiring to smuggle 22 pounds of heroin into the United States from Mexico. He has twice appealed his conviction to the U. S. Fifth Court of Appeals.

The circuit court found no error but sent the case back in 1969 to determine if electronic eavesdropping had been used to convict Stassi. Connally ruled it had not.

Missing Floor Is Discovered

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A new assistant manager of a hotel here was puzzled when the elevator carried him to the second floor whenever he pushed the button for the first floor. The staff in checking discovered behind a locked door 14 forgotten rooms which had been overlooked for 20 years or more.

"Oh yes, I've heard that old members of the staff well remember there was a first floor," said Chris Kurz.

Subject to Law

Surely the eagle best represents the ideal of Liberty. But the picture shows him to be under restriction. He has duties to perform, young to rear and a home to protect. Perhaps freedom is linked with responsibility. From Alaska to the Gulf he ranges in freedom as monarch of the sky.

Yet, how subject is he to the natural laws of God. You never see birds very high in the sky. Most birds do not risk much of height above the tree tops. When exhausted they need a branch on which to perch. They fly awhile and then earth calls them down. How clearly the eagle speaks to us Americans. We are so free, yet so subject to God, so responsible to Him and ours. May we limit our own freedom, support His church and realize how subject we are to God.
