TWO MEN IN HOSPITAL FOLLOWING ACCIDENT

Treadaway-Daniell hospital attendants Wednesday described as being in "fair condition" two men injured in an automobile accident which occurred Tuesday about 5 a. m. an estimated 11.2 miles west of Brownfield on the Roswell highway.

A 1952 Ford coach, belonging to Alton Eugene Anthony, 23, of Lamesa, and driven by 21-year-old George F. Blanchard Jr. of Lubbock, was approaching Brownfield from Roswell, when the car went onto the right shoulder of the highway, then crossed the highway and overturned.

Anthony and another passenger in the car, Pat Patterson, 23, of Lubbock, were reported to be asleep, and officers assumed that the driver must have gone to sleep at the wheel.

A Brownfield Funeral home ambulance transported the three occupants of the car to the local hospital, where Patterson was found to be uninjured and released. Anthony suffered a broken neck and Blanchard sustained a cracked left shoulder blade, cuts and abraisions.

According to highway patrolmen the trio is reported to have been looking for summer jobs near Roswell. Patterson and Blanchard are to enroll in Texas Tech this fall, and Anthony was to have entered Texas A. and I. on a football scholarship.

Postmaster Warns Of Torn Up Roads

Postmaster Joe L. Shelton wishes to again call attention of rural patrons of the local post office that serious damage is being done to some public roads. The practice of driving across and turning on the roads with stalk cutters, cultivators and various implements should be discontinued. It is realized that much of this is done without intent to damage the road, but due to the recent softened condition of road surfaces serious damage is the result.

Mail routes are long, some over 70 miles daily, and unnecessary plowing across roads results in damage to carriers' automobiles and impairs the mail service. Farmers and their tractor drivers are therefore asked again to refrain from making sharp turns in the roads with the big wheel of tractors or turning in the middle of roads with implements not lifted.

Postal regulations permit stringent measures to stop such practices, but it is believed that Terry County people will cooperate in this that we may all enjoy the use of public roads and even better mail service.—Joe. L. Shelton, Postmaster.

Shivers Deserves the Votes of All Texans

The Herald believes that every loyal and patriotic Texan should march to the polls Saturday and cast their vote for Gov. Allan Shivers. At that time he will be up at Chicago, fighting for the rights of every Texas citizen, to keep the federal government from grabbing everything in Texas that is not nailed down. If that "Loyal to Truman" bunch had its way, it would be OK for the administration to nail a sign up on the capitol building at Austin, reading: "This is Federal Property."

And that man Yarborough, it it seems to us, stooping to just about all the dirt he can sprinkle around. From good authority, he has not even spared the wife and family of the Governor, but has cast various insinuations. But about one of the nastiest deals was that old dig up on Shivers, while a Lieutenant Governor in 1948, riding in a yacht belonging to a Galveston gambler.

David C. Leavell, a Galveston publisher, stated Saturday, that another yacht was to have been used by the Galveston hosts of Shivers, and other prominent visitors, but it was found the engine was out, and as a last resort, the entertaining committee hired the Balinese, from the gambler. That he, Leavell, didn't believe that Shivers or the other visitors had any idea whose yacht they were using.

Even if he did, which is not likely, his hosts were hiring the vessel and conducting the trip of investigation of Galveston harbor and the damage done at Texas City following the explosion and fire.

If a man can't make a campaign for governor or any other office in Texas, without a barrage of insinuations, he should have no votes from real Texans. To say the least these insinuations are in poor taste, and wholly without foundation.

Death Takes Another Old Pioneer

Many old timers as well as a lot of the newer people here regret the passing of that fine old citizen, W. E. Stone, last Wednesday, July 16. Mr. Stone would have been 80 years of age, had he lived to Nov. 20. Those who knew Mr. Stone well, are aware that he has been a very lonely man since the passing of his life companion in 1951.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist Church last Friday at 2 p. m., when a large number of friends attended. Rev. Jones W. Weathers, pastor, officiated. Interment in the Terry County Memorial Cemetery, under direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

He leaves two sons, Marion of this city and Alfred of Dallas, both at the funeral. A brother, Pink Stone of San Diego, Calif., was unable to attend. Also six grandchildren survive, and one great-grandchild.

The W. E. Stone family moved here in 1919 to make this home, and have been a great help in building a fine community of law abiding citizens.

Something We've Never Seen in Terry

One time we lived in central Texas about the turn of the century, we had one very mild winter, and next spring the old roots of cotton stalks sprouted and and came up. Maybe that has happened several times since we left there some 40 odd years ago. It frequently happens in south and south central Texas, we have heard.

Well, what are you going to let us in on, you say? It is just this: Phillip Rogers, now farming out some 10 miles northwest from town, brought in an old stalk of cotton—last year's model—that had a sprout on it—this year's model—some 14 inches in height, and with a number of forms and squares on it. He stated he had plowed up a lot of the sprouted cotton this year.

This is the first time we have ever seen it in Terry county. We had a very mild winter. Way back many years ago, we understand they did not plant cotton except every three or four years in extreme south Texas. It would finally run out and quit producing, and would have to be plowed up and replanted.

As we understand it, they find it a better method to plant every year down there presently, as they get better yields. Then, to, since the pink boll worms hit, they find it pays to plow up the old stalks, rake them in piles and burn them.

700 Area Farmers See New John Deere

As the Herald office closes as tight as a drum Saturday noons, and the only "pigeon' 'to be found about the roost is yours truly, John Dooley, we can never seem to get off and chew 'backer and dip Levi P. with the rest of the farmers. So, naturally didn't see the new, all new John Deere on display out there. So, drove out Monday A. M. Still on display.

That Kersch boy gave us a lot of literature to read, but after reading some of it, were none the better informed. As little as we know about tractors, however, we could see a vast improvement in this new model. But Mr. Kersch went on to say that the reason the John Deere was such a favorite, was not altogether the tractor, but more especially the implement that go with them. None better, says he.

But one thing about it was when you want to spread the wheels, or the reverse to fit certain rows, just a twist of the wrench on a bolt on the hub moves the wheels in and out. Then you have a choice of the upright or rear exhaust pipe, the latter probably saving you fumes in the face and less heat.

Mr. Kirsch says that 700 area farmers came in to see the newest thing in tractordom, this one being a three row model. It uses gasoline, but a farmer will soon have his choice of gasoline or butane.

We View Purtell Irrigation Farm

Started out for another round of spying on Terry county farms Sunday afternoon, and stopped at the D. L. Patton Service Staion to have our oil checked. In the course of the conversation, we mentioned the fact the wife and we, accompanied by the two grandtwaddlers, Robert and Mary Ann, we out to look at crops. Says D. L., "don't miss the Purtell irrigated farm two miles west of Lahey."

We went, OK, and it was all that D. L. said for it. The alfalfa field has been cut for the third time this year, and some of the last cutting is ready to rake and bale. Maize is well headed, and as thick on the ground as dog hair—and such heads. There was a large field of corn—tall corn—and thick on the ground. Each stalk had from three to five ears on them, and if we are any judge of corn, it will make at least 150 bushels per acre, perhaps more.

Right there our righteousness overcome our greatest temptation to purloin a mess of roasting ears that we have had to resist in moons. We feel sure that R. J. or Kenneth would have said, "help yourself, Jack," if they had been out there, but they weren't. But there is a lot of good eating out there. And the cotton is nearing waist high and forming well.

Other Sections Visited

Going back to Lahey, or where it used to be, we turned south, with the intention of trying to see if Mack Chambers was really working or not. Saw some good dry land farming down the road, but before we reached his place, we found a lake in the road from recent rains. A comparatively new car in front of us had heck getting through, so we decided to not risk the old 40ty in all that water, and retraced to a road that comes into Seagraves highway between Lahey and Wellman.

Stopped at the Hinson store at Wellman to candy up the kids, and thence on to the F-M road to Johnson, Pool, Needmore, etc. Wellman section was badly hit by the high winds of two weeks ago, but most of the blown out portions have been planted to grain, which is coming up nicely, as they have had plenty of rain. As one gets into the neighborhood around the Plains highway, less was blown out, and the crops are humping themselves. Some mighty fine maize through that area.

Crops in the Johnson, Pool and Needmore sections are good, and the cotton seems to be fruiting nicely. If nothing unforeseen happens they will make a bumper cotton crop. At Needmore, we decided to go on east to the Brownfield-Lubbock highway at Meadow. For one thing we had never seen the new and beautiful farm residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jewel Bell. Would have stopped for a drink of water and a hello, but those Twaddlers were getting quite restless.

Anyway, the Bells have a fine brick veneer farm home, with all modern conveniences. Good crops from there on to Meadow, and on into Brownfield. Old Terry has really got its Sunday clothes on.

RED CROSS IS GRATEFUL TO LOCAL BLOOD DONORS

Terry County topped its goal last Thursday, when 155 pints of blood were collected for use on the Korean front by the Red Cross-sponsored Bloodmobile between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. at Veteran's hall. One hundred and fifty pints had been pledged.

Will C. Brown and H. B. Virgil Crawford, local Blood Program co-chairmen, and Mrs. Walter Hord, Terry County Red Cross chapter chairman, joined in expressing their gratitude to the 155 area residents who were blood donors, and to the many other presons who were rejected.

"Also, without the efforts of each volunteer worker, the blood program could not have been successful," the three chairmen said. Persons mentioned for their services were:

Misses Barbara Stice, Sandra Bailey and Mary Duffey, who mimeographed permit slips; Bob Tobey, who printed appointment cards; Misses Jeanelle Lewis and Jeannie Cloud, for addressing and mailing cards; Misses Sandra Casstevens, Patsy Teague and Patsy Rogers, for serving as telephone reminders; Roy Flemming for use of typewriters; and to Bobby Jones, for the use of a refrigerator.

Bearden, receptionist; Mrs. P. T. Ellis, R. N., and Mrs. John H. Happ, who took temperatures and weights; Mesdames W. A. Roberson, Bob Simmons, Lance Turner and S. B. Collier, donor room assistants; Mrs. Ben Monnett and Mrs. V. L. Patterson, bottle labelists;

Brown, Crawford and Mrs. Hord also expressed their appreciation to members of the local National Guard who served during the day loading and unloading equipment and supplies; to the City Cab company for providing free transportation for donors to Veteran's hall, and to the local radio station and newspapers for publicity.

No Protest Against Individual Contracts

The Herald made a bit of an error in an article about the farm organizations in their meeting at Lubbock last week. And what we had to say was a bit misunderstood. We had read reports that the Mexican councils themselves, at different towns along the border, were making different priced contracts.

However, Hub King this week stated that the Terry County Farm Association had no objections whatever, to any individual going to the border and contracting for their own hands. That no one was obliged to do business through the local organization.

He further stated that there was complete agreement at the Lubbock meeting, between individual contractors and Terry County Farm Association.

Good Rains Fall Thursday Night

Heavy clouds banked in the west and north last Thursday night, and by eight p. m., rain was falling. It fell for some two hours at a pretty steady clip, and registered 88/100 in the USWB gauge.

Inquiries from farmers in various parts of the county revealed that a ¾ inch rain was pretty general, and heavier in some sections, particularly southwest of town.

Best crop outlook in years is the general report of farmers.

LUMBER EMPLOYEES HAVE CHILI SUPPER

Employees of Cicero Smith Lumber company, their families and guests, met Friday night at the carpenter shop for a chili supper and fellowship hour.

The venet was the result of an argument between O. H. Gage and S. J. Davis as to who could cook the best chili. Davis prepared the chili for the supper, and after partaking of several generous samples, Gage decided to forfeit the contest.

Because the group enjoyed the supper so much, they voted to make it a regular event.

2 DEAD, 2 HURT IN AUTO COLLISION AT NEEDMORE

An automobile collision at the Needmore store about 8 p. m. Wednesday, resulted in the death of two Terry County residents and the serious injury of two others. Bob Maynard, 20, driver of a pick-up truck, is in critical condition at the local hospital, Maurice Maynard, eight years of age, a passenger in the truck, was instantly killed when the crash occurred. Another passenger, Miss Frankie Maynard, 19, was dead on arrival at the hospital.

James Osburn, 25, of Levelland was headed south, driving a late model Studebaker, when the pick-up pulled out onto the highway in front of him. Osburn's statement that "I skidded a long way trying to stop," was substantiated by officers, who said skid marks on the highway showed his car had skidded an approximate 70 feet.

Wreck victims were taken by a Brownfield Funeral Home ambulance to the local hospital, where Osburn was reported by hospital attendants to have a badly crushed pelvis.

Frankie and Maurice Maynard were the daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Maynard, who work for Perry McAllester, a Needmore community farmer. The driver of the pickup is a nephew of the A. G. Maynards. Mrs. Maynard is suffering from severe shock after learning of the death of her two children.

Some Flea Hoppers Lots Boll Worm E

Jim Foy, County Agent, stated to a reporter this week that there are some flea hoppers, and a lot of boll worm eggs. But here is the situation. There are presently some beneficial insects that are eating the boll worm eggs. And to spray now for the flea hoppers would also destroy these beneficial insects.

Mr. Foy's advice is to check on your cotton fields daily, and he stressed that he did not mean just to ride up and down the turnrows in your pickup, but get out in the cotton and really examine it.

If the flea hoppers get worse, spraying will have to be done anyway, perhaps. Foy reports leaf forms in Dawson county, and stated they could soon be in Terry.

Some of us have been keeping up more or less of late with the Buz Sawyer comic, in which he and some other Americans are presently engaged in stopping the swarms of locust in Iran, or at least the near east. Now these locusts, we understand, are a near cousin to our grasshoppers, but far more destructive, as they come in greater hords. However, the Associated Press had an article this week that gave the lowdown on some real "Operations Locust" by some Texas flyers sent over there to pour the poison to the destructive insects. The article went on to give the reader an idea of the age old war of humanity against locusts, in which the former used a flail. When these locusts hit, they destroy everything green in a given area in the matter of a few days, despite the humans and their crude implements of destruction. But recently, when these poor people saw a few men in airplanes kill more locusts in a minute than they could kill in days, they were elated and deeply grateful. One of the air men recalled that he had seen up to 27 men corral the locusts into a small area, and with flails and stomping them, kill a lot of locusts. But it took too much time. These young flyers are teaching the Iran farmers to fly planes themselves, and how to get the poison at potent spots by low flying. However, they were working on contract with the Iranian government. These airmen had perhaps spent many hours in their native state puting the poison, not only to grasshoppers, but many cotton pests. These men are in hopes that within a few years, that country, now becoming rich on oil, will have the locusts under control. The idea is to get them before they lay their eggs, and if so, there are no offsprings. So, the story of Buz Sawyer of the comic page, is just an illustration of "Operations Locust" that was actually practiced by these young Texas flyers without any fanflare or political implications.

If you want to know our opinion, there has been some funny maneuvering up at Chicago, just preceding the National Democratic convention. It just shows to what length politicians will go to get what they want. For instance, there is Senator Russell of Georgia, who apparently had all the South lined up for him, with the possible exception of Tennessee, home state of Senator Keefauver, another presidential candidate. But in order to try to gain some strength among the radical element, and the labor union bosses in the north, Russell repudiated his vote for the Taft-Hartley law, and his vote on same to override a presidential veto. Not only has he lost the confidence of the south, but he has been repudiated by the labor union bosses in rather strong language. It is rather doubtful now that Russell can get the Louisiana and Texas, as well as some of the other southern states, and even his own state, Georgia, is not to enthusiastic. Then there was another that came from Gov. Shivers of Texas about taking the pledge. But his announcement had strings to it—"if all the other states did the same thing." However, Gov. Shivers pointed out that only three or four of the 48 states had such a pledge. As for Kefauver, he is willing to go any length and accept anything for the nomination. In other words, he is willing to be the old "settin' hen" to go right on the nest of HST and finish the hatch of bureaucrats, grafters, five percenters and mink coat specialists. If he is the candidate against Ike, the former general will carry Texas by 100,000 majority at least. As for Harriman, we just as soon pick a nominee suggested by Moscow and be done with it. Of the bunch with any chance of nomination, perhaps Gov. Stevenson, of Illinois, is the best bet as a level headed man, who would choose to take his own course without dictation from the present administration.

The mandate has gone out from the New-Fair Deal dictator in the White House, to stand and be counted at Chicago. Perhaps some of the dictation has gone out from the sick bed of HST, where he portends to wag the tail of his puppets. The clairon call is loud and distinctive—the delegates at the National Democratic (?) convention at Chicago must do as the little man in the White House says, or else. They must follow the policies as laid out by the two preceding administrations, that have held on like barnacles for the past 20 years. They must accept in full all the demands of the Dealer bunch or nothing. It means we must accept and like it, all the graft and corruption that has been exposed in the administration for the past many years. It means that Texas and the South, must get down on their knees and accept the FEPC pill, bitter as it is. It means there will be no halting of the reckless spending and taxing that has been going on for the past several years. That we must accept the continued increase in the centralizing of everything at Washington, and more and more bureaucrats to tell us just what we can or cannot do. It means that we must accept more and more of the chief executive's ideas that he is above the other two parts of our constitution, the legislative and the judiciary—that he can seize and close business at his will. We must accept a continuation of "war prosperity" in which your life insurance and your bonds are worth just about half what they were in 1940. That we must continue to rob Peter to pay Paul. In addition, it means that we must forget or try to forget that we won War II, but lost the peace. That we have had to allow Stalin and his cut-throats to take over more than half of Europe and Asia, and make millions of people who were our friends, our enemies. If there are still any Dealers around in these parts that will admit it, would they please tell us what there is about the New-Fair-Queer deal that we should continue to fight for? We had hopes that perhaps the saner portion of the old party that represents Jefferson and Jackson, would wake up, take the bridle bits in their own teeth, and tell Truman where to head in, just as the more progressive bunch of the Republican party told the old standpatters to go lump it.

We note with quite some amusement that the little radical paper, printed down at Austin, is presently all hot and bothered about the Vice-President of the Republican party nominated at Chicago. In fact, nothing ever suits the little weekly here of late, especially since so many folks here in Texas and the South have become quite cold to the idea of being "loyal to Truman." The little sheet calls Senator Nixon, the GOP Veep nominee a "witch hunter." Think of that? All because Nixon refused to give up the chase of Communists in the different departments at Washington, and finally brought Chambers and Hiss together, with the latter being convicted of playing with the Kremlin bunch, and sentenced to the penitentiary. But the little radical sheet thinks this is the Gestapo methods practiced by Hitler. We are glad that the vast majority of the people of the United States has another idea about the matter. That despite the ideas of a few loud mouthed radicals here in the United States, and we are glad to say still fewer here in Texas, that the United States as instituted by the founding fathers is OK, if left to its own course, as it ran some 160 years before the fixers took over. We are glad that the vast majority are against taking dictation from the Kremlin or its stooges here in the United States. People like Nixon and the vast majority of others, are for the people controlling the USA, and not leave that matter to the "tender mercies" of a bunch of leftists and pinkies and their big brothers, the outright reds here in America. We are glad that most thinking people lean away from and not toward Moscow. Most Americans are not ready for a slave state, and as far as we are concerned, the hotter the law makes it for the Commie sympathizers, the better it will suit us. If this little radical sheet was published in Russia, every issue would be closely screened before it was issued. And if it did not suit the secret police, it would be confiscated. We can't imagine the frame of mind of a man that wants such a state here in America. Appears to be wheels in their heads.

The Herald agrees wholeheartedly with the County School Superintendent of Tom Green county, Mr. Frank Jackson of San Angelo, that the fact that Congress failed to take action toward overriding the veto of President Truman, makes it more imperative that Texas send Price Daniel to the US Senate. Quoting some of the ideas of Mr. Jackson: "Next year the battle must begin all over again, and there is no person that knows more about the matter than Daniel . . . Every Texan knows that Daniel's courage, ability and leadership in the fight . . . he has never comprimised or retreated. He has always been on the job for Texas. On the other hand Price Daniel's Washington opponent, Lindley Beckworth, has the worst record of any Texas congressman. The record shows him as not voting on the original passage of the state ownership bill in 1946, and again not voting to override President Truman's veto of State ownership bill in 1946. In a speech recently, Price Daniel stated that he regretted that Congress failed to act on the measure to override the veto, but he felt sure of a passage of a state ownership bill in the next congress. He added: "We are not going to stop until we have won and have seen the tidelands restored to the Public School Funds of Texas." Let's all march to the polls Saturday and elect a man to the US Senate that is for Texas, first, last and all the time—the Hon. Price Daniel, presently our Attorney General.

For many years now, there has been a battle between man-made fibers and cotton from our Southland, but the popularity of King Cotton still holds the spotlight. It is still the cool, washable material, for a summer wardrobe. With the best of cotton goods made from the finest materials from the cotton mills, the wearer still has that well dressed look that no synthetic material has been able to replace. Why not choose cotton goods? It is raised extensively right here in our own area by our neighbors and friends. It is still the best in the long run, and much the best if it has to go through the washing machines.

The 257 orgainized communities in Texas last year based their programs on goals set up to increase and manage family income, improve health conditions, increase community social activities, increase farm production and improve the farms and homes of the communities.

RETURN FROM VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Benson and daughters, Betty Lou and Brenda, 909 East Hill, have returned from a trip to Oklahoma and parts of Texas.

While at Frederick, Okla., visiting a sister of Mr. Benson, they went to Tipton Orphans Home to see Betty Lou Howard, who is being clothed by Crescent Hill Church of Christ. Mrs. Benson took Betty Lou into Tipton on a shopping spree. While here on leave from the home last summer, Betty Lou spent two days in the Benson home.

The Bensons attended the White reunion at Weatherford, and on the way home, spent a night with an aunt of Mr. Benson's at Eastland.

Mrs. Gasper Spencer attended the graduation of her granddaughter, Miss Ann Lingle, from the University of Texas, Wednesday, July 16. After a short visit here in the home of her great-grandmother Mrs. J. L. Randal' 502 East Main, she will leave August 15 for Bartlesville, Okla., where she has been employed as physicist in the research department of the Phillips Petroleum company.

PMA Meeting Held in Lubbock Last Week

By Looe Miller, Administrative Officer, Terry County PMA

The PMA County Committee, Administrative Officers and SCS Technicians met at Lubbock last week. Those attending from Terry County were Pearce Warren, Henry Williamson and Looe Miller.

At this meeting the 1953 agricultural conservation practices were discussed. Not many changes were recommended from the 1952 1953 program. The principal change in the program will be that every farm in the county will be contacted by the Community Committeemen. All the practices which will be used in Terry County will be outlined to the farmer and he will be invited to participate in whatever soil conservation practices he deems are needed on his farm and all prior approvals will be issued as soon as the Community Committeemen have completed their contract of all farms in the county. There will be two kinds of approval issued, those which will guarantee the amount of money shown on the approval, and those which are dependent on the amount of money returned by those who do not complete the practice, for which an approval guaranteeing payment was issued.

It is anticipated that the Community Committeemen will be selected for the 1953 program in September and that it will be their duty to contact the farmers, after they have been duly schooled in the work to be carried out.

Sunday Closing of Business Houses in Brownfield

We note from the local papers that the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce has recommended that all business houses close on Sunday. We would like to suggest the farmer's cooperation with the business men of Brownfield by allowing your agricultural workers one day in the week in do their shopping, thereby relieving the necessity of the business houses staying open on Sunday.

Stricklinly Speaking

By OLD HE

Uncle Sam, the world's most expert taxer of his own people—is said to be about ready to put an additional tax bite on the automobile buyer in the shape of additional excise taxes. These taxes are already about 1.4 billion dollars annually.

And of course most of us don't look for the 1½c gasoline tax to ever be removed. It brings in the mostest with the leastest yowling, perhaps, of any of the unseen taxes we pay each day that we live.

Speaking of automobiles, the American Automobile Association is advocating that pedestrians in heavy traffic wear some kind of reflector clothing, so they may more readily be seen, such as night glowing gloves, known as "beanies." It is stated by AAA that many kinds of wearing apparel that can be readily seen in the dark by auto drivers, are now on the market.

We note that the County and District attorneys up at Lubbock are cracking down on the Clubs where liquor is drunk, and in many cases, mixed for the club members. These officials backed up by the State Liquor Control Board, say that it is not just a temporary close up, but will be for keeps. There are said to be some 3 or ten of these joints in Lubbock, with "the cream of the crop," as members, in the Hub city.

Nearly every sizable town or city in the "dry" counties have these clubs—one or two at least. But it appears that the higher courts have just recently made up their minds that these clubs in dry counties and cities are illegal. So, crackdowns in many places have already taken place. One in particular, just west of Hamlin but over in Fisher county.

And before you mention that this is election year, we'll state right here that neither of the above Lubbock county officials have an opponent for re-election.

Still talking politics and election — and who aint? — Paul Crume, who writes the Big D column on the front page of the Dallas News, tell this one: One fellow had heard of machine politics so much, that perhaps the poor guy thought that was just about all the politics there was.

So, in his speech before the community voters, one candidate wanted to put a quietus on the old machine—get a new machine, he screamed—elect me." And it might be just as well to begin looking for a new kind of a Deal.

While Texas climbed up the ladder of public school teacher pay in the past several years, she is still way down—26th place. Perhaps you know New York stands first with an average pay of $4500, and that California is second with $3900, then a long list ahead, including our neighbor, New Mexico, and even two Southern states, Florida and Louisiana. Texas presently is paying $2960.

Old Mississippi holds the low place $1560, with Arkansas just ahead with $1750. What surprised us though was that Vermont, Nebraska, South Dakota and Maine were right down near the bottom among such states as Tennessee, Alabama, South Carolina and Kentucky.

And while speaking of the above information, we might add that the school folks wanted to be sure the Herald got one of these lists, we quoted from above. One came from State headquarters of STA, one was mailed here in Brownfield, and another came from Wellman.

Yeah, you can either vote like they do in a lot of states by putting an "X" to the left of the name of your candidate, leaving the rest of them undisturbed. Or, if you wish, you still have the old time Texas privilge of scratching 'ell out of all you don't want, leaving the one that is to you, the ideal man for the job.

And while we are on politics, elections and conventions, our friend Jacob Sandage came in Saturday to tell us that we made a missQ about Taft carrying but two states in 1912. Both of us were wrong. Jake thought he carried Vermont, New Hampshire and Utah. We thought he carried the two former. Truth: He carried Utah and Vermont. Teddy Roosevelt carried New Hampshire and seven other states. Taft got 4 electoral votes.

Dick Cook, of Dallas, representing International News Serivce, dropped in this week. Asked why he was not at Chicago, he 'lowed it was too hot. Same here, brother. We are just as close to Chicago as we want to be right now.

If you are in the market for a new home, we get advice from some of the best legal talent in Texas, under the name, "It's the Law in Texas." We do not think they were thinking just of their own profession when they advised the purchaser of a new home to be sure all the legal angles, especially the abstracts, were in order.

Most of us have one or two friends in the law profession, who will not try to take the hide off us when we approach them to examine the title to a piece of property. In fact, sometimes we jolly one of our lawyer friends out of opinions, free gratis. But even a sizable fee might save one a lot of headaches in the future over title to property.

So, better see your lawyer when you buy property.

Reports are that business just sorter shuffled along the first half of the year, but may perk up so much the latter half that it will overtake the business of 1951, or could exceed it. Maybe a chance for a change will help some.

And here we are right back on politics. Have you ever read the so-called pledge at the top of your ticket? It just says, "I am a Democrat and pledge myself to support the nominee of THIS primary." There is not one word said about supporting the nominee of some convention, or some other primary.

So, if you like what the GOPers gave you at Chicago better than what the Demmys put out, you are neither legally or morally bound to support the Democrat. This according to some expert legal opinion given in the Star-Telegram.

SHIVERS AGIN AUTO INSPECTION LAW; 'SHALL CHANGE OR REPEAL IT' He Says

By Ben Kaplan, Press Staff Writer

Governor Allan Shivers today said that the new auto inspection law should either be modified or repealed.

The Governor told the Press before he left Austin for Houston to make a campaign appearance that he had some ideas for changing the controversial law.

His idea is to take the red tape and confusion out of the law.

"The law was intended to bring about real safety and not inconvenience," said Governor Shivers.

"We need to stop killings on the highways. Texas has become the number one State in the United States for murder on the highways.

"The Legislature passed this inspection law by a vote of 117 to 12 in the House of Representatives and 19 to 9 in the State Senate, with the thought that it would save more than 200 Texans lives each year. If the law fails to do this and instead causes confusion and inconvenience, it ought to be changed or repealed."

The Governor said that he would recommend to the next session of the Legislature that it re-study and examine this law in view of the experience and either modify or repeal it.

(Several months ago, when it became apparent that the new law was causing inconvenience and confusion, Governor Shivers ordered it suspended until it can be reviewed by the Legislature).

ELECT
28TH SENATORIAL
DISTRICT

From 1945 through 1950, Preston Smith was a member of the Texas House of Representatives. During that time, he was a leading advocate of construction of farm-to-market roads.

The figures below — from the files of the Texas Highway Department — show farm-to-market road mileage constructed during the six years preceding Preston Smith's tenure in office, compared with construction during the six years he was a member of the Texas Legislature.

COUNTY	1939-44	1945-50
Cochran	0.00	62.48
Crosby	.36	60.52
Dawson	0.00	44.39
Gaines	0.00	35.07
Hockley	1.59	47.93
Lubbock	0.00	57.39
Lynn	0.00	74.63
Terry	0.00	61.78
Yoakum	0.00	20.03
Totals	1.95	466.22
State Totals	1,425.95	9,560.55

During Preston Smith's three terms in office, more than 200 times as many miles of farm-to-market road were constructed in these nine counties than were built during the preceding six years. This record speaks for itself.

AS STATE REPRESENTATIVE, PRESTON SMITH SPONSORED:

- Construction of Farm-to-Market Roads
- Rural Telephone Bill
- Legislative Re-districting
- Bonds for Construction of Hospitals
- Expansion of Texas Tech

AS STATE SENATOR, PRESTON SMITH ADVOCATES:

- Continuation of Farm-to-Market Road Program
- More Vigorous Soil Conservation Program
- Continued Growth and Expansion of Texas Tech
- Local Ownership of Underground Water
- Adequate provisions for Our Aged Citizens
- Preservation of Local and State Rights

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

DON'T HIDE THE LAUNDRY ROOM— PLAN IT FOR DAILY FAMILY USE

by the
General Electric Consumers Institute

Don't put the laundry in just any old "left-over" space when you're planning a new home — or remodeling an old one.

The home laundry, equipped with modern electric washer, dryer and ironer, is no longer a messy part of the house—and so it doesn't have to be hidden away in the basement, says the General Electric Consumers Institute.

But if the basement is the only available free space, you can at least incorporate modern equipment — plus a clothes chute from the upper floor to save yourself time and energy — and can make the laundry room do double duty as a children's play room or a family recreation area.

Remember, however, that placing the home laundry in the basement results in a waste of plumbing. The need for pipes and fixtures underground usually means that the septic tank or sewer must be so much lower—a costly arrangement.

Why Not on Second Floor?

There is really no reason why the laundry room cannot be on the second floor—the source, incidentally, of most soiled linen and clothing. In such a set-up, you move soiled washables only a few feet into the laundry area—wash, dry and iron them there—and move them another few feet to storage places in closets or bureau drawers.

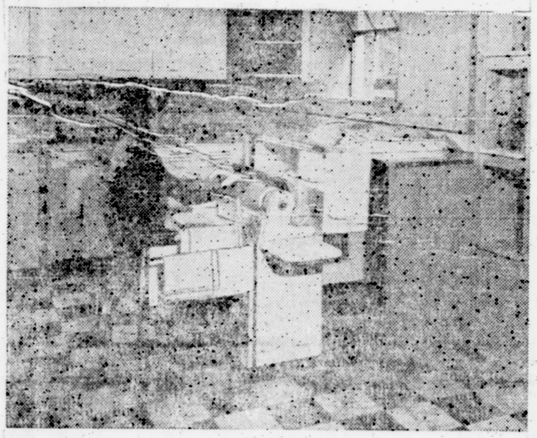
The ideal arrangement, however, is a first floor laundry, planned either as part of a kitchen-laundry combination or as a multi-purpose room, with resilient floor covering, which will be used by the family for any number of activities.

The laundry equipment can be easily enclosed in cabinets when not in use, and the room is then ready for use as a sewing room, a hobby room, a children's playroom, a room for preparation of foods for freezing (the presence of a sink in the laundry equipment set-up makes the room ideal for this purpose) or a family game room.

Playroom for Small Fry

Using such an all-purpose room as a child's playroom has the advantage of keeping the child within earshot of the homemaker working in the kitchen and at the same time keeping small fry out from under foot when mother is preparing dinner or cleaning the living room.

But wherever you locate the laundry, be sure it is laid out as efficiently as the up-to-date kitchen. Here are some of the items you would do well to include: a clothes chute, a sorting table, a soaking tray, a heating element for starch and bluing, a sink, a washer, a dryer and an ironer—plus storage cabinets. Arranged along one or two walls, in a straight line, an L-shape or a U-shape, this layout of equipment will avoid waste of time, motion and energy and will make the business of getting the family clothes clean proceed in effective assembly-line fashion.



Your home laundry can be a pleasant workroom, if it's properly planned—and with appliances installed under counters, the area serves as child's playroom, hobby room or recreation area.

PAUL BUSKIRK and his famed Western Swing Band will be the featured act in the Western version of "From Texas to Broadway" which opens at the Regal theater on July 29-30. Buskirk, "the master of the mandolin" was formerly featured with Tex Ritter and spotlights such stars as Jule Brawley, Billy Simmons, Paul Brawley and Tony Cianciola in his swing combination. Bobby Henshaw, internationally-famed comedy star, headlines the entire stage production.

Credit Restrictions Removed On Auto Loans

The VA announced on June 24 that all credit restrictions on GI business loans made by private lenders to WW II veterans for purchase of passenger automobiles have been removed—the VA insures or guarantees a part of such loans.

The VA has been limiting the maximum term on loans for the purchase of new automobiles to 30 months and had a 24 month limit on loans for the purchase of a used car . . . now, the only limit on terms of such loans is that it must not exceed the economic life of the automobile . . . no down payments are required for GI automobile loans to be guaranteed.

Under the law such loans can be guaranteed or insured only where it is shown that the automobile is a necessity to the veteran in conducting his business or fulfilling the requirements of his job. The use of an automobile merely for necessary travel to and from work does not qualify a veteran for an auto loan.

Public Law 16—Trainees Not Affected By Pay Ceilings

WW II veterans taking educational courses or training under Public Law 16 are not affected by the GI Bill ceiling limitations of $210, $270 or $290 on the amount of VA subsistence allowance which a trainee may receive in addition to wages earned by employment.

These ceilings put into effect more than 4 years ago are not designed as a restriction on the wages which a veteran may earn. The purpose is to limit the amount of subsistence which a veteran receives in addition to earned income from productive labor.

The VA has repeatedly stressed that the law never intended that a veteran, while in training, should receive a higher amount—that is, total sum to pay from his employer—trainer and the government—then the pay he will receive when fully trained. "Pay when fully trained" means that standard wages paid to a skilled worker in the same trade or occupation. Whereas, Public Law 16 trainees are not affected by the GI Bill ceiling, this other restriction does apply . . . thus . . . when a vocational trainee's wages — combined with his subsistence allowance—exceeds the pay when fully trained, his subsistence allowance will be reduced by a proportionate amount necessary to equal the limit.

DROP EXPECTED IN TECH ENROLLMENT

LUBBOCK. — Texas Tech students will register for the second summer term July 17.

Another drop in summer enrollment is expected from the first semester's 1,957. Classes are scheduled to start July 18, and the second summer term will end with summer commencement exercises August 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Broun and daughter, Jan, were in Winkler a few days last week visiting his father, B. B. Broun. Mrs. Broun started the Herald to his father with last week's issue. He is a former Terry resident.

CANDIDATE SPEAKING AT TOKIO SUCCESS

The candidate speaking and pie and cake sale at Tokio Community Center Friday night, July 11, was well attended and a success.

The sale brought $285.03. D. E. Green and J. W. Sherrin donated $15 and Leonard Lang gave a check for $25. Mr. Bartlett was unable to attend and he came by and gave $5, making a total of $330.03.

This money will be used to good advantage for all the community in the repair of the community cented. Some heard it was to pay for the air conditioner, but it is already paid for.

We want to thank all you ladies who brought pies and cakes, also to thank all you candidates and everyone who helped in any way. We find a Community Center is worth a lot to the community. We invite each of you to visit us again.—Mrs. D. E. Green, Tokio, Texas.

Emogene Fitzgerald Weds Chas .W. Ward

Mrs. Charles W. Ward

In a candlelight ceremony read Sunday at 3 p. m. in the First Methodist Church, Miss Emogene Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Edward Fitzgerald, 209 East Hill, became the bride of Charles Walter Ward, son of Mrs. Ivy Ward of Route 4.

Rev. Dallas D. Denison, pastor of the church, officiated for the double ring vows, which were read before an altar centered by a cross, flanked by two branched candelabra holding white cathedral tapers. The bridal aisle was laid with white, and marking the pews were white satin ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Roy Herod, organist, played a musical prelude of "O Promise Me," "Tonight We Love" and "Indian Love Call." She also accompanied her son, Billy Mack Herod, whose vocal solos were "I Love You Truly" and "Through the Years." Traditional wedding marches were used, and "Traumeri" was played as a musical background for the lighting of the tapers.

Candlelighters were Judith Karen Rives and Jacquelyn Sharol Rives, nieces of the bride, from Crane. They wore pink taffeta frocks with full net overskirts and wristlets of white split carnations. Completing their ensembles were headdresses of white ruffled net detailed with deep rose satin tubing.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of traditional candlelight satin which had been worn by her mother. The fitted bodice of candlelight georgette over satin was lightly shirred at the throat and waistline. A low bertha of chantilly lace and georgette rosettes accented the bodice, which was detailed at the throat with petals. The three-quarter length overskirt of georgette was edged with rows of tucks and the full-length satin skirt was shirred below the waistline. The three-quarter satin sleeves were shirred and edged with wide chantilly lace.

Her full-length veil of imported silk illusion fell from a corornet of seed pearls and orange blossoms. The bride's bouquet of white roses was carried atop a white Bible and showered with stephanotis and white satin streamers. Something old and borrowed was a white silk handkerchief belonging to her father. The bride chose a garter for something blue, and her pearl earscrews were something new.

Miss Melva Moden of Wichita, Kans., attended the bride as maid of honor. Miss Joyce Sawyer of Lubbock was bridesmaid and bridesmatrons were Mrs. Jake Geron and Mrs. R. D. Shewmae, both of Brownfield. The bride, Miss Sawyer, Mrs. Geron and Mrs. Shewmake all started to the first grade together and graduated from Brownfield High school at the same time.

Miss Moden and Miss Sawyer were gowned in frosted pink, and the two bridesmatrons wore petal pink frocks. Their sleeveless taffeta dresses featured full tucked overskirts of matching net and were designed along similar lines to those of the bridal gown. Their fitted bodices fastened down the back with tiny self-covered buttons.

They carried fan-shaped arrangements of pink carnations looped with deep rose satin tubing and matchless maline. Streamers of satin ribbon were in varied shades of pink. The matron of honor's bouquet featured deeper tones of pink than those of the other bridal attendants.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, mother of the bride, wore a gown of shrimp-toned lace over mtching changeable taffeta, and Mrs. Ward, mother of the bridegroom, was dressed in a frock of toast lace overmatching changeable taffeta. Their identical corsages were of pinochio roses.

M. J. Craig Jr., attended the bridegroom as best man. Roy and Ray Gober, twin cousins of the bridegroom, were ushers. Robert Lee Craig and Wayne Cadenhead of Meadow assisted as ushers and also served as groomsmen.

Immediately after the ceremony, a wedding reception was held in the parsonage home of Rev. and Mrs. Denison, 402 East Tate. Assisting the couple in receiving were the bride's parents, Mrs. Ward, and members of the wedding party.

The bride's table was laid with a floor length cloth of white organdy over white taffeta, sprinkled with golden stars. A table-top inset of pale green formed a background for the double wedding ring cake iced in white and ornamented with white, pink and pale green confection. Pink tapers burning in crystal holders highlighted the bouquets of the bridal attendants, which formed the floral centerpiece for the table. A crystal punch service was placed at one end of the table, and an arrangement of white roses centered the buffet. Arrangements of roses in white and shades of pink were used throughout the receiving rooms to carry out the pink and white theme.

Mrs. Harry Luper, cousin of the bride, served cake, and Mrs. Johnny Fitzgerald, another cousin, presided at the punch service. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Kelton Moller and Miss Christine Gorman, and Mrs. Gene Wilson, sister of the bridegroom, registered guests in the white bride's book, both at the wedding and reception. Recorded music was played throughout the receiving hours.

Members of the reception house party were Mesadmes G. S. Webber, J. L. Randal, Ida Belle Walker, Homer Winston, W. B. Downing, Wayland Parker and Miss Dorothy Short.

After a wedding trip to points in New Mexico, the couple will be at home on July 27, in Brownfield. For traveling, the bride chose a white linen ensemble with a green silk shantung bolero, white hat, green accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Out-of-town wedding and reception guests attended from Artesia, N. M., Enid, Okla., Wichita, Kans., Lubbock and Plains.

The bride attended Brownfield schools and is a graduate of both Brownfield High school and a business college in Lubbock. She is employed as a stenographer in Magnolia Petroleum company in the Engineering Department of Brownfield. Until about a year ago, she was secretary of the College Hill Methodist Church in Wichita, Kans., and had held that position for five years.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Klein High school, and has done advanced work with the LaSalle Extension university in Chicago. He is employed as a bookkeeper at Craig Motor company in Brownfield.

Behind The Scenes

By REYNOLDS KNIGHT

NEW YORK, July 14.—Although not pessimistic, executives of 228 companies are not as cheerful about the 1952 business outlook as they were six months ago, a survey by the National Industrial Board indicates.

The high rate of production, along with its indications of intensified competition; the saving of materials shortages; the trend toward greater labor unrest, and the defense stretchout seemed to have caused the business leaders to revise their estimates. Only 40 per cent expected higher sales this year; 50 per cent thought so at the beginning of the year. Two-thirds expect lower profits and more than half expect a reduction in unfilled orders.

The outlook is still good, however. The best indicator of this is that only one company in every twenty is cutting back on its capital expansion program.

BUSINESS FACES ITS GREATEST COMPETITION

AUSTIN. — Business faces the greatest competition in its history for men of "courage, vision, initiative and leadership," Business Administration Dean W. R. Spriegel of the University of Texas declares.

Government, the military and the professions are claiming more young men than ever before, Dr. Spriegel writes in his latest book, "Principles of Business Organization and Operation."

A confirmed candid camera fan—Red Skelton has made those around him self-conscious to a point summed up by a friend who had been shot by Red three times in one day.

"Every time Red points a camera at me, I feel I musta put an ear on upside down!" he muttered uneasily, as he straightened his tie and gazed apprehensively into a mirror.

This yen of Red's to snap pictures stems from his tremendous interest in people — and also a desire for perfection in his chosen craft.

The lively comedian, whose NBC-TV "Red Skelton Show" is viewed Sunday evenings, also collects stray bits of conversations. The snaps of his friends and acquaintances taken when they are relaxed and natural —the bits of conversations — are part of research on comedy characterizations for his repertoire.

Annuities Bring 102-Year-Old Woman 300% Return

Hale and hearty at 102, Mrs. Thomas R. Almond, New Hampshire-born woman now residing in New York, is shown receiving check for regular payment on an annuity contract she purchased from Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York back in 1906. Mutual of New York's President Louis W. Dawson is seen presenting payment in person on the occasion of Mrs. Almond's 102nd birthday. He reminded her that as Mutual's oldest annuitant she had received more than triple the amount she paid 46 years ago. When Mrs. Almond exclaimed that she felt she had defrauded the company, Mr. Dawson laughed and reassured her such was not the case. The ceremonies concluded with a toast proposed by Mr. Dawson to the continued health and longevity of Mrs. Almond, who responded by proposing another 'to the good health of everybody in the room.'

ALLAN SHIVERS FOR GOVERNOR

THE TRUTH ABOUT OLD AGE ASSISTANCE

Governor Allan Shivers wrote and helped pass the first Old-Age Assistance Law in Texas.

He stands for equitable distribution of funds for the needy.

Two years ago he was one of the leaders who tried to get more money for the aged, a cause that failed because the voters disapproved a constitutional amendment.

Governor Shivers has, in the past and will in the future, advocate making available to our deserving old aged citizens not merely enough for a meager existence, but sufficient funds to carry them through the evening years of life as proud, dignified citizens.

THE TRUTH ABOUT COUNTY ROAD FUNDS

Farm-to-market road building has been the greatest in history during the Shivers administration.

During Governor Shivers' administration, Terry county has received $660,948 rural road benefits from state highway user taxes as follows:

License fees $268,859, road bond surplus $67,888, construction of farm-to-market roads $224,200, authorized but not under construction $100,000.

In this county, 29 miles of farm-to-market roads have been built, and an additional 11 miles have been authorized for construction, for a total of 40 miles.

Governor Shivers' administration has consistently supported the Terry county road building program and will continue to do so in the future.

Together-we will continue to build a greater Texas Allan Shivers

It saves your strength - and it might save your life

CAN you imagine parking a car as easily as you steer it on a straightaway?

You twirl the steering wheel with one hand—turn the front wheels until you get the last inch of advantage from Buick's short "turning radius"—spot the car in a tight spot at the curb—or swing out when the car parked in front of you seems impossibly close.

For this alone a lot of people—especially women—are saying that Buick's Power Steering is the biggest advance since Dynaflow Drive.*

But you're going to find out something more as you pile up the miles.

You're going to feel the same confident and thrilling sense of command you have always felt in a Buick, because Power Steering only goes into action when extra effort is needed to turn the wheels.

You're going to find that your front wheels track just as they always have—that they automatically swing back on course, after you've made a turn, when you ease your grip on the steering wheel.

You're also going to find that Power Steering takes over when your front wheels hit loose dirt or sand—road irregularities and chuckholes—and smooths down their jerk or tug on the wheel in your hands.

All this adds to the ease and pleasure of driving. But it adds to the safety, too, because, in the rare event of a blowout, Power Steering helps you keep control. There's no sudden and violent jerk ever when this helping hand's on the job.

Add to this the level-gaited serenity of Buick's Million Dollar Ride—the "rarin' to go" exuberance of its Fireball 8 Engine—the spread-out room, the luxurious fabrics—the way this great performer can turn up its nose at gas stations—and there's only one smart thing for you to do:

Drop in — or pick up your phone — and arrange to give this marvel a tryout. Even the price says, Better buy Buick now.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. †Now available on Super as well as Roadmaster—optional at extra cost.

Air-Cooled Board Speeds Ironing

BY EDNA MILES

THE modern ironing board has come a long way since the days when grandmother stretched a plank across the backs of two kitchen chairs.

First it acquired legs, folding ones that allowed compact storage. Then someone discovered metal was less fire-hazardous than wood.

Created upon the basic assumption that the time required to iron a garment dry depends upon how fast the moisture is eliminated, this board allows steam to escape through its ventilated surface. Thus evaporation is hastened.

This metal web, which is 61 per cent open space, according to makers, allows much faster drying than solid-type boards which tend to trap the steam. The effort of the home-maker goes into smoothing wrinkles from her laundry rather than into baking moisture from the board, they explain.

Supporting the top, which is constructed of pierced sheet steel that has been stretched into a diamond pattern, are two pairs of rubber-footed, tubular steel legs which lock into place during use and release with one hand when folding-time comes.

This young woman admires the diamond-patterned metal web that forms the top of her ironing board. Steam escapes through the mesh; thus shortening ironing time.

The average U. S. woman in the 25-29 age group and 5 feet 6 weighs approximately 136.

Farmers' Incomes Below Last Year

AUSTIN.—Texas farmers' cash income for the first five months of 1952 was 5 per cent below that of the same 1951 period, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

The fact that marketings of many grain and livestock products fell behind last year's schedules is the main cause for the drop, researchers say. Not equaling 1951 results were oats, corn, grain sorghum, peanuts, cattle, calves, hogs, sheep and lambs, wool, mohair, and eggs.

Balancing those declines were increased sales of cotton (214 per cent), cottonseed (153 per cent), wheat (748 per cent), poultry (10 per cent), milks and milk products (10 per cent), and fruits and vegetables (139 per cent).

LIVESTOCK SHIPMENTS SHOW BIG DECLINE

AUSTIN.—Total Texas livestock shipments during May were 42 per cent below April and 21 per cent below May, 1951, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Only calf shipments were higher in May than in the same period last year (up 28 per cent). Cattle, hog and sheep shipments decreased in the year-to-year comparison.

Old Time Oil Stories To Be Recorded

AUSTIN.—Old-timers in Texas oil will record their stories for the University of Texas archives through a new project made possible by a Houston woman and her son.

Mrs. Walter B. Sharp, widow of an early-day oil man, and Dudley C. Sharp gave the University a fund for research on Texas oil pioneers. Local historians in the state's oil-producing areas will assist in obtaining tape-recordings of "I-remember-when's," told by living pioneers in the industry.

"This type of oral history will make possible the preservation of the flavor and color of the oil industry as it was not possible to preserve the experiences and personalities of pioneers in other fields," said Professor William A. Owens of Columbia University, who will assist in the research project.

In addition to recordings, the University library's archives section will collect letters, diaries, photographs and other documents pertaining to development of the Texas oil industry. All the materials will be made available to responsible journalists and scholars.

Another phase of the project will be a series of oil pioneers' biographies to be published as they are completed.

W. B. Sharp, who died in 1914, is credited with developing the rotary drill, the mud system of drilling and a fire-fighting system for diverting oil from the blaze. The successful wildcatter began as a water-well driller and later drilled wells in most of the early Texas oil fields.

Miss Winnie Allen, University archivist, and Professor Mody C. Boatright, English teacher and folklorist, will direct the research project.

Preston Smith's Legislative Record Shows Accomplishments For West Texas

Preston Smith, candidate for State Senator from this new 28th Senatorial District, points to his legislative record of accomplishment in support of his candidacy for this office.

"As a member of the legislature for six years from this district I am proud to have had a part in bringing about the achievements made for the people of West Texas during that time," said Smith.

Preston Smith, while serving as a member of the legislature, either sponsored or co-sponsored some of the most beneficial legislation West Texas has ever had. He was co-author of the legislation which forced the last session of the legislature to redistrict and give West Texas fair representation in the legislature. He was co-author of both laws which now provide us with Farm-to-Market roads and Rural Telephones. He was co-author of both our Hospital Plan and Our Prison Reform Bill.

Smith, having been reared on a farm in Gaines County, has always championed the cause of rural development. He was co-author of our present underground water law which reaffirms private ownership of underground water, and he victoriously led the fight against any controls. He was a leading advocate of Farm-to-Market Road construction and the files of the Texas Highway Department show that more than 200 times as many miles of Farm-to-Market roads were constructed in his district during his term of office as was constructed during any six years prior to his taking office in this same district. During Smith's first term in the Texas legislature in 1945, he vigorously opposed a measure that would have taken away the farmers' gasoline tax refund. This measure was so soundly defeated that it has not been introduced again in the legislature.

Smith was graduated from Texas Tech in 1934. He was author and sponsor of the legislation which brought about the $4,500,000.00 building program for Texas Tech and through this legislation Tech will receive another grant in 1958. Having married a school teacher, he knows and understands the problems confronting this profession and has supported every measure that has been beneficial to our public school system.

He vigorously supported our soil conservation program and is advocating its expansion. He supported our old age assistance program and our Veteran's Land Bill. He has opposed a sales tax and a state income tax and is still opposed to them.

Smith grew up on a farm and knows first hand the problems confronting agriculture. He worked his way through both Lamesa High school and Texas Tech and thereby learned and knows the value of a dollar. For more than 20 years he has successfully operated his own business and from this exeperience knows the problems confronting our business men. He firmly believes that we must apply sound principles of business to the operation of our state government, which is the largest single business in Texas.

"As a man with broad agricultural, business and legislative experience I feel well qualified to serve as your State Senator from this new 28th Senatorial District," Smith said in asking support of his candidacy.
