Ozona AFS Cagers Smother Sweetwater AFS 59-39 Here Sat.

By Jude J. Bourdeau

Ozona AFS's basketball team soundly thrashed arch rival Sweetwater AFS 59-39 in a game played in the local high school gym last Saturday night..

The game started out as if Sweetwater was out for a big night. Scoring six successive points they took an early lead of 6-2, but after that Ozona's offensive attack paced by Al "Pops" Riddick, began to roll. Riddick scored six points on three field goals and two points on foul shots to pace Ozona who scored 25 straight points before Sweetwater could recover enough to score their remaining four points of the first half.

The first half ended with Ozona holding a commanding lead of 24-10.

The second half with Ron Reed (high scorer of the game) LeRoy Schnittker, and Bob Olmstead pacing the attack, Ozona again outscored Sweetwater 35-29 to make the final score read 59-39.

High scorer for the game with five field goals and four free throws was Ron Reed of Ozona, and second high man was Bill Lee of Sweetwater who scored 13 points. Summary of the game was as follows:

Third Shallow Producer Completed on M. West Val Verde Co. Ranch

An undesignated shallow Paluxy sand field of north central Val Verde County gained its third producer with completion of Ashmore & Elwell, et al, Midland No. 4 Massie West, five miles northwest of Juno.

It was finaled for a daily pumping potential of seven barrels of 18 gravity oil, plus eight barrels of water, through perforations between 418-424 feet, which had been fractured with 2,000 gallons. The project was drilled to total depth of 431 feet.

Location is in Mason csl. survey No. 1.

Weather Front Brings Moisture, Without Ice, Snow

Slow Drizzle In Area To Benefit Winter Range Conditions

A wintertime weather front which brought snow and ice to the Texas panhandle and the far west, served up some much needed and most welcome moisture to the Crockett county area without the accompanying hazardous condition of ice and snow.

Ranging from a half inch or more to the east of Ozona, the three days disturbance had produced moisture generally over the county and most of West Texas, lighter to the west of Ozona but sufficient in all areas to wet the top of the ground and materially aid the growth of winter weeds and green up other livestock grazing.

Moisture amounting to approximately .3 of an inch had fallen to Wednesday morning and a slow drizzle which set in Wednesday morning and continued throughout the day and night raised the total .53 of an inch of slow falling, soaking in Ozona.

Temperatures have been nippy, with cold west and northwest winds adding to the moist chill, but up to this morning there had been no snow, sleet or freezing rain, the temperature rising somewhat during last night.

Girl Basketballers Wind Up Pre-Christmas Slate Here Mon. Night

By Ernie Boyd

The Ozona girls basketball team will face the Comstock High School team in Ozona Monday night in games starting at 6 and 7 p. m. while Lockett will play McCamey in a game at 8 p. m.

The Ozona girls won one and lost one in the Rocksprings tourney over the weekend, winnig from Comstock 32 to 23 and losing to host Rocksprings 55 to 26.

Beverly Alford and Don Nell Carnes with 12 and 11 points, respectively, led the Ozona team while Alma Dingler with 14 points was the game's high scorer.

Ozona jumped into a first quarter lead and were never headed as the two teams met in the first round of the tourney.

Host Rocksprings gave the Ozona girls a 55 to 26 thumping in the second round as the strong Rocksprings sextette led all the way. Beverlyl Alford led the Ozona scorers with 12 points and Janie Lara and Helen Maness each contributed six points to the Ozona attack.

Linda Witworth with 26 points and Sarah Hines with 14 points led the Rocksprings team to the victory.

The win and loss left the Ozona team with a one won and three lost mark so far this season with Monday night's game winding up pre-Christmas play.

Johnson To Seek Re-Election To 112th Dist. Bench

Stockton Jurist First To Launch 1960 Political Drive

District Judge Hart Johnson of Fort Stockton today announced that he will seek re-election to the post in next year's Democratic primary.

He will seek his first full four-year term in the office, having been appointed to fill the unexpired term of Judge Jim Langdon Jan. 1, 1959.

A lifelong resident of Fort Stockton, Johnson had practiced law in Fort Stockton for 33 years prior to becoming district judge. His 112th judicial district includes Pecos, Upton, Crockett and Sutton Counties.

He was graduated from Fort Stockton high school in 1918, received a degree from Simmons College, now Hardin- Simmons University, in 1922 and a law degree from the University of Texas in 1926.

Johnson served two terms as Pecos County attorney. He was mayor of the city of Fort Stockton from 1939 until resigning in 1942 and was 112th district attorney for six terms from 1943 through 1954.

He has one daughter, Mrs. Paul H. Dionne of Fort Stockton, and two grandchildren.

Lions To Host Eldorado Cage Squad Tonight

Ozona Quint Will Be Seeking To Polish Up Play Style

By Ernie Boyd

The Ozona Lions wil be seeking to get ahead in the win column tonight as they face the Eldorado Eagles at Davidson Gym starting at 8 p. m. A game between the B teams is scheduled to begin at 6:30.

In the past week's activities the Lions walloped Imperial, dropped two close games to Fort Stockton and McCamey and then collapsed as Iraan crushed them.

The Lions, playing without the services of Jim Williams, opened their bid for the Rankin tourney title with an easy 67-27 win over Imperial. Wayne Albers led the Lion attack, scoring 20 points while Johnny Jones and Dick Flanigan each contributed 10 to the attack.

Imperial garnered but one point in the first quarter while the Lions were runnig up 17 and from there on Coach Brooks Dozier used all the players at his command to finish out the contest.

Saturday afternoon the Lions met the tree-tall Ft. Stockton Panthers in the second round and dropped a 39 to 35 decision to the eventual champions when poor ball handling and passing on the part of the Lions gave the Panthers the breaks they needed.

The Lions jumped out into a 14 to 8 lead in the first quarter on the shooting of Jim Freeman and Muggins Good but the Panthers climbed into a 19-all tie at half time and then took a one point 28 to 27 lead at the end of the third quarter.

The final period saw the Ft. Stockton crew outscore the Lions 11 to 8 but the final goal came just at the buzzer. Muggins Good led the Lions with 17 points and was high scorer for the game.

The Lions faced the veteran McCamey Badgers for third place Saturday night and dropped a hard fought but very cleanly played 41 to 39 decision to the Badgers. They fell behind 15 to 7 in the first quarter but steadily rallied through the second and third periods to reduce the Badger lead to only two points at 30 to 28 at the end of three periods but the Badgers held on and matched the Lions point for point in the last period

CUBAN MENACE WON'T GO 'WAY

As the Cuban revolution enters its second phase — that of the takeover of all business, Cuban and foreign, by the bearded prophet's forces — it begins to look as though Fidel Castro's executioner, Major Ernesto "Che" Guevara may emerge as the real dictator of this unhappy island.

The latest move is the installation of rebel officers in factories and business concerns so that they may be instructed by the up-to-now owners and managers in the operation and management of these institutions. This invasion is being conducted by the industrial division of the Agrarian Reform Institute, over which the notorious Guevara is the czar. While business heads are receiving polite letters requesting that an officer be taken into the firm for indoctrination, they are reported as taking a dim view of these proceedings. One industrialist called it "the handwriting on the wall." Others refer to the classic of the camel's nose in the tent.

As if any further authority were needed, Che Guevara is also head of the National Bank, from which post he is clamping down on the sudden enthusiasm of his countrymen for travel to the US.

For further highlights on this character, and incidentally on the Latin-American view of the US hands-off policy, we turn to the "Latin - American Events" newsletter — as quoted by Human Events in Washington. The editor is Dr. Emilio Nunez Portuondo, Cuba's former ambassador to the UN and a patriot who is both anti-Batista and anti-Castro, and who has recently completed a tour through Latin America.

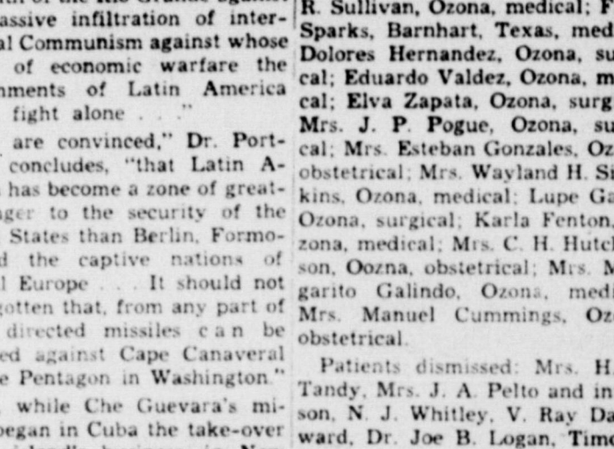

He reports that Che Guevara boasts of Red Chinese and Russian support and quotes him as saying: "The United States should not believe that in case they decided to attack the Government of Fidel Castro, they will be confronted only by Cubans. They will have to fight against soldiers from other great powers such as the Soviet Union and Communist China."

Dr. Portuondo's "most far reaching conclusion" after his recent tour, he says, "is the clearly obvious fact that those friends remaining loyal to the USA have practically lost all faith in the United States of America as the world leader and defender of people south of the Rio Grande against the massive infiltration of international Communism against whose tactics of economic warfare the Governments of Latin America cannot fight alone . . ."

"We are convinced," Dr. Portuondo concludes, "that Latin America has become a zone of greater danger to the security of the United States than Berlin, Formosa and the captive nations of Central Europe . . . It should not be forgotten that, from any part of Cuba, directed missiles can be launched against Cape Canaveral and the Pentagon in Washington."

And, while Che Guevara's minions began in Cuba the take-over of the island's business, in New Delhi, President Eisenhower told the Indian Parliament of our "adequate armed forces" and how they exist to "serve not only ourselves but those of our friends and allies, who, like us, have perceived this danger." (The danger from "the aggressive intentions of an alien philosophy backed by great military might."

With the report from New Delhi came the news that the President is considering a good will tour of Latin America.

Letters To Santa

DEAR SANTA:

I think I have been a good girl. I would like to have a Ting Tears doll and a car bed. Also want a real watch.

Will have some fruit and candy under the three for you. Love,

Mitzi Friend

DEAR SANTA:

I want a Tiny Tears doll that cries real tears. I need a washer and drier too. And I would like some spurs to wear at my ranch.

I will leave you a glass of milk and you can cut off some cookies on the Christmas tree. Love, Lou Cox.

P. S. These are the toys I want most, but anything will be fine.

to win as the Lions last shot rimmed out just before the buzzer.

Muggins Good of the Lions and Roy Parmelly of the Badgers each had 12 points for high point honors while Johnny Jones had 8 for the Lions.

Johnny Jones' fine floor play led to his selection as an all-tourney performer. Jim Freeman and Cary Montgomery both contributed heavily to the Lions good play with fine defense and good rebounding.

Tuesday night at home the Lions could do nothing right as they were slaughtered 55 to 38 by the Iraan Braves. The Lions turned in by far their worst showing of the year as they did as much to beat themselves as Iraan did.

Duane Cash led the Iraan attack with 23 points and Verl McDaniel had 14 for Iraan. None of the Lions played well even though Muggins Good did manage 12 points before fouling out in the third period.

Neither team seemed very sharp as the first quarter produced only a 4 to 3 score production. The Lions did not improve as the contest went on and the result was the one-sided Iraan win. Jim Freeman, the Lions top defense man, missed the contest due to illness.

The Ozona B team won over the Iraan team 36 to 28 but had almos as poor a night as their varsity. Mike Stiles led the Ozona attack with 10 points.

WINS COLLEGE HONOR

Miss Genelle Childress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pleas Childress of Ozona, and a student at Pine Manor Junior College, Wellesley, Mass., has been elected by the college faculty and administration for special honors to serve as a participant in the college Candlelighting Service.

"Congratulations on your election by the faculty, administration and staff to serve as one of the participants in the Candlelighting service", reads a letter from the college president, Dr. Frederick C. Perry, Jr., to Miss Childress. "Through recent years this has become one of the ways of recognizing those young women who have contributed to the college beyond usual measure."

AL "HIP" VERSION OF NIGHT BEFORE XMAS

the night before Christ-d all through the pad hipster was swinging, not
d Dad;
chimney was draped in
cking routine,
pes that "The Fat Man"
oon make the scene;

wee cats were laid out, all their beds,
sounds of the "Sugar
wailed through their heads;
my chick in her "Castro"
on the floor,
just conked out cold for a ink snore.

out of left field there
n such a ribble, ke from my sack to see
as this dribble!
he glasspane I cut like a tern movie,
d in on the action, and Man,
groovy!

moon and the snow were,
king together,
h made the sceine rock in
y People weather,
n, what to these peepers
come on real queer,
a real crazy sleigh, and eight
ng reindeer,

a hopped-up old driver on rantic kick, s in a flash that it must be k.
faster than "Bird" blew,
roup was no drag,
he rocked, and he rolled,
pegged them by tag:

e, Dasher! Like Dancer!
Prancer and Vixen!
Comet! Go, Cupid; Go, Don-
d Blitzen!
over the shack! Make it the pad!

Now cut out, Man!! cut out, Man! Cut out like mad!"

As sidemen in combos pick up as they stomp,
When they swing with the beat of a Dixieal and Romp,
So up to the top of my bandstand they flew,
With the sleigh full of loot, and St. Nicholas, too.

And then, in a quick riff, I dug on the roof
The jumpin' and jivin' of each swingin' hoof.
As I pulled in my noggin' and turned around fast,
Down the chimney came Nick like a hot trumpet blast.

He was wrapped up to kill, Man, a real Kookie dresser!
And his rags were like way out! Pops! He was a gasser!
A sack, full of goodies hung down to his tail,
And he looked like a postman with Elvis's' fan mail.

His lids — Man, they sizzled! His dimples were smiles!
His cheeks were like "Dizzy's," his beak was like "Miles"!
His puckered-up mouth was, like glowing flat E,
And his chin hid behind a real crazy goatee!

The tip of a butt he had snagged in his choppers,
And he tok a few drags just like all cool be-boppers;
He had a weird face, and a solid reet middle
That bounced when he cracked, like a gutbucket fiddle!

He was shaking with meat, meaning he was no square,
And I flipped 'cause I'd always thought he was "longhair"!
But the glint in his eye and the beat in his touch
Soon gave me the message this cat was "too much"!

He blew not a sound, but skidped right to his gig,
And stashed all the stockings, then came on real big,
And flashing a sigh, like that old "Schnozzle" bit,
And playing it hip, up the chimney he split;
He flew to his skids, to his group blew a lick,
And they cut out real cool, on a wild frenzied kick.

But I heard him sound off, with a razz-a-ma-tazz:
"A cool Christmas to all, and like, all of that Jazz!"

Dear Santa:

Dear Santa,

Will you please send me a new makeup kit for Christmas. One very dear to me invited me to the Cazbar and I want to look my very best for him. Will you please send me a mouth plug for my "dear one". Fair Maiden

Dear Santa,

Please send me a new swing for Christmas. My swing was broken by a weightlifting brute. It was splattered and deer blood all over it. My little girl is very disappointed with my neighbors and me.
Signed Teacher

Dear Santa Claus,

Please bring me some lipstick that attracts something besides bacteria. Our biology teacher has been showing my germs to all the boys.
Sandy

Dear Santa,

I don't need much this Christmas because I already have a new baby boy. The one thing I do need is a box of expensive cigars — I gave all of my cheap ones away.
J. A. P.

Dear Santa Claus,

Please bring me two or three female scientists for my third period chemistry class.
Sincerely yours, Mr. Dobbs

Dear Santa,

Please bring me some good actors for the Junior play who don't play football, basketball, or run track, and who love to practice.
Your friend, Mr. Leath

Dear Santa,

Please send me three correspondence courses, as I have missed quite a bit of school. Also, please send me Bridgitte Bardot.

MADE WITH WOOL

The district "Make it with Wool" Contest was held in Ozona Saturday, December 11. The girls were divided into three divisions, Subdeb, Junior, and Senior. The judges were to select a first place in each division. Four girls in the Junior division were picked to take their garments to the state contest in San Antonio, which will be held in January. More were chosen from this division because of the percentage. The girls winning were: Seniors — Ann Baggett; Junior Sally Baggett, Nancy Friend, Peggy Harvick, Linda Millspaugh; Subdeb, Gracie Chandler, Arlene Gotcher, and Gail Johnigan.

The contestants were placed in divisions according to age-Senior 18-22, Junior 14-17, and Sub-deb 13-16.

Garden Reminders

From Garden Club Reporter

The Ozona Garden Club wishes to express publicly its appreciation to the West Texas Utilities Co. for lighting the hospital grounds as a courtesy to the Christmas lighting campaign of the club. The lights will be on each evening until 11 p. m. so drive by and see how beautiful our hospital grounds are by night.

If you can't enter the Christmas lighting contest, decorate your house and yard, not only for your own enjoyment as well as that of the entire community, but for the pleasure it affords to the travelers passing through our town.

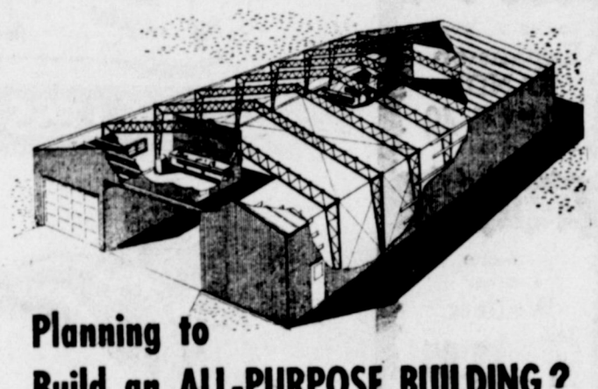

Have you seen the inspiring Nativity scene on the lawn of the Methodist Church? It was erected by the Methodist Youth Fellowship. Enjoy the recorded carols.

The lights around the square are festive.

Help make our little town beautiful in commemoration of the birth of the Christ child.

Miss Lola Mae Daniel, Ozona teacher, attended the first statewide TEPS conference of the Texas State Teachers Association held Dec. 11 and 12 at the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas. The conference, on Teacher Education and Professional Standards, seeks to establish new respect for teaching as a profession and to 'take a good look at teacher education programs!'

Notes From The County Agent's Office

By Pete W. Jacoby

Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers who attended the State Convention at Austin last week and especially those from Crockett County were mighty proud of three Crockett County 4-H boys who were on the convention program. Pierce Miller made an exceptionally fine address to the convention regarding his 4-H club work and recent trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Bill Jacoby gave the sheep and goat men a good report of range camp activities he attended this past summer. Bill Williams was presented the state award in the Range Management Award Contest which he won this year. President Sears and other members were sincere in their appraisal of the fine work done by these outstanding 4-H members from Crockett County.

Pierce Miller and Bill Jocaby will give the Lion's Club program on the 17th. The boys will tell the club of their 4-H work and achievements they have accomplished in 4-H.

Thought you'd be interested in this little story that reached me a few days ago. Most of you now know that the Government makes good on any Savings Bonds that are "lost, stolen, mutilated, or destroyed." But there's been at least one case that baffled Treasury officials. It was the Case of the Bond that Went to the Grave. Seems that Uncle Willie hadn't worn his Sunday-go-to-meeting' suit very often since his illness. So he used the coat pocket to store his valuables, including a couple of $100 Savings Bonds. Only trouble was, when Uncle Willie died and was buried in his best suit, no one thought of the Savings Bonds until several days after the funeral. The bonds sure were not "lost," for the whole family knew where they were. And they probably were safe and in very good condition. But "Uncle Sam" had a heart and ruled that the bonds were "technically lost," so the family recovered their value. This is possible becaus every Savings Bond is registered by name and number and the records showed that these particular bonds had not been cashed.

Those leaves which are now falling and cluttering yards and gardens can be a help instead of a headache if handled properly, says W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist.

Burning them may seem to solve the problem, he explains, but the extra time required to put them in a compost pile will return big dividends. This compost can be used next year for increasing the organic matter in the soil or mulching flowers, shrubs or vegetables.

Making a compost pile is a simple operation, points out the chemist. Scrap lumber or a few feet of net wire and four posts are the only materials needed. Start with a six inch layer of leaves and for every four square feet of enclosure dissolve a cup of commercial fertilizer, such as 8-8-8, in water and sprinkle the solution over the layer of leaves. In areas where soils are acid, Bennett suggests adding a cup of lime to the fertilizer.

After the fertilizer is added, apply a ½ to 1 inch layer of soil then continue adding layers of leaves and soil until the pile reaches the desired height. Leave the top layer somewhat saucer shaped so it will hold water, and cover it with a shallow layer of soil. It takes 3 to 4 months before the mulch is completely decomposed into a rich, composting material.
