Junell: school finance reform coming

State Rep. Robert Junell said here Thursday that there is a great disparity in Texas school districts and that the legislature will have to try to find an equitable method in public school financing in order to satisfy the state Supreme Court.

The San Angelo Democrat, who represents the 66th District, addressed a small gathering the middle school cafeteria during a town meeting designed to address the issue of school finances.

Junell said that the state Supreme Court has declared the state's school finance system unconstitutional and has given legislators until May 1 to correct the problem. Junell said even if Gov. Bill Clements calls a special session after the March primary to address the issue, there will be little time to meet the deadline.

Hopefully, he said the Supreme Court will see that the Legislature is trying to correct the problem and will allow legislators more time if it sees they are making a good-faith effort.

"We can't change in a short period of time what has taken us since 1875 to get in this position," he said.

Junell said the "culprit" in the school financing upheaval is the Texas Legislature itself.

"The Legislature has mandated programs to school districts, yet we don't send them the money to pay for them," he said. "The burden falls back on the taxpayer."

He said there several options that the legislators might consider in trying to come up with additional funds for education.

"There are some solutions that I don't find acceptable," he said. Some of those unacceptable solutions are a state income tax; "robbing" the rich schools districts to give to the poorer school districts; consolidation of school districts, particularly rural districts; and state or regional distribution centers where taxes are sent and then redistributed to local districts.

However, Junell said "you may see a lottery come out of it. I don't support the idea of a lottery and don't think it will generate enough revenue to solve the problems."

Junell said other possible solutions include a broadening of the state's sales tax base or an increase in the state sales tax; cutting of other state programs to help fund education; temporary taxes such as occupation fees for attorneys or engineers; and phase-in of a plan under which rich school districts would receive less state money than in the past, with savings going to poorer school districts.

He predicts that the controversial career ladder, designed to reward outstanding teachers, will be phased out and that "money thrown back into salaries" for teachers.

He said that Colorado City school district is in the "middle" of the school financing formula and probably won't be affected much by whatever new financing method is formulated.

He said that the Loraine school district, one of the poorer districts, will probably see more funding, but that Westbrook, one of the richer districts, might see a cut in state funding.

Annual tree-lighting event set Thursday at courthouse

The Fourth Annual "Colorado City — Christmas Country" tree lighting ceremony will start at 6 p.m. Thursday on the courthouse lawn.

Hayrides for the children, conducted by Tony Turner, will begin at 5:30 preceding the program, so parents are urged to have their children at the courthouse promptly at 5:30 if they want to go on a hayride.

Appearing on the program will be City Manager Brenda Hammond, Mayor Jim Baum, County Judge Mac Morris, CISD Supt. Dr. Jim Ramsey, and Dr. David Shaw, pastor of First United Methodist Church.

Musical selections will be presented by Tandy Curlee, the "Solid Rock Youth Choir" of First United Methodist Church and Martha Anderson. Accompanist for the community caroling will be Golda Redwine.

Also on hand for the children will be Santa and his elves, Tommy Dixon, John Tom Merritt and Vaughn Brown.

Tree-lighting chairman Joan Beach said "We're urging everyone to mark their calendars for this fourth annual Colorado City event and be sure to bring the children for all the fun, as well as a drawing for Christmas cash. Children can register at the courthouse and they must be present to win."

'Angel tree' project to benefit foster children

The Mitchell County Child Welfare Board is working toward a happier Christmas for foster children in the area.

The board is displaying "angel trees" in the lobbies of the City National Bank, First National Bank and the First State Bank of Loraine. People interested in buying a gift for a foster child are encouraged to visit one of these banks and choose an angel. Written on the front of each angel is the item to be purchased for a foster child. The gifts should be wrapped, with the angel attached, and brought by Dec. 16 to Tracy Nobles at 136 East Third Street, Earline Sellier at 332 Chestnut Street or School Nurse Mary Petty at Kelley Elementary School.

Donations may be made by choosing an angel from the tree or mailing a donation directly to 332 Chestnut Street, Colorado City.

LAND HERITAGE - T.P. Fowler Jr. and Mrs. Elaine Fowler McMichael accept the Texas Family Land Heritage certificate for the D.W. Wallace Ranch in Mitchell County from Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower at ceremonies recently at the Lyndon Baines Johnson Auditorium in Austin. The program honors properties which have been maintained in continuous agricultural production for 100 years or more by one family.

County pecan show set Monday, Tuesday

The Mitchell County Pecan Show will be held Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 4-5, reminds County Extension Agent Bryan Limmer.

Pecans will be received and processed on Monday from 1-3 p.m. with judging beginning at 2 p.m. Tuesday. All activities will be held in the C.C. Thompson Room of City National Bank.

The annual pecan show is sponsored by the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce, City National Bank, First National Bank and the Horticulture Committee of the Extension Program Council.

"Everyone is invited to come by and visit and view the pecans," said Limmer.

After the show, the pecans will be displayed in the City National Bank lobby on Wednesday and the First National Bank lobby on Thursday.

Limmer said that each entry must consist of 43 nuts and they will be displayed on a plate during the show. Classes will be judged on size, color, appearance, shell thickness, cracking quality, kernel quality and attractiveness.

Starting with this year's show, the names of the divisions have been changed. Although the native division remains the same, the in-shell and shelling categories have been replaced by commercial and classic categories.

The first three places in each variety will receive ribbons. The champions and reserve champions in the three divisions will be awarded pecan wood plaques and rosettes, respectively.

Best of show and reserve best of show will each receive banners.

Resolution honors late Dale Mathis

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following resolution was adopted by the Texas Cable TV Association in honor of the late Dale Mathis of Colorado City, a heart-transplant recipient, and a pioneer and leader in the television cable industry.

Dale Mathis

"Whereas, Dale Mathis was recruited into the Cable Television industry as a young engineer in 1962 to serve as Chief Engineer during the initial building of the Colorado City cable system and continued working with that system as General Manager until his death; and

"Whereas, Dale's influence within the cable industry reached far beyond Colorado City because of his work during the 1960s and 1970s with West Texas Microwave, a "common carrier" for cable television signals; his participation in developing a curriculum for and in operating a school for cable television technicians and cable installers sponsored by Texas A&M University; and his responsibilities as Regional Manager for Landmark Cablevision Associates; and

"Whereas, Dale's talents, enthusiasm and knowledge of cable television were widely known and were drawn upon by people in the industry over the years because of his willingness to help solve problems and his ability to inspire and guide others to achieve greater levels of competence in the performance of their jobs; and

"Whereas, Dale's service to the community through his participation in the Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department was representative of his care for people which he reflected daily in his management of the Colorado City cable system; and

"Whereas, Dale's courage and persistence in light of his failing health, and with the help of his wife Linda, his fight to regain his strength with a transplanted heart were an inspiration to all who knew him; and

"Whereas, The directors of the Texas Cable TV Association desire to record their deep sorrow at the death on March 7, 1989 of their esteemed associate, Dale, who since February 17, 1988, served as a director of this Association, be it therefore

"Resolved, That the Board of Directors of this Association hereby gives formal expression of its pride in the accomplishments of Dale Mathis in and for the cable television industry, and its previous loss in his death, by donating a sum of $2,500 to the New Hearts Foundation in his memory, and does hereby note in its records the passing from this slife of a man who was esteemed by his associates, loved by his family and friends, and respected by all.

"Resolved, Further, that a copy of this resolution be tendered to his family as a humble expression of the Board's heartfelt sympathy in its bereavement."

Obituaries

Earl Nelm Burk

Earl Nelm Burk, 94, long-time resident of Colorado City, died Thursday, Nov. 30, 1989 at Mitchell County Hospital.

Services will be Monday at 2 p.m. at Kiker-Seale Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. Fred Smith officiating. Burial will be in Colorado City Cemetery.

He was born Oct. 23, 1895 in Alabama. He was a retired farmer and a member of the Baptist Church. A veteran of World War I, he was a member of the American Legion. He and his wife, Ila, were married Nov. 20, 1921 in the Spade community.

Survivors include his wife, Ila Ruth Burk of Colorado City; a brother, John Ellis Burk Jr. of El Paso; and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by four sisters and a brother.

County Oil and Gas

Mitchell County's Coleman Ranch Field will see more developmental action when the No. 1 J. Dell Barber Jr. Tract, "A" is spudded about 12 miles northwest of Colorado City.

Carrying permit for 3,350-ft. maximum drilling depth, the well is in the T. Cuthbertson No. 4 Survey A-1187. WPPI Inc. of Westbrook will be the operator.

***

Production in the Ellenburger Formation will be the target when the No. 6 Kohler-Brentand "B" is spudded five miles west of Cuthbert.

With total depth projected to 8,500 feet, the well has Kohler Energy Inc. of Wichita Falls as operator. Drillsite is in a lease in the H&TCRR Survey Section 19 Block 26.

***

Chevron U.S.A. has plugged

and abandoned a depleted oiler in Mitchell County's Westbrook Field four miles north of the Westbrook townsite. The well was known as the No. 702 North Westbrook Unit. Location was in the T&PRR Survey Section 2 Block 28.

This community has often measured its assets in terms of businesses which provide employment for its citizens, pay taxes, and doctors who will stay. In that light, it will be of community interest to hear of the loss of Whitmire Chiropractic Center to Snyder.

The first thing that is often said of doctors who leave is that they left because they could make more money somewhere else. Dr. Whitmire is not leaving for financial gain. The $67,000 plus he has already paid during his two-year tenure for the lease purchase for the clinic appears to be down the drain. He will leave with no equity for the two years he has been here except the equity he has in faithful patients. Other will reap what they have not sown.

A compromise idea has been worked out (by patient demand) that Dr. Whitmire continue to serve his Colorado City patients on a scheduled basis once or twice a week. A small office has been found but renovations will take some time to complete. In the meantime, transportation to Snyder will be arranged for any patient needing treatment before the scheduled opening of Jan. 2 who would find the drive financially or physically difficult.

Nevertheless, it is with great regret that Dr. Whitmire moves his practice from this community. He has paid thousands of dollars in taxes and wages which benefitted Colorado City. He will continue to serve his patients and the community but in a more limited capacity.

Conservation compliance deadline near

Every farmer who farms highly erodible cropland is required under the 1985 Farm Security Act to have a conservation plan made by Dec. 31, 1989 to protect this cropland from erosion. Without this plan, they cannot receive payments for USDA farm programs.

Many of these may be farmers who have small acreages or are absentee landowners. Landusers who need a plan should contact their local USDA office on how to obtain one and keep their eligibility for USDA program payments.

A few weeks are left before the Dec. 31 deadline. Any plans made after this date will make the landuser ineligible for USDA farm program benefits until a plan is made and implemented. Farmers who meet the Dec. 31 deadline have five years to implement the plan.

For more information about the conservation provisions or for conservation planning assistance, contact the Soil Conservation Service office in the G-Kell Building in Colorado City or call 728-3473.

12 locals receive WTC scholarships

SNYDER - Twelve students from Mitchell County are among those receiving scholarships to Western Texas College for the fall semester, Dennis Carlton, student financial aid officer, said.

The scholarship recipients from Colorado City are Laura Denise Blagg, Marty Browne, Guy Compton, Ted Colley, Jodi Anne Dunn, Gena Benea Grammer, George Lara and Lisa Michelle Putman.

Other scholarship recipients are Letisia Garcia, Brian Lane Hamrick and Bonnie Herrington from Lorraine and Guy Roy Campbell Jr. from Westbrook.

Herrington is the recipient of the George and Helen Mahon Scholarship which is given each year to a Mitchell County high school graduate. Miss Grammer's scholarship was awarded by the Fine Arts Division. Other scholarships came from the WTC Scholarship Foundation and the Cunningham and Caton foundations.

Over 400 WTC students received scholarships and other types of financial aid for the fall semester, Carlton said. Students interested in obtaining financial assistance to attend WTC in the 1990 fall semester are invited to contact Carlton's office for information starting in January. Because of the time required to complete the application process, students are urged to begin their paper work early. Letters can be sent to Carlton in care of Western Texas College, Snyder, Tx. 79549 or his office can be reached by telephone at 573-8511.

Handcrafts have become part of Swedish culture

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is a report from Margie Oliver of Lorraine, a 4-H youth exchange student.

Sweden is a country rich in heritage. This can be found displayed proudly in most Swedish homes. Antique furniture, articles passed down through generations, and handcrafts all play special roles in weaving the heritage of Sweden.

For those of you who, like me, find the care put into handcraft items really special, Sweden would seem to be a haven of handcrafts.

It's no wonder handcrafts seem so easy for Swedish people...handcrafts are a part of their elementary school curriculum.

Some of the handcrafts I have been learning include knitting, crochet, weaving, knippla, and tova.

I was told before I came here about the beautiful Scandinavian sweaters. What I didn't know is that almost everyone knits their own sweaters. I have found that knitting is very relaxing, and has quick and beautiful results.

Crochet, like knitting also has quick results. You may be wondering why I refer to crochet as a Scandinavian craft. Most crochet work I had seen in Texas had been in the form of afghans. Most crochet work here in Sweden is done with very thin, fine thread to make lace curtains, lace tablecloths, or bedspreads.

Knippla is another way of making lace. It can be traced far back in the history of Sweden. It, too, requires fine thread and wooden spools. The lace pattern is made by crossing the threads in different sections.

Tova is especially popular in Northern Sweden. This craft is done with untreated wool. First the wool is carded to get the fibers going in the same direction. Then with just hot water, soap, and our hands, we patted, pressed, and molded a pair of socks to be used for house shoes.

I was amazed at how the wool stuck together in the pattern without a single stitch. The housesocks are durable and especially warm on those cold winter days.

Weaving is another craft which dates back into early Sweden history. Weaving can be done in various forms such as with birch bark, with small thin threads to make decorative bands or curtains, with wool to make blankets, even with strips of old clothes for mats that are used here for floor coverings instead of carpeting. The weaving is actually easy, but setting up the loom requires true skill and lots of patience.

All handwork requires patience, skill, and care, but most crafters seem dedicated to quality that makes each handcrafted item special. It's almost as if a crafter puts a part of himself into each project as he personalizes it with care.

Halsa from Sweden.

Love and prayers,
Margie

P.S. from Libbi-Dot tells me that Margie has done a lot of handwork during her stay in Sweden and she'll be home for Christmas! We'll all be anxious to see her work.

High school students 'adopt' grandparents

Members of the Colorado High School Future Homemakers of America have begun an adopt-a-grandparent program.

Students contact their "adopted" grandparents at least once every two weeks. Their correspondence includes writing letters, sending cards, telephone calls and going out to eat.

Judy Merrell, sponsor, said both the grandparents and the students have enjoyed getting to know each other.

FHA officer Niki Key said she has enjoyed visiting with her adopted grandmother, Eleanor Jeffries, and is looking forward to doing more with her.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

IS LEVI S. COLLINS BURIED IN COLORADO CITY?

In his day, Collins was quite a man. As a Confederate soldier, he enlisted at the outbreak of the Civil War. And the rugged Texan (though not a native) served with distinction throughout the epic struggle. His fellow warriors admired his courage.

After the war between the states, Levi Collins migrated back to Texas. Friends remembered the young man as a hard worker who never complained. His work was done mainly in this area of West Texas, basically, from Baird to Colorado (City).

Because his job required travel on horseback, Levi always carried a gun for protection against Indians. But, his main weapon was his Bible.

Levi Collins was a Methodist minister.

Completely dedicated to his calling, Collins remained unmarried...until he retired and moved to Colorado City. Then, at the age of 61, Levi met Miss Nancy - 29-year-old Nancy Knight. Although many years his junior, she fell in love with the confirmed bachelor.

The union would eventually result in nine children and family life was joyously agreed with Levi. Together they would travel in a wagon from their home in the Cedar Bend community to area towns and isolated ranches where he would preach to anyone who would listen. They were married 24 years, then the colorful frontier preacher died. It was Feb. 11, 1912. Rev. Collins was 85 years old.

The Methodist Church has a program which calls for the graves of ministers to be cited with brass markers. Dr. DAVID SHAW, pastor of the local First United Methodist Church, was asked to ascertain if Levi Collins had, in fact, been laid to rest in Colorado City.

A check of the Colorado City cemetery index, meticulously compiled over a period of years by JOE FREEMAN, quickly answered the question. Levi F. Collins is buried here in the Lone Wolf addition, space 30.

With assistance from Kiker-Seale's GEORGE GILES, the grave was quickly located. A white marble Confederate veteran marker has long since settled into the ground and only about six inches of the headstone remain above ground. Just the words "LEVI F. COLLINS" are visible.

Rev. Collins is indeed buried in Colorado City and Methodists will see to it that his work for the Lord will not be forgotten.

Dr. Shaw says a brass marker will soon adorn the early day preacher's grave.

The story doesn't end there. What about Miss Nancy? Sometime after Levi's death, she wed again. Her second husband was a man named M.T. Cocke. We don't know how long they were married, but in 1927, Miss Nancy died at the home of a son who lived in Alpine. It was he who brought his mother's body to Colorado City to be placed beside his father.

The headstone on Nancy Knight Collins Cocke's grave reads:

"Wife of M.T. Cocke
July 26, 1859
May 7, 1927
Gone to the Glory World"

Yes, Levi Collins is buried in Colorado City. And next to him is his beloved Miss Nancy.

Wolves beat Westbrook in tournament

The first round of the Coahoma Invitational Basketball Tournament got underway Thursday and there were a couple of surprises in store for those who attended.

Westbrook's girls ran into a tornado in the form of the Crosbyton Chieftettes.

The Chieftettes opened up a 21-11 first quarter lead and did not let up as they forced the Wildcats into the Consolation bracket. The final was 75-32.

Wiley of Crosbyton led all scorers with 34, while Matlock of Westbrook poured in 13 to pace the Wildcats.

The surprise of the tournament had to be the ousting of two-time defending champion Greenwood at the hands of the Wylie Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs defeated the Rangers 56-45 and moved on into the semi-finals to play the Colorado City Wolves.

The Wolves defeated the Westbrook Wildcats in a thrilling game 82-68.

The Wildcats hung tough, keeping the Wolves lead to six at halftime 41-35.

But Dane Hoover's 33 points helped the Wolves edge out the victory in the end.

Jason Morris led the Wildcats with 28 points, as Scooter Hines and Bubba Botts added 18 and 17 respectively.

Mark Monroe threw in 15 for the Wolves and Kevin Green along with Tracy Ausbie both had 13.

The Lady Wolves avenged an early season loss to the Forsan Queens Thursday, 32-28.

The Ladies led 16-14 at the half, but the Queens rallied to tie the game at the end of the third quarter at 22-22.

The Wolves regained their form in the fourth and outscored Forsan 10-6 to swipe the win.

Tracy Hoover led all scorers with 9 points.

Due to deadlines, scores in later rounds will be posted in Thursday's paper.

CMS girls take wins over Forsan

The Colorado Middle School girls took on the Forsan Queens last Monday and both teams posted wins.

The little ladies lived up to the steep tradition of playing in the confines of Wolf Gym as the seventh graders won 18-15 and the eighth grade routed the Queens 41-28.

Those scoring in the seventh grade contest were Amanda Alvarez, Bethany Bridgford, Lori Dockerey, Misty Sullivan, Kamie Lamb, and Farah Simon.

Those contributing to the eighth graders domination were Jennifer Ornelas, Holly Turner, Kahla Lamb, Kristie Flanagan, Laura Green, Veronica Moreno, Maggie Espinoza, and Kim Cates.

The ladies travel to Snyder for their next contest on December 11.

THE ROADS OF TEXAS is the culmination of a mammoth project that has involved many individuals for over two years. When you get your copy of THE ROADS OF TEXAS you'll wonder how you ever traveled the state without it.

This 172 page atlas contains maps that show the complete Texas road system (all 284,000 miles) plus just about every city and community! Texas A&M University Cartographics Laboratory staff members produced the maps, based on county maps from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The details shown are amazing--county and local roads, lakes, reservoirs, streams, dams, historic sites, pumping stations, golf courses, cemeteries, mines and many other features too numerous to list.

Become one of the first in our community to own a copy of this magnificent atlas.

Harrison re-elected to board

Jimmy Harrison of Colorado City was recently re-elected to the Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation board of directors. Harrison represents Zone 5.

The purpose of the Mitchell SWCD, with headquarters in Colorado City, is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers and ranchers on conservation matters.

The board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purpose.

As one of five individuals serving on the district board of directors, Harrison will be responsible for district policies and procedures for carrying out the district program within the framework of the Texas soil conservation district law. In Texas there are 210 soil and water conservation districts. Each is a legal subdivision of state government organized by local agricultural landowners with the assistance of the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board. Unlike most other legal subdivisions of state government, SWCDs do not have the powers of taxation or eminent domain. All conservation programs managed by the district are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator.

This man has something important to tell you.
Trouble is, he's at one end of his farm, and you're at the other.

Is he worried? Nope. He's equipped with Uniden two-way mobile and portable radios. He knows that Uniden offers total reliability plus a 2 year warranty on parts and labor. He's smiling because he purchased his equipment before Christmas and got a 20% discount.
