Twelve Feared Dead In Plane Mishaps

Search For Seven Missing Pressed; Two Bombers, Training Craft Crash

(By The Associated Press)

TWELVE men were believed killed Friday in a series of plane crashes in Louisiana, Texas and California, and search for a missing aircraft bearing seven men was continued in California.

A B-25 bomber believed to have eight men aboard exploded and crashed in Lake Ponchartrain north of New Orleans shortly before 4 p. m. Friday; two were claimed near San Antonio; and two pilots were missing and presumed dead after a secret Navy bomber crashed into the Pacific.

No survivors were found of the crash into Lake Ponchartrain. Parts of bodies were recovered.

Plane Identified

John M. Parsons, public information officer at the Naval air station here ,said papers and inspection tags identified the craft as a B-25 from Keesler Air Force base near Biloxi, Miss.

A Kessler field officer said a name found in an officers' coat indicated the plane was one which left there on a routine training flight carrying five officers and three enlisted men. No names were released pending a definite determination of casualties.

The plane crashed into the lake about a mile and a half northeast of New Orleans airport, which is on the shore.

Several witnesses said the craft was afire, and exploded just before or after it hit the water.

Oliver Boe, 44-year-old fisherman, said: "I saw the plane burning as it flew over. It disappeared in the fog and then there was a terrific explosion."

Student Officers Killed

There was still a possibility some occupants made successful parachute jumps over the swampy section bordering the lake.

A large number of Navy, Coast Guard and civilian boats searched the area, but abandoned their efforts as a fog settled over the water at nightfall.

Parsons said diving operations would be undertaken tomorrow.

A student officer and a flight instructor from Randolph Air Force base, at San Antonio, were killed Friday afternoon when their T-6 training plane crashed on the farm of Gilbert Schievelbein, 18 miles north of San Antonio. The officers were on a routine training flight, base officials announced.

Identity of the victims was withheld pending notification of next of kin.

A secret, jet-powered Navy carrier-type bomber crashed into the Pacific today near El Segundo and its two veteran pilots were presumed dead.

Witnesses said the craft went

Haylift Faces Storm Threat

(By The Associated Press)

ANOTHER new snow storm drove in on the upper west coast from the Pacific Friday. It posed a threat to the Air Force's Nevada haylift.

Meanwhile, sub zero cold rolled into the Great Lakes area from the Plains states. Rain and snow pelted much of the nation.

In the west's two blizzard disaster areas, relief crews cut through snow-blocked roads to more thousands of ranchers, farmers and livestock.

7,846 Persons Reached

The Fifth Army reported 7,846 snowbound humans and more than 224,000 animals reached by drift smashers in the Nebraska-South Dakota-Wyoming disaster area. There was light snow in parts of Nebraska and South Dakota, but not enough to interfere with rescue operations.

The new storm nearing the west coast brought snow from the Washington and Oregon coasts to the Rockies. The storm came in north of the Air Force haylift operations in the eastern Nevada sheep and cattle ranges, but threatened to spread over the area.

In the eastern Nevada disaster region ranchers have credited the continuing haylift operations with saving thousands of their cattle from starvation on the snow-blanketed ranges. Winds and some snow added to the difficulties of the operation Friday.

The National Hide association in Chicago estimated that between 250,000 and 500,000 cattle died in the January blizzards.

There was rain and snow over much of the northeastern part of the country, from Pennsylvania and New York state to Maine.

NEW COLD WAVE FORECAST FOR PLAINS LATE SUNDAY

Pleasant weekend weather for the South Plains was forecast last night by the weather station north of Lubbock. Although a cold front was expected to hit the area late Sunday afternoon or Sunday night.

Temperatures will remain mild during the daytime hours Saturday and Sunday, and only slightly below freezing Sunday morning. A cold front is due to swing over this area Sunday afternoon, how-

Canton Becomes Chinese Capital

CANTON, Saturday, Feb. 5. (AP) —A government army from Shanghai moved into this southern city today—the day that Canton becomes the provisional capital of Nationalist China.

The 39th army, 15,000 strong and composed largely of second-rate troops, was sent south to reinforce the undermanned garrison of Canton and surrounding Kwangtung province.

Observers believe the 39th will be deployed along the railway from Canton to Hankow. This is the link between south China and the Yangtze valley.

New Defenses Planned

Gen Yu Han-Mow, commander of ground forces for Kwangtung, is hastily trying to organize new units for the defense of south China. Gov. Hsueh Yueh of Kwangtung declares south China will be defended to the last.

General Yu has established headquarters at Kukong, 130 miles north of Canton. He has little to work with, however. Informed military quarters estimate the present Kwangtung garrison at 4,000 provincial troops and 33,000 government troops of the 109th army—mostly recruits.

LONG JOB DONE—This gives you a good idea of why the Burlington railroad's line between Sterling, Colo., and Cheyenne, Wyo., was blocked from Jan. 2 to Feb. 2. Using two locomotives and a powerful rotary plow, this relief train barely can move through the deep hard-packed drifts while a great snow plume is thrown more than 50 feet into the air and smoke and steam from the laboring engines rise twice as high. Meanwhile, another new storm threatened to move into the Midwest and halt relief operations. See story in Column Two. (AP Wirephoto.)

GOP Senators Dispute Clark's Opinion

Administration Hits Anew At Labor Law

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—The administration's fight for new labor legislation was carried to a nationwide radio audience tonight by Senator Myers (D-Pa), while Republicans continued to hammer at the bill.

Myers, Democratic whip of the Senate, lambasted the Taft-Hartley act as an attempt to "handcuff" organized labor. He said in an address that under the act the labor movement "could be destroyed if we had a few million unemployed in America."

He declared that the act will be replaced with an act containing the essential philosophy of the New Deal Wagner act.

Solons Hit Clark's Stand

That philosophy, he said, is that "the rank and file of the American people must have the opportunity to influence their own destinies: "And that strong labor unions help guarantee a "free, decent, prosperous America."

"We are going to restore the closed shop where management and labor in free collective bargaining agree upon it," he said.

Republican senators demanded that Attorney General Clark personally explain his assertion that the President has power to handle a national emergency strike without the injunctions provision of the Taft-Hartley law.

Republicans heatedly dispute Clark's opinion. Senator Taft (R-Ohio) declared he would like to have Clark before the Senate Labor committee which is writing new labor legislation. Senators Donnell (R-Mo) and Morse (R-Ore) put it in the form of a request before the committee.

Precedent Involved

Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) said any decision about requesting Clark to testify is up to a subcommittee composed of Senators Murray (D-Mont), Pepper (D-Fla) and Morse. Thomas said personally he is not in favor of it because of precedent. He apparently meant that the attorney general is the legal adviser only to the executive branch of the government. Taft also remarked that

Cardinal Would Repay Hungary

By ENDRE MARTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Feb. 4—Josef Cardinal Mindszenty renounced today a letter he wrote before his arrest saying that if he ever admitted guilt it would be because of human frailty.

The cardinal told the five-man people's court also that he wishes to repay Hungary in full for any damage caused through illegal sale of thousands of dollars he is accused of receiving from the United States and the Vatican.

The Communist - dominated government finished outlining the charges of treason, espionage and black market dealings against the Roman Catholic primate and his six co-defendants late today, the second day of the trial.

Letter Is Read

The statements of all defendants were completed. Duke Paul Esterhazy entered a plea of "partly guilty," but denied the treason charge, as have the cardinal and the cardinal's secretary, the Rev. Andras Zaker. The others pleaded variously to the general indictments, but admitted black market money dealings.

The first witnesses were heard.

The dramatic break of the day came with the reading by the prosecution of a brief letter written by the cardinal, saying that if

Two Escaped Soviet Fliers Say Reds Must Agree To Peace Pact

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Two Soviet fliers who broke through the iron curtain predicted today Russia eventually will agree to settle the "cold war" for her own good.

At the same time, they reported that Premier Stalin's health is bad and he "looks old."

The fliers told a news conference they are anxious to meet high U. S. military officials "if they will only condescend."

Their views on Russia and their impressions of the United States were relayed to reporters through an American interpreter.

The fliers, Peter Afanasevich Pirogov, 27, and Anatol Porserezich Bapsov, 31, arrived in Virginia, their chosen state, aboard a military air transport plane from Westover Field, Mass.

Pirogov did most of the talking to newsmen. He told them:

"I think it is absolutely necessary that the Soviet come to a peaceful understanding with the western powers.

"But it will not be done for peace and security—but for possible profit and advantage of the Soviet."

He added, however, that he

Tech Board To Study Medical School Plan

DALLAS, Feb. 4 (AP)—A member of the Texas Technological college board of directors said today proposals to locate a medical branch of the school at Dallas would be discussed at a Lubbock board meeting next Friday and Saturday.

Director Charles K. Wooldridge of Dallas said the matter was not initiated by Tech officials, that the board had never discussed it.

One bill in the legislature proposes a medical college at Dallas as a branch of the University of Texas. Another bill would locate a branch at San Antonio.

Rep. Preston E. Smith of Lubbock has proposed that a branch established at Dallas be made a unit of Texas Tech.

"Since Smith has made his proposal, some West Texas legislators have urged the setting up of the two new state medical schools, one at Dallas as a branch of Tech and the other at San Antonio as a branch of the university," Wooldridge said.

"I hope talk about it will sort of die down until after the meeting of our board next week and we have a chance to discuss the situation. The board has never discussed the matter."

Southern Bell Telephone, Union Reach Wage Increase Agreement

ATLANTA, Feb. 4 (INS) — The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company announced tonight agreement had been reached with the Communications Workers of America on wage increases for non-supervisory employes in nine southern states.

The settlement, which amounts to an increase in basic wages of about 8.6 cents an hour, fixes wage rates for the company's 44,000 employes for at least a year.

Under terms of the agreement, reached with CWA division 49, the wage increases become effective Feb. 1 for monthly paid employes and Feb. 6 for weekly paid employes.

Allies Hit At Red Blockade

By THOMAS A. REEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Feb. 4—The Western Allies hit back at the Soviet blockade today with a new counter move aimed at stopping all truck traffic from the West into the Russian zone of Germany.

The action, an open retaliation for the Soviet ring around western Berlin, may affect even the Russian satellite nations of eastern Europe.

Few Exceptions Allowed

(Diplomatic sources in Washington said the United States has laid down new and more rigid terms for settlement of the Russo-western dispute over Berlin currency. These sources said the terms are stated in a U. S. proposal submitted to a group of United Nations experts. They provide for continued circulation of western marks in the western sector of the city, pending the outcome of efforts to restore four-power rule. Russian marks would continue to circulate in the Soviet sector.)

U. S. and British authorities announced that, effective next Sunday, the bizonal area will be closed to all highway freight shipments destined for the Soviet zone.

Most railway freight traffic was halted last fall.

Truck Traffic Halted

The U. S.-British order affects truck shipments by such neighboring countries as France, Belgium, Denmark, Holland, Switzerland and Luxembourg. Particularly affected is the Holland-Czechoslovakia trucking line which operates between major cities in the Netherlands and Prague. It cuts across western Germany.

The only exceptions to the ban, the announcement said, will be passenger vehicles and those trucks returning from trips undertaken before the announcement was made.

Under the ban, no western materials or individuals can pierce the blockade except by the expediency of the Allied airlift which costs $2,000,000 a week to operate. Supplies totaling 6,640 tons were flown in today—the fourth highest tonnage figure since the airlift began June 28.

As for rail shipments from the west, an American official ex-

REA Hearing Set To Open Feb. 14

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche-Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—Some 300 Texas delegates to the national Rural Electrification association convention in New York and their wives who stopped off here today for a visit with Texas congressmen, boarded their special train for home early Friday night ,happy in the thought that hearings would begin Feb. 14 on a bill designed through REA to give rural families more and better telephones.

Announcement of the hearings was made by Rep. W. R. Poage, Waco, author of the bill. The hearings will be conducted before the Agriculture Subcommittee No. 1 of which Poage is chairman.

Would Permit REA Loans

The bill would permit the Rural Electrification administration to make loans to private telephone companies now in existence as well as co-operatives for them to improve and expand their service to rural homes.

Poage presided at a breakfast for the REA men at the capitol attended by Texas senators and congressmen.

Poage told the group: "This

Stalin Now Reported Willing To Expand Proposed 'Peace' Talks

By THOMAS C. WATSON
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Feb. 4.— London was stirred tonight by a report that Soviet Premier Stalin is willing to expand his proposal for talks with the United States to include France and Britain.

The report was carried by Reuters news agency in a dispatch from Moscow. Reuters quoted "well informed sources."

The cited willingness of Stalin to include British Prime Minister Clement Attlee and French Premier Henri Queuille in his suggested talks with President Truman was seen as conforming with American objections.

Rejection Is Reported

Both President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson said the U. S. is not prepared to discuss bi-laterally with the Soviets matters of interest to other nations such as the German problem. The objection is in addition to a refusal to undertake talks outside the framework of the United Nations.

ABLE-BODIED MEN OFFERED JOBS

City Promises Every Case Of Need Will Receive Aid

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

EVERY legitimate case of need arising from bad weather unemployment and sickness will be provided for.

This assurance came from Mayor W. H. Rodgers Friday afternoon with the unanimous approval of Commissioners W. B. Price, John Spikes, Clarence Whiteside and E. K. Hufstedler, jr.

Able-bodied men in need will be given work by the city at 50 cents an hour, payable 25 cents in cash and 25 cents in grocery orders, starting at 8 o'clock this morning and continuing as long as bad weather unemployment continues, the mayor said.

Requests To Be Investigated

Those unable to work or sick will be taken care of through the City-County Welfare association or through other welfare agencies.

Mayor Rodgers was emphatic, however, in two statements which, he said, were based on a personal investigation of the situation.

The first was that conditions as a whole are not as bad, as to need or sickness, as many rumors have indicated.

The other statement was that requests for help will be investigated and that relief will be supplied only to those actually in need. Many undeserving cases—some extremely so—have been disclosed by the limited investigations possible thus far, the mayor said.

Here are his instructions to the able-bodied men, regardless of race or color, who want to work.

Must Get Work Slips

Such men are to report before 8 o'clock this morning at the American Legion hall, adjoining the City hall, at 910, Texas avenue.

They will obtain a work slip from representatives of the City-County Welfare association who will be on duty there.

They will take the work slip to the city street department at Fifth street and Avenue J, where they will be transported to the scenes of such jobs as cleaning mud-filled gutters and loading

Information Sought On Meteor Reported Over South Plains

Search for information concerning what observers reported to be an exploding meteor early Sunday night over the South Plains area was stepped up Friday with interest being shown by one official from as far away as the University of New Mexico.

Lincoln LaPaz, head of the math and astronomy department and director of the Institute of Meteorities at the Albuquerque school, has been in the area for two or three days and plans to remain over the weekend seeking additional information on the meteor.

Information Is Needed

In Lubbock last night, LaPaz, who played a major role in recovering fragments of the large meteor which exploded over parts of Nebraska and Kansas last year with a noise heard in six states, said definite information on the reported meteor and its explosion was very urgently needed by those making the current study. LaPaz was accompanied to Lubbock by E. R. Cornelius of Lamesa, who began a search for information concerning the reported meteor shortly after reports began coming in Sunday night.

Anyone who distinctly heard an explosion at the time they saw the meteor disintegrate or anyone finding any sort of material. metal or

U. S. Economic Picture Shifts

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Tumbling grain prices, a big slump in stocks and bonds and a sharp rise in unemployment brought the nation tonight up against this question:

Is a major change in the economic weather under way?

It was too early to say. But two members of President Truman's official family, Secretary of Labor Tobin and Economic Advisor Edwin G. Nourse, had said earlier in the day they saw nothing alarming in dropping food prices and a report telling of a 700,000 increase in unemployment in January.

The New York stock market took one of the worst beatings of the year with 61 stocks changing hands at the lowest levels in more than a year.

Grains Set Seasonal Low

Bond prices were hammered down by a selling drive and nearly 125 issues lost fractions to two points.

The Chicago grain market went into another slump with corn, oats, rye and soybeans setting new seasonal lows. Corn dropped more than 7 cents in a market which one floor trader called "demoralized."

The Associated Press index of 35 wholesale commodities dropped nearly a full point, reaching 168.46, lowest since Feb. 6, 1947.

Bond turnover totalled $4,100,000, highest since Jan. 20. Yesterday's volume was $2,480,000.

Although the principal trend of the Chicago grain market was sharply lower, there was some underlying firmness with May wheat ending with a small advance.

Meat Price Rise Seen

Future prices for corn, however, were at their lowest since 1945.

Livestock prices were off a bit with the exception of hogs, which regained some losses. But Mark Pickell, secretary of the Corn Belt Livestock Feeders association, said at Chicago, livestock markets are now on the bottom and by midsummer hog and cattle prices will be $3 to $5 a hundred pounds higher.

Three big companies announced reductions of about six per cent in wholesale prices of household soap products.

Following announcement of the increase in unemployment last month, Secretary of Labor Tobin

Woman Facing Narcotics Charge

A 34-year-old Lubbock negro woman, Ruth Ella Harmon of 2615 Nineteenth, was charged late Friday afternoon with illegal possession of narcotics, after city police and a member of the Texas Liquor Control board allegedly found seven marijuana cigarets secreted at her residence.

The officers were searching the house under authority of a search warrant, reports showed, when they noticed a small hole in the speaker of a radio. Investigation revealed the seven cigarets, they said.

The charge was filed in the justice court of C. E. Lynn, with Captain of Detectives Pat Davidson as complaining witness.

Two Burglaries

Two burglaries and an auto theft were among offenses reported to city police and the sheriff's office Friday.

A fountain pen valued at $5 was taken in a burglary of Moore Mattress company, at 1817 Texas Ave.

Five boxes of candy and five gallons of permanent type antifreeze solution were taken in a breaking and entering of Euel Candy company, at 3419 Ave. Q.

Putty Dug Out

The mattress company was entered after putty had been removed from around a glass pane which, removed, allowed the working of a lock. A similar method wa used sometime in the past in entering that place, police were informed by Carl Moore.

A 1946 Oldsmobile maroon sedan, license EJ 9714, was reported stolen from C. W. Spencer of

Cotton Acreage Bill Tightened In Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (AP) — The Senate Agriculture committee approved today a bill providing that any future farm acreage allotments for cotton, wheat, corn and rice shall be computed without regard to 1949 acreages or yields.

It substituted the bill by Senator Anderson (D-NM), formerly secretary of agriculture, and Senator Lucas (D-Ill) for a House approved measure which applied to cotton only.

The committee not only added wheat, corn, and rice but it eliminated House provisions that cotton plantings in 1942 should be considered in fixing acreage allotments if a farmer planted no crop in 1947 and 1948.

Plot To Destroy House Committee Exposed; Probe Revealing Extent Of Jap Spying Was Called Off

By ROBERT E. STRIPLING
(Chief Investigator, House Un-American Activities Committee, 1938-1948; Edited By Bob Considine)

REP. Frank E. Hook (D-Mich) rose one day in Congress, early in January, 1940, and brandished several photostat letters bearing the letterhead of the Silver Shirt Legion of America and the signature of William Dudley Pelley.

The letters were addressed to Chairman Martin Dies of the House Un-American Activities Committee. One read, in part,

No. 5

"... as you told me in your office, my organization has nothing to worry about, as we are close friends."

I had been tipped off late in 1939 that an involved plot to destroy Dies and the committee was being hatched by powerful influences in Washington.

Committee Under Fire

The question of whether or not the Committee had justified its existence was about to be brought before the House of Representatives. The letters, of course, raised tremendous furor. Dies' protests (from Texas) that he did not know Pelley and had never corresponded with the American Fascist were submerged in widespread demands that the Committee be dissolved.

Hook read the text of the letters into the Congressional Record, but, curiously, refused to let any member of the committee, or me, examine them. Instead, he placed them, he said, in his safe deposit box at the Riggs National Bank.

In the middle of the demands for Dies' head, and a Rules Committee fight over whether Hook's remarks should be expunged from the Record, I kept thinking of an inveterate Washington "fixer" named David Dubois Mayne, who was a Pelley lieutenant.

I set out in search of him and the search finally led to Springfield, Va. His small home was locked, but I found the local post-

Units At Meetings

Speaking before the O. L. Slaton Junior High school Parent-Teacher association, Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of First Methodist church, declared prejudice and intolerance are sicknesses of the mind and most of it is inherited. The meeting was at the school building Thursday.

Conference, cooperation and a Christ-like spirit were listed by Dr. Robinson as cures for prejudice and intolerance, sins which everybody denounce. He declared in a lot of cases the two sins may be traced to pure ignorance and fear.

His talk featured a varied program which opened with a band concert by the school band. A spagetti supper was served to approximately 125 persons in the school cafeteria. Mrs. R. H. McCarty was general chairman and the meal was served by the school's homemaking girls.

Paul Willis, president, presided at the meeting in the school auditorium. Mrs. Clarence Whiteside introduced Dr. Robinson. It was announced that next month's meeting would be a "Dad's" program headed by Harvey Austin.

Half of the funds realized from the supper will go toward organizing a homemaking club in the school.

PANEL PRESENTED FOR McWHORTER P-TA

A panel, "The Home—A Laboratory for Training in the Skills of Homemaking," was presented for McWhorter P-TA Thursday afternoon at the school.

Mrs. Paul Mills, junior high school homemaking teacher and panel charman, was assisted by Mrs. O. V. Adams, professor and head of home economics education at Tech, Mrs. Carrie Lee Bishop, and two high school students.

Approximately 50 persons were present. Attendance count was won by the rooms of Misses Nellie Wingren and Nomia Eakin.

Woman's 'Open Door' Message Travels To Africa And Back

CHICAGO, Feb. 4. (INS)— Mrs. Ed Beane finally got her father-in-law to open the door of her Oak Park home today after having message delivered to him, from South Africa.

Mrs. Beane explained that she stepped from her home and the door slammed shut, locking her out in freezing weather.

Her father-in-law, Ed Beane, an amateur radio operator, was in three-way contact with Walt Ashton, of Oak Park, and ZS6KD of Johannesburg, Union of South Africa, about 8,000 miles away.

Mrs. Beane's pounding and hollering went unheeded.

She went to a neighbor's home and telephoned. Beane could not hear the telephone ringing through his earphones.

Then Mrs. Beane telephoned Ashton, who advised ZS6KD — who in turn told Beane in a clipped British voice:

"I say, Ed, old man, Mrs. Beane is locked out and freezing to death. Let her in."

Police Disregard Impounding Ordinance--Can't Budge Car

There was a reason—more than one, to be exact—why the police did not exercise the impounding ordinance at Twenty-seventh and and Tyler Ave.

A woman called to say that a car was blocking the street and that other traffic was cutting across her lawn.

Police sent a tow truck there, but it couldn't pull the car out of the street. It was mired where a sewer ditch had been cut across the highway.

"The car's owner did what anyone would have been forced to do," the police said. "He left it and went for help."

It turned out that two diesel powered city road maintainers were required, working in tandem, to dislodge the car.

But the police said they would "keep an eye" out to file charges against anyone driving across the woman's lawn.

MARITAL PUZZLE

Divorce Petition Brings New Answer

FORT WORTH, Feb. 4. (AP) —Truman Balch, defendant in a divorce suit, filed an answer to the suit today. He isn't married to the lady, he said—he's married to someone else.

The puzzle began yesterday when Jennie Sue Balch filed a petition in 67th district court for divorce from Balch, charging "unkind, harsh and tyrannical conduct." They were married in December of 1942 and "lived together with some interruption until Jan. 19, 1949," she said in her petition.

Balch, in his answer, said he was never married to Jennie Sue Balch. His petition added he will "further show the court that he is married and living with his wife, whose name is Jefferson Balch."

Judge Walter L. Morris of 67th district court yesterday issued an order prohibiting Balch from disposing of community property, withdrawing funds from a bank account, or going around his residence.

In his answer today, Balch complained that a deputy sheriff served the order on him and moved "your defendant and his lawful wife from the premises of his property." Balch added he was afraid Jennie Sue Balch might take from the residence his belongings and the belongings of his "real" wife.

So Judge Morris withdrew the restraining order. A court hearing on the case is set for 9 a. m. Monday.

Plans For Truman Memorial At Independence Revealed

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Feb. 4. (INS)—Mayor Roger Sermon of Independence today announced tentative plans for a $3½ million memorial to President Truman to be completed within the President's lifetime.

Sermon, a long time personal friend of Mr. Truman, termed the proposed project "the common people's tribute to a common man who has championed their cause."

The memorial would include space for the state papers, mementoes, and other items of interest associated with the President's tenure as chief executive.

The plan also would provide for a new Jackson county library, the principal exhibit of which would be the replica of a 15th century Gutenburg bible purchased by the Independence Chamber of Commerce for the Truman inauguration.

Texas War Vet Will Be Buried In Arlington National Cemetery

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Arrangements were completed today for a military funeral in Arlington National cemetery for Felix Longoria of Three Rivers, Texas.

A Latin-American organization has accused a Three Rivers funeral home of refusing to arrange services for Longoria, whose body recently was returned from the Philippines where he died in the battle of Luzon. The funeral home denied the accusation.

The Army today notified Senator Johnson (D-Tex) that Longoria will be buried in Arlington cemetery with full military honors February 16. It will be part of a mass ceremony for a group of war heroes whose bodies have been returned from overseas.

Longoria's widow and other members of his family are expected to come from Three Rivers for the services.

HUGE SAVINGS ARE SEEN —

HST Praises Hoover Program For Economy In Federal Government

By JAMES C. AUSTIN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.— President Truman himself is one of the greatest boosters of the Hoover commission, which is about to wind up its monumental job of planning reforms in the executive branch of the government.

In an off-the-cuff speech the other night, Mr. Truman gave the commission headed by former Republican President Herbert Hoover an enthusiastic pat on the back. He said it is "coming forward with a great program for the economic operation of the government."

What is that program and how much will it save the taxpayer?

Mr. Hoover estimates that the commission's 18-month study of "the biggest, most complex organization in the world" eventually will save the nation "several billions of dollars." And it will bring more efficiency in this "ponderous structure."

Report Nears Completion

To that end, the commission is putting the finishing touches to 24 major recommendations which it will make to Congress between now and March 13, its last legal day for reporting. In essence, the commission's findings will point out that:

1. There are 1,816 component parts of the President's branch. Many are useless appendages or do duplicate work and should be closed down or merged.

2. There are 2,090,554 persons on the executive payroll. Some of these could be cut off.

3. The executive branch costs about $45,000,000,000 a year or 10 times as much as it did 18 years ago. That is the estimate of the Hoover commission's staff experts. They believe that figure could be trimmed considerably by more efficient methods of management.

Commission Asks Changes

These are the commission's major hopes, as expressed in the forthcoming recommendations:

The President — greatly overworked and needs more help to direct his 10 present departments and 60 other agencies.

Foreign affairs—the State department should be reorganized into more of a foreign policy advisory group and less of an operating group. In the President, the commission emphasized, reposes sole responsibility for the conduct of foreign affairs.

National defense—the Defense secretary should have power and responsibility for national security, but the present secretaries of Army, Navy and Air Force should function only as undersecretaries.

Federal medical services— all government hospitals should be placed under the direction of a national bureau of health, and much of the contemplated hospital building program should be halted.

Recommend Co-ordination

Agriculture — savings of more than $80,000,000 a year could be effected if this department put its widespread activities into specific co-ordination divisions.

Post office — mechanizing and modernizing the department and increasing postal rates could reduce its annual deficit, estimated for this year at $542,000,000.

The 12-man commission wants to improve many other facets of executive routine, but it is made up of realists. The members don't expect Congress or the President to carry out all this ambitious program.

"Nevertheless," one commissioner said, "I believe that more than half of our recommendations will bear fruit. At least 95 per cent of them already have White House approval."

District Attorney Asks FBI To Probe Fort Worth Evictions

FORT WORTH, Feb. 4 (AP)—U. S. District Attorney Frank Potter has requested the FBI to investigate threatened mass eviction of Fort Worth tenants.

"The matter will be presented to the federal grand jury which convenes in Forth Worth March 7 if the facts warrant such action," Otter declared.

He said yesterday he had requested the FBI to investigate at the direction of the attorney general. He said similar action will be taken on other North Texas cities if the same situation arises.

J. Edwin Fleming, chief of the trial unit of the Office of Housing Expediter's regional office in Dallas, said suits soon will be filed in federal court to restrain landlords from evicting tenants when the landlords do not act in good faith in saying they want to withdraw from the rental market.

Actions of Potter and Fleming followed the mailing of eviction notices to 109 Fort Worth tenants by three landlords, Hansen D. Bordelon, Robert E. Steagall and Thomas M. Ryan as a protest against enactment of proposed congressional legislation to extend rent control.

The Romance languages include Portuguese, Spanish, Provencal, French, Italian and Romanian.

Long-Separated Pair Says Goodbye Again

BRISTOW, Okla., Feb. 4 (AP)—Mrs. Ella Burris-Mershon and her long-lost husband reached the parting of the ways again today, because they're too old to believe that stuff about two living as cheaply as one.

Mrs. Mershon and Barkley Burris, the man she had given up for dead in 1907 when she married a second time, said goodbye at the Bristow depot and Burris boarded a train for Plainview.

The 72-year-old suitor came here Monday on funds collected by his friends in Plainview to attempt to win back the wife from whom he was never divorced.

Wants To Help

"We talked it over," said the 65-year-old widow. "I wanted to do everything I could to help him, but I am a widow without means and he is a Texas state pensioner. He would lose his $50 a month if he came here to live, and we both can't live on my income."

Mrs. Burris wouldn't say that her long-dead romance was entirely beyond revival. She was married to Burris in 1904 but soon after they were separated in 1906, she was told he died. She married the late C. A. Mershon the next year.

"We may meet again, I just don't know," she said. "I'm awfully sorry to see him go, but under the circumstances it's the only thing to do."

The first great popularity of Robin Hood was in the ballads of the 15th and 16th Centuries.

World Wheat Conference Is Stalled On Price Program

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP) — Failure by participating nations to agree on prices has stalled the international wheat conference.

Hopes of writing a pact designed to stabilize world wheat traffic faced an indefinite delay today after J. C. Van Essche, of Belgium, adjourned the steering committee until further notice.

Van Essche said both the exporters and importers needed a "cooling off" period.

The committee members — the United States, Russia, Canada, Australia, Brazil, Egypt, France, India, Italy, Netherlands, and Great Britain — failed to agree last night in a short session.

Pampa's Harvesters Nose Out Westerners, 34 To 32

2,000 Fans Watch Sharp-Shooting Pampa Cop Crucial 1-AA Encounter

By EARL SCUDDAY
Avalanche Sports Writer

Pampa High's tall Harvesters capitalized on a torrid first-half scoring offensive, combined with control of the backboard, to nose out the Lubbock Westerners, 34-32, in a crucial District 1-AA cage tilt here Friday night at the Chapman field gymnasium.

A capacity crowd of approximately 2,000 persons saw the sharp-shooting Harvesters connect on 10 of 22 shots in the first half to chalk up a commanding 23-12 halftime lead, then stave off a desperate Lubbock attack in the final quarter to clinch the triumph. The win was the fifth in conference competition for the Harvesters, against a single defeat, and gave the Pampans the lead position in the 1-AA title race.

The Lubbock cagers, who lost their second game in seven district tussles, had one of their worst nights of the season in the shooting department. The Westerners hit only 13 of 56 shots during the game for a percentage of 23 per cent, as compared with Pampa's 32 per cent on 12 hits in 37 tries. The Harvesters also had an advantage at the free throw line, connecting on 10 of 16 shots, while the Westerners made six of their 10 charity throws.

Pampa went out in front early in the game as Guard Jack Howard and big Center Derral Davis alternated in the scoring duties. The Harvesters ran the count to 7-0 before Lubbock Guard Bob Rooker, who turned in his best performance of the season during the setto, dropped in a field goal to put the Westerners back into the game. Forwards Jimmy Sexton and Charles Galey added additional two-pointers, then Center Jim Wilson cut the Pampa margin to 11-8 at the end of the first period.

The Westerners were nearly swamped during the second quarter, with Davis and Forward Bill Bond hitting the basket with uncanny accuracy and the tall Harvesters completely controlling the backboards. Davis, Bond and James Gallemore ran the halftime lead to 23-12, despite late tallies by Rooker and Galey.

Pampa Opens Fast

Pampa dismayed the home town fans in the opening minutes of the third quarter by scoring four quick points, but then the hustling Westerners finally started rolling. Galey, Rooker and Guard Morris Turner sank field goals to cut the Harvester lead to 29-19, although Pampa's Gallemore and Bond worked in for two layup shots late in the stanza.

The final quarter was all Lubbock, as the Westerners battled the Harvesters all over the floor and whittled steadily at the Pampa lead. Rooker hit two free throws, Turner collected a field goal, and Wilson dropped in a free throw and a field goal to cut the Pampa margin to 33-26 with three minutes to play.

Pampa tried desperately to freeze the ball, but Rooker and Galey repeatedly broke up the Harvesters passes and set up fast-breaking plays. Galey sank a push shot to bring the count to 33-28, then Rooker stole the ball and drove in for a layup that boosted the Westerners to a 33-30 score. A Lubbock time out resulted in a technical foul, however, and Howard sank the free throw for Pampa to give the Harvesters a fairly safe 34-30 edge.

Rooker High Scorer

The Westerners grabbed the ball again and Wilson cut the tally to 34-32 with a set shot, but time ran out before the Westerners had a chance for another toss at the basket.

Rooker copped individual scoring honors for the game, with 10 points on three field goals and four free shots, while Galey tallied nine points and turned in an excellent defensive game. Bond and Davis paced Pampa with nine points each.

The Westerners will try to keep their slender title hopes alive tonight, when they invade Borger for a district battle with the dangerous Bulldogs. The Borger crew has turned in strong showings against the district leaders this season, and has been pointing for the tilt against the Westerners.

Billings racked up 16 tallies for the losing Pioneers, Kile and Carter made 15 and 14 points respectively for Amarillo.

Yearlings Sport .500 Season Record

The Texas Tech freshman basketball team, with a .500 record for the season, will go after its second victory of the current court campaign in Canyon tonight, meeting a strong West Texas State Teachers college freshman quintet at 8 p.m.

The junior Red Raiders have split a pair of games so far this year, beating Odessa Junior college in their opener and losing a 51-48 double overtime match to the Hardin-Simmons freshmen.

Alderson Is Standout

Standouts for the Fish so far have been three boys from the Plains, Jack Alderson of Lubbock, Jimmy Eddins of Sudan and Jim Sharp of Amarillo. Other players on the team who have been more than passable in action are Ted O'Neal of Wellington, Monte Roy of Hobbs, N. M., and Irl Brown of Katonah, N. Y.

The Red Raider first year men looked sharp against the Odessa college quintet, turning in a creditable 51-39 victory, Alderson, Roy and Eddins paced them to victory and their coach, Jimmy Cole, a member of Tech's squad last year, was well pleased. But against the Cowboy freshmen it was a different story.

Johnson Returns To Tech

The Fish came from behind to knot the count at 44-all when the regular game ended and picked up another last second tie in the first overtime, which ended 48-all. But a long floor shot and a free throw took victory out of their grasp.

Other players that probably will be used tonight include Don Bagwell, Claude; Glen Lucas, Whiteface; Doral Sandlin, Lubbock; Charles Campbell, Monument, N. M.; Carter Page, Ralls; and Archie Campbell, Garland.

Virgil Johnson of Lubbock, who has been playing independent basketball, has returned to college and will be in uniform tonight. The six-foot, three-inch former Lubbock High school star is counted on to give the Raider Fish more power.

HERE'S FISHING WITH A ZING

Aussies Follow Dangerous Sport Of Hunting Sharks With Spears

NEW YORK, Feb. 4. (INS)—Hunting and fishing can be nice pleasant, harmless sports. They also can be decidedly dangerous. It all depends on what you hunt and fish.

For instance, Nova Scotia hunters bagged a record 30,158 deer last October and November and the only danger any hunter had to face was another hunter's gun.

But at the same time down yonder in Sydney, Australia, the members of the underwater spear fisherman's association were swinging into action.

Now right at the outset we are frank to say anyone can have our share of this particular sport.

These Australians hunt sharks and if you want a little spice added to your hunting we commend this particular sport.

All the hunter wears is a pair of trunks and underwater goggles, and he carries a spring-operated spear gun with line attached in a sling.

He dives off a small boat, fires his gun, hits the shark if he's lucky, and then surfaces. Then he has to drag the shark in. The shark, if only slightly wounded may decide to go places. He also may decide to go for the fellow who hit him.

It also could be that another shark might decide to horn in on the proceedings in which case the hunter will wish that he had stood in bed, as the late Joe Jacobs used to say.

Australian waters are happy hunting grounds for sharks. They grow huge and vicious. There are three main species, the blue nose, tiger and grey nurse, and the Aussies claim the grey nurse is the most vicious.

All the swimming beaches around Sydney have a watchman with a siren way up in a tower. When he spies some sharks edging in close to shore he sounds the siren and there ensues a mad scramble of swimmers to safety

We were there in 1942 when a shark cut a young girl in two while she was standing shoulder deep in the water.

It was about that time an Australian friend invited us to go swimming with him and when we objected to being shark bait, he took little pains to conceal his disgust.

"Why," he assured us, "there is no danger. I'll bet sharks don't kill more than half a dozen a season around Sydney."

We assured him that we didn't intend to give the sharks a chance to increase the score at our expense.

Floydada Drops Abernathy Five

ABERNATHY, Feb. 4. (Special)—Floydada High school's basketball team threw the District 3-A conference race into a three-way tie between Abernathy, Spur and Floydada by nosing out the Antelopes 37-33 here tonight.

It was a last ditch rally that saved the game for the visitors, who trailed 20-19 at the half and 31-27 at the end of the third period.

The Floydada quintet rallied to tie the score at 33—all with a minute left to play, then turned on the steam to win going away. Guthrie tossed in the winning field goal to make the score 35-33 and Abernathy became desperate. Two fouls gave Floydada free throws and Finley, second high scorer with 12 points, pitched in his to make it 36-33. Bishop, high point man with 13 tonight, then converted on his free throw to make the final score 37-33.

It was close all the way in the first half, with the lead changing hands several times. A late spurt gave the lead to Abernathy as the teams left the floor for the intermission.

The Antelopes came back to go well ahead and at one point in the third heat had a seven-point lead. But Floydada kept pecking away until it was narrowed down to 31-27 at the end of the third stanza. Then came the thrilling last minute rally.

Derrel Stevens and Esten Blackman were high point scorers for Abernathy, each with nine.

Purchase Price Not Revealed By Clubs

LAMESA, Feb. 4. (Special) — Jay Haney, outfielder with the Tulsa Oilers of the Texas League, today was signed by the Lamesa Loboes of the West Texas-New Mexico League to be player-manager for the 1949 season.

Haney, a veteran of 10 years in Organized Ball, was in Lamesa today to talk over the contract and prospects for the approaching season. He will attend the WT-NM League meeting in Amarillo, then swing around the Texas League searching for players.

Deal Long Delayed

The deal between Tulsa and Lamesa has been hanging fire several weeks. Haney secured his verbal release, but the price held up actual transactions. Purchase price was not announced.

The 28-year old left fielder has had a fine record since breaking in with the Loboes in 1939. He spent two years in the loop with the Loboes, then went to Big Spring in 1941. While with the Steers, Haney once set a mark of three assists in one inning from left field and has had two assists in one inning several times.

Lamesa gained Haney back in 1942 and he stayed with the Loboes until mid-season, when the league folded. He finished the season in the Pony League.

Haney's Record

Haney was in the Navy from 1943 through 1945, going to Ft. Worth in 1946, where he had his best year at the plate, hitting .272. He was with Shreveport and then Tulsa in 1947 and spent all last season with the Oilers.

Haney bats and throws right and is considered a classy fielder, but only a fair sticker. He possesses one of the strongest arms in baseball.

He married the former Miss Geraldine White of Lamesa in 1941 and they have a son two years old. The family has been living in Dallas, but Haney expects to bring them here as soon as possible.

Haney announced that spring training would start March 22 and would probably be at San Angelo.

His left ankle was placed in a cast Friday morning and the entire lower part of his body will be immobilized, doctors said, because of the pelvic fracture in two places. The full cast will be applied as soon as Hogan is able to rest more comfortably.

Friday's examination also confirmed earlier findings of a fractured left collarbone that will keep the golf star's arm in a sling for several weeks, and a slight fracture of the sixth rib on the right side.

U. S. To Need Atomic-Powered Plane To Fight Any New War

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., Feb. 4—The United States must build an atomic-powered airplane to compete if war comes, Brig. Gen. T. A. Sims said today.

Sims, vice president of the Fairchild Engine and Airplane corporation and head of a project here to find a way to propel aircraft by atomic energy, said it was "no use to have a stockpile of atom bombs if we have no way to deliver them."

Engine Now Outmoded

The present day bomber engine is outmoded, he said, and with plans to fly planes at speeds faster than sound, it is necessary that an atomic powered craft is produced.

His project, known for short as NEPA (nuclear energy to the propulsion of aircraft), is under way in co-operation with the nation's leading aircraft producing companies, under contract with the United States Army Air Forces.

The project here is not to build an atomic-powered airplane motor, but to investigate its possibility.

And that possibility is good, Sims said, although there are numerous problems to be solved.

One thing is sure, Sims said. That is that the chemically-fueled engine that in the last year drove an Army plane faster than sound is not the answer.

Need More Range

"That plane," he said, "flew faster than sound for a brief two and a half minutes. We will need planes that can fly that fast and have an unlimited range."

The answer, he said, is an atomic-powered engine.

For example, he said that it took 8,000 pounds of chemical fuel to fly the 2 and 1-2 minutes. Obviously, a flight of 10,000 or more miles to an enemy target would require a fuel-load impossible for any airplane today to carry.

He said that the power from one pound of uranium — the metal that makes up the atomic bomb — is equivalent to 2,000,000 gallons of gasoline.

One of the biggest problems in designing an atomic aircraft engine is to keep it small and keep the crew protected. An atomic aircraft engine would be a "miniature" atomic chain reaction pile, which emits deadly radiation.

Sims said that the contract with the U. S. Air Forces was "not to build a ship to the moon," but that development of an atomic aircraft engine would permit a missile to be sent beyond the earth's atmosphere—and into far off space.

The plan now is to use the tremendous amount of heat generated in atomic chain reaction to give a plane its forward thrust. The same principal is used in the jet planes, but in the case of an atomic-powered craft no chemical fuel would be necessary. Furthermore, the engine probably would far outlive the plane. Such "length of life" of an atomic engine is a "top secret."

Brazil will buy 90 railway locomotives from France.

Midland Courthouse Materials Studied By County Officials

County Judge Walter Davies and three members of the county commissioners court went to Midland Friday to study materials and decorations of the Midland county courthouse.

Their study is in connection with efforts to construct a new courthouse for Lubbock county.

Bonds for building the Lubbock courthouse and adding to the county jail were voted in 1946. A former court made several trips of inspection of courthouse properties here and there in Texas two years ago, but today's is the first since.

Plans and specifications for the proposed new courthouse here will be delivered to the court this month by the architects.

Bids will be asked soon afterward, the court has indicated.

Three Cattle Killed, Motorist Uninjured In Highway Accident

Edwin Cora Stinebaugh, 47-year-old Petersburg carpenter, escaped unscathed from an automobile accident, but three head of cattle weren't so lucky.

Stinebaugh, driving to Lubbock about 7 p. m. Thursday, ran into the cows on the Petersburg-Abernathy highway. His 1948 Chevrolet sedan was badly smashed, but he was uninjured. The cattle were killed.

The cattle apparently had managed to get out of a fenced roadside pasture onto the highway They were owned by Lamar McKenzie of Abernathy and others, said J. R. Whitmire of the Texas Highway patrol, who investigated.

MARKET IN SHARP SLUMP

NEW YORK, Feb. 4. (AP)—The stock market took one of the worst poundings of the year today. Sixty-one stocks sold at the lowest prices in more than a year.

Losses ranged from fractions to a top of around 5 points following a sudden display of weakness in mid-morning. Closing quotations were at or near the lows for the day.

Oil and steel stocks paved the way for the retreat. They were soon joined, though, by other groups.

Volume expanded a bit and sales reached 1,066,000 shares, a high since Jan. 7. This compared with 770,000 yesterday.

Trading broadened to include 1,086 stocks, also tops since Jan. 7.

Immediate cause for the decline appeared to be the news that Creole Petroleum, almost wholly owned by Standard Oil (NJ) had reduced its quarterly dividend.

No surprise to the financial district, but nevertheless an upsetting factor, was a statement by Thomas B. McCabe, chairman of the Federal Reserve board, that no change in margin requirements was contemplated in Washington. The present margin of 75 per cent is widely considered an important reason for lack of public interest in the market.

Also unsettling was fresh declines in commodity prices.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped .7 of one point to 84.6, the largest decline since a 1.1 point loss on Jan. 3. The general list of prices is now back where it was on Jan. 5.

Creole Petroleum (traded on the curb) dropped 1⅝ to 23½. On the big board Superior Oil of California was down 9 at 150, Shelly dropped 4½ to 100½, and Mission Corp., 3 to 44½.

About a point or more lower were Gulf Oil at 64⅛, Standard Oil (NJ) 68⅛, Sinclair 20⅝, and Texas at 50. Texas and Standard were at new 1948-49 lows.

126 Divorce Actions Dismissed By Court

One hundred twenty-six divorce actions—some of which had been filed so far back as five years ago—were ordered dismissed, as well as cross actions filed in some of them, Friday afternoon by Judge Dan Blair of the 72nd district court.

The court's orders pointed out that all cases affected had been on the docket more than a year and that no setting, or effort to make a setting, had been made in any of them.

Judge Blair adjudged costs in each case against plaintiff.

The order points up something generally known to officials of the courts here — that numerous divorce actions filed in a moment of anger never are prosecuted, and motions for dismissal are not filed in a large percentage of those even a long time after resumption of marital relations by parties to the suits. Those facts eventually cause dismissal of the actions by the courts.

Funeral Services Held For Littlefield Drowning Victim

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 4. (Special)—Funeral services for G. W. Falls, Littlefield groceryman and victim of a fishing accident at Marte Gomez reservior, 16 miles south of the U. S. border Tuesday morning, were held here at 3 p. m. Thursday at LFD Drive Church of Christ with Harrell A. Collard, evangelist, officiating, assisted by Ned Fairbane.

Falls, who was buried in Littlefield cemetery with Hammond Funeral home in charge of arrangement, together with a companion, Willard Hill, also of Littlefield, were drowned when choppy water filled their boat and it sunk. A Mexican guide swam ashore and J. Earnest Jones, Lamb county school superintendent, was able to cling to the branches of an inundated tree.

The search for Hill's body was reported continuing Friday with divers working the depths of the lake. It was reported that if the divers' search was unsuccessful that dynamite blasts probably would be set off in an effort to bring the body to the surface.

Fall is survived by his wife, a son, four sisters, and a brother.

New Mexico Man Asks Aid In Finding Wife, Daughters Here

J. M. Nelson, who arrived here Thursday from Espanola, N. M., is seeking his wife and two daughters who preceded him here by several days.

Mrs. Nelson wrote him from Lubbock last week but failed to list an address. Efforts to locate her here have failed and Nelson appealed to The Avalanche-Journal for aid Friday.

Mrs. Nelson and her two daughters, 20 tno 12, came here in the Nelson automobile, a 1946 fourdoor Chevrolet sedan, bearing New Mexico license No. 11-1324. He's sure she has a place to live as she had ample funds.

Nelson, an asbestos worker, plans to work on the refinery being constructed near Sundown.

He is staying at the Commercial hotel.

Grain And Stock Prices Decline

said:

"While the present level of unemployment bears careful watching, the situation is not alarming."

Officials "Not Alarmed"

Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, after reviewing census bureau figures on employment, said he was not alarmed. Nor did he find cause for concern, he said in drops in the price of foods.

The drop in stocks was started by oil and steel shares with other groups joining in. Sales reached 1,060,000 shares, a high since Jan. 7. Yesterday's trading totalled 770,000.

In the bond market some securities made feeble rallies toward the end of the day but most of them closed at the day's lows.

The Census bureau reported that employment stood at 57,500,000 in January, which was 2,000,000 below the December level and 4,000,000 less than at last summers' employment peak. The 57,500,000, however, was 265,000 more than the number at work in January, 1948.

Many Not Seeking Jobs

The seeming paradov of a 2,000,000 drop in employment and a 700,000 increase in unemployment was explained by officials. They said the apparent unbalance was caused in part by persons such as women and youths pulling out of the labor force, a statistical classification which includes people with jobs and those seeking jobs.

Dr. Nourse, emphasizing that he is not alarmed by either the employment figures or the food price sag, said:

"These months are very decisive months and anyone who has responsibility is watching things closely."

Today's census bureau figures showed 4,000,000 fewer persons at work than at last summer's employment peak. Most of the drop was in non-farm work, but agricultural employment fell off about 600,000.

Wholesale Food Drops

Nourse said the downward trend in food prices already may have spent its force. He said there normally are adjustments in January and February, and that they are accelerated this time by the effect of last year's bountiful crops.

Dun and Bradstreet's wholesale food price index has dropped this week to $5.88, the lowest since OPA was ended in October, 1946. The $5.88 figures was 20.1 per cent below last July's record high. The index represents the total cost of a pound each of 31 foods.

C. C. Precure of Britton, Okla., president of the National Retail Grocers association, said he anticipates during 1949 a drop of 10 or 15 per cent below 1948 food prices. The American Meat Institute said wholesale prices of quality beef average 35 cents a pound lower than summer's highs.

Hayliff Threatened

ever, the forecasters said, and temperatures probably will plunge before the cold blast.

The mercury will reach 50 degrees this afternoon, the weather station said, after a morning low of 28 degrees. Sunday's readings will range from a 30 degree low to about 40 degrees before the cold front arrives, it was believed.

Second Front On Way

A reading of 22 is expected by midnight Sunday, and a second front moving out of Canada last night was predicted to drive the mercury even lower sometime Monday. The second cold blast had not moved far enough into the United States last night to be accurately charted, the station said, but was considered "fairly certain" to strike the South Plains.

While skies today and tomorrow will be partly cloudy, the station reported, no precipitation is foreseen.

Friday's readings ranged from 28 to 48 degrees.

Meanwhile, temperatures over the state warmed up to range from the mid-40's to the mid-60's Friday. Brownsville, in the lower Rio Grande valley, had 61 degrees with a light drizzle and fog at the same hour. There was light rain up the coast at Galveston.

The Dallas Weather bureau said a precipitation area in southern Louisiana was due to move into the Beaumont-Houston area of Texas during Friday night.

Georgia Solon Introduces Bill To Ban Liquor Advertisements

ATLANTA, Feb. 4 (INS) — A "dry" Georgia state senator made a proposal today in Atlanta that could, in effect, cut off circulation in the state of nearly every national magazine and newspaper.

Sen. Roy Lecraw, former Atlanta mayor, introduced in the Georgia senate a bill that would prevent "the circulation, sale, offer for sale or distribution in any manner" of any publication advertising hard liquor.

The measure is the second that Lecraw — a confirmed dry — has put forth during this session of the legislature concerning liquor advertising.

A bill of his to make it a misdemeanor for a Georgia publisher to advertise hard liquor was okayed by the senate temperance committee and is ready for final upper chamber action.

A similar bill died in a house committee two years ago after the senate had passed it, 29 to 3.

Says Dr. Edith Summerskill, Secretary to the Ministry of Food in London: "Reason is not yet a match for brute strength — the toughs of history from Caesar to Alexander to Napoleon and Hitler, should be debunked by women."

Laborite Says Taft To Be 'Taken Care Of' In Next Vote

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.— An American Federation of Labor official tonight angrily told Sen. Taft (R-Ohio)—co-author of the Taft-Hartley act, that labor "will take care of" him when he runs for re-election next year.

The threat was made by Lewis M. Hermann, secretary-treasurer of the AFL-International Labor Press of America, at a night hearing of the Senate Labor committee.

Hermann is a Republican member of the New Jersey state legislature from Newark. Hermann's statement followed a prediction by Taft that two-thirds of the labor law will be retained by Congress.

City Offers Work

and spreading caliche.

They will receive their grocery orders and cash from the city through the welfare association. The grocery orders will be honored in various stores.

Many Reports Unfounded

Mayor Rodgers emphasized that city officials do not minimize the seriousness of the problem created in many individual cases by the unemployment resulting from the recent cold wave.

These include people to whom the loss of a day's pay is a problem—who do not have the means of tiding themselves through a missed paycheck for a week. Some of them, nearly all day labor, haven't been able to work for three weeks.

"The problem with such people is most serious," the mayor remarked. "They are the people we want and intend to help."

But his investigations, and those of other welfare workers reported to city officials, established beyond question that many wild rumors of suffering and sickness have been without foundation.

No Epidemic Found

For example, he related, one widely circulated rumor was that diphtheria is rife in "Mexican town."

Not a single case of diphtheria exists there and only two known cases of pneumonia, according to reports to the mayor.

The mayor said he also received reports of petty chiselers who have attempted to profit from conditions.

As one example, he related, one local church received reports of "desperate illness" in 19 homes from persons who apparently expected to receive generous handouts of food or cash for "medicines."

"One of the ladies in the church put on her boots and waded the mud to investigate these reported cases of desperate illness," Mayor Rodgers related. "I am advised she did not find a single case of serious sickness. In some cases the 'patients' were not at home. Some addresses were not found at all. At others, the persons residing there said they had not asked for help, didn't need help and did not know those who had claimed the address as their home."

The mayor emphasized that there won't be any hair-splitting when appeals for help are made. If an appeal looks like it might be an emergency, provisions will be made for immediate aid.

But investigations of all appeals will be made as speedily as possible, he cautioned. Those who have made false representations will be cut off from relief instantly. In aggravated cases, criminal charges may be filed.

City officials spoke in highest praise of churches, the Salvation Army, various organizations and citizens generally who have cooperated in the efforts to ease the plight of those who have suffered any bad weather distress.

They expressed the belief that the city's "made work" which is available to "every able-bodied man willing to work" will go far toward easing food and cash emergencies in individual families.

SALVATION ARMY CONTINUES TO AID NEEDY FAMILIES

The Salvation Army Friday provided food supplies to 41 needy families, thereby aiding about 308 persons who had no food and no money with which to purchase it.

Capt. Tom Gregory, of the local Salvation Army headquarters, said last night that the food was issued in quantities sufficient to last the families an estimated three to four days. The foods given out came from the Salvation Army stockpile.

Meanwhile, the soup kitchen was moved back into the Mexican section of town Friday evening, and a total of 301 persons were served. Mr. and Mrs. Casey Charness assisted in dispensing the soup, which had been prepared by Hilton hotel.

Capt. Gregory said that a refrigeration unit had been loaned to the Salvation Army by the Commercial Truck Co., for use in refrigerating meats and other perishable foods which had been given to the Salvation Army for Distribution among the city's needy.

Jaycee members Friday night were collecting clothing which is to be distributed among the needy by the Salvation Army. As was the case Thursday night, Jaycee members were grouped into teams which gathered up clothing from Lubbock residents who had notified the Salvation Army they had garments to donate.

JAP VOLCANO ERUPTS

TOKYO, Feb. 5. (Saturday) (INS)—The Tokyo newspaper Yomiuri reported from Niigata today that 7,000-foot Mount Yakeyama has begun erupting. This marks the first eruption of the volcano in recent history. No estimate of damage has yet been made but the volcano is close to the American occupation force's ski resort at Akakura.

RUSSIAN FLYERS ARRIVE—Two Russian Air Force junior lieutenants, Peter Pirogov, 28, (center) and Anatole Barsov, 31, (right) who escaped from Soviet Union by plane, talk with an interpreter, Lt. Leonard Weigner, after arriving at Westover Airforce Base, Mass., via a Military Air Transport from Europe. The flyers were anxious to visit Virginia after hearing a broadcast about the state. Two Soviet Fliers thinks such settlement will come about.

Escaped In Stolen Plane

The two Soviet army pilots escaped from Russia in a stolen plane. The pair crashed-landed in the American zone of Austria last summer and subsequently obtained visitors visas for a two-month tour of the U. S. top officials of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce met the fliers today in preparation for an extended auto tour of Virginia.

Bapsov said he saw Stalin last May 1. He added:

"At the time, Stalin looked old and I am sure his health was not nearly as good as it used to be."

Bapsov reasoned that this was evidenced by the fact that Stalin has been "away to the Crimea for several months."

In connection with meeting U. S. military officials, Pirogov said: "We hope we'll be allowed to meet with the military people. We would like to speak with United States officials of high rank if they would condescend."

Underground Group Active

The airmen said that the Soviet is presently "having a great deal of trouble" with an underground movement in Benders, a city in the Ukraine.

They added, however, that there is "no organized underground movement in Russia itself." Pirogov continued:

"There is some partisan organization in Benders. But it is the only place where there is an organized underground. It is supported by the local population and the Bolsheviks are having a lot of trouble with them.

He said the movement has been in existence since 1918.

The two aviators declared that undergrounds in Russia proper are non-existent "simply because they are impossible," adding:

"Everyone is spying on everyone else. You are being spied on and you naturally spy on the next fellow."

Hopes To Master English

Pirogov said he hopes to master the English language and become a language teacher again—his premilitary occupation in Russia.

Bapsov said he hopes to continue his pre-army work as an automotive engineer.

The two said that all they want to do for the present, however, "is to tell the U. S. what the Soviet Union is now."

The two were then asked how the Russians would treat two American fliers who deserted to that country. Pirogov replied:

"I think that if the Americans landed, the Russians would show every possible courtesy to them and try to create a tremendous propaganda boom of it.

"I doubt, however, that any American could do such a thing."

The two fliers said that they both belong to the Greek Orthodox church but were prevented from worshipping in Russia "because military people there are not supposed to go to church."

REA Hearing

bill would authorize the REA to lend money to any telephone system whether it be an existing locally owned system, a newly organized co-operative, or even a Bell company, on the same terms it now lends to electric co-operatives (2 per cent for 35 years). This will provide cheap money where needed, competition which is always needed and an opportunity to effect substantial economy through the joint use of REA financed electric lines."

He predicted better than average chance of passage.

Among those from the Lubbock vicinity who are in the REA party are: County Judge Tom Garrard, Lynn county; Garland Pennington, manager of the REA Co-operative, Tahoka; O. B. Bryan, Stanton; Howard Davison, attorney for the co-operatives, Lubbock, and Glenn Newton. There were some 25 from the 19th district. Rep. George Mahon, Colorado City, visited with them during the day and saw them off on the train.

When a few sheep panicked and took the wrong direction and the rest followed, 850 sheep were drowned by the worst floods for 20 years on the marshes along the Solway Firth, Scotland.

Louisiana Comes Up With Novel Plan To End Tidelands Row

BATON ROUGE, Feb. 4 (AP)—Civic leaders of Baton Rouge, searching through musty archives for data "to offset Texas tall tales," have come up with a new angle on the tidelands dispute.

"If the federal government doesn't stop all this yapping about taking our oil-rich tidelands," says Vice-President Edgar Sowar of the Louisiana National bank here, "we'll take back the whole 15,000,000 acres of the Louisiana purchase."

He adds:

"Texas will be dwarfed, of course, but then we may be able to save their tidelands, too. And Oklahoma is such a nice name for a new parish (county)."

Given Research Job

Sowar was given the research task by Herbert Wimberly, vice-president of the City National bank. Wimberly, who heads a Baton Rouge Chamber of Commerce goodwill trip to Houston this week, said he wanted to be "thoroughly prepared when travelling through Texas."

The Baton Rougeans will attend the Fat Stock show in Houston and while there, incidentally boost Louisiana's livestock show scheduled for March on the state university campus here.

Pointing to similarities between Houston and Louisiana's capitol — seaport, oil center, agricultural and cattle hub—Sowar says the 150 goodwill delegates plan "to soak up plenty about Texas and Texas ideas" on their Houston visit.

The train leaves here Wednesday night and is scheduled to arrive in Houston about 7:30 a. m. Thursday.

Shah Of Iran Escapes Attempted Assassination With Minor Wounds

TEHRAN, Iran, Feb. 4. (AP) — The Shah of Iran, 29-year-old Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, was shot at five times today by a newspaper reporter and escaped with slight injuries.

Martial law was declared immediately.

The attempted assassination took place as the Shah was entering Tehran university to take part in the anniversary celebration of the university's founding.

Fakhr Raiee, the reporter, fired five shots. One went through the Shah's cheek and upper lip, another through his side and three into his hat.

Information Sought

rock like substance, can aid in the study, LaPaz said.

Follows Long Path

The meteor has been charted as following a long path from Oklahoma over the Texas Panhandle and South Plains about 6:54 p.m. Sunday night. A majority of the reports indicate the object "exploded" somewhere over the southwest portion of the South Plains. Numerous persons in Lubbock and nearby towns reported seeing the meteor as it streaked across the sky, reported seeing it "explode" into three distinct pieces and then plummet toward the ground.

The two men, and others aiding in the study, are concentrating their efforts in the Terry county vicinity and adjoining counties. They asked that anyone living in Terry county or adjoining counties should be especially careful to check for fragments on their farms or to turn in any information they might have.

Anyone having such information is asked to contact Cornelius at Lamesa or write Mr. Wm. Ricketts, O. S. I., Walker Air Base, Roswell, N. M.

LaPaz pointed out that thus far no concrete evidence of a noise having accompanied the reported "explosion." Such information, along with any fragments are urgently needed.

"Any fragments found would be of little value to the person finding them but would be of utmost importance to scientists and others," LaPaz emphasized.

Russians Told

while, the Russian people were told for the first time of Acheson's rejection of the Soviet "peace feeler" on Wednesday and Mr. Truman's similar action Thursday.

News of the rejection was given in a brief item on the back pages of Pravda and Izvestia.

Reds Disappointed

The story was carried under the headline "President Truman's refusal of peace pact between U.S.S.R. and U.S.A."

The news was received with disappointment by many Russians whose hopes for a settlement had been boosted by the exchange of correspondence between Stalin and Kingsbury Smith, International News Service European general manager. The notes were front-page news in Russia and elsewhere at the time they were disclosed.

Neither paper carried any comment on the rejection but the Soviet News agency, Tass, said:

"Local circles suppose that Truman's and Acheson's negative attutude is explained by the fact that a peace pact is contrary to their aggressive plans for organization of an Atlantic pact."

New Receipts Raise Polio Fund To $9,514

Contributions to the Lubbock county March of Dimes from a number of sources which were received Friday at local campaign headquarters totaled $440.70 boosting the total amount in the county's campaign fund to approximately $9,514, campaign officials said last night.

Of the Friday's contribution total, $158.60 came from coin collectors which had been placed in local business houses, while $205.04 was raised Thursday by members of the Lubbock Lions club which operated the March of Dimes "Wishing Well" on a downtown street corner that day.

Friday, 16 letters containing $67 were received at March of Dimes headquarters.

Katherine Fincher, of 3019 Twenty-eighth, who last Sunday celebrated her tenth birthday with a party to which her guests brought not gifts to the hostess but as many dimes as they wished to be turned in to the March of Dimes fund this week, presented a total of $10.10 to Warlick Carr, co-chairman of the March of Dimes campaign collection committee as the "proceeds" from her party.

1710 Fourth, where it was parked. The car was valued at approximately $1,800. Two Army blankets and a metal toolbox were in the car, Spencer said. The ignition key had been left in the car, police reports indicated.

An element of mystery was infused by a radio report from the highway patrol of the Plainview sub-station that the car had been discovered burning between Ralls and Floydada, the patrol district office announced here Friday afternoon.

Investigations were underway, it was announced.

A 37-year-old man was fined $50 on a plea of guilty of indecent exposure in 1100-block Ave. L, police said. He was arrested by J. O. Tinsley, a police patrolman.

U. V. Blake, owner of Blake Radio shop at 2215 Nineteenth, told police that a portable radio had been stolen from his place of business. A suspect was named.

Ernesto Lucero, 25, of Lubbock, charged in justice court of D. W Robertson with desertion, was arrested early Friday night by deputies Sheriff B. F. Forrester and John Barnett.

The two officers also took into custody Anestasio Alegria, 27, of Lubbock, charged in Lynn's court with removal of mortgaged property from the state, a felony.

A suit case, a hand bag, a .22 caliber pistol, and clothing, valued collectively at $115, were stolen from a tent at a construction project at Fifth and Ave. C, Sam Creasley informed police late Friday.

comes a reluctant host to what remains of his refugee regime.

Chiang himself sits 700 miles away at his native Fenghwa, driven into uneasy retirement Jan. 21 by the Communist victories in the civil war.

No Enthusiasm Shown

Acting President Li Tsung-Jen remains in the official capital, Nanking, his efforts to negotiate a nationwide surrender to the Reds still fruitless.

Premier Sun Fo and Foreign Minister Wu Te-Chen came to Canton Friday afternoon, and a government spokesman declared the cabinet and foreign office definitely would resume their official functions Saturday, making this the provisional capital.

There was as yet little semblance of an operating government, however, and diplomats and officials were inclined to debate the relative capital positions of Canton and Nanking.

The United States and almost all other foreign ambassadors except the Russian have remained in Nanking, sending only ministers or counselors to Canton.

Canton and its province of Kwangtung were welcoming the newcomers with none of the enthusiasm that accompanied creation of the government here in 1925 and Chiang Kai-Shek's successful northern expedition of June 9, 1926.

Gov. Huseh Yueh has said he was not informed of the government's plans and intended in any case to lead four southern provinces in a bitter-end fight against the Communists.

into a steep dive at about 4,000 feet and spiraled into the sea a mile and a quarter off shore. Two helmets were recovered near a part of a wing and an oil slick, but there was no trace of any bodies.

North American Aircraft identified the occupants as Albert W. Conover, jr., 28, of Torrance, Calif., who flew the Navy's first jet plane, and Charles E. Brown, 35, of nearby Hawthorne, an Air Force hero with 15 kills to his credit over Europe.

Planes Continue Search

A North American spokesman said there was no hint of what happened to the three-engined craft, still so secret that the Navy has permitted announcement of virtually no details of its construction.

Meanwhile more than 100 search planes, some diverted from training missions, traversed the Fresno - Bakersfield - Inyokern, Calif., air routes again in search of a missing aircraft bearing seven men.

Five of them were civilian scientists from the Navy weapons testing grounds near here.

The other were Comdr. Alphonse Minnville, the pilot, and co-pilot Lt. (jg) Charles V. Mathus, 27, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The two-engine plane apparently fell within a few minutes after it left the Inyokern airport at 6:30 a. m. Thursday.

Evidence Of Soul Considered At University

Personality Survival After Death Studied By Scientist

DURHAM, N. C., Feb. 4 (U.P.)—Scientists at Duke university here are wrestling with the age-old question of whether anything about a person survives after death.

Is there any real evidence to prove that we have a soul that goes on after th body dies.

The latest scientific word on that question comes from the laboratory of Dr. Joseph B. Rhine, Duke psychologist. Dr. Rhine says:

"Yes, there is a great accumulation of evidence that strongly favors the possibility that there is something about human personality that could survive."

But the psychologist is not yet ready to tell in precise terms what that evidence is.

Dr. Rhine is head of the laboratory at Duke university that for years has been conducting experiments to show that the mind could influence cards, dice and marbles. The theory is that if you think "seven" hard enough when you roll the dice you will get more sevens—not every time, but more often.

Other experiments have been made to test scientifically whether there is such a thing as telepathy—the transmission of thought from one individual to another.

The ability to "pick up" thoughts from another individual, he explained today, is extra-sensory perception, or ESP for short. The ability to influence moving objects like dice is psychokinesis, or PK for short. Together they are known as PSI.

Dr. Rhine conducts experiments with Duke students in the laboratory and at his own home. He said that in the past "a few scientists have taken steps to investigate the performance and claims of mediums, and any other manifestations that suggest the agency of discarnate personalities or spirits."

Today, however, the popular interest is gone, he said, and the work at Duke on ESP and PK is about all that is being done.

"This decline of interest," he said, 'is a part of the general shift away from all theological doctrine. It is the mode of thought resulting from the advancement of scientific thinking. First, hell and the personal devil, and now heaven and the angels are passing out of the picture as intellectual advance overtakes them."

Dr. Rhine actually wants to determine whether there is scientific proof of the immortality of the soul. He does not believe his work is in conflict with religion. In fact, he believes there "is a most important and wholly constructive relation between the two."

The doctor and his colleagues here have been experimenting in para-psychology, the study of mind over matter, for 20 years.

F. M. Self, of Buffalo, Mo., father of James R. Self, former Lubbock resident who moved to Wichita Falls a short time ago, died recently, according to information received here by friends.

A graveside military reburial service for Sgt. Charles E. Schoepf, who was killed in action on Luzon in 1945 while serving with the U. S. Army, were held at 11:30 a.m. Friday in Tech Memorial park. Cardinal's Trial he ever said the government's charges against him were true, it would be because of "weakness of the flesh."

"I want it to be considered null and void," he told the court.

The letter, broadcast to Hungarian radio listeners for the last two weeks by the Voice of America, said there was no personal freedom in Hungary and warned other clerics Cardinal Mindszenty might be arrested.

Changes His Mind

(The Vatican City newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said the trial had taken on the "pathological characteristic" of the Communist judiciary system from the first, when "the accused admits everything, confesses everything.")

(Ferenc Nagy, self-exiled former premier of Hungary who now lives in Virginia, said he was convinced Cardinal Mindszenty was tortured after his arrest, and then "reconditioned" for the trial so there would be no visible signs).

When the disputed letter came up, Presiding Judge Vilmos Olthys asked: "Did the cardinal admit writing the letter?"

Cardinal Mindszenty rose from his seat in the dock, strode to the amplifier hanging in front of the judge's bench, and said he had changed his mind about things in Hungary. He spoke firmly and clearly.

Letter "Null and Void"

"I wrote this letter sometime in November, 1948, with instructions that it be forwarded to the bishops and archbishops of Hungary on the day I was arrested," the cardinal said. "That is what happened.

"Now I want to state that I see things differently from then, when I drafted the letter, and I want to repeat what I said yesterday—that I regret my error. I want it to be considered that the letter is null and void."

Voice of America broadcasts have said the letter cleared the cardinal beforehand of any statement he might make under supposed duress after his expected arrest.

The arrest of the cardinal, a leader of the opposition to the government's program for land law revision and nationalization of church schools, was announced Dec. 27.

Escape Is Sought

Judge Olthys remarked that the letter had "hurt the court."

Cardinal Mindszenty emphasized in reply that it was written before his arrest. He said it had nothing to do with the present court. He acknowledged the court had not hindered his defense and that he had access at all times to his lawyer, Kalman Kicko.

The cardinal, arraigned in the robes of a simple priest, said yesterday he was partly guilty in his defiance of the Communist-dominated state, but denied the most serious charge — that he had plotted to destroy Hungary's "democratic" system."

Accused also of writing a letter in prison Jan. 26 asking U. S. Minister Selden Chapin to help him escape by air, Cardinal Mindszenty was recorded by the court as saying "Yes."

Cardinal Appears Calm

(Asked about this in a telephone conversation with The Associated Press correspondent in Prague, Czechoslovakia, Chapin said "not only did I never receive such a letter, but I never knew it was written." Budapest dispatches did not bring out how the cardinal was supposed to have tried to get such a letter out of prison, nor how it reached government hands).

J. M. Clark, Retired Railway Employe, Claimed At Slaton

SLATON, Feb. 4 (Special) — J. M. Clark, 65, retired boilermaker for Panhandle and Santa Fe at Slaton, died at 11 p.m. today at his home here. Funeral arrangements are imcomplete pending arrival of relatives, Williams Funeral home reported.

He is survived by his wife, a daughter, Mrs. C. Holly, Houston, and two sisters, Mrs. C. V. Reece, Longview, and Mrs. Ethel Hearne, Marshall.

Labor Law Scored

precedent might have to be considered.

The attorney general's office said Clark has no comment on the development.

Clark has submitted his statement in lieu of an appearance. His view that Mr. Truman has inherent presidential powers to deal with a work breakdown threatening national safety—without having it spelled out in the law—was indorsed by the President.

Power Claimed Non-Existent

Taft said flatly there is no such power in peacetime without a law giving the President authority to get a court injunction. This power is specifically stated in the Taft-Hartley law which the Ohio senator is battling energetically to salvage.

Mr. Truman proposes to substitute a 30-day voluntary cooling off period for dealing with such national welfare strikes, throwing out the Taft-Hartley provision for asking an 80-day injunction against a strike. The committee is working on the administration's bill which would repeal the Taft-Hartley law and start all over with its predecessor, the Wagner act, in an amended form.

But Taft, calling a news conference to summarize three days of labor hearings, predicted that two-thirds of the Taft-Hartley law would be retained in the new labor legislation. This law has about 60 separate provisions, he said.

Among other developments today on Capitol Hill, Congress was handed the administration's proposal to continue the Marshall plan to July 1, 1950, and committees of both houses called hearings next week.

Economic co-operation administration officials said the amount to be asked will be made known at that time. Unofficial estimates run like this:

For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1949, $4,235,000,000.

For the April-June 1949 quarter, about $1,250,000,000.

The House Foreign Affairs committee and the Senate Foreign Relations committee will meet jointly on Tuesday to hear ECA Administrator Paul Hoffman and Secretary of State Acheson.

Buying To Be Probed

The bill does not cover other areas into which the United States has poured aid to stave off the spread of Communism. Presumably they will be dealt with later.

Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) said his Senate Agriculture committee will open hearings perhaps Tuesday into the commodity purchasing policies of ECA, the Army and other agencies in the foreign aid program. He said it will look into the buying of foreign farm products.

A filibuster showdown Monday in the Senate was discouraged when the Senate Democratic policy committee decided to oppose a move of Senator Knowland (R-Calif) to take away from the rules committee a proposal to permit a limitation of debate on any subject by a two-thirds vote.

Export Controls Approved

Knowland's resolution will come up Monday. He introduced it when the rules group deferred a decision on the anti-filibuster proposal.

A 28-month extension of export controls, requested by the administration, was approved by the Senate Banking committee and it may come up in the Senate Monday. A similar bill is awaiting House debate.

The Senate committee wrote in a provision whereby a farm product could be decontrolled upon a finding by the secretary of agriculture that a surplus exists beyond domestic needs. Members said this would mean decontrol of exports of a number of commodities.

Hearings opened simultaneously in Senate and House on an administration move to get higher pay for executives, including an increase from $15,000 to $25,000 for cabinet officers.

Red Paper Reveals Trade Still Exists Between East And West

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Hungarian government recently published some figures which constitute an interesting commentary on the cry from Russia that she had to form her council of economic aid for eastern Europe because her sphere is being "boycotted" by the West.

Whether the figures are accurate is one thing, for they are rather surprising. They show Russia taking less of Hungary's exports than Britain does, suggesting that reparations payments are not included. They also show Hungary buying more from Yugoslavia than from any other country, revealing that the Cominform blockade of Tito covers only what he needs to buy, not what he needs to sell.

Bulletin Reports Exports

The figures were published by the "statistical Bulletin" under the direction of Zoltan Vas, Communist economic minister, covering Hungary's foreign trade for last November.

Of Hungary's total exports in that month Britain took approximately $4,500,000, or 22.5 per cent. In addition, $2,000,000 more went to what the Bulletin calls the "Anglo-Saxon zone of Germany." Russia took only $2,500,000.

Hungary bought about $1,700,000 worth from Yugoslavia, slightly less from Czechoslovak, $1,600,000 from Britain, and received only $1,200,000 from Russia.

Trade Still Exists

Shortly after publication of the figures a financial delegation left for Britain with the announced intention of improving and cementing trade relations. Britain is trying particularly to increase food purchases in Hungary.

As in Britain's recent trade agreement with Poland, and in other trade pacts between eastern and western countries, the volume could hardly be called world shaking. But trade exists, and the westerners are constantly pressing for more. The whole concept of the Marshall plan involves increased trade between the two areas to help fill the western deficiency and relieve pressure on supplies from the U. S. The UN Economic commission for Europe has been making strenuous efforts toward that end.

The interesting thing is that the iron curtain cannot block the natural course of European trade, and the indication that Russia has by no means been able to make herself the economic center of eastern Europe.

Harrison County 4-H Club Boy Is Awarded Scholarship

HOUSTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—William Huffman, 16-year-old Harrison county 4-H club boy, has been awarded the $2,000 Jim Tucker agricultural scholarship to Texas A. & M. college.

Huffman's steer, won as a scramble calf at last year's Houston Fat Stock show, placed sixth in scramble calf steer competition this year.

The scholarship was awarded after Huffman was adjudged as having the best all around record, including scholastic attainments, of any scramble calf boy during the past year.

Houston businessmen each year present a scholarship to the boy establishing the best record with his calf during the year following his participation in the Houston's show scramble event.

In receiving the award, Huffman thanked Tucker, Houston Insurance man; his sponsor, Ed Odom, Orange, who donated the calf for last year's scramble; his present county agent, Joe Frobese, and his former county agent, B. M. Browning, now of Tyler.

Hulls Of Wrecked Ships To Be Removed From Texas City Harbor

GALVESTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—The Corps of Engineers announced here today that the hulls of two ships wrecked in the Texas City explosion disaster in April, 1947, will be removed soon from the Texas City harbor. The explosions and fires that followed killed approximately 500 persons.

The great disaster was caused by the explosion of ammonia nitrate aboard the SS Grandcamp on April 16. The SS Highflyer exploded the next day. The explosions wrecked the SS William B. Keene in the harbor.

Col. B. L. Robinson, district engineer of the Corps of Engineers, Galveston district, said the New Orleans Coal and Bisso Towboat company was the apparent low bidder for the removal of the wreckage of the Highflyer and Keene with a bid of $220,000.

Giant Navy Plane Is Preview Of Trend In Commercial Aviation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (U.P.) — The Navy's record-breaking Constitution is a preview of the kind of plane the public may fly in "in about five years," an aeronautical engineer said today.

The mammoth plane sped across the continent yesterday in nine hours and 32 minutes with 90 persons aboard, the largest number ever to make such a flight. The trip was made from Moffett Field, Cal., to Washington.

Hall L. Hibbard, vice president and chief engineer of the Lockheed Aircraft Corp., which built the 92-ton sky giant, predicted that commercial airlines would be flying similar planes about five years from now. He said it could be operated at the lowest cost of "any airplane ever built."

The Navy described the plane as an "invaluable national resource," and said it "affords tremendous commercial possibilities."

Phone Company Seeks Court Order To Permit Rate Hikes

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 4 (AP) The Southwestern Bell Telephone company today asked the state supreme court for a permanent injunction to bar the Corporation commission from interfering with a proposed $3,000,000 a year increase in telephone rates.

The petition was in answer to the Corporation commission which temporarily blocked the rate increase two weeks ago by obtaining a high court restraining order against the phone company.

House Probers Forced To Drop Study Of Jap Spy Activities

mistress and asked her to have Mayne call me if, by chance, she saw him.

THAT was on a Saturday. Monday morning he appeared at my office in the old House Office Building.

I took a long chance and, pointing at him severely, shouted, "Mayne, you wrote those letters, didn't you?"

"Yes," he said, mildly.

"Sit down," I invited. Then I called in the members of the Committee, put Mayne under oath and he told his story, portions of which were subsequently denied by the persons he mentioned.

He told us that Gardner Jackson, formerly (and subsequently) a $5,600-a-year, Amherst-graduated government economists, who was among the more articulate New Deal critics of the Committee, had purchased the letters from him. The price was $105 and the promise of a job through Jerome Frank, then chairman of the Securities and Exchange commission.

Mayne testified that Jackson's agent, one Harold Weisberg, at their first meeting, had asked him if he knew of any connection between Dies and Pelley. When Mayne answered that he knew of none, Weisberg said, "Well, keep looking. I'm sure you'll find something."

Plot Finally Admitted

Mayne confessed that subsequently he wrote the letters on plain paper, forged Pelley's signature, and attached a Silver Shirt Legion letterhead by means of Scotch tape. He then had the material photostated and turned it over to Jackson, who apparently accepted it as authentic.

Once in possession of the material, Jackson gave a dinner at his Chevy Chase home for ten members of Congress, including two New Deal members of the Committee, and informed them of his find. Only Hook would agree to introduce the matter on the floor of the House.

Though he was under oath, I knew it was hopeless to rest my case on Mayne's testimony. I needed Pelley, who had dropped out of sight after violating parole on a "Blue Sky" conviction in North Carolina.

I asked Mayne where Pelley could be found, but that only frightened him. So I mused aloud:

"Well, I'm glad he hasn't shown himself. If he did, I'd have to serve him with a subpena, and if I did that it would mean that North Carolina couldn't serve the warrant it has out for him."

Mayne began to show some interest.

"Yes," I went on, with an elaborate sigh, "I'd hate to do that fellow a favor, and make it possible for him to get all that publicity . . ."

PELLEY walked into my office the next morning. He had shaved off his gray goatee and was affecting a cap.

I called the Committee to the office and let them hear his denial of ever having met or written to Dies. We took him to a meeting of the Rules Committee to repeat his story, and when we produced the typewriter on which Mayne had written the letters, the case against Dies and the Committee was dead.

Hook insisted that he had been framed. Mayne was convicted of forgery, probably the lowest case of forgery in the Justice Department's annals. And Congress gave the Committee another lease on life.

Not much later in 1940, President Roosevelt called Dies to the White House from his home in Texas and, for one perhaps thoughtless moment, the Texan believed he had been returned to the good graces of the Chief Executive.

Dies Kept Waiting

I accompanied him to the White House. Dies honestly expected to be ushered into the President's study immediately, but he was kept waiting 45 minutes. And when the door of the study opened, the man who emerged was Gardner Jackson.

The President told Dies that Attorney General Robert Jackson was strenuously accusing the Committee of premature exposures that imperiled national security. The truth of the matter was that the Committee was taking an aggressive lead in matters in which the Justice Department was plainly negligent.

Roosevelt lectured Dies at length, and the Chairman reluctantly agreed to clear all future hearings with the Attorney General. Dies agreed, he told us, ". . . purely because of the international situation."

Quietly, and I believe efficiently, we continued our long inquiry into Japanese spying along the Pacific coast and in Hawaii. By the middle of June, 1941, our case was complete. Dies, then in Jasper, Texas, informed the Justice Department that he planned to begin hearings on the Japanese case on July 1. He outlined what we had discovered.

THE Justice Department's reply came a few days before the scheduled opening of our hearings. It was signed by Acting Attorney General Matthew McGuire and informed Dies that the Department, after discussing the question with the President and Secretary Hull, could not give us permission to hold such hearings.

For the remainder of my life I will always believe that our disclosures would have aroused enough alarm among the people to have caused the Japanese to abandon their planned attack on Pearl Harbor. If Pearl Harbor could not have been prevented, then I believe our disclosures would have prepared America more adequately for the difficult days ahead.

Vet Declares He Was Duped By Axis Sally

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (INS)—A maimed ex-GI today stuck by his testimony that "Axis Sally" posed as a Red Cross worker to trick him into aiding a wartime German propaganda broadcast.

The witness—Gilbert Hansford of Cincinnati—insisted despite a rigorous cross-examination that American-born Mildred Gillars was the woman who duped him in a Paris hospital.

Forty-eight-year-old Miss Gillars is on trial for treason on grounds she played a major role in Nazi shortwave broadcasts aimed at breaking American morale.

Hansford, who lost a leg in the Normandy invasion, told the court in the "Axis Sally" treason trial that Miss Gillars approached him and said she "was working with the International Red Cross."

Hansford, who walked stiffly with an artificial leg, said Miss Gillars, whom he identified yesterday, used the Red Cross ruse to trap him and other wounded Yanks of the Normandy invasion.

The slow-talking, 27-year-old veteran said he and his comrades unwittingly gave Miss Gillars recorded interviews which later were used on "Sally's" Nazi "horror" broadcasts to the United States.

Texas Good Neighbor Setup Welcomes Probe, Official Says

HOUSTON, Feb. 4 (AP) — The Texas Good Neighbor commission is willing to be investigated "by any one at any time," its chairman said here.

R. E. Smith, Houston oil man, made the statement when asked for comment last night on reports that a member of the Texas House of Representatives plans to introduce a bill which would abolish the commission.

Rep. J. F. Gray, Three Rivers, Texas, wants to do away with the commission because of wide publicity given an incident involving reburial of a Latin-American soldier killed in the Philippines.

"It is a matter of public record," said Smith. "We have no quarrels with anyone."

$13,500 Paid For Champion Steer

HOUSTON, Feb. 4 (AP) — A Central Texas youth just getting his start as a rancher was $13,500 richer today as a Houston oilman purchased his grand champion steer of the Houston Fat Stock show.

He is Seth Turner, 20, of Purmela, Coryell county, whose 1205-pound Shorthorn, "Mysie," was a surprise winner last night in the grand champion competition at Sam Houston coliseum.

Glenn McCarthy, oilman, newspaper publisher and hotel owner, made the high bid of $13,500 today as "Mysie" was placed on the auction block along with other prize winning steers of the seventeenth annual exposition.

Purchased Chicago Champion

McCarthy, whose Houston export company also purchased the reserve champion, an 825-pound Hereford owned by Merion Reynolds, 16, Goldthwaite, was the high bidder for the grand champion and reserve grand champion of the International Livestock exposition at Chicago in December.

The Chicago steers will be served as steaks at the March 17 opening of McCarthy's $20,000,000 Houston hotel, the Shamrock. He said the Houston champion will be given to the Houston Variety club for use in its charity work.

"Mysie" was bred by the Crews ranch at Haigler, Neb. Turner, who now has 20 head of registered Shorthorns of his own, declined to say what he paid for the champion as a calf nor did he know what it cost to feed the steer.

Tops 1947 Record

McCarthy's bid for "Mysie" was $1000 more than the price at which last year's grand champion sold. The show's record is $15,000 set in 1947.

McCarthy today also paid $1201 for the grand champion barrow, raised by Maurice Norhen, 13, Belton.

Youthful exhibitors of lambs and hogs pocketed approximately $45,000 for their prize fat entries, F. F. (Buck) Wood, chairman of the auction committee said.

The 225 prize lambs sold at a 40-25-cent per pound average, compared to the market price of 23 cents. Hogs sold at a 27-cent average, compared with 19-cents a pound.

The averages do not include sale prices for grand champions of either auction, Wood said.

Bonus Payments For Texas Vets Proposed

Amendments Would Be Submitted To Voters; Loans Also Talked

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Feb. 4—Two veterans bonus proposals, one of which would include Texas veterans of the Spanish-American war, await introduction in the House of Representatives.

They are proposed constitutional amendments which would require approval by the voters of Texas if okayed by the present legislature.

Another measure to aid veterans of World War II would create a fund of not more than $300,000,000 for use in making home or business loans up to $5,000. Rep. Miller B. Walker of Beaumont is the author.

Grants Are Proposed

Legislation similar to all three proposals was submitted in the House two years ago without success.

Rep. Jimmy Horany of Archer City will introduce a proposed constitutional amendment to let the legislature create a state debt of not more than $400,000,000 for payment of bonuses to Texas veterans of World Wars I and II.

His plan would give $250 to each veteran who served within the continental limits of the United States. Another $250 would be granted veterans who served at least three months outside the continental territorial limits of this country. Next of kin of men killed in service would be eligible to receive the payments.

Second Plan Outlined

Horany's amendment requires the governor to submit the matter of creating a debt for payment of bonuses to the next legislature if Texas voters approve the plan at the November general election in 1950.

Rep. J. A. Benton of Wylie has a more liberal bonus in mind. He would include veterans of the Spanish-American war as well as the two world wars.

The suggested amendment gives power to the legislature and requires it to supplement monthly wages of Texas veterans, their widows, or next of kin.

The veterans would receive $10 per month for each month of military service within the continental limits; $15 for each month outside this country; $30 per month for the time they were prisoners of war. Next of kin of men who died in service would draw double the maximum amounts allowed.

Washington State's Vet Bonus Invalid

OLYMPIA, Wash. Feb. 4 (AP)—The Washington State Supreme court today held unconstitutional the $100,000,000 soldiers bonus measure approved by the voters at the November, 1948, election.

The bonus was to be financed by a 10 per cent tax on retail tobacco sales. It was brought before the high court in a test suit by Frank A. Gilman, a tobacco dealer.

The court held that the ballot title of the initiative was not sufficiently broad to make the bonus bonds a general obligation of the state of Washington.

It said an initiative measure for a bonus for veterans of the first World War had been explicitly placed outside of the $400,000 debt limitation fixed by the state constitution.

Under the measure, veterans would have received $10 a month for stateside service and $15 a month for overseas service during the second World War.

Both were Sweetwater residents. Mrs. Mosely was about 25 years old.

Morrow Is Urged To Resign Post

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (AP) — Rep. Patman (D-Tex) said today that "if Wright Morrow won't resign" as Texas Democratic National committeeman then state party officials should choose a liaison man to represent them in dealing with the Truman administration.

Commenting on the current dispute among Texas Democrats over their representation of the national committee, Patman told a reporter that Byron Skelton of Temple should be named as the spokesman for the party before government and national Democratic party councils here.

Demos Voted Replacement

Mentioning the fact that Texas Democrats in their last state convention, and subsequently by action of their state executive committee, had voted for Morrow's replacement by Skelton—a move apparently can be carried through only by action of the entire national committee, Patman added:

"Morrow is a pretender in his present position. Texas doesn't actually have a national committeeman.

"Therefore, I suggest that the state committee meet and select some person, perhaps Byron Skelton, to represent it in dealing with the national administration."

Patman expressed his views as plans were being mapped for a series of Jackson day dinners in Texas.

He said Morrow "should step out of the picture" and let others of the party in the state organize the dinners.

"That would prevent a lot of friction and prevent some unpleasant situations," Patman said.

MORROW SAYS HE HAS NO PLANS TO RESIGN

FORT WORTH, Feb. 4. (AP)—"I don't expect to take his advice," Wright Morrow of Houston, Democratic national committeeman for Texas, said in Fort Worth tonight in reply to a statement issued in Washington by Rep. Patman demanding that Morrow should resign.

"He (Patman) seems to be definitely in the minority with his feelings," Morrow said. "The people we had here in Fort Worth today planning Jackson Day dinners, were representatives of Texas Democrats.

"I guess a Democrat has a right to speak what he thinks, but I do not expect to take Patman's advice. I am surprised that he keeps

National Committee To Handle Drive

Demos Make Change In Fund Campaign

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Feb. 4—The Democratic National committee was restored today as the party's fund raising agency in Texas, reversing a decision of conservative party leaders last spring that Texans should hold the purse strings.

Current party leaders, almost all of them identified with the Truman-Barkley faction during the campaign, met here and gave National Committeeman Wright Morrow of Houston blank check authority to decide whether Texas shall stage one or more Jefferson-Jackson Day dinners this year to raise money for the party.

Include Large Cities

The tenor of the meeting was that two or three principal dinners be held in sequence over the state. Fort Worth, Austin and Corpus Christi were mentioned more frequently than any other cities in the discussion.

Morrow said he would like for the first dinner to be held here.

While the dates have not been set, he was sure the first dinner would be held before April 1 and the others will be held shortly thereafter.

Last spring, Robert W. Calvert —who was then state chairmen— Neville G. Penrose, former state finance chairman and others, decided that the Texas party should raise its own funds and then decide whether to give the National Committee any money. In the past, it had been the other way around —the National Committee raised funds through the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinners and then allocated money to the Texas party.

To Make Plans

A reporter asked if the decision reached today meant that there would be a return to the old method.

Morrow confirmed that interpretation, but indicated that an effort will be made to have a specified sum allocated to Texas.

Morrow was authorized to plan the dinners at once and appoint a committee to implement his plans.

The national committeeman emphasized that the dinners should represent every element in the partly.

Burris Jackson, Hillsboro, said the group was "well pleased with Morrow and appreciative of his support of the party" during the campaign.

Ever since last summer, Morrow had been the target of Truman-Barkley leaders in Texas who sought to unseat him and fill his place on the National committee with Byron Skelton, Temple.

The meeting was attended by State Chairman John C. Calhoun, Corsicana; Bascom Gist, Tyler; M. F. Griffin, Plainview; Warren Phillips, Corpus Christi; Grover Sellers, Sulphur Springs; Woodville Rodgers, San Antonio; Roy Baker, Sherman; C. T. McLaughlin, Snyder; French Robertson, Abilene; Buster Cole, Bonham; W. T. Knight, Wichita Falls; Mrs. Claud Hudspeth, San Antonio; Burris Jackson, Hillsboro; Raymond Buck, Fort Worth; Tom Miller, Austin; W. H. Kittrell and Howard Dailey, Dallas, and Chick Gardner, Odessa.

HST-Stalin Meeting In Independence Is Latest Suggestion

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Feb. 4 (INS) — An Independence Western Union employe has cabled Premier Stalin in Moscow inviting him to meet in Mr. Truman's home town for talks toward world peace.

James W. Stobaugh sent the following message:

"May I respectfully invite you to meet with President Truman in my home at 1228 Cedar avenue, Independence, Mo., a typical American home in the most typical of all American communities.

"Here in this home town of our honored President, away from glitter and pomp where the only armed force in evidence is the traffic patrol on the highway, I believe any and all differences may be solved.

"My neighbors and all Independence would be honored to be hosts to such a gathering, and we feel that the setting and the friendliness of this great Midwest will produce worthwhile results."

Stobaugh forwarded the same message to President Truman.

Andrews Test Makes Show

Tests were continuing at Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2-11 University, likely pay opener from the Wolfcamp-Permian between the Shafter Lake and Fullerton fields of north-central Andrews County.

On the last 24-hour gauge, the prospect swabbed and flowed 124 barrels of oil and 13 barrels of basic sediment and acid water from perforations at 8,395-8,420 feet. There was no formation water.

It is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 11, block 13, University survey.

Magnolia No. 1 Hicks, Southeast Gaines County deep wildcat, about 20 miles southeast of Seminole, and 660 feet from north and west lines of tract 16, league 372, Loving County School Land survey, had reached 12,188 feet in lime, shale and chert, and was continuing to dig. It has not found any signs of commercial petroleum production.

Seaboard Starts Wildcat

Seaboard Oil company of Delaware is to start operations immediately at an 8,500-foot wildcat in South-Central Borden County to test into the Ellenburger.

The prospector will be Seaboard No. 1 T. J. Good. It is located five and one-quarter miles north of Vealmoor, in North-Central Howard County, 20 miles north of Big Spring, and at the center of the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 37, block 33, TP survey, T-4-N.

Nearest proven producing area is the Vealmoor field, adjacent to the town of Vealmoor. That oil comes from the Pensylvanian lime above 8,000 feet.

Rotary tools will be used to dig No. 1 Good.

A northwest outpost to the Riley field of East-Central Gaines County is to be drilled by Christensen & Matthews of Houston.

PANIC CLAIMED MAJOR DANGER

Scientist Minimizes Radiation Hazards From Atomic Warfare

By ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Feb. 4—A University of Chicago atomic scientist asserted today that the psychological effects of atom warfare would far outweigh the actual radiation hazards for civilian populations.

Dr. Robert D. Boche, assistant professor of zoology in the University of Chicago's institute of radiobiology and biophysics, did not discuss the direct effects of an atom bomb blast.

Major Effort Required

He explained to the University of Chicago's citizens board that by radiation hazards he meant the spreading of radioactive "poisons" on population areas and water supplies. Dr. Boche said:

"It would require a major effort on the part of an enemy to produce anything more than panic in weeks or even months by this kind of activity (that is, making water supplies and cities radioactive.)

"Continuous radiation spread out in time is very much less injurious than instanteous blasts of it from the bomb."

Dr. Boche noted that in the case of Chicago, for instance, "it would be rather difficult to contaminate Lake Michigan sufficiently by radiological warfare methods to kill many Chicagoans even in 10 years."

"Answers" Foreseen

He added that "judicious use of snow, ice or rainwater, or in their absence a home-made still, would largely suffice for cooking and drinking until radioactivity diminished to safe levels.

"In radiological warfare, citizens will almost always be better off "sitting tight" in their home, making only slight modifications of their usual habits, than in fleeing or leaving the city."

Dr. Boche predicted that technical answers are "in sight" for how much radiation populations can stand "without endangering

STALIN TOLD OFF

Mr. Acheson Scores

NEW Secretary of State Dean Acheson appears to have conducted himself in a manner likely to satisfy most Americans by his handling of problems arising from the reported "willingness" of Josef Stalin to meet with President Truman.

Insofar as Stalin is concerned, the statements attributed to him have been ignored. If he hoped those statements would cause the U. S., and/or the other free nations to seek a new conference, enabling him to state the conditions of his participation, the maneuver failed. The idea may penetrate his mind that, if he wants a conference, he will have to talk to the governments concerned rather than to the press and radio.

He also failed if he hoped his statement would disturb unity among the free nations by arousing suspicion that Uncle Sam might consider a two-power huddle which would leave the rest out in the cold. Mr. Acheson has given assurances, in positive detail, that the United States never will do anything which suggests a private deal with the Russians. It would be impossible for any nation or any secretary of state to give more positive assurances on this point than those announced by Mr. Acheson.

The indications now are that, if Stalin hoped to gain anything from his reported proposals, his strategy backfired.

Because of Mr. Acheson's statement, it never has been clearer than it is now that Russia will have to make the first official move if another conference is to be held. And never have stronger proofs been given that, come what may, the democracies will act together in dealing with common perils and problems.

The Big Wind

WHEN the so-called "landlord's rebellion" started blowing up in Tulsa, an unidentified tenant in that city who had received an eviction notice remained calm. "It'll blow over," he predicted complacently.

The probabilities are he hit the nail on the head.

True, there are extremists of various kinds who would resort to any measures to gain what they want and demand. But in this controversy as in practically all others, calmer minds are likely to prevail in charting a course of action which will avoid radicalism or violence. The majority—whether landlords or tenants—may be bitterly resentful of any laws affecting them which may, or may not, be passed. But, when the showdown comes, nearly all of them will abide by them. That is the American way of doing things, and they are Americans.

Without question, the unprecedented could happen. Those adversely affected by whatever might be done about rents could "rebel." The landlords, for example, might attempt the mass evictions which would deprive many thousands of families of shelter.

But few Americans, including landlords, expect anything like that to happen. It is impossible to believe they would allow it to happen. In the last analysis, the vast majority probably share the view of the Tulsa tenant that "It'll all blow over."

"We're living in a fool's paradise," says Henry Ford II. Well, that means the greatest pleasure to the greatest number, which is about as near as we can expect to approach Utopia.

Whee! The People!

Beware Of Romance

By ROBERTA COURTLAND
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: When Susan and Carter Bagby come back from their honeymoon, Aunt Jane goes home. Merry and Carter don't get along and Merry jumps at her father's invitation to spend Christmas with him and Lissa in New York. Lissa is a gracious, attractive woman and Merry senses that her father's second marriage is a happy one.

XX

LISSA slipped a hand through Merry's arm and drew her down three steps into an enormous living room, where an open fire burned beneath a beautiful Adam mantel, and where a young man stood waiting, his hair darkly red, his eyes gray, his alert, deeply sun-tanned face rugged and, if not handsome, so very attractive that Merry had a confused feeling she had seen him in the movies.

"This, Merry," said Lissa, indicating the smiling, hazy-eyed, amused young man, "is something I trapped for you as soon as I knew you were coming. His name is Channing. Mike Channing. Of course, if you don't think you're going to love him, we can throw him back."

Mike's eyes were on Merry's scarlet face, and he said sternly to Lissa, "Hush! You're embarrassing the child."

Lissa looked at Merry, her eyebrows raised.

"Oh, I'm terriby sorry. Am I embarrassing you?" she asked, as though a little disappointed.

Merry laughed. "Well, after all, I am only an unsophisticated country gal and I don't know the game you're playing."

Lissa nodded. "Oh, well, Mike will teach you, won't you darling?"

"But of course. Why else am I here?" said Mike reasonably. "How about trotting along to dinner, Merry?"

"Not tonight, Mike, thanks. Merry and Lissa and I have to catch up on the home-town gossip," objected Kin, and Merry was almost passionately grateful for the protest.

Mike nodded. "Of course; sorry. I am a thoughtless brute. Naturally you'd like a glimpse of your child. But make good use of tonight, old man. For tomorrow I'm taking over. There are many things I fain would show the lass."

He took himself off, and Lissa said lightly, "You'll want to see your room, Merry. Come along."

* * *

KIN patted her shoulder as she passed, and Lissa gave him a bright-eyed smile, but did not pause. Merry followed her to a small but charming bedroom, in which pale yellow walls, a green wall-to-wall carpet and several artfully placed mirrors give an impression of greater space. A middle-aged Frenchwoman with a rather sour expression was unpacking Merry's bags, and she looked up as Merry followed Lissa into the room.

"Mathilda, this is Miss Merry," said Lissa.

Mathilda gave Merry a glance and murmered acknowledgement and went on shaking out and hanging up Merry's belongings.

"I do hope you haven't brought a lot of things, Merry," said Lissa brightly. "I've been looking forward to a shopping spree. I've always thought it would be grand fun to have a pretty daughter to shop for." She glanced at her watch. "Well, I'll be running along now. Dinner is in an hour."

She went out, and Mathilda hanging up the last garment, said brusquely to Merry, "Will there be anything else, Mam'zelle? Shall I prepare your bath?"

"Oh, goodness, no, thanks. I'll manage." Merry was a little abashed by Mathilda.

"Mam'zelle will, perhaps wear the blue net. I will have it pressed and returned to Mam'zelle in time," said Mathilda, and took herself off with Merry's best formal over her arm.

Obviously, Merry told herself, only her very best frock was grand enough for dinner there at home, her father's home; only it was probably much more Lissa's home, because Merry felt quite sure her father wasn't rich enough to afford a penthouse like that.

AT dinner, Kin and Merry chattered about Marshallville, while Lissa looked on, obviously not the least bit bored. Afterwards, there was a new musical and a night club. The whole evening was a bright picture to Merry, who went to bed feeling that she was the luckiest girl in the world.

The following morning Lissa took her shopping and though Merry's eyes shone with delight and she was ecstatic at the extent of the purchases, she was also a little appalled. And when she and Lissa were back in the apartment that evening, she said awkwardly. "You are terribly good to me, Lissa, only haven't we been terribly extravagant today? I mean —well, I don't want to run Dad into bankruptcy."

Lissa smiled at her.

"Don't be frightened, Merry. The shopping today was my gift. After all, if I can't make Kin's child a little present—"

Merry gasped. "A little present? Lissa, my gosh! A fur coat, heaps of darling frocks—golly, I can't even remember what all we bought! More clothes than I could ever wear out if I lived to be a hundred."

Lissa's smile deepened.

"I wouldn't worry about that! The life we're planning for you to lead is a bit hard on clothes. Within a month you'll be complaining you simply haven't a thing to wear!"

"I couldn't possibly—"

"But don't you worry your pretty little head about expenses, Merry," Lissa said lightly. "And now if you're going out on the town with Mike, you'd better run along and get a bit of rest before it's time to dress."

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

HERE is a little item you may have overlooked among the millions of lines that were printed about President Truman's inauguration.

I quote it from my newspaper: The House, after a partisan flurry, voted 199 to 49, to exempt inauguration tickets from the Federal admissions tax."

Why?

A couple of days ago I bought an electric bulb for the lamp on my desk, a lamp by the light of which I make my living.

BRANDEIS

I had to pay a federal tax on that.

If I had gone to Washington for the inauguration I would have had to pay a tax on the rail-road ticket to the capital.

If I had needed a new suitcase to carry my shirts to Washington I would have had to pay a tax on that.

If I had stopped at the drug-store in Washington to buy a bottle of after-shave lotion—a tax on that!

If, not having received an invitation to the Inaugural Ball, I had gone to a movie instead, I would have had to pay a tax on the movie ticket.

I think the excise tax setup is about the most ridiculous of all the ridiculous tax setups that plague us.

How in the world can anyone consider a suitcase or a wallet or a handbag a luxury?

Why should there be a tax on a railroad ticket when that ticket may be used to make a last call on a dying mother, or when that call may be the means of saving her life? Or is a traveling saleman's trip a luxury?

WHAT can we do about it?

What can we do about anything, when you come right down to it?

A few of us were discussing that very point a couple of evenings ago.

It had something to do with a local situation that needs a change.

But to effect that change would require the co-operation of some 50 people. It would take up a few hours of their time for a few weeks.

One of the men tried to get such co-operation, to bring the others together for meetings.

It din't work. One night it was the Milton Berle show on television. The next night it was a bridge party. The third night it was something else.

And not only that. Nobody wanted to stick his neck out. "One can't do that in a town our size." "I'll be glad to help, but don't use my name."

Excuses. Stalling. Alibis.

So nothing will be done, although we'll all keep on complaining among ourselves.

When will those foolish "luxury" taxes be lifted?

When we can't afford to buy any more wallets on which to tax us?

NEW PLAN PROPOSED

Veterans May Benefit

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—A new federal corporation with a potential capitalization of five billion dollars may provide the vehicle that will permit the Truman Administration to set in motion a vast program of public and private construction without making any dent in the budgets for the next four years.

The economic possibilities of this scheme have escaped general notice because the enabling act, which has been sponsored by eighteen Senators, including Vice-President Barkley, merely proposes the creation of a "Veterans' Development Corporation." It seems on the surface to be only another means of assisting this group, like the loans for realizing an education, a home or a business.

TUCKER

But a close study of the measure reveals that sizable sums could be advanced to states, cities, schools, professional establishments, industries or individuals, even though there may be only the remotest chance that any appreciable number of ex-soldiers would benefit from the venture.

POTENTIALITIES: United States Steel, for instance, could borrow for expansion under this program, if it could make out a case to the effect that new construction and additional activities would furnish direct or indirect employment to veterans in any capacity. No alphabetical agency set up in the most flourishing days of the New Deal had such broad powers and potentialities.

The sponsors include both liberal and conservative members, Democrats and Republicans, on both sides of the Senate aisle. Its reintroduction by such a figure as Vice-President Barkley suggests strongly that it figures in the Administration's calculations for economic growth, assuming that President Truman cannot obtain funds from Congress in any other way.

EMBARRASSMENT: Initial financing costs by the Treasury would not burden the budget for many years, or not until liquidation long after this Administration had passed into history. In fact, there might not be any losses if the loans turn out as well as the underwriting of homes and business enterprises which the government has already done for thousands of ex-G.I.'s.

The only uncertainty on passage depends on whether Congress will prefer this program to the wide-open pension proposals for World War I and World War II alumni which a powerful House faction, headed by Representative John E. Rankin of Mississippi, is pushing on the other side of the Capitol Building.

As originally introduced, these measures give a $60-a-month pension to all veterans at the age of sixty, disabled or not, poor or rich, and $90 at the age of sixty-five.

To the embarrassment of President Truman, who has barely balanced his 1950 budget by cutting veterans' appropriations by $1,303,000,000, the old soldiers hope to go to town on his Eighty-first Congress. In view of his campaign promises and his frequent reminders that he was a veteran, too, they think that their time for making Truman hay has arrived.

SURPRISE: Sponsors of the Veterans' Development Corporation were encouraged to propose this new lending agency because of their study of the results of loan operations under the so-called G.I. Bill of Rights.

When that measure for financial aid to returning warriors was passed, it was generally believed that it was simply an act for gratitude due to the youngsters. Few expected it to be anything but a total loss, financially.

Their survey, however, gave the Senators a pleasant surprise, to-wit:

Defaults to date on guarantees for the purchases of homes have amounted to only 3,521, involving only $1,324,000. This approximates only one-quarter of one per cent of guarantees totalling $3,600,000,000 on mortgages valued at $7,700,000,000. The constantly rising real estate market accounts for this good record.

LOSS: Ironically, the majority of these defaults are not due to economic factors. They flow mostly from the many unhappy marriages which so many G.I.'s made before they sailed overseas, or immediately after their return. Romance didn't flower as expected in those feverish, hysterical days, and they turned their broken homes back to Uncle Sam.

There have been 5,671 defaults on business loan guarantees which amounted to $121,129,000. The actual amount defaulted was $5,012,213, or 5.6 per cent. In view of postwar, inflation pressures, this is not regarded as an excessive loss. In fact, it is not much larger than the mortality rates of ordinary businesses.

SKIMPING: President Truman's skimping of funds for veterans for the 1950 fiscal year threatens a heavy deficit in his supposedly balanced budget. Should Congress give him the additional four billion in taxes he has requested, it is probable that at least a billion will be needed to make up for seemingly deliberate miscalculations.

For instance, the VA asked for more than six billion for the 1949 fiscal year, but former Budget Director Webb cut that figure to $5,400,000,000. Congress, however, increased disability allowances for veterans and their dependents. Also in order to reduce the original amount, President Truman stopped construction of twenty-two hospitals and expansion of fourteen others, which meant a cut of 16,000 hospital beds.

Now, present hospital capacity is virtually exhausted, and there is a long waiting list. As a result, VA will soon ask Congress for a $900,000,000 deficiency appropriation, raising actual appropriations to the amount originally sought.

It is probable that this experience will be repeated in 1950, and that the $1,303,000,000 saving will turn out to be only paper economy.

With the United States handing out six or more billions to foreign nations, including once hostile Germany and Japan, the leaders of the legions that fought under Pershing and Eisenhower are marching again!

The person who turns the other cheek in these hard-boiled times not only gets slapped on both cheeks, but he usually receives a punch in the nose as well.

It is said that in order to be a successful liar, a person needs to have an excellent memory. But he doesn't if he's got sense enough not to answer questions.

ON EFFORT TO CURB FILIBUSTERS

Southern Demos' Tactics Hit

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Southern senators are trying to whip up a "great constitutional issue," as they solemnly call it, over proposed revision of Senate rules to permit limitation of debate.

This represents the zenith of their zeal to protect the filibuster privilege by which they previously have killed all civil-rights measures and by which they hope to beat off President Truman's civil-rights program to which the President and the party are pledged.

Their anguished outcries have a hollow sound for more than one reason.

STOKES

Their contention, in effect, is that freedom of debate in the Senate is a part of the "unwritten constitution" by practice and tradition. This freedom of debate is, indeed, a cherished privilege, hallowed by time and custom and properly, and should be maintained.

Would Maintain Debate

It still would be preserved under existing proposals, all of which permit plenty of discussion of any issue, including civil rights. The only aim is to prevent abuse of the privilege so that it will not become the mockery that southerners so often have made it with their endless talk, repeated quorum calls, reading from stacks of books, and other antics that disgust their colleagues and the public.

The specious of the southern rush to a refuge in the Constitution may be revealed by a simple statement of the facts involved.

The Senate now has a cloture rule to limit debate. It has had it for over 31 years, since 1917. It is nothing new. The existing rule, Rule 22, provides that debate can be limited by a two-thirds vote of the Senate, upon presentation of a petition signed by 16 members.

All that the Senate Democratic leadership, acting for the administration, is proposing now is that this 31-year-old rule be made what the Senate thought it was when it was adopted originally. Under a ruling in the last Congress, Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) upheld the contention of southerners that the cloture rule could not be applied to motions, including motions to bring up bills or resolutions.

What this means is that a filibuster can begin on a mere motion to take up a bill or resolution, with no way to stop it, so that measures could be prevented from getting to the floor for consideration. The senator, then president pro tem of the Senate, said he could rule no other way under the existing rule, which had never before been attacked in this novel manner, but he did it reluctantly, and took the occasion to urge that this loophole be plugged up at the first opportunity.

Proposal Is Explained

The Democratic leadership merely is proposing that the cloture rule be applicable to motions also. Otherwise, the rule would remain the same, still with an hour permitted to each senator after imposition of cloture. Since there are 96 senators, that would permit 96 hours of debate, if each senator used his time, after cloture was imposed, and it is never attempted until there has been protracted debate already. In other words, there still would be days and days of debate permissible, enough to explore and exhaust any subject under the sun.

Republicans are seeking application of cloture by a simple majority vote, instead of two-thirds, contending that a majority should govern in the Senate. Imposing of cloture is very difficult under any circumstances because of the cherished tradition of free debate. It has been imposed only four times since the rule has been in effect, though sought 25 times.

The Senate Rules committee which listened for days to arguments by southerners in a sort of committee filibuster of their own, did not make a final decision as between the two-thirds and majority proposal at its first meeting, but postponed action until next week.

The Southern Democratic lather over the Constitution and constitutional rights, which of course are not directly involved at all, comes with rather strange grace, since their whole effort is to defeat by filibustering tactics the President's civil-rights program, which is directly involved in the Constitution, and is intended to enforce rights guaranteed by the Constitution for nearly a hundred years.

The Natal railways in South Africa are trying out a new style for heating electric passenger trains — boilers "fired" by electric elements, connected to pipes which carry steam heat through the cars.

Official Finds 500 Men At State Confederate Home--No Rebel Vets

AUSTIN, Feb. 4 (AP)—The state auditor inspected the Texas Confederate home for men and found no Confederate veterans but reported that about 500 dependent and aged men were happy and well-cared for.

The home was operated as a home for dependent Confederate veterans from 1891 to 1943 when the legislature provided for the admission of senile men transferred from state hospitals.

Bidders must submit a Cashier's or Certified Check issued by a bank satisfactory to the Owner, or a Proposal Bond from a reliable Surety Company payable without recourse to the order of the City of Lubbock, Texas, in an amount not less than five (5%) per cent of the largest possible bid submitted as a guarantee that Bidder will enter into a contract and execute bond and guaranty in the forms provided within ten (10) days after notice of award of Contract to him. Bids without the required check or Proposal Bond will not be considered.

The Successful Bidder must furnish bond on the form provided in the amount of 100% of the total Contract price from a Surety Company holding a permit from the State of Texas to act as Surety, or other Surety or Sureties acceptable to the Owner.

All lump sum and unit prices must be stated in both script and figures. The Owner reserves the right to reject any and or all bids and to waive informalities. In case of ambiguity or lack of clearness in stating the prices in the bids, the Owner reserves the right to consider the most advantageous construction thereof, or to reject the bid. Unreasonable (or "unbalanced") unit prices will authorize the Owner to reject the bid.

Bidders are expected to inspect the site of the work and to inform themselves regarding all local conditions under which the work is to be done.

Attention is called to the provisions of the Acts of the 43rd Legislature of the State of Texas, page 91, Chapter 45, (Article No. 5158A Civil Statutes 1925) concerning the wage scale and payment of prevailing rates of wages as established by the Owner. JUDGE AGAIN WARNS DEFENSE

Rep. Marcantonio Takes Stand In Trial Of Communist Group

By JACK LOTTO
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 — Rep. Vito Marcantonio took the stand today as a defense witness in the conspiracy trial of 11 Communist leaders and the presiding judge charged defense attorneys with "trying to wear me down."

The surprise appearance on the stand of Marcantonio, chief of the American Labor Party, was followed immediately by a torrent of arguments between the defense and Judge Harold R. Medina.

Medina accused the defense of seeking to "harass" him and put the court on trial.

Medina warned he will be "forced" to take action to "prevent attempts to frustrate the administration of justice." He said the defense attorneys will face the "consequences" if they refuse to comply with his rulings.

Medina, weighing each word, told the defense lawyers:

"You have adopted a new technique whereby instead of the defendants, who have been indicted, being tried, the court and all the members of the court must suffer the excoriations and accusations of defense counsel."

During the afternoon session, Medina in the course of another hot argument, shouted:

"You are trying to wear me down with indefinite arguments after I make my ruling. I don't know how long I will be able to stand it. I tell you to stop it."

Jury System Scored

When Defense Attorney Harry Sacher made his almost daily charge that the "defendants are not getting a fair trial," Medina replied:

"You are trying to provoke me, but I can tell you now you are wasting your time."

Marcantonio, representing the 18th congressional district of Manhattan, took the stand in a move to support a defense charge that the poor are "illegally" and "deliberately" excluded from federal jury service in favor of the rich.

The lawyers at one point kept jumping up one after another to argue.

When the fifth attorney, George Crockett, Jr., of Detroit, got up, Medina asserted:

"Oh, so you, too, have something to say. All of you want to have a crack at me. You are trying to harass me. All right, go ahead! You are not going to wear me down."

The heated exchange started when the judge refused to allow Marcantonio to testify as to the "intelligence" of the 297,000 residents of his district.

Medina ruled that it was "impossible" for the congressman to understand the intelligence of so many people.

Turning to Defense Counsel Abraham J. Isserman, Medina said:

"If I allowed you to, you would want to call here every resident of Manhattan, but I'm not going to let you do that."

Isserman retorted that the judge had "misconstrued" his statement.

Medina replied that he considered Isserman's remark "an impertinent comment," and warned if he kept it up "there will be a day of reckoning."

The morning session featured a twenty minute exchange between the bench and the battery of attorneys that developed when the judge upheld a prosecution objection to questioning of Marcantonio on housing in his district.

Medina observed he didn't want a detailed description of building development since 1940.

When Isserman insisted on arguing after his ruling, the judge retorted:

"I said previously I thought a wilful, deliberate and persistent effort is being made to delay this case. Now, I can find no other explanation for the way counsel has been conducting themselves in dragging out subjects which are trival and trying to ignore my rulings."

When Marcantonio finished with his testimony, U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey announced he didn't wish to cross examine the witness.

The representative was excused and court recessed until Monday morning, the fourth week of the pre-trial jury challenge.

The 11 Communists are charged with conspiracy to "advocate and teach" the necessity and duty of overthrowing the government by force.

They face possible penalties of 10 years imprisonment each and $10,000 fines.

Accused Traitor Arraigned In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (INS) — American-born Herbert John Burgman, former statistical expert at the U. S. Embassy in Berlin, arrived in Washington from Germany tonight and was arraigned immediately on a treason charge.

The 52-year-old Burgman was taken from an Air Force transport plane to U. S. Commissioner Cyril Lawrence, where the treason charge was read to him.

Enters No Plea

Burgman entered no plea and Lawrence continued the hearing until Feb. 25 to enable the government to assemble witnesses and give Burgman time to get a lawyer.

Burgman, stocky and bald, blinked in bewildered fashion as the commissioner informed him sternly that the crime of which he is accused is punishable by death and therefore he could not be freed on bond.

Lawrence emphasized to the prisoner that America "is a land of free speech" and "you will be allowed to communicate with whomever you wish while in jail."

As the defendant was led from the hearing room, he asked reporters:

"Where do I get a lawyer?

"I have to get a lawyer and I have not one cent of money."

Immediately after the arraignment, Burgman was handcuffed and taken to the District of Columbia jail.

The Justice department, whose agents took Burgman at planeside from four military policemen, claims that Burgman aided Germany's wartime propaganda by operating a secret radio transmitter.

Burgman is accused by the department of having enlisted in the Nazi psychological war after he declined to leave Germany with other members of the U. S. embassy staff after the U. S. entered the shooting war.

Three other U. of C. scientists also addressed the school's citizens board meeting.

Dr. Earl A. Evans, head of the department of biochemistry, who has just returned from England where he was chief scientific officer in the American embassy, said basic research is proceeding rapidly in Britain despite a shortage of equipment.

Dr. Paul O. Hodges, professor of roentology, said x-rays was the best method of finding abdominal cancers, but stated that the method was too slow and expensive. He added that improvements in x-ray methods might make feasible mass x-rays to detect stomach cancer in early stages.

The final speaker was Dr. C. Phillips Miller, professor of medicine.
