TEXAS SHERIFF'S SLAYER GIVEN DEATH PENALTY

Cannon Severely Rebuked In 'Generalized' Resolution Passed By Methodists

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

Tom Blanton has been elected to congress over Mrs. R. Q. Lee, widow of Congressman Lee, who died a few weeks ago. It has happened often enough to seem almost the general practice of late years that when a public official dies in office his widow is elected to fill out his unexpired term. The Abilene district has broken this precedent and is sending back to congress its old congressman, Tom Blanton.

Because it's rather easy to say, Talker will use the much worn expression, "stormy petrel," in referring to Mr. Blanton. Mr. Blanton caused many a stir in congress because of his objections to many practices he found in that body and which most of his colleagues accepted as a matter of course. Mr. Blanton had the temerity, the courage or whatever you may choose to call it, to throw a monkey wrench into the proceedings every now and then. He didn't make himself the most popular man in congress by any means, but still his return to congress will be welcomed by many of his old colleagues. His district appears to have given him a considerable majority over a very estimable woman, the circumstances of whose candidacy made it appealing to the voters of the district.

The business council of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce is to be re-formed next Tuesday. This council was originated in the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce several years ago to permit each classification of business more active representation in the affairs of that organization for the initiation of movements for the general welfare. It continued several years as a sort of house of representatives in the chamber of commerce with the directors of that body acting as a senate. A year ago the business council was discontinued because of lack of interest, but after a trial it was found the chamber of commerce needed such a body and it is to be re-formed, and with the experience gained both through its operation and its discontinuance it is hoped it will be more useful even than before.

The senate lobby committee has submitted its report on the charges that the Republican national chairman used lobby funds to bolster his margin account in the stock market. The report is said to be a mere statement of facts as testified before the committee. We wonder if the chairman will say that he fell into the hands of sharpers, regret the embarrassment it has caused his party and his employers and promise not to do it again.

It has been necessary to raise the tuition for the Wichita Falls Junior college from $90 to $135 for the school year. This will work a hardship on many students but there seemed to be no other way at this time by which the necessary revenues for the college could be raised. In another year it is hoped either by taxation in an enlarged college district or through an endowment to reduce the tuition to a nominal amount.

The Times and Record News household demonstrations at the Municipal auditorium are drawing large crowds, probably the largest ever attending demonstrations of this nature in Wichita Falls. Talker will have to take back what he

CHURCH WARNS AGAINST ALL MARGIN DEALS

Bishops, Pastors and Lay Members Enjoined Not To Gamble

FIGHT MARKS VOTE

Spirited Debate Results When Resolution Is Presented

DALLAS, May 21. (UP)—After a spirited fight, the 21st quadrennial session of the Methodist church, South, late today severely rebuked Bishop James Cannon Jr. for his activities on the New York stock exchange by passing a resolution condemning all forms of gambling and warning all churchmen to refrain from speculation.

The resolution, offered by the episcopacy committee which exonerated the Virginia prelate on the stock market charge, was passed by a large majority after Cannon supporters had waged a bitter fight against it.

Members Warned

After condemning race track gambling, the resolution read: "This general conference warns all Methodists, bishops, preachers and laymen alike, against stock gambling which had proven so destructive to the economic, social and religious life of those participating therein.

"We do well to remember that to remove a stock transaction from the veil known as gambling, it must be a bona fide transaction. It must be an actual purchase or sale, not a temporary hazard on the possible rise or fall in the price of a stock. The best evidence of such a bone fide transaction is that the certificate of stock is actually purchased and issued in the name of the purchaser and actually delivered to him or his representative.

Cannon Not Named

"We have a right to expect and do expect that those who associate themselves in our church, bishops, preachers and laymen alike, shall keep themselves from every appearance of evil and by work and example keep themselves free from even the appearance of gambling," the resolution stated.

While the resolution did not name Bishop Canon, his supporters contended it was aimed at him in spite of the fact that the episcopacy committee gave him a vote of character and refused to summon him before an ecclesiastical court.

George S. Jones of the South Georgia conference attacked the resolution on the grounds that

'Brass Collar' Broken In Texas, Says Love

AUSTIN, May 21. (UP)—The state supreme court decision that the state Democratic executive committee could not keep "Hoovercrats" off the ballot in the Texas Democratic primary "smashed to Smithereens the brass collar in Texas politics," former Democratic National Committeeman Thomas B. Love said here tonight.

Love had been refused a place on the ballot as a candidate for governor because he supported Herbert Hoover after taking part in the Democratic primary. The court ordered that his name be placed on the ballot.

Double Slaying Probe Re-Opened in Oklahoma

MUSKOGEE, Okla., May 21. (AP)—Indicating a revived investigation into the slaying of David and George Smith, Connecticut capitalists, who were shot to death in their hotel room here the night of April 26, Sheriff Fred Hamilton of Muskogee county was today en route to Connecticut having departed unexpectedly last night.

EAGLES ELECT

FORT WORTH, May 21. (UP)—Charles Hunsiea, of Port Arthur, today was elected president of the Texas aerie, Fraternal Order of the Eagles. San Antonio was chosen as the 1931 convention city.

Battle Against Headwinds Breaks Into Schedule Of America Bound Zeppelin

RECIFF, Pernambuco, Brazil, May 21. (US)—The Graf Zeppelin, now winging its trail-blazing way to Recife, Pernambuco, in the first trans-equatorial passenger airship flight, will moor here tomorrow night instead of tomorrow morning.

This lates news from Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the globe-girdling dirigible, has increased rather than diminished Brazil's enthusiasm for the flight. Headwinds and the absence of the trade winds which Dr. Eckener expected to find above the equator are blamed for the change in schedule.

May Take 60 Hours

In a message received from the Zeppelin at 5:30 p. m. ship's time (2:30 p. m. E. D. T.) Dr. Eckener stated that the voyage might take longer than expected, and nearer 60 hours than the 48 originally planned. The message was picked up by the radio station on the Island of Fernando do Noronha, 350 miles northeast of here in the Atlantic.

The Graf should pass over the equator sometime tomorrow morning, if present rates of speed are kept up, somewhere in the vicinity of St. Paul's rocks, 750 miles to the northward. Although the Zeppelin is now making good time, the losses in the first part of the flight from Seville to the Canary Islands could not be made up without the aid of strong tail winds.

The Cape Verde islands were passed finally at 2:10 p. m. E. D. T., when mail was dropped at the largest and one of the most southerly islands, Santiago. The craft there passed over the city of Porta Praia. The Zeppelin passed Sal, a northern island, at 1:15 p. m., E. D. T. Four motors only have been used at times.

Reels Off Mileage

The radio stations here, at Fernando do Noronha and at Natal have been in communication with the Graf since 10 a. m. Recife time (9 a. m. E. D. T.) The Graf has reported her position steadily and has been reeling off better mileage on the island-to-island leg of the flight.

The speed of the Graf, even with only four motors running part of the time, on the 1,200 miles from the Island of Teneriffe in the Canaries to the Cape Verde islands, averaged a fraction under 86 miles an hour. Fourteen hours and 15 minutes were required from the passing of Teneriffe until the Cape Verdes were behind the great ship.

Reports from various ships along the route, relayed to the naval station, had the Graf running smoothly on four or five motors, and seemingly bucking a headwind of about 10 miles velocity. For a while, the Graf had aid from a trade wind, but this was reported very weak.

Two Killed in Car Crashes at Port Arthur

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, May 21. (AP)—Two persons lost their lives in automobile accidents here early today.

Henry Sloan, sailor, died en route to a hospital after being struck by an automobile driven by John Mouton, negro, about midnight. Mouton was arrested and charged with criminal negligence.

Sam P. Jones, negro taxi driver, struck Walter Carr, negro, when the latter alighted from a truck. Carr died at a hospital from his injuries. Jones is being held for county authorities.

Oklahoma Ex-Official Admits Robbery Charge

GUTHRIE, Okla., May 21, (AP)—W. Oscar Gordon, former assistant attorney general of Oklahoma, pleaded guilty today in U. S. district court here to accepting a bribe of $800 from Homer Knappenberger, former mayor of Earlsboro, Okla., for withholding prosecution of city officials who were protecting bootleggers.

Five other counts contained in an indictment against Gordon were dismissed upon recommendation of Roy St. Lewis, district attorney. Sentencing of Gordon was deferred by Judge Edgar S. Vaught until Oct. 16.

President to Honor Junior Cabinet Heads

WASHINGTON, May 21. (US)—President Hoover today issued invitations to the "baby cabinet" to attend a formal dinner at the White House tomorrow night.

The "cabinet" is made up of all assistant secretaries of departments. It is the first time since the Harding administration that the junior officials have been thus honored.

Under Arrest

She hadn't been naughty—but her mother had her arrested! Six-months'-old Carolyn Borgese smiles, though, as she faces the cameraman at the Newark, N. J., police station, for her arrest was only "technical." It came about through a warrant procured by her mother, Mrs. Adolphe Borgese, who thus recovered possession of the baby whom the father had taken away. The father has been charged with child desertion.

FLAMES SWEEP PILGRIM SHIP

Steamer Bound for Holy Land Burning

LONDON, May 22. (Thursday)—(AP)—Lloyd's received a message this morning from Port Sudan, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, saying the French steamer Asia was afire with 1,500 pilgrims aboard.

"Fear some loss of life," the message added. It said that the pilgrims, bound for Red sea ports, embarked yesterday and that the fire began at 8 o'clock last night. Port Sudan relayed the message from Jeddah.

Lloyd's ship register gives the Asia's owners as the French Steam Navigation company of Marseilles, France, and its manager as the Cyp. Fabre line.

The vessel is of 5,890 tons, 415 feet long, 49.6 in breadth and 21.1 in depth. It is a screw steamer, built in 1907.

Dan Norwood Gets Three-Year Term

Dan Norwood, on trial for the third time on a charge of manufacturing whisky, was found guilty and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary by a jury in the 30th district court at Archer City Wednesday afternoon, according to information given by Sam B. Spence, district attorney, who is prosecuting cases set for the court in that city.

In the first trial Norwood was found guilty on two counts in the 89th district court here, but the jury verdict was set aside by Judge P. A. Martin because the court's instructions had been to return a finding on only one count. In the second trial no verdict was returned, the jury having stood in disagreement, 11 to one for conviction, at the time of its discharge after prolonged deliberations. Judge Martin then transferred the case to the 30th district court. Norwood was represented by Bob Crain and John Davenport, Wichita Falls attorneys.

Appeal Halts Sooner Cotton Co-Op Trial

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 21. (AP)—Trial of the $2,000,000 receivership suit against the Oklahoma Cotton Growers association, set for Thursday in district court here, has been superseded by an appeal to the state supreme court, and no further action will be taken pending outcome of the appeal, it was said today by attorneys in the case.

The appeal was taken from the ruling of District Judge Tom G. Chambers, refusing to vacate his previous order appointing R. H. Wilson temporary reciever,

PADUCAH MAN AGAIN HEADS LAND BANKERS

Hendrick and Slagle Named To Other Posts at Final Meeting

BIG RESERVE STRESSED

Federal Board Member Tells Of Fine Record Made In Texas

W. O. Jones of Paducah was re-elected chairman of this distrite of local farm loan associations at the conclusion of a meeting of nearly 100 officers, directors and secretaries of the associations with national representatives of the federal farm loan board and officers and directors of the Federal Land Bank of Houston Wednesday at the Kemp hotel.

Other officers elected were J. M. Hendrick of Wichita Falls, vice president and A. V. Slagle of Henrietta, re-elected secretary and treasurer.

Unanimous adoption of a resolution authorizing the use of dividends paid by the Federal Land bank of Houston to the building up of their reserves constituted the chief business transacted during the day. The resolution was passed in order to make it easier for the various local associations to meet their obligations.

Williams Gives Address

These bank dividends, amounting as a rule to about 10 per cent, will be applied to the building of reserves equal to 20 per cent of the stock of the associations, with the exception of the amount needed to operate the association and pay the salary of the secretary and treasurer. It was pointed out that many associations have already built up a reserve amounting to 20 per cent.

A resolution was also passed commending the bank for its constructive supervision of the associations and for its friendly interest and efficient management.

Speakers throughout the day stressed the importance of building up a reserve fund, and were unanimous in praising the work of

Home Making Is Business, Expert Tells Women; Club Leaders Endorse School

By MRS. N. L. CASON
The Record News Staff

"Home making is a business enterprise," said Mrs. Frances Troy Northcross, in her lecture Wednesday at The Record News and Daily Times Cooking school being conducted at the Memorial auditorium with the cooperation of Wichita Falls merchants and manufacturers.

Mrs. Northcross

"You women are purchasing agents for the American race," she told her audience. "Many successful men depend on their wives even so to advise about what they will wear. Make 'company' of your family; if you treat a man right, he will give you half his salary and you often borrow the other half. You have no right to do that," she said earnestly. "The home is a partnership and only by proper budgeting and saving can it be a successful one. Make up your minds to start budgeting today; save five per cent, at least, of your allowance. By careful management and budgeting, you can do it."

Attendance Increases

Prominent women of Wichita Falls were warm in commendation Wednesday of the cooking school given under Mrs. Northcross' direction. Approximately 250 more attended the lecture given Wednesday than were present Tuesday. The stage, with the green enameled tables, the Westinghouse Electric range, Welsbach hot water heater and brilliantly colored cooking vessels and red geraniums adding their vivid tones, made a pretty setting for the work which Mrs. Northcross and her able assistant, Miss Robb, did so easily and swiftly. A handsome silver tea service from Kruger's added to the appointment of the dining room and the luncheon table Wednesday was covered with a dainty pink linen cloth from P. B. M. and set with pink Fostoria crystal from Bailey-Moline.

Mrs. Northcross was greeted with a hearty round of applause when the curtain rose, showing already the impression she has made on her audience.

Endorsed by Wichita Women

Among the representative women of the city who Wednesday warmly endorsed the school and the unusual lecturer, Mrs. W. Newton Maer who introduced her Tuesday afternoon, stated that every housekeeper in the city should take advantage of the opportunity to attend such an outstanding school taught by so splendid a woman, who with her culture and refinement, knew all the values of food and the laws of health.

"The family not properly fed, is not healthy," said Mrs. Maer," and Mrs. Northcross is able and willing to help young housewives realize food values."

Mrs. F. W. Fischer, Seymour road, spoke warmly of the parsonality and magnetism shown by the lecturer, saying that she showed splendid character in her words and her poice. Mrs. Fischer was particularly interested in the opportunity

TISHOMINGO, Okla., May 21. (UP)—William T. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, Democratic candidate for governor, will desert the "stump" for a more modern invention to carry his campaign message to the "common people" of Oklahoma.

The veteran "sage of Tishomingo" will speak over station KVOO at Tulsa on May 26 at 8 p. m. on "tax reform and the high cost of living."

Cline Wins $33,247 Federal Tax Refund

Special to The Record News

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Pursuant to a decree of the United States district court for the northern district of Texas, the treasury department today announced it has credited to W. D. Cline of Wichita Falls $33,247 held to have been an over assessment levied against him by the internal revenue bureau.

Houston, Dallas Pass Santone in 1930 Population

SAN ANTONIO, May 21. (UP)—With a population of 254,562, San Antonio today took its position as the third largest city in Texas. Houston is first with 290,811 and Dallas second with 261,010.

Increased waterways facilities at Houston and industrialization of Dallas has aided those two cities in passing San Antonio. In 1920, San Antonio lead Dallas by about 3,000 and Houston was third.

BIG SPRING, Texas, May 21. (UP)—The population of Big Spring was set at 13,731 today by R. C. Beard, census supervisor. The 1920 count totalled 4,273.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21. (INS)—The complete 1930 census gives the city of San Francisco 625,974 persons, it was announced today. This is a gain of 23 per cent over the 1920 figures which were 506,676.

VALLEY TRAIN CHANGE UPHELD

Commission Grants Plea For Day Service

AUSTIN, May 21. (AP)—The railroad commission today authorized the Wichita Valley Railway company to discontinue its night passenger trains Nos. 5 and 8 and reinstate day trains Nos. 1 and 2 and the Wichita Falls & Southern Railway company to discontinue its passenger train and substitute mixed trains between Wichita Falls and Breckenridge.

WICHITA PROTEST FAILS TO HALT CHANGE

The petition of the Wichita Valley to discontinue its night trains from Wichita Falls to Breckenridge was protested here several weeks ago at the railroad commission hearing by the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce and merchants of the city. Towns in the Wichita area also joined the protest, pointing out that all mail, freight and express service to these towns would be delayed 24 hours by the change, and that the proposal would benefit only a small percentage of the customers of the railroad.

John Boswell, manager of the chamber, said any question of further protest against the change would revert to the traffic committee and the board of directors for action.

Woman in Man's Clothing Arrested in California

LOS ANGELES, Calif., May 21. (AP)—Mrs. Pauline Williams, 18, of Mt. Pleasant, Texas, was arrested on a vagrancy charge here today when found in men's clothes on the street. She admitted she was jobless and had left her husband in Texas to hitch-hike West. She said she was seeking employment as a waitress.

BOSTON, May 21. (AP)—Mrs. Eugene J. Grant of the Long Island, N. Y., society of the National Society Daughters of the Revolution was elected president-general of the society at the annual meeting here today.

MEXICAN SENT TO CHAIR FOR MASON KILLING

Second Trial Results in Another Conviction Against Herrara

COMRADE CHARGED

Pair Accused in Murder of Southwest Texas Peace Officer

LLANO, Texas, May 21. (AP)—Ofilio Herrera was assessed the death penalty late today by a jury which convicted him of murder for the slaying of Sheriff A. T. Murray of Mason county.

The sheriff's body was found in a lane off the highway near Mason Feb. 28, 1929.

F. H. Hammond, district attorney, closed arguments for the state with a plea for the death penalty.

The principal issue of the court's charge to the jury, whether Herrera or another Mexican, Antonio Chavez, fired the first shots, was hotly contested in arguments of attorneys.

The defendant, a well-dressed Mexican of almost middle age, sat calmly through the trial, his father, mother, son and other relatives near him.

The Chavez case was transferred here for trial but no setting was made. He has not been tried before.

Herrera's previous death penalty sentence, assessed in Mason county, was reversed and remanded on appeal.

Hoover Demands Quick Action on Naval Pact

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—President Hoover and senate advocates of the London naval limitations agreement today demanded prompt action on the treaty as navy leaders continued their bombardment of the pact before two senate committees.

Moving to quash the talk of deferring a vote on it until next session, the president informed Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, at a White House conference that he hoped for ratification before adjournment.

Cuban-Japanese Trade Treaty Near Conclusion

WASHINGTON, May 21. (US)—Cuba and Japan are in final negotiations of a commercial treaty granting most favored nation treatment to the entry of Japanese in Cuba and of Cubans in Japan, it was announced today. Foundations for the treaty was laid April 15, when an exchange of notes occurred between Ambassador Orestes Ferrara, of Cuba, and Ambassador Debuchi, of Japan. The projected treaty will allow reciprocal privileges to citizens of both countries.

Red River Flood to Reach 1927 Height

NEW ORLEANS, May 21. (AP)—The Red river between Alexandria and Shreveport will be swollen by the end of the month to approximately the same height it reached in the flood period of 1927, it was officially predicted late today by R. A. Dyke, forecaster of the local weather bureau.

Former Governor Pinchot Forges Ahead in Pennsylvania Primary

PHILADELPHIA, May 21. (UP)—The Philadelphia Record tonight conceded the nomination to Gifford Pinchot for governor on the Republican ticket by a plurality of "25,000 to 35,000."

PHILADELPHIA, May 21. (US)—Former Gov. Clifford Pinchot was virtually assured the Republican nomination for governor tonight. Returns at 6 o'clock this evening gave him a majority of 10,000 votes over Francis Shunk Brown, with only 74 precincts to be heard from.

The Pinchot vote climbed steadily throughout the day and at 3 o'clock this afternoon had cut the lead of Brown down to 15,000 votes. During the remainder of the afternoon Pinchot continued to gain. His friends now predict his nomination by at least 15,000 plurality.

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis received the Republican nomination for the senate by a plurality of more than 200,000 votes, with his lead still mounting late tonight.

Early this morning when only about two-thirds of the returns were in, Brown's lead over Pinchot amounted to approximately 75,000.

But as results from the "crossroad" districts were tabulated during the day the former governor showed more strength and by 4 o'clock this afternoon had passed Brown.

T. L. BLANTON TO RETURN TO CONGRESS

ABILENE, Texas, May 21 (UP)—Thomas L. Blanton, for 12 years representative of the 17th Texas district in the lower house of congress but who resigned March 4 to make the race for senator and was defeated, tonight had been returned to his seat as result of a special election called to fill the unexpired term of Representative R. Q. Lee, who died recently.

With only a few outlying boxes still uncounted, Blanton's vote totalled 8,725 while Mrs. Lee, widow of the former representative, had received only 6,960. Mrs. Lee conceded defeat today.

GRUNDY SEEKS NEW HEARING

Appeals Court Upholds 25-Year Term

A motion for a rehearing before the court of criminal appeals at Austin will be filed on behalf of Roy Grundy within the next few days, according to the announcement of attorneys for Grundy Wednesday following confirmation by the higher court of the 25-year prison term imposed upon him here several weeks ago by a jury which found him guilty on a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of June Hilburn last October. Grundy is represented by the law firm of Taylor, Muse & Taylor.

The accused man had been tried twice on the charge, the first having resulted in a disagreed jury and the second in the conviction. Hilburn was slain by three charges from a shotgun fired at close range. The shooting occurred on Eighth street in the heart of the business district near the intersection of Indiana avenue. Grundy's defense in the trials was based on his contention that he was so mentally unbalanced by the belief that Hilburn was breaking up his home that he did not know right from wrong when he fired the shots. He had been held in the county jail here since his conviction.

from the car when it plunged through a bridge railing into the creek, was found on the banks of the stream about 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, 23 hours after the accident. Hundreds of people battled the swollen waters of the stream through the night, aided in their task by automobile lights turned upon the creek.

Mrs. McClure, driver of the car, was believed killed by a blow on the head suffered in the fall. Her body was taken from the machine by Raymond Bradley shortly after the accident. Mrs. George Gary, mother of the baby, and Mrs. W. M. Richardson, a neighbor of the McClure family, escaped with slight injuries.

Mrs. Gary and the baby, who lived in Hobbs, N. M., were visiting her parents on the Ryan lease at the time of the accident. The child's father arrived in Electra Wednesday evening.

Mrs. McClure is survived by her husband, a pumper on the Ryan lease, one daughter, Mrs. George Gary; a son, Ernest; her mother, Mrs. Catherine Halyard of Fort Worth; three sisters, Mrs. Mamie Miles, Eagle Pass; Mrs. J. Williams, Fort Worth; Mrs. Alice Coles, Fort Worth; two brothers, Ray and Frank Halyard.

Iowa Park Society

Mrs. Anna Hobson and daughter, Elma, were hostesses to the Jolly Rebecca club at their home in an all-day meeting Friday. The noon-day meal was furnished by each member bringing a dish, and the day was spent in social features and working. Mrs. Hobson was presented with tea towels and Miss Elma with handkerchiefs. Those attending were Mesdames Ethel Moore, Ruby Goad, Nettie Davis, Edna Holt, B. O. Gilstrap, Belle Goad, Aertha Beavers, members, and Mrs. Cleone Davis and Mrs. Thelma Brown, guests. Mrs. Ruby Goad will be hostess to the club Friday, May 30.

Members of the Recreation club entertained their husbands at the home of Mrs. Virgil Edwards, who was assisted by Mrs. J. G. Burnam, Mrs. Ernest Green and Mrs. W. W. Golden. The evening was spent in playing bridge at which Mrs. W. R. Munden received high score and Mrs. Paul Hamner cut for a prize. Refreshments were served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Forest Bates, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hestand, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Corder, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fielder, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Mattingly, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Browning and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Minden, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart, Mrs. Susie Carpenter and J. A. Skiles.

Mrs. J. E. Keller was hostess at the Athletic club at her home Tuesday. The house was beautifully decorated in spring flowers arranged in baskets and bouquets, sweet peas, roses and larkspur predominating. Maypoles of green, lavender and yellow were tastefully arranged and the ribbons were held by tiny dolls placed as favors. A delicious plate of iced refreshments was served to the following: Mesdames Miles Hines, Chester Zink and T. L. Chenault, guests; and members Mesdames Troy Hager, W. H. Bagley, Carroll Hester, C. J. Thuber, Fenton Dale, G. C. Clark, A. J. Henson, J. G. O'Donohoe, Noel McKinney, J. H. Hatton, O. Kidwell, C. J. Shumake, R. A. Dahl and Taylor George.

San Antonio loses its rank in the census report as the largest city in Texas and drops to third place. It becomes the sixth city in the South in point of population. The ranking of the first seven cities, according to present indications, will be as follows:

New Orleans (not announced).
Houston, 290,811.
Atlanta, 266,557.
Dallas, 260,397.
Birmingham, 257,659
San Antonio, 254,562.
Memphis, 252,049.

The federal farm land bank at Houston has loaned $150,000,000 to 56,000 farmers and ranchmen of Texas saving them $5,000,000 annually in interest rates. Albert C. Williams, member of the federal farm loan board, tells directors and officials and representatives of the bank gathered in Wichita Falls. The directors of the bank vote to apply the annual dividends of the bank to create a reserve of 20 per cent of the bank's capital. Such a reserve will add to the bank's stability and to its usefulness. With such a record and such a policy the federal farm land bank of Houston can be expected to grow and to increase its usefulness to the farmers and ranchmen of Texas.

Several of Governor Moody's friends are reported to have advised him against entering the race for governor, but the governor seems still inclined to run. Friends of Senator Small, the Wellington man who hopes to garner the bulk of the votes in West Texas are said to be hoping Governor Moody does not announce, believing that Small will get many votes which may go to Moody if the latter becomes a candidate. Small's friends are beginning to organize and hope, within a few weeks, to have their man out in front.

while Methodist bishops and preachers do not gamble, it insinuated that they did.

"Mob Psychology"

"Mob psychology has swept this general conference since it became known one of its bishops had been dealing on the stock market," Forest J. Prettyman of the Baltimore conference said. "It is a tragic day in the history of Methodism when the general conference has to apologize for the action of a bishop."

Charles M. Hay, St. Louis, said it is regrettable that the conduct of a bishop made the resolution necessary.

Nathan B. Thompson, of the North Georgia conference, charged that it is unfair for the episcopacy committee to bring the matter before the conference now as it already has had its chance to deal with Bishop Cannon.

"If it hadn't been for the splendid leadership of Bishop Cannon for prohibition, he never would have been called to task for stock market speculation," Thompson told the conference.

The anti-gambling resolution was submitted to the conference by Dr. F. C. Culver, Cisco, Texas, chairman of the committee on episcopacy.

After having rebuked Bishop Cannon, the conference refused to adopt a protest to the action of the committee on episcopacy in exonerating the Virginia prelate. The protest, submitted by Judge G. T. Fitzhugh of Memphis was not accepted and was refused a place in the records of the Methodist church.

QUANAH SCHOOL LETS CONTRACT

Sites Prepared for Two New Buildings

Special to The Record News

QUANAH, Texas, May 21.—Contract has been awarded by the school board to R. C. McLain for wrecking the Travis and Reagan school buildings and clearing the it preparatory to construction of two new buildings, which must be completed before the opening of next fall term of school.

E. W. Lovell of Quanah was elected to act as building superintendent for the two new buildings for which $120,000 bond issue was recently passed, and the bonds sold to the state board of education.

Charles Christle, secretary of the school board, resigned and Earnest Newton was elected as a member in his place. Gordon Conley was elected secretary of the board.

Teachers were re-elected at this meeting, and list will be published as soon as acceptances have been turned in, according to Superintendent C. E. Davis. Additional teachers will be selected within the next two weeks, Davis stated.

DRY LEAGUE'S 'ANGELS' LISTED

Kresge Donation Only Half Paid, Says McBride

WASHINGTON, May 21. (INS)—The half million dollar donation that Sebastian S. Kresge, Detroit chain store king, announced two years ago he had given the Anti-Saloon league, has only been half paid, Dr. F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the league, told the senate lobby investigating committee today.

The money is to be divided between the regular work of the league in campaigns and its education bureau.

Henry Ford, McBride testified, has "never directly helped the national organization but did give the state league in Ohio $1,000 several years ago in an election campaign." Ford is a strong prohibitionist but centers his efforts to having printed and distributed prohibition pamphlets and tracts, he said.

The Rockefellers stopped giving funds to the league in 1925, he said, but before they had been large contributors. He said he believed John D. Rockefeller Jr. was giving prohibition aid in other ways.

The Kresge money given through the Kresge foundation of Detroit, has an "option to give when they can" the $500,000, McBride testified. He also said Stanley Kresge, son of the chain store head, gave an additional $10,000 to the league to use in the 1928 presidential campaign.

Radio Commission Hears Dr. Brinkley's Witnesses

WASHINGTON, May 21. (UP)—Witnesses favoring the application of Dr. John R. Brinkley, Milford, Kan., for a renewal of his license to operate radio station KFKB, from which he broadcasts health advice, were called before the federal radio commission today.

Thus far the hearings have centered around the reliability of Brinkley's diagnosing by radio and efficacy of a "four-phase compound operation" involving gland transplanation which he is said to advertise.

Tiny Cradle Saved as Fire Levels Norwegian Couple's Royal Home

OSLO, May 21. (INS)—Skougum, the "honeymoon palace" of Crown Prince Olaf and Princess Martha of Norway, was a mass of smouldering ruins today, but a tiny wicker cradle, decorated and beribboned by the princess' own hands, was salvaged unscathed from the wreckage.

At the risk of his life, Prince Olaf dashed into the burning building over the protests of his servants and firemen, who sought in vain to stop him, and emerged a few moments later with the cradle in his arms. Only a few days ago Princess Martha finished working on it in preparation for her expected baby.

The prince and princess were in the mansion when fire broke out. Finding the entire roof ablaze, the prince ordered alarms turned in, and directed the salvage efforts of his retainers. Most of the valuable wedding presents given to the royal couple on the occasion of their marriage a little over a year ago were saved, but many valuable articles of furniture, paintings and tapestries were destroyed.

Fire fighters rushed to Skougum from all nearby towns, but lack of sufficient water made their task difficult. King Haakon and Queen Maud of Norway motored to Skougum from Oslo, and tearfully watched the destruction of the "honeymoon palace."

The flames raged for more than two hours. Damage was estimated at $75,000.

TULANE GROUP RETURNS HOME

Expedition Studies Ruins of Yucatan City

NEW ORLEANS, May 21. (UP)—Five copper-tanned members of the Tulane university expedition to the Mayan city of Uxmal in Yucatan walked down a gangplank here into a civilization from which for three months they had been separated by 1,500 years.

Burned to Indian hue by the sun and exhibiting an assortment of Indian souvenirs, Dr. Frans Blom, Tulane archaeologist in charge of the expedition, substantiated earlier reports that the expedition had found monuments which proved conclusively that Uxmal was founded about 500 A. D. instead of 1007 A. D., as had been believed.

This expedition, financed by the 1933 Chicago world's fair to get data for the reproduction of the Unnery group of the Uxmal ruins, not only accomplished that mission, but also found 22 groups of hitherto undiscovered buildings, Doctor Blom revealed.

Plaster Casts Made

"As the Mexican government does not allow any ruins to be taken from the country, we made 200 plaster casts, and innumerable photographs," Doctor Blom said. "The casts will arrive on the next trip of the Munson boat Munplace."

The casts include one of the head of the sacred plumed serpent, Kukul-Kan, in whose jaws is the head of a man, representing the god-spirit which the Mayans believed dwelt in the green serpent's body.

"In deciphering the hieroglyphics which show Uxmal to be older than previously believed, we devolved a new method of photographing monuments. Instead of the tedious method of using sunlight, we took pictures at night, using a portable electric power plant, with much clearer results," Doctor Blom said.

Ruins Dynamited

"Much of the Uxmal ruins had been dynamited by vandals searching for buried treasure. But contrary to belief, gold was very rare among the Mayans, feathers and jade being the principal mediums of exchange."

The expedition was encamped in the nunnery buildings, the only group whose use is definitely known. There vestal virgins lived a thousand years ago, who were shot to death with arrows if they violated their vows of virginity and were stoned if they allowed the sacred flame within the temple to go out, Doctor Blom said.

Each member wore in his buttonhole a tiny metal figure of a man, busily engaged in rubbing his stomach.

"We have formed the Sacred Order of the Stabay, a forest sprite, and this is the emblem," they explained mysteriously. Doctor Blom said the little figures had been looted from the shrines of ancient churches by the Indians.

Trips to the ruins of Kaba, Sayil, Labna and the town of Santa Elena were also made. At Sayil eight previously unreported monoliths and a pok-to-pok ball court for an old Mayan game were found.

Returning with Doctor Blom were Robert Merrill, Chicago engineer, who made maps for the party, Daniel Leyrer, photographer, and Gerhard Kramer and Herndon Fair, Tulane architectural students. Two other members of the party, Enrique Alferez, sculptor, and William Hayden, assistant sculptor, will return with the shipment of casts.

Siamese Twins Are Counted as Only One

SAN ANTONIO, May 21. (US)—Siamese twins may be two persons to the railroads, but to Uncle Sam they are but one.

For some time census officials here have been pondering whether Daisy and Violet Hilton, noted siamese twins of this city should be counted as one person or two persons.

The twins themselves didn't know. They said the railroad charged them for two fares, that hotels charged them the double rate, and that restaurants always presented two meal checks. So they must be two persons.

But Uncle Sam thinks otherwise. Instructions received from Washington today instructed the local census bureau to enumerate the twins as one person.

So Daisy and Violet Hilton, joined together since birth, are one person—to Uncle Sam, anyway.

Austin School Awards Honors As 73 Graduate

Seventy-three bright faced boys and girls, dressed in the customary white, were formally graduated from the Austin school Wednesday morning in the presence of a capacity auditorium composed of parents, relatives, friends and teachers.

Charles Parker, talented member of the graduating class, acted as master of ceremonies and cleverly introduced each member on the program. The invocation was given by Peggy Ross Runyan and Herman Blackwell gave the welcome address. "Songs My Mother Taught Me" was sung in unison after which Joe McNell, of the Reagan High school, congratulated the graduates and extended them a hearty welcome to Reagan next year.

Thirty-eight reading certificates awarded by the board of education, were presented by Constance Clark while the honor of presenting the 17 penmanship certificates, awarded by the Spencer company, was given to Charles Prothro. Josephine Willis was chosen to present attendance certificates to the following graduates who were neither tardy or absent during the year, Treva Wallander, Montie Rice, Fred Pryor, Thelma Rose Long and Nancine Sewell.

Miss Bessie Stewart presented the letters for citizenship, scholarship, English, declamation and spelling. Those receiving letters for citizenship, who were described as "having an unselfish attitude throughout the year," include Ruby Lewis, Treva Wallander, Charles Prothro, Billy Adams, Herman Blackwell, Charles Parker, Tom Martin and Chester Harvey, who was voted the most outstanding example of good citizenship by the judges.

Those having an average above 90 were awarded letters for scholarship and include Margaret Staniforth, Charles Parker, Peggy Ross Runyon, Thelma Rose Long, Ruth Smith, Mary Francis Erwin, Constance Clark, Charles Prothro, Josephine Willis, Clarence Mathews, Billy Adams, Fred Pryor, L. W. Maples, Tom Martin, Herman Blackwell and Reese Carter. In English, which was judged from a basis of the best work in the class, letters were given to Herman Blackwell and Reese Carter and the spelling award went to the latter. Charles Parker won the declamation award.

According to custom, the graduating class presented a class memorial which was two baskets filled with purple and gold flowers, the class colors. The presentation was made by Tom Martin. Margaret Staniforth and Francis Courtney when four first grade pupils, Bobby Caraway, Mildred Pearl Mooney, Howard Curtis, Covis and Edwin Lundjen marched across the stage and received the memorial in the name of the remainder of the school.

Following the farewell song, a informal reception was held for the entire graduating class which consists of Herman Blackwell, Woodrow Buchanan, Reese Carter, J. L. Creecy, Charles Downs, Jack Gant, J. H. Goodman, Chester Harvey, Edwin Heath, Clarence Mathews, Frank McKinney, Wilson Massey, Donald Nott, Ernest Peyton, Fred Pryor, Charles Prothro, Eugene Putty, Manett Buchanan, Neva Jo Burge, Constance Clark, Margaret Conally, Francis Courtney, Olive Daugherty, Dorothy Ellard, Mary Frances Erwin, Marjorie Henderson, Christine Jackson, Nora Jane Jones, Margaret Morris, Georgia Bell Oliver, Montie Rice, Ima Ruth Savage, Ruth Smith, Margaret Staniforth, Josephine Willis, Virginia Woodyard, Billy Adams, Harold Allen, James Baruett, Rex Beach, James Beck, Bonnie Bolen, George Campbell, Billy George, Howard James, L. W. Maples, Tom Martin, Jack McClure, Colin Moore, Charles Parker, E. J. Ward, Edwin Williams, H. A. Wright, Frank Yoakum, Lorene Beck, Louise Davis, Claudia Mae Durham, Betty June Funston, Gayle Griffin, Lorine Hamlin, Frieda Kolb, Ruby Lewis, Treva Wallander, Thelma Rose Long, Ruby Dell Royal, Peggy Ross Runyan, Nancille Sewell, Velma Simmons, Nathalie Smith, Evelyn Townsend, Maxine Walker and Margaret Leo Yauger. Of these students, 17 have never attended any other school but Austin.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Bewildered by constant talks, editorials, essays and sermons on "The Right Use of Leisure," we are wondering how one adult person can prescribe the right use of leisure for another.

We have just heard one man say longingly as he looked at a stack of new magazines, "My, but if I had the time that ——— has, I would certainly make myself smart on all subjects!" Yet the various ——s of the country probably choose athletic development or bridge or fishing, rather than giving leisure time to literature.

Parent-teacher groups are talking on properly guided leisure for children. There is no doubt that public playground recreation needs to be supervised. But in the scheme of training of children of today, it seems to us that recreation is only thought of as a "group" benefit.

An interesting article on "Midnight Thinking" in the June Scribners, brought this thought most forcibly to our mind. We had considered it often in the scheme of high school activities.

To be able to set oneself a goal; to have a set of ideals and to hew to the line until the goal is reached or the ideals proven, has always seemed to us the proper method of developing individuality.

In the school, group acclamation is the reward most coveted. Few girls or boys are content to know they have acted from their highest principles if their schoolmates ridicule or do not applaud such actions.

Yet life, lived as it must be, rubbing shoulders with humanity, is a thing to be lived individually—a solitary venture. Socrates "Know Thyself," is a motto forgotten in many modern school methods. But it is a motto invaluable to an alert young mind and healthy body.

So few people of either sex are really acquainted with their own minds. And in a mind kept clean, fed with what is best in nature and literature, ripened like well tended fruit, there is always recreation.

It is the fashion today to put on interest in the latest fads of life, just as women put on long and short skirts.

Restlessness—the need of company that means gossip or the "line" of the hour; the passionate rebellion against being alone—these are symptoms of minds that find no joy in themselves.

Treat your mind with courtesy; make it no slave to custom or "group" applause. Feed it with all the good to be found, and in the darkest hours, it will be able to recognize divinity in the scheme of things. A mind is even yet a kingdom.

See how WHITE My Skin Is!

Use this Hollywood recipe for lotion you make at home.

"By chance I heard how lovely screen stars beautified their skin and kept free from freckles, tan and burn with a preparation they made at home.

"I got 3 ounces of Orchard White and blended it with the juice of 2 lemons. I rubbed this cool lotion on my hands, arms, shoulders and face. Marvelous! Freckles and tan were bleached away. Rough spots disappeared. Soon my skin was smooth, soft, youthfully fresh. My hands soft and white."

Get 3 ounces of Orchard White. Blend with the juice of 2 lemons and have a full quarter-pint of the finest lotion you have ever used on your skin.—Adv.

Make the Most of Them as They Are, Advises Dorothy

When a reporter asked Billie Burke the other day how she managed to keep her husband, Flo Ziegfeld, who is surrounded by more feminine youth and pulchritude than any other man in the world, against all comers, she replied succinctly: "I take him as he is and let it go at that."

The pronouncement of an oracle. A lady Solomon with pearls of wisdom falling from her lips, for in these few words are comprised all of the law and the prophets about how to be happy though married and how to keep out of the divorce court.

For what are the disillusions of matrimony of which we talk so much? Nothing on earth but finding out that the individuals to whom we are married are just ordinary human beings, even as we are, and not the romantic heroes or the little tin gods that we imagined them to be.

What makes the disgruntled husbands and wives that we see all about us, who cry out that marriage is a failure and throw up their hands and quit? They are the men and women who are not good enough sports to stand by the bargains they made and make the best of them.

What is at the bottom of nine-tenths of the domestic scrapping that kills the love between husbands and wives and keeps them at odds with each other and that makes home a place of strife and torment from which husbands and children flee for their lives? It is the nagging and fretting and peevishness and complaining of the wife, the surliness, the grouchiness and fault-finding of the husband, who are dissatisfied because the other is not something that he or she never was and never could possibly become. Back of every family quarrel is the lack of philosophy that enables a man and woman to take their mates as they are and let it go at that.

They want all the good qualities their husbands and wives possess and then some. A man wants a wife with all the virtues, plus all the beauty and allurements of the vamp with the domestic virtues superimposed upon them. A woman wants a husband who is a go-getter and a money-maker, but she wants him to be in addition a playboy and a soulful poet. Or she wants the soulful poet and the playboy with the money-making bump of Henry Ford.

And because all of these divergent qualities seldom meet in the same person we go about beating upon our breasts and bewailing our mistakes in marriage and swapping old wives and husbands for new and finding out, when we get them home, that they likewise have their defects and don't come up to our ideals any more than the ones we already had.

In reality very few marriages would be failures if we brought any spirit of compromise to them. There are not many men who are out and out rotters and who deliberately set about making the women they marry miserable. Nor are there many women who are consciously bad wives and who are indifferent to their husbands' happiness. Most men and women are in love when they marry and have every intention of being good husbands and wives. Most often they are good husbands and wives according to their lights, and when they fail it is generally because those to whom they are married expect the impossible of them and demand of them what they have not to give.

Innumerable women, for instance, complain that they might just as well be married to store dummies for all the companionship that their husbands give them. They say that their husbands are so immersed in business that they have never a thought for them; that their husbands have never paid a compliment or given them a kiss that wasn't just a peck on the cheek that was so perfunctory it was an insult instead of a caress since their honeymoon; that their husbands come home at night tired and grouchy and are about as entertaining and conversational as a stuffed shirt.

Or other women complain that their husbands are philanderers. Or that they are jealous. Or that they are tightwads. Or that they can never be pried away from their own firesides to go to any place of amusement of an evening.

Innumerable women scrap their homes and half-orphan their children because their husbands are dumb lovemakers or money-grubbers or petticoat-chasers or Gloomy Gusses around the house or what-not, when they could save the situation by applying Miss Burke's philosophy to it and just accepting their husbands as they are and letting it go at that. What peace a woman would find if she would just realize that a man who works for a woman proves his love far more effectually than he would by quotting poetry to her! Or that a man can be a good provider and a poor entertainer or that a man can have an eye out for other women and still prefer his wife or that even a stingy man leaves a rich widow.

And that, anyway, she can't change her husband and she saves herself a lot of gray hairs and worry and keeps from alienating him by just taking him as he is and letting it go at that.

And the same rule would apply equally well to men. Suppose Maria has got fair, fat and 40 and isn't as easy to look at as a flapper, she is amiable and can't to get along with and she is a wizard who can make $1 do the work of five. Suppose Sally no longer raises a thrill in her husband's breast. Neither does she cause any indigestion in his little tum-tum with her cooking. Suppose Fanny isn't a highbrow and is not a very exciting companion. She is as faithful as a dog and would stand by you if all the world fell away from you.

So why not take your wife as she is and let it go at that?

What a lot of heartaches and divorces it would save.

DOROTHY DIX.

Bethany Class Celebrates Anniversary At Luncheon

Celebrating the fifth anniversary of the class, members of the Bethany class of the First Baptist church entertained with a lovely luncheon at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Wednesday at 12:30 o'clock. Special guests were J. W. Mason, educational director of the church, Mrs. Fred Morris, supervisor of the adult department; and the past presidents, Mesdames Clara Walker, Jerry Schaeffer, A. G. Holmes, C. C. Jones Jr., and Mrs. J. Newton Huff, present president.

The speaker's table was centered with a long basket of larkspur, gladioli, poppies, pink rosebuds and petunias in pastel shades and a five tiered candelabrum on either side of the basket was used. Smaller baskets of various garden flowers were used as centerpieces for the other tables.

Mrs. Solon Featherston, teacher, with other officers of the class, greeted the guests at the door. Mrs. L. E. Junell acted as toastmistress and announced the program which included the invocation, by Mr. Mason; singsong, led by Mrs. Featherston; two vocal solos, Mrs. Ray Wilhite, accompanied by Mrs. O. G. Stephens at the piano. The closing number was a clever skit in which Mesdames Ewing Exelle and A. W. Wyatt took part. Mrs. A. H. Owen, first vice president, gave a report.

Covers were laid for Mesdames Ralph Maricle, Ben C. McAdams, Lloyd E. Wells, W. A. King, B. F. Manning, Ray Noland, Albert H. Owens, John F. Abbott, C. E. Underwood, J. W. Sherrod, Joe E. McKinney, Charles E. Borland, B. F. Caldwell, C. C. Jones Jr., E. L. Smith, George H. Watson, L. V. Smith, J. L. Swanner, B. F. Adam, W. K. Gwinn, Burl Bryant, J. M. Schaeffer, J. M. Martin, O. B. Albritton, J. L. Gibbs, J. F. Moore, Clara Walker, Solon Featherston, Glenn Kinkaid, Otis Stephens, L. E. Junell, V. A. Huff, A. G. Holmes, J. Newton Huff, T. R. Vague, Al Bedinghaus, A. W. U. S. Pushes Public Building Program

WASHINGTON, May 21 (INS)—All efforts are being exerted by the treasury department to speed up the public building program and while more than $40,000,000 worth of work is under contract, it will be the first of the year before the construction program is moving ahead at top speed, it was learned today.

By mid-summer it was expected that congress would have enacted a bill authorizing beginning of work on about 200 new projects which are now under consideration before the house appropriations committee.

Assistant Secretary Ferry K. Heath explained that after the appropriations are made available the treasury will advertise for sites, within certain areas, select the best sites, proceed to acquire ownership and title, through the justice department; Then prepare the plans and let contracts for construction.

WOMEN IN FRILLS

NEW YORK, May 21. (AP)—Women are back in frills and are glad to be there, as Lady Armstrong, wife of the British consul-general, expresses it. She doesn't believe women will wear trousers; they're happier wearing skirts.

Delphian Chapter Entertains With Pretty Luncheon

Wreaths of Dorothy Perkins roses laid flat on the table occupied alternate space between Dresden baskets of cornflowers in pastel shades with a large blue bowl of variegated larkspur making an exquisite center when members of the Weechee-tah Delphian society met for luncheon at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Tuesday in the last meeting of the season. Favors that were also used as place cards were dainty little etchings to be used for bookmarks.

The interesting program on Roman comedy preceding the luncheon was led by Mrs. P. P. Langford. Mrs. F. W. Fischer discussed "Roman Theaters and Players Art" and the "History of Comedy at Rome," was given by Mrs. E. R. White. "Plautus' Place in Dramatic History," was the theme of Mrs. Paul Putty, who told of the Roman writer whose plays, although adapted from the Greek, were so full of originality that both Moliere and Shakespeare drew upon them. "The Technique of Roman Comedy," was discussed ably by Mrs. Paul Steed and Mrs. A. B. Maples reviewed "The Twins," which is considered the typical play of the writer. An interesting round table discussion completed the program.

Mrs. J. E. Hall, accompanied by Mrs. Lucile Brooks Huff, gave delightful violin numbers and Mrs. D. L. Fritz a beautiful piano number.

Mrs. J. Wilkie Talbert presided at the luncheon as toastmistress. Covers were laid for Mesdames Talbert, E. R. White, Roy I. Carter, Paul Steed, Guy Raley, A. W. Burnside, H. J. Strief, Bert King, R. L. Daugherty, Paul Putty, G. D. Rigsby, W. R. Duke, J. E. Hall, D. L. Fritz, A. B. Maples, P. P. Langford, Claud Woods, and guests Mesdames B. B. Craft, Lucille Brooks Huff and V. E. Wratten.

Harmon County Settles Highway Difficulties

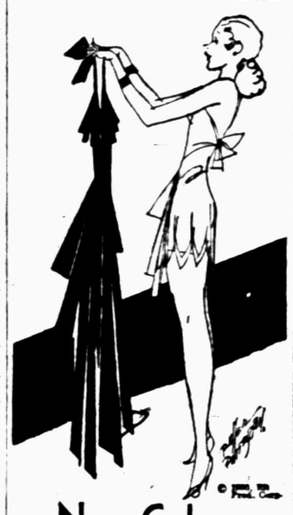

Special to The Record News

HOLLIS, Okla., May 21.—After much discussion in mass meetings and banquets, the permanent route for highway No. 7 has been agreed upon, to the pleasure of all of Harmon county and the highway commission.

Recently a mass meeting was held at the Harmon county courthouse and after much discussion it was decided to keep the route as it is. Over a hundred telegrams were sent to the state highway commission and with their consent the route was settled.

Jury Given Issues in $4,500 Oil Casing Suit

The suit for $4,548 brought against C. W. Clark and others by the Security Union Drilling company on a claim growing out of the alleged furnishing of defective casing was given to a jury in the 78th district court late Wednesday afternoon. The well involved in the suit is located in Foard county near Truscott. It was claimed Clark and the other defendants furnished new but defective casing for the drilling of the well, resulting in loss of time and work on the part of the drilling company.

Uncle Sam Publishes Book Telling of Grape Juice

WASHINGTON, May 21. (US)—"How to make wine," by Uncle Sam.

This should be the title of a new department of agriculture booklet, in the opinion of anti-prohibitionists today.

Although issued by the department to instruct farmers how to make unfermented grape juice from grapes, it explains all the steps leading to fermentation.

Representative La Guardia, of New York city and anti-prohibitionist, immediately ordered 2,000 copies for the "farmers" of his district.

Forum Committee Announces Next Year's Program

Members of the program committee of the Woman's Forum, of which Mrs. Guy Rogers is chairman, met at her home Wednesday morning when final plans for the major forum attractions for the coming year were completed.

The opening date, Sept. 30, will be a seated tea and the attraction for that date will be a piano concert by Claud Simpson, S. M. U. graduate. In February, Syud Hassain, the gifted Oriental lecturer, said to be the most distinguished visitor in the United States since Tagore, will lecture to forum members on "The India of Today and Tomorrow."

Frank Dobie, noted authority on Texas folklore, will appear in November when his subject will be "Tales of Texas Soil" and Mrs. Pearl Calhoun Davis and her associates have been asked to give their presentation of "17 Rue Pigalle" as the musical number for the month of December.

The silver tongued Tom Skeyhill is scheduled to appear in March. Plans for a "Woman and Peace" luncheon which will take the place of the annual federated luncheon are under way for Nov. 11. An unusual program is being worked out for this occasion.

Other social activities for the year include the life membership luncheon, scheduled for Jan. 14; the colonial luncheon for Feb. 19; luncheon honoring out-of-town members, March 26; the annual Christmas party honoring husbands, Dec. 23; annual bridge tournament, April 7, and the annual May breakfast, May 12, which closes the season.

. . . was "B.O." the reason?
(Body Odor)

TOO LATE to ask him in? Why, it was only 10 o'clock. There must be another reason. Why had she turned so cool? Why act so strangely? Friendly at first—then suddenly distant.

Now he knows the reason—knows how to correct the fault that once made people avoid him. Today he's welcome everywhere. "B.O."—body odor—no longer robs him of popularity.

It ruins romance

Many a budding romance has been wrecked because one or the other of the couple was careless about "B.O." Of course no one means to offend. But it's so easy to be guilty and not know it.

Pores give off a quart of odor-causing waste daily—both visible and invisible perspiration. We quickly become so used to this ever-present odor that we don't notice it in ourselves. But others do!

Why take chances when the remedy is so simple, so delightful? Just wash and bathe with Lifebuoy. Its creamy, abundant, antiseptic lather leaves you gloriously, satisfyingly clean—purifies pores so deeply that "B.O." hasn't a chance.

Fresh, radiant beauty

And what a fine complexion soap Lifebuoy is! Work its bland, penetrating lather well into the skin. Deep-cleanses pores—frees them of clogged impurities—freshens dull skins till they glow with healthy beauty. Its pleasant, extra-clean scent—that vanishes as you rinse—tells you Lifebuoy purifies. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

YANKEE FOOD TOO EFFICIENT

So Says Mlle. Bernege, and She Certainly Knows

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

CHICAGO, May 21. (UP)—Mlle. Paulette Bernege, who knows what she's talking about, announced tonight eating in America would be lots more fun if it weren't so all-fired efficient.

The petite Mlle. Bernege is editor of Mon Chez Moi, French counterpart of the Multiple Page American magazines, crammed with fashion pictures and culinary hints, which burden suburban postmen the first of every month. Like its American twins, Mon Chez Moi goes in, in a big way, for trick recipes to tickle the palates of its readers.

So Mlle. Bernege journeyed here to jot down in her little black book the ingredients of the eatables which are strictly of American origin. She came to Chicago, she said, because she believed it perhaps was the most American of American cities.

With her little black book nearby, she ate breakfast in bed in a hotel room, lunch in a one-armed beanery, tea in a high hat open air courtyard and dinner in a bedraped restaurant where the check wasialmost as steep as the bill of fare was long. Interviews with the c ks made possible plenty of notations for the little black book. They also provided Mlle. Bernege with a few gentle criticisms of American knife and fork handlers.

Yankee eating, she said, was a science whereas that of France was an art.

"Of course, in your basic foods you Americans do very well," said Mlle. Bernege. "Your vegetables and fruits are very good. And your meats when they are roasted are good, but the mixing of foods, the chopping of meats, is not so good."

Questioning on that point brought out that Mlle. Bernege was referring to hamburger steak, with plenty of onions and catsup.

She said American restaurants, anyway Chicago restaurants, operate so very efficiently that the food is of too much sameness, has too little piquancy, and not nearly enough salt.

While Mlle. Bernege was learning things about American kitchen mysteries, efficiency experts at the University of Chicago made the startling announcement that tests had proven it much more efficient to let the dirty dishes pile up in the sink until there is a good big stack before they are tackled with soap and water.

And furthermore, said investigators Mary Heiner and M. M. Verner, dishes don't need to be wiped and polished. Just let 'em stand, said they, and the air will do a much better job than a grouchy husband with an apron about his middle.

"You Americans," commented Mlle. Bernege, "and your efficiency. You're always at it."

Last Rites Said for Electra Church Leader

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, May 21.—Funeral services for Mrs. Walter D. Howe 22, who died at a local hospital Sunday afternoon after a prolonged illness, were held at the First Baptist church Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Rev. W. W. Rivers, local pastor, officiating.

Pallbearers were W. L. Horn, Buck Stalcup, Myrl Russell, Winifred Parker, Fred Walton and Ralph Garrison.

Mrs. Howe was well known in Electra, having attended the local schools. She was also prominent in church activities at the First Baptist church.

Survivors include her husband, two children, Jackie, age 3, and an infant daughter, Wanda Lou; her mother, Mrs. Rose Leffingwell; a sister, Miss Truceal Leffingwell, both of Electra; two brothers, Joe, Electra, and Roscoe, Vernon, and a half brother, T. Leffingwell of Indiana.

Hubby Loses $50,000 Suit for Love

Is a wife's love worth $50,000? William J. Kunkel, New York fruit broker, thought so when he filed an alienation of affections suit for that amount against William B. Quigley, Denver attorney, in whose apartment he charged he found his Russian life, "Princess" Marie Alimova. Mrs. Kunkel is pictured above as she testified for the defense at the trial in Denver. Kunkel lost his suit. She admitted on the stand that she was not a princess, as had been alleged.

Vice President's Son Questioned in Alleged Fees for Securing Contracts

Harry K. Curtis Tells State's Attorney His Side of Charge Brought by Chicago Contractors

CHICAGO, May 21. (INS)—Harry K. Curtis, son of Vice President Charles Curtis, was questioned at the state's attorney's office here today in regard to charges by Chicago contractors that they paid him fees in return for promises of government contracts.

Summoned to the state's attorney's office with Curtis was Mike Malloy, alleged go-between in the deals.

Curtis has a law office at 111 West Washington street, this city.

The questioning was conducted by Chief Investigator Pat Roche, the charges involve sub-contracts on the proposed $14,000,000 Chicago postoffice, and general contracts on federal buildings in Milwaukee, Racine, Aurora, Minneapolis and other cities in the Mid-West, according to Roche.

Payments Returned

A preliminary investigation has revealed payments totaling $3,250, some of which have since been returned, Roche said.

"Curtis denied that he had talked to any contractors about using his influence as the vice president's son in getting any contracts," declared Roche. "He said that he did not believe he had sufficient influence to do anything like that. He did get about $10,000 as a retainer fee to act as counsel for various contractors of Chicago. He told me that he was just retained as an attorney to investigate contracts that they held, and determine the status of the contracts."

M. C. Travis, real estate man and builder, told Roche he was taken to Curtis' office on Dec. 18 by Malloy. He said he tendered the vice president's son a $500 check in return for the promise of a government contract in Illinois, Indiana or Wisconsin within 30 days.

As evidence, Travis submitted a cancelled check for $500 endorsed by Curtis, and a letter he wrote to Curtis on April 4 reminding him of the alleged promise. Travis said Curtis returned $400 of the money to him a few weeks ago.

Carl Thorgerson, another builder, also asserted that he had made Curtis a $500 payment. He said there were 10 contractors lined up in Curtis' office when he went there to see him.

Angelo Zucco, an architect, charged that he gave Curtis $500 and was promised the job of designing a new postoffice at Ottawa, Ill.

A roofing contractor said he made a similar payment in return for the promise of a roofing contract on the proposed Chicago postoffice. He said $350 was returned to him and Zucco to divide between them.

Kenneth G. Rennie, treasurer of the Hub Electric company, said he paid Curtis a total of $750 "to do what he could" to interest the government in a new asphalt paving in which Rennie was interested. He declared that $500 was returned to him.

Rennie was named by Thorgerson as the man who introduced him to Curtis.

Alec Street, an official of a plumbing company, said he paid $500 to Curtis and was promised a plumbing contract in the new postoffice, but got all but $25 of his money back.

After being questioned, Curtis and Malloye left Roche's office. They promised to give the chief investigator a list of all contractors with whom they have had dealings.

LAND BANKERS END MEETING

Dividends to Go to Build Up Reserves

the Houston bank. Albert C. Williams of Washington, member of the federal farm loan board, made the principal address Wednesday morning.

"We can point with pride to the record of the Federal Land bank of Houston with its loans of $150,000,000 to 56,000 Texas farmers and ranchers," he said. It was pointed out that the Houston bank leads all other federal land banks in the United States in the volume of its loans.

Mr. Williams also told some of the details connected with the entire fereral system, pointing out that the system now has outstanding loans in excess of $1,250,000,000 to 400,000 farmers in the United States.

Mr. Williams, a resident of Fort Worth for many years, is well known throughout the state for his prominence in the cattle business. He was editor of "The Cattleman" for several years. His appointment to the national farm loan board came five years ago, and was repeated last year for a longer term by President Hoover.

Low Interest for Farmers

Other outstanding speakers included M. H. Gossett of Houston, president of the bank, who told that the 56,000 farmer-borrowers of Texas are today saving $5,000,000 annually in interest alone. "These loans are lifting a large burden from the back of agriculture," he said. "The rate of this cooperative institution is the pace-maker for first mortgage farm rates throughout the state."

Some of the intricacies of operation of a federal bank were related by R. D. Johnson, vice president and treasurer of the bank. "Many intelligent people assume that a federal land bank is strictly a governmental institution and that when it needs money it has only to call on Uncle Sam and cash is immediately available from the federal treasury," he said. "This is far from true. The bank derives its funds from the sale of farm mortgage bonds to the general public. These are wholly tax exempt and have borne rates of interest ranging from four to five per cent, according to the general condition of the money market. They find a ready sale in normal times. Since the stock market crash there has been a steady improvement in the bond amrket and federal land bank bonds are rapidly assuming their normal position in the investment field, which is next to government securties."

Interesting discussions relative to the problems of the bank in its various branches were held during the afternoon sessions. Following short talks by C. E. Blackmon of Bowie and W. R. Sikes of Seymour, A. K. Short, conservation and terracing agent for the bank, spoke on the value of terracing in Texas during the past few years.

"During the past three years, the campaign waged by the federal land bank and the extension service of A. & M. college has resulted in there being four times as much land terraced in the last three years as there was in 20 years prior to 1927," he said.

Terracing Gaining

"The results obtained at the state experiment station at Spur, and also the experience of the bank as a lending agency, clearly demonstrate that the average farm land in Texas will not remain productive over a long period of years unless such land is adequately protected from erosion.

"There can be no question but that soil erosion takes the greatest toll in the deterioration of farm land security. This deterioration is more easily remedied than that which results from overflow. It does not take money to terrace farm land. It only takes the inclination to do so, and power sufficient to move dirt."

Other sidelights on farm terracing were brought into the discussion by W. C. Hurst of Longview, a director of the federal land bank, who told of his experience in checking the conditions of the 354 borrowers from his local national farm loan association and what the association is doing to see that the farms upon which it loans do not depreciate in value.

"I found that about 30 farms needed immediate attention," he said. "Either the soil was eroding rapidly or the buildings needed repair. About 40 more required watching, showing a downward trend in value due to the owner's neglect. Most of the farms which were not in good condition, I found, were worked by tenants. The soil was washing and fertility being depleted, resulting not only in smaller yields but poorer quality of commodities produced.

"The association purchased three levels for its members to use in running levels for terracing. Up to the time of planting this spring there was a waiting list for these levels. The county agricultural agent agreed to teach the borrowers how to use the levels and build terraces and the net result to date is that many of the farmers whose farms were rapidly being depleted in fertility have already added much to the value of their properties by terracing and their efforts will be rewarded, not only by keeping their loans in good standing, but by an increased income."

Roy Archer, director from Austin, discussed association problems from the standpoint of the borrower, the association and the bank. He also spoke of the advantages or disadvantages of a large surplus compared to the payment of large dividends.

Appraisal of Farms

A. C. Hargis, assistant secretary, made a short talk in which he related that only 46 farms have been foreclosed upon out of the 56,000 mortgaged to the Houston bank. E. F. Shropshire, chief appraiser, outlined the four factors most important in appraisal of a farm as follows: Whether it is a complete and sustaining ranch or farm unit, the location of the farm, the farm itself and the borrower.

The meeting here was the sixth of eight district meetings held in the state this year. This district radiates from Wichita Falls for a distance of approximately 150 miles, and the delegates included officers and directors of all farm loan associations.

In addition to the Houston bank officers, and Mr. Williams and E. B. Reid, public relations director, both from Washington, the delegates represented the following West Texas towns: Paducah, Farwell, Bowie, Henrietta, Windthorst, Quanah, Chillicothe, Vernon, Jacksboro, Breckenridge, St. Jo, Seymour, Crowell, Archer City, Stamford, Graford, Munday, Graham and Wichita Falls.

Funeral of T. R. Shelly Conducted in Electra

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, May 21.—Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the First Baptist church for T. R. Shelly, 61, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Eula Mae Morris in Southfield, near Electra. Rev. W. W. Rivers, pastor of the First Baptist church, was in charge of the service. The body was forwarded by Totten Brothers, funeral directors, to Whitney where interment was made.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Eula Mae Morris, and two sons, George and Homer, both of Electra.

WHAT HAVE VEGETABLES GOT TO DO WITH IT?
A SENSIBLE QUESTION. You well may wonder why we keep talking about vegetable oils in connection with White King. The answer is this: a pure soap made from vegetable oils, instead of mineral or animal oils, is the gentlest, kindest, yet most effective soap that can be produced.
And White King is the leading vegetable-oil soap. That's why you can trust your sheerest lingerie to it. That's why beauty parlors use it for shampooing. And that's why it cleans blankets and heavy clothing so thoroughly.
White King Granulated Soap is economical, too, because it is condensed. A teaspoonful for the basin, a cupful for the washing machine—plenty. Try it today. Sold by your grocer.

Back to the Dark Ages
Our Back-Breaking Laws
A Busy Lady Psychic
Can Predict Anything

By EMILE GAUVREAU

If the hundreds of thousands of foolish, whimsical laws on the statute books of this country were to be enforced, the average American citizen would find himself under more tyranny than the oppressed Russians under the czar. What would happen in Connecticut, for instance, if that state were to carry out a law still on its books, which makes it illegal to cross a stream or a body of water on the Sabbath? You will find the lobbying bigots massed for action whenever a rational citizen suggests the repeal of such legislation.

In New Jersey there is a law, enacted in 1796, which makes it illegal to deliver bread on the Sabbath. An enthusiastic sanctimonious gentleman pouncing upon this statute sees interesting possibilities in its enforcement and orders the seizure of 800 Parker house rolls in transportation, and which are to be served during a communion breakfast of the Holy Name society of a Catholic church in New Brunswick.

The same law which confiscated the Parker house rolls also prohibits a man from kissing his wife on the Sabbath day in the advanced state of New Jersey. It is unfortunate that there are in this country a sizeable group which, because such a law is in the books, would actually place behind the bars a husband who kissed his wife on Sunday.

And the grinding out of unenforceable laws goes on all over the land. New crops of lawmakers march into the legislative halls of every state in the union, year in, year out, crowding the shelves with new statutes. The standing army could not enforce them. While the praying bigot lobbies on the fringe of the remaining freedom we have, a political baron, with his paid henchmen in the legislative seats, will grab completely the water power of an entire state and create a new law to back him up. Some may well wonder how long democracy can last under such a system.

Miss Gene Dennis,' attractive young lady physic with dreamy limpid eyes, peers into the future and makes some predictions which people who find it tiresome to think will readily believe. She sees a cloud on the martial horizon of Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks. The Lindbergh child will be a girl. The prosperity of Amos 'n' Andy will continue for several years. Mr. Whalen and Mr. Walker will be rivals for the mayoralty. The star of Rudy Vallee is descending. All interesting to the mob mind and very profitable for the charming Miss Dennis if it works out.

A London paper, printing the exclusive story that the cabinet had decided to arrest Mr. Gandhi, finds itself in the unpleasant situation of having violated the official secrets act. The editors are all liable to arrest. Twenty-nine daily papers join in a demand on Premier MacDonald for an immediate amendment of the act. Such a law might easily kill the editoral freedom of every newspaper in England. It is not conceivable that the liberal MacDonald will let that law stand unamended.

While a $75,000 carload of vine whisky, billed as "lumber," shipped from Florida to Ralph Capone, is seized in Chicago, his brother, the notorious "Scarface," is once more arrested for "investigation" and spends the night in a Miami jail. Plenty of grounds for "suspicion," but not enough law to keep this sinister gangster locked up for more than one day at a time.

Manufacturers have proposed that the Union of South Africa bar importation of second hand clothing, contending that it is unhygienic.

"My business is so dull I'd be glad if a shoplifter come in," said Lew Purviance, o' the Emporium today. "I thought it might be the census taker, so I took my apron off an' threw it over the beer an' went to the door jest as he fired through the window," testified Mrs. Em Moots in court this mornin'.

An Illinois man, a news item says, has carved himself a set of teeth from a hickory plank. Of course his bark is worse than his bite.

Pink and blue shoes for men are to be the style this summer. Men who wear them will have to watch their step.

A Time of Transition

IT IS always just a little bit disheartening to discover that one has left youth behind. When you are young you can make any kind of plans you like. For all you know, they may come true some day. Anything at all can happen, and you can spin the wildest day dreams imaginable without ever being tripped up by hard facts.

But when you discover that your youth has evaporated you have to make the best of what you have. It's not much use in making elaborate plans. The only thing left is to size up the situation, see what the possibilities are and buckle down to make the most of 'em.

That's the way it is with most of us, anyway; and it is also the way, when you stop to think about it, with nations as well.

All of this is brought to mind by a more or less casual study of the current census figures. They seem to indicate that the United States is leaving its youth behind and reaching maturity; and that, in turn, means that a very radical change in our national philosophy and habits of action is impending.

Population growth is slowing down. Many and many a city finds itself short of the mark that it confidently expected to reach. Rural counties are, in many cases, actually shrinking. Experts predict that in two or three more decades the nation's population will be practically stabilized.

All of this is going to have a profound effect. It means that the old pioneering, boom town atmosphere is going to disappear and that a more sober, thoughtful philosophy will have to take its place if we are to avoid trouble.

We have always been a nation of pioneers—even after our physical frontiers had been pushed to the west coast. Always there has been rapid growth. Any sort of city or town, almost, could look ahead to constant increase in size. A man's neighbors were always increasing in number.

This affected our whole national character. It bred a blind optimism, a feeling that we could not spoil our chances, a conviction that ever bigger things were bound to be always ahead of us. It made the lot of the promoter an easy one. It was a tremendously potent stimulant to activity—but it did not lead us to take a great deal of thought for the morrow.

Now the swing of the pendulum is slowing down. Things won't be coming so easily hereafter. The old, slam-bang, full-speed-ahead system must give way to careful planning and wise forethought. The premium on restless energy will not be quite so high, and the demand for cool, analytical brain power will increase.

In short, as a nation we are turning a corner. We are leaving an era behind us, and a long process of readjustment lies ahead. It will take some real thinking and some scientific study to get us through it without discomfort.

"She Always Managed"

ONE of the last "real" daughters of the American Revolution died the other day in Richland, Mich. She was Mrs. Helen M. Barrett, she was 99 years old and her father was a soldier in the revolutionary war, serving under Gates in the battle of Saratoga.

Records of the D. A. R., of which Mrs. Barrett was a member, show that there are eight other women in the country whose fathers served in the revolution. Distant as the colonial days are, they seem close when one thinks that in these cases, at least, they are only a scant two generations away.

Nevertheless, the story of Mrs. Barrett's life brings home forcibly the immense contrast between modern times and the times in which she grew up.

Born in upstate New York, the next to the youngest of 27 children—her soldier-father was 78 when she was born—Mrs. Barrett was taken to Michigan by boat and horse and wagon, when she was 7 years old. At 14 she was married.

"Her early married life would seem impossible now," said one of her sons after her death. "Her daily work included cooking over a hearth fire, spinning her own yarn, weaving, making stockings and all the clothing for 10 children, doing all the cooking and baking for a large family, part of the time milking four and five cows, even making her own soap and candles.

"But she always seemed to manage. She kept us clean and we always had plenty to eat and wear."

That one sentence—"but she always seemed to manage"—might serve as an epitaph for untold thousands of pioneer American women.

They always seemed to manage, somehow—they had to! They went into dreary wildernesses and wore out their lives in drudgery of a kind that is almost inconceivable to us of the present, they bore huge families, and often did a man's work as well as a woman's; and if, now and then, their faded photographs show them with tired, brooding eyes and bitter mouths, can we wonder at it?

We are not half proud enough of these pioneer women. The people of Ponca City, Okla., have erected a statue in their honor. There ought to be such a statue in every city and town in the land. If it is a distinction to trace one's ancestry back to a revolutionary war veteran, is it not even more of a distinction to list a pioneer mother or grandmother among one's forebears? The ragged continentals endured for a matter of seven years; the pioneer women endured for whole lifetimes.

"She always seemed to manage." That tells their story.

Hitching Men to Jobs

THE senate has acted wisely in passing Senator Wagner's bill to set up a federal chain of employment offices

Very often it happens that jobs will be scarce in one part of the country and fairly plentiful in another. Heretofore there has been no nation-wide system under which a jobless man could find out where prospects were the best. The Wagner bill seeks to provide the machinery by which men can be attached to jobs with the least possible trouble and the greatest possible speed.

The bill still has to pass the house, but there seems little reason to doubt that it will do so. The $4,000,000 a year which it would appropriate is a small price to pay for a device that would operate to alleviate unemployment and restore prosperity.

WALTER WINCHELL

On Broadway

(Copyright, 1930, Daily Mirror, Inc.)

Man About Town

Nearly everything and everyone you encounter in the Broadway zone is so counterfeit, so spurious and so unkosher, that when you accidentally stumble across a refreshing lass like "Gypsy" Byrne you ache for a typewriter to jot down a scene in which she aroused your emotions. "Gypsy," christened Marie, is 20, and until the other night she was a featured member of a night club floor show. Her routine blends hoofing and warbling of a high order, and she is easy to look upon.

Between specialties "Gypsy" was urged by the management to be sociable and sit with some male patrons—the sort who have to get coked up on Wyoming Ketchup so that the listener will check their banal comments to "stew stuff."

"Gypsy" did a "sister" act in vaudeville with her young and beautiful mother. They called themselves the Wakefield sisters. In Philadelphia, on May 7, 1923, pneumonia killed her mother at exactly 5:10 a. m. "Gypsy" has never forgotten that horrible moment.

Since that time "Gypsy" has elbowed the Broadway morons out of her way to get a "break," and although the "breaks" haven't been sugary, she has kept her reputation free from blemishes. But when a girl has to hold a job in a night club which caters to stags, she obeys the management and takes all the dull conversation the stay-up-lates have to offer. Of course, if you're a gal like "Gypsy" Byrne, and a feller happens to put his paws on your knees, you simply pat his mitts in the mamma-spank manner and tell him that he "mustn't do" as "people are looking", and, "anyway, it isn't nice, see?"

"Gypsy" Byrne is the only night-club femme we have ever known who won't stand for that stuff, but who knows how to rebuke a guy and make him like it. On the morning of May 7, when dawn was about to bust, "Gypsy" excused herself from the party of intoxicated imbeciles and went over to the orchestra leader.

"Jerry," she said, "my mother died seven years ago about this time. She died at ten minutes past five in the morning, and I loved her so. We used to do an act together and we harmonized 'My Buddy.' Will you do me a favor, Jerry, and when it is 5:10 play 'My Buddy'? It makes me feel better knowing that wherever she is she might know I am thinking of her."

Jerry watched his wrist watch and at 5:10 stopped the orchestra crew, which was playing a hot ditty, and they immediately went into "My Buddy." The drummer crooned it via a megaphone and "Gypsy" sat alone at the table next to ours. "I used to sing this with my mother," she said. "She died seven years ago at this minute."

We tried to keep from looking at her or appear curious. When the number was almost completed we looked at the kid and saw her tear-filled orbs.

The drunks at the table from which she excused herself had been informed that "Gypsy" was paying tribute to her mother's memory, and they turned to her and mimicked her weeping. "Boo-ooo-ooo!" one of them travestied, "ya big cry baby. C'mon back and be y'self!"

"Gypsy" apologized for spoiling their fun and then raced up to her dressing room to powder her nose. When she returned we talked with her a while. "Don't mind them," we said. "They're all phonies and they wouldn't know something real like yourself when they saw it. If half the girls on the street gave their mothers a thought while they were alive they might have better luck."

Then she told us of her background and that her grandpappy, Andrew Byrne, was the composer of one of the beautiful "Ave Marias," and other classics. But "Ave Maria," which is a favorite melody all over the world, doesn't mean as much to "Gypsy" as "My Buddy."

"Well," we said, as she left the place, "don't let the muggs that come in night clubs worry you, kid. A girl like you, who finds time to think of her mother, cannot have any bad breaks. You rate good fortune."

"Thanks," she said sweetly, and went home.

When she came in the next night they told her she was fired.

Telling the World

The Pulitzer prizes have been awarded and the prize play is Marc Connelly's "The Green Pastures," the grandest of the season's offerings. But one imagines that Mr. Connelly will be embarrassed when he is notified that his play is the winner of the honor and the $1,000 cash award, for no mention was made of Roark Bradford's book, "Ol' Man Adam and His Chillun'," upon which the show is based. In fact Mr. Connelly credits the tome in the programs, and he has announced that his play contains much of Roark Bradford's text.

Most of us believe that upon his return from Yurrup, Mr. Connelly will either share the cash prize with Mr. Bradford or give it all to him.

But how do the judges account for their verdict anyway, considering that the Pulitzer terms distinctly declare that the prize for the best play of the year in New York must go to an original work?

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Did you ever write a letter to Frederic J. Haskins. You can ask him any question of fact and get the answer in a personal letter. Here is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—service. There is no charge except two cents in coin or stamps for return postage. Address Frederic J. Haskin, director, the Record News information bureau, Washington, D. C.

Q.—What is the name of the new Planet?—E. N.

A.—It has not yet been named. It is known as Planet X.

Q. In what parts of the country can two crops of potatoes be grown in a season?—D. B.

A. In the southern states, from southern New Jersey to Texas, and as far north as the Ohio and Missouri rivers, and in California the growing season is long enough to produce two crops of potatoes a year by the practical application of the dormancy-breaking treatments.

Q. What caused the wonderful Yellow day in New England in 1881?—L. E. J.

A. Tuesday, Sept. 6, 1881, is known as the Yellow day. It was characterized by an intense brassy appearance. Many persons reported a smell of smoke in the air and this is generally believed to have been the cause of the peculiar phenomenon. It is known that extensive forest fires were raging in Canada and in the West. Another suggestion was that it was caused by an active volcano in the interior of Labrador; another that the smoke was derived from immense peat bogs in Labrador which in dry seasons burned to the rocks.

Q. What are touching honors in cards?—E. N.

A. Two honors next in value as Queen, Jack, are called touching honors.

Q. Was Theodore Roosevelt a great orator?—A. B. C.

A. That is a matter of opinion, but he is regarded by many as one of the representative orators of his time.

Q. When two or more pronouns form the subject of a sentence, which ones should be first?—S. F.

A. An authority on correct English speaks as follows in regard to the position of personal pronouns connected by the conjunction: "When two or more personal pronouns in the singular are connected by 'and,' the second person precedes the first and the third, and the third person precedes the first; when the pronouns are used together in the plural number, the first person precedes the second and the third, and the second person precedes the third."

Q.—Are women finding places in the crews of commercial airplanes?—M. B.

A.—Young women are now being employed to act as stewardesses on airplanes.

Q. What city is known as the aviation capital of the United States?—W. E. C.

A. Wichita, Kan., is so called because of the number of airplane factories located there.

Q.—What are the names of the men whose busts were unveiled recently in the hall of fame?—W. K.

A.—The nine most recently elected members of the hall of fame of New York university were John Quincy Adams, George Bancroft, James Fenimore Cooper, James Russell Lowell, Patrick Henry, Elias Howe, Horace Mann, John Lothrop Motley, and Joseph Story. Bronze busts of these distinguished men were unveiled on the university campus on May 8th. The bust of Adams was unveiled by Henry L. Abbott, great-great-grandson of the president; that of Bancroft by Prof. Wilder D. Bancroft of Cornell, a grandson; Cooper's by Dr. Henry S. Fenimore Cooper, a grandson; Lowell's by James Russell Lowell, a great-grandson; Howe's by his granddaughter, Mrs. Eustice L. Hopkins; Mann's by Horace Mann, a grandson; Motley's by John Lothrop Motley Jr., a great-great-nephew; Story's by Federal Court Justice Martin T. Manton; Patrick Henry's by Mrs. Henry Sampson, 82 years old, of Richmond, great-granddaughter of the patriot.

HOUSTON DEATH SOLUTION NEAR

One Suspect Held in Murder of Aviator

HOUSTON, May 21. (INS)—With one suspect held and the "death machine" believed found, police today promised an early solution to the murder of W. L. Edwards, 39, prominent Houston airways promotor and world war veteran, "taken for a ride" here Sunday night.

A suspect, giving the name as John Belois, was arrested last night and ordered held pending investigation. Authorities refused to divulge his connection with the case.

Meanwhile efforts were doubled to trace ownership of the charred wreckage of an automobile found on the outskirts of the city when it was learned that the license plate had recently been transferred by a local citizen to two non-residents who said they were from California.

Blood-stained clothing found in the burned machine led authorities to believe it had been used by Edwards assassins. The machine also tallied with the description of the automobile in which Edwards was seen riding shortly before his bullet-riddled body was found in a clump of bushes in Hyde park, fashionable residential section.

Police today continued to grill numerous friends of the slain man to whom Edwards had confided he feared he would be killed by "imported gunmen."

Edwards expressed this fear shortly after he had been arrested on a charge of violating the prohibition laws. At the time of his arrest he stoutly protested his innocence and claimed he had been framed.

Bus Driver Named In Attack Charge

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 21. (AP)—Aroused by reports from W. M. Trotter, division engineer for the state highway commission, that he was attacked and injured severely last Thursday near Durant while guarding a flooded underpass, the commission today took steps to bar a driver for the Dixie Motor Coach company of Dallas from state highways.

L. C. Hutson, commission member, said Trotter reported he was directing cars through the underpass near the Durant-Denison bridge when the bus attempted to crowd in. An altercation followed and the driver left his bus and attacked the engineer, Trotter told the commission.

Pine Attacks Plans For Farm Curtailment

WASHINGTON, May 21. (UP)—The economic theory that the solution of agriculture ills lies in the curtailment of production was attacked in a radio speech delivered today over the National Broadcasting company's hookup by W. B. Pine of Oklahoma.

He advanced the idea that agriculture could be helped by an increase in consumption. He contended that under consumption is hurting business.

"We should produce more and sell for less," Pine declared.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.
(Copyright, 1930, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Stick to Your Diet

Few people have the will power to adhere to a regular diet. There are so many temptations on every hand that one requires a good deal of uncommon sense to stick to the courage of one's convictions. Restaurants are full of tasty dishes; stores show a display of highly colored and deliciously tasting foods which in many cases are quite injurious to health.

A business man will realize that to be successful he must adhere strictly to certain business principles, but this same business man who would not change his system because of a passing whim may sit down to a friends' table and forget all his dietetic rules and eat foods which he knows to be harmful to him. Even a chemist who understands the rules of food chemistry may need only a little urging by some friend to put into his stomach an inharmonious conglomeration of soup, meat, bread, pie and coffee, though he knows it is a bad mixture from a chemical standpoint.

Some people seem to think that as long as they eat foods which are prescribed for them in a diet that they can eat anything else as well. Only a short time ago I placed a woman on an orange juice fast, telling her to take a glassful of orange juice every two hours. The next day she came back with the query of whether she should take her meals between the orange juice feedings or at the same time, and she seemed surprised when I explained that no other food should be taken while on the fast.

If you are following any kind of diet, I would advise you to stick to it absolutely so that you will then have a chance to see whether or not it is beneficial for you. If you eat candy between your meals, or use coffee or sugar when you are not supposed to, you have only yourself to blame if the results are not as you desire. If you are forbidden bread and pastries for some reason, avoid them if you have any confidence in your doctor. It is not just to him or to yourself to take his advice, do what you please, and blame him for the consequences.

Those who are trying to live on diets such as I recommend in this column need not have difficulty in selecting a meal of good combinations either at their friends' houses or at restaurants. Usually there is a large variety of foods from which you may choose—three or four good articles which are necessary to your diet. The average table contains as many as 10 to 15 unnecessary dishes prepared apparently with the sole object in view of tempting the appetite of the diner to overeat. You will find that your friends are usually considerate enough to be willing to serve the foods that your diet list calls for. Diet is no longer considered a fad except by old-fashioned people, and you need not feel ashamed of saving that you desire wholesome foods. Any child can understand that the body is made out of what we eat and drink. It is folly for one to look outside of oneself to find the cause of disease. One is not sick because he does not read a certain book, or because he doesn't take pills, or have an operation, but he is sick because he has lived in a certain way.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Shyness

Question—Y. V. T. writes: "I am a young man 24 years of age, have a good education and enjoy good health. I find it hard to mix with people. Many people think I am 'stuck up' because of my actions but it is really my shyness that causes this. Have tried many times to overcome this, but to no avail. I wish that you would discuss the subject in your column because it would be beneficial to many."

Answer—Sometime ago I printed an article called "That Inferiority Complex." I have since received many requests for this article and I still have a number on hand. It is usually possible to overcome this shyness by cultivating an aggressive mental attitude, taking responsibilities and initiative. It is well to study dancing and join a debating society and to indulge in activities through which you will be forced to meet people.

Milk or Cream

Question—Mrs. C. writes: "I would like to know if a patient taking your diet could drink milk, or is it all right to use milk on the cornmeal mush you recommend in your menus?"

Answer—It depends on which of my diets the patient is following. Sometimes I prescribe an almost exclusive milk diet, and in other diets I do not advise milk. In the average diet, milk may be used in the same manner in which you use any other form of protein. It is best not to use it with cornmeal or other cereals unless they are first dextrinized. Cream contains very little protein and should be used in place of milk on cereals.

Knees Crossed

Question—I. J. H. asks: "Is it harmful to sit with the knees crossed?"

Answer—It is not harmful to sit with the knees crossed. However, it is better not to sit too often in this position with the same leg crossed over, or most of your weight will be carried on one side of the pelvis and this may result in some slight misplacement of the lumbar vertebrae or sacrum.

Coste to Make Talkie Of Flight to America

PARIS, May 21. (UP)—Dieudonne Coste has contracted to make a talking motion picture film of his forthcoming flight from Le Bourget field to New York, which, he announced yesterday, will be attempted in June.

During the flight, Coste plans to speak into a "talkie" apparatus concerning his thoughts and the atmospheric phenomena which the plane encounters, and the record will be used in a movie.

Floods in Roumania Cause Many Deaths

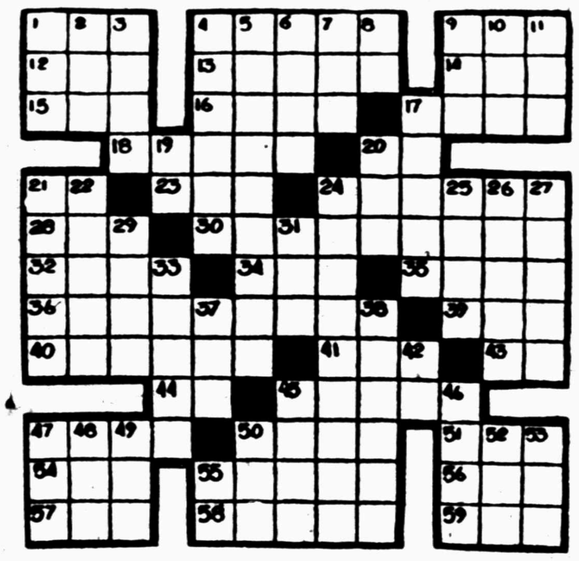

VIENNA, May 21. (UP)—Heavy floods affecting a large section of Transylvania, in Rumania, caused many deaths and heavy damage, while Bucharest itself suffered slightly from high water, dispatches from the Rumanian capital said today.

Eight peasants were drowned in the village of Lunca and numerous bodies were seen floating on the crest of the River Sereth, which was 20 feet above normal.

Editorials Unaffected By Utility Business

WASHINGTON, May 21. (UP)—A denial that newspapers are influenced in their editorial stands by public utility advertising was made before the Public Utilities Advertising association today by Herman Roe, Northfield, Minn., field director of the National Editorial association.

ZUNDY SENIORS HEAR ROGERS

153 Graduate at Annual Ceremonies

C. A. Rogers made the commencement address at the graduating exercises of the Zundelowitz Junior High school Wednesday morning, when Ellen Newby and Paul Collins were awarded the annual Marlow medals upon the recommendations of the Zundelowitz faculty. H. A. Glass, principal, awarded the medals.

Dr. H. T. Wood, pastor of the First Christian church, gave the invocation and Mrs. W. W. Silk, a member of the board of education, pronounced the benediction. Luther Hoffman, recently elected to the board, presented diplomas to the 153 graduates. Musical numbers were given by the school orchestra and glee clubs.

Nell Ground and Robert Collier were presented the English awards for the most marked improvement and Irma Cline and Ralph Dickson for the best usage. T. W. Brumbalow, vice principal, made scholarship and leadership awards to the following students:

Scholarship letters—Marjorie Acton, Juanita Anderson, Josephine Bell, Jean Bowie, Julia Brady, Bobbie Chamberlin, Jane Clayton, Billy Collins, Irma Cline, Maxine Collins, Roy Crocker, Ralph Dickson, Ben Donnell, George Dimock, Mildred Duck, Louise Hall, Mary Lynn Herald, Juanita Hairison, Beatrice Hathorn, Sibyl Herring, Juanita Holmes, Anna Katherine Howard, Ella Frances Howell, Lorena Janeway, R. Leadership Letters—Juanita Anderson, Irma Cline, Juanita Allred, Beatrice Hathorne, Billy Collins, George Dimock, J. L. Pope and Karl ten Brink.

The following were also mentioned for their worthy representation of the school in interscholastic contests during the year: Louise Kelley, Ella Frances Howell, Anna Katherine Howard, Mary Florence Cowden, Selwyn Johnson, Robert Duren, Robert Collier, Sibyl Herring, Fay Humphries and Alice Mayes.

Court to Rule On Ferguson

AUSTIN, May 21. (AP)—The supreme court did not meet today and it was unofficially announced it would not sit before next Tuesday.

It was reported the special supreme court considering the application of former Gov. James E. Ferguson for a mandamus to compel the state Democratic executive committee to place his name on the primary ballots as a candidate for governor would hand down a decision tomorrow.

A. H. Britain of Wichita Falls is chief justice of the special court and C. S. Bradley of Groesbeck is associate justice. Chief Justice C. M. Cureton and Associate Justice Thomas B. Greenwood having disqualified themselves. Associate Justice William Pierson completes the court.

BRITAIN LEAVES FOR HERAING

A. H. Britain, chief justice of the special supreme court, left Wichita Falls Wednesday afternoon for Austin where he expected to preside in the hearing of former Gov. James E. Ferguson's application for a mandamus to compel the Democratic executive committee to place his name on the ticket as a candidate for governor.

Special Implements for Terracing Unnecessary, 'Dad' Short Declares

"The mistaken idea that to terrace their land the farmers must have special implements or machinery" was described by A. K. (Dad) Short, conservation and terracing agent for the federal land bank at Houston, as one of the greatest drawbacks to the progress of terracing throughout Texas, in an interview granted between sessions of the district convention of federal land bank officials and representatives of national farm loan associations in this part of Texas Wednesday at the Kemp hotel.

"If the county agricultural agents were to undertake to do the job themselves, it would take them about 100 years to accomplish the feat," he said. "Except for the purpose of speed, special implements are entirely unnecessary in building terraces. As long as 5,000 years before the world had county agricultural agents or experiment stations, farms were laid out and terraced. What farmers need most is the determination to terrace and conserve soil and moisture. They have the tools.

"Terracing pays better on the so-called level plains land than in any other section of the state. Throughout most of Texas there is sufficient rainfall to make a fair crop every year. A high per cent of this rain comes in quick showers during the growing season and runs off the land. It is possible to retain all the rainfall with contour rows and terracing. R. E. Dixon, superintendent of the state experimental station, has definitely proven that fair crops can be produced with 12 inches of rainfall over the western part of the state, provided the water is held on the ground.

"We have been laboring under the impression that the plains country is level when in reality the average slope of the land in cultivation throughout this entire section is approximately one foot in one hundred. Any land sloping this much, in continuous cultivation, will enentually wash. Land sloping less than one foot in one hundred can be protected from soil and water losses by contouring the rows when planted to row crops, or with small back furrows on contours when planted to small grain. Land sloping more than this, however, must be terraced.

"In the western section where terracing is being practiced for soil conservation, it is not uncommon for terraced soil to produce double the yield of similar land without terracing. This is especially true during dry years.

"Throughout the entire blow sand region we have found that upon terraced land with rows following the terraces, crops are not blown out. Numerous farmers have stated that before terracing they have planted their crops as many as three times, but since they terraced, often covering a period of three or four years, they have not had to replant."

The interest shown by the federal land bank in the teaching of terracing is primarily with a view of preservation of securities, Mr. Short said. Loans are made for from 20 to 34½ years, and the bank is thus guarding against the erosion of farm land during the long period of their loans.

Boy Jail Breakers Face Terms in State School

Two 16-year-old boys who during the early hours of the morning Tuesday sawed their way out of the county jail juvenile ward and after being caught, attempted to saw their way out of the city jail, faced terms in the boys training school at Gatesville Wednesday after James A. McDonald, county juvenile officer, filed delinquency charges against the pair. They had been held with a third boy, who is still at large after the escape, in connection with the burglarizing of a grocery store and filling station here.

The two against whom charges were filed were arrested by M. A. Purdue, patrolman for the George W. Hodgins detective service here a few minutes after they had climbed down the side of the juvenile jail. They had sawed their way through the bars with hack saws obtained by means of lowering strings to persons outside the jail. A piece of hack saw was taken fr[om] them at the city jail after t[hey] had succeeded in sawing one b[ar] in their cell there. Mr. Purdue arrested the pair on suspicion and was not informed until later that they had escaped from the juvenile jail.

Court Denies Rehearing For Condemned Slayer

AUSTIN, May 21. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today denied a re-hearing in a death sentence case and affirmed a life imprisonment judgment.

Monty Jackson, given death by a Fort Bend county jury for the murder of E. C. Cornelius last June 20, was denied a re-hearing, the court previously having affirmed the judgment. The life imprisonment sentence against Robert Bailey, convicted in Milam county for the murder of his wife, Texana Bailey, was affirmed. Both Jackson and Bailey are negroes.

RASKOB PANNED BY INDIANAN

Report of Huston Called 'Political Move'

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—A speech assailing Chairman Raskob of the Democratic national committee for his connection with the association against the prohibition amendment was delivered in the senate today by Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana, after the senate lobby committee had submitted a report on the Muscle Shoals activities of Chairman Huston of the Republican national committee.

The Huston report was presented by Chairman Caraway of the lobby committee without comment almost at the same time that Robinson presented one discussing the lobby committee testimony concerning the Democratic national chairman.

That presented by Caraway reviewed testimony concerning the collection of $36,100 by Huston from the Union Carbide company, which was interested in Muscle Shoals legislation, and the deposit of the fund in Huston's brokerage account where it was used for purchase of stocks. No comment was made on the testimony by the committee which confined its report entirely to a relation of the testimony.

After the report was read, Robinson, the only administration Republican member of the committee, characterized it as "entirely political and intended to achieve only political results on the eve of a political campaign."

Describing the report as a "condemnation of Huston," the Indianan asserted he had not joined in it because of its "political nature." He said that was the first time the lobby committee had divided on a report.

Robinson asserted he was convinced that Raskob "went into the Democratic party and became chairman of the national executive committee for one purpose only, and that was to destroy the 18th amendment of the constitution."

Robinson's report said Raskob was a director of the association against the prohibition amendment, had contributed $77,000 and that the association "has generally had his active aid and assistance in all its plans and undertakings."

Wichita Lions Club Honors Dr. Graham

Dr. R. H. Graham recently elected governor general of Texas Lions clubs, was honored at the regular weekly meeting of the Wichita Falls Lions club Wednesday noon. Reports from all who attended the recent state convention in Austin were given and all were of the opinion Dr. Graham was the most popular candidate for the office of governor general that has ever been nominated at a convention of the clubs over the state.

E. F. Bohmfalk reported on a trip on which the band was taken to give a program at the auditorium in Seymour last Sunday. At the luncheon Wednesday, entertainment was provided by a male quartet composed of E. F. Bohmfalk, Claude Young, W. P. Lacey and Leo Underwood. Plans were made for a program to include a number of races and contests between members of various clubs at a meet in Iowa Park June 20.

Knox County Road Work Approved by Commission

AUSTIN, May 21. (AP)—The state highway commission today approved $208,728 for road work in nine counties.

The appropriations included: Knox county, $35,167, 13 miles grading and drainage structures, highway 24, from Benjamin to King county.

Exports of ostrich feathers from South Africa have amounted to $15,000,000 in a single year.

DEATH CLAIMS LEE KELLY

Veteran Salesman Dies at His Home in Sherman

News was received here Wednesday night of the death of Lee Kelly, 71, veteran traveling salesman who has followed the same itinerary through Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma during the past 33 years on the road.

Mr. Kelly, well known here from innumerable visits to local merchants, was a descendant of Collin McKinney, signer of the Texas declaration of independence. He was a large property holder in Sherman and other Texas communities.

Besides his widow, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. E. K. Taylor, Van Alstyne, and three brothers, John Kelly, Stanton; Sam Kelly, Harrold, and J. L. Kelly, Van Alstyne. Funeral services will be held in Sherman Thursday afternoon.

MRS. JOHN GREY

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. John Grey, 35, of Temple, Texas, who died in a local hospital about noon Wednesday, remained incomplete late Wednesday night, attendants at the Hines mortuary still awaiting word from Hollywood, Calif., where the body will be forwarded for burial after instructions from Mr. Grey.

MRS. LAURA J. HOSTETLER

Mrs. Laura Jones Hostetler, wife of John C. Hostetler, 2135 Avenue J, died at her home Wednesday night at 10:20 o'clock. Funeral arrangement, which will be under the direction of the Hines mortuary, have not been completed, pending the arrival of two sisters who live out of the state. Mrs. Hostetler is survived by a son, John C. Hostetler, besides her husband.

Products Sold Abroad Gain

U. S. Manufacturers' Skill Has Telling Effect

LOS ANGELES, May 21. (US)—Enterprise of American manufacturers and salesmen is steadily building up an important feature of foreign commerce—the increasing export of the products of manufacture as compared with raw materials—James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, told the delegates to the foreign trade convention today.

"Our export trade for the last calendar year showed that raw materials and crude foodstuffs combined were slightly more than one-quarter of the whole, while products of manufacture constituted nearly three-quarters of our total exports, and finished manufactures alone were nearly one-half of the total," said Mr. Farrell.

"That is what we have been striving for during the past 15 years. There is genuine encouragement to be found in this fact, for it is notable that the gain was achieved in that element of our export trade that is directly responsive to merchandising enterprise and skill."

Discussing money conditions, Mr. Farrell declared that while the collapse in security markets last fall is generally regarded as a prime cause of present conditions in trade, he believes that "the conditions in the money market which preceded for nearly two years the spectacular events of October and November are much more likely to have exerted extensive influence on international commerce than did the abrupt return to a more nearly normal situation."

These conditions, he said, have adversely affected the supply of foreign exchange, because of the high money rates in America, but "the break itself may ultimately cause some measure of remedy, for it has been followed by an easing of money rates which is already turning the attention of American investors toward sound foreign securities.

"It seems likely," he said, "that we may soon resume a rate of foreign investment approaching that of several years ago, with corresponding ease of the market for dollar exchange."

"The world trade outlook is improving," he concluded. "We may look forward to an increasing volume as the year progresses."

John Lee Smith to Speak Here Tonight

Judge John Lee Smith of Throckmorton, candidate for the congressional nomination from the 13th district, will speak Thursday night in the 78th district courtroom in the courthouse here, according to the announcement of Mrs. Smith, who arrived in Wichita Falls Wednesday in the interests of her husband's campaign for the nomination. The address will begin at 8 o'clock.

Judge Smith will pay his respects especially to the county and state Democratic executive committees and to his opponent, Guinn Williams, Mrs. Smith said. In previous announcements of the issues on which his platform is based, Judge Smith stated he was "agin' Al Smith, Tammany hall, and the wets." It was expected Wednesday night that he would express his views on those subjects in connection with his talk here Thursday night.

House Committee Head Raps Chain Banking

TULSA, Okla., May 21. (AP)—Group, chain and branch banking came in for criticism in an address by James G. Strong, Kansas congressman, chairman of the house committee on banking and currency, before the Oklahoma Bankers association convention here today. He pictured the new methods of multi-unit banking as having a tendency to permit monopolies and centralized control of money and credits for selfish interests.

A state survey revealed there was one forest fire to every 840 persons in California last year.

A campaign has been launched by the Oklahoma state plant board to get farmers to use pure seed.

Danny Leach's Mother Tells of 'Pay-Off' Plan

EASTLAND, Texas, May 21. (AP)—Mrs. J. H. Leach, mother of Danny Leach of Cisco, charged with slaying a man identified as Jack Johnson of Golden, Colo., testified for her son here today.

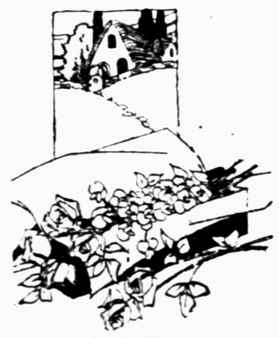

Mrs. Leach related that A. B. Morton, state's witness who swore that Leach told him that he had killed a man, came to her home and told her that if she would give him $50 to buy off employes of a carnival that he would see that her son was never indicted.

She said that she told him that she did not have the money but that if he was broke as he claimed he was she would let him sleep in her home.

RURAL SCHOOL VOTES BONDS

Tillman County District to Erect Building

Special to the Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., May 21.—Residents of the recently formed consolidated school district No. 13, west of Frederick, voted by 104 to 6 to issue bonds of $40,000 for the purpose of constructing and equipping a modern school building in that district.

The new consolidated district is a merger of the districts of Alpian, Riverside, Tesca and West Liberty schools. The new building will probably be located on the W. G. Weaver farm, which is near the geographical center of the district. The school will be named Weaver school.

Plans are being laid by residents of southwestern Kansas to plant 1,000,000 trees in an effort to convert part of the plains country to woods.

RIVER PROJECT UNDER SURVEY

Engineers Study Proposed Pease Dam Site

Special to The Record News

QUANAH, Texas, May 21.—A crew of eight engineers from the corps of engineers of the United States army are now headquartering at Crowell, in Foard county, while making a survey of the site of the proposed dam on Pease river southwest of Quanah. They will probably remain there for two of three weeks.

H. B. Nunell, senior superintendent, is in charge of the group, which is working out of Vicksburg, Mississippi, the southern headquarters for flood relief work.

The proposed dam will come under both flood relief and reclamation projects of the government if found feasible. Thousands of acres of land in Hardeman, Foard, Wilbarger and Wichita counties would become subject to irrigation under the project, and various cities will be able to augment their water supply from the huge lake to be formed by the construction of the proposed dam.

Various surveys have already been made, and practically all of them are reported favorable to a more or less degree.

Dairymen Plan Advertising Drive

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 27. (UP)—Plans for a national advertising campaign to increase consumption of dairy products were discussed by members of the dairy industry in a meeting at the state capitol today.

The meeting was addressed by Clyde Bechtelheimer, Washington, D. C., secretary of the national dairy council.

Bechtelheimer pointed out that consumption of dairy products in the South is only about one-half of the consumption in other parts of the country and that in the nation at large, the consumption is only about 50 per cent of the consumption in foreign countries.

The Oklahoma team members that will go to England to participate in the world's dairy judging contest were guests at the meeting. Team members are James R. Childers, Hillsdale, Garfield county; Hollis Kennedy, Ardmore, and Felix King, Ardmore.

M'ALESTER CITY MANAGER

M'ALESTER, Okla., May 21. (UP)—Jess Kirby, connected with the sales department at the state penitentiary for the past two years, has been named city manager of McAlester, succeeding W. C. Tippitt. Kirby was assistant state bank commissioner for two years.

GIRL BANDIT TELLS STORY

Bandit Decoy Confesses to Robbery

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 21. (UP)—Mary Prine, 16-year-old bandit decoy, confessed today to aiding two "boy friends" in robbing L. R. Strickland, a motor company employe.

Mary, whose parents live in Bristow, implicated Howard Lee and Jimmie Watson, shortly after her arrest by police today.

"I did it but I don't know why," she told Chief Charles Becker. "I guess I don't have a home like other girls."

She is a sophomore at the Bristow high school. Her mother and father recently had separated, she said.

"I met the two boys at a dance hall. They explained that they wanted a good looking girl to walk along in front of them and stop men. Then they would hold the man up.

"Last night we did this to a man in a car but while we were driving along, Jimmie and Howard holding him up, we sideswiped a car. The boys took a few pennies from the man, Strickland," she said.

Hale Trial Witness Convicted in 'Dry' Case

GUTHRIE, Okla., May 21. (UP)—Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaught today sentenced F. R. Tindel to 18 months in prison and fined him $300 when he pleaded guilty to counts of violating federal liquor laws.

Tindel, who was arrested after officers conducted a raid on a place in Kay county, was the chief defense witness in the murder trial of W. K. Hale.

Grocery Clerk Killed By Oklahoma Robbers

MIAMI, Okla., May 21. (UP)—Wesley Crosby, a grocery clerk, was instantly killed last night when he resisted two robbers who held up the Council House Country store 18 miles southwest of here in the hilly part of Ottawa county.

Zackie Barnett, proprietor of the store, lost $80 in the holdup, but escaped unharmed.

GORDON MAKES GUILTY PLEA

Former State Attorney to Serve Term

GUTHRIE, Okla., May 21. (UP)—Former Assistant Attorney General W. O. Gordon entered a plea of guilty to an extortion charge before Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaught today.

Gordon was charged with accepting money from Homer Knappenberger, former Earlsboro mayor, during state investigation of Pottawatomie county affairs.

Sentence was deferred until October 6.

Judge Vaught overruled a motion filed by Gordon asking for delay of trial.

Gordon was indicted during the Pottawatomie county liquor conspiracy trial after officers investigated the origin of a check made out on Dec. 31, 1929. United States District Attorney Roy St. Lewis, who arrived here today from New York, said government agents used Knappenberger to secure admissions from Gordon about the bribery.

The government also witnessed Gordon repay Knappenberger $250, Lewis said. Gordon was alleged to have received $2,300 during the state investigation of 1926.

Gordon's guilty plea came as a surprise.

He was employed as an investigator and assistant attorney general for 16 years until his resignation was asked Feb. 3, by Attorney General J. Berry King.

He was first employed by Attorney General Prince Freeling.

Kentucky will realize $2,000 000 in revenue annually from a gross sales tax under a new law just passed.

Electra Society

Mrs. C. C. Adams, group leader, assisted by Mesdames A. C. Rippy, C. E. Houser, J. B. Minton, R. L. Handcock, S. C. Massingill, W. J. Sheldon, O. A. Basham, P. P. Jones, H. A. Decker and George B. Ancell Jr. entertained the members of the Friendship class of the First Methodist church in the basement of the church Thursday afternoon. The assembly room of the church was decorated with shaded lights and masses of spring flowers. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the decorations and the refreshments.

Mrs. W. E. Vaught, president, presided over the brief business session, which opened with the song, "He Included Me," after which Mrs. G. L. Henson led the opening prayer. Each officer of the class, including the finance treasurer, gave a report during the business session.

During the social hour Misses Belva Hannah and Oscelle Terry, accompanied at the piano by Miss Lettrice Wofford, sang a group of songs. Delicious refreshments consisting of strawberry sherbet and angel food cake with dainty rose cups filled with candy as favors were served to the guests.

The guest list included Mesdames C. C. Harrison, W. E. Latham, E. L. Blain, M. L. Wilson, Jim Schreurer, J. L. LeBouf, H. F. Brackett, L. G. McLaughlin, J. W. Malone, H. A. Mitchell, A. C. Jones, H. A. Decker and George B. Ancell Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Marchant entertained with a bridge party at their home on North Wichita Thursday evening. The house was decorated with pot plants and cut flowers. A color scheme suggestive of spring was carried out in table accessories. Five tables were arranged for the games with Mrs. J. P. Parr winning the high score trophy for the ladies and J. H. Marriott Jr., high for the men.

A delicious refreshment course was served to Messrs. and Mesdames J. P. Parr, L. B. Slaughter, Edward Schlaffke, J. A. King, R. P. Hall, U. G. White, Frank Fisher, W. H. Chaffee, J. H. Marriott Jr. and J. W. Gookin.

The Truth Seekers class of the First Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. E. B. Holcomb on West Cleveland Friday afternoon and elected officers for the ensuing year. Mrs. M. L. Connally was elected president; Mrs. J. F. Stanford, first vice president; Mrs. H. M. Keesee, second vice president; Mrs. Carl Barnes, third vice president; Mrs. J. L. Graham, secretary; Mrs. A. S. Kerby, treasurer; Mrs. J. W. Swinson, reporter. Group captains appointed were Mesdames Sam Wilson, H. T. McKee, L. P. Warren, Ellis Geaslin, L. D. Butler, Andy Anderson, J. T. Bills and J. D. Smith. Mrs. E. B. Holcomb was re-elected class teacher and Mrs. W. W. Rivers will have charge of the class this summer during Mrs. Holcomb's absence.

During the social hour refreshments were served to about 30 members.

Mrs. I. K. Williams was hostess to members of the Primo Bridge club at her home on North Waggoner Thursday afternoon. Three tables were arranged for the games with pastel shades suggestive of spring being used in the table appointments and decorations. Mrs. J. A. O'Pry received high score and Mrs. J. H. Harris cut prize.

Delicious refreshments were served to Mesdames J. T. McDannald, B. V. Magee, J. H. Harris, J. A. O'Pry, John LeBus, R. P. Hall, George LeBus, T. H. Farmley, A. S. Haaf, C. P. Engelking, members, and Mrs. George McGann, guest.

J. G. B. Totten, president, presided over the meeting of the Rotary club Friday at the regular noon luncheon. Visitors introduced included C. W. Beavers, Wichita Falls; Misses Orena Towles, Oleta Jones, Messrs. Sterling and Dick Guinn, Charlie Mauldin and H. E. Wilson, Electra.

A. M. Moore and T. T. Weatherall were in charge of the entertainment and presented Misses Jones and Towles in several musical numbers. Messrs. Sterling and Dick Guinn, Charlie Mauldin and H. E. Wilson gave several quartet selections. Miss Dorothy Parr was presented in a tap dance number with Mrs. Phillip Broadwell playing the accompaniment.

Supt. B. M. Dinsmore outlined the plans for the graduation exercises and gave a resume of the year's work. He also expressed his appreciation to the club for its hearty cooperation this year.

Cooking School Note

In the cooking school conducted under the auspices of the Times and Record News in the Memorial Auditorium, Mrs. Frances Northcross stresses modern methods of cooking. Naturally, then, she uses and recommends CRISCO, the modern shortening

How an Irishman glorified the Irish potato

JUST the other evening I ran across this interesting recipe for Potatoes O'Brien and the story of its origin:

O'Brien, so the story goes, was chef at Jack's, a restaurant famous for its good food back in the days when New York was small enough that you sometimes met a friend on the street. And he originated Potatoes O'Brien—a favorite dish in hotels everywhere today.

If you've thought that Potatoes O'Brien were too complicated to make at home, you'll be glad to know how easy they are—and how good! Fried in Crisco, a fat so sweet and fresh that it tastes good all by itself, potatoes really taste like potatoes.

POTATOES O'BRIEN

Dice cold boiled potatoes. Mix them with chopped raw bacon, onion and pimiento. Fry in Crisco in a frying pan as you would hashed brown potatoes. Stir occasionally until partly brown over the bottom, double over like an omelet and serve on the platter in omelet shape.

The secret of an omelet's rise

Here's an omelet that has a success hint wrapped up in it: It's browned on top of the stove and then popped into the oven to finish cooking, so that there's no chance of its falling. And, of course, the delicate, fresh-laid flavor of the eggs is preserved when you fry in Crisco—a cooking fat that tastes good just as it comes from its air-tight can.

SUCCESS OMELET

5 eggs (separated)
1 teaspoon salt
5 tablespoons hot water
Few grains pepper
Few grains cayenne
1 tablespoon Crisco

Beat egg yolks until thick and add salt, pepper and cayenne—and hot water. Mix well. Fold in lightly the stiffly beaten whites until thoroughly blended. Melt Crisco in an iron frying pan or omelet pan. Pour in the egg mixture and spread evenly. Cook over a slow fire, moving the pan occasionally so as to distribute the heat evenly. When a delicate brown underneath, put in a moderate oven (350° F.) and bake 10 or 15 minutes or until top is firm. Fold and serve on a hot platter. Garnish with parsley. As a change from plain omelet, just before serving, fold in the omelet, jelly (or hot green vegetables such as peas or asparagus).

ALL MEASUREMENTS LEVEL. Recipes tested and approved by cooking authorities. Crisco is the registered trademark of a shortening manufactured by The Procter & Gamble Company.

©1930, P. & G. Co.

Taste Crisco—then any other shortening. Crisco's sweet, fresh flavor will tell you why things made with Crisco taste so much better.

WOMEN PRAISE COOKING TALKS

Mrs. Northcross' Lectures Win Approval

young mothers have to learn how to give their children the proper food.

"It is a splendid thing for the town," Mrs. Fischer stated—"giving unusual training for the home maker."

Mrs. Ben G. Oneal, Country Club Estates, said emphatically that the school was a splendidly conducted one with a woman of personality at the head of it.

"Personality," Mrs. Oneal added, "is very essential for one to get over the points they wish to enforce." Most appealing to Mrs. Oneal, were the beautifully garnished salads, the prettiest she stated, she had ever seen.

Mrs. Ross Corlett, 2012 Huff, said she enjoyed the school so much she wished to attend all the meetings and that she had already tried out one of Mrs. Northcross's recipes for lemon meringue pie, "which proved perfectly delicious." Another recipe tried by more than one of the women attending the school Tuesday, was the bread case to be toasted with egg and bacon. Mrs. A. W. Burnside, Country Club Estates, said that she had them for breakfast Wednesday morning and Mr. Burnside pronounced the eggs decidedly the best he had ever eaten. Mrs. Burnside declared her intention of going back, saying she was thrilled over the school and what she learned.

Recipes Given Test

And Mrs. O. E. Maer, a housekeeper of ripe experience, said she never went to a cooking school without learning something and as the one now being conducted was in such a pretty setting, with such an interesting program and with lectures given by a woman who enunciated so well that everyone could hear, she thoroughly enjoyed it. Mrs. Maer was interested Wednesday in having a letter from a cousin in Greenville, Miss., telling her to be sure to hear Mrs. Northcross; that the lecturer was formerly a popular society woman of that city and on her husband's death had capitalized the talent she had so that she was nationally known.

Mrs. Guy Raley, chairman of the health and home department of the Woman's Forum, is having every member of that department notified of the treat in store for them at the school.

Devils Food Cake

"One of the most important steps to cooking," said Mrs. Northcross Wednesday, "is to know your product." In the end, the best is cheapest." As she talked, the lecturer seemed just a delightful hostess to the audience. She urged that they make themselves comfortable and asked all who wished, to take off their hats. She spoke of the fact that in the oven of the electric range, the Westinghouse Electric company had duplicated the theory of the old Dutch oven in the automatic control of the oven and the stored heat that could be used. Using the recipe given on the program, Mrs. Northcross went through each step, adding little pointers that were eagerly noted by her audience. One was that mint made a delightful flavor for the icing of a chocolate cake; another that if one did not have sour milk, by putting a teaspoon of vinegar in half a cup of sweet milk, it would sour in an hour's time. Mrs. Northcross recommended K. C. baking powder, "25 ounces for 25 cents," stating that she did not intend to dictate what the women of the city should use, but she used in her recipes, the materials she had tried and had most success with. That the batter in devils food cake must not be quite so thick as other batters, was emphasized and also the fact that putting the chocolate in the other ingredients while it was still warm, made a cake of a delightful consistency.

Mrs. Northcross never misses an opportunity to recommend Fair Park dairy's certified "Grade A" milk and cream. As she used milk in the recipes, she spoke of the importance of giving children milk from a herd that is not only accredited by the state but by the government. "The cows have a bath twice a day," she said. "They are really kept more sanitary than most of us keep our babies. Sanitary towels are used for the udders and there are no flies. It is the first dairy in my experience, except one in Washington, D. C., where there is no cow odor." She emphasized again the fact that this milk with its vitamines A, B, C and D is like a blood transfusion for the child, without the pain of the transfusion.

"Best Biscuits"

Mrs. Northcross promised on Tuesday to give a recipe for the best biscuit one had ever eaten. When she announced Wednesday she was ready to give it, there was a startling rustle of paper all over the house. Mixing and talking, she gave the following directions: "Take six cups of Gold Medal flour," she said, adding there was a technique in using flour and in the sifter he showed. "Add to it, four teaspoons of K. C. baking powder; two and one-half cups of clabber, butter milk of sour milk; one cup of Crisco." There was a ripple of laughter and the lecturer went calmly on. "Yes, it makes a large batch of dough, but if you have a properly iced refrigerator, it will keep over a week—Add one-half a teaspoon of salt and an additional teaspoon full because Crisco has no salt; one tespoon of soda. This recipe will make 60 medium sized biscuits," she said. "Sift the flour with the dry ingredients in a bowl; put the shortening in with a spatula, thoroughly cutting it through the flour; make a well in the center and stir in the liquid all at one time. Mix well and put in the refrigerator and chill before baking. Cut the biscuit small and put in a pan where you have melted Crisco and turn over at once; let rise 30 minutes and bake in an oven 450 to 475 F." As Mrs. Northcross spoke, she demonstrated, remarking when she rolled and cut her biscuit a little later, that dough rolled one-half an inch thick would make a biscuit one inch thick when baked. "Take a piece of dough from the refrigerator and use as you need it," she said. "Of course they are a little expensive as every man wants six or seven."

On a thinly rolled sheet of dough, she spread peanut butter, telling the audience they could use jam, preserves or many different fillings. It was rolled, chilled, sliced and baked the delicious little biscuits that with a glass of milk were said to be especially good for the underweight child. "You should keep track of the weight of the family," Mrs. Northcross said. "The children should be given food and made to rest; rest is necessary. Animals lie down when they eat and the same rest is necessary for people." Drinking pure water was recommended as a most necessary thing. "Water controls body temperature and builds and repairs muscles tissues," was repeated, "and one should drink from eight to 10 glasses a day."

Fluffy icing was next demonstrated and as Mrs. Northcross prepared it, Miss Robb again demonstrated the Thor washer on the stage. "Every day we will talk to you about washing," Mrs. Northcross said. "It may bore you as much as it bored me when I had to wash without these modern labor saving devices." The Welsbach water heater on the stage through courtesy of the Wichita Hardware company, was again recommended and Mrs. Northcross remarked that one does not have to use soft water as in the "Rinso," a perfect water softener was furnished.

Meringues were beaten up and promised as a demonstration for Thursday with delicious variations and as the devils food cake was turned from the pans, Mrs. Northcross called for several paper napkins which she saturated with vanilla, using a teaspoon full, and laid over the cakes, stating that this gives the completed product a better flavor, much more delicious than when the vanilla is cooked.

The onion rings used as a garnish for the roast cooked Tuesday will be demonstrated Friday. Croquettes furnished one of the delicious recipes on the Wednesday menu and the importance of using clean fat was stressed. "Smoked fat is decomposed fat," the lecturer said. "Do not even use bacon grease that has been smoked unless you take the cold fat, put it in a cold kettle with sliced cold potatoes and heat all together, then strain through two layers of cheesecloth. Never," she insisted, "use smoked fat."

Crullers were next on the menu and the finished dough put in the refrigerator to be used another day. "Crullers or doughnuts are about the same," said Mrs. Northcross. "Some say one is made with baking powder and one with yeast, and some vice versa and one woman asked when I said that, 'how many teaspoons of vice versa did you say?'"

Stuffed tomatoes as given on the program were recommended as an entree at a company luncheon or dinner and finally Mrs. Northcross took up the one feature for which many women had waited—the proper broiling of steak.

Broiled Steak Makes Hit

Using a lovely sirloin from the A. & P. company, she showed how to rub it with Crisco, remarking that the electric oven, where the steak was broiled with the door open, was almost like the old method of broiling over charcoal. Enough hot water was put in the broiling pan to cover, cooks were warned that when meat was frozen or chilled, they must let it come to the temperature of the room before putting it on the broiling rack. For seasoning Mrs. Northcross used one clove, a bunch of parsley, a little lemon juice, salt, pepper, a slice of onion and paprika. The steak was to be broiled medium well done in 15 minutes; rare in eight, including the five minutes used to sere each side, no salt until cooked.

Mrs. Northcross promises Thursday to demonstrate to interested housewives different cuts of meat from a chart. "We will discuss in detail the cow's or lamb's or pig's anatomy," she said.

Preparations Made for Thursday

Bread was sliced and spread with colored cheese colored in dainty shades to be used in checkerboard sandwiches to be demonstrated Thursday. Mity-Nice bread was recommended, made with Gold Medal flour and Crisco. Directions were given for making iced coffee. One hint almost startling to the audience was the use of just a few grains of salt to bring out the flavor of the Bokar coffee particularly recommended by the lecturer. "Pour the warm coffee over cracked ice in the glasses," said Mrs. Northcross. "Add one teaspoon full of vanilla to a pint of whipped cream; this gives a delightful flavor to iced coffee."

Prunes were next soaked in tea; "You will never recognize the prune," Mrs. Northcross said. "Prunes are a valuable part of diet, each prune carrying 25 calories." The drinking of Indian tea, grown where land and climate made it best, was urged as a habit creating an atmosphere of cheer and conviviality.

Merchants' Cooperation Stressed

Mrs. Northcross showed the contents of the market baskets full of food merchants were giving away to the ladies attending the school. An order for Pure Ice Cream, a loaf of Mity-Nice bread, a box of Brown's Crackers and one of wafers, a box of Rinso and one of Lux, a can of Crisco, a sack of Gold Medal flour and a box of Gold Medal pastry flour, the wheat breakfast food made by the company making the flour, a can of Staley syrup—these were some of the things in each basket.

Baskets were presented to Mrs. Anna Wooten, route two; Mrs. Herman Gibson, Electra; Mrs. J. D. Sullivan, 1100 Monroe; Mrs. J. D. McKinnon, 1508½ Westlake drive; Mrs. C. D. Barnard, 1600 Grant street, and Miss Thelma Williams, 1001 Pecanway drive. Mrs. F. E. Killingsworth, route two, was presented with a coupon book for 1,000 pounds of ice by the Ice Manufacturing companies of Wichita. Mrs. Fred S. Roop, Iowa Park road, received a large can of Crisco, and Mrs. G. R. Decker, 1210 Clark, a sack of Gold Medal flour. Mesdames L. M. Calcote and W. L. Lane each received half a caramel cake; Mesdames Art Davis and J. J. Jenkins each half a gold cake; Mrs. J. J. Langmack, a peach salad; Mesdames Lewis S. Lund and C. H. Fooshee, a tray each of ice box cookies; Mrs. W. A. Stewart, a devils food cake; Mrs. J. L. Elam, the chocolate pudding with fluffy icing baked Tuesday and Mrs. R. E. Sehmann, 1107 Grace street, was the recipient of the beautifully garnished steak, surrounded with stuffed tomatoes and peppers that made the audience exclaim with appreciation.

Twenty thousand East Texas pine logs are being shipped to Ohio to be used as piling along the Ohio river.

BOY SENTENCED TO LIFE TERM

Prison Swallows Youthful Bandit Leader

ELIZABETH, N. J., May 21. (UP)—A jury decided today that George Daniecki, at the age of 15, is not fitted to society and hence must spend the rest of his life in prison.

The same verdict of guilty of first degree murder and the same recommendation of mercy that substituted life imprisonment for the electric chair was reached in the cases of William Garry, 18, and William Gallagher, 20. The killing took place during a holdup that netted them only $4.65 and a sentence to serve out their days at hard penitentiary labor.

Hard labor is nothing new to George Daniecki, the youngest person ever charged with first degree murder in this state. He was 8 when he started to work and, with the exception of a year and a half spent in a state reformatory after he had rebelled and had run away from home, he has been working ever since.

This toughened his body so that today he seems older than his years. But it also toughened his mind and there seemed little doubt that he was the leader of the bandit-slayers whose majority will be attained while they are behind bars.

Bill for Additional Judgeships Approved

WASHINGTON, May 21. (INS)—The Bachmann plan of creating 17 additional federal judgeships to relieve the courts of the congestion caused by increase of prohibition and other criminal cases was adopted by the house judiciary committee today.

The committee postponed until Monday action on the Wickersham law enforcement commission's so-called "juryless trial" plan to speed prohibition enforcement and may let it die in committee.

Elk City, Okla., Makes Big Population Gain

LAWTON, Okla., May 21. (UP)—Elk City, in Beckham county, has made the greatest percentage gain since 1920 of any city in the eighth congressional district, census figures released here today show.

The city had 2,814 population in 1920 and 5,662 in 1930. Erick, also in Beckham county, increased from 971 to 2,229.

Lawton has a population of 12,115 an increase from 8,930 in 1920. Fort Sill increased from 2,345 to 3,479.

Beginning of Prison Term Looms for Owens

TULSA, Okla., May 21. (UP)—O. O. Owens, wealthy oil man and state representative was back at his home here today but had "nothing to say" about serving the remainder of his one-year sentence in the Oklahoma county jail.

His 10-day stay of execution granted by Gov. W. J. Holloway, expires Sunday. He had been in Texas supervising oil properties since the federal court mandate arrived ordering him back to jail on a contempt of the supreme court citation.

Lumber Company Heads To Meet in Frederick

Special to The Record News

FREDERICK, Okla., May 21.—Jack Craig, manager of the local yard of the Wm. Here is the way COOKING SCHOOL EXPERTS make tea!

*Look for this Map of India on the package of tea you buy!

For making tea that surpasses your ideal in flavor, richness and alluring bouquet, try this method:

FIRST: see that the water you use is thoroughly boiling... not just steaming.

SECOND: warm the tea pot by rinsing it with scalding hot water.

THIRD: put a level teaspoonful of India Tea into the tea pot for each person to be served... and one for the pot.

FOURTH: pour the boiling water on the tea leaves and replace the cover of the tea pot.

FIFTH: allow the tea to brew for five minutes. No less! For it takes fully five minutes to draw out the flavor of fine tea. At the end of five minutes your tea is rich, full-bodied and flavorful ... ready to serve!

MOST IMPORTANT: be sure to remove the tea leaves from the liquid at the end of five minutes. You can either pour the tea off in another tea pot or if you use a teaball take the ball out of the pot.

*To be sure you get genuine India Tea, ask your grocer for one of the brands listed below. Look for the Map of India on the package of tea you buy!

MOTHERS SEE HERO GRAVES

Sky Itself Weeps With American Women

ROMAGNE - SOUS - MONTFAUcon, France, May 21. (AP)—Nearly two-thirds of the American gold star mothers looked for the first time today on their soldier sons' graves in the principal American military cemetery here.

The mothers came in motor cars from historic Verdun where they spent the night resting from their long drive from Paris.

The sky itself was tinged with sadness and rain cut short the pilgrimage after an hour. Many of the mothers had brought evergreen wreaths, some entwined with flowers and others found wreaths ready for them here.

The mothers, almost 200 of them, went in little groups to different parts of the cemetery and there prayed at the graves of their boys. There was some sobbing and all were wet-eyed as they lived over again the day their sons departed.

When after an hour a squall of rain came, the mothers were hurried by the accompanying officers to the hostess house where they had lunch.

All of the mothers arrived at Verdun last night, but many were tired. Mayor Schleiter and other officials as well as the French war widows of the region greeted them.

Baker Indicted for Murder of Mother

CLARKSVILLE, Texas, May 21. (AP)—Charged with the shotgun slaying of his mother, Mrs. G. W. Baker, near Avery, April 25, George Lloyd Baker, 20, today faced an indictment for murder returned yesterday by the Red River county grand jury.

He was at liberty under $1,000 bond since his preliminary hearing, at which he claimed the shooting was a result of his mothers attempt to take away property left him by his father, who died several months ago.

Jim Tully to Play In Gilbert Picture

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 21. (INS)—The pipe of peace was being smoked today by Jack Gilbert and Jim Tully.

Some weeks ago the two noted residents of the motion picture colony swapped punches in a cafe here.

Yesterday Tully went to Gilbert's home and there the feud between them was officially declared off.

Tully, in fact, has agreed to play a role in Gilbert's next picture—the first time he has appeared on any screen.

G. B. S. Has Last Word but Woman May Profit $250

LONDON, May 21. (INS)—London is chuckling over the story of the woman who got the better of the great George Bernard Shaw.

Shaw recently received a letter from the woman asking for a free copy of "An Intelligent Woman's Guide to Socialism" for some society for women she had just formed.

He wrote across the bottom of the letter: "Damn it, no! A woman's society that cannot afford $4 for a copy of any book has no right to exist." He signed it and sent it back.

Two weeks later the woman wrote back saying she had taken the letter to a bookseller, who gave her a copy of the book for it.

Shaw wrote on the bottom of that letter: "What fools women are! If you had taken it to the right place you would have got $250 for it." He signed that note too, and sent it back to the woman.

Shaw is probably congratulating himself on having said the last word, but the woman may yet get her $250 for the second letter!

Build up Baby's vitality now before hot weather!

ICE
will help you do it~

Summer has always been a problem to mothers. Not so great a problem as it used to be, thanks to the all-year-around use of ice.

For it is just as important that Baby's milk be kept cool and wholesome during these spring days, with their rapid temperature changes, than it is during the warmest summer months.

A child whose vitality is kept at par, who is in the pink of physical condition always, will come through the summer with scarcely a fretful hour.

Moreover, as his appetite develops, he will need other foods in addition to milk—orange or tomato juice, broths, cereals, codliver oil. All should be kept cool. All require a well-iced refrigerator.

In fact, many foods for the entire family look better, taste better, and are better when preserved with ice. The year-around use of ice extends the season for fresh fruits and vegetables. The tinkle of ice in glasses adds to the attractiveness of the table at any season.

And when you take ice from the ice man, you can always get all you want. You can be sure that it not only keeps your food cold enough, but moist enough, For the moisture given off by melting ice is as important a part of food preservation as coldness. Ice keeps food fresh, prevents it from drying out, purifies the air, and carries off odors and impurities. It adjusts itself to any season, any condition.

Ask Your Ice Man

To get the greatest benefit from ICE make sure that you have a good refrigerator. One that is properly built, and large enough for your needs.

Your ice company is a specialist in refrigeration and will gladly give you competent advice—either selling you one at a low price and easy terms or recommending the right box for you. Just "ask your ice man."

CATS TAKE OPENER AS WHITWORTH SHUTS OUT SPUDDERS, 5-0

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED D. THOMPSON

Guy Airey tore into town again, bringing with him the news that Spider Levey is threatened with the loss of his nickname. Dallas, said Guy, is wild about Levey. On the streets, in the elevators, everywhere people are talking about the nimble shortstopper. And they refer to him as "Lightnin'" Levey.

Skipper Williams dubbed him "Spider" but "Lightnin'" is better.

He is steadily justifying the new moniker, even as Steengrafe is daily living up to his new handle of "Maul 'Em Milt." At least Milt looked that way in the last game with Dallas, when he for the second time on the road trip drove in two runs, in addition to pitching a splendid game.

The deal took place in San Antonio just after the Spudders arrived there for the first games of the present road trip, and so little was heard of it here, and hence this announcement: That Bear Allday, the Centenary grid star and reserve infielder on the Spudder squad, has been farmed out to Springfield of the Western association.

That leaves the Spudders without a utility infielder, properly speaking. But should something happen to one of our regulars in the short field, there is Larry Bettencourt in the outfield who can plug the hole—and there is Garland Orr who can take Larry's place in the right garden.

This plan, however, is not likely to remain in force for very long. The Spudder powers have indicated in fact, that a new man will be imported as utility infielder as soon as his presence seems to be a necessity.

Along with the belated announcement of Allday's departure from the Spudders comes word from Springfield that the agile Bear is burnin' up the lot there. The very day he arrived, the report said, Bear donned a uniform and went into the game against Fort Smith and socked out three singles in three times up, handled eight chances at second base without an error, and participated in two double killings.

HILLIN CHECKS EARLY ATTACK

Panther Bats Hard on White's Offerings

Special to The Record News

FORT WORTH, May 21.—The Spudders of Wichita Falls fell victims of their own medicine here today and were shut out by Dick Whitworth, 5 to 0. The Panthers found Lester White easy and drove him from the box after bunching two runs in the second and three in the third. Ash Hillin relieved White to hold the Cats scoreless the remainder of the game but the Spudder bats couldn't connect with Whitworth's offerings. The Spudders came out of the fray with five hits, to nine gathered by the Panthers.

A home run orgy in the third accounted for three of Fort Worth's runs, the first, by Fowler, finding Moore on the paths, while Kelly sent one over the left field boards scoring only himself. In the second Kelly and Mallon scored on Tavener's double against the left field fence.

The teams meet in the second game of the series Thursday.

Schmeling's Aide Doesn't Want Max To Take Air Trip

By ED FRAYNE

ENDICOTT, N. Y., May 20. (US)—George Underwood is running around in circles, wringing his hands and piteously asking the constabulary if there isn't something that can be done about it.

A few miles away, in the little cottage occupied by Max Schmeling, a white-faced Billy McCarney is burning the long distance wires to New York, appealing to "Denver Damon" Runyon and "Miami Frank" Bruen to forbid the thing, but please, under no consideration, not to tell Schmeling that he tipped them off.

Schmeling has decided to fly from Endicott to Schnectady, N. Y., a distance of 125 miles, on Thursday afternoon, in order to keep a transatlantic telephone appointment with his mother. Arrangements have been made to effect a connection by short-wave radio connection promptly at 7 o'clock, eastern daylight saving time.

Underwood and McCarney have understood about the telephone conversation all along but the airplane ride is a totally different matter.

Mr. Underwood is the public relations counsel for the Schmeling camp and Mr. McCarney is associated with Herr Jacobs in the management of Schmeling.

MISS WILLIAMS ENTERS FINALS

Two More Matches Completed in Tennis Tourney

Jewel Williams swept through the semi-finals in the girls' singles Wednesday afternoon to clear her right of way inot the finals of this event which will mark one of the climaxes tomorrow in the annual municipal tennis tournament. Miss Williams defeated Wynona Gregg in the semi-final round Wednesday. The scores were 6-3, 6-3.

In the only other event completed Wednesday, Charles Cook and Maurice Chrek defeated Babe Toone and Preston Beck in the mens' doubles, the triumph being a straight set victory, 6-1, 6-1. The finals in this event also will be played Thursday afternoon on the Junior college courts. The match is scheduled to begin at 4:30 o'clock.

The third match of the day, a joust between Isadore Cohen and D. H. Tyler in the third round of the men's singles, was called on account of darkness. Cohen was leading when the match was forced out.

The tournament is sponsored by the city park department and is under the direction of Tom McCarty, recreation director of the department.

Gallant Fox Won't Run at Fairmount

COLLINSVILLE, Ill., May 21. (US)—Gallant Fox, winner of the Kentucky Derby, will not enter the Fairmount Derby here Saturday, it was officially announced today.

The winner of America's turf classic arrived at Belmont Park, N. Y., this afternoon.

QUALITY? YES!—and MORE!

Quality tobaccos necessarily are the basis of real enjoyment.

But it takes more than quality to give El Producto that mild yet distinctive character that puts El Producto in a class by itself.

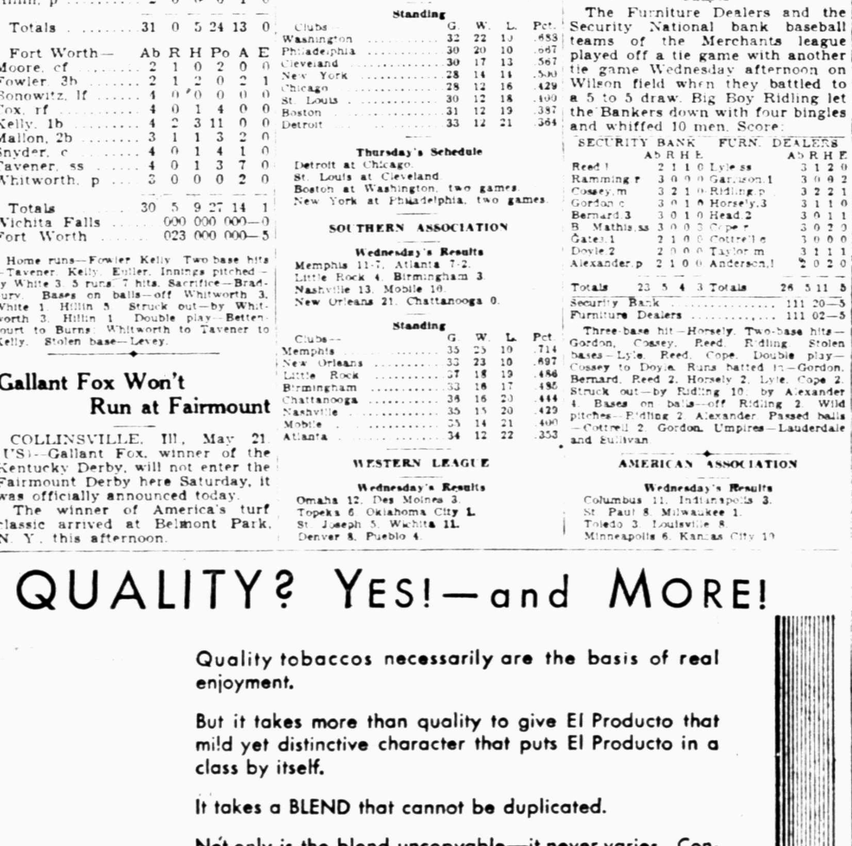

It takes a BLEND that cannot be duplicated.

Not only is the blend uncopyable—it never varies. Consistent quality is not the least pleasure in El Producto's real enjoyment.

The honest reason

THERE IS ONLY one real reason for smoking and that's pleasure. A pretty good reason after all. The cigarette you select in the long run will be the one that can contribute most to your enjoyment.

Camels are made with that idea in mind—the idea that genuine smoke pleasure is what you want in a cigarette.

When you try them you will find a refreshing difference—a mild, mellow richness of choice tobaccos—a blended harmony of fragrance, silky smooth—that makes smoking a delight.

The fact that more millions have chosen Camel than any other cigarette is a tribute to an honest product, marketed for an honest purpose.

Light Heavyweight Warned to Defend Title

NEW YORK, May 21. (AP)—Jimmy Slattery's light heavyweight crown, a gift to him from the New York state athletic commission, may be taken back again by the fistic fathers.

The commissioners today warned the Buffalo boxer that he must battle Maxey Rosenbloom at Buffalo in the week of June 22 or lose July 1 the title recognition given him for his victory over Lou Scozza last February. Although the match has been pending for months, the gladiators have failed to sign contracts.

SINGER FAVORED

NEW YORK, May 21. (US)—Ring dopesters along knuckle row today put Al Singer on the heavy end of 8 to 5 odds in his 10-round bout with Ignacio Fernandez at Madison Square garden Friday night.

The confidence Singer exudes and his improved form since he was stopped by Ignacio a year ago were advanced as the reasons for Al's choice.

Browns Take Series Opener From Indians

CLEVELAND, May 21. (AP)—The St. Louis Browns opened their four-game series with the Indians here today by taking the first game, 6 to 5. The Browns came from behind with a four-run rally in the sixth at the expense of Wesley Ferrell, ace of the Cleveland staff. Score:

CHAMPS DRUB YANKEES IN DOUBLE BILL

PHILADELPHIA, May 21. (AP)—Before 30,000 fans, the champion Philadelphia Athletics turned back the New York Yankees in both games of a double-header today. Although Babe Ruth added one more record to his home run hitting feats by connecting for three circuit blows, the Mackmen won the first game, 15 to 7. Rube Walberg pitched them to a 4 to 1 victory in the second.

Ruth became the first major league player to hit three home runs in a game on three different occasions by nicking George Earnshaw for two on his first two trips to the plate and getting another off Bob Grove in the eighth inning. Ruth's homers gave him the American league lead with nine for the season while Jimmy Foxx took second place by hitting his eighth. Score:

Recognition of Starting Blocks Is Predicted

CHICAGO, May 21. (AP)—Maj. John L. Griffith, western conference athletic commissioner, tonight predicted the International Amateur Athletic Federation some day would recognize the use of starting blocks and credit George Simpson, Ohio state's great sprinter, with a record of "nine two" for the 100-yard dash.

"The international federation will recognize the blocks, I believe, just as it did the piano-wire hammer, the bamboo vaulting pole and the use of spiked shoes," he said.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, May 21. (AP)—Trading in cotton was comparatively quiet today with conflicting influence in the day's news reflected by rather irregular fluctuations. Old crop months were relatively steady on covering or trade buying with July selling up from 16.25 to 16.37 and closing at 16.35, while the new October contract ranged from 14.90 to 14.77 and closed at 14.81. The general market closed steady, net 5 to 7 points higher and 6 to 7 points lower on the new.

There was considerable bullish comment on the weekly weather report but had little affect on the market. Additional May notices representing about 19,700 bales were issued and apparently were stopped by the leading old crop long interests. It is estimated that notices so far issued in the three leading futures markets of the country have represented about 471,700 bales, while certificated stocks at designated delivery points as reported to the New York cotton exchange today totaled 557,338 bales. Liverpool cables reported continental liquidation in that market and said yarns were depressed with more machinery stopping. Exports today 3,272 bales, making 6,412,393 so far this season. Port receipts 12,204. U. S. port stocks 1,720,257.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 21. (AP)—The weather again played the most important role in today's cotton market although poor Liverpool cables were responsible for a small advance of 4 to 5 points at the opening. The market turned easier as soon as it was seen that the weather map was rainless and continued to ease off during the morning when traders construed the weekly weather and crop summary as less unfavorable than expected, prices finally losing 5 points on July and 12 to 13 points on new crop months.

In late trading old crop months made new highs 13 to 17 points above the lows while new crop months eased off. The market closed 7 points net higher to 9 net down. In the late trading new highs were made at 15.17 for May and 16.04 for July and closed at the top while new crop months eased off October closing at 14.83 down 7 points and December at 14.89, down 9 points net.

Bears Win Limited Victory on Highly Professional Exchange

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, May 21. (US)—Another highly professional market was witnessed on the stock exchange today. The net result was a victory for the bear crowd which at one stage of the market again threatened a general reaction of considerable size. Failing to bring about more than desultory liquidation, however, the bears followed the procedure of Tuesday and again covered, but the final prices were on the average below the previous day's closing quotations. The opening was relatively firm, short covering which was particularly noticeable in the late Tuesday rally having carried over into the initial trading today. Prices, however, were soon subjected to renewed pressure, again evidently concentrated from a few bearish quarters. Weak spots were again uncovered and helped along by further discouraging news from general industry, including the Iron Age Review, the entire list was placed under pressure. The selling except in a limited number of individual stocks did not succeed more than moderately but the market's action was sufficient to discourage any public interest. Money remained in ample supply and London was reported anticipating a further lowering in the bank of England rate.

Industrial developments which must be faced are emphasized by the copper situation. The spurt of buying which carried the price of the metal up from the bottom level has not continued, although the demand has strengthened the position of the producers who have been enabled to liquidate at least a portion of their inventories. Dividend news affecting the Coppers, however, will naturally be unfavorable. Cutting of the Calumet & Arizona dividend to a $2 rate came as a distinct surprise, since the $6 rate formerly paid has been reduced only recently from $10. The action served to emphasize the extent of dividend curtailment that may be necessary throughout the industry. The Coppers seemingly have discounted a good deal of the bearish developments already disclosed and pending. There is little basis, however, for any concerted stock market sponsorship, so that the group continues to act sluggish. The same situation prevails in other groups of stocks.

Throughout the general market unsettlement, however, the railroad stocks continued to be steadily absorbed, although President Atterbury, of the Pennsylvania, forecast no early improvement in railroad business. There was a report, however, that a plan is on foot at Washington to attempt revision of the railroad statutes with respect to the recapture clause. If a general business revival is to be witnessed within the next few months, there is reason for investment absorption of various leading railroad stocks, since the carriers are certain to participate in any resumption of industrial activity. The railroad stocks on the average yield better returns than do the highest-grade industrials and utilities.

General Motors continued to be closely watched for evidence as to its sponsors' market sentiment. The stock was relatively firm throughout the day although closing lower than the previous day. The Duponts were reported to have become more active in the stock recently. The other leading industrials failed to display any definite trend but fluctuations were narrower and in some instances reflected greater support. National Biscuit was the outstanding strong spot of the day, advancing throughout the day to close near its record high price. Similar demonstrations of buying in other Morgan-First National bank favorites would do more than anything else to revive public sentiment favorably toward the market. In the main, however, the selling which took place, aside from the purely professional raiding, was from tired holders who had become discouraged by the market's failure to make any headway.

Commodity prices were generally irregular, with cotton showing slight changes while wheat and corn were lower. Foreign exchanges were more active but with mixed tendencies, sterling being in particular demand while silver currencies were in supply.

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, May 21. (AP)—Wheat was stronger and slightly higher on the cash grain market today, following the gains of contract values. Demand slumped, however, and selling was slow. Fair demand was reported for corn and oats while sorghums were sought and barley was slow.

Mills were bidding $1.12@1.13 for such wheat as they wanted based on ordinary No. 1 hard milling delivered Texas common points.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points freight paid:

Corn—No. 2 mixed 94@95c; No. 2 white 98@99c; No. 2 yellow 98½@99½c.

Oats—No. 2 red 55@56c.

Barley—No. 2, nominally, 70@71c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds $1.98@2.00; No. 2 kaffir $1.65@1.67.

Cane Seed—Practically no offerings and no market, demand for planting being nearly over.

Dealers also quoted as follows, for delivery Texas group one points: No. 2 mixed corn 91½@92½c; No. 2 white corn 95@96c; No. 2 yellow corn 96@97c; No. 3 white oats 52@52½c, to which add 1c for delivery group three points.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 21. (AP)—Wheat showed an upward trend today, aided by assertions that the Grain Stabilization corporation has absorbed much wheat at Buffalo, Montreal and elsewhere east. Furthermore, some speculative purchasing of Chicago wheat future deliveries was credited to the influence of trades who were active in expressing themselves as "bullish on the United States." These men were contending that declines in commodity prices are unjustified by the actual economic outlook. There were also reports current that extensive wheat crop damage southwest, Oklahoma and Kansas in particular, is threatened if the weather becomes unsually hot.

Closing quotations on wheat were firm, ¼-⅜c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed ¼c off to ¼c up, oats ⅜-1¼c advanced, and provisions varying from 12c decline to a rise of 5c.

Auspicious weather throughout the corn belt did much to handicap friends of higher prices for corn. Oats tended upward on account of tightness of the May delivery.

Provisions were responsive to downturns in the value of hogs.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—July 1.03⅝-½, 1.05⅝-¾; Sept. 1.06⅞, 1.08⅛; Dec. 1.10⅜, 1.12½-⅝. Corn—July 78⅞-79, 80⅛-¼; Sept. 80¼, 21¼; Dec. 73⅞, 75⅛.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, May 21. (US)—Pending some new development in crop or export news the wheat market is expected to continue nervous affair with erratic price fluctuations in a narrow range. There were some inclined to the bearish side today who were discouraged from selling because of the apparent resistance of the market in the rather light trade.

Prospects are for increased country sales of corn and for favorable weather to complete planting and early field operations.

Rye was relatively weaker than wheat today. Cheap offers of Russian rye in the Rotterdam market affected sentiment to some extent and there is presumed to be a long line of rye held against sales of corn which might be liquidated before the close of the May delivery.

Some of the Italian buying of wheat was said to have been done directly with the Canadian pool.

Lack of speculative interest continues the chief cause for uncertain action in all of the grain markets, the trade believes.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, May 21. (AP)—Cotton goods were a little more active in the gray goods division. More demand for wash fabrics and cotton novelties for home making purposes. Novelty worsted yarns doing better, chiefly for sweaters. Burlaps steady. Calcutta mills holding meetings trying to agree to reduce production 10 per cent beginning July 1. Raw silk quiet, with more interest taken in new fall silks. Wool goods steady, demand moderate.

CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, May 21. (AP)—Cotton futures declined 6 to 11 points on new crop months on perfect weather today. Opening prices were unchanged to 3 points down on cables that were a shade lower than due. Reports from yarn and cloth markets indicate a poor demand and prices are practically unchanged. Closing prices were 5 points higher on May and July and 6 to 11 points lower on October and December.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, May 21. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Fat steer and yearling trade around the 11-market circuit was slowed down by increased supplies. There was a fair demand for highly finished mature steers and long yearlings at steady prices but other less desirable steers and most of the light yearlings ruled weak to mostly 25 lower. Some light yearlings were as much as .50 lower. Fat cows were fully steady with the supply light. Chicago scored $14.35 on choice 1,360-lb. beeves. The bulk of fed steers cashed downward from $12.00, and comparatively few light yearlings exceeded the $11.00 mark. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 39,000 as compared with 36,079 a week ago and 31,535 the corresponding day last year.

Opening trade on hogs was at mostly 10@15c lower rates but several markets reported a fairly active close with part of the early decline recovered. The day's extreme top of $10.15 was paid both at Chicago and St. Louis. Total offerings were around 55,400, an increase of 9,000 over last Wednesday and about the same as a year ago.

The sheep supply approximated 47,300, against 46,441 a week ago and 47,082 a year ago. Fat lambs were on a firm to 25c higher basis with some centers showing upturns of 25c to 40c on springers. Some strength also developed on aged stock. Arizona spring lambs in Kansas City scored $11.25 while fed clipped lambs in Chicago cashed up to $10.00.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, May 21. (AP)—Mixed loads of rather common classes of slaughter cattle afforded little chance to test trading at Fort Worth today. Bidding appeared about steady with most common steers due to sell around $8.00. Most of the receipts of bulls consisted of the common kind that sold from $4.50 to $5.50 with a few fairly weighty bulls at $6.00. One load of cows cleared at $7.25 with some fairly fleshy cows due to sell at a little lower. Most cutters sold around $5.00 and canners from $3.50 to $4.00.

The calf offering was especially light. A few weighty calves sold at $11.60. Cull calves sold around $5.00.

Stocker cattle—particularly calves—sold to a good demand at strong prices, some at $12.00 with other loads at $10.50 and $11.50. A load of heifer calves sold at $9.50.

Hogs were 5 to 10c lower with rail hogs stopping at $9.60 and truck hogs $9.25. Packing sows $8.00 to $8.50.

Sheep steady to strong. Fat wethers mixed aged $5.75; aged wethers $5.00. Feeder lambs $6.00@6.25.

CHICAGO, May 21. (INS)—Hogs—Receipts 20,000, market 10@15c lower; top $10.15, bulk $9.50@10.10; heavyweight $9.50@10.00; medium weight $9.60@10.15; lightweight $9.65@10.15; light lights $9.45@10.10; packing sows $8.85@9.50; pigs $8.75@9.75, holdovers 8,000.

Cattle—Receipts 10,000, market 15@25c lower; calves, receipts 3,000, market steady. Beef steers, good and choice, $12.00@14.00; common and medium $9.00@11.50; yearlings $9.00@14.00; butcher cattle, heifers, $7.50@11.00; cows $6.00@9.50; bulls $7.00@9.50; calves $9.00@12.50; feeder steers $9.00@11.00; stocker steers $8.00@11.00; stocker cows and heifers $6.00@8.50.

Sheep—Receipts 9,000, market steady; medium and choice lambs $9.00@10.00; culls and common $7.50@8.50; spring lambs $10.00@11.50; yearlings $8.00@9.75; common and choice ewes $3.00@5.75; feeder lambs $8.50@9.50.

KANSAS CITY, May 21. (AP)—(USDA)—Hogs—Receipts 12,000; weak to 10 lower, top $9.75 on choice 170 to 250 pounds.

Cattle—Receipts 7,000; calves 1,200; fed steers and yearlings weak to lower; other classes steady; slaughter steers, good and choice 950 to 1,500 pounds, $10.25@13.50; fed yearlings $10.25@13.00; heifers $9.25@12.00; cows $7.50@9.50; vealers $8.00@12.50; stocker and feeder steers $9.25@12.00.

Sheep—Receipts 7,000; fed lambs and springers 15@25c higher; sheep steady; spring lambs $10.00@11.00; lambs, good and choice, 92 pounds down, $8.75@9.65; ewes $4.00@5.35.

FORT WORTH, May 21. (AP)—(USDA)—Hogs—Receipts 1,000; 5@10c lower; top $9.60; medium to choice 180 to 255-pound rail hogs, $9.60; better 170 to 240-pound truck hogs $9.00@9.15.

Cattle—Receipts 1,300; steady; plain killing steers $8.00@8.25; yearlings up to $12.00; few desirable cows $7.00@7.25; butcher grades $6.00; thin stock steer calves $12.00; few very good heavy fed calves up to $11.60.

Sheep—Receipts 4,000; steady to strong; 2-year-old shorn fed wethers $6.25; medium to good spring lambs $7.50@8.00.

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 21. (AP)—Cattle—Receipts 700. Calves—Receipts 300; early top $11.00 on 1,500-pound steers and long yearlings; good to choice grain fed cows up to $8.00; calves, best heavies, $9@10.00.

Hogs—Receipts 1,000; steady; top $9.70.

NATURAL GAS MEN CHEERFUL

Gradual Improvement for Industry Seen

TULSA, Okla., May 21. (AP)—The natural gasoline industry, which supplies 12 per cent of America's motor fuel supply, has weathered the squalls of depression created by world-wide over-production of oil and may expect a gradual improvement through the rest of the year.

That view, containing optimism yet tempered with a note of conservatism, was before the annual convention of the Natural Gasoline Association of America here today, presented by Dr. E. R. Lederer of Fort Worth, Texas, president of the organization, in his opening address.

Natural gasoline is condensed from natural gas and is used as a blending agent in making motor fuels and for various other purposes. In oil field terms it is "casing head" gasoline.

Dr. Lederer pointed out that while the outlook for 1930 was "none too rosy" the industry is in a healthy condition and should ring up satisfactory though diminished profits in the year's balance sheet.

Well Near Eliasville Opens New Territory

Special to The Record News

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, May 21.—Jim Gordon and Don Morris, drilling contractors, topped pay sand in their test northwest of Eliasville late Monday and had 1500 feet of high grade oil in a 3282 foot hole Tuesday. Some gas is with the oil.

The Gordon & Morris well proves up a new territory east of the Baker & Pardue pool in the Eliasville section.

The new producer was drilled into the sand only five feet and then shut down until storage tanks could be erected before drilling in deeper. The well is located on the Homer Donnell tract.

Operations Resumed In South City Field

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 21. (UP)—Operations in the south city field resumed normal today following the shutting down of the Sigmon No. 1 well which had been a runaway for four days. Officials of the Prairie-Slick-Phillips company, owners of the well, said it had been controlled with a die nipples. One other "wild" well in the area was controlled today after a short but stubborn fight.

Flow of the Sigmon well rivalled that of the famous Mary Sudik well—a runaway for 11 days.

Dusty Dollars

THE discarded furniture and many other worn or obsolete articles stuffed or packed away in your attic represent good sound American dollars—a bit dusty, but worth "cashing in."

THE process is simple—place a Want Ad in the Daily Times-Record News—and you will quickly turn these attic treasures into cash.

RIGHT now make a list of the items you wish to sell and call Miss "AD-TAKER"—she and a Want Ad will do the rest.

Sinclair-Prairie Merger Pending

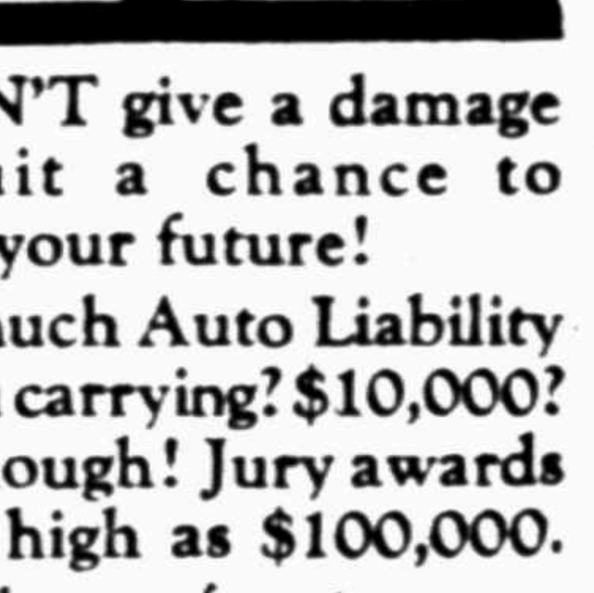

NEW YORK, May 21. (UP)—Negotiations for the acquisition of the Prairie Oil and Gas company by Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation are still progressing, Harry F. Sinclair, chairman, told stockholders at their annual meeting today.

Stockholders approved the proposed increase in authorized common stock to 20,000,000 shares of no par value from 10,000,000 shares, the additional stock to be authorized to provide for expansion and for consolidation or other corporate purposes.

Last week, Sinclair announced acquisition of the $25,000,000 Pierce Petroleum corporation, operating throughout the Middle West.

"Our business so far as gallonage is concerned," Sinclair told his stockholders, "has increased normally. Earnings for the year so far as our reports have been compiled are about the same as last year. In the first quarter of this year, oil prices were not satisfactory.

"I think the oil situation now is in hand," he continued. "The proration of production has been a healthy development, although prices are a little better than in the early months of this year, they cannot be considered entirely satisfactory."

POLICE LASH SALT RAIDERS

Unarmed Indian Volunteers Injured in Advance

Editor's Note: Following is a censored dispatch from Webb Miller, European news manager for the United Press, in India to report the uprisings there for American readers. Only a part of his account was permitted to go out before the censor stopped it.

BULSAR, SURAT DISTRICT, India, May 21. (UP)—More than 200 persons were injured in a massed advance on the Dharasana Salt Works today as Indian Surat police beat unarmed volunteers with lathes.

The national congress claimed their wounded had reached more than 250 by noon.

The police kicked and prodded the non-violence raiders who swarmed the depot.

I personally saw over 200 in a temporary hospital where they were carried on stretchers by volunteers.

Mrs. Carojini Naidu, noted poet and lecturer leader of the followers of Mahatma Gandhi, now jailed, was arrested during the raid. Manilal Gandhi, second son of the leader, also was taken by the police.

Meanwhile, the raid continued, and bleeding volunteers were carried away by their comrades. Most of the injuries were head wounds, fractured arms and wrists. The Surat native police lost their tempers. I saw them kick volunteers already lying on the ground.

My clothes were splashed with mud when the police flung volunteers into ditches. The spectacle of them beating the unresisting volunteers was so painful I frequently was forced to turn away from the crowds.

Examiners Recommend Western Rail Deal

WASHINGTON, May 21. (INS)—Examiners of the Interstate Commerce commission today recommended that the commission find conditionally that the acquisition by the Denver and Rio Grande Western of control of the Denver and Salt Lake by purchase of capital stock "will be in the public interest and that the terms and conditions of such acquisition are just and reasonable."

Andrews County Test Has Showing of Oil

Special to The Record News

LAMESA, Texas, May 21.—King No. 1, an offset to Ogden No. 1 drilled by the Deep Rock Oil company, which was stopped at a depth of 4365 feet for concrete casing by orders of the state railway commission, in Andrews county 45 miles southwest of here, was reported to be standing 4100 feet in oil today.

FEDERAL MORTGAGE BONDS

Small money comes into its own

In the past, the man with little money received little investment guidance. He who, most of all, deserved a safe return from his capital rarely got it.

Today that condition is changed. The Federal Mortgage Company offers the same safety and earning power for small money enjoyed in other days exclusively by large money.

Our District Representative will be glad to explain the plan to you.

NEW MEXICO RANCH FOR SALE
Fifty-three acres of land on the west bank of the romantic Rio Grande del Norte, the opposite bank to the wonderful state highway between Taos and Santa Fe, 50 miles from Santa Fe. Besides having a frontage of nearly half a mile on the Rio Grande, which river is becoming more and more noted for its excellent trout fishing, this property is peculiarly beautiful and one of the most remarkable sites for a home that could possibly be imagined. Numerous springs emanate from the base of the 1,000 foot cliff that backs the property on the west and furnish more than an abundance of water for any extensive orchard or garden that might be desired. It so situated that neither early or late frosts would endanger any fruit that is adaptable to this part of the country. This is also one of very few places that can possibly be purchased on the west bank of the Rio Grande. H. H. Dorman, P. O. box 903, Santa Fe, New Mexico.

MANY SIGN FOR QUANAH TRIP

Goal of 200 Believed Secured for Tour

At least 200 persons will leave Wichita Falls Friday in the good will caravan of the Junior chamber of commerce on the trip to Vernon and Quanah, according to the announcement Wednesday of Kendrick Cushing, chairman of the good will trips committee of the Junior chamber. Word was received Wednesday that three car loads of trippers would join the caravan at Electra, the announcement coming from Robert Hall, manager of the Electra chamber.

Each of the good will trippers will wear dusters, on which will be written the name of the firms they represent, Mr. Cushing said. The program for the trip includes luncheon at Vernon and supper at Quanah, with a dance concluding the itinerary at Vernon Friday night. Claude Stewart and his orchestra of Wichita Falls will provide music for the dance. All arrangements for the trip have been completed by the arrangements committees of the chamber here.

A feature of the day will be a joint meeting of all Vernon service clubs at the luncheon for the good will trippers in that city, the various luncheon clubs having voted to hold their meetings this week on that occasion.

Heading the various entertainment features of the trip will be the 50-piece Junior chamber of commerce band directed by Leo Underwood. Other entertainment will be provided by Frank Humphrey with his bagpipe; Frank Haley and Henry Penix in humorous skits; the Junior chamber of commerce quartet; the Hawaiian trio from station KGKO; and Mrs. Nelle Lowrey in vocal numbers, accompanied at the piano by Mrs J. W. Akin Jr.

HER PLAN REWARDED

NEW YORK, May 21.—A debutante who inaugurated a movement against late hours at dances so that business men would attend has captured one of the most eligible bachelors. Miss Marka Truesdale is engaged to Grover Cleveland Loening, airplane designer.

Three Given Sentences In District Court Here

Sentences aggregating seven years were assessed against three defendants by juries in the 89th district court Wednesday morning. Jewel Copeland was given two years in the penitentiary on a charge of theft in connection with the stealing of a quantity of pipe from Burkburnett, and Joe Morgan was given a three-year suspended sentence on a companion case. Guy Lane was sentenced to two years for automobile theft. Other criminal cases set for this term of the court will be called to trial Thursday, according to Mike Anglin, assistant district attorney.

City Gives Schedule For First Park Movie

"Roaring Bill Atwood" will be the title of the first picture to be shown under the direction of the city park department on the Memorial auditorium grounds Monday evening at 8 o'clock, according to C. C. Bunnenberg, head of the department. A comedy, "Ice Cold Cocoas" will be shown in connection with it.

The picture will be shown at the Grant street park Tuesday night; Carrigan school, Wednesday night; O'Rielly park, Thursday night; Bowie and Washington schools Friday night, and at the Scotland park, Saturday. There will be no admission.

There are now over 2,250,000 horses in Australia; in 1788 there were five—one stallion, three mares and a colt.

Treasure Hunt, Picnic Entertains Graduates

"Putt putt" tournaments and breakfast at the Cook Shop furnished entertainment for more than 100 high school seniors Wednesday morning when Monroe Griffin won high prize as the champion of the entire class.

Wednesday evening's program included a treasure hunt and picnic. After the treasure was found, the group went in a body to Weeks park for a moonlight picnic and party.

Class members are to meet at Westmoreland Thursday morning at 6 o'clock for a sunrise breakfast and swimming party, according to Moulton B. Harrison, president. A theater party is scheduled for Thursday evening's entertainment, followed by a midnight supper at the Coffee shop.

C.-C. INVITES TRAFFIC MEET

Wichitans Attend Enid Convention

Dudley B. Foy, traffic manager of the chamber of commerce, O. M. Smith, general agent for the Fort Worth & Denver railway here, and R. H. Schultz, traffic manager of the Wichita Falls & Southern railway, left Wednesday for Enid, Okla., where they will attend Thursday a meeting of the Southwestern Traffic league.

On Friday, May 23, the Southwest Shippers' advisory board will hold its annual meeting at Enid, and the three representatives of this city will remain there for that session. It is an organization of railroad men and industrial traffic directors. Approximately 800 persons are expected to attend Friday's meeting, it was said.

According to Mr. Foy, the Southwestern Industrial Traffic league will be invited to hold its 1931 May meeting in Wichita Falls. Each district is allowed only one of the league's quarterly meetings annually, he said, and the session to be held next May will be the only one for which this district will be eligible.

Sessons at Enid during the coming two days will be held in the New Youngblood hotel.

College Seniors Enjoy Party on Kay Farm

Approximately 40 of the Junior college graduates were entertained with an all-day party on Katherine Kay's farm Wednesday. They met at the college, going out to the farm in a body and spending the day there until 4 p. m. when they went to Westmoreland for a swimming party.

The Wai-Kun autographing party was postponed until early next week, according to R. O. Jonas, faculty sponsor, when the year books will be distributed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonas will entertain the group Thursday morning with a sunrise breakfast at 7:30 a. m., and the remainder of the day will be open for special entertainments until 8 p. m. when the college class night program will be presented. Immediately after the performance the graduating class members are to have a party at the home of Oliver Fudge, 2300 Eighth street, according to an announcement of Dick Long, president.

TOO MUCH DRIVING.

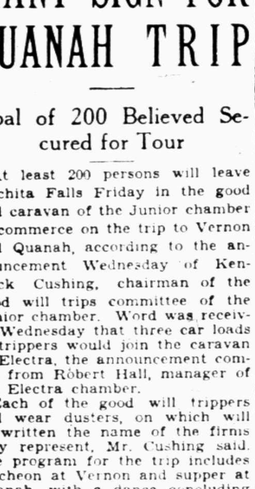

A Wichita Falls man rented a car for a drive several days ago—and made quite a drive of it. He was arrested Wednesday in Houston and he and the car will be brought back to Wichita Falls within the next few days. The car was located in Houston through the efforts of Roy Paul, operator of a drive-ur-self agency in that city, who was notified of the theft by A. D. Lightsey, from whom the car was rented here. The man was subsequently arrested and held for officers here.

These few changes have made a new home out of an old one.
A veneer of brick applied right over the old siding, an attractive roof line carried over the drive, a new porch and entrance, have made this commonplace, old-fashioned little house, thoroughly modern—even smart—in appearance. Interior changes were also made so that the plan of rooms, the fixtures, the equipment are thoroughly up-to-date. Modernizing can make any old-style, substantial house attractive and up-to-date.

TO UP-TO-DATE OWNERS OF OUT-OF-DATE HOMES!
Learn now how other home owners have added comfort .... attractiveness .... value .... to substantial but unmodern homes
ROWS of houses structurally sound, but sadly out-of-date. You see them everywhere. Here and there a fine old home with queer gables, gingerbread, and old-style windows. Modern once, but entirely out-of-place now. Obsolete in appearance, in sanitation, in heating, lighting and cooking facilities. And hard to sell at any price!
Your home may be one of these. It may not be satisfactory to you as a home—yet because it cannot be sold except at a loss you are forced to keep it. There is no need to live in an unsatisfactory, old-fashioned home. No need to sell at a tremendous sacrifice just because it's out-of-date. Find out how easily you can modernize it.
You can easily give it new lines . . . new equipment . . . new conveniences . . . new comforts. And by doing so, you will increase its value far beyond the cost of modernizing.
We will gladly tell you how your home can be made modern. Tell you for instance, how one home valued at $4,000 was remodeled for $3,600 and then sold for $11,000. How hundreds of others have been increased tremendously in value. We will tell you how you can get plans, how you can have the work financed in the same way new construction is financed.
Call, phone or write. There are quantities of interesting information, useful data, sound counsel and advice ready for you here.
