Supreme Court Says President Has No Power To Seize Plants

STOLEN CROWNS

Two jewel encrusted crowns, held by Monsignor Angelo R. Cioffi last January in New York before their installation on the Madonna mural in the background, were reported stolen from the Regina Pace Votive Shrine of a Brooklyn Roman Catholic Church. The crowns, valued at $100,000, were torn from their positions over the heads of the Virgin and Child in the painting that forms the center piece of the shrine. Looking on at the crowns last January are Dr. Barnett Binkowitz, left, a non-Catholic, and Thomas F. Tillona, co-chairman of the shrine's fund-raising dinner committee.

No Estimate On Number Of Eligible Voters

While very little livestock has been rendered for county taxation, a large number of persons have rendered automobiles, Jim Ikard, county tax assessor - collector, said today.

Many persons render property other than real estate for county taxation so they will be eligible to vote in county bond elections. According to the Texas election laws, persons who render property for taxation are eligible to vote in bond elections in the city or county where the property is rendered.

Ikard had no estimate on the number of persons who will be eligible to vote in the $350,000 county park bond election next Saturday. He explained that many who own property here do not pay poll taxes and that many who pay poll taxes do not render property for taxation. Last August, 1,415 persons voted in the last park bond election, a $950,000 issue.

While real estate tax is assessed at about 15 per cent of the property's actual value, other property is assessed at a set rate. Cars are assessed from $50 to $400, livestock for $2 - $30, farm tractors $50 - $500, and combines $50 - $200.

Taxes on personal property will be very small. The tax will be assessed next October. The 1951 taxes were $1.57 per $100 assessed value, or about 80 cents to $6.50 on autos.

Livestock, which is usually rendered by farmers who do not own real property, includes horses, cattle, sheep.

Ikard said those who plan to vote in Saturday's bond election must have rendered property for taxation before that time.

The petition requesting the bond election called for a park centrally located in the county to include a swimming pool, wading pool, tennis courts, softball diamonds, barbecue pits, livestock pavillion, picnic pavillions, and playground equipment.

ONE IS SHOT

Pompous Red Prisoners Act Like They Owned Koje Camp

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, June 2 (AP)—U. S. tanks and infantrymen today battered down and burned Communist flags and banners in two Red prisoner of war compounds and a South Korean officer shot and wounded a POW for taunting him.

The United Nations supreme commander, Gen. Mark Clark, visited this riotous island and declared:

"The maxmum amount of force necessary will be used to make rebellious prisoners obey orders."

He said Communist truce negotiators at Panmunjom had "directed the uprising here and the disobedience" of POWs.

The prisoner was shot behind the double barbed wire of Compound 60, which holds some 200 POWs accused of war crimes.

Fellow prisoners carried him, bleeding, into a tin shack inside the compound. U. S. medics, headed by Capt. Jim Miller, Washington, D. C., demanded he be given up for medical care.

In answer the Reds sang songs and shouted anti-American slogans under the urging of a cheer leader.

The shooting took place just after the inmates of Compound 60, smallest of the 17 occupied enclosures on Koje, had stoned and shouted insults at a passing column of South Korean soldiers.

Eyewitnesses said the South Korean officer, goaded beyond control, broke for the outer barbed wire fence and fired three shots from a caliber .45 pistol. One bullet hit the POW in the leg. He twisted and fell.

The compound returned to normal 20 minutes later. The prisoners still held their wounded comrade. Miller and his medical crew folded their medical kit and left.

Koje's compounds were quiet tonight after the U. N. show of force today with tanks and a company of infantry. Only three compounds flew Red banners at sundown, against the camp commander's orders.

Two tanks butted down a flagpole in Compound 602 while foot soldiers ripped down insulting banners and set them afire. That operation was carried out in an almost eerie silence.

Hopes Politics Won't Cut Into Korea Conflict

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark today told President Syngman Rhee he hoped the current South Korean political crisis "would not interfere with the military situation."

Rhee said in a statement he assured the United Nations Far East commander there would be no removal of troops from the Korean battle front in connection with the political crisis.

The President threw Korean politics into an uproar May 24 when he proclaimed martial law around Pusan, the provisional capital. Since then 12 national assemblymen have been arrested.

The legislative body is due to elect a president late this month.

Clark and Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U.S. Eighth Army commander, conferred with officials of the United Nations Commission for Unification and Rehabilation of Korea (UNCURK) before meeting with Rhee for 35 minutes.

The commission had urged Rhee to lift martial law and free the jailed assemblymen. Rhee wrote the commission but ignored the two requests.

He said he was trying to put down a revolt by Communist elements—not seize more power.

WORKERS WITHOUT PAYCHECKS HERE

Post office employees in Snyder missed their paychecks today, along with several hundred thousand others over the nation who were affected when this year's congressional appropriation ran out before June 30, end of the fiscal year.

J. P. Nelson, assistant postmaster, said that he still had received no word of what would be done about the situation. He said the amount ordinarily paid semi-monthly to local employees was between $3,500 and $4,000.

Reds Talking Little Softer

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — Blustery Gen. Nam Il, chief Red delegate at the Korean armistice talks toned down his voice today as he railed again at Allied handling of communist prisoner riots on Koje Island.

But calm, quiet Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, head United Nations Command negotiator, said "I have no idea that it has any significance at all."

The Red chieftain used milder tones in repeating his charges that the Allies are slaughtering Red prisoners on Koje, the U.N. prison camp island, and are planning to retain permanently other Communist captives.

Whatever the meaning of the change in attitude, Harrison said the communist negotiators today "didn't act like they were mad at anybody."

Murray Calls Out Union On Strike

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled 6-3 today that President Truman's seizure of the steel industry was unconstitutional. Within minutes CIO President Philip Murray called a nationwide strike of his 650,000 steelworkers.

In a historic decision striking down hard Truman's claim to vast inherent powers under the Constitution, the high court upheld the ruling of U. S. District Judge David A. Pine that the President acted illegally in seizing the steel mills April 8 to head off a strike.

The court's ruling means the government will have to surrender ownership of the mills and thus will be unable to grant the wage boost Truman had promised the union in getting it to call off a three-day strike early last month.

In addition to the majority opinion by Justice Black separate concurring opinions were written by Justices Frankfurter, Douglas, Clark, Jackson and Burton.

Black's opinion said Truman's April 8 order for seizure of the steel industry "cannot properly be sustained as an exercise of the President's military power as commander in chief of the armed forces."

Black added:

"Nor can the seizure order be sustained because of the several Constitutional provisions that grant executive power to the President."

"In the framework of our Constitution," Black said, "the President's power to see that the laws are faithfully executed refutes the idea that he is to be a lawmaker."

Truman told his news conference May 22 he would abide by the court's ruling and would turn the mills back to their owners and then see what happens.

At the same time, however, the President still insisted he has the inherent power to seize private industries in an emergency and that nobody—neither congress nor the courts—can take that power away from him.

As to what he would do if the high tribunal ruled flatly that the President has no seizure power—as it did today—Truman said he would cross that bridge when he came to it.

For a few moments it appeared that the decision had been unanimous. Then reporters were handed a dissenting opinion by Chief Justice Vinson, in which Justices Reed and Minton joined.

Black's opinion today declared:

"The Constitution limits his (the President's) function in the lawmaking process to the recommending of laws he thinks wise and the vetoing of laws he thinks bad. And the constitution is neither silent nor equivocal about who shall make laws which the president is to execute."

Black said the power of Congress to adopt "such public policies as those proclaimed by the president's order is beyond question." He went on:

"It can authorize the taking of private property for public use. It can make laws regulating the relationships between employes and employers, prescribing rules designed to settle labor disputes and fixing wages and working conditions in certain fields of our economy. The Constitution did not subject this law-making power of Congress to presidential or military supervision or control.

"It is said that other presidents without Congressional authority have taken possession of private business enterprises in order to settle labor disputes.

"But even if this be true, Congress has not thereby lost its exclusive Constitutional authority to make laws necessary and proper to carry out the powers vested by the Constitution 'in the government of the United States, or any department or officer thereof'.

"The founders of this nation entrusted the law making power to the Congress alone, in both good and bad times. It would do no good to recall the historical events, the fears of power and the hopes for freedom that lay behind their choice. Such a review would not confirm our holding that this seizure order cannot stand.

"The judgment of the district court is affirmed."

That means the high tribunal's six-man majority agreed with the April 29 decision of U. S. District Judge David A. Pine that Truman's seizure was illegal and unconstitutional.

For the dissenters Chief Justice Vinson said courts may go behind a President's findings to see whether a real emergency exists". Vinson wrote, "but, there is not the slightest basis for suggesting that the President's finding in this case can be undermined."

Vinson said the minority felt compelled to register a dissent "because we cannot agree that affirmance is proper on any ground, and because of the transcending importance of the questions presented not only in this critical litigation but also to the powers the President (sic) and of future presidents to act in time of crisis."

Vinson said, "those who suggest that this is a case involving extraordinary powers should be minded that these are extraordinary times."

He then reviewed world tensions, citing that the United Nations was formed to take collective measures to maintain peace and security, and that the North Atlantic Treaty binds each member nation to resist an armed attack against any member nation.

Vinson said, "our treaties represent not merely legal obligations but show Congressional recognition that mutual security for the free world is the best security against the threat of aggression on a global scale."

Province In South Africa May Secede

DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—Pro-British Natal, newest South African storm center, this week formally warns it may quit the Union of South Africa because it considers the nationalist government has violated the constitution.

The breakaway action, if tried, could lead to civil war in the opinion of responsible government and anti-government leaders. But most South Africans seem to think the crisis dividing the nation will not go that far.

Government spokesmen have charged all talk of Natal quitting the Union is so much anti-nationalist propaganda. If Natal did walk out, they say, the grass would be growing in the streets of this thriving harbor city inside six months.

But many people of this eastern seaboard province claim they are in deadly earnest.

The surface mood does not suggest they've been cleaning their guns in preparation for a big fight. But already they are at political action stations.

The Provincial Council which is like an American state legislature, dscusses tomorrow a resolution to be submitted to Prime Minister Daniel Malan's government.

It calls for a new national convention to reaffrim the constitution of 1910. If Malin says no to the request, leaders say positive but so far undisclosed action will follow.

The Council resolutions are sure to be passed. The anti-Malan forces have an overwhelming majority. Public support for it will be whipped up tonight at the biggest mass meeting ever planned for Natal. Some 50,000 people are expected to attend.

Tanks Are Sent Against Reds

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—United Nations tanks today smashed into Communist positions on the Korea Central Front, blasting 48 Red bunkers.

A U.S. Eighth Army staff officer said the bunker-blasting activities left 15 Chinese dead and 49 wounded.

Tanks operating southwest of Kumsong inflicted most of the damage in a 55-minute barrage. Other tanks bombarded enemy positions south of Pyonggang, apex of the former iron triangle Red supply area.

Long range U.N. artillery shelled Communist truck convoys at least eight miles behind Red front line positions for 6½ hours last night and early today.

The staff officer said results could not be determined because of darkness.

Apparently 155 m.m. Long Tom rifles—with a range of 15 miles—shelled the Red trucks. The artillery fire was directed by night flying spotter planes.

Poor weather held patrol actvity to a minimum.

The U.S. Fifth Air Force reported its night flying B-26 light bombers smashed 70 Red trucks and attacked Red rail lines in North Korea.

Truman Wants Quick Action On Treaty With Western Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman will ask the Senate today for the fastest possible approval of an indirect military alliance between the United States and West Germany.

The President's aides had ready for submission to the Senate copies of the pacts which Secretary of State Acheson signed, or whose signing he witnessed, in Europe last week. With the pacts goes a statement reportedly emphasizing the administration's view that Senate consent to U.S. ratification of the documents prior to the adjournment of Congress is of utmost importance. Treaties of the United States are not effective until approved by the Senate.

Foreseeing bitter parliamentary fights in France, Germany and possibly other European countries over the addition of West Germany to the European defense system, the Truman administration would like the Senate to set the pace. This would be a means of demonstrating to the Europeans this country's determination to get on with the task of linking Germany into the Allied system.

Little opposition has appeared in the Senate thus far, and senators interviewed today predicted quick approval.

The occasion afforded the President an opportunity also to warn the Russians of the seriousness with which the U.S. regards the German situation. Red leaders in Germany have called for "extreme national resistance," including sabotage, strikes and the like, to prevent the final forging of the links between the anti-Communist Western bloc and the West German state. The Reds even hinted at civil war.

92 Degrees Yesterday

Temperature moved up to a high of 92 yesterday, according to Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, weather observer. Low for last night was 63, and the mercury stood at 69 at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

New GI Bill Due Up Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new GI bill of rights, based on service since the date U.S. units began fighting in Korea, was scheduled for House action today.

The bill applies to all armed forces personnel who were in service on or after June 27, 1950, regardless of whether they were in Korea.

The measure comes up for a maximum of 40 minutes debate with members required to accept or deject it without change.

It calls for one big change in the GI bill which was written for veterans of World War II, concerning how education benefits will be paid.

The bill provides for the government to pay directly to veterans lump sums covering all tuition fee, books and other education expenses in addition to subsistence.

At present the government makes only subsistence payments to the schools whatever they directly to the veterans and pays charge for tuition and supplies.

Eisenhower Says Farewell To Army Life In Capitol Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower, soldier turning politician, was here today to say farewell to arms.

Behind him were 37 years as an Army officer, including two periods as supreme commander of all the armies of the West in Europe.

Before him looms one of the roughest and most bitter political campaigns in recent history. And the hardest fighting is likely to be within the Republicans party, for the presidential nomination which Sen. Robert A. Taft and others are seeking.

This was transition. Yesterday the five-star general stood by the plane which brought him from Paris, smiling in the warmth of a summer sun and a military welcome for a great soldier come home. Tomorrow afternoon he will be faced by the cold facts of political life.

That is when he has said he will doff his uniform, after his last call at the Pentagon. He makes his first speech in mufti at Abilene, Kan., Wednesday.

Even as he arrived, Taft's campaign headquarters got out a statement welcoming him back to this country but regretting that "he didn't return sooner."

"Now that he is about to take off his battle jacket we of the Republican party hope that he will start fighting," said a statement by Rep. B. Carroll Reece of Tennessee, manager of the committee backing the Ohio senator for the GOP nomination.

Reece suggested Eisenhower could start by "telling us whether or not the plan to spend half a million dollars in paying the expenses of delegates to come and see him has his approval."

This was a reference to a bid from Eisenhower backers for GOP convention delegates to visit the general at the expense of local campaign groups, if the delegates do not pay their own travel costs.

As part of Eisenhower's official welcome, he was hurried to the White House yesterday to report to President Truman. He was there almost two hours. The greater part of the time was devoted to a two-man talk between the President and the general and a subsequent session with Secretary of Defense Robert Lovett, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Secretary of the Army Frank Pace.

There was also a folksy little intermission while the President spent 50 minutes showing the general about the newly rebuilt executive mansion—into which Eisenhower may or may not move next January.

Plan Another Test In Scurry Ellenburger

American Trading & Production No. 1-A Elmer Howell in Southeast Scurry County is coring below 7,498 feet and plans a drillstem test when the hole has been cored to 7,545 feet.

A core from 7,451-495 feet recovered 43 feet of Ellenburger dolomite with no shows. The new core was started at 7,495.

FLOYD WELL

Standard of Texas No. 1 Adams, Floyd County indicated discovery, had more signs of proction on a drillstem test in an unidentified Pennsylvanian lime from 7,619-637 feet.

Gas surfaced in eight and one-half minutes on the two and one-half hour test. Recovery was 1,800 feet of mud cut oil, about 80 per cent oil and 20 per cent mud. There was no water.

The tool was plugged with cavings throughout the test, operator's representatives said. They believed this prevented a more satisfactory test.

FISHER COUNTY

Pure Oil Co. has completed its first well in the Claytonville - Pennsylvanian field of Southwest Fisher County.

It is the No. 1 G. N. Brock, located on the southeast side of the field. It was finaled for a daily calculated potential of 2,142 barrels of oil. The flow was through a three-quarter-inch tubing choke with no water. Gas-oil ration was 1,100-1. Pay was topped at 5,727. The reef lime was topped at 5,685 feet.

NEW PRODUCER

Ponder Inc., and others of Midland No. 1 Classen and others, northwest offset to the discovery well of the Mungerville - Pennsylvanian field in Central - West Dawson County, has shown as a good producer. It will be the third well in that region.

On a test from 8,445-550 feet, gas surfaced in six minutes and oil flowed at the top in 19 minutes, the remainder of the one and one-half hour test. No official report on the amount of oil produced was made immediately.

The project is about 10 miles northwest of Lamesa in section 95-M-EL&RR.

Some Clashes As Soviets Seal Off Berlin From Eastern Zone

BERLIN, June 2 (AP)—Scattered clashes were reported today as West Berliners sought to push through Communist road blocks sealing off the city from the surrounding Russian zone.

At one spot near the American sector border a Communist People's policemen fired warning shots to scare off West Berliners who tried to enter the Russian zone to get to their jobs.

Since Saturday midnight travel from Allied West Berlin into the Russian zone has been stopped—except for transit on the lifeline roads to West Germany. Those vital links were still open and travel was reported normal.

Under their new regulations the Communists required a special police permit for traveling in East Germany. Since nobody knows where to get these, it means that several thousand West Berliners who work in the Russian zone will be unable to get to their jobs when the long Whitesuntide weekend ends tomorrow. A few anxious people already tried it today. When they was barred by Red police sentries at road blocks argument developed.

The East Zone Communists claim the security measures are necessary as protection against alleged Western spies and saboteurs. Communist newspapers and radios have been attacking West Berlin as a "viper's nest of saboteurs and subversives."

West Berlin and Allied authorities contend the measures are actually new attempts at harrassment and strangulation of this island city in reprisal for West Germany having signed political and military alliances with the Western world.

The East Germans also are building deep security belts on their zonal borders with West Germany.

There appears to be confusion about whether the Communists actually intend to seal off completely their borders with West Germany. About half the rail and highway connections between the Russian zone and the federal republic have ready been closed. Allied protests have been ignored by the Russians. The East German government announced last week that details about getting the new travel passes would be broadcast later but so far nothing has been issued.

For the 8th straight day the Russians barred allied military police patrols from the Berlin-Helmstedt superhighway.

Meanwhile, the British dispatched a military police patrol to another disputed border area on Berlin's outskirts where the inhabitants apparently feared they were going to be incorporated in the Russian zone or evacuated to make way for another security belt.

It is the little enclave of Eiskeller, in the Spandau Forest on the west side of Berlin. Only about a dozen families live there and the demarcation lines between the British sector and the Russian occupation zone are vague.

Five British military policemen and a small detachment of West Berlin police took up guard posts in the area. On the other side the woods was filled with Russian guards and East German People's police. Eiskeller lies near a road which leads to the Red Air Force's Schoenewalde Air Field.

On Saturday Communist police ordered the evacuation of little Buergerblage, which like Eiskeller had been administratively attached to the British sector although lying just inside the Soviet zone. Buergerablage, a summer resort community, was cleared and made part of the Red security belt. Communist police also cut off the village of Steinstuecken, which has been linked to the American sector. Its 50 families were, however, reported to have been promised transit passes by the Communist police.

Governor Stevenson May Yet Run His Supporters Believe

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 31 (AP)—One segment of the Democratic presidential picture this year bears a haunting resemblance to a scene from a notable theater piece of a while back.

Some politicians are lounging around the equivalent of a smoke-filled room in ancient Rome, listening to a report on a rally engineered to boom the candidacy of a popular man of the day. It goes thus:

"Why, there was a crown offered him: and being offered him, he put it by with the back of his hand, thus: and then the people fell a-shouting."

"Was the crown offered him thrice?"

"Ay, marry, was't, and he put it by thrice, every time gentler than other; and at every putting by, mine honest neighbors shouted."

Something very like this has been going on around the Governor's Mansion in Springfield, Ill., in Washington, and at every other place where Adlai Ewing Stevenson, governor of Illinois, has appeared.

The crown they offer him is the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

Unlike the character in the play, however, Stevenson says he doesn't want it, and what's more, won't take it.

There is an unconfirmed report that the President himself tried without success to persuade Stevenson to run. A great many other Democrats have applied the pressure.

Each time, "he put it by with the back of his hand."

The reasons Stevenson gives are these: (1) He is running for re-election to his present office. (2) his program in Illinois is unfinished and he feels compelled to finish it, (3) his party has other men who can adequately fill the office in the White House.

But if Stevenson has been stubborn, his admirers have been no less intractable in the belief that he can be drafted.

Only the other day, the wires from Chicago reported that Jacob Arvey, the shrewd and amiable national committeeman for Illinois, had stated: "If the convention nominates him, I don't believe he would say no."

It seems wholly possible that Stevenson will be confronted, in July, with such a development. He says he will cross that bridge, etc . . .

Considering that he is only now completing the first term of the first elective office he ever held, the furore over Stevenson becomes an interesting facet in the pattern of an unusually interesting election year.

Why so many suitors so ardently plunking political banjos beneath the governor's window?

Because, they say, he has all the qualities and assets that make for a highly marketable candidate. Those Democrats who are worried about the charm—the political sex appeal, as they say — of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower believe that Stevenson can match him in that particular department.

Stevenson is 52 years old as of last February. He is a man of medium build, mostly bald. He has electric blue eyes, expressive hands, and a wide, incandescent smile. His movements are alert and springy. He bubbles over with humor, and he can make a sparkling speech.

In the majesty of the governor's office, he wears a brown tweed sports jacket with unmatching trousers. The collars of his shirts are soft and usually rumpled. His favorite foot gear is a pair of old golf shoes, from which he yanked the spikes.

His voice is warm and resonant, and faintly tinged with an Ivy League accent. As a boy, he went to school in Switzerland (speaks fluent French), and then took degrees at Princeton, Harvard Law School and Northwestern University.

As a professional put it—and a man who had opposed him on some issues, at that—"He's got class."

Politically, he seems strongly oriented toward liberal Democratic policy.

Stevenson had a wide experience

Adlai E. Stevenson

in appointive offices before he ever ran for governor.

He was special assistant to two secretaries of state, special assistant to a secretary of the Navy, United States minister to London in 1945, and a member of a number of United States delegations to the United Nations.

When he ran for governor, in 1948, he announced that he proposed to bring efficiency and morality into government ("or break my heart and my head in the attempt." He called for an administration "consecrated to plain talk, hard work and prairie horse sense."

He was elected by a plurality of 572,000, a record, and he is only the fourth Democratic governor of Illinois in nearly a century.

In his first year in office, he ran into very rough sledding.

A hostile Legislature torpedoed important features of his program. A veteran lawmaker remarked that Stevenson "must have been born in a political fairyland."

In the next year, however, Stevenson put through a big highway program, along with improvements in the public school system, and tighter enforcement of laws against gambling and the over-loading of trucks. He had to have some Republican support for this, since the GOP dominated both houses, and he got it.

He has not yet succeeded in another big objective, revision of the State Constitution of 1870. He calls it "our ancient straitjacket" and wages perennial war for a rewrite.

His critics also cite, as a failure of administration, the West Frankfort mine disaster, in which 119 men were killed. State and federal authorities later agreed it could have been prevented by proper inspections.

Stevenson was divorced in 1949 from the former Ellen Borden, socially prominent daughter of an explorer and a big game hunter. They have three sons, Adlai Jr., 21, Borden, 19, and John, 15.

The divorce, too, is considered a handicap by some political analysts.

Snyderites At Brother's Rites

Snyder relatives of B. L. Baze, 62, who died in a Brownfield hospital Sunday morning, were to attend funeral services in Brownfield this afternoon.

Mr. Baze, whose death was attributed to cancer, had lived in Snyder most of his life before moving to Brownfield about seven years ago. He had been employed by the old city-owned light plant here, had worked in his fathers' blacksmith shop, and in later years had served as water superintendent for the city.

Survivors living in Snyder are two brothers, A. B. (Boss) Baze, Scurry County businessman; J. I. Baze, grocer; and two sister, Mrs. John Johnson and Mrs. Inez Brown.

He is also survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Johnny Collier of Brownfield, and Mrs. Mable Herbert of Hillsboro; a stepdaughter of Burnet; two other brothers, John L. Baze of Abilene and Ed Baze of Denver, Colo.; and a sister, Mrs. J. L. Suits of Petersberg.

Taft Talks About Need For Greater Air Power By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft says a strong American foreign policy must be built around air power potent enough to protect this continent from attack and capable of bombing Russia's heartland.

On this score, the Ohio senator said, the administration and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, his principal opponent for the Republican presidential nomination, have failed.

Taft said "there has been a steady deterioration in our comparative air power, which began while Gen. Eisenhower was chief of staff."

The administration, Taft declared, has permitted this nation to lose the air supremacy it had at the end of World War II while spending billions of dollars on overseas handouts.

In a speech broadcast nationally by NBC yesterday, the Ohio senator made only passing mention of Eisenhower by name but he apparently was having his say before the general makes his first political speech in Abilene, Kas., Wednesday. Eisenhower arrived here from Paris yesterday to start winding up his military duties before beginning a self-limited presidential nomination campaign.

Taft linked President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson and Eisenhower to America's current foreign policy. He said this policy "is maintaining neither our security nor our peace nor our solvency."

Taft said his GOP opponents attack him whenever he differs with administration foreign policy adding:

"They seem to be afraid that a direct attack on the administration is an attack on Gen. Eisenhower."

Repeatedly Taft emphasized that in the Republican presidential campaign, "there must be no hesitation about attacking the foreign policy of Mr. Truman and Mr. Acheson."

"We cannot afford to nominate a candidate who will not condemn the utter failure of Mr. Truman's administration," Taft said.

The Ohioan called bipartisanship in present foreign policy a fraud. "When Mr. Truman talks of it," Taft said, "he means that he will make the policy and the Republicans must always go along with it."

Foreign policy is so tied in with domestic policy that it must be a campaign issue, Taft said. He declared it brought the draft of American boys, "a war in Korea which could have been avoided," 85 billion dollars yearly in government spending, the highest taxes in history and widespread government controls.

Taft said this country must give economic aid to others but in emergencies, and to arm those who wish to defend themselves against Communist attack. This program, he added "must be within our economic capacity and handouts of money cannot be the key to our foreign policy."

Wunderlich, holder of a lengthy police record, was sentenced to four years in jail.

Civic Leader Here Is Traffic Victim

George Coleman Spence, 35, well-known Snyder businessman who had lived in Scurry County 20 years, was fatally injured late Saturday night in an automobile accident 12 miles south of here on the Big Spring Highway.

Funeral services were to be held at the First Baptist Church at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Spence, who was born at Emory, Texas, was manager and part owner of Forrest Builders' Supply, 2109 Twenty - fifth Street. He had been with the business since 1937. He was a member of the Baptist Church and the Masonic Lodge and was serving as director and treasurer of the chamber of commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Gilmore, both 39, of 2411 Twenty - ninth Street, were also injured in the accident. Gilmore, a mechanic, suffered a back injury and his wife a knee injury. They are in Snyder Hospital.

Bill Zimmerman, highway patrolman who investigated the accident, said that Spence's 1950 Plymouth collided with an International truck belonging to the Canyon Trucking Co. Zimmerman said the truck, which had been stuck in the sand and had just been pulled out by another truck, was sitting partially on the road and that the Plymouth evidently hit it before it could stop. Driver of the truck was James Eugene Lowman, 23, who lives at Twenty-third Street and Avenue N.

The death was the fifth traffic fatality in the county this year. At this date last year four persons had died in county traffic accidents.

The Rev. E. K. Shepherd was to officiate in services, assisted by the Rev. M. W. Clark. Masonic services were to be held at the graveside. Burial was to be under direction of Bolger Funeral Home at the Snyder Cemetery.

Pall bearers were to be Joe Robinson, Mark Hailey, Newton Morton, J. Elmo Crowder, Dick Randal, Marshall Erwin, Forest Sears, and Whit Thompson.

Survivors are the widow, two daughters, Georgia Ann Spence, 7, and Linda Jean Spence, 3; three sisters, Mrs. Dal Fowler of Fort Worth, Mrs. Hal Cooke of Dallas, Mrs. Leonard Crayer of Overton; five brothers, Leonard W. Spence of Snyder, Homer M. Spence of Itasco, Tom Spence of Avery, John Spence of Italy, and Frank Spence of Waco.

Taking Bids On Paving Scurry County Road

The State Highway Department has announced that it is now taking sealed bids for construction of 4.533 miles of farm-to-market road in Scurry County, Edgar Taylor, county judge, said today.

The road, which is a part of the highway department's 80 mile program in the county, will be built from U.S. Highway 180 three miles northwest of Snyder.

The department announcement said plans and specifications are available at the office of Homer Ray, resident highway engineer in Snyder.

THE CHRYSLER IMPERIAL 6-PASSENGER SEDAN

YOU'LL FIND IT EVEN BETTER THAN YOU'VE HEARD!..

It's been many years since a new car has caused as much talk as today's Chrysler Imperial has. What you may not realize is how long it's been since a car gave so many reasons for excited talk as this one.

May we invite you to drive and test the best and most worth-owning engine on the road today? (Chrysler's magnificent new 180 H.P. FirePower V-8.)

May we invite you to handle the easiest and safest steering wheel in existence at the moment? (Chrysler's full-time Power Steering.)

May we invite you to try out brakes which require as little as one-third the usual foot-pressure, and still stop you in many feet less than other cars do? (Chrysler Power Brakes.)

May we invite you to sit on the most comfortable seat cushions, and enjoy the fullest window vision you can find? May we invite you to ride on the rough-road miracle of the Oriflow shock absorbers which only Chrysler-built cars have?

May we invite you to drive a Chrysler Imperial . . . and learn how much you'd miss, and deeply regret, if you bought another car today without knowing this one first?

We . . . and Imperial by Chrysler . . . are at your service, any time.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

When the Book Review Club chose Mrs. HERBERT EMERY of Dalas to be reviewer, when husbands were invited to the meeting, Friday and when Mrs. Emery chose "Pursuit of Gentlemen" as the book to review, it all added up to a good combination. Wives who had a little trouble getting the husband to escort them, report the husbands ended up being more enthusiastic then the members themselves.

At Mrs. F. G. SEARS' coffee honoring Mrs. Emery Saturday morning, we heard tentative plans for asking Mrs. Emery back next year.

* * *

We headed east Saturday for a very quick trip home. It was good to be there for the brief time and let Grandmother see that the sand and wind are making us more healthy. The greatest disappointment of the trip was discovering that the main drag by our house was being widened and in the course of progress, the monstrous bois-d'arc tree had to go to provide needed width for the street. We'll miss the great spot of shade it provided, and the children who walked by are bound to miss the horse apples that made good, gummy balls to play with.

* * *

Going through Breckenridge on the return trip yesterday, we saw the city park — a real oasis where at least half the town was making use of the beautiful pool. It made us wonder if Snyder will have something similar — and soon. Hotter days are coming. And kids are bound to head for stock tanks if other means of swimming aren't provided.

* * *

We're still trying to find out the name of the hill near Breckenridge where motorcycles and their crazy riders from all over the state go. Yesterday was the big day, and the highways were full of the motorcycles going or coming from the races. And such a crowd you never saw before. All manner of persons standing under the broiling sun to watch the races.

* * *

G. C. Spence, who was killed Saturday night, would have wanted no posthumous notoriety.

He was that kind of a man, and a good friend of the newspaper. We neighbored back and forth over numerous cups of coffee, since the lumberyard is right next door to our office. And never a reporter who looked coffee-thirsty could pass by without G. C.'s offering to buy a cup.

Several times a day or just once a week, he'd stop by to joke and say hello. He never stayed but a moment — just long enough to break the monotony, yet not long enough to delay any work that needed to be done. There'll be a great absence noted in our neighborhood — and we feel it will be that way all over town.

How can tea stains be removed from a pitcher?

I have read that ordinary table salt rubbed on the stain will remove the discoloration.

In one corner of our fenced back yard is some sort of insect which causes my two young sons much discomfort during the summer months. The doctor seems to think they are chigger bites. I would appreciate any information you could give me as to what insecticide I can use to get rid of them, yet be safe enough for the boys to be around. Also, how should I go about getting rid of them? This seems to be their favorite spot to play since it is the shady part of the yard Mrs. G.

I would suggest dusting the area with sulphur. You can buy this dusting sulphur in stores and follow the manufacturer's directions. The dusting should be done twice with a seven-day interval in between the treatments.

The chigger is a tiny red mite that is not noticeable except when it "bites." The treatment that I have recommended is the one that will also control red spider, which is a little larger than the chigger.

By the way of dusting of flowers with sulphur will benefit your soil also. It is added to lower the alkaline content and as you know, most plants do best in an acid soil.

I am planning to do some stenciling, but I wonder if you could tell me how to make the paint stay permanently? It seems that much hand stenciling washes out? B.

Too much paint causes stiffness and the design will not hold up under laundering. Use two or three times more extender than paint, depending on the color desired. Work by applying thin coats by layers rather than thicker coats. Allow colors to dry 24 hours. Set color with a hot iron for cotton or linen and a warm iron for silks, wools and rayons.

Some Advances Made In Getting Allies Weapons Standardized

PARIS, May 31 (AP)—Getting all the Western Allies to standardize their weapons and war techniques is like trying to herd steers in lockstep down a trail.

After 15 months of trying to get all North Atlantic Treaty nations to adopt interchanegable weapons and settle on identical war tactics and strategy, NATO military planners report some progress, but mostly "All we have got done is the preliminary plowing."

Items standardized to date include:

Bullets for 40mm. anti-aircraft guns, which now can be used in weapons made in the U.S., Britain or France and even in the prewar and wartime Swedish Bofors.

The size, shape and position of batteries is now the same for jeeps made in the U.S., Britain, France or Italy. Jeep tire sizes and thicknesses are the same.

Military highway markers and traffic control procedures have been made identical throughout Europe.

All NATO nations now use the same octane rating for gasoline and the same British thermal unit (BTU) rating for kerosene used in jet planes.

Beyond these achievements, about the only items standardized in 15 months of effort have been disagreements, confusion and headaches.

Efforts to avoid the confusion of each of the Allies having its own particular weapons and own ideas about how to use them began years ago with the American-British-Canadian Board.

This was succeeded by the Military Standardization Agency, which later changed its name to Military Standardization Committee.

The committee was expanded from three members to include, either as participants or consultants or observers, all 14 NATO nations.

The most celebrated snag in the standardization struggle was the basic weapon of all modern wars, the infantryman's rifle.

It began when British gunmakers came up with a .280 caliber rifle and said British factories should turn them out for all NATO infantry because it was lighter, better more powerful and could fire faster than the standard .303 U. S. Garand.

Quite an argument developed before somebody made the excellent point that to tool up and produce new guns of any kind to replace these in the hands of soldiers and the stockpiles of millions of rifles already stored would run up a staggering and unnecessary bill.

Another knotty problem is the varying sizes of divisions. The newly initialled European army plan provides for divisions of 12,000 men, in a unit stripped of all auxiliary units such as supply corps, hospitals and others.

The U. S. may reorganize its divisions along the same lines soon, and the standardizers are trying to line up the French, British and others to follow suit. Most U. S. infantry divisions now run between 19,000 and 20,000 men.

Wealthy Kans. Citian Robbed

KANSAS CITY, June 2 (AP)—Three holdup men took diamonds and furs valued at $81,400 and $500 cash from the home of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Burnett in an exclusive Kansas City residential section last night.

Mrs. Burnett is the former Miss Marcelina Pendergast, daughter of the late T. J. Pendergast. The home where the holdup occurred was the residence of the Democratic faction leader many years.

Burnett resigned last year as president of the Burnett Meat Company.

While one man guarded Mrs. Burnett, the couple's three children, a guest and a nurse in the basement laundry, the other two men ordered Burnett from room to room in the house. During the systematic, hour and a half search, nearly every drawer in the 17-room residence was removed and the contents strewn on the floors, police said.

Pale green and yellow dominated the color scheme used in decorations and refreshments. Sixteen guests called.

THE ADVENTURES OF PATSY

Boston Pushing Close On Tribe As Kinder Hangs Up New Win

(By The Associated Press)

Brooklyn is back in the lead in the National League today but all eyes are on the Boston Red Sox and their ancient righthander, Ellis Kinder.

Boston climbed to within one game of the American League pace-setting Cleveland Indians yesterday as Kinder hung up his 18th consecutive triumph over Chicago's White Sox with a 3-2 victory, in relief.

The tall Tennessean, who will be 38 next month, would be the best pitcher in baseball if he could face the White Sox all the time. He owns a 20-3 lifetime record against his windy city "cousins." They haven't beaten him since the middle of the 1948 season.

Beating one particular team consistently is quite the fashion with Red Sox hurlers. Mel Parnell, southpaw teammate of Kinder's currently owns 17 straight victories over Washington's Senators, who haven't beaten him since 1948.

A home run by Fred Hatfield, his first of the season, snapped a 2-2 tie in the seventh and gave Kinder his fourth victory of the season. Kinder replaced starter Bill Henry in the top of the seventh when the rookie southpaw raised a blister on his pitching hand. Saul Rogovin was the loser.

Meanwhile, the St.Louis Cardinals caught up with their nemesis, Dave Koslo, battering the lefthander for six runs in five innings as they swept a doubleheader from the Giants, 8-7 and 8-2, to knock New York out of first place.

Koslo, who has won his last 10 decisions over the Cards, escaped defeat, however, when the Giants battled back to a 7-7 tie in the eighth inning. St.Louis then won the game in the bottom of the ninth against George Spencer when Enos Slaughter hit a home run with two out.

Al Brazle was credited with the win.

Gerry Staley, backed by a 12-hit attack, won his ninth game in the nightcap which was called after 7½ innings because of darkness.

Brooklyn swept past the Giants into the No. 1 spot by edging the Chicago Cubs, 3-2. The Dodgers scored all their runs in the second inning, two of them coming on Gil Hodges' two-run homer.

The Boston Braves won their first game for new manager Charlie Grimm with an 18-hit 9-4 victory over Cincinnati after veteran southpaw Ken Raffensberger had pitched the Reds to a 1-0 masterpiece in the opener of the twin bill.

Ed Mathews rapped his eighth home run and Sam Jethroe collected four singles for the Braves as Warren Spahn coasted to his fifth success. Raffensberger permitted only five hits as he downed Vern Bickford in a pitching duel for his seventh triumph. A single by Andy Seminick scored Bob Borkowski with the only run in the ninth.

Ralph Kner clouted his seventh homer with two out in the ninth inning to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 2-1 victory and a split against the Philadelphia Phillies. Curt Simmons pitched a seven-hitter for his fourth triumph in the Phils' opening-game, 5-1 victory.

In the American League Lou Sleater won his third straight for Washington and Ted Gray gained his fifth for Detroit as the Senators and Tigers divided a doubleheader. The Senators won the first 4-3, and the Tigers the second game 6-3.

Rain washed out other scheduled games.

Old Timers May Lead Olympic Team From U.S. This Summer

NEW YORK (AP)—America's top collegiate track performers pointed today for the N.C.A.A. championships in Berkeley, Calif., June 13-14 as the first big hurdle to clear to win a place on the Olympic team that goes to Helsinki in July.

As usual the United States will have a powerful team. It will be the first to meet Russia in direct athletic competition. But right now it looks as if America will depend more on its college graduates than on the undergraduates.

Manhattan easily won the I.C.A.A.A.A. championships Saturday and Illinois shaded Michigan in the Big Ten in final tuneups for the nationals.

Bright college performances of the week-end, all pointing to possible Olympic team places, were: James Golliday, Northwestern, 100 yards in :09.5; Stacey Siders, Illinois, 880 in 1:51.2; Walt Davis, Texas A&M, high jump it. 6-9½; Javier Montes, Texas Western, 1,500 meters in 3:52.5; Gilbert Borjeson, Brown, hammer, 180-1⅝; Bob Allison, Navy javelin, 225-2¼; and Dick Maiocco, Manhattan, 440 in :47.9 on a slow track.

The college graduates also made some good marks, Jim Gerhardt, formerly of Rice, did 48 feet 4 inches in the hop, skip, and jump, and Warren Dreutzler, ex-Michigan State, 1,500 in 3:53.6.

However it looks as if some of the oldtimers will be the American stars at Helsinki, such as Bob Richards, who has done 14-10½ in the pole vault outdoors; Jims, Fuchs, who has a mark of 57-4½ in the shot; Sam Felton, Navy Olympics, 185-10½ in the hammer; Mal Whitfield, :47 at 400 meters; and Craig Dixon, :13.9 for the high hurdles.

The United States looks particularly strong in two weight events, the shot and discus. In the discus Sam Inness of Southern California has done 183-5¼, closely followed by Fortune Gordien, ex-Minnesota, with 181-10½.

Among the American veterans, Don Gehrmann, formerly of Wisconsin, did a good 3:50.6 in the 1,500 meters in London, but he was third to Britain's Bill Nankeville who was caught in 3:49.

A strong Olympic possibility in an event in which the United States is traditionally strong is George Brown of UCLA, who has hit 26-3¼ in the broad jump.

So far a dominant sprinter has not appeared. Thane Baker of Kansas State has times of :09.5 for the 100 and :20.8 for the 220. Dean Smith of Texas has a bright :10.3 for the 100 meters, and Paul Wells of Oklahoma A&M has :10.4 for the 100 and :20.6 for the 200 meters.

Ollie Matson, USF, looks to be the best of the collegiate 440 yard men with :46.9.

The first six men in each event at the Berkeley national collegiates qualify for the final Olympic tryouts in Los Angeles June 27-28.

Qualifying In Big Open Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 1,500 hopefuls for the United States open golf championship teed off from one end of the country to the other today in the qualifying round.

When all the returns are in, 121 lucky ones out of the record field of 1,505 will have places in the starting field for the big tournament, scheduled for next week at the Northwood Club, Dallas, Tex. On Wednesday, the New York Metropolitan area will allot 12 places in a field of 146.

The way things break down, there is only one place for about every 12½ players who would like to get in.

Thirty-one places already are taken, 29 by exemptions and two by Walter Nagorski and Alex Kong, who qualified in the Honolulu section last week.

Those who don't even have to try for it are the former open champion, the low 20 and dies in the previous year's tournament, the U.S. amateur, champion the P.G.A. champion and the home club pro. That means that most of the topnotchers on the circuit, including defending champion Ben Hogan, are except from having to qualify.

The St. Louis district has the toughest field and has been allotted the largest number of places, 19.

Kiner's Seventh Homer

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ralph Kiner's game-winning home run off Philadelphia's Karl Drews in yesterday's nightcap was the Pittsburgh slugger's seventh homer of the season—and his sixth off righthanders.

Magnolia Gets Win Saturday

Magnolia, loser of three games in a row, defeated National Guard winner of its last three games, by a score of 8-5 Saturday night in the Snyder Fastball League.

The Magnolia nine, which scored its win on six hits, will play again at 7 o'clock tonight when it meets Town & Country.

National Guard had eight hits, one of them a home run by Henry Treet, who was also losing pitcher. Winning pitcher was Ben Greenfield.

The winning team committed three errors, and the losers had two.

American Legion won its game with West Texas Concrete Saturday night by forfeit, while the West Texas team dropped out of the league.

The Legion team, which now leads the league with a 5-1 record, will meet Diamond M at 9 o'clock tonight.

Favor Drobny In Wimbledon

PARIS (AP)—Jaroslav Drobny, the Continent's No. 1 tennis player for the past two years, today set his sights on the famed Wimbledon title—and there were few experts who would be willing to bet against him.

The bespectacled Drobny, who plays out of Egypt after fleeing his native Czechoslovakia when the government went Communist, whipped Frank Sedgman, the Australian Davis Cup ace, 6-2, 6-0, 3-6, 6-4, yesterday in the final of the French International Championship. It was his second straight championship in the event.

Sedgman probably is the most feared name ni amateur tennis but it didn't bother the lefthanded Drobny, who never even was pushed in the first two sets.

Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., won the women's title when she turned back Shirley Fry of Akron, O., 6-4, 6-4.

Walker Picked For U.S. Olympic Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Two New Yorkers and a University of California student will represent the United States in the Olympic 10,000-meter walk at Helsinki.

Henry H. Laskau, 35-year old exporter, topped the qualifiers yesterday when he won the National AAU 10,000-meter title for the sixth straight year. Competing in a steady rain, Laskau was timed in 47 minutes 53.4 seconds.

HOGAN IN TRAP

Ben Hogan, national open golf champion, blasts from a trap beside the 14th green of Northwood course in Dallas. Shooting over the course, which will be the scene of the National Open June 12-14, Hogan registered 34-37—71 as a standard for some 300,000 golfers in the United States and Canada to try to better on National Golf Day.

Unexplainable Interest Shown In Car Racing Every Year

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Now that the roaring is out of our ears and the temples have ceased to throb gently, we are willing to concede that everyone should see and hear this city's famous auto race at least once.

It is, as its enthusiasts claim at the drop of a gasket, this nation's one really super sports pectacle, comparing more closely than any other to the English Derby in color and sheer magnitude. There is a good possibility that they sell the 15,000-plus tickets they talk about.

As only a one-time loser, we cannot claim yet to understand the fascination which causes otherwise sound citizens to pay up to $30 for a chair at the "500", but there is no denying that the event has something besides noise.

Critics of the race used to say because of the implicit promise of sudden death. That cannot hold good much longer, for this marked the fifth straight year without a driver fatality, and the throng which cheered the victory of 22-year-old Troy Ruttman on Memorial Day was said by veteran observers to have been the biggest yet.

It might be that the "500" bugs simply are, for the most part, persons who love automobiles and like to watch them go fast and are thwarted race drivers, themselves. At least we feel sure, having watched faces, that most of those who witnessed Friday's spectacle were more genuinely tied up in the proceedings than is the average fan at a big horse race.

There was no betting and the bars were closed all day. Yet these thousands sat there hour after hour and watched the little cars scream past.

It takes some explaining. Admittedly there was a thrill but to one observer, who had gotten in free, the whole thing became pretty dull about the second hour. The only way he could tell who was in front was by watching the scoreboard. The official announcer was drowned out by the noise of the cars.

But none of this appeared to detract from the supreme enjoyment of the experienced multitude. They sat and watched. By some inner instinct they probably knew which driver was in front. To them the ear-splitting racket was a lullaby.

There's got to be an explanation, and the only one we can think of at the moment is that more persons own cars than own horses. We wish we owned the speedway.

Reynolds Wins Tourney

WICHITA FALLS, (AP) —Sammy Reynolds of Wichita Falls won the second annual Texas-Oklahoma Invitational Golf Tournament yesterday, swamping H. C. Slocum of Fort Sill, Okla., 11 and 10 in the finals.

Reynolds went five up through the morning round and after lunch shot three birdies and an eagle to end the match on the twenty-second hole.

Several Beat Hogan Record

NEW YORK (AP)—Who said Ben Hogan can't be beaten?

More than 7,000 golfers, most of them just duffers or weekend golfers, can say today: "I did."

Nearly all of them, however, did it with handicaps. But there were a few that topped Hogan's score of 71 without a handicap. The National open champion turned in his par 71 at the Northwood Country Club course in Dallas where he'll defend his title starting June 12.

A total of 7,511 of the 55,105 reported in the beat Ben Hogan National Golf Day Saturday turned in better cards than the mighty mite from Texas.

All who participated paid an entry fee of $1 in the event sponsored by the Professional Golfers Association and Life Magazine with all proceeds going to the National Golf and U.S.O. funds.

John Haine, 79-year old Tres Pinos, Calif., player had the lowest. He shot a 74 and with a handicap of 14 turned in a 60. Eight-year-old Diane Wilson of Kansas City had a 117-48—69.

General Omar Bradley, head of the joint chiefs of staff, scored an 85, which was reduced to 74 by his handicap of 11. Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) had a 94-16—78.

Andy Sowrd a policeman of Dallas had the lowest net, a 64.

There were nine holes-in-one reported.

Women's Tournament Postponed By Rain

GREAT NECK, N.Y. (AP)—The nation's top women golfers will have to wait until tomorrow to decide the winner of the $17,000 transcontinental golf tournament.

The final round was scheduled for the Deepdale course but heavy rains forced postponement.

Betsy Rawls of Austin, Tex., national open champion, holds a nine-stroke lead, 512 to 521, over Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex.

He'll try losing some of that today in a workout before the watchful three-man Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission.

In nearby Pleasantville Charles goes through his last sparring session today in preparation for the bout.

Women Qualifying At Texarkana Matches

TEXARKANA, (AP) — Qualifying rounds began today in the Texas Women's Golf Tournament with Pat Garner, the long-hitter from Midland, favored to lead the way.

More than 100 players are due to post scores. Match play begins tomorrow.

Women's par is 77 over the pine tree-lined Texarkana country club course and it is expected that even par will capture the medal.

Polly Riley of Fort Worth, the defending champion, is not here. She is playing in the Curtis Cup matches in England. Miss Garner was a semi-finalist last year.

Firms Merge And Move Into New Location

Hales Sewing Machine Exchange, dealer for the Necchi zig-zag sewing machine, has moved from 2506 Avenue F to the East side of the square in the former location of the Upshaw Music Co, J. P. (Pete) Hale, owner, said.

Hale said the move was made so the firm could offer greater convenience to their customers.

Morris Melody Shop, 2619 Avenue S, will move into the building with Hale's Sewing Machine Exchange, Hale added.

Most of the stock of the Upshaw Music Co. will be retained by the new operators of the businesses in the building and they will have the musical instrument lines as an added feature of the shop.

Lyle Upshaw, former owner of the music company also owns a similar business in Amarillo. He will return to that Panhandle city to operate the business there, Hale said.

Hale's Sewing Machine Exchange is also dealer here for Kirby Vacuum Cleaners.

Five Snyder Residents In Automobile Wreck At Port Arthur Saturday

Five Snyder residents escaped serious injury Saturday night in an automobile accident in Port Arthur where they had gone on a week-end visit..

Mrs. Isabel Arauza, 2208 Avenue T, was the only one injured seriously enough to be taken to a hospital. She was released after receiving first aid treatment. Her husband was driving the car. Other passengers were the couples 11-month-old son, Andrea, Mrs. E.P. Gonzales and Ismael Gonzales, both of Snyder.

Mrs. Arauza said the accident occurred when a vehicle approaching the car Arauza was driving struck it as Arauza was attempting to turn. Both cars were virtually demolished.

Uninstructed, Unpledged Delegation To Meeting

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—An unpledged, uninstructed slate of delegates will be chosen tonight at what leaders predict will be the most harmonious Democratic state convention in recent years.

No opposition has been voiced to the slate of 12 candidates who will represent this staunchly Democratic industrial state at the national convention next month.

State Democratic leaders have made it clear the delegation will go to Chicago with open minds. The man considered to have the endorsement of President Truman is believed certain of the Rhode Islander's support.

Ike's Background Is Perfect From Political Point Of View

ABILENE, Kan. (AP)—From a political point of view, Gen. Dwight E. Eisenhower picked a good place to be reared, in fact almost a perfect place.

If the men who are now directing his presidential campaign had sat down to design a politically desirable background for him, they would have chosen these ingredients:

A small town, preferably in the Middle West . . . A medium-large family in the middle income bracket. . . A two-story frame house, painted white with porches in front and back . . . It would be comfortably but not expensively furnished, with hooked rugs, rocking chairs, an upright piano, and a large wall clock ticking in the silence of the parlor.

A church and a red brick schoolhouse would stand nearby, and beyond, the wheat fields, and beyond them the enormous authority of the Great Plains.

The candidate himself should be as typically American as his locale . . . He would like baseball and football and he would go fishing with the crooked branch of a tree for a rod. . . The "old swimming hole" would be hidden in the woods not far away.

The boy, however, would work after school and on Saturdays for his pocket money and later, to help with the expenses of going to college.

All the details, in short would be selected so as to form a picture of an intensely typical American boy in a setting totally familiar to millions of other Americans, probably the greatest single group of people in the country.

This is precisely the background, complete to the last detail, from which Eisenhower emerged.

It is the scene to which he returns next Wednesday for what will be the intense stage of the campaign to obtain the Republican nomination.

The white frame house now has been deeded by the Eisenhowers to a foundation which made it a shrine dedicated to the United States armed forces.

Abilene itself is a leafy little community of 5,800, quiet and with an air of modest prosperity.

To this scene some 50,000 or more of Eisenhower's admirers are expected to come on Wednesday when he arrives. The ceremonies include a parade of floats depicting his life here, in West Point and overseas.

A major speech, to be televised nationally, follows the parade. On Thursday a press conference with some 300 news and radio correspondents will be held in a motion picture theater.

Eisenhower has invited Republican delegates, governors and state chairmen to meet him here and discuss issues. Committeemen said the response is "very good." More than 100 from Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Arkansas and Oklahoma are reported to be on the way.

The general expects to meet others in New York, Detroit and Denver.

But only the ones that come to Abilene will see him against the background where he started.

Grocers Run Out Of Bread Over Week End

The bread shortage in some Snyder grocery stores Sunday was only temporary, due to too many holiday picnics, but the lack of potatoes is still serious, grocers reported this morning.

Most stores open Sunday ran out of bread early that morning. Bread has been unusually popular over the holiday week end, and as one store owner pointed out, people came in from out-of-town trips Sunday, all hungry and all wanting bread. There's plenty of bread today.

Some stores report a flat "no potatoes." Others are getting a ration of new potatoes weekly, and a few even are stocking the old-fashioned white spud.

Bright spot in the shortage story was a down-town grocer's report: "we have potatoes, pleny of potatoes. Limit? The sky's the limit."

BUSINESS MIRROR

Bosses To Be Honored Next Wednesday On Secretary Day

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—The real boss of many a business is to be honored come Wednesday. For that is secretaries day.

She is a rare and sought after person in many offices where there is a secretarial shortage—due in part to the short baby crop of the depressed 30s which means fewer women in their late teens and early 20s now, and in part to the lure of other jobs in industry and the competition from the greatly expanded government payroll.

The National Secretaries Association has already named "Miss Best Adjusted Secretary of 1952"—Miss Doris Dean, 22, of Pittsfield, Mass., a doctor's right-hand gal.

And it has also polled its 12,000 members around the country and come up with some statistics on what an average secretary looks like—how her physical attributes vary from section to section, and how they are shifting over the years. Some of it's fairly surprising.

The mental equipment of secretaries also has been looked into jointly by Harvard's Department of Social Relations and the Soundscriber Corp. They report: the ideal one is a "happy, efficient young woman who has successfully shortened the psychological distance between herself and her boss."

Johns Hopkins has made a fairly odious comparison between the mental stature of women and men and reports that women can do more mental work than men in a given time and do it more accurately. To which the chairman of the National Secretaries Week Council, C. King Woodbridge, president of Dictaphone Corp., adds:

"Secretaries of today are considered more intelligent than those of 1902."

The association's poll is quoted by Woodbridge as showing the average secretary is now five feet four and a half, against five feet three at the turn of the century; her shoes are closer to 7B than the 4B of yesteryear; and she has a life expectancy at birth of 60 years, or 18 more than 50 years ago.

The U. S. Census Bureau notes that there's a greater percentage of married women now than in 1940, and that today's bride is usually several years younger than brides of pre-war days. And, like other women, secretaries marry younger these days, too.

But the really fascinating statistics from that poll are those backed up by the research files of the Corset and Brassiere Association. According to these records:

West Coast secretaries have the widest hips—two inches wider than the national average. New York secretaries have the narrowest—but the most generous bust measurements. Texas secretaries, on average, are the longest waisted—about an inch and a half longer than the nation as a whole.

Some of the industry predict that the way things are going, by the year 2000 and the average secretary will be an inch and a half taller than now, weigh three pounds more and be slightly larger in all directions.

As for secretaries day, Woodbridge insists it isn't a commercial idea. But if you see some ads suggesting a gift for the gal, maybe it'll seem just like Mother's Day or Father's Day—strictly sentimental.

Communist Says He Can Confirm Death Of Lubbock Air Ace

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — A Communist correspondent today said he had seen photographs which confirm the death of Maj. George A. Davis, Jr. America's greatest jet ace when he was shot down Feb. 10.

Alan Winnington of the London Daily Worker told Allied newsmen he saw "within the last day or two" photographs of Davis' body, his identification tag, his pistol and crashed Sabre jet. The pictures appeared in the Communist Chinese-language publication "Liberation Army Pictorial."

Winnington said the paper also carried a full page photograph of Chang Tse-hui. Chinese MIG ace credited with shooting down Davis.

The U. S. Air Force officially lists Davis, from Lubbock, Tex., as missing in action. He had a record of 21 planes shot down, including 11 MIGs.

Two Bodies Found In Central Park Yesterday

NEW YORK (AP)—A stroller in Central Park yesterday came upon the bodies of a man and woman lying four feet apart.

Police found on the bodies two notes written on one sheet of paper. Both were to the same effect:

"Cannot live together and are not going to live apart. Hope we will be buried together as one."

A .45 caliber automatic pistol lay nearby.

Police said it appeared that Louis Rizarry, about 38 and married, had killed Mrs. Juanita Rivera, a divorcee about 30, with two shots and then killed himself with a shot in the mouth.

C. E. McGaw is Jones's attorney and Keith Merrick, county attorney, is representing the state.

County Judge Edgar Taylor recessed the jury after it was chosen until 1:30 this afternoon.

Jurymen are J. P. DeShazo, Melvin Howard, A. K. Murphy, Harold C. Denson, W. M. Davidson, and P. W. Cloud.

Communists Calls Strike Over France

PARIS (AP)—The Communist-run French Confederation of Labor (CGT) has called a 24-hour strike in the Paris area Wednesday in protest against the government's weekend crackdown on the Reds.

The demand—for workers to lay down their tools once they get back to work Wednesday after the long Pentecostal weekend—went out after a meeting of the CGT executive committee yestrday.

The strike call followed a similar appeal for a nation-wide walkout last week. The three million members of CGT virtually ignored this first demand.

There was a much better chance, however, that the new mass walkout wil work, by calling on only the Paris area, the CGT can expect fair support from the "Red belt" of workers surrounding the metropolitan district.

The proposed demonstration is aimed at Premier Antoine Pinay's government in retaliation for its raids Saturday on Communist party headquarters in Paris and other French cities. Police confiscated papers and weapons.

Last week's strike call was made following the arrest of Communist leader Jacques Duclos in the midst of rioting which was partly anti-American.

2,380,770 Working For Government Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission said today that as of April 1 there were 2,380,770 persons working for the federal government.

Of these 1,104,083, or 47 per cent, were veterans or relatives entitled to veteran - preference consideration, the commission said.

Nine months earlier, the announcement reported there were 2,312,983 employes.

New Manager At Drug Store

Mrs. Lillie Blackledge was recently appointed manager of the fountain department of the Harris Pharmacy on the Southwest corner of the Square, Perry D Harris, owner, said.

Mrs. Blackledge said that under her management the fountain personnel wishes to maintain and improve upon the service which has made the fountain popular. She said new items have been added as the seasons change to keep up with the very seasonal taste preferences of fountain customers.

Delivery service for fountain confections has been added by the department, Mrs. Blackledge said. anyone who wishes a cold malt, milkshake, or any other fountain item can have them quickly delivered to their door by calling 3-3261, she said.

Other departments of the store have been summerized, too, so that the store is a one-stop shopping center for almost any item that will contribute to keeping cool, Harris said.

Socialist Party In Nation Gets Started With Drive For Votes

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Socialist party's new candidate for president called today for a "bang up drive" for votes.

"Our program will show that the common people can win greater freedom and a larger share of the national income," declared Darlington Hoopes, 55, an attorney of Reading, Pa.

The socialists unanimously picked him as their presidential candidate at their 28th national convention which ended here yesterday. He had been named to his fourth straight term as party chairman earlier in the convention.

Norman Thomas, Socialist presidential candidate six times, refused to run again and did not attend the meeting.

Ike Backers Discount Support Given Taft By Gen. MacArthur

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Campaigners for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today discounted the effect of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's open support for Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio in Tuesday's vital Republican presidential primary here.

The top man of Eisenhower's 14-vote delegate slate, former Gov. George T. Michelson, told a reporter he doesn't believe the last-hour MacArthur appeal will have any affect on the election results.

Victor A. Johnson, Taft's field manager, called the MacArthur action "highly encouraging."

A Taft slate of delegates is battling the Eisenhower group in the last primary clash between the two top rivals for the GOP nomination before the Chicago convention in July.

They have the field alone in a contest where write-ins are barred and the results are expected to be extremely close.

MacArthur, who previously has kept his support for Taft largely behind the scenes, put himself in direct opposition to Eisenhower in a telegram yesterday to former Gov. Leslie Jensen.

"Would deeply appreciate any help you can give to Senator Taft in South Dakota," MacArthur wired Jensen, who served under the five-star general in the Pacific theater, who has not been active in South Dakota politics for several years, promptly endorsed Taft.

Mickelson said he was surprised by Jensen's action, since the latter had told him last week he favored Eisenhower.

"The Taft campaign has been centered against the military," Mickelson observed. "It is odd Taft seems to welcome the military willing to support him."

The South Dakota ballot box battle Tuesday, in which about 120,000 Republicans may take part, shares national attention with Eisenhower's appearances in Washington and a homecoming speech he will make in Abilene, Kan., Wednesday.

Taft's forces need a South Dakota victory to keep them rolling on a week of delegate selecting they believe will carry their candidate to a point close to 100 convention votes ahead of Eisenhower.

Eisenhower backers believe, however, that if they can win South Dakota's 14 votes they will be able to shake loose some delegates among the 32 to be chosen from Indiana, six from the District of Columbia and two from Virginia during the week.

Taft claims in advance the bulk of these delegates. In The Associated Press tabulation, Taft starts the week with 421 delegates, Eisenhower with 387. A total of 604 is needed for the nomination.

If Taft wins, in South Dakota his backers think they will have killed off any possible stampede developing for the general in connection with his return to this country and the attendant publicity given it.

The Eisenhower followers evidently count on a South Dakota victory to produce the atmosphere for a drive to blitz the Chicago convention into an early ballot nomination.

Amid all the furore over the Republican contest, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee went about the business of filing a first mortgage claim on South Dakota's eight Democratic delegates.

A Kefauver slate of delegates is opposed by a slate assembled by state party leaders technically uncommitted to any candidate.

GOP State Meeting In Missouri Is Opened Today At Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP) — More than 1,500 Missouri Republicans were on hand today for the opening of the party's state convention. With all 26 delegates to the national convention already chosen in district meetings, the chief convention task was selection of a national committeewoman.

In the national delegation 17 members have declared themselves for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. His supporters claim another four delegates. Five delegates are backing Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Principal candidates in the contest for committeewoman are Mrs. Estelle Tanner of Jefferson City, present committeewoman, and Mrs. Alberta Green of West Plains, District delegate.

Mrs. Green is pledged to Eisenhower. Mrs. Tanner has proclaimed herself officially neutral in the Taft-Ike contest, but has been credited to the Taft forces.

Umstead Will Head Ticker In North Carolina

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—William B. Umstead, 57-year-old veteran of party activities, will head North Carolina's Democratic ticket in the November elections as the party's candidate for governor.

Umstead, a former U.S. senator and congressman, defeated former Superior Court Judge Hubert E. Olive in Saturday's Democratic primary. Olive was backed by Gov. W. Kerr Scott, who cannot succeed himself under state law. The nomination is tantamount to election.

The Durham lawyer will oppose Republican Herbert F. Seawell, who was nominated at the GOP state convention last month.

With 1,946 of the 2,017 precincts reporting, the unofficial count gave Umstead 287,074 votes and Olive 261,120.

John H. Kerr Sr., a veteran of 29 years in Congress, lost his second District seat. He was beaten by L. M. Fountain, 39-year-old state senator. The count was more than two to one.

In another congressional race, incumbent F.Ertle Carlyle held a slight edge over Fayetteville mayor J. O. Talley Jr. in a three-man contest. A runoff probably will be necessary to decide the winner.

Former Superior Court judge George H. Shuford, of Asheville, led a three-man field in the 12th District race to nominate a successor to Rep. Monroe M. Redden, who is retiring. But State Sen. Frank M. Parker polled enough votes to demand a runoff.

A runoff also was in prospect in the Ninth District, where a three-man field battled for the nomination to succeed Rep. Robert L. Doughton, 88-year-old chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, who did not seek re-election. Former State Rep. Hugh Q. Alexander held a commanding lead, but Graham Carlton had enough votes for a runoff.

Warren Has Home Battle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. Earl Warren's campaign leaders, fighting an intensive rival bid for California's 70 GOP convention delegates, urged their supporters today to get out and vote in the state's presidential primary tomorrow.

Thomas J. Mellon, Warren's Northern California director, warned against overconfidence in a statement which indicated respect for the vote-getting potential of the bitterly anti-Warren slate.

Rep. Thomas H. Werdel of Bakersfield, nominal candidate of an uncommitted delegation, confidently predicts he'll lick Warren—and thus wreck his presidential chances—by over 200,000 votes. Werdel, who is running for reelection to Congress, personally favors Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio or Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur.

In the Democratic contest, Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown, stand-in candidate of the late-starting former Truman slate, called on voters to turn out in large numbers to choose their 68-vote delegation.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee felt safe enough to leave the state Friday night to campaign in South Dakota.

Warren and Kefauver, both actual candidates, and the two opposing "free choice" slates are the only entries on the ballots. Write-ins are not permitted.

Werdel and Brown have hammered at a similar theme—that they'll release their delegates immediately after the election. Warren has said he'll release his delegates if it becomes apparent that he has no hope of winning the nomination.

The Eisenhower volunteers organization has endorsed Warren.

Seek New Trial For Alger Hiss

NEW YORK (AP) — Alger Hiss' attorney goes into Federal Court today to try to win the jailed former state department aide a new trial.

But it was reported that the government might ask a delay of a day or two on the hearing of Hiss' motion.

Hiss, 47, was convicted of perjury at his second trial in January, 1950. An initial trial the previous year ended with the jury deadlocked. He now is serving a five-year term at Lewisburg, Pa., federal prison.

Hiss was charged with lying to a Federal Grand Jury when he testified he never gave state department secrets to Whittaker Chambers, a former Communist spy ring courier, before World War II.

Chester T. Lane, attorney for Hiss, moved for a third trial last January. Lane contends he has new evidence.

War Heads Into Third Year With Little Hope Of Peace

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—There is a wry date on the world's calendar this month—the beginning of the third year of the Korean War.

Barring a resumption of large-scale fighting or a sudden and successful conclusion of the truce talks, the end of the second year of the conflict will find both sides roughly where they were when it started, June 25, 1950—astride the 38th Parallel.

They have been virtually stalemated for nearly a year, through 11 months of almost non-stop talks about a cease-fire agreement.

Both sides now are incomparably stronger than they were at the outset of the war. But the dismaying fact is that in the last year, despite day-and-night hammering by Allied planes, the enemy has doubled his troops along the front from 500,000 men to 1,000,000. He has 600 tanks and armored guns ready, more than twice the number he had in 1950. His artillery is also greater. His airpower has doubled or trebled.

The Allies virtually destroyed the first enemy—the North Korean army. Their main foe now is the Chinese Reds, armed with many of the latest and best weapons made by Soviet Russia, which remains serenely out of the battle.

Both Congress and the nation, weary of Russia's war of nerves, backed President Truman's decision to go into Korea.

It looked at the start as only a job for the regular army—an Oriental grassfire that could quickly be stamped out. But today most of the Americans in uniform in Korea are civilians, called to duty. Month by month the war has touched more and more American families.

There is a great unrest about this strange twilight, faroff struggle that goes on and on and has cost this nation alone some 109,000 casualties. Americans aren't used to seeing themselves in the plight of a man who has got his hand stuck in flypaper and can't paw it off.

"What kind of a war is this?" they say, impatiently. "Let's get it over with."

But as of now only three things can be said for sure about the Korean business:

1. It did stop in its tracks the attempt of Communism to expand by blunt force.

2. It woke up America to the bitter truth it wasn't ready to defend itself, and had become the fat boy of the post-war world.

3. It shows no signs of ending soon.

Some critics of United Nations policy believe the Allies should mass more men and weapons and smash through the Chinese Reds to the Yalu River.

That probably could be done, at the price of heavy casualties. But the dilemma of the top command is this: would that end the Korean War, or only precipitate the third world war? The Yalu River also borders Siberia. Russia has gone to extreme lengths to keep satellite states between her and any possible enemy. Would she stand idly by while a great foreign land army came to the Red raw nerve of her Siberian frontier? Or would she throw her own Siberian army into action, and perhaps simultaneously march into Europe?

It is this possibility that holds us in deadlock in Korea.

But meanwhile the forces of the free world are building. There also remains a diplomatic avenue that hasn't been publicly explored. As time goes on, will Red China be content to remain a catspaw of Russia? Tito wasn't. Can a way be found to drive a wedge between the endless manpower of China and the mushrooming industrial might of Russia?

The allied diplomat who can succeed in doing that might save a million lives on the battlefield.

But the disheartening certainty is that of now, after nearly two years of accordian-like warfare, we do not know whether we have made of Korea a bulwark of future peace or only the laboratory for a more terrible third world war.

Four Orphans Broken From Their Family

PITTSBURGH, June 2 (AP)—Four wide-eyed Michigan youngsters, orphaned by an auto crash which killed their parents started life anew today in Pittsburgh.

They are Jimmy Moore, 5, his brother, Jeffrey, 4, and their sisters, Mary Jean, 9, and Barbara, 6, four of 11 children made homeless by the death of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Moore last Nov. 11.

Since then, the children have tried to make a go of it together at the family home in Leonard, Mich., but the experiment didn't pan out.

Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Friesen brought back two boys and Mr. and Mrs. J. Donald Babb returned with two girls. Dr. Friesen is a psychiatrist, and Babb an insurance executive.

The Babbs sought to adopt the entire family shortly after the Moore parents were killed but the oldest, Jerry, 16, resisted breaking up the family. He changed his mind on a recent trip to Pittsburgh and consented to adoption.

Six Moore children will remain at home in Leonard until arrangements are made for them. The baby, Michael, eight months, is being cared for by a couple in Royal Oak, Mich. Money is no problem. Well wishers set up funds totalling $20,000 to meet immediate needs.

Cat Swallows Canary

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The cat that swallowed the canary got an assist from a 5-year-old boy.

Peter Hummel threw a stone and it broke a window in his home.

That night a stray cat entered the Hummel residence via the broken window, tipped over a canary stand and devoured the family's pet bird.

Small Car Engines Are Talked By Auto Group

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Automobile engiess of high power output and increased compression ratio, but considerably smaller in size than present models are among objectives of the nation's automotive engineers.

Such engines will be talked about at great length by engineers attending the annual meeting here of the Society of Automotive Engineers. The sessions opened today and continues through Friday.

FLAMES DESTROY TANK CAR

Oil-fed flames provide a backdrop for tank cars eventually destroyed in a blaze at the tank car loading docks on the Great Lakes Pipeline Company plant in an industrial area about midway between downtown Omaha and the city's municipal airport. Destroyed by an explosion and fire were four empty tank cars and a small building. Omaha firemen battled the spectacular blaze for three hours before bringing it under control.

Army Admirer Is Gone Again As Ike Reaches Washington For Visit

NEW YORK (AP)—Almost three weeks ago John Arzoomanian, 13, ran off to Washington to see a general — "just any general."

Today John was gone from home again, and his father speculated that this time the boy had a particular general in mind — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who arrived in Washington yesterday.

John's father, Khosrov Arzoomanian, a Bronx grocer, said he wished he could afford to send the boy to a military school. "That's all that's on his mind — Army, Army, Army," the grocer said.

Arzoomanian, reporting the disappearance of his son yesterday, told police that also missing were a wooden rifle, an army uniform, a duffel-bag and about $40.

Atomic Blast Given Boost

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A strong atomic blast, old hat to atom-wise citizens of Las Vegas, jolted and excited residents over wide areas of Northern and Southern California early yesterday.

An atmospheric quirk bounced the bomb's brilliant flash and sound 400 miles over mountains and into California from the Yucca Flat test site.

Two thuds loud enough to awaken residents and rattle windows were heard in Modesto, Calif., 350 miles from the blast, according to Otto Schroder, city editor of the Modesto Bee.

In San Francisco, a radio news writer, Ed Arnow of KNBC, saw a brief flash of light covering the sky.

Police switchboards throughout the Los Angeles metropolitan area lit up like Christmas trees when excited citizens called to find out what had happened.

But in Las Vegas, only 75 miles from the blast, there was no excitement. The flash was seen but barely heard in the city which has grown accustomed to living under the shadow of atomic clouds.

A thousand troops watched from foxholes about 7,000 yards from the explosion. They jumped from their positions 20 seconds after the detonation and moved "very close" to the firing area behind tanks and Army radiological safety monitors.

33 Tourists Killed

GRAVELINES, France (AP)—At least 33 Belgian tourists were killed and 15 injured last night when a bus carrying them home from a holiday in France crashed through the guard rail of a bridge and plunged into a river here. The bus was returning to Ghent, Belgium, from Calais.

HE'LL NEED IT

TV Viewers Found Ike Was In Good Health On Arrival

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Gen. Eisenhower stepped from the plane which brought him here yesterday he was smiling and strode around vigorously. He seemed in good health.

He'll need it. The people behind the eyes that examined him closely, at the airport and on TV, must have wondered, as I did: "What's he in for? What will it do to him?"

At 61 and after 37 years in the Army he was coming home to run for the presidency. He didn't have to. He could have retired on his Army pay of $18,500 a year for life or gone back as president of Columbia University.

He had more than enough prestige. He had a distinguished and most secure place in history. And he had the overflowing good will of his fellow citizens. Many a man has been willing to settle for less.

While he was in uniform Eisenhower had to make some necessary statements on foreign affairs. But, operating on the theory a general should stay out of domestic political brawls, he had been very vague on domestic issues.

In this way he escaped being mussed up. Those days are over. In fact, they were over yesterday while he was still in the air. Shortly before Eisenhower landed here, Sen. Taft attacked him.

In a major foreign policy speech Taft criticized our air strength and said: "There has been a steady deterioration in our comparative air power, which began while Gen. Eisenhower was chief of staff."

Newsmen who couldn't pin Eisenhower down while he was in uniform will meet him again this week, but this time as a man seeking the presidency. And this time he'll have to give some answers.

And from now on his political opponents, of whom he has plenty, will lambast him for what he says or doesn't say, trying to use every word against him which, of course, he has the privilege of doing to them.

Before the Democrats get a chance for a crack at him, some of Eisenhower's own Republicans are trying to nail him, which may give him a foretaste of what's in store for him.

Since it's by no means certain he'll get the nomination, much less the presidency, it's possible that just before he opened the plane door yesterday and stepped out into politics, Eisenhower was thinking:
