Cold Front Is Expected For Area Tonight

Livestock, Crops In Lowlands Are Still In Danger

(By The United Press)

The rampaging Trinity river was on its way back into its banks today at Dallas and Rosser, but flood threats continued farther down stream.

Still rising at Trinidad, the muddy stream still posed a threat to livestock and crops in that area. The rise was expected to continue until Saturday.

Falls Rapidly At Dallas

Reaching a crest of 34.8 feet at Rosser during the night, the river at that point had fallen .3 of a foot early today. It had begun to fall rapidly at Dallas, although it still remained 4.6 feet above the flood stage of 28 feet.

Further down in East Texas, the Sabine river was on a rampage, threatening to flow out over its banks to menace lowland residents, livestock and 2,500 oil wells in the river bottoms of Gregg county.

The flood warning service of the U. S. weather bureau said the stream probably would reach a flood state at Mineola and Gladewater early Thursday, with a crest of 33 to 35 feet expected at Gladewater Saturday. The flood stage at that point is 26 feet.

On A Swift Rise

Heavy rains on the stream's watershed Monday sent the Sabine on a swift rise. It was approaching the flood stage at Mineola early today.

Texas skies were mostly clear early today except for cloudiness in the Panhandle and South Plains and along the Gulf coast.

Freezing drizzle was reported at Amarillo, but temperatures during the day were expected to go above the freezing mark. Possibility of some snow in that area today was seen, however.

Precipitation during the last 24 hours included .37 of an inch at Laredo, .16 at Lufkin, .12 at Galveston, .05 at Texarkana and .01 at Beaumont.

Yesterday's maximum temperatures ranged from 37 at Pampa to 77 at Beaumont.

Moderate Cold Front

A low pressure area was expected to drop down into New Mexico and West Texas tonight, bringing with it a moderate cold front. The cool mass of air, making contact with the warm air

No Thaw Due In Snow Belt

CHICAGO, March 3. (AP)—The snow storm which blanketed the midwest from the central Rockies to lower Michigan moved into the eastern section of the country today.

More snow also appeared in prospect for the midwest area after a fall ranging from four to 12 inches. The weather bureau said there appeared no indications of immediate thaw for the snow belt.

Snow fell today over the Lower Lakes region and most of the New England states. Light snow also started over a wide area through the Rocky mountains and in sections of the northern and central plains states. New falls were forecast tomorrow for most of the North Central states. Rain fell in parts of Pennsylvania and in the lower Mississippi valley.

Traffic Is Disrupted

The heavy falls across parts of the Midwest disrupted air, rail and motor traffic and curtailed communications. Omaha, Nebr., reported the heaviest fall, 12 inches. New snow in parts of Iowa measured 11 inches.

Temperatures are on the chilly side in the northern tier of states from the Rockies to the Great Lakes. However, the only sub-zero readings are in North Dakota, with Minot and Pembina reporting -5.

Florida was the country's warmest area yesterday. Jacksonville's high was 85 and Miami's 78.

Marshall And Forrestal Tell Of Danger In Greece, Turkey

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 3 — Secretaries Marshall and Forrestal told Congress today there is "grave danger" Greece and Turkey cannot remain free unless they get more military aid from the United States.

The two cabinet members testified jointly to the House foreign affairs committee in support of the administration's request for $275,000,000 to be spent on guns, planes and other weapons for the two nations.

Discourage Aggression

Secretary of State Marshall said that arming the Greeks and Turks would be "discouraging" to further aggression against their countries.

Both Marshall and Secretary of Defense Forrestal left little doubt they were thinking of Russia.

Marshall said there is "clear evidence in Greece and Czechoslovakia of Communist intention against all nations that stand in the way of their expansion."

And as long as threats confront Greece and Turkey, Marshall said, there can be no assurance that American assistance can be stopped.

Must Receive Attention

Forrestal said it is evident that "the military position in both countries must receive our first attention."

He added:

"Greece and Turkey lie on the fringe of totalitarian countries, whose actions leave little doubt that they hope to extend their control over these two strategically located nations."

Congress voted $400,000,000 for aid to Greece and Turkey last May. The $275,000,000 additional the lawmakers are now being asked to vote would be for spending in the 12 months beginning next July 1.

Rebels Getting Help

Both the cabinet members said the guerrillas are getting help from neighboring countries on the north.

They said that economic recovery in Greece depends on first wiping out the guerrialla nuisance.

"No program of reconstruction," Forrestal said, "can be carried out until the guerrillas are reduced and military stability achieved. Therefore, we must reinforce the Greek armed forces by furnishing supplies and providing technical assistance."

Holdup Foiled By Screaming Women

NEW YORK, March 3. (U.P.) — Twenty-five screaming women had Charles Dienes behind bars today after he allegedly tried a repeat performance last night in a Broadway dress shop whose owner said he held up the place on Feb. 2 and forced the women present to strip to the skin in a dressing room.

Mrs. Leona Newhoff, co-owner of the shop, identified Dienes as the man who then took $600 from the shop. There were only two women present then.

Exactly one month later Dienes entered the dress shop, pointed a pistol at Gertrude Levy, a salesgirl, and said, "this is a holdup." Miss Levy ran to the rear of the store screaming. The 25 women in the store began screaming. Four police cars roared up with sirens screaming. Dienes was charged with assault, robbery and illegal possession of a pistol—which was empty.

Grandson Of Judge In Famed Scottsboro Trial Admits Killing Unemployed Father

(By The United Press)

NEW YORK, March 3.—William Callahan, 16, grandson of the presiding judge of the famed Scottsboro rape trial, told police today he killed his unemployed father in Montgomery, Ala., last month because he refused to repay $525 lent from his newsboy savings.

The scholarly appearing high school pupil, who had been sought on a murder warrant since the slaying Feb. 3, walked into a midtown police station last night and to the lieutenant in charge said: "I killed my father. I want to give myself up."

The boy, who said he used to play football with Gov. James E. (Big Jim) Folsom in his backyard, told detectives that the remaining $125 of his savings was eaten up rapidly. He said he was forced to donate blood and appear on a radio quiz program to obtain money for food.

Young Callahan, tousle-haired and wearing spectacles, told police that he shot his father, Travis, 47, with a sawed-off .22 caliber rifle, then reloaded the weapon and shot him again. He said his mother and grandmother were in an adjoining room.

Shortage Of Meat Feared In Strike

(By The United Press)

CHICAGO, March 3.—The CIO United Packinghouse Workers today set March 16 for a strike which would cut off much of the nation's meat supply.

The strike would involve 100,000 men at the nation's big packing plants.

It would be the first big industry-wide strike of 1948, and the first resulting from current union demands for third-round wage increases.

President Ralph Helstein of the union said the strike date was being announced several days in advance "out of consideration for the public."

"We are willing to continue negotiating with the companies, although it is apparent from our previous meetings that they are unwilling to give any realistic consideration to this serious economic needs of the packinghouse workers," Helstein said.

He said a survey had been conducted of the economic conditions of packinghouse workers' families and that a large proportion were going into debt. He said that "almost all are being deprived of basic necessities."

Correction Essential

"Correction of the low wage standards in the packing industry is essential," he said.

The union is asking for a 29-cent hourly increase. Packers have said it would be impossible to grant such an increase without raising the price of meat.

Affect About 10 Plants

A strike would affect about 10 packing plants across the nation. It could cut off fresh meat supplies within two weeks and force packers to dip into their reserves, most of which are stored for sausage and soup products.

The strike would affect 22 large companies, including the "Big Four"—Armour, Swift, Cudahy and Wilson. It would shut down or disrupt operations at 29 Armour plants, 28 Swift packinghouses, 11 Cudahy plants, seven Wilson establishments and two John H. Morrell & Co. establishments.

Tests For Job Applicants Set

Preliminary screening for men wanting jobs with the Lubbock fire departmen ti sscheduled at 2 p. m. Friday at the Central fire station [illegible] members of the new city civil service commission, Chairman Harry Morris announced today.

It will be the first official duty performed by the commission since its organization a few days ago. Serving with Morris on the new board are Marion Sanford and George W. McCleskey.

Expansion Of Personnel

The screening, it was explained, looks toward an expansion of the fire department personnel so as to provide a crew for the recently completed substation on South Texas avenue. Expectation is that the substation can be put into service within the next month.

Morris emphasized that the examinations scheduled Friday will not be final. But they are expected to lead to the selection of a group of perhaps 20 candidates from among whom an undetermined number of new firement will be selected after more thorough tests.

First Use Of System

This will be the first actual use of the civil service competitive examination system ever made in Lubbock in the selection of city employes.

Morris extended an invitation to "anyone interested in and qualified for "employment with the fire department to appear for the screening.

The basic qualifications for applicants are: residence in Lubbock; between the ages of 21 and 35 years, and ability to pass a somewhat rigid physical examination.

Anderson Says Export Curbs Are To Blame

Secretary Would Cut 150,000,000 Bushel Status

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 3—The government "very likely" will be forced to prop up wheat prices if present export curbs are kept intact, says Secretary of Agriculture Anderson.

Anderson referred to a requirement spelled out by Congress last year that at least 150,000,000 bushels of wheat be kept on hand in this country at all times.

The cabinet officer, in a letter to Senator Young (R-ND), said he favors repealing this "carry-over" requirement.

Repeal Support Sought

Young has been trying to win support for his repeal proposal ever since the drop in commodity markets which began February 4.

Under the law the government must buy wheat or otherwise support the price whenever the market falls below 90 percent of parity —the price determined to be equally fair to growers and consumers.

Wheat has been far above parity in recent years.

Congress attached the carry-over requirement to the stopgap foreign aid measure passed at the special session last fall.

The idea was to safeguard against a serious wheat shortage here at home.

Smaller Amount Adequate

Anderson, however, told Young that the "inadvisability" of retaining the carryover figure "is borne out by the fact that on July 1, 1947, the carry-over of 84,000,000 bushels proved to be adequate for all domestic needs."

The term carry-over is used because the wheat is designed to be held in reserve until the new crop becomes available in July each year.

Anderson in his letter to Young wrote:

"Already there are indications that producers and merchandisers are unwilling to carry large stocks of old-crop wheat in the face of improving new crop conditions.

"Legal requirements that a minimum of 150,000,000 bushels be carried over, in addition to gov-

LONDON, March 3. (U.P.)—One American woman, identified as Mrs. Guido Benenti, 34, was among the 19 persons killed last night when a Belgian DC-3 airliner crashed and burned at London's Heathrow airport, it was reported today.

Mrs. Benenti was on a trip from Milan, records of the Sabena Airlines showed, but her residence in the United States was not listed.

The plane, on a flight from Brussels to London, crashed while trying to make a landing in fog. Witnesses said many of the passengers were burned to death.

Broken Rail Blamed In Train Derailment

AMES, Ia., March 3. (U.P.)—Railroad officials today blamed a broken rail for the derailment of three cars of the Northwestern railroad's Los Angeles limited near here last night.

LSU Students Try To Raise Russian Flag

BATON ROUGE, March 3. (U.P.) —Three L. S. U. students today were on probation for an attempt to raise the Communist hammer and sickle on the state university campus.

The student honor court, which deals with cases of student misconduct, recommended probation after a hearing.

Chief Justice Fred Blanche said the names of the students would not be made public. He said they were found guilty of hoisting a sheet painted with a hammer and sickle and a red star on the ROTC flagpole, just before a campus election.

Star Declares She Has No Wedding Plans

Lana Turner Claims That Too Many People Lying About Her

(By The United Press)

HOLLYWOOD, March 3.—Too many people are lying about her, Lana Turner said.

Puffing in a black wasp-waisted gown that squeezed a good deal of Miss Turner out the top, she said people could stop making wedding plans for her and Bob Topping because they have no such plans themselves.

On her first day baek at work, Miss Turner said she had shut up about the Topping "romance" because the studio had told her to.

"I'm their property," she said. "If they tell me not to talk, I don't talk."

"That 'engagement party' thing at the Mocambo for Bob and me is completely untrue."

Stories of the romance between the tin plate heir and the movie star broke when the Mocambo club here got a wire ordering up a movie-style party. It was signed by "Lana and Bob Topping."

She blamed Johnny Meyers, the Howard Hughes publicity man who had to explain his expense accounts to a Senate investigating committee, for the telegram.

"Bob was going to give himself a birthday party. I wasn't even supposed to be in the telegram.

Cotton Meeting Set Here For April 10; 1,200 Expected

Cotton Prospects And Problems Of This Area During Coming Year To Be Studied

Plans and program for a South Plains cotton outlook meeting here April 10 which is expected to attract more than 1,200 farmers, ginners, veterans and business men were announced today by George A. Simmons, member since its organization of the state-wide cotton committee of Texas.

The meeting, which will continue only through the forenoon, will deal almost exclusively with cotton prospects and problems of this area during the coming year and will be of important concern to everyone affected by that crop, sponsors said.

Official sponsor of the meeting, to be held in the Palace theater, will be the production committee of the state-wide cotton committee of Texas with the cooperation of the chamber of commerce.

J. D. Prewitt, of College Station, vice director and state agent of the Texas extension service and chairman of the production group of the state-wide committee, will preside.

Theme of the meeting will be: "If our cotton is to hold its place in the world market, it must do so on the basis of price and quality—not subsidy."

Speakers and their topics were announced as follows:

"Cotton, What it Means to West Texas," by C. B. Spencer, of Dallas, agricultural director of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers' association; "The Outlook for Cotton in 1948 from the Farmer's Viewpoint," W. O. Fortenberry, of Monroe.

Simmons said he has been advised that about 500 former service men now engaged in cotton studies of various kinds will wish ot attend. Leading cotton farmers, practically every community on the South Plains also are expected to be present.

The new definite setting of time and place displaces tentative plans previously considered for the meeting, Simmons explained.

R. F. Hinchey Is Promoted

R. F. Hinchey of Lubbock, vice president and general manager of West Texas Gas company the last 20 years, was announced as president and general manager of the company following a meeting of the company's board of directors in Kansas City Tuesday.

As president, he succeeds R. E. Wertz of Amarillo, who relinquished the post to become chairman of the board of Amarillo Oil company, an administrative affiliate. The change was designed to enable Wertz to devote more time to special work for all the affiliated companies.

Offices Moved Here

Hinchey came to West Texas from Okmulgee, Okla., on June 1, 1927 to be in charge of the construction of a gas transmission line from the Panhandle gas field down into the South Plains, and of distributing plants in the various cities and towns which were to be served. First offices of the company were in Amarillo, but early in 1930 after the initial construction work was complete, the general offices of the company were moved to Lubbock, where they have remained.

Hinchey has spent his entire working life in the natural gas business. His father and grandfather had likewise been employed in the natural gas industry. He started in his 'teens as water boy for a construction crew building a natural gas pipe line from Bradford, P. A., to Buffalo, N. Y.

Served In War

He has been with the gas industry ever since with the exception of about one year spent serving in the armed forces during World war I. His work led him from New York and Pennsylvania to Ohio, West Virginia, Oklahoma and finally to Texas. Known as "Ray" to many friends throughout West

Power-Backed Super Agency Is Suggested

Idea Is Offered As An Amendment To Marshall Plan

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 3 — A new, veto-free world agency with power to curb Russian expansion was proposed to the Senate today.

The idea was offered as an amendment to the Marshall plan by a group of Republican senators.

They called for the United States to take the lead in creating

OPPOSED BY VANDENBERG

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP) — Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) flatly rejected today a proposal to set up a new international agency to checkmate Communism in the world.

a supreme international council apart from the United Nations.

To Combat Aggression

The chief job of this "supreme council" would be to combat either "aggression or subversion in any form."

Senator Ball (R-Minn) announced he would offer the plan formally when debate resumes today on the $5,300,000,000 European recovery program.

The text of the amendment does not mention Russia by name. But the intent is obvious.

Senator Brewster (R-Maine) defined the proposed new agency as an "offensive-Defensive alliance." He said it would provide for "effective collective security without the paralyzing power of veto."

Russia on several occasions has made use of the veto she holds as one of the "Big Five" permanent members of the U. N. security council.

Must Offer Security

During yesterday's Marshall plan debate, Ball assailed the spread of "Russian tyranny" and said western Europe must be offered a means of political security as well as economic stability.

Ball's amendment would direct the President and Secretary of State to open immediate talks with other members of the United Nations.

The aim would be to try to win agreement among as many countries as possible on the new power-backed super agency.

Specifically the agreement would provide:

1. That a supreme council should be set up. It would consist of eleven members, just as does the U. N. security council. Those nations holding a permanent seat on the security council would receive the same position in the new group — but only by signing the agreement.

Other nations elected to the U. N. council would hold membership in the new group — also

AFL Teamsters Union To Move Headquarters To Washington

By FRED W. PERKINS
Special Correspondent

INDIANAPOLIS, March 3.—The big AFL teamsters union, which claims more than a million members is preparing to move its headquarters to Washington this year.

That is part of a trend among large labor organizations to establish themselves close at the seat of national government. A prime object is to be in position to exert more influence on national policies.

The importance of the move is illustrated by an example of the early new deal. When the United Mine Workers moved from Indianapolis to Washington 14 years ago John L. Lewis became a figure in national affairs, in politics as well as industrial and labor matters.

Beck Already Set Up

Dave Beck, labor chief of Seattle, who is generally regarded as the heir apparent to elderly Daniel J. Tobin, president of the teamsters, already has established an office in Washington.

Offices of the teamsters' monthly journal are due for early transfer to Washington. The complete shift of the union's headquarters will not be made until it can buy or build a noffice building. Its financial statements show it has plenty of money for either.

The teamsters now rent office space here in a building owned by the carpenters, another big AFL affiliate headed by William L. Hutcheson. Messrs. Hutcheson and Tobin frequently are on opposite sides on AFL questions and others, including national politics.

On Opposite Sides

Mr. Hutcheson in several presidential campaigns was the labor director of the Republican national committee, while Mr. Tobin served as his opposite number in the Democratic national organization until the rise of the CIO Political Action committee confused the labor political leadership in that party.

One of the conspicuous events of the 1944 campaign was a large dinner given in Washington by the teamsters to launch the fourth-term candidacy of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In the same year Mr. Hutcheson was the center of a boom to make him the Republican vice presidential nominee.

The Republican affiliations of Mr. Hutcheson have caused speculation on how far he will go with the new political effort of the AFL, which is expected eventually to support President Truman.

In the recent Miami meeting of the AFL executive council Mr. Hutcheson announced he would "co-operate" with the general AFL effort but that the carpenters would set up their own political organization.

Both Pay Per Capita Taxes

Both the teamsters and the carpenters pay per capita taxes to the AFL for approximately 600,000 members. But Mr. Tobin claims his actual membership to be 1,062,000—and says he won't pay for more than 600,000 until the AFL provides a way for the central officers to check the per capita payments and memberships of the constituent unions.

At present, he has pointed out in AFL convention, ther is no check, and unions can either underpay or overpay without being called to account. He contends a union can "buy" more voting power in conventions by paying on more members than it actually has.

Officers of the Shallowater Lions for the coming year are as follows: president, Pat Corley; first vice president, Cyrus Brown; second vice president, Bill Newman; third vice president, Charles Treadwell; secretary and treasurer, Rudy Rice; lion tamer, G. T. Doggett; and tail twister, L. E. Baker.

Elected to the board of directors were Earl Merrell, D. R. Webber, J. K. Giles and D. J. Brown.

The Shallowater club will hold their charter night ceremonies on April 6, Riggs announced. Weekly meetings will be held on Tuesday evenings at 7:30 p. m. in the club house.

Revival Of Religion Seen In Yugoslavia

GENEVA, March 3. (AP)—A religious revival is taking place in Yugoslavia, says a report published by the World Council of Churches here.

The report quoted a member of the Serbian Orthodox Church who said religious life was thriving, despite heavy losses suffered by the church during and since the German occupation. The Council gave no indication of the author's identity.

Several Were Killed

It said three Serbian bishops and numerous priests were killed during the war, and 2,000 churches and monasteries were destroyed or looted. After the war, the report said, the church lost nearly all its remaining property through actions by the Tito government.

But these "external difficulties," the report said, "have brought inner renewal to the orthodox church. The churches have never been as full as they are today."

There is no anti-religious propaganda or other state interference in church life, the report asserted, and, although the state's financial aid for the clergy has ceased, services are held twice daily in all churches, and corgregations "give most generously" to support clergy and teachers of religion.

There is great enthusiasm for religious studies at the universities, whose theological faculties have been renewed with government assistance, the report said, and the church "can draw daily on new forces for its work for God's kingdom."

Census Director Is Mum About Houston

HOUSTON, March 3 (AP) — Houstonians were disappointed today when the boss of all census takers—National Census Director J. C. Capt—wouldn't comment on a recent estimate that the city's population was over 500,000.

Capt said he was here for the purpose of checking up on a census of manufacturers. He said his estimate of Houston's population would have to wait until 1950.

The chief census taker was interested in Postmaster Granville Elder's population estimate of more than half a million, but he wouldn't confirm it. Too many factors involved, he said.

He emphasized that the manufacturers census, which was interrupted during the war, was highly important.

"It will show how many manufacturers there are in Houston," Capt said. "It will show the number of employes, the payroll and the type of product made."

Capt said he expected that the nation's population would increase to about 165,000,000 by the end of the century and then start to level off.

Not Guilty Verdict Is Given In Trial

A county court jury of which Leeman Clark was foreman Tuesday afternoon returned a verdict finding Carl Oral Hagan, 31, of Lubbock, was innocent of drunk driving Nov. 21.

The jury deliberated approximately 30 minutes. It was composed otherwise of G. A. Taylor, C. B. Allen, G. W. Helton, H. H. Woulard, and W. T. Lemon.

Hagan was defended by the law firm of Burks and McNeil.

Judge Walter Davies accepted pleas of guilty in three cases naming two women. He assesed a fine of $1 and costs in each of two check law violation charges naming Katherine M. Wilburn, 23, of Amarillo, who had been returned to Lubbock from Levelland by Dep. Sheriff Frank Mitchell.

Lucille Lee, about 30, a negro woman, was fined $25 and costs when her mother entered a plea of guilty of aggravated assault for her, officials said.

PUBLIC HEARINGS MAY BE ORDERED

Condon Scoffs At Disloyalty Charge

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March—Public hearings to expand its charge that Dr. Edward U. Condon is "one of the weakest links in our atomic security" may be ordered by the House un-American activities committee.

The director of the National Bureau of Standards, which tests some of the government's biggest scientific secrets, scoffed at the accusation. He advised the country to "relax."

Would Double Funds

To finance its work for the rest of this year, the committee is asking for $200,000—double last year's fund. The House administration committee met today to vote on the request and perhaps bring it before the House for approval.

Robert E. Stripling, chief investigator for the un-American activities group, relayed word to reporters from Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ), that:

1. Commerce department loyalty records on Condon will be subpoenaed today.

2. These may be used for public hearings.

3. Even if Condon is loyal—and the committee has no evidence he is not—he still could be indiscreet. And from a security standpoint Thomas thinks it makes little difference.

The Commerce department loyalty board was reported by Undersecretary William C. Foster to have found no reason to believe Condon is disloyal to the United States.

Thomas is in a hospital here with a stomach ailment. A subcommittee which he heads said in a report Monday that Condon "knowingly or unknowingly entertained and associated" with alleged Soviet spies.

It recommended that he be "removed" or that Secretary of Commerce Harriman issue a statement on 'the reasons why he has retained Dr. Condon in view of the derogatory information which he had before him."

DR. EDWARD U. CONDON

Condon fired back that the "country can relax" if he is one of the weakest atomic security links, "because I'm absolutely reliable and therefore we have nothing to worry about."

Strike Action Facing Delay

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP) — Financial employes, threatening strike action against the New York stock and curb exchanges, marked time today as union leaders prepared to meet with stock exchange officials in an effort to settle the dispute.

The walkout, originally set for Monday midnight, when contracts with the union expired, was postponed pending outcome of today's negotiations.

May Start Strike

A meeting with curb exchange officials is scheduled for Friday, but union spokesmen indicated that in the event of a disagreement today curb exchange workers might go ahead with planned strike action.

The spokesmen said the union, local 205, AFL United Financial Emloyes, expected that in the event a settlement was reached at the stock exchange session it might be used as a pattern for an agreement with the curb exchange.

The union has demanded an estimated 26 per cent wage increase and a union shop.

Expect Clearer Picture

Early today M. David Keefe, president of the local, said that the threatened walkout of curb exchange employes was still in abeyance.

"Maybe we'll get a clearer picture today," he added, referring to the conference between his union and officials of the stock exchange.

Specifically, the 1,050 members of the union asked a $9 weekly pay increase for employes making $40 or less, and a $15 boost for those earning more than $40. The union shop clause has been a major barrier to settlement of the dispute at previous negotiating sessions.

$15 Fine Might Be Termed As "Favor"

Police said they believed a $15 fine in this case perhaps was a "favor" to the defendant.

"He could have been run over," the report said.

The charge was drunkenness.

Dismissal Of Coach Upheld

RINGGOLD, Ga., March 2. (U.P.)—Athletic Coach Walter Bowland's feud with the Ku Klux Klan wound up with his dismissal from the faculty of nearby Lakeview High school yesterday.

The Catoosa county school board, in a three-hour executive session, upheld Bowland's suspension two weeks ago by Mrs. Ruth Williams, county superintendent. Mrs. Williams objected to publicity given the school during the feud and told Bowland to shut his mouth.

Kicked Cross From Yard

The feud began when Mrs. Bowland, an expectant mother, kicked a burning Klan cross out of her yard.

Bowland, who believed the cross burning was prompted by a fist fight he had with a former student, received a "grapevine" warning to leave Lakeview or he would be tarred and feathered. Instead, he stacked guns in his home and said he would shoot to kill at the first Klan move against his house.

Funeral For W. A. Harris Is Not Set

LEVELLAND, March 3. (Special)—Arrangements had not been completed this morning for funeral services for W. A. Harris, 21, of Sundown, who was electrocuted about 11 o'clock Tuesday morning while working on a pipeline for the new refinery west of Sundown.

A. F. Odell, justice of peace of Levelland, gave a verdict of accidental death by electrocution after conducting an inquest.

Harris was holding hooks used in transferring pipe from one truck to another when a gin pole came into contact with a highline carrying about 2,200 volts of electricity, it was reported. The electricity went through the hooks into his body.

Survivors include his wife, Pauline; his mother, Mrs. C. O. Rainford, Sundown; three sisters, Geraldine Harris, Sundown, Mrs. T. A. Roberts of San Antonio, and Mrs. Inetha Stallints, Sundown; two brothers, Clint Harris of Sundown and Walter Harris, Seymour; and a half-brother, Clifton Alexander of Levelland.

Crawford Given Five Years In Car Theft

COLORADO CITY, March 3. (Special)—A jury in the 32nd judicial district court of Mitchell county late Tuesday found Lil Crawford, 38, formerly of Lubbock, guilty of car theft, and recommended a sentence of five years in the state penitentiary. He had pleaded innocent.

His counsel said the verdict would be appealed to the court of criminal appeals in Austin.

The indictment charged theft June 1, 1947, of a car from Mrs. Eva Swartz of Colorado City.

Judge A. S. Mauzey received the verdict about 7 p. m. Suspension of sentence in event of conviction was not asked, despite Crawford's never having been convicted of a felony offense prior to the trial here.

District Attorney Eldon Mahon, a nephew of Cong. George Mahon, prosecuted the case. The Congressman formerly was district attorney of the 32nd district.

LOST 47 POUNDS WITHOUT DIETING

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful, in fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger.

Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is Proof

"When I started taking Barcentrate, I weighed 212 pounds and wore size 46 dresses. Now I wear size 18 and weigh 166 pounds. I started taking Barcentrate in March and by June I had lost 47 pounds. I would have lost more weight had I left off fattening foods, but I was anemic at that time and afraid to diet. People who knew me before I started taking Barcentrate are amazed at the weight I have lost. My flesh is firm: I have never become flabby or wrinkled and I am 40 years old.

"Before taking Barcentrate I couldn't do my house work without becoming exhausted; had dizzy spells and my head and back hurt me constantly. I was so short winded, I was miserable. But now all those things have gone and it is really a pleasure to do the chores I once dreaded.

"Three years ago I nearly died with Typhus fever and it left me anemic and I could never get my blood count up again or get back my energy. After taking Barcentrate my blood count started up and is now normal. So you see why I praise Barcentrate so highly and recommend it. Any praise I can give Barcentrate is small compared to the relief and happiness it has brought me."—Mrs. Eula Whitehead, 809 Harmon, Corpus Christi, Texas.

At All Druggists

The above is one of hundreds of amazing endorsements we have received.

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe, easy way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Husband Tells Wife Who Treated Him As Vassal He Doesn't Love Her And Wants His Freedom

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Ten years ago when I was 17 I married John, who was 21 and loved me dearly. He gave me everything I wished for within his means, and I gave nothing in return.

Now he says he doesn't love me any more and never can, after learning the kind of person I am. He thinks I have never loved anyone but myself. He says I have even monopolized our baby and claimed her as all mine.

Looking back, I see now that I have never done right by him. I have never been unfaithful nor even thought of it; but in fits of anger I would say things I didn't mean, though he believes I did.

I have learned my lesson and only want another chance, but it is too late. No matter how I plead, there seems to be no forgiveness in his heart. He says I am not sincere, that I shed crocodile tears, and he wants to leave me and take the baby.

URGES WIFE TO GET JOB

I BELIEVE he has found someone else, otherwise he would try to listen. I have never held a job in my life and now he insists that I go to work where I will meet new people. I think he hopes I will get interested in someone else. In fact, he says I will; but I know in my heart I never could.

He says if I would give him the baby it would be the only unselfish thing I had ever done and I guess he is right, but I just can't think of it. I want to do some noble deed to show him I'm sorry and really love him, but I hope not that.

In the past he never went any place much, because I wanted him all to myself; but now he goes all the time and I am left to watch the baby and think. I am a nervous wreck, I can't eat or sleep, not wanting to lose him. It would drive me crazy to lose either of them.

Do I deserve another chance? Or does he deserve some happiness after putting up with me for so long? And since he is a nicer person than I, should he be given the baby? I need your advice, so please answer soon.

(Signed): C. R.

MAN IS COINING CASE FOR HIMSELF

DEAR C. R.: John is just as responsible for this sick relationship as you are. Granted that you've been meanly selfish in a conceited, spoiled-child way, he on the other hand has been a weakling all through, whose behavior forfeited claim to respect.

In character he is no stronger today than in years past, when he was knocking himself out trying to please you. His only change from yesteryear is that he no longer lives in fainting fear of being emotionally rejected by you. And I think you've divined the reason for that in supposing he has found somebody else.

In all probability he is currently a slave to some other woman's spell, whose sympathy-spiel, bargaining terms and hold on him have incited his turncoat treatment of you.

His vindictive performance is sparked by pent-up resentment exploding at last; also by defiant guilt feelings about his own treachery as he tries to foist all the blame on you and force a self-serving separation that gives him the baby.

MEET HIS DODGES WITH CLEAR HEAD

NO doubt it's true that he no longer cares for you in a sweetheart way, thus can't respond with interest to your contrition. But more than that, with his mind made up to follow the gleam of a new flame, he can't afford to believe your repentance is sincere. In conceding that, he would either forfeit his "out" or be forced to disclose his disloyalty trend—and he hasn't manhood enough to do either.

Now, about you: I am reminded of the Irish saying, "When the devil is sick, the devil a saint would be; but when he is well, the devil a saint is he!" At present you are sick-minded from shock; and it is problematical whether your good intentions would carry over into lasting reform if the crisis were resolved in your favor.

However, in my opinion you deserve another chance in which to prove yourself; John has no righteous reason to deny it; and in the event he compels a break, he isn't entitled to custody of the baby. So dry your tears, rise above "crazy" fears, stop abasing yourself to John—who is no nearer sainthood than you are—and meet his dodges with clear head.—M. H.

Candidates Are Chosen For "Girl Of Year"

Lubbock Theta Rho girls met last night in the I. O. O. F. hall to give preliminary consideration to candidates for the honor of being named "Girl of the Year," Mrs. G. W. Blair, sponsor, reported.

The club president read the accomplishments and attendance records of the girls in the club, one of whom will be chosen "Girl of the Year" at the next club meeting on April 6.

The club will not meet on its next regularly scheduled meeting date, Mrs. Blair said, because sponsors of the club will be attending the Grand Lodge in Houston on March 16.

Members of the local club and their sponsors will go to Plainview on Friday to install a Theta Rho girls club there, it was announced.

The local club's banners and regalia have arrived and were present at last night's meeting, Mrs. Blair reported. Refreshments were served to 16 members present.

OFFICER IS HELD

SAN ANTONIO, March 3 (AP) — A 26-year-old first lieutenant from Bergstrom field, near Austin, was held by Bexar county officers today in connection with the attempted robbery of the Tropics dinner club last night.

China's Need Is Described

Chritianity is the greatest need in China today, according to Mrs. Vilia Ma, native of that country who is a student at Texas Tech college, and who was guest speaker at a program-tea given Tuesday by Asbury Methodist Awakened Wesleyan class at Fellowship hall. The speaker described need that exists there and through their love of God.

Agricultural development is necessary because the people still employ primitive methods in farming and educational standards remain low with many teachers resigning because of the inability to live on their meager salaries, Mrs Ma said. The scarcity of doctors is appalling, she added.

Is Presented With Gift

At the close of her talk, the guest was presented with a necklace, gift from the hostesses who were Mesdames Warren Jeffcoat, T. M. Mason, R. H. Bourland, A. B. Sterling, I. H. Bales, J. D. Roberts, W. L. Burkhalter, J. L. Dorsett, C. S. Gaddis, Ted Carroll, Guy McNeely, H. M. Bryant, H. A. Williams and E. R. Mankins.

Mrs. Mankins lead a devotion on the Resurrection from John, 20 and read a poem on the subject.

Doris Harwell sang "Were You There?" accompanied at the piano by Dorothy Paul.

During a business session, the class voted to donate $75 toward a fund to furnish the kindergarten department in the new educational building and to buy 25 chairs for the church parlor. The group will sponsor projects to raise money to make the purchases.

Refreshments were served to 50 persons.

Passion Play Film Is Set For Tonight

"Golgotha," famous Passion Play motion picture, will be shown at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Asbury Methodist church, under auspices of Asbury Woman's Society of Christian Service, and will be open to the public.

Mrs. C. E. Reynolds will play a prelude, offertory and postlude and Mrs. Noel Bryant will sing, Mrs. J. W. Hendryx, president of Asbury WSCS, said this morning.

The film, distributed by the National Bureau for Religious and Educational Films, depicts the story of Jesus from the triumphal entry to the ascension. The musical score reproduces orchestral, organ and choral music by famous composers.

No admission will be charged. A free-will offering will be taken.

Man Tires Of Bills, Digs Own Gas Well

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., March 3. (AP)—Anthony Mangine says he tired of paying fuel bills averaging $1,400 a year for his restaurant and residence.

He interested a neighbor in drilling a gas well. Two weeks later, they tapped a supply of natural gas at a depth of 875 feet. He estimated the daily yield at 250,000-500,000 cubic feet.

Theft Inquiries Are Launched

Theft investigations were instigated overnight in Lubbock county rural and urban sections, and in Hockley county, it was reported here this morning.

B. J. Weaver, guest of a tourist court here, complained that two suits, a sports coat, four shirts and a jacket were stolen from his car. Property exceeded $50 in value, he said.

Wilson Dickson, of a mile and a half from Lubbock, informed officials that two batteries had been taken from two irrigation wells on his Lubbock county farm.

Two Car Investigations

Levelland authorities said they would issue a felony theft warrant for a 30-year-old man suspected of having stolen a car there. When last reported seen in the Morton area, the man was said to have been driving a blue 1941 Ford sedan, license number of which was known to investigators.

Lubbock police said they had traced registration number of a car believed to have figured in a hit-run incident here early Tuesday night at Twenty-second and College Ave. Investigation was being continued.

House Entered

Mrs. Annie Crow, of 2430 Twenty-fourth street, told police that a lady's black gabardine suit had been taken from her residence. It was valued at $80.

Theft of a red Rollfast bike from Twenty-third street and Ave. I, was reported by Pete Thompson, of 2823 N. Third. It was valued at $49, records showed.

Playing Slot Machines Is Good Monkey Business

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

NEW YORK, March 3.—Monkeys can learn one thing that a lot of people cannot—

To keep from playing slot machines that don't pay off.

This is recounted by Prof. Frank A. Beach of Yale University in Natural History magazine.

In a classic experiment at the Yale Laboratories of Primate Biology, Dr. John Wolfe trained six young chimpanzees to operate a special slot machine which paid off with one ripe grape every time a white poker chip was inserted.

The apes quickly learned to distinguish between the valuable white chips and brass slugs of the same size thrown upon the floor of their cage. They eagerly collected the white chip "money" to ply the vending machine.

Next Dr. Wolfe designed a work machine. If the chimp lifted a heavy, weighted handle, he could reach in and secure a white chip. One male, Velt, showed a spendthrift nature, dashing to the slot machine to spend each chip as soon as he earned it. But Velt went on strike if he had to wait with his money in hand.

Moos, another male, and Bimba, a female, were thrifty, quite content to collect their pay and wait to spend it the next day. But they then demanded quick, efficient service.

The Chimp-O-Mat slot machine then was set so the ape had to wait a few minutes before it paid off with a grape after the chip was inserted.

Moos had saved his money. He dropped in one chip, and put his hand to the food cup. When no grape appeared, "Moos grasped the Chimp-O-Mat and shook it vigorously. He looked like a frustrated subway customer who has just wasted a penny in a defective gum machine," Dr. Beach said. He rebelled at the delay and apparent waste of money.

Moos and Bimba became money-mad. In one ten minute period, Moos pumped the work machine so fast he piled up 185 chips. Dr. Wolfe noticed that Moos slowed down in each succeeding minute. He let Moos work the machine again for 10 minutes, but this time gave Moos a grubstake of 30 chips before he started. Moos lifted the handle only 13 times. The same thing happened repeatedly—Moos worked hard when he was broke, but exerted himself little when he already had good financial reserves.

The chimpanzees also learned to distinguish between different colored chips when a white chip bought one grape, a blue chip two grapes, a red chip a drink of water, and a yellow chip a free ride on the experimenter's back.

The experiments were valuable, Dr. Beach explained, because they demonstrated that the monkeys could learn to respond to the chips as symbols of something valuable.

"It is generally conceded that the human body is a product of long, slow evolutionary change," he said. "Experiments in symbolic behavior support the gradually growing conviction that the human mind is also an evolutionary product. Such studies in the field of animal psychology reveal to us the rudimentary and primitive beginnings from which our own mentality has sprung."

They May Help To Ease Pocketbook Ache

Garments That Expand With Baby Growth Are Available

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Fashion Writer

NEW YORK, March 3—Jon Christopher Reissmann is growing as fast as any other three and a half year old, but he's still wearing a suit his mother made him in 1946.

That expandable suit and others like it, styled to take the ruffles off the boys from first diapers to four years old and to take the pocket-book ache out of their growing up are on sale today in stores across the country. They're designed and manufactured by Jon Christopher's mother, glove designer Merry Hull.

Expanding Garments

There are rompers that fit through a good four inches of growing, shirts that expand with a snip of the scissors, trousers and coats designed to cover a growing boy for at least two years—in menswear materials that ought to last that long.

The Merry Hull dressed baby doesn't wear a bonnet—it's an ear-hugging, face framing helmet.

He does wear diapers for a good long time, however, and these clothes are cut not only to cover the things but to make them accessible.

Up to two year size, every trouser in the 40-piece wardrobe has room for diapers and what Miss Hull calls the "open door policy—a zipper or snap opening where the inside leg seam belongs.

Shirt Is Trickiest

Trickiest expansion feature is in the shirts, made of regular men's shirtings, crisp piques and striped ginghams, with collars and cuffs tailored to scale. Each shirt is cut in one piece, with deep tucks running across the shoulders. A snip at the tucks add four inches around the chest and two inches to sleev length.

Prices are slightly higher than average. Shirts range from approximately $5 to $9. The oldest tailored suit sells for approximately $45. But Miss Hull figures it should be good for at least two Easters.

Admitted Middle-Aged Person Rarer Than Bird With Mumps

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, March 3—There is one thing rarer in the United States than a canary with mumps.

That is a middle-aged person.

Have you ever met one? I never have. Not one who would admit it anyway. The average person, man or woman, would rather confess he stuck thumbtacks in his grandmother than acknowledge he is middleaged.

Middle age is a clammy, indefinite, uncertain time when you are no longer young and still haven't the years to justify your demanding an old age pension.

All Old Or Young

The foreign lecturers who come to our shores and get rich by bleating that Americans are money-mad miss our real phobia. People in all civilized countries admire money. But this is the only land where everybody is either young or old, and nobody is ever middle-aged.

A man here wakes up in the morning and says to himself either (1) "Boy, I feel like a two-year-old," or (2) "Whooo-o-eeey, I'm an old man today." He never rises and says, "well, I sure do feel middle-aged."

This dislike for middle age shows even in our literature. There are many songs about youth, and Robert Browning serenaded the winter of life with his "grow old along with me, the best is yet to be." But no poet ever bothered to write: "In the spring a middle-aged man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of security, the welfare of his children and the fact he no longer likes to gallop to catch a bus."

This Can't Be Done

Nope, you just can't put poesy into middle age.

The closest the culprit himself will come to admitting guilt is a grudging, "I ain't as young as I used to be." This is usually about the time he begins saving up his hangovers for weekends and waits for an elevator rather than climb one flight of stairs.

Another sign is his feeling of secret pleasure when he hears his high school son call him "the old man." If he overheard the boy refer to him as "the middle-aged man," he probably would flog him—or hire somebody to, as high school boys grow pretty big now? adays.

When her first grandchild arrives, a woman may cheerfully announce, "I'm just an old lady now." But she's just being coy. If you want to make an endless enemy, just reply: "Why, you're not really old—you're just middle-aged."

The people who put out dictionaries are disillusioning. One skirts the issue by saying middle age is just the period between youth and age, but another defines it flatly as:

"From about 35 to 50 or 55 years old."

Feeling middle-aged? It's just the worried interlude between anticipation and retrospect.

Primm And Tinkers To Tangle In TAAF Finals At Abernathy

ABERNATHY, March 3 (Special)—The stage was set here last night for the finals of the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation basketball tournament, which will be held in the Abernathy High school gym tonight, with Primm Drug of Brownfield meeting Thomas Tinkers of Lubbock for the championship.

This game, which will begin at 9 p. m., will be the feature battle of the night, with consolation third and fourth places being decided at 7:30 p. m., when Spade Independents meet Plains Gassers.

To Award Trophies

Trophies and individual prizes will be awarded immediately after the championship game by Curtis Barrett, tournament director.

Primm eased into the finals with an impressive 44-33 defeat of Spade, while the Tinkers staged a magnificent second half rally to down the Gassers, 55-53.

The Tinkers really had to win the hard way, coming from under a 39-23 halftime deficit to eke out victory in the closing minutes of the ball game.

Start Out Like Storm

The Gassers started out as though they intended to make a rout of the contest. Gene Shuey, who had 23 points last night, hooked 19 counters in the first half and this individual exploit almost was enough to beat the Tinkers.

And then, after the intermission, the Tinkers staged a successful rally that found them hitting the basket from every angle. Wally McBrayer, a Texas Tech student, and Weldon Menchew carried the brunt of the Tinkers' rally, finding the range and opening up an attack that the Gassers couldn't match.

Finally, with four minutes left to play, the Tinkers tied the score at 50-all. Then, with the gym in pandemonium, the Tinkers grabbed a 55-53 lead in the next two minutes and successfully stalled for the final two minutes of the closing half.

It was a brilliant victory, with McBrayer and Menchew yielding team scoring totals to Gene Hardy, who collected 18 points. Shuey topped all scorers with a total of 23 points, although he was held to four scores in the second half.

In the other semi-final game, Primm Drug played a tight, conservative style of ball against the dash and polish of the Spade five, the slowing down of play aiding the Brownfield team to its 44-33 victory.

Primm, playing a deliberate, slow-breaking game, took an early lead, making shots good and taking its time in play to build up a 24-12 halftime margin.

After the intermission the two teams continued to play on even terms, but the victory was accomplished in the first half.

Ray Warden of Primm led the scorers with 20 points, while Vance Osborne of the losers scored 12 for his team.

The consolation game to decide third place between Plains Gassers and Spade Independents will begin tomorrow night at 7:30. The championship game between Primm and Tinkers will start at 9 p. m.

The association plans a called meeting in Houston about June 15, at which time by-laws and a constitution will be adopted.

Allen announced Tuesday that the association's principal objective at this time is to support proposed legislation favoring wrestling in Texas, and to oppose measures which might prove detrimental to the sport.

Musial Continues To Hold Out As Four Battle For His Card First Base Post

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP) — While Stan Musial, slugging St. Louis Cardinal star continues to hold out, four players are battling for his first base job.

Dick Sisler, who was groomed for the first base job in 1946 only to flunk out in favor of Musial, is one of the four striving for the position at the Cards' St. Petersburg, Fla. camp.

The others are Rookies Glen Nelson, Mike Natisin and Nippy Jones, who finished the 1947 season at second base for the Red Birds.

Nelson played for Lynchburg and led the Piedmont league in batting last year with a nifty .371. Natisin batted .312 and clubbed 22 homers for Columbus of the American association.

Three Teams Tie For Lone Star Honors

(By The Associated Press)

East Texas, North Texas and Sam Houston State share the Lone Star conference basketball championship.

Sam Houston clinched a portion of the title last night by walloping Trinity university, 84-65, as Murray Mitchell cracked the conference scoring record.

Mitchell counted 43 points to eclipse the mark of 38 set last year by Guy Lewis of the University of Houston. The six foot, seven inch Mitchell sank goals from every angle.

The three-way tie poses a problem for the selection committee of the regional National Intercollegiate Association of Basketball tournament at Fort Worth this week-end. It will have to pick one of the three to represent the conference in the meet.

North Texas and East Texas finished in a tie for the title Monday night. All three teams won nine and lost three in conference play.

Highest Score Fails To Win Cage Honors

DALLAS, March 3 (AP) — Ironically, the highest-scoring team in Southwest conference basketball lacked just 24 points of winning the championship.

Southern Methodist's seven losses were from one to seven points. There were two one-point defeats, two two-pointers, one five, one six and one seven.

SMU averaged 52 points per game, statistics from the office of James H. Stewart, executive secretary, show. That was two-tenths of a point better than Baylor, which won the championship.

But defensively, the Methodists gave up 49.4 points — fourth in the conference. Baylor was tops in this department with an average of 42.0. Second was Texas with 45.0 and third was Arkansas with 48.0.

Freeman Meets Flores Tonight

Two outstanding grapplers of the "clean" school of wrestling meet tonight at Sled Allen's wrestling arena in the feature bill of fare, Ace Freeman of New York City opposing Salvador Flores of Mexico City.

The word "clean" is used advisedly, for both men have been known to lose their tempers in the ring and, when this event occurs, fans can sit up to watch the action. Flores definitely fought a clean fight in beating Gorilla Poggi last week, while Freeman was at his best in turning back the renowned bad man, Rod Fenton.

In the semi-final affair, Hy Sharman makes a welcome return to the local scene against Dory Funk, who has been a consistent crowd - pleaser. Sharman likes to mix it up in the ring and his opponent is no slouch at slinging fists, so that plenty of action is assured tonight. It should be one of the b tter matches.

Poggi makes his second straight return visit to the local wrestling emporium against Pierre LaBelle and there ought to be more action in this bout than in any other on the card. Poggi is an old hand in the ring, versed in all the tricks and loving the unpopular underhand methods of winning. LaBelle generally is a cleaner wrestler, but takes pleasure in exchanging blows and commands a wide knowledge of good and bad ring tactics.

Tickets will be on sale from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m. at Wylie's Drug store.

Kahn Goes East On Roach Fight

The proposed June bout between LaVern Roach of Plainview and Wild Bill McDowell of Dallas, which is tentatively set for Lubbock, possibly was nearer reality with the departure today of Bert Kahn, owner of Kahn's Health club and promoter of the fight.

Kahn will go to New York City to discuss various aspects of the fight with Abe Greene, National Boxing association president; Jack Dempsey, former World's Heavyweight boxing champ; Chris Dundee and Johnny Abood, Roach's managers; and Roach himself. He also will consult other members of the boxing profession.

While in New York, he Lubbock promoter also will watch Gus Lesnevich, World's Light Heavyweight champion, in a title defense, as well as watching the Roach-Marcel Cerdan of France fight in Madison Square Garden on March 12.

Kahn will return to Lubbock soon after the Roach fight, at which time he hopes to have most of the arrangements for the fight out of the way.

Byrum said arrangements had been made to allow entry of teams now engaged in the Abernathy TAAF tournament, "without prejudicing their play at Abernathy."

"We can arrange play-brackets so that such teams won't have to play the first two nights of our tourney," he said.

Teams may register for the Anton tournament by sending entrance fees of $10 to Byrum, at post office box 313, Anton.

Prizes of $50, $30 and $20 will be awarded to the first, second and third teams in winnings, it was announced.

Pairings For NAIB Play Due Out Today

FORT WORTH, March 3 (AP)—Pairings for the regional NAIB basketball tournament here Friday and Saturday will be announced today.

Gus Miller, NAIB chairman in Texas and athletic director of West Texas State Teachers college, will supervise the drawnig.

Records Tumble As Golds Beat Blacks

Sophomore Jim Wilson and sprinter Don Decker and Charley Williams sparked the Gold squad to an impressive victory over the Blacks, 84 points to 50, as the second section of the annual Lubbock High intra-squad meet was unreeled Tuesday afternoon at Chapman field. Three more records were toppled during the program, in addition to the two marks established in the first section of the meet Monday.

New Discus Mark Set

Wilson, a rangy football and basketball letterman, set a new mark in the discus in the first section of the meet Monday, then came back yesterday to win the broad jump with an 18 feet, nine and one-half inch effort. Wilson also placed second in the high hurdles, third in the shot put and second in the 440-yard dash.

Decker, Gold captain, and Hutcherson, Black leader, tied for runner-up individual scoring honors with 10 points each.

Charles Curry set a new record in the shot event with a toss of 42' 8¾", but he barely nosed out Norman Dean's 42' 4½" throw Both distances bettered the former mark of 39' 9".

The other record-shattering performance Tuesday was turned in by veteran Jack Alderson, who bettered his own high jump mark by clearing the bar at 5' 8½".

220-Dash Is Close

Highlight of the program for the fans was the 220-yard dash event, with Decker and Williams hitting the tape in a near dead-heat. Williams took an early lead with a fast start and held a two-step edge at the 180-yard mark. Then Decker turned on a powerful finishing kick that closed the gap and the Gold captain hit the tape inches ahead of Williams. The winning time was clocked at a creditable 24.2, but a headwind hampered the runners.

The complete results:

Sale Of Toledo Club Is Believed Certain

ST. LOUIS, March 3 (U.P.)—Only routine approval by baseball officials stood in the way today of the sale by the St. Louis Browns to the Detroit Tigers of the Browns' farm club at Toledo, Ohio.

The Browns' board of directors approved the transaction at a meeting late yesterday, it was learned, and the deal will be completed as soon as approval is obtained from Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler, the American league owners and the American association.

Sale of the Toledo Mud Hens Triple A franchise to Detroit would add about $275,000 to the Browns' treasury, depleted by customer resistance at Sportsman's park here last season and the building of a new park at San Antonio, Tex.

Stadium Lights Are Previewed

Athletic officials at Texas Tech last night had their first nocturnal glimpse of the new football lights in the Clifford B. and Audrey Jones Stadium.

The powerful floodlights, mounted on three poles on both the East and West stands, were turned on early in the evening and were visible for miles. Tech athletic officials were impressed spectators, as electrical engineers examined the results for mechanical flaws.

Football Coach Dell Morgan, along with other Tech officials, was pleased with the lights and the way they covered the stadium's playing surface. A few minor changes had to be made to eliminate shadows from the playing field, but that was the reason the lights were tested.

Coach Morgan declared that the lights "sure were bright," but pointed out that they would not get in the eyes of players looking for passes or punts. He said that, sitting in the stands, the playing surface was almost as bright as day.

Workmen still are putting finishing touches on the athletic offices under the East stands and it probably will be two or three weeks yet before athletic officials will be able to move in. The offices have to be painted yet and other minor finishing touches made.

Dyer Pins Hopes On Group Of Rookies

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 3—Eddie Dyer pinned the 1948 pennant hopes of the St. Louis Cardinals on a group of rookies today.

"They have to come through," he emphasized, "so we will be able to match the depth of the Dodgers. They beat us last year because we couldn't cope with their bench power."

Dyer is satisfied that man for man among the regulars the Cardinals match if not surpass the Dodger strength.

Two Examples Cited

"But we are going to have to come up with a couple of handy ball players like Cookie Lavagetto and Arky Vaughan," he said. "Those two guys alone gave us plenty of trouble last year with Cookie beating us twice in pinch hitting roles.

"I didn't have anyone like that to stick in there."

But this year he is hoping to have that kind of reserve strength.

The newcomers he is counting on include Nippy Jones, who proved he could hit major league pitching when he came up late last year from Rochester; Don Lang, who hit .346 with Columbus in 1947; Thomas Glaviano, another infielder up for another trial; Bernie Creger, who was with the club last year as a utility man; and Charles Diering, a fleet-footed, strong-armed outfielder.

Could Be Just The Thing

"They could be just what the doctor ordered for the reserve man power we need," the Redbird skipper declared.

He is hoping that Jones, who didn't masure up as a second baseman in his trial last fall, will come through as a first sacker, thus freeing Stan Musial to return to the outfield.

"But if he doesn't, he still will be a mighty hand man to have around, for he knows how to handle that bat," Dyer said.

He doesn't figure that Lang could stand the strain of playing every day, but like "Lavagetto and Vaughan it would be nice to have him around on the bench, knowing he could fill in the infield efficiently and give a good account of himself at the plate."

Three other rookies also figure importantly in Dyer's plans—pitchers Clarence Beers and Al Papai and catcher John Bucha. Beers won 25 games with Houston last year and Papai 21. Bucha hit .361 with Omaha.

"Beers and Papai look good," to the Cardinal pilot, but he isn't too sure that Bucha, who is only 20, is ready.

"He may need another season of experience, but Beers and Papai have a real good chance to stick. After all, winning 20 or more games in the Texas league is a mighty fine achievement so I'm counting on them for pitching help.

"That kind of new blood, with those kids back from last year after a season in the majors, makes me feel pretty hopeful that we'll be able to match that Brooklyn bench power this year."

Christians And SMU To Wind Up Season

(By The Associated Press)

Texas Christian and Southern Methodist wind up their Southwest conference basketball seasons tonight in Fort Worth.

The result will mean little to either team. Texas Christian is in the cellar and Southern Methodist is in the second division.

Only one other game remains on the conference schedule. This is the Texas-Texas A. & M. game scheduled March 9.

NORMAN, Okla., March 3 (U.P.)—Walter Driskill has been named assistant football coach at the University of Oklahoma, Head Coach Bud Wilkinson announced today.

Driskill was an assistant with Wilkinson in 1946 under Jim Tatum. When Tatum moved to Maryland, Driskill went with him and Wilkinson advanced to the No. 1 job here.

Three Lubbock County Men Are Charged In Hit-Run Accident

Search was intensified early this afternoon, after the filing of charges against three Lubbock county men, in connection with a hit-run incident late Tuesday near Lubbock.

Charged were Herman Lee McCarty, J. D. Fulcher and Le Roy Ostrander. They had not been reported arrested at 2 p. m.

The joint complaint, sworn to by T. A. Rowland of the state highway patrol, and filed by District Attorney Lloyd Croslin in the justice court of C. E. Lynn, charged that the three men were the "driver of, and in control of, an automobile and while driving and controlling said automobile did strike Mrs. Marvin Simpson, jr., and unlawfully failed to stop the car after striking her."

Car Was Overturned

A truck struck the car of Mrs. Simpson, 49, wife of a prominent Fort Worth lawyer, and overturned it, causing injuries to Mrs. Simpson and her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Goode of 2009 Twenty-eighth. Mrs. Simpson remained today in Lubbock Memorial hospital for treatment of two fractured left ribs. Her condition was termed satisfactory. Mrs. Goode left the hospital after treatment of bruises and shock.

The mishap was one mile west of the railroad tracks on the Levelland highway, about 5:45 p. m.

Two women injured in another accident at the scene of the first accident left West Texas hospital after treatment. They were Mrs. Stella McFarling of west of Lubbock, who was driving a 1946 Ford pickup west along the highway, and Mrs. L. B. Tanner of Morton. Mrs. McFarling slowed momentarily, according to the highway patrol, at the smashed overturned car. When she did that, a 1946 Ford sedan driven by Mrs. Tanner collided with rear of the pickup, patrolmen said.

The truck which had struck the Simpson automobile, a late model Frazer, was hotly pursued by the highway patrol over country roads for several hours Thursday night, after a 17-year-old Lubbock youth had risked threats of the occupants in order to get the license number. The trail of the truck was lost Thursday night, but the highway patrol continued unrelenting search today.

Wheels Spin In Air

The accident happened directly in front of the W. G. McMillan home. The car was knocked over on the south side of the road and left the wheels spinning in the air, witnesses said.

Immediately afterward, Charles Bartlett, 17, of 2224 Fourteenth drove north onto the highway near the scene.

Through his ingenuity most of the license number of the hit-run truck was obtained, and also a detailed description of the truck. He later accompanied State Highway patrolmen on a several-hour chase in pursuit of the persons in the truck, which Bartlett said was occupied by at least two men and one woman.

As Bartlett stopped at the highway intersection, he noticed workmen on a house to his right dropping their tools and running in his direction. A short distance on his left he said that he saw an overturned car with wheels spinning in the middle of a cloud of dust.

He pulled up to the Frazer at about the same time two or three other persons arrived, Bartlett said, and someone shouted "that truck going yonder must have done it did anyone get the license number?"

Halted Truck Later

The answer was negative, and besides the truck license could not be seen by that time, since the car was "opening up." Three men, believed to be soldiers, said they would go get them, according to Bartlett. As they started after the truck, he saw the truck bend the corner on the Slide road and "figured they'd never catch it."

Young Bartlett jumped into his 1946 Mercury sedan, cut the corner down the same road which he had just traveled. This road intersects the Slide road. He said he arrived at the intersection and waited for the truck. The truck came, and almost turned over, he said, as it swerved to the left and headed down the country road in front of him.

He outdistanced the truck shortly and it finally stopped. With all of his doors locked, and with the right window down about four inches, Bartlett faced one of the men who tried to open his car door.

"What're you doing here?" the man demanded.

Bartlett replied that "you men drove off from that accident," and as the man started to get violent, Bartlett pulled in ahead of them. It was then that he looked back and saw all of the license number except one letter. The rear license was covered with mud, he said.

The persons in the truck, a '46 or '47 Ford, gave chase, but Bartlett easily outdistanced them. He returned to the scene of the accident where he reported his information to the highway patrol. The truck was described as having a dark green cab, red truck bed with sideboards but no tail gate, and on the rear was printed what appeared to be Frederick, Okla. Partial description of two men was also given.

The highway patrol, accompanied by Bartlett, was able to pick up the tracks of the speeding truck along country roads, particularly in the New Home area. One red side board, believed to be from the truck was found. The trail was lost some time after dark.

Between The Lines . . .

By Joe Kelly

Bert Kahn takes off today for New York City to make arrangements, if possible, for LaVern Roach of Plainview to fight here in June. He goes with the hopes of the South Plains behind him, for such a fight would be made to order for LaVern's many friends in this area, few of who could see him in action anywhere else except home. We hope Bert succeeds and that LaVern accedes to the wishes of his biggest and best supporters, his neighbors and friends of the South Plains and West Texas.

• • •

In line with boxing, we have a letter from Mrs. Cullen Forbes of Brownfield taking exception to the story in Sunday's paper on Plainview boxing results. Mrs. Forbes, who certainly should know, states that James Forbes of Brownfield knocked out Shorty Kirk of Petersburg, not the reverse, as was carried in this paper. We apologize for the mistake our Plainview correspondent made. We attempted, for 40 minutes, to get the results the night of the fight by long distance phone, but no one in Plainview, with a phone, had the outcome of the bouts.

• • •

Saturday, someone brought them into the office. However, Mrs. Forbes, James fought in the high school featherweight division in the Lubbock Golden Gloves an dthose results were carried correctly. To recap, he beat Dwayne Driver of Tahoka in his first fight by decision, then lost to Kenneth Kirkpatrick of Petersburg in the championships on a decision.

• • •

We give all the credit in the world to the Brownfield fighters and are always glad to see them in action. When they win, they receive due credit, as they do when they lose. Fortunately for Tom Adams, J. D. Kirkpatrick received a cut eye at Fort Worth and was not allowed to continue. J. D. was far from whipped and, until his eye was cut, had such a long lead that there was no question about the fight's outcome. On the other hand, Adams had his hands full getting the nod over J. D. Kirkpatrick's erstwhile opponent, greatly weakened by the battering the Petersburg boy had given him. For the Kirkpatrick's information, we pass on your challenge: "We still want one more crack at Kenneth Kirkpatrick, any time, any place."

• • •

Speaking of J. D., the Petersburg Puncher has picked up weight to 178 pounds, all of which is solid muscle. J. D. is working out daily at Bert Kahn's, preparing for the turn to professional fighting and Bert is building up his chest and shoulder muscles. The additional weight is not fat, but increased muscle. If LaVern Roach fights here in June, what a bout Kirkpatrick-Adams would make for a semi-final! It also would settle a lot of questions.

• • •

We were sorry to hear last night of the death of Volney "Satch" Hill, one of the greats at Texas Tech at the turn of the thirties. The late sportsman had an outstanding coaching record all over Texas, was popular as principal of Meadow High school and close to Tech's doings for many years. He served under Eli Freeland at the Raider institution and, since he was one of the early graduates, helped to mold Tech athletics into a respected name. His passing will be a shock to his many friends and supporters of Texas Tech.

• • •

Here's an opportunity for someone to pick up a pair of reserved seat tickets for all Hubber ball games this summer. Mrs. Sam Rosenthal will give two tickets to any person in return for a duplex, an apartment or a house, furnished, for Larry Larsen, the new Hubber business manager. And she will ditto this for an unfurnished duplex, apartment or house for Leonard Heinz, a star Hubber hurler. If she can find the unfurnished place for Heinz, the key pitcher will return to the Hubbers this summer. And he might make a big difference in the Hubbers hopes this year.

• • •

THE ROUNDUP: Featherweight Bill Henderson, looking drawn and weary from 12 to 18 hours of work daily in the oil fields, had his first workout at Kahn's Monday. He still is sharp in the ring . . . Our apologies to the Texas Tech basketball squad. We made the comment, after the losing three-game tour of Arizona, that there was nothing wrong with Tech basketball that a new squad wouldn't cure. Monday night after the game the players reminded us of the remark. Ouch! . . . Hank Decker of West Texas is coaching at Boys Ranch this year . . . J. W. Malone of West Texas is coaching at Morris . . . And we extend belated greetings to Earl Scudday on joining the columnists, as well as drawing the attention of our readers to Earl's good efforts in the Morning Avalanche.

WALKOUT BY SOUTHERNERS LOOMS

Demo Convention May Receive Jolt

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, March 3—The southern revolt threatened the Democratic party today with a national convention walkout on the scale of the Bull Moose bolt from the 1912 Republican convention.

Suggestions of a convention walkout came from various southern Democratic spokesmen in their search for ways to make effective their spreading rebellion against President Truman's civil rights program.

Price Of Party Peace

—Most of those proposals were tied to a demand that the convention repudiate Mr. Truman's program and declare for "states rights" in handling racial issues. That would make an acceptable convention plank the price of party peace.

But some southerners insisted that a platform compromise was not enough. They said the South's delegates should walk out if President Truman were nominated. Whatever the platform says, these southerners believe there is no chance that Mr. Truman withdraw his request for federal laws against lynching, poll taxes and job discrimination.

Would Be A Jolt

If the 11 states of the Old South act as a unit, a walkout would take 298 of the 1,234 Democratic delegates out of the convention hall. A bolt on a smaller scale would still give the convention a sizeable jolt.

There has been some talk that southern states might not send delegates to the convention. More cautious southerners, however, are warning against a complete break before the copvention.

Wheat Prices

ernment-held stocks for export, will very likely in the face of a favorable crop prospects, force prices below support levels at a time when the demand for wheat to meet the emergency food requirements of foreign countries is urgent."

In reply to a question from Young as to the "feasibility" of exporting more than the administration goal of 450,000,000 bushels if the carry-over requirement is retained, Anderson replied:

"It would be possible to export as much as 500,000,000 bushels provided not more than 210,000,000 bushels of wheat are fed to livestock and domestic food usage does not exceed 500,000,000 bushels.

Wheat-Corn Price Spread

"However, if the spread between wheat and corn prices continues to narrow, as much as 250,000,000 bushels may be fed to livestock.

"The high level of domestic demand also may be such that as much as 510,000,000 bushels of wheat as food may be consumed in the United States.

"This larger domestic disappearance combined with 88,000,000 bushels for seed for planting next year's crop and 450,000,000 bushels for export would leave a carry-over of 150,000,000 bushels.

Anderson said an "inflexible legal limitation" on stocks carried over "will tend to cause serious market disturbances toward the end of the marketing year." He added:

Producers To Bear Brunt

"Very likely the brunt of such disturbances would be borne by producers. Under such conditions, farmers, the grain trade, and millers should be in a position to reduce their inventories of old wheat to a level consistent with operating requirements."

The secretary said that during the next four years, while foreign demand may be expected to continue urgent, the carry-over stocks should be held down as long as production continues at high levels.

Stock Market

STOCKS MOVE HIGHER

NEW YORK, March 3 (U.P.) — The stock market moved higher after midday today, extending the rise of the prior three sessions, but there was no expansion of trading on the movement.

The light volume was attributable to some extent to uncertainties regarding the threatened strike of the United Financial Employes (AFL) against the New York stock exchange and the New York curb. A meeting is scheduled after today's "big board" close between officials of the stock exchange, the union and a federal conciliator in a final effort to reach agreement and avert the strike. The curb meets with union and the conciliator on Friday.

Oils were the best group pricewise. Gains in this section ranged to 4 points in Superior Oil of California with Amerada Corp. Up 3¼ and Plymouth Oil up 2½. Mission Corp. and Lion Oil were up a point or more each.

Strength in the oils in recent sessions has reflected unconfirmed rumors of an impending price rise. In addition, recently published earnings reports of oil companies have been favorable.

In the rails, Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific ran up a point, St. Louis Southwestern (Cotton Belt) gained 3½ to a new 1948 high, and both Nickel Plate and Santa Fe were fractionally higher.

Steels were irregular, reflecting the Washington hearings into the price rise announced by the companies late in February. Chrysler and General Motors firmed in their group. Beech Aircraft, up 2½, and Grumman, up 1 to a new high, featured the aircraft section.

U. S. Rubber, Allied Chemical and J. I. Case all were up a point or more each. Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies, down 3½ points at its low, rallied to 42 and a net gain of ½ point. American Aobacco B was down 1½.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP) — Cotton futures moved irregularly today after displaying early weakness. Persistent mill buying in old crop deliveries, along with short covering and New Orleans buying met only limited offerings. The market's steadiness partly reflected the growing tightness in supplies of better grade cotton.

Declines extended to more than $1 a bale as scattered liquidation and hedging met indifferent trade support. There were 13 additional March transferable notices issued.

Futures closed 50 cents to $1.15 a bale lower than the previous close.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 3 (AP) — Wheat dropped for losses extending to more than 3 cents while corn and oats closed with minor gains and declines on the board of trade today.

In an active trade, the market had several major price swings. Opening quotations were lower. Then a good rally developed, paced by corn. However, in the last 15 minutes heavy selling knocked values down quickly, leaving the market with a weak undertone.

The comparative easiness of wheat was based on a statement by Agriculture Secretary Anderson tha twheat prices may get down to the government support level if a law requiring a carryover of 150,000,000 bushels on July 1 is not repealed.

Corn and oats showed greater strength than wheat because of the very small marketings of these cereals, reflected in firm cash market prices. In the first three days of March only 83 cars of corn have arrived here, compared with 1,721 in the same period last year.

Wheat closed 3 to 3¼ cents lower, May $2.42¼-2.43, corn was 1½ lower to 1 cent higher, May $2.26½-2.27, oats were ⅝ lower to ⅝ higher, May $1.14⅝-¾.

Klan Takes Up Fight On HST's Program

WRIGHTSVILLE, Ga., March 3. (U.P.)—The Ku Klux Klan demonstrated against President Truman's civil rights proposals here last night.

Apparently the marching of 280 klan knights in full regalia and the burning of a 15-foot high cross on the sourthouse lawn had no connection with a local democratic primary today.

Dr. Samuel Green, of Atlanta, grand dragon of the klan in Georgia, made the only speech. He denounced the civil rights program and urged his 2,000 listeners to stronger opposition of enactment of federal anti-lynching, anti-Jim Crowism and anti-poll tax legislation.

Ruel Martin, chairman of the Lubbock county Red Cross chapter blood bank committee, explained the project, adopted as No. 1 achievement for the chapter in 1948, and members of the Exchange club took tests for blood types as a feature of the club's luncheon at Hotel Lubbock today noon.

Another feature was several vocal numbers of a Barber Shop quartet composed of R. S. Robinson, Jack Hall, Bob Hufstedler and Bob Dennis.

Mrs. J. H. Stiles, executive secretary; Miss Lula Mae Cravens, volunteer special service chairman; Mrs. L. E. Davis, volunteer worker; Gerald Jarvis, city technician; Jasper Hubbert, chief technician and Mrs. D. G. Zachary, technician, of Lubbock Memorial hospital staff, directed the blood bank typing.

Hubby Hides Her Clothes But Helen Goes Out Completely Nude And Lands In Jail

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 3 (AP)—Traffic officers found Helen Jackley driving along Broadway in nothing—but high gear.

As nude as Lady Godiva, the woman got first attention by going through a red light. The signal was paled, however, by the blushes of Patrolmen Benjamin Morse and Carroll B. Maynard, after she obeyed their order to stop.

Here's the story she told in municipal court:

"I wanted to go out. My husband didn't. I said I would anyway, so he undressed me and dared me to go out like that—so I did."

Said Judge McDonnell:

"This court has heard everything now."

Then he sentenced her to 90 days in jail for drunken driving—unless she wanted to pay a $350 fine.

She spent several hours in jail, then paid the fine.

Chinese Student In Tech Tells Rotary Club Of Pressing Needs In His Country

Joe Ma, Texas Tech graduate student from South China, today told the Lubbock Rotary club that his country's greatest needs at the present are modernized agriculture; additional medical men, supplies and hospital service, and a reorganization of its educational system.

Ma, who, with his wife, came to Lubbock several months ago, described his fellow countrymen as being tired and badly worn due to the war with the Japs and the following civil conflict in which China remains engaged. He said the people "are so sick of fighting that they'd turn Communist, or to any other 'ism, if promised by such a system peace and enough food to eat."

Describing the U. S. as "a wonderful country," and reminding his listeners that Americans are "the luckiest people on earth," he urged that Americans assume their responsibility in world affairs. He branded inflation, with which he was familiar in China, as a "terrible thing," and advised Americans to control it as quickly as possible. He mentioned receipt of an air mail letter from China which cost the equivalent of 51,000 Chinese dollars to send to Lubbock from Foochow.

In their "first primary" election to name five directors for the coming year, Rotarians chose 11 of their number for the "run off" balloting next Wednesday. Clubmen chosen by popular vote to compete in the "run-off" were Dean James G. Allen, Walter Clark, Ely Fonville, G. V. Fulton, Roy Furr, Chas. A. Guy, Don King, Arch Lamb, Jack Stone, Guy Victory and Neil H. Wright, jr.

Three new Rotarians were welcomed into the club by Mayor Clarence Bestwick and former Mayor Overton Ribble. They were Arthur Quest, Jay Wooten and Bill Pendley. Junior Rotarians for next month were introduced as James Sherrill, from Lubbock High school, and Joe Heffner, from Texas Tech.

The program, held in the Matador room of Hotel Hilton, was in charge of Don King. President Rex Webster presided. The club paid respects to the memory of S. Lamar Forrest, a member who died last week, by standing in silence for a brief period.

Bogus Cash Is Taken In Raid

MUSKOGEE, Okla., March 3. (U.P.)—Secret service agents announced today that a man alleged to be a regional distributor for a nationwide counterfeiting gang and his assistant have been arrested here following a raid which netted $11,900 in bogus $20 bils.

The arrests resulted from raids last week at a house here and a rural nightclub, The Skyline, on U. S. highway 69 north of here. Charged with conspiracy to possess counterfeit money were Al Greet, 50-year-old ex-convict and night club operator, and Lorenzo B. Uzzell, 41, formerly of Denver, Colo.

Money Is Recovered

The raid here also recovered $400 in honest money which a secret agent allegedly paid Greer for $1,000 worth of spurious bills, John Osborn, chief secret service agent for Oklahoma, announced.

Greer and Uzzell were brought in after three persons had been arrested in Springfield, Mo., Jan. 20 and charged with attempting to pass counterfeit bills. Osborn said the trio obtained the counterfeit currency from Greer.

Both Uzell and Greer have been released under $5,000 bond after entering pleas of innocent, Osborn said. They were arrested shortly after the raids on Greer's home and night club Feb. 24 but the facts surrounding the case were withheld until today as agents attempted to bring in other members in the ring elsewhere in the nation.

Britain Draws Last Of Giant U. S. Loan

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—Britain has exhausted its $3,750,000,000 loan from the United States with a final $100,000,000 draft, the Treasury disclosed today.

Originally expected to last three to five years, the loan funds held out only 19½ months. Britain checked them out at an average rate of nearly $200,000,000 a month.

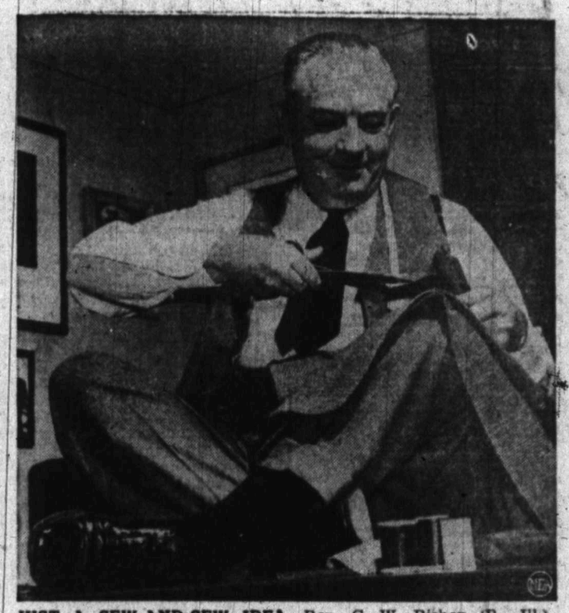

The last withdrawal was made Monday.

Exhaustion of the loan came a short time after a British government white paper declared, in effect, that Britain faces bankruptcy and that it has overspent its income by $4,000,000,000 in the last two years.

DALLAS, March 3 (U.P.)—Approximately two-thirds of the 373 Southern Methodist university students questioned favor anti-lynching and anti-poll tax legislation, a campus poll showed today.

Most students thought states have not made adequate provision for the negro. Some expressed the opinion that southern states should gradually eliminate Jim Crow laws. They believe, however, that an effort to do so by the federal government would only delay the process.

Reds Compared To Hitler And Appeasement Said Way To War

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The revulsion of the non-Communist nations of Europe to the Bolshevist rape of Czechoslakia is reminiscent of the violent reaction to Hitler's assault on that same little republic ten years ago.

Toward the close of 1938 I arrived in London looking for the solution of an important problem.

I asked a distinguished British source.

"I sense a decided hardening of the British and French attitude toward Germany, but I can't put my finger on it. I shall be grateful if you will tell me whether I am right and, if so, what that hardening means."

"You are quite right," he replied without hesitation. "We have decided that appeasement goes out the window. We shall use our armies if necessary."

That was to say, of course, that the two powers would use their armies to keep Hitler in hand if he started a rampage. It was the right idea but a couple of years too late.

Now with the communizing of Czechoslovakia we have reached a crucial point in a fresh world conquest which the democracies have been trying to halt by appeasement. The first reaction to the Red assault on the small democracy was the joint note of condemnation by America, Britain and France. This has been followed by a wave of anti-Soviet sentiment which has swept Scandinavia, Norway, Denmark and Sweden—all of which are in the danger zone of Red aggression—are showing their feelings by mass demonstrations and press attacks against the aggressive spread of Communism over Europe.

At the same time there has been a sudden decision to speed up the conference to consider implementation of British Foreign Minister Bevin's proposal for a "western union" of Europe.

Turkey Trains Guns

Meanyhile Turkey, another strategically situated country upon which Moscow has trained its big guns, has erupted into action. Fifty-six alleged Communists went on trial yesterday in Istanbul, charged with forming a society to "establish the supremacy of one class over another."

So we are witnessing an all-around tightening of the defenses against Bolshevism in Europe. It not only is encouraging but gives definite promise that the line can be held against the Reds of appeasement is discarded.

Far from being an encouragement to war, a firm stand against Communist aggression is the sure way to prevent another global upheaval. The certain way to bring on another world war is to temporize and appease.

Removal Of Snow In New York Expensive

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Any New Yorker would vow the snowstorms that buffeted the city this winter were white, except local budget officials who see red—$8,654,349.95 worth.

That was the cost of removing 87.4 inches of snow between last Dec. 26 and Feb. 21, sanitation officials said today.

In other words, it cost $150,773 to remove each inch of snow that fell on the city in that time.

Nostalgically, budget officials leafed back through the records to the winter of 1931-32 when it cost only $13,992.02 to remove 1.3 inches of snow.

Texan Outlines Help For Ex-Capone Men

WASHINGTON, March 3. (U.P.)—A Dallas, attorney admitted yesterday that he helped "pave the way" for paroles granted four alleged ex-Capone gangsters but insisted he did nothing "improper."

Maury Hughes made the statements to a House Executive Expenditures subcommittee investigating the paroles. The men had been serving time on charges of attempting to extort money from the movie industry, he said. He added that mail fraud indictments were pending against them at the same time.

Hughes told the committee that he entered a plea in New York federal district court for dismissal of the indictments on grounds the case had been pending for four years. Dismissal of the indictments, Hughes admitted, "paved the way for the eventual paroles of the four."

He said he got $15,000 for his work.

CLIFF-HANGER THRILLER—Fifteen-year-old Ronald Ceynowe, of Oakland, Calif., was a much relieved lad when firemen pulled him 100 feet to safety from the sheer wall of a quarry. He and Boyd Kilgore, 13, extreme left, were stranded there when their attempt to scale the 300-foot cliff failed.

Street Project At Matador Approved

MATADOR, March 3 (Special)—Matador voters Tuesday gave over-whelmingly approval to a $60,000 street improvement bond issue which will give the city at least 19 blocks more paving in the city and residential area.

The vote for the issue was 178 with 19 against.

Work on the project is expected to get underway in the near future, it was announced. The work will include paving atound the courthouse square, near the school and in other residential sections. In addition, the State Highway department is to pave a spur through the city which will add another seven blocks to the total.

Restriction On Fruit Sought

WESLACO, March 3. (U.P.)—Restrictions upon shipment of California citrus fruit to Texas were sought today by leaders of the Texas citrus industry.

They wanted to clamp restrictions on citrus imports from California because California still maintains restrictions on its imports from Texas.

"I don't blame California," said Charles Rogers, Alamo shipper and a member of the national citrus advisory council. "But we should do the same thing to them."

Scaly Fruit Seen

Arthur Beckwith, Progreso grower, reported he had seen much scaly fruit in California and ned seen California fruit in North Texas.

"I don't want to see the California scales brought to the valley," he said.

Another grower, Ray Goodwin, echoed the sentiments of the group. He recalled that California imposed the limitations before it received any Texas fruit.

J. E. McDonald, Texas agriculture commissioner, yesterday outlined before the Texas citrus advisory council the limitations imposed by California when it lifted a ban on Texas oranges and grapefruit last week.

McDonald, who was in California recently to open the trade channel between the two states, reminded the Texans that California banned Texas fruit because of citrus canker since 1921. And the last canker seen in Texas, he added, was in 1943, with the infection some 350 miles from the citrus area.

Eleven Arabs Die In Fight

JERUSALEM, March 3. (U.P.)—Eleven Arabs were killed and 16 wounded in Haifa early today when a carload of explosives blasted a street in the Arab area, demolishing two large buildings, according to a telephone report.

The explosion, described as a minor version" of the Ben Yehuda street bombing in Jerusalem,, took place on Stenton street at 8:45 a. m.

Reports from Haifa said the Arabs were mystified how the explosive-laden car could have reached the heavily-guarded Arab area.

Others Maybe Buried

The blast shattered scores of windows in other buildings in addition to the two buildings destroyed. It was feared other victims may be buried in the debris.

Other reports said British troops using light artillery and automatic weapons have broken up a snipers engagement between Jews and Arabs in the hills near Bab El Wad, halfway between Jerusalem and Jaffa.

The British fought on the side of the Jews against the Arabs, who took the offensive in attacks against Jewish convoys on the highway. Casualties were reported to have been light.

The British attack was the first made in carying out Monday's ultimatum that the heaviest weapons would be turned on either side that took the offensive in the Holy Land war.

Pensacola Publisher And Police At Odds

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 3 (U.P.) — Newspaper publisher Kenneth Brown, who is at odds with the local police, today had five New Orleans detectives investigating acts of violence directed against him.

Brown said he had no confidence in the local police and said "I am getting no cooperation from them."

He said he believed a series of attacks on his home and office, including the firing of a shotgun through windows, were connected with recent editorials criticizing the police department and the city hospital.

The editorials were published in Brown's paper, the Pensacola Weekly Times.

SCHOONER IS MISSING

NEW ORLEANS, March 3. (U.P.) —A two-masted 50-foot schooner has been missing for 15 days in the Gulf of Mexico, the Coast Guard said today. Howard V. Miller and Douglas J. Miller, of the New York City police department's marine division, sailed the schooner from Belize, British Honduras, for Tampa, Fla., on Feb. 17. All ships at sea were alerted to watch for the vessel.

Screen's Bogeymen Plan New High In Coming Horror Films

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 3—Two of the screen's ablest boogy-men, Bela Lugosi and Lon Chaney, are planning projects to satisfy the most eager of horror fans.

Both are currently scaring the wits out of Abbott and Costello in "A: and C. Meet Frankenstein," and Lugosi reports that U-I is mulling two subjects based on his "Dracula" portrayal. "There is enough material in the original novel for half a dozen pictures," the Hungarian actor told me. Meanwhile, he plans to take the blood-sucker to London for an eight-week stage run this summer.

Chaney is organizing his own producing company with Curt Sidmak, top writer of gruesome scripts. They plan to create new characters "more horrible than any yet seen on the screen." I can hardly wait.

Alice Faye and Phil Harris made one of their rare public appearances at Kay Kyser's 10th anniversary dinner. Alice who looks more beautiful than ever, told me she can't get excited about returning to films. She's too contented with her home and family. "Besides, they don't make pictures as good as they used to," she said. The only picture which might induce her return would be "Burlesque," but that has been earmarked for Betty Grable . . .

Ralph Edwards is glowing about his "walking man" contest, which has already brought in a million dollars to the heart campaign. The fund's entire goal had been $800,000. Both were a little shy about the whole thing . . .

Parks Expect Banner Season

Record Likely In Attendance

By O. B. LLOYD, JR.
United Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 3—The S. R. O. sign has been dusted off, and the state parks system is happily anticipating the day when it may have to announce, "Sorry, standing room only."

Indications are that this will be a banner year, shattering last year's total attendance figure of 2,518,559 persons by at least 10 per cent.

If expectations come true, close to 2,800,000 travelers will have visited at least one of Texas' 72 state parks by Aug. 31, the end of the fiscal year.

Started Back In 1923

The state parks system, now engaged in administering an estistate investment, started in an act of the legislature back in 1923.

Patt M. Neff was governor. However, for nine years the system rocked along with no state appropriation. Then, in 1932, the legislature made its first move—$500.

Year by year the appropriations grew. This yea rit hit a new peak of $130,595. But, parks system officials point out, that is less than one-tenth of one per cent of the state's tax dollar. Not very much, they say.

Attendance Has Soared

Attendance at the parks has soared since 1940, the first year inwhich more than 1,000,000 persons visited some part of the system.

In 1943 the total rolled past 2,000,000. This year is expected to see the figure edge toward the 3,000,000 mark.

Last year alone 702,711 automobiles ranging from chauffeur-driven limousines to tin-can klankin' Model-T's rolled through the park gates.

Of that number, 27,553 were out of state cars. The rest—675,158—were Texas cars.

Many Spent Night

During the 12 months, 79,388 persons spent at least one night within the boundaries of a park. And of that number, there was an almost equal division between those who picked the comfort of a cabin and those who preferred the stars for a roof overhead.

Specifically, 40,980 spent a night in a cabin. The rest—34,408—slept beneath the sky.

Within the 58,148 acres of their park system, Texans can find virtually any recreation they desire.

However, according to park system figures, picnicking and sightseeing tops the preference list for 60 per cent of the visitors.

Swimming comes second, and fishing is pegged at third.

And for the rest of the sports-

Big Jim Folsom Is Named In Paternity Suit By Divorcee

CULLMAN, Ala., March 3 (U.P.) — James E. (Big Jim) Folsom, Alabama's kissing, governor, today was named respondent in a paternity suit in which a 30-year-old divorcee from his home county charged he is the father of her 22-month-old son.

The suit was filed in Cullman county chancery court here yesterday by Birmingham Attorney Kingman Shelburne on behalf of Christine Putman Johnston, who sought to have herself declared Folsom's common-law wife and to give her son "the dignity of legitimate birth."

In Washington Today

The six-foot eight-inch Alabama governor, who recently announced his presidential candidacy as a southern favorite son, left Montgomery yesterday to drive to Washington to testify before a congressional committee. He was to arrive there early today.

The complainant, described as a tall, striking woman with reddish-blonde hair, lives with her parents, P. L. Putman and his wife, on a cotton and strawberry farm outside nearby Hanceville, Ala.

Her brother, Carter E. Putman who filed a companion suit on behalf of the son to legitimize the birth, told the United Press that Mrs. Johnston was "in Detroit" but declined to give further details of her whereabouts.

No Compensation Sought

Both suits disclaimed any intention of obtaining "any pecuniary compensation or allowance."

The child, listed as James Douglas Folsom, was born April 17, 1946, at Nashville, Tenn., pursuant to arrangements made by Mrs. Johnston "accompanied and aided by" Folsom, the suit alleged.

The child weighed 11¼ pounds at birth.

Folsom, a widower, allegedly was introduced to Mrs. Johnston in November, 1944, while she was working as a cashier at the Tutwiler hotel in Birmingham.

"Prior to the birth of said son," the suit charged, Folsom and Mrs. Johnston "were intermarried by virtue of the acknowledged relationship effective as a common-

WEDDING REFUSED—Jeanne Clair Lucas flew from Pittsburgh to Nashville, Tenn., in an attempt to marry Daniel Budzynski, 18, who had been sentenced to die in the electric chair March 4. The youth's sentence was commuted to life imprisonment Tuesday but Tennessee officials indicated that wedding plans would not be allowed. Miss Lucas, a Sunday school teacher, declared she wanted to wed the youth even though he were executed because she loved him and believed him innocent.

30-Day Ban On Oil Shipments Sought

WASHINGTON, March 3. (U.P.)—The House Interstate Commerce committee voted yesterday to ban most oil shipments from east and gulf coast ports for 30 days.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. John W. Heselton, R., Mass., still is subject to action by the House Rules committee before it can reach the floor.

It would permit sufficient petroleum exports to meet the needs of U. S. armed forces abroad. It also bars a cut in exports to Canada below the reduced quotas already set by the Commerce department.

Graduates Are To Take Tests

The pre-engineering inventory tests for high school graduates who intend to study engineering in college will be given at Texas Tech on three separate dates during the spring and summer of 1948, O. V. Adams, dean of the engineering division announced Tuesday.

The first date set for the nationwide tests will be Saturday They will be given again on April 24 and the third time on July 10. Due to the fact that registration for the tests must be submitted at least three weeks prior to the day they are administered, no more applications will be received for the March 6 date, Dean Adams stated.

Must Complete Tests

The tests, sponsored by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development and the American Society for Engineering Education, are for the purpose of measuring the potentiality for the study of engineering of the prospective student.

They were devised by the Educational Testing Service in cooperation with approximately 50 colleges of engineering schools throughout the United States and are given in cooperation with the Carnegie Foundation. Dr. K. K. Vaughn, formerly with the American Council on Education, is director of the project with headquarters in New York City.

The inventory is administered freshman engineering students in almost all engineering colleges in the nation. They are all-day tests and their completion will be required before a student may register for engineering at Texas Tech, Adams said. The high school graduate may take the tests at any one of the testing points and his records will be transferred to the college which he hopes to attend. No individual inventories will be administered, Dean Adams stated.

Six Are Hurt As Two Cars Are Wrecked

DALLAS, March 3 (U.P.) — Six young persons were injured—three of them critically—shortly before midnight in a two-car collision on U. S. Highway 80, three miles east of Truman, Dallas county.

They were brought to a Dallas hospital early today, and one of them was released after treatment.

Injured were Granville Matthews, 17, and James M. Johansen, 16, both of Kaufman; Jimmy Carnes, 14, Terrell; Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Hicks, 19 and 18, Grand Prairie; and Ellis C. Walters, 18, Arlington.

Suffers Shock, Fracture

Hospital attendants said Matthews was the most critically injured. He sunffered a skull fracture. Also in critical condition were Johansen and Karnes. They, as well as all others except Mrs. Hicks, suffered broken legs and arms.

Mrs. Hicks was treated for scalp laceration and released.

Sheriff's deputies said the cars crashed head-on. They gave no cause for the accident, other than to say that both automobiles apparently had been traveling at a high rate of speed.

Dallas Wins Round In Midway Battle

FORT WORTH, March 3. (AP)—The battle of Midway is over—temporarily—and Dallas won.

An announcement by CAA Regional Administrator L. C. Elliott said Love Field (Dallas) and Fort Worth International airport (Midway) have been placed on equal footing.

Under the plan announced by Elliott, the Fort Worth field was reduced from class 6 to class 5 and Love Field jumped from class 4 to class 5.

The CAA also changed its mind about letting the contemplated Midway field serve both cities.

Elliott said the new plan does not propose removal of any airline schedules from Love Field.

Big Boom Seen In Campaign Buttons

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—The campaign button industry expects its biggest boom this election year.

There are so many would-be presidents, manufacturers said today, that they expect ot sell a record 40,000,000 to 60,000,000 lapel pins by the time the campaign is in full swing.

So far, the only big order has come from Henry A. Wallace backers who arranged for 300,000 pins. A few Thomas E. Dewey buttons are in circulation, but the makers say they are leftovers from 1944.

Texas To Face Suit In Tidelands Fight

Attorney General Clark Admits The Lone Star State May Have A Special Defense

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Texas may have some special defense, but Attorney General Tom Clark said the government plans to file suit for title to its tidelands.

Clark revealed the government's plans to file suit "in the near future" against several states yesterday.

Texas and Louisiana were mentioned specifically and action may be taken against "two or three other Gulf states."

Clark said Texas might have some special defense because of the terms on which it came into the union.

California Loses Case

A Supreme court decision on the government's suit against California ruled that submerged coastal lands "belong to the United States."

The Texas-born attorney general appeared before a joint House-Senate judiciary committee and opened administrative opposition to legislation which he said would donate to the states the rights of the federal government in the submerged lands along the coasts.

"It is my duty," Clark said, "no matter how personally uncomfortable, to file suit against other states which may be affected by the decision in the California case. We have been at work on these problems, and we expect to file other suits in the near future."

"It is unthinkable," he asserted, "that the Congress of the United States will give away, without any consideration, without any real knowledge of the size of the gift, valuable rights in oil and perhaps other essential minerals, necessary to the defense of the nation and to the welfare of all the people of the country."

Price Daniel Heard

Texas' Attorney General Price Daniel preceded Clark in testimony before the committee.

Daniel detailed Texas' right to special claim to its tidelands, dating from the agreement that allowed it retain public domain when it came into the union in 1345.

Clark said the tidelands issue was not "states rights." He said matter is entirely foreign to the problem.

Governor Beauford Jester of Texas attended the hearing which will be continued today.

Senator McCarran (D-Nev) asserted today that the federal government claimed the off-shore submerged lands within state boundaries only to get oil.

"If oil had not existed off the California coast, the federal government never would have brought suit against that state to claim ownership of the off-shore lands," the Senator said.

Suggestion Is Denied

Under questioning, Clark denied McCarran's suggestion that oil motivated the attorney general's part in the California suit.

Clark said he inherited the case when he took office, that he had "no motive of power, no motive of oil."

When McCarran repeated, shaking his finger at Clark, that "what you want now is the oil," theattorney general replied that his purpose is to see that the Supreme court's decision in the California case is carried out.

Clark said he "definitely" believes that ownership of the lands is included in the court's ruling that "paramount rights" in the coastal belt belong to the federal government.

Clark conceded to Rep. Gossett (D-Tex) and other members of the subcommittee that "Texas has a special defense," but he said that can be presented to "the Supreme court or other courts of the country."

Retained Public Lands

The special claim of Texas to submerged coastal lands stems from its former status as an independent republic with boundaries 10.5 miles out into the Gulf, and the fact that Texas retained all its public lands upon admission to the union.

Clark reiterated that present federal officials have no intention to claim inland submerged lands or bays, harbors, piers and docks.

Clark urged passage of the administration bill to provide for federal leasing of the off-shore oil lands. He said he is convinced that California, for example, will get more revenue from federal operation under the proposal than under present state administration of the oil lands.

Explaining, he said California receives only one-eighth royalty, with seven-eighths being retained by the oil operator. If the operator has recovered his original investment plus a reasonable profit, Clark suggested that his share might be reduced to two-eighths, with the remainder going to the federal government to be apportioned back to the states for reclamation, schools, roads and other functions.

The administration bill proposes to grant 37 1-2 percent of the revenue from offshore oil to the states, and place 52 1-2 per cent in the reclamation fund for the benefit of the 17 western reclamation states.

Attorney General Fred Hauser of California later issued a statement saying Clark's contention was "ridiculous" and that "the attorney general knows better."

Russia Asks Consultations By Big Five On Palestine Issues

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 3 (U.P.)—Russia pressed the United Nations security council today to order high-speed Big Five consultations on the growing trouble in Palestine.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko, accepting in principle if not in form a major plank in the new American formula for handling the Palestine case, has asked the council to entrust the problem to the great powers for 10 to 15 days of "direct negotiations."

Reaction Is Expected

Official American reaction to the suggestion was likely to come soon after the council met this afternoon (about 3 p. m. EST) for a resumption of the Palestine debate.

Great Britain, already opposed to the original American proposal for a special Big Five "committee" to discuss Palestine violence, gave equally cold treatment to the Soviet suggestion.

Gromyko envisaged straight—and presumably private—talks among Big Five delegates here in preference to a committee which, he argued, would only "complicate and delay attempts to ease tension and make possible the partitioning of Palestine.

Consultations Possible

The Soviet suggestion raised the prospect of some form of early consultations, however, despite British coldness and the fact that Gromyko's suggestion was wrapped up in some sharp criticism of other American proposals in the Palestine case.

While throwing his support to the principle of Big Five combinations and to another major feature of the American formula, Gromyko dismissed as "artificial" and unacceptable the American proposal for a new attempt at bringing Arabs, Jews and the British together in conciliation talks.

New Look Contrasts With Old As Wacs And Waves Vie For Funds In Congress

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 3. — Good old 313-A in the House office building was half full of new look.

The other half of the chandeliered, red-carpeted armed service committee room was populated by old-lookers.

The two looks glared at one another.

It was strictly a military audience, mostly Waves and Wacs. Both of them want to become a permanent part of the armed forces, and the committee was considering a bill to make them just that.

Contrast In Looks

There sat Capt. Joy Hancock, head of the Waves, wearing that fine new look. Looking down a turned-up nose at her from across the room was Col. Mary A. Hallaren, pert little boss-gal of the Wacs, who can get as tough as any army sergeant. She was wearing the old look, and not looking any too happy about it in present company.

The question of uniforms and how much they cost popped up while Capt. Hancock was on the stand. She explained that, sure, you can dress a man sailor from the shorts out for around $125. But it costs $200 at least to doll up the lady sailor.

"Maybe," she observed, "there are certain things about a woman's sailor get-up that the committee doesn't know about."

They Are Interested

The committee was interested, Indeed! And the red-haired committee reporter cocked a flushed ear and took notes like mad.

Capt. Hancock didn't mention the new look of the Waves. She didn't have to. It was obvious as she sat there with her skirt covering her shapely legs. But she did say something about a sailor's undershirt costing 35 cents, compared to about $3.95 for a nice slip for a woman.

And so on, including girdles, which few sailors wear and which most Waves do.

After the committee locked itself up in executive session to talk the matter over, a nosey reporter cornered Capt. Hancock, the Wave, in the hall. Close up, the captain was something to look at in her pressed blue suit and with a black tie tucked under the ends of her starched shirt. And high-heeled shoes.

"How about the new look, lady?"

Capt. Hancock put her shell-rimmed specks in her purse, looking prettier even, and said the lady part of the Navy just plain had vision. Smarter than the Wacs in that respect, although the captain wasn't that catty about it.

When the Waves ordered their uniforms they had a four-inch hem turned under on the skirt. When styles changed, easing the skirt toward the ankle didn't cost Uncle Sam or the taxpayer a dime. The girls did the job themselves, with a razor blaze, a needle and thread.

Other Group Different

But the poor Wacs couldn't do that. Their uniforms came from the tailors with only about half an inch of hem.

The Waves now are fixed for any emergency. Not only do they have more than enough uniforms to go around, but they got a lot of spares from Spars, or girl coast guards, when that unit was abandoned. Also plenty of hem there.

And if the styles change again, the Waves are ready for a challenge.

"A woman can run a hem back up on her lunch hour," the captain said.

Motorcycle Breaks Loose, Hits Store

DALLAS, March 3. (U.P.)—A motorcycle yesterday bit the hand that feeds it, so to speak.

Adolphus Tanner, a delivery boy, climbed off the vehicle in front of the drug store for which he delivers. He went to the rear of the machine to adjust packages. The idling motorcycle suddenly roared, jumped the curb and smashed into the store front.

It shattered a plate glass window and tore off the door frame before jamming in the door. The motorcycle was not damaged.

"We thought an atomic bomb had landed," said the store owner, B. B. Brown, who estimated damage at $150.

Oil Production Hits New High

HOUSTON, March 3. (AP)—More oil is now being produced and refined in the Southwest than during the peak of World war II.

Subcommittees of the district 3 regional advisory committee of the National Petroleum council reported this development yesterday.

Production is up 15 per cent with more than 3,491,000 barrels produced daily in the six-state area. This accounts for about 60 per cent of the total oil produced in the United States.

Heating Oils Up Sharply

Chairman John W. Newton, Beaumont, said southwestern producers have "gone to extraordinary lengths" to meet heavy winter demands. Output of heating oils has been increased sharply, he said

Region three includes Texas, Louisiana, Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi and New Mexico

Oil delivered to refineries amounts to 2,100,000 daily, about 15 per cent more than the wartime peak, Joe Hyer, Shreveport, La., said. Kerosene and distillate fuel oils have increased in recent weeks, he said.

Pipelines Short In Area

The West Texas-New Mexico area is the only one without adequate pipe line service, T. E. Swigart, Houston, said. In this area, about 112,000 barrels daily are being transported by tank car.

"New pipe line capacity of about 300,000 barrels a day from West Texas is now under construction," Maston Dixon, Corpus Christi, head of a crude oil committee, reported. "But because of delays in receiving steel all of these lines will not be completed this year."

Most Typical Cowboy In Panhandle Named

AMARILLO, March 3. (AP)—Jim (Red) Nash, 11, was judged the most typical junior cowboy of the Texas Panhandle.

Under normal conditions, eight to 12 inches of snow equals about one inch of water.

Capital Cabbies File Libel Suit On Post

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—Sixty Washington cab drivers are mad $300,000 worth at another taxi jockey and the Saturday Evening Post.

They filed a libel suit for that amount today against the magazine and James J. Brennan, capital hacker who wrote a Post article entitled "Never Give a Passenger a Break."

MINORITY groups, tightly organized in some instances and nearly always louder than their numerical size would indicate, are playing more and more of a role in American politics.

We in West Texas do not realize it, because the minorities here are neither large, vocal, nor well disciplined through organizational setups. But in many parts of the country, regimented minorities, based largely on race, religion or former nationalist connections far in excess of their number.

These groups, or blocs, frequently are used by their leaders, who are able to trade their influence with voting groups for fat jobs and special favors. They frequently are whipped to an almost frenzy by newspaper columnists, radio commentators and others, who use the blocs to attract attention to themselves and their wares.

* * *

Some of these people are convinced by their leaders and those who man their sounding boards that members of the majority group in the U. S. sit up nights trying to figure out ways and means of discriminating against them.

That the allegation and unfounded belief are silly, no one knows better than members of the majority group.

If the people in the latter group wanted merely to half organize, and regiment themselves, they could — the way politics works — box out any and all minority blocs in the nation.

AS the late Alfred E. Smith used to say, "Let's take a look at the reck-kord." Here is an approximate capitulation of racial groups in the U. S. as of today.

The ancestors of:

80,000,000	came from	Great Britain
15,000,000	"	Germany
13,000,000	"	Africa
10,000,000	"	Ireland
9,000,000	"	Slavic lands
5,000,000	"	Italy
4,000,000	"	Scandinavia
4,000,000	"	France
2,500,000	"	Mexico
1,000,000	"	Greece
1,000,000	"	Lithuania
127,000	"	Japan
97,000	"	China
45,000	"	Philippines

The truth is, the ancestors of all of us came from somewhere else at some time or another — even including the ancestors of the 360,000 full-blooded Indians who are among us today.

Already, even 'way down here, we've heard this year about efforts of opposing politicians to "sew up" the Jewish vote and the negro vote. The jockeying which has gone on about the Palestinian situation and the Truman "Civil rights program" hullabaloo have spotlighted the politics in these two regards.

But what we'll hear little of is the battle for the Polish vote in such places as Chicago and Detroit, where it often is the balance of power; about the Slavic vote in the Pittsburgh area; about the Scandanavian vote in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

We know, of course, about the shenanigans always worked in the Texas Valley with the Mexican vote, and in New Mexico, too. In the El Paso area, for the first time in recent years, the people of Latin origin today are considering a political lineup based solely on racial origin.

THIS sort of thing should not be. Those who mistakenly think it should need go no farther for refutation of their argument than a contemplation of what would happen if the 60,000,000 Americans who stem from the themselves for their own selfish gain.

On every hand these days we hear pleas and/or demands that Americans should refrain from discrimination based on racial origin and creed. The idea is sound. But while we are at it let us also argue against members of minority groups permitting themselves to become inflamed against the majority by following the old line of "they don't want you to get your just due."

That's plain foo. The fact that the majority isn't organized into a selfish bloc proves it.

SOMETHING to Watch: Although Michigan Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg has loudly proclaimed that he's not interested in the 1948 GOP Presidential nomination, don't be surprised if the former Grand Rapids editor comes up with the prize. He's a strong possibility if Dewey-Taft forces smash head-on at the Republican convention, especially since splits inside the Democratic party, plus the Wallace radical ticket, have badly hurt Truman & Co.

If conditions, come convention time, continue to indicate that "any Republican can win," Dewey's chances for the nomination will be poor. But "the little man atop the wedding cake" may still have plenty of strength inside the party to block Taft.

Then you'll be hearing about Vandenberg, Joe Martin, Eisenhower and Stassen, in that order —although Stassen could be out of the picture by then, victim of the Old Guard.

U.S. Army Sends Secret Mission To Saudi Arabia

WASHINGTON — An ultra hush-hush military mission is leaving for Saudi Arabia. Just what this group of about 200 American officers and technical sergeants will do in Arabia is supposed to be a strict secret, but real fact is they are to train an Arab air force and re-equip abandoned U. S. Air fields.

PEARSON

Why this secret mission is leaving at this time is not known, but behind their trip is an agreement with King Ibn Saud by which he gives a pipeline concession to the Arabian-American Oil company.

Members of the military mission were selected after elaborate screening tests, then given instruction in the Arabic language, espionage and demolition work. The group will leave from Washington, New York and Miami, all wearing civilian clothes. In order not to attract attention, they will proceed in small details and by round-about routes.

For instance, one detail will go to Paris, then Germany, then Greece, and finally to the Arabian-Iranian border.

The Lesson Benes Learned

Shortly after World war I when Czechoslovakia was a thriving young republic and I was a struggling young newspaperman, I interviewed Eduard Benes, the man who now sits almost alone in Prague's presidential palace.

Prague was a glamorous place in those days and Czechoslovakia was considered the bright star of Europe. It was one of the new republics born of the war of which great things were expected.

Benes and Thomas Masaryk, exiles in the United States from Austro-Hungarian rule, had sat down in Pittsburgh with copies of Woodrow Wilson's speeches and on the basis of those speeches they had written the Magna Charta of their new country. When they took it to Wilson, naturally he gave his enthusiastic blessing.

But Benes and Masaryk meant what they said. And during those first years after World war I, their vigorous republic lived up to their hopes and dreams. Masaryk is dead now and his son, the present foreign minister of Czechoslovakia, is a virtual prisoner in Prague.

Benes now is old, but when I saw him in Prague twenty-five years ago, he was young and full of hope. His hope was for a United States of Europe —an idea which, if then carried out, might have prevented World war II and the backwash of Communism that followed.

But what I remember most about that talk with Benes was his reference to Russia. His country, he said, was next door to Russia and had to work with Russia. They were cooperating well together.

In the years that followed, Benes continued to try to work with Russia. But as he sits almost alone in his presidential palace, he must now realize how impossible that is.

For cooperation has to be a two-way street. And the biggest thing Henry Wallace and the other well-meaning people around him have to learn is that working with Russia leads down a one-way, noncooperative street sure to end in a blind-alley dogfight.

TRAGIC unpublicized fact about the President's civil rights message is that it's creating just what it was aimed to prevent—a new reign of terror against negroes in some parts of the South.

Especially in Mississippi, resentment against Truman has been taken out against negroes. And while the visit of southern governors to Washington has made headlines, the race incidents haven't. However, here is what has happened in Mississippi.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 21—J. V. Williams, a young negro veteran, was arrested in a negro cafe on a charge of drunkenness. Pushed out into the street by the arresting officer, the officer shot him in the hip on the pretext that Williams was trying to escape. After Williams was lying in the street, the arresting officer and several others beat him brutally. His pleas for mercy attracted a large crowd which blocked all traffic. A police car arrived, Williams was thrown in and driven off.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 13 — Lerow McGowan, a one-arm negro veteran, started to run when called by a police officer for drunkenness. Overtaken, he was beaten by several uniformed policemen until unconscious and lay for some time in a pool of blood at the corner of Amite and North Farish streets.

Kosciusko, Miss., Feb. 2 — George Thomas, a young negro, was shot to death by a policeman who reported that he arrested him for attempting to break into a white's home. The officer said that en route to the jail, Thomas tried to overpower him, and he shot him. The autopsy showed that Thomas was shot three times, once through the arm, once through the lower body and once through the heart.

Incident No. 2 at Kosciusko occurred on the same day, when Lucey Futch, a young negro veteran driving a truck for a Jackson wholesale firm, was reported the victim of a mob. On hearing this report, Futch's mother and wife went from Jackson to Kosciusko to find him, but were given the run-around by police. Four days later he escaped and was able to return home, bearing evidence of a brutal beating.

FBI Promotion

The Senate hearings on Edward Tamm, No. 3 G-man, now elevated to a judgeship, illustrates the difficulty J. Edgar Hoover has had in holding good men in the FBI.

After spending years training good men, they frequently go on to more lucrative private business. Tamm's promotion to a judgeship was an effort to show that reward comes to those who remain faithful to government service.

Trained as a lawyer, Tamm rose to one of the highest spots in the FBI. Not only as a reward but also for the psychological effect on other FBI men, Attorney General Tom Clark recommended Tamm's appointment as judge in the District of Columbia.

Now some senators protest.

"You Want The Police? I'm The Police"

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Fog Of Procedure Is Found In U.S. Palestine Policies

WASHINGTON—"The fog comes on little cat feet"—Carl Sandburg. That is the poet's description of a foggy night in Chicago. But it also seems to me to describe the way in which United States policy on Palestine is being laid down before the United Nations.

CHILDS

In all the cautious words uttered by Delegate Warren R. Austin before the security council at Lake Success, it is difficult to find the shape of anything positive. The fog of procedure, of rules and regulations settles down. The mist of words is like a curtain between the United Nations and the terrible reality of Palestine.

It is not surprising that, in this fog, deep suspicions should persist. The fear is that the stage has been set for repudiation, either by the security council or by the general assembly, of the Palestine partition plan.

* * *

Look For Way Out

That could be done, lawfully and correctly, by a majority vote, with the United States uttering a formal protest. This would be the kind of formula so welcome to U. S. military and State department experts who have been looking for a way out of partition.

True, as Delegate Austin said, the United States cannot act unilaterally. "If the security council should decide that it is necessary to use armed force to maintain international peace in connection with Palestine," he said, "The United States would be ready to consult under the charter with a view to such action as may be necessary to maintain international peace. Such consultation should be required in view of the fact that agreement has not yet been reached making armed force available to the security council under the terms of article 43 of the charter."

In that last, the other—the Russian—horn of the dilemma is held up to view. Because of the persistent obstructionism of the Soviet union through months and months of delay, it has been impossible to agree on a United Nations force.

So after these lengthy "consultation" the security council might find that no force existed to enforce peace in Palestine and that therefore partition was impossible. At least part of the blame could be put onto Russia.

But since the integrity of the UN would be all but destroyed by this legalized retreat before the defiant Arabs, there would be more than enough blame to go around. Whether the UN could survive at all would be the question.

Perhaps these suspicions do an injustice to Delegate Austin's necessarily formal, procedural language. Yet behind that formal language, one can hear echoes of the arguments of those who say that the dictates of real-politik make it impossible for the USA to go through with partition.

* * *

Oil Said Essential

They argue that the oil of the Middle East is essential to the needs of western Europe moving toward revival under the Marshall plan. Far more important, they say it is vital to keep a strategic foothold in that part of the world.

But even in the harsh light of real-politik, this view seems to have serious flaws. Once the decision was made for partition, it is hard to believe that the favor of the Arabs could be won by retreat from that position. They have their own realism and they would take this as a sign of weakness rather than strength.

If the main object is to keep the Russians out of Palestine then retreat from partition and abandonment of the Jewish state would seem to be the surest way to bring them in. With fine moral indignation the Soviets could say that they were going to the aid of a defenseless people.

* * *

AT the same time, Russia's own predominantly Moslem republics make the kind of overtures to the Arabs that have recently been reported. That is real-politik indeed, and we should have learned that we could not beat a dictatorship at that game.

What may be hoped for from Delegate Austin's statement of American policy is quick action. The most damaging thing of all is the disastrous drift of recent weeks.

Trans-Jordan became an independent country in 1946 when England gave up its mandate.

Influence is exerted by every human being from the hour of birth to that of death.—Chapin.

THE most important rule for the person who wants to make and keep friends is this: "You can't be with friends, and do things for them, only when it is convenient for you."

MILLETT

The woman who always makes friends, but never keeps the same friends for long, is the woman who says, "I wanted so much to have Martha out to dinner while her mother was visiting her, but I was so busy with housecleaning."

She is also, of course, the woman who says, "Now don't expect me to write. I simply loathe writing letters."

When her friends are in trouble, she is terribly sorry and she wishes there were something she could do. But she doesn't know quite what to do. She keeps putting it off until it is too late. Or she thinks she has done all that she can when she says, "If there is anything I can do, let me know."

* * *

MAKES AN EFFORT

SUCH a woman never realizes that the person who makes and keeps friends through the years is the person who is willing to make the effort to do things, whether it is convenient or not, willing to find time somehow for reaching out a helping hand at the very moment when it is needed.

The woman who makes an effort to be with and do things for those she likes, at the right time from their point of view, rather than always at the times that are most convenient for her, is sure to keep her friends.

DIPPY — By John Cross

Today's Journal Editorial

THERE'S A LIMIT SOMEWHERE

The rank and file of middle class Americans not affiliated with organized labor are likely to be in sympathy with the General Electric Co.'s declared intent to refuse pay increases demanded by its union workers.

This attitude will not reflect bias in favor of industry, nor prejudice against labor, insofar as the average individual is concerned. It simply will reflect the conviction, evident from many tests of public opinion, that the spiral of rising costs must be stopped somewhere. This may be as good a place as any to try to start the braking process.

People know from many experiences that an increase in wages in any industry results almost instantly in a hike in the cost of the products of that industry. It means an increase in the cost of living for everyone. And the rising spiral of general costs almost invariably starts with increases in the wages of labor.

Therefore, many people will hope General Electric will succeed in holding the line and thus set an example which, on a much broadened scale, could halt inflation and might pave the way toward eventual lowering of living costs for everyone. There can be no real hope of checking or reversing the spiral if labor costs continue to rise.

To Avoid Colds, Be Lion Tamer

By ROBERT JOHNSON
NEA Special Correspondent

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Mar. 3.—If you want to avoid having colds, get a job as a lion tamer. That is, if you don't think the cure is worse than the cold.

Capt. Dick Clemens, veteran lion tamer, says men who work with lions never get colds.

"I haven't had one in 20 years," he says, "and all the other lion men I know are the same way."

He doesn't know how to explain it—it's just a fact.

It's the same way with wounds healing, he says. "A lion gets all torn up today and he's healed tomorrow. I'm the same way. I got a bad tear not long ago, but it was well in a few days. You never get any infection. A scratch is more dangerous than a bite, because the lion may have gotten something on his claws walking about."

Clemens says he has been bitten so many times he couldn't begin to remember them. He held out his hands and showed the tips of his fingers, bitten away. But only once has a bite festered. And he blames that on the fact that a doctor sewed up the wounds too tightly.

"We never sew up a lion wound," he says.

His worst mishap was in Minneapolis, about four years ago.

"You can't call it an accident, though. Any damn fool can get hurt in a lion cage but there aren't any accidents. If you get hurt, it's your own fault.

"I had a new lion, Nero, that I just got from a zoo. It makes all the difference in the world in what order they come into the arena out of the chute.

"I was getting a lot of applause and was bowing to the audience. I was thinking, 'Boy, am I ever going over here,' and then I turned around and saw Nero coming toward me. It should have been Tyrone, my boss lion. Every lion act has a boss lion. I shouted, 'Wrong lion,' but my helper must have thought I yelled, 'Come on, lion,' because he opened the chute door and let another one in. I'd been paying that man good money for a couple of years, too.

"Nero was coming at me and as I backed away I fell over a prop. I threw my leg up to protect myself. They always grab for the stomach. The lion grabbed my leg. He bit it all the way through twice and dragged me around the arena, with the shifters firing blanks at him all the time. He opened his mouth to get another bite and I got away. My wife held him off with blanks while I got out the door.'

Clemens says he lost all sensation while the lion was mauling him. When he got out of the arena his leg gave way beneath him—broken. He was white with rage, sweat popping out on him.

He went back in the cage, broken leg and all, and finished his act. The audience thought it was part of the show. Then he went over to the handler who let the wrong lion in and hit him so hard he broke all the knuckles on his right hand.

Fear is always with him, he says. "Even today I worry every time. Once a trainer gets where he has no fear, no sensation, while working lions, hes gone."

His worst moment came a couple of years ago in his own training barn at Peoria, Ill. He was training some new animals and was working two tigers and 13 lions at once.

"They were working just swell," he says. "Tyrone, my boss lion, was sweet on one of the lionesses, Betty. The new lions were on pedestals next to Betty, and Tyrone didn't like it. One of the tigers flicked his tail and hit Tyrone across the nose. Tyrone was really jealous of those new lions, but he turned around made a pass at the tiger and the tiger came back at him."

Seconds later, the barn was a snarling melee. Clemens himself had only a buggy whip. He seized a pick handle and a hoe lying on the barn floor and beat with all his might.

When it was over two lions were killed outright and another had to be shot.

When Clemens goes into the cage, his only weapon is his psychological control over his beasts. That little whip? You can't hurt lions with it. The crack of it just changes their mind, gets them on a new train of thought. The gun with its blanks? The noise doesn't bother them—it's the acrid fumes from the discharged powder. They don't like it, but it wouldn't stop one if he wanted to keep coming. The stick? That's to distract them. They'll slap at the closest thing to them. While they're slapping at the stick, he has a chance to move away.

"Lions," he says, "are just like people. There are all kinds, some smart, some dopes."

Capt. Dick Clemens and Tyrone: "There's no trouble getting your head in. Trouble is getting it out."

law marriage within the state of Alabama."

The huge governor gained his moniker of "Kissing Jim" during his campaign prior to the May, 1946 Democratic primary. He is said to have boasted that he kissed "more than 50,000 Alabama women" during his stumping tours.

The suit alleged that Folsom wished to withhold the fact of his marital relationship and the birth of the baby from "general or press publicity" until after the May balloting.

Davis To Manage Odessa Ball Club

ODESSA, March 3. (U.P.)—William H. (Bill) Davis, who piloted the Miami, Okla., team to the K-O-M league championship last year, today was named manager of the Odessa Oilers of the Longhorn league.

Acquisition of the 31-year-old pitcher-manager was announced by A. J. Consey, business manager of the Oilers.

Davis, who broke into organized baseball in 1938 with Norfolk, Neb., of the old Western league, won the only eight games he pitched last season at Miami. He was out of baseball in 1946 except for a brief span with Beaumont of the Texas league where he won two and lost one. At Kansas City in 1944 and 1945 he won 31 games while losing 16.

It is 1,160 miles from Duluth across the Great Lakes to Ontario's outlet in the St. Lawrence.

Rice Quits Job As Regional VA Head

DALLAS, March 3 (U.P.)—Robert C. Rice today tendered his resignation as manager of the Dallas regional office of the Veterans administration, effective March 26.

Rice informed VA branch 10's Deputy Administrator Thomas G. Lanphier that he was resigning to accept an offer from private business.

A veteran of both world wars, Rice had been manager of the 51-county region since Jan. 12, 1947, when he succeeded Tom R. Rayburn.

He entered VA service in Washington in 1945.

Navy Pays $24.50 For Civilian Equivalent Of $61.67 On Menu Of Station Bluejackets

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 3 (U.P.)—It would cost the average housewife $61.67 a week to feed a family of five on the same menu served blue-jackets of the United States naval air station here, a United Press survey showed today.

The navy could do it for $24.50. It spends less than 70 cents per man per day.

Lt. Comdr. B. A. Fairchild, commissary officer at the air station, said the difference is that most housewives are unsystematic and wasteful.

"Most of them throw away entirely too much food," Fairchild said. "How can they expect to operate an economical kitchen when they spend a large part of their time throwing good food into the garbage?

"We have worked the preparation of food down to a system. Absolutely nothing goes to waste. If we serve corn at noon, what's left is either served as an extra dish at night or goes into the soup the next day. We even saw large beef bones to be used to make soup stock."

Improvement Noted In Crop Condition

AUSTIN, March 3. (AP)—Wheat and other small grains in Texas made "very good" progress during the week ended March 1, the United States Department of Agriculture said today.

"Improvement was shown in all major producing areas," the official report of the Bureau of Agriculture Economics said.

"Moisture was sufficient for the present needs over most of the small grain areas, although surface and subsoil moisture was still deficient in many western and southern high plains counties.

"Condition and progress of the oats crop was good."

Warmer weather and additional moisture in many areas were cited as the chief reason for the improvement. All growing crops moved forward under these conditions. Field work also made progress.

Heaviest rains were reported in the area from Fort Worth to Wichita Falls. Misty or rainy weather failed to delay movement of vegetables from South Texas, but transplanting of onions in North Texas was delayed.

Pasture conditions were improving in East Texas, but more rain is still the cry from Edward Plateau, trans-Pecos and southern high plains counties.

Communist Fifth Column Steps Up Red Propaganda In Mukden

By CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH
Special Correspondent

SHANGHAI, March 3—A Communist fifth column aiming at the "psychological capture" of Mukden is at work there, according to Chinese intelligence reports.

As the Communist troops battle their way closer to the city three publicity agencies—two trained in Yenan (former capital of Communist China) and one organized in Mukden, have stepped up propaganda warfare among students and workers.

Seek To Tear Down Morale

The aim is to disorganize Nationalist civilian morale—or what's left of it—in the present grave situation where Mukden is surrounded by Communist troops and already feeling the pinch of a food shortage.

Thus far it has been a quiet boring from within, whispering campaigns, and circulation of seditious pamphlets.

The people in Red Manchuria are targets of a campaign which ranges from Communist-angled textbooks to singing by scantily dressed girl students who are used to draw audiences to political speeches.

The Reds are also making propaganda movies through their own Northeast Motion Picture Co.

China's 90 per cent illiteracy is a high hurdle for any propaganda agency, so the Reds have organized night schools for working children, and newspaper-reading clubs for their elders.

Blackboard Newspaper

Another innovation is the so-called "blackboard newspaper" in which news—or the red equivalent of news—is chalked up in simple characters.

The Communists have in Harbin such periodicals as "the Knowledge," "The Democratic Northeast," "Northeastern Culture," "Northeast Pictorial" and "Introduction to the USSR."

These newspapers all follow an undeviating party line. Many stories glorify "war heroes" among the rank and file or "labor heroes" conferring such titles as "king of explosives" or "king of surprise attacks." Others ring with praise of Russia or roar against landowners, capitalists, or the kuomintang.'

Farmers Organized

In villages the Reds have organized "farmers' vanguards" to keep order. In cities there are a host of organizations all aimed at indoctrination and control of civilians.

There are children's associations, women's auxiliary labor and farmers' societies, and so on. One intriguing organization is the "Poor People's Ass'n.", which is charged with investigation of living standards and property holdings and preparation of cases for reference to the "people's courts."

Those unfortunate enough to be accused in the "people's courts" are dubbed "reactionary diehards" or "fascist offspring" and are put through an ordeal faintly resembling a public trial before they are jailed or put to death.

City Youths Organized

City youths are organized into "vigilant corps" with a leader in every street to help with such things as conscription, census taking, and tax collections. Communists usually hold positions of control in these and other civilian organizations.

Altogether it is a pretty elaborate setup for an outfit which some Americans used to call "only an agrarian reform movement."

CHILDREN OF EDUCATION

Married couples who are college graduates have an average of one and three-quarters children. Couples who did not reach the seventh grade have an average of approximately four children.

HOT COSTUME—This weirdly costumed drum-major led a band of "Sunny Boys" during annual Shrove Tuesday parade in Basle, Switzerland. Theme of the gay affair was "Dr. Sunstroke."

Female asparagus plants produce larger shoots than male plants.

Television Station Sought In Lubbock

Lubbock was among three Texas cities for which applications were filed in Washington Tuesday for commercial television stations, according to an Associated Press story to the Morning Avalanche.

The three applications, filed with the Federal Communications commission, were filed by C. C. Woodson. Stations were sought for Amarillo, Austin and Lubbock. In each case, Woodson was given as the person filing the application.

It was understood that Woodson is associated with a group of businessmen who have been granted a conditional permit for a standard broadcast station in Lubbock. Woodson has interest in radio stations at Brownwood, Austin and Waco, it was reported.

CAN BE FOOLED

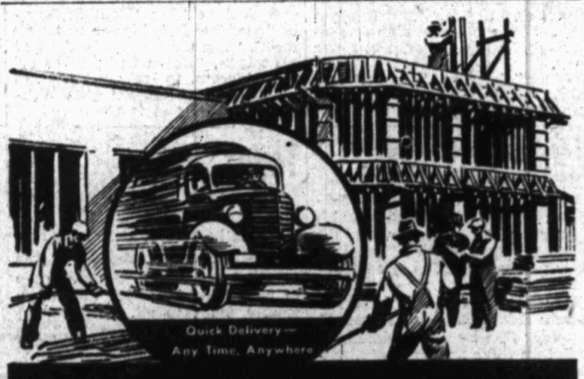

The ptarmigan, a grouse of the tundra country, annually dons a snow white coat when winter comes. If placed in a laboratory, where the length of the day can be shortened artifically, the bird will turn white out of season.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)
