WILY REBEL CHIEF ESCAPES TRAP

Slain Man's Widow May Be First To Testify In Hoobler Case

NINE JURORS SELECTED IN MURDER TRIAL

Attorneys Exhaust Special Venire in Day of Rigid Questioning

SELF DEFENSE PLEA

Testimony Starts Today In Death of Wealthy Okla. Farmer

District Attorney Sam B. Spence said late Monday that the widow of Arthur Pendergraft, wealthy Cotton county, Oklahoma, farmer slain near here Jan. 27, probably would be among the first state witnesses called to the stand in the trial of D. J. Hoobler, Pendergraft's former employe, who is charged with the alleged murder.

The first witnesses, including Mrs. Pendergraft, will be questioned with the end in view of establishing the alleged "disappearance" of Pendergraft from his Cotton county home on the day of the supposed murder, Mr. Spence said. It will be the state's aim, it was said, to show that Pendergraft left with Hoobler, supposedly for East Texas.

The state, which from all indications will ask the death penalty, will also attempt to show that the alleged slaying was "premeditated," Mr. Spence said.

Use Second Jury Panel

Plans for the questioning of the initial witnesses were made late Monday after it was apparently certain that the jury in the case would be completed by early Tuesday. Nine jurors were selected Monday after 69 members of a special venire of 150 had been exhausted, and selection will proceed Tuesday morning from the regular jury panel which had already been summoned.

Decision to make use of the regular panel was made over the objection of the state, which urged that the sheriff be authorized to bring in talesmen to supply the need. Judge P. A. Martin overruled the objection.

The nine men selected after an entire day of detailed questioning are:

T. E. Bettis, about 50, truck farmer, living on route 1, on the Thornberry road; W. J. Cain, 67, truck farmer of rural route 6; I. V. Martin, 45, a barber, living in Wichita Falls; J. W. Parker, 39, fireman for the Fort Worth and Denver; E. S. Coates, 34, Electra; J. W. Kimbelin, 50, Iowa Park, oil worker; Al Arnwine, 40, Electra, employe of the Texas company; Clarence Roberts, 32, of near Electra, employe of the Ryan Oil company; D. B. Parker, 30, with the Ray Sheet Metal Works in Wichita Falls.

Sam Spence, district attorney, first asked each prospective juror whether or not he held conscientious objections to the death pen-

Body of Stock Show Exhibitor Found in Ruins of $150,000 Fire

Firemen Search Remains of Buildings Leveled During Height of Southwestern Exposition

FORT WORTH, March 11. (AP)—At least one person was killed, several were injured and property loss estimated at $150,000 entailed when fire destroyed buildings housing the poultry, merchants and agricultural exhibits at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show here today. The fire was brought under control after it threatened to add to its toll the automobile building and coliseum.

Firemen late today were searching the ruins for other bodies, as smoke was so dense immediately after the fire gained headway that it is possible others were caught in the blazing structures.

The body was identified late today as that of W. R. James of Fort Worth, an exhibitor at the show. Of those injured, three, G. E. Wilson, Fred Wilson and C. A. Edwards, are firemen.

G. E. Wilson was the most seriously hurt. He was struck by falling debris. A. Lovelace, employe of the stock yards company, and J. T. Haas, Wichita, Kan., also were treated for burns. A dozen or more persons received treatment at the emergency hospital on the show grounds for blistered hands suffered in fighting the blaze.

More than 2,000 blue ribbon fowls, making up the biggest exhibition of poultry ever shown in the south, perished when the poultry building burned. The fire started at about 11 a. m., when decorations in the merchants exhibit building, burst into flames. It is believed the fire started when the decorations were ignited by a gas burner in one of the booths.

WICHITAN LOSES CHICKENS IN FIRE

T. A. Crosby, local poultry raiser who resides on the Iowa Park road, suffered a $200 loss in the fire which swept through the fat stock show at Fort Worth Monday when 27 of his bantam chickens were burned to death in the blaze.

The chickens had just been judged a short time before the fire, and a number of premiums had been awarded, Mr. Crosby said.

The chickens had been demonstrated in poultry shows and fairs all over this part of the country and many premiums had been won by them, Mr. Crosby asserted.

The loss, the owner said, was a complete one and no insurance or indemnity for the loss of the fowls could be obtained.

SENATE CLINGS TO AUTO BILL

Efforts to Delay License Slash Thwarted

AUSTIN, March 11. (AP)—Manifestly unwilling to leave the problem unsolved until the special session, the senate today voted down four attempts to postpone consideration of the house bill lowering automobile license fees.

Further than resisting the postponement efforts and killing an amendment by Williamson of San Antonio, to establish a flat license fee of $5, the body did not reach a vote.

Those favoring setting the problem aside until the special session contended that it should be considered along with a gasoline tax measure and they argued that the house had not sent over a bill of that nature.

They argued a 4-cent tax on gasoline would be necessary to offset the loss in revenue to the state highway department which would result from the almost 50 per cent fee reduction approved in the house.

Heirs of Late Paris Capitalist Get Small Cut in Fortune Left to School

PARIS, Texas, March 11. (AP)—Three years of litigation over the estate of the late William J. McDonald, 81, retired Paris capitalist, ended today with announcement of an agreement whereby Texas university will receive about $1,000,000 for an astronomical observatory, and heirs contesting the will are to receive the balance, estimated at $370,000. Nephews and cousins of McDonald's had contested the will on the ground that he was of unsound mind when it was made.

Under the agreement, relatives withdrew court action and the will immediately was probated in district court at the exact time the third suit was to have begun.

Claude Pollard, attorney general, representing the regents of the university, issued a statement saying "in round numbers" the university would receive about $1,000,000.

Details of the division among the relatives were not made public, but Morris Fleming, Paris, one of the executors, estimated that the estate is now valued at $1,370,000.

Those contesting the will included Mrs. Lillian Brinton, Westchester, Pa.; Mrs. A. N. Rodgers of Dallas, Charles McDonald of Paris and Dr. William McDonald of Newsome, Texas.

BRITISH RACER ATTAINS RATE OF 231 M. P. H.

Unorthodox Golden Arrow Of Foreign Build Hits New Mark

DRIVER IS 'THROUGH'

Only if J. M. White Betters New Clip, Will He Race Again

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 11. (UP)—Traveling at a speed which, if it could be maintained would take him around the world in four and one-half days, Major H. O. D. Segrave this afternoon established a new world's straight-away motor speed record of 231.362 miles an hour.

The Briton, whose Irving-Napier "Golden Arrow" is the most unorthodox appearing motor car ever to be raced, broke the record established last year by Ray Keech in J. M. White's Triplex at 207.55 miles an hour.

White Seeks Record

White has his motor car at the track now and will make an effort to break the record established today by the tall, bald-headed and fatalistic Segrave. Lee Bible, a little known race driver, will pilot White's motor car on the test.

Bible took the machine on a test run with J. M. White in the car, but a rising tide prevented a record performance this afternoon. Both White and Bible indicated that if present weather conditions prevailed, the attempt to break Segrave's record would be made at low tide tomorrow.

The weather was excellent for the test today as Segrave had his peculiar appearing machine rolled out to the natural runaway on the hard white sand. A sun was beating down and a northeast wind during the night had smoothed over the sand so that there was not a rough spot on it.

"Jogs" at 100 Per

In order to establish the record, Segrave had to make one trip down the beach and another back over the one mile course.

Segrave warmed up his car at an easy jog of a little better than 100 miles an hour. The engine popped like a battery of machine guns.

Then at low tide, with the Atlantic glimmering just off the course, Segrave sent his Irvin-Napier whirling down the runaway. It was just a blur to the onlookers and Segrave could not be seen as his head was under a cowl and he viewed the track through a special periscope. When the run was finished the clockers announced he had made the down-trip at the rate of 231.81 miles an hour, with the wind at his back.

He turned the machine, rested for a while, then sent it shooting back on the up-trip. That run was made

Airmen Escape Alive As Blimp Sinks Into Briny Deep

NORFOLK, Va., March 11. (AP)—By skillful handling of their crippled blimp, the army TC-10, Lieut. Col. J. West, executive officer at Langley field, and two companions from the Nineteenth Airship company, today survived an accident which sent the dirigible down into the water near the mouth of Back river, about two miles from Langley field.

Fast surface boats rushed to the aid of the blimp when she was seen to settle on the water, and they sent back word that the occupants were safe. No details of the accident were given.

It was believed at Langley field that gas pressure in the blimp grew low and caused it to become unmanageable.

CITY RETAINS PARKING LAW

Repeal Resolution Killed By 3-2 Vote

The parking limit will continue to be in effect and the city of Wichita Falls will collect $2 from each motorist who leaves his car parked in one spot in the downtown business section for more than two hours, it was decided Monday night when the city council voted a proposed ordinance to remove the ban.

Parties Oppose Law

The attempt to remove the parking limit resulted from a plea made to the council a week ago by Dr. J. H. Fletcher to exempt doctors from the overtime law. Alderman J. H. Patton proposed that the entire ban be lifted and the matter was deferred until the meeting last night.

Alderman Patton asserted that the ban which the fellow had imposed upon himself was not to serve the purpose of pleasing something on the people which they did not want but that he still maintained that the law was not necessary. He asked the council to defer the matter for the time being but J. W. Hunt moved that the council vote on a motion made by Oral Jones to kill the resolution.

The resolution was killed by a vote of three to two.

Attempts to remedy radio interference caused from the alleged operation of electrical devices by beauty parlors in the residential section were dropped by the council on a report by Thelbert Martin, city attorney, questioning the city's power to act.

Burns Tells of Arrest

A report from Chief of Police Frank Burns on the case of A. P. Baker, who protested his arrest and treatment by the city police department several weeks ago before the council last week was read. The report asserted that the police had arrested the man on investigation charges.

The Kent Tire company was granted a permit to establish a gasoline pump at 222 Indiana avenue and a request for the installation of light and street marks in Scotland addition, presented to the council by G. D. Kinard, was referred to George D. Fairtrace, city manager.

Novel Pictures Theater As Devouring Idol

CLEVELAND, March 11. (AP)—The Cleveland News, in a copyrighted article, today said that the late Avery Hopwood, playwright and author, shortly before his death completed an autobiographical novel picturing the American theater as a monstrous institution which destroys its followers mentally and morally.

The novel is described in The News as painting the American theater as a "fascinating and horrible idol that draws people into its flaming maw and devours them, or throws them out destroyed mentally, morally and physically broken."

SEVEN JURORS IN GOODSPEED CASE SELECTED

Testimony May Be Heard In Slaying Trial Late Tuesday

STATE SEEKS DEATH

Scruples and Fixed Opinions Eliminate 19 Panel Members

By LOUIS T. HAMLETT
The Record News Staff

HENRIETTA, Texas, March 11.—Seven jurors had been selected for the trial of Carl Goodspeed, of Nocona, charged with the murder of City Marshal A. R. Gooch, of Nocona, at the Goodspeed home on Jan. 13, when the 97th district court recessed here Monday afternoon. The case was transferred to Henrietta from Nocona on a change of venue.

The jurors selected are T. S. Pores, of Byers; J. W. Broom, of Bellevue; L. L. Holland, of Byers; R. B. Berryhill, of Petrolia; J. F. Cornwell, of Byers; B. A. Green, of Byers, and C. M. Brister, of Henrietta.

19 Men Excused

Thirty of the 150 special veniremen summoned in the case were examined Monday afternoon. The defense and the state exercised two challenges, 19 were excused by the court for having formed an opinion or having conscientious scruples against the death penalty, and seven were accepted for the jury.

Attorneys in the case predicted that the taking of evidence would start early Tuesday afternoon. More than 150 witnesses have been called in the case.

The state is qualifying jurors on the death penalty and the defense is qualifying each veniremen questioned on the law of self-defense.

Continuance Denied

The state announced ready for trial when the case was called at 9 o'clock Monday morning but the defense asked for time to prepare a motion for continuance. The court recessed until 1 o'clock, when Judge Vincent Stine overruled the motion after the state had filed an answer.

It is alleged that Goodspeed slew Gooch, who was city marshal of Nocona and held a special commission as a Texas ranger, when Gooch entered the Goodspeed home to serve a liquor search warrant.

Attorneys for the state are Temple Houston Yarbrough, Montague county attorney; William J. Glasgow, Clay county attorney; M. A. Bryan, assistant county attorney from Montague, and C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls, special prosecutor.

Goodspeed is represented by J. S. Jameson, of Montague; J. P. Williams, of Henrietta, and Donald Suddath, of Henrietta.

Moving of Church Led Woman to Kill Priest

In a written confession to police Mrs. Guerrieri, who pleaded not guilty to a first degree murder charge, admitted the crime but claimed the pastor had mistreated her small daughter. A doctor's examination proved the charges unfounded.

The vote today was 97 to 28. Whether an attempt will be made for another vote Tuesday under a ruling of attorney general that a constitutional amendment may be voted on repeatedly until adjournment, bond advocates refused to say tonight.

Leonard Tillotson of Sealy, opponent of the bond plan of financing state highways, said that if the issue is forced to another vote it will not get 80 ayes.

Both Armies Rush Added Strength to Forces In Torreon, Durango

MEXICO CITY, March 11. (AP)—The government tonight announced that its troops had caught up with the rebel General Urbalejo, fleeing from Canitas, Zacatecas, and had taken away 135 of his men. The general escaped, however, with the few soldiers remaining loyal to him.

The same communique announced capture of rebel Gen. Simon Aguirre in the southern part of Vera Cruz. Several of his officers also were taken but his brother, Jesus M. Aguirre, who led the revolt in that state, was not captured. Simon will be courtmartialed and probably will face a firing squad, as have other rebel leaders captured.

A manifesto condemning the present revolution was issued tonight by the Obregonista bloc of the chamber of deputies. This was considered significant here in view of the fact that some former followers of the late Alvaro Obregon are leading the revolution in Sonora.

The government gave no details of the capture of General Simon Aguirre and said that it was not decided whether the officers captured with him also would be courtmartialed.

The government acknowledged that the rebel advance guard of 400 or 500 men had reached the town of Quila in their southward push through the state of Sinaloa. The rebels had announced capture of the town yesterday. Reports that this rebel force had taken the important port of Mazatlan were denied.

REPUBLIC WAITS MAJOR BATTLE

(By The Associated Press)

The tension that precedes decisive battles hangs over news of troop movements in the Mexican revolution.

Both sides were gathering forces as the great machine assembled by General Calles was poised to deliver its strongest blow against gathering rebels in the north.

Events Monday were marked by heavy concentration of troops on both sides, definite end of rebellion in Vera Cruz and check of the important rebel advance in Sinaloa.

Calles Rushes On

General Calles was preparing to march on Torreon and Durango, both of which were occupied by rebel garrisons, and had kept his troops working night and day to repair railroad lines north of federal headquarters at Canitas.

The rebels were known to control territory as far south as Chihuahua City and train loads of reinforcements were frequently passing through there from Juarez, Nogales and other northern points.

Federals predict speedy occupation of both Torreon and Durango, expecting rebel troops in those garrisons to desert their generals as soon as they have a chance to join the federals, just as other rebels deserted General Aguirre in Vera Cruz and General Urbalejo at Canitas Sunday.

Paper "Bombardments"

Federal aviators planned to continue "peaceful bombardment" of the rebels with tracts urging them to loyalty to the government.

A dangerous rebel advance temporarily was checked in Sinaloa, where the federal General Carrillo was reported strongly entrenched with 2,000 loyal troops in Masatlan, barring the rebel road to Mexico City and protecting General Calles' left flank. Rebel scouting forces returned to Culiacan.

General Carrillo was commandeering food supplies in the country-

Negro Voodoo Doctor Goes on Trial For Murder of Grocer at Austin

AUSTIN, March 11. (UP)—An exponent of black magic, deprived of his rabbit's "left hind foot," and other accouterments of voodooism, went to trial today for the murder of a grocer here Feb. 13.

The crime for which the alleged voodoo doctor, Bishop Adams, Negro, faces trial, was the slaying of William Glober. Glober, his throat cut and a razor laying nearby, was found in his store.

When arrested, Adams had neatly filed in his pockets a rabbit's foot, carefully procured in a cemetery in the dark of the moon, a box of cayenne pepper, several packs of cards said to be of remarkable manufacture, and some snake medicine.

Of the 22 prospective jurymen questioned today, two jurors were selected. Historic Travis county court, scene of many important trials of late, was packed with a considerable part of Austin's "local color." The spectators eyed Adams querulously. Adams eyed them with self satisfaction as if he was aware of his alleged super powers.

He rolled his eyes at one venireman being questioned. The man was dismissed.

BRITISH RACER SETS RECORD

Segrave Reaches Speed Of 231 M. P. H. Plus

at the rate of 231.21 miles an hour, against the wind.

Average Speed

This made the average speed for the two trips 231.362 miles an hour, the new record.

On the basis of 231 plus miles an hour, Segrave could drive from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts in a little less than 13 hours.

Most motorists maintain a country driving average of about 30 miles an hour. Segrave today traveled at a speed almost eight times as fast.

When he had brought his golden hued machine back to the grand stand, he climbed out and smilingly greeted his wife, who had sat in the stand with her eyes shut and a bottle of smelling salts in her hand during the test.

"How did she run?" the relieved Mrs. Segrave asked.

"Fine," the angular Briton replied. He said he had found only two bumps on the entire course and that his only trouble had come from a broken water line which sprayed hot water in his face on the last trip.

Through Racing

"Will you ever run again?" newspaper reporters asked him.

"No," he replied. "I am through with racing unless my record is broken by the Triplex before I leave Daytona Beach."

Segrave's machine is the most peculiar appearing craft ever seen here. It is of a golden hue and is namer the "Golden Arrow." It is powered with a 12-cylinder motor and has a bullet like appearance, tapering at both ends with a fin like addition on the rear. The driver sits well into the cowl and has a periscope arrangement to enable him to watch his course.

The tires are round and absolutely smooth. They must be changed with every attempt as the great pressure quickly wears out the fabric.

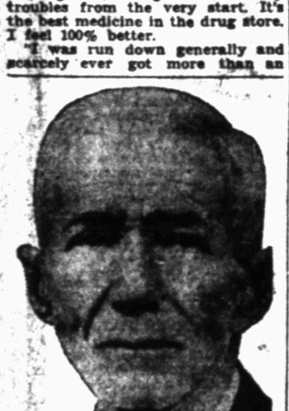

Rivals Watch Event

Ray Keech, former record holder, and Tommy Milton, one time American racing star, sat in the stands to watch the event today. Milton at one time held the straightaway record at 156 miles an hour.

hour or two of sleep at night. I was very nervous and the least sudden noise would upset me and keep me on edge. I suffered from constipation and indigestion and had to force myself to eat. My whole system was out of gear and I would suffer a long time after every meal. My liver was sluggish and I took all kinds of laxatives but the effect was for only a day or two and I was right back where I began. I would become tired at my work before I had half started.

"I have only taken two bottles of Sargon and now I feel like a new man from head to foot. I sleep like a healthy child because Sargon has put my whole system in order and I eat heartily and relish every bite. I have not kept a record of my weight but I know I have gained at least seven or eight pounds. My nerves are fine and I go through a day's work without tiring at all.

"I told the boys at the drug store they could keep all the other medicines, but to give me Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills. Sargon Soft Mass Pills are great. They are easy in their work and are a corrective and not just a temporary laxative. I never fail to recommend Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills to all my friends and business acquaintances."

The above statement was made recently by A. J. Butler, well known building contractor, 1403 Main street, Fort Worth.

Sargon may be obtained in Wichita Falls from the Renfro Drug Co., Eighth and Scott streets, No. 1 main store, and Seventh and Indiana, No. 2; and in Electra from Lough's Drug store.—Adv.

Wichita Church Opens Five-Day Series of Services

Approximately 40 men of the First Southern Presbyterian church congregation attended a banquet given in the parlors of the church Monday night as the opening event of a five-day period of special church-revival services under the leadership of Dr. Gaines B. Hall, pastor.

Dr. Hall acted as toastmaster. Following an address of welcome to the newer members of the group by J. E. H. Ralley, talks were given by Dan Castile, T. B. Leslie, James Biggs, W. F. Newberry, Dr. George T. Singleton, C. M. McMurry, J. E. Hall, George Wright and J. H. Stambrough. A marked degree of interest in the rapid growth of the church membership and in plans for erecting a new church building in the near future, was reflected in the speeches given.

Entertainment features included group singing of a number of old-time songs, and a group of solos by W. L. Underwood, musical director of the church, with Miss Esther Alexander at the piano.

A chicken dinner was served by Mesdames Henry Wilson, Tom McKinney, C. V. Stodgill, J. E. Hall, R. Craig, George T. Singleton and Miss Mary Meredith.

The second meeting of the special series being held this week will be a social gathering of the entire congregation Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock. The program planned for the evening includes violin numbers by Mrs. J. E. Hall, readings by Mrs. Grady Fletcher, vocal numbers by Mr. and Mrs. Underwood, and group entertainment.

Nine Jurors In Hoobler Case

alty. About 20 of the 43 men "struck for cause," answered in the affirmative, several adding that they would not vote for such a penalty on circumstantial evidence. Mr. Spence was assisted in his questioning by George W. Anderson, and Mike Anglin, assistant district attorneys.

His second question asked whether the juror had formed an opinion from the reading of newspapers or from discussion of the case. It was on this point that the defense counsel dwelt, insisting in at least one case that the juror had disqualified himself when he said that he had heard and read about the case, but "thought" he could disregard everything but the testimony to be offered. Judge Martin overruled the challenge after a prolonged argument in which Joe Carrigan and Temple Shell, attorneys for Hoobler, insisted that the man was disqualified because he could only say that he would "do his best" to disregard former impressions. The defense, overruled, used one of its 15 legal challenges.

Questions for the defense were centered on the juror's belief in the justness of the "law of self-defense." Mr. Carrigan repeatedly asking whether the juror thought a man justified in taking another life in defense of his own.

The answers were unanimously in the affirmative.

This, and exhaustive questioning about opinions already formed, and the fairness of "trying a man in the newspapers" constituted the main line of attack by the defense. The state took one of its challenges in case of an oil field worker who told Mr. Carrigan that he had been shot at once himself and had not shot back because he didn't have a gun.

C. E. Hoobler, half-brother of the accused man, sat at his side throughout the day. Both men were silent but were obviously keenly absorbed in the proceedings. Seated apart from the lawyer's table, Luther Pendergraft and Mrs. Arthur Pendergraft, widow of the slain man, watched the progress of the trial.

Hoobler was arrested 10 days after the disappearance of Mr. Pendergraft and on Feb. 9, he led officers to the head of Lake Wichita where the body of the slain man was found. In a statement made to officers, the defendants said he shot his employer in self-defense after Mr. Pendergraft had threatened him with a tire-jack as they rode together on the Henrietta road. It is understood that he will plead self-defense. The state has announced that it will seek the death penalty.

side and issuing rations as though ready to stand siege.

Nine new airplanes, completely equipped with machine guns and bombing apparatus, were being rapidly constructed for the federal government in an American factory. Mexican pilots were under orders to gather within three days at the U. S. naval air station at Anacostia, near Washington, to fly the planes to the battle front.

Ports Are Closed

Federals deprived the rebels of a rich part of their war chest when the Mexican ambassador at Washington announced closing of all Mexican border ports of entry in the states of Sonora and Chihuahua and coast ports of Sonora. This will prevent the rebels from collecting customs duties there.

The port of Vera Cruz has been reopened under federal control. The rebel General Aguirre is hiding in the hills, pursued by federals.

Secretary of State Kellogg stated that the rebels had not been recognized as belligerents by the American government and that no such recognition would be given.

Secretary of War Good refused to make public full details of supplies purchased in the United States for the Mexican government as he considered them a "military secret."

Rebels who had planned to send an envoy to Washington announced that his departure had been indefinitely postponed. They gave no reason.

Gen. Enrique Estrada, secretary of war under General Obregon, has joined the revolution, New York headquarters of the rebels announced. He has gone to the front in Zacatecas.

Prescription He Wrote in 1892 is the World's Most Popular Laxative

Dr. B. Caldwell M.D. AT AGE 89

When Dr. Caldwell started to practice medicine, back in 1875, the needs for a laxative were not as great as they are today. People lived normal, quiet lives, ate plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air and sunshine. But even that early there were drastic physics and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings to put into their system. So he wrote a prescription for a laxative to be used by his patients.

The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

Under successful management this prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that millions of bottles are used a year proves that it has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.

It is particularly pleasing to know that the most of it is bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsin is just as valuable for elderly people. All drug stores have the generous bottles.—Adv.

A request for a hearing on the motion either Friday or Saturday of this week will be made at the same time, Mr. Napier said Monday afternoon.

What Will you do When your Children Cry for It

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and that colic or constipation is relieved; or diarrhea checked. A vegetable product; a baby remedy meant for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; in emergencies, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that Baby becomes fretful, or restless, Castoria was never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every druggist has it.

A HUGE FINANCIAL RESERVOIR

for Texas Mortgages and Home Building is Provided by the Texas Insurance Companies

WHERE does the money come from that aids you to buy your home?

A part of it you provide yourself through accumulated savings. But, must you wait more years and save until you have it all? No! You can borrow it on a mortgage, realize your dream, enjoy it as you earn, and save and pay. Multiply your case by the number of homes in your block—your street—your city—your state. The total of such financing runs into millions. Whose money do these buyers of homes borrow?

In Texas, it is largely the funds built up by thrifty Texans who pay instalments on policies held in Texas Life Insurance Companies. These companies act as custodians for an estate valued at 1½ billion dollars, in which 2 million Texans own interests. Unpaid instalments are cancelled by death and the entire individual estate becomes payable in full in cash. In the meantime, Insurance Companies provide a huge reservoir of wealth to finance Texas homes, farms, buildings, public improvements, etc. That's where the money comes from. That's how Texas Companies help you and help your state.

This is the emblem of the Texas Companies. Symbol of mercy, protection and progress and the mark of a public calling.

Oh, These Women

NEW YORK, March 11. (US)—It was a pretty home department, with a lovely girl stirring a cake and it gave the most delicious sounding recipes. What to make with fresh peaches. But not a word about where you were to get fresh peaches. It was one of these blizzardy days when the very sound of "fresh peaches" was music to the stomach. Some home departments are like that.

It's an old saying that a man should sleep seven hours, a woman eight, a child nine and a fool 10.

It's bad news for the man who feels tired after eight hours in the arms of Morpheus.

"The trouble with amateur carving," said the lady of the house, recalling an old story as she took the turkey platter away from her husband and started to carve the turkey, "is that the juice seldom matches the wall paper."

Dr. M. Sayle Taylor, lecturing on marriage problems, says that "men know so little of love, it's no wonder marriages go on the rocks."

If the poor devils didn't have to spend so much time learning about money they'd have time for a course on love. The idea is, that you have to be educated in money to get them and educated in love to hold them. It's a man sized job.

A Kansas City couple went in search of the American couple married the longest. They discovered one wed 73 years and t o wed 71 years. They are not saying what the reward is, but it's not a divorce.

A mother in Columbus, Ohio, guilty of petit larceny is sentenced to spend four hours a day at hard work in jail. She goes home the rest of the day and cares for her four children and her home.

The rest of the time she has nothing to do.

A girl in the theater, third row center. She wears one of the new cocktail jackets, made entirely of gold spangles. The curtain goes down. The new lights in the theater, designed to guide people to exits in case of fire, center on the gold spangles and it's difficult to concentrate on the stage. I wonder if those jackets don't belong back in circus parades where they came from?

Young woman walking on Fifth avenue trying to create the impression she has recently returned from Palm Beach. Her face a sunburn brown, done in powder. Her lips a cherry red, done in grease. But just where the lipstick and the brown powder met there is a white streak. And no self-respecting sun ever browned a lady like that.

Scurry Chapter U.D.C. Meets With Mrs. John C. Kay

With Mesdames John C. Kay, Frank Cripliver, Fannie Gee, G. L. Granberry and O. G. Stephens hostesses, members of the W. R. Scurry chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy met at the home of Mrs. Kay Saturday afternoon.

During the business session the chapter voted to send $10 to the Museum Memorial fund in memory of Mrs. J. E. Dillard, who died in December. Mrs. Dillard was the mother of Mrs. G. D. Anderson and Mrs. C. V. Lemen, all three charter members of this chapter, and Mrs. Anderson was the first president of the chapter.

Pledges were also paid to the Katie Cabell Muse Scholarship fund and also the Matthew Fontaine Maury scholarship fund.

Plans were discussed for Decoration day, April 26, when the graves of all Confederate veterans will be decorated. A committee was appointed by the president to attend to this, consisting of Mesdames E. L. Goff, A. B. Lipscomb, W. E. Timblin and W. L. Ponder.

The chapter voted to have a party for the cradle roll group of the children of the confederacy some time in April.

Announcement was made that the Lone Star chapter of the children of confederacy, group No. 1, will have a luncheon at the forum club house, April 13.

An interesting paper on the life of Sam Houston was read by Mrs. R. E. Hilburn. Mrs. George W. Truett gave a reading "Sabine Pass and the Forty-Two," a poem which was written in memory of Dick Dowling, hero of the battle.

Applications for membership of Mrs. J. Will Gray and Mrs. John Hampton were accepted.

A lovely refreshment plate was served to the following: Mesdames R. B. Parker, G. W. Truett, M. G. Catter, A. B. Lipscomb, M. Gaffney, E. L. Goff, W. D. Bolding, W. A. Scarborough, C. K. Mosby, T. H. Longer Staple Cotton Proves Worth In Higher Price, Kiwanis Club Told

Iowa Park ginned more cotton than any other town in Wichita county in 1928 because the better quality of cotton grown on farms near that city makes it a better market, according to an address given before the Kiwanis club Monday noon at the Kemp hotel by S. B. Jackson, manager of the Greer Staple Cotton breeding farms.

Mr. Jackson reviewed briefly the five years of selection and replanting requisite to the production of sufficient "pedigreed seed" to plant 5,000 or 6,000 acres. The long, strong staple produced from such seed is now sold principally to the manufacturers of automobile tire cord, he said, and brings a high price. Seed from the farms at Iowa Park has been exported to several foreign countries, including Mexico and Syria.

WHY IN-LAWS CAN'T AGREE

Jealousy Is Main Cause, Says Dorothy Dix

Why a Man's Mother and His Wife Can't Agree—Sympathy for the Young Wife Who Is So Weary of Everything—Folly of Marrying a Bossy Woman.

Dear Miss Dix—Why is it that in-laws do not agree? Before I married my mother thought my sweetheart was the finest girl in the world. Two years ago we were married and came to live in the house with my mother, and since then everything has turned entirely around and nothing my wife does pleases my mother. My mother is a good woman. My wife is a good woman. They both love me, but they cannot get along together, and they are running me crazy with their quarrels and calling upon me to judge between them.

My mother is well off and has other children. Do you think it is my duty to stay with her and take care of her or to go away? I have a good offer to go in business in a distant city. My brothers and sisters think I should stay with mother because I am the youngest child and have always been with her, but life has gotten unbearable under present conditions. Please advise me. —EDDY.

Answer: Go, Eddy, go. Go while the going is good and before you waste any more of your life on the impossible task of keeping the peace between the two women who love you and who are fighting over you like dogs over a bone.

Because you happen to be the youngest child doesn't necessarily make you the family goat, and they will be friends once more as soon as the daily friction between them is ended.

As to your question why a mother-in-law and daughter-in-law cannot agree, that is easily answered. Jealousy. And there is no other jealousy on earth more fierce and consuming than that a mother can feel for the woman who has taken her son from her, the woman he has preferred before her, the woman who is his comrade in a sense that she can never be. Nor is there any jealousy any greater than that which a wife can feel for her husband's mother, the woman who had him before she had him, who has been everything to him, to whom he is accustomed to turn for sympathy and advice and understanding, the woman whose influence over him has always been paramount.

It takes women with more heart than is no more reason why you should sacrifice your happiness to your mother than there is why your brothers and sisters should not sacrifice theirs. In nothing else does human nature show itself so selfish and so self-seeking as in the way in which men and women evade their own responsibility to a cantankerous parent and shunt the whole burden of taking care of a cranky or tyrranical old mother or father on some one brother or sister.

If they would divide it out. If Mary and Tom and John and Helen would each take their turn in staying with mother or father, or have mother or father stay with them, the situation would be endurable for all. But no. They wish it all off on Sally or Eddy and content themselves with paying mother or father an occasional visit or they write a few affectionate letters, while poor Sally or Eddy have to wrestle daily with the whims and caprices and complaints and exactions of a querulous old woman or man.

It isn't fair, and the family goat should rise up on its hind legs and rebel and demand that the others do their part. You can force your brothers and sisters to do their duty by accepting the business offer away from home, and when you get your wife and mother separated you will not only find peace, but and more brain than most women possess to be able to understand that a man's love for his wife and his love for his mother do not conflict, that one does not supersede the other but augments it if it is given a chance. Most mothers are little and narrow and selfish and they want to keep their sons tied to their apron strings and to be first with them even after they are married. Most wives are little and narrow and selfish and they want to monopolize their husbands and to have them forget that they even had a mother.

In seeking their own happiness they never consider the happiness of the poor man who loves them both, who wants to be loyal to both and to do his duty by both. They run to him with their quarrels. They call on him to take sides. They tear his heart in two between them. For in the fight between mother-in-law and daughter-in-law it is always the son and husband who is the victim.

Furthermore, it is eternally true that no house is big enough for two women to live in if they stand in that relationship. So far as her housekeeping is concerned, every woman is a jealous Turk who permits no rival near the throne. Any other woman interferes with her ways of doing things or criticizes her cooking at her peril. And no woman can ever stand around and see another woman make a pie without putting her finger in it. So there you are. I have known one far-reaching family feud that broke up a family, that started over a mother-in-law insisting on her daughter-in-law washing dishes her way.

Any man who takes his wife to live with his mother has simply gone out to hunt for trouble, and he finds it aplenty. The only cure for it is to put as many miles as possible between them.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I am 22 years old and have three little girls under 5 years of age. My husband is very good, but he makes only enough for the bare necessities of life and I am tired of life. I am tired of the babies. I am tired of marriage and everything that goes with it. I am not hunting romance nor am I in love with any sheik. I am just tired, tired, tired. So dead tired of everything. What can I do?

WONDERING.

Answer: I don't know unless you have some relative or know some good, kind woman who would take your children for a little while and let you go away and rest. Or perhaps in the city in which you live there is a day nursery where you could make arrangements to leave your little ones for a month.

But even if you have not the money to go away anywhere just to be rid of the care of the children for that long and to have peace and quiet, would give your frazzled nerves a chance to be healed and your weary body an opportunity to be restored to health again.

I think there is no other figure so pitiful as the poor mother of little children who is always overworked, who never has a night's unbroken sleep, who is always running after restless little feet and washing dirty little faces and listening to the eternal cries and fretting of little voices. No wonder she gets to the breaking point. No wonder she becomes a quivering bundle of nerves. No wonder she is so tired that the only thing on earth she craves is rest.

What an opportunity this problem of the tired mother, who cannot afford to hire a nurse or to go away for a little change and recreation, offers to the philanthropic women of every community! What a blessed thing it would be if one or two kindhearted, sympathetic, motherly women, who perhaps have gone through this very same experience in their own youth would borrow these poor tired mother's children for a week or two and give her a chance to rest and come back refreshed to her job once more.

It would mean new hope. It would mean the saving of many a young mother's life. It would mean that she would be a better mother to the children, because when one is tired to death and one's nerves are taut as fiddle strings it is hard to be patient with youngsters who are in some mischief every minute of the day.

So I urge the empty-handed, middle-aged women, whose own children have flown from the home nest, to organize a Baby Borrowing society and go to the rescue of the young mothers who are so tired, tired, tired.

And I call the attention of all the 16 and 17-year-old girls who are so much in love they are thinking of making premature marriage to this letter. It will show them what comes to the girls who indulge in such folly.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I am engaged to a girl with whom I am very much in love, but she has the bad habit of wanting her way in everything, and I always have to give in to her to keep the peace. Even when I am right I have to say I am wrong to avoid trouble. Do you think she will make me a good wife?

GROOM-TO-BE.

Answer: Not unless you enjoy being henpecked. I can think of no fate worse for a man of spirit than to be tied to a bossy wife who tells him exactly where he gets on and off. And sees that he does it.

KING'S BRAIN GETS BETTER

British Regency Unlikely In Immediate Future

LONDON, March 11. (INS)—While the question of creating a regency for Great Britain is being considered there is no intention of doing anything immediately, International News Service learned from an authoritative source this afternoon.

Doctors attending King George have informed the government that it is probable he will have sufficiently recovered within the next two months to undertake important executive and state duties.

The government is opposed to the council of state which the Prince of Wales believes is functioning in an unsatisfactory manner. However, the government is not disposed to yield to the prince's strong wish that a regency be instituted at once.

It is stated that King George is now able to concentrate from periods of 30 to 60 seconds. A medical bulletin issued recently with the sanction of the government revealed the king's long illness had left him in such condition that he could not concentrate for long periods.

For the purpose of guarding against emergencies, coupled with the fear that advanced sensibility may suddenly appear, a bill setting up a regency is now in preparation.

The council of state, made necessary by the long illness of the king consists of Queen Mary, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Lord Hailsham and Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin.

It is not known who would hold the post of regent if a regency is appointed, although the Prince of Wales is the logical choice.

Ho-Ho! He's Really a Prince and U. S. Girls Charm Him Plenty—But Ho-Ho!

By JOSEPH J. O'NEIL

LOS ANGELES, March 11. (INS)—A tall, handsome, blue eyed, blonde young chap stepped off the Californian at the Southern Pacific station today—smiled—waved his hat—posed jauntily and chattily for the photographers—

He might have been a movie actor returning from the East. He might have been a popular aviation ace. He might have been anything young and gay and cheerful. The immediate impression of him would be:

"That guy's a prince!"

Brother of King Boris

The interesting part of all this is that he really was a prince with a capital P. Cyril of Bulgaria, brother of King Boris of that turbulent little kingdom in eastern Europe, and next in line of succession to the throne. He is a son, as is of course, his brother Boris, of the late King Ferdinand of Bulgaria.

Boris is a bachelor—with no apparent intention of marriage—and should anything happen to him the charming young Cyril would be king. And should Cyril marry an American girl—

"Marriage? Ho-ho! I'm just a young fellow having a good time," Prince Cyril said in very excellent English.

"American girls? Charming! Wonderful! So exquisite in their costumes—their beauty—their dancing! I have met very many of them—in New York—Washington—Florida—Chicago—and I have learned that the most beautiful of all are in Los Angeles and Hollywood! I will see them, I hope, during the two or three days I will be there.

Really Pleasure Trip

"But marriage? Ho-ho! As I say, I am a young fellow on a pleasure trip."

Prince Cyril, with his party, went immediately to the Biltmore hotel. Accompanying him were Baron and Baroness Einer of Vienna, and Prof. Max Rabes of the University of Berlin.

"I have no mission in America," said Prince Cyril. "This is in truth, a pleasure trip. I have, incidentally, looked into the railroad and automobile industries, but mainly I have been sight-seeing. After two or three days I must return to New York, take ship to Europe, and go back to Sofia. I shall be sorry to go. I have seen New York, Washington, Palm Beach, Havana, Chicago and Detroit with the wonderful Ford automobile factory.

"I will see Hollywood, of course. We know your wonderful motion pictures in far-away Bulgaria."

Fogs and Ice Hinder Shipping at Hamburg

HAMBURG, Germany, March 11. (AP)—Thick fog now has been added to the problem of ice floes, which, as everywhere in the country, have obstructed Hamburg shipping. During the last 36 hours no vessel has been able to enter the harbor and outgoing vessels have had to anchor at the mouth of the Elbe. Several ships attempted to feel their way upstream, but soon had to cast anchor.

Stop Headache In Few Minutes

The next time you have a headache, neuralgic, rheumatic or periodic pain, try the improved method of relief—two teaspoonfuls of Capudine in a little water. Being liquid, Capudine acts almost instantly, much quicker than tablets and powders, and is more effective.

Capudine relieves pain by soothing the nerves—not by deadening them. It does not upset the stomach. Has given satisfaction to millions during the past 30 years. At all drug stores—30c and 60c sizes, also trial size.—Adv.

SHIRT-SLEEVES AT THE OPERA

Daily Editorial

THE SEVERAL titled guests at the concluding auditorium performance of the Chicago Civic Opera company not only witnessed, but sat at elbows, with romance.

Surrounding lodges were filled with Horatio Alger stories, come true. Hardly a box-holder there but who sprang from humble parentage or early privation.

A great packer, whose father had slaughtered and peddled beef, faced a second generation of harvester kings, inheriting directly from the farm-lad inventor of the reaping machine.

A pants salesman, become master merchant of all time and the foremost philanthropist of his race, chucklingly confided to a former newsboy (long since a financial magnate) how he had scrimped for a gallery seat at his first operatic attendance.

A stenographer, risen to presidency of a transcontinental railway system, harked back to an adolescent friend, of days when that youth's own uncles were starting fortunes and political careers in a jerk-water Iowa town.

A red-headed office boy, who lived to control the biggest retail concern on earth, discussed world fair plans with a legal authority, whose grandmother took in washing and boarders.

Motion pictures recall two parterre subscribers as hand-toting a cinema outfit and exhibiting "The Great Train Robbery" at carnival shows.

And distinguished bankers present, often drove a plow and milked a cow.

But, nothing of this sort, of course, reached the ears of our illustrious European friends.

THEY HEARD of the millions and industrial power of a leading opera sponsor. Yet it's dimes to doughnuts that no one told how he played cabin-boy on that momentous voyage into possibility, when Edison launched his incandescent dream.

European conceptions of the American spirit would be much more accurate and correspondingly sympathetic, if our struggles and initiatives were oftener sung, and the balance sheets of success less blatantly flaunted.

Continental races wouldn't grudge our riches half so intensly if Yankee brag weren't constantly gold-plating Uncle Sam and snobbishly clothing him with popinjay feathers.

No folk in history was ever so intrinsically simple and genuinely kind.

We are prodigious money-makers and inclined to crow about it. But our dollars are filled with imagination—with pity—with sense of duty.

The whole caboodle of previous centuries can't match the benevolence of these United States—its musical endowments—its educational and medical foundations—its gifts of art—or its contribution to charity.

Heroes and Rewards

FOR some reason, known doubtless to its august self, the United States senate recently refused to approve a pension of $125 a month to Mrs. Mary Goldberger, the widow of Dr. Joseph Goldberger.

This reflects no credit on the senate; and the fact that most of us, reading about it, at once ask, "And who was Dr. Joseph Goldberger?" doesn't reflect any credit on us, either.

A country seldom honors its real heroes. It builds statues and monuments enough, Heaven knows, and passes all manner of resolutions. There is a newspaper variety of fame, which gives ball players and pugilists and actresses great eminence and makes their names household words; but the men who have been really important—the men who have actually done things that should make their countrymen call them blessed—are too often ignored completely.

Dr. Goldberger came out of New York's east side in 1914 to go south and fight pellagra—the mysterious, dreadful malady that was locally called "Red Fire" and that was taking lives at the rate of 1,500 a year in the state of Mississippi alone.

No one knew much about it. Poverty-stricken mill hands and farm workers in the south were its chief victims; these, and the luckless inmates of orphan asylums, insane asylums and poor farms. It spread mysteriously. Whole families, whole villages, would be stricken. It was a loathsome, painful, deadly disease.

At times an unfortunate family, seized by the disease, would be the victims of an impromptu quarantine. Neighbors with shotguns would patrol the roads and keep them from leaving their own premises. The misery and suffering caused by the malady were almost incredible.

Dr. Goldberger devoted his life to fighting this scourge.

He eventually discovered that what he had long suspected was true; that pellagra was not caused by germs, and was not in any way contagious, but was due simply to faulty diet.

The "poor whites" whose diet was limited to cornmeal mush, hominy, salt pork and cane molasses were getting the disease at their own dinner tables. He went into hospitals and fed the sufferers milk, eggs and red meat—and saw them cured. He got a dozen convicts in Mississippi to volunteer for experiments; he gave them the disease by restricting their food to corn bread, molasses, salt pork, rice and sweet potatoes; then he cured them by changing their diet.

Lastly, he inoculated himself, repeatedly, with the blood of pellagra sufferers. It had not the slightest effect. Thereby he proved definitely that pellagra was not "catching," and that it could be infallibly wiped out by certain dietary changes. He freed the South from the curse of the "Red Fire." Thousands upon thousands of people were given happy, healthful lives by his work.

Of course, we have forgotten him. If Dr. Goldberger had killed a few thousand people in a war he would have plenty of statues, his widow would have a pension and his name would be in every school book. But he saved lives, instead; and the senate of the world's richest nation can't pay his widow a paltry $125 a month.

Spring Winds and Fire Losses

SPRING WINDS bring something besides sandstorms to Wichita Falls in the danger of damage or destruction of business and residential property by fires. The month has already been productive of a number of fires blamed on high winds and burning trash or grass, and other blazes of more serious consequence may follow unless precautions are taken by property owners.

Aside from the heavy loss to the individual involved in a fire, it is to the interest of every property owner to keep fire losses at the lowest possible figure. This city's good fire credit record this year is three cents lower than last year, a revision which means the payment of thousands of dollars' additional insurance by the city as a whole. Each property owner, whether or not he is the victim of a fire, helps pay for the losses of other persons when he meets his insurance premiums.

Precautions against the carelessly tossed cigaret or cigar stub, trash fires, burning grass, defective wiring, and the other usual causes of fires are worth while at any time of the year, but they are doubly important in the springtime when a high wind may sweep a blaze across two or three residences or a half dozen business houses before the most efficient fire department can gain control.

One View of Gang Murders

A MAGAZINE writer recently interviewed a Chicago business man on the general subject of gang murders, which Chicago has made so famous.

The business man didn't think such affairs were very important.

"They're not killing law-abiding citizens," he said. "They're just killing each other. What difference does it make to decent people whether the gangsters kill each other or wait for the police to do it?"

At first glance that sounds like good sense. But on reflection it is easy to see that it make a good deal of difference. The police have shown a lamentable inability to bring the major gangsters to book. People will not testify against them—because they fear the gangsters' guns.

These gang shootings help the underworld to maintain its power over its victims. Until they're broken up, the underworld will continue to operate unchecked.

THE LAND TITLE BILL

The Small land bill is favored by all West Texas. The bill was passed by both houses of the legislature and sent to Governor Moody for his approval. Governor Moody asked the attorney general for his opinion and Attorney General Pollard said the bill would be unconstitutional. After receiving this opinion, the governor vetoes the bill.

Now the senate passed the bill over the governor's veto. We believe in the bill, but if the bill is unconstitutional, why pass it? Wouldn't the legislature be using greater wisdom by submitting to the people a resolution to change the constitution and thereby clear up the "land title" question in a way that we know would be permanent? An unconstitutional bill will fall before the high courts of the state and we will have the land titles just where they are today.

GYPSY CODE OF HEALTH

In the gypsy code, happiness means health. A modern scientist, commenting on this ancient health rule, says, "It is only recently that science has discovered that the gastric juices are influenced by the mental condition of the individual, and that food, whetted with tears, is like poison to the body; that the quality of the food is not half so important as the mental condition of the eater. The gypsy, it appears, has known this for thousands of years." —Gainesville (Texas) Register.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, March 11.—This city has plenty of national and sectional conventions each week but about the most remarkable one of late was the annual gathering of the National Puzzlers league. The members of this unique organization didn't meet to adopt resolutions requesting congress to pass laws or to denounce anything. They confined themselves to a study and solution of charades, crossword puzzles, anigrams and other kindred subjects of the puzzler's world.

It was decidedly pertinent that while they were trying to solve a new kind of puzzle, the natives here were attempting to figure out who killed Arnold Rothstein, who killed the torch-murder victim, how to get a seat in the subway during the rush hour and what is the matter with Broadway traffic, anyhow. They should have turned those practical matters over to the puzzlers' convention.

A young man who seems to be following in the footsteps of his father is Finley Peter Dunne Jr. His father, you may recall, made famous the fictional character, Mr. Dooley, whose droll Irish philosophy brought humor into many homes and a good many dollars into the elder Dunne's pocketbook.

But the rising Finley Dunne is more serious. At present he is a reporter on a New York morning newspaper and during his spare moments is engaged in writing a psychological novel, so it is not likely that he will perpetuate the fame of Mr. Dooley.

In a national magazine at the present time there is a serial story being published. It purports to deal, through the mask of make-believe names, with many prominent characters of Broadway and the rest of New York. Down here a popular pastime is trying to "place" the characters.

The humorous feature about it all is that the characters are entirely fictional. Nor is the magazine responsible for this deception. It advertised no revelation of Broadway characters. But from so-called "inside" circles, it was bruited about town that the story was an accurate portrayal of certain persons. And so New Yorkers are attempting to attach significance to various characters while the poor things are only natives of the land of imagination.

Richard W. Mackie, the noted pilot of the Colonial Air Transport, claims he experienced his biggest thrill right on the ground the other night. Mackie, by the way, achieved fame recently when he broke speed records by flying 212 miles from Hadley field, New Jersey, to Boston in 80 minutes. And that is but one of many air thrills he has known.

"But a few nights ago," he told me, "I was strolling on Riverside drive when I saw a blaze in a basement apartment. It was the first time I ever discovered a fire, and for a moment I was rattled. I rushed to the fire alarm box, trembled a couple of wasted seconds before it and then broke the glass and sent in the alarm.

"Believe me, that was a bigger thrill than—than—" and he was too excited to finish the sentence.

There is a novel coming out soon, dealing with a woman governor and her experience in legislative halls. I don't know what the title of the book is, but its author is Clare Ogden Davis, the wife of Burton Davis, traveler and author.

What interests me is the fact that Mrs. Davis at one time was a Texas newspaper woman and also press representative for the former governor, "Ma" Ferguson of Texas.

In a rooming house in West Seventy-sixth street lives a descendant of the prophet Mohammed. He is Prince Mohi-ud-din of Arabia, son of an hereditary emir of Mecca, scion of a house to which 400,000,000 people pay homage. He is a silent man, though there are many things he might say, this man who, to 4,000,000 Moslems, is as a descendant of Jesus would be to millions of Christians.

Yet he lives securely and quietly amidst the rush of New York, playing his music, eating in cafeterias, riding in subways. To him, of Oriental background and environment, the Occident is fascinating and charming, but in his little room are the vestiges of his other world which continues to exist for him in spite of the roar of the New York civilization always about him. He says he prefers this country and its excitement to the mystery and peace of his Arabia. In his bearing and philosophy you see, however, that while he lives in the West he remains one of the distant East.

Whenever things seem otherwise dull in New York, along comes Sir Charles Higham, British advertising man and publicity expert extraordinary, to lighten our fears.

Sir Charles made his usual rounds of Broadway, as he does whenever he visits this country, and after contemplating the scene he had a few things to say. He believes American girls do not flirt, that every girl in New York owns a fur coat, that the best dressed men in America are the bankers, that he was unable to find bare knees in New York. All of which proves, or ought to, that Sir Charles might, with profit, visit a first-class oculist.

BORNEO TRIBES TO BE STUDIED

Scientist to See Whether Cannibals Exist

CHICAGO, March 11. (UP)—Seeking either proof or fallacy of a popular belief that Borneo primitives are headhunters and cannibals, John M. Provinse, graduate student in anthropology at the University of Chicago, announced today he would leave this week to spend nine months in the heart of that aboriginal island.

Provinse will endeavor to find the most uncivilized people in Borneo for his study. He will gather material for a doctor of philosophy thesis on the Siang Dyaks, who are especially fine subjects for a study of primitive life because they form one of the few groups which remain "uncontaminated" by civilization.

He will be accompanied by Theodore Seelmann, an amateur ethnologist. Harry W. Wells, a radio engineer, will go with them 250 miles up the Barite river to a Dutch army post on the equator, where he will set up a radio broadcasting station and make a study of the climatic conditions as they effect radio. He will broadcast Provinse's reports and relay Chicago music to the "campong," up the river.

Lecturer on Christian Science Gives Address at Junior College

Approximately 200 persons gathered at the Junior college auditorium Monday night to hear a lecture on "Christian Science: The Union of Reason and Revelation," given by Miss Lucia C. Coulson, C. S., of London, England. Miss Coulson was introduced by Carl Karges of this city as a member of the board of lectureship of the Mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, Mass.

Her address follows:

I have taken for the subject of this lecture, Christian Science, the Union of Reason and Revelation. It is a surprise to many people to be told that reason is a factor in the study of true religion, but on the first page of the Christian Science textbook, by Mary Baker Eddy these words occur, "The time for thinkers has come," and it is certain that people are thinking today as they never thought before. Even physical science which previously dealt entirely with matter and material phenomena is recognising mind more and more, although it does not make the distinction so clearly drawn by Christian Science between the divine mind and the so-called human mind.

The following interesting statement was made a short time ago by Prof. J. A. Fleming of the University of London, "The physical universe is a thought rather than a thing, and thought implies and necessitates a thinker." Physical science, therefore, is gradually approaching the standpoint of Christian Science, namely, that all is mind, and that mind alone creates, governs, originates; that all cause is mental and therefore effect is mental, and amenable to mind; that the universe itself is a "thought rather than a thing." Let us see where this will lead us and what it will bestow upon us. It leads us to discover wherein lies the mastery of circumstances and conditions. It bestows on us the power to heal and prevent disease. It frees us from the limitations with which the belief in matter and material thinking has bound us, and from which we have not known how to escape. Perhaps it is this helplessness, this inability of mankind to overcome or avoid calamity, that makes its heaviest burden. There is no one so happy that he would not like to be able to protect and so ensure that happiness.

Now this helplessness is due to the belief that man is matter, that his troubles are material, and that he has no control over them. Once take the position that all is mind, that the universe and all it includes is the product of mind, and immediately the remedy appears. For if a thought is the cause of the trouble, then a change of thought can alter it. If a thought causes this or that condition, then an opposite thought will change the condition. Now we have all been given the power to think, and we all already believe that we can or should control our thoughts. Therefore, if everything is in the first instance a thing of thought, and we can all think, how much control should we have, how much dominion over this earth? And what is the nature of this dominion? It is evident, reasoning from this standpoint, that mind controls and governs all, and man, the outcome of mind, possesses this dominion. Remember the gift of dominion was recorded many thousands of years ago in a book we have most of us been taught to revere. Let me read you verses 26 to 28 of the first chapter of Genesis. "And God said, let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepth upon the earth. . . . And God blessed them, and God said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it: and have dominion."

Did it ever occur to you that these are not mere words, but practical, provable truth? I remember reading that when I first began the study of Christian Science, and as I read, the general concept of man flashed before me: man at the mercy of chance, of circumstance, of disease, of loss; man happy today, and crushed tomorrow; pitifully weak, and unable to protect himself. Then I turned to this book, Science and Health, which I had been told was a key to the Scriptures, and there I read (page 517): "Man is not made to till the soil. His birthright is dominion, not subjection. He is lord of the belief in earth and heaven, himself subordinate alone to his Maker." I read on until I began to see how it was possible to prove this dominion to be true, now. I could never tell you what a flood of light and liberty filled my heart as I read—what possibilities opened out to me—what a promise Christian Science set before me. And it has kept its promise! My friends, what is true for one is true for all, and we can all begin now to prove, gradually, and step by step, this dominion in our experience. We must gain it first in our thinking, and then necessarily in our experience, for experience is the fruit of thinking.

Now it is easy enough to see that some things are the result of thought—war, for instance. But when we come to more particular instances, such as disease, poverty, an epidemic, and so on, people are apt to say, "Do you mean to tell me these are mental and the result of wrong thinking?" Christian Science replies that they are, and that they can be healed by spiritual thinking.

At this point some one may say: "You tell me these thoughts produce sickness and opposite thoughts cure; but how am I to think these opposite thoughts? I have neither the strength nor the understanding to do so." That is true, for those unInstructed in Christian Science, and such a confession of weakness is the first step to the recognition of the remedy. For these thoughts which make us sick and sinful are the thoughts of mortals, and they must be exchanged for higher and truer thoughts, the thoughts of God.

The first step, then, is to find out what God is, and what His thoughts are like. The sentence with which we started gives an indication of the great fact which Mrs. Eddy discovered, for it states that "the universe is a thought rather than a thing."

What must be the cause or creator of the universe which is a thought, an idea? The only possible answer, and the one which Christian Science gives, is that this Creator, the first great cause, is mind, infinite mind, for ideas can only come forth from mind. Infinite mind! That signifies perfection: for whatever is infinite could not contain an element of destruction. Evil is self-destructive. Its nature is to destroy, to adulterate, to lie. We have evidences of this on every hand. Therefore evil could not enter the mind that is infinite or eternal, and so it is the perfect thoughts of this perfect mind that we need to obtain and entertain, in order to counteract and to heal the effects of wrong thinking. Following this out to its logical conclusion, we find that we are in a world of ideas, a thought universe. This universe is perfect and God-created; but our concept of it is not right, is not perfect, and we shall find that our concept is corrected and transformed by the simple method of replacing wrong thoughts, thoughts which reflect divine mind. Here then is the way—to learn to ally ourselves with God's thoughts. When we do that, we ally ourselves with infinite power; we enlist divine power on our behalf.

Now to do this, we must learn something of the nature of this power. What is the nature of character of infinite and omnipotent mind? This is where the wedding of science to Christianity takes place. That which the heart of man craves is found to be in accord with reason. It has been said that the infinite must be without an element of discord or destruction, must be wholly creative, therefore entirely harmonious, forever bringing forth and preserving, must therefore be that of which John conceived when he said that God is love. Divine love admits of no flaw, no friction. Intelligence or power divorced from love can manifest all that is worst, most bestial, most brutal; but find all power to be also love, and immediately its universe can be conceived of only as perfect and as altogether lovely.

How could there be an atom of suffering, of sin, or sickness permitted by the omnipotence which is altogether love? Even humanly our concept of love stands for bliss. What is the will of love for the beloved? Always that which the beloved desires. Now, every one of you in your true being has come forth from that infinite love, and is the loved of love. I don't care who you are, what you character or your race or your present limitations may be; each one of you is the beloved, and the will of the divine love for you is all that is happiest, sweetest, most blissful, all that makes for fullness, usefulness, dominion, heaven — indeed, your heart's desire!

Go into a beech wood at the magic moment of spring. Look at the moss under your feet, the exquisite vivid green of each budding leaf; see the tender beauty of the violet, the bluebell, the anemone—each tiny petal perfectly formed, each color perfectly matched! These are only the promise of heavenly beauties; but what thoughts do they stand for, of what are they the symbols? Think what qualities of tenderness and innocence, of gayety and care for every smallest detail must be comprised in the mind which is God, and clothing as He does the lilies of the field, will He not clothe and tend and beautify and glorify you, His highest ideas?

My friends, this concept of God will do much for you. It will change and sweeten and transform your experience. It will take away your fear. Has your experience been a hard one? Does your existence seem dreary and barren? Ask yourself what concept of God you are entertaining. There are those whose concept of God is that of a Being to be dreaded, one who sits in judgment, and deals out punishment and calamity to all offenders. There are many whose concept of God is that of a schoolmaster, stern and just—a God of penalties, righteous penalties, so-called, who says, "You have sinned and you must suffer." And there are some to whom God is both Father and Mother, whose idea of God is the highest, tenderest love it is possible to conceive of or imagine, a God who lives only to bless and cannot curse, who lives only to heal and could not send or permit or know suffering, who lives only to bestow heaven, and would not know how to afflict. To this God we come and say, "We are sad, we are sick, we are weary, we are wicked"; and our God makes answer, "It is none of it real, it is none of it true! It is all blotted out in the presence of infinite, universal, unquenchable love which corrects and cancels every mistake, for love has only love to bestow." Let this God, the only true God, rule your experience.

I spoke of the wedding of science to Christianity in our thought when we discern the nature of infinite mind to be love. Consequently, when we perceive that love and intelligence are in reality indivisible there comes the true marriage of the male and female qualities of mind, the "divinely united spiritual consciousness," as Science and Health puts it (page 577).

Now the highest, purest concept of love which human experience presents is generally conceded to be that of a mother for her child: and so in order to turn our thoughts to the understanding of the love that is God, Christian Science has given us yet another and gentler name by which to address Deity, for it speaks of God as Mother.

When this thought of the Motherhood of God unfolds to us we come to see that there is no happening too small, no desire too slight, to confide to love's tender keeping. The little ones are Her especial care. We realize that all the comforts of home, the consolations of friendship, the fulfillment of harmless desires, the innocent joys that go to make up happy human living, are the will of love for us now. They are the direct working out of this blessed concept of God. They are the human working out or approximation of the infinite bliss with which love satisfied its own, caring equally for every smallest detail, blessing equally the infinitesimal with the infinite. Every one of you is included in the Father-Mother's perfect plan. Every one of you is needed and indispensable therein, and truth will show you how to appropriate this blessedness.

Now it is a fact that whatever concept of God we cherish, consciously or unconsciously, shapes and governs our models of thought and conduct; and so as we gain this concept of God as Mother we shall become gentler and kinder in our thoughts and words and deeds. In proportion, then, as this idea of God unfolds in human consciousness, the whole world will become a gentler, warmer-hearted, happier dwelling place.

I spoke just now of love's perfect universe which is altogether lovely. Right here mortals seem to be faced with a universe which is the direct opposite, which contradicts the divine facts. What are we to do with it? Has it ever struck you that this is the very problem which is presented to us in the first and second chapters of Genesis? First, there is the account of the divine fact of perfect God and perfect man, whose universe is very good, and then comes the account of a man made of dust who immediately fell into a deep sleep. It would seem as if that sleep is still going on. In that sleep came the introduction of a dual consciousness, the knowledge of good and evil, in which evil seemed as real and natural as good. This dual consciousness is really a kingdom divided against itself, for good and evil are opposites, and it is the mingling of good and evil thoughts, with the latter much in the preponderance, that causes the friction of human existence.

In the infinite mind, whose name is love, there can be, as we saw, no friction by reason of its infinity. To God there is no dual consciousness. There is but one mind, one will, one consciousness, one manner of thinking—right thinking.

Now Christian Science states that the power of the divine mind to heal all human ills, the power of right thinking to change and destroy the effects of wrong thinking, has been proved time and time again in this age by healing the sick. It is this restoration of the healing works of primitive Christianity which is the hall-mark of Christian Science, so to speak. In her Church Manual (page 17) Mrs. Eddy writes that the Christian Science church is "designed to commemorate the word and works of our Master, which should reinstate primitive Christianity and its lost element of healing." She also says on page 92 of the same book that "each member of this church shall strive to demonstrate by his or her practice, that Christian Science heals the sick quickly and wholly, thus proving this science to be all that we claim for it." Now, when a sick person is made well, the ultimate object of Christian Science healing is not thereby attained. On the contrary, the work is only just begun. For the object of Christian Science is to regenerate human consciousness, to change the dual consciousness of good and evil to the consciousness of good's allness; to educate it out of matter into spirit, and so to end the Adam dream. This regeneration, however, starts with the healing of physical sickness, for the very good reason that a sick body indicates a sick mind.

Since, then, the healing works are all-important in Christian Science, let us consider at some length how they take place. And first and foremost let us consider the example of the One who first proved the power of truth to heal in all its perfection—Jesus the Christ. Let us see what He has to teach us with regard to its method and what were the means He employed. There has been such a tendency on the part of mankind to regard His works as miracles relegated to His time alone, that people have hardly considered what He himself said on this subject. In the first place, he stated that any one who believed in Him and His teaching could do the same works He did, and greater.

Then with regard to the method, He said that it was His Father who did the healing, but that the patient needed receptivity, faith, to enable him to receive. "The Father that dwelleth in Me, He doeth the works." "According to your faith be it unto you."

Then, again—and this is an important point for the practitioner—in instance after instance we are told that before he healed anyone, he was moved with compassion. Many of his patients were sinners, many lepers; but no matter how great the physical or moral deformity, Jesus was moved with compassion. As he passed by, the multitudes were healed. Men told each other with bated breath that "Jesus of Nazareth passeth by." And the sick were healed. What was it that healed them? Was it his person or the shadow of his person falling on them? We in this age are too enlightened for such superstition. It was what Jesus knew, what Jesus saw in the place of sick humanity, that healed.

Let me read you here a passage from Science and Health which no one who desires to heal the sick can study too carefully: "Jesus beheld in science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick" (Science and Health, page 476,477). So in the place of the poor weeping, sinning woman, in the place of the unclean, trembling leper, Jesus saw the beloved, the pure idea, "only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth." Now, he said, that we should do the works He did. It was His clear vision, His tender compassion, His reflection of divine intelligence, that revealed the Christ, and it is for each one of us today to "put on Christ." Then, as we pass through the streets of our great cities and the sick and the sorrowful meet us in the press, being "moved with compassion," we shall find time to pray, not on bended knee, but by lifting up our thoughts to heaven, by declaring again and yet again that the perfect mind has created perfect man, for whom the standpoint of Christian Science we have to look through and beyond the mist of sense-testimony and discern the spiritual idea of man emanating from divine mind.

NEW SUSPECT IN MASSACRE

Windsor, Canada, Police Arrest Harry Granfield

WINDSOR, Ont., March 11. (INS)—Harry Granfield, 29, was held by Windsor police today for Chicago authorities as a suspect in Chicago's "Valentine day massacre."

Granfield, who was at first described as "the man with the missing finger," was arrested at the request of U. S. treasury agents. They claimed they overheard Granfield and a companion talking about "taking someone for a ride." Granfield was quoted as saying the man "would be bumped off if we had him in Chicago."

Questioned at police headquarters, Granfield denied participation in the "firing squad slaying" of the members of the George (Bugs) Moran gang. He admitted, however, Windsor police said, to having been in Chicago at the time of the massacre.

Granfield said he left Windsor for Chicago Feb. 3 and returned Feb. 20, according to police. It was also reported that the suspected man lived in the neighborhood where the gang slaying occurred.

Granfield is believed to have gone to Chicago to collect money owed him by a man named McNamara. The day of the massacre, he is understood to have withdrawn a sum of money from a Chicago bank.

Upon the arrest of Granfield, Chicago authorities said they would come here to question him.

PET MEASURES KINDLE STRIFE

Both Reapportionment And Farm Bills Pushed

By FRAZER EDWARDS

WASHINGTON, March 11. (UE) —Simple as it might seem for congress to buckle down and dispose of the limited legislative program when it meets in special session April 15, conflicts already have cropped up which must be adjusted before the senate and house get back to work.

The intense jealousy between the senate and house over their respective prerogatives, which arose in the dying days of the last congress, still linger. Rival ambitions of some of the leaders in both houses, the jockeying to advance pet measures, all present problems to be solved before the first Hoover congress gets under way.

Clash Is Expected

A head-on collision between the advocates of farm relief legislation and supporters of congressional reapportionment is in prospect in the senate. The house, having passed the reapportionment bill twice, now insists that the senate must act first on that measure.

Blunt notice has been served by farm block leaders that they will permit nothing to stand in the way of the agricultural aid bill. A group of senators whose states will be affected vitally by reapportionment is determined to get early action on that bill.

At the same time, the cry is raised to let reapportionment wait until after the 1930 census, since it has waited eight years. All of which does not augur well for the chances of reapportionment in the extra session, which was called primarily for farm relief and tariff revision.

Watson Is Willing

Senator Watson of Indiana, new Republican leader, has announced that Senator Vandenberg, Republican of Michigan, who has been pressing reapportionment vigorously, will be given a chance for action in the special session. There have been moves to have the senate work on that bill while the house is passing farm relief legislation.

But Senator McNary, Republican of Oregon, chairman of the committee on agriculture, intends to have a farm bill ready when congress convenes and will demand that it be made the "unfinished business." If a showdown comes between the two forces there is little doubt about farm relief being given preference.

The new McNary-Haugen bill probably will be subjected to further revision in line with President Hoover's ideas, but it is likely to retain its present outlines. In brief, it provides for a $30,000,000 revolving fund to be furnished by the government to be used by stabilization corporations to buy and store surplus crops and loan to cooperatives to bring about orderly marketing. That machinery will be run by a federal farm board of five members.

Hearings Scheduled

Brief hearings will be held by the senate committee, beginning about March 25. The house committee will begin hearings on March 27, and present a bill on the first day of the session. If that program is adhered to the differences of the two houses must be ironed out in conference.

The house will have the new tariff bill ready about April 20, but it will require nearly a month to pass it. Then it will be subject to further revision by the senate, followed by the tug-o'-war in conference.

Tia Juana Develops Case of Nerves As Rumors of Attack Are Mouthed

TIA JUANA, Mexico, March 11. (INS)—Despite frequent assurances by Mexican officials that there is no danger of an invasion by the rebel forces, Tia Juana is suffering from a case of nerves.

It is not manifest so much in the Mexicans whose temperament inclines to the indolent as it is in those of Anglo-Saxon descent whose business as bartenders, musicians, entertainers and such require them to spend their days and nights on Mexican territory.

To the casual observer there appears to be more than the ordinary amount of liquor drinking by these people, but they are endeavoring to put on a casual front to reassure the throngs of American tourists upon whose patronage their living depends.

Mayor Cubillos and Chief of Police Montana tell the questioner that there is absolutely no chance of the rebels getting past the guardian line which Gov. Abelardo Rodrigues is throwing up along the boundary of the state of Sonora.

The barkeepers, musicians and the girl entertainers will tell you a similar story in less polite but far more forcible American language. However, they are likely to admit to one who is in their confidence: "You never can tell about these Mexican revolutions."

Their condition is similar to that of an audience witnessing a thrilling ghost play—any little thing will make them jump even though they know it will come out all right.

ELUDED RICHES

Hearing He's Hunted, Heir to Big Fortune Secludes Self

OAKLAND, Calif., March 11. (INS)—Hearing rumors that a "mystery man" was looking for him, E. H. Kuhl, painter, went into hiding several weeks ago.

Threats upon his life had been made by an unknown man after Kuhl had testified in a federal court action, and he was not taking any chances.

Kuhl turned up today to find he was heir to a $350,000 estate, left by his foster mother, Mrs. Mary E. Kuhl of Seminole, Okla. The "mystery man" was James Fisher, an Oklahoma attorney.

TEXAS GYPSY FEARS RULER

King Threatens Man Who Asks Sheriff's Aid

SAN ANTONIO, March 11. (UP) —The weight of a king's command was heard in America again today when Frank Mitchell, a Gypsy of San Antonio, appealed to Sehriff Alfonso Newton here for protection from King Bimbo, ruler of all Gypsies in the United States, who, he claimed, was en route to San Antonio to inflict punishment for disregarding a tribal law.

Mitchell told Sheriff Newton that a friend had warned him that King Bimbo was on his way to San Antonio to wreak vengeance on him because he married without the king's consent, and ignored the Gypsy monarch's command to pay a fee to the Gypsy treasury for permission to wed.

He explained that it has long been a custom among Gypsies for the groom to purchase the bride from her father, with a portion of the dowery going to the king after he had approved the pact.

Mitchell said he married his Gypsy sweetheart several months ago and was not disturbed until word of the wedding got to King Bimbo. The latter immediately wrote to Mitchell severely criticising him for violating the tribal law, and demanding that he forward a specified sum of money to him immediately.

Mitchell ignored the command, and was notified that King Bimbo was on his way here to enforce the tribal law.

Sheriff Newton assured Mitchell protection.

GOTHAM RUM TRADE WANES

Jones Law Disastrous For Bootleggers

NEW YORK, March 11. (INS)—The bootleggers in this man's town are going back to the farm.

The night clubs are drying up like a nineteenth century prune. Pretty soon, a fellow is liable to get something to eat there.

The speakeasies are in panic—the bartenders are so excited they are drinking their own liquor.

Five years imprisonment in a joint where the bars aren't mahogany—the penalty under the new Jones enforcement law—today hung over the Broadway wet belt like a tramp over the free lunch.

And by the way, if the bartender asks you your name don't say Jones, say Smith.

500 Speakeasies Close

Since the Jones law went into effect a week ago more than 500 speakeasies have voluntarily padlocked themselves.

They are frankly waving the white apron in token of surrender—five years in prison is too long between drinks, the owners declare.

And there are other things to make the business go blotto.

President Hoover's plans for a law enforcement fact finding commission will do the liquor trade no good.

And then the sudden visit here of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition enforcement, made every bootlegger's heart shimmy in fear.

Mabel Is Opera Fan

Although Mrs. Willebrandt insisted she was here only to attend the opera, the night club proprietors were dubious.

"She wants to see us dance on a bass drum—that's the show she wants to see," said one.

The first of the big night clubs to fold up is The Jungle. This was an expensive pleasure zoo with a troubadour attached to each table and a couvert charge of five dollars to start with. Others are planning to follow suit, a survey revealed.

Liquor prices already have been jacked up. It is expected that within six months the price on every brand of alleged alcoholic beverage will be doubled.

With the new elements affecting the rum-running business, a bloody fight between different wholesale liquor factions is expected for control.

The "uptown" and "downtown" liquor syndicates have come to an open break even now, police say. The slaying of "Fatty" Walsh, former bodyguard of Arnold Rothstein, in Miami, is attributed to the opening of this feud.

Meanwhile, in a threatening voice, it is announced by authorities that the very first United States jail will be opened here within a month.

COWBOY GROOM BACK TO WORK

Big Boy Gillespie Heals Breach With Thorne

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 11. (INS)—Love and the movies conquered all obstacles today for George (Big Boy) Gillespie, cowboy-actor, and his recent bride, Katherine Thorne, Chicago society girl, with a hitherto irate father showering his blessings upon the run-away couple.

His face radiating smiles, Gillespie showed up for work at the Universal City lot with the announcement that all was forgiven by Robert J. Thorne, Chicago multi-millionaire, who had registered paternal objections to the romantic wedding of his daughter to the Arizona cowpuncher.

Her parents became reconciled to the marriage, Gillespie explained, when he crashed into the movies after eloping with their daughter from Castle Rock to Phoenix, Ariz.

Promising to bring his bride to the studios, Gillespie said she was staying in seclusion with her father and mother in a nearby city, having followed him here.

Horse Thief 'King' Of Kansas Passes

DODGE CITY, Kan., March 11. (AP)—Ben Hodges, Dodge City's most picturesque survivor of the days when this former cattle town was known as "the wickedest town in the west," died here yesterday at the disputed age of 75 years.

Ben has been celebrated in local folk lore and many magazine articles as the most dreaded horse thief of the old bad west. He was inordinately proud of the reputation.

During recent years doubters have published statements that these stories grew out of nothing but an early career of making a living in the easiest way he could devise.

2 TO 1 RATIO ON COMMITTEES

Republicans Hold Edge On Demos

WASHINGTON, March 11. (UE) —Two-to-one, with a few exceptions, will be the ratio of party strength in the make-up of committees in the new house. One exception is ways and means, already reorganized to draft tariff legislation for the forthcoming extra session. The lineup there is five to three, with 15 Republicans to nine Democrats, as compared with 15 to 10, or a three to two ratio in the last congress.

In general the Republicans will gain one and the Democrats lose one member each on about 40 of the 46 standing committees.

The two-to-one ratio as the prevailing rule was indicated in the reorganization of the committee on agriculture, which already has been shaped up to draft farm relief legislation for the extra session. The representation of 13 to eight was shifted to 14 to seven. As 26 committees in the last house were on the 13 to eight basis they can all be expected to be recast on the basis of 14 to seven.

Except for ways and means, agriculture and rules, house leaders have deferred the assigning of committee places to the opening of the regular session next December.

Puts New Life Into Dull, Tired, Faded Skin

Home-Made, but Ends Bad Cough In a Hurry

To end a stubborn cough quickly, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Put this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and soothes away the inflammation. At the same time it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in obstinate bronchial coughs and "flu" coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Sour Stomachs Made Sweet

For a Few Cents You Banish All Discomfort That Follows Eating

If you cannot eat what you like, if you have to avoid certain foods because they sour on your stomach, you should know that you can end the trouble for a few cents.

Gordon's, a stomach and bowel antiseptic, acts promptly. One dose will relieve sour stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, bloating, heartburn, and other discomforts that follow eating. It soothes and heals the irritated and inflamed stomach lining, made raw by acids and poisons.

Gordon's costs less than three cents a dose. Get a bottle today at any drug store and take it according to directions. If not satisfied, your druggist will refund your money.

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. They they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders.—Adv

IN A BAD FIX AFTER ILLNESS

Lady Says She Had No Appetite; Continued Weak Until Cardui Helped Her.

SMYRNA, Ga.—"I have taken Cardui several times in my life, and have always felt a marked improvement after I had used it," says Mrs. Claud Owens, of this place.

"When I was first growing into womanhood, I had little strength and lost my appetite almost completely. My mother had used Cardui, and she knew what a fine medicine it was, so she got some for me to take. I got lots better, so since that time, which was nine or ten years ago, I have taken Cardui when I felt badly.

"Last year I was ill and did not recover as fast as I should have.

"My back had given me trouble. It ached a lot, and I suffered considerable pain in my side. I felt weak, and it was such an effort on my part to do my housework.

"It seemed to me like I just could not eat. Nothing tasted good, and my digestion was poor.

"After I began to take Cardui, my improvement was noticeable. In a little while I was much stronger. I began to eat and enjoy my meals."

'An Unpleasant Subject'

All of the functions of life are not pleasant to consider. Perhaps this is why some mothers refuse to think that such symptoms as restless sleep, loss of flesh, lack of appetite or itching nose and fingers in their children, can be caused by round or pin worms. Many mothers have proven, however, that a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, that sure and harmless worm expellant, will make these symptoms disappear. You can get White's Cream Vermifuge for 35 cents per bottle from Miller Drug Store.

"Reach for a Lucky and not for a sweet"

Fannie Ward

Fannie Ward
Famous for Her Ever-Youthful Appearance.

Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet.

"'Reach for a Lucky and not for a sweet.' That's been my policy ever since Luckies started—my way of retaining the figure I need to be known as the ever-youthful Fannie Ward. So I say to you women who want to cheat time as I have done, 'Reach for a Lucky and not for a sweet.'"

FANNIE WARD

THE modern common sense way—reach for a Lucky instead of a fattening sweet. Everyone is doing it—men keep healthy and fit, women retain a trim figure. Lucky Strike, the finest tobaccos, skilfully blended, then toasted to develop a flavor which is a delightful alternative for that craving for fattening sweets.

Toasting frees Lucky Strike from impurities. 20,679 physicians recognize this when they say Luckies are less irritating than other cigarettes. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This confirms in no uncertain terms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

STANLEY BENTON REPORTS AND ALL SPUDDERS ARE IN CAMP

RABBIT FACES FIGHT FOR JOB

Spiers and Garms Provide Keen Competition

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

The last of the Spudder veterans is in camp. Rabbit Benton, shortstop for the past two seasons, reported yesterday.

The Rabbit, as fat and chipper as a canary (the simile is appropriate, for Benton is an accomplished singer) arrived in the afternoon, too late to don a monkey suit for a workout. He is accompanied by Mrs. Benton and their son, Teddy, and they made the drive from their home at Portsmouth, Ohio.

Benton will be out in diamond regalia today, ready to start the battle to retain his place as the Wichita Falls shortfielder. And it is quite a fight that the Rabbit faces, what with George Spiers, the former Southern association and Sally league infielder and Bebs Garms from Abilene providing stern competition.

He'll Reduce Soon

It is not inferred that Stanley Benton is bulging with excess weight. But he IS several pounds over his mid-summer weight. However, it is just as well that a ball player does carry some surplus poundage when he reports. And a few days of Skipper Jim's double sessions and some hot sun that we will have again soon will reduce Rabbit to his normal playing weight. If still is quite a spell before the bell rings for the opening of the championship season.

The arrival of Benton makes eight or nine infielders, exclusive of first base, who are bidding for Spudder berths. In addition to the shortstops there is Pete Turgeon and Bear Allday, second basemen, and Wally Swenson, Milt Gordon and Jack Wright, third baseman. Wright isn't on the Spudder roster, but is listed as an Abilene player. It's all the same, however, and Jack is an experienced ball player and has shown enough class to indicate that he isn't out of the running for the hot corner job. He is a young man, too.

Dallas Clements is the only first baseman on the Wichita Falls personnel and he has a great opportunity to land the job. Clements came here with the reputation of being a sweet fielder, which he is, but a doubtful hitter. The Texas youngster has shown all that could be desired at bat to date. He is a switch hitter and takes a nice cut at the ball from either side of the plate.

Spuds Take Batting Drills

Despite chilling breezes and lowering clouds yesterday Foreman Galloway sent the athletes through their usual two-a-day drill. No practice game was played, following the nine-inning contest Sunday, but an extended batting session was indulged in.

The Spudders are far along in their work for this early. They have not missed a training session since they started work March 1. The squad has been reduced from the 70-odd tossers who were here a few days at the opening of camp, to about 50, and the boss now is pointing his athletes for the start of exhibition games, next Saturday and Sunday with the St. Paul Saints here.

Shairen, an infielder from Pana, Ill., and recommended by Mike Cvengros, reported yesterday.

Five releases were handed out, to Second Baseman Speck Roberts, Pitcher Neale Moore, Pitcher Hoskins, Outfielder Sites and First Baseman Wade.

3 Ten-Round Bouts Feature Bill Here

Three 10-round bouts, featuring boxers well known here or of good reputations as scrappers elsewhere, are carded on the weekly program tomorrow night at the Palace theater.

Cyclone Hall, the k. o.-punching Childress middleweight, will meet Johnny Papke of Kansas City in the final of three three feature wars. It will be Papke's first appearance here but he is said to be a capable battler.

Rudy Hodge of Houston, stopped last week by the veteran Mickey Riley, faces Pug Sutherland, another hard socker from Childress, in the second bout. They are junior welterweights.

Joe McComas, clever bantam from Dallas, meets Johnny Garvinay, the Mexican who took a severe pasting from Howard Scott, in the opening 10-rounder.

The SPORTLIGHT

By GRANTLAND RICE

Concerning Certain Philosophies

A certain careworn bard once wrote—
(Provided I correctly quote)
"This is my slogan, I confess,
Life means little and death means less."
Which might work out in the daily skit
If one could get away with it.

As to what life means—I do not know,
Save that the years still come and go,
Or go and come on faster wings
Year after year to new-born springs,
And with so many candles burned
I know how little I have learned.

I might be wise—but life to me
Is still one unsolved mystery,
Where I'm content through coming Junes
To hear the surf roll to the dunes,
And find more pleasure in the game
Where April dogwood lifts its flame.

"If," Jack Sharkey is quoted as saying, "they want to pay $25 for the pleasure of calling me a yellow Polack, that's their lookout and not mine." Which, in a way, is another piece of philosophy that is hard to challenge when you think it over.

When it comes to a tough piece of human flesh to eliminate from the heavyweight scene there is one Paulino Uzcudun, whose golden molars still reflect the blaze of an unconquerable smile. Mr. Uzcudun may be no world beater, but after enough hammering to bring down Gibraltar, he still remains solidly on both feet—hoping for the best and not bothering much about the worst. Which, in its way, is also a fair piece of philosophy to consider.

From Our California Scout

Dear Sir: Entered for the jumping flea championship—first award, handsome rubber-faced putter—the putting greens of the Pasadena Country club, where with every stroke you have to play the Sierras. Tricky? My word. Think you're a good judge of slopes, do you? Then try these on your optics. When you seem to have a downhill putt you have nothing of the sort. It's up. And when it looks like an uphill tap, it's sure to be down. Mostly you can't see any slope at all. But it's there. Even when you slide by the cup and watch the ball roll up what seems to be a nice, little grade, you don't believe it. Yet toward the mountains always is up, away from 'em is always down, and you can either play it that way or pay. Even the fairways are that way, although they look as level as a barn floor. One 518-yard hole seems perfectly flat from the tee, but before you have reached the green you have elevated yourself 105 feet. Your eyes don't know it, but your heels do. You feel the drag. But what else can you expect in a country where they pick out one of the highest peaks and call it Mt. Lowe?

Sewell Ford

So far this season we have received no report from Mr. Ford, who with George Ade, formed the Willing Ears Co., Ltd., a company formed to benefit all golfers and protect the non-combatants, or unwilling listeners. You may recall that for $2, you, being a golfer, could hire a willing listener and describe in full every stroke played, without having him run away, or be all set to tell you one at the first intake of breath. Can it be that the willing listeners, even for high pay, finally cracked under the strain and disappeared? A report from Sewell Ford, the company's first president, would be interesting to such stockholders that might still remain.

Asking One

Why is it that so many mutts
Wait for the day to miss short putts?
Yearn for the day of deep despond
Where topped irons splash into a pond?

We note where Rogers Hornsby says he is glad to be with the Cubs. Rogers was also glad to be with the Cardinals—glad to be with the Giants and glad to be with the Braves. Glad, in fact, to be with any club that will reward him neatly for taking a bat up to the plate and starting either a fast or curve ball in the opposite direction. Which is reasonable enough.

"I see," writes L. F., "that in a certain round, Farrell missed an easy putt. The only easy putts I ever saw were the ones they conceded me. And they have quit doing that now."

Won't the next heavyweight champion have to beat some one that is nearly a champion, to be the next heavyweight champion? That may be one of the stymies to be considered later on.

MR. DEMPSEY RATES HIMSELF

Jack's Services Come High; Wants $100,000 or More

BY ALAN J. GOULD

NEW YORK, March 11. (AP)—It may all be for the best interests of the ballyhoo but this week, it seems, will decide whether W. H. Dempsey, the well known promoter, is to operate as a free-lance rival to the Madison Square Garden corporation or as an aid to the spread of its power in the boxing world.

Mr. Dempsey admits that it is all a matter of dollars and cents—mostly dollars. He would not even consider accepting such a salary as the late Tex Rickard received from the garden—$30,000 a year. In fact it would take at least $100,000 to interest the former champion in a business way.

But why not that much or more? Demysey asks. It costs about $50,000 to live, maintain an entourage, entertain and whatnot. The modern business of boxing has raised the cost of upkeep.

Dempsey's potentialities as a promoter now have been fairly well established. He is seeking to make the best connections he can with an eye to the future. And since the game has begun attracting bankers and big business men to its leadership, here and elsewhere, Dempsey is weighing the best offers at hand.

Without him, Madison Square Garden's potentates might find themselves faced with a strong rival force. With him, they would advance a step nearer the monopoly they now virtually enjoy on the big shows, especially along the Atlantic seaboard from Boston to Miami.

Old-Timers Through

It takes a pair of bifocals to get the proper slant on the competitive prospects and talent this spring.

Jack Dempsey won't fight again; Ty Cobb is through; and Ray Barbuti can't run; for the present anyway, or until the A. A. U. decrees; Devereux Milburn has a six-goal handicap in polo, by request; Jole Ray and Johnny Weissmueller are professionals; and Big Tilden has decided for the present, he won't be a Davis Cup candidate.

But for a few tough-fibred veterans such as Old Jack Quinn, Old Pete Alexander, and Clarence Demar, the old guard's ranks would be nearly wiped out for the coming campaigns. Few others outside of golf or crickett can share the distinction of these three in being beyond 40 and still going.

McLarnin Nears Title

After another year of cuffing and being cuffed, Jimmy McLarlin may get closer to the lightweight crown in 1929 than he did in 1925, assuming he can stick to the 135-pound limit without impairing his stamina or punching powers.

The baby-faced kid, one of the big sensations of the ring a year ago after he knocked out Sid Terris, came to grief against the skillful boxing and footwork of the champion, Sammy Mandell, now Jimmy is on the upgrade, after gathering considerable experience and a few hard knocks, including a knockout at the hands of Ray Miller of Chicago. Recently he flattened the rugged Brooklyn tailor, Joe Glick.

OUR SPUDDERS open their exhibition season next Saturday, and soon we will have a line on the most likely rookies to make their summer home in our fair city. Nothing brings out the diamond skill—and lack of it—in a ball player as the spring games. While the Spudders' playing program does not list as many games as last spring, there are numerous contests to be played every week-end. Indeed, it seems that the spring number of games is exceptionally well balanced, with just the right number of games to give the athletes competition under fire, but not too many. Too much spring baseball might result in some of the vets going stale.

The St. Paul Saints open the training game schedule here Saturday and Sunday. The Spudders are confining all their spring games to Athletic park. The Oklahoma City Indians of the Western league will be here March 22, 23 and 24.

A TEAM of New York Giants will furnish the first glimpse here of a big league club. The McGraw aggregation is here March 27 and 28. Five games are to be played in a row by the Spudders, with the Tulsa Oilers, champions of the Western league, here March 29, 30 and 31.

The Chicago White Sox, with numerous former Texas leaguers in its lineup, including our own George Blackerby, will make their annual spring trek here for games April 5, 6 and 7. Two contests with the Fort Worth Cats, April 13 and 14, conclude the schedule.

BASEBALL enthusiasts here, and in fact fans all around the Texas wheel, rejoice in the successful operation undergone by J. Alvin Gardner, and the splendid progress toward recovery made by the Spudder chieftain. Gardner holds a high place in the esteem of baseball men and those who make the game possible—the clickers of the turnstiles—and there was great concern when it was learned he must go under the knife, and subsequent rejoicing when the good news of its success was announced.

I thought of him, up there at the hospital, while the Spudders were playing Sunday, and I wondered if fans here really appreciate to the fullest extent what he has done for baseball in Wichita Falls and the Texas league as a whole. He has given this city, one of the smallest in the league, consistent winning ball clubs and a park to be proud of. And he is a leading factor in the councils of the Texas league and a guiding hand in its affairs.

Practice of the Spudders is progressing splendidly—but it will be better when J. Alvin Gardner is out, which will be a couple of weeks. I don't mean that J. Alvin will tell Jim how to run the ball club. But a Spudder workout or ball game lacks something when J. Alvin isn't watching them, with the great and justifiable pride he has in his club.

STEERS DRILL DESPITE RAIN

Joe Martina and Si Rosenthal Still Absent

CORSICANA, Texas, March 11. (AP)—Braving a drizzle that became a downpour at one time, Manager Stock and his Dallas Steers plowed through a brief but heavy workout at their training camp here today. Pepper games and just enough tossing to limber up stiff arms completed the workout.

Joe Martina, pitcher, Si Rosenthal, holdout outfielder, and Fred Koster, formerly of Akron, are the only athletes not working out.

WACO CUBS KEPT INACTIVE BY RAIN

WACO, March 11. (AP)—Although the Waco baseball hopefuls were due to begin spring training this afternoon, continuous rains kept them indoors. Twenty-two had reported for practice and the balance were due tonight or early tomorrow.

Wayne Windle remained a holdout. Windle was offered a raise but refused to accept, stating that he wanted to be sold out of the Texas league.

Congress Should Investigate This

Bootleg Football Will Be Banned by Rules Board

By TED VOSBURGH

NEW YORK, March 11. (AP)—What might be called a "bootleg ball" has made its appearance on the gridirons of the country and Chairman Edward K. Hall of the National Football Rules committee today announced strict measures designed to stop its use.

The case against the football dates back to last season when reports began to come in that strangely shaped balls had been observed—balls with "snouts" ideally adapted to gripping for forward passing—and that dealers were selling "either passing balls or kicking balls" at the option of the buyer.

Reports also were received of over-inflation of the football, the oval in some instances being blown up to 50 pounds of pressure, or more than three times the correct poundage with a consequence that booting the ball felt like kicking a radiator or a hat with a brick in it. A punter capable of getting 40 yards with the genuine article thus could get no more than 27 or 28 yards with the rocklike counterfeit.

These violations of precedent, Mr. Hall said, were reported particularly in the West—"the far West, the Southwest and the mountain states"—but near the end of the season were appearing also on the football fields of the East. In many cases, he said, the over-inflation of the ball, or its equally reprehensible under-inflation which is a boon to the forward passer, was a matter of accident and not design.

HEENEY, VON PORAT SET

CHICAGO, March 11. (UP)—Otto Von Porat and Tom Heeney, heavyweight boxers who meet here tomorrow night, finished their training with light exercises today.

SCHWARTZ BOXED BELANGER

TORONTO, March 11. (UP)—Frenchy Belanger and Corporal Izzy Schwartz, who meet here tomorrow night for the world's flyweight title, ended training today with the light exercises.

Training Camp Chatter

DALLAS, March 11. (UP)—For the first time since their arrival in Dallas, the White Sox missed a practice session today because of the heavy drizzle which began falling early in the day.

The holiday was enjoyed by the athletes after the daily workouts. Manager Lena Blackburne said tonight he would take his charges to the park Tuesday morning for an infield practice, and if weather permits, a practice game between the regulars and the Blues will be held in the afternoon.

BRAVES BEAT CARDS

AVON PARK, Fla., March 11. (AP)—The Boston Braves batted around and drove in four runs in the sixth inning today to win an exhibition game from the St. Louis Cardinals, 8 to 5.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Boston 102 004 100	8	13	5
St. Louis 002 010 020	5	11	4

Brandt, Greenfield and Collins, Spohrer, Taylor; Heise, Boykin, Johnson, Martin and Mancuso, E. Smith.

RAIN HALTS GIANTS

SAN ANTONIO, March 11. (UP)—The New York Giants enjoyed an enforced rest today while a heavy rain beat down on their spring training camp here. It was the first time this year that the weather had forced the New York nine to accept a complete rest. Eddie Roush and Bill Terry awaited the team here upon its return from Laredo, bringing the team to full strength.

A'S PLAY REDS TODAY

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 11. (UP)—The Philadelphia Athletics rested today, storing up energy for the start tomorrow of a series of 25 exhibition games that will bring them back to the Quaker City April 6.

The Macks series with the Reds, which now stands at one victory each, will be resumed here tomorrow and on Thursday the A's will engage their home city rivals, the Phillies, at Winter Haven.

PHIL OUTFIELD PROBLEM

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 11. (UP)—Although Cy Williams will do pinch hitting mainly this season, Burt Shotton has a problem in deciding on three regular outfielders from among the other four candidates. Klein, O'Doul, Peel and Southern are all capable of daily play, and appear almost even in ability.

Two routine workouts occupied the camp today, but another game with the local independent nine has been arranged for tomorrow.

TWO SOLONS HOLDOUT

TAMPA, Fla., March 11. (UP)—Sad Sam Jones, one of the most effective of the American league right handed pitchers last year, is still dickering with officials of the Washington Senators over the terms of his 1929 contract. Jones failed to reach an agreement after a four-hour conference with President Clarke Griffith last night and is understood to be asking in the neighborhood of $15,000.

Goose Goslin, Washington's other holdout, has not conferred with Griffith as yet but was in uniform today.

REDS RAINED OUT

MIAMI, Fla., March 11. (UP)—Rain prevented the daily work out of the Cincinnati Reds here today. Manager Jack Hendricks announced that Ray Kolp and Roy Meeker would be two of the three pitchers to face the Philadelphia Athletics at Ft. Myers Tuesday.

BUC INFIELD REVAMPED

PASO ROBLES, Calif., March 11. (UP)—Manager Owen Bush reconstructed his Pittsburgh Pirate infield again in practice today, sending "Sparky" Adams to third base and Dick Bartell to second. Pie Traynor remained at short and Earl Sheely at first. The new combination was given a brisk workout. The quartet will represent the Pirate regulars in the intra-club game with the yannigans Tuesday.

TIGERS TAKE IT EASY

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 11. (UP)—Members of the Detroit Tigers enjoyed a rest today after going through two hectic games of intra-squad competition. Manager Bucky Harris decided to call a holiday when he found several of his players nursing sore arms and legs.

YANK LINEUP SET

ST. PETERSBURG, March 11. (UP)—Miller Huggins decided upon his starting lineup for the first exhibition game at Tampa tomorrow and left Lyn Lary, the young coast leaguer, at shortstop and Mark Koening at third base. Myles Thomas and Sheely were announced as the starting pitchers.

RED SOX REGS WIN

BRADENTOWN, Fla., March 11. (UP)—Bill Carrigan's regulars, smarting under a defeat handed them Saturday by the yans, belted out an 8 to 2 victory over the second team today. Elliott Bigelow, formerly to the Washington and Birmingham teams, hit a home run with two on in the seventh. Tomorrow will be day of plain workout with the first exhibition game of the season coming Wednesday with the St. Louis Cardinals as opposition.

CUBS BACK AT CAMP

AVALON, CATALINA ISLAND, March 11. (UP)—The Chicago Cubs crossed a rough stretch of water on their return trip here from Los Angeles today after an exhibition series and took only a light workout this afternoon.

Games will be played here Tuesday and Wednesday. The team will return to the mainland Thursday for a series of exhibition games with Los Angeles and Detroit.

Schmeling May Box Paulino in Summer

NEW YORK, March 11. (AP)—If all goes well, the next big heavyweight battle will take place in the Yankee stadium June 27 with Max Schmeling of Germany in one corner and Paulino Uzcudun, Spanish woodchopper, in the other.

Tom McArdle, matchmaker at Madison Square garden, announced tentative plans for the fight today. No contracts have been signed.

Brownsville Prep Grid Squad to Play Contest

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, March 11. (AP)—Intent on keeping their untarnished record of 1928 intact, Brownsville high school football players, in spring training for two weeks, will play a full game Wednesday, 22 of the leading candidates on the squad of 40 being selected for the contest. The Brownsville team was undefeated last season.

Tentative arrangements have been made for games with teams from Chicago and Birmingham, Ala., next season.

Boston Braves Will Finish Eighth For Good Reason There Is No Ninth

Alleged Ball Club Consists of One Good Player, Lance Richbourg, and Amateur on Bench Disguised as Manager

(This is the first of a series of articles by George E. Phair on the pennant race in the National league.)

By GEORGE E. PHAIR

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 11. (US)—Picking the winner of eighth position in the National league pennant race is easier than falling off the water wagon.

The unanimous choice for the submarine championship of John Heydler's baseball circuit is none other than the Boston Braves. This alleged ball club consists of one big league player and an amateur sitting on the bench disguised as a manager.

The one big league player is Lance Richbourg, a real outfielder, who can go out and get them and who can hit that ball with much vigor besides. It is one of the tragedies of baseball that a young man of Lance's ability must waste his sweetness on the desert air of Brave field. The rest of the outfield does not count.

At first base is George Sisler, once a remarkable athlete but now a jaded veteran. George can still hit the ball, but his once nimble feet have slowed down to a walk. On the baselines he clogs the traffic, and in the vicinity of first base he covers about as much ground as might be covered by his glove.

Maguire at Second

At second base is Freddie Maguire, one of the athletes acquired from the Cubs in exchange for Rogers Hornsby. Freddie probably will cover more ground then Hornsby did and will catch more pop flies in the direction of right field, but that lets him out. As a hitter he will never begin to approach the one and only Rajah, and the Braves will need a lot of hitting this season.

The shortstop job is a tossup between Rabbit Maranville and Doc Farrell. The rabbit did a pretty good job for the Cardinals when Tommy Thevenow bogged down last year but the fact remains that he is not the speedy rabbit of old. He helped the Braves to win a pennant and a world series back in 1914, but miracles seldom happen twice in the same place. Doc Farrell batted his way into temporary fame when he subbed for the Giants in 1927 but since then his hitting has faded away to a whisper. His fielding is brilliant at times but he is too erratic for a pennant winning ball club.

Lester Bell, at third base, played a great game with the Cardinals when Hornsby led the club into a world's series, but has never been the same since. Hornsby still thinks Lester is a great ball player but official records do not prove it. Judge Fuchs refused to sell him to the Cubs this winter for some reason or other, probably because there was not enough cash in the offering.

Pat Collins the Catcher

The catching staff is nothing to grow enthusiastic about. The best of the lot is Pat Collins, released by the Yanks last autumn for various reasons. Assisting Pat is Zach Taylor, whose feet are as slow as his head, if possible, and Al Sperber, a happy warrior who does not take his baseball seriously. You can't blame him, playing with a club like that.

The pitching staff is hardly worth mentioning. It consists largely of young men who throw the ball in the general direction of the plate and then duck. The Braves lost their last pitcher when they traded Larry Benton to the Giants.

On the managerial bench we have Judge Fuchs himself, not a motion picture. The judge is a nice fellow personally, and is good to his folks and all that, but it takes much more to make successful baseball managers. He will have the expert advise of John Evers and Hank Gowdy, which will only add to the general confusion. Divided authority on the bench spells ruin to a ball club.

The consensus among baseball scribes is that the Braves will finish eighth because there is no ninth place.

Breckenridge to Hold A. A. U. Cage Tourney

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, March 11. (AP)—W. F. Jacoby, Dallas, secretary of the Texas A. A. U., reached here today to supervise drawings for play in the annual girl's state basketball tournament which starts here Thursday.

Between 25 and 30 schools are expected to participate. Any class A school in the state with a girl team is eligible. Entries have been addressed to Jess Pipkin, chairman of the athletic committee of the Breckenridge Chamber of Commerce.

Rooms in private homes will be provided for visiting players.

Wright's Arm Bad and Robins May Ask Annulment of Deal With Bucs

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 11. (UP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers may ask President John Heydler of the National league to annul the deal that brought Glenn Wright to the Dodgers from Pittsburgh, it was indicated here today, if it is found that the injury to the famous shortstop's arm is a permanent one.

It was learned today that Wright did not injure his throwing arm in early practice, as was first reported, but received the injury last November, several weeks before the trade was made, when he crashed his shoulder into the brick wall of a handball court.

Unless Wright's shoulder yields to the treatments he now is receiving at Miami, the Dodgers are expected to seek the return to the Brooklyn club of Jess Petty and Harry Riconda.

New economy for 35c a quart

Mobiloil dealers now offer you an improved Mobiloil, made especially for new economy under today's high-speed driving conditions

Today's driving conditions demand still better lubricating oils, superior to anything produced before. The New Gargoyle Mobiloil meets this need.

Any Mobiloil dealer can supply you with the new economy Mobiloil at 35c a quart. Your saving in oil and gasoline consumption alone will more than make up for the extra 5c a quart.

MAKE THIS TEST

Drive to the nearest Mobiloil dealer . . . have him drain all the old oil from your crankcase and . . . fill it up with the correct grade of the New Mobiloil. You know from experience how your engine ran the last time fresh oil was put in the crankcase . . . Now—notice the difference!

Look for these results—

Increased Oil Mileage: Often 100 extra miles per quart from the New Mobiloil.
Increased Gasoline Mileage: Many tests show gasoline consumption reduced as much as 16%.
Faster Pick-Up—More Power: Quicker getaway, more "pep" on the road, less labor on the hills.
Smoother Operation: A quieter motor, a velvety smoothness of acceleration, less vibration when speeding.

new Mobiloil 35c a quart

The dealer who sells a quart of the New Mobiloil for less than 35c (except Mobiloil "B" the chatterproof oil for Model T Fords, at 30c) is not making his fair reasonable profit. Lower prices often accompany substitution.

Some Inexpensive Menus

The cost of groceries for the menus outlined in my newspaper articles for the month of February comes to approximately 50c per person per day. A number of letters have come in asking for less expensive menus.

Naturally, the menus given in my newspaper articles are chosen not by their cost but by their healthful qualities. If one desires to make more of an economy, some changes may be made to suit the pocketbook. Today and also Wednesday and Thursday, I am outlining some menus especially for their inexpensiveness. At the same time, they contain all of the elements required for maintaining health.

Inexpensive Menu No. 1

Breakfast—Soft-boiled whole wheat, condensed milk, stewed raisins. Lunch—Baked potatoes, oleomargarine, carrots, lettuce. Dinner—Hamburger, beets and beet greens, oleomargarine, salad of shredded cabbage, baked apple.

The whole wheat is ordinary cleaned wheat which may be purchased in any feed store for from 3c to 6c a pound. At the 6c price, if each person uses two ounces at a meal, the cost would only be three-fourths of a cent a person, or 2¼c for a family of three.

A small can of condensed milk costing 8c will also supply three people. Stewed raisins in quantities can be purchased for from 8c to 10c a pound, about a half pound being required for three people. The total cost of this breakfast for three people is only 12c or 4c per person.

Luncheon is slightly more expensive, but in quantities the price of potatoes is 2c to 3c a pound. Vegetables are quite an item in this menu, especially during the winter months, but where the fresh vegetables are not obtainable, or are too expensive, it is perfectly all right to use canned varieties, however, using such raw vegetables as carrots and lettuce, which are comparatively 23c for three people, or about 8c per person.

Hamburger may be substituted for ground round steak when one desires to make an economy. The price ranges from 15c to 20c per pound. Hamburger usually contains a little more fat than is desirable for a sick person's menu, but there is no reason why a well person cannot use it, and it is the least expensive of all meats, since the butcher can use scraps for making hamburger which would otherwise be difficult to sell. As long as hamburger is fresh it is wholesome.

Whenever possible one should purchase beets and turnips with the tops in good condition as these make excellent greens and can be used in place of spinach. Raw cabbage is quite wholesome and not as gas forming as the cooked cabbage. It is almost the least expensive of the green vegetables and has the added advantage of keeping well and being obtainable where other vegetables are scarce.

Apples, fortunately, are found at almost every season of the year and may be used to great advantage in the winter and early spring menus.

The dinner outlined in this menu would cost approximately 41½c for a family of three, or about 14c per person. The total cost of this menu per month for three people would be $23.40, or $7.80 per person. This is about as cheap as menu as can be devised which will at the same time provide all of the essential elements required by the body.

Another inexpensive menu tomorrow.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Fruit for Child

Question—R. R. writes: "Please let me know through the column what is the best time to give a boy of three years his fruit. Should he have it between meals or with meals?"

Answer: It is usually best to make an entire meal of some one kind of fruit. If fruit is taken between meals it is better to use it at 4 or 5 o'clock in the afternoon before the evening meal which should not contain any highly starchy food.

Mental Shock

Question—Mrs. E. D. G. writes: "My daughter, aged 15, recently had a severe mental shock which has left her in an extremely nervous condition. We have used every method we know of to help her back to normal health, but her progress is slow. Will you please suggest something?"

Answer: The effects of a shock are sometimes difficult to overcome, but since your daughter is still young I feel sure that they will be overcome in the course of time. She should be especially encouraged to follow athletic sports, such as tennis and swimming. These will help to build up her health and influence the mental vitality favorably, although her attention should be balanced as much as possible between physical and mental activities. She should also be given a well balanced diet such as outlined weekly in my newspaper articles.

Figs and Dates

Question—N. J. C. asks: "With what combinations should one eat figs and dates?"

Answer: Figs may be used as a dessert with any protein combination or with sweet milk. Dates combine best with buttermilk or any of the lactic acid or acidophilus milks.

Two Black Crows

MORAN AND MACK

MORAN: When does we leave Washingtun, Big Boy?

MACK: Right now, Egghead.

MORAN: Yo' make up yo' mind sudden.

MACK: My feet says stay. But th' law says move on.

MORAN: How does we go?

MACK: On an O'Sullivan Excursion.

MORAN: I didn't know O'Sullivan owned railroads.

MACK: He don't.

MACK: What does he own, boats?

MACK: Nope, he owns heels.

MORAN: Do yo' mean to say we is walkin' back home?

MACK: Yo' is walkin' back home, brother, as sure as hay is grass.

MORAN: Is that what a O'Sullivan Excursion is?

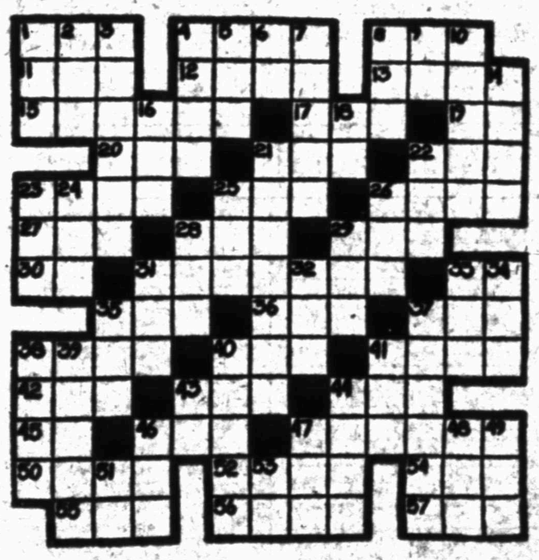

MACK: That's it. An' every time we passes a policeman I wants yo' to look like yo' aint with me.

The Two Black Crows are on their way home with their aching dogs barking a mammy song. If they ever strike a three-cent toll bridge their careers will end on the wrong side of it.

COOKE COUNTY FIELD ACTIVE

Recent Big Wells Spur Operations

By JIMMIE MAXWELL

With two record wells completed in the past week, others setting, casing preparatory to drilling in, and with several new locations staked out, northwest Cooke county is looking toward one of the most active springs since the bringing in of the Hooser discovery well.

The Shell Petroleum company's No. 3 H. L. Dennis, completed last Friday with an initial production of 62 barrels per hour the first 24 hours, has settled down and is pumping 34 barrels hourly from the sand at 1178-1204 feet. This well is a north offset to The Texas company's No. 5 H. L. Dennis which has been completed 12 days and is still pumping 650 barrels.

At present the most active concern is the Kewanee Oil and Gas company, which is giving its leases, both the Hyman and Dennis, a thorough testing. On its Hyman lease three wells are drilling, No. A-8, an offset to the west of the Shell company, No. 4 is swabbing the 1200-foot sand and showing for a nice well. No. A-9, west of Shell No. 3, is drilling at 900 feet, and A-10 Hyman, offsetting the Texas company No. 5, big well to the west, is feeling for the 1200-foot pay. The Kewanee Oil and Gas company No. B-3 Embry, offsetting the Pure Oil company No. 3 to the west, is nearing the 1500-foot sand.

Texas company made location for No. 6 H. L. Dennis, 1712 feet south and 150 feet east of the northwest corner of the T. J. Hutchinson survey, and will be south of No. 5 Dennis big well.

Beckman and associates No. 1 Groote, located about one-quarter of a mile southwest of the productive area, is feeling for the 1400-foot sand and drilling at 1320 feet.

Other tests in the immediate locality are going along in a satisfactory manner and the next week may find additional lands added to the already expanding area of the county.

Late Oklahoma Field Reports

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 11. (AP)—Eight wells in the Oklahoma City oil field had showings today of oil or gas or both, in three sands above the "big pay" tapped by the discovery well of the district.

Exploitation of at least one of these sands was assured, the Mid Kansas Oil and Gas company announcing it would attempt completion of its number 1 Fortson in CSW NE 24 11n, on the basis of rich core showings throughout 12 feet of sand, running from 4972 to 4984 feet.

TULSA—Production of the greater Seminole field declined 95,879 barrels in the 24 hours ended at 7 a. m. today, several of the larger companies continuing the practice of shutting in their producing wells over Sunday. Output was 274,490 barrels as compared to 370,369 barrels in the preceding 24-hour period.

PENN MEX FUEL COMPANY

Five-Year Record

The Penn Mex Fuel company is controlled by the South Penn Oil company, which formerly was a Standard Oil of New Jersey subsidiary, separated from the parent company under the supreme court decree of 1911. The Penn Mex company was formed in 1912, and controls between 150,000 and 160,000 acres of oil lands in the Tampico and Tuxpam fields of Mexico. The company's principal producing territory is in the Alamo field, where it holds a solid block of ground including 93,000 acres.

The company has a gasoline plant and in 1927, completed five storage tanks of 190,000 barrels capacity. It has also 28 miles of eight-inch pipe line from the Alamo field to the Gulf of Mexico, where it has loading terminals far enough out at sea to allow tankers to reach the pipe connections. There are four of these terminals with a total capacity of 4,500 to 7,500 barrels an hour. Two tankers can be loaded at one time. These terminals are subject to no bar duty which is a charge for keeping a channel dredged. The Alamo pool has produced more than 43,000,000 barrels since 1914. The company runs also 14 miles of railway.

The latest income account available is for 1926. In that year net income was $80,002 or 23 cents a share on the stock. There is no funded debt. Capital stock outstanding consists of $10,000,000 in shares of $25 par value. Fifty cents in dividends was paid in May, 1928. In 1926 and 1927, nothing was paid. In 1928 a total of $2 was distributed.

As of Dec. 31, 1924, current assets totaled $2,722,267, current liabilities $206,860, net working capital $2,515,607 and book value of the stock $38.75 a share.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 11. (AP)—A reactionary tone developed in the cotton today following the advances of late last week and prices declined under realizing combined with some local and southern selling. May contracts sold off to 21.21, a decline of 23 points from Saturday's closing quotations, and closed at that figure. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 17 to 23 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 8 to 14 points in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables and better weather reports from the south.

After showing net declines of about 10 to 15 points, prices steadied on renewal of the recent buying movement and covering. Rallies during the middle of the day carried prices back to or a point above Saturday's closing quotations. Later there was a renewal of realizing and the lowest prices of the day were reached in the late trading. Pressure was attributed chiefly to profit taking, but may have included some local selling for a reaction.

The May premium was cut down somewhat, amounting to 1 point over March at the close and to 49 points over July compared with a May-July difference of 56 points at the close on Saturday.

Buying on the midday rally was encouraged by continued favorable reports from the cotton goods trade.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 11. (AP)—Fluctuations in the cotton market today were erratic but prices tended towards lower levels under considerable realizing and hedge selling. Trade buying and covering on prospects for unfavorable weather in the belt checked the decline for a time but the demand was supplied at moderate recoveries and prices made new lows for the day in final trading when May reached 20.53 and closed one point over that figure for a net loss of 17 points. The general market closed steady at net declines of 17 to 20 points.

Liverpool cables were 10 to 11 points lower than due and the local market opened 6 to 10 points down in sympathy. Later the decline was extended to levels 9 to 15 points below Saturday's close.

The official forecast of rains in the western belt attracted trade buying and some covering by shorts who expressed the belief that a return of unfavorable weather would further hamper the already delayed spring preparations. Subsequent rally prices recovered most of the early gain. The market weakened, again however, to 13 to 16 points down from the highs.

Offerings appeared absorbed at the decline and the market encountered some support in the form of ring buying probably on the unfavorable weather prospects and shortly after noon prices advanced 12 to 20 points. In final trading a report that a New York pool was liquidating and that cotton was headed for the northern market for delivery on contracts caused prices to sag again. Active positions made new lows right at the end with July at 20.58, and October 20.23, or 19 to 20 points net down. Final prices were at or near the lowest.

Selling Flurry at End of Session Shoves Stock Prices Much Lower

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, March 11. (UB)—Closing selling wave affected the entire stock market today, as traders rushed to get out because of fear of what the reserve banks were planning. After backing and filling throughout the morning the list rallied as call money was dropped from 9 to 7 per cent. All the gains scored were wiped out in the final rush to get out. Radio, however, was the outstanding feature of the day as it advanced steadily to new high record prices. Although closing lower with the rest of the list, it met support and lost less than 2 points while other active issues lost from 3 to over 6.

Continued liquidation of Steel was evidenced and closed at 4⅝ points lower, while Chrysler dropped 4⅞, Montgomery Ward 3⅜, Westinghouse 3⅛ and Anaconda 4⅜. Railroads dropped with the rest of the list, with Baltimore & Ohio declining 3½ points and others losing from 1 to 2 points. Oils were quiet and somewhat irregular. The turnover just topped the 3,000,000 share level.

Radio was the big feature again. Those most interesting talk more bullish on the new stock than they ever did on the old. There was some belief that the operation was timed with passing of the old stock as the new stock is issued officially tomorrow and the trading stops in the old. However, sponsors for the move report more concrete influences and stress particularly that the corporation has demonstrated its earning power. Confident forecast of record breaking earnings are made for this year and appear warranted by results of operation of the first quarter. Even some of those who are worried about the money situation and therefore extremely cautious as to the market as a whole are among the bulls on Radio. In fact, it has been many weeks since there has been greater cooperation in the market for any one stock by those who have been among the most active in outstanding stocks during the past four years.

Crosley Radio was picked up in good manner also as it is expected to show record earnings for the current period. The recent advance in the shares, according to those most familiar with the property, was a reflection of increased income and was not the result of any technical influence.

Stromberg Carburetor buying was attributed to interests connected with Curtiss and other airplane companies due to the election of Keys as a director. It is expected that these companies ultimately will be taken over by one large holding organization.

The continued selling of Steel for the early part of the day proved an added unsettling factor as it followed a favorable report of unfilled tonnage as to the close of February.

Recent accumulation of Kansas City Southern has been helped by a special analysis of a leading stock exchange firm that is most familiar with the property. It forecasts increase in income this year over the record showing for 1928. Kennecott activity was accompanied by further talk of it going in with Smelters. Newmont mining interests who first bought over a year ago, as told of here at that time, were mentioned as among those most active.

Miami Copper buying is reported to be influenced by expectation of favorable dividend news for stockholders in the near future.

Current rumors indicate that further important merger developments will be taking place in the theatrical industry before long. Shubert is most mentioned.

Easing of the call rate was a surprise to many. It should not have been. In fact, nothing that happens in the money market should be a surprise as the reserve is on record that it is going to force drop in brokers' loans. No better way could be resorted to than by easing rates suddenly and then running them up without apparent reason as was the case toward the end of last week.

MIDWESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, March 11. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Livestock trade around the 11-market loop was featured by a sharp reaction on hogs. Comparatively light receipts prompted an upturn of 30 to 50c, shipping demand being fairly broad. The day's top of $11.75 was paid at St. Louis and Chicago. Total offerings were around 93,000, a shortage of 37,500 from last Monday and 57,000 less than the corresponding day a year ago.

Last week's sharp advance on fat lambs resulted in a fairly liberal Monday run, trade on fat lambs was slow at generally 15 to 25c lower figures while firm values were maintained on aged stock. Chicago had a $17.50 top on choice lambs. The supply approximated 73,100 as compared with 58,153 a week ago and 63,982 the same day last year.

Aggregate receipts of cattle were estimated at 56,400 an increase of 6,000 over a week ago but 2,000 short of a year ago. Packers seized the opportunity afforded by more liberal receipts to share values on medium weights and heavy steers to a slight extent, but purchased freely of other killing classes at steady to strong prices. Chicago scored $14.50 on both heavy steers and yearlings. Stocker and feeder classes were on a steady to 25c higher basis, thin light steers and heifers in broad demand.

Grain

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 11. (AP)—Fresh piling up of wheat supplies in the United States acted as a last straw in determining the course of wheat prices today. Crop complaints from the southwest were thus more than offset, and the wheat market finished on the downward grade after many nervous changes.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, at ¼c to ⅛c net decline, with corn ⅝@⅞c to ⅞@1c down, oats ⅛c to ⅜c off, and provisions 2c to 22c advance.

Accentuating the bearish influence of 905,000 bushels increase show today by the United States wheat visible supply total was announcement that world shipments of wheat for the last week including heavy forwardings from Argentina were the biggest ever known, whereas new export business today from North American continued to be virtually zero.

On the other hand, high winds today in western Kansas and western Oklahoma went hand in hand with reports of crop damage, and led at times to considerable buying of wheat future deliveries here, causing price bulges which, however, failed to hold.

Heavy selling kept corn under pressure throughout the day, especially in the late dealings. There also was a good sized increase of the corn visible supply total.

Provisions reflected new upturns in hog values.

DAMAGE SUIT ASKS $25,000

Auto Crash Made Basis Of Court Claim

Damages aggregating $25,007 are sought from Russell Morgan and the Trinity Portland Cement company in a suit filed by John Maunders and wife, Edith Maunders, in the 78th district court Monday afternoon.

The petitioners alleged that Mrs. Maunders was injured in an automobile accident which occurred at the intersection of Ninth and Grace streets on Jan. 22, 1929. According to the petition, Mrs. Maunders was thrown from her car when it was struck by a machine driven by Russell Morgan and owned by the Trinity Portland Cement company.

Severe injuries to her head, face, shoulders, and chest, and serious internal injuries are alleged to have resulted from the fall, according to the papers filed Monday.

$5,000 AWARDED IN AUTO DAMAGE SUIT

After a jury had been impaneled and four witnesses for the plaintiff had testified, Tom Ballard was given $5,000 damages in a settlement of his suit against S. M. Gose, trial of which had started before Judge W. W. Cook in the 78th district court Monday. Mr. Ballard was represented by E. W. Napier, attorney.

The suit grew out of an automobile accident at the intersection of Ninth and Broad streets on Dec. 13, 1926. According to his own testimony, Mr. Ballard, a brakeman and conductor on the Fort Worth and Denver, was walking across the street and was struck by a car owned by the defendant. The plaintiff, who appeared in the court room walking on crutches, claimed to have been permanently disabled through the injuries received. His original petition sought $10,000 damages.

FATHER AND SON ARE THANKFUL

"Orgatone Has Certainly Been a Relief to Both of Us and I Want to Help Others by Telling About It," Said Wichitan

"My son and I both think Orgatone is a wonderful medicine, for it has certainly been a relief to both of us, and I want to help others by telling about it," said F. M. King, of 1217 North First, Wichita Falls, Texas.

"I was troubled with indigestion and gas forming on my stomach. I could hardly eat any kind of food, for it soured on my stomach, and the gas crowded my heart, which would make me very nervous and restless. I didn't have an appetite and then when I ate, the food didn't seem to give me the needed strength and energy. I have suffered for about 22 years.

"My son, Delton, has had a bad case of stomach trouble, and he, too, had the same bilious and dizzy spells that I did. He had frequent headaches, and was very nervous. The doctors put him on a diet for his stomach trouble, but he didn't seem to get much better, but got worse instead.

"We heard so much about Orgatone and how it was helping others, and so both of us began to take it. I am relieved of all my troubles, and can now eat anything I want. My food seems to digest properly and do me some good, and I'm not nervous or the gas does not crowd my heart as it did. In fact, I feel better and stronger than I have for years. I now have so much energy and feel so full of life, that I feel as if I were one the 'youngsters' again. Delton is also relieved and hasn't had a headache since he started in taking Orgatone. He does not have the bilious or dizzy spells any more, and he eats anything and everything he wants. His stomach seems to be in normal condition, and in fact we both are like different people, and have an entirely new outlook on life. We both prize Orgatone very highly and I am only too glad to say a good word for it, and want to do all I can to help others get relief."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called secret or patent remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by the Allison's Drug store under the personal direction of a special Orgatone nurse. Out-of-town customers are being supplied promptly by mail upon receipt of price, one bottle $1.25 or six bottles for $6.25. — Adv.

County Orders Sale of $27,500 Bonds of Drainage District Here

Sale of $27,500 drainage district No. 1 bonds, proceeds from which will be put to immediate use in draining 3,800 acres of land east of Wichita Falls, was authorized by the county commissioners court in its regular meeting Monday.

A. H. Britain, attorney for the trustees of the drainage district, formed last year, asked the court to advertise the sale of the bonds, so that work could begin at once. A complete system of underground drainage, to clear waterlogged acreage for agricultural use, will be undertaken as soon as the money is available, Mr. Britain said. The district includes several large and well known farms and was formed to meet conditions arising after the completion of the irrigation system. The bonds were voted early in 1928.

The court deferred action on the proposal to buy back $26,000 worth of special road bonds from road district No. 1, until a special meeting to be held on Friday of this week. H. H. Haynes, commissioner from whose funds the bonds must be brought, said Monday that he expected to make the purchase.

The commissioners were served Monday morning with subpoenas to appear in the county court at law Friday morning in the suit of Allred Brothers Auditing company, seeking the collection of a $350 bill, alleged due the company for special auditing work for the county early in 1928.

The court awarded to W. P. Glade a contract to furnish 600 tons of rock asphalt for the surfacing of a mile of the Thornberry road for the sum of $2,890.

The annual report of Wayne Somerville, county attorney, was presented to the court Monday. It showed receipts totaling $12,451.85 during the year, and disbursements in the sum of $10,465. After the county attorney's salary and expenses had been deducted from the difference, a sum of $1,140.00 from excess fees was showed to be due the county.

AUDITORIUM LAWN

Water lines for the irrigation of the Memorial auditorium lawn will be laid during the latter part of this week or the first part of next week, City Manager George D. Fairtrace said Monday.

They will be installed by the city water department. The work of sodding the lawn will begin immediately after the water lines are put into operation, Mr. Fairtrace said.

COWBOY GRIMM SHEDS COAT

Evangelist Tells Audience About 'Real' Revival

Rev. B. B. Crimm, known as the "cowboy evangelist," pulled off his coat, unbuttoned his collar and forcefully told what constitutes a real revival when he delivered his second sermon in Wichita Falls Monday night in the tabernacle at Twenty-second and Yale streets.

The four-weeks revival which the evangelist is to conduct here opened Sunday night.

Fiery Address

The evangelist punctuated his fiery talk with caprices that would probably rival those used by the famous Billy Sunday and delivered portions of his sermon while sitting in a cane-bottom chair beside the pulpit.

"Ninety-nine per cent of the laymen and nine-tenths of the preachers don't know what a real revival is," Evangelist Crimm declared. "A revival is not a pre-Easter campaign, or a win-one campaign, or a card singing campaign. A revival must be within the church itself."

Rev. Crimm declared that he was going to tell the truth during the revival just started, saying "there are too many ham and egg preachers. I am going to tell the truth if I have to eat chili."

Morning Service

Morning meetings of the revival will start Tuesday. The meetings will continue from 10 to 11 a. m. The subject for Tuesday evening's sermon by Rev. Crimm will be "How to Have a Revival."

Singing for the revival is in charge of Harlan Powell, who has invited all choir singers of the city to attend the meetings. Mrs. Crimm is pianist.

Churches sponsoring the revival are the Yale Avenue Evangelical, Sibley-Taylor Methodist, South Side Baptist and members of the Christian and Presbyterian churches residing in that section of the city.

The tabernacle in which the meetings are being held is located one block from Holliday street.

Two Navy Recruits Accepted for Service

Two naval recruits, enlisted through R. C. Valverde, recruiting officer here, and sent to Dallas for final examinations last week, have been accepted for the service and are on their way to the training ship in San Diego, Calif., Mr. Valverde announced Monday. The two are Russel H. Haddock, 2315 Kings highway, Wichita Falls, and Eugene Harrison Fitzgerald, of Paducah.

CITY PLANTING

Bunnenberg Gives Finishing Touches to Park For Opening April 1

Planting of trees and shrubs in the local parks was completed by the park department Monday, according to C. C. Bunnenberg, superintendent.

More than 400 trees and hundreds of shrubs were set out in the planting program this year. The department also completed the work of setting out 175 evergreen trees in Weeks park Monday, Mr. Bunnenberg said.

The park will be given the finishing touches during the next two weeks in order to get them in condition for the formal opening on April 1.

Unmasked Robber Flees From Bank With Loot

CLINTON, Ind., March 11. (AP)—An unmasked robber held up the Perrysville National bank this afternoon and escaped with between $3,000 and $5,000 in currency.

Church Heads Plan Convention Here

Tentative arrangements for the state convention of the Assembly of God here early in June were made Monday by leaders of the church, according to W. E. McBroom, city clerk.

The convention probably will include more than 1,000 delegates from local and out of town Assembly of God churches. The convention will include all delegates from Texas and New Mexico.

Leaders of the church conferred with Mr. McBroom Monday on the possibility of securing the Memorial auditorium for the convention, but the exact date for the gathering has not been set.

There Are Literally No Cars In The World That Can Equal Cadillac-LaSalle

What was true twenty-five years ago is even more true today—no car in the world is so closely, finely manufactured as Cadillac—and exactly the same thing applies to the Cadillac-built LaSalle.

IT IS actually a fact that the Cadillac Motor Car Company can and does build into Cadillac and La Salle not only the best in materials and workmanship but the finest possible artistic and scientific achievement in motor car design, engineering and manufacture.

This is not only logical and reasonable but in a very real and literal sense inevitable. For back of traditionally superior Cadillac craftsmanship stand the colossal resources of General Motors deliberately planned to achieve a purchasing power that permits value-giving in excess of any other standard.

With the wealth of surpassing new engineering and manufacturing refinements in today's Cadillacs and La Salles it becomes more obvious than ever before that, if you want the kind of luxurious motoring that Cadillac and La Salle provide, you simply must drive a Cadillac or La Salle.

Consider, for example, the exclusive safety features in Cadillac and La Salle. No other cars in the world possess them:

The Cadillac-La Salle Syncro-Mesh Silent-Shift Transmission. A vital essential in time of emergency, this transmission permits lightning-like shifting of gears with a finger-touch, at any speed, without pausing in neutral. It is quiet, simple, positive and effortless in operation and removes even the faintest suggestion of clashing gears.

Cadillac-La Salle Duplex-Mechanical System of Four-Wheel Brakes. Though these brakes are amazingly powerful and positive in action, slight effort is required to operate them. Just a touch of the toe on the brake pedal and they respond instantaneously.

Cadillac-La Salle Security-Plate Glass, with which Cadillac-La Salle windows, doors and windshields are equipped, remains intact in the event of collision or if struck by stones flung up from the wheels of passing cars.

These are but three of a host of exclusive ultra-modern manufacturing refinements incorporated in Cadillac-La Salle. Experience these new features for yourself. Drive the new Cadillac or La Salle. Then see if you can find their equal elsewhere.

In addition to twenty-three refreshingly beautiful Fisher Bodies for the new Cadillac and the new La Salle there are fifteen exclusive and exquisite custom-built models, Fleetwood designed and Fleetwood built.

La Salle is priced from $2295 to $2875; Cadillac $3295 to $3995; Fleetwoods up to $7000—all prices f. o. b. Detroit. Cadillac-La Salle dealers welcome business on the General Motors Deferred Payment Plan. Enjoy the car now and pay out of income.
