Narcotic Raid Nets Four; Heroin, Marijuana, Pills

DRUGS SEIZED — This photograph shows packages of heroin, marijuana, pills and drug paraphernalia seized in a raid here last Friday, reported to be the largest such raid in the history of Aransas County. Also shown in the photo are water pipes and syringes.

What was said to have been the most extensive and carefully planned narcotics raid in the history of law enforcement in Aransas County was staged last Friday night in Rockport.

Four suspects were arrested and an assortment of drugs, including heroin, marijuana and unidentified pills was seized, along with equipment for their use.

The raid was conducted simultaneously on two houses located at 601 King Street and 614 King Street, Rockport, by a total of 13 county, city and state law enforcement officers.

Arrested and charged with possession of narcotics were Billy Martin Etheridge, age 21, of Alice, Texas, Carl Wilson, age 35, his wife, Gloria, age 42, and her son Rick, age 17, all of Rockport. Several other suspects are being sought, according to Sheriff Bob Hewes under whose direction the raids were staged.

Two bags of marijuana, a quantity of heroin, hypodermic syringes, water pipes and other drug equipment were seized at the 601 King Street address where Etheridge was arrested. He is being held in county jail in lieu of $10,000 bond.

At the 614 King Street address a supply of marijuana and a quantity of unidentified pills as well as drug equipment were seized. Mrs. Wilson has been released on bond, while her husband and son are being held in county jail, unable to obtain bonds of $5,000 each.

The raids were organized and executed with military precision, two separate teams of officers converging on the two houses at the same time. Almost two years of investigation preceded issuance of search warrants, according to Hewes.

The team that raided the house at 601 King Street was in charge of Chief Deputy Sheriff E. A. Stautzenberger. Members of the group were Deputy Sheriff Vernon Duke, Rockport Police Chief E. D. Taylor; Jim Peters, Texas Ranger; Allan Tittle, narcotics agent of the Department of Public Safety, and Ed Lacey, state highway patrolman.

Dredging of Three New Channels Sought for Rockport-Fulton Area

An application to the Galveston District, Corps of Army Engineers for dredging three channels in the Rockport-Fulton waterways area has been made by the Aransas County Navigation District No. 1.

CPL Announces New Scholarships

Three new scholarships in engineering or business have been established by Central Power and Light Company at South Texas junior colleges. Bee County College, Victoria College and Laredo Junior College will each receive one of the new scholarships beginning with the fall term.

The CPL scholarships are payable at $150 a semester and may be continued throughout the normal two-year course if satisfactory standards are maintained. Applications are now being accepted for the fall term. To be considered for the scholarships, an applicant must meet all the entrance requirements of the school he wishes to attend, have been a resident of the general area served by Central Power and Light Company for not less than three years, and be a graduate of a high school in that area.

All applicants must also be of high moral character, maintain a scholastic record satisfactory to the scholarship committee of the college and follow the course prescribed by the college for a major in engineering or business administration.

The scholarship winner will be chosen by a committee selected by each college. Application blanks for the new scholarships may be secured from high school counselors in the area or by writing the college.

Sandollar Gift

Chief Harold W. Koert of the Fulton Volunteer Fire Department recently received a check from Mrs. Maxine Mayberry, director of customer services at the Sandollar Resort Motel and Spa. The funds are to be used for a new emergency truck. The check was made possible by Sandollar guests last Tuesday.

RECEIVES AWARD — At the dedication of the new Marshall Funeral Home here, Charlie Marshall (left) receives a plaque from W. W. Janacek, manager of Central Power and Light Company. The plaque was the CPL All-Electric Building Award for Commercial Buildings. The funeral home is totally electric.

U. S. Rep. Young Predicts Harbor Island 'Super Port'

"I'll stake my reputation that the first superport in the United States will be right here at Harbor Island," U. S. Rep. John Young said April 28.

There's no way, he said, of putting a 70-foot-deep port in Houston and he could visualize the need later for a port 100-feet deep.

Young discussed the proposed superport at a press conference at the Rockport Racquet and Yacht Club where he described it as a three-county, area project, not just a Corpus Christi and Nueces County project.

Young was introduced by Emory M. Spencer as "a congressman who has always been area minded with sincere concern for the small fry." Spencer was host to the conference.

Young opened his remarks with a summary of the growth of Texas' coastal area with its 52 "plant announcements in 1971, 35 for new plants and 17 expansions."

He praised the power companies for their work in attracting new industry.

The San Patricio Municipal Water District was also commended for the capable management and foresight that provided a water supply for Reynolds and DuPont plants in the Ingleside area.

"It's not hard to get a job done in Washington when you have the right people working on it back here at home," he said.

To be competitive, American industry must have access to the world markets and to the world's supplies of raw materials, Young said.

"There are over 700 ships afloat today that cannot dock at any United States port," he said. "Industry needs really deep water and there are very few places in the United States where a 70 or a 100 foot channel can be dug economically."

"This area is one of the unique places where a port can be developed economically that will handle ships of 275,000

Annual Scout Barbecue Set

A committee of Scout leaders under direction of L. W. Tuer have met and set May 27 for the annual Boy Scout Barbecue at the Lions Club pit. Plenty of good pork, salad, beans and all the trimmings will be available for the price of $1.50.

All three Scout troops will have tickets starting Monday night, May 8 when they will hold a joint meeting and ticket sale kick-off, reports Mr. Leslie.

The Scout leaders want you to buy a ticket and then use it.

Racquet Club To Expand

Global Land Corporation has purchased approximately 24 more acres known as the Bahamas on Fulton Beach Road for expansion of the Rockport Racquet and Yacht Club development.

The sale was handled by Pepper Everett of Harper Real Estate Company. All of the 28 units of Phase One have been sold and the second and third phase are in the process of development now.

Four of these units have been presold, making a total of 32 units sold to date. Also they have expanded the tennis courts from two to six.

MAN SHOT TO DEATH IN ARGUMENT HERE

Leslie Goodspeed, 36, of Rockport, was shot four times and killed at 12:40 a.m. Wednesday.

Held in Aransas County jail and charged with murder with malice is Donald Kahle, 41, of Rockport.

Sheriff Bob Hewes said the shooting followed an argument over a $300 debt allegedly owed to a mutual acquaintance of the two men. Hewes said the shooting took place at Eblevin's Harbor Marina.

Kahle surrendered himself to Hewes a half hour after the shooting. Hewes and Deputy Sheriff Gary Painton are conducting the investigation.

C of C Board Holds Meeting

The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors held its monthly luncheon meeting Tuesday noon at Duck Inn.

Present were Mrs. Denver "Corky" Agler, Mrs. Bill Stubbs, Mrs. Danny Adams, Mrs. Clifford Zeisler, Raymond Owens, Vernon Kleypas, L. E. Casterline, John Kinsey, Sam Wilcox.

Mrs. Juanita Wagley, Carl Duckworth, Mrs. Loyce Landrum, Mrs. Louise Brislin, W. W. Janacek, Ed Harper, Glen Wagner, Jack McDavid, James H. Sorenson, Jr., and Port Little.

The directors passed a budget for the coming year, subject to future amendment; discussed producing a new brochure; and heard Duckworth report on the success of ads placed in sport sections of newspapers in San Antonio, Houston, Dallas, Ft. Worth and Austin by the Rockport-Fulton Tourist Association.

County Approves Radio Purchases

The Aransas County Commissioners Court has approved the bargain purchase of new radio communications equipment for the Sheriff's Department.

By spending $2,885.63, the county will get $11,542.50 worth of equipment. Thus the cost is only one-fourth of the real value of the equipment.

This bargain purchase was made possible by the Coastal Bend Council of Governments which received a grant of $330,938 to purchase $500,000 worth of equipment to help area cities and counties become part of an areawide communications system.

The City of Rockport also is participating in this project. Among the items which the county will purchase are five mobile units, two portable units and two chargers for portable units.

Petition Requests Closing Red Fish Bay

A petition signed by approximately 130 persons requesting that Red Fish Bay be closed to trotline fishing was presented at the annual public hearing on wildlife resources conducted by representatives of the Parks and Wildlife Department at the county courthouse Monday morning.

Approximately 35 persons attended the hearing which was conducted by L. D. Nuckles, assisted by other members of the local staff of the Parks and Wildlife Department. It was reported that the meeting was the best attended in several years.

Opponents of trotlines declared the practice was a serious detriment to the development of sports fishing in the county, adding that attraction of tourists to the area was of great importance to its economic future.

The petition also cited danger from dangling hooks and submerged stakes of abandoned trotlines as another reason why trotlining should be forbidden in Red Fish Bay. Opponents also claimed that frequent running of some trotlines resulted in fish being killed and allowed to rot. In certain sections of the bay the presence of many trotlines placed close together makes it difficult to navigate, the petition declared.

A number of trotline operators attended the hearing and several said trotlining was important from the standpoint of commercial fishing. One witness testified that tourists caught and kept many small trout, but a Parks and Wildlife representative testified that this had little effect on the eventual number of mature fish because approximately 80 per cent died of natural causes before reaching maturity.

Several net fishermen suggested a compromise might be reached between trotlines and rod and reel fishermen. They also pointed out to Parks and Wildlife representatives the difficulty of locating areas in Aransas Bay which are closed to net fishing because of absence of markers. They said markers have not been replaced since Hurricane Celia.

Among those testifying in favor of a ban on trotline fishing in Red Fish Bay were reacross Aransas Bay terminating in Rockport Harbor.

The second channel—also 125 feet wide—would be dredged to a depth of 14-feet below mean low tide from the point on the first channel that is 2,150-feet from the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway north westerly 15,100-feet across Aransas Bay terminating in Fulton Harbor.

The third channel—100-feet wide—would be dredged to a depth of 11-feet below mean low tide. This would be from a common point of the other two channels northwesterly 8,000-feet across Aransas Bay, thence northerly 4,500 feet across Little Bay terminating near Harbor Oaks.

An estimated 735,000 cubic yards of material would be placed in four submerged areas in the bay. Two of these would be the existing Gulf Intracoastal Waterway spoil areas on each side of the proposed channel extending from the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway. A third spoil area, approximately 6,700 feet long would be located parallel to and east of the proposed channel to Fulton. The fourth spoil area, approximately 4,700 feet long would be located parallel to and south of the proposed channel to Rockport.

The two new spoil areas would have submerged perimeter levees constructed from sandier material to contain as much of the clay and silt material as possible, according to the application. They would also have a maximum elevation of five feet below mean low tide.

The Corps of Engineers office said the Texas Water Quality Board has already certified that the proposed work would not violate applicable water quality standards.

Plans of the proposal may be seen in Room 714, Santa Fe Building, Galveston any time between 7:45 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday or at the Corps of Engineers Office in Corpus Christi.

Representatives of the Rockport-Tourist Association and the Aransas County Conservation Association, as well as a number of individuals.

The petition will be submitted to the Parks and Wildlife Commission in Austin for decision.

B&PW Club Honors New Members

The Rockport Business and Professional Women's Club met at Dean Steele's for a pot luck supper on April 24. It was in honor of the new members. One became a member that evening, Kathy Rogers. The others honored were Gwynne Howland, Corinne Homburg, Virginia Chernosky, Cepha Jessie, Lillian Moulton, Mary Lou Ashley, Rossi Clark, Corinne Crab Harrison, Jane Browning, Fay Henderson, Vennett Stone, Martha Coats and Flo Griffith.

A regular business meeting was held. Penny Baldwin, president, brought up the matter of a donation which had been requested to help get air conditioning for the library at Rockport Elementary School. The club voted to donate $25.

The scholarship committee presented three names, and a secret ballot was taken to determine who would receive the $500 scholarship this year. The recipient will be announced at the Awards Assembly and will be presented by Penny Baldwin.

Everyone present expressed regret that two members will be moving in the near future. Peggy Bloomer and Pat Harper will be leaving soon but hope to attend the May meeting. It was also decided to hold a No-bake sale to help with the campaign for Laura Raglin, who is running for a state office in the club. Members can send the donations to Gwyn Howland.

Bird Harrell, personal development chairman, introduced the new members present and asked that each tell about her work, background, and anything else to help to get better acquainted. That, along with lots of good food, made an unforgettable evening.

The next meeting will be May 22 at the Sea Gun Restaurant. The officers for the coming year will be installed by Molly Kusel, the District 13 Director.

MRS. HORTON ILL

Mrs. Jack Horton had a light heart attack and is a patient in Room 403 in the Medical Arts Hospital, Houston, Texas 77002. She will be hospitalized for about three weeks.

Navigation District Call C. C. Caller Article 'Misleading'

Aransas County Navigation District commissioners have sent a letter and two-page statement to the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, describing as "not totally factual" and "certainly misleading" an article which appeared in the Caller on April 20.

Signed by Navigation District Commissioners Richard J. Fox, R. W. Landrum, David Maguigin, William M. Brown, Jr., and F. M. Rouquette, the letter and statement follow:

Editor in Chief
Corpus Christi Caller-Times
820 Lower North Broadway
Corpus Christi, Texas

Dear Mr. Editor:

Reference is made to the article headed "Aransas Asks Permits to Deepen Waterways" which appeared in the April 20, 1972, morning issue of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times. The information presented in this article is not totally factual and is certainly misleading in many respects.

Attached hereto is the progress made with regard to the passage of the program through the necessary channels. Much work needs to be done toward providing a plan which will more equitably satisfy the navigation needs of Aransas County. This work will be completed as soon as the anticipated objections are received in response to the Corps of Engineers Public Notices.

The Navigation District Commissioners would sincerely request that the article published on this date be clarified accordingly. If you do not see fit to retract the article please use this in your "Letters to the Editor" column.

Reference is made to the article entitled "Aransas Asks Permits to Deepen Waterways" which appeared in the April 20, 1972, morning issue of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times. This article, no doubt, was prompted seeking information to accompany the Public Notices issued by the Galveston District, Corps of Engineers, dated 14 April 1972. The public notices of the documents issued are (1) SWGCCO-RS, W-N-243-41 PERMIT-9041 and (2) SWGCCO-RS, W-N-243-41-PERMIT-9042.

This project was originally programmed in October, 1968, with Lockwood, Andrews & Newnam, Inc., consulting engineers, providing the specifications for the overall plan. No matching funds from Federal or State sources were requested and the money to finance the plan was to be raised by a bond issue. This oversight together with the fact that the plan was considered by the majority of the voters to be inadequate resulted in defeat when presented for vote in July 1969.

When the present Board of Commissioners were presented the same plan late in 1971 they recognized that it contained many deficiencies and that certain items of seemingly greater import and benefit to a larger segment of the population of Aransas County had been overlooked. However, owing to the fact that the accumulated expenses to Lockwood, Andrews & Newnam, Inc., were already appreciable, coupled with the fact that representatives from the Economic Development Administration who would approve of the provision of Federal matching funds and representatives of the Coastal Bend Council of Governments had given their tentative approval of the plan, the present Board of Commissioners acquiesced in giving the Lockwood, Andrews & Newnam firm approval to continue with the original plan with the idea in mind of modifying it to meet anticipated objections and to incorporate other known needs more important to some of those in the plan.

The extent of the economic impact of such a program is not - repeat - is not available at this time but a study is underway which will be presented to as many citizens of Aransas County who wish to avail themselves of such information. The Navigation District Commissioners urge everyone, voter and non-voter, to hear this briefing.

The plan is not in its final form and many meetings will be necessary to iron out deficiencies and formulate an acceptable plan. You will be advised as soon as a decision is made and a new plan has been provided.

"Super Port"—

tons. Our largest ports now," he said, "will handle ships up to 90,000 tons."

A superport can be provided at Harbor Island at a cost between $45 and $50 million that will handle 275,000 ton vessels in a conventional manner -- where petroleum products and dry cargo can be handled with safety on and off the port's docks.

Some proposals have been advanced, Young said, to develop the superport 40 to 50 miles offshore at costs ranging from $500 million up with cargo handled by pipelines and conveyors.

In closing, Young told the group of newsmen, county, city and navigation district officials, the superport to be located at Harbor Island will be one that the whole world can look to.

Among those present at the luncheon and press conference were Aransas County Judge John D. Wendell; Barney Faley, Jr., mayor of Port Aransas; Dennis Dreyer, mayor protem of Port Aransas; Lt. Col. Walter Falk, Jr., mayor of Rockport; Dick Fox, Dave Maguigin and Col. W. M. Brown, Jr., commissioners of Aransas County Navigation District;

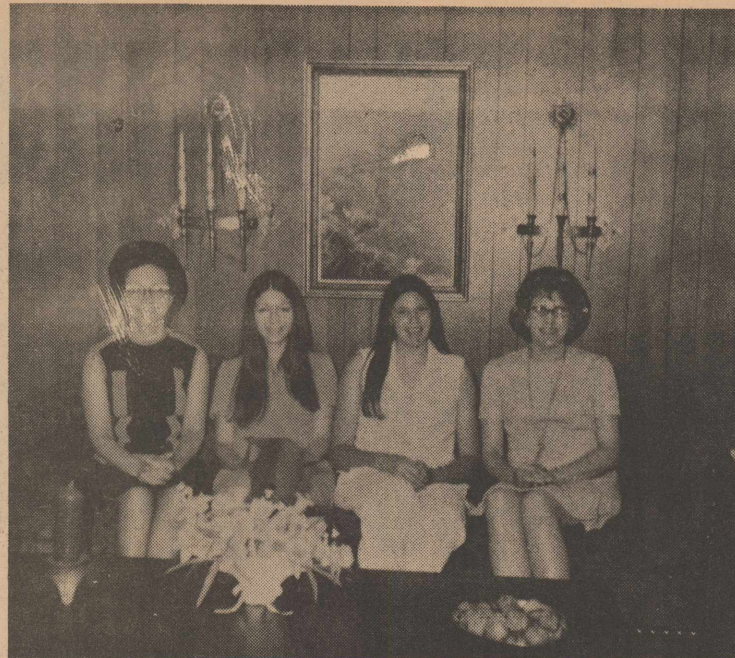

Carl C. Krueger, Jr., head of Key Allegro Development and Sales Company; T. Noah Smith, Jr., president of Rockport Yacht and Supply Company; Bill Bloch, attorney; James H. Sorenson, Jr., president, First National Bank of Rockport, and the following news people:

Travis Moorman, Corpus Christi Caller-Times; Bill De Vinney, KIII-TV; Roy V. Rogers, Sr., Roy V. Rogers, Jr., and John R. Kinsey, Rockport Pilot; Sue Stinson, Aransas Pass Progress; Linda Douglas, Ingleside Index; Jim Tracy, Jr., Taft Tribune; Carter Snooks, Refugio Timely Remarks; and Paul Levene, Portland News.

Assistance For Illiterate Voters

Heretofore, only voters who were physically unable to mark their ballots because of some infirmity could get assistance at the polls. Articles 5.05 (15) and 8.13, Texas Election Code, prohibited the rendering of aid to persons who could not mark their ballots because of a lack of education.

No assistance shall be given a voter in preparing his ballot except when a voter is unable to prepare the same himself because of his inability to read the English language or because of some bodily infirmity, such as renders him unable to write or see. If the voter desires, he may select any qualified voter of the same precinct to assist him, in which event, no other persons, other than a watcher, is allowed to be present while the ballot is being prepared.

If the voter does not make his own selection of someone to assist him, two of the election officers must be present while one of them renders the necessary assistance. In a general election, the two officers should be of different political parties if there are such officers serving at the election. Watchers may also be present while the ballot is being prepared.

Before any person renders assistance, whether the election officer or someone selected by the voter, he must take the following oath: "I solemnly swear that I will not suggest, by word or sign or gesture, how the voter shall vote; I will confine my assistance to answering his questions, to stating the propositions to be voted upon and to naming candidates and the political parties to which they belong; and I will prepare his ballot as the voter himself shall direct."

LUNCHROOM MENUS

The schools will offer the following lunchroom menus next week:

Monday, May 8: Barbecued beef on buns, buttered whole kernel corn, cole slaw, buns, butterscotch squares and milk.

Tuesday, May 9: Meat loaf, gravy, mashed potatoes, green salad, bread, butter, chocolate cake and milk.

Wednesday, May 10: Broiled beef sausage, boiled pinto beans, hot pickled beets, cornbread, butter, peach cobbler and milk.

Thursday, May 11: Stewed chicken with dumplings, seasoned green beans, congealed orange salad, bread, butter, fruit bars and milk.

Two Honored At Graduation Brunch

A Saturday morning brunch feted Debbie Haigood and Diane Moore in the home of Mrs. C. L. Browning.

Table decorations featured an arrangement of large yellow daffodils. Greenery surrounding the centerpiece was interspersed with miniature graduate silhouettes. A silhouette of a girl graduate was in the center of the arrangement.

Attending were the two honorees, their mothers, Mrs. Elvin L. Haigood and Mrs. Melvin Moore, Pam Little, Debbie Mitchell, Maria Pattillo, Shelly Pattillo, Pam Hill, Jeannie Kleypas, Jean Williams and Mary Harris.

Hostesses were Mrs. Browning, Mrs. Charles Winkler and Mrs. Roger Bennett.

Diane and Debbie received summer handbags from the hostesses.

Richard Mason will change Austin for you.

Representative Wieting's total expenses amounted to $21,873.00 for the period of September 1, 1970 to March 31, 1972.

Richard Mason opposes Leroy Wieting. Richard Mason knows that a representative is judged by legislation passed, not by supplies bought.

Let's change some things in Austin this year. Vote for a hard-working, honest representative. Richard Mason. He knows what needs to be done.

VOTE FOR

The Experienced Candidate

COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To Represent Precinct 1 and 1A

He has the practical experience and business background to give Aransas County Taxpayers full value for our tax dollars.

It is time to make sure that money spent on our County business is used wisely and administered with the judgment Raulie Irwin has developed during years of successful personal business experience.

We urge his election because he is unusually well qualified to apply sound business management to the problems of Precinct 1 and Aransas County as a whole.

As County Commissioner of near-by San Patricio County for twelve years, Rulie Irwin had the opportunity to participate actively in County business. He knows about County problems from first-hand experience.

None of his opponents has this background.

Raulie Irwin's long-time experience with all types of road-building and construction equipment makes him an expert in an area so important to the operation of Aransas County.

None of his opponents has had this training. Raulie Irwin has had years of experience in successful land development, road building and construction.

None of his opponents has had this experience.

We, his friends and associates, believe Raulie Irwin is unusually well-qualified to provide much needed good business judgment and leadership to the business of running Aransas County.

Therefore, we urge voters of Precinct 1 and 1-A to elect this unusually well qualified man, County Commissioner.

Vote For RAULIE L. IRWIN

RICHARD MASON wants you to know

1. Our representative voted for the Sharpstown banking bills.
2. He voted against an investigation of Gus Mutscher and the others involved in the bribery conspiracy.
3. Our representative voted against a strong full disclosure ethics bill.

Are you satisfied with this record? This is how the current representative voted on the major issues that faced the House last year. If you are satisfied, then leave things as they are in Austin.

But if you really want to change Austin, and if you want courage and honesty in your representative, vote for Richard Mason.

Richard Mason. A man with ability and courage. A man who will fight for what he believes. He will be your representative.

Richard Mason will change Austin for you.

Clay Gillis Is Honored

Mr. and Mrs. John Franz were host and hostess for a backyard barbecue Saturday evening honoring graduating senior, Clay Gillis.

Besides Clay, his parents and Bob, Scott, and Kris Ann, guests included Pam Hill, Pam Rowan, Shelley Pattillo, Lisa Hill, Nelson Barre, Glyn Landrum, Charles Cruiser, and Craig Ashley of Rockport; Donna Plengemeyer, Stephanie Kennedy, and Hal Kennedy, of New Gulf; and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Reed and family, Kevin, Dalinda, and Angela of Airm. The group thoroughly enjoyed delicious barbecue chicken and sausage, corn-on-the-cob, baked beans, potato salad, relishes, hot French bread, iced tea, homemade strawberry and vanilla ice cream, chocolate brownies, and vanilla squares. Before and after eating, the guests played volley ball.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

IN MEMORY OF

Robert L. Wofford, Jr., who passed away April 21, 1972. The Death Angel has visited our Chapter and taken from our number one of our beloved members. This one, who once met with us here and shared our joys and sorrows, is now awaiting us in the Grand Chapter above. We shall join them when we, too, have completed life's labyrinth.

WHEREAS, the Heavenly Father has called our respected and beloved Brother home and he, having been a true and faithful member of our beautiful Order, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That Rockport Chapter No. 479, Order of the Eastern Star, drape its Chapter Eastern Star, drape its Charter in memory of this departed member, and that we tender to the family of our deceased Brother our sincere condolence in their sorrow and bereavement, and that a copy of these Resolutions be sent the family. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord..."

They rest from their labors... And their works do follow them."

Clara Davis and Sallie Beutley, Committee

TIPS ON QUITTING CIGARETTES

1. Pick a Q (Quit) Day.
2. Switch to a low tar-nicotine brand, and begin to cut down BEFORE Q Day.
3. Keep a supply of substitutes handy: mints, gum, celery, carrot sticks.
4. Quit on Q Day; use substitutes when the urge to smoke is strong; keep busy; pamper yourself with special meals; drink plenty of water; exercise.
5. Renew your resolve daily. Think over the health hazards of cigarettes.
6. Plan a treat for yourself with the money you used to spend on cigarettes.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN
Fly fishing is often referred to as a lost art. How could this be true when so many anglers have never found it? You can't lose something you don't have, any more than you can come back from some place you haven't been.

Many an expert fisherman was brought up with a fly rod and reel in his hand. He knows the thrill that comes from popping a little bug on top of the water at a far distant spot, or dragging a fly across a quiet area in the lake, or the sudden tug of a trout as it tags that insect in a fast moving stream.

Perhaps the reason why so few anglers are fly fishing today is development of the closed-face spinning reel. This device, which came into being in the late 40's has so simplified angling, and particularly the accuracy of artificial bait casting, that seldom do people try to master the art of fly fishing.

A beginner, with little or no experience and a very short period of training, soon becomes an adept angler with the spinning reel—especially the closed-face model. It seldom permits a backlash and/or "birdsnest" and casts easily and accurately.

The open-face, ball-type spinning reel (which came to this country from France in the 50's) did much to introduce thousands to the pleasure of angling. But because it virtually simplified everything the closed-face gear tempted many to give it a try.

Seasoned fresh-water fishermen who have learned by experience to properly handle the old standby -- the spool-type bait-casting reel -- are in most cases "the lunker landers." The reason is two-fold. They have the expertise, the experience and also the gear that is designed to handle the larger fresh water fish with ease. If you are dubious as to what rig you might like best, start with the least complicated -- the closed-face spinning reel. It's the easiest to master, possibly the cheapest to buy, and can be used for most everything from the tiny perch to a five or six pound bass -- and even does a pretty good job of landing the little speckled trout and the small kings in the Gulf of Mexico. One thing we would heartily recommend is -- when you make your decision as to the outfit you want to learn to use -- stick with it until you master it well. Don't try to learn them all at once. You'll find that very frustrating. Keep in mind the old saying "Jack of all trades and master of none."

Mrs. R. C. Tate of Crystal City and Larry Stewart are shown at an organ and piano recital Sunday afternoon.

Recital Held At Sportsman Manor

The occasion was a music recital for the students of Larry Stewart; the time was Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4:30; the place was the magnificent Sportsman Manor on Fulton Beach Road and the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stewart, whose son Larry presented his students in their first recital.

The guests entered an unusually striking modern room completely decorated in black and white, with a Gulbransen

Premiere Theatre organ framed by a view of the picturesque bay. Decorations throughout the lovely home consisted of Spring flowers and black and white arrangements.

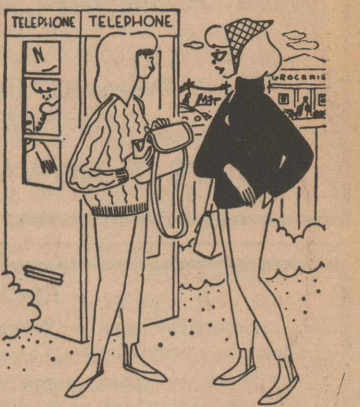

An elegant crystal chandelier accented the serving table, which was covered with white imported lace and centered with a massive arrangement of white mums, red gladiolas and white daisies. Miss Jenelle Stewart served a fruit punch while Miss Susan Hatzell presided at the silver coffee service. Petits fours, decorated with miniature black treble clefs were served with salted nuts and assorted mints.

Organ selections were presented by Mark Todd McClathery and Jeff Landrum. Piano selections were presented by John Longino, Julie Huff, Jimmy Cruser, Shari Mustonen, and Susan Stafford. Special guest for the recital was Mrs. R. C. Tate of Crystal City, prominently known throughout Southwest Texas in the field of music, and a member of the Board of Trustees of Southwest Texas Junior College in Uvalde. She graciously entertained at the piano with Rubinstein's Melody in F, Grieg's Butterfly, and a medley of light classics. Interesting arrangements of organ and piano were presented by Stewart and Mrs. Tate. Stewart has won recognition for his skillful and artistic entertaining at the piano and organ. The excellent performance of his students further demonstrates his ability in the field of music teaching.

Historical Data

This is a continuation of the presentation of minutes of meetings of the Civic Improvement League, an organization founded by a group of local ladies in 1909:

The weekly meeting of the Civic Improvement League was held at the home of the secretary.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved with the correcting that there are 262 1/2 feet water frontage on the site selected for the Press Association's approval.

Mrs. Hoopes reported that she had sold the city scrip donated by the city council to Mr. Johnson at 85¢ on the dollar. The same to apply on payment for lumber to build the pagoda in the beach park.

Dr. Bailey reported that all had been done toward securing a permanent place of meeting for the Press Association, except appointing a delegate to Stamford. Mr. Cleverger, Mr. Hoopes and Dr. Bailey had been instrumental in having a fine collection of pictures taken from different points of view.

A very clever plan for the pagoda was presented by Mr. Cleverger - octagon shape - supported at each corner by substantial pillars - the flooring to be of cement after cedar posts are placed for the foundation, which is to be raised a foot or more above the surface. The probable cost was estimated to be about $44.50. Dr. Bailey, Mr. Cleverger and Mr. Hoopes were appointed a committee to superintend the building, to solicit donations of services where possible and also of material.

It was decided that work on the Picton park had better begin as soon as the wishes of the adjacent property owners could be learned. The president said she would call a meeting at an early date, most likely at Mr. Picton's home if convenient, and invite all interested parties to be present.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

Gertrude B. Grieve Rec. Sec'y.

On June 9, 1910, the Civic Improvement League met at the home of the secretary.

The minutes were read and approved.

The president reported that Dr. Bailey had been appointed as delegate to the meeting of the Press Association at Stamford. It was his intention to wire results of the discussion as to a permanent location for future meetings.

Mr. Picton being away from home there had been no time designated for a committee meeting. However, the subject of park improvement was more or less discussed with the result that everyone present went away with renewed interest.

There was no report on the pagoda building.

Mrs. Hoopes reported that she had made a contract with Rev. A. M. Lumpkin to deliver three lectures at the Civic League Pavilion June 22, 23 and 24. Admission, $1.00 for course, 35¢ for adults, 15¢ for children. Subject of lectures to be based on Mr. Lumpkin's observation and experience while visiting foreign lands.

It was suggested by the secretary that a notice be put in the local papers stating time and place of Civic League meetings.

Mrs. Harwell paid 20¢ dues.

The meeting adjourned.

Gertrude B. Grieve, Rec. Sec'y.

The Civic Improvement League met at Beachhaven June 16, 1910.

The minutes were read and approved with the correction, Dr. Lumpkin's lectures will be delivered on the 23, 24 and 25. Miss Trund offered to put notice in local papers. Advertising pictures to be placed at Tarpon, Fulton and Bayside Inn. Dr. Bailey was invited to give his report of trip to Stamford, which was briefly as follows:

The committee sent to Rockport for the purpose of examining its advantages for a permanent location for the future meetings of the Press Association were favorably impressed and made their report accordingly. But some discord arose in the meeting because the subject had not been properly understood. Port Lavaca had also made a generous offer of 10 acres fronting on the bay with the understanding that it be improved in a reasonable length of time. To the query "What is a reasonable length of time?" the answer was "three years."

Rockport's proposition was well received, but the subject was tabled because the Association has no funds set aside for the purpose of improvement. However, the members of the Association who wanted the permanent location still want it, and the matter is by no means to be lost sight of.

Some thought it a wise policy to accept the Rockport proposition and use it as part payment toward buying the Oak Shore Club.

Port Lavaca had made previous offers and will doubtless keep on making them, anyway it has landed the next annual meeting of the Press Association, and if we expect to get anything we must make continuous effort. Stamford entertained the visitors royally. When not in business session there were auto rides, sight seeing, a roundup, refreshments galore, etc. Stamford is a city of phenomenal growth, only 10 years of age and has 10,000 population, there are no saloons and yet no one complains of having lost his liberty.

Civic improvement is seen on every hand in paved streets, permanent sidewalks, and substantial business homes. As an illustration of western enterprise, the town of Opu only 8 months old has 4,000 population and they have already introduced a modern drainage system.

A vote of thanks was handed Dr. Bailey for his excellent report and efficient service while in Stamford.

Mrs. Hoopes reported a recent conversation with Mr. Lightbourne on the hotel question, which forcibly reminds one of the old ans still unsettled debate - Which originated first - the hen or the egg?

Mr. Lightbourne thinks another railroad must be in sight first, and Mrs. Hoopes is of the opinion a hotel is the first consideration. The League devoutly hopes both may materialize some day and then Rockport may come to its own.

Dropping back to a work of lesser proportions, it was promised that the park pagoda would soon receive attention. Mrs. Picton being sick no meeting had been called at her home. It was agreed that each member of the League would try to get a new member by another meeting.

It was reported that Mrs. Annie Curtis, State President of the W. C. T. U. would deliver a lecture at the Civic League Pavilion Wednesday evening. Miss Trund stated that the lady was also on a tour of inspection for a permanent location for encampment quarters. Admission free.

There was no further business and the meeting adjourned.

Gertrude B. Grieve Rec. Sec'y.

The members of the Civic League met with the secretary

June 30, 1910.

The minutes were read and approved.

Mr. Cleverger stated that work would begin on the pagoda next week, the plans have been presented and duly accepted as satisfactory to all concerned.

Mr. Rooke who donates his service in its construction, said the boys in his employ would also donate some work.

Mrs. Annie Curtis, state president of the W.C.T.U. gave an eloquent lecture at the pavilion and was instrumental in organizing a local branch of the society among the old settlers.

Collections at lecture, $16.00.

The course of lecture delivered by Dr. Lumpkin were highly successful - intellectually - but not financially. The $50 guaranteed by the League was paid after strenuous effort on the part of Mrs. Hoopes and Dr. Carver. A union meeting of Rev. and Mrs. Carver. For all of which we are deeply thankful.

Plans for celebrating the 4th of July were discussed, but as so many attractions were being offered by Corpus, Aransas Pass and Bayside, it was decided to follow the crowd and go spend our money abroad.

However, in order to give the members of the Farmers Institute an opportunity to use the pavilion if they desired to do so, the secretary was requested to phone Mr. Whitehead, the president, and ascertain their wishes.

The meeting closed with a sigh of relief, it has been a very warm day. Rec. Sec'y.

ATTORNEY GENERAL

RE-ELECT

JUSTICE T. GILBERT SHARPE

13TH COURT OF CIVIL APPEALS

HE SERVES YOU WELL AS AN APPEALS JUDGE

Associate Justice, 13th Court of Civil Appeals since 1963. Twice elected.

Chairman, State Bar of Texas Committee for Revision of the Texas Penal Code.

Practicing Attorney for more than 25 years prior to judgeship. Has served as Assistant U.S. Attorney and Special Assistant to U.S. Attorney General, Department of Justice.

Chief Justice Howard P. Green (Ret.) 13th Court of Civil Appeals, stated:

"Your great ability and competence, plus your experience on the court, certainly entitle you to many more years on the Bench. . . ."

The 13th Court of Civil Appeals serves a 20-county district from near Houston to the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Each of the three geographical sections of the district — north, central, and south — has been represented on the three-member court since its creation in 1963.

Your vote for Justice T. Gilbert Sharpe is a vote for a distinguished, experienced appellate judge — and for the recognized concept of a broad-based selection of judges which invests the court with stability as well as personal knowledge and understanding of all parts of the district it serves.

The lawyers of the 20-county area served by the Court voted decisively in the State Bar of Texas' Preferential Poll for Justice Sharpe's re-election.

PAID POLITICAL ADVERTISING, TOM SHARPE, CHAIRMAN

Letter to the Editor

I am not given to verbal or editorial protests, but I think that many of us are too lax in conveying information that is hard to understand -- whether it be political statements; questionnaires; or directives from our state offices.

I will give a couple of examples: The Democratic ballot in seeking a mandate from the voters reads: "No public school student shall because of his race, creed, or color, be assigned to or required to attend a particular school. This referendum applies to the required busing of public school students and provides for equal quality education for all public school students."

I have heard lots of questions and I agree that it takes quite a bit of figuring for a person who hasn't studied it, to figure out that if he is against forced busing, he should vote "FOR".

Another example is a letter put out by our worthy Texas Department of Public Safety reading: "A decision rendered by Judge Adrian Spears, U. S. District Judge, San Antonio, Texas, on June 30, 1971, declared that the Texas Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Act, as interpreted by the Texas Supreme Court, is unconstitutional as it prohibits a hearing on the issue of a reasonable possibility of a judgement prior to suspension of a person's driver license after an accident."

It may be imperative for such wordings to convey the true legal meanings, but I say that a person has to be pretty well acquainted with the subject ahead of time, or he is going to have to stop and do some thoughtful studying.

Porpoises Are Protected By State, Federal Laws

AUSTIN -- The porpoise is a delightfully playful mammal whose mental abilities place it near the top among the earth's living creatures.

In view of this information, it is incomprehensible to many Texans that porpoises are killed by man for any reason.

But Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials say that unfortunately many are slaughtered each year along the Texas coast by persons who don't know or don't care that the animal is protected by federal and state laws.

There is a closed season on porpoises (sometimes known as dolphins) in the waters of counties under the department's regulatory authority. In counties under statutory authority the animals are not protected by state law but federal law prohibits taking them by any means.

Department officials say that both from a humanitarian and economic point of view it is senseless to kill porpoises. The frisky creatures have an unspoken partnership with man which is just now beginning to come to light thanks to scientific experiments.

Man, who has plundered his environment too much during the course of history, needs anything but to destroy one of the most intelligent links to the sea's mysteries.

LIBRARY RECEIVES $100

Mrs. George J. Rohan of Waco, recognizing the need of Aransas County Public Library for funds, donated $100 to the book fund, according to announcement by Mrs. George Dickey, Library board treasurer.

The gift was doubly welcome, according to Mrs. Everal West, vice president of the board, because lack of funds has curtailed book buying and made it impossible to cooperate in the summer book program for young people, a project of the schools in Aransas County.

at the Methodist Annex with 49 persons attending.

Miss Sally Fields presented a vocal solo accompanied at the piano by Miss Polly Isaacks. The Rev. Calvin Peterson played an accordion solo.

Dr. Kline, Lion District Governor, gave a short talk on Lionism. Cecil Burney of Corpus Christi, president of the Texas State Bar Association, gave an inspiring talk on "Time."

Guests present were Miss Sally Fields, Miss Polly Isaacks, Mrs. Edna Hollis, George Lee Brundrett, Jr., Mrs. Rose Elliot, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Cabaniss, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Burney and Dr. and Mrs. Kline.

MRS. HAGAR GIVES TALK

Mrs. Connie Hagar made her annual visit to Mrs. Bertha Harper's third grade and talked to the children about birds.

Mrs. Hagar showed the youngsters a picture from a Corpus Christi paper displaying a bird whose species was listed as unknown. Connie said the bird was a purple gallinule and that this species nests in Rockport.

She also told the children about other birds such as warblers, orioles and bunting which go through here about this time of the year.

RICHARD MASON wants you to know

... that state officials are forbidden to hire their relatives. The nepotism statute says no legislator "shall appoint, or vote for, or confirm the appointment of" certain close relatives or persons closely related to other members of the legislature.

Nepotism, or the hiring of relatives, has long been a practice in the Texas legislature. . . an illegal practice. In the Corpus Christi TIMES, Wednesday, April 5, 1972, several relatives of legislators were reported on the payrolls.

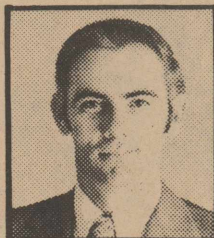

"The Senate payroll included the wives of Representatives Allen, Don Cavness of Austin and Leroy Wieting of Portland."

Richard Mason opposes Leroy Wieting. Richard Mason believes the nepotism statute, long unchallenged, must be enforced. Honesty and ethics must be returned to Austin. And the man for the job is Richard Mason.

Vote this Saturday for Richard Mason. He's not afraid to fight for your interests. Richard Mason is not a politician. He won't fall into that fence-straddling group you so often see in Austin.

in the invasion of the Philippines.

FULTON LIONS NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Ferman Benavidez celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary April 22 at their home in Fulton with friends and relatives. On their 25th anniversary Ferman was working in New Orleans.

He is the son of Nosario Benavidez, Sr., and the late Rita Benavidez. He came to Rockport with his family in 1937 and later was employed by the late L. E. Sanders and Mrs. Frances Sanders. Ferman had been married only six months when he was drafted in 1942 to serve in the U. S. Army.

He served in World War II for three years and fought in the South Pacific and was wounded

Mrs. Benavidez came to Rockport at the age of nine with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicolas Hinojosa. They lived here until 1940 when they moved to Fulton where her father started to work at Forest Park Cottages under management of the late James Sorenson, Sr.

Mrs. Benavidez (Dominga), helped Mr. Sorenson with the housework after school and on weekends. She dropped out of school to marry Ferman.

At the 30th wedding anniversary celebration, the honored couple and their guests enjoyed a barbecue topped off with the serving of a huge wedding cake.

There will be a garage sale at the Fulton Lions Clubhouse May 26 - 27 from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. All who have servicable unneeded items and wish to donate to the Lions Club may call the following telephone number for pickup: 729-6038, 729-2154 or 729-7093. Also discarded eye glasses will be gladly received.

NOTICE

Peace Lutheran Church Women will hold a rummage sale Saturday, May 6 at 8 a.m. at Sorenson Store, 406 S. Austin.

Only Kansas produces more wheat than North Dakota.

Our County lies between two rapidly developing industrial river valleys—the Nueces and Guadalupe Rivers. Its development as a desirable residential area is inevitable.

But will this development be of the "Boom & Bust" type, with gains to a few, or will its growth be intelligently regulated so as to bring lasting benefits to the property owners of the entire county?

This expansion will be regulated by the County Commissioners. Other communities have experienced such sudden development, many of these have been improperly regulated and have failed to plan ahead for expansion of schools, utilities, streets, drainage and sanitation required to answer the needs of a balanced community expansion.

In Saturday's primary election, we have men running for the office of County Commissioner who have proved their business ability and sound judgment. They will offer engineering knowledge to replace guess work in the setting of grades for culverts and ditches. By means of their decisions the high water tables will be lowered and permit the hundreds of septic tanks to function in the wet season as well as in the dry.

These qualified candidates can and will cut out the wasted efforts which have used up large amounts of tax money, but failed to accomplish the desired results. These candidates can and will establish the policies needed to permit and direct an intelligently planned expansion program. It is time that objective consideration replace popularity contests.

Last—but not least—the priceless natural resources of our land and water areas must be preserved by informed and thoughtful men. This will make possible the development of residential areas which will attract thousands of solid home-owning citizens—the backbone of any truly successful community expansion program. Every registered voter in Precinct 1 & 3 owes this community active participation in choosing a new County Commissioner.

CUB SCOUT NEWS

Cub Scout Packs 340 and 49 held their annual Track and Field Day Saturday, April 22, at Pirate Stadium. There were eight events, each being participated in by age groups; eight, nine, and ten year olds. All of the events were going at the same time and the "Grand-Finale" was the Tug of War, between the two packs. Pack 340 won this year again, so, Pack 49 is going to have to work harder so they might be strong and win next year. Congratulations 340!

The presence of the parents and friends of the cubs was greatly appreciated, but we would especially like to thank the following people who helped make the Field Day a success. They are the den mothers, cubmasters, and parents, who were judges, recorders, and etc. They are: Davy Harper, Don Kubiak, Janice Bell, Cecil V. Gray, J. G. Kautz, Tom McGlathery, Bob Vigna, Jamie Jordan, Don Brooks, Charles DeForest, Paul Morris, Clifton Evans, Bobbie Van Heuvel, Edythe Heathcock, J. W. Scott, Jr., J. Martin Shaw, Herbert Booth, John Billis, Jackie Norrell, Sarah Eason, Chester Barre, Bonnie Evans, Mary Clark, Tillman Frizzell, Wade Evans, and Mrs. Rodell Baird.

Mr. (Uncle) John Leslie was out with his camera, shooting pictures of the entire meet so he may give a movie or slide show to the two packs sometime. About sixty cubs took part in the field day activities, most of them took several ribbons home. All of the boys were given participation ribbons for the tug-o-war. An event such as this is a great experience for the boys and very stimulating for the parents. Everyone went home tired, but happy.

Fix-It Tip

In making a spring inspection of the roof of your home, if shingles are slightly torn, nail down with roofing nails after using roof coating on the underside. Then put a dab of the coating on the nail heads. Broken shingles should be carefully removed by gently lifting the shingle above and lifting out the exposed nails. Slide out the old, slip in a new shingle and nail in place.

Would Certainly Help Our Balance of Payments Picture

A. M. Tewksbury writes in the Oregon Voter Digest: "The U. S.'s careless way with its balance of international payments is often criticized by contemptuous Europeans. They conveniently forget that $19.1 billion of their World War I debts to the U. S. remain unpaid. Then our government has loaned $46 billion in taxpayers' money to other countries in the period 1939-71. Of that $27.6 billion hasn't been repaid, if these Europeans would get busy and pay us these huge sums, our balance of payments would be very healthy indeed."

Two-Continent City
The city of Istanbul, Turkey, stands on two continents—Europe and Asia. The dividing line is the Bosphorus, a narrow waterway connecting the Black Sea with the Sea of Marmara.

Largest Meteor Crater
The world's largest meteor crater is the Coon Butte crater in northern Arizona.

It is 4,150 feet in diameter and about 575 feet deep. The crater was formed about 25,000 B.C.

Gazelle Hound
The Saluki is a very swift, keen-sighted, graceful breed of dog bred in Persia, Arabia and Egypt for hundreds of years. It is used by desert tribes to hunt gazelles and is sometimes called the gazelle hound.

Origin of Word
The word kibitzer is a direct borrowing from Yiddish which, in turn, took it from the German kiebitz, meaning a meddling onlooker.

Telling Time
In the 24-hour system of telling time, there is no change for the hours before noon; 12 is added to the hours after noon. Four digits are always used to express time in hours and minutes. For example, 3:45 a.m. is 0345; noon is 1200; 7:30 p.m. is 1930. In this system, the letters a.m. and p.m. are omitted.

A New Lawyer for Texas

JOHN HILL

Elect a New Lawyer to Clean Up the Mess In Austin

- ✓ The attorney general is our chief lawyer and investigator. As attorney general, John Hill will move on his own initiative to investigate corruption in government. He'll be your watchdog for honest government in Austin.
- ✓ John Hill will aid law enforcement personnel in their fight against crime, particularly organized crime, by establishing a Crime Strike Force in the attorney general's office.
- ✓ John Hill will personally represent the interests of the people of Texas in the courtroom prosecuting pollution law violators.
- ✓ John Hill will actively prosecute "tax dodgers" who collect your sales tax pennies and then pocket them. We are losing millions of dollars a year because of weak enforcement.
- ✓ John Hill will set up a constitutional law division, made up of lawyers specially trained in constitutional law, to work with the legislature to stop the passage of unconstitutional laws at tremendous expense to the public.
- ✓ John Hill will personally go into court on behalf of the Texas consumers to protect us from false, misleading and deceptive business practices.
- ✓ John Hill will offer leadership for reform in the administration of justice in Texas. Speedy trials will be his primary objective.

VETERANS NEWS

Q: As the widow of a World War I veteran drawing a VA pension, can I also receive Social Security benefits?

A: Yes, so long as you do not exceed income limitations.

Q: I'm going to college under the GI Bill and having trouble with one of my courses. Is it true that VA provides tutorial assistance in such cases?

A: Yes, VA will pay up to $50 monthly in tutorial fees for a maximum of nine months to prevent a veteran studying above high school level from failing in a subject essential to his educational objective. If you need this assistance, get an application form from your nearest VA office, complete it, and mail it to the VA office which has your educational records.

Q: A few years ago, I was receiving compensation from VA based on the death of my husband who was killed during World War II. These payments were discontinued when I remarried. Since my second husband died recently, I am wondering if VA compensation can be reinstated?

A: Yes, There is a law which allows reinstatement of this benefit if the remarriage of the veteran's widow ends in death or divorce, provided she is otherwise eligible.

Q: What is the maximum VA-guaranteed loan on a mobile home?

A: The maximum is $10,000 for 12 years and 32 days for the purchase of a mobile home only.

Q: Is the widow of a World War II veteran eligible for reimbursement of burial expenses?

A: Yes. Reimbursement, not to exceed $250, also is authorized for the deaths of veterans of the Spanish-American War, Mexican Border Period, World War I, Korean Conflict Period, Vietnam Era and veterans of certain peacetime service.

LEADING NEWSPAPERS SUPPORT BEN BARNES!

Confused about the Governor's race? More than a score of major newspapers across the state have endorsed Ben Barnes for Governor. These newspapers have the capability to analyze what is going on, and to separate campaign claims from fact. Here, in part, is what just a few of them have to say:

FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM

"Mr. Barnes epitomizes the emerging Texas. He knows whence we have come and whither we must go, and he is better qualified than any other candidate to lead us in the proper direction."

SAN ANGELO STANDARD-TIMES

"The taint of scandal is on Texas Government — but that taint does not extend to the Lieutenant Governor . . . despite the fact that he has probably been investigated by political opponents more closely than any other Texas official. Of all the candidates, he seems uniquely equipped to give Texas the superlative leadership the time demands . . ."

HOUSTON CHRONICLE

"Ben Barnes repeatedly has sought legislative reforms. He is a man who can bring dignity and effectiveness to the Governor's office and credit to the State of Texas."

The Abilene Reporter-News

"One stands out among them all as the best qualified and best suited for these times. Ben Barnes can bring Texas toward a new day in the future that can be as bright and distinguished as the present is discouraging and disheartening."

THE DALLAS TIMES HERALD

"Lt. Governor Ben Barnes has amply proved his leadership qualities and capabilities, forged in the crucible of legislative fire. He has the knowledge, the experience and the ability to lead Texas out of the dismal morass of scandals and petty bickering in which it now finds itself."

The Dallas Morning News

"Ben Barnes, more than any other candidate, has the youth, the vigor, the talent and knowledge-ability to lead the state in the critical 1970s. He is not a status quo man. He dreams and builds for a better Texas."

THESE NEWSPAPERS HAVE THOROUGHLY INVESTIGATED AND CONSIDERED ALL THE CANDIDATES.

New Honors and Recognition Offered in 4-H Beef Program

SPECIAL - More than 8,500 4-H members are expected to earn recognition in the 1972 national 4-H beef program, reports the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago.

In announcing the new program of awards sponsored by Celanese Chemical Company, the Committee notes that six national scholarship awards of $700 each will be presented. A winner from each state will receive an expense-paid trip to the 51st National 4-H Congress, Nov. 26-30, in Chicago. And up to four medals of honor will be awarded in each county.

Beef project enrollment figures recently released by the Cooperative Extension Service, which supervises 4-H, show over 152,000 participants. One of the most popular 4-H animal projects, enrollment is keeping pace with the need for producing the best quality beef possible for America's discriminating consumer.

Boys and girls enrolled in the program learn how to select the best kind of cattle and maintain rapid, efficient gains. They also fit and show at fairs, and learn to judge live and dressed cattle as part of the program activities.

Like most 4-H members, young people enrolled in the beef program are looking for career ideas and greater involvement in leadership development as well as fun and recognition.

The 4-H'ers are encouraged to try the most modern practices recommended by the state agricultural colleges and adopted by commercial breeders and feeders who frequently serve as volunteer 4-H leaders.

Reflecting his company's support of the 4-H beef program, Tom C. Addison, director, Agricultural Products, Celanese Chemical Company, a divn. of Celanese Corporation, said:

"We at Celanese are most pleased to join the ranks of the other outstanding companies that annually sponsor various 4-H program. We believe the 4-H organization can be almost unique in the outstanding contributions it makes to youth. We look forward to a continuing and constructive relationship."

Information about the local 4-H beef program and related activities is available from the county extension office.

People Who Have to Get It Done in Austin Depend on Ability, Strength and Seniority for Success

The Waters Davis Soil and Water Conservation District Newsletter, in its November, 1969 24th Annual Report said:

"Galveston County has a Champion of Conservation in the Texas Senate. The Honorable A. R. 'Babe' Schwartz led the way in getting legislation passed to provide state funds, on a matching basis, for Soil and Water Conservation Districts."

"Legislation to provide Districts with operating funds has been proposed for years, but it wasn't until Sen. Schwartz took the reins that it became a reality."

"Somehow a mere 'thanks' seems inadequate for such a significant accomplishment. The tremendous efforts of Sen. Schwartz in the interest of our natural resources is heartwarming and encouraging. We know all of you join us in our appreciation of one so concerned and effective in maintaining our good ways of life."

The December, 1971 edition of Texas Agriculture, the official publication of the Texas Farm Bureau, said the first general trespass law passed in 1971, was one of the major achievements of that Session. The bill was the Schwartz Senate Bill No. 204.

The Texas Sheriff's Association, composed of all Texas sheriffs and constables, chose State Senator A. R. 'Babe' Schwartz as the Outstanding Senator as well as the Outstanding Legislator of both the House and Senate because of his excellent record of successful passage of laws benefitting law enforcement and citizen protection.

The Galveston News, in its April 23rd editorial endorsement of A. R. 'Babe'

Schwartz, said:

"Senator Schwartz' record makes him the best choice. We believe that his record of service to his constituents in Galveston County and the entire district is sufficient proof that Sen. Schwartz has the political know-how to get things done in Austin. To throw away the advantages of his seniority in the Texas Senate would, in our estimation, be totally unjustified."

"One of the primary reasons he should be re-elected is his ability to get things done because of his close working relationship with other legislative leaders."

"The next session of the Texas Legislature will be one of the most crucial in the state's history, with about 50 percent new members, making it all the more important to return Schwartz with his proven leadership to the Senate."

The Texas City Sun also endorsed Senator Schwartz on April 23rd, saying:

"Schwartz is an influential legislator. In his 12 years as Senator, Schwartz has headed many committees. His most recent appointment was to head the direct Legislative Committee which deals with rules and legislative reform. As Chairman, Sen. Schwartz holds an important role on a powerful committee. Also to his credit, he has been responsible to his constituents in authoring bills in the Senate."

"Schwartz can be described as a political 'populist.' His concern for the 'little guy' has been expressed many times in Senate debates."

"The Daily Sun can find no reason not to support Schwartz for another term in the Senate, where his power, prestige and influence cannot but help this county."

Thence, East along and with the North Right-of-Way line of Enterprise Boulevard a distance of 943.02 feet to the place of beginning and being 20.09 acres of land.

A public hearing will be held by and before the City Council of the City of Rockport, Texas, on the 16th day of May, 1972, at 7:30 p.m. in the City Council Chamber of the City Hall of the City of Rockport, Texas, for all persons interested in the above proposed annexation. At said time and place all such persons shall have the right to appear and be heard. Of all

By now you've probably made up your mind who you are going to vote for in the Democratic and Republican primary elections Saturday, May 6.

So the important thing is BE SURE TO VOTE.

The right to vote is a wonderful privilege and we should always exercise this right. And yet, as we all know, in many elections here and throughout the United States there is a pathetically small turnout of voters.

How would you like to live in a country run by a dictator where there are no elections or if there is a mock election the voters know they better vote a certain way or get shot?

We in the United States can vote for any candidate we are in favor of, so let's go to the polls Saturday and do just that.

Hostesses were Mrs. Mickey Casterline, Mrs. Bubba Casterline, Mrs. Royce Harrell, Mrs. David Eickbusch, Mrs. Lynn Wendell and Mrs. Durwood Touchstone.

Serving were Mrs. Rex Littleton, Jr., Miss Pam Hill and Miss Becky Baldwin.

The table was trimmed in bride's lace and net over white satin and held a three-tiered cake and two candelabra trimmed with spring flowers. A crystal punch bowl was at one end and silver coffee service at the other.

The register table was covered with a hand crocheted cloth with an arrangement of spring flowers. Lisa Casterline was in charge of the register. Out-of-town guests included

Rockport Fire Department Meets

The Rockport Volunteer Fire Department held its weekly meeting last Thursday night with an outstanding attendance. Meeting was called to order by Fire Chief Coy Truelove. After several discussions, slides were shown by Bill Oliver which he took showing the effect of the new foam equipment. The slides were taken the night of the house fire on Liberty Street several weeks ago.

Following the slides, all members joined together to help the maintenance committee to check out all vehicles. The Fire Department will hold their monthly business meeting tonight. All members are urged to attend.

Mrs. Gaston Mills and Miss Sarah Shults of Alice, Mrs. Dave Segler of Laredo, Mrs. Lloyd Pitts of Aransas Pass and Mrs. Ed Zelenka, Jr., of Houston.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Girl Scout Troop 469 had a camp-out on April 28 in tents on the Little House grounds. For "Keep America Beautiful Day" April 29, they hiked to Rockport Beach, picking up litter along the way. After a short time playing in the water, the girls ate their lunches while sunning in the "Shell". The girls then cleaned up that area and hiked back to the Little House.

Brownie Troop 431 also hiked Saturday morning along a different route to the beach and picked up litter, too. They, too, had a picnic and played for a few minutes in the water before returning to the Little House.

The Cadette Troop went to Padre Island National Seashore to help in the Palsano Council and Boy Scout Council clean up on the National grounds. This clean up day was a nation-wide endeavor of the Boy and Girl Scouts of America to clean up specific national areas as well as local parks and beaches.

DURALASHES

Now Any Woman Can Have Natural, Luxurious Eyelashes!

Duralashes are almost weightless tiny puffs of synthetic fibers (because human hair does not hold a curl), invisibly fastened to your own eyelashes one at a time. Result is soft, full, luxurious eyelashes that defy comparison with real eyelashes... even on closeup inspection.

Because Duralashes are part of your own eyelashes, they share the same "lifetime" of a natural lash, about 6-8 weeks. As your body replaces your own lashes regularly a few each week, so are Duralashes "filled in" a few a week during the regular weekly beauty shop visit.

You may shower, bathe, swim, even sauna while wearing Duralashes.

Every woman, regardless of age, who wishes to have beautiful eyes can wear Duralashes.

The cost of a customized, permanent Duralash styling is very reasonable in return for the rich, continuous satisfaction they afford the wearer.

If you've been wanting beautiful eyelashes... wait no more, Duralash by Ardell has the lovely eyes you've been looking for.

Common Sense

1. Common sense is trying to contain expenditures within a budget and still provide reasonable service to an area without increasing taxes. Exceeding the budget by Federal Government and resulting inflation, is making this extremely difficult. You may accelerate, or increase these services if you want to increase your taxes.
2. Sixteen county governmental departments and services as provided for under State law, are directed by officials elected by the citizens of this county. Financing and facilities are provided through the Commissioners Court, except bond issues voted by popular vote.
3. Commissioners are necessarily responsive to the public's opinion and anytime enough people indicate a desire for any increased services and the increased expense that accompanies it, you may be sure it will be provided. Opinions of two or three people are not going to create much activity.
4. County Commissioners operate Road and Bridge with one set of equipment, in the face of an ever increasing work load, in order to economize. Over ninety per cent of the roads in this county are asphalt topped. A high average for the State. Drainage has been, and is being, increased. Taxable values of oil are decreasing rapidly (about $1,000,000 tax value drop last year). Don't increase the load on property taxes.
5. Saturday, May 6 is election day. I would appreciate and thank you for your vote. Transportation to and from the polls will be provided, if you will call 729-8523.

People Who Have to Get It Done in Austin Depend on Ability, Strength and Seniority For Success

The Waters Davis Soil and Water Conservation District Newsletter in its November, 1969, Twenty-fourth Annual Report said: "Galveston County has a Champion of Conservation in the Texas Senate. The Honorable A. R. "Babe" Schwartz led the way in getting legislation passed to provide State Funds, on a matching basis, for soil and water conservation districts.

Legislation to provide districts with operating funds has been proposed for years but it wasn't until Senator Schwartz took the reins that it became a reality. Somehow a mere "thanks" seems inadequate for such a significant accomplishment. The tremendous efforts of Senator Schwartz in the interest of our natural resources is heartwarming and encouraging. We know all of you join us in our appreciation of one so concerned and effective in maintaining our good ways of life."

The December, 1971, edition of Texas Agriculture, the official publication of the Texas Farm Bureau, said the first general trespass law passed in 1971, was one of the major achievements of that session. The bill was State Senate Bill # 204.

The Texas Sheriff's Association, composed of all Texas Sheriffs and Constables chose State Senator A. R. "Babe" Schwartz as the outstanding Senator as well as the outstanding legislator of both the House and Senate because of his excellent record of successful passage of laws benefitting law enforcement and citizen protection.

The Galveston News, in its April 23rd editorial endorsement of A. R. "Babe" Schwartz said: "Senator Schwartz's record makes him the best choice. We believe that his record of service to his constituents in Galveston County and the entire district is sufficient proof that Senator Schwartz has the political know-how to get things done in Austin. To throw away the advantages of his seniority in the Texas Senate would, in our estimation, be totally unjustified.

One of the primary reasons he should be re-elected is his ability to get things done because of his close working relationship with other legislative leaders.

The next session of the Texas Legislature will be one of the most crucial in the State's history, with about 50% new members, making it all the more important to return Schwartz with his proven leadership to the Senate."

The Texas City Sun also endorsed Senator Schwartz on April 23, saying: "Schwartz is an influential legislator. In his twelve years as Senator, Schwartz has headed many committees. His most recent appointment was to head the Direct Capitol Legislative Capitol Committee which deals with rules and legislative reform. As Chairman, Senator Schwartz holds an important role on a powerful committee. Also, to his credit, he has been responsible to his constituents in authoring bills in the Senate. Schwartz can be described as a political "populist". His concern for the "little guy" has been expressed many times in Senate debates.

The daily Sun can see no reason not to support Schwartz for another term in the Senate, where his power, prestige and influence can not but help this County."

Let's join together and send our new found friend back to the Texas Senate where his 12 years tenure as the 4th Senior Texas Senator will benefit us all.

Questions and Answers

Q. I have medical insurance under Medicare. Can I send two different bills to the carrier for two entirely different services—general practitioner and a radiologist—on one Request for Payment form?

A. Yes.

Q. I have been paying social security contributions for over 20 years and so has my wife. Since she can get a monthly benefit as a wife on my record when I retire, why does she also have to pay social security contributions?

A. Everyone who works at a job covered by social security must pay contributions. More important, however, your wife, as a worker, has social security protection in her own right. If she becomes severely disabled before reaching retirement age, she might qualify on her own earnings record for monthly disability checks. And, when she retires, she can get retirement benefits on her own earnings record even if you decide to keep on working. In most cases, her retirement benefit check would generally be more than the check she would receive as a dependent wife. If she should die while your children are young, they could get monthly survivors benefits on her earnings record.

Q. I am 66 and enrolled in Medicare. After spending a week in a hospital, I was told that I must transfer to a nursing home for the skilled nursing care I need, and Medicare would still help pay my bills. How much of my bills will Medicare pay?

A. If you are found eligible for Medicare benefits while you are in a specially qualified kind of skilled nursing home that is called an extended care facility, the program will pay for all covered services for the first 20 days. For the next 80 days, Medicare will pay for all the covered services except $8.50 a day.

Have a question about social security and its retirement, survivors, disability or Medicare benefits? See your telephone directory for the phone number and address of the nearest social security office.

Doe Harvest Up In Many Areas

Austin—Texas Parks and Wildlife Department surveys have shown that so far either-sex deer seasons have been an unqualified success both from deer management and public acceptance standpoints.

The state's second either-sex harvest was held in 25 counties during the past hunting season, and late figures show that with few exceptions the antlerless deer kill was up while the buck harvest remained static or declined slightly.

Biologists say this is in line with good deer management practices, since in most areas where high deer populations exist the herd is under-harvested. This is particularly the case with antlerless deer, although "doe permits" have been issued in scores of counties for the past 18 years.

Horace Gore, head of the department's wildlife restoration branch, said that of seven Edwards Plateau counties which had an either-sex season for the past two years, only one—Sutton County—failed to show an increase in the antlerless deer harvest.

Texas landowners who have participated in the either-sex deer season apparently are in favor of the system, judging from a survey conducted by the department since 1970.

Each landowner who received special antlerless deer tags was sent a special questionnaire asking for such information as the numbers of deer killed and their sex. It included a space for comments pro or con.

Gore said the return on these cards has been a very high 60 to 70 percent, and the reactions have been almost entirely favorable.

Gore said the people who lease land on an either-sex basis favor the system because it cuts out red tape involved in the previous "doe permit" system based on acreage allotments. However, the either-sex method still allows the landowner to control the numbers and sex of deer taken on his property.

A landowner in an either-sex harvest county who wishes to participate may pick up as many of the either-sex tags as he wishes from locations announced in the early fall. The tags are merely marking devices to notify law enforcement personnel that the deer was taken legally in an either-sex county.

"Under the either-sex system," Gore explained, "the department is not dictating to the landowner how many antlerless deer should be killed on his property. This gives him more freedom in controlling the harvest, and it relieves the department of having to maintain a complicated system of permit allotments."

Gore said he feels certain that in view of the overwhelming success of the first two experimental either-sex seasons in Texas there will be further expansion of the concept in years to come.

PRODUCING BRAIN WAVES?

Can people become more creative by "learning" how to facilitate the production of brain wave patterns thought to be associated with reverie and imagery?

This theory is posed by a leading scientist, Dr. Elmer E. Green, of the Menninger Foundation in Topeka, Kansas. With support from the National Institute of Mental Health, Dr. Green is testing his theory in a study that reflects growing interest of U. S. scientists in the achievement of voluntary control over body processes.

The Yoga-like principle that the function of various body organs may be controlled at will is being explored through a technique known as "biofeedback". This employs principles that control can be achieved by constantly informing an individual from moment to moment with electronic signals exactly how a particular organ in his body is functioning.

Change in organ function is brought about by "reinforcement", that is, by informing the individual, again by electronic devices, when small changes in the desired direction occur.

Prior studies by Dr. Green and others have indicated that, using an electroencephalograph --brain wave machine--the alpha brain wave pattern, which is associated with reverie, can be brought under voluntary self control.

Now the researcher plans to "teach" volunteers control of the theta brain wave, which signals a fleeting and relaxed state thought to be associated with creativity.

Dr. Green has been engaged in basic research which led recently to the experimental training of migraine headache sufferers, some of whom "learned" through biofeedback techniques to relieve their own symptoms.

Research in this field points to the possibility of voluntary control over "involuntary" systems such as the heart, the stomach and intestines, and blood pressure, as well as the brain. Such studies are also of great scientific interest regarding how mind and body mechanism inter-relate with each other.

Wants Target Range Opened to Public

"I believe that the county-owned target range should be re-opened to the public and the grounds maintained," Joe Earl Hunt said today.

The range was developed on public property near the Aransas County Airport in 1965 for use by sportsmen as well as law-enforcement officials, he stated, adding:

"I felt there was a definite need for this project because there was no other facility in the area for target practice."

Hunt was Aransas County Sheriff at the time and made the initial arrangements with County authorities to have the work done with County equipment and labor.

"Since we have the range, let's maintain and use it," he stated.

Hunt is a life member of the National Rifle Association.

Weekly Marketing Report

College Station-- "Today's dollar buys high-quality food, a year-round choice of foods in many forms and foods that save work, time and energy," noted Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Houston consumer marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University.

Fryer chickens offer one of the best budget-buys in many stores this week. Most markets feature whole fryers, fryer parts and chicken hens. Look for turkeys at attractive price levels in some markets, especially turkey parts.

Eggs continue as a low cost protein food choice with grade A large currently the best value.

The specialist reported that pork values include Boston butt roasts, quarter loin-sliced, smoked picnic, hams and ham portions.

Beef prices have decreased somewhat, but they're still higher than at this time a year ago. Various cuts of mature and baby beef are offered at markets this week. In general, look for best values on chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks, ground beef, calf and beef liver.

Enjoy navel oranges and grapefruit before the supply season ends in a few weeks.

"Apples cost a bit more because they're coming from controlled atmosphere storage," Mrs. Clyatt said. "Their quality is excellent when they first come from storage, but keep them in the refrigerator to maintain their crisp juiciness."

Look for lower watermelon prices as the supply increases. Tangerines, strawberries, pineapples, pears, bananas, lemons and cantaloupe are other fruit choices worthy of consideration.

"Onions remain quite plentiful now so use them as a side dish as well as for seasoning and enhancing the flavor of other foods," the specialist suggested.

Potatoes, cabbage, carrots, bulk turnips and cooking greens are generally the most economical vegetables. Asparagus prices are moderately low now, but the season is quite short.

Actress Lynn Redgrave refuses to appear in nude movie scenes because, she says, among other reasons, clothing "is the last realm of privacy."

On Dean's List

San Marcos-- Three Rockport students at Southwest Texas State University are among the 2,288 university students whose fall semester grades earned them places on the fall term Dean's Honor List.

The top academic list, the Superior Dean's Honor List, requires students to have grades of "A" in at least 12 of the required 15 hours of course work, and no lower than a "B" in their other three-hour course. This averages out to a minimum grade-point average of 3.8 on the four-point scale or 2.8 on the three-point system.

The local students whose scholastic average earned them a spot on the honor list are Mrs. Robert Frost, the former Debra K. Rogero, Wes E. Schwitz and Heather L. Miller.

Mrs. Frost now resides in Maxwell, Texas. Schwitz resides at 1506 Dana Dr., while Miss Miller lives on Star Rt. 1, Rockport.

TV COMMENTARY

By John Smiley

INSTANT HOME MOVIES through your TV set is a revolutionary device now on the market. Instead of a movie camera, you use a magnetic tape, very similar to that used in present day Hi-Fi cartridges or cassettes.

WHEN PLAYING back your home-recorded video tapes, the pictures may be seen in living color through the family TV set via a special adaptor. There is no limit on how long these TV home movies can be stored.

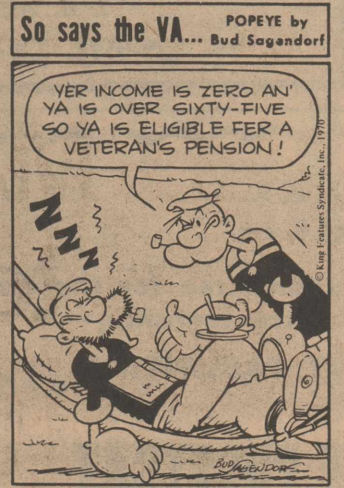

ALL IN THE FAMILY was adapted from the British series "Till Death Do Us Part." However, the U.S. version was rejected by English viewers, apparently because it was much too tame compared with the original.

A NETWORK DRAMA SPECIAL can be expensive simply in production terms, with costs running between $200,000 and perhaps $500,000 per program.

GOVERNMENT OWNED BBC operates two of Britain's three TV stations. Most of its income is derived from the nation's viewers, who pay an annual license tax of $17 to $30 on their TV sets. There is also a commercial station, ITV, which stands for Independent Television.

BBC, in its 50th anniversary year, is under an unprecedented critical siege from without and within its august sanctum. It is being blasted for being both too arrogant and too timid in its coverage, of mining the historical-epic format to the point of obsession, and of discouraging enterprise among its younger producers.

ACCENT ON HEALTH

"Contents Fragile--Handle with Care"

Place this sign on the outside of every motor vehicle and you can clearly see the reasons behind a government and industry move to build safer cars. It is also the reason the Texas State Department of Health and authorities in other states have moved to implement an intensive ambulance training program to provide the best medical care possible after an accident has occurred.

Some medical leaders say automotive experts must 'package the human' in his automobile in order to minimize injuries and reduce traffic mishap fatalities. Experience has shown that even people who consider themselves better drivers don't always fasten their seat belts and shoulder straps.

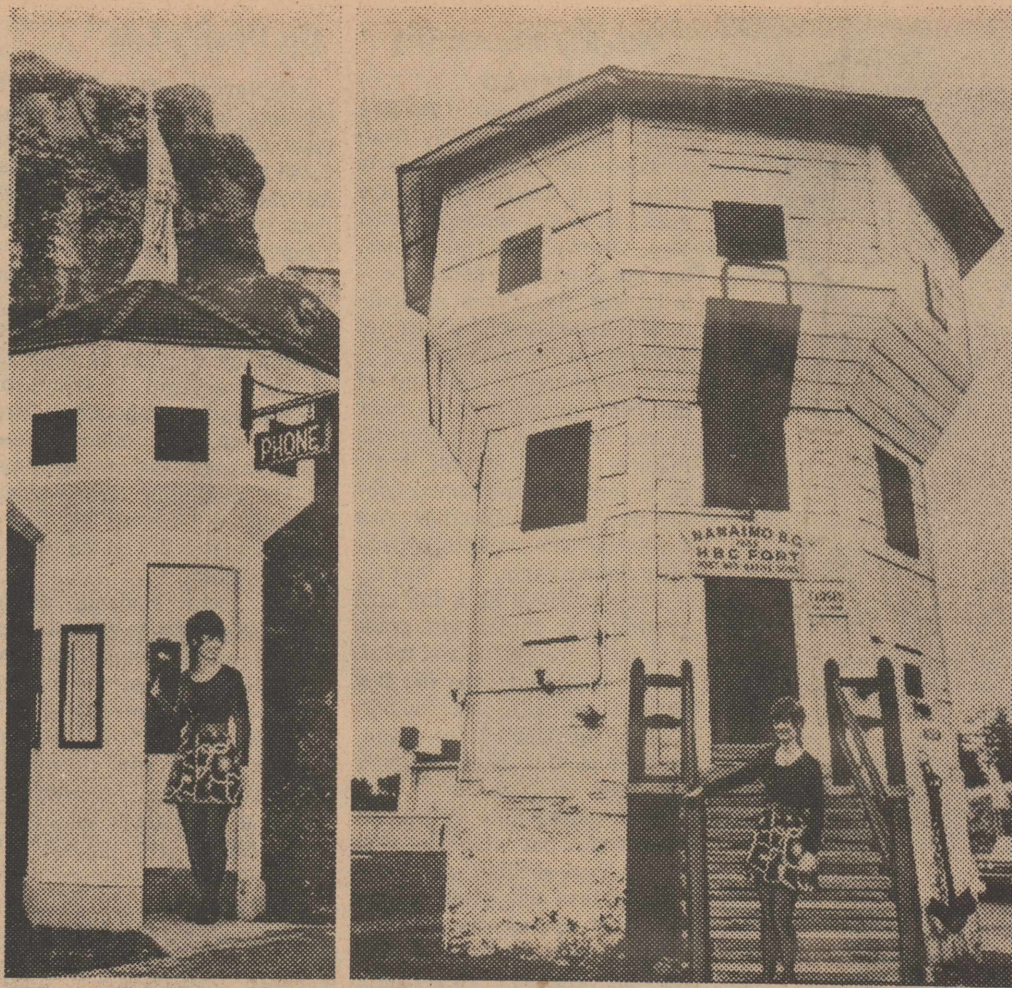

Some authorities believe better bumpers, better structural integrity and better door locks will help lessen injuries and fatalities. A big help, they say, would be 100 per cent use of seat restraints, but the safety belts can't save you if you're sitting on them.

That is why it has become so necessary to have the best possible trained and equipped ambulance service and emergency medical care. The State Health Department to date has trained hundreds of ambulance attendants across the State, and through such programs, are upgrading the quality of emergency medical care in Texas.

Still, there is a need to build safety into the cars. Safety experts estimate only about one in five persons use safety belts and one in 20 use shoulder belts. Facts such as these have led to the movement toward "passive restraints."

The air bag system, which inflates during collision and quickly goes down, shows promise but some people have shot the air bags full of holes for a number of reasons as THE passive safety device.

Whatever the outcome of this movement, the Texas public can rest assured that better emergency medical care will be available as the State Health Department's training programs continue.

A metal wheelbarrow is handy when cleaning window screens. Fill the wheelbarrow with hot water and some cleanser, lay each screen in the wheelbarrow and scrub with a car brush with a handle. Rinse off the screens with the garden hose.

This covers and seals the hole and, being clear, is scarcely noticeable.

String your clothesline wire through the coil springs in spring-type clothespins. This way your clothespins will always be on the line and you can remove clothes merely by pinching the clothespins together.

Screen patching can be brain-wracking if you let it go until the holes are big. Keep an eagle eye on yours and when a hole is large enough for a mosquito or fly to get through, dot the hole with household cement.

Do not store your wind shield snow brush. It is ideal to clean the refrigerator's wire coils and reach other hard-to-get-at places.

LET'S RE-ELECT JESSE JAMES State Treasurer

JESSE JAMES IS PROVEN.

JESSE JAMES has a proven record of honesty and efficiency as verified by State Auditor reports.

JESSE JAMES last year earned for the State of Texas over Sixteen Million Dollars in interest from State Funds deposited in over 1,100 Texas Banks — more than any billion dollar bank in Texas made.

LET'S KEEP JESSE JAMES STATE TREASURER. He has proven he knows how to handle your state's finances.

Pol. Adv. Paid for by Jesse James, State Treasurer p7

Governor Preston Smith serves.

For you,

- Preston Smith stopped the Sales Tax on food, medicine, and farm equipment.
- Preston Smith stopped an increase in the gasoline tax.
- Preston Smith rejected an unnecessary personal income tax.

For Texas,

- Preston Smith helped provide more funds for industrial development than any two governors before him.
- Preston Smith helped establish more new state colleges and universities than all previous governors combined.
- Preston Smith initiated the first comprehensive program to fight drug abuse in Texas.
- Preston Smith helped develop the most progressive salary schedule for teachers in the nation.

Re-elect

Governor

Preston Smith

and help him keep your taxes down.

If you're old enough to want your own telephone, you're old enough to want your own typewriter.

There comes a time in your life when all of a sudden privacy really counts.

You need to be alone. In your own place.

With your own things. You want your conversations with your friends to be just that — not a family gathering.

We understand. Which brings us to your own typewriter.

Your own typewriter says you're getting serious (and better be left alone).

After all, when people hear the tappy-tap of a typewriter they figure you're into something important and automatically steer away from you.

Besides, when your own typewriter is sitting there, it has a way (a neater way than anyone else) of reminding you of the work you have to do. And somehow you'll find yourself doing it.

And doing it faster — because with say, an electric portable, even a beginner can get to type twice as fast as writing by hand.

Other things can happen too. Like spelling can improve. Because a typed word that's misspelled looks misspelled, and just asks to be corrected.

You'll find your creative thoughts won't slip away from you, because a typewriter really listens to you — actually accepts every idea as fast as it comes up.

And then a little miracle called Organization can occur. When that happens, you can get a feeling of confidence you won't believe.

So drop a hint or two about wanting your own typewriter. The mere act of asking says something about where your head's at.

Which could even go a long way toward getting you that telephone.

At the very least, your own extension.

Just remember when you're asking, who reminded you to ask.

Only one man running for Lt. Governor knows the problem, but isn't part of the problem in our state.

"Are you outraged at a state government that fails to govern? At elected officials who line their own pockets at the people's expense? Are you sick of the stench of corruption that hangs over our state capitol?"

I am.

Whoever serves as your Lt. Governor has a job of great power. He is the presiding officer of the Senate. He has more influence over where our money goes than any other man. Some men don't use power well. I'll use that power to bring reason, decency and respect to Texas politics and Texas government."

CHRONIC DRUG USERS?

The familiar claim that Americans have become chronic drug users does not appear to be valid, according to new research evidence.

A scientific study carried out by university, government, and psychiatric institute researchers challenges the claim and indicates that most Americans who do use psychotherapeutic drugs do not take them on a regular or long-term basis.

Instead, most people seem to be relatively conservative in their use both of prescription and over-the-counter psychotherapeutic drugs.

Unlike previous surveys based solely on drugstore records, data were obtained by interviewing a population cross-section of adults 18 and older, from whom the researchers drew a profile of usage patterns and reasons for drug use.

Studies have shown widespread acceptance and use of tranquilizers, anti-depressants, stimulants, sedatives, and barbiturates; and some 178 million prescriptions were filled in U. S. drugstores in 1967.

An important issue in the study was the extent to which persons become involved in using psychotherapeutic drugs. On this point, the survey showed that regular long-term use is most likely to occur among those for whom drugs are prescribed by a physician.

Prescription drug takers who use non-medical sources (relatives and friends) were not likely to use the drugs regularly.

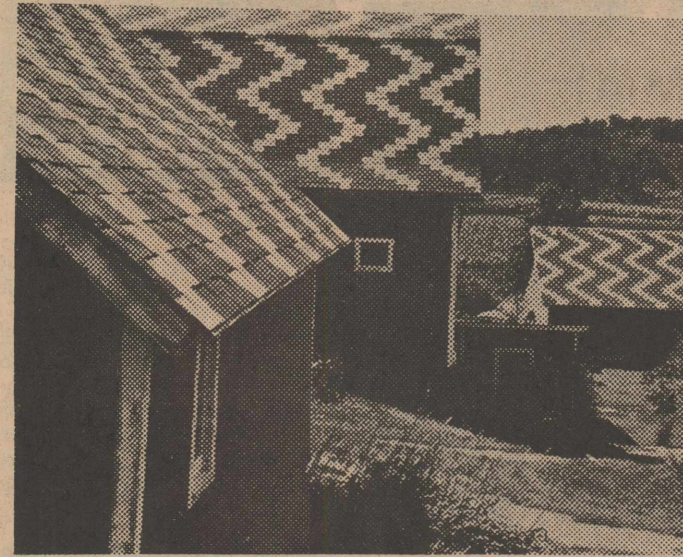

Drugs most likely to be used by men on a long-term daily basis were the sedatives, mainly phenobarbital. Women, on the other hand, are most likely to use minor tranquilizers over a long period of time.

Nationally, according to the researchers, the use of minor tranquilizers is much more frequent than use of stimulant drugs.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Fat Bus

Harvey never knew what hit him until they told him about it afterward in the hospital.

He had been standing on a sidewalk near the curb, gazing to the north, when a bus approaching from the south moved in for a stop. The front corner of the bus, which overhung the curb, struck him a glancing blow on the forehead.

Under these circumstances, was Harvey entitled to collect damages from the bus company? In a court test, the company said no. The driver had a right, argued the company, to drive as close to the curb as his wheels would allow.

But Harvey won a substantial judgment. The court said the driver should have realized that, since a bus is fatter than its wheels, it can extend over the curb and smite an unsuspecting pedestrian standing on the sidewalk.

In the eyes of the law, a sidewalk is a safety zone in which the pedestrian reigns supreme. As the court put it:

"A pedestrian is entitled to assume there is no danger from traffic as long as he remains on the sidewalk."

Would it matter if the pedestrian had actually seen the bus coming toward him? That should make a difference, claimed the bus company in another injury case, because it would have been so easy for him to take one step backward—to be safe.

But again the court ruled in the pedestrian's favor. The court said he simply had no reason to expect that the bus would intrude where it had no business intruding.

Still, there is always the possibility that at the very moment of impact, the pedestrian may have been leaning over the curb into the street.

One woman was struck by a bus while she was standing on the sidewalk between a fire hydrant and an electric light pole. Yet, even though both the hydrant and the pole were at the very edge of the curb, neither of these objects was even scratched.

Applying common sense, the court concluded that the woman herself must have been at fault. The judge said that, at least for a brief instant and a brief distance, she must have leaned out of her safety zone on the sidewalk, into the danger zone on the street.

TEXAS' NEW IMMUNIZATION LAWS
INSTRUCTIONS FOR PARENTS AND STUDENTS

Texas now has new laws that require immunizations for all students enrolled in child caring facilities and institutions, schools and institutions of higher learning. The required immunizations are shown below by age groups:

MINIMUM IMMUNIZATION REQUIREMENTS FOR CHILDREN
ADMITTED TO CHILD CARING FACILITIES AND INSTITUTIONS, SCHOOLS AND INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER LEARNING

DOSES OF VACCINE REQUIRED FOR FOUR DIFFERENT AGE GROUPS
VACCINE	Under 1 year	1-4 years	5-11 years	12 yrs. & older
ORAL POLIO	3	3	3*	3*(Thru Age 18)
DTP and/or Td	3	3	3*	3
MEASLES	NONE	1	1	NONE
RUBELLA	NONE	1	1	NONE
SMALLPOX	NONE	1	1	1

NOTE: *At least one of these doses must have been received since the 4th birthday.

At least one dose must have been received within the past 10 years.

If a child has had measles illness, measles vaccine is not required.

Requirements for Kindergarten (five-year-old children only) and grades 1 thru 5 are the same as those for ages 5-11 years shown above.

Requirements for grades 6 and above are the same as those for ages 12 years and older as shown above.

All Immunizations should be completed by the time of enrollment this September 1972.

Since many types of personal immunization records are in current use, any document listing each immunization received by year will be acceptable with the signature or rubber-stamp validation of personal records by physicians or public health clinics is required.

If you have any questions, contact your family physician, or local health department. We suggest that you take this form with you to your doctor or The Ingleside Health Clinic in Ingleside, Texas. Free Immunizations are given at the Ingleside Health Clinics on any Thursday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The Immunization Record and The Birth Certificate are absolutely necessary before a student can be enrolled in school. Bring both with you to the school the day you enroll your child.

We will appreciate your cooperation in this matter.

Economic Stabilization Questions and Answers

Q: Do retailers who are required to prenotify their price increases have to give advance notice and obtain approval of price increases at the closeout of a temporary promotional campaign?

A: No. Such changes representing a return to normal prices and do not have to be prenotified to the Price Commission or approved in advance. However, these changes must be included in quarterly reports that firms with annual sales of $50 million or more must file with the Commission.

Q: Do wholesalers have to comply with the base price posting requirements applicable to retailers?

A: No.

Q: Does an employer have to apply to the Internal Revenue Service for permission to make retroactive payments for services performed during the freeze by employees receiving less than $2 per hour straight time or for one-time fringe benefit increases which came due for employees during the freeze?

A: No. In these cases, employers may make retroactive payments on their own determination, subject only to compliance checking by the Internal Revenue Service.

Q: Are state unemployment compensation payments subject to controls in Phase II?

A: State unemployment compensation payments are not wages or prices within the meaning of the governing statute and are not controlled. This is true whether or not a particular state's program is funded in whole or in part by employer contributions.

Q: Do the economic controls apply to college tuition charges?

A: Yes, tuition, as well as room and board are covered.

Q: Do prenotifiers and reporting firms use the same form to notify the Price Commission of price increases?

A: Yes. Form PC-1 (PC-1R for retailers and wholesalers) should be used by both firms with annual sales of $100 million or more to notify the Price Commission in advance of price increases and file quarterly reports and those firms with annual sales between $50-100 million that are merely required to report quarterly. The Price Commission will process requests for price increases only if submitted on those forms or facsimile copies. These forms are available at Internal Revenue Service offices.

All other manufacturing, service and professional firms who do not have to file Form PC-1 to validate their price increases, but must maintain records of such increases in their files, may find the form useful for computing and recording in the files any price increases put into effect.

Q: Service charges such as utility, parking meter and bridge tolls were subject to Phase I while licenses and fines such as vehicle licenses and parking tickets were exempt. Does the same situation apply to Phase II?

A: Yes. Unless specifically altered by regulation or published rulings, policy rulings issued by the Cost of Living Council and interpretations issued by the Office of Emergency Preparedness continue to be applicable after November 13, 1971.

Golf News

Sixty-one players competed Sunday in the Scotch foursome tournament at Live Oak Country Club.

The winning team, at seven under par, consisted of Dale Hagy, J. M. Attaway, George Wilhelm and Rose Smith.

Three teams tied at six under par and decided to split the prizes.

One team included St. Petty, Melvin Boswell, J. D. Richards and Frank Hametner; another team Dee Hagy, Terry Long, Karl Smith and Kay Meyer; and the third team Tom Andrews, Jim Powell, Dan Erck and Norma Hagy.

There will be another Scotch foursome tourney Sunday, May 7 starting at 2 p.m.

In the Men's Championship Tournament, qualifying rounds will continue through Saturday, May 7. Medalist play will be on Saturday. The tourney itself will start May 9.

Shower Honors Miss Rouquette

Miss Cynthia Rouquette, bride-elect of Royce Itschner, was honored with a personal shower last Thursday night, in Kingsville. Miss Eileen Casterline was hostess for the occasion.

Arrangements of fresh spring flowers decorated the living room and carried out the honoree's favorite color scheme of lavender and white.

Lavender-tinted carnations in a bud vase were placed on the register table. The honoree and the mothers were presented orchid corsages by Miss Casterline.

The serving table was laid with a white cloth embroidered in lavender.

A white cake decorated for the occasion centered the table and was flanked by miniature arrangements of spring flowers.

After the gifts had been opened and displayed, several games were played.

Mrs. Bart Rozzell served the cake and Miss Casterline the punch.

A number of close friends and members of the family from Kingsville and Rockport attended.

Guests from Rockport were Mrs. Russell Itschner, Mrs. Joe H. Livingston, Mrs. L. E. Casterline, and Mrs. F. M. Rouquette, Sr.

CARD OF THANKS

My husband and I would like to thank all our friends and relatives who helped us celebrate our 30th wedding anniversary which was a precious moment in our lives. Thank you for the beautiful gifts and for being with us.

GIRLS TRACK

On April 29, Mellinee Harwick participated in the Regional Girls Track Meet in Victoria. She qualified in the District Track Meet in the 220 yard dash and the 100 yard dash. In the Regional Meet, Mellinee placed 3rd in the 220 yard dash.

This eliminated her by one place from continuing on to the State Meet to be held in Austin, May 13. Wallabys are baby kangaroos.

A Note From Charlyne L. Hunt

During my 25 consecutive years of teaching you and your children before my retirement in 1968, my life centered around my students. When they were hurt, I was upset, and when they were happy, I was happy. In other words, I was dedicated to them.

I also know that my son is totally dedicated to law enforcement and has the qualifications needed to give you the fair and impartial Sheriff's department that you deserve and need in order to make our county a better place in which to live.

Won't you please give us your support and vote, May 6?

Thank you.

We Believe In Ben Barnes

Ben Barnes has served this state with honor and distinction. We personally know him to be a man of honesty and integrity and we stand proudly behind him without reservation. We deeply resent the attempts at character assassination against him which have marked this campaign and we urge you to reject such tactics resoundingly at the ballot box. Ben Barnes has the qualities of leadership and integrity to make Texas an outstanding governor. Let's give him our overwhelming support on May 6th!

EDITORIALS

For John Young

Congressman John Young of Corpus Christi, who this year will complete 16 years in office as U.S. representative for the 14th Texas District, is spending the Democratic nomination for re-election on a tried, true and simple platform: "Service." The platform is "Service" — service to his constituents, service to the great developing area of the Gulf Coast he represents, service to Texas, the nation and to the national welfare. "That is really the only platform on which I have been standing for all these years," he says. "You have no idea how much satisfaction it gives me to be able to walk up and down the streets of Victoria and shake hands with people for whom I have been able to render individual service." Congressman Young is campaigning for his ninth term in Congress, and in the various changes in his district brought about by reapportionment the 1972 elections will have him running for a fourth term as Victoria's representative. The vital asset of seniority in the House of Representatives has made Congressman Young a member of the powerful House Rules Committee, among other important committee assignments, and this is the committee which wields almost life or death power over most of the legislation submitted to the House. His record of attendance in the sessions of the House is one of the most outstanding in Congress. Last year his attendance was about 91 per cent, and in all of his years in Washington he has run just short of 90 per cent. He has some 4,500 recorded votes to his credit in the nearly 16 years of his service. John Young is a hard-working congressman and a representative never too busy to take care of the needs of the individuals of his district. The Advocate heartily recommends his nomination for re-election in the Democratic primary on May 6.

Corpus Christi Caller Rep. Young

U. S. Rep. John Young, in his quiet and often unobtrusive way, has done a great deal to South Texas. He was instrumental in consolidating helicopter repair and maintenance facilities in ARADMAC at the Naval Air Station. This more than compensated for the loss of the Navy's Overhaul and Repair Department. He took a leading part in the establishment of the Padre Island National Seashore. He has worked closely with the Nueces County Navigation District and shippers in general to improve the facilities of the local port, including deeper channels to the Gulf of Mexico. He is in the process of improving the attractiveness of the local port to shippers by bulk and petroleum cargoes, a vital step in the solution of the growing U. S. energy crisis. Within the limits of his office he has been sympathetic to the needs of individuals as well as groups within his district. He has been helpful whenever he could. During the past 16 years his seniority has given him membership in the House Rules Committee, one of the most powerful committees in Congress. From that vantage point he has been able to protect this area on one hand and promote it on the other. On the basis of his proven service and his position of seniority in the House with its influential bearing on future legislation affecting this area we strongly recommend the re-election of John Young.

RE-ELECT

JOHN YOUNG
U.S. Congressman

Paid For By The Committee To Re-Elect John Young, Lew Borden, Chairman

Would you like to know Why your insurance rates are so high?

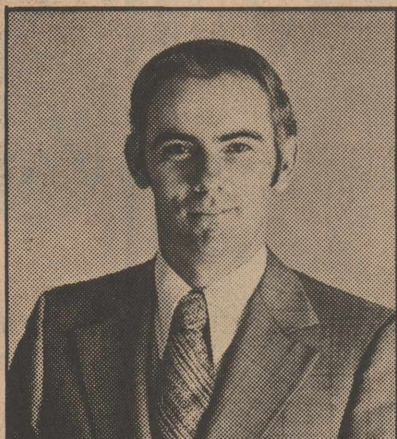

Let's give credit where it's due. To Leroy Wieting, a co-sponsor of the bill that established the Texas Catastrophe Association pool. That is the legislation that set your high insurance rates.

The pool was formed so that companies could offer insurance to Gulf Coast counties. The rates, though, were left wide open, and the insurance companies submitted their rates for approval to the Texas State Insurance Board.

The rates established for your area are three times higher than normal. The sponsors of the bill are responsible for the higher rates. Your representative is responsible.

The representatives did not have the courage to stand up to the insurance companies and say no. Instead, they left the rates wide open; now your rates are tripled.

One simple clause would have saved your money. That clause should have read: High risk areas shall be charged manual rates plus 10%.

Richard Mason will change Austin for you.

Richard Mason opposes Leroy Wieting. He opposes the stand Mr. Wieting took on the insurance bill. Richard Mason knows that we must have a reduction in the triple rates for our area. Rates no more than 10% above normal must be established.

On May 6th, you can thank your representative for his work on the insurance bill.

Or you can elect a man who will work to change the rates. Richard Mason. Richard Mason knows what needs to be done.
