Italy May Recall It's Delegates From Geneva Conference

THREAT MADE BY MUSSOLINI AGAINST LEAGUE

Believed Premier Will Act If His Idea Isn't Approved

CRITICIZED IN LONDON

Newspapers There Find Fault With Attitude Of Italians

By The Associated Press.

ROME, Sept. 3.—Premier Mussolini, it is understood, is ready to withdraw the Italian delegate from the Geneva conference if his viewpoint concerning the conflict with Greece is not shared by the league of nations.

London Flays Mussolini.

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Premier Mussolini's report defiance of the authority of the league of nations to attempt a settlement of the Greco-Italian conflict is strongly criticized by several London newspapers.

The Times says that for no consideration can the league permit its jurisdiction to be thwarted in this case, adding that nowhere outside of Italy is the premier's action countenanced.

"Might is right in Europe again," reads the caption over the article in the Daily Express, which advocates the complete withdrawal of Great Britain from the turmoil of the continent.

The Daily Chronicle believes that had the league included the United States, there could be no question of Italy flouting it.

The Daily News and the Morning Post are confident that open war will be avoided.

The Daily Mail, a Mussolini supporter, holds Greece entirely to blame.

The daily Telegraph urges the powers to join together to prevent war.

First Direct News.

ATHENS, Sept. 3.—Colonel Stephen E. Lowe of St. Louis, member of the Red Cross and attached to the Near East Relief at Corfu, reports that altogether there were 20 killed by the Italian bombardment prior to the occupation of the island.

Among them were sixteen children, most of them killed by shrapnel which was fired on a crowd of Red Cross orphanage children bathing in the sea.

The first direct news from Corfu since the Italian occupation was received today with the arrival of the Greek steamship Ismini which had aboard Colonel Lowe, Miss Emma Wood, of Baltimore, chief nurse of the Corfu Near East Relief hospital, Dr. Kennedy, of Kingston, Ontario, director of the British Save-the-Children fund, together with a group of expelled Greek officials and 60 Greek soldiers.

Colonel Lowe describing the bombardment said: "The number killed reached 20; nine of these were killed outright and eleven died in hospitals, 32 wounded are now in hospitals and there were perhaps 50 slightly wounded.

"Of the 20 dead, 10 were children. All of the killed and wounded were refugees or orphans from American and British orphanages housed in the old fortress.

"The large number of children among the casualties was due to the fact that several shells landed in barracks which were being used as orphanages, while shrapnels exploded in the water in front of the fortress, where 300 near relief orphan boys were bathing at the time."

LABOR CAN NOT BE DESTROYED—LEWIS

By The Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 3.—Enemies of organized labor have learned in the past year that organized labor cannot be destroyed, John L. Lewis president of the United Mine Workers of America, declared in a Labor Day message.

Mr. Lewis asserted that the last year had been filled with trials and vissicitudes for organized labor during a constant and steady attack "by powerful interests and influences but they have learned that the trade union is a legitimate American institution and the American public has given its full approval to the idea."

LABOR TO HELP JAPAN

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, announced that he would call on every member of organized labor in the United States to extend their fullest sympathy and contribute a part of their earnings for relief in the Japanese disaster.

LABOR ENJOYS GREAT DAY HERE

Entertainment Declared To Be Most Successful In History Of City

Verla Mae Boriff, 18, 313 Burnett street, was chosen queen of Labor Day, festivals, and was awarded the $200 diamond ring at the Lake Wichita pavilion at 10:30 o'clock last night. She obtained a total of approximately 1,000 votes over her nearest rival. J. R. Evans, vice-president of the State Federation of Labor presented the ring to Miss Boriff after a brief address.

Miss Boriff is a captivating, fascinating brunette, with large dark eyes and a very pleasing personality. She was dressed in a costume appropriate to the occasion.

The ceremony of the crowning of the queen were dispensed with at the last moment, and the presentation and brief addres of Evans was substituted. The presentation took only a few moments. A host of friends of Miss Boriff crowded about her after the award. She was congratulated by officials of the consolidated crafts and several representing other organizations.

A large sized crowd was present and recorded Miss Boriff every honor. The ball which followed the awarding and proclaiming of the queen was a gala event. Many seeking dance numbers, and so numerous were the requests Miss Boriff could only dance a few minutes with those seeking her favor.

The night was ideal for such a large crowd. There was a cool refreshing breeze blowing off the waters of the lake. The pavilion was brilliantly lighted during the occasion. Miss Boriff was regarded as a popular choice and a fitting queen for the festivals.

Wichita Falls observed Labor day in worthy fashion. Practically all places of business observed the day by closing their doors and joining the throng in celebrating the one day of the year dedicated to labor. Officials of the government, county and city took the day off and joined in the parade, later attending the events at Lake Wichita.

Approximately 1,500 people were in the parade, which was started at Travis and Seventh streets promptly at 10 o'clock. The parade was headed by labor officials, a band, the fire department officials and firemen, with equipment from the central station, the mayor and other officials of both county and city. Labor officials stated about 1,450 members of the local consolidated crafts marched in the parade.

Practically all civic organizations, lodges and the American Legion, and the various crafts, with many city firms, were represented by floats in the parade. Several distinctive and unique floats added color to the procession. After traversing the principal streets, the parade was disbanded at the Labor Temple, 703 Travis street.

What was declared by many who witnessed the parade to be the outstanding float was the beautifully decorated entry of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Typographical Union, which created cheers and comments all along the line of march. More than 500 roses and buds were tastefully arranged over the truck, which presented artistry that made the women's float outstanding.

As the float passed by the Kemp hotel corner, continued applause greeted the rose-strewn truck, which gave the appearance of an animated flower garden.

The address of welcome was de-

FEAR FOR SAFETY OF TEXANS IN JAPAN

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Sept. 3.—W. D. Hornaday, professor of journalism in the University of Texas, is safely out of Japan, his family has learned since the earthquake Saturday. Fear for the safety of Professor Hornaday was expressed when news of the disaster reached here. He left Tokio on August 8 and went into China for several weeks and is now on his way to the Philippines. Wallace D. Davis of Austin, journalism student who accompanied Professor Hornaday to Tokio, remained in the Japanese capital and has not been heard from since the disaster.

Hornaday and Davis had started on an extensive tour of the Far East, making Japan their first stop. They planned to visit the Philippines, China and South Sea islands. Hornaday has become well known in newspaper circles of Texas. Both the university professor and young Davis are writing a series of newspaper articles on their tour. Davis' home is in Austin.

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 3.—Two former Baptist seminary students who were here in 1920 and 1921 are now in Japan and were in Tokio, the scene of the disastrous earthquake and fire, when last heard from, according to officials of the seminary.

They are Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Chatman. Mrs. Chatman was formerly Miss Decie King, and registered at the seminary from Houston. Her husband came here from Dry Ridge, Ky. They studied one year at the seminary. No word has been received here regarding them.

GOOD RAIN FALLS OVER STATE

Many Parts of Texas Are Benefited

By The Associated Press.

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 3.—Many parts of Texas received rains Sunday night and today. Fall crops and gardens were greatly benefitted and ample stock water and refreshing of the ranges were insured in many sections, dispatches from various sections reported this evening.

The heaviest precipitation was in the northeastern and central portions of the state, while north and west Texas was visited in many counties with good rains.

In west Texas portions of Tom Green, Irion, Sterling, Coke, Nolan, Taylor, Runnels, Concho, Menard and McCullough counties received an average of two inches or more.

North Texas received rains varying from light showers to good rains in Dallas, Tarrant, Montague, Collins, Ellis, Denton and Grayson counties.

The drouth which has prevailed in many parts of east-central Texas since last April was broken by a drenching rain covering large parts of McLellan, Freestone, Hill, Navarro and Limestone counties, benefitting late crop and relieving water shortage in the oil fields of Corsicana and Mexia.

FRENCH RECEIVE GERMAN'S WORD WITH INTEREST

Official Circles Display Favorable Concern Over Speech of Chancellor

PREMIER CAUTIONS

Payment of Reparations Must Not Be Lost Sight Of, He Says

By The Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—The speech of Chancellor Stresemann of Germany at Stuttgart yesterday declaring that a Germany which was allied economically with France would afford greater guarantee for peace, was received with interest in French official circles.

Premier Poincare will reply in public and it is understood he will say that France is quite ready to enter into an economic arrangement with her former enemy.

He will declare, however, that under no conditions will France allow the question of an economic accord to be substituted for that of the payment of reparations.

Once France is assured that reparation is forthcoming then an economic agreement will be welcome.

Parts of the chancellor's speech are interpreted here as cautious steps toward ultimate annulcement of the end of passive resistance in the Ruhr.

START WATER ON IT'S WAY HERE

Expected that Pumping At Diversion Dam Would Begin Last Night

Installation of the two 10 million gallon pumps at the diversion dam was completed late Monday afternoon and actual pumping was scheduled to start last night according to F. N. Lawton, city waterworks manager.

The recent rains have put such a season in the canal as to expedite the time it will take to run the water into the canal connecting Lake Kemp with Lake Wichita. The fact there are two large ponds in the path of the canal which have to be filled will cause some delay, it was said Monday. The exact time it will take to season the canal and for the water to reach Lake Wichita can not be determined at this time.

According to officials 10 days at the most should be all the time necessary to get the new water system in complete operation. Lake Wichita is said to have been raised only a few feet by the rains. Oil field ponds built on the tributaries of the lake have lessened the lake supply.

EX-COUNTY ATTORNEY AND SHERIFF HELD

By The Associated Press.

WACO, Texas, Sept. 3.—E. L. Roark, former county attorney, and T. W. Davis, sheriff, of Somervell county, charged with conspiring to violate the national prohibition law, had a hearing this morning before United States Commissioner McCorkle. Both were bound over to the November term of court under $1,500 bond each.

Sheriff Davis was asked if he expected to resign, and replied that he did not know. Mr. Roark tendered his resignation as county attorney last week, following his arrest by Texas rangers and filing of charges against him in connection with the wholesale raids in Somervell county.

Are Still Busy At San Antonio

Rangers Carrying On Vigorous Inquiry Into Conditions There.

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 3.—Adjutant General T. D. Barton was in Austin tonight after spending nearly two weeks in San Antonio conducting personal investigation into alleged liquor and gambling violations. Barton will not return to San Antonio for probably two weeks he announced, but rangers will carry on a vigorous inquiry into conditions.

Barton did not confer with Governor Neff in San Antonio Sunday or today regarding the investigation as had been expected. He said additional indictments will be asked of the Bexar county grand jury when it convenes early next month. The situation regarding flogging cases which state rangers are investigating remains quiet at the adjutant general stated. A report of further activities of rangers regarding alleged liquor violations in Somervell county is expected within a few days.

TO PROBE CAUSE OF EXPLOSION

Mysterious Blast Brings Death to Four Men At Ranger Tex.

By The Associated Press.

RANGER, Texas, Sept. 3.—The county attorney's office up to midnight tonight pressed investigation of the strange explosion this morning which killed four men—Charles Griffith, 21; Clarence Lieber, 22; Charles Phipps, 23, and James Poteet, 21. Griffith died instantly. Lieber and Phipps died at noon. Potect lived five hours. Lieber formerly lived in St. Jacobs, Ill., and came here to work about six months ago. The explosion occurred in an automobile parking station.

The parking yard was controlled by an undertaker, whose place of business was next door. Poteet, in a statement made after reaching the hospital, said one man struck a match and the explosion followed, the force of which shook the entire business district.

Many theories confronted the investigators tonight, ranging from one that nitroglycerine might have been on one of the victim's person, to that of natural gas exploding.

Kiwanis District Convention Opens At Mineral Wells

By The Associated Press.

MINERAL WELLS, Texas, Sept. 3.—Forty-eight cities and towns were represented at the opening session here today of the seventh annual district convention of the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis clubs. A number of international officers were scheduled to address the meeting, which continues through Tuesday. James L. Powell of Muskogee, Okla.; Elden J. Dick and C. Dyer of Enid are among those mentioned as presidential possibilities.

The presiding officer is alternated between the two states, and an Oklahoman is due to be elected tomorrow.

Wichita Falls with its band, coterie of select entertainers and one of the livest crowds of Kiwanians represented, is making itself felt at the district club convention here.

At noonday luncheon Monday the Wichita Kiwanian band was the feature. At the banquet at the auditorium last night Misses Josephine and Lenore Fisk with guitar and voice selections were encored time after time after renditions of a variety of songs. "Happy" Ray Thomas and his pianologues is another Wichitan taking the convention by storm. At the dance held after the banquet this trio were again called on to entertain. The Misses Fisk in a black and white costume act were forced to give a number of "repeaters."

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 3.—Labor day festivities here were halted by a heavy rain which began falling about five o'clock after light showers in the early afternoon. A water pageant and an athletic tournament and a dance were abandoned because of the downpour. It was estimated that more than one inch of rain fell between five and eight o'clock.

FOOD IS RUSHED TO JAPANESE BY UNITED STATES

Ships Loaded With Food Stuffs Hurried to Relief Of Sufferers

NAVY DEPT. ADVISED

Impossible to Tell When Ship Will Reach Stricken Area

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The United States moved swiftly today to bring the full force of the government and the people to the aid of stricken Japan.

While the government executive departments were directed to assist in the work the public was urged in an appeal issued by President Coolidge to contribute fund through the American Red Cross for aiding the unfortunate and giving relief to the people of Japan.

The Red Cross at once announced that it had started the fund with a contribution of $100,000 for the relief of victims of the earthquake and in addition had appropriated from its reserve funds $10,000 for the assistance of Americans caught in the disaster zone. It is not to be forgotten by the United States is thus being the first country to tender its assistance, that similar services were given quickly by Japan through its Red Cross to San Francisco after the devastating earthquake and fire of 1906.

The desire of Washington to be of any service possible was made known personally to Ambassador Hanihara of Japan during the day when he visited both the state department and the White House for conferences with Acting Secretary Phillips and President Coolidge. Immediately afterward the president appeal for funds was issued.

The Japanese ambassador in turn expressed through a public statement his appreciation for the sympathy that has risen in America for his country in its hour of trouble.

"The Japanese ambassador," the statement said, "desires to express his deep appreciation of the great tide of sympathy that has risen throughout America in response to the announcement of the terrible catastrophe that has befallen Japan."

American plans for extending relief depended today on information in press dispatches and brief messages from American naval officers in the vicinity of Japan. Nothing had been heard from Ambassador Woods or other American embassy officials in Tokio, at the state department tonight.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—A wireless message received tonight by the navy department from Admiral Anderson, in command of the Asiatic fleet, said the destroyer tender Blackhawk, now enroute from Port Arthur to Chefoo, China, would be loaded with one million pounds of rice and 500,000 pounds of beans and other non-perishable foods and rushed to the relief of sufferers in Japan.

No information was contained in the message as to when the Blackhawk would reach the stricken area. It was presumed here that she would take supplies aboard at Chefoo. Earlier in the day admiral Anderson had reported the Blackhawk was accompanying his flagship, the cruiser Huron, to that port.

Later the war department sent cable instruction to Manila for the army transports Meigs and Merritt to proceed to Yokohama with food and medical supplies, tentage bedding and cots.

Both vessels are not at Manila, the Meigs a freighter of 11,000 tons, the Merritt a 28,000 ton ship with accommodation for 500 passengers. It was estimated here that once loaded with supplies, it would take the transports six or seven days to reach Yokohama.

The army has at Manila 500,000 rations (a day's food supply for one soldier) available for transportation to Japan, it was said medical supplies sufficient to care for 50,000 troops for three months. In addition, there are cots and blankets for 20,000 men which can be spared, and 400 large tents.

It is believed here the ships can be made ready for the voyage in a day's time. Instructions provided for a sufficient force of enlisted men to ac-

Almost All Of Tokio And Yokohama Wiped Out; Food Riots Follow

Two Hundred Thousand Homes Burned in Two Cities—People Near Starvation—First Food Supplies Arrive—Foreigners Reported Safe—Martial Law Proclaimed.

By The Associated Press

ASAKA, Sept. 4.—Almost the whole of Tokio and Yokohama have been destroyed by earthquake, followed by fire, and the loss of life now is estimated at from 120,000 to 200,000 or more.

Two hundred thousand houses have been burned down in two cities. The American embassy was destroyed.

Water mains have been broken and food supplies destroyed by fire so that the people are near starvation and suffering much from thirst.

It is reported, but not confirmed, that the section of Tokio where most of its foreign population resided is not greatly damaged.

Martial law has been proclaimed and no one is allowed to enter the stricken districts at the capital, although thousands whose friends or relatives resided there have gathered about the city seeking entrance that they may at least find the bodies of their loved ones.

Military and naval forces have been gathered at the imperial villa at Nikko for use in controlling the situation, and other forces are on duty in Tokio itself.

The air is filled with wildest rumors, including one that the new premier, Count Yamamoto, was assissinated within a few hours after formation of his cabinet.

PROBE OF BANK FAILURE ASKED

Henrietta Grand Jury Asked To Investigate Merchants And Planters Case

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Sept. 3.—A probe into the cause of the failure of the Merchants and Planters bank here June 16 will be made by the grand jury of the 97th district court which was called with the opening of the September term Monday by Judge Paul Donald.

Judge Donald in his charge to the jury stated it had come to his attention that the bank had failed, moneys were received after the bank was known to be insolvent a crime has been committed and you will do your duty by returning bills of indictment," Judge Donald said in the charge.

T. H. Harrison of Byers was chosen foreman of the grand jury. It is believed the body will be in session at least a week, probably longer. District Attorney Vincent Stine will present a number of matters to the grand jury.

3 KILLED AND 20 INJURED IN AN EXPLOSION

By The Associated Press.

ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 3.—Three men were killed and 20 were seriously injured early tonight by an explosion in the blast furnace of the Pulaski Iron company, Pulaski, Va., according to reports received here by telephone. At least 15 workmen were reported missing. Volunteer relief workers were searching the ruins for other victims.

Later advices said the plant was wrecked and that rescue workers were experiencing great difficulties in searching the ruins. The message added that not more than five were missing.

The bodies of William Bird of Pulaski and two unidentified negroes have been recovered.

Food Riots in Tokio.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—Food riots have broken out in Tokio, according to a radiogram received tonight by the radio corporation from Iwaki station, 155 miles from Tokio. The gendarmeries are reported in these advices to have exerted the most strenuous measures to suppress the disorders, even attacking the rioters with their swords.

A number of Koreans were in the mob, the advices said. The advices confirmed earlier reports of a great fire in Yokohama and an estimate that there had been at least 100,000 casualties there.

The fires, the message said, were caused by or followed by the explosion of oil storage tanks in the city, where reserves of fuel oil for the merchant and naval marine were kept.

Nogeyama, a better class residential section of Yokolama; Iseyama, another section where stood a notable statue Io Naosuke, prime minister of the Shogun at the time Japan was opened to foreign intercourse, and Kamonyama, a third section, all were destroyed, leaving thousands in extreme misery.

There had been no news received in Japan from the Bonin Islands, on which is located a cable relay station, and it is feared, the advices said, that they were submerged by the tidal wave following earth tremors.

Island Swept Away.

The advices also confirmed earlier reports of the submergence of the Island of Enoshima, "Picture Island," one of Japan's most beautiful spots. This island, the message said was swept away by a tidal wave, as were also Honomuku and Isoko, villages in the vicinity of Enoshima.

Many Europeans, visitors and residents of that section are missing.

The famous Ryogoku bridge spanning the Sumida river in Tokio, collapsed at a time when thousands of refugees fleeing to the mountains, were upon it, with resultant loss of life described as "innumerable."

Keiji university at Tokio, the higher technical school, the Kurnamae women's higher normal school and the first high school have been burned.

Yotsuya, a ward of Tokio east of the imperial palace, was burning at 5 o'clock yesterday, no further advances thence having reached the radio station.

Buildings reported destroyed, besides those listed in earlier dispatches include the patent office, the building occupied by the board of audit, the Chinese legation, Nicholai temple the residence of Prince Shimazu and Arisugawa the temples of Tsukiji and Asakusa the latter said to have been founded about 600 A. D.

Six hundred thousand "Koku" of rice, nearly 3,000,000 bushels, are being sent from Osaka to Yokohama for relief work, the transport being accomplished on two naval vessels.

The Island of Oshima, 60 miles southwest of Tokio and which had an active volcanic cone, is reported to have sunk beneath the sea, observers having been unable to see anything in its direction but water.

Relief Office Established.

The Takanawa palace has been reduced to ashes. Fire which had spread from the central section of Tokio to the Aoyama district still was burning yesterday morning.

The government has established a relief office for earthquake sufferers in Tokio and troops are marching into the capital from many directions.

In addition to the office of the Nichi Nichi, which earlier reports had announced was spared by the flames, the office of another leading Tokio paper, the Hochi, escaped, but the machinery of both was so badly damaged that publication of a newspaper from them for some time to come is impossible.

No news has been received of Prince Kanin and his mother, who were at Kamakura when the shocks began. Princess Yamashina has reached Odowara in a search for them. The mother of Princess Kaya, who also was at Kamakura, is re-

HE HAD THE TIME OF HIS LIFE

Cong. Williams Enjoyed Labor Day

Congressman Guinn Williams of Decatur apparently had the time of his young life while the guest of Wichita Falls Monday at the numerous Labor day events.

The congressman has it all over Magnus Johnson for being one of the people. In the first place, he is a democrat, and follows the word to the letter by being democratic. He proved this yesterday.

For instance, after his address at the barbecue celebration, Congressman Williams followed the crowd and took in every event at the lake.

At the American Legion fistic offerings, the congressman was conspicuous by being in a ringside seat, facing the sun, and smoking a long, black briar pipe. To further prove his democracy he, after a few minutes, took off his black, congressional coat. The removal of the outer garment proved that Magnus has not a monopoly on the suspender slogan. Williams' suspenders against a background of white shirt showed up to advantage.

Several small boys fought preliminaries before the regular fights. Showers of nickels, dimes and quarters were thrown in the ring. Congressman Guinn pitched his shekels in with everybody else, and laughed heartily at the antics of the youngsters.

One Way to Help Business Along Is to Pay Your Bills Promptly

You realize of course whenever you buy anything from a merchant (either a retail or wholesale merchant) that it costs that merchant money to buy the article he sells to you and to conduct his business. If he is good enough to extend you credit how can you ignore him when the account is due? Chances are at the time he extended you credit that it was a great convenience to you, was it not? Then why not at least show your appreciation of the other fellow loaning you his goods by paying him promptly. That is what it is—a loan—until you PAY UP.

Bankers Recognize the Man Who Pays Promptly

When you go to a bank and ask for a loan the chances are TEN to ONE that the banker (who is a member of the Retail Merchants Association) is familiar with your record—if not he can easily step to another part of the bank and phone the Retail Merchants Association and learn just how you stand. Will your record show PROMPT—SLOW or WON'T PAY. If it is PROMPT and other things are equal the chances are the loan will be made, but if your record shows SLOW or WON'T PAY the loan is liable to be refused—and the banker isn't unreasonable either—he is merely doing business on good business principles.

IT WILL PAY YOU TO PAY UP

Here And There In The World Of Daily Interest To Women

Miss Mitcham Gives Bridge Party

Complimenting Misses Mary Frances Collier and Fern Sides on the eve of their seventeenth birthday, Miss Donna Mitcham entertained a group of friends at bridge Friday afternoon at her home on Huff avenue.

In the games, Miss Janie McCalister won the high score favor, a dainty set of bridge markers, while Miss Katherine Marcus was consoled with low. Miss Neva Black was fortunate in the cut, and was presented a vanity case.

A buffet luncheon was served in the earlier hours of the afternoon, and ice cream and cake later.

Congregation to Hold Social

A home-coming and picnic supper is being arranged by members of the First Presbyterian church for Friday evening, to be held on the church lawn for the purpose of greeting the pastor, Dr. Grafton, and Mrs. Grafton, who have been away for a month, and for all the members of the congregation who have been away during the summer, and also to bid farewell to a number of the younger members of the congregation who are leaving for various schools.

All members of the congregation are most cordially invited to be present, according to the announcement, and are asked to phone 7041 for further particulars.

All Day Meeting Of Woman's Auxiliary

An all-day meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the First Baptist church will be held today in the basement of the church. Members of Circle Seven will be hostesses.

SIXTY.

Here is a dateless "scoop" for any newspaper which can find it coming true anywhere on earth.

In the latter part of the seventh chapter of Plato's Republic stands one of his prophecies which is not yet expressed in life and action. Many of his visions have been expressed only lately; this one has not yet even dawned for us.

Here Plato apportions the life of his "guardians," his best people so that, at about sixty years of age, they go to the country to be companions to children—invest in the future the results of their own experience.

How many folk at sixty, as life now goes, are the companions for children?

At sixty nerves have made the reaction to children one prolonged "Don't."

At sixty interests have taken one into a world of facts and of figures utterly alien in the presence of a child.

At sixty the lore of the multitude has been forgotten. Stars, birds, insects, fairies—what does the man of affairs know of these?

At sixty routine is important—details must not be disturbed by a child's queries or whims.

At sixty children are a "bother."

Oh, for a little while—yes; without responsibility. But permanently? As a "guardian" of Plato's sort? Seldom.

For to be a companion to a child, sixty must have kept something which sixty finds hard to keep: A quantity of simplicity, of crystalliinity, of beauty.

Plato's "best people" kept this quality. Indeed, they lived in order to develop it. It's not a bad test of life—to find oneself at sixty contentedly at home in the presence of a grave and trustful child.

How many such companions in a million?

For that matter, who is fit companion for a child. Nursemaids? Teachers? All fathers and mothers?

Because children themselves are our "best people."

DIM YOUR LIGHTS

At night when we drive through the parks, in nearly every nook and corner, we see lovers huddled together on the benches.

Their hands are tightly clasped, and their bodies lean towards each other. Occasionally he pats her cheek—or she lays her head on his shoulder—they are oblivious to the surrounding world—and the rhythm of their heartbeats is the only sound of which they are conscious.

They are both breathing in the very joy of their love.

Wicked, wicked riders, to throw their lights on them. Remember the days of thy youth, and pass them by unnoticed. But let the vision remain in your thoughts—and remember that girl—no matter where she is now—that made you just sit in perfect contentment.

If she has passed out of your life—I am sure there is some other—.

Park benches can be made into enchanted thrones of royalty if we sit on them with the right person.

UNDERWOOD URGES U. S. AID TO EUROPE

By The Associated Press.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 3.—Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, candidate for the democratic nomination for president, in an address here last night declared the serious situation existing in Europe could not be ameliorated without the financial assistance of the United States, and that there is no reason why such assistance should not be forthcoming. He reviewed conditions abroad as he found them several months ago, and declared that revolution was now threatening in some countries, especially Germany, and that he would not be surprised at an outbreak there within 30 days.

JOY OF HEALTH WOMAN'S RIGHT

Mrs. Evans Freed from Female Weakness by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Michigan.—"I had female weakness with pains in my back, and I could not stand on my feet for any length of time. I was working in a factory but had to quit as I was too much on my feet. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me, and I can hardly believe it myself that I am well. Oh, it is a grand thing to have your health! I feel well all the time and can go out like other women and not feel that awful torture. When I took your medicine first I thought it should cure after the first bottle, but I am glad my husband kept me at it. I have had nine bottles and now I am well."—Mrs. JENNY EVANS, 1604 Lafayette Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.

If you are suffering from displacements, irregularities, backache, nervousness or other forms of female weakness, you should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

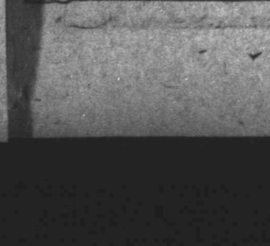

The reason is given in letters like these, and we have published thousands of them. You may expect that a medicine that has helped other women will help you. Try it.

TO BED GROUCHY WAKE UP FEELING SIMPLY FINE

Wonderful How Calotabs, the De-Nauseated, Calomel Tablet Makes You Feel So Good the Next Morning.

The old-time calomel was the best medicine in the world and the only thing that could straighten out a disordered liver, but it had some serious draw backs. The griping and the sickening after-effects made many people afraid to take it. Now you can take calomel without the slightest objection. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. Next morning your liver is clean, your system purified and you are feeling fine—with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

Calotabs are so near perfect that your druggist is authorized to refund the price if you are not delighted. Sold only in trade-marked packages. Price 10 cents and 35c.—Adv.

Vigorous Old Age

WHY separate youth and old age with a deep and ever-widening abyss?

The bloom of youth and the hardy, ruddy glow of Old Age—sixteen and sixty—should be separated only by the span of years and not by varying differences of physical wholesomeness.

Vigorous old age is within the grasp of all. S. S. S. brings that hale and hearty feeling back with a rush. Rich red blood is the greatest enemy of weakening, health undermining Old Age. S. S. S. builds Red Blood Cells. Rich, red blood coursing through your veins sweeps away impurities that retard the proper functioning of your system. Old Age—once a dreaded agony becomes a vigorous, enjoyable, care free time of life.

S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks—scientifically prepared and proportioned. Welcome Old Age when it comes. Be ready to withstand the attacks of diseases that follow in its wake. Meet Old Age with a hearty handshake. A handshake that speaks of well being—of a vigorous, clear thinking, red blooded constitution. S. S. S. is your best friend when Old Age is seen rounding the corner. Get a bottle and drive care and worry away. All leading drug stores carry it. The large size is the more economical.

WOMAN'S PROPOSALS AND DISPOSALS

The news of the day discusses the end of one of the most spectacular of modern romances, the death of Nannie Stewart of Cleveland. Also it discusses the beginning of a double romance of two Montreal sisters, Marian and Sara Cook. All three by a coincidence are daughters of bankers.

Of course nothing is proven by isolated cases. But the oft discussed question as to whether the man or the woman initiates the marriage at least has three votes in favor of woman's rights.

When Nannie Stewart was a little girl in Cleveland she told her playmates that she would become the richest woman in the world and that she would die a princess. Nannie first married one of the oldest named of her native city—a Worthington. Shortly thereafter she divorced a Worthington and became the wife of Leeds who left her $40,000,000 when he died in 1900. For the moment she was the richest woman in the world. Later came her marriage into the royal family of Greece, and the change of her name to that of Princess Anasthasia. Cancer has just taken her into the unknown realm where perhaps a Mr. Worthington and a Mr. Leeds will greet her.

Nannie Stewart carried out her ambition. Marian and Sara told their nurse some 15 year ago how they proposed to marry. Marian proposed to marry a soldier when he came back from the war, and the younger sister proposed also to marry a soldier but specified that he should be an earl. Marian is now engaged to the Earl Minto and Sara to the Earl Heddington. Both were soldiers in the world war.

There is nothing basicly vulgar, nothing inherently wrong when a girl charts her matrimonial ambition. After all it is almost as natural from a biological standpoint as for a young boy to determine whether he desires to be an engineer or a lawyer.

Since mankind got off of four feet, the female has had an adult activity largely limited by marriage and domestic affairs. For thousands of years marriage and the things surrounding it has been her life business. Until the modern day gave her some freedom of will, she was merely a chattel and the decision as to her life work was made for her. At first she was a matter of barter. Reaching the marriageable age she was traded for cattle or for so many bushels of grain. Later she was traded in retail or wholesale in an effort to increase tribal strength.

Of course the same influences are at work today. Often the young girl is traded for wealth either through family council or by a mother working lone handed. The royalty of Europe and the financial artistocracy everywhere still use the young female in the furtherance of ambition. This kind of slavery is, of course, decreasing.

Rather than hold up her hands in horror as against the young girl who has the brains to think out her future, we should welcome the taking of the initiative which she is now showing. Those who look at things clearly without worrying about convention already know that some marriages are initiated by the girl in the case. Why shouldn't it be so? The men of course give their consent—apparently they propose. But certainly the present situation in regard to civilized mating is far better than anything that has preceded.

BONDAGE OF PAUPERISM?

John S. Wannamaker of South Carolina, is on the road again. He is the president of the American Cotton association and his latest is that the farmers of America are being held in the bondage of pauperism because they have produced a surplus of staple products beyond the needs of domestic consumption while the export markets are being permitted to stagnate on account of the jealousies of political parties.

This Palmetto state prophet has a bad case of blue funk. There is every reason why the cotton grower should be hopeful this year. Cotton carry-over is figured at 2,097,919 bales. Domestic consumption during the last year was 6,664,710 bales, exclusive of linters, an increase of more than 750,000 bales over the previous year. Drop in exports however of 1,361,050 bales overcame this and resulted in a net decrease in consumption of 600,000 bales.

There is another famine crop here. There is a very small carry-over. American production of cotton goods is increasing every year and in the not distant future American mills may consume all cotton grown on American soil. America is the most prosperous land under the sun. There are very few idle workers to be found anywhere. Signs of the times are most encouraging.

Here in Texas the outlook is very rosy. Almost a third of the cotton crop of America will be the record for 1923. Texas industries have had a very prosperous year and although a slump came to those engaged in the petroleum industry that slump is not ging to remain forever.

Before the coming of the world war there were years when the carry-over ran as high as twelve million bales of cotton. Now it is the lightest in history since the close of the civil war.

MAKING MONEY AND SPENDING IT

American railways must be making money and the improvement to be made by the railroads in 1924 are already under consideration. Those who are on the inside say that the roads will spend more than $45,000,000 for steel rails alone next year, and that the total expenditure for improvements may reach the three hundred million dollar mark. There is a presidential campaign coming and this far in advance it is safe to predict that the platforms of the leading political parties of America will not even squint in the direction of government ownership.

If the railroads are making money they also are showing a desire to spend it in improvement of their lines.

THE BRIGHT SHAWL

CHAPTER VIII.
Escobar.

Andres Escobar had grown severe in the last week he had hardened remarkably: his concentration, Charles felt, his bitterness, even excluded his friends. Charles Abbott's affection for him increased daily, his love really, for Andres was a part of all that was highest in him. Andres informed Charles that Vincente, his brother, was home. "He has told me everything." Andres Escobar continued with pride. "We are now more than Escobars—brother Cubans. He has been both shot and sabred and he has a malaria. But nearly all his friends are dead. Soon, he says, we Jaime and Remigio—and, I added, you—will have to go out. He is to let us know when and how."

"Do the police know he is in Havana?"

"We think not; they haven't been about the house since the investigation of the De Vaca affair, and our servants are not spies. You must come and see Vincente this evening, for he may leave at any hour. It seems that he is celebrated for his bravery and the Spaniards have marked him for special attention. Papa and mama are dreadfully disturbed, and not only because of him; for if he is discovered, all of us—yes, even little Narcisa—will be made to pay—to a horrible degree, I can tell you."

There was, apparently, nothing unusual in the situation at the Escobar's when Charles called in the evening. He found a chair by Narcisa, and listened studiously to the colloquial Spanish, running swiftly around the circle, alternating with small thoughtful silences. Soon, however, Charles Abbott could see that the atmosphere was not normal—the vivacity palpably was forced through the shadow of a secret apprehension.

Finally Andres Escobar rose, punctiliously facing his father—he would, with permission, take Charles to the upper balconies, the wide view from which he had never seen. Domingo was plainly uneasy, displeased, but, after a long frowning pause, gave his reluctant consent.

Vincente, it developed, without actually being in hiding, was limited to the scope of the upper hall, where, partly screened in growing palms, its end formed a small salon.

Undoubtedly at one time he had been as handsome as Andres, more arbitrary, perhaps, with a touch of impatience resembling petulance; the carriage, the air, of a youth spoiled by unrestrained inclination and society.

The ghost of this still lingered over him, in the movement of his slender hands, the sharp unflinging of his chin, but it was no more than a momento of a gay and utterly lost past. The weariness, Charles began to realize, was the result of more than a spent physical and mental being—Vicente was ill. He had acquired a fever, it was brought out, in the jungles of Camagney.

At first he was wholly indifferent to Charles; at the end of Andres' enthusiastic introduction, after a flawless but perfunctory courtesy, Vincente said:

"The United States is very important to us; we have had to depend almost entirely on the New York junta for our life. We have hope, too, in Gen. Grant Finally, your country, that was so successful in its liberation, will understand us completely and sweep Spain over the sea! But until that comes we need only money and courage in our, in Cuban, hearts. You are, I understand from Andres, rich; and you are generous; you will give?"

That direct question, together with its hint at the personal unimportance of his attachment to a cause of pure justice, filled Charles with both resentment and discomfort. He replied stiffly, in halting, but adequate, Spanish, that there had been a misunderstanding: "I am not rich: the money I have you would think nothing—it might buy a stand or two of rifles, but no more. What I had wanted to spend was myself, my belief in Cuba. It seemed to me that might be worth something—" He stopped, in the difficulty of giving expression to his deep convictions; and Andres warmly grasped his hand.

He held Charles' palm and addressed his brother in a passionate flood of protest and assertion: Charles Abbott, his dear friend, was as good a patriot as any Escobar, and they should all embrace him in gratitude and welcome! He was, if not the gold of the United States, its unselfish and devoted heart: his presence here, his belief in them, was an indication of what must follow.

"If he were killed," Andres explained. "That alone would bring us an army: the indigantion of his land would fall like a mountain on our enemies!"

This, giving Charles a fresh view of his usefulness slightly cooled his ardor; he was willing to accept it, in his exalted state he would make any sacrifice for the ideal that had possessed him; but there was an acceptance of brutal, unsentimental fact in the Latin fibre of the Escobars foreign to his own more romantic conceptions. Vincente was much carried away by the possibility Andres revealed.

Tomorrow's installment brings Narcisa into romantic role.

CHAPTER IX.
Narcisa Makes a Declaration.

"He'd be got out of the way privately," he explained in his drained voice; "polite letters and no more, regrets, would be exchanged. The politicians of Washington are not different from those of Cuba. If he is wise he will see Havana as an idler. Can he live without food more than half the time, without solid land under his feet, without protection against the mosquitoes and heat and tropical rains? And in Havana: but remember your friend, Tirso Labrador! You, Andres, have no alternative; but your Charles Abbott—he would be a danger rather than an assistance." Charles with a prodigious effort at a calm self-control, answered him.

"You are very thoughtful, and it is right to be cautious, but what you say is useless. Andres understands! I'd never be satisfied to be anything except a Cuban patriot. It isn't necessary for you to understand that in a minute, an evening. I might be no good in Camaguey, but I am not as young as Tirso; I am more bitter and patient. By heaven, I will do something, I will be a part of your bravery!"

Charles' throat was closed, his words stopped by the intensity of his feeling. Still there was nothing to be gained by protests, hot asseverations; with difficulty, he suppressed his resentment, and sat, to all appearances, calm, engaged with a cigar and attending Vincente's irregular vehement speech. Nothing, Vincente insisted, must wait and draw into their cause every possible ultimate assistance and understanding. If the truth were known, he repeated again and again, the world would be at their feet.

Finally, his enthusiasm, his power, ebbed; his yellow pinched face sank forward. Charles rose with a formal Spanish period voicing the appreciation of the honor that had been his. Again in the drawing-room he momentarily resumed his seat he had left beside Narcisa.

Domingo and his wife were submerged in gloomy reflection, and Andres sat with his gaze fixed on the marble, patterned in white and black, on the floor. Suddenly Narcisa raised her head with an air of rebellion.

"It's always like the church!" she declared incredibly. "Everything has got so old that I can't bear it—Vincente as good as dead and Andres resembling a Jesuit father! Must all my life go on in this funeral march?" The elder Escobars regarded her in a voiceless amazement: but Andres said severely:

"You are too young to understand the tragedy of Cuba or Vincente's heroic spirit. I am ashamed of you—before Charles Abbott."

Narcisa rose and walked swiftly out upon the balcony and, following a vague impulse, made up both of his own slightly damaged pride and a sympathy for Narcisa, Charles went out, too.

"You mustn't mind them," he told her; "they are tremendously bothered because they see a great deal farther than you can. The danger to Vincente too, in Havana, spies—"

She interrupted him, looking away. "It isn't that, but what Andres said about you."

This admission startled him, and he studied Narcisa with a disturbed wonder.

Was it possible that she cared for him? At home, ignored by a maturity such as his, she would have been absorbed in the trivial activities of girls of her own age. But Havana, the tropics was different.

It was significant, as well, that he was permitted to be with her, practically alone, beyond the sight and hearing of her mother: the Escobars, he thought, had hopes of such a consummation. It was useless, he was solely wedded to Cuba: he had already pictured the only dramatic accident of the heart that could touch him. In other circumstances, a happier and more casual world, she would have been an adorable fate. An increasing awkwardness seized him, a conviction of impotence. "Narcisa," he whispered at her ear; but, before he could finish his sentence, her face was close to his, her eyes were shut and the tenderness of her lips unprotected.

Charles put an arm about her slim shoulders and pressed his cheek against hers.

"Listen," he went on, patching his deficiencies of his Spanish with English words clear in their feeling if not in sound, "nothing could have shown me myself as well as you, for now I know that I can never give up a thought to anything outside what I have promised my life to. A great many men are quite happy with a loving wife and children and a home; but dearest Narcisa, I can't be like that, it isn't for me. You see, I have chosen to love a country; instead of being devoted only to you."

THE SHORT AND SIMPLE ANNALS OF THE SCHOOL

Tommy Tucker's brow is low,
His hair is carrot red,
And nothing little boys should know
Can penetrate his head.
But he knows how to kick a shin
And block a forward pass,
So Tommy Tucker's always been
The hero of his class.

Polly Prim is very bright,
A studious little creature,
Who takes a rapturous delight
In walking home with teacher.
But when she smooths her sunny curls
And clasps her shiny fur,
All the other little girls
Stick out their tongue at her.

Willie Wimple's marks are high,
His days in toil are spent,
People say that by and by
He'll be a president.
But just as soon as school lets out
Home he has to race,
Because the big boys wait about
To slap his pudgy face.

Molly Mudge don't care for books,
A useless life she leads,
But she's got a lot of looks
And that is all she needs.
She thinks that boys and clothes and fudge
Are perfectly sublime,
And stupid little Molly Mudge
Has the loveliest time!

WHAT TODAY MEANS

By MARY BLAKE

VIRGO

Only one minor aspect operates and it is of unimportant nature. After 6 p. m. a stronger and better aspect manifests which inclines to activity and industry. You will notice increased energy and pep which will make you unusually vivacious and entertaining.

A child born today will have a keen intellect and will learn more from the school of experience than from the school of books.

If today is your birthday you are very circumspect in the choice of your friends and you are usually not adaptable to a change of conditions for which you are not responsible. Unless you can instantly assume command of a situation in which you suddenly find yourself, you prefer to get out of it, and usually do one or the other on short order.

You are a great lover of neatness and order. That is the way you work and the way you expect others to work. You likewise dislike any attempt at fraud, not because you consider it immoral, but because it strikes you as disorderly thinking.

Physically and nervously you are very poorly equipped for anything but the highest type of intellectual work. You should avoid physical strains unless they are undertaken in a spirit of sport, as your highest personal efficiency will always be mental work.

You are sensitive to all that is gay and beautiful in life and when you cannot have the best in art and music and literature, you will not find yourself easily satisfied with mediocrity. Instead you will prefer ridiculing the worst you can find.

You are cautious and secretive in your personal life, and with your delicate sense of privacy, a rather difficult person to know. However, you are usually quite content to be your own best friend, so what you miss in conviviality you will gain in self sufficiency.

You are naturally calculating and diplomatic and never reveal your true purpose until you are sure of the motives of everyone else in the same game.

Emotionally you are rather a cold-blooded proposition, and as a lover probably something slightly warmer than an icicle. This is because you are constantly analyzing and critizing your own emotions. You will find no happiness in love until you lose your consciousness of it.

Successful people born on your birthday are: John H. Raueh, Chicago physician; Daniel H. Burnham, architect; Richard R. Bowker, journalist.

Buy It In Wichita Falls

When a man chooses a city like Wichita Falls as his home and derives his income from that town he owes it to himself to keep his dollars in his own community. Investigation proves that there is little need for a resident of Wichita Falls to do any trading away from this city. Join the Buy-At-Home movement if you do not already belong.

The Miller-Ferguson Dry Goods Company, Inc., was organized by Claude Miller, N. A. Ferguson and associates in 1922, taking over the business and occupying the former location of Kimberlins' at the corner of Tenth street and Indiana avenue. Since the organization of this company its slogan is known throughout Northwest Texas by their customers and friends as "The Store Dependable."

The Miller-Ferguson Dry Goods company is the only exclusive dry goods and ready-to-wear store in Wichita Falls, carrying a complete line of everything needed by women but no men's goods of any kind, no shoes, and only high class read-to-wear silks and piece goods.

The main line carried by The Miller-Ferguson Dry Goods company is the Youthcraft dresses which have built an enormous reputation for style and quality and yet are popular priced garments. The company's mail orders which are received daily for Youthcraft garments is proof of their reputation. These orders come from some 60 towns surrounding Wichita Falls where a small stock prevents women making the selection they would like.

Mr. Claude Miller, formerly of Oklahoma City, had spent 33 years in this line of work and his partner, Mr. N. A. Ferguson of Cordell, Oklahoma, has also spent the greater part of his life in this line of business having been associated with Mr. Miller for a period of years.

The Miller-Ferguson Dry Goods company through the co-operation and loyal patronage of its customers had enjoyed a phenomonal growth during the past year.

It has been the policy of Mr. Miller and Mr. Ferguson to spend every dollar possible in Wichita Falls. Every member of this firm lives and has his home here. The Miller-Ferguson Dry Goods company is attractively arranged, having a millinery department and a specialty shop on the balcony and a ladies ready-to-wear and piece goods department on the first floor. The company carries a $50,000 stock, and never less than 500 beautiful high class dresses on the floor to select from.

Mr. Miller is just back from New York where he purchased $25,000 worth of new fall merchandise, including silks, piece goods, dresses, coats, underwear, gloves, hose, etc.

Cats Win Two From Spudders, 6-1 And 4-0

HAL CARLSON WEAK IN BAD INNINGS WHILE BOB OSBORNE IS BEATEN BY TIMELY HOMER

Cats Have Two Big Rounds to Score Their Runs; Pate and Johns Have Left Wings Working Well; Cotter Out But Williams and Tanner in; Home Today.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 3.—By holding the Spudders to one run in 16 innings the Panthers took both games of the holiday double here today, 6 to 1 and 4 to 0. Good pitching featured both contests.

Bunched hits in the first and fifth innings were enough to beat Carlson, while the veteran Joe Pate kept the Spudders' eight hits well scattered, allowing the only run in the fifth on a pair of singles and a walk.

Cotter Ill.

Hoffman's home run in the right field stands with two men on bases in the third inning gave the Panthers three runs and beat young Bob Osborne out of a well-pitched game. On the other hand Lefty Johns held the Spudders scoreless for seven innings, allowing but three hits, all of them coming in the first two innings.

Hooks Cotter, the Spudders' regular third baseman was out of the game today on account of illness. Dallas Locker, the Spudder utility man who has played first base a good deal during his baseball career was sent to first.

Tanner and Williams In.

Buddy Tanner and Red Williams got back into the lineup again today. Tanner played in both games, getting one of the three hits made off Johns in the last encounter, but went hitless in the first. Red Williams played in the last game, relieving Bob Bescher in left field.

The Panthers fielded perfectly in both games, while the Spudders committed three errors in the opener, and two in the last. Bad throws by Bischoff on steals helped the Panthers to score two of their total in both games.

Art Weiss pulled a sensational catch of Sears' line drive to deep right in the first inning of the opener.

The first three Panther runs came in the opening round of game number two. After two men had been retired Edington walked and went to third on Kraft's double against the left field fence. Both scored on Hoffman's single past third. On a wild throw by Bischoff and single by Haworth scored Hoffman.

Spuds' Lone Score.

The Spudders secured their only tally of the day in the fifth inning after two batters were out. Berger singled past short and moved up to second on Bischoff's walk. Carlson singled to left scoring Berger.

The Cats came back in the same stanza to swell their total to six and their last for that game. Sears was called out on strikes but Edington walked. On Kraft's single to right Edington went to third. Hoffman lined out to Tanner, but on a double steal Edington scored and Kraft took second when Berger's return to the plate hit Edington. Haworth doubled to right scoring Kraft. Rapp received life on Barrett's error. A double steal here netted another marker for the locals.

Second Game.

In the nightcap the Spudders secured two of their three blows in the first round and the other in the second. However, after that the Spudders could not push a runner past first. In the first inning when the visitors secured two hits they could not get a runner past second.

The Panthers came dangerously near scoring in the second inning. Hoffman and Moore walked and Rapp scratched out a single, filling the bases. But Osborne by wonderful pitching pulled out of danger.

After Sears had been retired on strikes, Edington walked and went to third on Kraft's double to right. Hoffman cleaned the bags and punched the scoring track three times by slamming out a homer over the right field wall.

One more useless run was added in the seventh inning by the Cats. Rapp singled to center and moved up on an infield out to second. Calvo put him across the plate with a single to right.

4 Girl Athletes Share Honor With Decathlon Champ

By The Associated Press.

STAGGFIELD, Chicago, Sept. 3.—Girl athletes shared honors with Harold Osborne, of the I. A. C., the new decathlon champion, at the last day of the American Athletic union's annual championship games here today when the girls smashed two world's records and bettered two other marks while Osborne broke the world's record for the decathlon by more than 300 points.

The women's honor went to Miss Helen L. Filkey of Chicago, who broke a world's record in the broad jump by hurtling through the air 16 feet, 6 3-8 inches, and winning the 100-yard dash in 11.9 seconds, a new American record. Miss Katherine Lee, also of this city, cleared the bar in the high jump at 4 feet 10 7-8 inches, a new world's record.

Miss Marion McCartis, of Newark, N. J., and Miss Rose B. Fisher of New York also surpassed the old 100-yard dash record in winning their qualifying heats in the same time, 11.9 seconds, but could not repeat in the finals and were vanquished by Miss Filkey, 15-year-old Chicago school girl.

The eastern girls, however, had their revenge later, when they romped home winners of a special 400-yard relay from a picked western team and, in capturing the event, they broke the American record.

Osborne carried off the honors in the decathlon by winning the broad jump, high jump, 400-metre run, 110 hurdles, and 1500-metre run. He was second in the javelin and finished third in the shot put, discus throw and 100-metre dash, and earned the title of the best all-around A. A. U. athlete of all time. The relays also produced two sensational record-breaking performance when the I. A. C. team broke the A. A. U. record in the four-mile relay and the University of Iowa squad cracked the mile relay record.

Davis Cup Again Safe In Custody Of Uncle Samuel

By The Associated Press.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 3.—The Davis cup, historic emblem of international tennis supremacy, is safe in Uncle Sam's custody for another year. Putting to rout the opposition that had proved so startlingly formidable in the first two days of play, America swept to victory this afternoon over the Australians in the final two singles contests and captured the series by a margin of four matches to one.

Displaying a marked reversal of the form he showed in going on to defeat before James O. Anderson last Friday, William M. Johnston clinched the trophy for the United States when he smothered John B. Hawkes in the opening match, 6-0, 6-2, 6-1. Williams T. Tilden made it a clean sweep for the day when he conquered Anderson, the Australian captain, 6-2, 6-3, 1-6, 7-5, in a match that failed to come up to the expectations held out for this struggle between the "aces" of the opposing forces.

ST. PAUL SIGNS TWO.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 3.—Pitchers Eddie Foster and Ira Ketchum were signed today by the St. Paul club of the American Association. Foster formerly played with the Saints but has been playing with an outlaw organization. He has been reinstated to organized baseball by Commissioner K. M. Landis. Ketchum formerly was with the Philadelphia Athletics and Shreveport, La., but recently has been a free agent.

Take It Or Leave It

By BILLIE SMITH

The Spudders return home today to open a three game series with the Panthers. Earl Kunz will probably be on the mound for the Spudders.

Fourteen more games and the season closes. Following the Panthers, the Exporters come here for two games and so do the Bears. Houston plays three games, while Galveston will close the season with four games.

The Spudders left home in third place and came back home tied for that position, with Dallas, and are just a little better than two games under San Antonio in second place. The Bears finish the season on the road while Dallas and Wichita Falls close out at home.

Red Ostergard advanced within two homers of Clarence Kraft's season record. He rapped out both circuit clouts in the second game against the Bears, sending his season total to 24.

Two bad innings caused the Spudders to lose the first game yesterday, while Lefty John's good pitching coupled with a home run with two men on bases spelled defeat for Osborne in the second game.

Hooks Cotter was forced to remain out of the line up on account of illness and Dallas Locker was sent to first in his place. Locker played that position a good deal while in the Pacific Coast League.

Buddy Tanner and Red Williams also got back into the line again today after nearly two weeks absence. Tanner secured only one hit in the two games, while Williams went hitless.

Following is the Spudder schedule for the remainder of the season:
4-5-6 Fort Worth.
7-8 Beaumont.
9-10 San Antonio.
11-12-13 Houston.
14-15-16-16 Galveston.

BEARS SPLIT WITH CRABS

Boone Sets Hit Record; Ostergard Gets Two Home Runs

By The Associated Press.

GALVESTON, Sept. 3.—Ike Boone ran his hit total for the season to 227 hits today, passing the Texas league record of 225 set by Homer Summa in 1922. The Bears split a double-header with the Crabs, 11 to 0 and 4 to 8.

Ostergard day was a huge triumph for the Crab second-sacker. As he stepped to the plate in the first inning of the second game he was presented with a flower basket filled with coins and bills when, with two strikes and three balls, he slammed one of Red Lucas' slants over the right wall for a homer. In the third inning, with two runners aboard, he crashed a second homer over the green batting screen in center field, one of the longest hits on record at Gulf View park. Fans passed the hat again, and his gift was augmented almost another $100. Scores:

Binyon Gets Draw ... Defeats Simmons

BINYON SPRINGS BIG SURPRISE

Byrd Atones For Past By Whipping Carl Simmons

By BILLY SMITH

Speedy Binyon, one of the speediest fighters seen on a legion program in some days, surprised his most ardent admirers last night by fighting the much touted Lee Morrissey to a ten round draw. The Alvord fighter was simply too fast for Morrissey. He was on the aggressive all the way, and what leading that was done, Binyon did it.

Morrissey failed to show anything startling in the line of boxing. It is true that he wasn't forced to exert himself, but on other hand Morrissey seemed a bit afraid of the Alvord lad. He never led the fight at any stage of the game, and when the fight was carried to him by Binyon the latter would trade blow for blow. In the clinches Morrissey exhibited his only bit of so-called prowess, but at that game Binyon would get fast and rush Morrissey to the ropes or force him to cover up, while he would swing a harmless "haymaker" blow to the body and head.

A Real Fight Here.

The fight that interested the 1500 people most was Red Byrd's eight round decision over Battling Simmons of Henrietta. Never was there a fight that met the approval of the fans any more than this one did. As far as science and art of pugilism are concerned the Simmons-Byrd bout could not be classed very high, for both fighters threw down their guards and went about it as if it meant life and death. It was a "biff and bam" all the way through.

The decision was close, but it met the approval of the majority of the fans. Simmons got in a number of good punches and at times had Byrd groggy, but Byrd would always come back and punch and jab Simmons at his pleasure, Simmons making little pretense to protect himself.

By gaining the decision over Simmons, Byrd has now squared the count, as early in July Simmons won in four rounds by a knockout, and that week they fought to a ten round draw. Byrd's decision was well earned and one he will probably remember for quite a while.

Snyder Wins Again.

Kid Snyder of Burkburnett kept his fighting record clean by defeating Mickey Savage of Sapulpa in eight rounds. Snyder earned the bout by his clever work in every round. He showed the results of good training and made his blows count. Savage put up a good scrap but his grade of leather pushing cannot be classed with that of Snyder's.

In the afternoon bouts at Lake Wichita Harry Ryan defeated "country Boy" Lance in a ten round go. It was the fifth time that the two boxers had met and the third time that Ryan had gained the decision. Before the Morrissey-Binyon fight, Ryan challenged the winner.

Kid Skinner and Battling Smith, both negroes, put on a three round preliminary, Smith getting the decision. Sonny Jackson and Curly Robinson of Burkburnett and Wichita Falls, respectively fought to a fast two round draw. Both fighters showed much class for youngsters.

company the supplies to insure prompt and efficient distribution to sufferers in the earthquake zone.

Destroyers to Rescue.

By The Associated Press.

PEKING, Sept. 3.—Six United States destroyers left the port of Dairen for Yokohama this afternoon carrying a number of doctors and large quantities of food supplies to aid the earthquake victims in the stricken city. The flagship Huron, of the Asiatic fleet, picked up Admiral Anderson at Chefoo and is proceeding to Japan.

The Japanese legation here issued a statement to the effect that the foreign office at Tokio had burned. No other authentic news has been received from stricken areas, although it is rumored there are ten thousand deaths in Yokohama.

Water Pipes Burst.

By The Associated Press.

NAGASAKI, Sept. 3.—There is no building in sight in Yokohama; only ruined walls are visible, according to the captain of the Shinyo Maru, which has just arrived here from Yokohama. Thousands of refugees gathered in a park were half drowned by a flood caused by the bursting of the city water pipes.

Steamer Reported Safe.

By The Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—The Toyo Kisen Kaisha steamer Korea Mara is safe in the harbor of Yokohama with 2,500 refugees on board, according to a cablegram received at the company's offices here today from its agents on Kobe. Communications of all kinds have been re-opened to Numazu, 85 miles west of Tokio, the cablegram said.

The Korea Maru was in the harbor throughout the beginning of the disaster period, and was at once made available for relief purposes. She was to have sailed for San Francisco yesterday, but the sailing has been indefinitely postponed.

The cablegram said that Tokio and Yokohama "have been destroyed."

Embassies Destroyed.

By The Associated Press.

OSAKA, Sept. 3.—The Italian and French embassies in Tokio were destroyed by the earthquake. This information is given in a late wireless message from that city.

Military Burial for Drowned.

By The Associated Press.

DEL RIO, Texas, Sept. 3.—A detachment from Fort Clark arrived here today to exhume the bodies of Privates Perdue and Roach of Fort Clarke, to give them a military burial. Both men had attempted to swim the Rio Grande Thursday night after the ferry had closed. They were drowned and then buried by civil authorities, they had been members of the machine gun troop of the 4th cavalry.

Rodeo Puts Old Time Life Into the Town Of Henrietta

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Sept. 3.—Henrietta today turned from being simply a thriving west Texas town back to the days when cowboys and cattle were in the ascendancy, the occasion being the third annual rodeo, labor day and chamber of commerce monthly trades day celebration all combined.

Sunday night the "punchers" and cowgirls and hundreds of cattle men began pouring into the city. The paved down town area which is mostly a thoroughfare for automobiles was again filled with horseback riders as in the days when this city was simply a "feed lot" and the now paved streets nothing but buffalo trails.

Some of the local old timers along with many former cattle men who have returned for the rodeo were Monday recalling the days when Tex Rickard was a cow puncher and later city night-watchman of Henrietta. The fact that Tex Rickard had abandoned the old trails and gone into high finance reminded them that many others who rode the range with him, have done likewise in other fields.

Premiums Draw Many.

A number of cash premiums offered by Henrietta business men through the chamber of commerce attracted a large crowd early in the morning Monday. The awards were made at 10 o'clock Monday and people from every section of the county were present.

Monday afternoon beginning at 1 o'clock the main events of the rodeo were held at the baseball park and fair grounds. Noted men and women riders from Wyoming, Oklahoma and other states entered the contest along with some of the best known of Texas. It was estimated that at 7 o'clock Monday night at least 5,000 visitors were in attendance.

The two main streets of the city have been roped off and the streets lined with concessionists who are making carnival of the event. Each night of the three day program a dance will be held on the down town streets. Prof Claire Hilburn's band, known as one of the leading amateur bands of this section, is providing numerous concerts for the event.

"Everybody's happy" is the slogan as the rodeo gets under way.

LABOR ENJOYS

livered at Lake Wichita by W. E. George, city attorney, at 11 o'clock. The address was the formal opening of the events of the day at the lake. The response to the address of welcome was given by Judge E. W. Napier. Judge Napier reviewed the rapid strides of labor organizations.

Congressman Guinn Williams of Decatur, principal speaker, reviewed in detail the programs of labor, both from a local and national standpoint. He spoke of the achievements of the past and problems of the future that confront labor crafts and the laboring man.

Following the address, the crowd was served with barbecued beef, mutton, bread, pickles and tea at noon. The committee on entertainment is to be commended on the excellent feast and the way the crowd was taken care of. Each person was well served.

Events, consisting of carnival acts, band concerts, athletic contests, aeronautical stunts, boxing, crowning of Labor day queen, and various other entertainments were shown during the afternoon.

Charles Matherly and Harvey Douglas thrilled the crowd by their daring aeroplane stunts, consisting of stunt flying, parachute leaping and wing-walking.

A corps of traffic officers was kept busily engaged in keeping the line of traffic open on the road to and from the lake. At the entrance at the first gate, and where free parking space for automobiles was provided, it required the constant efforts of two traffic officers to guide the motorists aright.

The road leading to and from Lake Wichita was a lane of moving humanity, vehicles of all descriptions conveying the pleasure-seeking crowd. Hundreds of automobiles were parked in the enclosures, while horse-drawn vehicles were placed to the east of the park camping grounds.

URGES INTEREST IN EDUCATION SURVEY

By The Associated Press.

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 3.—Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of the A. & M. college of Texas, urged teachers who assembled here today for the sixth annual Central Texas Teachers' institute to take an individual interest in the educational survey planned for this state in the hope that it may lead to the solving of the financial problems of educational system.

More than 600 teachers are gathered here. The institute will continue all week.

To Try Cattlemen

By The Associated Press.

ABILENE, Texas, Sept. 3.—Tom Ross and Milt Good, cattlemen, were brought here yesterday from Lubbock to await the calling of their cases in district court next week, wherein they are charged with the murder of H. L. Roberson, cattle inspector, at Seminole last April. Ross' case will be called Monday and Good's Friday, September 14.

Accidentally Wounded

By The Associated Press.

SHERMAN, Texas, Sept. 3.—T. M. Buford Jr. was seriously wounded this morning when a pistol he was placing in a desk drawer was accidentally discharged. He lost one finger on his right hand, and the bullet entered the righ groin and passed out at the calf of the leg. The accident occurred in the drug store of Carl R. Nall, where Buford is bookkeeper.

Waurika Society and Personals

CONTRACT LET

Contractor G. W. Robison has been awarded the contract for the erection of the new office building of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company on their lots on D avenue and actual construction work will be begun as soon as material arrives. The building will be bungalow type and will conform to the residences on the street. A car load of new material for the central energy system which will be installed when the new building is completed has already arrived and is in storage until such time as it can be used.

A big four day carnival and picnic was held at Temple August 29, 30, 31 and Sept 1, under the auspices of the Temple post of the American legion. A large number of Waurikans attended.

TO PAVE MAIN STREET

The city council at the regular meeting Tuesday night and in conference with the property owners voted unanimously to proceed with the paving of Main street and the adjacent side streets, and to use brick instead of cement. The plan for the four north blocks on Main and the seven adjoining blocks, one block each way, east and west, calls for a six inch curb and a six foot concrete gutter on each side, the centers to be paved with two and one-half inch fibre brick on a concrete base of five inches with a one inch cushion between the concrete and the brick to have a thin asphalt covering.

On the three blocks at the south end of Main the plan is the same except the width of the street. Here the gutter will be two feet wide and the paving 32 feet over all.

The advertisement for bids will appear next week, and bids will be received and opened at a meeting of the council called for Tuesday, Sept. 18.

JAPAN

ported to have been burned to death shortly after the earthquake. Three hundred thousand bushels of rice are being rushed from Korea on a naval vessel to be used in relief work in Tokio.

More than 700 patients in the university hospital at Tokio are said to have lost their lives in the earthquake.

Report Tokio Fire out.

By International News Service.

NAGASAKI, Sept. 3.—Fire was reported subsided about 5 o'clock Sunday evening, which practically meant nothing inflammable was left in the city. The Chinese legation was among the destroyed buildings. The intimates of the Tokio prison, including revently arrived socialists, were liberated when the building caught fire.

From today airplanes will fly daily between Tokio and Osaka to carry important news and official mail.

Dead Are Countless.

By The Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—Every report received from Japan throughout the day either confirmed or increased previous estimates of the havoc wrought in death and destruction by the quadruple catastrophe which has befallen the central eastern section of Hondo, largest of the islands of the Japanese empire.

Beginning at noon Saturday with a series of earthquakes which razed most of the city of Tokio and a large section of Yokohama and other cities in the vicinity, the disaster was continued by fires which broke out in scores of places. Tidal waves followed, engulfing and washing into the sea hundreds of buildings. Then came a typhoon, adding a tragic and final touch to what is probably the greatest calamity in modern times.

Topping all previous estimates of death and ruin, Ujiro Oyama, Japanese consul general in San Francisco, late today received from Shichitaro Yada, Japanese general in Shanghai, a report that 160,000 persons were killed or injuried and that one million were made homeless in the Tokio-Yokohama section.

Former estimates from various sources had placed the casualties as high as 150,000 dead in Tokio alone. Other reports told of severe casualties both on land and sea.

A Shattered Wilderness.

A composite of report depicts Tokio and Yokohama as shattered wildernesses of motar, bricks and stone, where once stood some of the statliest structures in the empire. Dead and dying are on every hand. The survivors who can group their way through the fire and smoke and rubbish are leaving the city for places of safety.

Those who still live are threatened with starvation and many are trying to catch fish from lakes and ponds to tide them over until food arrives.

It is estimated that at least 100,000 tons of rice alone is needed to meet the food shortage. The imperial palace, which was badly damaged by quake and fire, has been thrown open to needy survivors.

What happened at Yokohama can barely be more than surmised. But every report, though meager, confirms the worst of fears. While it seems certain most of the residential sections escaped it is estimated 1,400 buildings in the city were destroyed. The dead are countless.

PARADES DISPENSED WITH IN ST. LOUIS

By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 3.—For the first time in many years the annual Labor Day parades in St. Louis and East St. Louis, Ills., were not held today, the union labor organizations of both cities having voted to discontinue the parade as a feature of the day's celebration.

Union leaders explained that it was a hardship for the workers to march in the parade which has been growing less in numerous each year. Picnics took the place of the parade.

TO STRAIGHTEN COUNTY LINE.

Governor Walton issued a proclamation last week calling an election in Courtney Flats of Jefferson county to vote on the proposed detachment of part of Jefferson county, same to be attached to Love county. In other words they seek to make the east line of Jefferson county a straight line.

Petitions were presented to the governor several months ago asking for the election, but considerable time has been taken in checking up the records to see that all points of the law have been compiled with.

Only the people in the territory affected are allowed to vote on the question and 60 per cent of the vote cast in favor of the change will carry it.

COTTON BRINGS TOP PRICE.

Cotton on the Waurika market this week has brought the top price. Monday and Tuesday the price was 25 cents and Wednesday and Thursday 24 cents was paid. This was in excess of the market quotations and also in excess of the street price in most of the surrounding towns.

Up to Thursday about 50 bales had been ginned in the Waurika gins and the fleecy staple is coming in regularly. Rain the first of the week delayed the picking.

OIL NEWS.

The J. C. Cook company of Ardmore has made an oil well location on the R. L. Gibson farm, one mile west of Sugden, in the northwest quarter of section 36-5-8. A contract has been let for the rig and drilling operations are expected to begin by Sept. 15.

Oil men have been watching with interest the tests being made this week in the sand found in the oil test well being drilled on the O. W. Seay ranch in section 33-6-5 in the south part of the county near Oscar. The casing was set in the sand Tuesday at a depth of 1,320 feet, and the well was bailed out Friday. The sand encountered was pronounced by oil men to be a good one and hopes are entertained for an oil well.

LAW EFFECTIVE IN JULY.

The free text book law does not go into effect until next July. With the opening of school Monday a number have been interested in regard to the law providing free text books that was passed this year.

ONE INJURED; ONE IN JAIL.

Elbert Sander of the Goodwin community has been at the point of death, the result of being struck in the back of the head with a single tree by Jack Jackson, a one armed man. It appears that Jackson went to the home of Sanders in company with other road employes of D. A. Cathey, county commissioner to get some road tools. Sander was assisting to load the tools, when, with no warning whatsoever Jackson struck the blow. There appears to have been an old grudge of several years standing. Jackson was arrested and brought to Waurika where he was lodged in jail, and Sanders is still considered not out of danger.

I. B. Clifton is now sole owner of the City Meat Market having bought out the interest of Carol Scott who was interested with him.

Mrs. J. F. Edmonston will be music directoress in the city schools this year. In high school and junior high there will be glee clubs, orchestras, and various music units arranged. Mrs. Edmonston comes to Waurika with very high recommendations for the work.

When the old school bells peal out Monday morning all the kids that will be six years old by the first of November will be permitted to enroll for the September term according to Superintendent J. T. Eischeid.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stuart came home last Monday from a two weeks' vacation spent at Galveston.

W. W. Morrison and family, who spent three weeks in Mountainair, New Mexico, returned home last week.

Miss Edwina Alexander came home last Monday from a visit with Miss Billie Mae Morrison of Grand Prairie, Texas.

Perry Pless, who recently joined the navy is now stationed at San Diego, California.

Price Caroland and Miss Hazel Jones are home from a visit with the latter's sister, Mrs. Jim Howard, and family of Temple, Texas. They were accompanied to Temple by Judge and Mrs. J. P. Jones of Wichita Falls.

Mrs. A. E. Landon received a letter last Thursday telling of the death of her friend Mrs. Amanda Alafeldt, which occurred very suddenly at Huntington, Ind. Mrs. Alafeldt was to have visited Mrs. Landon the latter part of September, at which time she was to have addressed the Kurean and Delphian clubs on European life. Mrs. Alafeldt had spent a number of years abroad, visiting the out-of-beaten-path places and had many interesting things to tell.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The fourth birthday of little Miss Mary Faye Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reed of this city, was fittingly celebrated last Wednesday when 26 little invited guests spent the hours from 4 to 6 at her home. Children's games were enjoyed, and Mrs. C. A. Holding sang for the children accompanied by Miss Maye Pepin, who also rendered a piano solo. A lovely big birthday cake with four tiny lighted tapers centered the table where lovely iced refreshments were served. The only out of town guest was little Miss Allie J. Sisk of Bay City who is the house guest of Miss Pollyanna Heacock.

The members of the Rebekah lodge spent a most enjoyable evening last Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Irwin. An interesting program was enjoyed and a lovely plate luncheon served to the 50 guests who spent the evening in the Irwin home.

Miss Mary Wade Durham, accompanied her aunt, Mrs. Roma Davis and her two children, Catherine and Roma Jr. of Healdton to Comanche last Saturday where they were the guests of relatives until Wednesday when they returned to Waurika. Mrs. Davis and children visited in Waurika until Sunday.

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

AVERAGE BUSINESS CYCLE

READ EXPLANATION BELOW

Only the approximate length of a normal business cycle can be determined.

Economists have studied carefully for many years to determine the exact length of a business cycle.

Probably the most acceptable theory at present is that the average cycle lasts 40 months, and that every third cycle is especially marked in both its upward and downward movement.

Although the average of every five cycles is about 40 months, each one may be a little shorter or longer.

Perhaps if we can have about 30 years without any wars, some one will be able to figure out the exact length of a normal business cycle.

Kansas City Livestock.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 3.—Cattle: Receipts 41,000; calves 7,000; steady; top heavy steers 12.25; western 11.00 beef cows 3.75@5.25; bologna bulls 3.50@4.00; calves 9.00; stockers and feeders 7.00@8.75.

Hogs: Receipts 19,000; mostly steady; top 9.25; light 9.10@9.20; butchers 8.85@9.00; packing sows 6.75@7.00; stock pigs 7.00@7.25.

Sheep: Receipts 10,000; steady to 10 cents lower; western lambs 12.75@13.00; top 13.00; Colorado ewes 7.10.

Fort Worth Livestock.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 3.—Cattle and calf receipts Monday were not very large, but in view of the fact that there was no killing at the plants on account of Labor Day, the supply was ample to meet all reasonable requirements. The estimate called for 5,000 head of cattle and 1,500 calves.

Sales of steers were generally 15 to 25 cents lower on canners and cutter cows the loss was around 15 to 25 cents. Fat cows, good heifers and desirable yearlings remained steady. Bulls were about in line with last week's close and the stocker deal was unchanged. Calves sold to a good demand and the market was strong.

Odd drafts of cows were good enough to bring $4 to $4.50, but the best in car lots sold around $3 to $3.75. Cutters went at a general range of $2.00 to 2.25 and canners brought $1.50 to 1.75. Bulls were taken at a range of 2.25 to 3.75.

Packer buyers took over the big end of the day's receipts of calves and the trade made good progress. The best here in car lots went at 6.00 to 6.25.

Bulk sales of hogs were at 9.00 to 9.25. Receipts of hogs amounted to about 1,500 head and the demand was broad. Fat pigs and stockers sold readily at $6.00 to 6.50.

On sheep the market was active and of 25 to 50 cents. Some wether and strong while lambs sold at an advance wethers brought 6.75. Some choice yearlings not changed 8.50 and lambs were disposed of at $13.00.

INSTITUTE FOR TEACHERS OPENS

Annual Sessions Are Begun At First Baptist Church Here

With 650 teachers here from Archer, Clay, Young, Baylor and Wichita counties, and from Vernon and Chillicothe, the annual teachers' institute opened at the First Baptist church Monday morning with the election of officers as the chief event, the afternoon session being given over to a celebration of Labor day.

Superintendent B. S. Dohoney of the Vernon public schools was chosen chairman of the institute. Prof Dohoney was formerly an assistant state superintendent of public instruction and ranks as one of the leading school men of the state. Burl Bryant, superintendent of Wichita county schools and member of the Texas school commission, was selected as vice chairman. Miss Helen Skinner of the Quanah high school was chosen secretary.

After the organization was completed, talks by Director T. H. Shelby of the State University; Prof. Hughes of A. and M college, who is conducting the rural school department of the institute, and S. H. Rider of the Wichita junior college, were made.

The institute was formally opened by an address of welcome by Judge A. H. Carrigan, formerly chairman of the school board. Judge Carrigan spoke of the growth of the institute during the past few years.

Rev. C. M. Simmons of the First Methodist church, South, gave the invocation. R. E. Shepherd rendered a vocal selection, which was greatly appreciated.

The response to the address of welcome was delivered by J. F. Kemp, superintendent of the Seymour public schools. He assured his hearers the institute would be successful each year in the future, as it has in the past.

After the addresses and singing, the institute was organized into sections. Miss Kate Haynes was appointed to lead the primary section. Her subject was "Teaching the Beginners to Write." A brief talk was made on the subject by Miss Falls. Director T. H. Shelby will have charge of the intermediate section. He spoke on "Conditions of Good School Work." S. H. Rider, principal of local high school, chose as his subject "Our Checking System in the Wichita High School." The rural sections is in charge of Prof. R. Hughes. His subject was "The First Day."

Following the morning session, invitations from the Federation of Labor committee in charge of the Labor day celebration for the delegation to be its guests at the Lake Wichita barbecue, were accepted. Five street cars provided by the chamber of commerce and a number of private cars carried the 600 teachers to the lake, where they joined in the afternoon festivities.

The main event for today's program is the night session at the church, where Director Shelby and Prof. Hughes will make special addresses. Tonight's session will be the only one at night during the institute.

Today's program in full follows:

9:00-9:10—Invocation, Rev. O. L. Powers.

9:10-9:30—Singing, Mrs. R. E. Shepherd.

"Financing Public Schools."

10:15-10:30—Recess.

10:30—Sectional meeting.

Primary Section

"Material Used by Primary Teacher"—Mrs. Susie Scott.

"The Teaching of Writing"—Miss Dixie Crabtree.

Intermediate Section

"Control of Learning Process."

High School Section

"Classification of Small High School"—E. W. Cullers.

"Should All Pupils Be Required to Take Two Years of Algebra?"—A. K. Presson and W. R. Bradford.

Rural Section

SAYS EVERY SCHOOL CHILD SHOULD HEAR TALKS OF EDUCATORS

That every parent who has a child who will be in school this term should hear the addresses of Director T. H. Shelby of the University of Texas and Prof. Hughes of Texas A. and M. college tonight before the teachers attending the institute at the First Baptist church auditorium is the opinion of Burl Bryant, county superintendent of schools.

"Director Shelby is one of the leading educators of the state. Prof. Hughes is an authority on rural school problems. It is not often the public has the opportunity of hearing such men on subjects which affect the public schools of the country. Every parent and anyone else interested in our public schools will do well to attend the Tuesday night meeting," Bryant said Monday.

Concrete Work On Spillway To Be Completed Oct. 1

Concrete work on the diversion dam spillway will be completed by October first, there being a little more work on the chest and north end wall to be done, officials said Monday.

Water at the storage dam is 45 feet deep. Rip rap work on the Lake Kemp storage dam will also be in progress a month or two. All of those who have been in charge of operations at the dam have returned to Seattle except Capt. Williamson.

The dismantling of the dredge boat, "T. B. Noble" is about completed and the machinery is being moved and stored at Maybelle.

There Are Many Reasons For Popularity of Irene

It has been proved conclusively that the sensational success of "Irene," the musical comedy announced to be seen here at the Palace theater as the opening attraction of the new season, on Wednesday, September 12, is due to a great extent to the intensely human qualities of James Montgomery's comedy, the "song hit" character of Harry Tierney's musical setting and the unusually popular subjects of Joseph McCarthy's lyrics.

In planning the present tour, the Vanderbilt Producing company decided to send the special company which recently played a successful engagement at the Jolson theater in New York city. Among the members of the company are Dale Winter, who will play the part of "Irene"; Flo Irwin, Mary O'Moore, Gladys Nagle, Dorothy LaMar, Dorothy Kane, Henrietta Housen, Howard Freeman, Jere Delaney, Henry Coote, George Collins, Edward Marr and George Mangell. An exceptional beauty chorus is also provided and a special orchestra.

RABBIT BREEDERS TO MEET HERE TONIGHT

A meeting of the Wichita County Rabbit Breeders association has been called for tonight at 2206 Grant street by President William L. Smith to appoint departmental committees for the Texas-Oklahoma fair exhibits.

According to Smith the association is planning one of the biggest rabbit expositions ever held in the southwest. The association is also making arrangements to bring the 1924 convention of the National Rabbit Breeders association to Wichita Falls.

Following the meeting tonight lunch will be served.

WAY OF HANDLING PUBLICITY MEANS MUCH TO CLUBS

With the entrance of September, the first fall month, the appearance of cooler days and beginning of club activities, the importance of publicity and plans to promote it in women's club circles are beginning to be discussed.

At a convention of women's clubs held recently at Anaconda, Mont., Wagren B. Davis, city editor of the Anaconda Standard, submitted a paper on "Preparing Club News for Newspapers," in which he gave suggestions that should prove helpful. He said:

"Write the most important facts first.

"Use good English and short sentences.

"Be accurate in statements.

"Be sure that all names are spelled correctly, and that initials are given with each.

"Write on one side of paper and use a typewriter.

"The news columns of a paper are for conveying information to the public. In the judgment of a news editor, copy must justify expenditure that its reproduction would cost. News is judged on its importance, and the single item gains in importance as it interests the larger number of readers.

"A quick perusal of the usual manuscript prepared by the untrained writer is that it in no way comes up to the newspaper standard; frequently there isn't the slightest suggestion of news about it, and the usual request that 'I would like to have this appear just as it is written' cannot be granted. It doesn't appear in the form it is written, if it appears at all. The beautiful thought is destroyed; the poetry is removed; biblical references and quotations from the classics disappear, and there remains only the brief statement of fact, if the manuscript contained any such thing as fact. Does anyone grieve except the author?"

Summing up his rules of writing acceptably, Mr. Davis told the club women: "If you are reporting an election, begin with the president. If you are dealing with a death, 'kill Jones in the first sentence,' and follow the copy reader's suggestion to 'cut out the mush.'"

WIFE OF ENGINEER CLAIMED BY DEATH

Mrs. Louisa Rutledge, 46, wife of W. B. Rutledge of Burnett street, died at the family residence at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Rutledge has been in bad health for three years. She is survived by her husband; four sons, Emmett, Orban, Ernest, and Ruey; two sisters, Mrs. Dan Spoon of Gainesville, and Mrs. E. P. Ford of Hedley, and two brothers, both of Hedley.

Mrs. Rutledge had lived in Wichita Falls for 16 years, her husband being an engineer for the Fort Worth & Denver railroad.

The funeral will be Wednesday but definite arrangements had not been made Monday.

Boy Killed As Result Of Being Thrown By Horse

Death came to 11-year-old Theodore Helibusch while being rushed to a local hospital in the ambulance of the Hines Undertaking company about 6:30 Tuesday afternoon, as a result of being thrown from a horse on the farm of his father, eight miles out on the Charlie road, a few minutes before.

An examination of the body at the hospital showed the skull had been fractured, a leg broken and numerous bruises and scratches. The boy's father, William Heidbusch, says he did not see the accident but one of the boy's brothers, found Theodore in the field and the horse came back to the house alone.

Burial will be in Wichita Falls but arrangements are pending arrival of relatives, the father said last night.

Palomar, Famous Toreador, Coaches Rodolph Valentino

Member of a famous bull-fighting family, himself the conqueror of two score "toros," Rafael Palomar was chosen as trainer of Rodolph Valentino for the toreador scenes required of the Paramount star in "Blood and Sand." A Fred Niblo production made from the notable Vicente Blasco Ibanez novel of the same name.

That "Blood and Sand" might be correct in every respect, Palomar not only supervised the dressing of Valentino in toreador costume, but taught him every step of the intricate evolutions which mark the graceful sword and cape play of a matador. Although Valentino is a trained dancer, he found even more difficult than tango or maxixe the complicated steps Palomar taught him for two solid months. And accuracy was decidedly essential—for with a bull in front—there's only one mistake to be made, and when that occurs, the undertaker has his inning.

Rafael Palomar won the training assignment because of his twelve years as a bull-fighter in Madrid, Seville, Cadiz, Mexico City, Guadalajara and other Spanish and Spanish-American cities. He is the brother of Jose and Francisco Palomar, equally famous as favorites of Spanish bull ring audiences.

The hiring of Palomar was but a part of the plan to make "Blood and Sand," which comes to the Gem theatre today, correct in every detail. The story, however, tells of the life of Juan Gallardo, a bull-fighter, rather than of bull-fighting. All of the color of the Spanish national sport is retained, minus the features not acceptable to American audiences.

Lila Lee and Nita Naldi, are featured players of the cast which is made up of screen artists of distinctive character type. These include among others, Walter Long, George Field, Rose Rosanova, Leo White, Marie Marstini and others.
