C.C. Ministerial Alliance Sponsors Free Christmas Dinner, Festivities

The Colorado City Ministerial Alliance is sponsoring a free Christmas dinner at noon on Christmas Day at the Wallace Center. The fun is set to begin at 10:30 a.m., with coffee and games followed by Christmas Carols at 11:15 a.m.

The dinner will be the traditional December 25 fare, including turkey, dressing, green beans, fruit salad and pumpkin pie.

Anyone who would otherwise be alone on Christmas should phone 728-2062 or 728-3442 to make reservations.

Hot lunches will also be taken to local shut-ins. To have the hot meals delivered, phone one of the numbers listed above.

Record To Help Santa Answer Letters And Give Away Prizes

Santa's mailbox is getting very full...the substation that he maintains at the RECORD office, that is.

One of the reasons for the onslaught of mail St. Nick receives here in Colorado City is that every child writing a letter to Santa by way of the RECORD will automatically become eligible to win one of the giant, four-foot-tall stockings to be given by drawing to one boy and one girl from the area.

The stockings are filled with enough toys and other goodies to make the young mouths water.

To enter, children must write a letter to Santa Claus in care of the Colorado City RECORD, at P.O. Box 92, including a name, address and phone number. The drawing for the prize stockings will be held December 17 at 3 p.m.

Children need not be present to win.

SANTA FE RAILWAY'S 1981 4-H Scholarship winner: Dawn A. Lemons of Colorado City, outstanding Texas 4-H member, was named a winner of a $750 college scholarship by Santa Fe Railway in Chicago, Monday, (November 30) during the 60th National 4-H Congress. Presenting the scholarship to Dawn was John Swartz, executive vice president of the railroad. Santa Fe has supported the 4-H program for 59 of its 60 years and currently provides 27 scholarships and 60 educational awards to outstanding 4-H members residing in 13 western and southwestern states it serves.

Mitchell Named VFD Fireman-Of-The-Year

Doyle Mitchell is this year's "Fireman of the Year." Mitchell was thus named last Monday at the annual Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department awards dinner.

Mitchell was described by fire chief Jerry Hammond as "doing an outstanding job."

Hammond also presented Ladies Auxiliary member Lola Webb with a plaque of appreciation.

Vicar Monte Jones commended local businesses for their undying support of the CCVFD. City National Bank and Texas Electric Service Company were among the mentioned.

Ten individuals were also recognized as being very important to the operation of the local fire department. They include Ethel Thompson, Janie Henderson, Marian Bassham, Vista Harrel, Travis Turner, D. M. Smith, A. K. McCarley, Danny Barber, Dell Barber and Mac Morris.

The meeting concluded with good news as it was announced that fires were down in Mitchell County in 1981-only 121-the lowest total in the past few years.

Commissioners Meet To Divide Funds Tues.

The County Commissioners met last Tuesday in a lengthy session pertaining to revenue sharing funds.

The commissioners met from about 9 a.m., to 2:30 p.m.

The court heard a request from Fred Witta on behalf of the Loraine Senior Citizens' Group and approved $375 for the installation of a fire-exit door for the outside of the building used by the group in Loraine. The Wallace Community Center was represented by Barbara Gray and Geneva Findley and their nutritional program was given a boost, financially as the commissioners raised the amount given to this senior citizens project from $6,131 to $6,500.

The Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department would like to wait until the end of the year to voice their needs but the trucks and equipment are expensive to maintain or to replace so a request will be forthcoming.

CAST MEMBERS OF THE Colorado City Playhouse's current project, Neil Simon's "I Ought To Be In Pictures," are in the final week of rehearsals as the production will be brought before the general public Thursday, December 10 through Saturday December 12. The adult comedy will also be presented the following weekend, December 17-19. For reservations, phone 728-3491.

Loraine City Council Awards Municipal Employees With Bonuses

The Loraine City Council met last Monday and four of the city's employees were awarded $50 Christmas bonuses.

Receiving the bonuses were city secretary, Brenda Lee, Water Superintendent, D. C. Fowler, Police Officer Edgar Haltom and Street Maintenance man Don Epperson.

The final item on Monday's agenda was a discussion of ways to stop speeders in Loraine as well as young people driving without proper licensing.

THESE ENTHUSIASTIC PARTICIPANTS in Friday's Christmas Parade appear to be enjoying themselves immensely. The crowd and the parade is, according to "old-timers," one of the best in recent remembrance. See next Thursday's Record for more pictures and details on the parade and Christmas festivities.

This-n-That

By Phil Riddle

"Chestnuts roasting on an open fire, Jack Frost nipping at your nose..."

Doesn't seem possible that it's already that time of year again. The time when children stare wide-eyed at Santa in his red suit, and adults rush around en-masse buying gifts for everyone in the family, including second and third cousins, whom you only see for a few minutes a year as you relinquish custody of the gift you have chosen for them.

As we approach this most joyous time of year, let's pause to consider the meaning of the Holiday that we all look forward to from July on.

Christmas is not an ornament-laden plastic conglomeration manufactured to resemble a perfectly formed Douglas fir tree.

It is a remembrance of a most blessed event to Christians world-wide, the birth of Christ.

So while you enjoy your holiday, and I do hope you enjoy it, stop for a moment under your tree and read the story of Jesus' birth. My favorite account begins in the second chapter of the Gospel of Luke.

This will be my last column before Christmas, so I would like to take this time to wish all the readers of the RECORD a very Merry Christmas and the finest things that 1982 has to offer.

Industries Program Hold Great Effect

Industries, prevention program American Cancer Society would have the greatest effect on lung cancer, study asserts, with most of the reduction of disease among men. This is true since there are more males in the industrial work force. A higher percentage of them smoke, and the incidence of lung cancer among men is higher than in women.

In the case of late stage colorectal cancer, not only will the patient's family suffer the tragedy of a premature death, but his employment company "will have to spend more than $50,000 for medical fees (diagnosis, initial and terminal therapy) sick leave pay, work disruption, hiring a new employee, and life insurance." This is for an average worker. In the case of an executive, the total could easily exceed $300,000.

Colorectal cancer can be detected by the simple stool guaiac slide test for discovering hidden blood - a warning signal of cancer. It can also detect premalignant polyps that could be removed without major surgery. Thus the employee's life can be spared, and the company will save tens and perhaps hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The report notes that in stressing economic costs and benefits, its analysis doesn't deal with the personal aspects of cancer. Its tables contain "no measure of the pain and suffering, the distress and anxiety, the loss of life, or the disruption of family life that cancer can cause." In this sense, according to the report, total benefits of cancer control efforts are "under-estimated."

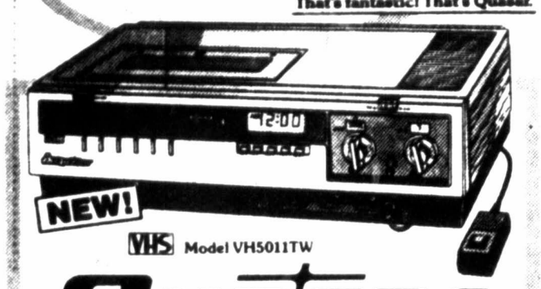

In addition, it points out that the lack of preciseness of available data limited the study's accuracy, and the results provide "only rough estimates" of actual economic outcomes.

Despite the lack of "precise answers," the study provides general insights about the results and displays the relative importance of the various factors that affect the results.

Social Security Frauds Take Thousands Of Innocent People

Senator Lloyd Bentsen said that thousands of elderly Texans are potential victims of Social Security fraud.

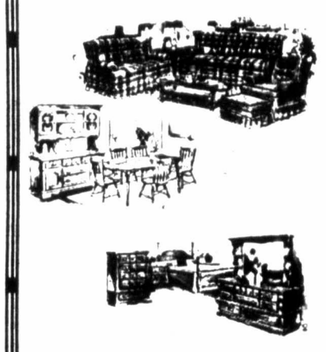

Bentsen said he is asking the General Accounting Office (GAO), the investigative arm of Congress, to look into the representative payee program operated by the Social Security Administration. Representative payees are individuals named to receive Social Security checks on behalf of persons unable to handle their own affairs.

"There are disturbing indications that the representative payee program is not being operated as tightly as it could be," Bentsen said.

"In some cases a court order or medical evidence is used in the naming of a payee. But I have received information that the Social Security Administration will take action if a potential payee merely advises them that a Social Security recipient is not capable of handling his or her affairs. In these cases Social Security officials reportedly send a letter to the recipient who has 10 days to explain why a representative payee should not be named. This is one of the things I'm asking the GAO to look into."

"In addition, they currently do not demand an accounting of representative payees and, as the law is now written, those payees who violate the trust placed in them receive only a slap on the wrist," Bentsen said.

Sentiments Hold An Important Part In Holidays

It's no secret that you are more identifiable by your social security or credit card number than by your own name. As a result, you pay taxes, bills, deposit and withdraw money from the bank using numbered forms which only employ your name as a secondary means of identification.

None of this could have been possible without computer science, probably the chief "science" that rules your life today.

Luckily, most people take this new way of life in their stride. But since you are an original, not a carbon copy, there should be a way to maintain the unique difference between you and the rest of the world.

One area that is especially yours is the sentiment (the love, friendship and emotion) you express.

At holiday time these sentiments become particularly important. But with the hustle and bustle of the Christmas season added to your everyday chores, many people tend to take the easy way out. How? By buying greeting cards imprinted with impersonal messages written by a professional "poet."

Most people take it for granted that a stranger's words will wish friends and relatives a happy holiday. It doesn't have to be that way, if you buy cards that are blank on the inside leaf. They're not hard to find.

What's more you don't have to be a poet laureate to write your own greeting. The less your words sound like a store-bought card, the better. So here's a way to get back to basics–to the real meaning of Christmas.

And now for the mechanics; since your message will be handwritten, the writing instrument you choose becomes extremely important. You may want to buy a special pen, such as one made by Pilot, which comes with tips in different widths.

Look for a pen which will enhance your handwriting. Most people seem to like a very fine point such as the Pilot Razor Point Marker Pen, the most popular fine point on the market today. This marker's smooth point adds grace and an artistic quality to your penmanship and is perfectly suited for your cards. If you prefer a slightly thicker point, try the Pilot Fineliner. Or you may wish to create a feeling of texture by using two different tips.

Next choose a colored ink that blends with your cards. To coordinate colors, check the Pilot display for an attractive array of inks. There's red and green for Christmas or choose from other vibrant hues for more artistic and less traditional combinations.

Once you have decided on the color scheme, you're on your way. Your message will probably differ from person to person, but that's what will make your greeting unique.

Regardless of which pen or ink you choose, you'll find that once you get caught up in this project, it will be fun. And further, you may even be more satisfied this year, because you have waged a personal battle against the faceless foe–the computer, by truly being yourself.

Q. What's the best way to check for bad wheel bearings?

A. The simplest way to check front wheel bearings is to raise the front end of the car and rotate each wheel to determine if there is any binding present. Then push the top of the tire and pull the bottom to detect any free play. Either binding or free play probably indicates bearing replacement or adjustment is necessary. Working on bearings is not difficult. However, be sure to follow your service manual instructions exactly. Ending up with parts left over on a bearing replacement could be disastrous. Forgetting to replace the cotter pin which prevents the wheel bearing nut from turning could cause you to lose a wheel. Bearings can be lubricated with a grease packer or by hand. Most important is insuring that the lubricant is thoroughly worked into the bearing and between each needle.

Social Security Frauds Take Thousands Of Innocent People

Senator Lloyd Bentsen said that thousands of elderly Texans are potential victims of Social Security fraud.

Bentsen said he is asking the General Accounting Office (GAO), the investigative arm of Congress, to look into the representative payee program operated by the Social Security Administration. Representative payees are individuals named to receive Social Security checks on behalf of persons unable to handle their own affairs.

"There are disturbing indications that the representative payee program is not being operated as tightly as it could be," Bentsen said.

"In some cases a court order or medical evidence is used in the naming of a payee. But I have received information that the Social Security Administration will take action if a potential payee merely advises them that a Social Security recipient is not capable of handling his or her affairs. In these cases Social Security officials reportedly send a letter to the recipient who has 10 days to explain why a representative payee should not be named. This is one of the things I'm asking the GAO to look into."

"In addition, they currently do not demand an accounting of representative payees and, as the law is now written, those payees who violate the trust placed in them receive only a slap on the wrist," Bentsen said.

Sentiments Hold An Important Part In Holidays

It's no secret that you are more identifiable by your social security or credit card number than by your own name. As a result, you pay taxes, bills, deposit and withdraw money from the bank using numbered forms which only employ your name as a secondary means of identification.

None of this could have been possible without computer science, probably the chief "science" that rules your life today.

Luckily, most people take this new way of life in their stride. But since you are an original, not a carbon copy, there should be a way to maintain the unique difference between you and the rest of the world.

One area that is especially yours is the sentiment (the love, friendship and emotion) you express.

At holiday time these sentiments become particularly important. But with the hustle and bustle of the Christmas season added to your everyday chores, many people tend to take the easy way out. How? By buying greeting cards imprinted with impersonal messages written by a professional "poet."

Most people take it for granted that a stranger's words will wish friends and relatives a happy holiday. It doesn't have to be that way, if you buy cards that are blank on the inside leaf. They're not hard to find.

What's more you don't have to be a poet laureate to write your own greeting. The less your words sound like a store-bought card, the better. So here's a way to get back to basics–to the real meaning of Christmas.

And now for the mechanics; since your message will be handwritten, the writing instrument you choose becomes extremely important. You may want to buy a special pen, such as one made by Pilot, which comes with tips in different widths.

Look for a pen which will enhance your handwriting. Most people seem to like a very fine point such as the Pilot Razor Point Marker Pen, the most popular fine point on the market today. This marker's smooth point adds grace and an artistic quality to your penmanship and is perfectly suited for your cards. If you prefer a slightly thicker point, try the Pilot Fineliner. Or you may wish to create a feeling of texture by using two different tips.

Next choose a colored ink that blends with your cards. To coordinate colors, check the Pilot display for an attractive array of inks. There's red and green for Christmas or choose from other vibrant hues for more artistic and less traditional combinations.

Once you have decided on the color scheme, you're on your way. Your message will probably differ from person to person, but that's what will make your greeting unique.

Regardless of which pen or ink you choose, you'll find that once you get caught up in this project, it will be fun. And further, you may even be more satisfied this year, because you have waged a personal battle against the faceless foe–the computer, by truly being yourself.

Costin Implement Company Joins Hesston Corporation Recently

Costin Implement Co., Colorado City, will join Hesston Corporation and over 1,000 other participating Hesston Farm Equipment dealers across North America in sponsoring a special telecast of the 1981 National Finals Rodeo from Oklahoma City.

The program will appear locally on KTAB-TV (32), Abilene, December 16 at 8 p.m.

Billed as N.F.R. TELECAST VIII, this makes the eighth consecutive year that the Hesston Corporation has televised the National Finals Rodeo. The N.F.R. is recognized as the "World Series" or "Super Bowl" of professional rodeo and climaxes nearly 600 Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (P.R.C.A.) sanctioned rodeos held throughout the country during 1981.

To qualify for the National Finals, entrants must rank among the top 15 money winners in their respective event(s) for the year. The cowboys that come out on top during the National Finals then win the coveted World Champion title in their event. The telecast will carry the six standard pro rodeo events: bareback bronc riding, steer wrestling, team roping, saddle bronc riding, calf roping and bull riding. Girls' barrel racing will also be featured.

The telecast will feature a 30-minute "Countdown to Glory," highlighting the top action from the nine performances of the 1981 N.F.R. that lead up to the Final Championship Performance. This "Countdown" will be immediately followed by 90 minutes of all the action of the tenth and Final Championship Performance. This 90-minute segment is exclusively sponsored by Hesston Corporation and participating Hesston Farm Equipment dealers. World championships will be decided during this performance, including the 1981 All-Around World Champion Cowboy.

Commentary during the "Countdown to Glory" will be provided by country-western artist, Red Steagall, and veteran rodeo announcer, Hadley Barrett. Commentary of the Final Championship Performance will be provided by Bob Tallman, the voice of ProRodeo, plus six-time World Champion, Larry Mahan, and television game show host, Bob Eubanks. Former rodeo queen, Shelly Burmeister will provide additional assistance on the girls' barrel racing.

Commercial announcements during the telecast will feature the Prime Line of farm equipment available from Hesston Corporation.

Volleyball Team Steps Short

By GEORGE MARTIN

The Colorado High Varsity girls' volleyball team fell short of their goal to attain the Championship of the Region 1-AAA Volleyball tournament this past Saturday in Lubbock. The Wolves fought valiantly, but came out on the short end of the score board 15-13, 15-5 to perental powerhouse Seminole. Seminole was over Perryton 15-5, 15-2 to qualify for the state tournament.

Leading the pack were Senior Karla Herm, Junior Stacy Hamrick, Pam Wilson, Tomika Randle and Carolyn Green along with Sophomore Laura Baum. Giving support to their teammates were Senior Diana Castillo, Juniors Hollie Taplin, Kerry Spivey, Mona Molina, Rachael Lujan and Sophomore Robyn Turner.

Comments were Karla Herm- "We were well pleased with the success that our volleyball team has this season. We have gone to regional the past two years and have hopefully started a tradition that will stay for future Wolf athletes. We would like to thank our parents for their support this season. A thank you to all the merchants and businesses that have backed us also."

Diana Castillo - "We hope that the tradition of winning on the volleyball team will have carry over to all the other sports because so many of the girls are also in basketball, track or tennis. Thank you to all who have shared in our success this season."

Coach Martin and Coach Wiley-"We want to thank the Seniors-Karla and Diana for their dedication and loyalty this season, they will be missed next season physically, but in spirit the tradition will carry on. We also want to thank the other team members for the patience and love for each other to get through practices and matches. A special thanks to KVMC Radio, The RECORD, and Channel 6 News TV for their support and coverage of matches and especially the regional Tournament in Lubbock without them we would not have the success which we have had."

In closing on the volleyball season, the coaches and players would like to say thank you to the fans and backers of all of our athletic teams already into a young school year. May we make everyone in Colorado City proud of our young men and ladies this year.

Colorado City Edged By Hamlin

By COACH GEORGE MARTIN

The Colorado High girls' basketball team was edged by the Hamlin girls 63-59 in some of the very best plays of the season. Leading the Wolves in scoring were Tomika Randle and Angi Neff with 13 points, Karla Herm and Kim Feaster each holding nine points and Laura Baum, six points, Darlene Mitchell five points and Stacy Hamrick with two points.

This was the best that the Wolves have played this season and the score showed these results.

This was the first game that the Wolves have used their full court press and forced Hamlin into numerous turnovers. Then, in the third quarter the Wolves came out in the half court press to be able to pull within one point by the end of the third quarter. During the fourth quarter, the Wolves and Hamlin see-sawed back and forth with the lead and Hamlin finally came ahead with 17 seconds left in the game.

"These young ladies have a very positive attitude about their team and work as hard as any group we have ever been associated with. They are very determined that, by the time we open District play we will be contenders for the 7-AAA title this season. With every practice and every game we can see a lot of progress with all the girls," stated Coach Martin.

The Varsity Wolves at this time stand at 0-3 but these have been games against very good teams. The J.V. Wolves are 4-1 and are off to a super start. The 9th grade girls are 1-1 and things seem to be coming around as most of the girls are just coming off of volleyball season and need a few games to get untracked and working and knowing what each other is going to do.

The varsity girls are presently in the San Angelo LakeView Tournament and opened against San Angelo Centrals District 5-AAAAA Champions of last year.

Everyone is encouraged to come out and see some very exciting games for both the boys and girls teams this season.

For Your Tire Dollar

Every Michelin 'X' tire is backed by a 40,000 mile warranty for tread wear on domestic cars. That's just about twice the mileage you'd expect from a conventional tire under the same driving conditions. Also, because of its radial design the Michelin 'X' rolls with less road resistance than conventional tires, and that means you can save up to 10% on your present gas consumption (pretty good considering today's fuel crisis.) Plus, every Michelin 'X' tire gives you all the distinctive radial tire advantages over conventional bias-ply tires: smoother ride, easier handling, better traction and firmer road holding. And, they add up to a lot of comfort and safety. Invest in better driving. Stop in and have a set of Michelin 'X' radials installed today.

Select Jewelry Right

Finding the jewelry that suits your needs—and also suits your budget—is best accomplished by working with your local, professional jeweler.

Art Gleim, President of Jewelers of America (JA), a national organization of more than 12,000 professional jewelers, offers some hints to help you work with your jeweler in making selections:

1. Look for the new elegant, lightweight gold pieces. They are available in many styles...some achieve a "heavy" look...others appear "delicate" and handcrafted in design.

2. Instead of a single large stone, look at the jewelry containing many small diamonds. This "pave" look gives a similar effect at a lower cost.

3. Investigate semi-precious stones such as garnets, turquoise and jade. Many of today's new and popular designs also incorporate crystal, coral and other lovely natural stones.

4. Pearls are making big fashion news today. If the cultured pearls are beyond your budget, ask your jeweler about baroque, fresh water and seed pearls. They are available in exciting designs.

5. Focus on single pieces such as tietacks, stickpins, charms and brooches, rather than earrings and cufflinks. That way, you don't double your cost.

Finally, according to Gleim, it is vital to deal with the local jeweler whom you know and trust. The jeweler with the black and gold "J" on his door is a member of JA, the organization of professionals who are part of your community and dedicated to the highest standards of quality and service.

Computers Make Learning More Fun

Through the ages parents have been trying to convince their children that learning is fun. Today, convincing children is easier and we can thank computers for making it so.

These scaled-down wonders of space-age technology are already an accepted part of the school scene in many places, but the latest innovation is the home computer specifically designed for children.

Wonder of wonders, children need no urging to work at learning their spelling and multiplication tables when they can do it with The Children's Discovery System computer, a fun learning device recently introduced by Mattel Toys.

It's a product that makes the learning process both challenging and fun. Developed for children in the six to 11 age group. The Children's Discovery System computer works in conjunction with a variety of learning fun module activity cartridges which provide a selection of subjects including the langauage arts, math, art, music and arcade games. Additional subjects planned include history, science, geography, memory and logic and nutrition.

The hero of the scene is "Cursor the Great," the personification of a computer cursor, who guides the child through the activity books that come with each learning fun module.

Card Of Thanks

I would like to thank all my friends and neighbors for the cards, phone calls and flowers they sent to me while I was hospitalized in Lubbock Methodist and Root Memorial hospitals. The prayers and prayer letters from Oak Street, Calvary and First Baptist Churches were greatly appreciated. Also, my heartfelt thanks to the Mission Gospel Church in Loraine for the love offering. A special thanks to Dr. Terry and Dr. Cowan and to every nurse on duty for their superb care I received. May God's richest blessing be yours.
