Voting Reminder

What may be the largest sign ever set up to remind citizens to vote spans the front of the Ford Motor Company's 12-story central office in Dearborn, Mich. The 536-foot-long 'sign' is actually the building itself with lighting and window blinds arranged to form the word "VOTE" in letters 91 feet high. Each night volunteer workers see that the proper lights are on and the blinds pulled. A total of 1,140 front windows on 10 floors of the glass and metal building are involved. (AP Wirephoto.)

Candidates Pound Into Campaign's Final Turn

Nation Has Seen Record Display

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Candidates electioneering on opposite coasts Saturday pounded into the final 72 hours of the most gruelling presidential campaign in history. Tuesday — the great day of decision.

Never has there been anything so close to political perpetual motion as this battle for the White House between Republican Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Democratic Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

For something like 135,000 miles or more these two have whirled feverishly around the country in a record display of talk, travel and unparalleled staying power.

TO ALASKA

Sunday Nixon swoops down on Anchorage, Alaska. Despite a knee infection that benched him for nearly a fortnight, he thus will become the first presidential nominee ever to campaign in all the states — and this time 50 of them. Kennedy will have missed visiting just six — Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, North Dakota, Nevada and Hawaii.

As is the way of politicians, each is contending in the climactic hours before the balloting that he is riding a surging, churning tide toward victory.

Polls, pundits and other prognosticators for the most part give a cautious, qualified nod to Kennedy. In memory of a massive upset in 1948, and in uneasy awareness of "iceberg" factors that defy measurement, the prophets fling crossed fingers high overhead.

RELIGION

Above all, what will be the net effect of Kennedy's Roman Catholic religion — an issue which both candidates say should be no issue? Will a consolidation of Catholic strength in big cities and big states with the big electoral votes offset anti-Catholic sentiment in parts of the South and Midwest?

Who will have the favor of voters who are undecided, or say they are, in sufficient numbers that they could turn the election into a landslide?

How many votes can President Eisenhower toss Nixon's way with the swish of the presidential coattail?

Whatever the answers, Nixon is thumping the political tom toms through the Far West now with a confident beat, contending that Kennedy is slipping because the truth is catching up with him. And Kennedy embarked on another day of campaigning in New York declaring that "I look toward Tuesday night with equanimity."

HOPPING

And Nixon gave the day over to hopping around from San Jose, to Hayward, Oakland and Los Angeles in an attempt to button up the 32 electoral votes of his home state.

His press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said Nixon was so impressed by the reception he received Friday night in Fresno that he "now flatly predicts that he will carry California."

Klein also told reporters Nixon had been cheered by an early morning telephone call from Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York telling him there had been a big swing in his direction in the Empire State, with its big bloc of 45 electoral votes. The Nixon camp had not been optimistic about New York.

In the wide sweep of the campaign, the Democratic vice-presidential candidate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, was assigned Saturday to his home state of Texas and a dash to New York City to appear with Kennedy. His GOP rival, Henry Cabot Lodge, was working his way through Illinois, Tennessee and North Carolina.

NEAR THE WIRE

In a campaign now rapidly running down to the wire, the one strikingly new political gimmick was the series of four "great debates" on radio and television with tens of millions of Americans tuned in.

Possibly they weren't exactly great and certainly they weren't debates in the real meaning of the word. But they did give people a chance to see and appraise the candidates as never before.

Kennedy clutched at them eagerly. He saw them as perhaps the decisive factor in the election. He had more to gain than Nixon in going into them, because he was the lesser known political figure nationally.

Neither the debates nor the campaign in general produced any bombshells or moments of intense drama. There was nothing to compare, for example, with the way a couple of pups, Nixon's "Checkers," and Franklin D. Roosevelt's "Fala," figured in campaigns of other years. There was nothing like the impact of President Eisenhower's "I shall go to Korea" pledge of 1952.

Nixon did say he would go to Iron Curtain countries. Kennedy came out with something different here and there, such as a proposal to establish a volunteer "peace corps" to operate overseas.

But in a slashing, hard-hitting campaign which was concentrated largely in the northeastern quarter of the country with its high population density and prize clusters of electoral votes, there still were high spots:

Kennedy and Nixon all but calling one another liars. Each accused the other of misstatements.

Nixon in Iowa and Michigan talking slowly, distinctly to students of schools for the deaf and mute through the flying fingers of teachers perched beside him.

Kennedy in a confrontation with Protestant clergymen in Houston taking his stand that his church would not dictate to him as president.

Eisenhower coming out of his corner slugging for Nixon. Kennedy proclaiming that this was the political version of the tail-to-trunk trick of circus elephants and it wouldn't work.

8,500 Expected To Ballot In Area Tuesday

One of the most hotly contested campaigns in history comes down to the wire Tuesday as voters in Howard County and the rest of the nation name a new president.

As across the state and nation, there are diverse predictions as to the outcome, but most are agreed that Tuesday's turnout of voters could establish a new record.

The previous high in Howard County was 8,212 votes in 1952. While the absentee vote barometer is erratic to the point of being undependable as to total, the 640 absentee votes up to Saturday is an indication of lively interest. In 1952 there were 827 absentees.

More voting information, with a sample ballot, may be found on Page 1-D of today's Herald.

Howard County has an apparent voting strength of 10,730, but none expects that this will be approached in the number of votes polled. Some observers feel that the turnout may be upward from 8,500.

Several voting precinct judges are increasing their crews in anticipation of a brisk run at the

Texans May Cast Deciding Votes

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

Texans voting Tuesday may name the next president of the United States.

As one of six crucial states with large blocks of undecided voters, Texas' 24 electoral votes may be the vital margin for either Vice President Richard Nixon or Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Polls, surveys, claims and samplings produce only one answer to date: "race close, outcome uncertain."

Forecasters say most of the state will have cool, partly cloudy weather as about 2 million of Texas' 2.7 million qualified voters go to the polls Tuesday. Moderate to heavy showers are expected in South Texas.

Polling places open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. If you are in line when closing time comes, most election judges will let you vote after 7 p.m.

Several cities have voting machines, but most Texans will mark newspaper-size paper ballots with the candidates ranged in six columns — Democratic, Republican, Constitution Party, Prohibition, independents and write-ins.

Voters not only will have a say in naming the next president but they will choose a U. S. Senator, 22 congressmen, a governor and 11 other high state officials and judges, 16 state senators, 150 state representatives, plus a host of district, county and precinct officials.

At the bottom of the ballot are four proposed changes in the Texas Constitution, already amended 140 times since adoption in 1876. The amendments propose $4,800-a-year salaries for state legislators, increased interest rates for veterans land program bonds, legislative control of small loan companies and creation of local hospital districts in Lamar, Hidalgo and Comanche counties.

The outcome of Texas voting will be known Tuesday night or early Wednesday from unofficial results gathered by the Texas Election Bureau in a cooperative endeavor of Texas newspapers and radio and television stations.

The 24 electors of the victorious party gather Dec. 19 in Austin to formally cast the state's vote for president and vice president.

Gorilla Enters Atlanta Campaign

ATLANTA (AP) — Mayor William B. Hartsfield has jokingly entered an Atlanta Zoo gorilla as a last-minute write-in candidate against Rep. James C. Davis, D-Ga.

The 5th District congressman, unopposed, said with a smile that the new candidate is in keeping with the usual caliber of his opposition.

Computers Will Try To Predict Results

NEW YORK (AP) — The modern marvel of electronics is going to be put to an astonishing political test Tuesday—predicting the winning presidential candidate even before the nation finishes voting.

If it succeeds you may be told the outcome before you sit down to dinner, and possibly when as little as 1 per cent of the votes have been counted.

This staggering undertaking is going to be tried with those amazing new man-made "brains" — electronic computers — devices made up of about a half-acre of electron tubes, magnetic tapes, whirling dials and flashing lights.

GAMBLING

Three big radio and television networks are betting vast sums that the computers will tell who has won the presidency far earlier than any time in history. Three major computer manufacturers are gambling big on it also.

Actually, it's going to be a money-losing proposition for the networks and possibly the manufacturers. That's because it has taken hundreds of people a year or more to get things ready for the computers' special one-night stand.

The networks can't collect enough in advertising fees during the election results period to break even with expenses.

MAY BLOOP IT

But in the furious competition to serve the public with the fastest information possible, both the networks and the computer makers stand to gain enormous prestige — assuming the computers don't bloop it.

But their backers are certain they won't, and the manufacturers are delighted to have such a showcase for their products.

The National Broadcasting Co., which is a subsidiary of the Radio Corp. of America, is going to use RCA's new "501" computer. The Columbia Broadcasting system will employ the "Ramac 305" of International Business Machines. The American Broadcasting Co. will have the Sperry Rand "Univac."

SECRET

The secret of success — or failure — of the devices will depend to a major degree on the cleverness of the people who operate them.

U.S. Favors Ileo As Congo's Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States says that Joseph Ileo, once appointed but never installed as premier in the Congo, may be the man to lead that African nation out of chaos.

The implied support of Ileo, president of the Senate, came in a State Department comment criticizing a U.N. report of the Congo situation and suggesting a new start with a new leader.

The report accused Belgium, which formerly ruled the Congo, of promoting chaos there.

But the State Department said "We have every confidence in the good faith of Belgium and its desire to be of assistance in the Congo.

"We therefore are unable to accept the implications to the contrary contained in various parts of the report."

Ileo, an anti-Communist and an opponent of Premier Patrice Lumumba, has not figured prominently in the struggle for power. When President Joseph Kasavubu ordered the ouster of Lumumba some months ago, he designated Ileo as premier. But Lumumba refused to step aside and Ileo did not serve.

Meantime Col. Joseph Mobutu, the army chief of staff, stepped in with a military coup and announced suspension of political activity for the remainder of this year.

Reviewing The

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

For weeks now, we have been bombarded, sight and sound, by the leaders and cheerleaders, and now comes the time for the imperturbable ones—the vast body of the voters—to speak. And they will on Tuesday, and we will name our officials from President to constable—and, God willing, the sun will continue to rise each morning.

The United Fund, purring along with enthusiasm and good effort by workers, rolled to the final grade last week. This may be the tell-tale week, and if everyone responds with effort and investment, we can make it—and on schedule. So don't delay; give generously, give now.

The Texas Highway Commission announced last week that $753,000 had been earmarked under the 1961-62 consolidated program for a new US 87 overpass on Gregg Street. The present structure will be demolished and completely replaced by one carrying four traffic lanes plus double sidewalks.

Halloween damage was relatively light, but there was some malicious mischief. For instance vandals threw rocks through a gas light at the W. L. Mead home at 703 Texas, then came back three nights later to do the same thing again. Residents can help stop this sort of thing here and elsewhere by watching and reporting license numbers.

This is a season of elections all right. Hard on the heels of Tuesday's plebicite, Forsan voters will ballot on incorporation on Saturday. On Dec. 3 the county will vote on issuance of $150,000 in bonds for right-of-way purchases.

Don't forget that the English version of the famous Oberammergau Passion play will be here Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. From all accounts, this is an excellently staged and movingly effective presentation of the imperishable Christian story.

One of those freakish, but unfortunately not uncommon, mishaps claimed a life in our area last week. Homer Lightfoot died a day later after a TV antennae he was lowering came in contact with a high voltage line. This hazard, along with contacting electric lines

Winter's Sneak Preview Here

Big Springers got a sneak preview of winter weather Saturday and warm-weather wear in evidence indicated that the picture was a little on the raw side. A similar reel faces residents today.

The mercury barely struggled past the low degree mark of 46 early Saturday morning. The highest reading of the day was 52 degrees, made even chillier by biting winds which roared through the city at velocities ranging from 5 to 25 miles per hour.

Today the temperature should get no higher than 58 degrees, falling to 42 tonight. A brighter day is promised for Monday, however, when the mercury is expected to reach 70 degrees.

Scattered showers and a few thundershowers fell along the coast from Palacios to Brownsville Saturday as a cold front moved southeastward over Texas.

Locker Rooms Raided During Football Game

The Big Spring Steers lost in more than one way Friday night; besides the loss to Midland, the football team lost money and equipment to locker room burglars.

During the gridiron tussle, players' clothing was rifled of about $23, and the school lost $43 worth of new football shoes to the burglars. The shoes were valued at $21.50 a pair.

Police said entry was gained through the locker room's east window. They theorized that the burglars stood atop a car to reach the window.

One other theft was reported to police Friday. Ted Gross, 907 E. 15th, told officers his car was stripped of its hub caps.

Of Course, They Are Only Joking

But Doug Orme (left), chairman of the big gifts division, and Bruce Dunn, chairman of the public employes division, have engaged in a friendly rivalry all week for the lead in the current United Fund campaign. Floyd Parsons, campaign chairman, stood between them just to make sure the rivalry was still friendly. On Thursday's report, Orme's division held a slight lead in the drive. But after Friday's report meeting, Dunn's division had slipped back into the top spot. Daily meetings of the divisions will begin Monday and a continuing see-saw rivalry is expected to include more than these two divisions during the closing days of the drive.

United Fund Drive Pushes Across 80 Per Cent Mark

United Fund workers Friday pushed their campaign past the 80 per cent mark and headed into the homestretch Saturday.

Division leaders decided to hold daily report meetings for the balance of the campaign as Randall Polk, president, urged workers to turn in their contact cards and pledges as quickly as they are completed.

"We are still 11 days ahead of last year's campaign," he added, "with $78,968.11 already in." This is 80.4 per cent of the $98,210 goal.

DUNN'S DIVISION

Following Friday's special report, Bruce Dunn's public employe's division pulled into the lead again in a rivalry that began earlier last week. Dunn's division and Doug Orme's big gifts division fought a see-saw battle all week for the lead among the divisions.

With a report of $1,007.50, Dunn's workers pulled within 86.3 per cent of their goal and a total collection of $15,528.13. Orme's division reported in with $200, pushing their total to $35,242.50 which is 83.9 per cent of its goal.

The biggest collection Friday was by workers in the employes division. There was $1,184.80 turned in to raise the division's collection to $14,397.98 which is 62.6 per cent of its goal. The special gifts division, headed by Larson Lloyd, has 59.9 per cent of its goal with a $155 report Friday and total report of $8,964.

The metropolitan division, chairmen Mrs. O. S. Womack and James M. Hardy, had a $118.50 report Friday to increase its total to $4,020.50, 80.4 per cent of the division goal. John Currie's out-of-town division still has 35.2 per cent of its goal.

ONE COMPLETE

A survey of the public employes division indicates the school section is the only one complete. Shooting at a goal of $2,750, the teachers and youngsters gave $3,332.75 to exceed the goal and finish with 121 per cent.

In the city section, the police department went over its goal of $275 with a pledge of $277 for 101 per cent. The fire department passed its goal of $200 with $224 for 112 per cent. The administration offices are not completed and has 66 per cent with $742.50 collected of the $1,125 goal.

In the county section, Howard County Junior College completed its drive with 80.5 per cent of the goal met. The total was $474 of a $590 goal. County administration is still working, with $418.50 collected toward the $800 goal for 52.4 per cent.

INCOMPLETE

All other sections are incomplete. In the state section, the State Hospital has $810 in hand toward the $1,040 goal for 77.9 per cent. Administrative offices have collected $77 toward the $320 goal for 24.1 per cent.

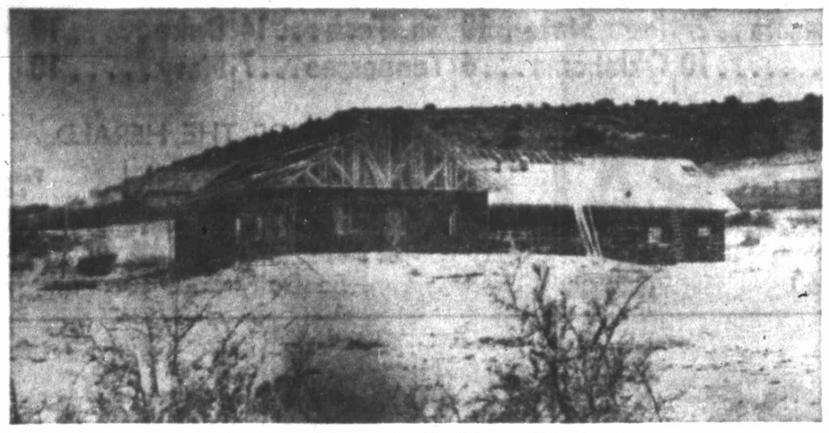

In the federal section, the VA Hospital has 95.5 per cent of its goal with $1,193.79 toward the $1,250 goal. The administrative offices have 14.8 per cent of their goal with $96 in of the $650 goal.

Webb AFB has reported in with 87.6 per cent of its goal, a total of $7,892.50 toward the $9,000 goal.

CHALLENGE

The goal total for the division was $18,000 and $15,528.13 has been reported. In the opening days of the drive, Webb AFB officials issued a challenge to the other sections. They promised to get half of the goal if other sections would tackle the remainder.

The challenge was accepted and current figures indicate the race will be close. The other sections have collected $7,635.63 for 84.9 per cent, just a shade behind the Air Force figure. Both sides are working right down to the wire in this rivalry.

New Church Taking Shape

Workmen are rushing construction on the Kentwood Methodist Church, located near a portion of South Mountain in the Kentwood Addition. Although it won't be wholly complete, the building is scheduled to be far enough along for first services to be held there a week from today. The Rev. C. W. Parmenter is pastor of this newest congregation here.

Crews Work At Building Record

Crews are working rapidly with the target goal of getting the Kentwood Methodist Church into the first element of its new plant a week from today.

If they succeed, this will establish some sort of building record in these parts. The project was started in the Kentwood addition in southeast Big Spring a fortnight ago.

"This morning's worship is to be our last service in our temporary meeting place at 10th and Main," the Rev. C. W. Parmenter, pastor, said. The congregation will miss the evening worship and hopes to be inside the fellowship hall of the new church for the morning worship on Nov. 13.

Kentwood Methodist, the city's newest congregation, is erecting the first two of six elements of the eventual plant. This includes a 68 x 34 fellowship hall, which will serve in the initial stages as the sanctuary. In addition there will be a 20x30 kitchen, plus an addition containing seven classrooms plus two restrooms.

The portion now under construction is the fellowship hall. Although the brick work will still have to be done, officials hope that the interior will be in shape for the initial services. When this is virtually completed, the classrooms and kitchen will be added. The fellowship hall will have its heating apparatus installed so that weather will not be a barrier to worship.

Fred Whitaker is building the structure for the congregation.

Sgt. Slusser Goes To Germany

T. Sgt. John W. Slusser, a F-102 crew chief in the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron, left Webb AFB last week for an assignment at Hahn AFB, Germany.

Sgt. Slusser joined the service in January, 1951, and joined the 331st at Stewart AFB, New York, in 1953. He came to Webb with the squadron in August, 1958.

Soviet 'Ready' For 'Aggression'

LONDON (AP)—Soviet defenses were brought into a state of "combat readiness" during recent NATO exercises off Greece and Turkey and the sailing of U.S. warships to Turkey, the Soviet army newspaper Red Star has reported.

"The adventurers of the Pentagon were warned that, in the event of aggressive activities, they would be dealt a decisive rebuff," the paper added.

Baptists Reaffirm Church, State View

TYLER (AP) — A resolution endorsing the principle of separation of church and state was passed at the closing session of the Baptist Missionary Association of Texas Friday.

The convention turned down a proposal, made by J. B. Vickery of Lubbock, which called for construction of a home for the aged after an investigation showed if federal funds could be obtained.

The Rev. D. L. Wiley of Dallas said the motion "would violate our principle of church and state."

A five-man board was named to study the proposed home.

Tonsilitis Leads Disease Reports

Tonsilities led the number of communicable disease cases in Big Spring last week with 52 cases. Following close behind were diarrhrea and flu with 45 and 42 cases reported.

Other diseases reported were gastro enteritis, 23; impetigo and gonorrhea, 5 each; bronchial pneumonia, 3; and syphilis and virus, 2 each.

Information Sought On Family Of Mishap Victim

Information is being sought concerning any relatives who may survive Joe Dunn, a former resident here who was killed in a car mishap October 26.

Mr. Dunn, 59, met death when his car overturned near Truth or Consequences, N. M. Efforts of authorities there to locate relatives have been unavailing, and burial was made at Truth or Consequences.

However, it was known that Mr. Dunn formerly was in Big Spring, and the sheriff at Truth or Consequences has continued to try to find relatives. He contacted Denver Dunn (no kin) in his search, and the Big Spring man has tried to help.

The local Dunn said he would appreciate being contacted at Smith Construction Co., 611 Main, AM 4-5086, if anyone has information about Joe Dunn's family.

The deceased worked here in 1958 as a driver for the Cotton Growers Association, hauling Mexican Nationals to and from the border. Several people here remember him, but do not know anything about his family.

TV Leads Pair To Death Fight

PAMPA (AP) — A 19-year-old Pampa youth, recently discharged from the Air Force was charged with murder Friday in the fatal shooting of his step - father following an argument over television.

James Ellis told Sheriff Ruff Jordan that he and his stepfather, Hugh Worthington, 49, grappled Thursday night after the older man had repeatedly complained about Ellis's watching television.

Police said the younger man, worked free from his stepfather's grasp and went into a bedroom and Worthington followed. Ellis said he fired five shots when the older man started to throw a record player at him.

He Couldn't Beat Laws Of Chance

DETROIT (AP)—William Bunyak, 60, ticketed for jaywalking Sept. 10, was to appear in traffic court Thursday, but failed to show up.

AACS Record Setters

Webb Groundmen Set AACS Record

Nine of the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron's F-102 jet fighters, valued at $10,703,313, were saved in a 41 minute period during Operation Sky Shield in September by the teamwork of three members of the 2010th AACS Detachment at Webb AFB.

This action by T. Sgt. Robert D. Crawford, T. Sgt. Paul S. Rocco and Airman 1.C. Joseph E. Bek, set a new AACS world record. Previous record holder was the 1992nd AACS Squadron at Chateaurous, France. Two controllers of that unit saved six aircraft valued at nearly $15,000,000 in a seven-hour period last November.

The Webb action started when Airman Bek, surveillance controller during the operation, identified 331st aircraft coming in from different directions, and brought them to a point where, Sgt. Rocco final controller, positively identified them.

Eight of the F-102s were only equipped with TACAN (Tactical Air Navigation.) Problems for the men on the ground mounted when Webb's TACAN unit became inoperative before any of the aircraft were ready. At the same time the weather reached below minimum, and with planes low on fuel, landing elsewhere was out of the question.

To complicate matters, one VOR (VHF Omni Range) equipped aircraft was forced to land.

T. Sgt. Crawford, GCA coordinator, along with Sgt. Rocco and Airman Bek, started recovering the aircraft. But by the time two aircraft had landed, the final approach equipment became inoperative. Airman Bek took over final control of the aircraft until it could be returned to operation.

During this time a wingman lost his leader and broke away from the pattern. Seconds later one of the aircraft initiated a missed approach procedure. With all these induced problems, the three men maintained control without lapsing into confusion to recover all aircraft safely in a minimum of time.

In a letter to Chief Warrent Officer (CWO) William C. Boyer Jr., AACS Detachment Commander, Lt. Col. Dick M. Crowell, 331st Commander, said:

"The state of proficiency and the professional manner of self-discipline displayed by the team, is one of the most impressive I have witnessed . . . . As commander of the 331st, I wish to express my appreciation and that of the unit, to the AACS Detachment at Webb for an outstanding job."

West Texas Retirement Center

Angelo Developing Retirement Center

SAN ANGELO — Inquiries from retired persons and those soon to retire have been pouring into the Rio Concho Manor office following announcement of plans to establish a $6-million retirement center here.

A community-sponsored project enrolling such centers in Florida, California and Oregon, the state-chartered non-profit corporation is headed by Clarence Terrill, San Angelo manufacturer as executive committee of civic leaders and a broader board of trustees.

Construction will be started as soon as 200 tenant applications have been approved. Some 300 apartments would be provided in the initial center. Space is contemplated on the 40-acre tract for up to 400 additional apartments.

INQUIRIES

"We have inquiries already from all over Texas and over much of the nation, including Florida and California," said Col. J. M. Piner, retired Army officer who, with fellow members of the Mid-West Texas Retired Officers Association, initiated the project.

"San Angelo's high, dry equable climate, famous 'most miles of running streams' and $50-million group of resort lakes at the city outskirts," Col. Piner said, "Provide an ideal setting for this project offering lifetime contentment in country club luxury at a cost far below comparable living arrangements."

As the first applicants (A. W. McMillan of San Angelo and L. T. Boynton, retired Midland map company owner) filed for tenant-owner contracts, corporation vice president Col. Robert H. Augustus (commanding officer of Goodfellow Air Force Base who plans ultimately to retire in San Angelo) predicted: "We probably will have the minimum signup of applicants in short order to warrant an early start of construction. In fact, we're pushing plans now for the second unit."

The site includes both high ground and lower park areas now safe for development with $15-million North Concho Lake and $20-million Three Rivers Lake (the latter under construction) providing complete flood control protection. The tract is just three blocks from San Angelo's downtown business district and across the North Concho River from Riverside Drive and City Park.

LAKE FRONTAGE

The Manor corporation, aside from its own half-mile frontage on a two-river downtown lake and its own excavated on-site lake, has been pledged a choice shoreline resort tract on constant-level Lake Nasworthy below the Three Rivers Lake to be completed in about three years.

San Angelo civic leaders and architects studied other retirement projects before meeting on the local project. The international multi-million Williamette Manor project in Portland, Ore., a spectacular success, was studied as a basic model for design and operating plan.

"Our Rio Concho Manor," Col. Piner said, "will have more to offer for better living than any retirement center we have seen or even heard about."

Interested persons or future retirees over 50 can obtain a brochure and further information on the Rio Concho Manor project by writing Col. Piner at 805 San Angelo National Bank Building here.

range from $1,000 to $20,000 with all meals and services, including hospitalization and medical care provided under a $125 month fee. Officers, auditorium, hospital and dining room would center T-shaped building overlooking project's own 40-acre riverside park site three blocks from downtown San Angelo.

KIND BUT FIRM

Paul E. Rogers will continue to preach in our fall revival until next Thursday. His sermons are very instructive and are being well received. You will appreciate his kind, but uncompromising way of preaching the Word of God. Attend all the services that remain in this series, and you will have but one regret; you will be sorry you did not start earlier and hear every sermon. Today's subjects: "How to Build A Strong Congregation" (10:30 a.m.) and "To Every Man His Work."
The Church of Christ, West Highway 80, welcomes you.—Adv.

Republican Pennsylvania Question Mark This Year

Editor's Note: This is the sixth and last story exploring how the Big Six states — the ones that swing a hefty total of 185 electoral votes — might jump in next Tuesday's presidential election.

By JAMES E. WALTERS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Democrats have carried Pennsylvania in a presidential election only four times in the last 100 years. But both the Democrats and Republicans obviously feel it could happen for a fifth time next Tuesday —and this despite President Eisenhower's winning margin of more than 600,000 in 1956.

Why the abrupt flip-flop? Many things, of course, but basically the Democratic candidate—Sen. John F. Kennedy—has three things going for him in his drive for the state's 32 electoral votes:

(1) All-out backing from the big city machines in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh and from the Democratic state administration; (2) economically depressed conditions in the coal mines, railroads and steel mills of this highly industralized state and (3) a Democratic edge in registration (by about 3,000 out of a little more than five million voters) for the first time in Pennsylvania history.

POPULAR IN COUNTIES

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, on the other hand, is immensely popular outside the larger cities. Most observers concede he will win possibly 55 of the state's 67 counties, but the question is whether this largely rural and suburban vote can offset Kennedy majorities of perhaps 180,000 in Philadelphia and 75,000 in Pittsburgh.

In the background, of course, is Kennedy's religion. About 3 out of every 10 Pennsylvania adults are Roman Catholic. This, without question, will help Kennedy, but whether enough to offset anti-Catholic feeling in largely Protestant areas is a big imponderable.

Many Mennonites and Amishmen usually consider casting a vote as too wordly; a sin. Yet in the Pennsylvania Dutch country, which forms a half moon around Philadelphia, it has become common to see Amish and Mennonites wearing Nixon buttons. In Lancaster County, for example, the Republicans' lead jumped 13,000 and now is 53,000. Another factor: Nixon's mother is from the Pennsylvania Dutch country and he is a Quaker.

TOSS-UP

That both Nixon and Kennedy figure the state's 32 electoral votes a toss-up is shown by the time they were here during the campaign. They and their running mates between them spent all or part of 30 days campaigning in Pennsylvania. The Republicans also twice sent in President Eisenhower, the gentleman farmer from Gettysburg, Pa., while the Democrats used former President Truman and Adlai Stevenson.

Both Nixon and Kennedy drew immense crowds, in rain and sunshine.

In 1952, Eisenhower defeated Stevenson in this state by 2,415,789 to 2,146,269. In 1956 it was 2,585,252 to 1,981,769. Franklin D. Roosevelt carried the state three times. Woodrow Wilson in 1912 was the other Democratic winner. On the other hand, Al Smith, a Catholic and the Democratic candidate in 1928, lost to Herbert Hoover by almost a million votes.

CATHOLIC CAN WIN

That a Catholic can win a statewide race in Pennsylvania, however, was demonstrated for the first time in 1958 when David L. Lawrence, long mayor of Pittsburgh, won the governorship by 77,000 votes while the incumbent governor, George Leader, a Democrat, lost a bid to the U.S. Senate by 112,000 votes to Hugh Scott.

Lawrence's edge in Philadelphia alone was about 175,000 and Stevenson carried the city by 160,000 once and 123,000 the second time. Thus the key to Kennedy's chances seems to lie in the size of the Philadelphia majority. City Democratic Chairman William J. Green Jr. is predicting a margin of 250,000 in this once Republican stronghold.

Wilbur Hamilton, Philadelphia's Republican chairman, calls the 250,000 figure ridiculous, saying it won't be more than 140,000—if that much. And the state Republican chairman, George Bloom, predicts the Republicans will pile up a bigger majority in the counties around Philadelphia than the Democrats can do inside the city. As for Lawrence, the state's national committeeman, he said after touring with Kennedy that the senator will carry Pennsylvania even without a whopping majority in Philadelphia, which casts one-fifth the state's vote.

JOBS ISSUE

The unemployment issue hurt Nixon in many areas. Altoona, Pittsburgh, Hazleton, Scranton, Allentown, Philadelphia and other urban areas have large pockets of unemployment.

In the eastern hard coal fields, in particular, thousands of miners are out of work; their coal jobs apparently gone forever with the closing of anthracite mines. Kennedy hammered hard at President Eisenhower's vetos of aid-to-depressed area bills, while Nixon defended the vetos by saying the Democratic Congress passed bills it knew the President would have to veto.

There have been no statewide polls by newspapers, but some area polls have been taken. These polls generally have indicated past voting patterns will be followed, although Democratic strength showed increases.

Shakespeare's Mask Is Bought

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) —The Hesse provincial library has acquired what it believes to be William Shakespeare's death mask.

The library bought the mask at auction for $10,948 from a Heidelberg art dealer who said a German tourist got it in England in the 18th Century.

German artists have long used the mask as a model for paintings of Shakespeare. Engraved inside the mask is 1616, the year the English dramatist died.

Mrs. Hart's Work Displayed

Paintings of Mrs. Alyce Hart of Lamesa will hang during November in the library of Howard County Junior College.

Today, Mrs. Hart will be honored at an open house between the hours of 3 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. at the college library, said Paul Vagt, librarian. She will project colored slides of other of her paintings, including her monumental work on the visions from the Book of the Revelation.

Of the 30 paintings which will be on display, there is an extensive variety but many are in the area of West Texas scenes. A few are of a religious nature, a type of painting in which many of Mrs. Hart's best known works are grouped.

A native of Terrell County, where she was born on a ranch, Mrs. Hart has lived most other life in this portion of West Texas. Quite a number of years ago she studied under Mrs. E. H. Happell in Big Spring.

Aside from today, the paintings will be on display during the regular day and evening schedule of college, said Vagt. He urged the public to inspect the works, which are done in oil.

Percentage Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The percentage of Negroes in public schools of the District of Columbia has increased this fall to a record 79.9 per cent, Supt. Carl F. Hansen has reported. Last year's Negro enrollment totaled 76.7 per cent and, in 1958-59, the system's Negro population was 74.1 per cent.

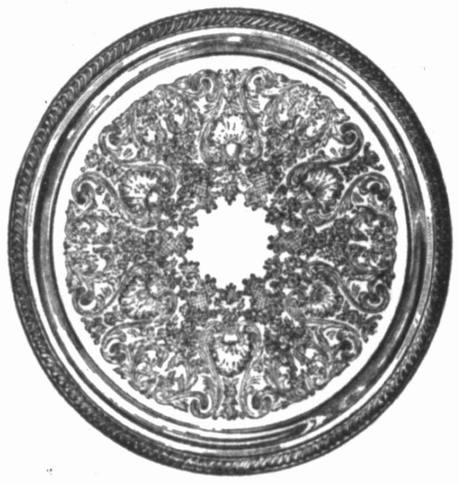

Sheriff Buys One

Sheriff Miller Harris was one of the hundreds of Big Springers who purchased poppies in Big Spring Saturday. Mrs. Zelda M. Rea, president of the sponsoring American Legion Auxiliary, pinned on his poppy as Joe Pendleton, commander of the Legion post here, looked on. Proceeds from the annual sale are used to assist veterans and their families across the nation. Disabled veterans make the poppies.

Houston Election Creates Interest

By CHARLES H. GREEN

HOUSTON (AP)—A local election Nov. 8 has stirred more than usual interest. Some say it's the strangest election they have seen.

Four places are open on the Houston Board of Education and 27 candidates seek those spots.

The 27 include two Negroes, two Latin Americans, three ministers and several persons with doctor's degrees.

The conservatives, backed by the Committee for Sound American Education, have 12 planks. One is to continue the token integration policy adopted — under federal court order after many appeals —by the majority of the board this summer. The four conservatives say they will fight against federal aid to schools—meaning, in this case, assistance in a free lunch program and aid to buy equipment for science classes.

The liberals say the federal court order means more than token integration. They say they are "committed to the patient, quiet execution of the court order."

The independent moderates, who say they aren't really a slate, want to end factionalism on the board.

Supt. John McFarland found his administration had become an election issue when it became known that the leaders of the conservative group questioned several candidates on their feeling about renewing McFarland's contract.

Two of the candidates are board members. Mrs. Frank Dyer, one of the five-members who favored segregation, is seeking re-election. Joe Butler, appointed to the board in September, is running for a full term.

Dr. Henry Petersen, board president and a board member for 22 years, is not running.

Stone Wells, another member of the majority, is not running.

Mrs. Bertie Maughmer, who was no-billed on an assault to murder charge after her husband was shot, resigned from the board in September.

The board already has one Negro member, Mrs. Charles White.

Market Stages Small Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market this week staged a surprising pre-election rally, making its best advance in five months.

A moderate but increasingly steady flow of investment funds into the market boosted a good assortment of blue chips and turned some of them into volume leaders.

Early in the week, Wall Street appeared to take solid satisfaction from news that the Pentagon had approved an enlarged program for the B70 supersonic bomber and by word that General Motors plans to spend $1.25 billion on plant, machinery and tooling in 1961.

School Tax Payments Gain

Collections on the current roll continued to gain during the past week for the Big Spring Independent School District. Sixty-five per cent of the roll has been paid.

A considerable volume of payments by mail has not yet been worked, and J. O. Hagood, assessor-collector, assured taxpayers that they would be receiving receipts on their payments within the next few days.

"We hope to have most of this cleared out within the next few days," he said.

Current collections of $667,604.34 include $536,518.02 for local maintenance (operational) and interest and sinking fund (debt service) $117,772.21. The 2 per cent discount allowed for October payments amounted to $13,314.11 so far. They account for 65.5 per cent.

Delinquent collections amounted to $3,762.19 and miscellaneous fees $37.40, for a grand total of $671,404.03 this fiscal year.

The district allowed only two per cent discount for the October payments and there is no discount for subsequent months before deadline time, Jan. 31, 1961.

FENCING INSTRUCTOR
Class meets Tuesday at YMCA

Fencing Added To Y Program

A new activity in the physical education program of the Big Spring YMCA will get under way Tuesday.

Carl Mangum, a state hospital employe, will hold the organizational meeting for a fencing program. The meeting is slated for 8 p.m. and will be limited to adults.

Mangum said the first class will run about 10 weeks, meeting twice weekly on Tuesdays and Thursdays. He urged all interested Big Springers to join his group.

Joe Leach, physical education director, explained that the YMCA would furnish equipment for the program. He added that the program will enhance the Y's physical education program.

Mangum is a graduate of TCU and is currently director of recreational therapy at the state hospital here. He was a member of the TCU fencing team and holds a first place award from a fencing tournament in which he was entered. He also lettered in fencing.

He has taught tumbling and gymnastics and, in high school, was president of the Gym Leaders Club.

The instructor is enthusiastic over the new program and promises students he will cover the French terminology of fencing as well as the footwork and swordplay.

Fugitive's Luck Finally Runs Out

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The luck of fugitive Robert William Schultz ran out after he avoided detection in a traffic arrest.

FBI agents seized Schultz — on their list of 10 most wanted fugitives—Friday night at an Orlando hotel.

Only a few days before, agents said, the escaped bank robber was stopped in northwest Florida for lack of a driving license and was allowed to post $25 bond, unrecognized although he gave his right name.

Schultz, 38, fled the Sandstone, Minn., federal prison last Sept. 16. He had been serving an eight-year term for attempted robbery of a Knowles, Wis., bank.

W. Texas Cities To Vote On Water

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly a dozen West Texas and Panhandle cities vote Nov. 22 on whether to join with the government in construction of the long proposed reservoir and aqueduct system in the Canadian River watershed.

Almost a decade has passed since Congress authorized the project. Nothing has been appropriated for construction — partly because the Korean War suspended starts on such work and partly because the communities had hoped to finance it themselves without federal strings.

Involved are these communities: Borger, Pampa, Amarillo, Plainview, Lubbock, Slaton, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Lamesa, Levelland, and Brownfield.

The localities compose a group known as the Canadian River Municipal Authority. They are to vote individually on whether to bind themselves through the CRMWA for repayment of their respective share of the $92,960,000 (M) construction costs over a 50-year period.

Reps. George Mahon of Lubbock and Walter Rogers of Pampa have recently conferred with Reclamation Commissioner Floyd E. Dominy on the matter.

The legislation authorizing the project became law Dec. 29, 1950.

The dam and reservoir would be near Sanford, a neighboring town to Borger. The present estimated cost of the project is $96,090,000. But about 4 million of that would not be repaid to the government because of such features as flood control and value to fish and wildlife. The cost of the pipeline system to the 11 cities is estimated at close to $65 million.

The proposed repayment contract is the largest of its kind in the history of the Reclamation Bureau. Also, it is one of the few ever considered that deals almost exclusively with municipal water supply.

Should the Texas municipalities agree to finance the project through federal aid, then they would be going back to the financing method contemplated under the original authorization act.

The act authorized the Reclamation Bureau to enter into agreement with an agency composed of the interested cities. A hitch developed when the Texas legislature, in creating the Canadian River municipal authority, specified that title to the project be transfered to the state agency when the government recovered its costs with interest.

The Reclamation Bureau, a unit of the Interior Department, said it had no authority to accept such a stipulation. The title would have to remain with the Bureau, it said.

Years of delay followed as the municipalities unsuccessfuly sought to borrow money from large New York bonding houses. The bankers and the cities could not agree on rates and the size of a loan.

Bandit Robs Bank Of $2,000

THORNTON, Tex. (AP) — A stocky bandit, acting with deliberate precision, robbed the First State Bank here in East Central Texas of about $2,000 Saturday.

He escaped after locking bank president Jack Barnett and two women employes in a vault. They were freed within a few minutes.

"We're still so nervous it's hard to tell what happened," Barnett said a short time later. He said the $2,000 loss was "a very rough estimate—we're still making a check."

State police quickly set up road blocks around Thornton, which is 45 miles east-southeast of Waco.

"He was a little, short fellow—about 5 feet 7, stocky and sallow faced," Barnett related. "He came in about 12:15 carrying a short sack to put the money in. I don't know what kind of gun he had — it was some kind of snub-nosed pistol."

Herded into the vault with the bank president were his wife, Mrs. Lorene Barnett, and another employe, Mrs. Lois Jackson.

Police broadcasts reported the man wore dark glasses and a leather jacket, and apparently changed from a cap to a hat after entering a getaway car.

Church Oppressed

VATICAN CITY (AP)—L'Osservatore Romano said Saturday the Roman Catholic Church in Hungary today—four years after the Hungarian revolt against Communist authorities—continues to be oppressed. The authoritative Vatican newspaper said Hungarians "know very well the reality that oppresses them, and know all its bitterness and servitude."

Mullet, Grass Crop Sought In Lake Test

PORT ARANSAS (AP) — Ponds diked off from the Laguna Madre Nueces and Redfish bays may be used to raise mullet for human consumption and turtle grass for cattle food if plans laid by University of Texas scientist in cooperation with others from the Game Commission prove successful.

Dr. Howard T. Odum, director of the University's Institute of Marine Science here, said the project envisions 9 ponds of 25 acres each, three in the Laguna and three in each of the other bays, to take advantage of varing salinities.

In the Laguna ponds, raising brown shrimp and mullet would be tested; in Redfish Bay, Odum and his associates plas to raise turtle grass for cattle food; and in Nueces Bay they envision cultivation of clams and oysters.

Odum pointed out that mullet are used as food in many places although never popular on the Texas coast, and gave a figure of 150 pounds of mullet per year as now being produced in the Laguna Madre. Successful ponds, he said, would probably raise this figure to 1,000 pounds per acre annually.

Besides being used as food for humans, Dr. Odum said, the mullet could be used for canned cat food. The brown shrimp, if it is possible to raise them, could be used as bait.

Diligently Pray For The Work of Your Church

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

It's hard for grownups to grasp what it means to be a child today! We grew up yesterday. The planes and radios which had startled our parents were commonplace to us. Television and jets we could take in stride. But Space! Who among us expected to live in a Buck Rogers era?

Yet to our youngsters nothing seems more natural than man's invasion of the universe. Everything that went before was preparation. We are ready to blast off. And the man who will establish our first colony on Mars is probably training for his mission in a sixth grade classroom . . .

Was there ever a time when religious, moral and spiritual development were more essential to our youth? The Truth man will cherish on Earth, and carry with him among the stars, is being taught every Sunday in our churches. Is your child . . . and the home in which he is growing up . . . FIT FOR THE AGE?

Creator Of A Million Laughs, Mack Sennett, Dies Saturday

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mack Sennett, 76, the producer who gave the world a thousand pictures and a million laughs, died Saturday.

Sennett — the brain behind the brainless Keystone Cops, the first man to capture the genius of Charlie Chaplin with a camera, the slapstick merchant who made throwing pies look more enjoyable than eating them — passed away at the Motion Picture Country Home in nearby Woodland Hills. He had been ill a long time.

Sennett, who discovered perhaps more talent than anyone before or after him, underwent surgery for a kidney disorder a year ago. Friday he had another operation and appeared to be recovering nicely.

His agent, Reece Halsey, said Sennett was dictating the plot for a Broadway play a half-hour before he was wheeled into the operating room.

Sennett had lived in retirement in Hollywood many years before entering the home. He made his last picture about 25 years ago. The advent of the double-feature had diminished the need for two-reel comedies and the arrival of sound turned the emphasis in Hollywood to serious subjects.

But while he worked, he worked at the faster-than-life pace of the frantic characters in his speeded-up films. Sennett produced almost exactly 1,000 movies, dozens involving the improbable adventures of those cockeyed constables, the Keystone Cops.

MACK SENNETT

Sennett, whose comedic genius functioned behind a gruff facade, also brought to the screen the portly figure of the great W. C. Fields and the more delightful figures of his famous bathing beauties.

Among others on the vast roster of stars who appeared in early Sennett films: Wallace Beery, Gloria Swanson, Harold Lloyd, Buster Keaton, Marie Dressler, Hal Roach, Eddie Foy, Louise Fazenda and Bebe Daniels. In his later films were such stars as Bing Crosby and the late Carole Lombard.

In uniform as Keystone Cops were Charlie Chase, Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, Billy Gilbert, Slim Summerville, Edgar Kennedy and Ben Turpin.

There have been various calculations as to Sennett's age, but the International Motion Picture Almanac gives 1884 as the year of his birth.

He was born in Denville, Quebec, and his real name was Michael Sinnott. In 1906, after the family had moved to Connecticut, he changed his name and took a fling at the Broadway stage.

He landed several bit parts, appeared in some musical comedies and operettas. In 1909 he entered the infant motion picture industry at Biograph Studios in New York. He was a student of D. W. Griffith and came to California with him in 1910 as a director. Later he organized his own company in New York and moved it to Los Angeles. He appeared in some of his own early films.

Mrs. Kennedy Greets Nixons

On hand to greet Vice President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon on their arrival at Amon Carter Field, Fort Worth, was Mrs. Joseph Kennedy, second from right, who presented Mrs. Nixon with a bouquet of roses. Mrs. Kennedy — no relation to the Democratic Kennedys — is the wife of a Fort Worth geologist and a Republican. At right is John Tower, of Wichita Falls, who is running for the U.S. Senate on the Republican ticket, seeking the seat now held by Sen. Lyndon Johnson. (AP Wirephoto.)

Pollsters Are Not Agreed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pollsters entered the final pre-election weekend Saturday still not agreeing on John Q. Public's preference for the next occupant of the White House.

Elmo Roper concluded from his latest figures that neither Democrat John F. Kennedy nor Republican Richard M. Nixon has a clear lead in the presidential race.

The undecided vote, he said, "could make an Electoral College landslide either way."

George Gallup said his latest nationwide pulsetaking showed a dramatic shift toward the Democratic slate in the campaign homestretch. Surveys published by three national magazines this week found Kennedy ahead.

Nixon came out in front in two polls of newspaper executives published during the week. A third saw Kennedy leading.

Time, U. S. News and World Report and Newsweek magazines all reported Kennedy ahead in enough states to put him over the 269 electoral vote minimum needed to win the presidency.

Publishers' Auxiliary, a weekly trade newspaper, reported weekly newspaper editors and publishers responding to its poll believed Nixon would win in what "could be called a near landslide" with 416 electoral votes against 115 for Kennedy.

The American Society of Newspaper Editors published results from a pre-Oct. 20 poll asking each member for a forecast only on his own state. The composite opinion: 314 electoral votes for Nixon, 209 for Kennedy.

Kennedy, Nixon Enter Last Lap Of Campaign Speeches

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy began his home stretch drive for the presidency Saturday night with a pledge of a fighting administration dedicated to laying the foundations for peace "for generations to come."

The Democratic nominee promised "1,000 days of exacting presidential leadership" with a goal of becoming "the commander in chief of the grand alliance for freedom."

Kennedy climaxed a day of strenuous campaigning before cheering crowds in New York with a mammoth party rally in the Coliseum, which followed a colorful torchlight parade. He was accompanied by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, his Texas running mate.

In remarks for the big Coliseum rally, Kennedy struck at both President Eisenhower and Kennedy's presidential rival, Richard M. Nixon.

He did not mention either by name, but he said: "I believe in a president who will formulate and fight for his legislative policies, and not be a casual observer of the legislative process—a president who will not back down under pressure, or let down his spokesmen in the Congress—a president who does not speak from the rear of the battle but who places himself in the thick of the fight."

He also said he wanted to be "a president who believes in working full time when millions of men and women are forced to work part time."

He cracked at Nixon for saying he promised, if elected, to go to Eastern Europe, to perhaps another summit, and to other meetings around the world.

"If I am successful, I am going to Washington, D. C., and get this country to work," Kennedy said.

The Democratic candidate exuded confidence as he declared: "We are not engaged in a name-calling contest—we are not voting for an image—or a team—or a protege. We are chosing a president of the United States."

Should he be elected, Kennedy continued, "I want above all else to be a president known—at the end of four years—as one who not only prevented war but won the peace, as one of whom history might say: He not only laid the foundations for peace in his time but for generations to come as well."

Kennedy proceeded in that vein: "If I am elected next Tuesday, I want to be a president known—at the end of four years—as one who not only held back the Communist tide but advanced the cause of freedom and rebuilt American prestige—not by words but by works; not by stating great aims merely as a good debater but by doing great deeds as a good neighbor; not by tours and conferences abroad, but by vitality and direction at home."

EN ROUTE WITH NIXON (AP) —Flying the last lap of his campaign trail, Vice President Richard M. Nixon Saturday predicted victory in his home state California as he fought hard for its 32 votes.

The GOP presidential candidate got a shouting, singing ovation in San Jose, where thousands massed in that central California city's City-County Building.

Before embarking on his flying California tour from Fresno Saturday morning, Nixon got an optimistic report about his chances of winning New York's 45 electoral votes from Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Nixon's press secretary, Herbert Klein said that for the first time in this campaign Rockefeller flatly predicted New York would go to Nixon.

The vice president then said he is sure California would go Republican. He scoffed at what he said was "an assertion by my opponent that California is in the bag for the Democrats." California's 7,464,626 voters registered 3-2 Democratic.

Nixon started the final weekend of his campaign under rainy skies. He and newsmen boarded jets and flew across the broad rich lands of central California from Fresno to San Jose on a tight, action-packed schedule climaxed by a TV speech Saturday night from Los Angeles.

Nixon told an airport crowd at San Jose that Friday night's thunderous reception in Fresno, a Democratic stronghold, bolstered his confidence of carrying California. Police estimated the crowd at 15,000.

Sunday Nixon flies from Los Angeles to Alaska, fulfilling a pledge to campaign in all 50 states. Alaska will be the 50th. In Los Angeles, Nixon will tape a half-hour talk for televising Sunday evening.

In San Jose, Nixon spoke to a cheering crowd which police Capt. Edward Praena estimated at 10,000.

"I am getting sick and tired of my opponent going around the country and stating that America is second in education to the Soviet Union," Nixon said in continuing his attack on Sen. John F. Kennedy, his Democratic opponent.

"This is not true," he declared in this college town, and ticked off the names of some of California's outstanding schools.

"I am tremendously impressed with what we are doing in education."

He added that America needs to build on its present program in this field, "and not copy the Soviet Union."

Nixon called for a program of tax reductions or exemptions to help parents finance the higher education of their children. He did not elaborate.

Monday, the final day for campaigning, Nixon will expand his schedule to include a speech in Madison, Wis., and possibly a visit to the Chicago area en route to Detroit.

In another change, Nixon will not participate from the Capitol with President Eisenhower in an election eve nationwide television bid for votes, as planned.

Instead, he will take part in the TV program from Chicago, San Francisco or Los Angeles.

He will vote Tuesday in his hometown of Whittier, Calif.

A new plan designed to get the most mileage out of the courts and jury panel is being tried this week in 118th District Court. While this is primarily a week for civil cases, Judge Ralph Caton has set several criminal matters for the latter part of the week. If one docket collapses, as is so distressingly often the case, perhaps the other one can take up the slack.

Ernest O'Hearne Jr., examiner for the State Bank Commission, is due Nov. 14 for interviews with the officers and directors of the proposed state bank in Coahoma. On the basis of this conference and perhaps more exhaustive interviews, a hearing date may be set on an application for the bank.

It now begins to appear we will have at least an average and perhaps a late frost date. However, we came near to one last Monday with 33 degrees (which means there was actually light frost in places) and 38 on Tuesday. At this stage, a light frost actually could be helpful.

From all accounts, the flower show a week ago was an outstanding event. You've got to hand it to the ladies who go in seriously for garden club work—they steadily are making ours a more attractive city.

Colorado River Municipal Water District officials had a new experience last week. They received a letter from a woman in an area city, enclosing a $10 bill. She had enjoyed fishing at the lake several times—without paying — and her conscience bothered her. She can fish in good conscience next year at Lake J. B. Thomas, for the district is sending her a permit for the $10.

Nixon Forces Stage Caravan

A motorcade of Texans-for-Nixon and Lodge was traveling this section of U. S. 80 Saturday in a motorized rally in the closing days of the election campaign.

The parade of cars started at Odessa, picking up numerical strength in the cities along the route. Big Spring supporters joined the caravan Saturday morning and toured Coahoma and Colorado City.

Brisk temperatures held the numbers down, but enthusiasm of the group was at a high peak as Big Springers joined the troupe here.

Absentee Voting Sets New Record

By MARSHALL COMERER
Associated Press Staff Writer

Absentee voting in Texas for the 1960 presidential election set an all-time record, a survey by The Associated Press showed Saturday.

Using the absentee vote as a guide, a record turnout of 2,500,000 Texans is expected in Tuesday's general election. This would mean about 93 per cent of the 2,700,000 qualified voters would vote.

The current record of 2,084,000 votes was set in 1952, when Texas went Republican and helped elect a native son, Dwight Eisenhower, president over Democrat Adlai Stevenson.

Another native son, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, is the Democratic vice presidential candidate this year.

Absentee voting ended Friday. The upsurge in absentee voting was in sharp contrast to that in the first Democratic primary last May 7, when the absentee vote was about half that cast for the first primary in 1956. Political observers blamed the low absentee vote in May on indifference toward local races and the early primary.

But since last May the Democratic ticket of Sen. John F. Kennedy and Sen. Lyndon Johnson and the Republican slate of Vice President Richard Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge have fought a vigirous campaign. All four candidates have barnstormed the state.

Only this week Kennedy and Nixon visited the state a second time. Johnson is campaigning through Texas in the last five days before the election.

The state's four largest cities showed increases in 1960 absentee voting. Bexar County (San Antonio) was up 73 per cent, Harris (Houston) 43, Dallas 31 and Tarrant (Fort Worth) 10 per cent.

Bexar County was expected to cast 130,000 votes next Tuesday, Harris 300,000, Dallas 230,000 and Tarrant 136,000.

Webb County showed the highest rate of increase in absentee voting, 147 per cent over 1956. Taylor County was up 114 per cent and Hidalgo 73 per cent.

Hunt was the only county surveyed by The Associated Press that showed a drop in absentee voting — 300 this year compared to 414 in 1956. County Clerk Bloom Johnson blamed the drop on the new absentee voting law, which required the vote to be notarized. He said voters apparently didn't want to go to that trouble.

Latin American Stabbed Saturday

A 24-year-old Latin American was treated for a minor stab wound he received in the stomach during a scuffle at a Northside cafe early Saturday night.

Joe Ramirez was given emergency treatment and released at the Howard County Hospital Foundation following the incident at the El Toro Cafe, 300 N. Gregg. He told officers he would not press charges against the Latin American who did the stabbing.

Child Injured In Car Wreck

A nine - year old Big Spring boy was hospitalized Saturday afternoon with a severe head cut he received when the pickup truck in which he was riding overturned about 27½ miles northeast of here on the Snyder Highway.

David Lee Wylie, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Wylie, Gail Rt., underwent treatment at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital.

The Wylies were driving northeast when the mishap occurred. A tire blowout was blamed for the accident. The pickup overturned as Mrs. Wylie, driving at the time, applied the brakes, after the tire failure.

Mrs. Wylie received burises and abrasions, and her husband was slightly injured. The couple's two other children, Henry and Grover, escaped injury.

A River ambulance carried the injured boy to the hospital.

Five Minor Wrecks Reported Friday

The one - car crash occurred in the 600 block of E. 3rd, where Charles Raymond Davis, Odessa, rammed into the B&B Grocery, and in the 300 block of N. Bell, where Vollie Calloway Jr., Webb AFB, backed into a utility pole.

A collision at 4th and Bell occurred between Billy Sue Walker, Big Spring, and Jose L. Chavez, Lenorah.

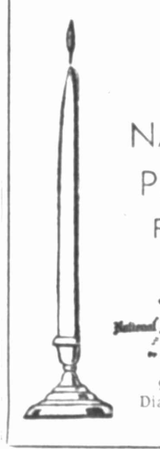

Shirley H. Thomas, 1700 Virginia, and Byron Braxton Smith, 1304 Princeton, were in collision in the 300 block of N. Gregg.

VOTING

polls. Split - ticket balloting could increase the load on counters.

Locally, as well as on a statewide and national basis, the campaign has been vigorously contested. The Democrats, under Frank Hardesty, county Demo executive committee chairman, have operated under one banner.

Republicans, and others operating under the Texans for Nixon title, have joined under the chairmanship of Paul Meek.

This year a third group, the Constitution party, has been plumping for a slate of officers from congressman up. Dr. J. E. Hogan is the county chairman.

Campaign materials have been distributed and plastered over the area; the radio and television lanes have been clogged with speeches, trailers and spots; the newspaper has caught an increasing volume of political advertisements; visiting candidates have been feted at rallies and breakfasts; delegations have been sent to numerous area meetings and welcoming groups where one of the two top men in both tickets have been in the area.

The answer to all of this will begin unfolding Tuesday at 8 a.m. and will be registered by 7 p.m. when the polls close.

Subdivision Ordinance Back On City's Agenda

Big Spring's long awaited subdivision ordinance may be presented for city commission study when that body meets for a regular meeting Tuesday at 5:15 p.m. at city hall.

City Manager A. K. Steinheimer said preparation of the ordinance for the meeting was not assured, but he said he was trying to wrap it up for the commissioners' consideration.

Steinheimer said that the ordinance would follow basically the outline of the present city policy toward subdivisions.

At present, the developer is responsible for furnishing and installing all water and sewer facilities within his subdivision. The developer also paves all streets and constructs all curbs and gutters.

The city does all engineering, design, field staking, inspection and supervision of the subdivision work, and installs all water taps.

The city cost of water taps is a temporary financial burden which the city expects a return on when the house is sold. Currently these taps average about $42 each.

Steinheimer indicated that from the city's standpoint the water tap provision is not advantageous. It means that the city is gambling with the subdivider that the house will be sold, he said.

The subdivider also furnishes the ground survey, leads and valves to all water hydrants, installs minor drainage structures, and installs oversize lines at the city's request. The cost of pipe above necessary size to serve the subdivision is refunded.

The city, on the other hand, furnishes and installs all fire hydrants, provides major drainage structures, all street markers and street lighting, pays paving cost on streets where width exceeds 40 feet, and, in individual cases, makes refunds on extensions of water and sewer where justified.

Other items due to be taken up by the commission include the salvage yard ordinance, and a right-of-way request by Pioneer Natural Gas to construct a high pressure gas line across the city park.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has requested permission to build a concession stand on the Little League ball park at Webb AFB which will be considered, and commissioners will discuss the lease agreement between the city and the federal government for construction of a nuclear fallout shelter at 18th and Main.

Sgt. Kemp Signs Up Again At Webb

With 16 years of active military service behind him, T. Sgt. Foster L. Kemp recently enlisted at Webb AFB to start a tour with the Air Force which will put him past the 20 year mark.

He has been a member of the 3560th Field Maintenance Squadron's airframe repair section since 1958. He served as a rifleman during World War II and saw action with the 78th Division. He also served with the 44th Fighter Wing at Kimpo AB, Korea, and at Misawa AB, Japan, from 1953 to 1955.

His wife, Anna, has been awarded the 1,000 Hour Pin for volunteer work in the Air Force Family Services program. She is active at the Webb Center, and also teaches ceramics.

ART SHOW POSTPONED

The Las Artistas annual sidewalk show was postponed Saturday because of cold and slightly windy weather. Mrs. Anna Bohannon, chairman, said the show probably would be held next Saturday, and that an announcement to that effect may be made Monday or Tuesday.

The show was to have been in celebration of National Art Week.

GARDEN TALK

Solution Said Helpful In Boosting Root Growth

Darrell and Emma Ruth (Stripling) Webb wrote an interesting note the other day. Darrell, who used to live here but is now a pharmacist in Fort Worth sends us this formula for a plant stimulant. Thiamine HCL . . . 100 milligrams add to 100 cubic centimeters of water, and dissolve. This basic solution is added to water at the rate of one drop of thiamine solution to one gallon of water to be used on plants.

This formula is supposed to be helpful in transplanting as it overcomes some of the root shock. In this case it is used at the rate of 60 drops to the gallon of water. Plants are allowed to stand in this solution for 15 minutes before they are transplanted. When used in normal watering at the rate of one drop per gallon of water, this formula is supposed to stimulate root development.

Darrell writes that if I use this information in Garden Talk, I should credit The American Pharmaceutical Association Recipe Book. If you want to try this on some of your plants or shrubs I suggest you see your pharmacist to have him make the solution for you. He is able to compound it accurately. I haven't yet had time to try this myself, so if anyone gets around to it before I do, please let me hear from you as to the results. It is always better to try a thing a number of times and under different conditions. Perhaps this will turn out to be a very important aid in gardening.

It is always a pleasure to hear from you readers and especially when you have ideas to share. Perhaps sharing is one of the greatest rewards in gardening. No one who plants a tree can help but share its beauty and the blessings of its shade, color and fruit with others.

Every patch of lawn or bed of roses is a joy to every eye that chances to look upon it. I never pass Mrs. Johnnie Lane's home on 1604 Nolan but I think how pretty her flowers are; when the iris bloom, I often drive out of my way to go by Mrs. Cliff Wiley's on Eleventh Place to see the bed she planted next to the curb. Washington Boulevard is a joy to see at every season of the year, thanks to the combined efforts of the City Parks Department and of many talented gardeners. The same can be said for hundreds of other homes and streets all over West Texas. This is the reason I am always happy to try to answer your garden questions, because by sharing experiences we all have a prettier world to live in.

Address your garden questions to Bruce Frazier in care of the Big Spring Herald.

October Water Demands Are Up For CRMWD

Despite a wet October, water consumption turned up for the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

O. H. Ivie, assistant general manager - production, reported a 17.5 per cent increase over October of a year ago. This boosted the year's total to 3.6 per cent over the first 10 months of 1959.

The big increase was in municipal consumption, but the oil repressuring demands for surplus water also gained substantially. Member cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder used 505,478,000 gallons, 21.6 per cent over the 415,243,000 gallons of October a year ago. The oil units of SACROC, Sharon Ridge, Lions Oil and Texas Gulf used 225,316,000 gallons against 206,706,000 a year ago, or a gain of 9.2 per cent.

Odessa's figures were 281,456,000 for October against 222,810,000 a year ago. Big Spring 174,155,000 against 148,752,000 and Snyder 49,867,000 against 43,681,000.

The 10 - month total for this year stands at 8,214,000,000 (billion) gallons compared with 7,932,000,000 for the same period in 1959.

October rains, while not dulling demands, brought the blessing of 54,000 additional acre feet, or about 18 billion gallons, more water into Lake J. B. Thomas. Saturday morning the elevation was 2,258.10 which is slightly an inch over spillway. The excess water has been draining through the service spillway for 19 consecutive days.

As Staged by the Oberammergau players

Famous Passion Play Opens Wednesday

One of the greatest human dramas of all time will be the theme at City Auditorium Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The occasion will be the presentation of the Oberammergau Passion Play, which recounts the drama of the last seven days in the life of Christ.

Gilbert Shine, advance agent, has pointed out that all seats are reserved for the play. There has been some misunderstanding on the part of the public, he said, in that some have assumed there would be a reserved seat section in the auditorium, the other seats being on a catch-as-catch-can basis.

But every seat in the house is a reserved seat, Shine stressed.

Shine also asked Big Spring residents for help in providing props.

"What we need," he said, "is five or six long, narrow clay jars, like the ones Arab women carry about on their heads. They must be earthenware."

The jars are to be used in one of the opening scenes, the entry into Jerusalem.

Matinees will be held at 1:30 p.m. and evening performances at 8:15 p.m. daily. Tickets may be bought at the passion play headquarters in the Settles Hotel lobby.

Mexican Planes Still Grounded

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexican de Aviacion's planes were grounded Saturday for the eighth straight day as officials sought to end the week's second labor strike.

Labor Minister Salomon Gonzalez Blanco and his subsecretary, Julio Santoscoy, conferred Friday with leaders of the striking national aviation workers syndicate.

The unions reduced their demands. Leaders said they would agree to a 30 per cent wage increase with the understanding that the company's books be audited, and if the audit showed profits, the raise would be boosted.

The company has claimed it has been operating in the red for four years and cannot afford to pay 2,700 striking ground personnel that much more.

Population Up

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The government says this island nation's population has jumped from 2,553,025 to 4,070,000 since 1955.

14 Civil Cases On Monday Jury Docket

Fourteen civil cases, including two tax suits brought by the city, the schools and the county, are on the docket for trial at the jury session which opens Monday in 118th District Court.

In addition to the 14 civil suits, five criminal cases have been tentatively set on the same docket. These cases are to be handled in the event that civil cases now docketed turn up unready and leave the court and jury panel idle.

100 JURORS

Judge Ralph Caton has ordered a panel of 100 jurors to report to his court at 1:30 p.m. Monday. At 10 a.m., he will sound the civil docket. At that time, it will be definitely ascertained how many civil cases are ready for trial. Since past records show that out of each docket of this nature sounded in the court, a large percentage of the cases planned for trial are declared not ready, dismissed or settled, there is a good probablility not all of the week will be needed to handle the remaining civil matters.

If this develops, the criminal cases which Dist. Atty. Gil Jones has attached to the docket will be called up. Jones and Judge Caton explained that this new plan will help utilize jury panels and reduce the present criminal docket. There are more than the normal number of criminal cases now waiting trial, Jones said, and he hopes by this new method to lessen the number.

NEXT SESSION

It is agreed if the number of civil cases turns out to be sufficient to occupy the court throughout the five days, the criminal cases tentatively added to the list will be continued to the next session.

Judge Caton said it was not possible to determine just how many of the civil matters will be ready for trial until he has sounded the docket. He said he had been advised that a number will not be ready. One or two, he has been told, have been settled; at least one has already been dismissed and there is a possibility others will also be stricken. Some may have to be continued. At least one of those docketed involved a Big Spring attorney who is in the hospital. This case, of course, will be automatically continued.

Inclusion of the two tax suits is something a little new on the district court docket. Usually such cases, when they ever come before the court, do not require a jury. They concern delinquent taxes owed to the city, the schools and other political subdivisions of the county and are part of a large number of such suits lodged in the courts several months ago.

NO MAJOR CHANGE

The plan of adding criminal cases to civil docket lists does not mean that regular jury weeks devoted to criminal matters, will be cancelled. These will be scheduled from time to time as they have in the past.

The panel of jurors to report for duty Monday afternoon is one drawn from the jury wheel. One hundred names were on the original list but a considerable number of these have already been stricken. Judge Caton believes he will have enough jurors when all excuses have been handled and exemptions cleared away to proceed with the docket.

Jurors who may be selected to try cases set for Tuesday have been assured by Judge Caton that they will be provided with opportunity to vote in the general election on that date.

"We'll quit work early enough Tuesday, regardless of what is up, to enable the jurors to get to the polls," said the judge.

3 Children Die In Ohio Fire

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Three children perished early today when fire swept through their frame dwelling on the East Side. A fourth child was burned badly.

Dead were Gregory Gordon, 2, Ricardo, 6, and Belinda, 9, children of Mrs. James Gordon.

Another daughter, Sharon, 3, was taken to suburban Community Hospital, but attendants said she was not responding to oxygen treatment.

The first floor of the two-story house was occupied by Mrs. Gordon, her twin sister and the children. Mrs. Gordon is separated from her husband.

Firemen rescued Katherine Grey, 56, an invalid, from her upstairs apartment.

Irwin Ballich, battalion chief, said the fire started in the living room of the first-floor apartment. He said it appeared to have been started by a careless smoker.

Texas Wins Thriller From Baylor, 12-7

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Statistics of the Texas-Baylor game:

	Texas	Baylor
First downs	11	20
Rushing yardage	203	38
Passing yardage	70	267
Passes	3-7	16-40
Passes intercepted by	2	1
Punts	4-45.2	7-31.6
Fumbles lost	3	1
Yards penalized	45	38

WACO (AP)—The Texas Longhorns, rocking along with a mediocre season, rose up Saturday to tear down Baylor, a national football power, 12-7.

Baylor came back to score with four minutes left in the game. The Bears tallied on a pass from Ronnie Stanley to Ronnie Bull for 22 yards and with 2 minutes 32 seconds left, Baylor started a desperation passing game, but it fell short on fourth down on Texas 37.

Texas thus preserved a mathematical chance for at least a share in the Southwest Conference title with a 3-2 won-lost record. Baylor now also is 3-2. Arkansas' victory over previously unbeaten Rice enhances the chances of both Texas and Baylor for conference honors.

Baylor ranked 11th in the Associated Press poll this week.

Texas got its points with touchdowns in the second and third quarters, one set up by an electrifying run by Jimmy Saxton of 59 yards to the Baylor 12.

From the 12, the Longhorns punched to the 2, where John Cook found a gaping hole and plunged through right tackle almost untouched.

The first Texas score was set up by a 38-yard pass from Mike Cotten to Saxton. David Russell went the final 2 yards to pay dirt.

For a short while in the fourth period, Baylor came alive and played like it did before today's defeat. The scoring pass play was the only one of the series. It was coupled with a penalty against Texas.

Baylor's Larry Corley made the only conversion of the game.

With 2 minutes 32 seconds left in the game, Ronnie Stanley began a passing attack including tosses of 7, 10, 11 and 27 yards. But Texas defenders pulled Stanley to the ground on fourth down on the Texas 37 after the Bears had penetrated to the Steer 27 earlier.

Both teams bounced the ball around like nervous sophomores until a few seconds remained in the first quarter, when Texas got rolling. Texas and Baylor both fumbled at critical points. Texas went to the Baylor 3 that period but couldn't punch over.

Texas has been a spoiler of Baylor for years. For nine of the years when Baylor was rated a national or conference power, Texas has crushed Baylor's chances five of the seasons.

In the fading second of the first period, Cotten passed 38 yards to Saxton on the Baylor 3. Saxton leaped high for the catch and came down in the arms of Richard Gowen and Buddy White. A penalty put the ball on the 2, and Russell scooted round right end for the Texas score two plays into the second quarter. Dan Petty's conversion kick flew wide.

Baylor got no closer to the Texas goal line in the first half than the Texas 30, and crossed the 50-yard stripe on only one series of downs.

The stunning 59-yard run by Saxton set up the second Texas touchdown. He broke around his left end and simply outran a flock of Baylorites in the third period. But Ronnie Goodwin got a grip on Saxton's ankles on the Baylor 12.

Five plays later, John Cook found a wagon-sized hole at right tackle and made the final two yards. A conversion pass attempt failed. The touchdown drive covered 72 yards in seven plays.

Texas held Baylor to a net of 38 yards rushing, but the Bears lost 65 yards mostly trying desperation passes when the quarterbacks had to eat the ball. Texas gained 203 net rushing.

Baylor passed for 267 yards badly outclassing the Steers' 70-yard aerial game.

Signs Going Up

Signs like the one held above by William H. Pratt, game warden, will soon be posted in various places in Howard and Borden counties. They represent areas whose owners have signed contracts with the state of Texas to protect wildlife for a minimum of five years. In effect, the areas are state game preserves. No trespassing or hunting will be allowed in the areas. About 60 deer have been released in the area.

Amerson Pitches Raiders To Upset Over Greenies

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Statistics of the Tulane-Texas Tech game:

	Tulane	Tex Tech
First downs	21	12
Rushing yardage	159	116
Passing yardage	152	191
Passed	14-27	10-18
Passes intercepted by	1	3
Punts	5-35	5-33
Yards penalized	17	76

LUBBOCK (AP)—Strike-throwing Glen Amerson came off the injury list Saturday and hurled three touchdown passes to lead Texas Tech to a 35-21 intersectional upset of Tulane.

Amerson, starting his first game in three weeks and still hampered slightly by a leg injury, hit end Don Waygood with a 37-yard scoring pass on the Raiders' first play from scrimmage, broke a second-period tie with an 8-yarder to halfback Dick Polson and brought Tech from behind with a 16-yard aerial to end Jerry Elbert in the final period.

The 185-pound senior star from Munday, Tex., also kicked three conversions as Tech assured the Southwest Conference of a better-than-ever record in intersectional play.

The fired-up Raiders, trailing 14-13 at the three-quarter mark, ran away with it in the final 15 minutes with a 22-point outburst that sent a Dad's Day crowd of 15,000 home happy.

The climax came when E. J. Holub, the battering-ram center boomed by Tech for all-America honors, intercepted a pass and carried it 28 yards for Tech's final touchdown and the first of the brilliant lineman's college career.

Holub snared the pass with two seconds left as Tulane's smooth-operating quarterback, Phil Nugent, sought desperately to bring the Green Wave from behind for the third time in the game.

Lightning-fast halfback Tommy Mason scored all three Tulane touchdowns—two on the ground and one on a pass from Nugent—and gained 84 yards on 13 carries to run his season total to 493.

Mason grabbed a handoff and burst around right end to the dismay of four Tech defenders for the first Tulane touchdown, slammed outside right tackle to give the Greenies a 14-13 lead with 2:53 left in the third quarter and leaped high in the air to catch a Nugent pass in the 30-yard play that gave Tulane its final tally with 3:15 left in the game.

Third-string quarterback Ted Miller kicked all three Tulane conversions.

Sophomore fullback Coolidge Hunt, who led the Tech rushers with 48 yards on 11 carries, smashed his way to the one yard line and fell across the goal with 5:04 left for the other Tech touchdown.

Hunt dove across the back of Holub for the conversions.

Nugent and Amerson put on a pair of impressive passing shows in the high-scoring contest, Nugent connecting on 14 of 27 for 152 yards and Amerson on 7 of 14 for 138 yards.

Nugent saw three of his passes intercepted, however, while Amerson didn't have a one go into the hands of an opposing player.

An interception led to a touchdown for each side, Tulane's first score coming 11 plays after halfback Terry Terrebone grabbed a pass thrown by Tech quarterback Johnny Lovelace and Tech's final tally coming on Holub's runback of a Nugent aerial.

Waygood, who joined Holub in playing outstanding defensive games for the Raiders, snared two other Nugent tosses.

Notre Dame Irish Suffer Through 6th Loss In Row

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame's proud football history hit a low mark Saturday as Pittsburgh's rugged Panthers, clawing for two third period touchdowns, triumphed 20-13 and anchored the Irish with their longest losing streak in history, six straight.

The previous longest Irish defeat string was five straight, set by the 1956 team which had a 2-8 over-all record. The current Irish (1-6) still have to play Miami of Florida, Iowa and Southern California.

Notre Dame battled desperately and courageously Saturday but Pitt, who last week upended top-ranked Syracuse 10-0 made the most of frequent Irish errors.

The game-turner came in the third period with Pitt leading only 7-0. Panther Fred Cox intercepted George Haffner's pass, streaked 40 yards to the Irish 2 and then bucked over with the second Pitt touchdown.

Still in the third period, the Panthers uncorked a relentless running game to score again as Chuck Reinhold scampered across from the Irish 13. That made it 20-0 for Pitt.

The Irish finally scored with 11 seconds left in the third period on Angelo Dabiero's nine-yard end run. With 3:22 of the game left, the Irish scored again on Haffner's 12-yard shot to end Max Burnell. Pitt scored in the first quarter on Jim Cunningham's 1-foot plunge.

Fem Softballers Lose In Formosa

TAIPEI (AP) — The Orange (Calif.) Lionettes, five times women's softball world champions, lost the first game of a Formosan tour 4-3 to the Formosa All-Stars Saturday.

The Lionettes arrived here only 4½ hours before the seven-inning game began. The All-Star team represented U.S. military forces in Formosa.

Engineers Upset Tennessee, 14-7

ATLANTA (AP)—Georgia Tech used the flying feet of halfbacks Billy Williamson and Chick Graning Saturday to hand once-tied Tennessee its first defeat, 14-7.

Graning raced 16 yards for a touchdown and stumpy 5-foot-9 Williamson returned a kickoff 93 yards for another as Tech dealt the No. 8 ranked team a knockout punch in the first quarter.

A crowd of 45,072, a record for Tech, saw the fired-up Yellow Jackets whip the Tennessee line with superb blocking and dedicated defensive play. Tech line leaders, a vital factor in the bruising Southeastern Conference duel, included tackles Ed Hutting, Billy Shaw and Larry Stallings, ends Butch Carter and guards Hal Ericksen, Dave Watson and Rufus Guthrie.

Tennessee scored its touchdown in the opening quarter on a nine-yard pass from tailback Glenn Glass to wingack Ken Waddell. Waddell returned a Tech kickoff 52 yards to put the Vols in business.

The loss prevented Tennessee from tying Mississippi for the SEC lead. It left the Vols with a 2-1-1 conference record and 5-1-1 over-all. Tech is 5-3 for the season and still faintly hopeful of a bowl invitation.

A 58-yard punt by tailback George Camale curved out of bounds on the 5 and got Tech in the first hole of the day but the inspired Yellow Jackets got out of it with an eventual stand at their 26.

Gophers Roar Past Iowans

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota, redeeming years of humiliation with 60 minutes of savage football, struck down Iowa's No. 1 ranked Hawkeyes 27-10 Saturday and thundered into the forefront of the nation's gridiron powers.

Fullback Roger Hagberg drove Minnesota partisans in the record Memorial Stadium crowd of 65,610 into near hysteria with seven minutes left by steaming 42 yards for the clincher touchdown.

It sealed Minnesota's most glorious football moment in two decades, a victory which shot the unbeaten third-ranked Gophers into the undisputed lead in the Big Ten and stretched their winning streak to seven games.

Minutes after Hagberg scored his game breaker, the Gophers added another touchdown in an almost unbelievable finish to a game that sent Minnesota soaring from the ruins of three consecutive seasons of disaster.

The Gophers ganged Iowa sophomore Matt Szykowny, forcing him to fumble, recovered the ball and boomed Joe Salem over from the 1-yard line for the final touchdown with four minutes left.

Not since 1954 had Minnesota beaten Iowa. Once before in 1956 Minesota's title dream had been wrecked by Iowa, but this time Coach Murray Warmath —the coach they hanged in effigy last year—held the whip hand over his long time master, Iowa's Forrest Evashevski.

With a 4-0 Big Ten record, the Gophers can clinch at least a share of their first conference championship in 19 years by beating either Purdue or Wisconsin.

Porkers At Top Of SW Standings

By The Associated Press

Arkansas moved on top of the Southwest Conference Saturday in a wave of smashing upsets that saw Rice knocked down and Baylor's dreams shattered.

Arkansas beat Rice 3-0 to move into first place with a 4-1 record. Rice fell into second with 3-1.

Baylor took a 12-7 licking from twice-beaten Texas and dropped into fourth place back of idle Texas Christian.

Cyclones Upset Sooners, 10-6

AMES, Iowa (AP) — The Iowa State Cyclones, disdaining a 20-pound weight disadvantage, furiously battled to a 10-6 victory over defending Big Eight football champion Oklahoma Saturday.

Not since 1931 have Iowa State fans been witness to such a Cyclone triumph. That was the last year the Cyclones topped the Sooners.

A vicious defense paved the way for the upset. The winning touchdown came on a 32-yard drive late in the fourth quarter with fullback Tom Watkins getting the score.

Larry Schreiber kicked a 38-yard field goal in the third period, and Cliff Rock booted the unneeded extra point after the touchdown to account for the Iowa State scoring.

Mike McClellan started the Sooners off by scoring at the end of a 71-yard march in the second period, but Oklahoma never again threatened.

The victory touched off a wild celebration on the field by the capacity crowd of 18,000. Coach Clay Stapleton, in his third year here, was carried smiling from the field, and both metal goal posts were quickly demolished.

Sophomore tailback Dave Hoppmann, who left the game injured after a 32-yard run in the opening period, was back in the second half to help lead the Cyclone offense.

The Sooners also gained new respect for Fullback Watkins, the only Cyclone named on Oklahoma's all-opponent team a year ago.

Wildcats Hammer Wisconsin, 21-0

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Northwestern unleashed a brusing ground attack for three first half touchdowns and bottled up Wisconsin's vaunted passing game in rolling over the Badgers 21-0 Saturday in the 47th renewal of a Big Ten rivalry.

The Wildcats, smoothly directed by Dick Thornton and powered by the line smashes of fullback Mike Stock, struck for scores on marches of 83, 46 and 66 yards in spoiling Wisconsin's homecoming day before a crowd of 61,730.

Belated Field Goal Wins For Arkansas

Passing yardage	40	79

Passes intercepted by	1	1
Punts	7-37.9	7-30.1

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Mickey Cissell kicked the Arkansas Razorbacks into position for a Southwest Conference football championship Saturday with a 26-yard field goal 25 seconds before the game's end to beat Rice 3-0.

With less than three minutes to go, Arkansas drove 72 yards to the Rice 8 where Cissell was rushed in to kick the field goal. It was his second game-winning field goal of the season. His 22-yard kick which beat Texas earlier 24-23 also came in the last 20 seconds.

Quarterback Billy Moore sparked the scoring drive, both on the ground and in the air, connecting with end Jimmy Collier with a spectacular 36-yard pass to the Rice 18.

The victory put the Razorbacks in the conference lead and put them in a good position for a Cotton Bowl bid. Until Saturday Rice was undefeated in the conference and Arkansas had lost only to Baylor. Arkansas now has four victories and Rice three.

Rice made its big bid in the third quarter on a 62-yard drive with long runs by Roland Jackson, Bob Wayt and Max Webb. But it couldn't get its air attack going despite the fact it was engineered by the conference's No. 2 passer, Billy Cox, whose frantic attempts to fire a scoring shot to Johnny Burrell was intercepted by Arkansas line-backer Wayne Harris on the Porker 3.

Harris, who masterminded the defense, ranked with Cissell as the co-star for the Hogs. He made eight tackles and was in on 16 more, making him in on two-thirds of the Razorback stops. Jackson, the Owls' hard-kicking fullback, also stood out on defense with six tackles and eight assists.

Arkansas far outgained the Texans, picking up 282 yards, more than 200 of them on the ground.

Billy Moore sparked the Razorbacks' brilliant running game. He racked up 47 yards in 11 carries, but that far from told the story. It was his change of pace, his quick decisions as the play unfolded that made him the big puzzle for the hard-nozed Owls, who fought savagely in defense of their hitherto unblemished conference record.

It was Moore's 36-yard pass which set up Cissell's winning kick. But it was far from Moore alone. George McKinney, Lance Alworth, Darrell Williams and Billy Joe Moody each piled up more than 30 yards on foot. And McKinney added another 43 with his passing.

For Rice, it was Wayt and Jackson. Together they gained 88 yards and divided the work almost evenly. Except for the third quarter, Rice actually never had possession of the ball in Arkansas territory.

One of Arkansas' longest campaigns followed its interception of Rice's pass. With Moore doing most of the work, but with Moody, Harold Horton and Jarrell Williams helping the Razorbacks went all the way from their own 3 to the Rice 48 before bogging down.

Arkansas threatened twice in the first half. The first time it reached the Rice 23, midway in the first quarter, but McKinney's pass was intercepted by Webb on the 16. Shortly before halftime Arkansas drove to the Rice 26, but ran out of time.

Navy Is Handed Loss By Devils

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Duke struck for two touchdowns and a field goal in the second half Saturday to crumble Navy's dreams of an unbeaten season with a 19-10 victory built on Middie fumbles.

A wildly cheering crowd of 46,000, largest here since 1952, saw Duke capitalize on recovered fumbles after the Blue Devils had been frustrated by miscues in the first half.

The victory, Duke's sixth against a 31-6 loss to Michigan, boosted the Blue Devils' hopes of a post-season bowl bid. Orange Bowl scouts were in the stands Saturday.

Duke slammed 59 yards for a third period touchdown after recovering a Navy fumble. Fullback Dave Burch crashed over from the 1. Quarterback Walt Rappold fired a two-point conversion pass to halfback Mark Leggett.

Duke scored again a short time later when halfback Dean Wright crashed over from the 7. Wright ran over the two-point conversion to send Duke ahead 16-10.

Sophomore halfback Billy Reynolds boosted a 35-yard field goal for Duke early in the fourth period after a Navy fumble was recovered on the Middies' 37.

Navy end Greg Mather accounted for all of Navy's points. In the first period, he kicked a 25-yard field goal. In the second quarter, he caught a 9-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Hal Spooner. Both scores followed recovered Duke fumbles.

A Heavy Load To Carry

Knox Nunnally (81), Midland end, applies all his weight in an effort to bring down Big Spring's Tommy Whatley in the above picture, snapped during the Steer-Bulldog District 2-AAAA game here Friday night. Midland won the game, 28-8. Nunnally is a candidate for all-state honors and is a standout on offense and defense.

Sticky fingered pass receivers and ball - hawking defenders proved the difference as Midland shaded Big Spring, 28-8, in a District 2-AAAA football game here Friday night.

The Bulldogs, still very much in the running for the conference championship, went out and helped themselves to two touchdowns in the opening period, came back after the half to get two more and spent the rest of the evening experimenting and trying to capitalize on Steer misplays.

The statistics are deceiving. The Longhorns played a very decent game but couldn't hold onto the ball at critical times. They moved the ball very well all evening but bobbled and lost the pighide on four occasions.

Two of the fumbles set Bulldog touchdowns drives in motion, one in each half.

Big Spring scored its lone TD with 2:05 to go in the final round after Jerry Dunlap intercepted an aerial thrown by Rodney Satterwhite on the Longhorn 47 and returned to Midland's 42.

A couple of passes, one thrown by Jerry Tucker and the other by Tommy Whatley, helped move the ball down to the one, from where halfback Bonnie Clanton boomed through right tackle.

Tucker and Dunlap teamed up on a pass to get the two extra points.

Midland failed to move the first time it got the ball but a Big Spring fumble on the Steer 32, recovered by the Purple's James Stewart, put the Bulldogs in business again.

Eric Moore finally got the score from six yards away, with 6:29 showing on the first quarter clock. Rodney Satterwhite put a toe into the football to get the extra point.

Midland drove 64 yards for its second TD, with 2:05 still to go in the opening period, fullback Paul James legging it across from one yard out. Satterwhite again kicked the PAT and Midland led, 14-0.

The teams milled around in the second period. Big Spring chugged down to the Bulldog 12 at one point but a penalty hurt it there and it lost the ball on donws. Midland drove to the Steer 17 but an aerial barrage fizzled. Jimmy Madry knocking down the final toss by Sammy Vaughn.

Midland got going again in the third when Vaughn plunged over from the one, with 8:42 showing on the stadium timepiece. The Bulldogs drove 40 yards for that score, following a Big Spring fumble. Satterwhite again booted the point and Midland led, 21-0.

The visitors made it 28-0 a short time later when a 72-yard march was culminated successfully by an eight-yard pass from Satterwhite to end James Stewart, after which Satterwhite converted for one point with his toe.

Madry did some fine running for Big Spring, as did Dunlap and Emmett Kent Morgan. James was Midland's top threat, having picked up 86 paces in ten carries.

The loss was Big Spring's fifth in eight starts. The locals are 0-3 within district. Midland is 2-1 against conference foes and is 5-3 overall.

HOUSTON (AP) — Ken Bolin and Don Sessions led the way as the University of Houston exploded for two touchdowns in the last six minutes Saturday to defeat Cincinnati, 14-0.

Cincinnati ignored a role of being a 26½- point underdog and handed the Cougars as much as they could handle until after nine minutes of the fourth period.

Until Bolin started the uprising with a 46-yard punt return, Houston had seen five fumbles and two pass interceptions aid the Cincinnati defense.

Bolin followed his punt return with a 19-yard scamper to the Cincinnati 5 and Sessions carried over two plays later from the one.

Cincinnati fumbled the kickoff and Houston covered on the Bearcat 28. Gene Ritch lost two yards but Sessions then hit him with a 30-yard touchdown pass.

Eddie Mitchamore kicked both extra points.

Houston had not won its last five homecoming games and the jinx seemed to be holding until Bolin's long run. Minutes earlier Sessions had climaxed Houston's longest drive of the day—40 yards—by carrying over from the one but a holding penalty nullified the touchdown.

Cincinnati meanwhile had dominated first half play by moving to the Houston 2, 35 and 20.

Houston held on downs and stopped the first 57-yard threat. Cincinnati was forced to punt from the 35. A pass interception halted the Bearcats at the 20.

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—A desperation 43-yard pass from second-unit quarterback Ray Williamson to halfback Terry Parks gave North Texas State a come-from-behind 26-19 victory over Hardin-Simmons in a non-conference football game Saturday.

Parks just moments earlier pulled in a Williamson aerial and scampered 63 yards from his own 7 to the Hardin-Simmons 30. Halfback Billy Christle lost 13 yards in between the two electrifying passes but the 43-yarder with 1:51 left, provided the victory margin.

The Cowboys, still not to be denied, drove with the ensuing kickoff to the North Texas 3 where fullback Don Wills was stopped as the clock ran out.

Fletcher Fields, a second unit guard who played an outstanding game, had kicked a 37-yard field goal midway through the fourth period that gave Hardin-Simmons a 19-18 edge. He later booted a perfect punt out of bounds on the North Texas 1 to virtually insure the victory.

But a homecoming crowd of 15,000 went wild in the final minutes, screaming first for a near-unbelievable touchdown and then to stop an even more fantastic Hardin-Simmons drive.

Michigan Downs Illinois, 8-7

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan won the battle of the coaching brothers Saturday, beating Illinois 8-7 on Dave Glinka's two-point pass conversion to halfback Dennis Fitzgerald.

A sometimes-slumbering Michigan defense rallied for tremendous efforts that crushed Illinois threats in every period and gave Chalmers (Bump) Elliott a squeaky victory in the coaching duel with his younger brother, Pete.

Only once before in major college football history have brothers been pitted against each other in the coaching ranks. That was 38 years ago when Iowa's Howard Jones won a 6-0 struggle against brother Tad Jones' Yale team.

Illinois' Jerry Wood, whose kicking provided the victory margin in two triumphs this season, missed three field goals—the last one in the fourth period from the Michigan 14-yard line.

End Bob Johnson barely got his hand in the way of Wood's kick and it swirled crazily far to the right of the goal post.

Bennie McRae's fumble at the Michigan 23 set up Illinois' final chance to extract a victory, just as a first period fumble at the Wolverine 18 paved the way for Illinois' only touchdown in this contest witnessed by 62,927 and a Midwest television audience.

Ole Miss Dazzles Chattanoogans

UNIVERSITY, Miss. (AP) — Sixth-ranked Mississippi showed its finest offensive form of the season Saturday as it rolled to an effortless 45-0 victory over Chattanooga.

The unbeaten, but once-tied Rebels, with reserves playing most of the game, scored in every period and were in command throughout.

Quarterbacks Jake Gibbs, Doug Elmore and Glynn Griffing kept the Mississippi offense in high gear and alternated in sparking touchdown marches.

Spartans Derail Boilermakers

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Michigan State quarterback Tom Wilson scored a touchdown, passed for another, and tossed a conversion pass for a 17-13 victory over Purdue Saturday.

Art Brandstatter caught the 13-yard touchdown pass and kicked a 28-yard field goal. Fred Arbanas rounded out the miscellaneous Spartan scoring by catching a conversion pass.

Michigan State had to get its winning touchdown in the last three minutes to offset the feats of Roy Walker, Purdue's 213-pound sophomore fullback from North Olmstead, Ohio.

Walker, who had never carried the ball in a varsity game, scored two touchdowns after veteran Willie Jones was hurt on the first play. The big sophomore got both on short plunges but he set up the first with an 11-yard run and an 11-yard pass from Bernie Allen.

Fullback George Saimes of Michigan State, another third stringer, was the big man in the 99-yard drive that won for the Spartans in the closing minutes. After Michigan State held for downs on its 1-yard mark, Wilson broke away for 40 yards, then carried on eight of 10 plays to plant the ball a couple of inches from the goal line.

Gail Wins 45th Straight Game

PETTIT — Gail won its 54th straight game by routing Pettit, 64-6, here Friday night.

The Coyote reserves played the entire second half after such boys as Carroll Ramsey, Steve Dennis and Rusty Henson had run wild the first half.

Gail winds up regular season play against Wellman at Gail next Friday.

MANILA, P.I. (AP) — Solomon Boysaw of Cleveland scored a 7-round technical knockout over Bert Somodio of Manila Saturday night.

Somodio was down twice in the round and was out on his feet when his handlers then threw in the towel. Boysaw weighed 140½, Somodio 135.

Local B Team Defeats Abilene Cooper, 22-0

Big Spring's scrappy B team humbled Abilene's Cooper High reserves, 22-0, in a football game unreeled in Memorial Stadium here Saturday afternoon.

The local mentors lauded their charges and said they played perhaps their best game of the year. The win enabled the Dogies to even their won - lost - tied record at 3-3-2. They close play next Saturday night in Snyder, a team they beat earlier this year, 16-8.

Gene Lamb, Dogie quarterback, boomed across from two yards out for the first score of the game in the opening period. He also added two extra points on a run.

Big Spring nursed an 8-0 lead going into the third period. Jerry Bethell scored again for Big Spring on a 35-yard sprint in that round and Dickie Spier added two extra points.

Lamb passed to Jack Wilson for Big Spring's third TD in the fourth round. The play covered about 36 yards.

Cooper scored in the first half but the play was wiped out due to a holding infraction.

On offense, Buster Barnes, Chap Smith, Bruce Wells, Bethell and Lamb were among those who showed to advantage for the Dogies.

On defense, Eddie Everett, Willie Rangel, Barnes, Wilson, Bobby Miears and Danny Coates glistened for Big Spring.

It was the second shutout the Shorthorns have posted this season. In their opening contest, they blanked Lamesa, 28-0.

They have been tied by Lamesa and Sweetwater and lost to Abilene's Junior Varsity and Sweetwater.

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)—Two frustrated football teams—Southern Methodist and Texas A&M—fought to a scoreless tie Saturday with SMU being stopped on the Aggie one in its best chance to score and A&M throwing away three opportunities by fumbling.

With 1:12 left to play the Aggies rolled close enough for Mike Clark to try for a field goal. He barely missed it from the SMU 39. And with four seconds left SMU got close enough to try but Mike Hackney's attempt from the 43 was short.

It was A&M's third tie of the season in which it has won only one game and it was the first deadlock for SMU, which had lost six straight. It also was the first scoreless tie in a Southwest Conference game since 1942 when the Aggies drew with Rice.

A crowd of 35,000 got a lift in the third period when big Ray Schoenke, SMU center, crashed through to block Lee Roy Caffey's punt and give the Methodists their chance to score. Caffey recovered the ball on the Aggie three but it was fourth down and went over to SMU.

Frank Jackson made one and Gene Sherman one but Jackson was pitched for a four-yard loss by Carter Franklin and a fourth-down pass was batted down at the goal line by Bob Caskey.

The Aggies dominated the first half, rolling to the Southern Methodist 20 and 11-yard lines only to fumble it away each time. Another time the Aggies smashed to the SMU 11 but were held for downs. Then just before the half the Aggies got a partially blocked kick on the SMU 31 but again they fumbled.

Southern Methodist outplayed the Aggies in the last half but other than the chance to score on the blocked kick and getting to the Aggie 35 once, then trying for the field goal, the Mustangs couldn't do much in the clutch with the bristling Aggie defense.

Hackney's field goal try was a picture of futility. The ball barely cleared the line of scrimmage and carried only about 10 yards. Clark's attempt was better—it went under the crossbar by inches.

It was primarily a defensive game between two punchless teams. The Aggies got 140 yards rushing and 49 in the air and SMU 136 on the ground and 24 passing.

There were few outstanding individual performances. Jackson led the ball carriers with 50 yards. Sherman had 40 and Sam Byer of the Aggies, the conference's leading rusher, also managed 40.

Daryle Keeling, the Aggie quarterback, completed four passes for 56 yards. The best SMU thrower was Jerry Sebek, who connected on two for 17 yards.

Roger Braugh, SMU sophomore quarterback, did some fine punting. Keeping the ball low into a terrific 20-mile-per-hour north wind, Braugh managed an average of 34 yards and the way he kicked the ball made it hard for the Aggie safety men to handle.

Byer made 25 yards in the first Aggie drive that carried 63 yards but a fumbled handoff, covered by tackle Jerry Mays of SMU, stopped it. SMU fumbled the ball right back to the Aggies and this time they swept to the SMU 11. Caffey fumbled a handoff, however, and John Rumley, SMU guard, fell on the ball. Keeling passed for 23 yards to spark this drive.

A 22-yard Keeling pass to Randy Sims got the Aggies moving on their next drive that went to the SMU 11, a nine-yard run by Sims setting it up. But Keeling lost a yard and SMU held Sims without gain on fourth down.

Don McClelland took a partially blocked Braugh punt on the SMU 31 shortly afterward but Keeling fumbled it away. A&M's Jon Few intercepted a Jackson pass on the Aggie 48 as time ran out in the half.

SMU came out in the third period like it meant business. A 15-yard run by Sherman lit the fuse but it soon went out against the rugged Aggie line and Braugh had to kick.

Then came the blocked kick. Schoenke who was the top defensive player of the day—he was making tackles all over the field—threw himself into the ball with reckless abandon. Caffey was barely able to fall on it before an SMU player got there but it went over to SMU anyway.

Missouri Assumes Lead In Big 8

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri Tigers spotted Colorado's Buffaloes a six-point lead in the first quarter, then charged back for a 16-6 victory to take over first place in the Big Eight football race.

The Tigers, ranked No. 2 nationally, gained their eighth victory of the season and fifth in the Big Eight with a 49-yard drive in the second period and a spectacular 55-yard punt return by Norman Beal in the third. A desperation passing effort by Colorado in the closing minutes backfired into a Missouri safety.

Ohio State Mauls Helpless Indiana Hoosiers, 36 To 7

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State piled up terrific yardage and a 36-7 victory over the hapless and almost helpless Hoosiers of Indiana Saturday.

The boisterous Buckeyes built up a 27-0 halftime lead and then coasted to the conquest with fourth, fifth and sixth stringers in the late going.

The Hoosiers, under probation for frowned upon recruiting activities, were never a threat until they blocked a kick and scored on a 22-yard pass play against Ohio's lowly substitutes in the last two minutes.

Ohio gained 223 yards on the ground and 171 through the air and piled up 29 first downs. The Hoosiers had four first downs, exactly double the net yards they gained rushing.

COLORADO CITY — Colorado City's Wolves nipped the Sweetwater Mustangs, 26-24, in a 3-AAA conference game at Colorado City Friday night.

The Mustangs were figured to win handily but caught a tartar in the hard charging, gang-tackling Wolves. The Wolves put a hobble on the high - geared Mustang offense, with the exception of plays which sent Sweetwater's fullback, Ronnie Cox, at the middle of the Wolf line.

Colorado City was never able to put a stopper on the 185-pound fullback and Cox gained 175 of the 295 yards picked up by the Nolan County team.

Colorado City's fullback Don Vest rammed through the tough Sweetwater line for 119 yards to lead Colorado City ball carriers, but Vest received ample support from his backfield mates with quarterback Jerry McKay and halfbacks Gary Lightfoot and Clinton Compton sharing ball toting honors.

Sweetwater scored first, driving 53 yards after receiving the kickoff, Cox carrying over from the 10. A pass from quarterback Joe Gerald to halfback Charles Burnett was good for two points.

Colorado City scored after end Alex Campbell intercepted a pass on the Colorado City 31 and returned to the Mustang 22. McKay went over on a sneak from the one yard line, and the extra point try was no good.

On the second play of the second quarter, Sweetwater's center, Ken Weaver ran under one of McKay's passes at his own 34 and the Mustangs marched 66 yards in 13 plays to score, Cox carrying over from the one yard line. A pass, Gerald-to-Cox, added two points.

The Wolves took the kickoff and drove 65 yards for a second TD, Vest taking it over from the one. The extra point try failed to give Sweetwater a halftime lead of 16 to 12.

Colorado City took the second half kickoff and drove 38 yards for another score, McKay going in from the four. Vest kicked the extra point to give Colorado City a 19 to 16 lead.

The lead changed hands again quickly as Sweetwater scored on a 70-yard march, Cox scoring from the three. Cox bulled over for the two extra points.

Colorado City's final score came with 55 seconds to play as McKay went over from one foot out on a quarterback sneak. The march covered 4 yards and was set up when the Wolves recovered a Cox fumble on their own 46. Vest kicked the extra point.

The game left Colorado City with a 2-1 and Sweetwater with 1-1 conference records.

AFL's Oakland 11 Having Problems

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The American Football League's Oakland franchise, one of the key outposts for the new circuit in its dollar battle with the established National League, is being shaken by internal rumblings amid reports the club will lose $400,000 this season.

Squabbling among owners of the Raiders, who dropped a 34-28 decision to Boston Friday night in one of two games on the AFL program, was further amplified when it was reported that general manager Chet Soda has threatened to move the franchise out of Oakland.

Soda, one of the eight co-owners of the AFL club which is in direct competition with the NFL San Francisco 49ers, said unless some final plans could be made for an Oakland stadium "we might have to think of moving elsewhere."

Another co-owner, Robert Osborne—also a member of the Oakland City Council—castigated his partners by terming some members of the group "cry babies who don't like losing money that they had known and anticipated they were going to lose."

While the Raiders were losing at Boston, the Los Angeles Chargers defeated the New York Titans 21-7 and took over the Western Division lead with a 5-3 record, a half-game in front of Denver.

The Broncos get a chance to pull even when they meet Eastern Division-leading Houston (5-2) in a Sunday game at Denver. Dallas is at Buffalo to round out the weekend schedule.

Boston (3-5) snapped a three-game losing streak by beating the Raiders (4-5) as Butch Songin passed for three Patriot touchdowns. Songin flipped 19 yards to Tom Stephens and 28 to Dick Christy for first-period scores, then wound up his performance with a 38-yard TD toss to Dick Colclough that clinched the decision. Tom Teresa ran for three of Oakland's touchdowns.

Halfback Paul Lowe sped 62 yards for a second-period touchdown that gave the Chargers a commanding 14-0 lead over the Titans (4-5) after Howie Ferguson plunged for the first Los Angeles score. Quarterback Al Dorow, chased by a hard-charging line, hit Dewel Bohling with a 19-yard pass in the third quarter for New York's only score.

"We just didn't belong on the same field with the Giants" — Paul Brown, Cleveland coach, Dec. 6, 1959.

If the date doesn't register, it was the day the Giants beat Brown's injury-riddled Cleveland Browns 48-7 to wrap up New York's second straight Eastern Conference title in the National Football League.

The Browns (4-1) and Giants (3-1-1) are on the same field again Sunday and the question now is do the Giants belong there?

The Browns, who share the Eastern lead with the Philadelphia Eagles, are 7-point favorites to beat the Giants in Cleveland.

The Eagles (4-1) will be alone at the top if the Giants can pull an upset, and if the Eagles whip the visiting Pittsburgh Steelers (2-3-1). The Eagles are favored by a touchdown.

The big game in the Western Conference is the first-place meeting at Baltimore where the defending champion Colts (4-2) attempt to overtake the Green Bay Packers (4-1). The Colts are 8-point favorites to knock off the Packers who upset them 35-21 at Green Bay Oct. 9.

The Chicago Bears (3-2-1) are idle.

Elsewhere, in a full six-game card, the St. Louis Cardinals (3-3) are home favorites by a TD over the Washington Redskins (1-2-2), the Los Angeles Rams (1-4-1) get the nod by 11 over the Cowboys (0-6) at Dallas and the San Francisco 49ers (3-3) are rated 7 better than the visiting Detroit Lions (1-4).

American's Draft Rosters Are Frozen Until Dec. 1

LOS ANGELES (AP) — American League draft rosters as of Monday are being frozen until the player draft Dec. 1.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick is taking the step, he told newsmen today, to guard against irregularities.

"If a club has 40 players it cannot draft any," said Frick, "whereas a club with only 38 would be eligible to draft two. We'll put on a similar freeze in the National League when it expands to Houston and New York in 1962."

Frick said his action is being taken after discussions with Joe Cronin, president of the American League, and Warren Giles, who heads the National.

The freeze will have no effect on inter-league trading, which starts Nov. 21 and ends Dec. 11.

Hank Greenberg, who heads the American League's syndicate for a Los Angeles franchise, recently expressed disappointment over Frick's recommendation that the new Los Angeles and Washington clubs be allowed to draft two minor leaguers each after the present 16 major league teams have taken their turns.

The commissioner said he considered the Washington and Los Angeles clubs of the American League lucky to get any draft.

"According to the rules, a team must operate one year before getting draft privileges," said Frick. "They will not be allowed to claim first year players."

Frick said a mail vote is being taken on whether to waive the draft ban in order to help the new clubs.

Frick came here a few hours in advance of Giles. Frick said he was here primarily to study the Los Angeles situation. Giles said he's going to do the same thing "and to protect our league's interests."

"I understand there are some problems and I intend to find out for myself exactly what's going on," said Frick.

Frick said he wants amicable relations between the Los Angeles Dodgers and the new American League team.

Frick said the Dodgers should have priority on dates in the Coliseum and that the American League team should be assessed a reasonable percentage of what it cost to clear the territory. The Dodgers and the San Francisco Giants paid the Pacific Coast League $900,000 for invading Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Peterson, Wiggins Lead Way To Win

Airport, Parkhill and Boydstun emerged with impressive wins in the Saturday round of the Gra-Y Rag football league.

Airport defeated Washington Place 46-0 with Donnie Wiggins piling up 18 points, Mike Peterson 20, Bobby Bowers 4, and Jimmy Riffey and Billy Kring 2 each.

Parkhill rolled over College Heights 42-6. Richard Cauley paced the winners with 26 points, David Harmonson had 12, and Russ McEwen and Kirb Horton two each. Joe Rowland scored for College Heights.

In Boydstun's 38-20 victory over Bauer, Red Rogers broke away for 32 points and Joe Baker 6. For Bauer Joe Valdez scored 14 and Abel Ramirez 6.

Flower Grove Is Near 7-B Crown

MERTZON—The Flower Grove Dragons rallied to overtake Mertzon, 19-14, in an important District 7-B six-man football battle here Friday night.

The defeat was Mertzon's first in conference play. Flower Grove is now 4-0 and plays Christoval next week to determine which club advances to bi-district.

Dan Leamon counted two touchdowns and Jerry Webb one for the Dragons.

The National Football Rules Committee could hurry up the game and do the fans a favor by eliminating the dead time following an incomplete forward pass . . . Why not start the clock again when the ball is placed back at the line of scrimmage or, at least, after officials get the high sign that the defensive team is ready? . . . Roy Smalley, who will probably become one of the coaches of the Philadelphia Phillies next year, is a brother-in-law to the field manager of that club, Gene Mauch . . . Some of his friends in Alabama say Bear Bryant, the former Texas A&M coach, is now making $100,000 a year. . . Part of that income comes from plugging soft drinks and potato chips on billboards and radio. . . Bert Gravitt, the Denver City great who could conceivably appear here in a playoff game, has rushed the ball for 1,504 yards this fall, good for a 9.18-yard average. . . Larry Cruise, the former HCJC cager, will probably be a starter on the North Texas State College basketball team this season. . . He's been very impressive in early workouts. . . Had HCJC been able to use Larry in the playoffs last year, the Jayhawks probably would have won the National Juco championship. . . Don't be surprised if Texan Paul Richards winds up as the manager of the Detroit Tigers. . . Richards played on the 1945 Detroit team, which won the World Series from the Chicago Cubs. . . New Mexico Military Institute (which will be HCJC's conference opponent in basketball) won five straight football games, then was clobbered by Cameron, Okla., 40-7. . . The Cadets came back to tip Air Force Academy's JV's the following week, however, 19-18. . . Odessa has surrendered its Sophomore Baseball League franchise but Alpine is still active in the circuit.

Senators Fret Over Pascual

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) —The ex-Washington Senators are brimful with optimism over their new home but worried about Camilio Pascual.

Owner Calvin Griffith, transplanting his American League club to Minneapolis-St. Paul, wants to send his ace pitcher to the Mayo Clinic for an examination.

Pascual injured his arm the latter part of the season and apparently has not recovered fully.

"His arm is not responding well to treatment and we're concerned," said Griffith.

Pascual is the anchor man of a staff Griffith admitted "needs four or five new faces." The owner told newsmen Friday he looks to Pascual, Pete Ramos, Don Lee, Chuck Stobbs and Jack Kralick to serve as the core of his staff.

He expects a couple rookies to help, among them hard-throwing Ralph Lumenti, "who has to convince himself he's a major league pitcher."

But nobody, so far, has shown much willingness to talk trade with Griffith except the fellows who want to grab his stars like catcher Earl Battey and Pascual.

"We are powerful in the outfield, have a strong catcher in Battey and expect Zorro Versalles to make us sound at shortstop," said Griffith.

Griffith still hasn't decided on a name for the Minneapolis-St. Paul club. He has heard such suggestions as "Bunyans," "Moose," "Twins," and "Northern Stars."

His comptroller, Oswald Bluege, offered "Griffs," to honor the name of one of baseball's pioneer families.

Metropolitan Stadium, which will seat about 30,000 for the home opener next April 24, will undergo some facelifting before the big leaguers move in.

Merkel Badgers Nudge Coahoma

MERKEL—The Merkel Badgers overcame an early Coahoma lead to win a 22-14 District 6-A decision here Friday night.

The victory all but gave Carroll Benson's team the conference title.

Halfback Gorman Finley put Coahoma ahead early when he traced 31 yards for a TD in the opening period.

Fullback DeWayne Richters got the second when he sprinted 35 yards in the second round. End Jim Mays added the two extra points on a pass from Royce Abernegg.

Merkel then got rolling and run up 16 points before the intermission.

The Badgers added an insurance score in the fourth round when fullback Ronnie Reegar dived over from the three.

Merkel rushed the ball for 172 yards and added 48 passing. Coahoma gained 165 yards on the ground and an extra 34 on passes.

You've never driven a heavyweight that handled like this one!

HERE! EASIER GOING FOR THE DRIVER AND THE LOAD, LONGER LIFE FOR THE TRUCK!

'61 TORSION-SPRING CHEVROLETS

If you don't think scrapping the front axle has made a world of difference, you haven't driven a Chevy in a while. A few minutes behind the wheel and you can feel why drivers are happier and breakable loads are better protected. But the biggest advantage of all, you'll realize, is that the truck itself (sheet metal, tires, chassis components, everything) takes less abuse. With independent front suspension soaking up road shock and vibration, the truck lasts longer, goes extra thousands of profit-miles before trade-in time comes around. Add that to what everybody's always known about Chevy dependability and you find yourself looking at the soundest, surest truck investment you could bet your business on.

CHEVROLET

and look! NEW REAR-ENGINE CORVAIR 95's

A panel and two pickups that put a thrifty air-cooled engine in the rear, the driver up front and as much as 1,900 pounds of load space in between! That's more capacity than a conventional half-tonner. Yet these Corvair 95's are nearly two feet shorter from bumper to bumper. Highly maneuverable. Built to last with a one-piece body-frame design. Bound to save you money on a busy schedule!

CORVAN—Side doors open a full 49" wide. Loading height is a low 14" (lift)

STANTON—The Stanton Buffaloes went through the air and over the ground and scored in every quarter to trample the Tahoka Bulldogs 44-0 Friday night before homecoming crowd of about 600 fans.

The Buffaloes, playing without the services of standout halfback Tommy Newman, who broke an arm playing at Denver City last week, rolled 230 yards on the ground and sailed another 85 through the airways.

Jimmy Sale was converted from fullback to fill Newman's shoes and the slight back ran for 58 yards, passed for one touchdown, and took a touchdown pass for another Stanton tally. He set up his third period touchdown aerial with an interception of a Tahoka pass.

On the opening kickoff it looked as if the Bulldogs were out for blood when they recovered an on-side kick at the Stanton 35-yard line. Tahoka moved to the 20 before a fumble halted the threat. It was not until the final minutes of the game that the Bulldogs threatened again. Three consecutive pass interference penalties called against Stanton put Tahoka at the Buffalo 26 before an interception stymied the drive.

The Buffs' first tally came with the opening period half over. After Jerry Polson recovered a Tahoka fumble at the Stanton 36, the Buffaloes drove to the Tahoka eight-yard line, from where Thad Koonce, Redgy Church and Sale carried the ball to the one before Arnold Fincher scored. Fincher also successfully converted for two points.

With 2:45 left in the period, the Buffaloes added six more points to the scoreboard with a fumble recovery in the Tahoka end zone. Stanton was held to a kicking situation at the 37 and Robert Turner booted to the Tahoka five. Merrill Cloe gathered in the pig hide; was nailed by five Buffaloes as he started to go, and the ball bounced out of his arms into the end zone. Koonce pounced on the loose ball for the score.

Koonce turned tailback in the second period for the third tally as the Buffaloes went into single-wing formation for the first and only time in the game. Taking the direct snap from center, he sped around left end, and behind near-perfect blocking scampered 49 yards to score. Sale added two points on the running conversion to make it 22-0 with 5:55 left in the first half.

The Bulldogs took to the air much of the second half, heaving 20 aerials. Fred Hegi did most of the throwing to ends Douglas McClellan, Billy Clinton, and Perry Flippin, and backs Tommy Jones, Allen White and Cloe.

Stanton's best pass defense was Tahoka's shaky passing offense, although the Buffs intercepted three of the second half's 20 aerials thrown. The Tahoka passers for the most part, however, found their targets hard to hit, despite usually good protection.

Koonce intercepted a Hegi-to-Cloe pass on the Tahoka 48 midway in the third quarter and got to the two-yard line before the was nailed by the passer. Koonce got the two yards, however, on the next play, then added the two-point conversion to make the score 30-0.

Five minutes passed before the Buffs tallied again, this time on a Sale-to-Lyndon Huckaby pass that covered 55 yards. Sale set the touchdown series in motion when he plucked off a Hegi-to-McClellan aerial at Stanton's 26-yard line. Sale's TD pass came five plays later. Fincher carried it in for the two-point conversion, and the scoreboard read 38-0 with 2:40 remaining in the third period.

The Buffaloes picked up their last touchdown through the air when Church threw to Sale for 20 yards with 5:15 left in the final period. Sale put Stanton in position by running McClellan's punt from the 49-yard line back to the Tahoka 25.

The final two minutes saw the Bulldogs filling the air with passes, and also saw the 'Dogs gain three consecutive first downs on pass interference calls against the Buffaloes.

Hegi passed 10 times without a completion before Sammy Webb intercepted the 11th one and gave the ball to Stanton to run out the clock.

The Buffaloes had two touchdowns nullified by penalties in the first and second periods. The first came during an eight-yard run by Fincher and the second on a 12-yard pass from Church to Sonny Wells.

Bearkats Ramble Past Grandfalls

GARDEN CITY—Outplayed for a half, the Garden City Bearkats rallied in the final two periods to defeat Grandfalls-Royalty, 28-8, and win their first District 3-B eight-man test here Friday night.

Sam Trees put Grandfalls-Royalty in front in the second period on a five-yard jaunt.

In the third, a pass from Doug Parker to Dennis Cypert set up Garden City's first score. The play covered 50 yards and carried to Grandfalls-Royalty's ten. Parker then went over for the score and Joe Carter, who played a whale of a game, added the two extra points.

Later in the quarter, Carter stampered 20 yards for Garden City's go-ahead tally.

In the fourth, Grandfalls-Royalty fumbled on its own 20 and Gary McDaniel recovered for Garden City. Tommy Grant ran the ball down to Grandfalls-Royalty's one on a double reverse and McDaniel carried it across. McDaniel then added the double conversion and the Bearkats led, 22-8.

The Cowboys were held for downs late in the game and Grant promptly set up another score on a double reverse, ending up on the five. Gary Seidenberger, shifted from the line, finally ran the ball into the end zone from the one.

Garden City now has an overall record of 3-4-1 and is 1-1-1 in conference play. The Bearkats go to Klondike to wind up play next week.

Abilene Rips Odessa, 21-6

ABILENE—The Abilene Eagles built up a 14-0 halftime lead and went on to defeat Odessa High School, 21-6, in an important District 2-AAAA contest here Friday night.

The win left Abilene tied for the conference lead with four other teams.

Odessa gained more yardage on the ground, 189 to 161, than did Abilene but the Eagles hacked out the yardage when it needed it most.

David Winkles scored Abilene's first TD on a rollout from the four at the end of a 53-yard drive. Jack Middlebrooks booted the PAT.

Winkles traveled the same distance for Abilene's second tally early in the second and Middlebrooks again made a successful conversion.

Odessa climbed back into contention when James Weaver, the leading ground gainer of the night, boomed across from the one but the try for point failed.

Abilene added an insurance tally in the fourth when Middlebrooks counted from the 19 on a draw play, then kicked the PAT.

Weaver gained 195 yards rushing the ball for Odessa, more than the entire Odessa team netted. Included were gains for 55 and 38 yards.

Score by quarters:

Abilene	7	7	0	7	—21
Odessa	0	0	6	0	—6

Snyder Edges Lamesa, 12-6

LAMESA — Snyder won its second District 3-AAA football game in three starts by defeating Lamesa, 12-6, here Friday night.

The Tigers were outgained on the ground and in the air but an interception of a Lamesa pass by Jesse Crawford, who then ran 80 yards for a score, proved the difference. That play occurred in the second quarter.

In the third Perry Cullwell of Snyder broke loose and ran 20 yards for a touchdown, capping a 45-yard drive.

Quarterback Gene Westmoreland got Lamesa's lone tally in the fourth on a four-yard run. The Tornadoes pushed 47 yards on that particular drive.

Snyder made 132 yards rushing and none through the air while Lamesa gained 147 yards on the ground and 35 on five completions through the air.

The win was Snyder's third in nine starts this year. Lamesa is 4-4 overall and 0-2 in district.

Odessa Permian Decisions San Angelo Bobcats, 35-8

ODESSA — Odessa Permian all but shattered the title dreams of the San Angelo Bobcats by winning a 35-8 District 2-AAAA decision here Friday night.

San Angelo is still tied for the top spot in the standings, with a 2-1 record, but the decisiveness of the defeat may portend rougher sailing for the Felines.

San Angelo committed three blunders in the first half and Permian capitalized on all of them for a 21-0 intermission lead.

A 10-yard San Angelo punt set the stage for Permian's first score in the opening period. Fullback Gary Crain finally got it from the one. Crain's then kicked the PAT.

The Panthers counted twice in the second. Crain intercepted a Bobcat pass, after which Richard Keller traveled four yards to pay dirt. Crain again booted the PAT.

Tackle Mike Holt recovered a loose ball in the end zone for Permian's third TD after Mike Payte had blocked a Bobcat punt. Crain's placement kick was good.

Keller raced 34 yards for Permian's fourth TD in the third period while Mike Tabor counted for San Angelo from the 16. Bill Cameron added the double conversion for the Cats.

David Drake got Permian's final tally with three seconds left in the game when he took a 33-yard pass from Frank Sloan. Crain booted the PAT.

Permian gained 268 yards rushing and 53 passing to 129 yards rushing and 27 passing for San Angelo.

Sterling Grabs District Title

STERLING CITY—Sterling City flogged Forsan, 34-0, here Friday night to sew up the District 3-B eight-man football championship.

The game was not as one-sided as the score indicated. The Buffs gambled for scores late in the game and the plays boomeranged on them.

After a scoreless first quarter, Don McDonald went 32 yards on a rollout play for Sterling's first score, then added two points on a run.

Later in the second, Jack Asbill of Sterling blocked a Forsan punt and Sterling came into possession of the ball on the Buff nine. Asbill then scored on a draw play and added the two extra points on a pass.

In the third, David Durham raced 22 and 35 yards for Sterling's final two touchdowns.

Sterling gained a total of 234 yards, 72 of them by Nance. Forsan gained 219 yards. Bill Conger accounted for 130 of that.

Dewey Howard, with nine tackles, and Conger, with eight, played outstanding defensive ball for Forsan. Asbill, with 12 tackles, was Sterling's top defensive hand, followed by Jim McCartney.

Forsan made ten first downs to five for Sterling and completed three of seven passes to one of five for the Eagles. Neither team fumbled.

Rodney Allison and Johnny Bob Asbury played outstanding offensive ball for Forsan.

The Buffs thus wound up their season. Six seniors saw their last action. In addition to Howard, Conger, Allison and Asbury, last year boys are Gerry Harkrider and Jay Creighton.

October Potential Soars, Tops September Barrelage

The eight-county area gained 29 new wells, including a discovery, in October as activity easily topped that of a relatively dry September.

October's new wells potentialed for a total of 3,837.10 barrels of oil, compared with September's 18 wells and 2,587.42 barrels.

Last month's record of new projects staked did not measure up to its predecessor, however, falling 11 short. Operators staked 29 new sites in October, compared with 40 the previous month. There were 21 new field locations and eight wildcats staked.

The area was paced by Borden County in the completion column, while Dawson, Garza and Martin counties all contributed substantially to the month's potential total.

Operators in Borden County finaled only four projects but they totaled 929.69 barrels. Dawson had five completions at 835.16 barrels, Garza had three completions at 748.79 barrels, and Martin gained five new wells at a total potential of 766.23 barrels.

The one wildcat which was finaled last month came in for 35.75 barrels of oil at Hunt Oil Company No. 1 Hunt in Martin County.

Howard County finished fifth in the race for total potential with 410.76 barrels, but managed to top the heap in the number of new wells with nine. There were five projects completed in the Howard-Glasscock field and four in the Snyder field.

Operators fared somewhat better last month in the dry hole department, compared with September. Four projects were plugged and abandoned, while there were six ventures termed failures in September.

The county-by-county survey looks this way:

BORDEN

Three Fluvanna field completions, including one project which completed triply, and an Arthur field completion gave the county the largest potential in the area with 929.69 barrels.

J. D. Ford No. 1 Jordan finaled in the Mississippian, Ellenburger and Strawn sections for a total potential of 423.00 barrels of oil. Ford finaled No. 2 Jordan for 32 barrels, and Eisner No. 3 Williams completed for 137.33 barrels to round out the new Fluvanna field wells for the month.

The Arthur field well was at Ambassador No. 1 Shortes which was completed for 237.36 barrels.

There were no failures last month, and one new location was staked in the Fluvanna field.

DAWSON

There were five field completions for a total potential of 835.16 barrels, and five new projects staked last month.

The Welch field gained three new wells with a combined potential of 291.16 barrels of oil. The Wells field gained one well, Ard No. 1 Jones which finaled for 340 barrels, and the Felken field was the site of a completion at Cox No. 1-A Gillespie which potentialed for 204 barrels.

Operators spotted two new exploratory, staked one additional Welch field location and two more in Mitchell sites. There were no abandonments.

GARZA

A dual completion in the newly opened Gordon Simpson field, plus Cain and Forbes field completions boosted the county's total barrelage for the month to 748.79.

General American Oil of Texas finaled No. 1-64 Miller in the Strawn and Ellenburger zones for a combined potential of 476.23 barrels. The company opened the field.

Southern Union Gas completed No. 4-A Koonsman in the Cain field for 136 barrels and Barnes No. 2 Robertson was a new well in the Forbes field with a potential of 77.56 barrels.

There were two new wildcat sites spotted, a new location each in the Cain and Tess fields and two new sites in the Rockers-A field. No abandonments were recorded.

GLASSCOCK

October marked the sixth consecutive month without a completion for this county.

The only active drilling site during the month was at R. S. Anderson No. 1 Clark, a wildcat venture east of Garden City.

Three new projects were staked including a new explorer and two additional Spraberry Trend Area sites.

HOWARD

Nine new wells were brought in during the month with the completions confined to the Howard-Glasscock and Snyder fields. The new wells' total potential was 410.76 barrels.

There were five completions in the Howard-Glasscock field totaling 212.14 barrels and four in the Snyder field which finaled for 198.62 barrels.

Two projects were termed failures, including ventures in the Hobo South and Vincent North fields.

Operators staked seven new projects, one each in the Snyder and Hobo South fields, and five in the Howard-Glasscock field.

MARTIN

Five completions, including a Strawn discovery, boosted the county's total barrelage for the month to 766.23. One Glass field site had to be plugged and abandoned.

The area's only wildcat completion was at Hunt Oil Co. No. 1 Griffin which topped Strawn oil at 10,950 feet and flowed 35.75 barrels on initial potential.

Two Breedlove field projects were finaled, including a 445.84-barrel producer at Pan American No. 12-B Breedlove Hammond No. 1 Yates, previously completed in the Devonian, finaled in October for 37.7 barrels from the Wolfcamp.

Other field completions were made in the Mabee and Billington for a total potential of 246.94 barrels.

New locations were spotted in the Breedlove field which gained two sites, and the Billington field. One new explorer was staked.

MITCHELL

Two completions in the Turner-Gregory field and one in the Sharon Ridge put the county's total potential at 146.47 barrels.

There were no abandonments and operators staked one new wildcat and one new location to test the Iatan, East Howard field.

STERLING

This county passed through another relatively dry month with no completions, one abandonment and only one new location staked.

Brownlee, Wallace and Tice No. 1 Foster-Conger was plugged and abandoned. The wildcat was testing the Pennsylvanian section when judged a failure at 8,696 feet.

One new wildcat was staked at Purnell and Coleman and Fortune Drilling Co. No. 1 Claude Collins Estate, a 5,100-foot probe northwest of Sterling City.

The Big Spring chapter of Desk and Derrick has selected Mrs. George Thorburn, vice president, as the November nominee for member of the month.

Mrs. Thorburn is currently secretary to L. M. Thompson, vice president in charge of production at Cosden. She has held her present position since January, 1958.

Mrs. Thorburn has been a member of Desk and Derrick since 1958. As a member of the local organization she has served as recording secretary, and chairman of the scrapbook committee.

Mrs. Thorburn has also participated in field trips and seminars sponsored by Desk and Derrick. She attended seminars in San Angelo and Abilene and the national convention in San Antonio. She also attended the spring meeting of the Permian Basin Chapter, American Petroleum Institute, at Odessa. In 1959 the November nominee maintained a perfect attendance record.

Mrs. Thorburn was born on a ranch near Rocksprings where she attended school. During her senior year in high school she was named rodeo princess.

After high school, she attended Draughon's Business College in San Antonio, then went to work for an attorney there. Later employment included that of secretary to the chief patrol inspector with the border patrol at Laredo.

The Thorburns were married in 1941. They have one daughter, Janet, who is a freshman at the University of Texas. In addition to her Desk and Derrick activities, Mrs. Thorburn is a member of the Eastern Star, the Permian chapter of the C. P. A. Wives Auxiliary, the Wesleyan Guild and the First Methodist Church.

The Thorburns reside at 625 McEwen.

Reds Cancel Oil Trip

OIL CITY, PA. (AP) — Nine oil experts from the Soviet Union will not visit the Northwestern Pennsylvania community of Bradford next Monday.

Frank Dennis, an American Petroleum Institute representative traveling with the Russians in the Southwest, notified the Pennsylvania Grade Oil Association here of the cancellation.

Bradford Mayor John A. Still had protested the visit to the State Department, saying the American oil industry might not have its head examined for permitting the visit.

Unaware of the cancellation, Still a Republican, said:

"I am very happy they are not coming to Bradford. They have saved us what probably would have been a considerable police problem. I'm sure there would have been a large demonstration at the airport, and I doubt that the Russians even would have been able to land."

The state oil association quoted Dennis as saying: "The Russian and American oilmen found so much of mutual technical interest in Oklahoma and Texas that it was decided to prolong their stay in the Southwest."

Texans Gain 219 Wells

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission Saturday reported 179 oil well completions during the week for a total of 8,403 so far this year, compared to 9,889 in 1959.

There were 40 gas well completions and 84 dry holes.

The six oil wildcats included two each in Dist. 3 and 7-C and one each in Dist. 6 and 7-B. There were four gas wildcats, three in Dist. 4 and one in Dist. 9. There were 46 wildcat failures.

The 120 wells plugged included 28 oil and 8 gas.

Wildcat Strikes Dean Sand In Dawson, Flows 271 Barrels

Southern Union Gas Co., Dallas, has a Dean Sand discovery at No. 1 Janie Pitts. The wildcat was drilled as an offset to Santiago No. 1 Bowlin, Pennsylvanian discovery in the southeastern part of Dawson County.

The project flowed 271 barrels of 38 gravity oil through a quarter-inch choke from perforations between 8,370-95 feet, in 24 hours. Gas - oil ratio is 200-1, and there is no water.

The offset location to the discovery and lone producer in the Ackerly Northwest (Pennsylvanian) field is 330 feet from south and 1,755 feet from east lines of section 46-34-4n, T&P survey. It is about two miles north of Ackerly.

The Pennsylvanian strike at Santiago No. 1 Bowlin flowed at the rate of 1,860.88 barrels of oil per day, initial potential. It was finaled in August.

The latest discovery within the eight - county area is the second reported in the last three days. Friday, El Cinco Production Co. completed No. 1 Rhoda Thornton as a Clear Fork discovery in Mitchell County. Original reports, however, had the strike in the Glorieta section.

El Cinco's venture pumped 60.71 barrels of oil from Clear Fork perforations between 2,538-624 feet, plus a gas flow of 4,800 cubic feet per day. El Cinco is now testing Glorieta perforations between 2,476-99 feet in an attempt at dual completion.

Another Dawson County explorer, Texas Crude No. 1-30 Hunt, is drilling below 11,902 feet in lime, shale and chert. This venture is located 660 feet from south and east lines of labor 30-277-Glasscock CSL survey.

Active Drilling Rigs Decrease In U.S.

Active rotary and cable tool rigs in the United States dropped from 2,211 to 2,160 during the past week, according to the International Oil Scouts Assn. weekly survey.

Texas gained operations for the week, however, from 765 to 784. The West Central Texas area lost from 94 to 78.

Louisiana gained from 270 to 272, and New Mexico lost from 149 to 139.

U.S. Rotary Rigs Increase To 1,703

The number of rotary rigs actually making hole across the United States increased to 1,703 from 1,692 this past week, according to a county made by the Hughes Tool Co.

The Texas total dropped from 572 to 569, however, although the West Central Texas area registered an increase from 151 to 167.

Louisiana dropped from 278 to 271, New Mexico gained from 88 to 97, Oklahoma gained from 157 to 166, and Kansas gained from 104 to 105.

GAIN ONE

Basin Rotary Rigs Make Gain To 232

Rotary drilling activity in the Permian Basin registered its second consecutive increase this week, climbing from 220 to 232, according to the Reed Roller Bit Co. weekly survey.

The eight county area also made a gain, increasing from 20 to 21. Three counties gained one rig each, while two lost one apiece.

Dawson and Garza counties held the lead in the area with four active units each, but Dawson dropped a rig since the previous count was made.

Three counties have three units turning. Howard gained from two to three this last week, as did Martin. Sterling, with three in operation last week, finished another week with three.

Borden County upped its count from one to two this week, while Mitchell's two rigs was a loss of one. No active rig is listed for Glasscock County.

The Basin was led this past week by Lea County, N. M., with 32 units. Andrews County was second with 24, and Eddy County, N. M., and Winkler tied for third with 16 each.

The Basin survey, county-by-county, with last week's figures in parentheses, includes:

Andrews 24 (26), BORDEN 2 (1), Chaves 1 (0), Crane 13 (14), Crockett 4 (3), Culberson 2 (4), DAWSON 4 (5), Ector 11 (9) Eddy 16 (16), Fisher 3 (4), Gaines 8 (6), GARZA 4 (4), GLASSCOCK 0 (0), Hockley 1 (3), HOWARD 3 (2), Kent 2 (4), Lea 32 (27), Loving 1 (0), Lubbock 2 (1), Lynn 1 0), MARTIN 3 (2), Midland 9 (8), MITCHELL 2 (3).

The Democratic Party will accelerate demand, increase sales and profits of merchants!

INTRODUCING JOHN F. KENNEDY ASPIRANT For Political Office

In January, 1960, at the National Press Club Dinner in Washington, D.C., there arose a youngish man to declare among other things that the islands of Matsu and Quemoy should be turned over forthwith to their rightful owner, the Communist Chinese Government. Only a few knew of the event, or the man, but thus began the personal campaign of this man for political office, This relative newcomer to national politics was John F. Kennedy, the Junior Senator from Massachusetts, and the son of Joseph P. Kennedy of Boston.

For nearly eleven months, this impatient young can has carried out a ceaseless and relentless personal campaign for the political office he seeks. He has held two others, as a Congressman, and later as the Junior Senator from Massachusetts. His ambition demands a third. This time, he wants the biggest one of all, the office of President of the United States of America. From January until June, this unrelenting and expensive campaign progressed from primary to primary. Generally the opposition was the lastest with the leastest. The number of pledged delegations mounted swiftly. The first phase of this campaign culminated in June, 1960, when against considerable, but unorganized, opposition, he officially won the nomination. He had, in actuality, won weeks before. His platform, already printed and unchanged in any detail, was forcefully passed over a bitter but weakly ineffectually protesting South, that at one time was invited to go along, or leave the Party.

The second phase brought us face to face with John Kennedy, and his political philosophy. We soon learned that he is an energetic, forceful, ambitious, young man of great brilliance and intelligence. We also quickly learned that many of his methods and his philosophy were something else again

'A Platform Is To Run On'

It has been said before, and it is said of Mr. Kennedy. Do not worry about the platform. A platform is to run on, not to stand on. This is unfortunately not true of Mr. Kennedy. He wholeheartedly endorses his platform; he has in actuality in the recent past voted for it almost in its entirety. We should take a long and searching look at this platform of the New Democratic Party. It is said, also, that the platforms of the two contesting parties are the same. Nothing could be further from the truth.

In education, Mr. Kennedy states that America can meet its educational obligations only with generous Federal financial support, this assistance to take the form of Federal grants to States for the most pressing purposes, including classroom construction and teachers' salaries. Can anyone imagine the Federal Government paying a part of teachers' salaries "within the traditional framework of local control."

There is a considerable and basic difference in the platform of the contesting party. To quote: "We are aware of the fact that there is a temporary shortage of classrooms for our elementary and secondary schools in a limited number of states. But this shortage, due to the vigilant action of state legislatures and local school boards, is not increasing, but is decreasing. We shall use our full efforts in all the States of the Union to have these legislatures and school boards augment their present efforts to the end that this temporary shortage may be eliminated and that every child in this country shall have the opportunity to obtain a good education. The respective states as a permanent program can shoulder this long-standing and cherished responsibility easier than can the Federal Government with its heavy indebtedness.

"We believe moreover that any large plan of Federal aid to education, such as direct contributions to or grants for teachers' salaries can only lead ultimately to Federal domination and control of our schools to which we are unalterably opposed."

School Aid For Big Spring

Under this entirely different concept of help, Big Spring has received in the last four years more than $500,000.00 from the Federal Government for school construction, and an additional $500,000.00 for maintenance and operation of our schools; a total in excess of $1,000,000.00 without one string of Federal control. A very sound and tremendously helpful system of aid.

Mr. Kennedy also recommends a Youth Conservation Corps to give underprivileged young people a rewarding experience in a healthful environment. We do not now have a Y.C.C., For Shame. Adolph had one, Benito had one, Mao and Castro have one, Nikita has a number scattered around. Mr. Kennedy wants one, too. Would this enlightened environment be directed under "traditional local control" financed by the Federal Government?

In natural resources, Mr. Kennedy says we are neglecting their utilization and development, and holds that water rights and conservation are Federal functions, and should not be under the control of local groups or the individual states. He advocates immediate Federal construction of necessary dams for water conservation and production of electrical power, development of parks, etc. He asks also for a review of offshore boundaries, and a closing of loopholes in depletion allowances.

Mr. Kennedy is treading on very sensitive toes here in Texas. The economy of Texas and many other States depends greatly on the oil industry. In our area, over one-half the cost of building and running our local schools is paid by State aid coming directly from petroleum leases and development. In the immediate vicinity of Big Spring to the North and South and East, the percentage is even greater and this does not include the tremendous amounts paid in local taxes, or the tremendous economic exchange in wages and services. Mr. Kennedy is playing 'foot in the mouth disease' with a vengeance. We have but to follow Mr. Kennedy down the rosy road to ruin. Who in Big Spring is not somehow dependent on the petroleum industry, which even now has an average net profit less than most every other major industry. (Really is it fair to mention profit in the presence of Mr. Kennedy.)

How much different is black than white. Mr. Kennedy's contestant does not feel this way about natural resources. This other platform believes 27½% is fair and permanent, that the oil industry is the backbone of our national economy and defense, that the State of Texas extends 10½ miles into the Gulf, and that our natural resources should be developed by the individual States wherever possible, with Federal help and financing only where it is not. There is a considerable degree of both kinds of development going on right now. We may cast our eyes to the South where San Angelo has two completed dams and a third under construction. This is water conservation of the highest degree, with Federal help. To the North the Canadian River Municipal Water District is well along in developing water conservation. To the East and Southeast are Big Spring's own Moss Creek and Powell Lakes, and if we will but reflect a few moments and look to the Northeast, we see an astounding mirage.

Lake Without Federal Aid

Through the wisdom and determination and intelligence of some of our finest citizens, and some of those from Odessa and Snyder, and with our own individual co-operation, exists Lake Thomas. This is something of which we can be justly proud. It was built without any Federal aid, without any Federal money, and it is not under any Federal control. The people of the Tennessee Valley Authority did not help pay for it, as we did, and still are paying for theirs. We find progress, like oil, is where you find it. Free people can find and do anything.

In the field of medicine, the difference is again as black and white. Mr. Kennedy wants to include medical care now for some 15,000,000 Americans under a 'compulsory' system, tied to social security. When this compulsion is extended to the next group, and the next, what will we have? His contestant believes a voluntary system, with encouragement to commercial carriers and insurance organizations to develop sound coverage plans, is the American way, and would protect the personal relationship of patient and physician.

Mr. Kennedy has gone to much expense, and taken great pains, to picture this great need for a compulsory system with Mr. and Mrs. McNamara. It would appear that Mr. Kennedy does not know the American people any better than they know him. Certainly Mr. McNamara seems to have more faith in his ability to take care of himself than Mr. Kennedy would admittedly give him credit for. Most assuredly after reading Thursday's Big Spring Herald, it is doubtful if Mr. Kennedy can tell by taste his own feet from Bobby's. Mr. Kennedy should come to Big Spring someday to see how many people of any age or income are without medical care, and without Federal aid or compulsion.

More People At Work

In economic growth and business, we find ourselves in a severe depression, according to one economic expert, but never have so many Americans been at work, never have wages been higher, or take home pay greater. Our gross national product is the greatest in history, and reported this week by the Texas Employment Commission (and no favor to Mr. Kennedy) was a record high in employment for the month of September (the latest month reported). Mature professional businessmen tell us that economic activity is not constant, and never will be. One industry may be down, and others up at any given time. Presently oil exploration and development is down, a natural aftermath of the exceptional activity during the Suezz crisis. This was predicted more than a year ago. Our economic expert would have us double production by Federal grants until we had a surplus above ground equal to wheat and cotton. The oil industry wishes most to be left alone; certainly with no more Federal meddling.

In agriculture, who knows anything? Until Mr. Kennedy in 1958 began preparing for his campaign for political office, he was one of Mr. Benson's firmest supporters. Now he changes to blame his contestant, who has never liked Mr. Benson, for all the farmers' troubles. Many of our farmers wish more controls and higher parity. Many want the opposite. No one has been right in agriculture for 30 years. The Farm Journal, with a circulation of three million, states that the nation will do better under Nixon and Lodge. The Farm Journal gives three reasons:

"1. Nixon and Lodge are better qualified to guide the nation through times of peril.

2. Kennedy stands for bigger government and bigger spending with little knowledge of where the money is coming from.

3. The farmers' income is more likely to increase under Nixon, since he depends more on voluntary programs, and Kennedy more on compulsory ones."

Government Finance

In government finance, we enter a world of make believe. Mr. Kennedy's ideas are nothing less than staggering. He prefers to overlook the fact that the Federal Reserve Board, like the FBI and Civil Service System, are removed from political control. Undoubtedly, he would change this also, by Presidential edict if necessary. The Reserve Board now is the agency that sets discount and interest rates; it is non-partisan and non-political for the very purpose to prevent meddlesome interference by such as he. A very wise and apparently necessary arrangement.

Mr. Kennedy advises us that he can take an 80 billion dollar unbalanced budget, increase military strength and spending, add 15 billion of give away grants and aids for everything, reduce taxes, and come out with a balanced budget. Is Mr. Kennedy really this naive, or does he just have a total callous disregard for fact, or such a low opinion of the intelligence of the American people. Whichever it may be, he is equally as dangerous to the Country. A sound fiscal policy, and a sound dollar are absolute necessities at this time.

We should mention one more comparison of Mr. Kennedy's New Democratic Party platform and that with the well suppressed platform of the Democratic Party of Texas. A true comparison is revealing, but unfortunately, a copy of the latter is hard to find. Again, it is the difference as of night and day, and we should remember that this platform was formed and adopted by Texans in Texas at the State Democratic Convention, September 20, 1960. We are asked to be loyal to our Party. Which one? Mr. Kennedy's radical departure down the road to far frontiers, or the Jeffersonian type of our own Democratic Party of the State of Texas? Our own State convention and platform repudiates everything Mr. Kennedy stands for right down the line, and surprisingly enough, they did not endorse Mr. Kennedy's candidacy, or that of Mr. Johnson. To say it is the same Party is a perversion of fact; a Democrat believing and belonging to the Democratic Party of the State of Texas could not in any manner support the present National platform.

Foreign Relations

We possibly all agree that foreign relations will present the nation's most critical problems and decisions for the foreseeable future. The solution of these problems demands an adherence to principle and the utmost in patience, knowledge, experience, and mature judgement. Mr. Kennedy states that the next President will have advice from many sources and advisors, but that the decision will be that of the President alone. He has stated repeatedly that if he becomes President, he will have advice, but he alone will make these decisions.

The past history of our country in its relations with others has been painstakingly built on a reputation of trust by following a steadfast and consistent course of strict adherence to our solemn treaties and obligations. We have many times correctly criticized Russia for its callous disragard of treaties, the latest count being 52 that they have broken. In the U2 incident, the principle involved in the status of Quemoy and Matsu, and in the Cuban crisis, Mr. Kennedy has shown somewhat less in patience and mature judgement than what should be required of him. In stating that we should have required free elections in Cuba, and recommending we now should instigate and support a revolution inside that country, he has advocated a course contrary to our treaties with Cuba and with all our American friends. Statements such as those have resulted in immediate deep concern, (or elation) not only in the governments of Central and South America, but in countries all around the World. Rightfully so, they wonder what dependence they could place on our other obligations and commitments. The reputation and prestige of our Country could be destroyed in no quicker or better way than in mistakes such as these. We in this Country should wonder how dependable Mr. Kennedy might be under the tremendous pressure the President must face. We can be certain our friends, the Russians, will provide the strongest competition by the best trained professionals they have, and we need only to look next door and see what an amateur has accomplished in a few short months.

Our Future Is At Stake

Since he will not discuss this question, we have no idea who his advisors might be. We cannot easily surmise, since only Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Bowles have been mentioned, and indeed few other names come easily to mind. Judged by the few people that he has drawn around him, and the very, very few that supported him before he won the nomination, we cannot in our hearts feel the sense of deep security we have in all honesty recently enjoyed under the present administration. The future of our Country, indeed our very lives, are at stake.

This has been an attempt to introduce to you Mr. John Kennedy, aspirant for political office.

In these times of large, cheering crowds, and flowing speeches, it is sometimes easy to overlook the basic principles in which we believe and lead our lives. If we lose but one small principle, or freedom, the rest is that much easier lost. We feel we know Mr. Kennedy well enough by now, and we hope you know him well enough, and fear his political philosophy, which demands the loss of more and more of our freedoms, to send him back to Boston. We earnestly hope you will add up all his promises, and study carefully his platform, and observe his voting record which endorses it entirely. Mr. Kennedy is not kidding; he believes in a firm, strong, Central Government, which is all things for all people, the Government by the few for the many.

Political Polygamist

It does not seem quite fair in closing to overlook his fellow aspirant entirely. Since we do know Mr. Johnson very well, it seems possible to discuss him with two observations. Mr. Johnson is running for two political offices at the same time. Does he believe with many that this Country is no more ready for Mr. Kennedy than Mr. Kennedy is for the Country, or does he actually hope to win both, and personally select a "representative" of the people of Texas in the U.S. Senate? The deep irony of this is not so much the actions of a political polygamist, as he has been called, but the fact that the citizens of Texas allow him to do it.

Mr. Johnson has run the whole gamut of political oratory, but now has settled on one particular theme. He is threatening the people of Texas that if they do not vote for he and Mr. Kennedy, that the depletion allowance and the Tidelands will be reduced, or removed. He has gone so far as to promise us this will occur. By whom? There is only one man and one platform that demands such changes, and Mr. Johnson joyfully embraces the leadership of that man, and has repeatedly stated, "this is a platform I can endorse and run on." Mr. Johnson has chased the tail full circle from trust to betrayal, and now back to threats.

If the people of this Country wish to give away the freedoms of their children, they will never have a better chance than to turn their future care over to such as Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Johnson. If, on the contrary, we wish to save for them a chance for continued freedom and individual opportunity, we have never had a better chance than now.

A Pat on the Back

FOR JACK Y. SMITH

Jack Smith waited a long time for that membership card. He finally made it—and was recently accepted in the Cosden Twenty-five Year Club. In "growing up" with Cosden, Jack hasn't just watched Big Spring grow—he's helped it.

"I was hired strictly on ability—to play baseball!", Jack recalls. That was in 1934. Fortunately, officials saw other possibilities in the young first baseman. He is now their director of industrial relations, a postion he has held since 1943.

In addition to his official duties, Jack has found time for a score of activities that reflect his pride in Big Spring's civic attainments. He served three terms as a city commissioner and has held every office in the Downtown Lions Club—besides acting as their deputy district governor. He is proud to have been charter president of the local YMCA whose program he still supports. Active for many years in the American Red Cross, he once served as president of the Howard-Glasscock county chapter and is a current board member. Cosden sponsors two scout troops with Jack serving as institutional representative on the Boy Scout Council. Professional memberships include the American Petroleum Institute and the Western Petroleum Refinery Association.

There were earlier times when bowling or golf took up Jack's spare time and he was president of the Big Spring Country Club. That was before he discovered the great satisfaction he gets from doing volunteer state hospital work. Now he devotes many hours to further improvements in the hospital system. Besides being vice-chairman of the State Volunteer Council, he has served two terms as chairman of the local group. Active in the State Mental Hospital Development Association, he has served as its president for the past three years.

Both Jack and Mrs. Smith, the former Edna Faye Rutledge, grew up and attended school in Abilene. An athletic scholarship later started Jack at Hardin-Simmons. Their children are Jacqueline, who is now Mrs. Lewis McKnight of Del Rio, and Steven Alan, who lives with his parents at 206 Washington Blvd. The Smiths are members of the First Baptist Church.

We Always Have Time To Serve You.

We always have time for you!

Cosden Cup Awards

R. M. Johnson, Cosden sales manager; J. R. Hensley, Big Spring Country Club president; and Jack Wallace, chairman of the last Big Spring Invitational Golf Tournament (left to right above), stand proudly back of the silver tray, water heater, coffee and tea service which was awarded to the Big Spring Cosden Club matches held in conjunction with the Labor Day meet here. Wallace also captained the team that won the matches. The silver service will remain at the club. Engravings on a wall plaque will tell each year which team won the cup matches.

Army Shocks Orange By Score Of 9 To 6

NEW YORK, N.Y. (AP) — A fighting Army team, which pounced on every break, handed national champion Syracuse its second straight defeat 9-6 Saturday in a fierce football game decided by a 29-yard field goal by quarterback Tom Blanda.

The game, played before a crowd of 66,000 at Yankee Stadium, ended in wild hysteria with Army on the Syracuse 1-foot line after a pass interception by Roger Zailskas.

With Syracuse still threatening in the fading minutes, Zailskas plucked down a pass thrown by Syracuse's Tom Gilburg on a fake punt formation and took it from the Syracuse 45 to the 14. Army pounded down to the 1-foot line before time ran out.

With an iron man fullback, Al Rushatz, playing a powerful role, Army went 50 yards in the second period to set up the field goal by Blanda.

In the third period, the aroused Cadets went 68 yards on 16 plays, using up more than eight minutes of the clock, in scoring their touchdown. Sub quarterback Dick Eckert stole across from the 2 on a fake and keep play.

Outcharged through most of the regionally televised game, Syracuse stormed back for a touchdown early in the fourth period on the pounding hooves of Art Baker and Ernie Davis.

The Orangemen went 81 yards after getting the ball on a pass interception and scored when Dick Easterly hit end Ken Erickson with a 15-yard pass into the end zone.

It was the second straight setback for Syracuse, which had a 16-game winning streak snapped by Pitt last week and it was the sixth victory in eight games for Army, an 8-point underdog.

McAllen Zone Champ In 4A Ball In South

By The Associated Press

The Class AAAA division of Texas schoolboy football has definite district championship favorites but none is due to be determined this week as the field levels up the 16 races for the big showdown.

McAllen is a zone champion in Dist. 14 but must face the other zone winner next week. The other winner is expected to be Corpus Christi Miller. But Miller must beat Corpus Christi Ray, the defending state champion, this week to make it.

At least four districts have multiple ties for the lead that may take committee meetings to unravel.

One clear cut leader is Wichita Falls, a perennial finalist or state champion. The Coyotes are out front in Dist. 4.

Garland also leads Dist. 7 undisputed and Aldine is tops in Dist. 9, while Port Arthur paces Dist. 11 and can win the title by beating Orange Nov. 11.

Freeport has become the favorite in Dist. 12, where Baytown basked so long in the limelight. Baytown, the No. 1 team in the state, took a 7-6 licking from Galena Park Friday night in one of the major upsets of the season. Freeport is unbeaten and untied and can win the district title if it beats Baytown Friday night.

San Antonio Jefferson leads Dist. 15 undisputed.

This week's schedule by districts (all games conference unless indicated otherwise):

1. Thursday: El Paso Jefferson vs. El Paso Irvin (non-conference). Friday: El Paso Burges vs. El Paso Austin, Ysleta Bel Air at El Paso Tech, Ysleta at El Paso High.

2. Friday: Big Spring at San Angelo, Abilene at Midland, San Angelo at Odessa Permian.

3. Friday: Amarillo at Lubbock Saturday: Lubbock Monterrey at Amarillo Tascosa, Plainview at Pampa.

4. Friday: Irving at Grand Prairie, Wichita Falls at Birdville.

5. Thursday: Fort Worth Eastern Hills vs. Fort Worth North Side. Friday: Fort Worth Paschal vs. Fort Worth Arlington Heights. Saturday: Fort Worth Carter-Riverside vs. Fort Worth Tech.

6. Thursday: Dallas Hillcrest vs. Dallas Samuell, Dallas Kimball vs. Dallas South Oak Cliff. Friday: Dallas Sunset vs. Dallas Adamson, Dallas Bryan Adams vs. Dallas Jefferson.

7. Friday: Sherman at Denton, Denison at Highland Park.

8. Friday: Marshall at Texarkana, & Thursday: Houston Jeff Davis vs. Houston Milby. Friday: Aldine at Houston Waltrip.

10. Thursday: Houston Austin vs. Houston San Jacinto. Friday: Houston Bellaire vs. Houston Jones, Houston Lamar at Spring Branch.

11. Friday: Orange at Port Arthur, Beaumont South Park at Port Neches, Beaumont vs. Beaumont French.

12. Friday: South Houston at Texas City, Freeport at Baytown, Houston Smiley at Galena Park, Pasadena at Galveston.

13. Friday: Bryan at Temple, Austin McCallum at Waco, Austin Travis vs. Austin.

14. Thursday: Corpus Christi Carroll at Victoria. Friday: Harlingen at McAllen, Brownsville at Alice, Corpus Christi Ray vs. Corpus Christi Miller.

15. Thursday: San Antonio Edison vs. San Antonio Alamo Heights. Friday: San Antonio Jefferson vs. San Antonio Harlandale, San Antonio Highlands vs. San Antonio MacArthur.

Fund For Hospital

David Simms, exalted ruler of the Big Spring Elks Lodge 1386, hands Robert Stripling, First Federal Savings and Loan, a check for $1,000 which is part of the permanent endowment fund for the Elks Crippled Children's Hospital at Ottine, Texas. W. C. Ragsdale, hospital committeeman for the Lodge, was on hand last week for the deposit. The state organization sent the money to the local lodge for deposit here, marking the lodge as caretaker for the fund of the hospital.

Tompkins Boosts Lead For Cowboy Champion Title

DENVER—Harry Tompkins of Dublin, Tex. boosted his lead for 1960's all around world champion cowboy title to $30,057, as the Cow Palace rodeo at San Francisco ended last Sunday with a bonanza $56,750 pot, dominated in great part by southwest contestants. Tompkins earned $1,163 for sixth in bull riding.

The defending all around champion Jim Shoulders, Henryetta, Okla., won the California bull riding event for $1,547 but his current seasonal earnings of $20,901 makes an almost impossible task of overhauling his old traveling partner Tompkins before the year is out.

Only one major contest remains, at St. Louis, Mo., before the National Finals rodeo at Dallas in late December, where world championships will be decided. Shoulders has occupied the all around throne, most coveted award in the sport, since 1956. The title is awarded to the top money winner in two or more rodeo events.

Six cowboys earned over $2,000 each at the 10-day contest and fifteen others pocketed over $1,000 each.

The calf roping event went to Dean Oliver, Boise, Ida., seasonal leader, who won $2,141; Olin Young, Lovington, N. M., was second for $2,078; Glen Franklin, House, N. M., third, $1,769, and Buddy Groff, Bandera, Tex., fifth with $911.

Oliver now totals $25,772 in pursuit of the '60 roping title, an award he captured in 1955 and 1958. His earnings so far this year already have eclipsed the record set for 1959 by Jim Bob Altizer, Del Rio, Tex., of $24,728.

Event leaders include Enoch Walker, Cody, Wyo., $18,147; Jack Buchbom, Cassville, Wis., bareback bronc, $15,149; Tompkins, bull riding, $16,372; Bob A. Robinson, Rockland, Ida., steer wrestling, $11,910.

Organization Of Auxiliary Set This Month

Organization of a city auxiliary police force as a part of the local Civil Defense movement is expected by the end of November, according to W. D. Berry, director.

The city force has only a chief at present. Berry said that Cuin M. Grigsby has been appointed auxiliary police chief for the city unit. Berry made the appointment with the approval of Mayor Lee O. Rogers.

About 40 volunteer members of the auxiliary are needed, the director said, and all men interested are urged to pick up application blanks at the police station. Applications will be screened by Police Chief Jay Banks.

Berry said that several persons filled out applications for a similiar auxiliary police program three or four years ago when the idea was first formulated, but that the applications have since been misplaced at city hall. These persons will need to fill out new application forms, Berry said.

A county auxiliary police unit has already been organized. Eddy Owens is chief of the Howard County unit, while Dick Fielder heads the mounted patrol division of the county organization.

Both city and county units will work with the respective law enforcement agencies to aid in times of disaster and emergency.

The Wrong Key?

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—They had a big ceremony a week ago, dedicating a little island as the site of Miami's new port.

Thursday, a bulldozer began pushing down trees, clearing the land. Four acres had been worked before someone began making some calculations.

"Oops, wrong island," was the comment. Everything should have been on an island 500 feet to the west.

ABC CLUB

Political Speakers Talk On Depletion Allowance

Members of the American Business Club heard discussions by representatives of the two major political parties at the regular luncheon held Friday at the Settles Hotel.

Paul Meek, representing the Republicans, stressed the need for retaining the 27½ per cent depletion clause allowed certain industries for seeking out new areas for development.

He contended that the GOP candidates had come out solidly for retention of such a depletion and, for that reason, would be best for Texas which, he added, leaned heavily upon the oil industry prosperity and jobs.

Joe Pendleton appeared before the gathering on behalf of the Democratic party and said his speech in no way was to be considered a rebutfal to anything Meek had said.

He then reminded the group that the Democratic representatives from this state had consistently voted against any and all proposals to reduce the depletion allowance and Sen. John Kennedy, the party's presidential candidate, had also gone on record as opposing any cut.

Pendleton also said that the Democratic party had often been accused of promoting a so-called welfare state but added that the GOP's had, from time to time, "helped the welfare" of big corporations with special legislation.

Gilbert Shine made a short talk before the group, acquainting his listeners with the plot and the intent of the upcoming Oberammergau Passion Play.

Justin Holmes was called to the speaker's podium and was presented with a past president's pin and plaque, a certificate of merit for his recent term of office.

Bob Rogers, the current president of the ABClub, presented the pin and plaque to Holmes and warmly praised his zeal and enthusiasm for the job he had done.

Wayne Basden, program chairman, introduced the various speakers to the gathering.

Phemister Heads Lubbock College Fund Drive Here

Roy Phemister has been named chairman of the Howard County financial campaign on behalf of Lubbock Christian College, according to Dr. F. W. Mattox, president of the college.

The total campaign goal has been set at $2,077,000 with the Howard County goal accounting for $43,900 of this. Lubbock Christian College is now in its fourth year of operation as a liberal arts junior college. It has an enrollment of approximately 380, total campus assets of $2,000,000, including an auditorium - administration building, a 60-room women's dormitory, 14 semi-permanent buildings. A giant 382x182-foot field house is now under construction and will be one of the largest in the nation.

Proceeds from the campaign are for completing the financing two present permanent buildings and the field house, erection of a 130-room male dormitory, $300,000 for a 3-year operational fund and $120,000 for student aid.

KENNEDY and DEPLETION

Senator Kennedy has voted in the past to reduce depletion allowance for the largest producers. HOWEVER, for those producers from five million dollars down, he would maintain the depletion allowance at 27½% per cent.

What does this really mean to the Independent Oil Operators of Texas?

There are more than 7,000 independent oil operators in this State. They are responsible for more than 90% of all wells drilled in Texas. Of these 7,000 producers, less than 10% of them have a production income of more than 1 million dollars per year; less than ⅓ of 1% have a production income of more than 5 million dollars per year.

We contend that Senator Kennedy's ideas on depletion would aid the Texas oil operator for the following reasons:

At this time there are a few extremely large companies involved in producing and importing foreign oil. Some of these companies produce as much as 1 million dollars per day, or more, in these foreign areas;

We do not believe that oil produced in other lands should enjoy the same depletion percentage as domestic production;

In 1952 Texas producers had almost 3 times as many producing days as we have now. There were almost twice as many rigs running than there are now. Producing days are now the lowest in history. Unemployment among drilling crews has never been higher.

There is only one explanation for this ruinous situation and that is because this Republican Administration has not seen proper to adequately reduce the importation of cheap foreign crude. We are not in our present sad condition because of something Jack Kennedy might do, but because of what the Republicans have already done.

We agree with the statement John Kennedy made in Wichita Falls Thursday: "Nobody can live on eight days a month."

We do not believe that the oil business can afford another 4 years under the Republican administration!

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 6,1960

MR. AND MRS. ROYCE REGEON, RESA AND NANETTA
. . . big sister's great!

Men Are Out-Numbered In The Family Of Royce Regeon

"It's a female house," says Royce Regeon the proud father of two daughters, Nanetta who is four years old and Resa Riedale, just seven weeks old. Other feminine members of the Regeon household are Mrs. Regeon and the two family pets, a collie who answers to the name of Barry and a Chihuahua called Frisky.

The Regeons moved here from Temple. However, their home town is Sonora where they both attended elementary and high school. The couple dated for six years before their marriage.

In 1951 Regeon went into the armed services and was stationed at Fort Bliss until his discharge in 1954. During his army career he worked with guided missiles.

Regeon attended San Angelo Junior College and the University of Texas. Mrs. Regeon is a graduate of the University of Texas, where she majored in English.

At the present Regeon is assistant manager of the local Montgomery Ward Store. Before coming to the new assignment he was assistant manger of the Temple store. He has been with the company for six years having his first job with them in Austin.

The hobby list for the Regeon family is headed by hunting and fishing. The three older members enjoy the deer season most of all. However, in the summer they like boating and skiing. Mrs. Regeon likes to read when she can find the time, but since the arrival of Resa her reading time has been limited.

The Regeons are making their home at 1103 Lamar, and they plan to attend the First Methodist Church.

Parents-To-Be Share Own, Others' Worry

By ANNE RUGGERI
AP Newsfeatures Writer

"What will happen if I drop my baby?"

"How will we ever adjust to having another person in the family?"

"How will I know what to do with the baby the first few weeks?"

Doubts. Fears. Guilts. One by one these are brought to light by young parents-to-be in unique discussion groups which have the same therapeutic effect as Alcoholics or Divorcees. Anonymous.

Expectant mothers and fathers gain confidence and knowledge by sharing their problems. Throughout the meetings they are led by a nurse trained to direct the talk sessions along helpful directions.

These groups are the result of a fresh approach to parent education developed by the Child Study Association of America. With funds provided by the State Department of Health, New York City has already set up these "mother worry" sessions.

According to the program director, Mrs. Aline Auerbach, the association expects that within the year these programs will be established throughout the nation.

At present nurses from various parts of the country are taking a series of three-week training courses in New York. As they finish their briefings they will return to set up programs in cooperation with local public health groups and nursing schools.

The "talk it out" sessions consist of eight programs.

During the sessions, mothers, gently prodded by the nurses, bring out a variety of questions ranging from "Should I breast feed my baby?" to "What will his arrival mean to me and my husband?"

Through the exchange of ideas and experiences parents begin to work out their own answers, with the nurse contributing factual information where necessary and guiding the discussions.

"We feel the program has been successful so far and the nurses are enthusiastic about it. They say it's very stimulating and rewarding," Mrs. Auerbach says.

Election Tradition

If you are planning to follow the all-American tradition of staying up until the final election results are in, you will want to be ready with assorted foods and snacks to last the evening out. This election buffet stars free choice of food — chicken chateau, gelatin salads, and a snack tray.

For Election Night Buffets Offer Free Choice of Foods

On election night, it's an all-American tradition to stay up until the final results are in, for all want to know who the next president is to be. Whether this is a family or a party affair, you will want to be ready with assorted foods and snacks galore to last the evening out.

Anticipating this historic moment, an appropriate menu for an "Election Day Buffet" has been developed. Emphasis is on dishes which can be prepared in advance and on an assortment of ready-to-use foods which permit each individual to elect what he chooses to eat. This makes it possible for the homemaker to join the family and guests in keeping track of the votes as they come in.

Here is the proposed all-American buffet with a free choice of foods for all:

Election Day Buffet

Sharp natural Cheddar cheese; assorted relishes; chicken under cheese; lemon-flavored instant whipped potatoes; variety of gelatin salads; mixed green salad; sour-cream roquefort dressing; hot biscuits; (the packaged refrigerated kind); liquified chilled nonfat dry milk; instant coffee.

Here are the easy recipes:

Chicken Under Cheese
(Makes 4 servings)

1 (2½ lb.) chicken, cut into 8 pieces
2 tbsps. melted butter
Salt
Pepper
1½ cups (one 12-oz. can) chicken consomme
1 medium-size onion, finely chopped
⅛ tsp. thyme
⅛ tsp. rosemary
⅛ tsp. dry mustard
1 lb. Chateau cheese, shredded
2-3 cup (one 4-oz. can) Brandywine fancy mushroom buttons
1 (10-oz.) pkg. frozen asparagus, cooked

Place chicken on broiler pan, skin side down. Brush with melted butter and season with salt and pepper. Broil 5 to 7 inches from heat for about 10 minutes, or until brown. Turn chicken, brush with melted butter, and season with salt and pepper. Continue to broil about 35 minutes, or until chicken is tender.

Combine consomme, onion, thyme, rosemary and mustard in a medium-size saucepan. Bring to a boil.

Add shredded cheese, and continue to cook over low heat, stirring constantly until cheese is melted. Place broiled chicken in a buttered 9x7x2-inch baking pan. Arrange mushrooms and cooked asparagus over top.

Pour cheese sauce over all. If desired, sprinkle with paprika. Place in broiler about 5 to 7 inches from heat for 8 to 10 minutes, or until sauce is lightly browned and bubbly. Serve hot.

Note for freezing — Cover prepared dish with aluminum foil and cool. Place in freezer. To bake after freezing, place covered dish in a cold oven. Bring oven temperature to moderate (325 degrees F.) and slowly bake for 1 to 1¼ hours.

After first one-half hour of baking, spoon sauce over top of chicken and vegetables to redistribute it.

Election Cake
(Makes one medium-size loaf)

2 (9.2-oz.) pkgs. Coffee Ring
2 tbsps. chopped Tropical Brand Citron
10 Tropical Brand Red Glaced Cherries

Remove coffee ring dough from packages. Do not unfold dough. Reserve two small foil envelopes containing glaze and the two larger ones containing frosting. Butter a 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan. Place the strips of dough folded side down in pan. Cut off ends of small foil envelopes and spread the glaze over top of dough. Sprinkle citron and cherries evenly over the dough. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 25 minutes, or until golden brown and baked throughout. Remove from pan. Place on wire cake rack. Cut corners from large foil envelopes and spread frosting over warm loaf. Serve warm or cold.

Whipped Potatoes
(Makes 6 to 8 servings)

1½ cups water
1 cup cold milk
2 envelopes Instant Whipped Potato Flakes
2 eggs
½ cup sugar
½ tsp. salt
2 tbsps. lemon juice
2 tbsps. grated lemon rind

Pour water into a medium-size saucepan and bring to a boil. Remove from heat and quickly add cold milk and potato flakes. Beat briskly with a fork until all moisture is absorbed by the potato flakes. In a small bowl, blend eggs, sugar and salt. Add to potatoes, blending well with a fork. Stir in lemon juice and lemon rind.

Place in a lightly buttered 1-½-quart casserole. Brush with melted butter. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15 to 30 minutes, or until lightly browned.

Sour Cream-Roquefort Dressing
(Makes 1½ cups)

1 (3 oz.) triangle Roquefort Cheese
1 tbsp. lemon juice
1 cup Sour Cream

In a small bowl, mash Roquefort cheese with tines of fork. Blend in lemon juice. Fold in sour cream. This dressing is good served with Orange Mandarin Gelatine Salad or with a mixed green salad. Store left-over dressing in tightly closed container in refrigerator.

Sour Cream-Roquefort Dressing With Mayonnaise
(Makes 2 Cups)

1 (3 oz.) triangle Roquefort Cheese
1 tbsp. lemon juice
¼ cup wine vinegar
½ cup Sour Cream
1 cup mayonnaise.

In a small bowl, mash Roquefort cheese with tines of fork. Blend in lemon juice and vinegar. Fold in sour cream and mayonnaise.

Has Glamour Secret, She Says

Kim Novak feels the secret of glamor lies in self-exploration. You have to uncover your individuality rather than go along with the current fashion. She is soon to be seen in "Pepe" for Columbia Pictures.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

To Be Individual Goal Of Kim Novak

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—"Is Kim Novak as beautiful off the screen as she is on?" is a question repeatedly asked by her fans, and the answer is "Yes." An eyeliner, mascara and a light lipstick are all Kim needs. Her bone structure and coloring do the rest.

I find Kim much more attractive now than when we first met. This was soon after Columbia had signed her with the determination to make her a star. We had our pictures taken together at that first lunch and I must confess at that time I wasn't sure that she would make it.

The other day driving to her hillside home in Bel-Air, I thought about how much had happened to this girl from Chicago, and how far she had traveled.

"The moment I decided to listen to myself and not be influenced by others, I was on my way," Kim said this curled up on the floor of her all-purple den.

"You can't find happiness in life with self-deception. This is more subtle than out and out phoniness. It can come about from a desire to please, or out of respect for authority but." Kim declared, "I know that I have to go along with what seems right to me. My whole life changed when I learned this.

"At one time I was a wall flower—not at all popular," said Kim. Coming from someone with Kim's beauty, this was hard to believe. "At high school I was never accepted by the group. I didn't know why and I tried copying the most popular girls, but it didn't do anything for me. They had school dances on Friday night and I never had many partners; I remember one night no one asked me to dance at all. I cried all the way home and part of the night.

"My mother must have heard me, for the next Friday, when I said I wasn't going to the dance, she insisted, 'You can't give up.' She brought me a dress of my sister's that I loved. It was my favorite shade of blue-purple.

"This dress didn't really fit me but I felt wonderful in it. And when I went to the dance that night I had an entirely different attitude. I felt desirable, and others must have felt it too, for I was invited to dance right away and I had one partner after another all evening. The very same boys who ignored me last week were being attracted to me.

I was not outgoing before, but with acceptance I became comfortable and animated and things that had been hidden inside by shyness and fear came out; that night my personality was born. It was there all the time, but it had to be expressed and as long as I was trying to be popular instead of trying to be myself, I was a victim of self-deception.

"Now I am glad I had my growing pains young. My troubles came to me early, but I had learned how wrong it was not to be myself. So when I came to Hollywood I did not make the mistake so many do, of trying to copy the star who is on top.

"When you are in school your individuality may make you suffer. I was teased because my voice was low, but it's an asset to an actress. I realize now that by not making it with the group, I was forced to become an individual and go it alone.

"I was so convinced that I should follow what I felt was right for me that I went all over Chicago looking for a light lipstick. All I could find were dark red ones which were in fashion. I had won a scholarship at the Art Institute so I decided to mix my own and I put lipsticks on a pallet and blended them with white." Kim smiled, "That's what they do today, but I've been using this for years."

I was pleasantly aware of Kim's scent and remarked, "The first time we met you were not wearing perfume."

"I couldn't seem to find one I liked so I kept off of them until one came along that I could feel happy with and wear all the time."

Kim has never married. "I want a man who can't be dominated, who will assert himself and make me respect his decisions. The physical appearance of a man is not important to me. I am attracted to taste in a man—that kind of sensitivity that anticipates what you mean and desire."

LOVELY COMPLEXION

You, too, can have a lovely complexion by following the simple routines offered in Leaflet M-55, "Complexion Magic." Your skin must be nourished from inside as well as out. Here in Leaflet M-55 is a five-point program: 1. Food 2. Rest 3. Breathing correctly 4. Disposition 5. Habits—of which all are important to build and keep a clear, beautiful complexion. For your copy of this vital leaflet, send only 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Big Spring Herald, P. O. Box 1111, Los Angeles 53, California.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

In order that we all get to places we need to be and get our children to the schools they attend at a certain time, I propose a synchronization of the watches and clocks in Big Spring. The radio gives one time; the television tells you it's 45 after (meaning whatever time zone you happen to be in); the high school has a time of its own, as perhaps do the junior high schools and each of the elementary schools. None of these times seem to coincide with the clock we go by at home; neither does the one at the office. In fact, if I had the time I couldn't tell it . . . and match the time anyone else has. It does make it hard to get the school children there on the dot without knowing where the dot is.

It will be a glorious day when the traffic light is finally installed at the intersection of FM 700 and Highway 87. While there is always a great battle for supremacy among the drivers of automobiles at intersections, the greatest one seems to be after football games and on Sunday afternoons at this particular point. Nerves are frazzled even finer when the young people going to their favorite meeting place swap chances with the crowd leaving the movie drive-in who are seemingly dedicated to the purpose of not allowing any cross traffic to get through.

'Be Feminine' She Tells Career Girls

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The working girl sroudl maintain femininity above all else, says one of France's most elegant working women, Mrs. Marcel Rochas.

Men do not like brisk business women, believes this Parisian beauty who spends three days weekly running a perfume business inherited when her husband died five years ago.

The working girl should develop her personality, attitudes and clothing along feminine lines to dispel the notion that she is a manly part of a man's world.

Keeping feminine-looking after work is especially important to the married working girl, she says.

"French women do try to emphasize their feminine charm even though they must earn a living. They have no desire to impress a man with their business sense."

That is why Mrs. Rochas advises American girls not to discuss their business affairs with their husbands.

"Men like to speak about themselves so he will expect you to listen to his problems."

The perfume executive's schooling came from another Parisian career woman, France's first woman dentist, her mother.

How does Mrs. Rochas, now herself a mother of two teen-agers 17 and 16, suggest that American working women arrive at elegance and good taste in understated fashion?

During the interview the French woman who looks much younger than her mid-30 years, wore a simple, sleeveless, beige tweed dress and turquoise earrings.

"I like contrasts in clothes. I often choose blue because it is a tranquil color. But I wear red also, because it is dynamic. Clothes should be chosen to suit your mood. Black is wonderful for the woman who is not very elegant. It will help make her so."

It is never elegant to be overdressed, she points out. She should choose from a necklace, pin or earrings for daytime wear, not wear all three. But then, certain pieces of jewelry should not be worn too early in the day.

The perfume-maker likes perfume when she wears furs, evening or cocktail dresses but does not believe that perfume should be worn with simple pullover dresses or to the office.

Nigerian Women Are In Public

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—Nigerian independence has given a tremendous boost to women's emancipation in the country's predominantly Muslim northern region.

Girls in the vast spaces of the North who have lived for years in Islamic seclusion are now getting out and about in the world of men.

A Lagos newspaper columnist says Northern women are now getting ready "to work side by side with their men for the progress of our newly-born nation. Gone are the days when they were content to leave all the work to the menfolk."

More and more Northern women are taking up teaching, nursing, and office work which previously were closed to them.

One has made history by becoming the first Northern girl to be appointed assistant manager of a busy Government-financed hotel. Previously women of the North would seldom have been seen in public in a hotel before independence was proclaimed, Oct. 1.

Dallas Homes Open For Visitors As Part Of Festival Attractions

Visitors to the 1960 Dallas Festival will have the opportunity to tour 10 luxurious Dallas residences opened to the public on two weekends in November as a festival benefit.

Half the homes will be open, Nov. 12, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and half on Nov. 19 and 20, same hours. Tickets will be $2.50 for each tour itinerary or 75 cents for each home, to be ordered from the festival office, or the Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

Homes in Preston Hollow area will be open for the first tour. Among these are:

The French country house of Mr. and Mrs. Phil J. Schepps, 10211 Hollow Way. Built in 1954 on two-and-a-half wooded acres, the Schepps home is constructed of handmade antique brick reclaimed from old Dallas buildings. A terrace designed by the late Arthur Berger leads down to a spring-fed creek. The house, decorated by Ben Read, is inspired by the French country farmhouse, with waxed oak and waxed red brick floors in basketweave pattern, and use of handsome decorative wallpapers and natural wood paneling.

The neighboring French provincial home of J. Glenn Turner, 10160 Gaywood, built of Graystone on one-and-a-half terraced acres, is furnished with English antiques and early American colonial pieces.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Underwood, Jr., 10340 Gaywood, modified contemporary design, of oversized buff brick and Tennessee Crab Orchard Stone, is built around an oversized room which serves as the entertainment center, both for adults and the four Underwood children.

Called the "Texas Room" because of its size, the room has extensive glass wall areas opening on one side onto an L-shaped swimming pool, and on the other side to the garden court around which the entire house is built. Slightly more formal than the usual family room, it has a white and pumpkin color scheme. Oriental decorative accents and a terrazza floor for dancing.

The fourth home on the Nov. 12 tour is that of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome K. Crossman at 4800 Park Lane. This home is a red brick American colonial home with white columns, built on a five acre estate. Pecan and magnolia trees add to the old Southern setting. Furnishings are early English and French traditional.

Among other Dallas Festival events of interest to visitors during the Nov. 11-13 weekend are the Dallas Civic Opera production of "Madama Butterfly", Nov. 12; the book-and-author luncheon at noon Nov. 12; "The Andersonville Trial," starring Brian Donlevy, presented by the Broadway Theater League, Nov. 11 and 12, and the pro-football game Sunday afternoon Nov. 13, between the Dallas Texans and the Denver Broncos, in the Cotton Bowl, Fair Park.

Tickets to all Dallas Festival events are available at the central Festival Box Office, 1725 Live Oak, telephone R18-8921.

Uncle Of Bridegroom Hears Wedding Vows

The Rev. Truman Wylie heard wedding vows of his nephew, Gene Miller Wylie, and Sharon Janet Powell, Saturday evening, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Powell, 605 E. 4th.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Wylie, Gail Route. Rev. Wylie is pastor of the Baptist Church in Meadow.

Candelabra decked with fern flanked a basket of white chrysanthemums and gladioli to form a setting for the double ring ceremony.

Nuptial music was by Mrs. Donald Richardson, organist, who accompanied Mrs. Jerry Parker as she sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "O, Promise Me". Mrs. Richardson also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She was attired in a waltz length frock of white lace and chiffon over taffeta. The bodice, with round neckline and three-quarter sleeves, was of white lace and joined a chiffon skirt. A veil of tulle floated from a tiara of white velvet.

Jewelry worn by the bride was a necklace of pearls with matching earbobs. Her flowers, a white Japette orchid and feathered chrysanthemums, were carried on a white Bible.

To follow tradition, the Bible was borrowed from Mrs. Cecil Richardson, sister of the bride; the wedding ensemble was new; the bride wore a wedding ring, which had been the property of her grandmother, for something old, and her garter was blue. In the bridal slippers were pennies bearing the birthdates of the couple.

Mrs. Denny Pittman of Penrose, Colo., was her sister's matron of honor; she chose a dress of mint green brocade and wore a corsage of bronze ponpom mums.

Dale Wylie of Meadow, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. Tapers were lighted by Jeannette Wylie, sister of the bridegroom, and Linda Owen, niece of the bride. The two wore dresses of yellow dacron, full-skirted, with short sleeves and round necks; they wore wristlets of tiny yellow chrysanthemums.

A reception followed the ceremony, and the couple's parents assisted them in greeting guests.

On the tea table, a white cutwork cloth over a green underlay was centered with an arrangement of roses and chrysanthemums. A four-tiered cake, frosted in white, was decorated with roses and mums in autumn shades.

Betty Dennis was at the guest register, and serving in the house party were Mrs. Cecil Richardson, Mrs. Alva Kinal and Mrs. Billy Owen.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Wylie and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wylie, all of Meadow, and Mrs. Lois Powell of Stanton.

When the couple left for an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a knit suit of honey beige with black accessories. She is a graduate of Big Spring High School, where she was a member of the band, FHA and the Bible Club.

The bridegroom attended BSHS and is employed by E. C. Smith Construction Co. The newly married pair will make a home at 407 Young.

REHEARSAL DINNER

At a rehearsal dinner given Friday evening at the Powell home, gifts were presented to their attendants by the couple.

Career Girls Get Tips On Grooming

Working girls, wide awake about their jobs but fast asleep about their charm potentials, are being awakened gently by Doreen Teeling.

At the request of businessmen, Miss Teeling conducts glamour sessions in factories and offices. She has been in the business of teaching good grooming in industry since 1951.

The bosses are happy to pay for her course consisting of seven two-hour sessions. They are eager to help their feminine employes find a middle road between being overly dressed and poorly groomed, she says.

DRESS RULES

The tall, willowy blonde from the Middle West has learned from the tycoons of industry the many taboos of office dress. Thus Miss Teeling developed this list.

1. Open-toed shoes are not for business. Always wear closed heel and toe, preferably the opera pump.

2. Large-patterned dresses, sheer blouses, low-cut necklines are out of place.

3. Skirts and sweaters should not be worn on the job.

4. A suit is fine if it is not so heavy that the wearer must spend the day in her skirt and blouse.

5. Make-up taboos include overdoing the whole idea. Green eye shadow, for example, is too exotic.

All in all, conservative dress is the key to business success for the office or factory, Miss Teeling tells her working women students of all ages.

Officials, Boxes Ready For Big Vote Turnout Tuesday

By SAM BLACKBURN

Machinery for the general election is all set up and ready to begin operation at 7 a.m. Tuesday.

Sixteen voting places in Howard County will be operating. Plans for expanded crews of counters are being made in some boxes. With a heavy absentee vote ahead of the election, most observers look for a large turnout of electors.

TABULATE

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, plans to keep her office open Tuesday night to tabulate returns as they come in from the precincts. She asked all precinct officials to bring their boxes back to the office as soon as possible after tabulation is completed. Others, who may be late in returning the boxes, are asked to telephone in the results.

County Commissioners Court designated election officials for the boxes at a meeting last February. Only two changes have had to be made. Mrs. John Kubecka, veteran judge of the Forsan Box (No. 10) will not be in the county on Tuesday. Mrs. D. L. Knight will act as judge in her stead.

One other change had to be made. Due to the death of Ellis Iden, judge of Precinct 14, Robert Merrick has been named to serve in that capacity.

Total 10,730.

4 Amendments Are Part Of The Election

Despite all publicity, some voters will be surprised to find four proposed amendments to the state constitution at the bottom of their general election ballots.

The first amendment is permissive in that it will allow Lamar, Hidalgo and Comanche counties to establish hospital districts (if voters in those counties later decide to do so).

The second authorizes an annual rate of interest on Veterans Land Board bonds at 3½ per cent.

The third would establish an annual salary of $4,800 for state legislators, plus $12 a day expense for 140 days.

The fourth would permit the legislature to classify loans and lenders, to license and regulate lenders, and to define interest and fix maximum rates of interest.

All Set For Big Day

George Melear, veteran precinct election judge for Box No. 3, takes over his election boxes and supplies from Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk. Melear is preparing to serve as judge for his fourth time during a presidential election Tuesday.

HISTORY REPEATS

Pollster Gives Lead To Kennedy

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—After one of the tightest campaigns in the last 24 years, Sen. John Kennedy went into the lead in the latter part of October.

Whether the last-minute efforts of Vice President Nixon and President Eisenhower can stem this Democratic breakthrough remains to be seen.

Thus far, history seems to be repeating itself in the 1960 race.

In the last three presidential elections — 1948, 1952 and 1956—dramatic shifts in voter sentiment have come in the closing weeks of the campaign. In 1948 and 1956 it worked to the advantage of the eventual winners — respectively, Truman and Eisenhower. In 1952, survey evidence is that Stevenson was making significant inroads on Eisenhower during October.

The strongest appeal which the Republicans have had since the beginning of the campaign has been the voters' belief in their ability to deal with the international situation and keep the peace.

The Democrats' biggest advantage has been the voters' confidence in their ability to handle domestic problems — particularly in keeping the country prosperous.

As the campaign nears its end, both candidates have concentrated more on domestic problems to the apparent advantage of the Democrats.

When persons were asked in late October, for example, if they believed they personally would be better off financially if the Democrats or Republicans won the election, here were the answers:

BETTER OFF FINANCIALLY?	Per Cent
With Democrats	51
With Republicans	35
No Difference	1
No opinion	13

The belief that things will be better financially if the Democrats win is noted in all regions of the country and in various groups in the population.

The Republican ticket of Nixon and Lodge held an early edge in the 1960 campaign—in a survey immediately following the GOP convention in late July.

By mid-August, however, the race had quickly developed into a neck-and-neck affair with neither ticket holding a decisive edge. This situation continued through September and into the early part of October.

A semi-final Gallup Poll in the first week of October found the contest tied among those voters who—on the basis of their interest most likely to get to the polls on election day. The Gallup Poll estimated this group to number between 65 to 70 millions voters, or 63 per cent of the adult population polled.

The break to Kennedy started after the period in which the two candidates confronted each other four times on nationally televised debates. An estimated 85 million adults—survey evidence indicates—watched at least one of these debates.

Consensus on the debates was that Kennedy had done a better job than Nixon. During the course of the four meetings, enthusiasm for Kennedy held where it had been at the outset of the debates; but Nixon's "E.Q." rating declined.

If the TV debates triggered the break to Kennedy, an increased concern with high prices and unemployment also appears to have aided the Democratic cause.

The number of persons who cited these problems as the No. 1 concern facing the country nearly doubled between mid-September and mid-October—from about one in ten to almost two in ten.

And surveys have consistently indicated—as in the case of the latest one — that the Democrats have the upper hand on "pocketbook issues."

The Democratic edge here undoubtedly also has much to do with the landslide vote which the latest survey indicates the Democrats may roll up in the races for the House of Representatives.

DOUBLE PUZZLE

Who Will Lead County, How Many Will Vote?

Howard County is posed with its quadrennial double puzzle on Tuesday—who will lead the presidential sweepstakes and how many votes will be cast.

Many years ago the ratio of absentee votes to the total turnout on election day was right at 10 per cent, but two of the past three presidential elections have deviated sharply from this ratio.

If the 1956 percentage of absentees to total vote holds firm, a turnout of about 10,000 is possible. Should that of 1952 hold true, the total would be under 7,000. The 1948 ratio of absentees to total vote would project this year's total to 14,000, but the county rolls only show 10,730 qualified voters this year. Through Saturday 640 absentee votes had been cast.

Some observers feel that a 7.5 per cent ratio might not be far out of line, which would project a total vote of 8,500 or better.

The peak vote in a presidential race for Howard County was in 1952 when 8,212 votes were cast. The 1956 total of 7,457 was substantially under that. The 1948 turnout ran up to 4,876, and in 1944 it was 4,330.

A clearer pattern on party distribution has been established in the past, and if this holds true, Sen. John Kennedy would lead Vice President Richard Nixon. In 1956, Adlai Stevenson got 59 per cent of the votes and President Eisenhower 41 per cent. Four years before it had been Stevenson 58 per cent and President Eisenhower 42.

The upset year of 1948 when president Harry Truman created continuing caution into the craniums of pollsters, the ratio was 82 to 12 per cent with others getting 6.

The only time that Howard County accorded a majority to the Republican presidential candidate was in 1928 when Al Smith, a Catholic and an anti-prohibitionist, faced Herbert Hoover. There has always been an argument among those who follow politics whether it was Smith's faith or his wetness which cost him the race. Kennedy, like Smith, is a Catholic, and Nixon, like Hoover, is a Quaker.

Here are some figures on presidential balloting in previous campaigns in Howard County:

YEAR	Vote&Pct. Dem.—Rep	Absentee Ratio to Total vote
1956	4,406-59 3,051-41	446 6.0
1952	4,779-58 3,433-42	827 10.0
1948	64,180-82 572-12	227 4.6

XIn 1948 six per cent of the vote went to others, principally to J. Strom Thurmond (S-C) who got 285, and Henry Wallace, Norman Thomas and the prohibition candidate who polled a couple of dozen between them.

A Devotional For Today

"Do not think that I have come to bring peace on earth: I have not come to bring peace but a sword." (Matthew 10:34 RSV)

PRAYER Heavenly Father, forgive us for so often bringing discord among men. As followers of Christ, help us so to live in Thy likeness that Thou mayest establish true peace among us. In Jesus' name. Amen.

From The "Upper Room"

Four Propositions Worthy Of Support

With interest accelerating to a climax in the presidential election, perhaps a reminder is in order that other important matters are to be determined by ballot next Tuesday.

For Texans there are four state constitutional amendments at the bottom of the ballot. Briefly, they are on these topics:

To create hospital districts in Lamar, Hidalgo and Comanche counties; to authorize the Veterans Land Board to pay up to 3½ per cent interest on bonds which support the land program; to pay members of the state legislature annual salaries of $4,800; and to permit the Legislature to regulate interest rates and lenders.

It's a shame that Texas has to keep patching up its Constitution to meet modern legislative requirements. The entire document should have been rewritten long ago; but it looks like the state isn't going to take any action. Therefore, amendments are necessary.

We feel that all four propositions on the ballot next Tuesday should be accepted.

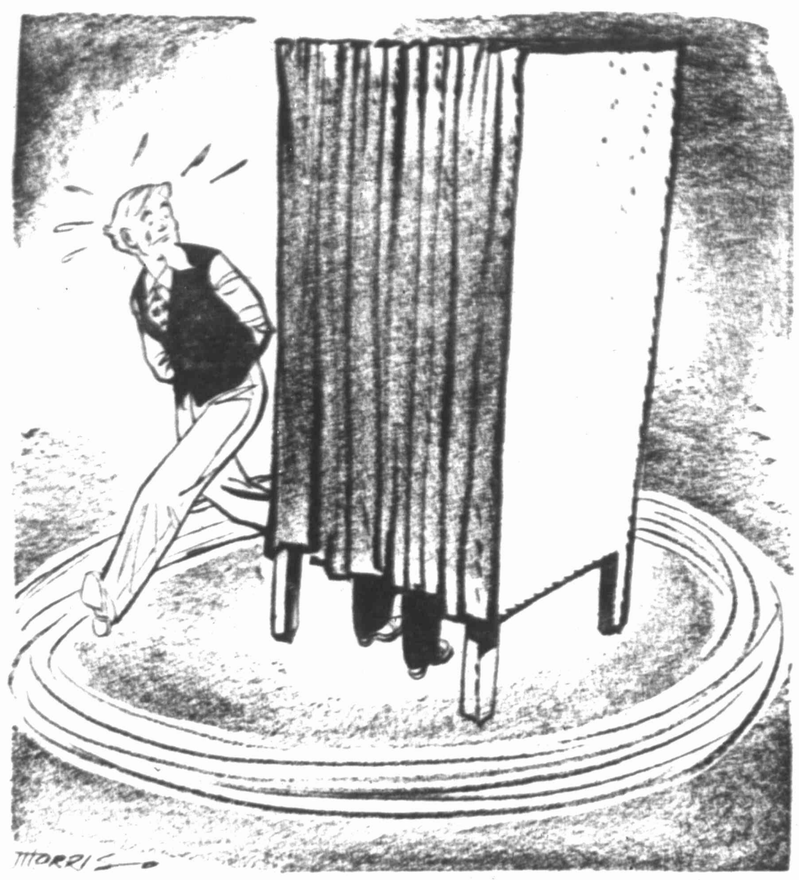

The setting up of hospital districts in the above mentioned counties is a local matter, and the people in those areas should be permitted to set up hospital facilities as they choose.

The amendment lifting the ceiling on Veterans Land bonds is a necessity if the program is to be continued. The present rate of 3 per cent is too high enough to attract a market. Bonds to be sold have to be competitive in rate. This is a matter of economics, and this proposition should be passed.

The Herald favors the amendment setting up an annual pay for members of the Legislature. Presently the lawmakers get $25 per day during the first 120 days the Legislature is in session and for special sessions of 30 days. There's no recompense for the many public demands upon senators and representatives during the other days of their terms. The job of lawmaking needs to be upgraded in Texas. This is one step in that direction.

We have suggested on several prior occasions that the amendment should be passed which authorizes the Legislature to regulate the loan business. It is obvious that present regulations are not effective, and the responsible people in the loan business agree that remedial action is called for. Some unscrupulous small-loan concerns have victimized many unfortunate, ignorant people with exorbitant loan rates. While Texas nominally has a limit on interest, there are no workable penalties for violations. Other states have good regulatory methods, and Texas needs the same.

Don't overlook the four amendments at the bottom of your ballot next Tuesday. They're important.

Last-Minute Check List For Voters

The Fair Campaign Practices Committee, Inc., has come out with a Voters Check List which lists some tips to spot a smear—something that occasionally occurs during the regular course of a campaign and frequently occurs down the homestretch.

For what this may be worth to you as a voter in these closing moments of an unusually hard-fought and acrimonious campaign, here are a few check points:

INVISIBLE AUTHORS—Who wrote it? Who published it? Beware of anonymous information or that under unfamiliar auspices.

MISSING PAPERS—Where is the proof? Sensational charges without documentation are suspect. Don't fall for guilt by accusation.

THE PHANTOMS—Trick photography can sneak people into or out of real pictures. If pictures seem too "pat," ask the person it's aimed it.

NOTHING BUT (part of) THE TRUTH—Leaving out a key word can reverse the meaning of a quotation. Get the whole story.

SECRETS OF WIFE BEATING—Do you still beat your wife? There is no right answer. Don't let political con men start a rumor by denying one you've never heard.

WONDERFUL TIME MACHINE — Note the dates on quotations. Statements of 10-50 or 100 years ago often don't have the same meaning today. Get the background and context of the quote.

POISON PENMANSHIP—Separate facts from words and pictures dripping with hate. Truth can be told straight. Don't let hate words brainwash you.

BEWARE THE WITCHING HOUR — Smear artists usually wait for the last minute to launch their most damaging lies. Be skeptical of new charges that appear for the first time just before Election Day. Don't let smears panic you into a switch.

WEASEL WORDING — False ideas can be planted without actually stating them (which would be grounds for libel), so analyze innuendos and vague hints.

$7 DOLLAR BILLS—Some organizations and publications which crop up in a campaign are as phony as a $7 bill. Look for names of officers and addresses you can check.

SO WHATMANSHIP—If charges, claims and statements don't have some reasonable connection with the candidate, office or issue, ask yourself "So What?" Don't let irrelevant matters hide the real issues.

By the way, the address of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, Inc., is 45 East 65th Street, New York 21, N. Y.

Catholic Shift Means Kennedy Victory

WASHINGTON—The time has come to write a final forecast on the outcome of the election, as this correspondent has done in 11 presidential contests. Nine of these turned out to be right.

The formula used disregards personalities, campaign oratory, crowds and claims of the rival political camps. For in 1920, James M. Cox, Democrat, the better personality, the better campaigner and the better exponent of issues, was defeated by a landslide. Similarly, in 1924, John W. Davis, Democrat, the better equipped man and the more popular personality, was defeated. Few candidates have had a more attractive personality than Al Smith, Democrat, but in 1928 he went down to defeat in a landslide because of the prosperity issue and the "wet" issue. Wendell Willkie drew the bigger crowds in 1940, but lost because an emotional issue—the war situation—was dominant, and it meant an improvement in employment.

THIS WRITER HAS appraised every presidential campaign on the basis of two sets of factors—emotional issues and economic issues.

The emotional issues cover, for instance, the question of peace or war. The economic issues cover "pocketbook" problems, such as unemployment, cost of living, and business conditions in different sections of the country.

On the basis of the two main categories of issues, this writer would have no hesitation in predicting the election of Vice President Nixon. The case for a change of party has not been persuasive, and the areas where economic conditions are good outweigh those in which they are bad. The Eisenhower administration has kept the country out of war and has exercised restraint as against provocations to war.

SOMETHING ELSE, however, has arisen which can be classified as "emotional." It is the so-called "religious issue." This has been given various interpretations and has usually been thought to mean that the anti-Catholic propaganda would draw enough Protestant Democrats away from their ticket to be decisive in electing Mr. Nixon. But it turns out, according to the latest Gallup Poll, that there is a Catholic bloc amounting to perhaps as many as 5,000,000 who will turn from the Republican party and give Sen. Kennedy the victory.

There will be some turning from the Democratic party on the part of Protestants in the South and in some other states, but the number apparently will not appreciably affect the result, as it is not big enough to offset the enormous defection of Catholic Republicans, especially in the populous states to which are allocated large electoral votes.

ON THIS BASIS, the election of Sen. Kennedy is assured, and the result in the electoral college may not even be close. Enough electoral votes to win will be obtained in the big states of the North and West, without regard to his losses in the South. Indeed the Catholic bloc may swell the totals for the Democrats in nearly all the Northern states.

Many Catholics, of course, especially in the middle and upper income groups, will stick with the Republican ticket, but the Gallup Poll shows that, while Mr. Eisenhower got 49 per cent of the total Catholic vote in 1956, only about 21 per cent will be for Mr. Nixon, with 79 per cent going to Sen. Kennedy. The switch is not, of course, entirely due to religion but doubtless to other issues, such as local economic conditions. Anything like a change of 28 percentage points on nationwide basis, is, however, phenomenal, and no other religious group shows such a shift this year, according to the Gallup Poll.

THIS WRITER believed early in the campaign — before the Gallup Poll was made—that the "religious issue" would not be consequential, as one prejudice would offset the other. The latest data indicate that its effect will be one-sided—that it is pro-Kennedy.

But, on the basis of the indicated Catholic shift, which will affect nearly all states, this writer expects to see a Kennedy majority in electoral votes.

Political, If Not Economical, Relief Looms

In the windup of the presidential campaign Sen. John F. Kennedy came close to calling IT a naughty name.

"To the best of my knowledge, I've never said that we were in a recession," he declared on TV. "I said there is a danger of a recession. I've said the winter of 1961 could be difficult. I quoted the 'Wall Street Journal,' which has said we have been in a recession. I don't use that term because I do believe we are hanging in a balance, and I don't think that it would be appropriate yet to give it the official title of recession."

The word "recession" is not in the 1960 lexicon of President Eisenhower or Vice President Nixon. To them, this is "high-level stability." To prove the point, President Eisenhower goes back to the 1953 election.

Since he took office, wages have risen from $68 to $91 a week, personal income 50 per cent, total output of goods and services by "almost 45 per cent." College enrollment is up from 2,000,000 to 3,500,000, or 75 per cent. Increases in the number of homes, dollars in savings accounts, and miles of new highways, all indicate an improvement in the standard of living.

ECONOMIC BRINKMANSHIP

"The American people have come a long way since 1952," declared Eisenhower. In different words, Vice President Nixon has said very much the same, adding that in alluding to recession, Sen. Kennedy has been a distorter of facts and an "economic ignoramus."

The facts are that the economy is on the brink and both sides are playing brinkmanship. A case can be made either way. The Democrats see the brink of recession; the Republicans the brink of a turn-around.

So far, the economic downturn has been concentrated. Steel production has dropped 47 per cent from the January peak—partly because of the extraordinarily high inventory accumulation during the Taft-Hartley injunction last year.

Home-building, too, is off significantly—about a third. As a consequence, lumber prices are down, lumbering activity is off, and sales of appliances are sluggish.

Yet, retail sales generally have held up well; they're still running ahead of last year. And automobile sales during October enheartened Detroiters. The 1961 models haven't caused a stampede to dealers' showrooms, but they've been moving, notwithstanding the distractions of the presidential campaign — listening to speakers, watching TV, soliciting votes.

GM's DARING PROPHET

The automobile may provide the surprise of '61. If people look on the smaller cars as a technological improvement—after all, if the automatic transmission provided easier handling, so does compactness — sales of passenger cars could easily reach the 7,000,000 forecast of Fred G. Donner, chairman of General Motors Corp. To date, he is the most daring forecaster for '61 in the industry. GM plans to spend $1,250,000,000 next year on plants, equipment, and tools in the United States and abroad. This is slightly more than this year's $1,200,000,000.

For all of us—Donner, other corporate executives, salesmen, clerks, industrial workers, and the new President—the critical question is: Will the slight downturn to date gain momentum and bring with it greater unemployment, accumulating hesitancy, and a fall-off in retail sales?

Quite honestly, Republicans can assert we're not yet in a recession. They can point to personal income at an all-time high, to the modest 4 per cent drop in industrial production (a volatile indicator), to the high degree of stability in total retail sales (up 2 per cent from last year), and a gain of 2 per cent in total employment during the last year (see chart).

A DIFFICULT WINTER

Yet, the Democrats can counter with dramatic statistics — the aforementioned slumps in steel and housing, the 10 per cent drop in stock prices, and the 3 per cent dip in weekly hours of work, a meaningful statistic to many householders. When overtime stops or firms introduce a 4-day week, family budgets get out of whack.

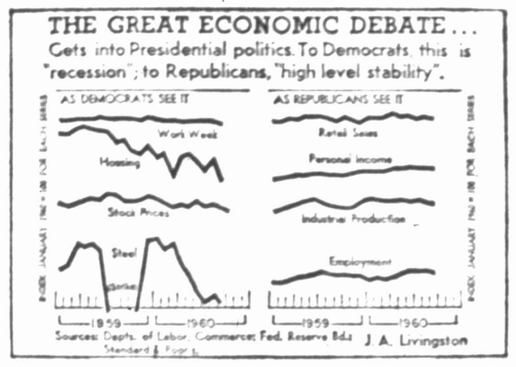

Moreover, about six out of every hundred workers are out of jobs. And in January and February, when the weather prohibits outdoor work—unemployment is likely to approach 6,000,000 — it's 3,400,000 now. Kennedy does not exagerate when he says, "The winter could be difficult."

But it would be unwise to be unduly discouraged by rhetoric or prophecy. This has been a trying, depressing election campaign.

Americans have been reminded of the rising prestige of the Soviet Union, the menace of war, the defection of Cuba from the American orbit, and the worldwide problems that lie ahead, including, for example, the flight of gold from American shores.

The choice of the right man for President has been a heavy weight for many persons. They have had borne home to them that how they vote could affect not only their lives but those of their children and their children's children.

After Nov. 8, relief may fall over the nation like a brisk shower. The fateful choice will have been made. Now, all of us, reunited, can settle down to business with the new President.

Surgery Needed In Severe Hemorrhoid Cases

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What about the different methods of hemorrhoid treatment, cutting, cauterizing, etc.?—T. H. C."

I think you mean injections, rather than cauterizing. Injections to shrivel the distended veins that constitute hemorrhoids is a possible treatment in some mild cases. Sometimes, however, the injections can be as irritating as the hemorrhoids themselves. In severe cases, surgical removal is the only successful method. The operation is not comfortable at the time, I grant, but it gives more complete relief later. Surgery also affords an opportunity to correct fissures if they exist.

• • •

"Dear Dr. Molner: The top tips of my ears extend out. Can an operation correct this?—L. E."

Any good plastic surgeon can give you expert advice on the subject, so consult one as to feasibility and cost. The point I want to make is that a person with protruding ears is inclined to be more conscious of them than is warranted. I don't know why. But other people, looking at you, don't even notice them.

• • •

"Dear Dr. Molner: In your discussion of mastectomy (surgical removal of the breast) you did not discuss the developing of an abnormally large arm on the same side as the surgery. Why does it occur in some cases and not others? Is there any relief or cure? —V. M."

It's one of those "sometime" things. It results from obstruction to the lymph flow, or blood flow through the veins, in certain instances. Or sometimes, usually when an extreme amount of tissue has had to be removed, subsequent formation of scar tissue is the cause. It cannot always be predicted or prevented.

In some cases, physiotherapy has been helpful. Sometimes an elastic sleeve covering the whole arm is used, just as an elastic stocking is sometimes used on a leg.

• • •

"Dear Dr. Molner: My daughter discovered that the soft palate of my grandson, 3½—the soft palate or the thing that hangs down in the middle of the throat—is split. The doctor said he was born that way and that it wouldn't affect his speech. We are still worried and I said I would write and ask you. —Mrs. A. M."

I'm glad you did. The thing that hangs down at the back of the throat is called the uvula. It is a portion of the soft palate. A notching or slight split is no cause for concern. If the boy had a truly cleft palate, the doctor would have seen it without difficulty. So forget about it.

• • •

Dear Sir: I work with elderly people and I notice that the urine has a strong odor, often like ammonia. What is the cause of this? —G. H."

Many oldsters, whether male or female, have obstructions due to prostate trouble or cystoceles (sagging of the bladder).

The result is a puddling of urine in the bladder, incomplete emptying, which in turn results in chronic irritation and infection. Ammonia is a byproduct of this stagnation.

Certain medications may lessen the trouble, but surgical correction of the basic trouble affords the best relief.

• • •

Troubled with varicose veins? To make sure you are doing all you can to relieve the problem, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald requesting my booklet, "How To Deal With Varicose Veins," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover the cost of handling.

OOPS Has The Answer, And It's Fud

Don't let all these political polls confuse you. If you want to know exactly how the election will come out; if you want a forecast on which you can bet your last dime, I've got it.

The correct dope is right here. It's incontestable; it's irrefutable. It tells you just what the voters are going to do Tuesday, and the time has come to pass on this information.

THE ELECTION is going to end in a flat tie.

The efficacy of this survey will be demonstrated later, but let it be repeated that the thing which has had everybody so upset for the past four months ends in a deadlock, and where are we?

This finding is that some time Wednesday, when all the ballots are tabulated, it will show these results:

Kennedy - Johnson 31,724,557. Nixon-Lodge 31,724,557.

OF COURSE the popular vote has to be translated into the electoral vote, whereby each state casts for its own majority. It is going to come out as follows: Kennedy-Johnson 268½; Nixon-Lodge 268½. The poll does not indicate precisely how the electoral vote got split this way, but it is suspected that in one state a man and his wife, a couple of half-wits, got into college. It wouldn't have been the first time.

YOU WANT to know how this was arrived at? Why, through what is called Our Own Personal Survey (sometimes known as OOPS). We sent our canvassers out on the prescribed routes; one would go to the door of a homestead, and when confronted at the door, would say, "OOPS. Madam, how are you going to vote?" You think you can imagine the answers, but you can't.

OOPS was conducted on the most scientific sampling system ever devised. It questioned little girls and old ladies, left-handed third basemen, and electricians who had lost two fingers by trying to see if a particular outlet was hot. It contacted white people and black, in the proper proportion, of course; as well as yellow and red; one interviewee was registered as green, as he was sick to his stomach at the time, having just heard the last of the TV confrontations.

IT QUIZZED bald-headed men and girls who had just had an "autumn flame" soap cap. It approached Yankees and Confederates, some who leaned toward Castro and some who thought Roosevelt was still in the White House. By trades, there were windmill oilers and bird watchers; camel drivers and doughnut-hole picker-outers.

This is to show you that the poll is accurate, reliable and weighted to the nth degree of statistical integrity, not to mention the harmonizing of actuarial probabilities. No nonsense, this.

WELL, YOU KNOW what happens when the people don't know their own minds, and the electoral college is split right down the middle. They can turn to a completely different individual for President, which is what is going to happen. Some observers noted for their accuracy say that the lightning will strike a fellow from Pillsburg, Nebraska, name of Olaf Albert Fuddledunk. He was brought forward because he was the one man who has a clear-cut solution for ridding homes of surplus wire coat hangers.

SOME DIFFICULTIES here, too. Fuddledunk is rather a long word to put into headlines, and it appears obvious that the new president is not going to appreciate references to "Fud" or even to his initials, which happen to be "OAF."

However, that's for the headline writers, not me. I told you how the thing is going to come out.

Forget Failures And Go Ahead

One of the most important skills you can cultivate is the ability to forget. It has been said that a man is what he thinks or what he eats. He is also what he forgets. If you really want to move away from failures and unpleasant experiences, you've got to be able to say, "O. K., I've had it—now I'll forget it."

Memory is one of our greatest faculties. The ability to retain mentally is of vital importance. Without it one cannot develop. But is equally important to be able to cast from the mind, or at least from a dominating place in our thoughts, failures, unhappy experiences and unpleasant occurences that should be forgotten.

MY WIFE tells of attending a church convention in North Dakota a few years back. There had been a severe draught and the resulting crop failures had brought much privation to farmers in that area. At luncheon Mrs. Peale sat across the table from a hard-bitten weathered old farmer. He was obviously shy and did not enter into the conversation. My wife tried to draw him out by asking, "How are the crops this year?"

She drew him out all right! In fact, this inquiry elucidated one of the greatest rewards I personally have ever heard.

"THE CROPS," he replied, "I guess there ain't any crops this year, Ma'am."

"No crops?" she asked in surprise. Why is that?"

"Well," he said, "It's like this. First, we had grasshoppers which ate up nearly everything. Then along came a big dust storm which lasted for two days and destroyed about everything the grasshoppers had missed. But I was pretty lucky. I saved five per cent of my crop. My brother who lives near me lost everything."

MRS. PEALE was aghast at this simple, factual recital of devastating loss. The farmer sat quiet and composed.

"How do you feel about such a tragic loss?" she inquired.

"Oh," replied the farmer, "I don't think about it anymore. You see I aimed to forget it. I just started working for next time."

WHERE DID this man acquire such a substantial philosophy? Where did he get that kind of control over frustration? What was the source of his urbane acceptance and his sturdy undefeatability? The answer to those questions was in his religious attitude toward life. He had not enjoyed the benefit of much schooling and his advantages generally were limited. But every Sunday out there on the plains he went to church. The church was a plain wooden structure around which the wind surged and the snow piled high in winter. Rain beat against it spring and fall and it was seared by the burning heat of summer.

IT HAD ONLY rough wooden benches and plain windows and worn hymn books. But on the pulpit lay a book and the book was full of wisdom and the old farmer drank in the words until they moulded and conditioned his character and developed his soul.

Among the wise thoughts which fell upon his ears out of the old Book were the immortal words of St. Paul, "Forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark . . ."

You and I may have our troubles and maybe we've suffered failure. But do the best you can about it. Learn what you can from it. Pick up the pieces and start building again. Write the old man's words on your consciousness—"I aimed to forget it. I just started working for next time." With that attitude you can be dead sure God will help you.

Nixon's Problem of Identity

NEW YORK—As he moves furiously through the last days of the campaign Richard Nixon has a problem that is still just what it was at the beginning of the long, arduous trail now nearing an end. It is essentially the problem of identity.

Who is he? What does he stand for? These seem elemental questions to put after he has spoken thousands upon thousands of words in every corner of the country. Yet, there is reason to believe that for many voters they remain unanswered.

THEY ARE RAISED anew by the presence at his side of President Eisenhower, now in the thick of battle with no little of his reputation on the outcome. But the President is a unique figure in the same sense that General Grant was unique after the anguish of the Civil War. The American people have put in him such a large emotional investment that even if they were of a mind to, which they are not, they could not possibly afford to repudiate him.

Since he is unique, presumably a once-in-a-century national hero, there is very little that he can give his candidate for the Presidency. Moral precepts and moral example, lofty sentiments, yes. But the two men, Eisenhower and Nixon, are so utterly different that the words used by the President do not have the same meaning when they come from the Vice President.

THEY SOUND, in fact, like an echo and, therefore, their usefulness for the Vice President is questionable. The President rates so high in American esteem, is so much a part of the life of our times, that when Nixon stands alongside him an unspoken question must arise in many minds. Is he a true partner, as he told the crowds in this city and as the President in turn assured them, or is Mr. Eisenhower merely a prop brought in to sustain the final effort of a campaign that needs all the propping it can possibly get?

The identity Nixon has worked hard to establish for himself is that of the poor boy who by his own honest, never-failing industry has brought himself to this place where humbly he seeks the highest office in the land.

THE CONTRAST to be pointed with Sen. John F. Kennedy's wealth is obvious enough. To audience after audience he has said that it is not "Jack's money" which the Democratic candidate proposes to spend "but your money."

Here in Herald Square and Broadway, when it was Nixon's turn he looked up at the facade of Macy's store and began to tell about how when he had returned from overseas service in the war he had met Pat and they had lived in New York for four months. They hadn't very much money so when they went to the theater they always sat in balcony seats and the seats were pretty narrow.

But they could always wander in Macy's and look at the things for sale there. This was the preamble to a warning that if Kennedy is elected the price of everything in Macy's will go up 25 per cent because Kennedy proposes to spend $15 billion more a year than the Republicans would spend.

THIS QUESTION of sharing identity has real hazards for a political candidate. From New York the Vice President goes to Columbia, S.C., and there he stands alongside James F. Byrnes on the steps of South Carolina's Capitol.

Byrnes' identity is quite clear. He had every honor the Democratic party could give him short of the Presidency itself. With that party moving increasingly to a liberal, anti-segregationist position he rejected the party to support the Republican ticket. To share this identity even briefly is to risk alienating the same big-city voters to whom the Vice President appealed in New York.

ONE CAN HAVE only an inkling of how deeply frustrating this campaign has been for Nixon as when he reveals what a terrible ordeal in mental and physical anguish the debates were. His opponent, Kennedy, embraces the Democratic party, the philosophy of the New Deal and the identity of Wilson, Roosevelt, and Truman. Far from relying on party Nixon must shun the label.

'Solid Gold Cadillac' Meets Solid Success

By KAY LOVELAND

Delta Psi Omega and College Player members polished off the first HCJC production this year on Saturday night after a successful three-night run. The political comedy, "The Solid Gold Cadillac," which involed four sets and 14 scenes, was carried off smoothly by the large cast and crew. Several members of the cast gave excellent performances — among them Sherry Coats, Doug Davis, Joe Collins, Roy Cebik and Sylvia Roeloffs — and all did creditable jobs.

Two added aspects of the production were the presidential straw votes held each evening and the awarding of door prizes donated to the club by various local merchants.

A straw vote was held at HCJC Monday and the school went Democratic. Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy received 101 votes and his running mate, Lyndon Johnson, polled 102 votes. Republican candidate Richard Nixon took 72 votes with vice presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge taking 71.

The Rodeo Club organized last month and elected its officers for the coming year. Lanham Hodnett is president; Keith Neff, vice president; Carolyn Sewell, secretary-treasurer; Judy Brooks, reporter, and Esco Hamlin, ICSC representative.

Current officers of Sigma Delta Phi, engineering club, are Mack Green, president; Charles Dunagan, vice president; Sammy Waters, secretary, and James Cloud, reporter. The club meets again tomorrow to discuss a proposed trip to the Fort Worth-Dallas area.

Lass-O Club officers for this year are Jeannine Cauble, president; Dorothy Williams, vice president; Loretta Jenkins, secretary; Gloria Coker, treasurer; and Penny Jones, reporter. The club has its annual Mother-Daughter Tea on the agenda for Nov. 13 in the parlor of the SUB from 3 to 5 p.m. Also set on the Lass-O calendar are a Christmas party, Valentine Sweetheart dance and a "Come As You Are" party.

Rocca Rocca Hamma members are planning a party for week after next, at which time films of the Big Bend trip will be shown. Also under consideration by the club is a bowling team.

Next week will be a week of studying for most HCJC'ers. Teachers are trying to crowd in another exam before nine weeks grades go out.

CONTEST OPEN TO STUDENTS

Students in Senior High School and in Runnels and Goliad High Schools will have a chance to share in $60 prize money.

The Howard County Tuberculosis Association is sponsoring a poster contest with $15, $10 and $5 prizes in the high school level, and the same for the combined junior highs.

The posters must be original, and they may contain photos if the photos are original. Minimum size is 14x17 inches and maximum 20x30. The theme may be either "Fight TB with TB Checkup," or "Christmas Seals Fight TB."

Any questions concerning the contest may be directed to Dr. Frankie Williams at the Big Spring State Hospital, and to Dr. Fred Lurting, Malone & Hogan Hospital.

Homecoming Marks Big Event At SHS

By MARSHA BRISTOW

This has been a very busy and exciting week for all of us at SHS! This is our Homecoming Week and has it been full of activities! Each day has been designated as an unusual-way-to-dress-day. Monday was Masquerade Day, Tuesday was Kid's Day, Wednesday was Western Day, Thursday was Hobo Day, and Friday was Dress-up Day. It has been a little hard to realize the people running around in our halls were high school students!

Also, in connection with Homecoming, we had a huge bonfire Thursday night to set in motion our spirit to BEAT TAHOKA! The bonfire was preceded by a pep rally at the sight of the fire, and it was followed by a giant snake dance through town. We think that this year's bonfire was the largest and best one ever!

Monday night was Halloween, and our annual Carnival furnished quite a bit of excitement for us. Each class had a booth to manage. The seniors had the Dart Throw, the juniors had the Country Store, the sophomores had the Teacher Doll Chunk, and the freshman class had the Horror House. The main feature of the evening was the crowning of the Queen of the Carnival. This was determined by the amount of money made by her class for the P-TA. This year's Queen was Linda Saunders and the King was Arnold Fincher; they represented the Senior Class.

Tuesday the FFA Chapter elected its sweetheart. The candidates were from the four classes. They were Linda Saunders, Brenda George, Marilyn Sale, and Loyce Ann Hazelwood. The sweetheart is Brenda George. She will represent the chapter as a candidate for District Sweetheart at the District meeting in Midland. Congratulations, Brenda, and good luck!!

Our annual staff has really been working this week. We nominated and elected our annual favorites this week. They will be featured in the annual, which will come out next spring. They are: Mr. and Miss S.H.S.—LaRue Adkins and Bobby Sale; Most Beautiful—LaRue Adkins; Most Handsome—Bobby Sale; Most Popular—Hughlyn Todd and Janice Glaze; Most Likely to Succeed—Elida Reyna and Weems Williams; Most Athletic—Janice Glaze and Tommy Newman; Friendliest — Janice Glaze and Hughlyn Todd; Best Natured—Janice Glaze and Thadd Koonce; Wittiest — Cheryl McArthur and David Pruitt; Cutest Couple — Marsha Bristow and Hughlyn Todd; Football Hero—Tommy Newman.

Feature of the Homecoming game Friday night was the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, who was elected by the football team. The candidates were Diane Turner, Janice Glaze, and Brenda George. The Queen was to receive a bouquet of red roses and a kiss from each of the three captains.

Also to add to the festivities of the evening, the Student Council planned a chili supper to precede the game. The Student Council attended the West Texas Forum Meeting which was held at Big Spring High School last Saturday. Since our SC is vice president, our president, Linda Saunders, gave the response to the welcome. We are proud of our Council and we hope everyone will encourage the officers and representatives.

Saturday the Journalism Class attended a workshop at Abilene Christian College. The whole class went and the group was sponsored by Mr. Roger M. Haley. At this meeting the various problems confronting a high school newspaper were discussed.

Goliad

Nine Weeks Tests End

By NANCY HEDLESTON

Nine weeks exams, which were given Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, have kept Goliad students busy this week, but the relief felt over their completion may be shortlived for many, because report cards go out next week.

We would like to congratulate Sonja Arrick and Larry Jones, who were elected Best All-Around Girl and Boy of the school. Both Sonja and Larry are in the 9th grade.

The Teen-Age Library Club attended their district meeting in Coleman last Saturday. Twelve students attended with their sponsor, Miss Ruth Beasley. They left here Saturday morning by bus and returned home Saturday evening. Goliad was chosen secretary of the State Teen-Age Library Association. The officers for the Goliad Club are Cheryl Kelly, president; Kathy Tarbet, vice president; Timmy Bartlett, secretary-treasurer; Jo Jensen, recording secretary; Cheryl Weaver, historian; and Kathryn Eggleston, parliamentarian.

The Student Council has elected to choose a Boy and Girl of the Month. Each boy and girl must have these qualifications. Good attitude toward school, toward work and toward class, effort in class, courtesy and good over-all personality. Each teacher will choose a boy and girl out of his home room; then from these nominees, the Student Council will select the winning boy and girl.

The 8th and 9th grade volleyball teams have been formed. There are 20 girls on the 8th grade team and 18 girls on the 9th grade team. They will be coached by Mrs. Jane Dotson and will begin practice on Nov. 28.

Thursday Goliad's weekly pep rally was held. Our 8th and 9th grade teams journeyed to Sweetwater Thursday night, where both were defeated. It was an open date for the 7th grade.

They should be at least 14x22 and not larger than 22 x 28. Three prizes of $15, $10 and $5 will be given to the top three. For further information contact the fire department.

At the Halloween party held by the choir last Monday night, Nan Rankin and Jerry Phillips walked off with the prizes for the most original costumes. Next Thursday at 9:45 a.m. the National Honor Society will hold a public induction ceremony in the BSHS auditorium. Thirty-four juniors and seniors have been voted upon by the faculty to become members of this select group. At the ceremony four NHS members will speak on the characteristics a student must possess to become a member of the group. The parents of all inductees have been invited to attend the assembly.

Next Thursday the BSHS band will play for a Veterans' Day program at the VA Hospital.

Zale's is sponsoring a safety slogan contest for all high school students. Entry blanks are at Zale's and should also be turned in there. The winner will be announced over KBYG Nov. 17. The prize will be a man's sportsman watch or a lady's 14 carat solid gold watch.

The BSHS a cappella choir will go by bus to Odessa College next Saturday to choir clinic. The activities begin at 8:30 Saturday morning and last until 4:30 that evening. The purpose of the clinic is to judge the chours and prepare them for the contest to be held in the spring of each year. The judge for the affair will be Frank McKinley, director of the North Texas State College a cappella choir. The trip will be made by school bus. There will be around 45 students from the BSHS choir attending the clinic. This is the first time in several years that the choir from BSHS has attended a choir clinic.

Tryouts for the Junior play, "Mr. Angel," will be held Monday evening at 6:30 in the auditorium. Bedford Forrest, BSHS speech teacher, announced last week. "Mr. Angel" is a three-act comedy with eight women's parts and five men's. This play is sponsored by the junior class, but any BSHS student may audition for a part.

If You're Bored With The Boor—Yawn Your Head Off

By BESSIE LITTLE
Publisher Teen Parade

DEAR BESSIE: What do you think of a boy who boasts about his conquests with other girls when he's on a date with you? Well, that's what Dick does and I'm so embarassed I don't know what to say. I like him and he would be perfect if he wouldn't talk about the girls he has dated. I don't know how to make him stop.
ELLEN G.

DEAR ELLEN: A neat way to stop him is to yawn your head off. If that doesn't stop him you can always abruptly change the subject preferably in a humorous vein. Or you might be brutally frank and tell him that you think it's ungentlemanly (which it is) to brag about his conquests. What gets me, Ellen, is how you can like a guy who is such an insufferable bore and braggart. Surely you can do better.

* * *

DEAR BESSIE: I've been going steady with Connie for three months, but just found out she's also been dating my buddy. All the kids in school knew that I was being two-timed, but I was the last to find out. They still don't know I know it. Should I tell them I know?
PAUL R.

DEAR PAUL: Your gain is your buddy's loss. By all means tell them. It seems to me they deserve each other.

* * *

DEAR BESSIE: I've been going with a girl who told me she was "16 going on 17" and just found out she's only 13. I'm 18 and now I find myself in love with a baby. I can't get her out of my mind. Should I give her up because of her age?
TONY N.

DEAR TONY: If you like babysitting, by all means continue to date your infant. I hope you don't give her any grown-up ideas or if she already has them tell her to forget them until she comes of age. You'll be doing your "love" and yourself a favor if you look her up in two or three years.

* * *

DEAR BESSIE: I'm 16 and crazy about two boys; they are both wonderful and romantic and each wants me to go steady. I don't know what to do because I can't make up my mind.
MARCY T.

DEAR MARCY: Such a pleasant dilemma! Why go steady and spoil it while you're having a ball? I'm not suggesting that you string the fellows along and play one against the other, but I think it would make sense if you simply told them that you'd rather wait a while (like until you can make up your mind) before you settle down into the going steady groove.

* * *

DEAR BESSIE: It was my idea that Denis join the Army because he didn't get along with his parents. He did and loves it and hopes to make it his life's work. He said I would love being an Army wife. He keeps writing and telling me how glad he is that he took my advice. He gave me a sort of engagement ring, but I have fallen in love with another boy and don't know how to tell Denis about it. Can you help me?
ARLENE L.

DEAR ARLENE: Since you're the girl who can dish out pretty good advice to others, how about facing your own problem with the same good sense? There's only one thing you can do, Arlene, and that is to tell Denis, as gently and delicately as possible, the truth. Don't let him go on believing that you love him and will eventually marry him. That wouldn't be fair; also it isn't fair to all parties concerned, and that includes you, too.

TROY DONAHUE

Donahue Slated For Stardom

By JOHN LARSON

He's 6 feet 3 inches, a lithe 175 pounds, with blue eyes and blond hair. This could describe countless young men, but they wouldn't have that special added something—sensational good looks. Being tall and handsome is only a small part of the Troy Donahue story.

Agent Henry Willson, famous for changing Arthur Gelien into Tab Hunter, and Roy Fitzgerald into Rock Hudson, went to work immediately to change Merle Johnson Jr. into Troy Donahue. Willson has an uncanny eye for spotting talent, and an equally uncanny ear for the sound of a name. He knew, when he met Merle Johnson, that he wanted to sign him to a contract. He knew, too, that the boy henceforth to be known as Troy Donahue, would emerge as a star. He was right. Of course stardom didn't come overnight, but Willson is a patient man.

"Despite the stories you may have read with monotonous regularity, my parents didn't rant and rave and try to discourage me when I announced that I wanted to be an actor," Troy said. "As a matter of fact, my first ambition was to be a West Pointer. When I severely injured my knee during a track meet in my senior year at the New York Academy at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, I was disqualified as a cadet. Since I couldn't get into the Point because of my physical disability, I decided on an acting career. Though my parents would have liked me to seek something more substantial, they did not discourage me completely."

Troy's mother, Dede, was a stage actress who retired after her marriage. His father, Merle, who died when Troy was 14, was head of the motion picture division of General Motors Corp.

After graduation from the New York Military Academy, Troy took some classes in journalism at Columbia University. He also studied acting with Ezra Stone. He was never afraid of hard work and managed to earn a living in a variety of jobs—as a messenger with Sound Masters, a commercial film company; as a laborer on a highway construction project in New Jersey; a waiter in Sayville, Long Island; a counselor at a camp in Blue Point, Long Island, and as a singer with a Long Island dance band. "But I guess I was happiest when I got a chance to act in summer stock at the Bucks County Playhouse and the Sayville Playhouse," Troy told us.

Troy headed for Hollywood when Darrell Brady, an old family friend offered him a job with his commercial film company. Though it sounds like a hoaxed-up story, Troy was actually discovered one evening as he sat in a restaurant. Producer William Asher and director James Sheldon spotted him in a diner in Malibu and were so impressed with his possibilities that they arranged to have him screen tested at Columbia. But the test never took place. The day before the test, Troy was badly hurt in an automobile accident. It was while he was recuperating that his friend, actress Fran Bennett, introduced him to her agent, Henry Willson. The rest is history.

Now under contract to Warner Brothers, Troy is currently starring in "Parrish" and also starring in the weekly WABC-TV series, "Surfside 6." He proved he could act when he took a small but vital part in UI's "Imitation of Life." Warners' lost no time in signing him to a long-term contract after his role.

"Troy—and I hope I don't sound prejudiced — is a fine boy," his mother said. "He's a bit on the extravagant side, but he'll get over that when he falls in love and settles down. He can take care of himself quite well."

"I'm in no hurry to settle down, get married or go steady. I used to go steady, but—well, I'll have to admit that I'm in favor of playing the field," he laughed. And that's exactly what Troy Donahue is doing.

LEADER OF WEEK

Politics Play Important Role In Ed Walker's Life

By MICHNEL STERLING

No matter who emerges the victor in the up-coming elections, there is no doubt that Edward Walker will come in for his share of honors.

Ed, 16, is one of the leaders of the "Youth For Kennedy" movement in Fairfield County, Conn. Though he does not share the same political views as his parents, he nonetheless has the courage of his convictions. Delbert Walker, his father, is an active campaigner for the Nixon camp.

"Does this make for friction at home?" we asked young Ed.

"It's true that we're a house divided, politically," Ed said, "but it adds to the excitement of family life. My father and mother encourage me to think, have opinions and fight for my beliefs. They may not agree with me, but they respect my ability to argue a point," he continued.

"I'm making headway with my sister Molly," he laughed. "She's casting her first vote and said she's almost as excited about voting as she was when she had her first date. She's taking her obligation and responsibility as a voter quite seriously. I like her attitude. I wish more people shared it," Ed said.

"How did you get interested in politics?" we asked.

"First off, I'm interested in my community. What happens in my own backyard, so to speak, concerns me and my family. The man we send to Congress concerns every member of the community. Since I like to read and debate, I became interested, first off, in local politics. As a debater I am naturally curious about the pros and cons of a subject—any subject. My father told me never to read just one newspaper or magazine, but also publications of opposing views. If you can't find merit in opposing views, you should at least find out why you do not agree with the other fellow," Ed said, "I guess I should credit my father for that line of thinking. It sure makes sense."

"Do you have any other interests aside from politics?" we asked.

"Quite a few," he admitted. "But school 'interferes' with a number of them," he laughed. Currently I'm absorbed in spending every spare moment drumming up trade for my man. That, of course, isn't the whole story. I'm organizing a group of young people to contact every qualified voter in our community to get out and vote. We're going to baby-sit while mothers go to the polls. We will do any necessary chores around the house just so the moms can go to the polls. We've got quite a long list of mothers for whom we'll baby-sit while they cast their votes."

"Meanwhile, there's a lot of leg work and paper work to do. The young people in my community don't give their parents and elders a chance to become complacent about the elections. If I can sway just one person to vote, then I think I've accomplished something. Despite the fact that I want my man to win, I won't get too upset if they vote for Nixon. The important thing to me is that their vote doesn't go to waste," he said philosophically.

"And so it is with everything else that concerns our community and our country. Complacency, as I see it, is a disease; unfortunately, it is a contagious disease. If parents, for instance, want their children to go to church, they have to set an example. They can't show indifference, but should practice what they preach. I hope I don't sound stuffy," Ed apologized, "but the fact is that I am not alone in expecting parents to set the example."

Perhaps all this leads you to believe that Ed Walker will make politics his life's work. "Not at all," he said. "Far from it. I want to study medicine. Maybe by the time I'm ready to practice, our scientists and researchers will have found the cures for all the ills that plague people. I hope so, but there's always mending broken bones and sewing up cuts and such."

(Is there a boy or girl in your city who deserves this recognition. Write Under Twenty, in care of the Herald telling us why. The Leader of the week receives a $25.00 Treasury Bond, and you'll get the satisfaction of seeing achievement rewarded.)

High School Marrieds Are Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—Should married high school pupils be allowed to remain in their regular classes?

A survey of teachers indicated Monday they think it's all right for married boys, but they aren't so sure about the married girls.

In a poll conducted by the Research Division of the National Education Association, 53 per cent of the teachers said married boys should not be excluded from the classroom, 34.3 per cent thought they should be, and 12.7 per cent were undecided.

Concerning married girls, 45.4 per cent said they should be not excluded, 40.8 per cent said they should be, and 13.8 per cent were undecided.

Reporting on the controversy that teen-age marriages have created in many communities, the NEA Journal said: "Some persons contend that if teen-age married students are permitted to remain in regular public school classes, the practice of early marriages may spread. Others say that youth of school age have a right to attend public schools regardless of their marital status."

The poll reflects the opinions of both elementary and secondary school teachers. The two groups also were polled separately, since high school teachers are much closer to the problem. The NEA said there was no significant difference in the results.

Three Students Receive Honors

Three students from Big Spring have received honors at the colleges they are attending this year.

Clift Moore Epps, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Epps, 415 Hillside, pledged the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity at Texas Tech.

Linda Wehner has been nominated for consideration as one of the 12 most popular students at Southwest Texas State College. She is also in the Canterbury Club, Angel Flight and Student Religious Council.

Selected for the Meistersingers Chorus at Lubbock Christian College was Jimmy Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Graham.

'I Want To Be Wanted' Nudges 'Save Last Dance'

By JEANNE HARRISON

What Brenda wants, Brenda gets. Brenda Lee, like every recording star, wants to be wanted by the disc fans and last week her record, "I Want to be Wanted" held down the number one spot in the nation's top ten records. The Drifters, who occupied first place for one brief week, dropped to second with "Save the Last Dance for Me." "Chain Gang," by Sam Cooke, which has been hovering in the top ten for many weeks, was in third place. Here's the rundown:

1. "I Want to be Wanted," Brenda Lee
2. "Save the Last Dance for Me," Drifters
3. "Chain Gang," Sam Cooke
4. "My Heart Has a Mind of Its Own," Connie Francis
5. "Devil or Angel," Bobby Vee
6. "Mr. Custer," Larry Verne
7. "Don't Be Cruel," Bill Black
8. "A Million to One," Jimmy Charles
9. "Georgia on My Mind," Ray Charles
10. "Theme from the Apartment," Ferrante Teicher

Perhaps one of the busiest voices around these days is that of Connie Francis who is currently represented in the top ten. She has just released another of her albums in a language series. "Connie Francis Sings More Italian Favorites." Containing such stock favorites as "That's Amore," "Return to Me," and "The Loveliest Night of the Year," the album is must listening for lovers of popular Italian songs.

At the same time a new Connie Francis single is hitting the disc shops "Many Tears Ago," backed by "Senza Mamma" sounds like a natural for the Francis fans. "Many Tears Ago" is in the ballad vein, handled in the traditional Francis manner, while "Senza Mamma" is from the Italian album.

Two oldies are given new, interesting treatments in two new releases. Jimmy Jones has recorded "For You" in which his voice is given the chance to run its full range. The flip, "Ready for Love," is a true rock 'n roller. The Five Satins have recorded a listenable, new arrangement of "These Foolish Things," backed by a ballad with a beat, "A Begger with a Dream."

HCJC Writer Active In Dramatics

Kay Loveland, who writes the HCJC column and also edits the Megaphone, is attending the college for her second year. Kay, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Rosene, graduated valedictorian from Big Spring High School in 1959.

Last year at HCJC, she was named to Who's Who and was active in the college drama group. She had a supporting role in the fall production, "Manana Is Another Day." In the state one-act play festival, held on the HCJC campus in March, she was one of seven named to the All-Star Cast, for her performance in the "Petrified Forest," HCJC's spring play.

This year she is once again participating in dramatics, and will appear in a minor role in "The Solid Gold Cadillac," to be presented Nov. 2 and 3. She is also a member of the annual staff.

After completing her sophomore year at HCJC, Kay plans to enroll in the University of Texas, where her primary interest will be in foreign affairs and languages.

80 Students Take Cavern Field Trip

By JUDY ENGLE

An enjoyable and interesting field trip was made this week by approximately 80 eighth grade science students. Accompanying the students to Carlsbad National Park, where the Caverns were observed, were teachers George Dyer and Richard Gonzales. The students left Saturday at 6 a.m. and returned around 10 p.m. that evening.

Nine weeks tests were finally over and that is a great load off teachers' and students' minds. Report cards will be issued to students on Wednesday.

The magazine sales are still going on and will continue throughout next week until Nov. 10. Everyone is well pleased with the cooperation patrons and friends are giving to the salesmen.

The Runnels choir left for the Choir Clinic at Odessa Junior College Saturday. Present at the clinic were all choirs in District 8. The Runnels choir sang "Bless This House" and "When Jesus Wept."

A football game between the Runnels freshman team and Lee of San Angelo was held Thursday. School was dismissed early for the game. The pep rally for this game was held during the first half of fifth period. Everyone proved to be very enthusiastic as yells were led by the cheerleaders.

The Library Club went to Coleman Saturday, Oct. 29, to attend the District 3 Teen-Age Library Association Convention. Twelve students from Runnels attended.

Annuals will be on sale only until Nov. 30 so if you plan to buy an annual, you'd better hurry; time's running out. Students who have not made full payment should pay before Nov. 30 also. Annuals are only $3.50; buy yours soon.

FORSAN

Girls Ready For Meets

By DARLA DUNAGAN

Tuesday night was the scene of the second girls' basketball game at the Forsan gymnasium. The Forsan teams met Klondike in two exciting, close games. The B team played at 7 p.m. and won its game 18 to 15. The A team played at 8 p.m., winning its game 37 to 22. There is a lot of work the girls are going to have to put in before the tournaments start in December. But the way they have been working, it looks as if they will be ready.

This year the Forsan girls' team will enter 3 tournaments, at HCJC, Coahoma and Forsan. Next Thursday the two teams go to Flower Grove for games.

Thursday night the high school had a pep rally and bon-fire at the football field. If school spirit could win a game, we could win them all.

Comedy, Drama In Inge's Story

Counterpointing drama with rowdy comedy as it bares the private truths that lie in darkness between boy and girl and man and wife, Warner Bros.' Technicolor production of "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs" opens Sunday at the Ritz Theatre.

The screen version of the play spotlights Robert Preston in his first screen role since his award-winning stage triumph in the title role of "The Music Man."

Dorothy McGuire, Eve Arden, Angela Lansbury and Shirley Knight are also starred in the powerful drama which centers around the determination of an earthy, self-made man to keep up with changing times and the misgivings of his devoted but domineering wife, possessively dedicate to their young son and daughter.

The tenderness and the torment that are a part of teen-age romance are brought into focus with newcomers Shirley Knight and Lee Kinsolving portraying an overly-sensitive, boy-shy 16-year-old and a wryly amusing but intense and embittered young military school cadet who awkwardly reach out toward each other.

Although "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs" is the fourth play by Pulitzer Prize-winner William Inge ("Come Back, Little Sheba"; "Picnic", "Bus Stop") to reach the screen, it and its Broadway predecessor were actually based on the first play he wrote, "Farther Off From Heaven."

The original play, written while Inge was drama editor for a St Louis newspaper, was produced by the late Margo Jones at her Dallas playhouse. It was as drama editor, interviewing Tennessee Williams, that Inge first was encouraged to set his thoughts down on paper. At Williams' urging, Inge launched a creative career.

Preston returns to the screen after an absence of six years, in the role of Rubin Flood, a harness salesman suddenly confronted with the impact of the automobile age, an affectionate father with a wonderfully worldly insight into his children's growing up, a lusty husband frustrated by the indifference of a wife he loves too much to betray.

The role of Cora Flood is given to Dorothy McGuire, most recently starred in "A Summer Place." As a wife who finds herself unable to make love at night after daily family bickering, Miss McGuire conveys a woman's final realization that she has a very important obligation to her husband as well as to her children.

Popular screen and television comedienne Eve Arden is cast in the dramatic role of Cora's sister, Lottie, a talkative, nagging woman who achieves a rare moment of truth when she admits she is desperately unhappy with her own outwardly successful marriage.

Newcomer Shirley Knight made her screen debut in "Five Gates to Hell" and joined Warners for "Ice Palace." Originally aiming for a career in journalism, Shirley left her Kansas home to work toward an M.A. in English at UCLA.

The son of a New York Episcopal minister, young Lee Kinsolving portrays the cadet student who first awakens romance in the young girl.

Also starred in the film is Angela Lansbury as a provocative young widow in love with Preston. Michael Garrison produced the film which was directed by Academy Award winner Delbert Mann.

Coach To Tell Band Folk Of Music-Athletic Links

A lot of misunderstandings should be cast aside Monday evening when Emmett McKenzie, head coach of the Big Spring High School football team, makes a speech before the Band Boosters club.

The Band Boosters club is made up of parents of public school band students and other interested citizens.

The subject of Coach McKenzie's talk will be the relationship of music and athletic programs in the public schools. Over-emphasis on sports and under-emphasis of cultural training have been key issues in school controversies over the nation.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the state hospital dining hall with Dr. Preston Harrison, president of the Band Boosters, presiding. Dr. Harrison is the Big Spring State Hospital chief.

Dinner will be served at the meeting and business matters to come before the group will include plans for the annual cake sale.

The Band Boosters help defray expenses for the school bands, and conduct several annual fund drives for that purpose.

Inge's Titles Stir Interest

After puzzling American audiences with the title "Come Back, Little Sheba," playwright William Inge eased up with "Picnic" and "Bus Stop," but now with "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs" the award-winning dramatist once again teases them with a provocative title.

Starting with the familiar fear all young children have of the dark, Inge evokes the "dark at the top of the stairs" as a symbol of the private truths that lie in the darkness between boy and girl and man and wife—the challenge of life . . . and love.

THE FRONT ROW

By Bob Smith

The Big Spring Film Club is organized, the program is planned, and memberships are now being taken.

Board members met Wednesday evening to finalize the organization and approve decisions of the film selection committee.

There will be a short season during the spring months, with five scheduled feature films. Memberships will be limited to 200 and season tickets may be had for $3.50 per person.

A full season will begin in September, with nine or ten films. Playdates will be on the third Thursday of each month, and the movies will be shown at 8 p.m. in HCJC Auditorium. Playdates will be changed in case of conflict with other auditorium activities.

The films include comedy, drama and poetic art, and all foreign-produced.

"La Strada" (Italian) stars America's Anthony Quinn as a brutish hobo who takes up with and abuses an innocent, deaf mute girl. It also tells of a trio of "gentleman travellers" who burn along the roads of Italy. "La Strada" has earned one of the longest lists of prizes in film history, and its poetic theme is that of man's struggle to find his way on the road of life.

"Kind Hearts and Coronets" is an Alex Guinness comedy that has become a classic. Guinness portrays eight different characters—all members of a wealthy family that get knocked over one by one by a poor but ambitious relative.

"The Bed" (French) starts out with four travellers who get stymied in a French fog, end up sharing a single bed, which means none can sleep. So, they sit up the night, each telling a story from his own experience in which bed plays the central role. It is a subtle and artfully done comedy.

"Golden Demon" (Japanese) is based on a piece of Oriental literature that has given several bywords to the Japanese language. Re-written into a modern setting, it tells of a man and a woman separated by the exigencies of civilization.

"The Stone Flower" (Russian) is another big prize winner which recounts one of the oldest and most beloved of Slavic folk tales, the story of an artisan who finds his way into a magic cave and there finds a beautiful stone flower which he will never be able to show to the world.

The Russians, incidentally, kept far away from propaganda in "The Stone Flower." They are realists enough to know that politics would have destroyed thier chances of winning in any international film festival.

Five alternates also were chosen, although it is unlikely that any of the regularly scheduled films will be unobtainable. They are "Ordet," "Flamenco," "I Am A Camera," "Gold of Naples" and "The Sorceress."

Short films will be shown along with each feature. These include "The Red Balloon," "The Day Manolete Died," a Marcel Marceau pantomime, "A Prince for Cynthia," "Paris Weekend," and several Mr. Magoo cartoons.

Playdates are Jan. 19, Feb. 16, March 18 (a Saturday), April 20 and May 18.

Those wishing to obtain memberships by mail may send their checks to The Big Spring Film Club, 2500 Morrison, Big Spring, Texas. Season tickets are $3.50 per person.

We repeat, memberships will be limited to 200, and the early birds are the ones who will not be left out.

Board members of the film club include this writer, Dr. and Mrs. Josh Burnett and Dr. and Mrs. Fred Lurting. At the end of the season, members will ballot on either rotating board membership or electing one new board each season.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

Latin America occupies the philatelic spotlight this week with the announcement of several new issues from this section of the world.

Ecuador has issued a new stamp honoring the 100th anniversary of the Red Cross. It shows the National Red Cross Building in Quito plus a portrait of Henry Dunant, founder of the Red Cross.

Venezuela has stated it will issue a new set of stamps early in 1961 to commemorate the 1960 National Census. There will be nine stamps for regular postage and 13 for airmail.

The World Wide Philatelic Agency, distributors for the United Nations World Refugee Year Organization, was notified by the United Nations Postal Administration about the issuance of a Pan-American set of first day covers. The set includes covers of Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Paraguay and the United States.

The cover design, a stylized pen and ink drawing of a refugee mother and child, is by Jean Cocteau. All of these covers were cancelled on April 7 (except for Colombia which bears the postmark May 24).

The covers may be obtained from your local stamp dealer.

• • •

Norfolk Island, in the South Pacific near Australia, commemorates the 100th anniversary of local government with the issuance of a new 2-8 pence stamp. The stamp is of the large Australian commemorative size. The design features the Annigoni portrait of Queen Elizabeth II at the right and a map of the island with inscription at left.

Also to be issued by this same island (on Dec. 5) will be a Christmas stamp bearing the same design as the Australian stamp discussed and depicted in this column last week.

• • •

The United States Post Office Department reports that the pictorial first day cancellation to be applied to covers bearing the 4 cent and 8 cent Garibaldi "Champion of Liberty" stamps placed on sale Nov. 2 at Washington, D.C., feature an outline map of Italy as it was a century ago and the wording "Centenary Italian Unification."

• • •

The Swiss Philatelic Agency announced that a 5 franc United Nations stamp depicting the U.N. Building in Geneva (Palais des Nations) illustrates the Lake of Geneva and Mont Blanc in the background. The stamp is to be used to simplify payment of postage on large packets. At the same time the Swiss Postal Administration declared it is issuing three new service stamps.

Plays Landlady

Playing her first major screen role as the hard-bitten landlady in "The Rat Race," Kay Medford is primarily known for her work in the theatre. She is currently appearing before Broadway audiences in "Bye, Bye Birdie."

Grim World Of Future In Science Film

Today's atomic tests and research may spell the doom of the human race 65 years from now. This is the theme in American International's "Beyond the Time Barrier," which provides a grim look into the future.

An American test pilot (Robert Clarke) is flying the latest in supersonic planes and through a warp in time and space lands in the world of the future, 65 years ahead of his time. He finds desolation and madness on the surface and the remnants of a magnificent civilization in fantastic underground cities, forced to live there by a mysterious plague which has ravaged the earth since 1971.

He is captured and is unable to convince the authorities that he is from another time until a lovely young girl (Darlene Tompkins) who possesses telepathic powers testifies that he is telling the truth. He is allowed to wander around the underground city and meets three other time travelers from whom he learns more about the citadel and the plague.

Years before, the results of nuclear tests rendered everyone either sterile, a mutant or both except the survivors of the underground cities and their hours are numbered. The major is convinced that if he can return to his own time he can bring about a turn of events that may save the girl and her people from the faceless death that approaches.

As he makes his escape, a battle breaks out between the mutants and the city dwellers and amidst the chaos that follows he finds his way back to his ship and his own time—to try to alter history and provide a hope for tomorrow.

"Beyond the Time Barrier" begins Sunday at the State Theatre.

Circus Wagons Rolling Again

Fourteen pedigreed circus wagons were rescued from obscurity to parade anew in Walt Disney's Technicolor feature production "Toby Tyler." They were found in back lots and odd corners of the circus world, and were restored to their original elegance by Disney craftsmen.

The Swan Bandwagon, Cottage Cage, Shell Tab, Whiskers Wagon, Green Cage, Beauty Wagon and Swan & Faun Wagon are among the illustrious vintage vehicles.

The Swan Bandwagon was built for Adam Forepaugh's Circus in 1897 and was paraded in turn by Barnum & Bailey, the Ringling Brothers and Ken Maynard's Circus. Its bandmaster at one time was Harry James' father, and Harry himself rode on it as a child.

Successor Found For Lupe Velez

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Warner Bros. believes it has found the movies' long sought successor to the late Lupe Velez.

William Orr, one of the top Warner executives, spotted fiery Margarita Sierra singing in a New York supper club. She's from Madrid.

Orr signed her to a studio contract on the spot. The studio has movie plans for her and has cast her in "Surfside 6," a new TV series. She plays a night club singer called "Cha Cha O'Brien."

She explains why Orr was able to sign her up so early.

"I only know one word in English—yes. I wrote my mother in Spain that everybody in New York was so nice to me because I just said 'yes' to every question.

"My mother wrote back and said: 'Quick, find out the word for no. I'm afraid you'll get in trouble.'"

Tony Jazzes It Up In Movie Scene

Three of the most notable exponents of the jazz musical world—Joe Bushkin, Sam Butera and Gerry Mulligan — appear in the Perlberg - Seaton production of "The Rat Race," starring Tony Curtis and Debbie Reynolds.

The group of hot numbers with Tony, who learned to master the saxophone as well as the flute for his role in the Paramount Technicolor drama, which returns Thursday to the Jet Theatre.

"The Rat Race" is an adaptation of Garson Kanin's Broadway play about young moderns scrambling for success in Manhattan. Co-starred are Jack Oakie, Kay Medford and Don Rickles.

Film Pair Make An Orchestra

Robert Preston, who became famous for "76 Trombones" in his award-winning title role in the stage production of "The Music Man," and Shirley Knight, who stars as his daughter in Warner Bros.' Technicolor production of "The Dark at the Top of the Staris," share enough music versatility to form a two - person orchestra.

Preston can perform on the piano, drums, guitar, harmonica and trumpet.

Shirley also plays the piano and drums and the violin and xylophone and sings.

CINEMA COMMENT

By Bob Smith

"The Dark at the Top of the Stairs" is not so vague a title as it sounds.

The little boy in the film, of course, does have a fear of that darkness—but there is a greater darkness in which his parents are lost, the black pit of ignorance, superstition and prejudice in married sex.

Based on the William Inge play, "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs" does not take a Tennessee Williams type approach. It is warm, human and deeply moving. The people are portrayed, not as super beings in the classical fictionized sense, but as ordinary mortals caught up in a world not of their own making.

Director Delbert Mann and screenwriters Harriet Frank Jr. and Irving Ravetch have been honest and direct in their treatment of the taboo subject, yet they have never strayed from good taste in that treatment.

Robert Preston and Dorothy McGuire are starred as the unhappy couple—not people with big problems like in most fiction plots, but little people with small, irritating tiny problems, the kind that eats away until the soul is warped.

Every actor in the film gives an excellent performance. There are Eve Arden and Frank Overton as another unhappily married couple; Shirley Knight and Robert Eyer as the children of Preston and Miss McGuire, each twisted in his own way by the unhappiness and ignorance of the parents; and special awards for Lee Kinsolving, who is seen as a Jewish child victimized by the town's biggest bigot.

"The Dark at the Top of the Stairs" could have come out like a psychological drama with all its inherent twists and turns of logic, but instead, it emerges with the earthy, everyday language that all can understand.

• • •

"The Amazing Transparent Man is a good example of what may be done with a good idea if nobody's looking.

This time, the old familiar theme of men who aren't there is based on crooks who like to steal nuclear materials. The basic idea of invisible men has a lot to recommend it in science fiction film efforts but, like so many of its type, scripting, direction and acting are all weak.

Don't bother seeing "The Amazing Transparent Man."

• • •

Lovers both of old movies and science fiction may be interested in seeing the return of "King Kong" at the State beginning Thursday.

This oft-told tale of beauty and the beast has been kicking around now for more than a generation, and it still rates highly in its own right in addition to its classical nature.

Returns To Films

Virginia Bruce, the one-time glamour girl of motion pictures, returns to the screen in "Strangers When We Meet," starring Kirk Douglas, Kim Novak, Ernie Kovacs and Barbara Rush at the Jet Theatre. Miss Bruce co-stars in the Richard Quine production for Columbia Pictures, a CinemaScope and Eastman Color drama of marital infidelity. Other co-stars include Walter Matthau, Kent Smith and Helen Gallagher.

Ex-Queen Gets Look At Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Television's Wyatt Earp has introduced former Queen Soraya of Iran to an old American custom—blackjack.

Actor Hugh O'Brian and the stately brunette toured the sights of the Desert Spa last week, viewing, in the course of the day, singer Lena Horne, Boulder Dam, Lake Mead, a few slot machines and the green baize tables where the blackjack dealers ply their trade.

Soraya, who was divorced by the shah of Iran in 1958 after she failed to bear him a male child, arrived here Tuesday with O'Brian and a chaperone, Mrs. Jaime del Amo.

When newsmen asked O'Brian if he had marriage plans, he told them: "Youd'd better ask the princess."

She only smiled and lowered her eyes when they did.

Jack Oakie Back In Bartender Role

After an absence of 23 years, Jack Oakie, veteran film comedian, returned to the Paramount studio to appear in "The Rat Race."

Oakie has the role of a philosophical and humorous bartender, a plum part which lured him out of his self-imposed retirement.

MAJ. E. L. URBAN

Maj. E. L. Urban Is Transferred

Maj. Emil L. Urban, base provost marshal and commander of the 3560th Air Police Squadron here since November, 1957, will leave for Randolph AFB Nov. 15 for an assignment in the headquarters of the Air Training Command.

The New Jersey-born air officer joined up in September, 1940, and won his Air Force commission in 1943. During the war, he logged 256 combat hours while piloting B-17 bombers in air strikes over Europe. The major is a command pilot with more than 3,500 flying hours' credit. He wears the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal, U. S. Presidential Unit Citation, and the European Theater ribbon, with battle star for participating in the Allied Air Offensive of February, 1944. His unit, the 381st Bomb Group, earned the citation in January, 1944, in an aerial engagement over Oschersladen, Germany.

Post-war assignments for him include duties on Okinawa, 1949-50; and consecutive tours in France and Germany, 1954 to 1957. Maj. Urban attended the Air Tactical School in 1948 and Air Command and Staff School in 1953. His assignment at Randolph will be as assistant command provost marshal.

Maj. Urban held membership in the Webb Officers Tumbleweed Toastmaster Club for a year. He was also a member of the base golf team in 1958. Active in civic affairs, he has served on the Citizens' Traffic Commission, and on the Webb-Big Spring Community Council.

White Hair Has Its Advantages

LONDON (AP)—Horace Ford's black hair turned white after a bus he was driving and a truck collided in 1957.

In awarding Ford $4,130 damages, the judge said: "He has had all the real enjoyment taken out of his life for the last three years."

Ford's hair was black when he appeared in court, because he dyes it regularly.

"If you go to an employer with a head of white hair and try to get a job, he will say, 'Here's an old fellow who can't do hard work,'" Ford explained.

Ford, now 52, works in a garage.

DEAR ABBY

'FESS UP

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You had a letter in your column from a young lady who sent her girl friend's picture instead of her own to a pen pal because she wasn't very pretty.

My problem is the same. Only just the opposite. I sent my picture to a fellow and we started to correspond. Soon I realized that I wasn't as smart as he was, so I got my girl friend to write the letters for me. This fellow and I have been "corresponding" for over a year. We've become quite serious and now he wants to make a trip here to meet me. What should I do?

HAS GHOST WRITER

DEAR HAS: Write your own letter this time and 'fess up. If your ghost writer wants to meet the pen pal she cultivated for you, send him HER picture. If it's YOUR face he values over HER brains, give up the "ghost" and carry on.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am an "old-timer" who has started to work with young people on a volunteer basis. I was shocked to distover how many of our children can't read or spell. Some of my youngsters are in the Eighth grade and their writing is so poor you can't read it. Their imaginations are over-developed but when it comes to reading, writing and 'rithmetic, they are lost. What's wrong with our educational system, I wonder?

OLD-TIMER

DEAR OLD: We're doing the best we can, but a teacher's pay is so low that only a few dedicated souls are interested in teaching careers. If I had my way, I'd double all teachers' salaries. Then we'd have plenty of first-rate men and women to educate our children.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I would like your advice on a subject that has caused a heated discussion. When John A. Smith Jr., the son of John A. Smith Sr., has a child whom he names after himself, is the child known as John A. Smith III even after the grandfather is deceased?

We were told that it is neither socially nor legally correct to use "III" when the original bearer of the name is dead; that the "Jr." becomes "Sr." and the grandchild (the "III") would become "Jr." Please advise.

JANE

DEAR JANE: The "Jr." becomes "Sr." upon the death of the "Sr."—but the "III" remains the same.

DEAR ABBY: Here is a suggestion for "BIG BUT GRACEFUL" and all other large people who have trouble getting into an automobile. Just place your "dairy-air" (this is a French word but spelled in English) on the seat first. Then pull your feet in after you. It works every time, especially for people who have back trouble.

"ALSO BIG"

Woman, 93, Casts 1st Vote

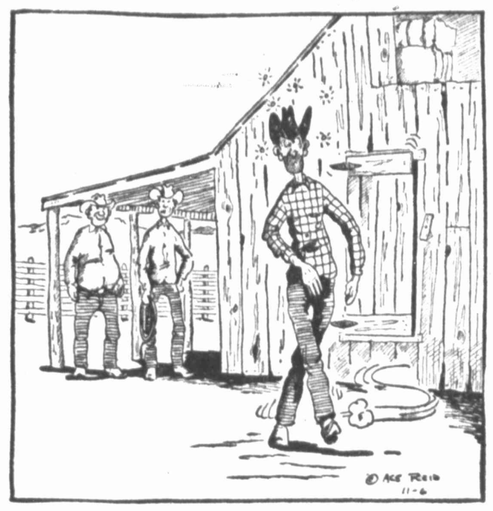

AVON PARK, Fla. (AP)—Gen. Ulysses S. Grant was elected president of the United States in 1868, one year after Dr. Martha Tate was born in Hickory, N.C.

Twenty-three national elections later, the former medical missionary to Korea, has cast her first vote for a national candidate.

Dr. Tate, 93, sealed her absentee ballot last week and with a cheery smile gave it to Mrs. Roland X. Droit, deputy registration supervisor of Highlands County.

Now a resident of a nursing home, Dr. Tate said she is a registered Democrat. She declined to say for whom she voted.

City Saves On Insurance

A saving of $961 on vehicle insurance premiums paid by the City of Big Spring has been effected by a reduction in the number of traffic accidents the last three years.

City Manager A. K. Steinheimer said that the accident reduction has given the city a 17 per cent credit rating, compared with an 11 per cent debit rating in force last year.

This year's premiums totalled $3,611, compared with $4,573 last year. A theoretical saving of about $1,400 was gained with the late purchase of three new city vehicles, Steinheimer said.

The insurance carried by the city on its vehicles, excluding fire trucks, includes $200,000 for each accident, $100,000 for each person inurejd, and $10,000 property damage.

Missioners Increase

NEW YORK (AP)—United States Catholic missioners abroad now total 6,782, according to the new catalog of U. S. Catholic Missionary Personnel. The figure represents a 10 per cent increase over the last total compiled in 1958.
