PEACE PARLEY UPSET BY SPLIT AMONG ALLIES

France To Continue Conference With Turkey

By Associated Press.

LAUSANNE, Jan. 30.—Complications suddenly arose among the allied representatives at the near east peace conference at a late hour tonight when the French delegation announced that it had decided to remain in Lausanne as long as there was any hope of carrying on successful negotiations with the Turks.

The British delegation considered the decision of the French as a flagrant violation of the understanding reached between the allies a few days ago that all of them would leave Lausanne at the end of the week if the Turks did not sign tomorrow the treaty which had been handed them.

All the British delegates announced officially tonight that they would adhere to this program, whatever the other allied delegations decided to do. Earl Curzon will start for London Friday.

Child Optimistic.

After a lengthy conference tonight with Riza Nur Bey of the chief Turkish delegates to the near east peace conference, Richard Washburn Child, head of the American delegation, said he was distinctly more optimistic regarding the situation of the conference.

The Turkish delegation affixed their signatures today to a special protocol agreeing, when a general peace is signed, to return to Greece all ablebodied male Greeks who have been held by Turkey since the Greek rout in Asia Minor and the Smyrna tragedy. This protocol affects some 100,000 men.

FILIBUSTER IN SENATE FEARED

Farm Credits Fight Has New Angle

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—A situation which had some car marks of an incipient filibuster resulted in the senate today when republican leaders renewed their efforts to expedite pending rural credits legislation. Several attempts to reach an agreement as to a time for closing debate having failed, suggestions of night sessions were reiterated by the majority.

Senator Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin, a co-author of the bill under consideration, broke into a series of set addresses from the democrate side to protest against the apparent policy of delay. There was grave danger, he said, that unless more progress was made the senate would be unable to render assistance vitally needed by the farmers.

Senator Fletcher, democrat, Florida, sought unanimous agreement that "all debate cease at 4 p. m. Monday and that in the meantime no other legislation be considered except by unanimous consent." Senator Jones, republican, Washington, objected, but said he would agree to closing debate Friday.

An effort to compromise was made by Senator Smith, democrat, South Carolina, who suggested Saturday, but Mr. Jones again demurred renewing the suggestion of that night if the minority desired extra time for consideration.

Watch Charm Worn By Grady Skipworth Identified; Evidence Implicates Pair Held

By Associated Press.

WACO, Jan. 30—The watch charm which Grady Skipworth wore on the night he was murdered at Lover's Leap, Cameron park, and which has been missing since that time, was found in the home of Roy Mitchell, negro, arrested yesterday by Sheriff Leslie Stegall on charge of murdering W. E. Holt and Mrs. Ethel Denecamp.

Its identification is announced by the sheriff, and the sheriff's statement corroborated by Miss Georgia Skipworth, sister of Grady.

The charm was a green dice with numbers on it, and holes which Grady and his brother Walter at one time drilled into it afforded positive identification, Miss Sikworth and the sherff stated.

Sheriff's officers believe as a consequence at least two murder mysteries in Waco are about to be solved.

Roy Mitchell, negro, 30, and Arthur Polsteal, negro about 25, were arrested Monday morning by the sheriff and Deputies Hobbs and Jackson, and during Monday night charged with murder of W. Ed Holt and Mrs. Ethel Jacobs Denecamp.

Evidence Obtained.

The sheriff, Deputies Hobbs and Jackson, after placing Mitchell in jail, searched his home where, according to their report, they found a double-barrel 12-guage shotgun hidden in the bath room. The gun, on examination showed it had been used recently. Further search disclosed a number of 12-guage shells hidden over a door frame. Upon comparison these were found to be the same kind used in the shooting of Holt. The shells are of the same color as those found at the scene of the murder, officers said, and the shot contained in them were found to be identical with some that were removed from the wounds in Holt's body.

Hobbs and Jackson announced they discovered Holt's .45 Colts pistol concealed in a chiffonier drawer, which upon examination showed that three shots had been fired from it recently. Three chambers of the cylinder were clean but had no shells in them, Jackson said. Shoved down in the bottom of a brick flue was found a portion of rope that compared with that found looped about Holt's left leg, the officers said.

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Jan. 30.—A. J. Humphrey, 30, died on the operating table of St. Joseph's infirmary tonight after he had been shot in the abdomen by an unidentified thug in his grocery store tonight.

Fright is thought to have caused the bandit to fire at his victim after he had demanded Humphrey to hold his hands up.

The murderer leaped over his victim's body to the counter, where the cash register was. This he found empty. He escaped through the door where Mrs. Humphrey had made her sudden appearance.

PAYMASTER OF ARMY HELD UP; BOUND, GAGGED

Posse Captures Two Corporals Near Scene

By Associated Press.

NEWPORT NEWS, Jan. 30.—John S. Wood and James S. Harvet, the two men who were said by Captain Norman D. Cota, to have been the bandits who robbed him of $43,000 payroll of Langley Field early today, were captured by a posse about 20 miles from here early tonight, according to a report received by military and police authorities here.

According to telephone reports, the men were captured in the woods near Big Bethel. Most of the money was recovered, it was added, although the bandits had been forced to abandon $5,000 in silver.

The captain and the four men who accompanied him, were found nearly five hours after the holdup, bound and gagged and tied to trees near Big Bethel, beside their badly damaged automobile. Their captors, they said, had escaped into the woods with the money. The search was immediately begun, scouting planes being used in the afternoon and tonight the woods were surrounded by posses of several hundred men with bloodhounds.

Held Up on Street

The holdup occurred at 9:15 this morning, when the finance officer was leaving the bank with the pay roll and stepped into his automobile to return to Langley field. According to witnesses, one of the bandits who wore an army raincoat and an army hat, covered Captain Cota with two revolvers while his companion, like clad, covered the others. All were ordered into the automobile, which was driven at high speed toward Newport News.

Roy Crockett of Hampton, one of the witnesses of the holdup, said the entire affair was carried out so methodically, that he thought an army guard was merely arresting some military offenders.

Pope Bill Holding Up Text Book Contracts Engrossed By House; Pass Maternity Bill

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Jan. 30.—A bill making it a felony for any person while masked or disguised to go on the premises of another for the purpose of committing an offense against the laws of the state or of intimidating or frightening the inhabitants thereof was introduced in the house this afternoon by Representative Turner of Houston. The bill would also make it a felony for a person in disguise to commit an assault on another person. The penalty upon conviction would be a prison term of from 2 to 15 years. The bill sets forth that offenses such as described are common occurrences in Texas and that there is no adequate law to cover same.

Representative Turner was elected to the legislature on the ku klux klan ticket and said his bill was in no sense aimed at that order. "The klan stands for law and order, and needs no law to regulate its conduct," Representative Turner declared.

Maternity Bill Engrossed

The house late today passed to engrossment the Dodd bill accepting for Texas the provisions of the Sheppard-Towner maternity infancy welfare act, passed by the United States congress in November, 1921. The bill authorizes the state board of health through its bureau of child hygiene to co-operate with the federal children's bureau in the administration of the provisions of the act and to do all things necessary to entitle Texas to receive the full benefits thereof. The vote was 106 to 16.

The house passed to engrossment the second bill by Representative Pope of Nueces, seeking to prevent execution of the contracts for new text books recently let by the state textbook commission. The second bill provides that no part of the text book fund shall be paid out for new books except additional copies of those in use prior to Dec. 1, 1922.

ARDMORE CASE WITNESS GIVES SORDID DETAILS

Jeff Smith Charges He Was Forced To Join Party

By Associated Press.

ARDMORE, Jan. 30.—Statements said to have been made by Jeff Smith of Healdton, that he was forced by members of a masked party to accompany them on a raid at the home of Joe Carrol in Wilson on a night in December, 1921, during which Carroll was slain and two members of the band fatally wounded, were related in district court here today at Smith's trial on a charge of murder.

The defendant is one of 11 prominent Carter county citizens charged with killing Carroll.

The statements attributed to Smith as to his participation in the expedition were repeated on the stand by county officers who arrested him and investigated the case and by the widow of the his brother, John Smith, of Wilson, who was mortally wounded in the attack.

Widow Tells Story

The story of the raid was told by Carroll's widow, her 17-year-old son, Walter Carroll, a brother, and Herman Hensley, who testified he was visiting the Carrolls when the masked men came.

When court recessed tonight, the prosecution had called all its witnesses with the exception of possibly one, who County Attorney John L. Hodge said he might place on the stand tomorrow.

Joe Carroll's widow was the first witness called by the state. She took the stand with an infant in her arms.

She said than on the night of Dec. 15, 1921, she was at home in Wilson with her family. John Smith, the defendant's brother, she testified, came and knocked at the door at about 11 o'clock that night and called to her husband to come out. Carroll called to Smith to "come in," but Smith replied:

Carroll Shot

"I haven't got time. Step out here Joe," she asserted. Then her son, Willie, went to the door. Willie, she testified, called to his father to come out, that John Smith wanted to see him, and when Carroll threw open the door, she heard some one outside order him to "hold 'em up."

"What's up; what does this mean?" Carroll asked as he stepped out the door, the witness said, adding that a man then grabbed her husband and that several shots were fired. "When I got out there, they turned him loose," she said. "He fell and one fellow stood over him and shot him in the breast."

"Joe died immediately," she said.

Diplomatic and Consular Services To Be Combined Under Bill Approved

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Reorganization of the diplomatic and consular activities of the United States into one interchangeable foreign service organization, sought by Secretary Hughes, was approved today by the house foreign affairs committee, reporting the Rogers bill consolidating the two branches.

Complete interchange of personnel, a single revised salary scale, extra allowances to representatives at foreign capitals, thus eliminating the necessity of large private means for diplomatic officers, and extension of the civil service retirement act to the service are among the provisions of the bill.

Increases in salaries would be authorized for many posts, chiefly for secretaries and lower offices, but the compensation of ministers and ambassadors would not be changed. Secretaries would be given salary increases from the present $8,000 to $9,000.

The report of the committee said it was "deplorable that, by denial of adequate compensation, the United States, the greatest democracy, restricts the admission to the office of secretary in the diplomatic service to the members of a small circle of society, who are willing to provide from their private fortunes for the support of their positions abroad."

France and Belgium In Accord On Control Measures for Ruhr District

France and Belgium are in full accord on measures for control and administration of the Ruhr region. Such was the report made by the French minister of public works and General Weygand, at a conference at Paris, after their return from Brussels, where they were in close communion with the Belgian government.

General Degoutte, commander in the occupied zone, declares "that Germany's fate is in her own hands," and that "nothing will make us deviate from the course laid out for us." The situation in the Ruhr towns is reported as quiet, arrests and deportations of German state and municipal officials continue; the allies are restoring traffic on the railways; coal is being mined, and it is reported that the miners union has rejected the proposal for a general strike; telegraph operators, who were on strike, have gone back to their keys, and the occupational authorities are taking over warehouses in Duisburg, Dusseldork, and other places containing foodstuffs, and general merchandise.

The French federation of labor has adopted a resolution protesting against the repressive measures in the Ruhr.

The German government continues to issue orders to the German railroad men forbidding the transport of coal or timber from the occupied area to either France or Belgium, and co-operation of the railway officials with the French or Belgians is also forbidden.

The German mark has dropped to 45,000 to the dollar.

GREB HAS CLOSE CALL AGAINST LOUGHRAN

Decision Is Awarded Champion After 15 Rounds

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Harry Greb of Pittsburgh successfully defended his American light-heavyweight title tonight against Tommy Loughran, youthful Philadelphia challenger, in a 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden. The judge's decision displeased a minority of the fans. Both weighed 166 pounds.

Loughran was a defensive puzzle in the first round and in the second he poked several stiff lefts to the champion's face. The challenger added a few more in the third while Greb pranced wildly about, swinging without effect.

They exchanged blows more evenly during short rallies in the fourth, Greb landed two hard right jabs during the quiet fifth, but was cautioned to stop butting with his head. Both men parried unsuccessfully for an opening in the sixth.

Greb remained baffled and Loughran was generally on the defensive in the seventh, but in the eighth the champion quickened his pace, finding the challenger willing. Greb had the edge of some loose fighting in the ninth.

Greb tore out wildly in the tenth. He smashed into Loughran's stomach hurling the challenger and slowing him up, but in the eleventh took it easier. Greb had the better of hard exchanges in the twelfth, but was again warned to stop butting.

Greb, after having the best of the slugging in the thirteenth, was amazed when Loughran lashed out with both hands to the body in the fourteenth. Greb soon quieted the challenger, however, and won the fourteenth. Loughran rocked the champion in the last round, making his best showing.

The fight was slow. Greb fought as typically of his style as he could, swinging without direction and butting with his head, for which he was constantly cautioned. Loughran's cool and clever defense kept Greb from being entirely himself and kept the challenger from severe punishment, but it also kept him out of the title.

It was not until the tenth round that Greb struck out boldly, but he was unable to do much damage. The challenger did not take the lead until the next to the last round, and in the fifteenth far surpassed champion in all departments, rocking Greb once with a hard right to the jaw.

Curing your Golf Troubles

By Jim Barnes

Dear Jim:

Like most duffers, I believe I am a very poor putter. I have tried out lots of tips from my friends, but none of them have given any permanent benefit. I believe a good part of my trouble is due to not adopting a proper stance and sticking to it. What do you consider the best stance for putting, one with the weight chiefly on one leg, either right or left, or with the weight about equally distributed on both legs?

The main thing in a putting stance is to take a position that feels natural and uncramped, and it really doesn't make much difference how you distribute your weight. But it is important, once the stance is taken, that your weight be not shifted; in other words, that you keep from swaying. This is possibly one of the commonest and most damaging faults on the putting green. As in every stroke in golf, shifting of balance of the body means throwing the mechanics of the stroke out of gear.

This is more costly on the green than elsewhere, because a slight error here of a fraction of an inch means a missed putt, and another stroke on your score.

Personally, I prefer to throw my weight well forward onto my left foot. The tendency is to sway forward along the line of the putt, and I find that this starting with the weight on the left foot helps to check such a tendency.

(Jim Barnes will suggest a remedy for your golf troubles. Write him in care of the Sports Editor, enclosing stamped envelope if you want a personal answer.)

Collier and Landon Team Forfeits

In one of the fastest, hardest games seen at the American legion hall in recent weeks, the Junior college team of the City league triumphed over the Collier-and Landon five by a score of 27 to 26. Owing to the fact that Collier and Landon did not have a full team present, the gas was forfeited to the students, 1 to 0.

Ferguson, who was used to complete the Collier and Landon five, proved to be the factor that enabled that team to make a real battle of the affair. Seeing that "Fergie" was having a good night at tossing the big ball through the little ring, his team mates largely contented themselves with passing to him. As a result he scored 18 of the 26 points made by Collier and Landon.

The students showed vastly improved team work over their last appearance and Ferguson at forward and Haney at center performed brilliantly as individuals. Although fast and furious, the game was comparatively free from fouls. Substitutions were few, each team running in but one man outside of the starting lineup.

The first half ended with Collier and Landon in the lead 13 to 11. The students came back strong at the beginning of the second half and soon overtook the opposition. During the remainder of the encounter the lead changed several times, the students going ahead just a few minutes before the final whistle.

RED SOX TRADE PENNOCK TO YANKEES

Camp Skinner Goes To Boston Club In Deal

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The New York Yankees today announced completion of a deal with the Boston Red Sox by which the American league champions acquired Herb Pennock, veteran southpaw pitcher, in exchange for three young players. George Murray, a pitcher, Norman McMillan, infielder, and Camp Skinner, outfielder. No cash was involved in the deal.

Pennock, one of the most reliable portsiders in the American league last year, was sought by the Yankees when negotiations fell through for Jakie May, crack southpaw of the Vernon club, of the Pacific coast league.

Five of the six regular pitchers on the Yankee roster are former Boston stars. Besides Pennock, they are Joe Bush, Waite Hoyt, Carl Mays and Sam Jones. Four other regulars are ex-Hugmen — Babe Ruth, Wally Schang, Joe Dugan, and Everett Scott.

The trio of youngsters traded for Pennock are regarded as unusually promising. Murray was used as a utility player last year. McMillan played in the outfield for a time last year. Skinner was used chiefly as a pinch hitter last season with the Yankees. He was obtained originally from the Georgia state league and farmed in 1921 to Dallas in the Texas league.

LEGION DEFEATS METHODIST FIVE

Game Protested By Both Teams

The American legion basket ball team had a decided edge on the Methodist five last night and won the first of the two games at the Legion hall by a score of 38 to 29. Owing to the fact that neither organization had enough eligible men present to round out a team, the game was unanimously protested and will be played over at a later date.

Faichney at center and Ferguson at one of the forward positions for the Legionnaires, played the leading roles in the game and their brilliant passing and basket shooting was largely responsible for keeping their team in the lead during practically all of the contest.

Golden and Courtney showed up well for the Methodists, who as a team, kept the score close enough to be interesting all the way through. Neal, at forward, although in nearly every play, was constantly off-form and failed to deliver the goals which he is accustomed to.

The first half ended with the Legion in the lead by a score of 19 to 15.

Somebody's Birthday

By ELSA ALLEN

People born this day have unusual charm and fascination for close associates. You have a magnetic personality and a strong spiritual influence over people with whom you have to deal face to face. You should make a splendid success in any profession in which you can use this power, such as the law, politics, or fraternal organizations.

For this same reason you should be a successful doctor because you also have a comprehensive sympathy and a healing touch.

Likewise you could be a powerful teacher because you possess both tact and conviction. Your fondness for opposites will lead you to prefer the blonde if you are a brunette and vice versa.

You are likely to be a flirt because you attract people easily and you are likely to be taken seriously where your intention is merely pleasant amusement.

Yours is a nature that is readily led into evil ways because your influence on others is so easy and immediate.

All the qualities you possess are capable of being abused for this reason, and the more power you feel the greater your temptation to use it.

This is an extremely favorable day for you.

Do not hesitate to execute any plan that may come to you and force the issue in all your dealings.

Children born today will be energetic and successful because of their happy natures.

MR. NOLAN OF CALIFORNIA

California has sent a woman to congress. John I. Nolan represented the fifth California district for years. He was re-elected in November last and died two weeks later. He was the spokesman of organized labor and held in high regard by the people of San Francisco.

Now his widow has been chosen to fill both the unexpired term of her late husband and the next regular term. Mrs. Winifred Huck of Illinois will not be the only feminine pebble on the congressional beach.

Nolan was an iron moulder in his youth. His ability and his fairness made him a power in the labor circles of California. His people sent him to congress and he voiced their views for nearly ten years.

Now they have honored his memory by electing his widow to the place he vacated when death called him. Nolan was a republican and an independent but the democrats of his district never nominated a candidate to oppose him.

PEACE IN COAL FIELDS

There is to be peace in the coal regions. The soft coal operators and the officials of the United Mine Workers of America have signed a new wage agreement running for one year.

Reason appears to have governed the leaders of the conflicting factions. They got together, they buried their differences, they signed a scale of wages, and there should be no coal famine in the winter of 1924.

The last strike cost the men $20,000,000; it cost the operators millions and it cost the consumers of coal more than the total cost to the conflicting interests.

The consumer always pays. That appears to be his mission on earth.

And the American flag has disappeared from the Rhine and American soldiers are coming home. There is no peace anywhere except in the graveyard. Idalists backed the league of nations but the politicians of the world defeated its ratification, and now the old order of things is to continue.

A COSTLY BUILDING

Now the university lands are to be sold again. These lands comprise approximately 2,100,000 acres. This remind the writer of Don A. Biggers story or estimate of the cost of the capitol building.

This unique man from the west says the Farwell syndicate was given three or four million acres in lieu of cash to furnish the people of Texas their massive public building. Time rolled on, and the four million acres had a value, in the not remote past, of $65,000,000.

This made the Texas capitol the most costly building ever erected since the beginning of time.

UNCOMMON SENSE

LOBBY GOWS

Politicians—especially those of influence—are surrounded by sycophants, some of whom for the hope of reward, and some because they are natural parasites, run errands, carry grips and brief cases, and perform all manner of little services.

These people the politicians call "lobby gows."

They are never respected. They are usually despised. Yet they cheerfully do everything they can for the men to whom they look up, follow them about like dogs and take hard words and sometimes insults without complaint.

The lobby gow habit is not confined to politicians.

In fact there is no rank in life where it is not prevalent.

The financier has his lobby gow, who may be people of some importance themselves—even lesser financiers and heads of smaller institutions.

The big lawyer, the important actor, even the military leader is sure to have among his following superserviceable people who will do his bidding, what ever it may be, only too happy if they can be permitted to be near him, and let it be known that they are of his personal contingent.

In big business there are thousands of small fry whose only capital consists of their reputed "closeness" to some man of high importance.

And in society, you will find that the grande dame whose word is law as to "who is who," has her little company of lobby gows, and that the prominent club woman has just as many at her beck and call.

There is something in this lobby gow business that is decidedly distasteful to people of independence.

It is not the leadership or the intellectual ability that attracts such people—it is the places that the intellect and the leadership have won.

Every man or woman who is surrounded by lobby gows knows, or ought to know, that they will fall away as soon as the place of the leader is lost, and surround the succeeding leader.

The desire to shine—or to be of some little importance in the world, even if it is only importance conferred by an association—is strong.

It makes of many people who might otherwise be useful, mere servile sycophants.

But in an age of democracy, it is not pleasant to behold, nor a favorable commentary on the intelligence of the human race as a whole.

It will be a better world when the lobby gow is gone, but a study of history shows us that he has been here since the human race began, and is likely to remain for many generations to come.

IRRIGATION ? ? ? ? ?
Asked—Answered

Through arrangements with A. M. McPherson, consulting engineer of this city who has had wide experience in irrigation work, The Record News is enabled to answer questions of all interest pertaining to irrigation work. Mail your questions to the Irrigation Editor, of The Record News.

How Does the Irrigation District Compare With the City Water Department?

Will the City Water Department Eventually Be Placed Under the Control of the Irrigation District?

The two questions asked above were submitted to Judge W. N. Bonner for his opinion. He says: "The Irrigation district is a municipal corporation controlled by a board of directors and is separate and distinct legally from the municipal corporation known as the city of Wichita Falls. Although the two corporations cover largerly the same territory geographically and the voters are largely the same, yet these two corporations are not related in any way.

The city water department is merely a department of one of these municipal corporations and never can be under the control of the other. The city water department will always be distinct from the irrigation district.

One comparison between the city water department and the irrigation district office is that both of them will manage water systems. The city water department sells water for domestic use within the boundaries of the city. The irrigation district will have water for sale to those who wish to purchase. They both have the right to sell water on equal terms to all who apply for water within their jurisdiction.

Is the Brazos River Bigger Than the Wichita?

The water shed of the Brazos river above Seymour is about 12,000 square miles, while the water shed of the Wichita river above Lake Kemp is about 2,000 square miles. The Brazos is a larger river, but probably not six times as big as would be indicated by the sizes of the water sheds.

More Truth Than Poetry
—By James J. Montague—

THUS PERISHES PRIDE

The high silk hat! the high silk hat!
It marked the line that separates
The swell and proletariat
In these so-called United States.
'Twas coupled with the long tailed coat
The country statesman, new to fame,
Would purchase both the day he wrote
An H-O-N. before his name.

The grocer, when elected Mayor;
The lawyer, when the bench he gained;
This badge of honor had to wear,
That dignity might be maintained.
The man who owned the local bank
Was never seen away from home
Without the token of his rank
Upon his round and gleaming dome.

The doctor, when his practice grew.
A shining, silken lid would sport;
The sheriff always had one, too,
And wore it when he opened court.
It set important folk apart;
Whoever rose above the mass
In mill or factory or mart
Employed it to denote his class.

It snatched him from the madding crowd
And turned his thoughts to higher things;
His soaring spirit it endowed
With something of the pride of kings.
But it has had its little day—
The only crown our fathers wore
Is due to vanish quite away
And to be seen, alas, no more!
Without this symbol, bright and sleek,
The country'll soon go Bolshevik!

WHO'S WHO
MISS CAMILLA TREADWELL

Miss Camilla Treadwell of Albany, N. Y., has returned to the United States after eight years' service with the French armies with a war record which has been surpassed perhaps by no woman of any nation. She is planning to live with her brother for a brief period while she convalesces from a nervous breakdown. During her service abroad she received only three "permissions" or vacations from duty.

She brings with her many decorations, both military and civil, for her work both as a nurse and canteen worker with the French soldiers in France, Germany and Upper Silesia. She is to get still another medal in Albany. Governor Miller will give her the Conspicuous Service Cross, a state decoration.

For her work abroad she gained the Croix de Guerre of both the type given during the war and after the war, the Legion D'Honneur and the honorary post of corporal in the regiment of the Chasseurs, or Blue Devils.

Miss Treadwell was wounded twice. The first wound she received while tending wounded for three hours in the exposed streets of Compiegne under shell fire. The second when the civilians in a small city in Poland fired on French barracks.

POEMS THAT LIVE

BANNOCKBURN

Robert Bruce's Address to His Army
Scots, wha hae wi' Wallace bled.
Scots, wham Bruce has often led,
Welcome to your gory bed,
..Or to victorie!

Now's the day, and now's the hour;
See the front o' battle lower;
See approach proud Edward's power
Chains and slaverie!

Who will be a traitor knave?
Wha can fill a coward's grave?
Wha sae base as be a slave?
Let him turn, and flee!

Wha for Scotland's king and law
Freedom's sword will strongly draw,
Freedom's stand, or freeman's fa;
Let him follow me!

By oppression's woes and pains!
By your sons in servile chains!
We will drain our dearest veins,
But they shall be free!

Lay the proud usurpers low!
Tyrants fall in every foe!
Liberty's in every blow!—
Let us do, or die!

Presbyterians At Burkburnett In New Organization

Special to Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Jan. 30.—The First Presbyterian church, U.S.A., was organized in this city Sunday afternoon at the Y.M.C.A., by Rev. S. D. Crouch of Dallas, superintendent of Home Missions in Texas and Louisiana, assisted by Rev. H. F. Grafton, who acted as moderator for the organization, and Rev. C. C. Dooly and other Presbyterian pastors of Wichita Falls.

The charter membership enrollment was 65 men and women, all but three of whom were received by letters from other churches in Texas, Oklahoma, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kansas, West Virginia, Minnesota and New Mexico. Only four of this number had joined the local churches of other denominations.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

"TEACHING SELF CONTROL SHOULD BE WOMEN'S MAIN EFFORT", SAYS IDA TARBELL.

Women of the world can launch no more worth-while movementv during 1923 than one to teach the real fundamentals of discipline or self-control in homes, clubs, churches and communities. Such is the answer given by Miss Ida A. Tarbell, noted writer and also a speaker, in reply to the question as to what she considered a most worthwhile work for women to engage.

Self control, according to Miss Tarbell's way of thinkin, is the most needed thing in the world at the phesent time with war and rumors of war floating about. It is her opinion that if there were more self control among people there would be less war.

"Must Go Deeper"

"Women as well as men," she explained, "are fond at this time of passing resolutions to the effect that that they do not want war, but that is only getting over the surface. What causes it? Analyze conditions and you will find nine out of ten times it is a lack of self control on the part of a uerson, state or nation.

"Nations cannot have control unless the state has it; the state cannot have it without each community possessing it; the community will lack it until such time as each individual has it.

"France and Germany well illustrate what I mean—rushing at each other like two children, determined to have their own way about things whether or not the rest of the family or world suffer from their actions.

"I travel around to some extent during the year and find in almost every city I visit that this or that club is fighting about some trival object; that churches are divided upon questions as to what minister shall occupy the pulpit and so on down a long list of petty things.

"Magazines are full of ideas for clubs or women as individuals to work out through the coming year.

"Come Down to Essentials"

"These are the things that have made me think it is about time to come down to essentials instead of passing resolutions. Nothing looms larger now on the horizon of every woman the world over than the horrors of wars past and those to come and how they shall be avoided.

"I have studied the question from many angles and believe that if more women took stock of themselves and homes, taught their children the beauty and necessity of self control; tried to bring about harmony in their club and church work and into the community life, we would be making steps toward a permanent world peace.

"People live so rapidly these days that they are apt to try to cure all sorts of ailments without proper diagnosis or treatment. We must get down to foundation and work from the ground up. If every individual in the world knew the real meaning of self control, war would soon be a thing of the past.

Frederick Woman Sues For Divorce

Special to Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Jan. 30.—Refusing to live longer with her husband, J. B. Bynum, whose bondsman she was to the sum of $500 on a bootlegging charge, Mrs. Lulu Bynum of Grandfield filed suit for divorce and gave her husband into the hands of the sheriff, asking that the bond be cancelled.

As he nears the "Black Cruiser," Martin runs into Little Billy, whom he tells of the bosun's anxiety. Though Martin detects no odor of liquor on the hunchback, Little Billy appears unsteady and, in seeking to maintain his balance, seizes the law clerk's overcoat, in which he carries the envelope Smatt was sending to Carew. Near the saloon Martin passes a figure in a gray overcoat. He enters the "Black Cruiser" and is put in an empty room of the lodging house upstairs while Carew is to be told of his arrival. As he waits in the dark room he hears a noise that makes him look out in time to see a group of Japanese dragging a beautiful white girl, clad in a gray coat, along the passage. As he opens the door, a fist shoots through, hits him in the pit of his stomach and knocks him back into the room.

Martin crouched on the bed's edge and panted to recover his breath. The scuffling without grew faint, a door slammed, and the house was again quiet.

In the back of his excited mind danced grim shadows of the tales every San Franciscan knows; white women lost forever in some underground cave of Chinatown. Sickening thoughts!

Martin drove his boot against the door. It shivered and splintered.

Before he could kick a second time, there came a cry from the hall, and the door was unlocked. Martin jerked it open. Confronting him was the Japanese who had been his guide, who had gone to "make prepare" Captain Carew.

"You come now," announced the little man, bowing courteously.

"What does all this mean?" demanded Martin angrily. "Who struck me through the door? Who was that white woman? What was that gang doing with her?"

"No understand," the Jap said. "No woman—no gang. No savvy."

"No savvy—big lie!" cried Martin, and he pounced down upon the gray cap which was lying on the hallway floor. He held it up for the other's inspection. "You savvy this?" he demanded.

The Jap shook his head. His smile was gone, and there was a hostile gleam in his eyes.

"That—no understand," he said crisply. "You come for he Captain—you catch business he Captain!"

Martin saw he could get nothing from this fellow and without further words followed the Japanese. They paused before the last door. The guide rapped. A deep voice rumbled orders within, chairs scraped, a door slammed, and the door before which they stood was opened.

Martin lurched forward past the man who opened the door into a room much larger than the one he had just quitted, the full width of the house, and, it seemed, part of a suite, for two doors, besides the one he entered through, let upon it, from the rear wall. At the instant of his tempestuous entrance, he had eyes only for the dominant figure that stood behind a paper-littered table. To this man Martin addressed himself without preliminary.

"That woman—didn't you hear?" he cried. "These Japs have a woman prisoner in this house—a white woman! See! This is her cap. I saw——"

"Are you the messenger who was to come to me tonight?" interrupted the man addressed. He spoke in a commanding and vibrant bass voice. "I am Captain Carew."

It was suddenly bourne in upon Martin's consciousness that he was in the presence of a personality. They were immobile yellow gargoyles, those two Japs who stood against the farther wall, they did not count.

Martin stood still and played his eyes upon the other in appraisal.

And he was a picture to fill the eye, this man who bore himself so disdainfully, this Capt. Wild Bob Carew. Went glimmering the graceless, blaspemous sea-renegade of Martin's fancy.

Captain Carew was quite the handsomest man Martin had ever seen. He stood at least six feet, and was leanly and finely built. He was, perhaps, 35 years old, but the springiness of youth was still in his carriage.

But Martin devined a flaw in that fine mask. The full, curved lips were shaded by a short, blond mustache, but that hirsute covering did not conceal the cruel quirk.

Martin thrust his hand into his inside overcoat pocket and felt of the envelope. Smatt's formula came to his lips.

"I wish to see you on the Hakodate business," he said.

"It is time that business was settled. Did the chief send you?" Carew responded promptly.

"That is correct," said Martin.

He half withdrew the envelope from his pocket, and then hesitated.

"But, Captain Carew, you could not have understood me aright!" he appealed. "I tell you, these Japanese have a young white woman——"

"Enough!" barked Carew. His tone made Martin jump. "Young man, you were sent here to deliver certain papers to me. Do so."

Silently, Martin handed over the envelope. He was baffled. He was angry.

"Now — get out!" commanded Carew, waving him toward the hall.

Martin took a step toward the door and then stopped short.

He saw a man's gray overcoat lying on the floor in the corner.

He wheeled upon Carew again and found the latter's eyes upon him in a threatening glare.

"You — You — that coat!" stammered Martin.

"Enough!" exclaimed Carew. "You have finished your business with me, young man. Your guide will conduct you to the street. And a word of advice, my good fellow: If you value your skin and your employment, you will promptly forget everything you have seen in this house!"

Martin choked upon his rage. Within him surged a hot hatred of this insolent sailor.

"If you value your skin and your employment!" So that was it. A threat! He would show this high handed captain that Martin Blake would risk his skin as readily as the next man. The police . . .

"God, what treachery is this!"

Carew, his face convulsed with passion, was regarding him.

"What does this mean?" cried Carew. "Come back here, you! Explain this beastly trick!"

He thrust the sheaf of papers beneath Martin's nose. They were sheets of blank, white paper, and they had been creased by folding.

"This is what the precious envelope contained," continued Carew. "Tell me, what —— foolery is this?" Where is that codetranslation? Where is that code translation? "Where are my instructions? Where are my clearance papers? Hey, you staring fool!"

"Stop that!" flared Martin. "You moderate your tongue when you speak to me! If you have any complaint to make, make it to Smatt, and Ichi. The envelope was given to me sealed, and I delivered it to you sealed."

"It has been tampered with!" declared Carew.

"It has not," asserted Martin. "If you found those blank sheets within, they were placed there before I received the envelope."

Martin's bearing and his positive statements, evidently impressed the captain.

"You had better take the matter up with the men who sent me here," said Martin.

"You are right, I'll take the matter up with them," exclaimed Carew. "Meanwhile you will remain here. I'll not lose track of you until I get to the bottom of this affir."

He barked an order in a foreign tongue. The two gargoyles at the other end of the room sprang to life and started swiftly toward Martin.

Martin wheeled about and darted for the door to the hallway. As he did he caught a glimpse of Carew. The man had not moved from his station behind the table.

Then a heavy blow smote his jawbone, and he went a-dancing through a world of bright, shooting stars, into darkness.

* * *

A headlong flight through the darkness, falling, falling, into the bottomless pit. A crash, and Martin's mind and body came one again as he struck the floor.

He was lying face downward upon a bare floor. He moved about and took stock, as well as he could, of his new surroundings.

He struck one of his few remaining matches. The room was bare, not a stick of furniture in it. To his surprise, the window lifted easily. But the hand he shoved without met a heavy wooden shutter; and a padlock that locked the shutter fast. No hope of getting away through the window.

He tried the door. Locked. He resorted to the method that had brought him freedom once before that night—he lifted his foot and drove his boot against the door. And, as before, the response was immediate.

A peremptory voice was raised in the other room.

"Stop! Santa Maria, eef you not stop, I shoot.

Martin kicked away.

There was an ear-splitting crash, a splintering of wood, a hot streak passing so close to Martin's head that it scorched, a tinkle of broken glass from the window behind him, a smell of burnt gunpowder. The man had shot through the door at him!

"Eef you not stop the keek, I shoot lower!" came the voice.

Martin sat down quickly upon the floor. Then he crawled into the nearest corner and crouched against the wall. No panic gripped him, but the instinct of self-preservation.

Chiefly he was astonished. He, Martin Blake, had at last encountered a real adventure!

Strange thing about that envelope. Martin had been as much surprised as Carew at the contents. What kind of a game were Smatt and Ichi playing, sending him with injunctions of secrecy to deliver sheets of blank paper? Did Smatt and Ichi know about the abduction—the imprisonment of that girl who masqueraded in the gray overcoat?

Aye, the girl—that was the important thing! Who was she? Where was she? Where had she been taken? If he could only get word to the police!

Martin's ears became suddenly aware of a faint, strange sound.

Somebody was tapping in the next room. Another prisoner! It was the girl—of course, it was the girl.

Tap-tap-tap, tap-tap. There it came again. Martin rapped against the wall with his own knuckles. Instantly there came the response from the other side, the same number of raps. A plain answer.

But Martin's elation was short lived. The unseen tapper immediately commenced again, tap-tap, tap-tap-tap tap-tap.

Surely there was method in that irregular tapping. A signal, a talk in code! But he could not read it.

The best he could do was to repeat the taps. But this, evidently, did not satisfy the sender. The tapping on the other side ceased.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 30.—Rapid swings in the price were seen in cotton today and they carried the market both below and above the level of yesterday's last quotations. The net changes for the day, however, were not very significant, the list showing gains of 3 to 22 points, March closing at 27.65. The market closed higher as the result. Late in the session an organized buying movement among leading bull interests began which brokers and traders supposed had for its object the driving to cover of a short interest said to be concentrated in the early fall delivery.

Just on the close there were setbacks which appeared to be partly due to reports of good rains in some sections of Texas, leading to expectations of a favorable weather map in the morning.

STOCKS HEAVY TOWARD CLOSE

Early Gains Lost By Profit Taking

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Railroad shares were strong during the early part of today's stock market, but the whole list turned heavy at the close in response to extensive profit taking by recent buying and short selling by a number of industrials and specialties. Operations on the short side of the market were influenced by the further weakness of foreign exchange and foreign bonds.

While the recent spurt in railroad shares has increased public participation, the great bulk of the trading is still being done by professional interests, who apparently buy and sell for the turn. Several of the large operators are reported to have adopted a watchful waiting attitude pending more definite developments in the foreign situation.

The quarterly report of the United States steel corporation, issued after the market closed, came as a surprise to Wall street, which had expected that both the common and preferred dividends would be earned with about $1,250,000 to spare. Instead, the corporation earned only 97 cents of the $1.25 dividend on the common stock as compared with 98 cents the previous quarter. The earnings on the common stock for the entire year were equal to $2.85 a share as against $2.24 in 1921.

United States steel shares were inactive on the exchange, less than 10,000 shares changing hands between 106 1-8 and 105 5-8, the low and closing price representing a net loss of 3-8. Gulf states steel dropped 1 1-8 and Otis steel rose 1 1-8, the other shares of that group showing only nominal changes.

Deliveries Drop And Wheat Prices Swing Upward

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—With a decided falling off in the amount of wheat arriving at primary terminals, and with war talk having some bullish effect, wheat took a moderate upward swing in price today. Closing quotations were firm, 3-4 to 1 1-4 c net higher; May, $1.17 1-4 to $1.17 3-8, and July $1.12 1-4 to $1.12 3-8. Corn gained 5-8c to 7-8c, and oats 1-4@3-8c to 5-8c. In provisions the finish was unchanged to 17c up.

Argentine drought news gave strength to corn and oats.

Provisions were firmer in line with hog values, despite selling on the part of packers and cottonseed oil brokers.

TEST NEAR LAKE MAKES SHOWING

New Producing Area May Be Opened

A good showing of oil at the test of Whitehill and Haig on the W. P. McCoy land near Lake Wichita was reported yesterday and developments there are being watched with considerable interest here. The sand was encountered at 657 feet and after a penetration of two feet had been made, the hole showed about 200 feet of oil and water. Preparations were at once made to bail out.

The well is located on the J. R. McDowell survey, abstract 194, and is about three miles southeast of the insane asylum. As the nearest production is in the old Panther pool in Archer county, the well promises to open up a wide scope of territory for development.

Completions Near In Hirschi District

Reports from the new Hirschi district, northwest of Clara, show that a speedy development of the pool's new extension is under way.

Two more wells near the Hirschi No. 1 of the Texhoma Oil and Refining company, which came in for 200 to 250 barrels, are on top of the sand and should be completed at once.

The Bradley Oil company's Hirschi No. 4 is setting casing at 1,809 feet, while the Hirschi No. 2 of the Texhoma company is on top of the sand at 1,805 feet. All these wells are one-fourth of a mile north of other production.

Showing Made by Worsham Well Speeds Operations in Clay County

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Jan. 30. — The bringing in of the Gulf Production company's Worsham No. 1 well last Saturday afternoon when 140 quarts of nitroglycerin were applied at the 3,894 foot level, has given to Henrietta and Clay county the impetus it has long lacked and has awakened a spirit here never felt before.

Since the shot Saturday the Worsham well might be termed a Coue gusher for "day by day in every way" it has looked better and better to the thousands that have trekked to the derrick from over several counties. Nearly 900 barrels of oil have flowed from the well since Saturday afternoon and because there had only been provided one 500-barrel tank for storage this soon overflowed and the ground was utilized. Four large ditches or rather dams on a small creek near the well have been brought into service in an effort to save the oil.

The fact that the oil in the Gulf test is of a higher grade, according to chemists, than any crude found in Texas in the history of the oil game, is another factor which has made the company so interested in making a thorough test. When the shot was applied and oil came up and literally covered the derrick, it was noticeable that the coloring was not smoky black as is usually the case. It was considerably lighter and the oil smells and even looks different than most crude generally seen in North Texas fields.

That the Gulf company got a much better test than expected is evident. Some officials of the company who have visited the well since it began to flow have not failed to state that they are well satisfied with the showing thus far. The consensus of opinion is that the well when cleaned out and allowed to flow should make a 500-barrel well.

Crude Advanced

By Associated Press.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 30. — The price of Corning crude oil was advanced today by the principal purchasing agencies 15 cents to $2.15 a barrel, Pennsylvania crude and all other grades remained unchanged.

ARCHER COUNTY GETS PRODUCER

Well Completed In Shallow Sand

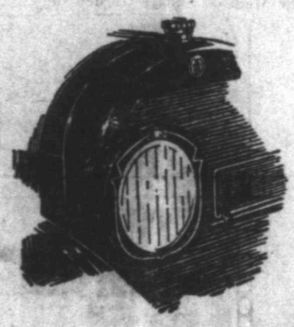

One of the best shallow producers that has been completed recently in the Archer County field has been brought in from the shallow sand on the McCall-Sanderson tract, about one and one-half miles south of Holliday by Hackman and Sanderson. The top of the sand was struck at 665 feet and after this had been penetrated a short distance, the well responded with a flow of about 50 barrels.

Hackman and Sanderson completed their first shallow producer in this territory only a few weeks ago, which is now producing from the 525-foot sand. Casing has been set on the top of this sand at No. 3 and a fourth test is now being drilled around 200 feet. The wells are located in the southwest 40-acre tract of block 25.

The owners of the wells have erected a flush tank, power plant and have provided storage facilities sufficient to care for future wells that may be brought in on this tract.

Mrs. Alfred W. Burnside, 1504 Polk Street, won the first prize which is $15.00 in cash. in the Who's Who Contest of the Record News, giving the answers to the 22 numbers correctly. Mrs. Burnside also illustrated in a very clever manner, the products of each firm.

Mrs. H. A. Allen, care of American Refining Co., is the winner of the second prize, which is $7.50 in cash.

Mrs. Ireon Thom, 1404 Lamar Street, is the winner of the third prize. which is $2.50 in cash.

The winners of the prizes may secure their prizes by calling at the office of The Record News.

Extreme interest shown in the contest was evidenced by the constant clamoring of the telephone bells in the office from early Monday morning until 5 o'clock last evening, when entries in the contest were closed, asking information, and in some cases desiring to submit answers over the telephone. The greater number of replies were practically correct, but minor errors in spelling, and carelessness in the preparation of manuscripts of those who did not win prizes made those selected as the prize winners stand out noticeably above any of the remaining contestants.

The Who's Who editor appreciates the interest shown in the contest, and was really surprised at the familiarity of so many people with Wichita Falls' premier business houses, as is evidenced by the number of answers which were virtually correct with the exception of a few minor details of spelling, etc.

Now That's Rather Odd

PHOENIX—The body of George W. Stevenson is still in a local undertaking establishment with the family remaining firm in its belief that he will revive from a state of suspended animation into which they contend he has passed.

WASHINGTON—A bill by Senator Williams, democrat, Mississippi, authorizing the Daughters of Confederacy to erect a monument in Washington to the "faithful negro mammies of the south," was reported favorably today by a senate committee.

MOSCOW — The Daghestan republic, a tiny nation of fierce mountain tribes on the northeastern slope of the Caucasus, is starving and without medicine, M. Sumzofsky, the little country's president, has informed Captain Cyril J. Quinn, acting head of the American relief administration, the relief organization has agreed to help.

WASHINGTON—Starving country birds soon may be watching as vigilantly for the mail man as letter hungry humans do. Postmaster General Work has issued orders to rural route mail carriers to distribute grain along their routes for starving birds when supplies of such bird seed are furnished them.

DALLAS — One bale of American cotton has been sold at Bremen, Germany, for $4,595,625 marks, according to E. F. Duggan, cotton broker here, who made the sale. The cotton brought 32 ½ cents a pound, which amounted to $161.25 American currency at the present rate of exchange. Mr. Dugan figures that if the buyer retains the bale until marks go back to normal of about 24 cents, he will cash in for $1,002,950.

Tillman County Gains by Decision

Special to Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Jan. 30. — Tillman county will profit hugely by the recent decision of the United States supreme court awarding the disputed river bed oil lands to Oklahoma, inasmuch as the five miles of producing territory are in Tillman county.

There are now $11,000,000 in the hands of Federal Receiver Frederic A. Delano, every one of which was produced from this county's land. A recent order was for the receiver to set aside 5-16 of this huge sum with which to pay production tax and royalties.

The production tax, three per cent, of the money now in the receiver's hands amounts to $370,000. This will be collected by the state. One third of this will revert to Tillman county. The county's share of the amount already accrued will be approximately $123,333.

Winners of Who's Who Contest

Mrs. Alfred W. Burnside, 1504 Polk Street, won the first prize which is $15.00 in cash. in the Who's Who Contest of the Record News, giving the answers to the 22 numbers correctly. Mrs. Burnside also illustrated in a very clever manner, the products of each firm.

Mrs. H. A. Allen, care of American Refining Co., is the winner of the second prize, which is $7.50 in cash.

Mrs. Ireon Thom, 1404 Lamar Street, is the winner of the third prize. which is $2.50 in cash.

The winners of the prizes may secure their prizes by calling at the office of The Record News.

Extreme interest shown in the contest was evidenced by the constant clamoring of the telephone bells in the office from early Monday morning until 5 o'clock last evening, when entries in the contest were closed, asking information, and in some cases desiring to submit answers over the telephone. The greater number of replies were practically correct, but minor errors in spelling, and carelessness in the preparation of manuscripts of those who did not win prizes made those selected as the prize winners stand out noticeably above any of the remaining contestants.

The Who's Who editor appreciates the interest shown in the contest, and was really surprised at the familiarity of so many people with Wichita Falls' premier business houses, as is evidenced by the number of answers which were virtually correct with the exception of a few minor details of spelling, etc.

Tillman County Gains by Decision

Special to Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Jan. 30. — Tillman county will profit hugely by the recent decision of the United States supreme court awarding the disputed river bed oil lands to Oklahoma, inasmuch as the five miles of producing territory are in Tillman county.

There are now $11,000,000 in the hands of Federal Receiver Frederic A. Delano, every one of which was produced from this county's land. A recent order was for the receiver to set aside 5-16 of this huge sum with which to pay production tax and royalties.

The production tax, three per cent of the money now in the receiver's hands amounts to $370,000. This will be collected by the state. One third of this will revert to Tillman county. The county's share of the amount already accrued will be approximately $123,333.

2 JURORS FOR ADAMS NEEDED

Venire Is Exhausted Tuesday

Ten of the 12 men to try Wayne Adams in the 30th district court on a charge of murder had been chosen when court took recess yesterday afternoon. At that time the list of veniremen was exhausted and Judge H. H. Wilson was calling 20 additional men to complete the lists from which to draw the jury. The last two will probably be selected early this morning and evidence introduced during the day.

In the indictment against Adams made by a grand jury a month ago, it is charged that Adams killed J. D. Turner near Newtown on or about Nov. 15, 1922. He was arrested on the night following the discovery of Turner's body lying in front of his shack, with a bullet hole in the back. He was remanded to jail without bail bond, following a preliminary hearing.

Death Penalty Asked

The state announced that it will ask the death penalty and the questions asked the prospective jurors mainly regarded the subject of capital punishment. Both the state and defense have summoned a great number of witnesses.

The defense of Adams will be an alibi, it being claimed that he was not at the place of the murder at the time of the killing. It was not announced what the claim will be, but his attorneys made the statement that they would claim an alibi.

Testimony will probably begin early today following the completion of the jury.

Pullman Service To Oklahoma City Resumed Feb. 11

Restoration of Pullman service from Wichita Falls to Oklahoma City via the Wichita Falls & Northwestern to Altus and from there to Frederick over the Frisco lines was announced Tuesday to become effective Feb. 11. The trains leave this city at 7 o'clock each evening and arrive at 8 o'clock in the morning.

Resumption of the Pullman service between Wichita Falls and Oklahoma City was brought about through the efforts of the local chamber of commerce and business men of communities along the route. The need of such service has been felt here since it was discontinued some time ago.

Kelly Enters Race For Commissioner

Another entry in the city elections was announced Tuesday when O. B. Kelly announced that he would be a candidate for police and fire commissioner next April. He will oppose J. B. Floe, incumbent.

Mr. Kelly was a candidate for mayor in the elections last summer, running last in the three cornered race between Mayor Collier and J. W. Stone. He appeared at the city clerk's office Wednesday morning and secured petitions to circulate in behalf of his candidacy.

Retail Gas Price Raised Two Cents

HOUSTON, Texas, Jan. 30.—All the large marketers of gasoline now are selling at a retail price of 21 cents, an advance of 2 cents over previous quotations. The Pierce Oil corporation boosted the price 2c last Wednesday. The Texas company met Pierce quotations last night. The Humble, Magnolia and Gulf followed the Texas company today. The advance applies to Houston and all Texas common points. Recent advances of prices of light crude oils is assigned for the upward trend of refined products prices.

"Up in the Clouds" At Palace Theatre

A capacity house is assured tonight for "Up in the Clouds," the Joseph M. Gaites' production scheduled to appear at the Palace theatre for a one-night stand. Reports Tuesday were to the effect that only a few seats were available.

"Up in the Clouds" is considered as easily the best stage attraction now on tour in Texas, if not in the entire south. Certainly it is the largest and most pretentious, and if advance notices that have trickled in from cities where it has already exhibited are any criterion by which to judge, it is one that is destined to give Wichita Falls' amusement patrons as enjoyable an evening as they have had in many a moon.

Plenty of music and fun, pep, pretty girls, gorgeous scenery and fancy costumes are promised in profusion.

University Club O.K.'s Medic Bill

Another club was added Tuesday to the list of civic organizations that have endorsed proposed changes in the state medical laws when the University club, after listening to an address by Dr. C. R. Hartsook and holding of a general round-table discussion of the matter, voted to support passage of the bill now before the state legislature.

Dr. Hartsook's address took up the larger portion of the noon luncheon hour and went into many details of the medical laws as they now exist and as they will be after the proposed amendment is passed. The speaker declared that marked improvements made in the medical profession in the past three years had all been accomplished through the efforts of physicians working on principles recognized by the medical profession.

Dr. Hartsook declared that the provisions of the new amendments were not drawn to injure any special branch of the medical profession, but to insure the law being respected by all those who engaged in any form of practice.

TAX OFFICES OPEN TONIGHT

Busy Day Ahead Of Collectors

Long hours, and busy ones, are in store for the city and county tax collector's office today. When the books are closed Wednesday night, the 10 per cent delinquent tax becomes effective and collections made after that time will be subject to the extra penalty.

The county tax office will be open until midnight Wednesday, Guy Ralley announced yesterday, while at the city hall, H. J. Anderson and his force will be on duty at least through a part of the night.

Both offices were crowded all day Wednesday with tax payers hurrying to square up their accounts within the prescribed time limit. Something over $100,000 was taken in at the county office Wednesday and while no figures were available at the city hall, collections there were reported to be reaching for a high water mark.

A number of Baylor alumni here will also make use of private receiving sets.

The programs to be given are as follows:

Baylor band, Waco Baylor club, and Baylor student programs sent from station WJAD, Wco.

More Trouble In Store for Dogs

Miserable days are ahead for the city's canine population. After enjoying comparative freedom all winter the dogs are again to be subject to persecution and annihilation at the hands of an official dog catcher, said official to begin duties the first of the month.

Since last June, when the city dispensed with such a functionary, no concerted drives against stray dogs have been made, but the situation is again one that demands attention. Complaints are received daily at the police station of large numbers of ownerless and homeless pups running at large through the city.

A new supply of dog license tags has been received and orders sent out that untagged dogs be rounded up and placed in the pound. This eventually leads to their execution at the hands of a firing squad.

LIII, Jimmie Makes Harry's Set Work—Almost

(By Broad Caster)

"What in thunder is the matter with this CW set, anyway, Jimmie?"

"Hang it all, Harry, I know that it ought to work. Let's check it over again and see that we have everything right. Oh, I see what the matter is. I forgot to put the other variable condenser across the plate coil. We certainly are dumbells! Here, fasten one side of this condenser to ground and the other side to the switch lever that goes to the plate coil. You see what I'm trying to do? I'm trying to establish a pure oscillator right in this local circuit and then shock the antenna with the generated CW. By doing that I can put out energy on one wave that will not swing when you touch anything and change the capacity of the set a little bit.

"Oh, I get you!"

"Now throw on the juice again. That's it. Oh, boy, look at the ammeter jump! Half an amp. Now let's adjust the turns to see if we can raise the antenna current any."

"Jimmie, when you turned that plate condenser around the antenna current meter needle went way up to one amp and then it jumped back to one-half very suddenly. What did that?"

"Oh, that is caused by too close coupling between the plate and antenna coils. Let's start with the coils about two inches apart."

"I see it all now, Jimmie. I didn't have a pure oscillator set up. I tried you have lowered the wave length of the set the antenna current always decreases. It did that way with my old spark set."

"Is that so? Now, why is that? I'll bet I know. The antenna has resistance and this resistance varies according to wavelength. Have you got any curves on antenna resistance?"

"No, I never heard of any."

"I'll look in dad's red book and see if he has any antenna curves so we can get a few hunches on this loss in amps when you lower your wavelength. What do you say now, Harry, about me getting your old tubes to work? I got some real dope when I was away, you see."

"Well, Jimmie, I'll have to hand it to you. You will be almost as clever as I am before long. Maybe I'll have to get me one of those red books, too."

DAILY RADIO MAXIM

Amateur Wavelength is 200 Meters:

one of those one-coil hookups. They work just fine when they work but are too hard to adjust. Oh, say, Jimmie, my uncle who is a soldier sent me an old wavemeter which will tune down to eighty meters. I just clear forgot to show it to you. What do you say, we see what the wave length of the set is? It has a hot wire ammeter in it so you can tell what the wavelength is by placing the wavemeter close to the oscillator coils and watching for the meter deflection. When the meter needle deflection is maximum you can read your wavelength on that scale there which is attached to the condenser of the wavemeter."

"That is great, Harry. Can't you tell your uncle that you have a few friends that can use wave meters also?"

"Sure, I'll tell him."

"Let's try our wavelength and see what it is. Hot ziggedy! 390 meters! We better try and tune it down a bit. No wonder the antenna condenser and the plate condenser are both at their maximum. If we change the antenna series condenser to, say, twenty degrees, we can adjust for maximum antenna current by adjusting the plate variable condenser. Now we are getting hot for it reads on the wave meter 110 meters. That is lots better, Harry. Look at the antenna current. Only one-quarter of an amp. What happened to all the amps?"

"I don't know, Jimmie, but when

City Park Superintendent Starts Campaign Against Park Vandalism

Juveniles who have been running wild in city parks and cemeteries have caused a tremendous amount of damage to equipment and shrubbery, Park Superintendent Bunnenberg declared Tuesday in announcing that he had asked for a police commission in order to cope with the situation. He is to be given police powers and full authority to make arrests as he sees fit.

According to Mr. Bunnenberg, small boys have started using the Riverside cemetery as an established playground, with the result that considerable destruction to the grounds and decorations has been found. The same thing is true in several of the city parks where trees have been broken down, shrubs torn up and park equipment either ruined or marred.

Such depredations are not new. Several times in the last few months the city has been forced to take action against the youngsters, but on each occasion conditions have been remedied.

Council Meets Today

The city council will meet in adjourned session at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning to consider some new paving projects left over from the regular Monday afternoon meeting. Bids will be opened on the paving of Austin street between Eleventh and Twelfth. Several other matters of minor importance are also to come before the commissioners.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Dan Cupid took a day off yesterday and for the second time in the last few weeks no marriage licenses were issued by the county clerk. Only twice during the past year has this happened, the daily average for the issuances being four or five.

NEW SUITS FILED

Two cases were filed with the district clerk yesterday, for trial in the district court. They are:

Mrs. M. M. Adicks vs. W. E. Priddy, garnishment.

The Core --No More

Heavy demands are being made on the local relief council for aid during the present epidemic of flu and pneumonia, Mrs. E. B. Gorsline Jr., secretary of the council, reports.

One case was tried Tuesday in the city police court. An aged man, who was picked up on a charge of vagrancy, was released when he declared that he was just waiting in the city for money to come from friends so that he might go to Sherman. He proved his statements and was freed.

George Sopher, new manager of the Ball Brothers Fruit Jar plant, is in the city and has assumed his duties. Mr. Sopher comes from Streator, Ill.

Directors of the fair association are planning to set out several hundred shade trees and shrubs on the fair grounds. The work of beautification will start within a few weeks' time.

Wichita Falls slogged and slid through wet, muddy, aggravating streets all day Tuesday. Rains made a soupy mess under foot. No prospects for relief today, the weather bureau reports.

CITY LIGHTING PLAN EXTENDED

Henrietta Closes Big Contract

Special to Record News.

HENRIETTA, Jan. 30.—Instead of 32 lights the city council of Henrietta decided yesterday that while they were about it they would give this city the best lighting system of any town its size in Texas and closed a five year contract with the Wichita Electric company which called for the installation of 70 street lights.

The utilities committee of the Henrietta chamber of commerce took up the matter of getting a new street lighting system for Henrietta less than two weeks ago. The members of this committee, R. G. Green, Vincent Stine, Mug Koethe and J. F. Vaden, Monday afternoon had the pleasure of seeing their suggestion not only adopted but added to by the mayor and city council.

Deal Is Closed

The representatives of the Wichita Electric company who close the deal with the city council were W. F. Ivers of Wichita Falls and H. P. Bramer, local manager of the Wichita Electric company. Besides Mayor G. W. Ellis, Alderman O. D. Worsham, G. A. Hembree, J. T. Gates and H. M. Tannahill voted unamiously to give the new lighting system to Henrietta work to begin at once.

Under the new lighting system, the downtown area will consist of 40 candlepower lights on the six business corners of the business section, 60 lights for the residential section with two 60 watt multiple lights for areas away from the new light zone and two lights for the court house dome. Under this system, the Meridian highway through Henrietta, Omega street, will have a street light at every block. Running east and west from both depots to the country club, a light on every corner will be installed. With these as the nucleus the whole city will be lighted.
