Fast Extra Day

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) – Millions of Pakistanis fasted an extra day today after religious committees throughout the country failed to sight the new moon to end the Moslem holy month of Ramadan.

Religious authorities postponed until Friday this Moslem country's most joyful holiday, celebrated like Christmas and New Years at once. This meant another day of shopping for food and sweets and for holiday gifts.

The postponement was a surprise to Pakistanis who had jammed buses, trucks, trains and wagons to reach family gatherings in time for Eid ul Fitr, the "festival of breaking the fast."

Flood Toll Rises

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) -- The death toll in the kansas City flash flood rose to 23 today while the damage estimate climbed to $50 million.

Twenty-two bodies were found in Kansas City. The 23rd body was found in Leavenworth, Kan., about 35 miles to the northwest.

City and county officials estimated that about 1,000 persons were still homeless because of the 12 inches of rain that fell in a 24-hour period Monday. The torrential rain caused Brush Creek to overflow its banks along the exclusive Country Club Plaza shopping center and pour into the Blue River.

Midland Denies Grant

DALLAS (AP)-Midland officials would not touch the federal government's rental subsidy plan for a million dollars-not even a federal grant worth nearly $1 million.

But Housing and Urban Development (HUD) officials in Dallas said Wednesday that they recommended denial of the grant because the West Texas city failed to comply with the rental subsidy specifications for the past two years.

The Midland City Council rejected the $946,000 grant 4-2 Tuesday night, saying they opposed the concept of the rent subsidy requirement and didn't want federal strings attached.

Testifies Before Senate Panel

Lance Denies Wrongdoing

WASHINGTON (AP)-Budget Director Bert Lance, testifying "more in sorrow than in anger," declared to Senate interrogators today that while he may have made mistakes in running his Georgia banks he engaged in no wrongdoing and no cover-up.

Lance told the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee and a national television audience that his rights have "been treated in the most irresponsible and destructive manner" and that allegations leveled against him have been erroneous, misrepresented and exaggerated.

Moreover, he said, "some are completely misunderstood because those making the charge do not have all the facts."

The burly director of the Office and Management and Budget declared "I was a successful businessman ... and I thought I had an important contribution to make by coming into government service."

"The rights that I thought I possessed have gone, one by one, down the drain," Lance said.

"Were my rights protected?" he asked.

"We'll let the American people answer that."

In a slow, solemn drawl, from a witness table emblazoned with "Mr. Lance," the embattled budget director turned one by one to the accusations leveled at him over recent weeks.

"I do not contend that I made no mistakes when running these banks," Lance said in his opening statement to the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee.

"But to accept the assertion that I could not even manage a small country bank, one must ignore the objective facts," he said.

"Some of the claims are erroneous, some are misrepresented, some are exaggerated and some are completely misunderstood because those making the charge do not have all the facts," Lance said.

The committee, which recommended Lance's confirmation in January,

2nd Diapause Spraying Is Completed

The second spraying in this year's diapause program to control boll weevils in area cotton fields was being concluded today.

The boll weevil control program here is scheduled to involve six sprayings this season. The third spraying will be conducted next week. The following week will be skipped and then three more sprayings will be scheduled.

An increase in boll weevil damage to cotton had been reported as the spraying program began some 10 days ago, and it was hoped that the sprayings would reduce the boll weevil count considerably.

Around 102,000 acres of cotton is involved in the spraying, including mostly Scurry County fields, with a few in Fisher and Borden Counties.

20 Perish In Plane Crash

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)-An Air Force plane slammed into a mountainside on a high security Army base, killing all 20 persons aboard when it exploded on impact a half mile from a bunker containing fissionable material, authorities said.

The four-engine plane crashed on Manzano Base, where nuclear weapons are stored, three minutes after its take off from Kirtland Air Force Base at 11:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Kirtland base operations confirmed there were no survivors, said Walter Sprick of the Federal Aviation Administration.

"One big fireball and that was it," a nearby resident said.

Air Force crews using flares and helicopter spotlights recovered at least 15 bodies in a predawn search. Authorities said all those aboard were military personnel.

A spokesman at the plane's base said it was used frequently by high ranking military personnel and American and foreign dignitaries.

Former Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is among those who have used the plane, the spokesman said.

The aircraft, which was scattered over 10 acres after impact, was used as a model for modifications to Air Force One, the president's plane.

An air traffic controller said he tried to warn the pilot the plane was in trouble.

"The first indication we had he was in trouble was when the radar showed he was too close to the mountain and flying too low," said the controller.

"We hit him on the guard frequency and told him to turn right and climb...but he never did," he said.

The SDN Column

Local school officials were pleased, of course, over American College Test scores which show 1977 seniors in Snyder High School scored higher than the state and national norms.

There were several surprises in the scores. For example, male seniors who took the test here scored higher than females, even in the English section.

Whatever that means, we wouldn't even attempt to speculate.

But perhaps we should not be surprised over this. We just read that a man holds the unbroken speed record for stenography. A fellow by the name of Nathan Behrin set the record by taking 350 words a minute for two minutes with only two small errors, back in 1922.

The Rev. David Robertson of First United Methodist Church noted that Borger High's cheerleaders must have been plenty excited just prior to the Snyder--Borger game there last Friday night. They brought their paper barrier out for the Borger squad to run through and it had the word WOW lettered on it. That is, it was supposed to be WOW. But in their excitement, the Borger girls got it upside down and it said MOM.

Bob Bullock, State Comptroller, advises in a letter to this department that we probably will be getting some calls from businessmen and women about a canvassing program his office is starting. Bullock has some 40 people from field offices to pay personal calls on every business in the state over the next few months. They will be going door-to-door when they hit fown.

"I hope that you will assure them---as we are attempting to do---that we are there for the sole purpose of assisting them in any way we can," Bullock wrote. The comptroller's people are out to inform each taxpayer what is expected of him under the law and to answer questions.

If they are successful in explaining it to all business people, it will indeed be a new record.

Formula Liberalized For Water System Grants

A more liberal formula for determining the amount of grant funds, supplementing loans available for improvement of rural community water systems affected by drought, has been put into effect in Kent and Scurry Counties by the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), County Supervisor, Charles Taylor, announced this week.

Scurry and Kent Counties have been made eligible for FmHA emergency loans and grants under President Carter's drought assistance program to help communities having diminished water supplies, resulting from drought conditions, in designated drought areas. Applications for projects approved must be made in time for funds to be obligated by September 30, 1977.

Taylor said the revised regulations will enable FmHA to apply a formula on grants similar to that used by other federal agencies that help to finance drought emergency water system projects.

In calculating a community's ability to repay an emergency loan for water system improvement, FmHA previously has taken into account existing indebtedness only for water facilities. The new formula lets FmHA take into account the applicant's existing indebtedness for all purposes. This is expected to increase the grant portion of FmHA funding of many projects.

The new regulation also provides that some projects, previously not eligible for grant assistance, may receive FmHA grants of up to 20 percent to total eligible project development costs, if they are needed to safeguard public health and safety. A larger proportion of grant funds, up to 50 percent, may be provided if justified through the formula for determing the comunity's ability to repay a loan.

Applications of the revised formula has been made retroactive to May 6, 1977, except where loan and grant funds have been delivered to the borrower. Financing of projects previously approved but not yet funded will be adjusted to the new formula.

In addition to the Sept. 30, 1977 deadline for obligation of funds, the drought emergency program imposes an April 30, 1978 deadline for completion of projects. Communities of up to 10,000 population may be included in the service areas of water systems receiving FmHA loans and grants. Loans are made for terms of up to 40 years, at an interest rate of 5 percent.

Taylor said information on project assistance can be obtained from FmHA's Snyder office at 3423 Ave. T, Snyder.

Mexican Troops On Full Alert

MEXICO CITY (AP)-The govenment put 10,000 police and troops on full alert today to hunt for a new left-wing terrorist group that claimed responsibility for the worst rash of bomb explosions in Mexico in decades.

Police said 23 blasts injured five persons and did an estimated $20 million worth of damage in Mexico City, Guadalajara and Oaxaca between midnight and 3 a.m. Wednesday. The police said 17 more homemade time bombs were found and disarmed.

Police squads, detective units and special anti-guerrilla military squadrons were making surprise searches and manning roadblocks at numerous points in the country. One unofficial report said 13 suspects had been arrested and taken to a military compound outside Mexico City.

Leaflets signed by the Union of the People, an organization not heard of previously, said it was responsible for the bombs. It called other left-wing terrorist groups "chicken" and vowed to bring "Lenin's revolution" to Mexico to stop "unemployment, hunger and exploitation imposed on the people by the dominant class."

Lawyer Jose Rojo Colorado, who defends accused leftist terrorists, told newsmen in Oaxaca that the Union was founded in that city and had its headquarters there.

Briscoe Confident Of Win In Crowded Race

AUSTIN (AP)-You don't quite need a scorecard yet, but the preseason gubernatorial field is beginning to get crowded for a 1978 race Gov. Dolph Briscoe says he will win easily.

Two precandidates-Texas Republican Party leader Ray Hutchison and Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill-took steps Wednesday that indicated their candidacy is all but official.

Briscoe already has made it known he intends to try for a third term, and Former Gov. Preston Smith, lashing out at Briscoe as a "caretaker governor," announced plans Tuesday to try to win back his old job.

Briscoe, who said he will run on his record, boasted Wednesday of better support than ever for his attempt at a third term.

"There is absolutely no question about it. I will win it without a runoff," Briscoe said of the race for the Democratic nomination.

Hill, who has been considered a candidate since January, said he would announce his future political plans at a series of news conferences in Austin, Dallas, Houston and San Antonio Monday.

Hutchison said he was resigning his party post. "While this action should not be taken as an announcement for the Office of Governor, it is an announcement that I will be seriously considering all factors relevant to an announcement on that subject by early fall," he said.

"I want to run for governor, no question about it," added Hutchison, who said a try for the governorship would depend on the financial backing he can muster in the next few weeks.

Hutchison said he was aware of the Democratic strength he would face in a race for governor, but added, "I think we Republicans can elect a governor for the first time in 100 years."

Hill, who was in Dallas Wednesday hosting a meeting of the Energy Committee of the National Association of Attorneys General, said he is not concerned about Smith's announcement.

Congress Is Asked To Preserve Alaska Lands

WASHINGTON (AP)- Interior Secretary Cecil D. Andrus is asking Congress to preserve more than 90 million acres of Alaska wilderness, a move expected to spark an environmental battle of epic proportions.

At issue is the future course of the nation's last frontier, thousands of square miles of wilderness lands whose development will be determined by Congress.

The battle pits preservationists against developers.

Andrus seeks to protect an area almost the size of California for national parks, wildlife refuges, wild and scenic rivers and national forests. Estimates of the amount of land Andrus will ask Congress to preserve range from 91.6 million acres to 92.8 million acres.

Environmentalists want even more land to be protected from development. In bills before Congress, they are asking that nearly 120 million acres be preserved.

Developers argue that the amount of land to be preserved is far too extensive and would block future development of oil and gas reserves, minerals and timber.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce filed suit Wednesday to block Andrus from testifying today before a House subcommittee, arguing unsuccessfully in U.S. District Court that the secretary is required by law to file an environmental impact statement before testifying.

According to Fred Krebs, a chamber attorney, the suit was prompted by "a fairly good cross section" of the mining, timber, oil and gas interests within the chamber.

Andrus' proposal is expected to break down as follows: national parks, 42.6 million acres; wildlife preserves, 46.6 million acres; wild and scenic rivers, 2 million acres; national forests, 1.6 million acres.

Andrus' anticipated proposal - if enacted by Congress - would more than double the size of the existing national park system and the wildlife refuge system.

One proposed park contains a glacier bigger than the state of Rhode Island - and it is not the only glacier in the park. Nor is the glacier the park's preeminent feature.

Other lands Andrus is expected to protect include the Yukon Flats, flat tundra inundated with potholes and sloughs which provide nesting grounds for approximately one million waterfowl, the largest nesting concentration of wildfowl within the United States.

CHAMPION HOG—Ray Hill, a member of the Snyder chapter of the Future Farmers of America, is pictured with his Duroc hog which won first place in its division Wednesday at the West Texas Fair being held in Abilene. Keith Early, another FFA member, showed a Duroc which won third place in the fair. Both animals are being processed this week along with 30 other top animals and $500 and $250 will be awarded to the first and second best carcasses, respectively. The animals were bred by Bill Early.

Generations Battling Each Other For Jobs

NEW YORK (AP)-We are now witnessing, or perhaps are involved in, the battle of the generations for jobs, the pitting of grandparent against grandchild in a fight to be an active member of the labor force.

For teen-agers it is a matter of gaining a foothold in a labor market for which they are poorly trained. For those 65 or over the task is one of convincing employes that the skills they have are still of use.

And while some may wonder why there isn't room for both, the less theoretical among the populace are concerned that chaos might result if those on top don't make room for those coming in at the bottom.

Who should be served—youth or age? Or can both be served.

The immediate legislative consideration regarding youth is whether and by how much we should raise the minimum wage, now $2.30 an hour. The chances are high that it will go to $2.65 an hour this year, a figure that represents a compromise.

Organized labor wanted the figure higher, but business interests sought to have it remain the same or be lowered, especially for teen-agers As it was, they said, it constituted an impediment to the employment of the unskilled.

A lower rate, said business interests, would encourage small business enterprises to employ youngsters at jobs involving minimal skills, and enable them to acquire training on which they could later capitalize.

Instead, it is argued, the jobless teen-ager makes his anger known through crime. Or, if all aggressiveness in him is defeated, through idleness and various forms of emotional disorders.

The elderly—the connotation misrepresents in that the expected life span of a 65-year-old male is 78.7 years, and a 65-year-old woman, 83.1 years—defend themselves with a disturblingly direct logic.

In a country that stresses individual liberties, they say, it seems more a [illegible] lishment than a rational act to declare everyone age 65 to be in need of retirement.

To argue that makes no more sense than to declare summer over because Labor Day has past. That assumption also is meant to serve the bureaucracy, which states that efficiency dictates that school begin then. It has little to do with the temperature.

Neither does age 65 have much to do with physical, mental or emotional condition. It has instead to do with labor contracts and pension regulations and customs. As a result, some are force-retired at the height of their skills.

Perhaps the real questions are being avoided. Why, for example, is it that the economy cannot accomodate the very young and the older members of the community.

If you ask the economists you'll get in return as many questions as answers. [illegible] nations of why it has to be that you'll recognize quickly that the framework from which they speak is limited to defending what is.

But almost all of them agree on one thing, that any wasted skills, for whatever reasons, represent a net loss to the community.

The amount of lubricating oil that is discarded annually totals some one billion gallons-that would fill a tank 90 feet across and one mile high.

Vandalism, Two Arrests Reported

Two arrests and an act of vandalism topped the list of police reports.

Thomas Benjamin Brown was arrested Wednesday evening on a warrant charging him with alleged possession of a controlled substance. Brown, 20, was first taken into custody Aug. 6 when officers reportedly found in his possession a white powdery substance.

The results of a lab test reportedly showed the substance to be cocaine. Brown was booked at the sheriff's office this morning on a felony charge and bond was set at $2,500.

In other reports, a 16-year-old juvenile was booked at the police station yesterday afternoon on a forgery charge.

The youth is alleged to have taken a $77 welfare check from a mailbox in an incident that occurred last week. He is alleged to have cashed the check by forging the addressee's name. Police also reported that they plan to question another juvenile in connection with the incident.

The 2612 32nd St. home of Dr. David Ray received an estimated $300 worth of damage when three windows were shot out with a pellet gun, according to police reports.

The incident was reported to police at 2:28 p.m. Wednesday.

Two cars were involved in a minor collision Wednesday at 10:28 p.m. at the Taco Villa parking lot.

Involved in the mishap were a parked 1972 Ford owned by Netha Pearl Roggenstein and a vehicle reportedly operated by Kendall Davis of Ira.

Posse Sets Trail Ride

The Scurry County Sheriff's Posse will have a trail ride Saturday at 9 a.m.

The ride, members of the sheriff's posse said, will start at the Polar turnoff on the Lubbock Highway and will cover a 20-mile course down the Polar Road to the Leona Ford farm.

Each rider is asked to take a sack lunch and send a salad or dessert for the evening meal at the Ford farm. The supper is scheduled to begin about 6 p.m.

Membership in the Scurry County Sheriff's Posse is not required for participation in the trail ride. Any rider wishing to participate in the event may do so.

ROYAL BRIDE-to-be, Monaco's Princess Caroline is marrying a commoner but the couple has something more important to them than rank in common — an ardent interest in sports. The 20-year-old princess and Paris businessman Philippe Junot, 37, are tennis players, swimmers and skiers. She also is a horsewoman and he plays soccer.

Charge Filed After Mishap

Following a minor traffic accident Tuesday afternoon, a 17-year-old man was charged with suspicion of driving while intoxicated when he reportedly fled from the scene of the collision.

The suspect was apprehended by sheriff's deputies in the Green Hill addition in north Snyder minutes after a 5:30 p.m. collision. The 1964 Chevrolet driven by the suspect was reportedly in collision at the intersection of 23rd St. and Ave. E with a 1968 Pontiac driven by Steve Daugherty.

The suspect was serving on a 90-day-work-release program following a probation revocation last month in county court.

Firemen Called

City firemen extinguished a minor grass fire Wednesday evening.

The fire was reported at 8:10 p.m. at 15th St. and Ave. H.

LANCE

is investigating allegations arising from Lance's activities with the Calhoun First National Bank of Calhoun, Ga., of which he was board chairman, and the National Bank of Georgia in Atlanta, which he served as president.

Lance told the committee that although his discussions with the staff in January "did not include a microscopic review of my affairs," he answered fully and accurately all questions and did not engage in any cover-up.

In regard to loans which he received from banks with which his own banks had special relationships, he said, "in no instance was there a finding that the terms of my loans were more favorable" because of the business ties.

Lance vigorously denied that he backdated any checks to allow him to take income tax deductions for 1976, a possibility suggested in a line of questioning last Friday by Illinois Sen. Charles Percy, ranking Republican on the committee.

"I deeply regret that Sen. Percy saw fit to act in this regrettable matter in making a charge which has no merit whatsoever," he said.

He said checks numbered 919 through 921 in his checkbook were dated prior to checks 917 and 918 because the smaller numbered checks had been removed from the book while blank and kept in his briefcase for possible use later.

"I frequently tear out checks from the checkbook in this matter, so that I will have checks with me when I need them," he said.

Thus did Lance begin the "day in court," which he had said he so eagerly awaited. Earlier, he had declared his spirits high and his determination undaunted as he headed into the arena of his Senate critics and a future as clouded as his past activities have appeared in the panel's week-old hearing.

Mrs. Mossler Considered Race

HOUSTON (AP)-Candace Mossler seriously considered running for governor of Texas in 1972, says a son-in-law of the late millionairess.

James Meredith, of Denver, Colo., said Monday that Mrs. Mossler was paying political advisers "a lot of money" until several persons he did not identify convinced her she could not be elected.

The testimony was given during the third week of a trial in which two adopted sons, Daniel, 26, and Christopher Mossler, 25, are challenging the validity of a 1975 will supplement.

Rudd Surrenders 2nd Time

CHICAGO (AP)-After seven years in hiding, former radical leader Mark Rudd surrendered for the second time in two days today to face criminal charges after ending seven years as a fugitive.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Rudd as he stepped from a plane at O'Hare International Airport. He was handcuffed and brought by car to the Criminal Courts Building.

Rudd faces charges of aggravated battery, mob action, resisting arrest and jumping bail, stemming from the 1969 "Days of Rage" street violence in Chicago.

There was no explanation why he was seized at the airport when his announced intention was to report voluntarily in court.

Wearing handcuffs and escorted by sheriff's police, Rudd was whisked past reporters in the Criminal Courts Building and made no comment.

Meanwhile, The New York Daily News reported today that four other members of the radical Weather Underground group may give themselves up.

Quoting unidentified sources, the News said that Bernardine Dohrn, Kathy Boudin, William Ayres and Jeffrey Jones, had consulted lawyers and are considering surrender because they believe prosecutors can no longer prove the charges against them.

On Wednesday, Rudd was released on bail after appearing in Manhattan Criminal Court on Misdemeanor charges stemming from a 1968 student takeover at Columbia University in New York. He had been a fugitive since April 6, 1970.

Bella Offered Career In Movies

NEW YORK (AP)-Former Rep. Bella Abzug, one of five losers in the city's Democratic mayoral primary, can have a new career in the movies-if she wants it.

After Mrs. Abzug conceded defeat early Friday morning, Otto Preminger told her she could have a role in a new movie he is making. Everyone thought the eccentric producer was kidding.

Preminger insisted Monday that he was so serious that he plans to write in a part for Mrs. Abzug in "The Homeland," to be filmed in Israel.

Garden Club Invites Fair Entries

Involving the community in the garden show in the Scurry County Fair was the theme of the Twilight Garden Club's first meeting of the season. As sponsor of the annual event, the club members want to express their appreciation for the outstanding entries which have been brought each year. The club urges everyone to make plans to exhibit again this year.

To encourage wider participation in the artistic division the standard show, requirements have been eliminated, leaving a wide variety of choices in the classes. The homemaker, from the very beginning of time, has in some way decorated the home and its environs. The club invites all to share their ideas and accomplishments with the community by entering the decorations made, used, and loved at home.

Mrs. James Dower, chairman, and Mrs. Ray Martin, co-chairman, led the discussion, in which all members participated. Mrs. Edgar Carpenter presided over the business meeting. Mrs. Bob Dupree was hostess to ten members, Mmes. Hardy Scarbrough, Lester Moore, Fred Davis, Robert Patterson, Hugh Lowry, Edgar Carpenter, James Dower, Bob Dupree, Ray Martin and C.W. Key.

In basic bridge responders to Blackwood are in the position of Tennyson's light brigade. "Their's not to reason why, their's but to do or die." They don't have to die, but they do have to respond as asked.

In advanced bidding there are several situations where responder will take independent action.

Today's hand illustrates the simplest one. South follows up his Blackwood four notrump with five notrump to ask for kings. This follow up also informs partner that they have all the aces. There is no reason to invite seven when you know there is an ace against you.

North dutifully shows his two kings and South merely goes to six spades.

At this point North revalues his hand. South was clearly thinking of seven when he bid five notrump. Could there be a trump loser? How about another loser?

South could not know that North held four sure and five very probable club tricks so North bids the grand slam which makes easily in spite of the bad club break.

Ask the Jacobys

Several readers have asked us if it is proper to show your hand and claim after trumps are drawn and the rest of your cards are good.

The answer is that it is perfectly proper, but you had best be sure of your claim, because there are various possible restrictions on future play. In general, it is better just to play the hand out quickly and save possible arguments.

Study Urges Restricted Use Of Mammography

By WARREN E. LEARY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)-A national breast cancer detection program should be continued, but its use of breast X rays should be restricted because of their potential for causing the disease in some women, a National Cancer Institute advisory group said today.

The report, presented today at a breast cancer screening meeting, said X-raying breasts, a process called mammography, effectively finds cancer that goes undetected by other methods.

But too much is unknown about the possibility of radiation causing cancer for mammography to be used routinely on all women, particularly those under age 50, the study said.

Attending the meeting at the National Institutes of Health is a group of scientists, physicians and laypersons who hope to develop a consensus on whether the detection program should be continued and what it should include.

The report reviewed data from the $54 million Breast Cancer Detection Demonstration Project, cosponsored by the National Cancer Institute and the American Cancer Society, in which up to 270,000 volunteer women aged 35 and older are being screened for five years.

The value of the project has been questioned not only because of mammography, but also because it is still unclear if early detection improves long-term survival, as many medical authorities believe.

Project officials say the program so far has uncovered more than 2,500 cancers, using various screening methods.

The advisory group, headed by Dr. Oliver H. Beahrs of the Mayo Clinic, last January began reviewing the project to see what has been learned and if it could be applied to future controlled studies to resolve unanswered questions about early detection.

The current program began in 1973 with 12 medical centers and later expanded to a total of 27. Each center project is to screen about 10,000 women a year or five years, using a variety of methods, including physical examinations and thermography.

The advisory group recommended dropping thermography as a routine procedure in the program because it missed many cancers detected by X rays. Thermography is a method of measuring heat variations in the breast in hopes of spotting cancer "hot spots."

At a briefing, Beahrs said thermography still has potential and should be kept as an option. But he said the method, which has no risks and is cheaper than X rays, isn't yet good enough to stand alone.

The report said routine yearly mammographies should be restricted to women aged 50 and over, who are at highest risk of the disease. Women age 40 to 49 should have X-ray exams only if they had previous breast cancer of close female relatives had the disease, an indication of hereditary risk factor.

The study group said women 35 to 39 years of age should be screened with mammography only if they previously had breast cancer. The current program guidelines also allow this group X-ray exams if close relatives, such as a mother or sister, had cancer.

County Court Pleas Heard

Guilty pleas to four charges alleging sale of an alcoholic beverage in a dry area were entered Tuesday in county court by two defendants.

Entering the pleas were Mozelle King and Samuel Davis. Each defendant was charged with two counts of the offense that are reported to have occurred May 28. They are reported to have offered for sale alcoholic beverages to agents of the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

King and Davis were fined $1,000 apiece on each of the counts.

A guilty plea to a charge of possession of less than two ounces of marijuana was entered in county court by Richard Franklin Allen.

Allen, was fined $200 and sentenced to serve a 90-day jail, probated for 180 days.

Zorinsky Returning Unspent Office Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) Freshman Sen. Edward Zorinsky, saying too many people in Washington feel comfortable spending other people's money, is returning to the government $313,016 in unspent office funds.

"I feel like one drop in a bucket helps," said Zorinsky, a Nebraska Democrat, whose unused funds will revert to the treasury on Sept. 30, when the current fiscal year ends.

"Sometimes a bucket can get filled if enough drops fall into it," he said in a telephone interview today.

Zorinsky, who has been in office only nine months of the fiscal year, said he would be returning more money to the treasury if he had been in the Senate for the entire fiscal year.

He said he simply didn't spend all of his appropriation for administration aide salaries as well as money provided for such items as telephones, travel, stationery and other office expenses.

In addition, the senator is vowing to make his 19 staff workers earn the 7.5 per cent pay raise that will automatically be given to thousands of other federal employes in October.

Zorinsky, who serves on the Agriculture and Commerce Committee, also refused to use $139,278 authorized for hiring committee aides.

"The taxpayers can no longer afford to pay for all the service the federal government wants to provide for them," said Zorinsky, who winces at the thought of being dubbed a crusader.

The senator admits, however, that his tight-fisted spending policies have caused a stir among some colleagues.

"Some of them have referred to it jokingly," Zorinsky said, without naming names. "But I haven't encountered any animosity."

Does he feel like a fiscal Lone Ranger?

"Not at all," Zorinsky said. "I just feel that I want to be sure I'm not wasting the taxpayers' money."

Not a single constituent has complained about Zorinsky's failure to spend all of the money allocated to his office, he said.

"In fact," said Zorinsky, the former mayor of Omaha, "I've received several letters from people saying, 'We wish there were more like you in Washington.'"

Hometown Has Rally For Lance

By MARK O'BRIEN
Associated Press Writer

CALHOUN, Ga. (AP) It was like an old-fashioned revival meeting as the hometown folks stomped their feet, prayed and cheered one of their own - Bert "Good Ole Georgia Boy" Lance.

About 1,500 people - more than one-fifth of Calhoun's population - turned out in a demonstration of support for the director of the federal Office of Management and Budget on the eve of his appearance before a Senate panel investigating his financial affairs.

The crowd gave a standing ovation as the high school band played "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "I Did It My Way."

They had placards saying "Calhoun for Bert" and "Bert's A Good Ole Georgia Boy." They used words like "love," "friendship," and "honesty" to describe Lance, who did not atttend the rally.

"I'll tell you what kind of a guy he is," said Jack Purcell, who used to be the catcher on the softball team when Lance was pitcher.

"I called him up last year to come speak to the graduating class of the school where I was principal. And even though it rained and the loudspeakers didn't work, he came and he spoke. And when I sent him a check for speaking to the class, he sent the check back because he didn't do it for the money. That's the kind of guy Bert is."

A downpour drove the crowd from the high school football field across the street to a gymnasium, but it didn't dampen their spirits.

Lance's minister, the Rev. Emory Brackman, told of the "very generous" contributions of time and money that Lance and his wife, LaBelle, made to the First Methodist Church. He recalled that Lance received "the highest honor" a United Methodist can receive when he was elected to the church's General Conference.

Panel Rejects Plan To Help Battered Wives

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)-Feminists are seeking to dump a women's rights commission which has opposed abortion, the Equal Rights Amendment, and the "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman" TV show while supporting the lady bug as the state insect.

The latest flap surrounding the New Hampshire Commission on the Status of Women occurred when the panel refused to act on a program to help women who have been beaten by their husbands.

Although there was no formal vote, the nine of the 10 commissioners said they were against the program. Commissioners at Monday's meeting said they saw it as an intrusion of government into the personal problems of New Hampshire citizens.

"You can't legislate love in the home. The government isn't designed to interfere here," said commissioner Simone Mason of Salem.

And commission member Gloria Belzil of Nashua simply said of the program's defeat, "Some women libbers irritate the hell out of their husbands."

Dorothy Craigie, commission chairman, said the panel has not dismissed the wife-beating problem but plans to "study the problem and come up with a recommendation."

The dissenting member of the commission, Frances Drown, said she would continue to pursue the program to help battered women at a special conference of women's groups set for next Wednesday.

The commission's record also includes support of prayer in the schools and opposition to the repeal of a law banning lesbian activities and to a federal family and child services program.

But the rejection of the battered wives plan outraged feminists groups and women legislators.

Republican Rep. Gale Morrison called on conservative Republican Gov. Meldrim Thomson, who appoints commission members, to remove those who voted against the program.

She said women legislators have banded together to try to abolish the commission because "we felt that the group did not represent any of the issues we stood for or were working for."

Republican Rep. Susan McLane, head of the House Ways and Means Committee, called the panel's rejection of the battered wives plan "worse than absurd... They practically said a man has the right to beat his wife."

ROOTS ARE A BIG THING in Frankfurt-an-der-Oder, East Germany, where a 98-foot-high, 140-year-old spruce is a botanical curiosity.

Panel Hikes Limit On Exempt Earnings

WASHINGTON (AP)- Retired people could earn up to $4,500 next year without losing Social Security benefits under a plan approved by a House subcommittee.

Its chairman says the current limit reduces some elderly persons to eating pet food.

Recipients who now earn more than $3,000 lose $1 in benefits for every $2 they bring in above the ceiling. That limitation, says Rep. James A. Burke, D-Miss., means some retirees are "living on a diet of cat and dog food."

In a move experts say could affect a million people, the House Ways and Means subcommittee on Social Security Wednesday tentatively approved raising the allowance in 1978.

Under the proposal, recipients could earn $6,000 in 1979 without facing an aid cutback.

The limit on exempt earnings this year is $3,000. It is expected to go to $3,240 in 1978 and $3,480 in 1979 under a provision of the existing law that ties benefits to inflation.

The subcommittee's move, approved 9 to 3, was a compromise between proposals to abolish the limitation and others for a smaller of later increase. Republicans had suggested phasing out the limitation over three years.

A part of the compromise, the subcommittee agreed that the whole subject would be considered again when the panel takes up long-range changes in Social Security, probably next year.

The subcommittee is now putting together legislation to keep the deficit-plagued Social Security system alive.

All the votes it is now taking are subject to change or reversal. Burke, the panel chairman, predicted the move "wouldn't get 50 votes against it" if it reaches the House floor.

Partly offsetting the cost of raising the income lid, the subcommittee voted to remove from the law a quirk that allows a retired person to earn as much as he can in a month if he forfeits his benefits for that month.

The cost of raising the earnings limit was estimated at $2 billion in 1979, $2.4 billion in 1980 and $2.5 billion in 1981. The savings from eliminating the monthly option were calculated at $400 million a year.

The subcommittee recommended adding some six million federal, state and local government employes to the system and voted to end the option state and local governments and nonprofit organizations have of withdrawing from Social Security.

Starts on new housing are expected to reach 2 million units in 1977, according to the Mortgage Bankers Association of America. This includes 1.5 million single-family homes.

Rotan Cable Rates Hiked

ROTAN--The Rotan City Council has approved a monthly rate increase for Television Cable Service, Inc.

The increase will affect approximately 469 local cable subscribers. The monthly service charge for a single outlet will increase from the present $7.45 to $9.95. Loraine Plans For New Gym

LORAINE--The Loraine School Board has approved tentative plans for a new gymnasium and selected a site on the southeast corner of school property.

At the same time, the board agreed to proceed with plans to call a bond election. Tentative plans are to call for a vote on a $700,000 bond proposal in mid-November. Some $365,000 of the bond funds would be used to build the new gymnasium and $275,000 would go for remodeling the main school building. The remainder would go for planning, architect's fees, etc. It is estimated that it would require a 48-cent tax rate increase to pay off the bonds over a 25-year period.

Dove Hunters Draw Fines

COLORADO CITY--Ten dove hunters from the Houston and Dallas areas were apprehended by game wardens Ronnie Aston of Colorado City and Rue Gambol of Snyder and charged with exceeding bag limits by 91 birds.

The bag limit for doves is 10 birds per day.

The city has handled these chores for approximately one year.

Alexander 'Sinks' California Angels

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP)-Doyle Alexander is making some $150,000 a year for the Texas Rangers and the sinker-ball-pitching right hander was worth every dime of it Wednesday night.

The only problem is that Alexander hasn't possessed his sinker ball all season, even though he's the winningest hurler on the Ranger staff at 15-10.

He muffled California on three hits and the Rangers nicked the Angels 2-1.

"The last two games I've been able to throw the sinker that I haven't had in the last two or three years," Alexander said. "The ball is starting to move for me now."

John Ellis' homer and Toby Harrah's sacrifice fly produced the only runs Alexander needed as Ken Brett suffered his 12th loss against as many victories.

Alexander should have had a shutout, but he was his own worst enemy.

After walking the leadoff batter in the seventh inning, Mario Guerrero hit a grounder back to Alexander and he promptly threw it into center field trying for a double play.

Don Baylor singled home a run, but leftfielder Keith Smith gunned down Guerrero trying to score on David Chalk's single.

Ranger Manager Billy Hunter said: "Doyle definitely figures in our plans for next year. We are counting heavily on him. He is the type of pitcher who's capable of going 15-7 for you.

"Pitching is a wonderful thing when you get it."

Asked if Alexander was an "untouchable" in the winter trades, Hunter said quickly, "everyone is untouchable."

Westerners Begin Conference Play

CLARENDON-- Western Texas College, recent winners in the New Mexico Junior College Intercollegiate Golf Tournament, join eight other WJCAA schools here Friday for the first fall Conference Tournament of the 1977-78 year.

WTC, 1976 conference champions, brings two teams to the two-day "double" tournament; which features 18-hole conference play followed by the annual 54-hole Clarendon Intercollegiate Tournament.

Among the schools attending the tournaments are conference contenders Odessa College, South Plains College, New Mexico Junior College, Amarillo College, Frank Phillips Junior College, Clarendon College, New Mexico Military Institute and Midland College.

The Westerners, under direction of Coach Bob O'Day, will field a Blue and a Green team over the Friday and Saturday events.

Making up the Blue team, which took first place in the NMJC Intercollegiate Tournament Sept. 8-9 of this year, are sophomores Miller Scott of Clyde, Terry Kendrick of Perryton and Chris Brown of Midland, and freshmen Billy Sitton and Steve Wise of Midland.

Making up the Green team, second place winners at the Sept. 8-9 tournament, are sophomore Ronald Koerth of Ozona, and freshmen Mike Waller of Fort Stockton, Britt Lindsey of Abilene, Don Cofer of Memphis and Lee Baird of Abilene.

Greg Reynolds, a freshman from Lubbock, will play as an individual.

Bulldog Player Of The Week

IRA--This week, the outstanding Bulldog "Player of the Week" goes to Fred Kesner, 165-lb. senior tailback.

Fred carried the ball 17 times for a total of 134 yards rushing-averaging eight yards per carry-last week against Grady.

"In the losing cause for the Bulldogs, Fred scored two touchdowns and made several key pass receptions to help keep the Bulldogs alive," notes Ira Coach Gary Fox. "Fred plays middle linebacker and made 12 unassisted tackles and assisted on numerous others," he adds.

Fred is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kesner of Ira.

Former Heisman Duo Cut By Pro Squads

By The Associated Press

It is being proved again that hot-shot press clippings from a player's college days don't impress National Football League coaches.

Two former Heisman Trophy winning quarterbacks - Pat Sullivan and Steve Spurrier - have been dropped by NFL teams. Running backs Sonny Collins of Kentucky, Kermit Johnson of UCLA and Mike Adamle of Northwestern - former stars at major universities - were cut Wednesday, joining Jim Bertelsen of Texas in the ranks of the unemployed.

But some of the rejected players were given another chance.

Wide receivers Randy Vataha and John Gilliam, defensive end Bob Lurtsema, defensive back Rolly Woolsey and fullback Mike Franckowiak were given new NFL contracts after getting the axe.

Sullivan, waived Wednesday by San Francisco, spent four years with the Atlanta Falcons before playing out his option and joining the Washington Redskins. He was cut by the Redskins and later the Chicago Bears before the 49ers gave him a tryout this year.

The 49ers also cut Johnson Wednesday, along with linebacker Rod Martin. They also placed linebacker Mike Baldassin and quarterback Steve DeBerg, acquired on waivers from the Dallas Cowboys, on the two-man taxi squad.

Adamle was released by the Chicago Bears to make room for Gilliam, who had a standout 10-year career with the Minnesota Vikings but was cut Wednesday by Atlanta, who signed him last year.

The Falcons cut five players, including Collins, running back Billy Pritchett and rookie receiver Shelton Diggs of Southern California.

Vataha was claimed on waivers by the Green Bay Packers from the New England Patriots, who cut him Tuesday. Vataha, who teamed for years with quarterback Jim Plunkett at Stanford and New England, replaces rookie offensive lineman Gerald Skinner of Arkansas on the Packers' active roster. Skinner was put on injured reserve.

Lurtsema, an 11-year veteran acquired by Seattle from Minnesota last year, was re-signed by the Seahawks Wednesday after being cut Tuesday. Seattle also waived veteran tight end John McMakin to make room for tight end John Sawyer, obtained Tuesday from the Houston Oilers.

Franckowiak, a third-year pro, was acquired by the Buffalo Bills from Denver. The Bills cut rookie running back Nate Jackson to make room for Franckowiak.

Woolsey, who played for Dallas in 1975 and Seattle last year, was signed by the Cleveland Browns.

The Kansas City Chiefs picked up the No. 2 draft choice of the Oakland Raiders, running back Ted McKnight, and waived second-year pro Pat McNiel.

HEADED FOR TOURNAMENT--Western Texas College golf team packs for Clarendon and the first fall Conference Tournament of the 1977-78 year today. Following the 18-hole tournament will be the annual Clarendon Intercollegiate Tournament, a 54-hole meet. Snyder sends two teams, a Blue and Green squad, to the two-day outing. Reds, Pirates Won't Conceed Races Yet

By BARRY WILNER
AP Sports Writer

Despite their nearly-hopeless positions in the National League divisional races, Cincinnati's Sparky Anderson and Pittsburgh's Chuck Tanner are keeping the faith.

Anderson's Reds came from behind with six runs in the final two innings to nip Los Angeles 9-8 Wednesday, leaving at four the Dodgers' magic number for clinching the Western Division. The Reds trail the Dodgers by 12½ games.

The Pirates were rained out after leading St. Louis 2-0 in the third inning, but that didn't dampen Tanner's spirits. With the Phillies losing to the Mets 1-0, Pittsburgh gained one-half game in the standings and is 7½ games back.

Elsewhere in the National League, San Francisco nipped Houston 3-2, San Diego took Atlanta 6-4 and Montreal outlasted Chicago 3-2 in 12 innings.

"That was a courageous comeback we made," Anderson said after Ken Griffey smashed a two-run homer in the ninth inning to win the game. An inning earlier, the Reds scored four times, three on Cesar Geronimo's home run. George Foster also belted a homer, his 48th, tops in the major leagues, and knocked in his 137th run as the Reds beat Tommy John for only the second time ever.

John, 18-6, got home run support from Dave Lopes, Steve Yeager and Steve Garvey, who had four hits and his 30th homer.

Pittsburgh's plight is not quite as discouraging as Cincinnati's.

"We're not out of it until we're two games out and there's just one to go," said Tanner, "a collapse has happened before. One weekend can change a season. One club can get hot and another cold."

Mets 1, Phillies 0

Nino Espinosa outdueled Philadelphia mound star Steve Carlton to help the Pirates. Espinosa hurled a three-hitter, struck out four and walked three. He also knocked in the game's only run with a single in the fifth.

Giants 3, Astros 2

Rookie left-hander, Bob Knepper carried a three-hitter into the ninth inning for the Giants but needed relief from Dave Heaverlo and John Curtis to hold off Houston.

Willie McCovey's run-scoring single in the sixth inning knocked in the decisive tally for the Giants.

Padres 6, Braves 4

Gene Richards, Jerry Turner and Dave Roberts each collected three hits in a 12-hit Padres attack.

TCU Replacements

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)-Texas Christian Coach F.A. Dry will use two freshmen against Oregon on Saturday to fill holes left by the loss of two defensive starters.

Senior defensive end Jerry Gaither of Waxahachie, who set up TCU's first touchdown with a 31-yard interception return in last week's loss to Southern Methodist, could be out for the year with a pinched nerve in his shoulder, trainers said Wednesday.

Right cornerback Ricky Wright, a junior from Freeport, quit the squad Wednesday.

Freshman John Wade will replace Gaither and Mark Labhart, another freshman, will take over Wright's position, Dry said.

Bickham Questionable

WACO, Tex. (AP)-Baylor quarterback Sammy Bickham has suffered yet another injury that makes him a questionable starter for Saturday's game against Kentucky, says Coach Grant Teaff.

Bickham, a sophomore who played against Texas Tech last week despite shoulder problems, dislocated a finger on his passing hand during Monday's short practice. He practiced Wednesday, but wasn't at full speed.

"Sammy has been slow to come back and right now we don't know his status for the Kentucky game Saturday," Teaff said Wednesday. "We probably won't know his status until game time."

Three other starters, split end Tommy Davidson, tight end Ron Lee and wingback Bo Taylor missed Wednesday's practice. Davidson has a dislocated big toe, Lee was suffering from a virus and Taylor was plagued with lower back spasms.

'Pokes Name Captains

DALLAS (AP)-Dallas Cowboy Coach Tom Landry has named permanent captains for the season - a rare move for the longtime Dallas coach.

Quarterback Roger Staubach and wide receiver Drew Pearson were selected Wednesday to head to offense, while linebacker D.D. Lewis and defensive end Harvey Martin were picked for defense.

Jay Saldi is the specialty team captain.

Tech Tackle Back

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)-Texas Tech offensive tackle Kenny Thiel, out for about three weeks with an injured ankle, will return to action Saturday night against New Mexico, says Red Raider Coach Steve Sloan.

Thiel is a senior from New Deal and missed last week's opener with Baylor.

'Ham' Doubtful

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)-Texas running back Johnny "Ham" Jones is doubtful for Saturday's game against Virginia because of an ankle injury, says Longhorn Coach Fred Akers.

"We surely under-estimated his ankle injury," Akers said Wednesday, "but he still couldn't run on it and he now appears doubtful for this week's game."

Split end Alfred Jackson, who sprained an ankle in last week's 44-0 win over Boston College, is expected to return to practice Thursday, trainers said.

TOUGH DUO -- Quarterback Clay Johnson (8) and fullback Tommy Smith (34) are keys to the Tiger offense. Johnson, a junior, is a capable runner-passer, and will start in Friday's contest at Big Spring. Smith, who was expected to sit out the game with a bruised shoulder, has been cleared by physicians and will be ready for the Steers, too. Smith anchored the Tiger ground game against Borger last week, drilling the Bulldog line for short yardage, or blocking for tailback Clay Peterson (not pictured). Tigers, Steers Gear For Annual Rivalry

By BILL MCCLELLAN

Bud Wilkinson, Darrell Royal, yes even Howard Cosell admits there is something to "tradition". While the Army-Navy classic may not always be representative of the nations premiere collegiate football talent, the game is always talked about, studied and televised. It's tradition, it's rivalry.

Friday's game in Big Spring brings forth some of the same electricity, area-wise, as do the annual Army-Navy, Dallas-Houston and Texas-Tech A&M contests.

SAYS STEER coach Don Robbins, "We play everything against each other. Football, basketball, volleyball, Jr. High, you name it."

Or, as Wes Poarch, defensive coordinator for the Tigers puts it, "They like to beat us, and we like to beat them. It will be a good game."

Snyder defeated the Steers in their last two confrontations, winning in 1976 with time running out in the fourth quarter.

This year, Big Spring has to get the favorite's role, having tied state-ranked Andrews and shot out Hobbs, N.M. 7-0, while Snyder labored through two losses.

STILL, THE Tigers have been improving with each outing. Coach Mike Jenkins team, young and lacking experience in numerous positions, seem to get better every week. Turnovers dropped to three last weekend, and Snyder managed to tack up their first points of the season against Borger; two fourth-quarter touchdowns that had the Bulldogs worried, if only for a little while.

Friday though, the Tigers will need to come on strong in all four quarters. "They're every bit as good as anyone we've played yet," said Coach Mike Jenkins. "It's going to be a struggle...a good, tough ball game."

The outlook for Snyder going into Friday's 8 p.m. contest is good. Injury-wise Wes Partain will be out of the picture with a broken ankle but "everyone else is okay", noted Jenkins. Taking over Partain's linebacker job will be Mitch Mackey, a 170-lb. junior. While Partain's absence will undoubtedly be missed, the Tigers will be with fullback Tommy Smith, something they hadn't counted on.

"It's a bonus we hadn't expected," relays Poarch, noting that a deep bruise sustained in the Borger game was expected to keep Smith sidelined this week. "The doctor said he was ready to go, though." Smith, a 190-lb. bruiser, was slotted at fullback against Borger and used to push big holes in the Bulldog line; sometimes for yardage, other times providing blocking for small, quick Clay Peterson.

PROBABLE STARTERS for tomorrow's contest at Steerland include on offense Clay Johnson at quarterback; Peterson and Smith the ball carriers; David Lee at flanker; split end and tight end, Jeff Terry and Mike Hicks; center Mark Schaufele; guards C.B. Edmiaston and Cary Welsh; and tackles Baron Land and Scott Crenweige.

Defensively, linebackers include Mitch Mackey and Randy Shipp, who also swings to fullback occasionally; halfbacks David Zajicek and Dray Sikes; strong safety Joe Longbothom; free safety Richard Crayton; noseguard Gary Hamilton, tackles Richard Willis and John Hopkins; and ends David English and Hubert Thompson. English, a 160-lb. senior, and Thompson, a 180-lb. senior, are this week's game captains. Captains for the year are Randy Shipp and John Hopkins.

BOTH SQUADS favor the veer and a 5-2 defense. "They run offense and defense just like ours," noted Coach Jenson. "And they execute real well."

Part of their expertise in execution is attributed to 159-lb. senior quarterback Mike Abreo. Abreo and the Steers like to throw the ball, and Kenneth Coffey, a 169-lb. senior is a number one target. On the ground, both Abreo and 159-lb. Robbie Wegner are threats. The Bovines picked up 226 yards rushing against Hobbs, N.M. last week with Abreo and Wegner sharing the yardage, 93-91 each. Though Big Spring won by the slim margin of 7-0, they penetrated the Hobbs 5-yard line five times. Three interceptions and four fumbles crumbled more than a handful of Big Spring scoring attempts, in a night when execution was not up to par.

For Snyder, 0-2 in the year, a victory at Big Spring is almost a necessary ingredient for a good year. "We need a win Friday," noted Coach Poarch. "We've scored, but now we need a win," he noted, to keep enthusiasm going, to keep progressing.

Whatever the outcome, whatever has happened in any previous ball game this year makes little difference Friday night.

"WE WANT to go out there and beat them," emphasized Coach Jenkins. "They (the Tigers) feel the same way about Big Spring as Big Spring feels about them."

It's a rivalry.

Doubles Tennis Enters Round Two In Houston

HOUSTON (AP)-First seeded Bob Hewitt and Frew McMillan were to meet John Feaver and John James today in the feature second round match of the $125,000 U.S. Pro Doubles Championship.

Second seeded Brian Gottfried and Raul Ramirez were to meet Tim and Tom Gullikson in another top second round match.

Most of the favorites came through as expected in the first round which was completed Wednesday at The Woodlands Country Club.

The only exception was a 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, upset victory recorded by Owen Davidson and Fred Stolle over eighth seeded Paul Kronk and Cliff Letcher.

Hewitt and McMillan advanced to the second round with a 6-4, 6-1 victory over Rick Fisher and Russell Simpson. Gottfried and Ramirez advanced by defeating Bob Carmiochael and Brian Teacher, 6-4, 7-5.

In other second round matches Wednesday fourth seeded Stan Smith and Bob Lutz defeated Mike Estep and John Whitlinger, 6-0, 6-3; the Gulliksons defeated Emilio Montano and Roberto Chavez, 7-6, 6-4; Gene Mayer and Sahsi Menon defeated John Bartlett and John Marks, 7-6, 6-4; Manuel Orantes and Dennis Ralston eliminated Bill Lofgren and Carlos Amaya, 6-4, 6-1; and Fred McNair and Sherwood Stewart defeated John Newcombe and Cliff Drysdale, 6-4, 7-5.

Davidson and Stolle surprised themselves by ousting Kronk and Letcher in the tournament's only upset so far.

Gridiron Girls 'Man' Bogue

BOGUE, Kan. (AP)-Bogue, the defending state high school eight-man football champions, got the bad news: only seven boys wanted to play.

So, Tina Irby and Tammy Thomspon, both juniors, put on helmets, and decided to take their lumps with the rest of the team.

Originally, they hoped joining the team would encourage boys to stop holding out and start playing football.

"We thought that if they they'd change their minds...but they didn't," Miss Irby said. At first, she said, their parents and boyfriends were afraid they would be hurt. But it didn't turn out that way.

"We have the whole town's support now and they're all out there rooting for us," she said.

Despite the support, Bogue, with an enrollment of 11 boys and 16 girls, was trounced in its first game of the season, 46-14, Friday by Lucas-Luray, a much larger school. It has 84 students.

Jackson's Homer Powers Stronger New York Lead

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

Bunters build runs a base at a time. Home run hitters, an impatient lot, deliver them in four-base clusters.

Reggie Jackson is no bunter.

In the ninth inning of a scoreless game between the New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox, Jackson was flashed the bunt sign to advance Thurman Munson to second base. He squared around on the first and third pitches, but didn't offer at tosses by Boston's Reggie Cleveland.

"I had to talk to third base Coach Dick Howser about the sign because I don't bunt often enough to know it," said Jackson.

Unable to gently lay the ball down, Jackson worked the count to 3-2 and instead laid out the Red Sox, smacking his 26th home run of the season and giving the Yankees a 2-0 victory Wednesday night.

The triumph, the Yankees' second in two games in a crucial three-game series with the Red Sox, lifted New York 3½ games ahead of third-place Boston in the American League East. Baltimore, with 6-5 and 4-2 victories over Toronto, sneaked into second place, 2½ games behind New York.

Elsewhere in the AL, Detroit swept a pair from Cleveland, 5-3 and 2-1; Kansas City beat Oakland twice, 5-2 and 6-0; Minnesota blanked the Chicago White Sox 7-0; Texas edged California 2-1, and Milwaukee beat Seattle 8-5.

Orioles 6-4, Blue Jays 4-2

Lee May belted a two-run homer, his 23rd, in the first game and smacked a run-scoring double in the nightcap, pacing the Orioles to their sixth and seventh straight victories.

Royals 5-6, A's 2-0

The Royals continued to make a mockery of the race in the AL West, winning their 13th and 14th straight games, a club record and a major league high this season. The Royals' magic number now is nine; they lead second-place Chicago by nine games.

Dennis Leonard hurled an eight-hitter in the second game and Jim Colborn scattered seven hits but needed relief help from Larry Gura in the final two innings of the opener.

Tigers 5-2, Indians 3-1

A sacrifice fly by Ron LeFlore in the 10th inning gave the Tigers a double-header sweep. The Tigers had ended a six-game losing string in the opener, in which Tim Corcoran doubled home two runs and Ben Oglivie pounded out four hits, including a solo homer.

Twins 7, White Sox 0

Dave Goltz, 18-9, checked the White Sox on seven hits and became the first pitcher to throw a complete-game shutout against them this season. The Twins snapped a six-game losing streak.

Brewers 8, Mariners 5

Six to Lezcano's three-run homer in the fifth highlighted a Milwaukee comeback that enabled the Brewers to wipe out a 5-0 Seattle lead. Reliever Eduardo Rodriguez allowed Seattle just four hits over the final 7 1-3 innings.

Bond Set Sights On America Cup

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)-If Alan Bond has his way this year, the famous silver mug called the America's Cup will be leaving the trophy room at the New York Yacht Club and heading for Sun City near Perth, Australia.

Bond heads the Australia syndicate, this year's Cup challenger. He is rich, witty, driving and determined. He's a real estate developer, owns two life insurance companies, a brickmaking plant and a mining company. Sailing, he says, is a hobby - one on which he has spent millions of dollars.

He became interested in the America's Cup in 1970 when his 53-foot sailboat shared a mooring with the American 12-meter racing yachts.

COME SEE JOE

JOE BEAUCHAMP
In the Scurry County oilfield, lost equipment time means lost revenue. Joe Beauchamp realizes how important it is to area oilfield service companies to get trucks out of the shop and back on the job when they have a vehicle breakdown.
Joe's speciality is trucks and he has received special factory training from the Ford Motor Company in heavy duty truck repair.
He has been with Wilson Motors three years and has more than nine years experience.
He knows heavy-duty transmissions, clutches, brakes and truck engines.

Hearing Set In Death Of Baby

MIAMI (AP)-Michelle Pope's baby died at delivery because a base hospital was on a three-day holiday and the limited staff failed to give her "proper care and treatment."

The Air Force admits it was at fault. It has offered $15,000 in restitution. But Mrs. Pope and her estranged husband, Army Sgt. James Pope, say it's not enough to make up for their mental suffering and the breakup of their marriage.

"I never saw my baby. I had to ask if it was a boy or a girl. I wanted her to have her name not just be a dead baby," Mrs. Pope testified Wednesday.

A federal judge set a final hearing for Friday to decide the government's liability. It was not known how much the Popes are asking.

Testimony showed Jessica Marie was alive and well in her mother's womb when the time for delivery arrived and, later, that labor should have been induced.

But the Homestead Air Force Base hospital staff failed to give Mrs. Pope needed tests when she arrived because no doctors were on duty during the 1975 Veterans Day holiday. The night duty nurses, the government added, were not certain of their ability to treat the woman.

The Air Force said fluid was drawn from the woman's abdominal wall in a "nonmedical" procedure usually done to test the condition of the baby or to help induce abortion.

"I knew what was going on, but I didn't want to know," Mrs. Pope testified Wednesday in a choked voice.

She said when the baby was delivered, the doctor would not speak to her or show her the baby.

"I looked over and the nurse was crying," Mrs. Pope recalled. "Then I knew."

She said her divorce one year later was caused by the mental anguish she and her husband suffered because of the baby's death.

Johnson Indicted Again

ABILENE (AP)-Iowa Park grain dealer Robert Johnson, missing for more than nine months, and his brother have been re-indicted by a federal grand jury on 26 counts of transporting stolen wheat.

The document, returned here Tuesday, also names Henry C. Johnson and bookkeeper Partricia Price.

It alleges that more than 412,000 bushels of stolen wheat were transported from Colorado and Oklahoma to Fort Worth and Houston in June and July of 1976.

Robert Johnson has been missing since Jan. 7, 1977 when he reportedly fell off a pleasure boat into the Gulf of Mexico near Port Aransas. He was indicted by the same grand jury in May at Wichita Falls.

Henry Johnson is accused in the indictment of being responsible for the Colorado shipments and aiding in the Oklahoma shipments. Miss Price is named in count of aiding and abetting the shipments.

Henry Johnson, who was not named in the earlier indictment, is also accused of making false statements to the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Commodity Credit Corp.

U.S. District Judge Leo Brewster set bond at $1 million for Robert Johnson, $10,000 for Henry Johnson, and a $2,500 personal recognizance bond for Miss Price.

Mixup In Roomates

BRISTOL, R.I. (AP)-As an Iranian student arrived in the United States for his first week of college, Alisina Goharjou looked forward to meeting his new roommates.

What he didn't know was that his roommates would be girls. What Roger Williams College officials didn't know was that Alisina is a man.

"At first I was a little upset. But that quickly changed," Alisina said.

Although the college has coed dorms, it does not have coed rooms. It wasn't long before a housing officer saw Alisina unpacking his bags in a room that was supposed to be for women.

"I think a mistake has been made here," Goharjou said a housing officer told him when he unpacked his bags in his assigned room. He was taken to the housing administrator who assigned a different room in a men's dorm.

Alisina was then told to go back to his first room, pack his clothes and head for his new room.

"When I got back the girls had arrived and were making up their beds," Alisina said.

"What a pity."

Technique Tests Turquoise

WASHINGTON (AP)-An Arizona chemist has invented a test to determine the authenticity of turquoise stones used primarily in American Indian jewelry pieces.

Dr. Michael Parsons of Arizona State University at Tempe says about half of the hundreds of stones he has analyzed turned out to be fakes or lowgrade stones of little value. Parsons' technique involves bathing the stones in a powerful electron beam, stirring up radiation which is analyzed by a computer. He says every kind of stone has a chemical make-up as distinctive as a finger-print.

Much of the jewelry sold as authentic American Indian handicraft is made of low-grade stones dyed and treated to look like good gems, chunks of colored glass or tiny chips of good turquoise glued carefully together to look like a single gem, according to Parsons.

Charged Man Hits Ceiling

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)-Police said a man charged with burglary really hit the ceiling in an Albany hotel-four times in fact.

Officers said the burglar had entered a crawl space Monday night and fell through the ceiling into first one office and then another one before hotel employes gave chase.

He made it back into the crawl space only to fall through yet another ceiling, this time into a stall in a women's restroom.

Still not finished, police said Lawrence Edwards, 22, managed to get into the crawl space a fourth time, but wound up falling again, this time into a stall in the men's restroom.

He was captured by police as he ran from the hotel.

Chintz, commonly used in draperies and upholstery, evolved from an Indian fabric stained or painted with bright designs.

'Love' Gains Place In Texas

By TOM DECOLA
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP)-Southwest Airlines was born an unwanted child in a crowded industry, but the young upstart with the "love" motif finally has gained a place in the Texas skies.

Behind it now are court victories over bigger competitors and a solid position in the profit column.

The Texas intrastate carrier was incorporated as Air Southwest Co. in 1967, but underwent a name change and a Supreme Court test spurred by interstate airlines before its first flights got off the ground in June 1971.

After heavy initial losses operating among Dallas, Houston and San Antonio airports, Southwest showed a net income in 1976 of $4.9 million.

Southwest didn't have to recruit a boss. M. Lamar Muse went after the job.

Muse, a non-pilot, took the reins as president in 1970 after stints with other airlines and as an independent financial consultant.

"This was something that was needed," Muse said. "I was sitting around doing nothing. Southwest a certificate with one employe and $145 in the bank."

The meld worked, and from an initial public offering at $11 per share, stock closed earlier this week at 22¾.

The airline inaugurates service today between Austin and Dallas, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Midland-Odessa and Lubbock. It also serves Harlingen in the Rio Grande Valley, San Antonio and Houston.

If Muse has his way, the airline's 737 fleet will add Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange and Amarillo to the list of Texas destinations.

A spinoff, Midway Airway, would like to fly among several out-of-state points beginning in 1980 from a Chicago base.

The Chicago operation would be contingent upon the Civil Aeronautics Board letting Midway Airway operate under a two-tier rate structure, avoiding what Muse calls the "market-stifling fares" now a part of CAB approval.

That issue is at the heart of what Muse believes to be the secret to Southwest's success, and he thinks the CAB will knuckle under.

"The current climate is right," he said. "They'd be hard put to turn us down. They'd have to prove those routes are different from the ones we fly in Texas ... and they really aren't."

The commuter concept, combined with an ad campaign based on "love," - it flies out of Love Field in Dallas - and the two-tier rate structure has proved to be a winner in Texas.

Basically, the two-tier structure offers an executive fare during business hours and a lower fare during evenings and weekends. Depending on the number of legs involved in a given flight, those fares range from $15 to $60.

The commuter concept was bolstered by victories in hard-fought battles to maintain service from close-in airports at Houston and Dallas as opposed to flying into and out of larger airports some distance from the business centers of both those cities.

As for love, it's everywhere.

Cocktails are "love potions," airplanes are "love birds," a cash register that dispenses a ticket in 10 seconds is a "love machine," and hostesses advise passengers to buckle up "because we love you."

CLASSROOM WORK—With ladder in hand, Roy Villanueva (foreground) prepares to join his co-worker, Alan Walkabout, in bracing the walls of a moveable school building under construction at Northeast Elementary. The moveable units at Northeast will house a music class and two sixth-grade classes while work at other moveable buildings continues at North Elementary. (SDN Staff Photo)

Plant's Product Detected Fire

NORWALK, Conn. (AP)-A fire had little chance of success at the Edwards Co. The firm makes smoke detectors.

Dozens of stockpiled detectors began blaring early Tuesday when a soldering machine used to assemble them accidentally ignited a small vat of oil inside the machine.

Smoke from the fire activated the smoke detectors and a security guard called the fire department.

Workers at the factory got the day off.

Cancer Warning Urged On Saccharin Products

By MICHAEL PUTZEL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)-The Carter administration is pressing Congress to support plans to place cancer warnings on diet foods, soft drinks and other products containing saccharin.

Four administration officials urged the Senate on Tuesday to pass legislation requiring the health warnings on product labels and in advertising.

Canadian studies have shown that saccharin, widely used in diet foods and diet sodas, causes cancer in animals and may cause bladder cancer in humans.

The administration apparently is resorting to health warnings in view of indications that lawmakers, under pressure from many voters, are unwilling to permit the government to ban most sales of saccharin.

The Senate is preparing to act on legislation that would delay for 18 months a proposed Food and Drug Administration prohibition on the marketing of foods and beverages containing the sugar substitute.

The heads of the FDA, the National Institutes of Health and the Federal Trade Commission issued a joint statement supporting inclusion of the warning requirement in any bill delaying implementation of the ban.

FDA Commissioner Donald Kennedy, NIH Director Donald Fredrickson and FTC Chairman Michael Perschuk said, "Any legislation imposed by Congress that stays regulatory action against saccharin should, we believe, at least contain provisions designed to provide fair warning of the potential hazards of continued consumption of this compound."

The three were supported by Hale Champion, undersecretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Champion said he opposes the saccharin legislation as a bad precedent for congressional interference in the regulatory process "on a product-by-product basis."

Champion is the highest government health official in a position to speak out on the issue because HEW Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr., removed himself from the controversy several months ago.

Califano wanted to eliminate any possible conflict of interest. While practicing law in Washington before his appointment to the Cabinet, Califano had represented the Coca Cola Co., the nation's largest single manufacturer of diet soft drinks containing saccharin.

The FDA, after studying the results of Canadian laboratory tests that showed saccharin caused bladder cancer in rats, announced plans last spring to ban sale of saccharin, the only artificial sweetner on the market in foods, beverages, drugs and cosmetics.

In a compromise move to permit continued availability of the sugar substitute to diabetics and others on sugar-free diets, the agency proposed to permit continued sale of saccharin as a single-ingredient, nonprescription drug bearing a cancer warning on the label.

The FDA has held up implementation of its regulations pending congressional action.

Hermleigh Getting Zero-Plus Dialing

Zero-Plus Dialing--a faster method of making operator-assisted long distance calls--comes to Hermleigh Sept. 26, according to Bill Gilliland, manager for Southwestern Bell.

Gilliland emphasized that One-Plus Dialing is still the cheapest method of calling long distance but that Zero-Plus allows much faster telephone service on other long distance calls.

Gilliland said that Zero-Plus also offers customers more accurate, machine-recorded billing.

The service is used when making person-to-person, collect or credit card calls, calls billed to a third number or calls from pay phones and hotels or motels.

"Zero-Plus Dialing works much like One-Plus," Gilliland said.

"The customer dials zero, then the area code, unless it's the same as his, and then the distant telephone number."

"When the customer finishes dialing the call, an operator will enter the line to obtain information needed to complete the call. The operator leaves the line as soon as the call is completed."

Southwestern Bell has invested several million dollars to bring the service here and to establish a centralized system for handling the calls throughout West Texas, Gilliland added.

Jobless Rate Dips In Texas

AUSTIN, (AP)—Unemployment in Texas dipped slightly in July and was well below that of a year earlier, the Texas Employment Commission reported today.

The commission said that 5.3 per cent of the labor force was looking for work in July compared with 5.4 per cent the previous month and 6 per cent in July 1976.

Total unemployment consisted of 304,000 job seekers compared with 313,700 in June and 337,700 in July of last year.

The commission said the decline in unemployed in July was partly due to the normal mid-summer withdrawl form the labor force of students who had failed to find work.

Of the 23 major labor markets, 11 had rates over the 6 per cent figure that is considered to represent "substantial unemployment," the commission said.

Twenty areas had lower rates in July than the previous year.

Kingston, the capital and largest city of Jamaica, has 170,000 residents.

erhaps it would be well, as one Senator suggested ropos recent developments in the Lance case, to ve a moratorium on public statements and news dia comment until the beleaguered member of esident Carter's official family makes his fense before a Senate committee later this week. ut it isn't going to happen, however desirable it ght appear to be in the interest of fairness to an dividual. Critics and supporters will be airing ir views and making appeals for favorable blic opinion in support of their position. And tics aren't going to remain silent.

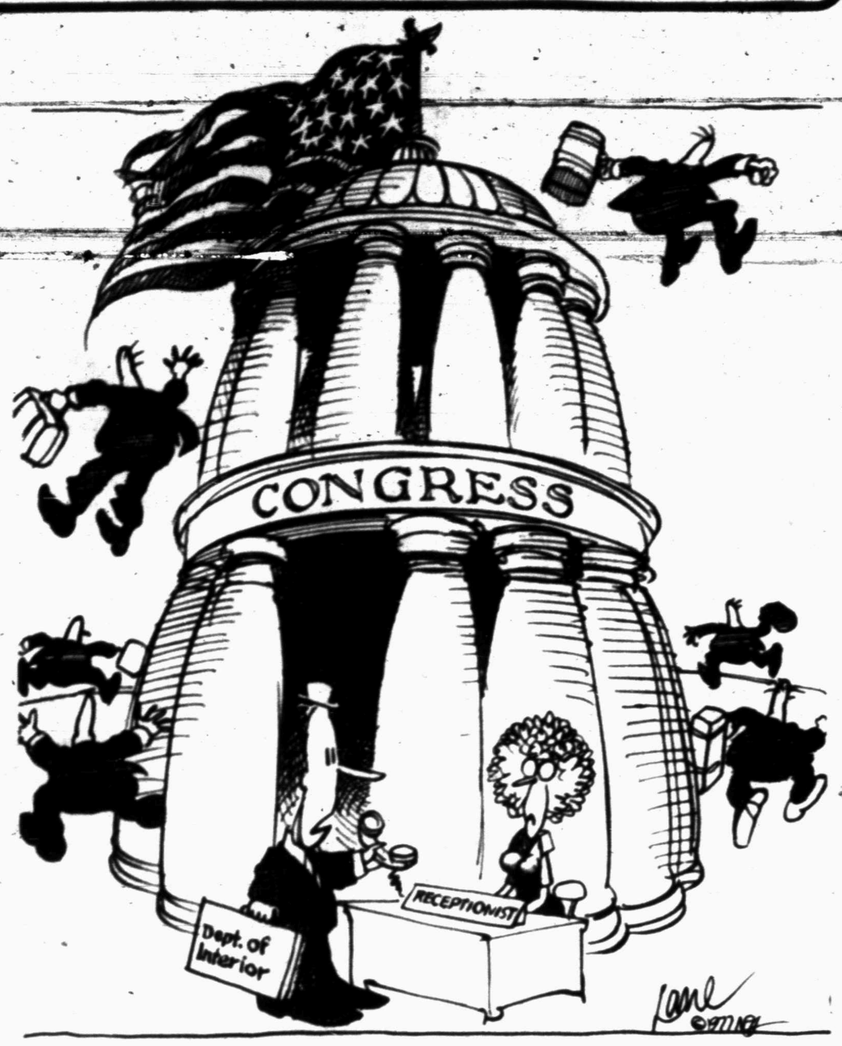
e that as it may, it is in order to examine asoning processes employed by some of Mr. nce's supporters in efforts to offset demands that terminate the debate by resigning his job as rector of the Budget.

lost frequently heard is the contention that until oof is presented that Mr. Lance has committed me act for which he could be indicted his fitness serve in high public office should not be estioned. That line of reasoning rules out estions of propriety and general attitude and rrows grounds on which one's fitness to hold blic office can be challenged.

ccording to that logic a law-abiding boll puller uld have to be approved for the job to which Mr. nce has been appointed, if nominated by the esident. This argument means that as long as . Lance hasn't been charged with a criminal act is above criticism.

ut most untenable of all the defenses of President rter's choice to fill the job of making sure vernment funds are not wasted and are spent in cordance with public law and the Constitution, is e assertion that nobody suffered financial loss as result of Mr. Lance's irregular handling of funds posited in banks of which he was president, and creditor suffered financial loss as a result of lawfully using collateral to secure personal rrowings.

hese people are really saying if caught in the act robbing somebody all you need do to make it me free is to fully reimburse the victim. A jury ying an ordinary criminal case might take such a t into consideration in deciding whether to grant probated sentence or send the defendant to jail. t to use it as proof of fitness for high official sponsibility is rather absurd.



"All I said was I'd like to speak to you about a 'park' proposal."

evelations that the governor, state attorney neral and assorted state legislators have made rsonal long-distance calls on state phones and let taxpayers pick up the tab have got people in sconsin in a tizzy.

xtent of the alleged telephone freeloading ranges m $8.58 for the governor to $562 for the vice airman of the state Democratic party. (All states uld be blessed with such modest embezzlement.)

ne legislator refuses to repay the state for his lls because "one of the ways of trying to find out at happens in other states is to talk to friends and latives in other states."

he prize for sheer chutzpah, however, has to go to other legislator who made several calls to latives in India.

now a couple who lives Corpus Christi, and I do envy their geographi- location.

ing a landlubber at rt, I have always won- ed why some people ose to live on the coast. ay be pleasant enough st of the time, but ing hurricane season, stal living could not be enjoyable.

e humidity is stifling, fogs dense, and the ricanes ravaging. nittedly, West Texans not immune to the nents of nature.

st Texans are faced strong winds, dust ms, and tornadoes.

e winds, however, serve to cool off a hot day, dust can be vacuumed from the home, and tornadoes are so unpredictable it does not pay to worry about them.

I met this couple when they were still single and we were all students at Texas Tech. They gave up a beautifully barren landscape to move to the coast.

Of course, they do not understand why I choose to live in relatively arid West Texas.

Having visited the coast, I can honestly say that the only boon I can see to living there is being able to get fresh seafood. Accompanying the seafood, however, is the smell of dead fish that seems to permeate the entire coast.

A gentle breeze in West Texas may bring with it a little dust and a tincture of oil, but at least the smell of rotting fish and decaying seaweed is not present in it. If for no other reason, that makes living in West Texas more desirable.

Having visited the coast and suffered from the stifling humidity, I have reached the conclusion that the only thing a person will ever get off a silver platter there is tarnish.

13 cents too high

You want to know why the price of postage is soaring while the quality of postal service is declining? Hear this:

The Gary, Ind., Post Office is fairly typical.

The lowest-paid unskilled worker in the Gary Post Office gets $16,000 a year. That is more than the pay of the average schoolteacher or the average policeman.

No wonder the three-cent stamp now costs 13 cents and the Post Office wants it raised to 16!

Three states have initiated a federal court lawsuit which seeks to roll back the cost of mailing a letter.

In open court, the states of Maine, Massachusetts and Indiana are going to reveal some of the most grotesque extravagance ever attributed to any government agency.

"At the same time, the National Assn. of Attorneys General is probing the postal service--documenting what may be construed as fraud.

Legally, that's strong language. But more and more the evidence appears to warrant strong language.

Indiana's Atty. Gen. Theodore Sendak, who initiated this investigations, believes that consumers are being defrauded--" even if only 13 cents at a time."

He says there is now no control over the Post Office. "It does not have the political control of the people. It does not have the control of the Congress. It does not have controls which any other independent business would have--with stockholders and profit-and-loss statements."

And of course it does not have any competition. Indeed, there is a federal law prohibiting competition. You--personally, individually--are prohibited from delivering a letter to your neighbor's mailbox.

Personally, Atty. Gen. Sendak favors return of the postal service to congressional supervision. Then, at least, extravagances would be periodically ventilated and curtailed.

As is, he says, the cost of sending a 13-cent first class letter is eight cents. That indicates five cents worth of waste or fraud someplace.

It could be waste. In addition to the disproportionate pay scale for postal workers--and the fact that they cannot be fired even for inefficiency--there are grotesque examples of postmasters making more than $16,000 a year assisted by clerks making $6.91 an hour though they handle postal business amounting to only about $5,000 a year!

The Postal Service is right now purchasing Jeeps costing seven and eight thousand dollars each--purchasing them by the hundreds of thousands.

The National Assn. of Attorneys General has designated one of its own, Ohio's Atty. Gen. William Brown, as consumer protection chairman.

It was he who bulldogged the expose of GM engine switches.

It is he, in your behalf, who will probe the pricing, payroll practices and control of the Postal Service.

Hardworking, efficient and honest postal employees--instead of resenting and resisting this effort--should want to assist it in any way they can.

in washington

martha angle and robert walters

WASHINGTON (NEA)- Although the nation elected a new President more than 10 months ago, the first of the detailed studies seeking to explain what motivated the voters has only recently been made public - and it shatters a number of popular political myths.

For instance, it's widely assumed that the two contenders' position on various domestic and foreign policy issues was the most important aspect of the four nationally televised debates between Democrat Jimmy Carter and Republican Gerald R. Ford.

Not so, says the massive survey of 1976 voting behavior directed by Arthur H. Miller and Warren E. Miller of the University of Michigan's Center for Political Studies.

"Extensive research on the debates demonstrates that their most salient aspect was the manner in which the candidates performed and not issue concerns," they report.

When voters participating in a nationwide poll were asked about the debates, "nearly half of all comments focused either on the candidate's competence or his performance," the Michigan study found. "References to various candidate personality characteristics were also quite prevalent."

Another popularly accepted notion is that the concept of "trust" was of paramount importance in last year's election campaign. "Despite the attention given to the issue," says the newly issued analysis, "it had relatively little direct impact on the vote."

One apparent reason for that surprising conclusion is that Carter and Ford were trusted about equally by the electorate, thus cancelling out any advantage or disadvantage either man might have held in another contest.

But the study notes that "The widespread distrust of politicians" turned Ford's pardon of former President Richard M. Nixon into a major political liability. At the time of that controversial action, in the fall of 1974, about 61 per cent of those participating in a national survey disapproved of the decision.

Time did not heal that particular wound very quickly because two years later, when Ford was fighting for political future in the 1976 presidential campaign, the disapproval rate had dropped only to 57 per cent.

"The skepticism engendered by the pardon may have set the tone for much of the public's evaluation of his (Ford's) subsequent performance in office," says the report. "It appears that the public judged the pardon both on the basis of moral considerations and as reflection on Ford's ability to make good decisions" as president.

Ford's tough primary battle with former California Gov. Ronald Reagan, "contrary to popular belief, was not so much an ideological contest as a reflection of the personal style and appeal of the two candidates, as well as a referendum on Ford's performance in office," the Michigan analysis reports.

The 128-page report document was unveiled early this month at the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association. It and similar studies of every presidential election during the past quarter century are widely respected and heavily relied upon by the country's political scientists.

They survey found that an unusually large proportion of the electorate, 15 per cent, remained "undecided" about the choice between Carter and Ford as late as a few days prior to the election.

Finally, the analysis seeks to destroy "the popular belief, often expressed by the media, that the country is moving in a conservative direction."

After carefully studying voter attitudes on issues such as school busing, legalization of marijuana, women's equality, government-financed health insurance and increased taxation of the wealthy, the study concludes that there was either a very slight shift toward liberalism or no change at all from 1972 to 1976.

the canal by-pass

WASHINGTON, D.C.--On March 8, 1973, we called attention to our negotiations with Panama on the matter of a treaty to relinquish the Panama Canal's ownership by the year 2000. As everyone is now aware from press reports, that treaty has been consummated and the President has approved it. It now goes to the U.s. Senate which has the authority for ratification of treaties, requiring a two-thirds vote.

It now appears that the executive branch will attempt to bypass the House of Representatives by contending that a treaty alone, costing billions of dollars of U.S. property in the Canal Zone and the payment to Panama of additional billions in economic compensation, can be approved without any authorization or approval by the House.

The constitutional provision for the ratification of treaties by the Senate is one thing but the treaty's implementation is another. Since 1907, there has been legal controversy over whether the treaty-making power by the president and the Senate can convey property and appropriate money without the approval of both Houses of Congress. Writing in the American Journal of International Law in 1907, Judge Cooley said, "The full treaty-making power is in the President and the Senate, but the House of Representatives has a restraining power upon it in that it may, in its discretion at any time, refuse to give assent to legislation necessary to give the treaty effect."

This issue first became prominent upon ratification of a treaty in 1796 which contained provisions for the payment of money by the United States. The case was decided on Article I of the Constitution in which it was provided that "no money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in consequence of appropriation made by law." After lengthy debate, the House did vote the money but only after attaching a clause which adopted the views of Madison and Gallatin who argued that when a treaty contained stipulations on any of the subjects committed by the Constitution to Congress, the stipulations could not be executed until, by independent action, Congress had passed implementing legislation. That practice has been followed in subsequent treaties where ceding property to another National would require legislative implementation.

One of the most recent treaties was the ceding of the Chamizal strip near El paso in 1963 in an agreement by President Johnson and the President of Mexico. This is often cited as as example that territory can be given away by treaty without the action of Congress. What is overlooked in the Chamizal transaction is that the land ceded belonged to private persons and not to the United States. In fact, legislation was authorized for the acquisition of the property "for transfer to Mexico as provided under the treaty."

It seems clear that under the constitution all bills for raising revenues shall originate in the House of Representatives and "no money shall be drawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriation made by law."

It appears that in the case of the Panama Canal agreement, efforts will be made to bypass any action of the House of Representatives although billions of dollars are involved. It is safe to assure the American public that efforts are going to be made to see that the authority of the House of Representatives in this situation is not circumvented.

The metric equivalent of an acre is .405 hectares, 4047 square meters.

letters to editor

To The Daily News:

Snyder has many organizations which serve the community. The Scurry County ARC (Association for Retarded Citizens) and the TARS (Teens Aid the Retarded) are just two that the public seldom recognize. These two groups are made up of concerned parents and citizens who give their time and money to help the retarded in many ways.

The TARS have just returned from a state convention. At the convention, a nomination was made that we (all Texas TARS) change the name TARS to YARC (Youth Association for Retarded Citizens). A very interesting discussion took place, many points were made. Those who wanted the change pointed out that when people hear "teens" they think of junior high and high school people, but you can be a TAR until you are 25 years old. If changed to Youth it would give a broader age range. Then the word "Aid" came up. Several members thought aid sounded like the retarded were invalids which they are not. They suggested using the word Help which to most people means the same. Aid or help, we are there to serve. A title shouldn't make that much difference. We are here to provide a social outlet.

Many TARS units have decided to change to YARC. Snyder is just one. We are still going to serve the retarded in the best way we can.

Dad Accepts Son's Right To Be Gay

By Abigail Van Buren

©1977 by The Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: This is to thank you for your enlightened attitude about homosexuals.

I am the father of two sons and a daughter. My youngest son is gay, and when I first learned of it, I spent a lot of time worrying and wondering why. His mother died when he was 7, and his older brother and sister and I might have overprotected him, but I doubt if that was the cause. I think the pattern was set much earlier.

Whatever the reason, he was my son with his first breath, and he will be my son until his last. I am as caring and proud of him as I am of my other children. With minimal effort, I soon became as comfortable with his friends as with those of my other children. We all live some distance apart, but there is warmth and affection whenever the family is together.

My second grandson is named for him—and this was done after we learned the news.

Just as his brother, sister and I take for granted his standing by one of us if the need arose, so can he be certain we will stand by him. We are a family. What a wonderful feeling.

SIGNED, BUT NAME WITHHELD

DEAR SIGNED: Your youngest son is fortunate to have a family such as yours. What a pity there aren't more people with your understanding and compassion.

DEAR ABBY: Junior has been living at home since he was graduated from college three years ago. (He's 25.)

He works for me (I'm his father) and makes excellent wages. The problem is how to get rid of him.

He's practically engaged to a very nice girl who lives 300 miles from here, but we're afraid he'll never marry her as long as he has all the comforts of home. We don't charge him room or board.

It's not the money: it's the fact that he doesn't want the responsibility of taking care of himself. Several times in the last two years, he has talked about taking an apartment with another fellow; but he's always backed out at the last minute.

We've dropped subtle hints, but to no avail. His mother and I agree that if Junior moved, it would be better for him and better for us.

How can we tell him (politely) to move?

FT. WAYNE FATHER

DEAR FATHER: Talk turkey! Tell him he has until Thanksgiving to find another pad. And say, "Please."

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for 18 years and have six wonderful children.

I have never been the suspicious type, but something has really got me thinking lately. About four months ago, my husband went on a business trip and stayed five days when he was supposed to be gone only three days. He phoned me from out of town and said he would be detained, but didn't explain why.

Well, ever since that trip, he has gone to confession every week! Before the trip he went to confession only twice a year. I am going crazy wondering what he has to confess.

Do you think that something happened on that trip that is sending him to confession? How should I handle it? Should I ask him? Or should I let the matter ride?

GOING CRAZY

DEAR GOING: Let the matter ride, and pray that he only cheated on his income tax.

Organ Is Haunted

PLANO, Tex. (AP)-Ever since lightning struck near her home last Monday, Gloria Denny said the family organ has been playing a variety of pop and country tunes.

But there's nobody at the keyboard.

"It is so loud now," said Mrs. Denny. "You can't hardly believe it but when you move some of the keys it starts playing like a radio."

Mrs. Denny said there "definitely" was not a radio anywhere in the organ, but that realization does little to solve her problem.

"I don't know what we'll do," she said. "The first time it was playing country music. Now it switches around and has been playing some kind of rock and roll stuff."

Protein in urine

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My daughter is 12 years old and about two years ago a urine specimen showed excess protein. A year later another specimen showed too much protein. A 24-hour specimen showed the same thing.

She had X rays of her kidneys using dye and everything was normal, kidneys, bladder, urethra. A pediatric urologist said there was no disease present that could be causing it. He did say that some people produced protein in their urine just from being overactive but my daughter is not active athletically. He also said some people could get it from standing.

What are the consequences of having too much protein in the urine if everything else is all right? Can she just continue on with this condition or is there a chance something might develop later? I don't know if we should pursue this or just think that happens to be the way she is.

DEAR READER — Having had a good examination and having been told that your daughter has no disease I would think you could relax about it.

Your daughter probably has orthostatic albuminuria, which is what your pediatric urologist meant. Albumin is one of the blood proteins we all have. It actually leaks into the urine from the kidney and is reabsorbed by the kidney so that we don't lose very much of it in the urine. Anything that increases the amount leaked by the kidney will increase the amount that shows up on a urine test.

In some people standing seems to increase the leak into the urine or the failure of the kidneys to reabsorb albumin in sufficient amounts. Orthostatic refers to standing. Hence, the term orthostatic albuminuria.

Sometimes this can be demonstrated by studying the urine collected during a period when the person was lying down the entire time. That urine will be normal. Another specimen is taken after standing which shows the protein, albumin.

When that is the cause and there is no disease it is not medically important. It is not an indication of kidney disease or future kidney disease.

If you want to check this further I would think you should have her empty her bladder completely and lie down. A couple hours later collect another specimen and have that one checked. If it is normal you can be pretty sure that the variation associated with standing is the explanation.

Albumin can occur in the urine because of a variety of kidney diseases. A simple infection of the kidney may cause it or it may be associated with nephritis. Increased amounts of albumin also appear in the urine during heart failure. It must always be regarded as an indictator. The next step is finding out if it indicates something important or is just a normal variation.

Pest Control Workshop Set

LUBBOCK--Ticks and fleas can bother humans, but in slightly different ways from the bother they cause cats and dogs.

Dr. Darryl P. Sanders, chairperson of the Department of Entomology at Texas Tech University, will report on the insects' disconcerting life styles Monday during the Pest Confrol Workshop sponsored by the Texas Pest Control Association. The workshop, arranged by Texas Tech, will take place in Lubbock.

"Ticks are not as big a problem to humans as fleas," he acknowledged, "although they can infest a house and require professional help for extermination."

The flea is a different matter, and the reason is its life cycle.

While the tick tends to stay with the host dog, or even a cat, the flea, if deprived even temporarily of a host, will bite people.

"If the cat or dog is removed from the house, even for a short period, the flea will resort to whatever host is around, usually people," Sanders said.

The flea on the pet lays its eggs which drop onto whatever surface is handy. The eggs hatch into worms which primarily eat debris--animal hair included--and them develop into pupae and finally into adult fleas which prefer dog or cat hosts. If the pet is taken to the veterinarian or removed for any reason people are the fleas' second choice.

The most common control, according to Sanders, is a pet that is kept clean or dusted with flea powder.

When the situation gets out of hand, he said, exterminators are called to deal with the problem.

The tick's life cycle is different. It spends the whole cycle on the host animal. When the female drops off the animal to lay 10,000 eggs at a time, she dies. Since the newborn ticks cannot jump or fly to return to a desirable host, they crawl, often surviving behind pictures on the wall or in some other hidden area of a home.

It is the sudden discovery of such an infestation that calls for the help of professionals, he said.

While the common outdoor ticks are not a great problem in open plains country, he said, the "cat flea," which likes dogs as well as cats, is the most prevalent in the West Texas-eastern New Mexico area.
