Truck Load Of Cotton Pickers Hit By Train

Nine Are Injured In Collision With Santa Fe Freight

By BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

Seven Latin-American farm workers were killed and nine others were injured when a northwest-bound Santa Fe freight train crashed into their truck three miles southeast of Shallowater shortly before 9 o'clock this morning.

Six ambulances from three Lubbock funeral homes rushed to the scene of the area's worst traffic accident this year, and a crowd of 500 persons gathered within half an hour.

Bodies Are Scattered

Bodies were strewn for 100 feet along the railroad right-of-way, the truck was demolished and gasoline fumes permeated the area. There was no fire.

Four of the dead were at McDonald funeral home. A fifth was at Rix Funeral home, the sixth died in West Texas hospital at 10:20 a. m. and was taken to Sanders Funeral home, and the seventh victim died in Lubbock Memorial hospital at 10:40 a. m.

Casualty List Given

The dead had been identified as:

A. C. Quirino, 40, crew boss and owner of the truck, of 223 Ave. K, killed instantly.

Francisco X. Quirino, 16, 223 Ave. K, apparently killed instantly, son of A. C. Quirino.

Arthur Quirino, about 15, of 223 Ave. K, another son of A. C. Quirino.

Angelo Gonzales, 13, of 115 South Ave. K.

Raymond Hernandez, about 22, of Lubbock.

Joe Moreno, 16, of 1102 Sanders street, who died at West Texas hospital at 10:20 a. m.

Fred Padron, 12, of Lubbock, who died in Lubbock Memorial hospital at 10:40 a. m.

All the bodies were finally taken to McDonald Funeral home.

At West Texas hospital:

Frank Moreno, 16, of 1102 Sanders, slight head injuries.

Julian Rubio, 17, of 103 Ave. M, head, shoulder and leg injuries, said not serious in condition.

At Lubbock Memorial hospital:

Nicholas Padron, about 60, unconscious and critically injured, not expected to live.

Edward Quirino, 12, 223 Ave. K, possible fractured pelvis and extensive lacerations.

Clateo Quirino, 17, lacerations and head injury, not thought serious.

Isaac Quirino, 18, son of A. C. Quirino and driver of the truck.

Witness Gives Account

There was one eye-witness to the accident.

Wayland Penney, 15, of Shallowater was standing 120 yards from the crossing of the north-south dirt road and the railroad track, near a cottonhouse.

He told state Highway Patrolman Chris Haskins he watched the truck, coming from Lubbock, turn north on the road and into the path of the approaching short freight.

Penney said the truck made ap-

PANAMA, Panama, Nov 23 — Two men claimed the presidency of Panama today after a wild night of rioting in which one child was killed and 11 wounded

Police gunfire smashed a near-revolt as Dr. Daniel Chanis, jr., forced to resign as president Sunday in a national police coup led thousands of supporters in a march on the presidential palace in an attempt to regain power.

Inside the palace behind police guards was Roberto Chiari, former vice president who was sworn in as president after Chanis bowed to a police ultimatum and resigned. He insisted he would sit tight and remain president.

Police Disperse Marchers

National police, who are Panama's only armed force, dispersed the marchers with machinegun bullets, rifle fire and tear gas.

The demonstrators had rallied behind Chanis as he dramatically strode into a session of the national assembly and declared: "withdraw my resignation." He flung the letter to the floor and insisted he still was the constitutional president of Panama.

The 58-year-old surgeon-politician, who had served as president only four months until he was ousted by Police Chief Col. Jose Remon, then led a crowd of demstrators that grew to thousands as they passed through the streets.

New England Coldest

At New York City, the mercury dropped to 25 degrees in Manhattan and to 15 degrees in some suburbs. Gusty winds blew through the streets. Temperatures were expected to rise somewhat for tomorrow's holiday.

Many New England cities reported their coldest temperatures of the season early today. Thermometers registered 3 above at Holton, Me., 5 above at Caribou, Me., 8 at Lebanon, N. H., and 14 at Worcester, Mass.

California expected warm, fair weather tomorrow, except for considerable fog along the coast and in some inland valleys. Los Angeles was counting on 70-degree shirt-sleeve temperatures and San Francisco expected a high of about 60. The Dixie states were promised a fair, mild turkey day.

OFFICIALS RELEASED BY REDS

Chinese To Deport Diplomats Of U.S.

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23—Angus Ward, American consul general imprisoned by Communists in Manchuria, and his four aides have been released by the Chinese and ordered expelled, the State department announced today.

The State department said a Chinese Communist people's court at Mukden, Manchuria, convicted Ward and his associates of beating a Chinese and gave them prison sentences, but the court immediately commuted the sentences to deportation and allowed the arrested men to return to their homes in the American Consulate compound.

Arrested For Year

Ward telephoned this information to American Consul O. Edmund Clubb in Peiping and reported that all five were "up and about."

The State department immediately ordered Ward and his entire staff to leave Mukden "forthwith."

Released with Ward were his four assistants—Ralph Rehberg, Rochester, N. Y., Shiro Tatsmui, Seattle, and Franco Cicogna and Alfred Kristan, both Europeans.

For a full year, Chinese Communists have held the American staff at Mukden under house arrest, preventing their leaving China.

Sentences Listed

So the conviction of Ward and his aides had the net effect of releasing them from Communist control although the Chinese Reds apparently intended to use the case to villify westerners in the eyes of the prestige-conscious Orientals.

Individual sentences that were commuted were:

Ward—Six months imprisonment and one year parole.

Rehberg and Kristan — Four months imprisonment and one year parole, each.

Tatsumi and Cicogna—Three

W. C. Boyd service station at 2402 Broadway was reported burglarized in the night.

A negro was detained briefly in connection with the investigation, then released.

Seventy dollars in money and a $5 check were taken, City Detective L. W. Forrester was informed.

There was no indication of how entry to the place was effected, police said.

Thefts Reported

M. H. Duncan of 2311 Thirty-fourth reported theft of $50 worth of box siding from the site of a church under construction at Thirty-fourth and Van Buren.

A starter, fuel pump, oil bath cleaner, distributor cap wires and seven spark plugs were stripped from an irrigation well engine, I. M. Billingsley of the Krueger farm five and a half miles south of the courthouse said

A 28-year-old negro, David Goree, was released to Hunt county officials who had asked his arrest on a robbery indictment.

Robbery Claimed

A. R. Gipson who gave an address of 1000-block Texas Ave., told the sheriff's department he had been robbed of $185 at a small hotel here about midnight. He said two men, one tall and the other short, took his money. He was jailed on a drunkenness charge, officials said.

Abel Bustillos, 37, of 120 Ave. M, was charged with possession of marijuana after a raid early Tuesday night. Officers said they found 31 marijuana cigarets at his residence and seven half-pints and

Building Damaged By Brownfield Fire

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 23 (Special)—A former lumber yard now used for storage of household goods, located at the intersection of the Lubbock and Tahoka highways here, was destroyed in a Tuesday night fire that resulted in damage estimated at approximately $8,000.

The blaze was first discovered at 8:45 o'clock last night, it was reported, and firemen were delayed in reaching the flames by a fense around the property. The yard and goods, owned by Ed Harden, former Brownfield building contractor, were a total loss.

Facilities of the L. M. Wingerd Lumber company, adjoining the storage area, were damaged by the fire, although action by the firemen saved most of the property. Loss to the Wingerd firm was estimated at approximately $5,000, partially covered by insurance.

The blaze attracted a large crowd to the threatened area, it was reported.

Fugitive From Lamb County Rearrested

Lloyd Eddie Burgess, 23, of Azle, who sneaked away Oct. 31 from Lamb county jail in Littlefield when allowed to confer with a caller was arrested here early this morning by two police patrolmen, T. L. Avary and R. A. Thompson.

Police informed Sheriff Sid Hopping of Littlefield, and the sheriff said he would come here today to accept custody.

The patrolmen saw a car they recognized from pickup orders and made the arrest.

Burgess was held in Littlefield on a charge of felony swindling by worthless check.

Lubbock, Fort Worth and Hale county also have check warrants naming the man, Sheriff Hopping said he had been informed.

Consolidated Vultee Designs Giant Super-Transport Plane

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 23.—The company that builds the mighty B-36 bomber said today it has designed a transport that could carry 100,000 pounds or 400 armed men from the east coast to western Europe without straining a rivet.

Consolidated Vultee Aircraft corporation said it has submitted its production design to the air force.

The huge transport would be called the C-99. It could haul bigger loads in both size and weight than any other aircraft now made or known to be planned.

Convair delivered an XC-99 (X stands for experimental) to the air force earlier this year. But its production model of the C-99 would differ from the XC-99 in five important ways:

1. It would have engines of greater horsepower; 2. Easier loading through nose and tail doors; 3. More useable cargo space, increased 57 per cent in area; 4. Pressurized

Plane Wreck Scene Found

CHILPANCINGO, Mexico, Nov. 23 (U.P.) — A search party today found wreckage of a small plane which crashed in the mountains near here last Saturday night.

The two men aboard the craft were dead.

They were identified tentatively as Melvin Todd, whose wife lives in Brownsville, Tex., and George King (home address unknown.)

(The U. S. embassy in Mexico City reported it learned the two men had been buried in a place known as San Rafael by the farmers who first discovered the wreckage. The embassy provisionally confirmed identification of the two victims, pending arrival of more complete information.)

Runners Bring Information

The plane crashed in a lonely region about 100 miles south of Mexico City. First reports of the crash were brought here by indian runners.

The area is a notorious retreat for bandits who take advantage of the mountain fastness and the general desolation to avoid police and federal troops.

Mexico City's airport had no reports of aircraft missing between Chilpancingo and the capital. This small town, south of Mexico City, is on the air route between the Pacific coast pleasure resort of Acapulco and the national capital, about 250 air miles apart.

Rader Twins And Two Others Break Out Of Amarillo Jail

DWIGHT HOSKINS

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Nov. 23.—Using a butcher knife to force a jailer to open their cells, four prisoners escaped from the Potter county jail early today.

One of them, Dwight Hoskins, 24, of Amarillo, indicted for murder, was recaptured within shadow of the jail building 15 minutes after the 3:30 a. m. break.

Three Still At Large

Still at large were twin brothers, Edward Leo and Leo Earl Rader, 25, indicted for armed robbery, and James Farris, 21, who was awaiting the outcome of an appeal on a burglary conviction.

Jailer Jack Burgess, 64, said one of the quartet stuck a butcher knife in his back and said:

"Open the tanks (cells) and you won't get hurt."

Burgess said the men forced him to open two cells, one of which held nine state prisoners and the other six federal prisoners. Only the four who forced Burgess to open the cells fled. They locked Burgess in a cell.

Is On Seventh Floor

The jail is on the seventh floor of the Potter county court house building.

After forcing Burgess to open the cells the men climbed to the roof where they found a fire hose. They anchored an end of the hose to the roof and slid down to a fifth floor window.

On the fifth floor they found a janitor asleep. They took his keys and gained the street. A deputy on duty discovered the break and gave the alarms.

Police Officers R. B. Laferty and C. E. Conners, in one of four police cars that rushed to the jail, spotted Hoskins and took him into custody.

Hoskins was indicted for the $31 robbery slaying of Charles Lee Freeman, crippled service station addendant, last September.

Hoskins had been a trusty and

Car Production Decline Looms

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Nov. 23 — Delayed effects of the steel strike will hit the nation's automobile industry hard next week.

With but few exceptions the factories closing tonight for the Thanksgiving day holiday will remain idle until perhaps Dec. 12 or later.

Ford, Hudson and Studebaker and a few branch assembly plants of other companies around the country will furnish all the motor vehicle output next week. Even Ford will cut down to four days' operation and Studebaker has announced it will close on Nov. 30.

Production To Drop

Thus weekly production will tumble sharply to probably not more than 50,000 vehicles. And the plant closings added to those already down will bring temporary idleness to an estimated quarter million automotive workers.

In several instances unemployment will be relieved by the continuance of parts fabricating work in many plants. A number of car makers about to swing over to new model production also have kept a substantial number of their employes at work on plant rearrangement, inventory, and parts, service and sales operations.

Excepting for Pontiac all the General Motors shutdowns coincide with the completion of 1949 model production. Pontiac swung

RUNNING FOR PRESIDENT IN 1952

People's Party Candidate To Campaign For Bachelors' Tax

HOUSTON, Nov. 23 (U.P.)—Dr. C. C. Cunningham adjusted his pearl gray stove-pipe hat and announced today that one of the many innovations of the People's party come 1952 elections would be a tax on bachelors.

"Yes, it's just one of our plans. They have forced my hand," said he, flashing a diamond ring mounted uniquely on a leather band.

For years now, "Doc" Cunningham (who says he's 87 and looks more like 60) has tried to beat presidential winners to the White House.

Harding, Coolidge, Hoover and Roosevelt all fell victim to the Cunningham campaign strategy when "Doc" retired from practicing as a physician.

Plans Dual Campaign

But for President Truman in 1952—or any other candidates for that matter—the cane-carrying, bow-tie wearing Cunningham has reserved the clincher.

He will campaign as two different men.

His alias will be Dr. Julian Fuller, who will conduct an active and separate campaign against Dr. Cunningham and all other presidential aspirants.

"That's so I will have some competition," joked the doctor. "It was a name I picked because I know that person is dead. You see, I wanted to be sure not to take the name of any living person," he explained.

Dr. Fuller will write all the campaign speeches and Dr. Cunningham will read them over the air. They'll include dissertations on most of the planks in the People's party platform, such as:

Party Platform Cited

1. Abolish the electoral college.
2. Abolish the congressional record.
3. Levy a tax on bachelors.
4. Abolish every federal agency possible.
5. Pay the national debt.
6. Save $5,550,000,000 in annual interest.
7. Raise postal rate on printed matter to take post office department out of the red.
8. Prohibit hiring minors and married women.

These and a dozen other plans for government face-lifting will surely gain the "Doc" a vote from "all thinking voters," he suggested.

CARVING IS FOUND

Blood Research May Aid Crime Detection

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 23 (U.P.) — Work in blood centers may lead to a new way of tracing criminals, a Milwaukee doctor believes.

Dr. Tibor Greenwalt, medical director of the Junior League blood center here, said "conceivably the time will come when the perspiration left by a hand will be enough to identify the blood type of the person who left it."

"Refinement of methods in the future may prove invaluable to police in scientific tracing of criminals," he said.

Trained personnel, he added, already can determine blood types from saliva, urine or perspiration.

Scientists Probing Borers' Diet Switch

DAVIS, Calif., Nov. 23 (AP) — Since 1905 the sugar beet crown borer has been content to eat weeds. That was the last year it bothered sugar beets in California —until 1949, when the little moth rediscovered its fondness for beets, spinach and broccoli. It mangles the stems and tops.

Why it stuck to weeds for 44 years is a mystery. But Prof. William H. Lange, University of California entomologist who is working on the problem, thinks it may have switched to beets again because the 1949 crop was planted later than usual and attracted the larvae just at the right time.

The little moths live only a month, but each one lays a thousand eggs, he reorts.

If You Are 85, 45 or 3, Hadacol Helps All Ages

HADACOL is good for all ages, bringing five of nature's B vitamins and important minerals to the young and old alike. Recently the HADACOL folks received the good news that among the countless thousands who had been benefited by HADACOL were a lady of 85, a man of 45 who felt like he was 18, and a beautiful little girl only three years old.

Mrs. Edmond Doucet, of Church Point, La., is 85 years old, having thousands of friends in the picturesque Evangeline section of Louisiana where she was born and has spent all of her life. These friends are happy to know that Mrs. Doucet feels better now than at any time in two years and gives the credit to HADACOL.

MRS. DOUCET

"I had been sick for almost two years and was suffering with gastric disturbances and bloating. I was run down, had lost weight and had to stay in bed most of the time. I lost courage and felt that there was no hope for me."

Mrs. Doucet had tried many preparations without apparent beneficial results when she heard the glorious news about HADACOL.

"After taking several bottles of HADACOL I felt like a new person," said Mrs. Doucet. "I eat anything I want without ill effects and sleep well. I feel much stronger."

Neville Dugas, of Route 1, Box 101 B, Carencro, La., is a successful farmer who had worked early and late at all kinds of hard work and it wasn't so long ago that he wondered if he would ever be able to work that way again. He had tried many medicines, but felt no better.

MR. DUGAS

"I had all kinds of stomach disturbances," said Mr. Dugas. "My stomach was so bloated that it felt like it would swell up and burst. I suffered with gastric disturbances, heartburn and was run down and nervous. I had no appetite and suffered with headaches and I couldn't sleep at night. I was so drawn and pale that my friends had difficulty in recognizing me. After the third bottle of HADACOL I felt a real improvement and after the twelfth bottle of HADACOL I felt like I was 18 instead of 45. I am feeling perfectly well."

"My three year old daughter, Joan, had lost her appetite," said Mr. Dugas. "Her cheeks were pale and she cried often. I started giving Joan HADACOL and after three of the large economy size bottles she is now healthy, has an excellent appetite and her disposition is perfect."

JOAN

All three of these people were suffering from a lack of B vitamins and the minerals which HADACOL contains. HADACOL comes to you in liquid form, easily assimilated into the blood stream so that it can go to work right away. It is easy to understand, therefore, why countless thousands have been benefited by this amazing tonic, HADACOL.

A lack of only a small amount of B vitamins and certain minerals will cause digestive disturbances . . . Your food will not agree with you. . . . You will have an upset stomach. . . . You will suffer from heartburn, gas pains and your food will sour on your stomach and you will not be able to eat the things you like for fear of being in misery afterwards. Many people also suffer from constipation. And while these symptoms may be the results of other causes, they are surely and certainly the symptoms and signs of lack of B vitamins and minerals which HADACOL contains. And if you suffer from such a deficiency disorder, there is no known cure except the administration of the vitamins and minerals which your system lacks.

It is easy to understand, therefore, why countless thousands have been benefited by this amazing tonic, HADACOL.

So it matters not how old you are or who you are . . . it matters not where you live or if you have tried all the medicines under the sun, give this wonderful preparation, HADACOL, a trial. Don't go on suffering. Don't continue to lead a miserable life. Many persons who have suffered and waited for 10 to 20 years or even longer, are able now to live happy, comfortable lives because HADACOL supplied the vitamins and minerals which their systems needed. Be fair to yourself. Temporary relief is not enough for you. Give HADACOL a trial!—Adv.

Veteran Deep-Sea Diver Plans To Salvage Saw Logs In Idaho

By PETER HAYES
United Press Staff Writer

COEUR D'ALENE, Ida., Nov. 23 (U.P.)—A veteran deep-sea diver has moved this primative north Idaho region to take on a salvage job. He thinks it may keep him busy the rest of his life.

The diver is Lee E. Waggoner and his salvage is sunken saw-logs in Panhandle lakes and rivers.

Waggoner and his wife, Dorothy, have formed the Idaho Diving Salvage Co., Inc. They have obtained 20-year leases from the state to salvage on the Couer d'Alene, Pend Areille, Priest, Spirit and Cocolalla Lakes and the Priest and St. Joe rivers.

The 49-year-old diver from San Francisco said he hopes to get going on the operation soon. Meanwhile, he is occupied with the task of shipping seven barges and two LCVP boats by flat-car to this area from San Francisco.

To Use 14 Divers

"When the work starts humming full speed, seven crews of 200-300 men will be working at one time," Waggoner said. "There wil be about 14 divers and the other crews will be made up of deckhands, tenders and winchmen.

"We won't work at depths of more than 100 feet, as going any deeper isn't efficient, but each crew ought to be able to produce 40,000 feet of lumber a day."

Waggoner has been diving for 27 years and during the war he was chief diving inspector for the U.S. maritime service at San Francisco.

But to talk to him, he sometimes sounds more like an old lumberjack than a deep-sea diver. That, he says, is a result of the last three years he has spent "snaking" logs out of Lake Whatcom in northwestern Washington, where he did "pretty well" for himself.

Cautious On Plans

"I'd just go to the bottom of the lake with a cable, fasten it to the log and the winchmen on the barge would pull it up," he said.

But Waggoner plays it cagey when it comes to telling his plans for the Idaho job. He explained: "There are too many other divers around looking for ways and means to keep working. After all, that's how I got started in this business, by looking for something new."

Waggoner and his wife spent six months surveying the lakes and rivers before applying for permits to log them. He said he discovered there were literally millions of sunken logs, 60 per cent of which are first growth timber.

"At first, selling the idea to plywood, paper pulp and sawmill operators was pretty hard," he said. "They'd never heard of using sunken logs before.

"But I convinced them and now I've got every log I can salvage under contract."

And it's probably just as well, too, Waggoner estimates the total cost of his equipment will amount to $250,000.

Tech Officials Will Attend Houston Meet

Three officials of Texas Technological college will meet with heads of other state-supported colleges and representatives of municipal junior colleges in Houston next Tuesday, Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president, announced Tuesday.

Purpose of the meeting will be to study a "long range program for the development of higher education in Texas" through co-operation between the two classes of schools, Dr. Wiggins said.

The conference will be held as a side-meeting since officials of all the colleges concerned will be attending the annual convention of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary schools there Monday through Thursday of next week.

First official discussions of a co-operative program between municipally-controlled junior colleges and state-supported senior institutions were made at a meeting of the Council of Presidents of State Supported Institutions of Higher Learning in Austin Nov. 2.

Extent and form of any plan which might be worked out by the group is not known. Tech officials who will accompany Dr. Wiggins are Dr. E. N. Jones, vice-president, and Dr. R. C. Goodwin, dean of the graduate school.

"This courtesy is contagious!"

One of our party-line customers decided the other day that the others on his line deserved a round of applause, and he wrote us a letter about it. He said:

"I am writing this note to compliment my party-line associates for their thoughtfulness in sharing the line. They are what makes party-line telephone service extremely enjoyable and satisfactory.

"If they try the line while I'm using it they very gently lift the receiver; and when they hear a conversation going on, they—also very gently—replace the receiver.

"Also they limit the length of the conversations. I have yet to wait more than two minutes for them to release the line after I have tried it to make a call.

"This courtesy is contagious; they have me doing it."

Party-line service is the choice of about half our customers in normal times when anyone who wants it can have an individual line. But today a good many party-line customers are waiting for the individual lines they would have if equipment were plentiful.

We want to be able to give everyone the service he or she prefers. Where equipment in neighborhoods permits it, we are making some progress in that direction now, despite the continuing heavy demand for telephones from those still without any service.

What we are working to do is eventually to get everyone the type of service and as much service as he or she wants. We appreciate your understanding.

MRS. BILLY L. SHEATS

Velma Louise Rogers, Billy Sheats Marry

Miss Velma Louise Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Rogers, 2613 Twenty-ninth, became the bride of Billy L. Sheats, son of Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Sheats of Pampa, in a double ring ceremony performed at the First Assembly of God church Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. The bridegroom's father, assisted by Rev. Mont M. Walker, read the ceremony before a candlelighted altar of fern and palms. Baskets of gold and bronze chrysanthemums completed the decorations.

Miss Hallie Wall, organist, played traditional wedding marches, and accompanied Miss Wanda Morris as she sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The bridal party marched down an aisle decorated with white tapers, gold pompons and white satin ribbon.

Father Gives Bride

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory satin gown designed with a fitted bodice and a high neckline accented with tiny buttons extending from a small collar of Rose Point lace to the waistline. The sleeves ended in points at the hands and the full skirt swept into a long train. She wore an imported veil caught by orange blossoms and seed pearls and carried a bouquet of white roses centered with orchids. To carry out tradition, she wore, for something old, a ruby ring belonging to her mother; for something borrowed, a white linen handkerchief of the bridegroom's mother; and for good luck, a penny in her white satin shoe.

Mrs. Eula Moss of Bonham, cousin of the bride and matron of honor, wore a lime green taffeta dress fashioned after the bride's. She carried talisman roses. The flower girl, Donna Light, was dressed in lime green taffeta, also. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Bridesmaids, Miss Doris Wygal of Ropesville and Miss Delores Sheats of Big Spring, cousins of the bridegroom, Miss Melba Haney of Dallas, cousin of the bride, and Miss Paula Stephens, wore dresses of bronze taffeta styled after Mrs. Moss', and carried yellow roses. The candlelighters, Miss Jonita Jenkins and Myrna Lawrence, wore gold taffeta dresses.

Ladon Sheats of Pampa served as his brother's best man and Donald Hudgeons, Cecil Holly, Donald Brand of Lubbock and R. F. McDonald of Pampa were ushers.

Relatives and close friends attended a reception in the Navajo room of Hilton hotel after the ceremony. Those assisting with hospitalities were parents of the bride and bridegroom, members of the wedding party and Mrs. J. S. Stevenson, cousin of the bride. The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth and centered with a three tiered wedding cake and an arrangement of talisman roses and candelabra.

Out-of-town guests were from Bonham, Big Spring, Pampa, Lockney, Amarillo, Levelland, Dallas and Abilene.

Following a wedding trip to New Mexico, the couple will be at home at 1504 Twenty-first. For travel, the bride wore a steel blue suit with sun-copper accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheats are graduates of Lubbock High school and the bridegroom is a graduate of Texas Technological college.

Turkey With Good Stuffing Tops Thanksgiving Fare

You don't have to work yourself to exhaustion to provide a wonderful Thanksgiving dinner. Keep the menu simple but give care to its preparation. Turkey with a delicious bread and cornbread stuffing, such as suggested by Miss Clara Pratt, Lubbock county home demonstration agent, cranberry sauce, potatoes and a vegetable salad for the main course—what could taste better? Then top it off with the easy-to-make pumpkin pie and everyone should be satisfied.

Miss Pratt has been asked: Should the turkey bt stuffed?

It may or may not be stuffed as you choose. In either case rub the inside of the bird with salt. Two tablespoons of salt is not too much salt for a 12 to 15 pound turkey. Rub it over the outside too. Usually if the bird is stuffed that is not as much stuffing as is needed. Additional stuffing or dressing may be baked in a pan. Do not put it in the roasting pan around the turkey.

Is it necessary to steam the turkey first?

No. A young turkey will roast tender. If you are cooking a hen, unless you know she is a young hen, it may be better to steam it for a while since the moist heat is needed to cook tough meat tender.

Is a roasting pan necessary?

The so-called roaster is not a true roasting pan because the pan is too deep for equal circulation of heat and when the cover is on the steam is held in and so it means cooking with moist heat.

A shallow pan with a rack in it makes an ideal roasting pan.

The broiler pan may be used.

Roasting Timetable

How long must the turkey roast?

Here is a timetable for roasting young birds.

Bird	Dressed Weight Pounds	Oven Temp.	Hours
Chicken	4-5	350 degrees F	1½-2
Turkey	10-13	325 degrees F	2½-3
	14-17	275 degrees F	5-6
	18-23	300 degrees F	6½-7½
	24-30	250 degrees F	8-9

For a half turkey, 7 to 9 pounds, takes 4 to 4½ hours at 300 degrees F.

How much stuffing for the bird?

For each pound of bird, count 1 cup of crumbs; then if the bird weighs 10 pounds or less, subtract 1 cup from the total, if the bird weighs more than 10 pounds, subtract 2 cups from the total. For example allow 4 cups of crumbs for a chicken that weighs 5 pounds dressed and 12 cups of crumbs for a turkey weighing 14 pounds dressed.

Cornbread Stuffing

Here is a recipe for plain cornbread stuffing:

8 cups corn-bread crumbs.
4 cups biscuit or white bread crumbs.
2 t salt.
1 t pepper.
1 to 2 t sage.
½ to ¾ c butter or chicken fat.
2 hard cooked eggs chopped.
1 c onion chopped fine.
2 eggs beaten.

Cover feet, giblets and fat in water and cook. Pour this stock over day-old bread crumbs. Add other ingredients.

What about the gravy?

Use the fat and drippings from the pan under the turkey for gravy. Then add the chopped, cooked giblets and hard-cooked egg may be added.

In St. Paul's Episcopal church Tuesday night at 7 o'clock, a marriage ceremony was read by Rev. Claude E. Canterbury, rector, for Miss Joan Strother Hale and Hugh Parker Harbert. The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Newton Hale of 2118 Seventeenth and the bridegroom is son of Mrs. D. K. Bondurant of Fort Worth and the late Hugh P Harbert, sr.

The altar space was a mass of bronze chrysanthemums and greenery. Tapers burned at the altar and in the windows. A double ring ceremony was performed as Mrs. Elton Plowman, organist, played "Ave Maria." The organist also offered "Evening Star," and accompanied Mr. Plowman as he sang "Entreat Thee Not to Leave Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Hale gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a two-piece dress of champagne faille, accented at the collar with bronze beads. There was matching bead trim on her calotte. The white Bible she carried was carried by her sister, Mrs. Charles B. Thompson at her wedding; it was topped with three brown orchids showered with brown taffeta ribbon and streamers. She carried a handkerchief belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Allie Riddle, and wore a penny in her russet velvet shoe.

Go To Santa Fe

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Thompson attended the couple. The matron of honor was dressed in a two-piece ensemble of russet velveteen jersey, with a matching hat and a yellow rosebud bouquet.

Ushers were Jeff Lewis and Luther Wilson of Roby. Acolytes were Bobby and Steven Rodgers, sons of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Rodgers, jr.

At the reception given in Hilton hotel Yaqui room following the ceremony, the bride's table was laid with a white Madeira cloth and centered with a double ring wedding cake decorated with confection mallow roses and lily of the valley, in yellow and white. Tiered silver candelabra, a bouquet of yellow and white carnations and the punch bowl completed the arrangement.

Parents of the bride and bridegroom and members of the wedding party assisted with hospitalities. Those in the houseparty were Mesdames W. L. Bradshaw, D. B. Hiatt, M. D. Temple, R. S Rodgers, sr., R. S. Rodgers, jr., Marlin Smith, jr., J. P. Giles, Earl Moore, W. A. Sylvester, J. R. Bush, France Baker, H. D. Woods, sr. H. L. Allen, G. H. Nelson, Clifford Barr, Jeff Lewis, J. O. Garrett, Tommy Davis, Julian Fairly, A. R. Golding, jr., Elton Plowman, and Misses Jane Hiatt, Jean Newman, Mary Lu Jobson and Shirley Smith.

Out-of-town guests were from Blytheville, Ark., Abilene, Christoval, Fort Worth, Ovalo, Slaton and Roby.

Attendants To Couple

For a wedding trip to Santa Fe, N. M., the bride wore a navy blue gabardine suit with navy shoes and bag and powder blue blouse, hat and gloves. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Mrs. Harbert is a graduate of Lubbock High school and attended Texas Technological college where she was a member of Tau Souci social club. She is a granddaughter of a pioneer ranch family, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd T. Strother. Mr. Harbert is employed by the Fire Insurance division, Board of Commissioners, Austin. He is a graduate of Blytheville, Ark., High school and Capioh-Lincoln Junior college at Wesson, Miss., and attended Allen academy at Bryan, and Tech.

Doing Well In Business, After Ten Years' Progress, Woman Terrified Of Romance

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Now at 30 I am earning a good salary, after changing jobs three times in 10 years to work my way up.. Never did I feel I couldn't do the job, nor was I afraid of making mistakes to start, for no one is infallible; and if there is a mistake, the thing to do is correct it as well as possible.

In business I never fret or worry, I like the life, have been on the present job three years and get on well with others. There is a good atmosphere, and although at times we disagree and tempers flare, when that passes we are all good friends again.

However, in the department of romance I am afraid to put the next foot forward, as if I were walking through a field of unexploded bombs. I have a boy friend, an ordinary person like myself, although once I imagined him to be a Prince Charming, and we are trying to make a new start together. Two years ago we had an affair and he left me, as men usually do, I suppose, and I was very unhappy.

HOW HOLD MAN WHO ONCE LEFT?

ANYWAY, now he's back. He said he didn't realize he loved me before, because I was always there. But when I wasn't there and he know I couldn't be there again, he realized that he did love me and wanted to try again. So now we are trying again, without an affair, and we do all right and he seems to like it; also my friends think he is awfully nice. But I suffer from anxiety.

For instance, at the office if I ask one of the men for something and he shoos me off, I think "He's in a bad mood today, I'll ask again tomorrow." But if the same thing should happen with Harry I'd be lost, for I'd feel sure he just didn't love me. There's the difference.

Harry is older than I, and I would like to get along with him because he is here; but I want most of all to know how to get along with men in a romantic as well as a business way. In business I am very friendly, one could almost say romantic; and maybe I reverse the process and become businesslike in romance. Evidently I do something wrong, and I don't know how to be mysterious. Please advice me.—Signed C. B.

MEANING OF HER ROMANTIC MANNER

DEAR C. B.: Speaking of your almost romantic behavior in business, I suppose you mean taking special notice of men associates and using a coquettish manner and feeling flirtatious (that is, sex conscious) when working directly with them.

That pitch of interest, beamed at men in those circumstances, might seem on the surface to be a harmless display of cordial approval or sentimental respect, such as a great many women wage-earners offer their male confreres, especially those in directive positions.

In general it is ja conscious mannerism, discreetly exercised by the ladies to facilitate pleasant working relations in a man's world; but sometimes it is a quite spontaneous, or even a compulsive performance;—that is, an involuntary expression of deference and desire to please, and then it has a different meaning, as follows:

OUGHT TO MODIFY DEPENDENCY BIAS

I SHOULD say you typify the exceptional case, the woman in business who seems casually competent and self reliant, but whose romantic attitude towards men co-workers, or indeed the men she meets anywhere, signifies to the discerning eye that she is questing for help with a hidden difficulty that even she doesn't recognize, namely, an unconscious pattern of extreme dependency which she hopes to solve Cinderella fashion.

The nature of your problem stimulates profound craving for a magic solution provided by a powerful protector, which accounts for your hopeful fantasy, some time ago, that Harry was a Prince Charming. It also activates your current compromise struggle to keep him in the picture as a prop of sorts, now that he's back after blasting your illusions. Better a straw man to appease your anxiety, than none at all, is the philosophy of your striving.

In business your opportunities are limited for taxing men with your dependency characteristics, hence unbearable friction doesn't develop to damage friendship, as happened in your alliance with Harry. Hoever, even in business you have repetitious quarrels, and it seems you habitually ask favors of men co-workers, but you don't mind too much if they shoo you away, because theoretically they owe you nothing, whereas in case of "love" your unconscious demands for assurance of devotion are voracious, insatiable and intolerably "trying" to a man. So correct this drift to ease the rub.

Army Directs ORC Unit Assignments

The Army has directed that all Organized Reserve corps members not presently on duty with the Army be assigned to an appropriate ORC unit by Nov. 30, the local ORC instructor's office has been informed.

Members of the inactive or honorary reserve and reserve officers on duty with the Army as enlisted men or warrant officers will be assigned to an appropriate ORC control group. These groups are units established to facilitate uniform administration of reserve personnel not otherwise assigned.

Procedures governing mobilization designation to Regular Army units also have been announced. A mobilization designation is the selection of an individual to fill an authorized vacancy upon mobilization in a Regular Army unit. These vacancies consist of spaces authorized and considered necessary to reinforce the existing Regular Army unit.

Dr. Doyle Jackson Speaker For Kiwanis And Exchange Clubs

Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, acting head of the education department at Texas Tech, today gave a brief history lecture to emphasize his speech, "America's Place in the Sun," at a joint luncheon meeting of the Exchange and Kiwanis clubs in Hotel Lubbock.

The professor asked his audience: "What has made our nation the greatest in the world?"

The United States, he declared, has only one-seventh of the world's productive land area and one-sixteenth of the globe's population yet produces 92% of the world's bathtubs, 85% of the automobiles, 68% of the telephones, 57% of the oil and 51% of the cotton.

"It's not because we have the greatest resources because Russia and South America lead us in that potential," he said.

"We like to think we are the most intelligent mass of people but tests indicate the French Canadians lead in that field," he pointed out, "and beauty experts say Latin Americans lead us in good looks, so, what is it that has made us so great?"

Answering the question, he said our democratic form of government offers the American people the incentives to "work, save and invest."

"Take that away from them and we will lose our place in the sun as did Persia, Macedonia, Rome, Spain and England," he warned.

"We are head and shoulders above other nations simply because we outproduced them," he explained.

M. B. Hilburn, jr., president of the Exchange club, introduced Kiwanis president Fred Sparks, who in turn introduced the speaker.

TEXAS BANK HOLDUPS INVOLVED

Corsicana Used Auto Dealer Faces Third Robbery Charge

WACO, Nov. 23 (AP)—Ollie Otto Prince of Corsicana, already convicted of robbing two banks, faced trial today on a charge he robbed a third.

The 44-year-old used car dealer was convicted yesterday on two counts in the Oct. 5, 1948, robbery of the Malone State bank. A Dallas federal court jury had found him guilty on March 3 of robbing the Rice, Navarro county, bank of $4,002.

Prince was to go on trial today on a charge that he robbed the First National bank of Mt. Calm on Nov. 22, 1946.

"The only thing I can say," he told the court yesterday, "is that I am not guilty of robbing these banks and some day I hope we can prove that to the people."

Terms Concurrent

Federal Judge Ben H. Rice then sentenced the heavy-set, florid defendant to 20 years on a charge that he took $15,764 from Guy Mann, vice president of the Malone bank. Judge Rice sentenced Prince to 15 years on the second count, which charged he entered the bank with intent to rob.

The judge ordered that the sentences be served one after the other—that Prince must serve the total number of years given him.

Court attaches said this meant that Prince must serve the 10 years given him for the Rice bank robbery before beginning his sentences in the Malone case. This would mean 45 years in prison.

The Rice sentence was appealed. Howard Dailey of Dallas, Prince's attorney, said he was not certain the Malone sentence would be appealed.

Jury Out Briefly

The federal jury was out less than 20 minutes. It returned its verdict about 1 p. m. Judge Rice pronounced sentence about 2 p. m.

The defense asked continuance of the Mt. Calm trial, pleading absence of witnesses. Judge Rice overruled the motion.

In his closing argument, U. S. District Attorney W. H. Moursund emphasized a no-funds check, which he said Prince had given in payment of cattle. He said Prince robbed the bank in order to make the check good.

Mann, an employe of the bank and a customer of the bank identified Prince as the robber. A series of defense witnesses testified they saw Prince in or near Corsicana during the period in which the robbery was committed.

Board Outlaws Gift Giving To Teachers

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 23 (AP) The Bethlehem school board has turned thumbs down on Christmas gifts for the teacher — too much competition between little Johnny and his classmates.

Joseph W. Hedge, superintendent of schools, said yesterday board members decided the competitive nature of the gift giving among school children had become too expensive for smaller income families to bear.

Not that an occasional apple or cookie for the teacher is objectionable, Hedge said It's just that children who can't afford expensive Christmas presents sometimes have given way to a feeling of frustration

From now on in Bethlehem—a city that goes in for Christmas in a great big way—the kids will have to hand teacher her Christmas gift away from the classroom

Eleanor Powell May Return To Films If Public Favorable

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 23—Happy sounds of tapping feet are again coming from the Eleanor Powell bungalow, long a landmark at MGM studios.

The boards are once more groaning under the onslaught of the long-stemmed tapster. Miss Powell has returned to the studio where she once reigned as a musical queen. She was away seven years, during most of which she was merely Mrs. Glenn Ford.

Thus begins another chapter in the career of the Springfield, Mass., dancer who has traveled from ballet to be-bop.

Former Ballet Student

"I studied ballet for 13 years," she recalled, "to be ballet was everything. But then I tried out on Broadway before such producers as George White, Flo Ziegfeld and Earl Carroll. 'Very nice,' they said, 'but can she tap.'

"So I invested $35 in 10 tap lessons. Those were the only lessons I've ever had and I've been tapping ever since."

After starring in many Broadway shows, she came to Hollywood in 1935 and repeated her success in films. After several years of hits, she found herself in a rut.

She left MGM in 1942. She did one outside film, "Sensations of 1945," but it turned out not to be. Marrying film newcomer Glenn Ford, she put away her tap shoes for an apron. Little Peter Ford completed the family scene.

Signed For Film

One night the Fords were out socially with the Joe Pasternaks when the producer suggested a film return for Eleanor. She laughed it off and forgot about it. But Pasternak persisted. He conquered her fear of returning to the old haunts and signed her to appear in "Duchess of Idaho."

"It's just a brief appearance in the picture," she said, "but it's handled very well. Van Johnson introduces me at a night club. Then he looks right at the movie audience and says, 'would you like to see Eleanor Powell dance again?'

"The audience's reaction to that will determine whether or not I do any more pictures."

Value Of Rattlers Shows Sharp Hike

Canned meat, $2.50 for a five-ounce can, retail: $24 (Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission says the delicacy is gaining in popularity); leather from tanned skin: $20; vertebra (for making souvenirs): $30; headbones, rattlers and fangs; $1.75; anti-venom (made from the snake's venom): $4; snake-oil for medicinal purposes: $6; and a more highly refined product used as a leather dressing: $12; gall-bladder (used as base for medicine by Chinese-Americans) $1.

Trying To Do A Favor For Daughters Of Eve Just Backfires, Making Moon Calf Of Man

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK.—The main thing wrong with American womanhood is women.

A man who tries to do these forlorn daughters of Eve a favor is just a moon calf. It always backfires on him.

Herewith is a postmortem on a little attempt I made:

Knowing that l'amour is a woman's whole existence, I checked to see if I couldn't find them a shortcut in this field to save wear and tear on their claws.

My inquiry disclosed that—Dr. Kinsey to the contrary—the greatest lovers are men in their 40s. This truth was confirmed by Dorothy Dix and the fact that the eight top-drawing male film stars are all 40 plus.

Reaped Catcalls

You would thing that this discovery would be hailed by the ladies as a great timesaver for them. No longer need they waste their own romantic prime trying to rob a teen-age cradle or making goo-goo eyes at Civil war veterans. They could go ahead and concentrate on their real prey—the men of two score years and slightly more.

But wha' hoppen?

My research reaped only a crop of feminine catcalls of derision.

A big hoot came from a 34-year-old wife in Ashland, Ky., who said her husband was 33 "and I wouldn't wish him to be one day older.

"Just where you old men get the idea you are attractive is a mystery to me.

Made Up Young

"Let me tell you why the popular men film stars are over 40. These men are made up to look young, they are excellent actors and they don't have bald heads and potbellies. And, last but not least, the girls don't have to touch their loose, flabby cheeks."

(Editor's note: She has you there, Boyle.)

(Boyle's note: A girl that fastidious can always wear cotton work gloves.)

And the Ashland wife wound up thus:

"Don't ever think any young girl marries an old man for his sex appeal. It is always for his dollars or acres appeal. The sooner men find this out, the happier they will be."

All I can say to these ladies is—go bark at Vice President Barkley, dearies. Who is in Shangri-La today—you or the widow from Missouri?

School Given Rare Tibetan Holy Book

PALO ALTO, Cal., Nov. 23 (U.P.)—A rare copy of the Tibetan Tripitaka, sacred canon of Buddism, has been given to the Stanford university library by a Budist monk in Japan.

The edition is believed to be the only one of its kind in the western world. Its 300-odd volumes will yield many secrets, locked in lost Sanskrit manuscripts for centuries, when scholars begin the task of translating the work, university officials said.

The pointed out that the Tripitaka is as important to Buddhists and scholars of the Oriental world as an untranslated Greek or Latin document about the teachings of Christ would be to the western world.

University officials said they hoped the Tripitaka would attract Buddhist scholars from all corners of the globe for research into Buddhist thought and Tibetan literature.

100 Grand Missed In Raid On Home

VALLEYFIELD, Que., Nov. 23. (AP)—Everybody thought the 77-year-old recluse, J. Baptiste Doutre, had a fortune hidden away in his farmhouse.

Two hoodlums went out to the place where he lives with his invalid sister.

They beat him up and searched through the house, hampered by the fact there were no electric lights.

Finally they found what they were looking for—an old wooden bucket. But the one they fled with had only some worthless personal papers in it.

The two other old wooden buckets they left behind contained $100,000 in cash.

Monty To Talk With Military

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23. (AP)—Western Europe's top military man scheduled meetings with U. S. defense chiefs today after opening his visit here with a promise of a "real good" battle if non-Communist Europe over is attacked.

An address before the National War college was the major item on today's schedule for Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery of Great Britain, following conferences with Gen. Omar Bradley, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, and Secretary of Defense Johnson.

Bradley is chairman of the joint chiefs of staff and Collins is chief of staff for the army.

Montgomery, defense chairman for Europe's Western union—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg — spoke yesterday before the National Press club.

Internal Harmony Vital

The hero of the battle of North Africa declared that if any nation attacks the Western union "we'll have a real good party and kill a lot of people."

Peace, he said, depends mainlyon the west's success in its efforts to rebuild its military strength. But he added:

"The key to the whole matter in every nation lies in internal harmony and economic well-being. If we fail there, military strength by itself will not pull us through."

Asked "how do we stand in these matters?" Montgomery replied:

"Not well, I fear."

Montgomery had his first session with American military leaders yesterday at a Pentagon tea party. He is visiting this country informally as guest of the English Speaking union. He will address that organization in New York Nov. 29, and will return to England Dec. 2.

Two 'Unknown' Well-Knowns Write Play For Clark Gable

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 23 (NEA)—Behind the Screen:

Clark Gable is plotting a return to the stage for the first time in 20 years. A play is being written especially for him by two well-known film writers who asked me not to reveal their names . . . Celeste Holm will be Bing Crosby's co-star in his next movie, "Famous," . . . Bette Davis is not selling her Laguna Beach home, as reported elsewhere. As a matter of fact, she's adding another wing. . . . Deflation note: Deanna Durbin just went on a diet to lose 25 pounds. It's her first step on the comeback trail.

Now it's even getting into movies:

In one scene of "In a Lonely Place" which stars H. Bogart as a movie writer and Gloria Grahme as a part-time actress, Bogie turns to Morris Ankrum, who plays a director, and says:

"You know what you are?—you're a popcorn salesman."

Ankrum admits the accusation is true but adds:

"So are you."

Found, at last, a movie moppet who is not a candidate for the brat department.

Eight-year-old Gigi Perreau is the most normal little girl I've ever met in Hollywood. Her mother, Eleanor Perreau, of course, can take the bows. The child's success in "Enchantment" didn't go to mama's head. That's what usually happens to movie mothers when their kids win stardom.

Mrs. Perreau, instead, kept her head and it is reflected in Gigi's unaffected personality. Sam Goldwyn, I hear, has big plans for the child following release of "My Foolish Heart."

On A Diet

Saw Judy Garland on the Metro lot. She's on the Harper's Bazaar diet and has lost five pounds so far. She looks okay to me as is. Metro stars worried about their weight usually go on a diet for which the studio paid the Mayo Brothers $5000 in 1938. It features eggs, tomatoes, cucumbers and red meat and permits a couple of cocktails before dinner.

"Get in the movies and win the gorgeous dames," they told Van Heflin when he was in drama at Oklahoma University. In "East Side, West Side," he romps off with Barbara Stanwyck, taking her away from James Mason. But it's the first time he's won the girl in six pictures.

He told me:

"I feel so good about it I don't even care that two of the preview cards said, 'Van Johnson is good, as usual.'"

A new Broadway importation, James Whitmore, I hear, steals "Battleground" from a lot of famous names. James played the sergeant in "Command Decision" in New York. He's a little man who reminds you of Spencer Tracy with a little of Bill Bendix thrown in. I asked him about his resemblance to Tracy. He said:

"I've been hearing it ever since I was a kid in high school."

John Brown, who plays Digger O'Dell the friendly undertaker in "The Life of Riley," tells it.

A couple of strangers were seated at the same dinner table at a summer camp on the borsch circuit. One complained that he couldn't eat steak because he had left his false teeth home. The other promptly started pulling out sets of false teeth from various pockets until his new friend found a pair that fit him perfectly.

"To think," beamed the fellow, as he ordered a steak, "that I should meet way up here a dentist!"

The other shrugged his shoulders and said:

"Who's a dentist?—I'm an undertaker."

Lady Astor Began Trend By Dig At "Wretched' Movie Queens

Dorothy Lamour Defends Films From Critical Blasts Against "Half-Dressed Glamor Girls"

By VIRGINIA MacPHERSON
United Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 23—Dorothy Lamour, who knows a thing or two about being a "half-dressed glamor girl," said today it makes her mad when people lambast girls because they look good with not much on.

"All of a sudden," says the lady who filled a sarong to overflowing. "It's the style for a lot of ill-assorted characters to make verbal assaults on screen glamor girls."

DOROTHY LAMOUR—She Should Be Some Sort Of An Authority!

And what, Dottie's like to know, is wrong with glamor anyway?

"It's just sex that's civilized," she says. "Do these people think they can make THAT unpopular by sneering at it?"

Lady Astor Complains

Lady Astor, a one-time glamor girl herself, started the trend a few days ago with a loud blast out of London against Hollywood's "wretched" movie queens.

A couple of days later the Broadway star, Marlow Brando, climbed right up with lady A. on her high horse.

He didn't like these Hollywood girls, he announced flatly, and he refused to go to any Hollywood parties where he might be tempted to get mixed up with any.

Miss Lamour allows as how a gent's entitled to his own opinion. But she thinks he might have been gallant enough to keep his views on local ladies to himself.

Museums Have Sarongs

As for herself, she says, she's getting fed up with all these holier-than-thou critics.

"A pretty girl, tastefully posed in a scanty costume, is a thing of beauty," Miss Lamour added. "It is even a sort of cultural achievement.

"Why, I donated several of my sarongs to museums who said they wanted them to add to the cultural level of their community.

"I'm not getting all riled up because I used to go around half-dressed. I never did think I looked good in a sarong, anyway. My hips are big, my feet aren't pretty, and my shoulder bones stick out."

(That's Lamour's opinion. Twenty million men disagreed with her. And she earned her bosses millions of dollars cavorting through phoney jungles in a few square inches of colored satin.)

Not Defending Nudity

"But I certainly never considered myself 'wretched'," Dottie added. "And it makes me mad to be called that.

"I'm not talking about nudity. That's bad taste and Lady Astor would be right criticizing us if we went in for anything so crude. But we don't.

"Believe it or not, it's possible to wear a plunging neckline in a lady-like way. Isn't there an old saying: 'Evil to him who evil thinks?'"

Fancy Brazil Doors End Up On Lowly American School

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23 (U.P.)—Thornburg school, with three rooms and an enrollment of 54, isn't large as schools go, but it'll stack its doors up against anybody's.

A pair of nine-foot tall polished bronze and plate glass doors are the entrance to the otherwise unimpressive little building.

The doors represent a long-time hope of Karl W. Atwater, late president of the school board, and bear a plaque to his memory.

Long before World War II, Atwater had hoped some day to replace a pair of rickety, dull doors on the Thornburg school. But unin-siring as they might have been, the wooden doors served their purpose and no one but Atwater ever mentioned turning them in on a new model.

War Entervenes

Just a short time before the war, a South American company asked a Pittsburgh manufacturer to provide a fancy set of doors for a proposed new office building. The doors were built and polished and packed for the long boat trip to Brazil.

Then the war, in the form of the Maritime Commission, intervened.

The commission ruled that doors were strictly non-military, nonpriority and unworthy of wartime shipping space. The Brazilian company complained, but the doors remained in Pittsburgh.

Immediately after the war, the Commerce Department slapped export controls on American business and required the licensing of items to be shipped abroad. The resulting delay was just one too many for the South American company, which cancelled its order and left the Pittsburghers with a beautiful but useless set of doors.

Doors Recalled

In April, 1948, Atwater died.

The people of Thornburg, anxious to perpetuate his memory in the school he loved, planned a memorial. Someone recalled that Atwater didn't like the old wooden doors.

A chain reaction took place. Another member of the planning committee knew of the cancelled Brazilian order for beautiful doors. The gleaming, nine-foot portals were measured and found to be just right, almost as if they had been intended for the Thornburg school in the first place.

Atwater's school has the doors he wanted so much. Engraved on them is a small notice that they were donated to his memory "by his grateful neighbors."

City Will Conduct Tests Of Many Types Of Insecticides

After spending the summer killing all the flies within attack range of Lubbock, the city health department is about to reverse the procedure and start raising them on a large scale.

Nobody's gone beserk, however—it's simply part of a program of research that promises to make insect control in Lubbock county even more effective than it has been in the past, said Gerald Jarvis, director of the city-county health department.

The health department will grow the pests in a city-owned shop building, then kill them with various insecticides to determine for sure what can be used most effectively and cheaply next summer.

City Fogged 23 Times

The extensive DDT-spraying program ended about the first of the month after having operated continuously since May 16. During that period the city was completely fogged 23 times, and most of the outlying suburbs were also fogged that much.

Other towns in the county were fogged as needs required.

The city footed a bill of $8,065.39 for materials and equipment used during the summer's spraying.

In return for that sum the residents of the city and county were afforded nearly 100 per cent freedom from flies, and probably as a direct result, freedom from any epidemics of contagious or communicable diseases during the summer.

Notably, the city escaped a polio epidemic such as San Angelo was forced to endure.

Of the total expenditures, $3,286.80 worth of DDT was used, 16,607 of fuel oil costing $1,749.19 was employed, and quantities of xylene, lethane and other chemicals made up the rest.

As Jarvis explained, unusual rain conditions and other factors nearly caused the flies to get out of hand on several occasions during the summer.

For better control next year, the research program on "hothouse" flies is being instituted. A total of $10,800 will be available next year for the program including an expected $2,000 contribution from the County of Lubbock, $5,950 from the city, plus $1,400 to be spent on a new power fogging machine and $1,450 for a new pickup truck for one of the two fogging machines used this summer.

The new 200-gallon sprayer will be purchased early next spring. With two nozzles that will deliver a fine mist, it will be used to spray all garbage cans in the city and the walls of buildings in the downtown area alleys.

Meanwhile, the winter's research program is expected to show whether DDT or other chemicals can be used at the greatest efficiency and savings.

Tuberculosis Victim Gives Hospital Fund

ST. PAUL, Nov. 23 (U.P.)—A 4-H club calf that wasn't good enough for the state junior livestock show and a club boy stricken with tuberculosis is the story behind a $500 gift to Gillette State Hospital for Crippled Children.

Robert Wright, 14, of Borup, Minn., bought a beef calf last fall to be fattened for competition at the show. Last January, Robert went to the Gillette hospital with tuberculosis and he's been there ever since.

Robert's parents didn't forget the calf and saw that it got the right feed and that 4-H records were kept.

When the show finally started, however, the calf was unable to make the grade. Only nine calves could go from Clay County and Robert's placed tenth.

Clay County 4-H clubs heard the story and chipped in to buy the animal for $500.

Robert gave the money to the hospital for crippled children.

Judge Fines Self $1 For Parking Ticket

GREAT BEND, Kan., Nov. 23 (U.P.)—Police Judge A. A. Kelley had a busy day.

Eleven motorists paraded past him and drew $1 fines for parking overtime.

Then Judge Kelley pulled a traffic ticket out of his pocket, fined himself $1 for the same offense and said:

"Let that be a lesson to me."

Battle Indicated At Scene Of Burglary

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—A gang of boys entered a toy store at night through a trap door in the roof. They picked up some flashlights out of a showcase to light the way, helped themselves to wristwatches—and then found the bows and arrows.

Morning saw arrows stuck in the walls, a pillar, cardboard boxes, everywhere an arrow would stick. While some of the gang were playing Indian, others apparently were playing cowboy. There was plenty of shot from air rifles under foot.

Amarillo Negro Is Sought In Slaying

AMARILLO, Nov. 23. (U.P.)—Police today sought the husband of a 20-year-old negro maid who was stabbed to death at the home of her white employer.

A neighbor woman said she saw a negro man run from the back door of the house and race down an alley after the stabbing yesterday.

The young girl was stabbed, apparently with a butcher knife, as she sat with her employer's four-year-old son.

Playoff Spots To Be Filled

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

Four playoff spots—two in Class AA and two in the City conference—will be decided tomorrow in traditional Thanksgiving day games as the 1949 season draws to a close in Class AA and City conferences with a light 27-game schedule.

One game was scheduled tonight and two Friday night, the remainder Turkey day with most of those being daylight affairs.

Outcome of games in 4-AA, 11-AA, Fort Worth and San Antonio will round out the full playoff fields in both divisions of the Texas Interscholastic league playoffs.

Austin Is Favored

El Paso Austin, unbeaten in district play, was favored to repeat as 4-AA champ by defeating El Paso High. A defeat would toss the race into a three way tie involving those two clubs and Ysleta with the playoff spot determined by lot.

Port Arthur, ranked as the state's No. 1 team much of the season, was an odds-on choice to defeat Beaumont, unbeaten in district play, for the 11-AA crown.

San Antonio Jefferson also was favored to take the Alamo city flag with a victory over Brackenridge. A Brackenridge victory would throw the pair into a tie with Tech for the title, but Brackenridge would have to win by seven points or more to keep Jefferson from getting into the playoff.

Selections Are Given

Paschal, likewise, was favored to defeat North Side for the Fort Worth crown tomorrow night. A North Side victory would hand the playoff spot to Arlington Heights, the defending state champion.

The favorites should come through in these four contests.

Here's our final selections for the regular season (marked with "W" along with the week's schedule (all games day games and conference affairs unless otherwise noted):

Westerners In Light Workout

With only one practice session remaining before the Brownfield game, Coach Pat Pattison eased up a little Tuesday afternoon at Chapman field as the Westerners went through their workouts.

Time out was taken midway through the drill to witness a sprint by the four backfield members over the 100-yard length of the field, with Bobby Brown, Charlie Williams, Wayne Stroud and Malcolm Young finishing in that order. Young was handicapped by a slightly sprained ankle. Tuesday was "open house" at the field, and Westerner followers were admitted to the workout.

Tickets for the traditional Thanksgiving day game have been on sale at the high school athletic office, with reserved seats selling at $1.50. The game starts at 2:30 p. m. Thursday.

One of the four remaining untied and undefeated teams in the state, the Westerners have been on top in their first nine starts this season and seem certain to add Brownfield to their list of victims.

Cubs In Fair Shape

Brownfield started out the season with a group of inexperienced boy and has never been able to find itself this year, losing nine straight games in practice and district games.

Coach Tracy Kellow said Tuesday night that his team was in fair shape, probably in as good condition physically as it has been all season. Last week several players were injured against Odessa, but all with the exception of Billy Noble will be ready for the Westerners. Noble suffered several broken ribs and a fractured shoulder blade.

Brownfield Lighter

The Cubs are a much lighter team than the Lubbock eleven and will be heavily outweighed. The starting Cub line will weigh approximately 153 pounds per man, and the backfield only 143. Lubbock starters average 188 and 158 respectively.

Tuesday's practice was routine for Lubbock's squad, starting with preliminary exercises, punting, place-kicking drills and dummy plays. Line Coach Bill Floyd, recently hospitalized with a serious throat infection, was back at practice for the second day and worked with the linemen in blocking drills before the full squad came together.

Offensive and defensive drills were run in later practice, with the Cowhands supplying both offensive and defensive patterns for the Westerners.

All Squads Busy

The younger players at times broke up several plays in the dummy scrimmage, being most effective on passing efforts. By using the Cowhands with his other three squads, Coach Pat Pattison was able to keep the three Westerner teams busy, either on offense or defense.

Injuries the past two weeks have weakened the squad considerably. Last week Douglas Ross switched from right to left tackle in place of Joe Brock, and Ross Craig subbed at left guard for Freddy Gray, Curtis Roberts filled in at right tackle. Running at right end in practice Tuesday in place of Billy Wright was Dean White, and the lanky junior was filling the position very adequately.

The four backfield starters will probably be ready to go, but if Young is still bothered with his ankle sprain Stroud may shift to fullback and Mack Taylor step in to left halfback.

Lubbock Backfield Sets Torrid Pace

Lubbock High's backfield more than lived up to expectations in a special four-man "football sprint" staged Tuesday afternoon at Chapman field.

Already rated as one of the state's fleetest secondaries, the four Lubbock starting backs proved just how fast they really are.

With each wearing a full uniform, except for helmet, and carrying a football, the four Lubbock gridders turned in an aggregate time of 44.4 seconds — for an average of 11.1 — over the 100-yard route.

Quarterback Bobby Brown won the event in the time of 10.8 seconds. Halfback Charley Williams was second at 10.9 seconds, and Halfback Wayne Stroud third at 11 seconds flat. Fulback Malcolm Young though slowed by an ankle sprain, turned in a creditable 11.7 seconds.

The recognized world record for such a performance, as listed in Frank G. Menke's "New Encyclopedia of Sports," is 11.2 seconds, set in 1942 by William Steele.

In Tuesday's race, the Westerner backs were favored by a 15-mile-per-hour wind, which partially explains their record-shattering effort. Too, the fact that they ran without helmets may have affected their time slightly. On the other hand, all ran in high-quarter shoes, rather than the lighter low-quarter shoes they usually wear in game appearances.

Despite the "favoring" factors, spectators at the race agreed that it was truly a remarkable performance for high school youths, and expressed unanimous doubt that any other Texas backfield can equal the Westerners' aggregate time.

Eden, Hermleigh To Meet At Sweetwater

SNYDER, Nov. 23. (Special)—Eden's Bulldogs and Hermleigh's Cardinals will collide Dec. 2 at Sweetwater Mustang bowl for the Bi-District championship. Eden won District 7-B and Hermleigh captured District 8-B honors.

The date and site of the game was announced here yesterday by Hermleigh Coach J. N. Williams. He joined Eden Coach Bill Ford in predicting that the game would be hard, fast and cleancut.

Williams reports that the Cardinals will be in fine physical condition for the Sweetwater game. They suffered no injuries in their 19-9 defeat of the Stanton Buffaloes Friday, a game that gave them the District 8-B title outright. A Card loss would have thrown the district into a three-way tie.

Eden this week is working hard to build a defense for the Cardinals, who have won eight consecutive games and have been scored on only four times.

Lubbock Cagers Win

Hub Five Gets 46-30 Victory

ABERNATHY, Nov. 23. (Special)—The basketball season for Lubbock High school got off on the right foot here last night as the Hub City quintet rolled past Abernathy, 46-30.

Individual scoring honors, however, went to the Antelopes, big center, Blackmon, who poured 20 points through the basket. The tall cager hit nine field goals and two free throws to account for the total.

Westerner scoring was led by Guard Carl Ince with 13 points, and Center Jim Wilson with 11. Ince was a standout ball-handler and dribbler for the Lubbock squad, threading his way through the Abernathy zone defense to score. Wilson's scoring came mostly on rebounds and tip-ins.

Next high for Lubbock was Guard Tom Cheatham with eight points, mostly on long shots. Forward Jimmy Sexton scored five points. Sexton was unable to get the range on the basket.

Abernathy started off like it intended to make a game of the conflict holding the Lubbock quintet to a 5-5 quarter score. But at halftime the Westerners led, 16-9, and lengthened the margin the final two quarters.

Lubbock's coach, David Cook, was making his first coaching start for the Westerners.

The two teams meet again Friday night at Chapman field in Lubbock at 8 p.m. A B team game will be played at 7 o'clock.

FACES BERTOLINO HERE DEC. 19

Henderson Slates Battle For Title

Bill Henderson will get a crack at the lightweight boxing championship of Texas on Dec. 19, when he meets Eddie Bertolino of Galveston for the title at Chapman fieldhouse.

Bertolino has been ranked as number one lightweight in Texas for some time, and is therefore the top contender for the crown which is now vacant.

Henderson, who is fighting his way through college, has turned in an impressive string of victories since graduating from Golden Gloves competition, registering 29 victories in 31 professional fights. The young Texas Tech student has gained admirers all over the South Plains and in other parts of the state and is currently ranked third in the state.

Arrangements for the bout came after an exchange of telegrams, with final approval given by the state boxing commission. The contracts have been made and signed, and the fight is arranged.

Supporting the bout will be two six-round fights and a four-rounder. Heavyweight Gene James will appear in one of the six-rounders and Leonard Duncan in the other.

James has come through 14 professional fights without a loss and seems well on the way toward becoming one of the top heavies in this section of the country. Neither fighter for the four round battle has been picked, but indications are that the boys will be matched from down state, possibly Dallas.

Sponsoring the boxing card is the Lubbock High School Band, and some of the proceeds of the fight will go towards buying new band uniforms.

Wayland Five Loses To Oklahoma Quint

ADA, Okla., Nov. 23. (Special)—Wayland college's Pioneers, bending under their second straight defeat in two nights at the hands of East Central State college, are headed home today.

The next game for the Plainview, Tex., team will be Dec. 3, when they entertain McMurry college's Indians.

East Central had their hands full beating the Pioneers 61-41 last night in a rough, fast game. The Pioneers forced the East Central quintet all the way and trailed only 26-22 at the half.

But loss of three players, two of them on personal fouls, hurt Coach Harley Redin's small squad. Forward Bill Knight went out at the half on fouls and Forward Ed Billings sprained an ankle soon after the second half opened. Then, with 10 minutes to go and the game still close, Don Daily fouled out.

Guard Billy McClellan paced the losers with 13 points, while Forward Claudell Overton had 22, the same number he pitched in Monday night for scoring honors.

LOUIS STATES BOUT

NEWORK, N. J., Nov. 23. (U.P.)—Joe Louis, perhaps grooming for another shot at the heavyweight crown he gave up last March, pointed today toward his third-no-decision fight after permitting young Joe Cheshul to last 10 rounds last night.

BATTLE TECH HERE SATURDAY

Cowboys Will Bid For Upset Victory

ABILENE, Nov. 23 (Special) — Things are in a serious way on the Hardin-Simmons campus this week.

But most of the seriousness is on the football field, where the Cowboys are getting ready to try and take the Border Conference title away from Texas Tech. The two old rivals meet Saturday in Lubbock.

Despite three defeats this year, which the Hardin-Simmons supporters prefer to call upsets, the Cowboys are determined to upset Tech this week. They have a season's record of five wins, one tie and three losses.

A gigantic pep rally Tuesday night highlighted student preparation for the game. The Rangers, a pep organizaton, lit a match to a bonfire that had a Raider symbol on top and the Cowboy fans hope that it will ignite the Cowboy football team.

Crown On Line

Winner of the contest Saturday can play in the Sun Bowl and also can wear the Border loop crown for 1949. The Pokes are fully aware that they will need ample support from both air and ground weapons. They also know that they will be up against a team that has offensive power of its own.

The Cowboys have rolled up 239 points this year, while Tech has hit paydirt for only 151 points. On the other hand, the Raider defense has been a little more stern for the opposition.

Quarterback John Ford and End Bob McChesney, along with Halfback Dunnie Goode, are expected to furnish the air power for the Cowboys.

In nine games, McChesney has been on the receiving end of 37 passes for 652 yards and nine touchdowns. He has scored two other touchdowns, one on an 85-yard pass interception and fun and another on a blocked punt in the end zone.

Hook Davis Slips

Goode has scored eight times for the Cowboys and has caught 19 passes for 347 yards.

Ford has completed 73 passes out of 123 tries for a .593 average. His passes have been good for 1,181 yards and 19 touchdowns.

Wilton "Hook" Davis, former national leader in rushing, has not been up to his old form this year. He has lugged the leather for only 543 yards so far in 1949, but the Baptists still rely on him for their ground gaining to a large extent.

A South Plains gridder, Quarterback Bobby Hart of Levelland, might see a lot of action Saturday. Hart, who compiled one of the more outstanding records as a schoolboy gridder, is a sophomore this year and could cause Tech a lot of trouble.

Raiders Hold Lengthy Drill

Texas Tech's confident, but not cocky, football squad has settled down to serious business this week as they get ready for their most crucial test of the year Saturday when they meet Hardin-Simmons' Cowboys in Jones Stadium for the Border Conference title.

The Red Raiders are intent on winning this game and extending their mastery over the Cowboys to three straight years. They also wish to defend their Border circuit crown, which also has been theirs for two years.

And to get ready for the tough game that is anticipated by everyone, the Raiders went through a long offensive and defensive drill yesterday afternoon. The drill continued long after dark when Coach Dell Morgan turned on the lights in Jones Stadium.

Old plays that have proven effective were brushed off and worked on at length by the offensive units. Emphasis was on blocking by the line and correct timing by the backs so that they will hit holes on schedule.

Coach Morgan sent the defensive units against the freshmen who ran typical Hardin-Simmons plays. Red Raiders were breaking up a majority of the plays, but some worked. Particularly effective were a pair of quick-opening line plays and the short passes which will be thrown by Quarterback John Ford.

The Raiders squad is in pretty good shape physically, although two or three players still aren't able to go at full speed. Halfback Ike Stuver ran one play against New Mexico and injured his left ankle again. And Halfback Cal Steveson still is limping on a bruised knee. Quarterback Milton Rathbone threw his trick knee out of joint Saturday and probably will miss this week's game.

Return of Halfback Walter Maloney, Tech's scat back, cheered the squad, and he may see considerable action Saturday.

Southland Defeats Benjamin, 34 To 31

SOUTHLAND, Nov. 23 (Special)—A chilled crowd of 500 fans watched one of the better football games of the year here last night, the Southland High school six-man team winding up the season with a 34-31 victory over Benjamin.

It was a battle of out-of-the-money teams. The Southland Eagles could place no higher than third in District 4-B, while the Indians were edged out in District 3-B, finishing second. And when Benjamin held a 25-20 lead at the half, most fans thought that the victory would go to the higher finishing Indians.

But the Eagles roared back in the fourth quarter to score two touchdowns to Benjamin's one and walk off with the tilt.

Halfback Jackie Young scored 24 of Benjamin's points, with Fullback Bill Glenn getting the other seven. Fullback Gene Anderson rolled up 18 points for Southland, while Ends Horace Hitt and Burl Carey had six and two points respectively and Center Avery Moore scored eight.

Doak Walker Named On 1949 United Press All-America

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 23—The United Press today presents its 1949 All-American football team, selected by ballots from 313 sports writers and sports broadcasters in all sections of the nation.

The Midwest with seven players dominates the team of 11 collegians chosen as the finest football players at their positions this year. But every section of the country is represented with the Far West, South, Southwest and East each getting one berth on the mythical team.

Three From Irish

Five of the players come from three of the four unbeaten and untied major teams, with Notre Dame leading the way. Three members of the South Bend powerhouse were selected, and one each from the fine California and Army elevens. Only Oklahoma of the unbeaten giants failed to capture a place on the first team, but the Sooners won two second team berths.

End Leon Hart, who led the voting and was named on all but four of the 313 ballots; and Backs Emil Sitko and Robert Williams are the Notre Dame all-stars.

Minnesota was the only other school to win more than one berth, placing Tackle Leo Nomellini and Center Clayton Tonnemaker. The other Midwest representatives are Guard Edward Bagdon of Michigan State and Tackle Alvin Wistert of Michigan.

Doak Walker Named

Rounding out the "dream" team are Back Doak Walker of Southern Methodist; Back Arnold Galiffa of Army; Guard Rod Franz of California and End Arthur Wiener of North Carolina.

Walker, Hart, Nomellini and Wistert are repeaters from the United Press 1948 All-America team while Franz made the second team last year. Of all the players on the 1949 all-star aggregation still playing collegiate football, only one failed to make it again, Charley (Choo Choo) Justice of North Carolina.

Justice was nosed out by Galiffa for the fourth backfield berth in the closest contest of the balloting. In the next closest race, Wistert beat out James Martin of Notre Dame for a tackle spot and Weiner won over James (Froggy) Williams of Rice for an end position.

All members of the first team are seniors except Williams of Notre Dame.

Second Team Listed

The Midwest and the Southwest dominated the second team, each placing four players. The Midwest selections were Martin, Guard George Tonef of Ohio State, and Backs Charles Ortmann of Michigan and Lynn Chandnois of Michigan State. The Southwest placed Froggy Williams at end, Wade Walker of Oklahoma at tackle, Stanley West, also of Oklahoma, at guard, and Joseph Watson of Rice at center. The South, East and Far West each landed one representative—Justice, End Dan Foldberg of Army and Back Edward Lebaron of College of Pacific.

The personnel of the team, selected by men who have seen every important squad in the nation for the best possible cross-section of opinion:

Back—Walker. One of the few remaining triple threat backs who excell in everything a back is [illegible]ted to do. Is as flawless on defense as on offense. Modest, almost shy, he won more football honors in his junior year than most players do in their collegiate careers. Was awarded the Heisman and Maxwell trophies, nominated for the Sullivan award and an almost unanimous selection on every All-American team. Gives the credit for his success to his teammates and Coach Matty Bell. Among the nation's leaders in punting, passing and running. Can go 60 minutes if needed that long. The only backfield man to repeat on the United Press team and one of the few who ever made its mythical team three years in a row.

Between the Lines
by Joe Kelly

Whether Texas Tech should go to the Sun Bowl or not is the burning question of the moment, both in Lubbock and on the Texas Tech campus. Moreover, it goes farther afield than the South Plains. A lot of people think that Tech should go to the bowl to raise the national estimation of the Border Conference. And a lot of those persons are scattered from West Texas to Arizona, persons upon whom Tech might have to call at some time for a favor, or for support. At any rate, there is widespread interest in whether Tech goes, providing they beat Hardin-Simmons Saturday, of course. And there are several reasons why the Red Raiders ought to make the trip.

We grant, to begin with, that Georgetown, which would be Tech's foe if the Raiders accepted the bid, has lost four games. But what, pray tell, is Tech's record except four losses? Moreover, if H-SU beats them Saturday, the record would be five losses. The Hoyas might not be blamed for turning up their lips in a sneer at the thought of playing such a team. Both schools could put up the argument of what would a defeat of the other mean to us in the way of a reputation? Well, quite frankly a defeat for Tech would hurt it in the Southwest, while a Georgetown defeat wouldn't help the Hoya reputation along the Eastern seaboard. Victory for either school would not raise its reputation any, although a Raider win would help the Border Conference.

Then what is there for Tech to gain by going to the Sun Bowl? Coach Dell Morgan told the Quarterback club Monday night that the Raiders would make about $2,000 by going. An official Tech source puts the figure at roughly $6,500. S'funny, but from what we've been told, Tech needs money to carry on athletic activities. We can think of one or two things even that sum could buy and every little bit, added to other sources, certainly should help out. That's one reason why Tech ought to go, if invited. Another reason is that, like it or not, the Sun Bowl is about the best proposition that Tech will get until it compiles a better record of winning against the better teams. And even the Sun Bowl holds a picture of glamor to persons living in other sections of the nation. It isn't considered small potatoes. After all, Georgetown is an institution that played in the Orange Bowl in 1940 and would, if it was strictly big time minded, turn down the Sun Bowl as beneath it.

But regardless of the money involved, or the reputation to be gained or lost, which we don't think is lasting or is influential on the future history of the institution, Tech owes it to the Border Conference and West Texas to go to the Sun Bowl. This is the third year in a row that Tech has had a good chance of winning the Border crown undefeated. If they turn down the bid, it will be the second year in succession, the second in three years. That type of attitude doesn't win friends or influence people. And the time might come when Tech really wanted something and needed support. They might be surprised to find it missing. They'd have no one to blame but themselves. The Raiders like to be considered big time, but the truth of the matter is that they aren't. They are in between, scorned by the big and despised by the little. Turning down an opportunity to help the little isn't going to make them more popular with either group.

So far, of course, Tech is blameless. They aren't talking Sun Bowl officially until after Saturday's game. And then it will be left up to the players. In a close vote, that was unofficial completely, the Raiders voted against going. A great many of them are seniors who have played in the Sun Bowl and know that it offers little for the players, except an additional three weeks of practice, a 12th game on the schedule and one night of fun. It's small reward and we don't blame them for wanting to have a Christmas vacation and for not wanting to participate. Some of the boys are married and have had enough football this year. Others are young and eager. To them it looks like a great time. In all fairness, we believe that it's a healthy situation to leave it up to the players. Georgetown did and they grabbed the chance to go.

Texas Tech officially could accept the bid without referring the proposition to the players at all. And if they did, the Raiders would be bound to go. The rub there is that the players would not have their hearts in the game and you could look forward to a probable hapless showing. That kind of a performance wouldn't win any friends, either. In fact, it probably would lose them. If Tech wins Saturday and accepts the bid, there's only one way to think about the game; that's to win. Coach Dell Morgan cares little one way or the other about going. But if the players decide to go, he'll give everything he can toward winning. We think the Raiders could break their losing record this year after losses to St. Marys, Tulsa, West Virginia and Miami of Ohio. We'd like to see them make the effort.

THE ROUNDUP: Don Grove is the leading scorer with the Phillips 66 team. He pitched in 37 points in one game against the Argentine quintet . . . Lamesa's new baseball park will seat 3,500, instead of 3,000 as mentioned earlier . . . Lefty Epperson, former Denver City hurler, probably will be with the Hubbers this year . . . Harry Faulkner and M. L. Wilkison want it made clear that George Schepps wasn't talking for them at the recent WT-NM league meeting. Moreover, he has nothing to do with the Hubbers . . . Sunday night the Minneapolis Lakers beat the Indianapolis Olympians 121-95. Basketball, that is. Wow! The halftime score was 60-44 and the third quarter margin was 99-68 . . . Sally Blanton of Lamesa recently teamed with another bowler to finish third in the Class B doubles in the 15th Annual Women's Texas State Bowling Association tournament at Beaumont.

GEORGE OVERHULL
Wrestles Here Tonight

Kasaboski To Test Overhull

A rough-and-tumble main event seems in store at Sled Allen's arena tonight, with Alex Kasaboski and George Overhull matching holds in the final bout.

Kasaboski was not entirely satisfied with last week's fall in the tag team match which saw Overhull pin the Russian, and he made the remark that Overhull has helped by his partner. This situation led to the two being matched this week in the main show.

The Russian will be out to teach the young upstart a thing or two about the wrestling game, and he is well versed in the art to be able to do just that. Overhull still resorts to tactics picked up in his football days and is an exponent of the flying tackle.

The semi-final event is two of three falls or a 45-minute limit betwen Andy Tremain and the Grey Mask, and this should develop into a rugged battle.

The Mask, an old timer, is tough and smart and in possession of all the off-color tricks of the trade. He will need to uncover a few more tricks against Tremain, who is in good physical condition and has the strength and stamina to put his best into a match. Last week Tremain used lots of speed and deception in giving the fans a good show.

In the first event, one fall or a 20-minute limit, are Salvador Flores and Herb Parks. Flores last week helped subdue the Mask and Kasaboski and is after a match with the Mask, but first he has to show Parks that he is ready for the man with the covered face. Parks was idle last week and will be trying to use Flores as a stepping-stone toward a final event.

Matches start at 8 p.m., and tickets may be bought today at the arena until 5 p.m. Tickets are also available at the gate. For reservations telephone 29221 or 28665.

Jay Haney Signs To Manage Lamesa Club

LAMESA, Nov. 23 (Special) — Jay Haney has signed a contract to manage the Lamesa Loboes of the West Texas-New Mexico league for another season, it has been announced here.

Dr. R. F. Nix, club director, said that Haney would receive "approximately the same salary" that he did last year when he piloted the Loboes into the playoffs in his managerial debut.

Arrangements were completed for Haney and Walter Buckel, former Lobo shortstop, to attend the annual winter meeting of the National Association, which will be held in Baltimore, Md., in December.

A Roman coin struck during the reign of Marcus Aurelius has been unearthed at Britain's Ascot racecourse.

Clinic Draws Area Coaches

Early registration returns from the Clarence Fox Coaching school, the fourth annual promotion, indicate that Chapman Fieldhouse Sunday and Monday will be jammed with high school coaches and players from the South Plains.

First bunch of registrations arriving to Fox yesterday numbered 11 coaches, nine assistant coaches and 132 boys. They come from 11 South Plains high schools and ensuing days are expected to swell the entry list.

Rules Meet Set

Highlight of the school will be the official Border Conference rules meeting Sunday morning, coaching classes conducted Sunday and Monday by Coach Polk Robison of Texas Tech and Coach Gus Miller of West Texas State college, and an exhibition basketball game between the Red Raiders and Buffaloes Monday night.

Coaches interested in attending the free school, sponsored by the Sport Center of Lubbock, should return their registration immediately to Clarence Fox, care of the Sport Center, Lubbock. There is no limit to the number of coaches or players eligible to attend.

Coaches, Boys Sign Up

Signed up for the school so far are Faris Nowell of Brownfield, with two coaches and 25 boys; E. B. Braden of Lorenzo, with nine boys; C. W. Duke of Bula, with two coaches and 14 boys; L. S. Salser of Whiteface with one coach and 20 boys; Supt. Hickman, Smyer, with 12 boys; Jake Jacobs of Tahoka, with two coaches and 10 boys.

Also, Supt. Jackson and Coach Ausburn of Spade with 12 boys; Gano Tubbs of Levelland with two coaches and 15 boys; Coach Boatman of Ropesville, with 15 boys; and Royal Jones of Pecos.

Boys Club Quintet Tops Barber Five

A Boys club basketball team was forced into overtime yesterday at the club before it could down Barber college, 52-48, for the third straight time this season.

Jesse Fullerton paved the way for the Independents, scoring 14 points, and Winfred Medlock made 13 for the losers. At end of regulation time the teams were tied, 47-47.

The Seventh Street Thugs trimmed the Unconscious Five, 30-29, with Tommy Yelvington meshing the hoops for 14 points. Bobby Tollison tallied 11 counters for the losers in a Senior game.

Mikey Brady's 13 poinst were high as Fancy Five out-basketed the Basketeers, 32-23. Ray Clark scored 11 markers for the Basketeers in a Junior contest.

In the other Junior league contest the Eagles defeated the Alley Rat Five, 24-14, as Jerry Shipp accounted for 11 points. Wade Wolfe's eight led the losers.

The Buffaloes squeezed past the Roughies, 8-7, in a Midget game. Jack Richards scored half of the winner's total, making four and James Wiley tallied three for the losers.

IN GOOD CONDITION

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 23. (U.P.) — It was the day before Thanksgiving in Aggieland and Texas A & M's Cadets were most thankful they were in good physical form for tomorrow's encounter with the University of Texas.

MARIUCCI BACK

MINNEAPOLIS. (AP) — Johnny Mariucci, University of Minnesota football and hockey star, has returned this season to Minneapolis to perform for the pro hockey Millers in the U. S. League. During five years with the Chicago Blackhawks, Mariucci built a reputation as a vicious body-checker.

Suspect Held In Lieu Bond

Bernie L. Rhoderick, 25, of Lubbock, was held in lieu of $3,000 bond today on charges of robbery by assault.

The alleged victims, two Lubbock youths, one of them a juvenile, earlier had been arrested for Howard county authorities on charges that they burglarized a Big Spring liquor store the morning of Nov. 4.

Hijacked In Field

One of them, 16, told authorities they took 14 cases of whisky from the store but were hijacked by Rhoderick and an unidentified man in a field near the traffic circle here the same day.

He named the other burglar as Thomas Winfield Copeland, 19, of 2402 Wolfforth.

The charge naming Rhoderick was filed in the court of D. W. Robertson, justice of peace. The statement of admission was given to assistant district attorney, E. G. Pharr.

The youth said in his statement that a deal was made at Rhoderick's Ave. F place of business. The youths were instructed to follow a car occupied by Rhoderick and the other man to a point on South Ave. A near the traffic circle, it was alleged. There, he said, both cars were driven into a field and the whisky transferred.

Took Keys From Car

Then, the youth said, the unidentified man pulled a gun and told the younger pair to "head back to town." After removing the keys from the boys' car.

The youth said the car keys were later recovered at the Ave. F store, and another agreement made whereby he and Copeland would share in the proceeds from the sale of the whisky if they would not mention the hijacking.

Big Spring Chief of Police Pete Green last night told Lubbock newspapermen burglary charges filed against the pair there followed an investigation of theft of 14 cases of whisky from a Big Spring liquor store early Nov. 4.

Checked Car Tracks

Green said Copeland and the youth had been questioned by police there after they were found loitering in the vicinity of the store. When the burglary came to light later in the day, tire tracks allegedly left by the car driven by the youths were compared with tracks found near a broken window at the rear of the store. The tracks checked, Green said, and warrants for the pair were issued.

Copeland was charged here only Monday with burglary of the Lone Star Ceramics house at 405 Ave. V.

A member of Moore's Bonded patrol, seeing a man inside the store Saturday night, kicked in a door of the building to arrest the intruder who, with a companion previously unnoticed by the patrolman, fled through a rear door.

A car traced to Copeland was found parked across the street from the store, and Copeland was arrested a short time later.

OLTON, Nov. 23 (Special) — J. Ray Givens of Lubbock will build Olton's new $126,262 elementary school building, it was announced today after the board of trustees of Olton Independent School district opened construction bids.

T. and J. Electric company of Abernathy was awarded the electrical contract at $3,838. Givens received contracts for general construction, plumbing and heating on a combined bid of $122,424.

The building will be constructed near Olton's present school plant and will be financed by part of a $140,000 bond issue recently voted, said J. T. Jones, superintendent of schools. The Butler-Brasher company of Lubbock is architect.

A car blaze in the 3300-block Ave. J at 2:35 p.m., Tuesday was extinguished by the city fire department. The fire was caused by a cigaret lighter dropped on the seat of the vehicle, firemen said.

A Texas Tech student, Eddie Humphreys, complained to police Tuesday that a black canvas bag containing clothing valued at $90 had been taken from the luggage rack of a car packed in the vicinity of Nineteenth and Ave. Q.

Dr. Robinson Speaker At Rotary Luncheon

"The Outlook for Peace As I See It" was the main topic of a talk today at the noon luncheon of the Rotary club by the Rev. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Dr. Robinson deplored the pessimism of many, stating that he was hopeful for world peace through the United Nations organization. Pointing out that religion has played a major role in every world crisis in history, he indicated that it might be the chief cornerstone for world peace.

The speech came on a day set aside as "International Relations day." Alex McDonald introduced Dr. Robinson. The Rev. H. H. Bratcher, pastor of the St. John's Methodist church, gave the invocation.

Guy Victory, club president, announced that W. G. Vollmer, president of the Texas and Pacific railroad, in Dallas, would be speaker at the club's meeting next week.

Visiting Rotarians, introduced by Odie A. Hood, included M. S. Doss of Seminole, Don Hunsaker of San Angelo, Tom Scott of Odessa, Ed Hearn of Little Rock, Ark., Bill Schneider of Kendallville, Ind., Walter M. Craig and Earl Kromer, both of Amarillo, Rufus Starnes of Abilene, Charlie Draper of Commerce, and O. D. Cardwell of Post.

Community Chest Drive Still Short

With the 1950 goal of the Lubbock Community Chest financial drive still more than $20,000 short, Chairman J. Ray Dickey issued an appeal to all workers in the drive to turn in what money they have collected by the end of this week.

"There are 278 unit accounts which have not been reported in any way," Dickey said. "We feel that most of the team workers have been waiting to complete their solicitations before reporting collections.

"However, we would like for them to turn in what money they have by the end of this week and then complete their contacts by the end of next week so that we can close out the campaign. It is urgent that workers do this."

Goal of the drive is $98,850 and a total of $78,321.31 has been reported by the various teams over to 1950 model output two weeks ago and carried on until it exhausted its steel stocks.

Divisions Closed Down

The same is true also of the various Chrysler divisions, of which all but Plymouth already have closed down for new model operations. Plymouth, benefiting by the diversion of steel from the other divisions, has continued a fairly high output rate. It will close its assembly lines after Friday of this week.

Already closed also are Ford's Lincoln division, the Nash plants at Kenosha and Milwaukee and Willys-Overland at Toledo. Packard attributes its shutdown next week to a suspension of operations by Briggs Manufacturing Co., its body supplier.

Kaiser-Fraser, which has been closed down since Oct. 24, has given no indication when its assembly lines will reopen. However, the management has said the shutdown was not due to steel shortages but rather to the necessity for reducing factory inventories of finished vehicles.

Approximately two-thirds of the industry's productive capacity will be affected by the impending shutdowns.

Industry authorities say the steel strike will have cost close to a half million vehicles before its final effects have been felt in the automotive plants.

The mercury is due to plunge to 26 to 28 degrees during the night after a scheduled afternoon maximum in the low 60's.

The early-morning low today was 30 degrees, a 33-degree drop from the Tuesday afternoon high of 63.

Generally fair skies are due to continue in the South Plains area, with northerly to westerly winds ranging from 15 to 18 miles per hour.

Ward reported that the group were charged not only with assaulting a Chinese worker, but with obligations to pay damages for the injuries, severance pay and extra salary payments.

Ward's telephoned message to Clubb was the first direct message the State department has received from Ward since the arrests Oct. 24.

Seven Killed

parently no effort to stop.

The truck and crew were en route from Lubbock to the Werner Teggeman farm, a mile and a half from the scene, where they have been pulling cotton.

Struck In Right Side

The truck was struck in the right side at the cab by the locomotive.

Observers said the impact must have been terrific, for the truck was turned completely over and around, apparently in mid-air.

D. H. McKeever, who was a quarter of a mile from the scene when the crash occurred, said he saw bodies thrown clear of the impact. Bodies were strewn 100 feet along the railroad right-of-way.

The train's engineer was William M. Rust of Slaton. The fireman was W. W. Hollingsworth of Slaton. They reported the train was traveling 40 miles an hour.

Saw Truck Turn Off

Hollingsworth said he saw the truck turn off the highway onto the crossing.

When he saw the truck was not going to stop, he tried to yell at them.

"They were that close to the locomotive. After we hit, the train traveled seven telephone poles before it could be stopped."

Other train officials were M. C. Hodge, conductor, W. V. Childress and P. L. Martin, brakemen. They agreed that the train was not exceeding 40 miles an hour. All are of Slaton.

At West Texas hospital, Julian Rubio, 17, of 103 Ave. M, said the group was en route to pick cotton. When asked who the driver of the truck was, he said "A. C. Quirino." He said the truck driver was foreman of the group and lined up their cotton pulling job, indicating he was unaware Quirino's son was the actual driver of the truck at the time.

Only 12-year-old Edward Quirino could give any description of the wreck scene. Trying unsuccessfully to hold back tears while attendants worked on him, the youth said the train struck the truck broadside "as well as I can remember."

Rubio said all he remembered was much screaming.

The accident resulted in a severe case of hysteria and shock for Yvonne Quirino, 16. She suffered a broken leg.

Panama Riot

police opened fire. For two hours rioting flared at a hot pitch. Six buses were overturned. Windows of fashionable shops were smashed and looting broke out.

As the shooting died down, three-year-old Manuel Pazmino was dead. His father was among the 11 wounded.

Others wounded included two assemblymen, Alejandro Gonzalez Revilla and Arcadio Aguilera, and a policeman.

Resignation Repudiated

Remon, Panama's new "strong man," was the central figure in the latest political crisis. Chanis tried to fire him, along with two deputy police chiefs, last Saturday on charges that they were involved in illegal business monopolies. Instead of resigning, Remon surrounded the presidential palace with armed police and said the shooting would start unless Chanis himself resigned.

Chanis, in repudiating his resignation before the national assembly last night, said he only signed the letter of resignation to avoid bloodshed. Vice President Chiari, a first cousin of Police Chief Remon, was promptly sworn in as president Sunday morning.

What would be the next move in the Chanis-Chiari struggle for the presidency was anybody's guess. But one thing was sure: Chiari was still in the presidential palace today, guarded by the guns of his uncle's national police.

T. L. Duval of 3410 Twenty-fifth, who had reported his 1940 automobile stolen Tuesday, informed police he had found it abandoned near railroad trackage here but that the generator and radio had been stripped from it. He said his loss would approximate $120.

Chris Haskins and R. O. Christesson, respectively of the state and municipal police, arrested a man for investigation into drunk driving a mile east of Five-Point intersection on Thirty-fourth, after complaints from several women there early this afternoon.

Mrs. A. R. Lee of 2118 Twenty-fifth said clothing, mostly children's, valued at $20 had been stolen off her clothesline.

Frank Roberts of 1930 Ave. N said two valuable birddogs had been stolen from the residence of a relative seven miles northeast of Ralls, and said a substantial reward would be paid for their return.

Defendant On Stand In Damages Action

Richard E. Jackson was on the witness stand in 99th district court most of the morning, testifying in his own defense in a $38,500 damages action brought against him and his employer, The Avalanche-Journal Publishing company, by Miss Buna Lofland.

Jackson told of an accident Nov. 24, 1948, in which a car he was driving at Fourteenth and Ave. L struck Miss Lofland, 61, and seriously injured her.

His evidence and Judge G. V. Pardue's overruling of a motion for an instructed verdict in favor of the publishing company, Jackson's employer, were highlights of the morning session. The publications corporation was joined as a party defendant in connection with Miss Lofland's claims that Jackson was acting within scope of his employment as an advertising solicitor when the accident happened.

Mrs. Earl G. Williams of 1207½ College Ave. testified for the defense Tuesday afternoon that she had heard Miss Lofland say to Jackson in a hospital room that she was as responsible for the accident as he.

The defense indicated it would be able to conclude its testimony this afternoon, after introduction of three or four other witnesses.

Judge Pardue said if testimony is completed he probably will work on his charge Thursday, a holiday, and instruct the jury to return Friday for arguments of counsel.

Miss Lofland's physician testified Monday that she had suffered total incapacity but that eventually her incapacity may be reduced to 25 per cent.

officers believed he obtained the butcher knife from the jail kitchen. The knife was left behind by the fleeing quartet.

Sheriff Paul Gaither believed the Rader twins had an escape car awaiting them. He said they were visited by their wives yesterday.

None of the prisoners was believed armed when they left the jail.

The Raders are charged in the armed robbery of two Amarillo supermarkets. They were arrested in Lubbock a month ago. Officers said they also were implicated in several California cases.

Farris has been sentenced to five years for burglary. His conviction was on appeal.

Arrested Oct. 9

The Raders were arrested in Lubbock, Oct. 9 when police saw a 1949 Oldsmobile they recognized as having been described in Los Angeles radio broadcasts.

One of the Raders was in it with a woman, wife of a Lubbock man. The other was traced down soon afterward.

Two days later, witnesses taken to Lubbock from Amarillo by Amarillo Police Chief A. S. Harper and Chief of Amarillo Detectives J. L. King readily identified them as having robbed Piggly Wiggly market here June 22 and McCart's supermarket here on July 9.

The Lubbock man, L. R. Moore, 26, a carpenter later was charged with armed robbery of the Amarillo markets, and Moore is charged with a Safeway robbery at Roswell, N. M. He has been identified in connection with the latter charge, officers said.

The trio has been identified from photographs as those who robbed a Wichita, Kas., store and FBI investigators and three Kansas sheriffs accompanied by four witnesses were in Amarillo Tuesday to check the Raders and Moore in connection with four night club armed robberies that occurred there several months ago.

Miss Joyce Richards, of Elstree, England, has won the first national canoe championship for women ever staged in Britain.

Came To Area In Seven-Wagon Train Drawn By Horses, Oxen

100-Year-Old Lubbock Resident Says Life On South Plains Responsible For His Longevity

By OPAL DIXON
Journal-Staff Writer

Living on the Plains where he has received plenty of exercise and fresh air has lengthened his life, J. A. Syfrett of 308 Uvalde said today as he celebrated his 100th birthday.

Looking at his cake decorated with 100 candles, he said, "I'm thankful for this birthday cake and for my friends and for the kind treatment I have received."

He came to the Plains in 1895, from Rising Star, bringing his family and his belongings in a wagon train made up of two wagons drawn by oxen and five drawn by horses.

Lokes To Exercise

"The best move I ever made was when I came to the Plains and the worst was when I left," he has told his family on many occasions. He left the Plains for a few years, living in California, Arizona and New Mexico before returning to Texas to liveabout 25 years ago.

What would he advise someone else to do in order to reach the age of 100?

"I'd tell them to live a Christian life," he said. "That makes you lead a clean life. It all connects up."

He believes in "treating people like you want to be treated."

He likes exercise, formerly taking regular walks but being forced to abandon those after falling and injuring himself. He at times swings his arm in order to get his exercise.

Open House Held

Mr. Syfrett was born Nov. 23, 1849 in Orangeburg, S. C. He moved to Texas when 24 years of age, living at Marquez in Leon county until after 1880 and then going to Coleman county.

After coming to the Plains, he lived at Hale Center 11 years. He has lived in Lubbock the last 25 years.

An open house for friends of Mr. Syfrett is being held from 2 to 5 o'clock this afternoon at the home. Mr. Syfrett lives with a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Syfrett.

He has six sons and daughters, 34 grandchildren, 74 great-grandchildren and 16 great-great-grandchildren.

Oldest Church Member

Five of his sons and daughters are here. They are Mrs. Robert Graham of Florence, Ariz., R. W. Syfrett of Bakersfield, Calif., Mrs. Julia Alexander of Turlock, Calif., Mrs. O. V. Mayben of Denver City and the son with whom he lives. One daughter, Mrs. Beulah Botts of Abilene, was unable to attend.

Mr. Syfrett's wife died in 1921.

He has been a member of the Masonic lodge 27 years and a member of the Baptist church 83 years.

He was recognized in the service Sunday morning at Calvary Baptist church, of which he is the oldest member. Rev. C. J. McCarty, pastor, presented him with a gift on behalf of the church.

crew compartment and upper deck; 5. B-36 type flight deck, including bubble canopy, to afford the pilot greater vision.

The company estimated that 70 per cent of the C-99 parts would be common to the B-36 also, like the B-36, the C-99 would be equipped with six pusher-type engines and four-wheel or "roller skate" type landing gears. It would have the same 230-foot wingspan as the B-36 but its double-decked fuselage would be longer and much larger.

The XC-99 last April carried 100,000 pounds of simulated cargo on a test flight—the heaviest load ever taken aloft by an airplane.

Installation of the more powerful engines and improved fuel consumption should enable the C-99 production model to carry a 100,000-pound payload nearly 2,000 nautical miles farther than the XC-99 can carry the same load, the company said. This would permit it to take off from bases in eastern United States and fly non-stop to England or western Europe.

It was estimated that all of the men in an airborne division, now made up of 17,000 men, could be moved simultaneously in 44 such transports.

Army Liberalizes Training Of Women

The Army this week announced liberalized training procedures for women in the Organized Reserve corps, Col. Oscar B. Abbott, chief of the Texas Military district, said in Austin.

WAC Reservists now may be attached to any ORC unit, including combat type units. In these units, they will be used for administrative duties, and may participate in field training with the unit, if appropriate facilities for women exist.

No unit consisting solely of women will be organized to carry out the program to utilize and train WAC members of the active reserve.

Former members of any of the women's services of the armed forces may apply for assignment by contacting Major James Samsel, local ORC instructor with offices in the Lubbock Cotton Exchange building.

Inquest Verdict Due In Death At Lamesa

LAMESA, Nov. 23 (Special)—Justice of the Peace D. M. Campbell of Lamesa this morning said he plans to return an inquest verdict "sometime today" concerning the death of Joe Gandy, 39-year-old Dawson county cotton field worker, who died in Lamesa General hospital Tuesday of a skull fracture.

Gandy's identity was not established until after his death. Sheriff Roy King said he was told by two men Gandy fell from te bed of a truck while en route to Lamesa from a farm 20 miles southwest of here Saturday night.

The men, J. O. Barfield, jr., a rancher, and Maurice Lytle, a farmer for whom Gandy worked, said they did not know of Gandy's death until they read about it in a newspaper. Another man, G. F. Shadluck, a cotton picker on the Lytle farm, also identified the body as Gandy's.

No one has claimed his body at the Higginbotham Funeral home here but efforts are being made to contact an ex-wife and daughter in Big Spring and a sister in Dallas.

In the United States alone, more than 165,000,000 telephone calls are made daily.

ORC Officers May Umpire Mock Battle

AUSTIN, Nov. 23 (Special) — Organized Reserve corps officers of Texas have an opportunity to attend "Operation Portrex" to augment the umpire group for that exercise, Col. Oscar B. Abbott, chief of the Texas Military district, has announced.

Selected officers will report to Camp Lee, Va., between Jan. 10-17, 1950, and will be released to return between March 20-30.

In "Operation Portrex," approximately 80,000 Army, Navy, Marine and Air force troops will converge on Puerto Rico in a realistic war exercise.

Climax of the war games that will employ the largest number of troops ever assembled for a joint peacetime exercise in this hemisphere will be a combined land, sea and air assault on Vieques island, four miles off the eastern tip of Puerto Rico.

The requirement for the Texas Organized Reservists who may may serve as umpires are mostly for company grade officers, although there is a vacancy for two Infantry majors.

Col. Abbott stressed the fact that all applications from Organized Reservists who wish to take part in the exercise must reach his Austin headquarters not later than Dec. 16, and that interested personnel should immediately contact their nearest ORC instructor's office.

ICE-FREE LAND WILL BE SOUGHT

Antarctic Expedition Planned To Check Changes In Climate

LONDON, Nov. 23 (INS) — The search for an Antarctic Shanghri-La that may yield valuable minerals, long-locked secrets of the ice age and proof that the world is getting warmer will be started today by a British-Norwegian-Swedish expedition.

A 14-man party of scientists and hardy explorers will leave London, bound for the South Pole and a two-year stay in the Norwegian dependency of Queen Maud Land. The expedition ship is the newly-built Norwegian sealer Norsel

There, amid the ice wastelands, they hope to find a vast ice-free and snow-free oasis within 100 miles of the pole on which no human has ever been known to set foot.

Going Will Be Rough

The government-backed $600,000 expedition has all the latest equipment needed to probe the icy secrets of the polar regions — a plane, tracked amphibious vehicles and radar—but from what little is known of the area the going will still be rough.

Information on the changing nature of the world's weather is the primary reason for the expedition and the sole consideration of Professor Hans Ahlmann of Stockholm university.

In 1942, Ahlmann read reports of a German expedition made to the South Pole in 1939 which included aerial observations of the ice and snow-free oasis. Ahlmann started the drive for funds to launch the present expedition.

I. P. Kirwan, director of the British Royal Geographical society, told of the difficulties expected in reaching the oases.

Mountains Jagged

"These oases in an ice-filled desert," he explained, "lie at the foot of jagged mountains — the Queen Maud mountains are of a peculiar formation, each peak a sharp needle like the Alpine needles.

"The German photographs and maps show a 'warm' area extending over some 30,000 square miles —about as large as maine or South Carolina."

Getting into that area will be tough, but there's a tough job ahead of that one.

The first task will be to establish a wintering party on the shore of Queen Maud Land, which involves getting ashore safely. Kirwin said it will be a hazardous and strenuous job.

He pointed out that floating ice "was dense and dangerous enough this year to force back the French Antarctic expedition."

When, and if, the base is established, Kirwan said, members of the expedition will wait until the Antarctic summer and then travel by sledges across "some 400 miles of ice cap" to reach the mountainous Shanghri-La.

Objectives Cited

He said ground exploration probably will be concluded in the early part of the 1951-52 season and the expedition will sail for home in January or February, 1952.

Kirwan explained the objectives of the expedition this way:

"Professor Ahlmann has already collected evidence to show that the climate of the Arctic and sub-Arctic has been improving gradually in the past 50 years.

"The melting of glaciers in Iceland has exposed land last cultivated hundreds of years ago. The thickness and extent of the ice in the north polar seas has greatly diminished. The tree line has moved northward in Scandinavia and the perenially frozen ground in Siberia has grown steadily less in the past 50 years.

"If similar evidence is found in the Antarctic, then the change is probably not local but a world-wide fluctuation due perhaps to variations in solar activity."

Kirwan pointed out that coal, lead, tin, copper, gold and silver already have been found in Antaretica and "there is certainly plenty of room for new geological discoveries in the ice-free and snow-free regions of Queen Maud Land."

Despite the rugged terrain to be explored, the party under the Norwegian explorer, Capt. Giaver, believes its superior equipment—and the knowledge of what to do with —it will bring them through.

FRANCISCO MAYOR, 86

"Sleep Well, Eat Less, Live Long"

MARIEL, Cuba, Nov. 23 (AP) — Francisco Mayor, a spry, active fellow at 86, says "anybody can live to a ripe old age if they do what they wish."

Of course, he adds, "one must want to do sensible things. I work 12 to 14 hours a day, taking folks on sightseeing trips around Mariel bay on my motor launch. I keep busy and keep interested in life, but not in such ugly problems as world affairs, politics and unhappy things.

"I sleep well, eat sensibly. Once in a while, I take a good swig of shark liver oil. It tastes awful the first time you try it, but after a while it's not bad, and it's fine medicine. I do not drink alcohol in any form, and I don't smoke.

"It's the older folks—and not the young ones—who need advice these days. The older people should take things easy, make it a business of sleeping soundly, and eat moderately. And they ought to keep their minds on pleasant topics.

"I could work myself up into a nervous wreck if I worried about world affairs. I think there is going to have to be a big change in politicians before the world gets better, but I go along living as best I know how, and don't worry about such things."

Mayor was born in 1863 in Palma, Mallorea, off the coast of Spain.

Pigs Taken On Car Deal To Be Fattened

ALTON, Ill., Nov. 23 (U.P.)—The barter system proved itself here when a farmer traded four hogs as a down payment on an automobile.

Bernard Taul, 24, told a used car salesman he needed a car but only had $5 in cash.

"What else you got?" the salesman asked.

"Pigs," the farmer answered.

"Pigs is pigs, so I'll take them," the salesman said as he took four hogs as a $200 down payment.

Taul drove away a $595 car.

"I'll fatten these babies," the salesman said, "and then either eat them or sell them in the fall."

The first fillings used for decayed teeth probably were made of lead, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Ku Klux Klans Of Georgia, Alabama Proposing Merger

ROME, Ga., Nov. 23. (AP)—The two largest Ku Klux Klans in the South have taken a step aimed at eventual unity.

Imperial Wizard Samuel Roper announced yesterday that the Association of Georgia Klans, which he heads, has reached a "working agreement" with the Federated Klans of Alabama.

This agreement, said Roper, sooner or later will lead to consolidation of the two groups. Roper also heads the Associated Klans of America.

Leaders Confer

The exact number of Klansmen who would be affected by the prospective consolidation is not known. Roper has said previously, however, that his organization has "hundreds of thousands" on its roster.

Klan leaders have sought unification for more than a decade and a half, ever since the break up of the organization in the early 1930's. The modern Klan, which camt into existence soon after World War One, was once a powerful political factor in the South.

The agreement between the Georgia and Alabama Klans, Roper said, was reached at a meeting Sunday with William Hugh Morris, a Birmingham contractor who directs the Alabama Klansmtn.

Newfoundland Life Improved

ROCHESTER, Minn., Nov. 23 (U.P.)—Dr. Russell M. Wilder of the Mayo Foundation here says a scientific experiment in human nutrition has improved the "quality and quantity" of life in Newfoundland.

Wilder was one of nine medical scientists from Canada, England and the United States who made the study. It covered the entire population.

The experiment consisted simply of fortifying margarine with vitamin A and enriching flour with vitamins, thiamine, riboflavin and niacin, Wilder said.

Death Rate Fell

Outward signs of malnutrition became less prevalent in Newfoundland in 1948 than they were in 1944, when the experiment began.

"Much of the apathy and listlessness so characteristic of the 1944 population disappeared," Wilder said.

The death rate from all causes fell from 12.1 to 10.5 per thousand people. Deaths from tuberculosis decreased sharply in the first two years of the experiment. It fell from 135 per 100,000 to 101, he said.

Infant mortality rates dropped in the first three years of the test from 102.3 per 1,000 to 61," Wilder reported.

"The bearing of these data on the significance to public health of the bread and flour enrichment program of the United States warrants emphasis."

Wilder said enrichment helps control the normal function of the nervous system, strengthens the body tissues to resist infection and promotes growth generally.

Beggar Bey Supports Beautiful Wife In Luxury Until Police Discover "Racket"

By SAM SOUKI
United Press Staff Writer

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 23 — The Bey kept her in furs, Persian carpets and rare curios, but she divorced him because he was a beggar.

That is the amazing story of a Prince Charming who posed as a pauper and filled his coffers with the alms he received every day in the streets of Cairo. He lived in great luxury, but spent his days whining about his misery.

The Cairo police unfolded the strange tale of the beggar Bey.

It started some six months ago when a handsome young man entered the home of a well-to-do widow and asked her for the hand of her beautiful young daughter.

His clothes, appearance, language and manners spoke of his high birth and comfortable living. he delighted woman accepted.

Royal Feast Spread

The numerous guests were amazed at the food, the music and the dancers he brought for the occasion. The royal feast went on until the early hours of the morning and the blushing bride was the envy of all her neighbors.

Our hero carried his bride over the threshold of a richly furnished house and the girl pinched herself to make sure she was not dreaming. Persian carpets covered the floors, rare curios rested on shelves, paintings by old masters hung on tapestried walls and in the corner stood a piano.

For six happy months the bride lived in splendor. Her wishes were his commands, her requests his pleasure to perform. Hardly a day passed without his getting her some new gift.

He was no playboy, either. Each day he would leave the house early in the morning and return, exhausted, late at night. The business of supervising lands and buildings is tiring him out, she thought.

One day he left the house and failed to return. She fretted and worried, until one week later the police summoned her.

"Your husband has been arrested," they informed her.

Why? Had he committed a crime, engaged in politics?

"No," replied the sergeant, "He was a beggar."

But he had been a clever beggar. One day he posed as a Palestinian refugee, the next as a jobless student thrown out because of his political convictions. People pitied him and gave him money. He had bought four buildings in Cairo, a farm and kept his wife happy.

The beggar Bey's bride divorced him.

Jap Puts In Burglar Alarm; Raids House

TOKYO, Nov. 23. (AP)—Kazuro Fujii hired Yoshikane Nakamoto to install a burglar alarm in his house.

But Fujii's house was burglarized anyway. Undisturbed by any alarm, he slept soundly while a thief made off with all his clothing.

Tokyo police went to work. They nabbed the burglar.

It was Nakamoto.

He told officers he had failed to rig the alarm so he could loot Fujii's home undisturbed.

School Wishing Urn Aids March Of Dimes

COLD SPRING HARBOR, N. Y. Nov. 23. (U.P.)—The fight against polio moved the "wishing urn" from the senior walk at the Eastern Military Academy here and raised the price from a penny to a dime per wish.

The attack of infantile paralysis suffered by nine-year-old Madeline Fox of Cold Springs Hills touched the hearts of the schoolboy cadets of the academy.

Jonathan A. Reed of Carmel, N. Y., an 11-year-old sixth graded, got to thinking.

He suggested that the heavy stone urn near the academy's main building, the former residence of the New York banker Otto Kahn, be moved to a central place. Formerly tossing pennies into the urn and making a wish was strictly a senior classman privilege.

At Cadet Reed's suggestion, it became the property of all. But a wish costs a dime, and the dimes will be collected once a year and presented to the March of Dimes.

Russia Seeks Chaos In World To Gain Goals, Hoffman Says

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23 (AP)—Paul G. Hoffman says "Russia wants not war and not peace—she wants chaos."

The head of the Economic Cooperation administration (ECA) told newsmen here last night that:

Russia learned from Hitler the technique of the big lie as against the little lie. It was successful in conquering eastern Europe, Manchuria and China. It's a low cost technique. Why should she shift from that to the risk of another world war?

"The danger is of a collapse in Europe. Russia always bets on depression and chaos."

Hoffman added that the one great victory since world war two was to save western Europe.

Later he told a dinner meeting of alumni and friends of Claremont and Pomona colleges here that if western Europe grows strong and prospers, that "Russia herself will cease to be a slave state."

Hoffman pointed out that Russia needs the steel, coal and oil of western Europe and the near East and most of all the skills of western Europeans.

Russia's conquests so far have been by minorities over majorities, he declared. "Given any kind of a break, these majorities will assert themselves anew."

Two Youths Held At Crosbyton In Assault

CROSBYTON, Nov. 23. (Special)—Two Latin American youths, ages 18 and 20, remained in jail here today while charges of assault to murder were being prepared against them in connection with the shooting of Lewis Anaya, 17, near Lorenzo about 8 p. m. Tuesday.

Anaya, who was shot in the left cheek by a .22 caliber rifle, was reported in "fairly good condition" by attendants of the Crosbyton hospital.

The shooting climaxed an argument among several cotton workers on a farm 10 miles south of Lorenzo, Sheriff Foy Addison said.

DEFENDANT GIVEN BREAK WITH SENTENCE STAY

Attorney For Harry Bridges Draws Criminal Contempt Of Court Term In Perjury Trial

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23 (AP)— With Harry Bridges taking a back seat, almost forgotten amid the tumult, the longshore leader's attorney in his perjury trial yesterday drew six months for criminal contempt of court.

The lawyer narrowly missed having to go to jail immediately.

Federal Judge George B. Harris imposed the jail sentence on Attorney Vincent Hallinan after a bitter, scathing excoriation, the like of which probably never had been paralleled in local federal court history.

The judge ordered the colorful and stormy figure of the San Francisco bar taken into custody immediately. But he later relented and granted a stay to permit Hallinan to continue to represent Bridges for the duration of the trial.

False Swearing Charged

Bridges, 48, naturalized Australian, is head of the left wing CO longshoremen's union, is charged with falsely swearing at his 1945 naturalization hearing that he never had been a Communist. He and two union aides, J. R. Robertson and Henry Schmidt, are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government.

Bridges would be subject to deportation if convicted. Two previous government attempts to deport him failed, in 1939 and 1941. The Supreme Court of the United States held in 1945, as an outgrowth of a deportation order based on the 1941 hearing, that Bridges had not been proved a Communist.

Although Hallinan was granted a stay of sentence, he probably will have to serve it once the case has been decided. Judge Harris' original order also directed that Hallinan's name be stricken from the roll of attorneys in his court.

Sentence Stayed

His face dark with anger, the judge raked Hallinan over the coals for "improper" and "inflammatory" conduct during the first week of the trial.

He decided to stay the sentence only after urgent pleas by Hallinan's associate, James MacInnis, and after Bridges himself had expressed doubt he would get "a square deal" if he had to change counsel. Bridges wanted the case put over until Hallinan would be available.

It would have marked the second time that Bridges had to get a new attorney in this case. Richard Gladstein, who usually represents the union leader, withdrew as counsel after receiving a six-month contempt sentence in New York, where he served as counsel for the defendant in the Communist trial.

Announcing his decision to let Hallinan continue, Judge Harris called for a "forgive and forget" attitude, and the discarding of wrangling and ill will.

"Let's try this case like gentlemen! like lawyers; like Americans," he said.

Personal Bias Claimed

Hallinan said the judge's act was "magnanimous" as far as his client was concerned.

During the height of the torrid, acrimonious clash, Hallinan lost shouted demands for a mistrial and tried unsuccessfully to disqualify Judge Harris from taking any further action in the contempt proceeding. He charged personal bias and prejudice.

Hallinan offered an affidavit asserting his good faith. But chief Prosecutor F. Joseph Donohue said this was "scurrilous and scandalous, impertinent and contemptuous on its face."

Donohue accused Hallinan of roaring "up and down this courtroom like a mad dog, disregarding the rights of everyone, including your honor."

The court held that Hallinan consistently had ignored his rules and directions, insisted on going afield, and sought to bring in matter ruled out by the judge, including references to the 1939 and 1941 deportation hearings and the 1945 Supreme Court opinion.

Citing some 40 to 50 specific instances, Judge Harris asserted:

"Mr. Hallinan was not bearing on contempt. He was contemptuous in every form and degree."

Hallinan countered angrily that the judge "exhibited personal hatred and dislike for me" and he said Harris had prejudged the case of the defendants.

Through all this, Bridges sat, looking alternately worried then amused.

TRENDS IN BUILDING COSTS—Building costs have declined, but not very much from their all-time peaks of 1948. A brick home that cost $5000 in 1910 costs four times as much to build now. The newschart above shows how the cost of building has followed right along with the cost of building materials since 1910 and construction workers' wages since 1934, the first year when comparative statistics became available. Data is from the Cleveland Trust Company and the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Author Craig Rice Called Alcoholic; Goes To Hospital

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23. (AP)—Craig Rice, author of many hard-boiled whodunits, has been committed to a state hospital as an alcoholic.

Her daughter, Mrs. Nancy Atwill, told a psychopathic court yesterday that 41-year-old Miss Rice has used liquor to excess for four or five years and needs institutional care.

The court ordered the writer of "The Lucky Stiff" and "Trial By Fury" to Camarillo State Mental hospital for an indefinite period. Several of her books have been made into movies.

Sued For Divorce

The detective story novelist recently filed a divorce suit against her fourth husband, Henry W. Demott, jr., 29, but later said she loved him and wanted a reconciliation. She divorced her third husband, novelist Lawrence Lipton, in 1947.

Miss Rice was released from a hospital Sept. 2 after police said they found two bottles of sleeping pills in her Santa Monica hotel room. She told a judge she wasn't intending to take her own life but wanted her husband to hear about it and return to her. On Sept. 6 the writer was found unconscious at her mother's home and police said there was evidence she was under the influence of sleeping medicine. She was unconscious 40 hours.

War-Weary Planes Crashed In Tests

RAVENNA, O., Nov. 23 (U.P.) — Airplanes crash on schedule in Ravenna. War-weary Army crates periodically pile into concrete obstacles and burn as the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA) searches for new safety measures.

NACA officials say it may take years to prove or disprove their theories about human casualties in wrecks. They believe many victims are killed not by the crash but by the flash fires that follow, but that has yet to be proved.

When definite results to the tests are obtained, they will be put into a flying handbook for civilians and military pilots, showing structural and operational weaknesses and how to avoid them.

SUSAN JUZWIAK only wants a doll and some soda pop for Christmas.

Little Polish Girl Just Wants Doll, Soda Pop For Christmas

KANSAS CITY, Kans., Nov. 23 (NEA)—When Santa sorts out his mail he will find a letter from a seven-year-old girl who wants only "a doll and some American soda pop."

Susan Juzwiak was only a toddler when she was fed beer regularly in a German labor camp. Her parents gave it to her because there was little food and no milk or fruit juices.

"I like beer," she exclaims in the same way most American children say, "I like candy."

But now little Susan, who came to America as a Polish displaced person last May, is beginning to like the new, strange-tasting soft drinks. She is fascinated by the "pretty water."

Her First Christmas

Like hundreds of other former DP children who will experience their first American Christmas, Susan is looking forward to seeing a Yule tree with tinsel and bright lights for the first time. Last Christmas she got a glimpse of a tiny, unlighted tree at the DP camp in Germany. The only "ornaments" were an apple or some article from a CARE package.

Susan never has owned a doll of her own—at least not in the American sense. An old piece of fabric, tied with string and crudely embroidered "face," was the only dollie" she ever had.

Others In Family

If Susan doesn't get just the kind of doll she wants from Santa, she'll understand. Her father, the only one in the family household who is employed, explained that Santa also must bring gifts for the five adults and Susan's 12-year-old sister, Christine, all of whom occupy the same four-room apartment in Kansas City.

Susan's father, Walter Juzwiak, a veterinarian, worked for a month as a dishwasher in Philadelphia, but now is a U. S. meat inspector in a Kansas City packing plant.

Little Susan was only 18 months old when her family was forced by the Germans to leave their home in Stanislawow in what was Poland before 1939 and now is known as the Soviet Ukraine.

South To Sacrifice Historic Remains For Big Dam Project

By DICK WEST
United Press Staff Writer

ATLANTA, Nov. 23 — Some of the South's most interesting historic points will disappear this winter when the gates are closed on the new Allatoona Dam.

The dam will back water into the picturesque Etowah Valley, scene of important parts of Dixieland history from the American Revolution until the Civil War. After December, most of the area will be at the bottom of the reservoir.

One part of the lake floor will contain the remains of the South's first iron works. It was built by Mark Cooper, who fashioned spikes for the first railroads, horse shoes for the Revolutionary Army and war tools for the Confederate Army. Graves of the Cooper family have been removed to a place that will be above the water line.

Battlefield To Go

Also to be submerged is the Civil War battlefield where Union forces erected the "Star Redoubt" fort after the Battle of Atlanta. It was built to protect supply lines from rebel troops commanded by Gen. Samuel G. French, a "Yankee" who fought with the Confederates because of his southern born wife.

Legend has it that two southern Irishmen almost won the Allatoona battle by spraying the Union men with a pile of junk iron, fired from a little brass cannon. General Sherman, watching the fight from Kenesaw Mountain, sent word to "hold the fort, for I am coming," and inspired the hymn of that title.

Also in the valley are the Etowah Mounds and two stately rewar homes.

The Kenesaw Mountain Historical Association recently sponsored tours and lectures in the area which soon cannot be visited without a diving suit.

West Texas Promised Federal Aid On Water

Huge Projects Get Attention

FORT WORTH, Nov. 23. (AP)—West Texas can rely on government help in its search for enough water to supply its cities and run its industries.

This was promised last night by spokesmen for the Interior department and by Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

They were speakers at a meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Earlier, the chamber created a West Texas domestic water association to act as the region's guide in seeking ways to solve its water problems.

At Minimum In Texas

William E. Warne, assistant secretary of the interior, said water development is "at a maximum in other western states and at a minimum in Texas."

Warne said more than 2,000,000 acre-feet of water runs wastefully each year through the Red Brazos and Colorado river systems of West Texas. About 1,000,000 acre-feet, he said, could be saved for West Texas towns and industries —"enough to meet your need for many years to come."

"As the branch of the federal government historically charged by the Congress with the responsibility for assisting in developings utilizing western water resources," said Warne, "the Department of the Interior is prepared to assist you."

Legislation Promised

Senator Connally assured the WTCC that 'Texas' delegation would be able to get Congress to pass legislation needed for the water projects.

"These water projects must be accomplished and we will stand behind your projects and bring them to frution," he promised. "The Canadian river project may become a great pattern to demonstrate to all West Texas how water can be harnessed and employed.

Senator Johnson told West Texans "we must not be afraid of ourselves."

"You should not fear your federal government," he said. "If you cannot trust your government to help you you get the water to quench your thirst, how can you trust your government for any task assigned to it?"

Michael Strauss, U. S. reclamation commissioner, who flew in from California, said he had traveled 5,000 miles in 10 days "meeting with communities which found out too late what should have been done about water conservation."

All Working Closely

He said Connally and Johnson and Representatives George Mahon of Colorado City and Eugene Worley of Shamrock are working closely with his bureau to get the

ABOUT $6 FOR FAMILY OF FOUR

Turkey Dinner To Cost Less In '49

A Lubbock family of four this year can celebrate Thanksgiving with turkey and assorted trimmin's for an outlay of slightly over $6 for food.

Last Thanksgiving, cost of the same food probably would have been slightly more.

The menu upon which the comparisons were based was provided last year by a Texas Tech home economics class which had studied meal planning and table service. Ergo, since the menu is every bit as appealing to the appetite this year as it was last, and as practical, The Morning Avalanche decided to reprint it, and to compare cost of the various foods on it with last year's prices.

The suggested Thanksgiving spread calls for roast turkey, dressing, giblet gravy, cranberry sauce, avacado-grapefruit salad, broccoli with mock hollandaise sauce, sweet potato and apple casserole, rolls, pumpkin chiffon pie and coffee.

Cost of the ingredients for this year's dinner, as obtained during a "shopping tour" in one Lubbock store, was $6.25. At another, cost for the various food items totaled $6.53.

Last year, cost of the same food in the same quantities was $6.45 in one local grocery and $6.97 in another.

Neither of the above sets of figures includes coffee. Quite possibly if that item were added into the totals, this year's Thanksgiving dinner would be as expensive—or perhaps more so—than last year's.

Last Thanksgiving coffee was around 49 cents per pound; this year it's almost 30 cents higher in most stores.

Nor do the 1948 and 1949 totals include such items as flour, shortening, salt or spices, which most housewives likely already have on their kitchen shelves.

Understandably, the largest single cost for the meal will be the turkey. For this mythical family of four, faculty members of the foods and nutrition department at Texas Tech recommend that only half of a 10-pound gobbler be bought. At prevailing prices, a five-pounder will cost around $3.25, or slightly less than last

Charter Meeting For New Kiwanis Club Staged Here

More than 200 members of the newly formed Hub City Kiwanis club, their wives, members of the Lubbock Kiwanis club and out-of-town guests attended a charter meeting banquet Tuesday night at Hotel Lubbock.

Jason O. Gordon, president of the recently formed club, received an official charter from F. L. McDonald, head of the journalism department at Texas State College for Women at Denton and governor of the Texas-Oklahoma district of Kiwanis International, as a climax to the program.

Other new club officers include Paul McLain, secretary; Jas. W. Spears, vice-president; and Dude Buster, treasurer.

McDonald Is Speaker

McDonald, as principal speaker, brought out the reasons to the group that "It Is Fun to Be a Kiwanian." Using personal experiences to illustrate his points, he told the group that the club builds up things to make a better community, makes better men of its members, affords a lot of amusement in its projects and is a basically simple organization.

The Hub City Kiwanis club is the tenth such organization chartered by McDonald in 1949.

A total of 53 charter members are on the roll of the new Kiwanis club, organized in the last two months.

A welcome was delivered by Gordon as the meeting opened and a response was returned by Fred Sparks, president of the Kiwanis Club of Lubbock. The guests were introduced by Roy Bass, chairman of the sponsoring com-

Tech Judgers Place Second

The Texas Tech crop judging team placed second in the Intercollegiate Crop Judging contest held in Kansas City Tuesday, according to word received last night by Dr. A. W. Young, head of the department of plant industry in the Tech agriculture divison.

First place winner in the contest was the Oklahoma A. & M. team. University of Nebraska placed third.

For the entire contest, the Tech team amassed a total of 5,053.6 points out of a possible 5,400 points. The contest was in three divisions — identification, judging and commercial grading.

First In One Division

In the identification phase of the contest, the Tech team placed first. Marion Baumgardner, one of the members of the team, made a perfect score in this division with 600 out of 600 points. Raymond Reeves, second high man in the contest and a member of the Tech team, made a score of 598.6 points.

In the judging phase of the contest, the local team took second place, and fourth place in commercial grading division.

Team members will leave today for Chicago, where on Saturday they are scheduled to attend the annual meeting of the American Society of Agronomy, Junior (student) section.

Accompanying the team to Kansas City and Chicago were Cecil Ayers, associate professor of agronomy, who is team coach; and Judd Morrow, also of the agronomy department, who is officiating in phases of the contests.

Other colleges and universities sending teams to the Kansas City contest were Texas A&M, which placed fourth; Kansas State, fifth; Penn State, sixth; Minnesota, seventh; South Dakota, eighth; and Montana, ninth.

THE QUESTION

How long do you think it will be before Lubbock has television?

THE ANSWERS

M. M. ROCHESTER, 2818 Fortieth, Commercial manager for KSEL: "I don't think we can say definitely when TV will be in Lubbock. In the first place, there has to be definite proof that there is ample and sufficient advertising revenue available throughout the entire years of operation to justify the unusual invested cash outlay necessary to put TV in operation. It will depend mostly on local conditions."

BILL ANDERS, 1952 Ave. N, announcer at KFYO: "That's hard to say. In the first place there's not enough local talent, and in the second place, Lubbock is too far away from the coaxial cable to take network programs. It would cost a businessman here too much to use local talent all the time even if he could get it."

ROBERT SNYDER, 2823 Thirty-second, assistant manager of KCBD: "I would say from 3 to 5 years. The economic aspects in a market the size of Lubbock are more difficult to solve than the technical aspects. TV channels are still frozen by the FCC, and nobody knows when the freeze will be lifted. The operational cost is so much greater than on radio that unless you have metropolitan markets it will be very difficult to profit on TV."

FRANK LEE, 2704 Thirty-first, chief engineer at KCBD: "It will probably be five years. At the present the granting of all TV applications has been frozen by FCC, and there has been no immediate promise of action by them to lift this freeze. For this reason, it will be a minimum of 1 to 3 years before TV could even be possible here."

BILL MORGAN, 3810 Twenty-first, supervisor of announcers at KFYO: "I think it will be between 2½ to 3 years, because of the high cost of TV production and equipment and the coaxial cables connecting Lubbock with the networks."

ODIS ECHOLS, 2613 N. Third, radio singer: "I believe that the people will start buying TV sets in the next 2 or 3 years around here. High prices are holding it up now. I do think that Lubbock has the money if they would just get behind TV."

Headless Bodies Of 60 Rebels Located

RANGOON, Burma, Nov. 23. (AP) —The headless bodies of 60 rebels were found today after government troops drove a group of Communists and Karens out of the village of Mezalikangon.

It was believed that the leaders took the heads of their dead comrades so that the bodies could not be identified.

Burmese press reports said the rebels were badly beaten in the three-hour fighting before they withdrew.

Customs officers in Saxony have smashed a smuggling ring which carried at least 11,000 gallons of gasoline from the German Russion Zone to West Germany.

RED POLITICAL BIDS COUNTERACTED

Chancellor Of Germany Okays Proposals To Relax Controls

BONN, Germany, Nov. 23 (AP)—West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has accepted proposals by the three allied high commissioners to relax occupation controls.

Agreement was reached last night after three lengthy meetings to set into motion ideas adopted two weeks ago by the big-three foreign ministers for improving German economy and including at least the western zones into the European family of nations once again.

Details of the agreement were not disclosed. They will be made public some time tomorrow afternoon.

Dismantling Cut

Adenauer, however, already has announced that the western occupation powers have proposed to reduce considerably the allied program of tearing down German industrial plants, to permit Germany once again to build up her merchant fleet, to allow the Germans to have consular representatives abroad and to join some of the international organizations in the hope of unifying European economy.

In return for these concessions the Germans have been asked to recognize international control over the rich industrial Ruhr valley, to work with the allied security board in preventing German rearmament and to give guarantees its big war industrial cartels will be browen up.

Although the agreement needs no parliamentary ratification on the part of the Germans, Adenauer is scheduled to report in full to the Bonn assembly Thursday.

Reds Counteracted

A lively debate is expected on the subject, especially since the opposition Socialists may object to the fact that the accepted proposals need no ratification.

Adenauer is expected to give details of how occupation controls are to be relaxed. Some other allied proposals may be revealed at the time. The chancellor probably will tell to what extent dismantling of industrial plants is to be cancelled, how many German consulates are to be established and perhaps the size and speed of the commercial vessels Germany is to be permitted to build.

Diplomatic officials in London reported yesterday that the agreement would allow Germany to build an unlimited number of small cargo ships and about eight bigger and faster cargo ships totalling some 90,000 tons. Germans now are prohibited from building passenger ships under terms of a western allied agreement of last April.

The proposals, aside from bolstering both German and western European economy, are designed to counteract political bids for German popularity put out by Russia in establishing an eastern Germany satellite republic with diplomatic status and promises of a kind of sovereignty.

They are still, however, under critical debate in the French national assembly. During the meeting between U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, the French could make no definite committments until its parliament had approved the measures.

Rebels Sought In Philippines

MANILA, Nov. 23. (AP)—President Elpidio Quirino said today army and constabulary forces hoped to corner Batangas rebels for an allout fight.

Ht said many had been killed and wounded on both sides in the battle which started 60 miles south of Manila last night. He termed the situation serious.

The President, who won the Nov. 8 election to succeed himself, blamed the battle indirectly on enemies of his Liberal party.

He said leader of "some people who were about to be arrested for murder" of Batangas Liberal party leader, Mayor Roman Perez, were responsible. Perez was killed on election day.

600 Engage Troops

Previously hukbalahaps, armed peasants, were blamed directly for the battle. Some 600 or more engaged constabulary and army troops.

Batangas province is the home of Dr. Jose P. Laurel, puppet president of the Philippines during the Japanese occupation and runner-up in the election. Laurel has not yet conceded defeat.

At a news conference Quirino said: "I don't know if these people merely were trying to escape arrest or whether they have a more serious purpose. If it is the latter it represents an organized effort to upset the government of the Philippines."

The president said he had instructed government officials to determine who was behind continued rumors of possible armed rebellion and systematic attempts to arouse hatred and distrust of the government since the election.

He added they will be prosecuted if they are detected.

Gallup "Adopts" Boy Accused Of Robbery

GALLUP, N. M., Nov. 23 (INS)—A 14-year-old nomad boy who confessed robbing a Gallup grocery "to get something to eat" has been adopted unofficially by the town of Gallup.

Sheriff D. F. Mollica said the boy, Gilver Santillanez, is the son of a sheepherder who spent his money for liquor. His mother has been sick in Colorado and he didn't want to bother a married sister "because she has too big a family already."

So the boy roamed the countryside for five months, living in abandoned mine shafts, outbuildings and caves.

Since his story was revealed, people of Gallup have contributed clothes and money and according to the sheriff, "he's a different boy already."

At least a dozen people have offered to adopt the boy.

Young Santillanez must face a district court hearing before District Judge David Carmody this week. But Sheriff Mollica will be on hand to plead for leniency and a chance to place the boy in a boarding school.

Reds Run China's Oil Producing Area

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23 (AP)—China's only oil field, the small producing area at Yumen in the northwest province of Kansu, has resumed production, say the Red radio at Peiping.

According to the broadcast, heard here by the Associated Press, oil workers formed guards two weeks before they were "liberated" and prevented fleeing Nationalist troops from damaging the field, which employs about 4,000 workers.

They hid important machinery parts in the hills to keep the departing Nationalists from taking them away, says the broadcast. Uncompleted wells are being finished and new ones will be drilled, says the broadcast. The Yumen field was developed by the Nationalists in 1938.

Weekends Are Nice; But Not Other Days

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 23 (U.P.)—Joey Herzberg, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Herzberg, was struggling with an essay assignment and finally finished it. It read in part something like this:

"My week-ends are spent in pleasant ways. I put on my good clothes, go to the movies, see baseball or football games, watch television, and read.

"Then there are five more miserable days left until the new week end."

HE HAS BELIEVERS AND CYNICS

Ike's Rejection Of Highest Candidacy Stirs Speculation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23. (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's latest thumbsdown on a presidential candidacy found about as many believers as cynics in Washington today.

Eisenhower told reporters at Cincinnati yesterday that he is devoting all of his time to his job as president of Columbia university and has no intention of seeking political office.

Politicians willing to take the general at his word argued that Eisenhower seems to be pursuing the course least likely to win him a nomination by repeating this statement.

Byrnes Watched

Cynics contended that the general's words left him open to a possible draft by the Republican national convention in 1952. They said such a draft movement might grow by leaps and bounds, for instance, if GOP candidates don't fare so well in the 1950 congressional races.

While this speculation occupied the Republican camp, Democrats wondered whether James F. Byrnes might be laying the ground work for an anti-Truman organization with his attacks on the President's "fair deal."

Some officials on the administration's side repeated reports that a movement may be under way to form such a group.

As a former secretary of state in the Truman cabinet and a former Supreme Court justice, Byrnes attacks on what he calls the "socialistic programs" of the President are regarded here as bearing more weight than the same words uttered by Republicans.

However, some of his friends are speculating that Byrnes might get out of the field at the last moment to leave the way open for his long-time friend and law partner, Donald Russell, to make the race.

Thurmond Heads Group

Byrnes' speech to the Southern Governor's conference was credited in part for the adoption yesterday by that group of a resolution opposing government regulation of individuals and calling for restoration of state sovereignty.

The governors also elected Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who headed the States' Rights ticket in last year's presidential election, as the new head of their group.

Thurmond is looked upon as a likely candidate against Senator Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), seeking re-election next year.

Thurmond could be expected to make a States' Rights campaign against Johnston, who snubbed the Democratic Jefferson-Jackson banquet here last year but helped raise money for the Truman campaign and hurried to Washington to congratulate President Truman after the later's election.

Ralls Man Chosen As Bank Director

DALLAS, Nov. 23 (AP)—Re-election of George L. MacGregor of Dallas as a Class B director of the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas, and of J. Edd McLaughlin of Ralls, Tex., as a Class A director, was announced today.

South Dakota Flier Seeks Governorship

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 23 (AP)—Major Joe Foss, famous Marine flier in World War II, is planning on a fling in politics, his aim, the governorship of South Dakota.

The 34 year old Marine ace said he would be a Republican candidate for nomination at the 1950 primary, to be held June 6. Foss, winner of the Congressional medal for his exploits in the South Pacific, was the first flier to equal Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker's World War I record of downing 26 enemy planes.

Foss, who operates a flying service at the Sioux Falls airport, is currently commander of the state's air national guard, with the rank of lieutenant colonel. He is married and has two small daughters.

Fight Against Ship Fire Won

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 23. (U.P.)—The S. S. Eagle, a Panamanian freighter, reported early today that crewmen had won a fight to extinguish a fire that had threatened to destroy the 10,000-ton vessel.

The fire, which started in the ship's engine room, was put out just two hours before the U. S. Army transport General Freeman arrived alongside the Eagle.

No Injuries

The crew, normally about 40 men, had been prepared to abandon ship. Lifeboats had been lowered in case the men were forced to flee suddenly.

The Freeman raced through heavy seas to reach the stricken merchantman. Coast Guard headquarters here reported that the Eagle said "no medical assistance was required," indicating none of the crew was injured in the fight against the flames.

The Eagle, commanded by Capt. N. S. Ousondis, caught fire about 360 miles west of Cape Flattery, Wash. She was bound for Longview, Wash., from Susan, Korea, to pick up a general cargo for shipment to Vancouver, B. C. Her holds were empty on the run from the Orient.

HOLDS 315 PATENTS

SCHNECTADAY, N. Y., (AP)—Dr. E. F. W. Alexanderson, retired radio and electrical scientist, holds a total of 315 patents, an average of one every seven weeks of his 46 years of active service with the General Electric Co. here. One is the high-frequency alternator, a huge type machine that enabled the transmission of trans-Atlantic signals before the vacuum tbue replaced it.

Thanksgiving Day, Then—And Now

JUST 328 years ago, the Pilgrims, at Plymouth, observed a Day of Thanksgiving.

They had just completed their first harvest and although it was a slim one, they were thankful for it.

The first months on the new and rocky Massachusetts shore had not been happy ones for the doughty band of men and women who had left their native England to seek freedom in the wilderness. Even as they gathered for prayer on that first Thanksgiving Day, they passed by the sere graves of comrades who had not been able to stand against the first grim Winter, or the onslaughts of the Indians.

The colonists at Plymouth hadn't been able to raise very much that first year—a little corn, then called maize, a few head of poultry, perhaps, and some garden truck for preserving as well as consumption during warmer weather.

But their bleak homes were started. They had survived their first full year in the New Land. Their roots, upon this continent, were taking hold.

So the fathers of the colony, their crude guns on their shoulders, marshaled their families to the common place of worship, there to give thanks to God for what we today would call a pittance.

The Plymouth colony was alone in its observance of that first Thanksgiving in 1621, but word of it was slowly spread throughout the few settlements of the New World.

The people of the Massachusetts Bay colony set up their first annual Thanksgiving Day nine years later, in 1630, and their counterparts in Connecticut followed suit in 1639.

Five years later, in 1644, the Dutch along the Hudson set aside a Thanksgiving Day and then the Continental Congress made the observance colony-wide.

So the observance that we American are setting about again this year is not only a typically American holiday, it also is the oldest of those special observances which since have become part and parcel of our living.

IT DOESN'T require a great deal of imagination to conjure up a mind's picture of that first Thanksgiving Day in Plymouth.

Very likely those few Pilgrims who took part in it did so not only with a feeling of thanks to the Providence which thus far had sheltered them, but also with troubled thoughts—if not actual fears—for the future.

Their "promised land" had been a harsh taskmaster. By November of 1621 they had learned, firsthand, that the task of carving a homeland from a raw and hostile wilderness was extremely dangerous, as well as unpleasantly difficult.

As they bowed their heads in prayer to the Almighty God whose worship brought them to these shores, many of them must have wished that they had remained in the comparable safety and comfort of Old England.

That first Thanksgiving Day was a day of thanks—but it also must have been a day of introspection, and not a happy introspection, at that.

There are available, of course, no figures on the "national income" of the Year 1621 at Plymouth.

However, it is safe to say that at today's market places the total would not exceed a few hundred dollars—everything included.

Yet what we call today a "mere pittance" was, in 1621, a very real bounty. It was the difference between living and dying in the hard Winter to come. It was everything.

So the men, the women and the handful of children who sowed the first seeds of our nation got down on their knees and rendered their thanks—even though keeping a wary eye out for possible attack by hostile savages.

FROM THAT humble and precarious beginning at Plymouth slightly more than three and one-quarter centuries ago has sprung an economic giant—the richest, most powerful nation the world has ever known.

With a national income well in excess of 200 billions of dollars—and some leaders even talking about a 300 billion dollar income as a future certainty—the nation which had its beginning on the grim New England coast in the early 1600's has become not only the hope, but the veritable protector of all the world's people who seek freedom.

We have grown, unbelievably, in economic, governmental, educational and cultural stature. But we have lost ground, by comparison to Plymouth in 1621, in spiritual stature.

Why?

Perhaps no one can say, exactly. But a very good guess is that because we have become so rich, so protected by cultural advancement, we have come to take our good fortune as a matter of course.

As we have grown soft and fat from easy living, we have grown, apace, in ungratefulness to that Divine Providence who holds our fate, along with that of all mankind, in the hollow of His hand.

They were iron men—yes, their roots into the rocky, storm-racked coast of Massachusetts in the early 1600's.

All they asked was health and a job to work at—and the aid of their God to keep the first and do the second.

They lifted up their heads to Heaven. They held out their palms to no one.

They were strong people who needed only two legs upon which to stand; who would have scorned an unneeded cane or crutch which so many of their descendants spend so much time seeking as their "natural right."

The only "more abundant life" they knew anything about — or cared anything about—was that which they could carve out for themselves by dint of their own labor and resources.

NO ONE with half a brain would argue that our nation today should practice flagellation, economically or otherwise, simply because our forefathers did not have all the safeguards and conveniences which are ours today.

No one with half a brain would suggest that our people would be better off if they had to suffer the hardships of 1621.

But an individual, or a nation, can be both rich and strong if he, or it, refuses to take the easy way and will not lose sight of basic values.

We Americans can take a long step toward greater national strength and sanity on this Thanksgiving Day, merely by pausing to think, along with our God, of what has happened down the years intervening between 1949 and 1621.

There is something—call it "indefinable" if you wish—that makes a human's communion with his God a leavening experience, as well as a most revealing one.

A nation on its knees before its God this Thanksgiving Day might very well attain two ends: that of a continuation of God's blessings upon us, and a re-awakening to the value of self-reliance—with God's help and guidance.

YES, WE as a nation have gone a long way these last 328 years. But in some few respects we have gone the wrong way.

The increase in national wealth, our increased stature among the nations of the world, our ability and willingness, however, grudging, to stand as protector of the weak against the aggressor—all these are fine and of them we may be proud. Yet they cannot recompense for two growing malignant weaknesses: that of the constant search for something for nothing, and of our forgetfulness that all these good things could not have been wrought without the benign assistance, the very permission of God, Himself.

This Thanksgiving Day should be just what the name implies: a day during which we give real thanks, and rededicate ourselves as individuals and as a nation to the basic principles of the Pilgrims, themselves.

After all, as in the case of the Pilgrims, "it is He who hath made us, and not we, ourselves. We are His people, and the sheep of His pasture."

BY DREW PEARSON: SENATOR McCARRAN GIVES FRANCO SOME PUBLIC RELATIONS TIPS

Medical Bureaucrats Are Nation's Unsung Heroes

WASHINGTON. — Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada, No. 1 enemy of Europe's homeless refugees, has now set himself up as chief volunteer public relations counsel to Europe's No. 1 fascist dictator.

PEARSON

On his latest junket abroad, supposedly to "investigate the current refugee situation," McCarran gave Spain's Francisco Franco some shrewdly cynical advice on how to make friends and influence people. In the course of two lengthy interviews, the senator from Nevada assured his attentive host that "with a little smart handling at this end, Spain can be right in the front parlor by this time next year."

McCarran happens to represent a state containing less than one-tenth of one per cent of the U. S. population, and most Nevadans are not the slightest bit interested in Franco. Nevertheless, McCarran did not hesitate to speak for all the American people.

"The overwhelming majority of the American people," he said, "are convinced that your country has been given a raw deal. It's just a question now of pounding the point home and getting enough pressure put on enough congressmen to whip the State department pinks."

A "healthy bloc of senators," McCarran added, are prepared to advocate, early in the next congressional session, that the United States sponsor Spain's admission to specialized agencies of the United Nations. "They are also prepared to put the heat on a few of our European charity patients so that you can get invited into that western union club of theirs," McCarran said.

"However," McCarran warned Franco, "don't let your pride keep you from blowing your own horn, good and loud. You've got to keep telling everybody that Spain deserves a place on the anti-Communist team. Don't bother about anything else, or answer any other cricism; just keep hitting that one line, and you'll make the grade."

Franco, whose background has not given him much experience in molding public opinion, must have been grateful for these tips. For less than a week later, Franco followed McCarran's suggestion closely in an exclusive interview with a U. S. correspondent.

Radio Madrid, on its short-wave broadcasts to the Americas, has also begun to bear down heavily on "Spain's contributions to the struggle of western civilization against Russian Communist barbarism." High point of these propaganda blurbs is the cryptic declaration: "If it hadn't been for Spain, England would now probably be the only free nation in western Europe."

Unsung Bureaucrats

Thousands of words have been rained upon the reading public about the inequities of bureaucrats. However, there are bureaucrats and bureaucrats and without some of them, the government couldn't function today.

For instance, a handful of medical bureaucrats are risking death and disease every day to safeguard the health of others. The door outside their bureau at Bethesda, Md., might be covered with quarantine signs, but one sign alone tells the story: "infectious diseases."

Inside, doctors and assistants are exploring with microscopes and test tubes, seeking cures for everything — from polio to the common cold. At one time or other, nearly everyone on the staff has been bed-ridden with some disease; at least three have died during the past decade—victims of their own research.

For such risks, these doctors are paid a modest government salary, ranging from $4,500 to $10,000, though they could earn far more in private practice. They don't work for the glory either, since their discoveries are kept anonymous by the public health service. Yet their selfless research goes on.

The doctor in charge of polio research, for example, is Dr. Charles Armstrong who spent eight month in bed and nearly died from tularemia, or rabbit fever, and also came down with dengue fever, parrot fever, fever and encephalitis on other assignments. He is now searching desperately for a serum that will prevent polio, is testing other diseases whih might be given as an inoculation against polio. He has finally traced the coxaxe virus, which causes a mild disease sometimes mistaken for polio, to suckling mice.

ANOTHER important research task force, under Dr. Leon Atlas, is exploring the common cold. He has already isolated the elusive virus which causes colds, has proven this by dropping the virus into the nostrils of volunteers from the District of Columbia jail. However, Dr. Atlas has also discovered there are many types of colds—caused by other viruses, allegries and mild diseases that do not go past the preliminary, stuffed-up-nose stage.

Dr. Atlas still hasn't discovered a serum or drug to prevent colds. In fact, he warns against using any drugs, including the antihistaminic drugs which have been ballyhooed in full-page ads as a cold cure.

"As yet," he cautions, "there are no adequate and convincing studies that demonstrate unequivocally that any drug or combination of drugs will prevent or influence the course, severity or duration of colds."

Two other researchers, Dr. Charles Shepard and Dr. Robert Huebner, have made encouraging progress in the fight against Q fever—and as usual, caught Q fever in the process. They traced this fever to the milk of infected dairy cows, particularly in the Los Angeles area. However, they still haven't located the actual virus that causes the disease.

Dr. Huebner also solved an epidemic of rickettsial pox that cropped up in a New York apartment district. Huebner's experiments showed the disease was carried by house mice and transmitted by mites, so by cracking down on the mice, the epidemic was checked.

Doing field work in Texas, Dr. James Watt traced bacillary dysentery to flies and was able almost to eliminate it by fly control. Now he is continuing his experiments in another area near New Orleans.

Another disease, which means almost certain infection to anyone experimenting with it, is bangs disease or brucellosis. No one has suffered more from this disease than Dr. Alice Evans who did the pioneer research at the Bethesda laboratory. She has now retired, however, and turned the work over to Dr. Carl Larson.

All research in the laboratory is under the general supervision of Dr. Karl Habel, who has been bedridden with Q fever and encephalitis, but is now searching for a more potent rabies vaccine.

These doctors are just a few of the unsung bureaucrats who are giving the taxpayers their money's worth.

NOTE—To cut down the alarming disease and death rate, the public health service built a new, modern laboratory for these doctors in 1946. Inside the air is sucked away from the researchers, then heated to 450 degrees in order to kill all germs before being discharged into the atmosphere. In spite of such precautions, the doctors still catch the diseases they are studying.

Anything Can Happen, And Probably Will

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

SHOULD a wife discuss her marriage with her "best friends?"

That is the question raised by a letter from a young husband who writes me that every time he and his wife have an argument, she tells her "best friend" all about it and asks for her advice.

The husband resents having a third person know their troubles. And he has a perfect right to resent it.

MILLETT

In fact, he ought to put a stop to it immediately. Lots of young wives, because they got in the habit of confiding in a best friend during their dating years, keep right on talking over their private lives after they are married.

But if a girl is old enough to be a wife, she is old enough to stop such girlish confidences.

As a wife she should keep her own counsel and no matter what goes wrong with her marriage she should put up a good front before her friends.

Her marriage is her business and her husband's—and nobody else's—and it is up to her to keep it that way.

UNFAIR TO HUBBY

THE wife who discusses her marriage problems with a friend or tells a friend all her husband's faults is actually being disloyal to her marriage.

If a man is married to a girl who has never stopped to think of it in that light—he ought to set her straight pronto.

After all, he has a right to be able to feel that what happens in their marriage is a private affair and that his wife would no more discuss the marriage with her friends or family than he would discuss it with the boys at the office.

There's another angle to this situation that is also important. And that is that today's best friend may be tomorrow's bitterest enemy. It happens all the time—and then a woman always regrets that she has given another woman too close a look at her marriage.

American Airlines Face New Dangers In "Coach Service"

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 23 — America's airlines have just embarked on about the most radical change in policy since they escaped from dashing adventure into generally accepted transportation practices.

RUARK

On Nov. 27, American Airlines starts its regularly scheduled coach service from coast to coast, with TWA soon to follow. Eastern, I believe, already has filed for permission to run regular bargain flights from New York to Miami. Lesser lines will be forced to cut rates to stay in business.

It costs right now $157.85 plus $23.68 tax to fly from New York to San Francisco and roughly the same from New York to Los Angeles. The newly scheduled flights will fly the same distance for $110 plus 15 per cent tax, just a slight tilt over the advertised $99 of the non-scheduled lines.

This is a bold effort by the scheduled lines to put their informal competitors out of business and is likely to succeed. On the new cut-rate, or coach fares, there will be little change in either time of flights or accommodation.

Seats Are Narrower

The seats will be a couple of inches narrower to handle 70 passengers on a DC-4 instead of 50. No meals will be served aloft. There will be few stops—Los Angeles to Chicago to New York, with a fueling pause at Tulsa or Kansas City. Flying time will be roughly the same as the regular top-rate flights of today.

DC-4's, medium fast four-engined planes, will carry the new coach loads until next spring, when American intends to switch to the bigger, faster DC-6's. Whither one goes the others must follow, so that a year from now the man who wishes to travel cheaply will be competing with his lushier, less crowded brother in everything but seat space and stewardess attention.

The airlines have adopted this departure from the norm in an attitude of mingled emotion, not undominated by fear and trembling. Primarily designed to slit the throat of independent, non-scheduled competition, the price slash is regarded by some lines as a two-edged weapon which may turn and cut the big boys in the vicinity of the hip-pocket.

"SURE," one airline man said, "we may starve the little fellows into submission with this new coach deal, but it's a tricky business. Every time we get fares built up to where we can make a buck, we turn around and start chopping at our own prices.

It's all very well to say we won't lose much of our regular trade to cut-rate flights, but I'm not so sure. Lots of people don't care whether they eat upstairs or not and you can always buy a snack at the airports or carry a lunch. A couple of inches less of seat space won't bother the thin people and the fat people don't fit the seats we've got now anyhow.

"When you travel by air you are buying speed primarily and the speed factor is literally unchanged. What I'm afraid of is our competitive spirit. For a while we won't feed 'em and then maybe I will start giving them a ham sandwich and a cup of coffee. The competition calls with a cold lunch and I raise with a steak and apple pie. So there we are, right back in the same old dog-eat-dog operation."

Danger Is Seen

It is a painful truth that all air travel, no matter how deluxe, is little better than airborne bus riding, since quarters are cramped and passenger motion is of necessity curtailed. The squalls of sick children are shared by all and there is little recreation apart from reading and sleeping.

Except in the case of those people who pay superior fares for satisfaction of their snob quotient, I believe the lines will lose more of their regulars than they suspect to the new cut-rate coach planes.

You are already cramped. Being a little more cramped makes not a great deal of difference. You may subsist comfortably on sandwiches with a heavy breakfast at one end of the trip and a big dinner at the other. Unless speed and luxury is considerably stepped up on the full-fare planes, the airline boys may find that instead of separating their travel into categories for rich and poor, they are running a bus-line for everybody and taking a beating in the process.

THE THANKSGIVING SERVICE

For a most fitting and appropriate start of the observance of this Thanksgiving in Lubbock, we recommend the annual City-wide service in the First Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Many of the Protestant churches of the city will participate.

The services always are interesting and impressive. They have been the inspiration for probably some of the finest sermons ever heard in Lubbock. And the music invariably is superb. The Lubbock Senior High school chorus will form the choir this year and its renditions will be remembered long and with reverent pleasure by everyone who hears them.

But one suggestion is particularly important for those who plan to attend. The capacity of the church auditorium is limited.

If you want a good seat—or perhaps any seat at all—you had better go early. It is doubtful whether the First Methodist or any available auditorium could accommodate all who will wish to join in the expression of their thanksgiving in a House of God.

DENIES OUSTER WAS RETALIATION

Probe Of Denfeld's Removal Not Scheduled, Vinson Says

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The reasons for removal of Admiral Louis E. Denfeld as chief of naval operations will not be probed by the House Armed Services committee, Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) so told newsmen today.

Denfeld's removal followed the committee's recent investigation of national defense policies which brought into sharp focus differences of opinion among Navy, Army and Air Force leaders. The admiral, a "star" witness, criticized defense policies. His removal was requested by Secretary of the Navy Matthews.

Assurance Violated

As far as he is concerned, Vinson said, there will be no more hearings in the armed services squabble despite requests of some committee members for a congressional airing of the Denfeld ouster.

These committee members claimed the committee was assured by Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson that no witness from the armed services would be penalized for freely expressing his views. Denfeld's removal to another post, they said with considerable heat at the time, was a violation of this assurance and an indication that Denfeld was demoted "because he talked."

Chairman Vinson himself said Oct. 28 that Denfeld had been made to "walk the plank" because of his testimony. At that time Vinson said the committee would look into the ouster when Congress reconvened.

Formal Report Due

Matthews said that Denfeld was removed because he lacked qualifications in that he was not in full sympathy with policies governing unification of the armed services. He and Johnson both said there was no retaliation involved.

Vinson's committee is due to make a formal report to Congress early next year on its study of the defense row. That, said Vinson, will be the end of the episode so far as he is concerned.

Vinson's position made it improbable that the committee would inquire into the recent transfer to the west coast of Naval Captain John Crommelin, whose release of confidential memoranda from high naval officers to Secretary Matthews led to the congression inquiry.

Court Martial Rejected

Besides being transferred from Washington, Crommelin was officially reprimanded and his subsequent request for a court-martial was rejected by Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, who replaced Denfeld as chief of naval operations.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) said earlier this week that he did not see how the Senate could consider Sherman's appointment to succeed Denfeld without getting into the whole question of the military row. The Senate must yet act on the nomination. Bridges said he was convinced Denfeld was fired because of his testimony.

T & P Railway Strike Pending

DALLAS, Nov. 23. (AP)—A strike similar to the one that recently tied up the Missouri Pacific for 45 days threatens the Texas & Pacific railway. Federal, union and company officials are trying to head it off.

Officers of four railroad brotherhoods, T&J officials and federal Mediator Robert F. Cole met yesterday.

"We believe some progress has been made and we still hope to work out a mutually satisfactory solution to all the problems involved," said C. H. Smith, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway trainmen.

Vote Counting Delayed

The unions involved are the brotherhoods of engineers, firemen and enginemen, conductors, and trainmen. The conductors and trainmen have taken strike votes. They delayed counting the votes, however, because the mediator has entered the dispute.

Union spokesmen say the grievances closely parallel those which caused the MoPac strike. The dispute does not involve wage increases, pension benefits or other usual causes of labor-management strife.

Among them, the four unions say, they have 1,200 grievances. The trainmen and conductors have 808 and the engineers and firemen 400.

B. C. James, T&P personnel director, said "we have settled some of the cases and we will continue to talk until mutual agreement."

Another Baby Born On Plane

STORNAWAY, Scotland, Nov. 23. (AP)—The airplane seems to be replacing the stork in bringing babies into the world these days.

A boy was born last night in an airplane carrying his mother over the isolated outer Hebrides islands to a hospital. He was the third child born over the Atlantic in the last 35 days.

The mother is Mrs. Margaret MacLellan, who has four other children. She was flying from her home on the island of South Uist off the northwest coast of Scotland to Stornaway. Mother and baby were taken on landing to a hospital where they were reported "quite comfortable."

A boy was born Oct. 18 to Mrs. Charles Parker, wife of a U. S. air forces sergeant, while she was flying from New York to Germany to join her husband. Last Wednesday a girl was born to Mrs. Leokadia Rolbiecki on a plane carrying displaced persons from Germany to New York.

Church Program Ends Choir School Here

The first Choir School to be held in Lubbock was successfully concluded Tuesday night with a public program held in First Christian church. The school has been sponsored by the American Guild of Organists and has been directed by Cecil Lapo, minister of music of First Methodist church in Wichita Falls.

Participating in last night's program were over 100 members of the combined choirs of Lubbock churches. They were directed in a number of anthems by Mr. Lapo. Accompanist for singing of the anthems was Mrs. Ernest E. Wilpitz, organist at First Christian church.

Robert Scoggin of Lubbock, a student at Hardin college in Wichita Falls, accompanied the congregation in hymn singing and played the organ offertory.

The organ prelude was played by Rev. Lowell Green, Lutheran minister at Posey.

Rev. Travis A. White, pastor of First Christian church, introduced Mr. Lapo, who spoke on "Music in the Church." He said that a choir, its director, and the organist can "make" or "break" a worship service for a minister. He declared that a voluntary choir should feel a responsibility to God and to the church service. On the other hand, he pointed out, the church congregation should take note and express appreciation for music in the worship service.

Mr. Lapo sang "Journey's End" (Foster) as a special number. He was accompanied by Mrs. Nita Aiken, organist in the Wichita Falls Methodist church for the past 31 years.

The invocation was asked by Rev. Hubert Bratcher, pastor of St. John's Methodist church. Rev. David L. Zacharias, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, gave the benediction.

Choir clinic periods were held Tuesday morning and afternoon in conjunction with the Choir school, at which choir members, director, and organists discussed the various phases and problems of their work. Mr. Lapo also spoke.

Phone Workers Vote To Organize Local

Traffic department employes of the local telephone company who are affiliated with Communication Workers Local No. 2,000 of Abilene, Tuesday night voted to form their own local with headquarters in Lubbock.

Approximately 51 persons were present for the balloting and to hear Mrs. Blanche McCallum, steward of the local group, review the highlights of a recent convention of Southwestern Bell Telephone representatives in San Antonio.

The plant and commercial departments of the company are expected to follow the traffic department in the new organization maneuver. The plant department will meet tonight to consider the proposal. The commercial department has not yet set a date to meet.

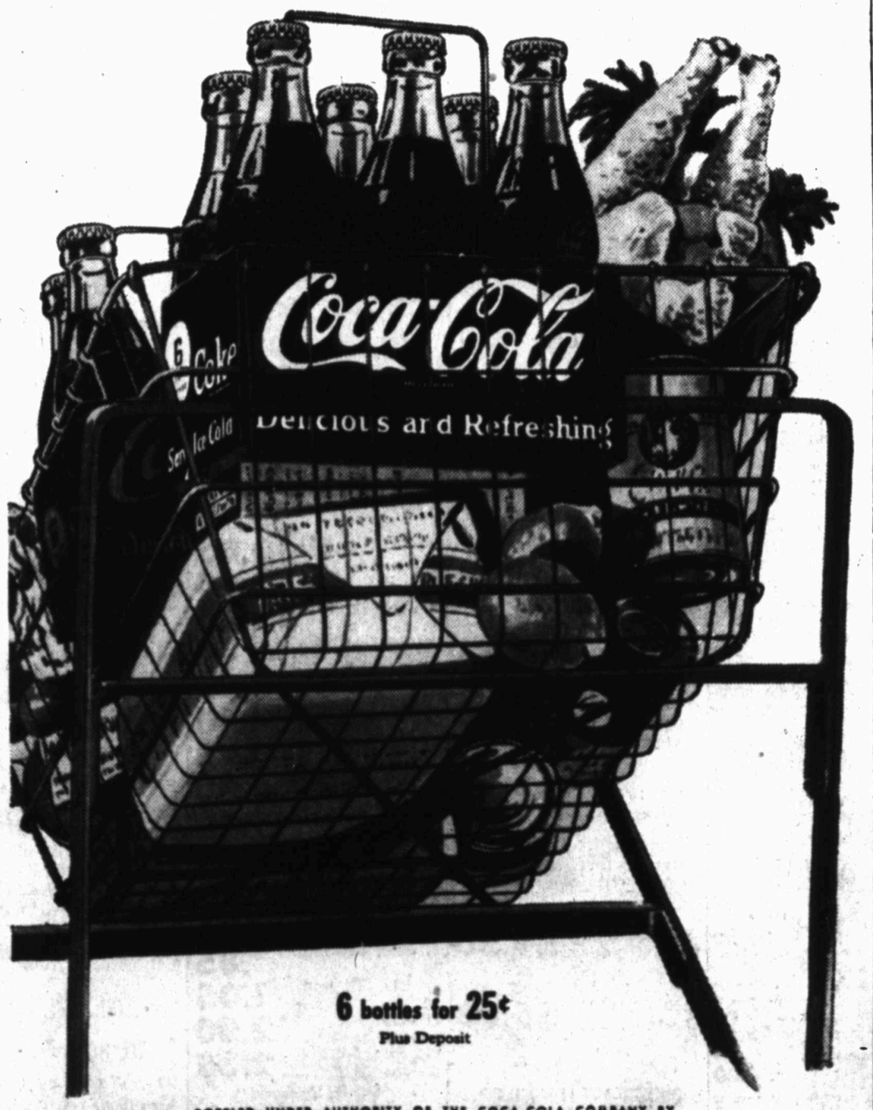

Plastics, ordinarily good insulators, now can be made electrical conductors without affecting their strength and other desired properties, and will find greater service and use in military and industrial applications.

HE CAN'T BELIEVE HE KILLED HER

Man Accused In Brutal Attack On Child May Plead Insanity

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23. (AP)—"I'll do everything I can to live."

So says Fred Stroble, charged with the brutal sex murder of six-year-old Linda Joyce Glucoft.

Asked by newsmen in the county jail yesterday if he would plead insanity, the 66-year-old baker replied:

"They told me not to say so, but I think I am."

He complained of a "buzzing in my head" and added: "I've been drinking steadily the last couple of months . . . I can't believe that I killed her . . . My head is on fire . . . I must have been crazy."

Injury Considered

A public defender indicated that a streetcar injury 13 years ago may figure in the defense plans.

Stroble may be considering a private defense. He sent a note asking his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hausman, to visit him. It was in Hausman's home that Linda was killed. Stroble also asked Hausman's attorney to see him.

In his first interview, the little baker told a story of frustration and drunkenness and the squandering of $10,000 in bars since he lost his last job in 1946.

Wife In Institution

Married when he was 35, he said that until his wife was committed to a state mental hospital several years ago, he was faithful to her.

He admitted "stepping out" in recent years. He said he broke up with one woman because he couldn't marry her. "There was a Mexican girl in Tijuana five weeks ago—and the little girls for about four years . . ."

Asked if he thought he deserved to die in the gas chamber, he replied, "I couldn't answer that. But I'll do everything I can to live. Everybody wants to live."

He is due to appear Friday before Superior Judge Robert H. Scott for arraignment.

Water Problem

West Texas water program going.

Warne said "the bureau of reclamation has not tried to deprive any of the people being helped through or affected by the reclamation program, of any right, water or otherwise."

Nevertheless, he said, "a cult has grown up in the west, vociferous much beyond its size, which would have people believe that there is a mysterious threat in the reclamation law to the rights of the individual to use the project water. It seems particularly left-handed and disingenious to me that the people of the west should be asked to believe such rot."

Warne said it is the policy of the Interior department and the reclamation bureau "to turn over for local operation water projects now in operation, 45 have been turned over to the water users to manage."

Praise Given Leaders

Clarence Whiteside of Lubbock, chairman of the Canadian river project committee formed by 11 High Plains cities, praised Texas congressmen for getting passage of the House bill which authorizes the $85,000,000 project. He was joined in his praise by Lawrence Hagey of Amarillo, chairman of the West Texas chamber's municipal water rights committee.

Formation of the West Texas domestic water association was approved by the WTCC directors.

The directors elected J. W. Willson, Floydada, as president to succeed John D. Mitchell of Odessa.

Other officers elected were B. P. Bludworthy of Brownwood, Frank H. Kelley of Colorado City and Homer D. Grant of Lubbock, vice presidents; Ed S. Stewart of Abilene, treasurer, and D. A. Bandeen of Abilene, general manager.

The same men will head the WTDWA.

District directors elected were Roy S. Bourland of Pampa, Henry Teubol of Tulia, A. B. Taft of Childress, J. Holford Russell of Denton, Frank S. Roberts of Breckenridge, Charnell Jobe of Lamesa, J. L. Pinkerton of Monahans, R. M. Hawkins of Al Pine, E. L. Buelow of San Angelo, and John C. Grammer of Coleman.

Hubbies Stay Home As Wives Step Out

TEMPLE, Nov. 23. (AP) — Married men won't see anything unusual in this—but it might startle some bachelors:

Temple husbands stayed home last night, while their wives stepped out for a high old time.

Only in Templ it was a little different from the usual women's club routine. It was the 33rd annual everywoman's party.

Every year since 1916—on one night a year—Temple wives and those from the surrounding area have held the shindig. It started, the women say, as a way to get even for men's stag parties.

China Communist Government Plans To Reform Old Language

By VICTOR KENDRICK
United Press Staff Writer

HONG KONG, Nov. 23 — One of the more ambitious long-term projects to be attempted by the new Communist government of China is to reform the Chinese language.

It is a project which has defeated more than one conqueror in China's history.

With an alphabet of more than 40,000 characters, several hundred regional dialects and an 80 per cent illiteracy rate for an estimated 475,000,000 population, the immensity of the task can be appreciated.

It is not an uncommon sight to see two Chinese from different parts of the country converse by writing down characters, being unable to understand each other's dialects.

Scholars Organize

Nevertheless, more than 100 language scholars met in Peking the other day and formed the All-China Association for Reforming the Chinese Language, according to a Peking radio broadcast.

They will attack the problem on four fronts: Romanize the Chinese language and simplify the characters; find a unified dialect for all China based on the northern dialect; help national minorities reform their languages, and publicize the need for language reform.

Although some scholars and intellectuals know 40,000 Chinese characters, only about 10,000 are necessary for ordinary day-to-day usage. Most vernacular newspapers confine themselves to the latter figure.

Contrary to popular belief, however, it is not the number of characters so much as the use of them in composition and the understanding of them in combination that makes Chinese probably the most difficult language in the world.

Japanese Solved It

The Japanese long ago discovered a method of translating their character into Romanized phrases for easier intercourse with foreigners, but no such system has been followed in China.

One of the great deficiencies of the Chinese language is in the technological field.

Some of the newer drugs like streptomycin and penicillin have no equivalent in Chinese, and must be written in English. Every well-appointed Chinese newspaper composing room has several fonts of English type on hand.

Many Chinese characters gain usage through everyday necessity, and do not even appear in Chinese dictionaries. The word coffee, for example, is composed of three characters, one meaning "mouth," the second meaning "frame" and the third meaning "no." Mouth indicates that the object is edible, but the other two are used simply because they are pronounced "ka" and "fe," or coffee.

Pilot Keeps Burning Plane From Crashing

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 23. (AP)—Fred Mills of Amarillo, Tex., a Braniff Airline pilot, safely landed a two-engine plane carrying 16 passengers yesterday after one of the engines burned out.

Mills said he controlled the blaze in the air by using the engine fire extinguisher.

TWO BROTHERS, SISTER KILLED

Jewish Boy, 12, Survivor Of Fatal Air Crash, Recovering

OSLO, Norway, Nov. 23 (AP)—A 12-year-old Jewish refugee boy woke this morning from a good night's sleep—his first since he survived the nightmarish plane crash Sunday in which 34 persons died.

Little Isaac Allal, one of 28 North African Jewish children flying to a Norweigian rest camp, was the only survivor.

Isaac's whimpers led two searchers yesterday to the forest-hidden wreckage where he had lain trapped among debris and bodies for two cold nights and a day. Two brothers and a sister died in the crash.

Isaac doesn't know yet that another brother is dead at home in far-off Tunis. That brother, a 17-year-old, fell dead when he learned of the tragedy in Norway.

Heard Whimpering

The Dutch chartered plane crashed in the forest 30 miles southwest of Oslo Sunday night as it neared the end of a flight from Tunis, in North Africa. Besides the 28 refugee children, the plane carried a crew of four and three nurses.

Electrician Thorolf Hagen and lumberjack Hilding Martinsen heard whimpering from inside the battered tail section of the plane as they neared the wreckage. At first they thought it might be a dog whining but suddenly realized a human was still living among the mangled bodies scattered around the smashed plane.

Hagen ran for help and Martinsen began to free Isaac who had been lying for 42 hours with his face pressed against the ground, trapped by a sheet of metal and broken plane seat across his back.

After 20 minutes the sturdy woodsman held the lone survivor in his arms.

"He said something," Martinsen related, "which I did not understand. But I understood well enough when he smiled."

In halting French, the little refugee told other rescuers:

"I am all right. My arm hurts a little. The plane went around and around and my comrades came beneath."

The fact that Isaac was in the extreme rear of the plane probably accounted for his escape. The front end of the plane was demolished as it plowed into the trees but the tail section came to rest virtually intact.

Wreck Is Probed

Isaac was taken to the hospital at the nearbx town of Drammen. Hospital authorities said he suffered only a bruised wrist, scratched nose and slight burns from flames that started after the crash but flickered out without gaining headway.

Thirty-one bodies were recovered yesterday and the search continued today for the three still missing. Norwegian and Dutch officials examined the wreckage for clues as to the cause of the crash. The plane was a twin-motored DC-3 operated by a Dutch charter company, Aero Holland.

VICTIM OF ATTACK RECOVERING

RED LAKE FALLS, Minn., Nov. 23 (AP)—An unemployed cook was held in jail for further questioning today after police said a seven-year-old girl identified him as the man who abducted and attacked her and then left her for dead beside a haystack.

The man, identified by authorities as Raymond Dempsey, last night was brought before Vivian Shannon in a hospital where she is recovering.

"I am very sure it is the same man," Vivian said.

"I'm sure not the guy," said Dempsey.

He was taken back to jail at nearby Crookston, where he is held without charge. Dempsey, 25, is married and the father of a three-year-old daughter.

Seized In Street

"We think we're right in holding Dempsey," said Sheriff Noel J. Proulx of Red Lake county. "But we need more evidence."

Vivian was seized by a man in a car on the street in this northwestern Minnesota community late Monday. Early Tuesday morning she wandered into a farm home 12 miles to the north. The child was frost bitten by the 10-degree cold. She was scratched and her throat bore marks of a choking attempt.

Dr. L. N. Dale said the child had been sexually molested before she was left for dead beside a haystack. She was in good condition at a Crookston hospital today.

Vivian told officers her abductor's auto had gone into the ditch as he drove her about on rural roads. She also said what appeared to be a dog or deer was in the back seat of the car.

Proulx said he and his deputies found a man who said he had helped pull Dempsey's auto out of a ditch.

Cotton Firm Manager Visitor In Lubbock

R. O. Beach, manager of the George H. McFadden and Bros. cotton firm of Houston, is in Lubbock today to obtain first hand information on this year's cotton production in the area.

Beach is a principal partner in the Houston firm, established in 1862, and which now is one of the largest cotton firms in the world. He arrived Tuesday and plans to return to Houston sometime today.

He was guest of honor at a small dinner at the Lubbock Country club Tuesday night. Hosts were George W. and J. R. Cochran, and Walter "Red" Vandiver, of Cochran Brothers of Lubbock; and Jere B. Booth, local agent for the McFadden firm.

Beach, who has been with the firm since 1908, said the increased volume of business coming from this area made necessary a special visit to Lubbock, and he decided to come up to acquaint himself more fully with the situation here.

"I am most impressed by the rapid and steady growth of Lubbock since my last visit here," he commented.

Plan To Copyright Tech's Traditional "Double T" Studied

The traditional "Double T" of Texas Technological college may soon be copyrighted.

That was the word given out Tuesday by college student and administrative officials after a meeting of a seven-man committee to study the advisability of such a plan.

A second meeting is planned by the group Monday after legal advisement is obtained as to whether a copyright of the emblem could be secured by the college. The committee is headed by Frank Junell, assistant to the president, and Curtis Sterling, president of the student council.

Controversy over the Double T rose recently when a group of students protested the use of the emblem on senior class rings. Many contended that since the familiar red letters are those awarded Tech athletes they should not be worn by anyone else.

The traditional emblem appears on many campus publications as well as unofficial "stickers" and is painted on the college gymnasium. If copyrighted a committee would be set up to determine who could make use of it and for what purposes, according to Sterling. Such a board would probably be chosen by the administration.

The Double T association, whose members include those lettering in one or more sports, at one time controlled the emblem, according to members of the investigating committee. The control was gradually released, however, and the signet can now be used by almost anyone wishing to employ it.

Members of the committee meeting with Junell and Sterling included D. M. McElroy, executive secretary for the Ex-Students' association; Doug McSwane, president of the Double T association, Marshell Gettys, vice president of the student council and Double T member; G. B. Morris, sponsor of the Double T group, and Lewis Jones, assistant to the dean of men.

New Drug Successful In Cure Of Colds, Two Doctors Claim

CHICAGO, Nov. 23 (AP) — One of the antihistaminic drugs now on the market was used successfully in curing and preventing colds in tests made on volnnteer patients, two researchers have disclosed.

The drug, known medically as Neohetramine, is for public sale without prescription under the trade name Anahist. The research said their 100 per cent success for cures was possible only when the drug was given within 48 hours after the onset of a cold. It was of no value when a cold had reached the full-blown stage, they said.

No Ill Effects Claimed

The experiments were conducted by Dr. Charles C. Sweet, medical director of Sing Sing prison and Dr. Joseph J. Armino, consultant on allergy at Sing Sing and Maryknoll convent and seminary, both of Ossining, N. Y. The volunteer patients were from the two institutions.

The researchers said: "theoretically, it should be possible to abort the common cold if an antihistaminic drug could be given in adequate dosage during the first 48 hours of the disease." They said Neohetramine appeared to be "safe and effective" for daily use over a long period.

Reporting the experiments in the December issue of Industrial Medicine and Surgery, the researchers said there were no cases of drowsiness or other ill effects when the drug was administered in doses of 100 milligrams a day over 180 days.

Caution Urged

The council on pharmacy and chemistry of the American Medical association, in a statement, "warned against the indiscriminate use of antihistaminic substances which are now being promoted widely for the prevention and treat- of colds."

The council, without naming any specific antihistaminic substance, said:

"Cases are already reported and records show that about one-third of those who take these drugs become drowsy or even fall asleep while at work or in occasional cases while driving cars or operating machinery. Experience with these drugs is not yet long enough to know whether or not they are harmless when used over long periods of time."

50 People To Attend Thanksgiving Dinner

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—There will be 50 people around the table Thursday when Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Weikert of Gettysburg, Pa., sit down to Thanksgiving dinner with their family.

The other 48 diners will be the Weikert's children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren.

Plans for the occasion—a combination Thanksgiving celebration, homecoming and 66th wedding anniversary—were disclosed today by Edward L. Weikert, jr., an advisor to handicapped veterans here.

He said his father participated in a similar five-generation reunion a quarter-century ago in honor of his own father, Emmanuel Weikert.

He also raised the possibility that the present heads of the family, now 89 and 86 years old respectively, may still be around when the sixth generation of living Weikerts shows up.

"I don't know why they shouldn't live to be 100," he said.

Fight Against Spending Seen

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23. (AP)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) predicted today that the next session of Congress will build up "some real steam behind cutting government costs."

Bridges is a former chairman of the Senate appropriations committee. He told a reporter two things will aid economy efforts next year:

1. A proposal to combine all appropriations into a consolidated or single bill.

2. "Public consciousness that we must whack government spending or greatly increase tax burdens for nearly everybody."

Bridges recalled that a bi-partisan group of lawmakers made attempts this year to cut spending, "but they were generally unsuccessful."

Jap Theaters To Cut Rate For Deaf Mutes

TOKYO, Nov. 23 (AP) — Japan's largest movie chain probably will start a new policy on the first of the year.

So, said a chain spokesman, a special half rate ticket probably will be sold to the deaf and dumb after Jan. 1.
