Spirits Still High As Gemini Halfway Home

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II, still in good shape and remarkably alert, soared past the halfway point of their record space ride Saturday as medical monitors maintained a close watch on their condition.

The Air Force majors reached the midpoint of the planned four-day trip at 11:14 a.m. EST as their Gemini 4 spacecraft sailed more than 100 miles above the United States at the end of their 31st orbit.

At that time they had been in space for 48 hours 38 minutes. They are to return to earth just after noon Monday.

"There is absolutely no decrease in their alertness. They are in excellent condition," the Mission Control Center at Houston reported. The Gemini 4 spacecraft was reported performing exceptionally well.

McDivitt reported a slight dryness in the throat as a result of the pure oxygen atmosphere in the cabin, but that was expected. Eye irritation, which the astronauts reported earlier because of the oxygen, had cleared up.

McDivitt had one complaint. He said he wasn't getting enough exercise.

"We're in good shape up here," command pilot McDivitt reported to the ground this morning. He added however that he was a "trifle weary" and during the night he had his best sleep yet.

John Hodge, a mission control center flight director, reported this morning that the astronauts spent a "very uneventful night. We did what we were supposed to do, following the flight plan, gathering medical data, eating, drinking, sleeping and performing experiments."

Hodge said the astronauts appeared to be as alert as if they had only been in space for five minutes instead of more than 47 hours. He reported spacecraft conditions were excellent and there was nothing in sight that could cause an early termination of the mission.

Hodge said he was impressed with the "enthusiasm and the awareness and awakeness with which they're answering questions on what they're doing and how they're doing it."

During the morning the astronauts took turns taking pictures of prominent earth points which might be used as reference points to guide Project Apollo astronauts returning from moon voyages.

Among the photographic targets were Point Jiguera and Point Aguilla, both in Puerto Rico; El Dorado airport at Bogota, Colombia; Point Loma Lighthouse, San Diego, Calif.; Lake Titicaca and Lake de Poopa in Bolivia, and the junction of the Blue Nile and the White Nile in Africa.

During the night White slept through a routine medical examination and had to be awakened in the 27th orbit for the exam.

State Committee To Study College Plea

AUSTIN — The State Board of Education voted to name a committee Saturday to study a proposal to establish a Scurry County Junior College District.

The board's committee will be instructed to make a report to the board at its July meeting.

The action was taken at the state board's June session, held Saturday morning in the Stephen F. Austin Hotel.

Appointment of the study committee had been anticipated as a likely course of action by the Scurry County group.

The Scurry proposal was one of five presented to the state board, and in all cases except one, the board voted to name study committees to report back at the July meeting. Tarrant County was given immediate approval to call a junior college election.

Study committees are to be appointed to survey proposals from Eagle Pass, Scurry County, Bee County and Waco.

Standard Oil Company of Texas filed a brief in opposition to the Scurry County proposal, expressing doubt that Scurry County could meet the board's criteria for a junior college district.

Badger Robertson, chairman of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce Junior College Survey Committee, presented the Scurry County proposal to the state board.

Ten other Scurry County residents were present for the meeting with the board. The Scurry delegation, in addition to Robertson, included Harold Bennett, president of the Snyder School Board; Dr. Robert Clinton, superintendent of Snyder Public Schools; State Rep. Renal Rosson; Marshall Erwin, member of the Snyder City Council; Buford Browning, county school superintendent; George Patterson, Snyder City Manager; Franklin Pruitt, Frank Taylor, John Jarrell and Herbert Feather.

The state board's July meeting, at which time the study panel is scheduled to make its recommendation, is scheduled for July 5.

Posse Begins Search For Vicious Killer

By BILL W. DEAN

BIG SPRINGS, Neb. (AP) — A huge posse spread out across sprawling plains of western Nebraska and eastern Colorado today, hunting an icy-calm gunman who killed three bank employes with shots in the back and wounded a fourth.

"Every available man in 100 miles is taking part," said Sheriff Floyd Stahr.

Late Friday Sheriff Stahr, a 6-foot-4 man in a wide-brim Western hat, made his headquarters in the bank. State troopers, FBI agents, sheriff's officers and police from neighboring towns trooped in to report to him.

The 510 residents of this village astride the Denver-to-North Platte highway 10 miles north of the Colorado border were stunned by the killings Friday.

"I have no idea why he shot them," said county Atty. Robert Richards. "They didn't resist when he told them to lay down on their stomachs."

The gunman fired eight times as the four lay on the floor of the Farmers State Bank. Three died instantly. The fourth was critically wounded.

Trouble Said Brewing In Sudan

CAIRO (AP) — Unconfirmed reports reaching here today said Khartoum Airport was closed down and trouble appeared to be brewing in the capital of Sudan.

Cairo Airport said it lost radio communication with the airport at Khartoum. Airport officials noted the loss of radio contact could be due to a strike rather than political tension, however.

Word of the airport closing reached here after reports from the Sudan that four army officers, including one general, had been arrested there in an alleged attempt to stage a coup d'etat.

Unconfirmed reports said the authorities had seized a supply of arms designed for a coup and more arrests were expected.

Telephone communication between Cairo and Khartoum also was reported out of order but this is a fairly regular occurrence.

A story from Khartoum Friday said the caretaker regime of Premier Sir el Khatim el Khalifa had resigned to make way for a new government but was asked to stay on until next Tuesday by the State Supreme Council.

OAS Team Opens Talk In Dominican

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The stalemated Dominican civil war marked its sixth week today with a fresh peace team of the Organization of American States trying to win a political settlement.

Six previous major efforts to negotiate an agreement ended in failure, including those by Washington, the OAS, the United Nations and the Vatican.

There were reports that the new, three-nation mission, authorized Wednesday by a special OAS conference, brought from Washington a plan for a swift OAS-supervised election. But OAS and U.S. government sources only would say that the election was one of a number of possible compromise solutions under consideration.

An OAS trusteeship, followed by an election, and a coalition provisional government were other possibilities.

The Dominican rebels already have rejected an election for military junta. The rebels demanded restoration of the 1963 constitution and creation of a new government before an election.

The new OAS peace effort was launched Friday when its commission met with Msgr. Emanuele Clarizio, the papal nuncio, and with U.S. Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett. The Vatican's representative was one of the first to attempt to mediate the conflict.

Members of the peace team are Ellsworth Bunker, U.S. ambassador to the OAS; Ilmar Penna Marinho of Brazil and Ramon de Clairmont Duenas of El Salvador.

The remaining 2,000 U.S. Marines, of an original leatherneck force of 6,000, prepared, meanwhile, to leave the Dominican Republic over the weekend.

The rest of the U.S. force, 12,500 paratroopers of the 82nd Airborne Division and 700 Air Force personnel, have been integrated into the newly formed inter-American force under formal control of the OAS.

At United Nations headquarters in New York, Ruben Brache, the rebels U.N. representative, said Friday he was forwarding to the organization the names and addresses of 800 persons he claimed the junta executed.

Brache said also that he had sent Secretary-General U Thant charges that U.S. soldiers in Santo Domingo violated the cease-fire Thursday night.

Bogalusa Sheriff's Home Riddled

BOGALUSA, La. (AP)—Gunmen fired six bullets into the home of the chief deputy sheriff early today as officers pressed their investigation of a terrorist-style murder.

Chief Deputy Doyle Holliday, who lives about four miles out of town, said he rushed from his house and emptied his .38 Magnum pistol at a fleeing car.

"Perhaps one of the shots did some damage but I am not sure he said.

Two of the bullets fired by the nightriders ripped through the kitchen wall. Two hit an air conditioning unit and another lodged in the wall of a breezeway to the garage. The other could not be located in the darkness.

Space Food Comes High

By HAROLD R. WILLIAMS
AP Aerospace Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — While astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II aren't eating gourmet food in space, the bill for what they are consuming in their four-day flight is sky high.

Each meal costs about $255. Pheasant under glass, lobster tail, champagne? No sir!

Dry cereal, bacon and egg bites, toasted bread cubes and orange juice made up the first meal.

All the food is freeze dried, compressed and dehydrated.

Farmer Killed By N. Texas Twister

By The Associated Press

A tornado killed a Panhandle Farmer during the night and the state's siege of unusually violent June weather continued full tilt in Northern Texas today.

Twisters kept residents over a vast area jittery Friday night and the heavy thunderstorms coursed from the Panhandle-Plains sector eastward.

By early morning much of the stormy weather ranged from West and North Central Texas northward into Oklahoma.

A sheriff's deputy found Mrs. W. H. Dees injured late Friday in her wrecked farm home seven miles northeast of Shamrock, 90 miles east of Amarillo.

Searchers found the body of her elderly husband about 50 yards from the shattered Dees residence. Mrs. Dees escaped serious injury.

No other damage was reported near Shamrock, where the tornado struck at about 9:30 p.m.

Another twister was spotted near Silverton, two counties southwest from Shamrock. The Weather Bureau reported another writhed on the ground 9 miles south of Vernon during the night. They apparently caused no destruction.

In Wichita Falls, flying tin propelled by 55 mile wind severed a power line and darkened the southeast part of the city.

The Weather Bureau issued six special forecasts warning against possible severe thunderstorms or tornadoes in the same general area Friday.

At least partly cloudy weather was predicted for all of Texas, with showers continuing in the northeast tonight and in scattered southern sections through Sunday. It was expected to turn a little cooler in North Central Texas tonight.

Rains and high winds struck in the Dallas area early Saturday, damaging Addison Airport again and leaving the east part of Carrollton without electricity. Doors blew out on a hangar and six planes were damaged.

In Carrollton, a storage building for lumber was blown down, knocking out power lines and crushing three parked cars.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I sure get a kick out of your column. I don't suppose you really write all of it yourself. You probably have a staff of writers. And that picture of you is a lulu! How old is it? I'll bet you're really a fat old maid taking out her frustrations by telling other people how to run their lives. You get a letter with just one side of the story and you hand out advice like you knew all the answers. I'm a 31-year-old bachelor. And if that's your picture, and it's not 20 years old, I might even ask you to marry me. (How would you like to live in Salt Lake City?)

WOODY

DEAR WOODY: I don't have any writers, so I'll take all the credit for what is printed here. (And all the blame, too.) I don't give advice, I express an opinion. To give advice one must know both sides, but I do the best I can with the facts I have, and if I am able to help, I'm happy. The picture is mine, and it's comparatively recent. Salt Lake City would be fine with me, but I'm 15 years older than you, and very much married, so I won't hold you to your offer.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 years old and just had the most bewildering proposal of marriage. He's a young man I've known a long time, but I never dreamed he was thinking of me as "wife material." He said he would marry me if I got my nose fixed. Now, I do have a big nose, but I accepted it as part of me, and it goes with my face, so I never considered getting it fixed. Frankly, I don't think it would make that much difference. It's not as though my nose stands between me and my being a perfect beauty. This young man would make a good husband, but I wonder if I should take his proposal under consideration.

MISS S.

DEAR MISS S.: If your nose has never bothered you and you've never considered getting it "fixed", tell the young man that your nose goes where you go. And if he doesn't want you, nose and all, heaven knows he's not for you.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Can you answer a few very simple questions for me? I am the mother of four children and this is very important to me. What is the correct definition of "common-law marriage"? Where is it recognized? What does "community property" mean? Is that the same all over? Exactly what is the legal definition of "bigamy"? And finally, what does "extradite" mean? I thank you.

GETTING NERVOUS

DEAR GETTING: You don't need a dictionary — you need a lawyer. I suggest you get one immediately. It's his business to keep a confidence, so don't be afraid to tell him the truth.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "Poor Dad," whose college freshman son borrows his neckties, to count his blessings. When sonny gets to his second year, he'll probably do his best to sever those "family ties" you advised him to strengthen. My son, now a sophomore, wears a beard, seldom gets a haircut, dresses in jeans, sweaters and boots. And as a point of honor —NEVER wears a tie. The day he borrows his Dad's ties will be the day we'll all sigh, "Thank heavens he's back to normal!"

Judge Backs Amendment

MCKINNEY, Tex. (AP) — Texas Supreme Court Justice Robert W. Calvert said Friday a proposed constitutional amendment to require retirement of judges "would be a powerful weapon against corruption on the bench if any should be found."

The amendment also would authorize involuntary retirement and removal of judges for misconduct or disability on recommendation of a judicial qualifications commission.

Calvert urged the North Texas Bar Association to support the proposal. It will be voted on in November.

"Its principal benefit would be to eliminate from the judiciary those who because of mental or physical disability cn't do their work and those who, having no such disability, won't do their work," he said.

Lifetime Savings Left In Coins

NEW YORK (AP) — Dominick Berlingieri, 68, had collected coins for years, expecting that they would appreciate in value.

Friday a neighbor found Berlingieri dead of natural causes in the bedroom of his two-room apartment over the Brooklyn waterfront restaurant he had operated for 30 years until he sold it last February.

Police said the apartment was filled with jars, cans, bottles and cartons containing $13,000 in quarters, dimes and nickels — his lifetime savings.

Police had to borrow a coin-counting machine from the Transit Authority to come up with the total.

3 Judges Implicated In Scandal

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — A weary old man — a former member of the Oklahoma Supreme Court — stunned a federal court Friday by implicating three present members of the high state court in a bribery scandal.

The witness, N. S. Corn, 81 and in failing health, testified at the perjury trial of former Oklahoma City mayor O. A. Cargill Sr., 80, that Cargill helped for 20 years to finance his election campaigns in return for his vote on the high court.

Corn, who at one point told presiding Dist. Court Judge Roy W. Harper, St. Louis, "I violated my oath and I ruined myself completely, disgraced my family, disappointed my friends," said Cargill told him that five other justices on the nine-member court also had been "taken care of."

He identified them as Chief Justice Harry L. S. Halley, Denver Davison and W. H. Blackbird, and two former members of the court, Earl Welch and N. B. Johnson.

Welch resigned from the bench after being convicted of income tax evasion. Johnson was removed by the Senate on charges of accepting bribes.

Cargill is accused of lying to a federal grand jury when he said he did not know of bribes paid to the Supreme Court.

Corn appeared near exhaustion at the end of five hours on the stand. For four hours he was cross-examined by chief defense counsel Percy Foreman, Houston, Tex.

Foreman brought out that in 12 cases involving Cargill before the Supreme Court that Corn did not vote for Cargill's clients in all instances.

"He didn't call me on those cases, or he called me and told me that he had the same kind of a deal with the other side and I voted the way I wanted to," Corn replied.

Corn said he meant attorneys opposing Cargill when he said "the other side."

The aging ex-justice, who last December completed five months of an 18-month federal prison term for income tax evasion, said Cargill paid him $4,500 while he was on the bench.

Earlier in the trial, which will resume Monday, witness Hugh Carroll testified he had paid Corn $150,000 to see that Carroll's firm, Selected Investments Corp., received favorable decisions. Corn said he paid $7,500 each to Welch and Johnson.

Children Disappear In Gulf Waters

GILCHRIST, Tex. (AP) — Three children who swam 200 to 300 feet out into the Gulf of Mexico near here and disappeared Friday were presumed drowned.

About 250 people, including several scuba divers, used emergency lights to continue a search late into the night for the bodies of Betty Ann Smith, 13, and her brother Bobby, 9, of Gilchrist and a cousin, William Vaughn Jr., 7, of Macon Miss.

The only witnesses were small children who said the trio waved at them from time to time but could not get back to shore in the rough water.

There was a strong undertow. All adults in the area were inside a fishing camp concession at the time, Mrs. N. J. Brown, the Vaughn boy's grandmother, said.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith of Gilchrist are parents of the Smith children. Mr. and Mrs. William Vaughn Sr. and their son were visiting the father's family.

Heart Attack Fatal To Ex-Convict

DALLAS (AP) — City detectives learned Friday that a distinguished looking man who suffered a fatal heart attack at a tire store was a fugitive sought for four years on check forgery charges.

They identified him as Garland W. Daniels, 60, an ex-convict.

He was stricken while talking with a store clerk Thursday and died before reaching a hospital. A woman identifying herself as his daughter quickly made funeral arrangements.

An investigation began, however, because the patient had given a doctor one name and hospital attendants another.

Homicide Capt. Will Fritz said the 23-year-old woman posing as a daughter admitted between sobs that she and Daniel had lived together nearly five years.

She told of fleeing with him from one state to another after they cashed worthless checks in dozens of cities, Fritz said.

Detectives filled a truck with items from an apartment occupied by the couple and four children.

Officers said the articles were bought with worthless checks and included diamond rings, loose diamonds, costly guns, television sets, a recorder, an electric typewriter, an adding machine and clothing.

Juvenile authorities placed the children, two months to 6 years old, in a foster home.

FBI agent J. Gordon Shanklin said the young woman is accused of passing bad checks at Rocky Mount, N. C., and will be charged here with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. He said Daniels had been sought on a check charge at Hampton, Va., and as a federal parole violator.

Official's Death Still A Mystery

Editor's note: One of the great mysteries four years ago was the strange death of Henry Marshall. He was shot and, possibly gassed. Because the Billie Sol Estes scandal was at its peak and Marshall was a federal-state farm executive, a tie was sought but never found. The official verdict was suicide. But was it?

By Robert C. Stewart Jr.
City editor, Bryan Daily Eagle
Written for Associated Press

BRYAN (AP) — "You just don't know. You just sit and wonder what happened."

Thus does Mrs. Henry Marshall speak of her husband's death four years ago last week.

Marshall was chief of production adjustment for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Administration in Texas.

Four years ago last Thursday Marshall, 51, of Bryan, was found dead on his farm near Franklin. He had been shot five times. Near his body was a .22 caliber bolt-action rifle.

The question of suicide or murder, even after a grand jury investigation, remains unanswered.

Mrs. Marshall says four years have not changed her opinion that her husband was murdered.

"My husband didn't indicate anything wrong when he left here that morning," she said.

Mrs. Marshall, in an interview with the Bryan Daily Eagle, said her life has settled into a routine.

"I've learned to accept his death," she continued. "After all, I have my child to live for."

The years haven't been easy. There has been the curious public to deal with, a grand jury investigation just 11 months after her husband's death which called for the body to be exhumed, illness and major surgery twice.

One point in particular worries her—lack of an autopsy at once after Marshall's death.

"I don't know. It was done (embalming) so long before the investigation, sometimes I wonder." The autopsy came 11 months after the death.

"I didn't know about autopsies or how to get one," she continued. "Maybe if it was done then, there would be no doubts. But a man called and said he couldn't get one and I said okay."

She attributed this to her inability to make decisions at the time.

"I didn't know how to do anything," she said, noting her dependence on her husband. "But I've certainly learned a lot since.

"For three months I was just in a daze."

Now she keeps busy with church work, a number of clubs and caring for their son, Don, 14.

"I haven't touched a cent of my husband's money," she said. "If he were to come back today he would find it just as he left it."

Mrs. Marshall, attractive at 46, lives on personal income she had at the time of Marshall's death. She said the $1,000 reward she offered for information leading to solution of her husband's death is still in effect.

A similar reward was offered by Robert Marshall of Franklin, a brother.

The two offered the $2,000 reward after a grand jury in 1962 asserted evidence was "inconclusive to substantiate a definite decision at this time, or to override any decision heretofore made."

Marshall's death originally was ruled suicide by Justice of Peace Lee Farmer. That verdict means Marshall shot himself five times. There also was evidence he had breathed carbon monoxide gas and was beaten.

Officers keep the case open to run down every lead they get.

The Pecos promoter, Billie Sol Estes, was subpoenaed to appear at the grand jury hearing in Franklin in June 1962. He apparently shed no light on the case

Dist. Judge John Barron, who presided at the grand jury hearing, said last week that there is "nothing new."

"While there has been no conclusion as to who committed a homicide, if one was committed, the facts have been vigorously pursued by myself, county attorney Bryan Russ of Robinson County and the Texas Department of Public Safety," Barron said

West Germany's Reichstag Is Slowly Shedding Scars

By GEORGE ARFELD

BERLIN, (AP) — The Reichstag — one of the first and last symbols of Adolf Hitler's regime — is slowly shedding its war scars.

An impressive work of restoration aims to turn it once again into a house of parliament.

The building hasn't heard a parliamentary debate since the night of Feb. 27, 1933, when fire gutted the structure and Hitler seized this as an excuse to establish dictatorial power.

Until Germany is reunified, it probably will remain a seldom-used stage for democracy on the very brink of the Communist world.

The scene of savage fighting during the last throes of the Third Reich, the massive Reichstag is now about one-fourth rebuilt.

Under the guidance of architect Paul Baumgarten, 71, the gray sandstone structure is to retain its stately Italian Renaissance exterior while receiving a sedate, ultramodern treatment inside.

"Originally the question was whether to demolish the Reichstag ruin or to rebuild it," Baumgarten said.

It was decided to rebuild. The reconstruction will cost an estimated $20 million and is not expected to be completed before 1970.

Only 200 workers are presently engaged in the restoration. This would seem to indicate that the West German government, which is footing the bill, does not see an early German reunification.

The West German Bundestag sits in Bonn. The East Germans, who surrounded West Berlin, do not recognize West Germany's claim that West Berlin is one of her states and the Bundestag has a right to hold sessions in the divided city.

The Reichstag suffered its worst damage in May 1945. Russian soldiers routed fanatic Nazi units holed up inside the Reichstag by spraying every nook and corner with flamethrowers. The intense change in temperature cracked hundreds of stone blocks and charred what had survived the 1933 arsonists.

Today the entire exterior has been restored, using sandstone from the same Silesian quarries from which architect Paul Wallot drew the original blocks between 1884 and 1894. The Communist-built Berlin wall runs a few feet behind the rear of the Reichstag, backed by rows of barbed wire.

The south wing is the only one fully restored so far. In it are the offices of the president (speaker) of the assembly, plus conference, committee and reception rooms. The old gingerbread interior has been replaced by modern quarters, designed with an eye for light and space.

20 DAYS TO PALO DURO CANYON

Will Sturdivant Recalls Early-Day Cattle Drives

By TERRY WILLIAMSON

"It took us just about twenty days to drive them cattle from Snyder to Palo Duro Canyon." Those were the words of Will Sturdivant as he thought back on just some of the memories that he has acquired in his 88 years of life.

He celebrated his 88th birthday Friday here in Snyder, Texas, the same place in which he grew up and helped develop.

Mr. Sturdivant's favorite story is his trail drive of 1000 head of cattle from Snyder to Palo Duro Canyon. "I was hired on (the drive) by a man by the name of Rube Clayton out by an old hitching post in Snyder. With them poor old cows and horses we were lucky if we'd make a good six miles a day. I sure got tired of that old horse."

Surely this is a vivid picture of the early days of Snyder and Scurry County. It was a time when a man could be sure of himself and get things done. There was not much confusion and that is why Mr. Sturdivant says he lived so long. Also by the fact that he never smoked, drank or chewed.

A trail drive in those days was not easy by any means, but the hardest thing according to Mr. Sturdivant, was putting up with the cook.

"We had a cook by the name of Henry Miller, and one night after a hard day old Henry washed his feet in the same pan that he had used making the bread, and I was the only one with a stomach strong enough to eat the bread the next day. All them cowpokes just couldn't take it."

Mr. Sturdivant was born in 1877 in Brown County, but when he was very young he moved to Scurry County out by "Greene Springs." His father settled some of his land and bought mules, better than horses for farming. He broke over 30 acres of land with "them critters."

Living in those days was more difficult than today, Mr. Sturdivant admits. But those were the times he loved best; those are the times he likes to talk about. In fact, he invites any of his friends or strangers to come on out for a visit. He is now living at 108 Thirty-third Street here in Snyder.

Ya'll come. Just ask for Will.

Know What To Do In Case Of Snake Bite?

AUSTIN — Prompt attention to snake bite victims was recommended by J. Weldon Watson, executive director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, in a seasonal warning that poisonous reptiles are on the move.

Referring to a department pamphlet, Watson said it is important that snake bite victims receive quick first aid treatment, and then quoted from the document:

"The patient must not exert himself by running, because increased circulation brought on by such physical activity will speed up absorption of the poison. For the same reason, the use of whiskey or other stimulants should be avoided.

"The victim's state of mind is important; he must promptly be convinced that his chances for recovery are good — and, indeed, they are. He should not be terrified by the thought that every snake bite means certain death. Actually, a survey of case histories shows that with prompt and proper treatment, only about one or two per cent of all snake bites in this country are fatal.

"There is a considerable difference of opinion about the correct first aid treatment for poisonous snake bite. The Division of Medical Sciences of the National Research Council, a section of the National Academy of Sciences, recently made a study to determine the most effective method of such treatment. It recommended immobilization of the bitten limb, application of a constricting band, and prompt incision and suction.

"Based on these recommendations, the following first aid treatment for poisonous snake bite is suggested:

"Immobilize the affected arm or leg whenever possible. Where this is not practicable, keep movement of the bitten limb to a minimum. Muscular activity helps increase the spread of venom. Whenever feasible, transport the victim by litter to further medical aid.

"Apply a constricting band from two to four inches above the bite, between the wound and the heart. This will help to limit the spread of venom until it can be removed by incision and suction or neutralized by antivenim. A piece of rubber tubing or a strap tourniquet, included with every snake bite kit, is best for this purpose. When these are not available, items of clothing may be used. A shoe lace, neckerchief or a strip of clothing torn from shirt or trousers will do. The poison, unless injected directly into a major blood vessel or deeply into a muscle, is absorbed slowly by the lymphatics below the skin. Therefore, do not restrict the deeper blood circulation by applying the constricting band too tightly. It should be loose enough for a finger to be slipped under it with little difficulty. Remember that during first aid treatment the constricting band must be loosened every 15 minutes for about two minutes. This precaution may prevent gangreene. If the bite is on the hand or forearm, take off rings, bracelets or other jewelry because subsequent swelling may make their removal difficult.

"Make incisions after sterilizing the cutting instrument and the bite area with iodine or alcohol. If no antiseptic is available, the blade of the cutting instrument can be sterilized by holding it over a flame (a match will do). Make one cut over each fang mark parallel with the long axis of the bitten limb, not across it. Incisions should be one-quarter inch deep, but definitely no longer than the diameter of the suction apparatus being used. This would allow air to enter the suction bulb from the outside and the device would then be unable to work. Incisions are of the utmost importance to first aid treatment; without them, little or no poison can be withdrawn from the wound by suction. However, making even a small incision involves some risk and this operation should be done with considerable care. Improper or carelessly applied first aid may actually do more harm than good. Although a physician may later decide to make additional incisions to relieve the pressure of swelling, only the cuts over the fang marks are recommended for first aid.

"Apply suction to the cuts. This can best be done with one of the suction devices manufactured for that purpose but, if none is available, suction can be applied by mouth. There is little danger in oral suction unless the lips or inside of the mouth have cuts or abraisons. Contrary to popular opinion, a tooth cavity will not permit passage of the venom into the blood. Moreover, snake venom is destroyed by the stomach's digestive juices, so if some is accidentally swallowed, there is little need to worry if you have a healthy system. Only during the first 30 minutes following the bite can much venom be removed by incision and suction.

"Get to medical aid as soon as possible — but keep in mind that unnecessary physical exertion is harmful."

Watson pointed out that only rattlesnakes, coral snakes, cottonmouth water moccasins and copperheads are poisonous among the Texas reptiles.

NFL, AFL To Have Tussle; Both Could Be Real Winners

By BOB GREEN

NEW YORK (AP) — The old established National Football League and the brash young American Football League are engaged in a tidy little tussle that may produce no losers—just winners.

Armed with millions and millions of dollars in television money, and immense public interest, both the 14-team NFL and eight-team AFL have announced plans to expand and share the wealth.

If there are any potential losers, they are only the many cities that have made bids for franchises and won't get them.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle has recommended his league add two teams by 1967. Houston is almost certain to be one of them. Boston, Miami and New Orleans are likely contenders for the other spot.

Houston and Boston have teams in the AFL.

AFL Commissioner Joe Foss, when informed of the NFL move, said he'd thought about it much longer and might expand sooner, perhaps putting two new teams on the field by 1966.

Atlanta is almost certain to be one of them. The other prime contenders are Philadelphia, Miami and New Orleans. Chicago is another strong possibility.

The NFL is firmly entrenched in Philadelphia and Chicago.

The AFL has an expansion meeting scheduled in New Jersey Monday and Tuesday. The league is expected to announce its two expansion cities at that time, beating the NFL to the punch by a year.

Atlanta has been pressing for an AFL franchise for some time and is apparently a bit miffed with the NFL. This dates back to the time the city was passed over in favor of St. Louis when the Cardinal franchise was shifted from Chicago.

Multimillion dollar offers have been made—and refused—to shift existing AFL franchises in Denver and San Diego to Atlanta. The southern city also has a new $18 million stadium to offer, sure-fire attendance and a television audience throughout the South.

Marking Philadelphia as a strong AFL possibility is the fact that Jerry Wolman, president of the NFL Philadelphia Eagles, has vigorously sought—but failed to acquire—exclusive use of a proposed $25 million stadium.

The Philadelphia group seeking an AFL franchise is a syndicate headed by Joseph McCrane, a one-time football player under Col. Red Blaik at West Point and now head of Garden State Park race track. Blaik would be a stockholder.

There is, however, a possibility that both Philadelphia and Chicago will be passed over by the AFL this time in favor of future expansion in 1968.

"It is our hope to add two teams for 1966 and two more in the next couple of years, probably by 1968," Foss said. "We are looking for the big cities, those that can take two teams but where only one team now exists."

He named Philadelphia and Chicago, along with Los Angeles, San Francisco, Cleveland and Detroit.

Houston appears headed for an NFL franchise because of recent maneuvering concerning use of the famed domed stadium. The AFL Houston Oilers announced Friday they have signed a five-year contract to play their games in Rice Stadium, leaving the domed stadium wide open for football.

Boston, the hub of New England, is the biggest metropolitan area untapped by the NFL.

Miami and New Orleans have excellent stadiums and professed interest, but may be lacking by comparison in the matter of "market," all-important in this day of television.

Rozelle said that with expansion, two eight-team conferences may be formed, each with two four-team divisions. The divisional leaders then would play off for the conference title and the conference winners play for the league title.

Both Rozelle and Foss predicted they would gain approval for their expansion plans. The AFL requires the vote of six of eight league directors, the NFL the approval of 12 of 14.

Snyder Tennis Team In Tourney

Snyder's tennis team competed in a tournament with three other AAAA El Paso teams last Tuesday through Thursday.

The team did not fare too well, but was their first time to face AAAA competition, and, according to their coach Ken McAlister, improved greatly toward the end of the tournament.

The bright spot in the Snyder performance came at the last of the tournament in doubles play against Jefferson High School in Round III. Gordon Stokes and Ronnie Detrich were defeated by Marquez and Aguliar by the scores of 2-6, 6-2, and 6-4. Sandy Wellborn and Mickey Almond beat Armijo and Hernandez by the scores of 1-6, 6-4, 6-1. In the last match, Gary Blackshear and Jerry Bell beat Morales and Jacquez 8-6, 6-4.

Those were the only matches that the Snyder team was able to win. In Round I Coronado beat Snyder nine matches to nothing as did Bowie High in Round II. In round III Snyder was beaten seven minutes to two by Jefferson.

Those to make the trip to El Paso were Gordon Stokes, Ronnie Detrich, Sandy Wellborn, Gary Blackshear, Jerry Bell, and Mickey Almond. The team received the sportsmanship trophy when the tournament had ended.

Oilers Skip Dome Comfort

HOUSTON (AP) — County Judge Bill Elliott has called for an investigation of the Houston Oilers decision to play their American Football League games in Rice University Stadium instead of the new Astrodome here.

The club announced Friday that it would play in Rice's 70,000-seat stadium rather than the 55,000-seat all-weather arena.

"I think an investigation should be made to protect the county's rights," Judge Elliott said.

The county owns the domed stadium, but the Houston Sports Association, owners of the Houston Astros, has a 40-year lease on it.

"This was written into the original contract (with the HSA) so a situation such as this would not arise," the judge said.

The Oilers reportedly agreed last December to rent the Astrodome for 10 years, but no contract was signed. Oiler owner Bud Adams said Friday that he was unable to get Roy Hofheinz, president of the HSA, to negotiate terms of the contract.

"I got the impression that Roy was trying to take us right down to the last possible moment when he would have us over a barrel and then dictate terms to us," Adams said.

Hofheinz said the announcement was "a surprise and a disappointment" to him. He said he talked with Adams for four hours a week ago on the terms of the proposed Oiler lease of the stadium.

And two conference appointments this past week were canceled by the Oilers, he said.

Julius Boros Fires 70 In Buick Open

GRAND BLANC, Mich. AP) — Add Julius Boros to the list of people not afraid of the tough Warwick Hills golf course. He shot a two-under par 70 Friday to grab the second round lead in the $100,000 Buick Open.

His 139 gave him a two-stroke lead over seven others, including defending champion Tony Lema, Gary Player, Doug Sanders, Jack Nicklaus, and first-round leader Steve Spray.

Player, who recorded one of three 68s, said he was very happy with his round, especially on "this monster course."

George Archer and Jacky Cupit had the other 68s over the 7,280-yard layout, longest course on the pro tour.

Only 14 pros checked in with sub-par scores after two rounds of play.

Boros, 45, had four birdies and two bogies and holed a 50-foot explosion shot from a bunker on the eighth hole.

It took a score of 150 or better to advance to the final two rounds.

Among the casualties were U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi, Bruce Crampton, the only three-time winner on this year's tour; Mike Souchak, who won here in 1960, Don January, Chi Chi Rodriguez and Bob Charles.

College World Series Teams Are Qualified

OMAHA (AP) — The field for the NCAA college baseball world series opening in Omaha Monday was completed Friday night as Connecticut and Arizona State qualified.

Connecticut took the District 1 championship by defeating Holy Cross, 7-0, and Arizona State University won the District 7 playoff by defeating Colorado State College, 12-3.

Dodgers, Phills Take League Wins

The Dodgers slipped by the Sports 8-5 in Pony League action while the Phillies downed the Yankees 4-0 in the Colt League.

It was Bobby Clardy that threw the three hit shutout to defeat the Yankees. Clardy struck out 10 batters and allowed only two runners to get as far as third base. The Phillies scored three runs in the fifth inning to ice down the victory. They had taken the lead in the third inning when Clardy had scored.

The Dodgers scored four runs in the first inning and were never behind in the contest in taking the victory. The Dodgers collected 10 hits and scored eight runs in winning the close game. The Sports scored two runs in the seventh inning, but just could not close the gap. Jackie Weaver collected four hits in five trips to the plate in the winning cause for the Dodgers. One of the hits was a double while the other three were singles.

VIENNA (AP) — Figure skating's controversial judging rules will remain controversial as a result of disagreement at a Congress of the International Skating Union Friday.

The figure skating commission of the 22-nation body split over proposals to revaluate free skating in championships by awarding it the same number of points as compulsory skating.

Under current rules, compulsory skating is valued higher — 60 points to 40 — by the jury than free skating despite the fact that the latter is the real eye-catcher in international competitions.

Houston Gets Gentile From Kansas City A's

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros announced Friday they had obtained first baseman Jim Gentile from the Kansas City Athletics.

Astro officials said they gave Kansas City $100,000 and right-handed pitcher Jesse Hickman and another player to be named later in exchange for Gentile.

Gentile, 31, has 10 home runs this year. His best year was 1961 at Baltimore when he hit 46 home runs and drove in 141 runs with a .302 batting average.

Hickman is now at Oklahoma City of the Pacific Coast League.

At Kansas City, A's general manager Hank Peters said the Athletics traded off the temperamental Gentile in order to give a young first baseman, Ken Harrelson, a chance to play regularly.

"We traded Gentile because we felt that we had to give Ken Harrelson an opportunity to play regularly," said Peters.

SEEKS BOWLING LAURELS —Betty Kuczynski of Chicago, above, 25, who stands 5-feet, 3-inches, may become the new queen of bowling now that Marion Ladewig has retired. Since last August she has won $6,000. (AP Wirephoto)

St. Louis' Bob Gibson Having Pitching Trouble

By BOB GREEN

Hoot Gibson hasn't had so much trouble since the time the Indians surrounded him in a burning wagon and he ran out of bullets.

Of course, the old-time movie hero got out of that one.

The St. Louis Cardinals' Hoot Gibson, sometimes known as Bob, still has his bullets, but he doesn't know whether he's going to get out of his current jam.

The Card right-hander fired one at Ron Brand Friday night and the Houston catcher sent it ricocheting into the stands for a three-run homer and a 5-2 victory.

It pinned the third straight loss on the Cards' 1964 World Series hero, marked St. Louis' ninth loss in 11 games and sent the World Champions dipping to the .500 mark.

They remained in fifth place, still 6½ games back, when National League-leading Los Angeles dropped a 5-2 decision at Milwaukee. The New York Mets won their fourth straight, holding off the Pirates 2-1 at Pittsburgh, and the Reds edged San Francisco 4-2 in other night games. Philadelphia blanked the Cubs 6-0 at Chicago in the only day game.

In the American League, Chicago beat the New York Yankees 2-0 in 15 innings, Cleveland nipped Detroit 7-6, Minnesota bombed Washington 9-5 and the Los Angeles Angels edged Baltimore 4-3. Boston at Kansas City was rained out.

Gibson was breezing along with a one-hitter and a 1-0 lead when he walked Joe Morgan in the sixth. Walt Bond promptly homered for a 2-0 Houston lead.

The Cards tied it later and it went to the ninth. A walk and Rusty Staub's single preceded Brand's two-out homer, his first of the season and only the fifth hit off Gibson.

A three-run homer in the ninth broke up another 2-2 game at Milwaukee. Eddie Mathews' 12th of the season did the job in that one, pulling the second-place Braves to within four games of the Dodgers. Winner Wade Blasingame started the winning rally with a single, followed by Felipe Alou's single.

Catcher Johnny Edwards' three-run homer, his third homer in four games, was the decisive factor in the Reds' victory over San Francisco. Willie McCovey's two-run shot accounted for all the Giant runs. Joey Jay was credited with the victory, but had to leave after five innings when his arm tightened.

The Mets' victory came in typical Met fashion — the winning run crossed in the seventh when the Pirates' Bill Mazeroski dropped the ball on an attempted double play, which would have ended the inning. Jack Fisher went the distance for his fifth victory, while Bob Friend lost his second in 15 lifetime decisions against New York.

Jim Bunning's five-hitter and a two-run homer by Wes Covington were enough to win against Chicago, but the Cubs chipped in with a couple of errors that made it even easier.

THE CARDS STOP A SCORING THREAT—St. Louis third baseman Ken Boyer tags sliding Hal Lanier of San Francisco Giants at San Francisco — thereby ending scoring threat and preserving Cards' 2-1 margin. Lanier was on way to third when Willie Mays, pinch hitting, grounded to Boyer. (AP Wirephoto)

Snyder Tigers And Kermit To Meet In Regional Tilt

Coach Ken (Milo) Mays, who guides the Kermit High School baseball team, will field a heavy - hitting diamond crew Monday when the Yellow Jackets host the Snyder Tigers in the opening game of their regional series.

The game is scheduled for 3 p.m. Monday on the Kermit diamond.

The Jackets have six players who have seen more or less regular service hitting over .300. Topping this group is Rickey Buford, an outfielder, who has hit safely 35 times in 96 trips to the plate for a .365 mark. Bill Blaxton, the third baseman, is hitting at a .326 clip, while Shortstop Teddy Baremore is hitting .322, Catcher Jim Reynolds is hitting .320, Outfielder Joe Scott is hitting .304 and Benjy Lawrence who plays in the outfield and pitches, has a .303 average.

Travis Underwood is the assistant coach of the Yellow Jackets, who have won 20 games while losing 12 over the season. They won their district championship with an 8-2 record in conference play.

The Tigers and the Yellow Jackets will be battling for a place in the state tournament. The Snyder team advanced to the regional round by winning two straight from Wichita Falls Hirschi by scores of 8-5 and 4-3, with the first game going extra innings.

Kermit crammed Hereford two games to one in bi-district play, the Jackets winning the first game, 10-0, and the third game, 4-1, while Hereford copped the second game of their series, 1-0.

Scene of action in the regional series will switch to Snyder next Thursday. The Yellow Jackets will come here for a game to begin at 1 p.m. and if a third game is needed to determine the regional champion, the Thursday card will be turned into a doubleheader.

Jim Kapka and Lefthander, Johnny Hernandez head the Kermit mound corps, while two righthanders, L. R. Walt and Jerry Owen, carry the pitching load for the Tigers. All four of the talented youngsters on the two teams are seniors, and all four will be ready for duty in Monday's game.

Cardinals Win Yanks, A's Tie

In Little League action Friday night, the Cardinals downed the Giants 6-2 while the Yankees and Athletics played nine innings before they were forced to quit. The game was called after the score was tied at 8-8.

The Cardinals conintued to roll in National League as they scored four runs in the third and two more in the fourth. Center fielder David Thompson led off the third inning with a home run, and that seemed to get things rolling for the Cards. Bruce Almond was the winning pitcher in that game. The Giants at one time had a two run lead in the game, but that was before the Cards erupted in the third.

The Yankees and Athletics played all for naught. Friday night as nobody could break the 8-8 tie in the ninth inning. The Yankees had collected eight hits while the 'A's had managed six hits.

Snyder Eagles Play Big Spring Team

The Gage Oilers have already defeated the Eagles once this year in a game in Big Spring. Sunday afternoon the Eagles will be out to even things up a little.

43 Score In Farm League

The Cardinals ripped the Giants 13-4 and the Yankees beat the Athletics 21-5 in Farm League action Friday night.

The Yankees scored in every inning in scoring their 21 runs and taking the victory. The A's scored four of their five runs in the fourth inning, but could never mount any other threats. The big inning for the Yankees was in the fourth also when they scored 10 runs and sent 15 hitters to the plate.

The Cardinals played steady ball to gain their victory over the Giants. They gave only scattered runs to the Giants whose biggest inning was a two run third inning. The Cardinals had a five run fourth inning for their largest scoring effort.

Eddie Fisher Can't Zing Only Uses Slow Knuckler

By MIKE RATHET

Eddie Fisher can't zing, but that's some record he's cutting.

Fisher, the ace Chicago reliever who employs the elusive knuckleball rather than a zinging fast ball, held the New York Yankees to one hit over the final six innings before the White Sox finally pulled out a 2-0 decision in 15 innings Friday night.

Fisher has a 5-0 record with an eye-popping 1.59 ERA.

And if that doesn't really prove his effectiveness, the White Sox have won 17 of the 25 games in which he's appeared.

Fisher, however, had to share honors with teammate Danny Cater, who came to the plate in the 15th, hitless in his last 18 at bats and promptly drilled a homer that broke up the scoreless battle.

The loss dropped the defending American League champion Yankees 11½ games behind front-running Minnesota — the farthest they've been behind all season. The Twins remained 1½ games up on the White Sox by belting Washington 9-5.

Elsewhere, Cleveland edged Detroit 7-6 and the Los Angeles Angels defeated Baltimore 4-3. The Boston-Kansas City game was rained out.

In the National League, Milwaukee downed the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-2, Cincinnati beat San Francisco 4-2, Houston whipped St. Louis 5-2, Philadelphia blanked the Chicago Cubs 6-0 and the New York Mets edged Pittsburgh 2-1.

Cater broke up the scoreless tie between the White Sox and the Yankees with a line shot to right field off Pete Mikkelsen. Floyd Robinson provided the other Chicago run with another homer, also to right.

Joe Horlen started for the White Sox and Bill Stafford for the Yankees. Horlen checked the Yankees on six hits, struck out seven and walked only one in nine innings.

Jimmie Hall stroked three hits for the Twins and turned in some daring base running while Gerry Fosnow ended the Senators' come-from-behind hopes with 2 2-3 innings of hitless relief.

Hall circled the bases for an inside-the-park homer in the fourth inning, then stretched a hit into a double in the seventh and scored from second base when Rich Rollins was safe on an error.

Bob Allison also homered for Minnesota while Woodie Held hit a three-run shot for Washington that chased Jim Katt and brought on Fosnow.

Joe Azcue drove in the tying and winning runs for the Indians with a pinch single in the eighth inning off Larry Sherry. The game-winner followed walks to Max Alvis and Chuck Hinton plus a ground out that put both runners in scoring position.

Al Kaline hit his ninth homer for the Tigers, off Ralph Terry, who was trying for the sixth time to nail the 100th victory of his career. Pedro Gonzalez connected for Cleveland.

Baltimore catcher Johnny Orsino, whose throwing error helped the Angels to their second run in the third inning, opened the door for two more in the fifth when he let the third strike to winning pitcher Marcelino Lopez get by him for a passed ball.

Jose Cardenal, Albie Pearson and Jim Fregosi then singled to bring in the runs that proved decisive.

Midland Has Triple Leaders In Tourney

MIDLAND AP) — The Texas Amateur Golf Tournament had triple leaders today as a field cut to 89 went out in the third round.

Ras Allen of Cleburne, Buddy Branum of Midland and Bobby Lockett of San Angelo were tied for the lead at 36 holes with 145.

The three former champions still were in the field but not very strongly. Defending champion Marty Fleckman of Port Arthur had 153 and was eight strokes away from the lead. David Spec) Goldman of Dallas had 156 and Billy Bob Coffey of Fort Worth had 159, which made the cut exactly.

$1691
What's the catch?
There isn't any.
Plunk $1691 into a salesman's hand and he'll plunk you into the seat of a new 1965 Volkswagen Deluxe Sedan. (Give him $30 more, and you'll be plunked into a Volkswagen with matching leatherette upholstery.)
Of course, you'll have to buy license plates and pay local tax. But that is it.
Sound a little too simple? Perhaps. But then the Volkswagen is a simple little car.

REMODELING? CHECK CITY REGULATIONS

What can the average homeowner do in the way of improving his house without running afoul of the city building regulations?

"Just about anything he wants to as long as he stays inside the walls of his home," answers City Building Inspector W. A. Cooper, Jr.

As long as he abides by certain city regulations which are designed primarily for safety, Cooper explains, a person in Snyder is free to build his own home from the ground up, including all plumbing and electricity.

But — and this is a big qualification — his work still has to pass all the city inspections just as it would have to if the work were done by licensed professionals.

All this is not as complicated as it may sound, provided the person doing the work takes enough trouble to find out what the city requires in its inspections. And that's where the average homeowner begins to run into "National Building Codes," "National Electrical Codes," etc. and wonders if he really knows what he is doing.

Whether he is going to add a room, put in an extra shower or wash basin, or just wire in that extra light in the garage, the homeowner must get a permit from the Building Officials office in the city hall. The same requirement holds if the work is done by professional, licensed experts, Cooper points out. They already are aware of the regulations.

The permits carry with them the provisions for inspection by city personnel to assure compliance with all ordinances.

In the case of building permits, required for any construction that goes outside the existing building line of a residence, this includes inspection of such things as proper distance inside property lines for the construction, minimum lot size requirements, limitation on the number of dwelling units in a particular zone, and other requirements.

Failure to obtain a permit to pass inspection after the work is done could result in costly delays if it is discovered and could even cause the homeowner to go to the expense of removing the construction in extreme cases, Cooper pointed out.

"Anytime there is any doubt it is always best to check with the building inspector to avoid possible trouble later on," Cooper said.

Persons planning to do their own electrical work — and this, like plumbing for water or gas, is permitted only in the person's own home and not on his rental property, Cooper points out — should know enough about wiring to do a safe job.

The inspector checks to see that traps in sewer lines are installed properly, that gas lines do not leak and also checks a number of other requirements in the building code.

Cooper pointed out that no gas lines are permitted under concrete slabs and any sewer lines under slabs must be of cast iron. This requirement is made because of the difficulty in finding leaks and in repairing them if they develop under concrete slabs, he said.

Another permit that is needed if the homeowner plans any covered construction outside the established building line is the "building permit."

About the only things you can build legally without a building permit are an open patio or a fence, and there are restrictions on the fence height in the building ordinance, although no permit is required. The fence cannot be over 2½ feet high at the front property line, Cooper said.

It is possible, however, to remodel a room or to move interior partitions in a residence without obtaining a building permit, Cooper pointed out. As a general rule, he said, no permit is required where the proposed construction remains inside the existing building line.

Such things as covered patios, storage rooms, carports, garages or the conversion of carports or garages into rooms, all require building permits.

In cases where this type of construction is started without consulting the Building Inspector's office, the homeowner is put to the additional expense of a Board of Adjustment hearing and in some cases is required to remove the construction.

Cost for the three types of permits — electrical, plumbing or building — is based upon the size of the project.

All building permits carry a minimum fee of $1.00.

Rainfall Catches Up During May

If anyone had predicted a month ago that Snyder's 1965 rainfall would be above average by the end of May it would not have been any more startling than an announcement that Fidel Castro had joined the John Birch Society.

Nevertheless it happened — the rain, that is — proving once again that no matter how dry it becomes, West Texas weather always has a habit of catching up eventually.

The month of May itself made the biggest contribution, of course, accounting for an official total of 7.21 inches. That lifted the total for the year to 8.14 inches, compared to an average of 7.41 for the first five months.

The May rainfall total was the second highest recorded here since records were started in 1911. The only other time the May total has gone as high as 7 inches was in 1950 when the month accounted for 7.37 inches. The average for May since 1911 is 3.19 inches.

The first four months of 1965 produced an entirely different picture. The high month for the first third of the year was February with .46 of an inch, and the grand total for the first four months of the year was a mere .93 of an inch. March, the driest month of all, accounted for only .03 of an inch.

Rites For W. A. Barnett Set Here

Funeral services have been set for 2 p.m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church here for Mr. William Alfred Barnett, 85, of Colorado City.

A retired farmer and grocery merchant, Mr. Barnett had lived in Snyder for 38 years before moving to Colorado City about five years ago. He died Thursday at Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City after an illness of about two weeks.

Mr. Barnett was a member of the First Baptist Church here. Dr. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor of the church, will officiate at the services. Burial will be in Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Kiker and Son Funeral Home of Colorado City. Grandsons will serve as pallbearers.

Mr. Barnett was born May 14, 1880 in Alabama. He is survived by his wife; two sons, Alfred of Odessa and Therman of Dalhart; six daughters, Mrs. Austin Guest and Mrs. Jack Starnes, both of Odessa, Mrs. Charlie Griffin of Delano, Cal., Mrs Jesse Bunch of Colorado City, Mrs. Howard Maedgen of Velera, Tex. and Mrs. Harold Haney of New Iberia, La.; two brothers, E. B. of Ft. Worth and C. D. of Glen Rose; one sister, Mrs. Tom Horton of Dallas; 24 grandchildren, and 27 great - grandchildren.

April Shows Increase In Business

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas business activity increased in April, but trends were mixed and overall growth was slightly less than in the first three months of the year, a business survey says.

The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research said the apparent mild slowing in April follows the national pattern.

"National economic growth during the first three months had been stimulated by special temporary influences — the attempts of automobile producers to make up for production losses caused by the industry's strikes last fall and the effort of steel users to build up stocks in advance of a May 1 steel strike deadline (now postponed until Sept. 1)," the Bureau said.

Texas oil production and runs to stills showed adjusted gains of 1 per cent over March.

Urban buildings permits showed an adjusted increase of 13 per cent from March, led by a 42 per cent gain for nonresidential building, he said.

Retail sales during April fell back to about their January levels, after a strong gain in March.

"Auto sales, which had accounted for much of the March advance, were largely responsible for the April decline," the account said.

Snyderite's Father Dies At Fort Worth

Funeral services were held Tuesday at Fort Worth for Sidney L. Henson, former Snyder resident and father of Mrs. Grady Bynum.

Mr. Henson died last Sunday in a Fort Worth hospital. He had lived here several months in 1964 and resided here again last March at 2708 Avenue W.

Rains Dull Area Demand For Water

May started with a thrist but dwindled to a trickle for the Colorado River Municipal Water District in comparison with the normal pattern for the month.

What appeared, on the basis of consumptions during the first week of the month, to be a sure billion-gallon - or - better May suddenly turned the other direction. Final figures showed production of 970,994,286 gallons, down 17.45 per cent from the 1,176,209,198 gallons for May 1964.

Member cities showed a 27.16 per cent drop in consumption for the month in using 646,256,900 gallons. On the other hand, oil companies were up 12.35, due principally to addition of the Perkins - Prothro draw to the Sun Oil contract. However, both Lion Oil and Sharon Ridge in Scurry County showed substantial increases for the month. The companies together used 324,737,386 gallons.

Odessa consumption was 365,950,000, down 28.51 per cent, Big Spring 222,173,000, down 22.75; and Snyder 58,133,900, down 33.69 per cent. Cool and then pleasantly wet weather accounted for the sharp drop.

For the first five months of the year the system has delivered 4,086,199,670 gallons, down 7.23 per cent for the period.

JOHN CASSIDY (Rod Taylor) and pretty music hall entertainer Daisy Battles (Julie Christie) share a romantic interlude in "Young Cassidy," MGM picture based on the autobiography of Sean O'Casey. It is coming to the Canyon Drive In Theater here Sunday, June 13.

Conservationist Describes County's Major Soil Type

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Following is the third in a series describing the various soils which are found in Scurry County.)

By MARVIN L. DIXON
Soil Conservation Service

The Abilene and Wichita association (Deep Hardland soils) is the largest soil association in the county. It is about 230,385 acres in extent, and makes up about 40 per cent of the county.

The largest areas are in the southeastern and northwestern parts of the county. Smaller areas are scattered throughout the rest of the county.

Abilene soils comprise about 52 percent of the association. They have brown to dark grayish brown clay loam surfaces and blocky light clay subsoils. They occur on nearly level to gently sloping slopes.

Wichita soils comprise about 40 percent of the association. Typically these soils have brown to reddish brown clay loam and loam surfaces and reddish brown blocky heavy clay loam to light clay subsoils. They occur on nearly level to gently sloping slopes.

In addition to the dominant Abilene and Wichita soils, the association includes areas of Mansker, Roscoe, Randall, and Spur soils. The Mansker soils are moderately deep and occur on gently sloping ridges. Spur soils occur along the flood plains of small streams. The Roscoe and Randall soils occur in depressed areas.

About 85 percent of this association is cultivated and is very productive. Cotton and grain sorghums are the main crops grown. The areas in rangeland consist of a good cover of short grasses.

Ernest Tubb To Present Shows Here Tuesday Night

Ernest Tubb, one of the all-time greats in the field of country music, is coming to Snyder for two performances Tuesday.

The two shows will be presented in the Snyder High School auditorium, one beginning at 7 p.m. and another beginning at 9:15 p.m., under sponsorship of the IOOF Lodge. Advance tickets are on sale, priced at $1.50 each for adults and 50 cents each for children under 12.

"The popular Tubb, who speaks with an authentic Texas drawl, will be accompanied here by his Grand Ole Opry Band, the Texas Troubadors. This is the band that always assists Tubb when he makes recordings. Featured with the band are Jack Green, who recorded the hit tune, "Last Letter," Decca recording star Johnny Wiggins and many others.

Tubb, who is held in high regard in the nation's music world, both among associates and millions of fans, has sold millions of phonograph records and has made personal appearances in nearly every city in the United States and Canada. He was the first country music star to volunteer to go overseas to entertain armed forces.

His list of accomplishments include several national "hit" recordings, and a few years ago he was one of the most popular record-selling artists in all areas of the entertainment world when he broke all attendance records at Carnegie Hall in New York City.

Today, Tubb is recognized as one of the most popular recording artists, and as one of the people in show business. He has received many awards and titles, but still refers to himself merely as "The Texas Troubador."

A REAL EXPERT on what goes on at the Heart O' The Hills Camp is Carla Clements, right, who will be spending her fifth term there this year. She is shown taking a moment out while visiting the swimming pool at the Beacon Lodge to tell first - year campers Annette Woods and Connie Shuler what to expect at camp.

CAMP ACTIVITIES include archery, and Heart O' The Hills campers Pam Odom and Anna Lou Thompson decided that a little backyard practice before they left wouldn't hurt. Registration for the first term at the camp near Kerrville, is being held this Sunday.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

VOL. 16, NO. 31 SNYDER, TEXAS (79549) SUNDAY, JUNE 6, 1965 SECTION B

CAMP TIME IS . . .

FUN TIME

Summertime is a special time for young folks.

It's a time when they can do what they want to do, and forget all about school books.

And one of the "real fun" things that many lucky Snyder youngsters will be doing is going to camp.

Camp experiences are more than just fun. Campers learn new skills, make new friends, and participate in group living.

So let's forget that September is ever coming — right now it's Camp Time!

IT APPEARS THAT "DUKE" is doing his best to keep David and Steven Dillaha from completing their packing for camp. Not only is the pup lying on the bedroll, he's doing his best to look sad! But the boys, sons of Dr. and Mrs. Carl Dillaha, will get their possessions packed, and soon be off to a camp near Durango, Colo., where they'll enjoy horseback riding, swimming, riflery, and dozens of other activities.

CAMPING DAYS ARE GROWING - UP DAYS and two new Heart O' The Hill campers, Connie Boston and Kathy Shuler, will have less interest in swings than in the more interesting activities of horseback riding, swimming, canoeing, and the other camp activities. At right is Janeen Clements, a former Heart camper, who is returning for the July term as an office aide.

TWO SNYDER GIRLS who are returning again this year to the Heart O' The Hills Camp are Penny Jones and Kathleen O'Banion, pictured here. Tree climbing is not necassarily a camp activity, but it's fun, and it does get a person in shape!

Spring Outfit For Your Home

Here's a tip from the Tile Council of America on how you can give the house a "spring outfit" with a few simple changes or with a major overhaul. New draperies often give new life to a room grown dull through the long winter. New slipcovers or throw pillows can add bright accent colors. Dramatizing your lamps with bright new shades has almost the same effect as a new hat. If you embark on a kitchen modernization program, don't forget countertops of ceramic tile. Durable and easy to keep clean, ceramic tile offers the home decorator more than 250 colors and an infinite number of designs.

Wash and dry orange; cut in half; squeeze out juice and add to raisins and applesauce. With a sharp knife, chop both orange shells extremely fine; add to applesauce mixture; reserve.

On wax paper, stir together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, sugar and baking soda; thoroughly beat in egg; stir in reserved applesauce mixture. Stir in flour mixture until all particles are entirely moistened; stir in walnuts. Turn into a greased glass loaf pan (8½ by 4½ by 2¾ inches). Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 70 minutes or until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Turn out on a wire rack; turn right side up; cool.

You can make a delicious vegetable soup with small amounts of cooked leftover vegetables plus canned stewed tomatoes.

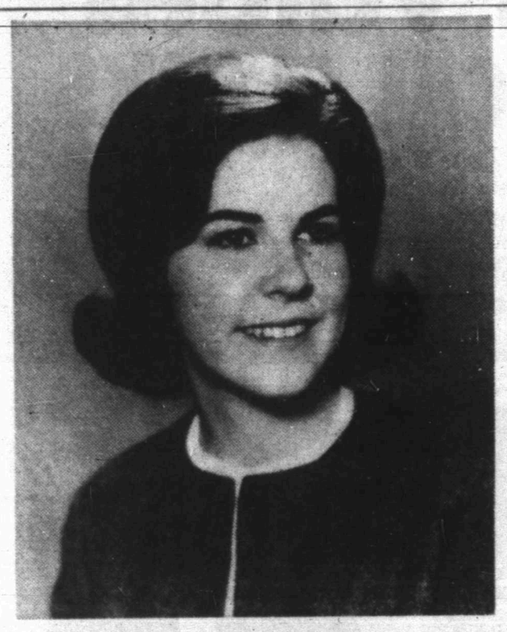
MR. AND MRS. JAMES C. SPRADLIN



TO WED—The Reverend and Mrs. Roy Lee Felder of Beaumont, Tex., announced the engagement of their daughter, Charlotte Ruth, to Mr. Kenneth Dale McAllister of Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. McAllister of Fort Stockton, Tex. The bride-elect attends Southwestern University in Georgetown, majoring in elementary education. McAllister is a graduate of Southwestern University, Georgetown, and is a math teacher at Lamar Junior High School, Snyder, and coaches the junior high and senior high tennis teams here. The couple will exchange vows on July 10th at 7:30 p.m. in North End Methodist Church, Beaumont.

Couple Renews Vows

On May 30th at Trinity Methodist Church, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Spradlin renewed their wedding vows on their silver wedding anniversary. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ross Dunn in the presence of their families and friends.

Mrs. Dan Ogden, daughter of the couple was matron of honor. Lea Cummings and Sheila Cox were bridesmaids. Bob Spradling served as best man for his father, and Jim Spradlin gave his mother in marriage. Dan Ogden was organist Johnny Daniell singing "Wither Thou Goest."

A reception was held in the ceremony.

Asparagus Cuts

2 pounds medium-thick asparagus
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons hot water

Cut off tough ends from asparagus. With a swivel-blade vegetable peeler, are off outer covering of stalks up to buds. Wash well in hot water; rinse in cold water. Cut off buds and slice in half lengthwise. Slice remaining stalks crosswise and diagonally almost paper - thin, making slices as long as possible. Into a 10-inch skillet turn the asparagus, butter (cut in small pieces) and water. Cover tightly and cook rapidly without scorching, stirring several times just until asparagus is wilted and as tender as you like — 3 to 5 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

A clean art gum eraser is often helpful in removing marks from wallpaper.

Pineapple Rolls

2 ounces cream cheese
¼ cup crushed pineapple, undrained
¼ cup finely chopped walnuts
8 slices fresh bread, trimmed
Butter, melted

Thoroughly mix together the cream cheese, pineapple and walnuts. With a rolling pin, slightly flatten the bread; spread one side of each slice with the cheese mixture; roll up slices; wrap tightly in saran; refrigerate about 30 minutes. Brush entire outside surface of rolls with melted butter. Place, end side down, on a cookie sheet. Bake in a very hot (450 degrees) oven until lightly browned — about 5 minutes.

For those picnic sandwiches, mix chopped hard-cooked eggs with ground cooked ham, sweet pickle relish and just enough mayonnaise or boiled dressing to moisten. This is an old-fashioned combination and oh, so good!

Gardener's Corner

A POWERFUL chemical "vaccination" is expected to help prevent elm trees from the beetle that spreads the ravaging Dutch Elm disease.

The federal government has authorized Shell Chemical Co. to market Bidrin for use on elm trees.

The systemic is injected into the tree trunk in specified dosages. The manufacturer reports that correctly applied it kills the elm bark beetle with little or no danger to humans, domestic animals, birds or other wild life.

The fungus - carrying beetle has helped spread the disease that has killed millions of the nation's beautiful shade elms. Buffalo, N. Y., alone, ("the city of trees") has removed more than 20,000 elms since 19151.

Bidrin is not available to the general public. Distribution will be limited to foresters, arborists, horticulturists and tree experts who have completed training programs.

Dutch Elm disease arrived in the United States in 1930 in elm-burl logs imported for veneer from Europe, where the disease was first defined in Holland in 1921.

The fungus infection is carried mainly by the European elm bark beetle, a dark brown, hardshelled insect 1-10th inch long.

The fungus spreads rapidly through the water - producing tubes of the elm, giving off a toxin that causes the tree to manufacture gums that plug the tubes. Leaves suddenly wilt and the tree dies.

Bidrin, its producer says, does not cure, but it repells or kills the fungus-carrying beetle when it emerges from its winter breeding sites in dead or dying trees and arrives to feed on healthy trees.

Bidrin injected into healthy trunks in early spring flows through the tree's circulatory system to the outermost twigs where most of the bark beetles feed. It stays toxic for about a month.

Lethal fungus infections of American elms due to feeding by the smaller European bark beetle occur for about 20 days in April, May or June, depending on tree, weather and geography.

Summer H. McAllister of Shell said Bidrin has been tested for five years under severe disease and insect conditions and has given nearly complete protection. Unprotected trees had casualty rates up to 40 per cent.

Heretofore, tree experts have advised destruction of infected trees. Spraying with huge doses of DDT or other insecticides plus strict sanitation often has been effective.

Elaborate precautions must be taken to safeguard personnel and trees, so toxic is Bidrin.

The injection involves tamper-proof capsules containing a mounts of Bidrin based on the size of the tree. It is injected through metal feeder tubes that functions like hypodermic needles. The tubes are driven into the tree at intervals of six inches around the trunk.

Library Notes

June, the traditional month of hearts and flowers, will have its usual number of weddings this year. Planning such an affair often times presents perplexing questions regarding proper etiquette. Scurry County Library has many good books to aid the bride-to-be and the prospective groom and their families in planning this important event.

Tradition dictates proper etiquette be used from the time of the announcement of the engagement to the wedding ceremony. Surely the days of the swain proposing on bended knee and the impassioned phrase, "Will you be mine?", are gone, but many formal conventions of the past still regulate etiquette for such occasions.

The late Eleanor Roosevelt wrote a book of etiquette for modern Americans. Mrs. Roosevelt concentrated on what she believed to be the basis of good human behavior. Advice given in her book, "Common Sense Etiquette," is realistically up-to-date. In this book she has incorporated a great deal of information on wedding preparations and has answered simply all questions that might arise when making wedding plans.

Among the better guides to planning a wedding is Marguerite Bentley's "Wedding Etiquette Complete." This author is an authority on wedding planning through her professional experience of years of helping with arranging such affairs. Her book covers everything from the engagement announcement to preparations for the momentous day when the bride and groom exchange marriage vows.

For those planning special showers, gifts for the bride-to-be Ruth Brent's book, "Parties for the Bride," will be helpful. The author describes in detail the very special occasions that precede a wedding, and explains them in a way that offers every hostess several workable plans for a variety of both formal and informal parties. Mrs. Brent includes complete information on invitations, table settings, decorations, menus, recipes, the serving of food, and the presentation of gifts. The book also contains helpful information on wedding etiquette for all members of the party, outlining duties, expenditures, and needs. Mrs. Brent pays special attention to announcement parties, showers and receptions.

Other books in the library containing information on etiquette for such occasions are the late Emily Posts' book of "Etiquette," Amy Vanderbilt's, "Everyday Etiquette," McCall's book of etiquette and Emma Aubert Gates' book, "The Modern Bride Book of Etiquette and Entertaining." A book of special interest to the prospective groom is the new Esquire book of etiquette, which has a section devoted to "things all grooms to be should know" about their responsibilities, and what tradition dictates is proper socially.

Whether one is planning a large formal wedding, or a small informal one, the Scurry County Library has information to answer all questions that may arise in the planning.

Fluvanna News

BY MARJORIE MATHIS

The end of school finds most Fluvannaites busier than ever what with graduation activities around the area, the beginnings of vacation plans and preparations for Homecoming which will be June 11 and 12 this year.

Monday morning four sets of eager parents awaited their sons' return from Senior Trip. Fluvanna grads for 1965, which included Denney Belew, Dennis Ball, Richard Contreras and Joe Rue Beaver, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Belew, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Ball, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Contreras, and Mr. and Mrs. Alf Beaver, got home about noon after a ten day trip to Colorado. Along with their sponsor and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kiesling, the boys had a great time in Denver, Colorado Springs and the Manitou area.

Another graduate this year, Beatrice Dunham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dunham, writes that she is spending the summer in Dallas with her brother, Milton Dunham, and that she has a summer job.

Of interest to friends around Fluvanna and surrounding area was the departure Thursday of Reverend and Mrs. Howell A. Watkins and their son, David. Mr. Watkins has been pastor of the Methodist Church at Fluvanna for the past four years. He was also minister to the Methodist churches at Gail and Dermott. Mr. Watkins will assume new duties at Northridge Church at Lamesa and will also serve as minister for the church at Patricia.

The Watkins were honored with a round of activities prior to their move. On Sunday, the three churches were hosted by the ladies of Dermott for a Fifth Sunday Rally following combined church services in the Dermott church. The Dermott group served a delicious barbecue meal with all the trimmings, and church singing followed during the afternoon.

On Tuesday evening the El Catoree Club entertained the Watkins family with an elaborate covered dish supper at the community center and presented Mrs. Watkins with a handsome going away present. Those attending the event other than Mr. and Mrs. Watkins and David were Messrs. and Mmes. Alf Beaver, J. D. Patterson, Wayland Mathis, W. O. Mathis, Bill Jones, Paul Turner, Leo Beaver, Sam Bruner, Guy Turner, Joe Landrum and Burl Belew and also Joe and Suzanne Tufner, Larry Patterson and Brenda Mason.

The Joe Landrum Family hosted the Watkins for lunch on Wednesday. During the evening they visited with the W. O. Mathis Family and were presented a gift of serving trays by the MYF young people. A buffet supper was served at the Mathis home for Mr. and Mrs. Watkins and David and another guest, Miss Donna Cox, daughter of Don Cox of Gail, who is visiting for a few days.

Mr. Watkins' successor to the Fluvanna - Gail - Dermott pulpits will be the Reverend Klel Quesenberry, formerly of Midland.

Fluvanna FFA members attended Area Convention in Midland on Tuesday and Wednesday, accompanied by Herman Kiesling. The group included Bob Daughtery, Bobby Hall, Mike Landrum, Joe Stansell, and Joe Thell Belew. Bob Daughtery competed for Star Chapter Farmer and placed third. Joe Belew competed for Star Greenhand Farmer and placed third. Mike Landrum and Joe Stansell were awarded the Lone Star Farmer Degrees.

Other young people busy in the community are members of the 4-H. The girls group met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Bob Jordan, one of their sponsors. Other sponsors present were Mrs. Bill Stansell and Mrs. W. F. Mathis. Miss Ruby Butts presented a program on preparation for Dress Revue. Girls present were Renetta and Danita Jordan, June Stansell, Ann Smith, Linda Hall, Gwen Stansell and Della Beaver. These girls also participated in the Bake Sale held in Snyder on Wednesday.

Mrs. Sam Shoemaker, Carla and Pamela, visited Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wilson of Ralls last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Landrum and children of Fort Worth were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Landrum last Sunday afternoon.

G. B. Watson of Colorado City, father of Mrs. Bill Herring of Dermott, visited along with Jessie Watson and Larry White, also of C-City, in Fluvanna May 31 and went fishing at one of Mert Jones' tanks in Borden County.

Off to see their grandson, a former Fluvannaite, Bobby Dean Warren, graduate from Abilene High School last Monday, were Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Jones and Mrs. R. E. Warren. The graduation was held at the football stadium and was quite impressive, according to Mrs. Jones. Bobby Dean enters Sam Houston College in Huntsville in early June.

Also attending out - of - town commencement exercises was Mrs. Lee Lavender. Her granddaughter, Brenda Jones, graduated from Midland High School last Friday night. Mrs. Lavender's son, Ross Jones, accompanied his mother home from Midland and spent Sunday in Fluvanna.

Home for a brief visit between semesters was Gwen Landrum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Landrum, along with her roommate at McMurry College, Miss Sue Cooper of Vernon.

Mrs. Bert Sellars, Brenda Sellars, and Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Moore of Dermott left Monday for Albuquerque where they will visit friends and relatives for a week.

Mrs. Helen Jo Oliver visited in Midland last Sunday with her brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Warren and children, Jay and Candy. Mrs. Oliver's daughter, Donna, returned to Fluvanna with her after a week's visit with the Warrens.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Adams and son of Snyder visited last Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hunnicutt.

Mrs. W. A. Reeder has gone home with her son, Rue Reader, for an extended visit at his home in Carrollton, Texas. Another resident off for a summer visit is Mrs. Betty Whatley, who is with her daughter, Mrs. Nathan Reynolds, in Dalhart.

Mrs. Don Jones spent Wednesday with her grandmother in Colorado City.

Daniel Galloway is now stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, after spending his recent leave time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dene Beaver. Mrs. James Stansell and Sandra have been in Jacksboro with relatives. Sunday found Mr. and Mrs. Babe Turner and children, Tom, Bonnie and Steve of Andrews, visiting his mother, Mrs. Ida Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jordan have returned from Colby, Kansas, where they met Mr. and Mrs R. H. Jordan, and accompanied them to their home in Blackwell. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Jordan were in an accident enroute home from Pierre, South Dakota.

Mrs. Dub Hughes of Shamrock has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Hughes. Also a guest in the Hughes' home has been Mrs Hanna Rankin of Seminole.

Mrs. Bunyon Evans has returned from Houston. The Jessie Browning Family of Snyder visited in Fluvanna last Monday.

Visiting in Big Spring last week were Mrs. Cora Patterson, Mrs. Ruby Benson and Miss Virgie Harris of Snyder. We'll be seeing more of Cora Patterson now that she has moved in to Fluvanna from her ranch home in Borden County.

One Bible School in Fluvanna has been completed. The Church of Christ had graduation services last Friday night where certificates were presented to the children at the end of the five-day session. An average of ighty pupils attended each day, according to Mr. Eddie Swinney, Minister. Following the exercises at the church, students and their families gathered at the Community Center for an ice cream supper and singing.

We'll be having more Bible School news later on and also a summery of Fluvanna School teacher activities for the summer and a run-down on how our college students are spending their summers.

This column welcomes news of interest concerning Fluvannaites, and we will print all items possible as space allows.

Gradually stir in the bouillon and cream, keeping smooth. Over moderate heat, cook and stir constantly until mixture thickens and comes to a boil; boil 1 minute. Add chicken, pimiento, sherry and Worcestershire; reheat. Makes 6 servings.

New Viet Plan Proposes To Buy Back The Enemy

By RONALD I. DEUTSCH

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The Saigon government is finding out it's cheaper to buy a Viet Cong than to kill one. So is Uncle Sam.

With the firm backing of the United States, a determined effort is under way here to switch Viet Cong defectors to a new life.

It is still too early to assess the success of the program — known as the Open Arms project. But reliable sources say perhaps 18,000 Communists have been welcomed back with "open arms" by the government since late 1963.

This year about $1.5 million has been budgeted to carry out the program — almost as much as is spent each day for the way effort.

"The aim of our Open Arms program is not only to get returnees, but to prepare right now a way out for the people under the North Viet Nam Communist regime," explains Tran Van An, the Open Arms minister.

"They are looking forward to the free world for their rescue and escape," he adds. "We have the duty to open our arms to admit them and give to the patriotic an opportunity to join our young revolution."

U.S. sources acknowledge that a large gap exists between the ideal and what has been accomplished. For instance, of 44 Open Arms centers planned — one for each of the provinces — more than a third are either inadequately staffed or still under construction.

The instability of the government, the war in the provinces and a less than enthusiastic attitude toward the project by the military has slowed progress.

"The only good Viet Cong is a dead Viet Cong," some military leaders say quite frankly.

At odds with this view, the government is pushing ahead its program in the belief that pacification and open arms are one, that fighting alone is not enough to win the Vietnamese conflict.

The showpiece of the program is the Chieu Hoi center in Saigon's neighboring Chinese sister city of Cholon. At this center the "elite" of the Viet Cong defectors undergo a one-month indoctrination course and then pledge to become good citizens upon returning to their villages.

The director of the school, Le Quag Dien, is a former Viet Minh officer who served the Communist cause for nine years before switching sides.

The students, many in their teens, appear anthusiastic in their dedication to the south though some once fought with the Viet Cong.

Some of the trainees say they gave themselves up because of the brutality of the Communists. Others say they tired of fighting. Women in the center say they want security for their families.

All trainees go through what school officials call a thorough screening, including fingerprinting, before they are admitted. This is to weed out Viet Cong considered to have criminal backgrounds, as well as a precaution against avowed Communists who might try to infiltrate the center as spies.

The center operates a tailor shop for those seeking vocational rehabilitation. Six hours a day the trainees attend "political" courses and a library is provided to reflect the government's side in the war. The defectors sleep and eat on the premises, but are free to come and go at will.

The government feels the defectors may purge themselves of "mistakes" by bringing Viet Cong weapons to the centers or volunteering intelligence information. Money is freely given as an inducement.

While Chieu Hoi center offers many advantages to the defector, the program is by no means a one-way street. Aside from quartering many trainees are are in a position to tell what they know about the Viet Cong, it also serves as an obvious propaganda outlet for the government's claim that it is winning people over to its side.

The effectiveness of the program is hard to gauge because there is no reliable way to check on what becomes of the centers' graduates.

Nevertheless, the government, with money and encouragement from U.S. officials, shows every indication it plans to stick to the Open Arms program.

"In my opinion," says Minister An, "to build peace means to show off the national cause in order to respond to the people's longings. Our urgent task is to make the national cause very clear."

Motorists Shift For Themselves

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer

DETROIT (AP) — An increasing number of motorists are shifting for themselves these days as the trend towards sportier cars continues.

The old stick shift is gaining in popularity and that is good news for Borg G Beck Division of Borg-Warner Corp. of Chicago.

Borg&Beck has been building automobile clutches since 1914 and ranks as the biggest independent clutch producer in the United States.

The demand for auto clutches dropped off after 1945 as car manufacturers concentrated on automatic transmissions, but it has started to grow anew.

Alfred A. Krueger, Borg&Beck president, said in an interview:

"The growth of import car sales in the late 1950s demonstrated that many motorists wanted an easy-shifting standard transmission to go with bigger engines. The transmissions were improved but the clutch and its linkage were neglected.

"Up to now, manufacturers have been increasing the clutch plate load on the basic 1929 design to match the higher horsepower. The result has been excessive pedal effort that has made the new cars difficult to drive, especially for women.

"This excessive pedal effort has made the new breed of cars physically difficult to drive. Even so, cars equipped with standard transmissions, currently account for 20 per cent of U.S. car sales, about the same as in 1956."

Krueger announced that the firm which has built over 37 million clutches has come up with a new S-type clutch, which he said will be installed as original equipment on several of the 1966 U.S. models.

The new S-type was described as having fewer parts and as a result fewer maintenance problems than present clutches.

As far as the average motorist is concerned, Krueger said, the new clutch requires about half as much pedal effort and a shorter pedal stroke, giving drivers greater control, especially in heavy traffic.

A Junior Editors Quiz About CROCODILIANS

QUESTION: What is the difference between an alligator and a crocodile?

• • •

ANSWER: If there was such a thing as an ugliness contest between an alligator and a crocodile, as our artist has imagined, Billy, the little judge, would be justified in calling it a draw. Both of these big brutes are as mean-looking as animals can be. They belong to that group of reptiles called "crocodilians." Their ancestry goes very far back. They are relatives of the ancient dinosaurs. It is interesting to speculate why these creatures, who like to swim in warm, sluggish rivers and marshes, survived, while the active land-roving dinosaurs became completely extinct. Perhaps the crocodilians managed to move to warmer waters as the climate grew colder, for they are only found in tropical or sub-tropical climates.

The chief difference between these reptiles is in the long, narrow snout of the crocodile as contrasted with the shorter, wider one of the alligator. The American Crocodile is also smaller and more agile than the American Alligator and prefers more brackish water. Both are vicious animals, but are not regarded as being as dangerous to man as are the larger crocodilians of Africa and Asia.

Manufacturers are constantly seeking new uses for their products. At one time, writing a story about fences called only for a discussion of the various types of available lumber and the many possible designs. But over the years, we've told about fences made of plastic, hardboard, plywood, aluminum and many other materials which originally were used for other purposes.

Recently, we saw a fence made of mineral fiber, used to often as a siding for houses. While this particular one was left in its natural whitish state, with no finish whatever, the mineral fiber panels, 4' by 8', are available with an acrylic plastic coating in a variety of textures and colors. One of its advantages is that it will not rot and is termite-proof.

To erect a privacy fence or a screen of this material, use wood 2 by 4s and 4 by 4s for the framing material; that is, the posts and the rails. The posts, as with any regular fence, should be set in concrete for added strength. Wood which is in or touching the ground should be given a coat of preservative. Wood above the ground can also be treated this way or painted any desired color. (For Andy Lang's booklet, "Wood Finishing in the Home," or "Paint Your House Inside and Out," send 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Know-How, P. O. Box 954, Jamaica, N.Y. 11431. Be sure to specify which booklet you want.)

The mineral fiber panels can be used in the standard 4' by 8' size, cut into 4' by 4' sheets or sawed into strips 4' to 8' long of any desired width. Although these panels can be cut with an ordinary saw, they can quickly dull the blade. It is best to use a saber or other type saw with an inexpensive blade, which can then be thrown away. If extensive cutting is to be done, better use a tungsten carbide-tipped blade, which can handle tough material like this.

For both variety of design and greater structural strength, nail the panels on alternate sides of the framing. Use a 1¼" rust-resistant nail with a small head. You'll have to give it a couple of solid taps to get it started, after which it will penetrate easily. Additional variety can be obtained by using both unfinished and prefinished panels, by using a combination of prefinished colors or by incorporating other materials into the design.

QUESTION: I live in an old home and am about to replace the wood shingles on my roof with asphalt shingles. I have three questions. Must the wood shingles be removed first? How many squares of roofing material will I need? What is meant by heavy-weight asphalt shingles?

ANSWER: Judging by the mail recently, a lot of persons are planning on reroofing in the months ahead. It would be costly and wasteful to remove the old roof. Asphalt shingles can be applied directly over them after first securely attaching any of the old shingles that may be loose. The extra thickness will give your home an additional measure of insulation. A square of roofing is enough to cover 100 square feet of roof.

Heavyweight asphalt shingles are those weighing 300 pounds or more per square. They last considerably longer than shingles of lighter weight. You did not say whether you intend to do the job yourself. Frankly, your questions indicate you may lack the experience and know-how to tackle the project. Roofing is highly specialized and can be dangerous if you don't know exactly what you are doing and lack the proper equipment. A long-time advocate of doing it yourself whenever possible, we nevertheless hesitate to recommend that a complete reroofing be undertaken by anyone except a professional.

(You can get Andy Lang's booklet, "Here's The Answer," with replies to 35 varied questions, by sending 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Know-How, P. O. Box 954, Jamaica, N. Y. 11431.)

Skillet Chili Con Carne

¼ cup butter or margarine
1 cup lightly packed finely chopped onion (2 medium)
1 pound ground chuck beef
1 can (1 pound) red kidney beans packed in seasoned sauce
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 large clove garlic, crushed
3 tablespoons chili powder (or adjust amount to taste)
¼ teaspoon ground cumin
½ teaspoon vegetable bouquet sauce
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, undrained

In a large skillet, over low heat, melt the hot butter; add the onion and cook, stirring often, until wilted. Add beef; mash with a fork over moderate heat until meat crumbles and loses its red color. Add beans with their sauce, tomato sauce, garlic, chili powder and cumin. Cover and cook gently, stirring several times, for about ½ hour. Cool; turn into a container, cover tightly and refrigerate overnight to develop flavor. Before serving, return to skillet. Add vegetable bouquet sauce and tomatoes; over low heat mix lightly but well to break up tomatoes; reheat until piping hot. Makes 4 to 6 servings.
