Longhorn Offense Looks Better In Scrimmage

The Longhorn offense looked "much better" in a scrimmage with Muleshoe here last Saturday, according to Longhorn Head Coach Jim Warren. The "Horns were "outscored" 3-2 in the scrimmage, but Warren was much happier with the performance of the offensive unit.

The Mules outgained the 'Horns 294 yards to 174 on the ground, but the Big Red held a slight edge in passing yardage, 55 yards to 52. The Longhorns completed six of 15 passes and suffered no interceptions, while the Muleshoe passer went two-for-11 and had two picked off. Steve Warren completed five of nine attempts for 48 yards, and Jeffrey McCormick connected on one of six tries for seven yards. Kevin Evans snagged two for a 25-yard receiving total. Arnold Alaniz caught one, a 10-yarder. Mark Vincentcuahgt one for a 10-yard gain. Doug Sparkman hauled in a seven-yard gainer, and Curtis Ford caught one for a three-yard gain. Ford led the Longhorn rushing game with 90 yards on 16 carries. Mike Arellano managed 27 yards, Roel Rodriguez picked up 12, and McCormick rushed for 11 yards.

Tuesday Is Last Day To Enter Fair Queen Pageant

Entries are now being accepted for the Floyd and Surrounding Counties Fair Queen Pageant to be held Saturday Sept. 22, in conjunction with the Floyd and Surrounding Counties Fair.

Entrants must be of high-school age, single and never married, and an American citizen. Each entrant will model sportswear and a formal gown of her own choice. They will be judged on poise, personality and appearance. Entrants do not have to have sponsors.

Judging will begin Saturday, Sept. 22, at 2:30 p.m. when each girl will be interviewed individually by pageant judges. The place where interviews will be held will be announced later. The pageant will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 22 in the entertainment building on the fairgrounds in Lockney. Special guest and emcee will be Debbie Clark of Lubbock who is familiar to many as the TV model for Hemphill-Wells. Musical entertainment will be provided by Terry Keltz of Plainview. Deadline for entries will be Tuesday, Sept. 11. A rehearsal and Coke party will be held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 15 at the entertainment building. For entry blanks or further information, please contact Lisa Mosley, Box 633, Lockney, Texas 79241, phone number 652-2569.

Parade Set At 3:30 p.m. Sept. 20

A parade through downtown Lockney will mark the first day of activities at the Floyd and Surrounding Counties Fair, scheduled this year for Sept. 20, 21 and 22. The parade will start at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 20.

A theme has been selected this year to help entrants design their floats. The theme is "A New Day, A New Way:

Years of Progress." Floats will be judged on attractiveness, originality, and how well they follow the theme.

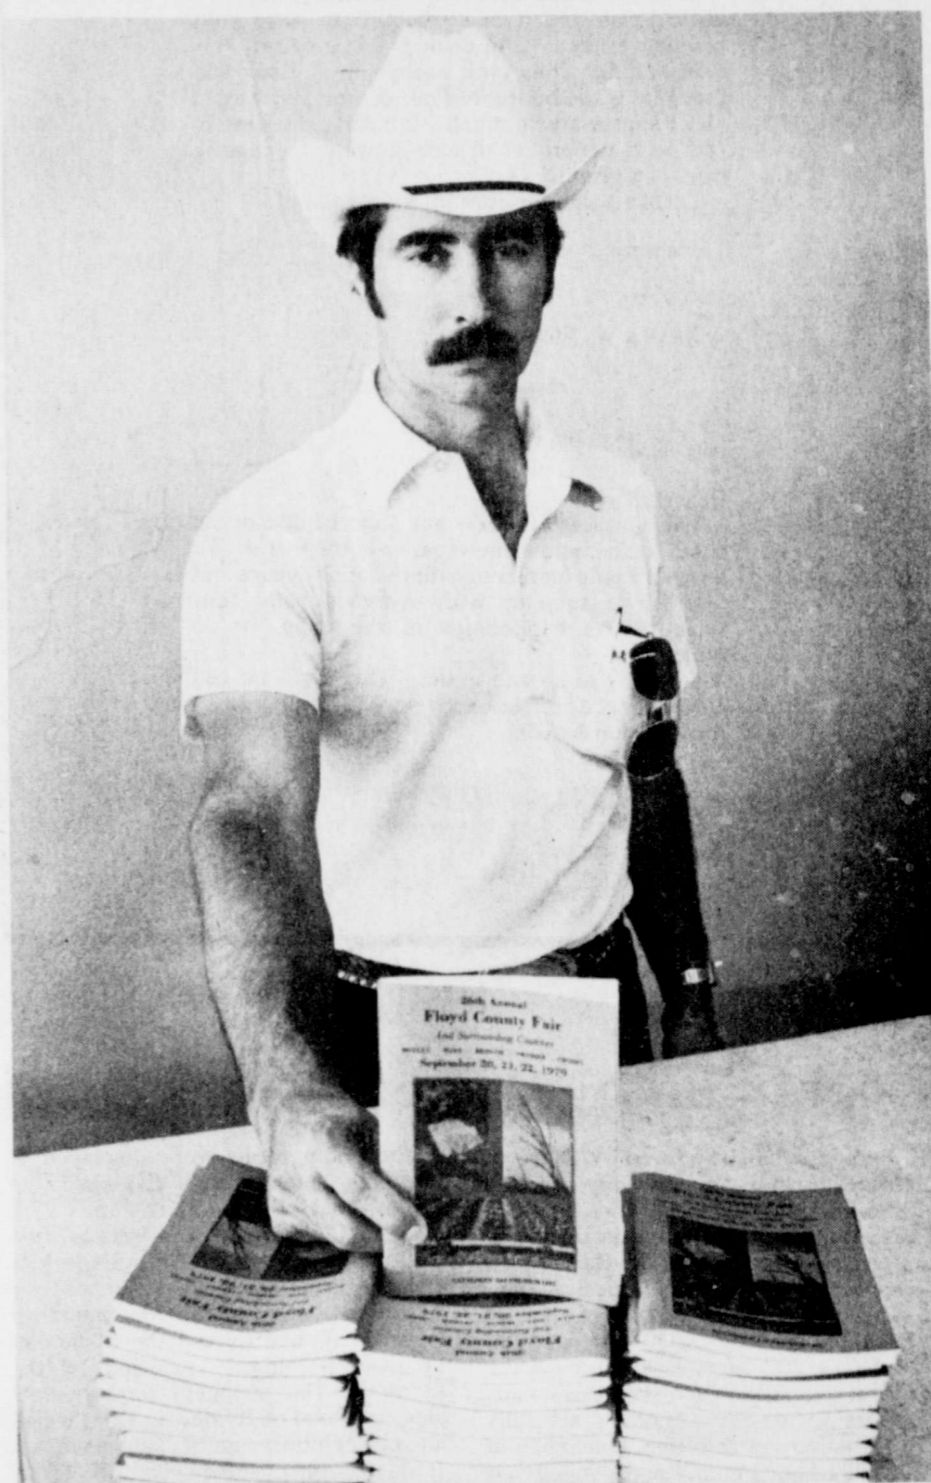

There will be three float divisions — commercial, community clubs, and school and youth groups. Winners in each division will be awarded prize money of $25 for first place, $15 for second, and $10 for third. Antique cars in the parade will be awarded prize money the same as the floats.

Floats should be in line 30 minutes before parade time. Partial judging will be done at that time, and final judging will take place during the parade.

"We are planning to have the biggest and best parade ever," according to parade chairman Kay Martin. "But we must have your help in order to do this."

Those who plan to have floats in the fair parade should notify Mrs. Jim Martin, Route 2, Box 31-A, Lockney TX 79241 (phone number 652-3594) as soon as possible. Float entrants must notify the parade chairman in order to have a place reserved in the parade.

Judging of the best-decorated bicycles will be conducted before the parade. Children entering bicycles should be at the parade starting point (the north end of Main Street near the hospital) at 3 p.m. or as soon as possible after school (Lockney schools will dismiss at 3 p.m. for the parade.)

THE FAIR CATALOGS ARE HERE..... Fair Board member Paul Koonsman was distributing catalogs for the 1979 Floyd and Surrounding Counties Fair

Fair Catalogs Are Printed

Members of the board of directors of the Floyd and Surrounding Counties Fair Association started this week distributing the 1979 fair catalogs to advertisers.

Non-advertisers may pick up copies of the fair catalog at The Beacon office in Lockney or the County Extension Agent's office in Floydada.

A new attraction at the fair this year will be a Little Rustlers Rodeo, scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 20, at the rodeo arena on the fairgrounds in Lockney.

The Fair Queen Pageant will be held on the final night of the fair (8 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 22) this year.

Feds Chop Revenue Sharing Budget

An unexpected cut in the amount of Federal revenue sharing funds Floyd County will receive this year forced county judge Chose Smith this week to revise his budget proposal downward.

After receiving a Federal announcement that the revenue sharing funds would be $11,571 less than was earlier expected, the judge slashed most items on his first proposal by half.

"Each item on the budget which is not already obligated will have to be reduced," Judge Smith said.

While the reduction was meager when compared to the whole amount, local organizations will be particularly hurt because such a great share of the funds has been earmarked for county building projects already.

Since the contracts for the Floyd County jail project and the courthouse heating and air conditioning have already been approved, they will remain at their previous levels. The jail project will cost $291,000 and the heating will be $60,000.

The $20,000 to be split among the county commissioners precincts was cut by $1,000. The $2,000 earmarked for new office furniture for the county judge was eliminated entirely.

The funds allocated to the Floyd County Museum were cut in half. The museum will, on approval by the commissioners Sept. 10, receive $500.

The Floyd County Day Care Center will get the $500 Judge Smith earlier suggested, with no cut. Also proposed for approval with no cut was the money for the Central Plains Mental Health Center. $3,200 was set aside for that organization.

The Senior Citizens Association share also was sliced by 50 percent, to $500.

The largest decrease in the judge's revised budget was felt in the library building fund. Earlier set at $5,000, the library will receive only $2,000 if the latest proposal is accepted by the commissioners.

Total expenditures for the new budget was expected to be $376,700.

The new Federal ruling appeared to surprise county officials.

"This came as quite a shock," commented Olin Watson, the county auditor.

"The early budget was based on a preliminary estimate made in May," he said. "We waited and waited for some word from the Federal government, but you can't wait forever. So we went ahead and put the early estimate into the budget."

County commissioner Jack Lackey noted that many people would be unhappy with this week's announcement. But, he said, there was nothing else that could be done.

Floyd County will receive $94,352 during the next entitlement period of 1979-80. The additional funds for the proposed budget were received and obligated during past periods, Judge Smith said.

Hospital District Budget Hearing September 17

A hearing on the Lockney Hospital District annual budget for the year 1979-1980 will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital building, 200 North Main Street.

Members of the district who are interested in presenting and participating in the hearing should contact the secretary of the hospital district, secretary of the hospital district.

Council To Hear Mackenzie Manager Today

Mayor, Mackenzie Municipal Utility manager, will meet with city council during the regular monthly council meeting this (Thursday) morning. Lon Davis of Floydada, president of the Mackenzie board of directors, is also expected to attend. One topic of discussion will be the Mackenzie water treatment plant construction plans.

The council will also open and consider bids on "the Alford property," which the city offered for sale last month.

The only other items on the council agenda are the routine business — approving minutes of the previous meeting, "paying the bills," and department reports.

Auxiliary Officers To Be Chosen Today

The General Hospital Auxiliary will elect and install new auxiliary officers today at 2:30 p.m. in the Lockney Lodge Hall.

Mrs. W.C. (Belle) Marks of Dallas, president of the Texas Association of Hospital Auxiliaries, conduct the installation ceremony.

Burt Wins $1,000 Scholarship

Jimmie Allan Burt, a 1979 graduate of Lockney High School, has been awarded a $1,000 Clark Foundation scholarship by the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation.

The Clark Foundation provided funds for 60 of the grants to be awarded by the TILF on the basis of participation in University Interscholastic League contests, and other school/community activities.

Burt earned eligibility for the grant by placing in the 1979 state meet debate contest. Valedictorian of his class of 62 students, he was student council president, freshman class secretary, and was named "Most Studious" his freshman year and "Most Dependable" his junior year.

Burt participated in football, basketball and track, and was honorable mention all-district basketball. He also was active in band and stage band.

"Jimmie was among the outstanding Texas high school graduates of 1979," said Dr. Rhea Williams, TILF secretary. "He compiled an outstanding record of academic and extracurricular achievements and we're proud to have him as a TILF scholar."

Burt plans to attend Texas Tech University and major in accounting.

Dear Jim:
You will never know how much it means to me to be able to sit down with my own home folk and visit as we did the other day in Lockney. This is a difficult job and it is so helpful to have your reaction to the type of choices I face daily.
In addition, this type exchange of ideas and thoughts is the bedrock of our democratic way of life. I appreciate so much you taking the time to visit with me and shall look forward to hearing from you often.

Thanks again for your interest and help.

Criminals To Compensate Victims

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Thursday said persons ending up in Texas courts after September 1 may face more than stiff fines and jail terms.
Bullock said his office will begin collecting a $10 or $15 fee from persons convicted of criminal charges.
"The cost of crime, just like everything else in today's economy, is going up," Bullock said.
The money will be used to create a fund to compensate victims of crime, Bullock said.
A $15 fee will be assessed against persons convicted of felonies and a $10 fee charged to persons convicted of misdemeanors punishable by a jail term or a fine of more than $200.
The fee will be added on to other fines or costs that may be ordered by the court.
Bullock said fees are expected to raise more than $205 million in the next five years.
The money will be used to finance a program to be run by the state's Industrial Accident Board to pay certain losses to crime victims.

The program is due to get underway in January of 1980 and the office expects to take $205 million in the first year.

Parents' Attitudes Affect Youngsters' Feelings

Attitudes of parents and coaches can affect whether a youngster feels good or bad about participating in organized sports, according to sports psychologist Dr. Aidan O. Dunleavy. The TCU assistant professor of kinesiological studies said most children respond to competition if the environment is manipulated carefully so that the sport is presented positively.

"Most kids can get benefits and enjoyment from athletics, but they're not all going to be superstars," he said.

Although sports can provide most children with a feeling of success, that doesn't mean all want to play sports, Dr. Dunleavy said. Parents who cannot accept that fact and force reluctant children to continue playing are subjecting their children to stress and placing them under tremendous psychological pressure.

A young athlete who feels he or she has been forced to take part in sports may feel resentful and inadequate, he said. "Children who feel they have let their parents down will eventually avoid communicating on the subject," Dr. Dunleavy said.

"A child who feels put down for not being a successful athlete may start to feel like an insignificant person in the eyes of his or her parents. The child may think, 'My folks don't feel good about the way I play baseball or football or soccer. Maybe they don't feel good about me in other ways,'" he suggested.

Consumer Food News

Smoked cuts at economy prices are semi-boneless hams and bacon. FRESH VEGETABLES — Best buys are potatoes, carrots, cabbage "on special" and snap beans. Also, purple hull peas, green peppers, soft-shell squash and dry yellow onions. FRESH FRUITS — Budget items are cantaloupe and watermelon. MEAT — Plum varieties are in good supply with low prices, especially the purple-prune plum. White seedless grapes are heavier now and prices are down. More nectarines are available, and peaches are still in good supply. Bananas and limes continue in heavy supply. Bartlett pears are economical. DAIRY CASES — "Spotlight" items are milk, yogurt and a variety of cheeses. FROZEN FOODS — Thrifty items are vegetables, strawberries, fried chicken parts and ice cream. GROCERY MARKET — "Specials" appear on sugar, tuna fish, pasta products and peanut butter. EGGS — Cuts to consider this week include chuck cuts, corned beef, ground beef, rib steak, round steak and beef liver. CONSUMER WATCH-WORDS: Making the most of your food dollar takes constant study, a careful eye for value and planning — each time you shop. It also means taking care of the food to assure top-quality nutrition for your family.

An institution is retiring. Houston folks know her as "Mother Gwendolynne," a special personality on the Channel 11 (KHOU-TV) Noon News. And the rest of Texas knows her as Gwendolynne Clyatt, author of the weekly "Consumer Food News," advising consumers of the week's best buys at grocery markets, as a home economics specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "The Dallas Morning News" calls the weekly feature "Best Buys." "The Houston Post" calls it "Budget Buys," and the "Houston Chronicle" calls it "Best Buys."

Through the rest of Texas, the food-buying feature appears in literally hundreds of newspapers, and it's part of many radio and television newscasts. Clyatt pours over more than 20 sources of market information before writing each week's report. Part of those sources are actual markets themselves — and the people who run them. A person with seemingly boundless energy, the author "prowls around each week, talking with market managers and visiting various market scenes," she once said. In addition, her sources include retail grocery forecasts, federal-government analysis sheets and detailed information from agricultural-product marketing specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "I've enjoyed my work over the past 33 years," she confides. "It's been much more than a job — it's been my life. 'I've met so many marvelous people and learned so many interesting things,'" she grins quietly. Gwendolynne Clyatt began her career with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in 1939, when she was appointed Hamilton County Home Demonstration Agent. Later, from January, 1945, to October, 1947, she served as a foods specialist. In November, 1956, she was named consumer marketing information specialist, with headquarters in Houston, one of the state's major marketplaces. Her assignment was to work directly with the public through newspapers, radio and television — teaching people how to buy quality products at the most reasonable prices, an expertise she developed in Baltimore, Md. over several years. Throughout the 29 years she served from her Houston base, she has "held her own" with Houston's top television personalities and journalists. She appeared with the late Dewey Compton on KTRK-TV's (Channel 13) morning farm program for 18 years, and she began work with KHOU-TV before it moved to Houston from its Galveston base. A regular on KPRC-TV's (Channel 2) farm program with George Roesner, she called up 10 years with that station. For the past four years, she has been "Mother Gwendolynne" on KHOU-TV (Channel 11), and it is here she achieved "television-personality" status. Clyatt has written a regular weekly buying feature for the "Houston Post" for the past 23 years, and she has worked with the "Houston Chronicle" for the past 21 years on special projects. Her storehouse of knowledge is incredible, and she says she's built it through the years "studying research and talking with people, especially those in key agricultural marketing positions — from the farmer to the distributor to the researcher."

The Woman Who Taught Texas How To Buy Food

"Determination" was a major factor in her career, and she showed signs of that early. "You run across this kind of insight into her personality by asking her what areas she's found the most rewarding. She lists her work as a county home demonstration agent back in Hamilton County in Central Texas among those experiences. "They had bagworm problems there with their cedar trees," she begins. "In fact all they had were a bunch of cedars. There was a nurseryman there, and he sold all sorts of cedars — they just had bagworms ... she trails off. "I just put my foot down, and we started planting other kinds of trees. "We planted and planted wild redbuds and plums. "You sure did change my business," the nurseryman told me. "I had to get rid of all the stuff I had and order what you told the women to buy." she grins, quoting the nurseryman. "We'd simply work up our plans, and it would take several years to get it all done, but it was lots of fun," she says. It was lots of caring, too, for a woman who has friends all over Texas that will readily attest to that. Clyatt is practically idolized for her warmth. There are still homemakers in Central Texas who tell stories to Clyatt's winning ways and inspiration of a Great-Depression-weary people facing the horrors of World War II. Clyatt was named the Outstanding Professional Home Economist of 1963 in the Houston Area, and she's listed in "Who's Who of American Women."

Her biographies also appear in the "International Who's Who in Community Service," "Personalities of America," "Personalities of the South and Southwest," and the "Dictionary of International Biography." She is a member of the Houston Home Economics Association, which she has served as president. She holds membership in the Texas and American Home Economics Associations, along with the Downtown Professional Women's Club of Houston. She served as a member of the Houston Chamber of Commerce's agricultural committee, and she is a member of Epsilon Sigma Phi, national Extension fraternity. For the Maryland Cooperative Extension Service, she was a specialist in food marketing, and she also was a home economics specialist for the Iowa Cooperative Extension Service. Clyatt holds a bachelor's degree in home economics from North Texas State University and a master's degree in home economics and communications from the University of Houston.

4-H Banquet Big Success

State representative Foster Whaley was the guest speaker Tuesday night at the county 4-H achievement awards banquet in Duncan Elementary school.

In brief remarks before the award presentations, Rep. Whaley praised the 4-H'ers and their accomplishments.

The assembled guests and award recipients feasted on barbecued beef and all the trimmings.

One by one, the 4-H members trooped to the front of the auditorium to receive their pins, plaques and certificates in dozens of categories.

While the list of honorees is too extensive to relate each one individually, a few members were singled out for special attention.

Three-time state winner Darlene Broseh, Terri Kinard and Ronee Thornton were applauded for their successes in the program, as was Shele Morris and Kyle Brock, the gold star girl and boy.

Jill Whitfill was honored with the Foley Award, a selection of utensils.

Floyd County Judge Choise Smith presented the various awards to the winners, which included practically every 4-Her present.

Information On Hunting Safety

SAFETY IS PART OF HUNTING

The enjoyment of a safe hunting trip cannot be measured by normal standards, but one careless act or misjudgment on the part of the shooter, and the trip will be remembered for many seasons.

The number and type of hunting accidents are monitored annually by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department since the agency regulates Texas hunting and trains safe hunters through its volunteer hunter safety program.

Comparisons of the number of accidents and fatalities between 1978 and previous years indicate that a small number of hunters are continuing to violate the rules of safe gun handling.

"Texas recorded 83 accidents every month of 1978 with December recording a total of 20. Deer, dove, and rabbit were the three species of wildlife involved in the majority of the hunting accidents. These three species require continual judgement on the part of the shooter as to the correct time to shoot, identification of target, and zone or area of fire.

Visible identification in the field is necessary for both the shooter and other hunters. This is normally accomplished by the wearing or displaying of bright colored clothing such as hunter blaze orange.

age which indicates that our volunteer hunter safety program is working," Carroll continued.

Of the 10,890 students certified in 1978 by the P&WD, over 57 percent were in the 12-17 age bracket.

Visible identification in the field is necessary for both the shooter and other hunters. This is normally accomplished by the wearing or displaying of bright colored clothing such as hunter blaze orange.

Of the 23 hunting accidents occurring in 1978 dealing with hunter judgement, none of the victims had any bright colors displayed.

All shooters should review their firearms handling procedures and remember the 12 commandments of shooting safety.

(1) Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule.

(2) Guns carried into camp or home must be unloaded and cased.

(3) Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.

(4) Always carry the gun so the direction of the barrel can be controlled.

(5) Keep the safety ON until you are ready to shoot.

(6) Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.

(7) Never point a gun at anything you don't want to shoot.

(8) Unattended guns should be unloaded.

(9) Guns and ammunition should be stored safely beyond the reach of children.

(10) Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun.

(11) Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.

(12) Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol. Drinking alcoholic beverages slows the reaction of the hunter and affects the judgment of the shooter.

More information and training is available by attending a Texas volunteer hunter safety class. Contact the nearest Texas game warden, P&WD office, or call Austin at 512/475-4895 for classes in your area.

Programs Highlighted In State Of The Veterans Report

Expanded Veterans Administration programs for the nearly 9 million Vietnam Era veterans are highlighted in the annual "state of the veterans report" sent to Congress this week by VA Administrator Max Cleland.

The report details how VA spent $18.5 billion during Fiscal Year 1978 for federal programs in behalf of the nation's 30 million veterans and their eligible dependents.

The VA annual report to Congress stressed the agency's enhanced outreach efforts, the special emphasis on care of veterans with service-connected disabilities, and programs for younger veterans who have been educationally or economically disadvantaged.

Cleland pointed out that approximately 70 percent of the GI home loans made during FY 1978 went to Vietnam Era veterans and he reported that this group continued to outshine its predecessors in using GI Bill education benefits. VA continued during the period to select Vietnam Era veterans to fill many of its employment vacancies, Cleland said.

In the medical field, Cleland said, "More veterans received health care from VA during FY 1978 than in any year since the agency was established in 1930."

Nearly 1.26 million inpatient visits were recorded.

VA medical programs "emphasized priority care for service-connected veterans, and looked in new directions to meet the changing needs of an aging veteran population," Cleland told Congress.

"We continued during 1978 to place emphasis on our innovative treatment programs for alcohol and drug dependent veterans and for those with mental health problems," the report continued.

During the year, 15 new, specialized medical programs for alcoholism treatment were readied for activation in VA medical centers in Maryland, New York, South Carolina, Ohio, Texas, Florida, Missouri, Tennessee, Louisiana, Arizona and Puerto Rico.

The report notes that a declining enrollment under GI Bill education programs was the cause of the slight expenditure decline over the previous fiscal period.

Spending for medical care and for compensation and pension benefits continued to increase.

Other highlights were: DIRECT PAYMENTS—A $500 million increase in compensation and pension payments brought the total to $9.5 billion to veterans and their beneficiaries. At the end of the period, more than 2.2 million veterans were receiving VA compensation payments for service-connected disabilities, and just over one million were on VA pension rolls.

EDUCATION BENEFITS—Payments of $3.3 billion in education benefits to 1.5 million veterans and active duty personnel during FY 1978 brought total participation under the current GI Bill education program to 7,276,926—70 percent of them Vietnam Era veterans. Participation by Vietnam Era veterans and service personnel increased to 64.8 percent of those eligible. This compares to the 50.5 percent continued during the period to select Vietnam Era veterans to fill many of its employment vacancies, Cleland said. "More veterans received health care from VA during FY 1978 than in any year since the agency was established in 1930."

Nearly 1.26 million inpatient visits were recorded. VA medical programs "emphasized priority care for service-connected veterans, and looked in new directions to meet the changing needs of an aging veteran population," Cleland told Congress.

"We continued during 1978 to place emphasis on our innovative treatment programs for alcohol and drug dependent veterans and for those with mental health problems," the report continued.

During the year, 15 new, specialized medical programs for alcoholism treatment in VA medical centers in Maryland, New York, South Carolina, Ohio, Texas, Florida, Missouri, Tennessee, Louisiana, Arizona and Puerto Rico.

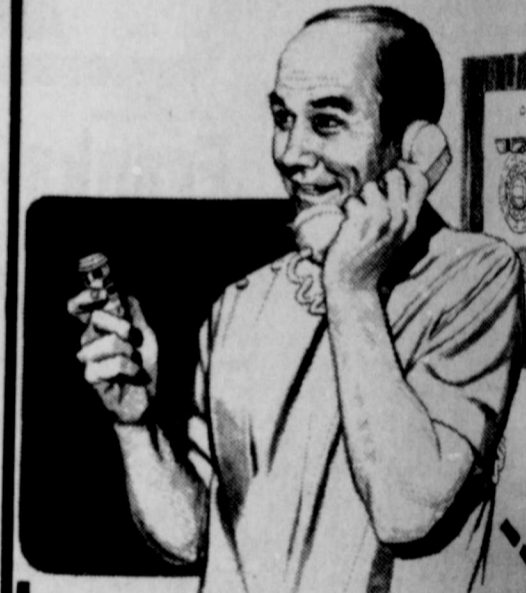

The report notes that a declining enrollment under GI Bill education programs was the cause of the slight expenditure decline over the previous fiscal period.

Spending for medical care and for compensation and pension benefits continued to increase.

Other highlights were:

DIRECT PAYMENTS — A $500 million increase in compensation and pension payments brought the total to $9.5 billion to veterans and their beneficiaries. At the end of the period, more than 2.2 million veterans were receiving VA compensation payments for service-connected disabilities, and just over one million were on VA pension rolls.

EDUCATION BENEFITS — Payments of $3.3 million in education benefits to 1.5 million veterans and active duty personnel during FY 1978 brought total participation under the current GI Bill education program to 7,276,926 — 70 percent of the Vietnam Era veterans. Participation by Vietnam Era veterans and service personnel increased to 64.8 percent of those eligible. This compares to the 50.5 percent

HOW DID IT START?

Mopeds

The idea of adding a helper motor to a bicycle captured the imagination of the world almost immediately after the invention of the car at the turn of the century. But it wasn't till the end of World War II that Europe, faced with fuel shortages and high production costs, turned widely to motorized bicycles. Soon, gas-thrifty mopeds (a word developed by combining MOTOR and PEDALS) were tooling their way all across Europe.

Currently, just under a million mopeds are operational in the U.S., according to the Moped Association of America, compared with just 50,000 in 1975! Today's modern mopeds, made both in this country and abroad, average 135 miles-per-gallon at speeds up to 30 miles an hour, depending upon the state. U.S. transportation experts predict that several million mopeds will become a permanent part of the U.S. transportation scene in the Eighties.

And it all started because a handy bicyclist was jealous of the "horseless carriage!"
