Tax Day Except In 3 States

By RANDOLPH E. SCHMID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON AP - Today is April 15, the deadline for filing your 1973 income tax return, unless you live in Maine, Massachusetts or North Carolina.

In those states you have until Tuesday because today is a legal holiday—Patriot's day in Maine and Massachusetts and Easter Monday in North Carolina.

The Internal Revenue Service estimated that it will receive more than 80 million returns this year, up considerably from 425,000 returns filed in 1913, the year that the Payne-Aldrich act created the income tax.

And of these 80 million, officials say nearly half are sent in during the last two weeks, with many taxpayers hurrying to the post office to get them postmarked before the midnight deadline.

Officials of the IRS declined to estimate the number of persons who may be trying to cheat on their taxes, although one spokesman said such attempts seem to be running about the same level as in the past.

Last year the IRS prosecuted 1,342 persons for income tax evasion. Of these 821 pleaded guilty, 330 pleaded no contest, including former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, 123 were convicted after pleading innocent and 68 were acquitted.

Thanks to withholding, many taxpayers are in line for refunds, and the IRS says the average refund this year is about $360.

Free tax assistance is offered by IRS, but spokesmen report that nearly half of the nation's taxpayers seek assistance from commercial tax preparers.

And the Tax Reform Research Group, an investigative organization, has charged that checks of IRS offices in seven states revealed mistakes and inconsistencies in the advice IRS gives to taxpayers.

Officials said group staffers took identical tax forms and questions to at least three IRS offices in each of seven states. They said IRS advice ranged from telling them they could expect a refund of $812 in Flushing, N.Y., but that they owed the government $52 at the Portland, Ore., office.

WORKERS DUE BACK WAGES

Major Steel Firms Ink Equal Employment Pact

By ROBERT A.DOBKIN
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nine major steel firms signed an agreement today with the federal government to pay $31 million in back wages as part of an industry-wide plan for ending racial and sex discrimination in employment.

The voluntary agreement with the Departments of Labor and Justice and the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission is the largest back-pay discrimination settlement to date.

It provides that the nine companies which produce 73 per cent of the nation's steel and the United Steelworkers Union make one-time lump sum payments to some 40,000 black, Spanish-surnamed and women employes who the government contends were relegated to "the less desirable and generally lower paying jobs with the least opportunity for advancement."

Labor Secretary Peter J. Brennan called the agreement historic and said "it will insure equal employment opportunity in hiring and promotion in one of our nation's basic industries."

The agreement was entered as a consent decree in U.S. District Court in Birmingham, Ala.

The voluntary agreement is believed to mark the country's first industry-wide equal employment program and could set a pattern for similar programs in other industries.

The United Steelworkers Union, which holds contracts with the nine companies, agreed to contribute a share of the back wages.

In return for the voluntary agreement, the firms involved will be exempt from any equal opportunity employment suits for five years, sources said.

Under the agreement, elimination of seniority along racial lines in steel mills would be accompanied by setting of goals and timetables for the hiring and promotion of minority workers. The program also would eliminate sex-based discrimination.

The agreement calls for replacing the industry's current system of dual seniority with plant-wide seniority systems.

Fighting Rages In Mideast

By The Associated Press

Israeli and Syrian gunners traded artillery and tank fire on the Golan Heights war front today after a weekend of the hardest fighting since the October war.

The Israeli military command said shelling resumed this morning along the northern sector of the 300-square-mile bulge captured by Israel during the October fighting.

The announcement made no mention of casualties.

The command also announced the appointment of Brig. Gen. Rafael Eytan, who led Israel's thrust into Syria in October, to command Israel's northern front with both Syria and Lebanon.

Eytan, who was promoted to major general, takes over from Lt. Gen. Mordechai Gur, who was promoted to chief of staff.

Israeli fighter-bombers on Sunday attacked Syrian forces on Mt. Hermon and the Golan Heights while below them the armies of the two countries battled fiercely with tanks and artillery.

TO APPEAL TO VOTER

Congress Aiming At Choice Pack

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Carl Albert observed the start of Congress' Easter break by issuing a statement of accomplishments and plans with national health insurance placed first on the list.

The statement was compiled after a joint meeting of the House and Senate Democratic leadership. It added to other indications that the congressional chiefs are trimming their overgrown agenda and aiming at enactment of a choice package of voter-appealing measures.

With impeachment matters likely to pre-empt much of its time between now and the November election, Congress is beginning to feel squeezed.

One of the items that could fall to the cutting-room floor is across-the-board tax reform. Only last year a concerted drive to close loopholes was being trumpeted by many as Congress' prime concern and assurances were given that the House Ways and Means Committee, which made a start early in 1973, would turn to it again early this year.

General tax reform does not even appear on Albert's list.

The Ways and Means Committee set tax reform aside last year at President Nixon's request to take up his foreign trade bill.

Ways and Means — the tax, trade and Social Security committee — did not go back promptly to the loophole-closing job. It sent a Social Security benefit increase on to enactment and then worked out a massive pension reform bill, which is now in conference for reconciliation with a Senate-passed measure.

Next the tax writers took up a limited tax bill with high topical appeal — a levy on crisis-swollen windfall profits of oil companies.

Ready to be sent to the House when Congress returns, the bill sets stiff taxes on windfall profits, but allows oil companies to avoid payment of much of these by plowing the funds back into exploration and development of additional energy supplies. It also provides for a gradual phaseout of the controversial oil depletion allowance.

Meanwhile, there was a breakthrough in the years-long effort to form a winning coalition behind a plan for national health insurance at a price U.S. families could afford.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., proponents of opposing views, agreed on and introduced a compromise bill with less government participation than Kennedy previously had insisted on and more than Mills had favored.

6-Point Plan Offered UN By Kissinger

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger today outlined a six-point program aimed at a more cooperative development of the world's natural resources.

In a speech prepared for a special session of the United Nation's General Assembly, the secretary said, "We meet here at a moment when the world economy is under severe stress."

Pointing to the oil crisis, shortage of food grains and increasing global inflation, Kissiner said the solution can come only through a realistic, international effort.

"The great issues of development can no longer be realistically perceived in terms of confrontation between the haves and have nots," he said.

Any effort by the less developed nations to artificially control raw materials "will sooner or later produce the organization of the potential victims into a counterbloc," Kissinger said in a not too subtle warning.

In introducing his six points, the secretary also underlined his belief that the United Nations should avoid grandiose declarations of principles and aim for hard work instead.

"Our goal," he said, "cannot be reached by resolutions alone or prescribed by rhetoric. It must remain the subject of constant, unremitting efforts over the years and decades ahead."

The six points:

—Action must be taken to insure a more equitable supply of oil and other energy products while keeping an inflationary price spiral from occurring.

For its part the United States is willing to help oil-producing nations broaden their economic base as well as sharing technology and aiding in industrialization.

—There must be an end to the cycle of raw material surplus and shorage. But a cartel of raw material producers aimed at forcing up prices "would have serious consequences for all countries," Kissinger said.

The United States proposes a cooperative effort to include "urgent international consideration of restrictions on incentives for the trade in commodities."

This means, the secretary said, that there must be equitable access to supplies of resources as well as access to markets by the producers.

To support this there should be a body of international experts working with the U.N. Divisions of Resources to determine the future supply of natural resources, he said.

—There must be a better balance between food production and population growth.

The United States will share its agricultural technology, including a raise from $258 million to $675 million this year to aid in boosting farming technology.

Kissinger also renewed his call for a World Food Conference.

A major objective, he went on, will be the rebuilding of food surpluses so the world can alleviate famines and other emergency shortages.

Then, the American secretary pledged his government to the establishment of an "International Fertilizer Institute" to help overcome the shortages of fertilizers.

—Steps must be taken to keep the poorer nations from being destroyed by dramatic shifts in the supplies and prices of such raw materials as oil.

"We welcome the steps the oil producers have already taken towards applying their new surplus revenues" to the needs of the poverty-stricken countries.

The United Nations as well as the other industrialized nations must continue an aid program to the underdeveloped world "despite the prospect of unprecedented payments deficits," Kissinger stated.

—Science must be shared and put to greater use to meet "the developing nations two most fundamental problems—unemployment and hunger," the secretary said.

And, Kissinger went on, "the technology of birth control should be improved."

To meet the possibility of a major weather change in much of the world, he proposed existing international organizations "urgently investigate this problem and offer guidelines for immediate international action."

—There must be a new commitment by rich and poorer nations alike to development of an open trading system, a reformed monetary system "and a positive climate for the free flow of resources, both public and private."

Court To Hear Obscenity Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today agreed to consider whether a person charged with selling obscene magazines may refuse to produce them in court on grounds of self-incrimination.

The court said it would hear the appeal of Michael A. Maness, a Temple, Tex., attorney convicted of contempt of court for advising his client to invoke the privilege against self-incrimination.

Maness represented Michael McKelva, a newstand operator. The city of Temple sought an injunction to bar McKelva from selling the magazines in question.

The newstand operator previously had been convicted of violating a city ordinance governing the sale of allegedly obscene material.

Maness invoked the Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination when directed to produce 47 magazines, saying he did so on the advice of his attorney.

District Judge J. F. Clawson found both McKelva and Maness in contempt. Maness was convicted of the contempt charge at a later trial and fined $500.

He petitioned the Supreme Court after state appeals courts declined to hear his case.

His attorneys told the Supreme Court that possibly for the first time, an attorney had been adjudged in criminal contempt of court for having advised a client of his right against self-incrimination."

They said the conviction, if allowed to stand, would deter other lawyers from giving similar advice to clients.

The attorneys for the state of Texas told the court the Fifth Amendment could not be invoked in the case because the magazines had been displayed for sale and therefore were not McKelva's "private books and papers."

In another ruling, the court let stand a California Supreme Court decision that the noise of demonstrators is protected by First Amendment free-speech provisions, even if it intentionally disturbs the peace.

The court also:

—Declined, in a challenge brought by Rep. Edith Holtzman, D-N.Y., and three Air Force officers, to consider the scope of the President's war-making powers.

—Agreed to decide if the Internal Revenue Service is empowered to issue a summons for bank records merely because it learns of a money transaction that sparks its curiosity.

—Vacated a lower court decision that upheld a Michigan election law quirk denying the Communist party a place on the ballot this year.

Pan American Denies Report Of Air Crash

PARIS (AP) — Agence France Presse reported today that an airliner made a crash landing in the South Pacific north of New Caledonia, and 160 survivors had taken to liferafts.

The French news agency said the plane was a Pan American airliner.

But a spokesman for Pan American said the report was "absolutely false. We had no plane in the area," he said.

In New York, a Pan American spokesman also said that the plane involved was not one of the airline's planes.

The French news agency said the plane crash-landed near the Belef Islands, a series of small islands just north of the French territory of New Caledonia and about 900 miles east of Australia.

It was not known how many persons were aboard, nor what type of aircraft was involved.

GUESS WHAT

Only One Item Missing To Start Cloud-Seeding

Wanted: A collection of storm clouds for weather modifiers to work on and scientists to evaluate.

Both Atmospherics, Inc., which has operated a cloud seeding project for the Colorado River Municipal Water District for the past two years, and Meteorlogical Research Institute, hired by the Texas Water Development Board to evaluate the seeding, are ready to wing into action today.

The TWDB has issued a permit for the modification program which will continue to Oct. 15.

Atmospherics has its seeding airplane and its pilot, Jim Powers, and its meteorologist, Curt Smith, at the Howard County Airport. Larry Boardman and Ed Huber are operating the sophisticated radar equipment in Snyder for MRI. John Kane is the project meteorologist for TWDB.

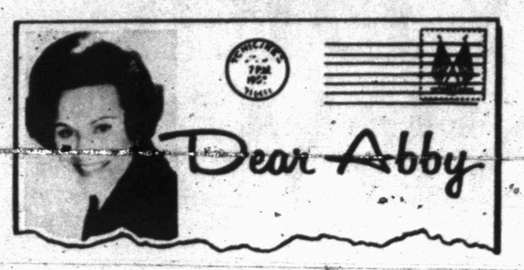

R.A. Schooling, who is coordinating the program for the CRMWD, said that a system of 36 recording guages, in triangular clusters of three scattered over 12 locations in the watershed target areas, plus a network of 81 conventional gauges, has been set up. Winford Martin, Roscoe, will maintain and read the gauges, relaying the date to MRI. He also will take recording rain patterns by exposing a special sheet of paper to rain for specified times. Exposed to light, this paper gives a permanent record of the pattern and size of rain drops.

During course of the project, MRI will send its planes into seeded clouds for samples. Atmospherics, under contract with CRMWD, will make similar in-cloud samplings at intervals.

MRI will direct the randomized seeding of the clouds, but Powers will not know when he is firing real or dummy flares of silver iodide. However, at least 75 per cent of the promising cloud patterns will be seeded.

Teacher lists benefits of controversial books

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News-Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: As a teacher of 11th grade English, may I respond to the irate parent who objected to the "trashy" books his child was required to read in school? That letter could have been directed at me personally because I have recommended such widely accepted literary classics as "The Grapes of Wrath," "Brave New World," and the ever-controversial "Catcher In The Rye."

First of all, I respect the wishes of any parent who does not want his child to read certain books, and if the parent has the courage to let me know directly [and not through an anonymous phone call to my principal], I will gladly suggest some alternatives.

Second, I, like you, Abby, am also "turned off" by certain vulgar four-letter words, mainly because of my own straight-laced upbringing. However, I suggest that no one can judge a book by selecting isolated passages from it. For instance, both "Grapes of Wrath" and "Catcher In The Rye" deal with the importance of feeling a sense of concern and responsibility for one's fellowman.

I realize that this letter is probably much too long for your column, but I feel so strongly about the value of presenting modern, readable and relevant books to our teenagers that I wish to air my views. As a teen-ager I never was nearly as excited about books as I am today, and I attribute my lack of enthusiasm to the dull, "safe," uncontroversial books which were the typical fare for high school English classes back in the '50s.

I want more than anything else to create in my students a genuine desire to read, and that can be accomplished only by exposing them to thought-provoking books that speak directly to them in modern language which, unfortunately, often includes a few words which happen to be offensive to me. A TEACHER [I HOPE]

DEAR TEACHER: Well put. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: What do you say to a mother-in-law who insists on naming our unborn SON? [If it's a daughter—no problem.]

Doesn't she know that the baby's name should be chosen by the baby's mother and father?

This is our first child and we are hoping for a boy, but this situation is making me secretly want a girl! Hurry your answer. I hope it gets here before the baby does. MOM-IN-WAITING

DEAR MOM: No one can name your baby without your consent. When the baby arrives, don't "say" anything, do your own naming, and don't apologize.

DEAR ABBY: Why should the parents of the bride pay for the wedding? I know the book of etiquette says they should—but that's not a good enough reason.

My father made it clear to his daughters that he would double mortgage his home to give us all college educations, but as for weddings—he'd buy us a ladder. I didn't take the college education, and when it came time for me to marry, my fiance and I decided to have a big wedding at our own expense.

Working together for a common goal taught us about the responsibilities we were going to have to face as husband and wife. After a year of scrimping and saving, we had a beautiful formal wedding with all the trimmings. We were so proud of ourselves!

Six years later, we are in our own home, with baby number two on the way. Everything we have we both worked for together, and we don't have to thank anyone but God for it. I want to say a big thank you to my father for making that decision and sticking to it. That was the best gift he ever gave me. HAPPY IN N. J.

DEAR HAPPY: Three cheers for Dad. And hooray for you and your husband. Young lovers, take note!

Nixon Obtains 60-Day Extension

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon, who has been told he owes $467,000 in back taxes and interest, has obtained a 60-day extension of the April 15 filing date for his 1973 tax return.

White House Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said the extension was the type "any taxpayer can request" for additional time in filing a return.

He said Nixon asked for the extension because of the possible effect of the back-tax ruling on his 1973 return.

The Internal Revenue Service and a joint congressional committee on taxation ruled April 3 that Nixon owed back taxes for the years 1969-72.

The IRS disallowed Nixon's deductions for the gift of his vice presidential papers and certain real estate. Nixon has said he would pay the taxes.

All Christians Observe Easter

By The Associated Press

Roman Catholics, Protestants and Orthodox Christians all celebrated Easter in Jerusalem on Sunday.

In Rome, Pope Paul VI urged mankind to follow "the law of duty, of service, of sorrow, of love, of sacrifice — the wise and true interpretation of human life."

Fierce fighting less than 100 miles away went almost unnoticed as pilgrims crowded into Jerusalem's Church of the Holy Sepulchre, believed to mark the site of the burial and resurrection of Jesus.

All Christians celebrated Easter on the same day because of a leap year in the Orthodox calendar. The Western rites held their services first; then the Orthodox worshipers took over.

Security precautions were increased in Jerusalem because of the Arab guerrilla raid in northern Israel last week. But there was no trouble. The Ministry of Tourism said there were more than 45,000 pilgrims — including Jews for Passover — in the city. The crowd equaled that of last year.

An estimated 17,000 persons turned out for the Hollywood Bowl sunrise service in California — the largest crowd in several years.

A chilly fog cast a pall over New York, but thousands milled around in their spring finery along 14 blocks of Fifth Avenue that were cleared of cars. The police were prepared for streakers with a supply of hospital gowns, but none appeared.

Easter took on a new meaning for many Christians in areas of the United States severely damaged by recent tornadoes.

"For the first time, people are really going to be able to understand what resurrection means," said the Rev. Raymond D. Pope of the Faith Community United Methodist Church in Xenia, Ohio.

In Yellow Creek, Ga., members of the Community Baptist Church met for services where their wrecked church used to stand.

At the Vatican, Pope Paul — twice bedridden with the flu in the past month — ignored the advice of aides and held an outdoor mass on the steps of St. Peter's Basilica.

The day was damp and rain threatened, but 250,000 persons jammed St. Peter's Square. An estimated 200 million around the world watched on television as the 76-year-old Pope delivered his message in Italian in a firm voice.

The pontiff warned that "Hedonism, which becomes the false gospel of so many men and women of our time, is in the long run the philosophy of illusion and death."

Two Hurt In Mishaps Here

Two persons sustained minor injuries in motor vehicle mishaps over the weekend.

Audie Mark Baeza, 18, 2405 Forty-second Street, sustained abrasions, when his 1973 Model Honda motorcycle turned over on its side and skidded into a parked 1972 Model Chevrolet pickup owned by Homco, Inc., in the 2200 block of Forty-first Street at 12:43 p.m. Sunday.

He was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Galyean Ambulance Service and released after receiving treatment. There was considerable damage to his motorcycle but only minor damage to the pickup.

Marvin Lee Sipes, 26, Abilene, sustained minor injuries when his 1968 Model Mercury collided with a parked 1969 Model Chevrolet owned by Riley Jackson Brewster, 2906 Avenue V, in the 1500 block of Avenue T at 12:10 a.m. Sunday.

Investigating officers said Sipes' car careened off the parked car and crashed into a utility pole. There was heavy damage to Sipes' car but minor damage to the other vehicle. Damage to the pole was estimated at $100.

Sipes did not require hospitalization.

Firemen Called

City Firemen extinguished a grass fire 10 miles southwest of the City at 9:20 p.m. Saturday.

Shootings Linked To 'Zebra'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two hitchhiking teen-agers were critically wounded in what police say was the latest in a series of senseless shootings. Eleven persons have been killed in random attacks since November.

Homicide Inspector Frank Falzon said the shootings Sunday night were "most definitely" linked to the so-called Operation Zebra shootings.

Zebra is the police code for 15 shootings which caused the 11 deaths over the five-month period and set off the largest manhunt in the city's history. In each case, a black assailant shot a white victim at nearly pointblank range. Police have been unable to determine a motive for the shootings.

Ward Anderson, 18, and Terry White, 15, were approached by "at least one black man who opened fire at a distance of about five feet and fired several times," Falzon said.

The youths were reported in serious but stable condition after undergoing surgery at Mission Emergency Hospital.

Falzon said casings from a .32-caliber automatic weapon — the same type used in the other Zebra shootings — were found at the scene.

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

The other day I was literally stirring things up in our garden when I got to thinking about the myriad of tools on the market that have taken much of the work out of making the house and grounds more presentable.

Power tools of one sort and another are available for doing almost everything on the property. So-called outside work includes the squeezing of triggers, the punching of buttons, the turning of keys and the pulling of cords. Sounds of mechanical gadgets echo through every suburban village and town on weekends.

Everybody can tell by the type of noise a neighbor is making exactly what kind of work he is doing. The guy or gal who is clipping hedges with a conventional shears or edging a lawn with a nonelectric machine may not be making any power sounds but, unless he is visible, he is enjoying a kind of privacy about his activities.

Lawn mowers are powered with gasoline or electricity, have reels or rotary blades, are propelled or nonpropelled, catch grass or deposit it and cut an 18-inch or 24-inch swath. And for those who either don't like to or have forgotten how to walk and have a lot large enough to justify their purchase, riding mowers come in various sizes, horsepower, designs and colors. I saw one recently with headlights (who cuts grass at night?), a cigarette lighter, an ash tray and a glove compartment. What, no refreshment bar?

You can cut hedges and shrubs with single or double bladers, battery-operated or electrically motivated. There are edgers and trimmers and edger-trimmer combinations; grass shears with power that need only be guided; and even electric tools that cultivate and pulverize the soil.

One day I actually saw a man go out into his backyard with no more tools than a spade, a hoe and a rake. If his neighbors had known about it, he would have been thrown out of the work-around-the-property-without-using-any-elbow-grease club.

How long will it be before each family has an electric robot that can be programmed to mow the lawn, bag the leaves, cut the hedges, prune the shrubs, water the flowers, trim the branches and paint the patio furniture?

I have to stop now. There's some wood that has to be cut — if I can find the extension cord.

(Squeaky floors, sweating windows, noisy plumbing and clogged drains are among the 35 subjects discussed in Andy Lang's handbook, "Practical Home Repairs," available by sending $1 to this newspaper at Box 5, Teaneck, N.J. 07666.)

Gold Miners Learned To Ski

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lost Sierra is an isolated corner of northeastern California that the '49ers penetrated for gold. In the beginning, most of them abandoned their diggings with the first heavy snowfall and retreated to the protection of the lowlands and valleys.

The Scandinavians jumping ship in San Francisco to join the gold rush taught them to make skis, and the miners conquered a region that was snowbound for seven months of the year, with drifts as high as 40 feet.

If there isn't a rainbow to be seen after a Spring shower, why not make one? Place a pint of lime, orange, lemon or raspberry sherbet in a mixing bowl and soften it. Gradually add one quart of milk, mixing with a rotary beater or spoon until combined. Add ¼ teaspoon of vanilla and serve in six chilled glasses.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Consumers shopping for furniture may have encountered some confusion in the past few years, what with plastics that seem to be wood, vinyl that appears to be leather, and marble dust that looks like slate.

In addition, there's pressure-sensitive paper that simulates just about anything. All of these have given consumers a wide range of choices between natural and synthetic furniture materials, but sometimes it has been difficult to tell at a glance exactly what you're getting for your money.

Some unscrupulous dealers have taken advantage of the proliferation of terms for furniture materials to deliberately mislead the public.

For example, attorneys in our Consumer Protection Division recently settled a complaint from a woman who purchased a bedroom suite advertised as "all wood" only to find out when it was delivered that just the visible parts were constructed of wood. The rest were of glazed fiberboard.

But furniture-buying consumers should find it less confusing to shop for what they want since new Federal Trade Commission guidelines for the furniture industry went into effect in March.

Advances in technology have greatly changed the types of materials used by furniture manufacturers since the previous FTC guidelines were set out in 1963. This, plus what the FTC terms "misleading advertising and other deceptive practices" among a few members of the furniture industry were the reasons for the revision of the guidelines.

One major change is that "affirmative disclosure" is required. My assistants say this means when any material is used to simulate a more expensive one it now must be identified on furniture tags and in catalogs, brochures, and advertising.

And if furniture has a "veneer," the term used when a more expensive wood is glued to another type of wood, this fact must also be disclosed. So now if you buy a "maple captain's chair" you can be sure it's maple through and through, not maple veneer on oak or some other wood.

Terms such as "French (or Italian) Provincial" or "Mediterranean" can still be used, since most people realize such phrases describe the style of the furniture, rather than its origin. But terms such as "Danish" or "Spanish" cannot be used to indicate style. Instead, "Spanish style" or "Danish design" or some other phrase must be used if the item doesn't actually come from that particular country.

The new guidelines tend to discourage the widespread practice many retail furniture stores followed of removing the manufacturer's tags and substituting their own. Now, if the manufacturer's tag is removed, it must be replaced with one that provides the same information about materials and construction.

FTC guidelines also state that results of tests made on upholstery fabrics must be clearly disclosed in language the lay person can understand.

Our Consumer Protection attorneys say that while these guidelines will not prevent every misleading or deceptive trade practice encountered in shopping for furniture, they will be of great assistance not only to consumers but to the large majority of reputable furniture manufacterers and retailers.

They remind mobile home purchasers that furniture sold with mobile homes should also carry labels that give information about its construction and composition.

And they suggest that consumers always ask to see product labels, that they check carefully on warranties, and that they inquire about how to care for the fabric on any upholstered furniture they purchase. In this way, they may avoid consumer problems later.

For assistance with consumer complaints call our Consumer Protection Division, your county or district attorney, or your local Better Business Bureau.

Survey Finds Half Of Crimes Not Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — As many as half of the crimes in the nation's five biggest cities are not being reported, according to a new government survey.

And Donald E. Santarelli, administrator of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, says the disclosure carries "a strong message of public apathy toward...criminal justice institutions bordering on contempt."

According to the survey, released Sunday, the crime rate is five times as high as police records show in Philadelphia, nearly three times as high in Chicago, Detroit and Los Angeles, and a little more than twice as high in New York.

"The crime survey results demonstrate that in an astounding number of instances Americans simply do not think it is worthwhile to report to public authorities that they have been the victim of criminal acts," said Santarvlli.

The survey was conducted by the LEAA and the Census Bureau as part of a $10 million-a-year project to measure crime. An earlier study indicated that crime is twice as high as reported in Atlanta, Baltimore, Cleveland, Dallas, Newark, St. Louis, Denver and Portland, Ore.

The latest study involved the questioning of persons in about 25,000 households and 10,000 businesses in the five cities during 1973. Those questioned were asked whether they had been raped, robbed, burglarized or assaulted during 1972 and if so, whether they had reported the crime to police.

Of those who did not report crimes 34 per cent said it was because of lack of proof or they felt nothing could be done. Twenty-eight per cent did not consider the crime important enough to report and others said they did not want to be bothered, it was a personal matter, it was too inconvenient or they were afraid of reprisal.

For all five cities the report said, there was a total of 3.1 million crimes committed in 1972.

By comparison FBI statistics, compiled from local police agencies, listed 1.1 million crimes in the cities.

According to the study, 68 of every 1,000 Detroit residents are likely to be victims of serious crime.

It said the rates were 63 per 1,800 for Philadelphia, 56 per 1,000 for Chicago, 53 per 1,000 for Los Angeles and 36 per 1,000 for New York.

Texas Pair Among Victims

HILO, Hawaii (AP)—An Alpine, Tex., couple apparently was among 11 persons killed last Thursday when a plane crashed on rugged Maunaloa volcano, about 30 miles southeast of here.

Authorities announced the tentative identities Sunday and named Mr. and Mrs. Victor Pierce of Alpine as among the victims.

Authorities said positive identification had not been established.

The bodies were held at a temporary morgue here pending positive identification.

Washout Halts Water Deliveries

PORT NECHES, Tex. AP—A washout in a fresh water canal halted further deliveries of water for home and industrial use Sunday to residents of Port Neches and Groves, plus a rash of petrochemical plants.

Until repairs could be made, officials said that meant the affected area of Jefferson County would be without water if supplies in storage tanks were exhausted. Workmen labored through the night, but the job was expected to take considerable time.

Port Neches' public works director Elwin Graham said his city of about 12,000 people had only enough water stored to last about a day—provided no fires broke out.

City Manager B. R. Wallace in Groves said the big storage tanks there would see the more than 18,000 residents of Groves through two to three days before more would be needed.

The break occurred in a canal used by the Lower Neches Valley Authority to deliver the water. Its employes reported water in the canal undermined a big drainage pipe running at right angles beneath the canal.

Scholarship Applications Are Sought

SAN ANGELO—Students interested in majoring in Journalism at Angelo State University may still apply for the $300 Millard Cope Memorial Scholarship according to Harrison Youngren, acting head of the ASU Journalism Department.

The application deadline for the award has been extended to Monday, April 22.

The scholarship is awarded each year to a freshman journalism major entering Angelo State. A student who receives the award as a freshman is eligible to re-apply for a renewal of the scholarship each year providing he maintains a good academic standing and makes contributions to the ASU journalism program.

At least four awards are made annually with scholarships going to a freshman, sophomore, junior and senior journalism major. Last year three awards were made to entering freshmen.

The Millard Cope scholarships are financed out of a $25,000 trust fund established by the late Houston Harte and his wife as a memorial to the late Millard Cope, publisher of the San Angelo Standard Times at the time of his death in 1964.

Application forms for the scholarship may be obtained by writing to the Office of Financial Aid, Angelo State University, San Angelo, 76901.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Gary Player was striding down the 17th fairway at the Augusta National Golf Club, a white cap pulled low over his eyes, and was pondering his second shot to a hard, fast green that had been his nemesis for nearly two decades.

"I haven't hit this green six times in the 18 years I've been playing here," he said to his caddie, Eddie McCoy. "But it won for me in 1961 and it's going to win for us again."

The little South African, dressed in black from neck to shoes, took a deliberate stance and let fly with a nine-iron.

The ball described a beautiful arc and plopped to within six inches of the pin—a virtual tapin for a birdie three.

That one dramatic shot broke the logjam among four leaders Sunday and decided the 38th Masters Tournament, Player winning it at 10 under par—two strokes ahead of Dave Stockton and Tom Weiskopf.

Player, 37, from far off Johannesburg, repeated a victory he first scored in 1961—a record 13-year gap—and fixed his sights on new horizons.

"This gives me the first leg on the Grand Slam," Player said, referring to the four major championships—U.S. and British Opens, the PGA and Masters—which no man has ever won in a single year.

"At least, I am the only man with a chance this year to win it."

It is the last major goal also of Jack Nicklaus, holder of a record 14 major championships who made a spectacular come-from-behind stab at a fifth Masters' crown with an eagle at the par-five 13th, only to falter with bogeys at the 14th and 16th.

At one stage in the exciting Easter Sunday showdown, Big Jack, Player and Weiskopf were tied for the lead with Stockton only a stroke behind and pressure building from such sources as Bobby Nichols, Frank Beard, Jim Colbert, Phil Rodgers and Dave Hill.

Player finished with a 278, the first prize of $35,000 and the traditional green Masters jacket, which was a couple of sizes too big.

Weiskopf and Stockton tied at 280. Nicklaus tied for third at 281 with Irwin and Colbert. Nichols and Rodgers were at 282 and a happy Englishman, Maurice Bembridge, shot a record-tying 64 to finish at 283 with Hubert Green.

Arnold Palmer, a four-time winner seeking to recapture some of his old glories, shot his best round in the Masters since 1962 with a 67 but finished at 284.

Player planned to fly out immediately with his wife, Vivienne, and five of their six children, for the Spanish Open, starting Wednesday.

But his main sights will be on the U.S. Open in June at Winged Foot in Mamaroneck, N.Y.

Player already has two British Opens (1959, 1968), two American PGAs (1962, 1972), two Masters (1961, 1974) and one U.S. Open (1965). Nicklaus' 14 major crowns include at least three of everything except the British Open.

"I have won more major championships than any other foreign player who ever lived," Player said. "I think I have moved ahead of James Braid, who won six British Opens."

Player forgot Harry Vardon, who won six British Opens besides the U.S. Open in 1900.

"I have traveled more, practiced more and made more sacrifices than any golfer I know," the little South African insisted. "I am gratified that this has been another of my rewards."

Player works by the hours on the practice tee, refining his skills. The game has not produced a more deliberate workman.

"They always have said that it takes a long hitter to win here at Augusta," he said. "I disagree. I think placement of the iron shots is more important. You don't have to brutalize this course to win. You can win by good management."

Player is a mighty mite by most standards, standing only 5 feet, 8 inches and weighing 150 pounds. he has powerful forearms and his arms are exceptionally long, falling almost to his knees.

At 15, he once broke his neck jumping into a compost pit in Johannesburg. He turned pro at 17 and was an almost immediate sensation. He made his American debut in the U.S. Open at Tulsa, Okla., in 1958.

He always has had a fetish for physical conditioning and health foods. Once he was on a banana kick and had bananas by the stalks flown to every tournament. Then he shifted to raisins. When he lost his raisin sponsorship, he said, "Raisins rot your teeth."

Once in the World Cup matches in Madrid, he hurt himself doing hand stands in the bath tub. Because of his country's apartheid policies, he was attacked by racial demonstrators in the PGA in 1969 at Dayton, Ohio, where he finished second to Ray Floyd.

Player has constantly sought to better relations with blacks in this country. He invited Lee Elder to play in South Africa. He tipped his caddie here this week $3,500 and also gave the black bag-toter a new set of golf clubs and a complete wardrobe.

Deeply religious, a convert of evangelist Billy Graham, Player said once after he beat Nicklaus twice in the World Match Play Tournament in London, Graham had told him: "Remember you can do anything through Jesus Christ, who strengtheneth me."

"I wrote that on my scorecard before I went for the final round Sunday," Player said.

In January 1973, Player underwent serious operations for bladder trouble and for removal of a cyst on his left leg.

"I could hardly walk afterward," he said. "I was out of action for four months and it took me a long time to regain my strength. I no longer do the exercises I once did, but I feel fine."

Player wears black because he says it gives him a feeling of strength.

Birds, Bees Invade Pro Baseball

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Major league baseball found out about the birds and the bees Sunday.

The American League got the bird while the National League got the bees.

A swarm of bees in San Diego took over the home plate area in San Diego, briefly delaying the Padres' game against San Francisco—but that's another story.

The bird was a victim of a "fowl" ball hit by Detroit's Willie Horton. And the Tigers were the victims of a couple of balls hit very fair...and very far...by Boston's Carl Yastrzemski, carrying the Red Sox to a 7-5 triumph.

In other American League games, Minnesota mauled Kansas City 8-0 and California trimmed Chicago 6-3 and, in a pair of doubleheaders, Oakland topped Texas 4-2, then the Rangers rebounded 10-2 in the nightcap, and the New York Yankees whipped Cleveland 9-5 before the Indians took the second game 9-6. Baltimore's game at Milwaukee was rained out.

Red Sox 7, Tigers 5

The ball, hit by Horton struck and killed a pigeon passing over old Fenway Park, landed only a few feet in front of home plate.

The popup by Horton in the ninth inning hit the pigeon, which fell dead immediately in front of home plate.

"It scared the hell outa me," said Boston catcher Bob Montgomery. "I jumped a foot in the air—and Willie jumped even higher."

What killed the Tigers was Yaz' bat. He drove in two runs in the first inning with a booming double and later scored on Dwight Evans' home run.

Then Yaz crashed a homer of his own, a third-inning shot that proved to be the winning run. Ed Brinkman drove in three of Detroit's runs.

Twins 8, Royals 0

Bob Darwin continued his torrid hitting with a grand-slam homer, a triple and two singles to lead Minnesota's assault against Kansas City—but the Twins were more concerned about pitcher Bert Blyleven.

The right-hander held the Royals to six hits before leaving the game in the eighth inning with a slight muscle strain.

"Without Bert we're in trouble," Darwin said. And Manager Frank Quilici added: "He's the gun, baby."

But Blyleven downplayed his arm problem. "It's just a knot. It feels good now," he said after the game.

Angels 6, White Sox 3

Frank Robinson drove in a pair of runs with a homer—the 555th of his career—and a single and Dick Selma slammed the door on Chicago to lead the Angels, leaders in the West, to their sixth victory in eight games and keep the White Sox in the cellar with their sixth loss in seven

Selma replaced Frank Tanana on in the seventh inning with the bases loaded and none out, got pinch-hitter Carlos May to hit into a force play at the plate and then got Dick Allen to ground into a doubleplay.

A's 4-2, Rangers 2-10

Reggie Jackson cracked two home runs, the second one a three-run eighth-inning job, to boost Oakland past the Rangers. He's hit five homers this year, all against Texas.

In the second game, though, it was Dave Nelson who feasted. He drove in six runs with a three-run homer, a two-run single and a sacrifice fly, to bring the Rangers a twinbill split.

Yanks 9-6, Indians 5-9

The Yankees, making like the Bronx Bombers of old, won the opener on six homers, including two by Graig Nettles and one each by Thurman Munson, Ron Blomberg, Bobby Murcer and Mike Hegan.

Shag Crawford has umpired in the National League since 1966.

Tough Celtic Defense Stops Knicks, 113-88

BOSTON (AP) — The New York Knicks are hoping that history repeats, but with captain John Havlicek healthy and in top form, the Boston Celtics figure to be even tougher this year in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Conference playoff final.

The Celtics got off to a quick start in the best-of-seven series, whipping the Knicks 113-88 Sunday with a tough defense and hot shooting. The teams will play Game 2 in New York Tuesday night.

The series opener was virtually a replay of the first game between the same clubs last year, the Celtics drubbing the Knicks 134-108. However, the Knicks rebounded in New York 129-96 in the second game and went on to win the series and the NBA championship.

Havlicek, a superstar, suffered a shoulder injury in the third game last year and the Celtics were unable to compensate. The shoulder mended during the off-season and the 12-year pro from Ohio State is flying.

Dividing his time between a forward position and the backcourt, Havlicek scored 25 points, collected 12 assists and grabbed four rebounds before being removed with 9:15 left and the Celtics in command with a 93-64 lead.

"Havlicek did it all," said New York star Walt Frazier. "He's always moving, and can make shots on the run. You can get the best position on him and he still gets the ball off. You can't relax on him. We're going to have to stop the Celtics from running. We didn't today."

The winner of the Boston-New York series will face the winner of the Milwaukee-Chicago Western Conference series for the NBA title. The Bucks and Bulls play the first game of their best-of-seven set Tuesday night at Milwaukee.

The American Basketball Association also is into its league semifinals. In the East Division, the New York Nets, leading Kentucky 1-0, meet the Colonels tonight in Game 2 at Uniondale. N.Y., and in the West, the Utah Stars, with a 1-0 advantage over Indiana, face the Pacers again tonight at Salt Lake City.

The Celtics hit 44 of 85 shots for a lopsided victory before a crowd of 14,101 and a national television audience. New York hit on only 34 of 103 field goal attempts, a poor 33 per cent.

Havlicek broke a 23-23 tie early in the second period and the Celtics went on to continually break through New York's defense, outscoring the Knicks 18-4 in a six-minute stretch to pull away for good.

In the NBA West, Chicago, which never had advanced past the opening round of the playoffs in six previous attempts, barely made it this time, holding off the Detroit Pistons 96-94 Saturday in the final game of their bristling, best-of-seven series. The Bulls built an early 19-point lead, then withstood a furious Detroit rally.

Chet Walker paced the Bulls with 26 points.

Meanwhile, Milwaukee has been resting since eliminating Los Angeles in five games on Apr. 7.

In the ABA, the Nets opened the East Division final Saturday night with a 119-106 thrashing of Kentucky. Julius Erving paced the Nets with 35 points and rookie Larry Kenon added 20 points and a game-high 15 rebounds, but it was the strong defensive job by New York's Billy Paultz on the Colonels' 7foot-2 Artis Gilmore that proved vital. Paultz held Gilmore to 13 points and 10 rebounds.

Utah began the ABA West final with a 105-96 victory over tired Indiana Saturday night. Willie Wise led the Stars with 34 points, including 17 in the crucial fourth period when Utah overcame a slight deficit. George McGinnis topped the Pacers with 39 points.

Coronado To Host Tigers

The Snyder High School varsity baseball team will tangle with Lubbock Coronado at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in Mackenzie Park in Lubbock in another District 4-AAAA doubleheader.

Snyder now is 15-9 for the season and 4-6 in district play. Coronado is 6-4 in district play. The first time the two teams met they split a doubleheader.

Coach Speedy Moffett of the Tigers listed probable starters, according to batting order, as follows: Randy Gressett rf, Kelly Ragland lf, Ralph Lewis 3b, Robert Braziel lb, Ernie Simons c, Robert Alderete ss, Sid Perry 2b, V.T. Roberson cf and either Doak Witherspoon or Gary Greenlee p.

"Whichever pitcher doesn't start the first game will be used in the second one," Coach Moffett declared.

The Monterey Plainsmen have the district crown virtually sacked up, but there is a close fight for second place among the other teams.

The Tigers host the league leaders at 2:30 p.m. here Friday in another district doubleheader.

Although the Tigers are a relatively inexperienced team, they have been able to compete on even terms with all of the teams in District 4-AAAA except Monterey. The hitting, pitching and fielding have been above expectations this season.

RIGHT IN KEEPING WITH THE TIMES!

Two Main Factors Are Holding Market Down

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — More than two factors are holding down the stock market but you'd find yourself with a following if you chose only two: High interest rates and the activities of institutions.

High rates mean that bonds compete with stocks for the investment dollar, reducing the flow of money that in more normal times might be expected to tend in the direction of equities.

Moreover, high interest rates cut into the profits of corporations by adding to costs, just as do increases in labor or raw material prices.

The activities of institutions, it is argued, are resulting in a two-tier market, with shares of a favored group of less than 100 companies attracting considerable interest and the rest of the market little interest at all.

Officers of some companies complain that they simply cannot interest portfolio managers of the institutions — mutual and pension funds, bank trusts and insurance companies — in the attractiveness of their wares.

In addition, they contend that when the institutions do become involved with shares of some of the smaller and lesser known companies they tend to dominate the market and sometimes produce sharp price movements.

"These practices alienated — and still do — the small investors and harmed many well-managed second-and third-tier companies," said C.V. Wood, Jr., chairman of the Committee of Publicly Owned Companies earlier this month.

The committee, observing its first anniversary, is made up of 632 corporations with total assets of more than $55 billion and 2.5 million shareholders whose shares are traded on most of the big exchanges.

Wood noted that for the second straight year, there are 800,000 fewer shareholders of American companies. Indicative of lagging interest in the market, only 99 new issues were marketed in 1973 compared with 568 in 1972.

This lack of interest in stocks has led to some of the lowest price-earnings multiples in decades. The committee claims that three-fifths of "leading" companies have multiples below 10, meaning their shares are priced at less than 10 times earnings.

Multiple problems result from low price-earnings multiples, and it's anyone's choice as to which are the worst.

For one thing, corporations badly need equity capital in order to maintain and expand their plants and equipment. The committee estimates that between now and 1985 the country will need $3.3 trillion in new capital simply to provide jobs and goods for an expanding population.

A problem of perhaps equal magnitude is that many of the companies in the second tier have stock prices so depressed that they are increasingly the target of takeovers by foreign concerns.

Tommy Sands Weds Secretary

HONOLULU (AP) — Tommy Sands, teen-aged singing idol and actor of the 1950s and 1960s, has married a Honolulu secretary.

The ceremony was Sunday at the Kawaiahao Church here.

Sands, 36, married Sheila Wallace, 24, in the second marriage for each. She has two children by a previous marriage.

Sands is currently trying a singing comeback at a Waikiki nightclub after a four-year retirement. His last million-seller recording was "I'll Be Seeing You" in 1966. He appeared in the film "The Violent Ones" in 1967 and until recently had been conducting dinner and nightclub tours at Waikiki nightspots.

Sands married singer Nancy Sinatra in 1960.

Giant TV Set For Superdome

NEW YORK (AP) — So you think a 30-inch screen is a real bonanza for TV viewing? Stay tuned, Bunky. You ain't seen nothing yet. How about a 75-ton TV set with six screens, each 26 feet wide and 22 feet high?

Agreed, it's not the sort of thing you'd put in the living room. In fact, it only will be installed in the new $163 million Louisiana Superdome they're currently building in New Orleans.

But it's intended to bring all the comforts of home viewing, even slow-motion replays, to the 80,000-plus souls Superdome officials hope will visit their emporium to watch sports and other events live.

The officials hope to have it working by Jan. 12, 1975, when, if the Superdome is completed, pro football's Superbowl 9 will be held in the 26-story enclosed arena.

The video monster, which costs an estimated $1.3 million, doesn't work like your conventional television system, according to Bob Jones, an ex-TV newsman who now is the Superdome's director of television.

There'll be conventional TV cameras on the field for close-up action, but that's where convention ends. He says the signals will be piped to a control room, then to six massive, Swiss-made projectors located at strategic points on the arena's fifth floor.

The projectors then will cast the images on the giant screens hanging in a circle from the center of the Superdome. Officials claim it'll give a spectator in the most remote seat a view akin to what he'd see were he sitting in front of a three-foot TV screen at home.

"We can do anything with this system that commercial television can do," says Jones.

Alas, that also includes commercials, which Jones say probably will run only 30 seconds and be flashed on the screen only during breaks in whatever action is afoot down on the field.

The commercials are expected to net the Superdome $210,000 next year, he said.

Has anyone raised the point it might seem a bit ironic to go to a stadium and pay money to watch a game on television?

"No, not really," Jones laughed. "I've had some thoughts about it, but I was absolutely amazed when I saw a system vaguely like this at the Capitol Arena in Maryland, just outside Washington."

The attraction was a circus, he said, and he was struck by the interest of spectators in the arena's four TV screens.

"I was sitting at one end, fairly high up, and I got a better view of some of the acts on the screen than actually looking at the acts themselves," he said.

"What I got was the atmosphere and spontaneity of sitting there, yet I got a nice close-up picture when I wanted one."

Junior Editors' Quiz on NOMADS

QUESTION: What are Nomads?

ANSWER: People who have no fixed habitation are known as Nomads. They wander from place to place, but never settle in any section for a great length of time. Nomad is derived from a Greek word which means to roam. Wandering herdsmen, living in tents, still are common in large sections of Asia. In Africa, there are many Nomadic tribes, and some hunting tribes in South America and the East Indies still lead nomadic lives.

Early in the history of civilization, man followed a nomadic existence and then later settled down to living on farms and raising cattle and crops for food. The Bedouin or Arab tribes roam the deserts of Syria, Egypt and North Africa. They are peaceful tent dwellers tending their herds of sheep and horses. They have lived this life for centuries and claim descent from Ishmael, the son of Abraham. The gypsies, a race of wandering people, are scattered all over the civilized countries. They travel in wagon trains or automobile caravans and engage in horse trading, working metal and fortune telling. They have been following this way of life for many years.

Jobs For Tomorrow

(First of 2 parts)

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain Kennedy

what job would you like to see explored in this column?

Dear Joyce: I am very interested in obtaining any booklet that deals with the variety of careers one may pursue -- M.M.J., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Try the 1974-75 edition of the Occupational Outlook Handbook, published 2 weeks ago by the Department of Labor It's a whale-sized reference rather than a booklet, but a thumb-through is an eye-opener if it's variety you seek Many libraries eventually will have a copy, or you can order it for $6.85 from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402

ITS INTRODUCTORY SECTION includes an overview of the job world through 1985 Bear in mind that the following highlights refer only to growth in job openings, and do not incorporate replacement needs (for those who die, retire, or leave the field) The larger the field, the greater the replacement needs Here's what the Labor Department sees in the 11 years ahead:

(1) The overall employment rate is expected to grow about 24 percent; use this figure as a benchmark for comparison purposes

(2) White-collar jobs (professional, managerial, clerical and sales) will continue to outdistance blue-collar employment (craftsmen, machine operators and laborers) By 1985, white-collar jobs will account for more than one-half of all workers A growth rate of 37 percent is seen for white-collar jobs and only about 15 percent for blue-collar occupations

(3) Employment of professional and technical workers (such as teachers, engineers, dentists, accountants and clergymen), now numbering 11-1/2 million may grow by nearly 50 percent in 1985

(4) Demand for salaried managers continues to accelerate because of reliance of business organizations and government agencies on management specialists The number of self-employed managers will continue to drop as large businesses continue to replace small firms The group growth of managers, officials and proprietors, now at 8 million, is likely to increase 30 percent by 1985

(5) Jobs for clerical workers, the largest occupational group (now counted at about 14 million), are expected to expand by nearly 40 percent due to more paperwork in industries that employ them The trend in retail stores toward transferring to clerical workers functions that were performed by salespersons also will increase clerical jobs

Opportunities will be best for secretaries, typists, receptionists, those qualified to handle jobs created by electronic data processing, and those who deal with the public and who exercise initiative Routine clerical jobs, such as payroll, stock, bank and file clerks - whose work can be handled by computers and machines - may be reduced or eliminated However, as work switches from clerks to machines, new jobs will be created for machine operators, particularly in large urban business firms

(6) The expected growth of the nation's approximately 5-1/2 million salesworkers by some 20 percent is largely due to population growth; new product development and business expansion. The proportion of part-time salespersons also is likely to increase, particularly in suburban shopping centers which have stores open several nights a week. Salespersons primarily work in retail stores, wholesale firms, insurance companies, real estate agencies and door-to-door sales

NEXT - OUTLOOK FOR CRAFTSPEOPLE, SERVICE WORKERS, FARMERS AND OTHERS.

NEW BOOK CLAIMS

Resignations Of Agnew Demanded

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new book on Spiro T. Anew's tax case says that while President Nixon kept voicing support for Agnew in public, White House aides eventually met privately with Agnew to demand his resignation.

Nixon was particularly worried about Agnew taking the "impeachment track" by aiming his case toward the House of Representatives, according to the book, "A Heartbeat Away," being published today by Viking Press.

Agnew finally made a deal with the Justice Department, resigned Oct. 10 and pleaded no contest to a single charge of income tax evasion.

The authors of the book, Washington Post reporters Richard M. Cohen and Jules Witcover, said the Agnew impeachment option "was fraught with ominous parallel for the President himself.

"If Agnew could be impeached and convicted, then perhaps it would not be so difficult for the now-reluctant congressmen to place Nixon on the same track and ride him out of office.

Also, an Agnew impeachment trial would raise in uncomfortable terms the basic constitutional question vexing the Watergate-plagued President: Was impeachment the mandatory first step for a president or vice president accused of crime, or could he be indicted first in a court of law?

"Finally, once committed to the impeachment track, Agnew would be much less likely to agree to the swift, surgical solution that the President wanted — his resignation," the book said.

Cohen and Witcover said that the decisive incident behind Agnew's agreeing to resign was a meeting Sept. 10 involving the vice president, one of his lawyers, presidential counsel J. Fred Buzhardt and White House Chief of Staff Alexander T. Haig.

Haig, "abandoning the White House's addiction for circumlocution and subtlety ... let Agnew have it," the book said. "The vice president had to resign. It was a simple, straightforward demand, and Haig kept hammering away at it."

A big killer year after year is heat. Heat takes the lives of about 175 Americans in an average year. In very hot summers, the death toll can rise to well over 500, directly caused by heat.

Ruckelshaus To Protect Consumers

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — William D. Ruckelshaus has taken a job with the Florida Apartment Association to protect consumers against rising electric bills.

Ruckelshaus will meet officials here next week to discuss the way fuel costs are passed along to consumers, association President James Mahaffey said Friday.

He said the statewide group represents owners of more than 100,000 apartment units. The Public Service Commssion sets electric rates.

No salary was announced for Ruckelshaus.

Lady Fed Up With Jury Duty

DETROIT (AP) — Helen Mueller is a shy, 102-pound housewife who said she "really felt sort of proud" when she was called for federal jury duty.

But that was before she found out what jury duty was like.

After 20 days' service over three months, she stomped into U.S. District Court here to give Judge Fred W. Kaess a good bawling out.

"If I ever get in trouble, I'll never ask for a jury trial," she told the startled judge. "I don't want to be judged by a group of angry, frustrated people.

"We were herded around like animals, from one pen to another. Nobody says welcome, or tells you what the rules are, or what your rights are or what's going on around you. Most of the time you just sit, not knowing what it is you're waiting for.

"People become very resentful," Mrs. Mueller told the judge last week. "You'd be surprised how many jurors say they'll never vote again, because jurors names are drawn from the registered voters. I think that's terrible!"

Judge Kaess agreed and said a judicial committee was working on jury system reform.

The Drayton Plains woman said that the required 20 days of jury duty can stretch into six months if a juror is never chosen for a trial. So jurors stretch the truth a little during their examination just to get on a case and get the whole thing over with, she said.

"I don't mean the jurors lie," she said. "But for example, I've learned not to say what my husband's profession is. If I say he's a social worker, I'm excused right away. I learned very quickly to say he is a director for a family service agency. That's OK."

For another, the jurors aren't notified when a case is dismissed or settled out of court. "You might have to come in and sit all day only to be told to go home. And you never knew why," she said.

But Mrs. Mueller said the capper was the day she telephoned the emergency number to tell the court she couldn't show up because of a medical problem. She said she got a recorded message that told her what time to be on duty.

Port Arthur New All-America City

Announcement of the 25th annual All-America Cities Awards, sponsored by the National Municipal League, was made today by Wilson W. Wyatt, League President, and William W. Scranton, chairman of the National Conference on Government. George H. Gallup, chairman of the American Institute of Public Opinion and of the League's Council, and mentor of the All-America Cities program, joined Wyatt and Scranton in congratulating the communities on their accomplishments.

The winners are: Albion, Mich.; Jamestwon, N.Y.; La Habra, Calif.; Lewistown, Pa.; Lexington, Neb.; Macon, Mo.; North Adams, Mass.; Port Arthur, Tex.; St. Cloud, Minn.; and Tulsa, Okla.

In commending the winners, Gallup, Scranton and Wyatt cited the special significance of their achievements in demonstrating the continued vitality of local civic activism despite the setbacks to public confidence affecting other areas of public life.

The awards program is the only one nationally which seeks to foster citizen attention to community goal setting and problem solving. The 1973 stories represent a casebook of such experience in a variety of settings. They are highlighted by activities to improve human relations; deal with housing needs; develop environmental protection measures; revitalize sagging business and industrial activity; broaden educational opportunity, improve health and social services; increase citizen access to governmental decision making; and improve the effectiveness of civic organizations. Eight other cities received honorable mention in the program: Baldwin Park, Calif.; Coos Bay Area, Ore.; Dade County, Fla.; Decatur, Ill.; Mattoon, Ill; Ravenna, Neb.; Scottsdale, Ariz.; and Syracuse, N.Y.

Fords Enjoying California Sun

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford enjoyed warm sunshine as he and his wife relaxed at the estate of Walter H. Annenberg, U.S. Ambassador to Great Britain.

The Fords arrived Saturday and are to return to Washington next Sunday. The vice president is to speak at the dedication of a senior citizen project today.

Nixon Applauded At Church Service

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon was met with applause and given a decorated egg after Easter services.

Nixon, his wife, Pat, daughter and son-in-law Tricia and Edward Cox and his friend C.G. "Bebe" Rebozo attended services Sunday at the Community Church near the Florida White House. The Rev. J.A. Geschwind wished the Nixons a happy Easter and said, "Our hearts are warmed by the presence of the First Family."

Youngsters applauded and shouted "Happy Easter" as the Nixon party left the church.

BUSINESS & INDUSTRIAL NEWS

NEW NAME—Earline Payne, owner of Payne's Drapery Shop, stands outside the shop under the new sign in the Cogdell Shopping Center. Formerly known as Connie's Drapery, the firm has recently changed its name to reflect the new ownership. Mrs. Payne said visitors are always welcome.

Payne's Drapery Shop Is New Name Of Cogdell Center Firm

Connie's Drapery shop will now be known as Payne's Drapery Shop, according to an announcement by shop owner Earline Payne this week.

"We plan to continue to offer the same wide variety of drapery services to our customers that we have in the past," she said.

Payne's Drapery Shop will continue to be located in the Cogdell Center. Business hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Visitors are always welcome at the shop where one of the staff workers are always glad to answer questions, provide free estimates, or show some of the new materials which are arriving daily.

Staff workers at the shop in addition to the owner include Leona Smallwood, Othel Warren, Eula V. Maupin and Neva Huddleston. These women have over 37 years of combined experience in the drapery business.

"Our specialty includes all types of draperies which the customer may desire," said Mrs. Payne. "We make or reline all types of drapes," she added. Also available are shades, swags, table cloths, bed spreads, sheers, upholstery, pillows, valances, cornice board, floor covering and venetian blinds.

In addition, Payne's Drapery Shop also offers upholstery material as well as drapery, with matching wall paper and shade material. The shop also keeps a table full of remnants at all times.

"With summer weather just around the corner, you may want to come in and place your order for table cloths for use in weddings or parties," explained Mrs. Payne.

All products at Payne's Drapery Shop are reasonably priced.

"We're always glad to give free estimates at the shop or in your home," said Mrs. Payne. The shop telephone number is 573-3771. For after hours, call 573-7831.

"Your business is always appreciated—We want to help you in any way that we can," said Mrs. Payne.

Floods Leave Many Homeless

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — Seven persons were dead and thousands were temporarily homeless today after weekend floods in southern Mississippi.

The floods were fueled by torrential rains which began Friday and continued nonstop through Sunday, ranging up to more than 16 inches in areas.

Bridges were washed away and many roads were closed in the flood area, which stretched 150 miles across the state from the Mississippi River on the west to the Alabama border on the east and as far north as Jackson.

The National Guard was called out to help with evacuations in Columbia and Hattiesburg, and a state civil defense spokesman in Jackson said the number of persons evacuated probably would approach 3,000.

No major rains were predicted for the area through Tuesday, but some rivers had not yet crested.

Forrest County Civil Defense Director Harold Hill said the Bowie River is expected to reach a record 32 feet today. It rose to only 31 feet during a damaging flood in 1961.

Most residents of the small Greene County community of McLain had left their homes by Sunday evening, one resident said.

"There is no point in waiting," she said. "They lost so much the last time in the 1961 flood, that they have moved everything out and up to higher ground already."

At Hattiesburg, officials said at least 500 persons were housed in five Red Cross and Salvation Army Centers Sunday night.

Between 200 and 300 persons were forced out of their homes Sunday in the low-lying Morgantown area near Columbia. Some 100 to 150 persons evacuated homes in other parts of Marion County.

Texas Traffic Deaths Low Over Easter Holiday

By The Associated Press

Reports for the Easter weekend reflected a startling drop of the rate of fatal traffic accidents across Texas.

Matching a trend apparent since gasoline came to be in short supply, authorities counted just seven deaths in accidents involving motor vehicles.

The over-all toll from violence between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday was 19, also including six drownings, four shootings, a stabbing and one death in a plane crash.

These were among the victims:

Erasmo Rodriguez, 23, and a small boy he attempted to save both drowned as a boat overturned Sunday in Lake Sam Rayburn. The boy was tentatively identified as Balderman Salis, 6, of Diboll. Six others in the boat made it to shore.

John Robert Irvin, 15, of Bon Wier drowned Sunday when he fell from a boat while fishing at Lake Wannager in Newton County.

Donald W. Dafft, 33, of Carrollton, a Dallas suburb, was shot to death Sunday by an off-duty Dallas policeman. Patrolman Donald Marshall said he tried to stop an argument between Dafft and a woman and fired as Dafft hit him on the head with a .22 caliber pistol.

Julian Robali, 41, was found sprawled across railroad tracks Sunday in Houston, his throat slashed and his mouth stuffed full of rocks. Officers said Robali also had been severely beaten.

Javiar Gonzales, 21, of Houston drowned Sunday when he fell off a float Sunday about 50 yards offshore at Galveston. The body washed ashore two hours later.

George Willis Howten, 23, of Tomball drowned Sunday while swimming in a stock pond near Dobbin in Montgomery County. Officers said he became entangled in a trotline.

Robert Wayne Jones, 13, of Houston drowned Sunday in the San Jacinto River below the Lake Houston dam. Juvenile officers said he was wading when he slipped into deep water.

Americans Complacent On Energy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the Environmental Protection Agency says the end of the Arab oil embargo has prompted Americans to become "very complacent" again about conserving energy.

EPA Administrator Russel Train said Sunday there was too much emphasis on expanding supplies of energy rather than reducing demand.

"I am concerned that with the cutoff of the Arab embargo the American public is going to go back to its wasteful ways," Train said on the CBS television program "Face the Nation."

"I think that we're very complacent about this, not really recognizing that we're in for a long-term energy problem in this country," he said.

We've got to make up our minds...that we better start giving the highest possible priority to reducing the use of energy."

Train said a switch to smaller cars is "probably the largest single energy savings that we could make."

Meanwhile, New England utilities today return their voltage to full power after a winter cutback to save fuel.

A spokesman for the New England Power Pool said the federal allocation system and ending of the oil embargo have stabilized the supply of fuel to the region's electric generating plants.

Beginning Nov. 27, utilities in the six-state area had imposed a 5 per cent voltage cut daily between 5 and 9 p.m.

Two small Dallas girls died Saturday in a crash involving a truck on a freeway in East Dallas. They were Karen Annette Green, 6, and Judy Henderson, 12.

Rawleighns Norman, 41, died late Friday night when his truck overturned on Farm Road 512 about five miles west of Brazoria.

Evelyn Bell 18, of San Antonio was killed early Saturday in a collision of two cars on Farm Road 2536 near San Antonio. A third vehicle plowed into the wreckage.

Robert Brooks Egan, 27, of Austin was killed Friday night when his motorcycle struck a curb at the top of a steep incline near the University of Texas campus in Austin.

Police found Everette LeRoy Rankin, 45, shot to death at his East Dallas apartment early Saturday. They reported he was shot in the chest with a shotgun.

James William Harris of Marshall was shot to death early Saturday at his rural home. Officers said relatives of the victim called authorities to say Harris had been shot three times.

Police said Ronnie Fails, 24, of Brownwood died Friday night in what was described as a fight at a night spot. Officers said Fails was shot in the chest with a rifle.

Wayne Nelson, 27, died Friday evening when the plane he was flying crashed in a wooded area of west Harris County. Two other occupants of the light plane, including Nelson's wife, survived.

Officers said Jesse A. Martinez, 46, of Atascosa was killed Sunday night while riding in the back of a pickup truck which skidded in loose gravel and overturned in South Bexar County. Two companions in the cab escaped injury.

Kerry D. Kile, 15, died in Austin Sunday night when his motorcycle ran off a dirt road and hit a tree. The accident happened on private property.
