Q. Why was the "Letter to the Editor" by Doris McClellan in last week's Record paid?

A. The Record Letter to the Editor policy allows approximately 15 to 20 column inches per letter. All letters longer are subject to being edited, and the author, in this case, chose to pay so the entire letter could be printed.

Hospital project ahead of schedule

Mitchell County Hospital District's $7.8 million hospital and physicians' clinic construction project, halted last summer because of sand under the foundation, is now five days ahead of the schedule that calls for completion of the project on Jan. 25, 2003.

Administrator Rick Rickard told board members at 6 p.m. Tuesday that dirt sub-contractor Bill Price of Snyder should finish replacing the sand with clay by Friday or Monday.

Then the clay that formed the four foot foundation pad, removed to get at the sand underneath, will be replaced, wet-tened and packed nine inches at a time at the Rogers Road site, Rickard said.

"It will take a little time," he said. "It won't go back on as fast as it came off."

"That's good to hear," said Board President Kent Boyd.

Rickard toured the job east of the Wallace-Ware Units Tuesday with Supt. Raymond Chaisson of Cooper Construc-

Expectations modest for county cotton

With resignation and a little good humor, the cotton ginning season started last Friday.

The old country song "Busted," lamenting, "Cotton is down to a quarter a pound," comes to mind.

Local farmers would probably say the Depression is still on because the basic price of cotton is only in the low 30 cent range, buttressed by price supports that may bring it up to around 50 cents -- still below the break even level.

Loraine Co-Op and Producers Co-Op Gins in Loraine and Colorado City rolled out their first bales Friday morning with Loraine farmer George Martin taking "first bale" honors at 8:15 a.m.

Tony and Travis Turner, who farm southeast of Colorado City, got their first bale at Producers a short time later.

Loraine Co-Op Manager Stan McMullen said Monday that he had ginned about 100 bales and could not predict how many the season will produce.

Producers Clerk Araceli Hernandez reported 90 bales.

Mitchell County Gin at Loraine expected to start this week.

"The cotton is good in spots and sorry in spots," McMullen said. "This cotton today is real good."

County Agent John Senter also declined to predict the final bale count, saying the unevenness of the growing sea-

Commissioners end burn ban in county

September-October rainfall has moistened Mitchell County enough for county commissioners to end a "burn ban" Monday.

The ban had been in effect since Aug. 7, requiring people who wanted to burn grass or other dry foliage to notify and get permission from their local fire chief first.

Judge Ray Mayo said at the 9 a.m. called meeting that Colorado City Fire Marshal Billy Ray Williamson had recommended ending the ban.

C-City got 2 1/2 inches of rain in September and has recorded .90 so far this month for a total of about 13 inches this year.

More has fallen in some parts of the county.

Commissioners Bill Preston and Ed Roach were absent.

Other business in the 10 minute session included extending a $95,662 certificate of deposit at First Bank of West Texas in Loraine for six months.

County Treasurer Ann Hallmark recommended no more than a three or six month extension because interest rates are at their lowest level in decades and might well rebound within a year.

Commissioners Carl Guelker and Wendy Inman agreed, okaying a six month "rollover" at 2.8 percent interest.

The other options were three months at 2.75 and a year at 2.85.

FAIR PREPARATIONS were underway Tuesday at the fairgrounds with this prison community service crew under the supervision of TDCJ Field Boss Randy Henderson. The fair opens Thursday night and continues through Saturday.

Mitchell County Fair begins this Thursday

Mitchell County's No. 1 annual outdoor event, the County Fair, was gearing up Tuesday with the arrival of its new carnival company and the expectation of a greater number of exhibits Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Starlite Amusements of Fair Acres, N. M., planned to set up 16 rides Wednesday at the fairgrounds on the southwest side of town off West Hwy. 80.

Chamber of Commerce Secretary Katrina Lopez reported sales of 500 color coded ride tickets so far at the advance bargain rate of $1 each.

They guarantee one ride per ticket while two or three will often be required with tickets bought at the fair.

Go by the Chamber at 157 W. Second St. to get your tickets.

The rides include Ferris wheels for children and adults, a Roll-O-Plane, a Merry Go Round, Castlemania, Boats, a Dune Buggy, Night Mares, Clown Town, Swing Ride, Granny Bugs Ride, Airplane Ride, Tilt-A-Whirl, Care Bear, Spider, Ball Crawl and Rock-O-Plane.

Chamber Manager Leigh Ann Erwin said there appears to be more interest in exhibits this year and a dozen people had already signed up for the Saturday afternoon karaoke amateur singing contest.

The music starts at 4 p.m. with eight contestants in each of three age divisions going for $200, $120 and $80 first, second and third place prizes.

Trick or Treating Oct. 30th

"Around Town Trick or Treating" will be held in Colorado City for Halloween on Tuesday, October 30, 2001, from 3-6 pm or until the establishment closes. Local businesses will be handing out candy.

All children in the county which are 5th grade and under are encouraged to join in the fun. They are asked to please be accompanied by an adult.

See list of participating businesses on page 5.

Amendment election set for November 6th

The state's semi-annual raft of proposed constitutional amendments is only dull if you don't read it.

Read it and you see they finance needed projects, revise musty old laws and satisfy peculiar local interests in various parts of the state.

With pros and cons analyzed by the Texas Legislative Council in Austin, the first nine amendments to the unwieldy old Texas Constitution this fall are the usual hodgepodge.

Voters will decide which become law on Tuesday, Nov. 6, with early voting to end Friday in the Mitchell County Courthouse lobby.

Proposition No. 8 would authorize $850 million in general obligation bonds for construction, repairs and equipment purchases by 13 state agencies.

Issued by the Texas Public Finance Authority, the money could help the General Services Commission, Youth Commission, TDCJ, MH-MR, Parks & Wildlife, Adjutant General, School for the Deaf, Ag Department, DPS, State Preservation Board, Health Department, Historical Commission and the School for the Blind.

No. 7 would let the Veterans Land Board issue up to $500 million in bonds for veterans' house lobby.

CHS Band competes this Saturday in Haltom City

Going far afield with lots of enthusiasm, the Wolf Band will leave at 8:30 a.m. Saturday for the UIL Area B Marching Contest at Birdville Stadium in Haltom City, northeast of Fort Worth.

They'll march at 3:30 p.m. -- 14th among 16 Class 2-A bands who all want to be one of three to advance to the state contest Nov. 4-5 at Baylor University in Waco.

Unlike at the regional contest weekend before last in Abilene, they will not get Division 1, 2 or 3 ratings. They'll be ranked one through 16.

Asked how rehearsals have gone, Co-Director Jeremy Ross said Tuesday, "Pretty good. We've been detailing, working on small things."

"The kids are very excited. It will be real tough competition, but we're going to beat as many bands as we can -- give it all we've got and see where the chips fall."

Joined by Haskell and Jim Ned from the regional contest, the Wolves will meet mostly schools from the north and northeast regions of the state.

They competed against 10 bands at regional to earn their way to the rarified Haltom City competition.

The other area schools are

Skunks are a problem in Loraine

LORAIN -- Skunks have always been a problem in Loraine, coming in from pastures to catch bugs under the street lights, but it has been awhile since they have been as troublesome as they've been lately.

Police Chief Edgar Haltom has killed more than 50 since August.

"They carry rabies, eat cat food and drink the water, and they stink," he said.

"You'd hate to have a rabies epidemic."

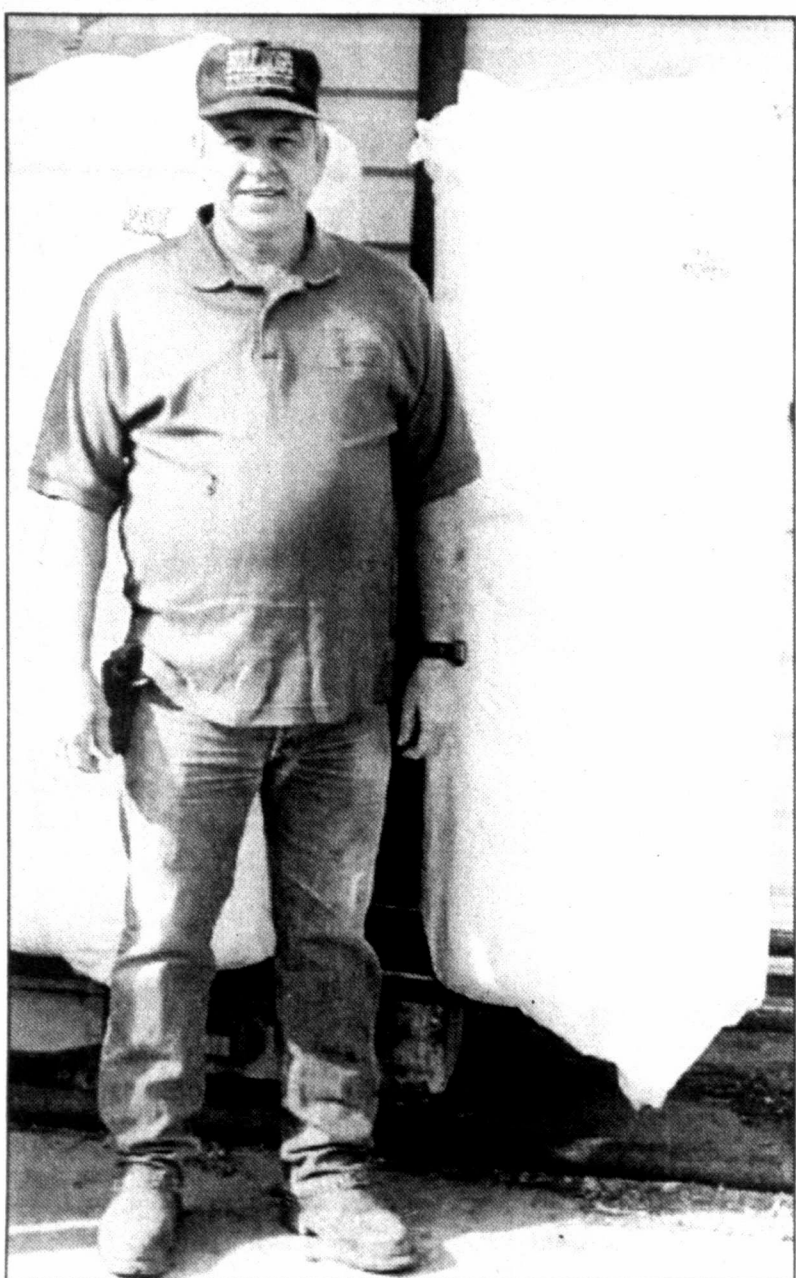

He finds them in every part of town.

THE SOLUTION TO THE SKUNK PROBLEM is in Loraine Police Chief Edgar Haltom's hands -- the shotgun he has used to dispatch scores of them this fall.

THE FIRST BALE of Mitchell County's ginning season belonged to Loraine farmer George Martin, who showed it Monday at Loraine Co-Op Gin.

son's rainfall will cause widely varying production. "Most of the better cotton I've seen is in Buford," he said, referring to farms north of Colorado City. "They just got some timely rains that maybe other parts of the county didn't get."

"My guess is that this will not be a real outstanding crop countywide. The price is so depressed that it doesn't look to be a good economic year."

housing assistance and cemetery expansions and improvements.

Written under the auspices of Lt. Gov. Bill Ratliff of Mt. Pleasant and House Speaker Pete Laney of Hale Center, the Council's report says it would "meet the increasing demand for loans under the housing assistance program that resulted from the ceiling on the amount that could be loaned being raised in 1999."

In an issue of interest here, with Mitchell County having contributed tons of flood supplies to the Acuña colonias, No. 2 addresses the need for better roads to all colonias.

It would provide $175 million in bonds for the Public Finance Authority to help border counties build and maintain roads and drainage projects to the colonias.

The ramshackle colonias, or colonies, were thrown together for Mexican campesinos to live in while working in factories built after the NAFTA free trade agreement was signed by the United States and Mexico.

Foreseeing a possible fiasco like last year's presidential election recount in Florida, 6 would require the governor to call a special election to name presidential electors if he decided that a final determination would not be made before the deadline.

5 is an interesting proposition, encouraging Texas cities to give surplus firefighting equipment to underdeveloped nations.

"The donations would create good will between this state and the country to which the equipment or supplies were donated," the Council wrote in an analysis distributed by State Sen. Robert Duncan of Lubbock here Oct. 10.

9 would allow uncontested special elections to fill legislative vacancies to be cancelled.

4 would increase the term of the statewide fire fighters' pension commissioner, appointed by the governor, from two to four years and coincide with the governor's term.

Nos. 3 and 1 are "local interest" propositions.

3 would let the Legislature exempt raw cocoa and green coffee from ad valorem taxes in Harris County, encouraging the New Board of Trade to designate the county as a coffee exchange port.

1 would relinquish the state's claim to 22 land tracts in the A. P. Nance Survey in Bastrop County, east of Austin, clearing the owners' titles and saving litigation costs.

(Next week: the other 10 amendments, including No. 19 for $2 billion in water development bonds and the controversial No. 11 to allow current and retired teachers and school administrators to be paid for their service on school boards, city councils and water district boards.

Varmints of all types have been seen here this summer and fall, including bobcats, foxes and coyotes.

Chief Haltom heard and then saw a four foot long rattlesnake with 11 rattles on his front porch at midnight Saturday.

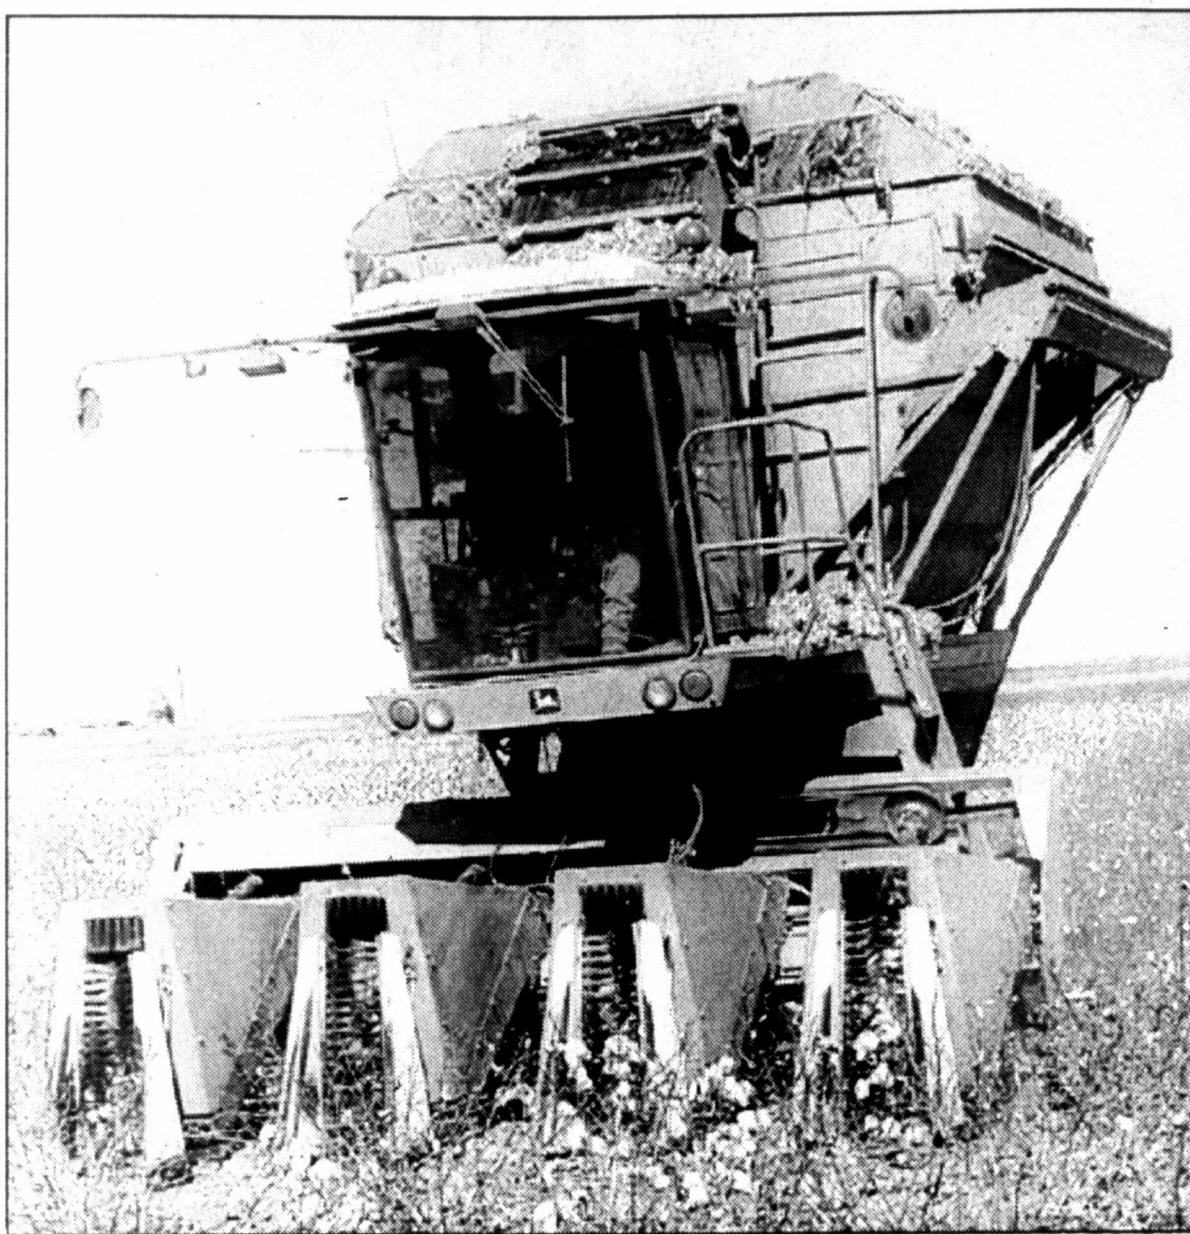

Water Supt. Ricky Bailey brought a snakecatcher and put the snake in the road where Haltom could shoot it with his short barreled Remington 12 gauge pump shotgun.

He uses the relatively light No. 7 1/2 birdshot to avoid unintended damages.

He and his son Dale, wielding a .410 shotgun, killed 30 skunks in a weekend when he first became chief in 1982.

Patrolling at night and watching under the streetlights, he hunts the pesky varmints year around, nailing 10 on Thursday, Aug. 16.

He has never been sprayed. "That's the thing about that shotgun," Haltom said. "You don't get that close."

TONY TURNER'S COTTON was being harvested last Friday by Casey Casares southeast of Colorado City. County farmers have had clear weather for the beginning of the cotton harvest.

Grand jury issues five indictments

A county grand jury last Thursday issued indictments against five criminal defendants, including one accused in a Sept. 4 burglary northeast of Westbrook.

Santos Mendoza Jr., 38, of Big Spring was truebilled for second degree felony burglary of a habitation in connection with a break-in at the home of Ellen Newby.

Arrested Sept. 19 by Deputy Mike Redwine, Mendoza was released on a $12,000 bond.

An air conditioner, a check-book and a cooler were stolen.

Mendoza was first taken into custody by Big Spring police at an air conditioner shop after a woman was arrested for trying pass a forged check on Ms. Newby's bank account at the Big Spring Bealls Department Store.

A second man who is suspected in the offense has not been arrested.

A second degree felony carries a possible prison sentence of two to 20 years.

Other truebills included two against a Knoxville, Tenn., couple who were taken into custody July 27 on Interstate 20 by Task Force Agent Ron Stiltner for third degree felony possession of marijuana.

Released on $7,500 bonds, they are Robert and Lucy Crawford, 52 and 57.

They're charged with having more than five pounds but less than 50 pounds of the drug.

A third degree felony conviction may result in a two to 10 year sentence.

Federico Atkinson Jr., 21, of 2044 Colorado St. was indicted for possession of cocaine in connection with his Sept. 1 arrest by City Officer Will Miller and released on a $5,000 bond.

It is an alleged state jail felony, punishable by up to two years' imprisonment.

Joe Soto Lara, 34, of Lubbock was arrested for third degree felony driving while intoxicated on Sept. 22 by Snyder based DPS Trooper James Arwine.

He is free on a $5,000 bond.

CCNet up and running again

Out of order since mid-August, the $500,000 state funded C-Net computer network's Wallace Center classroom was restored Monday.

System Administrator Eli Espinoza said technical problems caused the shutdown of the classroom with 15 public access Internet connected computers on the south side of the Wallace Center off South Hwy. 208.

Classes in a variety of computer subjects were moved to the network's two classrooms at the Colorado City School District Administration Building at 12th and Hickory Street, where there are 20 computers in one room and eight in another.

Espinoza said there was a conflict between the CCNet's network and the CISD's and he had to switch CCNet to its own network.

Assisted by 2000 CHS graduate Bryan Casares, he said, "We had to build CCNet a network all its own."

"We were not seeing certain sights, and there was a speed problem."

Public access computers are also available at the banks, the Texas Cooperative Extension office in the county annex building, Heart of West Texas Museum, First United Methodist Church, the county library, which has eight computers, and other sites.

Computers will be working by the end of this week at the Civic Center, the county courthouse and City Hall, Espinoza said.

The Wallace classroom was to be reopened Tuesday morning.

Wreck critically hurts man

A 23 year old Snyder man and a 56 year old Colorado City woman were injured, the man critically, in a two vehicle head-on collision at 7:30 p.m. Saturday on Interstate 20's north access road west of here.

Jesús "Jesse" Martinez suffered internal injuries and was in critical condition Wednesday morning in the surgical intensive care unit of Covenant Medical Center in Lubbock, where he was flown by helicopter early Sunday.

Linda Clary of 1337 County Road 305 was in satisfactory condition Tuesday at Mitchell County Hospital with an eye injury and other injuries.

Her husband Edgar Allen, 65, had been treated and released.

Department of Public Safety Trooper Carlos Diaz said Martinez was eastbound and the Clarys westbound on the access road when they approached the FM 2835 intersection just north of Smyler's Store.

Clary turned left in his 1995 Chevrolet extended cab pickup in front of Martinez' '95 Ford Escort, and the car hit the right front of the pickup, Trooper Diaz said.

Trooper Diaz said Clary would be given a ticket for failure to yield right of way, and Martinez was given an alcohol blood test and those results are still pending, Trooper Diaz said.

Martinez, a C-City native and employee of Fuller Foods, underwent surgery early Sunday morning and again that afternoon for a liver laceration.

Trooper Diaz said Martinez had his shoulder strap on, but his seatbelt had not been buckled.

Abusers get counseling

It seems unavoidable to police, women's shelters and, certainly, the victims, but there are solutions to family violence.

It's learned behavior that can be "unlearned."

Periodically beating someone you love makes no sense to anyone, even those who do it.

But it has taken decades of observing the social and familial damages to begin tackling the problem.

Often but not always related to drunkenness, spousal abuse is hard to stop because of its multiple causes.

Insecurity, jealousy, inability to handle frustration and, most tellingly, seeing one's parents behave this way as a child are all part of the woe.

"We've started seeing it in the second generation with the kids coming back as adults," said Gateway Family Services Director Lyndia Allen of Snyder.

"They learn it at home -- that in marriage it's normal to act this way."

"It's drinking, stress. . . They don't learn any outlet for their anger and feelings."

Ms. Allen, whose staff runs a battered women's shelter in Snyder and serves five counties, said an effective program has been developed for people who enroll as a condition of probation.

Taught by the independent Ministry of Counseling and Enrichment in Abilene, it's the Battering Intervention and Prevention Program, or "BIPP."

It costs $25 for an evaluation and $15 a week for 29 weeks of classes -- $460.

The Ministry also teaches BIPP classes in Midland, Lubbock, Dallas, Austin and other places.

Steve Queen has taught it in Abilene for two years and his colleague, Al Dostal, for five.

Ninety minute classes begin at 7 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and 9 a.m. Wednesday at the 1502 N. First St. center.

Students go once a week because the same class is taught all week, and the record is encouraging for those who complete the program.

Thirty seven men and three women are enrolled.

"We had a guy sign up to take it voluntarily yesterday," Queen said last Friday.

"Domestic violence relationships are based on power and control. We try to teach that a healthy relationship is based on equality instead of a use of male privilege."

"This is not a women's lib equality because men and women are very different physically and in mind set. It's an equality in relationship with a partnership and shared responsibility."

He said men are often skeptical upon starting the program but grateful at the end.

"They have been taught they're the man of the house and they're supposed to rule with an iron hand," Queen said.

"We teach them how to behave in a non-threatening way, to understand and respect women and the fears they have."

Some men have come back to the Ministry and said they called 911, as instructed, when their wives hit them and the police arrested them because the injury they inflicted when they hit back was more visible.

Queen says a man should not hit back at all because of his much superior strength.

"If they enter and complete all 29 sessions, they usually do not re-offend," he said.

Then they avoid either unintentionally killing their wives or girlfriends and going to prison or dying when the woman decides to hide a gun or knife and use it the next time she is threatened.

Call the center at 915-672-9999 for more information.

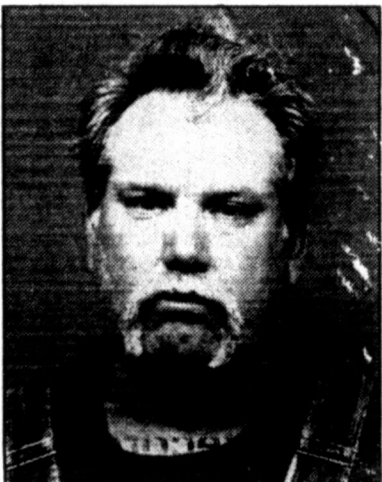

Gateway works in Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry, Kent and Fisher Counties and is looking for a place to have weekly meetings in Colorado City.

Ms. Allen is aided by Financial Administrator Vikki Langham, Family Violence Coordinator Yvonne Myers, case workers Lea Phillips and Shari Jamison, sexual assault coordinators Joanne Crill and Lea Ann Bell and part time shelter staffers Tiffany Rule, Jamee Moreno and Sharon Gill.

They have a free telephone line -- 800-578-8054.

They apply for grants from the state attorney general's office for up to $50,000 for women's medical bills, relocation, housing and other expenses, although most grants are much smaller.

Murder trial set Jan. 7 in G'wood investigation

Alan Hulslander

MIDLAND -- The first degree murder trial of a Greenwood oil well driller accused in the alleged 1998 murder of his wife has been set for Monday, Jan. 7, in 238th District Court.

Alan Hulslander, 43, has been out on bond since about a month after his April 25 indictment in the death of his wife Daytina, a Snyder native whose mother, Elfie Ratliff, lives in Colorado City.

Mrs. Hulslander's body, burned beyond recognition in a western Glasscock County pasture, was discovered Feb. 25 by hunters.

Hulslander said he had nothing to do with her disappearance or death and pleaded not guilty.

Ms. Ratliff has had custody of her daughter's three elementary and middle school age boys since Mrs. Hulslander went missing.

Hulslander and his new wife have custody of the two little girls he had with Daytina.

A spokesman for District Judge John Hyde, to whom the case has been assigned, confirmed last week that the trial had been set for the first full business week in January.

She said a number of motions filed by defense lawyer Gerald Goldstein of San Antonio will be heard before then.

Asked if she is relieved the trial has been set, Ms. Ratliff said, "In a way I am and in a way I'm not, having to go through what we've gone through over and over again."

"Knowing that he's probably going to be convicted and go to prison for the rest of his natural life -- that's a satisfying thing."

A forensic anthropologist at the University of North Texas in Denton examined the remains but did not make his findings public.

Miss Cleo & Lesko amusing

By Bob Campbell

TV liars are sometimes entertaining and sometimes annoying.

For the contrast, we need go no further than Miss Cleo, the Tarot card reading voodoo priestess, and the screeching Matthew Lesko with his "Free Government Money" book.

Some people don't like Miss Cleo, but that's because they take her seriously.

Like the rest, she just wants your money, suggesting it's really her on other end of the line, discerning with lightning, inerrant psychic precision your most distressing problems and their easy solutions.

She doesn't bother me, with the Caribbean settings and island music, because she's entertaining -- probably working for an actor's fee.

Then we have Lesko, wearing a suit with question marks all over it.

I never have known exactly what he's going on about, strangely running on a beach, because I use the mute button.

The question marks ask, "Why do I exist?"

Who's behind Miss Cleo and Lesko, paying the bills and taking most of the profits?

The CIA, FBI, Mafia, Chinese, Tri Lateral Commission, Skull & Bones Society, Professor Moriarty, the Ghost of Vlad the Impaler, bug-eyed blue aliens from another solar system, all the soap opera producers.

It's a sinister "they" if there ever was one because obviously they take us for irredeemable halfwits.

Contemplating the matter as seriously as the Kennedy assassination, the profit motive must be a smokescreen.

The same power is behind both campaigns -- and a number of others less flamboyant but no less disingenuous -- with the motive of pinpointing the location of every pinhead in the United States.

Why they're spending so much money to do this is the question. Once we know why, then we will know who.

You ask yourself, watching the TV liars, why would anyone believe these people?

First they get your attention, then combine style with boldness and an element of fantasy. Get down with a psychic and get your wisdom from somebody besides God.

Lesko is kooky, just like the government. Play his game and laugh your way to prosperity.

Pay us, and we will cut you in on something big that you know little about.

Every "come-on" requires good bait.

It's too bad the state became so strapped that it had to sponsor a con game like the Texas Lottery with its "$40 million" jackpots and bait-dangling ads to keep the money flowing.

Especially damaging to our society are the portrayals of sex to young people in music videos, network TV shows and other media as everything but the profound and often dangerous experience it is.

When somebody smiles and says, "Come on, have a good time, walk with me down this dark alley," that's a come-on.

Learn the No. 1 rule of the street smart: don't listen to 'em, watch 'em!

Say "No, thanks," and walk away with your money still in your pocket.

The back forty

by Roger Pond

Don't look now, but a smidgen of common sense has slithered into the endangered species debate. A federal judge in Eugene, Oregon has ruled that Oregon coastal coho salmon born in hatcheries are genetically identical to those spawned in rivers. Therefore, salmon born in the hatchery should be counted when endangered species listings are made.

U.S. District Court Judge Michael Hogan said, "The National Marine Fisheries Service listing decision creates the unusual circumstance of two genetically identical coho salmon swimming side by side in the same stream, but only one receives ESA protection while the other does not. The distinction is arbitrary."

The judge went on to say that it makes no sense to exterminate hatchery-bred salmon as part of a strategy for preserving wild fish since hatchery and naturally spawned salmon are the same species and have been interbreeding for more than 100 years.

This is great news for those who care about salmon. If there is no genetic difference between coho salmon born in a hatchery and those spawned in the river this species isn't endangered after all!

Are environmentalists happy? No-o-o! Are "Save the Salmon" advocates happy? No-o-o!

These groups believe we need to clean up our rivers, cut fewer pesticides, recycle more, live in town. They want to use salmon and the Endangered Species Act as a vehicle to make us do things they think we should be doing anyway. Most of them wouldn't know a coho from a bluegill.

That's why we have people claiming endangered summer steelhead exist in streams that are historically dry through the summer and fall. Landowners chuckle, "Oh, yes. We have burrowing steelhead out here. They just go underground and keep on going."

The funny part about this ruling is that everyone knew the current fish counting process was phony. Scientists knew it, environmentalists knew it, and the National Marine Fisheries Service knew it.

Still those in favor of shutting down industries, restricting property rights, and spending as much as possible in the name of fish restoration have found ingenious ways to ignore a simple scientific fact: One's species is not determined by where we are born.

One Oregon legislator explained it this way. He said in essence, "Most people in this country are born in a hospital, an artificial environment."

"A few are born at home, the natural environment for humans. If we apply the wild fish/hatchery fish example, people born in a hospital would be inferior to those born at home."

I should mention that I like salmon and steelhead as well as anyone else. (I can tell them apart, too.) But I don't believe the endangered species act benefits these fish.

Salmon and steelhead runs in many river systems, including the Columbia, are the highest they've been since official counts began. Before that we had unofficial counts like, "You could walk across the river on their backs," or, "We had to keep the kids in the house so the fish wouldn't eat them."

We should understand that anti-hatchery policies embraced by "Save the Salmon" advocates would result in far fewer fish, and no better fish than we currently have. That's not saving anything.

The Wind Energy Boom in McCamey

By Tumbleweed Smith

Four wind energy companies are building huge wind turbines around McCamey.

"Well, there are one hundred and six on Southwest Mesa," says Mayor Sherry Phillips. "I believe there are a hundred and twenty-five on Indian Mesa. Some there are still under construction. I'm not sure how many they have up on Woodward Mountain, but there are several. There'll be around two hundred when they are through. And then on King Mountain there will also be somewhere in the neighborhood of two hundred. The companies predict there will be somewhere between seven hundred fifty and a thousand before they're finished."

The turbines have changed the landscape of McCamey and are creating some tourist business. T-shirts are for sale with logos of the different wind energy companies on them.

"Lots of people have come to see them and we want to invite everybody to come on down and have a look," says Sherry. "I think they're especially pretty at night because about every third or fourth one has blinking lights."

Both the Texas House and Senate have given McCamey the designation of "Wind Energy Capital of Texas." That phrase is printed on the t-shirts which tourists are buying by the dozens.

"There is an increase in wind turbines going up all over the place because a few years ago the government mandated that by the year 2000 there had to be an alternative energy source. It demanded that three percent of the energy must come from something other than oil and gas."

Wind energy companies looking for a good spot to erect turbines chose McCamey for several reasons.

"We have a perfect setting with our flat-top mesas. They don't have to do much construction to make the ground up there level. They're just high enough to give the towers the boost they need. And McCamey is relatively close to highways and not too far off the Interstate."

And of course there is the good breeze. "On top of the mesas we probably have wind 350 days a year. It only takes a seven mile an hour wind to turn one of these things."

It's a clean energy source. Cattle, sheep and wildlife graze around the turbines, some of which are over two hundred feet tall. "There's no pollution involved. And you have a reliable energy source because the wind is likely to blow around here for a long time to come."

Several Europeans have come to McCamey to work in the wind. Since McCamey has no motel, they stay in Midland and Odessa.

"They're enjoying it because it's in Texas. And you know Texas is a fascination for everybody. Especially those from overseas. People sometimes don't realize that. Course they expect to see cowboys and around here, they do."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Letter to Editor,

The hardworking parents of the parent/teacher organization have supplied Kelley Elementary with a new digital ear thermometer. The Kelley group is officially called the Kelley Launch Organization. These folks continually work behind the scenes working for teachers and doing various fundraisers to provide extras for teachers and students alike.

If you are interested in making a difference in your community, I encourage you to volunteer at the school of your choice. For all parents that are already an active, positive force in our community, I thank you for all of your efforts!

HOSPITAL

tion Co. of Odessa, the general contractor.

He said the refill will not require more than 19,000 cubic yards of dirt -- a positive development because more would have increased the amount of the contract.

Board member Kenneth Rogers was absent.

Other business in the 50 minute meeting included Dr. Dee Roach's report that visits to Family Medical Associates, or the Rural Health Clinic, decreased by 1 1/2 percent from 19,203 last year to 18,907 this year.

He said annual revenues of about $875,000 were the same.

Boyd said he has had some complaints about the length of time that patients have to wait.

Dr. Roach said the unpredictability of the clinic's practice is the main reason patients have to wait longer on some days than others.

The chief of the medical staff said he is able to see 15 patients some mornings and only five on others when the ones he sees have more complex problems.

He said the staff would like to have a minimum time set for indigent, or poor, patients to live in Mitchell County before they qualify for free care.

Board members Dale Geiger and Shirley Clifton said they favor a 90 day minimum, and it was agreed to put the matter on the November agenda.

Dr. Roach said he knows of several people who moved here on the advice of outside specialists who practice here.

He said the No. 1 item on the med staff's "wish list" is a new $500,000 CT-SCAN machine because the old one is 12 years old, although they appreciate the financial commitment.

Board members discussed increasing the length of their terms, which is allowable under the district's new charter that was approved in the past state legislative session, from two to three years.

Rickard said the three members who are up for re-election this spring would seek three year terms, as would the four who will be up in 2004, if the panel decided in favor of the change.

No consensus was reached, and no vote was taken.

AN AMERICAN EAGLE, top right, is welder Darrell Shurtleff's newest creation at his 18th and Hickory Street shop, made in observance of the military action in Afghanistan. The black eagle and deer have been sold. Shurtleff was in the Marine Corps during World War II.

COOK'S CORNER

Nothing tastes better than fresh roasted pumpkin seeds. Since this is the right season for carving a jack-o-lantern, we have included a traditional, simple recipe to use for the seeds instead of throwing them away. We have also found other Halloween recipes and tips that we hope you find useful.

Roasted Pumpkin Seeds

After extracting the seeds from the pumpkin, rinse the seeds thoroughly. Place them in a single layer on a cookie sheet. Try and make an even layer, the less they lay on each other, the better they can bake.

Add salt and butter to taste and bake at 250° until golden brown, or about 15 to 30 minutes.

Another variation on pumpkin seeds is to spice them up.

Sweet Spicy Pumpkin Seeds

5 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground cumin
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
pinch of cayenne pepper
1 1/2 tablespoons peanut oil

Prepare seeds as above but line the cookie sheet with parchment paper. In a medium bowl, combine 3 tablespoons of the sugar and the salt, cumin, cinnamon, ginger and cayenne.

Heat peanut oil in a large non-stick skillet over high heat. Add pumpkin seeds (after baked) and 2 tablespoons sugar. Cook until sugar melts and the pumpkin seeds begin to caramelize, about 45 to 60 seconds. Transfer to bowl with spices and stir well to coat. Let cool.

Bloody Popcorn

Kids love to gross out grownups, and what better way than with bloody popcorn.

Add a little red food coloring to melting butter. To get true red or black colors, buy paste food coloring from craft or cake decorating supply store. When the red butter is melted, pour it over the popcorn as usual.

Jack o' Lantern Pizza

1 pre-made soft pizza crust
1 container pizza sauce
1 package of pepperoni
1 green pepper and any other veggies you like
1 8-oz. bag of mozzarella and cheddar cheese

Following the instructions on the pizza crust tube, bake crust on round or jack-o-lantern shaped cookie sheet. After the crust is done, cover it with the pizza sauce of your choice, add pepperoni and any veggies you want.

Cover liberally with the cheddar, mozzarella cheese mix, making sure to cover anything underneath it. Cut green peppers into thin slivers, save a larger piece to make the stem. Lay pieces out to make the indentations of the pumpkin. Cut pieces of pepperoni to make the eyes, nose and mouth of the Jack-O-Lantern. You could also use a yellow pepper to do this for variation on a meatless pizza.

Bake according to the instructions on the pizza crust wrapper, usually about 20 minutes, but you'll know when it's done. The cheese will be all bubbly and the crust will be golden! It looks so yummy, you won't be able to wait to taste it and, maybe, share with all your spooky friends!

Oliver leaving museum

Tuesday, October 30, 2001 will be Museum employee Charles Oliver's last day at the Heart of West Texas Museum. Charles and his wife Pauline are moving to Midland to be closer to family members and medical facilities.

Charles has worked at the Museum for almost 10 years in his capacity of maintenance, upkeep and resource contact for both the Museum and the Heritage House. He has absorbed the history of Mitchell County, is a vital part of the working of the Museum and will be greatly missed.

The Board of Directors, Members and Staff of the Heart of West Texas Museum wish the Olivers the best and God's speed in their new adventure.

Wolves test Forsan in 3-2A match

The Colorado Wolves play host this Friday night to the Forsan Buffaloes in a very important class 2A match that could help propel the Wolves (2-0 in district 3-2A) into a playoff spot.

Forsan, under the direction of head coach Steve Park, has finished 3-7 the last two seasons and is 2-5 on the season and 0-2 in district play after dropping to the Seagraves Eagles last Friday by the score of 41-21.

All-district tailback Wes Longoria, 5-10, 195, returns to lead the team on offense. The speedy junior has started in the backfield since his freshman season. Last year he carried the ball 187 times for 1,115 yards while scoring 10 touchdowns.

Longoria is helped by an all-senior line that started last year and are used to working together as a unit. They are 205 pound tackle Brad Gillman, 185 pound guard Donny Allen, 200 pound center Billy Kinsey and 165 pound guard Josh Bedwell.

Offensively the Buffaloes run primarily out of the Wing T and shuttle in and out two different quarterbacks using sophomore Josh Helmstetter on sprint outs to the right and senior Matt Reyna, a 5-10, 145 pounder, likes to roll out to the left. On occasion Reyna is used as a wide out when Helmstetter is at quarterback. Other receivers are juniors Bobby Litke and Ross Rhoton.

On defense they have changed from the 4-3 they normally ran last year to a 50 split.

The Colorado Wolves kept their district mark unblemished to keep pace with the 2-0 Coahoma Bulldogs in district 3-2A with a 28-0 blanking of the Stanton Buffaloes in action played in Stanton Friday night.

The Buffs appeared in an upset mode early in the game as both clubs seemed to be feeling each other out in a cat and mouse game.

The Buffs received the opening kickoff, but punted on fourth down and 15 to go.

The Wolves were not able to do any better after setting up shop at their own 34-yard line as they would go three and out after an attempt to unleash their running game.

This time the Buffs would start their drive at their 18-yard line and would move the chains twice, once on a pass to receiver Redman Parker and then on a penalty before turning the ball over to the Wolves on downs at the 10-yard line. The Buffs would go five straight downs at the 10-yard line.

The Wolves would then go three and out after two pass incomplements and an unsuccessful run by quarterback Jacobie Russell. This would then punt on fourth down and 10 to go from their own 26-yard line.

After the punt the Buffs set up shop at their own 14-yard line and would move the chains twice, once on a pass to receiver Redman Parker and then on a penalty before turning the ball over to the Wolves on downs at the 10-yard line. The Buffs would go five straight downs at the 10-yard line.

The Wolves would then go three and out after two pass incomplements and an unsuccessful run by quarterback Jacobie Russell. This would then punt on fourth down and 10 to go from their own 26-yard line.

quell the drive for the Buffs.

This time the Wolves were able to put together a 12-yard play drive that began at their own 27-yard line but the Buffs defense would force the Wolves to settle for a field goal attempt which Tyson Zigler would put through the uprights from the Stanton 14-yard line where the drive bogged down. With 11:15 left to go in the half the ice had been broken and the visitors were up by a 3-0 count.

After the Wolf kickoff the Buffs set up at their own 33-yard line but after moving the ball to the midfield stripe would have to punt the ball away to the Wolves.

The Buffs pinned the Wolves with their backs to the wall at their own 14-yard line with a great punt but the Wolves would begin a 14-play drive with Russell moving the ball a few yards at a time accumulating five first downs along the way and getting to the Buffs one-yard line before Russell banged in from there with 2:04 left to go in the first half of play. Zigler was unsuccessful with the point after attempt but the Wolves had cushioned their lead to 9-0.

Penalties again hurt the Buffs on their next possession forcing them to punt the ball from their own 27-yard line on fourth and 22 yards to go and time expired in the first half before the Wolves could get off a play.

The Wolves received the opening kickoff to start the second half but after moving the chains three times for first downs they would be forced to punt on fourth down and 15 from the 48-yard line.

The Wolf punt pinned the Buffs at their own 14-yard line and after a couple of first downs the Wolf defense got on a big 25-yard sack that set the Buffs back to the 26-yard line. On third down and 35 the Buffs quick kicked, nailing the Wolves back at their own 18-yard line.

Wolf quarterback Jonathan Spear hit Lenard on a twelve yard pass to move the chains to the 30-yard line. Senior fullback Jed Anderson would then take a hand-off from Spear and sprint the 70-yard distance to the endzone after several missed Buffalo tackles. Spear tried a pass to Lenard for the extra point attempt but it failed leaving the score at 16-0 in favor of the Wolves with 5:12 left to go in the third period.

After the Buffs turned the ball over on downs the Wolves put together a 10-play drive that culminated in a Spear to Lenard 14-yard touchdown pass with 10:36 left to go in the game.

Zigler's point after attempt sailed off to the left leaving the Wolves up 21-0 at that point.

After both teams exchanged punts the Buffs would finally put points on the board but a penalty moved the ball back to the 25-yard line and nullified the score. After two pass in-completions Victor Hernandez would get sacked by Wolf lineman Bo Williamson forcing the ball to go over on downs to the Wolves.

The Wolves would only need eight plays to put their last points on the board when Wolf running back Kinji Johnson found daylight and scampered in from the 17-yard line with 2:41 left to go in the game. This time Zigler's PAT was good and the Wolves had the game iced at that point.

Head Wolves coach Gerald James said after that game that he knew the Buffs were hungry for a win to stay in the district hunt.

"I knew they had their backs to the wall and didn't want to go into the Coahoma game next week at 0-2," said coach James. "I knew they would come out playing hard and we talked to our kids about holding off the push and doing something early and getting ahead of them and luckily we got ahead of them early in the second period with a field goal. It wasn't much but it broke the ice and then when we got the touchdown before half-time I felt we were in good shape."

Next Friday the Buffs face off against Coahoma while the Wolves will host the Forsan Buffaloes in 7:30 kickoffs.

WOLF RUNNING BACK KINJI JOHNSON, #21, slips the tackle of Stanton defensive back Paul Chandler while enroute to a 17-yard touchdown that gave the Wolves a 28-0 lead, a lead that would stand up as the final score. Wolf lineman B.J. Graham looks on in the background.

BO WILLIAMSON, #1, and JULIO GARCIA, #50, haul down the Stanton quarterback in action last Friday in Stanton. The tough Wolf defense held the Buffs to 85 total yards of offense in the 28-0 Wolf victory. Photos contributed by Victor Speeg.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

By Carl Graham

For the first time this season all three Mitchell County varsity football teams came away victorious in action and Friday night Loraine won for the first time this season defeating the Hermleigh Cardinals and the Westbrook Wildcats moved one game closer to a district title with a big win over the Highland Hornets.

This sets up the big showdown with Ira Friday night with the district title probably being at stake.

Colorado City shut out Stanton to stay in pace with the Coahoma Bulldogs, both with 2-0 district marks. They tangle with Coahoma the last district game of the season and both teams could go into that matchup without a blemish which would set up a title game between the two.

For those that read the Abilene Reporter a good article came out in last Friday's paper on the Colorado City connection at McMurry University in Abilene. Colorado City has six members of that squad who are making contributions to the team with senior defensive back Chris Fambro playing a huge part in the recruiting of the other five. Others on the squad that played for the Wolves are Fambro's younger brother Luke who is playing at wide receiver, starting quarterback Justin Hill, punter/place kicker Randy Byington, defensive lineman Leon Molina and freshman Chase Phariss. The team is still looking for their first win of the season but the Indians are still very young.

Zack Love is playing at Angelo State University this season and is the lone returning starter on the offensive line which he anchors at center. The team is ranked eighth in the region, is 4-2 overall and 4-0 in the Lone Star Conference. Good luck again this week to all our Mitchell County teams and we hope everyone can have a repeat of last Friday night.

8th grade rolls on, 7th grade loses

The Colorado City 8th grade continued to roll on toward an undefeated season with a 42-18 strapping of the Stanton Buffaloes last Thursday night at Stanton.

Kenneth Scott opened the game by returning the kickoff 75 yards for a touchdown.

Stanton returned the favor when they returned the football for a touchdown to tie the game up at 6-6.

Scott would score twice more on the night, and coupled with two touchdowns by Roland Rivera, the Wolves rolled.

Stanton kept the game interesting as they were only behind 28-18 at the end of three quarters.

The Wolves tacked on two more touchdowns in the final stanza to put the game out of reach and a 42-28 win.

Coach Jerrold Epperson said that Stanton had a lot of quality kids on their team.

"Stanton scored more points on us than all the other teams put together for the past two years," said Epperson. "Stanton has some good athletes coming up. This was the first time we have been tested this year."

The 7th grade suffered a 36-0 defeat at the hands of Stanton after winning their first game of the year last week over Seagraves.

"Stanton had a good little running back that we weren't able to stop," said Coach Epperson. "It's been a tough year, but they continue to play hard."

CHS Cross country teams place 1st, 3rd in local event

The Colorado High School cross country teams fared well at the Lone Wolf Golf Course track with the varsity girls bringing home the first place trophy with 40 points while the varsity boys placed third with 59 points.

Top placers for the girls were Sara McCombs who finished in second place; Alison Lopez, fourth; Amanda Ponko, eighth; Stephanie McPhaul, tenth; Lauren Zigler, sixteenth; Thomasa Bocanegra, twenty-third; Kristy Madrid, twenty-sixth.

Top finishers in the varsity boys division were: Oscar Martinez, second; Daniel Johnson, eighth; Sam Crockett, ninth; Tyson Zigler, eighteenth; David Alvarez, twenty-two; and Eric Pineda, twenty-fifth.

In the junior high school meet, Cooper Smith finished third while Brittany Selvera finished twenty-fifth.

The top three teams and the top 10 finishers individually qualified to go to the regional meet that will be held at Mac Simmons Park in Lubbock on Saturday, Nov. 3 at 12:30 p.m.

Coaches for the teams are Darrin Leverton for the women and Dan Gainey for the men.

JV Wolves continue win streak

The Colorado City JV continued to go undefeated in district play with a 12-0 win over the Stanton Buffaloes in action at Wolf Stadium Thursday night.

The Wolves took an early lead in the game when Eric Martinez scored before everyone in the stands had been seated. The point after attempt was no good, but the Wolves were fired up with an early 6-0 lead.

On the Buffalo possession, Stanton was stopped cold when they opted to go for a first down on fourth and four, but a fierce stop by Josh Ritchey ended that drive.

In the second period, Fidel Silva stepped in front of an errant Buffalo pass and returned it to the one yard line before being tackled from behind. On the next play, Wolf quarterback Bryan Proctor ran a sneak-play into the endzone, following the block of his center. The point after attempt was foiled, but the Wolves were enjoying a 12-0 lead with 3:20 left to go in the first half of play.

Stanton appeared on their way to a touchdown with good runs by Tanner Riley and Joe Rojas, but once again the Wolves' defense rose to stop them and the Wolves went into the locker room with the 12-0 lead.

In the third period, Stanton had a golden opportunity to score when they advanced the ball to the seven yard line and a first and goal situation. The strong Wolves' defense held the Buffs out of the endzone once again and took over on downs at their own one yard line.

The rest of the game was strictly defensive battles between the Wolves and the Buffaloes with the final score going in the books at 12-0 in favor of the Wolves.

"It was our best game defensively all year," said Head JV Coach David Wood. "I thought Josh Ritchey had an excellent game, as did Fidel Silva who had two pass interceptions. Chris Martinez has really stepped up for us and is working hard as is Otis Johnson. I look for the kids to finish the season really strong."

Ladies clinch title

The Lady Wolves volleyball team clinched the district title in action played on Tuesday, October 16 in Plains. Plains had won the district title 40 years in a row before the Lady Wolves put them away in three sets of 15-7, 13-15 and 15-1.

The Lady wolves will play a

Bi-district warm up game this Saturday in Bangs beginning at 3:30 p.m.

The Lady Wolves will face either Anthony or Tornillo at Monahans for the Bi-District title but head volleyball coach Gail Keeton said Tuesday she would not know which one until Saturday.

Wildcats put away Highland, 46-0

The Westbrook Wildcats stayed undefeated Friday night when they put the Highland Hornets away by the score of 46-0 in action played at Westbrook.

This sets up a crucial game this Friday night with, the also unbeaten, Ira Bulldogs who are 7-0 on the season and more importantly 2-0 in district 6 play.

Highland, who had reeled off three straight wins after losing their first three games, was led by freshman David Padilla who rushed for 60 yards on 14 carries but was never allowed to cross the goal line. This was only the second time this season that the Hornets have been shut out.

Chris Matlock as usual did the most offensive damage for the Wildcats scoring four touchdowns while carrying the ball eleven times for 196 yards. He returned the opening kickoff for 79 yard which is thought to be a record according to head Westbrook coach Andrew Hannon.

Teammate Sterling Burleson scored the next two touchdowns for the Wildcats on a 49-yard touchdown pass from Adam Roemisch and then returned a fumble 15 yards for another touchdown, thus putting the Wildcats in the driver's seat with a 24-0 lead following Cody Rich's third extra point by the way of the toe.

Matlock had his way with the Hornets in the second period scoring on runs of 67, 35 and 73 yards respectively to put the Hornets to rest.

This week Highland will host the Loraine Bulldogs who are 1-1 in district play while Westbrook visits the Ira Bulldogs. Both games have a 7:30 kickoff slated.

"This could be the most important game for us this season," said Coach Hannon.

"It will take a total team effort to play with them. They are a very good club and are strong everywhere."

Rivera is jackpot winner

Sam Rivera of Colorado City is this week's winner of the Record's Jackpot Football contest. Though missing the winner of the Sweetwater-Ballinger contest like many others, he did quite well on the pro games, missing six picks overall.

Jo Mile of Colorado City finished second, edging out a couple of others who also missed seven picks. Her pick of St. Louis 30 New York Jets 10 was the closest to the actual score of 34-14.

She wins the consolation prize of two chicken fried steak dinners at the B&B One-Stop here in Colorado City.

Lady Wolves 7th graders win four

On October 1st, the seventh grade Lady Wolves Red and Black volleyball teams played Tahoka in Tahoka and both teams came away with a win.

The Red team defeated Tahoka by scores of 15-10 and 15-9 while the Black team was recording wins of 15-2 and 15-3.

On the 15th of October, the same bunch played Big Spring at Kelley Elementary gym but lost to the larger school by scores of 8-15 and 0-15 for the Red team while the Black team was losing close games of 15-13, 13-15 and 9-15.

Members of the Red team include Amanda Castillo, Lori Denson, Stephanie Freeman, Maegan Lopez, Roxanne Hernandez, Amanda Free, Melissa Duran, Aaron McPhaul, Donnica Fowler, Austyn Franco, Krystal Aguilar, Krystal Molina and Kassie Owens.

loraine news

by Bessie Ann Vaughn

Several black and gold streamers are still attached to posts and rails and waving in the wind. But after last week's bustling fun school reunion affairs, things seem relatively quiet in the community.

Last Friday, Diane Sanders accompanied Don and Phyllis Wilson of Hobbs, New Mexico to Longview. Don's brother Doug Wilson moved to Longview from Iowa and the family unit wanted to visit him.

They all had fun shopping and dining out at the Texas Roadhouse. Sue Davenport and Lucy Dunman joined them there for supper. On the return trip back to Mitchell County, the Wilsons and Diane stopped in Terrell, Texas to shop at the Outlet Mall.

For readers who have asked for Billie Schroeders address: Austin House - Apt. 105, Nacogdoches, Texas 75961.

Guests in the home of Dorothy Haltom Sunday were J.D. and Delores Cheschire of San Antonio. Deloras is Dorothy's niece. She and her husband had been to a school reunion and stopped by to visit.

Edgar Haltom, chief of police, has killed 50 skunks around Loraine in the past month and everyone is happy about that. Last week, he killed a four foot rattlesnake with eleven rattlers right at his back door.

P.S. Edgar Haltom is not a sweet potato he had grown down to the center. It was big as a football and weighed 5 lbs.

Vida Mae McDaniel recently visited her sister, Walene Jennings, in Ft. Worth. She stayed three weeks in Ft. Worth as her sister was ill.

Visiting with Geneva Richards recently was her daughter, Gayle Corder of Tyler, Texas. They had a nice mother-daughter visit.

The Loraine Clinic will give flu shots next Wednesday starting at 9:30 am until noon. This is for one day only, afterwards shots will be available in the family clinic at Colorado City.

Loraine wins first game over Hermleigh, 62-0

Sometimes reverse psychology works when all else has failed.

After his football team had played one of their worst games of the season both on offense and defense, Loraine head coach Victor Garcia decided to try a little reverse psychology on his squad.

He told them that the way they performed the night before against Borden County, he had doubts as to whether they could beat Hermleigh despite the fact that they were also winless.

Evidently it worked. They not only went on to win their first game by beating Hermleigh, they did it by putting up 62 points in one half, 46 of those in the second period alone, and put the game away at half-time on the 45-point mercy rule in six-man football.

Lee Ybarra, a senior transfer student playing in only his second game of the season, had a hand in seven of Loraine's nine touchdowns in the District 6 tilt.

Ybarra ran for three touchdowns on runs of 65, 43 and two yards and threw three touchdown passes, two to end Tony Rivera of 27 and 10 yards and one to freshman Anthony Esquivel for 36 yards. He was three for three passing which was good for 73 yards.

Esquivel was good on both of his passes for another 35 yards and two more touchdowns. One completion was to senior Edward Lujan and the other to Rivera.

On defense Rivera had 10 stops while Lujan contributed another six and George Davila added another five.

Coach Garcia was elated at the win but even more than that, he was glad to see the change in attitude of his kids.

"The kids are believing in themselves again and that's 90 percent of it right there," said Garcia. "The other 10 percent are going out on the field and performing the way you have been practicing to do. I hope they can build off the win and continue to believe in themselves whether they win or not."

This Friday the Bulldogs will try to extend their win streak when they travel to Highland to take on the Highland Hornets who are 0-2 in district and 3-4 on the season.

Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

Sewer plant public hearing slated November 8 in Loraine

LORAIN -- A public hearing is set for 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 8, on a sewer plant project the state is forcing the City of Loraine to undertake.

It will be at City Hall at 202 Main St.

City Secretary Christine Britton said the town applied for a state grant but was not approved.

So now it faces borrowing $665,600 from the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB) to finance the project and escape sanctions by the Texas Natural Resources Conservation Commission (TNRCC) in Austin.

"I think we could make do with the other one," Ms. Britton said. "That's a lot of money for a little town."

She said the new plant will be west of the old one about 1 1/2 miles north of here.

The TRNCC issued its mandate based on a finding Loraine is exceeding its authorized daily flow of 50,000 gallons.

It said the 1929 vintage wastewater treatment plant is in violation of "a number of current TRNCC design criteria" and could not be modified to meet them.

A legal notice in last week's Record said revenue from the city's $15 monthly residential and commercial sewer rate "is likely" to be sufficient to cover the annual debt service and would not need to be raised.

The city has applied for the loan and has had an engineering feasibility and environmental report written.

It seeks the loan through the TWDB's Clear Water State Revolving Fund.

Hermleigh trounces JH, 43-12

The undefeated Junior High Hermleigh Cardinals kept their record unblemished with a 43-12 trouncing of the Loraine Junior High School Thursday in action played at Hermleigh.

The only scoring for the junior 'Dogs came on an Andres Calderon 35-yard run and on a Derrick Martinez 25-yard run.

Junior High Coach Rick Lucas said that Hermleigh had a good balanced team and a really good running back.

"They were certainly the best team we have faced so far this year," said Lucas. "I thought that Abilene Christian had a good ballclub, but Hermleigh is better than them in my opinion."

The Bulldogs will try to rebound next Thursday night when they take on Highland in a 6 p.m. matchup in Loraine.
