HIGHWAY COMMISSION MEMBER SAYS SPAN TO OPEN JULY 1

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 2.—Texas Rangers will be used if necessary to present opening of the Red river bridge between Denison, Texas, and Durant, Okla., before July 1, D. K. Martin, member of the Texas Highway Commission said today.

Martin said the Texas commission would not inspect the bridge until it was entirely completed and ready for opening. He claimed there was an agreement between the Texas and Oklahoma commissions that the bridge would not be opened until July 1 and that he would respect the agreement.

Oklahoma had rushed work on the structure to embarrass the Texas commission and the persons interested in the toll bridge operation, and despite the agreement to open the bridge July 1, has worked crews night and day to get the bridge ready for opening before that date, Martin said.

"We will use state rangers if necessary to prevent the bridge being opened for traffic before the time stipulated in the agreement," Martin said.

He said he had not been informed of a joint inspection trip to Denison by the Texas and Oklahoma Highway commissions but that he did not favor such a trip until the bridge was ready for use.

LET HIGHWAY CONTRACTS

NEARLY MILLION LET BY COMMISSION ON STATE ROAD JOBS

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 2—The State Highway commission yesterday closed its monthly lettings by awarding contracts aggregating $910,784 for about 75 miles of road and four bridges. This brought the total for the two days to $1,811,229.

The contracts yesterday were for 44.4 miles of concrete and other hard surface and 30 miles of grading and drainage structures.

Awards Withheld

The commission withheld awards on five steel and concrete bridges on highway 42 in Leon county because of pending injunction suits over the route. The contracts would have amounted to $106,672. W. R. Ely, chairman of the commission, said the commission might withdraw the projects and reroute the highway.

Contracts were awarded yesterday for work in Victoria, Haskell, Guadalupe, Brazos, Hall, Cherokee, Denton, Concho and Lamar counties.

The commission directed Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, to advertise for bids on that portion of Highway 14 in Navarro county that is ready for topping.

SCHOOL DESTROYED

NACOGDOCHES, April 2. (AP)—Only two weeks before the date for dismissal of school for vacation, the school building at Nat, 16 miles west of Nacogdoches, was razed by fire last night. The building, valued at $10,000, was erected ten years ago.

KIDDIES TO BE GIVEN EGG HUNT

Whoopee! An Easter egg hunt! Members of the Mickey Mouse club are invited to be at the courthouse lawn at 8 o'clock, Saturday morning to hunt Easter eggs as in the days of old. The hunt is being sponsored by the Mickey Mouse merchants of the city, the commissioners granting permission for the use of the lawn.

There will be plenty of eggs and they will be so well hidden that prizes will go to the boys and girls finding the most eggs, also for special eggs found. To participate in the hunt, you must have your Mickey Mouse membership cards which may be obtained from the merchants.

The weather man thinks the skies will be clear, so don't forget to be out bright and early Saturday morning for the big hunt. After the hunt, the club will hold its regular meeting in the Palace theater where another good matinee and Mickey Mouse program will be given.

Wreckage of the Transcontinental and Western Air Transport plane in which Knute Rockne, Notre Dame football coach, five fellow passengers, and two pilots were killed, is pictured here. The huge ship crashed on a farm about four miles southwest of Bazaar, Kan., shortly before noon Tuesday. Two eye-witnesses told of seeing a wing of the transport plane flutter clumsily to earth and the ship plunge straight downward.

APPLICATION OF OLD FASHIONED SHINGLE AND RETURN OF NIGHT GOWN ADVOCATED IN PLATFORM

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 2 (AP)—Application of the old fashioned shingle in the old fashioned way, and a return of the night gown are planks in the platform of Dr. Mary Tatman, Mountain View, Okla., who seeks to become dean of women at the University of Oklahoma.

In a letter to Governor W. H. Murray today, applying for the position, the Mountain View woman, a physician and land owner, promised institution of "lower heels on shoes," as a means of aiding co-eds to "walk the straight and narrow."

The letter condemns wearing of pajamas "any where and everywhere," and suggests the use of the shingle as effective in regulation of young women.

Dr. Tatman's letter came as a senatorial committee delved into purported "padding" of expense accounts and other alleged irregularities of Miss Edna E. McDaniel, now dean of women.

ATTORNEY FOR DEFENSE IS HEARD

"GREAT CONSPIRACY" IS CHARGED IN ARGUMENTS

(By The Associated Press)

CRIMINAL COURT BUILDING, CHICAGO, April 2—The last to speak for Leo Brothers, Attorney Louis Piquett, pleading with a jury to set Brothers free on the charge of murder of Alfred "Jake" Lingle, said today that the arrest of the young St. Louisan was the result of a "great conspiracy."

His bushy white hair waving as he pounded the table, stopped after almost every sentence by objections of the state, Piquett said a "big spider web" was formed after the killing June 9 of Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter.

Waited Ten Months

"But this spider didn't wait a week or a month, it waited ten months, picked out this young man and then closed around him," thundered the defense lawyer.

Piquett said Lingle, Pat Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, and Clark Applegate, Kentucky turfman who identified Brothers as the man who tossed a gun near Lingle's body, were the "three musketeers, bosom companions."

Applegate was the only man Roche and the million dollar prosecution could find, Piquett said, who would say he saw Brothers in the tunnel.

"He had to say he saw the gun," shouted the attorney, "or they

Playing Children Find Dynamite Loot

DALLAS, April 2 (AP)—Children playing with sticks of dynamite in the Trinity river bottoms here late yesterday uncovered 30 cases of dynamite stolen from the warehouse of contractors doing work on levies. The children were throwing the sticks of explosives at each other in play when passersby saw them and notified police. Officers said only the fact a heavy precussion was needed to set off the explosive saved the children from death or serious injury. The boys showed officers where thieves had hidden a large quantity of stolen dynamite under an abandoned automobile body in the river bottom.

State And Defense Ask For New Trial

SAN ANTONIO, April 2 (AP)—Motions by both state and defense counsel asking a new trial for Lexie Jones, who yesterday received a 30-year sentence for killing Daniel Uhr, were before Judge W. S. Anderson today. Hearing on the motions had not been set.

The same double motions were filed after the first trial of Mrs. Clara Uhr, widow of the slain man. She received the death penalty at her first trial, then pleaded guilty and was given a life sentence at the second.

Roderick Buys El Paso Times; Herald To Post

SCRIPPS-HOWARD BUYS AFTERNOON PAPER IN TRANSACTION

(Special To The Journal)

EL PASO, April 2.—A double sale and consolidation, affecting all three of El Paso's English language newspapers, was announced here this morning by Dorrance D. Roderick, for the past two years president and publisher of the Herald-Times corporation.

In the transaction, Mr. Roderick said, the Lindsay Nunn Publishing company has sold the El Paso Herald to its afternoon competitor, the El Paso Post, a Scripps-Howard newspaper, and the El Paso Times, a morning and Sunday paper, to Mr. Roderick. Beginning tomorrow, the publisher said, the two afternoon papers will be published as the El Paso Herald-Post, and the Times will appear as an independently operated paper.

Plant To Roderick

Purchase of the Herald involves none of its physical plant, which goes to the Times. Like Scripps-Howard's recent purchase of the New York World newspapers, the El Paso deal involves only the name, the good will, circulation lists and the Associated Press membership of the Herald.

Both the Herald-Post and the Times will use leased wire reports of the Associated Press and United Press.

With the sale of the two papers the Lindsay Nunn Publishing company withdraws from the El Paso newspaper field and will give its entire efforts to the publishing of the Lubbock Morning Avalanche and Evening Journal and the Amarillo Evening Globe and Morning News. Wilbur C. Hawk, of Amarillo, is president of the concern and has as associates Gene Howe, of Amarillo; Chas. A. Guy and Parker F. Prouty, of Lubbock, and others. The transaction at El Paso reduces the English language field to two—one a

HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE, PROPERTY TAKEN IN DISASTER

(By The Associated Press)

SEATTLE, Wash., April 2 — Promise of a respite from floods which have taken an estimated toll of five human lives and $1,000,000 in property and livestock was welcomed in the Pacific northwest today.

The peak of highwater which disrupted highway and rail traffic and flooded several towns in Washington, Oregon and Idaho was believed to have been passed.

Pendleton, Ore., reported the drowning of Tom Apostolotolus, a farmer. Murray Tucker, 3-year-old, drowned in a creek at Pomeroy, Wash. The bodies of Oscar F. Olson, 42, and Red Brown, missing since their boat capsized, were sought in the Williamette river near West Fir, Ore. Philip Fox, 73-year-old farmer, drowned near Walla Walla, Wash.

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS TO BE NAMED

PRESENT TRUSTEES TO SEEK REELECTION ON SATURDAY

Election of three members of the board of trustees of the Lubbock Independent school district will be held Saturday, April 4. Voting place will be in the city hall.

Only three candidates have filed for positions, all being present members of the board. They are: S. C. Wilson, who has served for the past 12 years; R. F. Bayless, closing his fourth year and E. L. Robertson, in his sixth year.

Their candidacy for the positions was extended only through the persuasion of other members of the board and patrons of the schools, it was learned today. Each man had not intended to seek position on the board for another term. Due to matters pertaining to the new high school building which have not been settled and to the fact that experience in the work of the board is a constant need, the members agreed to run for re-election, a statement revealed.

Open All Day

Polls will open at 8 o'clock in the morning and remain open until 7 p. m.

Any voter has the privilege of writing the name of any person on the ticket. Regular candidates, however, must have filed their name five days before the election.

Holdover positions members of the board are: Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, chairman, C. E. Maedgen, Neil H. Wright and W. B. Atkins.

POLA NEGRI GRANTED DIVORCE FROM PRINCE MDIVANI; TO MAKE TALKIE

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, April 2.—Pola Negri, moving picture actress, was granted a divorce by the French courts today from Prince Serge Mdivani. She sailed yesterday for America.

Before sailing Mmle. Negri said "I am going to make my first talkie. I want to be free and stay free."

Prince Serge, a member of the former Russian nobility, and Pola Negri were married at Serraincourt, France, in 1927. She sued for a decree in October, 1930.

Prince Serge is a brother of Prince David Mdivani, husband of Mae Murray.

Miss Mary McCormick, opera singer, told friends in Paris last January that she and Prince Serge would be married as soon as the decree was granted. The latter confirmed this in Los Angeles on March 19.

In announcing her intention, Miss McCormick said "I am giving up my career in Europe and I have decided to get married." The wedding date has not been announced.

VERDICT RETURNED

EL PASO, April 2. (AP)—Coroner R. B. Rawlins yesterday reported as murder and suicide the fatal shooting of Mr. and Mrs. Carmen De La Rosa. Their bodies were found in their home Tuesday and a verdict was delayed while officers investigated discovery of the gun used in the shooting inside a bureau drawer.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, April 2.—With six hundred bodies recovered from the ruins, Colonel Frederick L. Bradman, U. S. M. C., in charge of the rescue work, estimated the total dead from the earthquake at 2,000 persons.

The excavating of bodies continued throughout the day and more were being taken out hourly.

New Shocks Felt

Meanwhile, new shocks recurred. Two temblors during the night shook down a number of rickety houses still standing. The hardest one appeared about 4 a. m. awakening outdoor sleepers who had scattered to the outskirts of the city to rest on cots, benches, and on the ground.

At daybreak, hundreds of natives who precipitately left the city yesterday returned and poked through the ruins, salvaging their personal belongings and household furniture and carrying them by mule, ox cart, automobile and train into the hills.

Marines In Charge

The marines appeared to have the situation well in hand. An abundance of food and medical supplies was arriving. There seemed to be enough surgeons and doctors to care for the injured.

Earnest J. Swift, Red Cross official, was expected during the day from Miami in an amphibian plane and will overtake relief workers who have already started from several points.

Amphibians from the U. S. S. Lexington arrived yesterday and last night, bringing six surgeons and supplies and promising more today. The U. S. S. Rochester, steaming up the west coast from Balboa, is expected tomorrow with food supplies.

Virtually all of the injured have been treated through the heroic work of the marine, army and navy forces who have worked unceasingly since the first shocks on Tuesday.

EMBEZZLER IS BIGAMIST

FUGITIVE CONFESSES TO CRIMES AS HE IS ARRESTED

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, April 2 — A fugitive for whom an international search had been made for more than two years, Paul Wupper, alias Frederick Brinkman, has revealed himself to police here as a bigamist and the embezzler of "close to $1,000,000" from the Beemer State bank, Beemer, Neb., of which he was president.

"I got tired of being hunted," he told the authorities. "I felt that sooner or later I would be caught and thought this was a good time to make a clean breast of things and ease my conscience."

Wupper made his revelations in municipal court while awaiting a hearing on charges of bigamy preferred by wife No. 2, who caused his arrest in New York two weeks ago on a fugitive warrant. While waiting in the sheriff's cell room he wrote a brief statement confessing that he was wanted in Nebraska for the wrecking of the Breemer bank and then dictated a message to Sheriff M. L. Endress, of Lincoln, Neb., asking him to come and get him.

Wupper, who is 52, was held for extradition to Nebraska in a few days. Rewards aggregating $3,150 had been offered for his arrest.

THINKS BOARD HAS POWER

HOOVER STATES FARM BODY IS ABLE TO DEFEND POLICY

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—President Hoover feels that the farm board is ample able to define and defend its own policies and position.

The decision on the board to discontinue stabilization of wheat prices was one of the first questions brought to the attention of the president upon his return from his Caribbean trip.

Given Full Power

It was said at the White House that the farm board makes its own policies just as the shipping board and the interstate commerce commission. The board, it was said, was given full power and responsibility by congress

It has been the view of many high officials in the Hoover administration that the stabilization work inaugurated over a year ago by the farm board had in view the saving of a great many banks in the wheat belt which would have failed if wheat prices continued to decline as rapidly as they had started

Loans Readjusted

Many of these banks held loans secured by wheat at prices ranging around those set by the farm board for buying the surplus. These banks now have been able to clear these loans and readjust themselves to prices on the world wheat market.

Chairman Ston. of the farm board, coming back to his desk after a trip into Kansas and Oklahoma, said grain cooperatives generally had expressed approval of the board's decision not to stabilize 1931 wheat.

The chairman said they agreed the announcement had been made at the proper time to insure gradual readjustment among wheat growers who have indicated they will harvest 3 per cent less acreage this year.

He interpreted farmers intentions to make smaller plantings as a sign of success of the board's campaign to reduce production.

CONTRACTS TO BE AWARDED

ACTION OF PAVING ON COLLEGE AVENUE IS EXPECTED HERE

Contract for laying of two 20-foot concrete slabs on College avenue probably will be let when the contract to pave state highway No. 9 south of Lubbock is let, according to Guy R. Johnston, construction engineer for this division.

The mile long paving job on the east side of Texas Technological college will really amount to over two miles of straight paving, Mr. Johnston stated. There will be two 20-foot strips, with a parkway between and the necessary crossovers at Broadway and at the athletic field near the north end of the paving.

Lubbock county commissioners several weeks ago voted to pay for the paving of the strip on the east side of the highway. The state is paying for the west side.

"I believe we can get a better price for the work by letting the job in connection with the other paving job," Mr. Johnston explained.

EXPECTANT MOTHERS

In this modern age of science it is surprising how many expectant mothers have anxiety about marking. Every such mother ought to write a post card to the Children's Bureau, Washington, D. C., and ask for a free copy of "Prenatal Care."

More than 2,500,000 copies of the first edition of this bulletin have been distributed. In the revised edition the mother-to-be is assured that she need not worry for fear her baby will be marked. The well-known, well-trained doctors who prepared this bulletin have pointed out that there is no connection between the nervous system of the mother and of the unborn baby and, therefore, that such "maternal impressions" are absolutely impossible.

The only way a mother may harm her baby, the booklet goes on to say, is by failing to plan her own physical and mental life in a way that will result in the highest degree of health and happiness for herself and therefore the child. Nervousness and fears may affect her ability to nurse her baby. Steady nerves and mental poise will help her to do so. One fact which the booklet emphasizes is that having a child is frequently a pathway to better health for the mother.

It is designed for mothers for whom medical aid is not at hand and to supplement the doctor's care, the importance of which is stressed throughout. It includes special diets for the mother-to-be who is either underweight or overweight, as well as for the woman of average weight. A section is devoted to the care of the premature baby and to the care of the new born.

May I add a word as sympathetically as I am able to the expectant mother. You sometimes get very blue. Of course, you cannot always feel comfortable, but your mind and emotions are your biggest problems. I wish I could have a quiet talk with your husband. I should try to make him see how much he could do to cheer you up and make you happy. Let me imagine I am now sitting down to lunch with him:

"You have the greatest opportunity of your life now to prove yourself big-hearted and unselfish. Encourage that wife of yours, who is going to be the mother of your child, to go walking with you as long as she can comfortably do so. Prove to her that you are proud to be in her presence anywhere. Demonstrate to her and to your men friends that you are sensible and that you do not live in the Dark Ages.

"Make your wife want to go with you to the market, to the theater and to church, as long as she can do so without too much fatigue. Be gentle, tender and chivalrous, observing all the nice amenities toward her you used to show in your earlier sweetheart days. If you have older children they will imitate you and love you all the more for your consideration, and your boy particularly will be made ready to become a worthy husband by and by.

"Think of what your loving kindness will mean to your wife, making her forget herself, giving her wide interest and contacts with others. Think of the thousands of self-sacrificing mothers who, because of the hard-heartedness of our stupid customs, are shut away from social recreation just at the time they need it most. You are building character in yourself and a healthy mind and nervous system in your devoted companion fitting her to be a strong, healthy happy mother of that baby. It is wonderful to look forward to the coming of a baby and most wonderful when dad and mother lovingly look together."

FACTORY SEEN AT MULESHOE

CANNING PLANT LOOMS AS RESULT OF WORK BY COMMITTEE

MULESHOE, April 2—(Special)—A canning factory is expected to be erected here as a result of signing of a contract between J. C. Dunn, of San Juan, Hidalgo county and members of the Muleshoe Canning Factory committee.

The committee is composed of E. R. Hart, chairman; J. L. Alsup, secretary; Neal Rockey, A. Matthiesen, . H. Harrle and O. N. Robinson.

The factory will have a daily capacity of not less than 10 tons of tomatoes, according to the contract, and when completed, will represent an investment of approximately $6,000. It is to be in readiness for operation on or before August 1, this year.

Farmers Helping

It is understood that about 200 acres of vegetables will be required to keep this new factory going throughout the entire canning season. About 50 acres of this amount has already been definitely subscribed, several other farmers of Blackwater valley have stated their desire to plant a few acres in tomatoes and beans for the factory, and it is thought the total acreage will be easily and readily subscribed.

Dunn, who is fostering the new enterprise here, in connection with local citizens, has had several years successful experience in practical canning business, now operating two canning factories in the southern part of this state.

Pleased At Prospect

He expressed himself as greatly pleased with the future prospects of the Blackwater valley and the excellent quality of vegetables that can be grown here so abundantly. "It is generally conceded among canning and marketing men that vegetables grown in an altitudinous country are of a more solid nature and possess a superior flavor over those grown in the lowlands, naturally being higher in favor among the wholesale and retail dealers, as they furnish a very superior article for the table." The Blackwater valley with an altitude of nearly 3,900 feet, having exceptionally fertile soil already proven adapted to market gardening, and with an abundance of pure sheet water coming from wells at the rate of from 1,000 to 1,800 gallons per minute and of very shallow lift, posseses all the requisites necessary for the profitable conduct of such an enterprise.

Tomatoes, beans and other staple marketing products have been grown here for several years past thoroughly proving the adaptability of such products to this section. For several years the cantaloupes grown in this valley gained a reputation as a market product of decided superiority, and there was a time when the Harvey houses of the Santa Fe system supplied practically all their hotels with cantaloupes from this valley.

TEXAS TERRACES 925,450 ACRES OF LAND DURING 1930

COLLEGE STATION.—The increased use of county road machinery in terrace construction, and the rapid increase in number of men and boys trained by county agents to use the farm level in laying out terrace lines are prominently listed by M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer, Texas A. and M. College Extention Service, in accounting for the 925,450 acres terraced or contoured in 1930 to prevent soil erosion and to conserve rainfall. This is an increase of 50 per cent over the total of 1929, and brings the grand total to about four and one-half million acres since 1916 when county agents began terracing in earnest. Of the 254 counties in Texas, 201 showed terracing activity in 1930.

Costs Vary

It is estimated that about 12 to 15 counties were using road machinery to construct terraces in 1928, while about 75 counties had farmers hiring big machinery from county commissioners last year. The cost varies from a little more than $1 per acre down to as low as 30 cents per acre. East Texas and Central Texas counties seem to be using heavy road machinery for terrace construction as much as West Texas counties.

A total of 1212 terracing schools were held in Texas in 1930 by the Extension Service, part of them in coperation with the Federal Land Bank of Houston and with various local and commercial organizations, and a total of 3810 men and 2585 club boys were trained to lay out the lines. A total of 730 farm levels and 864 terracing machines of various kinds were purchased by them.

Agents Aiding

Terraces are considered one of the first essentials in building better farming, and county agents develop their best field crop demonstrations with corn, grain sorghums, cotton, orchards and the like on land that has first been given a chance by terracing. Early plowing, cover crops, fertilization, good seed, insect and disease protection are the follow-up steps in field crop demonstrations that brought substantial savings to thousands of farmers last year.

The first 25 Texas counties according to acres of land terraced or contoured to January 1st, 1931, as ranked by Mr. Bentley are: Runnels, Jones, Smith, Haskell, Bowie, Limestone, Scurry, Nolan, Rusk, Navarro, Lubbock, Fisher, Dallas, Shelby, Van Zandt, Garza, Montague, Mitchell, Hall, Collin, McLennan, Mills, Lamar, Williamson and Cass.

Texas counties showing 50 per cent or more increase in 1930 over 1929 in land terraced or contoured are: Collingsworth, Hall, Wichita, Haskell, Knox, Wilbarger, Archer, Lamb, Lynn, Coleman, Taylor, Falls, Dallas, Lavaca, Fayette, Bee, Erath, Coke, Throckmorton, Swisher, Stephens, Randall, Hardeman, Howard, Midland, Menard, Denton, Childress, Cottle, Dawson, Lubbock, Leon, Madison, Hemphill, Potter and Gonzales.

TERRACING WILL BE DEMONSTRATED

SPUR, April 2. (Special)—Anther lecture on terracing will be made here Saturday by A. K. ("Dad") Shotr of the Federal Land bank of Houston.

Slides picturing results of terracing will be exhibited by M. R. Bentley of Texas A. & M., college extension department. M. B. Oates of the Furth Worth & Denver City railway will accompany Short and Bentley here.

This party came to Spur some time ago but the crowd was small due to bad weather and agreed to close their tour here instead of Lubbock as they had planned.

The program will be given in the morning and a demonstration will be held at Spur experiment station in the afternoon. The meeting is being extensively advertised and farmers from Dickens, Motley and Kent Counties are expected to be present.

Rice culture will be tried by farmers in the vicinity of Mayo, Fla., this year.

BANDITS KILL PRIEST

WORD RECEIVED ABOUT DEATH OF CATHOLIC FATHER IN CHINA

(By Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, April 3—Word has been received here by the St. Columban's mission of the death March 5 of Father Superior Tierney of the Kiencheng mission while a captive of Chinese communists. While details of his death were not learned, the bandits frequently had said they would kill him if ransom money of $40,000 (silver) was not imedmiately forthcoming.

In a letter which he contrived to smuggle through his captors some weeks ago, he wrote that he was failing and that he was "quite resigned to die."

Captured In November

Father Tierney, superior of St. Columban's mission, superior of St. a small interior city located southeast of Nanchang in the south China province of Kiangsi, was captured last Nov. 17. British authorities made strong representations to the Chinese government in an effort to obtain his release, but with the bandits hidden in the wild mountain regions of Kiangsi, all attempts of soldier detachments to reach them failed.

Details of Father Tierney's capture, received at his Shanghai headquarters, indicated that he was subjected to brutal treatment from the day he fell into bandit hands. A letter from a colleague who investigated the capture stated:

Captive Tortured

"Father Tierney was captured just at the door of his church. The bandits tied his hands, stripped him and brutally scourged him. Afterward they threw a soldier's cloak around his shoulders and made fun of his suffering. For five days they kept him in this state, one hand always tied to his body, and they gave him only rice to eat.

"On the fifth day, they left town, taking Father Tierney with them. He managed to find his own clothes again before leaving. After walking for about six miles, he fell and sprained his ankle. They placed him on a ladder and carried him to Nan Feng, a village further on.

Incapable Of Speech

"While in the town of Song Tang Shu through which the bandits passed, some of the Catholic Chinese approached him. They say he was a pitiable sight, suffering from malaria at the time. He looked dazed and was practically incapable of speech."

Father Tierney was a native of county Monahan, Ireland. He was 55 years old, and had preached often in western New York.

LOAN CHECKS RECEIVED

TWENTY-TWO COME TO LUBBOCK OFFICE IN LAST TWO DAYS

Twenty-two checks from the federal farm seed loan office at Fort Worth had been received at the county farm loan office here in the last two days, J. B. Shannon, chief of the local bureau, said late Wednesday.

Since February 1, when the local office was opened, 256 checks had been received in Lubbock county, totaling $45,555.70. This is an average of a little over $159 for each check, Mr. Shannon reported.

All applications for federal farm relief must be made to the local office before April 20. To be considered by the Fort Worth office, an application must have been in the mail by April 30.

Twenty-two new applications for farm loans were sent in Tuesday, and six were sent in Wednesday.

Thought For Today

Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.—Colosians 4:6.

Looking Ahead

PROBABLY the worst of the unemployment difficulty is over. Every sign indicates that the depression is ending. Within a comparatively short time the country should be well on its way back to normal prosperity.

Nevertheless, we shall simply be asking for more trouble in the future if we fail to make every effort to understand just what the depression has meant in terms of human suffering. The depression itself may be ending; our study of it should just be beginning.

In this connection, it is worth while to look at a study of the effects of unemployment on 50 American families, made by the magazine, The Family, which is published by the Family Welfare Association of America. This shows just what happens in a family whose income is shut off for a long period.

"The center of interest in these 50 households," says the report, "was food—whether there would be more or less of it; and work—whether there would be any at all."

After a shortage of funds compelled public relief agencies to stop aiding these families, it was found that many of them were living on bread, potatoes, coffee and weak soup. This was especially a common diet for children. Butter, milk, fruit and meat, being the most expensive foods, were the first to be eliminated from the table when unemployment hit the families.

A scattering of part-time jobs kept the families from actual starvation. Their incomes, over a period of months, averaged from $5 to $15 a week per family. Rent and insurance were the first obligations allowed to lapse. Thirty-two of the families were from one to 16 months rent in arrears; and this was despite the fact that their rent averaged only about $15 a month. Nine families had been evicted. The three families that had been buying their homes had either lost them or had received warning notices.

Incidentally, there were more native-born than foreign-born families in this group, and some of the wage-earners had been highly skilled workers whose pay checks normally ranged from $60 to $75 a week. In 35 of the families there were two or more children.

"Although no catastrophic changes had occurred," says the report, "a slow disintegration of moral and general living conditions was taking place. . . . Of the families forced to move into cheaper quarters, 16 were living in rooms which had no electricity, 10 had no gas and one no running water."

All of this is worth remembering. Prosperity will return, in full measure; but we must never allow ourselves to forget just what those hackneyed words, "business depression," mean to the people who bear the brunt of it.

The Way Of Riches

Many interesting things may be learned by studying the case of the Wendell family of New York, strange recluses who lived alone in the midst of New York's turmoil. Miss Ella, last of the family, is dead.

From the comparatively modest estate of the founder of the family, the Wendell fortunes grew into a huge bulk of $100,000,000 by the simple process of spending practically nothing, selling nothing, and sitting tight while real estate values pyramided as New York grew.

Critics of the American system unite in crying "See how a vast accumulation of wealth piles up, unearned! Soon a few people will have all the money in the country."

But the Wendell estate, all of it, goes to charity. It will no longer exist as a large, piled up accumulation.

A fortune awaits the first Alaskan, points out the office sage, who makes the first rubber tire.

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says many a man looks run down on account of the bills his wife has run up.

There's a sign in the window of a local real estate office which reads something like this:

"Wanted—Cheap lots on Broadway, 14th and 16th streets."

May we suggest something near Times Square, New York, at about a dollar-sixty-five?

GENIAL Maury Hopkins, assistant manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce with permanent headquarters in his home town of Plainview, has moved, temporarily, to Lubbock. From now, until after the forthcoming convention of the WTCC, Mr. Hopkins will busy himself in making preparations for what he hopes will be a fine convention.

Said Mr. Hopkins, before a civic club yesterday: "We of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce hope the Lubbock convention will be the most constructive convention the organization has ever had."

Mr. Hopkins, you'll note, said CONstructive.

THE PLAINSMAN believes Lubbock shares the same hope. He believes Lubbock people generally would like to have their convention go down in history as the one where the most work—from which is derived the most benefit—is done. Not that Lubbock people don't enjoy fun. They do. But there is a time for all things and we all know what happens to Jack when he does nothing but play.

There is no danger of there being too little entertainment at any convention staged in Lubbock. The Plainsman doesn't believe the crowds will have any difficulty enjoying themselves while they're here. So if the working force of the WTCC—employes, directors and committeemen alike—go ahead with their part of the program there is little doubt but that the convention will be a big success.

FOR some time certain sections of the Nicaraguan populace, plus certain groups of Communist agitators in this country, have been crying for removal of United States Marines from Managua and points adjacent.

Today many former 'Devil Dog' critics are glad the Marines are there.

When the horrible earthquake shattered the Nicaraguan capital Tuesday morning and leveled every wall in that city of 60,000, the whole country was twisted awry. Fire followed the quake. Tragedy and desolation ruled. There was no law. No peace or order.

THEN, over the buzzing news wires, interpersed with stories of suffering and horror, came those ever-fortifying words: "Martial law has been declared and the United States Marines are in complete charge of the situation." "Complete charge" is right. Those babies can take the "completest charge" you ever saw in your life.

But the fact that all the Marines had not been removed from Nicaragua was 'a break' for the little brown people, as well as for all the foreign concessionnaires in the revolt-torn country. The Marines may not take any popularity contests during easy times but when the going gets tough they're mighty fine to have about the place.

ROSS STERLING has been governor for two and a half months. During that time he has granted one pardon—which came yesterday—and even his political enemies will have a hard time making much thunder out of the deed. The Houstonian freed one Bert Creed, sentenced to a six year term for horse-theft back in 1903.

Creed escaped from the penitentiary in 1904. He went to Wichita Falls and proceeded to make an honest citizen of himself, respected by his fellows. For 23 years he dodged the law and then Old Man Remorse got him. He gave himself up and went back to jail to finish his sentence. That was in December of 1927.

Now Bert Creed is free—as free as any of us—and he'll probably pick up where he left off in Wichita Falls, making a good citizen. That's the type of prison pardon that appeals to The Plainsman as being practicable as well as merited in the light of justice. Here is one place where this column can agree with Governor Sterling—and like it!

Porto Ricans, Largely Illiterate And Living In Garden Spot Laid Low By Hurricanes, Look To Hoover For Help

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, April 2.—"Porto Rico is a garden spot where people starve to death, an island with a large illiterate population which is nevertheless madly enthusiastic about education, full of loyal and law-abiding citizens who have never rebelled and who live in high hopes of the future despite the most discouraging conditions of adversity."

That brief description of the island possession recently visited by President Hoover is given by Muna Lee, the internationally famous poet, now on leave from the University of Porto Rico while she serves here on the Inter-American Commission of Women. Years of life among the Porto Ricans have made Muna Lee passionately devoted to their interests. Your correspondent turned to her, pointing out that everyone was writing about Porto Rico on account of Hoover's visit, and asked what one ought to say.

Draw World Attention

Hurricanes and Hoover, one gathers, have at least encouraged the Porto Ricans to believe that the attention of the world will be directed to their troubles. Many Porto Ricans have grieved at the thought that their island was often confused with Costa Rica or the Philippines and they are naively happy in the thought that those days are over.

"Porto Rico," began Muna Lee, "is about 100 miles long and 35 miles wide, a little larger than Long Island. It is a tip-tilted table of rock and every earthquake—there are plenty of those—is supposed to make it slant an inch more toward Mona Channel, which runs between Porto Rico and Santo Domingo. Mona Channel is one of the deepest spots on the ocean floor; it is deeper than Mount Everest is tall. In a million years, it is estimated, we will be tipped right into Mona Channel.

"Porto Rico was the only Spanish colony which never rebelled against Spanish rule during the long series of Latin American uprisings. The royalists from the other colonies often fled there for sanctuary. When the Porto Ricans were dissatisfied they always sent someone to the Spanish court or parliament, feeling that their appeal would bring justice.

Storms Shaped Destiny

"But Porto Rico's destiny has been shaped by two hurricanes—that of 1899 which the people call the 'hurricane of San Cirisco' because it fell on that saint's day and the 'hurricane of San Felipe' two years ago. The first was the severest in the island's history until the other one came. Many lives were lost in the rain and floods; there was then no weather bureau to warn the people.

"The hurricane killed most of the cattle and ruined the coffee plantations. Coffee is best raised on small plantations and in the shade of other trees. The big trees were blown down. The small plantations began to disappear as the people turned to the easier crop of sugar cane. Sugar is most economically produced on large plantations and Porto Rican land began to come under absentee landlords.

"The population, about a million and a half, has doubled since 1899. The people are Catholic and ignorant of birth control methods. Nevertheless, they have the highest infant mortality rate in the world and most of them suffer from malnutrition or disease or both.

"When the refugees gathered together in the larger towns after the 1899 hurricane they began to die in surprisingly large numbers from what appeared to be a combination of anemia and malnutrition.

Discovered Hookworm

"Dr. Bailey Ashford, a lieutenant in the United States army medical service, then discovered hookworm for the first time that the disease had been identified in the western hemisphere. From that discovery came the realization that this was the same disease which affected certain portions of the south, and the resultant Rockefeller Foundation fight against hookworm.

"Nearly all the sugar crops came under American ownership. But coffee was still grown as the island's secondary crop. Then came the last hurricane and the coffee industry, with its many small Porto Rican landowners, was again terribly crippled. The people had also begun to grow oranges and grapefruit profitably and that enterprise also receive a heavy blow. With damaged credit, farmers and merchants went bankrupt and were ruined. The sugar crop for that year was hurt also, of course.

"Porto Rico has a large favorable trade balance because of her sugar exports, but nearly all her people are in a state of semi-starvation. All the Porto Rican political parties, with the support of Governor Theodore Roosevelt, have united in insisting that everything possible be done to put the land back in the hands of small landowners.

Wages Average $1 A Day

"Today the average Porto Rican owns no property; the great mass of workers are on the cane plantations and can't even own their little huts. A dollar a day or less, in times of employment, is the average wage. Unable to raise their own vegetables for lack of space, they must live on a little black coffee, plantains and imported rice and beans—a starchy diet calculated to ruin the national health.

"Children go to school in the morning without breakfast; lately they have been given lunches at a cost of one cent per child, which is a great blessing for children who would otherwise have no food until dinner time came with its meager meal of rice, beans and dried codfish.

TRICHINIASIS

TRICHINIASIS is a disease which used to be quite common when meat was cured on the farm or by the local butcher. It is caused by a tiny worm which infests some kinds of meat, mostly pork. The worms escape from the intestinal canal after the meat is consumed and lodge in the muscles.

Dr. Clendening

When meat packing was concentrated and scientific rules for the selection and preservation of meat adopted, the disease greatly decreased in this country. In Germany, where raw pork is made into wursts, etc., on farms or domestically, it still appears sporadically. And lately there are indications that it is far more frequent in the United States than has been suspected. There was a report in 1929 of 43 cases in an epidemic in New York.

A well-known practitioner says, "Trichiniasis in this country is far from being a rare disease, yet it seems not to have established itself in the mind of the average practitioner as one of the diseases to be thought of and watched for."

An instance came to my attention a year or two ago of a man and his wife, who went to visit relatives during the Christmas holidays. When they returned home they both came down with a mysterious malady, the most prominent symptom being swelling of eyelids. Their doctor had several consultants in before the diagnosis was established—of trichiniasis.

These people were in good financial circumstances, and their food was of the best class. They were city dwellers, and when in the city ate meat which came through regular channels, subject to federal inspection and supervision. It would be unusual to suspect gross food infection as a cause of their symptoms. But the relatives they visited lived in a suburban community and must have obtained some pork or ham which was not thoroughly cooked. Curing or smoking alone does not necessarily kill the trichina.

Swelling of the face, and especially the eyelids, is a common symptom. Many of the patients are first seen by the oculist on account of the eye symptoms and there is a report before me of three cases diagnosed by an oculist. One of these patients had been to two other physicians, one of whom made a diagnosis of protein sensitization and one of chronic nasal sinus infection, treated by the Alpine lamp.

The diagnosis is admittedly difficult unless the doctor gets into the habit of thinking of the possibility of the disease. Most victims recover, but death is not uncommon.

As far as Lewis is concerned, Dreiser has a style peculiarly adapted to slapstick.

In New York With Gilbert Swan

SWAN

NEW YORK, April 2—Although not included among the many Broadway legends, it so happens that a topical song once found its way into the Congressional Record.

And insofar as anyone seems to know, it happened but once.

Which is the basis of a tale concerning Roy Atwill, an actor of the gentler school of yesteryear, who looks something like Senator Shortridge and the late Richard Carle. He both acted and wrote; which he still does, his immediate forte being the hilarious garbling of the English language while imitating a public speaker.

The song was titled "Put a Bug in Your Ear." It appeared more than 15 years ago, and had enough verses, choruses and assorted items to keep it going for seven minutes flat, if necessary. Whole sections of it are picked up to this day—and not always properly credited; particularly those verses carrying humorous obituary notices.

"Well, it was at the time that the pure food law was raising so much dust in Washington," Atwill explained the other night. "Most people may not remember it—but the adulteration of canned food products was under fire. In the heat of one of the Senate debates, the matter of germs, microbes and such came up. It so happened that my song had a line which went 'Some little bug is going to bite you some day.'

"One senator decided that this fitted right into his argument, so he took the song and read it into the record. There it has stayed.

"They told me only the other day in Washington that this is the one and only pop song thus preserved. The story pops up every now and then at Washington. Funny part of it was that President Hoover seemed to have heard of it.

"So just before the annual jinx for the president, I was asked to come down and do the old song over, together with my political speech stunt. The president seemed to get a good laugh, and I've got a letter here, telling me he appreciated it."

And speaking of songs—

It's getting so I'm afraid to turn on the radio any more.

It's breaking my heart.

At breakfast, if someone isn't "blue again," then it's either a case of "Kid, you're driving me crazy" or suffering from "lonely love." And just before bedtime I'm supposed to weep because some bird is "just a gigolo." As though I cared!

A couple of experts inform me that the crooners are to blame. The sad music fits their particular form of whispered singing, or something like that. Also those husky-voiced gals who have been perching on pianos ever since Helen Morgan started the style, are all running around with cardiac pains.

They're all blue for one reason or another. They never want to die or weep. Sometimes both, one at a time. They never seem to have any fun. Too many people are yearning. Why the dickens don't they do something about it? They'll get us all behaving the same way pretty soon. And since when were we supposed to worry over what happened to gigolos? The average person, even in New York, wouldn't know one if they saw one.

Extension Classes Organized At Tech

Extension classes have been organized this week in Lorenzo, Plainview, and Brownfield by representatives of the extension department at Texas Technological college, according to J. F. McDonald, head of the department.

Monday night at Lorenzo a score of teachers in the Lorenzo system and in nearby schools, formed the new study class conducted by Prof. C. D. Eaves, "Modern Russia," is the subject being studied this term.

Tuesday night Plainview and Hale county teachers organized a class in "Principles of Education," with Dr. R. E. Garland of the department of education as teacher. Mrs. Ola Legg, county superintendent of Hale county, is secretary and there were 21 enrolled the first night.

Wednesday night at Brownfield J. W. Jackson of the department of government, organized a class in American Government.

When Clowny found that he'd been tricked, he smiled and said, "All right, I'm licked, but now I want some real pop. I am thirsty as can be. I think the joke, ere I'm through, will be on all the rest of you. I'll still have mine, you see."

And he was right. The bunch were through and then, the next thing that they knew, wee Clowny held his bottle high and cried, "Who wants a taste?" Of course they all cried out, "We do!" But Clowny snapped, "It's not for you. I'm going to drink it all and not one bit will go to waste."

In trying to drink it down too quick upon himself he played a trick. The pop clogged up within his throat and he began to choke. Kind Scouty cried, "You'll be all right. I'll slap your back with all my might." The others laughed and Clowny said, "This isn't any joke."

A little native lad came near and Coppy shouted, "Hey! Come here. I merely want to talk to you. You needn't be afraid." The youngster joined them, with a bound. Said he, "Some new friends I have found. It's been a long, long time since with some strangers I have played."

And then he turned and called some more small native lads who promptly tore up to the puzzled Tinies. "We are nearly starved," said one. "If you would buy us food to eat, we'll sit right down here by the street and satisfy our appetites. Then we can have some fun."

"What do you want?" one Tiny said. A little youngster cocked his head and answered, "Just some apples. They will fill us up real quick." So Clowny bought some right nearby. The youngsters eyed them with a sigh. Then Clowny held them up and said, "All right now, take your pick."

(The Tinymites go to Mandalay in the next story.)

The pen is mightier than the sword, which might explain why Lewis and Dreiser prefer not to have it out in the good old Parisian way.

The director of the New York Noise Abatement Committee says that that city will be noiseless 10 years hence. It is known to be taking to the speakeasy idea.

TWO MEN HAVE SERVED AS LAWMAKERS IN VIOLATION OF THE CONSTITUTION

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Two men have served as lawmakers for the United States in violation of the constitution.

A third was elected contrary to a constitutional limitation but did not participate in proceedings until the requirement was met.

Courts Hands Tied

In neither case could the supreme court, guardian of constitutional rights, act to protect the instrument.

These observations on nearly 150 years of legislative history were made by Ansel Wold, compiler of the congressional biographical directory and clerk of the joint senate and house committee on printing.

Henry Clay and John Young Brown from Kentucky, and William Charles Cole Claiborne from Tennessee, all were elected to congress while under the required age. Clay and Claiborne actually served, but Brown was forced to stand aside for a year.

Wold's compilation of biographical sketches of every senator and representative since 1789 showed that Clay made the first of his four trips to the senate in November of 1806. He served until March 3, 1807, and was only 29 years old.

"Which service was rendered in contravention of the 30-year age requirement of the constitution," Wold commented.

Was Under Age

Cole was elected to the house from Tennessee and began 4 years of service March 4, 1797. When he took his seat Cole was only 22. The constitution requires that a citizen must be 25 to be eligible for house service.

Brown went to the house from Kentucky on March 4, 1859.

"But by reason of not having attained the age required by the constitution of the United States did not take his seat until the second session," Wold said.

Because the senate and house are by the constitution made final judges of qualifications of their members, Wold said there was no way for such constitutional cases to get before the supreme court.

HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS TO GATHER IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA ON EASTER

LOS ANGELES, April 2 (AP)—Dawn of Easter Sunday in Southern California will find hundreds of thousands gathered for the traditional services in adoration of the risen Christ.

Not only at Hollywood bowl, at Mt. Roubidoux and at Bakersfield, where the celebrations are a custom of years standing, but at every town which can asemble a chorus a sunrise service is planned.

Many To Participate

Leaders in art, music and the theater will have a part in the celebration at the bowl, which annually attracts more than 30,000 spectators. Here, at the first touch of dawn, a trumpet calls, an orchestra strikes up and the thousands join in a hymn. Four hundred white robed children, grouped in a Greek cross, will sing "Christ the Lord is Risen Today." There also will be soloists of national reputation, a male chorus and a children's chorus.

At the same hour the traditional services will be conducted at Mt. Roubidoux on the western edge of Los Angeles. The program of the celebration has not been altered since the first service in 1909, but each year a leader in the church is invited to offer the opening prayer. This year the Rev. W. Bertrand Stevens, bishop of the Episcopalian diocese of Southern California will be the guest of honor.

Will Dedicate Bridge

The throngs making their way to the summit of Mt. Roubidoux will, incidentally, dedicate a new bridge along the highway which was erected as a part of the plan to beautify the western gateway to Los Angeles.

Southeast of Bakersfield, in Red Rock canyon, services will be conducted in the heart of the desert flower area. Probably there will be no Easter lilies, but instead a background of native flowers—poppies, cream cups, lupine, phacelia, fiddle neck, and squaw cabbage.

on sale—sensational prices and sizes for many CARS

We challenge all tire fields .... for quality .... plus dollar comparison .... no longer do we say we compare with others; others must compare with us.

We have hundreds of Used Tires and during the next few days ever effort will be made to sell them at sacrificing prices. . . . if you are in need of a good used tire; do not over-look this opportunity.

Do You Value Life?

In 1931 the Goodrich Silvertown National Advertising Campaign is making a direct appeal to American car owners to be more careful in driving..... last year the lives lost through car accidents were more than were lost in action by the American forces in the World War.

PROGRESS

Automobile manufacturers are building all the safety they know into their cars. Automobiles have never been so well balanced .... their ability to perform has increased from 50% to 100% within a very short time.

WARNING

85% of all car accidents that occur are caused by TIRE FAILURES and this is not at all excusable .... Goodrich Tires are built to withstand the terrific strain placed upon them by the demands of our new improved high-powered 4 wheel brake cars.

Insurance of Progressive Development

Goodrich manufacturers are one of America's Largest Industries and the Goodrich engineering staff have at their command the entire resources of this multi-million dollar plant; consequently, insuring the American car manufacturers and car owners a product whose development parallels with the engineering achievements of the car manufacturers.

REMEMBER

Goodrich Silvertown Fleet

Was a demonstration testing the durability and stability of Goodrich Tires over all kinds of roads; through all kinds of weather .... at road speeds from 45 to 80 miles per hour.

Not one failure in 30,000 miles .... was the unprecedented record of this fleet of tires; and may we say here that off brand tires are not under-selling Goodrich Tires.

Current History

Goodrich Tires have the oldes dealer on the South Plains; other dealers have changed brands of Tires .... we have hundreds of South Plains car owners who have bought tires exclusively from us for the past 9 years.

The demand for stability and road safety has made possible the sensational preference for Goodrich Tires on the Great South Plains of Texas.

May we suggest that you use our new yardstick for comparison; and be the judge of True Q'uality .... safety construction .... and dollar value.

Join the Silvertown Safety League! You are under no obligation what so ever, this is a national wide movement for safety driving, to protect the lives of people.

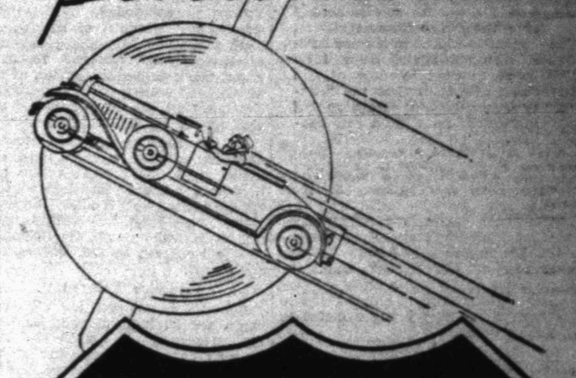

Let us install a brilliant chromium Silvertown Safety League emblem on the radiator of your car. It tells the world that you are in the fight against recklessness that took 33,000 lives last year.

SPRING FOOTBALL TRAINING IS STARTED WEDNESDAY AT TECH

CLEVELAND HOPING FOR BIG FIGHT

Collier Parris

Knute Rockne's successor? Name unknown at this writing but whoever he is will serve as a medium, for a decade at least, if he remains that long, for the transmitting of Rockne style and fight and sportsmanship into the Notre Dame gridiron circle. He will be so imbued with Rockne spirit and he will be so surrounded by men of the same principles that the "carry on for Rockne" campaign will meet with more than fair success.

* * *

There was but one Rockne. There can be but one Rockne. The man does not live who could step into the shoes vacated by that master mind of football and that character-building man of letters. But the memory of old "Rock" and the mention of his name on the Notre Dame gridiron for many seasons to come will inspire young athletes to nobler deeds.

* * *

Impressive stories have been written by the nation's best scribes about Rockne during the past few days. One that strikes the sport lover as peculiarly interesting calls attention to the fact that the man who made the forward pass famous, whose teams fought and won via the aerial route, lost his major contest, the game of life, in the air.

Now there is talk of his successor. Two men have been suggested as the probable leading contenders for the position of head coach at Notre Dame—a position that in itself will serve to inspire a coach to his greatest powers and resources—along with a list of men who likely will be considered. Charles Bachman, University of Florida coach and former student of Rockne, is thought by many to have the inside track, though Harry Stuhldrather, one of the "four horsemen" of Notre Dame fame, has been named by some.

The name of Jimmy Phelan, University of Washington coach, formerly at Purdue, has been mentioned in connection with the Notre Dame opening. The youthful Phelan has employed the Rockne system in his work and has never had a bad season when material presented itself. Phelan will be in Lubbock this summer with Wallace Wade, Duke University mentor, to conduct a coaching school.

Football spring training has started at Texas Tech. More than fifty men reported yesterday for equipment and were served track suits with football shoes. The next week or ten days will be spent in limbering up exercises, calisthenics and leg work. A football probably will not make its appearance on the Tech practice field for two weeks, after which a period of three weeks will be devoted to strenuous drill with the pigskin in daily practice sets.

* * *

The intramural basketball season prevents a full turn out of potential gridiron material, there being approximately a hundred men taking part in the cage activities who will join the ranks of the gridmen after the season.

* * *

J. Alvin Gardner, a resident of Wichita Falls to whom the Spudders do not mean everything and to whom a Spudder loss does not spell disaster and mean a week's boarding, believes that the Texas League, of which he is president, is in for a good year. He elaborated on the subject to Bill Parker, Associated Press sport correspondent, the other day and we reproduce herewith a few of his comments.

"I am confident this season will be one of the most successful, both artistically and financially, in the annals of the league," says Gardner. "We are on the eve of a schedule of 161 games that will decide the 1931 champions and from out of those 161 games, fans are going to see some excelent baseball. Business conditions are slowly but surely returning to a more normal state, and I sincerely believe that the upward trend has progressed to the point where we need hold no fear for the financial prospects for the 1931 season."

Two clubs in the Texas League are starting this season under new owners and four change have been made in managerial posts. Shearn Moody, Galveston capitalist, heads the Galveston Buccaneers, a new club this year replacing the Waco Cubs. T. S. Hickman is serving his first term as president of the Shreveport club. Art Phelan at Fort Worth, Claude Robertson at San Antonio, Happ Morse at Dallas and Jakie Atz at Shreveport are the new managers.

INDIANS IN LULING

SAN ANTONIO, April 2 (AP) — Having conquered the New York Giants second team, 12 to 6 last night in their first game of the season under the lights, the San Antonio Indians were in Luling today to exhibit with the strong semi-pro Luling Oilers. They come back to play the Giants yannigans Saturday and Sunday.

FIFTY MEN OF COLLEGE GET EQUIPMENT

ACTUAL PRACTICE NOT TO BEGIN FOR AT LEAST A WEEK

A few more than fifty gridiron aspirants approached the equipment-room window of the Texas Tech athletic department yesterday afternoon and received football shoes, track pants and jersies, after which they trotted in unison about the track in the first exercises of 1931 spring football training.

In the absence of Head Coach Cawthon, at the moment enroute home from South Bend where he has been visiting at the spring training camp of Knute Rockne's Notre Dame Irish, Del Morgan, assistant Matador coach, took charge of the weighing in and issuing of equipment.

Practice Delayed

Actual football practice will not begin for at least a week, it being necessary to whip the leg muscles into shape via the track and calisthenic route before heavy work can open up. The spring training season will reach into the middle of May.

While the number reporting yesterday was small in comparison with the number of athletes at Texas Tech, it is to be remembered that about 200 men are at present engaged in following an intramural basketball schedule that will run for the next three weeks. In the cage ranks, including coaches and managers who are varsity football prospects, are approximately 100 men who will report to Cawthon and Morgan for football particulars late this month.

Morgan would make no comment as to the winning capabilities of the 1931 Matador grid team, preferring to await the arrival and statements of Head Coach Cawthon, but dope already at hand together with that gathered by the appearance of the prospective gridders and their spirit of enthusiasm indicates that the varsity representatives of Tech's athletic department next fall will compose more than just another Tech football team.

Strong Frosh Coming Up

While nothing definite can be determined at the present in regard to the possible starting lineup next fall, it is generally known that the Matadors of 1931 will not necessarily be a team of veterans. Old men return for nearly every position but with a bunch of fine freshman material graduating into the varsity ranks, the veterans will have a tough time holding their forts. The backfield of 1930 will be back almost in its entirety. With the exception of Floyd Wooldridge, quarterback, the old machine will be back for tuning up but whether it can sound the tones well enough to hold forth against the music of the younger generation remains to be seen.

Three Take Lead In Money Golfing

NEW YORK, April 2. (AP)—The Golden golfing trail of spring and winter tournaments has placed the "business man" golfer, George Von Elm, and two of the old standbys of the professional field, Gene Sarazen and Johnny Golden, at the top of the financial heap.

In eight events Sarazen won $8,332.50. Von Elm, who decided to play for profit when amateur golf became a too expensive proposition for him, won $7,957.50 in six tournaments while Golden wound up the winter season third on the money list with $7,790 from ten events.

AROUND THE TRAINING CAMP CIRCUIT

ROBINS RADIO MINDED

MACON, Ga., April 2. (AP)—The Brooklyn Robins are becoming radio minded. Jake Flowers and Joe Shaute, leading vocalists of the club, have signed up to sing at a Macon radio sation next Saturday night while Dazzy Vance says one of the reasons he was willing to sign his contract calling for $23,000 a season yesterday is that he has been offered a contract for ten radio talks of ten minutes each which will net him $2,500.

PICKS GIANTS FIRST

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 2 (AP)—Travis Jackson, shortstop and captain of the New York Giants, does not agree with the experts who pick other teams to win the national league pennant. Jackson, praising the work of Johnny Vergez, Hughey Critz, Bill Terry, Fred Lindstrom and Harold Schumacher, added:

"We have a great team this year with every position well covered and everybody in a winning mood. Don't count the Giants out when you are picking pennant winners."

BABE FACES TEST

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 2 (AP)—Babe Ruth's chivalry faced a severe test today.

A gold watch has been offered for the first homer hit at Engel stadium, and the Bambino would like to have it.

But, Miss Jackie Mitchell was scheduled to pitch for the Lookouts, and her heart's desire is to fan the Babe and make enough money to buy a roadster.

HEAD FOR HOME

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 2 (AP)—Winding up a training season that has been somewhat unsatisfactory because of rainy weather, the first and second string Athletics will get away from North Carolina late today and head for home. The squad, split into two touring outfits a week ago, will get together en route.

ON HOME FIELD

PHILADELPHIA, April 2 (AP)—The Phillies, with two of their most important regulars among the absentees, come back to the home lot today after five weeks in the south. Manager Shotton said the team was in fair shape for the coming series with the Athletics but wet weather had interferred with spring training.

STREET ENTHUSIASTIC

BRADENTON, Fla., April 2 (AP)—Manager Gabby Street waxed enthusiastic over his Cardinal infield today and predicted it would go far in bringing another National league pennant to St. Louis.

While the same players compose the infield as a year ago, Gabby reasoned Charley Gelbert, still a youngster, would show continued improvement, nad "Sunny Jim" Bottomley, handicapped last year by an injured hand, should do much better. Frankie Frisch is the Fordham flash, and "Sparky" Adams, at third shows no signs of weakening.

ROOKIE LOOKS GOOD

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2 (AP)—No recruit in the Pittsburgh Pirate squad this spring has attracted more attention than Forrest Jensen, the fleet young outfielder from Seattle, Wash. His hitting and speed have been particularly brilliant. Everybody in the party today was talking about what happened after his triple against the Chicago Cubs yesterday. He was waiting at third when Lloyd Waner hit a short one to Cuyler. Jensen knows all about Cuyler's throwing arm, but he made a dash for the plate at the catch and beat Kiki's beautiful heave by an inch.

FERRELL IS READY

NEW ORLEANS, April 2 (AP)—Young Wesley Ferrell whose strong right arm is the Cleveland Indians' biggest asset, looks ready for the American league opener. Ferrell lost to New Orleans yesterday, but the verdict was that his fast ball is as fast as ever and his curve in good shape. His change of face failed him, but another nine-inning stretch or two is expected to iron that out.

SETS ASIDE RULE

BILOXI, Miss., April 2 (AP)—Walter Johnson has so much hope for Wally Dashiel that he is setting aside a time-established rule in his behalf.

Ordinarily a rookie gets little chance unless he shows up well in pre-season games. Dashiell, however, has had a bad leg and has been unable to participate in a single one of the Washington Senators' exhibitions this year. But the flashy infielder showed to such an advantage at Chattanooga last spring that Manager Johnson is willing to wait.

MAKES GOLF RULE

OAKLAND, Calif., April 2 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers will do all their golf playing this summer on the days when they aren't playing baseball. Manager Bucky Harris doesn't know whether swinging at a golf ball detracts from a player's ability to connect with a baseball, but he does believe that a morning round of golf is likely to detract from the player's pep on the ball field that afternoon.

CUBS FACE PROBLEM

LOS ANGELES, April 2 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs who were expected by Rogers Hornsby to sweep through their exhibition series, now are faced with the problem of getting above the .500 mark.

Yesterday's flop to the Pirates left them with a record of eleven victories and twelve defeats, most of the later due to shortcomings of the younger pitchers.

SEEK FIRST BASEMAN

FORT WORTH, April 2 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox today started a vigorous hunt for a first baseman capable of playing major league baseball.

Ray Radcliff, a recruit who was expected to take care of the job, was found wanting and yesterday Manager Donie Bush sent him back to Dallas to the Texas league from which the Sox obtained him. Johnny Watwood, an outfielder by trade, will play the initial station pending developments.

SPUDDERS, STEERS READY TO TANGLE

WICHITA FALLS, April 2 (AP) — After two days of moderately light workouts, the Spudders were in fair condition today to tangle with the Dallas Steers in the first of two exhibition games here. Manager Carl Williams for the last two days has carried his men to a grassy hill near Athletic park, while the playing field was drying from the soaking it received earlier in the week, and engineered routine batting and fielding practice.

Shortstop Joe Hassler is not expected to be in the Spudders' opening day lineup after having his tonsils extracted yesterday. The former St. Louis Brown has been unable to do any real conditioning because of an ailing arm and the operation was submitted to in the hope that it would bring around the troublesome whip.

DALLAS, April 2 (AP)—Happ Morse and his Dallas Steers left for Wichita Falls today where they are scheduled to play Carl Williams' Spudders today and tomorrow. Manager Morse sent his aggregation through a three-hour practice yesterday and was pleased with results. Lee Meadows and Lefty Fuhr are slated to face the Spudders today, with recruits taking the mound tomorrow. The Dallas club has been advised that Raymond Allen Radcliff will be returned by the Chicago White Sox.

DISPUTE OVER RENTAL IS UNSOLVED

SCHMELING - STRIBLING BOUT PLANS ARE BEING MADE

CLEVELAND, April 2. (AP)—Cleveland, with its new municipal stadium, was mentioned loudest today in the ballyhoo over sites for Max Schmeling to defend his heavyweight championship against W. L. "Young" Stribling.

Only a dispute over the stadium rental was holding up Cleveland's definite selection, it was unofficially reported after conferences here between William E. Carey, president of the Madison Square Garden corporation; Joe Jacobs, manager of the German heavyweight, and George H. Bender, stadium manager.

To Give Decision

They said they would announce a decision tonight after more conferences.

Jacobs was sure Cleveland had the "inside track" over Chicago's Soldier Field and Detroit's arena. The hitch came, it was understood, over Bender's desire to obtain a considerable rental fee and demands that the promoters install all "necessary equipment," including a platform to accommodate between 40,000 and 50,000 people and costing around $40,000. Bender was said to have asked that this be given to the city without cost after the fight.

The promoters, however, were believed to have asked that the plant, seating around 120,000 with the extra platform, be almost donated in return for the publicity. The bout probably would be held July 3.

OLD WEST TEXAS ADAGE FULFILLED BY WEATHER HERE

West Texas this year fulfilled the old adage that March comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb.

Thunder, lightning, high winds and heavy snow occurred during the night of February 28, and the morning of March 1 dawned on a snow covered South Plains.

April arrived with clear, starry skies and balmy airs.

Although several storms occurred during the month of March, that of the 26th, when the mercury fell to 12 degree above zero, was the most devastating of the month's several cold spells.

The temperate weather, which characterized most of the month, brought the fruit trees into premature bloom, only to be killed by the heavy frost of the 26th.

The minimum temperature for the month was 12 degrees on the 26th; and the maximum was 74 degrees on March 11.

Seed Breeders Are To Meet Saturday

Meeting with several Lubbock county certified seed breeders to talk over plans for the year, R. V. Miller, Anstin, secretary of the state certified seed board, will be in Lubbock Saturday. He will also hold a conference with H. J. Bower, professor of agronomy of Tech, and other school officials.

Lubbock county is considered the center of the certified grain sorghum industry on the South Plains.

AMERICAN TOPS NATIONALS

TIGERS BRING LEAGUE BACK INTO A THREE GAME LEAD

NEW YORK, April 2. (AP)—Just when it looked like the National League might pull abreast of the American circuit in their annual joust for the springtime championship, up popped Manager Bucky Harris's Detroit Tigers during the past week to turn back the men of Heydler.

After having remained on the sideline most of the spring, the Tigers jumped into the inter-league warfare with both feet and captured three out of four from the Pittsburgh Pirates. As a result, the American league was able to increase its advantage to three full games. The score today stood: American 21; National 18.

On Even Terms

Outside of the Tigers' winning spree, the two leagues fought on even terms for the week. The Giants licked the White Sox two out of three as they started their tour out of Texas, but the Yankees squared it up for the American league by taking their only start from the Phils. Cincinnati split with the Athletics in the only other tilts between the leagues.

Having selected their opposition pretty carefully, the Boston Red Sox continued to lead the field in percentage of total victories, with eight in nine starts. They have not yet faced a major opponent. The Brooklyn Robins, who have been putting their big bats against all comers, ran their record to 11 wins in 14 games to take second place.

Manager Gabby Street's champion St. Louis Cardinals boasted the outstanding mark against major opposition, with nine wins and only three losses. Brooklyn has won six out of eight against the big boys.

WRESTLING UNDER CONTROL OF TWO POWERFUL SYNDICATES, SEATTLE'S ATHLETIC COMMISSION DECLARES

SEATTLE, Wash., April 2. (AP)—Charging that wrestling seemingly was controlled throughout the country by two powerful "syndicates" the Seattle Athletic commission has ordered that city matches hereafter be billed as "exhibitions" and not as "contests for physical supremacy."

It proposes to name its own referees in the future.

The commission said the two groups of promoters were the Jack Curly syndicate in the east, whose "alleged champion of the world" is Jim Londos, and the Lewis-Sandow-Bowser syndicate of Glendale, Calif., with Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former champion as its head and Don George as its "champion."

Charge "Fake"

Wrestlers of the two factions, the commission declared, deliberately staged "fake antics" in the ring.

Gus Sonnenberg, while traveling, as "alleged champion," and George, who won the "alleged championship" in his recent tour here, were managed by the same promoter, a man named Tonnemann, the commission found. Tonnemann purported to be a licensed referee in Illinois.

"It is seemingly impossible for wrestlers from one group to invade the territory controlled by the other group," the commission's report said.

"It is impossible for anyone, even the referee, to determine from the performance of the wrestlers whether they are giving the best that is in them for physical supremacy.

"Antics such as chasing each other around the ring, both inside and out, grunting and groaning, pulling chin whiskers, jumping on each other's feet and making faces, are purposely put on by the wrestlers with the approval of the promoters to entertain and amuse the public."

The report followed an investigation into allegedly "crooked" matches here.

TEXAS AGGIE EXES WILL HOLD REUNION

Lubbock residents who formerly attended Texas A. & M. college have been invited to a meeting of Aggie graduates and former students Monday night at the Hilton hotel at Plainview. The Panhandle-Plains Dairy show open at Plainview Monday.

TROPHIES ARE OFFERED

INTRAMURAL CAGERS OF TECH REACH SECOND ROUND

With a dozen silver basketballs as trophies for outstanding play as an incentive to harder work and greater interest, the intramural cagers of Texas Tech entered the second round of play yesterday and finished one fifth of the 54-game schedule by playing three games in the Tech gym.

The Fish of the Liberal Arts league continued to win by defeating the Juniors, 31 to 11, after a slow first half during which time the teams were in a tie. A last quarter scoring spree by Lefty Bryant and Hale pushed over the Fish victory.

The Sophs and Seniors mixed in another Liberal Arts league game and the Sophs, losers to the Fish last week, came out ahead last night, 21 to 14. The work of Robinson and Wiese for the Sophs was outstanding.

In the third game the Fish of the Engineer league frosted the Juniors, 21 to 9. Cowan and Owen led the yearlings to their victory.

The Sophs and Seniors of the Engineer league meet in the first game tonight at 6 o'clock and will be folowed at 7 o'clock by the Fish-Junior game in the Aggie league. Sophs and Seniors of the Aggies play at 8.

W. C. Cole has announced that he will give 10 engraved silver basketballs to as many all-star cagers picked at the end of the season by a committe of coaches, and Crip Golightly, varsity mentor and intramural supervisor, will give two trophies to the pair who show the most improvement during the season.

OAK OLDER THAN CHRIST

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—The stock market developed a firm tone in early trading today. Lightening of selling pressure late yesterday prompted shorts to cover their commitments in advance of tomorrow's market holiday.

Trading, however, was leisurely, and price movements generally were narrow. Auburn pushed up 4 points and Eastman 3. Several issues, in which utilities were prominent, advanced a point or so. Steels and rails, however were sluggish. Norfolk & Western, which did not appear yesterday, was traded 2 1-2 points lower.

Issues up a point or so included Consolidated Gas, North American, Public Service of N. J., Western Union, American Tobacco B, Allied Chemical, American Can, Woolworth and North American. General Electric pushed up fractionally.

Sterling cables renewed a shade lower at $4.85 15-16.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 2 (AP)—Cotton had a rather irregular opening today owing to the unfavorable character of Liverpool cables. First trades showed 2 points decline to one point advance. After the start the market eased off slightly owing to further pre-holiday liquidation. May trading down to 10.54, July to 10.78 and March to 11.10, or 2 to 3 points under yesterday's close. After these offerings were absorbed the market was a shade steadier at the end of the first hour but trading was very moderate.

The market was moderately active after the first hour and gained five to six points with May at 10.59 and October 11.15. But later prices eased off owing to softness in stocks and some further pre-holiday liquidation, July dropping to 10.76 and October to 11.06, or seven to eight points down from the early highs and four to five points from the yesterday close.

Secretary Hester's fertilizer report issued near noon, showed a decrease of 1,078,000 tons in the sale of fertilizer tags for the eight months ending March 31, compared with the like period last year.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today 1 to 3 points lower in response to slightly lower Liverpool cables than due and showed net losses of 2 to 4 points during the early trading under some further liquidation and scattered local selling.

Offerings were absorbed by covering which appeared to be combined with some trade buying at the decline but business was quiet with figures evidently finding nothing of sufficient importance in the early news to inspire activity on the eve of a three-day adjournment. At the end of the first half hour May was selling around 10.54 and October 11.10 or about 2 to 3 points net lower, with the market holding fairly steady.

Liverpool cables reported local and continental liquidation with a poor offtake and said there was a bearish sentiment in the cotton goods trade at Manchester with buyers holding off.

Covering became slightly more active later in the morning. Offerings were light. May contracts sold up to 10.56 and October to 11.13, or about a point above yesterday's close. There was no aggressive demand, however, and the bulge was not fully maintained. The midday market was very quiet at net declines of 1 to 2 points.

NEW ORLEANS, April 2 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today: May 10.55; July 10.80; Oct. 11.13; Dec. 11.31; Jan. 11.40-bid; March 11.57-bid.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today: May 10.58; July 10.78; Oct. 11.10; Dec. 11.31; Jan. 11.41; March 11.58.

Grain Market

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 2 (AP)—Reports of increased vessel chartering in southern Russian ports caused grain prices to average lower early today with oats outdoing the season's low price record. Buying, however, for previous sellers who wished to even up accounts in preparation for a holiday tomorrow served to steady the market somewhat. Opening 3-8c off to 1-4c up, wheat afterward kept near to the initial range. Corn started at 1-2c decline to 1-4c advance, and subsequently sagged further.

KNUTE ROCKNE

the campus of old Notre Dame.

The great Nordic chieftain of American football and good sportsmanship, who but four days ago left South Bend and Notre Dame with a broad smile on his face, was back "home" with the boys he loved so well and with those who loved him and who will cherish his memory forever. But instead of ecstasy and joy, he brought sadness and despair. He was dead and so were the hearts of the thousands who found it so hard to believe that their "Rock" could pass on so tragically at the very zenith of his glory—of Notre Dame's glory.

Never again were his friends to look upon his face. The tragic crash of the airplane, which took his life in Kansas, denied even that.

Those in charge of the body viewed it and decided it would be best to keep the casket sealed forever except to give his widow a one last glimpse at the man everybody cherished. But it was doubtful whether Mrs. Rockne would care to see "Rock" again under the circumstances of mutilation and death. She, like all of Rock's boys, wanted to remember him as he was when last she saw him—beaming, joking and laughing.

Escorted by guards of honor, the body of the famous Notre Dame football coach was returned to South Bend last night. The same thousands jammed the railroad stations both here and in Chicago as they did just four short months ago when he led his football legions back from their glorious invasion of the west, but the same thousands were silent, awed and hushed as the casket was trucked quickly to a waiting hearse and taken slowly through the massed thong to the McGann undertaking parlor, where it will rest until the funeral.

FOKKER TO VIEW PLANE WRECKAGE

COTTONWOOD FALLS, Kas., April 2.—(AP)—A coroner's jury having failed to determine the cause of an airplane crash which sent Knute Rockne and seven others to their deaths, interest turned today toward an inspection by Anthony Fokker, designer of the craft.

Flying here from Los Angeles, Fokker expressed the belief "the flight should not have been undertaken in existing weather conditions" and that adverse flying conditions and the human element rather than a structural failure was responsible.

He said, however, he would withhold a definite statement until he had viewed the wreckage of the Transcontinental and Western Air Express liner and talked with witnesses.

COLLINS RITES ARE TODAY

FUNERAL PLANNED FOR O'DONNELL VICTIM OF SHOOTING

O'DONNELL, April 2. (Special)—Last rites for Dr. C. E. Collins, prominent O'Donnell physician who was killed in a shooting here Monday, will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church with Rev. Jenkins, pastor, in charge. Burial will be in the O'Donnell cemetery.

The funeral was delayed pending the arrival of relatives. A daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Nichols of Sedalia, Mo., has arrived as well as a son, Charles of Amarillo, who came here Tuesday. Charles is a former student of Texas Tech. Two other survivors, a former wife of Colorado Springs and a daughter, are unable to be present for the services.

Charged with murder in connection with the shooting, Quanah 'Jack' Mitchell, 21, is being held in the Lynn county jail. Preliminary hearing is to be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

TERRACING

terrace-construction which will be demonstrated Saturday. The county and implement dealers will furnish machinery for use in the demonstration, Agent Eaton said.

A bill pending in the state legislature pertains to use of county machinery in terracing, the Lubbock county agent said.

Stereopticon slides showing arrangements, needs for, utility of, and other phases of terracing will be shown tonight. Landowners, farmers, members of agricultural organizations, bankers, business and professional men and others affected directly by agriculture have been invited to the meeting.

The Lubbock county meeting and demonstration are the last of a scheduled series which was started at Fort Worth, February 17, under auspices of the Federal Land bank, Texas A. & M. college, and the Fort Worth & Denver City railway. A second meeting is to be held Saturday at Spur because of poor attendance at the first.

Invitations to the mass meeting have been mailed to 150 Lubbock citizens by the chamber of commerce, which commented that "terracing is recognized as a money producer on our farms here on the Plains" and "our business is dependent almost entirely on the stability of agriculture."

Demonstration of terrace-work with different kinds of machines will get underway at 10 a. m. Saturday at the Beebe farm. Coffee will be served free at noon and the Wolffarth Women's Home Demonstration club will sell sandwiches and sweetmeats.

CITY PLAN BODY ELECTS LEADERS

Charles A. Guy was elected chairman of the City Plan commission at the first meeting of the organization Wednesday afternoon at City hall.

Dr. Fred W. Standefer and Warren A. Bacon were chosen as vice-chairmen. City Manager J. Bryan Miller was named secretary. Permanent organization was effected at the meeting.

There are eight members of the commission and the membership is expected to be increased to ten. Those now members, in addition to Messrs. Bacon, Standefer and Guy are: Charles H. Mahoney, Harry N. Roberts, N. L. Peters, Roscoe Wilson and J. H. Bryan. J. O. Jones, who was appointed to the commission, is unable to serve due to ill health.

The commission will meet with the City commission next Monday afternoon to discuss further activities.

SCOUT TROOP TO HIKE AND CAMP

Boy Scout troop No. 2 will hike Friday night on the Meadowbrook golf course, will erect tents, and remain through most of Saturday.

The scouts will cook their own meals over open fires. A campfire program is being planned for Friday night.

Contests scheduled for Saturday include an inter-patrol boat race.

The patrol having the greatest number of prospective and new scouts on the outing will receive a prize, according to D. T. Jennings, area executive.

W. O McMillan, scoutmaster, and Alfred (Boots) Adkisson will direct the hike.

Troop No. 22 of Lamesa made an overnight hike last Friday, accompanied by Joe Spikes, scoutmaster.

Crash Victim Is Out Of Hospital

Injured in an automobile accident near Plainview the night after the Amarillo-Lubbock High school football game here, Miss Elizabeth Blackburn of Amarillo has been dismissed from a hospital there and is at her home

Miss Blackburn, a daughter of E. M. Blackburn of Amarillo, was returning home with Ted Nicklaus and his sister-in-law, both of Amarillo. Nicklaus, who was driving, stopped the automobile at the side of the road as a result of motor trouble. Another machine collided with it. Several persons were injured.

Five accidents occurred between Lubbock and Amarillo the night following the game here, according to reports.

It is about five and a half miles southwest of Lehman.

EL PASO PAPERS

morning and the other an evening paper.

Hunter Times Editor

Roderick will operate the Times as an independent publication. He announced that Hubert Hunter, dean of border newspaper executives who has been connected with the Herald for 18 years, will be editor of the Times. Mr. Hunter has been editor of both the Herald and the Times for the past two years. Magner White, widely known in Southwestern newspaper circles, will be managing editor.

Wallace Perry, editor of the Post, will continue as editor of the Herald-Post. John W. Frierson, Post business manager, continues as business manager of the combined publications.

Both the Herald and Times are more than 50 years old, having been established in 1881. In its lifetime the Herald has absorbed eleven earlier rivals. The Post was established August 1, 1922, as a four page, penny newspaper.

RODERICK'S RISE TO TOP IS METEORIC

Mr. Roderick has many friends in Lubbock and over the South Plains, having resided here from January, 1924, to January, 1929. He was publisher of the Avalanche-Journal Publications, of Lubbock, and with his father, T. E. Roderick, is associated in the publishing of the Slaton Slatonite.

Although his acquisition of the El Paso Times is a personal transaction, he continues to be interested in the Lubbock Morning Avalanche and Daily Journal and is vice-president of the Avalanche-Journal Publishing company.

Started In Tulsa

Mr. Roderick's rise in newspaper circles has been little short of meteoric. He first engaged in newspaper work with the Tulsa World in 1917, in 1922 joining the Associated Press' Oklahoma City bureau as a filing editor.

From Oklahoma City he went to the Wichita, Kansas, Eagle, in the advertising department and came to Lubbock with the establishment of the Plains Journal, a weekly paper which he served as business manager.

When the Lubbock Daily Journal was founded Mr. Roderick served first as business manager, then as general manager. With the purchase of the Morning Avalanche by the Journal in 1926, he became publisher of the new company, in which position he served until leaving Lubbock to take over the presidency of the El Paso Herald and Times slightly more than two years ago.

BROTHERS

wouldn't have had any case at all."

Objection Shouted

Every attorney on the prosecution side shouted his objection when Piquett said John Stege, former detective commissioner and a state witness, "got his job from Lingle." This remark was also stricken from the records.

"Are they attempting to hide the motive?" asked Piquett. "You have the right to know all the facts. A man is not going out to kill unless there is some reason or unless he is insane. Why don't they talk about motive?"

Piquett closed and Assistant States Attorney Wayland Brooks began the final argument.

Brooks said he would answer the defense questions one by one.

"First, they asked 'Who killed Jake Lingle?' I can only say 'the man that dropped that gun.' Applegate said 'Brothers dropped that gun'."

As to why Lingle was shot he said the defense had failed to keep its promise to prove that Brothers didn't have any gang connections, and added:

"I expect this court will instruct you that we don't have to prove a motive."

MOUNTAIN CAMP FOR BOY SCOUTS OF SOUTH PLAINS AREA COUNCIL SEEN

Possibility that the annual summer encampments at the Post Memorial Scout camp will be abandoned this summer was seen in a meeting here Wednesday night in which members of the activities committee of the South Plains Area council recommended that each district hold its own camp this summer rather than assemble in two groups at Post. Camping in the mountain areas of New Mexico is being considered by several towns in the area, it was stated in the meeting.

D. T. Jennings, scout executive, reported that there has been much agitation over the area for the mountain camps and that he had been petitioned by several to adopt this plan for the area.

The Post camp, donated to the scouts by the C. W. Post estate, is about 4 miles from Post, the old Currycomb ranchhouse being used as the headquarters of the camp. Each year two separate camping periods of ten days each, are held. A considerable amount of money has been spent on the camp to get it in shape for the annual camping periods.

Members of the committee present at the meeting Wednesday night included: W. G. McMillan, who has been donating a trophy to the best camper in the Post camps, chairman, Charles Whitacre, K. N. Clapp, and Mr. Jennings of this city and Joe Spikes of Lamesa.

WILL SEEK TO PREVENT TAX INCREASES

COOPERATION OF BOTH MAJOR PARTIES TO BE SOLICITED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 2—The co-operation of both major parties in the next congress was looked for today to prevent a federal tax increase.

Responsible party leaders in both the house and senate have expressed opposition to increased levies to meet the expected $700,000,000 deficit this year and the probability of another next year.

Hold To Minimum

To balance receipts and expenditures the budget for the 1932-33 fiscal year will be kept to a minimum. Budget Director Roop made this promise after Chairman Jones of the senate appropriations committee asked a closer paring of government expense estimates.

Jones said he believed at the next session "Democrats will be as anxious as Republicans to keep down expenditures" since "each party realizes it may be held responsible for the condition of the treasury after 1932."

The Washington senator denied that congress has been extravagant since only once in eight years has it exceeded budget estimates. He predicted the next assembly could keep below the $5,000,000 mark because no more money would be needed for the farm board. Further savings were anticipated through curtailment of public buildings appropriations.

Jones suggested the approaching deficit be met by short-term certificates since long-term bonds bear higher interest.

HIGHWAY CASE IN COURT

CHILDRESS CASE WILL HAVE BEARING ON ROAD ROW HERE

Arguments on a case from Childress county that will have a bearing on a similar case to be heard in Amarillo next Wednesday by the court of civil appeals from Lubbock county, are to be heard today in Austin by the state supreme court.

The Childress county case is an appeal from an injunction which farmers in the north part of the county obtained against the state on the grounds that the highway as routed did not comply with promises made by the county commissioners before the bonds were voted. The Amarillo court of appeals dissolved the injunction and the decision was appealed. The highway in dispute is No. 4, 4 north and south highway.

The Lubbock county case is on highway 24 and the Amarillo appeals court has issued a temporary injunction in the case. Arguments are scheduled to be held next Wednesday.

Governor Ross Sterling and seven farm journal, railway, and extension service officers received select hams from the first annual Panhandle-South Plains Fat Calf, Pig, and Meat show. The hams were sent to the eight men by the meat show committee.

The meats, wrapped and tied with a specially designed South Plains trademark on the cover, were expressed to Governor Sterling; Frank P. Holland, vice-president of Farm & Ranch magazine at Dallas; A. W. Roberts, editor of the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman at Oklahoma City; Eugene Butler, editor of the Progressive Farmer at Dallas; J. L. Lancaster, president of the Texas & Pacific railway, of Dallas; John A. Hulen, vice-president of the Fort Worth & Denver City railway, of Fort Worth; O. B. Letters to those to whom the hams were sent told of the meat exposition here, named the producers of the hams, and pointed out that the demand for cured meats was greater than could be satisfied at the first annual show here.

"From the South Plains of Texas" are words on a round trademark placed on the wrapper of each of the select hams. The trademark includes a map of Texas, in which South Plains counties are blocked in white. A young farmer stands at the left of the map pointing to the South Plains section.

TEXANS LEAD IN CAVERNS VISITS

Texas led the rest of the states in total representation at the Carlsbad caverns during March, 949 Texans gazing at the stalactites and stalagmites. New Mexico was represented by 637 persons.

Two hundred and eighty-six Californians came to Carlsbad during March, while Colorado had 158. Illinois had 150.

Among the foreign nations to visit the Carlsbad Caverns in March were: Canada 23; Mexico 8; Germany 5; Brazil 2; India 2; Scotland 3; England 3; Hawaii 1; and Belgium 1.

Totals by months for several years of numbers of persons to visit the Caverns reveals that March, 1930 numbered 4,077, while March, 1931 numbered only 3,105. The decrease in visitors is explained by the celebration, "Governor's Day," which was held at the caves during March, 1930.
