Seek Enumerators For U. S. Census In Crockett County

Six Workers Needed Here To Make Count In April

A good paying job, extending over a period of three to four weeks, is waiting for six persons in Ozona.

The United States government is about to begin its decennial count of noses in this country and teams of enumerators are being organized throughout the country to make the count, starting about April 1.

Don Boston of Big Lake has been named crew chief of enumerators in a four-country area of West Texas, including Reagan, Upton, Glasscock and Crockett counties and is seeking to organize a team of enumerators in each of the four counties.

Applications should be made immediately so that those selected may attend a three-day school of instruction to be held March 28, 29 and 30 to prepare enumerators for their tasks.

Either men or women may qualify for the posts as enumerators, Mr. Boston said. Pay will begin for those who qualify at the opening of the school of instruction. Pay for some workers will be on a piece basis and for others on an hourly scale plus mileage. Preliminary tests will be given applicants this week-end if enough applications are received, Boston said.

Census forms are to be mailed throughout the United States within the next few days. Those receiving these forms should fill in the information requested to facilitate the work of enumerators who will call during the census taking period.

Ozona School Faculty Members Attend Dist. Educators Meet Fri.

Ozona school children will enjoy a holiday Friday as the faculty of the system attends the 54rd annual convention of the District XI Mid-Texas Education Association in San Angelo.

Vernon Harlan and Ernest M. Boyd are delegates from the Crockett County Chapter and are to attend a business and breakfast meeting in the San Angelo Hotel at 7 o'clock Friday morning.

The Mid-Texas Association rotates its meetings between Brownwood and San Angelo each year and Ozona teachers are always pleased to have the meeting closer to home in San Angelo.

Something over 2,000 members of the association are expected to be present Friday morning in the Municipal Auditorium to hear an address by Dr. Sylvia Sorkin, business consultant, economist, author, and lecturer. Dr. Sorkin is a former University professor and was chairman of the Graduate school division on consultation and personnel at Washington U.

Dr. Sorkin formerly served on Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson's Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Service and received an Army citation for meritorious service in this field.

Following lunch Friday the group will break up into departmental workshops and lectures designed to be useful to the educators in a specific way.

Kerrville Newsman Is Candidate For Legislative Post

Carroll Abbott Seeks Post Vacated By Joe Burkett

Carroll Abbott, outstanding newspaperman and civic leader of Kerrville, will bring his campaign for State Representative from the 78th District to Ozona Saturday.

Abbott brings to his first political race a long history of service, not only to the Hill Country but to his state as well.

Two years ago, he formulated plans for a Friendship Flight to Alaska and drew a citation from Governor Daniel for bringing international attention to the friendship of Texans.

For the past two state Democratic conventions, Abbott has represented his home county. Abbott guided The Kerrville Times last year to being selected as the top small daily newspaper in the state by the Texas Press Association.

Abbott has been especially active in the ranching field. For five years, he has been a director and committee chairman of the Kerr County Livestock Shows Association, Inc. and helped other ranchers reactivate the Kerr County Wool Show.

Abbott is a director of both the Kerr County Chamber of Commerce and the Kerrville Jaycees. He is a member of the Baptist church, the BPOE and has long been active in P-TA affairs. He is a member at large of the Hill Country Boy Scout District and has been president of the Quarterback Club, a sports booster, for five years.

Abbott, 33, has been married for 13 years to the former Pat Black. They are the parents of three sons: Texas 10, Mark 5 and Patric 3.

Abbott plans to actively carry his campaign of "honesty and hard work, service for the people—ALL the people—all the time" to every community in the 10-county district.

Cattle Raisers Risk Isolation By Failure To Adopt Clean-Up Plan

By failing to adopt the brucellosis clean-up program, cattle raisers of Crockett county are running the risk of being isolated so far as movement of cattle from this county to market is concerned, spokesmen for the program pointed out this week.

Two adjoining counties, Pecos and Terrell, have completed their tests and are now designated brucellosis free areas. Other adjoining counties to the east and north are in process of making the clean-up tests and when surrounding counties are declared clean areas no cattle can be moved through them from an untested area without quarantine and testing.

Petitions on which signatures of 75 percent of the producers in the county and 51 percent of the cattle numbers is required have been out for several weeks here, at the feed houses, wool warehouse and at the Ozona Boot & Saddlery. Only about 70 signatures have been secured whereas a minimum of 106 will be required.

Postoffice Mail Box Pilfering To Be Stopped Here

Postmaster, Officers Take Steps To Catch Mail Thieves

Somebody in Ozona is taking some long chances with the federal laws in pilfering mail boxes in the local postoffice and sooner or later are going to face prosecution in federal courts on mail theft charges, with consequent severe penalties.

This was the prediction this week of Postmaster Floyd Hobit after a series of mail box break-ins in the local office and the looting of mail in recent weeks. Mail missed from boxes of local patrons has been found in weeds and shrubs around the courthouse and one opened package, taken from a box, was dropped in the street mail box in recent days, the postmaster said.

"Unless we can stop this pilfering, it may be necessary for us to lock the postoffice lobby at night, which would be a great inconvenience to a lot of patrons," Hobit said. He urged the cooperation of citizens in catching the mail box thieves by notifying officers when they see persons loitering in the lobby, and in preventing box break-ins by being careful to see that boxes are closed and the combination turned off the opening number. Boxes can be opened again if the combination is left in the opening position, Hobit pointed out, and he urged patrons to turn the combination dial after closing boxes.

14 Teams Entered In Ozona's Eighth Annual Track Meet

Saturday Events To Be Run Off At Lions Stadium

By Ernie Boyd

The eighth annual Ozona Invitational track meet is scheduled to formally open track season in Ozona Saturday when the Lions play host to 13 other teams.

Clearing skies Monday and Tuesday afternoon and some mild hints of better weather from the weather man has prompted some hope that the weather might cooperate for once in this unusually late winter.

Meet director Chick Womack and assistant track Coach Sonny Cleere have been able to get in some practice time this week and it is hoped that the Lion squad will be ready despite the lack of working time so far available this spring.

Fred Stallings, veteran track official from Miles, will be starter for the meet Saturday with the male members of the Ozona faculty helping to run off the various events.

Teams indicating they will be present are; Big Lake, Rankin, Coahoma, Iraan, Sanderson, Eldorado, Rocksprings, Junction, Mason, Menard, Wink, Robert Lee, Sonora, and host Ozona.

Mason, Junction, Wink and Ozona will be considered favorites to cop the title with the local Lions depth of squad giving them a probable edge. The Lions are defending champs of their own meet.

Bob Meinecke in the pole vault and the Lions 440 and 880 relay teams are given the best chance of cracking the existing records in the meet but once again lack of time to practice this spring will probably give record efforts a hard time.

An added attraction in this year's meet will be a special eight man mile relay. The winner will not get points toward the team championship but will receive a trophy to show for this effort.

The Lions finished a strong third in the Comanche relays in Ft. Stockton with their basketball players only two days with the squad and Coach Chick Womack, while moaning about the poor weather this spring, did say he felt the squad was stronger now.

The News Reel

A re-run of "The Ozona Story" as gleaned from the files of The Ozona Stockman

From The Stockman, Mar. 12, 1931

Reports or surmises that outbreak of scarlet fever among Ozona school children last week resulted from spread of germs from infected books used by students suffering from the disease last year were denied this week by Supt. John L. Bishop and Dr. G. Miller, county health officer. All books used by pupils with communicable diseases are immediately destroyed. Mr. Bishop said.

John William Henderson, 77, one of the first settlers of Crockett county and a prominent rancher and financier here for 43 years, died in a San Angelo Hospital Wednesday night following an illness of nearly two years. Funeral services will be at 4 o'clock this afternoon from the family home, Rev. J. H. Meredith, pastor of the Methodist Church officiating.

By an overwhelming majority the bill by Senator Small of Wellington validating the title of surface owners of Texas school lands to fifteen-sixteenths of the minerals was passed by the House of Representatives in Austin Wednesday afternoon.

Theodore Washington and Louis Cook, local negroes, were taken to San Angelo for medical attention Wednesday following a knife fight in the business section in which both men were seriously hurt.

The end of the business depression is definitely in sight at its source, the north and east, Ben Lemmons, of Lemmons Dry Goods, told members of the Lions club in a talk on business conditions in the east as he found them on a recent buying trip.

The Rocksprings Livestock Loan Co. sold 20,000 pounds of mohair to Tom Richey of Lampasas at Our congratulations to several business concerns who have cleaned and painted their places — as the Stuart Motor Co., the telephone company and the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. A clean business section is an indication of a prosperous and successful town.

Spring is a wonderful time to clean our town, and sections and places are dirty and littered. Let's make Ozona Beautiful. Cleanliness whether in people, places or communities, is a sign of culture and success.

Don't forget the school for Oriental Arrangement, under the di-

EDITORIAL

The Junior-Senior Banquet was given last Saturday night, in honor of the Class of 1960. Every year, the staff has published the last Will and Testament, the Prophecy, and the Class History, for the benefit of the townspeople. We hope that you will enjoy reading these documents.

CLASS HISTORY

The Class of 1960 began its long grind in Mrs. Hawkin Kindergarten in 1948. With us that first year were Janice Parker, Susie Chandler, Bob Cooke, Sally Baggett, Douglas Stuart, Kenneth D. Harry, Margo Pogue, George Blackstone, Sammie Hester, Leslie Deland, Joe McMullan, Bill Hatchett, Tommy Stokes, Bill Meinecke, Bob Meinecke, June Bunker, Carol Ann Pilcher, Catherine Guthrie, Gail Stringer, Joan Bower, Nonie Conklin, John Gilliam, Joe Friend, Emmett Lovell, Mary Fitzpatrick, Charles Lee McCook, Mills Tandy, Muggins Good, Ronnie Beall, Johnny Jones, Ray Moxley, Laura Armentrout, Linda Mills, Teddy Maples, Jimmy Williams, and Weldon Day.

When we finished our years in North Elementary and entered Junior High, we had lost Janice Parker, George Blackstone, Kenneth D. Harry, Sammie Hester, Ray Moxley, Bill Hatchett, Carol Ann Pilcher, Catherine Guthrie, Joan Bower, Gail Stringer, Emmett Lovell, Mary Fitzpatrick, Charles Lee McCook, Mills Tandy, Laura Armentrout, and Teddy Maples. However, Camille Adams, Pierce Miller, Bill Gibson, Ronald Carnes, Bama Burton, Golda Goodman, and Dickie Flanagan were gained.

Sixty-seven of us entered high school. Seniors B. B. Ingham, Roy Neil Killingsworth, Alonzo Galindo, Robert Fierro, Edna Garza, Eva Hernandez, Lina Cardenas, Adolfo Rivera, Robert Rodriguez, and Tommy Porter joined us in Junior High.

In our four years of high school, we have gained Jimmie Adams, Mike Grover and Ray Moxley. We lost John Gilliam. Of the original thirty-six in kindergarten, twenty remain.

CLASS PROPHECY

Camille Adams liked the glamorous life at the dude ranch so well during the Senior trip, that she decided to stay. She owns her own dude ranch now, and performs such duties as cooking breakfast for all the guest, giving riding lessons, and grooming horses.

There is ample transportation for those who want to go to Camille's ranch. June Bunker drives a school bus out there twice a day. June likes her job because she says it brings back fond memories of the Senior trip.

Ray Moxley and Ronald Carnes are also in business for themselves. They are the new owners of a slide rule factory. Next, they plan to revise the multiplication tables to fit a new type of slide rule they've invented.

Joe McMullan has put his bongo drums to good use. You'll find him in the wilds of Africa where he has set up his own communication system. He'll send a message anywhere in Africa. At last report, the natives were all taking advantage of this new, modern convenience.

Douglas Stuart and Mike Grover are making perfume in Paris. But it seems that the girls didn't go for the new scent. So Douglas and Mike sold their product to Insecticides Incorporated who report that the perfume is excellent for repelling all kinds of pests.

Alonzo Galindo, and Adolfo Rivera have gone on an exploring expedition. They're trying to find a new state to add to the union that will be bigger than Alaska.

Professor Bob Cooke is now head of the United States missile program, and has become quite famous for his recent idea of sending Buddy Ingham into space instead of monkeys. Professor Cook stated in a recent interview that Buddy was well adapted for hazardous space travel because of the many experiences he has faced in his past driving record.

We see that a new faculty member has been added at O. H. S. This new teacher is Miss Linda Mills. It seems that she has been employed to grade Spanish papers that Mr. Harlan never gets around to grading.

Ronnie Beall has his own business establishment. He sells "little black books" already filled with names and phone numbers of girls. The Basin Street atmosphere at the banquet so entranced Bob Meinecke and Johnny Jones that they are now down in New Orleans where they do nothing all day but draw pictures and write beatnik poetry.

Roy Neil Killingsworth enjoyed Mr. Moody's Journalism class so well that he decided to make writing his career. His latest work can be found in the March issue of True Confession.

Dicky Flanagan and Weldon Day are operating a travel agency which specializes in planning Senior trips.

Nonie won the gold medal for the United States in the Olympics in track this year. The experience she obtained from running after Deroy Legoo her Senior year in O. H. S. enabled her to accomplish this remarkable feat.

Jimmy Adams found English Correspondence such an enlightening experience, that he is now teaching English by Correspondence.

Tommy Stokes enjoyed band so much that he is now working for Lawrence Welk. Tommy is operating the bubble machine.

In 1960, if you wanted advice concerning your love life, you wrote to Abby. But eventually, Abby ran out of answers. She has been replaced by Sally Baggett and Susie Chandler whose advice to the lovelorn column appears daily in papers throughout the country.

Robert Feirro and Robert Rodriguez are the new proprietors of the Stork Club. They attract many visitors each year with their floor show which features Linda Cardenas and Eva Hernandez, the well known fan dancers from France.

Our crystal ball tells us that a new heavy weight champion has been crowned. Killer Magoo was knocked out in the seventh round for the title. The new heavy weight champion? — why Joe Warren Friend, of course.

Muggins Good has become famous in the field of horticulture. This year he won a blue ribbon for his prize daisy.

Bama Burton has become a new T. V. personality. She is the star of the popular show called Ding Dong School. She has many fans — all between the ages of three and five.

If you want to know what is going to happen to you, just go to Edna Garza. She operates her own business, and she knows all, sees all, and tells all.

Leslie Deland has overthrown the government of Tasmania and set himself up as dictator. The first thing he did was to hire Golda Goodman as his private secretary.

Because of great track ability, Tommy Porter has also made his mark in the world. It seems that one day while he was running at a track meet, a talent scout discovered him. Now he can be found in Hollywood playing the road runner in the comedies.

Along with Tommy, we have another movie celebrity. America now has their own Bridget Bardot in the person of Margo Pogue.

By now Elvis Presley is considered strictly from Squaresville. He has been replaced by Bill Swivelhips Meinecke, the current singing sensation. The girls really seem to go for his flashy sport coats and his blond curl. Bill contributes much of his success to his manager Smiley Hoover. Mr. Hoover decided that teaching Algebra was strictly for the birds, besides, he and Swivel hips are making a fortune.

Many of the Seniors of '60 went to Hollywood, and you can see their pictures at your local theatre. But the pictures of the next two boys in the crystal ball can be found at your local post office. Jim Williams alias Popgun Kelly and Pierce Miller alias Dirty Face Nelson are considered very dangerous criminals. They are wanted for such crimes as stealing candy from babies, killing time, and making counterfeit meal tickets.

You'll find Mr. Dobbs in Hollywood where he is under contract with MGM studios. He is making toupees for bald headed movie actors.

We see that Mr. Harlan has achieved his greatest ambition. He has his PHD and has become a college professor at Harvard. You can find him every day teaching the Harvard boys new weight lifting techniques. In case you're wondering about this strange turn of events, we must tell you that Mr. Harlan has become a strong believer in the old saying, "If you can't lick 'em, join 'em!"

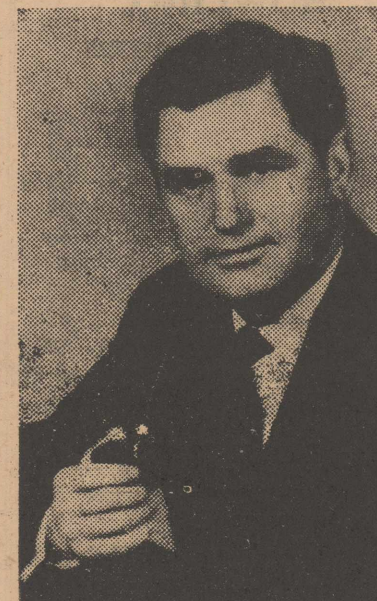

CLASS WILL

We the Senior Class of Ozona High School being of sound mind and disposing memory do hereby make and publish this our last will and testament hereby revoking all wills made heretofore by us.

In this will we are undertaking the disposition of all our charm intelligence, superior qualities, and all the other wonderful things for which we Seniors are noted.

First as always, be it in the phone book, call roll or what have you is Camille Adams. To Sandra Whitaker go all of Camille's boy troubles in the hope that Sandra can figure them out and then write her a letter at college and tell her how in the world she did it. As for your own may be you can

Steve Preslar Comments

In our prior discussion in this column we have seen how important the decisions of a Judge are to each of us and how such decisions affect us, both directly and indirectly, even though we are not ourselves before the Court. We saw how the Judge interprets and construes the Constitution, statutes and the common law, so that the decisions made by the Judge determine what the law is. This all adds up to the fact that the office of the trial judge is a very important one, and brings us around to looking at the method by which we fill that important office. In the early formation of our government, there was much debate about whether judges should be appointed by the Executive or elected by the people. One group, composed of the aristocracy who believed in something of a ruling class, ruled-by-the-few, favored judges appointed by the head of government, while another group, led by Thomas Jefferson, argued that the people should select the men who sat in judgment on them.

That debate is still going on today in our various states, with some states having the elective system and some states the appointive system, with those who favor the appointive system doing so largely on the basis that the man who sits in judgment should not have to be a politician and beholden to anyone. For the elective system it is said that the people should have a right to select the man who sits in judgment on them, and that it is better that he be beholden to the many within his district than to be indebted to one man for his appointment, when that man may not even live in the District, nor vote there, nor be affected by the Judge's decisions made there.

In Texas the matter is covered by our Constitution, which provides that judges shall be elected. In fact, so zealously do we Texans guard our right to select our judges that our State Constitution provides that in the event of a vacancy the Governor shall have the power to appoint a temporary judge, only until the next election. Appointments are not made for the unexpired term of the departing judge, but only until the next election when the people shall exercise their choice of one among them to be their judge.

It is well that a judge should be elected from among the people, by the people, because justice involves the people as well as the cold letter of the law.

You be my judge . . . I ask to be yours —

"Who owns the electric company?"

Here's A Good Value

For less than 3¢ the average family served by WTU can cook a complete meal the modern electric way... and enjoy the cleanliness and convenience of Electric Living.

"Here's who-"

The answer is that thousands of people own it. People like you, people who invest money in the electric company and help it grow. They become an investor... this is the reason we are known as an investor-owned company.

It is a good question — especially since surveys show a lot of our own customers don't know the answer.

This electric company is not owned by the city. It is not owned by the state. It is not owned by any kind of government agency or co-op. It is owned by investors.

This is one of the reasons why we can give you the best possible service and just about the best bargain you can buy.

You'd think it was our car!

We baby your car. We carefully check every little detail to make sure it's in tip-top, A-1 condition. Why, you'd almost think your car belonged to us!

There's good reason for us to be so fussy and painstaking. We want to do a better job than the "other fellow" down the street—because it's a good way to compete for your business. It's the competition between independent businessmen like us—that benefits you—the motorist.

Thanks to our American freedom, you find each oil company doing its part to bring you better and better products at lowest possible prices.

So bring your car to us for service. You can be sure it will get the kind of service we'd give our own car.

leave them to a Jr. next year. Also to Sandra goes a box of band-aids. In her neighborhood you never can tell when they might come in handy.

Johnny Jones leaves to Jim Freeman his short blond haircut, Student Council presidency and the problem of keeping the fish pond full and clean. That's a pretty full load but we think you can handle it Jim.

To Mary Lou Zunker goes Nonie Conklin's ability to tell teachers loudly and longly just what she thinks of them, their class and the whole school system in no uncertain terms. Along with that Mary Lou goes her uncanny ability to get away with it! Also to Mary Lou goes Nonie's tube of lipstick which she likes to get on people's hair!

Our Future Farmer Leslie Deland leaves to Herbie Noelke his feed bucket, sheep barns, clipping shears, and all the various awards he has won in FFA.

To Ozona's top ranking Boy Scout Carlos Lopez goes all of Yope Rivera's good deeds. We only hope that Carlos' won't be pulling people out of wrecked Thunderbirds as one of Yope's was.

Nancy Friend and Mary Ann Hale are the proud new owners of Sally Baggett's ability to make it with wool. Combined with their own they might just be able to fleece them out of state award next year.

Tommy Stokes wills his ability to snooze in class to Bob Childress and also his self-appointed job, seeing that deputies Von and Rex stay awake at night.

Douglas Stuart leaves his concession stand apron to Pleas Childress in hopes that next year's Seniors will find him as hard working as we did Douglas.

Mike Grover our most avid fan of girls' basketball leaves his season ticket to Wayne Scrivner.

To Wayne Albers goes Joe McMullan's hunting rights and brakeless jeep. Along with this he includes all the teachers he sported around during the season and his portable headlight so Butch can now wait till after school hours to get his hunting done.

Alonzo Galindo leaves his turned up collar to Martin Castellano so that he can warm when he runs track during cold weather.

Ray Moxley leaves to Reid Holmsley his half of the gas bills to Rankin since he'll be at college and won't be able to get over there so often.

Bob Cooke, Ronald Carnes, and Weldon Day leave their jobs as managers to Mark Baggett. Because Mark's pocket always seem to be full of candy, chewing gum and other goodies, we are sure he is just the boy to pass out the Hersheys during the half.

The Senior girls of the class of 1960 lovingly leave their Senior boys to the Junior class in case we take a chartered bus on our trip.

Edna Garza has decided to be unselfish about all this and give some of her charm with the boys to Delia Borjas. Not that Delia will need it, but just in case.

Bama Burton leaves all her test tubes, bunsen burners and chemistry formulas to Priscilla Stewart. Along with this goes Bama's everlasting patience and endurance, being the only girl to stick it out through chemistry in a class full of boys.

Aud look what we find in the laugh department. To Jom Doran goes Joe Friend's guffaw and to Deeney Holden, Bill (Happy) Meinecke's snicker. Also Jim, you get Foe's old black hat on the condition that you never take it off when you go inside. And to you Deeney goes Jim Williams' ability to chew tobacco and to make it to the track bus on time.

To Leon Dragoo goes Pierce Miller's curly black hair and his book of How to Woo a Woman in Ten Easy Lessons.

Ever want to be a hound dog man? Well, now you can Mike Stiles. Because to you goes Muggins Good's hound dogs and also his many good times and wild experiences while hunting coons.

Golda Goodman leaves to Janie Everett all her left over box tops so that Janie can order her Junior Wings, model planes, or an automatic radar that spots cattle trucks before it's too late. Or if she doesn't want any of those she can always use her box tops to order more box tops.

Good Grades? I should say so! To Barbara Barbee goes Margo Pogues' distinction of being the only "smart" girl in the Senior class. Also Barbara, you get all of Margo's cast off A's. She has so many you'll not have to worry about a thing next year.

Robert Rodriguez leaves to Francisco Moran his white bucks. Also Robert leaves him his indispensable bottle of white shoe polish.

Roy Neil has changed his mind so instead of willing his brain to the Smithsonian Institute he has decided to leave it to Buddy Anderson.

Also to Buddy goes all of Neil's left-over water guns, paper planes, spit wads and other odds and ends that come in so handy on band trips.

Jimmy Adams leaves to Tommy Loudamy and L. C. Poindexter his debating ribbons and all his general criticisms that can be used to tear speeches apart piece by piece. Also goes Jimmy's ability to construct custom-made Rancheros out of black fords.

Cruz Tambunga is the lucky receiver of all of Roberto Fierro's old book reports and English themes and anything else that Cruz can use to get through English IV.

Bob Meinecke leaves his all-district football patch, track medals and sophomore girl friend, Janet Mason to the loving, tender care of Richard Sikes. He can't have Janet for keeps of course; Just until Bob returns from Texas. But the medals — well . . .

To Anne Davidson goes Linda Millsbaugh's ability to ask questions that bring out the beast in Coach Oleere and Mr. Harlan. Linda also leaves to Anne her alarm clock which is automatically set on 7:45 so that she can make it to school by 7:59½ at least.

Dickie Flanagan leaves to Art Kyle about half of him.

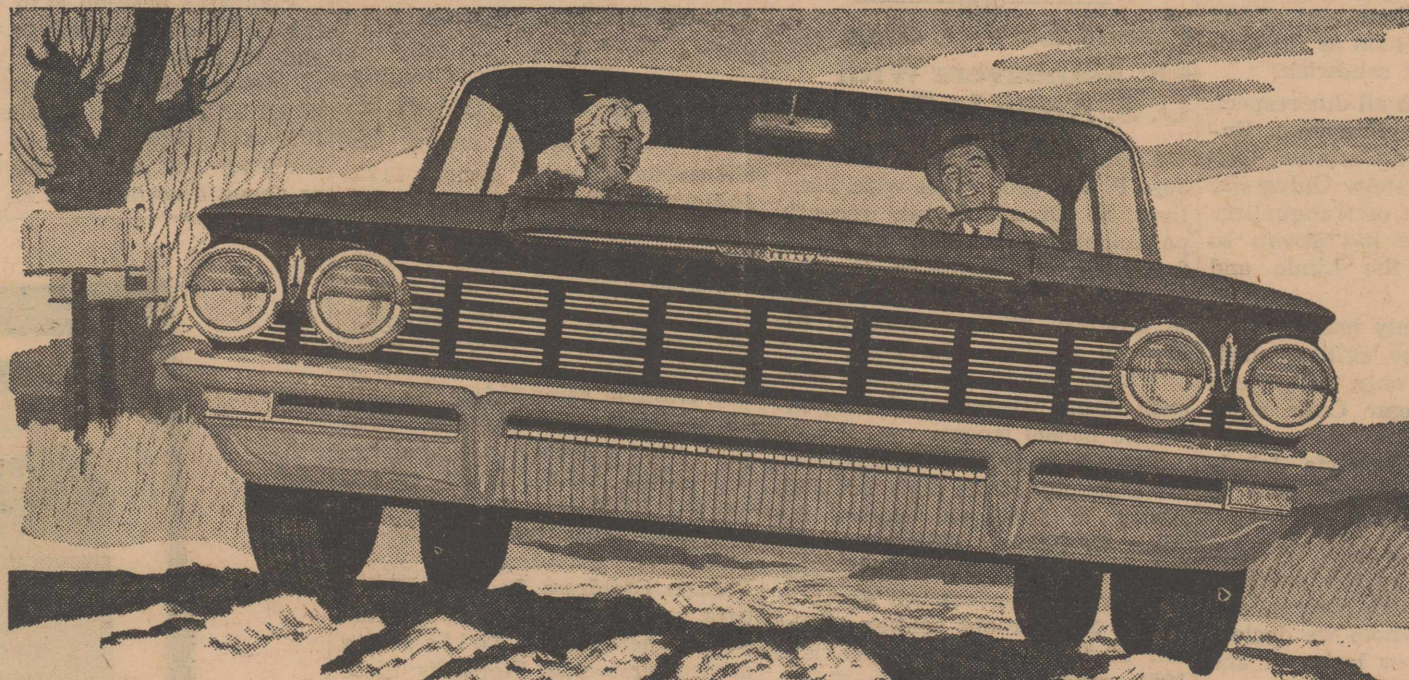

I'm sure you've all heard that song "The Terror of 101" about the guy that had blue demin trousers, motorcycle boots, and a black leather jacket with an eagle on the back. Well, The Terror of 290 which is none other than Susie Chandler leaves to Pam Jones her loose demin Levis, high top brogan boots, and her dark complexioned skin with the initial on her back. Susie also leaves her chair in English to any character who is crazy enough to want it. This chair is awfully easy to locate because it's the only one with Black all over it!

Eva Hernandez and Lina Cardenas leave to Mickey Cervantez their dishwashing ability. You'll need it in the concession stand next year.

Known to all a block away is Ronnie Beall. To Tommy Fields goes Ronnie's coveted stick shift, glass pacs, and moon hub caps in hopes that you can leave as many stripes on the way to the football field as Ronnie did.

South of the border! Yes, that's where you'll be Tony Parker! Because to you goes Buddy Ingham's charge account at the Via Acuna toll bridge. Included in this is Buddy's wide Spanish vocabulary so you can find your way around without any trouble. Also Tony, we hear you've lost something near and dear to you so after much persuasion we finally talked Tommy Porter into leaving you his much loved Schick! You lucky boy! What you can't do with that!

And now on to our sponsors: Mr. Dobbs and Mr. Hoover leave to themselves one long year of rest and relaxation as soon as the Seniors sell their last sandwich.

Mr. Harlan, with all due respect, bequeathes to the Freshman English professors of Christian College and Southwestern University his favorite bottle of tranquilizer pills to which he has grown so attached during the Linda and Nonie Years.

Last and certainly least I, June Bunker, having no ability whatsoever leave the only thing I can think of, my Sugar Cube story to Mr. Sikes and my very deepest sympathy to Roberta Johnigan who will probably have to write this thing next year!

In testimony whereof we here signed our name in the presence of Tex Harlan, H. O. Hoover, and E. M. Dobbs to whom we declare the same to be our last will and testament of March 5, 1960.

It is signed in the language any cool creale would understand. C'est magnifique — Seniors 1960!!!!

REVELATIONS IN THE annual report of the General Accounting Office are not calculated to win any additional votes for President Eisenhower's demands for a new $4.1 billion in foreign aid for the fiscal year 1961 program.

The GAO is highly critical of the handling of the foreign aid program, and has revealed some astonishing practices in connection with some aspects of it.

In Washington, a report by the General Accounting Office is not taken lightly. This is a "watch-dog" agency, established by the Congress, to keep a check on the administration of public programs and the spending of public funds. Unlike all other Government agencies, which are directly responsible to the President in the Executive Branch, GAO is an independent office that reports directly to, and is directly responsible to, the Congress. It is another of the checks and balances provided for in our government, and when GAO issues a critical report or suggests certain changes the results are usually beneficial to the taxpayers. While GAO cannot direct the President or the Executive agencies to take certain actions, its recommendations normally are enough to set things straight either through Administrative change or Congressional action. As a result, billions have been saved for the taxpayers by this office over the years.

In the new foreign aid report, the findings of this agency bear out the Congressional contentions of the past two years that the program has become in many areas unwieldy and is hap-hazardly administered. Regular readers of this Report will recall my mentioning that Congress last year demanded further information on the handling of the program and a tightening in its administration. When President Eisenhower refused, the Congress moved in quickly to lop off $1.4 billion in what it considered questionable proposed foreign aid expenditures.

THE NEW GAO report seems certain to add to the fire. It alleges that excessive arms—that is, arms in larger quantities than can be utilized by the recipients—have been sent from the U. S. to Italy, Turkey, Greece, Iran, Korea, Japan, Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia and Pakistan. Moreover, the charge is made that in some cases the military has used the highly-secret military aid program to get rid of surplus or obsolete U. S. military supplies and weapons, and that the effectiveness of such outdated articles is suspect. Comptroller General Joseph Campbell, who heads GAO, also warned that the excessive arms are building up forces the U. S. may not permanently wish to maintain, and that the countries involved cannot maintain without our continued heavy participation.

Campbell also made the point that "Lists of military equipment and supplies for recipient countries continues to be developed and used to support annual appropriation requests without sufficient knowledge of the real need of the countries. Material has been delivered in some instances in quantities that could not be effectively used or properly maintained by that country's forces."

The reports also was sharply critical of the Executive Branch for hiding behind "security" curtains to cover up mistakes in administration of the military foreign aid program and accused the administrators of providing U. S. tax funds to support military budgets in foreign nations without having "adequately controlled them to insure that the funds are used for the purpose for which they were given." You'll hear more on this when the foreign aid bill comes to the floor.

THE SENATE WING of the massive Capitol Building this week looks like a camping ground for slightly over-aged Boy Scouts.

That's because the U. S. Senators are cooking, eating, sleeping, shaving and otherwise trying to carry on the normal function of living in the Capitol Building during the current "around the clock" Senate sessions.

When any Senator rises to "suggest the absence of a quorum," the Senators must pile out of beds scattered throughout various rooms and halls in the Capitol Building, and sleepily pad into the Senate chamber to answer the roll call. A quorum constitutes one more than a majority of the 100 Senators, thus at least 51 Senators must show up to answer the quorum call and keep the Senate in session. That's why Senators are living like in-door Boy Scouts as they sleep on cots, folding beds, couches or whatever else is handy.

This can get pretty grim to the sleepy-eyed souls personally involved, but their dress at pre-dawn quorum calls as they slip into the chamber often proves amusing to the spectators in the visitor's gallery. Senator Stu Symington of Missouri made an early-morning roll call wearing a beatnik-type turtle-necked sweater under a well-cut suit coat; Senator Everett Dirksen of Illinois appeared with tousled hair on end and sporting canary-yellow house slippers; Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee blundered heavily into a firmly-anchored Senators desk while noddingly trying to knot his tie, and many of the Senators have sauntered into the public arena sans tie, sock and carrying suit coats dejectedly over their shoulders.

8TH BIRTHDAY PARTY

Cynthia Harrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Harrell, was honored on her 8th birthday Monday with a party given by her mother. Assisting the hostess was Cynthia's grandmother, Mrs. B. B. Ingham, Sr., and cousin, Nonie Conklin. A highlight of the birthday celebration was a telephone greeting from her brother, Roy Harrell, from Washington, D. C. where he is a student, and in the mail, from Sacks of Fifth Avenue, a fashion-perfect dress for her last Christmas doll, from brother Roy.

Guests included Jeanie Read, Elizabeth Knox, Brenda Bratton, Kathy Lynn Russell, Mitzi Friend, Gwen West, Gail Hutchison and Sally Janes.

Notes From The County Agent's Office

By Pete W. Jacoby

Powdery mildew, a fungus disease which attacks many flowering and ornamental plants, is normally present at this time of the year in the southern half of the state of Texas.

Home growers are advised to check their plantings for signs of the disease. The fungus appears as a white to grayish growth covering the surface of the plant parts, mainly the leaf surface. Dust the plants with 325-mesh sulfur at the first appearance of the disease or spray with wettable sulfur (1½ to 2 level tablespoons to 1 gallon water). Repeat the application if needed. Karathane used as a dust or spray may give better control but is probably more expensive. Karathane has an advantage of being less toxic to plants. Sulfur or Karathane are available in insecticide-fungicide combination sprays or dusts.

Some of the more commonly grown plants which should be watched for mildew are roses, violets, chrysanthemums, honeysuckle, phlox, zinnias, live oak, crepe myrtle, euonymus and hydrangea.

Unless the disease is controlled, the plants may lose their foliage and thus fail to make normal growth and production. If commercial preparations are applied, the recommendations of the manufacturer of the material should be followed in making the application. Keep pesticides in a dry, safe place away from children. The above information was furnished by Harlan E. Smith, Extension Plant Pathologist, of Texas A&M College.

House plants like other living things need moisture, air and food. Purpose of the soil is to hold the moisture and air and release the nutrients gradually as the plants grow.

Directions for mixing your own potting soils are given by A. F. DeWerth, head, Department of Floriculture and Landscape Architecture, Texas A&M College. Mix one-half coarse peat and one-half good garden soil.

The garden soil contains the plant food; peat facilitates drainage and lets air get to the roots, and increase the water holding capacity of the mixture.

This soil mixture should be suitable for most house plants such as geraniums, philodendron, ivies and begonias, says the specialist.

Plants such as succulents, cactus and sedums require a mixture with more sand to provide necessary drainage. One-third peat, one-third sharp sand and one-third garden soil makes a good mixture for these cactus type plants.

Prepared soils are available from local florists shops and garden suppliers for those who do not have the facilities for preparing potting soils at home.
