

This Is Artesia

Our friendliness as a town of good neighbors is well known. Let's not spoil that reputation by thoughtless behavior during Jubilee. These are red letter days for the Old Timers. A smile of welcome and a helping hand are luxuries we can all afford.

THOUSANDS THRILL TO GIANT PARADE

PLITHE AND GAY, they marched and rode in the Golden Jubilee kickoff parade—Old Timers and younger folk—to mark a rich moment in the history of Artesia and the Pecos Valley. The Jubilee spirit skyrocketed under a smiling sun and cheers echoed down Main St. as the units passed. Shown above, left, are mounted members of the Artesia Roping Club. On the right, the color guard from Artesia's own 967th AAA mobile automatic weapons battalion of the New Mexico National Guard. Just behind the color guard is the Artesia High School band. Rotary Club Float Is Top Winner; Lion Club Float Second

By RAY BLACK

Under sun-gay skies, the Golden Jubilee kick-off parade passed triumphantly through cheering streets this morning. Everything promised was there, plus unexpected bonus entries that delighted an estimated 15,000 persons lining the streets and peering down from upper floor windows and rooftops along Main St.

Gaiety was the watchword in the ranks of marchers, in the sparkling cars, in the bright-hued floats and atop prancing horses. As prelude for the whole Jubilee celebration, the parade's instant hit with the crowd augured well. It required exactly 30 minutes for the parade to pass the city hall, where City Engineer Doug Fowler, Judge Ellicott and others important in the day-to-day activity of Artesia had a vantage view. At 9:50, the siren-sounding phalanx of city and State Police cars passed the city hall steps and the big parade was on!

JUBILEE JAMBALAYA

The consensus estimate at the Chamber of Commerce was that 15,000 persons saw the kick-off parade. C of C Mgr. Scott said that crowds lined the streets and were looking out windows all along Main st. and for much of Second and Quay ave.

A hearing in Judge Ellicott's court on a disturbance case had to be temporarily postponed this forenoon. All the policemen were busy in connection with the parade and there was no one to bring the prisoner into court.

When it was discovered that two of the entries in the parade were exceptionally tall—the Lion's club hoop-skirted woman and the oil rig—all ropes across Main St. bearing the flags were tightened. Even so, a crew with lift poles (Continued on Page Three)

73-Year-Old Cow Hand Out to Win Calf Roping Run

Just a few days over his 73rd birthday, W. F. Carman of the J. L. Taylor ranches, aims to get himself a birthday present at the rodeo.

The long-time cowboy and cattleman, now looking after 300 head of Taylor cattle on a ranch 25 miles northwest of Artesia, has been practicing on his roping lately.

He'll be one of the entrants tonight in the Old Timers break-away roping event at the rodeo—a special event for riders over 60. There is no entry fee. Once a calf is roped, the rope is broken free at the saddle horn and the time recorded.

Carman hopes to win the first prize—a $30 pair of boots. Second prize is a $20 hat, third is a $10 hat and fourth a pair of levis.

The rodeo, scheduled for 7:30 p. m. for the next four nights, is a full scale, slam-bang riding-and-roping fiesta, with all the trimmings. Top amateur riders from all over the region will compete. Dramatic highlight of the whole (Continued on Page Three)

Woman's Club Candidate Is Named Winner

"She's a queen" someone said when hearing that Mrs. S. W. Gilbert was named Jubilee Queen. That expresses the way the Artesia Woman's Club members felt when they decided to sponsor her because of more than a half a century of service to the civic, cultural and church life of the town.

She helped to organize the Woman's Club a year before the city became incorporated. Still active in club and church work, her clear brown eyes sparkle today with interest in others as they did when she moved to Roswell as a young married woman in 1901. Coming here with her late husband two years later, the Gilberts found only one or two houses, and with him she proceeded to make life better for those who came after them.

He was a co-founder of the First National Bank and early president, a charter member of the Presbyterian Church and Rotary Club. Mrs. Gilbert is the only living charter member of the First Presbyterian. (Continued on Page Three)

Hope School Builder Voices Protest at Board Statement

Millor G. Losee, contractor for the Hope school now under construction, today protested the information given to newspapers and radio at the last Board of Education meeting regarding the board's dissatisfaction with building progress.

In a letter to Vernon Mills, superintendent of schools, and the Board of Education, dated yesterday, Losee wrote:

"I have read in today's papers, the Board of Education's unusual press release given to the Artesia papers at your last night's meeting, concerning the progress of the Hope school construction work for which I bid $52,548 last spring, approximately $7400 under the next highest complete bid.

"I wonder if the board is aware of some of the circumstances connected with the progress of this project. The instructions to bidders which accompanied the request for bids on the Hope school last March 31, stated that the board desired to occupy the new building by Sept. 1; but nowhere, that I have been able to find, was any mention made of any limitations prohibiting until the last week in May, the contractor from wrecking the old building which occupied a part of the area of the new building. A substantial additional area of the new building (Continued on Page Six)

Terry Jane Gray Is Rodeo Queen

Terry Jane Gray is the 1955 Rodeo Queen! Her victory was announced shortly after 3 p. m. today in the "penny a ballot" contest sponsored by Alpha Nu chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha.

A senior at Artesia High School, Terry Jane is 16 and a brown-eyed blonde. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Gray of Cottonwood. Her hobbies are swimming and horseback riding.

Allison Charged In Crash Deaths On Potash Road

CARLSBAD — Charges of negligent homicide have been filed against the driver of a truck involved in a crash that killed four.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Charles Feezer filed four counts alleging negligent homicide against Jesse Allison of Artesia, identified as the driver of a gasoline transport truck.

The truck and a bus carrying miners from the Potash Co. of America collided. Four miners were killed and 18 injured when wreckage burst into flames. No date was set for a hearing.

3 1/2 Billion Bushel Wheat Crop Seen

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture department today forecast this year's corn crop at 3,477,771,000 bushels and the wheat crop at 910,958,000 bushels.

The corn figure is 28,044,000 bushels more than 3,449,667,000 forecast by the department a month ago. It compares also with 2,964,639,000 produced last year and 3,080,115,000 for the ten-year 1944-53 average.

East Coast Battens Down To Meet Rushing Hurricane

HATTERAS, N. C. — Hurricane Connie swirled off the Carolina coast today, her 135-mile winds threatened another mighty blow at the area still licking the wounds of last year's disastrous Hazel.

The big storm was almost stationary this morning some 225 miles southeast of Wilmington, N. C. But the Weather Bureau reported the dangerous hurricane was expected to move north-northwest or north later today. This would bring the destructive winds ashore, probably early tonight some place between the port city and this Atlantic outpost on North Carolina's Outer Banks.

The entire Eastern Seaboard, remembering three 1954 hurricanes which killed more than 250 persons and caused upward of 1 1/4 billion dollars damage, girded for any eventuality and kept a watchful eye on Connie's progress.

Indications today were that Connie would hit not far from the point Hazel came to land last Oct. 15 to sweep northward through the heavily populated East coast to Canada. Most hurricanes blow themselves out shortly after they reach land. But after Hazel, no chances were being taken.

Towering waves and high tides already pounded the North Carolina shore and hard tropical showers pelted residents and vacationers moving to safety away from the beaches. Beaches took on a deserted look of winter.

Eagle Creek Bridge Repairs Are Sought

SANTA FE — A bridge repair project and five road jobs with mileage totaling around 48 miles were advertised by the State Highway department today for contract letting Aug. 26.

The work involved is in Valencia, McKinley, Chaves, Lea, San Juan, Rio Arriba, Guadalupe and Eddy counties.

The projects include work in Chaves and Eddy counties, on State Road 13 at Eagle Creek crossing in Chaves county and on State Road 83 at Eagle Creek crossing east of Hope, Eddy county, repairs to existing bridges, including erecting of piling and creosote treated timber substructure on abutment and piers, repair of bank protection and miscellaneous construction.

INGENUITY AND HUMOR contended for honors in the designing of the parade floats. First prize winner, shown at top, is the Rotary Club float, a creation of beauty and pathos. It features the Rotary International emblem and the motto, "50 Years of Service Above Self." The lad on crutches symbolizes Rotary's work in aiding crippled children. In the lower photo are the four candidates for Rodeo Queen, with the six-shooter cappistols they kept blasting away. Left to right, they are: Barbara Funk, Michelle Ruppert, Terry Jane Gray and Mary Ann Goodson. Seated behind them is Kay Ingram, former queen. (Advocate Photo)

C. L. Hefleys Feted On 50th Wedding Anniversary Date

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hefley come very close to being a Golden Jubilee couple, having celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last Sunday at their home on Second St. They do not claim to have been in Artesia during all of their married life, as they were married in 1905 at Laredo, Texas, and continued to live in Texas for a number of years.

Mrs. Hefley said that 17 happy years of the 50 have been spent in Artesia. Mr. Hefley has been in the shoe repair business ever since that time, but he has it on many Old Timers who only display high-topped, buttoned and laced shoes.

He has been in the shoe repair business for 40 years and worked on those laced and buttoned shoes that made women folks start to dress long before the women do today. There's quite a difference in stepping into a sandal and lacing up one of those high-topped shoes, or getting out the button book to struggle with buttons, he said.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hefley are active members of the First Baptist Church in Artesia. They have four sons, eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. The sons are Melton Hefley, Crosbyton, Tex.; J. C. Hefley of Artesia; Roy Hefley, Ft. Worth, Tex.; and Elbert Hefley of San Diego, Calif.

Many out of town friends and relatives sent gifts and flowers of congratulation Saturday and Sunday, too many to be mentioned, Mrs. Hefley said. Some came in for just a minute or so and others called on the phone. Between 75 and 100 came or sent gifts.

Miss Judy Wright was hostess for the guest book at their Golden Wedding Anniversary celebration to close friends and relatives Sunday.

Hostesses serving punch and cake were Miss Georgie Gayle Mulcock, Miss Betty Hefley, Miss Charlotte Britton and Mrs. Don Rogers.

Those signing the guest book were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, of Abilene, Tex., and Jean and Bud

Window Shopping on Main St. Looks Like Half Century Ago

Window shopping has taken on a new meaning. Windows on Main Street have taken on the look of half a century or more ago, as Old-Timer displays were added for the event today.

Among the most recent exhibits is a manikin in the window of the Style Shop, dressed in a period costume and hat, loaned by the children of Nora L. and Noel Johnson of Hope. The furniture belongs to Mrs. Louis Baker who operates a beauty parlor in the back of the dress shop.

Another 1900 parlor has come into being at the State Furniture Store on Main and Fifth. A close inspection from the inside of the

Hagerman News Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Stokops of Hoisington, Kansas, spent Saturday night and Sunday in Hagerman visiting Mrs. Edith West and the Donald and Robert West families.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Menoud and Mr. and Mrs. Crisman and family of Hagerman attended the annual family reunion held in Lubbock by the Dorman family, Saturday and Sunday. There were seventy-three present. Also present from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dorman and children of Dexter, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sims of Roswell. For the first time in over twenty-five years, the five girls and four boys of the Dorman family were all present at the reunion.

Mrs. Ray Smith and two children of Lubbock, Texas are visiting Mrs. Smith's aunt, Mrs. Jack Menoud, for a week.

Mrs. Dale West's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Burdens and sons, Ray Bob and Jerry Don of Blair, Oklahoma arrived Wednesday for a visit here. They left Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Welborne and daughters, Cindy and Lynn, have as house guests Dr. and Mrs. S. E. Curran and son, David, and daughter, Patricia of Sacramento, Calif. They arrived Monday, Aug. 8th, and will leave Wednesday for a trip into Old Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ackerman and family spent the week-end in Ruidoso.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lang and children of Hagerman went to visit Richard's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Casabonne, who have a ranch west of Hope. Dolores Lang remained for about a week's visit there, while the rest

Robert Painter To Get Degree

A new Testament major, Robert Painter of Artesia, is a candidate for the bachelor of divinity degree from Texas Christian University at the commencement exercises August 26.

Son of Francis E. Painter, he is a graduate of the Artesia High School.

John Nordman Has Birthday

John (Windy) Nordman was honored with a party on his tenth birthday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nordman 1212 Clayton last Saturday.

The party guests enjoyed games and refreshments. The hostess, Mrs. Nordman, served cake and fudge. Boat and bicycle favors added to the enjoyment of the afternoon.

Young guests attending the party were Mike Phillips, Olivia Goodman, Bill, John and Paul Nordman.

Lost Brooch Back After 26 Years

Finders are not always keepers. Mrs. E. B. Bullock recently had a cameo brooch returned that had been lost 26 years.

She and Mr. Bullock were attending a rodeo at Hope in 1929 when she lost the pin. James Briscoe's oldest daughter found the brooch. Since that time she has kept it in her handbag, as she traveled all over the country.

Now the daughter-in-law of Pete Blakeney, she visited Mrs. Bullock last week end and showed her the brooch. The owner identified it as her jewelry and Mrs. Blakeney of the family returned home Sunday.

Bible Schools Abound for Summer Kids

This has been a good summer for Bible schools in Artesia.

The Vacation Bible School superintendent and teachers of the First Methodist Church met together at the church Monday night at 7 o'clock to evaluate the Bible school. It was learned after reports came in and the value of the Bible school in interest and attendance was one of the best of recent years.

This statement made by a teacher in the Vacation Bible School of the First Methodist Church is also in keeping with reports of other churches and their enthusiastic response from the Vacation schools.

First Baptist Church has had continuous Vacation Bible Schools at various places and one in operation all the summer. The Church of Christ closed a vacation Bible school early in the summer, and it is reported that children of some other denominations attended. Church of the Nazarene has had a Bible summer school for the children also.

The First Methodist Church closed its Vacation Bible School the first week in this month, but not until the meeting of teachers and superintendent were the members able to evaluate its use to the town and church, the public relations officer said.

Those attending the evaluation meeting were the general superintendent, Mrs. Dwane Sams, the teachers and helpers.

They follow: Kindergarten department, Mrs. Les Mulcahy, Mrs. R. L. Williams, Mrs. John Heaton, Mrs. Vern Davis, Miss Judy Johnson, Lynda Lorang, Mildred Bunch, Mrs. Gray Thomas, Mrs. James Tyree, Mrs. Howard Miller, Mrs. Van Everett, Mrs. S. J. Gaspard, Mrs. Glen Farmer, Miss Sylvia Miller and Miss Terry Jane Gray.

Primary department, Mrs. C. H. Johns, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. F. A. Davis, Mrs. William Jeffers, Mrs. Sanders Terry, and Miss Marcell Raley, Miss Kay Schnaubert, Miss Penny Key and Miss Brenda Petty.

Junior Department: Mrs. Ray Fagan, Mrs. V. F. Lowery, Mrs. Walter Fisher, Joel Stout and Mrs. Ted Maschek, general workers and Doris Johnson, and Mrs. H. T. Yates, junior workers.

The women of the church helped with refreshments and with the Bible school in different departments. Many more assisted than can be mentioned, but they have been highly commended by the superintendent of the Bible school church and Sunday School officers.

RIVER COMMISSION MEETS GRAND JUNCTION, Colo.

Tom Bolack of Farmington, N. M., is expected to make a report at a meeting of the Upper Colorado River Commission Aug. 17-18 in Denver. He is chairman of the Upper Colorado River Grass Roots committee. The Denver meeting is to plan a program for next year affecting the upper Colorado River storage project bill.

Many Old Timers Visiting Friends During Jubilee

On the streets of old Artesia this morning were seen many of the local Old Timers with friends and relatives from out of town visiting them. Among those are the daughters of Jubilee queen candidate, Mrs. Nora B. Clayton.

Mrs. C. A. (Eula Bee) Stoldt, who was born here in 1904, but no one can believe it because she carries the tradition of her youthful mother, and her husband's mother, Mrs. Jennie Russell, of Oklahoma City and Mrs. H. V. Peoples, (daughter Pauline) of Odessa, Texas.

Mrs. Clayton was pushing the Jubilee queen winner, Mrs. S. W. Gilbert, a close race, and up until the last count today it was thought by the committee that she might be crowned the queen, as she was leading the first of the week.

New NMMI Chief Is Due Aug. 15

ROSWELL — Brig. Gen. John P. Willey, the recently appointed Commandant at the New Mexico Military Institute, will arrive in Roswell about August 15 to take up his duties. He comes to New Mexico from San Bernardino, Calif., where he has been in residence since his retirement from the U. S. Army.

General Willey brings to NMMI a distinguished and varied service career. He is a native of Virginia and his youth was spent in and around Hampton High School, he attended the Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Blacksburg.

Shoemaker Takes Father's Advice, Skips $64,000 Question on Quiz Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Shoemaker, Gino Prato, still accustomed to following his father's advice at the age of 55, has taken his $32,000 and given up on The $64,000 Question.

A cable from Papa Prato in Italy advised: "Stop where you are. That's enough this way. Regards, Daddy."

And that's what the Bronx cobbler, with the pleasing ways and amazing operatic lora, did last night.

Before a jammed studio and a vast television audience, Prato took a check for the $32,000 he had won so far. He translated the Prato in his studio remarks from his 92-year-old father this week, in the midst of a dilemma over a deluge of "do" and "don't" advice from well-wishers.

No one yet has tried for the grand prize on the CBS-TV giveaway show.

If Prato had taken a chance and lost, he would have received an expensive automobile as a consolation prize.

Under the policy of the show, the opera question Prato would Telling the TV audience about the excitement of the past week while trying to make up his mind, Prato said his biggest thrill was a visit from conductor Arturo Toscanini's daughter Mrs. Vladimir Herewitz, wife of the pianist.

When Mrs. Herewitz congratulated Prato on his knowledge of the opera, the singers, composers and conductors, he told her: "Tell your daddy, as one Italian fellow to another, I can tell his life from the day he was born to the time he put down his haten."

A week ago Prato made the $32,000 hurdle by answering a four-part question which included a Toscanini angle.

Eighth Annual Billy the Kid Rodeo Aug. 21

The Eighth Annual Billy The Kid Rodeo will be held on Sun. Aug. 21, at Three Rivers, N. M. This rodeo is sponsored by the Tularosa Lions Club and T. F. ...

A new division for boys from 16 to 18 years of age will be added for the first time this year. The only event in this division will be calf roping. Each entrant will rope two calves, and the winner will be named the Champion Youth Roper of New Mexico. The prize for this event will be a large silver cup. Merchandise prizes, donated by the merchants of Tularosa and Alamogordo, will be awarded for the first four places, in this and all other events.

Her home is decorated with paintings of Southwestern scenes that came from her palette.

But it was not done in leisure time. There was no such thing in her life. She and the late S. W. Gilbert adopted a daughter, who is now Mrs. Bill Felton, and they have two children, living near Mrs. Gilbert. She has lived for many years on 405 W. Richardson, where she has endeared herself to thousands.

FUN LIKE FIFTY years ago proved heaps of fun in 1955 for dancers at the square dance jamboree last night in Veterans Memorial building. Long gowns, like the one in the foreground, swished the floor, as gallants swung their ladies to the calls of experts from up and down the valley. Red Huggins and his band, well known to TV audiences, furnished the music. Kiwanis Club was sponsor. (Advocate Photo)

EXPERIENCED SQUARE DANCERS and folks who'd never tried before were on even terms at the jamboree. A good time was on the program and nobody minded if a dancer invented his or her own steps and movements. (Advocate Photo)

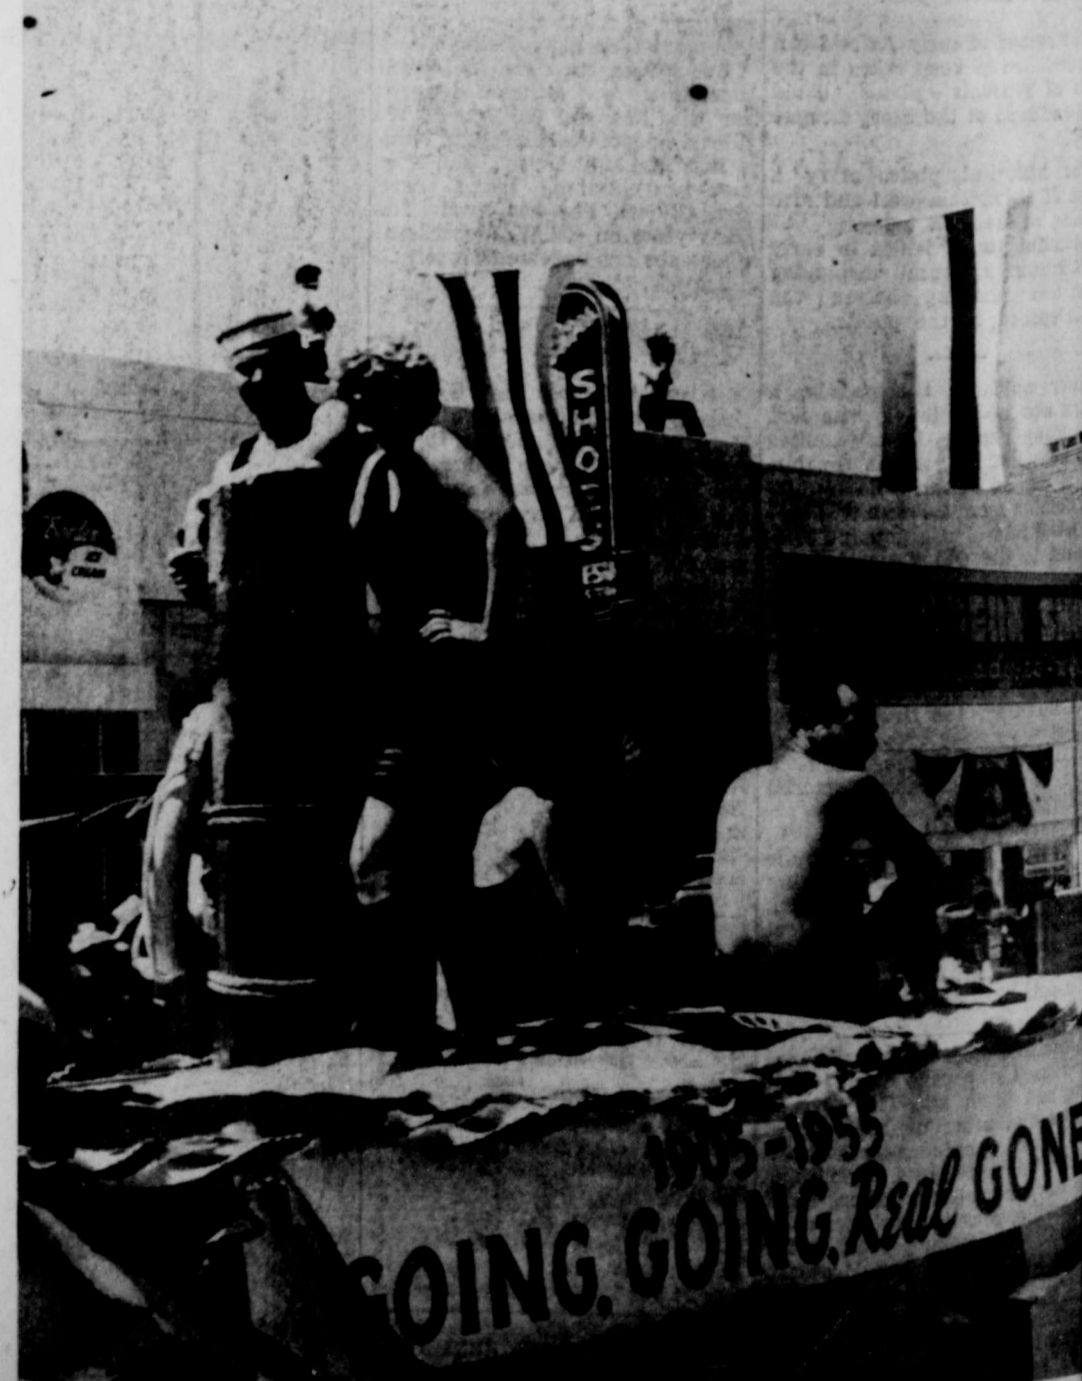

SECOND PRIZE in the float contest in the big historical parade was awarded this Lions Club entry. So tall is the lady with the parasol and hoop skirt that rope-strung flags across Main St. had to be raised so she could pass. (Advocate Photo)

THIS ORDER OF RAINBOW GIRLS float depicting steps in progress of the Artesia area's industries, as well as the styles of its young women, won first honorable mention. The float celebrates the area's oil and cotton industries as well as the pulchritude of its girls. (Advocate Photo)

SLOW BUT FAITHFUL, this oxen team was the prime mover of the plains trails and a delight to adults and children alike in today's parade. The team came here from Safford, Ariz., to take part in the Jubilee festivities. (Staff Photo)

GOING, GOING, REAL GONE is the story of the bathing suit in the last 50 years as laughingly portrayed by these models on the Epsilon Sigma Alpha float. The lady in the foreground might be Annette Kellerman — but she isn't. It's just that suit! (Advocate Photo)

Five American flags, their red, white and blue sheen fluttering in the vagrant breeze that riffled the street-strung colors overhead, moved down the thoroughfare, proudly borne by a color guard of the 967th AAA mobile automatic weapons battalion of the New Mexico National Guard.

Next, rooting and tootling for dear life, came the high-stepping Artesia High School band, playing a stirring march tune.

One of Artesia's gleaming red fire department trucks, with Fireman Dallas Golden at the wheel bore the giant key of "welcome to Artesia."

Dignitaries Ride
In convertibles, motors purring softly, rode dignitaries—State Rep. softly, rode dignitaries—State Senator Murray Morgan, of Alamogordo, representing Gov. John F. Simms; Rep. Fred Cole, Eddy county state representative, and Tom Brown, Sr., chairman of the Democratic state committee were in the lead car.

Other cars bore Mayor Bill Yeager, former mayors of Artesia, and visiting mayors and dignitaries from other towns and cities.

On curving horses between two of the convertibles rode Paul Frost, president of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce, in a derby, and Paul W. Scott, chamber manager, in a top hat.

The contestants for Jubilee Queen, seated on a decorated truck as if at a quilter party, while an organist made mock music, gave the crowd its first inkling of the historical pageantry to come.

Applause that was genuine tribute greeted the mounted Old Timers, a score of them, of whom three were elderly ladies. They rode with ease and assurance, naturally, since most of them have spent literally years of their lives in the saddle.

High-Wheel Bike
Applause of merriment greeted the antics of Frank Kindell, of Carlsbad, former Chamber of Commerce manager there, who clowned from atop an old-time high-wheeled bicycle.

Four lumbering spotted oxen drew Arrel Jernigan's covered wagon, with a spare ox tied to the tailboard. Jernigan's bullwhip cracked, matching the pop of cap pistols in the hands of small fry in cowboy regalia who whopped from the sidelines.

Too, there was the Diamond-A Chuck wagon, with riders leading pack horses in typical cattle round-up style. Model-T Fords chugged to keep pace.

On a festooned trailer bed rode more Old Timers, some of the ladies in enormous hats with ostrich plumes and wide-spread lace fans. More and more Old Timers appeared, now riding in autos. One thoughtful lady in an open car held a small black parasol against the sun's rays.

Scouts On Parade
A troop of Boy Scouts walked ahead of the mounted Artesia Roping Club, whose contingent included men and women riders, as well as a boy and a girl on ponies.

Shooting six-gun size cap pistols, the four lovely candidates for Rodeo Queen enlivened the next float, which was followed by the shetland pony-drawn miniature covered wagon lent by the Glover Packing Co., Roswell.

Thereafter were the floats, picturesque, humorous, impressive, and nostalgic as the fancy of their designers was bent. Outstanding were the Lion Club float, an amazonian lady in a purple hoop skirt; the Rotary Club float, a big Rotary emblem and the legend, "50 Years of Service Above Self," with a crippled child on crutches on the forefront of the float; the Epsilon Sigma Alpha float showing old and new style swimming suits; the Elks Club float, complete with a gal taking a bubble bath at one end and an old-style outhouse at the other.

TERRY JANE GRAY is this year's Rodeo Queen. Chosen by "penny ballot," she was announced as winner at 3 p. m. today in the contest sponsored by Alpha Nu chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha. Terry Jane is 16 and a senior at Artesia High School. She is a blonde with brown eyes.

Mobile School
The Park P-TA entry, showing a school teacher ringing a bell in a schoolroom of long ago and bearing the legend "Progress Through Education" The Rainbow Club float, depicting steps of progress in styles; The Music Civic League float, showing musical progress from organ to microphone; the Hermosa P-TA float, contrasting the little red school house with a modern school building.

The Scotch bagpiper who piped alongside the vehicles of the Billie & Bob's Old American Dining Room entry drew interest and applause. The operating oil rig, fourteen feet high, drew constant attention because the ropes bearing street flags had to be lifted to let it pass and everyone was breathless fearing the rope lifter might miss one.

could not be started due to the hazards to any new construction by these wrecking operations. I was not made aware of any such limitation until after the bidding, when I was advised by Mr. Lea, the school principal at Hope.

"During the acute cement shortage, we obtained, at a premium price, a substantial amount of cement which we were not allowed to use because it was of foreign make. We believe that the cement fully met the specifications and it was the board's obligation to test it at their expense, before rejecting it. This further delayed the progress of the work.

vannah, Ga., to Provincetown, Mass., was under hurricane alert. Rough seas were reported all along the area.

Crowded automobiles, piled high with belongings, moved away from the Carolina beaches last night and this morning. The Coast Guard at Ft. Macon, N. C., ordered the beaches evacuated at Atlantic Beach, Salter Path and Emerald Isle. Evacuation was ordered at Wrightsville Beach near Wilmington, and "advised" by authorities at Carolina Beach, to the south.

High water lapped sand dunes and beach-front homes long before the storm arrived. It was pounding waves that caused much of the damage to property during last year's storm.

All possible precautions have been taken to prevent loss of life and property.

Two men already have died indirectly as a result of Connie. Their Navy plane crashed at Norfolk, Va., as they sought to evacuate it to safety inland.

Air Force, Marine and Navy planes all along the Eastern Seaboard were put in hangars or flown inland to safety.

Navy ships put to sea to ride out the storm rather than be battered against docks. Small crafts moved by the thousands into streams and creeks. The super-carrier Forrestal, still unfinished at Newport News, Va., was made as secure as possible in her berth.

A hundred miles off Cape Cod, construction workers, labored through the night trying to secure a 10-million-dollar radar tower built at sea. A Coast Guard cutter stood by to take them off the towering structure.

Highway patrolmen stood by for emergency duty along the North Carolina coast.

Crawling forward yesterday and last night, Connie was stalled temporarily by a high pressure area which now has begun moving out.

The Coast Guard station at Ft. Macon, N. C., near Morehead City and Beaufort, early today advised residents of the small communities of Atlantic Beach, Salter Path and Emerald Isle to evacuate.

All along the seaboard the tides were abnormally high and waves dangerous near homes and protective sand dunes.

They Won't Be Popular

IT may not be good politics for the politicians to clean up the welfare rolls; take off the unnecessary employes; reduce the operating expenses and get the thing down to where it can be handled with the present income but it will be less popular to put more taxes on the average citizen.

Any proposals for additional income taxes won't be very popular with any of the citizens because of the extremely heavy taxes placed on them by the federal government. There is many an employee today unwilling to do any overtime work now because Uncle Sam would get more out of the extra pay than the individual doing the work.

Corporations within the state are having trouble to get ends to meet because their profits are now taxed up to 52 percent before it is touched by the stockholders. When we add more taxes onto this—there isn't going to be much inducement for folks to go into business in our state.

It may become a matter of whether it is taking care of more-welfare patients and run the corporations out of the state or reduce the cost or taking care of the welfare patients and keep the corporations which provide the taxes, the pay-rolls and the jobs for our people.

Gov. John Simms in his decision to call a special session of the legislature has suggested additional income taxes as the source to provide additional funds for welfare. He has suggested this be the elimination of some of the exemptions; additional levies on the corporations; or transfer of some of the 75 percent of the income tax funds that now go to the educational funds.

Certainly the educational group will be opposing the loss of any of their funds. We also believe that a good many of the legislators are going to demand plenty of proof there is real suffering before they will be willing to vote any additional taxes.

The tax bill has reached the point where most people feel we should have some reductions instead of further increases. The fact is, a good many are convinced the percentage of taxes being paid out of the average dollar earned is beyond all reason.

Several of the legislators have not only indicated they wanted the welfare rolls cleaned up; the expenses of operating the welfare department reduced to a minimum but they also want the state protected in those cases where individuals are able and capable of taking care of relatives to assume that obligation. They want protection for the state on property owned by those on the welfare rolls, also.

Since most of the members of the legislature have little to do with politics outside of seeking their own office they are not too much concerned about the plans of office holders to help obtain votes for themselves.

They have indicated in the past they are going to be very reluctant to vote additional taxes on the people and they also have openly declared they feel there is much that can be done to reduce the cost to the state of the operation of the welfare department as well as removing many from the welfare rolls not entitled to the help they are now receiving.

Every state in the union has had considerable trouble with the use of the welfare departments in their state to aid their political campaigns. A good many of the states have opened the welfare rolls to public inspection. New Mexico did just that at the sessions held in January.

If the attitude displayed at that time is shown in the special session being planned by Governor Simms there is every reason to believe that considerable more than mere political arguments will be necessary to sell the legislature on voting more taxes on the people to provide more welfare funds in our state.

PILGRIM ATTACKS HALT
SANTA FE—State police are keeping a watchful eye over Mount Cristo Rey near El Paso, Chief Joe Roach says. Roach said he has not received any more reports of bandits preying on pilgrims to the statue of Christ atop the mountain, but has instructed his six patrolmen in the Las Cruces district to keep a careful watch over the area.

Special Skills Join in Artesia Welding, Blacksmithing Company

A rich background of experience plus specialized skills characterizes the setup at the new Artesia Welding & Blacksmithing, 601 N. First St.

Now open for business at the former International truck location, the firm's specialties include: portable and shop welding and any type of blacksmithing. Field service is available to area farmers and to operations in the oil fields.

Shop foreman is George Williams, who spent 15 years as a blacksmith in the Pecos Valley and who has been in Artesia for five years. Added to previous experience elsewhere, Williams' experience at his trade amounts to 25 years. He has a wide acquaintance in the valley and invites his friends and former customers to drop in and see him at the new location.

The shop layout man is James M. Windham, son-in-law of Williams, who studied electrical engineering at Texas Tech. He spent three years in the oil fields as a bookkeeper. He lives at 901 S. Eleventh St. with his wife, Clara, and their year-old baby.

Welding specialist for Artesia Welding & Blacksmithing is Dallas McCasland, a native Artesian who was a welder in the navy. He worked in the oil fields several years as driller and tool dresser, as well as welder. He operates the firm's portable welding unit. He and his wife, Irene, live at 714 Clayton.

Bristow Pump Co. Equipped To Handle Any Pumping Job

Any pumping job from 5 gallons per minute to 5,000 gallons is a routine business assignment for the Bristow Pump Co., on N. First St.

"We can engineer pumping jobs of most any size," said N. H. (Slim) Bristow, who with his partner, Sam Coates, started the firm this year.

While their specialty is big U. S. pumps for deep wells used in irrigation, Bristow Pump Co. has U. S. pumps in all sizes. Also, for domestic use, the firm handles the small Jacuzzi jet pump.

At present the company has a number of used pumps that are in good condition and capable of giving long and satisfactory service, Bristow said. These pumps are priced to sell so the way can be cleared for other merchandise.

The company gives speedy day or night service on pumps and is equipped to service and repair all makes. The partners brought to their team-up plenty of experience in their field. Bristow started installing pumps as a business in 1951 and many of his installations have done efficient and economical service on farms up and down the Pecos Valley.

Among installations made in the recent past are those for W. M. Jackson and Joe Lee. Many similar ones have won admiration of area farmers.

The talking points of the Bristow Pump Co. for its U. S. Pumps are their sturdiness, adaptability, and ease of operation. Among smaller pumps, the Jacuzzi is noted for its readiness to do any kind of pumping at minimum cost of operation.

Southern Gas Has Pre-Cold Heater Drive

"There's only one thing you can do about the weather besides talk about it, and that's prepare for it," F. M. (Bill) McGinty, local manager for Southern Union Gas Company reminded Artesia residents.

McGinty pointed out that icy winds and winter storms are not too far away. Southern Union prepares during the summer for unusually severe winter weather, by storing surplus gas in its peak shaving plant in Albuquerque and in underground storage tanks near Artesia and Farmington.

With storage units and the ever-ready supply of gas for heating, homeowners are assured of a constant supply of gas, even in the coldest weather. Sudden storms or wind do not interfere with gas deliveries, since gas comes to you from protected underground pipelines steadily and unfailingly — on good days and bad — every day throughout the year.

McGinty urges local residents to prepare for the cold winter months now during Southern Union's gas heating campaign. There's the advantage of getting immediate installation on heating equipment between Aug. 15 and Sept. 23 and the additional advantage of paying nothing until Dec. 1.

When shopping for gas heating equipment, look for the American

It's Lawnmower Sharpening Time Now at Jack's Radiator Service

Of increasing importance at Jack's Radiator Exchange & Service, 311 S. First St., is the firm's lawnmower and blade sharpening service.

Equipped with a large automatic lawnmower and blade sharpening machine, the shop is able to put a keen edge on blades from 5 to 39 inches in length. With lawns growing lushly from midsummer sun and recent rains, the machine has had plenty to do keeping lawnmowers in fine cutting trim.

Owner Jack Staggs recently took over the entire building at the S. First St. address, which previously had been shared with a garage. There, in addition to the sharpening work and repair of automobile radiators a growing business is done in the manufacture of radiators.

Staggs manufacturer about 200 radiators a year and sells them locally to automobile dealers and to operators of truck and automotive fleets.

"The radiator too often is the most neglected part of a truck or automobile," Staggs contends. "Naturally they will give trouble and need repair. Lots of times a new core will restore the radiator, saving the cost of replacement involving when an entire new radiator is installed."

Staggs has been in the radiator repair and service business five years.

New Children's Wear Shop Now Open on Quay

A new business establishment has opened in Artesia — Marie's Children's Shop in the 300 block W. Quay. A formal opening to which the public will be invited will be announced soon.

The shop is operated by Mrs. Marie Holt, whose father was at one time a businessman in Roswell and whose mother operates a children's shop in Lovington. Thus Mrs. Holt comes from a business family and knows the ins-and-outs of serving the public to everyone's satisfaction.

A resident of New Mexico for 20 years, she moved here from Tatum, N. M., with her two children, one of school and the other of kindergarten age. They are making their home at 1202 Merchant. She is a member of the Methodist Church.

Two employees will assist with operation of the shop, which will stock a liberal variety of children's needs.
