Solon Says Tax Cut Hope Is Brighter

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., said today a brighter-looking economy is boosting chances of an early tax cut "because the deficit position has improved."

Boggs, who met newsmen after President Kennedy's weekly breakfast with Democratic congressional leaders, thus became the first prominent member of his party in Washington to suggest flatly that next year's budget deficit will be smaller than the $11.9 billion Kennedy forecast in January.

Many have been guessing that the deficit for the 1964 fiscal year, which begins July 1, will be even larger than the January prediction.

Newsmen asked the Democratic congressional chiefs how they feel about a report that apparent improvement in the economy is likely to stall action on Kennedy's plan for a three-year tax cut of $10.3 billion by making the need for a spending stimulant less urgent.

This increases the prospects for passing a tax cut bill, Boggs replied, "because the deficit position has improved."

Many congressional conservatives have expressed reluctance to vote for the biggest tax cut in history when the federal budget is deeply in the red.

Boggs did not indicate the degree to which the prospective deficit, in his view, has been reduced.

House peaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., standing beside Boggs, didn't go into the deficit prospects but declared, "I have every confidence a tax bill will be passed this year."

Boggs reported that the House Ways and Means Committee, now going over the tax bill line by line in executive sessions, will complete its work on the measure within 30 days. The bill is not expected to reach the House floor until late May or June.

A NEW LOOK FOR THE BLACK AND GOLD—SHS band director McKeir Montgomery and school board president W. J. Schiebel inspect the sample uniform submitted by the Fruhauf Co., successful low bidders on 130 band uniforms, five twirlers uniforms and one drum major uniform. The contract, awarded at a called luncheon meeting at Stanfield school Monday, calls for the uniforms to cost $86.76 each, the twirlers, $92.56; and the drum major uniform, $117.20 for a total of $9,256. It is hoped delivery can be made by Sept. 1. When the gold lame overlay is removed a concert-style tuxedo is revealed.

Filibuster To No Avail

By JERRY PILLARD

AUSTIN (AP) — Senators approved on voice vote today a University of Houston bill that previously sparked a Senate filibuster.

The verbal approval of the Senate measure came after senators agreed to the debate 21-8.

In two filibuster actions Sen. W. F. Moore, Bryan, claimed that the bill would allow state aid to be used for the graduate school at the Houston institution. When the legislature was asked to make the University of Houston a state, supported school, Moore said, the legislators were told that no state money was needed for the graduate school.

A similar House bill, was tentatively approved by the House on Monday amid estimates that it would eventually cost the state $4 million.

Since each house passed its own version of the University of Houston bill, the issue still must be finally decided by one house or the other, or by a conference committee.

Postponed business before the House today is proposed constitutional amendment by Rep. V. E. Berry of San Antonio to lower the minimum voting age from 21 to 18 years.

Next up in the Senate, where it failed to win consideration Monday, was a proposed constitutional amendment for the state make direct payments to needy persons 65 and older for medical expenses.

When Berry's proposal to lower the voting age was first acted upon by the House, it won by a scant 76-70 majority. To be placed on the general election ballot, the amendment must command at least 100 votes in the House.

Debate on the needy aged payments was put off Monday when Sen. Doyle Hardeman of San Angelo delivered a lengthy speech against published reports about his proposal to revise Texas criminal laws.

Sen. W. T. Moore of Bryan, author of the needy aged amendment, fired a counterattack this week to kill the proposal. He disavowed the measure after it was amended to require that federal standards be used in setting up the payment plan.

The Senate passed a bill to let the State Board of Control and Special School Board operate a school for the mentally retarded in West Texas.

Hardeman's speech and later filibustering also put off a Senate State Affairs Committee hearing on a House passed $31 million tax bill.

Moore filibustered in the Senate for two hours Monday afternoon against a bill to repeal a law requiring out-of-state insurance companies to pay taxes on premiums of their Texas business in order to get permits to operate in the state. The vote passed on a voice vote later in the afternoon.

Representatives gave tentative approval to a number of measures but failed at a midnight recess session to consider a proposed constitutional amendment to lower the voting age from 21 to 18.

Rep. Gene Hendryx of Alpine said the monument "would be a disgrace to every Texas veteran who served during wars in defense of Texas and the nation."

He said the 49th has seen no combat or overseas service and only the battle of the canteens at Ft. Polk.

The 49th was recalled to active duty in 1941 during the Berlin crisis and stationed at Ft. Polk, La.

Request to subcommittees were proposals to enlarge the State Board of Education to 23 members and give the governor more budgetary power.

Rep. Bob Bass of DeKalb, author of the education board proposal, said it also would allow each board member to name a representative to the state textbook committee. The textbook committee now has 15 members appointed by the board.

L. P. Sturgeon, representing the Texas State Teachers Association, opposed the bill, describing it as controversial and an outgrowth of the textbook committee.

The House Elections Committee sent to subcommittee proposals by Republican Rep. Dick Morgan of Dallas to substitute a "check" system for voting instead of erasing on unwanted candidates, and to eliminate party columns on ballots.

Hearings On Steel Prices Begin Today

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress opens hearings today on steel prices, and with the ink still wet on some new prices.

The atmosphere is far from the stormy, dramatic days of the administration-industry battle of a year ago.

The hearings, conducted by the Senate-House Economic Committee with bipartisan approval, promise at the outset, at least, to be more technical than dramatic.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., join committee chairman, said the hearings will be "impartial and factual." He said the committee is trying "to lay a ground work of fact and detail on which all could agree so that the opinions, results, and recommendations would so far as possible reflect an informed view of the problem."

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis of Missouri, senior Republican House member on the group, applauded Douglas' plan for the hearings. Curtis said such a system should have been used last year in place of Kennedy's public denunciations of the price rises which finally were revoked under heavy administration pressure.

On the eve of the hearings' opening, some steel firms were lowering or cancelling some of the selective price increases, seemingly to stay in line with the market.

Today's testimony, by Labor Department specialists, was assigned the noninflammatory title, "Labor Costs per Unit of Output and Related Data."

Douglas said the first six days of hearings will be confined to testimony by technical personnel. The committee then will decide on further sessions, presumably with policy makers.

Representatives of the United Steel Workers and the American Iron and Steel Institute were invited to send observers and promised a chance to comment day by day on the technical testimony.

At a question and answer session with the American Society of Newspaper Editors Friday, Kennedy gave the steel industry credit for "some restraint" in the new wave of price increases and expressed the hope steel users and union members would help hold the line.

The steelworkers' contract is reopenable for wage negotiations at the beginning of May.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., a member of the Economic Committee, said in a statement prepared for the opening of the hearings that "our job is to enable the consumer to make an informed judgment on steel prices."

He urged that the committee adhere to this purpose and not let the hearings be used as a forum "to make the steel companies conform to our ideas of what steel prices should be."

Philippines Plan Changed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved legislation today intended to prevent a Washington lawyer from collecting big fees under a Philippine war claims law he helped lobby to passage.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, told newsmen the committee approved a measure directing a lump sum payment to the Philippine government of the $73 million Congress voted last year for World War II damage claims, instead of to individual claimants.

The move for the bill grew out of the committee's disclosure last Thursday that lobbyist John A. O'Donnell, chief promoter of the act, dispensed over $9,000 in 1960 campaign contributions to "sympathetic" Congress members.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said O'Connell and a Filipino associate stood to receive 5 per cent of some individual claims.

Fulbright, the committee chairman, estimated O'Donnell would collect at least $150,000 and might receive $300,000 more if he was compensated for some $6 million in claims filed by Philippine sugar mills which he represents.

Church told reporters the Senate Appropriations Committee would be asked to include the amendment in a pending supplemental appropriations bi't already passed by the House with a view to speeding action.

Erhard Gets Party's Bid

BONN, Germany (AP)—Representatives in Parliament of Chancellor Adenauer's Christian Democratic party today named Minister of Economics Ludwig Erhard as their candidate to take over the chancellorship when Adenauer retires.

Erhard got 159 votes. There were 47 cast against him and 19 abstentions.

Adenauer is expected to resign in the fall. Then President Heinrich Luebke would send Erhard's name to the Bundestag, which chooses the chancellor.

It was a bitter blow for the 87-year-old grand old man of West German politics, who had fought Erhard's designation almost to the end. Adenauer believed the economics minister lacked the political skill needed in a chancellor.

The Christian Democrats are the leading party in the Bundestag but they do not have a majority. Erhard is expected to get the votes of the Free Democrats, which would give him the job.

Erhard 66, is credited with be for West Germany's economic revival from the ravages of World War II.

Heavier Fighting In Prospect For Laos

By ANTOINE YARED

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Heavier fighting appeared in prospect for Laos today as rightist Gen. Phoumi Nosavan threatened to send his troops into action if the pro-Communist Pathet Lao completes its conquest of the Plaine des Jarres.

The Pathet Lao is expected to press ahead with its drive to force the neutralist troops of Gen. Kong Le out of northern Laos. Gen. Phoumi's threat promised a resumption of the all-out civil war that ended when the rightist-neutralist-Pathet Lao coalition government was set up by the 1962 Geneva agreements.

There was a shaky truce today on the strategic Plaine. The mountainous northeast of Vientiane, where the Pathet Lao has driven Kong Le's neutralist forces from key positions.

Observers and officials kept an eye cocked to see what the United States would do. Officials in Washington said additional units of the 7th Fleet would be sent into the Gulf of Siam area as a precaution. High U.S. authorities also said there was a possibility U.S. troops might return to neighboring Thailand.

U.S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman conferred in Paris with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and then had a session the Pathet Lao attacks were outrageous. He charged that Communist North Viet Nam had ordered the attacks on the neutralists.

Harriman reaffirmed full U.S. support for the coalition government headed by neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma.

However, Gen. Phoumi, a deputy premier in the government, said if the Pathet Lao takes over the Plaine, "this means the end of the coalition government and therefore we will be obliged to intervene."

Phoumi said he had dispatched reinforcements to the area, but both he and Kong Le denied Pathet Lao charges that rightist troops had already joined the neutralists on the Plaine itself.

He said his men hold positions on the hills where they are supported by Meo tribesmen. Phoumi's army reportedly numbers about 60,000 men. During the civil war it was unable to stop the Pathet Lao although it had American military advisers and large quantities of U.S. supplies.

Prince Souvanna Phouma conferred with Kong Le, who flew in from his new headquarters at Muong Phan, seven miles west of the Plaine des Jarres. The neutralists are trying to regroup there.

The premier said both Kong Le and the Pathet Lao headed by his half-brother Prince Souphanouvong, had agreed to continue the truce.

Gen. Phoumi said he had agreed to have a truce team of the International Control Commission stationed at Kong Le's new headquarters.

Informed sources said Souphanouvong also agreed to the presence of an ICC team with the neutralists but refused to allow one at his own headquarters at Khang Khay. The commission was set up under the Geneva agreements to supervise the armistice in Laos but its movements must be approved by all three factions in the coalition government. The commission's members are India, Canada and Poland.

Park Funds Given Boost

AUSTIN (AP)—The Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee approved a proposal today which would be the first step in pumping more money into Texas parks system.

The proposal sponsored by Sen. Criss Cole of Houston, would permit the Legislature to levy an additional motor vehicle registration fee up to $1 for administering state parks.

The measure still must receive 21 Senate votes and 100 House votes before going to the people for action.

Pair Held In Auto Theft

Two AWOL soldiers from Ft. Sill, Okla. were being held in county jail this morning on a charge of car theft.

The car, a 1954 Dodge owned by E. E. Hamilton of Fisk, Tex., was reported stolen from the north west corner of the square at 1:15 p.m. Monday. Hamilton, who is employed by Snyder Lumber Co., returned from lunch to find the car gone.

Snyder city police immediately broadcast the stolen car report. Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Mercer of Post, who had heard of car from Post to near the Scurry County line, monitored the broadcast.

Mercer told Snyder officers he had no more than turned around to go back to Post when the stolen car passed him. Mercer took up the pursuit with Snyder officers and Deputy N. Morris.

Snyder police officers retrieved the car in Snyder, apparently undamaged, when they went to Post to pick up the suspects.

Bond was set at $1,000 each on the car theft charge. Neither had posted bond as of this morning.

Britain, U. S. In Effort To Revive Test Ban Interest

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American and British ambassadors plan to see Premier Khrushchev Wednesday in an effort to revive the Soviet Union's flagging interest in a nuclear test ban.

There was speculation today that this could eventually lead to a higher level meeting at the summit or at foreign ministers level — which might deal with other East-West issues, too.

U.S. sources said it was premature to predict that such a meeting will take place. Washington officials feel the time is ripe, however, it was understood, that President Kennedy expected considerable doubt on the possibility.

The British reportedly are more enthusiastic than the Americans about a possible high level meeting. Prime Minister MacMillan has been under attack at home by both the British groups and is also facing national elections.

Washington and London agree on the need for getting the Soviet Union to join in a treaty to outlaw nuclear testing — the sooner the better, they say, in order to prevent a spread of atomic weapons to nations which don't have them now.

North Texas Region Lashed By Punishing Thunderstorms

By The Associated Press

At least one tornado, pounding hail and briefly torrential rains clubbed parts of North Texas Monday evening and punishing thunderstorms prowled from Central to East Texas through the night.

The twister tore the roofs off a dozen grain storage tanks at Frisco, a North Texas village of 1,200 people. State police placed the loss at $150,000 to $200,000. There were no injuries.

A tornado appeared between Frisco and McKinney in Collin County soon after the damaging winds knifed across the west side of Frisco, the Department of Public Safety reported. It disappeared without word of further destruction.

Mrs. Henry Francis gathered her four children into a central hallway as she heard hail stones start battering their home at Frisco.

"It wasn't until we went outside later," Mrs. Francis related, "that we found the roof had been blown off from over us."

The storm also uncoofed a store owned by her husband and water up to two feet deep covered part of the floor.

"The wind would blow one way and then another," said Woodrow Witt, 44, a rural mail carrier at Frisco, "so it wasn't a straight wind, but I don't believe the tornado was on the ground."

Power and telephone lines snapped in Frisco, leaving much of the town in darkness and without electricity to pump water for hours.

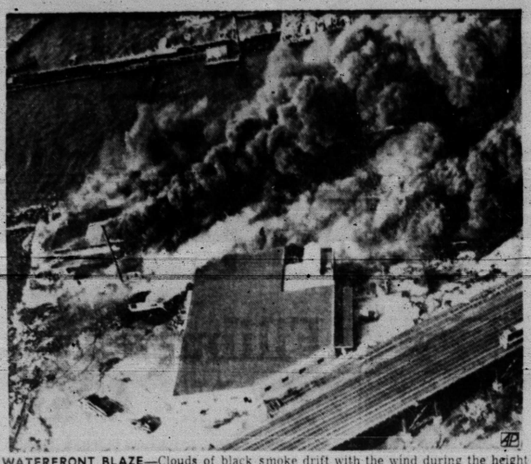

In Dallas a lusty thunderstorm [illegible] after [illegible] damaged a house in the southeast part of the city. Hail the size of marbles pelted some sections. One section of Dallas measured .71 inch of rain.

Through the night and well into Tuesday morning a succession of thunder-showers moved eastward across North and Central Texas in both solid and broken lines.

The turbulent weather was stirred up by a weak cool front surging from north to south and encountering big masses of warm, moist air.

Forecasts called for at least partly cloudy skies over the state through Wednesday but shower activity was expected to taper off. Lower temperatures were due to spread into the east and south central sections overnight, and the Weather Bureau said it would warm, a bit in the north central and northwest areas Wednesday.

Temperatures [illegible] Tuesday [illegible] Front, recorded a high of 66.

Young Jordan King Vows He Will Hold Throne For Life

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Vowing to defend his throne with his life, Jordan's young King Hussein says he will never step aside to ease the way for his country's entry into a new United Arab Republic.

"I will carry on my heritage as long as I live," the 27-year-old monarch said in a broadcast Monday night. "I am afraid of no one in this world except God. I will continue my way as a soldier."

Although he made no direct reference to the pro-Nasser riots Saturday which resulted in strict curfews and a reshuffling of his Cabinet, the king warned his people against "agents, troublemakers and false patriots."

Hussein said he would not stand in the way of Arab unity. But he suggested that Jordan's monarchy need not step aside for Jordan to join a union of Arab states.

About 2,000 students rioted in Jerusalem Saturday demanding Hussein's ouster and union of the Kingdom with Syria, Iraq and Egypt in President Gamal Abdel Nasser's projected United Arab Republic. Four persons were reported killed and about 30 wounded. An estimated 80 to 90 persons were arrested for rioting or breaking the curfew.

With his Parliament dissolved, his great-uncle installed as premier and curfews imposed in Jerusalem and other trouble spots, Hussein appeared to have beaten off the latest pro-Nasser attempt on his throne.

Amman, the capital, was under military surveillance, but it remained open with business as usual.

In the Jordanian sector of Jerusalem, which resulted in strict walls were shut. Government buildings and the radio broadcasting station were heavily guarded by Bedouin troops brought in from desert camps.

Military roadblocks closed off the Holy City and other communities west of the Jordan River from the desert highlands. Only foreigners and officials were let through. The holy places were almost empty.

Military units patrolled Jerusalem, Nablus, Jenin and Tulkarem to prevent new riots.

In Damascus, a Syrian spokesman said Syria, Iraq and Egypt are conferring about a joint stand against Israeli troops he said were massing along Jordan's frontier. He said the three nations would not stand by if Israel attempted to intervene in Jordan.

Israeli had denied charges that it was massing troops to take advantage of Jordan's internal troubles.

Champlin Oil's Earnings Are Up

FORT WORTH (AP)—Champlin Oil & Refining Co. announced earnings for the quarter ended March 31 at $2,403,490, equal to 55 cents a share.

Earl Baldridge, board chairman, told stockholders Monday that this figure compared with $2,963,153 or 68 cents, in the 1962 quarter.

This was an increase of 16.5 per cent, he said, despite the fact earnings were adversely affected by a slight decline in crude oil and gas sales.

Directors declared the regular dividend of 75 cents a share on preferred stock payable June 1 to holders of record May 15.

Postcard Arrives After Nine Years

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Carl J. Olson went to a neighbor's home in suburban Lincolnwood Monday to thank him for his postcard mailed while vacationing in Colorado Springs, Colo.

"He looked at me kind of funny," said Mrs. Olson. "He said he hadn't been there in nine years."

Mr. Olson and the neighbor, Elton Charleson, looked at the card again. The card, which arrived Moday, was postmarked July 4, 1954.

Goldwater Surge Seen In Far West

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A surge for Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination appears to be building in the Far West.

Western governors here for their annual conference are divided on his chances of capturing their bloc of convention votes. But Goldwater sentiment is far more pronounced than declared support for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Goldwater, who has announced for re-election next year, has said he isn't seeking the presidential nomination. Rockefeller hasn't announced for it. Both, however, are regarded as the leading potential contenders.

One evident reason for Goldwater's strength in the West is that he has been getting around the area, speaking engagements. Few Western voters have had a chance to get a look at Rockefeller. He also has discouraged open activity in his behalf in California.

Republican Gov. John A. Love of Colorado raised another point at a news conference Monday.

In answer to questions, Love said "recent occurrences" have made Rockefeller less acceptable as a nominee. He said the New York liquor license investigation has hurt Rockefeller to some extent. He declined direct comment on public reaction to Rockefeller's possible remarriage.

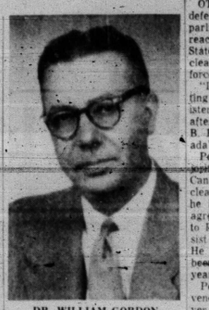

Love said Colorado, which he described as conservative, leans toward Goldwater but that either man could carry the state. He also said Rockefeller is acceptable to him personally.

A Goldwater partisan, Gov. Paul Fannin of Arizona, said the senator for could carry the South and most Western states, including California.

Democratic Govs. Albert D. Rosellini of Washington and Wilbur A. Egan of Alaska said Rockefeller has a good chance to carry their states. Along with Democrat Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada, they predicted, however, that President Kennedy would be the overwhelming choice for a second term.

Nutrition Topic Of Program Here

A special program on foods and nutrition has been scheduled here for Thursday by the Food and Nutrition Program Building Committee and the Scurry County Heart Council.

DR. WILLIAM GORDON

The session will be held from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church.

Speakers will be Dr. William Gordon, noted heart specialist, and Miss Ceo Arnette, Senior Nutrition Consultant with the State Health Department.

Dr. Gordon is author of the book, "What Is Heart Disease" and numerous articles and papers in the medical and non-medical field. He is active as a member of the Research Committee, Texas Heart Association, and has been appointed by the Surgeon General of the United States to the Advisory Committee of the Heart Disease Control Program.

Dr. Gordon's topic will be "Food Facts and Fallacies."

Miss Arnette, a native of East Texas and a former college teacher in Florida and has served as extension nutritionist for the State of Florida. She also worked with the Spies Nutrition Clinic in Birmingham, Ala., before coming to Texas to take the post with the State Health Department.

Her topic will be "Nutrition for Pre - School Children."

There will be no admission charged for the program.

Estes Still In Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Billie Sol Estes will spend about two more days here "just relaxing," a Negro attorney friend of his said, but he probably plans no more speeches.

Fred Gray, the attorney, declined to say where the once wealthy Texas financier is staying.

A speech by the Pecos, Tex., agriculture financier at a Negro church drew sharp criticism from a white Montgomery minister Monday.

The speech was called "unwarranted and without excuse" by Minister LeRoy Bevins, pastor of the Highland Avenue Church of Christ.

In an address at the Holt Street Church of Christ Sunday night, Estes called segregation un - Christian and un-American.

The financier recently was convicted of mail fraud and conspiracy in Texas and federal courts and was sentenced to 25 years in prison.

Bevins said he did not "wish to sit in judgment on Estes" regarding his convictions. But, the minister said, "We do deplore him coming to Montgomery and lending his support to an already serious problem."

Plea Of Guilty Is Received By Court

A plea of guilty was received by mail today by the county court, Melvin Crowder, presently of California, pleaded guilty to a worthless check charge filed in January, 1960. He paid a fine of $10 plus costs of $26.35.

The check had been given to the Howard Grocery in Ira.

Bomb Report In Dallas Is Hoax

DALLAS (AP) — "There is a bomb in Temple Emanuel," a youthful sounding man's voice advised police dispatcher J. E. Faulkner by telephone Monday night.

"If you don't want a bunch of dead people, you'd better send someone out there."

Six squad cars hustled to the Jewish church in North Dallas. Officers found six swastikas printed in red on the building but no bomb.

New Canadian Minister To Move Quickly

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's new defense minister expects to skirt parliamentary opposition and reach agreement with the United States in about a month on nuclear weapons for Canadian forces.

"I don't see any difficulty in getting this resolved," Defense Minister Paul Hellyer said Monday after liberal party leader Lester B. Pearson was sworn in as Canada's 14th prime minister.

Pearson is not assured of a majority in Parliament to approve Canadian acceptance of U.S. nuclear weapons. But Hellyer said he believes such a U.S.-Canadian agreement will not be submitted to Parliament because it will consist only of an exchange of notes. He said a draft agreement has been in existence for about two years.

Pearson announced he will convene Parliament May 16, and Hellyer said he expects to see U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that day or soon after.

Canada's refusal to accept nuclear warheads for its U.S.-supplied Bomarc missiles at home and its air force in Europe helped bring down the government of Conservative Prime Minister John Diefenbaker. The U.S. State Department accused Diefenbaker of backing down on a commitment, and Pearson repeated the charge on the campaign trail.

Pearson's Liberals won 130 of the 265 seats in Parliament in the April 8 election, three short of a majority. They have a pledge of support from the small Social Credit party, but not on nuclear defense issues.

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The Lafayette joined the fleet today as America's 28th operational nuclear submarine, and the first of a class designed to fire a 2,500-mile Polaris missile.

Vice Adm. Charles D. Griffin warned at the commissioning ceremony that the Soviet Union "is finally becoming keenly aware of the predominantly maritime nature of the global geography."

As the ceremonies were held at General Dynamics' Electric Boat Division yards, the Daniel Webster, another submarine of the same class, was nearby, awaiting launching on Saturday.

The commissioning comes only 13 days after the nuclear attack submarine Thresher was lost at sea with 129 aboard.

The 425-foot-long, 7,000-ton Lafayette is the Navy's longest and heaviest Polaris-firing submarine.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a habit that is slowly driving me crazy. He always smells his food before tasting it. No matter where we are he gets his nose down in the plate and starts to sniff. We can be eating at home, dining out or be guests in someone's home. It makes no difference. Our children have started to pick up the habit. I'm a very good cook and when I ask him why he does this, he just laughs. Any suggestions?

AGGRAVATED

DEAR AGGRAVATED: The habit probably originated years before your husband ever met you, and is no reflection on your cooking. It must not be a very pretty sight, but the only way you'll ever put a stop to it is to ask him please to cut it out, because it irritates you.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I can't find the answer to my problem anywhere else, so please don't disappoint me. Is there any special way a bow-legged girl can dress to make her legs more attractive? I am not cursing my bow-legs because I am thankful that I have any at all. Nevertheless, I am 18 and am very bow-legged. There are fashions for tall girls, stout girls and short girls. But I have yet to see anything for bow-legged girls. Help!

BOW-LEGGED

DEAR BOW: Don't attempt to make your legs MORE attractive, make them LESS conspicuous. Wear only flesh - colored hose — NO SEAMS. Wear your skirts as long as possible without defying fashion. Avoid tricky shoes. They draw attention to your feet. And, by the way, too few 18-year - old girls express "thankfulness" for having legs at all, which makes you "special" in the department that counts.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: The girl signed "Fed Up" could have been me two years ago. I, too, was 16, and fed up with home, so I quit school, ran away and got married. My marriage has lasted two years and I have a baby boy. I will make this marriage last forever because I won't hurt this man on account of my foolish mistake. What is two more years of staying home and finishing school compared to 60 years of marriage with someone you don't love? I've hurt no one but myself. I hope my experience will help someone else who considers marrying just to get out of the house. Running away is the surest way to get caught.

Trial Ordered For Curry

EASTLAND, Tex. (AP)—Judge Turner Collie ordered today that Nathan Curry, 17, go to trial June 3 in Eastland on charges of murdering Mrs. Florence Hussey, a middle-aged church secretary at Cisco.

Judge Collie earlier this month refused to change the site of the trial after a lengthy hearing. The youth's defense claimed he could not receive a fair trial in Eastland.

Curry was 16 when Mrs. Hussey was found stabbed and beaten in her home in June 1961.

Curry was held in the Gatesville Training School for boys until Jan. 26 this year, when he was ordered released by Judge C. V. Milburn of Odessa.

He was formally charged with murder two days after his release.

Under Texas law, persons under 17 cannot be tried, but can be tried when they reach 17 for an offense committed earlier.

Curry has been free under bond.

Dr. Dillaha Speaks To 20th Century

The Twentieth Century Study Club met recently at the Martha Ann Woman's Club with 12 members present.

Mrs. John Hamblen, president presided at a short business meeting.

Mrs. T. J. McKinnon introduced Dr. Carl Dillaha who gave an interesting program on the progress of cancer research. He stated that 1962 was the 25th anniversary of the Cancer National Education and Fund Raising Drive. Impressive progress has been made in that only a few years ago physicians were saving one out of five cancer patients, while now it is one in three. With early diagnosis, one half of cancer cases may be saved. It seems no doubt that cigarette smoking is the chief cause of lung cancer.

Dr. Dillaha feels that early detection is most important and that in the near future there will be a breakthrough into the causes and control. Following the talk, Dr. Dillaha joined the group in an informal question and answer discussion.

Members present were Mmes. Chas. Noble, Hostess, Dale Clemmer, Bob Dupree, J. N. Dunn, John Hamblen, G. W. Hicks, L. T. Huckabee, Tom McKinnon, D. C. Shaeffer, Joe Strayhorn, Chas. Tyer and Frank Wilson.

Mrs. Ivison Hostess To Sorority

The Gamma Upsilon Chapter of ESA met recently at the home of Carmen Ivison.

The group was given an interesting program by Betty Brown.

Members present were Betty Brown, Tommie Conner, Charlene Sims, Annabell Schattel, Wanda Eicke, Adrienna Sparks, Ida Stokes, Rosie Floyd, Lucille Kiker and Mrs. Ivison. Guests were Jackie Norris and Ruth Thomas.

The group were served refreshments and enjoyed a few games of bridge following the meeting.

Members of the chapter went to a district meeting Sunday at Big Spring. Those attending were Wanda Eicke, Annabell Schattel, Rosie Floyd, and Ida Stokes.

British Guiana Is Hit By Strike

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—British Guiana was in the grip of a general strike today. Hospital nurses, government employe and aluminum plant workers stayed off the job.

The country's only airport and its two newspapers were closed. Skeleton staffs kept water and electricity services running.

The Trades Union Council called the strike to protest a labor relations bill sponsored by left-wing Premier Cheddi Jagan which passed Parliament Monday night.

Jurisdiction Contention Is Sustained

AUSTIN (AP)—Dist. Judge Jack Roberts sustained today a contention by the state that his court does not have jurisdiction in a suit seeking to stop construction of a $65 million dam in Navasota County.

Roberts dismissed the suit by several Central Texas landowners.

The state contended Roberts cannot hear the case because the statute under which the Texas Commission acted to find the project feasible does not provide for appeal, and that the landowners suit is premature because they should wait until the commission grants a permit to impound water in the dam.

Seven landowners in Brazos and Grimes counties contended in court that Roberts could prevent construction of the Navasota River Dam by declaring void the feasibility findings of the Texas Water Commission.

The landowners argued that the U.S. engineers could not construct the dam without state approval. The state commission approved the feasibility of the project on Aug. 2.

The project, if completed will create the second largest lake completely within state boundaries.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Frank Booth sought to have Roberts remove himself from the case, saying that the project is a matter between the governor of Texas and the U.S. Engineers.

Former Gov. Price Daniel sent a recommendation to the corps approving the project.

Scientists May Become Astronauts

HOUSTON (AP)— The Manned Spacecraft Center has decided to accept full-fledged scientists as astronauts.

Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, director at the center, made the announcement Monday in an interview with the Houston Post at an American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronauts meeting in Dallas.

"We have made the decision to accept scientists," Gilruth said. "Just how it will be done is being worked out now."

The Houston-based official said it has not been decided if the scientists accepted in the program will be members of the crew or merely observers on Apollo flights to the moon.

In 1960 Tanganyika exported about one-tenth of the world's diamonds.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, the chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations, thinks it is quite possible West Germany may demand its own nuclear forces if Britain and France continue their independent nuclear forces.

He told U.N. correspondents Monday one reason the United States proposed a multinational NATO nuclear force was so Germany would not "even be tempted to have her own."

TOKYO (AP)—Japan is ready for a gradual cut in military aid from the United States, Japanese Defense Agency officials said today.

But they said a drastic reduction in American military aid would have "considerable effect" on the buildup of Japan's defense program and that the Japanese government's budget for 1963 was drawn up in the belief that the United States would not drastically cut military aid for at least one year.

The officials were commenting on a statement by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, that the United States should halt all military aid to Japan which now comes to $50 million a year.

Wheeling Has To Rescind Some Markups, Trim Others

NEW YORK (AP) — Wheeling Steel Corp., the comparatively small regional producer that kicked off industry-wide selective steel price increases has had to rescind some markups and trim back others.

The firm acted to fall in line with U.S. Steel Corp., the industry giant and traditional pattern-setter in prices.

Wheeling, accounting for less than two per cent of the nation's steel production last year, wound up on a limb after larger concerns posted varied increases on several steel items.

In nearly every case Wheeling pegged prices higher than the others. Some other firms overshot the industry-wide pattern that gradually developed.

Wheeling was the last to roll prices back Monday, trailing such bigger producers as Republic, National, Jones & Laughlin and Armco, third to sixth ranking firms.

The handwriting was on the wall when U.S. Steel, with 26 per cent of industry tonnage, chose last Tuesday to raise hot rolled sheets, $4 a ton, cold rolled sheets $5 and galvanized products $7 a ton.

Basically, these were the prices that stuck, although there were a few other adjustments.

Wheeling eventually found itself 50 cents to $1.50 a ton above the others on various types of sheet and strip.

It gave up altogether $4.50 a ton markups on carbon steel plates and $10 a ton on electrical sheets, items that other big companies did not advance or on which price increases were announced and later rescinded.

The cross-fire caused Lukens Steel Co., a relatively small company which is big in plates, to jettison the only two markups it announced—on carbon and alloy plates.

Lukens had been second in the price increase parade, moving five days after Wheeling. Its decision to rescind, an official said, was made to be competitive.

The latest developments came as the nation's booming steel production edged to a three-year high last week for a second straight week.

Production expanded to 2,521,000 tons, the American Iron and Steel Institute reported, rising for a 12th week in a row on a swelling tide of strike-hedge orders from steel users.

Output is between 80 and 85 per cent of estimated capacity.

Former Sen. Knowland Named To Associated Press Board

NEW YORK (AP)—Members of The Associated Press have elected William F. Knowland, vice president and general manager of the Oakland (Calif.) Tribune and former Senate Republican majority leader, as a member of the AP board of directors. Gene Robb, publisher of the Albany (N.Y.) Knickerbocker News and Times-Union also was elected a new member of the 18-man board during The Associated Press annual meeting Monday.

Robb and A. H. Kirchhofer of the Buffalo (N.Y.) Evening News contested for a post as director from New York State, a position required by AP bylaws. Robb received 7,072 votes to 3,209 for Kirchhofer.

Directors re-elected were AP President Paul Miller of Rochester, N.Y., president of the Gannett Newspapers, with 9,481 votes; George W. Healy Jr., of the New Orleans Times-Picayune, with 8,113 votes; and W. D. Maxwell of the Chicago Tribune, 7,636.

Knowland received 4,786 votes.

Max E. Nussbaum, of the Moultrie (Ga.) Observer, was re-elected a director from cities of less than 50,000 population with 6,992 votes to 3,289 for Clyde M. Reed, of the Parsons (Kan.) Daily and Sunday Sun.

The runners-up in the voting were Martin S. Hayden, of the Detroit News and Sunday News, with 4,256 votes; John H. Perry Jr., of the West Palm Beach (Fla.) Post, 3,665; John D. Paulson, of the Fargo (N.D.) Forum and Daily Tribune, 3,651; and J. M. McClelland Jr., of the Longview, (Wash.) Daily News, 881.

The AP members elect six directors each year. Four are chosen from the membership at large, one from New York State and one from cities of under 50,000 population.

At the AP business meeting, the members adopted a resolution expressing thanks for the services of retiring directors Harold A. Fitzgerald of the Pontiac (Mich.) Daily Press, and Bernard H. Ridder Jr. of the Duluth (Minn.) News-Tribune, who were ineligible for re-election under AP bylaws because they had served three consecutive terms.

Th meeting approved applications of seven associate member newspapers for regular AP membership. They are the Oxnard, (Calif.) Press-Courier; the Fort Walton Beach (Fla.) Playground Daily News; the Litchfield (Ill.) News-Herald; the Farmington (N.M.) Daily Times; the Gallup (N.M.) Daily Independent; the Ocean (N.Y.) Times-Herald, and the Pecos, (Tex.) Daily News.

Members elected to two-year terms on the nominating committee were Wayne C. Smith of the Meriden (Conn.) Record and Journal; Stanley H. Stauffer of the Topeka (Kan.) Daily Capital; J. M. Blalock of the Columbia (S.C.) Record and State, and Elbert H. Baker II of the Tacoma (Wash.) News Tribune.

These men will serve with J. L. Stackhouse of the Easton (Pa.) Express; Marshall Field Jr. of the Chicago Daily Sun-Times; Peyton Anderson of the Macon (Ga.) News and Telegraph, and Alden Waite of the Venice (Calif.) Evening Vanguard, all of whom were elected last year to two year-terms.

Blalock was elected committee chairman and Waite, secretary.

Elected to a four-member auditing committee for one-year terms were Buell W. Hudson of the Woonsocket (R.I.) Call and Evening Reporter; John Cowles Jr. of the Minneapolis Morning Tribune and Sunday Tribune; J. Kelly Sisk of the Greenville (S.C.) Daily Piedmont, and Frank S. Hoag Jr. of the Pueblo (Colo.) Chieftain.

City Claims Violence Try

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Attorneys for the city of Birmingham are attempting to show that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference has advocated violence in desegregation movements.

The conference, headed by the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., long has contended that it uses a passive resistance, nonviolent approach in its battle for integration.

Testifying Monday in contempt of court proceedings against King and 14 other Negro leaders, a state investigator said King's organization had a program of "teaching hatred of the whites."

The witness, Lt. Willie D. Painter, of the Alabama Highway Patrol, said the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker told him the organization would turn to revolution, if necessary, to achieve minimum desegregation in Birmingham. Walker is executive secretary of the conference.

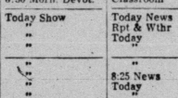

The city brought the contempt charges after the Negro leaders defied a state court injunction against demonstrations in the 19-day-old desegregation movement.

Requests Puzzle Mayor In Alabama

NEWTON, Ala. (AP) — Mayor Bascom Brown doesn't know what to do with a batch of self-addressed envelopes and cards from stamp collectors throughout the country.

The collectors are asking for a stamp with a special cancellation mark commemorating a new airport at Newton.

Must be some other Newton, the mayor said. His town hasn't even applied for funds to build an airport.

TODAY IN WASHINGTON

Teacher Has Hectic Experience

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

WRONG DOOR DEPT.: Education had its day at the White House and it was some day. Elmon Ousley, 1963 Teacher of the Year, may never forget it. One of his companions certainly won't.

In recognition of the honor, Ousley of Bellevue, Wash., was to receive from President Kennedy a frame certificate and a tie clasp. He got the certificate, but not the tie clasp which vanished.

Ousley believes it may have got lost in the wrappings of two big red Washington apples Ousley's wife brought for Caroline Kennedy's pony Macaroni—a present Kennedy accepted with a remark that "Macaroni is already too well treated."

Instead of the teacher tie clasp, Ousley — who teaches speech, American government and teacher training at Bellevue Senior High School—received one of the President's PT boat tie clasps which he hands out as mementos to visitors.

After the ceremony, one of the women in the Ousley party discovered she had left her briefcase behind. She started back for it, opened a door, and found herself in the President's washroom, with the President.

She reported he politely took her by the arm and escorted her out.

THRESHER: Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., says Congress should hold off on any investigation of the sinking of the nuclear submarine Thresher, at least until the naval court of inquiry has completed its study.

Pastore, chairman of the Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy, told the Senate Monday: "The most efficient manner of obtaining the facts at this time is to permit the court of inquiry to conduct its investigation unhampered by parallel congressional investigation."

MAKES A DATE: By dialing 1964 on a special telephone, President Kennedy made a Leap Year date Monday.

His call started a contraption which will count off the seconds until the opening of the New York World's Fair and he told a crowd gathered at the fair site in Flushing Meadow Park:

"Three hundred sixty-six days from today I plan to attend your opening."

OUT AGAIN: After five months of being locked up alone in a windowless compartment, Whildren P. Breen Jr., 36, knows he proved something. What he definitely missed most was his brunette bride of 11 months, Elizabeth Ann, 25.

But Breen and his colleagues at the University of Maryland Space Research Laboratories also feel that this trial of loneliness without news or companionship showed the necessity for careful planning for living conditions on long space flights.

Breen, who entered the simulated spacecraft Nov. 17, said Monday at a news conference that as the strain and boredom increased he lost his feeling of friendliness toward the persons outside, who he could not see but who could see him.

Last week, as the experiment drew toward a close, "I made a few cutting remarks over the intercom. I'm sorry now for all the insults I hurled."

Dr. Jack Findley, project director, commented, "That's part of the experiment."

Breen was released last Wednesday, five months to the day after he entered the 12-foot square room with two little alcoves at nearby College Park, Md.

CAMPAIGN CASH: The far-right wing of American politics will spend more money in the 1964 elections than the Democratic and Republican National Committees together, says a former Democratic official.

Wesley McCune, now director of Group Research, Inc., told the Woman's National Democratic Club Monday that despite 1962 election setbacks "the right wing is still growing in number, size, financial support, techniques and leadership."

"Several such groups," he said, "are in the million-dollar-a-year bracket. And others which some of you might think are dead are taking in several hundred thousand dollars a year."

Economy Is Still Mystery To Guessers

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The American economy still eludes the planners and the guessers.

This time last year economists, both government and corporate, were busy explaining why business hadn't developed the zing they had predicted at the start of 1962.

Now they are studying why it has been doing so much better the last two months than they had anticipated.

Some are projecting the spurt that started in February into the rest of the year and now are predicting that 1963 will be a lot better than anyone guessed—greater production, higher incomes, more spending.

This time the government economists are doing a lot more hedging on their bets than a year ago. They have allotted themselves a $5 billion leeway on either side of the figure they chose for the year's total dollar value of all goods and services produced.

In January this looked to them like $578 billion, give or take the $5 billion. But February and March turned out so unexpectedly good that some now think the upper limit, $583 billion, is well within reach—still give or take the $5 billion.

Most Americans likely will lose little sleep over the hazardous life of predictors of the size of the Gross National Product. What they would like to know is whether the improvement in recent weeks spells more jobs, higher incomes, more profits. And what will it do to the chances of a tax cut?

And here again the planners and the guessers can't really be sure what the economy will do—just what the present momentum gives it a good chance of doing.

The figures on which the new guessing is based are these: in the first three months of 1963 the Gross National Product rose to an annual rate of $572 billion, up $4.5 billion from the rate in the final three months of 1962.

This translated into more factory jobs, higher payrolls, larger profits. New orders for factory durable goods in March flowed at a rate 7 per cent larger than a year ago. Since order backlogs increased, it's a good bet that business will be brisk for some time.

On this assumption, 1963 could turn out better than most economists dared predict three months ago. One reason is that momentum acts not only on industrial production but on consumer buying decisions—and business spending plans.

Yet such confidence is quick to change. A year ago it changed for the worse. This year it changed for the better.

And taxes? What Congress will do about tax cuts could be affected either way. Times getting better takes some of the urgency out of cutting tax rates. On the other hand, increased incomes of individuals and corporations spells more tax collections, thus trimming the expected federal deficit and making any loss from lower rates less onerous.

The only thing for sure—1963 is far from over—or even in the bag.

4 Convicts Escape In Michigan

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Four convicts described as dangerous and desperate sawed through the bars of the maximum security section of Southern Michigan Prison today and escaped, police reported.

Authorities ordered a massive search for the fugitives, who had been serving terms for murder, kidnaping, and breaking and entering. They possibly were armed.

"They're desperate men," Warden George Kropp said.

The flight and break-out of only one prosiner was noticed early today. But, an emergency count a few hours later revealed dummies were placed in the cells of the maximum security block for the other three.

Kropp identified the escapees as:

James J. Hall, 40, sentenced to life from nearby Calhoun County in June, 1962 for the second-degree murder of a woman during a drunken argument.

Robert L. Gipson, about 30, sentenced to a 13-25 year term from Livingston County in June 1960 for second-degree murder.

Richard Mauch, 40, sentenced in January, 1962, from both Ingham and Jackson counties for life for assault with intent to murder in Ingham County and for 20-30 years for kidnaping police officers in Jackson.

Elmer Crachy, 35, sentenced in October 1959, for 12-15 years for breaking and entering in the nighttime from Van Buren County.

The cells all backed onto catwalks and it was these sections of the bars that had been sawed, probably with a hacksaw blade, Kropp said.

The cutting took place over a long period of time, Kropp said. The institution is the nation's largest walled prison.

The men made a daring escape by leaping from the window and running directly under a guard's tower toward the last barrier, a cyclone fence. The fence was torn open at the bottom, Kropp said.

Older Aggies Against Coeds

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Letters protesting rumored plans to admit girls to Texas A&M are being circulated by the president of the Sul Ross Group.

The Sul Ross Group—which has approximately 500 members—is composed of former Texas A&M students of more than 70 years of age.

The letters, being sent to former students, are signed by T. L. Smith Jr. of Houston, of the Class of 1898.

"I am informed that the A&M board of directors will meet next Thursday and Friday, April 25th and 26th, to consider, and probably take action on the question of making A&M a coed school," Smith said in his letter. He added that "at least 90 per cent of the Aggies I have contacted are strongly opposed to such action."

Smith concluded by asking the directors not to take "quick action until the matter is given wide publicity and approval."

Recipients of the letter are asked to check whether they are for or against admission of coeds and return the form by Wednesday. The letter carries an April 19 date.

12 Nabbed In Numbers Raid

TEXAS CITY, Tex. (AP)—Federal agents raided six spots in Texas City and nearby Dickinson Monday night and arrested 12 persons in cracking what was described as the area's largest numbers racket.

The raids were made by 20 agents from the Internal Revenue Service's intelligence division in Houston.

William T. Hughes, agent in charge, said, "this is the largest policy (numbers) operation in this area that we busted up."

The 12 arrested were taken to Houston and arraigned before U.S. Commissioner William H. Costa. They were charged with operating and accepting wagers without purchasing a federal wagering tax stamp.

Title Go 'On', But Watch This Space

NEW YORK (AP) — The off-and-on rematch between Sonny Liston and Floyd Patterson for the heavyweight title is on again today, in Las Vegas since June 27.

Liston's adviser, Jack Nilon, has agreed to the date and site "with reluctance," he said at his home in Chester, Pa.

"That's right, the title fight is going to be in Las Vegas June 27," a Liston sparring partner, Fondea Cox, said in Denver.

Liston, also in Denver, was not available for comment.

Nilon didn't spell out the reluctance, but the chances were that he wanted the fight held in Baltimore, where he is the leading concessions man.

However, under the contract for the first fight in which Liston took the title on a one-round knockout, Patterson has the right to pick the date and site of the rematch.

Patterson first selected Miami Beach April 4, but after a one week postponement, that site was fitfully abandoned, officially because Liston claimed he had hurt his left knee while swinging a golf club for a photographer.

Officials of Championship Sports Inc., were reported in Las Vegas today, looking over Convention Center as a possible site.

Nilon referred all details on the fight to the promoters, none of whom were immediately available.

Under terms of the original contract, each fighter will get 30 per cent of the gate and 20 per cent of the theater television rights.

Nilon said Liston's damaged knee is "holding up all right" in training sessions in Denver, where the champion has been for two weeks. Patterson is training in the New York area.

Between You and Me

By Jerry Jackson

"So near and yet so far" seldom has been viewed with such stark classic poignancy as Snyder Tiger track and field team Saturday at Odessa. It just wasn't their day as far as securing state meet berths was concerned, but they nevertheless did themselves proud in the point race as evidenced by their third-place finish from among 16 teams amassing points.

Snyder's Gail Read, untouchable in the low hurdles, ranks as the only Tiger who qualified for the Austin trip. It will come as a surprise if he doesn't go on to cop the state title, as he hasn't even been extended in any meet to date.

Read finished some 8 or 10 yards ahead of second - place Buddy Luce of Fort Stockton during the regional meet, and it's been the same story all year. He's in a class by himself in the event, having won easily in all nine of the meets in which the Tigers have participated. His scorching 18.5 at Odessa, of course, is the finest clocking of the year in the lows by any Texas schoolboy.

Incidentally, that effort was the only one of the entire 14 events in which a 3A individual (or team) outdid the 4A clan. Harold Jackson of El Paso Tech won the 4A low hurdles in a time of 19.3, a far cry from Read's time.

The Tigers picked up a basketful of "thirds" during the day, but to qualify for state the rule calls for first and second placers only. Tiger pole vaulter Darrell Aldridge actually tied for second and set a school record of 12-6 in the process, but due to a greater number of misses saw the state meet berth go to his adversary.

The disheartening string of "almosts" was extended to four other events in which the Tigers finished third. They came about in the 440-yard relay, which featured Stuart Long, Jimmy Taylor, Tim Hardin and Read; in the high and low hurdles, where Taylor was third in each; and in the 880-yard run, which found Mike Mayo in the same position.

With only Read taking the trek to Austin, a team championship is out of the question. Very little of the glitter is gone from the entire season, though, and the entire Tiger delegation is to be commended for its performance in nailing down a seventh straight district title.

As is the case with star pupil Read, the Tigers are in a distinct class to themselves within the 3-AAA realm.

Ten Amateurs Qualify For Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The amateurs showed the Oak Hills Country Club course could be had Monday as the shot qualifying scores for the Texas Open Golf Tournament.

Two bettered par by two strokes —Stan Winters of Abilene and Bob Daubert of San Antonio. Each had a 69.

Ten amateurs qualified for the tourney, which starts Thursday. The others are George McCall of Austin, 71; Bobby Walcowich of San Antonio, 72, Pat Symons of San Antonio, 72; Dr. Al Bange of Lackland Air Force Base, 72; Ray Aguillon of San Antonio, 72; John Thornton of San Antonio, 73, Johnny Johnson of Lackland Air Force Base, 73, and Roane Puett of Austin, 73.

There were 150 amateurs trying for the 10 spots.

Most of the touring pros were due to arrive today and start tuneups for the Open. Arnold Palmer, the defending champion, will be given a banquet tonight. He has won the title three years in a row.

Splashers Set For Title Run

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—Uncle Sam's youth-voltaged swimming squad, owning five new meet marks just in warming up, gets down to championship races in the fourth Pan American Games tonight.

The swimming program, offering the first four finals of the 17-event racing competition, features the fourth day's session of the 16-day Western Hemisphere version of the Olympic Games.

Monday's activity in this sun-drenched metropolis produced three more gold medal winners, three new meet swimming records for the U.S. team and a surprise defeat of America's No. 2 tennis player, Frank Froehling. The U.S. girls basketball team, topped by Joan Crawford's 14 points, won an opener over Chile 72-41.

The day brought approval of Winnipeg, Canada, by the Pan American Sports Organization as the site of the fifth Pan Am games in 1967.

Monday's three gold medal winners included U.S. lightweight weightlifter Anthony Garey, York, Pa., Argentine fencer Guillermo Saucedo in mens individual foils, and Venezuelan Enrico Forcecila in carbine prone shooting.

Carl Robie, 17, Philadelphia fluttered to a record smashing 2:14.5 heat victory in the 200-meter mens butterfly. Don Schollander, also 17 from Santa Clara, Calif., whipped through his 400-meter free style heat in a record 4:29.4.

Terri Lee Stickles, 16, U.S. national sprint champion from Santa Clara, bolted through her 100-meter free style heat in 1:03.3 for another meet record.

In tennis, the United States had only Allen Fox, Los Angeles, left in the mens singles after Froehling, Davis Cup hopeful ranked only behind Chuck McKinley, was trimmed easily in his first match by Juan Arreondo, Mexico, in straight sets, 6-4, 8-6, 6-2.

Aging Tittle Ageless Star

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—In the violent world of the New York football Giants, the letters Y.A. mean only one thing—Y.A. Tittle, the old '36th bald eagle who throws the passes.

"There is no question about Y.A.," Allie Sherman was saying Monday after accepting a new five-year contract at a reported $37,000 per to coach the Giants.

"Y.A. is like a good car. It isn't even broken in until you get 50,000 miles on the speedometer. It took Charlie Conerly a few years. Y.A. is approaching the eligibility period. You might see something from this kid."

Sherman is the 40-year-old Brooklyn College boy who succeeded Jim Lee Howell in 1961 and won two straight "Coach of the Year" awards as well as two Eastern Conference titles in two years in the National Football League.

"We are as firm as can be at quarterback," Sherman added. "Ralph Guglielmi gives us a replacement for Y.A. And we have a new boy, Glynn Griffing, from Mississippi. I truly believe he has talent as a quarterback. It is just a matter of how long it takes to break in. He also was recommended to us as a fine defensive player. Griffing is going to play a lot of football for us while he is learning to get set at quarterback."

Oklahoma City, San Diego Strike Early

By The Associated Press

Oklahoma City and San Diego believe in doing their scoring early. It may not be as dramatic as an 11th hour comeback, but it proved to be a sound policy in Pacific Coast League play Monday.

In a 7-5 victory the 89ers pounded Tacoma with seven runs in the first two innings and could then relax a bit while the Giants chalked up five runs in the following two frames.

San Diego scored twice in the second inning, once in the third for a 3-2 win over Hawaii.

Spokane, Dallas-Fort Worth, Portland and Salt Lake City had to take the day off because of wet grounds in the other scheduled games.

AP SPORTLIGHT

By JIM BECKER

NEW YORK (AP)—They had balks with their beer on Sixth Avenue, and it was not a popular combination.

The amazing New York Mets furnished both, and also brought back to life a vanished art along the Avenue: Saloon baseball watching, via television.

It started when the much maligned Mets, losers of their first eight games, broke out with a four-game winning streak over the weekend, with the following remarkable results:

The whole town went a little daffy.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner predicted a city World Series with the Yankees. Newspaper photographers took the players back to the scene of their triumphs to pose in civilian clothes, smiling. The Mets' television station arranged a special broadcast of Monday night's game at Philadelphia.

A stroll down Sixth Avenue indicated that every bar in town had the game tuned in, with a goodly crowd of watchers.

They saw the bubble burst. The Phillies won, 8-6, with a great deal of help from four balk calls on Mets pitchers.

Things got off to a rosy start, as the game flickered on the screen.

"They'll never lose again," announced a draft beer as the starting pitchers warmed up.

"I can't even talk to you guys any more," said a cynical scotch and soda. "Listen to that announcer, talking about winning four straight. He never mentioned them eight straight they lost."

Ron Hunt doubled in the first inning for the Mets. "Youth," said a rye-and-water. "That's the secret." Duke Snider walked. "Experience. Wise old head, that Duke," said the draft beer.

"And we got the oldest brain in baseball," enthused a man helping himself to herring at the free lunch counter. "Old Casey Stengel, 72."

The Mets jumped off to a 3-0 lead.

"Where's that scoreboard we used to have?" demanded the bartender of the waiter. "We gotta keep the score."

"We haven't used it in 10 years," said the waiter. "It still had the Dodgers and Giants on it."

The Phillies got a run back, but the crowd was unworried.

"I'll bet ten bucks they're in third place when they come back from this road trip," bet a newcomer, caught up in the spirit.

Then came the rash of balks. Balks are not popular on Sixth Avenue.

"Stupidest call in baseball," said the bartender. "Who wants to win on a balk? I'd be ashamed to go to the next base."

"Somebody's nuts," said the draft beer. There was wide agreement.

But the balks went on, and the Phillies added some soundly hit drives. Defeat was accepted, but not without a fight.

The Mets got three in the ninth, and loaded the bases with two out. "Heart. They got heart," enthused the draft beer.

"Sounds like New Year's Eve in here," said the bartender, as the fans tried to root the Mets home. It didn't work.

"Oh well, it was getting monotonous, winning them all," said a man.

Little League Aspirants In Signup Stages

Little League baseball registration for the 1963 season will be concluded tonight in the Towle Memorial Park Barn.

Little League officials will be on hand to register youngsters from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Scores of youngsters registered at the first session last night. Registration forms must be accompanied by a birth certificate, it was emphasized.

Meanwhile, the schedule for tryouts has been announced. Twelve-year-old youngsters will try April 29, 11 - year - olds April 30, 10 - year - olds May 1, 9 year - olds May 2 and 8 year - olds May 3. The try - outs will be conducted on the practice field in front of West Elementary School after school is out each afternoon during the session.

All candidates except those already on a Little League roster must tryout. Those who are not selected for a Little League team will be eligible for selection on Farm League teams, and in turn those who are not selected for Farm League play will be available for Pee Wee League.

Baylor Assumes Lead In SWC Links Chase

LUBBOCK (AP) — Southwest Conference golf had a new leader today in Baylor.

Texas Christian beat Texas Tech 4½-½ Monday to knock Tech out of first place and down to fourth. Baylor now leads with a 16½-7½ record.

TCU and Texas A&M are tied for second at 16-8. Tech is 14½-9½.

Jack Montgomery of TCU was medalist with a 1-under-par 71 and beat Richard Yates 2-up in the No. 1 match.

Fort Stockton The Favorite

By The Associated Press

Fort Stockton won the schoolboy Class AA track championship last year. It's in Class AAA this season and favored to do the same thing.

The West Texas powerhouse boasts the top mile relay team in the state—one that did 3:21.4. It also has Raul Vasquez, who leads the shot putters with 56 feet 2¾ inches, Kloy Carillo, who has the fastest time in the half mile —1:57.5, and it has Buddy Luce, a top hurdler.

Handicapped by a bruised leg tendon last year, Luce finished second in the high hurdles and sixth in the lows. He's in trim this spring and will be among the favorites in both races.

Offering Fort Stockton the strongest competition will be Kermit, which has the fastest 440-yard relay team. The Kermit quartet did 42.4 in the regional meet. Kermit also has other strong point potentials.

Nederland and Brownwood, the Class AAA state champion last season, are other teams that will offer resistance to the Fort Stockton move into Class AAA.

One record appears virtually certain. Gail Read of Snyder has done the 180-yard low hurdles in 18.5. The Class AAA mark is 18.7.

The 100-yard dash record might fall. It is 9.6 and Jerry McCullough of Brownwood will go to the state meet in Austin next week with a time of 9.7. Wayne Brandt of Wharton has done 9.8.

Read, Mates Vie On Far Flung Fronts

The Snyder Tiger track forces will be split this weekend, as state meet qualifier Gail Read journeys to Corpus Christi and the remainder of the squad treks to Hobbs, New Mexico, for their final fling of the campaign in the Hobbs Relays.

Read, who set a school record of 18.5 in the low hurdles Saturday in the Odessa Regional, will be competing against the cream of the hurdling crop (i.e., those who have hit 18.8) at Corpus Saturday night in the Little State Meet. It will mark his final competitive tuneup prior to his entry in the State Meet at Austin May 3.

Although Read ranks as the only Tiger qualifying for state, the regional meet saw two other Bengals marking up school records in their respective specialties. Darrell Aldridge turned the trick in the pole vault to tie for second place, and Mike Mayo raced to the other in the 880-yard run, only to finish third.

Due to a fewer number of misses, Aldridge's opponent was granted entry into the state meet.

The Hobbs Meet is an afternoon-night affair, with Saturday's firing slated to begin at 1 p.m.

City Softball League Meets Here Tonight

All potential players, managers, and sponsors are reminded of the City Softball League meeting scheduled for tonight at the Village Restaurant.

The session will get underway at 7:30, announces league president Delmer Glover. All interested persons are encouraged to attend.

Tigers Battle Wolves Today

The Snyder Tigers perched lofty atop the District 3-AAA standings, go in quest of their 10th loop victory without loss today at 4 o'clock when they take on the Colorado City Wolves in Colorado City.

Raymond Mathews is scheduled to start on the hill for the Bengals of Coach Speedy Mallett. He already owns one decision over the Wolves, a 6-4 route - going performance in which he was touched for only five safeties. His others have been at the expense of Sweetwater and Lamesa.

In contrast to Snyder's spotless 4-0 mark, the defending champion Wolves are running fourth in the race with a 2-3 mark. Their wins have been over Sweetwater and Lamesa to scores of 4-1 and 3-2. In addition to the Snyder loss mentioned above they have gone down before Lamesa by a 5-3 count and Brownfield by a 12-3 tab.

The Tigers launched their district campaign by subduing the Cowboys by that 6-4 margin. Since then they have trimmed to the uppermost rung of the league ladder by defeating Sweetwater 11 - 8, Brownfield 14-6 and Lamesa 5-4.

Lamesa and Brownfield are currently deadlocked for second place with lock - alike marks of 3-2. Sweetwater is bringing up the rear at 0-5.

Larry Dambovsky is slated to hurl against the Tigers. He went the distance in the Sweetwater game for the 4-1 victory while allowing only two hits.

The probable Bengal lineup, along with district batting averages, includes: Drew Ballard, second base, .412; Kenny Gay, catcher, .231; Dalton Walton, center field, .417; Kenny Wellborn, first base, .467; J. N. Wall, right field, .348; Bob Hall, left field, .394; Jim Marcum, third base, .308; Leslie Brown, shortstop, .200; and Matthews, pitcher, .000.

Colt And Pony Registration Set Tonight

Registration of Pony League and Colt League hopefuls will be capped off here tonight, and all boys who plan to play but did not register last night are invited to do so.

Boys, aged 13 through 18 are eligible to compete in the two leagues. Registration is to get underway tonight at 7:30 in the high school gymnasium, according to supervisor Chester Simons.

Each registrant is requested to bring with him his birth certificate and one of his parents.

Cheney 'At Home' In Latest Uniform

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

In 11 years in baseball, Tom Cheney changed uniforms 13 times.

At almost every stop he was told he had almost unlimited potential—just before they handed him his new travel orders.

But it looks as if it will be a long time before he ever turns in the Washington Senators suit he is wearing now.

The right-hander, who made signs of coming into his own last season when he struck out 21 Baltimore Orioles in a 16-inning game won his second straight Monday night with a four-hitter as slick as the top of his shiny 28-year-old bald head. The Los Angeles Angels were the victims, 4-1.

Only an unearned run kept Cheney from chalking up his second straight shutout. He stopped Boston on one hit in his other start.

In the only other game in the American League, the Kansas City Athletics battled back to a 6-5 decision over the slumping Detroit Tigers, who have lost four of their last five. Cleveland at Chicago, the only other game on the schedule, was postponed by poor weather.

In the National League, Pittsburgh took over first place with a 2-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs while Cincinnati dropped San Francisco to second by beating the Giants 7-4. Milwaukee belted the Los Angeles Dodgers 10-2, St. Louis defeated Houston 5-2 and Philadelphia edged the New York Mets 8-6.

Cheney, who is known as "Skin" among his mates because of the location of his hairline, extended his scoreless inning streak to 14 before the Angels scored in the sixth. Jim Fregosi singled off Cheney's shin, went to second on an error by shortstop Ed Brinkman and scored on Albie Pearson's single.

Chuck Hinton homered for the Senators in the first, and Brinkman contributed a two-run single to a three-run Senator fourth that chased Angel starter Ken McBride.

The Kansas City victory, which moved the A's to within a half game of the league-leading Baltimore Orioles, was a real uphill battle. The A's spotted the Tigers five runs in the first inning, but Don Mossi couldn't hold it.

Gino Cimoli and Norm Siebern drove home runs in the fourth. Wayne Causey chased two across in the seventh and Jerry Lumpe drove in the tying run in the eighth.

Dick Egan, third Tiger pitcher, retired the first two men in the ninth, but then Causey and Cimoli singled, and Ed Charles drove in the winning run with another single.

Story Of Remarkable Mother Offers A Priceless Lesson

BY INEZ ROBB

She was an old lady I never knew, and what a my loss I. For, by any accounting, she was a remarkable woman in whom the priceless boons of self - reliance and proud independence, of virtue and faith blossomed triumphantly throughout her 92 years.

She was, in a quiet way and by force of circumstance, a matriarch. But not the rich, dominating matriarch of whom so many modern novels have been written in this generation. She laid up treasure, not for herself, but not in this world. And when she died recently there was enough for decent burial and a little something for each of her four children. Not much, as the world rates such things, but a little something for each.

In her twenties she was suddenly widowed, with a baby at her breast, and three small children clinging to her skirts. His lodge members buried her husband, a good man and a day laborer who, almost 60 years ago, died with scarcely enough in his savings account to pay the next month's rent. An feed his family for a few weeks.

The neighbors were kind. But the widow realized that she could not go on forever living on the bounty of neighbors. And both she and her husband had come to the New World to escape the poverty that oppressed their parents and made it impossible to look to them for help.

When she took stock in her assets, she had health, a sixth grade education, a bright mind and a cheerful disposition. But the only thing at which she was an expert was keeping house. That was her great talent.

Some almost 60 years ago she went into what was quaintly known in those days as "service." She became a general housekeeper in a well - to - do home. The hours were endless, as was customary, and the pay meager. But out of that stipend she managed to buy a good woman to look after her small children, to keep up the payments of the tiny home and, somehow, to feed and clothe them.

Every other Thursday afternoon and one Sunday a month she had to herself. Oh those days she rushed home to love, to sew, to mend and be with her children.

"She must always have been tired," said one of her four daughters recently. "But we were too young to realize. I can only remember that when she came home, it was like heaven."

This is not the story of a woman who reared a brilliant family whose members achieved wealth and position and carried her off to a life of ease in a crystal palace. It is, rather, the tale of a woman who through unceasing hard work, reared a family that was a credit to herself and the community.

One by one the girls left school to support themselves. They each married honest, dependable workmen. There was never much money in any of the four households, but there was enough. And, one by one, the girls began to beg their mother to put aside her apron and her life in other people's kitchens, and to come live with them.

But the habit of independence and self - reliance was strong in her, deep in her bones by this time. So, year by year, she put them off. Each year she promised that the next would surely leave the cold North and go to live with the daughter in Florida. Just another year, she would say, only another 12 months.

By her eighty-second year, she had worked for the same family for 35 years. She had become a part of it; she had helped rear the children and was now beginning on the grandchildren. An over the years, her duties had been greatly lightened by loving employers. But—next year, surely, she would go to Florida.

Then, three weeks ago, she fell in a familiar street which had been excavated only the day before, and broke a hip. She died only 10 days, surrounded by her four girls an her "other family"—grief-stricken and amazed that the old oak had at last bowed to the wind. "I have been happy," she kept saying to those around her, in an effort to comfort them.

When I heard her story the other day, I thought of the continuing

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

It has been estimated the mother of an infant child works up to 98 hours a week. Incidentally, the average baby cries 113 minutes a day.

One of a policemen's occupational hazards today is writer's cramp. They hand out up to 70 million traffic tickets yearly to motorists.

In 1962 almost 1,000 U.S. automobiles a day were stolen. Nine out of 10 had been left unlocked by careless owners. Car thefts so far this year are up about 10 per cent.

It once was thought you could cure a toothache by running three times around a church without thinking about a fox.

The Lido Cahana Club here posts this sign: "Money bells not permitted in the pool."

The U.S. government says that a basket of groceries that cost $10.16 in 1952 costs only about $9.70 today. The average family spends slightly less than 20 per cent of its income for food, the lowest figure in our history.

Nicotine and alcohol don't mix. A medical researcher reports that men who smoked 16 or more cigarettes a day and also drank six or more ounces of liquor daily were seven times as likely to develop throat cancer as nondrinkers who smoked the same amount.

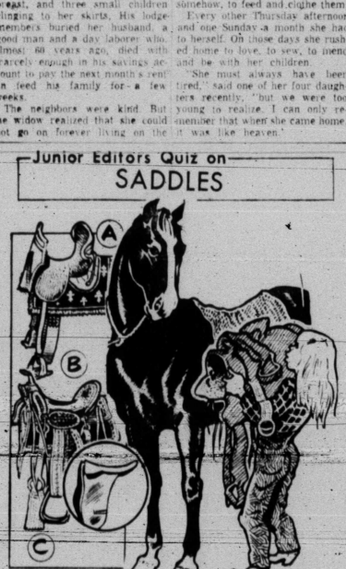

Soviet Russia is making a bid for the international tourist trade. It had 800,000 visitors last year, including 20,000 Frenchmen, 19,000 Britons and 17,000 Americans.

Woodrow Wilson had one of the most meteoric rises in American political history. Just two years and 170 days after he was nominated for governor of New Jersey — his first public office — he was sworn in as president of the United States.

A New Jersey town once made it a misdemeanor for a dog to bark after 10 o'clock at night. In St. Louis, Mo., it is illegal to sit on a curb and drink beer from a bucket. And there was a time when you could be arrested in Washington, D.C., if caught fishing while seated on a horse.

Our American population has increased more than 40 million in the last 20 years, a hike of over 35 per cent, but we still number only about 6 per cent of the earth's people. But by 1975 or 1980 China may become the world's first nation to have one billion people.

Junior Editors Quiz on SADDLES

QUESTION: Who invented saddles and why are the kinds so different?

* * *

ANSWER: Saddle cloths held on by belly bands were used when horses first began to be ridden; the first true saddles we know about date from the first century A.D. Terra cotta figurines from Roman Gaul (France) show them in use. They were clumsy contraptions, without stirrups. In India, a kind of stirrup had been invented, just for the big toe, and this idea was developed by the Chinese who used boots. When saddles with stirrups (B) reached Europe around 730 A.D. they made a sensation because they increased the power of a mounted man's spearthrust so much. It is said this led to the development of the mounted knight and the system of feudalism. The knight's saddle was extremely important to him; it was so high (A) that it held him securely on his horse—and he was almost helpless if dismounted. When guns came into use, mounted fighting men were no longer so valuable. A special saddle for hunting, racing and polo came into use; the English or flat type (C). In our West, cowboys adopted a comfortable saddle called the Western type. It has special equipment for ranch work, such as the horn in front, to which a lariat can be attached for roping cattle.

FOR YOU TO DO: Don't laugh at poor little Mary who is trying to saddle a huge horse all by herself. It takes grit to do this—just the same, it would make sense if Mary got someone to help her. She's a bit too young for the job.

Four Cubans Are Returned

NEW YORK (AP)—Three alleged Cuban saboteurs and a pro-Castro Cuban who was convicted of murder were sent back to their native land today in a swap for 21 Americans who were released from Cuban prisons.

The four Cubans left Boca Chica Naval Air Station at Key West, Fla., aboard a Cubana Air Lines plane that was escorted over American waters by four U.S. jet fighters.

The plane carrying the Cubans from New York had landed at Boca Chica at 6:55 a.m. EST. They transferred to the Cubana airliner and left 30 minutes later.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said Monday night that the four were being sent back to Cuba in the swap for the Americans.

The key figure behind the exchange probably was New York attorney James B. Donovan, who also engineered the Abel-Powers spy swap and the ransom of 1,113 Cuban Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners.

Shortly after Donovan secured the release of 21 Americans from Cuban prisons Monday, and flew with them to Florida, the following occurred:

—The Justice Department announced in Washington it was dropping charges against two Cuban nationals and one Cuban-American under indictment in New York for an alleged sabotage conspiracy.

—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller freed from a New York state prison a pro-Castro Cuban sentenced to 20-years-to-life for the 1960 accidental slaying of a 9-year-old Venezuelan girl during a political brawl in a New York restaurant.

—Shortly before 10 o'clock Monday night, the four Cubans were placed on a plane at Idlewild Airport for an evenfual connection with a Havana-bound Cubana Airlines plane at a base in Florida.

Kennedy told newsmen at a New York reception by the Cuban Prisoners Committee the decision to free the alleged Cuban saboteurs was part of a trade for the American prisoners in Cuba.

Rockefeller said that the other part of the deal was the release of the convicted Cuban slayer, Francisco Molina del Rio, 31.

The governor said the federal government had informed him that the commutation of Molina's sentence was "necessary in the national interest." He said the government had assured him the move would help secure the release of the 21 imprisoned Americans.

The Cubans were indicted on sabotage conspiracy charges by a federal grand jury following their arrest here last Nov. 16. They are Roberto Santiesteban Casanova, 27, an attache with the Cuban mission to the United Nations; Antonio Sueiro, 23, a Cuban living in New York, and Jose Garcia Orellana, 43, a naturalized American citizen, who operated a costume jewelry shop here.

Federal agents confiscated a large amount of explosives from Garcia's jewelry shop when the three were picked up. Sources in the U.S. attorney's office said the trio planned to throw hand grenades into crowds of Manhattan shoppers and blow up oil refineries in New Jersey.

The indictments against the three were dismissed by Judge Thomas F. Croake in U.S. District Court in Manhattan late Monday.

Molina fatally wounded the Venezuelan child, Magdalena Urdaneta, during a Manhattan restaurant fight between a group of supporters of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro and anti-Castro demonstrators. She had been visiting the United States with her parents.

Castro was in Manhattan at the time for an appearance before the United Nations.

Havana radio, as long ago as May 1961, had been calling upon Rockefeller and President Kennedy to free Molina. He was released, Rockefeller said, under the express condition that he "be deported forthwith and never again re-enter the United States."

Business In Texas Shows Good Gain

FORT WORTH (AP)—Business activity in Texas was up 10 per cent last year over 1961, a West Texas Chamber of Commerce official says.

"A look at the record for 1962 shows that the index of business activity averaged 10 per cent better than 1961," Fred H. Husbands of Abilene said.

The vice president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce said, "enough lines of activity experienced improvement to offset declines in other activities."

Husbands spoke Monday to some 120 persons at the annual report to members meeting of the West Texas chamber.

He said establishment of the National Aeronautics Space Administration Center at Houston and the Fort Worth General Dynamics plant's award of the TFX fighter plane contract were two of the major business highlights of the year.

In other business activity, Husbands said:

1. Texas ranked third among the 50 states in population growth and in number of new manufacturing plants located in the state. A total of 240 manufacturing plants and 81 warehousing operations started new operations.

2. Texas Employment Commission figures revealed Texas added more jobs net per year for 1962 in manufacturing than over the previous four years.

3. The total number of drilling rigs in West Texas had declined to 292 as of January 1963 and 462 for the whole state. The total figure was down from 592 a year ago.

4. Strong Texas business areas included automobile production, construction, utility industry building and the cattle industry.

One Search Ends, Another Is Launched

HOUSTON (AP) — Rescue of three men in Galveston Bay ended one search early today and another began for two fishermen reported missing in a small boat on the San Jacinto River.

Frank Kelner, 21, of Houston swam ashore late Monday night and told how the 22-foot boat in which he and three companions were riding developed engine trouble and sank in the bay.

With Kelner were Jimmy Wason, 23, Sam Zurovec, 23, and Claude Woods, 28, owner of the boat, all of Houston.

Rescuers found the three men at 1 a.m. floating together in life jackets and clinging to a hatch cover of the sunken boat about a half mile offshore.

While the Harris County sheriff's department had all available boats in the Galveston Bay search, a woman reported her husband and another man overdue on the San Jacinto River nearby.

She said her husband, Max Barnett, 34, and C. B. Powell, about 50, both of Pasadena, Tex., took a boat up the river about 7 p.m. to check a trotline. They were due back at 9 p.m., she said.

TOP TV TONIGHT

By BUD EVANS

8:30 NBC "The Dick Powell Theatre". City leaders call an emergency meeting when it is learned that an industrialist, returning to his birthplace, has secretly purchased controlling stock in the factory from which most of the townsfolk earn their living. Charles Bickford heads an all-star cast that includes Charles Ruggles, Gene Raymond, Dennis Morgan, John Larkin, Ed Binns, Ken Tobey, Barbara Dern and Joan Blackman. June Allyson is hostess. COLOR.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS

6:30 CBS "Marshal Dillon". A southerner, vowing to avenge the Civil War death of his wife, rides to intercept a cowboy he believes was responsible. Ross Elliot and Tomas Coley are featured.

6:30 NBC "Laramie". Slim Sherman and Jess Harper help a hunted man establish his innocence and reveal the real reasons for his conviction. Karl Swenson, Dewey Martin and Geraldine Brooks are featured. COLOR.

7:00 CBS "Lloyd Bridges" imagines himself in the role of a Confederate soldier who desperately tries to avoid violating a brief truce with Union troops because of a pair of boots. Royal Dano and Laurence Tierney are seen.

7:30 NBC "Empire". Jim Redigo has trouble with a stubborn rancher woman who won't let his cattle cross her land to the nearest railroad station. Claude Akins is guest star as a flamboyant promoter involved in a comic cattle drive in "65 miles is a Long, Long Way". COLOR.

7:30 CBS "Red Skelton". Motion picture singer and actress Jane Powell joins Skelton, Charlie Ruggles and comedian Jules Munshin in a lavishly costumed comedy skit about a royal marriage in an imaginary kingdom. In the Silent Spot, Skelton assumes the role of an old man who wanders into a sidewalk cafe occupied by young lovers.

8:30 ABC "The Untouchables". Telly Savalas is guest star as Matt Bass, an ex-convict who devises a "fool-proof" method for bringing bootleg alcohol to Frank Nitti after Eliot Ness temporarily succeeds in drying up the bootleggers' source of supply.

8:30 CBS "Jack Benny" remains unmoved by the elegance of Las Vegas where he tries to register, and stretches to the breaking point the patience of the room clerk. The Mills Brothers are guest stars.

9:30 NBC "Chet Huntley" presents a study in miniature of Communism's strength in Italy focusing on Genazzano, a community which consistently elects a Communist Mayor and council.

Re-Enactment Of Massacre Slated

MACKINAW CITY, Mich. (AP) —A bloodless re-enactment of the massacre at historic Fort Michillimackinac 200 years ago will be staged Memorial Day weekend.

The bicentennial committee which is arranging the four-day observance at the Straits of Mackinac has a problem.

The committee, which has been trying to line up descendants of either victims or victors of the massacre, reports that descendants of people who were involved in Indian Chief Pontiac's wars are apparently as scarce as Mayflower descendants are plentiful.

Hong Kong studios turn out 240 movies a year, ranking after Japan, India and the United States.

7th Fleet Again Has Assignment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The mighty U.S. 7th Fleet once again is moving into position as a warning to the Communists threatening a takeover of Laos.

Stationing of the ships in the area near the Gulf of Siam is also aimed at providing reassurance to the vulnerable non-Communist countries of Southeast Asia.

Defense authorities said the ships had not been ordered into the gulf but were moving into the area to be in position if they should later get orders for a military mission. They called it a purely precautionary move.

The fleet, under the command of Vice Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, numbers about 125 warships ranging in size from super carriers to landing ships.

Aboard the vessels are 60,000 Navy men and Marines.

The fleet's 650 aircraft include everything from jet bombers armed with atomic weapons to helicopters designed to carry Marines to assault landings ashore.

Normally, the fleet is spread out from the North Pacific to the South China Sea, strategically positioned within range of Siberia and Red Chinesee population and industrial centers, to shield Formosa from Red attack and to move where needed in sensitive Southeast Asia.

In times of tension, such as now, the carrier task group in the South China Sea may be buttressed by ships usually roaming the Formosa area.

The bulk of a Marine division is posted on Okinawa and can be drawn on for reinforcements in short order.

The 7th Fleet always is in a state of what may be called semi-alert. It can take the sort of precautionary moves now under way without delay.

At Thailand's invitation last May, the United States sent a task group of the fleet deep into the Gulf of Spain to land Marines which then joined Army infantry men in moving toward the border then threatened by approaching Laotian Communist and pro-Communist forces.

In all, the United States shipped 5,000 Marines and infantrymen into Thailand along with 1,000 airmen and, some of this country's most heavily armed and hardest striking war planes.

The ground forces were pulled out by late November as the threat from Laos receded.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY. JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — The question everyone around town is asking each other these days is, are young scientists less creative than artists? This arises from some tests made by psychologists who feel the results hold disturbing consequences for science.

Their studies conclusion is that the most creative students dislike science and turn to the arts instead.

Of course they get no sympathy from us because psychologists have never developed enough imagination to leave people alone. They have to figure out why you tie your shoes, why you watch TV and what is the real motivating force behind eating peanuts.

A similar situation arose in the 19th Century when psychologists began probing into the thoughts of Aztec artists. Ernest Huezuetl, who wrote a book called The Old Man And The Ski about life in the Bavarian Alps, was the subject of intensive tests.

Mr. Huezuetl attracted so much attention with his writing that the psychologists decided he should be studied. After several years of research they discovered he liked cactus juice, he wore wilted crane feathers and that he couldn't care less.

Every time they would call Ernie in for questioning he would put them on tranquilizers for several weeks.

The psychologists would ask, "How many uses can you think of for a nail?"

And Ernie would reply, "Oh, they puncture dires, stick out of chairs and tear your pants, get rusty and are stepped on by small boys."

The investigators would look at one another significantly and then ask Ernie, "What about using nails to hold boards together?"

And he would shrug and say, "Why not if that's what you want," and then write a best seller that became a collector's item.

In those days psychologists were less inclined to drive people wacky and for that reason the Aztecs and Mayas were able to create an exceptionally high type of civilization without fear of being strapped to a couch.

Now they have let psychologists learn to read and write and Dr. Speedy says the scientific world is in for some trouble.

For instance Speedy says the head mechanics report that persons who score high on originality tests but rank comparatively low on intelligence tests are classified as "high creative."

This is a polite way of saying writers are pretty dense and several of my constituents are furious and have threatened to report these psychologists to the United Nations.

And Speedy says the psychologists conclude that creative personalities are more likely to express unusual attitudes, show emotional involvement in their opinions, to say they are unhappy at school and make errors in the intelligence tests.

You walk up to a fellow pounding out a novel and say, "Well, well, what are you doing there?"

This annoys him so much that he hits you with a pot of glue so you say, "My, what an unusual attitude you are expressing. Also you show emotional involvement in this opinion."

And the writer shouts, "I was also unhappy in school!"

Psychologists insist that fellows like this are more creative in their style of thinking than scientists even if they are not as bright.

My feeling about the matter is, why reveal trade secrets?

Better Parts Needed, Says Space Planner

By HOWARD BENEDICT

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A leading U.S. space planner said today that aerospace firms must improve the quality of rocket and spacecraft parts to insure success of this nation's effort to land men on the moon.

"Developing reliability of thousands of components so they all work together without error is the one main area where we need a big jump in the state of the art in the apollo lunar landing program," reported Joseph F. Shea, deputy director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Office of Manned Space Flight.

Shea made the plea for better quality work at the factory level to more than 500 space scientists and engineers from government and industry who are attending a manned space flight conference. He promised more stringent NASA checks to develop reliability.

Shea said this should apply also to the thousands of persons involved in development of rocket or spacecraft equipment.

"We have a long way to go," he commented, "before all the many tiers of people who work on our programs—any one of whom may handle a part which may later fail in flight—meet these demands fully."

Shea said that with the Gemini two-man and Apollo moon programs, his office is insisting on check and recheck of every item before it leaves the factory.

"We will be as rigorous as possible with our testing," he declared. "Components—and there are more than 100,000 of them in the Apollo spacecraft—will be tested and re-tested at all levels under stresses up to 100 times more stringent than anticipated in space."

He blamed the majority of delays in the Mercury manned space shots on the great amount of testing and work which had to be done on flight equipment after it reached Cape Canaveral.

Ector Choir Slated Here

The Ector Senior High School A Cappella Choir will present a concert at 7:30 tonight in the Lamar Junior High Auditorium.

The Ector choir is on a 600-mile tour which will include stops in six North and West Texas towns. The concerts have been scheduled in Snyder, Post, Plainview, Canyon, Lubbock and Levelland.

Organized in August, 1957, under the direction of Hilton R. Bates, Jr., the Ector choir has toured all sections of Texas, as well as New Mexico and Colorado. Many of the members of the 1963 choir are making their first tour, since the choir this year consists primarily of underclassmen, having only 10 seniors.

The tour repertoire of 22 numbers is drawn from all periods and designed to appeal to all audiences.

The public is invited to attend the concert here tonight, and there will be no admission charge.

Cemetery Work Day Set At Camp Springs

CAMP SPRINGS — A cemetery working day is scheduled here for all day Thursday, and all interested persons are invited to take part.

Dinner will be served for all workers that day at the Camp Springs Methodist Church located a mile east of the cemetery.

The area in crops in the Soviet Union — 500,000,000 acres — is about the same as in the United States and Canada combined but production is about three - fourths that of the United States.

Krush Calls For Neutral West Berlin

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has suggested that West Berlin be converted to a neutral status on the order of Austria, Switzerland or San Marino.

He pressed his years-old campaign for a neutral status for the Western-occupied sectors of Berlin in a conversation with a correspondent of the Milan newspaper Il Giorno. The talk took place in the Kremlin Saturday when the paper's director, Italo Pietra, picked up written replies to questions he had submitted.

Il Giorno's Moscow correspondent, Raffaello Uboldi, who was present said Khrushchev stressed that solution of other central European questions depends on getting East-West agreement on Berlin.

Khrushchev," Uboldi wrote, "cited the example of Switzerland and Austria, two countries which live in the middle of other groups of countries but without representing any cause of friction."

"Nobody touches Austria," Khrushchev noted, and yet Austria is more important than Berlin. Also in Italy there is a little country which lives surrounded completely by Italian territory. It is a state difficult to find on the map: San Marino."

"Would it not be possible, Khrushchev continued, with hardly a trace of irony, to make of West Berlin the San Marino of central Europe."

Khrushchev has stressed in previous interviews, notably with 12 American editors last summer, that he considers West Berlin the No. 1 problem of the day.

He has urged the neutralization of the city and suggested that this status be guaranteed by the United Nations perhaps with a U.N. force stationed there.

Austria's neutrality is guaranteed by the Big Four powers. San Marino's depends on the good will of surrounding Italy. Switzerland's neighbors have found it profitable to leave it alone.

Uboldi said the conversation was friendly and informal. He said Khrushchev made these other points:

1. Communist China's leaders have not replied to his invitation to visit Moscow for discussions of their differences. He said he thought they were still considering it and he hoped they would accept.

2. He probably will visit President Tito in Yugoslavia during the second half of June, but the date is not definite.

3. The border fight between Red China and India is an unfortunate dispute between two peoples with whom the Soviet Union is equally friendly. He hopes it will be settled soon.

4. He considered the peace encyclical of Pope John XXIII a useful thing for peace.

5. The French-West German friendship pact could be interpreted as meaning that the French think they have captured West Germany whereas in reality West Germany has captured France.

Troop 35 Leader In BS Camporee

The Lone Buffalo District Boy Scout Camporee was held the past weekend at Willingham's Ranch, when eight troops from Snyder, Colorado City, Gail and Ira competed for honors.

Over 150 boys took part in the two - day camporee. A crowd of some 300 composed of Scouts, Explorers, Cubs and parents was present for the Campfire Program Friday evening.

Saturday the troops competed in the various events outlined by the Camping and Activities Chairman, Russell Jones.

Explorer Post 23 of Colorado City helped as service crew for the events.

Troop 35 of Snyder, with A. J. White as Scoutmaster, won the top award for best all - around troop, earning more points than any other of the participating units. They compiled 579 points out of a possible 800.

Troop 32 of Ira (H. Holladay Scoutmaster) was second in the tabulations with 541 and Troop 33 of Gail (Bill Curry Scoutmaster) third with 540.

Other troops taking part, along with their Scoutmasters, included: Troop 108, Snyder, Gail Henderson; Troop 23, Colorado City, B. J. Wood; Explorer Post 23, Colorado City, Charles Maughon, advisor; Troop 177, Snyder, C. L. Skains; Troop 27, Snyder, Rev. Harry Vanderpool, assisted by Bill Sikes; and Troop 20, Colorado City, Larry Marks.

Awards presented were:

Cooking — Troop 32 first, Troop 108 second, Troop 23 third.

First aid and compass — Troop 23 first, Troop 33 second, Troop 27 third.

Campsite — Troop 35 first, Troop 177 second, Troop 108 third.

Knots — Troops 35 and 33 tied for first, Troop 177 third.

Lashing — Troop 177 first, Troop 27 second, Troop 23 third.

Woodlore — Troop 35 first, Troop 32 second, Troop 177 third.

Firebuilding — Troop 32 first, Troop 35 second, Troop 108 third.

Urges Funds To Develop Rocket Fuel

WASHINGTON (AP)—An executive of the Thiokol Chemical Corp. says the government should be spending two to four times as much as it is on developing high energy rocket fuel.

Arthur Sherman, director of preliminary design for Thiokol, told a House Space subcommittee Monday his company has a research contract for the current year of $375,000 from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Sherman also testified that after completion of a previous $200,000 contract last November the program was idle until March 30 of this year, when NASA gave the go-ahead again.

He said Thiokol's work had shown oxygen difluoride to be a promising component for high energy chemical rockets. The high energy fuels pack more thrust to the pound but are more expensive to produce.

John L. Sloop, director of propulsion and power generation for NASA, told the subcommittee the oxygen difluoride engine tests conducted by Thiokol were disappointing.

"More data are clearly needed and we expect to investigate performance more fully with a larger engine," Sloop said.

The theoretical calculations had given a high thrust over a broad range of mixtures of fuel to oxidizer, Sloop said. But in the actual experiments a high thrust was obtained only in a very narrow range of mixtures.

Pastor Weds Choir Girl

HENDERSON (AP) — Records of the Rusk County clerk show the Rev. Leroy Daniels, 26, and former choir girl Flora Jean Cole, 16, who ran away to Kansas last fall, were married April 13.

Present whereabouts of the couple was not learned.

Daniels was pastor of the Crystal Farmers Baptist Church at Tatum, near here in East Texas, last Nov. 2, when he and the girl disappeared. They were found three weeks later living in a basement apartment at Wichita, Kan. Daniels was working in a liquor warehouse.

Authorities returned them to Texas and Daniels pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was sentenced to 90 days in jail and fined $500, but went free under $1,500 appeal bond.

His case is set for a May 8 hearing before the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin.

Daniels and his wife of four months were divorced after he was brought back from Kansas.

Almost two - fifths of the brides and one - eighth of the grooms in 1962 marriages were teen - agers, according to the Population Reference Bureau.

Violent Weather Diminishes In Midwest Sections Today

By The Associated Press

Violent weather diminished in Midwest sections today in the wake of damaging tornadoes, strong wind, hail and thunderstorms in Illinois and Indiana.

Tornadoes Monday night ripped across a path 15 miles wide and about 200 miles long in east central Illinois from Springfield to the Indiana state line. More than 30 persons were injured, some seriously. The severe weather pounded more than 20 small communities.

Scores of homes, farm buildings and business establishments were damaged. Power and communications lines were downed, trees uprooted and store front windows shattered. Heaviest hit in Illinois was Tuscola, a town of about 3,000 persons.

A couple hours after the twisters struck in Illinois, tornadoes hit in Indiana, in West Lafayette and the far west side of Indianapolis. Nine persons were injured and four homes demolished in Indianapolis.

Earlier Monday, a tornado swept the Frisco, Tex., area while violent wind storms lashed a five county area in southeastern Iowa.

There was widespread precipitation north of the storm center over the Great Lakes region westward over the middle and upper Mississippi Valley. Heavy showers and drizzle splashed the eastern sections. More snow fell in the upper Great Lakes and the Mississippi Valley. Three inches of snow fell in a six-hour period in Wausau, Wis.

The snow belt spread from the Rockies across the Dakotas into Wisconsin and Minnesota. More than three inches of snow fell in Minneapolis while amounts measured 18 inches in Lander, Wyo.

Sgt. York Remains On Critical List

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Sgt. Alvin York's kidney infection is responding to treatment, but a hospital spokesman says an X-ray has shown that the blood clot in the World War I hero's left lung has not dissolved.

The Medal of Honor winner remains on the critical list, the spokesman said. He was hospitalized 10 days ago.

Gets Divorce After Waiting 64 Years

CORNING, N.Y. (AP) — An 82-year-old man who says he hasn't seen his wife since she left him a few months after their marriage in 1899 has been granted a decree providing for dissolution of the marriage.

Charles Woodcock received the decree Monday in State Supreme Court.

West, Communists Continue Swapping 'Sauce For Sauce'

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's a strange goose and gander business. What's sauce for the United States becomes sauce for communism. It spreads over islands, missiles, prisoners and national desires.

Since 1950 the United States has protected its anti-Communist regime on Formosa, from Red Chinese attack. The Chinese Communists claim this island, 100 miles from the mainland, is a part of China.

The Russians have moved troops into Cuba, 90 miles from the United States, to protect their ally, Fidel Castro, from any direct American action to abolish him and communism on the island.

Years ago the United States put missiles into Italy and Turkey, right on the Soviets' doorstep. Last fall the Russians put missiles into Cuba on the American doorstep.

In a showdown with this country Russia pulled its Cuban missiles back. But within a few weeks the United States announced it was pulling its missiles out of Italy and Turkey.

The explanation for this was that American Polaris missile submarines, roaming and hidden under the Mediterranean, are more effective.

In 1957 Col. Rudolph Abel, a Soviet spy, was captured in this country and sentenced to 30 years. In 1960 Francis Gary Powers, piloting an American U2 plane, was shot down over Russia and jailed. In 1961 another American, Frederick L. Pryor, was jailed as a spy in East Berlin.

The United States on Feb. 10, 1962 agreed to swap prisoners: the one Russian for the two Americans. The deal was negotiated by James B. Donovan, a New York lawyer who had defended Abel.

Last year Donovan negotiated with Castro for the release of 1,113 anti-Castro rebels captured when their 1961 invasion of Cuba failed. Castro also let more than 900 of their relatives leave Cuba. They were ransomed.

The price—at least the price that is known—was $53 million in drugs and baby food which, reportedly, was contributed free by big American corporations.

Donovan represented the Cuban Families Committee for the Liberation of Prisoners of War. But the Kennedy administration had a hand in it.

At the time of the prisoners' release Edwin Guthman, information officer for Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, said the Justice Department served as headquarters for the operation.

He said government officials and private lawyers phoned the American Red Cross, drug companies, transportation agencies, and labor unions and asked them to help Donovan's committee complete the deal with Castro.

Donovan dismissed the notion that the President's brother "masterminded" the deal. He said the attorney general helped and explained "we did have the cooperation of the authorities—and never could have succeeded with out them."

By now, The Associated Press reported Monday, Donovan has managed to get Castro to free 5,000 people from his island. The latest came Monday, and this was definitely a swap.

Donovan got Castro to release 21 Americans from Cuban jails and flew back to Miami with them. And Monday Atty. Gen. Kennedy freed two Cubans and a Cuban-American held in New York on sabotage conspiracy charges since last November. Kennedy said it was done in the national interest.

And Monday night New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller freed a Cuban under a 30-year sentence in New York State Prison for slaying a 9-year-old girl.

Rockefeller said he had done so upon the assurance of the Cuban government the move would help secure the release of the 21 Americans who were freed earlier in the day by Castro.

It doesn't require special insight to imagine that mixed up in all this goose and gander business there is a story that hasn't yet been revealed.

But communism as its strength in weaponry grows, is matching sauce for sauce. It is impossible to foresee how far the sauce will spread in the months and years ahead in areas which at the moment aren't even imagined.

Women who cook electrically know...

Electric cooking is COOLER because it's flameless

Flameless electric cooking units fit snugly against pan bottoms. They put their heat into the pans where it is needed, not into the kitchen air. With an electric range your kitchen stays degrees cooler when you cook. And there is less kitchen heat for your air conditioner to remove.

An electric range oven is insulated all around, including the bottom, to keep heat inside where it belongs. This is possible because the electric oven, being flameless, does not require a flow of air into and out of it to support combustion. Result: your kitchen stays cooler when you are baking or roasting.

Electric cooking also is clean, fast, accurate and economical. See your dealer soon for a flameless electric range and enjoy all these benefits. Electric cooking is one of the nicest things about living better . . . electrically.
